Jr. Basketball Starts Off Fast

With Mayor Richard Wernette and Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay on hand to participate in the ceremonies, Plymouth's new Community Junior Basketball League officially started activities Saturday morning on the Junior High West courts with six games on tap in the A and B divisions.

Both Mayor Wernette and Supervisor Lindsay, who have expressed favor of the cage leagues, aided in the opening center jump and then retired to the sidelines to watch the youngsters between the ages of 8 and 12 perform.

An additional bit of activity was added to the program Monday when Directors Joe Bida, Howard Oldford and John Van Wagoner made arrangements for games between Junior teams at the halftime intermission of the Plymouth High School Jaycee contests.

The first such exhibition is scheduled for Friday when the Rocks meet the Bentley High junior varsity and varsity teams. Additional games will be played for the remainder of the Rock schedules.

Scores of Saturday's games: Class A—Lakers 27, Royals 14; Pistons 16, Bullets 15; and Warriors 32, Celtics 26.

Class B—Lakers 18, Royals 4; Bullets 16, Pistons 10; and Warriors 7, Celtics 3.

The schedule for next Saturday's program at Junior High West: Class A—9 a.m., Lakes vs. Warriors; 10:30 a.m., Bullets vs. Celtics; noon, Royals vs. Pistons; Class B—9 a.m., Royals vs. Pistons; 10:30 a.m., Lakers vs. Warriors; and noon, Bullets vs. Celtics.

He Returns At Supervisor's Request

Board Rejects Demel Resignation

Acting in deference to a request from Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay that he continue to serve as Township Attorney, Earl Demel Monday night rescinded his resignation.

Lindsay made the request to Demel via telephone after the Board of Trustees voted 4-3 in a special executive session not to accept the resignation.

The vote came Saturday morning when the Board resumed an adjourned meeting from the day before.

Although scant information was available from either of the sessions, it is known that Demel met briefly with the Board Friday afternoon and then departed. The meeting continued for more than an hour more before it was decided to adjourn and start over again Saturday morning.

That session began at 9:30 a.m. and shortly after 10 o'clock, the Trustees came out of Lindsay's office.

Township clerk John McEwen had a brief announcement to the effect that a resolution had been moved and supported that the resignation of Demel be accepted.

In the vote that followed, Township Treasurer Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes and Trustees Louis Norman and C. Veach Sparks voted "No" with Clerk McEwen and Trustees Ralph Garber and Dick Lauterbach casting "Yes" ballots.

Supervisor Lindsay then cast a "No" vote to break the deadlock. The meeting reportedly broke up within minutes.

Demel was notified by letter Monday of the Board action refusing to accept the resignation. Later Lindsay called and requested him to continue the job he has held for the past 24 years.

Demel announced his decision Monday evening prior to the start of the special meeting of the planning commission.

Demel tendered his resignation by letter 10 days ago when he became irked at the failure of the Board to approve two bills for legal services for immediate payment.

The Board adopted a policy that the bills were for services on the new water and sewer project and thus shouldn't be paid until the bonds for the 1965 project had been sold.

Demel countered that it was the first time in 24 years that a Board had taken such action and requested a chance to talk it over with the Trustees in an open meeting.

Inasmuch as the Board action was taken at the regular January meeting, Lindsay gave Demel permission to air the matter at the conclusion of the regular agenda.

After a rather tense discussion, Lindsay called for a special session in his office for additional airing of the situation. After a half-hour, the Board returned to the chambers and adjourned without any additional comment.

Two days later, Demel dropped a letter of resignation in the Supervisor's office.

All of which led to the events of last weekend, the refusal to accept the resignation and Demel's agreement to return after the request from the Supervisor.

City Manager Applications Pour in for Plymouth Post

With more than 30 applications received and more expected before the end of January deadline, Plymouth's city commission and Mayor Richard Wernette expect to settle down to the task of screening and weeding out candidates for the City Manager post vacated by Albert Glassford in mid-December.

Mayor Wernette and his commission colleagues hope to have the new City Manager selected well in advance of the April election that will fill four council vacancies.

Wernette is slated to leave since he has served two terms and thus, under the city charter, isn't eligible for a third consecutive term.

Commissioners James Houk, Robert Beyer and Robert Smith end their first sessions and are seeking re-election. The list of candidates for the four posts includes the three incumbents and five others: George Hudson, James Houk, Arthur Shepard, Eldon Martin and James McKeon.

The City Commission has been advertising in various municipal and city manager magazines for the past two months and members feel they have an excellent list of candidates.

The applications have come from coast to coast, including New Hampshire, Washington, Oregon, Tennessee, Minnesota, Arizona, Colorado, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Ohio.

Several applicants have been eliminated already because they failed to meet the requirements set up by the commission.

These requirements included: experience as a City Manager, assistant city manager or an aide to a city manager plus a degree in either Business Ad-

Palmer Renamed President

Big Question: Did PCF Drive Go Over Top?

Did the 1964 Plymouth Community Fund drive go over the top by $9 as indicated at the Victory Dinner in November? Or will it fall short of the goal by as much as $5,000?

Members of the PCF Board of Directors are seeking the answer to the questions following the annual meeting last week when officers were named along with five new directors.

Frank Palmer, long-time enthusiastic backer of the Community Fund and one of its most energetic workers at campaign time, was reelected to a second term as president.

Other officers are: Dr. William Covington, vice president; Mrs. Betty Korte, treasurer; and Mrs. Fran Booth, secretary.

Mrs. Korte replaces Mrs. Helyn Caplin who asked to be relieved of the treasurership after serving six years.

Named to the Board were: Rev. David Davies, Rev. Fr. Alfred Renaud, Wendell Miller and Mrs. Korte. John Herb was appointed to fill the vacancy left when City Manager Albert Glassford resigned to take a similar post at Albion.

Questioned about the possibility of a deficit in the drive for the first time in history, Palmer expressed hope that it would reach the goal when all reports are in.

"We do not have complete reports from the United Foundation in Detroit in regard to Ford and General Motors employees who have told us they had earmarked their donation for Plymouth," Palmer said.

"At the moment the drive is more than $5,000 short of the 1964 goal—we don't have a definite idea of how much is involved in the UF reports but there is some indication that it will come close to meeting the shortage."

However, it was learned during a discussion with many of the industrial workers during the campaign last fall that there is a resistance on the part of many of the larger plants against the Plymouth Community Fund as such.

It is believed that many of the plants, divisions of large corporations, are being pressured to move towards the United Foundation with all funds going into that pot.

There is no indication of a concerted effort in this direction but at least campaign workers and members of the Board are well aware that many of the plants would prefer to have Plymouth allied with the UF.

Apartment Ordinance Goof Has Plan Board in Dither

Someone goofed when Plymouth Township passed Ordinance 14-S, which set up restrictions and a code for Garden Apartment residential districts, with the result that the Planning Commission is taking every step possible to correct the goof and three proposals for apartments are stymied until the ordinance is corrected.

As written, the ordinance requires apartments to be constructed on a two story plan with no more than 16 units in a single building. However, the ordinance specifically makes it mandatory that the apartments be up and down and leaves no provisions for units on a single level.

This means that the Lake Pointe apartments on Wilcox Road, which are being built and developed by Greenspan Builders, are in violation of the code. However, to Greenspan's credit, it must be brought out that several of the buildings were under construction when the Ordinance was passed.

Greenspan's plan, and that which most of the builders planned on using, has four apartments in a unit, two down and two up with a total of 16 in a building.

Apparently it was the intent of the Planning Commission that this type of construction met the provisions of the code—but the ordinance doesn't say it and intent can't be taken as part of the act as passed.

All of this came to light in the monthly meeting of the Commission last week and efforts to improve the situation and give the builders relief started in a special session Monday night.

The Ordinance was presented to the Commission by Planner W. C. Johnson. It was read and reread by the Commissioners who made minor changes and then sent it to the Township Board for approval.

The Township Board approved it as presented and the Ordinance became law after meeting all of the legal requirements.

Detroit Planner Heads Listening Post Event

Charles Blessing, director of the Detroit City Planning Commission will discuss "The City: Beauty and the Beast" as the speaker at the second lecture of the current season for the Plymouth Listening Post.

The program is listed for Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in the senior high auditorium.

Blessing's talk is designed to increase the sensitivity of listeners to the richness of urban life and to increase understanding of the urban environment.

His talk will cover the strip city and implications of social changes involved in the population explosion.

He has a background in Architectural Engineering from the University of Colorado and a degree in City Planning from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Blessing has served as a consultant on housing for the National Advisory Committee on Housing for the White House Conference on Aging. He was also regional planning engineer for the Greater Boston Development Committee and has worked on several development committees in major cities in the United States.

The Plymouth branch of the American Association of University Women is sponsor of the Listening Post series. Mrs. John Haas and Mrs. James Knowles are general chairmen.

Plymouth Teens Raise $199 for 'Dimes' Fund

Although the weather conditions were the worst of the entire winter, Plymouth's teenagers opened the March of Dimes campaign Saturday with the annual peanut sale.

Despite the bad weather and few shoppers in the downtown business section, the teens raised $199.68 during the day long sale under the supervision of Weldon House.

More than 40 youngsters from the Methodist Youth Fellowship group, aided by volunteers from the junior high schools, participated in the event.

The big climax of the month long fund raising drive came Tuesday when more than 200 Plymouth mothers joined in the house-to-house Mothers March for Dimes.

Lindsay, Wernette Top Panel

"Human Relations Problems in Plymouth" will be discussed by Mayor Richard Wernette and Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay in the second of a series of programs Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in the senior high annex auditorium.

The series is sponsored by the Plymouth Assembly for Equal Opportunity.

The remaining programs are scheduled for Feb. 11 and Feb. 25.

Plymouth's Public Safety Director and acting City Manager Kenneth Fisher will join with Inspector Daniel Martin, of the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol, at the Feb. 11 session in a discussion of "Law Enforcement: The Human Element."

School Supt. Russell Isbister will end the series on Feb. 25 in a discussion of "Equal Opportunities as Applied to the Plymouth Schools."

Plymouth C-C Board, Committees to Meet

Plans of action for the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce for 1965 will have the attention of the Board of Directors and members of the various committees Thursday noon in a meeting at the Mayflower Hotel.

President Wendell Lent will serve as master of ceremonies and will introduce the complete Board of Directors as well as the committee members.

Actually the meeting will serve as a kickoff of the Chamber activities for the new year.

Following the introductions and a few remarks by committee chairmen, the committees will break up into small groups to discuss their goals and ways of achieving them.

Earlier in the week, on Tuesday, several director and committee chairmen attended an area workshop conducted by the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce in the Huron Motor Inn in Ypsilanti.

The workshop dealt with the problems of membership building, economic growth and committee operation.

Plymouth Freshman Named to Student Senate at Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO — Robert J. Staff, of Plymouth, has been elected by his classmates to serve on Kalamazoo College's Student Senate during the winter quarter. He will represent the freshman class.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Stermer, 41339 Ivywood Lane are his parents.

Irv Rozian Heads Plan Bd. Again

Irving Rozian, who turned in an outstanding job as chairman of the Plymouth Township Planning Commission during the past year, was reelected to a second term by his fellow members in the annual election last week.

Rozian, Association Research Engineer and project director in Thermonuclear Research at the University of Michigan, guided the commission through one of its most trying years during 1964.

With the population explosion hitting the Township, the Commission was flooded with requests for approval of new subdivisions, proposed apartments and shopping centers. It faces more of the same and Commissioners decided they wanted Rozian to handle the chair for another year.

Russell Ash, who succeeded Arthur Haeske, was named vice chairman and Maurice Breen, appointed to the commission to succeed Haeske when he moved out of the Township, was elected secretary.

FIRST WOMAN ELECTED:

Livonia Chamber of Commerce Names 11 New Directors

Eleven new directors were named Wednesday to join ten incumbents on the Livonia Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors. The new Board of 21 business leaders will assume its duties Feb. 1. For the first time in the history of the Chamber, a woman will be one of the directors. She is Mrs. Alice Johnson, owner of the Alice Johnson Personnel Service, a business woman of long acquaintance in Livonia who has been active in Chamber affairs for many years. The new board members were declared elected by an election committee that tabulated the ballots at the Chamber's general membership meeting last Wednesday. They were elected by the membership on a ballot containing 22 candidates. The new board members are: Charles Allen, Jr., a real estate broker and member of Chamber House Committee — 1964, president of his civic association, on the executive board of the United Northwest Realty Association. James Brooks, owner of the Livonia Florist, member of the Chamber's Annual Dinner Committee, 1963 and 1964, active in Chamber membership sales. Thomas J. Carroll, incumbent director, elected in 1964 to complete unexpired term of Bert Anderson, plant manager of the Chevrolet Spring and Bumper Plant who has committed members of his staff people to Chamber committee work. Arthur E. Cone, manager of Sears Roebuck and Company in Livonia, long experience in retail field, has been with Sears for 18 years. Thomas Diak, industrial representative for Chesapeake and Ohio Railway with which he has been associated since 1947. Has worked actively with Chamber in area of industrial development and transportation. Harvey B. Greene, owner of Greene Motors, Incorporated, more than 15 years in top management positions in business, has been secretary, treasurer and director of corporation. Alice Johnson, owner of Alice Johnson Personnel Service, long associated with the Chamber, active in Annual Dinner, Night at the Races Committees, on nominating committees of the Chamber, once a member of the Chamber staff. Albert Margolin, vice president of Livonia Hardware and Home Center, member of nominating committee, 1963; actively engaged in Chamber committee work in 1964, years of management experience in chain of bakeries before entering hardware field. Earl Morrow, District Manager of Michigan Bell Telephone Company, former civic association president, member of Detroit Chamber of Commerce, has been with Michigan Bell Telephone Company for twenty-seven years. Ron H. Upton, former director of the Chamber, assistant superintendent of Livonia School System, member of Program Committee, 1961. Burl T. Woodward, director incumbent, owner-manager of Hines Park Motel, member of Annual Dinner Committee, 1963, 1964 and 1965, active Chamber work in industrial development, Show Train president, active in all Chamber membership campaigns, educational projects. Significant in last Wednesday's action was the increase of Board membership from 15 to 21 members. They represent for the first time seven business classifications which will always be represented on the Board from now on.

Madonna College Opens New Academic Building to Classes

When school opens at Madonna College in Livonia for the spring semester today the college and the students will be making history: they will be entering for the first time, the doors of the newly constructed Madonna College Academic Building. The academic building, under construction since 1964, is the outcome of years of planning and waiting. When Madonna college was founded in 1947, it was housed in the Felician Sisters Motherhouse. While the enrollment was small, the facilities were sufficient and satisfactory. With the accreditation of the institution, with the growth of the suburbs of Detroit, the enrollment increased gradually. It is necessary to build new accommodations if the institution were to continue to serve the community. And so, today, Madonna campus boasts of an exceptionally beautiful natural setting, appropriately fitted with buildings designed by Robert L. Svoboda and Associates. Located on an attractively landscaped 320-acre site in the heart of the rapidly growing city of Livonia and removed by hundreds of feet from Schoolcraft road, the campus breathes an atmosphere of peace and beauty, conducive to earnest study and to a refinement of aesthetic tastes. Midway between Detroit and Ann Arbor, the college is conveniently located near business, art, research, and culture centers. New residence halls of contemporary design have been opened for occupancy in 1963. These include girls dormitories, a dining hall, student center, faculty residence and a guest and home management house. The dining hall is planned to provide services for 1,000 students and faculty members. The three floors of double and single rooms, sectioned into the south, east, and west wings accommodate 250 students and provide lounges, recreation areas, and a spacious hall for social functions. South of the dormitory-dining unit and separated by a small lake, is the second part of the project—a multi-purpose 180 room academic building. The administrative, academic, and activity areas, relatively independent units, are linked by an elevated academic classroom-seminar-office structure which integrates the various departments of the college into a unified complex. Included in this unit are the administration building, the library with a total capacity of 100,000 volumes, the science, art, music, and home economics departments. At the moment, before construction is fully completed, the administration area, the regular classrooms and a 160-seat amphitheatre lecture room will be used. The three divisions of the science department, chemistry with three labs, physics, one, and biology, one lab with two lecture rooms, and an animal and refrigerator room will also be occupied. Waiting for completion within the spring semester is the art department in which separate rooms have been designed for ceramics and sculpture, painting and drawing, lettering and design, crafts and weaving. There will also be a kiln room, four storage rooms and a card shop. There will also be an area for the education department, including a curriculum library, audio-visual rooms, and classrooms. The music department will provide five audio-booths, six practice rooms and two studios. Home economists will use food, clothing, and textile labs. A reporting room, staff area with a universal desk, an office and processing room for photography will comprise the journalism department. There will be a record room and a lab for the language department. The business department will include rooms for typing, accounting, and business machines. In addition there will be student lounges, a snack area, and two locker rooms. With accommodations such as these, all of the new and all of them modern, the faculty and administration of Madonna College hope to increase the effectiveness of the private, independent, educational institution which holds the future of so many in its hands.

First Federal Promotes Four Area Officers

Four Livonia and Plymouth bank officials were among 23 receiving executive promotions at First Federal Savings of Detroit, announced by Hans Gehrke Jr., president, following action of the Association's Board of Directors. Donald R. Klein, manager of the Royal Oak office, was promoted from assistant vice president to vice president. He resides at 14119 Doris in Livonia. August Eckhout, mortgage manager at the Bloomfield office, was elevated to assistant vice president. He resides at 16912 Surrey Drive in Livonia. Paul Reifel, recently named manager of the Plymouth branch, was promoted to assistant vice president. Gordon R. Rousseaux, manager of the Plymouth-Heyden branch, received a promotion to assistant vice-president.

BOND ELECTION APPROACHING:

Clarenceville Outlines Building Program

Completion of a second-floor addition at Clarenceville Jr. High School and a new high school auditorium are on the building program if Clarenceville School District voters approve a bond issue on March 29. The Board of Education met Thursday to finalize plans for the $3.5 million issue and a companion four mill operating fund request, both of which will be on the March ballot. Neither issue is expected to increase the district's tax rate. The bond issue, if it's successful, will take care of almost all future building needs in the district, school officials said. The bonds will be sold only as necessary during the next four to five years, when they can be financed without increasing the tax levies. First part of the building program, to be completed by the 1966-67 school year, if the bond proposition passes, includes— An auditorium and six to eight classrooms at Clarenceville High School, along with extra space for the cafeteria and library; Four to five classrooms at the Edgewood Elementary

School, as well as enlargement of the multi-purpose room. Completion of the second floor addition to the junior high school, and expansion of the school by several classrooms. Future projects will include more classrooms and enlargement of the industrial arts, counseling and testing areas at Clarenceville High School. Additional classrooms at Westbrook Elementary School and renovation of the junior high's industrial arts section, are also on future planning boards.

Meanwhile, the Board spelled out its reasons for requesting a four-mill tax issue. Two of the mills, it said, are simply a safeguard which will only be levied if the allocated funds of the district are cut by the state. A ruling by the State Allocations Board is not expected until later this year, and Board members are asking for the two mills as a safety factor against a possible unfavorable ruling.

The other two mills will be used to expand the educational program in the district. But Board members emphasized they will extend the district's bonded indebtedness and cut that levy by two mills so that the additional operating funds will not hike the district's tax rate, which is now 22.9 mills for operation and 10.05 for debt retirement.

Train Fares Cut from Plymouth; Railroad Hit for Not Advertising

A drop in one-way passenger fares between Plymouth, Grand Rapids and Lansing was announced last week by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, but the railroad's failure to advertise the rate cuts.

One-way fares between Plymouth and Grand Rapids were cut from $5.59 to $3.80, and between Plymouth and Lansing, from $2.77 to $2.60 on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays of each week.

Peter B. Spivak, Public Service Commission chairman, condemned C and O for failure to advertise the rate cuts. "Thousands of dollars were spent to advertise the discontinuance of trains 14 and 15 on the Detroit-Grand Rapids line, and not one penny to promote new lower rates," charged Spivak.

"To reduce rates by up to 30 per cent and tell no one seems to indicate the railroad is not really interested in new business, but may only be attempting to be able to argue in court that passengers will not ride the trains at any price," added Spivak.

The railroad has proposed discontinuing two passenger trains between Detroit and Grand Rapids, and will face the Public Service Commission next month in court. A PSC court order has stopped the proposed discontinuance.

A C and O official later said that the railroad had not advertised the fare cut "because of a mixup." He said the firm planned to take newspaper space to advertise, but that the rate cut announcement came sooner than expected.

Howard Skidmore, C and O vice-president, said the special fares were designed to bring back passenger traffic to the railroad which was lost to other means of transportation in the early part of each week.

Trains leave Plymouth for Lansing and Grand Rapids at 9:04 a.m. and 5:54 p.m.

IN REDFORD, LIVONIA:

Ice-Covered Roads Cause 78 Accidents

Rain, sleet and light snow turned Livonia and Redford Township streets and roads into dangerous, ice-covered highways over the weekend with the result that the Police Department handled 78 minor accidents in the 72-hour period beginning Thursday at midnight. The number included 55 in Livonia and 23 in Redford Township.

Sgt. Robert Thorne, head of the Livonia Traffic Bureau, reported his crew was busy from the moment the slippery conditions started and were still receiving reports of minor mishaps Monday morning. Redford Township's Sgt. Richard Pettibone reported on that community's accidents. Sgt. Thorne reported 31 accidents on Friday alone when the roads were at the worse.

Homer Caperton, 20, of 34015 Richland, Livonia, was ticketed for reckless driving, according to police reports, when he apparently lost control of his car while going east on Ann Arbor Trail.

Caperton's car skidded across the street to hit a parked car owned by Thomas Futrell, 6561 Cornell, Taylor. Then it spun back across the street and struck five other parked cars in a chain reaction.

The vehicles were owned by George Condash, 375 W. Liberty, Plymouth; James Foerster, Jr., 775 Pacific, Plymouth; Howard Wilkinson, 1069 Stark, Plymouth; and John Eritano, 2079 Inlster, Garden City.

Lincoln Day Auction Set By GOP

Lincoln's Day auction will be held Sunday, Feb. 14, by the Redford Township Republican Party in a fund-raising activity for the party organization.

Antiques will be featured at the event, starting at 2 p.m. at the American Legion Hall on Beech-Daly between Five Mile and Six Mile. The bidding will be concluded with a hot dog dinner at 5 p.m.

Tickets are $1 per person and contributors of unusual, useless or obsolete items can secure two free tickets by calling KE 1-3695 or KE 1-3762 for a pick-up.

"We hope that every citizen in the Township who has wished to help his party, but had been unable to do so, will donate some item to this afternoon of fun and bargaining," Education Chairman Paul T. Scuphalm said. "Anything not sold at a store in its present site is considered rummage and all articles will be greatly appreciated by the party."

Leftovers will be donated to a charitable organization for resale.

8 Lanes Due On Telegraph

A project to double the width of Telegraph Rd. north of Redford Township to the new I-696 Expressway was announced by the State Highway Department this week.

The program will put eight lanes — four southbound and four northbound — along the 2.7 miles of Telegraph Rd. that lie between Eight Mile Rd. and the expressway.

Completion date of the project is estimated at June, 1966. Total cost is $2 million. Two lanes will be added to the existing two northbound lanes and the two existing southbound lanes will be removed and replaced with four new lanes.

Clarenceville Seeks Election Board Workers

Residents of the Clarenceville School District interested in serving on the district's Election Board may get an application form from the Board of Education office.

The district, which will vote on a millage and a bond issue March 29, requires such an Election Board under the new state constitution. Duties of the board include certifying results of the election.

Livonia Cleaners Cleaned of $400

Thieves broke into the Indian Cleaners, 15225 Farmington Road, Livonia, and escaped with more than $400, according to a report to police by Manager Harvey Tutherford.

He told investigating officers the robbers broke a plate glass window on the north side of the building and climbed through the opening. Tutherford told officers the money was in two small cardboard boxes which had been hidden behind packages of clean shirts.

Spear Heads Livonia GM Committee

R. Gordon Spear, manager of General Motors' Fisher Body plant in Livonia, has been named chairman of the GM Livonia Plant City Committee for 1965 by General Motors President John F. Gordon.

Spear succeeds Thomas J. Carroll, manager of the Chevrolet Livonia plant as chairman of the committee responsible for guiding and coordinating GM's community relations activities in the Livonia area. It is one of 57 such committees across the nation in cities where GM has facilities.

Other members of the Livonia Plant City Committee include: J. Lyman Bryan, Jr., director of industrial relations, Fisher Body Livonia plant; Thomas J. Carroll, manager, Chevrolet Livonia plant; Herbert W. Horne, resident comptroller, Fisher Body Livonia plant; Donald W. McCue, resident comptroller, Chevrolet Livonia plant; and Douglas C. Mullen, director of personnel, Chevrolet Livonia plant.

Spear joined General Motors in 1926 as a tool designer for AC Spark Plug Division. In 1934, he moved to Fisher Body Division at its Flint No. 2 plant.

Observer Adds Donald Golem To Sales Staff

Donald Golem, well-known advertising salesman in the Livonia-Plymouth-Northville area, has joined the sales staff of the Observer Newspapers, Inc. He started work on his new assignment Monday.

Golem has worked on newspapers in the area for the past eight years, serving with the Chandler Publications from 1956-1960. He spent the next three years with local newspapers until his newest move to the Observer Newspaper, Inc.

Golem resides at 9910 Cranston in Livonia with his wife, George-Ann (the former George-Ann Bauer of Plymouth) and their three sons, Scott, Pat and Robert.

Delinquent Taxpayers Get Break

Instead of issuing revised statements during the month of March, 1965, township treasurers will collect the delinquent 1964 taxes.

This decision was reached by the Michigan Township Association, meeting in Lansing on Jan. 13, 14 and 15.

Under the previous regulations, the treasurers were empowered only to give delinquent payers revised statements which they then took to the County Treasurers.

Delinquent payers will be charged a 4 per cent penalty plus one half of one per cent per month interest for every month after March 1.

Former Teacher Dies In Auto Accident

Funeral rites were held Saturday, Jan. 23, at the Felician Motherhouse in Livonia for Sister M. Melitone, CSSF, who died Tuesday, Jan. 19, as a result of an automobile accident which occurred in Greenbush near Alpena, Jan. 17.

Many cold impersonal facts go into the writing of an obituary, but the coldest of all are always the statistics contained in the first paragraph.

Sister Melitone was well known in the area through her teaching services at St. Michael's School (1947-1948) and at Ladywood High School (1952-1955).

She taught at St. Michael's when that was the only Catholic elementary school in the city. She taught at Ladywood when the enrollment was slightly more than 200 rather than the present number of 500.

