Ken Fisher Named Acting City Manager

Ken Fisher, Director of Public Safety, was named Acting City Manager at the meeting of the City Commissioners Monday night.

The appointment came following a closed Committee session where the Commissioners discussed who should be named to the post on the temporary basis.

Also considered at the time was the appointment of an Acting Urban Renewal Director.

Retiring City Manager Al Glassford has urged the appointment of a full time person to handle the urban renewal project. He made his suggestion in his "City Manager's Newsletter" sent to the Commissioners last week and at the Chamber of Commerce Luncheon last Thursday.

Mayor Richard H. Wernette announced following the Committee session that an appointment to the urban renewal post was being "deferred at this time."

At the last regular meeting of the Commission before Glassford leaves to take up his new post as City Manager of Albion the "carping" criticism noted in the past popped up again.

The dispute arose when Glassford presented his reasons for City loan of $20,000 to the urban renewal project.

He stated that this money was needed on a temporary basis to acquire the Stahl plant. He outlined how the funds would be acquired by the urban renewal project and thus repaid to the City.

Commissioner Arch Vallier said that it was impossible to estimate the cost of this project as no figures were contained in the report for the demolition of the Stahl plant. He urged that the matter be "tabled until accurate figures are obtained."

Mayor Wernette interrupted with the statement that he didn't believe that the entire project could be completed for $20,000 but if "they wanted to try to do it for that let them go ahead."

Vallier then suggested that a special meeting be set up to examine the proposal. "What are we doing out for?" he asked.

In the babble of voices that

Al Glassford Says Goodbye; Urges Two Renewal Projects

City Manager Al Glassford said his goodbyes to the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce members at the luncheon meeting of that organization Dec. 2.

In his talk entitled "Plymouth, the City of Progress," Glassford departed from his prepared remarks and discussed what he calls "the tyranny of the minority." He pointed out that for the passage of bond issues by the electorate a two-thirds majority is required.

"The city," he said, "should allow the seven elected officials to take care of the necessary business. If a job has to be done these seven men should be able to take the necessary steps to accomplish the job."

"Why refer everything to the electorate?" he asked. "If the electorate doesn't like the way something is done they have the option to vote the officials out of office in the next election."

The retiring City Manager stated that he believed the same to be true on School matters also. "Either we need a new building, a new school or something or we don't," he said.

Glassford, who leaves Plymouth to take the City Manager's job in Albion on Dec. 15, pointed with pride to the City Charter, written and approved by the residents, during his term of office.

The flexibility in the Charter, which allows the City to form authorities and to issue revenue bonds for a specific purpose, was one of the provisions cited.

Date Set For City Election

Residents of the City of Plymouth will vote for six public officials this April.

The date for the primary election is set for Feb. 15. At that time candidates for office for four vacant seats on the City Commission, Plymouth Supervisor on the Wayne County Board of Supervisors and Municipal Judge will be nominated.

The general election is set for April 5.

Deadline for filing petitions in the City Clerk's office is Dec. 28. This date was set by the State. It is different from the Jan. 23 filing date set in the City Charter.

City Attorney Edward F. Draugelis announced his candidacy for the Municipal Judgeship at the Commission meeting last Monday night. No other candidates have formally announced.

On the City Commission, the terms of Mayor Richard H. Wernette, Robert L. Smith, Jr., Robert O. Beyer and James G. Hank expire.

Wernette is prohibited from

FACTS and OPINIONS

by Paul Chandler

Several of the faithful have phoned today to inquire if I knew this State Rep. Daniel West, who is in all the trouble this week for having posed as a lawyer, a Ph. D., and a few other things, when in fact he has been a convict and, more recently, a hustler specializing in wrestling funds from the Internal Revenue department.

Rep. West and myself sat often (for two years) side by side in the close quarters of the House Towns and Counties committee. The representative from Detroit almost never opened his mouth. His general mental attitude seemed to be daze . . . though occasionally for no obvious reason he would be angry and turn without warning upon some witness who would be pleading for or against a particular bill.

"Okay, Jones, what's your angle?" would be a typical bark from Rep. West on such occasions.

But overall, one had the impression that Rep. West didn't understand the subject matter and was maintaining the better part of discretion by keeping his mouth shut. He rarely missed a meeting.

I presume I would have to admit, if the arm was twisted, that I thought Rep. West was sort of dumb.

In retrospect, this doesn't seem accurate. His mind apparently was on other things.

Now, of course, serious citizens are asking the horse-and-barn-door type question: "How could it happen that anybody like West could be elected?"

The general quality of men who are elected to public office in the United States of America is so much shabbier than the typical citizen realizes, that we are teetering today right exactly on the edge of national tragedy.

Many elected posts go completely by default to men otherwise unemployed or almost so . . . a career man in private business will not give up a steady job, frighten his family to the end of their wits about their security, in exchange for an office where the pay is low, the hours atrocious, the personal abuse and character destruction constant, and the guaranteed longevity no more than 24 months.

In the void, political jobs are snapped up by such as will accept risk because they want the publicity . . . the grandeur of having one's "name in the paper" or having powerful forces in the society come a-woolin' their vote on some matter of special interest. This involves a psychological drive for recognition which is something the psychiatrists can better discuss. (Look up "paranoia" in Webster's dictionary.)

Others drift into politics because some big labor union or business monopoly buys their mind (and soul), provides the vote machine and campaign funds, and seats their puppet safely in one of the legislative chairs somewhere.

Sometimes men flee into politics because their home life is stormy and it is a satisfying way to spend a few evenings a week away from the hearth.

Others, with scant guile in some cases, hope to use

Start Court Action on Railroad Tieups

The City of Plymouth is processing a complaint against the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad for blocking a train crossing on Sheldon Rd. last Friday.

Police Department officials said that a train had blocked the crossing for 2 hours and 22 minutes. C&O officials claim that the period of time was not nearly so long.

According to a spokesman for the railroad a train bound for Grand Rapids blocked the crossing at 9:50 p.m. This blockage, which lasted until 10:20 p.m. was due to a malfunction in the air brakes. At 10:20 the train cars were separated thus clearing the crossing for vehicular traffic. At 11 p.m. an engine was obtained to move the train back into the East Yard across Eckles Rd. and from 11 to 11:20, according to C&O officials, the crossing was blocked while the train was towed into the yard.

Kenneth Fisher, Plymouth's Director of Public Safety, reported to the City Commission Monday night that the engineer was aware of the default in the brakes before the train started to leave Plymouth. He stated that the train cars were separated only after he ordered the railroad employees to do so.

Fisher told The Observer that it did not matter whether it was a period of two hours or 30 minutes involved. "The State Law," he said, "stipulates that railroad crossings cannot be

Victory Party Held by Dems

The Wayne II Democratic District's Victory Party held at the American Legion Hall in Plymouth was a "complete success" said chairman Tom Healy.

The program consisted of speeches by former Governor John Swainson, candidate for the Court of Appeals; Congressman-elect Wes Vivian, and State Representatives-elect Jim Tierney and Marv Stempfen. The research committee presented a statistical analysis of the 1964 election by co-chairmen Dick McGinn and Harvey Kahalas.

Ed Draugelis, parliamentarian, spoke on the need for an active membership drive for the forthcoming year. Chairman Healy then appointed Harvey Kahalas chairman of the Membership Drive who officially "kicked-off" the drive. Mr. Kahalas talked on the need for an active and informed member-

Draugelis Will Run For Judge

Plymouth City Attorney Edward F. Draugelis announced his intention to run for Municipal Judge in the Spring Election at the meeting of the City Commission Dec. 7.

The 36 year old graduate of the Detroit College of Law asked the Commission's concurrence in the decision to run stating that "he owed the job of City Attorney far more than it owed him."

Draugelis said that since the election will fill a term beginning Jan. 1, 1966 he would serve as City Attorney during the next year if the Commission desired. He promised that, if elected, he would make a diligent effort during the year to help fill the position of City Attorney with an individual with whom the Commission would be satisfied.

He recounted that when the City hired him three and a half years ago he was new to Plymouth and he appreciated the fact that the Commission "took a chance" on his appointment.

Mayor Richard H. Wernette summed up the feelings of the Commission when he said that they were sorry to lose Draugelis' services but appreciated his desire to run.

Draugelis stated the opportunity for youth work in the Court as one of the reasons for his decision. He also pointed out that the judiciary is the peak for many lawyers.

He was expected to file his position to place his name on the primary ballot in February late Dec. 8. A total of 25 signatures is required to place a name on the ballot for the office of municipal judge.

Plymouth Symphony to Play Christmas Music at Concert

Holiday music will be featured next Sunday when the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra presents its third concert of the season.

Appearing with the Orchestra at 4 p.m. in Plymouth High School's auditorium will be the Kenneth Jewell Chorale and Orchestra.

Works to be performed include Corelli's "Christmas Concerto," Vivaldi's "Gloria," and selected Christmas music. The guest chorale and orchestra will perform the Vivaldi number and the Christmas music, while the Symphony will play the Corelli concerto.

A carol sing, led by all three ensembles, will conclude the program.

The concert is open to the public without charge, and babysitting service will be available.

The conductor of the Chorale, Kenneth Jewell, is director of personnel at Interlochen Arts Academy, a position which he just filled this year. Prior to this he has been associated with the Detroit Public Schools as director of music. He has continued his work with the chorale and commutes between Detroit and Interlochen in order to carry out these duties.

Jewell graduated from Northwestern High School in 1930, then went to what is now Eastern Michigan University and received a B.S. degree there in 1934. Thirty years later the university awarded him an honorary doctorate. He took his master's degree in Music from the University of Michigan in 1941. The Chorale is composed of 40 members. Jewell left the Rackham Symphony Choir two years ago to form the group, and since this time they have been in increasing demand to appear with symphony orchestras. They also perform on their own.

Wayne Dunlap, Symphony conductor, has been elected to the Executive Board of The Michigan Orchestra Association. Mr. Dunlap is in his 13th season as conductor of the symphony, and is director of music at Schoolcraft College.

1965 Fall Festival Discussed

Members of the executive committee of the Fall Festival met Wednesday night to discuss the past festival and make plans for the 1965 event.

One specific point brought out in the meeting was the current insurance on the event. Plans were made for the program to be examined and revised so that insurance coverage during next year's Festival would be more equitable.

C. Sharrard, a member of the Festival Planning Committee, said that a great deal of enthusiasm for the Festival was shown at the meeting and he predicted that next year's will be "better than ever."

He said that this year's cold weather had affected the overall impact of the Festival.

Sharrard pointed out that as a community effort the Festival calls upon all the business and professional men in the community for assistance.

Urge Henry be Named Postmaster

Petitions are being circulated throughout the Plymouth community to have Ernest Henry, assistant Plymouth postmaster, named to the top job of city postmaster.

Henry, 383 Pacific St., has served in his present capacity for nine years and has worked for the post office since 1932. He is a member of the Board of Education.

Carl Pursell, 754 S. Main St., is circulating the petitions.

Generally a patronage job granted by the political party in power, the post office position is usually appointed on the recommendation of local political leaders. The name of Orville Tungate, Democratic Party chairman, has been suggested as a possible appointment.

Text of the petition now being circulated reads:

"We the undersigned of Plymouth Township, do hereby believe that Mr. Ernest Henry, of 383 Pacific, Plymouth, Michigan, currently the Assistant Postmaster in Plymouth; and previous to that appointment in 1955 began his post-office career in Plymouth 32 years ago as a substitute clerk promoted to Superintendent in 1945 and serving in a most non-partisan way, should hereby be appointed to Postmaster."

"We feel that Ernest Henry is one of the most dedicated citizens of this community serving as a past city commissioner, and is currently on the Plymouth Board of Education, having received the largest number of votes in about 75 years. Also past president of the Plymouth Historical Society, Plymouth Kiwanis Club and is interested in all the civic affairs of Plymouth."

"We feel that there are no other candidates as well qualified for this position and sincerely believe, both Democrat and Republican alike, that there is only one man for this position."

Glassford replied somewhat tartly that, "This doing out is so that you can transact $50,000 worth of business." He stated that this was a short term loan and an application could be made to the Federal Government, but that would take time. "The urban renewal project is living within its budget," he said. "All you are doing by approving this loan is protecting a $69,000 investment".

The loan was approved with Commissioners Vallier and Hauk voting against it.

In other action the Commission:

- Approved somewhat reluctantly a request from the March of Dimes to conduct their annual Mother's March and a peanut sale in February. The Commission stated that this approval was for this year only and urged the Community Fund to continue to bring pressure to induce the March of Dimes to join in the community effort.

- Named Ernest Henry to the City Planning Commission;
- Named Thomas T. Adams to the Board of Zoning Appeals;
- Named John W. Moehle to fill a vacancy on the Building Authority;
- Named Steward Olford, Jr. to the vacancy on the Housing Commission;
- Appointed Commissioner

Hauk to serve as the individual designated to receive information and materials from the Michigan Municipal League;

- Named the following the Kellogg Park Beautification Committee: Mrs. Edwin Schrader, Margaret Wilson, Charles Fin-lan, Bud Gould and Genevieve Gillette;

- Referred a plan for the Farmer St. extension to the Planning Commission for "recommendations and suggestions";

- Authorized a temporary lease for off-street parking on S. Harvey; and

- Approved requests to conduct various drives from the Jaycettes, Salvation Army, Boy Scout Cub Pack 1533, and the Seventh Adventist Church.

running for re-election by the City Charter which states that after two consecutive terms the incumbent is ineligible for re-election.

Beyer and Hauk are expected to run again for their seats on the Commission. It is not known what Smith's plans are.

Smith was elected to a two year term in 1963. All the other incumbents are finishing four year terms.

The two year term goes to the elected Commissioner receiving the smallest number of votes in the general election. In other words, four Commissioners are elected every two years. Three of them are named to serve four year terms and one is elected to a two year term.

Facts and Opinions

the office to make some fast, easy money. This can come by the simple method of selling one's vote, or it can be done more subtly by using the prestige of the office as a stepping stone to other things in life.

There are other typical cases, but the point to be made is the one uttered early: our citizens permit elected public offices to go more or less by default to whomever happens to want them.

Facts and Opinions offers the foregoing remarks with no particular individual in mind.

Sometimes the mood strikes us when we read of the capers of Bobby Baker or Billie Sol Estes in the big poker game in Washington.

Other times we think of the Michigan legislative committee which wangled out an appropriation for a recent trip to Hawaii to "study the lowering of the voting age in Michigan," or another committee with a similar budget, now meeting in Miami "to study how county home rule operates."

There are those Judges on all levels who sit solemnly on the bench and mete out punishment, but who couldn't stand any real judging of their own affairs.

There are the suburban officials, some of them who systemically peddle votes and influence wherever they can find a market

And the Lansing legislators who for years worked from a couple of public payrolls—one for the State, one for the City of Detroit or Wayne County, and maybe one somewhere else as a "consultant."

There are those elected vote-makers who don't say Aye or Nay until they have caught the signal from some sponsor of theirs sitting in the audience.

Sometimes the memory's eye conjures up an old, oft-repeated scenario . . . that of the politician being bought a $4.00 lunch, poured $10.00 worth of drinks, flattered out of his boots with complimentary gush . . . for which he exchanges whatever it is the host might want later in the legislative halls.

Unless public office becomes a noble, high calling in America, we're going down the drain!

To hold public office must be something to which our young people aspire, and for which many train themselves throughout their schooling.

Once upon a time, it is to be regarded with respect; not unlike a clergyman's office, if you will. It is a special job for those with special talents and character.

It must be an office where the pay is enough to make a man hold his head up and not stick his palm out; sufficient so his wife and children will not worry about the household budget.

Public office should be a place where those who cheat; those who betray their public trust, are ruthlessly—really ruthlessly—removed and humiliated. Such caprices and foibles no longer can be treated as a sort of sophisticated humor . . . "that's politics, you know . . . it'll be forgotten tomorrow."

Until that day, there always will be headlines telling of cases such as that of State Rep. West.

Just as a postscript:

In Farmington Township today, one group is working furiously to kill a recent action which raised the pay of three top elected officials of a large, exploding Township. Under the new figures the salaries would range from $10,000 to $15,000 for these jobs and the officials have just two years of guaranteed office.

Today we would ask the brethren to read the details of the Rep. West mess, then to go home with their petitions against the pay raises in the waste basket and their energies turned to something that would help the political system, not handcuff it.

been cleared or a period of five minutes has elapsed since the obstruction." The amendment also provides for a fine of not more than $500 for a violation of this ordinance.

Before passage the amended ordinance must be read again at the public meeting of the Commissioners in two weeks. After this it will go into effect 30 days thereafter unless it is designated as an emergency ordinance by the Commission and then would be effective immediately.

At the City Commission meeting last Monday night the first public hearing of a proposed amendment to Ordinance No. 66 which limits blockage of railroad tracks to five minutes was read.

The amended ordinance would provide the additional clause prohibiting successive train movements "until all vehicular traffic previously delayed has

C&O Railroad Asks to Halt Two Suburban Trains

Hearings will start at 10 a.m. on Monday, Dec. 21 to determine whether the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway will be permitted to discontinue two trains which run between Detroit and Grand Rapids, via Redford Township, Livonia, Plymouth and Lansing.

Many residents of this suburban area use the trains, which stop in Plymouth and are protesting the proposed action. So are residents and public officials of Lansing, Detroit and Grand Rapids. Chairman Peter Spivak of the Michigan Public Service Commission (the body which will hold the hearing and make the decision) also has let it be known that he is distressed with C&O's request.

Spivak's formal announcement of the special hearing in Lansing said it was being held—

"... for the purpose of ascertaining if:

"1. There is a demand for the continuation of Trains 14 and 15.

"2. Trains 14 and 15 serve the least need to the traveling public along this route as evidenced by passenger usage figures.

"3. The Chesapeake & Ohio has attempted to stimulate and develop its passenger service in recent years.

"4. An upward or downward revision of fare schedules would produce an increase in net revenue.

"5. The present schedule of Detroit to Grand Rapids trains discourages patronage.

"6. The opening of I-96 is affecting the traffic potential for passenger service between Detroit and Grand Rapids.

"7. The recent passenger trend indicates an impending stabilization of patronage.

"8. Trains 14 and 15 are netting the Chesapeake & Ohio the least amount of revenue of the passenger trains operating between Detroit and Grand Rapids.

"9. Savings of $70,000 will be realized by the Chesapeake & Ohio if Trains 14 and 15 are discontinued.

"10. The Chesapeake & Ohio on its overall Michigan operations, especially from the Detroit, Lansing and Grand Rapids areas to warrant retention of its present passenger service.

"11. Trains 19 and 30 are, in fact, passenger trains. (Train 19 leaves Detroit at 11:40 p.m. and arrives in Grand Rapids at 2:55 a.m. Train 20 leaves Grand Rapids at 11:10 p.m. and arrives in Detroit at 2:20 a.m.)

"12. There are any other factors which may have a bearing on this matter.

"IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company appear at said hearing fully prepared to present evidence and testimony concerning the matter in order that the Commission can have full and complete information upon which to base appropriate action.

"IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that at the hearing any other interested parties be prepared to present evidence and testimony concerning the issues in this matter."

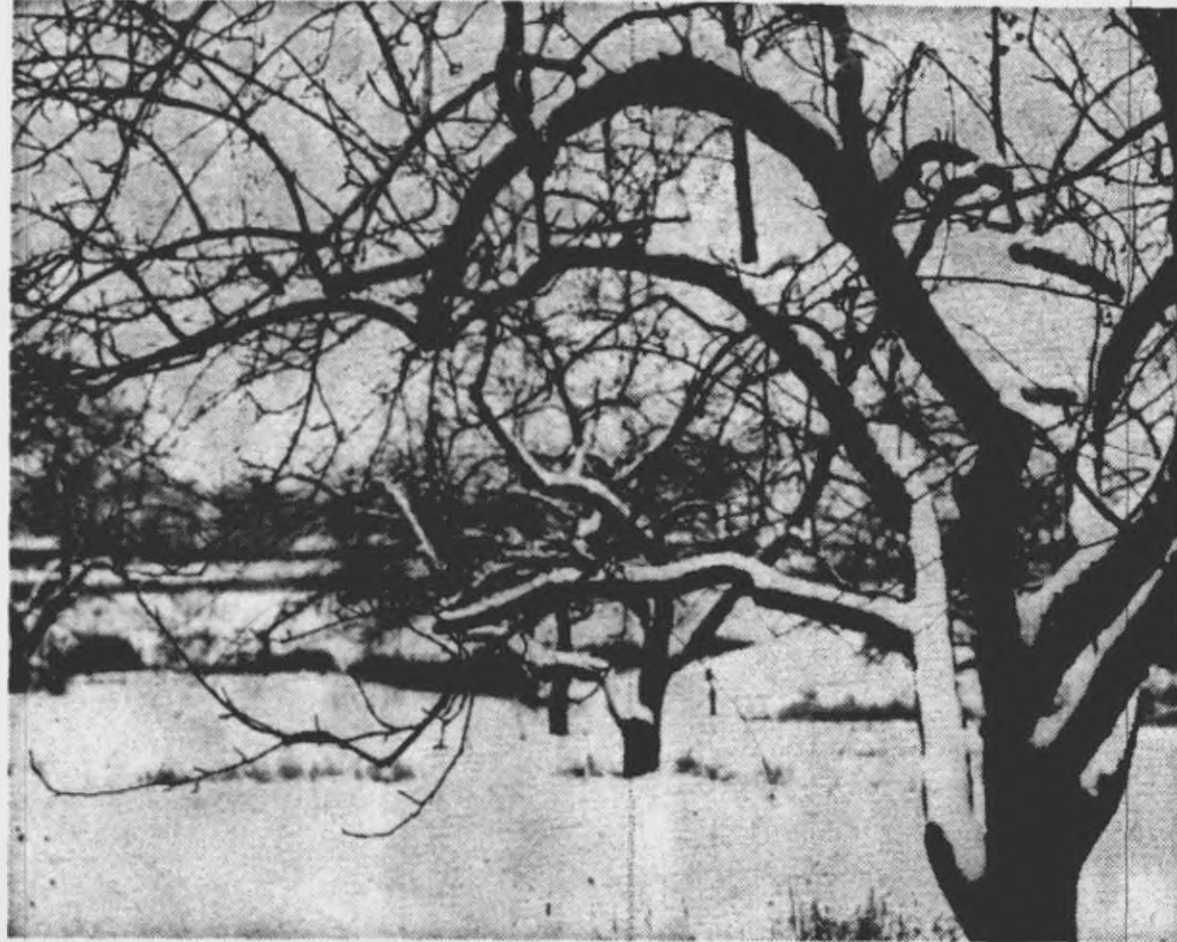

full and complete information upon which to base appropriate action.

