

Hey Plymouth, Your Newspaper's Going Offset!

In keeping with their pledge to strive for improvement in The Plymouth Mail, management of the newspaper this week announced what will probably be the most revolutionary and obvious change in the history of the 76-year-old publication.

sued by Editor and General Manager Dave Wiley, Publisher's Assistant Mike Kiley and Publisher Russell S. Strickland, said The Mail would switch to the offset method of printing later this year. Photo-offset is the most modern and up-to-date printing method available to community newspapers. It results in extreme clarity and contrast and virtually flawless reproduction of photographs.

Other newspapers participating in the technological change include The Farmington Enterprise, also published by Strickland; The Northville Record, The South Lyon force at The Plymouth Mail at the present. "Later," they said, "we hope to increase our staff as additional work becomes available."

Herald and The Novi News, published by William C. Sliger of Northville; and The Fenton Independent, published by Robert G. Silbar of Fenton, Mich.

activity which will be moved is the actual press run.

commercial printing work for which the Plymouth newspaper has long been noted.

What's Offset?

Photo-offset is a modern method of printing which centers around the photographic process. For readers who remember, it's the same printing method used in the special, City-Hall section produced by The Plymouth Mail last fall.

Instead of printing directly from metal type, "proofs" of the type are pasted on a page-sized layout sheet and a photograph of the entire page is taken.

The image of the entire newspaper page is "burned" onto a sensitized aluminum sheet from the film negative. The plate is treated chemically so that, when an ink and water mixture is applied, ink clings to the type and picture areas and is rejected by the remainder of the plate.

The ink is then "offset" onto a rubber roller on the press and, from there, is applied to the paper.

Key features of the offset printing method are high contrasts of blacks and whites, top-quality color for advertisements, a high degree of quality in reproduction of photographs and the ability to produce "color process" or full color artwork and photographs.

Ford Chorus, Band to Play

An afternoon of stimulating musical entertainment awaits Plymouth Community residents next Sunday at 4 p.m. in the Plymouth High School gymnasium when the Plymouth Community Band teams up with the 85-voice Ford Chorus.

The Ford Motor Company-sponsored group is well known throughout the metropolitan area as one of the finest amateur singing ensembles extant.

Choral director Ray Kooi has selected the following numbers for the Sunday performance:

"Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee," by Bach; "Now Thank We All Our God," by Mueller; "Till Wait for My Love," by Dolph; "Shenandoah," a traditional chant; "Sing, It's Good for You," by Prince, Robin and Moonie; "Consider Yourself," by Bart; "Hey Look Me Over," by Coleman and "The Happy Wanderer," by Ridge-Hoppy.

FOLLOWING intermission, the Community Band which has entertained thousands in Kellogg Park during their summer concert seasons, will present the following selections:

"Montmartre March," by Hayden Wood; Overture to the Opera "Beatrice and Benedict," by Hector Berlioz; "Belle of the Ball" by Leroy Anderson; Selections from George Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess"; "Beguine for Band," by Glenn Osser; "The Klaxon March," by Henry Fillmore and "The St. Louis Blues March" by W. C. Handy.

Featured at the Sunday performance will be a brass sextet, including Dick Sorenson, Clay Loreau, Bill Upton, Don Burleson, Keith Burton and Cheryl Wright.

The finale will be "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

No admission will be charged.

However, a scholarship program is supported by the sponsoring organization, The Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union. A credit union spokesman said support for the scholarship program is needed from local patrons.

Each year, several scholarships are presented to talented young musicians who play in the band. The grants enable recipients to attend a summer music camp of their choice.

Contributions to the scholarship fund are tax deductible.

Inter-Faith Meet Sees Turnout of About 400

A Catholic priest, a Lutheran minister and a television announcer were the catalysts that provided a lively session at an inter-faith dinner meeting Friday night at Lofy's that drew nearly 400 people.

The meeting was sponsored by the Plymouth Ministerial Association as part of an observance of the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity.

Father Alfred Renaud, of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church and the Rev. John Miller of the Evangelical Lutheran Church were interviewed by Carl Cederberg, announcer on WJBK TV.

Questions of both a practical and a theoretical nature were discussed.

Father Renaud noted that it was "not what we said so much but the occasion."

The meaning of Ecumenism, or what Father Renaud described as the "movement of churches toward mutual understanding" was the first topic discussed.

"There's no white washing of differences. What we need is a better understanding of differences," Fr. Renaud said.

The place of the bishop in the Roman Catholic Church was touched on next, followed by comments on the question "What we mean by the church."

On the topic of a common, interfaith Bible both Rev. Miller and Father Renaud agreed. He said:

"This is really our common ground. The problem is to find scripture presentation acceptable to all."

APPOINTED

Plymouth School Board members Carl Schultheiss and John D. McLaren were appointed this week to serve on the Plymouth Community Recreation Site Committee which will seek ways and means of acquiring and financing a recreation site including a swimming pool. The committee grew out of a joint session between city, township and school district officials.

Palmer To Head P.C.F.

Re-elected to head the Plymouth Community Fund Board of Directors at a meeting held last Tuesday evening at the Plymouth Township Hall was Frank Palmer, president for the past year.

Other officers tabbed to serve with Palmer include Dr. William Covington, vice president; Mrs. Betty

DeHoCo Protests Incident At Friday Night Blaze

Following a disagreement involving Plymouth Township Fire Chief Barney Maas over the handling of a truck fire at the Detroit House of Correction Friday night, a letter describing the incident was sent to Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay by DeHoCo officials yesterday.

According to Lindsay, "proper action was taken under Civil Service Act No. 78." He declined to comment further on what had happened. The action was taken at a special meeting Monday morning.

Civil Service Act No. 78 of 1935 provides for a civil service commission, the staffing of police and fire departments, and the administration of those departments, including provisions for testing, placement, promotions and discipline.

MAAS HAD arrived at the scene of the fire and protested the calling of a City of Plymouth fire unit to a township fire. A heated discussion ensued.

The Detroit House of Correction's fire department, which had the fire out before other help arrived, had called the Plymouth Fire Department fearing the fire might spread to nearby trucks and a gasoline pump.

The letter, sent to Lindsay, by William Johnson, Deputy Superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction, contained a description of what occurred. Johnson also declined to comment further on the details of the incident. Johnson emphasized:

"Whatever happens, it is not going to upset our mutual aid agreement with Plymouth. We value the mutual agreement that we have and nothing is going to disrupt us from using it."

Lindsay indicated that the incident came, "like a bombshell." Continuing, he said:

"We've always had good relations with area fire departments."

Ordinance Mix-up Thwarts Builder

A Detroit building firm found itself stymied last week in its effort to begin construction on a 172-unit apartment development which was approved by Plymouth Township officials for a parcel of land south of N. Territorial Road and between Sheldon and Dunn Court.

See Editorial, Page 4, Section Two

tage Apartments, is apparently going to be held up as long as 45 days by improper wording in the Township's recently adopted R-2-A Garden Apartment ordinance.

Present terminology in the ordinance prohibits two-story buildings from having eight living units upstairs and eight living units downstairs.

The law, as it now stands, allows a maximum of 10 units in one building — but they have to be two stories in height.

THE MIX-UP in wording of the ordinance came out at last Wednesday evening's meeting of the Plymouth Township Planning Commission, held at the Township Hall.

At the Wednesday meeting, a motion was made to approve plans for Plymouth Heritage Apartments. But the motion was set aside when Township Attorney Earl Demel told the group the "only procedure is to correct the ordinance first."

Commissioners agreed that the intent of the law was not to restrict apartment buildings to two-story units. Supervisor Lindsay, however, said he felt the ordinance should be conformed to.

"The language in the ordinance is very clear," Lindsay said, "and we made Green-span adhere. Are we going to ignore the ordinance? Are we going to change the ordinance?"

Investigation later this week showed that builder-developer Fred Green-span's Lake Pointe Village apartments are constructed with eight units upstairs and eight units down, just as Plymouth Heritage proposes.

Developer Meyer Korchak, obviously disturbed, noted that his firm had met with Township Planning Consultant W. C. Johnson and changed its plans to meet his desires.

"Now," he said, "after we (Continued on Page 3)

Planners Close Doors To Draft Apartment Ordinance Changes

The Township Planning Commission went into closed executive session last night to draft changes in garden apartment zoning ordinances to correct wording that allows 16 units in a building only if they are two-story units.

This action followed a brief special session called to discuss the ordinance.

The ordinance had been labeled earlier last week by Commission member Tivadar Balogh as "a little ridiculous."

At the public session, builder Meyer Korchak, who will be held up by the ordinance, asserted that every bit of apartment construction in the Township is in violation of the ordinance. He said:

"We've made a study of every apartment building in the Township that would fit the ordinance and virtually everyone violates it. At this rate no buildings should be legalized."

Korchak has placed an appeal with the Board of Appeals claiming a hardship case.

Township Attorney Earl Demel reiterated again last night that the "only course would be to change the ordinance."

Birthday Gala Draws Over 300

More than 300 persons turned out Saturday evening for a gala party in honor of Kiwanis International's 50th anniversary.

The Plymouth Kiwanis-sponsored celebration, which featured radio personality Bud Guest and Harry Young — the only living founder of Kiwanis International — was held at Lofy's in Plymouth.

Special guests of honor, Plymouth Township Supervisor Roy R. Lindsay and Plymouth Mayor Richard H. Wernette were given "blank checks of community service" by local Kiwanians.

The checks, presented by Immediate Past District Lt. Governor Walter Gemperline, pledged continued service to the community by Plymouth Kiwanis.

Other dignitaries present for the festivities included

Demel Stays

Plymouth Township Attorney Earl Demel will stay on the job following results of a special meeting of the Board of Trustees held last week.

Demel said he had been notified by Supervisor Roy R. Lindsay that the board had voted to refuse his letter of resignation. He said he would abide by the board's decision.

Meeting in executive session last week, the board entertained a motion to accept Demel's letter after bills he submitted were questioned at the board's regular January meeting.

Noting in favor of the motion to accept the resignation were Trustees Ralph Garber, Richard Lauterbach and Township Clerk John D. McEwen.

Trustees Louis Norman, C. Veach Sparks and Township Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes voted against the move.

