

Teachers get pay hike

Salary increases, ranging from $125 to $750 annually, were approved for Plymouth Community School District teachers by the Board of Education at its Monday evening meeting at school district offices.

The increases represent an overall 3.3 per cent hike in pay for teachers.

Teachers with bachelor's degrees will be on a 10-step pay scale from $5,300 to $8,200 per year, a raise from last year's $5,150 to $8,000 salaries.

Instructors holding master's degrees will get from $5,585 to $9,150 on an 11-step scale, a hike over last year's $5,450 to $8,600 schedule.

At the M. A. plus 30 level, pay will go from $5,875 to $9,950. Last year, M. A. plus 30 pay went from $5,750 to $9,200 in 12 steps.

EMPLOYEE relations committee chairman Robert Utter unveiled the recommendations and urged their approval. Concerning negotiations with the Plymouth Education Association (PEA), the teacher group, he said:

"Negotiations were conducted at a higher level and achieved more unanimity than ever before." Utter said the pattern of the past few years was followed where the school board set the limits and the administration held meetings with the various employee groups.

He said his committee is close to final recommendations for non-professional employees.

The new pay scales, which place emphasis on the higher levels, was approved by a 5-1 vote with board member J. D. Mc-

Publisher named to youth agency

Russell S. Strickland, publisher of the Plymouth Mail and the Farmington Enterprise, was appointed to the Governor's Youth Commission recently.

In a letter to Strickland, Governor Romney wrote:

"I have an earnest desire and interest in meeting the needs of all youth of this state. I believe the Youth Commission can play a major role in accomplishing this goal. . . I am confident that you will make a distinguished contribution to its efforts."

The Youth Commission was a non-functioning agency until it was reorganized in 1964 by Governor Romney, when he made many new appointments.

Laren casting a negative vote.

McLaren said he was voting, not against the raises as such, but against the fact that the total exceeded the amount given voters at three recent millage elections. The average increase, throughout the system, is $240 per year.

"This is somewhat higher than we anticipated," board president Gerald Fischer noted. But he pointed out that adjustments could be made next year to bring salaries within three per cent per year for two years.

Hold pair in boat robbery

James Van Geison of Plymouth and Richard Ray Hunter of Detroit were arraigned last week on grand larceny charges growing out of a robbery at the Trading Post on Main Street during the weekend of May 1.

Examination was set for May 17 before municipal judge Harry Deyo; they were released on $200 bond.

Involved in the theft were two boats belonging to the Trading Post, four canoes and a trailer belonging to the YMCA, and four explorer camp trailers belonging to E-Z Sew Enterprises on Main Street behind the Trading Post.

A third man was implicated in the robbery—Robert Earl Miller of Ford Road—but he had not as yet been arrested by City police. A warrant for his arrest has been issued.

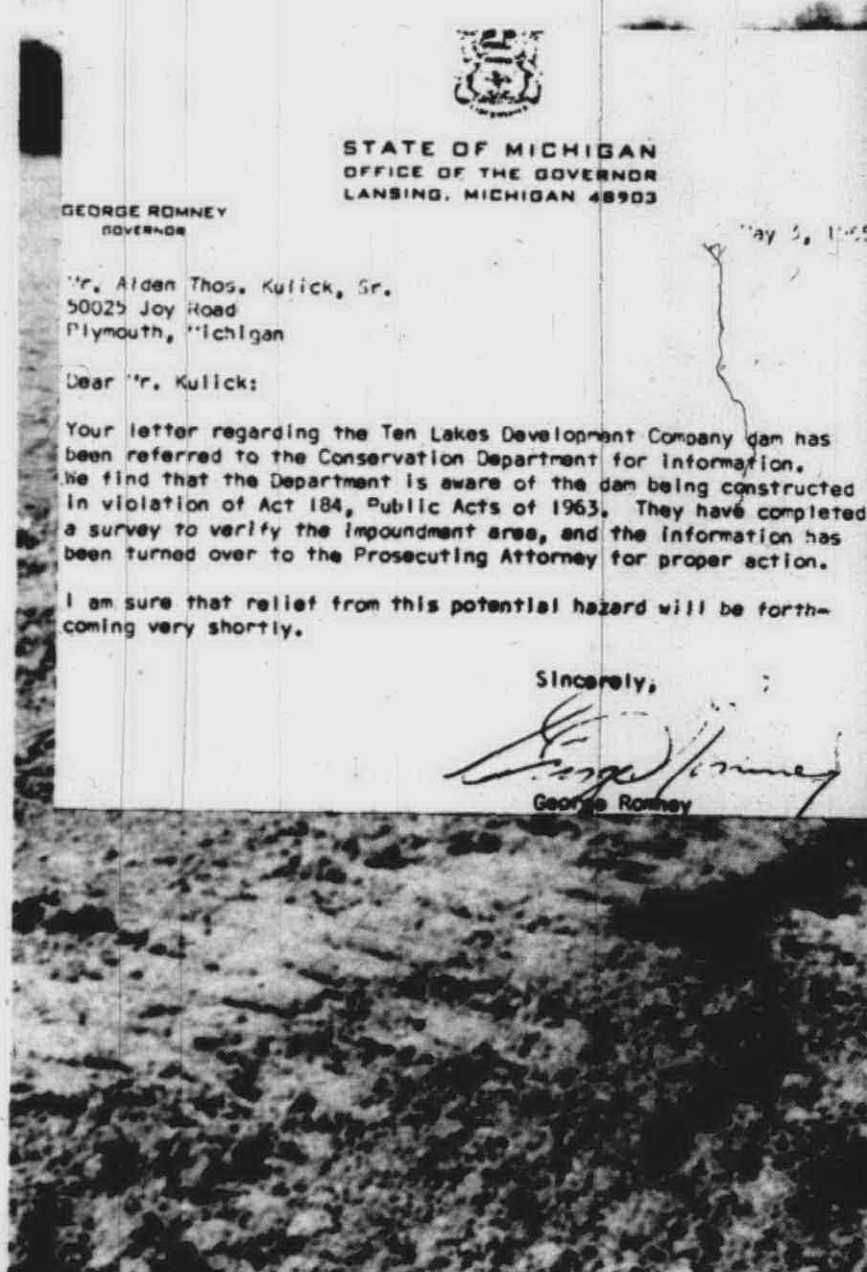

The trailer with the boats were taken to the other side of Ann Arbor, according to assistant Police chief Loren Johnson.

