Air Forum On Trains Thursday

Railroads will be the topic when members of The Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce gather Thursday at 12:10 p.m. for a Businessmen's Forum at Hillside Inn.

Plymouth City Commissioner and Wayne County Supervisor A. E. Vallier, Jr. will be the speaker. Vallier is expected to discuss passenger train service, overpass or underpass construction and freight rates.

Chamber officials said they hoped freight traffic and passenger departments of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway would be represented at the meeting.

The Businessmen's Forum programs were begun last year in an effort to keep Chamber members informed about subjects of current interest in The Plymouth Community.

THE IDEA behind the programs gained national recognition last month when a page of the National Chamber of Commerce publication was devoted to the Plymouth Chamber.

The national publication cited an average attendance figure of 40 to 50 at the meetings and noted four key factors which have contributed to the success of the meetings. They include:

- (1) Consistency of meeting place — easily accessible, comfortable surroundings, nominal cost.
- (2) Adherence to strict time schedule — 12:10-1:30 p.m.
- (3) Selection of the right

C of C Members Should Return Evaluation Slips

A call was issued this week for return of evaluation sheets sent out with the tentative 1965 Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce program.

Program Activities Committee Chairman Carl Pursell said quick return of the sheets would be appreciated by committee members.

The sheets call for Chamber members to make recommendations, additions and deletions to the proposed program. Pursell urged full participation, noting that members could then be reasonably satisfied that the program includes what they want before it goes to the board of directors for final acceptance.

Members of Pursell's committee include Margaret Wilson, Douglas Blunk, Wendell Lent, John D. McEwen and Dr. R. R. Barber.

person to preside at meetings.

(4) Opportunity to offer suggestions for future meetings.

The local Chamber also received recognition for its new business program. All new businesses and industries are invited in groups of five or six to attend luncheons.

Informal introductions are made and each new firm explains its operation briefly. Chamber activities and services are also discussed.

Penn Theater Purchase Caps Success Story

A trip up the local ladder of success came to a happy conclusion as of Jan. 1 when Penn Theater co-owner Margaret Wilson of Plymouth purchased remaining interest in the local theater.

Miss Wilson purchased the remainder of the business and building from former owner Mrs. Harry R. Lush of Plymouth. The transaction marked the climax of her rise from the position behind the theater candy counter that began in April, 1945.

At that time, the Penn Theater was owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lush. In 1950, when the Lushes moved to California, Miss Wilson became general manager of the Penn.

She served in that position until Mr. Lush's death in March, 1960, when she became a full partner in the business. She has been a resident of The Plymouth Community since 1936.

AT ONE TIME, in addition to their ownership of the Penn, the Lushes held leases on both P & A Theaters here and in Northville.

Mrs. Lush still retains ownership in the building occupied by Melody House, a business owned jointly by herself and Miss Wilson.

Revised Text Authored By Plymouthite

A completely revised third edition of a Plymouth man's textbook, "Electronics in Industry," is being published this month by McGraw-Hill Book Co. of New York.

The 600 page text was written by George M. Chute of Plymouth, a professor of electrical engineering at University of Detroit.

To be used in colleges of engineering and in technical institutes, the revised edition contains seven new chapters and features seven new chapters (Continued on page 4-5)

ERECTED recently, this new sign marks the merger last year of The American Hospital Medical Benefit Association with The Community Mutual Insurance Company to form The American Community Mutual Insurance Company, authorized to write life, disability and hospital insurance. The sign, located at the company's headquarters at 499 Plymouth Road, includes a new emblem which, according to President John J. Temple, symbolizes "A pyramid of progress." Above, Temple inspected the sign after it was raised. The firm, he said, has paid over $65 million in benefits over the years.

AND RINK PROGRESSES:

Reservations OK'd for Senior Citizen Units

Both the old and the young took cheer from the Monday evening meeting of Plymouth City Commissioners held at the City Hall.

For commissioners were told at the session that progress was being made in the areas of public, senior-citizen housing and an indoor skating rink with a proposed seating capacity of 3,400.

In a letter to Public Housing Director and City Clerk Richard Shaffer, word was sent from Washington that Plymouth's reservation for 60 housing units for the elderly had been approved. Public Housing Administration Commissioner Marie McGuire wrote:

"It is a pleasure to approve this reservation for housing the low income families of your community. Accept my congratulations for this evidence of interest in your local housing needs and my assurance of any assistance which you may need as you proceed with your development plans."

Our mutual goal is to improve your neighborhoods and to make them an asset to your community, by providing homes for families which they can find satisfying and rewarding, both physically and socially.

In a statement issued after receipt of the FHA letter, Shaffer complimented that the engineering and in technical institutes, the revised edition contains seven new chapters and features seven new chapters (Continued on page 4-5)

"Also," Shaffer continued, "as a result of questionnaires passed out last March, we have the names of 100 persons on file indicating an interest in such a project."

He said many eligible persons probably wouldn't inquire or express a desire for this type of housing until they see the project underway.

Plans are progressing and bids from contractors are due Jan. 11 on the indoor skating rink slated for construction in the City of Plymouth's urban renewal area on Mill St., according to Vern Schlaweske, president of the Gay Blade Corporation.

Schlaweske's interest in the project grows out of his activity with youthful skaters in the Plymouth Hockey Association.

HE TOLD commissioners Monday evening that plans call for a concrete block building with a clear span roof and seating for 3,400 spectators. Included would be locker rooms and showers.

Schlaweske said the building would have a colonial styled front. He said contractors' bids must be in before mortgage money can be obtained. If financing arrangements are completed, he said, construction would start by May 1.

Earlier in the meeting, Mayor Richard Wernette announced a windfall that would also benefit local hockey players. The Detroit Red Wing Alumni Association, he said, had sent a check for $250 to be turned over to the Plymouth Hockey Association.

The check is part of funds raised at the annual old timers' game. This year's game is set for Jan. 25 at Detroit's Olympia. Commissioners unanimously approved transfer of the check to the hockey association.

The go-ahead was given to the city building inspector for issuance of a permit to Our Lady of Good Counsel Church for construction of a new church building. Former Mayor or Robert Sincok, chairman of the parish's church committee had requested the permit.

"IT IS merely a program reservation," Shaffer explained. "In fact, numerous preliminary steps are yet to be taken." Shaffer said the first move to be made would be application for a preliminary loan.

"It may well be 12 months or more before any construction could be contemplated," he noted. With approval of only 60 units, instead of the 100 originally applied for, Shaffer said there will undoubtedly always be a substantial waiting list of applicants.

A survey of voter files in Plymouth indicates a total of 370 senior citizens in Plymouth that would qualify on the basis of age.

The plan would require 40 hours of combined work and school time. Wages would be $10 per week. Local MESOC officials said five or six candidates interviewed for the program, but turned thumbs down on it when they learned of the pay rate.

Most said they could make more money on their own. Consideration of the problem of a vacant frame building located at 705 S. Main St., owned by Garval Investment Co., was put over to the April meeting of the commission.

On a motion by Commissioner James Houk a letter will be sent noting that compliance with city ordinances is expected by that time or steps will be taken to condemn the structure.

Commissioners were told that no candidates were available for a job training program being offered in conjunction with the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

The International Mailers' Union was selected as executive bargaining agent for Plymouth's D.S.I. Corporation at a representative election conducted Wednesday, Dec. 30.

The vote was conducted under the auspices of the National Labor Relations Board. Today, John Dillon of D.S.I.'s sales department issued this statement on behalf of company president W. C. Scott.

"The International Mailers' Union petitioned the NLRB for a representative election at the Plymouth plant of D.S.I. Corporation. The election was held on Dec. 30.

"The result was the election received a bare majority of votes cast." Dillon said no arrangements had been made yet for the start of contract negotiations.