At Ladywood her students came from throughout the area—Redford Township, Livonia, Plymouth, Farmington, Northville, Novi, Dearborn and Detroit.

She left an indelible mark upon each one of the young teenagers she taught, so much so that more than 10 years later her students remembered.

One, who is now a member of the Felician order, wrote immediately to a friend and former classmate telling of the tragedy. Another braved the ice and sleet to pay her respects—even though her uncle had recently died and she was expected to "be on duty" at the funeral home that night. Another reported of more than 25 phone calls from former classmates to make certain that she knew.

All in all her students remembered.

Sister Melitone was born in Grand Rapids as Eleanor Jagielski. She entered the Felician Sisters in 1927 and after her profession taught in parochial schools in Detroit, Wyandotte, Hamtramck, Clare, Toledo and Livonia. She was principal at Holy Rosary in Saginaw and in September was named principal at St. John the Baptist school in Alpena.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Ann Centilli and Mrs. Angela Manley, both of Grand Rapids.

The Solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated at the motherhouse chapel by Fr. Michael Kujawa, pastor of Holy Rosary parish, Saginaw. He was assisted by Fr. Leon O. Kennedy, professor of theology and philosophy at Madonna College and Fr. Thomas Fraser, chaplain of Ladywood High School. The body was interred at Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

Also killed in the same auto accident was Sister M. Danielita, CSSF, a member of the Felicians for 23 years.

12 Residents Lose Licenses

Twelve more suburban residents had their driver's licenses suspended by order of the Michigan Secretary of State's office for driving infractions this week.

Hit by the suspensions were: Gerald Murie Schei, 9310 Virginia, Livonia; Joseph Ray Smales, 18720 Inkster, Redford Township; LeRoy Albert Hammond, 25904 Student, Redford Township; Charles William Hanshaw, 10221 Wayne, Livonia; Carl Walter Nielson, 18657 Sunset, Livonia; William James Oestrich, 14489 Yale, Livonia; Dennis Jarvis Dickerson, 12410 Camden, Livonia; Robert William Blalock, 15504 Chelsea, Redford Township; Paul Joseph Prain, 28831 Leamington, Farmington; Lewis Norbert Bailey, 28730 Grand River, Farmington; Charles Ray Flinchum, 20793 Orchard Lake, Farmington; Lawrence Douglas Hart, 23919 Grace, Farmington.

her was sung at the Felician Sisters' Motherhouse chapel on Jan. 21 by her cousin Fr. Arthur Krawczak, pastor of St. Martin dePorres parish in Warren. Assisting him was Fr. Francis Banaszak, pastor of St. Andrew's parish, and Fr. Robert Koenig, motherhouse chaplain.

Sister Mary Melitone, CSSF

Born in Detroit, the former Angela Kniga, entered the Felician Sisters congregation in 1941. After profession she taught at St. John Cantius, St. Louis, Our Lady Queen of Apostles, and St. Stephen schools in Detroit; St. Stanislaus and St. Anthony, Toledo; and Mt. Carmel, Wyandotte. This year she was assigned to St. John the Baptist in Alpena.

Surviving Sister Danielita are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kniga, a brother Richard and one sister, Helen Tasiemski, all of Detroit.

SC Board Approves Contracts

The Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees last week approved Administrative contracts for the college year, July 1965-66, and modified the career plan in making adjustments.

It authorized the hiring of a uniformed, deputized security agent for the college campus at the intersection of Haggerty and Seven Mile Roads. Two additional custodians were authorized because of the opening of the temporary Campus Center and additional building use.

The Leo Calhoun Ford Agency in Plymouth was low bidder on two cars, a nine-passenger station wagon and a passenger car.

The present college cars will be turned in on the new ones with a total cost of $1,389 for the new vehicles.

Dr. Eric Bradner, college president, recommended the nine-passenger station wagon, pointing out that such a car would be of value for transportation of the athletic teams for events.

Highway Dept. Offers Relocation Assistance

LANSING—Relocation advisory help is available to persons or businesses who will be displaced by the construction of I-96 in Detroit, Redford Township, Livonia and Oakland County, Acting State Highway Department Director Howard E. Hill said.

He said the Highway Department will make use of existing local private, civic and governmental agencies in providing the relocation help to anyone displaced by acquisition or clearance of rights of way for the project.

Anyone desiring a meeting concerning relocation assistance should write John Knecht, Planning Division, State Highway Department, Mason Building, Lansing, on or before Feb. 1.

Gunman Holds Up Drugstore

A lone bandit, wielding an automatic pistol, held up and robbed Sharp's Drug Store, 20549 Middlebelt Road, after firing a shot through the floor as a warning to Manager Sam Sonnenstrahl not to report the robbery for 10 minutes.

That was the report of Sonnenstrahl to Livonia Police as he told how the holdup man entered the store, produced the pistol and informed all "This is a holdup, put everything in the bag".

Sonnenstrahl dropped $250 in cash and $40 in checks in the bag after which the bandit fired a shot through the floor and then fled into the night.

Set Meeting on Plymouth Rd. Traffic Problem

Traffic problems on Plymouth Rd. — described as the most dangerous suburban highway in Wayne County — will be discussed by State Highway Department assistant Irving Rubin and State Representative Marvin Stempien at a joint meeting.

Stempien, newly-elected Representative from Livonia, announced plans for the meeting this week. The attorney has offices on Plymouth Rd.

Rubin, executive assistant to the Highway Department, offered to meet with him to discuss solutions to the problem. Concern has been raised over the increased traffic flow onto Plymouth Rd. when the new Jeffries Freeway, which will follow Schoolcraft Rd., is under construction.

Clarenceville School News

by Margaret Paulson

Tryouts for the All League Band were held Tuesday, January 12, at Clarenceville High School. The seven schools in the league participated in the tryouts.

The Clarenceville band placed nine out of twelve tryouts for the League Band.

Congratulations are in order for the following people who made the All League Band. Deborah Shoop, Betty Schmidt, Marilyn St. James, Rhoda Weisa, Bernard Kent, Timothy Whyte, Richard Bailey, Dennis Goff, and Dennis Ashley.

Congratulations to the Negative Debate Team of John Head and Warren Berger. A victory was compiled when they defeated West Bloomfield on January 12.

During the week of January 18, Student Council members sponsored a peanut sale in the cafeteria. All students who made a contribution received a bag of salted peanuts as a token. All proceeds from the sale are being given to the March of Dimes. All day Saturday, students were posted at various spots in the Livonia Mall to receive contributions.

On Thursday evening, January 21, students, parents, and teachers attended the Junior Class production of Thornton Wilder's Play "Our Town."

On March 9, the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test will be given to the following Juniors and Seniors. Tickets will be sold at the door for $1.00 — students and $1.50—adults.

As Friday, January 15, came about, Mrs. Sharp's English and Speech classes were full of surprises. Each class had planned a party for Mrs. Sharp. The time slipped by so fast that soon it was time when everyone was saying goodbye and good luck.

Mrs. Sharp has returned to college at the University of Michigan to study Social Work.

We, the students of your classes, are going to miss you and we wish you the best of luck.

Saturday nite, January 23, Varsity Club sponsored an after game dance held in the balcony of the new gym. While they played the latest hits, the students did the popular dances.

Another semester comes to a close as final exams are being given on January 26, 27, and 28. After the long exam hours, the students will have a long weekend, as school will not be in session on Friday, January 29.

FACTS FROM FRANKLIN

by Sue Lockwood

Franklin's gymnasium was transformed into a dream world of pink and lavender when the Junior class presented "Our Winter Love," Saturday night. Ray Brandt and his orchestra supplied the music and the Juniors danced from 9 to 12. The prom was the climax of many hours of hard work on the part of Junior class officers, representatives, and students.

This year's Junior class officers are: Fred Seivert, president; Sue Morse, vice-president; Bev Miner, secretary; and Benny Harrison, treasurer. A committee has already begun planning for the Senior Prom of '66.

Last Wednesday North Farmington High School visited Franklin; hosts to the North Farmington students were Cheryl Archutski, Ed Millson, Larry Ruzzas, Mike Stachurski, and Gary Van Poperin. Then Thursday, Gary Barton, Mike Clapper, Judy Klingensmith, Linda Marsh, Sharon Seinal, and Jackie Trick visited North Farmington. Every month, Franklin and another school that also belongs in the Northwest Suburban League have an exchange day; these exchange days promote better understanding between schools.

The Club Lafayette is planning a trip tomorrow, January 28, to the Vieux Carre restaurant in Ann Arbor. Students will leave by bus at 4:00 p.m. accompanied by French teachers, Mrs. Chandler and Mrs. Michaelson. President of the French Club is Al Dumouchelle.

500 Attend Program on Disturbed Kids

A Public Information Night sponsored by the Wayne County Association For Retarded Children was held in mid-January at the Veteran's Memorial Building in Detroit.

Purpose of the meeting, which was attended by legislators, 500 parents and interested citizens, was to provide information about the need for additional services, legislation and educational facilities for mentally retarded children and youth.

Panel of experts presented an overview of the existing programs within the communities and institutions in Wayne County and slides depicting European institutional programs and facilities were shown.

The Livonia Association For Retarded Children, co-sponsors of the conference, is seeking to increase its local membership. All parents of retarded children and Livonia residents desiring more information may write to the LARC, P.O. Box 2022, Livonia, Michigan.

Franklin held a week-long peanut drive, January 18-22; students sold peanuts during the lunch periods with the proceeds going to the March of Dimes. FHS students also gave up their Saturdays and were selling peanuts at Wonderland.

Busses were chartered for approximately 250 psychology students who visited Northville State Hospital last week. The trip was to explain the part the state plays in dealing with mental illness. Students were shown through the various wards, the therapeutic departments, and recreational centers.

The end of Franklin's first semester was marked by three half days of exams. Students will return to school Monday morning as usual.

Livonia GOP Will Elect New Officers

Livonia Republicans will hold their annual meeting Friday, Jan. 29, at 8 p.m. at Merri-Bowl Lanes, Five Mile at Merriman Rds.

On the meeting's agenda will be election of officers and chairmen of the Republican Party of Livonia for the next two years.

The group's nominating committee has suggested Larry Newman as chairman, Betsy Tagami as vice-chairman, Ellsworth Taylor as corresponding secretary, Jesse Enterline as recording secretary and George Symons as treasurer.

Others nominated are Hank Sladek as campaign chairman, Myra Chandler as publicity chairman, Mary Dumas as women's activity chairman, Ben Thomas as membership chairman, Bill Emons as legislative chairman, Jim O'Neil as finance chairman, and Marv Pridgeon as program chairman. Other nominations may be made from the floor of the meeting and absentee ballots are available by contacting Bill Duffy, GA 1-1327.

Livonian Dies In Auto Crash

Dead is Ronald H. Owens of 11421 Mayfield.

Detroit police said Owens suffered fatal injuries early Sunday when the car he was driving went out of control on the Ford Freeway and struck a utility pole near Lumley St.

The U. S. Coast Guard maintains ships and shore installations overseas as well as in the United States.

Religious Holidays-School Board Discusses Classroom Observances

How should religious holidays be treated in the public school classroom? The delicate problem was examined by the Clarenceville Board of Education at its last meeting, following reported complaints from parents — but no firm resolution of the problem was achieved.

Board chairman Dr. Martin Wechsler told the Board, "Some parents in the district have called and felt that Christmas parties in some classes involved the teaching of religion." He said one complaint cited the showing of a Christmas film at an elementary school during the recent holiday.

Board member Thomas Wilson said that traditions of other religions should be presented in the classroom at the time of religious holidays. "Then you'd have balance," he added.

Other Board members pointed out the difference between "teaching of religion as such and teaching about religions."

Urging cautious treatment of religious topics, Board member Prisk said, "In elementary schools we are dealing with minds open to suggestion . . . as a school board our responsibility is to see that teachers do not teach religion. But to teach a comparison of religions is a different thing . . . I don't believe religion is being taught in our schools. Until a few years back, this was a predominantly Christian community but it is no longer. This is good . . . we need interchange."

Another Board member reported that a Jewish parent had complained her third-grade son had come home with the question, "Why did the Jews kill Christ?" following a Christmas movie. Board members generally agreed that the query was probably stimulated by discussion among pupils, not by a teacher.

They expressed a desire to view the film shown in the elementary schools, and agreed to a study meeting to discuss the problem more fully at a future study meeting of the Board.

Livonia Woman In Race for State Senate

The only woman in the race for State Senate this week spoke out on issues affecting the upcoming Feb. 15 primary election.

Elsie Gilmore, one of three Democratic candidates for the vacancy, caused by the death of Paul M. Chandler Dec. 12, termed herself a "programmatic" candidate in an interview with The Observer.

ELSIE GILMORE

"I believe in sound legislation with the ultimate goal being representation of all the people by the elected official," she said. Outlining her views on specific areas of legislation, she called for increased state aid for education, additional mental health facilities, and a strong statewide youth program.

Out-patient mental health clinics should be established to help relieve the state burden in mental hospitals, she said. She cited her experience in setting up the first study committee on problems of youth by any political organization in 1959 for the Democratic state central committee. For 10 years, Mrs. Gilmore, who owns a small business in Livonia with her husband, served as Wayne County Democratic chairman.

Mrs. Gilmore urged extension of the ballot to 18-year-olds saying that "we must attempt to interest young people in government before they are 21."

How does she feel about being the only woman in the race? "In my Democratic Party work," she said, "I have always encouraged women to take part in politics, and I have probably influenced hundreds of women to take an interest in political work."

Elias' Are Navy Rooters Now; New Coach Is Their Brother

Although few residents in Plymouth and Livonia realize it, the recent appointment of William Elias as head football coach at the U.S. Naval Academy was great news for Mrs. A. Elias, 1108 Beech St., Plymouth and sons, Jim and Sam—who are partners in the operation of the Elias Bros. Supermarket, 30805 Plymouth Road in Livonia.

Bill is a son and brother of the Elias' and all were amazed when he signed for the new post.

Bill has visited Plymouth and Livonia on numerous occasions, especially when he was a student and star quarterback for the University of Maryland during 1946-48.

Matter of fact, he is one of five sons. All but one were outstanding footballers at Martins Ferry (O.) High School prior to World War II when all but one was called into service.

John was a tackle; Bill, a quarterback; Jim, a quarterback; and Latef, an end.

The family owned a store in Martins Ferry for years but had to give it up during the war years.

However, when the brothers returned from service, they decided to start another store—and inasmuch as they had friends in the Livonia area, they decided to locate there.

During this time, Bill was performing for Jim Tatum at Maryland when the Terps were rated among the standout teams in the land.

While Jim and Sam went into the grocery business, John shifted to Memphis and later to Pittsburgh, Bill decided to turn his attention to coaching.

He started in high school ranks in Richmond, Ind., where he was twice acclaimed coach of the year for his outstanding teams.

Then he took a job as an assistant to then Football Coach Stu Holcomb at Purdue. When Holcomb left a few years later to become Director of Athletics at Northwestern, Bill decided to look around for a head coaching post at some college.

He finally signed a contract at George Washington U. in Washington, D.C. where he was tagged coach of the year for his work. After one year, he was lured by the University of Virginia to rebuild the lagging football fortunes there. Bill succeeded admirably and won more games in the first year than the Cavaliers had in the five previous seasons. Twice he was rated coach of the year in that area for his brilliant feats.

And now he's been tapped as the successor to Wayne Hardin at the Naval Academy and already there's talk that he'll have the Middies flying higher than ever in another year or two.

Small wonder his mother and two brothers are so proud of their son and brother.

Name Livonian Comptroller at Manufacturers

Larry R. Chamberlin has been appointed comptroller of Manufacturers National Bank. He succeeds Kenneth Aird in that post.

Chamberlin recently came to Manufacturers from the Iowa-Des Moines National Bank in Des Moines, where he was in the Internal Auditing and Accounting Department since 1954. Elected assistant comptroller of that bank in 1956, he became comptroller in 1959. He is a graduate of Drake University and holds a C.P.A. certificate.

Mrs. Chamberlin and their six children live in Livonia.

State Employees Win Religious Holiday Leaves

The Michigan Civil Service Commission has issued a ruling permitting Jewish employees to take time off for their holy days rather than following the Christian holiday schedule.

This change came after Dr. Reuvan Bar-Levav, a psychiatrist at Livonia's Hawthorne Center and Northville (State) Hospital, and Dr. Sidney Goldstein, of the Northville State Hospital staff, contacted Governor George Romney claiming the commission policy discriminated against Jews.

Under the new policy, Jews will be permitted to work on a Christian holiday such as Christmas and take off a Jewish holiday such as Yom Kippur, whenever it does "not seriously impair" an agency.

ments of time and public notice through publication.

Everything appeared serene until two weeks ago when Meyer Korchak presented plans for the Heritage Apartments, slated for construction at the intersection of Sheldon and N. Territorial Roads, and was refused a permit by Building Inspector Matt McClellan on the grounds that they did not meet the code.

That precipitated last week's action and throw the Commission and four developers and builders into a quandary.

None of the four can move until the ordinance is changed to allow construction of apartments on one floor—that requires public notice of a hearing, another meeting of the Commission and then a wait of a month before the Township Board meets to approve the amendment.

The two provisions of the cussed and much discussed Ordinance read:

"Uses permitted. In all R-2A districts, except as otherwise provided for in this ordinance, all buildings shall be erected and all land shall be used only for one or more of the following permitted uses.

(a) Two family dwellings.
(b) Single family terrace dwellings, apartment houses and efficiency apartments of not more than eight (8) housekeeping units within one (1) building when all rooms are on one (1) floor and provided such units are constructed in an "L," "U," angled or staggered floor plan, and not more than four (4) such units are constructed in an unbroken straight line, to assure a pleasing appearance.

(c) Single family terrace dwellings, apartment houses and efficiency apartments of not more than sixteen (16) units in one (1) building when each housekeeping unit is two (2) stories in height, and not more than twelve (12) housekeeping units when one (1) and two (2) story housekeeping units are joined together in one (1) building.

In addition to Heritage apartments, others caught in the unexpected bind are: Arkelaw-Herman with a proposal for apartments on land west of Ecksels Road and south of Plymouth Road, and Tom Notebaert, representing a developer who has plans for 172 units near the intersection of Lilley and Ann Arbor Roads on the Postiff Estate.

During the course of the two meetings, the Commission received and approved plot plans for a shopping center development at the corner of Sheldon and Ann Arbor Roads by Stewart Oldford and Sons.

The center will have 40,000 square feet and 238 parking spaces on 3.7 acres. No rezoning is required.

The Commission also approved plans for the Postiff Estate development and set a public hearing on Feb. 17.

It also approved plans for the Marmion Hills development on Beck Road and recommended that the Township Board approve the canvas backs.

HATS OFF DEPARTMENT

A salute this week to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Witwer who chaired Saturday's March of Dimes Peanut Sale. Joe and Chris have been in charge of the sale for the past several years. They were assisted this year by Welton House.

A thank you to all the young ladies who sold the peanuts with a special commendation to Paisy Walton and Jan Mills who were the first volunteers to report for duty on that icy morning.

Other early arrivals at the Kresge Store headquarters were Georgette Lukonski, Pam Fisher and Michelle Jarrait.

FAMILY CONCERT

It was almost a full house at the High School on Sunday afternoon for the Symphony Orchestra's annual Family Concert. Always one of the most popular concerts of the season, this year was no exception in spite of bad driving conditions. The children are always a joy to watch at these concerts—the little girl in the front row using a rolled program for a bow, trying to keep pace with the violin section; the small boys who cannot resist attempting to emulate conductor Wayne Dunlap's motions—entirely unaware of anything but the music.

Louis Stout's French Horn demonstration delighted both the young people and the adults.

To quote one 11-year-old, "I liked it all, but I liked that last one, Pomp and Circumstance, best of all."

OF BRIDGE

Often thought that if they ever made a survey of bridge players per capita, the Plymouth Community would rank fairly high on a national basis. It is really a bridge-playing town.

The Symphony League's Round Robin group alone involves over 175 players. Most of these belong to one or more other bridge clubs.

This has been a busy week for Mrs. Marshall North—18 for a bridge-luncheon on Monday and 18 for a bridge-luncheon on Wednesday. The Monday group was from Birmingham, Clarkston and Farmington.

Fund

During the fund-raising drive, it was also brought out by some workers that there was a definite feeling towards three of the agencies now being supported by the PCF.

These are the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts and the newly organized Family Service Bureau. The general complaint against donations to the Scout groups is that the money goes to the area councils in Detroit and Ann Arbor and very little comes back to Plymouth.

For instance, it has been pointed out more than once that the Plymouth Kiwanis Club sponsored and purchased Girl Scout camping quarters on Plymouth Road and then turned the facilities over to the area council some few years back.

Now, if a Plymouth group wishes to use the facilities, it must receive permission from the Girl Scout Council and then pay a rental fee.

Inasmuch as the Family Service Bureau is relatively new to the community, workers told team captains and division leaders they had received complaints about allotting almost 25 per cent of the budget for the one agency.

The Family Service Bureau, which operates as an affiliate of the Ann Arbor Family Service Bureau, is budgeted for $17,500 of the $78,000 budget.

Despite the fact that FSB Director Anna Jung's report for the first year revealed wide use of the agency in the community, there are many who question the expense.

Palmer said the PCF Board was delighted with the progress of the Family Service Bureau during the year but planned to divorce it from Ann Arbor with an anticipated savings of an estimated $2,000.

Larry Hanse Named President of Amateur Radio Operator Group

Larry Hanse was elected president of the Stu Rockafellow Amateur Radio Society at the annual meeting in the Plymouth Credit Union.

Other officers are: Bob Gotts, vice president; Bob Baxter, secretary; and Sid Waters, treasurer.

Bill Silvis is trustee of the club radio station (W8N JH) which operates out of the radio room in Plymouth's new City Hall as part of the Civil Defense operation.

Information about the club and its activities may be had by calling 453-3375.

Rename Bida President of Jr. League

Joseph Bida, Plymouth's superintendent of the Department of Public Works and a long-time booster of junior baseball, was re-elected to a second term as president of the Plymouth Community Junior Baseball League in the annual meeting.

Bida accepted only with the understanding that this would be his final year as president.

Other officers are: Ken Vogras, internal vice president; Joe Gates, external vice president; Carl Symons, treasurer; Harry Burleson, secretary; and John Close, player agent for the American League.

Board members discussed the possibility of changing the league organization so that there will be a baseball commissioner for each league instead of one commissioner for both. It will be discussed at a meeting later in the year before a final decision is made.

The league started the new year with $1,608 in the treasury and outstanding bills totaling $26.83 according to a report from Treasurer Symons.

In 1899, the USS New York and the USS Massachusetts were the first Navy ships to use Marconi's wireless telegraph.

City Manager

ministration, Public Administration, Accounting, Engineering or Law.

"We have been studying each application as it is received," said Mayor Werette, "thus we have been able to notify those who fail to meet the requirements."

"However, after the Jan. 30 deadline, the commission will settle down to some serious thinking and go over all applications carefully."

"Then we plan to arrange a special meeting with the Personnel chief of the Michigan Municipal League to make the final selections. Depending on his recommendations, this could whittle the list down to four or five."

"These men will be invited to appear before the commission or a committee from the commission for personal interviews. After meeting all of the finalists, the commission will make a choice.

"We plan to have a new City Manager in advance of the election so that he will have an opportunity to start the new fiscal year with the new commission, whoever they may be."

By setting up the rigid requirements, the commission made certain that the new City Manager would not be from the present city administration. Public Safety Director Ken Fisher, currently serving as acting City Manager; City Treasurer and Assessor Kenneth Way; and former City Clerk Joseph Near, now residing near Sacramento, Calif., had been considered as possibilities—none meets all requirements.

TRULY GREAT WASHABILITY AND TWIN AIR STREAM DRYING FROM HAMILTON

Hamilton's recirculation wash principle assures a correct level of water in tub at all times — with constantly circulated, constantly filtered wash and rinse water. Gives five separate rinses. Only Hamilton gives you Twin Air Stream Drying — two separate air streams — a cradling current for gentleness, a carrier-current for drying speed. It's the big difference in clothes dryers today.

Hamlin Says County Rule Is Inevitable

The chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, Delos Hamlin of Farmington, expects that this session of the Michigan State legislature will produce county home rule and reapportionment of enabling acts. Hamlin has been a long-time supporter of county home rule.

He said that county government is rural government and no longer suitable for counties like Oakland.

He hopes that the bill that does pass is flexible enough to help all of the state's counties. Though in basic accord with the Oakland County system, he thinks the public works and county drain offices should be combined. He considers the Wayne County bill as "practical in theory," but he doubts that it can be passed as it is presently written.

He proposed making the appointed boards and commissions directly responsible to the governing body called for in the charter. That governing body should contain no less than 20 or more than 40 persons, from districts of equal population.

Hamlin takes no position on the right or wrong of county reapportionment. But it seems to him "inevitable." He doubts, however, that it will have much effect on Oakland County, because on Oakland's Board of Supervisors there is opposition between the city and rural faction.

He also predicted that the township boards will remain as before. The supervisor will no longer serve on the county board. But he will remain the chief administrator of the county.

Hamlin expressed a fear that home rule would result in overly centralized government. The governing bodies should concentrate on county and regional affairs, and leave the cities alone.

The Executive Director of the Michigan Township Association, Joseph Parisi—fighting for the retention of the township system—recently expressed a similar fear of excessive centralization.

