Plymouth School Millage Up to Electors Monday

Faced with the cold facts that revenues from state and local sources are not increasing as fast as expenses required to operate the schools, voters in the Plymouth Community School district will go to the polls Monday to approve or disapprove a 3.25 millage increase.

The Observer recommends approval of the tax hike since it is apparent the school board will be unable to make a budget for the 1965-66 year without slashing services if the levy fails.

Gerald Fischer, Board president, points out that the board was able to get through the current year by a tight control on expenditures, but the necessary cost increases in current operating resulted in a budget approximately four per cent above revenues.

The Board was able to cover this deficit of $118,000 only by reducing cash reserves to a low level of around $150,000 by the end of the school year.

He added that next year's budget must be planned in April and May to permit hiring of teachers without delay and for presentation to the Wayne County tax allocation board.

The projected operating budget for the next two years are: 1965-6, $3,434,000 and 1966-7, $3,872,000. This compares with $2,964,000 for the present term.

The projects indicate an increase of $470,000 next year and an additional boost of $438,000 in the second year.

These increases cover primarily the costs associated with a substantial rise in the number of students and with supporting high quality education in the schools by strengthening the curriculum and providing for essential improvement.

A breakdown of the major increases shows:

For 1965-6, costs due to increased enrollment of 700 students—added teachers, $243,590; added transportation, $19,785; and cost of operating new facilities, $17,030.

For 1966-7, costs due to an increased enrollment of 800 students—added teachers, $258,000; and cost of operating new facilities, $25,600.

Provision for possible salary and wage increases, $74,000 in 1965-6 and $84,000 the second year.

Staff and equipment expense for program improvements—$59,250 the first year and $6,800 the second.

Built-in expense for existing salary schedule increments and credit hour allowances—$56,720, the first year and $64,050 the second.

The revenues have been projected, assuming the Governor's proposed increase in state aid is passed and the local tax base rise by $3 million each year, to $3,180,000 in 1965-6 and $3,438,000 the following year.

These revenues indicate a deficit of $254,000 in the first year and $434,000 in the second and indicate the Board will have to get additional operating funds

Sees Error in Draugelis Case

City Judge Deyo Takes Issue With Court Ruling

Municipal Judge Harry Deyo, who did not run for reelection on the theory that he had passed the 70-year-old age limit, believes the opinion handed down by Circuit Court Judge Joseph Rashid a week ago is in error.

Rashid ruled that City Attorney Edward Draugelis was eligible to be a candidate and have his name placed on the ballot.

In a lengthy letter and opinion to the City Commission, Judge Deyo explains the reasons for his thoughts and writes that "I observed the provisions of the Constitution and did not undertake to become a candidate."

Deyo also takes issue with those who believe he is the author of an anonymous letter sent to the local newspapers which raised the question of eligibility of one of the candidates.

"It might be well to mention a so-called anonymous letter received, by the Plymouth Mail, which letter is said to have raised the question of the eligibility of one of the candidates.

"It has been mentioned several times that I am supposed to have been the author of that letter.

"I wish to state emphatically that I had no part in drafting any such letter, that I do not know the contents thereof, do not know who authored or mailed the same and that if I had wished to participate in attacking or supporting a candidate, I would have done so openly, as I do not operate under cover or in violation of statutes, the charter or the ethics of my profession. I resent the mentioned rumor."

His letter follows:

"Writer has no desire to add confusion to the chaos existing relative to the status of the Municipal Court for the City of Plymouth, Michigan, or the contest for the office of Municipal Judge. It does appear that some statement should be made concerning the current situation for the information of the public.

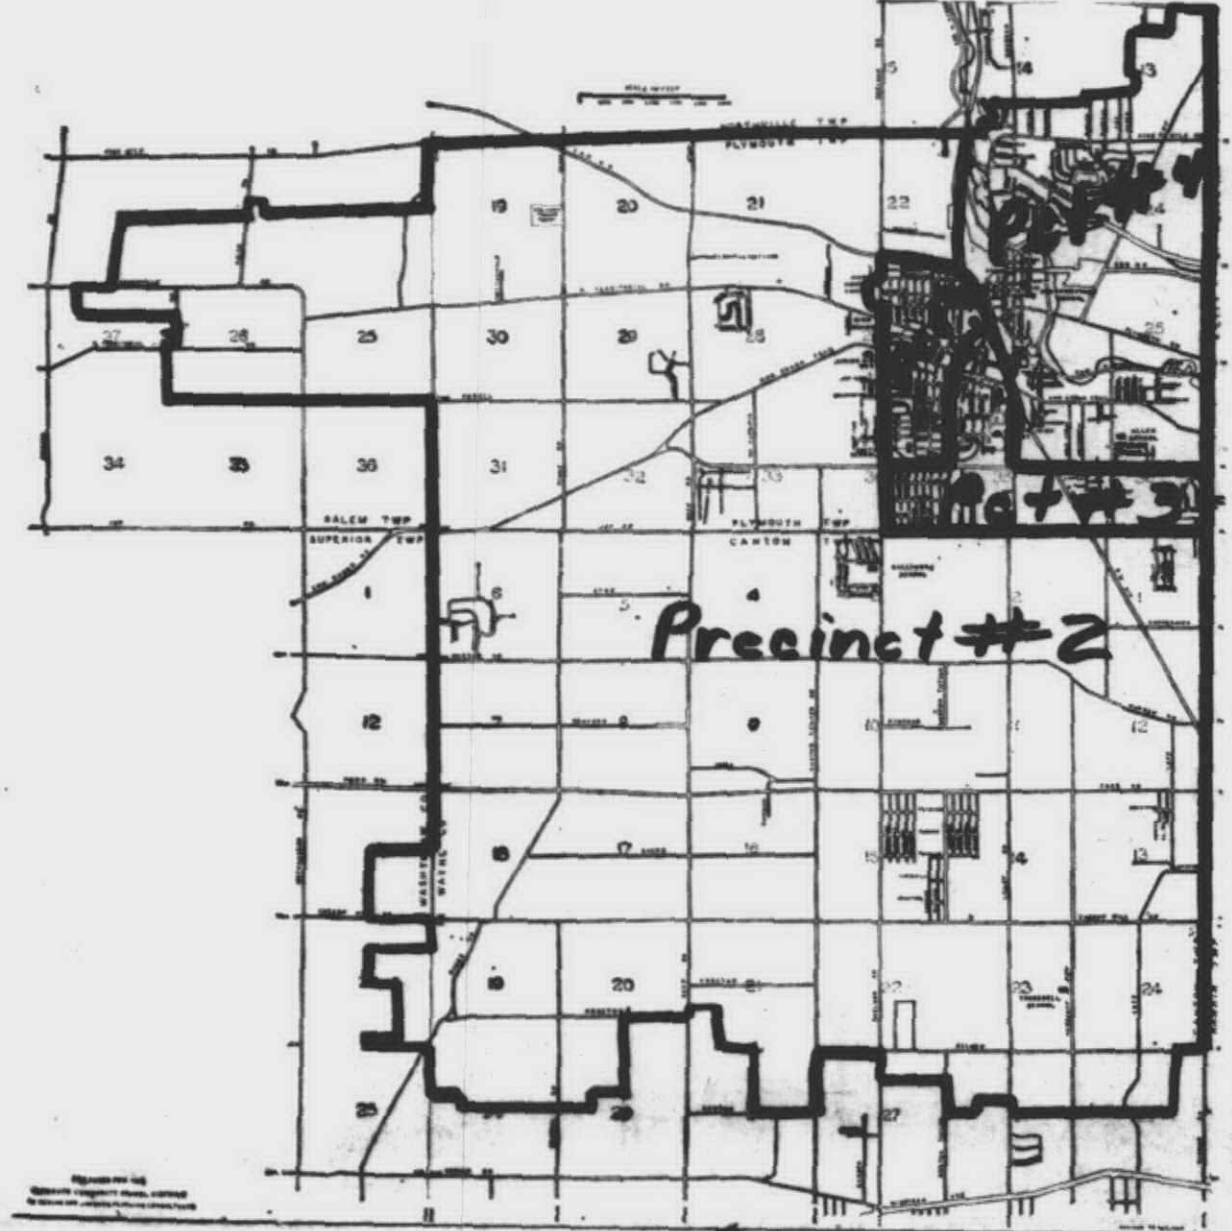

"I have read with interest the publicity concerning the judicial contest and I am personally disturbed by some of the rumors which have come to my attention.

"Months ago after studying the Michigan Constitution of 1963, which provided that no person 70 years of age may be elected or appointed to a judicial office, I concluded that said constitution barred me from running for election. You may be aware that a Circuit Court Judge in Oakland County ruled that said provision did not apply to courts not of record, while on the other hand a Wayne County Circuit Judge

THIS MAP shows the boundaries of the four precincts for the school millage vote on Monday. Precinct No. 1 is located in the senior high school on Church Street; Precinct No. 2, Gallimore School on Sheldon Road; Precinct No. 3, Plymouth Township Hall, on Ann Arbor Road near Lilley Road; and Precinct No. 4, Starkweather School, 550 N. Holbrook.

Township Plan Board Rejects Two Car Washes

Although admitting there probably was a place in the Plymouth business community for coin-operated car wash facilities, the Plymouth Township planning commission in effect told Earl Smith and John Guettler sites for their proposed businesses wouldn't do.

Smith requested permission for rezoning of a property on the west side of Northville Road on the site of the former Cavalade Inn and Guettler sought permission for a car wash on the southeast corner of Ann Arbor Road and S. Main Street.

Neither Smith nor Guettler sold the commission, each request was denied by an 8-0 vote.

Smith had opposition from homeowners in the area who told the commission they have been keeping up the road in front of their homes for some time. They also indicated the proposed auto wash would bring a traffic problem inasmuch as cars would be turning left and right from Northville Road to get to the site.

Planning Consultant W. C. Johnson recommended that the township keep all of its presently zoned industrial area in order that it could be assured of a good tax base. This was taken to mean that he was rejecting the rezoning request.

In his recommendation, Johnson wrote: "We believe sufficient area is now zoned for C-2 on Northville Road to serve this area. An automatic or coin operated car wash will cause considerable additional vehicular turning movements into the parkway and thereby increase the potential hazards of this section of the parkway."

Smith told the Board there was ample parking with spaces for 30 to 40 cars and two cross-overs that would eliminate the possibility of traffic problems.

The matter was brought to a head by Commissioner Russell Ash who pointed out that he couldn't agree that a dead end street such as exists on Northville Road would be applicable to an auto wash.

Then he moved to deny

D.P.W. Head Explains Refuse Collection Rules

By SUPT. JOSEPH BIDA
 Plymouth Dept. Public Works

We would like to thank Plymouth citizens for the fine cooperation in the change of rubbish pickup locations.

The alley pickups will be made at the curbs until further notice on the regular days. Cardboard box containers can't be used as permanent type containers. They will be hauled away.

The Public Works Department and employees of the rubbish collection firm will start putting tags on improper containers. These tags will mean that there has been a violation and the next time these containers are on the curb, they will not be picked up.

If citizens don't want the containers hauled away, they shouldn't try to use them. The ordinance provides that 30 gallon containers or smaller may be used, with covers.

Bushel baskets or containers equivalent will be permitted for leaves or tin cans but this will be to a minimum. We are trying to pick up refuse so that it will not be necessary for workers to use 55 gallon drums to burn refuse.

It has been brought to our attention that some people are burning garbage in the refuse barrels. This must be stopped immediately. This not only is unsanitary but creates an unpleasant atmosphere for neighbors.

The City Commission has backed our clean up program and there will be more publicity on "Clean Up, Paint Up Week."

Last week found DPW workers busy with three funerals at Riverside Cemetery and also in handling a 2 1/2 inch snowfall. It took approximately 197 tons of salt to clear the streets.

Catch basins were cleaned on Main Street and N. Harvey. A fire hydrant was hit and damaged at N. Mill and E. Pearl and was replaced by new equipment.

A six-inch water main broke and was repaired on Plymouth Road across from the Hillside Inn.

Barrels were cleaned and painted and will be placed in the parks and playgrounds and in the downtown business area.

A sanitary sewer was dug up on Penniman Ave. and at 365 Maple Ave. All streets were cold patched throughout the city.

"THE ROLE of the State Government in Achieving Civil Rights," will be discussed by Mrs. Rita Scott, Educational Director of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission, in the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce businessmen's forum on Thursday, April 1 in the Hillside Inn.

Plan Commission Gives Approval to New Center

It took a long time, almost two years, but Stewart Oldford and Son finally have a zoning for their property located at the northwest corner of Ann Arbor and Sheldon Roads—for the purpose of erecting a shopping center.

The builders and developers tried long and hard to get rezoning for an apartment building on the site but finally dropped the request before the planning commission could officially deny it. A denial would have meant no new requests for rezoning of any nature could be made for a year.

With an indoor mall approved for the opposite corner of the Sheldon Road-Ann Arbor Road intersection, the Oldfords were particularly anxious to get approval for their shopping center. They hope to start construction as soon as possible—preferably ahead of the George Rubin Co. which has been dragging its feet after receiving approval some months ago.

Stewart Oldford Jr., serving as spokesman for the firm, informed the commission they were planning to construct a center with 38,000 square feet, located on the southerly 502 feet of the 700-foot lot along Sheldon Road.

It was only after Oldford went on record stating his company definitely did not plan a service station on the corner, that the board voted for rezoning by an 8-0 count.

Planning Consultant W. C. Johnson approved favorable action in the request with a recommendation that it be okayed.

Jr. Baseball To Operate By Itself

The Plymouth Community Junior Baseball League will not be affiliated with any other group or with the recreation department but will continue to operate on its own.

That was the decision of the Board of Directors a week ago after hearing rumors that the league would be tied up with the Junior Basketball program.

"We have operated for several years on our own and will continue to do so," said President Joseph Bida in telling of the decision of the Board.

The Board acted after a mix-up developed over the time and place of registrations.

Registrations for the Junior Baseball League will be accepted Saturday morning from 10 a.m. to noon at the American Legion Hall on Sheldon Road and the final date will be Saturday, April 3.

The registration deadline was extended a week due to the activities of the junior basketball league this Saturday.

Post Office Places Emphasis on Service

More service facilities for the postal customer are receiving new emphasis in the postal system, Acting Postmaster James C. Grater commented after receiving word from Postmaster General John A. Gronouski in Washington, D. C., of a new improved "self-service post office."

The new experimental 24-hour self-service unit—the second—opened in mid-March just outside Los Angeles, to meet after-hours postage and mailing needs of suburbanites.

The first unit was installed recently at a shopping center just outside Washington, D. C. It offers around-the-clock facilities for buying stamps, postal cards and envelopes at cost, mailing letters and weighing and mailing parcels.

"While there has been no determination yet of how far this program will be expanded, it has a great potential for helping to meet the tremendous increases in suburban service demands more efficiently, while providing even better service."

Juveniles Sought in Vandalism

The Wayne County Sheriff's Department is searching for a gang of youngsters suspected of breaking into Allen School, on Haggerty Road, and causing considerable damage to cafeteria equipment and to library books.

The vandals gained entrance to the building, broke glass in the door of the principal's office; broke a lock in the cafeteria kitchen and spilled jello on books, the walls and even between pages of books in the library.

School Supt. Russell Isbister indicated the damage was around $100 but that no complete breakdown was available as yet.

The vandalism was discovered by custodians Wednesday morning and all debris was cleared long before time of the first class.

Seeks Manager With Many Hats

A Little Town in Vermont, Like Plymouth, Has Problem

A recent news dispatch from Castleton, Vt. makes one wonder if the same situation isn't true in Plymouth.

The dispatch reads, "This town is looking for a man of many talents to succeed Edward Kehoe as town manager."

"Kehoe also was police chief, assistant town clerk, supervisor of school buildings, road commissioner, overseer of poor, tax collector, and director of the school transportation system."

The City of Plymouth is looking for a City Manager to succeed Albert Glassford who accepted a position in Albion.

The specifications for the job, as set up by the City Commission, requires a degree as an Engineer or Lawyer, Accountant, Engineer or in Business Administration or Public Administration.

In other words the Commission would like to hire a man who is qualified in all fields if possible. In addition he would be Urban Renewal Director, Director of Civil Defense and supervisor of the Red Cross Training courses in addition to all the other duties.

Apparently the town of Castleton, Vt. is having trouble filling the shoes of Kehoe. It makes one wonder if the Plymouth City Fathers will be able to find someone to meet the specifications with the amount available for salary.

At the moment, Ken Fisher, who recently received the title of assistant City Manager, is serving as Acting City Manager, Director of Public Safety, Director of Urban Renewal, Director of Civil Defense as well as wearing a few other hats.

It means the boy has registered for play in the Plymouth Community Junior Baseball League during the summer months. More than 70 signed applications were taken Saturday in the initial registration at the American Legion Hall. Roberts Termed 'Hard Worker'

"My election to the 14th Senatorial seat is of the utmost importance to every citizen of this district, regardless of party affiliation," said former State Senator, Farrell E. Roberts. "At this late date, to have adequate representation, this district must have a senator who has had previous experience and 'knows the ropes,' so to speak. Three months time has already gone by the boards as far as the 14th district is concerned, making it just that much more necessary for the vacant seat to be filled by an experienced representative." Roberts added.

A former Republican State Representative for four years and State Senator for four years, Roberts established an impressive record during his tenure. In addition to serving as one of Governor George Romney's closest legislative advisors during the past two years, Roberts authored and sponsored the new Court of Appeals bill and Community Mental Health Law and served as chairman of the Senate Committee on Judiciary. According to a research analysis report issued by Lloyds Ins., of East Lansing, Roberts was credited with the passing of 8.75 bills during 1963 and with 8.02 bills during 1964. During 1964, according to the report, the next highest number of bills passed by individual legislators was less than four bills.

The report explains that bills passed is a very good indication of the "Production abilities" or "hard work" accomplished by a member.

Roberts' attendance record, too, is creditable; during 1963 he was absent only 5 days and missed only 36 roll calls out of 634.

Described by Lt. Gov. William Milliken as one of the most important tacticians and statisticians in the state, Roberts, a resident of West Bloomfield Township, formed a law partnership, Dieterle & Roberts, in 1954; was admitted to the U.S. Supreme Court and Court of Military Appeals in 1960 and has served as assistant Oakland County Prosecuting Attorney and as Justice of the Peace. A 1949 graduate of University of Michigan Law School, and the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Roberts is a member of the Congregational Church, the Michigan Society for Mental Health and is West Bloomfield Township chairman for Project Hope.

Carpet Center Moves Into New Quarters At 30830 Plymouth

The Carpet Center, Michigan's biggest carpet dealer, has moved into new and larger quarters at 30830 Plymouth Road and is celebrating its opening all this week.

After 17 years at 28801 Plymouth Road, the store, one of a chain of eight in Ohio and Michigan, moved into the new quarters due to the better parking facilities.

Under the management of Sam Bale, the Livonia store has developed into one of the largest units of the chain which has branches in Southfield, Warren, Toledo, Mt. Clemens, Southgate and Pontiac.

Matter of fact, the chain started in Livonia 17 years ago and the success of the venture here led to the expansion that has made Carpet Center one of the largest dealers in the United States.

Redford and Livonia Girls Serve as College Tutors

Barbara Lemanske, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lemanske of 9358 Marion Crescent, Redford Twp.; Margaret Kleinert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf Kleinert of 9826 Cranston are two Livonians of the twenty-two students of Madonna College serving as tutors at the Psycho-Educational Center at Madonna College.

Classes are conducted weekly by Madonna students who are either fulfilling their pre-professional laboratory requirements for future teaching or who are seeking greater insight into the nature of individual reading problems for beginning teaching next fall.

The Psycho-Educational Center was founded in 1952 by Sister Mary Martina, CSSF, Academic Dean, who felt the need of "helping youngsters who experience difficulty in school by removing impediments which the ordinary teacher or classroom situation cannot help immediately." Such impediments may be as all-embracing as behavior adjustment or as frustrating as modern math.

Originally the Center had been organized to offer remedial services in reading. Because of special referrals it has expanded its services to include those of psychological and consultative nature. The Center's main concern, however, is remedial reading. From her 13 years of experience in treating reading problems, Sister Martina concluded that the common difficulty among students in grades 1-5 is their lack of word-recognition skills. On the other hand, junior high students fall more in reading comprehension.

How does the Center aid the pupil?

The action taken by the director and the clinical staff is threefold. Diagnostic, personality and intelligence tests as well as personal interviews with the pupil and his parents point up the student's difficulties and needs. Once the first step of diagnosis is made, plans for a specific remedial program are designed.

This second phase involves the uprooting of undesirable habits and the implanting of beneficial ones. The length of the instruction is dependent upon the individual needs of each child. Periodic reports of the child's progress constitute the third phase wherein parents and teachers arrive at an understanding of the pupil's educational needs.

The clinic has served more than 800 clients from Livonia, Plymouth, Northville, Detroit, Redford, Birmingham, Grosse Pointe, and Jackson. During the present semester 22 grade schoolers attend weekly classes at the Center.

Personality Haircuts Now at Livonia Mall

A new art form has come to Livonia Mall Barber shop at the enclosed mall shopping center located at Middlebelt and West Seven Mile Road.

Owner Steve Tomen is introducing the newest concept in men's grooming, the Sculptured Personality Haircut, which is currently sweeping the nation.

In addition to the sculpture services, Tomen will feature a Kiddie's shop and Custom Men's shop. Tomen previously operated Steve's barbershop in Redford.

