Plymouth City Adds 377 New Homes

Township Grows 23.1% in Four Years

Plymouth Township showed a whopping 23.1 per cent growth in its population during the past four years, while a gain of 11.2 per cent was added within the city limits.

That's the story told by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission in its latest report on population shifts in this region.

Population in the four-county

Detroit region has grown by nearly 197,200 since the April, 1960 federal census, the Commission revealed in its survey, with the sharpest upsurge in Wayne County recorded by Livonia.

Livonia's gain of 29.5 per cent in population puts today's figure at 86,400 in the city, compared to 66,702 at the time of the 1960 census. A total of 22,400 homes now exist in the city, up a big 31.7 per cent from the 1960 figures of 17,014.

In Redford Township, the new study shows an opposite trend, while in Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Farmington and Farmington Township the growth is close behind that of Livonia's.

Redford, the closest of the listed suburbs to Detroit, reached its peak in population growth in the mid-fifties. During the past four years, only 535 new homes have been added in the community, boosting dwelling units from 18,165 to 18,700, for a 2.9 per cent growth.

The population, similarly, showed but a 3.4 per cent rise in the same four-year span, from 71,276 in 1960 to 73,700 today.

Growth in Plymouth Township showed close to a 22 per cent hike in the number of new dwelling units and a 23.1 increase in population. A total of 441 new homes brought the number up from 2,009 to 2,450 between 1960 and 1964, while population rose from 8,364 to 10,300 for a gain of 1,936. The population figures include a large non-household number, however, the Commission reports.

Within the city limits of Plymouth, 337 new homes were added during the four-year period, boosting the number from 2,723 to 3,100 for a 13.8 net gain. Population rose slightly less—11.2 per cent—from 8,766 to 9,750.

JC's Start Search For Plymouth's 'Man of the Year'

The Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce has started its annual search for the "Man of the Year" who will receive the 1964 Jaycee distinguished service award at the annual dinner Monday at the Hillside Inn.

The dinner, which opens the Plymouth Jaycee celebration of National Jaycee Week (Jan. 17 through Jan. 23), is expected to attract more than 250 Jaycees and their bosses.

The Jaycees have honored three outstanding young men from the community with "Man of the Year" awards in the past four years. James Garber, who was instrumental in reviving the Plymouth Jaycees in the late '50s, was honored in 1960 and then the award went to George Lawton in 1963 and James Jabara in 1964.

The annual dinner, which is the top event of the year for the Jaycees, will be featured by a talk on "Young Men Can Change the World," by Robert Stargel, personnel consultant of the Kroger Company's general office in Cincinnati.

Stargel works with the company's 27 divisions and is well known in the Detroit area where he spent several months working on personnel problems.

He has a Master's degree in Business Administration from Harvard University and is rated as one of the foremost young personnel consultants in the Midwest and East.

Stargel started with Kroger as a management trainee and is a former supervisor of cost accounting in the firm's processed foods division.

He will be introduced by President Joseph Fletcher.

Meanwhile, the "Man of the Year" committee is busy studying nomination blanks which were sent to all members and all outstanding business, industrial and civic leaders of the community.

The award winner will not be announced until the banquet when he will be called to the speaker's table to receive the coveted plaque.

The award is conferred for achievements, leadership and service to the community during the calendar year of 1964. It is for direct, outstanding service and has no relation to Junior Chamber of Commerce membership. The nominee need not be a member of the Jaycees.

It is limited to young men 35 years of age or younger. However, if the nominee reaches his 36th birthday before Dec. 31, 1964, he becomes eligible if the activities for which he is cited were performed when he was 35.

Legion Women To Sponsor Essay Contest

Junior and senior high students in the Plymouth school district have been invited to participate in the nationwide Americanism essay contest sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. Locally, the competition is under the sponsorship of the Auxiliary of Passage-Gayde Post 391 with Mrs. Irene Turk serving as chairman of the Americanism committee.

Title of this year's essay is "America's Future," with awards in the junior and senior divisions. The essays shall not be more than 500 words in length and will be judged first in community, then in the 17th District with the winners then competing for state prizes. Essays must be in the hands of Mrs. Turk no later than April 1.

The unit prizes are: senior, first prize of $5; junior, $5. In the district, the prize list will include: senior, first $5 and second, $3, with the same awards in the junior division.

At the state level, the prize list includes: $50 for first, $25 for second and $15 for third in each division.

Rules and regulations have been sent to the principal's office of the senior high and each of the junior highs where students may get additional information. For further details, students are requested to call Mrs. Turk at 453-0823.

Four Panelists to Tell "What Parents Are For"

"What Are Parents For?" This question will be answered for the satisfaction of members of the Bird School PTA in a four-member panel discussion on Tuesday, Jan. 19, starting at 7:45 p.m.

The unusual program was arranged by members of the Association's program committee to give parents and teachers alike an opportunity to hear the topic discussed by a panel of experts.

The panelists are: Rev. Edward Castner, associate minister of the First Presbyterian Church; Miss Anna Jung, director of Plymouth's branch of the Family Service Bureau;

Strange as it may sound, the official families of the City, Township and the Board of Education have agreed on something without getting embroiled in the debates that have marked so many joint sessions in the past.

It may be that all are mellowing and realize that the time has arrived for all to work together on a common cause. Regardless, all three units are firm in their belief that a community recreation area is needed and in the near future.

This came out last Wednesday when the three groups met in the commission chambers in the City Hall to discuss the need for and plans for a community swimming pool.

The matter has been before the City Commission for several months after numerous requests from citizen groups.

But believing that it was a community project, Mayor Richard Wernette and his colleagues decided to call a joint session of the three units to discuss the matter.

And the consensus was that a recreation area, comprised of 40 to 60 acres, should be considered. It would include a swimming pool among other recreational facilities.

However, left open is the method of financing, maintenance and operation and it probably will be a long time before these items are finalized.

But Supervisor Roy Lindsay, Mayor Wernette and Supt. Russell Isbister, serving as chairman of the School Board in the absence vacationing President Gerald Fischer, agreed to appoint a committee to study the project and report back at another joint meeting in the near future.

Township Trustee Louis Norman, who has been a backer of a recreational area for some time, proposed such a project. He indicated that he and Supt. Isbister had made a tour of the area as long ago as two years to look over sites for a center.

He received support from Trustee Dick Lauterbach, City Commissioners James Houk, Wernette, George Lawton, James Jabara, Arch Vallier and Bob Beyer.

However, the questioning of financing came up and Supervisor Lindsay suggested that it would have to go to a vote of the people inasmuch as it would require additional millage.

This was concurred in by members of the city commission.

Beyer suggested that the group should look into the plan used in Windsor, Ontario, where service clubs raised half of the cost of two community pools with the city raising the other half.

"I'm against additional taxes," said Beyer, "I feel that this could be presented to the service clubs of the community and they would back it one hundred percent. Then if the clubs worked with the citizens, I'm sure the needed amount could be raised by public subscription."

School board member Ernest Henry backed Beyer's stand and indicated he thought the citizens would go all out to raise the necessary funds if the matter was properly presented.

Supt. Isbister pointed out that school board has had considerable experience in swimming pool operation and that the pool at the high school is the most used facility in the community.

He indicated that it has reached its capacity and that the community should think in terms of another pool. He also pointed

City, Township, School Board Agree to Study Swimming Pool

Rights Group Plans Four Lectures

The Plymouth Assembly for Equal Opportunity Thursday will present the first of a series of four programs aimed to enlighten residents of the community to human rights problems and how they affect Plymouth.

The opening lecture is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. in the Plymouth senior high annex auditorium with Mrs. Ruth Eckstein, welfare consultant from Ann Arbor, discussing "Profile of Plymouth."

Mrs. Eckstein made a study and a report to the Plymouth Community Fund two years ago which led directly to the establishment of the Family Service Bureau branch in Plymouth.

She made a lengthy report on the future of the entire community, gave figures showing the breakdown of incomes in the area, pointed out that many family problems weren't handled due to lack of a regular Family Service Bureau and made several recommendations. Among these was that a Family Service Bureau be established.

Mrs. Eckstein was selected to kickoff the series because of the report and her knowledge of the community and its problems as a result of her lengthy study.

Mayor Richard Wernette and Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay are scheduled to follow two weeks later on Jan. 28 with a discussion of "Human Rights Problems in Plymouth."

Kenneth Fisher, Plymouth acting City Manager and Director of Public Service, will join with Inspector Daniel Martin, of the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol, in a talk on "Law Enforcement: The Human Element," on Thursday, Feb. 11.

School Supt. Russell Isbister will end the four-program series on Thursday, Feb. 25 when he discusses "Equal Opportunities as Applied to the Plymouth Schools."

Officers of the Plymouth Assembly point out that all programs are open to the public and urge all interested in the problems of human rights as they may affect the community, to attend. All lectures are free of charge.

Plymouth Hires Teacher For Farrand School

Acting on the recommendation of Supt. Russell Isbister, the Plymouth Community school board Monday approved a contract for Mrs. Shirley Spaniel, 705 McKinley, Plymouth, to teach third and fourth grade classes at Farrand School.

A graduate of Eastern Michigan with a Master's degree from the University of Michigan, Mrs. Spaniel has eight years of experience.

Three Candidates Quit Race for Senate Seat

Three Democrats remain in the race for nomination to the State Senate seat from the 14th District, following the withdrawal from the election of three others last week.

James McCarthy, Leo Meagher and Paul Livingston all removed their names from the ballot, and two of them endorsed remaining candidates.

On the Republican primary ballot, all six candidates who originally filed remain in the race.

McCarthy, who was the Democratic nominee in last November's race, withdrew in favor of Ed McNamara, Livonia City Councilman. McCarthy was beaten by Paul Chandler, whose death on Dec. 12 left vacant the seat.

Meagher, a Farmington Township realtor, said he would support Elsie Gilmore, a Livonian and former Wayne County Democratic Chairman, who remains in the race.

Livingston, an insurance agent from West Bloomfield, made no commitment to any other candidate. "I withdrew," he told The Observer, "because I was uncertain as to the support I could have pulled. At this time, I am not endorsing any other candidate."

A statement from McCarthy said, "I am withdrawing as a candidate from the 14th District Senatorial race. After much serious consideration and discussion with my wife and family, I decided to call other candidates and party leaders on my decision.

"During my deliberation I not only evaluated the partisan vote distribution throughout the District, but also evaluated the candidates, all of which are worthy Democrats, and felt that Councilman McNamara is an outstanding statesman who will draw universal support.

"I am offering my full support to Ed McNamara in whatever capacity he deems I can best serve.

"Being the nominee in the November election and knowing the 14th District well, I am confident that we can win the seat (Continued on Page 15B)

Plymouth School Board Approves Trip to Quebec

More than 20 members of the Plymouth High French Club will make a trip to French Canada, in the Province of Quebec, to receive first hand experience in the language as spoken by natives of that area.

Permission for the trip, from April 18 through April 23 during the annual spring vacation, was granted to John Hopkins, club sponsor and French teacher at PHS Monday by the school board.

Hopkins made the request to Principal Carvel Bentley who approved and then sent it on to Supt. Russell Isbister and the Board of Education for final decision.

Hopkins estimates the cost at $75 and indicated those students making the trip will raise most of the money through various club projects.

The trip will be made via the Canadian National Railroad and Hopkins hopes to make arrangements to have most of the students stay with French families during the visit.

Chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wagar—the latter parents of one of the students in the club.

Board of Ed. Changes Policy For Use of School Facilities

The Plymouth school board Monday relaxed its policy regarding use of school facilities, opening the doors to church connected groups and agreeing to provide a competent operator for any machines used.

The action means that the gym facilities will be available for the use of the Lutheran and Our Lady of Good Counsel schools in the future when time permits.

The changes in policy were made upon recommendation of School Supt. Russell Isbister.

The revised policy is as follows:

School and Community groups will be permitted and encouraged to use school facilities for worthwhile purposes providing such use will not interfere with the regular school program.

School facilities shall be made available for use by community groups on Sundays only when such use will not interfere with the religious education efforts of local institutions.

(The Board struck from the policy the words "However, permission shall not be granted to any church connected groups." It also eliminated the words "only when such use is in the interest of district residents generally," from the section relating to Sunday use.)

School equipment may be loaned to responsible community groups for a worthy educational, civic or charitable purpose subject to the following conditions:

1—The group borrowing the equipment agrees to accept responsibility for repairing or replacing any equipment damaged or lost while in its possession.

2—The equipment is not either unusually expensive or subject to easy damage.

3—The equipment is in good condition.

4—The school district will provide a competent operator for any machines loaned. (Previously the board required that the group using the facilities or (Continued on Page 4A)

Madonna Opens Registration for Afternoon and Evening Classes

Registration for late afternoon and evening classes at Madonna College in Livonia is to open on Wednesday, January 20, from 4 to 5:30 p.m. and from 7 to 8 p.m., stated Registrar, Sister Mary Remigia, CSSF. Registration will be held in the newly constructed residence hall off Levan and Schoolcraft Roads.

THE MSU PERFORMING Arts Company will visit Livonia Jan. 14 with their production of Shakespeare's comedy "The Taming of the Shrew." In the scene pictured above Katharine portrayed by Chinton Cunningham reacts to a suggestion by Petruchio (Federic de Santis) while a widow (Janet Beroza) looks on. The production is being sponsored by the Theatre Guild of Livonia Redford. Two performances at 2:45 and 8 p.m. are scheduled for the Franklin High School Auditorium. For ticket information call GA 2-4921.

Madonna College, a fully accredited four year college for women is qualified to offer a program to all who wish to obtain a college education on a full-time or part-time plan. For the full time student, a great number of courses are available through the day. For the part time student, a varied program in both the day and late-afternoon and evening classes is offered. The late afternoon classes are planned for women interested in beginning their college careers, in fulfilling the requirements for teacher certification, or in updating their major fields. Local school teachers, housewives, and career women may find these offerings very convenient, and the work most stimulating.

605 Die In Water Accidents

Michigan's 605 water accidents in 1964 claimed 290 lives and injured 228 persons, the worst water toll in five years, according to State Police provisional figures.

Only in 1959 were there more drownings but the 325 deaths charged that year included 37 suicides, a classification dropped in 1961 as an accident category.

The number of accidents set a new official record and tops the previous high of 560 in 1961. The State Police in 1958 in accordance with a new law began official compilation of Michigan water accident statistics reported by all police agencies.

Last year's number of injured was second only to the high mark of 231, also set in 1961.

Compared with 1963, deaths were increased by 46 or 19 per cent over 244, injuries were up 12 or six per cent from 216 and accidents showed a rise of 65 or 12 per cent over 540.

The breakdown of the deaths, the 144 involving swimmers or waders was an increase of 49 or 50 per cent over 95 in 1963.

The breakdown included 41 who fell from bridges, banks, docks or piers, 40 boat operators, 38 boat passengers, 13 who fell through ice, nine who attempted to rescue others, three skin or Scuba divers, one water skier and one who fell into a tank or well.

Farmington Dimes Drive Ready to Go

The annual March of Dimes drive is about to begin in Farmington.

Emphasis again will be placed on the last two weeks of January. Farmingtonites will then have the opportunity to contribute through the Mothers' March.

Canisters will be placed in local business establishments, along with dime boards and posters. Direct contributions can be made to the Oakland County Chapter of the March of Dimes at 2279 S. Telegraph Rd. in Pontiac.

Farmington Attorney Harold A. Larson, 1965 Chairman of the Farmington March of Dimes Drive, urges each individual in the community to contribute to the fight against birth defects, and other crippling.

Larson pointed out that, after accidents, birth defects are the number one cause of crippling in children. That in the United States 250,000 babies a year, or one almost every two minutes, is born with a serious defect.

The March of Dimes is involved in research, treatment, training, professional information and education. These programs are supported by the National Foundation, March of Dimes Headquarters and chapters, with the underlying theme being community leadership toward excellence in medical care for birth defects patients.

Larson further pointed out that the untiring efforts of Farmington residents—mothers, housewives, businessmen and public officials—should be added incentive to everyone to consider that the March of Dimes is dependent upon them and the unselfish giving of their financial means.

Your Child's Homework

Recently an approach to essay writing was outlined in this column. An approach to book reports is included here. Once again it is realized that no formula is ever completely adequate. This method is merely intended as an aid for the child who has difficulty in getting started.

1. Have your child summarize the story of the novel in his own words, not those of the book.

2. Have your child state the central problem of the book.

3. Have your child name the two minor characters and relate what they contribute to the total story. Your child should state how they affect the main character, if at all.

4. Have your child state the most interesting point in the book.

5. Have your child state how the main characters change as a result of the events — the change in attitudes and behavior.

6. Have your child specifically state why the book was interesting or uninteresting. Don't allow him to use such expression as "because I like it."

7. Have your child state why the author began the book.

8. Have your child explain exactly what the main character is in conflict with. Is it an individual? Is it an idea? Is it society?

9. Have your child state whether the book has influenced his attitudes.

10. Have your child give three to six quotations, illustrating what seems to be the author's viewpoint or philosophy.

11. Have your child write the final section in such a way that the reader will be left in suspense.

Employers' Group To Hear Talk By Michigan Bell Aide

Schoolcraft Enrollment Dips; College to Revise Its Tuition Policy

Swinging into the second semester of its first year of operation, Schoolcraft College reports an enrollment of 995 in day classes and 800 in the evening college for a total of 1,795, a drop of 97 from the opening day figures.

President Dr. Eric Bradner indicated the dip was much lower than anticipated since a community college the size of Schoolcraft normally loses 200 students.

Dr. Bradner pointed out mission for the second semester some 125 non-resident students in order that it might maintain its small classes and high quality of academic work.

With an incoming class of 1,000 freshmen expected next fall, it will be necessary to add as many as 37 teachers to the faculty.

The Board of Trustees last week gave Dr. Bradner permission to hire as many as 37 to take care of the increased enrollment.

With the present staff of 48, the College will have a full-time faculty of 100 for the start of the 1965-6 college term.

At least one new course in the evening college attracted a record number—that was the 34 enrolled in the horse care and farm management course.

Classes will extend for 16 weeks, two hours weekly and will include instructions in feeding, horse shoeing, breeding, horsemanship, training horses, farm management and common ailments and diseases.

The opening class was under the direction of Dr. Andrew Kalmus, well-known veterinarian from Plymouth.

The Trustees last week approved revision of the college tuition policy—making it conform with that used in a large number of Michigan college and other states.

Hereafter, students will pay on an hourly basis. Residents will be charged $8 per semester with a maximum of $7.50 per semester. Non-residents $12 per semester hour.

In the past, the college charged $8 per hour for the first 12 hours with no charge for those in addition.

Student service fees will remain at 50 cents per semester with a maximum of $7.50 per semester. All students will pay the present non-refundable application fee of $10.

A revision also was made in the Practical Nursing program tuition. Those enrolled in the course will pay: first semester tuition, $50; second semester and summer session, $100. Special expenses which include uniforms, watches, shoes, etc., $125.

This policy coincides with that now in use in all other PN colleges and schools.

The Board also adopted a policy for auditing courses, whereby qualified students may enroll in courses for which they do not receive credit, by paying the same tuition as regularly enrolled students.

When openings in classes are limited, preference will be given for credit.

Harry Wolfe Has Followed Livonia Rise for 40 Years

It was over 40 years ago that Harry Wolfe opened his real estate office on Seven Mile Road, one block east of Farmington Rd., Livonia. Over that span Wolfe has seen both his business and the City of Livonia expand into enormous growth.

Today the total amount of real estate sales participated in by his company was just under five million dollars. There are now two offices operating to serve the needs of the community.

The office at 32398 Five Mile Rd. handles the sale of residential property and general real estate. The office at 33235 Seven Mile Rd. operates mainly in the development of large tracts of land, business and industrial, and northern lake property.

Wolfe's two sons, one grandson and a sales force of 13 form his competent staff.

