

Clash in Election in April

Roberts, McNamara Win Senate Primary

Livonia Councilman Edward McNamara and former State Senator Farrell Roberts coasted to easy victories Monday in their races for 14th District State Senate nominations.

McNamara bested his two Democratic rivals to win his party's nomination with twice as many votes as his opponents combined.

Roberts won the Republican nomination handily, garnering more votes than all his five GOP opponents together.

A total of 14,923 voters in the district—which includes Livonia, Plymouth, Farmington and most of western Oakland County—went to the polls. Republican voters outpolled Democrats, 8,910 to 6,013.

McNamara garnered an unofficial total of 4,003 votes on the Democratic side of the ballot. John Burke, a Farmington attorney, gained 1,032 votes, while Elsie Gilmore, Livonia businesswoman and former Wayne County Democratic chairman, had 978 votes.

On the GOP side, Farrell Roberts polled 4,741 votes, with his nearest opponent, Paul A. Kern, Jr., getting less than half that amount, 1,493. Farmington Justice of the Peace, Allen Ingle, had 1,154 votes; Thomas McHugh of Sylvan Lake polled 909 while Fitzhugh Prescott, 383, and George Ames, 230, trailed. Roberts, who served as former state representative and state senator, will oppose the Livonia councilman and former Dearborn Township school board member, Ed McNamara, in a general election April 5. For Kern and Prescott, both of whom ran with right-wing backing, this was their second defeat. They both went down in last summer's GOP primary, too. Monday's primary was called by Governor George Romney to fill a vacancy in the State Senate caused by the death Dec. 12 of State Senator-elect Paul M. Chandler. Chandler had served as State Representative for a term, and was elected to the Senate (Continued on Page 14A)

Council Denies Rezoning For Maplecroft Apts.

Residents of the Burroughs-Coolidge-Harding-Fairgrounds area of Plymouth won't have any more worries about whether an apartment will be constructed in their immediate vicinity—a request for rezoning of eight lots on Coolidge for an apartment building was denied by the City Commission Monday night following a lengthy public hearing.

More than 30 residents of the area appeared for the discussion and only Developer Robert Garling of Garling Inc. had any good words to say for the proposed apartment.

Homeowner after homeowner spoke his piece, each going on record as opposing the rezoning on the grounds that the apartment building would tend to lower values, would give Plymouth the appearance of a big city rather than the small city with single homes, would result in traffic hazards due to the greater use of streets by dwellers of the apartment and generally that they didn't want any more apartments within the Plymouth city limits.

Garling rebutted the objections and told how his company thought the apartment would enhance rather than degrade the area. His remarks were all in vain for Commissioner Arch Vallier made a motion that the request be denied, it was supported by Commissioner George Lawton and passed by a 6-0 vote.

The Commission passed a resolution granting Packaging Corporation an easement at the north side of the building for an additional railroad spur by the C & O railroad. It was brought out during the discussion of easement that the spur would take in a small portion of city owned property and a resolution was necessary.

The request came from Packaging Corporation to handle a proposed expansion program which is still on the planning board and for which a final decision is expected within another two or three weeks.

Plymouth officials of the Packaging plant affirmed that an expansion was being discussed but that plans are indefinite at this time.

The Commission approved a bid from Fred Muntwyler, reported to be majority stockholder in the Duratiner Corporation, for acreage in the Urban Renewal project on S. Mill Street, Muntwyler is from Chicago.

Muntwyler informed the Commission that the Corporation has plans for an expansion program that is expected to start within a few weeks. (Continued on Page 14A)

Twp. Board Plans Water To 'Dry' Haggerty Area

Residents on Haggerty Road between Ann Arbor and Joy Roads will get relief from their water problems—lack of it—as quickly as mains can be installed in the area.

That was the decision of the Plymouth Township Board in its February meeting after receiving a petition signed by 16 residents of the area asking that water lines be laid to service their homes.

The petition stated that the situation was very bad in 1964 when they found themselves without water and indications are that conditions will probably get worse in the future.

Township Engineer Herald Hamill, who estimated the cost of the installation at $30,000, was instructed to proceed with the project.

Trustees indicated, during the discussion of the request, that the mains will be extended to service the nearby Cambridge Village subdivision.

Township Treasurer Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, who also heads the water department, requested direction from the Board about the proposed extension of a 16 inch water main east on Five Mile Road to Haggerty 300 feet and south from Five Mile for 1,050 feet. Her requests came after a communication from Hamill asking what the Board planned for the area.

Hamill was authorized to draw plans to complete the water circuit to Terry, make a survey and study and present an estimate of costs at the March meeting. Hamill had estimated the cost at $15,000 but felt additional study was needed since the proposed project took in more than the original plans.

In other actions, the Trustees: Authorized payment of $56,287 to the Wayne County Road Commission as its interest requirements on the Metropolitan Sewer and Sewage Disposal system for the period of Oct. 1, 1964 to April 1, 1965.

Authorized Supervisor Roy Lindsay to enter into a contract call for liquid calcium chloride.

Gave final approval to the Marmion Hills subdivision which includes eight lots for homes in the $25,000 and more classification.

Tabled a recommendation from Building Inspectors Matt McLellan for adoption of a supplement to the BOAC Code establishing minimum requirements for multiple housing units.

Named Clerk John McEwen temporary chairman of a committee which will attempt to learn what the Township can do and in which direction it may move to take advantage of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964. (The federal act aimed to battle poverty.) Approved statements totaling

$2,643 from Township Attorney Earl Demel for completed easement work to date with payment to be made after the sale (Continued on Page 14A)

PREPARING for the presentation of "Cinderella" on the stage of the Plymouth High School auditorium Saturday (Feb. 27) are Mrs. Thomas Devereaux, 42330 Clemons, and Mrs. Wendell Smith (right), of 14302 Shadywood. Mrs. Devereaux has the part of Uglia, one of the two stepsisters of Cinderella, and Mrs. Smith portrays the other Gruesue. The play is being sponsored by the Plymouth Branch of the American Association of University Women and will be presented four times during the day at 10 and 11:30 a.m., 1:30 and 3 p.m. for children of the area.

Twp. Trustees Reject Flasher Light Bill

Plymouth Township trustees can't recall when they have paid for a flashing light signal at a crossing of the C&O Railroad and none feels that the Board should start paying now.

This was the answer to a request from the Wayne County Road Commission that the Trustees adopt a resolution stating it will bear 50 per cent of the cost incurred in installing a flashed at the Ridge Road crossing.

The cost is not to exceed $2,611 to the Township with the railroad bearing half of the total cost of more than $10,000.

Treasurer Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes pointed out that the Board had never paid as much as a penny for a flasher light in the past and didn't think it should start now.

"I don't recall this Board asking for a flasher light at Ridge Road," she said. "I don't think we should make any payment. In fact, I don't think this Board has $2,611 laying around loose that it can use."

The Trustees voted to table the matter pending additional study and more information.

Plymouth JCs Sponsor Fish Films

Larry Helin, well-known Detroit sportsman and a member of the nationally known Helin Tackle Co. which manufactures flatfish and fishcake lures, will show his latest color films of fishing trips to northern Ontario and of popular Michigan spots in the fourth of the series of Sport-A-Rama programs sponsored by the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Helin's presentation is scheduled Thursday (Feb. 18) at 8:15 p.m. in Junior High West gym. Helin's films will start with a flight into the northwest territory for fishing for the colorful Arctic Char in the icy waters of the Tree River. He'll have spectacular underwater films of bass and pike in Northern Ontario, showing the fish actually striking and fighting the lures.

Then he goes down to the Florida Keys for action of the greatest jumper and fighter of all—the great Tarpon. He'll show scrappy Michigan Muskies from Lake St. Clair as well as pike spearing through the ice.

His lecture will also include exhibits of the newest rods and reels plus lures. All in all, he'll tell by films and voice how to catch fish from the tiniest to the largest in waters of North America.

The Jaycees are offering father and son tickets in which both are admitted for a single adult admission. Tickets are available at the door.

Revive Plans For Private Swim Club

Thwarted a year ago in efforts to form a private swim club by inability to secure a suitable site, the Colony Swim Club will be revitalized in an information meeting Thursday (Feb. 18) at 8 in the multipurpose room at Junior High West.

More than 300 families reportedly had shown interest in the club a year ago and organizers hope that all have representatives at the meeting.

Club officers, who were elected a year ago, will have charge of the meeting. These include: Joseph Fletcher, president; Paul Malhoeuf, vice president; board members, Jack Fleckenstein, Bill Kloote, Les Gallagher, Arthur Larson, Robert Jenkins and Mrs. John Pulker.

The meeting is open to all persons interested in learning of the club's plans and those interested in becoming charter members.

The director will explain the present and future plans for the club. Options have been taken on six acres of land on Beck Road near Gyde Road south of Joy Road in Canton Township. The site is some three miles west of Plymouth.

Plans call for an Olympic size pool with a membership limited to 300 families. Should the club succeed in signing members within the next six weeks, then the directors hope to have the pool available for use by June 15.

Color slides will be shown at the meeting showing the type of pool and bathhouse under consideration.

Applications and brochures will be available at the meeting and a portion will be devoted to questions and answers.

President Fletcher and his associates urge all interested to be on hand since attendance at the meetings will go far in determining the future of the Swim Club.

City, Township Vote Lightest in Years

Although voting was the lightest in years with less than 10 per cent turning out in Plymouth Township and under 13 per cent in the City, voters in the Plymouth Community gave big margins to Edward McNamara, of Livonia, and Farrell Roberts, of West Bloomfield Township in Oakland County, in the primary election for the 14th district State Senatorial post left vacant by the death of Observer Publisher Paul Chandler in December.

Republican Roberts, a heavy favorite to win the final election in April, pulled 360 votes in the city and 229 in the Township to run way ahead of his GOP foes. McNamara won the Democratic nomination with a comfortable margin over Mrs. Elsie Gilmore. The Livonian totaled 101 votes in the city and 54 in the Township against 68 for Mrs. Gilmore in the city and 22 in the Township.

The complete tally in the City:
 Democrats—John Burke, 15; Elsie Gilmore 68 and Edward McNamara 101; Republicans—George Ames 10, Fitzhugh Prescott 15, Paul Kern Jr. 26, Allen Ingle 44, Thomas McHugh 56, and Roberts 360.

In the Township: Burke 11, Mrs. Gilmore 22, McNamara 22; Republicans—Ames 0, Prescott 4, Kern 16, McHugh 23, Ingle 34, and Roberts 229.

File Suit To Halt Tower

Action to halt construction of a 300-foot high microwave tower by Michigan Bell at the northeast corner of Powell and Napier Roads in Plymouth Township has been started by Mr. and Mrs. Ossie Hinote, 51265 Powell Road.

The Hinotes, through their legal counsel of Draugelis and Ashton, have subpoenaed the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees, members of the Township Planning Commission and Building Inspector Matt McLellan in a show cause action before Circuit Court Judge James Canham on March 5.

The action asks for revocation of the building permit issued by McLellan several weeks ago upon orders of the Planning Commission following a lengthy public hearing and additional hearings before the Township Board and an earlier preliminary hearing before the Planning Commission.

The show cause order alleges that the proposed tower is being constructed in an area zoned agriculture and thus is non-conforming and that it constitutes a nuisance.

The petition contends that the tower endangers the safety and welfare of the Hinotes, reduces the value of their property and cuts off natural sunlight.

It further states that the building permit was unlawfully issued because it is a direct violation of the zoning ordinance.

The Plymouth Township Trustees in the monthly meeting last week instructed Township Attorney Earl Demel to represent all defendants in the course of action.

The proposed tower was bitterly assailed by Supervisor Roy Lindsay in the hearing before the Trustees. He attacked the proposal on the grounds that it would reduce property valuation and that it would cause future homeowners to think a long time before building in the immediate area.

Other members of the Board were in accord with his thoughts but the Planning Commission ordered the permit issued after a lengthy public hearing at which time the Hinotes complained about the proposed construction.

Mother, Son Hurt In Crash

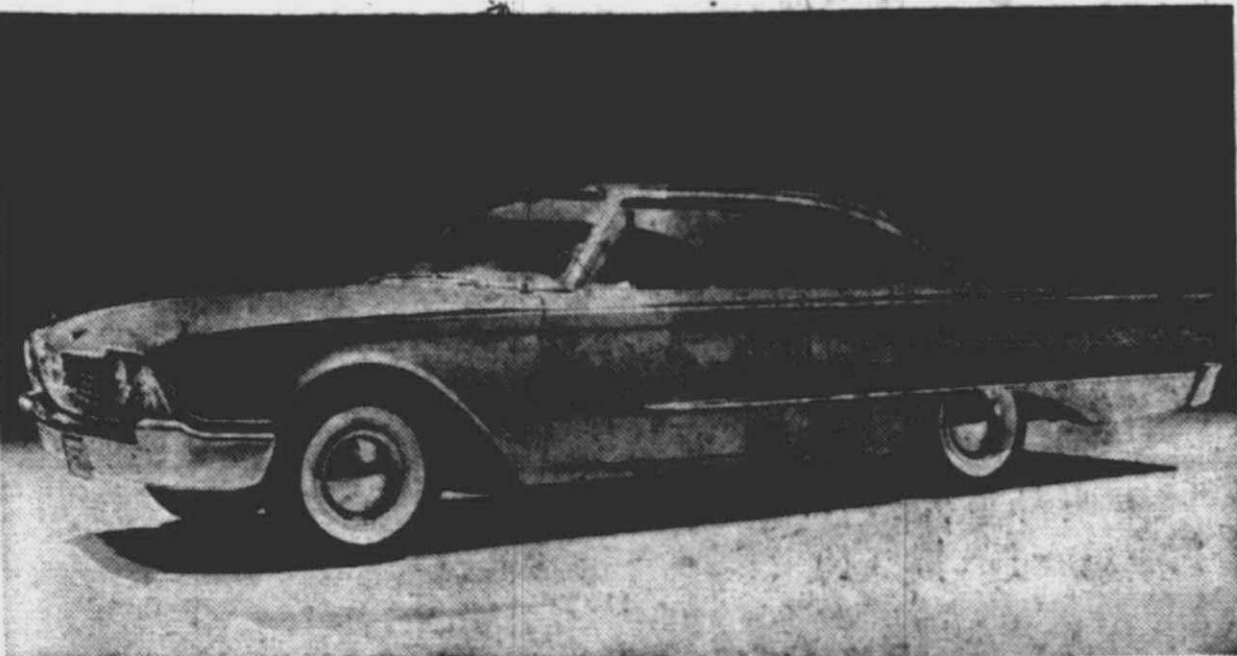

A young Northville mother and her two-year old son were painfully injured when her car allegedly ran a stop sign at the intersection of Ann Arbor Trail and Beck Road in Plymouth Township and struck a vehicle operated by John Immonen, 24, of Detroit, according to reports from the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol.

Mrs. Ann Lois Pratt, 23, of 760 Thayer, Northville, and her son, Charles, two, were taken to St. Mary Hospital in Livonia. Immonen also was taken to the same hospital but released after examination according to the Sheriff's reports.