If no objections are filed, Brooks said, the NLRB will issue certification that the majority of D.S.I. Corp. employees have selected the International Mailers' Union as their exclusive bargaining agent.

Contract negotiations, he said, would probably follow certification of the vote.

Results of the election were disclosed Tuesday by Jerome Brooks, Acting Regional Director, Region Seven, of the NLRB.

BROOKS said 32 employees voted for the petitioner (the union), 28 voted against and two votes were challenged. Out of a total of 66 eligible employees, 62 cast ballots.

He said the deadline for filing objections to the results for either side was this Thursday at the close of business.

12 Hopefuls Join Race For Vacant Senate Seat

A slate of 12 candidates will greet Plymouth Community voters on Monday, Feb. 15 when they go to the polls to vote in Republican and Democratic primaries for candidates for State Senate.

Six Republicans and six Democrats filed for the primary election in the 14th District by the death of Senator - Elect Paul M. Chandler of Livonia.

The district includes northwestern Wayne County and western Oakland County.

GOP candidates in the race are former Senator Farrell Roberts of Pontiac, George Ames of Novi, Allen C. Ingle of Farmington; Paul A. Kern, Jr. of Orchard Lake; Thomas J. McHugh of Pontiac and Fitzhugh Prescott of Farmington.

Democrats include John H. Burke of Farmington; Mrs. Elsie Gilmore of Livonia; Paul F. Livingston of Birmingham; James P. McCarthy of Livonia; Edward H. McNamara of Livonia and Leo P. Meagher of Farmington.

Two of the candidates are men who ran against Chandler in the September primary last year. They are Kern and Prescott.

Kern, 44, is a real estate consultant. A veteran, he is married and has five children. The September race was Kern's first entry into political life. He described himself as a Republican and Gold-water conservative during the fall primary campaign.

Kern conducted a vigorous write-in campaign after his primary defeat. A Farmington resident, Prescott is president of a fertilizer company. In the past, he has been associated with the steel industry as a sales engineer and with the paper business as a packaging engineer.

He attended Central Michigan University and Butler University. Married, Prescott has one daughter. He is the son of the late Senator Charles T. Prescott of Prescott, Mich. and the grandson of George Allen Prescott, former Michigan Secretary of State from 1905-1909.

Prescott was active in the 1952 presidential campaign in support of General Dwight D. Eisenhower's candidacy. During World War II, he served in Africa and Italy.

Among the other Republican candidates, Roberts is probably best known. A 42-year-old attorney, he just completed a second term as State Senator from the old 18th District.

In November, he ran as one of 14 candidates for the Second Judiciary Court of Appeals and was narrowly defeated.

Prior to his election to the State Senate, Roberts served two terms in the Michigan House of Representatives. He is a partner in the Pontiac law firm, Dieterle and Roberts.

Roberts and his wife, Phyllis, have two sons. Allen C. Ingle has served as a Farmington Township Justice of the Peace for the past 11 years. The 43-year-old attorney is a past president of the Michigan Justices of the Peace Association and past president of the seven years. He is married and has four children.

A GRADUATE of the Detroit College of Law, he served with the U. S. Army's 8th and 78th infantry divisions during World War II. He was in the secret intelligence branch of OSS.

A leader in court reform, Ingle wrote the accounting and form law passed by the Michigan Legislature and now in effect throughout the state. He ran unsuccessfully for the Oakland County Circuit Court bench in November.

A lifetime resident of Michigan, Ingle has lived in Oakland County for the past 14 years.

A newcomer to politics at the State level is Thomas J. McHugh who filed petitions bearing over 600 signatures for the Republican primary Monday morning.

McHugh, 32, is currently Mayor Pro Tem and a councilman at Sylvan Lake City. He has been a resident of Oakland County since 1937.

A veteran of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers during the Korean conflict, he served from 1952-54 and was released with the rank of Corporal.

He attended the University of Detroit where he studied architectural engineering. Democratic standard bearer in the November election James P. McCarthy is running for the Senatorial seat. McCarthy was beaten by Chandler in the Fall election.

The 30-year-old Michigan Bell Telephone Co. supervisor has been a resident of Livonia for the seven years. He is married and has four children.

An active member of the Livonia Democratic Club, McCarthy taught a "Democracy in Action" class for Michigan Bell for Livonia mayor in 1962. A 1952 graduate of St. Theresa High School, he attended Wayne State University for one year.

JOINING McCarthy in the race for the Democratic nomination is Mrs. Elsie Gilmore of Livonia, a prominent Wayne Co. Democrat.

Mrs. Gilmore is a former Wayne County Democratic Party chairman. She has been active in politics for 10 years, serving six of them as county chairman.

The 49-year-old Livonia woman was a precinct delegate from 1952 to 1962, served as vice chairman of the county Democratic committee in 1954 and acted as county chairman from 1955 to 1961.

Also running in the Democratic primary is Livonia City Council-

Michigan Bank Opens In Plymouth

A new Michigan Bank office was opened last week in The Plymouth Community at the southwest corner of Ann Arbor and Sheldon Roads.

The bank branch will operate out of a temporary trailer office at the site until construction of a permanent building is completed. Construction is expected to begin soon.

The building, according to bank officials, will probably be in keeping with the accepted colonial theme of The Plymouth Community.

HEADING UP the new branch is Office Manager G. C. Reaume, a veteran of 16 years with Michigan Bank. His staff will include Assistant Manager Gerald Markwart of Livonia and Mrs. Patricia Galvan of Nankin Township, a teller.

Markwart has been with Michigan Bank for two and a half years. He and Reaume both come here from the financial institution's Asbury Park branch at Northland.

Mrs. Galvan has been employed at the new branch.

THE CRISIS THAT WASN'T

Today, there are many quick victories over disease. Each might be described as a crisis that didn't quite happen — thanks to today's superior medicinal agents.

Modern medicines prescribed by your physician work amazing triumphs over diseases which, only a decade ago, were almost certain to become dangerously serious.

Present-day pharmaceuticals, such as the antibiotics, require complex equipment, intricate controls and highly skilled technicians for production. Although somewhat higher in cost, they actually are an investment in economy. They effect an earlier cure and cut down expensive sick-bed time.

We are staffed and equipped to fill your doctor's prescriptions promptly at prices that are fair.

Ladies - Do You Really Look Good in Long Pants?

Women are going back to pants, that's the latest word from the leading fashion houses of Paris this season. "Going back" is really quite true as any student of ancient history will tell you. In the days of the Roman, Greek and Oriental cultures, women wore pants and men wore skirts. If you pause a minute, you will recall that the ancient warrior always had a short skirt even with his heavy armor. In the harem, women always wore pants made of elaborate fabrics that more often than not were filmy and diaphanous.

In the course of events, conditions changed and men laboring in the fields found that pants were more practical and comfortable. Pants or trousers became man's domain. Sailors in Genoa started wearing tight trousers of sturdy denim material which became known as "jeans," after the Genoans or "Genes" who popularized them.

In history, whenever the pendulum swings in an entirely new direction, the styles become extreme. As women gradually started to wear skirts, they became more and more elaborate and difficult to wear. The era of the hopped and hobble skirt, one of the most uncomfortable in history, lasted a long time. During this period, women wouldn't dream of wearing pants. They wore tight waist-cinchers to create the hour glass figure. Often, they were so tightly corseted, the fair ladies fainted.

PANTS PSYCHOLOGY
Are men in favor of the new rage of pants for women? One psychologist has said men will say that pants de-feminize a woman, yet they do not really object to a woman in a well-cut, good looking pair of pants. The new, tight pants are revealing without actually exposing any part of the body and very flattering to the legs.

