JC's Set Biggest Fourth Program

Plymouth's greatest July 4th celebration in history, one that starts with a Miss Plymouth pageant Friday night and concludes with a mammoth fireworks display Sunday evening at Mettetal Airport, has been planned by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

With a break in the weather—and the Jaycees have their fingers crossed—more than 2,000 are expected to attend the colorful beauty pageant at 7 p.m. Friday in the high school auditorium; more than 15,000 to watch the tremendous parade through the downtown business section Sunday at 1 p.m.; and some 25,000 for the afternoon and evening events at the Airport starting at 2:30 p.m.

The airport program will include an air show, a display of aircraft, antique car exhibition, a peanut toss for kiddies from an airplane, a waterball fight between four teams of firemen, and numerous other events.

The parade, which is being tagged as perhaps the largest and most colorful ever, will be led by former Gov. G. Mennen Williams. "Soapy" was a regular on the Plymouth line of march for years while he was guiding the affairs of Michigan but has missed the past two or three while on assignment as Undersecretary of State for African Affairs.

The flamboyant Williams, always a popular figure in the area, was happy to accept the invitation to lead the parade again.

Included in the procession will be eight bands including the Amherstburg (Ont.) Community band, the Plymouth Community band, the Coldwater Blue Angel Drum and Bugle Corps, the Chrysler Highlanders bagpipe marchers, the Grosse Ile Naval Air Station Tars and Rifles, the Selfridge Field Ambassadors, the American Legion drill team in its unique Civil War uniforms, the VFW men's and women's precision drill units and the crack VFW color guard.

The parade also lists 10 floats from Leo Calhoun Ford, Michigan Bell, National Bank of Detroit, Kiwanis Club, Optimist Club, American Legion, Miss Plymouth of 1965 and her court in a Jaycee float, the Hi-Y Club, AAUW and the Plymouth School system playground floats. In addition there will also be (Continued on Page 8-B)

Delays Action On Cabs

After hearing promises of improved services by representatives of two cab companies, the Checker Cab, which now holds the eight permits issued by the city, and by Attorney William Sempliner, representing John Florence of Plymouth, the Plymouth City Commission deferred final action until the July 5 meeting.

In the meantime, members voted to grant an indefinite extension to Checker Cab for the existing permits until such time that the Commission officially takes action.

The Commissioners had planned to change the existing ordinance and put more teeth in it with the thought of forcing a change in services, but City Attorney Edward Dragulis advised against such actions.

"The Commission has the power to issue the licenses annually," said Dragulis, "It would be my suggestion that the Director of Public Safety and the City Manager be instructed to make a report on existing services prior to the time for the issuance of licenses — then the Commission can determine whether it is satisfied with the services or not by granting or refusing to renew licenses.

"As long as the Commission has the power to issue the permits annually, I feel this is as (Continued on Page 7-B)

Johanson Takes Gavel at Rotary

Arnold Johanson, manager of the Western Electric plant, was formally installed president of the Plymouth Rotary Club by retiring President Carl Caplin as his final official act in ceremonies at Friday's meeting. Johanson was elected president several weeks ago but the changeover doesn't take place until the final meeting in June with the new president taking charge of the first gathering in July.

Takes Over August 1

Ohioan Named City Manager

Richard D. Blodgett, City Manager of Marysville, O., for the past two years, Monday was named as the successor of Albert Glassford as City Manager of the City of Plymouth. He will take over his new duties on August 1.

City managerial duties, was given the title of assistant

The announcement was made by Mayor James Houk as the final item on the agenda of a special meeting. Indications were that the appointment was made in a special pre-commission meeting prior to Monday's session — actually Blodgett was selected a week ago but the appointment was one of the best kept secrets in Plymouth annals.

Glassford resigned in December, effective on the 15th, to take the job of becoming the first City Manager of Albion. The City Commission immediately advertised far and wide for applicants, specifying that the new City Manager must hold a college degree in one of six specified classifications.

Then came the long period of screening applicants during which the Commission whittled the field to five finalists from which emerged two men who seemed to meet all of the desires of the Commissioners.

Unfortunately, one took another position while the Commissioners were trying to make a decision and the other boosted his salary demands to a point that the City had to scratch him from the list. That left them right back where they started in December—a vacancy and no candidates.

Meanwhile, Public Safety Director Kenneth Fisher, who had served as an assistant to Glassford and had taken college courses in the field of public administration and

Twp. Hall Starts Saturday Closing

Residents of Plymouth Township will have to go to one of the two fire stations for dump tags beginning Saturday when the Township Hall will inaugurate the new policy of remaining closed on Saturdays for the summer months.

Supervisor John McEwen recommended the closing after checking and learning most of the Saturday business was the issuing of dump tags. When Captain Barney Maas indicated the firemen would be glad to issue the tags from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturdays, the Trustees approved the closing.

The Township Board approved closing of the Hall for the summer, including the Saturday before Labor Day, in the June meeting.

To Hear Davids

Commissioner Fred Davids, recently appointed head of Michigan's 2,200 member State Police, will make his first official appearance in Plymouth in his new capacity Thursday noon when he addresses the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce Business Men's Forum.

The session is slated at noon in the Hillside Inn and is expected to attract a capacity crowd.

Davids, longtime commander of the district with headquarters at the Redford Post, is a career man in the State Police. He started as a trooper in the early '30's and gradually moved up in the ranks until finally reaching the top when appointed Commissioner. (Continued on Page 8-B)

$888,906 Housing Grant Approved For Plymouth

The City of Plymouth has received a federal grant of $888,906 for the construction and development of a Senior Housing project.

Mayor James Houk made the announcement to members of the City Commission Monday after receiving word from Congressman Wes Vivian that the housing request had been granted.

Members of the Public Housing Commission have been working on the project for several months and made application for the grant in late winter.

Houk indicated the Commission will meet with the Housing group as soon as the grant has been officially received.

The Federal Government furnishes all of the funds for the construction of the low rental, housing building for senior citizens.

Additional information is expected within a few days.

Mayor Urges Residents To Join In Bell Ringing

Residents of the Plymouth community Monday were asked by Mayor James Houk to join with the Hi-Y Clubs of the Y.M.-C.A. organizations in Michigan in a solemn ringing of bells at 1 p.m. Sunday (July 4) as a reminder that this nation was founded on the principle of Freedom and that it is for all in the United States to forever protect and strengthen this unique heritage.

Houk issued a proclamation urging participation in the program. The proclamation reads: "With freedom in retreat around the world, it is imperative that we in America, the greatest land of freedom, never lose sight of our great birthright. "This nation of strong States peril from those who seek to undermine the divinely endowed dignity of the individual to impose totalitarian government control. We the people of these United States are the vanguard to preserve our superior way of life, and as Jefferson said, "I know of no safe depository of the ultimate powers of the society but the people themselves." "Although this must be a constant vigil on our part, our nation does pause in special reverence and tribute each Fourth of July, our country's birthday, to renew citizen awareness of our rich American heritage and principles. "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are (Continued on Page 8-B)

DPW Chief Explains "Rust"

By Supt. Joseph Bida
Plymouth Dept. Public Works
There are two reasons for the unusual amount of rust in our water recently. The first is a high demand for water which forced the Water Department to turn on another pump to meet the demands.

This in turn resulted in churning of the water, stirring up the sediment in the pipes which in turn caused the rusty water that went through the system.

Conditions like this will be corrected when the new reservoir is completed and placed in operation around Aug. 1. The reservoir will assure a steady flow regardless of whether the demand is high or low and thus eliminate the stirring of the rust.

Due to the fact that the water system operates off the Church Street tower, we work on a level from 28 feet to 16 feet or about 75,000 gallons of water the pressure moves from the north end of the city to the south side.

We will have more about this problem in the next issue but for now we are sorry for any inconveniences during the rusty water period—we are certain that this problem will be corrected when the reservoir goes into operation.

We pumped 23.7 million gallons of water a week ago. A normal week is 13.5 million gallons although we did pump 20.24 millions a year ago at the same period.

This is just an indication of the unusual water demand that brought about the round robin conditions described above and resulted in the rusty water. We might point out that there is no evidence of a water shortage in our system at this time.

The Department of Public Works was busy last week, sweeping the downtown business and residential sections from Ann Arbor Trail to M-14 and Mills Street to Main.

Crews continued work at Riverside Cemetery and handled one funeral.

Davis Street was surfaced, shaped and salt and gravel was spread from the railroad to Liberty Street. Moving continued at the various playgrounds, parks and around City Hall.

A water gate was replaced on Ann Arbor Road for the new apartments on Ford Street. A stop box was repaired on Five Mile Road and a broken service repaired at Forest and Wing.

ROUTINE CHECK of a gasoline pump at the William Taylor station, 37895 Ann Arbor Trail, by Corp. William Crayk, of the Livonia Police Department's Weight and Measures division, is saving Taylor a lot of money these days. Corp. Crayk discovered Taylor's pump has been giving 11 gallons of gas while registering 10. It didn't take Taylor long to have the pumps repaired to deliver 10 gallons for 10 on the meter.

Muscular Dystrophy Drive Nets $6,200 in Township

A total of $6,200 was collected for Muscular Dystrophy in Redford Township during the recent drive.

Sue Horwitz of 18218 Delaware was chairman. Zone 40 chairman was Mrs. Millie Montgomery, while Mrs. Virginia Graves was the leader.

District leaders were: Mrs. Dolores Moore; Mrs. Pauline Stellini; Mrs. Winnie Craig; Mrs. Rita Gallagher; and Mrs. Rudolph Nemas.

Those marching for the drive included: Mrs. J. Franks; Mrs. Dolores Moore; Mrs. John Friend; Mrs. Arlene Gorski; Mrs. Dina Rice; Mrs. Muriel Bell; Mrs. Betty Clark; Mrs. Della Noonan; Mrs. Jackie Sellman; Mrs. Marge Clark; Mrs.

Twp. Trustees Finally Act On Resignation

It's official now. The Plymouth Township Board finally accepted the resignation of Clerk C. Veach Sparks from the Plymouth Community Planning Commission after a delay of a week.

Then members tabled the matter of filling the vacancy as well as that on the Township Planning Board until a later date.

In other business at last week's special meeting, the Board approved preliminary plans for the Woodbrook Subdivision planned by Stewart Oldford and Sons on Sheldon Road adjacent to Park Lane Subdivision after learning the developers and builders had changed plans to conform with requests of Township Engineer Herald Hamill.

PTA Council Makes Large Contribution

At its last monthly meeting, the Greater Farmington Youth Guidance Committee received a contribution of $100 from the Farmington PTA Council. Mr. Edward Klein, the PTA representative on the Youth Guidance Committee, presented the check. He explained that the PTA Council was aware of the vital community services offered by the Youth Committee and wished to aid in the endeavors to publicize and expand these services.

The chairman of the Youth Guidance Committee accepted the check with sincere appreciation and stated that this type of interest from the Farmington community was most encouraging.

The next meeting will be held on July 13, the second Tuesday of the month. All interested citizens are invited to attend.

Sr. Citizens In Plymouth Keep Busy

The men voluntarily took over the activities of the Senior Citizens Club of Plymouth for the month of June.

Two bus-loads enjoyed a trip to the Frankenmuth Bavarian Festival on June 15, especially the family style chicken dinner and the other events.

Members participated in a picnic on June 17 in Hines Park with 42 guests from Ypsilanti. The entire group returned to the Masonic Hall in the evening where a musical program was presented after which most settled down to card playing.

Several delicious cakes were baked and served by the men at the Birthday Celebration on June 24.

The next business meeting is slated for July 1 at 1 p.m. in the Masonic Temple. The host and hostess for July will be Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Fisher with Chairman Mrs. Grant Camphausen and her committee of Mes. Elsie Campbell, Mrs. Josephine Fulcher, Mrs. Mary Schultz, Mrs. Linda Waldecker and Mrs. Luella Wilson.

Firemen Pick Welsher for Civil Service

John Welsher, 654 S. Sheldon, has added the duties of member of the Plymouth Township Civil Service Commission to his list of assignments on Township Boards and Commission.

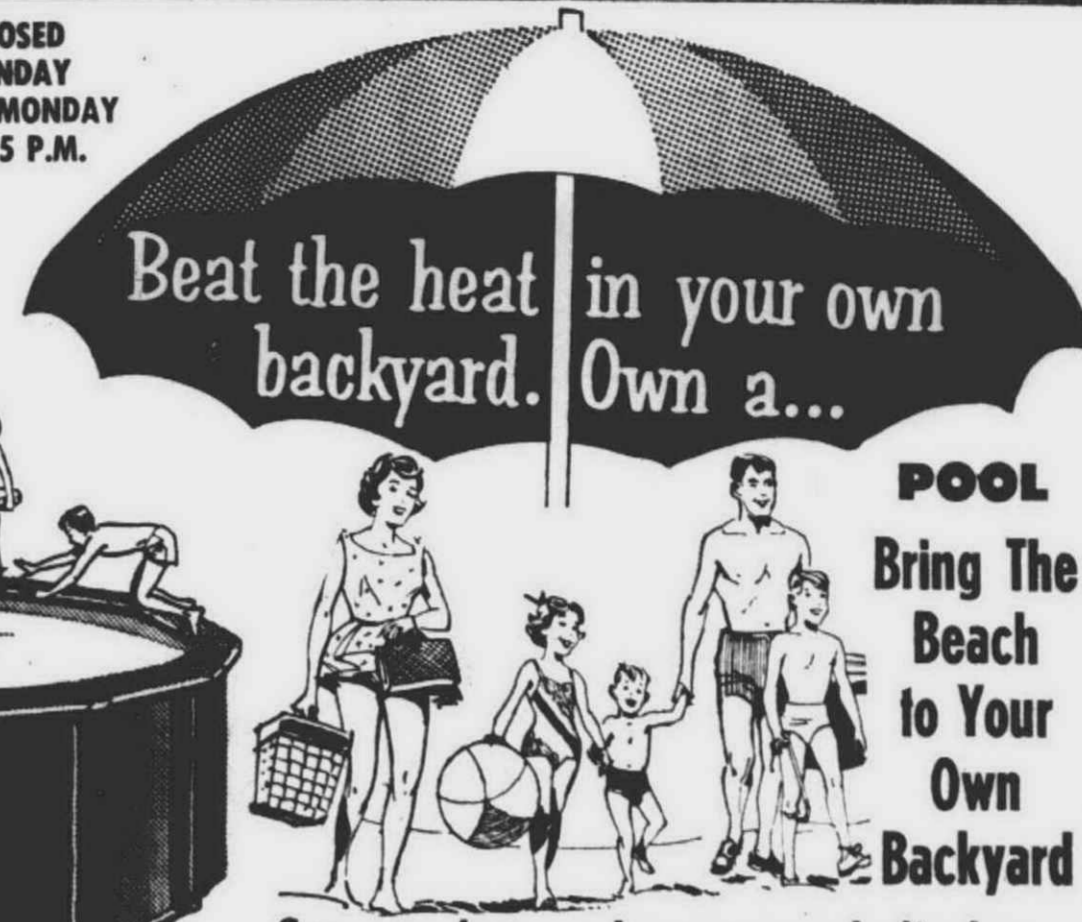

Welsher accepted the appointment as representative of the Plymouth Township Fireman, replacing Gene Overholt, who resigned recently when appointed to the vacancy on the Township Board.

Then, Welsher met with Chairman Warren Worth and James Garber at the monthly meeting of the Civil Service Commission and found he also had inherited the secretary's post which Overholt had relinquished.

At the moment, Welsher is a member of the Civil Service Commission, the Township Planning Commission and the Regional Planning Authority.

Headed By Parades, Fireworks Displays

Plymouth and Livonia Plan Fourth Celebrations

There'll be plenty of fireworks displays for residents of the Livonia and Plymouth areas with no less than four slated for Sunday and Monday in the two communities.

But the big doings for the holiday weekend are slated in Plymouth where the Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a beauty queen pageant Friday night at 7 p.m. in the high school gym to determine which of 19 candidates will be crowned Miss Plymouth of 1965.

Then the program will continue Sunday afternoon and evening with a tremendous parade through downtown Plymouth starting at 1 p.m. that will include seven bands and precision drill units, more than 15 floats, antique cars, 20 beauty queens, and hundreds of other marchers.

Then the activities will shift to nearby Mettetal Airport where the Jaycees will present an afternoon and night long program that will include waterball fight between four teams of firemen, a display of small airplanes, radio controlled airplane display, an aerial show starting at 3:30 p.m., a peanut drop for the youngsters at 4:30 p.m., a second aerial show at 5 p.m. and then the biggest fireworks display in Plymouth history at 9 p.m.

There'll be three separate fireworks displays in Livonia on Sunday and Monday.

As usual, the communitywide hour long spectacular will be staged at the Detroit Race Course where more than 30,000 are expected to enjoy the fireworks display sponsored by the Livonia

Department of Parks and Recreation.

The gates will open at 8 p.m. Sunday to the public and all seats in the grandstand and clubhouse areas will be free on a first come, first served basis.

Ford Plans 1,300 New Jobs at Expanding Livonia Plant

Ford Motor Company's Transmission and Chassis Division has announced plans to expand and modernize its Livonia plant, starting immediately.

Clinton D. York, division general manager, said the project plus another in Sterling Township, is a "major portion of a $71.5 million division expansion program to increase production capacity and will result in an increase of approximately 2,800 employees at full production."

Livonia will have a building addition of 240,000 square feet. Also included in the Livonia program is purchase of 30 acres of land. Approximately 1,300 employees will be added to the present work force of 7,025.

"The expansion is necessary to increase capacity for three-speed automatic transmissions, standard transmissions, valve springs and flywheels," Mr. York said.

The Sterling expansion will include a building addition of 6,000 square feet and purchase of seven acres of land. It is the second expansion of the Ford facility in 10 months. An addition of approximately 1,500 employees is expected at Sterling. Current employment is 7,715.

Livonia also is the site of the General Staff and Product Engineering Offices of the Transmission and Chassis Division; Ford Division's Technical Service Laboratory, National Parts Depot, and Regional and District Sales Offices.

Last year in Livonia, Ford paid its 7,800 employees a record $69 million. This was a payroll increase of 20 per cent and an employment increase of 13 per cent over the previous year.

The current Transmission and Chassis Division expansion is part of a $2.4 billion worldwide expansion and modernization program for Ford Motor Company facilities for the period 1964 through 1967.

Transmission and Chassis Division manufactures forgings, transmissions, steering gear assemblies, rear-axle assemblies, front-end suspension assemblies, drive shafts and wheel spindles. Other division plants are at Fairfax, Sharonville and Canton, O., and Indianapolis, Ind.

BUDDY MORROW and his famous "Night Train" orchestra inaugurated a series of summer jazz concerts Friday, at Wonderland Center, Livonia, Plymouth Road at Middlebelt in a two-hour performance on the Mall. The Glenn Miller orchestra, under the direction of Ray McKinley, will make an appearance at Wonderland on July 14.

LIT Plans $1.5 Million Expansion

Lawrence Institute of Technology announced plans Saturday for a new $1.5 million science building and the appointment of Dr. Robert L. Luttermoser as director of the Arts and Science section, which will be expanded.

One of Dr. Luttermoser's first assignments will be to assist in the planning of physics and chemistry laboratories in the new building, scheduled for completion in 1967.

Dr. Wayne H. Buell, president of the college, said the expanded academic program will include the granting of bachelor of science degrees in mathematics, physics and chemistry.

Currently, LIT offers bachelor's degrees in electrical and mechanical engineering, architecture and industrial management.

The new three-story building will be constructed of steel, concrete, glass, aluminum and brick to be compatible with other structures in the campus at 10 Mile and Northwestern, in Southfield.

The first floor will include a mathematics laboratory, a 300-seat auditorium, offices and study halls. Physics and chemistry laboratories and classrooms will be located on the second and third floors.

JAMES DOTSETH, assistant Dean of Instruction at Schoolcraft College, Monday announced his resignation to accept a similar position at Oakland County Community College. Dotseth indicated he would report to his new assignment on Wednesday.

City officials, including Mayor Harvey Moelke, and City Council will attend.

Meanwhile, residents of the Castle Gardens subdivision and Rosedale Gardens Civic Association are planning neighborhood displays.

Castle Gardens program will be at the subdivision pool and park-site. It will begin at dusk and in case of rain the fireworks will be rescheduled for Monday evening.

The Rosedale Gardens Fireworks, 29th annual event sponsored by the Civic Association, will climax a day of festivities on Monday, July 5.