Wolfe has not just been a resident of Livonia and a businessman. He has contributed generously of his time and energy and is an integral part of the growth of the community.

Some of the positions he has served his community in are: Township Clerk, Chairman of the Charter Commission which framed the charter for the new home rule City of Livonia and president of the first city council for the City of Livonia from 1950 to 1954.

Ownership of 48 acres at corner of Farmington Rd. and Seven Mile began his entry into the building business, he visualized the then farm land as a good-sized suburban community, never dreamed of the thriving city to come.

However as Livonia began to grow, they were forced to realize that unless drastic steps were taken the prosperous township would be annexed and divided into 12 municipalities.

Harry Wolfe

After many hours of work and planning, the Charter for the City of Livonia was signed in Wolfe's living room.

He believes that honesty is the core of success in any enterprise. "If you plan to spend your lifetime living in the community where you operate your business there is no other course than complete honesty," says Wolfe.

Livonia has grown from 8,000 to 70,000 in the 40 years he has been in business and Wolfe intends to go on being part of the city and carrying on his business with the same enthusiasm with which he started and to carry his favorite project the Livonia Goodfellows which he helped form in 1936.

"Livonia has the best possible future," says Wolfe. "It has a good solid foundation and many friends to carry on the work."

Form Corporation For TV Station

Following intensive study on the part of educators and citizens of this area concerning the need of an educational broadcasting station, Dr. Eric J. Bradner, President of Schoolcraft College, and representatives of the School Districts of Clarenceville, Garden City, Livonia, Northville, and Plymouth incorporated on January 5 as The Michigan Educational Broadcasting Association.

The purpose of the corporation includes:

1. To broadcast on television and by other means, educational and cultural programs.
2. To acquire, construct, and operate non-commercial, educational radio and television stations.
3. To prepare and secure educational and cultural programs.
4. To aid and assist organizations and individuals interested in securing such programs.
5. To conduct all necessary financing, contracts, and leases which may arise in the establishment of an educational station.

The organizers, in addition to Dr. Bradner, were Alex Baskin of Livonia and Mrs. Esther R. Hulsing of Plymouth. Other members of the first Board of Trustees are Wilfred C. Becker, Raymond Chaiken, William Craft, Harold W. Keivit, and Jack L. Kirsch. Keivit acted as Secretary in organizing this group.

With the formation of this corporation, the area now is in a position to apply to the Federal Government for an educational television channel.

The new Campus Center, which is to be built on the Schoolcraft College Campus, will include television and radio broadcasting studios, which would be used not only by the College but also by the public schools of this area.

Chandler Fund Near $1,000

Close to $1,000 has been contributed thus far to the Paul M. Chandler Scholarship Fund.

The fund, which will aid college students in the area served by The Observer Newspapers, was set up shortly after the death of the late publisher and State Representative. It is being administered by Louis Schmidt, Clarenceville Public Schools Superintendent; Benton Yates, Livonia Schools Superintendent, and Joel LaBo, former president of Livonia Dollars for Scholars.

Contributions may be sent to the fund, in care of the Livonia National Bank, Livonia, or to The Observer, 33050 Five Mile, Livonia.

Nautical Week Exhibit Opens Monday at Mall

A Nautical Week Exhibit including such items as a model submarine, a missile, a missile cluster, a machine gun, and a torpedo moves into the Livonia Mall for a one-week stay on Jan. 18.

The exhibit, which will be on display through Jan. 23, can be viewed at the Mall anytime that the stores are open for business.

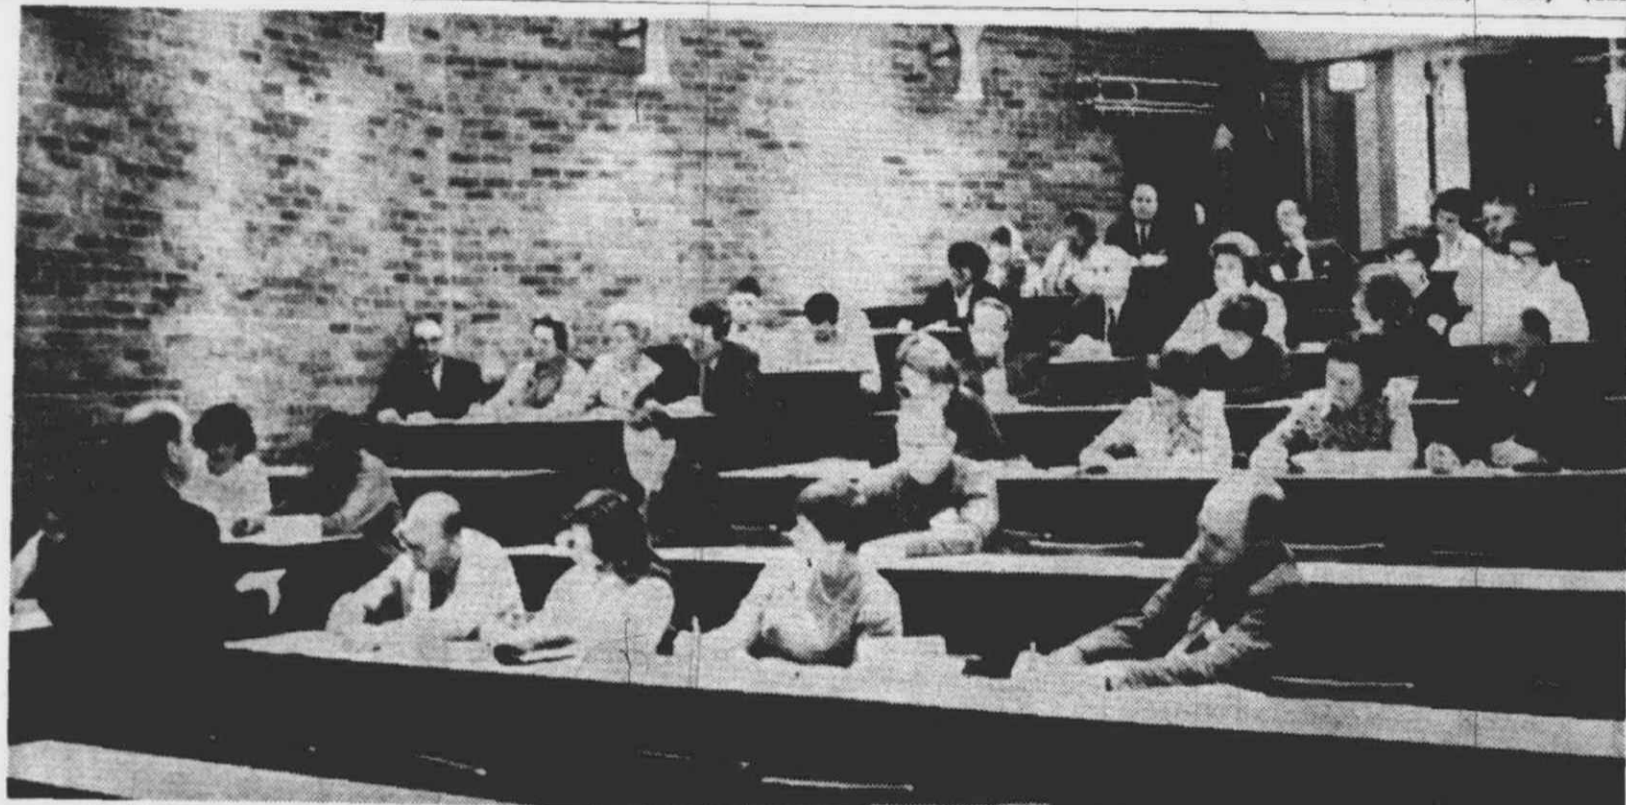

A model of a World War II submarine, the ship carries a wartime crew of two officers and 72 enlisted personnel. The prototype for this model, the USS Cero, made eight war patrols and sank five Japanese ships and damaged 12 others for a total of 76,000 tons sunk. The USS Cero is now stationed in Detroit at the Broadhead Naval Reserve Armory and is used for training purposes.

The torpedo is 21 feet in length and was used on World War II type submarines against surfacecraft ships.

The machine gun is a 20-caliber oerlikon gun captured from a Japanese plane shot down at Pearl Harbor by an Anti-Aircraft battery.

The Missile—one of the Terrier class—is an all weather guided missile designed to intercept enemy aircraft at longer range and higher altitudes than conventional Anti-Aircraft guns. It is a 13-foot missile weighing about 1.5 tons with a range of about 20 miles.

There is no charge for the exhibit. Stores at the Livonia Mall are open until 9 p.m. on Monday, Thursday and Friday nights, 5 p.m. on Tuesday and Wednesday and 5:30 p.m. on Saturday.

HORSEY SET? Not quite, but these 34 students are shown listening to Dr. Andrew Kalmus in the opening session of the course on horse care and farm management at Schoolcraft College.

College Hires Landscapers For Campus

The Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees has employed the firm of Eichstedt and Grissim, Associates, to develop an overall landscape plan for the College Buildings and Campus. Work will begin in the spring.

The Board also directed that plans be made for paving the College parking lots as soon as possible in the spring. The Wayne County Road Commission has announced that Haggerty Road will be paved in 1965.

Barbershoppers Sing For Parent-Teachers

Barbershop harmony will be the feature entertainment at the January meeting of the Ten Mile PTA, which will be held at Farmington Junior High, at 8 p.m., Monday, Jan. 18.

Instead of having a regular meeting, parents and their children will be entertained by the Detroit Chapter Number One of the "Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc." This group is better known as "The Motor City Chorus."

Under the direction of Willis D. (Bill) Butler, of Wayne, the Chorus recently took top honors in the Michigan Regional Competition, in Jackson. It thus won the right to compete in the International Contest in Boston this summer.

Food Facility Opens On Schoolcraft Camp

With the beginning of the second semester, a new food facility was opened for Schoolcraft college students. This building, known as the Campus Center, was constructed by Max Campbell, builder, and has been leased to the College for a five year period. It has a seating capacity of 225.

The contract for food was awarded to Saga Food Service, Incorporated, which has installed all types of modern vending equipment. The percentage which Saga Food Service pays to the College will in part cover the cost of the lease.

Also included on Monday's program will be four young men from the Chorus.

The program will also include a group known as "The Treble-shooters." It is composed of Bob Mulligan, Bob Whiteledge, Bob Winters, and Cliff Jorgenson.

The public is invited. Tickets are 50¢ for adults, and 25¢ for children.

Livonian to Present Technical Paper at Engineering Congress

Leonard S. Moore, 18907 Woodring, Livonia, will present a technical paper at the 1965 SAE International Automotive Engineering Congress and Exposition currently in Colo. Hall.

Moore is Automotive Engineer for the Army Tank Automotive Command of Warren. His paper is titled "The Military Tactical Eight by 8 Trucks."

The SAE Congress and Exposition is the top annual event in automotive engineering circles. More than 20,000 SAE members and others interested in the automotive industries are expected to attend the 1965 Congress and Exposition.

C'ville Serves 2,331 Meals in One Day

A record 2331 individual meals were served to students in the Clarenceville Public Schools on Wednesday, Nov. 25, a report from the school district this week states.

The giant Thanksgiving Dinner, according to the district, required 52 22-pound turkeys, 375 pounds of dressing, 450 pounds of instant potatoes, 52 1/2 gallons of milk, 47 gallons of gravy, 74 pounds of cranberry sauce, 195 dozen rolls, 84 pounds of butter, 390 pumpkin pies and 3400 half-pints of milk.

While the serving time was only two hours, many additional hours were required by the staff to prepare for the meal. All the turkeys were cooked and boned at the high school and then sent to the other schools.

Assisting Mrs. Millicent Mathis, cafeteria supervisor, in the meal preparation were Eleanor Bonner, Jean Bradley, Sidna Jones and Geraldine McDonald at the high school; Marjorie Durbon, Helen Paatalo, Armelia Richmond, Marguerite Roberts, Doris Westfall at the junior high; Connie DeWar, Gladys Hall and Betty Hoffmayer, at Botsford Elementary; Virginia Graves, Grace Misko, Marie Winsauer, at Grandview School; Norma Kelly and Elsie Williams at Edgewood School and Vlasta Stickney at Westbrook School.

BULLETINS FROM BENTLEY

by Sue Dowell and Marcia Wilson

Not too many Bentley students and their parents know about the fine counseling service provided by the school. There are three guidance centers—one for each grade—sophomore, junior, and senior. Each student is assigned a counselor when he enters Bentley High School, but not too many students make use of their counselors' service. A counselor may be contacted and talked to on many different things, such as choices of classes, educational goals, employment plans, colleges, special schools, Bentley High School information, personal-social problems, scholarships, and many other topics of interest.

Each and every student at Bentley has a master record file called a CA-39. This is a folder containing all the information available about a student, such as former schools, past and present grades, test results, and personal and social life. New items are constantly being recorded in this record. Special tests are available to help the student better know his strengths, weaknesses, and interests.

To see a counselor, the student may simply walk into the counseling office at his or her office grade level and make an appointment. So take advantage of this helpful service and get acquainted with your counselor early in your high school career to get the most from these counseling services.

It is a long standing tradition at Bentley that each senior class just before graduation presents the school with a gift. This year's class of '65 has decided to present half of its gift early. They will give the school benches for the outside courtyards around the building, which are being constructed now. These benches will be made of concrete and wood. The reason for presenting the benches early is so that students may get some use out of them in the spring. Then, just before graduation, another gift will be presented to Bentley by the graduating class of '65.

Bentley's gym will be filled with laughter and cheers the night of Jan. 28 at 7:30. For this night, is the night of the Senior-Faculty basketball game. This basketball game is an annual affair where the members of the male faculty play the members of the varsity basketball team. A sock hop for all students will directly follow the game, and all proceeds will go to the senior class and AFS. May the best team win!

Juniors have a lot of preparing to do to get ready for their big night ahead. This huge and anxiously awaited night is the night of the Junior Prom. Boys are now planning their dates while girls are planning their dresses and hairdos, because Jan. 30, the date of the dance is not too far off.

All students are busy studying for their final exams which will be taken on Jan. 26, 27 and 28. But the poor seniors not only have final exams to study for but college board exams as well. These college board examinations are being taken now by all seniors who wish to go to college. The exams are necessary because they tell in what level of each class a student should be placed.

FARMINGTON HIGH NEWS

by Tom Donoghue

Farmington High has made arrangements for bus transportation to this Friday's basketball game at Walled Lake. Bus tickets along with game tickets are on sale in the main lobby, for 75c and 50c respectively.

Farmington Teenage Republicans (TARS) are holding a special meeting today, January 13, at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held in the new headquarters, the B&A Architectural Firm on Orchard Lake, just north of Twelve Mile Road.

Anybody wishing to take part in the trip to Lansing must be at this meeting.

Clint Starr, FHA Senior, has made up a Communication Committee, consisting of 18 members, to see if the student body has a good understanding of the Student Council. Every home room representative will be studied to see if they are going through their homeroom.

This will give the Student Council the knowledge that is needed for better communication between the Council and Student Body.

The Student Council is going to pass out questionnaires to the entire Student Body asking questions if they really know what is going on in the Student Council and what they are really doing.

Senior announcements and name cards have been selected by a student committee working with Mrs. Brodbeck. These announcements graduation to friends and relatives.

North Farmington High School News

By DONNA HUG

The year 1964 is only another year in the past, but to us at North Farmington it has left us many memories. Some may have been sorrowful, but for the most part they have been very pleasant ones.

Coming Wednesday, Jan. 13, a basketball game will be held between the Varsity Club and the faculty. This program should prove to be a very enjoyable evening for all, packed with both suspense and humor.

Our debate team will travel to John Glenn High School on Thursday afternoon, Jan. 14, at 3:30. The varsity team consists of the affirmative squad composed of Maggie Soderquist and Millie Davidge, who have been doing an excellent job. The negative squad has also been doing a fine job as Cathy Glessner and Jerome Johnson teamed up. The junior varsity affirmative squad is composed of Bob Huber and Steve Kinghorn, with Bobbie Weider and Tom Carley making up the negative squad. The debaters have worked hard under the fine direction of their advisor, Miss Rohm.

Also, the Christmas concert was excellent and all of the musical groups who participated should be complimented for their fine performance.

After the basketball game with Groves at home on Friday, Jan. 15, a dime dance will be held and the charge will be a dime per head. You will need your identification card in order to enter the dance.

On the 20th and 21st of this month there will be a Student Council Exchange Day. On Wednesday, students chosen from Student Council will go to Franklin High School and on Thursday, North Farmington High will be host to Franklin. Student Exchange Day is sponsored by the Student Council in order to give help and further understanding between schools. Student Council will meet on Jan. 21 during last hour to discuss certain issues with Franklin.

The Ski Club at North Farmington has been enterprising for the last few weeks and has achieved a great deal. The new officers of the club are Jim Jajich, president; Tom Allen, vice-president; and Pam Magers, treasurer. The advisors this year are Mr. Kevlignan and Mr. Fitzgerald. The ski club has decided to ski at Mount Brighton this year. The cost will be $3.50, this includes the ski rental, lesson, tow ticket and bus fare. It is desired that weekend outings may appear later in the season. On Wednesday, Jan. 6, the ski club traveled to Mt. Brighton.

Cawley Enters Meet

World's record holder and Olympic Gold Medal winner Rex Cawley will run in his specialty, the 400 Meter Intermediate Hurdles, in the Los Angeles Invitational Track Meet, on January 23. The former Farmington flash now runs for the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

These may be ordered from Mr. Weyhing on Thursday, January 14, from 3-5 p.m. in the conference room. This will be the only time that you can place an order.

SENIORS—Decide the amount of announcements and cards you want and have a check or cash ready for the exact payment. All orders will be delivered to school.

Clarenceville School News

by Margaret Paulson

On March 9, Juniors and Seniors will once again take the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test for which they signed up.

Students have different reasons for taking this test. Their main interest may be in improving their chances of winning a scholarship or in gaining admission to the college they are most interested in attending. Or their main interest may be in obtaining more information about their strengths and weaknesses in the areas measured by the examination.

The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test is a test battery—that is, a group of tests designed to measure your ability to use what you have learned and to give additional information about your educational strengths and weaknesses in five basic academic areas: English Usage, Mathematics Usage, Social Studies Reading, Natural Sciences Reading, and Word Usage.

Saturday evening was the date, high school gym was the place, and after the game till 11:30 was the time. What was it??? Varsity Club hosted an after game dance. They played all the popular hits and the students did the latest dances.

Our yearbook staff is really going to town lately. With more work coming in every day, the staff is hard at work. The color of the Trojan yearbook is Camel and Dark Brown. A scale is pictured on the front of the cover with 1965 weighing light on the scale and three books weighing heavy. The theme this year is "What weighs more than knowledge?"

Two officers for the yearbook staff were appointed. They are Editor-in-chief, John Head; and Sergeant-at-arms, Riley Saylor.

Wednesday, January 6, Clarenceville was host to the League schools as they met at Clarenceville for a debate.

The league schools attending were Northville, Holly, Milford, Clarkston, West Bloomfield, Bloomfield Hills, Brighton, and Clarenceville.

The topic for this year's debate is "Resolved: That Nuclear Weapons should be controlled by an International Organization."

The schools winning debates are Northville—1, Bloomfield Hills—2, West Bloomfield—1, Clarkston—2, and Brighton—1.

As editor of our school newspaper, I was kindly requested to please give coverage in the school paper in regards to the fight against the crippling disease of birth defects.

Instead of putting an article in the school paper I chose to use my column where I would be able to reach a lot more teens who like a challenge and who welcome the opportunity to put ideas, skills, and energy to work and help solve problems.

For those teens who care—The National Foundation—March of Dimes Teen Age Program needs a vast army of volunteers.

Teen Agers—I urge you to organize a special fund raising event in your school and community to fight birth defects. If you are interested please contact the chapter office at LI 9-6778 or FE 8-0411.

