

Goodfellows Set 26th Annual Sale Friday and Saturday

More than 35 Plymouth Goodfellows will take to the streets Friday and Saturday in their 26th annual effort to insure that, in the words of their slogan, there is "no kiddie without a Christmas."

The old newsboys will be selling over 5,000

special Christmas Goodfellow editions of The Plymouth Mail.

They will kick off the sale early Friday morning at Plymouth Burroughs Corp. and Western Electric Plants, according to publicity committee member William C. Michaels.

Then, the following day under the leadership of 1963-64 President Fred Drews, the Goodfellows will launch a community-wide sales effort, beginning at 10 a.m. Saturday. Keynoting Saturday will be a 9 a.m. breakfast at Ellis's Restaurant on S. Main St. Each year, Elton Ellis, owner of the restaurant, provides a breakfast for paper salesmen.

The 35 men, some new to the effort this year, will take up locations at all main Plymouth Community intersections and in parking lots.

Last year, Goodfellows helped more than 65 local families at Christmastime and throughout the year. They are aiming at an even larger number this year.

Besides Christmas dinners and toys, Goodfellow funds are used to purchase clothing, including shoes, sweaters, coats and, in some cases, fuel for the home.

Club membership includes men in all walks of life — factory workers, businessmen, policemen, firemen, school administrators and teachers and City and Township officials.

Goodfellows will take up locations at Main St. and Penniman Ave., in front of the Post Office, on Forest Avenue, in the Kroger and Food Fair Parking lots, at Main and Mill St., Main and Starkweather, Main and Ann Arbor Tr., Main and Ann Arbor Rd., in the City's central parking lots and other locations.

Publicity efforts this year were coordinated by Michaels, Elton Ellis and Elroy Merchant.

The PLYMOUTH MAIL

COMPLETELY PUBLISHED IN THE PLYMOUTH COMMUNITY — BY AND FOR THE RESIDENTS OF PLYMOUTH AND PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP

Vol. 77, No. 14 Tuesday, December 8, 1964 10 Cents $4.00 Per Year with Plymouth Address. $5.00 Elsewhere in U.S.A.

SPELLING OUT some of his views last Thursday on the course Plymouth should take after his departure was City Manager Albert F. Glassford, second from right. Glassford spoke to The Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce Businessmen's Forum at Hillside Inn.

Glassford Reveals Plans And Hopes for Plymouth

Detailing what he felt were necessary moves for the City of Plymouth in the future, City Manager Albert F. Glassford, in effect, made his farewell address last Thursday afternoon to a group of Plymouth businessmen.

Glassford spoke to the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce Businessmen's Forum at Hillside Inn.

After urging that Plymouth take steps to enter the All American City contest, sponsored by the National Municipal League and Look Magazine, the departing City Manager spelled out key measures he thought should be taken.

URBAN RENEWAL

"Plymouth, it seems to me," Glassford said, "should consider two urban renewal projects immediately. Action should be taken soon for the reason that the paper work takes a long time to clear."

Additional funds should be available to Plymouth Glassford noted, since urban renewal officials have indicated their pleasure at the City's progress on its present project.

Glassford urged that the two new projects be launched in the northeast section of Plymouth, in the York-Holbrook area adjacent to the C & O Railway, and in the southeast section of the city's central business district. Concerning the first area, he commented:

"At this location, most of the houses are old and dilapidated and should be removed. In their place, several privately financed units could be placed, and there is also the possibility of enlarging and enhancing the industrial properties adjacent to the railroad."

Urban renewal should be considered before street paving in the area, Glassford pointed out, since the cost of paving would count toward the city's share of urban renewal contributions.

In the southeast, Main and Wing St., Glassford called for use of the land to solve parking problems and include a portion of the perimeter road in the city's master plan.

"Here," he said, "the reuse of land for multiple housing, off-street parking and business properties would be a desirable purpose of urban renewal."

CONSERVATION

The remainder of the northeast area should be considered for conservation programs, the City Manager said. Conservation would include street paving, removal of substandard buildings and planning for play areas.

The Federal Government, in a new urban renewal program would contribute two thirds of the cost of salaries of personnel working on the renewal and conservation projects.

"It is my recommendation," Glassford said, "that a person having experience in planning or urban renewal or conservation programs be hired to carry the projects to fruition."

PAVING

Plymouth Should be All American — Glassford

Plymouth should be nominated in the All American City contest sponsored by Look Magazine and the National Municipal League, City Manager Albert F. Glassford told members of the Businessmen's Forum, Dec. 7 at Hillside Inn.

"The progress Plymouth has made in recent years bears witness to the spirit of an All American City," Glassford said. He said he thought the city had taken giant strides forward and its citizen participation in community affairs was unusual.

Glassford said a low point in community morale was reached when the Daisy Mfg. Co. left Plymouth. The people rallied soon, however, Glassford said, to meet community needs and to sell the advantages of the city.

A COMMITTEE is usually appointed to enter a city in competition, Glassford explained. He added he has sent to Mayor Richard Wernette a brochure describing rules and regulations of the contest.

Glassford listed achievements made by the City of Plymouth during his service as City Manager as reasons why Plymouth is eligible for the contest.

They include a new charter, paving programs, improvement of water supply and sewer program for the entire city.

Also to Plymouth's credit are an active and independent Community Fund, a Fall Festival which is becoming known nationwide, a historical museum, Family Service Agency and YMCA youth programs, Glassford said.

Support of Schoolcraft College and construction of a high school addition for teaching skilled trades are other plus factors for Plymouth, according to Glassford.

The new City Hall, Urban Renewal program and integration of the fire and police department, Glassford said, should be other major factors in making Plymouth an All American City.

Glassford said Plymouth will always be his home.

ACCORDING TO BOARD: Festival's Successful, But Deficit Remains

Though plagued with a deficit that may not be erased by the Dec. 31 deadline for closing the books, Plymouth Fall Festival Committee members agreed last Wednesday evening that the 1964 celebration was largely successful.

At an evaluation meeting held in the Commission

Gratefully Accepted

Though he is no longer a member of the Fall Festival Board, Attorney William Sempiner offered his legal services to the group on a continuing basis.

At their meeting, held Wednesday evening, the Board unanimously approved a motion to gratefully accept Sempiner's offer.

Sempiner serves as Attorney for the Plymouth Community School District and Canton Township. He has just finished a one-year term on the Festival Board. Recently named Board Chairman Edward Sawusch presided at the Wednesday meeting.

Chambers of Plymouth's City Hall, board member Margaret Wilson told those present a deficit of $465.60 remains.

But she expressed hope that it would be eliminated by the end of the year.

A list of contributors and the amount they gave was released at the meeting. It showed $1,310 in income from business and professional groups, $280 from industry, $1,526.47 from major participating service clubs and $386.34 from concessions.

Total Festival income as of Nov. 22 amounted to $3,602.81. Plymouth Rotary led the list of contributing service clubs with $800. Second was Plymouth Kiwanis with $251.47 and the Plymouth Symphony League ran a close third with $250.

BOARD EVALUATION of the 1964 Fall Festival included these points, according to outgoing Chairman James Thornton:

- (1) Improved lighting and electrical facilities are needed in the park and adjacent areas.
- (2) A better traffic flow plan for both pedestrians and vehicles should be set up. Thornton said work should be done with the City to properly police foot and auto traffic and thought given to revising the street patterns.
- (3) Physical appearance, including location and decorating of concessions stands can be improved.
- (4) Fuller participation is needed by retailers in decorating and trimming their stores in keeping with the turn-of-the-century Festival motif. Costuming could be more widely adopted throughout the business community.
- (5) Work must be done on improving the financial base of the Festival.
- (6) Closer coordination must be achieved between participating clubs and groups and the Fall Festival Board — particularly in the area of publicity.

Representatives from service clubs and organizations voiced their comments to the board at the Wednesday meeting.

LOREN (Bud) Gould, representing Plymouth Rotary, said the club will realize about a $5,000 profit from its 12,000 chicken barbecue servings. A little over $1,000 of this will go to the Fall Festival, he said.

While he noted that the Rotary Board of Directors was more than satisfied, Gould asked:

"Has the Fall Festival reached a saturation point?"

Others at the meeting also wondered about the same question. And board members admitted they were asking themselves about it.

Yule Concert to Feature Kenneth Jewell Chorale

Christmas will be the theme and the Kenneth Jewell Chorale will be featured Sunday afternoon at the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra's annual Christmas Concert at 4 p.m. in the Plymouth High School auditorium.

The concert is the third of the Symphony's 19th season, currently underway.

Kenneth Jewell, who is personnel director of the Inierlochen Arts Academy, organized the chorale two years ago. The 40-member group appears both with symphony orchestras and on their own.

Jewell also has been director of music for Detroit Public Schools. He received his bachelor's degree from Eastern Michigan University and his master's in music from the University of Michigan.

IN ADDITION to hearing "Christmas Concerto" by Corelli, "Gloria" by Vivaldi and selected Christmas music, the audience will be asked to join with the orchestra and chorale for a carol sing.

Wayne Dunlap, director of music at Schoolcraft College, is in his 13th season as conductor of the Plymouth Symphony.

Free babysitting service will be provided.

Draugelis to Run for Judge, Deadline for Filing Dec. 28

With the Dec. 28 deadline for filing nominating petitions less than three weeks away, City Attorney Edward F. Draugelis indicated Monday evening to City Commissioners that he would be the first candidate to file for municipal office.

Draugelis told commissioners he expected to file a petition for nomination as a candidate for the Plymouth Municipal Court's Bench.

Present Municipal Judge Harry Deyo is filling the unexpired term of the late Judge Nandino Perlongo and is ineligible, because of his age, to run again.

DURING THE next 20 days, petitions will be filed for seats on the City Commission, to be (Continued on Page 4)

City OK's March, Name Fisher Acting Manager

After a lengthy and, at times, emotional discussion, the March of Dimes Plymouth organization was granted permission by City Commissioners at their Dec. 7 meeting to conduct its Mothers March and peanut sale for another year.

Commissioner James Houk and Mayor Richard Wernette opposed the motion. Absent from the three-hour meeting was Commissioner Robert Beyer.

A letter also was ordered sent to March of Dimes telling them the city had granted permission reluctantly and this permission should not be considered an indication of future policy. The letter will urge their reconsideration of joining in the Community Fund campaign.

Commissioner Robert Smith opposed this motion.

Speaking for the March of Dimes was Joseph Witwer, co-chairman of Plymouth's march. He told commissioners the organization feels persons who have sparked advances in the polio fight such as the Salk vaccine are ones who have been directly involved in that fight.

He added this is the reason the March of Dimes feels it should be independent of their drives.

Mayor Wernette said the city previously has had trouble with the Multiple Sclerosis and Cancer societies wanting to conduct their own drives.

"Personally I'm in favor of peanut sales and canteens, but, as good as they are, we shouldn't keep permitting them year after year," Wernette said.

Commissioners approved the appointment of Public Safety Director Kenneth Fisher as acting City Manager effective Dec. 16. City Manager Albert Glassford resigned after serving 15 years in the post effective Dec. 15.

A PROCLAMATION naming Wednesday, Dec. 9 "Albert Glassford Day" in Plymouth was read by Commissioner George Lawton and approved by the governing body.

A plaque also will be made of the resolution for Glassford on commissioners recommendations.

At first reading an ordinance was approved which would prohibit trains from blocking street crossings for longer than five minutes at one time and successive trains from blocking crossings without allowing five minutes between trains for traffic to clear.

