

A DISAGREEMENT seems to be centering around use of the portable refuse container placed in the City of Plymouth's central parking lot for use by local merchants. This was the scene this weekend as boxes and trash littered the area around the container. It was placed in the lot some months ago on an experimental basis by Denski Brothers, the city's refuse contractor.

Disagreement in Air as Trash Blows Downtown

Disagreement was apparent in the City of Plymouth this week over the use of a large, portable refuse container placed in the City's central parking lot.

The container, installed on a trial basis, was provided by Denski Brothers, the city's refuse contractor. Its purpose is to clean up the appearance of the area, bounded by stores on Penniman Ave., Main St. and Ann Arbor Trail.

In addition, according to Superintendent of Public Works Joseph Bida, it was hoped that the number of rubbish pickup runs to the parking lot area would be reduced.

A memo was issued to merchants using the container on Aug. 18 requesting that all cardboard boxes placed in it be collapsed and broken down and that more interest be shown in the portable unit.

When the container neared the full mark, businessmen were asked to call the Department of Public Works or Denski Brothers.

LAST WEEK, however, as rubbish piled up around the unit and began blowing across the parking lot, conflicting stories arose on the issue.

A merchant in the area angrily claimed that the portable container was not being serviced regularly and properly. On Saturday, he said,

Flurry of Activity Wraps up Campaign

In a final flurry of political activity this week, the two major parties are wrapping up campaigning in The Plymouth Community.

Republicans seeking regional offices will appear at an open house rally at Plymouth High School on Thursday, Oct. 29, at 7:30 p.m., sponsored by the Plymouth-Northville GOP organization. Midwest Regional chairman of Citizens for Goldwater, Miller, Creighton Holden, will be the main speaker at the rally. Slated for Friday, Oct. 30 will be a debate between incumbent Congressman George Meader (R) and Democratic challenger Weston E. Vivian.

The two men will present their views on current civil rights issues at a program scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Plymouth High School auditorium and sponsored by the Plymouth Assembly for Equal Opportunity.

Meader, in his primary campaign literature, expressed his opposition to civil rights legislation and heved (Continued on Page 8)

School Board Clears Way For Work on PHS Addition

With the idea of possible boiler plant, needed to provide heating capacity for the proposed addition.

A plan was accepted which involves removal of three old boilers, relocation of one existing boiler and the addition of two Johnson 250 horsepower boilers, complete with new piping for all new systems.

ESTIMATED cost of the project will be $47,150. The architectural firm was ordered to proceed with the plan and to report back by December. Included must be some method of maintaining heat for the high school swimming pool during the changeover.

School Board President Gerald Fischer told board members there was a possibility that $4.3 million will be available on a statewide basis for vocational education programs.

He said State Committee for Vocational Education member Paul Malboeuf of Plymouth reported last week that the funds may be available for new and existing programs.

The funds are expected to be allocated sometime between now and Jan. 1, Fischer said, and qualifications for eligibility are currently being prepared by the State Attorney General. Concerning Malboeuf's opinion about the Plymouth vocational education program, Fischer commented:

"HIS FEELING is that there definitely will be portions of our project which are likely to qualify."

Fischer said priorities proposed for the funds indicate that first preference will be given to funds for vocational

Only One Local Race On Tuesday's Ballot

At the polls next Tuesday, Plymouth Community voters will cast ballots for candidates ranging from President of the United States to Plymouth Township constable.

The only race on the local level will see incumbent Plymouth Township Supervisor Roy R. Lindsay, a Republican, meet Democratic challenger Orville Tungate. All other Plymouth Township office holders are standing for re-election without opposition.

In the race for State Representative in the 38th District, Wallace Green, GOP candidate, will compete with former Garden City Mayor James Tierney, a Democrat, for the seat in the Michigan legislature.

CLERKS PREDICT:

Election Turnout To Hit New High

With voter registration at an all-time, record high in The Plymouth Community, predictions of an unusually large turnout of voters were made last week by the clerks of the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

In the Township, Clerk John D. McEwen predicted that 85 per cent of the 4,400 registered electors would come to the polls next Tuesday to vote in a national election that has stirred more interest than any in recent memory.

On the local level they will consider only one race that sees incumbent Township Supervisor Roy R. Lindsay, a Republican, pitted against Democratic hopeful Orville Tungate.

McEwen's prediction compares with 84.9 per cent of the registered voters who cast their ballots in the 1960 election. At that time, 3,336 of the Township's 3,932 electors voted.

"The prediction," McEwen said, "is based on the increase in requests for absentee ballots." As of last Wednesday evening, 79 absentee voters had been sent ballots. McEwen said he expected (Continued on Page 8)

HELD THURSDAY:

It's Johnson, Romney In High School Vote

While its political significance in the local adult world remains to be seen, the results of a mock election held at Plymouth High School last week make interesting, if paradoxical, reading.

The results lead to the question of how much parental attitudes influenced the youthful voters who handed a 3-1 thrashing to the Republican Presidential ticket and a top-sided wallowing to Democratic gubernatorial hopeful Neil Staebler.

In the high school voting, President of the United States U.S. Senate U.S. Congress Governor of Michigan Secretary of State State Representative State Senate

State Representative Paul M. Chandler was edged out by his Democratic opponent for the GOP choice, meeting James McCarthy, also of Livonia, a Democrat.

Postmaster Timpona To Retire Next Week

An era will come to an end next week at the U.S. Post Office in Plymouth when Postmaster George Timpona retires.

Word was received from Washington this week that the 68-year-old postal official's request for retirement had been approved, effective Nov. 6.

That date will mark the end of 15 years of service for Timpona, known to his friends in The Plymouth Community simply as "Doc."

The postmaster, a chiropractor, has directed operations at the Plymouth Post Office since Sept. 1949. Retiring to take care of personal affairs, Timpona and his wife, Marie, will take an extended vacation trip to Florida.

During his time as head of the local Post Office, "Doc" (Continued on Page 8)

Timpona has compiled an impressive record as he saw annual postal receipts increase nearly six-fold.

postal receipts skyrocketed to $930,000 last year. While keeping pace with increased volume, the postmaster saw the post office building space increased to two and a half times its original size and a sidewalk placed next to it for the convenience of customers wishing to cross through from Fralick St. to Penniman Ave.

In 1961, Timpona received a superior accomplishment award from the post office department and, during his tenure as postmaster, the local office has been given six citations for safety.

But "Doc's" civic record has been nearly as impressive. A member and past president of the Livonia Kiwanis Club, he has been cited by several local groups for his accomplishments. (Continued on Page 8)

Together with Democratic Second Congressional candidate Weston E. Vivian and Plymouth's former Congresswoman, Martha W. Griffiths, Williams went on a pre-

Mich. Bell Proposes Micro Wave Tower in Township

At the request of Plymouth Township Planning Commission Chairman Irving Rozian a petition for rezoning a 383 foot square parcel of land at the northeast corner of Powell and Napier roads will be placed on the Nov. 5 Township Board of Trustees agenda.

Edward Lees, of Michigan Bell Telephone engineering department, and representatives of the real estate department appeared before the Township Planning Commission at their regular meeting Oct. 21 with a proposal to erect a common carrier microwave tower at the site.

The facility would be part of the ever increasing microwave facilities of Michigan Bell and the Bell Telephone system, according to Lees and would carry television originating in Ann Arbor to the Bell building in downtown Detroit.

Ultimately it also would carry long distance call facilities which have been diverted from large cities and would handle 20 per cent of all toll facilities in case of military attack, Lees said.

In use for closed circuit educational television the tower would transmit programs from Ann Arbor to the Mott Foundation in Flint, Wayne County General Hospital, the University of Michigan branch at Fairlane Estate in Dearborn, Sparrow Hospital in Grand Rapids and hospitals in the Ann Arbor area.

THE STRUCTURE would be between 260 and 300 feet tall and at its base would be a building 18 feet by 40 feet. Structurally it would be built like the steel superstructure of a skyscraper and would be able to withstand winds of 130 miles an hour without moving one-one-hundredth of a degree, Lees said.

He said time was an important factor in the request for rezoning because the Federal Communications Commission must grant an application and permit and assign a frequency for transmission. Completion target date is the end of April.

Planning Commissioners authorized the building inspector to issue a building permit for the addition of another building to Fred Greenspan's Lake Pointe Village apartments. Prior to the approval, planning consultant W. C. Johnson told the commission that all restrictions had been met.

The "E" building addition will be a duplicate of building "B" and will contain 16 two-bedroom units. The Board tabled an application from Robert D. Wiloughby requesting rezoning of more than 13 acres of land from AG, agricultural, to R-3, multiple family residential until further action is requested by the petitioner.

The Board received a letter from Melvin Blunk stating the school board had no objections to a trailer court adjacent to its property at the site.

Board members also tabled without a date until further information is submitted by the applicant the modification of the initial rezoning petition made by Ten Mile Lakes company.

A PUBLIC hearing on the proposed "Beacon Estates" subdivision on N. Territorial Rd., west of Dunn Ct., was set for the board's next regularly scheduled meeting.

In other action the board: (1) Approved the preliminary plat for Arbor Village subdivision number 4 to be located south of Ann Arbor Tr., east of Haggerty Rd., and north of Allen School; and

(2) Accepted the application of Alice E. Luibrand, representing the Postiff estate for rezoning approximately 31 acres south of Ann Arbor Rd. and west of Lilley Rd. from R-1, one family residential, to R-2A Garden Apartment district.

Plan City Hall Dedication

Plymouth City Hall Open House and dedication plans were detailed to City Commissioners at a special meeting Monday evening Oct. 26, by Municipal Building Authority Chairman Harold Guenther.

Invitations for the Open House planned for Sunday, Nov. 15, from 2 until 6 p.m., will be mailed to Plymouth residents, service clubs, the school board, state and national representatives and officials of surrounding communities, Guenther said.

Following comments from City Commissioners it was decided that a Dedication Ceremony would be held outside if weather permitted, otherwise they would be in the Commission Chambers.

"You dedicate a city hall with what you have," Guenther said, following a discussion of suitable facilities. You don't build a special room for the ceremonies, he added.

Guenther said he thought between 1,000 and 1,500 persons would probably tour the building that day and estimate costs, including refreshments, to be between $800 and $1,000.

Commissioners accepted Century Cement Company's, of Trenton, bid for a cement extension of the Industrial Dr. Although the bid of $8,130 was $2,000 more than Johnson and Anderson engineering consultant's estimate Commissioners voted to accept the bid, with Commissioner Arch Vallier casting a vote against it.

CITY MANAGER Albert Glassford told Commissioners he had talked with a representative of Standards Inc. who said the company, which has begun building on Industrial Dr., would like the extension completed this year.

Commissioner Arch Vallier before voting against the contract award suggested obtaining competitive bids on bituminous asphalt paving rather than concrete.

The drive is concrete and, in making the motion to accept the low bid, Commissioner Jabara said he felt the extension also ought to be concrete to keep the nice appearance of the industrial area.

The Commission rejected bids given for widening S.

Trick or Treating For UNICEF Set for Friday

From 4-6 p.m. Friday, Oct. 30 youngsters will be "trick or treating" in the Plymouth Community for UNICEF.

UNICEF, United Nations Children's Fund, assists in more than 500 long-range programs for needy children and mothers in Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Middle East. Carrying their half-pint milk container collection cartons bearing an orange and black label with the UNICEF symbol of a mother and child, they will be escorted by an adult or teenager.