If this request is granted two C&O trains will serve the area six days a week and one train on Sunday. The two remaining trains will stop in Plymouth, enroute to Detroit at 9:40 a.m. daily except Sunday and 5:45 p.m., enroute to Grand Rapids seven days a week.

Winter Arrives in The Suburbs

WINTRY BLASTS arrived on the suburban scene last week—but they brought their bright side with them, too. This picturesque scene was shot by Observer photographer Gerry Gazda in Livonia near Haggerty Road and Schoolcraft and was duplicated throughout the countryside in this area. The weatherman predicts a few more days of the chill.

SPINNING WHEELS ON snowstuck automobiles were common sights as the season's first big snowstorm hit the suburbs last week. Helping motorist Phil Sutton maneuver his auto out of a field in Edward Hines Park Sunday were Frank Zuccaro and Mike Smith, both of Livonia.

Suburban Post Offices Add Extra Hours for Pre-Christmas Rush

With Christmas mail expected to hit an all-time record in the suburbs, post offices in Redford Township, Livonia, Plymouth and Farmington were girding for the rush with extra hours and special services this week.

All six post offices (two each in Livonia and Redford Township) have announced increased hours between now and Christmas.

Public co-operation is one important reason that post offices around the country are able to handle the huge, seasonal mountain of mail, local postmasters report.

"Without the assistance of the public, we'd be in a jam. People who shop early and get their cards and parcels into the mails early make it possible for the holiday mail to be delivered on time," said Art Jenkins, Livonia Postmaster.

All four community postmasters urged residents to use ZIP codes which, they said, help handle mails faster because of a new transportation and distribution setup. ZIP codes, they said, also help clerks to identify receiving post offices when addresses are hard to read. "During this time of the year," they added, "the faster mail is processed the better chance it has to make connections with outgoing trains, planes and trucks."

Special holiday hours which the four postoffices will observe are as follows:

LIVONIA (Both Stations) Saturday, Dec. 12—8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 13—12 noon to 4 p.m. Monday-Fri., Dec. 14-18—8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Area Jaycees Halfway to Swimming Pool Goal

District Six Jaycees announced at a recent progress meeting that they have reached the halfway mark in their campaign to raise $10,000 to build a recreational and therapeutic swimming pool for the retarded children of the Plymouth State Home.

Response to the campaign has been rewarding. Many local organizations and members of the general public have pledged financial support. For example, the Senior Citizens of Livonia have pledged $100.

Co-chairman Ralph Messman stated that the Livonia Jaycees are working very hard appearing before service organizations explaining the great need of this project and soliciting their assistance in making this drive successful. Any group wishing additional information can call Dave Johnson at GA 5-3008 and arrange for a Jaycee speaker who will appear before them and explain the Candlelight Ball and the purpose behind it.

The Candlelight Ball is a New Year's Eve party to be held at Carpenters Hall on Grand River. The theme of the ball is "brighten their future." Tickets for the ball are $12 for general admission, $30 for patron tickets, and $100 for plaque tickets entitling donors name to be on a bronze plaque at the pool site. Anyone wishing a ticket should contact Floyd Jarvi at GA 1-8171. Those wishing to help through donations should send it to Jaycee Candlelight Ball, 8959 Virginia, Livonia, 48150.

Wm. Coughlin Named Aide By Farnum

Congressman-Elect Billie S. Farnum today announced appointment of a veteran newspaperman, William J. Coughlin, as his executive aide. Coughlin has resigned as Detroit Free Press Planning Editor to direct Farnum's Washington staff.

"Bill Coughlin has unusual qualifications for helping me serve the people of the 19th Congressional District in a variety of needed ways," Farnum said. "I intend to see that he gets an opportunity to use each facet of his experience for their benefit."

Farnum's district covers Pontiac, western Oakland County, including Farmington, Livonia, Northville and Redford Township.

Coughlin, whose Free Press posts included those of Sunday Editor and Associate Editor, has also been a radio writer, program moderator and broadcaster. He has been a Wayne University lecturer and special instructor since 1946.

Said Congressman-Elect Farnum:

"A big part of the job of today's Congressman is to match the needs of his district with the legitimate means for action afforded by the Federal Government. Bill Coughlin's ability to ferret out pertinent facts should prove invaluable in helping me match needs to benefits for householders, farmers, businessmen, retirees and everyone else.

"I am particularly happy that he talks the language of the professional educator. Helping you to help yourself through advanced training is high on my list of priorities, and Bill Coughlin's background will help in hardening down practical measures.

"His tax and financial background — which won him United States Treasury citations on two occasions — should also prove to be of great benefit in formulating practical programs in those fields.

"With Bill Coughlin heading my staff I feel certain that my job of serving the needs of people of the 19th District will be much easier to accomplish."

Holiday Gymnasts

Mr. Charles Thompson, Junior High School Physical Education Teacher, and members of the Clarenceville Gymnastics Team performed at Ford Auditorium on Saturday, December 2, in the benefit Christmas Show produced by the Wayne County Road Commission. Proceeds from this show will go toward an improved Christmas for many children in Wayne County.

Residents Give Quiet Approval to Route of Jeffries Expressway

How do suburban residents react to the new Jeffries Freeway? Judging by their polite applause at last week's public hearing for the suburban link in the expressway, restrained approval might be the best words to describe it.

Following Tuesday's hearing, Observer reporters Dave Elsie and Sue Shaughnessy quizzed several local residents on their reaction.

From about 700 persons at the hearing, here are a few random comments:

Mary Omer, 37478 Schoolcraft, said, "I don't have many strong comments one way or the other. I'm satisfied, although my property is very close to the new highway." Mrs. M. Jones, 13590 Marion, stated, "I think it will be a good thing in the future. It'll affect some people's home valuation, but we need more highways with the increase in cars and traffic. I live in the first house next to what will be a service drive."

Two Livonians who'll lose their home, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Haavisto, 32465 Schoolcraft, said, "It can't come soon enough. Although we stand to take a licking, we've stopped fighting. We want to go somewhere with a hammer and nails and start over right." "The man who made the presentation was a fine speaker," said Mrs. Harold Martin, 13937 Berwyn, Redford Township. "He knows what he's talking about and is calming and reassuring. We've lived here for 18 years, but we're not unhappy. We must be able to make adjustments."

Mrs. Helen Jeter, 14344 Mercedes, said, "My home is not affected, but we're all wondering how close we'll be to the freeway. It was a very thorough presentation."

SPEAK YOUR PIECE!

Area residents were asked this week for their comments on the question, "Do you favor the construction of apartment buildings in the suburbs?"

Plymouth, Redford Township, Farmington and Livonia residents who were queried answered in this manner—

Emery Plymal of 15390 Portis, Plymouth: "Apartment buildings are alright in their place. I am not certain just where their place is in Plymouth but I would imagine that if a certain part of the town is set aside strictly for multiple housing units they would be acceptable. The area in which I live is residential and most of the houses are on half acres lots so I wouldn't want to see an apartment building constructed next door to my house."

Betty Carol of 26406 Five Mile Rd., Redford Township said: "Depending on what areas they are constructed in I would favor such construction. Apartment buildings are not nice in strictly residential private dwelling areas, but in their own section they are alright. I wouldn't want one to be built near our home."

Farmington resident Mrs. Carl Campbell of 24180 St. Mary Court stated: "I favor such construction to a certain extent. However, we have just moved to Farmington from Wheaton, Ill. and when apartments were constructed in areas there the value of private housing decreased." The tax burden on the schools was noted by Mrs. Martin Duffy of 7748 Randy, Nankin Township when she stated: "Apartment living is fine for working people and the construction of them in the suburbs is acceptable, however, I would not favor such construction for families with children because of the tax burden they would place on the schools."

Twelve residents of Livonia, Plymouth and Farmington passed the September, 1964, Michigan Bar Examination, the State Bar announced Sunday.

Those in the western suburbs who passed were: Donald A. Pierce, Jr., John L. Stoffel, Bernard P. McClorey, Jerry Raymond, Wilbur D. Chard, and Kenneth J. Morris of Livonia; Anthony L. Worth, James R. Steit, Charles D. Toby, Robert Cunningham and Robert G. Waddell of Plymouth; and Alan Rein of Farmington.

Glassford Says Goodbye

Other achievements of the City Administration during the past sixteen years that were noted by Glassford are:

- The Central Business District;
- The Industrial Development Park;
- The 10-year Capital Improvement Plan;
- The Urban Renewal Program;
- The new City Hall;
- Reassessments of property values;
- Citizen activity in the Civil Defense Program;
- Re-codification of the city ordinances;
- The new library;
- Installation and repair of City sidewalks and paving improvements of the streets;
- Integration of the Police and Fire Departments;
- Provision for 4 million more gallons of water being pumped daily with the installation of one well; and
- Inservice Training and Safety Programs.

Glassford pointed out that the City Charter is well written, and, as such, has needed amendment only twice. The amendments provided for a pay increase for City Commissioners and authorized the City Manager to make purchases totaling up to $1,000 without the necessity for competitive bidding.

In looking toward the future he called for two urban renewal projects for the City. The first of these "should be in the northeast section, in the York-Holbrook area adjacent to the C & O Railway" he said. Glassford called for the removal of most of the houses in the area and the construction of privately financed multiple dwelling units with off street parking facilities.

The other section of the City cited was the southeast section of the city's central business district. He also called for the construction of multiple housing units here with off street parking and for a commercial section.

Conservation was also considered. Glassford believes that the remainder of the Northeast area should be examined for such a plan. Street paving is needed in the area, he said, and an examination should be made to determine whether or not play areas are needed.

Glassford also stated that the City should hire a full time Federal Works Project Director. He commented that he spends at least 30 percent of his time on urban renewal and said that there was a need for one person to spend all his time on this job. He pointed out that the Federal Government, in a new urban renewal program, will contribute two-thirds of the cost of salaries of personnel working on such projects.

The City Manager re-stated his long held belief that Plymouth should be entered in the "All American City Contest". The contest is annually co-sponsored by the National Municipal League and Look Magazine.

In support of this position he stated: "The City of Plymouth has taken giant strides forward, and its citizen participation in community affairs is unusual. The progress Plymouth has made in recent years bears witness to the spirit of an All American City, and I am sure that with a proper presentation, our entry would result as one of the winners."

Glassford called the departure of the Daisy Manufacturing Company "the low point in community morale." He stated that "this was only a temporary setback for the kind of people Plymouth has. The Industrial Development Corp. was formed industries attracted, monies put up by citizens for the purchase of the old Daisy Plant, and thoughts of making Plymouth 'Competitive' were born."

A plan to ensure off street parking facilities for the Central Business District was outlined. The plan, which was suggested to the Parking Committee by Ralph Lorenz, calls for: Special City assessments of the area benefited; each business would be required to apply for a permit which would be granted upon satisfactory evidence that sufficient off-street parking has been supplied by the business; and City allocation of $10,000 per year from parking meters and tax revenues.

Revenue from these three programs would yield enough to permit a bond issue of approximately $300,000 to be repaid over a 15 year period which would finance additional off street parking for this area.

In closing Glassford said that "Plymouth will always be my home." He pointed out that his daughter is moving into his house and promised that he would be "back often to check on the progress."

The luncheon was one of the last public appearances by Glassford. On Wednesday, Dec. 9 he will be honored at a testimonial farewell dinner and on Friday, Dec. 11 he will say goodbye to the Rotary.

What Women Organized Can Do Told By Top Clubwoman

By Sue Shaughnessy

Mrs. E. D. Pearce, first vice president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs defines a good clubwoman as possessing three qualities, efficiency, loyalty and vision.

How this "southern lady" arrived at this definition is not known. However, she certainly fits the description.

A few weeks ago Mrs. Pearce visited the area to address a gathering of Federated clubwomen in Detroit's New Center. During her visit she was the houseguest of the Edwin G. Millers of Farmington.

She spent a few minutes of her time telling us about the work and activities of the General Federation.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs, the largest such group in the world, is currently celebrating its Diamond Jubilee. Theme of the anniversary year is "Diamond Jubilee of Service for Freedom and Growth" and this was the central idea of Mrs. Pearce's comments.

Through the six major departments or divisions of the work of the Federation: Conservation, Education, Home Life, International Relations, Public Affairs and the Fine Arts, a great deal of service is performed on the local, state and national levels.

Did you know that the American Library Association credits the founding of 85 percent of the nation's libraries to the Federation?

More than one million dollars in college scholarships are annually granted through local state or the general federation?

The First Child Labor Law, the Food and Drug act, the Workmen's Compensation Act, and the eight hour work day were all achieved with the help of the General Federation?

In addition to these the Federation helped to put into practice the first prison reforms enacted.

It was also in the forefront in attaining equal political and social status for women.

The Federation has also supported the United Nations and while admitting that organization's weaknesses seeks to strengthen it. At the turn of the century the Federation advocated peace settlements at the conference table rather than on the battlefield and it has never deviated from this course.

"Unity in Diversity" is the general motto of the Federation and Mrs. Pearce says that her many travels for the Federation has strengthened her belief in these three words.

This spring she will address State Federation of Women's Clubs Conventions in New England. Last spring she visited the west.

This summer she will be one of a delegation to meet with Athens Clubwomen. Last summer she visited Munich, Germany on a similar mission.

(Mrs. Miller will also be a member of the group traveling to Greece as she was when the Federation sent a delegation to Germany.)

Mrs. Pearce says that "in the different areas there are more similarities than diversities. However, these diversities are what make us strong while diversified."

She maintains that this strength comes from being able to "sympathize with what one does not necessarily like."

The President-elect of the General Federation says that she joined the Miami Women's Club in 1933 for the same reasons that most women join.

These are: to gain new friends; to add her voice to a group working for community betterment; to serve in public life with a sense of purpose and accomplishment and to develop attitudes for leadership.

She recounts the story of how she was asked what areas of club work she was most interested in participating. She answered "everything."

From that answer she went on to become President of the Miami Club, a state and district officer and President of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs.

She has participated in White House Conferences on Education Youth and Aging. She served on Florida Governor's Committees on Juvenile Delinquency, Education, Aging, Beautification and Mental Health as well as the Florida State Chamber of Commerce.

Along the line she received the titles of Outstanding Citizen of Greater Miami and the Outstanding Woman in Voluntary Affairs.

A native of Georgia, Mrs. Pearce is described by her husband as "not having the word no in her vocabulary."

In her spare time she likes gardening and "home-making."

Her son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Frank H. Pearce, live in nearby Coral Gables and she enjoys their company.

Another old friend living nearby is Mrs. Miller's mother Mrs. Lynn Morrison of Dearfield Beach, Florida. Mrs. Morrison is a former resident of the area and perhaps best known for her three year term as president of the Goodwill Industries.

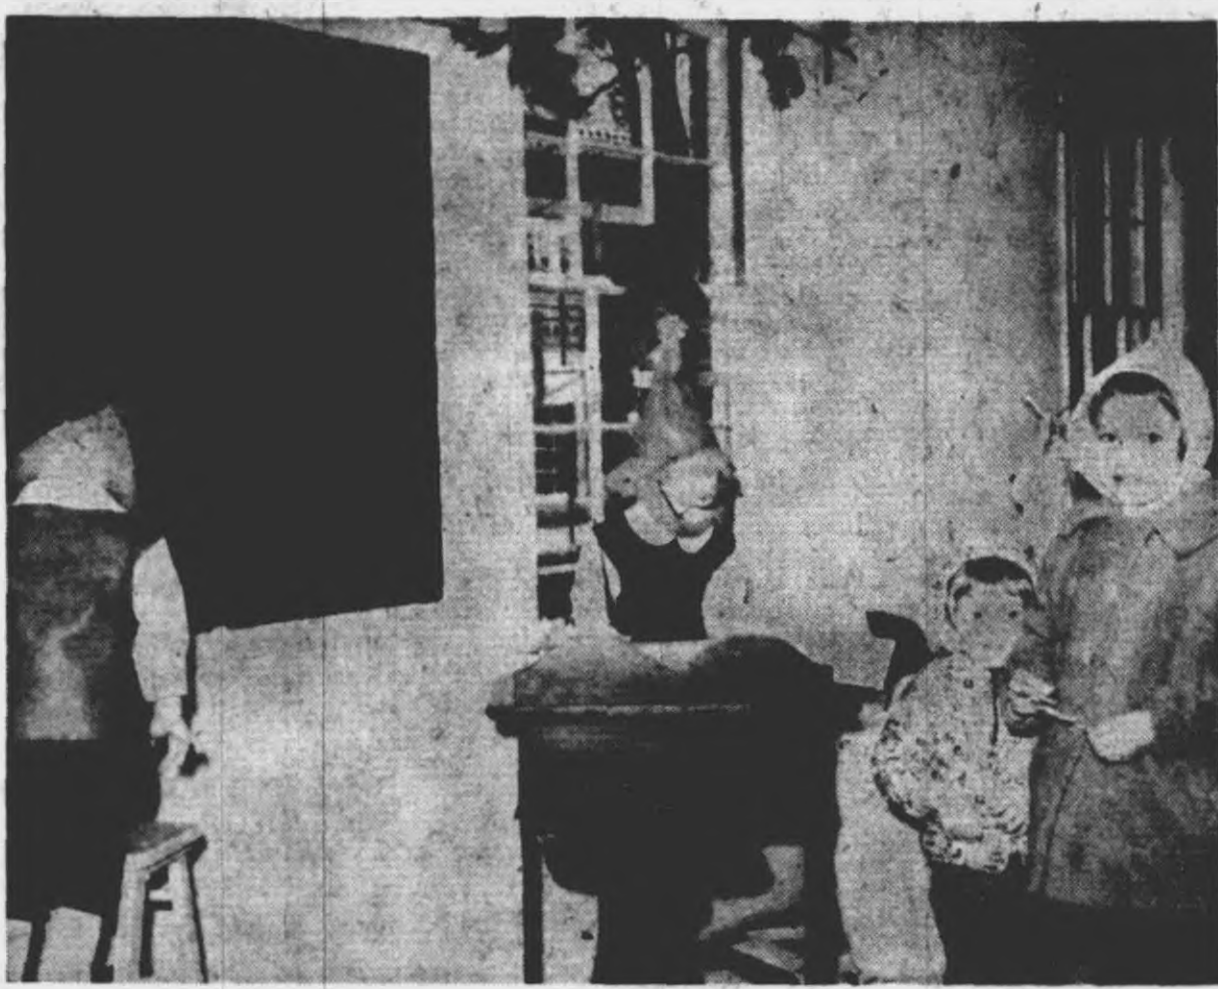

Mrs. Pearce thinks that a great danger in women's clubs is the fact that one can "fail to develop leadership while leading."

She believes that the Federation must meet the challenge of change. However, she cautions that with the modern day stress on science, the human element must not be forgotten.

"The spiritual development and moral values taught in the home by young mothers are the basis for building," she states.

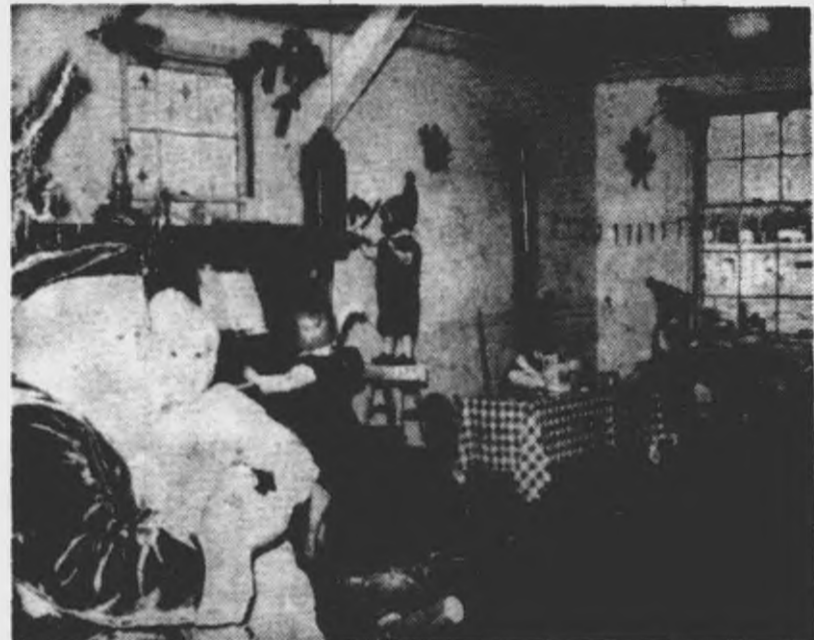

She adds that "cultural interchange among peoples will build the bridge of human understanding and the enrichment of civilization."

With this thought Mrs. Pearce left for Detroit's Civic Center to convey her ideas to the clubwomen of the Metropolitan area.

TAKING AN ORDER from Debbie and Connie Rathburn is the "efficient" elf. All of the busy elves are waiting to get the word from other young folks. The Workshop is sponsored by the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce. The original idea was E. Nirdler's from Northville Hardware. He enlisted the aid of Mrs. Fred McLean from the Northville Spinning Wheels (the fabric shop). She, in turn, called on some of her good customers and within a week (night and day) they had dressed, gathered props and had organized the elves workshop.

Festive, But Simple

Madonna College student, Sister Mary Thaddeus, CSSF, has prepared some new and interesting ideas for Christmas decorations which she would like to share with the readers of the Observer.

DECORATING A CHRISTMAS PIE

Bake a basic recipe chiffon pie with lime flavor and coloring. For a decorative topping slice thin strips of red jello in the form of long petals and arrange to form the Christmas flower — the poinsettia. Grated cheese colored yellow may be placed to form the center of the flower.

SANTA CLAUS SALAD

Ingredients: red jello, crab apples, miniature marshmallows, black licorice, whipping cream (canned), cottage cheese.

A delightful Christmas salad can be made by joining 2 squares of cherry jello with a strip of whipping cream. For Santa's head use a crabapple sliced in half and make his face with dots of cream or raisins, or slices of green maraschino cherries. His hat can be made of another piece of jello sliced into a shape resembling Santa's cap; this can be topped with a miniature marshmallow. Give Santa a beard of whipping cream, button him up with marshmallows and use licorice strips for his belt, hands and boots. For snowy effect outline with cottage cheese.

Farmington Ladies Support Hospital

Farmington Ladies entertained patients at Northville State Hospital on Tuesday, Dec. 8, with a Christmas Party. The Smith Music Company of Plymouth provided an organ for the occasion and Mrs. Eve Ross played a sing-along program.