According to the ordinance, which amends a previous one, penalty for illegal blocking will be imprisonment in Detroit House of Correction for 30 days or a fine of up to $500.

Mayor Richard Wernette said he would attend the discussion in Detroit, Dec. 17 on discontinuation of the two Chesapeake and Ohio trains between Detroit and Grand Rapids.

Chief to Sign Complaint on Train Delay

If you're a train and you're going to tie someone up at a crossing, for over two hours, you'd better check on who is in the line of cars.

That's what the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad will discover when Plymouth Police Chief and Director of Public Safety Kenneth Fisher signs a complaint against C & O.

Fisher said his was among a group of cars stopped by a stalled train for two hours and 22 minutes Friday night at the crossing on Sheldon Road.

When he pulled up to the rail crossing at 9:18 p.m., Fisher said there was already a group of vehicles halted and waiting.

AFTER A 25-minute wait, during which the train didn't budge an inch, Chief Fisher got out of his car and sought train personnel for an explanation.

He couldn't find any.

About 10 p.m., Fisher said, he called the C & O yard office to inquire about the train. Fisher told railroad personnel he thought they had a responsibility to notify per-

In a Nutshell . . .

★ Two persons, onetime Plymouth residents, were being sought this week by Tracers Company of America, a firm which locates missing stockholders for large corporations. Mrs. Hattie Cox and Peter Theodore Schoof, whose last known address was Plymouth, are among 50,000 stockholders being sought. The firm noted that the Plymouth addresses may date back 25 or 30 years, or even longer. If you have knowledge of either of the two, write to: Tracers Company of America, 515 Madison Ave., New York, 22, N.Y.

★ More than 30 Plymouth school teachers met last Wednesday, Dec. 2 at Junior High School East in a general session to answer questions and determine the teacher group's role in formulation of a Human Growth and Development program in the schools. Format of the projected program was also discussed, according to Assistant Superintendent of Schools for Secondary Education William Harding. Next meeting of the group is tentatively set for Jan. 6.

★ Plymouth Symphony League's Christmas Ball, held Dec. 5, netted more than $550, according to dance chairman Mrs. Walter Beglinger. The dance, held at Western Golf and Country Club, drew about 140 couples.

★ Regular Friday garbage and rubbish pickup, for Christmas and New Year's Days only, will be held on the Thursday preceding these holidays, according to Superintendent of Public Works Joseph Bida. He said the rescheduling would provide an opportunity for employees to enjoy the holidays.

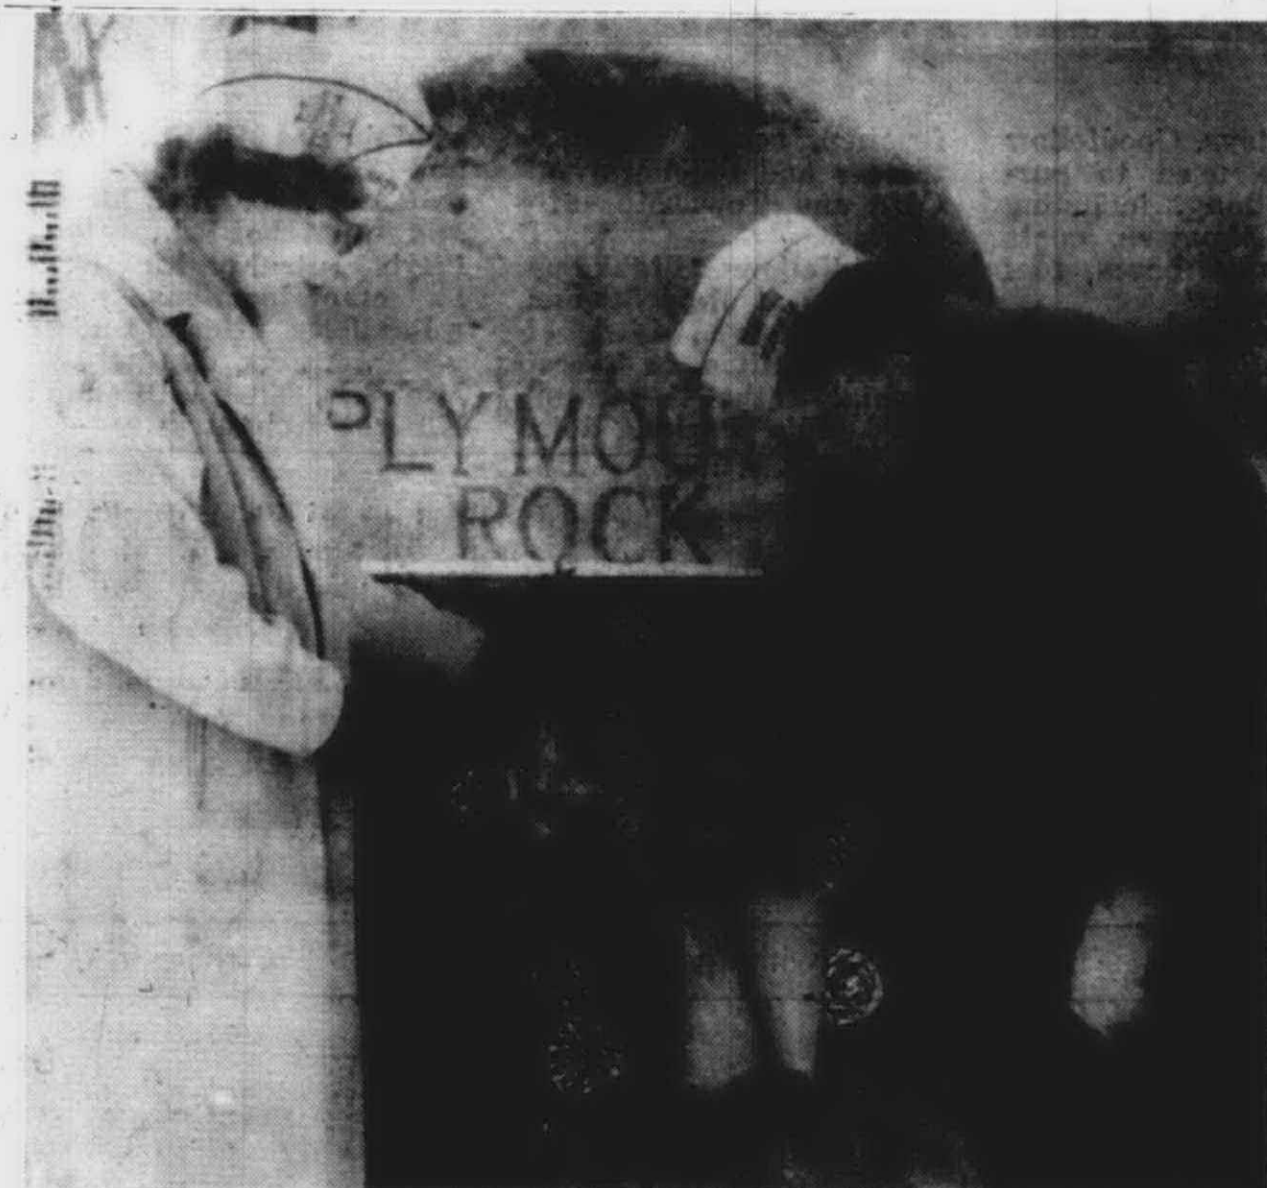

★ Representatives of The Plymouth Community Board of Education's facilities committee met last night (Monday) with representatives of Birmingham architectural firm O'Dell Hewlett and Lukenbach and General Contractor Roberts and Orr to determine how to speed up work on the Allen and Farrand Elementary School additions. Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister said the projects had been slowed by a combination of materials shortage, labor shortage and bad weather. Original target date for completion was Feb., 1965.

Plymouth Aero Co. Receives Plane Dealership

A new Cessna airplane dealership opened recently at Mettetal Airport, N. Lilley Rd., by Plymouth Aero Co. which owns and operates the airport.

ADMIRING the first Cessna aircraft that Plymouth Aero Co. sold are, left to right, Ronald Markham, sales manager, Marvin Mettetal, assistant manager of Mettetal airport and one of the owners of Plymouth Aero, and Robert Mettetal, airport manager and one of the owners of Plymouth Aero Co. The company, which operates the airport, has received a franchise to sell Cessna aircraft.

are on display and available in a heated hanger at the airport. As the largest private airport in Michigan, it had more takeoffs, landings and departures last year than any other non-controlled airport in Michigan, Markham said. They have completed lengthening the hard-surfaced runway from 2200 feet to 2600 feet and it can handle twin engine planes up to the size of a Gummam Mallard, Markham added.

Plymouth Aero also offers ambulance service, complete charter service and student instruction. Private instruction, through commercial instructors, multi-engine ratings and instrument ratings can be provided by the company.

Glassford Reveals

"Such paving, in the long run," he noted, "saves costs of repair, which amounts to a considerable amount each year." He suggested adoption of a financial plan similar to the one submitted by Planning Consultants Vilican-Leman.

"Within 12 or 15 years," he said, "every street in the city could be paved." The other alternative, he suggested would be to have the work done in the next year or two under a bonding program.

Glassford expressed pleasure at the commission's plans to pave Ann Arbor Trail. He said the job should be complete with underground cable lighting.

OFF-STREET PARKING

(Noting the central business district's lack of parking, Glassford backed suggestions made by Mayflower Hotel Manager Ralph Lorenz.

Involved would be formation of a Parking Authority with power to issue revenue bonds for development of off-street parking. Revenue would be raised by:

- (1) Special assessment of the area benefited with proceeds turned over to the authority.
- (2) A requirement that each business must apply for a permit, to be granted upon evidence that sufficient parking had been supplied by the business — either its own or through rental of space from the authority. Permits should yield $10,000 per year, he said.
- (3) The City would allocate $40,000 per year from parking meter and tax revenues. Total income of the project would permit a bond issue of about $300,000, repaid over a 15-year period.

"I recognize," Glassford commented, "that there is a difference of opinion as to using so-called taxpayers' money for off-street parking. On the other hand, the purpose of government is to provide for each other what we cannot provide for ourselves. Without parking today, business is dead." Glassford pointed out that land costs for perimeter shopping centers is much lower for parking. He said costs in the city may run 10 times as much.

OTHER SUGGESTIONS

Other areas where Glassford suggested steps be taken included an improved street numbering plan in the city, obtaining Federal Government "702" funds for preliminary planning and Accelerated Public Works Funds for park improvements.

He recommended creation of authorities for such things as an indoor skating rink, swimming pools, community center and auditorium construction and a museum.

Chairs, he pointed out, cost the Lions twice as much as the year before. He suggested that a smaller number be brought in next year for Thursday and Friday.

Some doubt was expressed by VFW Commander Harvey Jones about whether post members would approve a Pageant of Drums for next

TICKETED for failing to yield the right-of-way was Mrs. Reggie M. Curvin, 35, of 145 E. Ann Arbor Tr., following a collision with another car on W. Ann Arbor Tr., near Sheldon Rd., Dec. 3, according to Wayne County Sheriff's office. Officers said Mrs. Curvin was proceeding west on Ann Arbor Tr. when she made an improper turn in front of an eastbound car driven by Ronald E. Rose, 24, of Wayne. The accident occurred at 3:04 p.m. A passenger in the Curvin car, Phylis Curvin, 16 was taken to Northville Clinic for treatment of injuries, officers said.