It was during World War II that modern women really started to wear pants. Remember Rosie the Riveter, a symbol of the time, who appeared with smudged face, her hair wrapped in a turban and wearing blue denim pants. When their men went off to war, these modern women were faced with the task of doing men's work in many areas. They found pants were much more comfortable for factory and heavy work and equally important, pants were warm while they were scurrying around during the long, cold winter months.

GIRL FRIDAYS
During the past 20 years, pants have become more than a comfort type of apparel. A leading Paris designer forecast in two years, every chic woman in Paris will be wearing pants everywhere — to her office, to the smartest restaurants.

One fact that must be faced honestly is, do you really look good in pants? Take a good look at your back view in a full length mirror and you will be able to decide immediately. No need to confer with anyone else, in the new tight fitting pants, your figure must be flattering or you had better decide against them.

Of course, this may be the deciding factor in helping you go on that diet you've been talking about for months. If your figure is good and you look alluring in pants, give them a prominent place in your wardrobe. If the man in your life objects, he'll probably change his mind when he sees how attractive you are in these high fashion pants.

Every man likes to see the woman in his life dressed in the latest fashion, if it is becoming to her.

Who Is The Vainer Sex?

Breathes there the man who, while waiting for wife or girl friend, never has muttered "Why do women put all that junk on their faces?" "Why does it take hours to comb their hair?" "And where do they get those wild clothes?"

"For me I like the natural look. . . . Oh yeah? The appropriate feminine retort to such male grumbling is "Well, men started it all." And this time history is on the side of the gals. Almost every frumpy that now delights women and exasperates men was borrowed from the male.

"High heels? They were the idea of the pint-sized King Louis XIV of France. His favorite pair of high heels was red.

Wigs? Wigs were worn by the men of ancient Egypt. In fact they shaved their heads in order to make their ornate wigs fit evenly. In ancient Rome, wig enthusiasts reached such proportions that Roman portrait busts had removable stone wigs so that even after death they could be kept in fashion as wig styles changed. How vain can you get?

Even our tough fighting men of the Revolutionary period wore wigs. These were the part of the U.S. army issue until 1799, when the Army stopped including them because they couldn't afford to provide the enormous amounts of tallow and flour needed to oil and powder the wigs.

Both sexes plastered their faces with cosmetics during the 18th century. In those days, powder and rouge were supposed to be signs of good breeding. Both also wore "beauty spots" — small patches in the shape of circles, crosses, crescents, even horses or ships, were worn on the cheeks.

In the 18th century every American home had its own dressing table, mirror and dressing box containing razors, scent bottles, scissors, curling irons, powder puff, brush and comb. Only this time it was for the male members of the family primarily — not the female.

Beards have always been man's greatest vanity. At least in earlier days. Men may jeer at a woman who wears curlers to bed, but 17th and early 18th century gentlemen often wore cardboard boxes to bed to protect their beards which were cut and waxed in square, round, spade, fork and dagger shapes. In a more ancient day, Persian and Arab gentlemen dyed their beards bright blue, green or purple or whatever color suited their fancy.

Avoid Menu Monotony - Surprise Your Family

It happens even to the best cooks occasionally - "menu monotony" sets in. To avoid it, spark the family's meals with surprises. Tomorrow morning, serve the usual breakfast eggs in the form of a tomato omelet - or how about pancakes with a creamed chicken filling? Instead of ham or bacon, bring a big platter of different cheeses to the table (cheese is a standard breakfast food in the Netherlands). Crab meat is a delicious and glamorous change from everyday luncheon or dinner fare. Frozen Alaskan King crab, already cooked, needs only to be heated after defrosting. Here is an easy crab chowder casserole that makes hearty eating for company or family meals.

ALLAN'S FIRESIDE CASSEROLE 2 pkgs. (6 oz.) frozen Alaska King crab meat defrosted and drained 1/2 cup mayonnaise 1 tsp. chili sauce (optional) 1 tsp. tarragon or wine vinegar 1 tsp. celery salt

Floppy Mops are Going . . . Gone

It's a startier these days to meet your women friends not seen for a while — if you can recognize them at all. Their heads are shrinking!
Hair-do's used to be swelled, puffed and rounded as a basket ball. What you see now is, simply and clearly, a human head. The newest silhouettes are cropped, sleek, short and close.
Fashion experts have been saying for several years that the bouffant hair-do was finished but many women kept their teased-up hair tresses teased up just the same. Their beauty idols also continued to wear the bouffant look in their coifs.
Now, finally, the bouffant has collapsed and the wide-awake 1965 woman knows it. The sleeker coiffure appears to be taking over the young and not-so-young and are proving becoming to both.
What shape will you be in when you leave your tresses on the cutting room floor? Go to your nearest art museum and study the Modiglianis to find out. The early 20th century painter loved elongations and simplifications, stressed long necks and long oval faces. And such a relief! Shedding all that hair is like flinging off a heavy coat. Gone are the intricate sets, the laborious rolling and teasing of the "bubble cut" period. Setting these new styles involves little more, literally, than a lick and a promise.

The newest silhouette works best after precision cutting and careful shaping by a professional. The "Shaped Nape" is what one famous stylist calls it. Hair is round, not flat at the top, short at the sides, pointed at the nape to create the effect of a swan neck. The styles can be set simply by brushing the hair into place, anchoring it with clips or transparent tape until dry.
If your face is short, use a few rollers at the crown to give added height. Rollers can also be used for extra volume at the sides, to soften features. And if you want plumb-full bangs, push a fat wad of cotton underneath them, anchor it with cellophane tape while the hair dries.
Hair care is simpler, too. A professional type hair dryer is just right for those sleeker coifs and is roomy enough for jumbo rollers, too. And dry the time is as fast as your beauty parlor. With the new styles, the weekly set will suffice. If you want some overnight help, one of the pretty new hair nets, so glamorous now that one European designer even suggests them for formal wear, will keep the hair close to the head and smooth while you sleep. In any case, the Small Head Era should give husbands a lot less to grumble about.

Lose Weight The Safe Way

Dissatisfied with your silhouette? Want to improve your appearance and protect your health against diseases caused by overweight? The most important step in achieving and keeping a pleasing figure is to acquire better eating habits, according to researchers. They stress you can lose weight safely and comfortably without starvation methods or drugs. It's the extras — what you eat, but don't need — that cause the extra pounds. Calories must be reduced, but essential nutrients, such as proteins, minerals, and vitamins, should not be sacrificed. It also is important to start the day with a well-balanced and adequate breakfast; this will help you to resist that mid-morning snack. Several proposals for better menu planning include: A pint of whole milk is acceptable for adults. A pint of skim or non-fat dry milk, however, may be substituted since it contains only half as many calories as whole milk, and... Vegetables selected from the following group are especially low in caloric value: asparagus, broccoli, carrots, green beans, kale, squash, spinach, turnip greens, lettuce, and other greens, tomatoes, celery, cucumbers, cabbage, beets, eggplant, onions, rutabagas, cauliflower and turnips. Bananas, apples, grapes and other sweetened fruits can be eaten sparingly. Non-caloric sweetening agents and three teaspoons or less of fat or oil per day will also reduce calories. Potatoes, bread and cereals should be used with discretion. Apparent weight loss may take as much as one to one and one-half weeks, but after that, you may expect to lose one to one and one-half pounds weekly without endangering your health.

Need Students In Night Classes

"We need enrollments in almost all of the classes in the Adult Education program", states Herb Woolweaver, director. Unless registrations increase immediately, many courses must be dropped, he said.

An intermediate swim class on Saturdays from 10:45-11:30 will begin on Jan. 16. There are still openings for the 9:15 beginners swim class for first graders and up which also starts Jan. 16. The fee for this class is $8.00.

High school drop-outs are urged to consider the night credit courses which can give them enough credits for graduation. There is no fee for these courses.