Farm Bureau Holds Meeting

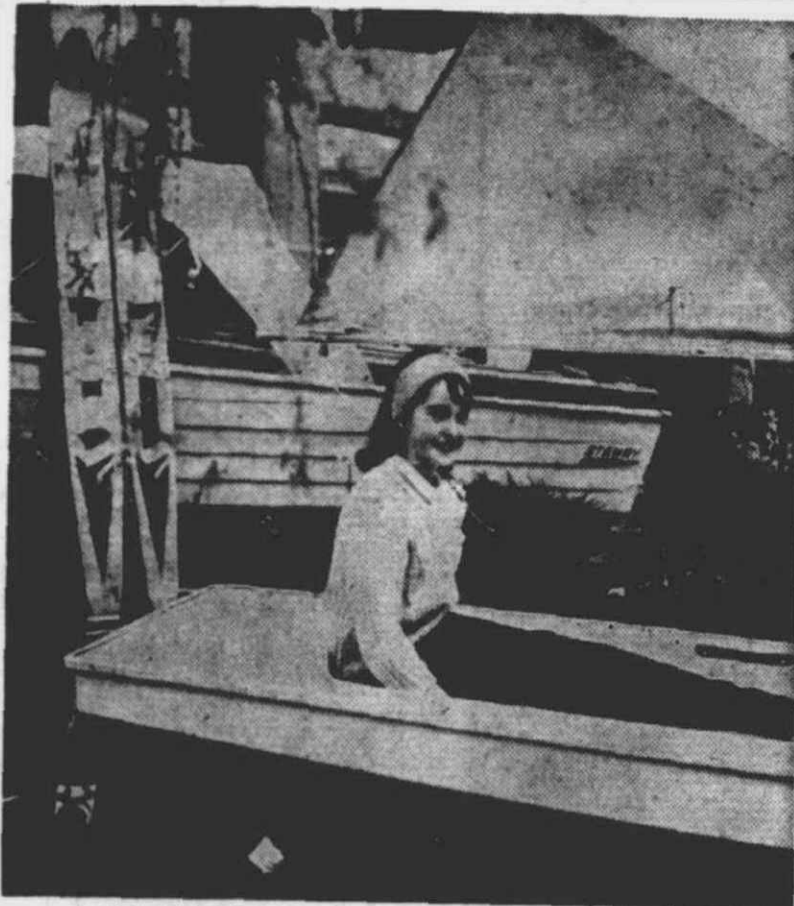

The regular monthly meeting of the West Farmington Farm Bureau was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Brown of 22921 Ardmore Road on Tuesday, January 19. The meeting was called to order by Chairman Louis Gilson followed by the salute of the flag led by Russell Gaston. 25 persons were present representing a total of 15 families and one guest.

Committee reports were made by the various chairmen. Discussion Leader Wendell Brown conducted a forum on the topic, "Property Tax Relief — For Whom?" This led to a discussion of the subject of how to relieve the mounting property taxes being levied on farm property.

The meeting adjourned at 10:15 p.m. Refreshments were served by hostess Mrs. Wendell Brown, assisted by Mrs. Donald Fuller and Mrs. Chalmers Lukefahr.

The February meeting is to be held in the North Farmington High School with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gilson as hosts.

ONE OF THE 550 boats at the seventh annual Greater Michigan Boat Show is this sailing surfboard in one of three lakes on the floor of the heated Detroit Artillery Armory. The skipper is Nancy Van Buskirk, 11, a sixth grader at St. Eugene's School in northwest Detroit. The exhibit is Grand Marine's, one of 150 displays of 1965 boats and equipment in the boat show, largest in the nation. The boat show runs through Jan. 31.

New Leader? Harris Berger Speaks Out

Harris Berger moved to Farmington Township in August, 1963. In the brief period since then, he has earned a reputation as a strong fighter for his beliefs. Berger supplied much of the energy behind the petition drives that necessitated an election on Township administration salary increases, but fell short on the Village Green rezoning.

And he was one of the organizers of the newly formed Farmington Citizens League.

What he is trying to do, he says, is stimulate greater citizen interest in the public affairs of their community, and to make the administration more responsive to public opinion.

That the administration has felt Berger's impact is undeniable. It is their feeling that he is operating under the guidance of Farmington Democratic Chairman Aldo Vagnozzi, in the continuing Democratic war against them. Berger emphatically denies this.

He says he did not actively support Vagnozzi in the latter's recent, unsuccessful race against Supervisor Curt Hall. He says further that he is a political independent, and has frequently voted for Republican candidates; that he has never been involved in partisan political action.

Berger graduated from Highland Park High in 1934. He served in the Navy from 1941-1945, coming out as a Chief Petty Officer.

Upon discharge, he went to work at the Ford Motor Co. He attended Wayne University nights, and achieved Junior status in the College of Business Administration. He is now a Supervisor at Ford's Dearborn Plant.

When Harris and Shirley Berger decided to move out of Detroit, they looked around "some of the more pleasant" areas surrounding the City. They were attracted to Farmington Township by "the large lot sizes, the generally rolling terrain, the well spaced homes, and rapid transit facilities to the City."

The Bergers have three daughters: Sheila, 20, a Junior at the University of Michigan; Ellen, 16, a Junior at North Farmington High; and Beth, five, who attends Kindergarten at Longacre School.

Mrs. Berger is past President of the Burns School PTA, in Detroit. Harris attends the Unitarian-Universalist Church of Farmington, but is not a member.

He began going to Township meetings early in 1964. He says he immediately noticed a lack of communication between the officers and the citizens of the Township. It is this he says he is determined to improve.

PTA Discusses Fluoride Clinic in Farmington

A meeting of the Farmington Area PTA Council was held on Wednesday, Jan. 20 at 8 p.m. with President Aldo Vagnozzi presiding.

Dr. James Rennell, Supervisor of the Topical Fluoride Program for the Farmington Area, reported an increase in the number of students receiving treatments. The clinic is now at the Beechview School and is tentatively scheduled to be at Highmeadow February 10. Parents are urged to make the necessary arrangements for their children to receive treatments at the time specified which is three or four days after the notices have been sent home and during the week prior to the time the clinic is scheduled for the school.

Due to the fact the stragglers have been allowed to participate in the interest of treating as many as possible, the clinic is now operating nearly a week behind schedule. For this reason fees cannot in the future, be accepted after the clinic is in session. Cooperation on the part of parents will be greatly appreciated.

Group Told How To Revive Dead By Dr. Ettinger

Robert C. W. Ettinger, discussed his controversial ideas on how to freeze the newly dead for revival and rejuvenation in the future, in an address before the Farmington Education Association and guests, at the Beechview School, on Monday afternoon, Jan. 25.

Ettinger announced that an organization had recently been formed, in New York, to promote the freeze-weight program. Called the Society for Anabiosis, it is headed by Dr. Benjamin Schloss, President of the Nucleonic Corp. of America. It is located at 196 Degraw St., Brooklyn 31, N. Y. Dr. Schloss, a medical-biochemist, hopes to rally massive support for both research and immediate practical action.

Ettinger is a teacher at Highland Park College. His wife teaches at Middlebelt School.

His book has been the subject of considerable controversy this year. Program Chairman Marvel Eberly noted that it has already been translated into several languages, and was described by the Chicago Tribune as one of the "Big Books" of 1964. The current issue of Pageant Magazine carries a discussion of it.

FEA President Kenneth Lockman presided over the meeting. He is principal of the Beechview School.

Voters—It's Up To You: Open Space Or Density?

Livonia's City Council took a sensible step Wednesday when it approved a $4.4 million parks and recreation bond issue for inclusion on the April 15 ballot.

In a nutshell, voters are being asked to set aside $4.4 million for the purchase of bonds to buy up to 1200 or more acres of new land for park development.

Last November, 57 per cent of Livonia voters said "yes" to the question. This spring, if a few more pull the affirmative lever, the 60 per cent level necessary to pass the issue will be reached.

Why a "yes" vote?

No greater need exists in the suburbs than that of providing our residents—from young people to senior citizens alike—with adequate recreation facilities.

That Livonians will have these productive surroundings as our population barrels upward to 200,000 and, as automation gives us more leisure time, should be number one on our list of community goals.

Other fast-growing suburbs could take this to heart. Now is the time to develop a master park plan in communities like Plymouth and Farmington Townships, where so much vacant land exists today.

At Wednesday's meeting, two Councilmen voted "no" on putting the issue before voters. They rested their case on the point that "specific plans" for land purchase should be made available before citizens are asked to vote on the issue.

Council President Rudolf Kleinert correctly reminded the Council, however, that its only function was to decide whether or not to allow voters the right to pass judgement on the issue—not to make the final judgement itself.

We expect that Livonians will be hearing both pro- and anti-arguments in the weeks to come. We would ask, therefore, that voters bear in mind these facts—

The Parks Commission has proposed a tentative land purchase plan. They hope to buy 1200 acres of land for parks. And, after a city-wide survey, they've listed the acreage they hope to get.

When you vote April 15, you won't know for certain what land will eventually be purchased for parks. What Livonians are being asked to support is the community principle of setting aside $4.4 million for parks development in general.

And, finally, as a safeguard—the Council will have the last say on every single acre that's proposed for purchase. City attorneys advise The Observer that only as much of the $4.4 million bond issue as is needed has to be sold each time a land parcel is proposed.

As an added inducement, one-third of the $4.4 million is expected to be provided by a federal grant under the Open Space Land Program. And, to top even this frosting on the cake, city officials point out that the interest rate for general obligation bonds is at the lowest point in history.

Wrapping it up, Livonia voters hold in their hands a decision on what kind of future community they wish to build. Will it be one of homes, stores and factories alone? Or will it be one where green, open spaces, golf courses, swimming pools and cultural centers provide the creative and recreational environment our people need?

For the 71 cents per $1000 valuation that this program will cost, we can't think of a better investment for Livonians.

We urge a "yes" vote.

DAVID ELSILA

Is 'Me Tooism' Here To Stay?

Gov. George Romney's "State of the State" address, Neil Staebler's high praise of it, and the Democratic claim that Romney lifted their platform, is another example of the fact that there exists in this country a broad consensus of opinion in favor of liberal, progressive, moderate government.

As Walter Lippmann often reminds us, the big majority of the American electorate inhabits the middle of the road.

The great and successful political figures of this generation—Stevenson, Truman, Kennedy, Johnson, and Eisenhower—have been men of the middle. They have been liberal and progressive. At the same time they have been conservative and moderate. Conservative in perpetuating the eternal verities of our democracy; and moderate for fear of tearing the precious fabric of that democracy.

"Me tooism" is not, as Barry Goldwater has stated, a political sin. The liberal Republican and the Democratic platforms are very similar, because they are responses to the needs and desires of the majority. George Romney and Neil Staebler both know this. All who would seek high elective office in this country had better keep it in mind.

ALLEN ROSENFELD

THE BEST OF PAUL CHANDLER

A Newspaper's Pledge

(Editor's Note: The Observer concludes the current series of "The Best of Paul Chandler" today by reprinting the first "Facts and Opinions" column ever to appear, published on May 10, 1956. Paul Chandler's statement of what should guide the contents of a suburban newspaper is one which he followed throughout his life on this newspaper. The staff of The Observer pledges to continue to uphold it.)

LAST WEEK in these columns Sterling Eaton explained the reasons why he had sold two of Wayne County's finest community newspapers. It is proper now that the new publisher outlines the thinking which he brings to the community.

It is well understood that the transfer of a newspaper is considerably more than a naked business transaction. It is the transfer of a trust. A newspaper is an absolutely indispensable service organization—it informs its people and it sells goods for its businessmen. It has the responsibility of telling the truth, regardless of how it might affect the annual balance sheet. An ethical newspaperman comes to a community dedicated to the idea that he will serve it in the best way he knows how. To anyone trained in journalism, that kind of work is an exhilarating and satisfying way of life... it is its own reward.

We embark on the job with that idea firmly in our heads.

In the particular case of Plymouth and Livonia, at this moment, there is an additional thrill contained in operating the newspapers. Our communities are growing so rapidly that only agile minds are able to grasp the vastness of the thing. The steady rumble of the moving vans toward the suburbs is the most amazing social movement of the current era. Whole social units—with governments, schools, homes, streets, sewers, stores, parks, and all the rest—are rising overnight on what before had been flat acreage. In some ways, there is a pioneer feel to the trend not unlike that of the infant days of our nation when the forefathers pounded westward, ultimately stopping to stake out the main street of their new home town.

The challenge of Plymouth and Livonia's growth today we take as our own. We are going to provide newspapers—growing newspapers—worthy of the citizens of these cities.

SO WHAT, specifically, is the policy?

It is to cram our newspapers, from front to back, with LOCAL news, news that no other paper or journal possibly can provide for our readers, but for which they hunger. Our readers desperately want to know what is happening in their school board, who is being married, who died, where the new pavement will be laid, how much taxes are rising, where the playgrounds will be located, how the city officials are behaving in office and who's running for office... and on and on. The desire for such information is most acute in the minds of those who only recently have moved to a strange place, one to which they wish to belong in every sense and as quickly as possible.

As a corollary, we aren't going to be much concerned with the events beyond our city limits, including politics. Others have those areas as their responsibility.

In advertising, we have the weapons to help OUR advertisers in the earning of profits. This is their newspaper, going to the customers located closest to them, and mutually we are bound with one another. A community newspaper is a trusted messenger—an advertiser who places his message therein automatically gains intimate contact and personal confidence from his most logical customers.

Inevitably, the question arises about the publisher's politics. We are independent, in the purest sense of the word. We'll select our candidates as they come along. We are not pre-committed to persons or labels. But, fear not, there will be no fence-straddling.

County Home Rule; A N.Y. Dutchman

By MYRA CHANDLER

Are you in favor of County Home Rule? Do you know what County Home Rule is? Six out of 10 persons to whom I asked this question this week said they didn't. And yet, should it come to pass, it would greatly affect all of our lives.

In its purest form, county home rule would streamline a horse-and-buggy government. This is exactly how our county government was geared. People couldn't always get to the state capital in their horse and buggy and so county seats of government were established.

A lot of other things have changed in the past 150 years, but county government goes on in the same old fashion... duplicating services because, as the cities and townships grew up they began to provide their own.

Streamlining (remember, in pure fashion) would establish a sort of "County Mayor" as well as a governing body representing individual districts throughout the county, probably a Board of no more than 38 members. It would boil down approximately 170 agencies into a compact form.

The responsibilities, now duplicated, which the Board could assume, might include roads, water and sewer service, air and water pollution, public safety, garbage collection and sanitation, to name a few.

So much for the pure form...

Unfortunately, however, County Home Rule is the most tug-of-war piece of legislation ever stymied in a committee, as it was in the Legislature last year. Originally, Governor George Romney's County Home Rule Bill had the support of the League of Women Voters when it was introduced last year, but by the time pressure groups got through watering it down, the bill couldn't even be recognized by its own mother (in this case, its father). And so it died, by one vote.

Why was it weakened so? Politicians, who aren't statesmen, want to protect the status quo—their own jobs. Many look to how it will affect them in the next election, rather than how it will effect the community.

Now, it's starting all over again. Last week, the Committee of Chairmen of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors sent a proposed draft of County Home Rule to the Towns and Counties Committee of the State Legislature. The entire Board of Supervisors hadn't seen it when it was sent out. Strange.

Supervisor Jack McDonald (R) of Redford Township said he objected to it because it "disfranchised Republicans in the county" through its partisan election proposal. Then, within the same meeting, he moved its unanimous adoption. Why? Maybe because he wanted to charm the largely Democratic Board so he could be elected its chairman next Thursday.

What McDonald objected to (but didn't stick with) are a few amendments sent along with the bill, some of which we find objectionable.

- These amendments —
• Provide for partisan election of the Charter Commission which would draw up the new County "constitution";
• Compel the partisan election of the new legislative body to be created by the Charter Commission as a replacement for the present 122-member Board of Supervisors (the League of Women Voters was adamant in its belief that this should be a non-partisan body); and
• Require the consent of the legislative bodies of local cities and townships before the County could take over any new service being performed by a local government.

The last would be all right — if it weren't for a ringer which reads as follows — "... or by the authorization of a majority vote of the electors of the county voting thereon."

In plain English — if Livonia or Redford didn't go along with a County proposal to take over services, a majority vote of the residents of the County-at-large could do the trick.

Call it self-preserving, selfish, Ayn Randism, or any other name—but suburbia does not want to take over Detroit's giant welfare problem... er... program—and this is one agency Detroit would want to share with its out-county cousins, namely us in Livonia, Plymouth and Redford Township.

Francis W. Beedon (D) from Muskegon is the new County Committee Chairman in Lansing. If this legislation is to come out of committee to be voted on this session, he will be an important person to listen for. James Tierney (D), Representative from Plymouth, is on the committee.

Delos Hamlin, Chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors from Farmington, said last week he expected to see county home rule and reapportionment come out of this year's legislative session; which would, of course, also affect Oakland county. "Michigan county government is a rural government—it's still suitable for a lot of upstate counties, but it's no longer adequate for counties like Oakland." He said also the Wayne County bill is all right in theory, but needs "major surgery" — and he has observed the scene as Supervisor for 23 years, the last nine as chairman of the board. He also favors non-partisanship, at least, for the charter commission.

County government in its present form is a luxury we neither need nor can afford.

William L. Oltmans, Dutch correspondent and Livonia's Town Hall speaker last week was somethin' else again. I'll bet many a lady went home to her dinner table that evening saying what a delightful speaker she had heard that morning, so stimulating! He was. He was beautiful—he trilled his R's with the alacrity of a cross between a ski-jumper and an operatic tenor. And he did stimulate the ladies' thinking...

HOWEVER, he was also glib, touched lightly on many serious subjects, too lightly for factualism. Oh, he made absolute sense on many items — stressing the importance of educating our youth on how others live; the hypocrisy in the U.N.; the importance of talking instead of shooting.

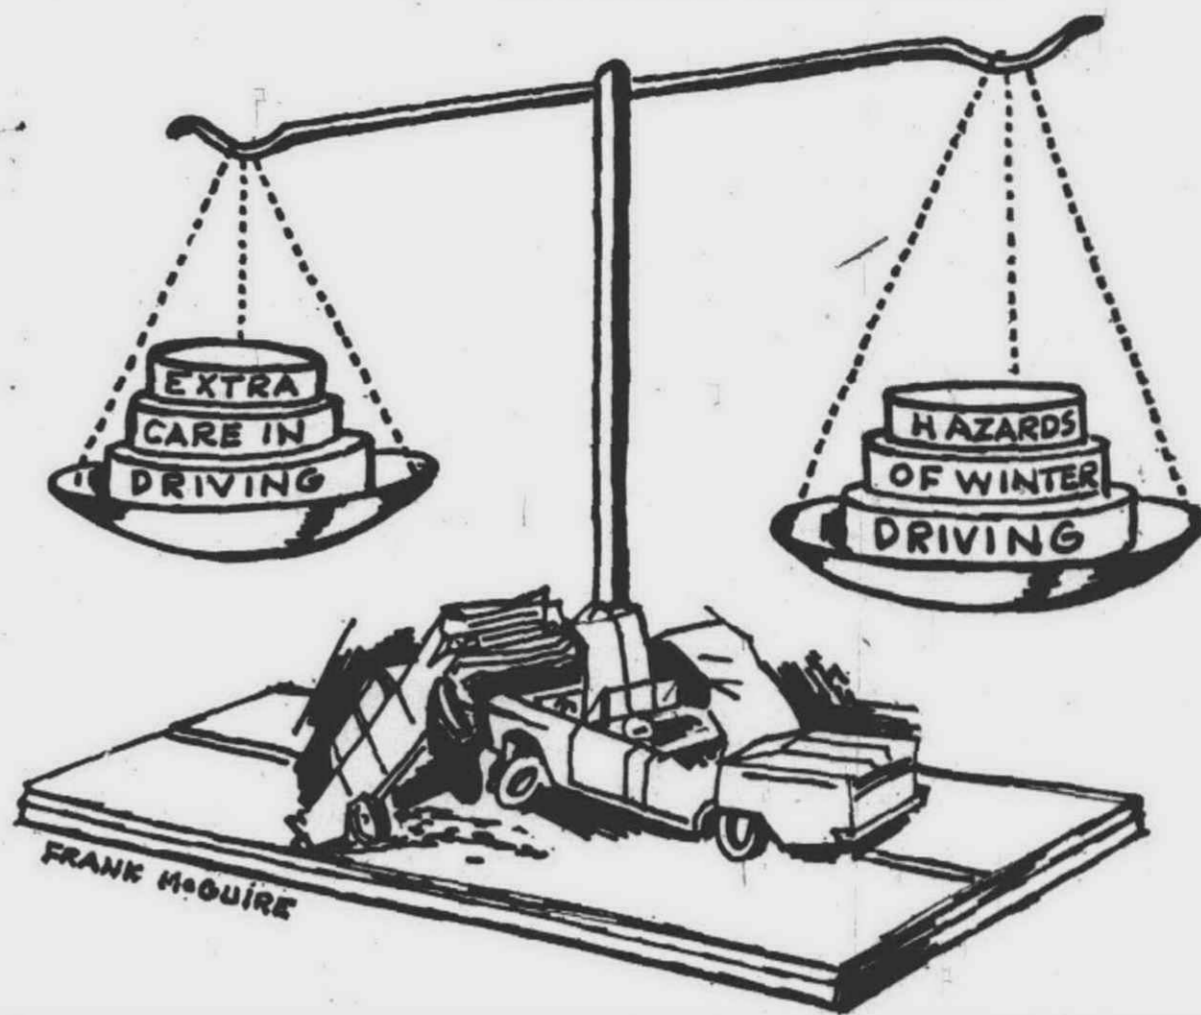

Part of the area where we parted company was his telling me the charms of Sukarno of Indonesia. And his absolute sophisticated view of the United States, both on the podium and in a later interview, where he frankly thought America stupid for always "betting on the wrong horse, for example General Chiang Kai-Shek in Taiwan (Formosa). And wrong for not emulating the French — and getting out of Viet Nam as they did — when they couldn't win, they left.

"Why does American always take up the ruin? Ach — I don't understand," says he.

Of course you don't, Dutchman — as the correspondent for 12 Dutch newspapers — you know a good country to live in. Yes, Willem L. Oltmans lives in New York, New York, U.S.A.

The United States is the number one world power for one reason. We work for freedom for people everywhere. We cannot stand to see any man go to bed hungry, cold or wet or sick; we spend billions to improve the lives of other mortals in trying to build a world that would be pleasing in the eyes of God. Maybe this is why we are a world power — and France — the smart one has the world image of being scheming, crafty and selfish — and a second rate nation.

Hot Lunch - Who Pays?

Editor: There are very few schools that do not participate in the federally subsidized lunch program. The cost of lunch programs in schools is paid for from funds received from the children who buy their lunches, the five cents per lunch provided by the Federal government (approximately one cent for milk only), and surplus commodities which are received from the federal government. The cost of the surplus commodities is approximately five cents per pound. The reference recently made regarding charity, therefore, is not true.

He has a fine wife, a host of children, the boys almost numbering a baseball team—and it is my wish that the next time these children read a paper—it is this edition. For I'd like to give them the knowledge that because our mistakes or misfortunes become news—makes us not less a responsible person—merely a little less fortunate—and human. And I would have them remember the hearts of many in this Township that ache with them, for what they all are going through—and tell Tom Kennedy, who had an especially difficult time going to school the day the news "hit" the papers, to hold his head a little higher, his chin a little firmer. His dad is still a great guy to more than just be.

Hospital Probe

The article which you ran on the tragic death of my father, after his mistreatment and lack of treatment at Wayne County General Hospital, has stirred considerable sympathetic comment in the community. A number of people have called us, including a Farmington City official.

I told us that he had a similar complaint against Wayne County General. He said he has contacted his lawyer, to see what legal action he can take.

I am still hoping for an investigation into the conditions at the hospital, so that what happened to my father will never happen to anyone else. MRS. H. O. MARTIN Farmington Township

For Ed Kennedy

Editor: It is my sincere wish that you print this letter — where in the paper this is done, I leave to your discretion.

I'd like to say a word about Edward Kennedy, Redford Township Treasurer.

What happened in Lansing is old news now. What is important now is the understanding, or the lack of it, we each afford his family — and Ed.

I believe in the basic good in people. I believe in the concern Redford residents have for their community and their own citizens. I can't believe that a week-end's activity, however one would care to express it, erases a lifetime of civic concern, caring, good neighborliness, friendliness, fortitude, and honest good citizenship this man has exemplified.

I've known Ed Kennedy for almost six years. During that time I can't recall a single time Ed ever turned down a request to be of help. He gave of his time to this community when physically he should not have. He gave of himself when there was little left to give. He spread himself too thinly through this community — but he gained a wealth of respect and a multitude of friends — and the self-satisfaction that he did all he

Why do so many men stay on the mid-career shelf?

In your 20's you won the job, worked hard for the company, faced a rosy future. But suddenly — in your mid-30's, you look up and begin to notice younger men passing you by... in promotions, pay, prestige. You know your job, you know the business... but you still can't seem to "make it." You are aware that time is running short. You feel helpless. You're on the shelf, in mid-career.

THAT'S THE WAY IT IS Only one man in a thousand plagued by this predicament does something about it—in time. But those who do often choose the same remarkable step taken by nearly 1,000,000 other men and women: Dale Carnegie training. This is the practical education program which quickly helps a man to assess his own abilities, make a personal plan for progress. Why not look into Dale Carnegie training and see for yourself how it can help you avoid or overcome mid-career crisis? The opportunity to do this is not always available—but we have arranged a way to show men who want to get ahead what the Dale Carnegie Course is like. Be our guest!

Red Cross Volunteer Corps Being Trained for Botsford

The opening of Botsford General Hospital last week found a group of Gray Ladies of the American Red Cross, trained for service in other hospitals within Oakland County, on hand to assist the hospital staff in handling patients and visitors.

Many of these experienced volunteers will continue to serve in Botsford General until a local corps can be trained.

The Oakland County chapter of the American Red Cross has started training local volunteers who wish to qualify as Gray Ladies for service in Botsford General Hospital.

The course of training will be directed by Mrs. William C. Spruill, chairman of Gray Lady Service for the Oakland County chapter, and will be given at the hospital in four two-hour periods to be concluded within two weeks.

After this short course of classroom instruction by the Red Cross and by the doctors and staff of Botsford General Hospital, the volunteers will don their uniforms and conclude their training with assignments on various floors of the hospital.

These interesting assignments include service at nursing stations, at information and admitting desks, in the pediatrics playroom, or adding to the comfort and welfare of patients elsewhere in the hospital.

At the end of this period of supervised training the volunteers will receive their certificates and be capped as members of the extensive national Gray Lady Service of the American Red Cross to continue their volunteer services during hours of their own choosing as long as they wish.

Golden Anniversary For Hazel And Frank Reeves

by Jerry Wendt
Jan. 23, 1915 Hazel and Frank Reeves were married in a small church on Trumbull in downtown Detroit. After the ceremony, they returned to their new abode on Buchanan Avenue and began their married life together.

Saturday, Jan. 23, 1965 at the V.F.W. Hall on Orchard Lake

Rd. in Farmington, over a 100 well wishers gathered to congratulate the couple on their 50th wedding anniversary.

Hazel and Frank Reeves, both still trim figured, quick witted, greeted their guests in a hall decorated with gold and white and with the numeral "50" prominently displayed. Helping them receive were their three children and their individual families. Mrs. Paul Smith, of Farmington; Harold Reeves of Sunset Ave., Plymouth; and Melvin Reeves of Beech Ave. in Redford Township. Stacks of gifts wrapped in gold paper were on a table and a huge, three-tiered cake decorated with gold leaves formed the centerpiece on the main table.