The program, sponsored locally by the Plymouth Ministerial Association, was first organized on Oct. 31, 1950 when youngsters in a suburb of a large American city decided that while they were doing their rounds, ringing door bells asking for treats they also might collect pennies, nickels and dimes to help other children.

The nationwide 1963 UNICEF Halloween resulted in over two million dollars for needy children.

Harvey St. at Ann Arbor Tr. because they were too high.

In other action commissioners approved a resolution establishing a temporary loan repayment fund bank account for the city's Urban Renewal project and decided to get the full program on widening Church St. across from the City Hall before taking any action.

Glassford explained to commissioners that money obtained from the sale of Urban Renewal property would be placed in the new bank account. He said the city already had $7,190 from Ossie Hinote and $13,660 from Bathey Manufacturing.

Tentative Program

Tentative arrangements for the City Hall Open House and dedication ceremonies, Sunday, Nov. 15, include slating the Dedication ceremonies for 2 p.m.

Master of Ceremonies will be former Mayor Robert Siscock.

Architect Byron Becker will present the key to the city hall to Building Authority Chairman Harold Guenther, who will hand it to Mayor Richard Wernette.

Wernette, in turn, will present the key to City Manager Albert Glassford.

Tours through the building will begin at 2:30 and cider, coffee and donuts will be served to guests.

Invitations are being sent to the Governor, representatives, senators, state representatives and state senator in addition to residents of the community and officials of surrounding communities.

The exhibit is currently touring the southeastern part of the state and will be on display here until Nov. 30, 1964 when it will travel to Fort Wayne, Military Museum.

bedroom apartments are self-defrosting refrigerator-freezer combinations, private patios and a second floor laundry room.

Apartments are ready for occupancy now in Jamestown Court Apartments located at 725-775 Coolidge Ave., a quiet residential area away from busy streets and heavy traffic.

Two buildings, each containing eight one-bedroom apartments are available, according to builders, contractors and rental agents Sechler-Bidwell Development Co. A third building containing four two-bedroom units is being planned, according to Thomas Sechler.

The units which come equipped with air-conditioning, garbage disposals, electric ranges and self-defrosting combination refrigerator-freezers start renting at $130 a month. Each unit contains a sizeable entrance hall, ample kitchen and work space and large living room and bedroom.

A large hall closet is provided for storage in addition to a linen closet. There will also be space in the basement for storage of infrequently used materials.

A private porch is provided for each tenant off his living room area. All windows are aluminum and are complete with storms and screens.

Block walls have been placed between apartments for sound control and the second story has sound-controlled lightweight concrete poured floors to cut noise.

Ample parking has been provided for tenants, and the grounds will be sodded before winter and completely landscaped, Sechler said. A manager will live at the location.

Jamestown Court Apartments are open for inspection weekdays, Tuesday and Thursday evenings until 8 p.m. and Sunday afternoons from 2 until 8 p.m. They can also be seen at anytime by appointment.

The company's offices are located in Farmington and they may be reached by calling 474-9029.

Kiwanians Hold Schoolcraft Circle K Charter Night

Harold Fischer was Master of Ceremonies for the Schoolcraft College Circle K Charter Night at last Tuesday evening's Kiwanis Club meeting. He was assisted by the King of Korn, Wen Miller.

The program began with a prayer offered by Rev. Dave Davies, followed by a dinner served by Norb Lofy and the welcome by Kiwanis President Gerry Fitch. Harp Stephens led the group in singing, accompanied by pianist Mrs. Everett Salow. A Kiwanis K-Bitser was presented by Narrator Bob Utter and a quartet composed of Harp Stephens, 1st Tuna; Aus Whipple, 2nd Tuna; A. E. VanOrnum Barracuda; and Fred Foust, Bass.

Pete Fletcher, Governor of the Michigan District of Kiwanis, then gave the Charge to Circle K and restated the objects of Kiwanis: anything worthwhile must be earned; by unity is the foundation of all progress; we need faith in our Creator and faith in ourselves; success can be yours only if you accept the responsibility.

Dr. Eric Bradner, president of Schoolcraft College, expressed the appreciation of the College Board, staff and faculty to the Kiwanis Clubs of Garden City, Livonia, Livonia Central and Plymouth for sponsoring this organization. Ron Meyer, President of the Circle K Club, expressed his appreciation for the leadership opportunity.

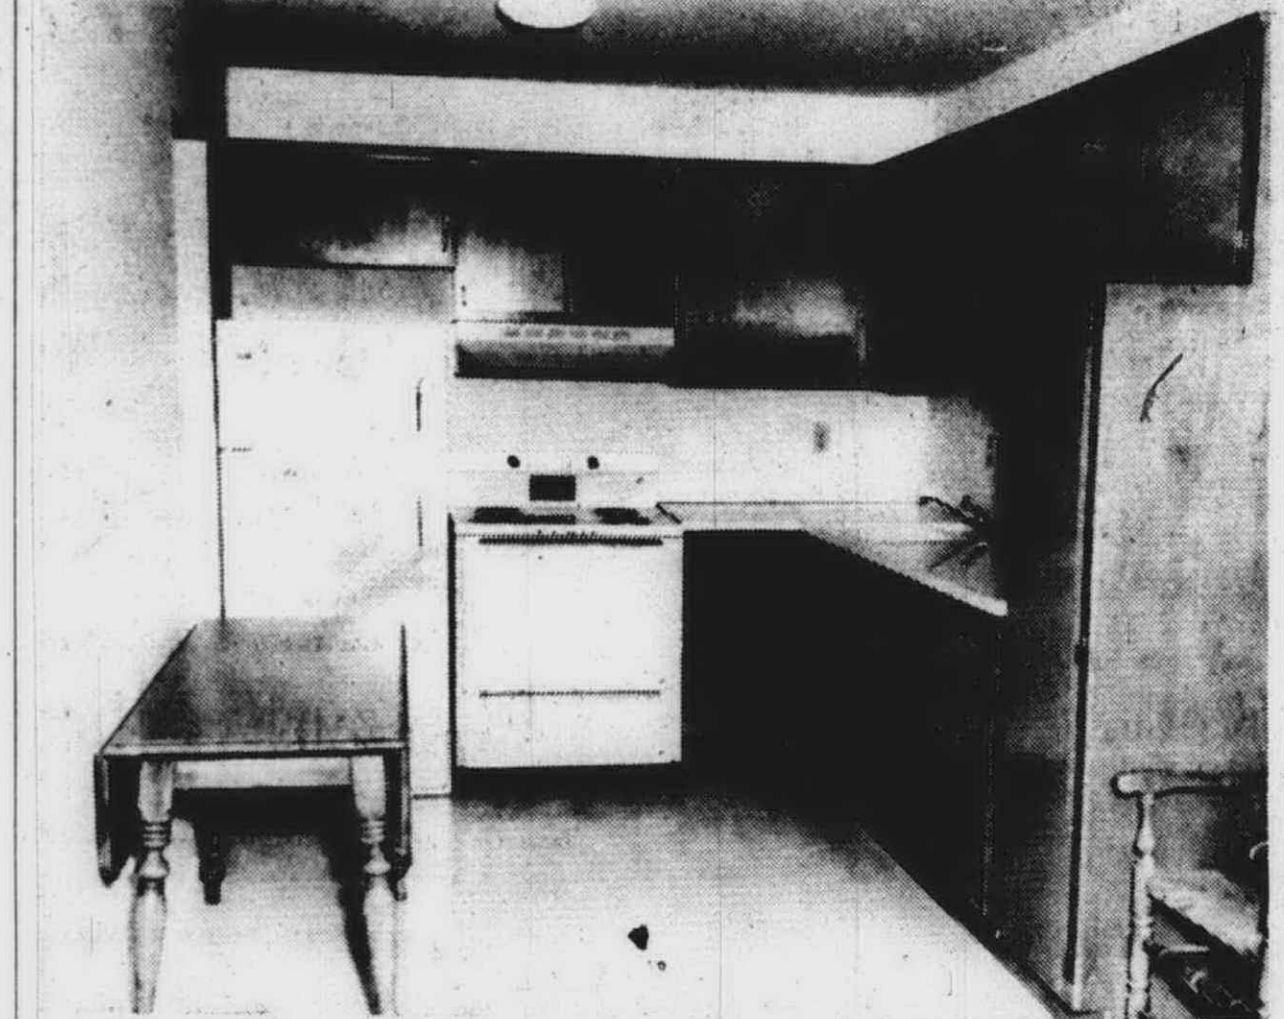

"We of the Circle K Club realize the responsibility you have given us and will work hard to follow our theme, Build Personal Understanding."

The first Circle K project was setting up and operating a transportation desk, like a car pool for students. Meyer stated that Circle K plans to organize a student get-acquainted dance in the near future. President Ron was then presented with the Circle K Club Charter by Tom Roberts, Chairman of Circle K Committee of the Kiwanis Michigan District.