Supervisor Lindsay cast the tie-breaking vote. He voted no.

In a Nutshell . . .

★ Plans are underway for a reunion of original workers at the Ford Newburgh plant at the head of Newburgh Lake, according to Plymouth Township Trustee Louis Norman, a former employee at the plant. Ground was broken at the site about 30 years ago, Norman said. A committee met Monday evening to plan the reunion. Interested persons may contact Norman at GL 3-2317.

★ Named as a vice president of First Federal Savings of Detroit last week was Paul W. Reifel, manager of First Federal's Plymouth office. Reifel was one of 23 who received executive promotions by the financial institution.

★ Guest speaker at Plymouth Listening Post's second lecture of the current series on Thursday, Jan. 28 at 8:30 p.m. will be Charles Blessing, director of the Detroit City Planning Commission. His topic — "The City: Beauty and the Beast." He will speak in the Plymouth High School auditorium.

★ Named local chairman last week for the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County's annual appeal was Herald Hamill of Plymouth Rotary Club. The yearly drive will run from March 1 to April 18.

★ A special retirement banquet will be held Wednesday night honoring Milan Frank of 142 Rose St., a Plymouth volunteer fireman for 27 years. Festivities will begin at 6 p.m. at the Plymouth City Hall where Frank will receive from Assistant Fire Chief George Schoenemann a gold retirement badge indicating his length of service. A 20-year employee of Burroughs Corp., Frank has been a Plymouth resident most of his life. He and his wife, Fern, have four children.

EXPLAINING a crossword puzzle to his class at Plymouth High School is William Green. Green's chief goal with his special education class is to teach his students the fundamentals necessary for living.

Special Ed. Classes Help Students Prepare for Life

Plymouth High School teacher William Green's goal with his class of 13 is to have them learn how to take care of themselves in the world and, hopefully, hold down a job.

Green, the special education teacher, emphasized that all of his students have talent in some field. Some have little trouble with math, but can't read; others can read, but can't do math; and others seem to be mechanically minded.

Green said he works with all the students so they can recognize phrases they will see frequently and also teaches them to be punctual, speak up and accept responsibilities. He added he works with all of them individually, as they need it.

MOST OF the other P.H.S. students are not aware of just who is in the special class, Green said, although they know about the class. He added he tries to have his students audit other classes so they are not isolated and said most teachers co-operate with him on this program.

Some of the classes his students enroll in are history, home economics, shop, art, consumer economics and physical education.

Several students take care of the visual aid equipment for the high school and show films to groups and classes. Another class project is running the popcorn stand at football games and taking care of the soft drinks for the school, Green said. He added the group does other service projects around the school.

Green, who said he thoroughly enjoys working with his students, has been in charge of the program since it was initiated two years ago.

Before the students are graduated, Green said, he feels they should have a year of productive employment under supervision so they know what to expect from the world.

Several of his students are working outside of school part-time now, he said, and he hopes to see more do so soon.

OPERATING the film strip projector is one of the students from William Green's class at Plymouth High School. Green's class is in charge of visual aid materials for the school and operate the equipment for other classes. The class also performs other service projects around school, according to Green.

Wernette and Lindsay To Appear at Rights Session on Thursday

"Human Rights in Plymouth" will come under the scrutiny of Mayor Richard H. Wernette of Plymouth and Township Supervisor Roy R. Lindsay in the second lecture of a series sponsored by Plymouth Assembly for Equal Opportunity Thursday night at the high school.

Beginning at 8:30, the lecture is free of charge. The first of this "Know Your Community" series was presented two weeks ago and featured welfare consultant Ruth Eckstein.

The meeting is open to the public and questions are welcomed.

Wernette indicated Monday that he would discuss "what we might run into in the way of trouble if a colored family came to Plymouth." He continued:

"When the first Negro moves into Plymouth I hope he moves next door to me, or in my neighborhood. This is a good Christian neighborhood."

He also said he would explain how Southfield had handled the arrival of the first Negro family and how he hoped to avoid an incident such as the one in Dearborn. He said:

"I would hope we wouldn't have trouble like that. We need to lay the groundwork ahead of time. I want nothing to happen while I'm mayor."

WERNETTE SAID he had viewed first hand what the Southfield human relations group and local law enforcement officers had done to prevent trouble and he hopes Plymouth can do the same.

Finally, the Mayor noted that he would bring a zoning map to the meeting and point out "where Negro families might well live together in one house," and also what problems might be brought about by zoning ordinances.

Discontented Farrand Parents Set Meeting

A group of parents of grade school children in the Lake Pointe district are holding a special meeting Thursday night following circulation of a printed sheet listing several "poor school conditions" in the Farrand School.

The document was signed by 36 residents in the area. The circulated document cites the use of the gym as a classroom, the use of the halls as a gymnasium, the lack of clinic facilities, and overcrowded classrooms as problems needing immediate attention.

An addition to the Farrand School was scheduled for completion February 1, but it won't be done until April 15, according to School Board President Gerald Fischer. Weather and other factors have held up completion of the addition.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. at 42235 Hamill Lane.

Graduated

Three Plymouthites were among 338 mid-term graduates at Central Michigan University's Commencement January 24. They were: Joan Aletha Bohl, A.B., Elementary, Biology, English, Sociology; Bernard Allan Curtis, B.S., Elementary, Biology, Physical Science, Physical Education; James Charles Phillips, B.S., Secondary, Mathematics, Physical Science. The commencement address was delivered by Dana Rose, assistant vice president of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. Title of his address was "The Perpendicular Person."

Planning Commission Chairman Irving Rozian repeatedly emphasized, with concurrence of other commissioners, that the intent was not to restrict the ordinance. After Demel delivered his opinion, Commissioner Tivadar Balogh commented:

"MUST WE adhere to the letter of the law when this ordinance is frankly, a little ridiculous?" The R-2-A ordinance was considered in a special meeting Monday evening at the Township Hall. The special session was called by Rozian to put the law in proper form as soon as possible.

Commission member Maurice Breen noted that the only course was to amend the ordinance first. "There is no room for interpretation. It's unfortunate that they're caught in the middle," he added.

Russell Ash, also a commission member, told the group that he remembered the intent of the ordinance and the "language here does not bear out that intent."

A lengthy discussion of the ordinance and possible solutions brought about no action on the builder's request. The board unanimously agreed to stick to the ordinance and to change the wording as soon as possible.

"We have to abide by the letter of the law," Rozian concluded. In other action, the Commission listed for public hearing Robert Willoughby's request for rezoning 14 acres of agricultural land on Beck Road for a trailer court. A request for rezoning of 8.5 acres of land at the corner of Beck and Ann Arbor Trail was tabled for the next regular meeting. In the mean time further information on the rezoning will be submitted to the Commission's planning consultant W. C. Johnson.

Plymouth Attorney J. Russell Cutler represented Richard Fritz, who is seeking the rezoning. Stewart Oldford and Sons' application for rezoning land at the northwest corner of Ann Arbor and Sheldon Road from light manufacturing to commercial was accepted by the Commission, and tabled for further study.

OLDFORD ALSO presented a preliminary plat for a subdivision located between Park Lane Estates Subdivision and Plymouth Colony on the west side of Sheldon Road.

About 40 acres of land is involved, but no rezoning is required. Oldford said he plans to build homes there valued at $28,000 and up. The Commission accepted his pre-application.

A similar pre-application was accepted for a proposed subdivision between Rouge Parkway and Ann Arbor Trail. The land is part of the Ayers Farm and lies between Livonia and the proposed I-275 expressway.

Also, a special report on a residential unit development plan was placed on the agenda of the special meeting. In final action the Commission reelected Irving Rozian as Chairman for the coming year. Russell Ash was named Vice-chairman and Maurice Breen was voted secretary.

Schoolcraft Chorus Seeks New Members

The Schoolcraft Community Chorus, which was organized in the fall of last year, is seeking members.

The Chorus, under the direction of Wayne Dunlap, expects to draw members from some twenty communities in the area. Dunlap is also director of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

Plans for the upcoming months include an Easter program in which the chorus will perform Faure's "Requiem", and an appearance with the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra in their annual Pop Concert slated for May.

Dunlap indicates there are two ways to register for the chorus: elect to take Music 112, Choir at Schoolcraft College for one hour's credit, or simply participate by paying a $4 fee.

The rehearsals, which began January 13, are held at the administration building of Schoolcraft College.

Notice of Application for Homestead Exemptions

FOR: Blind Persons
Servicemen on Active Duty
Disabled Veterans or Their Unremarried Widows

Applications for any of the above exemptions will be received in the Office of the City Assessor, 201 S. Main Street, until February 12, 1965.

Blind persons must supply proof of their visual disability in compliance with the State Law.

For servicemen on active duty, the application may be filed by the serviceman or his wife.

To meet the eligibility requirements, a veteran must have lived in this State at least six months prior to entering service or was a resident of this State for five years prior to filing.

Those persons with an annual income in excess of $7,500 are not eligible unless they have a service connected disability. The property value limitation is $10,000 of state equalized value, which would be approximately $8,500 of assessed value in the City of Plymouth.

When filing a claim, each person must have a copy of discharge papers, proof of property ownership, an uncashed VA compensation check or letter of adjudication and/or a death certificate if applicable (widow or veteran). Each claim filed is simply an application and must be approved by the State of Michigan in May of each year.

An application for Homestead Exemption must be filed each year by those persons who are eligible. These application forms can be obtained from the City Assessor's Office. If there are any questions concerning this application, please do not hesitate to contact the City Assessor by calling GL 3-1234.

Jay-C-Ettes Give Us "Safety Sitters"

By Jacquie Town

How many times have you spent hours on the phone trying to contact a babysitter, and then been unsure of her qualifications because she is totally unknown to you? Our children are very important possessions to us, and often we hesitate to leave them in the care of a total stranger.

The Jay-C-ettes of Plymouth have gone forth with a program to help parents secure qualified baby-sitters fully trained in the art of "substitute parent for an evening." This clinic is in conjunction with the Plymouth Recreation program and is a full six-week course complete with graduation after a final exam.

