Thousands See Plymouth's Colorful Holiday Parade

NATIONAL... float was awarded... It was one of the most beautiful... in a Plymouth parade in years.

MEMBERS OF the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club displayed dresses and fashions of years ago with this float. It didn't win, but it was considered one of the best.

THE BAGPIPES of the Chrysler Highlanders and their precision marching caught the attention of the judges who awarded them the plaque for the best organizational band.

Reader Has Praise For Cabs

There may be complaints about the taxi service offered by the Checker Cab Co. in Plymouth, but there are those who feel the company has been doing a tremendous job and wish to make the fact known.

Mrs. Rose Troost, 632 N. Mill, writes to ask why someone doesn't tell of the merits of the cab company and then proceeds to tell of her experiences — all good.

"Why doesn't someone tell of the merits of Checker Cab for a change?" writes Mrs. Troost. "Checker Cab is my only mode of travel and I call a cab several times a week—going to the doctor, shopping, etc. . . . and NEVER once have I had to wait a long period of time.

"By the way, all of Checker Cab's drivers are kind, considerate and courteous. When I go to Detroit, I ride only in a Checker Cab."

NEWCOMERS CLUB float and the large number of members walking around and with it in support of "Women's Suffrage" brought cheers from the crowd and a first place vote of the panel for the best organizational float. It was one of the most unusual floats in the line of march and kept the spectators watching for what was happening next.

The year 1965 will go down in Plymouth history as the one in which the Plymouth Jaycees staged the most colorful, full weekend of holiday activities ever—a program that had the community hopping from the start of the Miss Plymouth Pageant Friday night until the final sound of fireworks Sunday night. There was the colorful pageant, an even more colorful parade on Sunday afternoon that was one of the longest and best ever and then the many unusual activities at Mettetal Airport throughout Sunday afternoon and evening climaxing with the giant fireworks display that attracted more than 10,000 according to Jaycee officials.

School Board Studies Proposal

Citizens Group Sights 1,500 Seat Auditorium

The Plymouth Community School District Board of Education is studying a recommendation from the Citizens Auditorium Committee named some months ago to make a study and a report of the needs, size, location, cost, financing and methods of informing voters of the proposal.

The Committee, through Chairman Sam Hudson, made the report and recommendations Monday at the annual organizational meeting of the Board.

The report shows there is a need for an auditorium for the school system and the community, with a capacity of 1,500 seats, a large meeting room for 300 or more to be erected at an estimated cost of $1 million with an additional $60,000 needed annually for operation.

The Committee recommends such a building to be constructed by financing a millage program spread over three to seven years, supplemented by a fund raising campaign aimed at obtaining donations from individuals and organizations.

It recommends that such a facility be administered by an advisory board of directors appointed by the school board, composed of representatives of the school and other local citizens and that it be erected in the immediate vicinity of the senior high school.

It further recommends that a team of speakers, an open forum, newspaper ads and presentations to civic organizations be used to inform the voters.

The facility would consist of an auditorium seating 1,500; a large hall accommodating 300, which could be divided into smaller sections; a conference room seating 75; office space for administration of the building and possibly for rental to the Chamber of Commerce and the Community Fund.

The facility would have theatre-type staging; maintenance space and kitchen facilities suitable for catering and light preparation.

The report was broken down to the various subcommittees as follows:

SIZE AND LOCATION

After a study of the responses from the organizations referred to above, supplemented by additional contacts with local organizations, the Size and Location Sub-Committee makes the following recommendations:

1. The facility should be centrally located near the present Plymouth high school.
2. The building should house an auditorium seating 1,500. It should also include a large hall with a total capacity of 300 which could be divided into smaller sections. The facility would also contain a conference room seating up to 75 people.
3. It should include office space for the administration of the building and possibly space for use by the Chamber of Commerce and by the Community Fund on a rental basis.
4. The auditorium should be equipped with theatre-type staging facilities.

5. The building should have maintenance space and be equipped with kitchen facilities suitable for catering and light preparation.

The committee on Projected Cost obtained information from two contractors. It assumed an auditorium seating 1,500 plus other facilities recommended by (Continued on Page 4A)

And One Celebrates Golden Wedding

10 Attend 52nd Reunion Of PHS Class of 1913

Mrs. Paul Nash, of 451 Jener Street, won't soon forget the incidents of the past two weeks which saw her celebrate her golden wedding anniversary with her husband, Paul, and then join with nine classmates of the 1913 graduating class of Plymouth High in the 52nd anniversary of their graduation.

The 50th wedding anniversary found Mr. and Mrs. George Power, of Oklahoma City (she's the daughter of the Nashes) and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Nash, 651 Herald, Plymouth, honoring their parents with an open house celebration at the family home.

It was a big moment for the long-wed couple and was made even bigger as the Powers spent a short vacation with the Nashes.

The reunion of the class of 1913 will long be remembered by the 10 graduates in attendance. They have been trying to make it an annual event but each year there are a few less than the year previous.

Mrs. Nash reports the 1913 class had 32 members of which 16 are still living and 10 attended the reunion. The other six expressed their regrets for not attending due to illness, long distance to travel and inability to make arrangements to attend.

Those from the class attending were: Marilla Farrand Coverdill, Lelia Chilson, Hazel Schoch Broegman, Velda Bogert, Rose Hilmer Holstein, Julia Gottschalk Thorne, Olive Jane Brown, Clarence Wright, Sadie Paulger Brown and Anna Shearer Nash.