Judge McCree to Speak at Cville PTA

Mrs. Florence Grounds, Program chairman of the Clarenceville Junior-Senior High School Parent Teachers Association announced that the January 19 meeting will feature Judge Wade McCree, United States District Judge, who will discuss the topic, "The Demands of Democracy and How We Can Help Our Students Meet Them."

Following the talk small groups will be organized for questions which will be answered by Judge McCree.

Judge McCree holds a law degree from Harvard University, is a faculty member at Wayne State University, member of the Michigan and Detroit Bar Association, member of Phi Beta Kappa, and current U.S. District Judge of the Eastern District of Michigan.

Judge McCree has practiced law in Detroit, 1948-1952; been Commissioner Michigan Workmen's Compensation Commission, 1952-54; Wayne County Circuit Judge, 1954-61; and former Captain in World War II.

FACTS FROM FRANKLIN

by Sue Lockwood

"Your honor! Gentlemen of the jury! In a few minutes you will be called upon to decide the fate of a woman. Her very life lies in your hands . . ."

A woman accused of murdering her married employer, the man she loved, is brought to trial. Is she guilty or not? In the span of three acts, witnesses are put on the stand whose contradicting testimonies bring out both her possible guilt and innocence. And the decision will not be known until twelve jurors picked from the audience decide upon their verdict.

This is the "Night of January 16th" by Ayn Rand, the senior play which will be presented in the lecture theater on February 18 and 19. Part of the play is double cast to give more FHS Seniors a chance to participate, so almost a completely different cast will appear each night. Here is the list of the cast.

The male leads are filled by John Allen, Ken Crawford, Kent Ebere, and Don Mills. The female leads were filled by Mary Jo Castiglione, Nancy Drost, Pat MacKenzie, and Diane Michalke.

The other players are as follows: Whitfield—Gerry Chester, Bob Curry; Roberta—Marge Buttigieg, Cheryl Orzol; Jance Chandler—Sue Alexander, Ellen Green; Magda—Barb Ross, Nancy Stanley; Judge—Richard Miller, Jim Ver Heule; Clerk—Mike McFadden, Eduardo Rodriguez; Matron—Karen Baggot, Pat Eidt; Secretary—Roberta Bar, Linda Russeau; Court Stenographer—Sue Fariman; Bailiff—Jerry Hopp; Sweeney—Mike Buckley; Junquist—Joop Doorn; Kirkland—Dave Falzetti; Regan—Jack Pelon; and Mrs. Hutchinson—Linda Pazernick.

The advisors for the play are Mrs. Becker and Mr. Ericson; student directors are Linda Barnard and Yvonne Zarza. "Gentlemen of the jury the Bailiff will now escort you to the jury room. I shall ask you to consider your verdict carefully . . ."

Is she guilty or not? Come and see "The Night of January 16th" and if you are chosen as a juror remember, the fate of a woman's life is in your hands.

Third hour last Wednesday, all FHS psychology students attended an important assembly. Senior Jackie Trick introduced the speaker, Dr. Michaels, a clinical psychologist at Veteran's Hospital, who spoke on adolescent mental health and sexual maturity.

He played an interesting tape by Dr. Karl Rogers that dealt with a patient-doctor interview. The assembly closed with an informal question-answer period.

The plans and dreams for Franklin's Mardi Gras are becoming facts as February 20 draws closer. The Mardi Gras, first of what is hoped to become a tradition, is being sponsored by the Journalism Department. The girl-ask-boy dance will be held in the Franklin gymnasium from 8-11 p.m. and it is a costume ball; tickets will be on sale soon at $1.50 per couple.

One of the special features of the dance will be a huge clock that is on New Orleans time, when the hands point at midnight, the couples will unmask.

The Literary-Arts magazine is giving out Amos awards to the best work received each week. All submitted work is reviewed and then the best is voted upon by the members of the magazine. Winners will be announced over the PA systems.

Votapek Is Guest Artist at U of D Sponsored Concert

Pianist Ralph Votapek is guest artist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Valter Poole for the third annual University of Detroit Alumni Association Concert at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 31 in Ford Auditorium.

Votapek gained world prominence in the fall of 1962 when he won first prize in the First International Van Cliburn Competition over top-flight pianists from a score of countries. The prize brought with it a $10,000 check, headlines around the world, a Carnegie Hall debut recital, and a recording contract.

The program for the U. of D. Alumni Concert includes Gershwin's Concerto in F, and works by Schumann and Beethoven. For ticket information call the University of Detroit Alumni Office at 342-1000.

purchase of a home, and maybe a profit to boot. For most families, the question is: How much house can you afford to buy? Or, more personally: how much can you afford on a monthly basis?

There are all sorts of good formulas for figuring the amount that can be safely spent on a house and no two of them agree exactly. One formula states that you can afford a total price tag equalling 1 per cent to 2.5 per cent of your annual gross income.

Another says you can spend one fifth of your gross monthly income for housing. A third suggests 25 per cent of net monthly income may be spent for housing, but some agencies will allow a loan based on no more than 20 per cent of monthly take-home pay.

To bring it down to the very personal level of what you can afford, and what you want to pay, do this. List all your present monthly expenses, and be honest. List what you spend for food, for household operating costs, for entertainment and family recreation, insurance, car payments and operating cost, personal allowances, gifts, books and other reading matter, clothing and clothing upkeep, medical expenses, miscellaneous.

Then make a good estimate of what it would cost for utilities and fuel for the type of house you plan to buy. Don't forget garbage collection; it's a small item, but it's there. Include also an estimated house upkeep figure to include garden supplies, improvements, repairs.

Third, list what you'd need by way of furnishings for the new home, especially those which you'd plan to buy in the first five years. This is an important figure. After all, a house doesn't become a home unless you can decorate it in a satisfying manner. Decorating is stretched over a period of time, to be sure, but do allow a sensible monthly amount for this item. Now, add together the three lists and subtract their total from your monthly take-home pay. The amount remaining is what you can spend on monthly house payments. The figure may be less than you'd think, but it will be an honest reflection of what you want to pay for a house.

Cash? You shouldn't think of buying a home unless you can afford 10 per cent down. This exists either in the form of an equity in your present home or in savings. Cash outlays at the outset will also include moving costs and loan closing costs which are paid in advance when the sale is closed.

Closing costs very widely from community to community, but usually include a year's property taxes, title insurance, a fee charged by the lending agency, and possibly lawyer's fees. The best way to estimate closing costs is to visit a lending agency with which you'd like to do business and have them itemize costs for you.

Now that you have all the figures for owning a home down in black-and-white, you can make a sound decision. If things don't quite add up to a new home in '65 then make a New Year's resolution to sock away the dollars for 12 months and give yourself a Christmas present for '66.

Quarry Tile Wears Well In Foyers. Of all the materials that go into a new or remodeled home, none is subjected to rougher wear than the flooring, particularly in the entrance and foyer.

An attractive yet durable material such as quarry tile should be used in these areas. It's waterproof, so wet overshoes and clothing won't damage it. It's also slipproof which means added safety, particularly when there are youngsters in the house.

Living-Dining Areas of House Need Separating. A combination living-dining room has many advantages, but some separation between the two areas is almost always preferred to the wide open plan.

A token division can be created with a long, low divider designed to double as a buffet and serving sideboard. It can be built of any of the fine western woods like Douglas fir or western hemlock.

The divider should be constructed with drawers and cupboard doors opening to the dining room side. On the living room side, it can be paneled with vertical boards for handsome effect.

Ironing Closet. When building closets into a bedroom, include one for the ironing board. Saves steps by allowing on-the-spot pressing. Closet doors can be dramatic when pine louvered doors are used and antiqued gold-and-white or to match color scheme.

Outdoor Wood. Western red cedar, which is extraordinarily decay-resistant, is the prime wood for outdoor use, such as siding, fencing, garden arbors.

Detroit Bank Shows Increased 1964 Earnings

The Detroit Bank & Trust Company has reported net operating earnings of $10,156,208 for the year ending December 31, 1964, equal to $5.26 a share. This compares with $9,482,317 or $4.91 a share for 1963.

In discussing the bank's performance for 1964 Raymond T. Perring, chairman and Charles H. Hewitt, president of the bank, noted that the bank's earnings results showed improvement in every category. Perring said, "1964 was a good year for Detroit Bank & Trust in many respects. Increases in earnings, total deposits and loans, coupled with favorable operating results permitted a 10% stock dividend. During 1964 a total of $20,509,465 in interest payments was distributed to savings account customers — the highest ever," he added.

Total Deposits amounted to $1,212,172,651 compared with $1,080,340,346 on December 31, 1963. Demand deposits were $574,492,394, up from the total of $527,329,489 a year ago. Savings and time deposits were reported at $637,679,767, a gain of $84,668, 910 over the close of 1963.

Total capital funds, including general reserves were $103,352,398, reflecting an increase of $4,131,694 from December 31, 1963.

Susan Anthony Re-enlists for Duty in Navy. Susan Ann Anthony, Hospitalman 3/C, U.S. Navy, has re-enlisted for a term of two years.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Anthony, 14415 Newburgh Road, Livonia, and was graduated from Bentley High School in 1960.

Miss Anthony entered the Navy in January, 1961, and received training at Bainbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Langer, 14254 Garfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Walkowicz of 14101 Farley, were rewarded with cash prizes for their Christmas displays by Western Heights Civic Association.

The Langers were cited for the most original outdoor home decoration, and the display in the subdivision.

Residents of the area annually decorate the outside of their homes to express their good will to passersby. Judging of this year's contest was done the evening of Tuesday, Dec. 29, by Supervisor Jack McDonald and association officials Al Anderson, Ken Prather, and Al Wouters.

Another event in the Western Heights civic association's program was Santa's 11th annual appearance in the subdivision. The merry gentleman drove past all the houses Sunday, Dec. 20, and urged his many friends to join him at The Triangle.

Over 100 children and their parents accepted Santa's invitation and assembled in the tent he provided to keep them comfortable while they received gifts and refreshments.

Six residents from Redford Township, Farmington and Livonia were honored by the J. L. Hudson Co. Department Store in Detroit for more than 25 years of service in the store's employment at a dinner last week.

Cited for 35 years of service was Frank B. Harrison of Redford Township. Worley L. Adams and William J. Jackson of Livonia and Joseph F. McHugh of Farmington were honored for 30 years of service.

Robert A. Hinds and Phillip Rieger of Livonia were cited for 25 years of employment.

Kitchen Sunshine. Gold-toned woods like western hemlock remain the favorite for kitchen use because they bring light and a sunshine quality into the room. Hemlock works beautifully with any color scheme, especially pink/copper, blue/green, buttercup/sepia, and white/brown.

STUDENT TEACHERS and faculty extended their formal thanks to each of the school districts and critic teachers who helped Madonna college students to fulfill the practice teaching requirement last week. Gathered for an informal discussion in the lounge of the Student Residence Hall before the dinner are (from left, seated) Sherrie Gonder, student teacher; Mrs. N. Wernette, assistant principal of Roosevelt School, Detroit; Mrs. E. Sheldon, Plymouth Public Schools; Rosa Trapp, student teacher; (standing) David McDowell, principal Clarenceville High School; R. Wilson, Livonia Public Schools, Vicky Gabrys, student teacher; N. Whistler, assistant director of personnel, Livonia Schools; Rosalie Rechinbach, student teacher; the Very Rev. Msgr. Vincent J. Horkan, Superintendent of the Detroit Archdiocesan Catholic Schools; Kathy Stelgerwald, student teacher; and Sister Mary Martina, C.S.S.F., Dean of Madonna College.

Madonna Student Teachers "Thank" Critics for Advice

For the past four years the student teachers at Madonna College have held a special dinner to "thank" their critic teachers and representatives of each of the school districts in which they are allowed to do their practice teaching.

This practice teaching is required by the State of Michigan for certification. Each aspiring teacher must during their senior year in college successfully complete a certain period of teaching under the direction of a "critic" or an experienced teacher. The officers of the Student Education Association, under the direction of Chairman Rosa Trapp handled the arrangements for the dinner. Sister Mary Martina, C.S.S.F., Dean of Madonna College supervised the preparations.

The program for the evening was kept to a minimum. Sister Mary Rainelda, C.S.S.F., President of Madonna, welcomed the teachers in the name of Madonna College students and faculty and the Madonna College Choral group presented a short program of songs.

Basement Floor Easy to Install

When you finish off that daylight basement, don't forget the floors. Good floors are just as important here as in the rest of the house — maybe even more important since family recreation and the home's utility center are often located in the daylight basement. Both require resilient flooring for foot, leg and back health.

The best floors are of wood construction, according to doctors who point out that walking and standing on an unyielding surface cause foot injury, shock to the spine with resultant back and headache, and often swelling of the legs.

Wood floors are easily installed over concrete in basement areas. The first step is to lay two- or three-foot lengths of 2x4s over the concrete. These are called sleepers. They're laid flat and secured to the concrete with asphalt mastic spread a quarter inch thick under each.

The sleepers are laid in a pattern something like brickwork, spaced 9 inches on center. At the perimeter of the room, edges of the sleepers should be a half inch away from walls to allow an expansion area.

Next, install tongue-and-groove flooring boards at right angles over the sleepers, blind nailing the boards into the 2x4s underneath.

For flooring in this area, vertical grain western woods are recommended and will give high performance. Cost is low. Douglas fir and larch are two good choices. Another is western hemlock, which has the peculiar quality of growing harder the more it's walked on.

Each of these three woods is golden in color and may be finished clear to add sparkle to basement areas. Finish the job with base moulding to conceal the joint between floors and walls.

Methodist Minister Requests "Released Time" From South Redford Board

A Redford Township minister has requested the South Redford School Board to allot the released time for religious instruction as provided for under State Law.

This is the first such request in the area covered by the Observer Newspapers.

Rev. John M. Baker, Minister, of the Parkway Free Methodist Church on Plymouth Rd. has asked the South Redford Board of Education to examine the possibility of releasing children during the school hour for instruction during this school year.

South Redford School Superintendent M. D. Roe, said that the Rev. Baker's request for time would be honored and every effort would be made to arrive at a mutually agreeable time schedule for both the church and the schools.

The law, which was approved by the State Legislature last year, provides that:

"The board of education or its duly authorized representative, upon written request of the parent, guardian or person having control or charge of any child or children, shall release from attendance at the public school any child or children to attend religious instruction classes not to exceed two hours (120 minutes) per week."

Further provisions of the law stipulate that: such a written request shall be made annually and shall specify the place and total amount of time for such religious instruction; groups intending to hold such classes shall notify school officials "sufficiently" in advance of the beginning of classes to allow time to comply with the request; no attendance record at religious instruction classes shall be maintained by the public schools as attendance responsibility for such classes "belongs to the parent, guardian or person having control or charge" of the children; and the public school staff shall neither encourage nor discourage participation in any religious instruction program.

Rev. Baker told The Observer that he was originally requesting one hour per week rather than the two hours provided for by the law.

The plan is to run a 12-week series of classes this school year showing high quality movies on the Life of Christ. Rev. Baker emphasized that the classes will be non-sectarian in nature and will be "Christian education in the broad sense."

He said that he was hopeful that enough community people would be interested in sending their children to the classes that as many as 150 school children would be involved.

Rev. Baker stated that in discussion with the principal of the Mason School a tentative plan had been arrived at to take children from two grade levels for one hour on each of three days of the school week. This, he said, would be most convenient to the school officials in scheduling classes.

GROUND BREAKING CEREMONIES were held Jan. 10 for the future Seventh Day Adventist Church at Ten Mile and Middlebelt Rds. Dignitaries participating in the ground breaking are, from left: Pastor R. D. Hamstra of the Farmington Seventh Day Adventist Church; Pastor R. D. Moon, District Superintendent of the Detroit area Seventh Day Adventists; Pastor M. C. Wilson, President of the Michigan Conference; Pastor L. G. Wartzok, Treasurer of the Michigan Conference; Ira Jones, Secretary of the Building Committee; Ralph Otto, Chairman of the Building Committee; and Curtis Hall, Supervisor of the Farmington Seventh Day Adventist Church. Completion of the new church is expected some time in the fall.

Missionary Convention Opens Today at Parkway Methodist

A three day Missionary Convention opens tonight (Jan. 13) at the Parkway Heights Free Methodist Church, 23705 Plymouth Rd. Three Free Methodist Missionaries from the Orient will participate.

On Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Carolyn Winslow will speak. Mrs. Winslow has spent five years in China and 10 years on Formosa doing missionary work. The author of two books, she is currently teaching English to officers of the Chinese Nationalist Army using the Bible as the textbook.

Robert Haslam, a missionary from the Philippine Islands, will speak at 7:30 p.m. Thursday and 8 p.m. Friday. Mr. Haslam began his work in the Philippines when he was forced to leave the mainland of China. Like all other Free Methodist Missionaries in the Philippines, Mr. Haslam is engaged in educational work. He is currently serving as Principal of the Light and Life Bible Seminary there.

At the Sunday services (11 a.m. and 7 p.m.) Lavern Snider, past president of the Osaka Christian College in Japan, will speak. Mr. Snider was elected to this position as head of the largest Protestant School in Japan by the Japanese Free Methodists. Prior to accepting this appointment he was President of the Lorne Park College in Toronto.

Ward Congregational Meeting The annual congregational meeting of the Ward Memorial Presbyterian Church will be held at the Detroit church on Jan. 27 at 8 p.m. Ward Memorial has a Livonia Chapel of the Church located at Six Mile and Farmington Roads.

OBSERVER SPEAKS UP

Can Johnny Count?...

In the increasingly technological society in which we live, the subject of mathematics is growing increasingly important. To meet the demands of our society, revolutionary changes have been made in the methods of teaching of this subject. These changes are under way in suburbia as elsewhere.

G. V. Harrison, Superintendent of the Farmington Public Schools, writing in the Dec. 30 issue of the Observer, stated that "the elementary staff and administration has continued the study of modern mathematics in 1964."

To teach modern mathematics, a more highly trained teacher is needed. In the past year, according to Harrison, "some 100 teachers enrolled in a formal college level class staged in Farmington, by Dr. David Wells, director of mathematics, Oakland County Board of Education. Our objective is a well-trained teaching staff in the new math before we launch the program in the classroom."

Are these contemplated changes in method all to the good? Prof. Max Beberman, of the University of Illinois, one of the inventors of the new mathematics, thinks maybe not. Speaking before the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, in Montreal, on Dec. 30, he warned against excessively hasty and unwise changes in the mathematics curriculum in elementary schools of the United States.

"We're in danger of raising a generation of kids who can't do computational arithmetic." Excessive and unskilled emphasis, he said, are being placed on esoteric branches of mathematics at the expense of fundamentals.

According to Prof. Beberman, the new math has had many very unfortunate results. New curriculums have been introduced without proper attention to essential pedagogical principles or to the need for relating mathematics to the real world, as well as relating it to the logical principles now receiving great emphasis.

Under the old system, said Beberman, parents could help their children, even if the teachers did a poor job. But the parents can't help now, because the symbolism is too forbidding. Even the elementary school teachers are frightened by the prospect of using esoteric mathematics.

Not that Beberman would go back to the old system of learning by rote, with little or no opportunity for students to appreciate the basic principles involved.

But, he concludes, "until pedagogical principles are better established, it is criminal to push new programs in this field."