Mrs. Pratt suffered bruises and lacerations of the legs and the youngster sustained severe body injuries, according to reports. Investigating officers reported Mrs. Pratt admitted she had ignored a stop sign and ran into Immonen's car.

Wonderland Will 'Sell' '60 Ford for 22 Cents

A 1960 Ford Starliner, fully equipped and thoroughly reconditioned, will be sold for 22 cents as the climax of a four-day sale event at Wonderland Center.

The car, a two-door hardtop, will be sold to the person whose name is selected in a drawing to be staged at 8 p.m. Monday, Feb. 22. The price includes all taxes and 1965 license plates.

Ernie Epps, promotion director for the 57-store center at Plymouth and Middlebelt, cautioned that the contest is open only to persons 18 years of age or older.

"We haven't forgotten the youngsters, however," Epps said. "A separate contest will be held to pick the boy or girl who will be able to buy a brand new deluxe bicycle for 22 cents."

The contests are being staged in conjunction with Wonderland's annual Washington's Birthday Sale, which ends Feb. 22. Nearly all of the huge center's stores feature drastic price-cuts, including hundreds of articles priced at 22 cents.

"This has proven to be our most exciting bargain event of the year," Epps continued. "Most stores have cut prices to cost and away below cost for this event."

Entry blanks for the car and bicycle can be obtained at most Wonderland stores and must be deposited before 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Entries for the car are to be deposited through the front window of the vehicle, which is now on display in the Wonderland mall. Bike entries go in a special entry box located in the center of the mall.

Epps said that if the "winner" of the car is present for the drawing, he will also be given the opportunity to purchase a 19" portable television set for 22 cents.

"If the winner is not present, a separate drawing will be held to pick the person who gets the TV set for 22 cents. Entries for the TV must be deposited at Wonderland's Good Housekeeping Shop.

The Ford was purchased from Bill Brown Sales, Livonia Ford

Dealer. It was carefully selected and then reconditioned by Brown's used car department. The vehicle is backed by the dealer's regular used car warranty.

Epps warned contestants to limit their entries to one per person. Everyone can register for the TV, automobile and bicycle, but no one will be permitted to enter more than once for each prize, he said.

Age limitations for the prizes are as follows: Automobile, 18 years or older; television, 18 years or older; and bicycle, 7 through 14.

All undesignated gifts from Livonia alumni will be earmarked for support of a $1,250,000 fund-raising effort for a new student center. Albion Alumni Association endorsed the student center project last June and announced it would conduct the campaign during next two years to take advantage of matching funds offered by a Ford Foundation challenge grant. Terms of the grant require Albion to match a $2 million award with $4 million in new funds by June 30, 1966. A 1941 graduate of Albion, Hart is employed with General Motors Photographic. He is married to the former Emily Ash, also an Albion graduate, and they have one son.

Firing to Open Saturday in Observer's Pin Meet

With a guaranteed first prize of $1,000, which could go as high as $2,500 with 1,000 entries, interest in the third annual Observer Newspaper-Merri-Bowl Lanes mixed doubles bowling tournament is at the highest peak in history with entries pouring in for all dates.

Firing opens Saturday (Feb. 20) and continues through Sunday, May 23 when the successors to the 1964 championship duo of Barbara Neville and David Mattox will be crowned. Tournament Director Mac Goldman and his assistant, Doris Maltby, report more entries on file thus far than at the midway point of the 1964 tourney when the winners divided $900. Goldman is guaranteeing the first three prizes of $1,000, $500 and $350 this year regardless of the number of entries. However, should the total reach 1,000, then he estimates the first three prizes at $2,500, $1,250 and $750.

The mixed doubles meet is a handicap affair with 400 scratch and 70 per cent handicap. The bowling fee of $10 per couple covers everything with $5 going into the prize fund, $3.30 for the bowling fees and $1.70 for tournament expenses.

Bowling will consist of three games over the same lanes and entrants may bowl more than once and cash in more than once provided they change partners each time.

The tourney will operate on a 70 per cent handicap with a limit of 120 pins per game based on the high average as of Dec. 31, 1964—a minimum of 21 games or the 1963-64 season averages will be accepted.

Entrants must present sanction cards at the time of bowling. Any bowler who falsifies his or her average forfeits all rights to any prize money. Prizes will be paid when averages of all prize winners have been verified.

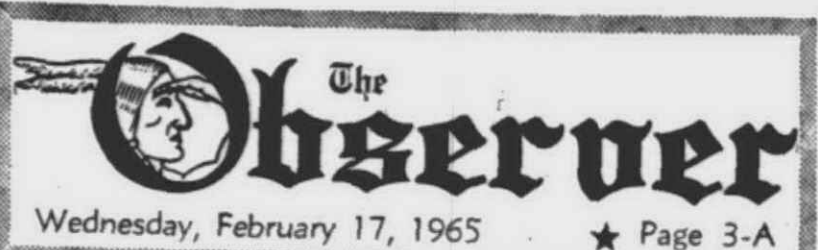

The rules committee reserves the right to refuse any entry and the decision of the rules committee is final. ABC and WIBC tournament play rules will apply in all instances not specifically covered by the announced tournament rules.

Entrants are warned that a change of reserved squad times must be requested five days in advance.

The time schedule is the same each Saturday and Sunday of the three-month long tournament and includes: 11 a.m., noon, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11 p.m.

In Bids For Federal Funds

Local Colleges Draw Big Blank

Schoolcraft College in the Northwest Wayne County Community College district and Oakland Community College were among 11 Michigan community colleges that failed to receive any funds in the allocations under the Higher Education Facilities Act.

This was brought to light last week when the Higher Education Facilities Commission in Lansing announced distribution of the $2.26 million available between Macomb County Community College and Ingham County Community College.

The announcement was a bitter blow to both Schoolcraft and Oakland College officials who thought they were in an advantageous position for grants.

The monies are to be used to help finance construction of academic facilities.

Schoolcraft sought $743,451 for the construction of multi-purpose classroom facility on the basis of 60 per cent from the college district and a 40 per cent grant from the federal government under the provisions of the Higher Education Facilities Act of 1963.

Dr. Eric Bradner, Schoolcraft president, received the bad news last week from Robert Cahow, staff director of the Higher Education Facilities Commission in Lansing.

The communication stated: "We regret to inform you that federal funds available under provisions of Section 103, Title I of the Higher Education Facilities Act of 1963, are not sufficient to provide a grant to assist in financing your multi-purpose classroom."

"The federal act allocation of 22 per cent or $2,262,998 for community college projects from the State's total allotment of $10,213,516 fell far short of meeting the needs of the community colleges."

"The guarantee of a grant equal to 40 per cent of the estimated eligible project development cost limited further the distribution of available funds. As was anticipated by many, the Commission is able to recommend funds for projects at two community colleges."

Macomb County Community College made application for $1,820,716 of the total estimated eligible project development cost of $4,551,791 which was granted on the basis of a total point score of 94 for the six standards set forth in the State Plan for determination of the relative priorities of projects submitted by the various colleges.

Ingham County Community College applied for $2,118,128 of a total estimated cost of $5,295,319 and received $422,282—all of the funds left in the federal allotment. Ingham had a total of 88 points followed by Muskegon and Henry Ford with 84 points each.

Schoolcraft was eighth in the ranks with 72 points and Oakland Community Community had 66 points for the Union Lake site and 48 for the Auburn Hills site.

Dr. Bradner was particularly disturbed by the failure of Schoolcraft to receive a higher point score.

"This means that we'll be left in the cold for another year," he said. "Ingham probably will be No. 1 since it received only a portion of its recommended federal share this year due to lack of funds and Muskegon and Henry Ford were way above Schoolcraft."

The points were accrued on the basis of six standards set forth in the State Plan for determination of the relative priorities of projects.

The six standards were:
1-A—Numerical increase FTE enrollment 1963-66
1-B—Percentage increase FTE enrollment 1963-66
2-A—Numerical increase square feet instructional and library facilities provided by project.

2-B—Percentage square feet instructional and library facilities provided by project.
3—Degree of utilization of existing facilities as evidenced by capacity-enrollment ratio.
4—Recency of previous grant award.
5—Project planning-construction status.
6—Availability of applicant's matching funds.

Schoolcraft Bells Go Back and Forth Across the Atlantic

The bells of Schoolcraft College are on their way but by the time they arrive on the campus from England they will have traveled more than 12,000 miles back and forth from Merrie England.

That's the information forwarded to Building and Grounds Supervisor Kenneth Burton by the John Taylor & Co. of Liverpool, England.

The bells were ordered last fall and it was first thought delivery would be by mid-January. That's the way it would have been but for the longshoremen's strike in New York City.

Officials of the John Taylor & Co. notified Burton the bells had been shipped via the SS. Carinthia on Jan. 17. However, due to the strike it was not possible to unload the vessel and all was shipped back to Liverpool with the westbound cargo aboard.

The Carinthia left Liverpool Feb. 11 for the second west-bound trip and it is believed the bells will be unloaded this time when the big ship arrives in New York Harbor on Feb. 17.

And shortly thereafter the bells which were donated by Plymouth banker and Mrs. Floyd Kehrl will be on the campus. The installation in the new tower is expected to take place sometime in April—naturally after the bells have arrived in New York, after traveling 12,000 miles, and after they have been unloaded on the campus at Haggerty and Seven Mile Roads in Livonia.

The number of homes in the Livonia School District has reached nearly half of the district's estimated saturation point, Assistant Superintendent of Schools Cecil H. Alford has reported.

There were 23,774 occupied homes in the district as of December 31, he said, a rise of 1,364 over the figure of 22,410 12 months earlier.

Eventually, there will be an estimated 49,987 homes in the district, he predicted.

The heaviest growth in the district occurred in Section 19, where 330 new homes were added in the year. A total of 178 was added in section 22 and 170 in section 20.

This chart shows the figures for each of the sections in Livonia (excluding section 1, which is in the Clarenceville School District) and including sections in Nankin Township, which are included in the Livonia School District.

New Mason

Bernard Mege, of 18477 Gillman, Livonia, has been accepted as a member of the Perfection Lodge, of the Masonic Order.

NEW PARTS and service center for customers in Western Wayne County was opened Monday by Sears at 29124 Ford Road in Garden City. The center, which will have a crew of 13 employees on hand to repair small electrical appliances, will be the headquarters for 40 service trucks to handle customers in the area. The new center, under the management of James King, was opened by Sears to take care of patrons of the Lincoln Park, Livonia Mall and Grand River stores. The service trucks will go down river and also as far north as the edge of Pontiac, handling all calls in that territory.

FILING ENTRY in the third annual Observer Newspapers-Merri-Bowl mixed doubles tournament are Mr. and Mrs. John Vagi, of 14818 Keppen, Allen Park. That estimated first prize of $2,500 has their attention and officials predict that the entry list will go over the 1,000 total needed to send the top prize to that figure. Action was slated to start over the weekend in the three-month long tourney.

GOP Women Key Committees

Oakland County Republican Chairman Dale A. Feet announced today he appointed Mrs. James (Rosemary) Dickerson, 973 Croydon, Rochester, chairman of the GOP County Welcome Committee.

He also appointed Mrs. Charles (Lib) Rosenberg, Royal Oak, Chairman of the County Government Study Committee. Currently Mrs. Rosenberg is representing the GOP as one of the co-sponsors of the Home Rule Forum Planning Committee. This is a Mott Foundation Program in cooperation with Oakland University.

In appointing Mrs. Dickerson as chairman of the Welcome Committee, Feet stated that this would be a plus effort by the GOP to reach the individual voters in Oakland County. "We hope to welcome every new resident of Oakland County," said Feet. "We also hope to be able to communicate with the new citizens, newly weds, graduates and returning servicemen and women." "Sort of like our own Welcome Wagon," he explained.

An active Republican, Mrs. Dickerson has served as a Neighbor-to-Neighbor Fund Drive Chairman and was the Volunteer Chairman of the Republican Women's Council. She and her husband, James Dickerson, an unsuccessful Congressional Primary candidate in 1964, live in Rochester with their three children.

CROWLEY'S

Dance To Support A. F. S.

Saturday evening, Feb. 20th, the third "Evening Gala" will be held at the Armenian Culture Centre, Northwestern Highway from 9:30 to 1 a.m. Proceeds from the dance will be used to bring foreign students to Farmington High School and North Farmington High School next fall.

An entertaining intermission program will be presented by Mrs. George (Kaye) Britton of Northwick Road, Farmington. Mrs. Britton's lovely voice has been heard by many audiences here and in Europe.

Her career started at the age of 2½ with her own radio program in Vancouver, B.C. At the age of 11, she went to Hollywood and became the stand-in for Jane Withers. She worked in many movies with such stars as Allan Jones, Deanna Durbin, Robert Taylor and Roddy Mac-

Dowell. After graduation from high school, Kaye went to Broadway and enjoyed a two-year performance in "Song of Norway," and this was followed by a tour in England. Back in the states she sang leading soprano roles in such shows as Carousel, Show Boat, Brigadoon, Bittersweet, Finian's Rainbow and many others. She has also done TV and radio work in many cities and has sang with the Vancouver Symphony, Seattle Symphony and Montreal Symphony. Kaye is not the only star in her family as her husband George was in light operatic productions such as Chocolate Soldier, Student Prince, Rose Marie and many others. His career was climaxed in 1951 when he starred on Broadway as Emile deBeque in South Pacific for two years. Mr. and Mrs. Britton and their three children—Sari, Jon and Bonnie, are now living in the Farmington area and have been for several years. For those wishing to attend, ticket chairmen for the event are Mrs. Tom Czubiak, 626-4373 and Mrs. Don McElroy, 474-4137.

and much, much more of the history and lore which has gone into the building of Livonia from the time it became a Township 130 years ago . . . through its incorporation as a city in 1950 . . . to its present standing as Michigan's second largest city! You'll even find a reproduction of The Livonian's first front page dated February 28, 1940.

You will want to keep this special edition as a permanent record of the heritage of a great city. Watch for the 25th Anniversary Edition of The Livonia Observer February 24, 1965.

Sensationalism And The Press

A distinguished editor, James A. Wechsler, of the New York Post, has had some things to say about our profession — which seemed to articulate some of our own philosophy, and we thought we would pass them along:

"Whenever serious students of the press gather, there are melancholy recitations about the menace of 'sensationalism' in journalism. What I have to say in these ensuing paragraphs must be frankly labeled self-serving, because the newspaper which I edit engages in extensive coverage of what some choose to call 'sensational' news and what we describe as 'human-interest stories.'

"I preface these remarks by saying the obvious: if there were no New York Times, it would have to be invented, and until it was, life would be almost unbearably difficult for those of us who run afternoon papers in New York. I concede ungrudgingly that no paper in the world makes a more conscientious effort to cover so much of the serious business of the universe.

"But to recognize the unique eminence of the Times is not to concede that journalism would have fulfilled all its potential role in American life if the Times, or some replica thereof, and nothing else, were published in every city. That would be a good thing, but it would not be the whole story of humanity in the middle of the 20th century.