The class decided to hold the 53rd reunion next June with the hopes that all surviving graduates will be able to attend.

Rename Fischer School Bd. Head

Gerald Fischer was re-elected president of the Plymouth Community District school board Monday in the special organizational meeting at which Robert Jenkins was sworn in as a new member of the Board.

Jenkins replaced Robert Utter, whom he defeated in the school board election a month ago.

Carl Schultheiss was named vice president, succeeding Utter. Mrs. Esther Hulsing was retained as secretary and Robert Soth as treasurer.

In other actions, required by state statute at the organizational meeting, the Board appointed William Sempliner as legal counsel, named the National Bank of Detroit as the depository for all funds of the school district and authorized the treasurer to purchase certificates of deposit from the National Bank of Detroit, the Detroit Bank and Trust or the Michigan Bank.

The National Bank of Detroit and the Detroit Bank and Trust were designated as paying agents for bonds of the school district.

The National Bank of Detroit was authorized and directed to honor checks, drafts and other orders for payment of money drawn in the name of the school district against the operating fund, the debt retirement fund and the building and site sinking fund.

"By the way, all of Checker Cab's drivers are kind, considerate and courteous. When I go to Detroit, I ride only in a Checker Cab."

So now there are those who have good words for the cab company and perhaps the City Commission should hear both sides of the story before making a final decision on the matter of the issuance of eight cab licenses.

There are complaints of poor service, which will continue regardless of what Checker Cab or any other cab company does now or in the future, but there are just as many patrons who have nothing but praise.

Completes Training

Pvt. James G. Stimpson Jr., whose parents live at 14490 Shadywood, in Plymouth, has completed advanced training as a cannoner under the Reserve Enlistment Program at the Army Artillery and Missile Center, Fort Sill, Okla. The 22-year-old soldier is a 1960 graduate of Plymouth High School.

2 Plymouth Youths Join Mexico Tour

Rob Wilson and Ron Jones, two outstanding musicians from the Plymouth high band, arrived in Mexico City Monday for a month's trip with the Music Youth International band and choral group that will tour several cities for concerts.

Rob, a 1965 graduate of PHS, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wilson, 13887 Ridgewood, and Ron, a senior next fall, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Jones, 493 Arthur.

The two were selected for membership in the 70-member band after a series of auditions at Saline. They have been practicing weekly since February in preparation for the tour in which Lester McCoy is the musical director and Charles Kirsch the band director.

Rob plays the cornet and Ron the tuba.

The 70-member band, which includes outstanding high school musicians from Michigan, is slated to visit Hermosillo, Obregon, Mazatlan, Culiacan, Guadalupe and Mexico City. They will be guests of the Rotary Clubs in each of the cities and will appear in schools, churches, recreation centers and concert halls.

The band and choral groups have prepared a varied and interesting repertoire. A commissioned number featuring popular musical comedy tunes will highlight each of the programs.

The climax of each formal concert will be El Sol, performed in Spanish, with band accompaniment. Carlos Chavez, the composer, will attend the final concert in Mexico City.

The group will return to the United States on August 5.

LEADER OF THE PARADE was former Governor G. Mennen Williams (right), who returned to march in the Plymouth procession after an absence of four years. He never missed while in the Governor's chair. He was accompanied by Congressman Wes Vivian, "Soapy" received tremendous applause from the crowd, showing that his popularity hasn't waned in this area.

Community College Speeds 'Tutorial'

A significant step forward in the implementation of the "tutorial approach to instruction" to be used by Oakland Community College this fall is the contractual agreement reached by the College and Litton Systems, Inc., George Mosher, OCC Board chairman, announced.

Litton personnel will assist in the analysis and design of the complete educational system, planning and implementing the curriculum, development of instructional materials, and staff orientation and training.

"Oakland Community College has charted for itself a pioneering role in educational systems," Alfred Strogoff, Litton Vice-President, said. "Litton accepts this challenge and desires to participate by making a substantial investment in order to insure the success of this most significant educational model of higher learning."

"This advanced instructional system, including the tutorial technique, which is designed to serve the varying needs of individual students by means of supervised, self-instruction, will make Oakland Community College a model not only for community colleges but for schools of all levels," Strogoff declared.

A key part of the program will consist of 60 self-instructional tutorial units developed by Litton. These programmed instruction courses will be used in 10 different subject areas such as business accounting, electronics, college chemistry and physical science.

Development and implementation of the tutorial concept in the OCC academic and technical training programs will be carried on by the Educational Systems Division of Litton Industries in cooperation with the OCC staff.

Each student at the College will be provided with the necessary instructional materials and equipment for use in a specially designed study carrel. The range of instructional aids includes audio tapes, visual displays, books, periodicals, setups for experiments and programmed materials.

"Courses of instruction will minimize group teaching methods," Dr. John E. Tirrell, OCC President, said. "Instead, students will use a carefully designed system which stresses supervised self-directed instruction. The system is controlled and paced by each student according to his ability to perform successfully. Responsibility for achievement rests primarily with the learner."

Litton was selected by the College, according to Mosher, because of the organization's extensive experience in the application of advanced concepts and technologies in the fields of education and training.