Some of the courses which may have to be dropped for lack of registrations are: commercial art, golf, cake decorating, bridge, sewing, and investments. Anyone interested in any of the adult education classes call the Adult Education office at the Plymouth High School, GL 3-3100.

Feel Bad? It's The Weather

You needn't be an avid outdoorsman to find out quite early in life just how much the weather affects you — since muggy days are notorious for "making" school children misbehave.

It's also been found that more things seem to go wrong for us and we have more "off days" when the barometric pressure is low and falling. These are the days, foggy and depressing, when people are edgy and irritable.

The exact reason for these changes in our mental attitude and even in the tissues of our bodies, is not known. However we do know that the water content of the tissues varies somewhat with barometric pressure changes. Researchers report that our brains also tend to swell with water during those "off" days. This may be reflected in jittery feelings, mental depression and slowed mental efficiency.

If you are going to do a lot of mental work, it might be well to plan your thinking for a clear day. For it has been shown that mental workers do their best during the clear days of late winter, early spring, and fall, and their worst on muggy summer days.

Crimes also seem to be influenced by the weather. The hot and humid summertime, when men's tempers tend to short, seems to be the time when murder are most often committed. Scientists at Villanova University report that July and August, the hottest months, are the worst for violent crimes. Interestingly, hot-weather countries have a higher crime rate than do the temperate "cold" countries of the north.

In the case of illness, the weather is often the straw that breaks the camel's back. People on the verge of being sick surrender to the illness when a sharp weather shift helps deplete their strength. To many already ill, a violent change in the weather may make their cases more severe.

By itself, weather rarely brings on a disease — or even a common cold. But pronounced drops or rises in temperature, humidity and barometric pressure alter the body functions just enough to throw them off balance.

In the case of serious diseases, there doesn't seem to be anything that can be done about the weather's influence. Studying 250 cases of coronary occlusion, Philadelphia climatologists learned that three out of five of these heart attacks happened when a cold front appeared abruptly, as both temperature and barometer dropped sharply.

Similar findings were arrived at by Dallas doctors, who reported that most of the heart patients who had an attack during a rapid onset of cold (or warm) weather, were either asleep or resting at the time. Physical exertion, therefore, was not involved: the doctors concluded that it was the strain of adapting to the change of weather that was a major factor in causing the heart attacks.

The ideal temperature for your health — as well as for thinking and carrying out your daily chores — is 64° F.

Why do many people then find it so difficult to work in the spring when the temperature hovers around the 64° mark? The phenomena of "spring fever" is explained by doctors as the body's shifting its circulation to adapt to the warmer weather outside. The blood stream gets more water in order to cool the body to cope with the higher temperature of spring. The blood vessels dilate and carry more blood to the surface to get rid of heat, and a lot of bodily energy is expended as a result.

Weather can be your best friend or perhaps your worst enemy. Learn to roll with its punches and to ride out its crests — for, in the words of a popular rhyme:

Whether it's cold,
Or whether it's hot,
We will have weather,
Whether or not.

Happy New Year Varies In Different Countries

When you raised your glass and shouted "Happy New Year!" at midnight, Dec. 31, how did citizens of other countries welcome in the New Year? Did they boil Indian rice? Toast with Spanish sherry? Exchange Iranian eggs? Russian families usually celebrate New Year's as a quiet household holiday. There are New Year's trees, decorated with toys and lights, and parties for the children. At midnight, in observance of an old Russian custom, celebrants douse all the lights. Many teenagers go about the streets festively throwing peas and wheat grains at passers-by, much in the same way as we throw confetti.

If you're anywhere in Italy on New Year's Eve, don't walk close to the buildings because at the stroke of midnight people stand at their windows and leave out old glass, kitchenware and chairs. This symbolizes the cleaning out of the old and the beginning of the new.

ITALIANS also get a bang out of New Year's fireworks displays. Here the understanding is that the noise will frighten away all bad things that happened during the old year and so assure good luck in the year to come.

Luck—also dominates the scene in Spain. In Jerez and other areas, it's customary for families to gather on New Year's Eve and celebrate the coming of the new year with music and a special kind of amusement.

When the clock begins to strike midnight, each person starts to eat dozen grapes. The entire dozen must be eaten before the twelfth of the bell to be sure that the new year will be a happy one.

LEGEND has it that this Spanish custom was begun by men who raised grapes for the making of sherry. Spanish sherry from the grapes of Jerez vineyards would be perfect in the coming year, they believed, if everyone ate one grape with each stroke of the bell to be sure that the new year will be a happy one.

In France and Scotland, New Year's Day, is a more important holiday than Christmas. At Christmas, a French peasant child puts his wooden shoe on the hearth for a gift, but it's on New Year's Day that adults exchange presents.

Scottish tradition has it that the first one in a house on

New Year's Day brings good luck. Midnight celebrators carry spiced cakes and other goodies to wish their hosts a good year.

But if you were to welcome in the new year in Iran, you might be surprised at the gifts you would be expected to exchange: eggs!

NEW YEAR'S in India is an extremely solemn festival. Flower-bedecked cattle are followed through the streets to the sacred Ganges River where pilgrims gather to worship. In the southern part of the country, the boiling of new rice is an appeal for good luck during the new year.

In contrast, the Japanese New Year's celebration is a razzle-dazzle affair. Everyone takes three days off from work to visit with his friends and joins in the many colorful parades. Homes are decked out with green pine branches, and bamboo stalks are hung on gate posts along with tangerines—indicative of long life.

Dec. 31—called "Grand Last Day"—is truly a happy time, and the merry-making culminates in the "Joya-no-kane," the 108 peals of the temple bells at midnight. And the ushering in of the new year has an extra-special meaning in Japan—for the stroke of midnight means it's everyone's birthday!

Those who get the biggest bang out of New Year's, though, are probably the people of Geneva, Switzerland. There, every piece of artillery in town goes off at 12 o'clock in 22 salvos in a holiday salute and a commemoration of the city's liberation from Napoleon.

Discover the difference in the '65 Chevrolets

(As different from other cars as they are from each other)

CHEVROLET—As roomy a car as Chevrolet's ever built.

When you take in everything, there's more room inside this car than in any Chevrolet as far back as they go. It's wider this year and the attractively curved windows help to give you more shoulder room. The engine's been moved forward to give you more foot room. So, besides the way a '65 Chevrolet looks and rides, we now have one more reason to ask you: What do you get by paying more for a car—except bigger monthly payments?

CORVAIR—The only rear engine American car made.

You should read what the automotive magazines say about the '65 Corvair. They're wild about its ride. They think there's nothing else this side of the Atlantic that can touch its styling. They say if you haven't driven a new Corvair Corsa with a 180-hp Six Turbo-Chargaard, you just don't know what you're missing.

Mrs. John Lynn Stephenson

Barbara Conner and John Stephenson Speak Vows

Barbara Ann Conner became the bride of John Lynn Stephenson in an afternoon ceremony at the Cherry Hill United Presbyterian Church on Wednesday, Dec. 30. The Rev. Kilgore officiated at the double ring rites.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Conner, of Dearborn, are the bride's parents. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Stephenson, of Amherst, N.Y.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white velveteen with satin trim, fashioned with a scoop neckline and bell skirt. A satin sash trimmed with crystal beading held the illusion veil in place. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Attending her sister as maid of honor, Carol Conner wore a dress of green velveteen with satin trim in the same style as the bride.

Bridesmaids Mrs. Nancy Rhen, of Norfolk, Va., Marsha Vaughan, of Keene, New Hampshire, and Carol Stephenson, were dressed alike in red velveteen with satin trim. The attendants carried bouquets of red carnations and holly.