There will be a costume parade for children starting at 9:30 a.m. at St. Michael's playground.

Following a salute to the flag at 11 a.m., there will be a men's baseball game at 11:30 a.m. and a horseshoe pitching contest at 1 p.m.

Children's games will follow at 2 p.m. and adult games at 4 p.m.

The general theme of all area celebrations is to have a safe and sane Fourth and to enjoy the fireworks without risking long trips in hazardous traffic conditions.

With the Observer offices closed on Monday, July 5, for the Independence Day holiday, there will be an early deadline for news, classified and display advertising for this week only.

News for all six editions of the Observer Newspapers will be accepted until 5 p.m. Saturday. The deadline for Church and Society news is Friday evening at 6 p.m.

The Observer classified advertising office will remain open until 5 p.m. on Saturday. If you have any ads for next week's issues, you may call them at either of the classified ad phone numbers GA 2-0900 or GR 6-7025 and ad taker will be available to handle your calls and assist with the ads.

Remember the Observer offices will be closed on Monday. We hope all will co-operate and help our employees enjoy the holiday by meeting the deadlines.

19th District GOP Strained

John D. Cojeen, of 7411 N. Briarcliff Knoll, West Bloomfield, Chairman of the 19th District Republican Party, is moving to Saginaw. He will be replaced in his GOP post by Christian F. Powell, of 7618 Barnsbury, also in West Bloomfield.

Cojeen, who was recently beaten in an attempt for a seat on the Farmington Area School Board, is a staff supervisor with the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. His transfer to Saginaw marks his promotion to the role of District Manager.

While his move is unrelated to politics, it does reveal a large area of disunity in the 19th District, which encompasses Farmington, Livonia, and Redford as well as such far northern municipalities as Pontiac and Waterford. Richard Kuhn, of Pontiac, regards himself as the "titular head" of the District, on the basis of his losing bid for the Congress against present Rep. Billie S. Farnum.

A Committee in the District is already conducting a Kuhn for Congress campaign, but Kuhn says he is not a party to this effort—at least not yet.

Cojeen is generally regarded as a Kuhn man. Kuhn denies this and adds that Cojeen did not even support him last time.

Cojeen won the Chairmanship at the state convention last fall, in a one-vote victory over Farmington Township Attorney Joseph T. Brennan. He won with heavy support from Waterford, and Pontiac, as well as his home base West Bloomfield.

Farmington, Redford, and the rest of the 19th's Wayne County Con-territory, all stood solidly behind Brennan.

Christian F. Powell, who replaces Cojeen, is an attorney and Justice of the Peace in West Bloomfield. He was selected, on Thursday, June 24, at a regular meeting of the District's Executive Board.

Wonderland Center Plans Queen Contest

A $500 shopping spree awaits the winner of Wonderland Center's "Miss Wonderland" bathing beauty contest, to be staged July 17.

Ernie Epps, promotion director for the 57-store center at Plymouth and Middlebelt, announced plans for the event and invited single girls between the ages of 18 and 22, inclusive, to register.

Judging will take place in the Wonderland Mall on Saturday, July 17, and all contestants will appear in swimwear. A contestant will be named to represent each of 48 Wonderland stores. All contestants will receive a consolation prize, with second- and third-place prizes to be announced at a later date.

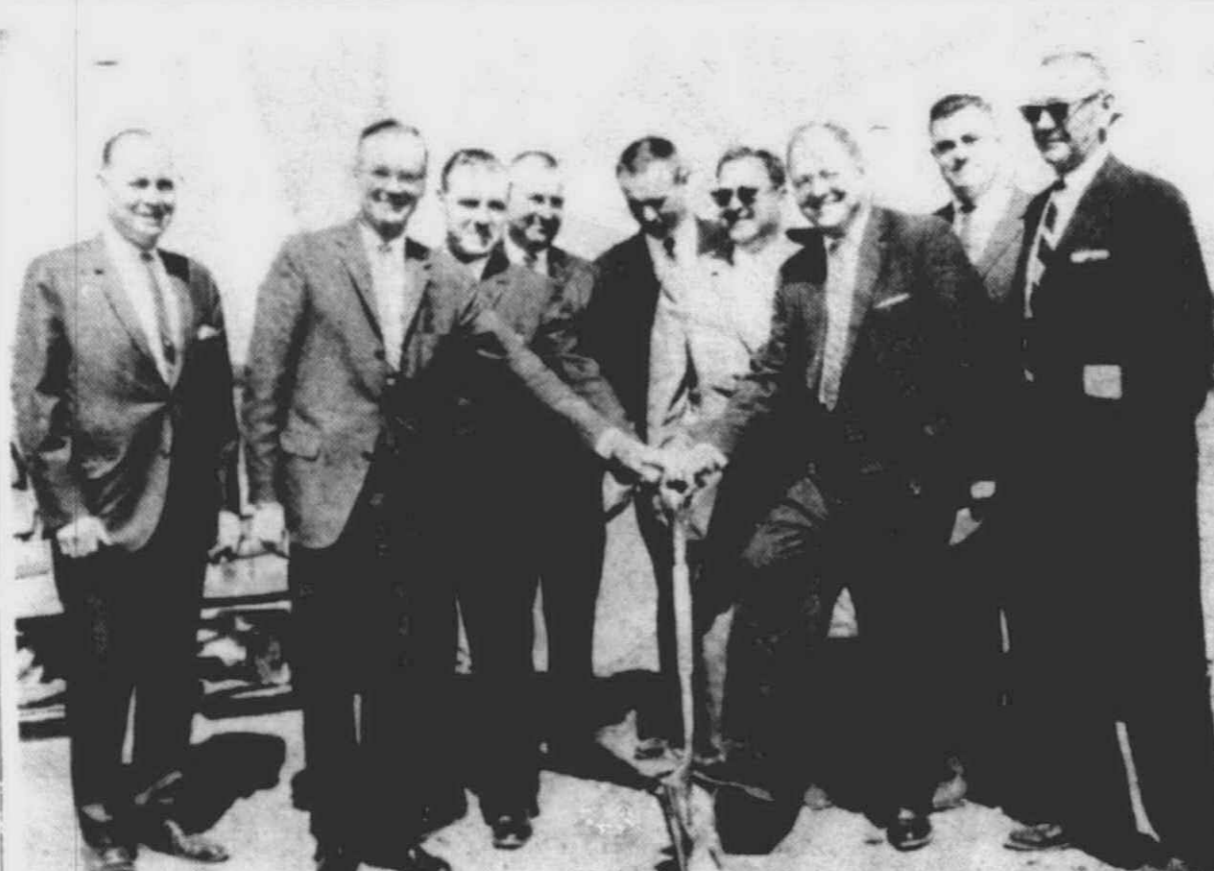

Girls who wish to enter must send complete information, including name, age, address and telephone number, to "Miss Wonderland" Contest, Wonderland Center, 29859 Plymouth Road, Livonia.

No registrations will be accepted after July 10. The winner will be picked by a panel of competent judges, including Detroit TV personalities. The winner will be given a letter authorizing her to purchase a total of $500 worth of merchandise at as many

Training School Gets New Room For Counseling

Thanks to the generosity of the General Motors Girls' Club of Detroit, the Wayne County Training School in Northville has a new special counseling room. Dedication took place last Thursday when a check to underwrite the cost of furnishing the room was presented by Mary Ann Margitt, club president, to William Davis, president of the Administrative Board, and Dr. Pasquale Buonicono, medical superintendent of the Training School.

The room was completely furnished by the Girls and will be utilized for advising and counseling resident girls in the vocational training program at the school.

Livonia Twin Sisters Named As 'Torchlighters' For 17th Torch Drive

Jo Ann and Janice Taylor, five-year-old twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth Taylor of 17450 Sunset, Livonia, have been chosen as the "Torchlighters" for the 17th annual Torch Drive.

This year, the year of the "Gemini" space project, is the first time in the history of the "Give Once for All" campaign that twins have been selected to represent the living symbols of the Torch Drive.

They were chosen to represent the many thousands of persons of all ages, from all walks of life, who are helped by the 207 agencies supported by Torch Drive contributions.

The twins, both afflicted with cerebral palsy, receive treatment at the Detroit Cerebral Palsy Center, a Torch Drive agency. They have been patients there since they were three years old.

Their most significant act as the "Torchlighters" will be to press the button which ignites the flame at the top of the 54-foot torch at the foot of Woodward in downtown Detroit, the night before the drive gets under way on Oct. 12. The drive will last through Nov. 4.

The goal of the Torch Drive will be announced July 9. Last year, a record $23,710,000 was raised in the three-county area.

However, before their torchlighting function, the twins will be called upon to attend meetings, luncheons and various other events as the official representatives of the United Foundation.

They will appear on all campaign literature and advertisements, on television, in the campaign film and on posters.

The father of the torchlighters is a salesman for the Proctor-Silex Corp. The Taylors have one other child, Karen,

KAREN IRENE KNIGHT

Announcement is made of the engagement of Karen Irene Knight to Charles Norman Crawford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Crawford of Lauder Avenue, Detroit.

Miss Knight is the daughter of Mrs. Helen Knight of Lauder Avenue, and the late Arthur D. Knight. Mr. Knight was Personnel Examiner for the Detroit Police Department.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Thurston High.

ROSEMARY SIOK

Mr. and Mrs. John Siok of Northville announce the engagement of their daughter, Rosemary, to David Robert Champe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Champe of Livonia. The bride-elect is a 1963 graduate of Northville High School. Her fiancé is a graduate of Ferris State College. A September wedding is planned.

HATS OFF DEPT.

Monday was a great day! Our neighbor, Billy, got his first Junior Baseball League uniform. The minor leaguers were issued the ones worn formerly by the major leaguers. He wore it proudly all that day, admired and envied by his younger friends. Early Tuesday morning there was Billy, in his uniform, ready for his first game in organized baseball. They lost the game that afternoon 18-6 (took them almost an hour to play the first inning) but they are still full of determination and one of these days those Indians will win a game.

Since the league's inception six seasons ago almost a thousand youngsters in the Plymouth community have had the once-in-a-lifetime thrill of donning a baseball suit for the first time.

So, it's hats off this week to the men who organized and worked for the league; the coaches, the managers, the umpires and a salute to the mothers who scrubbed on those stained uniforms and rearranged their summer dinner hours.

A VISIT WITH CLYDIE

A visit with Mrs. Thomas Myers always leaves a good warm glow. Her big old white farmhouse (with the iron deer on the lawn), out on Canton Center road, has long been a favorite haunt of antique collectors and dealers. There is always something new to see in her wonderful collection of china, glass, furniture, statuary, books and bric-a-brac—so many lovely old things. She even has a complete set of stained glass windows from a church.

Mrs. Myers guards her integrity as a dealer and never "passes on a mistake". She is always an interested and interesting conversationalist. This spring she realized an old ambition. While visiting her nephew in California, she spent three days panning for gold.

Clydie will be missed this year at the annual Antique Mart held during the Fall Festival. Because of poor health, she will not be in her usual spot just inside the Grange Hall and to the right.

GOOD NEWS

Happy to report that Jeff Cardinal is doing nicely, may be able to come home soon. Since his accident almost two months ago, the whole community has been willing his complete recovery. During his stay in Wayne County Hospital he has been elected to a school office. Members of the track team presented him with his school sweater and Letter that he earned earlier this year. Jeff's courage and the loyal support of his host of friends at Plymouth High School are fine examples to all of us.

A PINK BUNDLE

Mrs. Charles McKenna from Huntington, W. Va., announce the birth of Sara Elizabeth on June 24. She weighed in at 8 pounds, 1 oz. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William Morgan of Ann Street and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James McKenna of West Ann Arbor.

APPRECIATION

A special thank you to the Senior Class of 1965 for their generous contribution to the YMCA which helped make possible the graduation party held in Ann Arbor at the Y; also the chaperones who gave so willingly of their time for this gala event.

More than 320 students participated in the fun packed evening of swimming, dancing, badminton and what have you.

IT'S A GIRL!

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bradburn of Main Street have added another little girl to their family circle. Beth Ann, born June 22 weighing 8 pounds, 10½ ounces. The Bradburns have three other girls and a boy.

JAMAICA VISITORS

While staying at the Sans Souci in Ocho Rios, Jamaica, school teacher Miss Florence Panattoni and her travel companion Mrs. Harriette Gavigan, enjoyed visiting the school where Sans Souci owner, Kurt Thrun's four sons are students. Mr. Thrun owns the Travel Center in Plymouth. Tim, Tom, Tod and Tad Thrun were happy to converse with the visitors from Plymouth during their stay in Sans Souci.

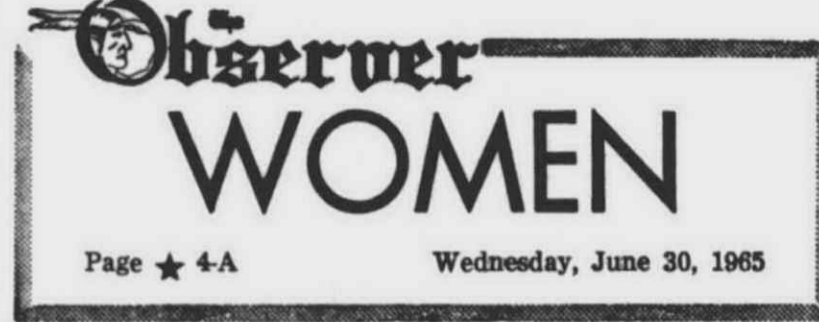

Jean Isabel Zikmund

The engagement of Jean Isabel Zikmund of Cavell Avenue, Livonia, was announced this week by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Zikmund, to David Allan Thomas. Mr. Thomas is the son of the Clifford Thomases of Nola Drive, Livonia. No wedding date has been announced.

JUDITH ANN FENRICH, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Fenrich, 35475 Richland, Livonia, graduated from Western Michigan University June 12 with a B.A. degree in education. She graduated from Bentley High in 1961.

who will be eight years old this fall. All three Taylor children are adopted.

Although the twins suffer from cerebral palsy, they are improving.

Jo Ann is a spastic paraplegic with most of the involvement in the lower legs. Janice's condition is spastic left hemiplegia, involving the left side.

Janice has regular grade therapy and attends kindergarten at the Coolidge Elementary School in Livonia.

Jo Ann attends the Detroit Cerebral Palsy Center four days a week and receives physical and occupational therapy as well as all the medical services. She is under an intensive program.

The center, at 261 Mack, provides services for cerebral palsied clients of all ages, either directly or through referral, or by joint sponsoring of programs with other agencies.

Clinic services offered include orthopedic, pediatric, ophthalmological, neurological and dental examination.

Six McAllister Sons Honor Parents

It was 50 years ago Sunday that Mr. and Mrs. William McAllister, 14720 Northville Road, Plymouth, were married in the small Michigan community of Kilmanah near Sebawaing. More than 150 guests, relatives, children and grandchildren paid tribute to the happy couple Sunday at the Thunderbird Inn in a Golden Wedding anniversary dinner and party staged by the couple's six sons. The McAllisters moved around quite a bit in the early years of their marriage before settling in Plymouth in 1932. They resided in Kindy for a short time, then to Clare and finally to Plymouth where McAllister operated a gasoline station for years on Northville Road until his retirement four years ago. Then he turned the business over to his sons and has been taking advantage of retirement ever since. Rev. Henry Walch, of the First Presbyterian Church, was on hand to help honor two of his oldest parishioners and opened the day's festivities with the opening prayer. From that moment it was all fun with numerous stories of the happenings of the McAllisters over the 50-years of marriage. The couple were blessed with six sons, all living and all residing within a relatively short distance of their parents. All attended and were graduated from the Plymouth Schools. The six include: William, John, James and Elton of Plymouth; Bruce of Northville and Roy of Lima, O.

The guests came from all sections of the state including the Thumb area and many from Plymouth as well as from Texas and California. Mr. McAllister's brother, Howard flew in from California, and a sister, Mrs. Maud Comb drove in from Lansing. A second brother, Albert in Cleveland, has been on the ailing list and sent his regrets. In addition to their six sons, the McAllisters have 18 grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Dianne Dwyer

Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Dwyer of David Road, Farmington Township, announce the engagement of their daughter Dianne to Frederick G. Taylor, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fredrich G. Taylor of Royal St., Berkley. The bride-elect is a June graduate of Our Lady of Sorrows High School. Her fiancé is employed by the Chrysler Corp. An October 2 wedding at St. Fabian's Church in Farmington is being planned.

Holiday Spree

A "Holiday Spree" for girls in the 10th through the 12th grades is planned by Downtown Branch YWCA, 2230 Witherell St., for July 15 through August 2. Bike hikes, two overnight trips to college campuses, a canoe trip and a visit to the Retarded Children's Camp are scheduled for each Thursday.

Report From Franklin

Knolls Woman's Club

By ANNE OSGOOD
With the closing of the books, The Franklin Knolls Woman's Club has had a successful 1964-65. $200 contributed to Camp Oakland and $120 to The Michigan League for Crippled Children will send four children to camp. 650 pads were sewn for the Cancer Association.

Our programs were excellent: a lesson on appreciation; holiday creations; decorating by Silvers Inc.; Kay Savage; "My Fair Lady" Seventh Annual Fashion Show and Luncheon; A visit to Shaarey Zedek; and our Installation Luncheon. Opening and closing meetings have a skit. The first gives a review of the year's program, the closing one is a fun windup. Hilarious Fun.

June the theme was "Our Fair Ladies" (There is nothing like a dame). British Rosemary Silver in a fantastic Get Up pantomimed "Wouldn't It Be Lovely"; Sue Brooks (stand in of Mary Pat McCourt) I Enjoy Being a Girl and so did we; Tillie Borgness as usual brought down the house and did I Can't Say No; Dorothy Curto (live) with the longest eyelashes and cigarette holder sang With a Little Bit of Luck; Chris Lafter sparkling from head to toe pantomimed Diamonds Are a Girls Best Friend; Joyce Booke feathers, a white fox boa and all was really a Red Hot Mama. Kay Benson, Mary Bolen, Jessie Morello, Rose Livingston, Joy Raker and Rosemary Silver depicted the husbands of the outgoing officers singing to them Baby Won't You PLEASE Come Home. Narrator Shirley Sobel; Pianist Edna Greenwald; Records Pat Johnson; Art work Jessie Morello, Jo Norton and Marina Zapico. Ably directed by Sue Brooks.

secretary, Tillie Borgness; corresponding secretary, Marina Zapico; re-elected treasurer, Jo Grum.

Gyde-Davis To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. William Gyde of Plymouth announce the engagement of their daughter Glays Eihel to Benjamin Davis of Plymouth. The Bride Elect attended the Plymouth schools and graduated with the 1963 class of South Lyon High School. The prospective Bridegroom is a former resident of Omaha Nebraska. An August wedding is planned.

Now is the time for you to visit your nearest social security office if you are retiring this year. The people there can give you information on what you will need to file and can help you get the necessary papers.

SIX SONS flank Mr. and Mrs. William McAllister, long-time residents of Plymouth, as they celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary Sunday at the Thunderbird Inn. The McAllisters had six sons and all pitched in to hold the celebration for parents with more than 150 guests in attendance. The group includes: (from left) William of Plymouth, Roy of Lima, O., John of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. McAllister, Bruce of Northville; James and Elton, of Plymouth.

Republicans 'Officially' Open Headquarters

A smashing success describes the opening of new headquarters at 744 Lothrop, Detroit. Press and radio media people had been invited to celebrate the new quarters and to meet Lt. Governor and Mrs. William Milliken and other Republican leaders.

Held at the new headquarters, a bumper crop of top newsmen and TV personalities plus Republican leaders were on hand. They overflowed the house and out onto the lawn where TV cameras had been set up.

Present was Sheila Josephson, Administrative Assistant of Wayne County Headquarters; Hilary Whittaker, Special Projects Director for the Headquarters; Mrs. Elly M. Peterson, Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee; William McLaughlin, Executive Vice-Chairman of the Committee; Honorable Robert E. Waldron, House Minority Leader; Robert Webber, Director of Organization; Ilmar Heniari, Nationalities Director for GOP; Mrs. Betty Jacobus, Organizational Chairman of Plymouth and Northville.

Also present were many well-known TV and radio personalities and press people. Myra Chandler, publisher of Observer Newspapers and PR for the 19th District; Austin Grant, Director of News for CKLW; Dick Westerkamp, Ven Marshall, Jack LeGoff, Joe Weaver and George E. White, news directors for WJLB Radio were spotted in the crowd.

