

Grant aid for senior housing

U. S. Rep. Weston E. Vivian announced Monday that the U. S. Housing Administration had authorized a $688,906 loan to the Plymouth Housing Commission for construction of 60 low-rent homes, all of which are to be designed for the elderly.

Average construction cost for the new homes is estimated at $11,481 each, including equipment.

The announcement of the grant was made public just before Monday night's special meeting of the City commission. The Plymouth grant was one of three major grants given to municipalities in the Detroit area.

Mayor James Houk made the announcement.

The senior citizens housing project has been in progress for about a year and a half. It was begun in January of 1964 when a five-man commission was appointed.

Acting City Manager Kenneth Fisher, Stu Oldford, Jr., William Silvis, William Nelson and Robert Weber formed the special commission.

City clerk Richard Shafer has served as executive director and secretary to the group.

THE PLANS call for four two-bedroom units, and 56 one-bedroom units, of two different sizes. The initial request had been for about $987,000; the Federal Government pared about $100,000 off that figure.

The money does not authorize the purchase of a site, which is as yet to be approved by the Federal Government. Several sites have been discussed in private sessions of the special commission.

The money from the government will be used to build the structures, bonds will be sold, and the money repaid, with the Government helping repay it.

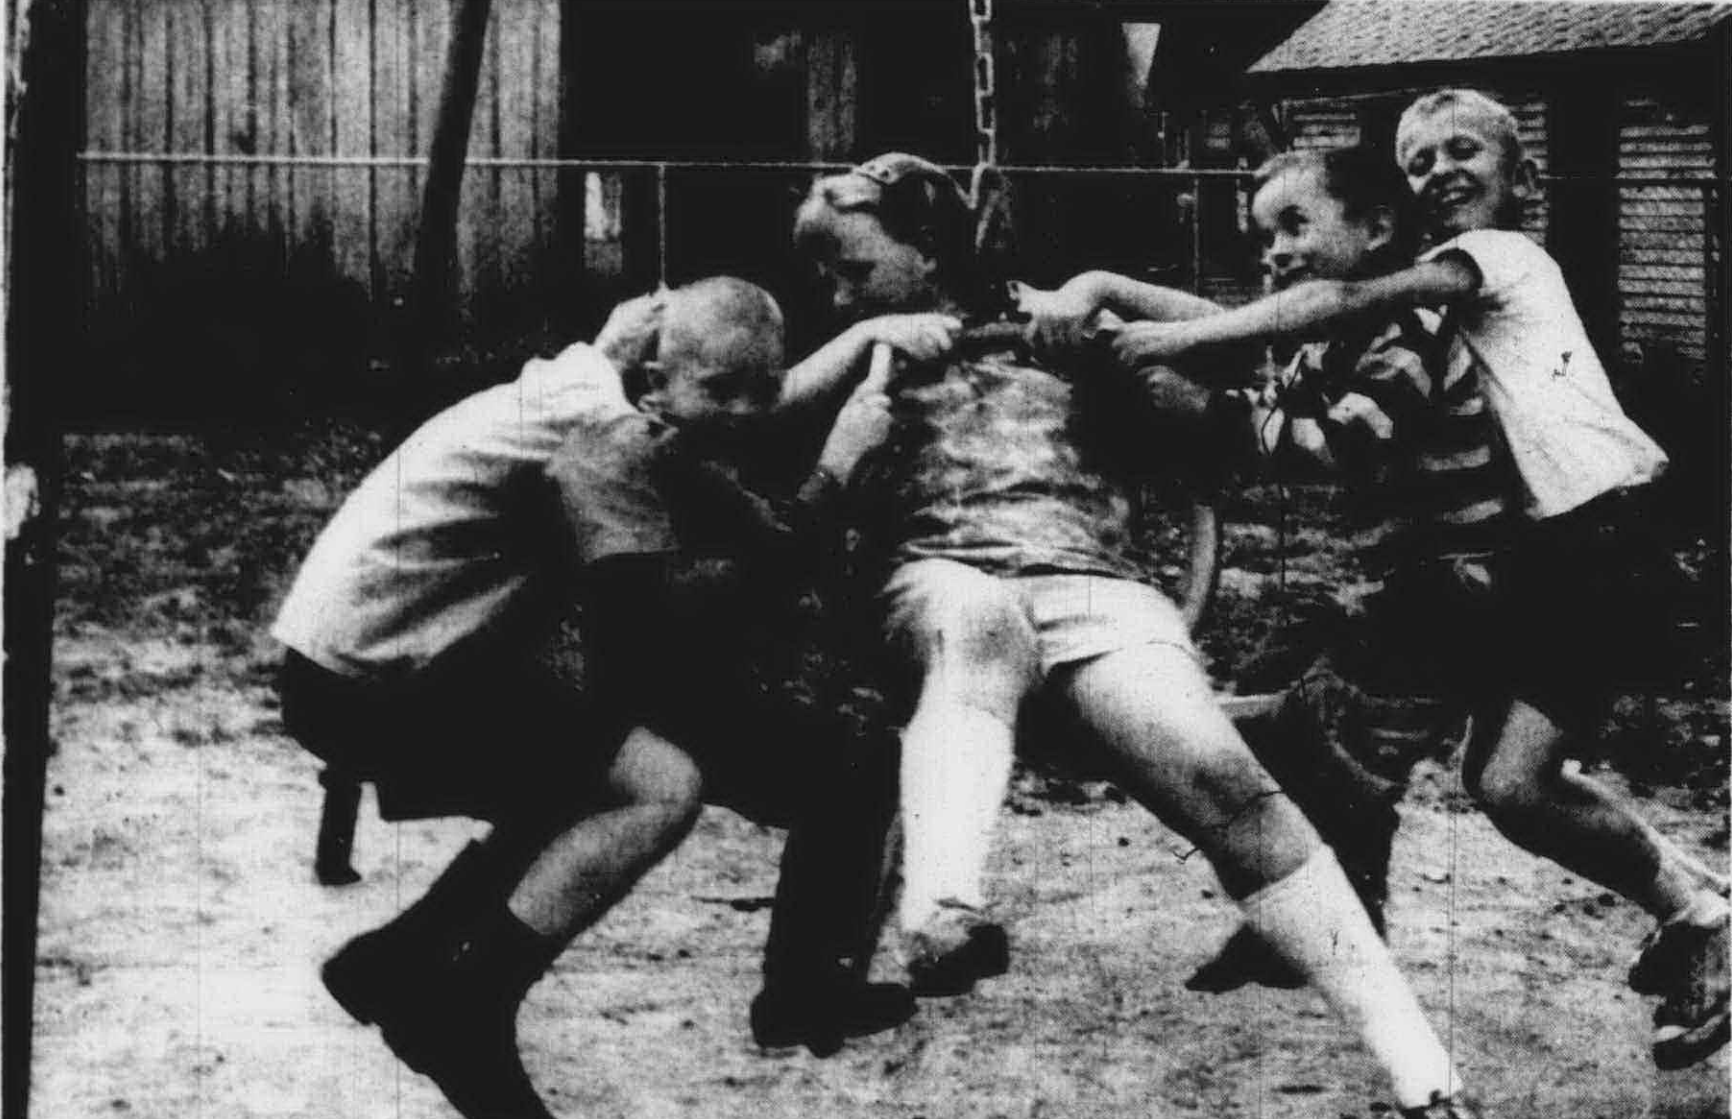

Construction is to be undertaken by the Plymouth Housing Commission which will award all contracts on the development. The loan will be repaid by the housing commission from the proceeds of the sale of its long-term bonds to private investors.

The loan will also provide funds for site acquisition and improvement, utilities, planning and design fees, space for commission management and maintenance and for tenant activities, interest on loan and administrative costs.

The contract between PHA and the housing commission also provides for annual contributions by the Federal Government to help keep rents within the means of low-income families.

The 60-unit low-rent project is part of a long range program developed by the City of Plymouth to eliminate slums and blight. This "workable program" is a prerequisite to Federal assistance for public housing.

The city is also eligible for other types of Federal urban renewal assistance in carrying out its civic improvement program.