Mike Facktor, of Three Rivers, was best man. Seating the guests were Robert and Gordon Robb, of Southfield, and David Dapprich, of Ann Arbor.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Conner chose a blue silk brocade dress with a ceru-lean mink collar. Mrs. Stephenson wore a turquoise velvet sheath. Both mothers wore corsages of pink sweetheart roses.

After a reception at the Kingsley Inn, Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson left for a 10 day wedding trip to California and the Rose Bowl game. The young couple will live in Ann Arbor.

The bride is a graduate of Michigan State University where she was a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. She is now teaching home economics. Mr. Stephenson is a sophomore in the University of Michigan Medical school where he is affiliated with Phi Chi medical fraternity.

Golden Magazine Prints Poem by Local 9-Year-Old

Nine year old Michelle Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Mitchell of 48801 Gyde Rd., may be Plymouth's youngest published poet.

The January issue of "The Golden Magazine" has printed her poem "Measles". Michelle's poem was first printed on June 12, 1964, in a mimeographed issue of the "Counselette," the school paper at Our Lady of Good Counsel School where Michelle is a fourth grader.

Pert Michelle is also a member of Girl Scout Troop 266.

Here is her contribution to literature — as printed in "The Golden Magazine".

MEASLES
by Michelle Mitchell

Ugh, red spots, what can it be?
1, 2, oh, now there's 3.
Is it measles? Why, yes it is;
Oh they're itchy, yes — 'tis.
They look like polka dots on me.
Now, oh my gosh, there's 33!
Can't I read, can't I write?
Oh, look at that last big bite!
Here comes the doctor in the door.
Now, my heavens, there's 44!

Shaped Silhouette Look Sets Trend for After 5

New silhouettes in after-5 fashions are really taking "Shape" right now (literally, as well as figuratively) in the form of tunic tops, tiered profiles, trumpet skirts and pleated peplums. The new "Shaped-Silhouette Look" will be styled with soft, subtle lines of contoured feminine simplicity.

This year's important new feature theme is woven with interest in style, line, fabric and color. Luxurious fur and fresh and novel treatments of hand embroidered beading add attention-getting details.

Waist lines are naturally shaped with Princess and Empire lines that will give the petite woman a longer look, the tall woman a more curved and tapered look and the average woman a more natural look of simple elegance than she has been permitted for some time.

And — for the first time in many years, American women have a variety of long and short skirt styles from which to choose. Skirts are flared, pleated or flounced below a naturally-contoured waist and tunic line. The classic column of the side or back-slit sheath still remains a favorite for late afternoon and evening wear. But the big fashion story this year is the fact that American designers are hailing the revival of the trumpet skirt that women have loved so well because it flatters the figure with almost custom-made perfection.

The new necklines are curved and plunging or high in front and with a definite "low back" interest. Hemlines are knee-length short now for informal afternoon and evening wear but — ankle-length-long for formal evening and dinner dress. Sleeve treatments are, for the most part, elegantly long and tapered, trimmed at the wrist with lace or embroidery, or softly billowing below the elbow with sheer and lacy fabrics or barely there at all.

"After 5" and evening dresses sparkle with fabulous fabrics of cut velvet brocade, rich self-brocade, startling worsted silk, silk-faced satin with a stria weave, mossy and pebbly type crepe, re-embroidered lace, and silky, slimming knits that flawlessly resist wrinkles. Intriguing trim and intricate designs of beaded glitter embroider a tunic or a tiered top, trim a neck line, sleeve cuff, or a pair of shoe string shoulder straps. They are also used to accentuate a pocket, flatter a hip line, outline a brocaded flower motif or border a knee-length hem line.

New jewel-toned fabric colors which simulate the brilliance of emerald, sapphire, ruby, topaz, pearl, onyx and turquoise have been created to compliment and enhance the skin tones of every blonde, brunette and red head. In fact, the latest vogue this year is gold jewelry with semi-precious stones, specifically designed to both accent and coordinate with these new gem-like colors for both informal and formal wear.

This new "Shaped Silhouette Look" is currently influencing a fashion evolution among hair-stylists and setting a new trend. Even the curly-cued lines of bouffant and teased hair styles will, eventually, give way to the softly curved natural look. Short, tapered curves will follow the natural contour of the cheek-bone, but bouncy flips and turned-under fluffs will still be favored this year.

All in all, these new fascinating fashion trends in style, line and fabric are creating a considerable amount of excitement . . . something we haven't had for a long, long time!

Town Cryer

Words, They Should Be Chosen Carefully
By Jacquie Town

There are days when I spend half the time staring at a blank sheet of paper hoping for an idea. The longer I stare, the whiter, and more blank the paper appears. That space has to be filled with words, but words that say something and make some sense.

Not the old, school con-game where the boy writes a theme of 2500 words. "A ball is round, it is made of rubber, and it bounces, and bounces, and bounces . . ."

He may have made his quota, but about all that was apparent was his cleverness in avoiding thought.

Words are no more than a tool humans use to communicate with one another. It's amazing how the same words used by different people denote different ideas. How often lines of communication get disconnected because we don't choose the words that truly describe how we feel.

Words are many things.

They are the first thing we wait for our children to use; they are the gifts we most freely give, (more people talk than listen), and they are the most difficult to retrieve once they've left their place of origination.

Words hurt people, console people, are misinterpreted, misspelled, mispronounced, and misunderstood. The same word can enjoy several meanings; won, one-except, accept.

Words create laughter, anger, sorrow, joy, tears and disgust. Words lift us from one level to the next in age, education and abilities.

There are good words and bad, clean words, and dirty words. There are words used in different situations that create different reactions. "Is it true?" can mean many things.

"I'm sorry" and "Forgive me" are difficult and often too infrequently used. It is said actions speak louder than words; perhaps because words are often used as substitutes in place of deeds.

Some are overused; I, Me, My, Mine, others understated, care, understand, silence, truth. There are spoken words, written words, words created by sign language.

The written word lives for centuries via the printed page, the spoken word on film, or tape. Words maintain a record of history and a projection of the future.

We think in words, express in words, and learn from words. There are words that set us apart as doctors, lawyers, ministers, and engineers. The salesmen and newspaper men earn their living by words.

Poets have the ability to make them a thing of beauty; others massacre the languages beyond the point of recognition. We all use them, we all need them and we all, at times, fear them.

Words are a necessity of life and in order to avoid unnecessary conflicts, they should be chosen carefully. They can represent fact, and falsehood, good and evil. The responsibility of those who use words to inform the public must not be taken lightly.

With local elections coming up for City Commissioners, the words we use to inform Plymouthites of qualifications and abilities should be, to the best of our knowledge, accurate, unbiased, and fair. Verbally spoken, or indelibly printed, words are here to stay.

TREASURES FROM Plymouth Pantries

"Chocolate Pastry Cake" was suggested by a new Plymouthite Mrs. Kenneth Riley, of 433 N. Sheldon Rd.

The Rileys and their four children, Mike 17-years-old, Mark, 11, Kenny, ten, and Patricia, eight, have lived in Plymouth about three months. They moved here from Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Although originally from Detroit, the Rileys lived in Florida for 13 years. Her husband, recently, was transferred to the Garden City Lincoln-Mercury division.

"Fort Lauderdale is all that is said about it," Mrs. Riley said concerning the wild tales that circulate about college spring vacations in that southern city.

Although she likes Plymouth, she said she can't get used to the snow and ice and all the clothing the children must wear. She said she has been buying the entire family new clothing.

Her children think snow is the "absolute end." They want to learn to ski and ice skate this winter.

Although the recipe looks complicated, Mrs. Riley said, it is very easy to make. To make the cake more festive decorate it with small pieces of peppermint stick candy, she suggested.

The cake serves between nine and twelve persons depending on the size of the pieces.