We asked Hazel Reeves, who wore a blue frock and an orchid corsage her formula for staying married 50 years. "Keeping busy", she replied. "Don't dwell on minor irritations, just keep interested and active."

Frank Reeves has a different version. "Health is of the utmost importance", he stated. "On the day of my retirement from Nash Kelvinator, the boss said to me. "Frank, you're a lucky man. You have kept your health, your marriage and your job."

Next came the standard question, "Would you do it all over again?" Mrs. Reeves was the first to reply, "I certainly would", she said, "It's been a wonderful life".

Mr. Reeves was next. "Yes, indeed", he said. Then putting his arm around his still petite wife, he whispered with a twinkle in his eye "I guess I'd do it a lot sooner."

URSULA MUEHLENBEIN

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Muehlenbein, Livonia, announce the engagement of their niece, Ursula Muehlenbein, to Joseph Howard Clancy. He is the son of Mrs. Frank J. Clancy of Ferndale and the late Mr. Clancy. The bride-elect, a graduate of Sacred Heart High School, Dearborn, received her junior accounting degree from the Detroit Business Institute. She is employed by the Telisach Trucking Co. in Livonia. Her fiancé, a graduate of Sacred Heart High School, Detroit, received his law degree from the University of Detroit College of Law in 1963. He is an associate member of the law firm of Raymond, Chirco, Fletcher and Donaldson, Detroit. An Aug. 14 wedding is planned in St. James Church, Ferndale.

Camp Fire Girls Candy Sales Start

The annual Candy Sale sponsored by the Camp Fire Girls will be held Jan. 28th through Feb. 15th. Assorted chocolates by Russel Stover at $1.00 per box will be promoted by the girls in the red, white and blue uniforms.

This is their only money making project of the year with the one dollar the Camp Fire Girl collects being divided in this way: cost of candy 60c; to operate camp 31c; group profit; other costs 3c.

Candy profits are an important part of the council budget.

Here is what they do: help support the group to which the CFG belongs—defraying costs of trips, dues, etc.; make campships available to girls who need a few more dollars to complete a day resident or group camp fee; keep lovely Camp Wathana operating all year round and in good repair; finance improvements on the camp site and provide day camp aids; and VERY importantly, stabilize the financial structure of the council, assuring special projects NOT supported by the allocation from United Community Services through the United Foundation.

Watch for Camp Fire Girls in your area and help support their annual project!

Women Of Wayne Alumni Club Will Have Theatre Party In Farmington

The Women of Wayne Alumni Club for the Farmington and Livonia area will sponsor a theatre party Saturday, Feb. 27, at the Farmington Players Barn when the Players put on the comedy, "The Great Sebastian."

Proceeds from the ticket sales will be used for the dual purpose of financing the club's local service project — assistance to needy families in the Farmington area — and contributions to the scholarship fund at Wayne State University.

The club is made up of women in this area, Plymouth, Northville, Redford Township, Garden City and Novi, as well as Farmington and Livonia, and all interested persons are urged to support this special performance.

Tickets are $2 and may be obtained in Livonia from Mrs. R. Dewey Hansen, telephone 421-6018, and in Farmington from Mrs. J. T.

Miller, telephone GR 6-0855. As part of its local service project, the club collects good used clothing to keep school aged children properly clothed to attend classes in this chilly winter weather. Just now the supply of small boys' clothing is drastically low, and club service chairman Mrs. Robert Larson, is asking residents of the area for any good condition outgrown clothing.

Any person having such discarded, or good clothing for any school children, are asked to call Mrs. Larson, GR 4-3532, or Mrs. Miller, GR 6-0855.

Kenwood Women Hear Township Policewoman

The Board Meeting of the Kenwood Women's Club was held Jan. 4, at the home of Mrs. Wallace Sloan, Denby Ave.

Present for the delicious luncheon was President Mrs. H. Dust, Mrs. N. Banks, Mrs. J. Helton, Mrs. C. K. Avery, Mrs. E. Hazelton, Mrs. E. Pearson, Mrs. Wm. Hermann, Mrs. A. Gaberson, Mrs. H. Wren, Mrs. A. Wulff, Mrs. E. Higgs, Mrs. F. Puhl, Mrs. C. Wagner, Mrs. F. Bokelmann and Mrs. T. Ford.

The nominating committee selected for the coming year is Mrs. H. Wren, Mrs. F. Puhl, Mrs. E. C. Weiss, Mrs. W. O'Neill and Mrs. W. Daniels.

The regular meeting of the club was held Jan. 7 at the Lola Valley Masonic Temple. New members welcomed into the club by the president, Mrs. H. Dust, were: Mrs. J. Bickett, Mrs. H. Anderson, Mrs. J. Mourray, Mrs. H. Martz, Mrs. W. O'Neill and Mrs. G. Kaiser. Guests were Mrs. Dorothy Shock and Mrs. Grace Grinnell.

Program Chairman Mrs. A. Wulff, introduced Sgt. Violet Motes, Redford Township's only policewoman. She gave a very interesting and informative talk on crime in Redford Township.

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. C. Wagner and Mrs. H. Poff.

The next meeting of the club will be held Feb. 4, at which time the presidents of many clubs will be invited as guests for the afternoon. This is the club's annual President's Day Tea.

Garden Club Hears Panel

The first regular meeting of 1965 of the Redford Township Garden Club was held on Jan. 12, at the home of Mrs. Nathaniel Banks with Mrs. Elsmere Pearson as co-hostess.

The president, Mrs. J. Langdon, called the meeting to order and welcomed members: Mrs. H. Armstrong, Mrs. C. K. Avery, Mrs. R. Beck, Mrs. L. Cutsinger, Mrs. T. Ford, Mrs. A. Gaberson, Mrs. E. Hazelton, Mrs. Wm. Hermann, Mrs. J. Mourray, Mrs. G. Nolan, Mrs. C. Seward and guest, Mrs. Nan Hankins.

Mrs. L. Cutsinger is in charge of the flower arrangements which will be put in the Redford Township Library each month.

It was announced that Mrs. J. Langdon and Mrs. L. Cutsinger passed the examinations for Flower Show Judges held at Fries Auditorium on Nov. 3, 4 and 5, 1964.

The program for the day was a panel composed of Mrs. R. Beck, Mrs. L. Cutsinger, Mrs. J. Langdon, Mrs. G. Nolan, and Mrs. Wm. Hermann. They presented the courses they had studied at the Flower Show School.

The meeting for February will be held at the home of Mrs. C. K. Avery and the program will be "Let's Keep Michigan Beautiful."

Farmington BPW Hears City's History

The regular meeting of the Farmington Business and Professional Women was held on Monday evening, Jan. 18. The speaker for the evening was Mrs. Robert Bragg of the Farmington Historical Society who discussed "The History and Background of Farmington."

January is "President's Exchange" month in District No. 10 and our guest was Miss Ellen Matter, president of Royal Oak BPW at the dinner meeting. On Jan. 6 Farmington president, Mrs. Sheffer, was a guest at Southfield BPW with others from Farmington attending with her.

On Jan. 24, District No. 10 held their Winter meeting with dinner at McGuire's on Evergreen and Joy Roads with Farmington and Southfield being co-hostesses for this "June in January" get-together of all clubs in the district. Part of the program included selections by "The Vikings", a choral group of which Ivar Anderson is a part . . . who is the husband of Sylvia Anderson of the Farmington B.P.W.

Oakland YWCA Combine For D'Oyly Carte

Proceeds To Benefit Expansion Program

At the Northwest Branch YWCA tickets went on sale this week for Gilbert & Sullivan's "Iolanthe". The D'Oyly Carte Company production will open at the Fisher Theater on Feb. 23.

Although "Iolanthe" is not as well known as some other Gilbert & Sullivan operas, it follows in the same tradition of spoofing English customs and institutions. The object of the satire in "Iolanthe" is the House of Lords (perhaps much might apply to our Senate), and the legal system in England. Iolanthe is a fairy who commits the intolerable sin of marrying a mortal. With this original premise Messrs. Gilbert & Sullivan weave their usual clever tale. The music is outstanding; it all adds up to a delightful evening's entertainment.

The YWCA Theater Party is a joint venture by the Northwest and Oakland Branches. The theater party committees for the two branches are headed by Mrs. Charles Stilec for Northwest and Mrs. L. Allen Keys for Oakland. Branch chairmen Mrs. Phillip Smitely from Oakland. Branch chairmen Mrs. Phillip Smitely from Oakland and Mrs. George F. Sweet from Northwest met with the committees to discuss the project.

Proceeds from the party will go to the expansion funds in the respective branches.

Mary Morgan To Speak At O.L.G.C. Tea Feb. 3

The annual membership tea at Our Lady of Good Counsel will be held Feb. 3 at 8:15 p.m. in the Church Hall. Mary Morgan of CKLW-TV will present slides of Couture Fashions by both American and European designers.

Miss Morgan, a top fashion commentator at Fashion Shows put on by Detroit's leading stores, writes, edits and produces her own radio and television shows.

Having been with CKLW for 20 years, and radio since 1932, she has received many awards such as Soroptimist Woman of the Year, McCall Gold Medal award, citations from the armed forces, and the Michigan State Police for her community interest in juvenile problems.

Her fashion awareness associates her with the Detroit Fashion Group, the Zonta International, the Press Club, Women's Advertising Club; her great interest in people, the Humane Society and the only woman member on the Detroit Police Sergeants Association.

General chairman for this event is Mrs. Walter Harris, with Mrs. Thomas Notebaert, Mrs. Joseph Brisbois, Mrs. Donald Skinner, and Mrs. Ronald Willis serving on her committee.

Johnson-Elsey Troth Told

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Johnson (Margaret Johnson of J.M.J. Catering) of Livonia, announced the engagement of their daughter, Mary Alice Johnson, to Michael David Elsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Elsey, 9004 Cardwell, Livonia. Alice is a 1963 Bentley graduate, Michael works for Chevrolet Gear and Axle. The wedding will be held May 8.

RUTH CHILDRESS at the desk of the Northwest Branch YW is taking an order for tickets to "Iolanthe". Mail orders should be accompanied by a stamped self address envelope.

Founders Day Speaker, Dr. Carl L. Marburger

The "Founders Day" speaker at the annual PTA meeting at Redford Union High School on Feb. 2 will be Dr. Carl L. Marburger who is the executive administrative assistant of the Detroit Public Schools. Dr. Marburger, who resides at 17430 Denby, Redford Township, has two children, Karen and Eric, attending the Redford Union District Schools.

The meeting will start at 6:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. It will be a "pot luck" dinner and parents are requested to bring a hot dish, salad, or dessert, also a place setting.

Mr. Joseph Baumgartner, president, has announced that past presidents of the PTA will be honored, and invites all parents to attend. Mrs. Richard Meteyer and Mrs. Scott Lawrence, membership chairmen, will be on hand to sell PTA membership for anyone interested in joining. These memberships are used for student scholarships.

Judith A. Westfall

The engagement of Judith A. Westfall to Carl W. Mau, Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mau of Livonia was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Westfall of Farmington. An April 24 wedding is being planned.

Women of Compton Bridge Benefits Training School

Twelve women of Compton Village met Thursday evening, Jan. 14, at the home of Mrs. Richard Lacey, 29226 Barkley, to play bridge — the price of admission being one or more articles of clothing or toys to be given to the mentally retarded children at the Plymouth State Home and Training School.

This monthly gathering continues to be a successful event in Compton Village, as the women enjoy meeting with their neighbors in a common interest of benefitting those less fortunate than they. Attending the last meeting were Maureen Zobl, Mary Ann Boysen, Rosemary Bailey, Mary Ann Staky, Shirley Lacey, Rita Kahr, Elaine Osborn, Sylvia Pheneay, Marge Krieger, Phoebe Holloway, Mary Naughton and Judy Battani.

An invitation is extended for more women in the area to join in this rewarding work. The Plymouth State Home and Training School is always deeply grateful for any donation, no matter how small.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, Feb. 11, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Staky, 14381 Garden. If you have not attended and would like to, or you would like to donate some clothes or toys, please call Mary Ann Boysen at 425-7999 or Maureen Zobl at 425-8655.

Republican Meet In Oakland County

The fifth Annual Luncheon of the Oakland County Council of Republican Women's Clubs will be held at Devon Gables on Thursday, Jan. 28, at 12 noon. Guest speaker will be the Honorable Allison Green, State Auditor General, who will talk on "The Future of the Republican Party."

Dale Feet, new Oakland County Republican Chairman, will be present to swear in the new officers of the Women's Council. Starting her second term as President is Mrs. Joseph Hainline, 35758 Nancy Gale Ct., Farmington. Mrs. Paul Robertson, 25665 River Drive, Franklin, is first Vice-President, and Mrs. John A. Gibbs, 1631 W. 13 Mile Road, Royal Oak, is Corresponding Secretary.

Chairman of the Fifth Annual Luncheon is Mrs. Robert Lytle, Birmingham, assisted by Mrs. Russell Dodd, Berkley, and Mrs. Frank Downs, Farmington.

Demonstrated At Crowleys

New Way To Cook

Any cut of meat, budget or choice, can be cooked to perfection with a new concept in oven cooking known as Tender-matic. Using an entirely new method of oven heating, this unique electric range lets the heat rise fast to a high temperature to sear the outside of meats and fowl and then lowers automatically to a slower-cooking temperature to let meat tenderize with its own natural, flavorful juices inside. . . making even center blade cuts of chuck roast come out tender and succulent like prime beef. A special dial lets you set the temperature to produce the results you want — rare, medium or well done! And, it will keep food ready to serve as long as eight hours after cooking.

It's a wonderful advantage to busy housewives and career girls. Set two dials, leave for work or spend the day shopping, and come home hours later to a meal ready to put on the table.

Plymouth Hi News

By CAROL OTWELL

Don Loney, famous public speaker and comedian, was the guest speaker at an all-school assembly on Thursday, January 21. Loney's talk centered around teenage morals and was highlighted by jokes and take-offs on teen-agers' behavior.

Speeches such as these are given by Loney all across the United States to groups of all ages. Although Loney is not an ordained minister, he does have a religious background, having attended Moody College and Weston College.

A resident of Southfield, Loney began speaking at high schools in 1946. Following a speech he gave at a delinquent home that year, the head of the home, who had recognized Loney's ability to communicate with teen-agers, told him he should be speaking to young people everywhere.

Loney then made it his profession and also began to speak to adult groups on the same subject.

Besides his appearances in the U.S., Loney is planning a trip to Europe this fall to speak at the over-seas Air Force high schools, and is also planning a trip to Alaska.

Master of Ceremonies was Assembly Chairman Dave Tidwell. Introducing the speaker was senior Jerry Harrison. This assembly was the last of the first semester assembly program.

PLYMOUTH HIGH will be the host school for this year's Suburban Six League Student Council Conference. The conference will be held March 30 and will be attended by student council members and advisors from the Suburban Six schools.

Discussions for the conference will center around the problems that arise in the various student councils. John Hannula, mayor of P.H.S., will be in charge.

On February 19, a planning session for the conference will also be held at Plymouth.

Each school will send two student council members and their adviser to help plan the program for the league conference.

"AN ENEMY OF THE PEOPLE" has been selected as the second semester all-school play to be presented as P.H.S. The play was written by Henrik Ibsen and will be directed by John Kontos and student director, Karen Carver.

Tryouts for the play were held recently with the following results: Dr. Stockmann, Mike Ross, Mayor Stockmann, Phil Husska, Hovstad, Tom Donnelly, Mrs. Stockmann, Mary Arnold, Petra Stockmann, Beth Miller.

Hovstad, Tom Donnelly, Mrs. Stockmann, Mary Arnold, Petra Stockmann, Beth Miller.

Aslaksen, Larry Smithson, Billing, Dan Robinson, Captain Horster, Tom Chandler.

Morten Kill, Bruce Spratling, Morten Stockmann, Clark Chapin.

Ejlif Stockmann, Daryl Kiefer.

Hedvig, Gwen Fulton, Tors, Debbie Broderic.

The crowd, Mike Cloar, Rob Wilson, Paul Campbell, Ken Groom, Pam Bishop, Sally Van Antwerp, Linda Kissner, Christi Sullivan, Mary Ann McKenzie, Chris Sherry, Diane Roberts, Carole Grimes, Barb Jones, and Sally Keener.

The play will be presented March 25, 26 and 27 in the Plymouth High School auditorium.

SENIORS AT P.H.S. are being fitted for caps and gowns for graduation this week. Rental for the caps and gowns is being paid for by the senior class treasury.

Plymouth Firm Is Distributor For Car Leasing System

Interested in leasing a new car for periods ranging from a year and more?

Then the father-son combination of Harold and Richard Jackson, 746 Wing Street, Plymouth, will be able to take care of your needs.

They have been named distributors for the International Leasing System, a coast-to-coast chain, which offers new cars of any type and make to interested parties.

The Jacksons are distributors for Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties with exclusive rights in Plymouth.

Both were required to attend a seminar last week at which details of the system were explained and methods of leasing taught to the new distributors.

Packaging Corp. Earnings Up 28.3 Pct. Sales Climb 5.9 Pct.

Packaging Corporation of America of Evanston, Ill., has reported that for the six months ended December 31, 1964 earnings were 28.3 per cent higher and sales were 5.9 per cent higher than for the same six-month period a year ago. The corporation has a plant in Plymouth.

Earnings were $3,623,339, or 93 cents per share, compared to last year's $2,823,413 or 72 cents per share.

Sales of paperboard, corrugated containers, folding cartons and molded pulp products totaled $76,004,134, an increase of $4,255,553 over last year's six-month sales of $71,748,581.

JA Opens Fund Raising Drive For $7,500 in Area

Junior Achievement in the Livonia-Plymouth area kicked off its 1965 fund raising campaign in a luncheon attended by more than 50 top level business leaders at the Ford Livonia plant.

The combined goal for the area is $7,500 — $4,000 from Plymouth and $3,500 from Livonia.

James McKeon, chief engineer at DSI Corporation, is head of the Plymouth solicitation and Burl Woodward, owner of the Hines Park Hotel, heads the Livonia drive.

Arnold Johanson, manager of Western Electric Co. plant in Plymouth and chairman of the JA committee, told the group that these were minimum funds needed to maintain the operation of the 12 JA companies now operating in the business center at 585 W. Ann Arbor Trail.

He added that this was part of the $299,000 goal for Junior Achievement in Southeastern Michigan. General chairman of the 1965 drive is Chester Ogden, administrative vice president of Detroit Edison.

The 12 JA companies in the area are sponsored by: American Motors Corporation, Associated Spring Co., Burroughs, Chrysler, Consumers Power, Detroit Edison, Ford, Chevrolet Spring and Bumper, Michigan Bell, National Bank of Detroit, Western Electric and Whitman and Barnes.

The first report meeting for the Fund Raising Campaign is slated for Feb. 11 in the Statler-Hilton Hotel in downtown Detroit with a final report at the same place on Feb. 25.

McKeon and Woodward challenged the businessmen present to go over the top so that expansion could take place and more teenagers could be accommodated in the area.

Junior Achievement is an educational program for teenagers between the ages of 15 and 19 that is designed to teach an understanding of the American free enterprise 'learn by doing' system. The achievers are recruited through the high schools in the fall and enroll at one of the 16 JA business centers in the six-county Southeastern Michigan area.

After being divided into groups of 15 or 20, they are assigned a team of three volunteer advisers from business and industry. They then incorporate their group under the laws of Michigan, elect officers, sell stock, and enter into production of a product of their own choosing.

These miniature companies then continue to function and prosper until the end of the school year much the way their cousins do in big business. In May the companies are voluntarily liquidated, and the stockholders sent a report of company standing. In September, the cycle is started all over again.

The program in Southeastern Michigan was started in 1949 and has grown to be the largest in the nation with 8,000 teenagers and 1,120 adult advisers operating 393 miniature companies in the 1964-65 program.

Water Safety Course Listed In Plymouth

A 10-week water safety instructor course for men and women will be conducted in Plymouth by the Red Cross beginning March 12. That was the announcement by Red Cross Safety Services Director W. George Wibby who indicated the course will be in charge of Arnold Pytkas.

The course teaches not only how to teach swimming, but dwells to some extent on pool maintenance.

Eligibility requires the applicant to be at least 18 years old and must have obtained a Senior Life Saving certificate within the last three years.

The Plymouth course will be taught at Plymouth High School on Fridays at 7 p.m. beginning March 12.

For further information, telephone Red Cross, Water Safety Department at WO 1-3900.

Would Build Car Wash On Former Site Of Cavalcade Inn

A request for a change in zoning of the property on which the Cavalcade Inn was located, prior to the disastrous fire that completely razed the building, was made to the Plymouth Township planning commission by Earl Smith of 8969 Canton Center Road. The land is on Northville Road near the C&O Railroad.

Perry Richwine, representing Smith, indicated his client is interested in erecting an auto wash.

The lot is now zoned M-1, light manufacturing, and Richwine's request was for a commercial zoning.

The commission accepted the request but tabled action until the February meeting, asking Richwine to present additional information and plans with a plot of the area.

DPW News and Notes

By Supt. Joseph Bida Plymouth DPW

During last week the Department of Public Works was rushing around taking care of two funerals, both on the same day, at Riverside Cemetery. The streets were salted in priority with hills, railroad tracks and intersections. All main streets were cold patched. The freezing and thawing of the winter has caused some of the black-top and seal coat to break up.

Skating ponds have been cleaned and flooded and sand was hauled to Caster and Mill Streets to make a skating pond. Skating rinks are located at Hamilton Street Playground, Joy and Harding; Joel and Sheridan; Auburn and Junction; Burroughs and Coolidge; Sutherland and Forest; and back of the high school.

New racks were erected in the sign department for storing of materials. The creek was cleaned between Sheldon and S. Harvey Street and the trees were trimmed and brush hauled away.

Sanitary sewers were checked and cleaned in the north section of the city. A catch basin was rebuilt at the cemetery entrance. A 3/4" water tap was installed on Adams Street. A fire hydrant was removed on Main Street at Wing Street and a hydrant was thawed on William Street at N. Harvey Street.

An article has been brought to my attention regarding the hazards of a 55 gallon drum. I think these are things that the average person does not realize. A 55 gallon drum weighs 46 pounds empty and from 125 to 150 pounds full. When overflowing with wet garbage and usually some rocks and concrete, it requires two men and sometimes three for lifting.

Departments are having difficulties in finding men who can dump these drums. If takes about three weeks for a man to learn how to handle them, and then he has to be big and husky. Most of them don't stay on the job after lifting a few of those big barrels.

The injuries to the sanitation worker are hernias and crushed or amputated fingers and toes, also sprained backs. As a time saver many 30 gallon containers could be picked up while two or three men were trying to take care of a 55 gallon drum.

The U.S. Navy has been performing aerial hurricane reconnaissance since 1943.

Livonians Aboard First Voyage SS Shalom

The recent voyage of the Israeli luxury liner Shalom ended in tragedy when the ship hit a Danish freighter on Thanksgiving Day.

The ship was repaired, and on Jan. 1 set sail again, its destination the Caribbean. On board were two Livonia couples, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Sherman of Weyher Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Brownstein of Brentwood. According to Mrs. Sherman, the S.S. Shalom was indeed a pleasure cruise, with everything planned for the passengers' enjoyment. Indoor and outdoor swimming pools, theaters, shuffleboard courts, and shops that featured such out-of-this world items as Israeli knits, pearls, colognes, watches, etc.

There were also fine shops in the ports-of-stop: San Juan, St. Thomas and St. Martin. The foursome was also entertained at the Caribe Hilton in Puerto Rico, and found it to be a fabulous place.

After nine days of tropical breezes, freedom from care and interesting sight-seeing, the foursome arrived home to find sleet and drizzle. The Browns and the Shermans wished they could turn the plane around and head back to Shalom for another cruise.

"Romance of Israel" Talk Set for Feb. 1

Members of the Livonia Jewish Congregation Sisterhood will hear about "The Romance of Israel" following their regular meeting at 8:30 p.m., on Monday, Feb. 1, at the Samuel and Mary Cohen Branch of the United Hebrew Schools, 31840 West Seven Mile Rd.

Mr. Louis Levitan, who is currently the Director of the Detroit Israel Bond Office, will present the fascinating story of the growth and development of the state of Israel.

A Social Hour including refreshments will follow the meeting and speaker. All friends and neighbors are invited to hear this most interesting talk.

VIVIAN'S MEET
On Jan. 14, The Vivians Club of B.P.O.E. Plymouth Lodge 1780 held their regular meeting at the Lodge, using the newly expanded facilities of the Lodge for the first time. The program for the evening was a talk, followed by questions from the group, by Specialist Dr. John Rogers, gynecologist.

Madame President

Mrs. John (Margy) Murawski

What is it that pushes, or pulls, "just plain housewives" to go beyond the confines of their home and family, to assume the added responsibilities of actively participating in the vast vaguely defined field which carries the unassuming name of "volunteer work." How do they reconcile having the demands of their family oft-times go unanswered because mother's busy volunteering?

We propose to ask the presidents of many different organizations for answers to these and other like questions in this series entitled Madame President.

In her late twenties with dark hair and dark eyes, attractive Mrs. John Murawski has not been active in many different organizations, yet this year she became President of the Plymouth Newcomers Club.

Nor does Margy lack activity in her lovely home on Greenbrier Lane in Lakepointe Village. Her husband and four children, John who is 6, Stevie, 5, Wendy, 3, and Molly, 7 months, certainly see to that.

Margy grew up in La Grange, Ill., a town she describes as being to Chicago what Plymouth is to Detroit. She majored in English at Northwestern University, worked for a year and a half as an airlines stewardess before getting married.

New to Plymouth in 1960, Margy joined the Newcomers Club in 1962. She readily admits that the club's purpose was what attracted her: to help people get acquainted with each other and to help them know more about Plymouth.

"There's a certain loneliness when you're new to a community even though you are busy with a growing family. And now," she says, "I feel that the club has done so much for me that this is an opportunity for me to do something in return."

Does her husband object to the time she spends being Madame President? Margy giggled at this one; her husband is a vice-president of Plymouth Jaycees. "We just get the calendar out and try to make our dates fit, so that we aren't both out on the same night," she said.

"This is something else I've gotten out of it," she added, "I'm better organized at home, I have to be."