The two-story dwelling will be open regularly and fully staffed.

FROM PLYMOUTH attending the official opening and press party was (l-r) Mrs. Betty Jacobus, organizational chairman for Northville and Plymouth with Lt. Governor William Milliken and State Chairman Elly Peterson, and Roy Jacobus.

AMONG THE PRESS at the official opening of the new GOP headquarters on Lothrop in Detroit was former Livonia Councilman Austin Grant from CKLW. With Republican officials (l-r) Robert Webber, director of Organization for the party; Grant, Hilary Whittaker, Special project director; William F. McLaughlin, Executive Vice Chairman and Hon. William G. Milliken, Lt. Governor of Michigan.

Paula McGill

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Paul Edward McGill of McGuire Air Force Base, N.J., announce the engagement of their daughter, Paula Eileen, to Robert Kenneth Failing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Failing, Plymouth.

The bride-elect attended Port Huron Junior College and is now attending Knoxville Business College.

The groom-to-be was graduated from Port Huron Junior College, from Eastern Michigan University. Mr. Failing is a member of Alpha Kappa Psi business fraternity and Delta Sigma Phi social fraternity.

The wedding is planned for Sept. 3.

SHONA DAVIES, Grand Worthy Advisor of the State of Michigan International Order of Rainbow for Girls, was honored June 23 at a dinner and reception at The Northville Community Building. Shona, past Worthy Advisor of Northville Assembly No. 29, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Davies of 32905 Illinois, Livonia. Kathy Reilly, grand representative to Missouri, was also honored. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Reilly of 9219 Melrose, Livonia. Mrs. Ida B. Cooke, of Northville, is a member of the State Arc. Committee. The reception honored all these state officers.

Visiting Barcelona

Airman Louis D. Sullivan Jr., USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Sullivan Sr., 20285 Milburn, and Engineman Third Class Lawrence I. Robinson, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. David F. Robinson of 30710 Mason Court, both of Livonia, are visiting the Spanish port city of Barcelona as the final port-of-call of a seven-month deployment to the Mediterranean with the U.S. Sixth Fleet's attack aircraft carrier USS Saratoga.

NANCY ANN TERRANA
Mr. and Mrs. Michael Terrana of Livonia announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Nancy Ann, to Richard H. Larsen. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Nace of Covina, Calif. Ascension Lutheran Church will be the scene of the July 31 candlelight ceremony.

To Women It May Concern

By LOUISE KUDER

As a member of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, as well as a full believer in Women's Rights, I was both irritated and amused at the stand our church convention took last week at Cobo Hall.

Irritated because the church is so lacking in leadership and so shy to go beyond primordial stages; amused for the reasons involved.

"If women are permitted to vote, this could lead to dominance. Once women win their cause they lose interest. If women teach a mixed class you (women) naturally exhort and this becomes domination. We advise churches having women Superintendents of Sunday school because this would place women over men teachers.

I don't know how Lutheran women in other parts of the world would accept this viewpoint — maybe the American women won't even balk, but personally I feel like we are trying to fit our bustles in a Ranch-Rambler and I think we look ridiculous.

Apparently other Lutheran women felt so too. A Mrs. Lawrence Meyers from St. Louis gathered a few and got the matter to convention floor last week.

The law was passed in 1847, at the same time the Synod was established. At that time the ladies, along with the wash-board, the kerosene lamp, and the horse and buggy were all controlled by pa.

Along about 1919 women were granted permission to speak for themselves and to express themselves at the polls.

Modern Christian women remaining submissive to the Scriptures as well as to her husband is a personal thing and so it should be.

With women today earning their place beside men in every walk of life, politics, medicine, education, the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod is about 125 years behind.

How can they appeal to modern young ladies coming into womanhood? How can they ever reach women in this age of space and electronics—with the message of what the church has to offer her. To bring her children up, to find a place for herself and family, and to convince her the Lutheran way of life fulfills every need of this modern society we live in—how can this be said convincingly, when, on the other hand man-made church laws tell her: "you cannot reach the heights, you cannot express yourself in vote, you cannot preach in the church and you cannot enter into full participation in this church."

As a woman and a Lutheran, I protest!

Plymouth BE&PW Given Special State Recognition

Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs met for their club leadership training at Western Michigan University at Kalamazoo on June 26. The day opened with registration and a coffee hour followed by a general meeting in the West Ballroom with Marguerite Holcomb presiding.

The plans for progress covered the area of Youth, Education and Service. Study groups were conducted.

The following Plymouth members attended, Kathryn Bock, world affairs; Thelma Cushman, membership; Beverly Spencer, public relations; Dorothy Sincok, civic participation; Connie Heyder, recording secretary. Mary Jane Wagenschutz, state world affairs chairman, conducted a study group; and Constance Aldrich incoming president for Plymouth in her category; and Daisy Proctor the vice president.

The keynote address after the luncheon was given by Kay Eyde, Director of Continuing Education at the Michigan State University; having been in television, radio and a world traveler. She charmed the group with her witty presentation of "Women of Today."

A special recognition was given the Plymouth Club for the successful expansion and membership increase. Connie Heyder, Betty Korte and Ada Watson received gold cards for their efforts.

Special Service

Special services are scheduled July 4 at St. Luke's Methodist Church, Five Mile at Haggerty. Rev. William Tulip will preach at the 11 a.m. service. He will conduct an informal Fellowship of prayer and sharing at 2 p.m. that day. Rev. Tulip was ordained recently at the Wesley Seminary in Washington, D.C. He is the son-in-law of Rev. Sherman Richards. All are invited to attend the services.

A 'Queen' Tells of French Pastry

By FAITH GILLESPIE
By the time you read this page, this writer will be An American in Paris. (I really won't believe it till we touch down in Orly Airport.) I plan to investigate what all the fuss about French cooking amounts to, and I expect to bring back my notebook loaded with The Truth About French Cuisine to share with you. Right now I am so excited, I think I could just flap my wings and fly across the Atlantic under my own steam.

Meanwhile, I want to leave with you this recipe for rich French pastry, which you don't have to go to Paris to enjoy. This is not puff pastry, for which you must have buckets of butter and hours of time and a marble board to roll it out on. This is much easier, and it can't be spoiled by overhandling. It is a perfect pastry for custard pies and for all of summer's fresh fruit pies, and it is ideal for tarts.

RICH FRENCH PASTRY
Place in mixing bowl:
2 cups sifted flour
Make a well in the center and add:
¾ cup soft butter (not oily-soft)
3 ½ tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
3 hard-cooked egg yolks, mashed smooth
1 raw egg

Now get in there with your fingers (did you wash your hands?). Using your finger tips, make a paste of the center ingredients, gradually mixing in the flour to make a smooth, firm ball of dough. If the weather is warm, work as quickly as you can to keep the butter from getting oily. When the sides of the bowl are clean, stop. Wrap the dough in wax paper and chill till it is firm enough to roll. Roll between sheets of wax paper so that you won't have to add more flour. This is enough pastry for more than two dozen small tart shells, and more than enough for a nine-inch pie pan or spring form pan. Line your pans and prick all over the bottom with a fork to prevent too much shrinkage. Chill well, and then bake at 350° on the second-from-the-bottom shelf of your oven. For the first ten minutes, look in on it two or three times with fork in hand, to prick down places where it may bubble up. Let it bake till golden, about 25 minutes in all. Cool and fill and serve with pride.

There now, that ought to keep you cooking while I am in Paris (eating). I have my passport, small pox vaccination, the plane tickets and hotel reservations, antacid pills, spot remover, press credentials, extra pencils, flash light, tape measure, an enormous purse stuffed with shoes (because my poor old feet always hurt), a smashable hat, Fielding's 1965 Travel Guide to Europe, and a noble couple to stay with the children and pet mice and turtles and guppies and newts and snakes while we are gone. All I have left to do before I can leave is buy seafood and mouse food. Isn't that what everyone does before they weed and guppy food and turtle go?

Kalmbachs Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kalmbach of Deerfield Beach, Florida were honored on their 50th wedding anniversary at an open house at Roma Hall, June 13.

Prior to Mr. Kalmbach's retirement nine years ago from the Ford Motor Company, the couple resided in Livonia for many years.

The couple was married in Detroit in May, 1915. On May 3, the actual anniversary, they repeated their marriage vows and celebrated the occasion in Florida.

The Roma Hall reception was given by their children: John and Mrs. Donald Melow of Plymouth; Mrs. Robert Reh of Livonia; Lester of Mesa, Arizona; and Herbert of Cleveland.

The Kalmbachs have 15 grandchildren.

Guests from Detroit, Ohio and New Jersey attended the open house.

Red Cross Trains Group

On June 23rd the Red Cross Service Office, 31228 Five Mile Road, Livonia was the scene of the orientation and training of some 31 girls, 16 years and older as volunteers who will give of their time this summer at St. Mary's Hospital and Plymouth General Hospital, Plymouth Road.

Red Cross volunteers and staff assisting in the training were Mrs. Moore J. Scarlett, Coordinator High School Red Cross Volunteers, Summer Program, Wayne Region, South-eastern Michigan Chapter of the Red Cross; Mrs. Frank Palmer, RN, 9014 South Main St., Plymouth and from the Red Cross staff, Mrs. Thelma Raden, RN, Assistant Director, Nursing Service.

This is the third year that St. Mary's Hospital has requested Red Cross to recruit teenagers for summer volunteer help. In the past, this help has continued through the year with the girls working on week-ends.

These young people also work as messengers in the Disaster Program and assist adult Red Cross volunteers in the Blood Program as donor aides and food service volunteers.

Popularity Higher, Costs Lower for Home Pools

Increasing interest in water sports activity and new emphasis on physical fitness, together with lower costs for speedier installations, are swelling the rising tide of private-home ownership of swimming pools. Since the home owner, who installs a backyard pool does so with a view to lifetime enjoyment for himself and his family, it well behooves him to become thoroughly familiar with every phase of pool ownership before making his final decision. Although costs have become substantially lower in late years, a swimming pool is still a sizeable as well as a permanent investment.

Size and shape of pool and kind of pool construction are vital factors. Very often, these will depend on the size and shape of the property where the pool is to be installed. Another consideration is the principal purpose for which the pool will be used—or, is action or relaxing the chief reason for having a pool?

A recent survey showed that a majority of new pools installed were 15 x 30 feet to 20 x 40 at their widest and longest points, with a trend toward the larger size.

While pool design is no longer restricted to rectangular shape, this is still the type still recommended when the prospect of plenty of swimming action is the main reason for installing a pool.

Particularly where there are youngsters involved in competitive swimming programs, the rectangular shape is preferable. And although basically the pool is a rectangle, slight variations in shape can be made for a more eye-pleasing effect.

When relaxation comes first, with secondary interest in vigorous swimming, the shape possibilities are virtually unlimited—round, oval, kidney, boomerang, or a variety of free-forms. Consider land contours and available space to determine the most decorative effect.

As any pool owner will attest, top quality construction is most essential. "Cutting corners" only leads to costly and constant problems with repairs and upkeep.

Gunite (pneumatically applied concrete) accounted for 71 per cent of all residential pool construction last year. Poured concrete claimed another 18 per cent. However, great advances have been made in vinyl liner, metal and other materials. The comparative advantages of all should be studied, in relation to contour of property and soil conditions.

If a certain type of pool construction is preferred in your community, this may indicate the type most suitable to local needs.

Planning a pool includes planning for its maintenance. The home owner should familiarize himself with types of filters. Fortunately, keeping the pool clean and the water purified is becoming far easier, with modern advances in equipment and chemicals.

Before the pool is installed, decide on the accessories you want. Some can be added later, but some should be built into the pool. To make the pool season longer, add heaters and enclosures. For safety, consider pool covers.

Use Putty Knife To Open Window

"Darling, would you mind opening this window? It seems to be stuck."

And darling huffs and puffs and can't blow the window down—or up, as the case may be.

The next time the window resists your efforts, control yourself and get a putty knife. Nearly every case of a stuck window is caused by hardened paint in the channels in which the window sash is set.

Break the seal and the window will open, but don't follow the common custom of using a screwdriver blade or you'll leave a series of conspicuous marks. Use the putty knife or a similar tool made especially for this purpose and sold in many hardware stores.

In cutting the hardened paint by inserting the knife between the sash and the frame, work carefully and gradually. Keep trying the window every so often.

Sometimes it will open a trifle, then get stuck again. Keep working with the knife. If necessary, hit the handle of the knife with a hammer or, preferably, a mallet—but gently.

Try to hurry the job and you'll wind up with marred woodwork or a broken window pane. While you're working to get the window sash free, you'll probably make up your mind that if you ever paint a window again, you'll be mighty sure not to let paint harden around the edges of the sash.

(You can get Andy Lang's booklet, "Paint Your House Inside and Out," by sending 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Know-How, P.O. Box 954, Jamaica, N.Y. 11431.)

When all the paint appears to have been cut, but the sash won't move even an inch, it's probably stuck at the bottom or the top, depending on whether you're working on the bottom or top sash.

Use the putty knife at these areas just as you did at the sides.

What if it still doesn't open? While this doesn't happen very often, it might. You won't like the solution. You're going to have to go outside and repeat everything you did on the inside.

Homeowners Question Box

Q. How do I drill holes in the bathroom ceramic tiles to hang a shelf cabinet on the wall?

A. Use a carbide-tipped drill to make holes for fiber masonry anchors. Mark the location of the first hole, scratch the tile glaze with an awl across this mark, then drill through and put in the anchor. Hang and level the shelves on one screw to get the location of the second hole, and repeat.

Q. I want to put a Dutch door at the patio entrance, but my wife is afraid that it would be drafty. Is she right?

A. You can obtain a Dutch door of ponderosa pine with overlap rabbets plus weatherstripping at the meeting rail. These doors are draft-free and available in stock sizes through lumber dealers.

Q. There is a single worn spot in my linoleum floor. Can this be repaired neatly?

A. Cut a square patch from the same material and lay it over the worn spot. With a sharp linoleum knife, cut alongside the patch into the original linoleum. Lift out the old piece with its felt backing, apply a layer of linoleum paste and set in the patch smooth and level. Let the adhesive harden before stepping on the patch, which should fit almost invisibly.

Modernize Easily; New Wall on Old

An easy way to modernize is with a new wall placed right over the old.

This dramatic change is made possible with the latest idea in wall decor—bookmatched "planks" available nationwide this year.

This remodeling job is done with elm plywood.

A new series of inlaid hardwood panels combining complementary wood species, and a new walnut plywood grooved every four inches for the appearance of real walnut lumber, make their debut this year, too.

Ceramic Tile Is Guard For Table

June is the month of matrimony and, before it's over, an estimated 100,000 heretofore single gals will be wearing wedding rings.

Whether it's for the first time, or something they've experienced before, women like the idea of wearing a gold band on the third finger of their left hand. They also go for a diamond ring, symbol of engagement, on the same finger.

The only place, it seems, a woman doesn't want a ring is on a table top. Any gal—married or otherwise—who does any entertaining eventually will come face to face with this problem, caused by drinking glasses.

The solution is to surface those table tops with a stain-proof material such as ceramic tile. Not only can you forget about rings, but you can entertain without worrying about damage caused by misplaced cigarettes. That's because tile is also impervious to burns.

Tile now comes in such a wide variety of colors that any June bride can use it decoratively in any room of her home. There are many beautiful designs to choose from, including some ring patterns that will please anyone, matrimony-minded or not.

Air Conditioning Reaches High

Almost a half-million more homes were centrally air-conditioned in 1964 in the United States. The 1965 figure may reach 600,000.

Because more and more people are becoming conscious of the many benefits of central residential air-conditioning, and more and more are actively considering its purchase, either for their existing homes or in the new homes they plan to buy, the Air-Conditioning and Refrigeration Institute has produced a booklet which offers a few tips.

Titled "Central Air-Conditioning . . . What to Consider in its Selection and Purchase," the booklet was prepared in cooperation with the National Better Business Bureau to provide basic information to the public.

It does not mention any brand names, but it explains the operation of air-conditioning and some of the functions it performs in addition to "cooling."

Copies of the booklet may be obtained by sending 10 cents to the Air-Conditioning and Refrigeration Institute, 1815 North Fort Myer Drive, Arlington, Va. 22209, and mentioning "NBBB Booklet."

American Housewife Seeks Creative Outlet in Home

The American homemaker spurred by an inner urge for individual self-expression will once again spend billions on do-it-yourself home improvements.

A product headline that she will find practical and colorful inexpensive and versatile and spruced-up look is tile. Tile is the new, self-adhering, 3-D mosaic wall paneling. Ideal for such splash area as the kitchen and bathroom, it also has a multitude of other uses: in closets, cabinets, play rooms, on bar-tops, serving trays planters, etc.

Tile appeals to almost every taste and is suitable for practically every interior decor. It comes in fifteen decorator-approved colors and in three design patterns.

It achieves the rich, authentic look of imported ceramic tile at a fraction of the cost.

Installed in a matter of minutes, tile requires no special tools or skills. Just peel off the protective backing and press on the wall.

It's so simple to apply and so easy to handle that in less than a half hour the average homemaker can tile the entire wall surfaces behind her kitchen sink and kitchen counters.

It is rack-sold in hardware, houseware, paint and department stores in easy to select window boxes, each containing eight convenient-to-handle, one-foot square panels—enough to cover a wall area of eight square feet.

A bonus feature is that it bends to accommodate both in inside and outside corners, and can be cleaned with ordinary household detergent. This is also flame resistant.

To eliminate drab closets, spray wooden and wire coat hangers to match bedroom. Then coat closet shelves.

Also spray enamel boxes to organize shoes, sweaters, other accessories. You can use a different color to distinguish each member of the family.

Learn Secrets of Flower Arrangements

Knowing how to make attractive floral arrangements is not a secret belonging to florists only. But to have well-proportioned arrangements, it's important to know and follow correct procedures.

To aid you in developing the art of flower arranging, The Pennsylvania State University has a correspondence course on "Flower Arrangement." Besides giving directions for assembling attractive arrangements, the course describes methods used for drying flowers and for making corsages from your own garden flowers. It also has a section on containers and holders.

To get the complete course, send your name and address with $2.00 to FLOWER ARRANGEMENT, Box 5000, University Park, Pa., 16802. Make your check or money order payable to The Pennsylvania State University. The material will be mailed promptly.

Remember to Change Filters for Furnace

With forced warm-air furnaces, most filters should be changed twice a year.

However, electronic air filters can be cleaned and reused, in line with the manufacturer's instructions.

A Shot in the Trunk

Chemical Vaccinations to Help Elms

A powerful chemical "vaccination" is expected to help protect elm trees from the beetle that spreads the ravaging Dutch Elm disease.

The federal government has authorized Shell Chemical Co. to market Bidrin for use on elm trees.

The systemic is injected into the tree trunk in specified dosages.

The manufacturer reports that correctly applied it kills the elm bark beetle with little or no danger to humans, domestic animals, birds of other wildlife. The fungus-carrying beetle has killed millions of the nation's beautiful shade elms. Buffalo, N.Y., alone, ("the city of trees") has removed more than 20,000 elms since 1951.

Bidrin is not available to the general public. Distribution will be limited to foresters, arborists, horticulturists and tree experts who have completed training programs.

Dutch Elm disease arrived in the United States in 1930 in elmburl logs imported for ve-ner from Europe, where the disease was first defined in Holland in 1921.

The fungus infection is carried mainly by the European elm bark beetle, a dark brown, hard-shelled insect 1-10th inch long.

The fungus spreads rapidly through the water-producing tubes of the elm, giving off a toxin that causes the tree to manufacture gums that plug the tubes. Leaves suddenly wilt and the tree dies.

Bidrin, its producer says, does not cure, but it repels or kills the fungus-carrying beetle when it emerges from its winter breeding sites in dead or dying trees and arrives to feed on healthy trees.

Birdin injected into healthy trunks in early spring flows through the tree's circulatory system to the outermost twigs where most of the bark beetles feed. It stays toxic for about a month.

Lethal fungus infections of American elms due to feeding by the smaller European bark beetle occur for about 20 days in April, May or June, depending on tree, weather and geography.

Summer H. McAllister of Shell said Bidrin has been tested for five years under severe disease and insect conditions and has given nearly complete protection.

Unprotected trees had casualty rates up to 40 per cent.

Heretofore, tree experts have advised destruction of infected trees. Spraying with huge doses of DDT or other insecticides plus strict sanitation often has been effective.

