Governor Heads Mourners At Chandler Rites

The pen of Paul M. Chandler, editor-publisher of the Observer Newspapers, was silenced forever Saturday morning when he was stricken by an apparent heart attack while having an early morning snack at his home.

Paul, who was never in better spirits at the conclusion of Friday's work day, apparently had awoke early in the morning and decided to have a snack.

His wife, Myra, women's editor of the Observer Newspapers, awakened shortly afterward, discovered her husband wasn't in bed and went to the kitchen.

She found him slumped over the table, apparently asleep, but couldn't awaken him. Alarmed at his condition, Mrs. Chandler called the Livonia Fire and Police Departments.

Each had equipment at the home within minutes and both crews worked frantically to revive Mr. Chandler. Their efforts were in vain and he was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Mary Hospital.

Stricken by a damaging heart attack last March while on the floor of the State Legislature where he was serving as representative, Mr. Chandler was hospitalized for three months before being sent home to recuperate.

Since that time he had been active in the operation of the Observer Newspapers and in his successful campaign for State Senate. He was one of two Republicans elected to state offices from Wayne County in the November election.

The body lay in state in the R.G. and G.R. Harris Funeral Home on Farmington Road on Saturday and Sunday where hundreds of his friends from all walks of life, paid their final respects.

Telegrams, letters and messages of condolences poured into the home at 13715 Southampton Road in Livonia over the weekend.

They came from Gov. George Romney, a personal friend of Mr. Chandler during his two years in office as state representative; state officials at all levels, his friends in the newspaper world in the suburban and metropolitan field, city and township officials from all parts of Western Wayne County and Western Oakland County as well as from the Wayne County and City of Detroit official families.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon in Faith Lutheran Church in charge of Rev. Ronald Starenko with burial in Glen Eden Memorial Park Cemetery.

Gov. Romney headed a 10-man representative delegation from the State Legislature at the rites.

Paying final tribute to a fearless editor, energetic legislator, patient father and a friend to all were: a delegation from the Livonia City Government headed by Mayor Harvey Moelke, representatives of the City of Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Redford Township, Schoolcraft College and school boards throughout the area.

More than 400 heard Rev. Starenko tell of the qualities that made Paul such a leader in the community and the state.

Pallbearers were members of the Observer family including: Raymond Sage, William Mann, Larry House, Larry Darnell, William Baron and Joseph Busetto. They carried the flag-draped casket from the church to the waiting hearse and to the final resting place in Glen Eden Cemetery in nearby Northville Township.

Paul Chandler was born and raised in Sault Ste. Marie, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Chandler. He attended schools there and then took his college work at the University of Michigan from where he was graduated in 1941 with an A.B. in Political Science.

On the campus he was City Editor of the Michigan Daily and member of the honorary Sphinx and Michigama fraternities.

He joined the Associated Press as Ann Arbor correspondent shortly after graduation, was transferred to Detroit as a member of the staff there and then took a position on the sports staff of the Detroit News.

He left there to become a vice president and director of the Michigan Racing Association and later served as associate editor of the Detroit Athletic Club News.

During World War II, he served with the Navy in the Pacific theater, receiving the Bronze Star while serving on air craft carrier in that area.

Mr. Chandler is survived by his wife, Mrs. Myra Chandler; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Chandler of Kokomo, Ind.; a sister, Ruth of Illinois; two sons, William and Thomas; and three daughters, Cynthia, Catherine and Jennifer.

ONE OF THE BIGGEST moments in the career of the late Paul Chandler came just a month ago when he received warm congratulations from Gov. Romney upon his election to the State Senate. Paul was one of two Republicans in Wayne County to win in the November poll.

'Two Lights Over Bethlehem?' -- His Award Winning Editorial

By PAUL CHANDLER

Christmas in 1957 is coming to the world with a Soviet-made sputnik flashing in the sky over Bethlehem. It is a dangerous time for America.

The glittering globe of magnesium was thrust into the sky by men—and, as it so happens, by a particular nation of men who discount the existence of God and who scoff at the first Star in the East.

They may have read, but they do not believe:

"Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, behold wise men from the East came to Jerusalem, saying, 'Where is he who has been born King of the Jews? For we have seen his star in the East, and have come to worship him . . ."

"Then Herod summoned the wise men secretly and ascertained from them what time the star appeared, and he sent them to Bethlehem, saying, 'Go and search diligently for the child, and when you have found him bring me word, that I too may come and worship him.' "When they had heard the king they went their way; and lo, the star which they had seen in the East went before them, till it came to rest over the place where the child was. When they saw the star they rejoiced exceedingly with great joy; and going into the house they saw the child with Mary his mother, and they fell down and worshipped him!"

Russia, on this anniversary of the birth of Jesus, worships another light in the sky.

The threat to the rest of the world, and specifically to America is that many peoples are becoming so entranced by a metallic ball that they too no longer see the Star in the East.

There is a conflict in the skies and in the hearts of men.

The Christmas hope of this newspaper, then is that our readers spend quiet time during the holy season thinking inwardly about the meaning of the birth of Christ; and from that introspection, to come to a personal evaluation of the relative value of the competing gleams in the heavens.

Frankly, the writer of this column has a rather cheerless view of the future of the country and the people. We have no real plan; little basic purpose to our personal or national lives.

A word often used to describe purpose is "ideals." America thinks it has some, but an honest critic knows that what few ideals there are today are fragile and always subject to change without notice.

We admire two-cars-per-family, buccaneer quarterbacks, violence in the arenas, electrical appliances, discordant music, and disorderly paintings.

We boast constantly about "freedom" and "leisure" and "dignity of the individual" and "abundance" and discover that every year more millions of dollars and more oceans of tears must be spent to reconstruct individuals who couldn't cope with the "freedom" and the new leisure time.

We acquire goods—better living standards—with a sensation of a rising ache in the breast. At the same time we proclaim to the rest of the world that this "higher standard of living" makes us superior, we wonder in secret why it brings so little satisfaction to our personal selves; why it does not satisfy our hungers but instead stirs new and greater anxieties.

And, to gain these self-styled material "comforts" we, as a people, stand ready to make virtually any compromise with our much-publicized ideals. This is an age of expediency. It is enough to get the promotion; capture the election; surpass the neighbor, win the game—the method by which the goal is achieved is whatever it happens to take to handle the particular situation. The end justifies the means.

Discipline is fast disappearing from morals, art, homes, science, schools, politics and health.

We are "free" but there is little self-restraint in use of the freedom.

We are a scared, easily-shifted society of materialists and sensualists.

So what about sputnik, the second star?

We don't mean to dwell on it excessively, because it is part of our thinking at this Christmas time that sputnik has been given too much wrong emphasis already. But it provides a case in point to illustrate our pessimism.

Sputnik is the latest triumph of mundane science. It is a notable accomplishment by the brains and hands of men. It is a threat to our national defense.

In terms of the billions of unexplored miles of the eternity of the universe it is nothing. The light it sends from the sky is no light at all, beside that of a star. Sputnik simply is close at hand, and looks bright—as do most earthly inventions. It is an illusion of perspective.

When sputnik was in the air, America was shocked. Why weren't we there first? Who's to blame? What do we do now?

Our schools were picked out quickly. So were the government and "scientists" in general. These were scapegoats immediately available.

But instead, we, the people, are individually to blame.

Schools, politicians, or any other institution does no more in a free society than to act in the image of the people. They are created by the citizens and can be changed by the citizens.

The public never told the schools that there should be intensive, "crash" emphasis on scientific research. The public was neither willing to worship scientists, nor to give them medals, nor pay them big incentive salaries. If anything, scientists have been regarded as somewhat an "odd" segment of society.

Instead of scientists, we have chosen lately to worship and pay left halfbacks, chesty stage ladies, certain politicians, disc jockeys, guitar-players and the odd hypnotic evangelist. We also enjoy an occasional infatuation with military leaders.

Nor was it made known to the government officials that we were willing to pay, even sacrifice, for "crash" scientific research. We have been pretty darn well satisfied that our country was the smartest in all history and would prevail somehow over all, no matter what, in science or anything else.

The lesson in sputnik is one of humility. There are people today in this world more dedicated than we are—dedicated to something. In Russia's case it is scientific research.

To what are we Americans dedicated—really dedicated—today?

Sputnik by itself is a passing thing, soon to be overshadowed by other inventions.

Far more significant in terms of American survival is the complacency and expedient philosophy of our people.

Most great civilizations have gone under at just the wrong time when the people—and the leaders—were wallowing, without discipline, without purpose, without belief; pursuing material goods and sensual experiences; laughing off mistakes; covering weakness with a skin of sophistication.

I recommend a thorough study of the history of Athens. The Greeks at their zenith placed great value on almost the same things as Americans—the rights of individuals, personal freedom, national pride.

But the Athenians lost their personal self-discipline, which is the only possible hope of unpoliced people to succeed, and near the end of Athens, Isocrates noted:

Once he said, Athenian citizens were "men schooled when young to be industrious and frugal," "accustomed in their early days never to regard public office as a chance for private gain," who "considered poverty among their fellow citizens as their own disgrace" and "measured their well-being not by being able to outdo each other, but by the soberness of their daily life and the absence of want among the whole people, the only standards which are not vulgar."

But now, Isocrates noted dismally, "young men no longer trained to hardihood are wasting their youth in soft living;" "lawlessness is looked upon as liberty, license as happiness. The state has become a means to satisfy selfish desire."

Where do we Americans go, if the shoe fits?

On this anniversary of the birth of Jesus, we quietly recommend a turn with disciplined, uncompromising belief to morality and an absolute faith in a set of values.

We urge that none allow sputnik to outshine the Star of Bethlehem in their appreciation of what is important in this universe.

We plead for a retreat from complacency, expediency and unquestioning conformity.

"Joseph, son of David, do not fear to take Mary your wife . . .

. . . she will bear a son and you shall call his name Jesus, for he will save his people from their sins."

Death Silences a Strong and Courageous Voice in Lansing

Paul M. Chandler's entrance into Michigan's political arena was a natural extension of the ideals and principles which guided his entire life.

He chalked up an enviable record as a freshman legislator during the two years he served in Lansing and accomplished more in this short time than veteran legislators have done in years. For his work, he not only won high praise from Governor George Romney and leaders in his party, but his endorsement by voters of all political faiths at the polls last November gave further evidence of the success of his efforts.

Paul's feeling that a newspaper must be more than just a dull, sterile bulletin board was strongly evident in his many crusades for those ideals he held high. Hardly an election passed without a principled stand by the Publisher in his "Facts and Opinions" column endorsing a school bond issue, or candidates for local public office.

Paul knew that a necessary duty of a newspaper editor was to make his views known and respected by his readers and to do battle on their behalf.

He transferred this feeling into a more active role when he entered the political field over four years ago with the announcement that The Observer newspapers would establish an "Independent Republican" point of view.

The word "Independent" was important to Paul, and he proved to the cynics how important when, even as a Republican member of the House, he continued to give the newspaper's support to candidates of both major political parties.

Shortly afterward, Paul entered his first political race, seeking the Republican nomination for a seat on the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan, his alma mater.

This first attempt was unsuccessful as was, a year later, an attempt to win the Republican Party's nomination as Constitutional Convention delegate.

But victory did come in August and November of 1962 when Paul won handily the seat in the State House of Representatives from the 21st District—one of only two Republicans in Wayne County to win.

He went to Lansing for his inauguration in January, 1963, and—again flaunting all tradition—plunged right into the efforts of the "young Turk" faction of his party to wrest control from the GOP's old guard.

For this he won the widespread support of fellow legislators and Governor George Romney.

Tax reform and the problems of youth were probably the two key issues on which Paul concentrated his efforts, but work on behalf of human rights, against unfair telephone rate policies and other related legislation distinguished him.

Shortly after being elected, Paul joined with what were described as "GOP rebels" to try to rescue two of Governor Romney's legislative programs which were being opposed both by Democrats and the conservative, outstate GOP faction.

The two were a $1-an-hour minimum wage bill and an open occupancy bill. Paul joined Representatives Donald Wisner, David Upton and Gilbert Bursley to help discharge the Rule

Scholarship Fund Is Established as Chandler Memorial

A group of suburban civic leaders has taken initial steps to establish a Paul Chandler Scholarship Fund in honor of the deceased publisher of the Observer Newspapers and Senator-elect of the Michigan State Senate.

The wish of Chandler's friends to establish some kind of memorial which would reflect his deep interest in the problems of youth and in education seemed to spring spontaneously from many sectors of the community and the state.

In the metropolitan Detroit area, a few hours after Chandler's untimely death, radio stations, television commentators, and newspaper columns carried the recommendation that persons not send flowers but instead to contribute if they wished, to a scholarship fund to assist worthy students interested in pursuing higher education in Michigan. "Paul Chandler," one journalistic colleague said, was the kind of man who believed in "giving flowers to the living and not to the dead" and that he would disapprove of spending money for floral tributes when dollars could be used to further the education of promising young men or women.

First to discuss the idea of a scholarship fund with the publisher's family was Livonia's Mayor Harvey Moelke. The idea won instant and appreciative approval from his widow, Myra Chandler, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Chandler, Mrs. Chandler's father, Harold Kuder, her brother, Bud Kuder, and others who were in the close circle in the funeral home Saturday morning.

Mayor Moelke asked an initial committee of three to help set up the fund. Selected were Joel La Bo, treasurer and past president of Livonia Dollars For Scholars, Louis Schmidt, Clarenceville superintendent of schools, and Benton Yates, Livonia superintendent of schools.

Until a permanent address is established for the scholarship fund, those wishing to contribute were urged to send checks to Mayor Moelke at the Livonia City Hall or to the office addresses of the members of the initiating committee.

Gerry Joiner, active in Livonia P-TA circles, endorsed the idea enthusiastically. "Paul Chandler," she said "was always in the forefront when it came to worthwhile projects in education. His interest in purposeful legislation involving public schools and his drive to give our western suburban area a first-quality community college reflect his belief that the educational needs of youth must be met if we are to make the best use of the potential of these future leaders."

Sheila Stephens, a Board of Education employee and Schoolcraft college student, said, "The idea of a scholarship fund is a realistic one. All of us who were graduated from Bentley remember Paul Chandler's commencement address and the challenge he gave all of us to meet the problems of our changing world. I had many good teachers in high school but none seemed to package up the hopes and aspirations of the class of '64 better than Mr. Chandler did for us on that graduation night."

No definite plans have been made for the way the Fund will be used. Some have suggested that it be made available to suburban youth attending Chandler's alma mater, the University of Michigan, or those enrolled in Schoolcraft College, an institution which the Observer publisher helped to promote and create.

One possible program, which follows a suggestion made by members of the statewide Michigan Press Association, is to help establish a special community college curriculum or work-study program for persons working in the less glamorous non-journalistic activities of community papers: the advertising layout men, the space salesmen, the distribution employees, copy writers, and other categories of workers whose contributions usually go unheralded and who must often get their background the hard way, by doing, and by painful trial and error.

Ron Upton, business manager of the Livonia schools said, "There are many worthy ways in which a Chandler scholarship fund can be expended. I would like to see a generous fund built up so that the committee can provide something useful and unique as a tribute to this community leader and friend of youth."

Paul similarly worked for bills to provide more funds for community colleges and to provide higher per-pupil school aid.

One of his first acts as a new State Senator, he told associates, would have been to push for a statewide income tax with revenues being earmarked for education and a concurrent drop in property taxation. "There is no other problem more serious in our nation than financial support to education," he told the Livonia City Council in a meeting five days before his death.

Paul, too, had asked the Legislative Service Bureau to draft a bill providing for a unicameral or one-house legislature. "As long as we have both state houses elected on a one-man, one-vote basis, it doesn't make sense to elect two separate houses," he had said.

His strong sense of seeing the long-range view and his ability to propose new, startling

4 Petitions Out for Commission

The line forms at the right and there is plenty of room for all interested parties—but unless there is a great deal more activity in the next two weeks than up to this time, candidates for Plymouth's City Commission, Supervisor and Municipal Judge will run unopposed in the Feb. 15 election.

The deadline for filing petitions for the three posts is Dec. 28.

Thus far, with four vacancies on the City Commission, only four petitions have been taken out.

Arch Vallier, incumbent supervisor and also a member of the Commission, is the only one to file for that post. His term on the Council extends for two more years.

City Attorney Edward Draugelis has taken out petitions for the Municipal Court judgeship and apparently scared off all candidates.

None has shown any interest although there was talk that Cliff Manwaring and Russ Cutler were thinking of filing.

Mayor Richard Wernette, James Houk, Robert Beyer and Robert Smith end their present terms on the Commission come the end of March. Wernette is ineligible to run for another term under the charter which provides a candidate must sit out two years after serving two consecutive terms.

Houk and Beyer have taken out petitions, indicating that they will seek second terms. However, Smith, who is principal at Junior High West, has indicated that he will not be a candidate. He plans on taking additional work towards a doctorate degree and apparently feels he couldn't do justice to the Council duties and studies at the same time.

Former Mayor Harold Guenther, who is chairman of the Municipal Building Authority and was generally rated as one of the most astute members of the City Commission during his term in office, is returning to politics and will seek one of the four posts.

Petitions were taken out in behalf of Guenther two weeks ago and are expected to be returned well ahead of the Dec. 28 deadline.

Eldon Martin, a newcomer to Plymouth's politics, is the fourth candidate of record at the moment. Petitions were taken out for him more than a week ago.

The charter provides that the three candidates receiving the most votes shall serve four year terms and the fourth in line will be elected for two years.

There is still a possibility that others will take out petitions before the end of the week.

One hears the names of Clarence Moore, Marshall North, Dr. Ray Barber, former Mayor Robert Sincoc, and George Hudson as possibilities.

With less than two weeks remaining, one can expect activity. If it fails to materialize, then the Feb. 15 election will evolve into a race between four candidates for four posts with the low man getting the two-year term.

Plan Commission Gets $5,000 from Twp.; Traffic Lights Ok'd on Ann Arbor Trail

It took quite a bit of doing and a heated argument but the Plymouth Township Board finally approved allotment of $5,000 to the Plymouth Area Planning Commission.

The action was taken at the December meeting last week and assures operation of the Commission which is nearing the stage of selecting a director to handle the task of luring new industries into the Plymouth school district.

There was some opposition to the transfer of the funds inasmuch as the Trustees had voted in the November meeting to allot monies only in the same ratio of Canton Township and the City of Plymouth.

Canton has authorized $2,500 to the Planning Commission with the City and Township each kicking in $5,000.

The matter of a selection of a five-member Fire Administration Board was delayed upon request of Supervisor Roy Lindsay for additional time to interview possible appointees.

Lindsay suggested that the Board consider per diem payment for members of the Board. He indicated he has found that people, most qualified for appointment, feel they are too busy to serve.

The matter was tabled for a month with a recommendation from Trustee Dick Lueterbach that the Board consider someone with accounting background for the Fire Commission.

Lindsay informed the Trustees that he has received word from the State Highway Department that traffic lights will be installed at the intersections of Ann Arbor and Sheldon Roads in the near future.

Flarelane plans have been approved and the installation authorized.

Capt. Fred Davids, area commander of the Michigan State Police, was in the audience and told Lindsay and the Trustees that he had received the same information.

In other actions, the Trustees: Approved purchase of a Resuscitator for the Fire Department at an estimated cost of $190.

Passed a resolution waiving four per cent penalty scheduled for tax collections after Feb. 15. The Board traditionally waives the penalty from Feb. 15 to March 1 when payments must be made to the County Treasurer's office and the penalty assessed.

Delayed, until the sale of water bonds, a request for payment of easement legal fees on the 1964-65 water and sewer program.

Authorized a charge of $6 for 28,000 gallons of water for residents desiring to establish ice skating rinks on private property. The matter of having the water turned on at the hydrants is the responsibility of the petitioner.

Authorized Township Attorney Earl Demel to draw up a legal opinion regarding Dunn Court water and sewer easements.

Plan No Changes In Operation Of Observer

The Observer Newspapers—Livonia, Redford, Plymouth and Farmington—will continue the policies and operations established by the late Publisher Paul Chandler.

That was the statement of the Directors of the Observer Newspapers, Inc. Tuesday morning following a meeting of the Board.

"No changes are contemplated in the policies or operations of the Observer Newspapers," the statement read.

"The late Paul Chandler was proud of the staff that helped him make the Observer Newspapers among the most powerful and most widely read in Western Wayne County. He often expressed the opinion that his staff was the finest in the suburban field anywhere! We will follow his wishes and make every effort to continue to build the Observer Newspapers into a bigger, better and ever stronger chain."

Glassford Feted Prior to Leaving for Albion Post

The little man checked out of Plymouth's official family Tuesday afternoon and began his new chores as City Manager of Albion Wednesday morning.

But not before the hundreds of friends of Albert Glassford had shown their appreciation for a job well done for more than 15 years with a series of luncheons and dinners for the longtime head of Plymouth's city administration.

Al turned in his unexpected resignation in late November effective on Dec. 15 which didn't allow too much time for his hosts of friends to make all of the arrangements for the testimonial dinners and such.

However, there wasn't an idle moment for the genial Glassford and his wife, Lola during their final two weeks in the city they called home for more than 25 years.

The big event came last Wednesday in a community-wide testimonial dinner at the Mayflower Hotel which had to be held to an attendance of 125 by space limitations.

It attracted members of the City Commission, Township Board, Board of Education, heads of civic and service groups, Chamber of Commerce officers, industrial and business leaders and city employees who had worked under his supervision for so many years.

City Attorney Edward Draugelis served as master of ceremonies in a masterful style and kept the program moving at a lively pace.

Glassford received a scroll from Past Commander Ernest Koi, of Passage-Gayde Post of the American Legion, for outstanding service to the community.

He was presented with a resolution from the Township Board by Supervisor Roy Lindsay, extolling his work in the community during his 15 years of service as City Manager.

Former Mayor Harold Guenther praised Glassford for his fine work as Plymouth's administrative head.

"When the City hired Al, the Council expected and enjoyed good government," Guenther said. "We very normally accepted Glassford whose fine qualities led to such a fine government."

"Those in city government in Plymouth know through experience that one of the duties of a City Manager is to break in newly elected officials and guide their maturity and know how. Al was a master at this as we who have served Plymouth well know."

"We wish Albion and Glassford to have a long and profitable experience. Al had it made here but the challenge of a new job and new tasks was too much for him to turn down."

Mayor Richard Wernette expressed his regrets at Glassford's leaving.

"We see you moving with a heavy heart," he said. "This is a major loss to the City of Plymouth. As mayor I am happy to see you stepping up the ladder even though it takes from us the City Manager with the longest tenure in the state of Michigan."

Glassford was called upon for remarks and traced his rise from City Assessor to City Manager, mentioning many humorous events during his 15 years service.

Wernette presented numerous gifts to the Glassfords on behalf of those in attendance.

The Glassfords were guests of the feminine employees of the City at a luncheon on Friday, of the press corps at a dinner on Thursday and then the city employees held a farewell luncheon Tuesday noon—after which Al and Lola took off for Albion where they already have moved into their new home.

CLEARING DESK and files of the accumulation of 15 years service to the City of Plymouth is City Manager Albert Glassford. He devoted Monday and Tuesday of this week to the cleanup and then reported for his new duties as Albion City Manager on Wednesday.

Kiwianians Get A Look Into Future

"Living in the 1970s and 1980s will be quite different than it is now," was the prediction of Elmer Witt, commercial and industrial lighting specialist for Detroit Edison, in an address before the Plymouth Kiwanis Club.

Witt used "Prediction of Things to Come" as his topic. "Our homes will be built so that they can readily be turned in all directions," Witt said. "They will be built in modules or individual rooms. As children are born, another room may be added."

"When the children marry and leave home, the parents may give them the room as a wedding present. Each room will be self-contained. Homes will be completely and automatically climate controlled for heat, cooling and air purifying."

"The housewife will run her home automatically with a console directing automatic machines to clean the house, wash and dry clothes and put them away, mow the lawn and water the grass."

"A closed circuit TV will keep the children under constant surveillance indoors and out. A telephone call will turn on the oven or operate any of the other mechanical servants."

"We will be able to shop from home by TV-telephone for specially prepared food that will not spoil for several years and does not need refrigeration."

"We will use more inexpensive paper clothes that can be thrown away when soiled. The work week will be four days and not more than six or seven hours a day by 1980."

Witt told the Kiwanians that new drugs will almost eliminate pain and suffering and vital organ transplants by skilled doctors will be common.

FACTS and OPINIONS

By PAUL CHANDLER

(Editor's Note: Paul Chandler's final act, prior to his untimely death, was handling the special Livonia Goodfellows' edition. This is his last Facts and Opinions column. We feel our readers would appreciate his final remarks.)

Nobody talks about it much, but it is a fact nonetheless that in recent years it has become increasingly difficult for Goodfellows to meet their money quotas in the sale of special newspapers.

It also has become more difficult to recruit "Old Newsboys," or "Goodfellows," or whatever title you prefer to assign to these doughty spirits. The ranks have been thinning of those who go out on the street corners (usually on what seems to be the coldest day of the year) and shiver, holding aloft their newspapers, making change with numb fingers, and all of that.

Despite the decreasing enthusiasm of "Old Newsboys" and the slippage in total collections—and also the loss through death of some of the most ardent Goodfellows who toiled in the original years—each year at this time the public still sees a group of devoted and dedicated men on the streets during the holiday season.

After the funds are turned in, they are used to buy a mountain of clothes, food and toys. Canned hams and meat, bags of Christmas candy, dolls, stuffed animals, canned fruits . . . all the things which bring creature comfort to some of God's children who for one reason or another would not have the chance to experience the sensations.

Nor does it end on Christmas eve. In the treasury of the Goodfellows there remain funds for use throughout the year in extraordinary situations where a few fast dollars can avert human suffering of one kind or another. There are families with chronic, incurable illness who sometimes reach the point of not knowing how to make the payments to keep a roof over their heads.

Or it could be a struggling, young family with low income and many mouths to feed, struck with a fire which has ruined their home and furnishings.

Not too much of these reaches the public view, because in most cases quiet, anonymous help is what is needed. But the Goodfellows do their good deeds not for publicity but for something else . . . because the job is there to be done.

Americans basically are a queer breed of folks. Most of the time they subscribe to the idea that the object of life is to accumulate goods. The "harder one works" and the "more talent he shows" are meant to "pay off" in more wealth . . . larger homes, bigger cars, lusher living room furniture, more electrical appliances, better fitting frocks, fur coats . . .

Yet, mostly on Sunday, they take a day off and hear the mystics warn and advise, "Happiness is not to be found in fur coats and colored television sets. Real joy, real contentment, mental stability and a sense of fulfillment come, instead, from doing for others, from giving, from helping those less fortunate than yourself."