Litton operates job Corps Training Centers where its responsibilities include education and vocational training. The company is also a leader in the design of closed-circuit instructional TV systems.

Oakland Community College will accept its first students, an anticipated 3,000, on Sept. 7 at its Highland Lakes and Auburn Hills campuses.

Farmingtonite Gets Appointed To Oakland C.C.

Mary Hurd, of 36611 Quaker town, Farmington, has been named Faculty Assistant, in the Drafting Dept. at Oakland Community College. She is one of 62 faculty personnel approved by the College's Board of Trustees, at a public hearing on Thursday night, April 17. An estimated budget of $2,581,500 was also approved.

Bell Employees Are 'Protesting' In Farmington

The sign-carrying men who can be seen picketing in front of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. in Farmington are demonstrating, not striking. They belong to the Communications Workers of America, AFL-CIO, and have a no-strike clause in their contract. They do not like this clause.

They have a long list of grievances against the company, which they say "all add up to loss of dignity by telephone workers and the constant attempt by present Michigan Bell management to put their swollen profits ahead of fair treatment to employees."

Among their grievances are: "retrogressions in vacation scheduling"; excessive and inequitable overtime; "double talk on transfers"; the company's training policy; "a plant department rating plan that treats us like children"; unreasonable scheduling; "the disregard of our needs when it comes to giving what the company calls good service"; "continued attempt of the company to work people out of job classification."

The workers have a grievance procedure in their contract, but they "have lost faith in it because it is ineffective."

Says It's A Must in Crime Fight

State Police Head Urges Citizen Co-operation

"Citizens of every community in the United States must cooperate with police officials at every possible opportunity," said State Police Commissioner Fred Davids in an address to members of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce Business Men's Forum.

It was the first official appearance of Davids in his new capacity — he was appointed State Police Commissioner a month ago by Gov. George Romney, replacing the retiring Joseph Childs—and he attracted one of the largest noonday crowds to a Forum meeting.

Davids, a resident of Plymouth Township for more than 20 years, was Captain and district commander of the Detroit area at the time of his promotion. He has been interested in activities in the Township and City ever since moving here as a trooper.

"People must forget their fears of retaliation, sign warrants and appear against criminals," emphasized Davids, "Otherwise the police officials are powerless. There must be witnesses ready and willing to relate what they saw to put these people behind bars where they belong."

"We are face to face with a situation today. There is just a thin line between democracy and anarchy and the police officials need every bit of co-operation to keep that thin line." Davids pointed out that there isn't any reason why all shouldn't obey the law and be good citizens but things are working out that way.

"Vandalism for kicks is the worst of all crimes," he stressed, "There is far too much of that type of crime today and we are doing everything we can to stamp it out. But we must have co-operation of all to rid the land of this viciousness."

"We have instances where many residents are afraid to leave their homes for vacations because of the fear of vandalism and many more are afraid to leave their homes at night for the same reason."

"It is this failure to back police officers in their duty that is one of the greatest drawbacks for our profession. I might point out that there have been mistakes by police officials but one mistake doesn't condemn an entire department. I can't emphasize too much the need for co-operation and backing of your policeman."

Davids traced the rise and development of the State Police from the days of the World War I when it was first organized as the Home Guard of State Police to fill in for the Home Guard which had been called into active duty.

"At that time, the work was more for seeking out draft dodgers than the dragsters of today," he quipped.

In the period after World War I, the force was built up to 100 men, traveling mostly on horses and acquiring the nickname of the Texas Rangers of Michigan. There was even a State Police Post in Plymouth at that time in 1920.

The State Legislature approved a State Police force of 300 in 1937 and it has grown from that to a force of 1,288 enlisted men, 300 civilian employees and a three-airplane aerial force today.

The State Police in 1929 established the first State Police radio system in the world and it was an immediate success.

It was in 1951 that Davids was called into the office of Commissioner Childs and asked to form the first squad of a State Police force in the United States. It was while in charge of the rackets squad that Davids won acclaim for his work as a member of the force.

Later he was promoted to Captain and Commander of the Detroit area and then advanced to the top post of the department—Commissioner.

The Department now comprises 54 Posts, eight District Headquarters and the Headquarters in East Lansing.

The State Police act as a co-operating agency for all police departments in the State, particularly in the use of the Department's radio network for the quick exchange of information. Headquarters maintains a large fingerprint identification bureau, the state gun registration file, a crime laboratory, photographic laboratory, lie detector and other facilities which the average police department cannot afford and the services of which are available to all police departments without charge. Other lie detectors are located at the District Headquarters in Detroit, Bay City, Paw Paw, Rockford, Traverse City and Marquette.

The three State Police airplanes are used not only in connection with the investigations of air accidents but in many other police matters and missions of mercy.

"We insist that our men know the communities in which they live and operate," said Davids, "We want them to participate in the activities but warn all they must stay away from politics."

The biggest problem the State Police has at the moment is that of recruiting, according to Davids.

"Work in our department takes a dedicated man," he pointed out, "It requires a man with desire and an urge to be a good police officer. He must be dedicated to his job for the hours can be long and hard at times—perhaps these are reasons why we have so much trouble recruiting. There are few today who have the intense desire and dedication needed to become an outstanding State Trooper but we're busy all the time recruiting and we manage to keep most forces at full strength most of the time."