All the property had been recovered by last weekend, and payment been arranged for a damaged trailer. According to police chief Kenneth Fisher, Van Geison came to the station and admitted his car had been involved in the robbery, then admitted he had been involved.

According to Fisher, Van Geison admitted to the crime, and said that "we all were drunk."

Police signed the warrant for their arrest.

Van Geison is president of the Duratiner Corp. on Mill Street.

The earthen dam of Fellows creek just off Napier Road that broke a few weeks back has been reconstructed. The property is being developed by the Ten Mile Lakes Development Corporation. The dam may come under county prosecutor's action this week. The earthwork showed some signs of erosion when this photo was taken Saturday morning.

Hear rights spokesman

"The Michigan Civil Rights Commission, established as required by the new Michigan Constitution, is not an attempt to legislate morality, but a manifestation of government's continuing duty to legislate against immorality."

This according to Burt Levy, Director of Community Services for the Commission in an address before the Plymouth Assembly for Equal Opportunity on last Tuesday. Levy expressed his faith in the Commission as an effective means of eliminating some of the inequities created by what he terms an essentially racist society.

The Commission, appointed by Governor Romney, has the duty to investigate complaints of discrimination because of religion, race, color or national origin, and is empowered to issue appropriate orders necessary to guarantee to all citizens the enjoyment of civil rights without such discrimination.

Levy noted that people frequently hesitate to make a complaint, fearful that it will cause trouble, and be time-consuming. He pointed out that people must take advantage of the law to render it effective.

The large majority of cases are settled without the necessity of a hearing, since most citizens are anxious to comply with the law.

THE FINAL lecture in this series will bring before the Assembly a group of people from Wayne and Southfield who have been involved in the beginning of integration of previously all-white neighborhoods. Moderator will be recently-elected Municipal Judge Edward Draugelis.

Panelists will be Mr. and Mrs. Henry Phipps, a Negro couple who recently moved into Wayne, and Jack Anderson, chairman of Wayne's human relations group.

Mr. and Mrs. Carson Smith will relate their experience in moving to Southfield, and accompanying them will be Howard Coleman, chairman of a similar organization in Southfield.

Date of the lecture is Tuesday, May 18, at 8:30 p.m. in the Plymouth High School annex auditorium. There is no charge, and the public is invited.

The dam on Fellows Creek in the western portion of the Township which broke April 28 has been reconstructed, but may be on its way to coming down.

City hears paving protests

Plymouth's street improvement program got through its public hearing relatively unscathed with only one written petition submitted protesting the additional assessment.

Many area residents were on hand to voice protest, but one long time observer of such hearings noted that the turn out was "light and quiet."

The petition, with 16 signatures, came from residents on Maple St. between S. Harvey and McKinley Ave.

The Commission engaged in considerable discussion with those present about ways of financing the projects, and heard a chorus of complaints from several residents about the special assessments.

It was approved the people involved would get a written agreement that another special assessment won't be necessary for another 15 years. The plans await final action of the commission, and include paving of Penniman Avenue, and widening of Main street from the Mayflower Hotel west.

IN OTHER ACTION, the Commission tabled a request from J. L. Hudson real estate agency to pay a commission on the sale of a piece of land in the industrial park.

The land was recently purchased by John Henry for a convalescent home, and had been shown by Commissioner George Lawton. The action to table came after it was decided to discuss setting a policy for such sales.

In final action, the City agreed to seek ways of draining a swamp behind Garling Sub. No. 1, and asked superintendent of public works John Bida to estimate costs, and report at the meeting this coming Monday.

100 reply to questionnaire

Of the 100 City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township residents who returned to the Plymouth Mail the public opinion survey questionnaire concerning the feasibility of a joint committee to study possibilities of uniting the two communities, 72 persons favored the study while 27 opposed it.

The 60 votes from township residents were split almost equally between wanting the study and not; 34 were for it and 26 against it.

In the city, however, 38 persons said they favored a study while only one resident opposed it.

The idea originally was formulated and suggested to governing units in both township and city in a letter written by Samuel Hudson, 44951 N. Territorial Rd.

Hudson suggested a study be made by citizens in both units to determine the pros and cons of such an amalgamation.

City studies planning contracts

The City commission will hold a joint meeting with the planning commission and planning consultants Velican and Leman on June as a result of a decision made in a special meeting held last Wednesday.

Commissioner Arch Vallier has been pushing for the meeting ever since Velican and Leman presented a bill for its services that amounted to $250 a month. The bill was submitted for the months not covered by the last 701 program.

In general the commission agreed much more information was needed and decided to have City Attorney Edward Draugelis look into all the legal aspects of the present contract for planning and government funds to underwrite that planning.

The last contract expired last September, and a new one wasn't ok'd by the federal government until this late April.

VALLIER said that 75% of the reports from the professional planners were filed and never looked at. "I have no objections to planners. But what are we getting for our money? We need them

New JayCee officers

Cal Strom was elected president of the JayCees last night in the club's annual election; he succeeds Joseph Fletcher, and will take office September 1.

Robert Schuman was named internal vice-president, and Ron Bondie external vice-president.

The third vice-president post went to Joseph O'Hara. Tom Lewis was named secretary, and Norm Fitzpatrick was elected treasurer. New members to the club's board of directors include Howard Oldford, Bob Evans, Roy Jacobson and Elston Jones. The first two were elected for two-year terms, the last two for one-year terms.

for our zoning but I can't see spending money for a bunch of reports" In the discussion it also came out that the money spent for planning was sent to a special agency, and checks were written for it to pay the consultants.