SPRING TONIC

There have always been two schools of thought about what to do for people who get spring fever. There was the notion shared by grandmothers that sulphur and molasses would tune up the system. And there was admonition of grandfathers, "Get out of the house, boy, before those confounded women put you to work when you'd rather go fishing."

Nowadays we have better remedies than either. My own is to take a camera jaunt back into the country. Try it sometime. Especially with a movie camera. . . . one like the BROWNIE FUN SAVER, for example. Keeping your eye sharp for the budding details of spring gives you a stronger feeling that spring is really popping.

The BROWNIE FUN SAVER Movie Camera doesn't burden you with chores. Just set the lens, aim and shoot. There's a big exposure bar that gives you a firm grip when you're ready to shoot. The winding handle folds out of the way. From one winding you can expose about seven feet of film . . . enough to catch a full 30 seconds of action.

Once you see this camera up close, I think you'll want to try it out. Won't you drop in and let me show you how easy it is to use? Incidentally, the low, low price of $19.95 includes a roll of film and a movie idea book!

C&O Plans $1.5 Million Improvements in Area

"The Plymouth-Livonia complex is the busiest area of the entire railroad and the C&O is planning improvements costing $1.5 million which we know will ease the crossing problem," said Edward Goodman, of the railroad's legal staff in Detroit, in an address to employees and area public officials Monday night at the annual Employees' Better Service Conference.

More than 400 attended the program at Lofy's in Plymouth, including Mayors Harvey Moelke of Livonia, and Richard Wernette of Plymouth. The guests also included: Councilmen Rudy Kleinert, John Dooley and Dr. Daniel Allen of Livonia along with Police Chief James Jordan.

Plymouth's official family was represented, in addition to Wernette, by City Commissioners James Jabara, Arch Vallier and James Houk, Acting City Manager Kenneth Fisher, Assistant Police Chief Loren Johnson and Municipal Judge Harry Deyo.

The C&O was represented by high ranking executives from Cleveland, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Saginaw and Flint. Mrs. Gerry Rorabacher was general chairman and H. R. Harms served as toastmaster and introduced the speaker. Goodman was a last minute substitute for Robert A. Strauk, general claims attorney for the C&O, who was unable to attend due to an important trial.

"It is to the advantage of both the community and the railroad to work hand-in-hand as partners," Goodman said. "This generally has been the case over the years. Of course, as with any closely associated groups, differences will arise.

"It is to one of these differences that I am talking. I refer to the grade crossing problem. This is a problem that is onerous not only to you, but to us, as well. Let me assure you that it is not a problem that we at C&O treat lightly.

"Industry is dependent upon rail operations. On occasions, railroad operations to serve industry and to keep production going have resulted in blocking grade crossings. Our people are constantly trying to correct this problem.

"What has suddenly magnified this problem? More people, more automobiles, more prosperity—the very same things that mean so much to the community. A big influx of people will severely tax the capabilities of the community's services. It will mean new schools, new highways, additional parking facilities, increased fire prevention, police and hospital protection.

"The railroad finds itself in the same position. All we can do is much the same as you—try to keep up with the demand and to upgrade our facilities as fast as we can.

"The railroads want to be good neighbors but it seems as though we are being asked to serve as whipping boys. At this moment, there is proposed legislation at Lansing which could put all of the Michigan railroads out of business.

"If this seems like an idle threat, look at these figures. One bill, the grade crossing elimination bill would require the railroads to pay totally for the cost of eliminating every grade crossing in communities of over 10,000 people. Preliminary estimates show this would cost at least $3 billion—that is three times the budget for the State of Michigan.

"Some communities seek to place restriction on the speed of our trains operating through the community—a restriction which would oblige the C&O to limit the speed of its trains to a pace slower than that of automobiles and trucks traveling through the same community.

"Recently, the C&O sought to discontinue some passenger trains which comparatively few people were using between Detroit and Grand Rapids. The Public Service Commission and representatives opposed our plan, stating emphatically that the trains were necessary.

"Yet, if the legislation now before the Senate and the House in Lansing is enacted, there won't be any trains, freight or passenger in Michigan."

Goodman pointed out that the Plymouth yard of the C&O in 1964 employed more than 100 with a payroll of slightly more than a million. He estimated that a majority of these live in the immediate area and that several of the supervisory and administrative personnel reside in Plymouth or Livonia.

"We have helped locate new industries along our right of way," he said. "Included are such concerns as Western Electric, General Motors Parts Warehouse, Wolverine Storage, General Foods, Ford Motor and the huge Kroger Distribution warehouse.

"The location of these industries has been a tremendous asset to the C&O. By the same token, these plants have meant a great deal to the communities in which they are located. People, jobs and taxes all funnel new money into the economy.

"During 1964, C&O purchased materials and supplies approximating $2,130,000 ($2,130,000) from local industries such as Evans Products, Bathey Manufacturing Co., Transport Containers, Paragon Bridge and Steel and other concerns in the immediate area.

"And in the same year, C&O paid $1,893,475 in property taxes to the state of Michigan. This money was turned over to the state's primary school system including the schools in this area. We also pay real estate taxes to local communities on non-operating property and in addition a corporate franchise tax.

"We do have differences. We do not feel they are insoluble. We do think punitive legislation is not the answer. C&O's door is always open. After all our objectives, the common good of both community and the railroad, are the same."

Second Victim of Year

Car Misses Curve, Hits Tree Head On

Hayden Cunningham, 55, of 12523 Hamilton, Highland Park, became Livonia's second traffic victim of 1965 when his car ran off the road in Edward Hines Parkway, near Joy Road, missed a curve and struck a tree head-on.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Wayne County General Hospital after a series of unfortunate accidents that resulted in Livonia Police and the Sheriff's Department devoting more than an hour in prying the body from the wreckage.

Officers from both departments arrived at the scene within a short time of the accident. Livonia had its fire department rescue truck, a wrecker and an ambulance on hand when the Sheriff's department arrived and decided to take charge.

As a result the Livonia equipment was ordered back to the stations only to be recalled almost at once when the Sheriff's officers discovered the body was still pinned in the car, police reports show.

It took almost an hour to free the body and Cunningham was rushed to Wayne County General Hospital.

Witnesses told Livonia Police the car was moving at a high rate of speed when it hit the curve, missed the turn and then banged into the tree on the east side of the roadway.

The accident happened Sunday morning at 8:20 a.m.

With only two deaths thus far, Livonia is far behind the record total of 1964 when it had a total of seven fatal accidents on the same date.

BENTLEY TAKES ONE AWARD

Franklin Students Win 3 Prizes in Mall Contest

Three Franklin High school students and one from Bentley High school swept the three top awards in the Livonia Mall Shopping Center art competition on the theme, "Livonia, Yesterday and Today."

Marion B. Young, of the S. S. Kresge Co., president of the Livonia Mall Shopping Center, will make check presentations this week to the winners of the three top awards.

The prizes will be awarded to: Don Phillips, 11th grader, Franklin High school, of 9571 Deering; first prize, $25, for his graphic work depicting Livonia of yesterday and a future tomorrow; expressing the community's rural heritage and its evolution into a city of tomorrow.

Mary Williams, 11th grader, Bentley High school, of 15660 Doris; second prize, $15, for her nostalgic life-size work of a young girl standing, reflectively, amid a field of snow-white daisies.

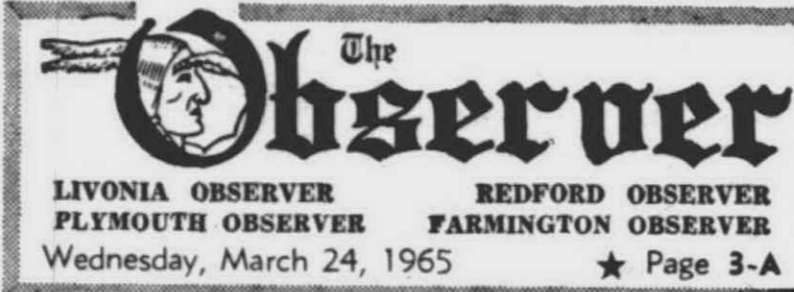

Barbara Stachurski, 38556 Orangelawn and Joseph Masse, 11035 Ingram, both seniors at Franklin High, who shared third prize, $10, for their collage of headlines and photographs of yesterday.

day and today, interpreting the changing panorama of Livonia.

Judges of the art competition were: Helen Sherman, Wayne State University Humanities instructor; Irene Wood, Livonia artist and Robert Wall, of the Livonia Observer staff.

Livonia Mall executives said that due to the highly appreciative interest expressed in the paintings, they will continue on display for at least one more week.

THIS GRAPHIC SCENE won the first place prize of $25 for Don Phillips, Franklin High Junior, in the art contest sponsored by the Livonia Mall, on the theme of "Livonia, Yesterday and Today."

Roberts-McNamara Speak in Farmington

Farrell Roberts, (Rep.), and Edward McNamara (Dem.), candidates for the State Senate seat in the 14th District exchanged views before about 130 people at the Antioch Lutheran Church, in Farmington Township, on Monday, March 22.

The program—which included candidates for the Farmington City Council—was jointly sponsored by Farmington's League of Women Voters, and its Human Relations Council.

Roberts said he was fearful of a growing movement by Democrats, in the legislature, to spend the state back into the red. He cited passage by the House of a property tax exemption for the elderly, without knowing whether it would cost 14 or 35 million dollars as an example of irresponsibility.

"Democrats are trying to be the Governor's blue-ribbon committee, with a hastily conceived bill," Roberts said. He said the best place to head off such actions was in the Senate moderates; where he worked with both the Governor and the Democratic leaders.

He cited difference with McNamara over a flat rate as opposed to a graduated income tax, as one of the major issues over which they disagreed. Roberts argued for a flat rate income tax, saying the low tax base per pupil in residential suburban areas already created a heavy tax burden. He said suburbanites would also bear higher taxes, if an income tax were graduated.

McNamara defended the property tax for the elderly, passed by the House, pointing out that no such measure had ever been passed by Republican legislatures. He indicated the feeling that while the bill may not be ideal; at least his party had acted.

Both candidates agreed that tax reform, including an income tax, was necessary, to provide greater tax equity and the revenue necessary to meet the state's needs.

McNamara argued that any income tax should be based on "ability to pay." He said that lower income groups were now paying a higher proportion of their income than the wealthy.

Both McNamara and Roberts endorsed the goals of the Human Relations Council, and said they would support adequate appropriations for the Michigan Civil Rights Commission.

Roberts cited his support of civil rights legislation as a former state Senator.

McNamara said he was the only Livonia City official to be active in the Human Relations Council in that city.

Plymouth Republican To Honor Roberts

Farrell Roberts, Republican candidate for the 14th Senatorial Seat, will be honored by the Republican Party of Plymouth at coffee hours this Friday.

The first, which will begin at 1 p.m., will be held at the home of Mrs. Jean Barnett, 9411 Marilyn, Arbor Village. At 2:30 Roberts will be at the home of Mrs. Wells Smith at 15015 Maplewood in Lake Pointe Village.

Both homes are located in Plymouth Township. Roberts will answer questions about his candidacy and discuss issues relative to the 14th District at both gatherings.

Cub Scouts To Hear Livonia Fire Inspector

February was a busy month for Cub Scout Pack 287. All worked on the annual Blue and Gold Birthday Banquet. The award for the best table decoration went to Den 8.

Entertainment was provided by: Ronnie D'Agostino and Glenn Berndt, accordion; Mike Rohn, cornet; Denise Tigani, gymnastics; and the Jimines Trio.

March events include a paper drive beginning March 22. Inspector Newsted of the Livonia Fire Department will speak at the March 24 meeting. He will discuss and demonstrate fire safety.

FESTIVAL TIME in the stove department of Sears Livonia Mall and members of the sales force dressed for the occasion. It is a once in a year deal, during March and April, during which the staff turns its energy and time to helping customers pick gas and electric stoves best suited for their purpose. The quartet includes: Bea McCullough, Jean Lindke, Supervisor Chick Sheer and Joyce Parkinson.

New Funeral Home Dedicated

Dedication ceremonies, at 11:30 a.m. Friday, March 19, marked completion of the R.G. & G.R. Harris Funeral Home at 15451 Farmington Road, just north of Five Mile Road, Livonia. More than 100 persons attended.

Rudy R. Kleinert, President of the Livonia City Council, representing Mayor Harvey W. Moelke, voiced Livonia's welcome to David Whitney, resident manager of the Harris home, his staff, and other members of the Harris management.

Following the welcome, a traditional ceremony, dedicating the new Harris chapels to the service of Livonia families, was conducted.

Two Livonia ministers conducted the dedication: Reverend Arthur K. Beumler Jr., Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church; as president of the Livonia Ministerial Association led the dedication. Reverend Paul I. Greer of Newburg Methodist Church, oldest congregation in Livonia, founded 1837, closed the ceremony with prayer and a benediction. Reverend Thomas J. McMahon, St. Michaels Roman Catholic Church, also scheduled to participate, could not attend.

Rebuilding of the structure where Harris Funeral Home is now located began in August, 1964, and was completed last week. The funeral service areas now total more than 6,000 square feet, more than double the previous size. Four chapels are now available. Adjacent to each pair of chapels is a separate family room.

As noted by motorists and pedestrians traveling Farmington Road, the new exterior of the Harris Funeral Home presents a colonial entrance-way, with its stately apex rising above the eave line. Inside the visitor first sees a new hickory-paneled foyer, friendly fireplace, and new, much larger, conveniently located office. Two of the four chapels are to the right of the foyer; the other two are straight ahead, in the new structure added to the original building.

Deyo Raps Circuit Court Ruling

 ruled that said age limitation did apply to such courts.
 "It may be said that there are a number of Municipal Judges who believe that said bar does not apply to Municipal Courts. As you know I observed the provisions of the constitution and did not undertake to be a candidate.
 "When the question of the eligibility of one of the present candidates was first raised I will admit that I was consulted by telephone in regard to the matter and asked my opinion. These requests did not come from any of the three candidates for nomination.
 "At this point it might be well to mention a so-called anonymous letter received, I believe, by the Plymouth Mail, which letter is said to have raised the question of the eligibility of one of the candidates. It has been mentioned to me several times that I am supposed to have been the author of that letter.
 "I wish to state emphatically that I had no part in the drafting of any such letter, that I do not know the contents thereof, do not know who authored or mailed the same and that if I had wished to participate in attacking or supporting a candidate I would have done so openly, as I do not operate under cover or in violation of statutes, the charter or the ethics of my profession. I resent the mentioned rumor.

 "While I have very decided opinions in regard to the legal and other aspects of the mentioned matter insofar as candidate eligibility is concerned, I am greatly disturbed by the reaction to the Opinion of the Circuit Judge in Draugelis v. Richard Shafer, etc., No. 41766.
 It appears that this Opinion is deemed to question the validity or the existence of the Municipal Court of this city. I do not agree with either the Opinion or the conclusions drawn by some from the decision in said case.
 "I have not seen the pleadings in the mentioned case, although I have been Briefed in behalf of Defendant City Clerk and Plymouth Election Commission. This Brief argues that the candidate Draugelis is not qualified, but in seeking to solve the question of what names of Draugelis and Cutler should appear thereon.
 "The Circuit Court held that the five-year residency requirement in the City Charter does not apply, with which holding I disagree for reasons herein set forth.
 "It is interesting to note that if one of the candidates had observed the provisions of the charter re-eligibility there would be only two candidates and no primary election would have been required. It may be here remarked that our courts have often said that there is no property right in regard to public office. It has also been stated that voters may not be disenfranchised by acts of other parties.
 "Returning to the said Opinion, briefly as possible, it is noted that the Court referred to the old Charter of the City of Plymouth adopted in 1932 and proceeds from there to the present City Charter adopted in 1951, undertaking to show that inasmuch as these charters refer to Justice Court statutes the present court is apparently a Justice Court and not a Municipal Court.
 "The right of Home Rule granted cities by the Constitution of 1908 and the current Constitution of 1963 has always been liberally construed by the Supreme Court of this state. What has been overlooked in the mentioned Opinion is that in the City Charter of 1932 there was a residence requirement of three years for the Municipal Judge, that said charter was approved by the Governor, after examination by the Attorney General, and was duly adopted by the voters of the City of Plymouth.
 "The Opinion also overlooks the fact that the charter adopted by the electors in 1951 was a completely new instrument drawn by a Charter Commission, examined by the Attorney General and approved by the Governor.

 Inasmuch as Section 28 of the Home Rule Act (Sec. 5.2107 M.S.A.) then required that a judge or justice must be a resident of the city for five years the said charter very properly required the same qualification, because under the rules of statutory construction five years residence would be deemed to be the minimum requirement.
 "It would be noted that the 1951 charter has now been in force about 14 years and that the electors of this city have not seen fit to change the charter requirement of five years residence.
 Section 3 of the Home Rule Act (Sec. 5.2073 M.S.A.) sets forth mandatory charter provisions. The pertinent part of said section reads as follows:
 "Each city charter shall provide: (d) For the qualifications, duties and compensation of its officers;"
 It is obvious that the force and effect of the above was not considered. As you know the City Charter has requirements touching on the eligibility of members of the City Commission and other officers and nowhere in the Home Rule Act are these qualifications detailed, specified or enumerated.
 "At page 4 of Brief of Defendants Richard Shafer, Plymouth City Clerk and Plymouth Election Commission their counsel very properly called the attention of the court to the so-called Uniform Municipal Court Act, same being Act 5, P.A. 1955 as amended (Sections 27.3937 M.S.A.) (1) et seq.
 "Section 8 of said Act (Sec. 27.3937 M.S.A.) (8) is controlling in regard to the main question considered by the Court, but apparently was given no weight.
 "Mention of the aforesaid Municipal Court Act draws attention to the question of whether our city has a Municipal Court. Various persons are raising this question and if the Court's Opinion is correct it is a most serious one. Fortunately, although counsel did not mention the same apparently, and the Court made no mention of the fact, this city did adopt Ordinance No. 255 on July 20, 1959, adopting the provisions of said Act No. 5, P.A. 1955, as amended.
 "In June, 1959 Nandino Perlongo, then Municipal Judge, presented to writer several questions in regard to the court. Following careful research and a lengthy written opinion the writer, then City Attorney, drafted Ordinance No. 255 and same was duly adopted.
 "The adoption of said ordinance which has not been repealed makes the reasoning in said Opinion not applicable to the question involved in the above litigation and it also insures the valid existence of the Municipal Court of the City of Plymouth.
 "I mention the above because I have been informed that it is necessary to adopt an Ordinance to insure the existence of the court. The work and the expense thereof is entirely unnecessary by reason of the above mentioned ordinance.
 "By reason of a candidate's announcement that if elected he would adopt written rules for the operation of our Municipal Court, which of course has the effect of questioning the efficiency and competency of the Court, said item should be clarified.

 "The Legislature adopted a Revised Judicature Act effective January 1, 1963. Also, as you know, the people adopted a new State Constitution. Both of these actions have resulted in great uncertainty, both as to our courts and the procedures therein.
 "Complicating the situation is the fact that Circuit Courts are supposed to have supervisory control of Municipal Courts and the Supreme Court of the state has supervisory control of all courts.
 "The Wayne County Municipal Judges Association months ago drafted written rules for civil cases and criminal cases in Municipal Courts. These rules have been submitted to the Circuit Court but have not yet been approved by that court.
 "Further complicating the situation is the fact that the Supreme Court of Michigan has published voluminous court rules, which are being continually amended. These rules in my opinion affect the practice in some respects in all courts subordinate to the Supreme Court.
 "Under the circumstances this court will not adopt rules until same are approved by the court having supervisory control. In addition, drafting, printing and publishing rules which may be distributed before same could be outdated appears ill-advised and a waste of the taxpayers' money. Therefore, I recommend against such action until the situation becomes less fluid.
 "Believing that certain of the above mentioned matters raising inferences in regard to writer should be publicly answered and feeling that our citizens should be assured that we do have a court, I am supplying a copy thereof to our city newspaper.
 "I mean no disrespect to your body inasmuch as I consider this information as a public matter and feel certain that it will receive attention."

Car Wash

 bers decided Guettler didn't have enough parking space regardless of how he placed the building on the land.
 Guettler protested that he had plenty of room for all the cars that normally would be lined up waiting to use the car wash.
 In a dramatic move, Attorney J. Rosling Cutler produced five letters from police departments in area where coin-operated washes are in operation. The idea being to prove or disprove the tale that the do-it-yourself operations created themselves.
 All five letters were opened by Chairman Irving Rozian and all five reported no problems. They came from departments in Brighton, Ann Arbor, Adrian, Pontiac and Toledo.
 Howard Oldford, a member of the firm of Stewart Oldford and Son Builders and developers, informed the commission that he was a partner in a car wash in Lansing that averages 10,000 cars per month, had a building 90 feet by 160 feet and definitely didn't have enough space.
 After listening to Oldford and hearing a recommendation from Johnson that the site didn't have enough space and wouldn't have enough parking, the Commission nixed the request by 8-0.
 "We feel Plymouth is economically sound for apartments," said Geryn, "Our revised plans call for apartments in that section north of Postiff Ave. and single dwellings in the remainder of the plat."
 After a lengthy discussion, the Commission voted to ask Geryn to present new plans of what his company intends to do and then approved the second public hearing.
 The request of Richard Frits to rezone 8.5 acres from Country estates district to a Country Home district for property at the southeast corner of Ann Arbor Trail and Beck Road received favorable action from the Board. It was tabled at the last February meeting.
 After a brief discussion, the Board approved a public hearing at the April meeting.
 In other actions, the Board approved preliminary plans for School Millage Election

 from somewhere — the millage increase.
 The $3.25 hike will provide $339,000 in the first year and $349,000 in the second.
 "At the present time, the Plymouth School district tax rate is 23.7 mills, far below the 32.95 in Clarencville, 31.25 in Livonia, 30.00 in Garden City and the 24.15 in Northville.
 With the proposed 3.25 mill increase, the Plymouth Community school tax will be 26.95 mills, still well below the current media of 28.20 mills. Plymouth's rate increased only 1.76 mills from 21.95 to 23.71 mills in the last eight years.
 One of the questions, that arises when a millage increase is sought, is how does the current teachers' salary in Plymouth compare with the salary rates in nearby districts?