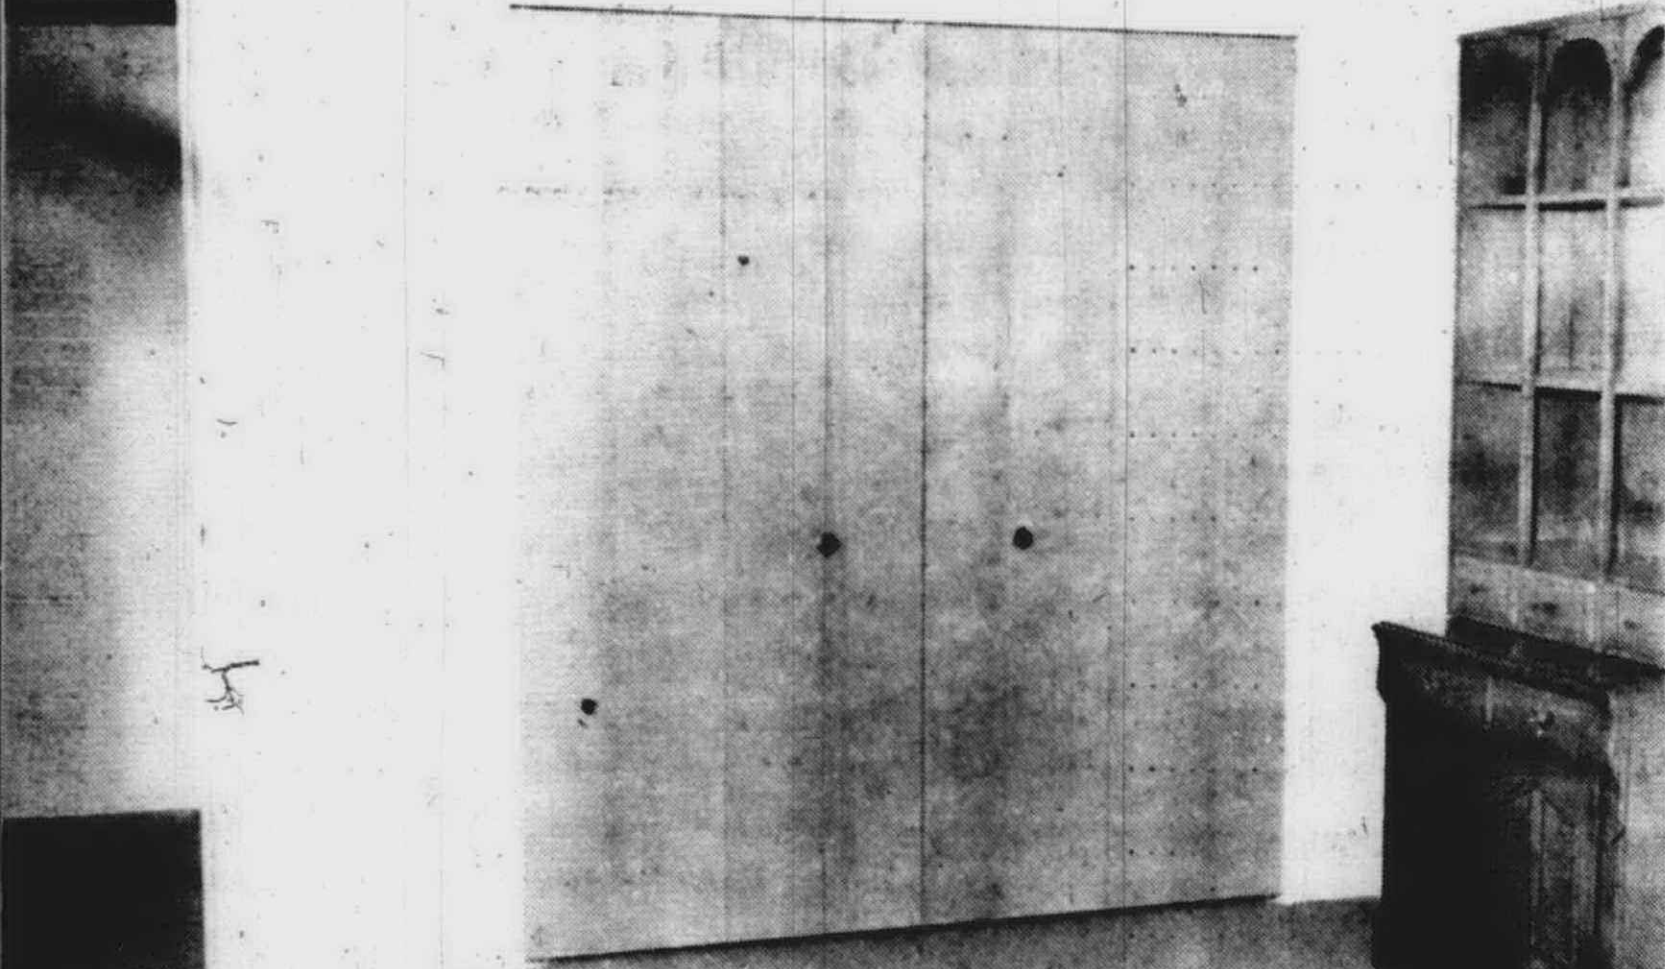

Other presentations were made by the sponsoring Kiwanis Clubs: the gong, by Floyd Woodruff of Livonia; the Canadian flag with standard and ten lapel pins by John Anderson of Livonia Central; the American flag with standard and ten lapel pins by Jerry Coleman of Garden City; the Club flag and song books by Gene Niles of Plymouth; the gavel by Becker; the podium by Stew Oldford Jr.; club stationery by Max Allen; badge identification by Joe West; and a wood container for Club supplies and equipment by Len Wendell.

Special guests at this program were sixth Division Lt. Gov. and Mrs. Walter Gempferline, sixth Division Lt. Gov. and Mrs. Ed Gordon, and a large delegation from the sponsoring communities of the Circle K Club of Garden City, Livonia, Livonia Central and Plymouth.

On Nov. 3 the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council will present the program and Ray Casato of the Xerox Corporation will present the program on Nov. 10.

THE LARGE kitchen in Jamestown Court Apartments at 725-775 Coolidge Ave. feature electric ranges, self-defrosting combination refrigerator-freezers, garbage disposals and birch kitchen cabinets with fruitwood finishes.

SPACIOUS CLOSETS (above) and cupboards are some of the extra features to be found in Jamestown Court Apartments at 725-775 Coolidge Ave. A second floor laundry room complete with coin-operated washer and dryer is found in each of the two buildings nearing completion.

Recovery, Inc. Teaches Methods of Self Help

A group of Plymouthites has been meeting weekly for two years to try to help prevent relapses of previous mental conditions or chronicity of nerves among themselves.

The woman said she would have cried, shown her bad temper and suffered from fatigue later, Mrs. Donegan added. Instead, Mrs. Donegan said, the member went up to someone and began talking and her panicky feeling left her.

Mrs. Donegan said the group deals with everyday trivialities. They use only first names in their meetings and it is up to each person whether anyone knows his last name.

The meetings in Plymouth High School, room 111, Wednesdays at 8 p.m., are open to the public and new members are always welcome, Mrs. Donegan said.

Recovery, Inc. will also demonstrate their methods for service clubs and other interested organizations.

For further information on the program call Mrs. Donegan, 453-2409.

City DPW Activities

By Supt. Joseph Bida

The past week found the Public Works Dept. busy picking up leaves all over the city. Men have been working from 6:30 a.m. until 6:30 p.m. trying to keep up with the problem. $26,000 was spent on leaf collections this past week.

The Public Works Department starts at one end of the city and works through the whole city, then starts over again. It is impossible to find anyone who calls the exact time the crew will be there.

Several traffic control signs were put up and several Stop signs were replaced that had been painted by vandals.

All main streets were swept and all residential streets were swept this past week. The downtown area has been swept twice.

Water pumped into the City from the well fields amount to 15,310,000 gallons. The contractor, Gay Brothers, is about one more week of work in water main installation. Then he will start his clean-up and cut off old mains. Old hydrants will then have to be taken out. The contractor putting in the water taps is keeping up with the one putting in the water mains.

The new water mains cannot be tapped until the State Board of Health ok's the samples of water sent to them.

Public Works has filled all low spots on Ann Arbor Trail between Hamilton and General Drive with stabilized gravel.

Approximately 300 cubic yards of refuse and rubbish were picked up by Denski Brothers per week or approximately 15,600 cubic yards per year. The City of Plymouth has been paying 65 cents per month per house or $7.80 per year from your taxes to defray costs of 52 pickups per year. However, with labor and equipment going up the cost will go to about 90c per pickup or $10.80 per house per year. Other cities, some nearby, pay as high as 98c per pickup or house, plus 25c per yard to dump so the City of Plymouth is still low.

If you aren't voting a straight ticket—follow these two simple steps to cast your vote for George Romney: (1) don't pull the 'party' lever . . . instead (2) push down the individual levers above each candidate's name . . . regardless of party. That's all there is to it. You can vote for both Republican and Democratic candidates. □ If you use a paper ballot, simply mark 'X' in the box next to the individual candidate's name, rather than in the party-designation circle. □ Why not tear out this ad and take it with you to the polls?

pected the number to hit 165 before the absentee deadline this Saturday.

IN PLYMOUTH. City Clerk Richard Shafer said he expected voter percentage to near 86 per cent next Tuesday. Shafer estimated that 85.9 per cent of the city's 5,108 qualified voters would cast ballots.

In 1960, he said, 3,979 of the City's 4,638 voters turned out at the polls. With 161 absentee ballots out, Shafer predicted a "landslide" of absent voter activity.

He said his office expected to issue 290 absentee ballots before the Saturday cutoff date.

A resident of Livonia, he was named that city's first postmaster and served in that capacity from 1949 to 1951. He was largely instrumental in seeing the first post office brought to Livonia.

Two years ago he was awarded a key to the City of Livonia by former Mayor William Brashear.

Following his return from Florida, the postmaster said, he will devote his full time to his chiropractic work.

No information is available yet on postmaster Timpona's successor.

At last! A shoe shaped the way your child's foot grows

Simon J. Wikler believes that the shape of a shoe's toe is just as important as the length of the shoe.

So Dr. Wikler created the first shoe with a flaring, fan-shaped front that gives little feet plenty of room to grow... gives toes freedom to spread and exercise so foot muscles and ligaments can develop fully. A shoe designed to avoid a lifetime of foot trouble.

He formed the heel to hold the foot firmly in place, without cramping it. For the uppers, soft, pliant leathers so as not to irritate sensitive feet. And flexible, durable outsoles, without stiff steel shanks.

P. H. S. Slates Special Exams

More than 100 tenth grade students will take the three-hour National Educational Development Tests (NEDT) Saturday, Nov. 7, according to John M. Hoben, assistant principal.

The NEDT battery, is a series of tests in English, social studies, mathematics, natural sciences and word usage, which have been designed to measure each student's ability to apply basic learning skills rather than his ability to memorize particular facts or specific subject matter.

"They have been used in Plymouth since 1957 as a help to students, parents and teachers in identifying strengths and weaknesses in each student's educational development and in making a realistic appraisal of his educational and vocational objectives," Hoben said.

Town Crier

Take Me to Your Leader, Meter Reader

By Jacquie Town

A few weeks ago, I called the City Hall to do some hell raising about the water problem in Plymouth. With both barrels loaded I was going to let the DPW know what I thought.

No holds barred. My opening question was direct and to the point: "Mr. Bida, what's being done about the miserable water in this town; and why don't we have Detroit City Water?"

Expecting to hear an ogre who deliberately keeps the water source a secret and pours gallons of pure rust in the supply just to make life difficult for home-makers, much to my amazement, I found a very pleasant individual who didn't object to a long chat and eagerly answered my questions.

He ended the conversation by inviting me to have a look-see at the wells for myself. A great deal about Plymouth's history was learned during that conversation, and a lot more about what is being done to correct the water problem.

Without going into detail as to the exact technical terms he used, I can assure that this Department is a working one and things are being accomplished to alleviate the rust and hardness.

First of all, Plymouth does not have Detroit city water because of the tremendous expense involved, the indecisiveness of the Detroit Water Board about rates and the problem of piping it in. Detroit does not belong to the State Control Board and could raise our rates extensively without notice.

The reason for the existing problem is a simple one — inadequate pipes which result in poor circulation and mains built between 1893 and the early 1900's.

Anything old eventually gets rusty. Joe Bida and his boys are busy replacing the antiques with new transite pipes, less susceptible to rust, and with larger diameters. New tests and new chemicals are being used to control the mineral content and hold down excess hardness.

Plymouth's water is flouridated, wise for our children, and also chlorinated to insure purity. We know where it comes from, and we know that factory waste materials and other debris are not a part of it.

Detroit has difficulty supplying water to other subscribers and at times, those communities often have to use their own independent water systems as a supplement. As I talked to Joe Bida, I became more and more aware that this man has a genuine concern for the community.

I felt I was discussing a problem with a friend and the image of "ogre" quickly disappeared.

My mind traveled back to the day after the Fall Festival, when nary a sign remained of the thousands who had littered the park. Bida and his men were responsible for that.

I thought of heavy storms of last summer when trees were down everywhere, and how soon they were cleared.

Mr. Bida always on the scene. I take for granted that trash will be disposed of, streets will be cleared in the winter, and leaves taken care of. But I no longer take Mr. Bida for granted.

He is a credit to his community, and not just a glorified custodian.

He made me laugh as he related stories of irate housewives threatening to dump the family wash on his front porch, and he laughed too. It's obvious it would take a real sense of humor to be in his position, and Joe has it.

He told me about recommending a chemical to whiten clothes (Oxalic Acid — one tablespoon to every 14 gallons of rinse water NO MORE; and then having manufacturers of washing machines complain because it damaged the porcelain. It seems some women felt if one was good two would be even better.