Nothing found in bomb scare

A bomb threat that never materialized at Plymouth Stamping on Ann Arbor Road sent employees scurrying outside Friday morning.

Township firemen ordered the plant evacuated after they received an anonymous phone call alerting them that a bomb had been placed in Plymouth Stamping.

According to Sergeant Fred Knupp, who took the call, an excited male voice said that a bomb had been placed in the plant. The caller asked Knupp if the department had a rescue squad, and when he was told "yes," the caller said that his brother had planted a bomb in Plymouth Stamping because he was mad at his foreman.

The State Police were summoned out of the Detroit post, and three patrolmen and a plainclothes detective shook the building down. No bomb was found.

THE CALLER hung up when Knupp sought more information. The investigation was continuing into the incident Monday under the direction of detective Calvin Lepein.

Work at the plant was held up as a thorough search was being made. Several Township firemen stood by as the search was conducted, and employees were kept a safe distance from the plant.

The run was one of five the Township fire department made last week, which included one made for a smoking relay box in the home of Robert Totten, 9630 Southworth.

Career talks new to Michigan week

Career conferences for over 1300 Plymouth teenagers have been set up as part of Michigan Week and Education Day May 20, and will involve more than 75 resource people, all the way from garage mechanics to lawyers.

Earlier in the spring, Plymouth teens were asked what careers they would most be interested in hearing about from local people, and the conferences have been organized and based upon the results of the survey.

Some of the people that have agreed to serve as a resource for a particular field include Richard Adams of the Eastern Michigan University athletic department, Don Sutherland, Plymouth accountant, Dr. William Stapt, school of natural resources, University of Michigan, B. V. Hart of Burroughs on engineering, machines and electronics, Ralph and Staton Lorenz, Mayflower Hotel, Ken Fisher, director of public safety, Dr. Paul Kaufman, psychologist at Hawthorne Center, and Ossie Hinote, welding.

The list includes somebody for almost every major field and was arranged by Fran Booth, Chamber of Commerce coordinator, and Mrs. Carl Caplin.

THE WHOLE WEEK of events will start with a junior league baseballers parade Saturday morning, May 15, led by the PHS band. It will be opening day for the break up at parking lot in rear of the library.

The American League will start with three games at 1 p.m. and the National League will follow at 3 p.m. with three games.

Here's a breakdown by days for Michigan Week.

SUNDAY

Spiritual Foundations Day A combined choir, arranged by Rev. Peter Schweitzer of the First Methodist Church, will sing in Kellogg Park beginning at 5 p.m. The vesper service will feature members of the choirs of six churches - The Presbyterian church, the Assembly of God church, the First Methodist church, the First Baptist church, the Salvation Army and the Our Lady of Good Council church.

The band shell will be used to stage the choir. The program is expected to last about 45 minutes.

MONDAY

Our Government Day The highlight of this day is the mayor exchange. This year, newly elected Mayor James Houk will travel to Union City, and the Union City village president, Doyle Carpenter, will come here. Carpenter is owner and manager of a general garage, and will be accompanied by his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. (Continued on Page 3)

Operation Exposure - new slant on life

Young kids in trouble concern us all, and we have our share in Plymouth.

They are junior high kids that have never seen the good side of life, and are often in trouble at school and at home. They are too young to be incorrigible, and too old to be changed radically. They need, above all, a new outlook.

A handful of Plymouth people are attempting to give them just that, in what has been known as "Operation Exposure".

The 'Operation' is sponsored by the YMCA and has been aimed at one thing - letting the youngsters see how the other half lives. They have been getting experiences they might not otherwise have had.

And it keeps them out of trouble. Last winter they went skiing and ice fishing with several older men from the community. Earlier this spring they, and a high school coach, and several high school seniors went on a camping trip, that included a canoe venture down the Au Sable River. For the first time, the kids were held together by a common idea and ideal.

Here are some of the comments reported by an observer that was with the boys on their last trip:

"Man, you should see that place up there. Boy is it neat. But then it had to rain."

"Mr. Workman was a good cook. We had Jiffy Pop and that was fun. I want Jim Lake to go back up with us again."

"We're going back in May and really fix that road. Then we won't get stuck again."

For the first time some of these boys have had people they can admire and look up to. And they have a worthwhile goal. They are going back to fix a road.

The idea of the 'Operation Exposure' belongs with these men who have established the YMCA Youth Employment service, the Chip teen club, and the YMCA sponsored graduation parties. They have also sought a youth officer to head off potential trouble between youngsters and the law.

They, and service clubs including

Kiwanis, Rotary, Optimist, the Jay-Cees, and the VFW have supported the various programs with generous contributions of money, and more important, time.

Plans for the summer include more trips north to camp, and work. A tentative program has been set up whereby over 100 junior high boys will be given a chance to go, 10 or 15 at a time, for one week.

We look upon this, and other plans like it, as one of the things that makes Plymouth a different and better place to live.

We would urge continued support of the program, because the idea of the plans helps to answer the continual complaint of active young minds: "We're bored. What can we do?"

About six weeks ago (you can tell if you look at me) I was undergoing an ear-lowering when the barber, straight razor at my throat, asked if I wouldn't please write something nice about the profession.

"We've been getting all kinds of nasty publicity in the daily papers," he moaned.

"Yeah," I agreed as he snatched $2.25 out of my hand and stuffed it into the bulging cash register.

"After all," he continued, "we gotta live too."

"Look, John baby," I countered. "You got it knocked. Look at that big, black Buick parked outside."

"It's used," he explained.

"Look at all the free magazines the drug stores give you."

"Nine outa ten times," he said, "a guy will come in here and start an article and we always jerk him into the chair before he's finished. He'll go to the store and buy a copy."

"How would you like a bunch of complimentary Plymouth Mails each week?" I asked.

"Nah," he said. "We don't sell anything that needs to be wrapped."

"You're very funny."

Seriously," he went on, "two and a quarter is a big bargain."

"Sure it is," I said. "Just listening to your penetrating monologues is worth the money. Not to mention basking in the warmth of your pucky humor."