Observer Newspapers, Inc. OK'd for MPA Membership

The Observer Newspapers Inc., which includes editions in Livonia, Plymouth, Redford Township, Garden City, Farmington and Nankin Township, reached a new pinnacle with the announcement that it has been accepted into the Michigan Press Association.

The announcement was made to President Mrs. Myra Chandler in a letter from Executive Secretary Elmer White.

Thus the Observer becomes a member of the state's most honored newspaper association, one that includes all of the outstanding weeklies and dailies in Michigan.

Application for membership was made last fall and the screening and membership committees have been carefully checking all qualifications since they came up with an unqualified recommendation for the Observer Newspapers.

"This is one of the highspots of my journalistic career," said a highly elated Mrs. Chandler. "We knew that we were ready for membership into the Association and we are very happy that the Board accepted us."

"This is an even more happy occasion since there were some of our competitors who fought tooth and nail to keep our chain out. I'm gratified that the Association's executive board heard all comments and then gave us a unanimous vote."

The Observer Newspapers now become members of a statewide association that works together on major projects of Michigan interest and cooperates in news, advertising and other media.

The Observer Newspapers Inc. is proud to have been accepted and will do everything possible to make the Association proud of its achievements in the years to come.

Kuhn, Two Others, Jump Gun in Race for Congressional Seat

Only seven months following his defeat by Democrat Billie S. Farnum, Oakland County Republican Dick Kuhn is again making campaign noises for the 19th District Congressional seat.

The second edition of a mimeographed sheet called "Congress and You," published by the "Citizens for Kuhn Committee," rolled off the presses this week.

Most of the newsletter contains attacks against the Johnson administration's foreign aid policies. And there are also specific barbs aimed at Farnum's voting records.

20 Plymouth Youths Get Insight Into Big City Problems

A group of 20 youths from the Westminster Fellowship Club of the First Presbyterian Church in Plymouth learned quite a bit about the inner city problems of Baltimore and returned with sore muscles but the feeling of having achieved something following a recent week-long trip to the Knox Presbyterian Community Center in the heart of the Maryland metropolis.

It was a challenge from the start and fun from the moment the group left Plymouth in cars until the return to the city a week later.

There was a bit of excitement almost from the start when a car driven by Mrs. Wilbert Ackerman, one of the sponsors and chaperones of the trip, broke down while going through a large tunnel on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The caravan had just started through the tunnel when stopped by an earlier accident. There was quite a wait while the cars sat with motors still running and finally that in the Ackerman car conked out. There was a delay of about 20 minutes before the trouble was corrected—but imagine enroute to Baltimore and have the motor give out in the largest tunnel on the turnpike.

The Plymouthites arrived in Baltimore late Saturday evening, received their housing assignments and then reported bright and early Sunday to participate in services at the Center. Many sang in the choir.

Monday, the chores started with the group taking over the task of clearing a nearby ancient cemetery, setting up old tombstones that had tumbled or been pushed over, mowing grass, picking weeds and various other work.

But it wasn't all work and no play, the youngsters had an opportunity to visit nearby Johns Hopkins University and the all-Negro Morgan State College and make a tour of the Baltimore docks.

There was painting and decorating for most of the week at the Knox Center but in between there was time for swimming, picnic at a nearby church and several chances to get inside information on the inner city problems of a large metropolitan center.

The Knox Center is located in an all-Negro section which has the highest crime rate in Baltimore.

At the end of the week, the group took a vote for the hardest worker and the winner was Steve Hulce.

Those making the trip under the supervision of Rev. Ned Castner included: Peter Ackerman, Chuck Catlett, Cornie Delaney, Jill Dunlap, Mary Martha Eatmon, Cilla and Debbie Jenkins, Ed McKelvey and Candi Muehlbauer.