 Plymouth's schedule is generally competitive with the 15 neighboring districts, being slightly above the rates for the media district and approximately in the middle of the range.
 Plymouth's schedule calls for a minimum of $5,150 and a maximum of $8,000 for a bachelor's degree; $5,450 minimum and $8,600 maximum for a doctor's degree.
 The median range is $5,000 to $7,900 and $5,400 to $8,400. The low district has a range of $4,900 to $7,100 and $5,100 to $8,050 and the high ranges from $5,350 to $8,364 and $5,700 to $9,250.
 Members of the school board have been busy attending coffee klatches, PTA sessions and every possible type of program for the past month stressing the importance of approval of the issue.

 They will continue their efforts through the weekend and then hold a special meeting Monday night to receive the results of the vote—they hope it will be favorable.

Junior Cagers Climax Season With Banquet

Activities of the Plymouth Community Junior Basketball League will be climaxed Saturday in three all-star games at Junior High West and a buffet banquet in the Elks Club, starting at 1:45 p.m.
 The youngsters wound up regular season activities a week ago.
 Saturday's program starts at 9 a.m. in the West Junior gym when the 'B' champions face an all-star team from the loop. It will be followed by a similar game involving the 'A' players and then the big event will be a duel between the coaches from the 'A' and 'B' leagues.
 Following the basketball games, the players, coaches and officials will transfer activities to the Elks Club for the banquet which will be featured by presentation of trophies, awarding of a basketball autographed by members of the Detroit Pistons to some lucky boy, a talk by an outstanding member of the Pistons and movies.

180 Jaycettes Will Converge On Plymouth

More than 180 Jaycettes from chapters in District 6 will converge on Plymouth Thursday for an area meeting to elect a new vice president of the district.
 The meeting, slated to start at 8 p.m. will be held in the multipurpose room at Junior High West with Mrs. Sally Blunk as chairman.
 Mrs. Pat Bechtel, of Wayne, District President, will be on hand to take charge of the election.
 The election of state officers will take place during the Junior Chamber state convention on May 14 and 15 in Grand Rapids. The Jaycettes meet at the same time.
 The Plymouth chapter will sponsor Thursday meeting and will provide entertainment and a buffet.

The Observer WOMEN

Pick Farmingtonite DAR Girl of Year

Eighteen year old Sandra Schulze, of 24144 St. Mary Court, in Farmington, was named Good Citizen of the Year by the Michigan Chapter of the

Sandra Schulze

Daughters of the American Revolution. She was given this award at a luncheon of the Daughters, at the Concord Hilton. Twenty-two other finalists and their parents were present. The finalists were all winners of local DAR awards. The local winners—449 of them—were sent questionnaires concerning American history, government, and civics. From this test, Sandra Schulze emerged the winner.

She attributed some of the success to her daily ritual of reading the newspapers. But she is also a hard-working and accomplished scholar.

She is a member of the National Honor Society, with an average of 3.97, out of a total of 4.0. In addition, she is treasurer of the student council; member of the art club—she dabbles in painting; typist for the school year book; and secretary of the youth group at Farmington Presbyterian Church.

Last year, she went to Wolverine Girls State, at the University of Michigan. This is a nine day workshop in government.

She hopes, someday, to go into computer programming. With that in mind, she plans to major in math at Ohio Wesleyan, in the fall.

She was awarded a $100 bond from the National Society, and a $50 bond from the State Society of the DAR; also a pin and a certificate from the state society. Her mother, Edna, was with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Stevens

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens Make Home in Plymouth

Linda Zapoli became the bride of Richard A. Stevens in an evening ceremony Saturday, March 6, in the St. Matthew Methodist Church, Livonia. A reception followed at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Zapoli of Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Stevens of Livonia are the bridegroom's parents.

The bride's ivory Italian silk brocade gown had a round neckline and elbow length sleeves. Small bows decorated the sleeves and waistline. The full length bell skirt ended into a flared train. The veil was held by a bow and seed pearl tier. A bouquet of white roses was carried by the bride.

Sharon Webb was the maid of honor and the bridesmaid was Sue Wittig. The attendants wore moss green sheath dresses with a detachable over-skirt. Their veils were held by three rows of light green bows. The attendants carried colonial shaped bouquets of green and yellow carnations.

The flower girl was Susan Stevens, gowned in yellow and carrying a bouquet similar to the bridesmaids. Her brother, Glenn was the ring bearer. They are the children of the bridegroom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Stevens.

John Imonen was the best man and Miles Green was an attendant. Serving as ushers were Ed Conkright, Don Tuthill, the bridegroom's brother, John Stevens, and the bride's brother, Bob Zapoli. The bride's mother received guests in a silk pastel pink dress. Her turban hat was made of tiny curled feathers. Mrs. Stevens chose a brocade dress and matching accessories.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Stevens of Charleston, South Carolina; Mr. and Mrs. William Kannen, and daughter, Melanie, of Greendale, Wisconsin; Mr. and Mrs. John Maki, of Marquette; Mr. and Mrs. Zobel, of Cedarville; Mr. and Mrs. Milt Steffes, of Williamston, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Zapoli, of St. John.

The newlyweds will make their home in Plymouth.

Student Officer

Charles B. Horn, a University of Tampa student and son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Horn, 33553 Nancy, Livonia, was recently elected treasurer of the University of Tampa chapter of the Student Florida Education Association, which is affiliated with the National Education Association. Horn, a junior majoring in elementary education and minoring in business administration, has been on the University's Honor Roll. He is a member of the National Council for the Social Studies and is a graduate of Livonia's Bentley High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary H. Appleton

Jean Frederick Weds Gary Herbert Appleton

Jean Louise Frederick married Gary Herbert Appleton on Feb. 20 at St. Peter's Lutheran Church in Plymouth. Pastor Norman Berg officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Frederick of 1184 Sutherland, Plymouth, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Truesdell of 11680 Morgan, Plymouth.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a satin gown with a Chantilly lace bodice with sequin and seed pearl trim. Patricia Kaua of Livonia was the maid of honor. Karen Frederick and Joyce Appleton both of Plymouth were attendants.

Gordon W. Appleton of Garden City served as best man while Gary Clark of Plymouth, David Thompson and James Frederick of Livonia seated the guests.

Gayle Frederick and Kenneth McGrann were the flower girl and ring bearer.

Following a honeymoon in northern Michigan the couple will reside in Plymouth.

The new Mrs. Appleton is a senior at Plymouth High School while her husband is a 1963 graduate of Plymouth High.

Dr. Robert Doering, a clinical psychologist for the Dearborn Schools, was guest speaker at the Christ Lutheran Church's Junior High Luther League. He discussed "Concerns of the Teen-Age Group."

Sorority Pledge

MRS. MYRTLE ATKINSON

What is it that causes a woman to take on the extra work of club activities? What is it that will lead her to devote the additional time it takes to be an officer in the club?

In past weeks we have talked to a mother with very young children, a woman who has no children, then a woman who has two older children and who also works outside her home—all are presidents of their club.

This week our Madame President is an active, energetic grandmother who lives in a charming new apartment on Five Mile Road in Redford Township.

Widowed about 14 years ago, Mrs. Myrtle Atkinson has made a good life for herself by keeping busy. "I have no desire to go traveling around," she says. "I have plenty to keep me occupied here and I'm very content

PATRICIA PILARSKI

Mr. and Mrs. John Pilarski, LeVerne, Redford Township, have announced the engagement of their daughter Patricia to Paul M. Prill, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Prill of Mercedes Avenue, Redford Township. Patricia is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University where she was affiliated with Sigma Kappa Sorority. Paul attended Albion College and Wayne State University where he was affiliated with Tau Kappa Epsilon. Both are graduates of Lee M. Thurston High School. An August 21st wedding is planned.

Her fellow BPW members were impressed enough to elect Myrtle president this year.

IN YEARS GONE BY Mrs. Atkinson could not recall doing any particular volunteer work except a short stint with cub scouts when her son was the appropriate age. Then, as now, her interests in handicrafts filled her leisure hours. "I like to do anything that requires working with my hands," she adds.

She first entered the business world in 1942. When one of her husband's employees left for higher paying war work, "Myrtle helped out." She loved being with people so that she never went back to being just a housewife.

In her work with the BPW Myrtle comments that she's quite lucky to have been at the International Convention of BPW at Cobo Hall last year, and the State Convention which was in Detroit also.

The purpose of the BPW is not only to create new friendships but to work for the advancement of women in business.

Crowley's Salutes 'Women Who Work' from West Suburbs

90 Years Young Says the Lady

SALUTING "Women Who Work", Crowley's Livonia invited 10 business, industrial firms, school districts and area hospitals to select one of their employes to represent the working gals. Each of the 10 was asked to make her choice of an Easter outfit which she modeled for an unusual window display at the Livonia Mall store. The 10 models with their

bly line worker at Burroughs; Jessie Wilson, grade school teacher in Livonia; Lois Benedict, special education teacher at Clarenceville High; Mary Burrows, registered nurse at Northville State Hospital; Miriam King, director of the Livonia Youth Employment Service; and Sherrie Meink, classified ad bookkeeper at the Observer Newspapers Inc.

Mrs. Inez Matthews of 1040 Linden, Plymouth was 90 years young on March 11. Her proud family had a dinner party celebration in her honor at her granddaughter's home, Mr. and Mrs. William Loesch, of 840 McKinley on March 6 with her sister, Mrs. Nell Patton coming from Dayton, Ohio for the occasion.

Incidentally, Mrs. Patton was 85 years young on March 15. Her daughters — Mrs. William Cassell from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania — Mrs. Ray Bowser from Livonia, Mrs. Alfred Fawcett from Plymouth attended with two grandchildren of the six and five great-grandchildren of the 13.

There are four generations living, Mrs. Matthews, her daughter Jane, Mrs. Bowser the mother of Carolyn Loesch who is the mother of Carol Loesch.

Town Hall Series April 1 at the P & A Theatre.

Reservations for the Celebrity luncheon at Meadowbrook County Club may be made by calling Mrs. W. L. Howard, FI 8-91643. Deadline for calling reservations is Tuesday, March 30.

Described as a "diesel engine under a lace handkerchief" by her friend Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, Miss Rountree has starred in every branch of the communications field. She is currently producing the daily program, "Leave It To The Girls" over the NBC Network, and will presently resume her daily "news in depth" radio program, "Capitol Closeup," as Washington Correspondent for RKO General-WOR. She is also Editor of "Ammunition," a weekly newsletter devoted to revealing the facts about important national issues. She is also well-known as producer of "Keep Posted" (1951-53), "Washington Exclusive" (1953-55), and "Nation's Press Conference" (1956-57); and as former Bell Syndicate Columnist and Roving Editor of "American Mercury Magazine." Miss Rountree is currently writing a book about congressional investigations.

In private life she is Mrs. Oliver Presbrey, and has two daughters aged six and eight. The Presbrey's are prominent on the Washington social and political scene.

Northville Town Hall is sponsored by Our Lady's League of Our Lady of Victory Church in Northville. Proceeds are contributed to charities in Farmington, Livonia, Northville and Plymouth.

Donations are authorized by the board of awards, and advisory group consisting of representatives from each community.

Season tickets cost 10 dollars and checks may be mailed to PO Box 93, Northville.

The program for the coming year's season promises to be brilliant. Leading off the 1965-66 season Oct. 21 will be at the Northville High School auditorium (all others will be at the P & A Theater on Main Street) will be Meredith Willson and his wife.

On Nov. 18 Anna Chennault, widow of General Claire L. Chennault of the famous flying Tigers will relate her first-hand knowledge of the Far East.

An advocate of conservatism in America, Fulton Lewis III will come to Northville Feb. 17 — and on March 17 Vance Packard, social critic with such books to his credit as "The Status Seekers," "Wastickers" will be sure to start controversy among friends and neighbors.

Winding up the season will be Dame Alicia Markova, Director of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and a world famous ballerina. Queen Elizabeth of England personally conferred on her the title of Dame two years ago after her retirement from dancing.

Ticket orders will be filled in the order in which they are received. Luncheon reservations following the performances may be made before each Town Hall.

CHAIRMAN of the Plymouth Rotary Ann Easter Lily Sales, Mrs. Warren Bradburn, is working toward her goal of the sale to take place April 9 from 4 to 8 p.m. and on April 10 from 9 to 3 p.m. Children participating on the sale are to meet Friday at Plymouth Credit Union after school to receive their paper lilies and canisters and be assigned their posts for the sale. And on Saturday, the Old Knights of Columbus Hall (known to the teenagers as the "Chip") will be the meeting place to receive Saturday assignments. Refreshments will be served to children who participate by the Rotary Anns. Co-Chairing with Mrs. Bradburn will be Mrs. Carl Hopkins. Remember all who contribute assist crippled children.

Fawns Hold Pot Luck for Projects

The Livonia Fawns had a Pot Luck Dinner Feb. 27 at the Elks Lodge #2246 on Plymouth Rd. with the proceeds being donated to the Michigan Elks Major Projects Commission.

Various casseroles and meat dishes were prepared and served by the Fawns, under the direction of Stephanie Sloat, chairman of the Pot Luck Dinner. Thanks go to Mary Juene-man, Stephanie Sloat, Irma Vogel, Mary Bulloch, Wanda White and Patricia Smith for their help, and also to all the Fawns who brought food to make this affair a success.

Sharon Lamb Weds Jon Avery De Young

MRS. JON AVERY DEYOUNG

Sharon Louise Lamb of Kalamazoo married Jon Avery De Young of Kalamazoo on Feb. 13 in Christ the King Lutheran Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll W. Lamb of Livonia. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John DeYoung of Kalamazoo.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a sheath gown of French faille with a detachable chapel length train. She carried a cascade of white roses.

Serving as matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Michael V. Kelings of Ann Arbor. The attendants were Patricia Loria of Southfield, Joyce West of Kalamazoo, and Janice DeYoung of Kalamazoo. All wore ruby velvet A-line sheaths with matching pill box hats and carried pink Cymbidium orchids.

John McKay of W. Lafayette, Indiana served as best man. Seating the guests were: James Cole, Lance DeYoung and Robert Schelheimer, all of Kalamazoo; and Donald Phillips of Cleveland.

Following a wedding trip to Canada and Niagara Falls, the couple returned to Kalamazoo where both are employed at the First National Bank and Trust Bank.

The new Mrs. DeYoung is a 1960 graduate of Bentley High School and attended Western University. The bridegroom attended schools in Kalamazoo.

A reception was held in the Church's social rooms for 200 guests immediately following the ceremony. An evening reception was held at Roma Hall for 100 guests.

Out of town guests from Flint, Linden, Ann Arbor, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Benton Harbor, Indiana and Ohio attended the wedding.

Thanks also go to Mrs. Mona Riegel of Livonia, Marilyn Fitzzyk of Detroit, Mrs. Agnes Lyons, June Bering, Connie Mayer, Fran Tunis, Beverly Kutz, Edith Little hats move closer to the head this season, look soft and smooth in sheers, silks, finely woven straws. Big, sweeping brims cast a romantic shadow across spring.

Part-Time Student Elected Honor Society V.P.

For someone who started her college education as something of a "lark" Livonia resident Carolina Roulier has come a long way.

This University of Detroit evening student was recently initiated as a charter member of the Six Mile campus chapter of Alpha Sigma Lambda, national honor society. At the same time she was elected vice chancellor of the U. of D. chapter.

Miss Roulier, 26, is the daughter of Mr. R. E. Roulier of 9390 Lathers, Livonia.

A summa cum laude graduate of Ladywood High School in 1956, she went to work shortly after as a junior clerk in the U. of D. College of Arts and Sciences office. Today she is secretary to the academic vice president and dean of the college, the Rev. Malcolm Carron, S.J.

She is also a senior in the U. of D. Arts College who stands 74 in a class of 574. All her classwork has been done in the evenings or on her lunch hour.

Miss Roulier took her first course at the University during her second semester of 1957. It was a two-hour speech course.

This semester she is studying Italian Opera (an elective) and American Literature toward the B.A. degree in English she will receive in August.

CAROLINE ROULIER

She admits that she took the first course as something of "a lark" because at the age of 18 just about everything is. She also admits that she never thought she would "get this far."

However, the stylish young blond is now very serious about receiving her degree. She firmly believes that it is "necessary to improve yourself whether by obtaining an academic degree or other means." She calls it "the frosting on the cake."

However, Miss Roulier also admits that there is a tremendous amount of self satisfaction to her that her degree is in sight.

Her outside interests, in the little time left over from school and work, are varied. Travel has been one of them. In fact, she took time off from her school work and a three month leave of absence from the University to tour Europe with her great aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Cashan P. Head of 30498 Grandon, Livonia.

She enjoys skiing, swimming and all kinds of sports. She is also an avid reader. Her tastes range from philosophy to modern fiction.

Marygrove Area Alumnae Set Meeting

Martin Luther Home to Open in April

During the middle of April the Martin Luther Memorial Home in South Lyon will open its doors to the aged.

The project is the result of more than a year of hard work and planning by 41 Lutheran congregations in the Michigan District. Area Lutherans have been in the forefront of the project. Rev. Robert Mueller, Pastor of the Peace Lutheran Church in Livonia, is chairman of the Board of Directors for the Home.

Although the official dedication is not scheduled until May 16, the Home plans to open its doors to about 30 residents on April 15. Total capacity is 76.

Arrangements are made so that 20 convalescent cases and 56 ambulatory residents might be accommodated at a time. A staff of 35 is planned when the Home reaches capacity.

The building is located on a three-acre plot just about three blocks from the current business district in South Lyon. It was constructed at a cost of almost $500,000. The furnishings have been provided by the various participating congregations and individuals.

Other area Lutherans beside Rev. Mueller who are on the Home's 12-man Board of Directors are: Emanuel Marion, Peace Lutheran Church in Livonia; Bernard Dittmar, St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Livonia; and Lawrence Blunk and Jake Brinks from St. Peter's Lutheran Church in Plymouth.

Timberlake to Speak to Youth

Bob Timberlake, Michigan's All-American quarterback, will be the guest speaker at a Youth Canteen, March 26, at 7:30 p.m. at Redford Baptist Church, Grand River and Seven Mile. Young people of all ages are invited to hear this outstanding athlete who led the University of Michigan to its first Big Ten Football Championship since 1950 and to a Rose Bowl victory over Oregon State on New Year's Day.

Timberlake is not only a fine passer; he is considered by many the strongest running quarterback in college football.

He scored touchdowns from one yard to 54 yards out, winning the Big Ten scoring title with 67 points. Bob was named to the Football Writers' All-American and to several other All-American teams. An excellent student, he placed on the Big Ten Academic Team the last two years. He also won the Chicago Tribune Silver Football as the most valuable player in the Big Ten.

In addition to playing football on Saturday, Bob Timberlake finds time to teach Sunday School class in Ann Arbor each Sunday morning. He plans to study for the Presbyterian ministry following his graduation from college. He has also signed a contract to play professional football with the New York Giants.

Following the talk by Bob Timberlake, a variety of recreational and hobby groups will be available for young people who desire to participate in these activities.

The film "Martin Luther" will be shown at the Pilgrim Congregational Church in Livonia on April 4 at 8 p.m. While the film is being secured for the Confirmation Class and classes in the Church School which are studying the Reformation the showing is open to others.

W. C. LEVENGOOD

Physicist To Speak at Plymouth Church

W. C. Levengood, Associate Research Physicist with the University of Michigan Institute of Science and Technology will show a series of slides at St. Luke's Methodist Church in Plymouth on March 28 beginning at 6:30 p.m.

The topic of Mr. Levengood's presentation is "Aspects of Pollution and Evolution as Religious Problems." The public is invited to attend.

Mr. Levengood is the author of approximately 25 publications and articles in scientific journals concerning original research in the areas of Solid State Physics involving the atomic structure of glasses and crystalline materials and in biophysical research dealing with factors in the environment which influence reproduction responses.

He is currently engaged in investigation on biophysical experimentation on environmental factors influencing the fecundity of living organisms.

Jay Coulton To Speak

Rev. Jay Coulton, Minister of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, will speak March 31 at 8 p.m. at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church in Livonia.

Rev. Coulton is the fourth speaker of the Lenten Series "Protestants Alike and Different." He will speak on understanding other religions and the value of it.

An active citizen of Livonia, Rev. Coulton is a member of the City's Youth Commission and chaplain of the police and fire department.

The public is invited to this series in the social hall.

Integration Is Topic

"Integration Is Not Enough" is the topic at the March 26 service of the Birmingham Temple. According to a statement from the Temple:

"Too often the suburban liberal pays only lip service to the ideal of a free society. In his segregated middle-class white ghetto he is a voluntary refugee from the harsh reality of the inner city. His flight is an escape from a dilemma that overwhelms him by its terror. With the framework of this fear, how can integration be achieved? And if all integration is achieved in all areas of life, will our problem be solved?"