The classes, held one evening a week at the high school, cover such important material as emergency treatment in case of burns, bumped heads, cuts, and illness. The girls, who range in age from 13 through 15, are taught how to change a baby's diaper, the right feeding temperature for a bottle, and various aids in caring for different aged children.

The course, which recently graduated thirteen girls, was taught by Mary Anne Garber and Sally Peterson, both Jay-C-ettes, who received the necessary instruction material from the Michigan Jay-C-ettes Kit, along with added material from the National Safety Council. Because of the great demand for trained, competent sitters, the organization felt that such a clinic was needed. As one of their many Community Service projects, they decided to see if they could interest young girls in attending.

The program, at its inception, was advertised in the paper and through the school system. To their knowledge, this is the first such undertaking of this type in Plymouth. The girls who registered for the course were most enthusiastic and learned a great deal about child-care.

As part of the program, the Plymouth Fire Department demonstrated artificial resuscitation with their Resussi-Anne. The next clinic to be offered sometime in April, hopes to incorporate more outside aids, such as movies, other demonstrations, and lectures, to make it even more beneficial for those enrolled. Handbooks and pamphlets which included extra information not covered in the classroom, were distributed among the girls.

The sitters were urged to remember five major points when taking the responsibility of child care — know where the parents can be reached, the home and office number of the family doctor, the telephone number of a close neighbor, special instructions, such as what TV programs are allowed, and the time he is to be in bed, where the exits are located in case of fire, where light switches are located, and any other limitations or duties set for the child.

It is important we parents remember that, though our home is familiar to us, it is not to a new sitter we may employ. When we hire a girl to take charge of our children, there are certain considerations we should try to maintain. If you must cancel, try to do it early enough so the girl may have an opportunity to get another job. This money is very important to the working teen. Make it a point to find out how late the sitter is allowed out, especially on school nights, and get her home as close to that time as possible. As you worry about your children, her mother worries about her.

Explain any special situations thoroughly, and don't let her fumble for numbers in the directory. Have them posted by the phone. In an emergency, that extra moment saved, may be extremely important.

The names of the "Safety Sitters" can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Garber at GL 3-3988 and the average hourly rate is fifty cents an hour. These girls are capable and well trained thanks to the efforts of the Plymouth Jay-C-ettes.

GUESTS of Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club (BPW) Jan. 18 were Sue Niemi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Niemi, of Joy Rd., and Gunilla Rynning, Plymouth High School exchange student from Sweden. Miss Niemi spent this past summer as an exchange student in Sweden, and she and Miss Rynning told the club about their experiences in the two countries. Above, left to right, Miss Niemi and Miss Rynning talk with BPW President Mrs. Carl Hosier.

Schoolcraft OK's Staff Contracts

The Board of Trustees of Schoolcraft College at its last meeting approved administrative contracts for next year and modified the career plan in making salary changes.

The Board also authorized a uniformed, deputized security agent for the College campus. Two additional custodians also were authorized. These added personnel were necessitated by the opening of the temporary Campus Center and by added building use.

Membership Dinner Club Begins at Inn

To highlight the second anniversary of The Thunderbird Inn, owner Art Kobierzynski has inaugurated an Executive Dinner Club plan. The plan will entitle a limited number of persons to purchase a membership card which allows them one free dinner with a paid dinner of equal value each month for a year, according to Kobierzynski.

For those who help enroll five or more persons into the Executive Dinner Club, an embossed golden key to fit an automobile will be awarded.

New Books at Dunning-Hough

Among the new books available at Dunning-Hough Library is the following list, according to Mrs. Warren Worth, librarian.

"The Horse Knows the Way," is John O'Hara's latest collection of short stories; some are from the "New Yorker" and "Saturday Evening Post" and 11 others have been published before.

"Hermann Goring and the Third Reich" is a biography based on family and official records written by the wartime Irish Ambassador to Germany, Charles H. Bewley, who was a friend of Goring and his family.

"Sweet Music," a collection of folk songs and family reminiscence by Helga Sandburg, daughter of Carl Sandburg, includes a section of personal photographs, many from her life in Michigan.

"The Best Kept Secret," by John Francis Purcell, is an account of the secret effort to create the weapon that ended World War II, set against the background of the development of nuclear physics and the functioning of a democracy in crisis.

"The Strange Tactics of Extremism," by Harry and Bonaro Overstreet. The authors of several books on communism turn to an exploration of the philosophies and methods of the John Birch Society and other organizations of the extreme right.

"A Matter of Life; blueprint of a healthy family," by William C. Martin, presents a plan for a healthier generation in the future through planned parenthood, nutrition, and special prenatal care.

"1964 Directory of Accredited Camps for Boys and Girls," compiled by the American Camping Association, gives description of place, program, size, season, price and other details for interested parents. It includes information on Michigan also. "American Lit Relit," by Richard Armour, which is according to the author's subtitle, "A short history of American literature for long-suffering students, for teachers who manage to keep one chapter ahead of the class and for all those who, no longer being in school, can happily sink back into illiteracy."

Artist to Speak At Northville Town Hall Series Feb. 4

"Anyone who can hold a paintbrush can learn to paint," contends artist Norman Garbo who will present a lecture-demonstration at the next Northville Town Hall program Thursday, Feb. 4.

"Pull up an Easel" will be his topic at the 11 a.m. program in the Northville P and A Theater. He also will paint a canvas while on stage to be given to someone in the audience.

Garbo's works have been exhibited in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Chicago Art Institute and the Philadelphia Museum and other galleries.

Since 1945 he has devoted himself to portrait painting. He conducts classes in painting and writes an internationally syndicated column for amateur artists ("Pull Up an Easel") in addition to lecturing.

A question and answer period at the theater will follow Garbo's lecture and will replace the usual celebrity luncheon.

Alpha Xi Delta Slates Benefit Card Party Feb. 9

A benefit card party sponsored by Alpha Xi Delta alumnae of Western Wayne County, will be held Tuesday, Feb. 9 from 8-11 p.m., at St. John's Episcopal Church on Sheldon Kd.

Madonna College to Open New Academic Building Tomorrow

When school opens at Madonna College in Livonia for the spring semester tomorrow (January 27), the college and the students will be entering, for the first time, the doors of the newly constructed academic building. The building, under construction since 1964, is the outcome of years of planning and waiting. When Madonna College was founded in 1947, it was housed in the Felician Sisters Motherhouse. While the enrollment was small, the facilities were sufficient and satisfactory. With the accreditation of the institution and the growth of the Detroit suburbs, enrollment has increased gradually. It was necessary to build new accommodations if the institution were to continue to serve the community.

So, today, Madonna campus boasts of a natural setting, appropriately fitted with buildings designed by Robert L. Svoboda and Associates. Located on a 320-acre site in Livonia, the campus breathes an atmosphere conducive to earnest study and a refinement of aesthetic tastes.

New residence halls of contemporary design were opened for occupancy in 1963. These include girls dormitories, a dining hall, student center, faculty residence and a guest and home management house. The dining hall is planned to provide services for 1,000 students and faculty members. The three floors of double and single rooms, sectioned into the south, east, and west wings accommodate 250 students and provide lounges, recreation areas and a spacious hall for social functions.

South of the dormitory-dining unit and separated by a small lake, is the second part of the project—a multipurpose 180 room academic building. The administrative, academic and activity areas, relatively independent units, are linked by an elevated academic classroom-seminar-office structure which integrates the various departments of the college into a unified complex. Included in this unit are the administration building, the library with a total capacity of 100,000 volumes, the science, art, music, and home economics departments.

Before construction is fully completed, the administration area, the regular classrooms and a 100-seat amphitheatre lecture room will be used. The three divisions of the science department, chemistry with three labs, physics, one, and biology, one lab with two lecture rooms, and an animal and refrigeration room also will be occupied.

Waiting for completion within the spring semester is the art department in which separate rooms have been designed for ceramics and sculpture, painting and drawing, lettering and design, crafts and weaving. There will also be a kiln room, four storage rooms and a card shop.

An area for the education department, including a curriculum library, audio-visual rooms and classrooms also is planned. The music department will provide five audio-rooms, six practice rooms and two studios. Home economists will use food, clothing, and textile labs.

A reporting room, staff area with a universal desk, in office and processing room or photography will comprise the journalism department. There will be a record room and a lab for the language department. The business department will include rooms for typing, accounting, and business machines.

In addition there will be student lounges, a snack area, and two locker rooms.

TREASURES FROM

Plymouth Pantries

A recipe for a salmon casserole was suggested this week by Mrs. Richard Braun, of 40546 Pinetree Ln.

The Brauns moved to Plymouth from Wayne; their hometown, however, Mrs. Braun said, is Toledo. Her husband teaches math and science in a Livonia junior high school and she is a child care worker at Hawthorne Center.

She said she enjoys working at Hawthorne and is in the girls cottage. She added she has taught physical education.

Mrs. Braun said she belonged to Newcomers Club and the bridge group within the club.

The recipe which makes a good Friday dinner or Lenten dish is one her mother gave her, Mrs. Braun said.

GOLDEN CASSEROLE

- 1 small green pepper, chopped
- 2 onions, small
- 3 Tbl. butter
- 4 Tbl. flour
- ¾ tsp. salt
- 2 C. milk
- 1 lb. can salmon
- 1 Tbl. lemon juice

Fry pepper and onion in butter until brown. Add flour, salt and milk gradually. Add salmon sprinkled with lemon juice. Place in 400 degree oven until heated thoroughly.

Make biscuit dough with following ingredients:

- 1 C. flour
- 1½ tsp. baking powder
- ½ tsp. salt
- 3 Tbl. shortening
- ½ C. milk

Place on board and knead. Roll to ¼ inch thickness in oblong shape. Sprinkle with ¾ C sharp grated cheese. Roll like jelly roll. Push edge into dough. Slice and place circles upright on heated salmon.

Place in 400 degree oven again and bake 25-30 minutes.

PEELING an onion for her "Golden Casserole" is Mrs. Richard Braun, of 40546 Pinetree Ln. The Brauns moved to Plymouth from Wayne, but are Toledo natives, she said.