Elaborate precautions must be taken to safeguard personnel and trees, so toxic is Bidrin.

The injection involves tamper-proof capsules containing amounts of Bidrin based on the size of the tree.

It is injected through metal feeder tubes that function like hypodermic needles.

The tubes are driven into the tree at intervals of five to six inches around the trunk.

Sow Vegetables Late; Harvest Winter Treat

Many gardeners don't realize how hardy some of our better known vegetables are and how easy it is to grow them so they can be harvested right up to the early winter months.

One of the most important factors in late fall and winter vegetable gardening however is proper timing of sowing. Most late vegetables should be sown in late June and July, some in August.

There are two main late garden vegetable groups . . . Root crops and greens. Listed below are the best fall and winter prospects with information as to when they are best planted.

A true hybrid, everblooming in habit, it can produce three or more crops of blooms without cutting back the older spikes.

About five normal sized flowers within three inches on as many as 25 spikes in bloom at a time per plant should give you an idea of the hybrid vigor and value of this colorful new edging, low bedding and pot-size plant. It is a honey, only six or seven inches high with its spreading cushions of bloom over rich green foliage.

For small modern gardens and patio plantings, the new miniature flowers are especially popular. "Floral Carpet Rose" snapdragon's rich color as edging or in a ribbon bed makes a glorious showing.

According to a Pennsylvania State University correspondence many kinds of plants have more flowers when terminal tips are removed. Pinching is a method you use to change plant growth.

A soil mulch is important in the summer care of your annuals. Any loose material, such as wood shavings or peanut hulls, spread two inches deep on the ground around plants works well. Weeds don't come through; soil dryness is reduced and the ground stays cooler.

Your garden soil in mid-summer sun may go over 100 degrees. That's much too hot for shallow rooted plants like zinnias, marigolds and a host of other plants. Growth of flower buds comes to a halt with roots in hot, dry soil.

To produce more flowers, pinch out growing tips on your tall growing annuals. And keep your plants in better growth by covering the soil with mulch.

To learn more about growing plants around your home, study the Penn State correspondence course. Enroll simply by sending your name and address with $2.50 to Home Floriculture, Box 5000, University Park, Pa., 16802. A course copy will be sent you by return mail.

Rutabagas are more cold-resistant than turnips. You sow them about the first week of August and the turnips about the last week in August for best results.

Beets and carrots will usually last well into November, even without covering. Sow both beets and carrots during the first half of July.

Winter radishes are a standard item in many parts of the world. They can be sown about the middle of August and should last until the end of November.

Kale and collards are splendid leafy vegetables for the winter garden. All can stand short periods of cold, as low as 10 degrees above zero, and can often be harvested up until the end of the year. Kale and collards can be seeded about July 20.

The red and cavy varieties of cabbage are best for winter use. Sow about the last week in June.

Broccoli, cauliflower, kohlrabi and Chinese cabbage are less hardy members of the cabbage family, but will usually yield into late November. Sow in early to late June.

Though freezing is the gardener's biggest enemy in late fall and winter months, if he narrows his choice of crops the gardener will find he has delicious and tasty crops to reward his efforts.

Dieldrin Controls Insects

In recent year lawn-conscious homeowners have become increasingly aware of the great variety of insects which attack lawns.

Sod webworms, chinch bugs, grubs and other insect pests can wipe out a lawn almost overnight—or at least before the cause can be identified. Unlike mosquitos and gnats, these destructive pests don't show.

They work either in the grass or just beneath the surface and unfortunately, once their symptoms are readily seen, extensive damage has been done.

Controlling lawn insects has not always been easy. Since they work in different times of the year, a "sure cure" for all insect pests has been difficult. The key to control is to watch for the first signs of damage and then apply an effective insecticide.

One new insecticide being introduced this spring kills a broad spectrum of lawn insects. It contains dieldrin, a highly effective chemical that kills over 20 of the most damaging lawn insects.

One insecticide also controls surface pests such as chinch bugs and sod webworms that attack the blades of grass. For these insects the product should be applied at the first signs of either the insect or damage.

Indian Name

The lodgepole pine was so named because Indians used the small-sized trees for the pole supports of their tepees.

Miniature Snaps Gain In Popularity

Dwarfest and freest blooming in rounded bush form, this eye-catching bright rose-pink cushion of flower spikes leads an entirely new miniature class of the increasingly popular snapdragons.

A true hybrid, everblooming in habit, it can produce three or more crops of blooms without cutting back the older spikes.

About five normal sized flowers within three inches on as many as 25 spikes in bloom at a time per plant should give you an idea of the hybrid vigor and value of this colorful new edging, low bedding and pot-size plant. It is a honey, only six or seven inches high with its spreading cushions of bloom over rich green foliage.

For small modern gardens and patio plantings, the new miniature flowers are especially popular. "Floral Carpet Rose" snapdragon's rich color as edging or in a ribbon bed makes a glorious showing.

Use Azaleas For Accents In Colors

From the large-flowered Indica azaleas of the deep south to the swamp azaleas of the north, these plants provide a wealth of unusual colors on the home property.

Some of their common names gives a clue to their properties such as "Sweet" azalea, "Flame," "Coast," "Snow," "Royal," "Roseshell," "Western," "Pinksell," etc.

Not all the azaleas can be grown in all our climates but one or many can be found to fit the soil and climate conditions for practically every home property.

Colors range from white through deep purple and red. Azaleas are exciting when in flower, either when used as specimen plants or as borders for walks, or in the foreground of taller shrubs and trees.

Some are native to this country, while others have come originally from many parts of the world, largely from the exotic east.

Your local nurseryman can advise you of varieties suitable for your particular requirements.

Pinch Plant For More Blossoms

Pinch out the terminal tips of zinnias to grow more flowers. The plants will put out branches below the pruned tip, become bushy and start more flower buds.

According to a Pennsylvania State University correspondence many kinds of plants have more flowers when terminal tips are removed. Pinching is a method you use to change plant growth.

A soil mulch is important in the summer care of your annuals. Any loose material, such as wood shavings or peanut hulls, spread two inches deep on the ground around plants works well. Weeds don't come through; soil dryness is reduced and the ground stays cooler.

Your garden soil in mid-summer sun may go over 100 degrees. That's much too hot for shallow rooted plants like zinnias, marigolds and a host of other plants. Growth of flower buds comes to a halt with roots in hot, dry soil.

To produce more flowers, pinch out growing tips on your tall growing annuals. And keep your plants in better growth by covering the soil with mulch.

To learn more about growing plants around your home, study the Penn State correspondence course. Enroll simply by sending your name and address with $2.50 to Home Floriculture, Box 5000, University Park, Pa., 16802. A course copy will be sent you by return mail.

84 Die In Water Accidents

Water accidents are on the increase in Michigan.

Eighty-three persons have died in 104 water accidents in the first five and one-half months this year, respective increases of 24 and 30 compared with the period up through June 12, in 1964, according to State Police provisional figures.

In addition, 43 persons have been injured in water mishaps.

The breakdown on 62 of the deaths on which official reports have been received includes 14 boat passengers, eight boat operators, 11 swimmers or waders, 15 who fell from bridges, banks, decks or piers, 11 who fell through ice, and one skin or Scuba diver.

Vigilant supervision of children at play in or near water and proper attention to safety rules when boating, the State Police emphasize, can help hold down the water accident toll which reaches its peak during the warm weather months in Michigan. Last year 290 persons lost their lives in 606 water accidents in the state.

Three Shrines To Be Visited on Pilgrimage

Our Lady of Good Counsel Roman Catholic Church in Plymouth has scheduled its third annual pilgrimage to the Canadian Shrines this year from Sept. 1 to Sept. 7.

Traveling by train, the group will visit St. Joseph's Oratory, Montreal; Our Lady of the Cape in Trois Rivieres; and St. Anne De Beaupre, Quebec.

Departure point is Michigan Central Depot while the return trip will terminate in Plymouth.

Mrs. Sophia Nowasielski of Detroit is in charge of arrangements. Spiritual exercises and devotions are featured and the group will be accompanied by a spiritual director.

Total cost of the tour is $120. This includes transportation, lodging and all meals, but two.

Reservations may be placed by contacting Mrs. Krump at 453-4052.

List Winners In Plymouth Bridge Play

At the weekly duplicate Bridge held at the Plymouth Bridge Club, the following were winners:

NORTH-SOUTH — Betsy and Bill Tullis, Tom Adams and Bob Webber, and Sue Fuller and Stella Fitzpatrick.

EAST-WEST — Kathleen Yerkey and Eunice Cruzer, Stan Hench and N. Arnold Williams, and Mrs. John C. Ballard and W. L. Ballard.

Weekly duplicate Bridge is held each Friday at 8 p.m. in the Colonial Professional Building located at 729 W. Ann Arbor Trail, in Plymouth.

For further information call Director, Bill Tullis, GARfield 2-7848.

Name Kitts Sales Chief For Cochrane

Robert Kitts, of 32027 Maine, Livonia, has been appointed general sales manager of Bill Cochrane Inc., Chrysler, Plymouth and Valiant dealer on Ford Road in Garden City.

The appointment was announced by Cochrane who indicated Bob has been used car manager for the dealership for the past nine months.

Kitts, a former advertising representative for the defunct Detroit Times, went into the dealer sales ranks when the newspaper folded in 1960. He had years of experience with dealers and the automotive business since he handled advertising in that field.

The 39-year-old Kitts is married and he and his wife Janet are the parents of two children, Robert Lee, 17, and Candy, 16. He attended Michigan State University after a stint in the U. S. Marines during World War II.

Elsa Realty Sales Hit An All-Time High

Elsa Realty and Investment Co. had the greatest sales for a 15-day period in its 35 years of operation when it handled 121 properties during the first two weeks in June for a total value of $1,370,453.

This compares with 96 sales and a total of $1,100,830 for the same period a year ago.

R. S. Elsa, president of the firm, indicated the supply of homes available more nearly balances the demand than at any time since 1956. He describes the market as one of a shortage of single family homes available for rent but not as one of a shortage of housing available for sale.

Participates In Field Trip

Lawrence Becker, of 643 Hartsough, Plymouth, was among the 15 Albion College students who returned last week from Douglas Lake in the northern part of Michigan's Lower Peninsula after completing a seven-day field study as part of a new course combining biology with geology.

Student participants received one hour of credit. Institutional costs and tuition were covered by a National Science Foundation grant.

Known as "Geocology," the course presented a study of the relationship between the animal and plant life in the Douglas Lake area. Based at the University of Michigan Biological Station on Douglas Lake, the group made daily field trips to bogs, wooded areas, quarries and dune formations.

Lawrence was a member of the 1964 graduating class of Plymouth High.

Livonia Worker Earns $6,000 GM Award

A maximum $6,000 award under the General Motors Suggestion Plan was received today by a Fisher Body Livonia Plant employee. Earl J. Mullins, 59, was presented his award at the Fisher Body upholstery trim plant on Plymouth Road, Livonia.

Mullins, a sewing machine repairman in the maintenance department, received his award for submitting a suggestion that will increase the operating efficiency of machines used in the sewing of upholstery material for the interior trim of Fisher automobile bodies.

A native of Kentucky, Mullins joined Fisher Body in 1944 at its Cleveland, Ohio, plant. Since he began working at Fisher Livonia in 1954, Mullins has submitted twelve other suggestions, five of which were accepted. With his present award he has now received a total of $9,010.13 under the General Motors Suggestion Plan.

Mullins is married and has three daughters, two of whom are married. He plans to use his award money as a college fund for his youngest daughter.

3 Livonians Get Degrees At Dearborn

Three Livonians were among the 77 students receiving degrees from the Dearborn campus of the University of Michigan in the spring commencement exercises.

The trio includes: Eliska Cowan, 9032 Laurel, Bachelor of Arts with distinction; Gary Hees, 33024 Hees, Bachelor of Science; and Roy Rennolds, 36111 Five Mile, Bachelor of Science in Engineering with distinction.

The Dearborn Campus offers degrees in three divisions: Business Administration, Engineering, and Literature, Science and the Arts.

A senior college, the Dearborn campus is open to students of junior standing or above. The campus operates year-round on a three-term schedule, featuring internship with business and industrial firms.

State Police Boss Lists Promotions

Retirement of State Police Capt. Richard L. Nicolen, deputy state civil defense director, and appointment and promotion of his successor as well as the promotion and transfer of five other officers was announced Monday by Commissioner Fredrick E. Davids.

Capt. Nicolen is retiring July 9 after completing more than 27 years of service. He was named to command the civil defense division after that state agency was merged with the State Police in 1962.

Promoted and transferred July 11:

Lt. Jack M. Nemrava, assistant Bay City district commander, to captain and transferred to command of the civil defense division at East Lansing headquarters.

Staff Sgt. Carl Harrison, East Lansing post commander, to lieutenant and transferred to Bay City as assistant district commander.

Sgt. Daniel E. Kostrzewa, Mt. Pleasant post commander, to staff sergeant and transferred to command the East Lansing post.

Cpl. Gene A. Rooker, Detroit, to sergeant and transferred to command the Mt. Pleasant post.

Tpr. Raymond Rudman, Niles, to corporal and transferred to the Detroit post.

Promoted effective June 27: Det. Chris Swartzendruber, Detroit, to detective sergeant and to command of the Detroit office of the intelligence squad and security division, succeeding Det. Sgt. Clifford F. Goodnuff who died June 3.

Oakland Schools To Have New Clinic Director

Dr. Lawrence Gold, an assistant professor of Hunter College Education Clinic, New York, will head the Oakland Schools Reading Clinic next year. The Oakland Schools Board has approved a contract with Dr. Gold effective August 1.

He will assume the position vacated when Dr. Harry T. Hahn resigned to join the faculty of Oakland University.

The Oakland Schools Reading Clinic is a diagnostic and specialized instruction center for the schools of Oakland County. Four permanent staff members and four teacher interns worked this year with 150 problem readers referred from fourth to ninth grade classrooms.

Mighty Slugging Helps Farmington in American Legion District Play

Some mighty bats are keeping Farmington in contention for title honors in the American Legion's Junior 18 District Baseball league.

Responsible in a big way for Farmington winning three of its first five games were Carl Misch, who is slugging the ball at a .636 clip; Bill Bowles, hitting .555; Mike Perry .428, Chuck Viane .400 and Tom Webster .375.

In action last week, Farmington won one, lost one and tied one. Manager Wally Christensen's team also had one game rained out.

The triumph came over Walled Lake, 12-4, in the second half of a doubleheader after the Lakers had scored a 4-2 verdict. Then followed a rainout to Berkley and a scoreless six inning duel with Southfield, the current unbeaten league leader.

Both the rainout and tie will have to be made up within the next week.

Viane, ace pitcher at North Farmington High during the spring, notched an easy verdict over Walled Lake to give him a 2-0 Legion record. He had to work only four innings, allowed a single run, four hits and fanning 10.

Wayne Johnston finished up and was touched for three runs on five hits.

Farmington jumped in front, 3-0, in the first inning when Miles Kearney walked, Bowles and Webster singled and Viane doubled. Four more Farmington runs came across in the second with a single by Dick Johnston and double by Perry the key blows. Singles by Kearney, Bowles and Webster made it nine runs for Farmington in the fourth.

In the fifth Barry Aneda and Dick Johnston singled for another marker. Then in the sixth, hits by Wayne Johnston, Kelly Burke and Perry and a sacrifice fly by Aneda finished the run production.

Rick Krumm pitched the losing cause against Walled Lake. He fanned 12 batters, but got only feeble hitting support.

Bowles and Webster singled in the fourth and Krumm himself delivered a run-producing grounder for Farmington's first tally. In the fifth, Aneda's double, an infield out and Tim Marzol's fly gave Farmington its other marker. Kearney from Our Lady of Sorrows turned in a fine three-hitter against Southfield. He allowed only three hits, two of them in the first inning. He also whiffed 12 batters. Aneda, Burke and Misch delivered the only three hits managed by Farmington in the game. Farmington had two men thrown out at the plate and one at third during the game. In this week's action, Farmington goes to Waterford on Wednesday, gets Friday off and then entertains Milford in a doubleheader next Sunday afternoon at Our Lady of Sorrows field on Powers Road.

Plymouth Lions To Hear Talk By Piston Aide

Earl Lloyd, giant assistant coach and former star of the Detroit Pistons basketball team, will discuss professional basketball and its growth in recent year in an address to members of the Plymouth Lions Club Thursday.

Lloyd, who was one of the best backcourt men in pro basketball while playing with the Syracuse Nationals and the Pistons in the National Basketball Association, has been with the Detroit organization since 1958.

He is rated as one of the most personable members of the coaching and scouting staff and has had much to do with the development of such recent stars as Reggie Harding, Ray Scott, Coach Dave Debuschera and Eddie Miles.

Lloyd is a graduate of Virginia State College where he was a standout for three years. He went to the Washington Capitols in 1950 and from 1952-58 was a member of the Syracuse club before being traded to Detroit.

A Doctor Seeks Solution

Crime in the United States is increasing out of proportion to the census increase.

Crime in our country is propagated for money. It is an offense against the social order and of "right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness".

The basic causes of crime can be scientifically identified and such are subject to analysis. Most causes can be explained and called to public attention through education.

Crime is an abnormal brain reaction. The brain is the organ of the mind and subject to the rules of preventive medicine.

In this there is hope of reversing the trend.

A national awakening is in order as in any public danger. The first step to this end would seem to require careful planning through a wise selection of far-sighted citizens to analyze the situation, consider the depth of the crises and advance the next step.

Among the discipline to be called into consultation is an educational method would be included the following: Sciences of Economics; Sciences of Sociology; Sciences of Education; Sciences of Criminology and Penology; Sciences of Law; Sciences of Medicine; Scientific applications of religion including canon law; Science of Politics; Science of Human Behavior.

EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGNS

Who can take it upon themselves to undertake so vast a nationally needed educational program?

The ultimate result to be effective would require legislation. However, it would seem that except for such politicians as might volunteer (at least to begin with) elective office holders should not be asked to enter into such a program or at any rate until they can have confidence that their electors would support them.

WHO THEREFORE COULD LEAD. Crime reaches into the depths of immorality. It happens by reason of human nature that for every woman arrested in the U.S. in 1963 eight men were arrested.

Women and children suffer most when unnecessary mental disarrangement and crime involves a family. So we find moral delinquency eight times more frequent among men than women.

Men may have to fight the worlds' battles, whether wars are right or wrong or whatever the type of wars from boxing to bombing. But the qualities of justice and mercy are stronger qualities of the mothers of the race. While most men who partake also of these humane qualities to some degree are less concerned than women.

Natures saving grace seems to enter in to this phenomena on a survival of the fittest basis. The 1963 census reports the male population as over 93 million and female over 95 95 million—about 2 1/2 million more women. Of the 95,909,000 women, 68,773,000 are 14 years of age or older. Would the women of America respond to a call to try to turn back the tide of delinquency and crime through methods of education?

Editor: Ordinance #516, Noxious Weed and Refuse ordinance, is now in effect.

This watered-down ordinance contains many of the Mayor's desires and a few of my own. Many of its provisions are ridiculous and conflicting. The Mayor of Livonia vetoed the Dec. 28, 1965 draft of the ordinance as quoted in The Observer of March 31 for (1) The Distinction between a weed and natural wildlife vegetation is difficult to determine. Section 2 of the proposed ordinance listed dozens of weed types designated as poisonous or injurious by the Department of Health. Evidently the Mayor doesn't suffer from hay fever, asthma or poison ivy.

As number two he is quoted "The ordinance would be difficult to enforce with the limited manpower and resources."

Not so, had the penalty provision been raised to 25% as I suggested; and to the limited resources, section 6 permitted "The Department of Public Works, and its authorized representatives" to perform the weed cutting, and contracting the work to local citizens, anxious for weed cutting jobs, would supply the manpower.

Now, his number three, "No provisions to exempt city, school or county owned property."

If the city doesn't take care of its weeds, should you expect the residents? Evidently, the Mayor doesn't live near a county road bordered shoulder-high with weeds. And what has the Mayor against schools that they should deserve the weeds?

His reason number four, "No designation who shall be responsible for drainage easements and water courses." Section two stated plainly, "The owners, person or persons, agent, firm or corporation" — at least it was plain to me!

Reason number six was a plea not to destroy wildlife. What a change of heart from when he signed the more liberal ordinances, numbers 486 and 491 just last year!

His reason number seven, the high cost of notification of property owners. This, I brought to the attention of the council earlier on March 3.