Choralaires To Sing

The Lutheran Choralaires will sing Lenten Anthems at the concluding Wednesday Evening Lenten Vespers Exercise April 7 at the Christ Lutheran Church at 7:45 p.m. The Choralaires is a group of Lutheran Laymen from Lutheran Congregations in the Metropolitan Detroit area. All are invited to attend. Christ Lutheran is located on Worman and Acacia in the Township.

RUSSELL NEYNABER of Livonia receives the "Pro Deo Et Patria" (For God and Country) award from his mother, Mrs. Cliff Neynaber, while his father and Rev. Arnold H. Jahr, pastor of Ascension Lutheran Church, watch. Russell, the first boy scout of Ascension Lutheran to receive the award, completed 150 hours of service and a project assigned by Pastor Jahr to receive the award. The Neynabers reside at 15040 Fairlane.

Dr. Verner Mumbulo to Discuss Fellowship

Rev. Richard T. Markham, minister at First Methodist Church of Farmington, announces that Dr. Verner S. Mumbulo, pastor at Christ Methodist Church in Detroit, will be guest speaker at the Mid-Week Lenten Service, March 24 at 7:15 p.m. Dr. Mumbulo's sermon topic will be "The Transforming Fellowship", and all members and friends are invited to this worthwhile service.

Dr. Mumbulo was educated at Hiram College, University of Rochester and Rochester Theological Seminary. Later he studied at Drew Theological Seminary and was ordained in 1928.

At present, Dr. Mumbulo is Secretary of Evangelism for the Detroit Conference; is Chairman of the Executive Council of the Michigan Area of Evangelism, and was a former member of the World Service and Finance Commission of the Detroit Conference.

A Pot-Luck Dinner will be served prior to the service in the church dining room, at 6:30 p.m. Call the church office (GR 4-6573) for reservations.

Nursery care and children's classes will be provided during the service in the church sanctuary.

Saul Is Topic

The conversion and baptism of Saul of Tarsus, as told in the Acts of the Apostles, plays an important part in the Bible Lesson on "Reality" which will be heard at Christian Science churches Sunday.

Also included will be these lines from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (pp. 324-5): "When the truth first appeared to him in Science, Paul was made blind, and his blindness was felt; but spiritual light soon enabled him to follow the example and teachings of Jesus, healing the sick and preaching Christianity throughout Asia Minor, Greece, and even in imperial Rome. . . . He who has the true idea of good loses all sense of evil, and by reason of this is being ushered into the undying realities of Spirit."

Puritan or Playboy Is Night's Topic

A weekly series of Wednesday evening programs at the Universalist-Unitarian Church of Farmington will continue tonight with a look at the topic "Puritan or Playboy."

Minister Robert M. Eddy said the series, which began March 3 and will run for 10 weeks, is aimed toward persons in the area interested in liberal religious ideas but unable to attend the church's regular Sunday program.

Each evening sessions include music, meditation and a message at 7:30 followed by coffee and a "talk-back," or discussion of the ideas presented by Mr. Eddy. Baby-sitting is provided for children under 12 if desired.

Past programs have included "The Liberal Gospel" and "What Is Truth?"

Future topics are: "Marriage: The Not So Tender Trap" on March 24; "A U-U's Who's Who" on April 7; and "The Defense of Freedom" on April 14.

Hits Prejudice

Robert Eddy, Minister of the Universalist-Unitarian Church of Farmington, and chairman of the City's Youth Guidance Committee, has urged his congregation to sign covenant cards, prepared by the Greater Detroit Fair Housing Committee.

"It's a sad commentary," he says, "that the Negro still can't buy a house where he pleases. This is not only true in Mississippi, but here in Farmington. Oh, our laws prohibit discrimination but hostility operates to discriminate as effectively as legal prejudice."

23 YEARS OLD Memorial Church Observes Anniversary

Twenty three years ago a small group met on March 17, 1942 in a store building in northwest Detroit to organize and form the Memorial Church of Christ.

From this meeting grew the present day congregation which is housed at Fenton and Schoolcraft in Redford Township.

When the first service was held in a school in early April of 1942, fifty-three people were present. Last Sunday, when the congregation observed the anniversary of its founding, 311 people attended the worship service and attendance at the Bible School number 311.

The congregation moved to its present building in February, 1960 when it outgrew its facilities located at Schoolcraft and Virgil. Actually the Fenton property had been purchased in July of 1955 when the congregation was forced to move into the Will Rogers School for additional space.

The building at Schoolcraft and Virgil was occupied in July, 1947—three years after the property was purchased.

Speaker at last Sunday's service was Lee Doty, the second minister of the Memorial congregation. Mr. Doty resigned from his post in 1953 to take up duties with the Great Lakes Bible College in Lansing. Today he is Dean of the College and its President Pro-Tem.

A total of five ministers have served the congregation since Joel B. Hardigree organized the Church. The present minister Max Copeland, joined the church in July, 1962.

During his term of service a total of 115 members have joined the congregation. Total membership today is numbered at about 315.

The growth of Memorial reflects the growth of Redford Township and of the entire suburban area. It also reflects the dedication and hard work of the many people involved in the formation and growth of the church throughout the years.

Special music was provided at last Sunday's anniversary service by "The Anchormen," a male quartet from the Great Lakes Bible College.

Describe 10 Ways Vocational Educators Can Help Youths

ANN ARBOR—Ten ways vocational educators can better serve the needs of neglected youth are outlined by Ralph C. Wenrich, University of Michigan director of vocational teacher education.

Two of society's most perplexing problems are youth unemployment and juvenile delinquency. Preparation for work can help youth achieve adult status, says Wenrich.

His recommendations:
1—We must accept the idea that high schools have a responsibility for all youth who will enter the labor force—not just those capable of becoming highly skilled secretaries, tradesmen, and technicians;

2—We must develop an even closer working relationship with the world of work to get the cooperation of employers in the task of training youth. We must make a special effort to locate job opportunities for youth with below-average ability;

3—We must learn to work with other youth-serving agencies in the community such as leaders in boys clubs, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and YMWCA;

4—We must consider industry in its broadest sense. The food industry, the health services, personal services, recreational services, and many others are rapidly expanding fields where trained workers with varying degrees of skill are needed;

5—We must provide for groups of youth with different (but related) occupational goals in separate courses or programs. We would not expect a school of nursing to train R.N.'s and practical nurses in the same classes;

6—We must improve all of our vocational guidance services but especially the placement and follow-up services for employment-bound youth;

7—We must employ qualified teachers—teachers who are occupationally competent in the vocation for which they are preparing youth, and teachers who understand and enjoy working with youth;

8—We must employ qualified leadership to bridge the gap between the schools and the world of work. We must have school leadership which understands both education and industry; 9—We must organize our schools so that we will have larger units of administration for specialized education. The area schools and centers should development of more county and be encouraged; 10—We must be willing to experiment. We must do a great deal more by way of exploring new approaches.

Livonia Lions Host Visitors from Alaska

Lion Zone Chairman Len Ricketts of the Lamplighter Lions of Livonia, announces that District 11-A-1 will host seven visiting Lions from Alaska.

Lions Ray Shough, Pres., and Bill Touder and Ray Huddleston will be present from the Valdez Alaska Lions Club. John Clark, Pres., and wife, and Robert West will represent the Midnight Sun Lions Club of Fairbanks. Herb Baker and Norman Du Pond will represent the College Lions Club of Fairbanks.

The above Lions will visit the Leader Dog for the Blind School in Rochester. The Eastside Lions Club of Detroit will host a noon luncheon for twelve of the Lions Clubs on the East side at the Whittier Hotel.

The Lamplighter Lions of Livonia and Strathmoor Lions of Detroit will co-sponsor a Region dinner at the Northwest Sportsmans Club, on Thursday, March 25, at 8. The other clubs that will be represented at this dinner will be the Livonia Lions, Redford Lions, Friendship Lions, Gratiot, Grosse Pointe Woods, Harper Woods, Highland Park, Northtown, Motor City, North End, Westown and University Lions.

The Lions of Alaska will show films of the earthquake that shook the world last March 27.

Through the efforts of the Lions in the Anchorage area, the Ford Motor Co., Ed Schmid, Ford Dealer of Ferndale, Michigan and the aforementioned Lions Clubs of Detroit District 11-A-1, the Lions of Valdez will take back to their city a combination police car and ambulance. Jim Thompson Sales of Anchorage, Alaska, handled the arrangements for this group to visit the Detroit area.

Marines Name Representative

The United States Marine Corps has assigned a new representative to the city of Livonia and the surrounding area. Sgt. Jim Cox is now the man to see for information about service as a United States Marine. His office is located in the Veterans Memorial Building at 173 N. Main in Plymouth. (GL 3-9752). The office will be open from 8:30 to 4, Monday through Friday.

Sgt. Cox, originally from Houston, Texas, has been a marine for over 12 years, and is a veteran of the Korean conflict. When asked what his job would be, Sgt. Cox stated, "I am here to tell the Marine Corps story to young men or women interested in finding out about their opportunities as United States Marines. I am also looking forward to meeting the adult population of this community and assisting in its development in any way I can."

AAUW
Spring bonnets on Saturday's snowy first day of spring were prevalent at the Round Table Club when almost 50 AAUW members and guests gathered for lunch at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. Kenneth Hulsig, chairman of the Legislative Study Group, introduced Mrs. Bette Whitley as the guest speaker. Mrs. Whitley is Tax Structure Chairman for the Michigan Division of AAUW and spoke on tax reform in Michigan.

PLYMOUTH TEACHER HAS TOP T.V.
Mrs. Harrell is coming to Plymouth! She'll be here the Wednesday after Easter vacation. She is coming to return the visit she had recently from Mrs. Perkins' Third Graders of Gallimore school.

To the thousands of children within the range of Channel 56, Mrs. Ruth Harrell has become one of their favorite teachers. On Wednesdays and Fridays they join her "All Aboard for Reading" class.

But — Mrs. Perkins' class chalked up a big "first". They were the first to actually visit the studio and meet their T.V. teacher in person.

They were given a warm welcome. Divided into three groups of 10, one group stayed with Mrs. Harrell during the taping of a program, while one group was in the control room and another in the projection room. They rotated every 10 minutes so each child had the opportunity to see each phase of the production.

Two of the students, Vivian Williams and Ricky Eberts, will appear in the program which will be televised April 28—and Mrs. Harrell will be here to watch it with them.
Gallimore principal, Mr. Alexander is arranging to have the whole school in the gymnasium to watch the show that day.
Here is Kimberlee Foersterlin's description of their trip:
MY TRIP TO DETROIT
On our way to Detroit we sang on the bus and we counted gas stations and we counted 175 gas stations. We saw a store named after a nursery rhyme. We crossed 10 railroad tracks. We saw a fire engine going to a fire. I'll tell you what I think was the best of it all. I liked meeting Mrs. Harrell... and a thank-you note:
Dear Mrs. Harrell
Every thing was interesting and thank you for the candy. I think you are pretty and thank you for showing us your office.

HANDBAG NEWS
Ladylike handbags are somewhat smaller this spring, with rounded lines, jewelry-like closings and longer handles.

Looking Around Plymouth

St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Youth Group of Plymouth will meet Saturday March 27 for a bowling party. Members and guests are invited to meet at the church at 1309 Penniman at 6:30 p.m. and go to the Northville Lanes.

Plymouth Newcomers Club has chosen Pandoras, 33870 Plymouth Road, for their next luncheon at 12:30 p.m. with Mrs. Elaine Hale from the Public Relations Department of the Goodwill Industries as guest speaker. As an added feature, Anne Spencer will give a briefing on the Assembly of Equal Opportunity. Call reservations in to Mrs. Herman Maier 453-2571 (A-M) or Mrs. George Nelson 453-4644 (N-Z). Cancellations may be called to Mrs. Vern Tiltz at 453-8938.

Plymouth Registered Nurses will hold a special meeting Tuesday March 30 at 7:30 p.m. in the High School Library. Red Cross personnel will speak on Orientation to the Red Cross and a Guide for Local Organization and Use of Nurses in Disaster.

March 22 to 27 is set as National Camp Fire Week. The organization now boasts 55 years. Three Plymouth Blue Bird groups are: Happy Helpful, under the direction of Mrs. Edwin Cavell assisted by Mrs. Robert Stenger; Singing Blue Birds, under Mrs. Glen Aldrich assisted by Mrs. Jas. Corzine; The Honeybee led by Mrs. Phillip Larrabee with Mrs. Fred Jackson acting as a sponsor. The "Ma-Ha-Ta" Camp Fire Girls have as their Guardian Mrs. William Touhey assisted by Mrs. Wayne Weimer. The group is looking forward to the Dad-daughter Box Supper at Franklin High School, 31000 Joy Road Tuesday, March 30 from 6-8:30 p.m.

Salvation Army Sets Annual Dinner

In behalf of The Salvation Army Advisory Board of Plymouth, Brigadier Ernest Hammer, local Salvation Army leader, announced that the Annual dinner party of the Board will be held Monday night at Loty's, Arbor-Lill at the hour of 7 p.m. on March 29.

Once again, it was announced, the Army has been able to get one of its finest speakers in the person of Brigadier Robert McMahon, Superintendent of The Salvation Army's Eventide Home in Detroit.

Brigadier McMahon is a widely sought and appreciated speaker, having spoken at other functions here.

The meeting will be chaired by The Salvation Army's Board Chairman, Frank Henderson, and it is expected that officials from the City, Township and the Army's Headquarters in Detroit will be present.

The Army will present its local Annual Report in booklet form and a nice program is being planned, which with the fine dinners for which Loty's are famous, adds up to a very interesting and inspiring evening. Special music is also in the process of being arranged for.

By CAROL OTWELL

Spring will be busting out all over when the decorations are completed and set in place for this year's Senior Prom.

Senior Sue Niemi, who has been chosen as the general chairman for the event, has announced that the Prom will be entitled "I'll Be Seeing You," and will center around a spring theme.

Co-chairmen Carol Otwell in charge of decorations, Kathy Hodge and Sandy Dodge, have stated that construction will begin soon on the carousel, wishing well, chestnut trees, etc. which are lyrics to the theme tune, and that the decorations will be completed with parasols filled with flowers and a host of spring blossoms.

Geoff Burke will be in charge of publicity for the Prom which will take place on May 15.

THE MICHIGAN School Vocational Association District Choir and Glee Club Festival was held Saturday, March 20, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the high school gym.

Vocal director at PHS, Fred Nelson, was chairman of the festival which included 1,800 singers in 29 groups from Plymouth, Thurston, Ypsilanti, John Glenn, Wayne Memorial, Lincoln, Inkster, Taylor Center, Riverside, Robb-chaud, Bentley, Fordson, Ida, Lincoln Park, Allen Park, Dundee, Schafer, Redford Union, and Franklin High School.

Judging the performances, which included a sight reading, were Hayden Morgan of Ann Arbor, Robert Klepinger of Farmington, George Cirpps of Oakland University, and Otto Brown of Ferndale.

NINETEEN JUNIOR and senior students at PHS were initiated into the Edna M. Allen Chapter of the Quill and Scroll, International Honor Society for high school journalists, at the annual initiation program last Thursday night, March 18.

This was the largest group to be initiated since the chapter was founded. Initiated were: Mary Theeke, Judy King, Kaye Perish, Joann Skeba, Margaret Rudloff, Pat Hart, Dave Jones, Mary Ann Sincok, Janet Marshall, Rob Wilson, Al Rehner, Judith Overmyer, Sandy Zart, Sherada Erdelyi, Julie Gardner, Chris Armon, Sue Hudson, Kay Osborn and Randy Williams.

The main speaker was David Good, a graduate student at the University of Michigan who is studying journalism. Mr. Good spoke on the journalism opportunities in college and journalism as a career.

THE NOISY hubbub of shouts, cheers, and yells that can be heard in the gym area on Tuesdays and Thursdays after school is nothing to be alarmed at.

With the climax of the winter sports season comes the time to choose the cheerleaders for next year. Therefore, the racket is coming from that group of eager girls who are trying their hardest to learn and perfect cheers in time for try-outs in hopes of becoming a cheerleader.

Senior Kathy McIntyre, a Varsity cheerleader, is in charge of try-outs this year and has stated that six practice sessions are being held before try-outs on April 6, to teach the cheers. Practice sessions began on March 16 and will run until April 1.

Besides choosing the 12 regular cheerleaders this year, six for Varsity and six for junior Varsity, a new squad consisting of four girls will be chosen to cheer only at swimming meets. The necessity for this squad of "Swimming cheerleaders" arose from the change in the sports program which now schedules swimming meets on the same nights as basketball games.

The new squad will be provided with uniforms purchased by the Athletic Department. This is also a first.

Name Bridge Winners

At the weekly duplicate Bridge held at the Plymouth Bridge Club on Friday, March 19, 1965, the following were winners:

North-South: 1. Bill Tullis and Vic Ross; 2. Ruth and John Quinn; 3. Stella Fitzgerald and Sue Fuller. The last two were tied for second.

East-West: 1. Ann Monhigger and J. McMullin; 2. Ed and Mr. Wright; and 3. Ruth Haas and Mary Rapin.

DESIGNED FOR ACTION
Fashion gives lots of attention to active sports this spring, with clothes designed specifically for deep-sea fishing and sportscar racing, as well as styles for tennis, golf, boating and bowling.

Completes Training

Pvt. Richard L. Sharland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd G. Sharland, 48175 N. Territorial, Plymouth, recently completed an eight-week personnel administration specialist course at the Army Armor Center, Fort Knox, Ky.

Observing the Scene...

By MYRA CHANDLER

We, the minority, who run the community for the majority . . . in other words — we voters — face a moment of truth next Monday, March 29.

In Clarenceville, South Redford and Plymouth school boards have been poring over budgets they hope will meet their increased enrollments. It is their responsibility to maintain good schools.

It is yours to approve.

If you disapprove, offer an alternative, or run for the school board yourself.

Just to vote NO because of your own pocketbook; because you have no children in schools; or because you don't like a certain teacher, school board member, custodian or PTA member, is un-American. Just as un-American as spouting communism — or as wrong as if you took food from the mouth of a youngster and stuffed it in your own, leaving him wanting.

This is not exaggeration. All over America schools are desperately struggling to keep pace with an exploding population. They are giving our children the added knowledge they MUST know if America is to remain strong. If you don't believe me just try to pass a 12th grade final exam in history, math, college preparatory English, or even for that matter . . . driver training.

The problem is general — however, many states are trying to ease the burden of the property owner. Governor Romney's proposal to appropriate $4 million to increase the per pupil allowance from $236.50 to $242 with no increase in deductible mileage would provide $10.9 million more to the schools, including $9 million more for special program aid, special education, auxiliary services to non-public schools, transportation and so on.

School districts don't dare depend on politics. They plan at least 18 months ahead. They must base their plans on today's facts. Ironically today there are more politicians than statesmen in the legislature — and I mourn this fact.

In a political maneuver intended to dilute Governor Romney's leadership, the House Democrats proposed a bill giving homestead exemptions to residents over 65 years of age. This is fine. Senior citizens need help. But there was no accompanying legislature to replace the deficit to the state of almost $20 million. . . . a large portion of which goes to aid schools.

Think of it. It is enough to bring chills and ulcers to the most optimistic school superintendent. How can anyone say that he does not want to aid senior citizens? It is political, political, political!

I pray that a statesman will emerge from among the Senate Democrats who will say "Wait . . . let us not do this until we find new sources of revenue for the schools — either a tax on dog racing (Paul Chandler's pet project); or an income tax or new real estate or bingo.

The over-burdened homeowner cannot go on paying and paying. Particularly since legislators are considering bills to increase the financial burden of school districts. For example there is House Bill #2300 which would exempt all parents of parochial children from paying school taxes in an amount equal to what they pay in tuition.

House Bill #2345 would give parents of all parochial children exemptions from special school assessments. Both are presently before the House General Taxation Committee.

Another proposal, Senate Bill #108, would make Boards of Education provide auxiliary services (speech correctionists, nursing, health care, visiting teachers) to all parochial students if they are provided to public school children.

School people must be willing to change their concepts too. It isn't easy. The paying public will rebel anyway.

One change to save money would be the consolidation of school districts where possible.

This IS possible with Clarenceville for example. It is ridiculous for this district to include three communities and even two counties. South Redford and Redford Union in Redford Township should be one school district. Who can afford the luxury any more of a tight, neat little group running a school district with such duplication of supervision? No one.

Also, another idea, proposed several times by The Observer is to get more use out of our school buildings, equipment and books by USING THEM ON A FULL YEAR BASIS. Good heavens, we are going into the space age — a long way from the horse and buggy, but we still treat schools like we were farmers and had to have our kids home during the summer months to plant potatoes.

Students, like everyone else, need vacations — but not all summer — and not all at the same time. As they progress in grades, vacations could differ with years. Complicated you say? Not as complicated as trying to spend money which we don't have.

In Plymouth on Monday, March 29, a 3.25 mill increase to take care of operating expenses for another 2,350 students in the next three years is on the ballot. This increase will operate the school at its present level until 1967.

South Redford on Monday, March 29 is asking for 4 mills ($752,000) for operating expenses to replace cuts put into effect when a millage issue failed last year. Included are transportation, custodial services, building repair, program improvement, reinstatement of elementary art, vocal and music classes; also to meet teacher increment obligations and help build up the surplus funds, and to meet the five year projection of the district's increased number of students.