CHOCOLATE PASTRY CAKE
 2 four oz. packages sweet cooking chocolate, cut up
 1/2 C. sugar
 1/2 C. water
 1 1/2 tsp. instant coffee
 2 tsp. vanilla
 1 nine or ten oz. package piecrust mix (loose or crumbly two sticks)
 2 C. whipping cream (or one large package dream whip)
 In saucepan combine chocolate, sugar, water and instant coffee. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until smooth. Add vanilla and cool to room temperature.
 Blend 3/4 C. chocolate sauce into piecrust mix. Divide pastry into six equal parts. Press each part over bottom of an inverted eight inch round cake or pie pan to within 1/2 inch of edge.

Are You a Good Family Treasurer?

Which will produce more income each year — money left at 3-3/4% compounded annually... or an equal amount left at 3-1/2% compounded monthly? When you buy a product that prominently features a guarantee — do you know which words to look for as a sign of whether or not the guarantee is any good? Do you know how much credit your family can safely have outstanding at any one time?

If you can answer these questions correctly, you're probably on your way to balancing the family budget and avoiding such last-minute panics as the Birthday Blues (insufficient funds for gifts) — the Check Chills (drawing on money that isn't in the bank) — Credit Cringe (being told your credit is as thin as the paper it's totaled on).

Although it may sound as if you're getting more for your money when you get 3-1/2% interest on, say, $100 compounded monthly, you'd be better off getting your interest compounded at 3-3/4% annually, according to statisticians. The latter method yields 19c more — and over the years it makes sense to have your money make cents.

Check all guarantees to be sure they're not "guarantees." For example, if a guarantee says in bold letters at the top, "ten year guarantee," you may think you're in good hands. But if it goes on to say, in much smaller print, that the guarantor will fix the product free if something goes wrong with it during the first 30 days after the purchase, you may find that you will have to pay the full repair cost if the product breaks down during the remainder of the ten year period!

Other points to observe when considering guarantees: Don't assume that a product is guaranteed unless you have the guarantee in writing. Don't put any confidence in a guarantee, even a written one, unless you feel you can trust the guarantor. Trusted merchants usually include those you know in your home town, stores that advertise in your local newspaper.

Understand what has to go wrong before the guarantor will make good.

Be sure you know what you're entitled to, and for how long.

Know how much credit your family can safely have outstanding at one time? Remember that credit goes into money. Renting money is like renting a house or a car — you have to pay for its use.

Don't buy anything just because you can get it on credit; you'll have to pay the full price in the end — plus the cost of credit (which is higher if payments are stretched

NBD to Offer 4 Percent Rate

The National Bank of Detroit announced today that it will begin paying four (4) per cent interest on all savings accounts effective January 1, 1965.

Bank officials said interest on all savings accounts will be compounded and paid quarterly. No minimum deposit will be required.

The new, higher interest rate will be paid automatically on all National Bank of Detroit regular and investment savings accounts, benefiting more than 350,000 NBD depositors.

Accounts opened by Jan. 10 will earn a full month's interest at the 4 per cent rate, NBD officials said.

Accounts opened during an interest quarter will earn interest for each calendar month, payable at the end of the next interest quarter.

The increase from 3.5 to 4 per cent was made possible by a ruling of the Federal Reserve Board last month.

Prescription for a Successful Marriage

By Anna Jung

'Tis said that "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread." My professional colleagues would, indeed, think me a fool for having the temerity to write under the above title.

They will say that one cannot find a universal definition of a "successful" marriage, much less offer a prescription for achieving it.

For the non-professional the task is an easy one, as witness the numerous articles in newspapers and "women's" magazines purporting to outline the steps guaranteed to lead to success in marriage.

I make no such guarantee, nor any assurance that compliance will lead to successful marriages!

For purposes of discussion, let's assume that a successful marriage is one that has survived at least the first five years of marital interaction.

We can rest assured that in five years the rose-colored glasses through which the bride and groom viewed each other during their courtship and the early weeks of their life together, have long since been discarded or, at least, have slipped down frequently enough so that their wearers have seen each other's true colors.

A successful marriage is one in which husband and wife have searched for and found each other's weaknesses and strengths — to support and build on the strengths and to understand and nullify the effects of the weaknesses.

A successful marriage is a relationship in which husband and wife are bound together by mutual respect, sympathy, tolerance, a deep sense of caring for each other; a relationship which nourishes in time of emotional need; and which allows for a degree of inter-dependence while at

Salem Square News

By Mary Stevens — 453-0950

Some Christmas celebrating and gift exchanging was done a week early in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Braun, 40546 Pinetree Rd. on Dec. 19. Mrs. Braun's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bufington, drove from Toledo to spend a few days with their daughter and son-in-law before journeying on to Syracuse, N. Y. to visit another daughter and her family over the holidays. On Dec. 24 the Brauns left for Toledo to spend Christmas weekend as the guests of Mr. Braun's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Braun and daughter, Carolyn.

Welcome to new Salem Square residents, Joseph and Janet Henshaw, and their two and a half year old son, Michael. They moved into their new home at 1146 Terry St. from their home on Haggerty Rd. on Nov. 27. Several years ago the Henshaws came to the Plymouth area from Detroit. Mr. Henshaw is a teacher of Biology and General Science at Jr. High East.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bevier, 40718 Pinetree Rd., attended a pre-Christmas party in the Livonia home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Endicott on Dec. 19.

The evening of Dec. 16, seven pinocle playing ladies gathered in the home of Mrs. Marvin Powell, 9631 Terry St., for their annual club Christmas party. Every year at this time the members hold a drawing for another member's name and that name drawn is to be her secret pal for one year. Throughout the next twelve months each person sends gifts and cards, all unsigned, through the mail to her secret pal. Then at the Christmas party a nice gift is presented and the pal loses her secret identity. During the evening the hostess served Christmas punch to her guests. Following the round of card playing, was this editor who discovered me? "You know what? You talk just like you write. Most people would say, 'An editor discovered me; not, 'There was THIS editor.'"

yet, refer to a modern author. "The eggheads really eat that stuff up, huh?"

"That's what they say," he commented modestly. "How did you get started?" I inquired, anxious to pick up all the expert advice I could.

"Now, for instance," he continued, "there was this prostitute I knew and she met this President of this University and they became joined in the bonds of holy matrimony."

"You mean they got married?" "Sure, why not?" "I guess you're right. Why not?"

Explanation needed Thursday

Railroads will be the topic of discussion this Thursday when City Commissioner and Wayne County Supervisor A. E. Vallier of Plymouth appears at the Chamber of Commerce Businessmen's Forum.

Admittedly, C & O has its own internal methods of dealing with train crews responsible for holding up street crossings. And they are working closely with city officials to alleviate problems caused by tieups.

But not once have they offered an explanation or, heaven forbid, an apology to the public. News releases from C & O are, by and large, centered around far removed and mundane activities that have little meaning or significance for Plymouthites.

The public relations department hammers out pap about rail museums, bargain-fare sleeping accommodations from Podunk to Squedunk, adjusted freight rates and, once in a while, cancellation of another passenger run.

Railroads are important to the Plymouth Community. One resident, who is cognizant of that importance, has suggested that local people, when held up at a crossing, should be thankful for trains that provide vital arteries of commerce for industry.

He is right. Trains, in fact, are indispensable to us. But their indispensability is no call for studied indifference to an explanation that the public merits.

We hope Thursday brings a measure of understanding between the railroad and Plymouth Community residents. Working on the basis of insight gained, strides can be taken to solve problems that exist here.

But not once have they offered an explanation or, heaven forbid, an apology to the public. News releases from C & O are, by and large, centered around far removed and mundane activities that have little meaning or significance for Plymouthites.

RAPID GROWTH: 12 Firms Make Up Plymouth J.A. Effort

Since 1953 when Junior Achievement was first organized in Plymouth the organization has grown from six companies with about 12 persons in each one to twelve companies with an average of 23 achievers apiece.