Presto, no more washer. It didn't take me long to realize that I was, oh, so wrong. Plymouth is doing something about the water. Next time I have a question or a complaint, I feel assured of honest effort from the DPW.

Call Joe, I did and I'm a lot wiser for the time it took.

TREASURES FROM

Plymouth Pantries

An old family cookie recipe, "Pineapple Diamonds," which has been passed down to her was suggested by Mrs. Donald Allen, of 42150 Lakeland Ct.

Residents of Plymouth for 15 years, the Allens have three children, Cynthia, 17-years-old, Donald, 14-years-old, and Rodney, ten-years-old.

Mrs. Allen says she likes to sew and makes many of her own clothes and her daughters. She also knits and said the rest of her time she spends taking care of her children.

Flower arranging is her newest hobby and she is taking lessons to become more adept at it.

She suggested making the dough for "Pineapple Diamonds" in the morning and then letting it chill until late afternoon. She said she bakes just before dinner, so they can be served warm for dessert.

Although they are good cold, Mrs. Allen said she prefers them warm.

"Pineapple Diamonds"

3 C. flour
2 Tbs. sugar
1/2 lb. margarine
5 Tbs. milk
Mix as for pie crust and chill.
Combine:
1 number 2 can crushed pineapple, 2 C. sugar.

Boil until slightly thick, about 1/2 hours, and cool. Divide dough into two equal parts. Roll out on floured board to fit small cookie sheet. Spread with filling and cover with remaining dough. Seal edges and prick top with fork. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 minutes. Cut into diamonds while warm.

BOILING the pineapple for her "Pineapple Diamonds" is Mrs. Donald Allen, of 42150 Lakeland Ct. The recipe can be mixed up early in the day, chilled, baked just before dinner and then served warm to your family.

Harlow Ingall Speaks on Court Tax Proposal

In the wake of many requests from Salem Township residents concerning Washenaw County's proposed 18 mill tax limitation, Township Supervisor Harlow Ingall made the following comments:

"If the request had been for 15 mills I would have favored its passage. Then it would not have increased taxes, the Allocation Board would have been abolished and the taxpayers, the schools and others could have counted on a definite allocated millage each year."

Ingall also said he doubted the 18 mill proposition would be advantageous to either the taxpayer or the Salem school district. He added that where the tax is applied to all four units of government there could be an increase of three mills of allocated tax and a total increase of three mills in taxes.

Salem Township and Washenaw County Voters will vote on this proposal at the Nov. 3 election.

TALKING WITH PROF. Wesley Maurer following his lecture at the opening of this season's Plymouth Listening Post, Oct. 21, are left to right, Mrs. Robert F. Kehrl, of Greenbriar Ln., Mrs. John Moehle, of W. Ann Arbor Tr., and Mrs. Glenn Hunter, of Redford Township. Maurer's topic was the "Meaning of Conflicts of Our Time" and he discussed the transitions in our culture that are behind these conflicts. He is chairman of the University of Michigan's Department of Journalism. The next lecture in the Listening Post series, sponsored by the Plymouth branch of the American Association of University Women, will be Director of the Detroit City Planning Commission Charles A. Blessing, Jan. 28, 1965.

Plymouthite Joins M.S.U. Players

The MSU Players, a campus theatre group, invited senior Jinx Goddard of Plymouth to join its critically acclaimed back-stage production staff last week.

Jinx, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Goddard, 4424 John Alden, will be designing and arranging costumes, working on sound and lighting problems, locating props and preparing scenery.

Henrik Ibsen's "The Master Builder", which will open in early December, will be the first Michigan State University Theatre production that she will be working on this year.

"An Italian Straw Hat", Eugene O'Neill's "Long Day's Journey" and Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro" will complete the 1964-65 season.

Admission into this select drama troupe sponsored by the department of speech presupposes participation in University Theatre activities.

From Jean Anouilh's "Beckett" presented last winter term to Summer Circle Theatre productions, Jinx's activities have satisfied this requirement.

Theatrical interest for this coed was a carry-over from high school activities when she contributed to Plymouth High dramatic productions.

An interior design major, Jinx supplements her studies and theatre work with the office of publicity chairman for Philips dormitory.

American Legion Auxiliary

A big "thank you" from Past President's Parley Chairman, Gertrude Simonetti. The response from Auxiliary and Post on the Bakery and Post on the Bakery less Bake Sale was wonderful.

Another big "thank you" comes from Rummage Sale Chairman Marge Hoeft and Co-chairman Genevieve Wilson. Lot of work, but well worth it according to Chairman Marge — it was a big success.

As most of us know, the Post and Auxiliary members will be distributing "I Pledge to Vote" buttons Friday and Saturday. All members are urged to come out a few hours and help on Friday, Oct. 30 and Saturday, Oct. 31.

On Saturday, Oct. 31 from 2 p.m. until 4 p.m. there will be a Halloween Party for the children, all ages. Be sure to bring your children to the Post Home, the party is for them this time.

Saturday night, Oct. 31, is the adults Halloween Party starting at 9 p.m. Come on you spooks and enjoy the splendid music of our favorite band The Suburbanites. The tickets are $2.00 a couple and a luncheon will be served.

The next Passage-Gayde Post meeting will be Sunday, Nov. 1 at 2 p.m. Come on fellows and learn more of what your Post is doing. Just a reminder — dues are due. Pay no wand avoid the rush for the early bird stickers.

In observance of Veterans Day, Nov. 11, a potluck supper is planned for all Post and Auxiliary members and their families. The Ex-Serviceman's Club is being invited to attend. Post and Auxiliary members are asked to bring their table service and a dish to pass. The meat will be furnished by our Post Commander and his wife. The supper is Sunday, Nov. 8 at 2 p.m. A very good way to begin Veterans Week which is Nov. 8-14.

The 17th District meeting will be Friday, Nov. 20 at 8 p.m. in Northville at the Lloyd H. Green Post Home.

On Saturday at 6:30 p.m., Nov. 21 is our next "Why Are We" banquet. Our guests are the Chamber of Commerce. Auxiliary members — have you received your copy of Passage-Gayde Unit By-Laws and Standing Rules? Read them carefully. Make notes of any correction and or omission and bring them to our next meeting on Nov. 18. These standing rules will be voted on at this time.

Two new members are Corrine Clark and Madeline Wilson. Welcome aboard girls.

The Post Entertainment Chairman Bob Richter wishes to express special thanks to Harlow Tubbs and Vern Miller for a good selection of prizes for the Millionaires Party. Also thanks goes to many other members that gave their time in helping work on this event.

Our thoughts are with Barney Kot and Leo Speer. Hurry and get well real soon fellows.

"I Have a Magic"

By Anna Jung

How often we hear little children at play talk to imaginary companions they have conjured up out of a world long since forgotten by most adults.

Ben had a cowboy friend who could ride faster, shoot straighter, and fight harder than anybody. Soon it was hard to tell where the cowboy ended and Ben began.

Billy had a lion under his bed who watched over him at night and kept enemies away with growls and snarls. Betty had a fairy godmother who could bring anything Betty wanted out of a mail-order catalogue.

Eventually, Ben and Billy and Betty grew up; and they forgot about their magic cowboys, lions, and fairy godmothers. But somehow they held on to the feeling that they had a magic which could enable them to control those around them, and to get what they needed if the right words or right key could be found to unlock the magic power.

So Ben grew up to be Mr. "A" who came to the family agency for help because he could not control his drinking. He traded in his cowboy friend for a bottle of alcohol, and soon it got to be a problem to figure out whether it was Mr. "A." or alcohol that was controlling his life.

The more confused and uncertain he felt, the more he drank.

And the more he drank the more confused and uncertain he felt about himself.

For Mr. "A.", alcohol was the key that unlocked the magic power that made him feel strong and confident; but alcohol ultimately became a lethal weapon which destroyed his initiative, his judgment, his self-esteem and ruined his health.

Billy became Mr. "K." Without his magic lion to protect him, he had become an anxious, fearful man who tried to find security through work, work, work.

But since his feelings of insecurity were the result of his psychological problems, no amount of material wealth could give him security.

Betty came to the agency because her husband never gave her any money, or so it seemed to her. As Mrs. "P.", the wife of a school-teacher, she had all the necessities of life and a few luxuries. She handled the money and her husband never questioned her spending.

She had charge accounts and access to other forms of credit.

The family was deeply in debt when Mrs. "P." sought help. She was finding it increasingly difficult to satisfy the creditors.

Mr. "P.'s" income increased slowly over the years while Mrs. "P.'s" wants multiplied rapidly.

She could not find a key to the magic that would bring back the fairy godmother of her childhood.

The central problem for each of clients was their inability to perceive and accept reality. They had not recognized their own inner strengths and were seeking strengths from sources outside of themselves.

Their ego capacity deteriorated, just as an arm in a sling becomes weakened through lack of use. Because of feelings of inadequacy, they perceived outside forces as greater than they were.

Mr. Ben "A." had been severely rejected by his father and he felt that nobody could like him since his father hadn't liked him. Alcohol dulled his sensitivity and allowed him to pretend that people liked him.

Mr. Billy "K." had grown up without a father.

His parents were divorced early in his life and he never had the security of a father's love and protection. He had no model of a strong man to pattern himself after, and no one to help him achieve a healthy male identity.

Mrs. Betty "P." was an only child whose parents gave her material things instead of love, so she grew up feeling that money was love.

The magic fairy godmother gave her all the "love" she wanted as a child. In her adult life she needed more and more "things" — or money — from her husband to feel he loved her.

A false alarm of fire was turned in last Saturday night about 11:30 o'clock by which it was reported that the Wilcox mill was on fire. The fire department responded promptly, but they were notified when near the P.M. depot that there was no fire. If this was intended as a Halloween joke it is rather an expensive one for the village, as the calling out of the department costs quite a little sun.

The village council at the meeting Monday night offered a reward of $25 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person who turned in the alarm. There is a severe penalty for an offense of this kind and if the offender is apprehended they no doubt will be severely dealt with.

To Show Electric Movie Screen For Home Use

For the first time, home slide and movie viewers as well as those who project pictures in business and professional offices will have the opportunity to see and try out a new electrically operated projection screen, according to Les Wilson, of the Photographic Center.

At the touch of a switch the screen surface rolls down automatically into position, ready for the show to start. Another touch of the button and the screen automatically rolls up into a vinyl textured metal case, completely protected and out of the way until the next showing.

The screen can be fastened to any wall or ceiling with two screws or hooks. For operation it is plugged into any standard outlet.

Lindsay for Plymouth Twp. supervisor

EDITOR'S NOTE: Below, The Plymouth Mail makes its recommendations concerning candidates for regional political offices. Because of our nature as a community newspaper, we have deliberately restricted comment to local candidates and those who would directly represent The Plymouth Community as distinguished from statewide and national hopefuls.

In the only race that exists at the local level, incumbent Plymouth Township Supervisor Roy R. Lindsay, a Republican, is pitted against Democratic candidate Orville Tungate.

Lindsay, the dean of local politicians, has served the Township's interests well during his time in office. He has fought vigorously for those things he felt would benefit Plymouth Township. Tungate, quite obviously, is running only to see his party's name represented on the ticket. He has not campaigned actively for election and, in fact, gives little indication that he wants the office.

Because Tungate has demonstrated little interest in becoming Plymouth Township Supervisor, because his opponent has a notable record of service, and because, at this time, we feel his re-election would be to the advantage of Plymouth Township and The Plymouth Community as a whole, The Plymouth Mail supports the candidacy of Roy R. Lindsay.