The Plymouth Newcomers Club, like Topsy, just grew. It started in 1957 as an off-shoot of Plymouth's Newcomer Service and now has 200 members. If you have lived in Plymouth over three years you may not join—and you may only belong for three years. From September through June there are monthly luncheons for the women and every six weeks or so an evening activity for couples. Ten interest groups ranging from bridge to bowling have developed within the club; a member may stay in these groups even after the three-year limit in the club. Although its purpose is primarily social the club does sponsor a Girl Scout troop and they have one volunteer group at Plymouth State Home.

Northville Town Hall Presents Artist Feb. 4

"Anyone who can hold a paint brush can learn to paint," so says artist Norman Garbo, who will present a lecture-demonstration at the next Northville Town Hall meeting Feb. 4 at 11 a.m. at Northville's P & A Theatre. His talk will be entitled "Pull Up An Easel."

His works have hung in Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Chicago Art Institute, the Philadelphia Museum, and other art galleries across the country.

With Mr. Garbo's appearance there will be a change of format for this meeting only.

The celebrity Luncheon WILL NOT follow the lecture. Instead there will be a question and answer period after the meeting at the theatre.

While on stage Mr. Garbo will paint a canvas which will be given to some lucky person at the lecture. See you there!

Bryant Girls Model Dresses

Thirty charming models exhibited their sewing and modeling talents at a fashion show entitled "Gay Paris" last week.

The girls, all ninth graders at Bryant Junior High, made their outfits in their sewing class under the direction of their teacher, Miss Sally Williams. Then they produced and directed their own fashion show.

Amidst a colorful Parisian setting, the girls showed off loungewear, sportswear, schoolwear and eveningwear to a delighted audience of classmates and parents.

After the show, guests were treated to more Parisian fare—cream puffs made by the ninth grade foods class.

The start of every new day tends to make a man realize that his days are numbered.

Mary Lou Hastings

Mr. and Mrs. Durward Hastings of Livonia announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Lou, to Robert Lee Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Webb of Lincoln, Mich.

Plans are being made for a June wedding.

Goodfellows' Thanks

On behalf of the members of the Redford Township Goodfellows dress and shirt drive committee, I would like to thank you all for your help in our fifth annual drive.

Once more we were able to provide a little extra for some boys and girls not so fortunate as others.

We are happy to report that all school-age boys and girls were able to receive either a dress, blouse or shirt.

This year, over 300 children attended the party. Of course, not all of these were school age, but better than three-fourths of them received something from our group.

We thank you for your cooperation and help.

ANNA ADRAGNA
Chairman, Redford Township Goodfellows' Dress and Shirt Drive

'No Charity Asked'

In answer to "a taxpayer who asks no charity," I have never had a letter make me so mad in all my life. The parents of the Clarenceville school children ask for no charity either. We the parents paid for our own children's lunches, thirty cents a child.

So, taxpayer, go buy your turkey. We didn't use your money.

Vets To Visit Torgau

Sunday, April 25, 1965, will mark the 20th anniversary of the historic World War II friendly link-up of the American and Russian armies at the Elbe River at Torgau, Germany.

As one of the six American soldiers to make the first contact with the Russian soldiers at the Elbe River bridge on April 25, 1945, I remember the spirit of good will, determination, and optimism for the future which prevailed then, and the oath at the Elbe we swore on both sides to work together to build a better world of peace, justice and freedom for all.

Now age 48, I am a taxicab driver in Chicago, married, with four children. A 20th anniversary veterans' visit to Torgau would assuredly be like a breath of fresh air, and perhaps even help sound a new note of hope and confidence in the relations between the United States and the Soviet Union as they face the future. On a purely non-organizational basis, I am taking the initiative in forming a group of American World War II veterans to make a pilgrimage to Torgau this April 25. This will mark the first group of American World War II veterans to visit Torgau in the 20 years since the 1945 Elbe River link-up.

The spirit of dedication, optimism, high idealism, the willingness to go the extra mile in an honorable cause, American veterans had when the war ended 20 years ago, while tempered, assuredly lives on. Help in this effort is needed, and earnestly solicited. Those Americans who would like to join in the pilgrimage to Torgau this April 25 are urged to get in touch with me as soon as possible.

not operating? What if these children are placed in the hands of a driver who either thinks they are not necessary or just plain doesn't use them?

Many times I have observed a bus stopped near a corner discharging or picking up children without these lights operating. Thank you for reading this note and if possible printing it as a possible reminder to school bus drivers to use these lights for the purpose to which they were intended.

Grudge-Ridden?

An article which appeared in the January 20 OBSERVER caught my fancy. It concerned the exhausting vacation our Township Treasurer took to Lansing.

Mrs. Avery was supposedly inspired by the constructive bipartisan approach of the delegates of the Michigan Township Association. She stated that she rarely heard any specific reference to one party or the other.

In the following passage your writer quoted this philosophical response from Mrs. Avery, "I wish that the Farmington Democrats would take a lesson from this." In the light of Mrs. Avery's earlier statement and this period of mending post-election breaches, I can safely say that this is a very grudge-ridden attitude. If this is representative of the other local officials, what can we expect from the state and national levels.

Thank you for this opportunity.

Re: Counting

Your editorial "Can Johnny Count?" (Jan. 13) was read with interest and discussed in this office by a goodly number of people. There is a question here as to how closely our local curriculum planning parallels that of either Farmington schools or the experience of Dr. Beberman. Ours seems to be a carefully calculated approach. However, we feel most responsible to youngsters of Livonia. We are very anxious that both you and our community become acquainted with current curriculum programs and studies being considered in Livonia schools—especially in the area of mathematics. Perhaps our efforts at pupil, teacher and parent education should be emphasized.

Since you have expressed an interest in the area of mathematics and this is of prime concern to me, we could talk together concerning this topic. Mr. Charles Zoet, my counterpart in secondary mathematics, would like to join us.

Good Luck, John

I want you to know that I (and many of my friends) enjoyed your editorial on our representatives in Lansing. We hope that you will keep us in touch with their activities (or vice-versa), so that we may know if our votes were well spent last fall.

We appreciated the article by our District Representative, John Bennett, on his first impressions of our State Capitol and the workings of the Legislature. We understand that Mr. Bennett has a bill in the "hopper" which would place township employees in the ranks of the Civil Service.

We would like him to know that we (and many other members of both political parties) wish the bill success. It is about time that township employees be allowed a little more security than the hope that the candidate of their political party affiliation be elected or re-elected.

If they have proven themselves capable in their work, and have thus become an asset to their community administration, they deserve better than to be swept aside by every new political broom that swishes through Township Hall. Ability and capability should be the qualifications for employment, not the changing whim or whispered campaign promises of those who seek political power or personal glory.

Lots of luck, John.

'Unselfish Servant'

I read with the utmost interest and concern, "Livonia Council Comments" by Dr. Daniel C. Allen in last week's Livonia Observer.

It takes men of great courage to stand up and be counted in this day of Conformity and Me-tooism.

The questions and comments he spoke of should be the first concern and challenge of every Civic Association, P.T.A. and parent in the city of Livonia. We have the right as parents and taxpayers to know the answer to these questions:

1. Why hasn't the Superintendent of Schools and the Board of Education made available a complete list of textbooks being used in our Public Schools and what do they fear?

2. Who are the officials that don't want only one school district for just the city of Livonia?

3. Why hasn't our wonderful school system a written statement of policy?

Very seldom do we have elected officials who are unselfish public servants, but, whose main concern is the true welfare of the people. Such is Councilman Allen. I hope not only Livonia, but Michigan and the rest of the United States of America could have more Dan Allens.

Reassuring

It is gratifying to read that one of the Livonia teachers, along with his wife, spent his vacation helping the people of Appalachia. To have a teacher, that shows such genuine concern for people, speaks well for the Livonia School System and Bryant Junior High.

It is reassuring to have my children going to these schools.

GORDON BELT

To The City Assessor:

Your statement about assessments of homes in Livonia, is just another misleading statement published in the newspaper. It's a false statement to deceive the taxpayers.

As a senior citizen, and taxpayer this is just what we can expect from trickery as published as follows:

City Assessor's Statement published in the Livonian Observer December 12, 1964:

The average new home in Livonia is assessed, according by Holly, at $7,500.00, which means an increase of $40 to $50 a year over last year's taxes. Older homes are assessed at average of $4,500 valuation. This is your statement so advertised in the above newspaper.

You have not told the taxpayers what you consider a new home.

Neither have you told the taxpayers what you consider an old home. My home was built in 1942, yet I am assessed $7,448 and taxes increased over $148 over last year's taxes, which were $278. Is that what you call a new home? No consideration was given for depreciation on this home.

Stop for Buses

In the course of my work, I have on many occasions observed school buses stopped along highways and side streets, either letting off or picking up school children. I have also noted that each of these buses is equipped with flasher signals on the top. State law requires that all motorists stop both facing and behind these buses when these lights are flashing. This law was passed to protect children, and a necessary law it is. But what if these lights are

LINDY BERRY SAYS:

Third of a Series . . .

You won't find a single "ghost brand" at Berry's Our prices are real values!

Every brand name on television sets, refrigerators, washers and other appliances at BERRY'S identifies a real manufacturer. They're not just names picked out of the air. You can compare prices and values anywhere . . . see why BERRY'S can guarantee the best price in town!

You know there is only one way to compare value. That is to pick out the make and model appliance you want and compare the price asked in various stores.

Lindy Berry invites you to do this. Because we carry only well-known national brands that you can see in other stores. And because Berry's guarantees the best price in town!

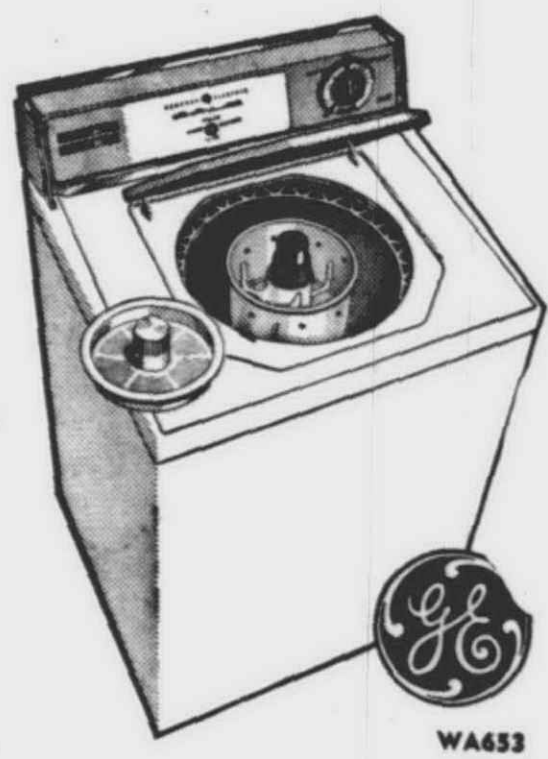

You can shop — you can compare — Nationally advertised Brand name merchandise to your heart's content. All the famous Brand Names are represented on the floor of Berry's. Other stores carry some of these brands — all of them are to be found in and about the area — but only Berry's has all of them for you — under one roof. You are not a "captive customer" — bound to just one brand when you shop at Berry's.

Folks are coming to realize this fact and are shopping and comparing at Berry's where the quality and the values in the Brand Name products — all of them lined up row on row spell out reliability — value and freedom of choice.

At Berry's they not only see a wide selection of the best brands, they know that whatever brand they buy, it will be covered by the manufacturer's warranty. Most important, they know that the low price represents a real value that they can check themselves. Below are a few examples of today's outstanding Berry values:

Bentley Ties for League Cage Lead

There are times in life when everybody does something he doesn't like to do.

Coach George Lefles of Bentley High's basketball team did just that last Friday night.

He had his cagers shift into a zone defense, a method of guarding Lefles seldom has employed.

This time the maneuver paid off for Lefles. His Bentley team stopped Allen Park's winning ways, 61-58, and thus enabled Bentley to join Allen Park and Trenton in a three-way tie for first place in the Suburban Six League.

All three teams have completed the first round of action with records of four wins and one setback in the conference.

"I'm still not a believer in the zone defense," said Lefles after the game. "I'm much happier using the man-to-man. But, I felt we had to make an adjustment in this game. So we experimented with the zone and it worked."

Undoubtedly, Lefles had read of several other teams in the area changing from a man-to-man to a zone in the later going of a game in recent weeks and coming out to win after trailing in the early going.

Allen Park took a 19-14 lead at the end of the first quarter from Bentley. But after the Bentley defense changed, the Livonians hopped ahead of a 30-28 count to finish the first half.

Bentley still clung to a two-point advantage—44-42—by the close of the third period.

Came the fourth period, Allen Park shot ahead, 51-46, and things were beginning to look bad for Bentley and the jammed crowd in the Bentley gym. At least, the fans from Livonia.

But Bentley had a big one-two-three punch going last Friday night.

Fred Matevia, Nick Bonder

and Bob Elsner were hot with their shots.

The trio combined to bring Bentley back even at 53-53.

Then Elsner popped a shortie and Bentley was in front for keeps.

However, the Livonians could not relax until the last buzzer sounded. Allen Park applied the pressure right down to the end.

Between them, Matevia, Bonder and Elsner accounted for but five of the Bentley points.

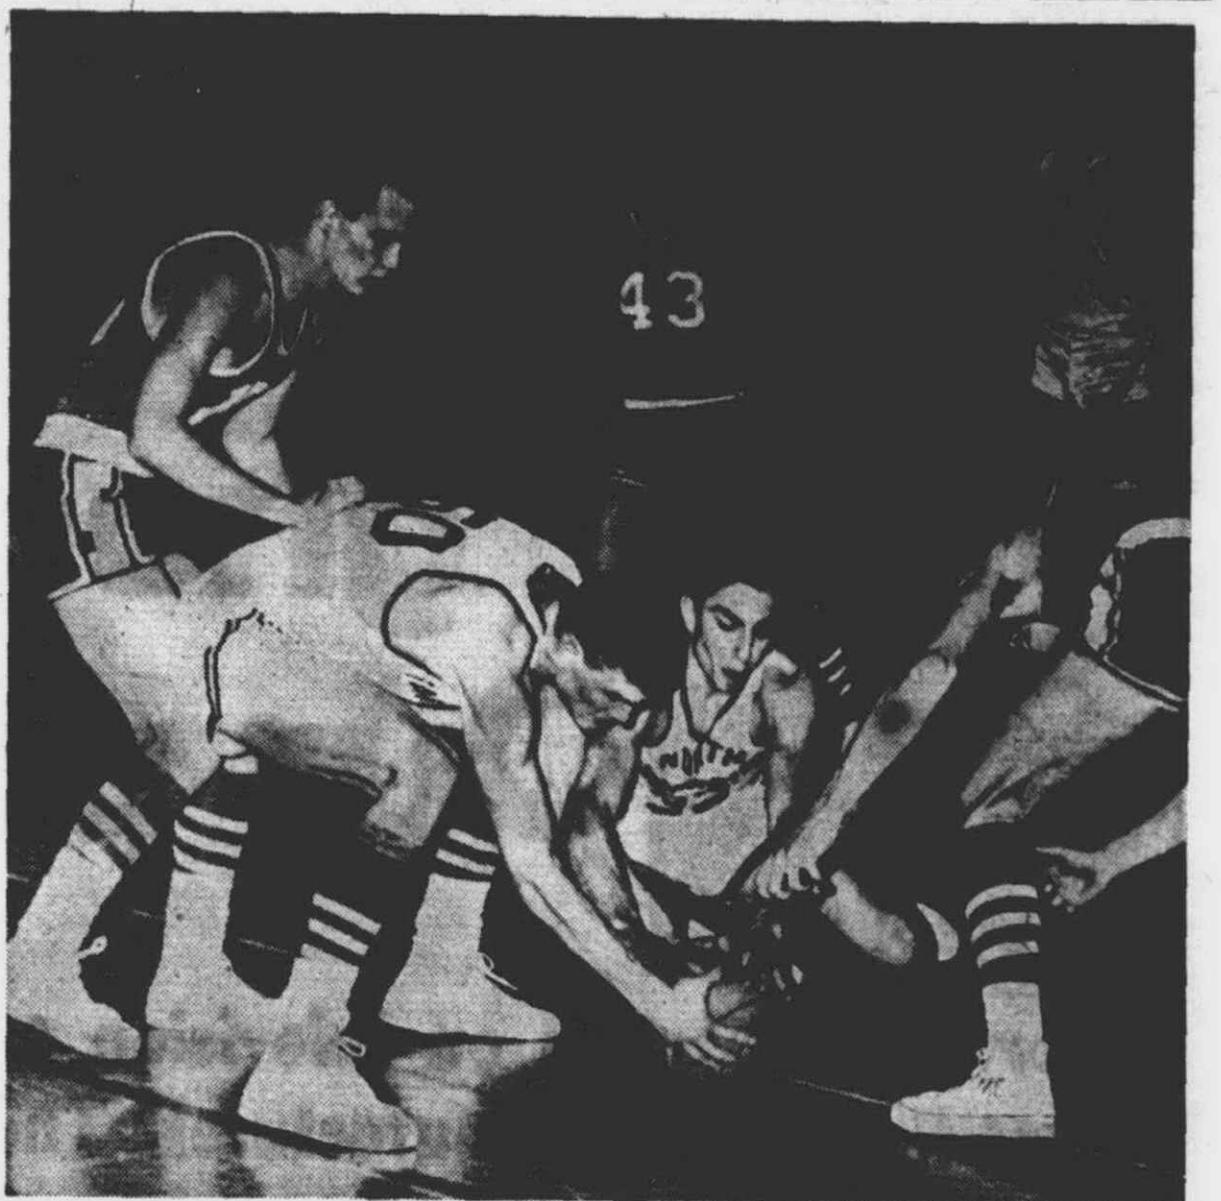

Matevia struck for nine baskets and three charities for 21 points, Bonder had eight hoops and two free ones for 18. Elsner seven and three for 17.

Tim Doll finished with one basket and one free throw for three points. Ken Bowman had one hoop for two points. For Allen Park, Ron Howey had 27 points for top honors.

Now it's into the second round for Bentley, beginning this Friday night against Plymouth which is ripe to cause somebody a lot of headaches one of these days pretty soon.

Bentley's reserves lost, 50-43, with Larry Groin's 16 topping the losers. Greg Coleman scored four baskets and one free throw for nine points.

WILD SCRAMBLE: Rick Schultz (50) and Ron Watson (33) of North Farmington win battle for a loose ball against Southfield. North Farmington came up with a victory in a non-league battle. The Raiders are tied for third place in Northwest League.

Rocks Beaten By One Point

A battle right down to the wire... but for Plymouth High School's basketball team one point was like a million.

Especially when the Rocks came up on the short end of a 50-49 count in their Suburban Six League battle at Belleville last Friday night.

It was a game which the Rocks deserved to win. They played well.

What's more the Rocks never conceded a thing, even when host Belleville soared out by some seven points midway in the final period and appeared on the way to winning by a fairly comfortable margin.

But Plymouth came back strong.

With Gary Grady and Dave Tidwell delivering scores, the Rocks were able to slice the differential to just a single point.

And then Belleville held on to the ball in the closing seconds to preserve the triumph.

For three periods, the teams figuratively matched shot for shot.

In the first quarter each team made four baskets with the score ending in an 8-8 tie.

When halftime came, the count read 21 for Plymouth and 21 for Belleville.

The third period produced another bitter struggle with Plymouth finally ending the eight-minute segment on the upper hand of a 33-32 score.

With LaCross and Cabana sparking Belleville to start the final period, the hosts jumped in front and stayed there. But, as previously noted, the Rocks were in the thick of matters right down to the final buzzer.

Grady led all scorers in the game with six baskets and six free throws for 18 points. Tidwell was next for the losers with four hoops and two charities for ten points. Rick Jones had nine points, making four from the field and one free throw.

Jim Lake had six points, while John Burgener, John Hannula and Don Stamper two points each for Coach Ketterer's Plymouth forces.

LaCross with five hoops and five free ones for 15 points topped the winners. Cabana was next for Belleville with five baskets for ten points.

Plymouth's reserves turned in a 50-32 victory as Mike Manley turned in a fine scoring effort with 17 points for the Rock second stringers. Dennis Ricket was next for Plymouth with nine points.

This week the Rocks host Bentley in what promises to be another of the hectic fights between the neighboring communities.

Tartars To Run In Toronto Meet

Afternoon and evening meets will highlight the third annual Toronto Telegraph Maple Leaf Games in Toronto Saturday when Wayne State's indoor track season opens.

United States and Canadian schools will compete in an International Collegiate Meet while the evening performances are invitational for the select members of track squads.

Collegians Swamped In 2 Tilts

Some outstanding shooting by Gerald Kisabeth hasn't been enough to bring Schoolcraft College basketball team its first victory.

Kisabeth scored 41 points against the Detroit Business College last Tuesday, but his team still lost, 108-78. In the game Kisabeth made 84 percent of his shots from the floor.

On Saturday evening, Kisabeth hit for 25 points as Schoolcraft lost to Lake Michigan College, 109-76, at Benton Harbor.

Rick Davis notched 13 points, Bob Geist 11 and Cal Luibrand at Benton Harbor where Schoolcraft fell behind, 58-36, by halftime. The victors had six players in double figures.

A big evening is on deck this Saturday night at the Clarenceville high school.

Schoolcraft will meet Michigan Lutheran in the feature attraction. The preliminary will present the famed Harlem Magicians with the proceeds of this attraction being turned over to the sophomore class at Clarenceville.

The Schoolcraft swimmers lost a tough meet to Oakland University by a 48-45 score.

For the second straight week, Schoolcraft's Dave Zebell won three events. He again took the free style races at 100, 200 and 500 yards.

Bill Patterson triumphed in the diving for Schoolcraft, while the 400-yard relay team of Bill Baker, George Collins, Dennis Macy and Bill Johns also came home in first place.

Thursday evening will find Schoolcraft swimming at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti.

Fencers Clash

Wayne State University fencers will take on Michigan State and Penn Saturday at the University of Detroit.

Wayne State's individual scoring record for one season is held by George Duncan, who tallied 427 points and averaged 23.7 points per game in 1959-60.

OBSERVING SPORTS

By George Maskin

Back at the outset of 1965, when we talked about the things we'd like to see happen this year in sports, one item somehow was overlooked.

The subject? Interscholastic sports for girls in Michigan.

We have touched upon the subject before... and so have others like our good friend Hal Schram, the prep sports-writing ace of The Detroit Free Press.

Just why our schools do so little for the coeds remains a deep-seated mystery.

Around us, every day we hear so much said about physical fitness.

Yet Michigan high schools ignore the fairer sex when it comes to sports competition.

We are not advocating that the gals should be tossed into rough comeback, but for the love of us, we can't see why schools like Bentley, Redford Union and Plymouth — just to name three — couldn't sponsor girls' teams in swimming, golf, tennis and yes, even basketball.

COED ACTIVITIES would stir up our athletic programs no little.

Wouldn't it be something if as a prelude to a Farmington-North Farmington varsity (boys) basketball game, the girls teams from the two schools were to meet in a preliminary?

There are a few sections in the state where this happens. Unfortunately, not very many.

The trouble is that the State High School Athletic Association never has taken a major stand to support sports for the gals.

The MHSAA has set down rules, among them that any girls' team must be coached by a woman. But what else? It takes pushing sometimes to get a move going. School administrators have shown little desire in the department of girls athletics.

One principal told us: "Why stick our chins out? Everything is fine the way matters now stand."

That's a fine attitude, except that thousands of girls in our high schools are being short-changed.

BOUNCING AROUND: The season never seems to end for the true lover of golf. Take Farmington's Bud Erickson, who also is the assistant general manager of the Detroit Lions. We ran into Bud the other evening at the very lavish party the Sports Broadcasters Association tossed at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

But was off in a corner talking about his golf game and demonstrating how to better grip his putter.

Mrs. Erickson, also an avid golfer and a part-time elementary school teacher in the Farmington system, was all ears in hopes of picking up a tip or two.

Outside the temperature hovered around five or six above. It was snowing.

"Hope it clears up a little tomorrow," said Bud. "I might go to the course and work on my putting."

W. W. EDGAR, a long-time Livonian, ranks as one of the big wheels in Michigan bowling. He's the executive secretary of the Bowling Proprietors Association and has lost no lust for bowling or sports despite the fact Eddie has to be fast approaching birthday No. 65.

For that matter Eddie may be over 65. The phase of Edgar's work that brings him his most enjoyment centers around junior bowling.

"We have more and more kids turning to the lanes in Michigan every year," Eddie recently reported. "In fact, more boys and girls bowl in Michigan than any other state."

Eddie is doubly happy that around the Livonia area the teenagers have taken to bowling in a big way.

IF THE CHILLY weather annoys you, take heart. Spring and summer can't be too far away. The Tigers go to work in Lakeland, Fla., on Feb. 8.

No wonder Joe Falls of the Free Press was smiling the other night as we plunged through the snow after the Pistons' game at Cobo Arena. Joe's getting ready for his annual sojourn in Lakeland.

Tickets for the state high school basketball finals go on sale for schoolmen within a week or so.

Despite the fact the finals again will be on television, (Continued on Page 3-B)

Crucial Battle Faces N. F'ton., Thurston

The basketball teams of Thurston and North Farmington high schools reach the "crucial" stage of operations this Friday night when they meet head-on in the North Farmington gym.

As the Northwest League season heads into the second-half, Thurston and North Farmington find themselves in a tie for third place. Each has a 3-2 conference record.

Out in front are Oak Park and Birmingham Groves with 4-1 league records.

"We can't afford another defeat," declares Coach Dick Wilson of North Farmington.

"I agree," choruses Mike Pasternak, the Thurston head man.

Thurston fell from at least a share of the top rung last Friday night when bounced by Oak Park, 81-71. Meantime, North Farmington fashioned a new school scoring record in romping past the new John Glenn High of Wayne, 95-39.

The season-long bugaboo of slow starts again hurt Thurston.

Oak Park jumped in front, 22-14, by the end of the first quarter.

Heretofore, Thurston had been able to recover and still collect the golden chips. But Oak Park maintained a comfortable margin the rest of the way and never permitted Thurston to forge into even a one-point lead.

By halftime, Oak Park led, 43-31. It was 64-47 for the Parkers after three periods.

The shooting of Bill Cushingberry of Oak Park kept Thurston at bay. He finished with 14 baskets and three free throws for 31 points.

Cushingberry was particularly blazing in the closing period when he knocked in ten points to make certain Thurston didn't stage one of its familiar comebacks.

Randy Samelson saged seven baskets and two freethrows for 16 points to lead Thurston. Gary Knock was next with 5-4-14. John Page tossed in four and five for 13.

Reg Barringer and Rick Stefani each had eight points for Thurston while Terry Rothwell and Dick Hay both had four points to round out the team's scorers.