Refreshments and gifts were given to the patients. Mrs. Katherine Dickinson is president and Mrs. Sylvia Platz, treasurer. ORT Plans Dinner Dec. 18

The Oakland-Hills Chapter of ORT is holding its annual Paid-Up Membership Dinner, on Dec. 18, at the Oak Park Community Center. The special meeting will commence at 8:30 p.m. and after the meeting, dinner will be served.

The main speaker for the evening will be Miss Lillian Bernstein, noted commentator on Jewish Music. To better illustrate her interesting subject on Jewish Music, Miss Bernstein will use audio-visual material such as slides, photographs and actual tape recordings.

Artists Show Work In Paris Room

For those of you wondering who the strange woman is that has been seen all around the Farmington community with camera, sketch pad, pallet and brushes, we have discovered her to be Mrs. R. J. McGivern.

Recently moved here from Minneapolis, where she won a number of awards and had numerous art shows, Mrs. McGivern has become enchanted by our countryside and picturesque buildings, many paintings of which are on display and for sale in her show at the Paris Room Beauty Salon in Downtown Farmington Shopping Center. Together with these is a wide assortment of landscapes, still lifes, novelties and abstracts in oil, watercolor and pastels, even handcarved and decorated "Christmas birds."

Sheila feels the only thing that outshines the beauty of our countryside is the generosity and friendliness of its people.

Zeta Tau Alpha Honor Alumnae

Zeta Tau Alpha entertain the Detroit Mothers' Club of Zeta Tau Alpha at their annual Christmas party. In addition, alumnae of Beta Sigma Omicron were honored guests.

English Profession Brings Folklore Facts To AAUW Dec. 10

The Dec. 10 meeting of the Plymouth Branch of the American Association of University Women will be held at the Dunning-Hough Library. Serving as hostesses this month are Mrs. R. M. Larson, Mrs. Richard Hagmayer, Mrs. Hugh Harsha and Mrs. David Schlick.

Thelma G. James, professor of English at Wayne State University is the guest speaker. Miss James will speak on the subject, "Christmas Folklore."

Professor James was born in Detroit and has had an academic interest in folklore for over 40 years. She and students in her classes are interested in collecting material which has never been published. "Folklore is a culture. It is a pattern of our traditions and beliefs, beliefs that are local or ethnic variations of universal patterns," Miss James explained. "Folklore is a word used to describe such materials as children's games, folk dances, ballads, songs, folk art, cures, tales, ways of cooking, ways of behaving and predicting the weather."

All women associated with Realtor offices belonging to the Western Wayne County Board are invited to attend, whether or not they are members of the Women's Council, according to Miss Rita J. McAllister, program chairman.

'Orchards' Director Sisterhood Guest

The Beth Am Sisterhood will present Ralph Abramowitz, Social Worker of 13 years, who will speak, Monday, Dec. 14, 8:45 p.m. at the Cohn Building, 31840 W. Seven Mile Rd., in Livonia, on the subject of the "Emotionally Disturbed Child."

Mr. Abramowitz is the Director of "The Orchards", a home for emotionally disturbed children, in Livonia, which is under the sponsorship of the National Council of Jewish Women. He, of course, is exceptionally knowledgeable on this subject.

Our concern as parents and citizens naturally makes this a vital subject to all. Husbands are cordially invited.

A question and answer period will follow the discussion. This will be an interesting and thought-provoking program and we urge all to attend.

AN ARGUMENT against stretch pants... my fair lady (above) adopts the ultra-feminine pants suit for at-home wear. This costume, especially suited to holiday entertaining, features a black crepe cardigan jacket over a white shell, with ruffles on the V-necked shell and on the jacket sleeves. Of particular interest, the exaggerated width of the pants leg—bell-bottom, at least! In misses' sizes, about $25 at Sears Livonia Mall.

Pleased As Punch

NO OTHER TIME of the year brings with it as complete a return to tradition as the observance of the Christmas Season. What is more traditional than the punch bowl, an age-old symbol of hospitality and good cheer? Punch is equally at home at an informal "open house" . . . at a more formal "reception" . . . for an after church, theatre or Christmas Caroling get-together.

Punch can be spirited without spirits. Tea is the magic ingredient. It gives body to the punch without masking the flavors of the other ingredients. More than a treat to your taste, it will be a treat to your pocket-book.

A festive touch are cinnamon sticks for muddlers in the punch cups (additional flavor, HOLIDAY PUNCH (makes about 4 quarts))

 1 quart boiling water
 1/2 cup loose tea (15 teabags)
 1 teaspoon whole cloves
 1 6-ounce can lemonade
 2 cups cranberry juice
 1 can (20 ounces) crushed pineapple
 2 cups orange juice
 sugar to taste
 lemon slices with cloves in them
 cinnamon sticks (optional)
 Pour boiling water over tea and cloves. Brew 4 minutes. Stir and strain. Add remaining ingredients except lemon slices and cinnamon sticks. Pour into pre-heated bowl. Garnish with clove-studded lemon slices.

New "Staffer" At YMCA

Rose Berberian

Robert Williams, Chairman of the Farmington Area YMCA, is announcing the appointment of the first staff member for the local YMCA. "This is a big step for our 'Y' and we are all very happy about it," said Mr. Williams.

The new Program Director is Miss Rose Berberian of Chicago and her duties will involve all phases of youth work with particular emphasis in the area of family program development.

A graduate of George Williams College in Chicago, Miss Berberian received her Bachelor of Science Degree in 1961 in Group Work Education. Her formal education was then continued at Wayne State University with a masters Degree in Counseling completed in 1964. Her YMCA certification was completed in 1963.

Her past experiences have led her to Washington as a delegate to the White House Conference on Children and Youth. She has worked at the famed Hull House and the Young Men's Jewish Council. She has recently completed three years of work as Associate Youth Director at the Northeastern Branch of the Detroit YMCA. There she directed several camping programs and activities dealing with hand-capped children. Miss Berberian's interests are varied including music, folk dancing, sports of all kinds, camping and teenagers. Her spare time is directed into work with the Social Workers Club of Detroit, Wayne Alumni Association, YMCA Professional Society, the Kappa Delta Pi Honorary Society and the Armenian Church Youth Organization of America.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Garabed Berberian who still reside in Chicago. Miss Berberian attends the St. John's Armenian Church. "The Farmington Area is indeed fortunate to have a person of her talents and experiences," says Chuck Wise, local Y Director. "We want the people of our community to get to know her as soon as possible."

To Women It May Concern

By MYRA COX

Can't imagine who was tending the store or keeping the home fires burning, because all available woman power was attending either a garden club show, a bazaar, or the opening of a Flea Market this Saturday.

Some ladies may have stayed at home because they or their children were running high fevers; some may have been entertaining 25 for dinner and had a few things to do; some may have had another commitment, like a wedding to attend; but I doubt if one "lady type" shopper stayed home because of the ice, sleet and snow. Weather . . . what's that compared to the enchantment of a Garden Club show?

Hattie Van Lier of Livonia Branch invited me to the Northville "Christmas Frosting," where 13 Branches had their sale. She suggested 9 a.m., so pictures would be easy to take. Being 20 minutes late allowed about a thousand ladies to get there first—no exaggeration.

But it was all in good spirit—all booths got their share of business and as usual, there was one "hot" item. This year it was a cardboard snow man about 18 inches high just covered with glistening cut plastic, topped with a high red cardboard hat—black button eyes and a gay mouth; he was fat, sassy, and completely sold out by 9:15. The show opened at 9:30, but a few came early . . . like 700.

Everything seemed to go smoothly—no riots, or trampling. There was some confusion, however, when a lady put her parcels in what she thought was her car (two of the "hot" items, too) and discovered there were two cars alike and she chose the wrong one. By now, I presume that it's all straightened out, but it gave the chairman about 15 minutes on the microphone discussing it.

Something new was tried by French's Florists of Livonia this year. On Saturday and Sunday the Franchs and their staff held a Christmas Fantasy Open House at Suburban Chop House. The entire banquet room was filled with beautiful and unusual centerpiece. Guests were greeted with the sight of a revolving fairland circulating tree of sparkly white. Designers from French's hoped the displays would inspire their customers and friends in the many uses of both real and artificial greenery, candles, with new and last year's containers.

For instance, you know the long-stemmed, rather large-type goblet, or vase. This Christmas, turn it upside down, put Christmas balls in the bowl, wrap the stem with greens or sparkles, and put candle on the base, surrounded with more greens or holly. Well, it was elegant when they did it over and at French's.

Another unique spot, particularly for taking the kids (although the kid in all of us will make it fun), is over to the Northville American Legion Building in Northville. Northville Chamber has invited their neighboring communities to visit their Santa and see the elves at their jobs making Christmas. It's worth the few miles drive to see the lovely, detailed workshop and the colorful elves at work. Besides, Northville is a friendly, happy place to visit. And as my friend Marger Miller, Vice President of Soroptomists, says "It'll just melt you."

If that doesn't melt you, a plan of Major Agres' will. He and his wife are Livonians and are in the Salvation Army — both active. The Major was telling me about a plan they will use their funds for this holiday season. The Salvation Army makes a selection of toys, takes them to Jackson Prison, and allows the fathers in the prison to pick out what they would like to send to their children (12 and under).

Then, Major Agre says, the Salvation Army wraps and mails the gift, with a card, signed by the father in prison, to his child or children. There is no Salvation Army sticker or stamp on the gift anywhere. It is from the Dad to his children.

This is the second year—and over 700 fathers responded to the gift ideas. The first year Major Agre said there weren't as many. They were suspicious of the plan and thought they were being "conned." However, the prisoners that took advantage of it received notes from their kids telling how they liked what their Dad picked out. Pleased, they talked about it to other prisoners, and now it is a highlight of the season for the prisoners.

Many of the Salvation Army deeds go unheralded, but this is one Army that never seems to stop marching forward.

Sylvia Gayle Coon

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Coon of Redford Township announce the engagement of their daughter, Sylvia Gayle, to James William Burns. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Burns of Memphis, Michigan. A December wedding is planned. Sylvia, a 1960 graduate of Thurston High School, received a B.S. degree in Child Development and Teaching from Michigan State University in 1964. She is affiliated with Alpha Delta Pi. The prospective bridegroom holds a bachelor's and masters from Michigan State University.

Delta Gammas To Sample Desserts

"Dessert Tasting" is on the agenda for the Monday, Dec. 14 meeting of the Farmington Alumnae Association of Delta Gamma, at the home of Mrs. William Gravius, 31805 Coronet, Farmington, at 8 p.m.

Each Delta Gamma is to bring a sample of her favorite dessert and the recipe so that she may share her secret with other interested members. This is the first time that the Delta Gammas have tried this sort of meeting and it promises to be full of fun and calories.

The little nightgowns that were made for the blind retarded children at the Plymouth State Home during the last month will be gathered in order that they may be taken to the Home before Christmas. We hope that every Delta Gamma in Livonia, Plymouth, Novi and Northville will join us at the meeting in Farmington this month.

Admission To Bridge Is Article For Kids

Admission to the monthly bridge games in Compton Village is an article of clothing or a toy for the children at the Plymouth State Home and Training School.

Providing these articles is the goal of the Women of Compton Village and they have hit upon this method to obtain them.

William Boyd, Community Relations Director for the Home, has expressed the Home's appreciation for the project.

The last bridge, at the home of Mary Ann Boysen, was attended by a dozen women. The next scheduled party is Jan. 12 at the home of Mrs. Eldred Zobl's.

If you are interested in playing at these monthly parties or serving as a substitute please contact Maureen Zobl at 425-8655.

Girl Scouts At Cooper Active

The Girl Scouts in the Hayes School area met with their parents Nov. 2, for an Inter-Troop meeting.

At this meeting the Cadettes of Troop No. 2255, under the leadership of Mrs. J. Pennington explained the Girl Scout program. Either singly or in groups of two or three they explained how a particular badge they have had been earned.

Needless to say that the Junior Troops under Mrs. Heater and Mrs. Wilcox are all enthused about the first Campout they hope to have this school year.

The Brownies under Mrs. Fritz and Mrs. Wiley are also enthused about the fun you can have in scouting.

The leaders of these troops seeing the favorable response to this affair decided to have a meeting at which all the leaders and the following co-leaders were present:

Mrs. Hickey, Mrs. Dunstan, Mrs. Broome and Mrs. Crunckshank. At this meeting an inter-troop Christmas party was planned for Dec. 21 at the Hayes School.

The leaders hope to have song books made up for the girls for this occasion and each troop will put on a planned rehearsal number for the entertainment. Mrs. H. Rackley is on a three month leave of absence and in the meantime Mrs. C. Wilkins is our neighborhood chairman. If you don't get me your news I can't put in, call Mrs. J. Pennington at GA 1-4677.

Mrs. Mary Brock, Mrs. Gladys McCague, Mrs. Marie Calussy, Mrs. Loraine Albrecht, Mrs. Eva Ross, Mrs. Noni Wesch, Mrs. Marie Meyer, Mrs. Marie LaPierre, Mrs. Mary Rutila, Mrs. Laura Lochbiller and Mrs. Lillian Denzig participated.

Livonia TV Director Explains UHF As New Channel Arrives On Scene

The upcoming January premier of Detroit's ultra-high frequency all-sports television station and increasing public interest in educational television has kept television experts answering questions on how the 82 VHF and UHF channels operate.

Alex Baskin, Livonia's director of educational television, says that queries on the proposed new cooperative western suburban station, on Detroit's Channel 56, and on the video tapes produced by the National Educational Television unit in Ann Arbor has tripled in the past three months.

"A great many citizens who have grown tired of much commercial telecasting are looking forward to the programs which will be offered as new channels begin broadcasting educational programs," Baskin said.

In addition to tuning in the decade old Channel 56, owners of all-channel sets have some hope that a second educational channel will be allocated to a cooperating group of educational and cultural institutions located in the Schoolcraft College area of western suburbia.

A recent leaflet put out by the Federal Communications Commission in cooperation with other agencies gives these simple answers to questions many suburbanites are asking about the 82 television channels:

Must One Buy a New Set to Get All Channel TV?

No. There are several options. If your set is old and needing replacement, purchase of a brand new set with more modern and sophisticated circuits, including all channel tuners, may be the best solution. But if it is a recently produced VHF-only set which is satisfactory, it can be converted to all channel by one of three methods.

1. Have a complete 70 channel tuner installed within your set.

2. Where technically possible a one channel UHF "Strip-type" tuner for each UHF channel desired may be installed within your set.
3. A complete 70 channel converter mounted on top or close to your set.

Will My Present Set Become Obsolete?

It is very unlikely that VHF's channels 2 to 13 will be discarded within the lifetime of present day television receivers. We need these channels, as well as 14 to 83.

How Much Will It Cost to Convert To All Channel?

This depends on the model of your set, whether or not an all channel tuner or converter is preferred over a channel strip, your location which has bearing on the type of antenna required, plus other factors. Only your dealer or service technician can accurately quote the cost.

Are UHF Stations as Sharp and Clear as VHF Stations?

There is no noteworthy difference in quality of pictures received from UHF and VHF television stations. Color TV programs can be received equally well on all channels from 2 through 83.

Will I Need a Lot of New Equipment To Get All Channel TV?

This, of course, depends on what you have already, and where you live, and how many new UHF stations will be broadcasting in the western suburban area.

How Many UHF Channels Will Be Broadcasting in the Western Metropolitan Area?

Channel 56, the Detroit Television Foundations, has been broadcasting a full weekly schedule for more than 10 years. Channel 50 is scheduled to go on the air early in January. As time goes on, other UHF channels, such as the cooperative one planned by the school districts in the Schoolcraft area, may be authorized by the Federal Communications Commission.

WESTBROOK CHORALEERS—A new youth ensemble made up of students from Westbrook Elementary School in Clarenceville—concentrates on music here as they practice one of their "Christ Is Born" cantata excerpts. Two concerts are planned in the next few weeks by the group.

Westbrook Choraleers Hit Concert Circuit

The Westbrook Choraleers of Westbrook Elementary School, Clarenceville, are a select group of fifth and sixth grade girls organized by Miss Sue Thresher, elementary music teacher, for the purpose of performing vocal music. This small ensemble was begun last year with six fourth and fifth grade girls. With the carry-over of interest this year, those interested in being in the ensemble were required to try-out. Try-outs were open to all interested students of the fifth and sixth grade and included singing of familiar songs, scales, and sight reading. Practice is held one day during school and one afternoon after classes are over.

ances were scheduled soon afterward. On Friday, December 4, the girls performed at the Clarenceville Methodist Church presenting songs of the holiday season. Dec. 16 will find the group performing at the Eber Baptist Church in Detroit at 7:30 p.m. On Dec. 19 the Choraleers will go caroling throughout the community and on Dec. 21 they will perform for the Westbrook student body at an assembly program. The repertoire is made up of Christmas Carols, foreign and American folk songs, and excerpts from a cantata for children's voices, "Christ Is Born".

The present eight members are: Brenda Byers, Paula Gale, Janice Mills, Donna Sadowski, Cherril Van Tassel all sopranos, and Leslie Bost, Joan Depoy, and Brenda Simons altos.

Local Red Cross Offers GI's Recordings from Home

On Tuesday, December 1, Sister Cecile and Sister Praxedes, both students at Marygrove and natives of Thailand, sent their Christmas greetings home in the form of a recording made possible by the Red Cross "Voices from Home" program.

Foreign students, studying in U.S. universities are one part of one group to whom this free service is made available. Originally, the concept was to send messages to servicemen overseas or to those hospitalized in this country. Now, after three years, the program has expanded to include not only servicemen and foreign students but high school exchange students, members of the Peace Corps and "special morale" situations where only a voice from home is the answer.

"Recordings will be made at the Northwest Regional Office, 31228 Five Mile Road, Merri-5 Plaza, Livonia, Monday through Saturday, from 11 a.m. to 8:30 p.m., through December 12," says Mrs. Richard Cook, Regional Chairman for Voices from Home. Appointments can be made by calling 422-2787.

List School Bus Plans For Winter Weather

Parents in the Livonia School District were reminded this week that there may be days when driving conditions will be slippery and it will be unsafe for school buses to travel on side streets. On such days it will be necessary to pick the children up only on the main roads.

"On the days such emergency measures are necessary, we will contact all cooperating stations which will announce the nature of the weather emergency and inform all interested citizens of that day's transportation plans."

Off to Germany

Army PFC Larry Thomas Ward, son of Mrs. Myrtle V. Ward, 29601 Hathaway, Livonia, was assigned to the 24th Infantry Division in Germany, on Nov. 18.

Hat's Off Department
Well it was a BIG weekend. Although the weatherman was not too co-operative it was a successful weekend. It was truly representative of how attractive fund-raising projects can be.

So it's hats off this week to all the ladies who gave of their time and talents, with a special salute to the chairmen responsible for these affairs: Mrs. John Jacobs (St. John's Holiday Mart), Mrs. Walter Beglinger (the Symphony Ball), Mrs. Arthur Shepard and Mrs. Dale Dauderman (The Methodist's International Fair), and Mrs. Charles Nelson (Garden Club's Christmas Frosting).

Probably the biggest signs of relief came from the husbands who had been exposed for months to the preparations. They too should share the glow of a job well done.

After Glow
Thoroughly enjoyed the Plymouth Theater Guilds presentation of Harvye. Leads Effie Kusel and Jake Rumpf, the whole cast and crew are to be commended.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Fortney of Ivanhoe Drive hosted the After Glow that followed the last show on Saturday night. The traditional Fourth Act, written and performed by the members of the crew was a clever switch of the original Harvye plot. In the 'take-off' on the play and cast bunnies were seeing a little Elwood Dowd.

Formed 17 years ago, the local Guild is the oldest in this area. Charter members, still active in the group, estimate that Harvye was their 53rd production.

Transsgiving in California
Mrs. Carl Finney spent 10 days in Westchester, California at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hanke. The temperature was 87 in the San Fernando Valley when she visited there a week ago Sunday.

Hobby Show
The third annual Hobby Show was held at Bird School on Tuesday evening. First through fifth graders had the opportunity to display their collections of stones, shells, coins, models and dolls.

Can You Top This?
Often wish someone would publish a collection of the last-minute requests that mothers receive just before the small fry leave for school.

The sudden recollection, five minutes before the school bus is due, that they must take a pair of dirt to school. This when the ground is frozen solidly under several inches of snow. We had that one the year Mrs. Wernettes Class made those delightful candle lanterns for the mothers' Christmas presents.

(The greatest poser around our house was, "Mom, will you make a deer with a few slices off one leg?" Miss Welch's room, I think.)

But one of the joys of this season is that interesting package, under the tree, that was made at school. In the expression on the face of the child, who 'made it all by myself' is the true Christmas spirit.

Don't know how the teachers come up with such attractive and useful gift ideas. We still use the Santa and felt Christmas card holder made in Mrs. Breed's first grade. The clothes pin recipe holder from Mrs. Fritz's room has had years of production.

Now the donors are just a little superior about the quality of their workmanship of years ago but I suspect just a little of that old feeling comes back.

Plymouth Symphony Ball Held In Festive Western Golf And Country Club Setting

Plymouth dressed up and went to a party Saturday night — and certainly it was the most lavish affair of the holiday season.

The occasion was the Plymouth Symphony Ball for approximately 300 people at Western Golf and Country Club. Mrs. Walter (Gary) Beglinger was the Chairman, assisted by a hard-working committee.

The Club was converted to Christmas-wall hangings and attractive arrangements of holly and ornaments created the atmosphere. Each table had a centerpiece designed by a member of the Symphony League. Twinkling lights hung over the ballroom floor with a huge Scotch pine decorated "oh, so lovely" behind the Lesa Shaw Orchestra.

So many of Plymouth's active and elegant were present enjoying the music, atmosphere and each other.

At one table the Robert Barbour, George Bauers and Kenneth Hulsings dined together.

Another group was made up of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Larsen, the Denver McCords and Carl

Cards To Aid Disturbed Children

If you want to send a Christmas card with a meaningful message this year purchase one put out by the Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children.

The design, in a Christmas orange-red, was painted by a young boy being treated for emotional problems. In packages of 10 they are one dollar each. No money is kept by the seller, the entire profit is given to the Association.

Selling these cards, for the fifth year, is Minervas in Plymouth on Penniman opposite the Post Office.

Schultheiss. Also Edward Draugelis and his charming wife Lee with the Jim Jaharas.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beglinger had at their table the Harold Guenther, the Clifford Baughs from Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cochrane from Detroit.

The Budd Gould's and Jack Selles made a foursome and a sixsome the R. J. Stewart's and the Elvin Taylors, and Don Wards.

Doctors took at a night out too, Dr. and Mrs. David McCubbery, Dr. and Mrs. William Herbolt, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Jender, new to Plymouth; Dr. and Mrs. Robert Evans and Dr. and Mrs. William Covington.