"Besides, those 24-carat plated clippers and shears and razors lend an air of old-world elegance that's hard to find anywhere else."

"Well," he persisted, "are you gonna write any thing or aren't you?"

"You bet I am," I assured him.

"Uh-oh, Myron," he said to the other barber, "maybe I made a mistake."

"I am going to do an expose on the fact that you sell sweepings to wig companies for $40 an ounce," I promised.

"You wouldn't," he pleaded.

"And I will tell an eager public," I said, "that you mix drain oil from service stations with discarded perfume samples and sell it as a dandruff cure."

"You're kidding."

"And to cap it all off, I will say that it's really appropriate that you named this place 'Duke's Clip Joint.'"

"Cheesh," he noted. "What a grouch."

And then I went home and decided to do none of those things. In fact, I never gave it another thought until Mama brought boy child home the other day with a fresh haircut.

"Who cut your hair?" his sister demanded. "The fat one or the skinny one?"

Watch for jolly white giant grinder

Across the nation next week a stepped up campaign to clean, paint and fix-up local neighborhoods will begin. The week of May 9, is among other things, Clean-up, Fix-up, Paint-up week.

As a service during the week, the City has agreed to have their rubbish contractors, the Denski Brothers, pick up any extra junk, including everything from tree trimmings to old furniture.

And the sky's the limit.

Anything the contractor can't put in his Jolly white giant grinder will be picked up by City crews. There is no set schedule. And it lasts for an entire week. All you have to do is to leave the stuff at the curb.

What an opportunity to get rid of the old bath tub the kids use as a battleship. All you need to do is to lug it to the curb and hope it gets picked up before the neighbors start to hee-haw.

LETTERS: Please help tame dragon behind city police desk

Dear Editor:

Today in my third attempt to get my license I met with a fierce dragon who blocked my path and made me fail in my attempt to obtain the privilege to drive. By means of telephone I was told that road test hours were from 9 until 3:30 p.m.—nothing else.

Next time I went to city hall and a female clerk told me that there were no road tests on Monday and to come back tomorrow and I could take it. Nothing else. Tuesday after getting out of school for the second time a very sarcastic and discourteous white-haired dragon again prevented me from getting my license.

1. I had no appointment—therefore no test.

2. It isn't at all important for me to get my license. (Insinuation—I'm just a delinquent teenager using up her valuable time.)

I fully realize that accidents, cases, and fires etc. come first.

This dragon

1. Did not tell me WHY I could not take my road test—just that I could not take it.

2. She did not tell me when I could make an appointment and acted as if she did not want me to get my license.

3. She was also VERY discourteous to my mother and me.

Has no one told this dragon that small dragons can be eaten by big dragons and she isn't secure?

Upon talking to a knight (policeman) and a very nice one at that, he told me road tests were canceled today because of rain and lack of police.

What difference does it make if it is raining, sleeting, or snowing? Isn't it better to have the policeman know — if you can't drive under these conditions when a policeman is present what will it be like when that person drives alone? I took drivers ed in all kinds of snow storms this winter. At least they (the license clerk) could post regulations at the city hall license desk.

Are there no knights in shining armor to help me slay this dragon.

Workmens comp. 'excessive'

Carl Mitseff, well versed attorney in workmen's compensation cases spoke before the Chamber of Commerce's businessmen forum last Thursday and told them that he thought the new rates were "excessive and far beyond reason"

Payments under the new plan are possible for life, and for the first time all part-time and full-time domestic help is being brought under the law.

Other provisions call for the payments to be tagged to the sliding scale of the standard of living index. And if you are hurt before the age of 25, benefits may be prorated in anticipation of what you might have earned in the future.

"I see myself in the supreme court ten times on that section alone," Mitseff quipped.

Symphony Society to give scholarships to five musicians

Last week's news that the U. S. Marine Corps had cut loose and wounded a couple of war correspondents in Santo Domingo brought memories.

It recalled a warm and human and wonderful four years in a military organization that, while good, has managed to build for itself a monumental myth of infallibility and omnipotence.

As a kid not too far removed from high school, I think I actually believed the Corps was everything it was cracked up to be when I went in.

But the last 40 of the 48 months were spent with the realization that it wasn't.

Surprisingly the guys that holler the loudest while they're in uniform latch onto the somewhat picturesque title of "ex-Marine" when they get out and continue to perpetuate the pleasant fiction that the Corps is all glory and honor and loyalty.

When I went to work as advertising manager of a newspaper in out-state Michigan, they had an old guy that wandered in one day a week to write the meager offering of news. Guess what the headline read?

"Ex-Marine joins staff."

Phooey!

Don't get me wrong. I don't mean to take all the glory away from the pretty dress-blue uniform with the shiny brass buttons.

The United States Marine Corps is a pretty good outfit.

It's just that its legend is all out of perspective to reality and the mistake at Santo Domingo proves it.

The secondary school council will hold a final meeting on Wednesday evening, May 12, to evaluate its activities of the past year.

Board members were given a 70-page second draft of the human growth and development course plan, still not final. In other action, the school board:

- Approved a resolution setting the annual election on Monday, June 14.

- Designated Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing to act as a voting delegate for the biennial election of members to the Wayne Co. Intermediate School District Board of Education.

- Accepted two resignations and appointed 21 new teachers.

- Approved 35 teachers to tenure status.

- Designated board member J. D. McLaren and Assistant Superintendent for Business Melvin Blunk to pass out diplomas at high school graduation ceremonies.

City Commissioners agreed to such a study if the township also was willing. The Township Board of Trustees, however, decided they could not taken any action on the suggestion as long as the charter commission for Plymouth Heights is active.

Several residents voiced the feeling that if unity is brought about between city and township, it should include the entire township and not just a portion of it.

Comments from township residents opposing the joint committee study frequently included mention that the only thing the city had to offer were higher taxes.

Success hasn't gone to its price

After all, you don't get the No. 1 place (or stay there year after year after year) unless you give people a lot for their money. That, Chevrolet does. Look what's new for 1965. Everything.