TONY CURTIS, clad in woman's negligee while his clothes dry after a fall into the water, is pictured with Natalie Wood in this scene from "Sex and the Single Girl." The new technicolor Warner Brothers comedy opens Wednesday, Jan. 27 at the Penn Theatre. Based on the best-selling book, the film also stars Lauren Bacall, Henry Fonda, Mel Ferrer, Leslie Parish and Fran Jeffries. William T. Orr produced the movie and Richard Quine directed it.

Patrolman Attends Course at MSU

Patrolman Carl F. Berry of the Plymouth Police Department is among 42 police officers from 24 Michigan cities attending a Basic Police Training Course at Michigan State University.

The four-week course, a program of the University's Continuing Education Service, provides information on crime prevention and detection and law enforcement for new officers.

Augmenting the faculty from the sponsoring MSU School of Public Administration and Public Safety are Federal Bureau of Investigation, Michigan State Police, Michigan Crime Detection Laboratory, Michigan Liquor Control Commission and MSU Highway Traffic Safety Center authorities, as well as chiefs of city police, heads of city public safety departments and a judge.

Charles Siragusa, executive director of the Illinois Crime Investigating Commission, Chicago, will be the commencement speaker when the officers receive their certificates Feb. 5.

He's Got a Recipe that's Guaranteed to Fail

By Mike Ross

Even if you've never been in a kitchen before, or never will be, I have a recipe that will be of great interest. It's one that is catching on all across the country, and Plymouth is no exception.

Anyone can, and does, see it day after day, all over. It's easy, simple, and surprisingly quick to make, with more powerful and lasting side effects than a gallon of vodka. It makes a cake, a very beautiful cake, when viewed close-up.

But don't step back until it's finished; for it looks drastically different from a distance.

1. Take one young man
2. Take a job requiring many hours (gas station attendant, for example)
3. Add the money from the job
4. Be sure to keep away from the heat of school and studies as much as possible
5. Let it ferment for awhile until a car appears
6. Mix well

If you're lucky maybe the school building mentioned in step four will drop completely out of sight. But, whether it does or not, you will have enough serving for one life-time — one ruined life-time that will advance little farther than the position of gas station attendant.

This isn't the kind of recipe most people like to keep in their homes, it is the kind that belongs beside some witch's cauldron.

It causes a vicious circle, that's hard to control and almost impossible to stop. When a young man takes on the responsibility of a steady job he is giving up more than that amount of time for studying. When he's through with his job by 9 or 10 p.m. he's too tired to get much from studying, so he hops in his car and tools around till 1 a.m. or so and then goes home.

He has been financing his car, of course, from the money he makes at his job. In order to keep it, his girl, a n-d self-respect, he must keep on working. He follows this pattern for weeks and months. Finally, (having given up, as early as ninth grade, or through of going to college or trade school) he quits what remaining time he has left in school and devotes all his time to the job.

Here, for the average Joe, the road ends. In some oily little gas station the guy will stay until he dies.

The girl that's unfortunate enough to marry the poor clod will bring up her children on a shoestring budget, and a very old, withered, dirty shoestring at that.

The young man that finishes high school and goes on to a college or trade school is, by no means assured of success. But, when statistics show that the fellow with higher education has a 100 to one chance over the high school dropout of attaining a higher income, it seems only common sense to want to continue education. The smell, look, and feel of the money-in-the-hand right now, cultivates a warm love for the gray and green portraits of Washington and Lincoln, however.

Most teens and adults are undoubtedly chalking this article up as the fifty-millionth one pushing higher education that they've read. All well-known magazines and most not-so-well-known have carried articles of this type, and people read them, and shake their heads in despair — and put them down and forget.

They forget as best they can that it may be their son (or daughter) that is in, or falling into a situation similar to this. If you're a parent, think, where is your son or daughter right now?

And where will he or she be 10 years from now?

Hoaxes Dating Back to Beginning of Time

Ever since the serpent sold Eve a bill of goods about that apple, people the world over have been swallowing one hoax after another, some on a grand scale, and some all legible to separate the gullible from their money.

Take the Cardiff Giant. The discovery of this 10½-foot tall "petrified man" by well diggers on a farm at Cardiff, N. Y., in 1869 caused a nationwide furor. Ministers drew ominous meaning from this "petrified man" and expounded heresies at the rate of one a day... and people flocked through the admission gates in a steady stream.

Before professors from Cornell and Yale Universities exposed the Cardiff Giant as a gigantic hoax, (the "giant" had been carved from Iowa gypsum the year before and secretly buried on the farm), the perpetrator of the hoax had tapped the people's pockets for thousands of dollars.

A similar hoax of the late 19th century — but this one exhibited "in living flesh and blood" — was the Jersey Devil, displayed by a Philadelphia museum whose headline-hunting press agent had capitalized on an old wives' tale. The legend would have people believe that the devil's child of a Jersey mother who cursed it before birth.

THE MONSTROSITY that the Americans paid their times to see was, in reality, a decked-out kangaroo with artificial wings attached! And an expert at the Smithsonian Institute went so far as to solemnly declare that the creature might be a prehistoric animal that had survived in a cave or cavern.

Elephants were involved in one of the most colorful schemes in the tax records of the Internal Revenue Department. In 1927, "Honest" John Kelley, lawyer for a famous circus, reported that the show was forced to "abandon" some of its animal performers when it moved its winter quarters to Sarasota, Fla., from Bridgeport, Conn. He thus claimed enormous tax deductions for 23 camels, 18 bears, 23 lions, 800 horses and 46 elephants — all of which were presumably left to walk the streets of the Connecticut city until they were taken in by sympathetic citizens!

Some of the cruelest hoaxes have been perpetrated by medical quacks peddling "cures" for almost every disease, ranging from arthritis to cancer. One California man made several million dollars by selling a "magic box" which supposedly sent out waves that could treat and cure almost any human ailment. And examples of this kind are not rare.

Consider Jean-Pierre Schecroun, once a brilliant student at Paris' Ecole des Beaux-Arts, who was unable to make a name for himself in the highly competitive French art market, and found it more profitable to turn out phoney Braques and Picassos.

FOR TWO years Jean-Pierre baffled even the experts, and picked up nearly a quarter of a million dollars, until his grand deception was uncovered in 1963. He did only drawings, water-colors and pastels. Why not oil paintings? "They take too long," Schecroun explained. One of history's most successful hoaxes was engineered by a French peasant girl named Therese Daurignac. One day in the early 1880's, she began showing her neighbors a duly attested copy of a will leaving her $20,000,000. The bequest was made by a rich American, in gratitude for her having nursed him through illness.

No one ever saw his money. The "legacy" was forever tied up in legal technicalities carefully invented by Made-moiselle Daurignac. But on the strength of it, she persuaded French bankers, over a 20-year period, to lend her $12,000,000!

Those who have tried to get rich quick by trying bogus checks have sometimes shown a sense of humor. The FBI reports that on hot check passer wrote his drafts on such fictitious institutions as "The East Bank of the Mississippi," "Another 'paper-hanger' signed his checks, 'U. R. Stuck' and 'N. O. Good.'"

The record for passing bad checks was set by the late Frederick Emerson Peters who, by dint of some 200 impersonations, netted himself $250,000 with 28,000 rubber checks. But he was possessed by the spirit of charity. Among his many philanthropies was a silver chalice for a cathedral in Washington, D. C.

Peters paid for the chalice with a check of course. And the check bounced of course.

Hot Beignets--"Dunk" 'Em In Coffee!

Late, late at night in New Orleans, after parties or the night shift, people head for the coffee stalls in the famous French Market, as they've done since 1813 when the Market opened. Recently, someone asked a New Orleansian if the coffee stalls were as popular as ever. "Popular?" was the reply. "Why, that's the first place we're going when my girls come home from college."

When you drink coffee there, you know (if you did not know before) that coffee is the great common denominator. People in evening clothes share counter space with dungareed fishermen. But then, that's the way it is with coffee, something all people can enjoy together.

At the French Market coffee stalls, fluffy square doughnuts, called Beignets are almost as famous as the colorful old shopping center. Actually, Beignets are delicious north or south. Try them at your next kaffeklatsch. And when you do, "dunk" them the way the New Orleansians do.

- New Orleans Beignets
- ¾ cup milk
  - ¾ cup sugar
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - ¾ cup shortening
  - 1 package active dry yeast
  - ¾ cup very warm water (110°-115°)
  - 1 egg, beaten
  - 3 cups sifted flour (about)
- Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt and shortening; cool to lukewarm. Sprinkle yeast into very warm water; stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture, egg and half the flour. Beat well with mixer or spoon for one minute. Add remaining flour and more if needed to make soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured surface; knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl; cover and let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled, about 1 hour. Punch down and let rise again about ½ hour. Roll out into square a scant ½-inch thick. Cut into 2½ to 3 inch squares. Place on greased baking sheet; let rise until light, about 1 hour. Do not handle while rising or they will fall. Fry in deep fat, heated to 375°, for 2 minutes or until brown on each side; drain on absorbent paper. Serve piping hot, sprinkled generously with confectioners sugar. Makes about 2 dozen.

Survey Shows 17 Per Cent of Elementary Students Need Help

Believing there is a need to help youngsters who are low achievers in school because of emotional problems, provided motivation to propose a consultant program to help students at Gallimore School.

Under the specific program she recommended, an approved teacher-consultant would work with individual children as they needed help in a special room. Mrs. Perkins (based her recommendations on a survey she conducted among 110 Plymouth elementary teachers. She asked teachers on a written form, to indicate how many children in their classes, because of low mental ability, emotional disturbance or other causes, need more of their time than they could give and might be the ones who get lost unless some help is given them early in their schooling. Representing a child population of 3,100, 91 teachers returned the forms to Mrs. Perkins according to her report.

be the cause for 51, or 11.7 per cent, while another 32, or 7.4 per cent, were reported low because of possible emotional disturbance. Teachers answered survey questions largely on their own opinions, although there were psychological test scores and other reports on some of the students, Mrs. Perkins explained.

She said she felt the teachers had a good basis for their opinions, having taught the students for two months at the time of the survey. Mrs. Perkins, in an interview, said she was disturbed about the child sent to the hall for misbehavior. She explained she didn't feel anything was solved in the hall, and that he needed someone's help rather than punishment.