To top it off, his reason number eight, "The natural development of the city from an urban area to a metropolitan area will, in itself control those being populated. This can only lead me to believe that the builders and large landholders should be the only legal weed growers in Livonia. Well, he nearly got his way too, for only a 50 foot fringe on improved roads and a 100 foot fringe of the perimeters of some subdivision need be cut of weeds; the latter I fought for!

Much more is to be said, and I will say it next week, editor permitting.

ALFRED D. YOUNG LIVONIA

Help! Help! Garbage Problem

I regret having to write you this letter asking for your aid and intervention with the Sanitation Dept. to give some justice to the tax paying citizens in relation to the garbage collection.

I've lived in the city of Livonia for over two years. During that time there were too many occasions when my garbage cans were left by the collectors with some refuse in them. And every time I called the Sanitation Dept., the young lady answering the phone would always justify the garbage collection agency with a rule for how to pack of wrap my garbage. The tax-paying citizen of Livonia is never right. But the agency servicing these tax payers, who gets paid from the taxpayers money is always right according to the Sanitation Dept.

The regulations: 1. Pack your garbage can loosely and lightly—don't pack it down. 2. No cut grass in garbage cans—must be packed in a bushel basket. 3. No cuttings from bushes (no matter how small) must be tied together, no longer than four feet. 4. If any garbage sticks to the bottom of the can, it remains there and the taxpayer is out of luck. 5. Bricks (even an isolated handful) can't be included in the garbage cans but had to be placed in a bushel basket.

6. Nothing to weigh over fifty pounds. Of all the regulations, the only one making sense is the one of nothing to weigh over fifty pounds.

The excuse given for many of the rules and regulations was to avoid mutilating the garbage cans. I never complained about mutilated garbage cans. And God knows that mine have been mutilated. I can tolerate mutilated garbage cans provided that ALL my garbage has been collected. But my bad luck has been that my garbage cans have been mutilated and somehow they still frequently contain a large residue of garbage.

I used to live in Detroit, but came to Livonia because it's a nice looking town and has a good school system. But in Detroit the garbage collection didn't have all those red tape bureaucratic regulations. All that I can recall facing (and it was no problem) was garbage in one can, rubbish in another and burn your own paper. Why does Livonia garbage disposal have to be so complicated and exasperating to the taxpaying Livonian? All of these regulations just sound like a bunch of excuses to protect and justify the garbage collection agency.

I've called the sanitation Dept. on a number of occasions, and after frustrating, exasperating, and futile conversation, I was referred to the owner or manager of the garbage collection company. He would justify the action of it by his men but would come by the following day and pick it up. Thus correcting the inadequate collection.

Last Tues. June 15, 1965, I found that a cardboard (one piece) box—not even four feet long by a foot and a half wide (no longer in box form but flattened out) that I left leaning up against my garbage cans for obvious garbage collection, was left behind and that some cut grass was left on the bottom of the garbage can leaving the can 20% full.

I called the Sanitation Dept. on Wed. June 16, 1965. The woman answering asked me if that one piece cardboard box was properly tied up and of the proper length. Here I learned a new garbage rule: one piece of cardboard has to be tied together. This big of bureaucratic stupidity angered me. Then she added another regulation—no grass in garbage cans, but in bushel baskets, because she said they stick in garbage cans. If an effort were made to dump that grass, then the only part sticking would be a fine layer in contact with the can (which I wouldn't complain about.) 20% high in the can wouldn't stick to the bottom!

After this unpleasant conversation, she said that she'd have the garbage company boss call me on Thurs. I inquired why not Wed. (the day of the call). Her reply was that he went home. This was four o'clock when I got home from work. Thurs. came and went—no call came. It seems rather high handed to be treated this way—especially in view of the fact that some of my tax money goes for garbage collection. I'd appreciate some justice for the taxpayer. I hope that the garbage collection agency and the Sanitation Dept. will not conduct a vendetta against me, because I've filed a legitimate complaint.

Civil Service "Speaks" in Livonia

Editor: The Civil Service Commission wishes to clarify several statements made about standards for Firemen in your June 23 edition. The written test we use is a standardized test prepared by the Public Personnel Association and is used nationwide. It has 120 questions and the average score of 1910 applicants who took the test throughout the country is 72 questions correct. The passing point on the last written test was 72 questions (60%). Therefore, those who passed had average or better scores. The passing point has never been 70% for this written test. The standard on the interview or oral test is still 70% and not 60%. In fact, 5 candidates were failed on the interview last week by a 3-man interview board. The examination consists of the written test, interview, physical agility test, fingerprint and driving record check, and physical examination as well as reference checks and interviews by the department. Also, the department is given two more candidates to consider than there are vacancies. The Commission wishes to emphasize that these standards are designed to exclude marginal and sub-marginal candidates and that it is opposed to employing such candidates even though the City might have difficulty in recruiting.

Very truly yours, CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION

(Editor's Note: The main point of The Observer's story as that recruitment standards had dropped. We erred in the figures. But the fact remains that it took a 65 per cent score for Livonia firemen candidates to pass the written test last year, and this year it's down to 60 per cent. Mayor Moelke reports that this drop has resulted in a letter of protest from Fire Chief Calvin Roberts.)

Clamoring for Amy

Did Amy Charron quit, or are you just not putting scout news in like before? When there is scout news it don't sound like it did. Don't sound like her anymore as its all short and jumbled. Why do you ruin something good, and keep useless things in. What does Amy Charron look like? Give us a article about her. Is that possible? Does she get paid for her time? If not she should, and then make it a regular part, and cover all of Farmington by her. Why is it so messed up lately, and I bet others wonder too. So if you are then write in and ask. Bet if we phoned in then the paper do better. Just like papers in past, get you feeling at last complete news just is written then bam all cut to H—, I see she often has same piece in, but more too it I bet she just sends back in to you. I don't blame her, and I admire her doing it that way. When we get around to giving news we like to see it as given. I was quitting, and then her open letter appeared. Her appeal got to me, and so I'll stay a bit longer, and maybe some of her love for Girl Scout might rub off on me. Amy makes scouting sound like fun, and I know Brownie troop 127 are lucky to have her as their leader. I'm not from Farmington but want you to know others read her, too. MRS. PAUL K. MACCORMICKE Livonia.

Give Us Amy

Editor: Please don't cut so much out of the Scout News by Amy Charron. Why don't you have her cover all scouts of Farmington and give her regular spot like Jerry Wendt. She sounds so friendly, and really interested in the Girl Scouts, but lately her part is so cut up it don't make sense. I know not her way of writing, because I've saved some of her early ones, and your just wrecking a good thing. Who ever cuts to make shorter sure don't know scouting. Or is she ill again, and someone else filling in for her? Come on some more of you write to the editor, and tell him how you feel. I think good column of Girl Scout News, and she should give us more. Lets have the old way back, and not cut her part up so much. I bet you won't even print this. But I like Amy's way, so I'm letting you know.

MRS. CHARLES SCOTT Farmington, Michigan

Ed. Note: We too admire Amy's scouting enthusiasm; unfortunately The Observer newspapers has to cover a myriad of community interests; it is not just a scouting organ. We only edit in order to get all of Amy's news and try to cut her enthusiastic style as little as possible.

Observing the Scene...

By MYRA CHANDLER

A great deal has been written in the newspapers and in magazines and more tragically, in blood, depicting the problems of teenage drinking.

Parents of a June girl-graduate were talking about wanting to have an open house to honor her, but were uneasy about it because of the teen-age packs that crash parties. They were explaining how impossible it was to control an open house and prevent youths from drinking in cars.

They were wondering about a liquor punch bowl in order to "control" the drinking... and wasn't it better to allow them to have liquor under supervision in the home rather than in cars? "After all, they're all doing it, anyway."

"What about the law?" we questioned. "It's against the law to serve liquor to minors."

"Oh well, yes, but there is a universal law of common sense that must circumvent state laws in some cases. After all we would be present."

If many parents take this point of view, no wonder we have this sharp increase in teenage drinking and violence.

If we break the law so lightly—what can we expect from our kids. Have we worried so about our kids missing "things" that we have robbed them of their youth. Pushing them always toward the sophisticated side of living? Something is wrong.

The problem was brought into sharp focus last week by Nankin Township Supervisor Thomas H. Brown reporting on the 150 disorderly teen-agers who held a drinking part in the park on June 4. Tear gas had to be used to disperse the disorderly youths. "It was a shocking revelation to me" he said. People should not be unaware of the danger."

This past week-end I drove around Edward Hines Park to my own astonishment. At first I thought there had probably been a bad accident or robbery—there were so many police cars.

There were also many cars with kids in them. The police kept them on the move. The police also appeared to spot check, apparently looking for empty beer cans.

If they found any in cars it would be amazing. There were certainly plenty littering the landscape.

How can we convince our teenagers what is real and what is pseudo?

How can we convince the parents? In an effort to glean some advice on the subject we consulted with eminent Ophthalmologist Dr. Ralph H. Pino, now living in Plymouth.

Dr. Pino has appeared before the AMA on the subject. He has the most extensive library on alcoholism of any doctor in the state.

Doctor Pino said he has been concerned about the increase in drinking among young people and accordingly has been thinking of how to stem this tide. He believes a group of community-minded people can put into action some meaningful ideas to curtail and stamp out the cause of most of the teenage crimes reported, namely drinking.

Accordingly, we begin this week, a series on the subject with an eye to seeing this committee of citizens develop.

In the interim can't we parents become "old-fashioned" and find out where the teenager and the car are going... and tell them what time both have to be home. Can't the father in the home explain the dangers of liquor for teen-agers and bluntly refuse it to his kids in the home BECAUSE it is against the law.

Young people, more than any other group, are thirsty for truth and resent hypocrisy.

Isn't it possible they are looking, even yearning, for this leadership in their home?

Yesterday's Headlines

25 YEARS AGO (July 2, 1940) In this issue of The Livonian, it was reported that the parents and board members of Cooper school district met to solve the problems of their schools. One of the questions raised was: Will the present school built just two years ago be able to accommodate all the school children? Answer: No, but the board is planning to build an addition on to the building.

1 YEAR AGO (July 1, 1964) Plymouth's greatest Fourth of July parade will be held this week as Gov. George Romney will head it. Activities will range from a band concert to a fireworks display and the crowning of Miss Plymouth 1964.

20 YEARS AGO (July 4, 1945) The Livonia Township Planning Board has finally completed its new zoning ordinance and master zoning. A public meeting will be held to present the new ordinance to the public.

15 YEARS AGO (June 30, 1950) The Sheldon Land Company has revealed plans to build 232 homes in the Plymouth and Farmington Rd. area. These homes will be rented and sold to the public.

10 YEARS AGO (June 30, 1955) The City of Livonia reached its lowest water depth in many years as the pressure goes lower and lower. Citizens were warned to avoid use of water during certain hours and to be on the look out for small fires that might need the use of the fire department.

5 YEARS AGO (June 30, 1960) The headline for this issue read "OBSERVER POLL REVEALED" as this newspaper reported its finding on whether or not Redford Township people would be interested in having an election on city incorporation.

1 YEAR AGO (July 1, 1964) Plymouth's greatest Fourth of July parade will be held this week as Gov. George Romney will head it. Activities will range from a band concert to a fireworks display and the crowning of Miss Plymouth 1964.

Have Home, No Help Editor: I read an article in your paper, (The Observer), which stated that many homes were needed for new employees of the school board, so having a home for sale in Livonia I thought it would be proper to let the school board office know about my home. I called the office and the answer I received was certainly not anticipated, and certainly was very short and curt.

The exact words were as follows: "You must write us a complete description and put it in the mail as we are too busy to bother taking any information over the phone."

I am certain that this I am not going to do, and I sincerely doubt that any number of others having a home for sale would either. School board money and time should be spent, with more thought given to the end result.

Tribute To A Judge

The untimely death Sunday of Stanton Dondero, at the age of 49, deprived the Oakland County Circuit Court of a man who was the epitome of judicial temper.

Judge Dondero was fair and impartial. Free of vanity and arrogance, he was nonetheless a man of great dignity. His manner was gentle. But he could be stern when meting out justice, or throwing out irrelevancy.

This newspaper had an opportunity to watch the Judge in a difficult and sensitive case, the one in which brewery executive Welles Herrington shot and killed Birmingham Denist John Foster. The County was prosecuting Herington for first degree murder.

It was a case that in a less sober court might well have become quite lurid. Under Judge Dondero's steady hand, relevancy became the guide line, acquittal was the result, and there was general agreement that justice was done.

That justice was done would seem a fitting epitaph for this strong, gentle man.

Congratulations All 'Round

Governor George Romney has made good on a campaign pledge. Running against incumbent Governor John Swainson in 1962, Romney promised that if elected he would be able to work with his legislature. And in line with this, he said he would not hesitate to praise it when it was deserving.

The Legislature, which two years later came under the control of the Democrats, obviously was deserving—passing 400 new laws in this present term. Summing up the exploits of this Democratic legislature, in their Sunday Editions, the two metropolitan Detroit dailies could not have been more enthusiastic if they had been writing for the Democratic Digest.

And almost equally as enthusiastic about the law makers was Governor Romney. He described their performance as a "job well done."

It will be interesting to see what will come of this love feast. How will the Michigan Republican Party and the Republican state legislature in particular react to it. And how will this affect the Governor's ability to recapture some of the seats presently occupied by Democrats.

Cynics will see in this overture a Romney willing to sacrifice his party for his own Presidential ambitions. It seems to us, however, that this kind of cynicism can be binding.

While there is no way to read a man's mind—no way to know why public men do what they do—there is no denying the fact that in this instance Governor Romney has performed an act of statesmanship.

He is to be congratulated. And congratulations are also in order for the Michigan State Legislature for making it possible for him to say what he said about it.

2nd Memo to Postmasters

A picture of a motorist struggling to reach a curb-side mailbox from the driver's seat was displayed in last week's Observer with a caption: "Memo to Postmasters: Why?"

Any citizen who has attempted this feat—and there are probably few who haven't—will be quick to realize that it would be much easier to mail a letter if the mailbox were located on the driver's side.

Somehow, the post office mind has failed to grasp the significance of making access to drive-up mail boxes easier.

We can all look around us in Livonia, Plymouth, Farmington, Redford Township, Garden City and Nankin Township and find places where boxes could be located to bring the post office facilities up to date with the automobile era.

To point out one as an example: The drive-up box located at the post office on Middle Belt Road, across from the Livonia Mall could be swung around easily so that a driver merely has to turn off Middle Belt, mail his letter, and swing back onto the street.

An editorial should many times be a spur to action and the writer should be the first to lead the way.

I have already written to the United States Postmaster General and will call on my local postmaster to urge him to do something.

If you are bothered by little things—such as drive-up mailboxes that are on the wrong side—why not apply a little pressure from underneath?

Talk to your postmaster the next time you see him. Perhaps he will be willing to consider some suggested locations for the mailboxes.

—Bill Gail

Cohesion Needed, Now?

Perhaps it is inevitable. Perhaps there is nothing wrong with it. But it is a fact that the spirit of separatism is growing between the City and Township of Farmington. And, at the same time, a cold war is developing between them.

It was the hope of former Councilman Henry Forrest that the visit of Olympic Champion Rex Cawley—in who's accomplishments the City and Township could both take pride—

Where's Amy?

Editor: What has happened to "Scout News by Amy Charron"? It doesn't make sense, and I'm sure that she isn't writing her piece, because it doesn't like she used too. She has always made me feel like part of what was written was for me. Please give her more space, and let us have things as she sends in. I look each Wednesday for her, and lately don't see very often. Should keep her in that way we keep in with Scout doings. I know not be always someone we know, but Amy just makes you read any how. Just thought maybe you'd like to know that the Scout news does get read. Bet others could let you know too.

DORIS COBIE Farmington, Michigan would galvanize the two communities into one. But Rex has come and gone and the cold war gets steadily hotter.

The City's sudden move to annex a piece of the Township's territory is dramatic evidence of the developing situation. Just as real evidence is the pernicious sniping that goes on between the departments and functionaries of the rival governments.

Perhaps the problem is that the two communities share the same first names. This may be misleading and frustrating. For they may genuinely share too little else.

Being neighbors, they have joined in many endeavors of mutual benefit—schools, libraries, police, etc.—but so do all communities that border on each other.

I am not advocating a complete break in relations. Nor am I urging that no further arrangements be entered into. What ever is good for both is fine with me.

But what I am throwing up for discussion is the idea that it might be good for the Township and City to stop thinking of themselves as organically related simply because they are both called Farmington. While we hold our nation to be sacred, there is nothing sacred about how we organize ourselves below the national level. Whether one is a citizen of Ohio or Michigan, of the City or the Township, seems to me of no great importance.

But if residents of the greater Farmington area do feel it important that they stay closely united, I would suggest that they hurriedly arrange some joint meetings to talk out their differences.

The differences are many and significant. And the hour is very late.

Thanks From Redford

Editor: The Redford Township Memorial Day Authority unanimously voted to offer you a sincere THANK YOU for the very excellent follow-up of our Parade which was held June 6th in memory of our war dead.

We have truly appreciated your co-operation in the articles that have been in the paper for us and we believe that it has greatly helped to bring out the revival of the patriotism and memorial tribute which should be shown for our war heroes who have fought and died for our country.

Again thanking you sincerely, we remain, Cordially yours, REDFORD TOWNSHIP MEMORIAL DAY AUTHORITY George Duval, Out-Going President.

Long Heat Waves Are Major Threat To Elderly Residents Over 60

ANN ARBOR — A University of Michigan scientist says that "a killer of a heat wave" can be more than an expression; it often poses a real threat to human life.

ANN ARBOR — A University of Michigan scientist says that "a killer of a heat wave" can be more than an expression; it often poses a real threat to human life.

Over the past 10 years, strokes have consistently accounted for about 10 per cent of the deaths in Michigan, but in periods of heat stress during 1962 and 1963, the number of such deaths in the state rose to 15 per cent.

Dr. Schuman also notes the possibility that the recent increase in the use of diuretics and other hypotensive drugs without seasonal modification may predispose elderly persons to strokes during sudden or prolonged heat waves.

Dr. Schuman is currently planning more detailed studies to explore this physiological-pharmacological aspect of heat waves.

According to Dr. Stanley H. Schuman (M.D.), there is strong evidence that prolonged summer heat waves cause a striking number of deaths.

They compared this information with mortality statistics for periods with normal mean temperatures and discovered, for example, that some 4665 "excess deaths" occurred during June and July, 1963.

However, this is not exclusively a problem for the elderly, according to the U-M epidemiologist. "Preventable deaths will continue to occur . . . among youngsters engaging in competitive sports, among military re-

Meyers, Field Engineer for the State Highway Dept.; W. J. Worth, Assistant County Highway Engineer; Mayor Harvey Moelke; S. Elfsitz, County Highway Engineer; and J. E. Kinville, Project Engineer.

While these people are clearly in jeopardy during severe heat waves, the actual extent of the problem is still unknown. Dr. Schuman explains: "Heat illness or heat stroke has never been a cause of death noted frequently on routine death certificates."

Recent studies show "remarkable rises in mortality in large urban populations from periods of sustained, but not necessarily record-breaking, heat," according to the U-M researcher.

Amelia Earhart Group Meets

The 28th anniversary of Amelia Earhart's mysterious disappearance on an around-the-world flight attempt in 1937 will be observed in Redford by the Detroit chapter of a national group formed in her honor.

The 1st Annual Commemorative Meeting of the Amelia Earhart Squadron's Detroit City Flight will be held Saturday, July 3 — just 28 years and a day after the famous aviatrix was lost near the Howland Islands in the Pacific.

"Our meeting is just one of a number that will be held across the country that weekend by the squadron," reports Ken Fermyole, 8924 Appleton, Detroit Flight Leader. "This is one means of keeping alive the deeds of the daring lady who accomplished so much during her short life, and that is a major objective of the Squadron."

Leaders and assistant leaders from Flights in nearby areas scheduled to meet with the Detroit group at the Redford home of Acting Adjutant Louis Bloch include Mr. and Mrs. Robert George, Livonia.

Farmingtonites Celebrate 30th Business Year

The Re-Nu Tool Co., which is located at 14444 Joy Road, is celebrating its 30th year in business. President of the Company is Sam J. Graham, of 22612 Brookdale, in Farmington. Another Farmingtonite, Mrs. Alice Warner Brown, of 32080 Nine Mile Road, is the company's secretary-treasurer.