"THEY SAID THEY were going to bring us some slides and a swing and some teeter-totters," said one little lad in an interview on the playground on Mill St. last week. "But they haven't yet." The tiny lot has one piece of equipment on it — a tired and rusty swing affair that the neighborhood kids love to climb on and whirl around on. This is the Lowertown playground — unkempt, unfenced and unstocked with playground equipment. By contrast, the playground in Hough Woods (top photo), is fenced in entirely, and is replete with equipment — two or three jungle-jim outfits, a slide, and some swings. It was empty when these pictures were taken last Thursday afternoon. The kids on the Mill St. swing, Gary Joyner, face hidden, Brian Morgan, Debbie Bennett, Mike Bowling and Ricky Joyner, have great fun on the equipment on their lone swing. There is also a pole in the middle of the lot, but no ball or anything else is attached to it.

City names U of M grad new manager

At last. A new city manager. That was the news that Plymouth Mayor James C. Houk unveiled at Monday evening's city commission meeting when he announced the appointment of Richard D. Blodgett, effective August 1.

In the statement issued Monday evening, Blodgett termed Plymouth "a fine and beautiful, progressive municipality in which I would feel most happy to serve."

During his high school days, the new City Manager lettered in basketball and tennis and was active in other school organizations. At the U of M he was affiliated with Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

HE IS MARRIED to the former Mickail Diane Farrin of Battle Creek. Mrs. Blodgett is a graduate of the University of Michigan's School of Nursing.

The Blodgetts are active members of the First Presbyterian Church in Marysville. Outside interests include bridge, canoeing, camping, softball, reading, swimming, tennis and some golfing. The couple have no children.

Blodgett is a member of Kiwanis, the International City Manager's Association, the Chamber of Commerce and the Ohio Municipal Legislative Committee.

Mayor Houk said Blodgett came highly recommended by officials of the Michigan Municipal League.

He has served as manager of the Village of Marysville since June, 1963. A written statement was issued at Monday's meeting. It reads in part:

"After many months of considering numerous applicants, locally as well as from other parts of the country, Mayor James C. Houk announced the decision of the City Commission to appoint Richard D. Blodgett as City Manager of the City of Plymouth.

"The appointment . . . was made at a special meeting of the City Commission held on June 28."