Each company meets once a week for two hours in the center above Saxtons Garden store. Teen groups meet there Monday through Thursday evenings to conduct business and solve problems that most real businesses must face during the year.

ALTHOUGH J. A.'s goal today is to give young people an understanding of the free enterprise system, it was founded at the turn of the century in New England to teach manual skills to high school youngsters. Textile industry personnel were the founders.

Teaching of manual skills continued as the primary purpose of J. A. until the 1920's when Byram Colgate became concerned because young people didn't have an understanding of the free enterprise system.

The Good Old Days

10 YEARS AGO Mrs. Ruth H. Whipple, Plymouth's only woman mayor and a servant of the public in a half dozen other offices for nearly two decades, died at Henry Ford hospital at 5 p.m.

Burglars successfully cracked open a safe at the Hillside Inn early Wednesday morning after removing it from the building to break it open.

Not a traffic accident of any kind was reported to the Plymouth police department over the New Year holiday period.

Mr. and Mrs. Carvel Bentley spent Christmas day with Mrs. Bentley's parents in Sturgis.

Plymouth youth has an article accepted for education magazine. Russell A. Kirk, Jr., whose parents live at 873 North Mill street, recently wrote an article entitled, "Tragedy and the Moderns."

The annual meeting of the stockholders and boards of directors of the two Plymouth banks held Tuesday, but one change in the official families took place. Jack E. Taylor, who has long been associated with the First National bank, as assistant cashier and during the last two years as cashier, was advanced to the board of directors to take the place of Arthur Blunk, who has decided to give up some of his business activities.

50 YEARS AGO Miss Leila Chilson expects to go to Detroit the first of the year where she will study to be a trained nurse in Harper hospital.

The Christmas exercises at the Baptist church were largely attended and a fine exercise performed. Santa made his appearance adding greatly to the excitement of the little folks.

Employees of the Daisy Manufacturing company returned to work Tuesday following the holiday period highly pleased over the most successful Christmas party held in many years.

City DPW Activities

During the past week, the D.P.W. flushed a sanitary sewer and cleaned manholes. Most of the sanitary sewers have been checked. All City streets were cold patched.

Due to the warm spell in the weather, some of the streets have started to heave and tons of cold patch have been used. Eight tons of salt was spread for icy streets.

One new catch basin was installed on York Street south of the railroad tracks. Work was done on Byron Street west of South Harvey. Water taps were put in on Joy Street between Fairground and Virginia. This had to be done because of cutting off an old 4" water main on Fairground.

At this time we would like to thank the people for their patience in regard to the water and rusty water. The contractor started last week cutting off old 4" mains and plugging same. However, many of the old 4" valves did not hold so then the contractor had to shut off other valves until the water was shut off.

Of course, in doing this, many people were without water. For this we are sorry and again say "Thanks". The contractor should complete cutting off old mains this week.

The Mausoleum was cleaned and two funerals were held at Riverside Cemetery. The downtown area was swept. Refuse and papers were picked up at Kellogg Park. A 15" storm sewer tap was installed at 900 Plymouth road for a new factory.

He Calls for Education In Bicycle Riding

By Mike Ross

Recently, on a not-so-deserted highway called Ann Arbor Trail, a seemingly insignificant incident occurred. This incident undoubtedly happens, in various forms, all over the city every day of every year.

A young child, riding down the wrong side of the highway on his bike, pulled out directly into the path of an oncoming motorist.

The driver, amid a barrage of acid words and other unpleasantries, reacted quickly and swerved into the other lane which, fortunately, was free. Across town a child was pulling out from a sidewalk onto a residential street, something he does every day without thinking, but now it was directly in front of a station wagon. In lower town another youngster was just tipping over after hitting some sand — tipping over in front of an approaching truck.

The happy end that is tacked on to most of these minor tragedies is that the driver in each case realized the situation in time and avoided a major tragedy.

But, all too often, the tack to attach the ending is missing and a human volcano of emotion, heart-break, and suffering erupts unmercifully.

The driver of a motor vehicle that strikes a bicycle rider is, it would seem, automatically tried and convicted in the seconds that follow the accident. The driver may be released by the police; but he must struggle through a court case, at great expense, with the parents of the child that happened to be hit.

He may win the case, but he's had the lawyer's fees, time away from his job and weeks of anguish unnecessarily gone through. The child he struck could have been riding a black bicycle, with no reflectors or lights, and the child himself in dark clothes.

Even with all these signs of extreme negligence on the part of the rider the parents can drag an innocent motorist through court.

The gruesome facts about negligent bikers are that in 1962, 382 were killed and better than 500 injured or maimed for life. These figures soar past air or train travel deaths by more than 200 for that year.

The death rate has been rising ever since at an unbelievable rate, going far out of proportion for the number of passengers carried and the distances travelled. But their irresponsibility that has caused the staggering number of deaths lies not solely with the children.

It is with their parents and also partly on the shoulders of the community.

Realizing, of course, that our police force is swamped with other duties, a special program could be set up. The city and township could be divided into sectors and a group of citizens from each sector could be appointed, on a volunteer basis, to give a specific test for all age groups on a certain day weekly or bi-weekly, depending on the population of that sector.

A child under a certain age limit should not be allowed to ride on public streets and the child that meets all specifications should be given a tag to display on his bike.

Many of the laws pertaining to bike riders in this community are enforced about as well as the no-smoking-under-21 law is.

Two on a bike built only for one is a common practice that seemingly goes unnoticed by our guardians of the law.

Before one, or many of the children in the Plymouth area become statistics on file in Lansing, let's see our riders safe, confident and learned in the manners of bike-riding.

American Legion Auxiliary

Activities to help strengthen the security of America's peace and freedom will be emphasized during January. Emphasis also will be placed on winning public support for the American Legion's recommendations to the new Congress.

Most illustrative of the service to the community is the Legion's child welfare and youth activities. Legion Posts and their affiliated groups have compiled an outstanding record in this field since 1925. A considerable amount of money was spent for direct aid for children of deceased or disabled veterans. Funds for this purpose are derived in large part from the annual sale of poppies.

Every veteran who can, should wear The American Legion emblem of membership. It testifies to his service in time of war — and recognizes his desire to be of continued service to the community, state and nation.

At the Dec. 17 district meeting, Passage-Gayde Post was presented a citation for Activities in the Community, Service and Welfare to Welfare Officer Leo Spear and a citation from the National Commander for Distinguished Efforts in obtaining quota in membership by Nov. 11.

The first application for membership in 1965, signed shortly after midnight, is for James McKenzie, second one is Louis Dye.

Entertainment Chairman Richter is tentatively planning a dance for St. Patrick's Day. Members wishing to help, contact Mr. Richter.

Saturday, Jan. 9, the seventeenth District will host a birthday party for the children at the Otter Lake Bilet. Anyone wishing to attend please contact Child Welfare Chairman Virginia Overmyer or President Marcella Drake.

Friday, Jan. 15 is the seventeenth District meeting at Myron H. Beal Post Home in Livonia.

Saturday, Jan. 16 is the "Why Are We?" banquet. Our guests are the Boy Scouts. Donations are now being accepted by Vice-President Mae Hoelscher.

Wednesday, Jan. 20 is the next regular business meeting of the Passage-Gayde Auxiliary.

THIS IS Cadillac FOR 1965

MORE THAN A NEW CAR...A NEW CADILLAC!