"The news columns of the Christian Science Monitor totally reject the existence of murder, rape, incest, adultery, and other doleful tidings; they are dedicated, in effect, to the chronicle of the strivings of man as a political and cultural animal. The Times concedes, usually in obscure places, that the animal is more complicated, and, when he gets really out of hand, it may even give him an occasional front-page notice. But essentially the premise of such newspapers, whether carried to the Monitor's extreme or in the Times' more modest application of the same

...Mr. Roberts and the Law

Prof. Robert R. Palmer of Princeton, a great historian and a distinguished liberal, concedes that the Weimar Republic, which preceded the Hitler regime in Germany, may have been too liberal. That—in its passion for civil liberties—it made a fatal mistake in letting Hitler out of prison so soon after his attempted beer hall putsch.

History supports Prof. Palmer's thesis. But Germany in the 1930s was a special time and place. Its lessons hardly apply to us.

Unlike Germany then, America has deeply rooted democratic traditions. Its borders are safe. Its economy is sound. It has few extremists in its midst.

The danger to our freedom is from erosion. Our Constitution went to great lengths to insure the right of minority groups—no matter how extreme—to dissent against the majority view. Without this guarantee, the freedom of all of us will be in danger. Whenever this principle is violated, the freedom of all of us is made less secure.

In Farmington, last week, a strange old man named Russell Roberts was arrested for distributing literature of the American Nazi Party. He had come to the attention of that city's police after he allegedly had offered a 14-year-old boy 25 cents to distribute the material for him.

Roberts is not to be dismissed as a mere kook. According to the famous best seller, "Under Cover," he was one of the leading Nazis in Michigan in World War II. His record as such was so outstanding that he probably would have received the Iron Cross if Hitler had won.

Yet it makes no difference if this old man is a cunning propagandist for George Lincoln Rockwell or a kook. The issue is his right, regardless of his station in life, to enjoy the basic democratic rights of all Americans.

The United States Constitution makes no distinction between classes of people or political or religious viewpoints when it guarantees freedom of speech, of the press, of religion, of assembly.

view, is that there is something improper about the use of newspaper for the unveiling of what might be called the private, as distinguished from the public, activity of the species.

"Throughout the profession this view of life is accorded mingled awe and reverence, and journalism students are told in effect that success in life means achievement of that degree of fiscal stability which permits a newspaper to employ the standards of exclusion that govern the news columns of the Times, if not those of the Monitor.

"But with the already-stated respect I hold for the positive services rendered by both papers, I seriously question whether such puritanism per se—I know of no more precise phrase to characterize this policy—is unalloyed virtue. In a decade, for example, which sociology may remember most for the emergence of the Kinsey reports on the sexual behavior of American males and females, the files of the Times seem full of omissions and inadequacies. Surely they would be painfully meager material for any historian trying to describe what life was really like in America at this juncture. . . .

"So-called tabloid journalism can be maudlin, surface, one dimensional; when it is, it can be simply a daily variation of True Confessions or of Hollywood Romance. Its deficiencies can be painful and flagrant. But that is not because it deals with intimacies and aberrations, but because it deals with them according to lazy city-desk formulae rather than with the curiosity any writer ought to bring to his craft. In part the pressure of speed makes it easier to write the sentimental surface story rather than to find some glimpse of truth, and nothing can be more unsatisfying than the 'human-interest' feature so barely human that it is unworthy of interest.

"A newspaper, it has been said often, is the first draft of history; but it can also provide, at its best, the first draft—or at least the raw material—of plays and novels and, in doing so, reveal a good deal more about its time than a dry chronicle of politics and economics."

These are universal rights of all Americans, and the only modification has come when the Courts held that a "clear and present danger" necessitates some tempering. (The old 'yelling fire in a crowded theater' idea).

This is why we are concerned today about the action taken by the Oakland County Prosecutor in calling for the arrest of this man.

Certainly no one has stronger feelings of abhorrence than do we toward the ugly racist tracts which this man allegedly distributed. But we feel a twinge of guilt today, of insecurity in our system, that we have to use the same tactics that Roberts and his ilk would use on the rest of us if they ever gained power.

Is our society so weak, our people so irrational that we have no better tactics to use in fighting fascism than its own tools?

The thing that makes democracy so viable, so buoyant, is its willingness to tolerate the full spectrum of ideas and its ultimate faith in its people to choose the best of these ideas. Locking up ideas, no matter how abhorred; locking up men, no matter how distasteful, kills this viability and harms our cause.

We join with the American Civil Liberties Union, on whose Board our late publisher Paul Chandler served, in protesting the arrest of Russell Roberts.

We agree with the ACLU wholeheartedly when it says: "The expressions allegedly published by Russell Roberts may well be offensive and hateful, still it is better that they be openly expressed and therefore made accessible to challenge and exhortation. In general, a free society in dealing with ideas whatever their merit or lack thereof must put its trust in public wisdom rather than in repressive legislation or criminal prosecution."

We will continue to challenge and exhortate the kinds of ideas which Roberts and others espouse. But we prefer to do this in the free columns of our newspaper in a free society—not in an atmosphere of repression and fear.

READER SPEAKS UP:

Parks Issue Discussed

Editor: I would like to take this opportunity to express my feelings toward the Proposed Park Site Acquisition being put forth to the Citizens of Livonia in this year's election.

As President of the Merriman Estates Civic Association, Inc., I would like to point out that our area overwhelmingly defeated this Proposal the last time it appeared on the Ballot and I once again urge not only my Association but all the others in the City of Livonia to do likewise unless they receive answers to the following questions from the heads of the Departments involved and not from any group of citizens which are promoting the passage of this Proposal.

1. Will each Park Site be developed and what will it contain; such as swings, slides, climbing bars, merry-go-rounds, swimming pool, ice skating rink, baseball diamonds, etc., and will all this be furnished out of the monies being asked for in this election?

2. Will these parks be adequately maintained by the D.P.W., that is picking up all litter daily, weekly, or monthly, such as loose papers, bottles, tin cans, and any other debris deposited in the park?

3. Will the Livonia Police Dept. patrol these Park Sites both day and night to prevent gangs from congregating and disturbing people, chasing the little children off when they are using the park facilities and to prevent destruction of any or all facilities in the park?

4. Will these parks be planted grass? Will the grass be cut weekly, monthly, or not at all as some are now?

5. Will some of the larger park sites contain drinking fountains, rest-rooms, and walk-through sidewalks?

6. Will the City of Livonia assume the responsibility in the event of an injury sustained by a child or adult or any damages to neighboring residents bordering these park sites?

7. Will there be sufficient lighting installed to prevent any robbery or attacks on person or persons walking by or through the park area at night?

Therefore, I urge both newspapers publish this letter on the FRONT PAGE of their papers as they have given their own Editorial and Organizations who favor adoption of this Proposal on Park Sites.

JOHN MOLNAR, Pres. Merriman Estates Civic Association, Inc.

Press Comment

Editor: It was gratifying indeed to read on the front page of your Feb. 10 issue the report of the action taken by the Redford Township Democrats, following the gross misrepresentation of facts by the "Township News" concerning a township officeholder.

The Democratic resolution was liberal enough to refer to the item as an "editorial attack," but in our opinion editorials belong on the editorial page and not on the front page, where the reader expects to see news items, items based on fact and not on vicious rumors. The left-handed "retraction" in the newspaper's next issue was an insult to any intelligent reader's basic understanding of an apology, and serves to demonstrate further the editor's opinion of his readers' mentality.

To the "red-faced" dwellers of township hall we have only this warning—look to your own affairs—we never know when a familiar voice may say "Smile, you're on Candid Camera."

SAGITTARIUS

Eradicating 'Filth'

Editor: I am in favor of a positive approach to parental censorship. If parents expose their youngsters to good literature and good novels, the children will see the inferiority of the indecent. By instilling a set of proper values in the children while they are young, parents will not have such a great worry when the children reach adolescence.

NOREEN HAGGERTY MADONNA COLLEGE LIVONIA, MICHIGAN

Editor: I am 100 per cent behind Myra Chandler on her article on parental censorship. Just what does it take to convince parents that their children are also a form of dynamite which can be used for good or evil? And only a parent has the privilege, right and duty, to set the flame.

JOAN GOSTOMSKI MADONNA COLLEGE LIVONIA, MICHIGAN

"Parents! It's Up to You" a powerful article in the Feb. 3 issue of THE OBSERVER, certainly hit home about neglected parental obligations. Of special note was the suggestion of first banning smutty books from parents' reading lists and then from those of their children.

I do hope Mrs. Chandler's examples will stir up some thought in typical American homes where parental restriction is often limited to the "Make sure you're in before eleven" command. If the old adage "Show me what you read, and I'll show you what you're worth" still holds today, just what is the worth of morally spineless youth, dangerously indifferent parents, or complacently unconcerned book-sellers?

Three cheers for Mrs. Chandler's clear perception of the problem. A practical conclusion: What about one-hour-a-week as family reading night?

SISTER MARY BERNETTA, CSSF—STUDENT, MADONNA COLLEGE

Editor: Mrs. Chandler's column of Feb. 3 stirs up the dying embers left cold by the majority of us: citizens, teachers, and most important, parents.

Rather than set out to effect a solution, too many of us would prefer to overlook the problem. On the other hand, as Mrs. Chandler has pointed out, there are those who join committees and the like whose aim is to eradicate such filth on a large scale pattern. How often though, do these same people fail to see the very object of their disgust creeping in the corners of their own homes, and leave this there to invade the minds of their own children.

Rather than rule out such organizations of decency, let us encourage them, but give our time and effort only after we have cleared our homes of this dirt. The example of parents far excels their vocal admonitions.

SISTER ADELE MASSON, CSSF MADONNA COLLEGE

Against Parks

Editor: It is ridiculous for Mayor Moelke to request monies for additional park sites as he neglects and does not care for the park area already under his jurisdiction. A case in point is as follows:

Our homes are adjacent to the Botsford Park ravine area which is at present flooded, infested with rats and polluted water. Our children must walk through this area to attend the public elementary school.

My neighbors and myself have petitioned the city, called the DPW and the Mayor's office for the last five years. We have received no co-operation.

Take care of this problem Mr. Mayor before you expect your citizens to approve more land.

Yours truly, JANET ROSEN

Observing the Scene...

By MYRA CHANDLER It's too late in Redford Township. A short-sighted supervisor about 15 years ago pulled the rug out from under conscientious citizens who tried to plan a community. I remember them and him.

In Farmington they are following a master plan and officials believe in it and are on target. In Farmington Township officials are looking ahead and have accepted a Federal grant to be used for planning. The City of Farmington is presently preparing to rezone. It is being fought, of course.

It is about the last-ditch effort and fight in Livonia that concerns us most this week. The struggle will continue until April when the Livonia taxpayers will be asked to approve purchase of 1200 acres for a recreation area in Livonia. The cost will be approximately five to seven dollars per year for the average home owner. Livonia can still be saved as a good city; one that will hold its residents, not a mere stop-over place for those seeking up and "out."

Before you groan — hear me out. Awhile back, when this 1200 acres was still a gleam in a builder's eye, a group of Livonia men — one a councilman, one a City planner, another a business man, met informally. They got to figuring just how much it was going to cost to live in Livonia when the city reached its saturation point with homes and residents, 200,000 people—double what it is now. They calculated it would mean at least another two high schools, six junior highs; 23 elementary schools. Astronomical!

As a jest, one suggested: "Why doesn't the City purchase the available land left? It would be far cheaper in the long run." At first they all chuckled. Then they got busy with the pencil and decided it was by far the cheapest thing to do just that. In most cases when men of purpose meet — action follows. This is exactly how the idea was born.

Livonians will hear the matter discussed in the next few weeks — both pro and con.

But none of the critics can alter the above facts. Remember we are always in the struggle between high principle and the quest for money. There is much money to be made in Livonia and there are those always pushing for "continuous growth," housing developments, more apartments.

There is a case history, I wish people could read about concerning what used to be a pleasant place to live called Forest Hills in New York — that sprawling city went from 44,000 to 125,000 residents.

Today Forest Hills has no new trees, almost no new parks. It narrowed its sidewalks along its main artery to unsnarl traffic; parking space is non-existent; schools are jammed with the local high school on triple session and new elementaries are over-crowded the day they open their doors. Every scrap of land in this community has been grabbed up and used for homes and apartment houses. No planning — just a network of roads, cement and dwellings. And lower real estate values.

Figure it out for yourself. In Livonia there are 1200 acres involved. There can be four houses built on an acre. Houses that have children need police and fire protection, garbage pick-up, etc. Livonia does not have to develop this land immediately but if it doesn't buy it now, it will vanish into people.

Livonia can be a well rounded community of good balance or it can be another Forest Hills. It's up to us — and NOW is our chance. Talk and think it over.

PICTURE TALK by Les Wilson TO THE TWO WHO DON'T Somewhere in the volumes of information that comes to me in the mail, I read that 8 out of 10 people who own movie cameras also own movie projectors. To them, a tip of the hat. But to the 2 out of 10 owners of movie cameras who have not yet bought projectors, I now direct myself. Bolex builds an especially fine 8mm projector that gets you started RIGHT on an absorbing pastime. It's the Bolex 8 Movie Projector, Model 18-5. Let me tell you something about it. Naturally, it's self-threading. Just tuck the end of the film into a slot and the projector takes it from there. . . . even starts the film onto the take-up reel. A single rotary switch controls "on," "off," lamp and power rewind. A powerful 50-watt projection lamp gives bright pictures up to 4 feet wide. What's more, you can show 400 feet of film at a time. The whole unit is about the size of an automatic toaster and weighs only six pounds. Light enough to take with you when you go on visits. And cost? Only 129.50 will make you the proud owner of this quality projector. Why not let me demonstrate it? At the same time, let me show you a low-cost film splicer so you can put together your 50-foot sections of film into 400-foot reels. You'll be pleasantly surprised at how little it costs to set yourself up with this fine projector and some recommended accessories. Consumers Plans $5.5 Million Expansion Program

More than $5.5 million will be invested by Consumers Power Company in its West Wayne division during 1965 to expand and improve natural gas service to its customers, West Wayne Division Manager James P. Thomas, Jr. announced.

Thomas said the division, encompassing the communities of Wayne, Plymouth, Northville, Farmington, Livonia and others, will add 3,750 new gas customers during the year. To bring service to these, more than 50 miles of new gas distribution mains will be installed in the division service area. In addition, improvements to eight miles of older mains, affecting some 200 existing gas customers, will also be completed during the year. In a related project, improvements to equipment at the company's Northville gas fields and gas compressor station will also be made, increasing the efficiency of this key installation in the company's state-wide gas transmission system. Specific projects listed by Thomas include the installation of six miles of new six- and eight-inch gas main along Farmington Road from Plymouth Road to Eight Mile in Livonia, making way for the proposed widening of Farmington Road. Numerous other projects of a technical nature will also be completed during the year, to maintain efficient service and assist the orderly growth of the gas system to keep up with the increasing use of natural gas by area customers. Thomas said the West Wayne division expansion program is part of Consumers Power Company's general 1965 improvement program, in which the company is investing $92 million on projects throughout its 66-county service area in Michigan's Lower Peninsula. He said that in 1964, Consumers spent just over $2 million in new construction projects in its West Wayne division. Want ads get quick results!