Festival's Successful

(Continued from Page 1) and Fabricating Co. co-owner Kal Jabara, representing Plymouth Y.M.C.A., pointed out that there was really no way of determining whether the Festival had hit its high point until efforts are made to sponsor an even larger Festival.

"Personally," he said, "I think Rotary could handle 19,000 barbecues. But we won't know until we try." Noting that the Fall Festival was figuratively still in "knee pants," Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce representative John Murawski pointed out that participants still have a lot to learn.

He said cold weather had hurt the JayCee fish fry and financial results were poor. Earnings, he said, don't look like over $400. JayCees served about 1100 persons — 375 to 400 less than in 1963. But, injecting a bright note, Murawski commented:

"Over-all, I think it was a much better Fall Festival than the year previous."

KIWANIS PANCAKE

Festival chairman William Lyons pointed out that, while Kiwanians served more people, costs skyrocketed and profits looked little better than in 1963. He said the service club would probably end up with a $1,000 net profit.

Representing Plymouth Grange, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fillmore voiced no complaints. They noted that the Grange had sold over 900 dozen cookies at its concession stand.

The Fillmores suggested that more publicity be given to the Festival theme earlier so costumes could be secured for the event.

Lions representative Phil Tormohlen said his group suffered a $10.88 loss on their Thursday ice cream and melon social.

Chairs, he pointed out, cost the Lions twice as much as the year before. He suggested that a smaller number be brought in next year for Thursday and Friday.

Some doubt was expressed by VFW Commander Harvey Jones about whether post members would approve a Pageant of Drums for next

Some Women Want Mink, Others a Sink

Some women want minks... others want new kitchen sinks... but there's one gift all the gals appreciate because they all need it — a rest, a change of pace, a holiday!

Ever try to figure out how many miles the little woman walks while walloping rugs, quieting wailing kids and getting the meals and marketing done? About 1,825 miles a year! The daily grind deserves a reward — and what's better than letting others do the cooking for the little woman?

A trip — even if only for a weekend — gives her time to relax and lets her know how important she is! Here are some tips that can help you give the perfect gift.

If you plan to be gone for only a short time, there's not much point in covering the furniture with sheets and emptying the cupboards of food. But do remember to notify the milkman to discontinue delivery until you return. Notify the police and neighbors so they can keep an eye on the house for you — make sure oven and stove burners are off — doors are locked (on the garages or shed, too) — and then go.

TO GIVE the wife a chance to dress up and really enjoy her holiday, try going to as many different kinds of activities as you've time for. Even for a quick trip, you can arrange a variety of events. Call ahead at your hotel or motel, get tickets and make reservations for sightseeing, — maybe visit the nightclubs or dance houses or theaters your wife's always wanted to see.

However, be sure to save time to enjoy each other's company in these romantic surroundings. This will make her gift complete!

Always try to check out of your hotel or motel before check-out time; but if you're delayed, just notify the manager, and chances are he'll be happy to give you as much time as you need.

The result of all this planning and activity? You and the Mrs. arrive home relaxed and with memories of the fun you've had — and to top it all off, you've given her the perfect gift — a trip!

MAKE reservations in advance — especially if you are going to a city that attracts tourists and conventions. If you find that you're going to arrive at the hotel later than expected, notify the desk by telephone or wire — that way, they'll continue to hold your room for you.

Once, there, enjoy the hotel's services. According to the late E. M. Statler, "A hotel has just one thing to sell — service." The management will help you with sight-seeing tours and local transportation, auto rentals, tickets for the theatre and sporting events, plane, train and bus travel, where to go and what to see, a good place to eat (usually in the hotel), hotel reservations in other cities, shops and stores, doctors, dentists and hospital.

AS PART of the little woman's treat, take her to one of the many fascinating hotel dining rooms America has to offer. There are old English taverns to choose from, beef and steak houses, exotic Polynesian hideaways, and nautical seafood grills.

How Would You Like To Cook for 800?

Would you like to cook for between 750 and 800 people each day?

That's what Plymouth High School cooks do every day. They purchase butter in 450-pound lots, at three cents a pound, flour in ton lots at 50 cents for 50 pounds, sugar in 500 pounds and eggs in cases (each case contains 30 dozen), according to manager Mrs. Donald Potter.

These supplies last about one month, she added. The cooks prepare between 80 and 85 pounds of meat each day for the students. Mrs. Potter explained that if one-quarter of a school's population buy their lunches at school this is considered good. Almost two-thirds of P.H.S. students buy their lunches.

THE KITCHEN crew consists of five cooks, a dishwasher, maintenance person and stock room keeper. In addition, two high school students help in the kitchen, one as an occupational trainee and the other helps in the storeroom and other places.

The cooks make all their own breads, rolls, and cake and brownie mixes, each day. The aroma of freshly baked breads meets you as you enter the school.

Mrs. Potter said it is approximately 12 times cheaper for the school to make its own breads and mixes than it would be to purchase them. She explained this is so because the government supplies the commodities to make the mixes.

P.H.S. students receive a well-balanced lunch consisting of meat, fruit or vegetable, bread, butter and milk for 35 cents.

"Picky eaters" and those who earn their own money, as Mrs. Potter describes them can purchase hot or cold sandwiches, soups, desserts, salads, jello, milk and milk shakes in the school's a la carte line.

More than 200 additional students buy milk.

had a call from a parent asking why the school was serving "onion sandwiches," Mrs. Potter related.

The question was answered for the parent when it was explained the sandwiches had meat, cheese, and lettuce in them, and onions were on the tables as an additional relish. This type question arises occasionally Mrs. Potter said, and provokes chuckles in the cook's busy day.

HARD AT WORK in Plymouth High School kitchen are, left to right, Bob Conover, manager Mrs. Donald Potter and Ruth Forbing. Miss Forbing and Conover are the two student helpers in the kitchen. Other students help in the cafeteria, Mrs. Potter said.

RECENTLY, to express their appreciation for an especially good lunch, the Student Council presented the cooks with a dozen red roses.

"These did more to boost the kitchen morale, than anything else," Mrs. Potter said. Mrs. Potter said she rarely hears complaints. She explained though that anyone who eats in a school cafeteria for three years may tire of the food because the cafeteria has to serve so many casserole dishes.

If you peek in the P.H.S. kitchen you will find three small rooms with every piece of available space used and persons busily doing their work.

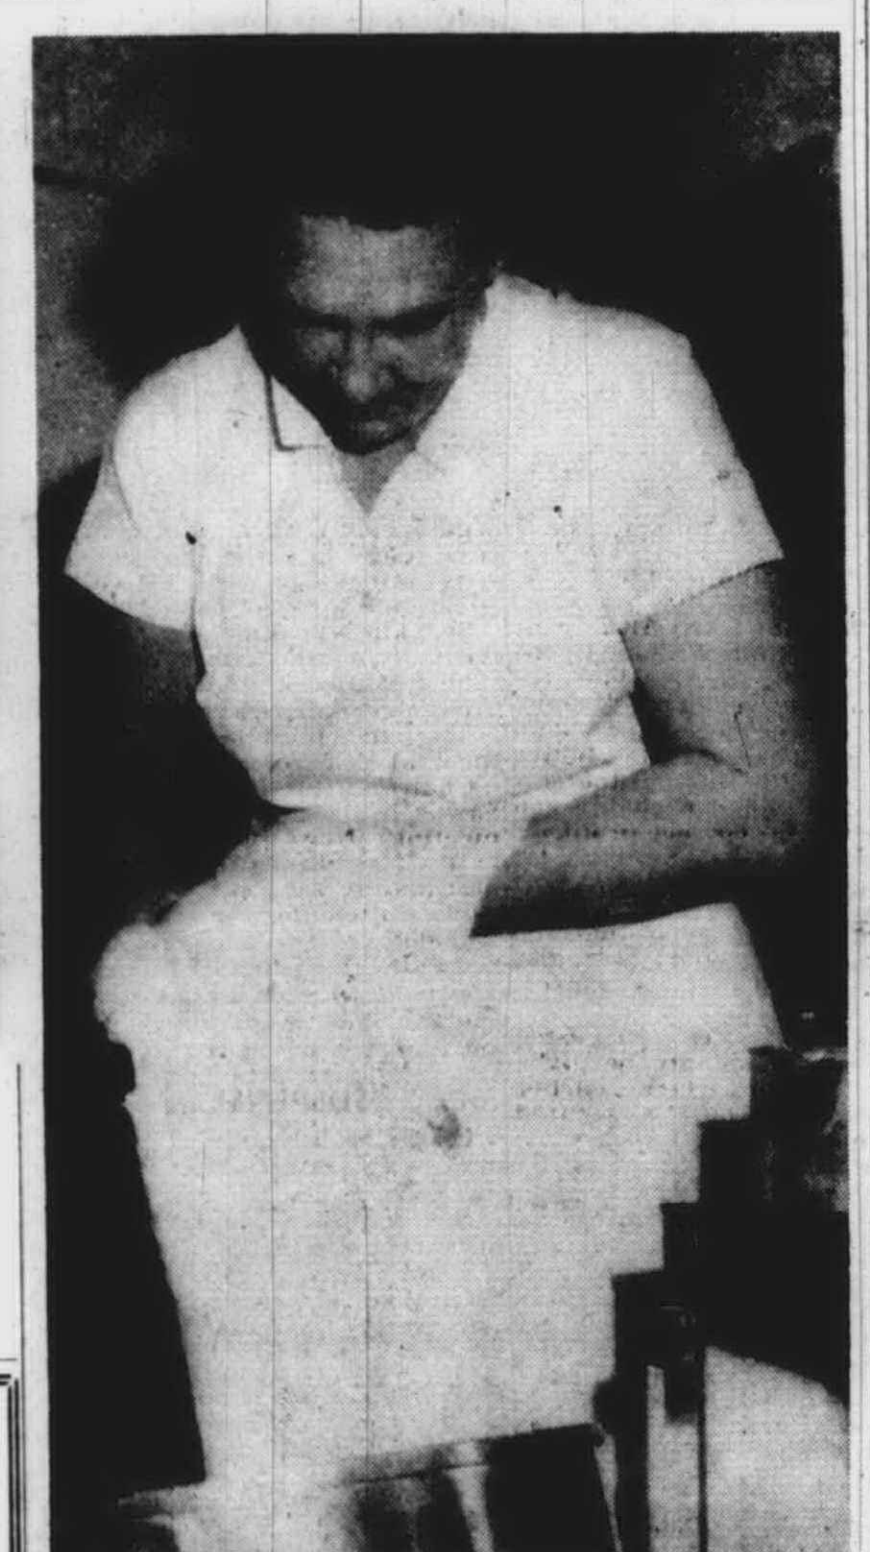

Students eat in two dining rooms, depending on the type lunch they buy, and each is filled and overflowing during the three one-half hour lunch periods, Mrs. Potter said.

"I think they're wonderful," Mrs. Potter said about the students. She added she thinks the success of a school cafeteria is having people who enjoy working together and who like the students.

Recently the high school

ONE OF the Plymouth High School cooks Mrs. Jack Monteith, removes pan of chicken from the oven for the day's lunch. The cafeteria serves between 750 and 800 students each day, according to manager Mrs. Donald Potter. She explained the goal of most school cafeterias is to serve at least one-quarter of a school population and P.H.S. has a much higher percentage of students eating school lunches.