Re-Nu employs 20 people, and specializes in sharpening and reconditioning 11 types of cutting tools — carbide and high speed — and also completely manufactured special tools.

Alice Brown is herself a tool engineer. She was the third woman to become a national member of the American Society of Tool and Manufacturing Engineers. And she was the first woman to attend Carboloy's School for Customer Education.

Mail Carriers Get Rest Monday

Inasmuch as Monday, July 5, is a Federal holiday, the Plymouth Post Office, like all others in the United States, will operate on the holiday schedule according to Acting Postmaster James Grater.

Since Independence Day falls on Sunday, the holiday will be observed by all federal employees on Monday.

There will be no delivery services, except special delivery, and street mail collections will be made on a normal holiday schedule and outgoing mail will be dispatched in similar style.

Postmaster Grater indicated 5 p.m., providing access to the Plymouth post office lobby lock boxes, stamp dispensers will be open from 11:30 a.m. to and mail deposit slots.

PICTURE TALK

You Can Still Get A Bang Out Of It

The explosion has been legislated out of July 4. And it's probably saved a lot of us from burned fingers and clothes, jangled nerves and bandages. I get a little nostalgic thinking back to the fireworks, the way it used to be. But even without the fireworks, it's still a fun holiday. And there is something you should still shoot off this weekend—your camera.

Picnics, beaches, backyard barbecues—wherever you find your fun, your camera should be part of it. No subject makes for better pictures than our own fun. No pictures are more meaningful to look back on, more rewarding to share than those that recall the fun we've had.

Don't wait till the fun starts to start thinking about film for your 4th of July pictures. Get enough now. Get it from us. We have KODAK film for all needs, for any camera, still or movie, for prints or slides, color or black-and-white, including Super 8 KODACHROME II Film for the new KODAK INSTAMATIC Movie Cameras.

The sooner you come in for your film, the better chance your 4th of July pictures will have of being the best ever. Because you'll get a chance to see the new KODAK INSTAMATIC Movie Cameras demonstrated. It's something to see if you haven't seen it yet. Something that will make your movies better this weekend—and all summer long.

Franklin's Carbo Inks Bonus Contract

Bernie Carbo, the slugging star of Franklin high's championship baseball team last spring, has turned professional. He was to make his debut in the "play-for-pay" ranks this week with Tampa in the Florida State League after signing a reported $35,000 bonus contract with the Cincinnati Reds.

Carbo, a third baseman and shortstop, was the No. 1 selection of the Reds in baseball's first free draft held in New York early in June.

As a prep he slugged the ball at a .500 clip for Franklin and was named on the All-Area team selected by the Observer Newspapers.

Since the end of the schoolboy season, Carbo has been playing with the powerful Favro team in Detroit where he boasted an overall average of .250, but led his team in runs batted in with 12.

Meantime, another member of the Franklin team, Bill Bratherton, has emerged as the No. 1 pitcher for Favro and also is attracting considerable attention from the college and major league scouts.

Bratherton was passed up in the recent draft, but the word is out that several clubs are interested in talking business with him as a free agent. He can sign with the team offering him the best deal.

It's more probable, however, that Bratherton will elect to attend college than signing immediately as a pro. Western Michigan University is eager to nab the fine southpaw.

Bratherton, who like Carbo was picked on the All-Observer newspapers team, posted a 7-0 record for Franklin during the spring and currently boasts a 3-0 mark with Favro.

He has hurled shutouts in two of his three starts with Favro.

Overall, Bratherton has worked in 31 innings for Favro and allowed six runs and 18 hits while fanning 46 and walking only 10. His earned run average stands at a brilliant 1.45.

Bratherton also has done a fine job with the bat for Favro, hitting at a .286 clip.

CHAMPIONSHIP TROPHY and a trip to Houston, Texas, for the nationals are presented to Chuck Brainard, of Hamtramck, by Tournament Director Jim Stevens after his straight set victory in the boys 18 and under division of the state Junior Chamber of Commerce tennis championships last week. The eight semifinalists in the four divisions earned trips to Houston and the nationals.

Rival Shy One Player: Plymouth Pilot Protests

Manager Jack Stevenson of the Plymouth Elks in the Greater Livonia Class D Connie Mack League figures he has a right to protest the Elks' 4-3 defeat at the hands of the Livonia Bisons.

"The umpire permitted the game to start with the Bisons having only eight players available," said Stevenson. "This is against the rules. Either they have nine men in the lineup, or no soap."

Stevenson stressed the fact he doesn't want to win any games via the forfeit procedure.

"But a rule is a rule," he added. "There was no judgment involved. The umpires were wrong and if I let this pass, it would be the wrong thing to do for my players."

In the game, McAlpine hurled for the Bisons while Kurt Irish toiled for the Elks.

double and two singles. Wallman fanned eight and walked two in the game.

LIVONIA GIANTS 3, N. REDFORD 3.

Larry Ruzsas pitched the route for the winners while Rick Barryman toiled six innings and Kevin Fox finished for North Redford.

The Townshipers came from behind with three runs in the seventh to knot the count. Singles by George Little, Fox and Jim Johnston and an error did the damage against Ruzsas.

The Giants tallied on singles by Paul Hartze, Mitch Saleski, Gary Birkett and Paul Deedler. The latter's hit knocked in two runs.

S. DEARBORN 2, N. REDFORD 0.

Al Wallman lost a toughie for the Townshipers. The Dearborn runs came in an error,

OBSERVING SPORTS

By George Maskin

A WEEK IN THE LIFE OF A HOP-SKIPPING REPORTER:

MONDAY—On the phone with Al Roscoe, the gent in charge of athletics for the Livonia Recreation Department: "Yep," Roscoe says, "it's a shame that we have had to drop our Class A league for senior baseball teams. But we'll be back next year with a stronger league than we ever had. The graduates from our Detroit Free Press League's summer program will be looking for a place to play in adult action next year. That's where the Class A loop will make its re-debut. There's more interest than ever around Greater Livonia in baseball. The trouble is that in other communities, the older players decided that it was easier and less costly to play slo-pitch softball."

TUESDAY—Off and winging to Philadelphia for a conference with the esteemed Eddie Gottlieb of the National Basketball Association on the Detroit Pistons' schedule for 1965-66. Flying time to Philadelphia is one hour and eight minutes. You whiz over Point Pelee, over Cleveland and before you know it, you're watching many of Uncle Sam's ships resting at the Philadelphia Naval yard, which is on the approach to the Philadelphia airport. After four hours with Mr. Gottlieb, he decides to show you around Philadelphia . . . takes you down to South Philadelphia where they're going to build a new baseball-football stadium adjacent to the 100,000 seat stadium where the Army-Navy game is played every year. "It doesn't make sense, two stadiums right next door . . . especially when one stadium is used only two or three times a year," Mr. Gottlieb tells us.

WEDNESDAY—Up early (but hardly bright) to meet with Owner Ike Richman of the Philadelphia 76ers. He would like to get the Pistons' Ray Scott for Philadelphia's Chet Walker. We can't help like on such matters . . . Then it's on to New York with Mr. Gottlieb for continued discussions on the Pistons' schedule. The temperature is 90-plus and the humidity even higher as you reach good ol' New York for the tenth time this year. The hotel has no air conditioned room to offer . . . So you decide to fly home the same evening . . . but the airplanes have no empty seats. "Take a chance on our 9:50 p.m. departure from Kennedy," an American Airlines representative tells us . . . In the interim we bounce out on a 15-cent subway ride to Yankee Stadium . . . where we watch Whitey Ford pitch for a few innings against Kansas City. The feeling around the Stadium is that the "Yankees have had it." Too many injuries . . . and the folks who love the Yankees fear that Mickey Mantle may not try it again after 1965 . . . From Yankee Stadium it's back to Grand Central via subway, then by cab to the East Side Airlines terminal, then by bus to Kennedy Airport . . . American does find space for us . . . and we occupy a seat next to a charming young lady who's flying to Detroit to make television commercials. She tells us that as professional model, her pay scale ranges upwards from $50 per hour. Most days, when she works, she clears $250 . . . She's been on with Johnny Carson and on Shindig. Watch for Rinso commercials and you'll see her. The conversation was most freshening. "It took a lot of work to get where I am," she says. "But do you know something? If I could make 40 bucks a week acting on Broadway, I'd be much happier. That's my target." Our flight is late by ten minutes reaching Metro Airport as the pilot flies far off route to avoid thunderstorms.

THURSDAY—Attended the testimonial dinner for Eddie Powers, retiring after 45 years of high school coaching, the last 39 at Detroit Northern where we went to school, but never performed for Powers as an athlete. Stars ranging from Harry Newman to Bill Buntin, all of whom played under Powers, joined in the salute . . . Educators, whose teaching service totals upwards of 5,000 years collectively, said their goodbyes to Powers, who is heading for California where he plans to enjoy the leisure he has not known before . . . At this banquet, we sat along side of ex-football and basketball Coach Charley Ketterer at Plymouth. Charley also has decided to retire from teaching. In fact, he is leaving Plymouth to move up to Harbor Springs, one of the most beautiful communities there is in Northern Michigan. Good luck . . . Eddie . . . and ditto to Charley Ketterer and his lovely wife who proved a valuable assistant in providing information about Plymouth games to this reporter.

FRIDAY—Out to Livonia and Ford Field . . . Before heading to Livonia, we chatted with Hal Schram of the Free Press, who plans greater coverage of the paper's Livonia League, and to Perry Deakin, who runs the F. P.'s summer baseball program. (Continued Next Sports Page)

Wins Six Of Seven To Lead

The Garden City Connie Mack baseball team is heading for a league title.

After seven games, Garden City boasted a 6-1 record and first place.

All that remains on the regular season schedule are home games against Ypsilanti Budman Saturday and against Ann Arbor on Sunday.

Then will follow the playoffs for all teams in the league with a .500 average or better. The playoff winner will earn the right to play in the district Mack playoffs in Monroe later in July.

Mike Hess turned in a neat five-hitter in beating Ypsilanti McKraft, 9-1, as Garden City kept up its winning ways. He was supported by two excellent fielding plays — one by Third baseman Don Chute and the other by Outfielder Norb Podwoiski.

Garden City broke into the scoring in the second inning when Don Ewles walked, moved to second on Chute's sacrifice and scored on Bob Stevens' single.

Doubles by Stan Wieckowski and Cass Simpson netted Garden City a second run in the third inning.

After two scoreless frames, Garden City broke matters open with four tallies in the sixth. (Continued Next Sports Page)

Holiday Meet Set At Livonia Field

Teams from Livonia, Plymouth, Redford Township, Warren, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti and Bloomfield Hills will participate in a Connie Mack holiday tournament this weekend at Livonia's Henry Ford Field.

There's also a good chance that teams from Farmington and Garden City will be included in the 16-team field. Action will begin Friday at 6 p.m. and continue Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

VW Campmobile delivers at $2995⁹⁹

The engine's in the back.

Tell the truth. Did you know right off that it was just a Volkswagen Campmobile? Or did you think it was really a place to live? It's an easy mistake to make, because the VW Campmobile is actually more like a house than a car.

There are curtains and screens on the windows, wood panelling on the insulated walls, and wall-to-wall covering on the floor. (All standard equipment.) Two adults and two kids can sleep in it, eat in it, wash in it and keep their clothes and food in it.

And if the old scenery gets dreary, just fold the optional tent and find some new scenery.

Of course, it isn't a house. It's a Volkswagen. With all the things that make a Volkswagen a Volkswagen.

But lots of people go on making the same mistake.

We keep saying it's a Campmobile. And they keep saying it's a place to live.

Giants Tighten Baseball Race

The Livonia Giants have tightened matters in the Greater Livonia-Detroit Free Press Baseball league.

Managed by Lionel (Lucky) Burkett, the Giants now are in hot pursuit of front running South Redford for the title and also stand in contention for a July 4-5 trip to Zanesville, O.

The team topping the circuit after this Wednesday's action will win the trip to Zanesville. The Giants will meet the Wayne Red Sox at 6:15 p.m. with Redford facing North Dearborn Heights at 8:30.

The five-hit pitching of Pete Hembrough sparked the Giants to a 5-0 win over North Dearborn in one of last week's featured games at Henry Ford's lighted field.

The game was decided in the fourth inning when the Giants scored all of their runs. Mike Stahurski started matters with a single.

After Bob Morgan was safe on an error, Paul Duedler, Bruce Berger and Hembrough himself all delivered hits.

The Giants and North Dearborn met again on Friday evening under the lights, but reached no decision. The game was called with the score tied at 3-3 because of the curfew.

Morgan went the route for the Giants, who capitalized on bases on balls to score all of their runs.

Redford Township, meantime, won two and lost one, the first time in Free Press action.

Tom Tanner turned in a brilliant two-hitter in blanking South Dearborn, 9-0. Then Arnold Helwig and Redford lost a 2-0 heartbreaker to the Wayne Red Sox. But with Rick Fisher pitching, Redford rebounded to down South Dearborn, 3-0.

The two shutouts upped to three the whitewashing jobs turned in by Redford pitchers in the Free Press circuit so far in the Free Press loop. In the three other games, Redford moundmen gave up just one tally per contest.

Tanner, who had a tryout with the New York Yankees earlier in the spring, fanned 15 batters in coasting past the South Dearborn team.

Rick Harlow, like Tanner from Thurston high, provided the heavy work with the bat. He socked two homers—one a 400-foot job in the first inning with two aboard.

A hit batter and double accounted for the only Wayne run against Helwig, who fanned 15 rivals. The Thurston team collected seven hits and had two or three fine scoring chances.

The best opportunity came when Dave Woloch tripled, but he was cut down trying to score.

Rick Fisher, late of Redford Union High, flipped his second shutout in turning back South Dearborn, 3-0. He scattered two hits and struck out seven.

All three of the Redford runs were scored in a hurry. In the first inning Woloch singled, moved to second on a passed ball and counted on a single by Lou Banwert.

Then in the second inning, Tim Fisher was safe on an error. Singles by Kendrick, Banwert and Woloch made it 3-0.

There'll be no Free Press action after Wednesday evening until Wednesday, July 7, when two games are listed at Henry Ford Field.

Hamtramck Netters Win Crowns

As was expected, Hamtramck netters dominated play in the annual Michigan State Junior Chamber of Commerce tennis championships, sponsored by the Plymouth chapter—Cosmos stars won all four of the individual titles.

The eight semifinalists qualified for the nationals in Houston, Texas, starting the first week in August. The eight included: Boys 18 and under, Chuck Brainard and Jon Hainline of Hamtramck; girls 18 and under, Sue Dykes and Gloria Novitsky, of Hamtramck, boys 16 and under, Mike Whitty, of Ham-tramck and Jim Mansfield, of Niles; girls 16 and under, Emily Fisher and Plum Bartkovic, of Hamtramck.

Brainard won his division, whipping Hainline in the finals, 6-0, 6-3; Miss Dykes blasted Miss Novitsky, 6-3 and 6-1; Whitty blanked Mansfield, 6-3 and 6-4; and Miss Fisher trounced Plum, 6-1 and 6-2.

The complete results: Boys 18 and under: Brainard def. Jack Jones, Monroe, 6-1, 6-1; Rick Weir, Ann Arbor, def. Steve Fox, Jackson, 6-4, 1-6, 11-9; Tom Conklin, Owosso, def. Dave Tidwell, Plymouth, 7-5, 6-4; Hainline def. George Scott, Portage, 6-0, 6-1; Brainard def. Weir, 6-0, 6-3; Hainline def. Conklin, 6-1, 6-4; Brainard def. Hainline, 6-1, 6-4.

Girls 18 and under: Dykes def. Mary Geyer, Lansing, 6-0, 6-0; Barbara Koch, Monroe, def. Cindy Burgess, Flint, 6-2, 6-2; Kathy Koch, Monroe, def. Carmen Brummet, Ann Arbor, 7-5, 6-0; Novitsky def. Christine Toups, Flint, 6-0, 6-0; Dykes def. B. Koch, 6-0, 6-0; Novitsky def. K. Koch, 8-6, 6-2; Dykes def. Novitsky, 6-3, 6-1.

Boys 16 and under: Whitty def. Craig Clock, Lansing, 6-2, 6-4; Nick Schneider, East Detroit, def. Bob Zilk, Detroit, 6-4, 6-3; John Brum-met, Ann Arbor, def. Pat Birney, Lansing, 7-5, 0-6, 6-2; Jim Mansfield, Niles, def. John Lamerato, Hamtramck, 7-5, 5-7, 6-4; Whitty def. Schneider, 6-0, 6-3; Mansfield def. Brummet, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4; Whitty def. Mansfield, 6-3, 6-4.

Hazel Park Plans Big Weekend Card

Two records are in jeopardy at the Hazel Park Race Track where the most popular thoroughbred race meeting in state history continues through Saturday, July 31.

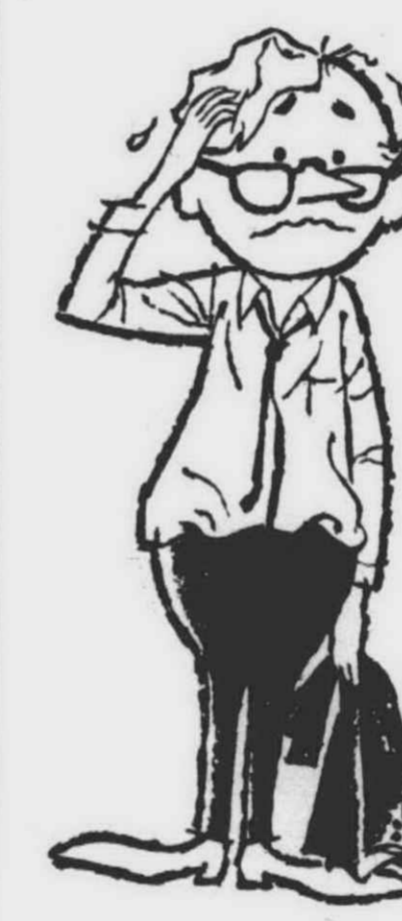

Another big weekend is coming up with the $12,500 added Governor's Handicap for Michigan foals and the $10,000 Mt. Clemens Handicap on Saturday, July 3, followed by the $10,000 Windsor Handicap and the $30,000 added July Fourth Handicap on Monday, July 5.

The way apprentice rider Charles Baltazar is going, he could become the winning jockey in Hazel Park history. No rider has ever matched L. C. Cook's record of 87 victories in 1951, but the baby-faced 18-year-old from Fort Morgan, Colorado, will crack that mark if he continues at his present pace.

In the first 51 days of the current 84-day meeting, Baltazar has booted home 50 winners. The riding colony here is

Old-Fashioned Fourth Celebration Planned By Kendallwood 1 Subdivision

Remember last year? The color? The prizes? The excitement? The music? The fun?

It was the 188th anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence, and in Kendallwood I, we held a Fourth of July Parade which generated so much enthusiasm that we could do almost nothing else but refer to it as the "First Annual" Kendallwood I Fourth of July Parade.

This year it'll be the 189th and the "Second Annual" respectively. We're a youngster in terms of American communities. But we've got the old zip and can stand with any other.

Remember last year? Two hundred paraders, or thereabouts, turned out for our "First Annual" and we expect about twice that number this year. For we had fun. The stirring marches of John Philip Sousa blared away. And when did you ever see so much red, white and blue? Floats, costumes, decorated bikes, as colorful as could be. We had Paul Revere on a clever bicycle steed, Betsy Ross making our first flag with the thirteen stars (how come thirteen's supposed to be unlucky?), the Liberty Bell, Minute Men, two versions of the Declaration of Independence, the Spirit of Liberty and many, many others. We were as surprised at the marvelousness of the floats and costumes as the youngsters were surprised at the niceness of the prizes. It was a day to remember.

Last year was for openers. Only a parade. This year we're going for a full-day holiday. A genuine, old-fashioned Fourth of July holiday in Kendallwood I. Fun for everyone, from age one to 101. But there'll be more than fun involved, for we'll be helping younger generations achieve a well-rounded appreciation, both intellectual and emotional, of our American heritage. A festive, holiday spirit can give a big boost to the dry lectures of the schoolroom on the ideals of freedom and democracy set forth in the Declaration of Independence. Taking firecrackers away from the kids may have made a "safe and sane Fourth," but it also let the air out of the tire. The celebration became drab. But Kendallwood I is helping on making a comeback—and how!