The Thurston reserves took a 64-27 verdict as Bob Wardrop and Walt Block led the way.

Fourteen players (another record) fashioned points for North Farmington in its onslaught of John Glenn, which is just getting started in the prep sports world.

It was against Glenn, that Thurston recently pumped in more than 100 points.

North Farmington never was in trouble, coasting along and giving Coach Wilson a chance to clear his bench.

Rick Schultz and Rick Lorenz wound up in double figures for the winners. Schultz tossed in eight baskets and two free throws for 18 points while Lorenz notched 6-2-14.

Bill Bowles, Gary Ettig and John Bye all contributed eight points each to the North Farmington cause. John McDonald notched seven, Bill Oldershaw and Larry August six and Rick Norton, five.

Ron Watson and Doug Shear each scored four, Andy Lawing three and Larry Pederson and Kurt Schumacher two each.

In contrast to the one-sided varsity game, the reserve battle between North Farmington and Glenn turned out to be a real thriller and a heart stopper.

Dick Copp registered a basket with seven seconds left in the action to give North Farmington the duel by a 54-53 score.

North Farmington struck back on Saturday night to best Southfield, 65-61, in a non-leaguer.

The game wasn't as close as the score might indicate. North Farmington led by 13 points early in the fourth period.

McDonald with 16 points, Schultz with 15, and Lorenz and August with 13 each stood out for the winners.

The North Farmington reserves squeaked to another victory, this time by a 46-44 count.

Thurston To Swim Champions

Thurston high's swimming team, fresh from a 60-45 win over Lincoln Park, gets a big test this Thursday evening, meeting the defending state Class B champs from Riverview.

The Riverview team again is loaded with veterans and stars and will be favored in the state meet in March.

Bill Zeeb and Bill Barringer each came through with a "double" for Thurston against Lincoln Park.

Zeeb once more was home first in the 200 and 400-yard free style races while Barringer took the individual medley and followed by taking the butterfly.

Besides winning twice, Zeeb set a new pool record for the 400-yard free style when he was timed in 4:18.3. He himself had held the former pool standard of 4:18.6.

Here's the way Thurston swimmers placed:

Medley relay: 2-Thurston (Mike Harris, Dennis Long, John Zerhan, Jim McEwen).

200-yard free style: 1-Bill Zeeb, 2-Chris Hudson. Time: 2:00.3.

50-yard free: 2-Bob Lloyd, 3-Red Korden.

200-yard individual medley: 1-Bill Barringer, 2-Ron Smith. Time: 2:15.5.

Diving: 1-Rick Massoll. Butterfly: 1-Barringer. Time: 60.3 seconds.

100-yard free: 1-Jeff Lach, 2-Hudson. Time 54.5 seconds.

Backstroke: 3-Harris. 400-yard free: 1-Zeeb, 2-Bill Keithier. Time: 4:18.3. (new pool record, old record 4:18.6 by Zeeb).

100-yard breast stroke: 1-Gordon Niles, 2-Long. Time: 1:05.9.

Free style relay: 2-Thurston (Nick Craven, McEwen, Tom Sansone, Gary Rammell).

Fete Champs At Franklin

They'll toast Franklin High School's Northwest Suburban League football and cross country champions this Saturday night in a special banquet in the school's cafeteria.

The Optimist Club is joining with the Franklin Patriots Club in co-sponsoring the event.

Some tickets for the banquet still remain available. Those interested should contact Bernard Kosteva at 422-7867.

Members of the two championship teams will receive their letters. The banquet starts at 6:30 p.m.

SHOESTRING MOVIE MOGUL

You can be one. And, take it from me, you can't start better than with a BROWNIE FUN SAVER Movie Camera that costs less than $20.00. (And that includes a roll of KODACHROME Movie Film and a colorful movie idea book!)

But don't let that shoestring price fool you. This is a quality 8mm camera capable of taking very good home movies. The fine f/2.7 lens gets crisp, sharp pictures. Attach a KODAK Sun Gun Movie Light and you're set for equally easy movies indoors.

With this camera, you not only can start with a small investment in money, but a small investment in skill, too. In fact, you don't need much skill because the FUN SAVER Movie Camera is simple to use. Just aim and shoot. The film and camera do the rest. The simple controls on the camera and the broad latitude built into Kodak film make it easy for you to get good pictures.

I'll be happy to show you a BROWNIE FUN SAVER Movie Camera. And remember, for as little as $19.95 you can be making movies of your family this weekend!

Rock Tankers Finally Win

Plymouth high's swimming team got back on the winning road Thursday night by turning back Belleville in a dual meet, 59-46.

Jim Haarbauer and Dick Berry shared honors for the Rocks as each won twice.

Haarbauer won the 200-yard free style and then came back to triumph in the butterfly. Berry continued to star in his favorite events—the 50 and 100-yard free style races.

Jeff Hoffman was first in the individual medley while Plymouth medley relay quartet won to account for the Rocks' other wins.

Here's how Plymouth swimmers placed:

MEDLEY RELAY: 1—Plymouth (John Skinner, Don Norman, Tim Wernette, Jeff Burke). Time: 1:53.2. 200-yard free: 1—Jim Haarbauer, 2—Dan Decker. Time: 2:36. 50-yard free: 1—Dick Berry, 3—Al Saxton. Time: 23.3 seconds. Individual medley: 1—Jeff Hoffman. Time: 2:23.3. Diving: 2—John Larson, 3—Dick Lorenz.

Butterfly: 1—Haarbauer, 3—Tom Bowsman. Time: 40.4 seconds. 100-yard free: 1—Berry, 2—Saxton. Time: 53.1 seconds. Backstroke: 2—Decker. 400-yard free: 2—Hoffman. Breaststroke: 2—Norman, 3—Jeff Gustafson.

Free style relay: 2—Plymouth (Russ Crosby, Mike Bentley, Gary Bohl, Pat Brady).

R.U. Tankers Bow

Trenton's high-powered swimming team won all but two events in crushing Redford Union, 79-26, last Friday night in a Suburban Six League meet. Trenton is unbeaten in the conference.

Jeff Schonfield in the diving and Tom Rice in the butterfly accounted for the only two Redford Union victories of the evening. How RU entries fared:

Franklin Loses on Charities

Free-throw shooting is an important part of basketball.

Franklin High's cagers learned as much last Friday night when they dropped a 60-56 overtime battle to Birmingham Groves in the Northwest Suburban League.

With any success from the charity line, Franklin would have walked away with the action.

The South Livonians had 31 chances (not counting several more bonus tries which might have come their way) at the foul line.

Only 16 of them went in.

What hurt Franklin most was the fact the team had a 43-36 lead after the third period against the foe which presently shares the league lead with Oak Park.

Groves started to press Franklin in the final period.

At the same time, Groves was caught for foul after foul. Thus Franklin had its chances to count.

But the charity tosses missed the mark... although it was one by Tom Cannon in the closing moment which enabled Franklin to knot the score at 53-53 and send the game into overtime.

To start the extra period, Franklin quickly went ahead by three points. Sam Antonazzo bagged a basket and Bill Bauer a free throw.

With 43 seconds left to go, the Franklin lead had shrunk to one point.

However, Franklin had the ball and Coach John Hartsig called time to discuss how the team should stall the rest of the way.

What Hartsig didn't tell his boys was to throw the ball into an enemy. This is what happened. Groves' Tom Rafferty intercepted the ball, went in for a layup and was fouled on the play.

He missed the charity, but Groves pumped in the rebound and school was out for Franklin.

"We sure give the leaders fits," said Hartsig afterward. Oak Park had managed to beat Franklin by only two points.

Antonazzo topped Franklin with eight baskets and six points for 22 points. Dale Lee scored five baskets for 10 points. Bill Bauer scored seven, Paul Katosh six, Cannon five, and Ray Porter, Al Jose and Al Halisek two points each.

The Groves reserves also won, taking a 62-53 verdict. Carl Gulbranson topped the winners with 13 points.

THAT'S PROBLEM AT SORROWS: How to Keep Cagers Hot?

How to keep your team "hot" when it doesn't have a game for two weeks?

This is the problem confronting Bob Morris, the basketball coach at Farmington's Our Lady of Sorrows High School.

Morris doesn't want his charges to cool off... not the way they have been going of late and also because a week from Friday night Sorrows has a date with Orchard Lake St. Mary's to decide the Northwest Division title in the Catholic League.

Sorrows at the moment stands 9-2 in the league. St. Mary's 8-1. The latter team plays twice this week to catch up in number of contests.

"I'm hopeful we can arrange some scrimmages with other teams," declared Morris Tuesday as the Sorrows team went by to practice after enjoying the weekend off.

Sorrows unveiled two powerful performances last week. First the Farmington parish team humbled St. Fredericks of Pontiac, 85-68 and then came a 77-55 romp over St. Agatha last Friday night.

In neither game was Sorrows pressed. The Farmington squad took a 24-11 lead by the end of the first quarter against St. Fredericks. When half time came, Sorrows had a 45-27 advantage.

Brian Benner paced the victors as he made 10 baskets and two free throws for 22 points. Miles Kearney notched eight and two for 18. Mike Bars scored 6-3-15, Mark Benner 4-6-14, Tom Doyle 5-3-13, Chuck Haffey 1-0-2 and Bob Urbane 0-1-1.

The St. Fredericks reserves beat the Sorrows' second team, 65-40.

Sorrows hopped off to a 20-12 lead against St. Agatha in the first quarter, made it 47-28 by halftime and held forth by a 68-40 command after three periods.

Individual honors in the game went to Mike Roemer of St. Agatha who fired in 14 baskets and one free throw for 29 points.

For the winners, it was Brian Benner again who was high. He shot 10 baskets and four charities for 24 points.

Brother Mark Benner was next with eight baskets and one charity for 17 points. Kearney tossed in seven hoops and two free ones for 16 points, while Bars struck for four and two for 10 points.

Doyle had three baskets and two free tosses for eight points and Clapperich one hoop to complete the Sorrows' point production.

After Roemer for St. Agatha came Rick Collins with 6-1-13, Pavalet 3-1-7, Lilley 1-1-3 and Murphy 1-1-3.

In the final point totals, St. Agatha made only five free throws all evening, which has to set some kind of a record for fewest charities in a game. The Townshippers had only 11 chances in the game to shoot a foul.

Sorrows fired 22 charities and made good on 11.

From the field, Sorrows made 33 baskets to 25 for the losers. St. Agatha will entertain St. Fredericks this Friday night.

Earlier in the week, St. Agatha lost to Orchard Lake St. Mary's, 74-45. The victors rolled up a 36-22 halftime edge. Roemer with 22 points topped the St. Agatha attack.

In reserve play, St. Agatha bowed to Orchard Lake, 55-51, as Pat Timmons scored 14 in a losing cause; and then fell to Sorrows, 52-47, with Bob McGrath's 15 leading the victors. Timmons again had 14 for the losers.

Lack of Size Costly To Redford Union Five

It figures to be a long way back for Redford Union high school's basketball team in the Suburban Six League this winter.

With a record of two wins and three defeats following the first round, the Townshippers are two games off the pace.

But, more concerning to Coach Milo Karhu, is the lack of height on this year's R. U. team.

"We have to give way to too much size in every game," declared Karhu after Trenton had lashed Redford Union, 76-62, last Friday night.

Redford Union held Trenton fairly well in check for one quarter, trailing by only a 23-19 count.

However, came the second period, Redford Union fell behind by nine points and the closest the Townshippers could

Two More Whippings For Trojans

Life gets little better for the Clarenceville high varsity basketball team.

Meantime, the school's reserve cagers are losing, too, but in heartbreaking fashion.

The Clarenceville varsity was bombed twice over the weekend in Wayne-Oakland League play. First it was Holly, 81-47, on Friday night and then to West Bloomfield on Saturday evening, 83-40.

As a result Clarenceville now has a 0-7 record in the league.

Clarenceville held second-place Holly fairly even until the final 30 seconds of the first half. Then three quick baskets proceeded to turn the game into an eventual rout.

Chris Hawkins had 13 points, Danny Freels, 12, Larry Ray eight and Fred Neal six to top the losers.

Against West Bloomfield, Clarenceville stayed close for one period, 16-1. But in the second period, the North Livonians were outscored, 26-4.

West Bloomfield couldn't miss from the floor, hitting on 28 of 41 shots for an amazing 68 percent.

Hawkins with 11 points paced the victors.

As for the reserves, they lost 39-37 to Holly as John McClory and Dave Milarch each scored nine points.

The next evening saw the reserves fight for three overtimes before succumbing, 55-53, to West Bloomfield. Clarenceville led in both the second and third overtime sessions.

Observing Sports

There's no chance of the public gathering up any tickets for the closing contests at Michigan State.

There won't be enough tickets to meet the requests of the various schools which get first crack.

It's been suggested that the State Association bring the finals back to Detroit and utilize the wonderful facilities available at Olympia, Cobo Arena and the University of Detroit for basketball.

Observing Sports

There's not much chance of this happening for sometime to come. We hate to say this, but our upstate Michigan brothers just don't like to bow to Detroit, even if that's the right thing to do.

CONGRATULATIONS to Gene Osborn, who has been picked to share in the Tiger broadcasts in 1965. It has been our pleasure to know Gene for some time. He'll do a first-class job in telling the Tiger story.

BULLETINS FROM BENTLEY

Bentley's first half of the school year came to a close today, with the last of the final exams. Students will celebrate tonight by attending the annual Senior-Faculty Basketball Game, from 7:30 to 11. For only 50 cents students may see the senior girls vs. the faculty women, plus that all important game, the senior boys vs. the faculty men. Who will win? Come tonight and see for yourself.

On Jan. 20 the opportunity was given to Livonia high school citizens to receive a better working knowledge of our city government. This was made possible by the annual Student Government Day, sponsored by the Livonia Jaycees. On this day, important city officials turned over the running of the city to the future citizens of Livonia, the present day high school students.

Four schools participated on this day. Bentley, Franklin, Clarenceville and Ladywood. Bentley and Franklin nominated six students while Clarenceville and Ladywood nominated four, to represent different city officials. Since this day is held every year, these schools rotate to see who receives the honored position of mayor.

This year Franklin was the school to have this honor. All nominated candidates, along with all the foreign exchange students who were cordially invited met to begin their day, at 8:45 a.m. at the Livonia City Hall.

The following is a list of the posts assigned to each school: FRANKLIN — Mayor, Fire Chief, Constable, Council, and Deputy City Clerk. CLARENCEVILLE — City Clerk, Council, Deputy Treasurer, and Water Commissioner. LADYWOOD — City Attorney, Council and Treasurer.

Bentley was assigned the following posts, and these people were the ones nominated by the senior class to hold them for Student Government Day: Judge — Mike Hickox, Council — Sue Bonner, Hickox, Council — John Powers, Director of Public Works — Al Spiro, Constable-Lewis Gentry, and Police Chief-Jim Gregg. The three Bentley foreign exchange students also participated in the program.

They are Dorothy Mavrides, Bjorn Backman and Kay Schuster. Student Government Day was a different and exciting adventure for all involved.

On Saturday, Feb. 6 Bentley orchestra and the two bands (Varsity and Concert), will present their Mid-Winter Instrumental Concert. Some of their selections will be "Song of the Vagabonds," Leonard Bernstein's, "Candide," and "Carnival." Three choral preludes will also be presented. Tickets for this concert are now on sale.

A Junior-Senior Parent Night was held Jan. 18. Parents of Bentley's junior and senior met with Dr. Friedrichs, Mr. Richard Wilson (Assistant Principal, Senior Class), Mr. Max Miller (Assistant Principal, Junior Class), and all Bentley counselors. Items discussed this night were the upcoming commencement exercises, the senior prom, college, and college board exams. It proved to be an informative evening for all attending parents.

The Student Council is again running its used book store. On Thursday, Jan. 28, students may come to the book store and register any used books they don't need for the next semester. Then on Friday students may come to the school to buy any books they would need for this new semester. The bookstore will be open from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, and from 1 to 4 p.m.

The Future Nurses Club took a field trip to the Henry Ford Hospital School of Nursing, Wednesday, Jan. 20. While there, girls were allowed to tour the hospital, the training school, and the dormitory where the student nurses live. They heard talks from the nurses themselves as well as the director of the hospital. They were given rules on admission requirements for education, personal, and tuition and fees.

TUESDAY, sophomore Latin students were inducted into the

Rambling 'Round St. Agatha Hi

By Mary Lou Mangold

St. Agatha's gym Friday was the scene of "Snowflakes and Starlight," a dance hosted by the Junior class. Heading the dance committee consisting of 15 juniors was class vice-president Cathy Hendricks.

The group decked the gym with a jolly snowman and lacy paper snowflakes.

Entertainment was provided by the "Stardusts," a St. Agatha group comprised of Greg Brower, piano, John Marshall, drums, John Harvey, clarinet, and Chuck Stumac, accordion. Rick Williams, from University of Detroit High School, was inaugurated as the band's base guitarist.

Eighteen records were awarded as prizes. The winners were: Joe Wleznick, John Harvey, Dan Gillis, Anne Wegener, Kathy Lilley, Tom Semk, Lynda Wilkerson, Doug Behrend, Jim Bork, Judy Collins, Linda Ogle, Sue Behrend, Carol Powell, Carolyn Brazil, Greg Gonyou, Bill Hiberna, Kathy Hollinger, and Kathy Miller.

Ed Kamm, the yearbook photographer, who seemed to be everywhere at once, caught many as he captured the present for posterity.

Fathers O'Leary and Varty and several of the Sisters paid visits to the party.

The established members, juniors and seniors studying Latin IV, robed in authentic costumes, welcomed the newcomers.

Fran Nadeiny, counsel (president), presided at the ceremony, assisted by Bill Morgan, scribe (social chairman). Sue Quaine, praetor vice-president, and Janet Nadeiny, scribe (secretary), briefly outlined the aims of the J.C.L. and explained the duties and requirements of J.C.L. members.

After an invocation to the chief god Jupiter, each sophomore was crowned with a laurel wreath and congratulated in the Roman tongue.

Davidina Dow, Quaestor (treasurer), acting as narrator, explained the rites to new members and guests.

At the meeting the school also received its J.C.L. charter.

SISTER LAURENTIA, O.P., who formerly taught at St. Agatha's and is now an instructor at Benedictine High School, returned Monday for a few hours.

The primary purpose of her visit was to obtain hints about staging The Music Man, the musical comedy being produced this year at Benedictine. St. Agatha's presented this drama in 1963. Sister also observed several classes and became reacquainted with many of her former students.

Ten St. Agatha seniors are being considered for the Michigan Competitive Scholarships program, sponsored by the Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority to provide an opportunity for higher education for deserving students.

Chosen on the basis of their scores on the State of Michigan Competitive Examination which they took at Redford High School on Saturday, Nov. 21, are Bob Alter, Patricia Brown, Patricia Campbell, Sandra Cindric, Teresa Gillis, Bob Hughes, Cynthia Meisner, Mike Roemer, Patricia Strachan, and Juliana Brown.

JUDY COLLINS, a junior, won "The Voice of Democracy" contest, an intra-scholastic speech competition. Each contestant was required to submit a speech three to five minutes in length.

Second place winner was Tom AuBuchon, also a junior.

Martin Arnold, a junior, won a Certificate of Merit in a drafting contest sponsored by the General Motors Competition.

Wheelchair Cagers Play

Preliminary attractions continue to add spice to Detroit Pistons home games at Cobo Arena . . . and one, in particular, has local sports fans buzzing.

Prior to the Feb. 3 game with San Francisco, the Detroit Sparks will participate in a unique preliminary program with an assist from members of the Detroit Lions and personalities from radio and television.

The Sparks are Detroit's representative in the Midwest Conference of the National Wheelchair Basketball Association and have been playing competitively for the past two seasons.

They will put on a special intra-squad exhibition at 6:30 p.m. which will be followed by a game . . . in wheelchairs . . . between members of the Lions and radio-TV stars. The Sparks will then take on a team composed of both the Lions and radio-TV players. A special exhibition at halftime of the Pistons game also is scheduled.

The University of Detroit is the only non-state supported university in Michigan.

FARMINGTON HIGH NEWS

by Tom Donoghue

Starting off the year $400 in the red, the FHS Varsity Club has overcome this deficit and is rapidly climbing the road to success, in finance and activity. The club now stands with a treasury of over $200.

The large deficit evolved at the start of the school year as the Varsity Club purchased a slow motion movie projector for the Athletic Department.

Due to the purchase of the projector and the resulting loss, the Varsity Club has been forced to find methods of replenishing their funds. These methods so far have included the sale of book covers, the selling of popcorn at home football and basketball games, and the sponsoring of the Harlem Diplomat-Faculty basketball game.

A look into the Varsity Club's events for the new year reveals plans for a pancake supper, the Annual Sports Banquet, and the Varsity Club Party.

King Cotton is the President of the club and is followed down the ladder by Russ Robinson, vice president, and Dick Johnston, secretary-treasurer.

An I.D. policy has been established at Farmington High. 1. Farmington, North Farmington, and Sorrows students must have their I.D. Cards to be admitted to dances. 2. Guests must be accompanied by a Farmington card carrier and must be registered at the desk. The guests will wait for the students who have the cards to pass into the dance before they are registered. 3. Unfavorable behavior will mean suspension of I.D. card privileges.

Several questions have been listed to ask the student body about the Student Council. The complete list will be read to the Student Council shortly to see if any improvements can be made. It will then be presented to the students by volunteers. If anyone is interested, contact Cinda Parsons.

To create better relationship between the student body and the Student Council and to encourage participation in school functions, the Orientation committee has formulated a program for the Sophomore Orientation Assembly. The master of ceremonies will be the Student Council President-elect, and the majority of participants will be the students. The following items will constitute some of the program:

Introduction of the Principal and Assistant Principal; introduction of the Counselors, with a few remarks from one of them; explanation of the attendance procedure by the head of attendance office; the purpose of the home-room teacher; introduction of the junior and senior home-room representatives.

This week's Editor for the Blue & White is Paul D. Martin. The paper will come out tomorrow, January 21, and will be loaded with features.

TALKING ABOUT THURSTON

By Joanne Van Wye

All week students have been staying up late cramming for their final exams or doing their term projects that they let go to the last final day. When school ends tomorrow everyone will breathe a sigh of relief to think that the first semester is finished and they only have half a year of school left. The administration is giving THS students Friday off so they will have a chance to recuperate and be ready to start the new semester refreshed.

On Jan. 19, three American Government classes went on a field trip to Lansing. The students were chaperoned by Mr. Lake, got on a train bound for Lansing at 9 a.m. Many of the students ate breakfast on the train. Upon arrival in Lansing, the classes took a guided tour of the Capitol. They saw the Senate Chamber and the House of Representatives Chamber. The guide told them about the history of the structure of the building. After the tour, the students had two free hours for lunch. At 1 p.m. they assembled together back at the Capitol. They talked to a Senator from Detroit and the Sergeant of Arms. The Sergeant of Arms took the students through Governor Romney's office. Unfortunately they were unable to meet him because he had just left for the President's inauguration. The students were then left on their own again until 4:30 p.m. when the train left. During this time many of them went to the Historical Museum and others visited Michigan State's campus. They arrived back at Plymouth at 6:30 p.m. Despite the extremely cold weather, the students had a good time and found the trip very interesting.

An exchange day was held on Jan. 20, with Birmingham Groves. Visiting Thurston for the day were the following representatives from Groves: J. D. Bartleson, Dan Hastings, Steve Greene, Betsy Bates, Diane Woodsum, and Jack Turoff. J. D. is the president of Birmingham Groves' Student Council and Jack is their AFS exchange student from Germany. Thurston was represented at Groves by Linda Love, Vera Berenzicki, Lynne Schindler, Sandy LaFrance, Ralph Stanifer, and Gordy Niles. The exchange days are profitable in promoting good will and better relations between different schools. The representatives also bring back ideas to the student council on improvements or new things that could be introduced at Thurston. Exchange days have been planned with all of the schools in our league.

Movies from the Homecoming game were shown in the little auditorium Mon., Jan. 25. All THS students were invited by the varsity club to attend free of charge. Thurstonites had a chance to recapture the Eagle's Homecoming victory against Birmingham Groves.

The American Field Service Organization of Detroit is busy making preparations for a homecoming. All nine members of the Serendipity Singers and the Oscar Peterson Trio will be playing folk songs for the audience to sing along with. Mike DePaas is going to emcee the show. He is also going to introduce all the AFS students in the Detroit district to Governor and Mrs. Romney. The show is being sponsored by the Ford Foundation to raise money for the national center of the AFS in New York. The show is going to be held on Saturday evening, Feb. 27, at 8:30 p.m. and Sunday afternoon, Feb. 28, at 1:30 p.m. The tickets are on sale for $1.00, $2.50, or $3.50. Tickets may be purchased from any AFS student.

Thurston's debating team wound up its meets in the State League by handing Madison Heights a double defeat. They finished with a 6-2 record. A 75% victory record insures Thurston of a plaque for excellent debating from the University of Michigan. The debating team is still competing in 2 other leagues. Thurston's debaters have a chance of winning 3 plaques.

John P. Hussey is the third swimming coach in Wayne State's 23-year history of the sport. He succeeds Leo S. Maas (1939-1959) and Hall Willard (1960).

AT CLARENCEVILLE HIGH:

Harlem Kings to Play Benefit Game Saturday

The Harlem Comedy Kings will face a Livonia All Star team in a double-header basketball game sponsored by the Clarenceville High School sophomore class this Saturday, Jan. 30.

Also on the card will be a game featuring Schoolcraft College vs. Michigan Lutheran College.

Team members on the Comedy Kings include two former members of the Goose Tatum All Stars and four former players on the Harlem Globetrotters. The All Star team from Livonia will include Don McDonald, Bud Acton, Len Wozniak, Cap Peters and others. Tickets are available at the door prior to the 7:30 starting time at $1 for students and $1.50 for adults.

Mat Powers To Battle

The two wrestling powers of the Northwest Suburban League lock horns Thursday night when North Farmington invades Thurston at 7:30 p.m.

Both will be putting their unblemished league marks on the line.

What's more, it'll be a special night for the Thurston's matmen. It'll be "Mom's Night" as the wrestlers pay tribute to their mothers.

Each mom will receive a picture of her favorite young man.

Thurston stretched its overall season's record to 6-2 last Thursday in routing Groves of Birmingham, 44-6. Meantime, North Farmington won over Oak Park, 39-9.

Here are the Thurston results:

- 95 pounds — Doug Bellinap (T) pinned Steve Salvage.
 - 103 — Tom Barnes (G) dethroned Paul Laddell.