Tennyson Names Auto Show Heads

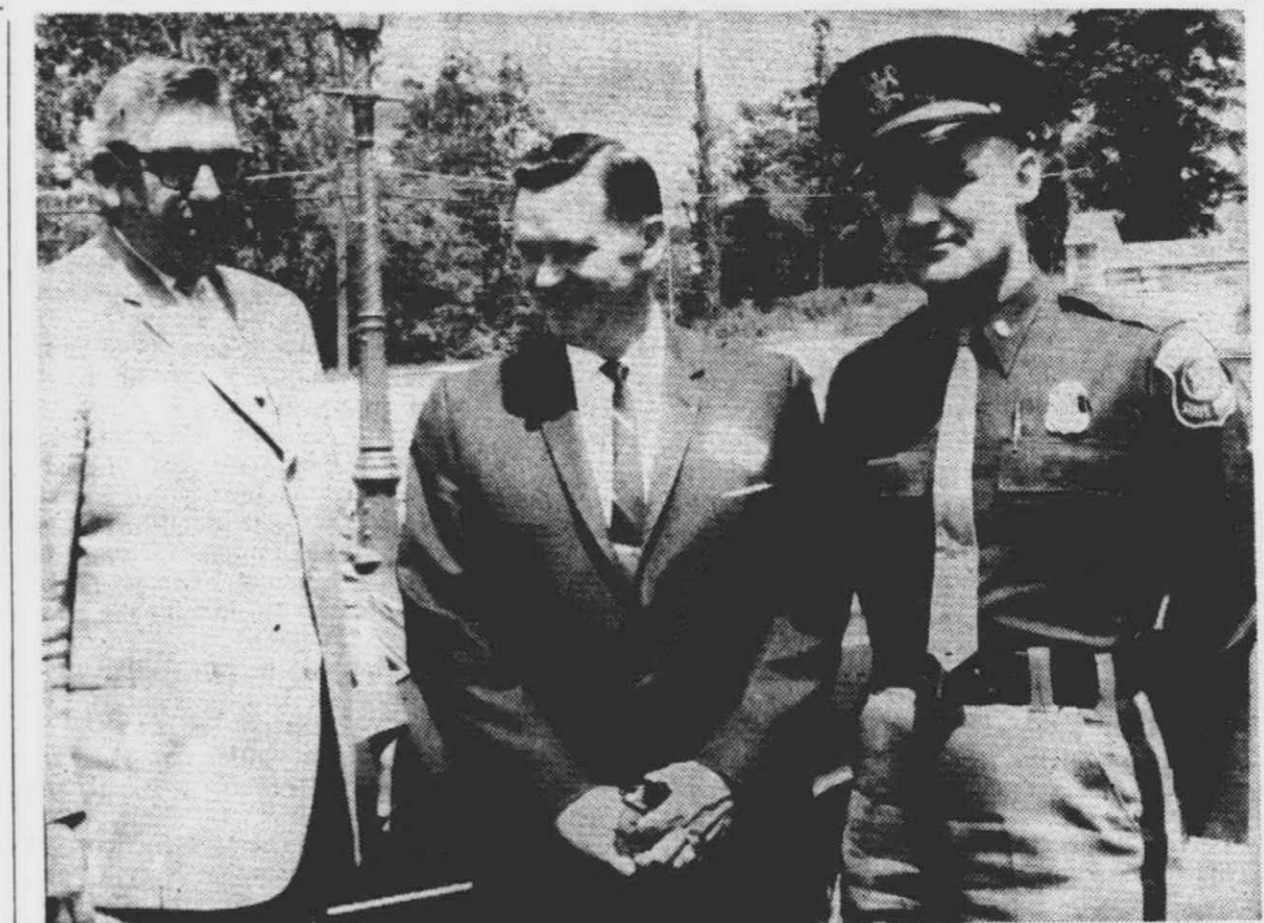

The committee which will be in charge of the 50th annual Detroit Auto Show has been announced by Harry Tennyson, Livonia Chevrolet dealer who is chairman of the show.

Dates for the auto extravaganza are Nov. 27 through Dec. 5. It will be staged this year in Detroit's Cobo Hall, moving there after several years in the Detroit Artillery Armory. The show is sponsored by the Detroit Auto Dealers Association.

Show manager once again will be Boyce Tope, executive vice president of the dealers association. He will be managing his ninth show.

Besides Tennyson and Tope, two other members of the new committee were instrumental in putting on the 49th Auto Show. They are Lawrence Falvey, of Falvey Sales & Service, 22600 Woodward, Ferndale; and Tony Ritz, of Town & Country Plymouth, Inc., 2985 Twelve Mile Road, Berkeley.

New members of the committee are Frank Adam, of Frank Adam, Inc., Lincoln-Mercury, 130 Kercheval, Grosse Pointe Farms; Neal Mason, of Mason Chrysler-Plymouth, Inc., 1430 S. Officer Nabs Pair In Mocar

According to Farmington Police, two Hamtramck men, Teddy Agar, 29, of 5468 Joseph Campau, and his brother, Michael, 20, have confessed to five robberies, after being caught in the Roto Co., Mocar Products Co., 33080 Eight Mile Road, on Monday, July 5.

Ptm. Glenn Harding caught the pair in the plant, when he saw the door open while patrolling. He was aided in the arrest by Ptm. Dan Byrnes, and Farmington Township officers, Sgt. John Polder, and Aux. Dennis Nash. This was the second time the two had hit the Mocar Plant, according to Det. Sgt. William Garden, of the Farmington Police, who made the interrogation. The crimes they are said to have cleaned up include a stolen car in Redford.

Hits Car, Four Hurt

Four men were hospitalized as a result of a collision on Orchard Lake Road just north of I-96, on Monday, July 5, at about 3 a.m. in the morning. The car was driven by 18 year old John F. Sorna, of 20224 Purlingbrook, Livonia. Others in the car were his dad, John V. Sorna, John R. Kuczewski, of 20803 Ontago, Farmington, Harry Koch, 21422 Roosevelt, Farmington, and Russell W. Gould, 120 W. Malcolm, Detroit. Sorna ran into a parked car, owned by Andrew Gladd, of 22456 Orchard Lake Road, Farmington. Sorna was ticketed for driving without an operator's permit.

3 Win Chrysler Scholarships

Two Livonians and one Farmington student have won 1965 Chrysler Corporation Fund college scholarships.

They are John W. Bennett, graduate of Bentley High School; Barbara J. Barr, Franklin High School; and James M. Gleeson, North Farmington High School.

CENTENNIAL STAMP, commemorating the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Salvation Army, is shown to Brigadier Ernest Hammer, head of the Plymouth corps, by Acting Plymouth Postmaster James Grater. The stamps were placed on sale for the first time Saturday, July 3. The Army is in its 37th year of operation in the Plymouth community.