There will be a separate panel of judges and a separate pool of prizes for each of the three color groups entering the parade. Faster and easier. The top prizes will be well worth the winning. Winners will be selected on the basis of the following four factors: (1) patriotic theme connected with American independence, (2) imagination, (3) effort and (4) marching in proper parade formation. The special theme this year, for those seeking special consideration from the judges, is the contribution of Benjamin Franklin to American independence. We're holding Thomas Jefferson for 1976.

Sixty-one prizes were awarded last year. This year we'd like to add consolation prizes so that everyone in the parade gets at least a little prize. Sick-at-heart youngsters are not on the menu. We'd also like to put helium in those balloons, so they can be carried aloft on a string or sent soaring into space. But so far we're not making it. Only $264 collected out of $300 needed. We've cut soda pop out of the budget, I've donated $75, Al Blum $35, Norm Liebert $25, Tom Witek $10, but too many people have thought that a dollar or two would carry the usual quota of freeloaders. We've even had a contribution from a guy who'd just lost his job and is plenty worried about another job because of his age. Doris Helgert (GR 4-7778) can tell you who your area collector is, or our treasurer, Doug Morawski (GR 4-8552) will receive your contribution.

We'll be holding out a few prizes to award on Monday, July 5, to those doing the best job cleaning up the premises.

Besides the mosquito spray on Sat., July 3, for everyone's convenience we will have the use of toilet facilities in Wooddale School and also a first aid station set up by Chris Helgert.

We still need volunteers. Call Robert Nelson, GR 4-7300.

Lee Scott playing the organ and piano is currently appearing at Garretts Suburban Chop House on Six Mile Rd. Scott, a resident of Redford Township, plays Tuesday through Saturday evenings and on Friday afternoons. A native of St. Louis, Missouri, he has appeared at the "Gas Light Square" in St. Louis.

Monsters To Appear At Terrace

Frankenstein, The Wolf Man, Count Dracula, and even The Beast from North Salem will be on stage in person at the Terrace Theater on Plymouth Rd., July 17 and 18.

Two special matinee performances are planned. ADULTS MUST BE ACCOMPANIED by a child to be admitted to these special performances.

Any child that would like to appear with the live monsters on stage may enter the special "Fund With The Monster" contest currently underway. An entry blank may be obtained at the theatre.

State your reasons in 25 words or less and send the letter to Bill Marcus at the Terrace Theater. Hurry because the contest closes July 11.

Prizes will be awarded to all brave enough to appear with the menacing monsters.

Real Life Day Camp Adds Swimming Pools

Where is the best place to be during the hot weather? In a pool, naturally!

And what is better than one pool?

Two pools, of course.

Kids will find the answer to their hot weather prayers in the two pools which have just been completed at the Real Life Day Camp, 26300 Ford Road, Dearborn.

Jim Fraser, whose camp is well-known in this area for the tank, airplanes, Noah's Ark, tunnel, and many other playthings that keep children happy, is mighty pleased with the latest addition to his enterprise.

The large pool is 25 feet wide by 65 feet long, sloping from 2½ feet in depth at one end to 5 feet at the other.

Little tots can frolic in the circular wading pool which is 30 feet in diameter.

Anyone wishing further information about the camp and its facilities for boys and girls from six to fourteen may call the Camp at LO. 1-6700.

Still Need Vintage Plates for Exhibit

LANSING—License plates in good condition spanning the quarter century from 1910 through 1935 are still needed by Secretary of State James M. Hare to complete a state exhibit of old plates.

Hare, issuing his second call for vintage plates, said old plates from all the years were received but that "some of them were in such poor condition they could not be restored for any use whatsoever."

"Perhaps this appeal should be going to license plate collectors," Hare said, adding that "hundreds of vintage plates were received from persons throughout Michigan."

"The response was overwhelming," Hare noted, "but there are still gaps in our collection." He cited plates from 1910 through 1936 and the year of 1939 as needed for the collection. He said that a dashboard disc issued prior to the first plates in 1910 was also needed.

Hare also noted that the 1962 license plates... which caused a great furor because some of them had rusted out... "didn't have any sort of monopoly on rust."

LEE SCOTT playing the organ and piano is currently appearing at Garretts Suburban Chop House on Six Mile Rd. Scott, a resident of Redford Township, plays Tuesday through Saturday evenings and on Friday afternoons. A native of St. Louis, Missouri, he has appeared at the "Gas Light Square" in St. Louis.

Meadow Brook Offers Tickets for 3 Concerts

Due to the large volume of ticket requests, the Meadow Brook Festival Committee has made a limited number of "split season" tickets for three concerts available for the Saturday series only.

The first series of concerts will be July 10, 17 and 24; while the second series will run July 31, Aug. 7 and 14.

A limited number of tickets for the series of six concerts are still available. Single seats for the individual concerts will be sold at the gate.

Featuring the Detroit Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Sixten Ehrling, with six solo artists, the second season of the Meadow Brook Music Festival will run Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings from July 8 through Aug. 14.

The concerts will be conducted at Oakland University in Rochester.

For ticket orders or further information contact Mrs. Edgar Mosshamer at GR 4-9204.

Some of our older series must have caused drivers trouble because they rusted out so badly," Hare said. "On the other side of the coin, porcelain-coated plates issued from 1910-1914 and some of the later plates which were larger than those issued today and were of heavier gauge steel held up remarkably well."

Hare said old plates would be used to make up an exhibit by the Michigan Department of State to be used for display at fairs, auto shows, and other exhibitions.

Poetry and Music Set To Open Art Show

The seventh annual Art Exhibit of Farmington, opening July 11 and continuing for a week at the Universalist-Unitarian Church of Farmington, will be kicked off with a special program entitled "Modern Baroque."

The program will feature two poets, Harold Huntley of Northville and Max Ellison of Plymouth, each reading three of their own works, and guitarist and folk singer, Marie Bonamici of Plymouth.

Also included will be an instrumental group, the "Baroque Ensemble," made up of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eddy of Farmington and Mr. and Mrs. William Thornton of Detroit and Frederick Battershell playing Bach and pre-Bach selections. Recorded jazz music also is planned.

The program is set for 10 a.m. Sunday, July 11 at the church. Afterwards the public will be invited to view the art show, which is attracting artists from all over the metropolitan area.

Hours for showing the paintings, sculpture, drawings, graphics, jewelry and ceramics will be 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday, July 12 to 17.

Artists are invited to submit no more than two entries at the

Peg Silverman Low In Women's Golf

Peg Silverman had the low score in the A flight of the Women's Golf League, sponsored by the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation at Idyl Wyld Golf Course. Peg fired a 51 for the low score and took the prize for her flight.

Other winners were: B FLIGHT—Audrey Herrmann and Grace Haidas tied for low gross with 55; prize winner, Pauline Pryor.

C FLIGHT—Shirley Liddecoat low gross with 60; prize winner, Lori Nelson.

Northland Playhouse packed to capacity pushed off the summer theatrical season in rousing fashion with a bright, bawdy, brash version of "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum."

Danny Dayton who replaced Zero Mostel in the original Broadway role gave the scheming servant role all the zing and zest that Mostel would have. In fact, at times old Wally felt he added more zip and dash than seen in the original production.

Playing to standing room only at Northland is an encouraging sign. Perhaps at last Detroit is ready to support a summer theater in adequate style. For too many years the backers of Northland have been looking at an empty fill when the season was finally over.

As long as shows like "A Funny Thing" are booked at the geodesic dome you can be sure the theater will be at capacity. Mr. Dayton and company pulled out all the old burlesque bits from years back to make this musical comedy a nostalgic parade of belly laughs.

The mare's sweat routine, the shapely gals prancing about with only a smile on and very little in the way of a costume, and a wild chase scene in Act II are all remnants from the era of the "burly" house. Old Wally sort of missed the candy seller going up and down the aisle with a prize in every box.

"Funny Thing" is and will continue to be a hilarious show. It combines happy, melodious music with a witty book. Everyone knows immediately that the plot is not to be taken seriously. So you settle back and have a good time. Let's hope Mr. Schwartz, the producer and managing director can continue to book such lively entertaining shows for the entire summer.

With such capacity business at the box office is Mr. Schwartz and his backers making a tremendous profit?

Let's check some basic cost figures for a week's run of the musical "A Funny Thing": Sets and lighting—$2,000. Royalties—$500; orchestra (14 pieces)—$3,000; the cast, including Mr. Dayton's salary of $1200 for the week—$6,500; weekly expenses of the Playhouse staff—$3,000; advertising and promotional expenses—$3,000. The total cost package for a musical comedy at Northland usually hovers somewhere in the area of $18,000 to $19,000 for the week's "nut."

The Playhouse takes in $22,000 to $23,000 on a capacity week. Three or four thousand profit for a week's run sounds fairly good, but in theatrical circles this is actually chicken feed. You have had weeks occasionally and before you know it five or six thousand slips down the drain faster than you can say "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum."

Sneaked over to the Mercury theater for a preview of the Terrace's first run picture, "What's New Pussycat?" In brief, old Wally wanted the answer to this comedy question of the year immediately.

The answer is one long, loud laugh from the opening sequence of Peter Sellers in his Ringo Starr wig as a psychotic psychiatrist with a penchant for pulchritudinous pussycats to the concluding scene of Peter O'Toole driving pellmell through a French market place in a Go-Kart. "Pussycat" is a go-go, cinematic delight all the way as sophisticated dialogue vies with visual hi-jinks. Woody Allen scores doubly as an actor and screen writer in this maiden effort. In fact, Charles Feldman, the producer has signed Woody to three more films on the strength of his work in "Pussycat."

And how about those pussycats? Well, if you enjoyed the gals seen (and there was plenty to see) at Northland's "Funny Thing," you'll appreciate the bevy of beautiful celluloid babes taking up residence at the Terrace for the next few weeks. Now that I sneaked a look at the Mercury, I'm going back for a second longer look at the Terrace.

7 from Livonia at Boys' State

Seven Livonia youths returned home last week after participating in the annual Wolverine Boys State, sponsored in East Lansing, as an experiment in government by the American Legion.

Participants included Rod Edwards and Dan Geer from the Franklin High School; Nick Bondar and Lonnie Brashear of Bentley High School, and Ray O. Parker, Daryl Howell and Tom Maki of Clarenceville High School.

Livonian Honored

Army Pfc Dennis L. Cascaden, whose wife, Linda, lives at 14020 Brookfield, Livonia, received the Good Conduct Medal, while assigned to the 1st Armored Division at Fort Hood, Tex. The 25-year-old soldier was graduated from Bentley High School in 1958.

Fred M. Warner, three term governor of Michigan during the early 20th century, was a resident of Farmington.

HOPE OF LIVONIA is Louise Gerrish who will be 17 in Sept. She presently is the National Junior Women's and Junior Girls record holder of the Javelin. Throwing this next week-end she will enter the National AAU Senior Women's and senior girls championship meet in Columbus, Ohio. Louise has been trying out in the Livonia Parks and Recreation field and hopes for the wind to be just right on the day of the meet. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Gerrish of Westfield, Livonia. She is presently a senior at Franklin High School.

Girls Band Entertains Kiwanians

The "Beatmakers" were recent dinner guests of the Nankin Kiwanis Club, and following the dinner, provided a lively and entertaining musical program.

Band members are all local girls ranging in age from 12 to 15 and while each has had considerable musical experience, they have been playing as a group for only a few months.

Members of the band include Gail Cunningham, 14, drums; Joyce Cunningham, 12, accordion; Diane Wolf, 14, saxophone; Dollie Frakes, 15, rhythm guitar; and Connie Carlson, 15, bass guitar. The girls chose their own selections and did their own arranging.

According to Jack Painter, president of the club, the Beatmakers drew considerable attention and approval from patrons of the adjacent dining room as well as the plaudits of club members.

The girls proved so popular that they were immediately invited to return for another program early in September.

Painter expressed his praise for the parents and teachers who encourage this type of activity among the youth of the community and concluded that teenagers are indeed a wonderful group.

Local Man To Appear at Festival

Livonian Jocelyn Krieger will appear as guest soloist with the Detroit Concert Band under the direction of Leonard B. Smith, on Wednesday, June 30 at 8:15 at Detroit Civic Center (foot of Woodward) as a feature of the Detroit-Windsor Freedom Festival.

On Friday, July 2, at 8:15, Miss Krieger will again appear as guest artist with the band at the Belle Isle Shell. A lyric soprano, Miss Krieger will sing "Granada," "The Italian Street Song," and "La Mour Tou Jour."

During the past year she has found success with her own orchestra, heard under the title of "Jocelyn and Her Gypsies," and WWJ Newsline recently visited a rehearsal of the group where they interviewed Jocelyn and listened as she rehearsed with twenty-five members of her orchestra.

On July 29, Leonard Smith will feature for the first time with the Detroit Concert Band, a gypsy artist Guste Horvath, playing the unique Hungarian instrument, the cymbalom. A member of "Jocelyn and Her Gypsies," Guste will share the spotlight with Jocelyn at Belle Isle when with the band they will do "Romany Life."

Children's Musicals Open at Northland

"Cinderella," popular folk-fantasy, with a new book, lyrics and music specially written for the presentation, inaugurated the Northland Playhouse's new Children's Musical Theatre at 2 p.m., Saturday, June 26, when it made its bow at the Detroit Civic Center. It will be repeated on Saturday, July 3.

Produced jointly by Kenneth E. Schwartz and Hughes L. Potiker, the new version of the old classic is directed by Bruce Millan, long associated with children's theatre in the Michigan-Ohio-Indiana area and for the past nine years operator of the Millan Theatre Company of Detroit.

Thomas Bennett, radio program director at U. of D. and former staff radio producer for the Fred Waring show, has composed new, original music for "Cinderella," while Thomas Marsh, actor, director and playwright associated with U. of D.'s "The Word for the Day" show, has written the lyrics.

Five children's musicals will be presented at Northland Playhouse this season, each to be shown on two consecutive Saturdays at 2 p.m. "Cinderella" will be repeated on July 3, and will be followed by "The Prince and the Pauper" on July 10 and 17.

INGRID BERGMAN tearfully says farewell to Omar Sharif in this scene from "The Yellow Rolls-Royce." Now showing at the La Parisien Theater, Ford Rd. at Middlebelt, the film depicts the extra-ordinary adventures of a Rolls-Royce and its various owners and occupants over a period of years. Also in the cast are Rex Harrison, Alain Delon, George C. Scott, Jeanne Moreau and Shirley MacLaine.

No Vacations

More than half of the Wayne State University Hilberry Classic Theatre's 29-member company is moving into the nation's summer theatres for the next three months. Twelve are going as actors, one will work as a technical director, two in stage managing and one in directing. Three theatres, two of them university-affiliated, are claiming the other members of the cast.

The International Peace Garden, at the geographical center of North America, honors the many years of peace between Canada and the United States. It lies on top of a large plateau in the Turtle Mountains, on the boundary line between North Dakota and Manitoba.

Blue Ribbon Winners In Redford Garden Club

The Redford Township Garden Club presented its annual Flower Show, "Vacation Time," on Tuesday, June 29, at the Aldersgate Methodist Church, Beech Road. Chairman of this show was Mrs. Ronald Beck. Mrs. George Nolan was co-chairman.

Judges for this standard show were Mrs. Charles Holm; Mrs. A. E. Steiger; Mrs. H. F. Brown; Mrs. Wm. Boustead; Mrs. Fred Mueller and Mrs. Harold Gots.

Blue ribbon winners in the flower arrangements were Mrs. Wm. Hermann, 2; Mrs. Leon Cutsinger, 2; Mrs. Donald Beck, 1; Mrs. Nate Banks, 1; and Mrs. Axel Gaborson, 1.

Horticulture winners were Mrs. Donald Beck, 7; Mrs. J. Mourray, 2; Mrs. Leon Cutsinger, 1; Ronald Beck, 1; Mrs. Hazel Cummings, 1 and Henry Baenfer, 1.

Visitors at the show were pleased and thrilled with the number of arrangements entered by Junior exhibitors. Winners were Mary Langdon; Linda Beck; Diane Beck; Denise Dourjalain; Diane Marsodie and Carla Cutsinger.

The Tri-color ribbon for best arrangement was won by Mrs. Leon Cutsinger. The Junior Achievement ribbon was won by Diane Beck. The Sweepstakes ribbon for Horticulture was won by Mrs. Ronald Beck.

'Gigi' Bows in Playhouse

George Hamilton, popular young motion picture star, heads the cast of Northland Playhouse's second production, "Gigi," a Cinderella tale with a topsy-turvy new French twist, which opened a week's run Tuesday, June 29.

Co-star with Brigitte Bardot and Jeanne Moreau in the recently completed, yet unreleased movie "Vivi Maria," Hamilton is currently on local motion picture screens in "Your Cheating Heart," in which he portrays Hank Williams, legendary country and blues singer.

Anna Russell, internationally acclaim British comedienne, shares the acting honors with Hamilton in the comedy which ran to packed houses in New York during a seven-month tenure in the early 1950's.

"Gigi" was written by Anita Loos, famous for her "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," the book, play, movie and musical comedy about another girl who believed that "diamonds are a girl's best friend." Miss Loos derived the play from the novel, also called "Gigi," by Colette, illustrious French writer of short novels.

The Cinderella of this play, "Gigi" played by lovely Imelda De Martin, has been trained from childhood to catch a Prince Charming—but not matrimonially, as she is the daughter of a long line of "grand cocottes" who are not accustomed to wedlock. The joke of the story comes from the sense of scandal felt by the women when they find that "Gigi," instead of becoming a rich man's mistress, is to become his wife.

"Gigi" will run through Sunday, July 4, with a "Shopper's Matinee" at 2 p.m. on Friday, July 2, and a "Twilight" performance on Saturday, July 3 at 6 p.m.

AT MAI KAI: Von Ryan's Express A Surprising Treat

BY SUE SHAUGHNESSY
 Von Ryan's Express opens with scenic shots of Italy while the super-imposed strips tells you how in 1943 the Italian nation was forced to fight on under the Germans.

Suddenly the camera pans to the sky and—you guessed it—an American P-38 is making that horrible noise planes make before they crash.

A truck load of Italian soldiers see the plane coming down (along with several natives and two German officers—who are by coincidence ogling the pretty girls in an outside cafe while sampling the local vino).

The Germans, cads that they are, dash from the cafe without paying the bill, but alas the Italians have beaten them to the wreck and tell them that the pilot was killed.

Off go the Germans back to their "business" and the Italians separate.

Well you guessed it—hidden in their midst is the American pilot—known in real life as Frank Sinatra—sampling a bottle of the local vino.

In accordance with the designation of July 4 as "Let Freedom Ring Day" by Governor Romney area churches have been requested to ring their bells at 1 p.m.

The mayors of Plymouth, Livonia and Farmington have all issued proclamations urging citizens to join in the observance.

Residents in Redford Township, Garden City and Nankin Township have also been urged by their officials to observe the day.

The three year old program is under the direction of the Hi-Y clubs of the Michigan YMCA. Last year 212 communities participated.

'Drayton Lodge' Will Open Summer of 1966

It looks as though after 25 years Rev. and Mrs. William H. Perkins of 1440 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth, will manage to get a summer home built on Lake Louise, Michigan. Rev. Perkins, who is once again "retiring" at the age of 75, has received more than $3,000. The congregation of the Drayton Ave. Presbyterian Church in Ferndale has raised the money for his work as the visitation minister, administrative assistant, and for serving as the congregation's only minister for a year. The congregation wanted to send the Perkins on an all expense paid trip to the Holy Land, but in the words of Mrs. Perkins "since we had never thought about visiting the Holy Land we stated that if they wished to do something we had these lots which had never been built upon." The purchase of the 100 feet of lake frontage goes back to Rev. Perkins' pastorate of the Cass Ave. Methodist Church during the depression. For five summers he took more than 200 kids from the area up to Lake Louise. Transportation was furnished by private auto in groups. At that time he was given the opportunity to purchase the lots "covered with white birch trees" at a nominal cost with the stipulation that a building be constructed within three years. That provision has been waived for the past 22 years because Rev. Perkins has always served churches in need and just has never been able to build. Mrs. Perkins told the Observer, however, that every two years or so the family would make the 270 mile trip just "to walk around the property." This summer though, thanks to their friends, a well will be dug, septic tanks installed and the foundation laid. Next spring the cottage will be built. There's no problem in naming the cottage—it's already been christened "Drayton Lodge" in honor of the people who made it possible. Rev. Perkins, who went back to Wayne State at 68 and received a master's in social work at 70, has had a varied career as a Methodist Minister, recreation worker, social worker, juvenile court officer, and sailor. During his pastorate in the "inner city," Perkins organized dances for the youths of the area. Some people objected to a Methodist Minister sanctioning dances, but his reply was that man is born with a natural response to music and it was better for a supervised activity to meet the needs of the youth. Rev. Perkins has also organized girl and boy scout troops, softball leagues, a club for the blind, facilities for feeding and clothing more than 400 during the depression. Look out Lake Louise!