ROBERTS Said Farrell Roberts: "I want to take this opportunity to thank all the many volunteer workers who have helped in bringing victory in the primary campaign. It is my sincere desire to again serve the needs of the people of Michigan and of this 14th State Senate District.

"The Republican Party must continue to sponsor the same type of constructive and responsible legislation which has been the hall mark of the Romney administration. I hope that all Republicans will combine their efforts to retain this critical senate seat."

McNAMARA Said Edward McNamara: "I am heartened by the vote I have received from the people of the 14th Senatorial District. I know these results are the product of the strenuous efforts by my supporters, and I would like to take this opportunity to thank them.

"I would like to congratulate my two opponents on their campaigns. We are united in the fight to give this District a voice which will truly represent our suburbs in the State Senate in Lansing.

"In the final election, I would like to see a campaign based on issues. I believe the two most important ones will be education and fiscal reform.

"Our children must be given the best possible education, and at the same time we must hold the line on property taxes. Republicans often talk about this, but do little to implement their words.

"I intend to campaign on a platform spearheading greater state aid to education coupled with overall fiscal reform."

The meeting is the lone night session planned by the Businessmen's Forum for the year and Chairman Dr. Ray Barber and Carl Pursell are looking forward to an audience of more than 250.

"We believe this is one of the most important sessions planned thus far by the Forum," said Dr. Barber. "The Lt. Governor's office had informed us he will discuss a great many things that will be of interest to residents of this community."

Reservations are being accepted at the Chamber of Commerce offices, 453-1540 and those planning to attend are urged to make the fact known as soon as possible.

Approved payment of a photographic bill for $320 to John Gaffield for work in 1962 taking pictures of industrial plants, township facilities, the fire department and other pertinent scenes for a presentation before the Plymouth Rotary Club. Gaffield delayed presenting the bill until he had taken some additional pictures for the Board. The bill was approved by a 5-0 vote with Clerk McEwen abstaining.

Tower

(Continued from Page 1) man Irving Rozian asked for and received information from the University of Michigan telling of the need and value of the tower for future educational television networks and representatives of Michigan Bell stressed the importance of a microwave network in case of a national emergency that might blackout communications in the Metropolitan Detroit area.

After careful consideration, the Planning Commission deemed the tower important to the future and ordered the permit, issued.

Plymouth Assembly For Equal Opportunity

I BELIEVE that the inalienable rights designated in the Bill of Rights should be assured to all Americans; that all persons in America should be entitled to equal opportunities in education, housing, and occupation without restrictions based on race, religion, or national origin. It is important for all persons who believe this to support each other and the legally constituted authorities in keeping such restrictions from our community. While these rights and opportunities are assured by the new Michigan constitution and enduring support of the citizenry. Therefore, I PLEDGE MYSELF to welcome to my neighborhood any responsible person of whatever race, religion, or national origin; and I will work with him to build, improve, and maintain a community which is good for all.

I understand that the Plymouth Assembly for Equal Opportunity may or may not publish my name together with not less than four hundred other names sometime in the future.

Bulk Mailers to Begin Zip Code Sorting in 1967

Bulk second and third class mailers will have nearly two years—until Jan. 1, 1967—before they are required to begin presorting their mail by ZIP Code, Postmaster General John A. Gronouski announced.

Regulations requiring presorting by bulk mailers were first established nearly 40 years ago. The application of ZIP Code to those regulations is the first major change since the regulations were established.

The new ruling covers newspapers, magazines and periodicals in the second class category, and advertising matter, books and certain types of merchandise in third class.

A total of 275,000 mail users fall into these two categories. Combined, they generate annually more than 27 billion pieces of mail—39 per cent of the 70 billion pieces processed during the past fiscal year by the Post Office Department.

Purpose of the ruling is twofold, the Postmaster General explained at a Washington Conference of the Direct Mail Advertising Association at the Hotel Statler Hilton:

1. To eliminate the sorting that otherwise would have to be done at the post office of origin. Virtually all of the mail will flow into the postal stream without entering the originating post office.
2. To bypass the cluttered "gateway" post offices in almost every state. The mail will be dispatched directly to the sectional center nearest the point of destination.

This cost saving operation, Gronouski predicted, will produce faster, more efficient service of second and third class mail, and this in turn will benefit all types of mail.

Bulk second and third class mailers who fail to meet the Jan. 1, 1967 deadline will be charged at the single price, rather than at the preferential

It is not just happenstance that the Antique Show and Sale held during Plymouth's Fall Festival already has the reputation of being one of the finest in the state. The success of the '63 and '64 ventures were the results of organization and hard work.

Early this year, at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Jenkins, plans got under way to make this year's show even more attractive to both the dealers and the public.

The chairmen and their committees have now been organized. General chairman of the Antique Mart (note slight change in title) is Mrs. John Moehele. Acting in an advisory capacity and props chairman will be Mrs. Ray Hulce, Mrs. Harold Geunther is secretary-treasurer.

Committee chairmen are: Mrs. Harvey Troutman—decorations, Mrs. George Johnson—publicity, Mrs. Robert Jenkins—food and hostesses, Mrs. W. R. Augustine—dealers, Mrs. Walter Beglinger and Mrs. Carl Schultheis—props and buildings.

Rights Group Is Told of Law Enforcement in Area

Assurance that law enforcement officers, under their command would uphold the oath they had taken when sworn in and enforce the law in racial disputes, was given to members of the Plymouth Assembly for Equal Opportunity by Kenneth Fisher, Plymouth's Director of Public Safety, and Richard Novak, Deputy Inspector of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, at the Plymouth High auditorium.

They were speakers in the third of a series of four lectures sponsored by the Assembly. The series concludes on Thursday, Feb. 25 when School Supt. Russell Isbister discusses "Equal Opportunities as Applied to Plymouth Schools."

Novak was substituting for Inspector Daniel Martin who was unable to attend because of illness.

Both Fisher and Novak emphasized that the law is intended to protect all citizens and their properties regardless of color or creed.

People who are continually hunting work seldom find it.

DPW News and Notes

By Supt. Joseph Bida
Plymouth Dept. Public Works

The past week found the Department of Public Works busy patching streets and in several areas draining high water due to the heavy rain and the thawing of the snow and ice.

A 1 1/2" water tap was installed at 101 Industrial Drive, a 3/4" water tap at 105 N. Union and a storm sewer main was unplugged on Roe Street east of Hamilton.

Water had to be pumped out from a low spot on Blunk Avenue at the north end of the street because of their being no storm sewer there. Also, water was drained in the alley west of Sunset because of new construction.

A drainage problem was handled at Junction and Ann Street. A storm sewer was installed on Goldsmith between Lena and Sheldon Road.

Effective March 1, all alley pickups of garbage and rubbish will be made at the curb until further notice. Due to the fact of thawing and also spring rains which will make the alleys very muddy.

Four funerals were held out at Riverside Cemetery.

At this time I would like to thank my capable staff for carrying the column for me during my illness.

Plymouth Twp. Board Honors George Huger

A resolution, honoring the memory of the late George Huger, plumbing inspector of the Township, was passed and read by members of the Plymouth Township Board on last week's meeting.

"George Huger was born in New Hudson, Mich., on July 19, 1900, and was a resident of this area during his entire life.

"Inspector Huger commenced work for the Township on March 10, 1964 and during the past year service this community faithfully and conscientiously which position he held until his untimely death.

"To perpetuate the memory of George F. Huger and his service to this Township which benefited the citizenry thereof.

"Now therefore be it resolved, this 9th day of February, 1965, that this resolution be spread at length upon the minutes of this month's proceedings."

Activities of Senior Citizens in Plymouth

By Esther Weigel
The Senior Citizens Club of Plymouth was saddened by the recent deaths of two of its devoted and active members—Mrs. Mildred Collins of Plymouth on Feb. 4 and Prosper Van Hellemont of Northville on Feb. 11.

Vice President Grant Camphausen has returned to the club after a six month absence due to surgery and a long period of convalescence.

At the last meeting, members devoted most of the conversation to the recent ice conditions and excess water many encountered while walking around the streets. But with the temperatures up in the 50s again and sunny skies, the members settled back to an afternoon of cards and delicious refreshments served by Mrs. Mildred Higgins and her committee.

The club will celebrate February birthdays on Thursday, Feb. 18. The next pot luck will be held at 12:30 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 25.

Readers 'Speak Up' on Important Community Issues

Editor:
In a full page pre-election ad signed by Mr. Horace Engler, Chairman of the Redford Township Republican Club, Water Department Superintendent, Sewer Department Superintendent, Building Department Superintendent, D.P.W. Department Superintendent, AND Public Services Officer, Mr. Engler stated, "The Redford Township Water Department now owes $3,715,639.00 for Bond Retirement. There is NO Surplus of Monies in the Redford Township Water Department." End of exact quote.

It was therefore with some amazement that I read this past week that Mr. McDonald proposed a six-point water improvement program at an estimated cost of $2,880,000.00!

The public should be told that the 3.7 million dollars we now owe to various Bonding Companies are in non-cancellable, 40-year bonds. Some do not expire until the year 2001. They cannot be paid off prior to their expiration date without heavy financial penalty.

The public should also be told that in order to float any new Water Department Bonds, certain portions of our water bills must be dedicated to Bond Retirement Funds set up for this purpose.

According to his own figures, Mr. McDonald is proposing this program with the full knowledge that we will be indebted at least 6.5 million dollars through our water bills! This without voice or vote of the people!

Mr. McDonald states that he effected a $100,000.00 savings in the Water Department last year. If this is true, why were our water rates increased 30%? Mr. McDonald also stated that the amount of water used was up 30% and the maintenance costs were down from the previous year.

Remembering that the man of many, many jobs and much, much influence, Mr. Horace Engler publicly stated there is no Water Department Surplus, we ask the question, who is lying—Engler or McDonald? Or could it be both of them?

NATHANIEL BANKS

Parks for Citizens

Editor:
As chairman of the group known as Livonia Citizens for Livonia Parks, I would like to take this means to congratulate the City Council for its wisdom in resolving to place the Parks Bonding Proposal on the April 5th Ballot. Such action gives the people of Livonia another opportunity to determine a part of the city's future—whether we preserve a part of our natural beauty for recreation of young and adult citizens or whether to permit these lands to slip away to asphalt, concrete, and mortar.

Especially deserving of praise are Mr. McNamara for presenting the resolution, Dr. Allen for his supporting statement, Mr. Dooley for his appeal to communication media to present the facts, Mr. McCann for his support despite some reservations about specifics, and Mr. Kleiner for his personal endorsement and statement that he would actively support the proposition.

Consolation is derived, too, from Mr. Daugherty, despite his dissent, since he stated that he was not against procuring land for parks, but objected to the language of the proposition.

Gentlemen, the citizens respect statesmanship at all levels of government. You have won many friends.

Dominick A. Taddonio
Chairman

Goodfellows Thanks

Editor:
With this 1964 Christmas Season now behind us, the Farmington Goodfellows would like to pause and say thank you to the many organizations and individuals that made this year's program the success it was.

In all, 147 families were investigated and 127—of these representing over 700 children and parents were helped in one way or another. Approximately 130 boxes of toys, 175 food baskets, and certificates in excess of $2,500 redeemable for clothing, toys and food were distributed to these needy families.

To mention the names of all who participated in a project of this magnitude would indeed be a lengthy list, so at the risk of omitting someone, we'd just like to say a blanket THANK YOU to everyone in the community who helped the Farmington Goodfellows achieve their goal of "No Child in Farmington without a Christmas in 1964!"

To Officeholders

Editor:
It is indeed unfortunate that a man in public office, by virtue of his position, can and does exert his influence upon a large number of people. It is indeed unfortunate when such a man does not bring to the office the high sense of purpose and responsibility public service demands. Too often, the man exploits the office using it as a means to divide and alienate—too often the man speaks the words of another — assuming a position contrary to the best interests of the people, and so distorts the truth that the seeds of doubt and distrust are implanted without thought or question.

Too many public officials misinterpret their duties—too many misunderstand their obligation to represent and serve the public. Too few exercise the good judgement to differentiate between factual evaluation and prejudiced interpretation.

To those who serve with principle and honest judgement, this is not intended. A READER

Tips for Plumbing Problems

"If your water closet (toilet) tank fills too much or not enough, try bending the rod attached to the metal float upward or downward."

This is one among scores of handy tips included in the authoritative booklet, "Plumbing Care & Repair."

The booklet covers 20 categories—everything from drains, fittings and water closets to thawing and preventing frozen pipes, noises in the plumbing system, and draining the plumbing in a vacant house.

A few more of the suggestions included:

- "Periodically check the U-trap beneath sinks and lavatories for any potentially clogging materials."
- "Use a 'plumbers friend,' a plunger, to clear simple clogged drain lines."
- "Flushing hot water down the kitchen and bathroom drains each day is an excellent way to prevent clogging."
- "An uneven shower spray can often be remedied by removing the face of the shower head, cleaning its back surface and freeing the holes with a large needle."

"The best way to thaw frozen pipes is to wrap heavy cloths around them."

To receive this valuable booklet, send 15c, your name and address to the Plumbing-Heating & Cooling Information Bureau, 35 East Wacker Drive, Chicago, Illinois 60601. Ask for it by name, "Plumbing Care & Repair."

Homes of Future Will Cost Less And Offer More

With the cost of living spiraling ever upward, it may seem unlikely that prices of homes will ever take a downturn. However, with many revolutionary new building materials and techniques being developed today, it is evident that homes of the future not only will cost less but also will offer many new and practical luxuries and conveniences to make living easier.

A survey among leading builders, architects and manufacturers of building materials throughout the country shows that homes built in the 1970s may cost as much as 25 per cent less than today's homes.

One of the most significant economies will come in the form of "pre-assembled rooms." Complete rooms—fully equipped with floor and wall coverings and all the trimmings—will be available in a wide range of sizes and shapes with many door and window combinations so they can be put together to form a home just as a child fits together the pieces of a jigsaw puzzle.

Another innovation in the offing is plastic houses. A special liquid plastic is being developed which can be sprayed over a steel mesh frame pre-assembled in almost any shape desired. The plastic will form a streamlined, sturdy exterior shell that never requires painting.

Inside the house, flexibility in room design will be built-in through new materials and methods as well as some current-day furnishings. Removable wallpaper will permit instant redecorating.

Powerful, battery-operated light fixtures will permit their relocation without need for electrical outlets. Portable area dividers such as today's Panelaire grillework room dividers which are available at lumber yards will continue to be used extensively to permit flexibility in interior arrangements.

This grillework also will be used to form entire interior walls that permit a ready flow of light, air and heat, yet are easily movable through tension clips that secure the walls in a variety of locations.

In kitchens, new appliances are in research stages today that will permit push-button meal preparation, from peeling potatoes to serving the meal.

Many functions also will be performed by voice control. Vocal commands will turn on and adjust lights, water taps, radios, television and stereo sets, open and close doors and windows, start the washing machine or garbage disposal and even bring forth an extension arm carrying desired apparel from clothes closet.

The do-it-yourself trend will become even more popular in homes of the future. However, many home improvement projects will be made easier through the use of kits.

Materials for furniture as well as such larger projects as paneling walls will be available in "super kits" of the future.