BAKER MRS. George Kunkel is preparing the dough for bread and rolls. Plymouth High School kitchen makes its own bread, rolls, cakes and cookies each day. Manager Mrs. Donald Potter explained it is cheaper for the school to do its own baking than to purchase the items because they receive necessary supplies from the government.

City DPW Activities

By Superintendent Joseph Bida

While the past week found the Public Works Department busy with Christmas Decorations, the snowfall also helped to keep us busy.

One fire hydrant was moved at Union and Penniman Avenues and an old hydrant was replaced. A truck washing rack was installed at the Department of Public Works Garage, this is to wash salt and dirt from under the equipment.

Thirty tons of patch was used to patch streets all over the city. Over 20 man hours were spent on traffic control signs all over the city.

The City Hall was decorated for Christmas and the Public Works Department installed decorations at the Chesapeake & Ohio Depot. Sidewalks around city buildings were cleaned of snow.

A 1 1/2 inch water tap and a six-inch sanitary sewer tap was installed at 1056 Byron Street, this is for a new apartment which is being built. A sanitary sewer was dug up at 700 Sunset.

The Public Works Department received some complaints about the snow removal contract. After checking with Mr. Fulkerson it was found that two of his machines had broken down. I might add that we must have patience with this sidewalk snow removal, because you can be sure this is not going to be an easy task in regards to a perfect schedule.

After all, there are about 77 miles of walk in the city to be cleaned. This is a distance of about from Plymouth to Lansing.

I am sure after a couple of snow falls the problems will straighten themselves out and the city would like to thank the people who have NOT called because I am sure they are aware of the problem.

During the week, Department of Public Works personnel spread 250 tons of salt. Over 150 tons were spread on Thursday and Friday. Approximately $150 in labor and $2,025 in salt was used.

Three funerals were handled by the Public Works Department on Saturday.

Serving Our Country

PRIVATE Robert W. Ray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Ray, 3860 Napier Rd., completed a 15-week field radio repair course at the Army Southeastern Signal School, Fort Gordon, Ga., Nov. 27. He entered the Army last May and is a 1962 graduate of Plymouth High School.

Post Office Sees Record Volume Of Yule Mail

Acting Postmaster Saures Grater reports that the Post Office Department is confidently predicting that the volume of mail during this year's Christmas rush will hit a record high.

"Actually," he said, "it's an easy prediction because mail volume has been rising at a rate of nearly three percent a year for the past several years and this is most strongly reflected around the holiday season."

Well over twelve billion pieces of incoming and outgoing mail are expected to move through the system during December — with about ten per cent of the year's mail moving in less than three weeks.

The Plymouth postmaster reports that public co-operation is one important reason that post offices around the country are able to handle this huge mountain of mail in such a short period.

"Without the assistance of the public, we'd be in a jam," he commented. "People who shop early and get their cards and parcels into the mails make it possible for the holiday mail to be delivered on time. Imagine what it would be like if we were to get all the holiday mails the last week before Christmas?"

In addition to early mailing, the postmaster has several other suggestions which will help hardworking postal employees move this avalanche of mail. First, he recommends using ZIP Codes which help handle the mails faster because of a new transportation and distribution set-up.

ZIP Code also helps clerks to identify receiving post offices when addresses are hard to read. During this time of the year, the faster mail is processed the better chance it has to make connections with outgoing trains, planes and trucks.

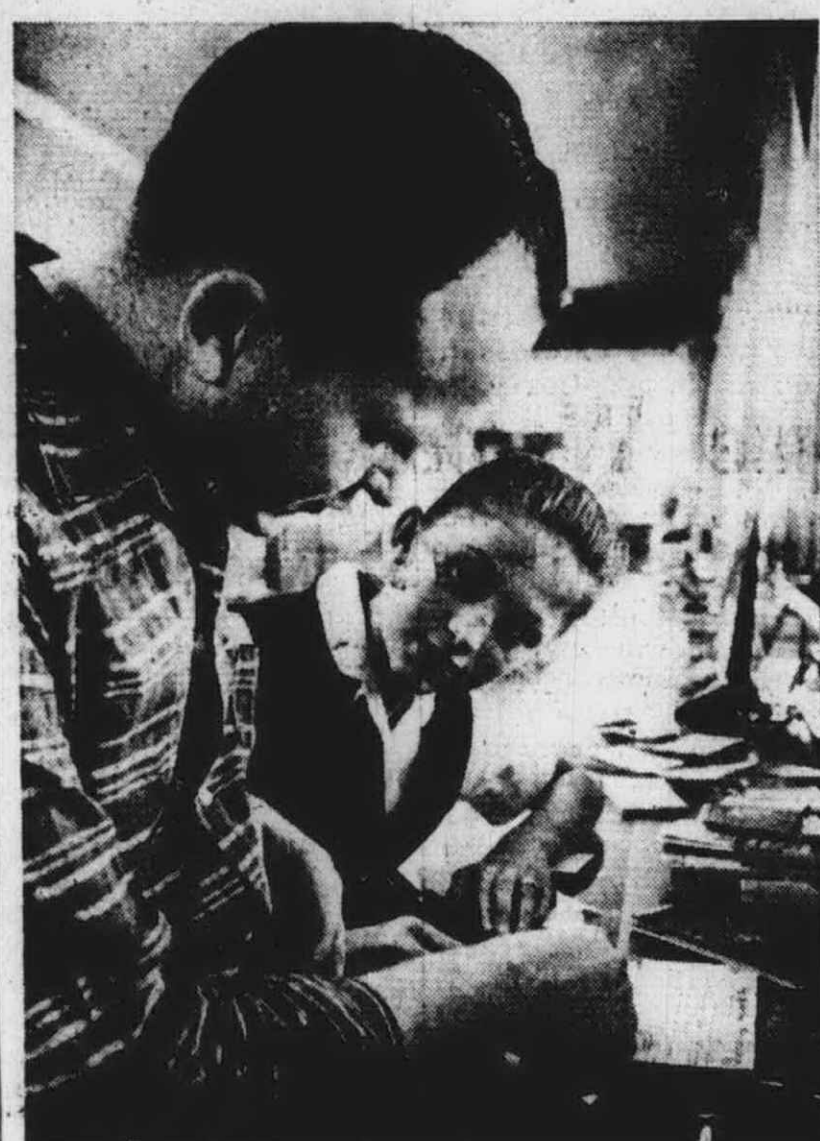

Acting Postmaster Grater also recommends that all parcels be wrapped securely, packed tightly and that the address be included inside the package as well as on the outside.

This helps assure delivery even if the outer wrapping comes loose. The Postmaster points out that "because ZIP Code parcels usually means a more direct routing and less handling, the chance of damage is drastically reduced."

Finally, Acting Postmaster Grater says that the use of the new Christmas stamps helps brighten up envelopes and packages.

All employees of the Plymouth Post Office are working night and day to assure you a Merry Christmas, Grater said.

He urged local residents to follow his advice and help postal employees and themselves to a more relaxed, happier holiday.

It's off to the Schools with a Bookmobile

By Lon Dickerson

EDITOR'S NOTE: Lon Dickerson is a Plymouth Peace Corps Volunteer serving in Sierra Leone, West Africa. This week he travels into the country with a bookmobile.

Sierra Leone is about half the size of Michigan. It is 27,925 square miles to be exact. Its population is 2,182,000 or slightly less than Wayne County.

For administrative purposes the country is divided into four provinces which correspond to our states.

Each province is, in turn, subdivided into districts like American counties. There are a total of 13 such districts in the country.

At the present time the Sierra Leone Library Board provides a bookmobile service to the primary schools in three of these districts.

The bookmobile cannot provide books for all the primary schools within a district, but it does for a large number of them. The schools are visited three times a year by the bookmobile.

The schools are not accessible during the rainy season which extends from May to October. Thus I did not make my first trip with the bookmobile until Nov. 2.

It was a scheduled nine-day trip to Kono District on the western edge of Sierra Leone. Unfortunately as of mid-November the rains have still not stopped. Consequently bad roads and motor breakdowns extended our trek to 12 days.

We started out from Freetown early Monday morning in a three-ton truck. Its shelves were bulging with new books for the 16 schools we were to supply. By evening we had reached Kenema in the southwest corner of Sierra Leone, a distance of 230 miles.

For the first 120 miles the road was two lanes and paved. The rest of the roads during our trip, however, were one to one and a half lane dirt roads.

They were full of ruts and mud. While we did not get stuck ourselves, we did have to wait several times for trucks or other vehicles in front of us to be freed from the mud.

When you meet an oncoming vehicle on these roads, someone must pull over to the side or both vehicles pull partially off the road to pass each other. And you must constantly dodge people, dogs, cattle, goats, chickens, and small wild animals.

We spent Tuesday morning having the brakes repaired, but still managed to travel north 80 miles to Sefadu, the capital of Kono District, by evening. Kono District is the diamond producing area of Sierra Leone. And we had to have special permits to enter it.

Sefadu is the administrative capital of the district. But it is the adjoining town of Koidu and nearby Yengema that are the centers of diamond mining. We used Koidu as our night base. It is only about seven years old, and reminded me of stories of boom towns in Alaska and California during the gold rush days. Prices are exorbitant, street brawls are common, and illicit diamond mining is rampant.

Bad roads hampered our progress, but we managed to stop at 13 schools. In order to reach two of the schools one day we had to cross a small river on a ferry. Carrying only two vehicles at a time it was pulled across the river by men by means of a cable. It took an hour and a half to cross while going to the schools, and four and a half hours coming back.

It was a difficult trek covering nearly 1000 miles, and we were exhausted at the end of each day. But the welcoming cheers of the children at each school made it worthwhile, indeed.

Furthermore the scenery was superb.

We passed through tropical rain forest so thick that the sun could not penetrate it. In places elephant grass three times the height of man lined the road.

But the most spectacular sights were those in the mountains. As we climbed higher and higher the bookmobile would sometimes gasp for air while the view, in turn, left us breathless.

And in the distance would be seen the majestic peaks of the Loma Mountains, the highest mountains in West Africa. One can not deny the fact that Kono District is rich in beauty as well as diamonds.

Next week's article of "Africa and Me" will be about the people of Kono District.

Schools to Seek Funds For Vocational Education

Work is underway in the Plymouth Community School system to gain for Plymouth a portion of the $4.3 million allotted to the State of Michigan under terms of the Vocational Education Act of 1963. The $4.3 million will be distributed to individual school districts on a priority basis, according to Assistant Superintendent for Secondary Education William Harding.

Harding said Plymouth school administrators had hopes of getting some reimbursement for the district

under Priority Three of the state program.

Priority Three provides for equipping new or expanded vocational education programs. The funds apply only on equipment costing more than $100 per unit, Harding said.

Also, he noted, Priority Five provides for funds toward qualified, vocational education teacher salaries.

Plymouth teachers, Harding said, are engaged in meeting eligibility requirements set up by the state for equipment lists. In addition, they are developing descriptions of all courses offered and their purposes.

HARDING SAID the outlook is dim for construction aid on the Plymouth High School vocational education addition, currently underway.

Building funds, he said, are being provided only for "area institute school," such as Schoolcraft College. Harding said the nationwide vocational education program had a budget of $60 million last year.

By 1967, cost of the program is expected to hit $225 million. Most of the funds, he said, will be designated for construction of area institute training centers and local school systems are apt to encounter more and more difficulty in securing funds.