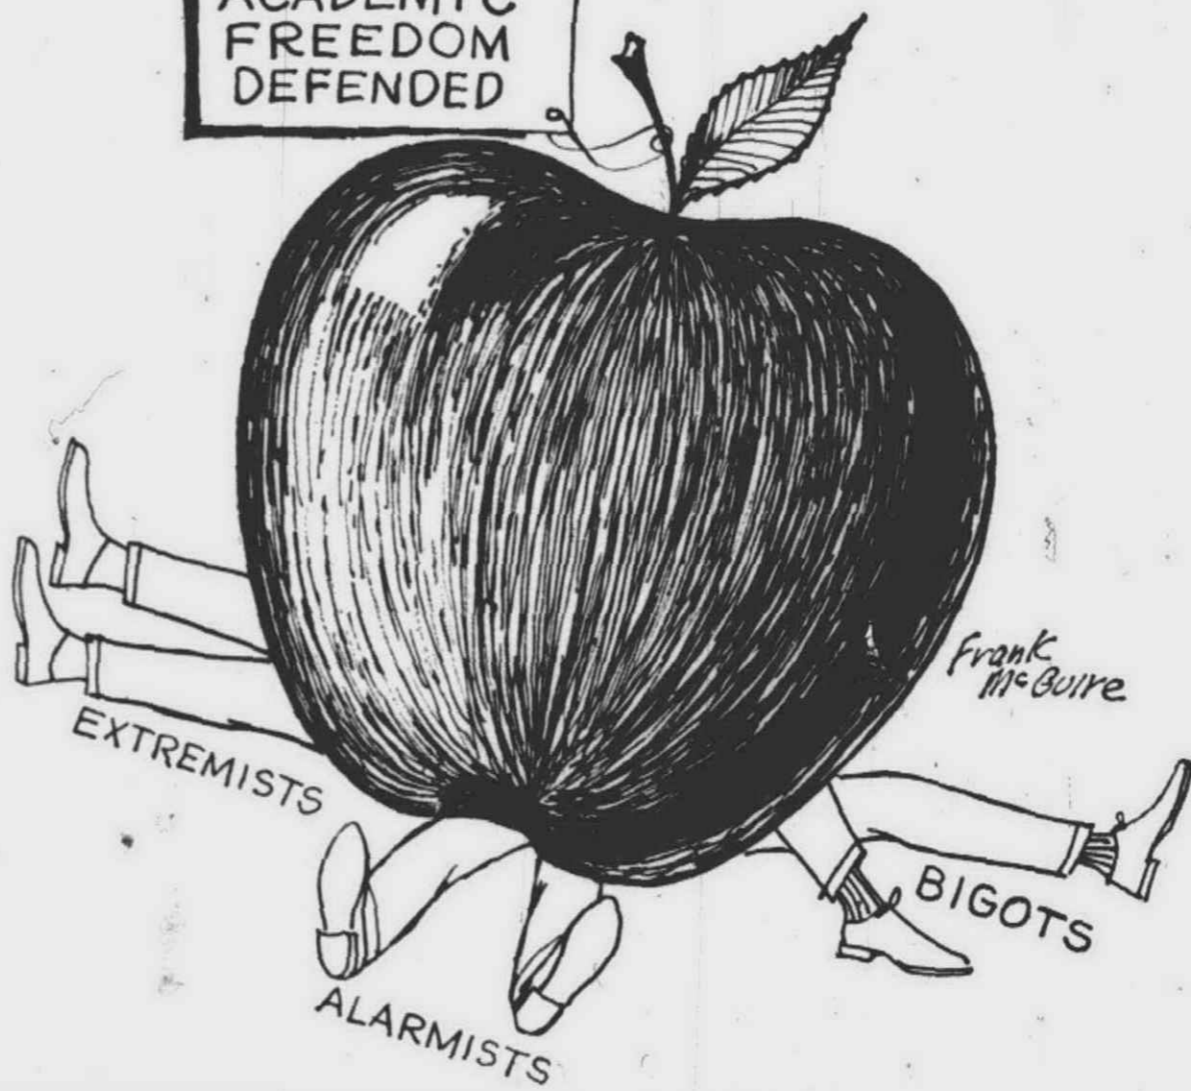

The Observer claims no expertise in the world of numbers. The professor's criticisms may not apply to the system being developed in the suburbs.

But the importance of the subject, and Beberman's stature as a scholar, make his comments worthy of very serious thought.

'READER SPEAKS UP':

Public Opinion Polls?

Editor: In order to elicit information from the people that will provide a guide to government and school officials, I am suggesting to the editors of this newspaper the inclusion of a public opinion survey and reporting procedure. Within the context of public service, I can think of no better means for stating and clarifying local public problems than to invite the people to "Speak Out" on these issues.

In using this method, the newspaper will provide to the public a guideline for obtaining correct information pertaining to, for example, the acquisition of land for open space planning and recreation purposes; city charter amendment and/or revision, county home rule, etc.

If the residents and taxpayers of a community have no information or "thoughts" about a community problem or need, the news media can and should serve as an instrument of problem identification and education.

I contend that people are not apathetic or disinterested. I do contend, however, that people are uninformed and it behooves the press to rectify this situation.

The metropolitan daily papers serve a large geographical area and serve well. The suburban area newspapers should provide detailed news coverage of suburban area problems. The rapid growth and population increase brings forth this need so that the best direction can be given to the problems as they develop.

A survey instrument or poll reporting technique will serve as "a weather vane of public thinking" and provide the means to disseminate and clarify information, dispel rumors and conjecture about what may happen if and when... and point the way along "the yellow brick road" to better intra-community relations, suburban vitality and development.

Paper Thanked

As readers of your paper know, the Universalist-Unitarian Church of Farmington has been carrying out an effort to supply the teen-age patients of Northville Hospital's Building E with many of the things that will make their lives more pleasant. They are in need of such simple things as make-up, shoe polish, stationery, handkerchiefs, headscarfs, hair rollers, and clothing that will fit.

The Observer read about our campaign in our Church paper, the Magnet, and publicized it around Christmas time.

As a result of that publicity, we have received three major donations: A 6th grade class in the Southfield-Ten Elementary School bought the patients a transistor radio, make-up, hair spray, and many other needed items.

A Livonia woman, who was acquainted with a disc jockey, donated 200 new records.

This weekend, a woman from Plymouth, Mrs. Ludwig, contributed a large box of teen-age clothing.

These—all three of them the result of your publicity — have been the major contributions to our project.

Praise for Firemen

(Editor's note: The following letter was sent to Redford Township Supervisor Jack McDonald.)

Dear Sir: Until recently I was an assistant prosecuting attorney here in Wayne County and in that capacity I naturally came in contact with various law enforcement agencies including occasional contacts with the Detroit Fire Department Arson Squad. That being the job, seldom did a matter become a personal problem and as a result the work of the various agencies was pretty much taken for granted.

However, on Christmas night something happened to my family which I feel necessitates our attempt to show our deep gratitude owed your outstanding Fire and Police Departments.

My family was visiting my parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Harris, of 14342 Lenore, Redford Township, for Christmas. About 6:30 p.m. we put our youngest son Patrick to bed. About 10:30 we were getting ready to go home and my wife went in the bedroom to get Patrick up when she discovered him in an unconscious state.

The Fire Department and Police Department were summoned by my father. Immediately, Patrolman Brody arrived and a couple of steps behind him were Sergeant Arthur Reicha and Firefighter James Dorn of the Rescue Squad.

We left immediately for Redford Community Hospital with Firefighter Dorn driving and Sergeant Reicha operating the oxygen pressure regulator.

While enroute, I am told about five other scout cars responded to my parents' home. Needless to say, through the united efforts of the Redford Township Police and Fire Department and the medical staff at the Hospital, everything is fine now.

Had it not been for the outstanding service rendered by both the Fire and Police Departments of your community, particularly Sergeant Arthur Reicha, Firefighter James Dorn, and Patrolman Brody to name a few, this letter might be a different story.

All I can do is offer our thanks to you and your community for maintaining such outstanding services and employing such extremely skilled public servants.

With all the adverse publicity public servants get these days, I wish to take this opportunity to ask you to convey our appreciation to those responsible for their assistance.

Very truly yours,
FRED L. HARRIS

Traffic Light Helps

Editor: City Fathers well done!!! The installation of the light south of Grand River on Farmington does indeed provide the answer to the hazardous conditions that prevail at Powers and Grand River in Farmington.

Please explain the logic of existing conditions that maim and destroy the potential shoppers and future citizens that is America for the expedience of the commercial value of the second signal in a one-block area controlling flow of traffic on Farmington Road.

Would not the prohibition of left turns at the intersection have sufficed for the time being?

Believe me, I use the controlled intersections for the convenience as well as the safety provisions it provides. The negotiating of a block of two to approach the intersection against the inconvenience and danger of a left hand turn seems far more logical to this feminine mind than the continuing hazard of that murder trap that is legally known as Powers-Grand River intersection.

PARENT-CHAUFFEUR AND MOTHER STOCKMAN

All those in favor of logical consideration—a four-cent post card to City Hall please—

Scouts Stress Safety

Demonstration of fire safety will be featured at the January meeting of Cub Pack 168, Friday, Jan. 15, at the Ten Mile School at 7:30 p.m. All boys between eight and 11 and their parents are invited. Awards will be given to boys completing their achievements and projects, exhibits of crafts and refreshments.

Observing The Scene

11th Grade Teacher American Heroine In Truth Battle

By MYRA CHANDLER

The walls of the World are coming down. People who have never done so before, are talking to each other, searching for understanding.

We stub our toe now and again; but morality is on the march in this country.

Perhaps it is because we are more affluent than ever, and simply making money isn't satisfying enough anymore.

Every day across the desk comes the news of new groups organizing to help others less fortunate somewhere — people ARE rearing morally.

Hate and greed are going out of style; maybe because these twins breed destruction. Since the world now has the power to destroy itself — the pendulum is swinging the other way. Once you get people talking to each other, they stop shooting and solutions can be found to insurmountable problems.

Although many of us have put our prejudices in mothballs with wood stoves and high button shoes, there are those who will resist change.

Call them anything you want except conservative. These Birchminded people are not conservative; they are outdated and out of tune with the world. Unfortunately they are active, forceful, and at war against progress. In any war heroes and heroines emerge.

In my opinion a heroine emerged on the local scene just recently.

In November, two sets of parents appeared before the South Redford School Board with a statement complaining about the method of teaching of an 11th grade teacher at Thurston High School. Both sets of parents were from the same neighborhood. One set attended John Birch Society meetings.

This is their right. It is also their right to be free to complain and take the matter up with the local school board—which they did. They asked for an investigation of their charges. In proper order members of the South Redford School Board said they would investigate the charges, which they did in proper sequence with the help of an outside agency.

None of this is particularly dangerous — it probably happens often in the United States, particularly when a teacher knows the difference between mediocrity and excellence and tries a little harder to stimulate thinking in her classroom.

But what did happen could have been extremely dangerous.

This teacher was accused, judged, and found guilty on the front page, in headlines, of an infamous, smear tabloid morning after the parents appeared at the Board meeting. "Gum-chewing, Wad-throwing Teachers Tells Pupils Allegiance Pledge 'Old Fashioned'" was one of the headlines and without quotes.

Fortunately, the paper is known for two things, character assassination and its limited circulation. Both were evident in the lack of impact the blow-up story had on the community.

Subsequently the investigators proved the teacher innocent. They issued this statement:

"Complaints against Mrs. Judy Lewis are unwarranted, unfounded and at complete disagreement with the facts. The alleged statements considered by the Board to have been taken out of context, misunderstood and misconstrued. If Mrs. Lewis is guilty of anything it is in motivating pupils to think."

Just for a moment, and it isn't easy, picture your name substituted for Mrs. Lewis—you are pursuing your work in a safe and smug American way. Out of nowhere comes a screaming headline accusing you of anti-American activities. Wouldn't your first instinct (after you had picked yourself off the floor) be to stop by for a pair of boxing gloves on the way to your attorney's office? The smear press relishes this kind of reaction and was probably profoundly distressed at the confidence displayed by Mrs. Lewis for not doing it.

Yes, Judy Lewis is the victor. It is because Mrs. Lewis and her husband kept a calm demeanor. They were told and urged to sue for libel by many people. But Mr. and Mrs. Lewis did not want to add dignity to the charge and had enough faith in the United States of America to know that justice does prevail.

This, John Birch members, is how you wave and respect the American flag.

Speaking of flag waving, a tremendous idea I'd like to see copied by other communities, has been established by the Farmington Junior Chamber of Commerce. As a club project they erect a flag pole in front of your place of business. On holidays and parade days they will raise the American Flag on the pole. They purchase and maintain the flags for a nominal charge. Organizations like these show more respect in a minute for our way of life than the Birch Society could ever do by its daily searching under every intelligent pair of eyes for an un-American.

Recreation in Suburbia

(Editor's Note: Because so much interest in the suburbs is today focused on the issue of recreation and the need for parks, Paul Chandler's "Facts and Opinions" column of nearly eight years ago should stimulate some current thinking among residents. It appeared originally May 23, 1957, and The Observer strongly endorses its statements as having important validity today.)

By PAUL CHANDLER

Regular readers of this newspaper are familiar with our attitude about the need for providing more recreational facilities for the youth of our suburban communities. We believe it is a matter just about 100 times as urgent as the consideration it receives.

Invariably, when the budgets are put together, recreation is a vague item to which everyone pays lip service, but privately regards as the most expendable thing on the sheet.

In this issue we have a hot letter from one citizen (she happens to live in Livonia; the need is identical in Redford Township) about the lack of youth programs. She was brought to a boil by a story of a dozen Livonia youngsters being arrested for drinking in a park near Northville last week.

I wonder how many citizens saw another news story last week from Lansing which reported that 17.6 percent of the persons sent to state prisons in 1956 were UNDER 20 YEARS OF AGE!

Robert H. Scott, director of the youth division of the state's Correction Department, observes that "crime among youth is switching from the low-income families to those that are well to do—it is becoming less confined to the 'other side of the tracks.'" That trend checks out with some theories of Dr. Rabinovitch of Hawthorne Center, an expert on youth mental problems, who contends that the suburbs themselves are breeding delinquency.

We are hanging stubbornly on this theme in this newspaper with the hope that repetition will hammer the subject into the minds of taxpayers. There are no easy answers to the recreation problem, of course, but if our local officials can become desperately aware of a need, answers will come.

And at the same time, today we want to point out one undesirable situation which has helped to put handcuffs on a bigger and better recreation program so far.

The schools and the local government—in both Livonia and Redford Township—are working almost independently of each other in the field of recreation. There are vague areas of cooperation, to be sure, but the basic climate is one of distrust between the two elements; and hence, lack of coordinated effort.

It is absolute folly to attempt to provide recreation as something that can be divided in two parts, with two unconnected sets of plans, in a community as young as ours where the schools are new and occupy such a large percentage of the total budget. If we have no other facilities yet, at least we have schools.

We shall be waiting with a sensitive ear to the remarks of school board candidates on this most pressing subject; and, as always, we will continue to hope for stepped-up action from the elected city and township officials.

As Housing Chairman and on the Board of the Northwest Child Guidance, Helen, in her modest way, tells of remodeling a 100-year-old home for a clinic. Helen's activities are many—she is vice-president of Redford Union P.T.A.; vice-chairman of the Board of Management of the Northwest YWCA; teaches sewing (Homemakers Holiday) at Herman Gardens; does Crewel work, and can show anyone how to cover a pair of shoes or line a sweater.

For a bit of relaxation Helen and Joseph enjoy together the refinishing of antiques and they also square dance once a week. The fur craft course will be beginning on Tuesday, Jan. 19th from 1:00 to 3:00 pm and continue for 10 weeks. The fee is $9.00 and a membership in the YWCA. Nursery care is available at no extra charge for children 2 to 5 years of age. Call the YWCA today at 474-3232 for more information or to sign up for the class.

Judy Joy Bailey

Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Bailey of Farmington announce the engagement of their daughter, Judy Joy, to Robert Lee Kohl, son of Mrs. Jaunetti Kohl and the late Mr. Dallas Kohl of Findlay, Ohio. Judy is a senior at the University of Michigan. She announced her engagement at her sorority house in a traditional candlelight ceremony on Jan. 7.

Her fiancé attended the Stautzenburger Business College, Toledo, Ohio, and is a member of Pi Rho Zeta Fraternity.

The couple plan a June wedding at Redford Presbyterian Church with the reception to be held at the Botsford Inn, Farmington.

Inaugural Ball a Gay Event

Robert Lindbert, Mayor of Farmington, was crowned "king" of his court on Saturday night at the Inaugural Ball at the Huron River Hunting and Fishing Club.

Every seat in the dining room was taken and the guests were seated at tables with exquisite centerpieces of red and white which bore out the theme for the evening.

The past presidents and the court wore white carnations in their buttonholes and the incoming president and court wore red carnations.

(The court are the committee members who will make all the arrangements for the coming parties and entertainments this year.)

Robert H. Kennedy, this year's president and his wife, Shirley, had as guests, Past President Ray Eichler and his wife, Wayne, Kitty and Andrew Polscher, Matt and Gladys Calderwood, Dave and Marily Duerr and the Tom Driscolls.

A party mood prevailed during the entire evening and guests dined and danced to the music of Allen Tederick and his electric organ and George Alfano's band. Seen on the dance floor were: the Jim Ellis' (formerly with the Farmington League of Subdivisions) and Ned Olesbys, the Earl Viviers, Grace Richardson, elegant in beige wool lace.

Shortly before midnight the crowning ceremony began. Robert Kennedy took the floor and briefly touched upon the past history of the club, and introduced the past presidents and their wives, and his wife Shirley.

Mayor Lindbert to the floor. He placed the jeweled crown on the head of Mayor Lindbert and he was "in" for 65. President Lindbert introduced his wife and his court and then after an acceptance speech urged the guests to return to their dancing.

The high point of the entire evening came when Robert Lindbert took over the saxophone in the band. If he ever tires of politics, he can go back to his music. Observers say he plays the sweetest music this side of Harry James. Even the guests seated at their tables began to tap their feet. Seen on the dance floor when he began to blow "Hello Dolly" were Dr. Whitehead, the Robert Wickhams, Dr. Howard Manz and his wife, and the legal eagle Terry Brennan, who took time off from making serious decisions to dance a mean "cha, cha."

Ray Eichler took time off from dancing to attend his official duties as founder of the "Indoor Bird Watchers Society" and so inspiring were his speeches that two new members of the M & M branch were inducted on the spot.

There have been other inaugural balls but surely none any more fun than this. If this is a symbol of coming events, 1965 ought to be a fun year.

NOTE: WOMEN OF MOOSE Women of Moose Chapter 766 enrolled Jenena Bordin and Patricia Long in membership. Members are encouraged to bring guests to the Games Night.

Also members are asked to remember the Michigan Winter Conference Jan. 31 at 1:30 p.m. at the IOOF Hall on Inkster Road, near Eight Mile.

Franklin Knolls Note Brotherhood Month-Feb.

by Anne Osgood Thursday, Jan. 7 Franklin Knolls Women turned out for a holiday meeting. Following a short business meeting, there was a desert, cards, swapping "white elephants" and conversation. There were 13 floating prizes. Rhoda Levin and Jo Wright were winners. Someone also has another prize (my gold pen).

Rhoda Levin were party planners. Edna Seeley will be home Friday to convalesce after two weeks in St. Mary's Hospital in Livonia.

Feb. 4th will be concerned with Brotherhood Month and will also be the deadline for our progressive dinner which will be the 20th.

Woman Still Active At 94!

On Jan. 19 Mrs. Elvin Harris of 37850 Grantland, Livonia, will celebrate her 94th birthday at a luncheon. Members of the family and friends will attend the party.

At 94 Mrs. Harris is very active and according to her daughter, Patricia Anderson, she still makes quilts, embroiders, and makes her own Christmas cards out of old cards saved for her by friends.

Following the luncheon one of Mrs. Harris' friends, Mrs. Alice Hoover, will show movies that she had taken of Michigan and California.

Mrs. Harris' husband, Elvin, celebrated his 90th birthday on Dec. 20. He is also still active with his hobby of painting and during the summer in his garden.

Where In The World Is the YWCA? Topic For Annual Meeting

The Northwest Branch YWCA Annual Meeting and Members' Luncheon will be held at 12:15 on Wednesday, Jan. 27th. This was announced by Mrs. Richard M. Yale, of 15066 Glastonbury, who is chairman of the event.