Presently, according to Mrs. Perkins, the Plymouth school system has type A classrooms in elementary, junior high and senior high schools for those children who are low achievers, but educable. Plymouth also has an agreement with Northville schools for type B classrooms for children less educable than type A, Mrs. Perkins explained, adding that the system has no program comparable to the teacher consultant for emotionally disturbed youngsters.

She added the low achiever, because of emotional problems, doesn't qualify for the type A classroom because of his higher intelligence quotient. Retaining them is not the answer, Mrs. Perkins said. The cause of the problem is not met by holding children back and they have a stigma attached to them for failing. Mrs. Perkins presented her proposal to the curriculum committee of the school board which has asked Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister to make a recommendation on it to present to the board in the near future.

IN THE SCHOOL system, teachers reported that 539 or 17.4 per cent of the students are low achievers.

Of these, 218 or seven per cent weren't achieving because of low mental ability and another 168 or 5.4 per cent because of possible emotional disturbance. Other identified reasons or unknown reasons accounted for the remaining 153.

In Gallimore School, teachers reported a total of 107 pupils or 24.6 per cent who were low achievers. Low mental ability was thought to

Funds for the proposed consultant program if it were properly setup, would be available 75 per cent from state aid up to $5,850.

To qualify for state help the teacher-consultant must be approved and a minimum of six pupils certified as emotionally disturbed by an approved psychologist and psychiatrist, Mrs. Perkins said.

In her report she said eight Gallimore students can be presumed qualified.

Mrs. Perkins's specific recommendations for Gallimore School, in addition to the consultant program, include giving increased attention to in-service training on individualized instruction techniques at all grade levels and continuing to use psychological testing services to determine reasons for low achievement.

UNDER THE crisis room adaptation of the consultant program, Mrs. Perkins explained, children keep their regular classroom as their base and meet with the spe-

Urge Aliens To Register By Deadline

Walter A. Sahli, District Director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service at Detroit, Michigan reminded aliens in Michigan this week that Saturday, Jan. 30, 1965, is the deadline for filing address report forms as required under provisions of the 1952 Immigration and Nationality Act.

The Immigration official urged aliens who have not yet filed their address reports to do so no later than Jan. 31 to avoid possible penalties.

Sahli said the law requires that every alien except those having diplomatic status, representatives of certain international organizations and persons admitted temporarily as agricultural laborers must file the address report during January of each year at the nearest Post Office or Immigration and Naturalization Service office.

Sahli said an estimated 125,000 aliens in this State have filed address reports so far this January.

A total of 135,000 aliens filed address reports in Michigan last year. Reports for 1965 are expected to total 130,000.

A NEW CARBURETOR by Harold Phelps, Inc. of Plymouth may be on the market very soon following over six years of testing. The new carburetor is smaller than average and is expected to be cheaper in cost. It utilizes a valve to regulate fuel, then feeds fuel with a small amount of air into a fogging nozzle. The makers claim increased mileage and faster and smoother performance. It will work on one, two or four barrel manifolds.

V.F.W. Auxiliary Announces New Essay Contest

A new annual Americanism award competition has been announced by the Mayflower Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The competition is open to teenagers, 16-19 years-old, in high school or college. "In Education Rests the Future of America" is this year's essay topic. All papers are to be 300 words or less in length. Applicants must show interest in family, community, national and world affairs, and must display a sense of responsibility, truthfulness and loyalty and ability to present new ideas with sincerity.

First Church of Christ, Scientist Slates Lecture

The Christian Science way of worshipping God will be explained in a public lecture in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, 1100 W. Ann Arbor Tr., Sunday, Jan. 31, at 4 p.m.

Geith A. Plimmer

The speaker, Geith A. Plimmer, of London, is a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship. He has been a schoolmaster in New Zealand and Australia and a joint headmaster in England. Plimmer has served as an officiating minister to the Allied Forces in Italy during World War II and has represented Christian Science as former district manager of committees on publication for Great Britain and Ireland. "Christian Science: The Christian's Best Friend" will be Plimmer's topic.

VFW News

There will be a fourth District rally for Auxiliary officers and delegates at Post 2107, 10120 Plymouth Rd., Detroit, Department of Michigan President Edith Brown, will be making her official visit to the fourth district at this time. The date is Feb. 7, with registration at 1 p.m. and the meeting at 2 p.m. All delegates and officers of Mayflower Auxiliary 6895 be sure to make an extra effort to attend.

The next regular meeting of the Mayflower Auxiliary will be held on Feb. 2. Everyone come out and enjoy yourself. Don't forget to keep trying to bring in new members, even if we are over 100 per cent in the auxiliary.

Get well wishes are extended to Chuck Swaddling, son of the William Swaddling's, and to Mrs. Robert Archer who is still in Garden City Osteopathic Hospital.

Here is a bill for all Auxiliary and Post members to write on. It is H.R. 187 (a bill concerning adding clothing allowances to some disabled veteran's checks for wearing out of the clothing due to braces and other devices) which is now before the Senate. Write to both Senator Patrick McNamara and Senator Phillip Hart at the Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. Ask for a reply and turn the replies over to Mrs. William Cadaret, the legislative chairman.

A pancake breakfast is being scheduled for either Feb. 7 or 14 for Auxiliary and Post members and their families.

There will be a long formation of new members at the Harris-Kehrer Post 3323, 1055 S. Wayne Rd., Wayne, on Jan. 31, at 4 p.m.

PLYMOUTH HIGH NOTES

The cast is Dr. Stockmann, Mike Ross; Mayor Stockmann, Phil Hruska; Hovstad, Tom Donnelly; Mrs. Stockmann, Mary Arnold; Pedra Stockmann, Beth Miller; Astaksen, Larry Smithson; Billing, Dan Robinson; Captain Horseter, Tom Chandler; Norten Kill, Bruce Spratling; Morten Stockmann, Clark Chapin; Ejlif Stockmann, Daryl Kiefer; Hedvig, Gwen Fulton; and Tora, Debbie Broderick.

The crowd will consist of Mike Clear, Rob Wilson, Paul Campbell, Ken Groom, Pam Bishop, Sally Van Antwerp, Linda Kissner, Christi Sullivan, Mary Ann McKenzie, Chris Sherry, Diane Roberts, Carole Grimes, Barb Jones and Sally Kenner.

The play will be held March 25-27. "An Enemy of the People" was written by Henrik Ibsen and adapted by Arthur Miller. Practice will begin on Monday, Feb. 1.

On Feb. 1 all essays written on citizenship for the National Soroptimist Federation are to be in the guidance office. These essays will be picked up by a member of the Plymouth Soroptimist Club on that day and judged shortly thereafter. The person winning the top place in the nation will receive $2,000. The contest will include Plymouth and Northville. The winner in this district will receive a $75 bond, free dinner for himself and his family and have his essay sent to national judging. The second and third place winners will each receive a $25 bond and free dinner.

A LIFE of Christ film series will be shown each Wednesday night at 7 beginning Wednesday, January 27 at Calvary Baptist Church. The series was four years in making. Each thirty-minute episode is so presented as to have an appeal to junior age through adult. You are invited to bring your family. The scene above, is from the flight of the holy family into Egypt.

Lake Pointe News

By Marion Beaudry — 453-8039

First I'd like to introduce myself. I am Marion Beaudry of 14745 Cherry Lane. I would appreciate it if you would call me, preferably afternoons, to inform me of any news in Lake Pointe Subdivision. My phone number is 453-8039.

I am also secretary for the Lake Pointe Mixed Bowling League for couples. We bowl every Friday at 7:20 p.m. at the Plymouth Bowl. We are always in need of substitutes so if you or anyone you know is interested in bowling, please call me. The highest game for the men last week went to Bud Moinar with 223 and high series to John Peck with 537. Betty Jones had high game with 168 and Pat McNeil took high series with 471.

A birthday supper was held for Dewayne Seiba last week. He is six years old and lives at 14295 Shadywood. Those children who attended his party were Shannon Smith, Nancy and John Plas, Cindy Ripard, Van Stanley, David Edwards and Dewayne's older brother Daryl, age 10. And speaking of Daryl — he belongs to the Pee Wee Bowling League, for boys, age 10-12, who meet at the Plymouth Bowl every Saturday morning at 10 a.m. Two weeks ago Daryl bowled a 168 game.

On Jan. 20 a card party was held at the home of Marge Lewko of Lakewood Drive. A donation of $1.25 was asked by the Rosary Society of Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church as a contribution for a memorial for the new church being built. Those who attended were Ann Brock, Dorothea Madick, Dorothea Paul, Jenny Signorelli, Gail Stannard, Terry Pardikes, Katy Mandie, M. a r i l y n Korte, Nan Beutter and Sherrie Diehl. Ann Brock won the door prize, a floral arrangement, and Katy Mandie, Dorothea Madick and Nan Beutter won table prizes.

The Troop temporarily is meeting on Monday evenings at 7:30 p.m. at Junior High East while Farrand School's addition is being constructed. Court of Honor will be held Feb. 8. The next camp-out is March 19, and this Spring a pancake supper will be held.

Sympathy to Mrs. Richard Ripard and children of 14218 Shadywood. Her husband died following a long illness. Surviving are his wife Ariene and three children, Robbie 8½, Cindy 4, and Carolyn 1½. He had served as an area director of the Lake Pointe Home Owners Association a few years ago.

American Legion Auxiliary

Four areas of endeavor in behalf of America's security have been outlined for its members for 1965 by the American Legion Auxiliary. Mrs. Joy Tornow, national security chairman of Pasage-Gayde Unit, has announced.

The American Legion Auxiliary will be the sponsoring organization for the 1965 Women's Forum on National Security to be held in Washington, D.C., Feb. 15-17, with delegates from 17 national women's patriotic organizations participating.

man Betty Richter has something brewing for Saturday, Feb. 13 for the ladies of the Auxiliary so keep this date open and watch for details. Start preparing for our rummage sale coming up on Saturday, March 6. Our chairman this year is Mrs. Betty Richter.

We hope to have all of our 900,000 members throughout the country participating in this vital activity, said Mrs. Tornow. Today's conditions demand that our nation be strong in all elements of national strength in order that American freedom can be secure against the dangers of the world of 1965.

Retired men and women who are finding interesting leisure in the volunteer hospital worker's program of the American Legion Auxiliary according to Mrs. Fern Burleson, rehabilitation chairman.