LWV Plans Busy Month

An active month faces members of the League of Women Voters of Livonia, beginning with a general meeting scheduled for 8:15 p.m., Wednesday, Dec. 9, at St. Andrew's Church Parish Hall, 16380 Hubbard.

Guest speaker at the December general meeting will be Ralph Pierce, Detroit engineer and businessman, who will discuss his recent trip to Yugoslavia, arranged by the U. S. Department of Commerce. Consensus on East-West trade problems will be taken among LWV members following Mr. Pierce's talk.

A "Get-Acquainted Meeting" with newly-elected U. S. Congressman Billie Farnum is planned by League members for 8:30 p.m., Tuesday, Dec. 15, at the home of Mrs. Donald March, 18568 Westmore, Livonia.

League members will have an opportunity at this meeting to discuss national legislation and LWV policies with Mr. Farnum. A similar informal meeting with state senators and representatives is being planned for Jan. 6.

The League of Women Voters is a non-partisan volunteer organization. All women citizens, 21 years of age, and over, are cordially invited to join the Livonia League, according to Mrs. Myron Singer, local LWV president. Further information may be obtained by calling the chairman, Mrs. William Taylor, at GA 2-0933.

TOPINKA BOUND
Members and guests of the Botsford Garden Club will meet at Topinka's Country House at 11:30 a.m. on Monday, Dec. 14 for their annual Christmas luncheon.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Glen Palmer.

The chain of life is forged with little rings—each word and act forming a part of it.

Donald Graham of Plymouth Weds Detroit Girl

Wedding vows were exchanged between Andrea Rose Cristelli and Donald MacKellar Graham Nov. 27 in a 7:30 p.m. ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cristelli of Detroit are the parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Graham, 595 Ann Street, Plymouth, the groom's parents.

Dr. Merle Broyles performed the candlelight ceremony in Strathmoor Methodist Church on Schoolcraft.

An ivory satin and lace gown was chosen by the bride with a pearl pill box hat which held in place her finger-tip veil. She carried a white bible with white and yellow rosebuds.

The bride's sister, Linda Cristelli, was her maid of honor, in a green brocade sheath. Her bouquet was of yellow and bronze mums. Beverly Eaglestone was a bridesmaid and was identically gowned.

Larry Judd served as best man with John Noislen and Duncan Graham seating the guests.

The newlyweds and their families greeted guests at a reception immediately following the ceremony in the church parlors. Mrs. Cristelli wore royal blue lace and Mrs. Graham chose a jade green wool satin for her son's wedding.

Guests attended from Ottawa, Ont., Forest and Sarina, Ont., Grosse Pointe, Plymouth, Detroit, Birmingham and Windsor.

The bride is a graduate of Grace Hospital School of Nursing and the groom attended Eastern Michigan University. The newlyweds are at home on Robinwood in Detroit.

WESTBROOK
The December meeting of P.T.A. has been cancelled. However, the November meeting was held and those present had the pleasure of hearing the Westbrook Choraleers under the direction of Miss Sue Thresher. Miss Thresher has also announced that the Choraleers will perform at the Clarenceville Methodist Church on December 4. In addition to this performance, this select group of five 6th grade and 3 fifth grade girls will perform at the Eber Baptist Church Dec. 16 and do Christmas Caroling on Dec. 18.

DICK MARRISON, President of the Plymouth Optimist Club accepts the charter for the club as sponsors of Troop 885 at the Plymouth State Home from Mr. Ed Reid, Scout Commissioner for this area. Mr. Floyd Barkely, Scoutmaster for the new troop looks on.

Plymouth State Homes Now Has Scout Troop

The Plymouth State Home and Training School has announced that as a part of its recreation program it has organized its first troop of Boy Scouts.

The 15 members of the troop are all mentally retarded patients at the Plymouth State Home and Training School, an institution for the mentally retarded, on Shelden Road, between Northville and Plymouth, Michigan.

The troop has as its sponsor the Plymouth Optimist Club, and the Scoutmaster is Mr. Floyd Barkley, who is an active member of the Plymouth Optimist Club.

The troop meets each Tuesday night for several hours, where it participates in the various scouting activities. The troop has already had the opportunity to enjoy two all-day outings at a scout camp, and one weekend camping trip.

Wayne Lawhorne, Recreation Director at the Plymouth State Home and Training School reports that scouting has "made itself an important part of the recreation program, with troops of both Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts already formed." There are also many boys and girls at the institution who would be fine candidates for Cub Scouts and Brownies.

It is possible that in the near future Cub Scout and Brownie groups can be formed at the home.

"Mentally retarded boys and girls want and need social contacts, instead of overprotection at a home, and rejection in the community," he said. We have found that scouting helps the mentally retarded boys and girls feel wanted, gives them a great incentive to do things for themselves, removes them from isolation and gives them as much association with normal scouts as possible.

Clarenceville Bows To Holly Cagers

The young Clarenceville high basketball team found Holly too much last Friday evening in the Wayne-Oakland League opener for both teams.

With three juniors joining two seniors, Clarenceville was able to hang close to the much taller and experienced Holly team—and a favorite for the league flag—until late in the second period.

The rest was all Holly and the upstarts came through with an easy 65-48 victory.

The teams had finished the first period tied at 14-14. It was a Tuesday night engagement with St. Agatha. 34-27, however, by halftime in Holly's favor.

The fact that Chris Hawkins, Clarenceville's top rebounder, ran into foul trouble and had to leave the action with his third personal midway in the second period had a lot to do with the change in the Clarenceville fortunes.

When he left, the North Livonians lost control of the boards and Holly was able to go to work and pull away to a comfortable lead.

Danny Freetz was the big scorer for the Clarenceville with eight baskets and three fouls for 19 points. Hawkins had three hoops and three charities for nine points while Larry Ray tossed in seven on two baskets and four charities. Ronnie Ray also had seven points, hitting three baskets and a charity.

Tom Lebanic had one basket, as did Gordie Johnston and Fred Neil.

The night's thrills for the Clarenceville fans was provided by the school's reserve team, which gained a 55-52 triumph in overtime over Holly.

Regulation play ended with the teams deadlocked at 48-48. A basket by Dabe Malarch provided the clincher for the Clarenceville second-stringers.

Dave Wilson topped the winners with 15 points. John McCloy followed with 13, while Malarch and Jim Amich each tossed in 10.

This weekend will see Clarenceville meets Milford. Then follows a battle with Dearborn Heights in a non-leaguer on Saturday.

Sorrows Gain Split on Count

One victory . . . one defeat.

That was the first week's story for Our Lady of Sorrows' basketball team in the Northwest Division of the Catholic League.

Coached by Bob Morris, Sorrows started the campaign in devastating manner by downing Royal Oak St. Mary's, 64-54.

The next time out, on Friday evening, Sorrows dropped a heartbreaker to Pontiac St. Michael. The final tally was 54-53.

The heroes for Sorrows against Royal Oak St. Mary's were Miles Kearney and Brian Benner who fired in 22 and 21 points, respectively. All-Observer Football Center Mike Bars tossed in 10 points to help bolster the victors' totals.

Kearney had a great chance at least to force Sorrows into an overtime struggle against St. Michael.

Just as the game ended, he was fouled and awarded two shots. Sorrows trailed by two points at the time.

Kearney made the first attempt, but the second try slipped in — and out that was the story of the ball game.

Kearney and Benner again provided the bulk of scoring power for Sorrows. Each had 17 points. Kearney tossed in eight baskets and one free throw. Benner had seven from the floor and three charities.

Bars was third man again, this time with five hoops and one free throw for 11 points. Marc Benner, the brother of Brian, had four points on a hoop and two free throws. Tim Doyle tossed home two baskets for total of four.

Sorrows had a 23-22 edge in field goals, but from the free throw line, St. Michaels made ten to the Farmington team's seven.

It'll be Sorrows vs. St. Fredricks this Friday night after

Snow Didn't Keep Suburbia Ladies From Holiday Festival

FRIENDS CHOSE as a place to meet the statues to discuss the many purchases they have made at the Christmas Frosting Market. Each of the 13 Branches had a lamp post with their name on it and a different pose of St.

Francis; friends of the birds. From the Rosedale Garden Club Mrs. W. H. Rolan chatting with Mickey Diamond and Mrs. Fred Antil well known in garden circles in Livonia.

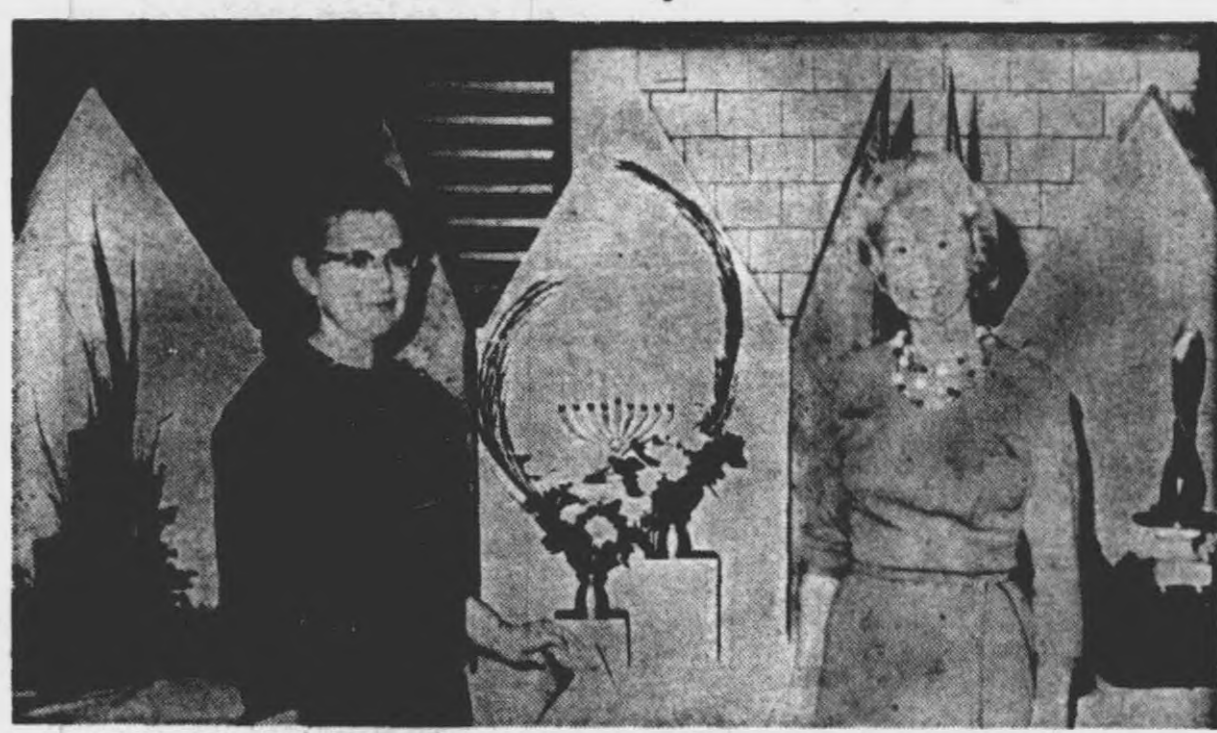

Snowing, blowing, ice and freezing outside? It didn't matter one bit to the several thousand women from this area that were up early Saturday morning and out on their way to the most fabulous garden club shows and bazaars ever sponsored by their respective groups.

In Northville 13 branches sponsored a Christmas Frosting Market that was the most delightful of their annual shows. Included was Livonia, Plymouth, Rosedale Gardens (Livonia), Golfview, Holly, Inkster, Ker Lake, Milford, Northwest Detroit, Redford, Wayne, Westchester and Northville.

Aside from individual booths each branch presented a centerpiece duplicating a Christmas card. Each branch also submitted a festive holiday table. Ribbons were presented by judges on the table settings, and card niches.

Farmington shoppers turned out in droves for their Garden Club show greens market called The Enchantments of Christmas at North Farmington High School held Saturday and Sunday. Botsford, Farmington, Forest Park and Hill and Dale Garden Clubs were sponsors under the General Chairmanship of Mrs. H. F. Brown.

Only Scrooge couldn't avoid getting into the Christmas spirit this weekend if he had circled around Suburbia. The craft "markets" were dedicated to inspiring the homemakers of the community to turn their own homes into the magical fairyland of Christmas.

PRIZE WINNING display by Forest Park Garden Club members Mrs. Rena Sovel is a centerpiece commemorating the Chanukah Festival of Lights. Members of the Jewish faith will keep the candles lighted for eight days to celebrate the Maccabees victory over the

Christmas Card Niches-Tables Displayed, Judged

Judges (those wearing the worried looks) were Mrs. Hobarth Andrea, Mrs. John C. Calhoun, Mrs. Gordon Davis, Mrs. C. E. Hutchens, Mrs. L. C. Nanry, Mrs. Ullenbruch presented the ribbons of high distinction to members from Livonia, Plymouth and Rosedale Branch.

The Blue Ribbon was first prize; (three given) Red Ribbon, second; Yellow, third prize; and White, honorable mention.

On Christmas Card centerpieces for Rosedale Garden Club, Mrs. G. Tuck was awarded the Yellow Ribbon for her "Merry Christmas Card" of pastel arrangements of frosted ornaments and pink candles.

Mrs. Robert Spayth for the Plymouth Branch received a Blue Ribbon with a beautiful old Bible, holly, white candles and red satin background.

The Livonia Branch member, Mrs. Herbert Winegarden, received a Blue Ribbon for her "card" of Pittinum leaves (deep green) with pink and green Christmas ornaments.

Elegant and festive table arrangements submitted were also judged by each of the branches.

Mrs. John Van Lier and Mrs. Frank Cartee received a Red Ribbon for their table "Tis The Season," turquoise and green-gold were the colors, the dishes were Lamoge cream colored with a band of gold and turquoise. Blue Juniper, pine and red carnations in a gold container made up the centerpiece. Plymouth received a Red Ribbon for their "Sherry Table" submitted by Mrs. Norma Scherman and Mrs. Edwin Schrader.

The focal point was the lavender punch bowl. No matter what sparkle would be put on the inside it couldn't compare with the beauty of the sparkle and glitter on the outside of the bowl which was most festive.

Purple and pink were the colors used which were set off to advantage by tiny lights nestled around the table edged in greenery.

Laura Rolan, for the Rosedale Branch of Livonia, had a pale net cloth matched with a pink mesh cornucopia holding pink ornaments and carnations. A Yellow ribbon was awarded by the judges for the "Pink Ice" table arrangement.

MRS. KEITH B. WILLOUGHBY (third from left), Director of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan, comes by her botanical interests naturally. Here she is watching her mother, Mrs. Iva Dail, 85 years old, demonstrate her skills in one of the highlight exhibits at the Farmington Garden Show, which was held Saturday and Sunday. In the center is Helen Moorhouse, Demonstrator Chairman of the show.

Mrs. Dail brought a large number of tiny cones, totaling about 30 lbs., all the way from her home in San Jose, Calif. They were made of redwood trees from her own estate. While fascinated spectators looked on, she made them into beautiful little Christmas trees.

EGGS, the likes which have never been seen, were on sale, made by Plymouth Branch members. Each egg, with loving care, was blown out, decorated (2½ hour job). Members claim the eggs are stronger than tree ornaments by the time they are completed. Gay velvet ribbon, sequins, pearls and rhinestones in lush shades of purple, aqua, gold, blue, pink, red, green — made the Plymouth booth one of the more glamorous. (above) Mrs. H. W. Frisbie and Mrs. H. W. Town Sr. busy making sales.

MRS. CHARLES NELSON, Chairman of the Plymouth Branch booth stands behind one of the trees showing the wares of the Plymouth Branch members. Straw Angels such as the one topping the tree were made by members under the direction of Mrs. Russell Isbister who learned the art several years ago. Plymouth members also featured delightful feathered flowers, hand-dipped and made by the members in delicate shades of orange, turquoise, purple, pink and yellow. Mrs. James Gilbert is President of the Plymouth Branch.

THE FRENCH TEA SHOP at the Methodist Women's Fair in Plymouth is where Mrs. Alice Arlen and Mrs. Karen Horton paused to rest while enjoying delicious pastries. Mrs. Gene Jordan (behind the table) has a chance to view the many international booths filled with holiday spirited crowds.

17 Blue Ribbons In Farmington

It was breath-taking for those that visited "Enchantments of Christmas," and a perplexing problem for the judges to view table after table decorated in the holiday theme.

There were 17 different classes and different individuals competing for the coveted awards. The Blue Ribbon first prize winners are as follows:

Class 1—"Worshipping Wonder" (a creche scene displayed with imagination and design)—Mrs. Joseph Pietro, Hill and Dale Garden Club.

Class 2—"Candlelight Caroling." A table set with a wassail bowl and service for six.—Mrs. George Reimold, Hill and Dale Garden Club.

Class 3—"Heavenly Halo." An arrangement to enhance a Madonna, dramatized in a divider. Novice division.—Mrs. R. W. Hutchinson, Hill and Dale Garden Club.

Class 4—"Reflected Radiance." A silhouetted arrangement expressing the idea of Christmas. Staged in a framed shadow box. Accessories permitted.—Mrs. Richard Lancaster, Farmington Garden Club.

Class 5—"Rejoice, Rejoice."

Fresh arrangement for Christmas Eve Service, exhibited in tritrych. Accessories permitted.—Mrs. Donald Sovel, Forest Park Garden Club.

Class 6—"Frosted Fields." A dried arrangement using a minimum of embellished material.—Mrs. Warren Kruger, Hill and Dale Garden Club.

Class 7—"Christmas Creativity." A spectacular, free-standing arrangement to be staged on a black base in a defined floor space. Accessories permitted, to be viewed from all sides.—Mrs. Don Lochbiller, Farmington Garden Club.

Class 8—"Luminous Lavalieres." A lighted pendant type ornament to enhance an area approximately 15" square by 36" long to be hung from a height of 10".—Mrs. James Read, Farmington Garden Club.

Class 9—"Elegant Emeralds." Service for two staged on a 36" card table. Green satin cloths furnished by committee.—Mrs. Donald Scheele, Botsford Garden Club.

Class 10—"Cloud Castles." Abstract scale (student judges or advanced arrangers.) An abstract of beauty representing the idea of Christmas. Some fresh material must be used. To be staged on a pedestal 18" square, 36" high.

Class 11—"December Delights" (novice)—An arrangement of original design, suitable for reproduction on a Christmas card. Accessories permitted.—Mrs. David McFeggin, Farmington Garden Club.

Class 12—"Flickering Flames." An arrangement using one or more candles.—Mrs. Matthew Maxon, Forest Park Garden Club.

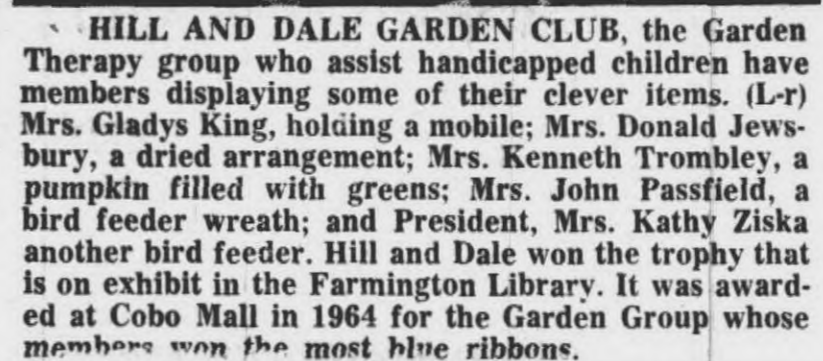

Class 13—"Fairland Finery." An assemblage associated with Christmas. An arrangement must be included. Soft green rolled corrugated background.—Mrs. Oris Ontholt, Hill and Dale Garden Club.

Class 14—"Festive Flair." An exhibition table set for buffet, serving six.—Mrs. Thomas Simmons, Hill and Dale Garden Club.

Class 15—"Gay Gathering." Family dinner, service for four.—Mrs. Thomas Simmons, Hill and Dale Garden Club.

Class 16—"Treasure Tapestry." A framed collage using a maximum amount of natural plant materials, to be hung as wall space. Green fabric background.

Class 17—"Santa's Snack."—Mrs. Donald Jewsbury, Hill and Dale Garden Club.

HILL AND DALE GARDEN CLUB, the Garden Therapy group who assist handicapped children have members displaying some of their clever items. (L-r) Mrs. Gladys King, holding a mobile; Mrs. Donald Jewsbury, a dried arrangement; Mrs. Kenneth Trombley, a bird feeder wreath; and President, Mrs. Kathy Ziska another bird feeder. Hill and Dale won the trophy that is on exhibit in the Farmington Library. It was awarded at Cobo Mall in 1964 for the Garden Group whose members won the most blue ribbons.

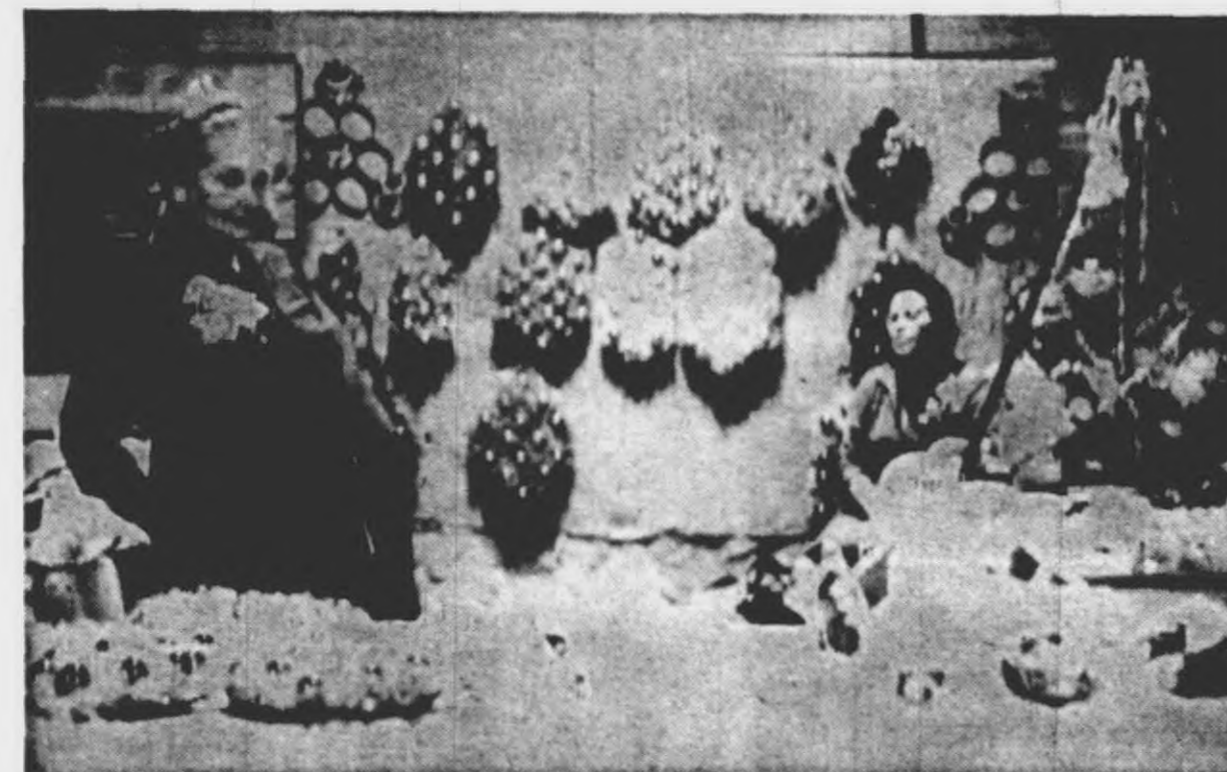

BLUE RIBBON for "elegance" was given the Botsford Garden Club. Mrs. Joseph E. Craig, President, Mrs. John A. Secrist, Mrs. Lowell Palmer, members of the Botsford Garden Club stand by a table set by one of the members of the Botsford Garden Club, Mrs. Donald Scheele. The Division is "Elegant Emeralds." Set on an emerald green satin background, it featured a centerpiece of scarlet anemones.