Home Fixup Pays Family Three Ways

Three basic reasons are advanced for keeping your home up-to-date. They are:

1. For the sake of comfortable living for all members of the family.
2. To maintain an increase the value of the property.
3. To take care of special situations, such as a permanent guest or departing children.

"One or all three reasons are sufficient for the think-ahead family to undertake a planned program of home improvement," suggests John Concord, housing expert at Masonite Corporation.

"When a widowed sister or mother requires a home, for instance, the possibilities range from an apartment in the attic or basement to an efficiency room in an attached garage."

First on the list is comfortable living for family members. This might mean a study for a high school student in his own room or in an attic hide-away; it could put an office for Dad in the basement or a sewing center for Mom in a closet or other available space, such as a room center. Thousands of families who have home improvement projects in work or planned are using Royalcote decorator hardboard panels because they are prefinished, easy to handle and simple to maintain.

These wood-grained panels, available in two shades of oak, two of cherry, three of walnut, plus teak, pecan and birch, will go over existing walls or wall studs. Color-matched nails or adhesive, wood or metal moldings and putty stick make their application a pleasure.

Study Room

Tiny, 8x8 foot room can make an ideal study for children or the man of the house. Panel one inside wall with tongue-and-groove sugar pine boards and install wall-hung shelving on metal brackets. Build T-shaped desk against this wall so that two people may use it at once.

Well-Planned Children's Room Can Perform Many Functions

A children's room should be much more than a bedroom. This is even more true if two school age children share a room.

With proper planning a children's room also can include a study and hobby work section... play area... and bathroom. Larger homes with plenty of space upstairs have the potential for these "bedroom living centers."

In some cases, of course, two smaller bedrooms can be consolidated into one larger, more flexible area. Ever-popular bunk beds are a good way to conserve space. To make the bathroom more accessible, another door could be added so that the children can enter directly. If space permits, a small bathroom with shower could be included in the remodeling.

Robert Huff, home improvement director for Marlite paneling, points out that older houses with a third floor or an irregular-shaped room have a real potential for a children's living center.

"By providing a haven for the children," Huff says, "Mom and Dad will be able to enjoy their leisure in the living room of the house."

If study areas are provided in the children's room, uninterrupted attention can be given to homework assignments. In addition, the area also can be used to entertain friends away from the rest of the family."

The decorative theme in a children's room is most important, Huff says, and he suggests that the family have a "council" when planning the area. Ideas for equipment, furnishings and color combinations should be discussed thoroughly before construction work is started.

"Don't be afraid to alter the layout of an area. Divider walls, for instance, can be put up quickly, even by a handyman. Easy-to-handle Marlite planks can be put up right over new framing."

Tailor the decorative treatment to the children who will be using the room, the home improvement expert advises. Boys like a rugged, masculine decor. A nautical or western theme might be appropriate. Woodgrain walls, accented by several appropriate accessories, will help create a particular theme.

Girls will want a more feminine decor, of course, and it is simple to create one with pastels or an interesting pattern, such as the gold lace design available on Marlite planks.

Marlite, which is a plastic-finished hardboard, is ideal for children's rooms because it is highly resistant to hard wear and stains. It can be cleaned with a damp or sudsy cloth. This washable paneling never requires painting or refinishing.

Raiders Battle Groves With Flag at Stake

Can North Farmington do it? That's the question as Coach Dick Wilson readies his basketball team to meet Birmingham Groves Friday night.

If the North Farmington prep cagers ever were faced with a "MUST" game, this one is it. Why? Simple. Groves presently leads the Northwest Suburban League with a record of seven wins and one defeat.

North Farmington is second with six victories and two defeats.

Only two games remain on the league schedule for both teams.

All of which means: 1—If Groves wins Friday night, the Birmingham team will hoist up the flag as undisputed league champs for 1964-65.

2—If North Farmington, wins, the two teams will be ted for the top slot and whether they share the crown would hinge on what happened a week from Friday in the closing contests of the conference grind.

"There's no question we'll be ready for Groves," declared Wilson Monday.

"Nobody has to tell our boys how important the game will be."

Wilson would like to see North Farmington get off against Groves in the same fashion the Raiders did last Friday against Franklin.

Against the Livonians, North Farmington sprang on top, 19-7, by the end of the first quarter.

In the eight-minute segment, Rick Schultz notched eight points and Kirk Schumacher six.

Meantime, Franklin was held to just three baskets and one free throw.

In the second period, North Farmington kept right on rolling, making 20 points to Franklin's eight.

There was no slowing down North Farmington in the third period when the victors outscored Franklin, 23-14.

Ten North Farmington players broke into the scoring column with Schultz getting 17 on six baskets and five free throws to pace the way. Rick Lorenz was next for the victors with 6-3-15.

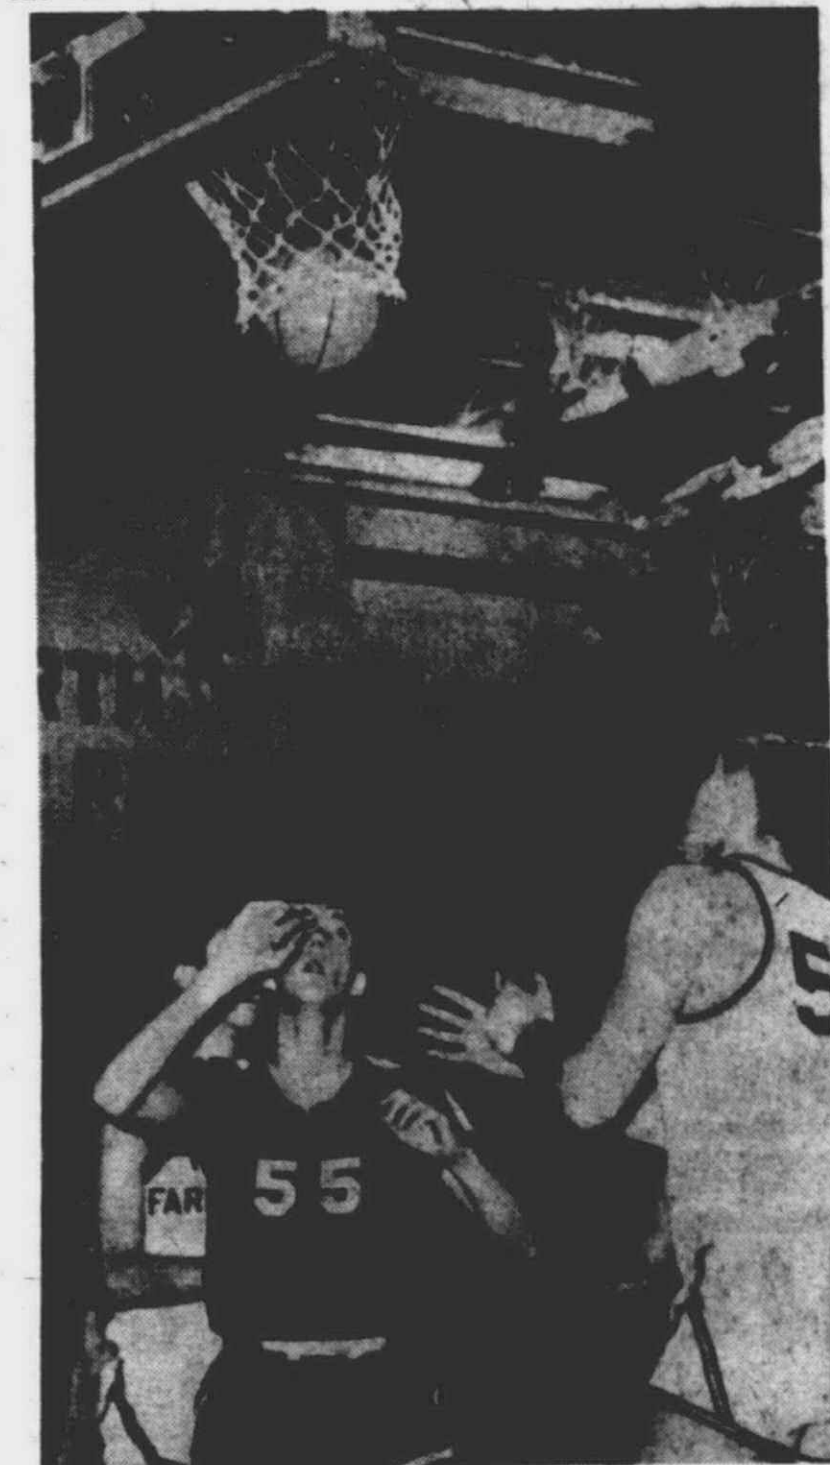

The big gun for Franklin again was Sam Antonozzo. He fired home 11 baskets to wind up with 22 points and as the game's individual leader.

The North Farmington reserves earlier had staged a fine comeback to take the measure of Franklin, 56-52. At one stage, North Farmington's second-team had trailed by a 47-35 score.

Roger Schultz, Dick Topp and Jim Rudapaugh paced the fine North Farmington spurt that turned defeat into victory.

Schoolcraft To Close First Cage Campaign

The first basketball season for Schoolcraft College closes this Saturday night with a game against Port Huron J. C. at Clarencville.

The Port Huron team earlier this season trimmed Schoolcraft, 127-57.

Schoolcraft lost twice last week to make its record two victories and 13 setbacks.

Concordia rallied from an 11-point deficit in the final half to down Schoolcraft, 93-83. The last six minutes proved too much for Schoolcraft which had held a 45-55 halftime edge and then swelled its comeback in the early going after the intermission.

Cal Luibrand with 27 points, Jerry Kisabeth with 24 and Rick Davis with 18 starred for Schoolcraft.

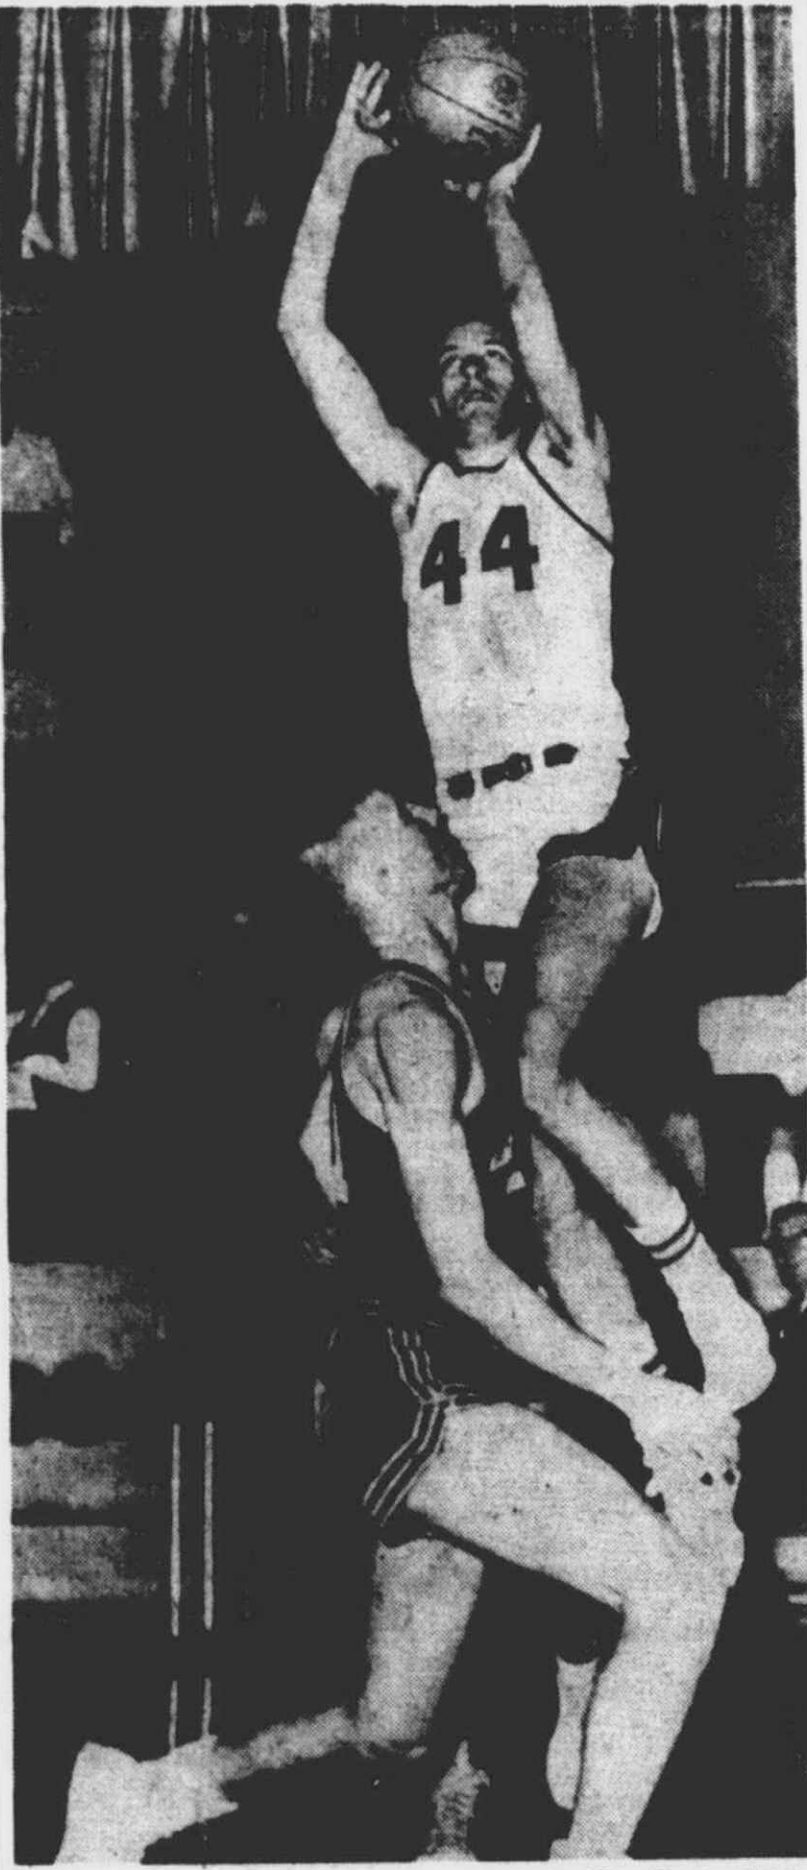

A turned ankle kept Kisabeth out of last Saturday night's 95-68 loss of Detroit Business College. He was the high man for the losers with 25. Luibrand followed with 22.

Detroit Business College took a 44-36 lead at halftime.

Little League Clinic at MSU

All those interested in Little League Baseball are invited to spend the day of Feb. 27 in Lansing. There will be an open house for the Little Leagues that day at Jenison Field House, on the Michigan State Campus, starting at 9 a.m. The MSU coach, Danny Litwiler will be on hand.

Box lunches will served, at $1.50 each. Reservations for the lunches must be made in advance. Money can either be mailed or taken to the Treasurer of the North Farmington Baseball for Boys, Inc., no later than Feb. 21. He is Joe Kilmer, 28872 Glenarden, Farmington.