The fish fries at our Post Home are still going strong. If you haven't tried it lately, do it! Anyone wanting to help on this project, call Kitchen Chairman Vern Miller.

Listed are the four areas of Auxiliary efforts: (1) Security through strength. The Auxiliary will endeavor to promote understanding of the necessity of maintaining the armed forces at a strength superior to that of the Communist nations. (2) Security for our citizens. Security on the home front will be sought through support of efforts to bring greater safety to Americans in their homes and communities. (3) Security Through Savings. The Auxiliary will urge purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds, and will continue to sponsor the sale of U.S. Saving Stamps in schools. (4) Sharing security worldwide. The Auxiliary will endeavor to increase women's understanding of America's military alliances and military assistance program.

An increasing number of men are joining the Auxiliary women in volunteer hospital work, said Mrs. Burleson. Not only are they bringing comfort and encouragement to the hospital patients whom they visit, but they are finding a new zest in life for themselves. The American Legion Auxiliary has a corps of more than 10,000 training volunteers on duty in veterans hospitals throughout the country.

Courtship Customs Date Back to Medieval Times

Starry-eyed couples on the altar-bound path cover many centuries of tradition on their way. Courtship customs as we know them today were practiced, in one form or another, long, long ago.

But rings were exchanged — for both engagement and wedding — long before an Italian lover gave his fiancée that first diamond setting. Primitive man wove a ring made of cord around the waist of the woman he wanted — symbol of binding them together.

THE SIGNIFICANCE of the ring as a circle is "mutual love and hearty affection should roundly flow from one person to the other — continually and forever," according to a century writer.

"showered" with gifts to start their own home — and that's the idea of the shower today.

WEDDING BELLS originated in England. In medieval times it was customary for the church bells to peal as the bride entered, and again when she left the church. This custom has survived and is still in use today.

City DPW Activities

By Joseph Bida, Sup'l.

During last week the Department of Public Works was rushing around taking care of two funerals, both on the same day, at Riverside Cemetery. The streets were salted in priority with hills, railroad tracks and intersections. All main streets were cold patched. The freezing and thawing of the winter has caused some of the blacktop and seal coat to break up.

installed on Adams Street. A fire hydrant was removed on Main Street at Wing Street and a hydrant was thawed on William Street at N. Harvey Street.

In many places today, trousseaus are collected for girls even as early as five years. And, there once was a time when the bridegroom had the privilege of examining the trousseau and deciding whether or not it was complete.

THE ACTUAL wedding ceremony as generally conducted in the Western world today has its origins in religion and is performed in accordance with the religious custom of the bride and groom. But among many primitive peoples, the mere act of eating together constituted marriage. In the Fiji's for instance, the marriage ceremony was considered complete as soon as the pair had eaten from the same dish.

TRADITIONS of a courtship have evolved from centuries of beliefs, superstitions and practices. And because tradition, more than superstition, guides so much of social life, today's bride will follow a traditional path to the altar — even to the wearing of some things borrowed, blue, old and new.

New racks were erected in the sign department for storing materials. The creek was cleaned between Sheldon and S. Harvey Street and the trees were trimmed and brush hauled away. Sanitary sewers were checked and cleaned in the north section of the city. A catch basin was rebuilt at the cemetery entrance. A 3/4" water tap was

An article has been brought to my attention regarding the hazards of a 55 gallon drum. I think these are things that the average person does not realize. A 55 gallon drum weighs 46 pounds empty and from 125 to 150 pounds full. When overflowing with wet garbage and usually some rocks and concrete, it requires two men and sometimes three for lifting. Departments are having difficulties in finding men who can dump these drums. It takes about three weeks for a man to learn how to handle them, and then he has to be big and husky. Most of them don't stay on the job after lifting a few of those big barrels. The injuries to the sanitation worker are hernias and crushed or amputated fingers and toes, also sprained backs. As a time saver many 30 gallon containers could be picked up while two or three men were trying to take care of a 55 gallon drum.

BEFORE she marries, the engaged girl is likely to be the guest of honor at a bridal shower. This delightful custom originated with the Dutch. It happened by chance when a rich man, whose daughter married a poor miller, refused to give a dowry. Friends of the miller, also poor, were sorry for the couple without any worldly goods. So they decided each would give a gift, meager though it be, and that they would all give their gifts at one time, so as not to make them appear to be too trifling. In this way the couple was

The old shoes that we tie to the back of the bridal car are supposedly tied to an old Egyptian custom. Legend has it that the father of the bride used to give her sandals to the prospective bridegroom, sym-

Swimmers Win As Berry Ties Pool Record

Kisabeth Gets 41

Gerald Kisabeth, formerly of Plymouth High's varsity basketball team, scored 41 points recently as Schoolcraft College lost to Detroit Business College 106-78 in the Plymouth High School gym.

Schoolcraft was playing without the services of its regular center and leading rebounder, another ex-Rock, Cal Luibrand.

Kisabeth is currently leading Schoolcraft scorers with 150 points for the season, and 73 of them have come in the last two games.

Plymouth's swimming team got back on the victory trail last week with a 59-46 victory over Belleville, which included a record-tying performance by the Rock's Dick Berry in the 50 yard freestyle.

The 200 yard medley relay team with John Skinner, Don Norman, Tim Wernette and Geoff Burke got Plymouth started right with a first place in that event.

Jeff Haarbauer and Dan Decker placed one-two respectively in the next event, the 200 yard freestyle, and Plymouth was off and swimming.

DICK BERRY next tied his own Plymouth pool and team record with a speedy 23.3 in the 50 yard freestyle and Plymouth was almost flying.

In the 200 yard individual medley, Jeff Hoffman won for Plymouth, and the Rocks went into the spring-board diving without having been topped.

Belleville won the diving, but John Larson and Dick Lorenz were second and third for Plymouth.

HAARBAUER got things going again with a first place in the 100 yard butterfly, while Tom Bowsman placed third. Dick Berry added his second first in the 100 yard freestyle and Al Saxton was second for Plymouth.

Belleville won first places in the next three events, but Plymouth's Decker was second in the 100 yard backstroke and Norman was second in the 100 yard breaststroke, while Jeff Gustafson was third.

Plymouth's relay team won the final event as Russ Crosby, Mike Bentley, Gary Bohl and Pat Brady combined to win the 200 yard freestyle relay.

When it was all over, Plymouth had not only shaken a four meet losing streak, but swimming coach John McFall had beaten an old-pupil, Belleville Coach Bill Brandell.

Brandell was Plymouth's first All-American high school swimmer in 1957. He was then Plymouth's Captain and a swimmer in all events, but his specialty was the 400 yard freestyle. It was one event that Belleville won last Thursday, but as yet his team hasn't been able to beat his old coach.

RECORD START — for Dick Berry (right) is pictured here. It's the beginning of the 50 yard freestyle event in which Berry tied his own pool and team record of last season with a 23.3 performance. It was one of several good races for the Rocks last Thursday as they beat Belleville 59-46.

UP FOR AIR — comes Don Norman of Plymouth as he finishes a close second for Plymouth against Belleville in the 100 yard breaststroke. Norman's effort helped Plymouth shake a four meet losing streak.

The Sporting Thing

By Bill Nelson

Plymouth's swimming team and its coach, John H. McFall, are undergoing an unusual season, which is best illustrated by what happened in the Plymouth pool last Thursday.

Plymouth beat Belleville and thereby shook a four dual-meet losing streak. Prior to this year Plymouth had won the Suburban Six League Championship in nine of the last 10 years and had also gathered in one state title.

Plymouth has been swimming for only 10 years, so perhaps never before have the Rocks had to shake a losing streak like that one.

In addition, it was common, almost, during prior years for Plymouth swimmers to break one record after another. Dick Berry finally got this nice habit going again last Thursday by tying his pool and team records (he set them last year) in the 50 yard freestyle. His effort produced another 23.3 result in that event.

McFall, of course, has been coaching swimming since it started here, and one of the people he coached was a young man named Bill Brandell.

In 1957, Brandell did just about everything for Plymouth swimming, including swimming the freestyle and becoming expert in six or seven events. He was Plymouth's first All-American swimmer and also the Rocks' 1957 captain.

Last Thursday, he showed up again in the Plymouth pool, this time as coach of the Belleville high school swimming team with hopes (shared by every other Suburban Six League school this season) of at last giving Plymouth a good dunking in swimming.

"We'll make a lot of opponents happy" McFall lamented earlier this year. Brandell and Belleville, however, were not to be among that group. For the moment, the teacher is still ahead of his ex-pupil.

In the darkest days of World War II, Winston S. Churchill seemed to border (as greatness often does) on the ridiculous. Here was this round Briton defying powerful Adolph Hitler almost by himself as his country was being devastated. He said things like "I have nothing to offer but blood, tears, toil and sweat."

He said, "We will never surrender" at the worst moments of the war, when surrender seemed a logical choice. He said, "Let us brace ourselves to our duty, so that if the empire should live a thousand years, they will say this was its finest hour."

In short, as John F. Kennedy put it so succinctly, "He mobilized the English language, and sent it into battle."

He was never known as much of a sporting thing in the sense of athletic competition, except for polo but he was an adventurer and full of boundless spirit.

His famous phrases, near physical disasters, and courage (he slept on the top floor of buildings during air raids) are legendary.

His youth was apparently a succession of non-conformist acts, and yet when a certain point in time required the great man, Churchill was that man.

Another writer has said, "He was quite simply, the biggest man of his time".

One wonders about the coincidence of Churchill lying at death just a few days longer than seemed normal. During his final few hours, a great grandson is born to the only person in the family to bear his name, his grandson Winston S. Churchill. There is in the man a magnificence that wouldn't quit even at death.

In the Detroit News, the Rt. Reverend Bishop Emerich says of the controversy over a statue (should it have a cigar) "Let the statue have a cigar".

One thinks that were he lucid, in the privacy of his drawing room, Sir Winston would have puffed away, sipped a brandy and invited death to sit down.

For over ninety years he feared nothing.

Belleville Edges Rocks 50-49

Belleville edged Plymouth 50-49 at Belleville last Friday, but the game couldn't have been closer.