Weather Doesn't Stop Rotary Head

It snowed, rained and then formed an icy cover that made driving precarious but the elements didn't stop A. Robert Davidson, Rotary Club district governor from Windsor, Ontario, from attending the annual Christmas Party of the Plymouth Club on Dec. 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson braved the slippery roads and hazardous conditions to arrive well in advance of the program. They were guests of Rotary President and Mrs. Carl Caplin.

Mrs. Davidson was presented with a wall mural as a memento of the visit.

NEW WORK PROGRAM, aimed at creating a responsible image in the community for the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, was announced this week by a three-man committee consisting of Margaret Wilson, Doug Blunk and Carl Pursell. It will be presented to the membership for study and comments. For an opening move in the new program, the group shown above attended a legislative meeting of the State Chamber of Commerce in Ann Arbor. The quartet (from left): John Kamego, Pursell, Wallace Green and G. Eugene Davidson.

Area Youngsters Share Prizes In Mayflower Event

Youngsters from all sections of the Metropolitan area shared prizes in the annual Johnny Billington Clean Plate Club contest conducted by Manager Ralph Lorenz of the Mayflower Hotel.

More than 7000 kiddies—all of whom cleaned their plates in meals at the hotel during the past year—were entered this year.

The list included youngsters from Michigan, Ohio, Arkansas, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Alabama, Virginia, Wisconsin, Massachusetts, Kentucky, California, New York, Oregon, Vermont, Maine, Florida, New Jersey, Arizona, Missouri, Montana, New Hampshire, Nevada, Alaska and Canada.

Two-year-old Johnnie Wolfe, of 5555 Plymouth Road, Ann Arbor, was the big winner. Ordinarily Johnnie would have received a pony but due to his age, Manager Lorenz decided to make the award a $100 Savings Bond.

Other winners included: Krys Draugelis, 1377 Carol, Plymouth; Mary Ann Jenkins, of Birmingham; Tim Tuohy, Detroit; Stephen Ray, 3860 Napier, Plymouth; Steve Pituch, Detroit; Terri McNutt, 16590 Lola Drive, Redford Township; Jacqueline Gray, 43741 Dorisa Court, Northville; Raymond Kuczvara, 31645 Summers, Livonia; and Kelli Jo Wedge, 21516 Oxford, Farmington.

Drownings at High Peak, Police Warn Ice Fishermen

With Michigan drownings already numbering 286, the worst toll in five years, the State Police are cautioning youngsters, ice fishermen and other outdoor sports followers that early winter ice can still be treacherously thin on many lakes and streams.

Of the water deaths this year, at least 10 victims drowned in falls through ice. Two occurred recently when youngsters broke through and drowned under thin river ice.

The State Police emphasize that freezing temperatures generally have not yet been prolonged or severe enough to produce ice about four inches thick, which is considered the safe minimum for bearing the weight of humans.

Drownings caused by falls through ice have averaged nine annually in the last four years, with a high of 13 in 1961 and a low of five in 1963.

Parents of youngsters are advised to remind their children often of the hazards possible in playing or skating on ice surfaces of outdoor lakes and streams. Even where such activity is approved, there should be provision of rescue equipment to include a long pole, branch, ladder or rope for reaching the victim of an ice breakthrough.

Though the practice isn't recommended, ice fishermen who drive their cars onto ice are cautioned that the frozen surface should be from one to two feet thick to be considered safe for vehicle weight.

Name Four New Members Of Highway Commission

Two businessmen, a banker and an attorney will serve on Michigan's first State Highway Commission.

Gov. George Romney named the four-man Commission Friday under provisions of the new Michigan Constitution which abolished the system of electing the State Highway Commissioners.

Michigan has elected its State Highway Commissioners since 1913.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie of Flint, who has held the post since 1957, will take office in January as U.S. Congressman from Michigan's new Seventh District (Genesee and Lapeer Counties).

Members of the new bipartisan commission include Republicans Ardale W. Ferguson of Benton Harbor and Wallace D. (Mike) Nunn of East Tawas and Democrats Charles H. Hewitt of Grosse Pointe Farms and Richard F. Vander Veen of Grand Rapids.

Ferguson, designated by Gov. Romney to serve as Chairman of the Commission, was born in the Kent County community of Cedar Springs. He is 56 years old.

He joined the John Deere Co. in 1929 and was a sales executive in its Michigan branch headquarters in Lansing.

Since 1950, he has served as Treasurer and Manager of the Ferguson Welding and Supply Co. of Benton Harbor. He is also Treasurer and Director of the Lape Steel Stores, Inc., of Benton Harbor and Treasurer-Director of Modern Light Metals, an Illinois firm that has a plant in Benton Harbor.

He has been active in Benton Harbor civic affairs and served as president of the Twin Cities Community Chest in 1956. From 1957 to 1961, he was Treasurer of the Republican State Central Committee. Gov. Romney named him to the Michigan Economic Expansion Council in 1963 and he was elected to the Benton Township Board of Review the same year.

Ferguson and his wife, who live at 161 Elvera Dr. in Benton Harbor, are the parents of three married daughters.

Nunn, who is 55, was born in the Iosco County community of Hale. He attended Ohio State University and Michigan State University.

From 1931 to 1941, he was with the Michigan Department of Conservation. He was Assistant District Supervisor at Roscommon. Since 1941, he has owned a hardware and sporting goods store.

Nunn, a member of the Iosco County Road Commission since 1950, served as president of the Michigan County Roads Association in 1961. He has been president of the Tawas Chamber of Commerce three times.

He and his wife, Edna live at 110 W. Lincoln in East Tawas. They are the parents of a married daughter and an eight-year-old son.

Hewitt, 64, has been president of the Detroit Bank & Trust Co. since January of 1963. He joined the bank in 1938 as vice-president and served as executive vice-president from 1951 to 1963.

He began his financial career in the early 1920's with the State Savings Bank and Detroit Edison Co. in Ann Arbor and the old Oakland Motor Car Co. in Pontiac. He later managed the Detroit Loan Agency and worked as an examiner for the State Banking Commission. He served as Deputy State Banking Commissioner in 1937-1938.

Hewitt is past president of the Michigan Bankers Association and the Detroit Clearing House Association.

Employers' Group Hears Talk by Consumer Power Aide

Earl Hill, public relations administration assistant for Consumers Power Co. in Jackson, discussed "Accent on Goodwill" before members of the Suburban Employers Association at the monthly meeting in the Mayflower Hotel.

Hill has been with Consumers since 1927 holding the posts of electrical distribution engineer, personnel and safety supervisor, general safety instructor and assistant general training supervisor before advancing to his present position.

He is a member of the Jackson Industrial Executive Club, American Society of Training Directors and is a charter member of the Lansing chapter of the American Society of Safety Engineers.

Edward Hodges, III, personnel employment manager of Michigan Bell in Detroit, will be the speaker at the January meeting.

Many foreign cars as well as the new 1965 American models will be on display at the Detroit Auto Show, Jan. 9-17 in the Detroit Artillery Armory, West Eight Mile near Northland.

Decorative Tile Used on Ceiling By Handymen

Ceiling tiles are easy to apply as well as being decorative—which explains their continued popularity with do-it-yourselfers.

But don't overlook other ways in which the ceilings of extra rooms can be made attractive.

For a luxury look, wood paneling can't be beat. Some interesting effects can be obtained with plywood, especially with striated squares.

Gypsum board makes an inexpensive ceiling.

Hardboard produces a smooth ceiling and is easy to paint. Wallpaper is very effective.

Plan for Guests When You Buy Seats, Tables

Benches, stools, ottomans, stacking chairs all perform ideally as extra seating pieces so dear to the hostess' heart, especially since they can be unobtrusive when not in use. Many have casters for mobility.

Chairs stacked together may be filed away in a closet between parties. Ottomans are always attractive objects in a living room for extra seating as well as a comfortable prop for tired feet.

The new wood cubes, placed together may form a low table, sometimes with storage space.

Post Office Lists Yule Schedule

Have you mailed your Christmas packages and cards? If not, Plymouth's acting Postmaster James Grater calls your attention to the schedule the Plymouth post office will maintain during the remaining time before Christmas Day.

The schedule:
Dec. 14 through Dec. 18—8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Saturday, Dec. 19—8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.
Sunday, Dec. 20—noon to 2 p.m.
Dec. 21 through Dec. 24—8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.
Grater warned all patrons that the money order windows will not be open on Saturdays and Sundays.

'WHAT TO DO'

Coins Donated to Shriners

When the architects designed the Livonia Mall they included two fountains for aesthetic reasons.

They succeeded. The fountains certainly enhance the beauty of the Mall.

The only problem is that the Mall management suddenly discovered that shoppers at the center had turned the aesthetic ornamentation into a Rome-type fountain. (It must be the 70° temperature within the Mall.)

In other words, they are tossing coins into the fountains while "making a wish".

Actually this isn't a problem as the Mall management has no objections to the practice.

However, when the fountains were cleaned the Mall suddenly found itself in possession of the coinage of the realm. In fact it filled a pail.

"What to do—what to do"—to paraphrase the Mad Hatter.

They turned the money over to the Redford Shriners.

The Shriners will use the money to help their Girl of the Year seven-year-old Peggy Ann Ball of 11920 W. Outer Drive.

The presentation was made last week by Livonia Mall Manager Bob Paris. Peggy Ann was present as were Shrine Potentate Alex Acey, Shrine Recorder Edward Savage and Shrine Crippled Children's Chairman Bob Krause.

LIVONIA MALL MANAGER Bob Paris, Redford Shrine Child Peggy Ann Ball and Shrine Potentate Alex Acey examine the coins from the fountains at the Mall. Since the Mall opened the public has been tossing coins into the fountains while making a wish. When the fountain was cleaned and the money collected the Mall management looked around for a suitable recipient. They found her in Peggy Ann.

SPEAK YOUR PIECE!

The Observers asked residents the question "Do you favor public aid to private and parochial schools?" recently. The following are the thoughts of residents of Plymouth, Farmington, Redford Township and Livonia.

Terrance, Livonia, said: "Yes I favor such aid. The public schools can't handle all of the children and the existence of such schools affords a better opportunity to give all the children a good education." Neilson pointed out that under the state law passed during the last session of the legislature students attending such schools are now receiving bus transportation from the School Districts.

The husband of a schoolteacher, Clyde Thomas, 14385 Salem, Redford Township said that "Such aid is alright if the private and parochial schools want it because all that matters to me is that the children receive the best education possible."

Mrs. Markovich Wideman

Ronald Wideman, a junior at Plymouth High School, who lives at 906 S. Arthur, said: "Yes, I definitely favor such aid. To provide an education for all children is the responsibility of the community and as such, all citizens should help to support all schools."

Farmington resident Mrs. Laura Markovich of 22990 Fredrick said that she opposed such public aid because "this type of aid won't be properly administered and the end result will simply be a great deal of graft."

Senator Frank Beadle (R) of St. Clair, chairman of the committee, said the committee will recommend to the legislature in January that the subsidy paid counties by the state for the care of hospitalized tuberculosis patients be increased from $4 to $6 per patient day.

He estimated the added cost for state government would be about $955,000 per year. The state's share in the cost of tuberculosis patient care has dropped 30 per cent annually from $6,608,000 to $4,607,000 annually since 1953 while county costs have increased 13 per cent from $7,681,000 to $8,704,000, Beadle said.

Other proposals approved by the committee are a state appropriation of $343,000 to assure five-year followup of all discharged tuberculosis patients, a $150,000 "pilot" program to determine the value of routine chest x-ray screening of persons admitted to general hospitals, and a requirement that all children be skin-tested to determine whether or not they carry tuberculosis infection when they first enter school.

Endorse Proposals on TB

A legislative study committee on tuberculosis voted to endorse proposals that would help intensify efforts to control the disease.

Senator Frank Beadle (R) of St. Clair, chairman of the committee, said the committee will recommend to the legislature in January that the subsidy paid counties by the state for the care of hospitalized tuberculosis patients be increased from $4 to $6 per patient day.

He estimated the added cost for state government would be about $955,000 per year. The state's share in the cost of tuberculosis patient care has dropped 30 per cent annually from $6,608,000 to $4,607,000 annually since 1953 while county costs have increased 13 per cent from $7,681,000 to $8,704,000, Beadle said.

Other proposals approved by the committee are a state appropriation of $343,000 to assure five-year followup of all discharged tuberculosis patients, a $150,000 "pilot" program to determine the value of routine chest x-ray screening of persons admitted to general hospitals, and a requirement that all children be skin-tested to determine whether or not they carry tuberculosis infection when they first enter school.

The changes had been urged by the Michigan Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, state Christmas Seal agency, and public health leaders.

Five Drivers Lose Licenses

Five suburban residents faced suspended or revoked driver's licenses this week, following action by the Secretary of State's office in Lansing.

Warren Leonard Smith, 794 S. Main, Plymouth, had his license suspended for an "undesirable driving record," Joseph Edward Stanton, 30100 Hathaway, Livonia, had a license suspended for the same cause.

"Undesirable driving record" suspensions also hit Dean Gerald LaPorte, 18427 Foch, Livonia, and Stephen Phillip Morris, 33710 W. Nine Mile, Farmington. Herman James Fleming, 21220 Ontaga, Farmington had his license revoked under the financial responsibility law.

Library Commission States Views on Need for More Room

More than 200,000 books will have been circulated to Redford Township residents by the time the New Year rolls around, the Township Board was told last week.

Members of the Library Commission appeared before the Board to request participation in a federal aid program that would help to build a new library addition in the community.

Reporting to the Board, the Commission said: Mr. MacDonald and Members of the Board.

I am sure that every one here is aware of the educational and cultural importance of the Redford Township Library. However, it is not generally known about the great demand on our library by the children, young adults and members of the community in general. For your information, I would like to point out that our library has the largest circulation of any library in the Wayne County system with a probable circulation in 1964 of 222,000 books.

Although the present library has been in existence a little over two years, it is no longer adequate to meet present day needs, let alone future needs which will come as a result of our increased population.

It has recently come to the attention of the Library Commission that through the State Library, a federal construction project, the "Library Services and Construction Act, P.L. 88-269," made our library eligible for the construction of an addition. This involves matching funds probably in a 2/3 to 1/3 ratio.

To inform the township board of this possible assistance, Mrs. Hilbert, Chairman of the commission during the construction of the present building, and I visited Mr. MacDonald in his office and explained briefly what might be involved.

On Monday, Oct. 5th, the Library Commission attended the meeting of the township board at which time Mrs. Hilbert reviewed the information concerning the application the commission had received from the State Library. In the meantime, the commission in order to make certain that Redford Township would be included, filed in the application. The Township Board deferred action until the State Board for Libraries met on Oct. 9th to pass on the application received.

On October 10th, I contacted the State Library and was informed that Part I of our application had been approved, and that part 2 was being mailed. This part we are particularly concerned with tonight. It requires action on two definite commitments:

1. Financial resources stated or voted by the local governing body.
2. A definite architectural drawing with specifications.

Several extra meetings have been held by the commission with the architect, librarian and consultant from Wayne County Library. Two plans been considered with one plan meeting the approval of all concerned.

Costs have been estimated by the architect after consultation

Citizens' Committee Needed for New Community College Plans

Local school boards from 39 of the 43 Wayne County school districts, including Detroit, will meet December 17 at 8 p.m. in the Schoolcraft College Library, Livonia, to discuss the formation of a citizens' study committee to study plans for a Wayne County community college district.

The only four school boards not included in this informational session at Schoolcraft College are Livonia, Northville, Plymouth, and Garden City. These school districts encompass the Northwestern community college area.

Two other existing community colleges (Henry Ford in Dearborn and Highland Park Junior College) are presently holding meetings in their respective districts to decide whether or not they will participate in the 39 district community college plan.

The Wayne Intermediate Board of Education President Carl W. Morris indicated the urgent need for immediate formation of a citizens' study committee. "We must get started gathering all the pertinent facts as fast as we can. Post high school education for youth in the Wayne County area is as necessary in our atomic age as a high school diploma formerly was," Morris stated.

The December 17 meeting will feature a summarization of Dr. Robert Keene's Organizational Plan for making a single community college district out of Wayne County. Purposes and the functions of a community college for the Wayne County area will be explained by Dr. Keene.

Local boards will be asked to submit the names of citizens for a county-wide committee to study various phases of the community college plan.

Some of the areas to be considered are as follows: 1) Financial arrangements — tuition costs, state aid, etc. 2) Educational needs for the youth of the area — should there be heavy emphasis on vocational education or more on academic education?

3) Community college sites how many and where should they be located?

4) Public understanding — will all citizens who will be asked to vote understand the importance of this issue?

Board President Morris said the December 17 meeting at Schoolcraft College is the first of many steps to be taken prior to the holding of an area election some time in 1965.

After the present study by the citizens has been completed in 1965, the Wayne County Intermediate Board of Education will apply for permission from the State Department of Public Instruction to hold the community college election in the 39 district area.

Low Interest Rate On Livonia Bonds

An interest cost of 3.4229 per cent was the successful bid for $558,000 in Livonia Drain No. 17 drainage district bonds, Lyle E. Miller, Deputy Drain Commissioner, reports. The interest rates, he said, is one of the lowest bids in Wayne County history.

two, shrug on their overcoats, and then go out and renew their striving to accumulate more material things for themselves: to become "successful."

The Goodfellow endeavor, short in duration as it is, is a wholesome move in the other direction.

It is the fervent wish of Facts and Opinions that the 1964 appeal for funds in Livonia will raise more money than any before in history.

It is our dream that the ranks of those willing to volunteer for Goodfellow work will double, and triple, and quadruple over the next two, three and four years.

It is our wish today, not just for the children and homes which will benefit from the gifts, but for the peace and pleasure it will bring the volunteers, once they understand the real meaning of life... and Christmas.

Slate Meeting For Local Reports On Airport Expansion

The Wayne County Road Commission will hold a public breakfast meeting with community leaders Thursday, Dec. 17, at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel to detail the $44 million expansion program now in progress at Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport.

Featured speaker at the meeting will be John R. Wiley, Director of Aviation for the Port of New York Authority. Wiley has the responsibility for the planning, development and operation of the four air terminals operated by the Port Authority — John F. Kennedy International, LaGuardia, Newark and Teterboro Airports.

Wiley will detail to the meeting the problems confronting an operating major airport in the process of expansion.

The breakfast program has been arranged to inform the public how a major airport expansion program was conceived and how it is being executed, William E. Kreger, Road Commission chairman, said.

The meeting will also feature presentations by commission Vice Chairman Al Barbour, Commissioner Philip J. Neudeck and Managing Director James

M. Davey. Barbour will tell of the economic impact an airport has on its surrounding community.

"A major airport means jobs and industrial and commercial growth to a community," Barbour said. "While we are going through our growing pains we want to make certain that the public understands what we are doing and why we are doing it." "We want the public to get the full and complete story about this public development program," Kreger said.

The airport expansion program will more than double the size of the present facilities. It will add a new ultra-modern terminal building, an addition to the present terminal building and a Central Services building that will house a deluxe restaurant, various shops and 175 modern hotel rooms. The program also includes a double-deck parking garage, airline cargo buildings, hangars and an in-flight kitchen.

"This is all being done at no cost to the general tax fund," Neudeck said. "The airport is a revenue producing facility that is self supporting."

Davey said. "When the expansion program is completed Metropolitan Airport, an international port of entry, will rank in the top ten list of airports in the country."

The expansion program is scheduled for completion in November of 1965 when the airlines operating at Willow Run will move to Metropolitan Airport. They are: United, Eastern, TWA, North Central, Lake Central and Mohawk Airlines.

The airlines currently operating at Metropolitan Airport are: American, Delta, Northwest, Pan American, BOAC and Allegheny Airlines.

Christmas Time Has Its Roots In The Ages of Old

No one but old Scrooge denies that Christmastide is the season to be our jolliest! To help us in our merry-making we traditionally call on age-old Christmas symbols—the Christmas tree, yule log, mistletoe and holly, Christmas cards, presents under the tree, lights and tinsel, the wassail bowl, and, of course, the stockings hung by the chimney with care.

We've gathered this Christmas potpourri from centuries of folklore and legend around the world. For instance, the Christmas tree originally symbolized the Garden of Eden to Germans. The "Paradeibaum" (tree of Paradise) was a central theme of their medieval mystery plays. When these plays were suppressed, the tree (usually a fir) was brought into the home and gradually it became the custom to decorate it with cookies and fruit at Christmas time.

Many believe that it was Martin Luther who first put candles on the Christmas tree. Supposedly, while walking through the countryside one Christmas Eve, Luther was awed by the sight of the snow-tipped evergreens sparkling in the moonlight. At home, he tried to recreate this effect for his family by placing candles on their Christmas tree.

Mistletoe is another symbol of Christmas from the annals of legend. The ancient Druids thought it was sacred. Forests in which this precious plant grew were dedicated to their gods. Legend has it that Druids cut mistletoe springs with a golden knife and hung them over their doors. They believed this pacified the woodland spirits and that only happiness could enter while the mistletoe was in place.

Mythology reveals that Scandinavians, too, hung mistletoe over their doorways on the first day of winter to ward off the evil spirits. To the Romans, mistletoe was a symbol of peace and when enemies met under the "supernatural" sprigs, they discarded arms and declared a truce. From all of these myths and customs, mistletoe became a symbol of love and gradually, perhaps inevitably, the custom evolved of kissing under the mistletoe.

Holly, which has always been a popular Christmas decoration, was also thought to be endowed with unusual powers. In legend, Christ's crown of thorns was made of holly leaves. From this emerged the custom of Christmas wreaths of holly.

British Saxons were the first to gather 'round the wassail bowl to toast a joyous season and a fruitful New Year. As early as the fifth century, they passed a golden cup of mead wine around the feast table with the salutation "Waes Hael!" or "Be Whole!" Wassail came to signify the special mixture of wine and other magic ingredients that every Christmas, village wassailers carried in an immense bowl around town, toasting the season with their neighbors. The idea, though not the same practice, spread and the Christmas punch bowl today embodies the wassail spirit.

There are many different versions of the story of the Christmas stocking. Research in the Esquire Socks Library of Footlore reveals that the only fact which can clearly be established is that the first Christmas stocking was fashioned of woolen shreds. In the 1600s, St. Nick put his gifts in hose of pure silk.

Looking into legend once more, we find that the first Christmas stocking was really hung by the chimney to dry—and St. Nick, making his round of chimneys on Christmas Eve, dropped a bag of gold into the stocking by accident!

Another tale uncovered in the Esquire Socks Library holds that the children of Amsterdam set their wooden shoes in the chimney corners because they believed St. Nicholas would drop goodies down the chimney only if he saw shoes there. Later, the children hung up stockings by the chimney reasoning that shoes couldn't stretch and that stockings could hold more gifts.

Burning the yule log is an ancient pre-Christian custom originating with the Scandinavians. At their feast of Jutul from which we get our "yule-tide"—on the first day of winter, they kindled huge bonfires in honor of the god Thor. This occasion was a rollicking and happy one for the people, and remained when Scandinavia became Christian. In feudal times, the bringing in of the great yule log to the wide hearth in the baronial hall was one of the most joyous ceremonies connected with the Christmas celebration. The men hewed down the greatest log they could find, singing merry yule songs while they dragged it to the waiting hearth. According to custom the yule log was lighted with a brand of the previous year's log. Burning the yule log is still a beloved and picturesque custom in many rural districts around the world.

During early period of Christianity it was the custom in England for the poor to sing carols—joyful songs—in the streets at Christmas time. As they sang from house to house, they were given food, clothing and money. This is one way that today's Christmas caroling might have begun.

Another story of Christmas carols claims that St. Francis of Assisi introduced the custom of community carol singing. St. Francis staged a manger scene one Christmas with real people and animals. The onlookers were so delighted with this pageant that they burst into joyous song. Those first carolers became as important to St. Francis' Christmas celebrations as modern carolers are to ours.

However they began, many of our most cherished Christmas carols—"O Come All Ye Faithful," "God Rest You Merry Gentlemen," "Hark The Herald Angels Sing," "Away in a Manger," "Joy to the World,"—have been sung for hundreds of Christmases.

Christmas presents, according to many authorities, took the place of the pagan custom of exchanging gifts at the New Year. Early priests suggested Christmas gifts, because good will, generosity, and kindness are part of the Christmas spirit. The first such gifts were called "priests' boxes," since the priests collected money and jewelry in them to distribute among the poor at Christmas time. The gift-giving tradition grew and when the Christmas tree came along, it was only natural to put the presents under the tree.

The Christmas card is probably the most recent of our cherished and established customs. In 1846, Joseph Cundall, a London artist, claims to have sent the first Christmas card. It was printed in lithography, and colored by hand. Not until 1862, however, did the custom obtain a foothold. Cards then were inscribed only with a simple message. After that robins, holly branches, embossed figures and landscapes were added. During a typical Christmas season these days, about two billion greeting cards are sent in the U.S. alone.

The custom of saying "Merry Christmas" to one's friends and neighbors originated with the English long ago. They shouted this greeting from the window on Christmas morning. In a way, every age-old symbol of Christmas we use during the holiday season—from trimming the tree and kissing under mistletoe, to caroling and hanging the Christmas stocking—has the same jolly ring to it: "A Very Merry Christmas, and a Happy New Year to All!"

FACTS and OPINIONS by Paul Chandler

Now that the campaign is over and the election has been held—what went wrong?

How did American citizens find themselves locked into a position where many (if not most) did not really want to vote for either Presidential candidate and only went to the polls out of duty, with a sense of heavy burden?

That's what really happened, loud partisan oratory notwithstanding. Many speeches we had, but they accomplished little more than to intensify the sense of melancholy within the populace.

Most of the campaign was purely theatrical . . . men moving about mechanically, discussing matters without depth, really hoping to inflame sufficient prejudices so as to drown the opponent in a flood of negative votes.

This mood was set in mid-summer at the time when the parties held their pat, rehearsed, dry, conventions. From that day to this, nothing happened to change the mechanical stage play.

The players were trained actors, striving to attain the spirit of the part, but never finding it.

And the error is extremely serious—our country and our people have been confused for many years and are becoming more so as the days roll along. The election, if it has a useful purpose, serves to warn how far wrong we have drifted.

As has been pointed out in many places (including Facts and Opinions) repeatedly, the great American problem today consists of these parts:

- With our geographical frontiers crossed and no great wars underway, we have not replaced these projects with a real national purpose;
- Despite the infallible rule that the only certain thing on earth is change itself, we sentimentally as a people constantly try to adapt the beliefs and policies of 50 years ago to the world of today;
- There is a basic, unending conflict in a society which holds in its highest esteem those individuals who accumulate great amounts of money and yet which insists that it is motivated solely by the ethics of the Sermon on the Mount.