GOING WAY UP for a score is Bentley's Nick Bonder. Trenton High defender just looks and makes no effort to stop rival.

OBSERVING SPORTS

By George Maskin

Three weeks hence . . . and that time known as the March Madness will be upon us.

Michigan's high school basketball teams will be taking off in pursuit of state titles in four classes. And, if history means anything, from the Ohio-Indiana line on the south to the far reaches of the Upper Peninsula, from Lake Huron to Lake Michigan, the folks in our state will go daffy.

Charley Forsythe, the state prep director who has been running Michigan prep meets for something like 35 years now, has announced all the details for the forthcoming classic.

Reflecting the increase in the number of schools is the number of district meets to be staged this year. There will be 124 in all, including three to be staged in our backyard.

CLASS A DISTRICTS have been assigned to Farmington and Franklin highs with Jack Cotton and Bob Bentley, the respective tourney directors.

A Class B meet will be held at Clarencville high with Lynn Nutter in charge of festivities.

From the 12 districts, the survivors will parade on to 23 regionals. When the regionals are finished, there'll be eight teams left in each class to proceed into the quarterfinals.

Then will come the semifinals in the Lansing-East Lansing area and finally the state championships themselves . . . again to be staged in Michigan State University's Jenison Field House.

Swelling of the district-meet sites means, among other things:

- 1—Smaller fields in each district action.
- 2—The chance for more schools to cop district titles and handsome trophies.
- 3—The opportunity for more fans to see the meets and at the same time reduce the situations in which folks were turned away because there were no more seats or standing room.

OVER THE YEARS there have been some who have criticized the Michigan setup of crowning four different basketball champions.

"Let's do what they do in Indiana . . . have just one champ . . ." antagonists of the Michigan procedure have claimed.

But from our long association with the Michigan prep scene, those who favor the four class program outnumber about 10,000-to-one those who speak up for what nearby Indiana does.

Bentley Title Rule Almost History

The two-year reign of Bentley high school as basketball champs in the Suburban Six League appears to have ended.

A 79-65 whipping administered by Trenton in the Bentley gym last Friday night all but applied the knockout punch.

The fact is—by winning Trenton wrapped up a share of the league crown with its record of seven wins and one defeat. Livonia's Bentley forces, which had a chance to tie Trenton for first place going into last Friday night's game, fell two games off the pace in losing.

As a result, Bentley along with Redford Union and Allen Park all stand in a tie for second with five triumphs and three defeats.

Bentley still could tie for first place in the final standings. For that matter, so could Redford Union and Allen Park.

But the way Trenton has been roaring all season, it appears very unlikely.

If Trenton just wins one of its final two games the down-river school will reign as undisputed king for 1964-65 regardless of what the three runners-up do in the final two weeks of the regular season.

Doug Fischer, a junior five-foot, 11-inch guard, proved too much for Bentley. His 15 points in the first half helped Trenton roar on top by a 43-25 score by the intermission and it made no difference that Bentley had an edge in the scoring in the final two periods.

Faulty passes and floor work hurt Bentley. The Livonians had 25 turnovers in the game.

The absence of Tim Dull, a veteran, who was out with the flu, also hurt Bentley.

But Coach George Lefles had no alibis.

Fred Matevia carried most of the scoring load for Bentley. He clicked for 11 baskets and four free throws for 26 points.

Fischer was the high man for the victors as he wound up with 25 points.

Bentley's reserves turned in a winning performance, taking the measure of Trenton, 60-46.

Larry Grimm scored eight baskets and three free throws for 19 points, Greg Coleman, 5-4-14 and Ed Ryan, 5-2-12 to stand out for the winning Bentley second team.

Trojans Again Top Brighton

What Clarencville high's basketball team should do is play Brighton more often.

The North Livonians have met Brighton twice this winter and won both times. Last Tuesday it was by a 73-57 score.

In other action in the Wayne-Oakland League, Clarencville is yet to win. The Trojans went against Clarkston last Friday night and were rocked, 88-62.

Danny Freels and Chris Hawkins combined to pace Clarencville's early assault against Brighton. The Trojans led, 20-11, after the first quarter and 38-17 at half-time. Thereafter, the closest Brighton could come was 10 points.

Freels led all scorers with 20 points.

Clarkston took a 28-11 jump on Clarencville in the first period and was never threatened the rest of the way. Freels had 21 points, again to pace the victors.

The Clarencville reserves also split even. They won over Brighton, 56-46, as Jim Amick had 13 points, Dave Millarch 12 and John McClory 11.

Against Clarkston, the Trojan reserves bowed, 66-57, with Amick's 15 high.

R.U. Chances Remain Alive

As long as there's life, there's hope. So it goes this week for Redford Union high's basketball team after beating Plymouth on the Rocks' court, 68-49, last Friday night.

The victory upped RU's record to 5-3 for the season in Suburban Six League play.

With two conference games left, the Townshipers now share second place with Bentley and Allen Park, two games behind pace-setting Trenton which already has clinched a share of the league flag.

"I'm happy the way our boys have been coming," said Mike Karhu after the victory at Plymouth.

"We haven't had much size and we are on the young side," added Karhu. "But the kids are improving all the time and we have a remote chance to wind up as co-champs."

But Karhu knows that it will border on the miraculous for RU to wind up in a tie with Trenton.

One win for Trenton in its last two games assures the down-river cagers all the glory for the 1964-65 season, at least as far as the Suburban Six League is concerned.

The second quarter decided the Redford Union-Plymouth encounter.

In the first period, Plymouth outscored its rival, 11-10. In the third stanza the teams matched point for point. Each garnered 17.

In the closing eight minutes, RU had a slight 17-15 edge.

But in the second quarter, the Township cagers ran wild over the Rocks.

Coach Karhu's forces rifled in 24 points to six for Charles Ketterer's Rocks.

Warren Newton and Al Maebach put on a two-man show for the RU team in the period. Newton belted the nets for 11 points, his teammate 10.

"It was a tremendous effort for the two players," Karhu declared.

Plymouth Coach Ketterer had to agree, but he naturally would not have liked to see it happen.

The Rocks, notwithstanding their fall in the second period, came back and made a fine showing the rest of the way . . . but they had too much of a gap to overcome.

Newton wound up with 11 baskets and seven free throws for 29 points. Maebach chimed in with seven hoops for 14 points. Mike McCrea continued his good scoring with nine points and Leland Bjerke chipped in with seven.

For the losers, Jim Lake and Rick Jones shared the scoring lead. Each made five baskets for 10 points.

The reserve contest turned into a thriller with Redford Union winning, 51-48, on a three-point play by Dave Waser as the final buzzer went off.

The score was tied when Waser went up with his shot as the clock ran out. The ball swished in neatly. He was fouled on the effort and came through with another point, although it had no bearing in the final results.

Shepard led the RU reserves with 17 points in six baskets and five free throws. John Darvis scored 6-1-13 to lead the losing Rocks' reserves.

The varsity box score:

	G	F	P
Redford U.	10	24	17-68
Plymouth	11	6	17-49

ON TELEVISION: The TV camera moved into the Farmington high gym last Friday night to cover the Falcons game with Pontiac Northern. The game was shown on new Channel 50.

BOUNCING BALL: Roy Leach (white uniform) of Farmington outbattling three Pontiac Northern players for a loose ball. Pontiac Northern won in a rally.

Falcons Fall at End But Impress on Television

Coach Jack Quiggle, his Farmington high basketball team and all of the school's followers had two chances to see last Friday night's game with Interlakes Champion Pontiac Northern. No. 1 opportunity came in the Farmington gym around 8 p.m. Chance No. 2 followed on Channel 50 some two hours later. The result was the same both times—Pontiac Northern a 72-68 victor over Farmington. Of course, the second showing was by the magic of video tape, something done every hour of the day almost by television stations. Despite the loss, Quiggle was proud of the performance his team turned in. "It was a shame we had to lose," observed the popular Quiggle. "We led them most of the way. But at the end they had a little too much for us." In watching the game on television later, Quiggle quipped: "I thought maybe we were going to beat them in the re-run. We were doing so well.

But the tape of the game didn't alter the finish in any way or fashion." Considering that Pontiac Northern had dominated the league all season and Farmington finished with just one victory in six conference outings, the tightness of the game naturally delighted the Farmington coach and supporters. "I'd have felt badly, if in our first television appearance, we'd have put forth a lousy effort," said Quiggle.

RU Star Cracks Record in Swim

Tim Rice set a Redford Union high varsity record when he was clocked in 58.6 seconds as he won the 100-yard freestyle against Plymouth in a Suburban Six League meet. Rice's victory helped RU take the meet by a 61-44 score.

Plymouth also swam against Royal Oak Kimball and suffered a 63-42 setback. Results of the two meets: RU 61, PLYMOUTH 44. Medley relay: 1—RU (Douglas, Pherson, S. Glazier, Farrell), 2—Plymouth (Skinner, Norman, Haarbauer, Berry). Time: 1:53.7. 200-yard free: 1—D. Glazier (RU), 2—Symke (RU), 3—Jaskierney (P). Farmington jumped ahead, 18-14, after one period as Sophomore Greg Dorow and John Olander led the way with six and seven points, respectively. Halftime saw Farmington clinging to a 36-35 advantage. After three periods, Farmington finished with three points. But Pontiac Northern went to work, caught Farmington with four minutes left and won out in the closing moments as Roger Hayward, a brother of a former Pontiac star, paced the Northern comeback. Olander turned in a 25-point game for the losers with nine baskets and eight free throws. Mike Wilson had 18 points, striking eight times from the floor and twice on charities. Dorow flipped in 13 for the evening. The Farmington reserves also lost.

St. Agatha 5 Sets Tuneups

St. Agatha high's basketball team has booked a non-league game with Ferndale St. James High to be played in the St. Agatha gym next Tuesday evening. The game will serve as St. Agatha's final tuneup before jumping into the state tournament early in March. A series of intramural competitions has occupied St. Agatha students during the past 10 days.

THE CHAMP — That's Art Woehler of Farmington chalk-ing up another victory for the Falcon wrestling squad. He is resting on an undefeated season and is looking forward to the State finals.

College Tankers Triumph

The Schoolcraft College swimming team, which finishes its first season this Thursday swimming against the Wayne State Frosh at Wayne, turned in a 48-39 win over Windsor last Saturday night.

Dave Zebell again was the individual star for Schoolcraft. He won both the 100 and 200-yard free style races and anchored the 200-yard free style relay to a school record of 4:05.1. George Collins, Bill Johns and Bill Baker swim with Baker on the record-breaking relay quartet. Collins and Johns also were on the victorious medley relay team along with Mike Sihon and Bill Patterson. Patterson captured the diving for the sixth straight time and Collins turned in a win in the diving to add to Schoolcraft's point total.

Thurston In Rally To Win

Thurston high's basketball team again had the first-quarter "blues" last Friday night. It's something that has been happening most of the winter for Coach Mike Pasternak's forces.

This time Thurston had to settle for just four points in the first eight minutes. Fortunately, the team was able to recover and came through with a 55-48 win over John Glenn. After lagging by a 10-4 score at the end of the first period, Thurston knotted the count at 19-19 at halftime and then went in front, 37-34, by the finish of the third period. From then on Thurston pulled away.

The box score for Thurston:

Livonia Teener Fires Identical 224 Games

All Saturday afternoon games at Tiger Stadium in 1965 will start at 1:15 p.m., fifteen minutes earlier than formerly, it was announced Saturday. Other afternoon games will start at 1:30 p.m. (Labor Day at 3 p.m.; night games at 8 p.m. and two-night doubleheaders at 6 p.m., as in the past. The Tigers have been notified that their game with the Yankees in New York on September 18 has been changed from a night game to an afternoon game.

Observing Sports

(Continued from Page 2-B) Certainly, the Michigan setup doesn't lack for interest. Or excitement. If it did, all three final sessions wouldn't be sellouts many weeks in advance. Nor would the crowds attending districts and regionals swell with each year. THANKS TO WKBD, the new sports TV station in the Detroit area, many of the district, regional and all of the final games will be seen on the home screens this season.

Bruce Martyn and Tom Johnson of the WKBD staff have been working with the state association to arrange for the biggest television exposure of the state tourney in history.

Channel 50 officials are to be congratulated for bringing prep basketball into the homes of area viewers almost every night of the week.

Farmington high was on the other night, only an hour or so after winding up its game with Pontiac Northern. We didn't see the game, because we were aboard the Zollner Zebra aircraft heading for Baltimore with the Detroit Pistons. But, we hear it was a fine production.

According to Martyn and Johnson, as time goes on, they'll be covering games involving Livonia, Plymouth, Redford Township, and, of course, other teams.

WKBD will have an elaborate spring schedule of prep activities. Baseball, track and tennis will be included.

GETTING BACK to the state basketball tourney, the order blanks for the final games now are in the mail to the various high schools and junior high around the state.

By the time the schoolmen's requests are handled and tickets are put aside for the followers of the two teams which ultimately will reach the finals, there won't be any left for the public at large to purchase.

All of which raises the question: Why not bring the finals to Detroit and use the wonderful facilities at Olympia, Cobo Arena and the University of Detroit Memorial Building?

As we have said before, the State Association originally picked Michigan State because of its central location.

Now days, with the great freeways making it possible to drive from the Upper Peninsula or Muskegon or Benton Harbor to Detroit without a stoplight, the State Association should give every thought to making a switch to the Motor City.

There's nothing wrong to giving more fans a chance to see what the preps of our state can do.

"A Letter to Nancy" Hollywood Film At Faith Church

Have you heard of the film, "A Letter to Nancy?"

It is a beautiful story, a full-color, feature length, produced in Hollywood by Family Films by the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod with filmland professionals.

It is a story of Nancy Li, a nine-year-old Chinese girl and how she affects the life of George Reed, a successful lawyer and his family.

The idea of the film was originally conceived because it was realized the powerful impact and message of Christian love and faith would be conveyed through the motion picture medium. What better way for a family to be brought together than by viewing something entertaining, yet meaningful.

Pastor Ronald Starenko welcomes members of the community to his church, Faith Lutheran, Five Mile, in Livonia at the three showings, Tuesday, Feb. 16 at 8 p.m.; Saturday, Feb. 20, 1 p.m. (especially for children); Sunday, Feb. 21 at 7 p.m. There is no admission charge for the film.

Livonia Church of Christ Outlines Program for 1965

The Church of Christ in Livonia has just concluded a series of special services that highlighted the works planned for 1965.

The three phases of the congregation's program that have received special emphasis are Bible School, Benevolence, and World Evangelism. In addition to all of the services during the five-week period being keyed to the motto, "More Spiritual Drive in '65," an annual business meeting and pot-luck dinner was held to summarize the work planned.

Plans for increasing enrollment in the Bible School to take full advantage of the new $100,000 addition were outlined and last year's growth was noted.

Benevolent works will receive an even greater emphasis in 1965 and again in 1966 with amounts doubled each year for this work. Principle recipients of the church's help are the orphans, widows, and the aged.

Chief among the objectives outlined is the intent to fully support a missionary in some mission field which is yet to be determined. Later in the year the decision will be made regarding what part of the world will be chosen for this effort. No decision has been made regarding the man to be sent, but plans call for setting aside a mission travel and working fund for use by the end of the year.