In Clarenceville on Monday, March 29, 30 classrooms and a high school auditorium will be added to the school district if a $3.5 million bonding issue passes. They are also asking for four mills to continue and expand the district's program. Two mills are being asked as "insurance" against a possible cut in the district's allocation by the State Allocation Board. There is some involvement of a legal problem because the district crosses county lines and there is a threat to remove some tax base from the district. The two mills will be levied only in this event.

Farmington is adding 1,000 more students a year and based on this will be faced with additional building needs by September, 1967. In 1963 they passed a 3 mill increase and a $5 million bond issue. They are hoping for some legislative relief for property owners before they once again have to return to the taxpayers. To date they have been refused.

In Livonia there will be a bond issue on the ballot this June. The thought behind the request will be not to increase taxes. Legislation passed last spring enables districts to extend debt retirement over a longer period than previously allowed. In effect the kids will be paying for their own education.

Redford Union will not escape either. In June they will be asking for a 17 mill renewal. Last June they passed a successful millage increase. Presently they have the highest tax rate out of 14 surrounding districts, 36.30 mills.

If we care anything about our country and our community, we, the concerned people, will support our schools and vote YES. Hope there are enough of us.

The Reader Speaks Up

C'ville School Superintendent Answers 'Suspicious Taxpayer'

(Clarenceville Board of Education, through their Superintendent, has answered the 10 points raised by a letter previously printed in The Observer signed "Suspicious Taxpayer".)

1. There will be a tax base increase, but tax assessing bodies do not indicate this will be as high as Suspicious Taxpayer states.

2. Pupils enrollment since the 1961-62 school year has increased 19% while the total tax base has increased about 3% (See also No. 6.)

3. The amount of money available to operate schools is "tied in" with a State Aid Formula. About $90,000 of "shopping center" tax money will be lost to the district in a decrease in the amount of State School Aid.

4. Taxable valuation back of each child is the key to amount of money available for operation of schools. Since 1961-62 in Clarenceville, this has decreased over 13% because of a 19% increase in pupil enrollment but only a 3% tax base increase.

5. The cost of doing business in all endeavors has risen as the nation's economy has risen. Costs to operate schools have increased proportionately in the last four years.

6. It is estimated that the taxable property valuation back of each child, when the "shopping center" is on the tax rolls, will be about 10% above the 1961-62 year. (This is not 40%.)

7. The Board of Education must go to the people for the authority to levy taxes for bonding and operational money. The Board cannot, without authority, transfer monies or tax rates.

8. Buildings will be of little value without money to operate them.

9. The Board of Education has not asked for a tax rate increase, but the opportunity to use money for the educational welfare of the children of the school district.

10. The above facts can be checked in the offices of the Board of Education and various city, township, county, and State offices, by any and all who are so interested.

L. E. Schmidt, Supt. Clarenceville School District

Thanks Again

I would like to take this time to thank the Livonia Police and Fire Departments and all our neighbors who have been so kind to us in the emergency that has arisen at our home. On Feb. 7, 1965, I had a near fatal heart attack. I was hospitalized for three weeks and still will not be able to work for from three to six months. It is most gratifying to live in such a wonderful community where everyone is so kind and unselfish. Again thanks to the Livonia police who have been so helpful in our time of need.

Sincerely,
MR. G. BOSH

Rejects FRS

The syndicate formed by three local men, for the express purpose of taking over (purchasing?) the governmental apparatus of the City of Farmington, is causing me, and I sincerely hope others, a great deal of alarm and disgust. It is my studied opinion that they are, in effect, asking the voters of this community to repudiate the non-partisanship which has prevailed in all previous City Council elections.

Further, I charge that their "platform" (and I use the word loosely as well as facetiously) is both inflammatory and inferential. It is designed to appeal to the vindictive and uninformed. Even the color of their handout, yellow, is indicative for this is an example of "yellow journalism" of the first water. The seven splinters (due to their lack of substance they fail to qualify as planks) of this cruel and hoaxful document are a melange of insinuations and misrepresentations.

I am not espousing the candidacy of any one man but rather appealing to the citizenry of Farmington to choose from the independent four who not only stand on their own two feet but their well-deserved reputations for knowledgeable, constructive, consistent and long-standing service to this community. These are the type of men, divergent as their talents, personalities and occupations are, who can best reflect the desires and ambitions of this city and its citizens and implement the policies and programs required.

Farmington has no room nor stomach for the type of campaign being conducted by FRS. On April 5, we voters will give FRS its proper definition—FRMINGTON REJECTS SYNDICATES!!!

Angry About Sidewalk

Up until March 19, 1965 I thought I lived in the United States of America. But now I'm beginning to wonder.

On the above date I received a letter from the fair City of Livonia informing me that I'm being pressured into putting in public sidewalks in front of my property. This is to accommodate a subdivision known as Heartstone. These people bought their homes with the existing conditions. I can't see why the city will let a group of people influence them into such actions. The City Council said at the meeting they wouldn't go for this sidewalk unless it goes all the way to Seven Mile Road. Yet they reversed themselves on this matter. If the Council will change on a thing like that what can we expect on bigger things. If I can be forced to pay for something I don't want and need I think I'm being denied my rights. If this is right I sure hope I don't have too much of it. After all if I can be pressured into things like this I will be paying some people's gas and electric bills etc. I have lived in this area a long time. My kid walked to school on the same street. He didn't come unglued or melted because he was glued together or he was salt. If the people of Heartstone think it is as easy as they apparently think, to pull this, they may have a surprise coming.

A DISGUSTED CITIZEN
Ed. Note: Actually this letter was signed by seven Livonia citizens, all on one block.

No College!

Editor: Farmington needs a college like it needs a hole in the head. The tax level is too heavy now. Let's clean up our Appalachia first. Where are the much publicized services? Some roads have not been graded for years.

Let those who want to pay for it. Most people are too stupid to go to school, that's why the dropouts.

WHO OWNS THE COLLEGE SITE?

AN OVERBURDENED TAXPAYER

Score For Teenagers

Editor: Often times today, it seems we hear only of delinquent teenage activities, so I would like to relate one of many constructive ones which I have personally observed.

On the night of the recent State Senate primary, the Farmington Teenage Republicans visited the Republican victor and asked him to speak before their March meeting. He agreed, saying he was always glad to help teenagers to get closer to our government.

The club then went to work, contacted each member, and invited them and their friends to come. And even though the meeting was held on a school night in an off election interest year, 36 teenagers were present. Following the question and answer period Farrell Roberts commented, "You kids really provide a tough and stimulating audience."

All in all, I think the evening again showed that tomorrow's generation is becoming an increasingly conscientious, more mature, and prepared citizenry.

Hats Off to Draugelis

Today we doff our hats to Plymouth's City Attorney Edward Draugelis who conclusively proved he was a man who would back his convictions even though it might hurt him in the final analysis.

Draugelis filed as a candidate for the Municipal Judgeship in Plymouth last December. He told The Observer he did this after discussing his eligibility informally with the Attorney-General's office and election officials at the state and county level.

The question arose from the fact that the Plymouth City Charter provides that a candidate for Municipal Judge must have a residency of five years in the city. Draugelis had resided there for slightly more than three years.

However, prior to filing, Draugelis checked the state statutes and discovered one that he felt removed the five-year clause and thus made him eligible.

At no time did he attempt to cover up the cloud over his eligibility. He discussed it with other members of the Plymouth City Election Board—as City Attorney, he also was a member—and told them of the state statute and his opinion that he was eligible.

When J. Rusling Cutler and Clifford Manwaring filed, he informed them of the situation. Neither indicated he planned to contest the eligibility and that's the way it was, up to one week before the primary, when it was discovered that a movement had been started by an unidentified group to discredit Draugelis by questioning his eligibility.

At no time was Draugelis anything but honest with The Observer. He never tried to hide the qualification cloud. In fact, he told more than one person he hoped someone would challenge his eligibility and take the matter to court for an opinion.

He was always in the open which is more than one can say for his unknown foes.

Then, after the primary, when he headed the voting by almost a 3-1 margin, Draugelis personally took the matter to court, realizing all the time that an adverse decision would eliminate his name from the ballot.

And this in face of the fact that there was considerable doubt in the minds of most lawyers in Plymouth that he was right in his stand.

But the fact remains that Draugelis and Draugelis alone was the one who went to the courts for a decision. None of his unknown foes had the courage to file the challenge.

A week ago Monday, Circuit Court Judge Joseph Rashid made a ruling in favor of Draugelis. That appeared to be a clean cut victory for a man of convictions but such apparently isn't to be the case.

We backed Edward Draugelis from the start because we believe he was honest about this matter from the very beginning. We feel that Plymouth should be proud to have such an outstanding young lawyer in its midst.

We feel that the courts have spoken, have ruled Draugelis eligible and the case should rest there.

If there are those who feel otherwise, then the proper action is to appeal the matter to the State Supreme Court. After all, Draugelis stood up and was counted, why can't his unknown foes do the same? If they disagree, then they should either file an appeal or accept the Circuit Court opinion and let a sleeping dog lie.

—R. T. THOMPSON

Stop the Feud, I Want to Get Off

" . . . They don't know what the row was about in the first place."

So Huck Finn is answered when he asks about a feud between two hill families.

And so might citizens of Livonia, especially the thousands of newcomers, be answered when they inquire about the never-ending battle here whose duration has given it all the characteristics of a meaningless feud.

Without being told, regular readers of this newspaper know that Livonia's feud, and its shame, is the tit-for-tat battle between the Mayor and the majority of the City Council. Indications of it crop up at Council meetings, in the Mayor's office and in the weekly headlines.

It's in evidence when slick-witted remarks like, "Let's buy the Mayor a one-way ticket to the Upper Peninsula" regularly mar the decorum of a Council meeting. Or, more seriously, when requests for legislation or appropriations, or appointments to municipal bodies, are regularly tabled or rejected because they happen to originate from the Executive office.

And it's in evidence, too, when Councilmen have to wait until scant moments before a meeting to get a veto message or other executive communication on which they must act in the same evening. Or when Councilmen have to depend upon newspaper stories or the City Hall grapevine instead of personal consultation to learn about negotiations for an incinerator authority or other project.

Controversy and honest difference of opinion makes a community grow. We don't want to stultify it. When Mayor agrees with Council; when Councilman agrees with Councilman; when School Board agrees with both, the net result is that we become a sterile community with unimaginative, don't-rock-the-boat style leadership.

But, we submit, the incessant feuding between the Mayor and the Council, over what is largely an issue of personalities, oversteps by far the bounds of honest controversy and disagreement.

The disunity which continues to build up each month can, in the end, victimize the entire city.

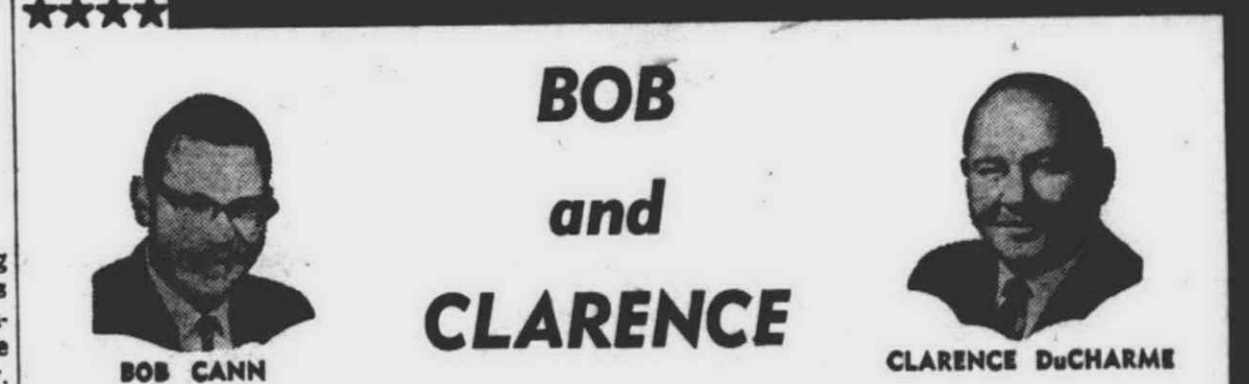

It can start with subtle slaps by Councilmen at an honest, dedicated city attorney because some Councilmen think this is a way to "get" at the Mayor. It can continue with meaningless lawsuits aimed at a Councilman, whose term will have expired long before the issue of the Council's right to fill its own vacancies travels the road of court appeals. And it can end, in Mark Twain's words, "By and by when everybody's killed off and there ain't no more feud."

There is, of course, a more sensible approach to the problems which divide our branches of government.

This approach can start with a conference between the Executive and Legislative members of our city government. It can continue with efforts by the Mayor to communicate more often, and more meaningfully, with the Council; and with efforts by the Council to consider proposals on the basis of issues, not personalities.

And it can end with the certainty that is primed to meet the challenges certain to face it in the near future — problems of housing, of integration, of employment opportunities, of educational needs.

Can Livonia start today to meet this challenge? —DAVID ELSILA

PRETTY practical nurse, is Mrs. Lynn Gill, of 27489 Margareta, Livonia, one of the 40 graduates from Sinai Hospital's Shapero School of Nursing. The Shapero School has graduated over 600 men and women since its founding in 1956.

GM Wins Safety Award 18th Time

General Motors set an all-time industrial safety record for its United States and Canadian operations during 1964 and has been presented the "Award of Honor" of the National Safety Council for the 18th time.

A plaque marking GM's safety performance was presented in Detroit Friday to Louis C. Goad, executive vice president of General Motors, by Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council.

In achieving the award, 998 out of every 1,000 GM employees in the United States and Canada enjoyed a full year without missing work as the result of an on-the-job accident.

In addition, the number of lost-time injuries per million man hours worked set a new low of less than one accident for each million hours worked by approximately 513,400 General Motors employees.

Fourteen Manufacturing plants and one Technical Center staff completed 1964 without lost-time injury, amassing a total of more than 40 million hours without a lost-time accident.

Measured on the basis of the number of lost-time accidents per million man-hours worked, GM's company-wide safety record over the past 10 years is approximately six times better than the average of all United States and Canadian industries during the same period.

Five GM plants or divisions hold world records for the lowest number of lost-time injuries in their industrial classification.

In presenting the award, Pyle commented the GM safety program and said it was "refreshing to present the award of honor for the 18th time to General Motors in a time when accident trends are in their fourth year of all-time highs."

U-M Nursing Make Loans

ANN ARBOR — The University of Michigan School of Nursing has begun making financial loans to students under the Nurse Training Act passed last year by Congress.

The Act furnishes loans of up to $1200 per year to encourage both men and women to pursue careers in nursing; it provides financial assistance needed to keep students in school, and, later, cancels as much as 50 per cent of the loan if the nurse works fulltime in any public or non-profit institution or agency.

Since January 1965, when the funds became available, the U-M has approved loans for ten nursing students.

About 40 additional applications are now being screened. Applicants must meet the regular scholastic requirements for admission to the University, and must indicate a need for financial aid.

Mrs. Rhoda Reddig Russell, dean of the U-M School of Nursing, said the new program "will enable qualified students to enroll in school, and to remain in school, despite inadequate financial assistance from their families."

Once the man or woman graduates as a nurse, 10 per cent of his total loan (up to a maximum of 50 per cent) is cancelled for each year of fulltime nursing in public or non-profit private institutions.

Plan Suburban Course on Home Construction

A new course designed to help suburbanites who are buying or building a home will be offered this month in the Livonia evening school program.

The course, "Buyers Guide for Home Construction," which will meet at Franklin High School, Joy Road between Merimian and Middlebelt, on Wednesday nights from 7:30 to 9:30, will be taught by Walter Martynow. Suburbanites can register tonight, Wednesday, March 24, at the school.

Members of the class will be given the answers to hundreds of questions which cause concern to buyers of new homes," Martynow said. "This will cover everything from learning how to check excavations, concrete pouring, outer walls, partitions, roof framing to answering a few of the basic questions on zoning, township and city ordinances, and legal descriptions."

According to John Anderson, director of adult education, the course was set up at the request of many persons who will be building homes in suburbia this spring.

"As their homes are being constructed they will be able to check, step by step, on the way the concrete is cured, if the drain tiles are properly laid, if the roof is adequately secured, and on many other items which should help make the home last many extra years and to provide the utmost safety and comfort for the family," Anderson said.

Tuition for the ten week course, for Livonians and non-Livonians is $9.00. An extra "bonus" is that the spouse may accompany the enrollee for the entire spring term without payment of additional fee.

"We feel that the course will have additional value and meaning if a husband and wife can absorb the basic facts needed at the same time," Anderson said. "Whenever we can let two come for the price of one we do so, as in this class and our 'Marriage and Family Problems' course."

Martynow is an associate engineer and holds a building and construction license. He has a lifetime of experience in home building in the greater Detroit metropolitan area.

4 in Area Get U-M Degrees

Four students from Livonia and Plymouth were among the 75 receiving degrees in the commencement exercises at the University of Michigan's Dearborn campus.

Under the directorship of U-M Vice President William Storton, the Dearborn campus offers degrees in three divisions: Business Administration, Engineering, and Literature, Science and the Arts.

A senior college, the Dearborn campus is open to students of junior standing. The campus operates year-round on a three term basis, featuring a work study plan under which students spent alternate terms in paid internships with business and industrial firms.

The area graduates included: LIVONIA: Patricia Ciez, 33464 Cindy, Bachelor of Business Administration; James Gimotty, 14631 Country Club, Bachelor of Arts; and Fred Yorlaff, 30257 Grandon, Bachelor of Arts. PLYMOUTH: Carolyn Weitzel, 44444 John Alden Road, Bachelor of Arts.

Livonia Educators Discuss 'Flexible' Class Schedules

Three Livonia secondary school principals served as discussion leaders Monday night, March 15, as Birmingham school personnel continued their study of flexible scheduling.

Sharing their experiences with their Oakland County colleagues were Bruce Hudson of Whittier junior high school, Jay Formana, new Section 9 high school head, and David Amerman, Franklin senior high school principal, at Groves high school, Birmingham, Mich.

The trio was chosen to assist because of their interest and work in developing schedules for their schools which are based on the belief that different subjects and activities required different time allotments.

"The traditional 55 minute period for all classes and all kinds of activities—listening to lectures, experimenting, doing library research—doesn't afford the same maximum opportunities for students possible under flexible scheduling," Hudson said.

Dr. Eugene Howard, Illinois school superintendent was the principal speaker for the program.

Senior Citizens' Friendship Unit To Meet Thursday

The Friendship Unit of the Livonia Senior Citizen's Club will hold a potluck luncheon on Thursday, March 25 at 12:00 noon in the Fellowship Hall in the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church.

Livonia citizens, 55 years of age and over are urged to attend and become members of this unit. Members meet every Thursday at the Rosedale Church.

Any new members interested in attending may call either of the following members of the Steering Committee: Robert Patching, GA. 1-7744; Fred Berg, 425-1458; or Mrs. Donald Fowler, GA. 2-9084.

Livonia Needs Teacher for Medical Class

An instructor for the City of Livonia, Medical Self-Help classes is needed by the local office of Civil Defense.

Persons who believe themselves qualified to teach this class should call Civil Defense Chairman George Calkins at GA 2-1200, Ext. 237.

"An immediate response to this urgent plea will be appreciated," Calkins said. "Inasmuch as the weekly classes have already started without a permanent instructor."

Livonians wishing to participate as members of this class may inquire by calling Mr. Cooper.

Mixed Doubles Off to Greatest Start

Although the tournament is only a month old, interest in the third annual Observer Newspapers-Merri-Bowl Lanes mixed doubles tournament is at an all-time high and so are the scores.

A year ago, it was well into the sixth week before the first duo recorded a 1300 score but two have been recorded thus far in the 1965 event with numerous totals above the 1200 mark.

Plans will be known shortly after midnight of May 24. There are still plenty of openings for the event which has a guaranteed first prize of $1,000 and an estimated top award of $2,500 if the total entry goes over the 1,000 total.

Thomas had single games of 254, 174 and 234. He started his opener with seven strikes and then spared out. He came right back with the 174 and then had a turkey and two doubles in the final for the 234. His 254 was the highest single game up to last Sunday when Jack Keka, of Lincoln Park, fired a third game 258 in a 602 series to gain the No. 1 spot in that division.

age, found the lanes to his liking and had 200, 193, and 237 for an actual of 280. Joanne, with a 106 average, hit a hot streak in her opener with 184, dropped to 122 and then came on strong again in the finale with 154 for a 460. That added up to 1080 and with their 237 handicap gave them the second place total.

OBSERVING SPORTS

By George Maskin

PUTTING ONE WORD AFTER ANOTHER . . .
One trusts that all young men of the area who represented their senior or junior high schools in basketball in a game played after Feb. 15 will steer clear of any activity with a church or recreation quintet in the weeks ahead.

The reason is simple: If a boy engages in outside competition, he is subject to suspension by the State Prep Association.
The penalty isn't worth the few moments of fun the boy might gain.

There is a move under foot in Michigan to experiment with a change in the basketball rule that now sends a player to the sidelines when he has committed his fifth personal foul.

Under the proposal, such a player could remain in the game. However, after he has suffered his fourth personal, the opposition would get to shoot either one or two free throws, as the situation depends, and then would get the ball out-of-bounds at mid court each succeeding time the particular player fouled.

We understand that State Prep Director Charles Forsythe has no objections to this rule . . . and since he doesn't, we get the notion that there must be some thought among national prep officials to eliminate the expulsion rule.