PRIOR TO serving at Marysville, Blodgett was employed by the City of Ann Arbor as Assistant to the City Administrator. His background includes: personnel management, city planning, public relations and budget and revenue projections.

A graduate of the University of Michigan with a bachelor's degree in political science and a master's degree in public administration, Blodgett attended Roosevelt High School in Ypsilanti.

The second city manager to serve under Marysville's new charter, he has spearheaded improvements in streets, lighting, parking, personnel practices, equipment acquisitions and purchasing procedures.

He instituted a fire inspection program and saw Marysville's budget reduced by operation of the municipal swimming pool, cemetery and parking meters on a self-sustaining basis.

Davids to speak

Michigan's new State Police Commissioner, Fred Davids, just placed in his new office in Lansing, will return to his home town this week to speak to the Businessmen's Forum, Thursday, July 1.

The luncheon-with-speech affair is a regular feature of the Chamber of Commerce activities.

Davids will speak beginning at 12 at the Jacob Room of the Hillside Inn.

His topic will be: "The State Police and Its Relations to the Community."

Until recently Davids had been district commander of the Detroit post. He had distinguished himself locally by his participation in local government, and his regular appearance at Township board meetings. He and his wife make their home on Plymouth Road.

Water bids sought by Township

Plymouth Township Engineer Herald Hamill was authorized by the Township Board of Trustees at a special meeting June 22, to advertise for bids for water main construction down Sheldon Rd. from Five Mile Rd. to North Territorial by way of Industrial Rd. and Ridge-wood Dr.

Action followed Hamill's presentation of an estimated cost of $163,000 for the construction which will include the proposed township industrial park which would be located across the C & O railroad crossing near the Western Electric Co.

Bids will be opened at the July 13 regular meeting. Hamill also presented an estimated cost of $50,920 for an extension of water on Ann Arbor Rd., east to Terry and Haggerty south to Joy Rd. and Haggerty Rd., 310 feet opposite Lake Pointe number 9.

Ex-Ford man P. Wiedman dies at 70

Paul Wiedman Long-time Plymouth resident Paul J. Wiedman, 70, died June 26 in his home at 47650 N. Territorial Rd.

Funeral services were held June 29 at Schrader Funeral Home with interment following at Riverside Cemetery.

The Rev. Henry D. Walch officiated.

Mr. Wiedman was born July 31, 1894 in Manchester, Mich., the son of Fred and Caroline Huber Wiedman. He moved to Plymouth in 1921 and owned the Ford dealership, until his retirement in 1963.

A member of the First United Presbyterian Church and Plymouth Rock Lodge 47 F. & A.M., he was one of the five charter members of the Plymouth Rotary Club which was organized in 1924. Mr. Wiedman was a World War I veteran.

Surviving him are his wife, Bernice D. (Schuster) Wiedman; a daughter, Mrs. Robert (Pauline) Minock of Plymouth; two brothers, Fred O.

City seeks taxi reports

At least one more report on taxicabs will be forthcoming from the City's administrative staff as a result of Monday night's decision to investigate the two companies seeking licenses. The licenses are now held by Checker Cab Co. of Livonia, but are overdue for renewal.

The City manager was authorized to make a report on Checker Cab, and John Florence, a Plymouth man who has indicated a desire to set up a cab company in Plymouth.

City attorney Edward Draugelis had drafted an ordinance amendment and presented it at the last meeting of the Commission. But he had second thoughts about amending an ordinance and said Monday night:

"The best criteria is to withhold the issuance of new licenses. If the operator is not satisfactory, withhold the license."

DRAUGELIS said he felt the City should be silent on standards, and would rather control it by studying the license-seeker:

"I would rather do this than put in minimum standards that could come back and haunt us," Draugelis concluded.

The City manager was directed to make an annual full report on taxis, listing violations and complaints.

The action came after the Commissioners brought to recent meetings reports of several longstanding complaints about taxi service in Plymouth.

James Berry, now manager of Checker Cab in Livonia, was on hand and said he was not aware of the problem until he read about it in Plymouth newspapers.

"Now we are aware the service has not been up to snuff. We have added one more cab since we were over here Saturday to study the situation."

Berry noted that his company had just completed a management and ownership change, and that it had created several problems he hoped now would be eliminated.

ATTORNEY William Semplicher spoke on behalf of Florence, and told the Commission that Florence would operate four cabs in Plymouth "24 hours a day," by having his drivers on call at night.

In other action, the City Commission agreed to sell two lots in the urban renewal project to Bathey Manufacturing Co. The move came after a discussion of using the land as a location of an underpass under the C & O tracks.

Commissioner James Jabara sought to hold up the sale of the land for a short period of time.

Commissioner McKeon said he agreed with Jabara in principle.

Commissioner Arch Vallier disagreed and said:

Cottage gift caps career of Rev. Perkins

Rev. William Perkins, a Methodist minister, received $3,000 last week from a Presbyterian Church in Ferndale, and thereby hangs a tale of "as ye sow, so shall ye reap."

Rev. Perkins, who lives with his wife Ethel at 1440 W. Ann Arbor Trail, has devoted his life to the Methodist ministry — 41 years — and had retired in 1958.

Many of his years were spent at the Cass Community Church, where he gained Detroit City-wide fame for his work with the people in the deprived area the church served.