The theme for the meeting, which will be held at the YWCA building at 25940 Grand River, Redford Township, will be "Where In The World Is The YWCA?" A skit about the local operation, and a look at the YWCA work around the world will be included in the program. Nursery service for 3 to 5-year-olds will be provided.

Members of the Annual Meeting Committee include Mrs. Richard M. Yale, chairman; Mrs. J. A. Purdie, 13927 Marion; Mrs. W. J. Drinkwater, 19363 Annchester; Mrs. Robert F. Shannon, 9470 W. Outer Drive; Mrs. Lawrence C. Near, 18967 Kentfield; Mrs. George Sweet, 14929 Lindsay; Mrs. Richard W. Sinko, 7140 Springridge, Birmingham; and Mrs. Ralph Fultz, 9961 Grayfield.

Members of the community as well as Y.M.C.A. members are invited to attend the meeting. Luncheon tickets can be purchased at $1.50 at Y.W.C.A. at 25940 Grand River. Reservations must be made by Jan. 22.

Publicity Brings Friends Together Shakespeare's "How far that little candle throws its beam, so shines a good deed in a naughty world"; is quite befitting the following: A picture this past week in The Observer, of Mrs. James Taylor of Maple Tree Drive in Plymouth, brought a young woman to her home whom she had not seen for 20 years. She had been an ardent admirer of Mrs. Taylor during her school days at Cooley High. The woman now happily married with a family was anxious to visit the person who gave her much courage during her learning years. Being deaf made adjustment difficult for Jeanne Dettar among a world of whole people but with Mrs. Taylor's help this became insignificant.

Pro Does "Critique" On Artists Club Work

Thursday, Jan. 14, 8 p.m., the Livonia Artists Club will hold its regular meeting in the Civic Room at the Wonderland Shopping Center.

This promises to be a very exciting and informative evening, as the club has engaged the services of Beauregard Bezou. Mr. Bezou is one of the leading senior teachers of art, on all levels, in this area, has exhibited in many Detroit galleries and is a member of the Michigan Association of Arts and Letters. He will present a lecture accompanied by slides and a "critique" of the members' paintings.

There has been a change of paintings made at the Carl Sandburg Library and several members have paintings out at the "Village Arcade" in Farmington.

Three Fold Family Celebration

Last weekend was a busy time for Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Ward and their family. The cause of all the activity was three-fold. On Jan. 7 the Wards celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary, Mrs. Ward celebrated a birthday, and one daughter Sister Marie James celebrated her silver jubilee as a member of the religious order of Sisters of Saint Joseph in Kalamazoo.

Eight of the nine Ward children gathered in Kalamazoo last Saturday to observe the family celebrations. Mr. Ward's only surviving sister, Mrs. Florence McAlpine came from Windsor for the festivities.

The children that were able to attend were: Mrs. Phyllis McDuffie of Atlanta, Ga.; Sister Mary Gertrude, SSJ, Flint; Sister Mary Ward, SSJ, Charlotte, Mich.; Fr. Eugene, OSB, St. Meinard, Ind.; David, Chicago; Mrs. Carol Rexin, Livonia; and Brother Anthony, OSB, Elmira, N.Y.

Unable to come to Michigan was the Ward's youngest daughter, Sister Mary Paul, OCSO, of Wrentham, Mass. The Wards were married in Marquette, Mich. and moved to the Detroit area at that time. In May 1953 they moved to their present home at 1124 Berwick in Livonia.

Winter Membership For Chorus Planned
Livonia Womens' Chorus will sponsor a "Winter Membership Tea" at Clarenceville High School, 20155 Middlebelt, between Seven and Eight Mile Roads on Jan. 20 at 8 p.m. Members and prospective members are invited according to Mrs. Sharon Hoffer, Membership Chairman.

The Chorus has a busy schedule for Spring. Their first appearance will be at Carmel Hall in Detroit on Feb. 3 and preparations for the April 23 Spring concert are underway.

If you are interested in taking part in these coming programs, attend the Tea and become acquainted. For future information call Sharon Hoffer, 278-4252.

Florida Visitors
Frank, Richard and Evelyn Smith, 35233 Orangelawn, Livonia, were recent visitors at Florida's Silver Springs.

What's New for Spring, Fashions Show By B&PW

Are you tired of dismal weather? Do you need a lift? If so, why not attend the Fashion Show and Luncheon given by the Livonia Business & Professional Women's Club at Lofy's, 42390 Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth, on Jan. 23, 1965, at 12:30 p.m. The fashions will be from the Alice Rebecca Salon, 23348 Farmington Road, Farmington, and promise to be "just what you always wanted." This fashion show and luncheon is being held to raise money for the club's Education Fund part of which is used for the annual Nursing Scholarship. The donation of $3.50 covers the cost of the luncheon, the fashion show and door prizes. Anyone interested in attending may obtain tickets from any member of the Livonia B&PW or from Clara Karr, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee by phoning 427-7232 days or GR 4-2768 in the evenings. Deadline for obtaining tickets is Jan. 20. Circle this date: January 23, 1965 and plan to attend now!

Effects of Light Topic at Meeting
"Interesting and Unusual Effects of Light" will be the program topic at the Wednesday, Jan. 20, meeting of the Men's Club at Rice Memorial Methodist Church. The program will be presented by Fred W. Ready, special applications coordinator for Detroit Edison's sales department. He will discuss the latest developments in light sources and will explain the varying effects of colored lights — including black light — on certain materials. The meeting will be held at the Church, 20560 Cnetralia, and is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m.

Wedding Announced

Mrs. Jesse A. Chadwick
Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lyman of Rensellor Ave., Livonia, announce the marriage of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to A/2c Jesse A. Chadwick on Dec. 28. The couple were married in St. Matthew's Church at an 8:30 p.m. ceremony.

Mr. Chadwick is a native of Leslie, Arkansas and the bride is a graduate of Clarenceville High School. The couple will make their home in Sedalia, Missouri where the bridegroom is stationed with the Air Force.

Writer Hosted by Plymouth DAR

The 39th birthday luncheon of Sarah Ann Cograne chapter DAR will be held at the Mayflower Hotel, Plymouth at 12:30 p.m. on Jan. 18.

Brigadier General S. L. A. Marshall will speak on "National Defense." Regents from DAR chapters in Metropolitan Detroit will be honor guests.

Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Charles Barber, 464-0913, Mrs. Donald Hiller, 349-0022, and Mrs. Felix Hoheisel, 453-4278. Members may bring guests.

Doll Lady To Talk To Women's Club

Guest speaker for the January meeting of Women's Club, Rosedale Gardens Civic Association, will be Mrs. Gladys Ryder who is a member of the Livonia Historical Society. The meeting will be held at the Club House on Thursday, Jan. 21, at 7:30 p.m. Featured will be Mrs. Ryder's antique and historical dolls. Many wearing their original costumes, it is a collection to delight young and old alike. Members are invited to bring their daughters.

Burns-Coon Speak Vows

Miss Sylvia Gayle Coon of Redford Township was married to James William Burns of New Orleans on Saturday, Dec. 26, in Bushnell Congregational Church. Dr. John B. Forsythe officiated at the candlelight service. A dinner reception followed at Botsford Inn.

Sylvia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley L. Coon of 23610 West Chicago, Redford Township. Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Burns of 33965 Pratt, Memphis, Mich.

Sylvia and Jim are both Michigan State University graduates. She was affiliated with the Alpha Delta Pi sorority and has been teaching kindergarten in Lansing. Jim has his masters degree in geology and is presently employed as a petroleum geologist by the California Company in New Orleans.

The bride selected a sheath gown of peau de soie with an alencon lace bodice and hemline border. Her scooped neck dress had long pointed sleeves and a chapel train. A French bow attached a cummerbund in the back. The bridesmaids and flower girls wore floor length, red velvet gowns.

Sylvia's matron of honor was her sister, Sandra Coon Bletz of New York City. She was attended by Joyce Burns, sister of the groom, and Grace Gremel Burns. The flower girls, Jane Foote and Shelly Millard, were nieces of the bride.

The best man was Ben Burns of Arlington Heights, Ill., brother of the groom. The ushers were Jim Foote and Don Burns. The newlyweds will honeymoon in New Orleans where they will live.

The bride's mother chose a peacock blue velveteen suit with a cut away jacket and a hand knit sequin blouse with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding.

The groom's mother wore a powder blue brocade dress with a jacket and matching accessories.

AFS President Introducing Hall Guest

Mr. A. O. Thalacker, President of Metropolitan Board of American Field Service will introduce Willem L. Oltmans, Dutch Journalist when he speaks to the Livonia Town Hall Wednesday, Jan. 20.

"Trouble Spots In Focus" will be his topic when he addresses Town Hall ladies and their guests at the Terrace Theatre on Plymouth Road. He is well qualified, having just returned from a trip to Red China.

It has been said Willem Oltmans has the enthusiasm of youth, the knowledge and understanding of a mature thinker, and the strength of his convictions. You may agree or disagree with him, but in either case you will stop to listen and learn.

Luncheon reservations at the Western Golf and Country Club are being taken by Mrs. Jean Neilson, GA 1-3286.

Wild Flowers Topic Set For Gardeners

Mr. R. D. Merriman will be speaker at The Livonia Home Gardeners Meeting this Wednesday, Jan. 13, at 8 p.m. at Bentley High in Room 111. His subject will be "Wild Flowers" accompanied by colored slides. New officers will also take office for the year. Refreshments served after the meeting and the public is cordially invited.

ANOTHER 1st FOR PLYMOUTH

Ken Robbins, Detroit Branch Dealer Manager, expressed enthusiasm over the rapid growth of the area and felt that Western Office Equipment was well equipped to serve as an AUTHORIZED DEALER. Western will handle their full line of typewriter, adding machines and cash registers. Western now has dealerships for Remington, Burroughs, Victor, Underwood, Smith-Corona, and the Royal Portable. Mr. Pursell, owner, feels that his firm must have a degree of diversification to service the business area with top brands and current prices.

Plymouth Business Women Hear Students

The Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club will hold its regular meeting this month on Monday, Jan. 18, at Hillside Inn at 6:30 p.m.

The World Affairs Committee has planned a program which should prove interesting. They have asked Gunilla Rynning, the Swedish exchange student in Plymouth this year, to speak. In addition, Plymouth's Sue Niemi who went to Sweden last year as an exchange student will tell of her experiences.

Thelma Cushman has been appointed as corresponding secretary to replace Mrs. Al Pertola who is moving to Ohio this month.

Reservations must be made to Thelma Cushman at 453-0638 after 5:00 p.m. by Friday evening, Jan. 15.

Livonia Live Wire

By Bebe Lindhout
591-6478

THE REST of middle-aged Livonia seemingly having spent itself welcoming in the new year, it was up to a charming young couple to carry the social ball over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Woodruff of 11990 Camden celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary on Saturday.

The Gilbert R. Vogels honored them with an open house at their home on Clements Circle . . . over 100 friends and relatives offered their congratulations.

Mrs. Vogel is a daughter of the Woodruffs; another daughter and son who now live in California sent a gorgeous white orchid corsage as their ambassador since they were unable to be present.

A granddaughter, Mrs. David Harvey, and her three youngsters, Deborah 5, Elaine 4, and Mark 2½, were there to make it a four-generation party . . . the Harveys recently moved to Livonia.

Driving through sleet and rain all the way from Springfield, Ill., Mr. Otis Riffey came to share the occasion with his sister-in-law. He "stood up" with the Woodruffs when they were married 50 years ago.

Nieces and nephews also from Springfield arrived with him.

Among the guests were members of Mrs. Woodruff's class and study group at Trinity Church of the Brethren.

The Woodruffs came to Detroit from Genard, Ill., almost 30 years ago. They moved to Livonia when Mr. Woodruff retired in 1959.

Our warmest good wishes to the grand couple.

MOTHERS MARCH . . . "How easy it is to say NO when you're called to collect for this cause, or distribute literature for that one . . . think twice before you say no . . . at least ask what's involved, it may be the luckless caller only wants a half of one block covered."

We had just finished commiserating with Bess Fox, chairman for this year's Mother's March of Dimes when the phone rang again. It was Jackie Johnson, one of Bess's ablest lieutenants, to ask me if I'd work this year. What could I say!

Somehow, with Jackie describing it, the Mother's March becomes a heroic episode . . . as she relates how last year she waded through snow drifts at the turkey farm looking for somebody, anybody, to put a few coins in her container; finally slipping, falling in an ignominious heap under her car . . . the Royal Canadian Mounties would be proud of her.

If you are called upon this year, think of it not as just an extra chore, but an exciting adventure.

Besides the Mothers' March, which comes on Jan. 26, Bess announced that the date has already been set for the March of Dimes Card Party. It will take place on Feb. 17 at Bentley High School . . . keep your calendar clear for this one. Last year there were 145 door prizes given away. This year, with Elvira Egelund, our Mrs. Michigan, acting as door prize chairman there should be an outstanding array of goodies.

Livonia couples we know DID NOT spend New Year's Day in front of TV watching the football games—because they were there in person—were the Pete

Kinyons, Laura and Otto Pommerening . . . they were on the train sponsored by the U. of M. Club of Detroit. We noticed several of these Rose Bowl Specials included a detour to Las Vegas . . . "keep Nevada silent!"

Wins Award

Donna Mathews, 18215 Gillman, Livonia, is one of six winners in the "What Christmas Means to Me" contest sponsored by Michigan Bell magazine.

A third grade student at Botsford School, Donna drew a picture for the contest. It was published in the magazine's December issue.

Some public movements could be classified as lost motion.

4 Generations Visit Commentary By Sylvia Scheduled

A FOUR GENERATION picture honoring the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Woodruff of Livonia. (l-r) Hostess to her parent's Open House, Mrs. Gilbert R. Vogel, the Woodruffs and their granddaughter of Mrs. David Harvey with her three youngsters, Elaine, Mark and Deborah.

Sylvia Barkley presents — "Flowers of Hawaii" at the January 19 meeting of the Livonia Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association at St. Andrews Episcopal Church, 16360 Hubbard Road, Livonia at 2 p.m.

Fresh flowers and foliage are being flown in from Hawaii for the occasion.

Mrs. Barkley will also show pictures of interesting scenes taken in Hawaii. This is not a travelogue.

Hostesses for the day: Mrs. Patrick O'Brien, Mrs. Leonard Mann, Mrs. George McGrath and Mrs. Donald Rebb.

Ladies interested in joining a garden club, call Mrs. John Van Lier, GA 1-1635.

Patricia Cundari

Mr. and Mrs. Peter M. Cundari of Livonia announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia, to Michael Doherty, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Doherty of West Outer Drive, Detroit.

Miss Cundari is a graduate of Bentley High School and is a student at Detroit College of Business. Her fiancé attends Henry Ford Community College. June 26 has been chosen for the wedding.

It's A Boy
It's a boy for Van and Anita Popoff, Buckingham Ave., in Livonia. Gary John, their first child, was born Dec. 22 in Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn.

It's About Time Somebody Told The Truth About 'Ghost Brand' Appliances

The washer, refrigerator, television set or stereo that doesn't carry the name of a reputable maker may not be the bargain you think it is. Read how certain retailers trick the consumer with pleasant sounding private labels — "ghost brands" that mean little. Today there are two kinds of stores where you can buy appliances. One kind offers you a choice of national brands of reliable, responsible and reputable manufacturers . . . General Electric, Philco, Zenith, Maytag, RCA-Victor, Magnavox, Tappan, Toastmaster, Frigidaire, Speed Queen, Hoover, Sunbeam, Carrier, Amana, Kelvinator, and other trusted names.

The other kind severely limits your choice. These retail stores feature their own private brands to the virtual exclusion of everything else. You don't see the name of the manufacturer on the appliance they sell.

To make private or "ghost brands" more acceptable, the prices are usually set a little under the price of known brand names. The operators of these stores want you to think you are getting a bargain, but are you?

IT TAKES MORE THAN PRICE TO MAKE A BARGAIN!

Quality manufacturers are proud to put their names on honest products. They're quite ready to accept the responsibility for the performance and durability of the products they make. They themselves offer the customer warranties and guarantees for your protection. They keep stocks of spare parts on hand . . . provide elaborate national service organizations. These manufacturers and BERRY'S know that their reputations and future business depend on customer satisfaction. But when you buy from a store that features its own "ghost brand" you don't know who made the product. Even if you could find out, the manufacturer can hardly be expected to accept responsibility for something that doesn't even carry his name, particularly, when the item was made to sell at a price set by the "ghost brand" retailer. You can't get away from the fact that cut-price manufacturing often results in inferior products. The "ghost brands" generally look good in these stores. You would have to make a detailed engineering analysis to find out what, if anything, has been left out . . . what manufacturing shortcuts were taken.

But truth will out. A year—or even a few months—from now, the true standards of manufacturing are likely to show up. And if trouble starts, where will you go for parts and service? Maybe the store will be able to help you. Maybe not. But there is no manufacturer you can go to because he's a "ghost"—there is just a concocted name on the appliance.

HOW TO PROTECT YOUR POCKETBOOK!

It's pretty obvious, isn't it? If you want to be sure of solid value then buy appliances that carry the names and brands of well-known manufacturers, all of whom are trying to give you the best possible product for the money. At the "ghost brand" store you are generally faced with a choice of one brand — take-it-or-leave-it. If you like a freedom of choice — and most Americans do — then go to the stores that let you choose from brand names!

THE SPORTS OBSERVER — BY GEORGE MASKIN

Schoolcraft College Athletics Expansion on Docket

We live today and think and plan for tomorrow. This statement holds especially true in the case of Marv Gans, who is in charge of the athletic program at the new Schoolcraft College.

Sports at Schoolcraft presently are being conducted on a modified basis. They had a cross country team last fall and this winter Schoolcraft is being represented in both basketball and swimming.

To conduct these activities constitutes a flock of major headaches.

Foremost, Schoolcraft has no athletic facilities of its own. This means the basketballers must practice and play where they can. The so-called "home" schedule calls for games at Plymouth, Franklin and Clarenceville high schools.

It's even more difficult to get in practices. Take the swimmers. Very often, they must be assembled at 6 a.m.—that's right—six in the morning—so that the squad can drill before high school students take over the pool for the rest of the day.

"And, we have other problems," Gans tells the visitor from the newspaper world.

"We have to build school spirit," Gans goes on. "That's no snap... especially at any college where the students don't live on campus."

"Somehow when the students leave the campus for the day, they don't want to rush back at night to watch a game or a swimming meet."

"They have that problem at the University of Detroit and Wayne State University, where they have had sports programs going for a great many years. Thus, our situation here is not unique."

"But, in time we think we'll get the Schoolcraft students to take more pride and interest in their athletic teams."

Talking about the future, Gans thinks that the day may not be too far away when Schoolcraft will field teams in baseball, track, tennis and golf along with cross country, basketball and swimming.

"We're going to have intramural teams in softball, tennis and golf this coming spring," Gans said. "If the interest is anything like we anticipate, well, maybe by 1966 we'll be sending forth varsity teams in each sport."

What about football?

Gans doesn't know.

"We had some intramural teams this past fall and again will continue along the same line next fall. A varsity team, however, may be several years away."

Late Explosion Wins For Farmington Cagers

A payoff drive in the final three minutes brought Farmington high's basketball team a 78-70 triumph over Waterford Friday night in the Inter-lakes League opener for both teams.