Or to use the corollary of those axioms—

- (1) We need to find a National Purpose which is real and satisfying to our people, individually and collectively;
- (2) We must abandon the wistful dreams of the Monroe Doctrine age, where it was possible to regard the United States as a sort of walled city, protected by lumbering iron warships from the rest of the world;
- (3) We must either put the Sermon on the Mount ethic into our actual concept of individual success and into the way society is organized, or we must abandon it as being of consequence and settle down to hard materialism. To continue in the middle ground is to guarantee confusion, weakness and national destruction, ultimately.

It is well to talk of Freedom, and even to emotionally cry that we would prefer to die rather than to lose Freedom, but the accompanying essential is to determine, "Freedom for What, Toward What Plan or Purpose?"

Why be Free if it brings only sadness, misery and the scorn and contempt of the rest of the human race?

So we had one Presidential candidate, a successful man in the ordinary terms because he not only was rich financially, but he had risen to the White House at the same time.

And another, who insisted over-and-over that the theories of 50 years ago remained the best, would continue to work in today's jet world, and who said these ideas still provided sufficient incentive and allure to keep our people satisfied, smiling and content with life.

One candidate was living proof that he believed the end justifies the means.

The other preached that it was preferable to ignore the problems rather than to change systems to meet them.

Both were wrong, and the perceptive American people knew it.

Knowing it, they are worried. Bombs are big these days, communication and travel takes place in a twinkling, and it becomes imperative to find the truth and live it, both alone and collectively, as a nation.

The biggest single issue in this campaign could have (and should have) been the one of proper National Purpose . . . what should the United States do with its energy, wealth and talent?

With fewer and fewer people required to turn out the food and goods (because of automation and modern technology), it becomes more and more urgent that proper and fulfilling uses be found for the time Americans have upon their hands.

There are old people straining under the frustrations not only of loneliness and uselessness to society, but also of trying to forget the stigma they carry of not being as wealthy as the younger members of society. What kind of humanity is it that would permit this in its society?

There are American men and women in the prime of life, burning their idle hours in contrived, non-essential "activity"; or in ever-increasing doses of alcohol; or in mental agony which enters, or borders upon, the world of actual mental sickness, the flight from the pain of reality. What kind of society is it that would permit this to happen, and never talk about it during a national election campaign?

There are swarms of unemployed youngsters, burning with fevers of ambition and great furnaces of physical strength, blunting it all against the indifference of a somehow, against great odds to "get out on their own and make lots of money."

Simple selfishness never again will suffice as the criteria of American success, nor as an all-inclusive national purpose.

Both of our candidates nonetheless ducked the issue almost completely, and it was the major one—this WAS the real thing which people "knew in their hearts."

Where are we going as a nation of great people, and when will this goal begin to show itself where it should . . . in the peace of mind of the individual citizens?

If the world will wait, there are four years in which to isolate leadership which will devote itself to the real issues, using modern vision, the accumulated experience of history, and the enlightenment of those who live by ideals.

America is fed up with the cynics, the angle-guys and chisellers, the hysterical "patriots" who look down upon the rest of the human race, the theatrical politicians with barren minds, and with the befuddled.

And so is Facts and Opinions.

Ferguson-Kunz Marriage Ceremony At Kirk in the Hills November 14

A candlelight ceremony at the Kirk in the Hills was the setting Saturday, November 14, for the marriage of Marjorie Ann Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan W. Ferguson, to Armand DeMuth Kunz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hazen E. Kunz. The ceremony was performed by Reverend Harold C. DeWandt. A reception at Orchard Lake Country Club followed.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore an empire gown of ivory crepe with a chapel train and an overbodice of re-embroidered Alencon lace. Her elbow-length illusion veil was attached to a court cap of crepe and appliqued Alencon lace. She carried a cymbidium orchid surrounded by roses and fuji mums.

Mrs. Armand Kunz

Miss Mary Anne Krokus was Maid of Honor. Other attendants were Mrs. William J. Edson and Mrs. John F. Franklin. Miss Sharon Hingst, cousin of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid. They were attired in slender floor-length gowns of sapphire crepe and carried bouquets of long stemmed red roses.

Mr. John F. Franklin was best man. Ushers were Messrs. William J. Edson, Wayne R. Helloman, and R. Mark Leidigh.

The bride is a graduate of Wayne State University and attended Columbia University. She is Director of Radio and Television for the United Foundation.

Mr. Kunz was graduated from Wayne State University and received a Juris Doctor degree from the Wayne State University Law School. He is with the firm of Wunsch, Aikens and Hall, and is a member of the Wayne State University Law School faculty.

After a trip to Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and the Lesser Antilles, the couple will reside in Indian Village.

Linda Zapoli

Mr. and Mrs. William Zapoli of Detroit announce the engagement of their daughter, Linda, to Richard A. Stevens. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stevens of Hubbard Rd., Livonia. A March wedding is planned.

Camp Fire Girls Have Many Projects

Area Camp Fire Girls have been busy at work with various Christmas projects.

New members of the national organization, a group of 12 seven and eight-year-olds called Merry Blue Birds, spent last week making gifts for their mothers. Next week, they will be doing gifts of their choice for the fathers. At the recent meeting cookies were served by Kay Greenbury and the table was cleared by Kim Oddo. Leader of this new group is Mrs. Rose Gruenwald, assisted by Mrs. Mariellen Greenbury. They meet weekly at Longacre School.

Coffee cans with plastic lids sparked the imagination of the Blue Bird Fawns in making Christmas gifts for mothers at their last meeting. The group now is looking forward to a caroling session followed by hot chocolate at the home of Colleen Pattison the week before Christmas.

Mothers of girls in Na-Kon-Tan-Ya were present for their "Bead Presentation Ceremonial." The girls carried lighted candles for the program and sang "The Camp Fire Girls Law." Debbie Carless, JoAnn Craig, Paula Gruenwald and Mary Jo Ross earned honors. After group singing, the mothers were served coffee and cookies.

The Dec. 2 meeting of Na-Kon-Tan-Ya was devoted to packaging candy for hospitalized children. Seventy-six packages were wrapped with green and red paper and tied with yarn bows. Acting chairman was JoAnn Craig. Christmas cookies were baked by Norma Preston. Mary Jo Ross was scribe.

Fourteen girls of the newest Camp Fire Girl group "Tanda" are all sixth graders at Wooddale School. Last week they made tentative plans for the season and elected officers. President is Wendy Beemer; vice president, Carol Smith; secretary, Shirley Rotary; treasurer, Tonni Axelson; scribe, Beth Goodwin; and historian, Pat Coffman.

Tanda meetings are held the first and third Wednesdays of each month at the home of their guardian Mrs. Lillian Axelson. The girls hope to do service work at the Plymouth State Home and Training School, the charity of their sponsor, The Women of Kendallwood Farms.

Tan-Da-Ki-Ya devoted two meetings to making Christmas decorations for a child nursery school. They decorated styrofoam cones with glitter and transformed them into Christmas trees. Hostess this week was Julie Derderian who served cup cakes and Kool-Aid. The meeting closed with songs from the Camp Fire song book.

Mary Isabel McElligott

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McElligott of MacArthur Drive announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Isabel, to Robert John Ehresman. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ehresman of Five Points. A Jan. 23 wedding is planned.

School Board to Meet With Township, City on Swim Pool

The Plymouth School Board will sit down with members of the City Commission and the Township Board on Jan. 6 to discuss possibilities for a community swimming pool—feasible or not.

Board members voted Monday to attend the meeting after learning the Township had given the City four dates—Jan. 6, 7, 13 and 14—for the proposed meeting.

The Commissioners voted for Jan. 6, informing the Township and then requested the School Board to see if members could attend at the same time.

There has been considerable agitation in the city and township for a public swimming pool—either an outdoor or a year-round facility.

All three governmental units have been studying the situation but none had reached a conclusion. Each is expected to have proposals for the meeting but it is believed a final decision is still some time away.

The three realize that a community swimming pool will probably have to go to the voters for a millage vote and none is anxious to take the initiative starting such a move.

The School Board also accepted with thanks a gift from the Plymouth Rotary Club of $5,000 to improve the lighting system at the high school athletic field.

The gift is made subject to the Board matching the amount. If the cost is more than $10,000—then the Board is on its own.

Members also discussed the possibility of studying the Lakepointe subdivision area for school sites.

Supt. Russell Isbister and Asst. Supt. Melvin Blunk told the Board that a new elementary school will be needed in that section within another year or two and urged a study of the sites available.

"The growth in Lakepointe has been so great that we have already made two additions to Farrand School," the two pointed out, "Now the Board will have to take into consideration plans for a new school within a comparatively short time."

Neither felt that the building would have to have more than eight rooms at the start but would have to be built in such a design that it could be expanded when needed.

In other actions, the Board: Approved a contract for Elizabeth Hargreaves as a third grade teacher at Allen School.

The Public Works Department was busy the last week plowing snow and finishing the Christmas decorations.

The Department repaired two broken water mains. One at Pacific north of William and one on Dewey between Byron and Simpson. Both were six inch water mains. All main streets were patched twice during the week.

A manhole was repaired on Main Street south of wing. A 1 1/2" water tap was installed on Byron Street, this was for a new apartment building.

A total of 46 tons of salt was used during the week. The total used to date is 394 tons.

A couple of citizens called wondering why the snow was not plowed last Saturday. The main reason was that there were so many people who are not working on Saturday. That means many cars were parked out at the curb and the Public Works Department felt it would not be efficient to plow on the weekend.

So on Monday two underbody trucks were out and one grader. The town was covered in two days.

Then we received complaints about drive-ways being plowed with snow. However, the weather warmed and now most of the streets are clear. Again we thank the citizens for their patience.

There were five funerals conducted at Riverside Cemetery this week.

Did you know that there are 540 million pounds of rubbish produced each day in the U.S.A.?

Three PHS Students Gain Math Finals

Three Plymouth High students qualified for the second phase of the Michigan Math prize competition contest with high rankings in the first tests, according to John M. Hoben, assistant principal in charge of Counseling at Plymouth High.

The trio includes: Bruce Sprattling, who gained the second round for the second consecutive year; Greg Butler and William Ray.

They were the only qualifiers from the group of 41 taking the tests in Plymouth. The trio will receive the results of the second phase exams in mid-January.

When Mrs. Wick presented each of them with Christmas high button shoes she had made.

IT MAY BE that John Steinbeck and the late Paul Chandler shared the same philosophy. Remember Steinbeck's words in "Travels with Charley"? He said, "And in my own life I am not willing to trade quality for quantity. If this projected journey should prove too much than it was time to go anyway."

"I see too many men delay their exits with a sickly slow reluctance to leave the stage. It's bad theater and bad living."

How about a good old-fashioned Christmas, one your family will never forget? W. F. Miksch gives the formula in a recent issue of the Saturday Review.

The festivities would include dragging home a Christmas Tree felled by a dull axe with a live goose under your free arm, two-cent stamps on Christmas cards and from the thermostat turned down to 40 degrees to achieve Jack Frost patterns on the windows.

In the gift department he suggests a pair of mittens and an orange for each child while you gladden your newboy's holiday with a shiny new penny.

Once you get in the proper mood you could probably come up with many more dandy ideas of your own.

tions for Christmas and no competition. The Commission was in general agreement with everything you said and would like to cooperate in the promotion of such an activity.

You are very familiar with the limitations placed on the Parks and Recreation Department because of stringent budgets and limited personnel. So you will certainly understand that this project solely controlled by the Recreation Department is not practical. There is also some question as to whether or not it is appropriate for a City department to assume the responsibility for promoting an activity of this kind even if all the facilities were readily available.

Being in hearty accord with the sentiments you expressed, we would like to suggest that some civic minded organization might like to organize and promote a home holiday decoration activity and if some organization would take on this responsibility, members of the Livonia Parks and Recreation Commission and the full-time members of the Recreation Department all volunteer to contribute their time and talents to help assure the success of such an activity.

Postmaster Issue

EDITOR:

With all due respect to you, your newspaper, Republicans, Kiwanians, and Ernest Henry, I believe your readers should also know there is another man qualified for the position of Postmaster of Plymouth.

James Grater was sworn in as Acting Postmaster on November 6, 1964 upon the recommendations of the former Postmaster, George Timpona, and Congresswoman Mrs. Martha Griffiths. I'm sure the appointment would not have been made had they thought he was not qualified.

Grater began his post office career in Plymouth as a substitute clerk in 1947. His appointment in 1957 as Superintendent of Mails cumulated his abilities of Finance Clerk and Foreman of Mails.

Having been close friends of Grater and his family for many years, I know he has given his full attention and perseverance to each position he has held.

Not being a man who basks in notoriety, I feel this letter may permit the public to know of the man in the background who would like to receive the permanent position of Postmaster.

I, one of many, know Grater would be a credit to our community.

Sincerely yours,
Heien M. England

Editor:

In common with so many other people in Western Wayne County, somehow I wish to express to you and to your readers our deep sympathy on the passing this week end of your publisher, Mr. Paul M. Chandler.

It goes without saying that Paul was a conscientious, hard-working, well-meaning and controversial member of our community. His untimely death was, of course, hastened by his zeal to help point the way for the community.

May we urge that you continue aggressively in his path. It is so important for there to be in the community a voice that takes the long view to help us map out the kind of community which we wish to create for future generations. As you know, Paul did take the long view; he was not deterred by events of the moment; he tried to suggest decisions that would fit the nature of the city and area that should be built.

It takes courage, wisdom and insight to fulfill the role which he did. In the last few years, particularly, Paul Chandler did display these qualities. He sought for the community, and through his office in Lansing, the tools which could be used best to forge a meaningful society in the newly organized communities which he served.

We urge that you continue your work with our local executive and legislative leaders, to act as the public conscience, if you will, to help assure the community as a whole that Livonia's future direction will be sound. We must be sure that even the well-intentioned plans of individual developers for their still untouched acres are properly channeled. No matter how well intentioned their planning may appear to be, it must be tailored to fit what we as a community truly want this area to be in the future. Even more important are the problems that arise, as Paul saw them, when less well-intentioned developers seek to use our open space for their own benefit. We urge that you continue the work with the Planning Commission and the Council so that the remaining, still to be built projects that will shape the pattern of our community in the future are sound for us as a community and are not just approved because a builder thinks he has a right to do what he will with the land which he thinks he owns exclusively. Legal right to erect must be tempered with the

Urge Mail Patrons To Use ZIP Code

All major post offices have recently converted parcel post sorting and transportation facilities to the ZIP code system reports acting Postmaster James Grater of the Plymouth office.

He points out that this is important to residents of all areas in the United States since almost every parcel at one time on its trip goes through these offices. The use of the ZIP code can save 24 hours or more in the delivery of most parcel post.

"ZIP codes on parcels means a far less chance of damage because of more direct routing and fewer handlings, but the success of the program hinges on public use of the code numbers in addressing packages," he said.

Grater suggested that even if patrons do not know the ZIP code of the address to which their mail is going, they should use it on return addresses. When cards and packages arrive, the five digit return address codes should be added to Christmas lists for use in the future.

ZIP coded mail from a smaller post office will generally be sent to the nearest post office or "sectional number". From there, it is sent directly to the sectional center nearest the final destination. In most instances this eliminates at least one separation of mail.

Grater points out, by way of illustration, that a parcel mailed from Long Beach, Calif. to Alexandria, Va. without a ZIP code must be halted in Cincinnati for additional sorting. From there it is sent to Washington, D.C. over-all plans, aspirations and dreams of the community itself.

If we would remember Paul, we would also remember his constant fight over the years against the ugliness, the decay and the lack of care which is so prevalent in our community. One needs only to observe the mud, the unpaved streets, the lack of gutters, the untidiness of main intersections, the clutter of the multitude of unprofessional and sloppy signs along our byways, the curse of telephone poles and exposed wiring, and the creeping ribbons of wide asphalt bisecting the community to understand what he meant.

We urge you once again to take up his position with the Council and the Mayor to encourage them in improving the design of the multilane highways that are soon to be built in Livonia. You will recall his plea some months ago that the center lane of the new 5- and 7-lane roads be planted in grass rather than in ugly blacktop. While this would serve to improve the over-all appearance of the community, which in turn raises our own self respect and encourages others to live, work and shop here, it has a healthy value in improving traffic control. The turning lane on the two months' old Middlebelt, which is now collecting a layer of grime because it is not used except at a few intersections, is a valid testimony to the strength of his earlier view.

You are in the best position of all to help all of us who are interested in the proper growth of our community to put our eyes on the long view target. Once the community is erected, once the blacktop is in place, once the electric and telephone wires are strung and once the bricks, mortar and concrete are in place, the pattern for ever is set. What we have here is too precious to be spoiled by unwise planning and to meet current needs. If there was anything that Paul Chandler worked to do it was to protect us from the decision of the moment and to encourage us to plan effectively for soundness in economics and civic responsibility. Although those of us who have been in public service in Livonia have from time to time had many of our projects the subject of his barbs, we still respect the basic objectives which your late publisher espoused.

Some of the things which we must do of course require extra funds. If they are important to be done and if the shape of our own future depends upon them, they must be done. Paul understood this and he was fully prepared to offer his support for revenue increasing methods which seem to be worthy of the objective. We must constantly encourage our civic leaders to exercise truly their responsibility, and when it is necessary to ask the public for additional financial help, the civic leaders must have the courage to ask it; it will then be your responsibility to help the public understand the need.

We urge that the work upon which he embarked for this purpose be maintained so that our children and their children may find this the kind of community which it has the potential surely to be.

Very truly yours,
L. E. LANDES.

Every nook and corner of the Ursa home lent itself to "House Beautifully Decorated." The Topiary trees and a set of Carolers on the piano, made from magazines and painted, were outstanding.

One of the most unusual Ad- vent calendars hung in a kitchen of Mrs. Holk's home, it would make any child happy, to each day remove one of the petite size Christmas ornaments and hang on the huge felt tree.

Lastly, the McCuaig home on Clemons Dr., where the refresh- ments were served and so wel- comed on the cold night. The outside decorations with the gigantic angels really said "come in."

Christmas was in evidence in Lake Pointe.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hammerschmidt of 12058 Winthrop, Detroit. The bride-elect is a senior at Eastern Michigan Univer- sity. The prospective bride- groom is employed at Stop & Shop Market in Plym- outh. A June wedding is planned.

'Do-it-Yourself' Gifts Suggested By City Library

It's not too early to think of Christmas gifts if you'd like to give presents with a personal touch — gifts you make your- self!

According to Librarian Skip Rosenthal, the Livonia Public Library has numerous books which offer suggestions for making hundreds of attractive and useful gifts.

Especially valuable as a source of ideas for a wide variety of handmade gifts is Kathryn Seibel's "The Joyful Christmas Craft Book," Alcoa's "Handicraft," Majorie Green's "Gifts, Gadgets, and Glamour," and Willard Waltner's "Holiday Hobbycraft."

Instructions for making a variety of dolls and stuffed toys can be found in such books as "The Craft of Stuffed Toys," by Esme McLaren; "Homemade Dolls in Foreign Dress," by Nina Jordan; "Things to Make for Children," by Sunset; and "Make Your Own Soft Toys," by Phyllis Chappell.

In addition, do-it-yourself en- thusiasts will find hundreds of suggestions for Christmas gifts in back issues of magazines which are available at the library.

The South Branch is located at 33720 Plymouth Road, GA 7-1990 and the Sandburg Branch is at 30100 W. Seven Mile Road, 476-0700. The Li- braries are open as follows: Monday through Thursday, 12- 9; Friday and Saturday, 9-5.

Plymouth Soroptimists Have Party

The Plymouth Soroptimists attended one of their nicest Christmas parties at the home of Ruth Cole in Northville on Dec. 9.

Each member shared in pro- viding the supper with their fa- vorite dish.

A highlight of the evening was a silent auction which provided many laughs.

The Wool Shop and the Cad- illac Drapery on Main St. in Plymouth are anxious to accept your clean, usable clothing for the needy children of Plymouth.

Tops Club Officers Installed

The Tops Club at their regu- lar meeting on Wednesday, Dec. 9 at the Plymouth High School, held their Annual Ceremony of the Installation of Officers for the year of 1965. The follow- ing officers were installed: Leader, Irene Gibson; Co-leader, Phyllis Mitchell; Secretary, Gail Donnelly; Treasurer, Doris Root; and Weight Recorder, Pat Stoddard.

Gifts For Plymouth State Home Prepared

The Home Economics Club of Madonna College is undertaking a December pre-Christmas project to make the season a pleas- ant one for the girls of the Plymouth State Home.

Each student has volunteered to make three sewing baskets. These are to be constructed from shoe or cigar boxes, which will be covered with contact paper. Candy or nut tins appropri- ately painted or covered can be used also. Spools of thread, pins, needles, scissors, tap mea- sure, and other sewing equip- ment will be put into each sew- ing kit.

Students taking foods class will collect and concoct simple recipes for delicacies and one- pot meals. These recipes and the sewing baskets and home made Christmas cookies will be delivered to the Plymouth State Home on Dec. 16.

Plymouth B&PW To Meet Dec. 21

The Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club will hold their Christmas Meeting at the Hillside Inn Dec. 21 at 6:30 p.m.

This will not be a business meeting. An interesting pro- gram is planned.

All new and prospective mem- bers must make their reserva- tions by 12 noon on Saturday, Dec. 19.

The committee appointed to decide on the appropriate gift for the Plymouth State Home are: Hanna Strasen, Cynthia Eaton and Virginia Gibson.

Members attending the Dec. 21 meeting may make their dol- lar contribution for the gift at that time. Those not attending may mail it to Hanna Strasen.

Senior Citizens

By Agnes Rollins

Plymouth Senior Citizens met in the Masonic Temple on Dec. 3rd with 85 members in at- tendance. Election of Officers for the New Year took place and are as follows: President, Sam Wilhelm; 1st Vice, Grant Camhausen; 2nd Vice, Forest McDonald; Secretary, Lena Burkhold; Treasurer, Mary Winning.

A thanks to all the past offi- cers took place and the after- noon was spent playing cards and games.

The next meeting will be held Dec. 10, with the birthday cake celebration for all who have a birthday during the month of December.

Dec. 17, will be the Christ- mas Pot Luck at 12:30 in the Masonic Temple.

Sandra Lee Heien Marries William Ralph Williams Nov. 28

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Williams

A Nov. 28 Candelight service at Lola Park Lutheran Church in Redford Township united in marriage Sandra Lee Heien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Heien, 15946 MacArthur, and William Ralph Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Williams, 26685 Southwestern.

Rev. Edward Zell, pastor of the Church officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a white floor-length taffeta gown with a lace bodice. She carried a cascade of Philanopsis orchids and white roses.

Sandra Blackwell, Matron-of-Honor, and the bridesmaid, Diane Leisz, wore yellow dresses.

Jack Hilton was best man and Charles Blackwell, Robert Heien, and Lawrence Burns seated the guests.

The groom is a graduate of Thurston High School and is presently stationed in Beaufort, South Carolina in the Marine Corp.

The couple will be living in Beaufort for about seven months and then will return to Redford Township, where they plan to make their home.

See You There!

William Milliken, Lt. Governor-Elect of the State of Michigan, will be a guest of the Republican Party of Livonia at the Rosedale Gardens Clubhouse on Hubbard on Wednesday, Dec. 16 at 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

At the Redford Township Jaycees Candelight Ball on New Year's Eve. The proceeds will go to provide therapeutic facilities at the Plymouth State Home.

The Christmas Cantata at St. Matthew's Church, Livonia. The program, which will be presented by the Chancel Choir on Dec. 20 at 8 p.m., will consist of "The Heavenly Child" by Bernard Hamblen.

Girl Scouts Active

By AMY CHARRON

Remember, Dec. 18. That's the date for the trimming of the Christmas Tree in front of Farmington's new City Hall. All the Girl Scouts of the Farmington neighborhood will trim the tree and sing Christmas Carols. The time is 4:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Come on folks, only by your attendance can you show your interest in the Scouts and can the project be a success.

Attending the recent Regional Conference in Chicago were Mrs. Bridget Reagan, leader of Senior Troop #258, Mrs. Margaret Scall, Leader of Cadette Troop #804, and our neighborhood chairman Mrs. Leona Stidwill. The subject of the conference was "Scouting A Promise in Action."

On Sunday, Nov. 8, six girls and two leaders, Mrs. F. Reagan and Mrs. F. Papke, of Senior Troop #258, hiked 14 miles of the Wilderness Trail in the Holly Recreation Area. The girls who took "the long walk" were: Vicki Papke, Carol Sue Burton, Lynn Callahan, Betty Wright, Alice Niven, and Karen Le Fevre.

The following Saturday, Nov. 14, the troop went on a hayride with Sea Scouts from Redford. Thirty-one people in all rode to the Hayride Lodge in Rochester. Four girls from Mrs. Lovett's troop in North Farmington were guests, as well as Joyce Ray, the American Sister of last year's German Exchange Student. It was a lovely evening and all enjoyed the spaghetti supper, the games and, of course, the hayride.

Tuesday, Nov. 17, the troop had a Rededication Ceremony to formally accept Betty Wright and Lynn Callahan as Senior Scouts and to officially welcome Janice Young who came to the troop from Tulsa, Oklahoma. Mimi Muller, who was a former Senior Scout in the Philadelphia area, gave the commands for the Flag Ceremony. Mimi has taken Cadette Leaders training and will work with Cadette Troop #317. The Flag Ceremony was followed by a Candelighting Ceremony with the laws repeated. The troop pledged itself to the 8 Indispensables of the Senior Program.

A program Aide Bar was presented to Carol Sue Burton who has just finished her program aide training. After the colors were retired, refreshments were served to parents, guests and troop members. Movies and slides of last summer's European Trip were then shown by Vicki Papke and Bridget Reagan.

Junior Troop #1036 will have a Rededication Ceremony on Dec. 16. Mother's are invited. Watch this column for further details.

On Dec. 3 Brownie Troop #127 and guests of all the Girl Scouts at Alameda School, Leaders and Mr. Langen, Principal of the School, enjoyed the slides of Japan. They were shown by special guests Mrs.

Robert Stamps and daughter, Debra.

On Dec. 22 the Scouts will sing Christmas Carols for the ladies of Kendallview Convalescent Home and pass out small gifts. Following that they are invited to Barbara Lewis' home for a Christmas Party.

They also gave Mr. Willy Worm to the children at the Plymouth State Home.

This will be all the Girl Scout News until after the Christmas Holiday so all of you have a Merry Merry Christmas and the Best New Year's Ever.

Seton Guild Tea Success

The Seton Guild Annual Christmas Tea for adults and The Christmas Party for the children of the St. Vincent and Sarah Fisher Home for Children was held Sunday, Dec. 13.