It had been a full life and he was ready to retire in 1958.

But a friend asked him to temporarily come to Drayton Avenue Presbyterian Church in Ferndale as a minister-visitant to help Paul Sloan, whose depleted staff needed help with the 2000-strong congregation.

THE REV. Sloan died, two years ago, and Rev. Perkins, a Methodist minister, found himself at the helm of a Presbyterian Church.

The congregation took the Reverend to their hearts, and last week when he once again

Eaton on critical list at University Hospital

Back in the University Hospital in Ann Arbor, former publisher Sterling Eaton was listed in critical condition this week with a serious blood infection. Members of his family said doctors still termed the illness critical, but noted that improvement appears to be continuing. The family said the "septicemia" infection was not related to the cancer against which Eaton has waged a successful battle.

In The Plymouth Community

THOMAS ALEXSY putts at Wendell Miller's Goofy Golf Gorge at last Thursday Kiwanis-Rotary joint picnic meeting. His special 18-hole golf course is sheer murder, but the food was great, according to reports.

Prochazha hits homer to lead Optimists

Ron Boyne pitched a 6-hitter to lead the Plymouth Optimists in their big win over the Livonia Elks in the Livonia recreation league, 5-1, last week.

They had lost earlier in the week to Inkster, 9-5.

Jim Arnold clobbered a homerun in the seventh to cap the game, with no one on. Dave Prochazha had a single, a double and a triple to add to the batting efforts, and Mike Clinkhammer had a single and a double. Dave Nunez, a PHS JV pitching standout, rapped out two singles.

The Plymouth Elks forfeited their June 22 game with N. Dearborn Heights, and lost on the 24th to the Livonia Bisons 5-3. However, coach Jack Stevenson said the game was under protest because Livonia fielded eight men when the game opened.

Class 'F' scores were:
JUNE 22
 Northville Orioles 4, Plymouth 5; DiPonio Builders 6, Casterline Braves 13; WCTS 7, Plymouth Rec. 3; University Litho 7, Ely Oilers 1.

JUNE 24
 DiPonio Builders 7, Northville Orioles 6; Casterline Braves 9, Plymouth Rec. 1; Plymouth 5, Ely Oilers 4; University Litho 9, WCTS Phillies 2.

Rain on Wednesday dampened all but one Class 'E' game, as Fisher's Shoes dumped Diponio 7-0.

On Monday, June 21, scores were:
 General Filters 3, N.V. Plumbers 1; DiPonio 2, Plymouth JayCees 13; Bill's Market 11, Spagy T-bird 6; Blooms Insurance 0, Fisher's Shoes 15.

The Sporting Life — Protesting for fun and profit

Doug Johnson

The JayCees have just completed another, last minute project — the State JC tennis tournament — and if this year's indications are any guide, the tourney will be back in Plymouth next year.

Tourney officials felt it was a success; the local JayCees will send eight to the National finals in Houston in August.

July tenth will see a donkey baseball game come to Plymouth. Umpires and coaches will be at loggerheads, with only the donkeys winning in the end. (No pun intended.) Save a spot on your calendar for this epic battle.

Wendell Miller, 13928 Ridgewood, made Kiwanis-Rotary history last week as he hosted the members of both clubs for an outdoor feast and golf match on his eighteen hole Gargantuan Guaranteed Goofy Golf Gorge. It was great fun, and the tricky, well plotted tiny course would make the coolest duffer cuss. Both clubs will probably meet over the greens again.

Last week marked the First Annual Meeting of the Society Protesting Anti-matter and Hi-Fi Beer Blast, held in the central parking lot.

Now to a columnist reporting sports events, this was indeed a notable occasion. It marked the first "booz-in" any time, any where.

There were the usual placard-carrying demonstrators, screamers, shouters, sulkers, organizers and sprawlers.

The sprawlers tied up traffic in the alley and were removed by watchful City police. One very articulate sprawler made an impassioned plea, laying on his back, for more aid for the Peruvian Indians. He would have gotten home all right if some clown hadn't stepped on his fingers.

Several placards were rather constructive, and campaigned for such things as:
 "Let's blow up China and Peniman Avenue, downtown."

"Paint City Hall pink, now."
 "Hooray for Earl Warren and Ferlan Husky."
 "Invite me to The Whitehouse and I'll be sure to go."

Actually, the reason the meeting was called was to determine how to handle this anti-matter thing. It's easy to picket against the Viet Nam policy, and nuclear weapons and the bad minority in the south and to march against archaic laws forbidding running naked through the village green at dusk. But what the duece can you do about anti-matter.

Scientists disclosed that great cosmic fireworks could, 'poof', blow us, the ragtag and bobtail of civilization, to kingdom come.

Who's to argue. We fight wars that aren't wars, bags of groceries win first prize at an art show, boys who look like girls, sing songs about surf boards, and get paid for it, and scientists talk to porpoises, for heaven's sake.

The scientific people tell us that there are highly complex and organized worlds of anti-matter, and that a collision of matter and anti-matter would end our lives.

The group decided that it wasn't worth demonstrating over, and that if the day of doom was indeed right then, let's all run through the village green naked at dusk, tell our wives and foremen to take a long walk on a short pier, and never again endure this world's madness. We present felt it was truly a record breaking demonstration.