Detroiters Speak on Negroes Struggle for Human Dignity

American Negroes do not all agree on how best to achieve human dignity — through integration or pride in self, Harvey Jackson told Plymouth Assembly for Equal Opportunity Dec. 3.

Jackson represented the Detroit Branch of the Association for Study of Negro Life and History at the meeting.

The concept of Negro inferiority has been consistently reinforced by lack of history, and distortion of fact, he said. People do poorly when they lack self-respect and self-love, which is basic to civilized people, he added.

A study of Negro history would help Negroes achieve a sense of their worth and give white people a better view of the facts, according to Jackson.

He pointed out that what is needed is not a text of Negro history, but a correction of history as written showing the part Negroes have played in building America. For example, he said, Columbus had Negro crewmen, Spanish explorers had Negroes as members of their expeditions, and the United States never fought a war when Negroes were not a part of it as citizens.

Man's history is the story of his struggle to get along amicably with others, Jackson said.

He said his race has made two important contributions toward reaching the democratic goal needing the United States through the civil rights struggle to work toward its ideal and hard work in the founding of the country.

Thursday's meeting concluded the current lecture series. A second series of four talks on the theme "Know Your Community" will begin January 14.

At the first meeting, Mrs. Ruth Eckstein will talk about her 1962 Plymouth Community Survey which led to setting up of our present Family Service Agency.

The next general meeting of the Assembly will be Tuesday, Dec. 15, at 8:30 p.m. at St. John's Episcopal Church.

John Swainson Speaks at Dem Victory Party

Former Michigan governor John Swainson appealed for help in his candidacy for the Court of Appeals when he appeared at Wayne II Democratic district's Victory Party, held Saturday evening in the American Legion Hall.

Congressman-elect Weston Vivian and state representative-elect James Tierney and Marvin Stempien also spoke at the celebration. The research committee presented a statistical analysis of the 1964 election by co-chairman Dick McGlinn and Harvey Kahalas.

Membership drive chairman Harvey Kahalas officially "kicked-off" the membership drive at the meeting.

George Bennett was victory party chairman. Other chairmen included Bob Dwyer, mailing, Harvey Kahalas, publicity, Marilyn Dwyer, decorations, Dianne Kahalas, food, and Doris Root, hostess.

Surprise

A Farmington man received an unhappy surprise early last Thursday morning as he drove unsuspectingly along Haggerty Road.

Plymouth Township firemen said Edward Bolt wondered why a young lady who passed him was pointing frantically to the rear of his car.

He found out. Firemen said the flames and smoke which had engulfed the rear of Bolt's small, European automobile caused an estimated $200 loss.

Summoned to the scene, they quickly extinguished the blaze. The back of the car, they said, was completely burned out.

A Spot for the Sports Fanatic on UHF-TV

By Jacquie Town

An entirely new concept in television broadcasting is being readied by a new ultra high frequency station in Detroit. Quite alarming for the household where sports-minded men control the channel selector. The new station will broadcast a full schedule of sports.

For the housewife who worships Ben Casey, Mr. Novak, Dr. Kildare and the Cartwright family, this may mean the death sentence for their heroes.

The only solution seems to be a second TV receiver for the family where a sports fanatic reigns supreme.

A recent survey shows that by the January 2 air date for channel 50, there will be approximately 300,000 sets able to receive UHF channels. This will offer a better selection of programming from which the general public can choose.

Ultra High Frequency broadcasting begins with channel 14 and goes to channel 83.

In the past in this area, we have been limited to use of channels 2, 4, 7, & 9, unless one has the converter designed to receive UHF. All sets manufactured in 1965 must, by the All Channel Receiver Legislation, be equipped to handle both VHF (channels 2-13) and UHF (Channels 13-83).

However, if you own a receiver purchased before the legislation was enacted, the cost of a converter is minimal.

My sincerest sympathy to anyone with a sports fanatic in the family (even gals named Pat or Patsy), as the new channel will begin its all sports broadcasting at 5 p.m. and continue throughout the evening with only one other program for teens in the early part of the evening hours.

If you can't tolerate a steady diet of golf, swimming, football, bowling, baseball, hockey, racing, and numerous other vigorous activities, don't spend the money for a lawyer, purchase another television set for Christmas.

The disadvantages of an all-sports station are outweighed by the advantages gained by being able to receive UHF broadcasts. Some excellent programming appears on UHF in this area.

I refer to National Educational Television, which is not what the name denotes. Most people think of NET as a medium strictly for supplementary teaching in the schools.

Not so. For anyone suffering from "perpetual weariness with the U.S. Television industry", this, the fourth network, attempts to offer something with a little more bite than the "Beverly Hillbillies", or "Petticoat Junction". Such programs as "The American Crisis", which deals with teen-agers and openly discusses premarital relations; "Black Marries White" a look at integration and segregation; "The Rejected", frankly discussing Homosexuals; "Escape from the Cage", showing the changes in the treatment of the mentally ill — all are available to the American public through NET.

These, plus excellent symphonies, modern theatre, ballet, childrens programming, science, public affairs, current events, and a tribute to the late President Kennedy, "An Essay on Death" with Christopher Plummer. National Educational Television is not government-backed television; it is non-profit, gaining the majority of its funds from the Ford Foundation. There are no commercials on NET, a relief for most viewers. Not all NET broadcasting deals with educating the school children, although it does a good deal of programming in that area. Its aim is to inform everyone of the problems, the culture, and the important issues which are America. If you do purchase a new TV set for the sports fan, be sure to consider the converter for the other set.

The investment in knowledge and interest alone, are well worth the price.

American Legion Auxiliary

The big news of December in the American Legion Auxiliary, as everywhere, is, of course, Christmas. Activities of the Christmas season dominate the Auxiliary this month. There are the Christmas gifts shops in some 200 veterans hospitals which operate early in the month so gifts selected by the hospitalized veterans can reach their families by Christmas. There are the Christmas parties given in the hospitals, and in the communities by Units thinking of the unfortunates in their own towns.

December contains another day with an entirely different significance — Pearl Harbor Day — Dec. 7. This gives the month its second emphasized activity on the Auxiliary Calendar, Civil Defense.

Unit President Drake and Vern Miller, proxy for Post Commander Williams, attended an installation of officers at the Benton Parkway Barracks WWI.

Remember the Unit holds their monthly business meeting Wednesday, Dec. 9 at 8 p.m. at the American Legion Hall.

Don't forget about the Toy Party Saturday, Dec. 12 at 8 p.m. at the American Legion Hall.

An unusual dessert to serve during the holiday season was suggested this week by Mrs. Cass Fleszar of Irvin St. "Snow Ball Cake" is a concoction of angel food cake, cream whip and whipping cream. It is a good recipe to serve around the Christmas Holidays, or, Mrs. Fleszar suggested, tinting the cake pink and serving it for Valentine's Day.

She is a member of Our Lady of Good Counsel Rosary Society. The Fleszar's have three children, Marie, 13-years-old, Raymond, 14, and Janet, 17. Marie attends Our Lady of Good Counsel School and the other two go to St. Thomas School in Ann Arbor.

An active bowler, Mrs. Fleszar and her husband enter husband and wife tournaments and have won minor prizes, she said. She also was a member of the winning Penn Theatre women's team this past year.

"Snow Ball Cake" recipe was given to Mrs. Fleszar by a friend, she said. Her friend had so many requests for the recipe after serving it that she had it reprinted.

The cake may be prepared the day before you serve it so you don't have to worry about it just before your guests arrive.

By lining the bottom of your cake pan with wax paper you can remove it easily and in one piece, Mrs. Fleszar suggested.

Give Safety Awards to Plymouth Schools

AT STARKWEATHER school the safety captain and girl's service captain accepted their green safety award from Plymouth's Assistant Police Chief Loren Johnson, Dec. 3. Left to right, are Barry Coburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coburn, of Fairground St., Johnson, Principal Miss Mildred Field, and Deborah Travis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Travis, of Blunk St.

HAVING RECEIVED the green safety award each year it has been presented to Plymouth Schools, Assistant Police Chief Loren Johnson, and St. Peter Lutheran Day School representatives Patrol Captain John Covach, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Covach, of Auburn St., and Mike Beyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beyer, of N. Mill St., pose with their three flags.

All four elementary schools in the city received awards for perfect safety records for the 1963-1964 school year. This award means no child in the school was involved in a traffic accident, either as a pedestrian or bicyclist, at which he was at fault, Assistant Police Chief Loren Johnson explained. Johnson presented the awards to the safety captains at Starkweather, Smith, Our Lady of Good Counsel and St. Peter Lutheran Day School Dec. 3. If a child is involved in an accident the safety banner is removed from the flag pole for 30 days, Johnson said. The awards are sponsored by the Detroit News. Plymouth schools have been members of the project three of the four years it has existed, Johnson said. Both Our Lady of Good Counsel and St. Peter schools have received three awards. Michigan State Police Trooper D. E. Kaiser presented safety awards to three Plymouth Schools outside city limits at ceremonies Nov. 30. The schools receiving the award were Bird, Allen-Truesdell and Farrand.

ADMIRING THEIR second consecutive safety award at Smith School are, left to right, patrolman Jim Fronk, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fronk, of Linden St., Assistant Police Chief Loren Johnson, Principal Miss Ruth Eriksson, patrol captain Doug Feldkamp, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lee Feldkamp, of Linden St., Ken Brackford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brackford, of Burroughs St., and Jill Baskins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baskins, of Rocker St.

When a Man Marries His Troubles Begin

By Anna Jung

Young love frequently leads to young marriage, unfortunately.

Few adolescents are intellectually and emotionally capable of establishing a relationship that can withstand stresses imposed by marriage.

Many young girls look forward to early marriage as an opportunity to escape from an unpleasant home situation. Marriage may be an expression of rebellion against mother, or an attempt to punish a father who shows little interest in his adolescent daughter.

Young boys and girls may be equally interested in going steady, but most often it is the girl who pushes for early marriage. Girls use promises, threats, guile, and all the wiles they can muster to lure boys into marriage.

To a young girl the idea of marriage represents the promise of security, freedom from "dominating" parents, a house or apartment of her own, and the opportunity to sleep late in the morning. Girls who push for early marriage are not concerned with what they can give to the marriage; rather they are concerned with what they can get out of marriage.

The young man just out of high school, (perhaps a school dropout) working at a job that provides him with a goodly amount of spending money, also looks forward to freeing himself from "dominating" parents and wants to "live my own life."

But most teen-age boys have never supported themselves entirely, regardless of their earnings.

To them "living my own life" doesn't mean taking full responsibility for self-support, much less taking responsibility for supporting a wife.

The adolescent boy, in the process of establishing and affirming his identity as a man, is easy prey to the girl who blandishes his ego by telling him what a man he is. He wants to preserve the image of maturity, for himself and for her, so he agrees to marriage, eagerly or reluctantly.

Adolescents rely heavily on fantasy to sustain them during the years of searching for identity. Fantasy plays a large role in their "preparation" for marriage.

Individually and together the young lovers dream their dreams of a "perfect" marriage. And then the reality of marriage descends upon them and:

Pouff! - - - the denouement. Many such marriages are terminated in the first year. Other young couples live through the early years of marriage, years heavily flavored with curses, tears, accusations, threats, reconciliations, and promises.