DON'T forget the birds, was the theme of the Conservation Exhibit, also a community project at the Enchantment of Christmas show Saturday. (Above) Mrs. Katherine Ziska behind the tree, Chairman Mrs. Gladys King (kneeling), and Chairman Betty Brown back of Mrs. King. Stressing the care of wildlife in extreme weather, there are life-like ducks in a pond, the tree is strung with food and suet for the birds.

TULLE AND CHRISTMAS tree ornaments made the Rosedale Branch booth gay and bright. Members made use of magnolia leaves, pine cones satin-colored hoops with holly, to stock their supply. Customers flocked to their booth to purchase many of their small tulle santa clauses and dolls. If members were to charge for the time involved in some of the centerpieces made for the show, no one could afford them. Many hours of time was saved by customers wishing to beautify their homes. Mrs. Ruth Bishop (above) checks stock while Lucille Roffey and Gladys Tuck rest a bit.

EPISCOPAL HOLIDAY MART held Saturday, Dec. 5, at St. Johns Church in Plymouth was so successful the booths ran out of lovely handmade items before closing time. Mrs. Robert Willoughby scurried home during the afternoon and whipped up another batch of her tasty rock candy that sold so quickly. (above) Mrs. Kay Coolman, Mrs. Paul Wideman, Mrs. Ray Barber and Mrs. Sidney Strong packing up the last of the Christmas decorations while Mrs. Henry Lentz (in background) gathers up her working supplies at the end of their successful day.

TEACHERS REPORT:

Southern 'Terror', 'Violence' Described To Livonia Group

Terror, harrassment, and violence, as well as rewarding relationships and personal satisfactions, characterized the experiences of those directing the Mississippi Summer Projects, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Reece told the Livonia Citizens for Better Human Relations on Sunday evening, December 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Reece, both teachers in the Detroit area, were coordinators for six Freedom Schools in Hattiesburg, Miss., during the past summer. The principal goals of the Freedom Schools were to instill pride in his heritage in the individual Negro through study of Negro history and to urge political participation through study of the U.S. and Mississippi constitutions in preparation for voter registration. The six schools served about 1,000 people, many of whom suffered economic and physical reprisals. During this period about 5,000 Negroes attempted to register to vote. Of this number 384 were successful.

In addition to intimidation from the police, F.B.I. agents, some of the clergy, and much of the populace at large, Mr. and Mrs. Reece encountered other problems. Lack of funds and adequate food hampered their efforts. Since city libraries were closed to Negroes, books and other supplies had to be secured from outside sources. The Reeces managed to amass a 7,000 volume library which was superior to the inaccessible one.

Mr. and Mrs. Reece likened the atmosphere in Mississippi last summer to the rise of Nazi Germany. They feel that the best hope for accomplishment for both Negro and white Southerners lies in the non-violent approach. Though many Negroes in Mississippi possess guns, violence in the Negro community has thus far been minimal. The Reeces feel the value of the Freedom Schools is established and that the concept will be expanded next year.

Negro Historian Speaks To Plymouth Group

American Negroes do not all agree on how best to achieve human dignity — through integration or pride in self. Quite frequently when a Negro says "we" he doesn't know himself whether he means "we Americans" or "we Negroes." So stated Harvey Jackson last Thursday evening before the Plymouth Assembly for Equal Opportunity. Mr. Jackson came to the Assembly as a representative of the Detroit Branch of the Association for Study of Negro Life and History.

The concept of Negro inferiority has been consistently reinforced by lack of history, and distortion of fact. People do poorly when they lack self-respect and self-love, which is basic to civilized people. A study of Negro history would help Negroes achieve this sense of their worth, and give white people a better view of the facts.

Mr. Jackson pointed out that what is needed is not a text of Negro history, but a correction of history as written, showing the part that Negroes have played in building America. For example, Columbus had Negro crewmen, and the Spanish explorers all had Negroes as members of their expeditions. This country never fought a war when Negroes were not a part of it as citizens. In the French and Indian Wars, they fought on both sides. There is a monument in Boston Commons to Crispus Attucks, the first man (a Negro) to be killed in the Revolution.

Man's history is the story of his struggle to get along amicably with others. Mr. Jackson believes that the United States has come further along to achieving this democratic ideal than any other nation. He feels that two very important contributions his race has made toward reaching this goal are: first, the needling of the United States through the civil rights struggle to work toward its ideal; and second, plain hard work in the founding of this country.

Thursday's meeting concluded the current lecture series. A second series of four talks on the theme "Know Your Community", will start January 14. At the first meeting, Mrs. Ruth Eckstein will talk about her 1962 Plymouth Community Survey, which led to the setting up of our present Family Service Agency.

The next general meeting of the Assembly will be Tuesday, December 15, at 8:30 p.m. at St. John's Episcopal Church on Sheldon Road.

Accountants Will Hear Ford Veep

The Oakland County Chapter of the National Association of Accountants will hold its monthly meeting at 6:30 p.m. on December 10 at Devon Gables. Speaker for the evening will be Mr. Everett E. Baggerly, vice president — staff operations, Ford Motor Credit Company, whose topic will be "Contributions to the Economy by the Money Suppliers." Mr. Baggerly is a veteran of 26 years in the finance and investment field. Prior to joining Ford, Baggerly was president of Micronesia Investment Company, Guam, where his business interests included consumer financing, investments, importing and exporting. He also conducted a course in investments at the Territorial College of Guam and participated in civic and island affairs. Mr. Baggerly and his wife live in Bloomfield Hills. All area accountants are invited to attend, and reservations may be made by calling Mr. J. E. Mead at WO 5-2200.

Today is when we build lots of tomorrows out of yesterdays.

WINTER DESCENDED on the suburbs last week, and a Frost Junior High student in Livonia found the first frosty evidence of the season—a 40-inch-long icicle. Don Russell, 14, of 15658 Brookfield, picked the specimen off the side of his home.

Looking Around LIVONIA

Livonia's traditional house-decorating contest during the Christmas season will probably take on a new look next year. Parks and Recreation Department officials report. Noting the large amount of work necessary on a city-wide basis — and "relatively few" entrants — the Department has called off the contest this year. "We hope, however," said John Dufour, assistant superintendent, "that next Christmas, local civic associations will begin to sponsor such contests in their own subdivisions. A subdivision competition will probably run better and draw more entrants than a city-wide contest," he said.

Congratulations are in order for Livonia's City Treasurer! Wedding bells chimed recently for Carl Wagenschutz.

Home finally, from months of confinement in St. Mary Hospital is Livonia fireman Wes Wisner. Wisner, Observer readers will recall, is the firefighter whose legs were amputated in August after a collision between the fire truck on which he was riding and an automobile on Five Mile.

Do you have a half-day Saturday to sell Goodfellow papers? Citing the gigantic growth of Livonia over the past few years, Goodfellow officers are putting out a call for increased numbers of volunteers for this year's effort. Anyone who can volunteer should call Don Wolfe, GA 1-5660.

The Observer staff writers want to give full credit to Paul Lutzeler, Public Relations Director for the Livonia School District for his authoring this year of the Livonia Old Newsboys Goodfellow newspaper. He wrote, edited, and is responsible for what we think will probably be their best read edition.

The Observer's Readers 'Speak Up'

Water Problem

Editor:
I have been reading your account of the plight of the people in the Kendalwood Subdivision with much interest and, I must admit, a little envy for the concern the township officials are showing them. I realize that these people have a problem, and a serious one, but so have we!

We live in the area west of Farmington Road and north of 8 Mile. When we bought this house the first of last May, we and the Veteran's Administration were assured that the water would be in by the end of May, but here we are without water in December! And yet, we are practically being told to "lump it" by the very people who have shown such concern for the people in Kendalwood.

Some of Kendalwood has been without water for only two or three weeks and everyone's in an uproar, but many homes in our area have been without water since the middle of last summer.

Much of our trouble has been due to the sewer construction, too. A creek passing through this area has been largely responsible for keeping up the wells that do have some water, including my own, but those who don't live near the creek are not so fortunate. I say "fortunate" with some reservation, as I have heard that the creek is being contaminated since the sewer construction disturbed some of the tile fields for the septic tanks. I have two preschoolers and a new baby, so you can imagine how frantically worried I am!

Furthermore, during the summer dry spell, our creek was blocked off during the sewer construction, and we didn't even have water to flush the toilets, let alone wash and cook with. We were told we'd just have to get along, until we threatened to put up an outhouse. Then they finally came back and unblocked the creek channel.

I must say that our experiences with the Township Administration have given us a very low opinion of it.

Sincerely,
Mrs. William Vanderveer III

It WAS Puzzling
Editor:
I am puzzled. In the Dec. 2 edition of your paper there appears a letter in "Reader Speaks Up" column, entitled "Freedom of Press." I have read and re-read this letter several times, and cannot seem to get any sense from it. I have shown it to several neighbors and friends, and no one can fathom what the writer is talking about. If there is a message contained in this letter I fail to grasp it and it puzzles me no end.

It starts off berating your column, which I think is unfair. I read them all and while I don't agree 100% at times they are still constructive and represent one opinion, which I think is a good thing.

From this approach, the writer really mixes it up. Taxes-Teen Agers-Police Dept., and finally Communism. Some of the remarks in this letter I resent, especially about our Police Dept. I happen to hold our Police Dept. in very high regard from the top to the bottom, and I can not believe what I read in this letter. I also resent the implication regarding "Livonia's government controlled Communists at work."

While I differ with our city father's at times I do not think they deserve a label of this type. If this writer has any proof of the actions of the nature he describes, I think they should be brought out in the open or a retraction of the charges should be made. I certainly believe in "Freedom of The Press" but at least let's keep it honest and deal with facts as we see them individually. I appreciate the fact that I am allowed to voice an opinion in the paper, but I don't think this gives me the right to malign anyone or attach a label to any deserving body, whether I differ with them or not.

Personally I abhor the word Communism and I think anyone should be very careful about attaching this label to any group without definite proof. Maybe this was not the impression the writer was trying to imply, but, again I urge caution. I certainly hope either the writer or your paper can come up with a logical explanation, or at least concrete evidence to back up the charges made in this letter. I trust that just may be he gave the wrong impressions in the letter, because I would hate to see anyone enter the Christmas season with such a mixed up version of, "Life in Livonia."

Very truly yours,
C. F. McINTYRE.

Pot and Kettle?

Editor:
I notice that in one of your articles concerning the "riff" between the Livonia school board and the city council you quote a councilman as saying, "If you wait for the schools to put in the sidewalks, you'll wait a long time."

I don't know how long it takes the school board to put in sidewalks, but I wish you would inform the councilman that the Emerson Junior High School sidewalk, that you helped publicize over two years ago, was just put in by the city last month.

Maybe the school board is slow, I don't know; but the city council sure is not one to complain about it.

TORTOISE

Do It Yourself?

Editor:
I live in Livonia, but this is written for Mrs. Marjorie Gluckstein of Farmington, who had a letter in The Observer recently.

Dear Mrs. Gluckstein—
I have just concluded reading your letter which appeared in The Observer, titled "YOUTH CENTER".

You have not given any information as to how much money the parents of these youth would be willing to give towards this youth center, for each child of theirs, and how much they would give to keep it in operation, after it's built. Eighty-five per cent of the property owners in Farmington that must pay their property taxes, would not receive any benefits from this Youth Center in any way.

In your own case, you have not stated how many thousands dollars you would be willing to give? And how much you would be willing to give to keep it running, to see that the youth have an excellent time, and bring out these special qualities that you speak about, that these children have.

One can see by the newspapers every day of the special qualities of these youth 90% never had any training at home, and home is where this training center must be located, and not at Taxpayer expenses.

Until you, and the rest will learn, that this training of youth must be given at the source, which is home. And that each family must pay their own way, as they are the ones that brought into this world, their children, and it's their responsibility to see that they will get their education, training, and good conduct.

It is not up to the property owners, or the Taxpayers to take over this job, as a Youth Center and see that taxpayers money is being used for such purposes, when it's up to the parents to make this youth center possible, and also the youth themselves to do their part, if any one youth has the guts as well as their parents, they would start building this center, and not bemoan the township officials, city or state officials.

Anybody can write a letter to any paper with self-expression on any subject, if one is not willing enough, or have the guts to get it started by digging out the basement, pouring the concrete, lay the cement blocks, get the building under way with your own might and strength, than to use an easy way out, let your Township officials build it at taxpayers expenses. If you and your friends are so interested in this center, why don't you get it started as stated in this letter?

Just a Taxpayer, And minding my own business and seeing that my children get their education, training at our own expense. We will still have the guts, and strength to do this for them.

Moral conditions will be found always harmonious and health-giving.—Mary Baker Eddy
Veracity is the heart of morality.

Livonia's New High School to Go on National Exhibition

Even though it is only in the building stage Livonia's third high school currently under construction at Six Mile Road and Whitby Drive is already getting national attention.

Dr. Shirley Cooper of the American Association of School Administrators has announced that the functional new suburban school has been selected for exhibition at the national convention of the AASA to be held at Atlantic City from February 13 through 17, 1965.

The school, designed by the Lane Riebe, Weiland Firm of architects in Ann Arbor, is built on the same basically functional pattern as Livonia's Franklin High School on Joy Road.

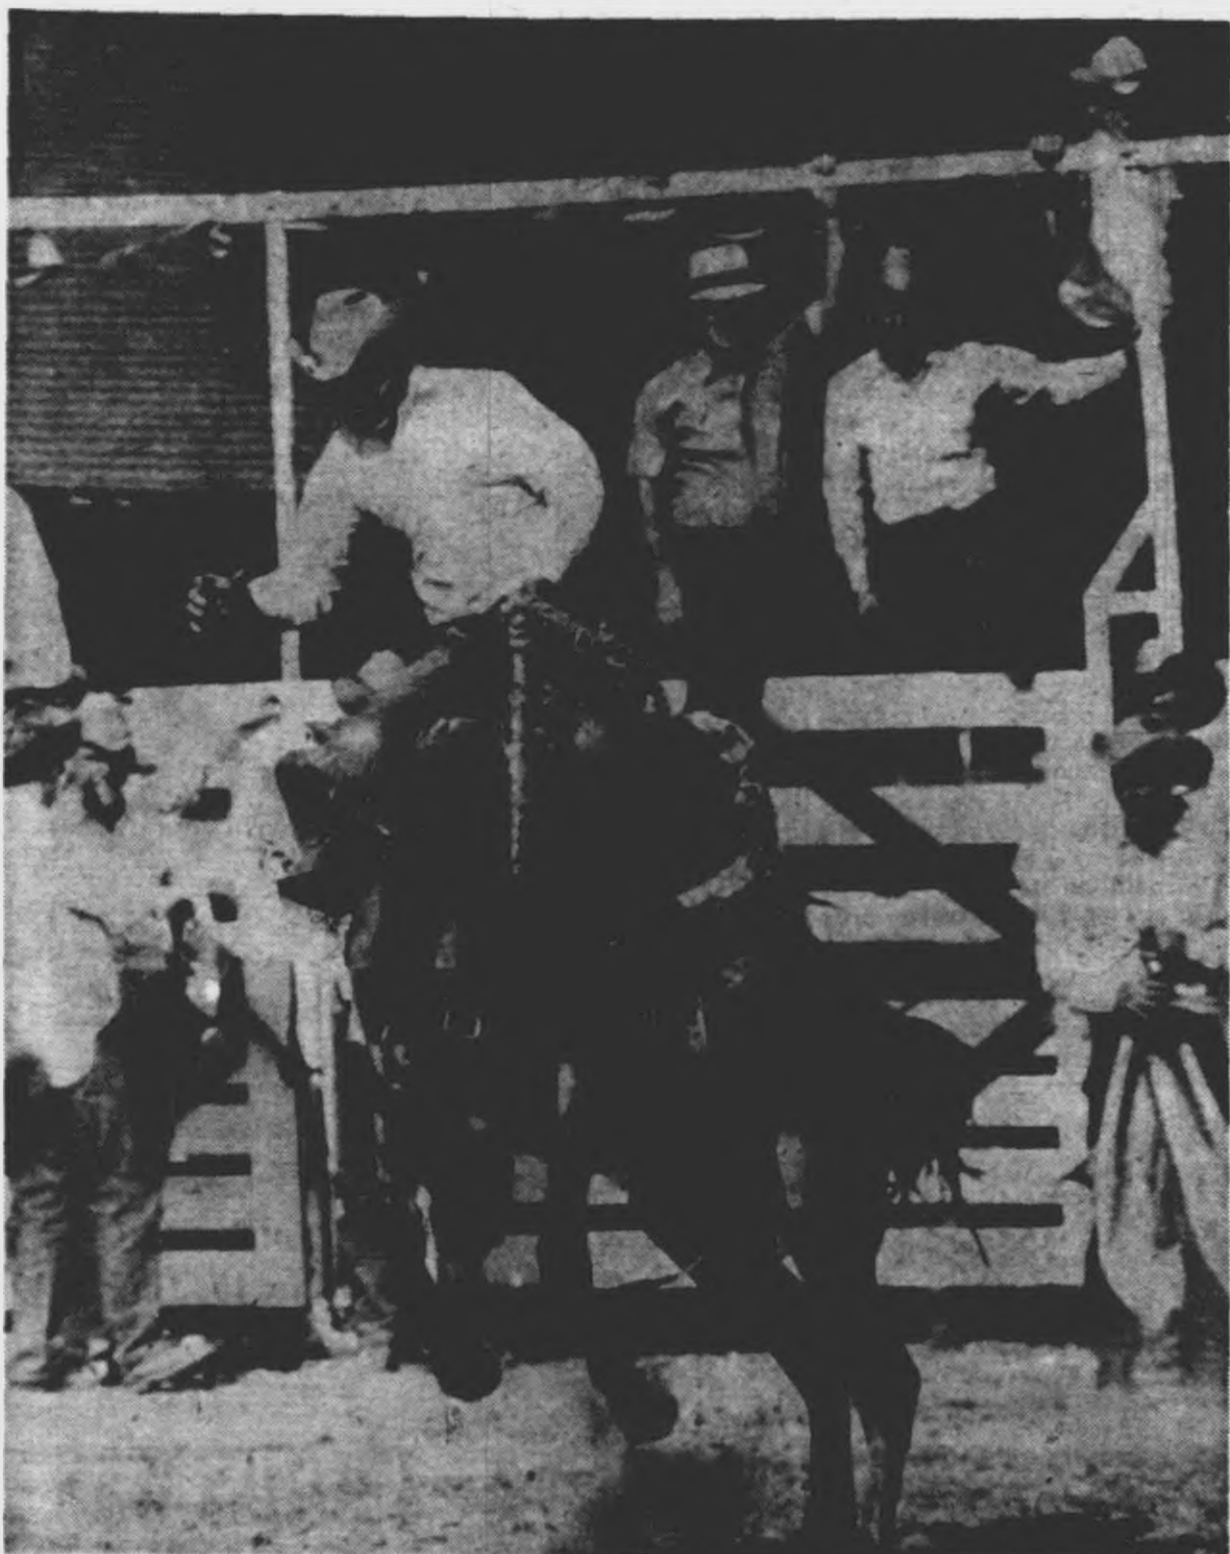

School Board President Robert H. Cain points out that the new school, which will primarily serve high school students living in the northern neighborhoods of the school district, has incorporated in it many architectural ideas and improvements gained through the operation of Franklin High, which serves students living in northern Nankin Township and the southern sections of the City of Livonia.

"We are all pleased that our third high school will be an exhibit in Atlantic City," Cain said. "The new building reflects favorably on the imaginative, yet realistic, planning done by our architects, the staff, and the Board. Just as we have learned through the pioneering of other forward-looking communities, so we in Livonia want to share our know-how with educators and board members who attend the annual Atlantic City conference."

Franklin High School, which was built, before recent increases in labor and materials costs, at an unusually low cost of a little over $11 per square foot, has been a mecca for educators and architects, from all parts of the world, who wish to incorporate some of the functional ideas into plans they have for building new high schools in their communities.

In a recent interview, school board business manager Ron Upton pointed out that the new school will be larger than Franklin and will have additional shops and storage areas. Classrooms will be arranged somewhat differently and a few revisions have been made in the location of offices, locker room facilities, and other changes. There have been made to improve internal traffic flow, based on experience gained while occupying Livonia's second high school on Joy Road.

DARR HAMMOND, of Farmington, is seen here winning the All Around Rodeo Championship of the Middle West, in recent competition. The sport of rodeoing has undergone great changes through the years. The rodeo riders of the past spent most of winnings on whiskey, women, and ball bondsmen—in that order. But today's riders such as Darr Hammond are mostly serious family men with mortgage payments to meet. But the danger is still as great. And it still calls for top physical conditioning.

Accidents Up by 500 On Livonia Streets

The accident rate on Livonia streets has climbed by nearly 500 over the same period last year, city police reported this week.

Citing statistics through the week of Nov. 29, police said there had been 17 people killed in nine fatal accidents on city streets thus far this year. In 1963, at this time, nine had perished.

A total of 897 injury accidents are reported thus far in 1964, with the corresponding number for last year 686. Persons injured in accidents total 1487 this year, and were 1161 in 1963. Property damage accidents numbered 1637 in 1964 and 1360 in the same period a year earlier.