In other action, the group introduced the new song of the movement, "My Heart was Just a Pocket of Poverty until I Met You, Dear", sung to the Washington Post March.

Donkeys vs. coaches, umpires

The umpires and officials of the Plymouth Community Junior Baseball League are combining to play Donkey Baseball against the best managers and coaches of the American and National Leagues. When? Saturday, July 10, under the lights at 8 p.m. at the baseball field across from Burroughs.

The umpires and league execs are currently on a strict diet of Mother's Oats and raw carrots. The services of the nationally known Buckeye Ball Co., Columbus, Ohio, will be used.

Several of our local druggists have already increased their supply of liniment in anticipation of a large number of visitors immediately after the game.

The Plymouth Donkey Ball game should be (1) lots of fun for young and old, (2) give the boys a chance to kid the coaches, managers and/or umpires and (3) donate the proceeds to the treasury to help defray continuing costs.

Tickets are now on sale from all managers, coaches and others interested in Plymouth's Baseball League activities. Mr. C. Van Boven (453-7629) is in charge of ticket sales. Adults $1.00, children, .50 and children under five are free.

Softball

In softball play last week Taits bombed Bathey 16-9, and Vico edged Eckles 9-7. Perfection nipped DeHoCo, and Plating blanked Paragon 10-0. The JayCees won 9-7 later in the week over Evans, and Taits beat Vico 4-1. Eckles trimmed Bathey 9-1.

The games leave Plating and Perfection in a tie for first place.

Listen to freedom ring

In the hurley-burley of what are fast becoming the waning hours of the Twentieth Century, it's easier than not to forget what this coming week-end commemorates.

With Viet Nam and The Bomb, the Dominican Republic and The Bomb, the civil rights struggle and The Bomb, existentialism and The Bomb and what have you and The Bomb, the efforts of a band of 18th Century intellectuals tend — unfortunately — to pale into insignificance.

We lose sight of important basic concepts and become overwhelmed with today. History becomes distorted and out of perspective.

It is fitting, therefore, that part of the Fourth of July festivities include an effort undertaken by the Hi-Y clubs of Michigan's YMCA's to "Let Freedom Ring."

Here in Plymouth at 1 p.m. on the Fourth of July, Hi-Y-ers will join other groups throughout the State in a solemn ringing of bells. The event has the backing of both Governor George Romney and Plymouth Mayor James C. Houk in proclamation form.

The ceremony, according to the Mayor's statement, is "an important reminder that this nation was founded on the principle of Freedom and that it is for us the living to forever protect and strengthen this unique heritage."

So listen for the bells on Sunday afternoon.

They will precede a parade here in Plymouth; but their importance should not be drowned out in the pageantry of the march.

Think for a moment what they represent.

Think of the guts it took to send this message to the "establishment" of the day:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers and consent of the governed."

How long has it been since you looked at those words? Grade school? High school? College? It's been too long.

Go back and read them slowly. Read them carefully.

Think about them.

And listen on Sunday when Freedom rings.

ARNOLD JOHANSON (right), was installed as this year's Rotary president at last Friday's regular noon meeting at the Mayflower Hotel. Outgoing president Carl Caplin and Johanson chat amiably before the meeting opened. The occasion also marked the announcement of the new Rotary committees for this year.

Well, we've done it again.

A news story from the office of U.S. Congressman Weston E. Vivian of Ann Arbor, has pointed up once more the paradox that is Plymouth.

It makes for interesting conjecture.

The story, of course, is the news that Plymouth has been singled out for a Federal loan of nearly $889,000, to be used for construction of 60 senior citizen housing units.

And the paradox is that Plymouth, by and large, is still a municipality that tends to be more Republican than Democratic, more conservative than liberal, more cautious than flamboyant.

There are, I would have you know, people in this city who come well nigh to tearing their hair at the thought of that much governmental booty being used for housing for the elderly — even if it is a loan to be repaid.

I am not one of them, by the way.

But, like it or not, this is the box score to date.

Plymouth, the City of Homes, which prides itself on being progressive (It is in comparison to most towns its size), affluent (It is), and anything but a pouch of poverty, has snagged, in loans or outright grants, a total of about $1,609,000 in U.S. Gummint funds.

And a million and a half bucks is a million and a half bucks is a million and a half bucks.

The Lord Mayor of Plymouth, James Houk, noted with some satisfaction Monday evening after the commission meeting that we are about a year ahead of the Federal and State governments in what is now widely heralded as a "youth opportunity campaign."

Hizzoner clutched in his hand a missive from the Michigan Employment Security Commission which noted that a wave of co-operation with LBJ's youth opportunity campaign is underway.

It pleaded for the sympathy and participation of local governmental units and individual businesses and industries in hiring young people, 16 to 21, for the summer.

"Heck," said the mayor, (which is about the strongest language he ever uses), "we've been doing this in Plymouth through the YMCA Employment Service for over a year."

He's right.

It's nice to be first.

Last week I played hooky from the office for a couple of days and I was going to write a smart alecky column about how the kids and I went to Hell.

Hell, Michigan, I mean.

Then, in the Sunday Free Press, I ran into a soulful story about how the Hell Chamber of Commerce is not terribly overjoyed with the results of its image building program and the annual "Satan's Holiday" celebration they have dreamed up to lure city slickers to their pastoral community.