The adults enjoyed Tea in Labourer Lounge, also an Open House and tour of the home, while the youngsters attended the party in the downstairs playroom of the hall. This included the children of guests and the home. Santa Claus spoke personally to each child from the home and took their orders so that their desired gift will be delivered in time for Christmas morning. There were refreshments and small toys to delight the children and lots of laughter and joy thanks to the planning of Mrs. J. Bommarito and Mrs. J. Malpoli, chairmen of the children's party fun.

The proceeds from the donation Tea will help provide the big presents which each child receives on Christmas morning, and of course it takes a lot of toys for 150 or more children.

Assisting Mrs. Peter Rizzo, Guild President, and the Sisters of the home were Mesdames: R. Mrowczynski, Jerry Flanigan, Leo Weber, Burnett Reamer, Faye Baldwin, Joseph Wolski, Wm. Dooley, Paul Bowman, M. Swift, Harold Taylor, J. Battle, L. Timma, and L. Rossi.

Bridge Play Results

Winners in a four table Howell duplicate game, played Dec. 10, at the Early Bird game, held weekly at the Farmington YMCA are: First place, C. Janke and J. Bone. Second place, J. Kohn and M. Lipson.

Winners placed down 4 positions. There will not be a game played Dec. 24.

Gay garnishes for Christmas cakes and cookies are red and green maraschino cherries. If you plan to use the cherries in the batter, home economists suggest using already sliced cherries to eliminate the cutting and chopping chore.

Area Teens Are Known Singers

Popular teens Sandy and Sherry Sansher, of Walled Lake, are adding another step in their ladder of fame. They are going to make a western tour during the Christmas vacation for a group of personal appearances, which includes a date on Shindig.

Daughters of June and Sandy Gardner, both girls attend Walled Lake High School and are combining their regular classroom work with a bright musical career which began when Lee Allen, WXYZ disc jockey, first took an interest in them. Sherry, 15, studies modern dance, art and takes guitar lessons. Blonde 16-year-old Sandy plays organ, piano and the drums. She also takes accordion lessons.

They have recordings of "Its Only a Paper Moon" and "Gonna Get That Man." Essar Recording Company did their latest, "He Is the Boy" and "Johnny Be Good."

Teen Life Digest recently carried a story on Sandy and Sherry as did the Nov. 18 edition of Inter Lake News.

Mrs. Gardner is justifiably proud of her daughters and says that despite their talent, they are hard workers and realize the road ahead is not an easy one.

"Career singing especially in 'pop' is very competitive and requires unceasing practice. The two girls are striving for perfection in their coordination. Their routines are written and worked out by Sherry," Mrs. Gardner says.

"The Singing Sancher Sisters" as they are known will appear next at the Olympia in Detroit, Dec. 18, along with Dave Clark from England.

Historical Museum Dons Holiday Garb

The Detroit Historical Museum donned her festive holiday dress this year on Dec. 13th, when Detroit Historical Society Guild members and their families gathered for the traditional Hanging of the Greens. Every crook and cranny of the museum had a sub-committee devoted to making their area a picture of Christmas wonder. With unlimited ingenuity and imagination, all of the colorful symbols from centuries and cultures past were employed to create a memory stirring atmosphere for museum guests of all ages.

A towering 25-foot Christmas tree, gift of The Native-Born Detroiters, dominates the Round Hall. Antique bulbs and ornaments are hung among the branches of this great tree.

Each year new garlands of popcorn, cranberries and paper chains, in the tradition of Christmas past, are made by Mrs. John M. Murray, 32208 Bonnet Hill, Farmington, and a select committee of the wee Santa helpers in the "Children's Corner."

Cookie cut-outs of all shapes, sizes and ornamentation are contributed from the kitchens of Guild members to assure visitors to the museum of a truly old-fashioned Christmas tree. Beneath the tree gaily wrapped packages and toys that thrilled yesterday's child will interest and charm today's small guests.

Thanks Extended

The family of Mrs. Jessie Garchow, wishes to thank Pastor Winfred Koelpin for his comforting words. FARMINGTON HIGH NEWS

by Tom Donoghue

Last Friday the Farmington Falcon Basketball team ventured to Port Huron to compete in its third contest of the season.

The Varsity for the 64-65 season is under the leadership of Jack Quiggie. The members of this year's team are as follows: Seniors — John Olander, Roy Leach, Lloyd Nichols, Mike Maattala, Terry Taggart and Neil Stark. Juniors — Steve Moore, Tim Patrick, Ron Gilbert, Ron Cleveland, Mike Wilson and George Habicht.

The Christmas Dance coming up on Dec. 23 is being sponsored by the Junior Class. The title of the dance is properly fitted by being named "Belles and Beaux." The dance will be from 9-12 and the price will be $1.75 'drag.' The couple that has the lucky ticket will become the Belle & Beaux of the dance.

What's coming in debate? Facts, facts and facts. The Falcon varsity debate squad was picked recently with Ruth Dodd and Perra Unger on the affirmative side and Jerry Wagner and Clinton Starr on the negative side.

The all-school play, Ask Any Girl, is to be presented Jan 15 and 16 at the Farmington Junior High Gym. The cast for the play reads as follows: Meg Wheeler-Ariene Victor Mrs. Wheeler-Sue Bliss Mrs. Wheeler-Harold Green Aunt Lettie-Jan Umphrey Ada-Barb Balsom Lisa-Judy White Ruby-Carol Griggin Heidi-Michela Smollick Jeannie-Chris McKelvey Terri-Jill McElroy Vince-Gary Lockwood Alvin-Craig Anderson Miles Doughton-Ray Biggs Evan Doughton-Clint Starr Ellen-Sue Kirchner Jane-Linda Campbell Conductor-Steve Shotwell Telephone operator-Sandy Lefebvre Student Directors-Brian Dates, Jan Herman-Cathy Lutson.

The main characters are Meg Wheeler, Miles and Evan Doughton. The plot is a love affair between the three.

FATAC will sponsor a Hootenanny Hop this Saturday, Dec. 19, from 8 to 11 in the FHS gym.

"The Committeemen" will be the featured folksing group. The group is from Birmingham and has appeared at the Raven's Gallery, the State Fair and MSU.

From 8 to 9:30, disc jockey, George Uxa will give away free record albums while he is playing the hit records.

The "Committeemen" will be on from 9:30 to 11. The price for the evening festivities is only 50c for members and 75c for non-members.

Friends, Civic Leaders, Associates Pay Tribute to Paul M. Chandler

From governmental and civic leaders, ordinary residents, and friends throughout the community, have come tributes during a past few days to Paul Chandler.

Addressed to his wife, Myra, to the members of the newspaper staff and to his family, a broad representation of these many tributes follows. We are proud to share them with all our readers.

The following statement was received from Michigan Governor George Romney, who attended the funeral of Paul Chandler on Monday.

"I am personally shocked by the sudden passing of Paul Chandler in the prime of his life and of his legislative career. Both as a newspaperman and as a first term member of the House of Representatives he had exhibited unusual understanding and great courage in dealing with many different problems. I had looked forward with watching Paul carry these qualities to the State senate. My deepest sympathy goes out to his family, his community and the people of Michigan."

GEORGE ROMNEY
Governor

On behalf of the Bentley High school faculty, staff, and student body, I wish to express our sincere regrets to members of the Chandler family upon the sudden passing of Senator-elect Paul Chandler this past Saturday. As was indicated by Governor Romney's presence at the funeral services, Paul Chandler had earned a position of high regard as a public servant in the two short years he served as our representative to the state legislature.

His speech to the Bentley graduating class of 1964 together with his support of many important public school millage and bond proposals were indications of his sincere desire to promote excellence in our schools. Although not all of us always agreed with Paul's positions on public policy, we all admired his courage, energy, and tenacity in support of these positions and his personal efforts to see that the human and civil rights of all men everywhere were respected.

The passing of Paul Chandler is a real loss to Livonia and the state of Michigan.

In deepest sympathy,

DONALD E. FRIEDRICH
Principal, Bentley High School

Dear Myra: Our hearts are very much with you and your family these days and we know the faith that you and Paul share will sustain you. It has been a privilege and a rich experience to know his friendship and we shall greatly miss him. We would like to share with you some of the thoughts which have been coursing through our minds the last 48 hours.

Paul was ever a fighter—and he could not stand to sit by when he saw something that needed to be put right. This quality did not always make life easy or tranquil, but we thank God for it—it is what today's America needs most of all! And like anyone who takes a strong stand, he incurred the opposition of some.

And he was a journalist in the best tradition of our country—he believed that the pen is mightier than the sword. Paul was convinced that editors should take a firm stand on the issues of the day and tell their readers why. He hated hypocrisy and unreality, particularly in politics. He longed for justice and equal opportunity for the underprivileged. We recall how he stuck his neck out about equal rights for all on more than one occasion and are grateful for the many citizens who stood up with him to be counted.

Youth concerned him greatly and he wanted very much to see them find opportunities for employment and a purpose in life big enough to utilize their vast creative energy and sense of dare. We recall with gratitude how he supported the Livonia Youth Employment Service and the Youth Conference for Tomorrow's America at Mackinac Island last summer.

We do not know why the Creator decided He needed Paul now, but we are certain that He has a still bigger job for him to do. Meantime, the rest of us must take up his torch and push forward to accomplish the tasks he started.

Ever faithfully yours,
DR. AND MRS. GORDON EADIE

STATEMENT ON RESOLUTION OF THE LIVONIA BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Board of Education wishes to express its deepest sympathy to the family and friends of Representative Paul Chandler. In the nearly two years of his newspaper affiliation in Livonia we have had long and close association with him personally and with his newspapers and we have the greatest appreciation for the consistently high level of journalism which he practiced as a noble credit to his profession.

We always knew that he would give careful and studious consideration to every proposal for the betterment of local and statewide educational support and practices. During his term of office in Lansing he demonstrated again his leadership in financial and educational matters, and also in many proposals for the welfare of children and people of all ages. He was a native of Michigan. He understood Michigan's problems and aspirations. The betterment of his home communities also became an ideal for him in every waking moment of his busy life.

The school systems of our area have lost a friend, and Michigan has lost an educational leader.

For the Livonia Board of Education,
ROBERT H. CAIN
President.

Marilyn and I extend our deepest sympathy to you after receiving the shocking news. Our hearts are saddened as we share with you the loss of a most dedicated man.

My sincere sympathies. I feel a personal loss and offer my help if needed.

JOE BARGAGNA AND B DRUGS

My deepest sympathy and regrets. We have lost a dedicated liberal.

RON MARDIROS
Chairman, 19th District Democratic Party

My deepest sympathy to the family and friends upon the passing of my dear friend, Representative Paul Chandler. You may find warmth and comfort in the knowledge that Paul gave dedicated service and devotion to his constituents in the State of Michigan.

REPRESENTATIVE JOHN TOEPP

My most sincere condolences to you and to Paul's parents. I was Paul's roommate and one of his close friends at Ann Arbor.

LEONARD SLATER

I was shocked to hear about Paul. You and the children share his loss with a multitude. Everyone who knew him well held him in high respect. All of us mourn with you. May God's strength and blessing be with all of you.

BILLIE S. FARNUM
U.S. Congressman-Elect

May these few words in some way serve to express our heartfelt sympathy.

THE BROTHERS OF ALPHA DELTA CHI

We are deeply shocked by Paul's death. We send our sympathy to you, the children, and Paul's parents.

JACQUE AND SAM MILLER AND MARY HICKEY

My thoughts and prayers are with you.

JUDI (ERRER) REINHARDT

Lola and I extend our sympathy to you in this, your hour of sorrow. Our hearts are heavy with the knowledge of the great loss which we know you must bear.

I feel a personal loss, too, with the passing away of Paul, who was not only a friend to me, but also a friend to the entire Plymouth Community. I shall always remember him as a fine person, well motivated, energetic, kind and helpful. We shall miss a dedicated friend, in the service to his fellow man.

Very truly yours,
ALBERT and LOLA GLASSFORD.

The Plymouth Area lost a dedicated public servant in Paul Chandler. Endowed with a scholarly mind and indoctrinated with a spirit of unselfish service, Paul won a position of respect in public office which left an indelible print on the minds and hearts of all who knew him.

Paul wrote and spoke with conviction on subjects of general welfare. He was unafraid to express himself when he thought a minority point of view merited a greater exposure to public view. He extended himself beyond the call of duty to serve others.

My sympathy is extended to the entire family.

Sincerely,
RUSSELL L. ISBISTER
Superintendent of Schools, Plymouth.

While many of us feel it now, it will be months before the full realization of the loss of Paul Chandler will be recognized by our community.

In the past seven years one thing became very clear; Paul Chandler believed in youngsters and specifically the youngsters of Livonia. He always supported what he believed would be best for our school system and the young people in it. While in the Legislature, he carried these same convictions to the State level.

Those of us who knew him closely came to understanding the importance he placed on "Taking a Stand."

I've known Paul Chandler for many years, both as a friend and as a dedicated public servant. I have always had great respect for his ability as a Representative in the state legislature, and as a newspaper publisher.

He would never compromise his political ideals for narrow, partisan political gains. He would have represented us with distinction in the state senate.

For my wife and I, his passing was public as well as a private tragedy.

The City Commissioners and I offer our deepest sympathy to you and your family at this, your time of bereavement. The passing away of Paul, we know, is a great loss to you and we are saddened with the knowledge of the heavy burden of sorrow which you bear.

We shall feel a great loss in this City of a dedicated public servant, who had the interest of this community at heart. Our personal acquaintance with him was a matter of pride to us, and we knew we had a friend and neighbor watching for the welfare of Plymouth.

On behalf of the citizens of Plymouth, the City Commissioners, the city employees and myself, I extend our deepest regrets.

RICHARD H. WERNETTE
Mayor of Plymouth.

Paul Chandler was constantly in pursuit of the truth. In this search he was a heavy borrower and reader of books and periodicals. His interests were widespread, and he used his knowledge for the betterment of his fellowman. His friends in the Capitol will miss him and his many contributions to humankind.

The Plymouth Township Board of Trustees was shocked and saddened at the sudden death of your husband.

While sympathy is small consolation, even when it springs from the hearts of those who share your sorrow, I want you to know how keenly Paul's loss is felt by everyone here. I do not need to tell you of the respect and admiration in which he was held by all who worked with him.

All members of the Board of Trustees join me in this expression of our deep sympathy. We only wish it were within our power to alleviate the sadness that has come to you and your family.

Very sincerely yours,
ROY R. LINDSAY
Supervisor, Plymouth Township.

Paul M. Chandler was not only my State Senator elect, he was also my friend. He was a man who fought for his convictions without weighing the political consequences.

I am terribly sorry to lose such an able representative in Lansing. The entire community will be poorer for his passing.

Paul Chandler's death came as a great shock to me. As the Democratic leader in the Farmington area, I found Mr. Chandler to be very fair in his coverage of our activities. His newspaper was always objective in reporting on our candidates and programs. We especially appreciated his dedication to individual rights and liberties.

Paul Chandler was a friend of mine. More important, he was a friend of law and justice. He respected officers of the law, and he cooperated fully with them. The Farmington Township Police Dept. has lost a friend.

In Lansing we knew Paul Chandler as a painstaking and thoughtful legislator. In Livonia we knew him as a purposeful force in community and civic affairs. In both places he was cherished for his belief in the people's right to know and for his willingness to fight to see that this right was maintained in his community as well as in the State Capitol.

and sometimes unpopular ideas for solving the state's problems was reflected in this particular bill. It would have made Michigan only the second state in the Union to have such a house.

Telephone users in Livonia remember Paul for his one-man fight against the Telephone Company over an unfair rate structure which forced some Livonians to pay a toll fee to call their city's public library or friends in another part of the city.

Paul took this battle to the Public Service Commission and before the Legislature and eventually won for the suburbs a uniform rate structure.

Others will remember Paul for his courageous stand on behalf of human rights and civil liberties, a stand which caused him to be smeared on many occasions by extremists. A member of the Executive Board of the American Civil Liberties Union in Detroit, Paul had spoken often to human relations groups had supported civil rights bills in the legislature and had never been afraid to strongly espouse this cause of democracy through his newspaper.

All of his efforts were reflected in November when again, in the wake of a Democratic landslide, Paul was one of the few local Republicans to survive. He had won the top endorsements of the Oakland County Citizen's League, the Civic Searchlight, Inc., and Independents, Republican and Democrats throughout his new District.

This widespread support brought Paul, before his death, the satisfying victory that only a man of strong principles can have—the knowledge that one does not need to be compromising, crooked or neutral to win elections.

It was clear to him that what he stood for had won the support of the majority of the people — of all political faiths — in this district. This, to him, was a triumph of good and a reflection of man's ability to see the truth.

His death has not only stilled a "strong voice for the suburbs" in Lansing for his constituents, but has brought a tragic void to the people of the entire state, who have lost a true champion of Democracy.

"Amazed Us Then," Says Veteran Sportswriter

Recalls Days of Young Chandler

By W. W. EDGAR
Former Free Press Sports Editor

The Paul Chandler I knew — and will remember — was a restless sort of fellow who theoretically was always climbing mountains.

When news of his untimely death arrived memories started tumbling down through the years to the day — more than two decades ago — that he made his first appearance in the press-boxes of the Detroit area.

As he took his place among the denizens of the press box—a chubby, apple checked sort of lad—the veterans began asking: "Who is the new fellow over there?"

And the answer came back—"He's a young college kid who just started with the Detroit News."

The term "college kid" wasn't used derisively—it was just that, at the time, none of the sports writers on the front lines, carried a college degree. They were graduates of the school of hard knocks and were glad they had advanced as far as they did — covering sports for a metropolitan paper.

So, it was with a keen eye that we watched this young "college kid."

At the time I was a member of the sports staff of the Detroit Free Press and considered a veteran.

In that role I was in competition with the young fellow and it didn't take long to find out that he was a keen competitor.

Paul Chandler wasn't the usual type of sports writer when making his first appearance in the major press boxes. He soon won the veterans over with his keen, but friendly attitude, and it wasn't long until even the most calloused veteran learned to respect this young "college kid."

But in our respect for him we soon came to feel that he wouldn't be one of us very long. Each day his eyes peered far out on the horizon — as if they were miles away — and not focused on the event at hand. Whereas, we veterans seemed to be content with our lot, this young fellow showed a restlessness — a yearning for higher things — even in those days.

So, it was no surprise when we learned that he resigned from the sports staff of the Detroit News to become affiliated with the Detroit Race Course.

"Wonder how long that will last," asked some of the veterans among us who had come to admire this young fellow.

There was a feeling that each job Paul Chandler took was just another step to a higher place. And so it came to be.

It wasn't too long until we heard that he departed from horse racing to become a newspaper publisher in the suburbs through the purchase of The Livonian.

"What next?" we asked along the Detroit press boxes. We didn't have long to wait. One after another he took over the papers in the suburbs — the Redford Observer, the Plymouth Mail, and only recently the Farmington Observer.

interest was most recently demonstrated by the communication which he sent to our City Council meeting last week. Writing as a newly elected State Senator, he requested an opportunity to meet with the council on problems of mutual concern in state and local affairs.

Mr. Chandler was dedicated to the highest principles of public service. His passing was a great loss to our community.

JOHN DINAN
Farmington City Manager

I knew Paul Chandler for only a short time, but I was impressed by his high ability as a public servant. What impressed me most about him was his uncompromising dedication to his principles and his obviously sincere humility.

EARL OPPERTHAUSER
Member Farmington Township Board of Trustees

With great pride I noticed Governor Romney at the funeral of Paul Chandler. The personal regard shown by the Governor, to take the time from his busy schedule, was a fitting tribute to the legislative contribution

Mr. Chandler made during his term as a State Representative. I believe the Governor's attendance should also serve as a firm reminder to all the citizens of our community of the many outstanding services Mr. Chandler has performed for us in the past.

We in the business of putting out community newspapers have lost a worthy colleague and an articulate journalist. We all appreciated Paul Chandler's veracity, his sincerity, and his drive. He will be deeply missed in the world of politics and in the world of journalism.

I was honored to know Paul Chandler. I regret that it was for only a short time. He was an extremely dedicated, sincere and personable gentleman.

BY MAYOR HARVEY W. MOELKE

The Mayor's Corner

THE ENTIRE COMMUNITY is shocked and saddened at the sudden taking from amongst us a strong, willing voice for good. Paul Chandler's passing leaves a void that will be difficult to fill.

The outpouring of sympathy to his family by people from all walks of life in our community and from his colleagues in the State Legislature is indicative of the great respect Paul Chandler generated wherever he went.

Bette and I had come to know Paul and Myra Chandler quite well in the last two years. We had many occasions when we discussed at length the problems facing our community.

Paul used his mighty pen to encourage citizen participation in government and civic affairs. He was deeply concerned with the dearth of dedicated, qualified seekers of public office and in his last "Facts and Opinions" column he said, "The general quality of men who are elected to public office in the United States of America is so much shabbier than the typical citizen realizes, that we are teetering today right exactly on the edge of national tragedy."

He was more than willing to give unstintingly of his talents and his time and did not hesitate to jeopardize his personal fortunes by taking a determined stand for what he believed to be right. He has left a fine example of a truly dedicated public servant and a publisher who realized his great responsibility to allow both sides of a question an equal opportunity to present their position.

I know that his wife, Myra, and the staff of the Livonian will do their utmost to continue the policies of their CHIEF. Livonia has a need for many Paul Chandlers. I hope his good example will cause more of us to take an active interest in our community. I am sure that this would be his wish.

Paul Chandler was an elected official representing his district because he felt that it was his duty to contribute his talents to the government he so strongly supported. When many another man would have said he had done his part, he still would not rest. I have known him as a man of tremendous energy who was never too busy to take on any task that needed to be done.

He looked upon this world of time as a great mural with each of us given our brush and colors. He wanted this world of ours to be a better place because of his having passed through.

There are many individuals and causes that owe a debt of gratitude to Paul Chandler. I will always remember the encouraging counsel he so generously gave me. He hoped to instill in all whom he touched a desire to get involved, to take an active part in their world around them.

GOVERNOR GEORGE ROMNEY and other dignitaries came Monday to pay their final respects to Paul M. Chandler at services in Livonia's Faith Lutheran Church. Carried by staff members of the newspapers he published, Paul's body leaves the church for its final resting place in Glen Eden Memorial Park.

THE CONSTANCY OF CHANGE:Text of Paul Chandler's Bentley Commencement Address

When the Bentley High School Class of 1964 marched to their seats in the football grounds on a crisp Spring evening to hear their commencement address, few knew what an inspiring message Paul Chandler would give them. The words had deep meaning, not only to the young men and women in their graduation caps and gowns, but to their parents and teachers as well. Today, at the request of some of the adults and young people who were privileged to be on hand for that occasion, The Observer reprints the message. It has validity for all citizens in Michigan. We believe it is worth reading and re-reading.

It has been twenty-eight years since last I had the privilege of attending a high school commencement, and it is thrilling and exciting to be here tonight.

Twenty-eight years — more than a full generation. It was my own commencement, and looking backward it seems impossible that so much change could have occurred in the world. There was no television then, no nylon, no penicillin, no frozen dinners, no divided atom, no earth satellite. Albert Einstein was still in the earliest stages of thinking through his theories that time stands still if the object moves with enough speed and that huge bombs would be one result if the great energy in matter were to be released.

Our class had maybe 100 seniors graduating, and occasionally I think of them. One died recently of lung cancer, reminding that cancer's ravages are one thing that man has not yet changed. Another from that class is a prosperous electronic engineer; some were casualties during the War; a couple are in mental institutions; almost all of them have raised families, and in recent years have been attending high school commencements for their own children.

Commencement is an important moment — make no mistake — in the lives of all who reach it. It is a turning point; it is a time when many basic things begin to change in the lives of those involved.

It is not the main point tonight to dwell on these, but I would suggest that perhaps the most shocking change which graduates new (and always) have had to face is the swift disappearance of pity for themselves and the loss of so-called "understanding" which is found by CHILDREN in their homes and in their schools.

Whereas heretofore it has always been possible for you to explain lack of success or oversight to someone — a parent or a teacher, or perhaps even a psychiatrist — who would lend a sympathetic ear — now the rules change. In general, you will be judged when you leave high school and home not by how sweet you are underneath, or what particular "emotional disturbance" might explain your failure, but rather you will be judged pure and simple on the basis of what you DO, what you accomplish, what is your product.

It's a rough and competitive world once the commencement exercises are over, and the choice is either to understand it — work hard, become mentally firm — or to retreat into some kind of mysticism or beatnikism and let others take care of you as they might an invalid or a child.

A proper question on Commencement Day is: "What has been the point of going to school for these past 13 years?" There are some societies in the world where such schooling is not possible, for one reason or another, and yet young people there grow up and become adults somehow. Even in our own country, there are those who say knowledge is a dangerous and distressing thing and that we'd all be better off if we knew less and got about the business of milking the cows.

But the answer as to why you have spent 13 years in school is that your parents believed learning and knowledge would help you in your grappling with life in your later years — that with knowledge you can live a better life than you can WITHOUT IT.

There is also in the minds of your elders a further justification for the search for knowledge and that is the somewhat spiritual belief which people hold that man was put on earth to wonder, to explore, and to learn; and that if he fails to do this, he is something of a failure in the eyes of God.

Every high school graduate, however, SHOULD BE WARNED that few human beings, if any, ever have been able to agree exactly on the purpose of life; and, hence, it is not any cinch trying to explain the value of schooling in a way that will be acceptable to every young man and young lady.

There are those in the United States, and I think that I am one of them, who believe that our entire nation is misdirected and confused about its purpose and that across the whole land we are a bunch of crazy, mixed-up human beings pursuing mechanical rabbits that lead us aimlessly around in a circle.

For example, I think that both high school graduates and their parents today will concede that one of their foremost ambitions has been to "get rich"; to accumulate wealth in one form or another. In fact, I would say that this is the ambitation of three out of every four men in an ordinary suburban community and that this single goal will dominate almost their entire lifetime. They started on it immediately after their high school commencement; they are still working at it today; and when they die they hope to be working at it directly or looking back on it in retrospect.

Yet for all the accumulation of material things which has taken place in America — the richest country in the world, we like to boast — there never has been as much personal misery as exists today, and, if anything, the torment is the greatest in those who have dedicated themselves the most to "getting rich." "Getting rich" as an ambition actually is a form of selfishness, and one of the eternal rules is that selfishness inevitably creates enemies. It creates them because selfishness results in one man's gain at the expense of another man's loss. When one has enemies, they ultimately band together and create distress for their opponent. Anyhow, it's fair to say that many people do not believe that simply to aspire toward "getting rich" is a sufficient motivation for a high school graduate.

I believe that another widely held ambition by high school seniors is simply that situation covered by the phrase "getting married." This is normal, of course, because men and women have been mating and raising families since the beginning of time.

But, in terms of explaining why one has gone to school for 13 years, by itself "getting married" is not ENOUGH. Americans today are getting married in all-time record numbers. They also are being disillusioned with marriage at a rate that has staggered and perplexed every psychiatrist and sociologist in the country. The divorce rate today is something like nine times higher than it was 30 years ago.