We urge Plymouth Township residents to cast their ballots for Supervisor Lindsay.

Green would serve with distinction

The race for State Representative in the newly-created 36th State Representative District, which includes Plymouth and Canton Townships, sees an experienced Garden City politician and a newcomer to the political field battling it out.

Former Garden City Mayor James Tierney, Democratic candidate, and GOP hopeful W. Wallace Green, 26-year-old Plymouth attorney, are running for the seat in the State House.

This is a race which could have statewide implications.

In a bulletin published by the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce recently, the 36th was listed as a "swing district," one which could go either Republican or Democratic.

"The probable results in these districts cannot be anticipated," the publication noted, classifying the 36th as marginal Democrat. "With legislative organization and control at stake, it is obvious that each vote in a 'swing' district is extremely important. Such districts demand special attention. . . Each vote is a crucial one."

With this in mind, The Plymouth Mail has evaluated the qualifications of both candidates. Both have been interviewed.

First of all, formal education, if not necessary, is a valuable asset to any legislator at the state level. Green holds degrees in business administration and law from the University of Michigan.

Tierney's educational background is not comparable.

Secondly, a desire for office and a display of interest in area problems is requisite. Green has dedicated himself to investigating problems of the district, campaigning long and hard both in this area and in Garden City — ex-Mayor Tierney's bailiwick.

In contrast, Tierney, who feels he has Garden City sewed up, seems to think he doesn't need Plymouth to gain election. His campaigning in this area has been sporadic and unambitious.

Both men have pledged themselves to improving waning state aid for education, and displayed sincere interest in the educational problems of the area.

As a further plus for Green, he strongly backs increased leadership on the part of state and local government.

"I think," he said in an interview, "states should do less talking about states' rights and more about state responsibilities." If states don't meet the needs of the people, Green believes, they will turn to the Federal Government.

For those who would knock Green because of his age, we would point to Michigan's first Governor, Stephens T. Mason, who took office before his 21st birthday. He served with distinction.

In summation, we feel W. Wallace Green is best qualified to represent the entire 36th State Representative District. The Plymouth Mail cheerfully and wholeheartedly endorses his candidacy.

Least unqualified in 14th District race

Voters in the 14th State Senatorial District are faced with a difficult decision. For they must choose from two candidates, neither one of which seems to possess the qualities that a distinguished legislator should have.

On the one hand is James McCarthy of Livonia, a 30-year-old Democrat who has pledged eternal fidelity to his party's cause. During the course of the campaign he has reiterated Democratic viewpoints as they relate to mental health, senior citizens and tax reform.

He has shown little knowledge of, or insight into, local problems. Write-in candidate Paul A. Kern of Orchard Lake offers little and poses no threat.

On the other hand is State Rep. Paul M. Chandler, a highly ambitious man who used his own newspaper chain, in disregard of the ethical standards of journalism, to enhance his political fortunes.

During his term in the house, the 44-year-old Livonian compiled an unenviable record of non-attendance.

McCarthy has pretty much chosen to attack Chandler on a personal basis, rather than on issues. But, in his favor, he has promised to serve full-time if elected.

In Chandler's stead, it may be pointed out that he does appear to have some awareness of the area's needs. Also, he holds a degree in political science from the University of Michigan.

While The Plymouth Mail sees no candidate worthy of strong endorsement, we do feel an obligation to point out that Chandler seems slightly better equipped by virtue of education, experience and awareness.

We would suggest that he is least unqualified for office in a race that has shortchanged voters throughout The Plymouth Community and the 14th District.

For forward-looking representation

When The Plymouth Community was cast into Michigan's Second U.S. Congressional District by realignment of legislative areas, it inherited Congressman George Meader of Ann Arbor who seems to be as far to the right of the political spectrum as anyone in the Republican party.

Since 1951, Meader has been coasting to victory on the strength of rural votes in Southern Michigan.

He has consistently voted against legislation to increase the minimum wage, solve water pollution problems and tax reform.

Meader's negativism has extended to the Peace Corps, farm programs and civil rights. On the latter question, he even voted against General Eisenhower's civil rights bill during the Republican administration.

On this point, The Toledo Blade, a newspaper which covers the Monroe County portion of the Congressman's constituency, noted:

"Although his district is one of the southernmost in Michigan, his voice in the civil rights debate suggests that Representative Meader has become somewhat disoriented.

"Southern Michigan is not the South.

"After seven days of futile efforts by southern congressmen to weaken the public accommodations section of the civil rights bill, however, up pops the congressman from Michigan's Second District to lead the most severe attack . . .

"It is a blot on the congressional record for the climax to a last-ditch fight against the civil rights bill to have been led by the representative from southeastern Michigan."

A tactic which Meader pursued here in The Plymouth Community during the primary campaign was blanket mailing of reprints from the Congressional Record to local residents in government franked envelopes.

Included in the mailings were Meader's address to the House opposing civil rights legislation, Meader's address to the House attacking the U.S. Supreme Court, a reprint of remarks by Northern Michigan's Representative Elford A. Cedarberg extolling Meader's virtues and reproduction of an editorial from the Jackson Citizen Patriot mourning the loss of Meader to Jackson through redistricting.

While the reprints themselves were not done at government expense, the mailings were. If they were sent to every home in the five-county district; at the rate of two cents each, that's over $10,000 of the taxpayer's money used to re-elect George Meader.

For a man who pleads the cause of conservatism, that would be quite a chunk of public money to spend for personal gain.

Opposing Meader is Democrat Weston E. Vivian, also of Ann Arbor.

Vivian has pledged himself to support most of the programs Meader has bucked.

An electronics engineer, Vivian is vice president of Conduction Corporation in the University City. He holds B.S., M.S., and Ph.D. degrees.

Since the primary, Vivian has been campaigning long and hard throughout the district, attacking the incumbent's stands on aid to education, loans and scholarships, and civil rights.

Long a supporter of education, Vivian promises to seek ways and means to solve problems of classroom shortage, school drop-outs and inadequate teacher salaries without undue Federal control.

As a potential Congressman, Vivian seems far better qualified to serve the needs of The Plymouth Community and the Second District as a whole than George Meader. The Plymouth Mail believes strongly in split-ticket voting when the need arises and, in this case, we think that need is present.

We support the candidacy of Weston E. Vivian of Ann Arbor for U. S. Congressman in the Second District. Plymouth residents interested in sincere representation should vote for him.

Foley for Wayne Appellate court

Because a Plymouth Community resident is involved, The Plymouth Mail feels obligated to take some note of the county-wide race for the Wayne County Court of Appeals.

Running for a seat on the appellate bench is Plymouth attorney Thomas J. Foley. Strong backing was given Foley's candidacy recently when the Detroit Bar Association polled its membership about candidate qualifications.

He was one of three men who received the largest number of votes, finishing a close second behind Common Pleas Judge Harry J. Dingeman, Jr. Foley has compiled a distinguished record as an attorney, appearing before the U.S. Supreme Court, the U.S. Court of Appeals, the Michigan Supreme Court and lower courts.

The Plymouth Mail endorses Thomas J. Foley for the new Wayne Court of Appeals and suggests that Plymouth residents support him on Nov. 3.

"I PLEDGE to vote." That's what Plymouth Township Clerk John D. McEwen, left, was promising to do as American Legion Commander Ernest Koi presented him with one of the Legion's buttons carrying the pledge to turn out at the polls. Legionnaires will be campaigning this week in a non-partisan effort to get all qualified voters in The Plymouth Community to cast their ballots on Nov. 3.

LETTERS:

Opinions Confirm His Political Stand

Charles Root, Jr., 265 Ann St., Plymouth, Mich.

Dear Editor: Congratulations on your article in your Grim Pilgrim column in the October 13 issue of The Mail. Reading it last weekend, after arriving home from a visit with our son and family in Ithaca, New York, I sensed that you would be the number one target for brickbats from some solid citizens of Plymouth.

Having grown up in this town I am well aware of the fact that it has been long regarded as a Republican stronghold. The opinions expressed in letters to the editor in the October 20, issue of The Mail took the same pattern as in every Presidential campaign; and they made me a more confirmed Democrat than ever because they usually contained half-truths and appealed to the emotions rather than to reason based on all the facts of modern history in regards to the two World Wars, the Korean and United Nations police action and the present effort to stop the spread of totalitarian Communism in Southeast Asia.

One of the letters critical of your opinion of Mr. Kirk's lecture made the same old worn out charge that all the wars in which the United States has been involved with in recent times were the fault of Democratic presidents and their administrations. Such accusations tacitly claim that Presidents Wilson, Roosevelt and Truman started these wars; they ordered the Kaiser to sink the Lusitania with his u-boats, they ordered the Japanese to bomb Pearl Harbor, they ordered the North Korean Communists to invade South Korea. As for the Cuban and South Viet Nam debacle, the present Kennedy-Johnson Administration inherited these from the Republican Eisenhower Administration. In short, the Republicans let the barn catch fire, wait for the Democrats to extinguish it, and then blame them for doing so.

As to your other letter chiding you for your fuzzy facts regarding the acquaintance-ship of various individuals with Dr. Kirk, the point here was well taken on journalistic accuracy. It can only be noted that the young man mentioned as being greatly impressed with Dr. Kirk's address was an engineer with a public utility. These huge cartels are constantly working to eliminate government controls on their rates and they welcome any orator who can convince the people to vote away all barriers to raising of rates in order to further enrich their executives.

This is natural. It is also natural for the little fellows who pay the utility bills to resist such moves. Down through the years it is obvious to which political party they turn to protect the interests of all the people.

One other thing: The letter attacking the War on Poverty Program levels a charge that such a program is merely to appeal to the lazy, ignorant and improvident voters. There are lazy, improvident people in all levels of our society; even in Grosse Pointe. There are many who aren't fortunate enough to have influential parents. But there are unnumbered individuals who are destitute because of economic change or automation. They have hunted jobs but they don't have the skills or the knowledge to fill the new jobs that have sprung up. The War on Poverty seeks to help them through the great economic and social transition period, and train them.

What to do with these unfortunate? Should we eliminate them the way Hitler did? Or, should our Federal, state and local governments just ignore them and let them starve or increase the crime rate so that we will have to pay more taxes for police protection?

Do the Dr. Kirks have good solid answers to these problems other than scornful allusions to progressive organizations like the ADA? In closing I would like to compliment John Herb on his wonderful letter to the editor in the October 13 issue and to express my admiration to you, dear editor, for your courage and fairness in handling of the news in your paper and your candid editorials.

Sincerely,
Charles Root, Jr.

Dear Editor: I am writing this letter in protest of the city ordinance which refers to the riding of bicycles in the business district.

This order calls for the riding of all bikes in the streets! It also says that all bikes will be parked in the racks in Kellogg Park.

Last Thursday while riding from Jr. High East to the High School I was nearly hit twice by motorists who didn't see me in the business district. In both instances I was saved by my own alertness.

It is rather logical to assume that some day soon a kid who should know better, but doesn't, will be seriously hurt by a driver who never saw him.

It all boils down to either an irate citizen once in a while, or some poor kid lying out at Main and Ann Arbor Trail with a pair of broken legs.

This ordinance also dictates where bikes are to be parked. I ask you: how many people would park their cars by the park when going to Cloverdale's? Do you have any idea what could result if we bike riders started using auto parking spaces?