We kind of blundered into the crossroads of Hell while searching for a lake with boats and worms and stuff.

Girl child had a ball saying, "Oh boy, this is Hell, Michigan," being extremely careful to append the word "Michigan" each time since we don't brook language of THAT kind at our house.

Mom was smart and stayed home and the animals and I ended up at a nearby lake where a quiet old bandit relieved me of three dollars for a leaky boat, two bucks for a fishing license and a bunch of money for some barely living worms.

I think the worms averaged out to about a nickel apiece.

It was all worth it though.

We caught the only scrawny bluegill in the lake and based on what he weighed, dressed out in bluegills are worth about $38.24 a pound — more if you figure in transportation and what I think I'm worth at the unappetizing job of fish cleaning.

When we got home, Mom went shopping and encouraged boy-child to stay and watch Daddy clean the fish so he would know how when he got big.

As she crawled into the car and made ready to depart, her offspring ran up hollering, "I wanna go with you."

"Don't you want to stay and watch Daddy clean the fish?" she inquired.

"No," came the reply. "Urp! He cut off its head."

Fiscal reform leadership not coming this year

June 25, 1965

Dear Editor:

In an article which read with amazing similarity to a canned release recently sent out by the Republican National Committee, the Chairman of the local Republican party registers shock at Congressman Vivian's support of the Administration's fiscal policy.

In particular, congressional approval for an increase of 1 1/4% in the debt ceiling of a nation with a growth rate of 4%. She registers shock that our children will be saddled with this debt.

According to Herman E. Kroos, Chairman and Professor of Economics of the Graduate School of Business, New York University, the author of American Economic Development and numerous other works on the budget of the United States and taxation:

"... interest on the public debt is not regarded as a real cost but as a transfer payment from one part of the citizenry to another."

"From the viewpoint of society as a whole, therefore, interest payments merely represent a shift in income, benefiting some and injuring others, but having no net effect on the economy."

The economic policies of the Kennedy and Johnson Administrations have resulted in the longest period of national growth in the history of the United States. When to safeguard this growth, the administration recommended reduction in income taxes to release more money to the economy, the same voices registered their disapproval.

I would recommend to local Republicans who are genuinely interested in matters fiscal, that they urge their governor to take an interest in the same subject. In his first term, the Governor has made but one feeble attempt at fiscal reform.

The introduction of a bill he would not support 1 year before. Now in his second term, no attempt at all.

During the campaign we heard a great deal of talk about Leadership. Since the campaign, he says he is waiting for the Legislature to lead.

Democratically,
Robert E. Dwyer
Chairman

from another source . . . What makes me grateful is I was considered an outlaw at Cass for a time, but I struggled through. Now I come to a church that does accept me and shows its appreciation by providing this place for retirement," Perkins said.

Rev. Perkins was credited with saving the Cass Church from closing by methods that reached all the people. For several years during the depression he transported underprivileged youth to a Lake Louise camp. He was praised by Detroit papers for his work with delinquency, and the poet Edgar Guest wrote a poem about him upon his first retirement in 1958.

"The church is one of the great forces that can be used for the benefit of the people. But the church is not the main point. It should be used as a tool," Rev. Perkins said.

After his work at the Cass Community Church, he was given a chance to lease the lot at Lake Louise. He has held it for 25 years, but has been unable to build until this year.

Bill Perkins, who will be 75 this fall, expects he'll be back in the thick of some project in no time at all.

The members of the congregation at Drayton asked about a gift for the retiring Reverend, and hit upon the story of his retirement lot.

Thus did a wealthy suburban church give to Rev. William Perkins what he so long deserved, but what the Church he loved and served the hardest — the Cass Community Church — was financially unable to give him.

Come to Church

One Nation Indivisible

"... That this Nation, under God . . . Words that bind a Nation's wounds — healing hearts that have affliction known. We pause, this day, to remember and to forget: Yet, not to forget the battles lost or victories won, or soldiers' silent sleep, Who, by their death, gave life; life that throbs and pulsates in this Nation's womb. We pause to remember our gifts from God from whom our blessings in abundance flow. We find our God, at home in church, in hearts that this day sing out in joy. We thank Thee, Dearest Lord. Now, bless us, and this Thy land and all therein . . . our own, our native land!

Raps cigarette label bill as too weak

By Congressman Weston E. Vivian

Congressman Weston Vivian, whose district includes Plymouth, voted no on the cigarette labeling bill last week. In a release to the press he said: "The plain fact is that this bill is not strong enough. Despite a multitude of studies showing a clear causal relationship between smoking and lung cancer, this bill requires only that cigarette labels have printed on them the innocuous phrase, 'Caution: Cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health.'"

"There should be no hesitation about unequivocally warning the American public of a grave hazard to its health. The FTC ruled that cigarette labeling and advertising must carry words to the effect that, 'cigarette smoking is dangerous to health and...'"

"Last year, the Federal Trade Commission promulgated far more stringent regulations based on their own appraisal of the hazards of cigarette smoking to the health of American people."

"The Dearborn Campus offers degrees in three divisions: Business Administration; Engineering; and Literature, Science and the Arts. A senior college, Dearborn Campus is open to students of junior standing or above. The campus operates year-round on a three-term schedule, featuring internship with business and industrial firms."