- Heavyweight — Don Klowner pinned Gokrowsky.

LADYWOOD LORE

By Mary Rzemik

Ladywood's annual retreat was heralded by the scriptural quotation, "For without me, you can do nothing. . ." Conducted by Rev. John Aelerd, C.P., the three day retreat, Jan. 19-21, was an opportunity for the girls to look into themselves and see what can be done to improve personal relationships with God and man.

During these three days Ladywoodians attended mass offered in the new liturgical schema and four conferences daily. These conferences were directed at the topics which are important to all teen-agers, such as marriage, obedience, death, grace, and vocations. Father John stressed the importance of man's dependence upon God in many of his lectures.

DAILY MASS WAS CELEBRATED in the school gym, which for three days was transformed into a chapel. Between conferences the girls visited the "Chapel" for a moment of silent prayer. At the day's end all the students shared in the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament at which time the Latin prayer was said in the English translation.

DEBATE TEAM WINS Jan. 13 was a red-letter day for the debate team, Delta Kappa Lambda. In a practice debate with Rosary High School, Ladywood's novice and first year debaters defeated Rosary in two of the four debates. One of the debates was a tie, and the other a loss. On the winning side were Vicki Gillis, Sue Cleere, Sue Morris and Cathy Begoche. The girls who tied with Rosary were Sharon Copeland and Judy Fear, while Margie Slanda and Mary Dixon were the losers.

MEDALIST GETS STARRING ROLE Preparations are being made for the three-act play "One With the Flame," which is tentatively scheduled for Mar. 5, 6 and 7. Christine Fox, senior and Genesee Festival gold medal winner, will star as Joan of Arc. Senior M. Janine, drama club moderator, said that seven boys from Catholic Central high school will play the male roles. The story concerns St. Joan of Arc, the famous French patriot, who led the French against the British in the Battle of Orleans.

SODALISTS MEET Ladywood Sodalists met with other sodalists in the Detroit area for a Workshop at the University of Detroit on Jan. 23.

SEMIESTER BREAK This past week ushered in semester tests. Exams were held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The traditional semester break is today, but the week-end is extended an additional day because the Faculty members will participate in the Teachers' Institute on Monday, Feb. 1 at the University of Detroit.

Now There's New Furnace Regardless of Type of Fuel

Whether you choose to heat your home with oil, gas, electricity, or coal, there is a modern warm air heating system available to meet your needs today.

Electric heat has its highest concentrations in western and southern states, with each of these sections reporting roughly 45 per cent of the total number of electrically heated homes in the country.

The number of American homes completely heated with electricity has grown from about 300,000 in 1956 to more than 1 1/2 million today. The industry expects to pass the 4 million figure by the end of 1970.

These factors include the cost and availability of the various fuels in your area, severity of the winter in your locale, length of the heating season, type of house, and just plain personal preference.

The initial cost generally will not be an important factor, since it can be amortized over many years, but careful consideration should be given to the selection of fuel from a cost and convenience standpoint.

Industry sources reported almost 25 million American homes heated with gas at the start of 1964, about 10 million homes heated with oil, and nearly 1 1/2 million homes heated with the baby of the residential fuels, electricity.

All can be found in almost any part of the country today, but each fuel has heavier concentration in certain sections.

Five upper midwest states — Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, and Wisconsin — have more than 20 per cent of all the gas heat households in the country, for instance.

There are also heavy concentrations of gas-heated homes in California, Texas, Pennsylvania, and New York. Other states high on the list include Missouri, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Georgia, and Kansas.

Oil heat, on the other hand, enjoys its greatest popularity along the entire east coast and in many parts of the midwest.

The Middle Atlantic states, from New York to Washington, D.C., rate as the nation's number 1 section for oil heat, followed by the midwest, the New England states, and the South Atlantic states.

Stress Prefab Fireplace Fun

Trade sources indicate there is a strong trend to prefabricated fireplaces. A leading Midwest dealer, for example, reports that "prefabs are booming."

Reasons for this trend are several. With more leisure time for entertaining, home owners want the warmth, fun and hospitality of a fireplace.

Many barbecue fans now look forward to the time when they can enjoy their off-season family and guest meals cooked in the fireplace over wood charcoal briquets.

Until recently, high costs and structural factors had prevented many families from building in a fireplace.

tively low-cost prefabricated fireplaces on the market.

First, there is the conical shaped fireplace that comes in three different sizes and as many as nine different colors to complement any room decor.

It looks rustic against an exposed brick corner; elegant, resting on a marble slate; and a bit outdoorsy on a bed of gravel or stones.

A flue chimney leads from this unit through the ceiling to the roof to provide ample ventilation. Made of heavy gauge welded steel or several layers of stainless steel with cool air circulating between them, the unit is well protected against fire.

Another is the hearth-style, prefabricated fireplace that is available either as a free-standing or wall-fastened unit. The free-standing type, vented through the ceiling and roof, can serve as an unusual room divider and cook-in center.

A third general type is an all metal fireplace which can be installed without expensive masonry construction. It, too, goes into any room.

Think of the pleasure your family and friends will enjoy when gathering around your fireplace.

New Portable Grill Boon To 'Cooks'

Shaped like a magazine stand, easy to carry, and economical—that describes a new type of portable charcoal grill which is only 13 inches high and 11 inches long.

It represents a new concept in charcoal cooking. Wire grills hold the meat vertically on two sides beside the burning charcoal. Melting fat drips down harmlessly and seals in the naturally flavorful juices. No grease drops into the fire to cause flame-up or smoke.

Another advantage is that the choice of meat and the "doneness" can easily be accommodated on either side. It's a real "his and hers" deal.

The grate, in the center, holds about 2 1/2 pounds of charcoal briquets—enough fuel to cook for 10 to 12 people.

A hand grill that locks the meat inside attaches to either side of the grate. The top area of the grate can be used in brewing coffee and for warming food.

Completely portable, the unit can be brought indoors to a well ventilated area. It can accompany you on winter outings. And when not in use, it can be stored in a minimum of space.

Realtors to Hear Mary V. Beck

"Your City Government" will be the subject of a talk by Mary V. Beck, member of the Detroit Common Council, to a luncheon meeting of the Western Wayne-Oakland County Board of Realtors at Cregar's Restaurant, 19335 Grand River, on Thursday, February 4, at 12 noon.

Housewife Helper

With 30 times more dirt-catching surface than a conventional furnace filter, the new electronic air filters are much more effective in keeping the house clean. These electronic units have disposable cells which are inexpensive to replace.

Consider Future Before Buying New Furnace

Heating and air conditioning equipment is a long-term investment often good for the life of your house.

That's why it's a good rule of thumb when selecting this equipment to look for features which will provide long-term savings in lower heating bills, lower maintenance costs, and comfort, homeowners are advised by American Furnace Company, St. Louis.

The short-term savings offered by bargain basement furnaces and air conditioners can be eaten up in no time by soaring fuel bills, costly service, and poor performance, the company points out.

Always Read Label When Buying Charcoal Experts Advise Public

When you buy charcoal briquets be sure to read the label. That's the advice being broadcast by consumer education specialists at leading universities.

A Federal Trade Commission ruling indicates that barbecue fuels not made from wood must be so labeled if they are called charcoal.

Wood charcoal briquets have several advantages, the specialists report, over briquets made from other materials. Wood briquets are easier to light, they reach grilling temperature much faster, have lower ash content and do not have a chemical odor while burning.

Ceiling Excitement

Want some ceiling excitement? Try using bevel siding which creates dramatic, ever-changing shadow patterns. Favorite woods to use are the light-toned western softwoods, Douglas fir, pine, and cedar. Siding boards can be smooth or resawn.

The Observer HOME IMPROVEMENT

'OPERATION APPALACHIA' didn't stop with the end of the holiday season. This new group, a citizens service unit of the Salvation Army called "Relief for Social Disaster," will continue the work. From left, seated: Mark Stuart, news director for WERB; Betty Malan of Dearborn; Nancy Wyncoop, Minister of Education of First Unitarian Church in Detroit; Al Malan, who sparked the Christmas relief operation; standing: Major and Mrs. Oscar Agar of the Salvation Army; Observer newsman Dave Elsil; and Andy Sufritz, editor of Contact magazine of the Michigan Credit Union League.

Humidity House Through Furnace

If the family seems to catch more colds during the winter, if noses and throats are always dry and easily irritated, and if you shiver even when the thermostat is set high, there's a good chance the humidity is too low in your home.

The solution is simple enough—Add moisture to the air.

With the type of warm air furnace found in a large percentage of homes, this can be done easily and economically.

Your heating contractor can equip your furnace with a mechanical humidifier which will automatically keep the humidity at a pre-selected level.

In addition to improved health, proper humidification will prevent the loosening of furniture joints and veneers, creaking floors, and loose doors and windows. It also will help keep house plants from wilting.

Industry authorities recommend these humidity levels: 35 per cent when the outside temperature is 20 degrees above zero or higher; 30 per cent when it's 10 above outdoors; 25 per cent when it drops to zero; and 20 per cent when it hits 10 below.

Although low humidity is a more common problem, it's also possible to get too much moisture in a house. American Furnace Company engineers caution. When this happens, the windows steam up, drawers stick, and water spots might even appear on ceilings and inside walls.

These symptoms will indicate whether the humidity is too high or too low in your home this winter. For a more scientific measurement, check the humidity with a hygrometer.

If it's too high, look for and correct the sources of excess moisture. Kitchen and bathroom exhaust fans are among the best ways to reduce the humidity. Clothes dryers should be vented to the outdoors. And leaks in roofs, basement walls, and other areas should be repaired.

Madonna Gets $300 Grant

Madonna College in Livonia was the recipient of a donation of $300 for the college building fund. Alfred Paras, president of the Wyandotte Oak Club presented the donation to Sister Mary Raynelda, president of the college. He was accompanied by Malcolm Kurepa, Director, and Tom Watowski, treasurer of the club.

The Wyandotte Oak Club, organized in 1945, is a charitable and social organization whose principal objective is the service of youth, especially in its educational and athletic endeavors. It was founded for the purpose of strengthening the athletic department of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel High School. To date, the club has donated $60,000 to that cause.

Now its area of activity embraces broader fields of more diversified character. The club makes annual contributions to the Goodfellows Fund, aids the Penickton School for the Blind at Taylor, Michigan, and sends financial assistance to the Parent Association of Lapeer State Home for the purchase of equipment for the children of that institution.

Dougherty Elected by Livonia Bank

Elvin D. Dougherty was elected a director of Livonia National Bank, replacing Guy A. Spencer, at the annual meeting of bank shareholders last week. Other promotions announced by Fred A. Lavery, bank president, were W. Gerald Kiekbusch and John C. Spencer to the office of assistant vice-president. Both were formerly assistant cashiers.

Dougherty, vice-president and general loan officer, joined the bank in 1964. He was formerly with the Michigan Bank and has been in the banking business during his entire career. He and his family reside at 32201 Scone in Livonia.

Kiekbusch joined the bank in 1964 and is its Auditor. He was formerly with Michigan National Bank, Lansing. Spencer has been associated with the bank and its predecessor since 1956. He is in charge of the bank's branch operations.

All other present directors were reelected by the shareholders except Spencer, who retired as President one year ago.

House Chilly? Check Filter On Furnace

Furnace filters should be checked frequently during the heating season to make sure they don't become clogged with dust, lint, and other materials, American Furnace Company's home comfort experts remind homeowners.

The furnace will continue to operate, even with the filter 100 per cent clogged, but the amount of warm air reaching the living areas of the home can be greatly reduced when this happens.

It should be remembered that a modern warm air furnace will circulate millions of cubic feet of air through the house during the heating season, and all this air must move through the filter.

In the process, large quantities of airborne dirt, dust, bacteria, pollen, and other foreign materials collect on the filter cells. That's what the filter is there for, AFCCO's experts point out.

To keep the system operating at peak efficiency, remove the filter cells occasionally and clean them by tapping them against a solid object. If they become too dirty to tap clean, the cells are easy and inexpensive to replace.

Plymouth Dinner Features Dialogue Between Catholic and Protestant Clergy

The ecumenical movement, Christian unity, the meaning of the church, civil rights, and possible areas of cooperation towards Christian unity in Plymouth were some of the topics discussed during a Plymouth Ministerial Dinner last week.

Participating in a Christian Unity dinner billed as "A Dialogue Between a Catholic Priest and a Protestant Minister" were Fr. Alfred H. Renaud, Assistant Pastor of Our Lady of Good Counsel Roman Catholic Church, and Rev. John Miller, Pastor of Epiphany Lutheran Church. WJBK newsmen Carl Cederburg (a Presbyterian) moderated the discussion.

The term "ecumenical" was defined from both the Protestant and Catholic points of view.

Rev. Miller pointed out that the movement is not necessarily new. He defined it as "a meaningful effort on the part of those who claim Christ to understand one another, to understand their differences and to respect and to seek not to violate these differences."

He said that the idea of forming one big church is a misconception and that in seeking to find the divisions Christians wished to re-interpret and understand throughly their own positions.

Fr. Renaud pointed out that the Council Vatican II has set down ecumenical guidelines in the movement towards unity between churches and pointed out that the Catholic Church has been slow and reluctant to even recognize other churches in the past because she believes that she is truly Christ's church.

Cautioning that the movement will be "a slow thing," Fr. Renaud defined the movement as "trying to understand each other." In order to accomplish this, he said, we must know and talk to each other. The virtue of love is important here because it is the "law of love which all Christians practice."

Fr. Renaud also agreed that the idea of forming one large church is a misconception because "nobody will ever be encouraged to violate their own conscience" and said that to gloss over the differences existing is as much a hearsay as to underestimate them.

When asked what they meant by the term "The Church" Fr. Renaud defined it as "Jesus Christ in the world today and as God's family giving witness to His son." He added that Catholics believe that the church is visible and in a strict sense "the authority of Christ is invested in the Bishops and the supreme authority is vested in the Bishop of Rome, the Pope."

Rev. Miller called the church "in essence the Body of Christ." He pointed to the Communion of Saints and said that the Protestant Church does not have a strict form and that there are many diverse forms that Protestant Churches can take. However, he added the Christian family is "the family of believers within the world."

Pastor Miller pointed out that this is one of the existing differences between Catholic and Protestants—the authority of the Pope.

Both clergymen agreed that areas of cooperation in the Plymouth area would start with the people of the town.

They must be areas of mutual concern, however, and the cooperation cannot come about simply to "be working together." Some possible areas for work mentioned were the youth of Plymouth and the area of indecent literature.

The civil rights movement was noted as an area which has been helpful to the ecumenical movement. Fr. Renaud said that in this movement "Churches were working together to be what Christ wants us to be and that love fulfills the greatest law of all." Pastor Miller pointed out that when the Churches were forced to mutually confess their "sins in this area" the common pledge to justice and love more than any other thing helped to spur the ecumenical movement.

While admitting that the Atomic Age and the growth of Communism have helped to strengthen the movement both of the clergymen noted that the presence of the Holy Spirit was at work in the common search for understanding.

MORE THAN 370 people jammed Lofy's last Friday to hear a "Dialogue between a Catholic Priest and a Protestant Minister" with Fr. Alfred H. Renaud, Assistant Pastor of Our Lady of Good Counsel, Roman Catholic Church, (left) and Rev. John Miller, Pastor of Epiphany Lutheran Church. WJBK Newsmen Carl Cederburg moderated the Dialogue which was sponsored by the Plymouth Ministerial Association. (Photo by P. H. B.)

shrines at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church hall, Williams and Arthur St., Plymouth, on Thursday, Jan. 28 at 8 p.m.

The program will include films of St. Joseph's Oratory, Montreal; Our Lady of the Cape, Trois Rivieres; and St. Anne De Beaupre, Quebec. The public is invited and refreshments will be served.

Our Lady of Good Counsel will promote its third annual Pilgrimage to these shrines from Sept. 1 through Sept. 7 under the organization of Mrs. Sophia Nowolski this year. Interested persons may contact Mrs. Matthew Krump, 453-4052.

Organizational Changes Made at Faith Lutheran

Three main changes have been made in the structural organization of the Faith Lutheran Church in Livonia. The changes are:

Creation of a Board of Directors with direct responsibility to the congregation for all its actions;

Congregational meetings scheduled on a quarterly rather than the present monthly basis; and

Creation of a Men's and Women's Organization with representatives as advisory members to the Board of Elders.

The reasons behind the re-organization are six. They are listed as the following:

To do God's work decently and in order;

To keep our pastor from being time taxed by organizational administration, thus allowing him more time for his pastoral duties;

To increase lay participation and responsibility;

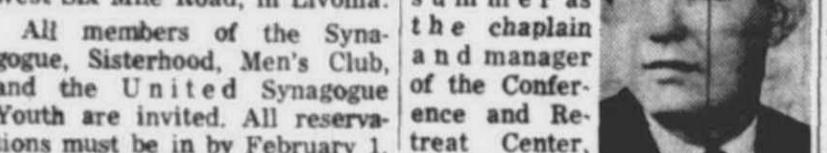

To increase involvement by both a men's and women's service organization;

To have an operational church organization that is modern and meets the needs of an affluent suburban congregation; and

To preserve the family as a responsible unit within the congregation.

Honor Cantor On 75th Year

The Sisterhood of the Livonia Jewish Congregation will honor Cantor Henry J. Blank, Cantor of The Livonia Jewish Congregation.

CANTOR HENRY BLANK

on his 75th birthday, with a birthday party on Saturday, February 6, at 8:30 p.m. in the new Synagogue Building, 29475 West Six Mile Road, in Livonia.

All members of the Synagogue, Sisterhood, Men's Club, and the United Synagogue Youth are invited. All reservations must be in by February 1.

There will be a short program followed by refreshments.

Diabetic Camp Talk

Fourteen-year-old Kathleen Munson of Lathrup Village will visit the Universalist-Unitarian Church of Farmington Sunday, Jan. 31, to report at the 10 a.m. service on her experiences at the Clara Barton Birthplace Camp at North Oxford, Mass.

The camp, operated for diabetics, is owned and operated by the Association of Universalist Women. A similar camp for boys, the Elliott P. Joslin Camp, is located at Charlton, Mass., and also is sponsored by the denomination's women's group.

Love As A Power Talk Set for Sunday

The vital nature of love as a power that can reshape human lives will be brought out in Christian Science churches this Sunday. The subject is "Love," and the Golden Text from I John (4:7,8) underlines the theme: "Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God... He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love."

Adult Discussion Classes Begin at Timothy Lutheran

A 10-week series of Adult Discussion classes began Jan. 17 at the Timothy Lutheran Church in Livonia. The church is located at 8820 Wayne Rd.

Six different topics are slated for the Sunday morning discussions. They are: Place of Prayer in Life, a series of taped devotional type lectures by Dr. George Aus of Luther Seminary and moderated by discussion leader Edward Waber, will be at 9 a.m.

Parents Class designed for parents with children in grades one through six. It will help parents assist their children in applying what is learned in Sunday School to daily life. The discussion leader for this class, which will be at 9 and 10 a.m., is John Harrington.

Poverty and the Christian

Episcopal Priest Will Be Ordained

St. Andrew's Episcopal Church of Livonia will be the setting for the ordination of the Rev. Mr. William R. Fleming, assistant rector of Christ Church, Dearborn, to the priesthood of the Episcopal Church, on Saturday, January 30, at 10:30 a.m. The ordination will be conducted by the Rt. Rev. Richard S. M. Emrich, bishop of Michigan.

The Rev. Mr. Fleming will be presented by his uncle, the Rev. Jay P. Coulton, rector of Rev. Fleming St. Andrew's Church. Also participating in the service will be the Rev. Edward R. A. Green and the Rev. Kenneth Davis, rector and associate rector, respectively, of Christ Church, Dearborn; the Rev. Robert Brook, vicar of St. Augustine of Canterbury Mission in Mason; and Mr. Clayton Eagle, a vestrman of St. Andrew's Church.

Born and educated in Lakewood, Ohio, Mr. Fleming attended Denison University, graduating with a B.A. degree in 1959. While at the University he was a member and vice-president of Sigma Chi, a representative to the Student Senate and Judicial Board, and a four letter man in baseball.

Twice elected to the all-Ohio Conference, Mr. Fleming was also captain of the varsity baseball team and named most valuable player in his senior year. He received several offers to play baseball professionally.

He served in the Navy from 1959 until the fall of 1961. Upon discharge he entered Bexley Hall, the Divinity School of Kenyon College in Gambier, Ohio, as a Candidate for Holy Orders from St. Andrew's Church, Livonia.

At Bexley Hall, Mr. Fleming was president of the Middler Class, a member of the Student Executive Committee, and a member of the Recruitment for the Ministry Committee. He was twice named to the Dean's list and was the recipient of the Senior Honors Scholarship.

He is married to the former Rosanna Brew, of Erie, Pa. They have one young son, William, Jr.

Retreat Slated At Madonna

A vocation retreat for young ladies aspiring to the sisterhood will be sponsored Feb. 19, 20, and 21, at Madonna College. The retreat will begin with the 8 p.m. conference on Friday, Feb. 19 and will end at approximately 4 p.m. Sunday.

Accommodations for the three-day spiritual exercise will be provided at the College residence halls. A fee of $10 will be asked for to cover costs of the retreat, room and board.

Any young lady in the sophomore, junior and senior year in high school interested in making this retreat is asked to contact Sr. M. Harold, by calling from 3:30-5 p.m. 425-4500; after 6 p.m. 422-9355 or by mailing a government card to 14221 Levan Road, Livonia, Mich. 48150.

Reservations are to be made no later than Feb. 12. Any young lady with aspirations for the convent life or one who may have any doubts as to a religious vocation is invited to make this retreat.

Atheism Talk Slated for Sunday

An examination of the term "atheism" and the varied concepts that surround it will be the subject of minister Robert M. Eddy's talk Sunday, Jan. 31, at the 10 a.m. service at the Universalist-Unitarian Church of Farmington.

The talk will be titled "Is Atheism Radical Enough?" Mr. Eddy said he would develop the idea that "a simple distinction between atheists and theists is childish in view of modern intellectual thought."

One of the church's two discussion groups meeting following the morning service will be taking up the subject of sincere promises — political and otherwise. The other group, in the current affairs area, is considering educational matters. A music listening group is turning its attention to jazz music, specifically, the blues.

Church school classes for youngsters from nursery to junior high are in session from 10 to 12.

Meeting Set

Jan. 29 has been set as the date for the Annual Congregational Meeting at the Rosedale Gardens United Presbyterian Church. The 8 p.m. meeting at the church hall will be preceded by a pot-luck dinner beginning at 6:30 p.m.

In 1957 the University of Detroit became the first University to offer all lecture-demonstration portions of a complete liberal arts freshmen curriculum on television.

February
date!

The Observer will be 25 years young and it's with our THANKS to all of YOU!

Because of your acceptance of our up-to-date, modern concept of what you want in a newspaper The Observer has grown from a very modest beginning with 8 tabloid pages published hopefully on February 28, 1940, to today's average of 40 full-size pages and more in 1964 . . . and in 1965 the signs point to even more!

You made this possible . . . all of you . . . both readers and advertisers alike. So we have much to be thankful for . . . and most of all we are thankful for friends like YOU!

We Are Celebrating with a
25th BIRTHDAY EDITION

You Will Want to Keep.

Filled with pictures . . . stories of the growth of Livonia from a small township to a growing, dynamic city . . . second in area in the State, reaching up to be (in the future) 2nd in population in Michigan.

Inside this special edition you'll find . . .

- Photographs showing Livonia 90 years ago . . .
- The story behind Livonia's first streetcar line! . . .
- Where Underground Railroad stops were located in Livonia . . .
- How Livonia's only airport became the city's largest shopping center . . .

and much, much more of the history and lore which has gone into the building of Livonia from the time it became a Township 130 years ago . . . through its incorporation as a city in 1950 . . . to its present standing as Michigan's second largest city! You'll even find a reproduction of The Livonian's first front page dated February 28, 1940.

You will want to keep this special edition as a permanent record of the heritage of a great city. Watch for the 25th Anniversary Edition of The Livonia Observer February 24, 1965.

Concert to Honor Robert Burns Slated

The St. Andrew's Society of Detroit will present its 116th Annual Concert in commemoration of Robert Burns, Scotland's "Immortal Bard," on Saturday, Jan. 30 at 8:15 p.m. The concert will be held at St. Andrew's Hall, 431 East Congress St., Detroit.

Featured on the program will be Miss Betty McMillan, soprano and James McLuskie, Scottish Tenor, singing some of the favorite of Burns' songs. Peter Maxwell, well known among local Scottish organizations and people for his own poetry, will present "Tam O' Shanter" and other poems of, and in tribute to, Burns.

The Sword Dance and Highland Fling will be performed by four sprightly young ladies, and the St. Andrew's Pipe Band will feature several selections of favorite Scottish marching tunes.

Tickets may be had at the box office the night of the concert — Donation, $2. For information call Edmund Campbell, concert chairman, at GA 7-9888.

Inge's Play Slated for Feb.

Center Theatre announces the cast of the season's second production, Dark at the Top of the Stairs by William Inge. The play, to be presented on Feb. 13, 14, 20 and 21 at 8:30, will include: Gunnar Lewis, Paula McKinney, Rollon Parker, Sondra Rubin, Sue Merson, Del Appleby, Rick Oppenheim and Ricky Orbach. Directing the play is Earl Mathews. Center Theatre is housed in the Jewish Community Center, Curtis at Meyers. Tickets for the performances can be purchased at the Center for $2. Members of the Center can purchase them for $1.50 and students for $1.

The U. S. Naval Training Center at San Diego, Calif., trains 68,000 men yearly.

HELEN GURLEY BROWN is an ambitious young woman who recently wrote a book about what she knew. This book was promptly catapulted to the top selling book lists and now is a movie of the same name. The film features Helen Brown, played by Natalie Wood, as a psychologist whose dedication to her profession is perpetually distracted by a gay blade played by Tony Curtis. It opens Jan. 27 at the Dearborn, Penn. Terrace, State Wayne Theatres; and the Dearborn and Algiers Drive-Ins.

Michigan Players Schedule 4 Plays

The University of Michigan Players, who thus far have presented three plays of their 1964-65 Playbill, have announced final plans for the four remaining productions to be presented between now and May.

The Russian playwright, Anton Chekhov, will be represented on the Playbill with Uncle Vanya, directed by Professor Richard Burgwin of the Department of Speech. This provincial Russian tale will be seen Jan. 27-30.

Next to take the stage is a widely discussed and enthusiastically praised off-beat drama by Francois Billeloux called Chez Torpe.