Rev. W. Moldwin Attends Conference on Economics

Rev. William G. Moldwin, pastor of the Holy Cross Lutheran Church in Livonia, has just returned from the Michigan Clergy Economic Education Conference at the Boyne Highlands.

He's enthusiastic about the conference, which brought 31 pastors of different denominations and 32 representatives of management, labor and government together, and about its practical value.

Pastor Moldwin told the Observer that "Basically the conference helped to bridge the social and economic differences between the clergyman and his congregation which is daily affected by the nature and problems of our economy."

"Anyone who has a pat answer or easy solution to the complicated problem of industrialization and automation is to be suspected," he continued. "The conference provided valuable skill for me to use in sermons and counseling to better interpret and understand the economic order."

Sponsored by the Clergy Economic Education Foundation at a cost of more than $8,000, the conference considered such topics as: economic values; the U.S. economy; international economy; the free enterprise system; banking and fiscal policy; credit; labor-management relations; and the problems of agriculture. Speakers included: Dr. John

W. Hicks, economist and assistant to the president of Purdue University; Fr. William T. Hogan, S.J., director of industrial economics at Fordham University; Mike Kerwin, education representative of the UAW; Larry Johns, executive vice president of the Isabella County State Bank and treasurer of the Michigan Bankers' Association; and Dr. Robert Kramer of the MSU School of Agriculture.

Sponsors of the Foundation are: American Federation of Labor; National Association of Manufacturers; American Iron and Steel Institute; American Petrol Institute; Ford Foundation; Lilly Endowment Inc., and National Consumer Finance Association.

Missionary Told About Work

A combined congregation of the Livonia and Farmington Seventh-day Adventist churches was addressed by visiting Pastor Clarence L. Powers at the June 19 church services.

The church sermon and afternoon Young Peoples' meeting consisted of experiences from Pastor Powers' field of missionary endeavor—the Inter-American Division where he is the division president.

For nearly thirty-five years Pastor and Mrs. Powers have been active in missionary work in an area comprised of Mexico, the Guianas, the seven Central American countries, Columbia, Venezuela, and all the Caribbean islands—including Cuba, Haiti, and the Dominican Republic.

"Through all the upheaval in these islands," Pastor Powers stated, "the advancement of the cause of religion continues to thrive; though all the squalor and poverty of some of this island area the gospel message advances and grows."

Mr. Glen Powers of Northville, who is the head Elder for the Livonia Seventh-day Adventist church, is a brother of Pastor Powers.

IN ALL PARISHES:

Statement Proposed for Project Equality

James J. Sheehan, executive secretary of the Archbishop's Committee on Human Relations for the Archdiocese of Detroit, has contacted all parishes in the area proposing a statement of parish policy in support of the Project Equality program.

The statement reads in part: "At this time we wish to bring to the attention of all our parishioners the true moral evil of employment discrimination. Because today discrimination is in many cases unconscious and built in to our way of life, it requires that we carefully scrutinize our own practices in this regard."

"Our parish is in the process of doing this. We will in the future make every effort to insure that all positions filled by the parish and parish school are done so without regard to race, color, and when not otherwise required for the type of position to be filled, the religion of the applicant."

"Furthermore, at this time we urge all parishioners to adopt programs and policies in their own businesses. On next Friday, July 2, the equal employment opportunity provisions of the civil rights act of 1964 becomes effective."

"As of this date employment discrimination will violate and be punishable by the law of our land. However, Catholics certainly should not rely on such sanctions to deter them from violating the human rights of their fellow men."

"Rather through affirmative actions which seek to overcome employment discrimination, they should give Christian witness, so that their brothers may exclaim in the words of the Romans: 'See those Christians—how they love one another.'"

Rev. Wyman Accepts Post in Florida

Rev. Edwin Wyman, former pastor of Bethany Baptist Church of Livonia, has accepted the pastorate of the Calvary Baptist Church in Bradenton, Florida.

Founder and organizer of Bethany Baptist in 1955, Rev. Wyman came to Michigan as Minister of Youth and Music at the First Baptist Church in Wayne.

Rev. Wyman will be giving his REV. WYMAN testimony and singing at a service in the First Baptist Church of Wayne July 4 at 7 p.m. Friends are invited to attend.

After meeting several months in the Wilson School, Bethany Baptist moved into the church building of the Livonia Community Church and united with this organization. In 1958 a new church building was constructed on a five acre plot on Five Mile Rd.

Calvary Baptist Church is a Fundamental, Independent Baptist Church. It has an active missionary program with the support of 14 missionaries in different mission fields. Rev. and Mrs. Wyman reside on Greenland Rd. in Livonia. They have two sons, Mark and Jonathan. Mrs. Wyman has taught at Livonia's Adams School for several years.

Bible School Slated

The Kenwood Church of Christ, 19601 Middlebelt, Livonia, will hold a Vacation Bible School from July 12 through July 25, excluding Saturdays. Children from kindergarten through 9th grade are invited to share in the theme, "My Saviour Teaches Me."

Cornerstone Blessed for Convent

The cornerstone for the new convent of the cloistered Dominican nuns in Farmington Township was blessed last Sunday. The new building will be located at Thirteen Mile and Middlebelt. The convent is moved from Detroit. Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas P. Beahan, pastor of Our Lady of Sorrows, laid the stone.

Commission Defers Action on Taxis

 much authority as it should take. It is much better to follow this line than to make changes in the ordinance that will come back to haunt us in future years."

After hearing James Berry tell of the plans of Checker Cab to improve services by adding additional cabs, replacing old equipment with new and guaranteeing that it would have four taxis available throughout the day: three from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.; two from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. and one throughout the remainder of the night and Sempliner explaining that Florence plans to buy four new cabs and keep them on the road 24 hours daily, the Commission decided to defer action.

Berry told the Commission that the present owners of Checker Cab had no idea of the complaints against the service but took steps to make corrections as soon as they learned of the troubles.

"We are trying to do everything possible to correct the situation," he said. "We will not promise a cab unless one is available but we will take the phone number of the customer and call back as soon as we have a car ready to make the run. There will be no more situations where a driver or dispatcher promises a cab with very little chance of completing the call without a lengthy delay.

"We plan to give Plymouth the best service possible at all times but naturally there will be instances when we won't be able to take care of all calls — such as in times of heavy rain or snow storms. But we'll do our best."

Sempliner explained that Florence, a former driver for Checker who has been a cabbie most of his life, hopes to give Plymouth the service it deserves.

"He will have cabs available at all times and all drivers will be from Plymouth. My client plans to have four cabs on the streets throughout the day until midnight when it will be cut down to one but all calls will be funneled through his home and he will be ready to make night calls at all times himself."

Commissioner Arch Vallier informed the Commission that he had received word from the Detroit Board of Fire Commissioners that it would release an aerial truck for sale to the City of Plymouth. Vallier has been negotiating for the purchase of the used truck for several months and received permission from the city to offer $12,000.

The Commission voted to make a formal offer to Detroit's City Council of $12,000 subject to a thorough inspection by fire department officials, Assistant City Manager Kenneth Fisher and members of the Commission.

Inasmuch as Gay Blade Corporation apparently has dropped plans for the construction of an ice skating arena on Mill Street in the Urban Renewal project, the Commission approved sale of lots 643 and 644 to the Bathey Manufacturing Co. for expansion and additional parking facilities.

Bathey's offer of 17 cents a square foot for the 89,612 square feet or a total of $15,234 was accepted together with a good faith deposit in cash of $76,70.

The question of a Tonquish Creek culvert for the Shangri-Villa Apartments on Ford Street brought sharp remarks from Commissioner Vallier who asked why the developers had suddenly changed their mind about erecting a bridge over the creek — as indicated during the period when they were requesting the Commission to approve rezoning.

Attorney J. Rustling Cutler, representing Simkins Builders, told the Commission his client had been discouraged from installing a bridge by his engineers and the Drain Commission and finally decided in favor of the culvert.

Vallier questioned the validity of the reasons and asked why the builder didn't go ahead with the bridge as promised. He sought information from Cutler as to who had discouraged his client, especially after architect's drawings of the proposed bridge had been shown to the Commission.

Cutler charged that the builder's intent had been misconstrued and that he had been misquoted.

After the sharp exchange, the Commission referred the matter back to the Acting City Manager for study and a report on plans submitted by the builder to him. He is to report back at the July 6 meeting.

In other actions, the Commission:

Deferred action on the proposed widening of Main Street from Ann Arbor Trail to Maple pending a report from the engineers on grades and problems involved in the project.

Deferred authorization of bids for a new police car pending a report from the Acting City Manager on the condition of the car now in use.

Authorized Mayor Houk and the City Clerk to sign 701 contracts with the Federal Government for continuance of the planning program.

STARS AND STRIPES BETSY ROSS FLAG COWPENS FLAG FLAG OF 1776 FLAG OF 1912 FLAG OF TODAY

Long May It Wave . . . O'er the Land of the Free and the HOMES of the Brave!

FLY THIS FLAG SET ON YOUR HOME . . . OFFERED AT COST, AS A PUBLIC SERVICE

THE FLAG SHOULD FLY ON THESE NATIONAL HOLIDAYS

January 1st—New Year's Day	June 14th—Flag Day
Feb. 12th—Lincoln's Birthday	July 4th—Independence Day
Feb. 22—Washington's Birthday	August 14th—V-J Day
April 13th—Jefferson Day	Sept., 1st Monday—Labor Day
May 1st—Law Day USA	November 11th—Veterans' Day
May 1st—Loyalty Day	Nov., 25th Thurs.—Thanksgiving
May 30th—Memorial Day	December 7th—Pearl Harbor Day
	December 25th—Christmas Day

We believe every home in town should fly the flag on national holidays. We also believe more homes would fly the flag if more people knew where to get one. Failure to fly the flag, it has been found, is not due to any lack of patriotism on the part of Americans who love Old Glory as much today as Americans did when the Spirit of '76 was first born. Because of this we make this fine flag set available as a public service at our cost. The set is top quality through and through. It meets every standard the government sets for a flag of this type. In addition, the stripes are double stitched, a hallmark of flag quality usually found only at higher prices. We include with the big 3x5-foot flag . . . all the equipment necessary for rigging according to the rules of flag etiquette. These flags are available to all . . . with no other requirement than that you pay our basic cost . . . and fly one on your home on holidays. Fly the flag on important national holidays to come . . . and especially on the Birthday of American Independence July 4th. The stars and stripes on your home show the world that the Spirit of '76 is as warm in American hearts today as it was at its birth on the first 4th of July . . . nearly 200 years gone by.

Picks New City Manager

ing City Manager for the duration.
He had served in that capacity since Glassford left and was considered a prime candidate until the Commission made a college degree a requirement of the job—Fisher does not have a degree.
The Blodgett announcement was the second important decision made by the Commission in the past month. Earlier the Commissioners voted to give Treasurer Way the title of Finance Officer with full authority over the treasurer's and clerk's offices.

Blodgett has served as City Manager of Marysville, O., a city of around 5,000, for the past two years. He was previously employed by the City of Ann Arbor as assistant to the city administrator.
He has held other positions in personnel management, city planning, public relations, and budget and revenue projections.
Blodgett, 30, was graduated from Roosevelt High in Ypsi-landi. He holds a Bachelor's degree in Political Science and a Master's degree in Public Administration from the University of Michigan.

The second City Manager to serve under the new charter of Marysville, Blodgett was instrumental in initiating improvements in streets, lighting, parking, personnel practices, equipment acquisitions and purchasing procedures.
He instituted a fire inspection program. In addition, a reduction in the budget was made possible through the operation of the municipal swimming pool, cemetery and parking meters on a self sustaining basis.
Blodgett and his wife, Mickail, are members of the Presbyterian Church and enjoy outdoor sports. He has been active in service clubs and the Chamber of Commerce as well as in professional organizations.
Mrs. Blodgett, a graduate of the University of Michigan, School of Nursing, is currently employed by the Union County Health Department in Marysville.

Forum to Hear Davids

missioner three weeks ago by Governor George Romney.
He succeeded Joseph Childs, who retired when reaching the mandatory State Police retirement age of 56. It was just like friend succeeding friend for Childs and Davids were partners in a State Police patrol as troopers.
Davids, who resides in Plymouth Township, has been a regular attendant at Township Board meetings for several years. He and his wife were leaders in the successful 10-year fight against air pollution from the Burroughs and Evans Products plants.
For years they have been protesting the fly ash and soot from the two plants and finally last winter both managements agreed to take steps to correct the situation. Evans has completed the project with the installation of gas-fired boilers and Burroughs plans a similar step before fall.

Davids will talk on the "Role of the State Police in the Plymouth Community" and is expected to touch on the recent disturbances in Hines Park which caused the Sheriff's Road Patrol to request 20 additional men to handle such situations during the summer months.

other floats from individuals and various other clubs in the community as well as ball players from the Plymouth Community Junior League and hundreds of youngsters on gaily decorated bicycles.
Prizes will be awarded for the best company float, best organization display, best marching unit and the best organization marching group.
The judging panel will include: Township Trustee Dick Lauterbach, School Board President Gerald Fischer, City Commissioner George Hudson, Chamber of Commerce President Wendell Lent and City Commissioner James McKeon and his wife.
Then following the parade, thousands of area residents are expected to go to Mettetal Airport for the many unusual events slated there in the afternoon and evening.
But the major share of the attention will be focussed on the Miss Plymouth beauty pageant Friday night when the 1965 Queen will be selected by a panel of judges that include: Al Wouters, Mrs. Marilu Hunt, Mrs. Rustie Shand and Dr. Kenneth Anderson.
The pageant will include a parade of the candidates, then a show in which each of the girls will perform. The winner will receive a $400 scholarship, the crown, valuable merchandise prizes and become eligible for competition in the 1966 Miss America contest.

Pageant Director Staton Lorenz has arranged a program that makes the pageant second to none presented in Plymouth in years.
The activities open at 6:45 with a pop concert by the Plymouth Community Band under the direction of James Griffith with Eleanor Burton as vocalist and featuring the official music of Miss America Pageant.
Marty McNeeley, of WWJ Newsline, will serve as master of ceremonies for the Parade of Queens starting at 7:30 on the stage of the auditorium. He will introduce and interview each of the 19 candidates.
The judges will make their final tabulation after the ceremonies beginning at 8:30 p.m. when Magician Roy Rew will take over the stages for an unusual presentation during the intermission.
The 1965 Miss Plymouth will be named at 9 p.m. in a colorful ceremony with 1964 Queen Kristan Fluckey making the presentation.
Mayor James Houk will make a presentation of the Key of Opportunity at 9:10 p.m. and then with the ceremonies over, the floor will be taken over by teenagers for a dance that will continue until midnight.
Lee Alan on the horn and his rock and roll band will furnish the music for the dance.
All residents of the area are invited to the Pageant which has a small admission fee and includes the dance.

Proclamation

created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers and consent of the governed. These are great words which constitute the bulwark of our freedom. They must be practiced by all, not merely preached by some.
"THEREFORE, I, James C. Houk, Mayor of the City of Plymouth, do hereby urge all citizens of all ages and organizations throughout this great State to again join with the Hy-Y Club of the YMCA's of Michigan in a solemn ringing of the bells at one p.m. on the Fourth of July, 1965, as an important reminder that this nation was founded on the principle of Freedom and that it is for us the living to forever protect and strengthen this unique heritage."

"Good grief, Mom . . . You mean you put in another Observer want-ad?"

"You'd think the last time would have been enough. What an experience! People came and took away my bassinette. (So, it was a little small.) They took the sterilizer. They even took all the furniture that used to be in the spare room. And, guess who's all by himself now . . . Dad? Oh, he was a BIG help. He thought Mom was so smart he even kissed her, for heaven's sake!"

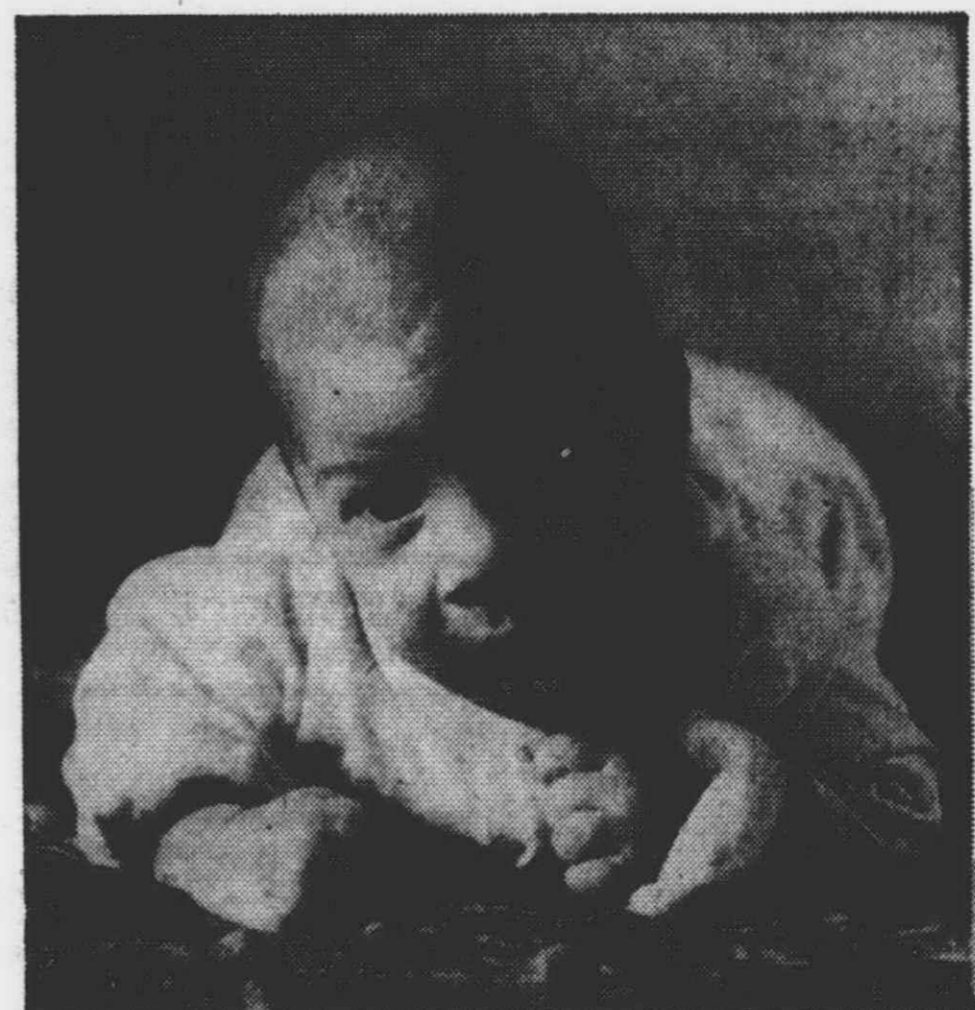

"Yep . . . she did it! There she goes, answering the phone again."

"Maybe if I could get those folks at the Observer to stop making it so easy to place an ad it would help. You see, all Mom did was make a list of that good stuff I guess we really weren't using any more. Then, she dialed The Observer-Want Ad Department and told somebody called, 'that nice Ad Visor' about it . . . Well, you know the rest. I heard her tell Dad that a 15 word ad was only $2.00 per insertion. Whatever that means."

"Of course, I'll have to say this, my new bed is pretty nice . . ."

"And, I like the other stuff Observer Classified Ads helped pay for, too. So, I suppose I shouldn't complain. You know, now that I think of it, seems like everybody around here is happier since Mom started using Observer Classified Ads . . . 'Cept me, that is. Frankly, I'm tired of the whole thing. Ho hum . . ."

We're in the Volkswagen business — that is the business of economical transportation. We get all kinds of cars as trade-ins. Fords, Chevies, Pontiacs as well as VWs. As they come in, each car is put through a rigid performance test. The ones that pass get the works. They're reconditioned, tuned, tightened-up, washed and polished (inside and out). The ones that fail never show up on our lot. Compare the prices of our domestic used cars. We can't afford to sell you anything but the best at the best price. After all, you'll be driving our reputation around with you.