There were 52 bicycle accidents in 1964 and 33 last year; one was killed this year and one last; 35 injuries were reported thus far this year compared to 28 last year; 43 pedestrian accidents were reported thus far this year and 24 last year at this time; none have been killed thus far, one was in 1963; and there were 40 injured so far in 1964 compared to 19 last year.

Kiwanians Told About Stocks

Plymouth Kiwanis Club members heard from a stockbroker at their December 1 meeting, and came away with further knowledge about how the intricate stock exchanges across the nation work.

Program chairman Dean Saxton introduced guest speaker, Peter J. Sarris. Sarris is an Account Executive with the investment firm of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, Inc., at Congress and Shelby in Detroit.

Between 1,300 and 1,400 different company stocks are listed each day on the New York Stock Exchange, said Sarris. A seat on the New York Exchange would cost about $210,000. The Exchange is open from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. daily, and 85 per cent of all the stocks sold are listed on this exchange.

The buying and selling of stocks is a two way auction, with the brokers having buy and sell orders from their clients. In 1950 there were six million persons in the United States who owned stocks, 12½ million by 1960 and 18 million in 1964. This is a fast growing business, Stock ownership has many advantages; for instance, they can be readily converted to cash in only four days. Other types of investments take a longer period of time. The Dow Jones Industrial average of 30 major stocks is a good indicator of the general market condition.

People invest for a variety of reasons such as dividend income, speculation, trading and long term capital appreciation. Sarris said that his company instituted a study of the average return of stocks from 1926 through 1960. 1,700 securities were examined and the average return per year was 9 per cent, compounded annually. For example, one dollar invested in 1926 would have been worth 126 dollars in the above instance. Growth stocks will generally yield from 2 per cent to 3 per cent and income stocks from 4½ per cent to 5 per cent. "Cats and Dogs" are low priced stocks, traded over the counter, but generally not listed. These are highly speculative and generally very risky for the investor. The safe investment is generally made in municipal bonds, corporate bonds and preferred stock of one of the major corporations.

A favorite saying on one stock is if you take care of this utility stock, it will take care of you. A rule of thumb for estimating the selling price is to multiply the earnings by nineteen and one half times. The present stock market is near the all time high and December is considered a good strong month for investments by pension funds and the like.

The Gross National Product has increased 7 per cent in 1964. The opinion of financial leaders is that business looks good for the first half of 1965.

Kiwanian Chuck Moore introduced guests for the evening, John Alley and Bob Lent. Carl Pursell recommended that Club Secretary Ernie Henry should be honored for his 32 years of service at the Plymouth Post Office. Henry worked his way up from Mail Clerk to Assistant Post Master. He has been Assistant Post Master since 1955.

Home Fires Claim More Victims Than Any Other Accident

More persons die in fires in single type of accident. Estimates place the death toll in this country than in any other.

at about 11,500 annually and the cost in property damage at a staggering $1.5 billion each year. Tragically, more than one-half of the deaths attributed to fire occur in the home, and 30 per cent of the fatalities are among children. In all, some 6,000 persons perish in 550,000 U.S. home fires annually. Figures such as these also are daily reminders that fire safety should start in the home. The home is still our No. 1 fire hazard. It takes three things to make a fire—something that will burn, something will ignite it, and air to feed the flames. Therefore, the secret of home fire prevention is to keep flammable materials away from anything that can possibly ignite them. Specifically, to keep your home safe from fire, you should:

1. Get rid of all rubbish and trash. Don't let it accumulate!
2. Store things properly.
3. Keep things clean and in good repair.

Five times an hour—120 times a day—a U.S. home is destroyed or damaged by a fire which started in, or was fed by, rubbish. So here's a good place to start in "fireproofing" your house. Dispose rubbish regularly, storing it in fire-safe containers until the refuse collectors have removed it from the premises.

Much of what the average person describes as "garbage" or rubbish is inflammable. And such material, improperly stored, can catch fire and lead to disaster. That's why fire safety officials recommended that homeowners use non-flammable galvanized steel containers for storage of all trash, rubbish and garbage—both inside and outside the house. It's a good idea to have steel cans of this type in the basement, garage and utility room—particularly in workshop areas to collect sawdust, shavings, wood scraps, oily rags and the like. Among the most flammable items around the house are newspapers and old magazines. Fire prevention experts caution against letting them accumulate for too long. Paint cans with small amounts of paint—probably hardened and not usable—also should be discarded. Don't let them lie around where they would supply fuel should a fire break out. Of course, you can't throw away everything that you don't use every day. Waste and trash, as mentioned earlier, should be stored in fire-safe metal containers which, in turn, should be kept away from any heat source. Oily or paint-covered rags and clothing should be stored, again, in covered metal containers. Use capped metal containers for the storage of flammable fluids—kerosene, gasoline, solvents and paint thinners. Don't dump ashes into cardboard or wooden boxes. Place in covered metal containers. Don't leave anything flammable on or near the range. Store grease in jars or cans and keep them away from the range. Keep matches out of reach of children. In addition to good house-keeping practices, there are other precautionary measures which add up to a fire-safe house. Chimneys, pipes and flues, fireplaces, furnaces, heaters and cooking equipment all should be checked periodically to make sure they don't pose any real fire hazards. All should be serviced by qualified servicemen. Worn or frayed electric cords should be replaced. Electrical circuits should not be overloaded and major electrical appliances should be installed and serviced by qualified electrical contractors.

You Can Do It Yourself

New Shower Can Be Installed Easily

Did you know you can have a sturdy, efficient shower in your present bathroom without remodeling? It is not necessary to rip out walls and flooring to make this needed improvement in the bathroom. Converting a shower-less bath-tub into a modern tub-shower combination is a simple matter, says the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau. It's done by piping directly up from the bathtub spout (a special one, of course). No installation in the wall itself is necessary. With this simple arrangement, a shower can be added regardless of the type or age of the bathtub in your home. The chrome-plated pipe and shower head are securely bracketed to the wall. The valve control to divert water to the shower head is, conventionally, an integral part of the tub spout. This is certainly the most economical way to have a tub-shower combination installed where none existed previously. No remodeling at all is necessary, and your experienced plumbing contractor can guarantee a fully satisfactory job. Older homes without shower can economically have bath rooms more up-to-date, and newer homes deprived of this convenience by an overly thrifty builder can likewise provide more comfort and conveniences for members of the family. After all, no bathing facility is really complete without both a tub and shower bath. Each method of bathing has its own particular advantages and benefits. No family should be without them.

Electric Bills To Be Cut

The Michigan Public Service Commission today gave approval to the Detroit Edison Company for a reduction in electric rates amounting to $3,750,000 per year. The new rate schedule has been under joint study by the staff of the Commission and Detroit Edison for several months. The announcement was made jointly by Peter B. Spivak, chairman of the Michigan Public Service Commission, and Walker L. Cislis, chairman of the board of Detroit Edison. The officials pointed out that the reduction would be of greatest benefit to residential customers using more than 500 kilowatt hours per month and to commercial customers. These changes will be effective for service rendered on and after December 1, 1964. The last Detroit Edison rate increase was in 1949—15 years ago. Since that time the company has decreased residential rates on two occasions in 1959 and in 1963. These rate decreases, together with the greater use of electricity have lowered the average cost, per kilowatt hour, to residential customers by 15 per cent since 1949. A number of factors have made it possible for Detroit Edison management to hold the line and actually reduce electric rates during these 15 years. One of the most important is the increased use of electricity by its customers. This use—more than doubled in the case of residential customers—has permitted Detroit Edison to build larger and more efficient generating plants, and to pool generating capacity and exchange power on an economic basis with other large electric systems. Other important factors are increased efficiency in the burning of fuel and the co-operation of railroads in reducing the transportation charges on fuel from the mines. In a joint statement on the rate change, Mr. Spivak and Mr. Cislis said, "We are always pleased to cooperate on matters that have an advantageous effect upon the economy and well-being of Michigan."

USE SMALL PRINT
 A room that has distracting jigs and jags in its structural layout can be made to look well-proportioned with the right kind of wallpaper. Take, for instance, a dormer. You can give it uniformity with small geometrics or all over floral patterns. Keep away from anything that has a big figure in a widely separated repeat. It will be difficult to hang and will add to the chopped-up look of the room.

Livonia Youth Gets ROTC Cadet Award
 Richard Sanderson, Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sanderson, 16527 Riverside, Livonia, has been awarded the Army ROTC Outstanding Basic Cadet Award at Michigan State University. Richard, who is also president of West McDonell Hall at MSU, was cited for his "superior achievement" during the 1964 spring term. "He received the award by virtue of his ranking in the top group of his ROTC class," Col. James F. Skells said. "The score he obtained reflects not only his success in military classes but also his potential leadership, as measured by his performance in leadership laboratory and overall interest in the Army ROTC program." The award will be presented at ceremonies in the near future. At the start of this fall's term he received the insignia of a cadet staff sergeant, a promotion.

Whose Name Will Livonia's New High School Carry?

Excitement has been high recently in the Livonia community due to the debate of naming Livonia's third high school to be built on Six Mile Road and Whitby Drive.

The new school, to be completed in the fall of 1965, is now referred to as "Section 9 High School." Students in the 10th, 11th, and 12th grades living in the northern subdivisions of Livonia will attend the new school.

Several names have been proposed for the new school. Two weeks ago, at the Board of Education meeting, the name of Eleanor Roosevelt was proposed by Trustee Strela Schreiber.

The name of Alfred Noble, native Livonian and world-famous engineer, has been proposed by the Historical Society of Livonia, the Franklin High School Historical Society, the Livonia Historical Commission and the American Legion Auxiliary.

Mr. Noble, who was born in 1844 and died in 1914, is recognized as an outstanding

3 Teachers Do Research On Atom

The atom is making its impact on high school teaching in many subject areas.

Three Thurston High School teachers on National Science Foundation grants spent last summer studying recent developments in their fields resulting from nuclear research. Another teacher did research at home.

"The effects will be noted in more and more adaptation of old ways of teaching as we strive to speed learning in the same way nuclear tracers have stepped-up scientific discovery," Dr. James Lehman, assistant superintendent for curriculum and instruction, asserted. Shortly, laboratory use of nuclear energy under careful control of the teacher may well be commonplace in our high schools according to Lehman.

In fact, Thurston teachers George Tatar, Dick Munson, and Marv Smith are expecting to make a start in this direction next semester. Students will be discussing the curious ways of the atom in biology, chemistry, and physics as a consequence of study last summer by their teachers.

Tatar was at the University of California where outstanding work has been done with effects of radiation in biology. He heard Nobel prize winners and became skilled in the use of new equipment.

Munson, Thurston teacher of physical science, studied nuclear developments in the field of structural geology and paleontology at the University of Missouri. Marv Smith, chemistry instructor, was at the University of New Mexico where he specialized in effects of radiation on various animals.

Physics teacher Robert Kiesel spent last summer in individual research on nuclear applications to high school instruction.

Farnum Speaks To Boys' School

Mr. Billie S. Farnum, Auditor General of the State of Michigan and 19th District Representative to the U.S. Congress, opened Detroit Country Day School's Senior Lecture Series on Wednesday, December 2 with a talk on citizen participation in government.

Country Day's Senior Lecture Series meets every Wednesday afternoon and affords an opportunity for the Senior School to hear talks by leaders in government, business, banking, law, medicine and the arts, and to participate in a discussion period after each talk.

Mr. John Campbell of 23701 Cass Street, Farmington, a member of Country Day's History Department, is coordinator of the Series which runs from December 2 to March 16, 1965.

In instituting these lectures during the 1961 school year, Country Day felt that lectures by the local and state leaders would be helpful in exposing students to the various phases of community activity as seen by leaders in their field.

Art for Adults

Robert Gorton, Clarenceville elementary art instructor, is keeping himself busy this holiday season by serving as a guest to several P.T.A. meetings and showing as well as helping people to make decorations for their homes. He has already been to Edgewood and Westbrook and now is planning for December 14 at Grandview. People planning to attend the Grandview program are asked to bring scissors, 12 wire hangers, 1 cardboard from hanger, newspapers, yarn and stapler.

American engineer. He served on the Nicaragua and Isthmian Canal Board for the construction of the Panama

Canal, built numerous bridges over the Mississippi River, built approaches under the East River to Pennsylvania

Station in New York, helped to fortify Pearl Harbor, and received numerous honorary degrees and awards during his lifetime. At a recent PTA meeting, the name of Edgar Guest, English-born poet, Shakespeare, Northern, Betsy Ross and John Hancock were suggested by members of the Livonia community. No name has as yet been deecided upon for the new high school. In 1953 the Board of Education adopted a policy that set the general rule that elementary schools be named after presidents, junior high schools after poets, and senior high schools after philosophers.

Rabbi Feels Newspaper Misinterpreted His Views on Belief in God; Congregation Backs Him Completely

By ALLEN ROSENFELD

Rabbi Sherwin Wine, of the Birmingham Temple, whose unconventional approach to his religion has stirred considerable controversy within the Jewish community, and has aroused the intellectual curiosity of many non-Jews as well, feels that the recent newspaper article on him was misleading. His congregation of about 140 families, many of them from the Farmington area, is solidly behind him.

They agree with the Rabbi, that by categorizing him as an atheist, the headline distorted and oversimplified his beliefs.

As he explained in the text of the article, Rabbi Wine regards himself as an "agnostic": "one who says to a person who speaks of God: 'I don't know what you mean and can't tell whether your statement is true or false.'" He contrasted this with an atheist, who says to a believer: "I know what you mean, but I think your statement is false."

Rabbi Wine expanded on these views, in a conversation with this reporter Friday:

"The word God, as used by the ordinary man in the street, refers to a person up there, with whom you can converse. This kind of God I deny. If this is the kind of God you are referring to, then I am an atheist."

"If, however, you use the more sophisticated definitions of God—such as that he is a transcendent being, out of space and time; or an impersonal first mover, outside the world; or a pervading purpose in the universe; or the ground of being; or something mysteriously big out there—then my answer is: their hearts, they search the Scripture and confront the needs of men."

"In the setting of the percentage which we will use, it is our faith which will really establish the percentage. We 'I don't know what you mean by that'."

Rabbi Wine regards "God" as a useless word. This is so because "it depends primarily on private definitions. A word, to have usefulness, must have a shared public meaning."

"If I want to talk about love, or purpose, or forces, or the best in man, I can use other words and express myself more clearly than if I used the word God."

Rabbi Wine is a humanist. He says he became a Rabbi, because he felt he would be able to do some good for people in that capacity. He says the primary goal of his congregation is "to develop the best potential in man."

That the congregation is with him in the storm was clear at the Hanukkah Service Friday night. When he finished his sermon, the approximately 200 people in the Birmingham Masonic Temple swarmed all over him; congratulating him on his sermon, and assuring him of their support.

In his sermon, the iconoclastic Rabbi broke with the traditional biblical story of

Stewardship Discussion Closes With 'How Much' Examination

As the closing article in its series on Stewardship, The Augsburg Lutheran Church in Redford Township presented the following thoughts for the congregation. Entitled "How Much" the selection is a reprint from the book "Stewards Appointed."

"One of the questions which consistently arises when stewards begin to think about giving their money away is to ask 'how much shall we give?' Sometimes this question is a very honest and searching one. Sometimes it is raised as a defense against too heavy a claim upon the available resources."

"There is a very understandable and helpful formula which is given to the Christian person as he searches the Scripture. In part he will learn this from the pages of the Old Testament, and in part he will learn it from the New Testament."

"The one standard which Scriptures does give to us which is consistent with the spirit of the gospel is found in Paul's letters to the Corinthians. The passage most often quoted is I Cor. 16:2—'Give us as God has prospered.' This means that God has given to each of His stewards the responsibility for deciding what part of his income shall be set aside for the special cause of the gospel and the work of the Christian Church."

"It is up to him to come to the decision as to whether the percentage should be 10 per cent, 12 per cent, 15 per cent, or whatever the proportion might be. Certainly this decision of the steward will be made in the light of his own intelligence and the prompting of the Holy Spirit in his own heart."

"There is no arbitrary proportion which is assigned to a man because he belongs to the Christian Church. It is to be assumed that under ordinary circumstances our love for Christ will move us to a standard of giving that will be at least as high as that which was called for under the Hebrew Law."

"In other words, it is a common experience to discover Christian stewards who will be giving a portion which is equal or beyond the tithing. The difference is that this will be their own decision arising out of the Spirit's guidance. As they search need not get into arguments with each other about how much we are to give. We can never really settle the issue in such a way as to bring blessing to a man if it becomes a matter of argument. It probes into his own relationship with Christ."

"Giving is not usually a question of how much money people have, but normally it is a question of how much faith and love they have. The call to the Christian to give is a call to the kind of faith that dares to sacrifice, that dares to give something away because he has an abiding conviction of the importance of the Christian gospel."

"As we ask the question 'How much?' we also are led to wonder when we ought to start in this matter of proportionate giving."

"Obviously, the decision is one which ought not to be postponed. We ought to decide to do it when we are confronted with the importance of it in our own lives. It calls for the disciplining of ourselves, which we know we need in connection with money and with giving."

Rev. Estes Attends Conference

The Rev. Thomas W. Estes, Minister at St. Paul's United Presbyterian Church in Livonia, is currently attending a special conference for young pastors in Turkey Run, Ind. He was invited to the conference by the Board of Christian Education in Philadelphia. Faculty from the Board will discuss Bible Study and the Minister as a Person among other topics at the conference.

K of C Inducts New Members

The Knights of Columbus' All Saints Council No. 4872 of Taylor held a Third Degree ceremony on Sunday, Nov. 29 at the Monsignor Hunt Council Hall. The four candidates, Ellisworth LaFleur, Edward Raad, Daniel Sweeney and Nicholas Weis, began their day with Mass and Communion at Our Lady of Heaven Church.

The Mass was followed by a breakfast. Also present for the breakfast and festivities were Grand Knight, Anthony R. Laframboise and Six-Point Chairman Joseph R. Krupp.

B. H. Geiger, Knight-of-the-month was present for the banquet in the evening honoring the new members.

God's Care For Man Is Topic

God's perpetual care for man in all facets of his life will be the theme at Christian Science services this Sunday. The Bible Lesson is titled "God the Preserver of Man."

Golden Text: "The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower" (Ps. 18:2).

Related readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include these lines: "We shall obey and adore in proportion as we apprehend the divine nature and love Him understandingly, warring no more over the corporeality, but rejoicing in the affluence of our God" (p. 140).

Church Discusses Christian Myth

A series of three sermons entitled "The Christian Myth" will be launched Sunday, Dec. 13, at the 10 a.m. service at the Universalist-Unitarian Church of Farmington by minister Robert Miles Eddy.

The opening talk will be "The Fall," followed by "The Redeemer" on Dec. 20 and "Salvation" on Dec. 27.

Mr. Eddy said that in the series he would examine the whole world view on which Christianity's great plan of salvation is built, and look at the Christmas story in terms of that view.

He also plans, he said, to discuss whether this plan has relevance today, since our world view has changed greatly.

Cornerstone Set At Christ Lutheran

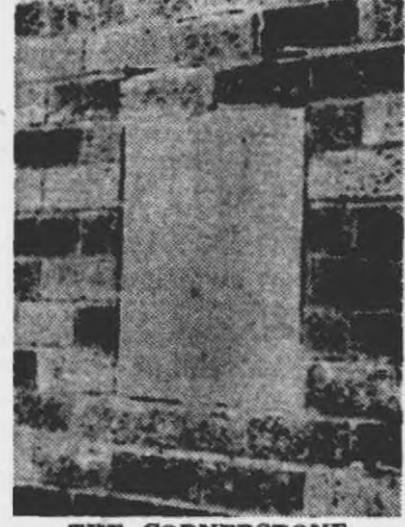

Members of the Christ Lutheran Church of Redford Township witnessed the placing of the cornerstone of the Church's new educational unit Nov. 29.

Mr. Alvin Koeppe, Chairman of the Building Committee, placed the stone with assistance from the building contractor. Mr. Karl Dembowski, President Pro-Tem of the Church Council, officiated at the Scripture Reading prior to placing the stone.

Pastor C. Beireis said that the educational unit is the second building in the plan composed. The unit, which will house the Sunday School and Religious Instruction classes, will consist of twenty classrooms providing space for 400 students.

Seventeen items were placed inside the cornerstone. These included: a collector's item booklet recounting the history of Detroit from beginning colonial days; a collection of coins minted during 1964; a John F. Kennedy Half Dollar; pictures of the ground breaking ceremonies; and the Sunday School Primary Teaching materials in present use.

CURTAIN GOING UP

By WALLY ROBERTS

From the opening satirical slides depicting Conrad Birdie in various states of musical agony to the closing tender moments of Albert Peterson cuddling Rose Alvarez as they walk slowly off in a fading spotlight, the Franklin High School production of "Bye, Bye Birdie" was a smasheroo. Over 200 Franklin students combined their brilliant talents to make this a memorable evening in the theater.

Old Wally was not the only enthusiastic member of the audience. Time after time during the evening, applause broke out spontaneously as the audience clearly recognized an outstanding piece of theatrical work. In the theater this is the top accolade: applause immediately after your exit. In the trade, it is known as "getting a hand." Great rivalries and jealousies arise from such "hands" being awarded. Showstoppers, numbers in which the entire company is given almost a standing ovation by the audience, are in the same category.

Choral Director Ed Mead of Riverside High School was in the "Birdie" audience and was watching the production with great interest since two performers (Kay Grismer and Diane Michalke) worked with him in a student production of "South Pacific" last year. Ed teaches at the Riverside High in Dearborn Heights, but lives in Livonia. Incidentally Mr. Mead can be added to my Hall of Fame list of high school directors that know their theatrical oats. His production this year will be "The Music Man". You can bet I'll be attending.

(Week of December 10-17)

THE BILLBOARD
Fisher Theater "FIRST EDITION '65" Tony Martin and Cyd Charisse adding another notch to their long string of successes with a musical revue. Nipsy Russell, a voluble, ebullient comedian will appear with them. Opens on Tuesday, Dec. 9 for a six-day run.

Plymouth Art Theater "THE DOLL" Awarded the Gold Medal for an Outstanding Swedish Film in 1963. Picture opens on Wednesday, Dec. 9 for one week. Detroit Institute of Arts Theater "PETER PAN" Live stage production of the timeless tale of a boy who wouldn't grow up. Admission: $1.25. Mat. orders now accepted for the Dec. 19 opening. Seven holiday performances to be given on Dec. 19, 20, 27, 28, 29 and 30.

Mercy College "THIRTEEN CLOCKS" Whimsical Thurber play for young and old to enjoy opens Dec. 11 for a four day run... at the McAuley Auditorium, Southfield and Outer Drive.