Somehow they mature in the process, and their marriage takes on a pattern of interaction that provides enough mutual and reciprocal satisfaction so that they choose to continue to live together.

ents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Irwin, of Farwell, and her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pelchat and two children, from South Lyon. Mrs. Irwin spent a week with her daughter while Mr. Irwin was in the hospital for surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Godwin, of Warren Rd., were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Williams, of Allen Park, Nov. 29.

mer and daughter Connie, of Beck Rd. were Thanksgiving dinner guests of Mrs. Palmer's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert White, of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Palmer were guests Nov. 28 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Korte. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Korte, Sr., also were present and showed movies taken at their summer home on Drummond Island — they are now on their way to Florida, for the winter.

Stockbroker Discusses Investing At Kiwanis Meeting

The New York Stock Exchange and investments were discussed by Peter J. Sarris, account executive for Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, Inc., in Detroit, at the Kiwanis meeting Dec. 1.

Dean Saxton, the evening's program chairman, introduced Sarris.

Between 1300 and 1400 different company stocks are listed each day on the New York stock exchange, Sarris told the club. A seat on the New York Exchange costs about $210,000, he said. Open from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. daily, New York time, the exchange lists 85% of all the stocks sold, according to Sarris.

Buying and selling of stocks is a two way auction, with the brokers having buy and sell orders from their clients, he explained.

In 1950 six million persons in the United States owned stocks, 12 1/2 million by 1960 and 13 million in 1964, he said. Sarris said one advantage of stock ownership is it can be readily converted to cash in only four days while other types of investments take a longer period of time.

Dow Jones Industrial average of 30 major stocks is a good indicator of the general market condition, he said. Reasons for investment, he said, include dividend income, speculation, trading and long term capital appreciation.

Sarris said that his company instituted a study of the average return of stocks from 1926 through 1960. 1700 securities were examined, he explained, and the average return per year was nine per cent compounded annually. For example, he said, one dollar invested in 1926 would have been worth $20 in the above instance.

Growth stocks will generally yield from two per cent to three per cent and income stocks from 4 1/2 per cent to five per cent, Sarris said.

"Cats and Dogs" he defined as low priced stocks, traded over the counter, but generally not listed. They are highly speculative and gener-

Tribute to two organizations

Two local groups, in recent weeks, have proven their interest and concern in The Plymouth Community by voting sizeable amounts for area improvements.

They are Plymouth Rotary whose board appropriated $5,000 for new lighting equipment at Plymouth High School's athletic field and $500 for landscaping operations in Kellogg Park, and the Plymouth Association of Insurance Agents who delivered a check for $1,000 to the City for improving Kellogg Park's greenery.

Both groups deserve much credit for their actions but, first and foremost, Rotary should not get short shrift for its decision to offer monies for football field illumination.

Throughout the years, this Plymouth service club has distinguished itself by obvious dedication to The Plymouth Community.

Rotary has always been aware of the unique character of Plymouth's milieu and has committed itself to preserving and enriching the community personality.

The $5,000 voted by the club is concrete indication of the compulsion it has felt, since its inception, to serve the community. Rotary was responsible in the first place for providing a lighted field at Plymouth.

These men, who seek no credit, deserve a full share of recognition for the actions they have taken. Plymouth Rotary has once again reaffirmed its intent to raise community service above and beyond simple lip service.

Quite simply, The Plymouth Mail pays tribute to a vibrant organization — Plymouth Rotary.

In the same vein, the association of insurance agents has, time and time again, proven its sense of duty.

The band of insurance men included in its membership have been responsible, in the past, for providing fire equipment, supporting educational programs on the dangers of fire and other projects.

They, too, deserve a healthy portion of community gratitude for their move to improve the appearance of Kellogg Park.

To them we offer editorial thanks.

The presence of these two groups in The Plymouth Community should be noted and sincerely appreciated.

Much to gain, little to lose

While he didn't use the Johnsonian term, departing City Manager Albert F. Glassford laid out ideas for local businessmen last Thursday which might form the basis for a Plymouth version of The Great Society.

Included were recommendations for further urban renewal activity, paving, off-street parking and a revised numbering plan for city streets.

But the proposal closest to the City Manager's heart is the suggestion that Plymouth be nominated as an All American City.

Glassford urged that a committee be formed and that Plymouthites join forces to enter the City in the annual contest sponsored by the National Municipal League and Look Magazine.

"In my opinion," he said, "the City of Plymouth has taken giant strides forward, and its citizen participation in community affairs is unusual. The progress Plymouth has made in recent years bears witness to the spirit of an All American City, and I am sure, that with a proper presentation, our entry would result as one of the winners."

Noting that a low point in community morale was reached when the Daisy Mfg. Co. moved south, Glassford pointed to the citizen interest that was aroused, the formation of an Industrial Development Corporation, the successful attraction of industry and financial support pledged by local residents.

The words of the City Manager take us back to the reality of Plymouth's uniqueness among towns of its size. It should, indeed, be entered, in competition for the title of All American City.

The Plymouth Mail would be among the first to go on record in support of Glassford's recommendation. He has forwarded a copy of the brochure describing rules and regulations for the competition to Mayor Richard H. Wernette.

We urge Mayor Wernette to appoint a committee to enter Plymouth in the contest. Entry would seem to be one of those things in which there would be much to gain and little or nothing to lose.

Little to gain

During the past few months this newspaper has received complaints from persons who have been contacted by individuals vaguely identifying themselves as representatives of "the Plymouth newspaper."

Investigation has shown that the complainants were not called by Plymouth Mail staffers.

Our employees will, without exception, identify themselves by name and position when they contact advertising accounts or news sources.

They will not pass themselves off as representatives of "the Plymouth newspaper."

If someone calls you for news or advertising, and you're a bit in the dark about who they are and what they represent, ask them.

Because we are proud of both our name and 76-year-old record of service to this community, we aren't at all interested in capitalizing on mistaken identity.

After all, what would it gain us?

NORMALLY, according to local merchants, they are able to rent this parking lot from Plymouth insurance man C. L. Finlan for the month of December when yuletide shoppers need all the parking they can get. But, this year, one retailer said, Finlan chained off the lot and erected "No Trespassing" signs (inset, above left) before merchants got around to seeing him. Finlan was unavailable for comment on the matter Monday. Merchants say he permits the lot to be used rent free during the remainder of the year. This shot was taken Saturday when parked cars ringed the area and space was at a premium.

The Good Old Days

TAKEN FROM THE FILES OF THE PLYMOUTH MAIL

10 YEARS AGO

A welcoming committee representing the city, schools and the sponsoring Rotary club greeted Concert Pianist Jean Goldkette on his arrival in Plymouth Monday shortly before he presented two concerts locally.

A recommendation that the board of education plan for construction of an "elementary wing" in time to accommodate next year's new flood of school children has been made by the School Community Planning group. Site of the proposed school would be on Sheldon road, south of Joy road on a 20 acre plot purchased by the school board early this year.

Four members of Plymouth's league championship football team were honored Wednesday by giving honorable mention on the Detroit Free Press All-Star football team. Members of the Rocks who were so honored were John Agnew, James Arnold, Lee Jave and Denny Luckner. The four players had previously been selected on the all-league all star team.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Good announce the birth of a son, Edwin Donald born on November 30 in Garden City hospital weighing six pounds nine ounces. Mrs. Good is the former Mary Jane Davis.

A surprise silver wedding anniversary celebration was held Sunday at the Grange Hall for Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur A. Hill of 324 Ann St., Plymouth. The Hills were married December 9, 1929.

Chips from the Rock: "Michigan's Beaver Island has a new benefactor in the person of its newest summer resident, manufacturer Russell Hoffman of Plymouth. So impressed with the early lore of the island, which still has landmarks left by LaSalle, and later the Mormons who established a colony there, he is spear-heading a drive to establish a museum for island visitors. Of interest to local readers is the fact that recent meetings being held by the St. Mary hospital board are producing results which will do much to bring about early construction of the first unit of the badly needed facility. Monday's Jean Goldkette concert brought memories to J. Rusling Cutler, and he quickly named off some of the other members of his 1927 high school graduating class consisting of Evelyn Schrader, Claude Gebhardt, Harry Rowland, Clair Travis, Ruth Allison, Barbara Bake, Katherine Wicks, Barbara Horton, Pat Murphy, Bus and Viola Wilkins, Edwin Schrader, Al Ashton and Clifford Wood. He was reminded he said, and wondered if they were too, of the first dance ever held in Plymouth high school. It was the Class of 1927 Senior Prom... and who furnished the music? Jean Goldkette and his Nightingales."

Members of Plymouth Rock lodge elected Fred A. Hearn their new master. He will direct the affairs of the masonic lodge during 1940. James Nairn is the retiring master and under his direction the lodge lists many accomplishments during the year just closing.

Edith Mettatal, liberal arts student at Michigan State college, from Plymouth, is one of five M.S.C. music students who will be active this year in Mu Phi Epsilon, national music honorary.

On Saturday at 12:00 o'clock noon in the Newburg Methodist church Miss Florence Bodnar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bodnar, of Newburg, was united in marriage to Howard Zander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zander, of Canton Center, Rev. R. M. Trenergy read the marriage vows.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Liguard, Arthur street, announce the birth of a nine-pound daughter, born Sunday morning, Dec. 3. Her name is Roberta Gay.

The annual Christmas party and exchange of gifts of the Tuesday afternoon contract group will be held Tuesday with Mrs. Albert Stever.

50 YEARS AGO

A pretty wedding was solemnized last Wednesday, when Miss Bina Eckles, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Eckles, was united in marriage to Paul G. Lee of Livonia.

The new picture theatre in the Tighe block will be opened to the public for the first time on Christmas day. The new theatre will be known as the Penniman Theatre. A fine program has been arranged for the opening day. The afternoon show will commence at 3 o'clock. There will be a continuous show in the evening commencing at 6:30.

The sixth meeting of the Woman's Literary Club was held at Mrs. C. H. Bennett's home last Friday afternoon. About 35 members were present. Roll call was responded Never having been of the opinion that the government can do all things with consummate skill, it was satisfying last week to lurk in the house on Adams St. and watch the U.S. Weather Bureau go through its usual convolutions.

Eventually, of course, the snow came. But not until forecasts had been made, revised, and the revisions revamped several times — providing for my wife an undue amount of satisfaction.

Years ago, when I snatched child bride away from the protective wing of her mother, I was under the impression that she was a healthy, normal, space-age girl. Now I wonder.

I'm beginning to think she'd be more at home in 17th century Salem, Mass. than here. But I leap ahead of myself.

It all started some months ago when one of the gals trooped back from the Post Office laden with part of the 30 square yards of trash mail that a newspaper gets each day. Somewhere in the pile was a review copy of "The Old Farmer's 1965 Almanac," which cheerfully lays claim to publication every year since 1792.

"Weather forecasts, secrets of the zodiac, recipes and a full measure of good humor," the cover proclaims.

I made the mistake of taking it home.

Good old Mom pounced on the yellow, paper-bound copy and it was several days thereafter before the urchins and I could pry her loose. Mealtimes degenerated into something like this:

"Honey, why don't you put that darn book down? You've been reading it for three days."

"Uuh huh" (chomp, chomp, chomp).

"How can you eat with your nose in that thing?"

"Hummph" (crunch, crunch). Conversation to by witticisms which caused much merriment. The president, Mrs. J. J. Travis, presided over the business meeting, after which current events were given by Miss Marguerite Hough. The remainder of the afternoon was given over to Mrs. C. H. Bennett, who very delightfully entertained the ladies with a descriptive paper on her recent trip to the Islands of the West Indies, illustrated with stereopticon slides, a number of the views having been taken by herself.