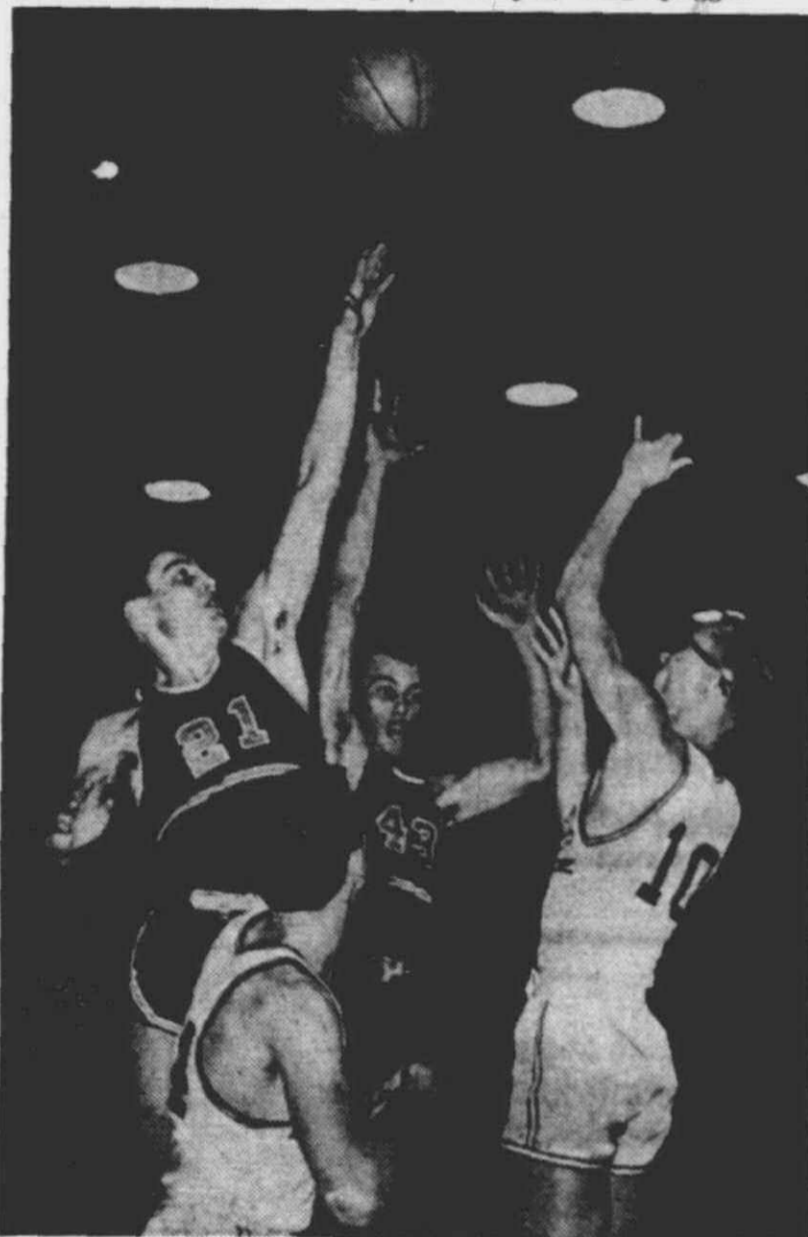

With the score tied at 68-68 and five minutes of the closing quarter history, Farmington proceeded to outscore Waterford, 10-2, and wrap up the evening's festivities.

Terry Taggart, Mike Wilson and John Olander shared honors in the closing spurt. Taggart and Wilson each scored four points, while Olander got the other two.

Coach Jack Quiggle had only high praise for his victorious Farmington quintet.

"Our kids turned in a wonderful job," said Quiggle.

Thurston Smashes Record

Coach Mike Pasternak's Thurston High basketball team had just whipped John Glenn of Wayne, 103-47, for a record score for the South Redford Township.

The old Thurston high for a single game was 83.

Running up such a one-sided tally didn't make Pasternak happy. He was angry especially when the opposing coach accused him "of pouring it on."

"What could we do? We played all of our fellows. Everybody scored. We gave our regulars a lot of rest, but since we were just going back into action after a holiday layoff, they couldn't expect us not to use our regulars at all."

"Besides, we tried to freeze the ball and not score in the final period. But they kept fouling us... and we'd get chances from the free-throw line."

The game never was close. Thurston jumped in front, 35-14, in the first quarter with John Page firing in 10 points and from then on it was one-sided.

In the second period Thurston outscored Glenn, 15-7; the difference in the third period was 28-14; in the fourth, 25-12.

It should be noted the Glenn High is a new school, just breaking into sports activities.

Page wound up leading the Thurston assault with eight baskets and two free throws for 18 points. He was followed by Rick Stefani with 14. Reg Barringer was next with 3-7-13. Then came Randy Samelson with 4-3 and Gary Schulte with 5-10.

Gary Knock chipped in with nine, Terry Rothwell and Dan Morgan with eight each; Mike Bernhardt with five, Fred Koester with four and Doug Hay with two points to complete the Thurston point production.

The rebounding of Samelson, Stefani and Schulte also had a lot to do with the Thurston victory by so wide a margin.

The win was third for Thurston against six losses.

In reserve action, it was Thurston by an 80-54 score as Dan Block tossed in 10 for high honors.

R.U. Tankers Beat Rocks First Time

Swimming history was made last Thursday by Redford Union high school.

For the first time the Townshipers fashioned a dual meet triumph over Plymouth. The score was 62-43.

Plymouth had downed Redford Union six straight times before the latest meet.

Tom Rice paced the Redford Union triumph. He won both the individual medley and the butterfly, setting a new school record of 58.7 seconds in the latter event. Rice himself had held the old mark of 59 seconds.

Steve Glazier also turned in a "double" for Redford Union as he won the 200-yard free style and then came back with a triumph in the 440-yard free.

The victory over Plymouth followed on the heels of a 59-48 loss to Southfield. Rice and Steve Glazier again starred for Redford Union.

Rice won the individual medley and the butterfly while Glazier again was first home in the two long free style events.

Here's how Redford Union scored against Southfield:

R. Union Nips Rocks

A thriller all the way. No better description befits Redford Union High's 51-50 victory over Plymouth High in a Suburban Six League basketball game last Friday night. It took a comeback, along with a revised defense, to bring RU home the victor and lift its league record to 2-1, while Plymouth was going down to its third consecutive conference reversal without a victory.

The Rocks started like they were going to tear apart Redford Union and the RU gym. After one quarter it was 23-17 for Plymouth as Gary Grady hit for seven points (five on free throws) and Jim Lake knocked in four points for the Rocks.

'YOU FOULED!' — The referee is in the act of shooting. RU's Lee Bjerke right on the spot to call a foul on Jim Lake (51) as he clips Al Maebach (54) is sprawled on the floor. RU won in a thriller by a single point.

When the second period rolled around, Milo Karhu, the RU coach, decided to move his team into a zone defense after they had been using a man-to-man.

The maneuver paid off. Plymouth was held to six points in the second period.

But the Rocks were not fooling around either on defense in the second period. They, too, held their foes to six points during the period. As a result, the halftime break saw Plymouth in front, 29-23.

RU finally began to move with better efficiency on offense in the third period and with Al Maebach striking for four quick baskets, the Townshipers pulled even with Plymouth at 38-38 to enter the final quarter.

The team continued to fight on even terms until just under two minutes remained in the game.

A basket on a tip-in by Harry Kendrick broke a 46-46 tie and shot RU in front for keeps.

Moments later Maebach drilled in a basket and he then was fouled. His successful charity proved the game's deciding MILES KEARNEY (21) of Sorrows High stretches high to take the ball away from a Royal Oak St. Mary's rival. Sorrows won the game by one point.

Lose To Clarkston

Too much of everything on the part of the Clarkston High basketball team sank Clarenceville's cagers, 67-41, last Friday night in a Wayne-Oakland League game.

The Clarkston forces jumped off to a 10-1 lead in the first three minutes. Clarenceville rallied to within a 16-12 tie, but Clarkston boomed again and held a 38-19 halftime lead.

From then on the North Livonians never made a serious challenge.

Chris Hawkins, one of the top Clarenceville players, was able to perform for only a half because of an injury, but he still led his team 11 points.

Doug Waak was next with eight points, followed by Danny Freels with five, Mike Nye four, Tim Spicer and Rich Taurainen with three each; Ron and Larry Ray and Gordon Johnson with two each and Fred Neal with one point.

The reserve game proved a thriller with Clarenceville winning by a 38-37 score.

FOR SORROWS TEAM

Victory Nets A.M. Practice

The final gun sounded to signify another victory for Our Lady of Sorrows' high school basketball team.

It was Friday night and Sorrows had just beat Pontiac St. Michaels, 83-67, to bring the Sorrows' record to six wins in seven starts in the Catholic League's Northwest Division.

The Sorrows' players naturally were happy and rejoicing. Some had their "dates" waiting outside the dressing room.

But Coach Bob Morris had other ideas.

"We're playing Orchard Lake St. Mary's Tuesday night for first place (Orchard Lake is unbeaten in the division," barked the coach.

The players looked up at their mentor, wondering what he might say next.

"Okay, we'll practice at 7 a.m. tomorrow (Saturday) morning," added the coach. "We have a lot of things to do before we face Orchard Lake."

Thus, a lot of dates had to be called off. There may have been some sad coeds, but the Sorrows players had no reason to be "down" after the way they performed against Pontiac St. Michael.

Miles Kearney and Bryant Benner were the big offensive guns in the game with 27 points and 19, respectively, between them. Mike Bars chipped in 12 to aid the victors' cause.

Sorrows was in command all the way.

The triumph followed on the heels of a 60-59 squeaker on Tuesday against Royal Oak St. Mary's.

This was a game which develops ulcers for a coach.

Strategy Change Helps N. Farm.

It very frequently takes a tragedy to turn the tide of a sports event.

Last Friday night's Franklin-North Farmington basketball game at Franklin was a good example.

As long as North Farmington employed a man-to-man defense, Franklin managed to stay close or even command the situation.

But when Coach Dick Wilson of North Farmington ordered his forces to switch to a zone-press defense in the final period, things quickly changed and North Farmington came from behind to score a 50-42 victory.

The triumph was North Farmington's second in three Northwest Suburban League starts and kept the team in the thick of contention for the crown.

Franklin, on the other hand, now stands 0-2 in the league and overall has only one win to show in five starts.

The game was tied at 15-15 after one quarter, but Franklin pulled in front, 25-22 by halftime. The third period ended with Franklin clinging to a 33-33 advantage.

Then came the switch in North Farmington's defensive pattern.

It requires little arithmetic knowledge to note that North Farmington outscored Franklin, 17-7, in the closing eight minutes.

"We just started to throw the ball away," declared John Hartsig, the Franklin coach.

In the "fatal" final period for Franklin, the Livonians were able to make only one basket—a two-pointer by Sam Antonazzo—along with five charities, all by Tom Cannon.

Rick Schultz was the hero of the evening for North Farmington. He not only led all scorers with 26 points on ten baskets and six charities, but he meshed seven of his points in the closing moments to pace the North Farmington comeback.

Ron Watson chipped in four points and Larry August three more to help North Farmington in the exciting win.

Rick Lorenz has 10 points for second high on the winning side. Then came Watson with six, August with three, John Bye with two, Mill McDonald with two and Curt Schumacher with one.

Antonazzo hit six baskets for 12 points to lead Franklin. Al

Jose had four hoops and a charity for nine points, followed by Cannon with one basket and six charities for eight points.

Paul Katosh scored six, Ray Porter three and Al Helisek and Bill Bauer two each to round out the Franklin scoring.

The Franklin reserves came through a winner in a thriller, 40-38, led by Dave Kosteva and Carl Gulbranson with 12 points each. Jim Rulapaugh fired in 18 points in a losing cause.

WHO'S GOT IT? Steve Schumacher (23) of North Farmington and Tom Cannon (50) of Franklin fight for rebound. Schumacher came out the winner. So did his team in Northwest Suburban League game.

St. Agatha Suffers 2 Losses

Strange things happen in sports.

St. Agatha's high's basketball team found out as much last Friday night against Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes.

The Townshippers bounced off to a 32-23 lead at halftime. During those 16 minutes, Rick Collins of St. Agatha hit on eight straight shots from the floor for 18 points.

When St. Agatha went to the lockerroom for the intermission pause, the team was smiling—unaware, of course, of the bomb which was to fall upon them as soon as the third period began.

As play resumed, Waterford struck for eight quick points in a row while St. Agatha drew a blank. So St. Agatha Coach Dave Brazil called a timeout to try and change things.

The strategy didn't do much. Waterford was still hot with eight—making six more points in a row for a total of 14 while St. Agatha went scoreless to put the Lakes in front for keeps. The Lakes went on to win, 65-47.

"Imagine, we scored 32 points in the first half and only 15 in the second," lamented Brazil after the game was over.

Collins topped the losers with 22 points. Mike Roemer was next with 11.

It was the second defeat of the week for St. Agatha. On Tuesday, the team had bowed to Pontiac St. Michael, 67-56.

In this one, too, St. Agatha started strongly, holding a 15-13 lead at the end of the first quarter. St. Michael went three up for halftime and increased its margin to six in the third period.

Roemer paced the St. Agatha charge with 24 points. Dan Lilley was next with eight.

St. Agatha's reserves, meantime, triumphed in both their games.

Pat Timmons scored 19 points and Terry Phillips 16 in a 50-34 conquest over St. Michael.

The reserve battle with Waterford went into overtime before a shot by Dennis McKenna won matters, 39-37. Mike Wleznjak pumped in 14 points for the victors.

RU Adds To String

Redford Union high school's wrestling team keeps rolling along.

The Townshippers downed Southfield, 26-12, and Clarenceville, 27-16, last week and now boast a season's record of six wins against one defeat.

Complete results of the RU-Clarenceville meet:

- 95—pounds — Wytalio (C) defeated Hickman.
- 105—Dallas (RU) beat Frechette.
- 112—Belsley (RU) beat Vedder.
- 120—Dewey (RU) downed Watkins.
- 127 — Grover (RU) beat Armstrong.
- 135—Clark (C) defeated Wickens.
- 138—Ralpko (C) defeated Pike.
- 145—Swartz (C) drew with Housel.
- 154—Bedsom (C) pinned Mastrianni.
- 165—Bargo (RU) beat Freely.
- 180—Srock (RU) pinned Litwin.
- Heavyweight — Dentrino (RU) pinned Prisk.

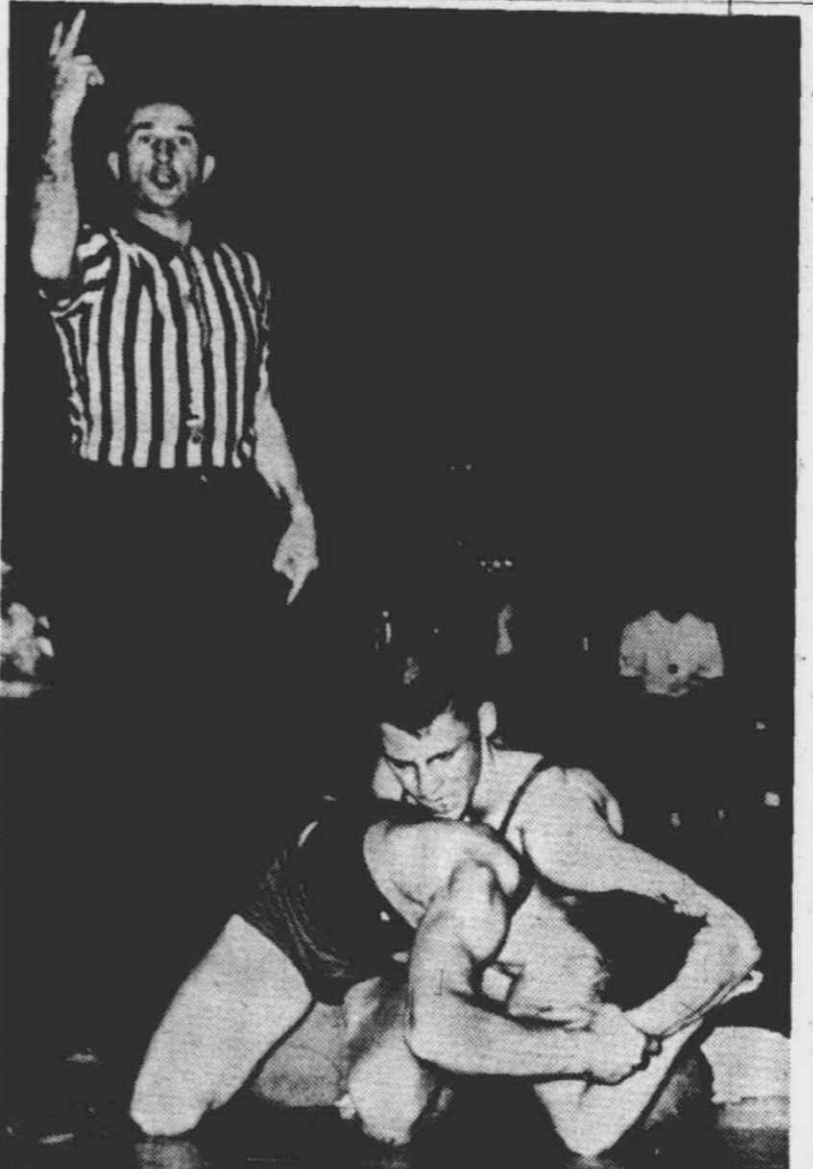

Here's how RU entries fared against Southfield: 95—Hickman lost; 103—Dallas won decision; 112—Belsley won decision; 120—Dewey lost; 127—Grover lost; 135—Coates won decision; 138—Pike won decision; 145—Housel won decision; 154—Aho lost; 165—Bargo won decision; 180—Srock won by pinning rival; Heavyweight — Dentrino won on decision.

Scores 1st Mat Victory

Farmington High's wrestling team came through with its first win of the season last Thursday in handing East Detroit its first loss. The score was 22-21.

The results for Farmington follow:

- 95 pounds—Gary Tudball pinned rival.
- 103—Art Woehler, winner on decision.
- 112—Ron Mortenson, lost on decision.
- 120—Bob Pink, lost on decision.
- 133—Danny Heurr, won on decision.
- 138—Tom Hughes, lost on decision.
- 145—Rick Levy, won on decision.
- 154—Dick Johnson, winner on decision.
- 165—Carl Mitch, winner on decision.
- 180—Don Kuffel, lost on decision.
- Heavyweight — Don Klotowender, lost on fall.

TWO POINTS: So signals the referee as Dave Pikes of Redford Union scores against Clarenceville's Dave Kaipo in their 138-pound match. Wrestling has boomed as a schoolboy sport in Michigan.

Celebrities Join In 'Dimes' Meet

Bowling enthusiasts in the Livonia area will have a chance to see many of the nation's top sports celebrities in action Saturday when the management of the Cloverlanes, 28900 Schoolcraft, presents a Celebrity Tournament in support of the March of Dimes campaign.

Manager Tony Branoff, a former football great at the University of Michigan, has received promise of support from many of his former teammates as well as football, basketball and baseball greats of the present and past.

Among those slated to appear for the tournament, which will take place between 4 p.m. and 6 p.m., are: All-American Bob Timberlake and Capt. Joe Conley of this year's U-M champions, Gary Low, Terry Barr and Nick Pietrosante of the Detroit Lions; Bill Freehan, Hank Aguirre and Al Kaline of the Detroit Tigers; Roger Zatkoff and Tom Maentz, former U-M stars; Ron Kramer of the Green Packers and one or two members of the Detroit Pistons.

Among those expected to participate in the rolloff are: Circuit Judge James Canham of Redford Township; Supervisor Jack McDonald of Redford Township; Municipal Judge Robert Lorton of Livonia; and Freddy Wolf, well-known radio and television bowling announcer.

From the celebrity rolloff will come a high score which will be rolled against by visitors to Cloverlanes during the entire week of Jan. 17.

Sets Mark In Pinning Mat Rival

Jim Dragon, wrestling in the 103-pound class, set a North Farmington record last Thursday when he beat his rival from John Glenn High Wayne in 25 seconds.

Never before had a North Farmington matman won in so fast a time.