The two teams were tied

3-3 at the beginning of the second quarter and 21-21 at the half. Plymouth took a one-point, 33-32, margin into the final period, but Belleville

Strangely, both teams had edged ahead 50-49 with 45 seconds left and hung on with an effective stall to win by one point.

performed well against

Allen Park. Allen Park, leader of the Suburban Six League for most of the season, had been forced into overtime against Belleville to win, and later was almost upset by Plymouth.

The Rocks will get another shot at a league leader this Friday, when Bentley (3-1) comes to town for an 8 p.m. game in the Plymouth gym.

AGAINST Belleville, Gary Grady led both teams with 18 points on six field goals and six free tosses. Dave Tidwell was next for Plymouth with 10 points on four field goals and two free throws. Rick Jones contributed nine points on four goals and a free toss.

BELLEVILLE REBOUNDER Bill Wilkins, here grabbing a loose ball off the Plymouth basket, entered the game late in the third period and turned the tide for Belleville against Plymouth as he collected several key rebounds to add to his six points for the evening. Belleville won 50-49 at Belleville.

JV Swimmers Win Two Meets

Plymouth's junior varsity swimming team chalked up two victories recently by beating Pierce Junior high 55-32 last week. A week earlier the young Rocks had sunk Belleville JVs 49-34.

Against Pierce, Plymouth swimmers placed thusly: 50 yard freestyle; Mark Whittaker (2nd) and Bruce Gould (3rd); 50 yard butterfly, Mike Malbouef (1st) and Eddie Iwakes (3rd);

Fifty yard backstroke, Robert Andes (1st) and John Norman (3rd); 100 yard freestyle, Pat McCord (1st) and D. J. Catton (2nd); 50 yard breaststroke, Pat Gallagher (1st); Diving, Guy Carlson (1st);

One hundred yard individual medley, Pat McCord (1st); 200 yard medley relay, Andes, Malbouef, Gallagher and Catton (1st) and 100 yard free style relay Carlson, Whittaker, Iwakes and Gould (1st).

IN THE Belleville meet, Plymouth JVs finished in the following manner: 50 yard freestyle, Gould (1st), 50 yard butterfly, Malbouef (2nd) and Bowsman (3rd), 50 yard backstroke, Andes (1st) and Norman (2nd);

One hundred yard freestyle, McCord (1st) and Catton (2nd); 50 yard breaststroke, Gallagher (1st); diving, Carlson (1st); 100 yard individual medley, McCord (1st) and Malbouef (3rd);

Plymouth won the 100 yard freestyle relay, which was swam by Whittaker, Bowsman, Iwakes and Gould.

Sports IN AND AROUND PLYMOUTH

Cagers Host Bentley

Plymouth's basketball team will be home this Friday for an 8 p.m. game against defending league champion Bentley.

The Rocks will be looking for their first Suburban Six League win and a victory to even up the season's record against the Bulldogs. Bentley won the first encounter, played in Livonia.

The swimming team will be at Bentley at 7 p.m. Friday, and on Tuesday will travel to Fordson for a 4 p.m. afternoon meet.

Community League Gets Underway

In Class A of the Plymouth Community Junior Basketball League last week, the Lakers beat the Royals 27-14 and the Pistons edged the Bullets 16-15, while the Warriors won 32-26 from the Celtics.

In Class B the Lakers won 18-4, and the Bullets also won 16-10, while the Warriors won over the Celtics 7-3.

Next week (all games are played Saturdays at Junior High West), in Class A, the Lakers meet the Warriors at 9 a.m. in the boys gym; the Bullets will play the Celtics at 10:30 a.m. in the girls gym and the Royals will meet the Pistons at noon in the boys gym.

CLASS B teams will begin with the Royals meeting the Pistons at 9 a.m. in the girls gym. At 10:30 a.m. the Lakers will play the Warriors in the boys gym and at noon the Bullets will play the Celtics in the girls gym.

There is a possibility that two "A" teams of the league will play at halftime of the Junior Varsity game this Friday, when Plymouth high school teams play Bentley. JV games start at 6:30 p.m.

"WILDLIFE ODDITIES" in Michigan Outdoors is the title of the series. It includes the best ten short subjects of the four seasons.

The following are a few that will be included: "THE DEER THAT CAME TO DINNER," "CHARLIE THE SANDHILL CRANE," "DANCE OF THE PRAIRIE CHICKENS," "TRAPPING WILD TURKEYS," "THE WILD SWAN FAMILY," "AUTUMN MAGIC," Archery deer hunting, some spectacular ski stuff, including the pro races at Boyne, and the International jumps at Iron Mountain. In short, the 45 minutes of film will include the type of action footage that carries an audience into the field of action itself.

Two of Howard Shelley's most recent films will highlight the second half of the show. One entitled "Eskimoland" was filmed this past July above the Artic Circle. The other features the "Bear Country" of British Columbia. You will see the white bear found only in that part of the world.

Wildlife Lensman In Feb. 1 Program

Howard Shelly, wildlife photographer for the television show "Michigan Outdoors", will be the featured lecturer at the JayCees Sports-A-Rama series next Monday, February 1.

The program starts at 8:15 p.m. at Junior High West. Adult tickets are $1.50; children under 12 admitted free. Shelly's lecture is the third of a five part series sponsored by the JayCees. Earlier lectures included Terry Barr, who spoke and showed films of the Lions season.

Shelly's program will be highlighted by the presentation of a series of short subjects "Wildlife Oddities" and two of his most recent films, "Eskimoland" and "Bear Country". "Eskimoland" was filmed this past July above the Arctic Circle.

Shelly is a regular on Mort Neff's Thursday night show and spends much of his time filming footage for the program. He estimates he has exposed 200,000 feet of movie film since he started with "Michigan Outdoors".

Shelly didn't get into the film making business until about 1950, when he bought a small camera and taught himself on a do-it-yourself basis.

Shelly had early journalistic experience with sports in his college days in Iowa. He worked for General Motors, then became a magazine editor before joining Mort Neff in 1957.

After Shelly's appearance, two more guests are scheduled in the Sports-A-Rama series — Larry Helin and Neal (Doc) Fennell.

Helin, scheduled for Thursday, February 18, is a big game fishing expert.

Doc Fennell, set for Thursday, March 18, is manager of the Detroit Tiger speaker's bureau, and will include in his program a film on the Tiger organization, "A Tiger Wins His Stripes."

JVs Beat Belleville

Plymouth's junior varsity basketball team charged to an early lead at Belleville last Friday and went on to win 50-32, as Mike Manley paced the JV Rocks with 16 points.

The JVs led 9-6 at the first quarter and maintained that three point margin, 17-14 at half. In the third quarter Plymouth sped to a 36-23 lead.

Manley managed his 16 points on seven field goals and two free throws, while John Ellison was second high for Plymouth with nine points on three field goals and three foul shots.

The JVs will meet Bentley at 6:30 this Friday in the Plymouth Gym, prior to the varsity game.

JA Slates Fund Drive

A goal of $3,900 has been set for the annual Junior Achievement Fund Drive slated for Feb. 1 through Feb. 25 in the Plymouth area.

Although the 12 JA Companies in The Plymouth Community contribute substantially to their own support, it is necessary to supplement their funds each year by contributions from local business and industry.

In learning about the free enterprise system Junior Achievers organize their own miniature corporation, sell the stock, design, manufacture and sell the product, pay wages and rent on equipment and facilities, dissolve the corporation and pay back stockholders plus a dividend. This is all accomplished during the course of the school year.

The 250 young people which make up the 12 JA Companies in the Plymouth area are advised by 36 Plymouth area executives who contribute their time and experience to these young people.

What Do You Know About Architecture?

Small businessman, company executive, purchasing agent, homeowner — no matter who you are, you may someday be able to save yourself real money by improving your knowledge of architecture. This short quiz will help.

How did the skyscraper begin? The architects of the "Chicago school" in the 1880's developed a new type of construction — the steel-skeleton — which made the first skyscrapers possible. Buildings with massive supporting walls became a thing of the past, as leading Chicago architects like Jenney and Sullivan built their graceful towers on a rigid framework of steel.

How would you explain the famous dictum, "Form follows function"? This principle — begun by the "Chicago school" and continued in the work of Frank Lloyd Wright — declares that a building's purpose or function will determine what shape it will take. The building — whether an office tower or a home — should be simple and honest, avoid unnecessary detail, and not try to resemble something it isn't — like a Gothic castle or a Greek temple.

What is meant by a "free plan"? The "free-plan" — developed by Wright — sees an entire house as one flowing space which grows out in all directions like a spreading plant. It is also known as the "windmill plan" because of the way the rooms are extended outward from a central core like the vanes of a windmill.

HOW DID split-level houses begin? In 1929 the French-Swiss architect Le Corbusier designed the first split-level house in a suburb of Paris. Le Corbusier rejected all of the popular styles of the past and based the form of his modern multi-levelled house upon pure geometric shapes. He viewed the house as "a machine for living in" just as a steamship was a machine for traveling on water.

What's the principle behind the curtain wall? This architectural style is based upon the steel-skeleton or cage construction of the "Chicago school." Curtain walls are non-supporting screens — usually of glass — which are "stretched" around the steel framework of the building like an envelope to keep out rain, cold and noise.

What are pilotis? Pilotis are heavy sculptural stilts used by Le Corbusier and other modern architects to raise their buildings above the ground. In the same way your legs support your body weight, pilotis hold up the full load of the building, leaving its walls with nothing to support.

WHAT IS architectural formalism? This is one of the newest architectural movements to react against the static quality of the curtain wall. Headed by leading architects like Edward Stone and Philip Johnson, this style shows a preference for "weighty" looking buildings of stone, which resemble modern versions of classic monumental buildings. One of the latest examples of this style is the new marble Huntington Hartford Museum in New York City.

What is "action" architecture? "Action" architecture is a movement in which building forms are more fluid in shape; many elements even look as if they are in motion. The TWA jet terminal at Kennedy Airport, for example, resembles a great flying bird.

Snow Cruising — New Winter Sport

A new winter sport is developing this winter — snow cruising.