Why not change the ordinance to read "No one shall park a bicycle so that it obstructs a sidewalk or the entrance to a place of business."

Sincerely,
Clark Chapin

Dear Editor:
Peace, Prosperity, & Progress.
The above slogan is com-

The moment of truth. It will come a week from today as Plymouth Community voters troop to the polls in what are expected to be unprecedented numbers.

There, assuming they've reached a decision in this most ludicrous of campaigns, they will turn the appropriate levers and leave with a distinct feeling of relief. Many will be glad it's over.

During the past week, in conversation with party workers — both Republican and Democratic, I have gotten the distinct impression that they have lost the yen for battle, have been soured and revolted by a contest which has achieved an apogee of meaninglessness.

Here in Plymouth, I have been both apothecias and a patient to political groups. Some have interred that I am "anti-Barry," others that I have been unfair to The Plymouth Community in my remarks, and still others contend that I have exceeded the given bounds of weekly journalism by presuming to comment on issues which extend beyond our local world.

Perhaps, I, too, am weary of charges and counter-charges — clumps of political dung which have polluted the atmosphere, local, state and national.

Dear Editor:
Peace, Prosperity, & Progress.
The above slogan is commendable but like the gift horse bears investigation. Peace at the price of appeasement, conciliation, & compromise will lead to war or slavery, as Neville Chamberlain proved at Munich.

Prosperity at the price of inflation inflicts cruelty on those no longer capable of earning.

Progress through centralization of power and socialism will stifle freedom as it has in Soviet Russia.

Winston Churchill's warnings went unheeded by a people bent on similar goals. He courageously presented the issues as he saw them regardless of their unpopularity. He was called a war monger until at the last hour the people turned to him. It was very nearly too late when the moment of truth came for England.

History repeats but its lessons go unheeded. Peace is achieved by strength, firmness, and devotion to principle.

The prophet of a new era boldly calls America to its destiny. Will we travel to the brink of disaster before we heed the warning? Or will it be too late?

But I would dispute any accusation of unfairness to my community. Rather, I give it credit for better perception than most.

Midway in the muddle which has persisted since party conventions, a telephone rang and the voice on the other end inquired: "Do you know of a good conservative publication?" And, having been recommended William F. Buckley's "National Review" (which, by the way, includes writings by Russell Kirk), "What would you suggest as a liberal magazine?"

This, one could argue, is typical. I prefer to hope not. Crass idealist that I am, it's far more palatable to think that most Plymouthites have sifted, evaluated and come to a conclusion after investigating a differing viewpoint.

With daily newspapers withdrawn from our midst at a point when the public craved valid information, I have seen Plymouth Community residents make a commendable effort to educate themselves politically.

And, with more faith in the intelligence of the electorate than many politicians, I would suggest that local persons, by and large, will make more knowledgeable decisions than those in other areas.

In this connection, let's take a good look at the referendum question on an act passed by the Michigan Legislature: The celebrated "Massachusetts Ballot."

In an analysis of the issue last month, the Citizens Research Council of Michigan quoted from the Congressional Quarterly: "Connecticut, for instance, makes it extremely difficult for a citizen to split his ticket. As a result, the winning Presidential or gubernatorial candidate usually carries the rest of his ticket to victory with him."

"Massachusetts, on the other hand, has the 'office type' ballot which requires a citizen to vote separately for each candidate. Thus Democratic Governors could be elected in the midst of Eisenhower sweeps and a republican Governor in the midst of a Kennedy sweep in 1960. . . "Backers of a 'straight ticket' type ballot argue that it reduces 'whim' voting on the basis of individual candidates' names or nationality and that it tends to give one party control of all major offices, thus focusing responsibility on that party to fulfill its campaign pledges. . . .

"The supporters of the 'office type' ballot say that it reduces voting on the basis of blind party loyalty and encourages the voter to give careful thought to his vote for each office. . . .

"The result of intelligent ticket-splitting, they argue, is the election and retention in office of superior public servants. . . . In Michigan, according to the Research Council, opponents of the Massachusetts ballot argue that it would complicate voting; confuse voters; and cause long polling lines because of extra time needed to cast votes. . . .

Balderdash. Again it depends on your considered estimate of the voter's intelligence. Unfortunately, here in Michigan, the question has become partisan in nature.

One party seems to think John Q. Public is a muttonhead capable only of shuffling into a voting booth and throwing a handle over the cartoon vignette of a particular party.

I resent both this implication and others like it. A former Michigan Governor stood in the office of The Plymouth Mail earlier this year and, in answer to a question about whether voters — in the wake of redistricting mess-ups — would know who the candidates were, answered with a cynical laugh: "No. But, we always count on that."

His rejoinder gripped hell out of me then and, frankly, it still does. In my book, politicians who think voters have donkeys or elephants in their heads in lieu of brains are out in left field (no political implication intended).

I hope they get an overwhelming "yes" vote on the Massachusetts ballot thrown in their teeth. They deserve it.

Dear Editor: I am writing this letter in protest of the city ordinance which refers to the riding of bicycles in the business district.

This order calls for the riding of all bikes in the streets! It also says that all bikes will be parked in the racks in Kellogg Park.

Last Thursday while riding from Jr. High East to the High School I was nearly hit twice by motorists who didn't see me in the business district. In both instances I was saved by my own alertness.

It is rather logical to assume that some day soon a kid who should know better, but doesn't, will be seriously hurt by a driver who never saw him.

It all boils down to either an irate citizen once in a while, or some poor kid lying out at Main and Ann Arbor Trail with a pair of broken legs.

This ordinance also dictates where bikes are to be parked. I ask you: how many people would park their cars by the park when going to Cloverdale's? Do you have any idea what could result if we bike riders started using auto parking spaces?

Why not change the ordinance to read "No one shall park a bicycle so that it obstructs a sidewalk or the entrance to a place of business."

Sincerely,
Clark Chapin

The Sporting Thing

By Bill Nelson

At Allen Park last week two families on opposite sides of the field had similar personal interests in the outcome. For Plymouth, Terry Cosgrove was operating at the first string quarterback spot, and for Allen Park, John Lojewski was doing the same.

For several years the two families lived next to each other in Allen Park and the boys played together as they grew up. The Cosgrove family moved to Plymouth a few years ago and the two boys finally played again last week, but against each other.

Another unusual thread in this story is that the two fathers discovered when they became adjacent neighbors in Allen Park that they had played football against each other on Army ball teams during World War II.

Mr. Henry Lojewski and Mr. Robert Cosgrove met when Camp McCoy played Camp Sheridan. Lojewski played for McCoy and Cosgrove for Sheridan.

Captain Gary Grady, who plays such terrific halfback for Plymouth continues to impress observers. He'll certainly get an all-league nod, but first team All-State honors (which he deserves) will probably escape him, because these lads are generally picked from the best teams in the state.

Last week, he ran back one kick-off for 88 yards and the first touchdown. The second kick-off to Plymouth, he took and returned 40 yards to midfield, where he almost shook loose again. Later in the game he took another kick 35 yards.

In addition, he runs hard without too much blocking and can catch a pass when necessary. On defense, he plays a key linebacker spot and generally makes about 40 per cent of the tackles. His tackling is superb.

His is a case where the powers who select all-stars, ought to reach down to an average team to pick an outstanding all-state halfback.

In today's issue of The Plymouth Mail is a colorful four-page reminder that the hockey season is about ready to get underway again. Actually, it's an effort by the Plymouth Hockey Association to tell the community about hockey youngsters and their ice program.

It was put together by league officials, who supplied information to Vern Schilawski. Schilawski owns University Litho Printers and donated the section and, according to league President Jim McIndles, has been a leading force in the support of hockey in Plymouth.

Schilawski played hockey in his youth for the Pittsburgh Yellow Jackets and it helped him pay his way through Carnegie Tech. He also played three years for Redford High School.

He apparently feels that his support of hockey is simply repaying a debt for the benefits that helped him through college. He is modest by reputation. You will not see his picture in the section. It is the only one missing.

His is the kind of anonymous, dedicated effort with youth that warms the heart. In this age of great publicity, it is a pleasure to salute one of the strong, dedicated quiet ones.

The final league game, against Belleville, takes place at 8 p.m. this Friday at Belleville. The following week the season will close here at Plymouth against Walled Lake. The Rocks currently possess a so-so 3-3 record and are 2-2 in the league.

It is the final two games of John M. Hoben's coaching career and while this fact cannot make us get out of average football players, desire does point for something. The team will be trying.

Fans, who have enjoyed some great teams under Hoben, could do more, but it would be a nice gesture at least to give the team and the coach some real crowd support, both at Belleville and at home with Walled Lake, during this last season.

It might even make a difference in the final two games.

LIFE, FOR THE FIRST TIME IN ITS HISTORY
SUPPORTS A DEMOCRAT FOR PRESIDENT!

"In less than a year in office Johnson has proved himself a very effective President. He has led the country out of the deep shock of the Kennedy assassination. Congress responded to his leadership with a striking record of constructive legislation, notably the Civil Rights Act and the tax cut. In a few strokes such as his first budget and the rail settlement, Johnson allayed the traditional mistrust of business toward a Democratic administration. He has shown generally good judgement in foreign policy and has begun to find the consensus that will keep the country unified in the face of its perils and opportunities. We think he deserves his own full term as President. We also applaud his choice of a man of presidential caliber, Hubert Humphrey, as his presidential candidate."

Rocks Drop 28-13 Before Allen Park

Captain Gary Grady electrified the Allen Park homecoming crowd last week by taking the opening kick-off 88 yards to give Plymouth a 6-0 lead with only 17 seconds gone on the clock, but Allen Park came charging back to win 28-13.

Grady's run was the first of three thrilling runbacks by the Rock's star halfback. He bolted up the middle from the 12 and found a small hole about the Plymouth 40, where he made a slight turn to the right and then broke into the open at midfield.

The extra point try that followed was successful on the first attempt, but a 15 yard clipping penalty forced the Rocks back to the 17 yard line for the second attempt and it was no good.

LATE IN the first quarter, Allen Park put together a sustained drive from its own 39 to score. The touchdown came on an 11 yard pass by quarterback John Lojewski to end Gary Phillips. Lojewski ran end for the extra point and Allen Park had the lead 7-6 with 42 seconds left in the first period.

A short Plymouth kick that hit a Rock blocker set up Allen Park for another score in the second quarter. Allen Park took over on their own 47 and moved to score in seven plays. The key play was a 30 yard Lojewski to Phillips pass.

The Jaguars scored when fullback John Jenkins charged inside left end for eight yards to score.

COACH John M. Hoben must have said something at halftime, because it was a lips for the extra point, which put Allen Park in front by eight points, 14-6, with seven and a half minutes left in the first half, and Plymouth appeared to dissolve.

On the next series of plays, Plymouth tried to kick on fourth down on its own 49, but the center pass sailed over the punters head and Allen Park took over on the Rocks 23.

Seven plays later, the Jaguars were on the scoreboard again as fullback Neil Reid drove over from the one yard line. Jenkins went through tactical for the extra point and Allen Park left the field at halftime with a 21-6 lead.

COACH John M. Hoben must have said something at halftime, because it was a different ball game in the second half.

Plymouth's defense held the Jaguars on the first drive of the third quarter and the Rocks started moving after Grady returned a kick from the Plymouth 40 to the Allen Park 48.