About 50 friends of Rev. A. L. Bell surprised them at the Baptist church parlors last Thursday evening, December 10, after a prayer meeting, the occasion being their 11th wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Bell were presented with a beautiful linen table set and a pretty jardiniere stand.

At the suggestion of a tree expert from the Agricultural College at Lansing, who was here some time ago at the instigation of the council, to give his advice as to what was best to be done to improve the condition and appearance of Kellogg Park, the park committee have had a few trees removed recently. The removal of these trees will allow the trees now standing a chance to spread out and still give plenty of shade.

Last Tuesday afternoon the farm house south of town, belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Sewell Bennett, now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George Everett caught fire from sparks from a burning chimney. A hole was burned through the roof and siding, but by the prompt action of Mr. Everett and neighbors, the fire was extinguished before great damage was done.

Auburn addition to Plymouth Heights — Easy to Acquire — Five dollars down, and one dollar per week. No taxes or interest until fully paid.

The intent, of course was pretty much ground to an awkward halt until one day I came home for lunch and there she was all by herself.

"Hey," I commented, "hi there. Where's your book?"

"Don't get smart," she snarled. "If you'd read more it would improve your outlook."

"You're right," I allowed. "Didja hear? The weather man says it's going to snow."

"Bull! The Almanac says it's going to rain."

"Bog your pardon?"

"You heard me." She swooped into the kitchen with the Almanac in her hot little hand. "Listen to this," she urged with a wild glint in her eye. And she began reading from Abe Weatherwise, the Almanac's forecaster, who is not such a bad prophet considering he is 173 years old.

"On his 48 individual forecasts over periods from one day to one week," she read, "he was 74% correct — and on 28 monthly summary forecasts, 80% correct."

This compares with the United States Weather Bureau's 30-day forecast for Boston this way — 80% correct by Abe Weatherwise, 46% by U.S.W.B."

"Let me see your hand," she demanded as she flipped the pages of the Almanac. I spread my paw on the table and she peered intently at it.

"Phooey," she remarked. "I always knew I was taking a risk. The branch from the life line turn back toward your wrist."

"And look!" she exclaimed. "Your heart line is definitely tortuous and dessicated. I should have listened to mother."

"If you don't mind my asking, you nitwit," I said in my charming way, "just what the heck are you doing?"

"I'm reading your palm," she said mournfully.

Sure enough, she had the little book opened to an opus titled "The Art of Divining by Lines in the Hand. Englisched from Latin by George Wharton, Esq., 1652."

"The line of life," it said, "proceeds from the wrist joint, skirts the thumb mound, ends between thumb and forefinger... If branches turn back to wrist, poverty, and deceit... The heart line passes across the horizontal palm center... Tortuous or dessicated, diseases of liver, depravity, greed..."

"And your heart line and life line don't form a triangle," she said, in tears.

"No triangle," I read, "denotes a fool, a short life, a prodigal, and a liar."

"Look," I said, "my thumb has clear long lines under the nail."

"So what," she wailed. "That means riches and honor," I announced. "Hey, let me look at your hand. Let's see now, the heart line is straight and continued. That means good health. You have a line the whole length of your ring finger. That means noble fame. Let's see the forefinger."

"What are you doing?" she asked.

"Cross line between the joints. That indicates many children. And, oh boy, a star!"

"What do you mean, 'oh boy, a star!'"

"C'mere, baby."

"Let go of me, you maniac. Give me that book." She snatched the Almanac out of my hand and read: "Forefinger: ... Woman with star in first joint is lascivious."

"Hey, doll, come here."

"Stop breathing like that," she ordered. "You have to go back to work."

"You can't resist me. I pointed out. Look what the book says."

"That's a bunch of superstition. Go back to work." As she spoke, I looked out the window. It was raining.

He Has Mixed Feelings On License Plate Slogan

Michigan Department of State Lansing, Michigan December 4, 1964

The Plymouth Mail Plymouth, Michigan

Dear Editor:

I just caught up with your November 6 editorial on "Water Winter Wonderland" on the license plates. Just to give you a little background, this new slogan came as a result of the recommendations by the Association of Tourist Councils to the Governor, and from him to me.

The intent, of course was to popularize our winter sports areas.

The people in the northern part of the state are most enthusiastic about it, and the people in the south couldn't care less.

I have mixed feelings on it myself, but thank you for editorializing at least.

Sincerely,
James M. Hare
Secretary of State

The Sporting Thing

By Bill Nelson

The University of Michigan is having one of those great years. Already on the way to the Rose Bowl with what at times looks like the best football team in the nation, the Michigans' basketball team looks as if it can be as good as it has to be.

In the opener against Ball State the Wolverines looked less than great, but managed to win easily.

Against Duke last Saturday night, Michigan beat the Blue Devils in North Carolina, the first time anyone had done that in 27 games. Duke was the team that dumped Michigan out of a championship tournament last season.

Saturday evening Michigan easily maintained an 8-10 point lead most of the game. Late in the fourth quarter Duke (rated number 5 before this game), tied the score 69-69 and again 71-71, but Michigan moved away easily to win 86-79. Only a great team can perform like that under pressure.

At the University of Detroit, they're having another kind of year. U of D has thrown in the towel on football and called it quits.

The high cost of big time college football is just too much unless you have a strong alumni and big budgets to back it up.

About 12 years ago, the Titans' cross-town rivals, Wayne State University thoroughly examined the whole athletic problem and came up with a solution that allows Wayne to participate in the President's Athletic Conference with teams of similar qualifications.

Wayne figures it is an educational institution and potential-physical education instructors and coaches can get the needed education without the school being committed to playing Notre Dame every Saturday.

This approach makes the most sense, if you don't have the big money necessary to recruit good football talent.

A school simply can't compete against top college football factories without financial backing.

Time will tell if U of D has quit for good or if there will be some attempt to emulate the example of Wayne State.

Schoolcraft College, meanwhile, is just beginning and a news item reports that Schoolcraft, engaging in its first intercollegiate basketball competition, won 71-59 over Western Ontario Institute of Technology.

Community Colleges are a relatively new concept and it ought to be interesting to see how Schoolcraft's athletic program develops and where it leads in the years to come.

Plymouth's basketball team got off to a poor start last Friday, but is likely to do better. They suffered fantastically poor shooting averages both from the floor and the free throw line. This will improve.

The crowd was small because of the bad weather outside. Plymouth fans ought to get out and cheer the team to a good start in the next few games.

The next opportunity is at Bentley this Friday (where Plymouth will open the Suburban Six League race against the defending champions) and the following night at Northville.

Incidentally, the JVs looked red hot last Friday in walloping Walled Lake 76-44 before the varsity game. Get to the games early.

Plymouth swimmers (defending champions in the league) won their first dual meet against Franklin and placed sixth in the 12 team Suburban Relays. They'll be home against Bentley at 7 p.m. Thursday in their home and League opener.

Defeated Once, Cagers Hunt Victory At Bentley, Northville

Plymouth's basketball team will open the new Suburban Six League basketball race at Bentley Friday at 8 p.m. and then meet neighboring rival Northville there at 8 p.m. Saturday. JV games start at 6:30 p.m.

The Rocks will be hoping to get off on the right foot in the League race against the defending champion Bulldogs and to put together another win against Northville.

PLYMOUTH WAS BEATEN by Walled Lake last week in the season opener before a moderate Plymouth home court crowd. The Rocks lost 46-44 in the final minute of play after they had rallied in the fourth quarter to tie the score and momentarily go ahead.

Plymouth trailed 12-8 at the end of the first quarter and slipped to a 16-21 half-time deficit largely through inaccurate foul shooting. Plymouth scored only eight of 39 free throw attempts in the first half and only four of 32 field goal attempts.

BY THE END of the third quarter Plymouth still trailed by four points, 32-28. After a slow beginning, the Rocks rallied midway in the final period as Dave Tidwell tied the score at 36-36 on two free throws.

With three minutes and forty-three seconds left, Tidwell put Plymouth ahead 36-36 with two more free throws. Walled Lake tied it up 38-38 on a field goal with two Walled Lake tied it up at 40-40 on two free tosses with two minutes and 15 seconds left. Co-Captain Gary Grady got Plymouth back in the lead 42-40 for the last time on a field goal with two minutes left.

The Lakers tied it up at 42-42 on two free tosses and went ahead to stay on a field goal with one minute and 42 seconds left.

THEY ADDED another with a minute left and then stalled until seven seconds when Plymouth added a final field goal, but it was too late and Walled Lake won 46-44.

Schoolcraft College won its first college basketball game recently, when it beat Western Ontario Institute of Technology 71-59 in the Clarenceville High School gym.