Like the handsomest new styling you've ever turned around for another glance at. Like Chevrolet's Jet-smooth ride, even better now with Wide-Stance to steady things as you go. Like however much economy or excitement you'd want, our miserly 140-hp Six to our ferocious Turbo-Jet V8, 325 hp on order.

Besides price, one other thing hasn't changed: Chevrolet's traditional resale value . . . still so good you won't believe it until you get it. So get it (along with all that's new) at your Chevrolet dealer's.

For that late spring and summer dessert Mrs. Alvin Oldenburg, 41826 Lindsay Dr., suggested the recipe for her "Fresh Peach Cobbler." Strawberries, raspberries, cherries or other fresh fruits may be substituted for the peaches, according to Mrs. Oldenburg. Frozen peaches also may be used. The Oldenburgs moved to Plymouth from Dearborn this past June. Mrs. Oldenburg works parttime as a doctor's assistant in Dearborn and Mr. Oldenburg works for Ford Motor Company.

They have a married son and three grand-children living in Dearborn, Mrs. Oldenburg said. Mrs. Oldenburg is an officer in the Order of Eastern Star in Dearborn and added she also likes to sew and knit and is learning ceramics. The peach cobbler recipe originally was her mother's, she said. She explained the crust is light and fluffy and added that this dessert is a favorite with her grandchildren.

MIXING UP her fresh fruit cobbler is Mrs. Alvin Oldenburg of Lindsay Dr. The recipe calls for fresh peaches, however, strawberries, raspberries, cherries or other fresh fruits may be substituted, according to Mrs. Oldenburg.

AT THE AAUW TEA for new members, Saturday, held in Mrs. Kenneth Husing's home on Church St., Mrs. Edmond Snyder, Mrs. Edward Covert and Mrs. James Taylor were gathered around Mrs. Donald Sutherland, a past-president of the Plymouth branch. "It's Your Community!" by Henry Raymond is a citizen's guide to civic development and beautification. "The Door in the Wall" by Oliver LaFarge is a collection of short stories. "The Addict in the Street," edited by Jeremy Lerner, gives personal testimonies of addicts revealing how they were introduced to drugs. These accounts were originally on tapes at the Henry Street Settlement on New York's lower East Side. "The Year of the Rat" by Mladin Zarubica is a novel of espionage against the Nazis during World War II. "Foundations of Human Behavior" by Louis Kaplan presents facts, theory and research from all branches of science which relate to behavior adjustment. "The Battle of Dienbienphu" by Jules Roy recreates the disastrous defeat of French troops in Indo-China. "The Man Who Killed the King" by Dennis Wheatley is a historical novel of the French Revolution, and the James Bond of those days.

The Sporting Life Thinking can kill slowly

Doug Johnson

From time to time I digress from the sports scene, perhaps because sports is not particularly my field, and perhaps because I have things to get off my chest. Either way, here goes.

This pioneer land of ours has brought us, above all, to a position of, gasp, conformity.

We all strive to look alike, think alike, feel alike, talk alike, breath alike, dress alike, sell alike, buy alike, live alike, love alike, laugh alike, eat wheaties alike.

We're all blending together, moving towards the great center, the middle of the road, on the main line, in the groove, towards the top. We're all moving towards the mediocre, towards blandness, safeness, certainty — towards conformity.

We all live in nice neat houses in a row, live nice neat lives, have nice neat children, and nice neat dreams. Our wash is whiter, our bread lighter, our facial tissue softer, and our skin paler.

Life is safer, surer, easier.
And duller.

The reason for all this movement into the great oneness is easy and can be explained by the recent scientific discovery that thinking is harmful to the body.

It reduces our resistance, interferes with proper circulation of the juices, affects the nervous system and glandular responses and other organic functions. In fact, there is not one portion of the body that is not affected by thinking. The physical effect is in direct relation to the degree of mental effort.

Must be why so many people are healthy.
Nobody's thinking.

So the best thing to do is to become a rear echelon pip squeak, adopt a ho-hum attitude about all people and everything, and lay back on your front porch and relax.

And may you only raise your voice when the troubled waters lap at your porch steps, not before. Forget to vote, don't read the paper, and watch the wrestling matches on TV.

Close your mind. Shut out the world. Drift with the tide. Don't rock the boat.

Never speak out on important issues, let alone unimportant ones. Ignore the race question, the population explosion, fluoridation of the water, local school and government issues.

Above all, don't think. It might kill you.

Daniels in 8-4 win over Bentley

Plymouth's baseball team topped Bentley last Friday 8-4, and the game belonged to one young man, named Daniels.

John Daniels pitched the entire contest, and unloaded a big double in the second inning to score two Plymouth runs. He was in trouble at least three out of the seven innings, but bailed himself out each time.

Daniels gave up four runs and eleven hits; many potential Bentley runs died on base as Daniels fanned several hitters at clutch points in the game.

Plymouth scored early in the first on a walk and error and a sacrifice fly by Terry Cosgrove.

In the second, the Rocks scored six runners on three walks, two errors and two hits, one of them Daniels' double.

IN THE FOURTH Ron White slammed a homer down the first base line into right field to score Plymouth's last run. White's homer came with no one on.

Bentley scored two in the second, and two in the seventh. They had something of a rally going in the seventh, but left a man on first, and a man on second as Daniels struck out the last batter.

The victory left Plymouth 2-2 in the league, and 3-2 for the season, having won all three home games, losing the two away games.

Earlier in the week Plymouth got drubbed 15-2 by Redford Union as they faced what coach Brian Boring termed "one of the best pitchers in the league, Rick Berryman."

The Rocks were outmanned as both Dave Troutman and reliever Fred Higgs were bombed at the plate — Troutman for nine runs, Higgs for six.

Fielding didn't help the hapless pitchers' cause much as the Rocks tallied nine errors in the contest.

BRIGHT SPOTS included a home run by Jim Lake in the second inning. It was one of three lone hits.