Dragon's triumph paced North Farmington to a 33-11 victory—the school's fourth in a row without a loss this season.

Here are the results for North Farmington:

- 95-pounds; Rick Gunderlock, winner on decision.
- 103—Dragon pinned rival.
- 112—Dennis Vartanian pinned rival.
- 120—Dan Vartanian, winner on decision.
- 127—Mark Campbell, winner on decision.
- 132—Gregg Raymond, winner on decision.
- 138—Terry Geha, lost on decision.
- 145—Ray Roberts, lost on decision.
- 154—Terry Sbarbach, lost on decision.
- 165—Dick Allen, winner on decision.
- 180—Craig Wycinsky, winner on decision.
- Heavyweight—Mike Cobes, winner via pin.

The junior varsity from North Farmington also came through with an impressive victory.

Tartars Battle 2 Loop Rivals

Wayne State University's basketball team will resume Presidents' Athletic Conference action this weekend when it meets two eastern schools.

Friday the Tartars play at Thiel College in Greenville, Pa., and Saturday the cagers will be in neighboring Meadville to meet the Allegheny Gators. Friday's game will be the first conference tilt for the Tartars since December 5, when they clobbered Case Tech, 96-62.

Bentley Knocked From League Lead

Coach George Fefles of Bentley high's basketball team is as gracious in defeat as he is in victory.

Fefles offered no alibis after Bentley dropped a 74-69 verdict to Trenton last Friday night.

The defeat was costly to the defending Suburban Six League champs. It knocked them out of a share of first place with Allen Park when the latter bested Belleville, 82-79, in double overtime.

As a result Allen Park stands 3-0, while Bentley, Redford Union and Trenton all have 2-1 records.

"This was one of our better games," declared Fefles after his team had led until the closing moments when Trenton put on a spurt that paid off with the triumph.

"We played very well considering they had a height edge. Sure we made some mistakes and we threw the ball away a few times when it hurt. But so did they."

Bentley held command by a 25-1 score after one period as Fred Matevia, Tim Dull and Nick Bondar each knocked in six points and Bob Elsner contributed four more.

Halftime found Bentley holding to a 36-36 lead, but by the third quarter, Bentley had upped its advantage to 55-51.

However, in the closing quarter, Trenton outscored its rival by 23-14, with Gerald Victor of the Trenton points in the closing drive.

Trenton caught Bentley with about four minutes left to go. Then the downriver team went into the lead, but Bentley bounced back to get even at 69-69 with two minutes to go.

A basket by Vicks broke the tie and Trenton added three more points before time ran out while Bentley was blanked.

A pressing-zone defense helped Trenton to slow down point in the wake of what was to happen in the closing 35 seconds.

Refusing to concede anything, Plymouth roared back on baskets by Dave Hollingsworth and Dave Tidwell. The latter's tally came with just four seconds remaining and RU was able to hold on to preserve the win.

RU coach Karhu was somewhat disappointed with his team's showing.

"We were flat after three fine games in the holiday tournament," declared Karhu.

Maebach topped all scorers with 22 points on nine baskets and four free throws. Orin Newton was next for RU with five baskets and two free throws for 12 points. Kendrick and Mike McCrea each had six points, Lee Bjerke four and Steve Crane one for the victors.

For Plymouth, Grady set the game's pace with four baskets and nine out of 10 from the foul line for 17 points. Tidwell followed with five baskets and one free throw for 11 points.

Jim Lake had six, Hollingsworth four, John Burgener three, Jim Scharman two, Don Stamper two and Rick Jones two.

The Plymouth reserves had no trouble coming through with a 58-32 victory. Bill Wayne had 18 points while John Dabis tossed in 11 for the victors.

Glen Davis scored 12 for the losers.

Istvan Danosi's fencing team at Wayne State will host cross-town rival University of Detroit on Saturday at 11 a.m. in the Old Main gym.

Schoolcraft Quintet Loses to Muskegon

HIGH IN AIR goes Schoolcraft College's Gerry Kisaabeth (14) for a rebound in the losing, 70-48, battle against Muskegon Junior College. Gerry, of Plymouth, was Schoolcraft's leading scorer with 10 points.

Schoolcraft College bowed to Muskegon Junior College Saturday at Franklin High by a score of 70-48.

Before a small crowd, Schoolcraft led at the half 29-25 but the tide was sure to change. Gerald Kisaabeth of Schoolcraft paced the first half scorers with 10 points.

From the very start of the second half the Muskegon Jayhawks took complete control. They used a fast break to advantage while Schoolcraft was disorganized.

With eight minutes left, Muskegon led 54-40.

A spurt in the closing minutes wasn't enough for Schoolcraft.

Cal Luibrad and Kisaabeth led Schoolcraft in scoring with 14 and 13 points, respectively.

Dave Workman paced Muskegon with 20.

A home game is on slate for Schoolcraft this Saturday when it meets Cleary College at Franklin High.

Thurston Splits In Wrestling

Thurston high's wrestling team broke even in a pair of dual meets last week.

After losing to powerful-unbeaten Hazel Park by a 20-18 score, Thurston bounced back to score a 39-11 conquest over Oak Park. The Thurston record now stands at three wins against two losses this season.

Here are the Thurston results:

Victory Nets A. M. Practice

At one time in the third period, Sorrows was in front by as many as 18 points.

Then the team fell dead. Before Coach Morris could knock around, St. Mary's had knotted up matters at 56-56 with two minutes left in the game.

This, perhaps, explains why Morris decided to call a 7 a.m. practice only nine hours or so after the win against St. Michael.

A free throw by Bars broke the tie against St. Mary's. Then Benner made another charity and Kearney came through with a big basket that proved the winner.

St. Mary's retaliated with a free toss and with five seconds to go, Sorrows' players stood aside and permitted a St. Mary's basket to be registered. Sorrows wanted to make sure that the player wasn't fouled on the play.

Benner wound up as Sorrows' top scorer. He had 26 points.

After Tuesday's game with Orchard Lake, Sorrows will meet Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes on the road.

Observing Sports

"For one thing, football is very expensive. Then, too, we might have trouble finding suitable opponents. Few junior colleges sponsor grid teams. This would mean that we might have to face teams from much bigger schools. We'd be outmanned from the outset and that wouldn't help us."

Gans reports there is a new gym on the building horizon for Schoolcraft.

"I'm told we might have such a structure by 1966-67," he relates. "That would help us no end. It would reduce many of the problems we now face."

How about a swimming pool?

"That's a long way off, I'm afraid," Gans says. "Nobody even has given a hint that we can have a pool."

Nor is there any discussion of a football or baseball field. But these aren't too pressing. Nearby high schools always are willing to rent out their grounds and certainly arrangements could be made to use Livonia's lighted Ford Field for night baseball should Schoolcraft ever sponsor a diamond team.

Gans has three men working with him—athletically speaking. Wilson Munn assists with basketball, Roger Lancona handles swimming while Tony Rizzo worked with the cross country contingent.

So far, Gans is satisfied with the progress Schoolcraft has made in sports. But, as stated at the outset, Schoolcraft is living today but thinking and planning for tomorrow—in sports and everything else.

LOOKING FOR an interesting afternoon?

We'd like to suggest that you drop over to the Cloverlanes Bowling alleys on Saturday from 4-6 p.m. It's going to be Celebrities Day . . . and you'll meet such people as Earl Morrall, Teddy Barr and Nick Pietrosante from the Lions; Ron Kramer and Dan Currie of the Green Bay Packers; Al Kaline and Hank Aguirre from the Tigers and likely Dave DeBusschere from the Pistons.

These big wheels in sports will team up with many of Livonia's leading citizens to establish a score at which other Livonians may shoot next week.

Each person trying to beat the celebrities will pay $2 for the privilege of rolling three games. In return, the bowler will receive a handsome trophy . . . and Cloverlanes will donate 25 per cent from each entry fee to the March of Dimes.

Tony Branoff is the man behind the celebrities feat. Tony manages Cloverlanes.

It wasn't too many years ago that we had the honor of picking Branoff, Morrall, Barr and Kramer on our all-state football team. They all were selected about the same time.

The celebrities event is quite an attraction. It's worth attending.

PICTURE TALK by Les Wilson

BE A SHOWMAN

In my book, a "showman" is a pretty special kind of fellow. When he puts on a show . . . any kind of show . . . there's a sort of professionalism about it that makes you know right away you're going to enjoy the performance. So I'm going to let you in on one of a showman's professional secrets: he lets nothing, but nothing, get in the way of the show. No interruptions. No delays. No interferences.

If he's going to give a talk illustrated with slides, for example, he makes sure he has a projector that he can depend on for a smooth performance. Nowadays, he probably uses a KODAK CAROUSEL Projector. It's the jamproof one. The kind you should be using when you want to show off your slides.

The big thing about this projector (there are three models to choose from) is the gravity feeding round tray that holds 80 slides and sits right on top of the projector where you can get at it for instant rearranging of slides and easy, instant changing of the whole tray when you've run through your first 80 slides. These trays, by the way, store on a shelf just like a book and can't spill. The most automatic of the three CAROUSEL Projectors models has remote control of forward and reverse, remote control of fine focus and an automatic sequence timer that lets the show run itself with intervals of 5, 8, and 15 seconds between slides. There's even an attachment that lets you dissolve from slide to slide and a programmer that lets you add taped sound. These are extras, of course.

Wouldn't you like to bring in some of your favorite slides and let me show you how much more enjoyable they are when shown with one of these showman like projectors?

MSU Players Production of 'Taming of The Shrew' Visits Area Tomorrow Pops Concert A Success

Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew" will be staged by the Michigan State University's Performing Arts Company at the Franklin High School Auditorium on Jan. 14.

Presented by the Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford, two performances of the production are slated, one a matinee at 2:45 p.m. and an evening show at 8 p.m.

"The Taming of the Shrew" is one of Shakespeare's most robust comedies. It tells of the madcap Petruchio, played by Fredric De Santis and the various trickeries and techniques he uses to try to tame the unwily shrew, Katharine, portrayed by Chilton Cunningham.

From their first explosive meeting, Petruchio subjects Kate to verbal and physical indignities, all the while pretending to be a kind soul. Contrasted to this direct clash are the efforts of Lucentio, played by Terry Williams, and Hortensio, portrayed by Vance Paul to win Katharine's demure sister, Bianca, played by Catherine Mann.

This popular play by Shakespeare is the main plot source for the musical "Kiss Me Kate." Dealing with a popular theme, that of a man's attempts to control his woman, audiences are greatly entertained by the antics to outwit Katharine in "The Taming of the Shrew."

Tickets, which are priced at $1.50 and 75 cents for students, may be obtained by calling GA 2-4921.

The Livonia Youth Symphony Orchestra opened its season with the third annual pops concert last weekend.

They played to a capacity house at Franklin High School. In fact, the audience was so large that the folding partitions were opened into the cafeteria to accommodate all the people.

Featured on the program was the Bentley High School Concert Choir under the direction of Jerry Smith.

Les Farkas is conductor of the Orchestra.

Following the symphony coffee was served to the people attending. Mrs. R. Carne was in charge of this project and Mrs. R. L. Shirley and Mrs. J. Taylor poured.

Proceeds from the concert went to the Orchestra's general operating fund.

CURTAIN GOING UP

By WALLY ROBERTS

In August, 1606, at the Hampton Court Palace of King James I of England the first performance of "Macbeth" was presented. Will Shakespeare wrote the play for England's Scottish King. King James had come to England after the death of Queen Elizabeth in 1603.

Many scholars believe the play was finished in haste since King James upped the opening on Bill by a couple of weeks. The young Bard ordered extra candles and goose quills and finished the drama in time.

Will Shakespeare knew that King James loved action and wasn't too long on philosophy. It was rumored that, when the action flagged, his honor, the King, would settle back and take 40 in his regal chair. King James also had an aversion for long plays and over-elaborate language. Knowing all this, Bill fashioned "Macbeth" to move rapidly and have plenty of action.

Three hundred and sixty years later the Hilberry Classic theater produced their version of "Macbeth." Director Richard Spears added some new touches to this King James thriller for modern day Detroit audiences. Spectacular scenes, beautiful incidental music, and wonderful costumes gave sweep and grandeur to this spirited Spears version.

"Macbeth" can be a most difficult play to produce because of the dichotomous nature of this ill-fated soldier. Is Macbeth a poet or is he a villain? He must be a warrior capable of killing Duncan and his servants. All this; and yet he must be a sensitive, imaginative man. His speeches are pure poetry. Some of the best that Shakespeare has ever penned.

In the Hilberry production that will be playing in repertory for the next six months the character of Macbeth as limned by Alexander Panas is not yet clearly defined. With a week or two under his actor's belt I'm sure he will give us a more lucid portrayal. Old Wally prefers the warrior approach. Of course, Mr. Panas is a somewhat slight individual. He may have to go the poet's route.

The Hilberry "Macbeth" production will be joined raucously by "Taming of the Shrew" this week. The two plays will alternate until a third production opens in two weeks. I use the term "raucously" advisedly since Director Leone has warned everyone that his actors will make their first scene entrance on shiny red, roaring motorcycles. "The Shrew" lends itself well to modern dress versions. We are looking forward to this motorized version as wheeled in by the Classic troupe.

Taking a closer look at the opening production of "Macbeth", you will be treated to some excellent acting. K. Lype O'Dell as the bereaved MacDuff when he learns of his children being brutally murdered won the audience's acclaim with a rousing round of applause. Robert Oram, a new member of the company, performs the thankless role of Duncan admirably. We hope we see more of him in later productions.

William Hezlep, David Menehghel and Marshall Bordon, and John Criner give outstanding performances. Criner has three roles in the production and dispatches each of them with professional polish. Of course, Mr. Criner was not the only member of the company performing in a dual capacity. With the exception of the two lead roles everyone was quite busy changing make-up, costumes, and props for their other roles.

The apparitions in "Macbeth" either plague a director of this tragedy or they delight him. Director Spears falls in the latter group. His concept of these supernatural events verged on the spectacular all evening. The cauldron is a steaming Mount Vesuvius, Banquo's Ghost drips with gory, and the original three witches are aided and abetted by three symbolic Goddesses of Fate. Old Wally almost believed in witchcraft after being subjected to this demonic sights.

Not all was good in the opening production of "Macbeth." I would like to see Gertrude Crippen make more of an effort to chill my blood. At no time did I feel she was the evil, the iron will in back of Macbeth. It was her ambition and driving desire that drives Macbeth to his doom. Miss Crippen has not yet made up her mind as to what direction her characterization should go.

Breaking the play into three parts has always irritated me. Stratford did this a few years ago when Christopher Plummer did the role. "Macbeth" is one of Shakespeare's shortest plays and to have two intermissions spoils the on-rush of the action. My only plea would be for the Hilberry Classic folks to combine Act I and Act II. A small request for a production that offers the visitor to the Classic theater a great number of surprises. You'll do well to plan to attend all the plays at the Classic theater. They are well worth your attention.

MONEY QUESTION
Taking it with you is not important—the problem is to make it last until you're ready.

DAVID RUBINOFF will play his famous Stradivarius violin at Botsford Inn this Friday, Jan. 15, at 7:30 p.m. His appearance is sponsored by the Kiwanis as a prelude to an evening performance in the Farmington Junior High School. Proceeds from the concert will be used for Kiwanis community services.

Busy Schedule Faces David Rubinoff Friday

David Rubinoff, world famous violin virtuoso, will spend the day of Jan. 15 in Farmington.

At 8:15 a.m. he will present a concert at the Farmington Junior High School. From there he will go to the Farmington Junior High School for a 9:30 a.m. performance.

A 10:30 appearance is scheduled for him at the East Junior High School.

After a luncheon with local Kiwanis and civic officers, he will appear at Our Lady of Sorrows High School at 12:45 p.m.

From there he will go to the North Farmington High School for an assembly concert at 2:20 p.m.

At 7:30 Rubinoff will be honored by a Kiwanis reception at the Botsford Inn. At 8:15, he will present an evening concert at the Farmington Junior High School on Thomas Street.

Tickets for the evening concert will be available at the door. Proceeds from this concert will be used for Kiwanis community services.

During his day in Farmington Rubinoff will perform before more than 5,000 students.

Detroit Auto Show Closes Sunday With Near Record Attendance

There are two worlds at the 49th annual Detroit Auto Show and visitors are enchanted by both.

girls to tell visitors all about the various displays.

There are places to eat and ample parking space at the show. The Detroit Artillery Armory is centrally located in the metropolitan area, on West Eight Mile near Northland, less than a mile from the John Lodge Freeway and only two miles from Woodward. Hours are 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. daily except closing Sunday (Jan. 17) at 9 p.m. metropolitan area, on West Eight Mile near Northland, less than a mile from the John Lodge Freeway and only two miles from Woodward. Hours are 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. daily except closing Sunday (Jan. 17) at 9 p.m.

The first is of the present-day, with the glitter and glamor of all the new 1965 models. The second is the world of the future, as represented by the many "dream" cars and "idea" cars at the show.

Public reaction to the Detroit Artillery Armory Exposition has been outstanding, according to Harold C. Johns, show chairman. With the show running through Sunday (Jan. 17) the attendance 115,000 record of last year is expected to be broken.

Most of the attention has centered around all the new 1965 model U.S.-made cars. Show officials say the public appears to be in a buying mood, as evidenced by the '64 car sales record of 8 million-plus.

The Auto Show presents a unique opportunity for the car shopper to see and compare all the '65s, and all under one roof.

The many "dream" cars at the show are drawing oohs and aahs, particularly from the younger set. Among such models are the Comet Cyclone Sportster, Dodge's Charger II, three Rambler specials from AMC, the Imperial LeBaron d'or trimmed in gold, Pontiac's "Tiger" convertible with tiger-fur trim, an experimental Thunderbird Landau with pistol-grip steering, the Ford Galaxie LTD "Executive" with built-in TV, and Chevrolet's Monza Jr. for the go-cart set.

Other attractions getting special attention from the crowds include the Cadillac display featuring working accessories; the Presidential Lincoln which was used by Presidents Truman, Eisenhower and Kennedy; the displays showing sportsmen how life in the wilds can be fun with a camper truck; the Plymouth Sport Fury convertible which will be the pace car at the 1965 Indianapolis 500; and the 1965 1/2 Buick Skylark Gran Sport which is making its public debut at the show.

The show also has entertainment features, cutaway exhibits showing the "innards" of various models and a host of pretty

Barr to Tell Lions' Story With Films

Plymouth sports fans, especially those who follow the National Football League activities, will get an insight into the recent doings of the Detroit Lions on Thursday, Jan. 14 in the Junior High West multipurpose room.

Terry Barr, co-captain and one of the finest pass receivers in the league, will discuss the Lions' past season and the coaching situation in a program sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

It is one of five Sports-A-Rama series booked by the Jaycees and especially appropriate at this time due to the recent changes in the Lions' coaching staff.

In addition to his talk, Barr will show films of the NFL highlights of the past season and also appear for a question and answer session.

Other programs on the series are: Monday, Feb. 1, Howard Shelley and his films and lecture on "Wildlife Oddities" in the state of Michigan; Thursday, Feb. 18, Larry Helin with his unusual "Fishing Holiday" color films; and Thursday, March 18, Neal "Doc" Fenkell, of the Detroit Tigers, will talk on the 1965 Tigers and show the 1964 world series films in color. "Doc" is a resident of Plymouth in the Woodlore subdivision.

DPW News and Notes

By Joseph Bida
Supt. PLYMOUTH DPW
During the past week all of the Christmas decorations were taken down throughout the city including the ones in Kellogg Park. These have been placed in a large trailer and will be stored at the Department of Public Works Yard until next winter.

Trees have been picked up, if placed out at the curb. This was done by the Public Works Crew. Also, if any were missed they can be placed with the rubbish and they will be picked up at the same time the rubbish is picked up.

There were two funerals conducted at the Riverside Cemetery.