Committee Recommends 1,500 Seat Auditorium

lar to the Plymouth City Hall and Library. Information from the contractors indicate a $30 to $40 per square foot price. On this basis, the auditorium portion of the building alone might cost $600,000. Catering facilities and a room for 300 to 400 people in the basement would cost an additional $200,000. The land would cost from $200,000 to $500,000, depending on location. The total complex would be in the neighborhood of $1,000,000.

As to the yearly cost of operation of such a facility, this is estimated at $60,000 per year. A large auditorium building in Muskegon, costing approximately $1,000,000, has an operating cost of $90,000. A movie theatre of similar size in this area has an operating cost of $70,000 per year. The $60,000 figure includes maintenance, heating, lighting, and repairs, but does not include administrative management costs included in the other two.

METHOD OF FINANCING

The sub-committee's conclusions were:

1. The facility should be owned, operated, and perpetuated by the entire community. The school district appears to be the unit qualified to act for the entire community.
2. Funds would be needed to defray not only the $1,000,000 cost of the facility but also its operation and maintenance.
3. Since the equivalent of ten mills or more would be needed to finance the initial cost, an effort should be made to obtain as much in private contributions as possible. In addition, the School District might want to limit the initial millage proposal to two mills per year, borrowing on its faith and credit to finance the construction.
4. The donation of private funds from a variety of sources might inspire the community to a point where citizens in general would react favorably to a tax proposal for this purpose.
5. Because of the School Board's present financing problems brought on by an expanding population, the committee feels that millage for this proposed building should be made on a separate bonding issue.
6. No Federal funds appear to be available for this purpose at this time. There is a possibility, however, of obtaining an interest-free Works Planning Advance to be used for planning purposes and payable when the first construction contract is awarded.

7. Recommendation:
 - (a) Ask for Public Works Planning Advance.
 - (b) That the basic method of financing be millage at two mills per year, or less, spread over 5 to 7 years.
 - (c) That maximum effort be made to obtain from private individuals and organizations donations to supplement this basic method of financing.

GUIDELINES FOR SCHOOL AND COMMUNITY USE, AND PROCEDURE BY WHICH VOTERS WOULD BE INFORMED

- This sub-committee recommends:
1. An advisory board of directors, appointed by the school board and composed of representatives of the school and of other local citizens, to administer use of the facility. It is suggested that the number of board members be limited to not more than seven.
 2. The board of directors to be responsible for regulations governing the availability of the facility to various groups and for setting fees covering the use of conference rooms and theatre section of auditorium.
 3. Some experience in the actual operation of the facility, in order to acquaint board of directors with the innumerable aspects of the use by various community organizations, would be desirable before adopting a formal set of rules.
 4. On procedure for informing voters, the committee recommends employment of a volunteer team of speakers trained to present the benefits of the proposed auditorium to every organization in the community, using professional type visual aids—charts, slides, etc.
 5. Preparation of a series of newspaper ads to inform the general public, followed up with a telephone survey to test public reaction. The use of a properly timed open forum should be considered as an additional means of communicating with the voters.
 6. The potential for informing voters by personal presentation to civic organizations is indicated by the lengthy list available from the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce.

Shopping Around ... by Penny Wyse

One of the most divine decorations for summer dining are the fortune-telling candles now on the market. If you, too, are mad for candlelight you will revel in this item.

They are small individual candles, clear in color, delightful for place cards for individual guests. A clever hostess might light them in the pause before dessert and coffee.

When the flame is burning brightly, each guest can see his future revealed in the flames. For 50 cents these can be purchased at the Bon Ton Shoppe in Farmington Plaza or at Lawrence Mayer Florist at 33708 Grand River, Farmington. They are equally exotic at a formal dinner table or on the patio.

Lawrence Mayer says the fortune candles are made in Ireland and the same house also supplies many clever outdoor entertaining candles just right for your next bar-b-que-egg plant candles, squash—nothing like carrying out the theme of your food right into your decorations.

JOMAR Call GA 5-9363 DAY OR NIGHT MA 6-7969 OUT OF TOWN CALL COLLECT

Ask Hana (Questions on Hairstyles And Beauty)

(Questions on hair style and beauty will be answered through this column by addressing your letters to this newspaper. Letters do not have to be identified.)

Dear Hana:

My husband and I have a daughter 17 years old. She dropped out of high school as a sophomore and hasn't done anything in a year. She can't find a job, and won't help around the house, so my husband and I decided to send her to beauty school. Can you recommend a good school, but one that is easy enough for a drop-out to make. We think this is nice, clean work and understand that there is a big demand for beauty operators.

Mr. R. L.

Dear Mrs. R. L.:

What an appropriate time to answer this letter. School is out and there are many parents in a turmoil as to what to do with their teenagers in the coming school year. You are right on one thing: there is a demand for good hairdressers. All schools in the state of Michigan must comply with rules set by the state. Upon completion of 1,200 hours, a state board examination is required at which time, if the student passes, a license is granted.

I am not in the position to recommend but I must warn you to choose a school carefully. The Department of Education offers a rank-order classification of all existing schools with recommendations. You are wrong when you say that you and your daughter feel that you want an easy school to graduate from. Learning should take place in the school and not in the salon, as some schools claim.