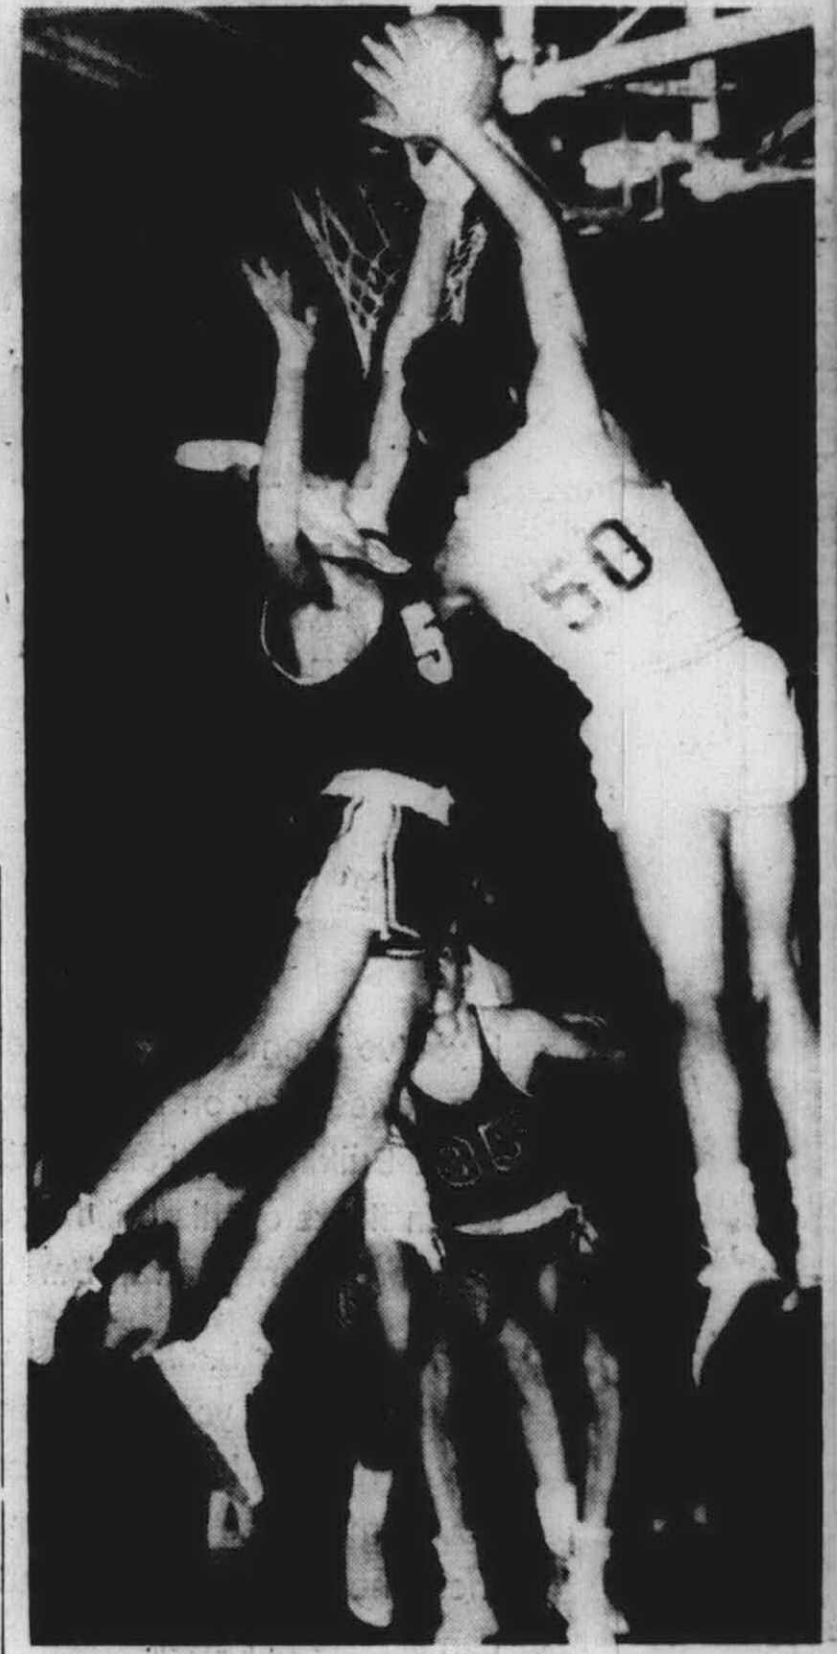

Schoolcraft led at the half 41-26 and Plymouth's Cal Luibrand led the team with 22 rebounds and 19 points. Gerald Kisabeth, another Plymouth graduate, contributed 14 points to this historic win in the first inter-collegiate game ever played by Schoolcraft.

The team is coached by Marvin Gans and Wilson Munn.

On Dec. 3, Mrs. Clayton Greenleaf, 40418 Pinetree Rd., attended the gathering of her regular monthly pinochle club in the home of a former neighbor, Mrs. Harlan Keilor, of Garden City. The ladies exchanged Christmas presents via the grab bag method and the hostess served refreshments and distributed the prizes. In November, Mrs. Greenleaf took top honors, but this month she came home with the booby prize.

They have made their home at 11179 Terry St. since Nov. 28. They are the second Mr. and Mrs. Richard Braun to make their home in Salem Square. The first Braun family was one of the original homeowners in the subdivision, moving to their present location, 40546 Pinetree Rd., late in May. Both of the Mr. Brauns are teachers in the Livonia school system, and although they have occasionally received one another's mail, bills, and paychecks at their schools, they have never met.

On Thanksgiving Day Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Greenleaf, Pinetree Rd., entertained with a turkey dinner in their home. The guests included Mrs. Greenleaf's parents from Detroit, Mr. and Mrs.

Elwood Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Nicholson, old neighbors from Garden City. Then on Nov. 28, the Greenleafs were among the guests at the wedding of Mrs. Greenleaf's niece, Miss Kathleen Mondelak, to James Franklin Harding, of Detroit.

The pre-Christmas luncheon sponsored by the Plymouth Newcomer's Club was held at the Mayflower Hotel on Dec. 3. It was a wine tasting affair and was hosted by The Wine Shop, located in the hotel. Attending the meeting were Mrs. William Kangas, 40541 Pinetree Rd., and her guest Mrs. Albert Wietecha; Mrs. William Bevier, 40718 Pinetree Rd., and Mrs. Gerald R. Stevens, 40562 Pinetree Rd.

Davis Dunks 26; JVs Win 76-44

Plymouth's junior varsity basketball team sunk a fantastic 56 percent of its first half field goal attempts and went on to pummel Walled Lake 76-44 last Friday.

The Rocks slipped a little with second stringers freely entering the game in the second half, but still managed a 32 percent second half marksmanship for a superb game total of 43 percent.

Hottest of all the JV players was sophomore center John Davis, who scored nine field goals and eight free-throw shots for a 26 point opening game effort.

His performance prompted coach Dick Bearup to call him "one of the best sophomore performers I've ever had". The coach also had praise for the entire team and particularly the play of guard Ron Lowe.

"HE BROUGHT the ball up for us," Bearup said, "and his floor leadership was outstanding." He too is a tenth grader, and managed eight points on four field goals.

Dennis Rickard also had eight points and Mike Manley contributed seven, while second high honors for the Rocks went to forward Bill Way with 12 points on five field goals and two free tosses.

The youthful Rocks wasted little time with Walled Lake. They opened up a substantial 20-8 first quarter lead and roared to a 42-20 halftime advantage.

By the end of the third quarter, Plymouth led by 40 points 64-24 with Coach Bearup substituting freely.

The JVs play again at 6:30 p.m. Friday before the varsity game at Bentley High School, and again at 6:30 Saturday at Northville.

Stress Hockey Safety

Letters, stressing safety for hockey enthusiasts in the Plymouth Hockey Association, were sent to parents this week by Hal Shelley, Chairman of the Association. His letter said, in part:

"In conforming with our all out effort to provide maximum protection... all boys must wear protective equipment for practices as well as regular games."

Mandatory equipment includes head gear, mouthpiece, athletic supporter, and shin pads and suggested equipment includes hockey gloves, shoulder pads and elbow pads."

Shelley notes further that team management will furnish net minders equipment and that these rules are a MUST, and it is strongly urged that the enforcement of them be a joint effort of parents and team management.

Questions should be directed to team representatives.

...tell it to Herman Schwartz

You say your daughter is getting married, and she doesn't want her reception in a cinder block citadel, and you can't afford the country club? ... Or it's your anniversary, and your wife is expecting a big party, and you're so busy at the office you haven't even got time to call for a cake, and it's your Silver, and you'd like it to last to the Golden? ... Or you've been made chairman of your company's annual banquet, and your committee ran out and left you holding the guest list, and your boss is big on banquets... small on boners? Tell it to Herman Schwartz.

He'll lend a sympathetic ear. An ear educated by years of experience of catering everything from St. Patrick's Day dinners to Bar Mitzvahs. Where to find this Confucius of catering? The Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel, of course. Here Herman combines his rare talents for organization with those of Chef Hagen for vending award-winning victuals. Together they give you the best-looking, best-tasting, best-organized banquet in town.

The Sheraton offers you a choice of 18 modern air-conditioned banquet rooms. Where our Schwartz-Hagen duo can seat and satiate from three to a thousand people with equal ease.

If you've got a catering problem, why not pass Herman the buck?... simply call Mr. Schwartz, WO 1-8000. Respectfully, the Sheraton-Cadillac, Detroit's largest, most accommodating hotel.

He Goes to Bat for Plymouth's Old Teachers

By Mike Ross

Old teachers never die, they just (if you'll excuse the cliché) fade away. They're like brilliant water colors on a sheet of paper, until age starts pouring water on them.

It is an accepted fact: When a teacher is 64 years and 364 days old, he's fine, healthy, and in a perfect state of mind.

The next morning when he awakens he suddenly finds himself old, decrepit, and senile. At least the clause in his contract seems to imply that.

This nation is screaming for more good teachers.

Note the word "good."

It means a teacher with a college degree under age 65. I agree that a teacher should have a college degree, but the fallacy concerning a teacher who reaches age 65 that he or she is no longer "good" is a ridiculous concept.

An example is Plymouth's own Miss Fiegel. Being an instructor with years of teaching and working with young people behind her, she is not just a "good" teacher but an excellent one with the background essential for work in an International Relations class.

Yet Miss Fiegel is being put out to graze in a few short years, sooner than she should be.

A further example is Miss Hern. A superior Latin teacher, who is tops with the students, is going to have her talents likewise wasted in retirement.

Why should students that will shortly be of high school age be deprived of the vast reservoir of knowledge and experience of these two instructors?

Both, completely capable of teaching past age 65, will go into retirement after an extremely active life, and like so many other retirees, may just sit.

Many people feel idle sitting is justified because, they claim, older teachers become senile, lax, and their classes become study halls. The teachers who do that in old age undoubtedly had identical practices when they were younger.

The problem of the teacher shortage is a searing one, but why keep stoking the flame by pushing the capable teachers out to pasture?

Our administration watches the development of our young teachers, so why can't they keep watch over older teachers approaching retirement age?

These teachers could be tested or interviewed in some way, and if he or she proved to be still entirely useful, the administration would be saved the trouble of finding another instructor for the post that otherwise might have been vacated.

Many other school systems in Michigan have realized the goldmine they have in "senior" teachers. I hope ours discovers their own.

Greg Butler '65, Bill Ray '65 and Bruce Spratling '65, finished in the top four percent of the 10,000 who competed in the Michigan Math Prize Contest. These boys are now qualified to take part in the second test Dec. 10.

Senior Kathy McIntyre was chosen captain of the Varsity cheerleaders by the other members of the squad for the winter sports season. Kathy won first place in the National Cheerleading Camp this summer in Hartland, Mich., and presently ranks third in the senior class. She is also class secretary.

The Plymouth Chapter of Hi-Y is planning a ski weekend Dec. 26 and 27. The group will stay at Camp Copneconic in Fenton, and will ski on the Pine Knob sky slopes in Pontiac.

Money from all Hi-Y projects is being sent to the Hi-Y organization in Japan. The Hi-Y hosted the opening of the Youth Club on Nov. 28.

Last Friday was TWIRP day at PHS. This day the girls carried the boys' books and opened doors for them. The climax came, however, Saturday night when the International Class sponsored a Sadie Hawkins dance. Dress was informal, and the money will go toward the IR trip to New York in February.

Saturday, Dec. 5, seniors took the required college boards for college admission. The college boards will be given again the first of the year for students who were not able to take the December test.

Students must carry their ID cards at all times and they will not be permitted to attend school activities, such as dances, without them.

Sociology classes, under the direction of teachers Mr.

William Raish, and Mr. Donald Chumbley visited the Detroit House of Correction and were given guided tours.

Mr. Chumbley's class is involved in a project to find out if Christmas is too commercialized. Students from the Sociology classes interviewed the students of Bird, Starkweather, Farland, and Allen in grades kindergarten through third. Each student was asked a question about Christmas to see whether his first response was religious or non-religious. After this question was asked, the child was asked what church he attended in order to compare his answer to his religious beliefs. Results have not yet been calculated.

Jesse Tritton

At the last meeting of Plymouth Grange, held Dec. 3, first and second degrees were conferred on Mary and Alan Maltby and Mrs. Eileen Bondie and daughter Linda by our own degree team. In the near future these candidates will receive the third and fourth degrees in our order.

The Christmas meeting will be held Thursday, Dec. 17, starting promptly at 7:30 p.m. Note the early meeting time and that there will be no gift exchange this year for the adults. Instead each adult will please bring 50 cents to be donated to retarded children at Plymouth State Home.

Those bringing children to this meeting please bring gifts for them. Santa Claus will visit us during the evening following the gifts. The program is being planned and directed by Ruth Hines and Dot Williams. If you plan to bring children who would like a part on the program please call one of the program directors.

Hazel Withey is in Woman's Hospital in Ann Arbor. Margaret Britcher is still confined to her home following a fall. Emma Schaufele is on crutches following surgery on her knee.