What would an auto show be like without it? A lot less than it should be! For after all, a Cadillac so dramatically new is sure to provide an element of distinction to intrigue and delight the man with a fine car appreciation. How unfortunate, indeed, if that man were not able to sit in the most comfortable interiors ever designed for a fine car. Or if the lady who accompanies him were not able to inspect the beautifully crafted embroidered fabrics to be found in the "car of cars" this year. And finally, wouldn't it be a loss to every fine car connoisseur if he couldn't ask the price of this newest and finest of all Cadillacs? For what other car can equal the Standard of the World for investment appeal? None other, we assure you, than the car that is so new, so right, so obviously Cadillac!

The Sporting Thing

By Bill Nelson

The phone was answered warily late New Year's Day as it interrupted some classical FM music on that old beat up radio.

On New Year's Eve a young voice had called once to say repeatedly "Who is this?" and "If you are not going to tell me . . ." and with that hung up.

It immediately rang again and when I answered "Plymouth Police Department," the same voice (with others gay in the background) said meekly "I'm sorry, I think I have the wrong number".

With that the writer returned to the quiet of Guy Lombardo and another New Year's Eve.

So, to get back to the main thing, it was with some trepidation that we answered the phone at any time during New Year's Day.

This call was more legitimate and it contained the voice of one John Van Wagoner, who apparently is one-third of a sports troika (the other two-thirds of which are Joe Bida and Howard Oldford) which is successfully promoting a new Plymouth Community Junior Basketball league.

We talked for awhile about the new league and what he would like in the paper before he dropped the bomb. People have a sense about these things, and that's why I approached the phone with something less than enthusiasm. "You know," he said, "we're trying to get parents into this and Art Hackett says you have a considerable sports background and might make a good coach."

I allowed as how Hackett, who is my brother's brother-in-law, was merely trying to get even with me for tying him up as publicity chairman during last Michigan Week, shortly after he moved into Lake Pointe.

"Perhaps you could be an assistant," Van Wagoner suggested. "We hope to have at least 16 teams and we'll need 32 coaches in case some one is out of town," he added.

I further allowed that while I'm not the busiest man in town, I do have more balls in the air than arms to control them and that really it was out of the question.

"Well, think about it," he said with that disarming train of thought that traps the guilt-ridden into civic endeavors.

"It wouldn't be right," I protested, "because I'd have to turn in my sports writing union card. The Plymouth coaches don't know for certain whether or not I know anything about sports."

"How would it look if I had a team in the recreation league that was 0-10 and was criticizing Rock performances?"

"Well, just think about it," he said again. Mr. Van Wagoner, I've been thinking . . . and for me that's dangerous.

Like nearly everyone else, I've always harbored a secret desire to coach. I'd like to chew the towel like Wayne's great Joel Mason and flip it in the air like Plymouth's Charlie Ketterer.

I'd like to have the respect that John McFall earns as he walks through a locker room after a game. I'd like to make a Knute Rockne speech that would change certain defeat into tremendous victory.

There is a statue on the Capitol grounds of St. Paul, Minnesota. It looks out grandiloquently over the Mississippi River. It's the first governor of Minnesota and his name was Knute Nelson.

I'm still thinking.

There was this kidding session going on in the Plymouth coaching office. This column last week predicted a "49-0 session" for the U of M in the Rose Bowl game and for the second time pointed out that it was hard to believe that there was a better team in the country than U of M. The first judgment was after the Navy - U of M game.

"What will you say, if it's close or U of M loses?" one doubter asked.

As it turned out, the U of M won easily 34-7 and could have gotten more. Second stringers played the last ten minutes of the fourth quarter for Michigan and a third string backfield was on the field as the game ended.

To top it off, first rated Alabama was beaten in the Orange Bowl. It's too late now for the polls, but Michigan has proven that its defeat by Purdue (by one point) 21-20 was something of a fluke.

Michigan during 1964 was the best college football team in the country, but it took until January 1, 1965 to prove it.

Register Saturday For Jr. Cage League

The Plymouth Community Junior Basketball League is getting the Plymouth sports New Year off to an excellent start. Registration for the new league for 8-12 year olds has already exceeded 150 and more are expected.

BASKETBALL REGISTRATION — for Plymouth's new Junior Community Basketball League is underway. Here John J. DeMott, 1482 Sheridan, registers his son Tom (11) for league play. On hand for the registration were league officials Howard Oldford, John Van Wagoner and

23 at the gym in Junior High West. All games will be played on Saturday mornings and youngsters, who are interested but haven't yet registered, are urged to get their "expression of interest" forms in quickly. This can be done several ways. Final opportunity to register on a Saturday will be Jan. 9 from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m. at Junior High West. A parent must accompany each youngster at registration.

Another way to indicate interest is to pick up a form at the Plymouth City Hall. Another method is to contact John Van Wagoner (GL 3-8023), Joe Bida (GL 3-1556) or Howard Oldford (GL 3-7534). League officials reportedly are working very closely with the Plymouth Recreation Department and the Board of Education, which is making available the needed facilities and school supervision for the program.

THE SATURDAY Recreation basketball program, currently being held at the high school, will be co-ordinated with the new Community Junior League.

The league is also looking for adults who are interested in coaching or helping in the program and those interested should get in contact with Van Wagoner, Bida or Oldford.

Registration fee for the players for the season will be $7.50 for each boy with $4.00 for additional youngsters in the same family.

The League hopes to begin practice the week of Jan. 11.

Red Wing Check Aids Local Hockey

With unanimous approval of the Plymouth City Commission, Mayor Richard Wernette has turned a two hundred and fifty dollar ($250) check over to the Plymouth Hockey Association.

The check was sent to Wernette by the Detroit Red Wing Alumni Association, which is an old-timer player group that raises money by playing against the current professional Red Wings.

This check is part of $8000 that was raised at such a game recently and the funds have been divided among many amateur hockey groups in the metropolitan area.

The next game is Jan. 25 between the Red Wings and the Alumni, and the proceeds of this will also go to support amateur hockey in the Detroit metropolitan area.

Treasurer of the Red Wing old-timer group is Jimmy Peters of Red Wing fame.

Canada's Ski Slopes Rated Highest by Experts

Corn snow — sugar snow — powder snow — artificial snow —

In season, December 1 to late March, Canadian hills provide them all, and Canadian winter resorts reap a bumper crop of skiers.

Canadian ski areas are noted for their consistently good snow conditions. The snow blanket averages three feet thick in prime spots and climbs to ten at times. Hills range from gentle knee-high slopes to a towering 3,000 feet. And then, there are the Rocky Mountains.

Even on the prairies, where hills are at a premium, westerners ski on every available elevation. At Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, in almost the exact center of this "depressed area", there is a ski club that advertises itself as "the best ski site by a dam site" — the dam being on the Saskatchewan River.

Expert skiers head for the Olympic run on Mont Tremblant, an hour's drive north of Montreal, Quebec; or for the spectacular new developments in the Jasper-Banff areas of the Canadian Rockies.

Ski Bunnies, who don't know a slalom from a carom, or their stems from their sterns, find in Canadian resorts the winter vacation of their dreams. The Apres Ski atmosphere is rollicking and distinctively Canadian, while on-hill tuition is rated among the best in the world.

Ski resorts across Canada cash in on this standardization of offering special "Learn to Ski" vacations on an individual or a family basis. For one all-inclusive price (which ranges from $75 per person per week and up) you receive accommodation, three meals a day, daily ski instruction, and the Apres Ski facilities offered by your hotel.

This goes for mom, pop, and the kids as well. Most of the bigger resort hotels offer family budget weeks at reduced rates, and throw in ski instruction for the whole family. Ski classes are arranged to cater to the previous training and ability of the students.

Quebec's Laurentian resorts, the most highly concentrated resort development on the continent, offer an added boon to ski week visitors — dinner and ski lift coupons. Under this cooperative plan, you can visit around, use the 70-some ski lifts in the area, sample the gourmet cuisine of some 10 to 15 hotels, and enjoy the varied Apres Ski atmosphere — and it is all included in the original charge.