How is such a fabulous production as this created? Two weeks ago I mentioned the difference a competent high school director can make in the average school show. David Hirvela's name was on that list. Over the years I have seen Dave as he has performed in a score of productions at the University of Michigan. His versatility as an actor was quite evident. Now as the run of "Bye, Bye Birdie" ends, his ability as a director bursts brilliantly into full view.

Five other Franklin High faculty members merged their "show biz" talents to bring forth the magic seen last week in "Bye, Bye Birdie". Mr. Roy Ernst, Mrs. Mary Ann Vosgerchian, Mr. Oliver S. Genn, Mr. Arthur D. Anderson, and Mrs. Mary Ellen Goodwin. Mr. Ernst waved his baton ever so diligently and the 35 members of a perfectly balanced orchestra provided some of the liveliest music heard for many a year in Livonia. His addition of the timpani and xylophone in the percussion section gave zest and zip to the "Birdie" score.

My only regret relative to this teenage triumph is that the powers-that-be did not foresee this smash hit and extend the run of the musical to a second weekend of performances. Such an enthusiastic performance should be enjoyed by everyone in Livonia to help counter-act the feeling that our youth have little or no talent except for getting into trouble.

If the Livonia-Redford Playery Guild has any foresight at

'Harvey' Steals Plymouth Stage
 By SUE SHAUGHNESSY
 The Plymouth Theatre Guild opened its 1964-65 season last weekend with a production of the comedy "Harvey."
 This comedy is noteworthy mainly because of the fact that the protagonist and scene stealer is never seen by the human. That is, he is never seen unless you are one of the select.
 "Harvey" is the protagonist naturally (otherwise why would the play be named in honor of him). The only problem is that Harvey is a 6-foot white rabbit, who allows himself to be seen by a few selected elite.
 In spite of this handicap he stole the show at the Plymouth High School last weekend.
 Giving the unseen hero a battle for the audience's attention was his boon companion, Elwood P. Dowd, as portrayed by Jacob W. Rumpf.
 Once these two characters (which may be either in the traditional or colloquial meaning of the word) made their entrance, the pace of the play picked up considerably. They dominated the stage.
 Fine supporting performances were turned in by Carl Nelson, Ellen McNiece, Helen Fortney, Effie Kuisel and Norma Lovelless.
 The only question remaining is whether or not the Guild can surpass Harvey's dominance in future productions.

Falcons Lose To Bentley, Then Win

One game doesn't make a season, but what happened last Friday night in the season's opener would indicate bright things again are in store this winter for Bentley High's basketball team.

Coach George Fefles' contingent, who'll start their bid for a third straight Suburban Six League title next Friday night at Belleville, had too many guns in registering a 66-53 win over Farmington.

However, it took an uphill battle for the Livonians to take the measure of Coach Jack Quiggle's Farmington forces.

Farmington popped ahead by a 19-7 score in the early going as Mike Wilson pumped in six points and Roy Leach added five.

With Tim Dull garnering eight points and Fred Matevia five, Bentley started its comeback in the second period. But at intermission time, it was still Farmington in front by a score of 29-28.

Then came the explosion.

With Matevia and Dull topping the scoring and Bob Elsner adding considerable help, Bentley outscored Farmington by a 19-10 margin in the third period.

In the period, Matevia tallied seven points, Dull six and Elsner four.

The rest was easy for Bentley, which was to meet Edsel Ford of Dearborn this Tuesday in preparation for the start of league action on Wednesday.

Matevia topped all scorers with 23 points. Dull had 16 and Elsner 14 for the victors. Roy Leach, Farmington's great football back, tossed in six baskets and six points for the losers.

The Bentley reserves also triumphed with little trouble, coming out on top, 67-31, with Gregg Coleman firing in 17 points. Ed Ryan followed with 10.

Here's how the players scored in the varsity game: BENTLEY: Matevia 8-7-23; Dull 7-2-16; Livermore 2-2-6; Faucett 2-4-8; Elsner 4-6-14; Summerman 1-1-3.

FARMINGTON: Olander 5-2-12; Lwach 6-6-18; Dorow 1-1-3; Miracle 4-0-8; Moore 1-2; Wilson 5-0-2.

Size isn't everything in basketball.

Hustle, determination, alert hands, good defense . . . and some good shooting . . . can make up for the lack of height.

This had to be the story of Farmington High's 66-53 victory over arch-rival North Farmington Saturday night.

Plymouth Tankers Triumph

Plymouth high's swimming team started its dual-meet season on a successful note last Wednesday in beating Franklin, 62-43.

Dick Barry, the Rocks' free-style star, led the way with victories in both the 200 and 100-yard races.

Here's the way the meet went:

Medley relay: 1 — Plymouth (Dan Decker, Don Morman, Jim Haarbauer, Al Saxton). Time: 1:56.8.

200-yard free: 1 — Barry (P); 2 — Dick Petrait (F), 3 — Doug Jaskierney (P). Time: 2:08.

50-yard free: 1 — Jeff Burke (P), 2 — Hal Hultquist (F), 3 — Bob Curtner (F). Time: 25.5 seconds.

Individual medley: 1 — Jeff Hoffman (P), 2 — Jim Oburger (F).

Diving: 1 — Dave Cook (P), 2 — Dick Lorenz (P), 3 — John Zwicker (F).

Bentley Wrestlers Win Again

Bentley High's wrestling team scored a 27-21 victory over Fordson for the second win of the season.

The Bentley results: 95 pounds — Joe Pullin won. 103 — Pat Landis won on a fall.

112 — Ron McBride won decision.

120 — Steve Dresner lost.

127 — Ron Szedejko won decision.

133 — Mike Dow lost.

138 — Marv LaVassar won decision.

145 — Mike Wenson won decision.

154 — Bill McAlpine lost.

165 — Don Wells pinned foe.

180 — Dave Wolf lost.

Heavyweight — Tom Shepherd lost.

Tartars Select Two Grid Pilots

Wayne State football team members selected a pair of senior ends, Jim Carmichael and Bob Schroeder, to co-captain the team next year.

Tom Grange was selected the team's most valuable back and Carmichael received the nod as most valuable lineman as the team's choice in those categories.

LOSES BATTLE: Tom Cannon (50) of Franklin is outjumped by two Wayne High players for a rebound. Franklin lost the game by one point.

HANDS-UP—Bentley and Farmington players reach high for a rebound. John Olander (15) and Greg Dorow (35) hope to get the ball away from Bentley's Tim Dull (54). Bentley won.

Jitters Cost Franklin Win

Call it the first-game "blues" which led to Franklin's heart-breaking 54-53 setback at the hands of Wayne High Saturday night in the campaign's opener for the South Livonians.

Coach John Hartsig, making his debut as bossman for the Franklin cagers, expressed satisfaction with his team's showing.

"The boys moved the ball well," said Hartsig. "They worked very hard out there and set up some nice plays."

"But it seemed to me that they had a case of early jitters and as a result they missed some easy shots, several from close in . . . and that's what hurt us badly."

Franklin never was able to get ahead of its rival from Wayne.

The score was tied at 12-12 at the end of the first quarter. Halftime saw Wayne in front, 36-30.

At the three-quarter junction, the score showed Wayne holding a scanty, 43-40 edge.

The outside shooting of Ron Jones and Charles Knechtges helped Wayne. The former hit for 16 points and Knechtges with 12.

"We didn't let them get in too close for many shots," explained Hartsig. "We gave them the tough shot . . . and when those kind connect, well, there is little that you can do."

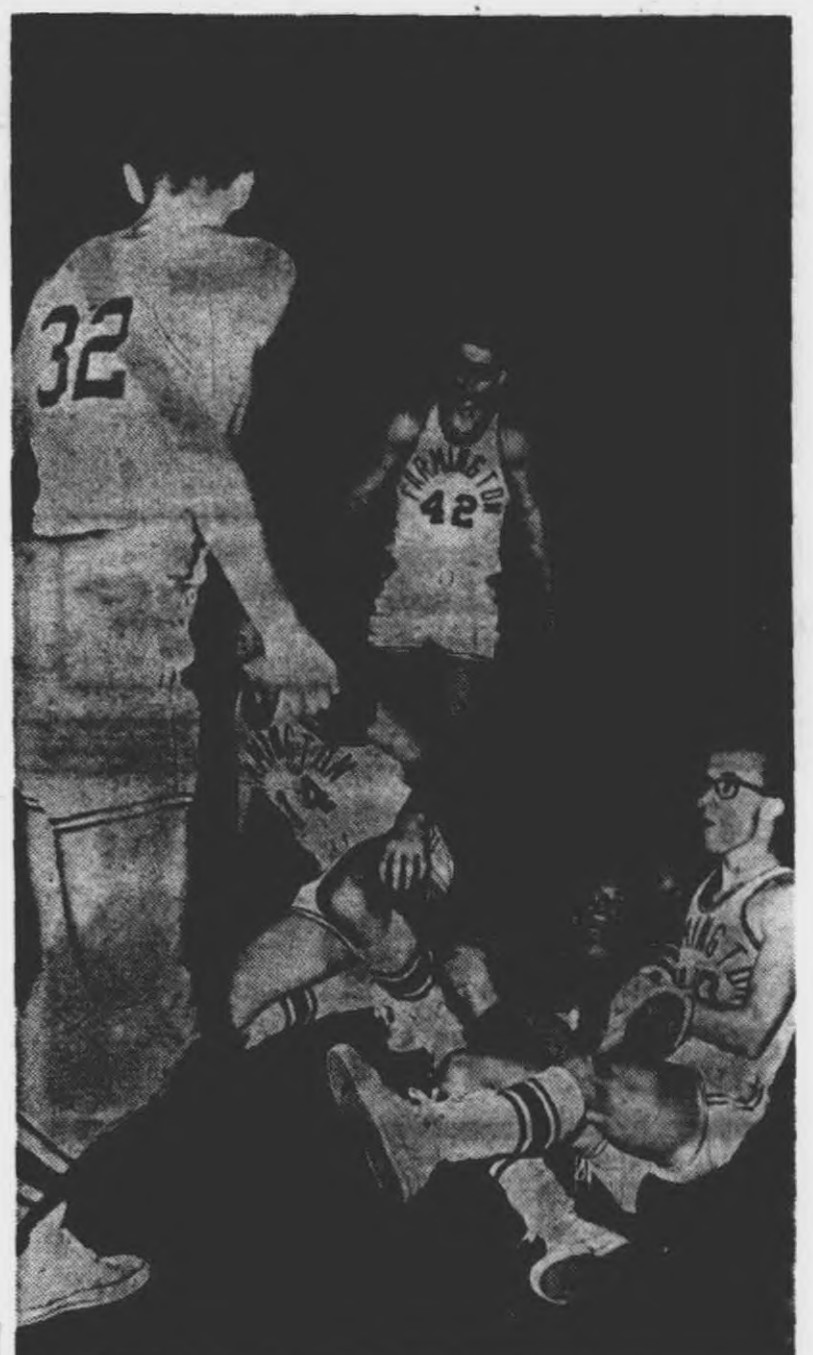

Franklin unveiled a balanced scoring attack, which is reflected in the summary that follows:

Al Jose, 6-0-12; Sam Antonazzo, 5-0-10; Steve Atkinson, 4-1-9; Bill Bauer, 3-2-8; Tom Cannon, 3-1-7; Paul Katosh, 1-1-3, and Dale Lee, 2-0-4.

The Franklin reserves also wound up on the short end, bowing by a 43-33 score. Fred Davies led the losers with seven points.

This Friday night marks the opening of the Northwest Suburban League schedule for Franklin as the Livonians entertain Oak Park.

Coach Hartsig is hopeful that with the jitters gone, Franklin can jump off to a flying start in the league campaign.

"TAKE IT EASY"—Members of Farmington and North Farmington teams hit the floor in scramble for loose ball. Mike Maattala (glasses) and John Olander (14) go down for Farmington, with Bill Oldershaw of North Farmington. The Farmington team triumphed.

OBSERVER SPORTS

By George Maskin

Don Friederichs is a little man who works among giants. The five-foot, six-inch Friederichs is the trainer of the Detroit Pistons, whose smallest player stands around 6-3. And, the tallest Piston, Reggie Harding, checks in around the seven-foot mark.

But none of the Pistons push Friederichs around. He's the man the players seek out when they have a pain in the neck, elbow, side or knees.

Knees, did we say?

Well, that's the subject of this barrage of words today. Friederichs, Pistons Executive Manager Don Watrick and yours truly were sitting around the hotel in Philadelphia the other afternoon.

All of us had one worry. Would the Pistons be able to get back home in time for their next game. In Philadelphia, it was raining and so foggy, you couldn't see across the street. In Detroit, the weatherman was talking about three inches or more of snow.

About that moment, ex-Purdue great Terry Dischinger, who now stars for the Pistons, entered the room. And, quick as a flash, the conversation switched to knees and whether players should wear knee pads.

Friederichs did most of the talking.

"It's a crime that players have discarded an item which costs something like $1.50 and thus endanger not only their basketball careers, but also their walking ability for the rest of their lives," Friederichs said.

The Piston trainer, who has been around pro basketball players for more than 14 years, says that he can remember when all the pros came on to the floor with knee pads on.

"When the kids in high schools and lower levels saw the pros with knee pads, they, too, would use them," declared Friederichs.

"Then the pros started to discard the pads. Maybe they thought it made them look like sissies, or something. As soon as that happened, the kids followed suit. Now very few players wear them.

"It's a shame, too.

"Baseball rules demand that every batter now wear a helmet. It's the same in football. Hockey players wouldn't think of going onto the ice without the proper protection and in the school level they even wear helmets. So do some of the pros.

"Yet, the basketball players steer away from protection. They're obviously unaware that more players suffered from knee injuries or ailments than any other trouble. And this holds true in all sports."

Friederichs paused for a few seconds before elaborating on what could go around with the pounding the knees take in basketball.

"Just let a player jar a knee a few times in the same place as he battles for a loose ball and hits the floor," the Pistons' trainer said.

"Sure, the outer wound will heal up and it won't show anything. But inside, it's different.

"We see it all the time among the pros and a lot of fellows who played schoolboy basketball and college basketball keep complaining to me why do their knees hurt them.

"The story is plain and simple. When the man reaches the age of around 25, he doesn't know it . . . but bursitis has set into the knee cap which kept bouncing off the hardwood floor.

"If the man does a lot of walking or playing of basketball or golf, he finds that after a few days he's in great pain . . . and he needs to rest his legs.

"All of this could have been avoided . . . if, when he was

Thurston Cagers Lose Twice

One year makes such a big difference. In 1963-64, Thurston High bounced away to a flying start in basketball and wound up sharing the Northwest Suburban League title with North Farmington.

A new season has dawned after the first week of action, Thurston's record reads: two defeats and no victories.

The South Redford Township dropped a toughie to Berkley, 52-50, on Thursday evening and then were no match for the Assumption team from Windsor, 61-33.

What happened in the two games substantiated Coach Mike Pasternak's pre-season statement that Thurston was in the need of shooters.

In both contests, only John Page was able to strike with any success for the Townshipers. He counted 20 points against Berkley and 18 against Assumption.

"We have to find at least one more fellow to score with Page, or we'll be in real trouble all season," Pasternak said after the week's action was completed.

Thurston fought Berkley on virtually even terms all the way.

The score was 17-17 at the end of the first period and 29-29 at halftime. Berkley took a 43-42 edge going into the final quarter, but Thurston matched matters late in the game.

Then a layup shot by Bill Link with 45 seconds to go and a foul by Al Hagland a half-minute later provided Berkley with the margin of victory.

Here's the way Thurston scored against Berkley:

Page 8-4-20; Mike Shaner 4-1-9; Gary Knock 3-2-8; Gary Schulte 2-2-6; Rich Stefani 1-1-3; Barry Simescu 1-1-3.

In the game against Assumption, the Canadians roared off a 29-15 lead by halftime, and never were threatened the rest of the way as Bill MacInnes led the way with 11 baskets and three charities for 25 points.

Except for Page, no other Thurston player managed more than six points. The Thurston totals:

Koester 2-2-6; Bernhardt 1-1-3; Morgan 1-0-2; Knock 0-2-2; Stefani 0-1-1; Schulte 0-1-1.

Thurston's reserves rallied to nip Berkley, 55-54, as Don Block led with 15 points and Rick Barringer had nine. Barringer scored 13, Rick Steffen 14 and Block nine in the reserves' 54-35 win over Assumption.

This Friday night the league season opens for Thurston where it ended in the 1963-64 season.

Thurston goes against North Farmington.

North Farmington won from Thurston in the '63-'64 finale to gain a share of the flag.

St. Agatha 'Learns,' And Wins

Victory may be all important, but it's just as important — to many high school coaches — that their pupils learn something from game to game.

St. Agatha's basketball team, under Coach Dave Brazil, did just that.

In their first game of the season, St. Agatha wasn't able to cope with a man-to-man defense. The result was a defeat.

Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes tried the same strategy against St. Agatha last Friday evening. It didn't work.

St. Agatha walked away to an easy 58-40 win to bring its record for the season to one-one.

"I was very proud of the way the kids improved in just one week," said Brazil. "We had spent our practices on how to move against a man-to-man defense. The boys sure learned in a hurry how to handle the situation properly."

There was another bright spot for St. Agatha . . . the rebounding of Phil Davidson and Ron Zimmerman. Pat Murphy, the only junior starter, also did a fine job in helping to put St. Agatha on the victory board. And, then there was the scoring of Mike Roemer.

Friday's game was tied at 12-12 after one quarter.

In the second stanza, Murphy's shooting enabled St. Agatha to pull in front, 28-21, by the half-time margin.

When the third period began, St. Agatha ripped in six straight points and was never in trouble again.

Roemer turned in one of the top scoring efforts of any St. Agatha in history. He nailed 12 baskets and six free throws for a total of 30 points.

Mike Murphy followed with 14 points on six hoops and two charities. Davidson, Zimmerman and Lilley accounted for the rest of the St. Agatha scoring. Each had eight points.

This Friday night, St. Agatha goes against Orchard Lake St. Mary's, which is regarded as the team to beat for the divisional crown.

The game will carry added significance. In the recent football season, it was St. Agatha and Orchard Lake that tied for the division crown.

St. Agatha reserves also won last Friday, taking a 44-34 verdict as Pat Timmons led with 16 points.

Honors To Trenton Swimmers

Trenton High's swimming team ran away with honors Saturday night in the first annual Redford Union prep relays at the R.U. pool.

The Trenton team rolled up 86 points to Dearborn Edsel Ford's 68. Allen Park had 60, Riverview 50, Redford Union 44, Plymouth 32 and Bentley 18.

Then came Belleville with 12, Wayne 10, Ypsilanti 8, Garden City 4 and Warren with none.

Host Redford Union won only one of the events — all held as part of relays.

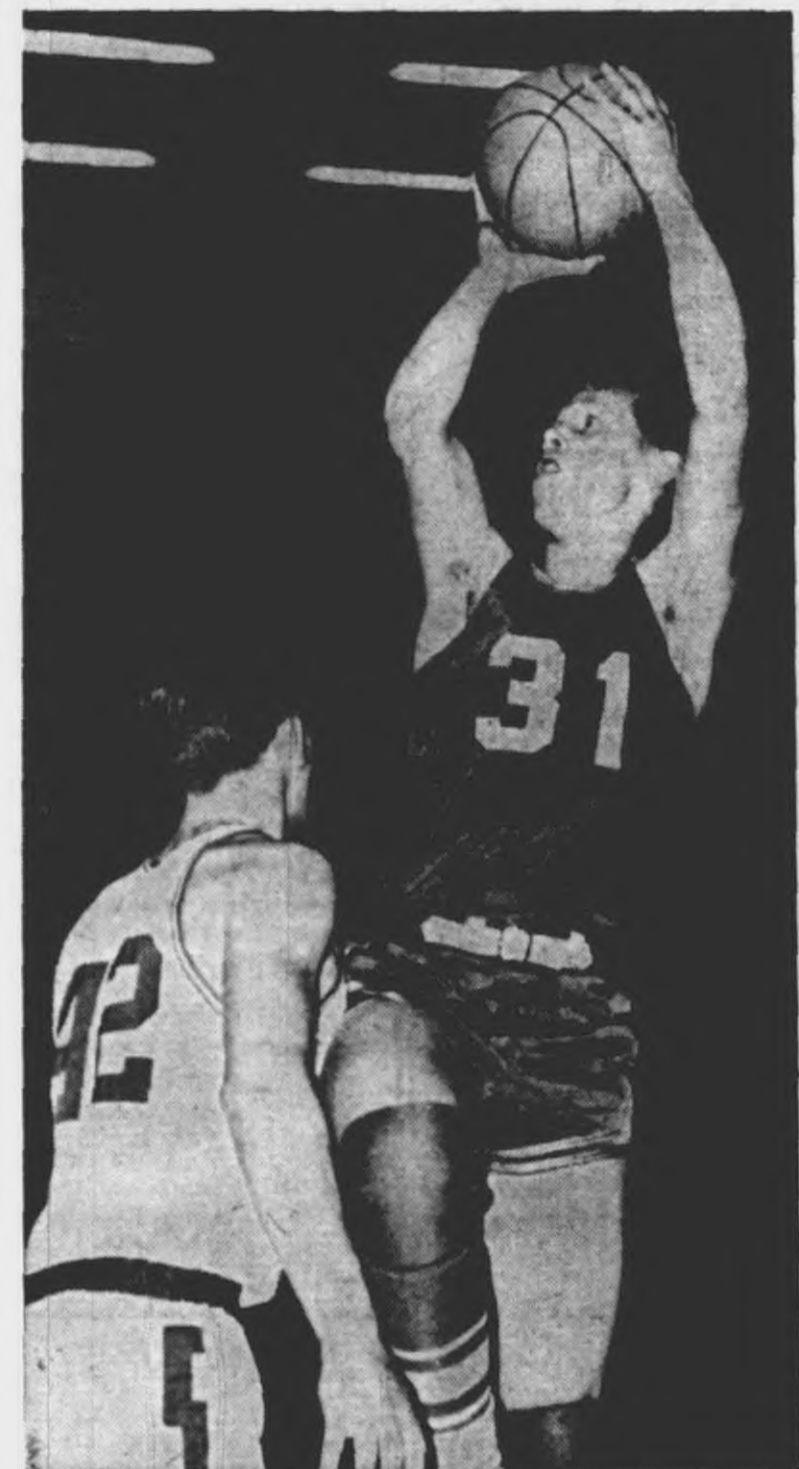

Bob Lagona and Jim Schoenfeld combined to capture the diving relay.

Plymouth scored one victory with Dick Barry, Jeff Burke, Al Saxton and Dave Cook combining to capture the 200-yard free style.