Redford Union scored four runs in the third, and seven in the fourth.

Coach Keith Baughman's track team crushed Allen Park Friday 81-28, but lost earlier in the week to Bentley, 65-44.

In the win over the Park, Grant Fischer and Bill Clyde tied for first with a 10' mark in the pole vault, and Dan Johnson won a second, Garry Grady a third in the high jump.

Pat Brady tossed a first in the shot put, with Garri Watson taking a second for Plymouth.

Howard Stuediman and Frank Dorset finished one, two in the mile event.

Grady, Stuediman, Dave Dirlam and Bob Krietch ran a 3:44.5 to win the mile relay.

Fischer won the 120 yd. high hurdle event, and Jim Scharmen took a third in the same event.

The 88 yd. run went to Dave Buekema who posted a 2:05.2 time, with Plymouth's Bates taking a third.

PLYMOUTH ran away with the 400 yd. event, Dirlam getting first, Krietch a second, Glen Jimmerman a third.

Bob Kane and Dirlam took a second and a third in the 100 yd. dash.

Fischer won the low hurdle event, Kane and Dave Jordan won a first and a third in the 220 yd. run, Kane hitting a :23.2 time.

Against Bentley, Johnson won the broad jump, and tied for second in the high jump.

Fischer took a second in the pole vault, Brady a second in the shot.

The mile event went to Stuediman, with Dorset right behind him for a second place. Johnson also won the high hurdles.

Bob Meyers won the high hurdles, and took a third in the low hurdles.

Dave Allen won the 880 yd. run with a good 2:15.9 time. The shot put was swept by the JV Rocks also, and the pole vault went to Mike Krause who hit 8'3" to win a first.

It was the second league victory for the JV's, who earlier trimmed Allen Park 69-30.

JV trackmen roll over Bentley

Plymouth JV trackmen, under new head basketball coach Dick Bearup, are enjoying a profitable season, and posted a nother win, whipping Bentley 77-32 Friday.

Golfers win triangular

Plymouth's golf team won its first match a triangular, last week, beating both Belleville and Ypsilanti Central by comfortable margins.

Plymouth shot a 154, Ypsi a 163, Belleville a 173.

Dave Wall had for medalist honors with a 36, one over par. Bob McCall shot a 38, Tom Janicki a 40, Jeff Griswold a 40.

Coach John Sandmann, plagued by early season weather problems, has had little time to run his team through practice rounds. But he noted of the victory that "we are getting better, more consistent."

Last Monday Plymouth took part in a 14-school match, the Dearborn Invitational, with Wall shooting a 85 for low score for Plymouth.

Tuesday saw the Rocks lose a close match to Bentley 157-153 with Wall shooting a 37, Jeff Scott a 38, Dave Dunlap a 40 and Janicki a 42.

PHS takes prize in newswriting

Plymouth High School became a seven-time winner in the Michigan Interscholastic Press annual meeting's on the spot writing contest held on the U of M campus in Ann Arbor last week.

No other school in the state of Michigan has won more than five times.

Sharon Olin, editor of the PHS newspaper, "Pilgrim Prints," was a winner in the contest. Sharon wrote an account of keynote speaker Arthur Heckinger's remarks. Heckinger is author of the book, "Teen-Age Tyranny."

The prize was a hardbound copy of his book.

Sharon also writes Plymouth High School news for the Plymouth Mail.

Beyer sponsors teen essay contest

Announcement of a national "Teen Forum" open to local teen-agers has been made by Robert Beyer of Beyer's Drug Stores. Beyer believes that the nation's druggists are responsible, civic-minded individuals, who share a national concern for the growing incidence of juvenile crime.

Teen-agers will be invited to speak out on their problems and responsibilities by means of essays on the theme: "My responsibility to America." Two finalists, (a boy and a girl), will be selected from each state on the basis of their essays and will be flown to Washington, D. C. to participate in a teen forum.

(again, a boy and a girl), will be selected from the 100 state finalists on the basis of their essays, and will be given a trip to Europe, including visits to Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia, to observe the opportunities of youth in other countries.

Mr. Beyer emphasized that this is not a "commercial contest" — that is, no purchases are required for entering. The program opens on May 1, and free enrollment forms are available at Rexall stores throughout the nation. Participation is limited to teen-agers who have not yet finished high school.

LITTLE FEET

WHAT PATH?

The future holds the secret, and it's anyone's guess! He may be a great statesman some day... or maybe a world-renowned athlete or actor... or perhaps a scientist... but most likely, just Mr. Average.

Of course, a lot will depend on his opportunities, his God-given talents, his character, and his training.

Anything could go wrong along the way — poor health, bad examples set by his parents and associates, a broken home, neglect, and false values. But why make a list? The possibilities for this child's failure in life are so numerous that it makes us shudder — and the worst of it, we can guarantee him nothing. But we can give him hope and faith.

Standing ready and anxious to help him is the Church and the precepts which it teaches. It is our duty and our privilege to help spread the spiritual principles of Christian living in practice as well as in word so that the youth of our nation will find some meaning to the path of life which so strangely twists and turns toward some hoped-for goal.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Section 7. Loud Speakers Banned. It shall be unlawful for the owner or operator of any Drive-In Restaurant to operate, or permit to be operated, any loud speakers or make or permit to be made, any other loud noise or permit any show or exhibit on the premises occupied by said Drive-In Restaurant; provided, however, the owner or operator of such restaurant may use a public address system solely for the purpose of giving instructions to employees on the premises, but the instructions so given shall not be loud enough to cause any noise or disturbance to persons not on the premises of such Drive-In Restaurant.

Section 8. Horn Blowing and Loud Noises Prohibited. It shall be unlawful for any person of a Drive-In Restaurant while parking on or adjacent to the premises thereof, or for any other person, while on the premises of such restaurant, to race the motor of any car, to suddenly start or stop any car, or to make or cause to be made, any other loud or unreasonably noise. It shall also be unlawful for any patron of a Drive-In Restaurant, or any other person parked on the premises of such restaurant, to blow or cause to be blown any automobile horn or motorcycle horn at any time while so parked.