The church currently participates in the support of four missionaries, working with sister congregations, but this newly planned effort will be the sole responsibility of the Livonia church.

Guest speakers who headlined the special services were James Williams, of Detroit, who discussed the Bible School work; Lester Allen, Superintendent of Shultz-Lewis Children's Home, discussing benevolence; and Ira Rice, missionary to Singapore, who spoke on mission work.

Bishop Myers was newly elected the second Suffragan Bishop in the Diocese at a special Diocesan Convention on May 15, 1964. In assuming the new office he became the 12th Bishop in the history of the Episcopal Church to be consecrated for the Diocese of Michigan.

The congregation of Livonia's Holy Cross Evangelical Lutheran Church recently elected four members of its Church Council for a three year term.

BULLETINS FROM BENTLEY

by Sue Dowell and Marcia Wilson

Who says that night clubs are strictly for adults? In the Blue Room, on February 13, Bentley held its Valentines Dance. The multi-purpose room, which was transferred into a night club supplied the high-lights of the evening.

Since everyone felt like dancing, music was performed by Jerry Page and His Orchestra. This 12 piece band played during the dance which lasted from 8 to 11 p.m.

Decorations were made to give the room a night club effect. The soft blue lights helped the night to become even more attractive. One of the girls who received a lot of attention was Mary Plumley. Since every night club needs a Candy Girl, Mary took the job. Of course there was also a place for guests to check hats and coats.

The Valentines Dance was put on by the Sophomore Class and students interested in helping. Tickets were $1 per couple and invitations were taken at the door.

Many schedules have to be filled out for next year's students. Because of this counselors will be soon in the process of organizing students into their next year classes. For anyone who is not sure of what subject they should take, a visit to your counselor would be advisable. When schedules are completed it is not easy to get them changed.

A program was conducted by the Eaton Research Center on February 11. Selected students from various schools were chosen to be guests of the Engineering Society of Detroit Thomas Alva Edison Foundation Science Youth Day Program, which took place at Greenfield Village and the Eaton Research Center.

The first thing that students did was to listen to prepared talks on subjects like, "What Is Engineering," "Transmissions for Turbine Engines," "New Safety Concepts for Automobile Brakes," and many others.

Try-outs for the Junior Play have begun and as soon as the actors have been selected rehearsals will begin to take hold. A really big show is expected to turn out, so any Junior with a hardy voice and a will to act should show off their talents at the try-outs.

The value and price of furniture is not so cheap. In fact it is quite expensive. The proudest part of Bentley is its Senior Lobby. At one time or another everyone uses this main section of the school. During this year a number of childish people took to acting very low-minded and used destructive acts towards the furniture in the lobby. These people slashed, marked, and dug holes into the chairs and small couches. The furniture can always be reupholstered but what good would that do when the same students who are ruining the chairs now would probably ruin the newly upholstered ones. If these harmful works are not stopped it is entirely possible that the furniture in the Senior Lobby be removed so that no further destruction can be carried on.

The month of March will have two specific dates set aside for Bentley students. One of these days will be its Spring Frolic, which is a formal dance where girls ask boys. Of course the girls are nice enough to leave purchasing of tickets and chauffeur to their dates. The middle of March will be set aside for the trying out of new Concert Choir members. Sophomores as well as Juniors are eligible to try out for this honored section of the vocal music department. If you can carry a tune and read music notes then why not try out. The Spring Frolic and Concert Choir tryouts are two dates that should be marked on your calendar.

On Friday, February 12, Bentley held an important contest between its Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes. This contest was held to determine what class would take possession of the All-Important SPIRIT JUG. Each class was judged on: 1. how much green and white students wore from each class. The count was taken in Homeroom, 2. how many basketball tickets were purchased during school for Friday night's game, and 3. which class cheered the loudest and clearest at the pep assembly on Friday during last hour.

The seniors won the spirit jug but were closely followed by the sophomores.

Bentley High Opens Library 2 Nights Weekly

The Livonia Board of Education gave its approval to an eight week experimental program for having the Bentley Senior High School library open to Bentley students on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings from 7 until 9 p.m., beginning on Tuesday, Feb. 23 through Thursday, April 15.

If the program proves a success, the board will give consideration to continuing this program next fall and throughout the school year.

B. K. Pate, Bentley Director of Instructional Materials, will be in charge of the program and will be assisted by Clark Hamor and Fred Pfister, Livonia school librarians.

A complete evaluation of the program's effectiveness will be made to the board after the conclusion of the eight week program.

LADYWOOD LORE

By Mary Rzeznik

A skit in word and song will announce the arrival of Catholic Book Week here at Ladywood. "Books: Eyes on the World" is this year's theme for Book Week, Feb. 21-28.

The library staff will have their eyes on books and also bring them to the attention of their fellow students as they have "books on parade" at the assembly tomorrow. Seriousness and humor will pervade as both general and good suggestions for reading are brought to the fore for all Ladywoodians.

Librarians will also carry posters and book marks to local libraries as they carry the apostolate of good reading to the area's citizens. The school will do the "poster" look, too, as the representative librarians make it known that Catholic Book Week is here. In the library proper more than 300 books purchased within the last month will be on display.

Take Civil Defense Course

Each Tuesday evening four faculty members can be seen at the Livonia police station, not for a ticket violation, but for a Civil Defense course. Sisters M. Gerard, Karen, Imeldine and Timothy have almost completed an 11 week Civil Defense—Medical Self-Help course which is primarily intended to instruct people in the needs and necessities of a fall-out shelter.

Since the Felican Sisters Motherhouse and St. Mary Hospital are the only authorized Civil Defense shelters in Livonia, the Sisters are interested in knowing how to help those confined to a shelter area in time of disaster.

Faculty Member Teaches at Madonna

Sr. M. Armella, senior homeroom moderator and English instructor is teaching this semester at Madonna College. The course is Methods in Teaching Secondary English is taught each Monday in the late afternoon. In the future, Sr. M. Armella's students will come to Ladywood to observe English classes and present lesson plan demonstrations.

Time Doesn't Change

Wide-eyed glances of astonishment registered on the faces of most Ladywoodians on the morning of Feb. 5. The clocks read 7:20. Throughout the day the clocks' faces didn't change. The "clock watchers" were stunned all day for they were always greeted with the same time—7:20.

The mysterious force which put the clocks out-of-order also disrupted the bell system. In its place a hand bell, relic of bygone "little red school days" once more resumed its place to announce the change of classes.

Accents from St. Agatha Hi

By Mary Lou Mangold

Each year the King and Queen of Hearts dance is held in order to fund the Sodality's treasury. Every class selects two candidates for the royal throne, and supports them by raising money for the Sodality in amusing or practical projects. This year, in order to heighten competition, it was decided that each homeroom, rather than each class, would run the race for regality, and every penny they raised would put their nominees one vote closer to the throne.

The senior class chose as their candidates Karen Mrazik and Tom Anthony. Last Friday in the lunchroom they sold a breakfast of cocoa and doughnuts for 20 cents a person. Tuesday they bid for box lunches contributed by the students and their homeroom teacher, Sister Grace Esther. The senior class has won the race every year in the past, and the class of '65 doesn't intend to break the record.

The junior class of room 31 has voted Mava Monahan its queen and John Harvey its king. Pictures of 10 juniors as babies were posted and a mystery prize is offered to the student who makes the most correct identification. Guesses in the name-the-baby contest are 10 cents apiece.

The same class is sponsoring another contest—a pizza raffle. For five cents, students have an opportunity of winning one of two di Stephano pizzas.

Room 26, also juniors, nominated Elaine Beausoleil and Tom Braunscheidel as their candidates. However, they've kept any fund raising tactics a secret to date.

Sophomores in room 28 selected Mary Jane Huhn and Bob Weslosky as contenders for the throne. Votes were raised by selling cokes and candy during exam weeks.

The other sophomore class chose Margie Cooney and Tom Semik as queen and king candidates. One project was selling cokes at the Junior-Senior basketball game and also last Thursday's game. In addition, they are raffling a ticket for the dance or the equivalent in cash. Second prize is one dollar. Chances are 10 cents each.

Not to be left behind in the campaign for the throne are the freshman classes. Room 35, who has Donna Kovarik and Brian Chabala as claimants for the throne, held a bake sale on February 4. Besides selling delicious homemade desserts at rock-bottom prices, they raffled a decorated and a chocolate cake. Jim Sherman and John Truchan were the lucky winners. The class is also raffling a nine-week old puppy for 10 cents a chance.

Christine Kessler and Mike Brown were chosen by the freshmen of room 32. At the basketball game on February 4 they sold popcorn. At the beginning of the evening, the price was 10 cents a bag, but as game time ran out, price dropped to five cents, then two for a nickel, and finally free. The class also had a party, open to the entire school, at Peggy Griffin's home Sunday evening. An admission fee of 25 cents boosted the number of votes the class had collected. Chances are also being sold on a five-dollar bill.

Friday night at the dance, the winning room will be disclosed, and their king and queen will reign for the evening.

WSU Area Alumnae Sponsor Benefit Performance Feb. 27

A service project with close local ties — assistance to unfortunate families in the Farmington area — will be furthered by the Farmington-Livonia Alumnae Club of Wayne State University when the group sponsors a theater party at the Farmington Players Barn on Feb. 27 at 8:30 p.m.

Tickets for this special performance of "The Great Sebastians" are $2 and may be obtained from Mrs. R. Dewey Hansen, 421-6018, or Mrs. J. T. Miller, GR. 6-0855.

Funds raised will be used in a continuing project that for several years has been a major activity of the group under the direction of its service chairman, Mrs. Robert Larson of Farmington.

Working through the Farmington school principals, the group is referred names of local families in which children are unable to attend school because of lack of adequate clothing.

Members of the service committee keep a collection of good used clothing obtained from many Farmington residents, and try to supply items needed in each case.

So far the work has been confined to the Farmington school system.

The WSU club also hopes to provide some scholarship funds to the university through its theater party.

Metro Opera On Way Here

The signing of final contracts between the Metropolitan Opera Association, the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts and the Detroit Grand Opera Association will bring to Detroit eight performances in six days of the newly-formed Metropolitan Opera National Company in October, 1965.

In announcing the signing, Wilber H. Mack, president of the Detroit Grand Opera Association, said, "We welcome the opportunity to present the new National Company to Detroit in its maiden year. The annual May visit of the Metropolitan has become one of the musical and cultural highlights of the season, and the appearance of the new National Company in the fall will enhance Detroit's stature as one of the nation's most opera-loving cities."

The National Company, which will be under the general management of former Metropolitan star Rise Stevens and Michael Manuel, will be presented in four different operas, some of them performed in English, in six evening and two matinee performances, Oct. 18 through Oct. 23.

The performances will be given in the Fisher Theatre, marking the first time grand opera will have graced its stage.

Cabaret Slated by Symphony

The Redford Civic Symphony, sponsored by the Redford Township Music Society, will present a "Continental Cabaret" on Feb. 21. The program will begin at 4 p.m. at Thurston High School.

Music appealing to everyone's taste will be played by adult musicians living in and around the Redford area. Also, in keeping with the Cabaret atmosphere, refreshments will be served during the program.

Biggs will perform Sowerby's Concerto for Organ and Orchestra; the orchestral portions of the program include Brahms' Tragic Overture and Mendelssohn's Symphony No. 5.

CURTAIN GOING UP

By WALLY ROBERTS

Somewhere in Act I of "The Great Sebastians" Rudi Sebastian mentions how a good critic in Munich had reviewed the mind-reading act of the Sebastians and said they were electric. The Farmington Players in their revival of this Lunt-Fontaine classic comedy-drama were more than merely "electric"—they were dazzling, brilliant, and positively sparking as they moved flawlessly through a play that could afford many a pitfall.

Director Robert Casemore kept the play zipping along at an up-tempo pace and managed to move his actors effortlessly on the Player's small, but most effective stage. A crowd scene at the end of Act II calls for 14 actors. Director Casemore handled the situation beautifully and showed professional skill with his stage patterns throughout the evening.

Having two actors (Joseph Papp and Dorothy Miller) to fit so snugly into the roles originally created by the Lunts, no doubt, made Bob Casemore's job a pleasant chore. Once before in my nine years of reviewing in this area I had the pleasure of watching actress Miller operate—a production of "Light Up the Sky" was the occasion. In "Sebastian" she continues to radiate talent!

Her English accent was done to perfection. Every shade and nuance demanded in this exacting role came across most expertly. Miller's virtual lift of an eyebrow had great impact. She was at home in this taxing role as Lynn Fontaine was during the Lunts year's run in the production. What greater tribute can I pay?

I hope all 50,000 of our readers will deluge the box office in an attempt to see this wonderful production. The show will run for two more weekends. Tickets may be secured by phoning 474-3418. Plan now to drive over to the Farmington Players' Barn on 12 Mile and Powers Road. It's a delightful excursion and a real treat.

Paul Nash, Joseph Papp, and Richard Pedicino push this production into the smash hit category. These male members of the group deserve a major share of the acting spotlight. Joe Papp showed skill and a complete mastery of his role. His final moment on the stage was done magnificently. Joe gives every evidence of great depth as an actor. His handling of the mind-reading act with its code words and other bits of business was suave and slick.

In "The Great Sebastians" Rudi and Essie are at cross-purposes over the old and new code used in their mind-reading act. Rudi indicates that they will go back to the old code when they are in trouble.

Several newcomers (Sacid, Ozkar, Rick Thayer, Dolores Purdy, John Wilson, Larry Adcock, Nancy O'Hara, and Robert Eddy) make their stage debuts in this production. It is to their credit that each of them fit perfectly into the production picture. Their roles were done admirably.

Old and new members of the group blended beautifully to present a compelling, chuckle-laden comedy drama. Joan Stone had only a bit part, but her short scene rang with authenticity and gave added strength, validity to a suspenseful second act curtain.

What about the technical stuff? Cliff Dickson's settings had a freshness and charm rarely seen in most community theaters. The gold decor of Act II exceeded the richness so necessary for the proper atmosphere. George Nashstoll's lighting and Dennis Semeage's sound effects gave additional polish to an already effective production. Bonnie Goeman is to be complimented on the make-up. It was not garish and over-done as in too many amateur productions.

I don't know who was responsible for the wonderful intermission coffee and cake. The program didn't list anyone on the Staff for "The Great Sebastians" as being responsible for "House Activities." A George Mullin is listed as having charge of Box Office and Kay Kornmesser as publicity agent. Well, it makes little difference who has the responsibility. The intermission was a friendly gathering in the lower lobby of the petite Farmington Players' Barn.

I must close quickly . . . did I hear one of the Farmington Players say "Key?" See the show and you'll understand that last sentence. Howard Lindsay and Russell Crouse wrote the play and it's loaded with clever lines.

One final comment to the entire cast: please don't applaud the great Sebastians in the curtain call even though they deserve it. Take your bows like the professionals you are. Anytime an audience will give you six curtain calls don't destroy the illusion. You are professionals. Let others do the kinetic accolade bit. You did the extraordinary performance, bask, and believe.