I have had occasion to talk with high-school counselors who claim that many students make no attempt to complete high school simply because they have been told that "it doesn't take brains to go to beauty college." Nothing could be further from the truth. It might be interesting to know that less than 10 percent under the age of 21 remain in the industry. With no formal education in her favor then she must have at least a need or desire to be a successful graduate. The thing is, depending on the school, she probably will graduate. But with present attitude of looking for ease, chances are that she will not be able to stay in the business.

For many years, I have been actively employed in the field of beauty culture. Being an operator, teacher for a leading school of cosmetology and presently self-employed, I have seen many tragic cases of graduate students from inadequate schools. The result being, that upon graduation as operators they cannot be absorbed into the industry due to their inabilities and lack of knowledge. Again they find themselves drop-outs, only with a license this time.

With proper attitude and selection of a good school, the possibilities are unlimited in the industry. There is a place for everyone, but it's not easy.

Ten Mile Cub Pack 168 Holds Picnic to Wind Up Scout Year

By MRS. R. J. WITT Ten Mile P.T.A. Cub Scout Pack 168 wound up an eventful year of scouting with a picnic at Kensington. Under the chairmanship of Gus Trikes, the picnic committee supplied refreshments, prizes, and treats for all the children, generously donated by Farmingtonites.

The race cars demonstrated Cub Scout ingenuity plus a lot of time and effort. As the gleaming cars zoomed to the finish line, all of the Cubs and their families cheered them on. The day ended with each picnicker enjoying a large slice of refreshing watermelon.

There were races for all the children plus sack races and shoe-kicking contests for the moms and dads. The highlight of the day was the exciting photo-finish Pinewood Derby.

In September, after a brief summer, the Cubs will resume their scouting activities.

It's a pity people can't exchange problems—everyone can solve the other fellow's.

Two R. U. Graduating Classes Planning 10 Year Reunion

Ten years pass swiftly, and for two graduating classes of Redford Union High School it's getting time for reunions.

The January and June 1955 classes have set July 10 as the date for their first reunion. And members of the 1956 class are starting a year in advance to plan theirs.

The 1955 gala event takes place in the form of a dinner-dance at Bonnie Brook Country Club, Telegraph and Eight Mile, on July 10. Ticket information is available by calling Irene McCamant, KE 7-4013, or Donna Freeman, EL 6-6046.

Help is being sought by those planning next year's 1956 class reunion. Persons interested in helping to plan it should contact Bob Wangbichler, 5141 Busch, Warren.

Missing from the class' roster are the following, and those knowing their whereabouts should contact Wangbichler: Harrison A. Beal, William Becker, Bonnie Barringer, Marjorie Coneybear, Joan Cote, Jack Conley, Mary Cook, Diane Dodds, Elaine Elder, Raymond Fischer, Annette Greenleaf, William Hinchey, Joseph Hatch, Judith Hubbard, Marie Isaac,

By JERRY WENDT MORE ON HAWAII

We were interrupted in our account last week of the Hawaiian party the Chambers and the Bells gave together. It was a very noteworthy occasion. A three-piece Hawaiian band provided the musical background. Blue and white striped tents covered the patio and lawn where tables had been set up. Punch bowls of carved ice held baby orchids and miniature palm trees. A traditional Hawaiian buffet contained many native goods including roast pig, complete with apple in mouth. HIGHLIGHT OF THE PARTY was when the Chambers had their Tennessee Walkers brought over from Clarkston. These beautiful, spirited steeds were put through their paces for the guests. Kathleen Bell had her very own walker, "Gumdrop."

AUTHENTIC HAWAIIAN COSTUMES were worn by many of the guests. Seen here and there in bright colored gowns were Mrs. Robert Jay Chambers, Mrs. Milton Kosley, Mrs. Donald McLennon. Also among the nearly 175 attending guests were the John Lesinski's, Ann and John Martin, Jackie and Ron Sherman, Jane and Paul Fritsching, Phylise and Bill Scott. New neighbors, Walt and Joyce Curtis also attended.

VACATIONS AND WEDDINGS take precedence during the summer months and a bumper crop of both are crowding the calendar.

DIANE DWYER who will be marrying Frederick G. Taylor, Jr. of Berkeley in October, has already chosen her bridal attendants. Kathy Thornton, Marcy Girskis, sisters Nancy and Mary Dwyer and Sandi Taylor (Frederick's sister) will make up the party. The Dwyers are one of Farmington's old families and there will be many parties to mark Diane's wedding. Her visit shower will be, in all places, Stonyton, Illinois. Diane will be visiting there and her relatives will mark the occasion with a miscellaneous shower.

Preceding Sharon up the aisle will be Ann O'Keefe, as maid of honor and Nancy Sisty will be bridesmaid. Loyd (yes, that's the correct spelling) will be his brother's best man. The reception is scheduled for Botsford Inn. Sharon, a popular member of the personnel department at Botsford General Hospital, was surprised by her co-workers with her first shower, a miscellaneous. Mrs. Fisher acted as hostess.

"HERE BABY" cries Jerry Kegen and a bird flies to her shoulder and eats from her hand. Hearing a feeble chirp a few weeks ago, Jerry, who loves birds, ran out to find a bedraggled bird, with only a few pin feathers, so tiny, it was impossible to tell what species it belonged to. She took it in, nursed it to health. Now a fat and sassy sparrow, it flies to her when she claps her hands.