Considered by many critics to be one of the most exciting new works to hit Paris in recent years, Chez Torpe will have its American Premiere in Ann Arbor from Feb. 17-20.

On March 17-21 the University Players, in co-operation with the Opera Dept. of the School of Music, will offer Wolfgang Mozart's The Magic Flute. This allegorical fantasy which illustrates Mozart's versatility as a composer will be seen for five performances with a special Sunday matinee performance on March 21.

Rounding out the Playbill season is Bertolt Brecht's Galileo, an absorbing dramatic biography of the 17th century scientist who is confronted with the conflict between science and the public mind.

Galileo is to be directed by Professor William Halstead for presentation from April 7-10.

Tickets for the productions are currently available by mail from the University Players at the University of Michigan Dept. of Speech, Ann Arbor 48104. They may also be purchased at the Lydia Mendelssohn Theatre box office during the week beginning Jan. 25.

All performances of the Playbill season are at 8 p.m., except the Sunday matinee of the Mozart opera which performs at 2:30 p.m. All the productions, except Galileo, will be staged in the Lydia Mendelssohn Theatre. The thrust stage of the Trueblood Auditorium in the Frieze Building will be used for the Brecht play.

CURTAIN GOING UP

By WALLY ROBERTS

Freezing rain, precipitation mixed with clouds of dense fog; pelting, slosy rain and any other moist variants you can name descended on our soggy, but upright head of virile fur. The weather for the past week has been anything but something to write home about. In fact, if this weather has a "home," we all sincerely wish it would return

"110 In The Shade" presently playing at the Fisher theater could be the cause for all the dew-ridden air surrounding the moisturized city. The plot of this musical play is based on a TV drama written several snowstorms ago by N. Richard Nash. Title of his TV play was "The Rainmaker."

Tracing the inclement history of "The Rainmaker" you'll find it started as a TV drama; expanded into a full-length play for Broadway; became a movie with Burt Lancaster and Kate Hepburn in the lead roles, and finally emerged drip-dry on the musical stage as "110 In The Shade." Mr. Nash truly has made real "hay" out of so much California liquid sunshine!

Although the plot mainly centers around the efforts of Liz's family to marry her off to several eligible bachelors, the final climax concerns itself with a cloudburst. A con man comes to town and offers to send down floods of "water on the parched soil. The farmers have tried every other means to break the drought. N. C. Curry (ably played by Will Geer) gives the "rainmaker" a hundred dollars to bring rain as soon as he can.

Naturally most of the town feel that H. C. Curry has been "had" by the con man. In my reading over the weekend I bumped into a book of "Japanese Rainmaking." My curiosity truly piqued by the recent musical visit to the Fisher provided impetus for a deep plunge into this book on the folk customs of the Japanese living on the island of Okinoshima.

The fisherman and rice harvesters living on the plains of Yamato do indeed call in the services of rainmakers. During the dry spells of 1955 and 1962 when those precious drops of rain refused to fall for over 50 days, the natives of southern Yamato decided to go all out in their drive for some of that crop-saving sky water. Group Plans A Wonder Fair

Whittier Junior High School, located at 28550 Ann Arbor Trail between Inkster and Middlebelt, is holding a spectacular Wonderfair on February 6 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

It is being sponsored by P.E.G. (Parent Educator Group) and it will be held in the gymnasium. Booths will include a bake sale, a white elephant sale, and a record and book sale. Tickets must be purchased at the door for booth sales.

Along with this, on Feb. 5, P.E.G. and the Whittier Wildcat Journalism Staff are presenting a Talent Show (Curtain Call). Showings will be from 7 to 8 p.m. and from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. Admission will be 35 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Ice Capades
Opens Mar. 2
At Olympia

Ice Capades of 1965 will bring the celebration of its Silver Anniversary to Detroit during an 11-day engagement at Olympia beginning March 2. Boasting a 100-member cast and 500-costume wardrobe, Ice Capades production costs for the 25th annual show are over $1,000,000.

Ice Capades is pioneering several new production techniques in the 1965 edition. Highlighting the unique staging devices are: a two-level stage, to allow performances by skaterless singers and dancers; a rear-projection screen, for flashing cast names and background scenes for production numbers, and "floating" scenery, allowing more skating room on the ice surface.

Making his professional debut in the show is Tommy Litz, 19-year-old world free style skating champion who was the sensation of the competition at Innsbruck last winter.

Health Workshop Set at Schools
On January 25 from 2:30-4:30 the elementary staff will assemble at Grandview School for the Detroit Dairy Council Workshop. The workshop has been planned by Clarenceville Staff members and representative teachers will act as resource and information persons. Representatives of the Dairy Council will serve as chairmen of the different groups and all staff members will have an important part in the program. Entitled: "Good Health through Good Nutrition" this workshop will show actual classroom work discussions, and demonstrations will all serve to start the questions and answers which will help other teachers.

Sports Car Review at Greenfield Village

The classic revival in motor sport is being highlighted in the 13th annual Sports Cars in Review exhibit now on display in the Henry Ford Museum.

Sixty cars from nine nations are being shown at this outstanding midwinter display in the world famous Museum of Americana. An exciting movie, "History of Racing . . . The Golden Years," is shown several times daily in the Museum theater. Open daily until 11 p.m., the show continues through Feb. 7.

Special feature cars include the Packard "Old Pacific" made famous by its first successful transcontinental run from San Francisco to New York in 1903. A sleek wood rib body 1924

French Hispano-Suiza also is included in the exhibit. Several completely new 1965 sports cars are making either their U.S. or Midwest debuts at the Henry Ford Museum show.

Classic revival cars will highlight the exhibit as well, including the 1937 Cord 812 and the new 1965 Cord 810, the 1929 Mercedes SSK and its modern counterpart, the Excalibur SS. The 1913 Mercer Raceabout will be featured alongside the sporty new Mercer Cobra.

Illustrated lectures by sports car authorities are held each Friday evening at 8:30 p.m. through Friday, Jan. 29. A sportscar fashion show is scheduled at 9 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 5. The Sports Cars in Review exhibit is included in the regular admission price to the Museum and is open daily until 11 p.m.

U of D Schedules Green Room Series

Russell McLaughlin, veteran Detroit critic and author, will host a series of University of Detroit Thursday evening Green Room Programs starting Feb. 4.

The series, "Theatre: Past and Present," convenes on alternate Thursdays from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Archives Room of the U. of D. Quodlibet Faculty Club at 16805 Livonia across from the McNichols Rd. Campus.

It is a U. of D. theatre department non-credit course of the Center for Continuing Education. The registration fee of $20 will cover the cost of tickets for performances of five plays including production by U. of D., Wayne State University, and other local groups.

Special features of the lecture program will include guest lecturers and selections from Shakespeare on film. Dr. John F. Sullivan of the Windsor University English faculty will appear as a guest lecturer at the first meeting. His topic: "Some Advance Comments on Lady Macbeth and Others."

James Rodgers and Alan

Junior Casting Call

Tryouts for parts in the Junior Livonia-Redford Theatre Guild production of "Cinderella" will be held at the Thurston High School Auditorium Saturday, Jan. 30 from 1 to 4 p.m. The show will be double casted and the entire production — sets, costumes, make-up, props, etc. — will be handled by the Junior Guild, so many positions are open.

The production, which will be directed by Thurston teacher Carroll Jackson and Assistant Director Jackie Javor, will play in Livonia and Redford Township on the four Saturdays in March.

Jorgensen of the U. of D. Theatre faculty will appear later in the season following attendance by the class at the plays they are directing. Sha's "Misalliance," and Archibald MacLeish's "J. B."

The class will attend Wayne State University's Classic Theatre productions of "Oedipus Rex" and Moliere's "The Ridiculous Young Ladies."

Some of the subtitles for lectures: "Shakespeare as Show Business," "This is Show Business — From the Greeks Onward," "The Most Necessary Art," "The Family Affair," "Theatre Must Live as a Business," and "The Musical Theatre."

sonalities of the theatre as his personal friends. Mr. McLaughlin indicated that the list of guest lecturers is not closed but will be expanded as the season progresses.

Further details, and a brochure, may be obtained by telephoning the U. of D. Center for Continuing Education, 342-1000, ext. 324 or 364, or writing to U. of D., Detroit 21.

Art Exhibit Slated

In the interest of better and greater art all artists in the western suburbs of Detroit may participate in a juried art exhibit Feb. 8 through 13. The exhibit will be in the Northland Dome. Three prizes, a minimum of $50, will be awarded. Deadline for the entry forms is Feb. 1. If interested, call GA 2-6713 for an application form. The exhibit is sponsored by the Three Cities Art Club.

PHIL CAVARETTA, manager of the Howard Johnson Restaurant in Redford, talks with some customers with assistant manager Frank Krauser.

Phil Cavaretta Manager

Redford Howard Johnson's True to Famous Tradition

Howard Johnson's Restaurant at 26767 Grand River, in Redford, is an excellent example of the Company's famous architecture, decor, and cuisine.

The Redford branch is eight years old. It has recently been remodeled, and now has an elegant Early American effect.

At the same time, it has retained the features that have made it successful in the Redford community. There is still the Wednesday fish fry. And there is still the popular Sunday morning "late breakfast."

There are many reasons for the popularity of Howard Johnson's food. Everything from toothpicks to T-bones is supplied by the Company's headquarters. Ice cream and manufacturing plants provide the chain with over 700 items. Refrigerated Johnson trucks roll twice a day, carrying Johnson frozen pies and foods.

There are the 28 flavors of ice cream. And there is, of course, Howard Johnson's national best seller—fried clams.

Before opening a new restaurant, Johnson himself sends a site engineer to check the community food habits. He usually interviews new management personally.

As a result, the management of the Johnson restaurants is of unusually high calibre.

Phil Cavaretta, the manager at the Redford branch, is a graduate of the Michigan State University School of Hotel Management.

Cavaretta further prepared for his Redford assignment by working for the Howard Johnson Co. in Rochester, New York. His wife, Virginia, is a teacher of mentally retarded children.

Square Dance Class to Start

A new beginners square dance class will meet on Tuesday, Jan. 26, in the Thurston High cafeteria from 7:30-10.

Interested dancers may attend their first meeting free. The class will continue on Tuesdays and registration is taken at each class session.

Registration closes on Feb. 10. Instructor for the class is Bill Peterson and further information may be obtained at KE 4-4590. Other level square dance groups are also meeting in Redford Township and dancers should call the above number for information.

Shakespeare Produced With Modern Props

Roaring motorcycles delivered the players of "The Taming of the Shrew" to the stage of the Hilberry Classic Theatre Wednesday (Jan. 13) for the opening of the second play in the current season's repertory. "The Shrew" joins "Macbeth," which opened Jan. 6. Both Shakespeare plays appear on the current week's schedule.

The noisy entrance is part of the theatre's modern induction of "The Shrew," which is a play-within-a-play. But players will don theatrical period costumes for the famous Shakespearean farce in which Petruchio tames the wild Kate.

The play is directed by Leonard Leone, with settings by Richard D. Spear and costumes by Robert Pusilo. The cast is headed by Philip Wilkmiyer and Marjorie Jean Lerstrom as the warring male and female. Both are new members of the fellowship acting company.

Other leading roles are played by returning players Philip McDonnell, Philip Davidson, James Barton Hill and John Criner, and newcomers Marshall E. Borden and Norma Simpson.

"The Shrew" will be performed Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings at 8:30, plus Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. "Macbeth," with Alexander Pnas in the title role, will be seen Friday evening at 8:30 and Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

A double bill of Sophocles' "Oedipus Rex" and Moliere's "The Ridiculous Young Ladies" joins the repertory Feb. 3, and Brecht's "Galileo" is added Feb. 17. All four productions alternate through June 12.

Complete performance schedules and tickets are available from the Box Office in the theatre at Cass and Hancock. The telephone number is 833-5151.

Old Music Displayed at Ford Museum

Henry Ford Museum at Greenfield Village in Dearborn is currently displaying part of its important early American sheet music collection in a special exhibit honoring composer Stephen Foster.

Foster's famed "deep throated" guitar, together with the original manuscript of "Open Thy Lattice Love" (his first published song), and "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming," are displayed with several other items of Foster memorabilia.

Several books and sheets of rare 18th century American music are also displayed, including the very valuable "Anthem For Easter Day, 1776."

Popular Civil War era sheet music, being displayed includes such famed pieces as "President Johnson's Grand March," "Three Children," and "Listen To The Mockingbird."

According to Museum librarian Kenneth Metcalf, most of the items in the special display are kept in the Historic Records section of the Henry Ford Museum library and are not usually shown to the public.

This special exhibit is included in the regular admission price to Henry Ford Museum. It continues through January 31, when it will be replaced by an early American Valentine exhibit.

"California to the New York Island" Slated for February

Local area folk musicians will be featured on Feb. 12 and 13 when the Plymouth Theatre Guild presents "CALIFORNIA TO THE NEW YORK ISLAND."

Jim Blackman (GL 3-3780) says, "This will be good listening, and there are numbers in it for the audience to join in and sing along too."

The Theatre Guild plans two performances for the public, the first on Friday, Feb. 12 in the Northville State Hospital auditorium on Seven Mile Rd, with part of the proceeds going to the hospital's patient benefit fund. The second on the following night, Saturday, Feb. 13, in the Plymouth High School auditorium, with part of that evening's proceeds going to the Plymouth State Children's Home for their swimming pool fund. Both performances start at 8 p.m.

For further ticket information, contact Jerry French at 464-1599.

Dinner Dance Planned

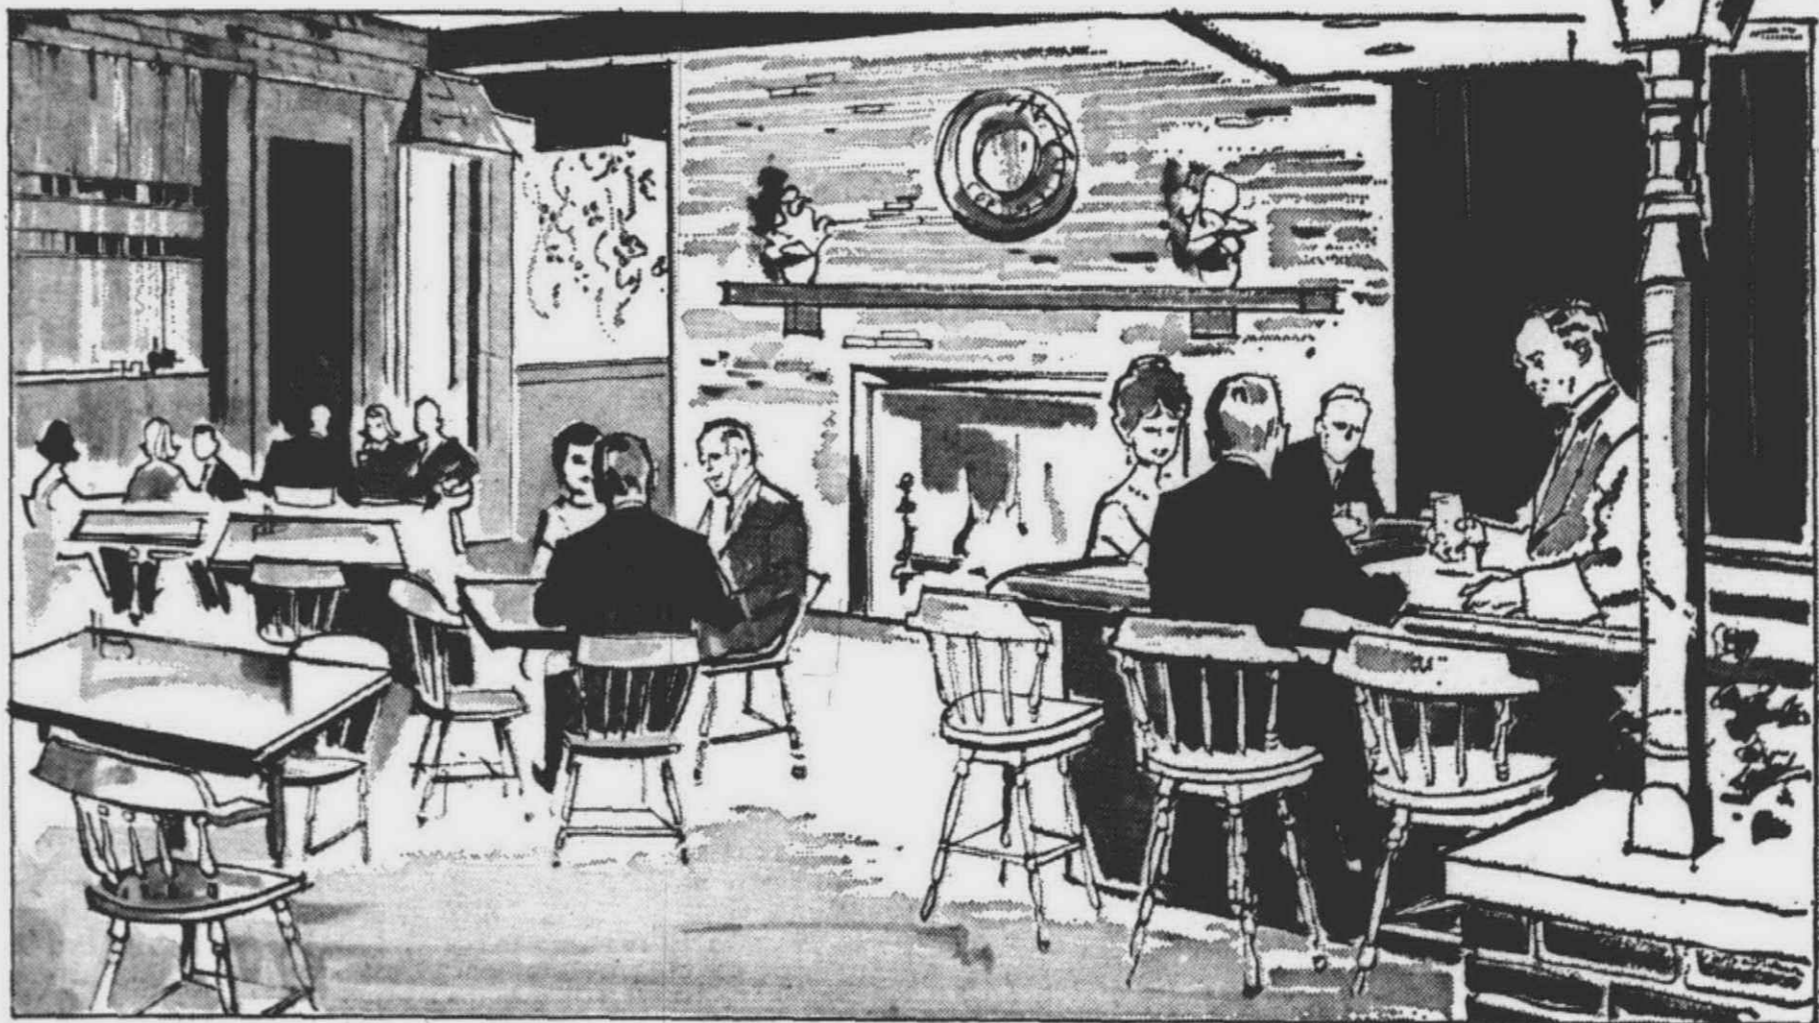

The St. Edith's Mens Club will hold its third annual Sweetheart Dance on Feb. 13. A dinner dance, the event will be held at the Roma Hall. The Paul Maceri Orchestra will provide the music. Tickets for dinner, prizes, set ups and pizza snacks is $12 per couple.

Smart Businessmen Know It Pays To Advertise Their Business Here

FOR 351 GENERAL MOTORS salaried employees in the Livonia area, Friday, January 22, was a special day as they shared $538,822 in GM common stock, government bonds and cash for their participation in the 1959 Savings Fund Plan under the Corporation's Savings-Stock Purchase Program. Typical of the presentations is this scene in which Jacqueline Henry, 16535 Middlebelt, Livonia, a Fisher Body Livonia plant employe, receives her stocks and bonds from plant comptroller, H. W. Horne (center). Looking on is D. W. McCue, comptroller of the Chevrolet Livonia plant.

Livonia GM Employees Share $538,822 in Stock Dividends

Distribution of approximately $101,866,000 in General Motors common stock, government bonds and cash to 60,000 salaried employees in the U. S. who participated in the 1959 Savings Fund Plan under the Corporation's Savings-Stock Purchase Program was announced this week by Frederic G. Donner, GM chairman.

A total of 351 salaried employees at Livonia GM plants—both at the Chevrolet and Fisher Body factories—participated in the distribution, receiving $538,822.83. The total for Livonia employees is a result of $174,121.50 originally invested by the participating employees. The employees received 812,000 shares of GM common stock with a market value of $79,477,000, a total of 588,000 Series E Bonds of varying denominations with a current value of $19,171,000 and approximately $3,218,000 in cash.

Surprise Package for Livonia Housewife

When the doorbell of her home rang last week Mrs. Michael A. Killinger of 31601 W. Chicago, Livonia, thought that it was simply an organization collecting old newspapers and clothes. It was not. Instead it was a delivery man who wanted to give her something. He said that he had her new refrigerator in the truck and where did she want it placed. Mrs. Killinger thought he was either lost or joking. Neither supposition was true as the delivery man had a delivery slip with the correct name and address. Finally down at the bottom of the slip were the words "Ajax Puzzle Sweepstakes."

ed employees in the U. S. who participated in the 1959 Savings Fund Plan under the Corporation's Savings-Stock Purchase Program was announced this week by Frederic G. Donner, GM chairman.

The distribution results from employees' savings of $32,882,000 and Corporation contributions of $16,441,000 during 1959, plus interest and dividends earned between January 1, 1959, and December 31, 1964, and appreciation in value of GM common stock.

This year's distribution represents a return (based on the closing market price for common stock at the end of 1964) of more than three dollars for every dollar saved by the GM salaried employees receiving the distribution.

As a result of the distribution, an additional 17,100 employees became shareholders in the Corporation. This is the fifth distribution since the inception of the plan in October 1955. A class is formed each year and matures five full years after the year of formation.

During this period employees have saved about $525 million. These savings and the GM contributions have been used to purchase about $262 million in government bonds and more than 11 million shares of General Motors common stock.

Under the Program, GM contributes $1 for each $2 of employee savings. Half of the employee's savings is invested in government bonds and half in GM common stock. The Corporation's contribution and all dividends are invested entirely in GM common stock.

"The Savings-Stock Purchase Program has two objectives—to provide employees with an incentive for regular savings and to give more employees the opportunity to own part of the business where they work," Mr. Donner said. "The success of the Program is attested by the fact that 92 per cent of employees currently eligible are saving an average of eight per cent of their salaries under the Program."

Under the Program, all salaried employees with one year or more of continuous service are eligible to participate on a voluntary basis. They may save up to 10 per cent of their salary. Eligible employees may elect to participate in the Savings Fund Plan or they may elect to join the Retirement Thrift Plan.

In addition to the securities and cash distributed to salaried employees who had participated in the 1959 Savings Fund Plan, employees participating in the 1959 class of the Retirement Thrift Plan had to their credit at the end of 1964 government securities with a current market value of about $2,275,000 and a total of 92,000 shares of General Motors common stock.

Readers Speak Up

Vigilant Watchdog
Editor:
I am among the many who was deeply saddened by the death of Paul Chandler. He was, in my estimation, a dedicated journalistic expert with the welfare of all the people at heart. He will be deeply missed by the entire community, and his memory will linger for a really long time.

The paper, I understand, will still be the vigilant watchdog of the entire community, just as it has been in the past years. The "Facts and Opinions" column will certainly be hard to replace, but on the other hand the new editorial page may serve the purpose. I am hoping that "Observing the Scene" will carry the same controversial excellency as its forebearer, and, if so, we can then expect true reporting of just what is transpiring in our local community and the world about us.

In reading the personnel directory on the editorial page I am wondering who is assigned to City Hall reporting. This I believe is an important news source and I feel the readers will undoubtedly want to know what's going on at all times. There is no doubt, at least in my mind, that even elections are won and lost by the bombshells emitting from City Hall.

While on this subject I am wondering who was found wanting in the $200,000 pension fund deal, and just who and how are these funds being handled today, and what, if any, precautions have been taken to prevent a recurrence of this incident. Also speaking of City Hall I am still wondering what happened to the city attorney who started out with a loud voice telling us how competent his new employer was and how he would keep us informed at all times just how things were progressing. Has he been silenced or brain-washed? Haven't heard from him since his initial outburst.

No doubt everyone will be busy campaigning for the candidate of their choice in the upcoming Senatorial Race, however I hope the news close to home is not neglected. I have personally enjoyed reading the Mayor's column and also the columns of the various councilmen. These, I think, bring out the different views on any given subject and also divulge a number of basic differences in thinking. While the minutes of the Council meetings are published I think most of us would like to know a little about the wheeling and dealing that goes on behind the scenes.

This, I think, is where a good honest reporting job is necessary, and we have received this through your paper. At this time I want to wish the new management the very best of everything, and while you have a monumental task to perform I feel sure you will meet it admirably. If and when I have any questions or differences of opinion I trust you will enjoy hearing about them from me.

Very truly yours
C. W. MCINTYRE

Compressed Clutter

Editor:
With the whole country becoming conscious of IMAGES, AND HOW THEY PROJECT, let us bring one glaring example of non-conformance with our Great Society to the attention of the residents of Livonia—

The appearance of the youth employment bureau upon entering the city hall of Livonia.

The only words applicable to this area is compressed clutter. Space is definitely not available for this employment agency within the confines of the lobby of City Hall. It presents a fire hazard, being directly in line, and in front of, the rear door of City Hall and it does not add a single item to the decor of the building.

This service is a youth service and offices should, and could, be maintained in the high schools, with a branch at Bentley and Franklin High Schools.

Thanks for Publicity

Editor:
All too often today we find kindness and consideration of others taken for granted. We, therefore, would like to take this opportunity in behalf of Michigan Circuit No. 5 of Jehovah's witnesses to express our thanks for your consideration and cooperation in publicizing our recent assembly held at Franklin High School, December 25-27. We especially in the News Service Department want to say thank you. We sincerely appreciate your efforts to place our releases. Be assured that your cooperation and help means much to us and all Bible loving people in the Livonia area.

USED!
BUT NOT ABUSED—THERE IS A DIFFERENCE, YOU KNOW!
 People trade in cars every day that are as good as when they left the factory. And the way we are selling the '65 Chevrolet, our used car lot is bulging with the finest selection of used cars you have ever seen. Why not come out and look them over? We think you will agree.