This department never has liked the fact that a player is sidelined just because he happens to commit an extra foul.

We agree that steps must be taken to keep down the number of fouls, but by adopting a regulation whereby a player with five or more fouls may stay in, the prep executives would be taking a step in the right direction.

In no other sport is a player benched for fouling.

Why should basketball be any different?
Too often, in basketball, a player runs up silly or accidental fouls. When this happens to a star and a coach must take him out, the fans as well as the team suffer.

Interest in high school track keeps mounting in the state of Michigan. Every year sees the number of approved meets soaring throughout the state.

The kickoff comes next Saturday with the Detroit News-Huron Relays at Eastern Michigan University. The following week the scene shifts to Michigan State University. Both are indoor events.

Thereafter the preps will be moving outdoors . . . if the weatherman permits.

Schoolboy baseball coaches in the area should note the date of Saturday, May 1. That's when the Detroit Tigers will hold their annual clinic at Tiger Stadium.

Those who attend the clinic will be with the Boston Red Sox.

The Tigers might do well to add Boston relief ace Dick Radatz to the clinic's "faculty." Dick hails from nearby Berkley and was a star at Michigan State before entering the pro ranks.

Followers of this column will recall some recent remarks in connection with interscholastic sports for the girls.

Such attractions can prove very exciting, as we saw for ourselves during the past winter in our travels with the Detroit Pistons. First in Baltimore and later in Providence, R.I., the gals performed in special exhibition games.

The fans enjoyed themselves.

We see by the papers that Lou Alcindor, the most talked about high school basketball player in the country, will visit the University of Michigan campus sometime this week.

Alcindor stands something like seven-foot, one-inch and could write his ticket to any college in the country. He says he's sliced the list to five — one of which is Michigan.

We saw Alcindor play in New York's Madison Square Garden not too many weeks ago. That he impressed us wasn't important. He had members of the Pistons and New York Knicks stepping to the point that all agreed that the kid could buzz into a pro uniform immediately and waste no time becoming a great.

So remember the name of Alcindor! He's another Wilt Chamberlain and Bill Russell.

The sports' bug certainly can't complain for the lack of television excitement.

Just look at what he could see over the past weekend — the Red Wings . . . the Tigers vs. the Yanks . . . Michigan . . . the high school finals . . . the big bowling classic . . . the Boston Celtics vs. the Cincinnati Royals.

No wonder a lot of wives we know let loose with screams!

Speaking of TV, Channel 50 will cover the Huron Prep relays from Ypsilanti this Friday and Saturday. You may get a chance to see some of our local boys in action.

Time was when the various sports had special times on the calendar. Not any more.

It may be late March, but football already is with us.

Problems For R.U. Mentor

A new season presents new problems for John Mackenzie, the track coach at Redford Union high school.

Last year, the R. U. thineclads ran away with honors in the Suburban Six League by setting a new record for points in the conference meet.

Graduation has hit the Townshippers pretty hard. Many of the standouts from the crack 1964 contingent are gone.

But Mackenzie still has eight veterans on deck, plus several new faces who should make matters very interesting for opposing teams in a week from Saturday when R. U. vies in the Michigan State relays at East Lansing.

Leading the returnees are Co-Captains Bob Griffone (half-mile) and Steve Crane (440).

Also back are Fred Turek in the mile, Terry Shirkey in the broad jump, Eric Bargo in the dashes, Dan McLaughlin in the hurdles and high jump, Dale Julien in the 440 and Jim Parmin, pole vault.

Bentley Short on Veterans

There's only one way for the Bentley high baseball team to go this season under new coach Marty Klozik.

Klozik is taking over from Roger Hanton, whose Bentley forces managed only one victory last season.

For the most part, Klozik will have new faces in the Bentley lineup.

Heading the small contingent of returnees is Catcher John Plumley.

Roger Jones, an infielder, and William Wood an outfielder, also are available.

Among the pitchers Hank Schoerbroeck looks like the best bet.

"We have until April 20 before we open the season," says Klozik.

"By that time I should have a better line on who can do a job for us."

Livonia DPR Calls Meetings of Managers

The Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation will hold their first meetings for managers with the following schedule:

Tuesday, March 30 at Merri-Bowl at 7:30 Free Press, Class "D", Connie Mack.

Meetings at the Recreation Office are as follows:

Thursday, April 8 at 8 p.m. — Class "A".

Monday, April 19 at 8 p.m. — Class "E".

Thurston, Farmington to Open in Huron Relays

Eyes Set on Sixth Loop Title

For five straight years, Thurston high school has reigned in track.

The streak began when Thurston belonged to the Mid-Wayne League. Thurston topped the circuit's trackmen for four years.

Last spring, in its first crack at Northwest Suburban League honors, Thurston again emerged as a victor.

Coach Robert Lake expects another big season for the Southend Townshippers who get going Saturday in the Huron Relays to be held in the Eastern Michigan University field house in Ypsilanti.

"We have some very fine individuals back," declared Lake who has been drilling his charges indoors for the past two weeks.

"In addition we have some fine newcomers who should distinguish themselves in a big hurry."

Leading the returnees on the Thurston team are Al Phillips, a high jumper; Don Bristol in the 440-yard dash, and shot-putter Jerry Szostack.

Phillips leaped six feet, three inches as a tenth grader last season. Bristol has been clocked in 50.8 seconds for the 440, while Szostack should be cracking the 50-foot mark with regularity during the season ahead.

Szostack is the same young man who starred as a heavy-weight wrestler for Thurston during the past winter.

Ralph Stanifer (half-mile); Rick Hock and Stan Jerleicki (440), Bob Grim and Jim Dameron (mile) and Leonard Cyr (hurdles) are other veterans whose names should sparkle in the next two months.

Tenth-graders on whom Lake is counting are Charles Note in the sprints; Jim McEwen, pole vault; Dick Touchette, mile; Jerry Smahay, hurdles, and Steve Casey, in the sprints and hurdles.

After the Huron relays, Thurston will plunge into its outdoor season by going against Birmingham Seaholm and Detroit Redford in a triangular meet.

Then will follow a meet with Roseville before Thurston embarks on its Northwest League schedule.

UP AND OVER goes John Grimes of Farmington High as he clears the high jump at 5-9. All the area track teams are busily preparing for the Huron Relays this Saturday, but cold weather has forced most practices indoors.

Falcons Strong In Running

Two years . . . two champions. That's the coaching record of Fordy Kennedy when it comes to track at Farmington high school.

The outlook for 1965 appears very encouraging for the Falcons who'll get their first test of competition Saturday night in the Huron Relays at Ypsilanti.

"Our big question remains in the field events," said Kennedy as he drilled his charges indoors.

"Remember that for the past two years in the Inter-lakes League meet, we'd hold the final events (shot put, broad jump, high jump and pole vault) in the afternoon and that we managed only four points one year and 4 1/2 the next in these events.

"Yet, when the running events came off, we forged ahead and won the title."

It's Kennedy's opinion that Farmington again will have the strength in the running events and the hurdles.

It's also his thinking that the Falcons will score more points this year in the field competition than in the last two years.

Ron Short, who missed the '64 campaign because of a broken arm, rates high as a pole vaulter on Kennedy's list.

In the high jump there are George Habiet, Bob Charles, Ken Hawkins and John Grimes — all of whom have impressed in practices thus far. Bill Crane, a broad jumper and sprinter, also is looked upon as a certainty to help.

When it comes to the running events, Kennedy's face really lights up.

Mike Ellis, Gary Lockwood and Bob Negohosian form a strong trio for the 100 and 200-yard dashes. Grimes will help them as a "fourth" in the sprint relays.

Gary Schultz, who was the regional and conference champ last year and also an eighth in the state meet, should stand out again in the quarter mile. He has been clocked in 50.8 seconds for the "440."

Joe Watson heads the half-milers on the Farmington team. Other distance men are John Karwoski, Chip Terry, Bruce Anderson, Randy Taggart, Jim Harvey, George Jackson, Ron McCaw and Bob Donovan.

The Farmington appearance in the Huron relays Saturday keeps off a busy season of spring activities for Falcon teams in baseball, track and golf.

Farmington's baseball team will open operations on April 12, the same date on which the school's tennis team opens operations.

Southfield, U-M Lose in Finals

Southfield high, a school which appears on the schedules of many area teams, made it to the Class A basketball finals at East Lansing Saturday night.

Touted as "the Cinderella" team of the tourney, Southfield proved no match for Benton Harbor in the title game, bowing by a 94-68 score as All-Stars L. C. Bowen paced the victors' assault. It was the second year in a row that Benton Harbor has copied the "A" title.

Meantime, River Rouge managed to its fifth straight Class B crown in dumping South Haven, 87-65, in the payoff encounter.

All American Gail Goodrich led the victors, while Russell was high for Michigan.

The NIT title went to St. Johns, which nosed out Villanova, 55-51, in a thriller in New York. The victory enabled veteran Joe Lapchick to climax a brilliant 30-year coaching career on a winning note.

Lapchick is retiring because he's 65 years of age.

Speaking of basketball, the Detroit Pistons ended their season with a record of 31 wins and 49 losses—eight more triumphs than a year ago. They also went up one place in the Western Division standings—from fifth to fourth.

Dave DeBuschere, the Pistons' player-coach, immediately headed for Florida to join the pitching staff of the Chicago White Sox. The way plans currently shape up, DeBuschere will be back as the Pistons player-coach in the fall.

The NBA playoffs open this Wednesday night with Philadelphia at Cincinnati and Baltimore at St. Louis in the best of three series. The Philadelphia-Cincinnati winner meets Boston, the St. Louis-Baltimore victor goes against Los Angeles.

The toast of Detroit remain the Red Wings who are driving toward a regular season title in the National Hockey League chase which ends this weekend when the Wings play Toronto home and home — at Toronto Saturday and Olympia Sunday.

The playoffs open next Wednesday.

THEY'RE OFF. The familiar cry of the pacers and trotters leaving the post will resound through the stands at Northville Downs Friday night when the state's earliest parimutuel betting meeting opens. And this scene is a familiar one also, catching the horses at the finish line. The standardbreds will perform nightly at the 'Downs for 18 nights.

Trotters, Pacers to Open Friday at N'ville Downs

Let it rain, let it snow, it won't stop the trotters and pacers from starting Friday night at Northville Downs for the earliest harness racing opening in Michigan history.

Those followers of the standardbreds, who remember the nights back in the late '40s when Northville was pioneering parimutuel betting and using the old fashioned salamanders for heat, will have a treat in store.

Northville Downs has installed the newest and most modern electric heaters that are guaranteed to boost the temperature more than 35 degrees to all patrons. It will be a case of just sitting and watching the races in all the comforts of a warm night in July.

A total of 360 of the electric heaters have been placed in the upper and lower levels of the grandstand. They are of a new type, developed in the past two years, which operate with quartz tubes and ultra-red rays. They will provide a constant temperature of 70 degrees for the customers.

There'll be new faces along with the new look and plenty of familiar names and old favorites to hold the attention of fans.

This especially is true of the $2,500 Inaugural trot on Friday and the $2,500 Invitational pace on Saturday.

Those who follow the standardbreds will have a chance to see one of their longtime favorites in action in the trot when Charley Horse, the eight-year-old from the Cecil Strook stable in Liberty Center, O., will face a field that is expected to include as many as seven or eight starters.

His chief competition is expected to come from such standouts as Jan Kaye, Seth and Bill G, all of whom have shown excellent form in the winter workouts.

Then on Saturday, the pace has attracted such well-known names as Cold Sunday, the 11-year-old from the Everett Hammell farm in Pinckney; Star Coburn, from the Strook string; and the fast-moving Livonia Boy, who carries the colors of the Jack Richards stable from Livonia.

More than 700 horses were on the grounds last Monday, leading Racing Secretary Harry Peterson to predict the 18-night meeting, which ends on April 15, could be one of the best early meetings ever in Michigan.

Northville shattered 13 wagering records a year ago and Executive Manager John Carlo believes it will start where it left off last summer.

"Records are only made to be broken," said Carlo, "Interest in harness racing is at its greatest peak at this time as shown by the tremendous starts in Chicago and New York City.

"Inasmuch as we have three weeks of racing with no competition in the Detroit area, we believe our short meeting could be just about the best ever for this section."

With that thought in mind, Carlo is looking forward to a crowd of more than 10,000 in the stands to greet the pacers and trotters.

The early meeting forced the 'Downs to make several changes in the roster of the official family since several of the regulars are busy at other meetings and couldn't make arrangements to shift to Northville.

Frank Meharg, one of Michigan's two state stewards, will serve as presiding judge, in the absence of Loyal 'Dutch' German and Clay Hulett, of Mason, will be in the stand as state steward.

Norm Lamkin, well-known as the voice of the Toledo Raceway and an aide at Jackson Raceway, will handle the "mike" in place of Jack Riggs, who is still busy with assignments in Florida.

Louis Carlo will work with Peterson as assistant racing secretary and Elwood McLmurray has replaced the late Dave Hoyer as starter.

Post time for the first race nightly will be 8:15 p.m. and Northville Downs will not have twin double wagering.

Jr. High Teams Open On April 28

Livonia's junior high baseball and track teams will start competition on April 28 with all six schools in action.

The baseball games will start at 3:45 p.m. and the track meets at 4 p.m.

The tracksters will compete in the following events: pole vault, shot put, running broad jump, high jump, 100-yard low hurdles, 100, 75 and 50 yard dashes, 440-yard relay and the 80 yard high hurdles.

The baseball schedules:

Observing Sports

Michigan and Michigan State have spring drills going... while Farmington's Bud Erickson, the assistant general manager of publicity man for the Lions, busts into the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel to host the radio and press and tell them all about the Lions for 1965.

And, from what Senior Erickson had to say... the Lions should be quite a team in '65. All their sickmen of '64 are healthy again.

The recent flareup in Detroit after a regional game at U. of D. high might have set back the Metropolitan area's chances of landing the state cage finals for several years.

We have a notion that the State authorities might have been in the mood to consider using Olympia, Cobo Arena and the U. of D. Memorial Building for semifinal and final action.

But, after the unfortunate incident at U. of D. high, the outstater are going to fight harder and longer to keep the semifinals and finals around Lansing-East Lansing, even though the facilities there can't match those which Detroit can offer.

State Director Charles Forsythe admitted to us the other day that the "stabblings" were not the part of any students, but that he went along with the city's police in NOT scheduling a quarterfinal in Detroit.

As we said a week ago, it's not the majority which rules.

THE MINORITY WINS.

Art, with a 140 average, had games of 172, 214 and 192 for 578 and Gloria added 154, 157 and 169 for 480 and a team total of 1058. They received a 231 pin handicap.

The Livonia duo of Walter and Rose Parkoma, of 27642 Barclay, are holding down fourth place with a 1243. Walt, with a 178 average, found the lanes for an actual 616 on counts of 188, 193 and 235 while Rose tallied 447 with 154, 126 and 167. They received a 180 pin spot along with their 1063 for the 1243 total.

With nine more weekends to go, there are plenty of openings for bowlers but Tournament Manager Goldman urges all to get entries in as soon as possible if they want a choice time and date.

"Entries are coming in from all parts of eastern and southern Michigan," he said, "And we have had numerous inquiries from bowlers in the Toledo and northwest Ohio sector.

The squads start at 11 a.m. each Saturday and Sunday through the final day and follow on a one hour schedule with the finale at 11 p.m. on each evening.

Dates still remaining on the schedule are:

SATURDAY: March 27, April 3, 10, 17 and 24; May 1, 8, 15 and 22. SUNDAYS: March 28, April 4, 11, 18 and 25; May 2, 9, 16 and 23.

Bowlers may enter as many times as they desire providing they have a different partner each time.

Now's the time to enter and take a crack at the 1319 score. For additional information contact Tournament Manager Goldman or his assistant Doris Malby at the Merri-Bowl Lanes and they'll be glad to answer all questions and make arrangements for your reservations.

DID YOU KNOW—That Oscar Robertson, of the Cincinnati Royals, who met the Detroit Pistons at Cobo Arena on Wednesday, Jan. 20, is running away with the assist championship in the National Basketball Association. He is averaging 11.3 "feeds" per game.

LIVONIA FUNERAL HOME

15451 Farmington Road near Five Mile

On Friday, March 19, 1965 Livonia's oldest funeral home was newly dedicated to the service of families in this part of Michigan.

THIS FORMAL DEDICATION was postponed until the completion of the extensive rebuilding program.

In order to meet the R. G. & G. R. Harris standards for excellence, the building has been greatly enlarged and almost entirely redesigned. A new wing has been added which more than doubles the space.

The added chapel is 56 feet long and 22 feet wide. One end opens into a spacious anteroom for family privacy. Special lighting, new sound systems and a new organ, finish this fourth R. G. & G. R. Harris Funeral Home and make it one of the finest installations in this area.

SERVICE PREFERRED The steady growth and continuously increasing selection of Harris funeral homes is the result of conscientious, detailed service to the families who come to us. In matters of funeral costs, respect for the wishes of the family, and simple, orderly procedures, Harris has been the choice of three and four generations in hundreds of families.

nesday and the Wings are "in." It now appears certain they'll play their first two games at home. Their opponent will depend on where they finish.

The best bet is that the Wings will go against the Chicago Black Hawks.

There's still no certainty on a date when Charlie Dresen will return as the Tiger manager. It could be sometime in May. Maybe a little sooner.

You build a new home to get exactly what you want why not get the heating system that gives you exactly what you want

Electric heat is custom heat. There's a thermostat in each room so you can dial the exact warmth you want... in the baby's room, the den, the kitchen, every room! Electric heat is the clean, modern heat. No drafts or cold spots. You get even heat from head to feet. Ideal for your new home.

It's also a good choice as supplemental heat for your present home—to warm up a chilly bedroom or new family room.

The cost? That depends on your particular home. Electric heat may be your most economical heat. It won't cost you a penny to find out for sure. Just call Edison for a free estimate.

EDISON

A lower all-electric rate saves you as much as 20% on your heating bill if yours is an All-Electric Home. More reason than ever to enjoy all-electric living.

Outdoor Lighting Gives Round-the-Clock Joy

Outdoor "beauty" plus "land conservation" is a new approach to permanent home improvement offered by leading nurserymen that can be of substantial value to property owners in maintaining land values for living, as well as conserving soil quality and available moisture for healthy plant life.

The first step in the conservation approach is a survey of the site and the soil. Areas are marked out for grass, shrubs and trees. Slopes are examined for plantings to control erosion.

Difficult-to-mow areas are planted to ground covers, as are bare spots under trees. Soil tests may be taken and recommendations made for their improvement for growing purposes, as well as for retention of water.

Water shortages are becoming more serious in many sections and these can be alleviated by the manner in which the soil is treated, including mulching.

The survey marks proper locations for outdoor living and what may be done to make them more beautiful and enjoyable for family and friends. Shade trees are checked out to provide shade where it is needed at the time of day when most needed.

Shrub plantings are checked for low maintenance, speed of growth, soil erosion control, drought survival, hardiness and other factors to fit the local climate and conditions that may be imposed by a specific property, such as northern or southern or wind exposures.

Drainage will play a part in conservation. In general the best-drained areas produce better plants. The survey will include all-season potential flower and fruit production for ornamental and food purposes. It may, for example, recommend automated watering to save home owners time and work.

Members of the American Association of Nurserymen are equipped to conduct surveys and recommendations that will make living more beautiful, while conserving the land, improving its value.

The conservation approach to home landscaping costs no more, and, over the long term, much less, while producing a more permanently valuable property.

Outdoor Exit A Must For Rumpus Room

Where is the best place for a basement rumpus room?

Most home-owners prefer to have their recreation room in the rear of the basement.

The best traffic pattern is a triangle between recreation room, patio and kitchen.

When the recreation room is in the rear, it is easier to provide a direct exit to the outdoors so that children and other occupants can reach safety in half a minute or less in case of fire or other emergency.

The usual grading of a house makes it possible to place long, shallow windows in the rear to provide adequate light for the play areas.

A rear recreation room also enables home-owners to entertain, to play radios and phonographs, and listen to their TV sets as late as they wish without fear that their noise will be heard all over the neighborhood.

When a recreation room is placed in the rear, workshop and storage areas can be located in the front. These do not require as much natural light, since the workshop is generally used at night when dad is home from work, and windows are not generally needed for the storage room.

In the ideal recreation room arrangement, space for a passageway is provided so that both the workshop and storage area can be easily reached from the basement door to the outside.

When the basement exit with its all-steel hatchway covering the steps to the grade is centrally located, it will serve all basement areas to maximum advantage and will make it easy to bring equipment from all the areas in and out.

Spring Time Change Time In Homes

Spring will soon be here and with it comes change—not only in nature, but in homes across the nation.

For one thing, it's time to pack away the winter clothes, woollens and blankets for another six or seven months. Are you prepared?

Or will it be the same as it has been in the past—a trip to the cleaners and the unwelcome storage bill to pay.

A practical and simple solution is to add a red cedar lined closet. Or, if you'd prefer, you can merely line an already existing closet with aromatic red cedar lining. Either way, you'll be doing yourself a favor, eliminating storage costs, and adding substantially to the value of your home.

Cedar closet lining comes in easy-to-handle pieces tongue-and-grooved for fast installation. It is available at lumber dealers. The only tools needed are a hammer, saw, and a few spare hours. Even the "unhandy" handyman can be a success with cedar closet lining.

It's a good feeling, too, when you can use your Christmas club money for Christmas gifts and not for last year's storage bills!