Some of the more PHILOSOPHICAL high school graduates, when asked what they are going to do with their education and what their purpose in life is, will say:

"My goal is to bring 'SECURITY' into my life and into the world." When questioned, they will become considerably vague about what "security" means to them, and, all too often, it will seem to boil down to a pension when they retire and a paid up mortgage on their home.

Of all the so-called goals which are in vogue today, I believe this one of "seeking security" is the most false and has decided more Americans than any other single idea.

The truth is that there is NO security in this world we live in; there is no security in getting rich; there is no security in getting married; and there is no security in claiming to be seeking security as a way of life. The reason there is no security is that change is constant. The real truth is in a phrase used by many writers and philosophers — the phrase, "this too will pass away." For any nation or for a woman or a man to attempt to live entirely within the memories of its past or to try to preserve the realities of the present without recognizing, anticipating, and yielding to change, is to absolutely guarantee a bitter and miserable life.

Madness, suicide, murder, divorce, revolution, war — all the violence that originates within the minds of men — come about because someone refuses to abandon the comfortable thoughts of his past and does not know how to live instead amidst the realities of change.

The standard example in the psychiatric clinic is the adult who cannot endure the frustration of being unable in his later years to recapture the warm and secure images which he seems to remember as a child in his family's arms and, yes, as a teen-ager going through high school.

John Godfrey Saxe wrote in 1850, "When skies are clear expect the cloud; in darkness wait the coming light; whatever be thy fate today, remember this will pass away."

Marcus Aurelius said, "The universe is CHANGE. Our life is what our THOUGHTS make it."

He also said, "Observe always that everything is the result of a change and get used to thinking there is nothing nature loves so well as to change existing forms and to make new ones."

In a word, wise men long have observed that a frozen, unyielding mind or person cannot exist happily on earth. Emperors can tumble fast; the office boy can replace the president; the healthy can die tonight; today's tragedy can turn, in a flash, into brilliant triumph.

And in terms of knowledge, which is one of the most confounding changing things of all, the problem of obtaining new knowledge has accelerated so much in recent years that it has been almost impossible to print the textbooks fast enough to get the information to the classroom. The amount of information and knowledge which the graduates of 1964 received during their 13 years is an infinitely larger store than was given to their parents, all because man knows so much more about his world than he did 28 years ago. Your teachers had a bigger job than any high school teachers ever have had in American history, trying to pack the increased amount of knowledge into the same 13 years available for schooling. And, in spite of how hard everyone has worked, the truth of the matter is that much of what we think we know today will be discovered shallow, inadequate, or false tomorrow — that "this too shall pass."

There can be no security of mind in a world of Nature which changes without notice.

The REAL goal, of course, in life — the real reason your parents gave you this 13 years of education — is for the "pursuit of happiness." We all recall that in the Declaration of Independence the "pursuit of happiness" was pronounced "a certain unalienable right."

Up to now I have cited a few things which I believe do not lead to happiness, although it is often purported they do. Now let's look the other direction.

Happiness can be found in the pursuit of knowledge; simply in the learning process itself, and, looked at from that point of view, education is not a means to an end but an end in itself. Man was put on earth to search and wonder, to use his talents, to add to the accumulated total of ever-changing knowledge, to improve the race generation by generation so that each succeeding one is wiser than the last.

Happiness also consists of improving the lives of those who need help; in building a world that would be pleasing to the eyes of God as we know Him.

If one assumes that happiness is to be discovered this way, then one will waste no time in attempting to achieve freedom for other human beings everywhere. He will begin immediately with the task of trying, as much as one person can, to see that no man on earth goes to bed hungry, cold, wet, or sick. He will see that all men share, wherever they may live and whatever they may look like in physical appearance, the same privileges, the same right to pursue happiness as he does himself.

In other words, an educated man and a happy man is one who knows that life is ever changing, but who can face that with humor and humility. And he is one who knows that happiness is to be found not in "getting rich," not in "getting married," not in trying to overtake that false rabbit known as "security," but instead in helping other people while at the same time searching for knowledge and truth for himself.

This involves what sometimes is known as Love — helping and sharing the struggle and the fierceness of it, and the wounds suffered along the way, with others who have the same need.

In the whole complexity of living, Love in one element that needn't change. It is the one state of mind from which a soul can examine everything else, painful and pleasant, enjoying it or enduring it, looking reality somehow in the eye, knowing but not minding the real truth of life which is, "this too shall pass."

I know I speak for your parents and your teachers and all of us from the older generations when I say that we wish for the 1964 graduating class — a life more profound, filled with more happiness — than we ever have been able to achieve for ourselves.

We ask this for you because, in the most unselfish emotion possible, we love you and wish you well.

Honor Chandler at Concert

The Livonia High Schools Symphony Orchestra dedicated a portion of its program Saturday evening in honor of Paul M. Chandler.

Conductor William Savola designated "Requiem in Our Time" by the contemporary Finnish composer Eino Ruutu to honor Chandler's memory.

Composed in four parts, the selection is titled Hymnus, Credo et Dubito (Belief and Doubt), Dies Irae (Day of Catastrophe), and Lacrymosa (Mourning).

A CITY MOURNS—The flag in front of Livonia's City Hall stands at half-staff in mourning for Paul M. Chandler, State Representative, State Senator-elect, and respected newspaper publisher of this community.

We pledge that The Observer Newspapers will continue to stand for the principles and ideals for which Paul Chandler so valiantly fought. We ask all our readers' help in accomplishing this goal.

Three Important Steps To a Good Enamel Job

Did you ever find yourself wondering what to do with an old, but comfortable chair that looks rather bedraggled? Don't throw it away!

Enamel it. With little more than a can of quality enamel, you can make old, tired furniture more stylish than ever, or give inexpensive, unfinished pieces the look of custom furniture. You can achieve the latest word in home fashions. There are three important steps to be followed in obtaining a successful enamel job. First, you must choose a quality enamel. Second, you must prepare the surface properly. Third, you must apply the enamel properly.

Only a quality enamel made by a reputable manufacturer is your assurance of easy application, thorough hiding power, and a color-fast, durable and carefree finish. To be sure you get a quality product, consult your local paint dealer.

Proper surface preparation involves the condition of the furniture. Wooden furniture in good condition simply requires a good cleaning with odorless paint thinner to remove oil, wax or polish. Afterwards, sand lightly.

This will dull the gloss and provide a surface to which the new finish can adhere. Be sure the furniture is clean and dry before applying the enamel. If the wood furniture is in poor condition, it should be completely stripped of its old finish.

Use a good paint remover and follow the directions carefully. Be sure that you are working in a well-ventilated room. Fill any holes or cracks with plastic wood or water putty and let dry thoroughly. Finally, sand as smooth as possible and apply an enamel undercoat. When this has dried, you are ready to apply the enamel topcoat.

Unfinished furniture is usually factory sanded. But it's a good idea to sand it lightly before you apply the enamel undercoat. If you apply a second undercoat, sand lightly between coats.

To renew wrought iron and other metal furniture, clean thoroughly first. Next, sand away any traces of rust. Prime the spots of bare metal with a quality metal primer such as zinc chromate. Let the primed areas dry, then apply the enamel. Follow the same procedure for aluminum furniture.

The final step to a bright new finish is the proper application. Load your brush generously; flow the enamel on the surface in long, smooth strokes with the grain.

Don't reload, cross-stroke. Then, with your nearly dry brush go over the surface with the grain, once again using long, smooth strokes. This method provides even coverage and eliminates any excess which might cause runs.

Here are a few additional hints. Remove hardware, drawer pulls and metal fittings beforehand. Those which can't be removed should be covered with masking tape. If the pulls and handles are to be enameled it's easier and more efficient to take them off and enamel them separately.

Place chairs and small tables upside down on a bench; it's a more convenient height. Do the underneath surfaces first, then put the pieces right side up and finish.

Book Collections Need Special Care

Expensive books and volumes that need to be specially protected when being moved to another location should be wrapped individually in plain white paper and placed on edge in a sturdy carton, according to packing experts.

Crumpled paper should be used to fill in corners until the carton is snugly packed.

Alphabet Carries Key To Plans For Home

Modern homes have many intriguing features, not the least of which is their identification by letters.

Starting at the beginning of the alphabet, there's the popular A-frame. This modernized version of the ancient Indian teepee rises from its foundations in the shape of the letter "A." Such placement of wood beams which form is gained by the diagonal converge at the roof apex.

Wood roof decking is applied to the beams and over that, roofing materials. With

Workmanship Important in Installing Floor

Floor installation specialists working as consultants to the Technical Services Committee of the Maple Flooring Manufacturers Association, have some very definite observations to make concerning floor laying procedures in today's modern buildings.

They emphasize the fact that sound floor installations are the result of just two things — quality materials and efficient workmanship, according to MFMA.

The specialists point out that two floor installations may look alike, but one floor lasts a few years and the other floor lasts a lifetime. The explanation: "One floor was installed right and the other wasn't."

Poor installation methods are the biggest cause of floor headaches. Building and home owners invest in quality floorings, but they often minimize the importance of workmanship. Floor installation is a job for skilled labor and for professional supervision.

Plastic Hardboard Popular for Teens

One of the most popular panelings for a teen's room is plastic-surfaced hardboard, which comes in easy-to-handle 16"x8" planks.

Lumber dealers carry the paneling in 12 colors, which can be alternated to achieve interesting decorative treatments.

In a girl's room, for instance, one wall can be done in alternating pink and aqua planks. Gray with aqua or yellow also is popular.

Alternating two colors creates a "barber pole" effect that is eye-catching.

Observations, not old age, brings wisdom. —Publius Syrus

Trussed Rafters Important Today

That well-known stand-by of wood frame construction — the 2x4 — has acquired an important modern role.

It is a key element in wood trussed rafters — shallow triangles of lumber that clear span the width of the house at roof level.

Since the roof needs support only at the outer house walls, partitioning can be simplified for larger rooms and more storage space.

Southern pine 2x4's of the standard grades can be used for trussed rafters without special grading.

Turkey Roost Popularity Discussed

Turkey roosts are what some architects facetiously call those cute little gimcracks which are being used to break the sometimes stiff lines of the contemporary house.

Actually, these little shadow frame roof extensions, which is the form most of them take, add a lot of charm and interest to houses which needed just that.

Made of small 2x2 pieces with necessary lengths of boards, these small concessions to variety are becoming more and more popular with the new home set. You can build them with an Oriental flavor, or you can use your own imagination to get variety.

It looks like the turkey roost style of gimcrack is here to stay

KIWANIS CLUB FLAG from Curacao, where he made up a meeting, is presented to President Gerry Fitch, of the Plymouth Club, by Bob Utter (right), who returned from a trip there recently where he helped install a new club.

New Law Aids Mental Health Local Clinics

(This is one of a series of public service articles explaining in general terms a provision of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult a private attorney.)

BY ATTORNEY GENERAL FRANK J. KELLEY

A long-needed extension of mental health services to citizens in their home communities is made possible under a new Michigan law establishing a partnership between state and local agencies to administer many such services on the local level. This program, it is thought, will save much money now spent to maintain mental patients in state institutions far from their homes, and will afford better treatment not only by releasing the money saved for direct therapy, but by sparing many patients from being withdrawn from the context of their family and community life.

Collaboration between state and local entities in helping those with mental problems is not new. In the adult and child guidance clinics we have developed an arsenal of experience upon which state and local administrative and professional experts can now wage war upon mental illness, mental retardation, emotional disorders and other psychiatric conditions.

The legislature proposes to establish community mental health programs by cities of 500,000 or more, or any county or combination of counties, in collaboration with the state department of mental health. The statute provides funds for this program. Services are to include collaboration with public health and other groups for prevention of psychiatric disabilities; information and educational services; consultative services to courts, schools, health and welfare agencies; outpatient diagnostic and treatment services; rehabilitative services for patients with psychiatric conditions, particularly those who have received prior treatment in an inpatient facility; and inpatient diagnostic and treatment services.

Human Relations News For The Suburbs

By DONALD MURCH
Trustee, Livonia Citizens for Better Human Relations

Anyone who has read or heard about the murders of Civil Rights workers or the bombings in Alabama must have been horrified and shocked. Too, we are confused and frustrated by the reports that judges, sheriffs, local mayors and other officials in some southern towns condone and even participate in acts of violence against persons of a minority group.

It seems impossible that such atrocities could occur in America in 1964. We were similarly shocked by reports from the Nuremberg Trials revealing the murders of six million Jews in Germany. How could it happen? How could the people of Germany stand by while other human beings were being slaughtered? The answers are not clear, but every explanation contained expressions like "hate," "prejudice," "complacency" and "willful ignorance."

It is clear that this community and other law abiding communities throughout the country have not engaged in or condoned violence and atrocities against any minority groups. But it is equally clear that these same lawful communities have insidiously contributed to an atmosphere of hate and prejudice through willful ignorance and work-a-day discrimination. We have denied Italians, Greeks, Rumanians, Arabs, Poles, Russians, Albanians, Irish, Germans, Hungarians, Catholics, Jews, Negroes, Orientals, Puerto Ricans, people of dark skin or swarthy complexions, the opportunity to live in whatever city, town or neighborhood they wished even though they were financially able.

Further, we have denied individuals of these ethnic groups the privilege to obtain a job where there is a job opening; not because he is incapacitated, and not even because his grooming is poor or because his personality is lacking.

Job opportunities have been denied these people by nearly every major employer in this country simply because the applicant had the nationality, religion, race or complexion just enumerated.

We have told well educated (even professional) men and women that they could not vote on national election day because they were not qualified to vote, and we have told Jews, Catholics, Protestants and Negroes that they could not attend various colleges because they were not allowed or the "quota" had been filled.

If whole groups of people are denied homes, jobs, education and voting rights on the basis of nationality, race or religion, how long can we deny our role in contributing to hate and prejudice. From these and other prejudice-based practices comes the infection of hate, not the affection of love. The seeds of violence have been sown and are fertilized and watered by every discriminatory act wherever and however committed.

Thursday, December 10, 1964, was Human Rights Day; human rights are not violated by violence alone.

—Martial

Plan Yule Displays at Livonia's Two Public Libraries

"Christmas Around the World" is the title of a display of books and other materials at the Livonia Public Library this week. Many of the available volumes tell the story behind Christmas and how the holiday came to be, said Librarian Skip Rosenthal.

Some of the books which describe the customs, legends and traditions associated with Christmas around the world include "Celebrating Christmas Around the World," by Herbert Wernecke; "Make Your Own Merry Christmas," by Anne Wertsner; "The Light of Christmas," by Frances Bretano and "Forty Six Days of Christmas," by Dorothy Spicer.

Also available are carols and books of Christmas music including "A Book of Christmas Carols," edited by Halg Shekerjian; "The Oxford Book of Carols," edited by Percy Dearmer and "The Treasury of Christmas Music," edited by W. L. Reed.

In addition books can be found on Christmas plays, decorations, parties, gift making and cookery.

The South Branch is located at 33720 Plymouth Road, GA 7-1990. Carl Sandburg Library, 30100 W. Seven Mile Road, 476-0700. The Livonia libraries are open as follows: Monday thru Thursday, 12-9; Friday and Saturday, 9-5.

LIFE SIZE wax replica of DaVinci's famous "The Last Supper" is now on display at the Wonderland Shopping Center and will be open to the public through Wednesday, Dec. 23. It is the only known exhibit of its kind in the country. Each of the 13 wax figures in the exhibit took more than nine months in the making.

Michigan Artists Annual Exhibition Slated for Art Institute in The Spring

The 55th exhibition for Michigan Artists will be held at The Detroit Institute of Arts May 19 through June 13, 1965, announced Robert D. Kinsman, associate curator of Contemporary Art.

March 31 is the deadline for entries from eligible artists. As in previous years, a maximum of two entries may be submitted and must be delivered to The Detroit Institute of Arts by March 31. All work must be for sale and must have been completed within 12 months preceding June 13, 1965.

Eligible artists are those born in Michigan; those who have worked or studied in Michigan for a minimum of two years, and present residents who have lived in the state for at least one year.

CURTAIN GOING UP

By WALLY ROBERTS

Tennessee Williams' "Cat On A Hot Tin Roof" scampers and clawed its way into downtown Detroit last weekend. As the third production of the Masque Theater in the Hotel Wolverine under the leadership of Alan Bullion and Ray Wright, "Cat" shows every sign of being the sharpest, most incisive hit of the Masque's first season.

Mr. Wright has wisely chosen members of his cast from Wayne State University, local community theaters, and the ranks of retired professional actors. A trifle more seasoning and these folks will eventually get the knack of ensemble-type acting.

"Cat On A Hot Tin Roof" is by no means an easy show to do. First of all, check the history of the show. It won the Drama Circle Award and the Donaldson Award on Broadway in 1955. Such dual awards are seldom heaped on one script.

The subject matter of the play is a bit strong as is much of the dialogue. You can't exactly take Aunt Jane or the kiddies to "Cat." Life with all its mendacity, untruths, other veneers are stripped bare in this violent, searing drama. The speeches of Big Daddy, Brick and Maggie are tipped with bitter barbs and sink savagely into the minds of all who truly "dig" what Mr. Williams is driving at, especially in Act II.

The Masque Theater is to be complimented for bringing back this prize-winning play of Mr. Williams. The show has much to say. My only worry is—will our Detroit audiences want to hear this irritating philosophy? Will they tolerate the sudden scraping away the years of cruddy excuses acquired by our "civilized" defensive natures?

Many forward-thinking men of the cloth quote Tennessee Williams in their sermons in an effort to stir their congregations into purposeful activity. Other alert philosophers praise this unusually gifted playwright for putting into words so brilliantly what they have been unable to accomplish over the centuries with their dusty tomes. In other words, "Cat" is a provocative polemic. Mr. Williams was angry when he wrote "Cat." You must forgive his occasional dip into the sordid side of life. These are the characters and let's face it when Mr. Williams writes about them he is going to create a whole character. Nothing is left out.

Brick, Maggie, and Big Daddy fare the best by the author as far as character development goes. Tennessee Williams didn't do much for the minor characters in this powerful drama. Consequently when you go to the Masque Theater to see this powerful drama, keep that fact in mind. Incidentally, you will have until January 30 to see Brick, Maggie, and Big Daddy spouting, shouting, and getting mighty worked up over their very, very personal problems.

Folks at the Masque are to be complimented on their introduction of soft chairs. This is a much needed addition. Of course, some of the seats toward the back of the house still have that elephant tusk hardness that will make any show seem eons long. You can smoke while watching the play, but some coffee is needed at the tables. Those long 20-minute intermissions must be deleted. Even though the Masque will run on the weekends, most folks want to get out of the theater by 11 p.m. You have to have a little time to chat with your friends about the show. And "Cat" is the type of show that will provoke hours of discussion. Let's hope the Masque will have a coffee bar of its own during the next production.

Fisher Theater "LUTHER" Opened on Dec. 15 for a six night run. If you miss the production at this time, you will be able to see it in Ann Arbor on Jan. 28 under the auspices of the APA's Show of the Month series.

Detroit Institute of Arts Auditorium "PETER PAN" Live production of the timeless tale of a boy that never grew up. Seven holiday performances are scheduled. Call Art Institute for ticket information.

Fisher Theater "THE SKY IS FALLING" Gertrude Berg arrives Dec. 21 to spread some holiday cheer in her hilarious comedy fresh from Broadway. Played a year on Broadway and I'm sure it will be a delight with "Molly" in the show. Plays for four weeks.

La Parisis "HOUSE IS NOT A HOME" Famous Polly Adler's life story told in bold technicolor. Take this opportunity to visit the newest movie palace in the area. It's knock-out. Technically, you won't find a finer show house. Rocking-chair seats, fire side lounge, you name it they have it. Open every evening with the finest of motion pictures.

Two Films on India Slated for Showing Dec. 16 at Fair Lane

Two unusual films depicting past and present life in India will be presented by Professor John Halthcox of the U. of M. Dearborn Campus faculty on the evening of Dec. 16th at 8 p.m. at the Fair Lane Conference Center.

"The Sword and the Flute" is a film in color of life in India before the advent of the British as depicted in contemporary Mughal and Rajput miniatures assembled from a number of private and public collections. There is musical accompaniment by Ravi Shankar and Ali Akbar Khan.

A second film, "North Indian Village," is produced in color by John Hitchcock and Morris Opler, anthropologists with primary interest in the field of Indian studies, in connection with the Cornell University India Program. A detailed study of village life depicting the interdependence of people of different castes and the impact of modern forces on a traditional society.

Prof. Halthcox's major fields of interest are South Asia Area Studies and American Government, with special emphasis on political theory, parties, pressure groups and public opinion. He has delivered lectures to a number of colleges, professional associations and intellectual groups in India, as well as to the faculty, graduate students, and Peace Corps Trainees at the University of Minnesota.

To reach the Dearborn Campus of the University of Michigan and the Fair Lane Conference Center, take Ford Road to Dearborn and turn south on Evergreen Road.

Religious Art To Be Discussed at Mercy College

"A Viewpoint on Contemporary Religious Art" will be discussed by Lloyd Radell at Mercy College of Detroit tomorrow evening (Thursday, Dec. 17) at 8:30 p.m.

Mr. Radell, head of the art department at Mercy, is noted for his trenchant observations on religious art in general and Christmas season decor in particular.

His talk will be sponsored by the Mercy Alumnae Association and delivered in the Great Hall on the campus at W. Outer Drive and Southfield.

The public is invited. Refreshments will be served.

Yule Program Set by Shear

The Sylvester Shear School Christmas Program will be held in the Thurston High School gymnasium on Thursday evening, December 17 at 7:30 p.m.

The program entitled "Christmas Fantasy" will feature the Glee Club, Instrumental Music, and Dances. Children in grades one through six will participate.

Livonia Lady Wins Organ

An Electro Voice organ was won by Mrs. O. Arndt of 18930 Deering St., Livonia. Mrs. Arndt's name was chosen from over 2,000 submitted in a drawing held at Shopper's Fair Store, corner of Plymouth Rd. and Middlebelt.

The drawing took place at 7:30 p.m. Sunday night at Mr. Wolfe, store manager, drew the winning entry.

Mrs. Arndt's organ was the second to be given away by the store in the past two weeks.

Twenty runners-up were awarded certificates of $50 and $25.

The contest was promoted by Shopper's Fair in conjunction with Sound House, 24018 Joy Rd., which donated the organ.

Open House at Hoover

Herbert Hoover Elementary School, located at 15900 Levan Road, will hold its first open house Thursday, December 17. The building will be open from 7:00 to 8:30 p.m. and the teachers will be in attendance. This will be the first opportunity the public has had to tour the building.

Bentley's 500-Voice Chorus Presents "Noel Moderne"

The Bentley High School Vocal Department under the direction of Jerry Smith and Robert Ballard is presenting its annual Christmas Concerts on Saturday, Dec. 19th, and Monday, Dec. 21st, at 8 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

The theme for this year's production is "Noel Moderne," or "Modern Christmas." This theme will be carried throughout the entire gymnasium and decoration.

will include a suspended platform, and an automated Santa's Workshop.

Nearly 500 students will be participating in the production. The vocal groups include The Concert Choir, The Selective Girls Chorus, Mixed Chorus, Girls Chorus, Glee Club, and Male Chorus.

Some of the musical selections will be the theme from "King of Kings," "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer," "Deck the Hut with Coconut," and "The Little Drummer Boy."

You may reserve tickets by calling Mr. Smith at 427-1900—Ext. 72. Tickets cost $1.00 for adults and $.75 for students.

For most Livonians, Bentley High School's Christmas Concert marks the beginning of the festive Holiday Season.

Holiday Concert Set for Two Performances at Franklin High

A holiday concert featuring Hanukkah, madrigal and traditional Christmas music will be presented at Franklin High School by the music department on December 22 and 23 at 8 p.m. in the Lecture Theater.

A combined school chorus of 250 students, including the Bel Canto choir, will set the mood for the concert with a candle-light procession, singing customary Christmas carols and anthems such as "Jesu Bam-mino" and "A Joyous Christmas Song."

Special selections in celebration of Hanukkah, the happy Jewish "Festival of Lights," will be such songs as "There Shall A Star From Jacob Come," and "How Far Is It to Bethlehem." "Wassail Song," and "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen," performed by the girls' chorus, will put the audience in a cheerful, holiday mood. The madrigals will harmonize with "Let Carols Ring," and "Good Christian Men, Rejoice."

Mr. William Hall will direct the various singing groups with Mr. Klair Kissell as accompanist.

Tickets are 50 cents for students and $1.00 for adults.

Alpha Baptist Choir Plans Christmas Cantata

The choir of the Alpha Baptist Church will present a Christmas Cantata "The Night of Miracles" at the church on Dec. 20 at 5 p.m.

John W. Peterson, composer of the Cantata, says "What could I use to portray the miraculous truth of the Incarnation in an original way? Miraculous! Perhaps that was it. The night of our Saviour's birth was miraculous indeed for many reasons.

Peace; a night when God sent His only begotten Son to be born of a virgin for the redemption of a world of sinners.

"This last fact was the most miraculous of all! Here, too, then was a story of Love, but not love as natural man knows it. This Love knows no bounds. It is limitless and absolute, and it was manifested on that wonderful night so long ago... A Night of Miracles."

The Alpha Baptist Choir is under the direction of Mrs. Martha Radinoff.

Nursery care will be available during the concert which the public is invited to attend.

Word Portrait of an Artist

Landscapes Peaceful

Indiana has long been known for its beautiful rolling hills, red barns and breathtaking pastoral scenes. It has produced for Michigan an outstanding artist, Mrs. Eleanor Miller. Her early years on a farm near Rensselaer, Indiana left indelible impressions of loveliness, which she now transfers to canvases.

Montgomery Wards original oils gallery, to the Cockles who reside at 9732 Pere Ave., Livonia. The painting is called "Serenity," and rightly named. People viewing this painting felt the quiet restfulness, and the peace and serenity of this beautiful countryside. Old houses, long deserted, with character and distinctive qualities, which make them recognizable as painted by Eleanor Miller are her speciality. Each house stirs the imagination of the beholder to the extent one ruminates and questions mentally as to the former inhabitants, former outstanding events that might have occurred there. Yes, one might imagine on a moonlit night a ghostly specter or phantom (of a former resident) putting in a supernatural appearance, perhaps dancing down the rickety stairs, swaying out on to the grayish green meadows and then vanishing into the night. Mrs. Miller paints the old houses so realistically you can almost hear the chorus of the four winds whistling through the windowless rooms.

Mrs. Miller has recently opened her new art studio under the name "Westland Art Studio," at 24221 West Six Mile, Detroit. Here she teaches daily and evenings to all age groups. This next summer Mrs. Miller has plans for outdoor painting and exhibition on the lovely grounds around the studio. In addition to the art classes, Mrs. Miller sells artist's supplies and picture frames.