Section 9. Unlawful Conduct. It shall be unlawful for any patron or other person on the premises of a Drive-In Restaurant, whether in or out of an automobile, to drink any intoxicating liquor, or to have in his possession any open bottle, can or other receptacle containing alcoholic liquor. It shall be unlawful for any number of persons to congregate for any time whatsoever at any location on the premises of a Drive-In Restaurant other than in the restaurant building, or in a legally parked motor vehicle. Any persons so congregating shall be deemed loitering. No person shall drive a motor vehicle onto the premises of a Drive-In Restaurant and then from said premises without parking such motor vehicle and seeking service, unless there is no unoccupied parking space available on said premises. It shall be the duty of the licensee to post on the premises, in a conspicuous location, one or more signs bearing the following legend:

"CRUISING AND GATHERING OUTSIDE OF VEHICLE UNLAWFUL"

Section 10. Enforcement of Parking Restrictions. It shall be unlawful for any person to park any motor vehicle on any private property or Drive-In establishment without the express or implied consent, authorization or approval of the owner, holder, occupant, lessee, agent or trustee of such property. Complaint for the violation of this section shall be made by the owner, holder, occupant, lessee, agent or trustee of said property, and the Police Department of the City shall enforce this section.

Section 11. Penalty. Any person found guilty of violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not more than $100.00 or imprisoned for not more than thirty (30) days, or be given both such fine and imprisonment at the discretion of the Court.

Section 12. Separability. If any section, sub-section, sentence, clause, phrase, or portion of this ordinance is, for any reason, held invalid by any Court of competent jurisdiction, such portion shall be deemed a separate, distinct and independent provision, and such holding shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions hereof.

Section 13. This ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency ordinance and shall become effective immediately. Made, passed and adopted by the City Commission of the City of Plymouth, Michigan, this 3rd day of May A.D. 1965.

We can keep you in hot water.

In fact, we guarantee it!

An electric water heater is for the people who don't like to run out of hot water. We're so sure you'll like one, we guarantee your satisfaction—for a whole year! What do we mean by satisfaction? Simply this: If you don't get all the hot water you want, when you want it, you get all your money back, including any you may have spent on installation. And it doesn't matter where you bought your electric water heater. The Edison guarantee still applies. No strings attached. Fair enough?

EDISON

P.S. Average-size families with electric water heaters pay only $3.88 a month—a standard rate—for their hot water. How much are you paying?

Too many teens boozing it up

Mike Ross

In late 1964 a little town in Connecticut brought itself to the attention of the nation on a riding on the headlines of a very big newspaper.

The name of the town was Darien, and the story was blasted the front page was one concerning teens.

Teenagers and their drinking habits to be exact.

The daughter of an American Airlines vice-president had been killed in an auto crash, the auto being driven by a young man under twenty-one who had just come from a party, adult supervised, where alcoholic drinks had been served. The national nose and pointed an accusing finger at the little town and said "bad, bad, bad."

That Darien was the one and only place in the country teens drank.

High know that Darien isn't such a blacksheep, as most know. It would seem, talking strictly to adults now, that if one should look back into his "under twenty-one" days, few reached that age without one without once having some alcoholic beverage flow between his lips.

But it's not these "experimenters" that ever bothered the parents, it was the chronic young drinkers who would go out every week and get drunk. The same is true today. It's the teen or teens that persistently haul-out-the easy-to-acquire bottle and proceed to get plastered. And it's the same ones every time.

These cases would be better taken care of by parents and police with a swift kick and an equally swift hand on the car keys. It's too bad that many of today's parents are not too swift.

THERE HAS to be a line drawn though, somewhere, to distinguish between these two categories. There's a vast difference between a two, but a remedy for both. Who's going to draw the line and define the solutions for each case on either side remains to be seen. I hope someone takes the responsibility soon.

Potted plants

Repeating plants in several places is a landscaper's trick. Here petunias and geraniums in the window box are repeated on the patio, making use of large clay pots, themselves a feature.

Keeping that raised planting half an hour so roots won't drown. Plants like moisture in the surrounding air, but not too much for too long at their roots.

WHY CLAY POTS: Porosity of the entire pot containing your house plants is important for two reasons: (1) to assure constant, even drainage of excess water and leaching out of harmful salts (the white frost chrysanthenums - all growing in porous clay pots that you can plunge right in planter soil to obtain a continuous seasonal display.

WHEN TO WATER: You can tell when your plants need water by testing top soil with your thumb. Man and mower meet

A little consideration and attention on the part of the home gardener toward his power lawn mower can add many extra seasons of trouble-free use to the machine's life.

And, if the home gardener is planning to buy a new power mower this Spring, the care and service he has rendered his power mower in the past will pay off in added trade-in value.

The gardener has two alternatives when it comes to tuning up and properly conditioning his power mower for the season ahead. He can do it himself by following the manufacturer's manual, or he can, at a very modest cost, take advantage of his local authorized power mower service dealer.

Let's assume here, however, that you are going to do it yourself.

1) Drain all remaining gasoline from the tank. Squirt several drops of oil in the combustion chamber and pull the engine through two or three cycles, with the switch off, and check for cracks or other damage. Clean off spark and oil and reset the carburetor.

2) Remove the rotary cutting blade, sharpen and balance it. The blade is so important to efficient cutting and, at the same time so reasonable in price, it is both wise and economical to replace the nicked and out-of-balance blade rather than attempt to service it. Retighten blade nut securely.

3) However we build custom mode of living. We will build to fit your custom design for your family. Call us about a custom home especially for you. You will be surprised . . . quality work need cost no more.

use Agrico. Do they know something about grass feeding you should know?

Most of the Agrico we sell goes to professional turfmen—landscape gardeners, golf course superintendents, nurserymen. Even sod growers. These professionals rely on Agrico for one reason: it consistently gives them superior results.