Twelve plays later quarterback Terry Cosgrove tossed a 16 yard pass to end Jim Lake, who made a leaping catch in the end zone. Grady dove over tackle for the extra point and Plymouth had closed in 21-13 with two minutes left in the third quarter.

AN INTERCEPTED pass on the Allen Park 37 by Allen Park set the stage for the final touchdown. The Jaguars drove to score in 11 plays. Lojewski passed 16 yards to halfback Ron Cayce for the score. Then Lojewski passed to Phillips for the extra point and Allen Park led 28-13 with two minutes left.

For Allen Park it was the homecoming game and the win also dropped Plymouth out of a four way tie for first place with Trenton, Allen Park and Bentley.

The Rocks will play at another homecoming game this Friday at Belleville. It is the final league game of the season for both teams.

Plymouth, now 2-2 in the league and 3-3 overall, needs the victory to finish above the 500 mark in the Suburban Six League.

Sports

IN AND AROUND PLYMOUTH

Frosh Win 2nd 21-0

Plymouth's freshman football team made certain of at least an even break for its season efforts last week by topping Wayne Adams Junior High 21-0.

The Rocks now boast a 2-1-1 record with the final game coming up this week against Wayne Marshall Junior High at Wayne 4 p.m. Thursday.

Last week the young Rocks moved quickly to a 7-0 lead in the first quarter when halfback Dale Theeke went 20 yards in a reverse to score. Quarterback Mike Cederberg bootlegged an option end around for the extra point.

NEITHER team scored in the second quarter, but the Rocks tucked the win away with two more touchdowns in the third period.

Tom Elias, a halfback, got things going by returning a punt 30 yards. Fullback Dick Dyer went twelve yards through tackle for the score. Jeff Adams, on an end around play, scored the extra point to give Plymouth a 14-0 lead.

Later in the period Adams went 10 yards on an end around play to cap a long scoring drive. Elias dove over for the extra point. The frosh held on for their second victory with a scoreless fourth quarter.

Runners Beat Belleville

Plymouth runners tuned up for today's Suburban Six League meet at Cass Benton Park with a 24-31 victory over Belleville last Friday.

Co-captain John Bates led the Rocks to their second league win in five starts by turning in a respectable 10:33 on the Plymouth Riverside course.

Mike Bentley was third at 10:50 and Dave Dirlam was fifth in 11:27 for Plymouth. Dave Allen was seventh in 11:37 and Joe Smith was eighth in 11:49 to complete the Plymouth scoring in the dual meet.

COACH JOHN Sandmann said that many of the Plymouth runners have improved considerably since the beginning of the season. Bates has chopped 35 seconds from his first time trials and Bentley has trimmed his initial effort by 22 seconds.

Dave Dirlam has bettered his first time by a minute and ten seconds, while Allen has lowered his first time trial by a full minute.

Of the five who placed for Plymouth against Belleville, Bates, Bentley and Smith are seniors, while Allen and Dirlam are juniors. Frank Dorsett, one of the co-captains, has been out since the first meet with a persistent charley horse.

After today's league championship meet, the Rocks will participate in the state regional meet at 10 a.m. Saturday in Cass Benton Park.

Coach Sandmann explained the new scoring system to determine the league championship this year. Dual meets will count 50 per cent and team position in the championship meet will count 50 per cent towards determining the title school.

In the past everything hinged on the league meet. It works this way, the top team in the dual meet season will be awarded six points and the second team five and so on. The same number of points will be awarded for equivalent finishes in the league meet.

RU JVs Get Revenge, 7-6

Redford Union's junior varsity football team gained some measure of revenge last week by beating the Plymouth JVs 7-6. A week before Plymouth's varsity had beaten the RU senior team by the same score.

Plymouth's JVs scored first in the game played at Redford Union. Halfback Dick Micol got things going for the Rocks by running the second half kickoff back to the Redford Union 40 yard line. He almost broke away to score.

A couple of running plays got the Rocks to the RU 32-yard line. On the next play quarterback Dave Prochazka threw a perfect pass to halfback Ron Lowe on the RU 5-yard line and Lowe scampered in for the score. The play covered 33 yards.

THE TRY for extra point, which was to be a fake kick and pass, went away in a ball handling mixup. Coach Dick Bearup reported that both the first and second team centers missed the game because of illness and consequently the center was one who had never played the position before.

Redford Union scored later in the third period after recovering a Plymouth fumble on the Rock twenty yard line. "It was kind of a shame to lose this one," Coach Bearup said, "because we outhit, out-played and out-scored them. We must have gained twice as much yardage."

He pointed to the last three minutes of the first half. Plymouth moved 70 yards on passes to the one yard line.

End John Davis caught a series of passes from quarterback Steve Hulse and Prochazka.

Then an inexperienced calling of plays hurt Plymouth as Redford Union shoved the Rocks back to the five yard line.

Plymouth Hockey In Color

The four page multi-colored special section in today's Plymouth Mail is the result of efforts by the Plymouth Hockey Association.

The group, which was formed in 1961, has been instrumental in providing hockey facilities and encouragement for youngsters in the area.

The Hockey rink, constructed on school land behind the high school, is an example of outstanding community co-operation. The JayCees provided funds for materials, and the members of the Plymouth Hockey Association constructed the rink, doing all the work.

The color section was produced at no cost to the association by University Litho Printers, which is owned by Vern Schilawski, a civic minded member of the Plymouth Hockey Association. Distribution costs are being assumed by the Plymouth Mail, as a public service.

END DAN STREMICK, a freshman from Plymouth, is among the standout performers on the Ferris State College grid squad, according to Bulldog head coach Sam Ketchman. Stremick is playing a key role in a campaign pitting the Bulldogs against a five-state roster of small-college grid powers. Enrolled in the Trade and Industrial Division, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Stremick, 140 Caster.

Africa and Me

Lon Gets Settled in His African Household

By Lon Dickerson

Once Peace Corps orientation at Fourah Bay College was completed, the next task at hand was settling into our houses. Most of the volunteers in our group were to go up-country. So, for many of them, the trek would take several hours because roads are nothing but mud at this time of year.

For those of us in Freetown, however, it meant traveling only a few blocks.

I had met the P.C.V. with whom I was to live earlier in the week. Buck has been teaching math at one of the secondary schools in Freetown for one year. He is a graduate of the University of Florida. On moving day he helped load my luggage into a jeep, and within minutes we arrived at our house.

It was a three floor house; and we were to occupy the top flat. When we arrived, however, we discovered that our furniture had not yet arrived.

So we moved temporarily into the bottom flat which was occupied by another volunteer who is on leave.

The next day the house was condemned!

But the Ministry of Education promised that another house would be ready for us in four or five days.

The condemned house was known to everyone as the "greenhouse". It was green in color but, more to the point, it was hidden from the road by numerous trees and a large, well-kept garden. It was close to the beach; and from the top flat one got a fine view of the ocean. But the floors were rotten and termite mounds could be seen everywhere.

In addition, the only bathroom that worked was on the third floor. And the shower leaked onto the electrical box on the second floor. But knowing that a new house would be available soon, we thought we could endure the ground level flat in the interim.

We hired a houseboy who would later work at the other house. Musa comes each day from 2 to 7 p.m. (except Friday because he is a Muslim), and cleans the house, does the laundry, cooks supper, and does the dishes. The cost is $16.80 per month.

We inherited the absent volunteer's dog which a few days later gave birth to a litter of four puppies. We also began to have company on a regular basis. Each night a 10-year-old boy came to our house to study. Amadu is just beginning to learn English in school. Other students who had Buck as a teacher came for tutoring or to borrow books. And, like our houseboy, they would later follow us when we moved.

Fifteen days later the new house was ready for us to occupy.

Without hesitation we moved.

About seventy percent of the furniture which the Ministry of Education provides was already in the house; and we were promised that the other items would be moved in as soon as they could be obtained.

We had a kerosene stove, but no refrigerator in which to keep food. So other volunteers kindly fed us until we were properly settled. Two days later a brand new Westinghouse refrigerator was delivered; and the next day electrical power was turned on.

The house itself is one floor atop concrete pillars, and is built of concrete. It has a living room, a dining room, two bedrooms, a spare room, a kitchen and a bathroom.

Like most of the houses here it has bars on the windows to keep out thieves. But, unlike most of these houses, it has screens on the windows. When completely furnished, it will have most of the furniture that an average American household has, minus television.

The Peace Corps gives each volunteer money to buy household items such as dishes, silverware, pots and pans, a water filter, curtains, etc. In addition, the Corps provides each household with a book locker of approximately 225 books. Although it lacks some of the modern conveniences of an American home, our house is very comfortable.

Up country many of the volunteers are without running water and electricity. Some of them live in picturesque mud huts which every volunteer dreams of living in.

Within a few days the Ministry of Education will deliver the furniture we lack, repair the front door which is now permanently locked, and put door knobs on the back door.

Then the humor and suspense which the unexpected has thus far provided will end. And we may settle down to a dull, routine household schedule.

Thank You to 250,000 Very Fine People

1934! If you're forty or more years old, you remember it as we do. Doubt, gloom, business stagnation everywhere. Yet a small group of local men had faith in Detroit's future. Moreover, they saw the need for an institution to promote thrift, and to economically finance homes. They secured a Federal savings and loan charter, and First Federal Savings of Detroit opened its doors in a small office on West Fort Street in downtown Detroit.

1964! Thirty years later that small beginning has grown to an institution with $550,000,000 in assets; 178,000 insured savers are earning $18,000,000 a year at First Federal through their thrift; 75,000 families have achieved home ownership through First Federal financing; and that small office is succeeded by a soon to be completed 23-story downtown headquarters, and a network of 19 branch offices. Some kind of magic? Not at all. We're just delighted that over the years a quarter of a million or more Detroit-area folks have joined our Association, profited handsomely while saving safely and conveniently, or benefitted by acquiring homes of their own. We thank them for sharing our faith in our community. And we especially invite you, if you're not one of them, to visit us and ask about our insured savings or home-loan financing services. 1964 - 1965 HOCKEY SEASON OPENS

Juveniles Are Champs At Garden City
Black Hawks Second In League
Midgets Have Four Year History

With the conclusion of another hockey season comes the time for reflection over the past year, successful or unsuccessful.

I personally feel that every season past is a success. Not so much in the won-lost column, that is secondary, but in the benefits that the boys derive from the sport itself and the progress amateur hockey has made in Plymouth.

When I moved to Plymouth, four years ago, there was one team, one group of 15 or so boys that had played hockey for two years. As you can see by this bulletin, the sport has made some additions in Plymouth.

I feel that the 1963-64 season has shown marked progress and improvement in the caliber of hockey played by our boys. We of the Association have always known that the boys were capable and in the past two or three years we feel that they have proved it.

Just keeping the score down used to be a moral victory when teams from

The Plymouth VFW Pee Wee Hockey team was composed of 15 boys between the ages of 9 and 12. They were coached by Bob Hudson and Bob Cosgrove was team manager.

Billy Graf, Gary Herter, Davey Palmer, Chuck Wibby, Mark Schilawski, Randy Kreig, Pat Cosgrove and Bill Hudson all completed their second season in organized hockey and boys playing for the first time were Mike O'Brien, Pat Herter, Jim Wilson, Jack Shepard, Chuck Prochazka, Craig Anderson and Mike Maurer.

The VFW team signed up to play in the Nankin Township Pee Wee League—the Nankin Rink is at Ford Road & Wayne Road and is a natural ice rink. Due to an extremely mild winter, only two league games were played at Nankin and the remaining league games were called off because there was no ice. Plymouth won both league games and appeared to have the most potential of the four teams entered.