PHS Viewpoint Welfare-a four letter word

Welfare. What is it? It's a Godsend. It's a symbol of hope and salvation. It's all these things and many more. Each person who picks up that weekly check has a different concept of what the money means to him. To many it is an infrequent task when the handyman jobs are running low. To just as many it is a regular bothersome affair that simply means the job can be discarded for another month. It's what it is to every individual because he makes it that way. But the receiving end isn't the only facet to be taken into mind. The source must be likewise considered. Since the tap is the federal government and the federal government is the tax-paying people then in a sense, the man next door, or down the street, is the one paying his neighbor's welfare. There are millions of "the man next door," or "the man down the street." These are the men who can be breaking their backs to support their families while their neighbors can be enjoying, monetarily, almost the same things just sitting on the front porch counting their welfare money. It is these kind of people that make welfare a four lettered word. MOST everyone has heard jokes about welfare and how this or that person bilked a bit more from the government. Some are funny. Unsurprisingly enough most are true, or very close to being so. There's the woman who collects the welfare money with the promise that she'll be back with milk receipts. This is overcome very handsily. The woman simply goes to the nearest grocery store, buys the milk, gets the receipts, runs over to the welfare operator and shows them to him, gets the remainder of her money and promptly returns the milk and gets a cash refund. What she does she now spends the money, while at home live hungry rascals growl out a very unhappy serenade? Try the nearest crap game, or possibly the handiest pusher. Better yet try the local bar. It's been said more welfare checks are cashed in bars than in anywhere else. I'm inclined to believe that. It's possible to stand outside many bars on "pay-day" and hear shouts of, "Drinks for everyone, got sucker money today." Another popular trick is the woman (it seldom works with men) that walks down the street on the day the welfare coordinator is supposed to greed have so taken this country, the dollar, becomes so big, that we can't even see around it. But there's also a flip side to this droming, sickening record. It plays the tune of a young widowed mother with six young children, but refuses to accept welfare because she feels it is charity. She takes in washing and ironing, and cleans houses in the vicinity to support her family. This is usually not enough. The children of these mothers often have a horribly vitamin-starved diet, stuffed with as much starch as possible, their nutrition and health being so low as to impair their school work. It all evens out, you say? That for every person doing everything he can to get more there is someone young and strong, who has a right and need for it, refusing it?

Then you're an imbecile. A stupid, half-witted saw horse that thinks good and bad can all equal out to neutrality. You'll read this article, and what will you think? "Oh, too bad," and you'll set this paper down. And then forget.

Air show, fireworks all for $1 per car

An airshow, fireworks, a peanut drop, a firemen's waterball fight, a raffle of a color TV - all these events will entertain Plymouth residents Sunday, July 4, at Mettetal Airport on Joy and Lilley Roads.

Each car is given a ticket as they enter the airport parking facilities, and the ticket is good for everything from the water fight which begins about 2:30, to the fireworks which begin about 8 p.m.

The airport will be closed to air traffic for the air show, and Joy Road from Haggerty to Lilley will be closed.

Here is a rundown on the air show events, which begin at 3:30.

- Hello in the sky. (sky writing greeting to crowd).
- Official opening ceremonies. Champion flag para-jump. Champion para-jump. Champion para-jump.
- The 3000 foot mark opening. His para-commander chute and snatching a giant American flag. Two power-ful biplanes roar and dip into the sky, circling the para-jumper with following plumes of smoke. This patriotic scene is highlighted by exploding aerial bombs, serving as a dramatic background for the national anthem on the p.a. system.
- Rhapsody in smoke.

Colorful awe inspiring smoke trail formation flying featuring a series of loops, fan tail stalls, and climbing with a head-on slow roll and a knife edge fight.

• Ribbon cutting. Two smoke ships dog fight thru their propellers.

• Blind battle to earth. Two smoke ships race to the runway by blindly pouring fuel spinning thru their own smoke.

• Our-A-Way para-jump.

Thanks to Mettetal

Jaycee general parade chairman Ron Bondie this week issued a note of thanks to the staff of Mettetal Airport for their effort towards this year's July 4th activities.

Bondie said Robert Mettetal, Mark Mettetal and Ron Markham, a sales manager at the airport, had given invaluable assistance in preparing for the program.

Bondie indicated that they had made extensive repairs to the grounds, and had helped him with the F.A.A. forms needed for the air show and in general had worked about two months on the project all at no cost.

"They have been a tremendous help in organizing and planning the air show and other activities for the Fourth weekend. Their cooperation and enthusiasm has been greatly appreciated by all the Jaycees involved in the program."

Bondie said the Mettetal will have airplane rides available at a nominal cost.

$400 prize at stake

Pretty young misses, 19 of them, will compete this week for the title of Miss Plymouth to be awarded Friday, July 2, at the Plymouth High School Gymnasium.

Sponsored by the Jaycees, the Miss Plymouth Pageant "kicks off" the Independence Day weekend festivities to be concluded on the eve of July 4th.

Pageant Director Station Lorenz disclosed Monday that the following details were final:

Wednesday, June 30, at the Mayflower Hotel, the following judges: Al Wouters, Mrs. Mary L. Hunt, Mrs. Rustle Shands and Dr. Kenneth Anderson will determine the preliminary bathing suit and talent competition winners.