A six-inch sanitary sewer tap and a four-inch water tap were installed at 775 Davis Street.

Cold patching was done throughout the city on both local and major streets. Water service was repaired at 760 Parkview Drive.

Two Home Meets

Wayne State's swimming and wrestling teams will host Western Ontario Saturday. Both events will be held on WSU's campus.

Chair of Unity Octave Slated By Catholics

The eight days from Jan. 18 to 25 has been designated as The Chair of Unity Octave by the Roman Catholic Church.

The Octave is for the reunion of Christendom, the return of lapsed Catholics and the conversion of unbelievers. This observance coincides with a similar "Week of Prayer for Christian Unity" scheduled by the National Council of Churches.

Daily intentions for the Octave are: Jan. 18, For the Unity of all Christians in the Church Jan. 19, For separated Eastern Brethren; Jan. 20, For Anglicans; Jan. 21, For European Christians; Jan. 22, For American Christians; Jan. 23, For the spiritual renewal of Catholics; Jan. 24, For the Jewish people; and Jan. 25, For the extension of the Church in all lands.

Catholics will observe the Octave by a nine point action program. Some of these are: daily recitation of the official unity prayer and the Rosary; daily attendance at Mass and Communion; providing a good example to other Catholics and non-Catholics; and the performance of spiritual and corporal works of mercy.

Talk success—and success is bound to come your way.

free lecture on Christian Science

Friday, January 22 - 8:00 P.M.

By THOMAS A. McCLAIN of Chicago, Illinois.

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

ENTITLED: THE KEY TO THE MYSTERY OF CREATION

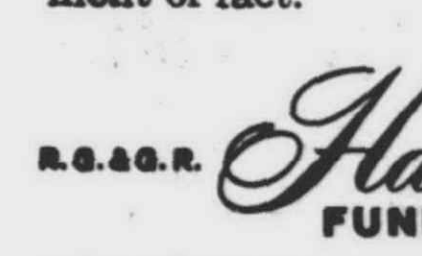

at EIGHTH CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST 20011 Grand River at Evergreen Rd.

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED

Because of the exquisite beauty found in each of the four Harris Funeral Homes and the excellent type of service rendered, some people may assume that funeral costs are high.

The fact is that Harris Funerals cost no more than ordinary funerals.

Thousands of families we have served can testify to this statement of fact.

Church Outlines Program for New Year

"This Church Will Look Alive in '65" is the heading on the Jan. 5 issue of the Faith Lutheran Church and School Newsletter.

The newsletter explains that "Unofficially, this could easily represent the goal of Faith Church during this new year. It is not intended to be a slogan or a gimmick. Nevertheless, four things are suggested by it around which our life together this year may be expected to revolve: 'Corporately, we will look alive by recovering a sense of fellowship and mutual concern for one another. The opposite of love is death. 'Theologically, we will look alive by continuing to concern ourselves with the world situation, local and international, by preparing ourselves for living the new life in today's world. The opposite of involvement is indifference.

Organizational, we will look alive by implementing changes in our new constitution which emphasizes the importance of lay leadership. The opposite of duty is delinquency. 'Physically, we will look alive by undertaking a capital funds drive in order to complete our building program, and hopefully we will break ground for a new sanctuary and educational facilities. The opposite of progress is stagnation."

Timothy Lutheran Church Offers Bible Study Course

A nationally known study on the Bible will be offered at Timothy Lutheran Church, Livonia, beginning Wednesday, Jan. 13. The study program, known as the Bethel Bible Series, was developed at Bethel Lutheran Church, Madison, Wisconsin, by the Rev. Harley Swiggum. It was inaugurated two years ago in the local church by the local pastor, the Rev. Glenn Wegmeyer, who instructed eight of his members to become teachers of the course.

Ninety persons have completed the first phase of the six unit course which provides an overview of both the Old and New Testaments. Wednesday they will begin the second unit which in seven weeks will cover Exodus through I Kings.

A new class, limited to an enrollment of 30, will also be offered one Unit One, the book of Genesis. Enrollment is still open and the community is invited to participate by calling the Church Office at Wayne and Joy Rds. The telephone number is: 427-2290.

Current teachers of the Bethel course are: Elmer Miller, Mrs. Joel Pittaway, Mrs. Edward Ruther and Mrs. Robert Wietelmann.

"Life" Is Sermon Topic

The way in which the immortality of life becomes a reality for every individual will be explored in the Lesson-Sermon at all Christian Science churches this Sunday. The subject is "Life," and it is keynoted by the Bible Text from Galatians (6:8): "He that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting."

The theme is amplified by this passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "Being is holiness, harmony, immortality. It is already proved that a knowledge of this, even in small degree, will uplift the physical and moral standard of mortals, will increase longevity, will purify and elevate character. Thus progress will finally destroy all error, and bring immortality to light."

Farmington Church Names New Pastor

The Rev. Robert E. Zoeller has been named new pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Incarnation in Farmington. He will begin his duties Feb. 1.

A graduate of Wittenberg College and the Hanna Divinity School in Ohio, Rev. Zoeller has served in Lutheran churches in Detroit and Three Rivers, Michigan.

Rev. Zoeller and his wife are the parents of two girls and a baby boy.

Pending construction of the first unit of their own church on Ten Mile Rd. between Middlebelt and Orchard Lake Rds., The Lutheran Church of the Incarnation is meeting in the Middlebelt Elementary School just north of Ten Mile Rd.

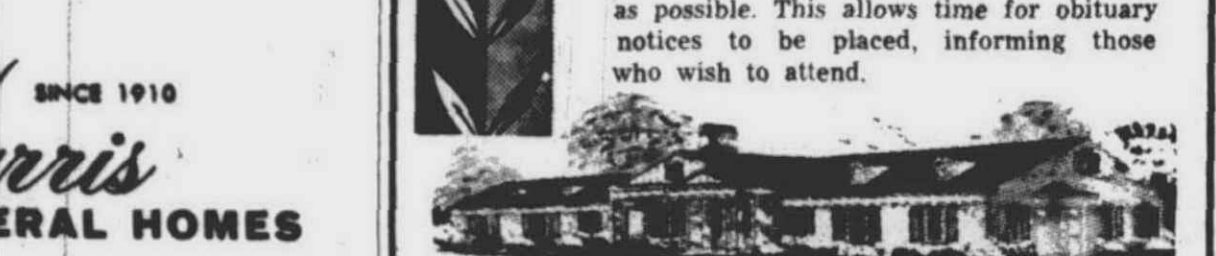

Sunday School is at 9 a.m. and the Sunday Worship Service begins each week at 10:30 a.m.

In time of bereavement . . . would you know what to do?

Funeral Arrangements Should Be Made as Soon as Possible

When a death occurs, it is wise to decide on the time and place of services as soon as possible. This allows time for obituary notices to be placed, informing those who wish to attend.

Study Program on Missions Slated for January at Orchard Lake Methodist

A study program sponsored by the Commission on Missions of the Orchard Lake Methodist Church will be held during January. The program, which began last Sunday will meet every Sunday in January.

On Jan. 10 a Family Night was held in the Church's Fellowship Hall. Dr. George Westcott of Ypsilanti, former medical missionary to the Congo, introduced the book to be studied "The Nations and the Kingdom" by Charles W. Forman.

This book about the new nations of Africa and Asia will be reviewed in homes of members of the Church congregation on Jan. 17, 24, and 31. All reviews will begin at 8 p.m.

Stated to review the book are the following men from St. Paul's Schedules Meeting Date

The Annual Meeting of the Congregation of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church in Livonia has been called by the Church Session for Jan. 22 at 8 p.m. in the Social Hall. Seven items of business are on the agenda for the meeting. Some of the items are: a recommendation of the Session that the number of ruling elders be expanded from 15 to 18; election of new elders and deacons; to hear a report and recommendation of the Building Committee; adoption of the 1965 budget; and to hear annual reports and take necessary action.

Mr. Retailer:

You Probably Missed A Sale Today!

A buying decision was made . . . but a competitor got the business. Perhaps it wasn't your fault. Many factors influence buying decisions. And you can't do ALL the business.

BUT . . .

Some retailers seem to forget that buying decisions are made when the NEED arises.

This week, without a doubt, somebody has concluded he will buy a new car . . . do over the kitchen . . . buy a new living room suite . . . a new TV set . . . a new suit of clothes or dress.

Others are thinking seriously about definite purchases . . . They're interested in what's available locally . . . Want to learn all they can about the things they're interested in.

They read the OBSERVER weekly . . . and what they see there will influence their decisions as to what to buy, and WHERE TO BUY!

WILL THEY SEE YOUR ADVERTISING?

Some 300 days a year you open your doors and wait for customers to come in.

How many times a year do you advertise to attract people you're hopefully waiting for?

The easy (and inexpensive) way to reach these people is through the pages of the OBSERVER. It is delivered to over 49,000 homes each week in your primary market.

Our files are filled with success stories of other local retailers . . . why not plan now for more profits in 1964. Our experienced advertising staff is eager to help YOU!

Johnny, Get Down Out of That Tree!
Yes mam, you'll be yelling at Johnny to get down out of the trees and there are a lot of them—almost 3/4 of an acre. Never a problem with over-night guests—Four bedrooms, one bedroom has a separate private entrance with full bath facilities, F. R. F. P., B-ins, rad. ht., su. L. R., 3' O.H. Priced at $33,950. Open Sunday 1-5, 15633 Hidden Lane, west of Middlebelt, 1 block north of Five Mile Road or call for an appointment. Your present home? No problem—Garling will buy it.

HEY MOM, WHERE ARE MY SOCKS?
That's what you will hear from one of the two upstairs (2 more down). Your answer will be the usual "in your drawer" as you cook breakfast in a 12x15 family kitchen overlooking a part of your 168 foot "estate." Basement. Garage. "Hey Sis, get out of the bathroom." Answer: "Use the one downstairs, runt. There's a bathtub there too, you know." You'll enjoy this home. Nicely priced at $22,500. Open Sunday 1-5, 41927 River Oaks. Go Ann Arbor Trail, 1/2 mile west of Haggerty Road, turn right at Riverside Drive, and right again at River Oaks. Bring your check book. You'll buy it.

BATTLE OF THE BULGE
Bulging closets? Crowded dining space? Tight kitchen? An "I wish..." living room? If you have any of these, come to Riverside Estates, bring your plans and ideas, check our plans, ask about our trade program. Prices begin at $17,000 including lot. Model located just north of Ann Arbor Trail on Riverside Drive, one-half mile west of Haggerty Road. Open daily and Sunday 12-8.

Growth

Largest population growth in the western suburbs took place in the city of Farmington. From 6,881 in 1960 to an estimated 9,000 in 1964, the population jumped 30.8 per cent—nearly one-third. Dwelling units, which numbered 4,780 in 1960, zoomed up to 2,360 in 1964 for a net increase of 580, or 32.6 per cent.

Neighboring Farmington Township showed a population increase of 19.9 per cent, from 25,526 in 1960 to 30,600 in 1964 a hike of 19.9 per cent. New dwelling units numbered 6,690 in 1960 and 8,000 in 1964, for a gain of 19.6 per cent or 1,310.

On a total region-wide basis, the yearly estimates show that an estimated 4,132,000 persons now live in the four counties of Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne.

Up some 65,000 from the 1963 estimates, this year's gain not only represents the largest annual increment since 1960, but also reflects the first annual migration over the same period. In comparing the 1964 estimate with a total based on the net natural increase over the 4 1/2 years. However, an out-migration of 49,108 is revealed.

Macomb County piled up the largest gain, growing by 89,196, a 22 per cent increase. Its western neighbor, Oakland, grew by 68,741 for an increase of 9.7 per cent. Washtenaw County had gain of 17,560, a 10 per cent increase. Wayne County had an increase of 23,703, in spite of a loss in the city of Detroit of 52,144.

Detroit lost heavily by out-migration. Over 60 per cent of the net natural increase in Wayne County was due to the excess of births over deaths in Detroit. With non out-migration, Detroit would have added some 80,000 to its population since 1960.

Besides Detroit, other communities to lose population included a neighbor to the west, Northville Township. Mount Clemens, Keego Harbor, Highland Park, and Hamtramck were the other areas to experience a loss.

In Wayne County figures, Livonia was first, followed by Nankin Township with 19,898 and 10,594 in numerical growth respectively. The two communities placed second and third in the region as a whole. Warren in Macomb County rated first with a gain of 51,054.

Redford Township continues to hold onto its designation as the "World's Largest Township," despite a brief claim by Nankin Township. Nankin lost much of its population when two villages, Wayne and Inkster, incorporated into separate cities.

and service organizations of our community and the departments of the local government recognize the great service rendered to the community by the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce.

"Whereas, the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce and its affiliated state and local organizations have set aside the week of January 17-23 to observe the founding of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and to commemorate such founding by the selection of an outstanding young man in this community as the recipient of the Distinguished Service Award.

"Therefore, we proclaim the week of Jan. 17 as Jaycee Week and urge all citizens of our community to give full consideration to the future services of the Junior Chamber of Commerce."

Plymouth Optimists Book Mills Bros. Circus For May 12

The Plymouth Optimist Club will sponsor the Mills Bros. circus for two performances on May 12.

That was the announcement of Club President Earl Merriam as he told how the Optimists will use the profits to further their Boys work projects.

CHECKING NAMES of his opposition in the Plymouth Observer in the race for nomination to the 14th District State Senatorial post in Farrell Roberts, of West Bloomfield, in Oakland County. Roberts, who served two terms as a state representative and two as state senator, was one of the six GOP candidates to attend last week's meeting of the Plymouth Republican Party at the Credit Union.

From the Soap Box

Are you the proud parent of one of these spray paint "bugs"? (The young characters who are making their mark in the world with a can of spray paint; defacing signs and public and private buildings.)

City officials estimate that it is costing you $2,000 a year just to repair those street signs. Surprisingly enough as many girls as boys are involved in the "Keep Plymouth Unsightly" campaign.

Hoped-for legislation may soon bring about changes in the handling of juveniles. They would be given the opportunity to work it out—spend a few hours after school each day cleaning up their handwork.

It should not be left to the schools to teach respect for another person's property, respect for one's city or respect for one's self.

First Winter Camp

Something new was added to the great accumulation of bed-rolls, sleeping bags and assorted luggage at the Junior High West on Monday morning. Over 90 students were taking along their ice skates. This is the first time Plymouth Sixth-graders have gone to camp at the Proud Lake Conservation Area in winter.

Under the direction of Tom Workman and his crew of teachers and counsellors three sixth-grade classes had their log books ready to record the events of this week of concentrated Nature Study. For most of them it is the high point of their elementary school days.

They were looking forward to identifying all those animal tracks, so let us hope they get some snow out there.

Hats Off Department

A thank you this week to the local soroptimist club for their contribution to community life.

This active organization, whose president this year is Miss Margaret Porteus, meets on the second Wednesday of each month at Hillside Inn for a dinner meeting. On the fourth Wednesday of the month they have a social meeting at the Plymouth Credit Union with a guest speaker. Mike Hoben will be their speaker on Jan. 27.

Their latest projects include:

presenting a new television set and a radio to the Plymouth Training School, donating a check to the school which will be used for the purchase of films, giving a check for $100 to the local "Y" organization to help them buy needed equipment. Clothing and shoes are provided to those in need on a year-round basis.

3 Drop Out

with a united effort behind McNamara."

Meagher issued the following statement: "I feel that it is incumbent upon any good citizen to offer his services to his government if he feels qualified, even if, as in my case, it would mean sacrificing my business.

"At a meeting that I attended of all the candidates of my party, after I had filed, I was convinced that any of these candidates were well qualified to represent our district in the state senate. I was particularly impressed with Elsie Gilmore, who seems to have a very keen understanding of the problems of our state, particularly in the area of education and mental illness. Thus, I saw no necessity for me to remain in this race.

"I wish to thank my many friends who contacted me and offered their support."

The six Republicans who will face, each other in the February 15 primary are—

- Farrel Roberts, 2486 Lafayette Drive, Pontiac, a former State Senator.
- Allen C. Ingle, 29320 Grand River, Farmington, a justice of the peace in Farmington Township.
- Fitzhugh Prescott, 32235 Loomis, a Farmington fertilizer salesman.
- Thomas J. McHugh, 1485 Benvenue, Mayor pro-tem of the city of Sylvan Lake.
- Paul A. Kern of Orchard Lake, a part-time radio broadcaster; and
- George T. Ames, 41008 Morningside, Novi.

Christian Unity Will Be Topic at Dinner

The Plymouth Ministerial Association will sponsor an interfaith buffet dinner on Jan. 22 at Arbor-Lil as one of the high-spots of the Christian Unity Week of Prayer, Jan. 18 through Jan. 25.

The purpose of Christian Unity Week and the program is to indicate that the churches in Plymouth are concerned about developing better understanding and communication between each other.

Feature of the dinner will be an interview of Rev. Fr. Alfred Renaud, assistant at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, and Rev. John Miller, of Epiphany Lutheran Church, concerning recent developments in the area of Christian Unity. Miller is a past president of the Ministerial Association.

Carl Cederberg, news chief of radio station WJBK and television WJBK-TV (channel 2), will serve as moderator.

The following members of churches in the Association are working on the dinner reservations: St. John's Episcopal, J. W. Cheetham, 744 Thayer Blvd., Northville; First Baptist, Mrs. Dunbar Davis, 1325 W. Ann Arbor Trail; Our Lady of Good Counsel, John Dobel, 1418 Carol; First Methodist, Alvan Richey, 10200 Seven Mile Road, Northville; Epiphany Lutheran, John Schmidt, 963 Roosevelt; Church of the Risen Christ, Clinton Stroebel, 9650 Gold Arbor Road; and First Presbyterian, Douglas Vincent, 41232 Crabtree Court.

Heated Basement

Damp, chilly basements sometimes can be heated by adapting the existing furnace and ductwork. Another alternative is a smaller separate heating unit strictly for the basement.

All Is A Secret When Mystery Club Meets in Plymouth

In keeping with its new name, the Plymouth Mystery Club surprised one of its hostesses (name unknown) with a birthday cake at the first meeting of the new year in the club rooms of the Plymouth Credit Union.

The hostesses were Mrs. Mildred Higgin and Mrs. Dorothy Wilhelm. One of the two had a birthday and passed a basket of fruit to members and then received a birthday cake baked by Mrs. Barbara McDonald.

The club, for Plymouth's senior citizens, plans to continue its surprises in its own mysterious fashion at all future meetings and urges all of the elderly interested to attend.

The next meeting is scheduled for Jan. 19 at which Mrs. Elsie Ehrensberger and Mrs. Alma Johnson will serve as hostesses.

Senior citizens desiring additional information are requested to call 453-3090.

Plymouth Sends Six To Area Conference

Six members of the Plymouth Recovery Inc. group, headed by Mrs. John Donegan and Mrs. Robert Wagenschutz, attended the area meeting Saturday in St. Matthew's Methodist Church in Detroit.

They heard talks by John A. MacDonald of Chicago and Phil Crane, also of Chicago, who is director of leader training.

Mrs. Donegan has been named area leader for southeastern Michigan.

Recovery Inc., which has 520 groups in 32 states and three Canadian provinces, now has more than 10,000 members.

Recovery is a self-sustaining as well as self-help organization whose purpose is to prevent relapses of mental patients and to help patients with nervous disorders.

It is supported financially by membership dues and sales of literature to members. It operates on a small budget, most of the work being done by volunteers.

Recovery members are taught to overcome and disregard the small annoyances of life and to "move their muscles" when fears might otherwise prevent action. They also learn to command their muscles not to run from fearful situations "but to bear the nervous discomfort caused by groundless fears."

Found difficult at first, the Recovery method soon works surprisingly well, according to members.

There are 155 Recovery groups in Michigan and the principal address is Recovery Inc., Post Office Box 6511, Detroit, 48240.