Pick Co-Captains At Clarenceville

Al Weister, football All-American from the University of Michigan, was the guest speaker for the Clarenceville Optimist Club 13th Annual High School Athletic Banquet held at the Parker House.

James Bedson was named the most valuable player for this past football season and Jim Prisk and Chris Hawkins as 1965 co-captains. Cameron Nelson was named as most improved player for 1964.

JUMPER-SHOOTER: He's Leland Bjerke (31) of Redford Union, who goes high to score against Richard Smigielski of Southfield. The RU team lost.

R.U. No Match For Southfield '5'

Inexperience haunted Redford Union High School's basketball team on opening night last Friday against Southfield.

The North Townshipers had a tough time getting started and before they knew it, they were down by a 20-12 score at the end of the first period and trailing 39-22 at halftime.

"We just were rattled by what Southfield was doing," declared Milo Karhu, the Redford Union coach.

"Our lack of height also hurt us. We couldn't do much in the way of rebounding. We'll also have to do something about sharpening up our defense; we can't let future opponents walk in and score as easily as Southfield did.

Redford Union received a fine scoring effort from Harry Kendrick and Orin Newton.

Kendrick flipped in 19 points on six baskets and seven free throws. Newton had seven hoops and two free throws for 16 points.

Al Maebach had three baskets for six points; Leland Bjerke five points, Mike McCrea four, Doug Mach four and Steve Crow two to round out the scoring for the losers.

More trouble appears on the immediate horizon for Redford Union. The Townshipers start their league season this Friday night against Belleville which knocked off strong Wayne in a non-leaguer last Friday evening.

The Detroit Lions have had All-Pro performers for the past 15 consecutive years, the last six of which have been dominated by defensive players. Lou Creekmur, 1957, was the last player to earn All-Pro honors on offense.

Shooting Off, Rocks Nosed Out

If the Plymouth High basketball team can improve on its shooting, the Rocks should be a tough team to beat in the Suburban Six League title chase which starts this Friday night.

With better marksmanship, the Rocks easily could have downed Walled Lake in the season's opener last Friday night.

However, as they say in basketball, the Rocks "weren't hitting" and as a consequence they fell just short and suffered a 46-44 loss at the hands of the always stronger Lakers.

Just how "off" the Rocks were in their shooting was reflected in statistics presented after the first half.

The Rocks were able to hit on only four of 36 shots from the floor and were little better at the free throw line with eight conversions in 26 attempts.

The failure to "hit" left Plymouth on the short end of a 21-16 score at half.

"We should have had them on the run," said Coach Charles Ketterer of the Rocks. "We made nice plays and did everything else pretty well. But, the shooting was — very poor."

The Rocks fought back to take the lead in the fourth period with about three minutes to go. But they didn't stay in front very long as the Lakers fired right back to seize command again. And the Lakers then held on to gain the triumph.

Dave Tidwell had 15 points on five baskets and five charities to pace the Rocks. Next was Grady with nine points on three baskets and three free throws.

Dave Hollingsworth had 2-3-7; Jim Lake 2-1-5; John Hannula 0-2-2; Don Crawford 1-1-3; John Daniel 1-0-2 and John Sharman 0-1-1, to round out the Plymouth scoring.

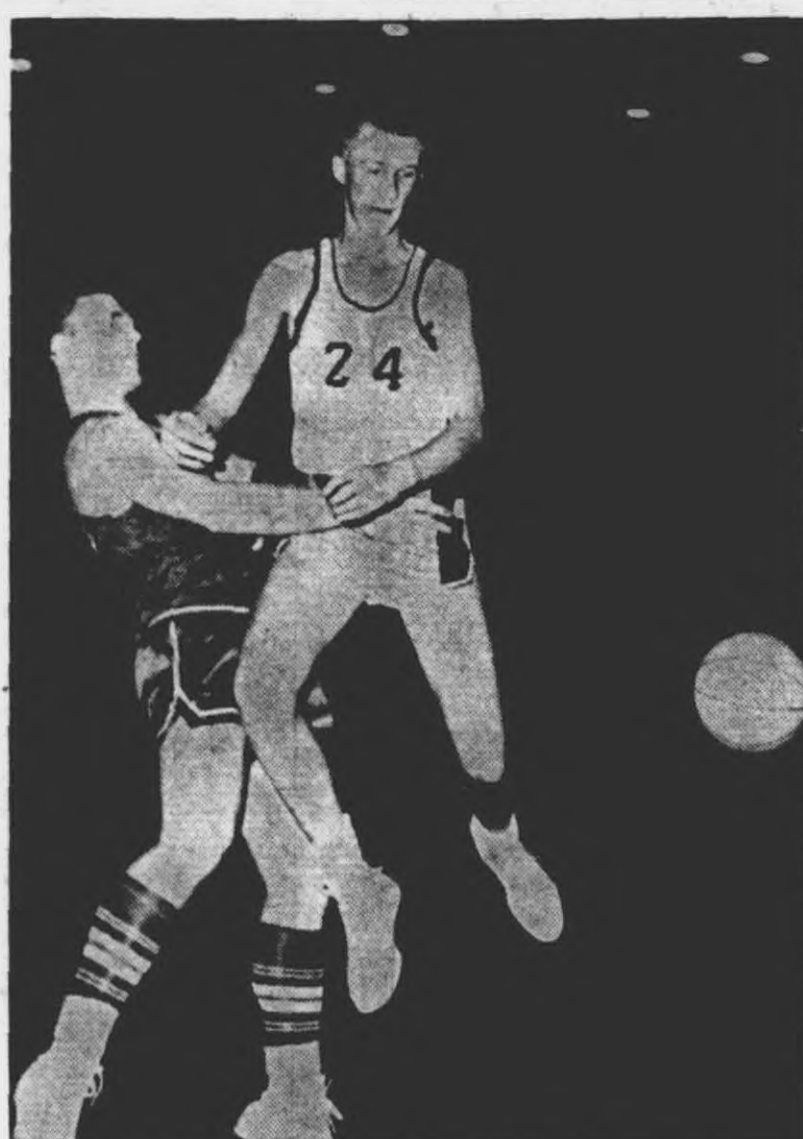

The Rocks start their league campaign this Friday night as they invade the lair of Bentley. On Saturday evening, Plymouth goes against Northville on the latter's court in the battle of the two-arch, non-league rivals.

Plymouth's reserves did very well against Walled Lake, taking a 77-45 verdict.

N. Farmington Victors on Mat

North Farmington's wrestling team now has won two straight matches.

First there was a 40-7 win over Clarenceville, then a 31-11 triumph over North Farmington.

'EXCUSE ME'—Gary Schulte (24) of Thurston bumps into a Berkley rival as they watch ball pop loose. Berkley emerged as the game winner.

Thurston Matmen Star

Thurston High came up with three winners in the quadrangular wrestling meet staged at the South Redford school Saturday. Paul Christie (133 pounds), Mike McCreedy (138) and Heavyweight Jerry Sostack took individual honors for the host team.

Lawrence Tech To Host Ohioans

Lawrence Tech will seek its second home basketball victory Saturday night, meeting Youngstown University at the Levey Junior High gym, Nine Mile west of Telegraph, in Southfield.

Overall, Ann Arbor led in victories with five. Lansing Eastern had three along with Thurston while Berkley produced one victory.

Doug Belknap (95 pounds) and brother, Dave (112), each was a runnerup for Thurston along with Pete Marsalese (154). Paul Liddell (103), Mike Eudis (127), Randy Ault (145) and Jim Blazo (165) gained thirds for Thurston.

Thurston and Bentley were to enter the Garden City Invitational this weekend.

Observing Sports

playing high school and college basketball, he'd have used a pair of those inexpensive knee pads."

Friederichs insists that prep and grade-school coaches are doing their players a disservice by NOT insisting they wear knee pads in every practice and every game.

"Back in New York, I harped on this subject for a long time," Friederichs told us. "I finally got four or five coaches of high school teams to make the knee pads mandatory."

"These coaches can't thank me enough now. One of the coaches happens to guide the Power Memorial team in New York, ranked by many of the experts as the top prep quintet in the country this season."

"The coaches say that their players aren't affected in any way by the pads . . . that, they run just as fast and aren't worried anymore when it comes to diving along the floor for a loose ball."

So bring back the knee pads. For a buck and a half, per player, how can any schoolboy team go wrong?

ODDS AND ENDS: It's a shame that the University of Detroit has dropped football. Once more, the old axiom of sports has prevailed: "Win or else."

When you lose, only troubles beset you. This holds true on the high school as well as the collegiate level. We well recall that just a year ago, some folks around Franklin high were shouting because the Franklin footballers weren't winning enough under Jack Hudnut.

Hudnut never said so, but the "cries" might have had a lot to do with his retiring from the prep school wars. Yet, the team he had molded was the same one that Bob Bentley led to a perfect season in 1964 . . . and Bentley was the first to credit his predecessor for having laid the foundation for the great year Franklin enjoyed in '64.

Sorry, we have no tickets for the Michigan-Wichita basketball game at Cobo Arena next Monday evening or the Michigan-Oregon State football battle in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day.

We're not in the television business, but if you're a sportsman and going to buy a new TV for Christmas, make sure it has Channel 50 set to go.

That's the new channel which will hit the airways on the second day of 1965 . . . and you'll be seeing all the sports your eyes can stomach.

Many of the Red Wings games will be on . . . So will those involving the Pistons, Michigan, Michigan State, etc. All the new sets on the market are supposed to have Channel 50. Don't buy a "new one" with the UHF stations.

What a week this has been for yours truly. In between editions we've hopped to New York, Indianapolis and Philadelphia.

Wings Host To Chicago

The Detroit Red Wings host their first Saturday night game of the season this week with the Chicago Black Hawks serving up the opposition.

The Detroit Red Wings host for 1964 ends. They have a Dec. 17 date with Boston, meet Toronto on Dec. 20, Montreal on Dec. 25, New York on Dec. 27 and Chicago on New Year's Eve.

The Wings also will be home at Olympia five other times before 1964 ends. They have a Dec. 17 date with Boston, meet Toronto on Dec. 20, Montreal on Dec. 25, New York on Dec. 27 and Chicago on New Year's Eve. Olympia also will be the scene of action on Dec. 26 of the Harlem Globetrotters game.

BUYING OR SELLING REAL ESTATE OUR STAFF CAN HELP YOU

WE WOULD LIKE YOU TO MEET OUR STAFF, THEY KNOW THAT THEIR FUTURE RESTS ON YOUR SATISFACTION. THEY HAVE THE ABILITY AND KNOWLEDGE AVAILABLE TO ASSIST YOU IN ANY REAL ESTATE PROBLEM.

I'm Carl. I have been Treasurer of the City of Livonia since 1944. Was a member of the Livonia Charter Commission. I have lived in this area since 1908. Because of my knowledge of this area, many people have asked my advice concerning where to buy or build their homes, I decided to sell real estate part-time. I enjoy it because to me it consists of dealing with the public in another capacity. I have four married children. I live on Golfview in Livonia. I am a past president and charter member of the Livonia Rotary Club and a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

I'm Charles—and I have made many friends over a number of years in this community. As sole owner of Livonia Refrigeration Sales and Service for 25 years, our accounts consisted of people with commercial, residential and industrial properties. Also, as City Inspector for the City of Livonia for 12 years, I had the opportunity of working with numerous residents and business people. I have two sons—enjoy bowling and am a member of the Masonic Order of Free and Accepted Masons, Livonia Lodge 586.

I'm Oriand, lived in this area for a number of years—graduating from Redford High in 1951 and moving to Livonia in 1959. My work experience for the past eleven years has been in Industrial Sales and Sales Management. This background has been invaluable in selling real estate (commercial properties and businesses); and has provided the ability and desire to understand and satisfy our customers' requirements. My hobbies are hunting and fishing—when I can find time. I also belong to Palestine Lodge #387, Free and Accepted Masons.

I'm Bill. I was with the Sears, Roebuck Co. for 11 years before coming to the J. L. Hudson Real Estate Co. I attended the Detroit School of Real Estate. I have owned and operated my own small retail business. I have 18 years in sales and service to the public. I hope to spend the rest of my life dealing with people. I like people and try not to just give them lip service. I believe a salesman owes his client complete honesty and has a duty not to misrepresent facts. I try to live up to that standard. I live with my wife Louise and my three children, Bobby, Debra, and Patricia on Merriman Rd.

Set Meeting at Schoolcraft on New Community College

The Wayne County Intermediate Board of Education will convene area School Boards to inform 39 districts—including Redford Union and South Redford—on Tuesday, December 17, at 8 p.m. about the proposed Wayne County Community College organizational study plan. School Board members and their superintendents will meet in the Schoolcraft College Library, 18600 Haggerty Road, Livonia, to consider plans for a Citizens' Study Committee.

The present Wayne County Board action of Wednesday,

November 25, continues the mandate of the official resolution at its October 28 meeting. The resolution adopted on October 28 stated "... the Intermediate School District does hereby designate that a citizen's participatory committee be formed to study all matters pertaining to the feasibility of the organization of a Wayne County Community College District."

"We want the superintendents and their board members to fully understand their legal responsibilities brought about by the recent actions of the Intermediate Board of Education," stated William A. Shunck, Superintendent of the Wayne County Intermediate Board of Education.

"There is a need for extensive study of the 39 district area affected by the community college organizational plan. A representative citizens' committee is necessary to explore site possibilities, financial data, and curriculum needs of post-high school youth in the Wayne County area," concluded Shunck.

Dr. Robert Keene, Educational Consultant for the Intermediate Office of Education, will discuss the organization of a county-wide citizens' committee. Emphasis will be on the responsibilities of the citizens' committee to the study itself, to their local boards of education, and the total community.

After the study has been completed, the Wayne County Intermediate Board of Education will apply for permission from the State Department of Public Instruction to hold an election in the total area affected for the establishment of a community college district.

Carl Morris, President of the Wayne County Intermediate Board of Education, announced in further board business on November 25, the retention of Professor Raymond J. Young of the University of Michigan to serve as a consultant for the 39 district study. "With as important and as extensive a study to be carried on during the next year our Board felt that Dr. Young's services would be most beneficial," said Morris.

Dr. Young recently served as consultant to the Northwestern Community College district (Livonia, Garden City, Northville, Clarenceville and Plymouth) during its formative stages. The present Wayne County community college study will be conducted in all the districts with the exception of the five school districts presently in the Schoolcraft College area.

Three Livonia Policemen Attend Traffic Institute

A series of Traffic Management and Planning Institutes have been offered locally in November by the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police to personnel of municipal police and sheriff's departments throughout the state.

The objectives of the Institutes are:

- To help administrators improve police traffic operations.
- To explain recommended methods and materials and traffic records systems.
- To demonstrate use of accident and enforcement data in planning traffic improvements.
- To illustrate use of traffic data in planning budgets, obtaining most effective expenditure of funds and use of manpower.

In addition to the National Safety Council, the following Michigan organizations are assisting the MACP in presenting the Institutes: Insurance Information Service, Municipal League, State Police, Sheriff's Association and MSU Highway Traffic Safety Center.

The Institutes were attended by three of Livonia's traffic officers. They were: Sergeant Robert Thorne, officer in charge of the Traffic Bureau, and Patrolmen Ronald Butcher and Richard Ericson.

Included in the list of instructors are two national experts: Elbert Hugumin from the National Safety Council and M. W. Pletcher (formerly with the TSA), chief of the accident records branch of the Bureau of Public Roads, Washington, D.C.

Men of St. Michael's To Meet

An assistant Wayne County Prosecutor, John J. McConnell, will speak at the St. Michael's Holy Name Society Breakfast Sunday, Dec. 13. The breakfast will be in the parish Activities Building, following the 7:30 mass.

Mr. McConnell, an ex-Detroit Police detective, is considered an expert on embezzlement cases. He will talk about the Prosecutor's Office and what the Catholic Layman can do to aid law enforcement.

All the men of the parish are invited to attend.

PEOPLE to PEOPLE

Human Relations News For The Suburbs

(Editor's note: This new OBSERVER feature is prepared weekly by members of Plymouth, Redford Township, Livonia and Farmington human relations associations and will appear on a rotating basis from all four groups. Today's contribution is by a representative of the Plymouth Assembly for Equal Opportunity.)

By NORMAN THOBURN

Several weeks ago we had a pair of visitors in Plymouth. They came to tell us of their experience in Mississippi last summer. They were among the 800 or so who went there then in order to work for equal rights for Negroes.

They told us about the incredible become commonplace, of a police state where law is cynically misused to protect the violent and harass the restrained, of savagery and fear, and of the slowly awakening hopes of the inheritors of the slaves of a century and more ago.

All of this has been said before, of course. Mississippi has been in the news and in our thoughts for some months now. Not that it doesn't bear repeating. It's easy to forget unless we are reminded now and then this is something which we can't ignore.

One of the visitors was concerned most of all with the notion that what goes on in Mississippi is the business of nobody outside of that unfortunate state. State's rights are fine, said he, but they should always take a back seat to human rights. When human rights are violated, we all pay the price, materially and otherwise.

While he didn't get a chance to go into this any further during the evening, what he had said served to trigger more thoughts among those who heard him.

Without question the presence of poverty drags us all down economically, the rich, the middle class comfortable, and the poor alike. Our greatest economic resource is consumer demand backed up by mass purchasing power. It works for all of us. Superhighways, for instance would never have been built for Cadillacs alone, or even seriously considered. It took millions of Fords and their equivalents to make these possible—and to make the Cadillac possible too for that matter. The electronic and other technological developments of our times could not have happened without a tremendous mass market demanding and supporting them. Deliberately reducing that market by holding down a group of people is like tying your own hand behind your back.

More important, our freedoms are involved too. Unless the freedoms of each of us are safe, the freedoms of all of us are in peril. We all have an investment in the Bill of Rights. These principles must be defended regardless of the worthiness or unworthiness of the people being shielded by them at any given time. The rights you save may well turn out to be your own.

Probably most important are the effects of arbitrary discrimination on those who practice it, which probably includes the whole human race. The effects may be subtle, but they're nonetheless real. To surrender principles meekly, to deny freedoms to others, and for reasons which at best don't bear very close inspection, is to become cheapened. We don't think much of ourselves at such times, and self respect is an essential ingredient of civilization. When we lose it we look for revenge, not for progress. Worse yet, one way or another we find it, which starts us on the next round, and so on and so on.

Denying human rights to others is a dangerous game. It backfires. Look at Mississippi—and don't throw stones. Those people need help, not censure. We'll all be better off when they get it.

What kind of a tiger do you want under your hood? (Have you priced a tiger lately?)

If you're handy with a whip and chair, go for the 360-hp GTO. It bites. But then, even the 336-hp GTO bites. If you want a slightly more civilized package (but with lots of the GTO muscle), try the Le Mans. You can get it with a six or either of two V-8s. They all have bucket seats, Carpeting, and cost less than some tame cats. So go price a tiger.

Jehovah's Witnesses Plan Conference

The Watchtower Bible and Tract Society has officially announced its plans to sponsor a three-day assembly of Michigan Circuit No. 5 of Jehovah's Witnesses in Livonia on Dec. 25-27.

The assembly will attract some 2,000 ministers who will gather for the purpose of advancing Christian Bible education.

Mr. John Barton, presiding minister of the local congregation, in discussing the assembly said, "the program will equip each witness in the practical use of the Bible and help fortify spiritually the people of Livonia."

The assembly will be held at Franklin High School.

Invitation To Visit

The public is invited to visit the new building of Fourth Church of Christ Scientist, Detroit at 24400 W. Seven Mile Rd. Services are held each Sunday at 11 a.m. and Wednesday at 8 p.m. Sunday School classes are at 11 a.m.

Your Child's Homework

By DUMONT F. HIXSON, JR.

Reading should be active rather than passive. SQ3R is an active reading and study skills method that enables the student to obtain more from his textbook reading. Although there are slight variations of this technique, the one presented here is quite easy for the parent to teach the child.

The first symbol, "S" stands for survey. In the survey the student gets an overview of the material, forms his purpose, and constructs a "set" for the reading act by using the following procedure. He reads the main headings. He reads the first or introductory paragraph completely. He reads the first sentence of each paragraph. He reads the last paragraph or the conclusion completely. The student now has an overview of the material. Students of Gestalt psychology recognize the importance of framing experience in this manner. By so doing the student has avoided one of the commonest errors of the poor reader—the inability to separate details from main ideas. The student should be able to pick out the main ideas in the survey.

"Q" involves questions. It is not actually a separate act, but it occurs simultaneously with the survey. As the student reads the main headings and first sentences, he turns them into questions. He also reads any questions at the conclusions of the material since he will be involved in answering them. The student now has formulated his purpose—to answer the questions that he has constructed and those already provided. Numerous research studies have shown the value of forming a purpose in the improvement of speed and comprehension in reading.

The reading, or first "R" is now initiated. The student reads actively to answer the question rather than merely attempting to assimilate the information passively.

The second "R" is recite. The student attempts to recall the material orally. The very motor act of recitation helps reinforce memory traces. Moreover the student is in effect listening to himself, and many individuals learn and retain more through listening than reading. Self recitation also points out any failure in recall.

The review is then completed. Properly this constitutes a summarizing of the main points. Woodring and Fleming have shown that summarizing is in general superior to either rereading or to underlining.

The entire SQ3R process should be committed to paper in the student's notebook. The paper is divided into three columns. Questions are written in the left column. Answers are inserted in the middle area. And the right column contains the summary used for review.

Kuryla Gets Ford Post In Mexico

Stanley N. Kuryla, formerly executive director of Ford Motor Company's Marketing Staff, has been appointed assistant general manager of Ford Motor Company S.A. (Mexico).

He has been succeeded as executive director of the company's Marketing Staff by E. F. Laux who had been general sales manager of the company's Ford Division.

Kuryla's appointment follows 13 years of experience in company finance and marketing activities. He joined Ford in 1951 as an analyst on the Finance Staff. He served as programming manager, assistant treasurer and assistant controller prior to this appointment as executive director of the Marketing Staff in November, 1963.

He joins Ford of Mexico which has operated assembly facilities since 1925. The company this month dedicated a new engine plant, foundry, quality control laboratories, product engineering laboratories and Mexico's only full-scale test track.

Kuryla was born in Mexico, where his father worked as a mining engineer. He is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and has lived in Birmingham, Mich.

Time may be money, but it's seldom an even trade.

If you're smart enough to handle any situation, you can probably get away with this. Our touch of black lingerie lace, set into a deceptively discreet suede pump. If you're still not sure whether you should or you shouldn't, we'll let you try on the Lacy Lingerie in private before you decide. It won't cost you anything to look.