THE EVENT is not open to the public. A point system sanctioned by the Miss America Pageant enables the judges to evaluate each girl's qualities numerically.

Talent, a requirement for the first time locally, counts twice as much as the bathing suit or gown events.

The winning talent performance will be enjoyed by all as part of the program July 2.

Assisting the aspirants to the throne will be a quintet of Jaycee wives headed up by Linda West. Her cohorts are Margaret Murawski, Beverly McCormick, Marles Jacobson and Carolyn Strom, wife of Jaycee President Cal Strom who will present the $400 scholarship to the winner.

Krisan Fluckey, Miss Plymouth 1964, will crown this year's queen and will receive the Key Opportunity from Mayor James Houk to carry style and an 8 x 10 portrait to Muskegon this July 25 for the Miss Michigan Pageant.

As Miss Plymouth she queen received her $400 first prize scholarship, a terra and a trophy to keep, a cultured pearl ring in a gold setting from Dave Agnew Jeweler, a hair style, $5.00 gift certificate from Melody House, a pair of shoes from Fisher Shoes, $5.00 gift certificate from Dunning's, perfume from Peterson's Drug, one dozen roses from Heide's Greenhouse, and numerous gifts just for entering.

The three members of her court, too, are bestowed with gifts including a corsage from Heide's Greenhouse, a gift from Minerva's, cologne from Peterson's Drug Store, a gift certificate from Melody House, in addition to the pageant dinner and gift from their sponsor, a free hair style and an 8 x 10 portrait from Bob Gray Studios.

Wayne Co. school district implements $40 million in aid

The new National Elementary and Secondary Education Act, recently signed by President Johnson, provides over 40 million dollars in Federal funds for the classrooms of Michigan.

The Wayne County Intermediate School District is taking immediate steps to cooperate with the many local school districts presently making plans to implement this act.

Since services, instructional materials, and facilities will be made available to nonpublic schools, interest in the NESE Act has become heightened. However, even though nonpublic schools are eligible, their participation will be under the direction of the public schools. There will be no direct allocation of materials or services to the nonpublic schools.

How soon will local school districts obtain these Federal funds?

ALL FUNDS for Title I (Financial Assistance for Special Education Programs for Children of Low Income Families) and Title II (School Library Resources, Textbooks, and other Instructional Materials) will be allocated only after a state plan has been formulated.

The state plan for the allocation of the Federal funds gathered Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. H. W. Bowden on Ann St. for a picnic to celebrate Miss Margaret Durning's birthday.

Judy Lent is working at the information booth with the Chamber of Commerce on Mackinac Island for the summer months.

Ronald Paquin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Paquin of Loiz Rd., who underwent an operation last week in Ann Arbor Hospital, Wayne, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester McCowan of Toledo, Ohio, visited their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. W.H. McCowan of Ann St. on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Hitt of Plymouth accompanied their nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Shoner and family of Northville, to Detroit, Sunday afternoon where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Flanigan and family. Mrs. Shoner and Mrs. Flanigan are sisters.

Oral Rathbun had a heart attack Friday afternoon and was taken to the Detroit Osteopathic Hospital where he only has his family as visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Atchinson attended the wedding of Rhonda Atchinson of Northville, and Roger Schlack of Detroit, which took place Saturday morning in Our Lady of Victory church in Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Smith of Scotsdale, Ariz., have arrived in Plymouth and will spend the summer months in the home of Mrs. Harold Brisbois on Rucker St.

My Neighbors

Michigan will benefit by over 40 million dollars of Federal funds available under this Act.

As yet no guidelines for the state plan have been received by the Department of Public Instruction.

However, a tentative state plan is being developed which will be modified when final directions are received from the Federal Government.

Dr. William Miller, Wayne County Intermediate Office of Education Deputy Superintendent, has been asked to serve on a committee currently developing the tentative plan for establishing procedures for local school district proposals.

"Local districts will not receive details on how to develop their proposals until well after August 1. This necessary delay means that the services financed by this act won't be available until October 1 at the earliest."

During the school year of 1965-66 the classrooms of Michigan is the home of the nation's busiest general contractors, including the largest firm in industrial construction. The Builders Exchange of Detroit and Michigan reported an average monthly construction work force of 102,500 in 1964, 9 per cent higher than 1963.

Mr. and Mrs. John Conley of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. William Krause and Miss Sarah Gayde of Plymouth, were entertained at dinner Sunday in the home of their sister, Mrs. Lisle Alexander on Mill St.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Covell were in Lansing, Sunday, to attend the christening of their infant grandson, Christopher Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hinshaw.

Miss Mary Winning, Mrs. Florence Rose and Mrs. Vesta Brewer of Plymouth, and the latter's sister, Miss Eva Doolittle of Jackson, celebrated Miss Winning's birthday with dinner at Schuler's in Jackson on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Michaels were in Millford Sunday to join their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Michaels and family at a picnic dinner at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kepics of North Olmsted, Ohio, and Berna Kepics of San Mateo, Calif. were weekend guests in the home of the former's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Weitzel on John Alden. Miss Kepics will attend a seminar for languages at the University of Michigan for six weeks.