In a variety of motorized toboggans and scooters on skis, young and old are taking to the hills to enjoy the winter wonderland in all its pristine beauty. In fact, snow cruising has become so popular that some winter carnivals will be holding snowmobile rallies and races, including everything from cross-country trails to slalom courses. More than 100 motorized toboggan clubs stage regular races, rallies or outings.

Resorts rent the compact units at prices ranging from three to six dollars an hour, depending on the area. Whole families take to the snow on the snow cruisers; summertime water skiing enthusiasts keep trim during winter months, skimming along behind a motorized toboggan. In the last few years, the popularity of trail-skiing has fallen off and the scenic ski trails have fallen into disuse. With the booming popularity of snow cruising, however, many of these old trails are being whipped into shape again. Trails usually are clearly marked and maps provided.

The motorized ski units, with their tractor treads to forge over snow and ice, are made for one, two, three or four passengers. Similar to a European motor scooter in style, snowmobilers skim the snow-clad hills at speeds up to 35 miles an hour, opening new vista, hitherto enjoyed only by those who could ski or snowshoe into the glistening splendor of winter.

One manufacturer maintains that in a few years, the motorized toboggan will be to winter what the motor boat is to summer.

Wibby Gets Shutout As PeeWees Win

The VFW PeeWees saved Plymouth Hockey Association teams from complete defeat by Garden City teams last week. The PeeWees took a 1-0 shutout decision from Garden City on a goal by Pat Herter.

Goalie Chuck Wibby, 12 years old, recorded his seventh league shutout in three years of play and his 11th in league or exhibition competition.

In juvenile action, the Plymouth Trading Post was shutout 4-0 by Garden City. The Midget Royals lost 2-1. John Gilles scored for the Royals.

Mike O'Brien flashed one goal for the Bantam T-Birds, but they also were beaten 2-1, by Garden City.

IN SQUIRT action (under 10 years old) Plymouth won 4-0 on goals by Kevin O'Brien

(2) and singles by Matt Gates and Craig Cash.

Last week, Plymouth Old-Timers played a game against Wixom "Old-Timers" and were beaten 10-3. According to those in attendance, Wixom Old-Timers aged between 16-20 years of age, while Plymouth participants were considerably more advanced in age. The game was attended in the cold outdoors by the Mayor of Wixom, among others.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Braun, 40546 Pinetree Rd. attended the January gathering of the Newcomer's couples beginning bridge group. Eight husbands and wives met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sharrar, Greenbrook, Jan. 16. Mr. Braun took second prize. The next get-together will be held Feb. 13 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Mohrhardt, 42314 Hamhill Ln.

On Jan. 19, the Brauns entertained their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. William Kangas, 40541 Pinetree Rd., at dinner. Following the meal, the two couples played cards.

On Jan. 16, Mrs. Gerald R. Stevens, 40562 Pinetree Rd., was the guest of Mrs. Malcolm B. Weaver and Mrs. David Zussman, Detroit, at a luncheon party given at Topinkas, Detroit. Following the luncheon the group attended the 13th annual Modern Dance Concert for Young Folks given by students attending Detroit Police Schools and presented in the Community Arts Auditorium at Wayne State University.

Mrs. Stevens was a teacher of modern dance at Redford High School in Detroit before moving to the Plymouth community.

Mrs. Alan Ludwig, 11369 Terry St., entertained a family group Jan. 7 with a sur-

Radio Hams Elect Officers

The Stu Rockefeller Amateur Radio Society, amateur radio operators from Plymouth and surrounding communities, elected officers at its regular meeting January 19.

The new officers included: President, Larry Hanse, Vice President, Bobb Gots, Secretary, Bob Baxter, and Treasurer, Sid Waters.

The trustee of the club's station W8NJK which operates from the radio room of Plymouth's city hall as an element of civil defense, is Bill Silvis.

The club meetings are held in the Credit Union building on the third Tuesday of each month. At its next meeting pictures of members' stations will be shown.

The Simplon Tunnel through the Alps, 12 1/2 miles long, was started in 1898 and completed in 1906.

prise birthday party for her husband, Alan. The get-together also honored the Ludwig's son, Phillip, three, who has a mutual birthday with his father. Joining in the festivities were Mr. Ludwig's brother, Neil, 11391 Terry St.; his parents and their other children, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Ludwig, 11427 Terry St., and Andrea, Bonita, Christine, Deborah, and Michael. Also helping in the celebration were Phillip's brother, Gregory, and his two sisters, Gayle and Rebecca.

This season Richard B. Braun, Pinetree Rd., is coach for the basketball team at Whittier Junior High in Livonia, where he is a science and mathematics teacher. On Jan. 18, Coach Braun witnessed his team's victory in its first league contest, as the Whittier Dragons overpowered Bryant No. 3 by a score of 22-6. In their first practice game, the Dragons were defeated 66-4.

Evelyn Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hill, 40433 Pinetree Rd., began celebrating her sixth birthday on Jan. 15 with the help of her classmates in the afternoon section of the Allen School kindergarten. On Jan. 17, her birthday, Evelyn was hostess for 16 of her friends at a party from 3-5 p.m. in her home. Among the guests from Salem Square were Adrienne and Suzanne Matyas, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Tibor Matyas, 40450 Pinetree Rd.; Cheri and Kimberly Blomberg, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Blomberg, 40466 Pinetree Rd.; and Gloria and Leslie Siazak, Pinetree Rd.

Mrs. Elizabeth Chapin, 15214 Lakewood, hosted the Jan. 19 meeting of the Newcomer's Fortune Hunter's Investment Club. Mrs. Gerald Stevens, Pinetree Rd., was among the members who attended the meeting. The group will meet on Feb. 16 in the home of the club's treasurer, Mrs. Laura Ives, 895 William St.

Its Easy to Express Yourself in Papier Mache

Ever had the urge to create a painting... a sculpture... a mural... and felt frustrated? You don't have to be a Michelangelo to do something that will bring you a great deal of satisfaction. For instance, why not try expressing yourself in papier mache?

You can make papier mache decorations that will give your home a festive and colorful touch and will bring you a real sense of accomplishment. Or, you can use papier mache items — figurines, trays, masks, dishes, puppet heads — as gifts or centerpieces, even sell them at bazaars.

The Orientals, who invented the craft, have had fun with papier mache for centuries. The art of making beautifully decorated and handsomely lacquered articles of Oriental motif with mashed paper and a paste substance was known in the East — Persia, China, Japan — hundreds of years before it was introduced in Europe.

In the mid-18th century, France brought this process to Europe — and gave papier mache its name. It appealed to the French as an excellent way to make use of used paper, thereby avoiding waste of costly material. Soon everyone in Europe caught on to the fascination of papier mache-ware.

FREDERICK the Great established a papier mache factory in Berlin in 1765. Henry Clay of Birmingham, England, perfected the process further and commercially made ornate papier mache tea trays and furniture, among other products — all rare collectors' items today.

Papier mache attracted the early Victorians (who had a passion for intricate bric-a-brac), since it was beautifully adaptable to this fancy work. And during the 19th century Regency Period in England, when it became customary for the middle classes to enjoy tea time, the growing demand for tea trays occurred simultaneously with the mass production of papier mache tea trays. Until about 1860, no English drawing room was complete without a set of decorated papier mache tea trays.

Although no longer practical to make commercially, papier mache has become a favorite creative medium for both the amateur and professional artisan. It has proved to be one of the most fascinating — and least expensive — art forms.

PAPIER MACHE uses simple materials — paper, paste and paint — and can take the shape of anything you choose. The paper most commonly used in newspaper or a commercial shredded paper pulp, both easily available.

It's easy and fun to work in papier mache. Here are the basic steps to follow:
First set aside an area, possibly on a card table, where you can work in your leisure, and which can be left as is until your project is finished. Keep your work space covered with clean newspapers, and gather all materials together — paper, paste, paint and pan for water — before you start.

Get plenty of paper — whole sheets torn in half and a lot of strips. Tear the strips from several sheets folded in half into pieces about 2" x 11".
If papier mache work is a new experience for you, it's best to keep a simple object in mind — fruits, heads, masks, or basic animal forms are good for beginners. Once you have mastered the simple forms, the sky's the limit for creative expression through papier mache.

TO START it's helpful to mold wire in an outline of the object you've chosen to make. The wire should be about the thickness of light rope. Don't attempt to obtain a three-dimensional form with the wire, but shape it on a flat surface. It is merely to be your guide. Masking tape is suitable for piecing the wire together.

One way to prepare papier mache is to take a sheet or half sheet depending on the size of the sculpture and dampen it with plain water, sprinkling the water on with your hands. Crush the paper in a s e e between the wire sculpture. You're on your way and gradually as you add more crushed pieces your three dimensional object will take form.

Then, in order to hold the large pieces of dampened paper in place, cover one side of the 2" x 11" torn strips of newspaper with the modeling paste and work them around the form, smoothing out wrinkles or creases. These strips can also be crumpled together after they are pasted and used to build up any part of the sculpture or to add detail, where needed.

It's a good idea to do the pasting on clean sheets of newspaper, folding them over or changing them often to keep your work and your hands neat and clean.

You are now ready to apply the finishing layer. Paper toweling has a stretchable quality which enables you to do more "covering up" if necessary. Just as with the newspaper, tear the pieces into whatever size seems to be best for your object. Cover the paper completely with the modeling paste and smooth it over the work. It can be put on very thick and heavy to create a texture, or "painted" with smooth even strokes. An ordinary oil painting bristle brush works very well. It covers any small imperfections and gives a good surface for painting.

ANOTHER method of working with papier mache is to mix modeling paste with a commercial ready-made pulp which is almost like a dry powder. The pulp should be put in a large container and thoroughly wet with water. Squeeze out excess water and add the modeling paste to the mixture until it feels smooth and responsive to the touch. This is very much like clay, but will not break.

Using this method if you're making fruit or want stems on leaves or handles on any object, put the wire in before the papier mache dries. If you give the wire a twist at the end before you put it in, it will be secure. For a finishing coat, use modeling paste. It will make the sculpture smooth and ready for the paint, just as it does in the method that uses only newspaper and pasted strips. Then paint the object.

Finally, let your work dry thoroughly. This process usually takes from five to seven days. Then wrap up the finished work as a gift, or display it for all to see.