At present Mr. and Mrs. Harold Miller live at 27011 Westland, Detroit with their son Douglas. They also have three married daughters and two grandchildren.

Recent creative work by Mrs. Miller can be seen at the new antique shop called "Village Arcade" operated by Dorothy McCollum at 10 Mile and Grand River west of Halstead Road, at the "Original Oils Gallery," located at Montgomery Wards in the Wonderland Shopping Center, and at Walter Duncans, 926 W. Seven Mile Road.

Duo-pianists Whittemore and Lowe will be soloists with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra at 8:30 p.m. on Thursday, Dec. 17 at Ford Auditorium. Sixteen Ehrling will conduct. Whittemore and Lowe will perform Poulenc's Concerto for Two Pianos and Orchestra and Saint-Saens' "Carnival of the Animals".

The orchestral portions of the program will include Mozart's Symphony No. 29 and Schoenberg's "Transfigured Night". Tickets at $3.75, $3.25, $2.75, $2.25 and $1.75 are available at Ford Auditorium Box Office or at Grinnells.

Yule Lights Up
The Christmas lighting has been completed — and can be seen spanning the rightways — at thirty-one locations in Farmington. Last year, they were on display at only eight locations. The increase in decorations was made possible by the combined efforts of the Farmington Board of Commerce and the City Government.

Plan Christmas Dance For Foreign Exchange Students

Snow flakes are falling and Christmas is coming to Franklin High School on Saturday, December 19.

"White Christmas," a dressy dance sponsored by the American Field Service program, will have Santa Claus and Christmas Carol as special honored guests. The Continentals, a band of Franklin students and graduates, will provide the entertainment.

Proceeds from the dance will go to the AFS exchange program. Each year high schools all over the country send students to Europe for both the summer and the regular school year and European schools send their students to American high schools to study.

Franklin was host last year to Cemal Lulici from Turkey and this year is hosting Eduardo Rodrigues from Brazil. In the summer of 1964, Franklin sent Jackie Trick to Norway. For the school year of 1964-

65 Karen Seriguchi was sent to Switzerland.

To help select Franklinites for the 1965 program, ten interested students were screened by a teacher-student committee in October.

Students selected sent applications to the National American Field Service in New York. Final selection for participation in the program will be notified in June.

This year Carol Jean Miller has been nominated to represent Franklin High School in the exchange program for the regular 1965-66 school year. Rodney Edwards and Janis Rochette have been nominated for the summer program of 1965.

Mrs. Winnie Mummery, 10th grade counselor, Mrs. Karen Sherwood and Mr. Robert Kurtz, Social Studies teachers, all sponsors for the AFS program, are hopeful that part of the necessary $1,000 needed to finance the three trips of the selected students will be raised by the Christmas dance.

Chairmen for the dance are: Joni Hecker, tables; Sue Sawyer, murals; Becky Desjardins, ceiling; Jackie Cady, chairs and Ken Saliba, publicity.

BROTHERHOOD Poster Awards were given to these Livonia teenagers, all of them students at Franklin High School. The winning artists were Larry Harbour, Brian Gray, Joe Masse and John Petrillo. The Junior Round Table of Detroit is exhibiting their posters.

Four Livonia Students Win Brotherhood Poster Awards

From more than 200 posters from high schools in the Detroit area entered in the 1964 Brotherhood poster contest, Franklin High School recently had one first-place winner and three honorable mentions.

The posters were divided into two divisions, one for technical and one for comprehensive high schools. In the comprehensive division, Larry Harbour won first place, with Brian Gray, Joe Masse, and John Petrillo winning Honorable Mention.

The Laurence M. Sprague Trophy was presented to Franklin High School due to Larry's first place, in addition to which, Larry received a $25 United States Savings Bond as a personal award. Engraved plaques were awarded first-, second-, and third-place winners. Students with honorable mentions were awarded certificates of merit and every student who entered a poster received a certificate of recognition.

Sponsored by the Junior Round Table of Metropolitan Detroit, the contest will use the posters to promote the Brotherhood goal of the National Conference of Christians and Jews. After December 15, these posters may be borrowed for a ten-day period by schools and other organizations in the Detroit area for display purposes.

Posters were judged on how well the message of Brotherhood was presented, on aesthetic appeal and on technique.

"Cars of the future" as well as all the sparkling 1965 models will be on display at the 49th annual Detroit Auto Show, which will open Saturday, Jan. 9, in the Detroit Artillery Armory, West Eight Mile near Northland. The show will run through Sunday, Jan. 17.

The Livonia City Councilmen Comment

By EDWARD McNAMARA

By DR. DANIEL C. ALLEN

The old cliché goes, "You live and learn," and I am learning. We recently completed the review of the City budget and though there were many expenditures I could not fully agree with, I accepted them because of expediency. However, there were two items of cost to the taxpayer that I felt were wrong (pork barrel legislation) and attempted to voice an objection to them at the regular meeting. This attempt was quashed through the parliamentary procedure (maneuvering) of referring the budget for re-examination to the committee as a whole. At this private meeting I voiced these objections, but to no avail. And then I learned my lesson. The budget was re-introduced at a special Monday night meeting. The meeting was called on relatively short notice and coincidentally with a very few Livonia citizens present, so that my objections again fell on the deaf ears of my fellow councilmen. Lesson No. 1: If you don't want the public to learn something, call a special meeting.

Now, what was I objecting to... In the city budget, which is available for examination, the Council increased the allowance of the Zoning Board of Appeals beyond the legal limits set by law. Section 5d, Act 272, of Public Acts 1921, as amended, states, "The legislative body of any city or village may authorize payment of not to exceed $5.00 per member for attendance at a regular meeting of such boards." If this law has any loopholes, then our own Livonia ordinance does not. Section 19.05, Zoning Ordinance No. 60, as amended, states, "Each member of the Zoning Board of Appeals shall receive $5.00 for attendance at each regular meeting of the board and $10.00 for attendance at each special meeting of the board; provided, however, that no member shall receive more than $20.00 in any one year."

This means the six men on this board cannot be paid more than $1,200 total for their services. The Council authorized $1,800 over and above the $1,200, or a total of $3,000 in salary. Then, to add insult to injury, they gave them $600 for travel and education, an allowance that had never been in any of their previous budgets. This is in addition to the allowance each member of the board gets. It is interesting to note that each member of the Board of Appeals is hand-picked by men of the Council only, and depend exclusively on the Council for reappointment. - - - Definition "Pork Barrel Legislation": Appropriations which specifically benefit localities or groups within a locality???

My objection is intended in no way to incriminate or cast a shadow on the integrity of the Zoning Board of Appeals; my differences are with certain members of the Council on this matter.

Objection No. 2: The Council went from no allocation in the budget of previous years to a $1,300 budget for the Constables. I question why, if the Constables had functioned all these years without dipping into public funds, the necessity of doing it now. No valid and acceptable reasons in my opinion were forthcoming. The basis for my objection is that these men ran for office knowing there was nothing allocated budgetwise for them and their compensation was to come in the standard or usual means.

Why am I making an issue over such a small amount in a 4-1/2 million dollar budget? Because this community needs mile road street lighting, which the Council has not seen fit to provide due to "lack of funds." I contend that the $2,400 from the Zoning Board fund, the $1,300 from the Constable fund, and the $9,600 appropriated for a Legislative Coordinator for the Council (which the Mayor will probably never approve since he has not seen fit to do so in previous years) is in essence unallocated and can be combined for a grand total of $13,300. This amount of money will pay for better than 3/4 (168 of 247) of the street lights listed by priority in the City Engineer's report. This report, by the way, is still buried in committee.

If I were to look a little further, I could find more than enough to cover the complete priority list. Where?? The Council recently accepted a bid to air condition City Hall. This system calls for 29 individual units. We don't have 29 rooms in City Hall unless you count broom closets and washrooms... even at that it might be hard. The other system called for ten units and would have produced the same variety of cooling temperatures. There were advantages and disadvantages offered, but in the opinion of other qualified individuals not $8,000 more is in the accepted bid.

If men are dedicated to working for the community, somehow they must find a way to supply basic community needs before they supply community luxury.

REDFORD TOWNSHIPITES USED a popular TV program last week to plug the sale of their new children's book, "Binkie, the Forgetful Clown", a phenomenal success since its production by the Redford Suburban League this fall. With TV personality Ed Allen (center), are Minnie Hannah of the League's distribution committee, and Doris Weber, RSL president.

CONNIE WARD and Louis Fiorentino have won five out of six tough debates representing the negative for Thurston High School. They are regarded by a Detroit Institute of Technology critic as one of the potentially best teams in the state according to Eagle Coach Eugene Duston.

Thurston Debaters Face Six Schools

Debating is not what it used to be in Southeastern Michigan according to Thurston Coach Eugene Duston who has won a reputation for his squads by signing up for one of the toughest schedules in the area with contests in three leagues.

With speech classes and debate popularity funneling more and more choice debaters into competition, we today can expect high level performance from high school speakers, Duston asserted, while commending his negative team of Louis Fiorentino and Connie Ward for winning five out of six thus far.

Six more schools are yet to be encountered by Eagle talkers who have seen a squad of primarily green material meet the challenge.

Florentino is a junior in his first year of debate, and teamed with Connie Ward has been called by a Detroit Institute of Technology critic as possessing 'the makeup of one of the best teams in the state.'

Nine Livonia Students Win Automotive Drafting Contest

Nine Livonia high students were among the 25 prize winners in the 11th annual Automotive Body Drafting Contest, sponsored by the Automotive Society of Body Engineers.

A total of 413 drawings were entered in this year's contest, from 54 Metropolitan Detroit area high schools, according to Milton A. Kraska, Ford Motor Co., Executive Engineer, and Chairman of the ASBE Drafting Contest Committee.

The 25 winners, along with their family representatives, and their drafting course instructors, were feted at the Awards Banquet at the Engineering Society of Detroit quarters in the Rackham Bldg. on Thursday.

B. W. Bogdan, Vice-president and Director of Engineering of Chrysler Corp., was the principal speaker of the evening on topic "The Challenge of the Future Engineer."

Rudolph Kramer Jr., president of the ASBE, was on hand to present the checks and awards to the winners.

Leon Glodowski, a senior of St. Catherine High, won first place prize of $125, plus a traveling trophy for the school.

He lives at 19203 Pelkey, Detroit, 5, Mich.

The list of Livonia winners:

- Tom Houghton, 37750 Grantland, of Franklin High, won fifth place and a $25 check.
- Gary Krevinko, 32143 Joy

Rd., Garden City of Franklin High, won eighth place and a $25 check.

- Doug Bergner, 3290 W. Six Mile Rd. of Franklin High, won 13th place and a set of instruments.
- Russ Raymoure, 28711 Minton, of Franklin High, awarded 14th place and a set of instruments.

- Phil Forsyth, 28715 Oakview of Bentley High, was awarded 10th place and a set of instruments.
- Jerry Bima, 28717 Minton, of Franklin High, was awarded 22nd place and a set of instruments.
- Gary Johnston, 32850 Indiana of Franklin High, was awarded 23rd place and a set of drawing instruments.

- Mike Watchko, 38524 Ann Arbor Trail, was awarded 24th place and a set of drawing instruments.
- Mike Doran, 9905 Mayfield of Franklin High, was awarded 25th place and a set of drawing instruments.

CHECK FOR $1,600 is turned over to Earl Demel, prominent Plymouth attorney and backer of Madonna College activities, by John Carlo (right), partner in the operation of the Thunderbird Inn and executive manager of Northville Downs. The check represented the proceeds of a benefit dinner-dance at the Thunderbird Inn for the Madonna College building fund. Demel served as master of ceremonies for the event to which Carlo and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kobierzynski donated the facilities of the popular eating place.

High Death Toll Cited In Yule Traffic Warning

With Michigan near the end of one of its worst years for traffic deaths, Commissioner Joseph A. Childs is appealing for all-out driver and pedestrian co-operation in good safety practices to help special State Police patrols hold down accidents over the 78-hour Christmas and New Year holiday weekends.

The 33 persons killed in the two 30-hour periods a year ago—17 at Christmas, 16 at New Year's—gave Michigan two of the highest hourly death rates for these holidays in recent years.

The Christmas rate of one death every hour and 48 minutes was topped only by that of 1955 when 50 were killed in 78 hours, an average of a fatality every one and a half hours.

The New Year rate of one death every hour and 52 minutes topped the previous high mark of 1959-60 when 36 were killed in 78 hours, an average of one death every two hours and 12 minutes.

Records show average tolls for the last five 78-hour holiday periods are 35 for Christmas and 18 for New Year's.

State Police patrols will be in effect on the Christmas weekend from noon Thursday, December 24, to midnight, Sunday, December 27, and for the New Year period from noon Thursday, December 31, to midnight Sunday, January 3.

Maximum patrol coverage will be devoted to state trunkline highways and primary county roads having high accident experience and high traffic volume.

Detectives where available will take over desk assignments to relieve uniform officers for patrols.

Patrol officers have been instructed to be especially alert for persons driving under the influence of intoxicating liquors because of the high incidence of drinking during these holidays.

Assisting the State Police will be 106 members of the Michigan National Guard who will serve as second men on two-man patrols or on point control.

Wolfram to Retire From General Motors

Jack F. Wolfram, a vice president of General Motors and, until recently, general manager of Oldsmobile Division, will retire under the GM Retirement Program December 31 following a 36-year career with Oldsmobile.

Wolfram, a native of Pittsburgh, Pa., joined Oldsmobile as an assistant experimental engineer in 1928. He was placed in charge of the experimental department in 1934 and six years later was appointed assistant chief engineer.

In 1944 he was appointed chief engineer. Under his direction, engineers developed Oldsmobile's famous "Rocket" engine. Wolfram became general manager of Oldsmobile on January 1, 1951, and a week later was elected a vice president of General Motors. He was also appointed a member of the administration committee.

Clarencville Board Sets March 29 Date For Special Election

The Clarencville Board of Education at its December 10 meeting voted to set March 29, 1965 as the date for a special school election.

Issues relating to both millage and bonding are being discussed by the Board for inclusion in this election. Resolutions as they will appear on the ballot are now being studied.

PHS Calls Reunion of '64 Grads

The Guidance department of Plymouth High will hold an informal get-together for 1964 graduates attending college next Monday (Dec. 21) from 2:30 to 4 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The purpose is to give graduates a chance to renew friendships with teachers and to tell of their progress as college freshmen.

Assistant Principal John Hoben reports almost 58 per cent of the 1964 graduates are enrolled in four-year college programs at 31 colleges and universities in 12 states.

The informal meeting will give school personnel an opportunity to learn how the graduates are progressing and to help the administration learn how it might better the high school program for future graduates who will be enrolling in colleges.

Letters have been sent to all 1964 graduates attending college but if any has been missed, he or she is invited to attend and participate in the informal program.

Auto Show Offers Special Arrangements For School Groups

Special arrangements have been made to accommodate school children visitors to the Detroit Auto Show, Jan. 9 through 17 at the Detroit Artillery Armory, West Eight Mile near Northland.

A reduced admission of 25 cents will be charged for children and teenagers through high school age between 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. on Monday through Friday, Jan. 11 through 15.

The regular admission to the show is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12 years of age.

Boyce Tope, show manager, said that arrangements also have been made for free parking of school buses carrying groups of school children. He added that the adult sponsor or teacher of any organized group of school children would be admitted without charge.

'64 Christmas Seal Sale Receipts Up Over 1963 Totals

The 1964 Christmas Seal Campaign in Wayne County is running ahead of last year's results, Cynthia Roby, 17-year-old Campaign chairman, announced.

Receipts as of December 16 total $215,000, compared with $200,000 at the same date a year ago. The total, however, is still $100,000 from the minimum goal of $315,000.

Contributions so far have come from 83,500 contributors, Miss Roby said. Christmas Seal Letters were sent to 700,000 homes in Wayne County.

General Motors Offers Movies to Groups

General Motors is now distributing the 24th edition of its catalog of motion picture films which the Corporation makes available free of charge for showings by schools, civic groups, churches, service clubs, youth groups and other organizations.

Art Institute Receives Grant

The Kresge Foundation recently announced a grant of $250,000 to The Detroit Institute of Arts building fund. Stanley S. Kresge's presentation of the grant to William M. Day, president of the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts, was made known at the museum's Trustees meeting Dec. 8.

In acknowledging the grant, Willis F. Woods, director of the museum, said the two main floor areas of the museum's south wing would be named Sebastian S. Kresge Hall and The Sebastian S. Kresge Special Exhibition Gallery. The south wing addition is scheduled for completion in December, 1965.

Sebastian S. Kresge, 97, is founder, trustee and treasurer of The Kresge Foundation. His son, Stanley S. Kresge, is president of the Foundation.

A previous grant of $145,000 from The Kresge Foundation in 1959 made possible conversion of the museum's garden court on the ground level to the popular year-around Kresge Court Continental Cafe. The Kresge Foundation also underwrote research and publication of "Two Thousand Years of Textiles" by the late Adele Cuolin Weibel, curator of Textiles at The Detroit Institute of Arts.

Franklin High Grad Completes Training With WAAF Unit

Airman Maddie L. Flippen, of Garden City, a member of the Women in the Air Force, has completed Air Force basic military training at Lackland AFB, Tex. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hollie C. Flippen, 32847 Comanche Drive, Garden City.

YMCA to Sell Yule Trees

The Annual YMCA Christmas Tree Sale begins this week with a goal of 10,000 trees to be sold for the benefit of underprivileged youngsters. Sponsored by the Y's Men's Clubs, net profit from the tree sales go into the camp sponsorship and youth program budget of each YMCA branch. The tree sale will continue through December 24.

The trees may be purchased at Fisher YMCA, 2051 West Grand Blvd., Detroit; Northwestern YMCA, 21755 West Seven Mile Road, Detroit; Northern YMCA, 13220 Woodward Ave., Highland Park; Birmingham YMCA, 400 E. Lincoln Ave., Birmingham; South Macomb YMCA, 15800 Ten Mile Road, East Detroit; South Oakland YMCA, 1016 West Eleven Mile Road, Royal Oak, and Downriver YMCA, 3211 Fort Street, Wyandotte. Each tree bears a heart-shaper tag reading: "Buy a Tree With a Heart—Give a Youth a Good Start."

Bentley Welcomes Alumni

Former students of Bentley High School may come between 1 and 2:30 p.m., on Wednesday, Dec. 23, for the Alumni Open House.

Representatives of the senior class will provide guided tours featuring the new sections for the alumni.

Students in charge are Pat Lorion (Chairman) and John Powers, who also are student advisors to the Alumni Association.

Many colleges begin their vacations at this time and this will enable many more alumni to attend.

Refreshments will be served.

RU Surprises Belleville—Bentley Downs Ply., Ford

Late Rally Nets 1st Loop Win

The old saying of "as long as there's life, there's hope" works in sports, too.

Ask Redford Union high school's basketball team.

Especially ask Coach Milo Karhu of R. U.

Not many would have given a penny for Redford Union's chances against Belleville last Friday night when the teams reached the three-quarter mark with Belleville clinging to a 47-38 lead.

Yet, the "impossible" happened in the final eight minutes of the game.

Redford Union outscored Belleville, 19-7, in those last 480 seconds and the final score read:

Redford Union 57, Belleville 54.

"It was one of the greatest comebacks ever staged by a Redford team," Karhu said after it was all over.

"They just went to work," explained the coach. "We pressed them and forced them into mistakes. We worked our way into good shots and we didn't get rattled."

"As our boys started to smell the victory, their play kept improving."

Sophomore Leland Bjerke was the star of the closing drive. Although he played the entire game, Bjerke had only one point for three periods of action. In the closing chapter, he pumped in eight.

Al Maebach topped the victors in scoring with eight baskets and one free throw for 17 points.

Harry Kendrick was next with 2-6-10. Then came Bjerke with his nine points.

Oren Newton and Mike McCrea each had four baskets for eight points. Bob Baumgartner had three points and Doug Mach a couple points.

Redford Union jumped into an 11-9 lead at the end of the first period. Halftime saw Belleville leading, 30-29. Then Belleville added to its margin before Redford Union put on its stirring windup.

"If the kids can continue to hustle and show the desire they did against Belleville, we'll be tough the rest of the way . . . particularly as some of the younger boys gain experience," Coach Karhu added.

This Friday night, Redford Union will host Allen Park.

The R. U. reserves scored easily over Belleville, 42-23, with Charles Livernois getting 21 points.

Thurston Matmen Triumph

Thurston High's wrestling team enjoyed an easy time of things Thursday night in beating Southfield, 47-3.

No less than seven of the Thurston matmen won their matches by pinning their rivals.

Doug Belknap started the rout by setting some kind of a record. He required only 17 seconds to finish off his rival in the 95-pound class.

Paul Liddell (103 pounds) and Doug's Brother Dave (112 pounds) followed with victories via the pin route.

Mike Eudis (126) won on a decision. Then after Bob Walker (127) lost for Thurston, Paul Christie (133) and Mike McGreevey (138) pinned their opponents.

Randy Ault (145) and Pete Marsalese (154) scored victories via decisions. So did Jim Blazo (165).

Mike Murphy (180) and Jerry Szostak (heavyweight) wound up the Thurston romp by scoring falls in quick fashion.

Garden City was more than a perfect host in its invitational meet over the weekend. The school's wrestlers carried off team honors as Thurston had to settle for third place and Bentley and Franklin for lesser honors.

Mike Eudis (126 pounds) accounted for the only Thurston victory. Dave Belknap (120), Ault (145), Marsalese (154) and Szostak (heavyweight) came home with second-place honors for Thurston.

McGreevey (138), Dave Spikes (145) and Mike Murphy (180) finished third for Thurston.

John Frazer of Franklin won the 145-pound title with Team-mate Bob Shepherd third in the 103 class. Mat Lavoisier (135) and Rick Larsen (180) garnered second-place verdicts for Bentley.

DON'T SHOOT—Tom Cabana of Belleville tries unsuccessfully to stop Al Maebach of Redford from scoring. The basket was good and Redford Union went on to win.

OBSERVER SPORTS

By George Maskin

A day in the life of a jet-age reporter:

6:35 a.m. — Alarm rings, but not to awaken you. It's your wife who pops (1) from the sack to make ready for teaching duties at Oak Park High School.

6:55 a.m. — Daughter Julie announces that she's up.

7:15 a.m. — Son Douglas cries for his day's allowance. Mother says she is "broke," and then makes a "raid" on her supposedly sleeping husband's pocketbook.

7:45 a.m. — The better-half gets ready to rush out of the house. "Have a nice trip," she declares . . . and she's on her way.

7:52 a.m. — We gander at the clock and decide it might be a good idea to get up.

8:08 a.m. — No. 1 son Richard wonders just how we'll make it to Metropolitan Airport in time for a 9:25 a.m. plane.

9:10 a.m. — We check in at Metro Airport. And like a good son, call mother to tell her we're off on another of those one-day trips with the Detroit Pistons.

9:25 a.m. — American Airlines pilot says we'll be leaving in a few seconds . . . that while the plane is equipped with new Astrovision (a sort of television), the gadget isn't working yet.

9:40 a.m. — Plane lifts itself from the runway, makes a right turn toward Cleveland and we're on the way.

9:43 a.m. — We're in the clouds and all sight of land is lost.

10:30 a.m. — Land is sighted again.

11:28 a.m. — Arrive West Side Terminal on New York's 42nd Street.

11:40 a.m. — Reach hotel where Pistons are staying. But nobody's in lobby.

11:55 a.m. — Purchase ticket to Radio City Music Hall only to discover that we already have seen the movie. So we wait for a stage show to start an hour later.

1:35 p.m. — Hop a Fifth Avenue bus uptown to visit doctor brother. You haven't seen traffic jams until you see what they have in New York City.

1:42 p.m. — Pass the residence of Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy. Two patrolmen stand guard.

2 p.m. — Meet with brother.

2:45 p.m. — Take off via bus, then subway to headquarters of National Basketball Association in Empire State Building.

3:14 p.m. — Spot a hot dog joint along 34th St. So why not a nibble?

3:25 p.m. — Meet with President Walter Kennedy of the NBA . . . a gent who is doing a great job for the pro-cagers. It's a far cry from where we sit on the 33rd floor of Empire State Building to where we first met Mr. Kennedy years ago at Notre Dame.

5:05 p.m. — Board a jammed subway train to head for Madison Square Garden. Jammed really isn't the word. Sardines aren't as tightly placed in cans as people are in New York subways at rush-hour time.

5:30 p.m. — Stop at hotel, where Pistons are — directly across the street from Madison Square Garden. Run into ex-Pistons Coach and Player Dick McGuire. Dickie looks fit enough to still be playing.

6:10 p.m. — Walk across the street with Pistons G. M. Don Watrick.

6:15 p.m. — Enter the employees' door at the Garden . . . and the watchman has silly notion that we're players . . . Tells us which dressing room to go to.

6:30 p.m. — First game of a doubleheader begins. It's Philadelphia vs. Baltimore.

6:55 p.m. — Chat with Lennie Koppett, veteran sports scribe of New York Times, who comes to Detroit during the summer with the Yankees.

8:30 p.m. — First game ends. Philadelphia wins.

8:32 p.m. — Re-meet Arnie Hoef, new owner of Baltimore team in NBA. Last time we saw Hoef, he was refereeing in the NBA.

8:45 p.m. — Pistons begin play against New York Knicks.

10:45 p.m. — Game is over. Pistons win by a point.

10:46 p.m. — You're on the phone to Detroit Free Press to tell them the story of the victory.

10:55 p.m. — Now it's Don Kremer at WWJ-TV to whom you pass along the information.

10:57 p.m. Van Patrick of Channel 2 is on the end of the phone line.

10:59 p.m. — You're talking with Paul Carey of WJR.

11:02 p.m. — You rush for the waiting bus that takes players to Kennedy Airport.

11:15 p.m. — "Will we make 11:45 departure?" Star Ray Scott worries.

11:52 p.m. — Seven minutes late, Northwest Airlines Flight 245 pulls away from ramp.

12:02 a.m. — Pretty hostess serves sandwiches.

1:22 a.m. — Touchdown.

1:26 a.m. — You're deplaning.

Livonians Jump Off to Early Command

So far, Coach George Fefles has to admit he's happy the way things are going for his Bentley high basketball team.

Three games . . . three victories . . . with the big one so far coming over Plymouth, 50-39, last Friday night as Bentley started the defense of its Suburban Six League title on the right foot.

"The team has come along very well," said Fefles after last Friday's win in the Bentley gym against Plymouth.

"We're getting balanced scoring, fine rebounding and doing a real fine job on defense," added Fefles.