Rising Income Makes Senior Citizens Prime Prospects For Homes

Yesterday's standards no longer meet the needs of yesterday's youth.

In grandfather's day, retirement of a senior citizen generally centered around a rocking chair on the front porch of his son's home.

But today's senior citizens are much more independent as they enter the relaxation of retirement. As a result of careful planning, the annual income of the nation's senior citizens totals more than $25 billion. This is an increase of about $9 billion in the last half-dozen years.

Senior citizens—65 years plus—will be prominent among the new homeowners in 1965. One housing authority reports that "homes that are suited to their needs must be included in all long-range building plans."

Generally, a senior citizen and his wife desire a smaller home than the one in which they raised their family. They also want a home that is compact, only one story high and one that requires a minimum of laborious maintenance.

Many safety features are being built in homes especially designed for senior citizens. They include such things as handrails over the bath tub, non-skid floor coverings, elimination of thresholds, and lower-hanging cabinets, which reduce reaching.

New homes of this type also feature exterior safety features such as fire-retardant asphalt shingles and gypsum wallboard. Location should be on a level site— with few or no steps in the front walk — and without any sharply pitched slopes.

It is estimated that the average income of a senior citizen is between $3,000 and $3,500. Most senior citizens who are buying new homes are interested in price ranges that center around $11,000.

About two of every three dollars of a senior citizen's income comes from carefully planned pension funds or annuities that have matured, and they invest wisely.

This is true because most have owned other homes in the past, and know their particular needs better than, say, a young couple interested in buying a first home.

See Home Planting at Record High in '65

Advance inquiries in the nursery indicate that home landscaping and "natural beauty" planting projects by home owners will hit all-time peaks in 1965.

There are some shortages of quality nursery stock this year and home owners are advised by the American Association of Nurserymen to shop early when they will obtain the "pick of the crop."

Evergreens are in fair supply with the flowering species less plentiful. Surpluses in many plants, such as roses appear largely to have disappeared. Prices may be slightly higher in line with other commodities and due to lower supplies.

As always, smaller-size plants will be less. The association urges consumers not to compare prices of trees and shrubs until they know whether the sizes and the quality are equal.

For example, a small evergreen two-years old and about a foot high may sell for 25 cents, while one 8 to 10 years old and two or three feet across may be $6 or more.

Both plants may be of good quality, the difference being that one provides immediate effect in the home landscape, while the other may take 6 or 7 years.

Or take roses, some are of top grade and have been tested all over the United States, assuring the consumer of satisfaction. Others may be what is known as "run of the row" or some good and some poor plants.

Best advice to home owners not thoroughly acquainted with plants is to consult a good nurseryman, or a leading mail order nursery catalog.

Beware of exceptional bargain prices—you may pay half as much for a plant only one-tenth as good, for example, as a quality plant from a quality nursery. Varieties are newer and more improved plant selections are wider at quality nurseries.

URGE STUDY BEFORE ACTING

Outdoor Beauty Important To All Property Owners

The only way to keep the clock from ruling utility of your home's outdoor living area is to provide outdoor lighting.

Otherwise, advises the American Home Lighting Institute, you are wasting the use of an area equal or greater than that indoors for eating, recreation, entertaining or just relaxing when it can be most enjoyable.

And, if nature has bestowed upon you an abundance of trees and foliage — or if you have cultivated a beautiful garden — their esthetic value to you after sunset is nil without lighting.

Fixtures Highlight Home Beauty

Besides exacting full beauty from furnishings, lighting fixtures of the same style or period can accent and dramatically highlight the scheme.

Today's homemaker can choose from an infinite variety of fixtures that combines comfortable and effective lighting with beauty that enhances other furnishings — even with the switch off.

If you have an adequate number of outlets, you might get the job done by replacing fixtures that may be too small or too outdated to be effective.

You may have to provide new light sources. There are many types of "portable" fixtures that can be mounted to the ceiling or wall and simply plugged into a convenience outlet.

But you might be better off adding new outlets, suggests the Institute.

The addition of new lighting outlets and fixtures which are permanently attached to the structure (wired in) qualifies for a variety of home improvement loans. They are classified as property improvements.

Decorating with light can prove the most practical way for you to finance your decorating. It not only offers new beauty and satisfaction, but simultaneously increases the value of your house.

Figuring the amount of material needed for a red cedar closet is a simple matter. All that's necessary is to multiply the height by the width. For instance, a section with an 8' ceiling and a wall 4' wide would require 32 square feet of material.

Instead of bringing into your home a nighttime view that can be far more dramatic than is possible by daylight, your picture window or glass wall will only reveal a dark, glaring reflection of the room.

An outdoor lighting plan that encourages maximum use and enjoyment of outdoor living areas can be simple or elaborate.

An electrical contractor, electrical distributor or your utility company lighting specialist can help.

If you want to tackle the job yourself, here are a few tips from the Institute:

1—Be sure you select weather-proof wiring and connections. Bulbs must withstand water breakage.

2—Lights should be positioned so that they don't shine directly into your eyes — or your neighbors. Spotlights or floodlights can be shielded by heavy ground cover, shrubby hedges and foliage or "bounced off" surfaces to distribute light indirectly.

3—Don't try to flood the area with light. It creates a white-washed effect. Select one or more centers of interest, like a sculpture, tree, flower bed or fountain for accent. These focal points should be brighter than their immediate surroundings.

4—To avoid large areas of

Indoor Plants Beautify Decor

Many tropical plants are brought north to decorate the indoors with flowers and foliage. Some of these are brought outdoors in summer, but most of them remain indoors all-year. Included are gardenias in flowering plants, others are purely for foliage.

Foliages range from the large-leaved Ficus, or fig, Philodendrons, variegated Dracenas, small palms; spotted-leaved Godseffiana and hundreds of others. Lemon and orange plants make fine decorations.

The indoor decor of many homes can be given an air of luxury by use of tropical plants, which come in many sizes, from those costing only a comparatively few cents up to several dollars or more. Tropical plants are available at many nurseries.

The fragrance of aromatic red cedar closet lining paralyzes moths in the air stage so that they starve to death instead of feasting on valuable woollens and furs.

Make Your Planting Plans Now

One of the advantages of planning spring plantings of trees and shrubs in the late winter months is that you are all ready when planting time comes. There's no delay. You'll have a jump on the season and your plants will be better all year.

There are two ways to plan. Usually you can personally consult with your nurseryman, or you can sit down in a comfortable chair with a nursery catalog and select what you wish.

If you have an outline of your home plot on ordinary graph paper which shows the location of the house, drive, walks, and other structures to scale a good nurseryman can make suggestions. Landscape nurserymen upon request will visit your property and draw plans that you can follow.

Some nurseries operate a system in which plans are drawn for a moderate fee, with the plan kept at the nursery to be planted part by part until completed.

"However," advises the American Association of Nurserymen, "get some fun out of your planting or landscaping by taking part in it."

During the late winter months sit down with a catalog or two and learn something about the plants that appeal to you most. Then see that you get what you want so you will enjoy your plantings to the fullest."

The most enjoyment from all plantings comes when you know more about them. This information is not difficult to achieve from catalogs or good nurserymen.

Students Enjoy Hootenanny

By JOANN VAN WYE
 Everyone who attended the hootenanny last Friday evening had a real enjoyable time. The Student Council who sponsored the activity had gathered some famous folk singers together to perform.

The Villagers, a group that placed third in Michigan in the folk singing category; Rick Ruskin, a well-known singer; Larry Lawson, the only folk singer who has ever been called back to sing on an encore; the Highlighters, a comedy folk singing group; the Randy Minstrels, and Miss J. Carroll Jackson were all present to entertain and lead the students in many popular folk songs.

John Bensmiller, who emceed last year's hootenanny, was on hand to perform the same task this year. Bensmiller also played some popular selections on his guitar. The students had a good time sitting on the floor listening and later singing with the various groups.

Many students leave high school not prepared for the world which they are about to encounter. They are undecided about what they want to do so they just drift along without any particular course to follow. Thurston's counselors recognized this problem that was plaguing students and realized the importance of choosing a career and having a goal in life.

They organized a Career Day. Mr. Jacobs was in charge of making all the arrangements for this event which took place yesterday morning. Students missed their first three classes due to Career Day.

Instead of going to class, the students went to various rooms of their choice and talked to people who worked in the fields they were interested in. There were 75 representatives present from a wide variety of occupations. These representatives spoke about their job, its qualifications, the opportunities it offered, and exactly what it involved.

Last Wednesday the Spring School Forensics Contest was held in the little auditorium. The first and second place winners of this contest are going to go to Franklin for the Regional Spring Forensics Contest.

The winners in the humorous category were: Luana Konvilinka, who read Pygmalion and second place Gordon Keevits who read from Winnie the Pooh. Tim Wandell won first place in the declamation with his delivery of Clarence Darrow's: Address to Jury.

Second place was won by Pat Wood who read Make Every Month Sweeter. The oratory was won by Dorothy Harvey with her speech about "Societies' Outcasts" and second place was won by Jackie Pinch who wrote a speech entitled "Today Cheating, Tomorrow Fiasco."

Thurston's Varsity Choir, which is under the direction of Mr. Roth, competed in a district festival Saturday. The festival was held at Plymouth High School. The choir sang 2 selections. All of the choirs participating in the festival were required to sing "Arise God of All Nations."

In addition they were able to select a song they liked to perform. Thurston's choir members chose "The Old May Song." The choir had a party on March 10, for all of its members. They started with a splash party in Thurston's pool and then went to Linda Phipps' house to dance.

The art club traveled to the University of Michigan Sunday to see an art exhibit. The projects that were on display had been made by artists from Michigan. After the exhibits leave the University of Michigan they are going to go on display all over the world. The club which is sponsored by Mr. Kratz and Mr. Pinkston, found the trip very interesting and enjoyable.

L'Annonce Faite A Marie by Paul Claudel was viewed by a group of French and theater students last Wednesday.

The play was performed in French by Le Treteau De Paris, a group of famous French players at The Detroit Institute of Arts Auditorium. It was a four act play under the sponsorship of the Government of the French Republic and with the patronage of M. Edovard Morot-Sir, Cultural Counselor to the French Embassy.

'Call Me Madam' Cast Chosen at Tryouts

By Donna Hug
 Tryouts for North Farmington's fourth annual musical "Call Me Madam," were held during the week of the 8th through the 12th. The following results were posted on Wednesday, March 17th.

The students selected for the following parts are: Paulette Paladian (Ambassador Sally Adams), Mark Oenke (Cosmo Constantine), Ava Adler (Princess Maria), Greg Licht (Kenneth Gibson), Tom Carley (Congressman Wilkins), Bill Oldershaw (Senator Gallagher), Tom Madigan (Senator Brockbank), Steve Clogg (Pemberton Maxwell), Bob Huber (Secretary of State), Jim Rowe (Henry Gibson).

Greg Valade (Supreme Court Justice), Ron Guilbault (Grand Duke Otto), Sandie Haviland (Grand Duchess Sophie), Marilyn Larson (Miss Phillips), Chris Winkler (Count Chamberlain), Art Maclean (Hugo Tantinin), Mike Maloney (Sebastian Sebastian), Dan Vartanian (Butler), Dennis Vartanian (Clerk), Laurie Lenins (Flower Woman), Debbie Bramlage (a Maid), JoAnne Gunderlock and Mike Coles (an old couple), Keith Coykendal (old man). The date for the musical is May 21 and 22, at 8 p.m.

Twenty-nine students participated in the recent annual local Spring Forensics Contest at our school.

Millie Davidge won first place in Interpretive Reading. Second place went to Charlene Bradley.

In Oratory, Cathy Glessner took first place and second place honor went to Kris Frank.

First place in Humorous Reading went to David Frank; with second place going to Sandie Haviland.

First place in Extemporaneous speaking went to Jerome Johnson; with Steve Kinghorn receiving second place. Declamation first place winner was Mike McCarthy.

The Forensic District Contest will be held at Franklin High School in Livonia on Thursday, March 25.

BENTLEY BULLETINS: Close Score on TV Quiz

BY MARCIA WILSON
 Sunday, March 14, at 1 in the afternoon Bentley High School competed with Franklin High School on the television program "Quiz 'Em On The Air." This is a program put on once a week by the Detroit News. Various high schools throughout Detroit and the immediate vicinity compete on this program weekly. To be on Quiz 'Em On The Air students must read the newspapers daily and try to memorize as many facts as they can.

The Bentley-Franklin competition was one of the "closest quizzes we've ever had," stated the Quiz 'Em emcee, Don Pierre. At the end Franklin won out by only one fifty point question. The four Bentley panel members were, John Bennett, Mark Rabinovich, Cary Gordon, and Kirk Karhi. The faculty sponsor was Mr. Whitefield.

This Saturday, March 27, will be the night of the Bentley Donkey Basketball Game. Students will play basketball as in any other regular game, with one exception to the rule. They will ride donkeys! Students from north Livonia will play against students from south Livonia. Tickets are 50 cents for students and $1 for adults. A sock hop will follow the game for students from all participating schools.

Monday, March 29, a gymnastics clinic will be started for all interested girls. If the clinic goes well it is hoped to be made into a club. Girls will be taught all types of gymnastics and tumbling.

A STUDENT volunteer program has started for any interested girls or boys at Bentley. Anyone wishing to can sign up to give community help to welfare homes, orphanages, or recreation centers.

It is hoped that many Bentley students will turn out to give their service and time to anyone of these places. Interest in doing this kind of work can help students find more job and occupation opportunities.

Anyone showing any further interests may contact the Director of Student Activities Office.

SUNSHINE and flowers, soft lights and music filled the Bentley gym the night of Friday, March 19. For this was the night of the annual girl ask boy Spring Frolic.

At the beginning, each person was handed a ballot on which the names of the five contestants for Spring Sweetheart were printed. These five girls who were nominated a week before the dance were, Carolyn Francis, Cheryl Madaras, Lea Mitchell, Pam Pascoe, and Barb Thompson.

During the dance the ballots were counted and Pam Pascoe was chosen to be this year's Spring Sweetheart. This year as in all years of the past the

LADYWOOD LORE:

Science Projects Ready

By MARY RZEZNIK
 Braying voices and stomping hooves signify the approach of the "Dollars for Scholars Donkey Basketball Game" Saturday, March 27, in the Bentley High gym. Schools participating are Bentley, Franklin, Clarenceville and Ladywood. A sock-hop will be held after the game from 9 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Students of Ladywood's chemistry, biology and geometry classes will display projects at the Detroit Regional Science Fair, Saturday and Sunday, Mar. 27 and 28, in the University of Detroit Memorial Building.

Students with winning projects will attend the annual Detroit Science Fair conducted by the Detroit News in April at the Cobo Hall Convention Arena.

CLARENCEVILLE:

Sock Hop Scheduled

By MARGARET PAULSON
 Let's not forget the big Saturday night, March 27. It's the night of the donkey-basketball game that is being played at Bentley High School gym. Starting time is 8 p.m. The following are the dare devils who will be riding for Clarenceville: David Opperman, Phyllis Dittman, Eleanor Hall, Susan Randall, Jeff Waldman, and Tim Whyte.

There will be a sock-hop following the game. 50 cents will be charged for admission.

Let's all attend, for this promises to be a hilarious game. Congratulations to Linda Harrington, Deborah Johnson, Sharon Rudman, and Jerry Litwin, as they made the semi-finalists for American Field Service.

Linda, a senior, is tops in her class academically. Her extracurricular activities include being secretary of Honor Society, a representative to Wolverine Girl's State at University of Michigan last summer, and last year's Junior Class Vice-President.

Deborah Joan Johnson, a Senior, has also attended Girls' State. Her other activities include being secretary of Student Council, a member of Junior Achievement, and of G.A.A.

Sharon Rudman, another Senior, is a member of Drama Club, Honor Society, and she was also a model in a fashion show entitled "Dress Rite," which was put on by Sears Roebuck & Company.

All three Senior girls have signed up for the school program.

Jerry Litwin, the only junior, has applied for the summer program. Jerry is active in sports, Varsity Club, Honor Society, and L.Y.I.

"Finian's Rainbow," the musical comedy which ran for 723 performances on Broadway, is the choice for this year's musical at Clarenceville High School.

It is scheduled for production on May 7 and 8 and rehearsals are well underway. Satire and fantasy are the two main elements of the show which features such hit songs as "How Are Things in Glocca Morra?" and "Old Devil Moon".

Alumnae Visit School

Five other graduates of '64, Sisters Mary Kay Duffy, Lenore Kochanek, Marianne Kurczyk, Penny LeFevre and Judy Sheddell, postulants of the Felician order, presented a vocation panel to the student body February 18.

After the panel the five Ladywood alumnae were joined by 12 other postulants. Each took upon herself the responsibility of answering questions posed by the students in each homeroom.

Sale Is Success
 Little brown, string-tied packages were in the possessions of most Ladywoodians March 17 as the Prospective Teacher's Club held its annual "Parcel Post Sale." Special prizes were awarded.

Winners were junior V. Papke and freshmen C. Garrigan, B. Skene, C. Browning, M. Frietag and C. McLean.

Four Named as Exchange Pupils

Debbie Johnson, Sharon Rudman, Linda Harrington and Gerald Litwin have been designated by Clarenceville High School as students to participate in the "Americans Abroad" program this year. All four are waiting notification from American Field Service headquarters in New York about their possible assignments.

BANDED FOR SPRING
 Contrast banding decorates many spring fashions, showing up at the edge of a cap sleeve, around a collar, marking a natural waistline.

Juniors, who were selected

TODAY BILL MANASCO accompanied Mr. McKenzie to Thurston for a Northwest Suburban Student Council meeting.

Mr. Schilling accompanied them so that he might make final plans for the League Art Show which will be held in the month of April between the 2nd and the 8th.

After many months of worry and waiting, a letter arrived from the American Field Service Headquarters in New York, disclosing the names of the students selected as the semi-finalists for the foreign exchange students abroad.

Alumnae Receives Award

Paula Koepke, graduate of '64 now attending the University of Michigan, has been awarded the William J. Bronstrom Freshman Prize, an award for scholastic achievement given to the upper seven per cent of the freshman class at U. of M.

The award itself is a bookplate stamped with the U. of M. seal containing a book from a list of famous literature.

Dear Mr. Sage:

Once again, we've had convincing proof of the solid effectiveness of Observer Newspaper advertising.

In a recent center-wide contest, Observer readers clipped a whopping 5,284 entry blanks from a Wonderland section inserted in your publications.

In fact, a careful tabulation revealed that your newspapers produced nearly FOUR TIMES as many entries as the Sunday "zoned-edition" of the Detroit News.

Apparently, no other advertising medium in this area can match the impact or achieve the market penetration produced by The Observer group.

Keep up the good work.

Pat Flowers Is A True Showman

By ALLEN ROSENFELD
Pat Flowers plays as well as ever. That will be good news to the scores of jazz fans in this area, who cut their teeth on Flowers' music.

It was not so many years ago that the names "Pat Flowers" and "Baker's Keyboard Lounge" were synonymous; when aficionados came from all parts of the city to hear Pat play—and occasionally sing.

He is now holding forth at the Danish Inn in Farmington. The word is out, and his old fans have been gathering there in increasing numbers.

Listening to Pat again, one is impressed by his integrity of style. Though the trend in jazz has been toward the complex and the off-beat, Pat has remained true to his Fats Wallerian roots.

He still plays a mean boogie. And he still plays soft melodic standards as well.

His renditions of Chopin, Brahms, and Beethoven betray the fact that he is not only a natural musician, but a highly trained one as well. From the tough music department of Detroit's Cass Tech, he graduated to the elite Juilliard School of Music in New York.

From there, he went on to become a recording star, with Decca, Majestic, and RCA Victor; and a live entertainer at such clubs as Cafe Society, and Ruban Bleu, in New York, and the Show Boat, in Las Vegas.

His singing, which he intersperses in his sets, is not unlike that of the late Nat Cole. He is sans affectations, and lets the lyrics do the work. His personality, honed in such watering places as New York's Cafe Society and Ruban Bleu, and on network radio and television is urbane, relaxed, and easy to take.

As ever, an evening with Pat Flowers still adds up to grand entertainment.

Franklin Teacher Has Lead

David Hirvela, a member of the English department at Franklin High School, has won the leading role of magistrate in the comedy "Shot in the Dark," to be presented in Ann Arbor, April 22, 23 and 24 at the Lydia Mendelssohn Auditorium.

Adapted by Harry Kurnitz, the original play was written by a French author, Marcel Archaud, and called "L'Idiot."

Hirvela, a graduate of University of Michigan, teaches both Speech and English at Franklin High School. In the fall of 1964 he was the director of the successful all-school musical comedy, "Bye Bye Birdie."

"Pinocchio" at Art Institute

The creator of Howdy Doody will bring an even more famous puppet to life on stage at the Detroit Institute of Arts when the Rufus Rose Marionettes present "Pinocchio" on Saturday, April 3, at 10 a.m., 2 p.m. and 4 p.m.

Twenty marionette characters will enact the Carolo Colloidi classic in six scenes. The Rose Marionettes are the enterprise of husband-wife team Rufus and Margo Rose who operate the Studio Theatre in Waterford, Conn., and go on the road annually to present their shows before thousands of children and adults.

Rose started in show business in 1928 with Tony Sarg's marionettes. For 10 years he was in charge of the Howdy Doody show on NBC and in 1958 won a Peabody Award for the Blue Fair, judged the best children's TV program of the year.