WORK DAY at community theatres is traditionally the Saturday before opening night. During this time the theatre is cleaned, sets erected, costumes finished, the lighting checked and all the necessary backstage details are examined and, hopefully, completed. Area community theatre groups are no exception. Last weekend the Farmington Players opened their production of "The Great Sebastians" which continues this weekend. The non-musical version of "GiGi" opens Friday night at the Redford Union High School. "GiGi" is being presented by the Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford.

"GiGi" Opens Feb. 26 With Experienced Cast

Now take these diamonds, which are set around this ruby. Their weight is half a carat each. Anything less than that I call a chip." And with these words, Alicia de St. Ephlam begins her Sunday afternoon instructions in "the things every young girl should know."

Area theatre-goers may enjoy and "benefit" from this advice at the Redford Union Auditorium on Feb. 26 and 27. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. Cast members of the Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford production of the non-musical version of "GiGi" thoroughly enjoy the light-hearted avarice of Aunt Alicia, as portrayed by Fay Brown. A member of the Theatre Guild for the past five years, Mrs. Brown has worked with the Will-O-Way Apprentice Theater, the Northwest Players, the Ford Players and Chorus, and is currently, a member of the Ridgedale Players.

Theatre Guild productions are under the sponsorship of the Adult Education Program of the Livonia Schools. For ticket information call 422-8339 or KE. 7-8109. Tickets may also be obtained at Dunn's Pharmacy at 32139 Plymouth Road, Livonia.

'The Aspern Papers' To Open at Madonna

The stage adaption of the Henry James Novel "The Aspern Papers" will be presented Feb. 26 through 28 by the Madonna College Players. This is the first U.S. amateur production of the play in this country. Sir Michael Redgrave adapted the novel for the stage.

Curtain time each evening is at 8 p.m. Madonna College is located on Schoolcraft Rd. in Livonia between Levan and Newburg Rds.

Featured in the cast are Laura Champagne, Joanne Fitzgerald, Sheila Gallagher, Virginia Galanty, Melodie Lawson and Lee O'Connell. O'Connell, a member of the Madonna faculty, is also directing the "theatre in the round" production. The plot involves the search for the missing personal papers of Jeffrey Aspern, a noted American poet. The chase leads the male protagonist Henry Jarvis, to a strange old palace in Venice. From there the story builds to a surprise climax. All proceeds from ticket sales go toward the college building fund.

New College

Editor:
As I look at my 1964 tax statement with the approximate 20% increase, it comforts a little to think that the community college it will provide will someday enable us to educate our children at a reasonable cost. It also helps to expect that the development of the industrial park will perhaps take some of the tax burden. I might say it's even pleasant to know that our Township Treasury is so healthy that it can allow for a 50% increase in salary for its officials.

However, I do find it hard to enjoy the antiquated system of Township trash pick-up which provides us with a means of disposing of bottles and cans once a month. Had we not accepted the advice of our plumber that a garbage disposal would overtax our septic field, we might have no problem with what to do with things other than cans or bottles. There's always the private trash pick-up which will provide a once-a-week clearance if I choose to pay for it, but this new tax bill will leave me with empty pockets.

I wonder then if residents of Birmingham, Farmington City, Madison Heights, Oak Park and Southfield with Manager's salaries higher than our Supervisor's (per Mr. Hall's presentation at the Oct. 16 meeting), also pay an amount in addition to their tax bills to get rid of trash or anything not classified as "cans or bottles", or is this luxurious facility considered a necessity and provided by their local governments.

In these changing times, it's gratifying to know that one aspect of township living has not changed in the 11 years I've been a resident.

Resident, Farmington Township

Dishonest Promotions

Property owners and taxpayers, members of the Livonia Citizens League: On April 5, you will be asked to vote on a $4,400,000 bond issue, and on 1,200 acres which are to be purchased according to those that are promoting this fraud and dishonest issues upon you, the voters.

98% of the voters do not know where this land is located, or who the owners are of this land, and what the cost price is for all this 1,200 acres of land.

Could it be that certain city officials do, and are owners of some of this land and see an excellent way to get out from under this land deal to be purchased by dishonest trickery, to be played upon you, the taxpayer, the one who has to pay this bill?

Mr. John Daugherty and Mr. Peter Ventura, your councilmen have already told you how dishonest this deal is and that the honest facts are presented to you, the voters. You have no written covenant or agreement where this $4,400,000 will be used, only the dishonest promoters of this dishonest proposition, their words, and their words cannot be trusted, when they want to perpetuate such a dishonest voting spectacle.

Nothing more completely baffles one who is so full of trickery and duplicity himself, then straightforward and simple integrity in one another. Absolute veracity is needed today than in any former period in our city history.

The promoters of this dishonest voting on a proposition where you do not have the true and honest facts presented to you, the voter, how can any person trust them? As a true and honest American, do not take the bread out of your children's mouths by voting for this dishonest and tricky and deception proposition. VOTE NO, NO, NO.

And when it comes time to select your representatives again be sure you know for whom you are voting for, certain members of your present council cannot be trusted, when they want to approve such a dishonest proposition.

W. O. REMALEY

Police, Fire

Dear Sir:
I note with increasing alarm that the Mayor and his political appointee, Director of Public Safety Joel LaBo, appear to be serious in their endeavor to combine the Police and Fire Departments of our city. When Mayor Moelke, just prior to the vote on the Firemen's 56 hour work week, threatened to remove the beds and cooking facilities from the fire stations, I viewed these remarks as the ravings of a disgruntled Mayor, whose supreme command and authority had been challenged. Now, however, I am not so sure. The protection of life and property by our Department of Public Safety is nothing to experiment with.

The lives and property of our families, our friends, and neighbors, are directly dependent upon the quick response and effective action of our emergency forces. Perhaps Mr. Moelke's actions have a hidden motive, a saving of tax dollars through integration would be a feather in his cap.

I, as a citizen, however, cannot condone the creation of a two headed monster which serves no master. I cannot sit idly by and allow him to reduce the effectiveness of our present fire fighting forces, in order to elevate his own prestige. Mr. LaBo's statement in this paper, regarding the proposed test merger, is very vague to say the least. What purpose will this station wagon he speaks of, serve? What will it be used for? If the men in this station wagon are to serve in the capacity of both policemen and firemen, what is their first responsibility? If they are handling a traffic accident, or servicing a family trouble call, or answering a bank alarm, what action do they take if a fire alarm comes in? The Captain and Engineer who are left at the fire station would be ineffective in coping with a serious fire by themselves, and the first five minutes at a fire are said to be the most important.

Even if additional fire engines were dispatched, there is no doubt that a serious delay would occur due to the distance to be travelled by units from outlying stations. All the tax money that Mayor Moelke and Mr. LaBo could possibly save would not be worth the life of one child or one adult. How can you put a price on the life of a human being? Is this truly economy?

SPEAK UP, citizens of Livonia, let the Mayor know that we are concerned with fire protection in our community. Let us ask him to prove the value of this plan he proposes and what the professional police and fire protection organizations think of combined police and fire departments. In what type of communities has this plan proved effective and how do they compare with ours, from the standpoint of population, geographical location, area, concentration of industry, etc.

How do the industrial leaders in our city view a reduction of effective fire protection? I can still recall the General Motors fire here in Livonia, which was the worst industrial fire in history, from many standpoints. Let us examine this matter very carefully before taking any steps, even on a trial basis.

Our lives may depend upon it.
A CITIZEN

A Thank You

Editor:
May I, through the medium of your newspaper, express my personal thanks to all of Livonia for their loyal and generous support of the Mother's March of Dimes. I hope that all your readers will spread my words around, so that those who might overlook this column will know that I could not possibly thank each and everyone personally for a magnificent job.

My first offer of thanks is to the Livonia Observer for the many fine articles and pictures printed and for lending your support for the National Foundation—all of which helped to carry out the campaign so successfully. As has been often said, no chairman can do a good job alone and so I must name my wonderful, loyal and hard-working area chairmen who organized their areas so thoroughly, so that every home in Livonia was covered.

Lis Misiewicz, Betty Meyers, Phyllis Rottman, Sue Trisch, Jacqueline Johnson, Myra Chandler, Rae Pearlman and Phyllis Grant, my sincere but very humble thanks to them.

To their Captains and to the hundreds of unsung heroines, the Marchers, I wish I could shake your hands and tell each and everyone of you how very grateful we are that so many mothers, fathers and children who marched together on a very cold and treacherous typical March of Dimes night. You are almost like the mailman, neither dark of night or gloom of day shall deter these dedicated people who came out en masse and helped us to go over the top (we exceeded $10,000). To those of you who were not at home or whose home could not be reached because of the ice, a check made out to the March of Dimes and sent to me c/o this newspaper will be greatly appreciated and acknowledged.

A note of "thanks" is also due to the First Federal Savings for their hospitality. Chief Jordan and Jerome Friedman must also be added to the list for their help with the auxiliary police.

As long as there will be the need for research to conquer Birth Defects, there will be the need to raise funds, so I sincerely hope you wonderful people of Livonia will continue to support the March of Dimes and also our Fourth Annual Card Party which is coming up on Wednesday, February 17th, 8 p.m. at Bentley High School. Thank you all again and may God bless you!

(MRS.) ROBERT FOX,
Chairman Mothers' March of Dimes for Livonia

Parks 'Dangers'

Editor:
I've read lately in your paper about the parks issue coming up for election in Livonia. I believe parks are a very beautiful addition to any area. They are most useful, too. There is one thing that I would like to point out, however. I can't help but notice the amount of rape, beatings, and gang breeding that parks draw. Our children must pass these parks every day. Are they really safe?

I hope our headlines in future years don't sound like so many I have read in other cities. You might say families will use them. True. But what about the many hours when they will be just bushes and shrubs? Will our police department have enough policemen to patrol our parks? Just can't help worrying about the children and women. Hope I'm wrong.

BEAUTY OR SAFETY

Redford Observations

Editor:
Thoughts of a spectator at the Redford Township Board Meeting held Monday, February 1:
What right has our Township Board to pay the entire cost for paving the square block around the Town Hall without assessing the adjacent property owners their fair share?

How did our Local Government, through the Supervisor, get involved in negotiating for property for a special interest group?

Who is responsible for allowing our privately contracted for garbage pick-up service to circumvent its present contract by not establishing and maintaining an office in Redford Township? Is it possible to "adjust" a water bill beyond the established margin of error?

How come Mr. McDonald had the Township Board approve a water department project (2.8 million dollars), paving around Town Hall ($50,000.00), this without cost to the adjacent property owners; a Fire House and water pumping facilities ($140,000.00), all this without voice or vote of the people, then this same Mr. McDonald forces the Library Commission to go to the ballot for $40,000 to expand the over-taxed facilities for the most used Library in the out-county of Wayne?

Do all the Board members, except Al Bellaire, wait for Mr. McDonald to express himself on every subject on the agenda before expressing their own opinions?

This newspaper should do all it can to encourage the people of Redford Township to attend these Board Meetings. Knowing how our elected officials conduct themselves in handling our affairs is the best yardstick of their ability.

NATHANIEL BANKS

Who's Glib?

Editor:
Mrs. Chandler's column of January 27 illustrates the smug self-satisfied thinking I find rampant in an important newspaper.

In the last part of the column, she castigates a Town Hall speaker for being "glib . . . on many serious subjects." This man thought America "stupid for always betting on the wrong horse." She then went on to extol the virtue of the United States: "The work for freedom everywhere. We cannot stand to see any man go to bed cold, hungry or wet or sick. . . ." She contrasts us with France: "scheming, crafty and selfish." Very patriotic.

But a few paragraphs above, in arguing against County Home Rule, Mrs. Chandler tells us how she really feels. In an outburst she acknowledges may be "self-preserving, selfish, Ayn Randism or any other name," she states that "suburbia does not want to take over Detroit's welfare problem . . . er . . . program." NOW who is being "glib on a serious subject." Mrs. Chandler? Where is the compassion that does not allow us to see any man hungry, cold or sick? Who is scheming, crafty and selfish?

Which shall it be, Mrs. Chandler—Ayn Randism or compassion?

Martin Magid
Good point. However, writer is observing suburbia's attitude in this case, not formulating it. Ed.

Censorship

Editor:
Myra Chandler hit the heart of the problem of censorship when she placed the responsibility on the parents. They are the first to influence the training, development, and habits of their children. Waiting until other parents make the first move will never solve any problem. Censorship is up to each mother and each father. If they cannot handle something as elementary as to know what programs their children are watching, what magazines they are reading, and what shows they are attending, then how can we ever expect these parents, let alone their children, to take an active part in society, government, and education?

Who are we to be qualified critics of current movies? For this reason, the Legion of Decency is set up for an objective rating of movies according to the decent morals of society. Producers are not going to make the first move in censorship. They make money on these films only when youngsters, teenagers, and adults patronize these films. That brings the responsibility right back to the parents. Set the example yourself, refuse to let your children attend and then, and only then, will producers take notice. When they lose money on low class movies, they might consider raising their standards to conform to those of responsible parents.

School Lunches

Editor:
In reply to "Retired Couple Protest," of Jan. 20th regarding school lunches.

We too, have the same living expense as you, plus one child at home, and two in the Clarenceville School District, also trying to live on disability insurance. Neither could we afford to buy turkey for Thanksgiving—but gave both children 30 cents each to buy dinner with milk.

Just what school district do you know that gives free lunches? Unless it is a State-owned home, or institution.

Many family budgets can afford hot lunches for their children, and in the Newsletter, and The Observer all menus are published except the price list. If you would have raised your voice for Gov. Romney's state income tax, your property tax would have been lower, and this poor school district would have received, or been allocated funds to care for some wages (teachers pay increase), building, and other expenses.

You have failed to investigate before you protest.

Chaotic

Editor:
I read Dr. Daniel C. Allen's column in The Livonian Observer, and found it to be most interesting.

As I read, I grew to believe that it was "a mass of information about facts, systems of ideas, fragments of information, ideologies and news. Most of which seemed shallow, unrelated to any deep roots in any integrated thought systems." It further appeared to be predigested, simplified and served in catchwords, and other simple symbols. I suspect a great deal of it to be inaccurate to a considered extent: it was a mental conglomerate, chaotic and transient.

Much of his information was presented to further a purpose . . . the furtherance of the interests of some organized group.

Disputes Story

Editor:
I would like to correct some of the mistakes printed in The Observer this week about the ladies who objected to the UN test being given to the students in Clarenceville High School. (I am one of these ladies.)

First of all, it happened on Wednesday, not Thursday. We became angry because we were pushed and not treated with courtesy. I am the only one who doesn't live in the school district, but I pay State aid with my taxes so I really believe that I am entitled to objections. Our main objective was to inform the students and teachers so they would be better able to take the UN test—that is to give the teacher a book "The Fearful Master" by G. Edward Griffin, and literature to the students.

As a parent of three children I have found that teachers and principals believe the UN is for the good of the world. The literature points out how the UN was founded by Communists and is run for the benefit of Communists (look at your daily paper)—the UN recessed yesterday so Russia wouldn't have to pay her dues. What better proof is there?

I am glad the list of students taking tests was also printed in your paper, now we will contact each student taking tests.