The triumph over Plymouth was the second of the week for Bentley. Earlier, the Livonians had rallied to rip apart Dearborn Edsel Ford, 66-58.

But, as Fefles is well aware, the going gets no easier for Bentley.

This Friday, it's on to Belleville, which will be smarting from its opening league loss to Redford Union, and then next Tuesday, Bentley tackles the perennial State Class B champs of River Rouge in the latter's gym.

"It's the rare team that wins at River Rouge," declared Fefles.

He might have added that it's the rare team that beats River Rouge any place.

Bentley jumped off to a 12-6 lead against Plymouth after the first period and never was in serious trouble the rest of the way.

The Rocks had to settle for just one basket, by Gary Grady, in the first eight minutes.

The early troubles obviously plagued Plymouth during the balance of the evening. By halftime, Bentley had a 29-17 lead. It was 42-26 after three periods in favor of Bentley.

Bill Faucett and Bob Elsner, the latter a transfer student from Thurston, paced the first-period surge that shot Bentley in front for keeps. Faucett netted five points and Elsner a basket and one charity in the first eight minutes.

Elsner was the big gun the rest of the game. With his driving and outside shots, he wound up with nine baskets and one free throw for 19 points and individual honors.

Terry Livermore's pressure tactics also helped Bentley. He forced the Rocks into several mistakes and also pulled off three or four steals at vital times.

The winners also came up with some strong rebounding. Tim Dull had 11 and Fred Matevia nine to pace the way.

Both teams resorted to a pressing defense. Bentley came through with 19 baskets to 13 for Plymouth. At the charity line, the Rocks enjoyed a slight 13-12 edge.

Gary Grady tossed in 11 points and John Hannula 10 for Plymouth which engages Trenton in the Rocks' gym this Friday night.

The scoring for the Plymouth-Bentley Game:

BENTLEY: Bondar 0-2-2; Dull 2-3-7; Matevia 3-1-7; Livermore 3-3-9; Faucett 2-2-6; Elsner 9-1-19. Totals: 19-12-50.

PLYMOUTH: Tidwell 0-1-1; Hollingsworth 2-1-5; Lake 3-1-7; Hannula 1-8-10; Grady 5-1-11; Scharman 0-1-1; Masten 1-0-2. Totals: 13-13-39.

COME FROM BEHIND
It took an uphill battle for Bentley to turn back Dearborn Edsel Ford, 66-58.

After Bentley took an 18-16 lead at the close of the first period, Ford shot in front 40-32 at half time.

Bentley bounced back in front, 40-48, in the third period and then pulled away in the final minutes of the game.

Fred Matevia was the hero for the Livonians. He tossed in 31 points on 10 baskets and 11 free throws to come within two points of the all-time Bentley single game scoring record set by Tom Eveland several years ago.

Matevia fired in eight points to spark Bentley's third-period comeback. In the fourth period, he added seven more points, making two clutch baskets in the final three minutes when Nick Bondar added a pair of free throws to help ease the pressure on Bentley.

Here's the way the Bentley players scored against Edsel Ford:

Bondar 1-4-6; Dull 5-1-11; Matevia 10-11-31; Faucett 2-0-4; Elsner 3-5-11; Livermore 1-1-3. Totals: 22-22-66.

Thurston Edges N. Farmington In Closing Minute

"What a difference a week makes . . ."

Coach Mike Pasternak of Thurston high school's basketball team was doing the talking.

Seven days before, Pasternak and his cagers were smarting from two straight defeats as they ushered in the 1964-65 season on a sour note.

Now the Thurston cagers were in gay spirits. They had just bested North Farmington, 70-67, to initiate their Northwest Suburban League campaign in a happy way.

Thurston and North Farmington were meeting last Friday night in a repeat of where they left off a year ago in the regular season. On that occasion, North Farmington came up with a big victory to wind up as co-champs with Thurston.

Their clash Friday was a thriller all the way.

For one thing the score saw-sawed, North Farmington led, 23-21, after one quarter. At halftime, Thurston was in command, 45-40.

Came the third period, and it was North Farmington's turn to dominate the scene again. When the quarter ended the score was tied at 52-52.

The teams dueling away in the closing period. With a minute to go, North Farmington had the lead by a 67-66.

And North Farmington had the ball.

But Fred Koester of Thurston made the play-of-the-game at least as far as Thurston was concerned.

He intercepted a pass and slipped in for a hook shot that put Thurston on top, 68-66.

There was still time for North Farmington to get even or go ahead.

But the big shot wasn't there and with five seconds left on the clock, Rick Stefani went in for a layup for Thurston and put the game out of reach.

"The big difference this time was our hustle and determination," said Thurston Coach Pasternak. "The boys came to play."

"When it was over I told them that they gave forth with 105 per cent in effort."

The win gave Thurston a 1-0 record in the league and a 1-2 standing for the season. North Farmington also stands 1-2 overall, but has an 0-1 record in the league.

John Page fired in 19 points for the winners while Koester and Gary Schulte contributed 15 each.

For the losers, it was Ron Watson and Rick Lorenz with 15 points each, followed by Curt Schumacher with 13 and Bill Oldershaw with 10.

Rick Schultz, the fine North Farmington scorer, was held to three baskets—all in the first quarter—as he ran into foul trouble and eventually had to depart in the third period for an early shower.

Here's how the two teams scored:

THURSTON: Page 6-7-19; Koester 4-7-15; Schulte 5-5-15; Stefani 4-1-9; Knock 1-5-7; Morgan 1-1-3; Rothwell 1-0-2.

NORTH FARMINGTON: Watson 6-3-15; Lorenz 6-3-15; Schumacher 5-3-13; Oldershaw 5-0-10; Schultz 3-0-6; Ettig 3-0-6; August 1-0-2.

Thurston's reserves also came out on top. With Bill Wardrop tossing in 14 points, the Townshippers' second-stringers gained a 54-48 verdict.

Rick Barringer had 11 points, Gary Smith 10 and Don Block nine to star in the Thurston win. Individual - game honors went to North Farmington's Rick Norton who hit for seven baskets and five free throws for 19 points. Norton formerly attended Thurston High.

HAPPY FINISH—Thurston High basketball players, led by Coach Mike Pasternak, leap from the bench as the final gun goes off to signal a victory over North Farmington. It was Thurston's first win of the season after two losses.

Farmington Fights Off Port Huron for Victory

It took strong hearts to endure what happened last Friday night when Farmington high's basketball team won over Port Huron, 63-61, in the Port Huron gym.

The battle went right down to the final wire after Farmington had broken loose late in the first period and started a surge which opened up a 15-point bulge.

But Port Huron came storming back and got even early in the third period.

From there on it was nip and tuck the rest of the way with Farmington managing to hang on until the final buzzer went off.

"This was our finest team showing of the season," declared Coach Jack Quiggle whose Farmington cagers this Friday night must go against East Detroit High, one of the state's Class A powers, in the Farmington gym.

"Our boys had the hustle and the determination," added Quiggle.

In particular, Quiggle had high praise for Veteran John Olander, who paced the victors with 28 points and did a towering job when it came to rebounding despite the fact he was playing with a fractured thumb.

The game started on an even note. After some 5 1/2 minutes of action, the score was tied at 12-12.

Over the next five-minute span it was strictly all-Farmington as Coach Quiggle's forces outscored the opposition, 22-7.

A driving layup by Olander started the assault. Mike Wilson followed with a similar effort. Next it was Olander's turn to lay one in. After Roy Leach popped two free throws, Olander and Wilson chipped in with a pair of 12-footers.

The explosion enabled Farmington to roar in front by a 34-19 score.

Port Huron was by no means through. The Big Reds cut the differential to 38-29 by the end of the second period and then promptly tossed in nine straight points to begin the third period and tie the score at 38-38.

This bombardment obviously shocked the Farmington players, but it didn't knock them out.

Lloyd Nichols broke the deadlock with a free throw. Olander followed with two quick baskets and Farmington was in front for keeps.

At the third period's close, Farmington led, 50-47.

Farmington's aggressive, pressing defense along with the rebounding of Olander and Leach enabled the visitors to build up a 63-57 lead with some three minutes to go.

The margin should have been much greater, except for some "terrible" foul-shooting. In the final period, Farmington muffed on 11 charity tosses.

and with 43 seconds remaining, Port Huron again had the ball.

But Farmington was equal to the occasion and killed the last Port Huron bid to bring the score even and force an overtime.

Olander finished the game with 11 baskets and six free throws for his 28 points. Leach was next with five and five for 15 points, a total matched by Wilson, who hit seven from the floor and one charity.

Lloyd Nichols had three free throws while Moore and Cleveland added single charities.

The varsity victory gave Farmington a 2-1 mark and a two-game win string following an opening loss to Livonia Bentley.

The Farmington reserves also triumphed, but in much easier fashion. The count was 69-54 as Al Kilha tossed in 20 points and Tom Wirtz 14 to lead the way.

Plymouth Wins Over Northville

Plymouth high's basketball team scored a 60-52 non-league victory over Northville Saturday night.

The Rocks came up with five men hitting in double figures. Gary Grady led with 14 points, Dave Tidwell and Dave Hollingsworth 11 each, Jim Lake 12 and John Hannula 10.

Chuck Masten and John Daniel each scored one point for the winners who led all the way.

Plymouth went ahead, 20-8, after one quarter, led 30-22 at halftime and held a 44-37 bulge after three quarters.

Jerry Inland with 21 points paced Northville. The Plymouth reserves won, 60-44.

Clarenceville Cagers Lose Twice

Life is bound to improve for Clarenceville High's basketball team in the Wayne-Oakland League.

Coach Bob McKillop isn't discouraged that the team has dropped both of its starts—first to Holly and then last Friday night to Milford, 79-58.

"We're a young team," explains McKillop. "Our kids make mistakes and that's what hurts."

Against Milford, Clarenceville stayed close to its foe until late in the first period, which ended with Milford in front, 21-17.

Then came a sag in the second period and Clarenceville was down 43-30 at halftime. In the third period, Milford outscored Clarenceville, 16-9.

"We hurt ourselves with some bad passes," added McKillop. "We must have thrown the ball away around 20 times."

Chris Hawkins starred in Friday night's game against Milford as he tallied seven baskets and eight free throws free throws for 11 points. Here's how other Clarenceville players scored: Larry Ray 3-2-8; Ron Ray

Coach John Hartsig is still mystified. He can't understand how come his Franklin high basketball team lost to Oak Park, 45-43, in their Northwest Suburban League opener last Friday night.

"Imagine a high school team making only 15 of 63 shots," Hartsig said at the end.

"That's what we did." To make matters worse, said Hartsig, were the types of shots his players missed.

"We did everything well until we got to the basket," he added. "Our passing was fine. Our plays worked the way we expected them to."

Franklin High Does Everything But Win

Coach John Hartsig is still mystified. He can't understand how come his Franklin high basketball team lost to Oak Park, 45-43, in their Northwest Suburban League opener last Friday night.

"But when we started to shoot, I had to cover my eyes. Time again, we'd toss one from one side and the ball would roll off on the other side. We'd get the ball back, put it back up, and bingo it would roll off on the side from which the first shot was taken."

Notwithstanding the poor marksmanship—and it should be added that Franklin also had its problems at the free-throw line, making only 13 out of 27—the Livonians held the lead most of the way.

After one quarter it was 12-11 for Franklin. The Livonians upped their margin to 22-18 at halftime. Going into the final period, Franklin held a 34-31 edge.

But Oak Park wasn't to be denied. A pair of long bombs by Tom Foote in the last two minutes carried the Parkers in front for keeps and then held on to win.

As a result, Franklin now has lost both of its starts this season. And by a total of just three points.

"Maybe our fortunes will change this Friday when we go against John Glenn of Wayne at Franklin," said Hartsig, who is in his first year as Franklin's head coach.

Bill Cushingberry paced Oak Park with 15 points while Foote had 11.

Steve Atkinson's five baskets and three free throws for 13 points topped Franklin.

Here's the way the other Franklin players scored: Tom Cannon 4-2-10; Sam Antonazzo 1-5-7; Bill Bauer 2-1-5; Dale Lee 1-2-4; Al Jose 1-0-2; Cal Luitinen 1-0-2.

The Franklin reserves did what their big brothers didn't. And that's win.

The second stringers took Oak Park in a breeze, 58-34. Ray Porter shoved in 15 points for the winners while Dave Kosteva registered nine along with Tom Reich.

FLAT BALL?—The ball may look flat as it hits the floor but it bounced up for Our Lady of Sorrows' Mike Benner as he led his team to a victory over Our Lady of the Lakes.

Strong Start, Finish Victors For Sorrows

Strange game... that's basketball. Consider the story of the Our Lady of Sorrows team last Friday night against Pontiac St. Frederick. Sorrows won, 77-50.

St. Agatha Routed By Lake Cagers

A six-point first period got St. Agatha high's basketball team off on the wrong foot against Orchard Lake St. Mary's last Friday night.

The "Saints" never recovered. By the game's end, St. Mary's held commanding margins all the way.

It was 22-6 after one period, 47-22 at halftime and 69-36 after three periods.

In the first period, St. Agatha was able to muster just one basket—Pat Murphy—along with four free throws—two each by Dan Lilley and Rick Collins.

St. Mary's one of the favorites for the Northwest division title in the Catholic League, had too much height, scoring power and rebounding strength for St. Agatha.

"I guess you'd have to say they just overwhelmed us," declared St. Agatha coach Dave Brazil.

Mike Roemer was the top scorer for the losers. He had five baskets and six freethrows for 16 points. Lilley and Murphy each had three hoops and three charities for nine points.

Phil Davidson followed with six points on three baskets, while Rick Collins scored one hoop and two free throws for four points and Mike Daniels put in a pair of free ones.

The night wasn't a complete failure for St. Agatha. The Townshippers' reserve team came through with a neat 39-31 victory as Terry Phillips tossed in five baskets and two free throws for 12 points and Dennis McKenna fired five hoops for an evening's total of 10.

Livonia Skiers Plan Outing At Alpine

The Livonia Ski Club will be holding its next meeting Dec. 17 at the Alpine Ski Area, skiing permissible. Going as a club the members receive group rates.

New Year's Eve has a trip planned to the Collingwood Ski Area in Canada, the club leaves Thursday, Dec. 31, via bus, and will return Sunday night Jan. 3. For further information call Bob Thornton, GA 2-4545.

The next scheduled meeting at Bentley High school is January 7, and guests are welcome. The club has a current membership of 60.

Successful Shot

Steven Phillips, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack S. Phillips, formerly of Plymouth, shot an eight point buck on his first deer hunt. He brought down the deer five miles west of Fremont, Wis. at 200 yards.

it was a runaway game, despite the fact there was a 27-point differential at the end, or the fact Sorrows started matters by building up a 21-5 lead in the first quarter.

The Farmington quintet, none the less, had to work for this win—its third against one defeat in the Northwest Division of the Catholic League.

And, the Sorrows contingent had a BIG scare before it was all over.

That's because the St. Frederick team literally got off the floor and staged a stirring comeback.

The action had begun with Miles Kearney boasting a hot hand for Sorrows. He knocked in 12 points in a hurry to shoot Sorrows in front, 21-5, in the first period.

During the eight-minute span, St. Frederick was limited to a single basket and three free throws.

Came the second period... matters changed. St. Frederick started to hit and the Sorrows' advantage was reduced to 37-25 by halftime.

Going into the third period, St. Frederick still was on the hot side.

Before three minutes had been played, St. Frederick's had crawled to within four points (44-40) of a deadlock.

The Sorrows team took stock of the situation and obviously felt that "enough was enough."

Bryant Benner, Kearney's running mate at guard, literally took matters into his own hands.

In the time that remained in the third period, Benner personally fired in 14 points. The quarter ended with Sorrows on top, 51-42.

Along with Kearney and Tim Doyle, Benner kept up the bombardment in the final period and again turned the game into a rout.

Both Kearney and Benner finished with 2 points—Bryant on nine baskets and eight free throws, Miles on 11 hoops and four charities.

Doyle accounted for 21 more points with eight from the field and five free throws. Two baskets by Mike Bars wound up the scoring for Sorrows.

The victors made only 14 of 51 shots in the first half for 29 percent. In the second half, Sorrows fired in 16 out of 32 for a blazing 50 percent.

The pre-holiday phase of operations was to end this week for Sorrows against St. Agatha on Tuesday and then at Bay City St. James on Friday.

It will be one of the longest trips a Sorrow team ever has made for a sports event.

Kids Win at Hockey
The Farmington Midgets Hockey Team beat the Livonia Midgets last week at the Windsor Arena, by a score of 11-0. The scoring leaders were Larry Nolan with three goals, Chuck Theisen with two, Tom Schlack with two, and Tim Audette, Greg Schwarz, Rick Jones, and Jeff Hynes one each. Standouts on defensive for the winners were Yogi Ugrin, Bruce Rank, and Norm and Kim DeCoursey. Bob Johnston was in the nets.

Raiders Score Again, Beat Raven Wrestlers

So far, everything is wonderful for Nick Rudelic, who took over this season as wrestling coach at North Farmington high school. His varsity and reserve matmen have been in action three times. The North Farmington story: All victories. Rudelic, who took over from George Hobbs, who has switched Western Michigan University, naturally is pleased by what's happened. North Farmington opened with a win over Clarenceville, 40-7. Then came a 31-11 romp over Northville. Last Thursday evening North Farmington trimmed, by a 32-11 score, arch-rival Farmington. "We think we are stimulating a lot of interest in the school and the community when it comes to wrestling," says Rudelic. The North Farmington wrestlers get what Rudelic figures will be their toughest test this weekend in the South Oakland County meet Friday and Saturday nights at Warren Fitzgerald high schools. One record was set for North Farmington High against Farmington when heavyweight Mike Coles pinned Don Kuffel in 1:05. Never before had a North Farmington wrestler stopped a foe in so short a period of time. Here is how the other matches went:

Observing Sports

1:32 a.m. — On the phone with Larry Middlemas of the Detroit News sports department. 2:26 a.m. — Pull up in front of your house, open the garage slip the car in. 2:32 a.m. — Check the day's mail and bills. 2:41 a.m. — Troop upstairs and head for the sack. 2:43 a.m. — "Did you win or lose?" a sleepy wife asks. "We pass along the good news . . . and she's back in dreamland 2:44 a.m. — A day that only the jet age could make possible becomes history.

A void has been created in our life because of the sudden and untimely passing on Saturday of Paul Chandler, the man who gave yours truly the chance to write sports for the Observer newspapers.

It was our pleasure to work against and with Paul Chandler. We carried the same high respect for him when he was on the News and scooping us on the Times as we have in our last four years of working for him on the Observer.

Paul was more than a rarity in newspapering — a man who could handle every aspect of putting out a paper. He was a prince to work for. As long as we did the job he hired and paid us for — we never heard a complaint.

He has gone on now to join an ever growing list of sports-writing greats our community knew in the past — H. G. Salsinger, Sam Greene, Bud Shaver, Leo MacDonell, Frank MacDonell, Harold Kahl, M. F. Drukenbrod and Bob Murphy.

What a sports section these men must be putting out in that other world.

FOR THURSTON TEAM:

Split in Swimming

Thurston high's swimming team split even Saturday night. The Townshippers beat Edsel Ford of Dearborn, 55-50, but lost to powerful Trenton, 60-45, in a double dual meet. Here's the way the Thurston tankers finished: Medley relay: 2 — Thurston (Mike Harris, John Owen, Tom Sansone, Rick Craven.) 200-yard free: 1 — Bill Zeeb, 2 — Jeff Lach. Time: 2:02.8.

50-yard free: 2 — Bob Lloyd, 3 — Rex Korden. Individual Medley: 2 — Bill Barryman, 3 — Ron Smith. Diving: 3 — Rick Massoll. Butterfly: 1 — Bill Barringer, 3 — John Zerhan. Time: 59.7 seconds. 100-yard free: 2 — Lach. Backstroke: 3 — Harris. 400-yard free: 1 — Zeeb, 3 — Chris Hudson. Time 4:22.5. Breast stroke: 2 — Dennis Long, 3 — Gordon Niles. Free Style relay: 2 — Thurston (Bob Lloyd, Korden, Smith, Hudson).

RU Tops Belleville In Surprise

Strong balance enabled Redford Union high's swimming team to beat Belleville, 66-43, in a Suburban Six League meet last Thursday evening. Steve Glazier and Dan Harbison turned in "doubles" for Redford Union when he won the 200-yard free style and then the 400-yard free. Harbison copped the individual medley and the backstroke. Here are the results for the RU entries: Medley relay: 1 — RU (Jim Douglas, Charles Pherson, Dan Glazier, Glen Farrell). Time: 1:55.4. 200-yard free: 1 — Steve Glazier. Time: 2:06. 50-yard free: 3 — Larry Burt. Individual Medley: 1 — Dan Harbison, 2 — Tom Rice. Time: 2:22. Diving: 1 — Jim Schoenfeld, 2 — Jeff Birdseye. Butterfly: 1 — Rice, 2 — D. Glazier. Time: 1:01. Backstroke: 1 — Harbison, 2 — Jim Douglas. Time: 1:06. 400-yard free: 1 — Steve Glazier, 2 — Tom Synke. Time: 4:35. Breaststroke: 1 — Pherson. Time: 1:17. Free-style relay: 2 — RU (Ken Hunter, Mike Sawall, Ron Porkey, Burt). RU will go against Allen Park this Friday night.

PROUDLY DISPLAYING score sheet that shows how he rolled a 278 game at Country Lanes in Farmington is John Morrison, a bowler in the Southfield League. The score is the highest single game recorded at the lanes which opened for the first time last fall.

Big Test For Rock Tankers

The big test comes this Friday night for Plymouth High's swimming team, perennial powers in the Suburban Six League. The Rocks head for Trenton high and they will go against the team picked up most the coaches to win the league crown this winter.

"They're loaded," says Coach John McFall of Plymouth in talking about Trenton. Meantime, McFall still is smiling over Plymouth's 61-41 win over Bentley last Thursday evening in the Plymouth pool. Dick Barry led the Rocks to their second triumph in as many meets this season. He won the 50-yard free style and the 100-yard free style to bring his record for the season to four straight victories. Barry was timed in 23.5 seconds in the "50" and 53.2 seconds in the "100," both fine performances for so early in the season.

For Bentley, which this Friday hosts Belleville, Sophomore Dennis Rogissart and Bob Craver, each scored a pair of victories. Rogissart took the individual medley and then the 400-yard free style. Craver triumphed in the 200-yard free style and in the 100-yard butterfly.

Here are the complete results of the meet: Medley relay: 1—Plymouth (Hoffman, Norman, Wernette, Saxton), 2 — Bentley (Donaldson, Helmer, Evans, Redford). Time: 1:54.1. 200-yard free: 1—Craver (B), 2—Haarbauer (P), 3—Decker (P). Time: 2:05.9. 50-yard free: 1—Barry (P), 2—Young (B), 3—Cook (P). Time: 23.5 seconds. Individual Medley: 1—Rogissart (B), 2—Bassett (B), 3—Jaskierney (P). Time: 2:21. Diving: 1—Herter (P), 2—Omar (B), 3—Lorenz (P). Winning points: 55.2. 100-yard butterfly: 1—Craver (B), 2—Haarbauer (P), 3—Wernette (P). Time: 1:03.2. 100-yard free: 1—Dick Barry (P), 2—Burke (P), 3—Shaw (B). Time: 53.2 seconds. Back Stroke: 1—Hoffman (P), 2—Schreiber (B), 3—Skinner (P). Time: 1:07.7. 400-yard free: 1—Rogissart (B), 2—Decker (P), 3—Jaskierney (P). Time: 4:31.3. Breast stroke: 1—Norman (P), 2—Reimer (B), 3—Gustafson (P). Time: 1:13.5. Free Style relay: 1—Plymouth (Burke, Cook, Crosby, Saxton), 2—Bentley (Redford, Seab, Schreiber, Young). Time: 1:38.9.

Collegians Beaten By Two Points

"We're really pleased by the way things are going." The statement was issued by Marvin Ganz, who is coaching the new Schoolcraft Junior College basketball team which is performing for the first time this season against intercollegiate competition. So far, Schoolcraft stands 1-1. The team beat Western Ontario's JV's, 71-59, in the opener and then lost, 55-53, to the Adrian College J. C. quintet last Saturday night in a game ended under circumstances unfavorable to the visitors.

Schoolcraft had left the floor at halftime with a 41-33 lead. The club then maintained a margin in the second half, when suddenly it was announced the game was going past the prescribed time and that the varsity teams had to get on the floor to warm up for their battle.

"You have another minute," the Schoolcraft team was told. The news "shook up" the visitors . . . and when the action was stopped, Schoolcraft was on the short end of a 55-53 score. "Our kids became upset when they heard the news," Ganz said. "We're very inexperienced you know. We just have five fellows who played any high school basketball.

"But, they're coming along nicely. We're very pleased. Give us a few more games." Scotty McIntyre, formerly of Bentley, and Gerald Kisabeth, ex-Plymouth, led Schoolcraft against Adrian. Kisabeth had 14 points and McIntyre 12. Cal Lulbrand, another former Plymouth standout, chipped in nine points. John Breckenridge, a product of Garden City high, came up with 11 points. Bob Geist added five and Dave Norris two.

Roger Grover is the other Schoolcraft player with a prep cage background. He was on the squad at Bentley. Schoolcraft ends its pre-holiday action this Thursday, going against the University of Windsor freshmen across the river. It won't be until Jan. 9 that Schoolcraft plays at home. Home for Schoolcraft is the gym at Franklin High.

Clarenceville Awarded Class B Sectional Basketball Tourney Athletic Director Lynn Nutter has announced that Clarenceville high school will be the site of one section of the State Class B Basketball Tournament. Eight class B schools from the nearby area will be selected to compete.

This is the first time for Clarenceville to have an attraction of this type as the new gym is now in its first year of use.

Plymouth Hi News

By CAROL OTWELL

Getting in the swing of the holiday spirit, PHS recently took on a gay, festive look with decorations made by members of the Art Club. The beautiful three-story stained glass window was put up earlier this week in the front stair well. The stained glass effect is achieved by arranging brightly colored pieces of cellophane in a huge black frame.

Designs were also put up in the windows of some of the administrative offices in the front of the building and Christmas mobiles were hung on second and third floor landings.

The art club is sponsored by Mrs. Jessie Hudson while Bob Thompson is president, Carol Wheeler is vice-president, Mary Holmes is treasurer and Teresa Taska secretary.

What is a child's first reaction when asked what Christmas means to him? Does he first think of Santa Claus and presents or does he think of the religious meaning?

To find the answers to these and other questions, members of Donald Chumbley's sociology classes conducted a survey in four Plymouth grade schools on December 10.

A group of 16 students, four from each of his classes, visited Allen, Bird, Farrand, and Starkweather grade schools and personally interviewed the students from the kindergarten level through the third grade.