Tickets may be purchased at Grinnell's downtown, Marwil's Northland and the Museum Shop at The Detroit Institute of Arts. Mail orders accompanied by stamped, self-addressed envelope will be filled by the Museum's Theatre Arts Department.

Suburban League Production Is in Full Swing for Opening

Skills of many a township resident will be employed come April 30, May 1 and May 2 when the Redford Suburban League presents an original production entitled "Hillapoppin'." Some 60 persons are cast in the musical which is slated for performance in the Redford Union high school auditorium.

The script, written by a committee headed by Al Doherty, centers around a "Typical" township family who inherits a movie studio. In travelling to Hollywood, the Hill family encounter numerous relatives who want to "get into the act." The show opens at the Emmy Awards in Hollywood and is presented as a "flashback."

Mrs. Harold Mango is chairman for the Theatre Guild with Kingsley Page as guest director; George Bashara, musical director and Harriet Fernandez, choreographer.

Hours of time are also being spent by Mrs. Robert Holland, tickets; Mrs. Jack Pember, program; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weber, scenery; Mrs. Harry Monarch costumes and Mrs. Tony Sansone, choreography costuming.

Mrs. Clarence Hugger is properties chairman; Lloyd Dobbert, stage manager; Steve Young, construction; Ray Kolep, lighting; Mrs. Al Bellaire, traf-

Botsford PTA Has Varied Calendar

Botsford's Busy Bees are at it again! It will soon be May Day Fair time and plans are underway for the many different booth and fun filled activities that we hope will delight all who come. Volunteer workers whose services are available in any capacity may call GR 4-0757. Donations in the way of canned goods and trading stamps are needed and would be appreciated.

This month's Botsford PTA meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. on March 18. A question and answer discussion with Dr. Wechsler of the Clarenceville Board of Education on the bond issue facing Clarenceville voters on March 29.

INVITING Redford Township residents to attend the annual dance of the Redford Assn. for Retarded Children are, from left: Shirley Austin, ticket chairman, and Wanda Hudson, dance chairman. The event will be held Friday, April 30, at Roma Hall in Livonia. Tickets, at $5 per person, will include a mid-night buffet, beer, set-ups, and door prizes.

Site for Bailes Espanoles Changed

The site of the Jose Molina Bailes Espanoles appearance at the University of Detroit, Saturday, March 27 has been moved to the U. of D. Memorial Building.

Originally booked into the Student Union Ballroom, it was decided by the Rev. Herman Hughes, S.J., producer of the U. of D. Town and Gown Celebrity Series, to move the dancers into the larger auditorium. Curtain time is still scheduled for 8:30 p.m.

Members of the Molina troupe, including Luis Montero, who choreographs dances along with Molina; Carmen Dominguez, Enrique Ruben, Antonio Martinez, Graciela Vazquez, Luisa Mora, and Mari Carmen Villena will perform over 20 numbers reminiscent of Spain.

Each dance, freshly choreographed and staged especially for this group, brings forth the feelings and emotions of Spain, ranging from the Del Siglo XVIII, dances from the 18th century Spanish Classical School to the

Paul Roche Will Read Poems at WSU

Paul Roche, a noted young poet and translator from England, will read poetry at 8:30 p.m. Friday, April 2, at the McGregor Memorial Conference Center on the Wayne State University campus.

Roche is widely recognized for his translations of the classics and his own poems, novels and short stories. He was educated at Ushaw College, Durham, England, and completed his studies at the Gregorian University in Rome. He is a Fellow of the Bollingen Foundation and a past member of the faculty at Smith College, Northampton, Massachusetts.

There is no charge for admission to the reading and the public is invited.

Science Exhibit Held at Dunckel

O. E. Dunckel Junior High School held its Science Exhibit on Friday evening March 5, from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

This is an annual event at Dunckel and has grown from an exhibit of 17 in 1958 to nearly 200 during the last two years. In 1964, about 31 projects were sent to a screening exhibit for the Detroit Metropolitan Science Fair and about 29 were accepted to show at Cobo Hall. This year the projects were first screened by the teachers and then judged at the exhibit.

About 187 projects were in the exhibit and 51 of them were judged as suitable and outstanding. Of these, 10 were rated as Superior, 13 as very good, 15 as above average and 13 as good.

The judges were seven of the Farmington Science teachers.

Hitchcock Film Will Be Shown at Ford Museum

"Rebecca," one of the many thriller movie productions of Alfred Hitchcock, will be shown on Sunday, March 28 at the Henry Ford Museum theater. Performances of the Famous Early Movie Series will be shown at 2 and 4 p.m.

Laurence Olivier heads an all-star cast in the presentation of an excellent and typical Hitchcock direction. Joan Fontaine, George Sanders, Judith Anderson, Gladys Cooper and Nigel Bruce, make up the supporting cast.

The story of a young girl, who having lived a sheltered life, marries a brooding man who is haunted by his mysteriously deceased first wife, "Rebecca" offers great excitement. The dramatic effect keeps viewers on the edge of their seats right from the start.

A special program of films for children will be presented during the week of April 18 through 24. "Alice in Wonderland" a Disney feature and "Bear Country" a nature drama by Walt Disney will be featured during the Easter Week program. Weekday showings of the special program will be at 1 and 3 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday screenings are scheduled at 2 and 4 p.m. during that week only.

Redford Music Society Opens Membership Rolls

The Redford Township Music Society held its annual Family Concert at Redford Union High School last Sunday. Several hundred guests heard a concert by the Redford Civic Symphony that ranged from symphonic selections to popular melodies.

The Society's next concert will be held May 8.

Wally Roberts
UP
'CURTAIN

A plethora of dramatic productions at times actually plague a drama critics week in the very active Ann Arbor-Nankin-Garden City-Detroit area. And at the rate the Observer chain is growing it isn't to become easier; next week our column will welcome an additional 23,000 readers in Garden City and Nankin Township. Looks like our theater beat will be covering all of South-eastern Michigan before long.

As I started to say before I was so pleasantly interrupted by such a cheering circulation fact, the number of dramatic productions that old Wally review does get to the point of excess. After all, one reviewer can only attend so many plays. I would be willing to wager that this post is as active if not more so than that of many New York reviewers.

Upon certain occasions then I find that it is best to tell some of my able assistants such as Lee O'Connell, Sue Shaughnessy or Linda Spelvin to cover a dramatic event for me. Any and all of these folks have excellent backgrounds for the reviewing or plays.

A few weeks ago I dispatched an assistant to the Madonna College to catch their production of "The Aspern Papers." Director Lee O'Connell did double duty in this production by taking on the lead role as well as doing the staging. This is never an easy assignment. My correspondent indicates that Director O'Connell accomplished both the spic tasks quite astutely.

Laura Champagne, as Miss Tina, gave a fresh and fascinating interpretation to her part of the piece. Even though the role of the maid (Virginia Galantry) is sometimes looked upon as too tiny a role, Miss Galantry gave the part true characterization. The role demanded a mixture of Italian and English dialogue which Miss Galantry handled admirably.

"The Aspern Papers" takes place in and around the sunny plazas of Venice. Staging the play in the arena style gave the audience a great feeling of warmth and intimacy. With the wintry blasts howling on the outside as they were back a couple of weeks ago this production into the sunny, warm climate of lovely Italy called on all the imaginative powers of Melodie Lawson, Sheila Gallagher, Jeanne Fitzgerald, Laura Champagne, and Virginia Galantry. My informant who attended indicated they did succeed and the play was an eye-filling exciting evening.

Word from the Madonna College about forthcoming dramatic productions later in the spring indicates they may do some selections from "In White America." This production played for two years on off-Broadway. Taubman did this to say: "Painfully vivid theater. A flaming editorial... it's passionately alive." Let's hope we can have, at least, some excerpts locally from this provocative production. With events exploding as they are in Selma it might be quite appropriate for such a timely bit of booking.

The Livonia-Redford Theatre Guild presented "Gigi" at the Redford Union auditorium after being delayed a bit by the Blizzard of '65. Nancy Gump romped beautifully through the lead role of Gigi. Her accent at times became a bit muddled, but her lively, vivacious interpretation of the part made the evening most worthwhile.

Louise Martin, as the wise and witty grandmother, showed great understanding and versatility. The first-rate cast had a lively mixture of old and new Guild members. Fay Brown, Victor Slapik, Jean Harrington blended their talents expertly with those of newcomers Earl Harrison and Anne Amerman. Let's hope we see more of Nancy Gump, Earl Harrison, and Anne Amerman in future Guild productions.

The weather caused no end of problems as far as sell-out houses for this production were concerned. Of course, the entire matter of publicity is still a mystery to many community little theater groups.

Granted that even Joe Levine, one of the nation's top showman, could not have melted the Blizzard of '65 and magically produced a capacity audience. Yet there are other built-in devices that can create a demand for your home-grown theatrical product. Perhaps it is time for my annual message, on the subject of "Publicity."

Livonia Musicians Set Concert at Mall

More than 100 strong, the combined Livonia Youth Symphony Orchestra and the Junior Orchestra of Livonia will appear, in concert, at the Livonia Mall Shopping Center the evening of Thursday, March 25.

Their appearance, under the auspices of the Livonia Mall Merchants' Association will be made in the central court of the indoor Mall shopping center which is located at Middlebelt and West Seven Mile Road.

The actual performance will take place between 8 and 8:30 p.m., according to Marion B. Young, of S. S. Kresge Co., president of the Livonia Mall Merchants' Association.

Both orchestras are under the sponsorship of the Livonia Youth Symphony Society, Inc., and arrangements for the shopping center concert were made by the Society's president, Berniece Redinger.

The occasion will mark one of the few times that a symphony orchestra has performed in a shopping center.

The Youth Symphony Orchestra is under the direction of Conductor Lester Farkas. The Junior Orchestra of Livonia is under the baton of Conductor Robert Randall.

Entertainment excursions from your favorite Broadway musicals will be featured during the evening. All will receive $1,000,000 to use at the gaming tables in a Las Vegas setting.

Proceeds from the party will go to the Guild's building fund.

The party will begin at 8 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Schoolcraft west of Newburg Rd.

Tickets may be purchased at the door or by calling KE. 7-8109 or GA. 2-4264.

Proceeds from the party will go to the Guild's building fund.

Thurston Students Win Music Honors

Music was king in competition at Thurston High School last Saturday.

Back from choral and instrumental competition came honours in the highest category from district eliminations.

The Thurston choir obtained a superior rating at Plymouth, highest of five divisions. A second was won in sight reading.

Six of nineteen participants in the State Solo and Ensemble Festival at Marshall obtained superior ratings for instrumental performance.

They were Betty Wallington, violin; Gordon Bredeesen, bassoon; Jim Keene, saxophone; Dan King, Bruce Preston and Mike McCrum, percussion trio.

Those receiving ratings of excellence were Anita Dolen, Edith Chirpke, Andrea Sleeth and Cathie Tampir, string quartet; Elizabeth Woolf, flute; Larry Mead, clarinet; Barbara Block, clarinet; Georgia McKee, Barbara Kress, Emily Kress, Carla Schlosser, flute quartet; Ellen Robinson, Gordon Bredeesen and Ed Schoops, woodwind trio; and Dan King and Bruce Preston, percussion duet.

Director of Music Harper Stephens declared: "Thurston can be very proud of all their participants. A rating of all first or second division means that the performance was above average for a high school student. Approximately 5,000 students competed for ratings."

Eighty-six per cent of all cases of poisoning involve children under the age of six.

MSU Announces 1965-66 Series

EAST LANSING — Five outstanding orchestras from Europe and North America, three major European ballet troupes, an opera company, a Broadway play and two renowned artists highlight Michigan State University's 1965-66 Lectures-Concert Series.

The 1965-66 season program announced by series director Dr. Wilson B. Paul includes pianist Van Cliburn, Metropolitan soprano Anna Moffo, the New York City Opera, the Royal Danish, Hungarian National and Rumanian Folk Ballet companies; the Czech Philharmonic, the Cincinnati and Detroit symphonies; the Moscow symphony, with violinist David Oistrakh; the National Band of New Zealand, and Mantovani and his orchestra.

The National Band of New Zealand opens the Series "A" concert season Oct. 7. The New York City Opera returns to the MSU campus for the 15th consecutive year, and will perform Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rustic-ana" and Leoncavallo's "I Pagliacci" (Series "A") Nov. 22; and Rossini's "Barber of Seville" (Series "B") Nov. 23. Other Series "B" productions include: the Royal Danish Ballet, Oct. 25; the Czech Philharmonic, Oct. 31; the Cincinnati Symphony, Jan. 26; the Rumanian Folk Ballet, Feb. 15, and pianist Van Cliburn, Feb. 21.

In addition to the New York City Opera's production of "Barber of Seville," the Series "B" offerings will include Mantovani and his orchestra, Oct. 11; the Royal Danish Ballet, Oct. 26; the Moscow Symphony with violinist David Oistrakh, Nov. 18; the Hungarian National Band, Feb. 9; the Detroit Symphony, April 3, and Metropolitan soprano Anna Moffo, April 26.

A Broadway play also will be scheduled for both series.

Today's average business executive handles about 30 telephone calls a day for an annual total of 7,500.

THE KENDALLARKS is one of several groups participating in the "Festival of Music" March 27 at North Farmington High School. Beginning at 8 p.m., the Festival is the first annual program presented by the Kiwanis Club of Kendallwood. Choral and instrumental groups from Farmington area schools will also participate. Proceeds from the program will go toward youth projects in the community. Tickets are available from any Kendallwood Kiwanian or through participating school music departments. They are also available at the Farmington Medical Center on Orchard Lake Rd.

Ladywood Girls Perform Sunday in Vocal Concert

The Ladywood High School girls' chorus will join 38 other high schools from the Archdiocese of Detroit at the annual Catholic High School Choral Festival Sunday, March 28. Two centers for the program are Dominican and Rosary High School. Ladywood will perform at the latter.

Each school will render two selections: one sacred number and one secular. Ladywoodians have chosen to sing Masagni's "Anthem for Spring" arranged by Henry Simeone, and "See the Gypsies," a Hungarian folk song, arranged by Zoltan Kodaly.

The Festival will open with a combined number, the "National Anthem" and will close with another combined selection, "Let There Be Peace on Earth." Sister M. Huberta, choral director at Ladywood, will direct the final combined number.

The purpose of the Festival is to learn by performing. Two qualified adjudicators will give each group a critical analysis of each of their selections; their remarks will be mailed to the director on Tuesday following the Festival.

There will be no awards presented on stage as has been in the past.

'Lost Horizon' Is Junior Play at Bentley

James Hilton's novel "Lost Horizon" has now been adapted into a stage play. The dramatization, which captures the mystery of the Orient and emphasizes every man's dream for his own "Shangri-La" will be produced by the Junior Class at Bentley High School April 2 and 3. Curtain time for both performances is 8 p.m.

Robert Luchetti is director. The cast includes: Myra, Judy Schoenberg; Elizabeth, Sally Walker; Wyland, Rick Sorensen; Rutherford, Dennis Martel; A. Tibbetan, Neal Pleasant; Chang, Tom Flewelling; and Conway, Brian Lucas.

Others appearing in the cast are: Mallinson, Bob Mundy; Miss Brinklow, Deanne Nicholas; Barnard, Gordon Douglas; Lo Tsen, Kathy Saunders; Helen, Chris Driver; High Lama, Mike DeGutis; Tashi, Geri Roberts; and Al-Ling, Anita Taddonio.

Charles Britton is in charge of scenery construction while costumes are under the direction of Peggy Olsen.

Tickets will be on sale in the Junior Lobby between 10:45 a.m. and 12:35 p.m. through April 2. They may also be purchased at the door on performance nights.

Smart Businessmen Know It Pays To Advertise Their Business Here

PICKING GOOD TV shows are children in Lucy Seiden Miller's second grade class at Lincoln elementary school in Livonia. They're learning to differentiate between "worthwhile and trashy" television programs. Parents are urged to watch certain weekend programs such as Mr. Wizard, Exploring, philharmonic orchestra, and travel films, with their youngsters.

Farmington, Socially Speaking

Jerry Wendt GR 6-7025

A FABULOUS TRIP

was taken by the Donald Berrys of Arden, Livonia for their second honeymoon. Married for 25 years, the Berrys took a NINE week trip to Arizona, California, and old Mexico. Every area proved a different source of enjoyment. In Arizona, they saw the Superstition Mountains, Grand Canyon, (covered with snow) and the rodeo at Scottsdale.

HOLLYWOOD AND VINE

was a spot that Mrs. Berry had always wanted to see. After this, they visited Disneyland. The open shops at Mexico proved a big attraction with the wares displayed on the street and barter the method of exchange. The Berrys brought back many gifts for their family. Hand-tooled bags, cowboy jackets, and exquisite hand tooled little leather chairs for their grandchildren. Best wishes for many more Happy Years from the Observer staff.

THE MAYOR OF ROGERS CITY,

James Quinn paid our office a visit. He had a group with him. He had spent a good portion of his life in Farmington, but hadn't been back in recent years. He was greatly impressed by the Farmington Center, Farmington Plaza, and the new City Hall, all recent buildings in our city.

MRS. ZAR READER

of Wellington Rd., Woodcreek Farms, will hold a coffee for her Farmington friends to commemorate the golden anniversary of Detroit Country Day School. This school has an enviable tradition of scholastic and civic achievement. Many of our present day professional and business leaders were scholars there. Coffees will be given throughout the different areas where the attending students live. Mrs. Reader will use the Golden Anniversary theme throughout her decorations both on the table and in the house. Honored guest will be of course, Dr. W. Snelling, head-master of the school and Mrs. Reader will introduce him to her Farmington friends. Co-hostesses for the day will be Mrs. William Dornan and Mrs. Paul Boel. Mrs. Paul Phillips, wife of the assistant head-master will pour. April 2 is the date.

THE RICHARD LEMIEUX

of Minton, Livonia will have as house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Brune of the San Francisco Bay area. Their two children Steve (3) and Marvin (1) has been accompanying them. It has been four years since the Brunes' last visit here so a family time of visiting has been planned. The Brunes' will next stop and visit the Lamberts of Cleveland. The Lamberts are parents of Josse Brune, Ann Lemieux has been literally counting the minutes until she can hold those precious grandchildren.

MRS. BRUCE DUKE

of Forestbrook Hills has managed to corral some of Farmington's top-notch workers on her committee and for hostesses. Mrs. Duke is in charge of the Farmington Branch of the program put out by the United Fund workers. "Happiness is a thing called you" is the title professors and educators at the conference. Like most people, they were fascinated by the dulcimer. It is easy to master, can be self-taught. It has but one string, a variety of sounds can be obtained by use of a pencil, brush, stick, etc. It is inspiring to think of the joy that this has brought into the lives of blind or exceptional children who up to this period have not been able to play a musical instrument.

THE JACK WAYNE FAMILY

of Westfield, Livonia, composed of wife Pat, Mike 11, Patty, 9; Greg, 7; Kim 5; and Lisa, 6 months have many pleasant customs that the children enjoy. One of them is that on a child's birthday, he can select the menu for supper. March 19 is Patty's birthday. She is torn between sloppy joes and chili, but is definite on CHOCOLATE for the cake.

THE EASTER BUNNY is always provided with a tempting snack for the five baskets he leaves behind. This year hot coffee and a nice big juicy carrot will be waiting for him.

Area Obituaries

FRED PINNOW.

Services for Mr. Pinnow, 89, of 14773 Northville Road, Plymouth, were conducted in the Schrader Funeral Home in charge of Rev. Henry Walch with burial in Clareville Cemetery in Livonia.

Mr. Pinnow died March 17 at his home.

He had resided in the area for 35 years and was a retired creamery operator. He was a member of the Plymouth Grange.

Surviving are:

a daughter, Miss Dorothy Pinnow, Plymouth; and a sister, Mrs. Minnie Gates of Farmington.

MRS. MARY ROBISON.

Services for Mrs. Robison, 86, of 884 Pennington Ave., Plymouth, were conducted in the Schrader Funeral Home in charge of Rev. Donald Williams with burial in Lakeview Cemetery in Cleveland.

Mrs. Robison died March 17 in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

She has resided in Plymouth since 1939 and was a member of the Baptist Church.

Surviving are:

three sons, Samuel H. of Westfield, N.J., Col. Raymond of Grosse Pointe and Dr. John Robison of Plymouth; a brother, Walter Carpenter of Michigan; four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

SISTER MARY ALMA, CSSF.

Services for Sister Mary Alma were conducted March 16 in the Felician Motherhouse on the Madonna College Campus in Livonia.

Solemn requiem mass was celebrated in the chapel by Fr. Joseph Karaszewicz, pastor of St. Casimir parish.

He was assisted by Fr. Robert Koenig, resident chaplain, and Fr. Edward Popielarz, chaplain of Marycrest Manor.

Born in Detroit, the former Theresa Schmidtke, entered the Felician Sisters' congregation in 1920 from St. Joseph parish.

After making the professional of her first vows, she was stationed in various parochial schools in Detroit including St. Hedwig, Assumption, Felician Academy, St. Joseph, St. Stanislaus, St. Hyacinth and St. Andrew.

She taught at St. Casimir high school this year but due to illness was transferred to St. Joseph hall where she died March 13.

She also taught at St. Florian in Hamtramck, St. Mary in Farmington, Our Lady of Mt. Carmel in Wyandotte and St. Joseph, Manistee.

Surviving are:

four sisters, all of Detroit, Anna Schmidtke, Clara Blavatt, Helen DeCarlo and Marianne Bielek. Burial was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.