Do you have to be a "pro" to get professional results on your lawn? Definitely not. Agrico Grass Food is as easy to use as any fertilizer. Agrico Grass Food contains a special combination of nutrients that actually enriches your soil. These nutrients build strong roots and produce hardy grass.

2. Ordinary fertilizers help make grass green for a while. But Agrico, with 60% organic nitrogen content, helps keep grass green all season.

3. Agrico's formula gives you more total plant foods per bag to build soil fertility over a longer period of time. $4.95 bag nourishes 5300 sq. ft. Now you know what the professionals know. For a thick, green lawn, use Agrico Grass Food—the fertilizer that enriches your soil as it greens your grass. There's an Agrico Garden Dealer near you.

LAWN TIPS

Merion Blue lawns require 6 to 8 pounds of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet per year. This means 6 to 8 applications per year.

Cheap farm grade fertilizers cannot be applied at this high rate without danger of burning.

There is no substitute for quality fertilizer in maintaining a good lawn.

Exacting . . .

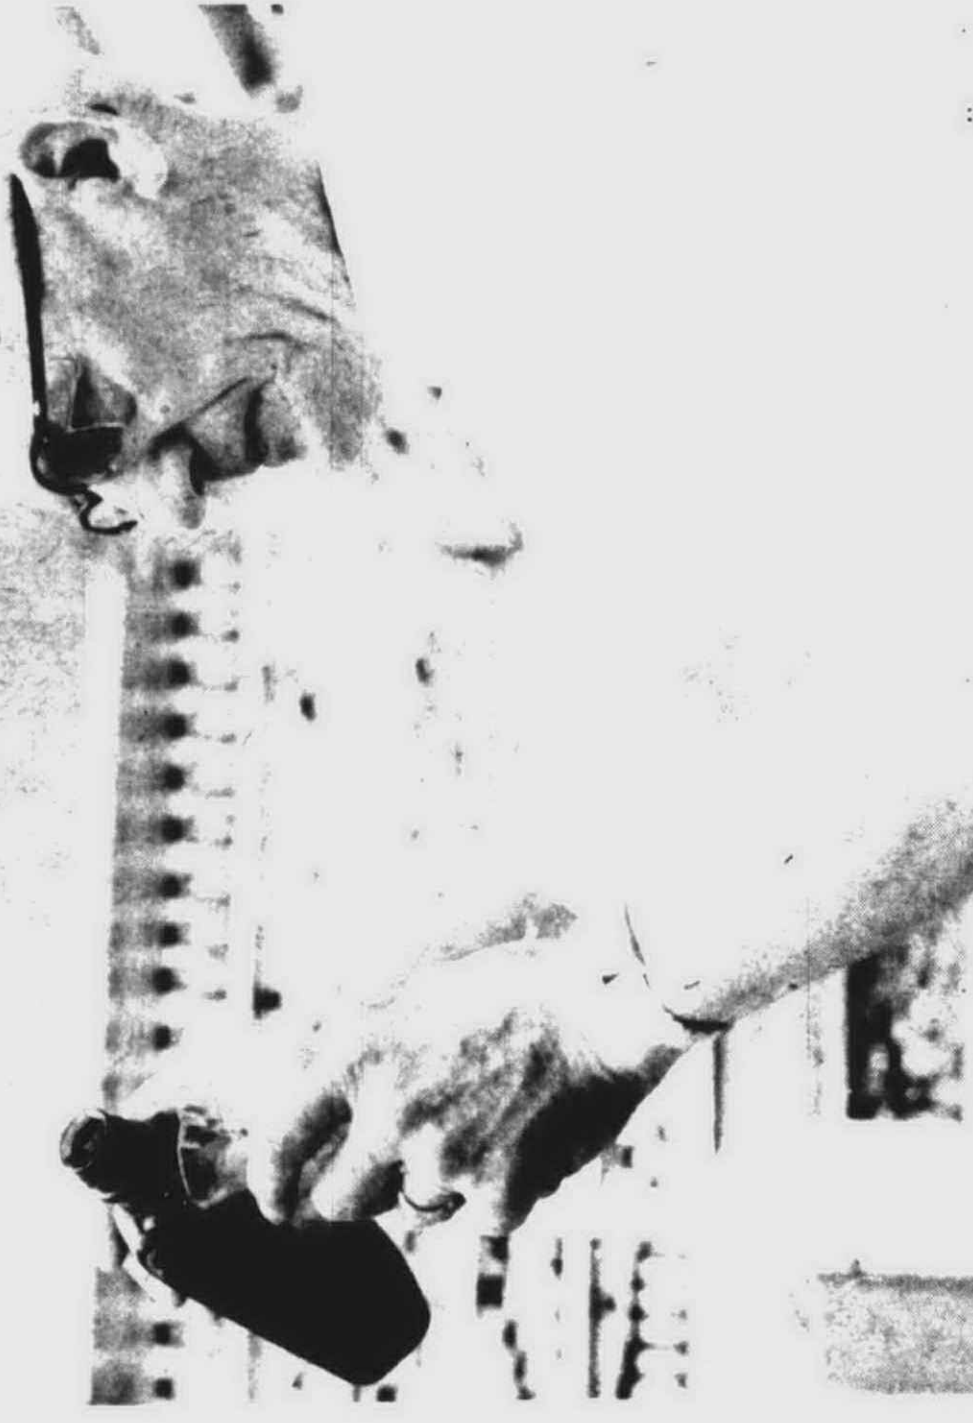

Plymouth people are exacting about their business. Like Arnold Kuhlman, a pharmacist at Beyer Rexall Drug's Forest Ave. store, they take special pains to see that your orders are followed to the letter.

They put forth an extra effort because they're intimately involved in The Plymouth Community and they like the people they serve.

You can have faith in the work Plymouth businesses perform. Whether it's the precise measurement of a physician's prescription or something as small as a pair of shoelaces, the quality of service and warmth of greeting is the same.

Introduce yourself to the pleasant difference of shopping in Plymouth. Discover the honest interest in you and your needs.

It's there because . . .

. . . Plymouth people care