Each child was asked what Christmas meant to him and then his immediate response was written down or in some cases tape-recorded. The child was also asked what church his family attended, but no names were taken.

Co-chairmen of the project were Lynda Burkart and Cindy Allen. The purpose of the survey was to see if today's children are being taught the real meaning of Christmas or if they know only the commercialized meaning. Results of the survey were not known as of this writing but will be included at a later date.

Carol

The sociology classes of both Chumbley and William Raisch took a field trip to the Detroit House of Correction on December 3.

A group of over 70 students took a guided tour through the women's division and discovered many interesting facts about the prison. The trip was taken in connection with their study of social problems.

Besides field trips and special projects, the sociology classes have many speakers who come to the classes to give talks on various subjects.

THE BEGINNING journalism class, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth McDonald, is making plans for another literary magazine. The class put out the first such publication last year with the title of "Not Quite Shakespeare".

The magazine will consist of photographs, drawings, and the best writings of the students at PHS. A title has not as yet been selected but a steering committee has been set up which consists of: Jan Larkin, Steve Ott, Kay Hannula, Katie Wall, Ed Wendover, Linda Kissner, and Linda Hines.

MEMBERS of the Hi-Y club are planning a ski trip on December 26 and 27. They will stay at Camp Copneconic near Fenton and will ski at Pine Knob.

Reunion at Franklin

There will be an alumni open house for the class of 1964 sponsored by the Student Council on Dec. 23, from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. at Franklin High School.

BULLETINS FROM BENTLEY

by Sue Dowell and Marcia Wilson

SUSAN

When 450 vocal students join together and practice to perform a concert everybody becomes interested. At 8 p.m. on Saturday, December 19 and Monday, December 21, Bentley's annual Christmas Concert will be given.

The theme will be "NOEL MODERNE" which means Modern Christmas. Among many well-rehearsed numbers there will be songs like "Santa's Cha Cha" and "Deck The Hut With Coconut" that is taken from the popular Christmas tune, "Deck The Halls."

Probably the most treasured hymn of the evening, will be that from the movie King of Kings, "Hosanna."

Students, who will participate in the concert, are members of one of the following groups: Glee Club, Girls Chorus, Selective Girls Chorus, Male Chorus, Concert Choir, Senior Ensemble, Triple Trio, and Double Quartet.

The girls who will accompany on the piano for the Concert are Linda Childs, Sherry Wagstaff, Audrey Pritchard, and Kathy Sindon.

The narrator will be Fred Elwell. The scenery for the Concert will be vivid and full of what it takes to make a concert picturesque and the tickets are only 75 cents for students and $1 for adults.

To get into the swing of basketball Bentley took part in two non-league games. On December 4, Bentley played Farmington and both the Reserve and Varsity teams won.

The final score of the reserve game was 67 to 31 with Greg Coleman scoring 17 points and Ed Ryan 10 points to help the team to win their first game.

The varsity team did just as well with a score of 66 to 53 with high scorers Fred Matevia, 23 points, and Tim Dull, 16 points.

On December 8 the reserve and varsity teams won both games from Edsel Ford.

The reserves won by enough to make a 30 point margin of a score of 85 to 55. High scorers were Ed Ryan, 26 points and Greg Coleman, 14 points.

The varsity won 66 to 58. Fred Matevia's 31 points helped tremendously.

On Friday Bentley had its first Suburban Six League against Plymouth. The Reserve team made a nice show with another win. The varsity team ended up with the score 50 to 39 in their favor.

This year's varsity swimming team displayed its talents on Thursday, Dec. 10, against Plymouth.

Members of the varsity are: Dennis Roggsart, Jack O'Donnell, Jerry Young, Al Spiro, Randy Basset, Bob Craver, Roger Omar, John Cricket, Paul Evans, Jim Sneath, Gary Shaw, Jay Schriber, Brian Donaldson, Neal Reimer, Lynn Marshall, and Chuck Reisdorf. The swimming coach for the boys is Larry Joiner.

The following are the list of swimming meets for the rest of December and January: December 18 — Belleville at home. January 8 at Redford Union. January 22 — Allen Park at home. January 26 — Dearborn at home. January 29 — Plymouth at home. All matches will begin at 7 p.m.

Although people do not like it, there are many around Livonia who are not fortunate enough to afford a nice Christmas. But there are teenagers who want very much for these people to have a happy Christmas.

For the last week Bentley students working with the Goodfellows have collected many thousands of canned foods to distribute to needy people.

Bentley has its Parnassus magazine but what it doesn't have is poetry for this annual booklet. Students who know how to read and write are eligible to write a poem.

Facts From FRANKLIN

BY SUE LOCKWOOD

The FHS lecture theater was the scene of two important and interesting assemblies last week. The first, presented on December 8, was a careers assembly with five guest speakers who discussed the varied types of jobs in the social studies area.

Mr. Paris, of Franklin's social studies staff, introduced the speakers: Dr. Carl Anderson, Eastern Michigan University; Dr. Henry Brown, director of the Detroit Historical Museum; Ken Metcalf, Archivist at the Henry Ford Museum; John Schulz, Assistant Principal of the new high school; and Edmund Yerkes, a lawyer in Northville.

After the talks on the different social careers, an informal question-answer period was held.

The second assembly, held 2nd and 3rd hours on Thursday, was for Seniors only who listened intently to Assistant Dean of Student Affairs Edward McNally, as he talked of Schoolcraft College.

McNally told the various ways the school was supported, the types of curriculum, what is offered in night school, and how college transfers work.

THE FRANKLIN Literary Arts magazine was taught a lesson in creativity overnight. Wednesday afternoon, Miss Kangas, co-sponsor of the magazine, placed two mice in the Journalism window as a gimmick to catch student's attention: Thursday morning, there were four baby mice—no need to mention that creativity is the basis of life.

For any Seniors who are interested in working on the Senior Play, "Night of January 16th", there will be an organizational meeting for the various committees December 16; tryouts for parts will be held December 17 and 18. The play, which will be presented February 18-19, is hoped to be as big of a smash as "Bye Bye Birdie" was.

Seniors are already thinking of the June graduation; orders are being taken this week for the graduation announcements.

Franklin has added two new bloodless and unsalaried members to the faculty. They are Harry and Harriet, the two new mannequins purchased by the retailing department. The mannequins will be used by retailing and advertising classes to help students with their window displays.

Franklin held its second basketball game Friday night with Oak Park and lost by only two points—the score was Oak Park 45 and Franklin 43. This year, Sam Antonazzo is captain and Tom Cannon is co-captain; an hour dance was held after the game.

Not overly pre-occupied by scenery or costumes, the FHS cast was able to give "Bye Bye Birdie" its full attention and in so doing produced the best play ever presented at Franklin. The mood of the play was set before the curtain was even raised by showing, to the chorus of "We love you Conrad, oh yes we do," the candid reactions of teachers to Conrad (Al Berkeley) Birdie.

The curtain raised to the office of Albert (Robert Zink) Peterson who had just received the news that America's greatest idol, gold-suited Conrad Birdie, was being inducted into the army. Albert's secretary, morale booster, and all-around good girl, Rosie (Janice Mumford) Alvarez comes in to announce that she is quitting; quitting because of broken promises, low wages, and Albert's tyrant mother (Mary Moore). Albert persuades her to stay until they pull one last publicity stunt for Conrad, which involves a last kiss being bestowed upon Kim (Alexis Naimola) Mac Afee.

But meanwhile, in Sweet Apple, O., Kim Afee has been pinned by Hugo (John Bagdasarian) Peabody and this results in a very good "Telephone Hour." One of the most difficult scenes to present because of the number of dancers and singers, which in other productions has caused much mayhem, proved to be one of the best scenes in Franklin's all-school play.

Alexis Naimola as Kim Mac Afee sang "How Lovely to Be a Woman" and proved to the audience that her little girl's body hid a very big girl's voice.

Albert (Bob Zink) turned out not only to be a good publicity agent but also a good song and dance man when, to cheer up a couple of sad girls, he did "Put On a Happy Face."

Al Brecky portrayed Conrad Birdie right down to the last insolent glare, as a singer of today who is idolized for his looks instead of his talent. Although in Act II, he did surprise the audience by his singing talent when he belted out a lusty "A Lot of Livin' To Do."

Conrad Birdie arrives in Sweet Apple, Ohio and is mobbed by the entire teenage population of that little town. He retreats to the home of the Mac Afee's, and Mr. (Gary Barton) Mac Afee wishes he could retreat to another town. Harassed by Kim's reminder of old age and being called "Fats" by Conrad, Mr. Mac Afee blunders his way around his home in a fine temper, which he always allows to fly at poor Randolph Mac Afee. William Mulcrone plays Randolph as a character to be pitied but he is so funny, everyone is to busy belly-laughing to sympathize.

Janice Mumford does a good solo, "A Spanish Rose," in rebuttal to Albert's mother Mae, who continually calls her something from "south of the border."

The play dances and sings itself out to the final scene, where Albert and Rose are standing at the Sweet Apple railroad station after having sent Conrad and Mae Peterson to New York.

Mary Moore as Albert's mother was one of the biggest and funniest scenestealers in the whole production.

A special thanks should go to Mr. Hirvela, Mr. Ernst, Mrs. Vosgerchian, Mr. Genn, Mr. Anderson, Mrs. Goodwin and, of course, the entire cast, for giving Franklin such a wonderful two and a half hours.

Try outs for Franklin's next play, "Night of January 16th" will be held Dec. 17 and 19. The Senior Play will then be presented Feb. 18 and 19.

Franklin held its first basketball game of the season with Wayne High recently.

Redford Union Panther Tracks

by PAM ZIEMNIAK

The Redford Union High School Band was given the honor of playing at Cobo Hall for the Detroit Pistons on Nov. 18. They played from 7:30 to 8 p.m., including an assortment of marches, three Broadway hits, and the "Theme from Peter Gunn." Recently, the band received a $100 check from Mr. Stermer, the Pistons' promotion manager, for their fine performance. An invitation was extended for the band to play at the Pistons home games this year. Due to the lack of bus transportation this will not be possible.

On Saturday, December 19, the band will hold its concert, "Yuletide Festival." The program has been carefully planned by the director, Mr. Bonamici, and his student assistant, Janet Smith. The admission prices are adults—75 cents, and students—50 cents. Several Christmas favorites such as "Chestnuts Roasting on an Open Fire," "Song of the Bells," "White Christmas," and "Carol of the Drum" will be played. The band would like to share the true spirit of Christmas with everyone, so let's see you there!

A magazine sale assembly was held in the gymnasium on Monday, November 23. The entire student body attended. Students were asked to sell magazines, the funds going to the band, vocal music department, and A.F.S. Bonamici directed the band in three numbers. Steve Crane, who was R.U.'s exchange student to Gorizia, Italy, last summer, gave a speech. He encouraged the students to participate in the magazine sales, so others will have the opportunity to visit foreign lands. Steve introduced the four candidates for next year's exchange program.

Following this, the concert choir sang three songs, directed by Mrs. MacKenzie. The three exchange students were introduced, and they each spoke showing their appreciation to A.F.S. for making their visit to the United States and Redford Union possible.

On November 25, the members of the football and cross-country teams were presented sports awards at an assembly. Mr. Kraft opened the assembly and introduced Mr. MacKenzie, the reserve football coach. Mr. MacKenzie presented the reserve team with their awards and gave a short speech. Mr. Rogers, the varsity football coach, then was introduced and awarded his players. Special awards went to Harry Kendrick, the outstanding back and most valuable player, and to Pat Ryan, the outstanding lineman. Mike Fritz was named to the all-area team by the Observer. Terry Shirkey, Rick Carlson, and Kent Griffiths were chosen as summer captains for next year's squad.

Mr. Patterson, the reserve cross-country coach was unable to attend the assembly; consequently, Mr. Bowerman, the varsity cross-country coach, replaced him in rewarding the reserve team. He also commended the varsity team on their 10-0 record and winning the league championship. Fred Turek was chosen as the most valuable member of the varsity team. Tom McLain and Jack Shepard were announced as next year's co-captains.

The swimming team this year is under the coaching of Mr. Deitz. He comments that this year's team can be the best ever if they can discover some free styler. There are ten returning lettermen. The team is built around Tom Rice, Steve Glazier, Jim Douglas, Doug Cassidy, Bob Laguna, Jeff Birdseye, Jeff Schonfield, Dan Glazier, and the co-captains, Dan Harbison and Tom Szymke. Mr. Deitz has hopes in John Anderson, Dave Czerniak, Ken Andrews, Tom Anthony, Robert Baxter, and George McLeod.

On December 5, students from Clarenceville High School met at Bentley High School to take the Scholastic Aptitude Test, which is required of applicants for admission to many colleges. The SAT measures abilities that are important in college-level work: the ability to read, to use and understand words, and to reason with words and numbers.

Christmas season is here again and the Senior Class of Clarenceville High School is planning a Christmas Sno-Ball dance for December 19. They have booked the popular music-making group, "The Dimensions". See you there.

Language Lab Aids Shorthand at City School

For extra dictation practice geared to individual paces, the advanced shorthand classes of Franklin High School have recently been making additional use of the language-communications laboratory.

Three days a week, 75 students practice taking dictation from individual tapes at varying speeds. Speed drill tapes range from 70 words per three minutes to 120 and 130 words.

Achieving 120 words per minute for three minutes with 95% accuracy is Linda Rose, senior at Franklin High School. Other seniors achieving 110 words per minute for three minutes are Sharon Hanshaw, Nickle Kamar, Vickie Kamar, Ibtisam Kandah and Cherry Rollins.

Mrs. Virginia Myers and Miss Laurel Holan, business education teachers, made all the tapes that the classes use. They both feel that this extra dictation practice outside the regular class dictation is helping the students to improve their speeds.

Next semester it is hoped that the beginning shorthand classes will also be able to use the laboratory for taped dictations.

On Aircraft Carrier
Air Controlman Third Class Larry D. Hanlin, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Hanlin, 35124 Orangelawn, Livonia, was promoted to his present rank, Nov. 16, while serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Shangri-La, operating out of Mayport, Fla.

Jehovah's Witnesses Announce Completed Plans for Conference

Mr. C. Carson Coonce, 1365 Sheridan, Plymouth, presiding minister of the Plymouth Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced that plans for a three-day Bible forum to be held at the Dundee High School in Dundee, Jan. 8-10 are now complete.

More than 1,000 delegates from 16 congregations in southeastern Michigan are expected to attend the three days of activity and Bible instruction. Eighty delegates are planning to attend from the Plymouth congregation. To care for the needs and comforts of the delegates and to ensure smooth operation of the convention, twenty-one departments have been organized. There will be First Aid, Music, Refreshment, Cafeteria, Public Address, Platform, Baptism and even a Cleaning department to make sure that things are kept neat and clean. Departments will be staffed entirely by volunteers, most of which are professionals in their respective fields.

J. W. Ely, Circuit Minister of Michigan Circuit No. 8 has been caring for program matters. Nineteen ministers from Milan, Flat Rock, Ann Arbor, Bryan, Ohio; Ypsilanti, Dundee, Adrian, Hillsdale and Tecumseh will appear on the program.

The principal speaker will be J. W. Filson, of Brooklyn. He will address the assembled delegates Sunday at 3:00 p.m. on the subject "Our Divided World—It Is Here to Stay?"

One of the most interesting features of the gathering will be the water baptism of newly dedicated ministers on Saturday following a talk on "Dedication and Baptism" by Filson.

All sessions are open to the public and no collections will be taken. The program will begin at 6:45 p.m. Friday.

Christ Lutheran Students Present Christmas Programs

On Sunday, Dec. 20 at 3:30 p.m. the Beginner, Kindergarten and Primary Departments of Christ Lutheran Sunday School will present the Annual Christmas Program entitled "Jesus Christ My Lord".

Teachers of the classes are Mrs. Herman Gatzka, Mrs. Ival Hoy Jr., Miss Linda Shurmer, Miss Judy Molnar, Mr. Dennis Broadhead, Miss Gail Smith, Mr. Fred Thatcher, Miss Sharon Molnar and Miss Kay Dembowski.

The program consists of recitations, devotions, carols and pupil participation by all departments. This Worship-Program centers in the Confession of Faith of the Second Article of the Apostles Creed, divided into four parts.

Parents and friends are warmly invited to attend this program of the Nativity.

On Sunday Dec. 20 at 7:30 p.m. the Junior, Pre-Teen, Junior and Senior High Departments present their program "Christmas According to St. Matthew."

This program of Voice Choirs, Bible Selections, Pantomime and Carols with the Young Peoples Choir is a devotional program of the inspiration of Christmas. All pupils participate.

Teachers are Mrs. Maxine Fruth, Mrs. John Masar, Miss Lila Ray, Mrs. Broadhead, Mrs. Katherine Kay, Miss Janet Smith and Mrs. C. W. Beireis. Parents and friends are invited.

At both programs the pupils present their Christmas Boxes to benefit less fortunate children.

Riverside Park Church Plans Presentation of 'Living Nativity'

A Living Nativity will be presented Christmas week at the Riverside Park Church of God, corner of Plymouth and Newburgh Roads Livonia, according to Charles Armstrong, 39125 Richland Ave., Livonia, and James McDowell, 8245 Flamingo Blvd., Garden City, co-chairmen of the committee on arrangements.

The "live" nativity will be presented on three successive evenings, Dec. 21, 22, 23, with performances scheduled for 7:30 p.m., 8 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

I laugh because I must not cry. —Abraham Lincoln

Mercy Chorus Entertains at St. Michael's

Two hundred and fifty women of St. Michael's Parish, Livonia, gathered Dec. 9 to mark the beginning of the Christmas holiday season. The event was the annual potluck dinner sponsored by the St. Michael's Altar Society.

The Our Lady of Mercy High School Senior Glee Club provided the entertainment. Their program ranged from "Say It With Music" to "Charlottown" and the "Suscepit Israel from Magnificat in D".

A feature of the decorations were original centerpieces provided for each of the tables by the women of the Immaculate and St. Patrick circles who were the hostesses.

Special guests at the head table were the priests of the parish, Frs. Thomas J. McMahon, Robert N. Burkholder, and George H. Kirby.

Mrs. Charles Gamber, vice president of the Altar Society and program chairman, said that the next general event for the women of the parish is scheduled Jan. 5. This will be a wine tasting party sponsored by Christian Brothers.

Church Urges Children Learn Of God's Way

Sunday School students and adult members of the congregation of the Unity of West Suburbia will bring gifts for needy children to church with them on Dec. 20.

The children are being asked to bring a 25 cent toy wrapped in white paper to become a "White Gift" for distribution at an orphanage on Christmas.

Parents have been asked by the church to encourage the children to purchase the toy with their own money. "In this way," the church publication explains, "the child can learn that God depends upon him to be His hand and share good in the world."

Adults are requested to bring small sacks of candy for distribution to both the Sunday School children and to the orphans with the toys.

Methodist Teens Elect Officers

Members of the Junior Methodist Youth Fellowship at the Riche Memorial Methodist Church recently elected officers.

Those elected were: Larry Chapman, president; John Green, vice-president; Wendy Bowers, secretary; Debbie Ketunen, treasurer; and Fred Kreuger, MYF Representative.

This Junior MYF includes about thirty teen-agers in Junior High School. The Methodist Youth Fellowship is a denominational organization and is split into the Junior and Senior groups.

Leaders for the Rice Memorial Group are Mrs. Shirley Hubbard, Mrs. Veronica Chapman and Mrs. Dorothy Cox.

Christmas Cantata Sunday at 8 p.m.

St. Matthew's Church of Livonia will present a Christmas Cantata Sunday, Dec. 20 at 8 p.m.

The Cantata will be presented by the Chancel Choir. On the program will be a presentation of "The Heavenly Child" by Bernard Hambien.

St. Matthew's is located at 29475 W. Six Mile Rd.

First Religious Class

The first religious class in Farmington was held in 1829, in connection with the Methodist Episcopal Church of Farmington. The members were John Thayer, Leander Walker, Lucetta Walker, Olive Mansfield, Seymour Newton, Maria Newton, Samuel Meade, William W. Meade, Fanny A. Mead, Carolyn M. Meade, Phebe Hiles, Matthew Van Amburgh, Isaac Valentine, Calvin Ray, and Mr. and Mrs. John Gould, Gould was leader of the class. Thayer was the great grandfather of funeral director Howard Thayer.

WANT TO DO AWAY with sending Christmas cards to people you see every day? The Memorial Church of Christ in Redford Township has come up with a way to solve the dilemma. For three years the congregation has posted a huge Christmas card (this year's model shown above measures 28" by 26") on the church bulletin board and families sign it. Approximately 75 families are represented each year on the greeting. Members of the Church are asked to include the monies saved in this way in their special Christmas offering.

Chancel Choir to Perform At St. Paul's December 20

The combined Chancel Choirs of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church will present a program of Christmas music on Dec. 20 at 7:30 p.m. This program represents more than two months of intensive rehearsal and preparation.

Newburg Methodist Chancel Choir Concert Sunday

Among the works to be performed is Roy Ringwald's "Song of Christmas," a choral work comprised of songs, carols and Biblical verse. Also included on the program are works by Handel, Praetorius, Martin Shaw, and a new number arranged by the well known arranger, Harry Simeone.

Supplementing the 45-voice choir will be a string quartet as well as a piano and the organ.

From the lively "Fanfare for Christmas Day" to the famous "Halleluia Chorus," this program of special Christmas music should be one of the best offerings ever made by the combined Chancel Choirs.

Xmas Party Planned

The Universalist-Unitarian Church of Farmington is holding a Christmas Party on Dec. 17. For information call Viv Bassett, GA. 2-9396 or Jan Marks, 425-8715.

Church Slates Varried Christmas Programs

Christmas and its message will be celebrated with a series of events at the Southfield Community Church, 21122 Indian between Beech and Inkster north of 8-mile, according to Pastor Raymond Bayne.

Under the direction of Larry Eicher the Youth Choir of the church presented their annual Christmas Concert Sunday evening, Dec. 13. Nearly 150 young people were included in the concert singing traditional Christmas Anthems interspersed with readings of the Christmas Scriptures and accompanied by small orchestra. Mrs. Eric Buchanan is the organist. On Sunday evening, Dec. 20 at 7 p.m. the Bible School will hold its annual family Christmas Program under the direction of Mrs. Jean Pike. A huge Bible will be erected on the platform and in it will be portrayed various Christmas characters by children of the Sunday School. There will be Carol-singing and the annual treat for the children of the Bible School.

Christmas worship will be held on Christmas Eve from 11 p.m. to midnight with the traditional candle-light carol service. Featured will be new chimes to be installed in the church. The Christmas story will be presented in Scripture Picture and Song.

The various choir clubs of the church will go caroling during the week preceding Christmas.

The church has been decorated by a committee headed by Mrs. Pike and special lighting effects have been arranged for the Christmas season.

Waste not fresh tears over old griefs. —Euripides

Christian Scientists Set Jesus's Life As Sunday's Topic

Jesus' life as a manifestation of divine power will be studied at Christian Science services this Sunday. Subject: "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?"

Bible readings will include accounts of the virgin birth, calming the storm, the raising of Lazarus, and Jesus' words: "I am the light of the world; he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life" (John 8:12).

County Educators Urge Anti-Smoking Program in Local High Schools

Education on cigarette smoking and its effect on a high school student's health has been recommended to be a part of a continuous program of a student's health education program in the high schools of Wayne County . . . by the Michigan Council on Smoking and Health.

The Michigan Association of Secondary School Principals considered the matter of "smoking" education serious enough to adopt a resolution at its yearly convention urging all high schools to take action on this matter of smoking and health. Several high schools in Wayne County have taken surveys and ordered copies of the Resource Guide for their teaching staffs. The Wayne County Intermediate Office of Education is in the process of distributing copies of the Council's Smoking Research Guide to all elementary and secondary schools in the county. Each elementary school will receive four free copies; junior high schools, five copies; and high schools, 10 copies. Free copies of the Michigan Council on Smoking and Health Resource Guide are available to religious and educational organizations. These may be obtained by writing to the Michigan Health Council, P.O. Box 431, East Lansing, Mich. 48824. Newspaper editors may contact our office for a free Guide if one is desired for your files.

E. J. McClendon, Consultant, Health and Secondary Education, Wayne County Intermediate Board of Education, as a member of the Michigan Council on Smoking and Health was responsible for the Senior High Resource Guide entitled "Smoking and Its Relationship to Health and Disease." McClendon prepared, organized and wrote the secondary section of the recently published 30-page Teacher Guide.

Scare tactics, "preaching," and parental pressure does little to deter teenagers in their pell-mell efforts to become smokers. Research has proven that such traditional methods do little to influence student decisions to resist the cigarette habit.

Smoking instruction has to be planned and conducted so that the student has an opportunity to make his own decision about smoking. The major purpose of the Michigan Council on Smoking and Health Guide is to influence adolescents in the direction of making a personal decision regarding smoking. Positive student goals via several sets of immediate objectives have been set up in the Resource Guide. Through a series of meaningful experiences student behavioral patterns relative to smoking can be changed, the Guide shows.

On Saturday, Dec. 19, a special 15 minute TV report over Channel 2, WJBK-TV, at 2:30 p.m. regarding the need for more "smoking" education and the work of the Michigan Council on Smoking and Health will be presented. E. J. McClendon, Wayne County Intermediate Health Consultant, and Dr. Henry J. VandenBerg, Detroit Surgeon and Chairman of the Michigan Council on Smoking and Health will appear on the discussion program with Hugh W. Brennehan, Moderator and Secretary of the Michigan

C. Calvert Knudsen
Knudsen New Head Of Evans

Monford A. Orloff has been elected chairman and chief executive officer of Evans Products Company by the directors of the company meeting here, and C. Calvert Knudsen elected president and chief administrative officer.

Orloff, 50, became president of Aberdeen Plywood and Veneers in 1958. Upon the acquisition of Aberdeen by Evans in 1961, he was elected a vice president and director of Evans. He became president the following year.

Orloff graduated from Stanford University in 1937 and Harvard Law School in 1940. He practiced law in the state of Washington until 1951, with time out for World War II military service. From 1952 to 1958, he was general manager of Mt. Baker Plywood, Inc., Bellingham, Washington.

33-MONTH RIVERSIDE POWER GRIP
 With winter's worst driving conditions on their way, it's time you had your tires changed to Riverside Power Grips. Wide, deep tread delivers finest traction in snow and ice. Self-cleaning lugs are angled to resist dangerous side-slip.

27-MONTH RIVERSIDE ST-107
 The rough and ready ST-107, with 35% miracle ingredient RIV-SYN added, is designed for extra tread strength and longer mileage. The deep, wide tread design means great traction and road stability. 3300 "swirl sipe" edges for traction.