Exhibition games were arranged during the winter in communities where artificial ice rinks were available and a total of eight non-league games were played against such teams at Farmington.

Second Pee Wee Team Known As "Russ's Boys"

"Russ' Boys" Plymouth's second team to be formed in the Pee Wee age group experienced a very disappointing season. Jerry Vettesse, coach of the team scurried to get all necessary paper work completed in order to enter his team in the Nankin Township league.

After completing two games of league play, their hockey career came to an abrupt stand still. Mild weather and a natural ice rink was the cause of their inactivity. Score wise both games ended in defeats, but we feel that the desire these boys displayed in team competition was an overwhelming victory to our image of ice hockey in Plymouth.

Experiencing the competitive spirit these boys possess, their hockey future is inevitable.

Squirts In Second Season

Squirt hockey started its second full season this year in Plymouth. This season, complete uniforms were provided and ice time set up each Saturday.

Unfortunately warm weather put a stop to their plans. Being the youngest team in Plymouth, artificial ice at a good hour was not available.

The desire for hockey was in evidence when the Eskimos engaged the Detroit Thunderbirds who had played 28 games. Although beaten that desire was still there. Perhaps more hockey can be played next season, let's hope so!

The age for squirts in Plymouth is 8-10.

Bantams Win Garden City Playoffs

The season opened in December against Dearborn Heights and the T-Birds were victors by a score of 6-1. Then came even more impressive wins over the Garden City Maple Leafs and the Wayne Spartans.

The T-Birds had several outstanding players at their respective positions. The only holdover players from last year, John Gilles, Tracy Shelley, Mike Walker, Dennis Conzett and goalie Tom Elias, were ably assisted by newcomers Jim Wibby, John Campbell, Bruce Neimi, Nick Domagray, and Gary Robinson. Joe Herter was picked up from the disbanded Hickory Hill Eskimos. Don Hudson and Mark Strautz were graduated.

Bantams Win Garden City Playoffs

When the call went out last fall for players of bantam age for the Plymouth T-Birds, there were fewer applicants for the team than at any time in the past three years. However when the chips were down and pressure was on, this small group of boys rose to the occasion and won the playoff title of the Garden City Recreation League. Their numbers were short, but their courage and spirit were extremely long.

The team was hampered by the lack of ice when the weather turned warm. Every game played this year except two, was played on artificial ice. Previous years we have played several games each season on the Farmer Street rink.

Bantams Win Garden City Playoffs

JUVENILE

Plymouth would play Detroit teams. Now the boys win as many as they lose. Largely due to our own hockey program, the boys can compete on an equal basis with teams from larger cities.

The Juvenile Blackhawks this "past year was the culmination of the hockey careers of some of those 15 boys I mentioned earlier. This next year the rest will "graduate." Some may go on to play in college, others may stay in Plymouth and play again with the Seniors, but it will be the last time for most on the same team.

This team won 16, lost 3 and tied 2 this past season. One loss was the first game of the season and the first time on ice for most of the boys this year. That was in November. Another loss was at the end of the season to the Detroit Indoor Champs. The score was 5-2 and our boys had not skated for 3 weeks, plus the fact that they only had eight players.

Our one loss of any consequence was a heart-breaker for the parents as well as the boys. It was a 2-1 loss to the Dearborn team that went on to win the Michigan Lower Peninsula championship. But for the want of a little luck in the final two minutes of the game (20 Dearborn goals were scored in that 120 seconds) our boys would have advanced further than any Plymouth Hockey team had previously. I really don't know who felt worse, the parents or the players. I usually do not like to say "It could have been" but I really don't feel that the boys deserved to lose that one.

As for our seasonal statistics; I mention these only because they are the general public of the performance of the team, and because the boys are justly proud of these figures. Our won-lost-tied record, of course, 16-3-2. We scored an average of 5.24 goals per game and allowed only 1.52 goals against, which is better than very good. Our goalie duties were shared by Denny Tonkovich and Dave Troutman, each getting at least one shut-out.

Our leading scorer for the season was Skip Otwell, who scored a "hat-trick" (3 goals in one game) once and had four goals in another game. Terry Cosgrove also scored a "hat-trick."

In the Garden City league, which the Blackhawks won, Skip and Clark Raven tied for third place in league scoring. The league trophy has been on display in the high school trophy case.

Dennis Hanks
Coach

ated to the Birds from 1962-63 VFW Pee Wee's.

Tom Elias, thirteen year old goal tender had the best goals against average of any goalie in the league. The second, third and fourth place scorers in the league were Gilles, Herter, and Shelley respectively. The newcomers Hudson, Campbell and Robinson all put on exceptional performances in many games. Alternate Captain Mike Waller played as we have come to expect of him. Always on top of the play. The scoring record of the entire team for all of its 25 games is listed below.

Player	Goals	Assists	Pts
Domagroy	18	3	5
Robinson	24	3	30
Gilles (C)	23	28	37
Strautz	13	2	3
Waller (AC)	25	1	9
Hudson	24	5	17
Shelley (AC)	24	11	25
Conzett	14	1	6
Wibby	24	0	4
Herter	25	26	35
Campbell	25	4	3
Neimi	25	3	6

Next season it is expected that Tom Elias, Jim Wibby, John Campbell, Mark Strautz, Mike Waller, Don Hudson and Tracy Shelley, will return to Bantam competition and will be supplemented by Dave Palmer, Pat Cosgrove, Jack Sheppard, Jim Wilson and Mike O'Brien from the VFW Pee Wee's.

High scorers Joe Herter and Captain John Gilles, along with Gary Robinson, Bruce Neimi and Nick Domagray will graduate to Midget competition.

In conclusion, the 1963-64 season of the T-Birds must be considered a howling success and our congratulations to each and every boy who had a part in the team's excellent record.

Bantam age boys cannot be 14 years old prior to May 31st of the year in which the season starts.

A Word of Thanks

The Plymouth Hockey Association would like to take this opportunity to express their gratitude to the VFW, the JayCeers, the Optimist Club and the merchants and businessmen who have given so unselfishly of their time and substance to support amateur hockey in this area.

SENIORS

Jim Lockwood who normally plays Left Wing, and started the season at this position, switched to defense when Jerry Vettesse became ill and had to drop from the team. Jim did an excellent job at the new position and deserves a lot of praise from the team. Jim also scored five goals and six assists.

The Blackhawks also owe a debt of gratitude to their new Goalie Bernie Mann, whose 2.8 goals against average lead the league at Garden City. Bernie is a very likeable young fellow who thinks so much of Plymouth that he is thinking of moving here and starting a new Microfilm business.

mouth merchants to donate $25.00 each for new uniforms for the 1962-1963 season. (They are the same uniforms seen in the picture on page two.) Again the boys played us with both a league and league play-off champion, and in addition progressed to the semi-finals in the Lower Peninsula State outdoor championship tournament.

This past season (1963-1964) was not as successful from the standpoint of our won-lost record. We started the season with only three holdovers from the prior year's championship team. It was a tremendous job of rebuilding, and although it may not have shown in our record of seven wins, fifteen losses and one tie, (7-15-1), I sincerely feel that we (the boys and I) accomplished what we had set out to do. We started with fifteen individuals, and ended with a team—a team in every aspect of the word. I can honestly say that I am as proud of this team as any of the prior championship teams. Granted I had to learn to lose again, but in learning to lose I was reminded of the satisfaction of seeing boys grow in ability, and stature.

It is easy to let the record of a team's accomplishment become all important. I will be the first to admit that it is very important. However, I—as well as other Plymouth hockey coaches—will also be the first to admit that teaching responsibility, creating teamwork and building character are even more important. We are the example, either good or bad, that they will follow. We must be careful not to destroy in a few impetuous moments, what we have been working for years to build.

I would like to thank each parent for the wonderful support and cooperation I have received. Without it, the job would have been next to impossible.

ton and Dearborn prior to the State Amateur Hockey Tournament.

The Plymouth VFW team advanced to the semi-finals of Lower Peninsula Outdoor tournament by defeating Livonia and Nankin. They were eliminated by Farmington 3 to 0 in their 3rd tournament game.

The ability and potential of this team could not be developed to any great degree because of lack of ice to practice on. Hockey is a game that requires considerable practice and constant skating in order to keep in condition. Dearborn and Detroit teams play from 35 to 60 games a season and practice at least twice a week from September through February.

Hockey does many things for young boys—it teaches them to think fast—it gives them a sense of belonging and most of all it stresses sportsmanship. Playing rules strictly control and prohibit use of bad language, foul temper and all forms of unsportsman-like conduct.

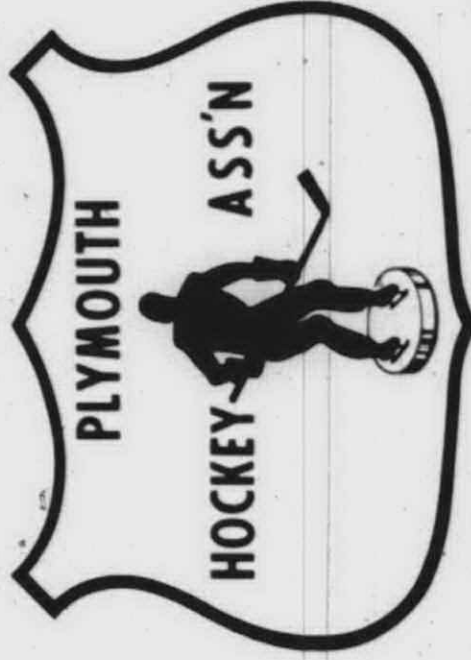

Interest was extremely high on the part of the boys and their parents and the fact that many games were played early in the morning did not dampen any enthusiasm. The boys all hope to play again next year and will have the opportunity to advance into higher age groups right up through their Senior year in High School.

Boys graduating from the VFW team into the Bantam Age Group this year are Bill Graf, Gary Herter, Dave Palmer, Randy Kreig, Pat Cosgrove, Mike O'Brien, Jim Wilson, Jack Sheppard, Craig Anderson and Mike Maurer. Bantam teams are limited to boys 13 and 14 years old. This means there will be at least 10 openings in next season's VFW team and boys who are interested should contact Mr. Bob Hudson at GL 3-4797.

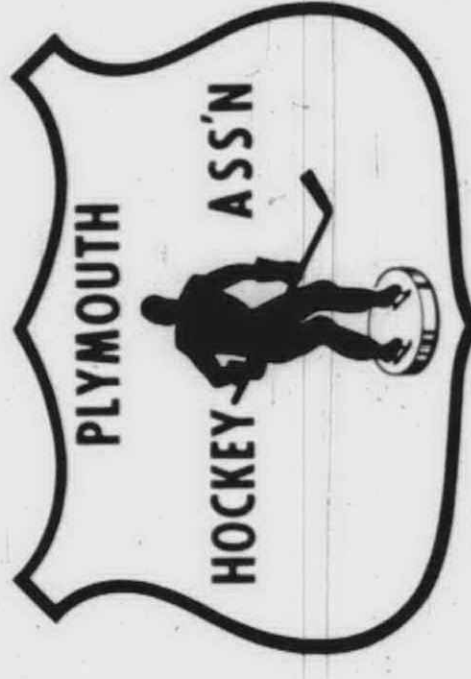

Fathers interested in assisting in this program please call Jim McKindles at 453-7036.