Blue Birds from Hull School held a backyard puppet show at the home of leader Mrs. Betty Sikorski, with their families as guests. The play, "Happiness Brew", was written by the girls, and they also made the puppets and scenery. Refreshments were served by the girls after the show.

Several groups concluded the year with ceremonials. Mrs. Marge Thiemann's group and Mrs. Maria Rockwell's group, both from Madison School, held bead ceremonials at which the girls received the various colored beads with which they decorate their jackets and gowns, representing achievements in the seven crafts.

Two Camp Fire Groups from Hoover School held joint ceremonials for rank. Mrs. Ann Carey's fourth grade group received the Trail Seeker's rank and Mrs. June Endicott's fifth grade group received the rank of Wood Gatherer. Parents were served refreshments prepared by the girls.

OU Music School Opens

Oakland University's new Meadow Brook School of Music opened on Tuesday, July 6, when some 415 students and conductors registered for the six-week instrumental program.

The School is unique in that it will combine the teaching talents of members of the Detroit Symphony and of its conductor Sixten Ehrling, here for the six-week Meadow Brook Festival, with many distinguished visiting musicians, and the OU music faculty. Ehrling is music director of the summer school; Robert Shaw, noted associate conductor of the Cleveland Symphony, is director of the Institute of Choral Studies; and Detroit Symphony flutist Albert Tipton, is assistant director of the school and conductor of the student orchestra.

Each student will participate in one of the five organizations, take private lessons, and either enroll in an academic course or take lessons in another instrument.

Fill Up—Your Camera

You've seen those gas station signs that reach out to you as though you were about to cross the Sahara Desert. "Last station before U. S. 49." "Last station before turnpike." "Your last chance to fill up. . . ." I've been thinking about it myself. Not opening a gas station, but just putting up a sign. Last chance to fill your picture-needs before you go on vacation.

Get enough film now! Sure, almost anywhere you go you can get Kodak film. But when a picture happens, the film must be in your camera. When fun keeps happening, you need more film on hand, where you can put it to work.

How about that camera? Is it in good working order? Let us give it a check-up before you leave. Tell us about the last couple of rolls you shot. Could they have been better? Maybe a new KODAK INSTAMATIC Camera is the answer to your picture-problems. These instant-loading, automatic cameras are available in still models for snapshotting, and now in movie cameras for taking the new Super 8 movies.

A few minutes of honest advice now may make a lot of difference in your vacation pictures this year. We'll be glad to demonstrate the new cameras, and to discuss what part they may play in your summer plans. Ask us.

Livonia's 'Best' School Custodian Honored by Superintendent Yates

Nearly 100 Livonia school custodians and transportation employees attended a conference on plant and vehicle maintenance held at Michigan State University, East Lansing campus.

The three day conference covered talks and discussions on short cuts in maintenance, economical use of cleaning materials, furniture repair, electric motor care, and ways and means of making custodial operations more efficient.

The range of topics was wide. Covered in discussions were "Insects, Rodents, Bats, Pigeons," "Hands Off of Clocks," "From Mowing to Snow Removal," "Lady Custodians," and many sessions on public relations.

Livonia school superintendent Benton Yates spoke to the conference on "The Best Custodian I Have Ever Known."

Before giving the citation and naming the man, Yates said, "I first met our outstanding custodian when I was a business manager in our rapidly growing and struggling school district. Oddly enough, he was 'moonlighting' at the time. I am sure none of you fellows and ladies have to do that anymore because pay scales are so outstanding now. I chose this man for my talk not only because of his fine personal and professional qualities, but also because he typifies the history of our growing school district."

"Around 1955 we moved him from part time 'moonlighting' to a newly created position for us called 'Night Leader.' Our high school building was beginning to get heavy use after school hours and during evening hours. We needed a man who had something more than average to handle this night leader task. He had to keep a large crew busy, but more importantly, he would have to work with the public and maintain almost single handedly our public relations with the people using the building at night. He not only did this effectively, but he set a pattern and a tone that still exists among the night leaders of our school district. There were no administrators in the building most of this time. He was more or less on his own and he pioneered this very important area for us.

"Around 1957 we opened a brand new junior high school, our first to stand all by itself. We were in the middle of a building boom and a population explosion and conditions in the building bordered on the impossible because of overcrowded classrooms. Every inch of space was being used. Again we needed a man as a head custodian in this building who could work with other than ordinary circumstances. We moved our man from night leader to junior high school head custodian, and again he did the job."

"Around 1959, we realized we were entering another important phase. Our buildings were mostly new. They incorporated the best of new materials and building techniques. It was obvious that we needed special kind of people to care for them. We needed help in this area so we moved 'our man' to the position of Supervisor of Plant Operations. He recruited and trained the best. Working through committees and using the best democratic procedure, he gave us personnel policies that stand as a model. He was instrumental in putting together our handbook for non-certified employees which also must be some kind of a model from the number of requests we have for them.

"I would have to say he is 'the best custodian I ever knew' because he always gave that extra effort in human relations. He was not only a good maintenance technician, he worked well with children, teachers and parents. This man has stood with the school district through some critical years and in some critical positions. We are going to need him in the future. He has come the full cycle. He started as a 'moonlighter' with us and I understand other districts have requested his advisory services in setting up their own custodial programs. So he is back on his way to moonlighting again."

"Livonia is presently the 4th largest school district in the state. We gain approximately 3000 new pupils every school year, which means we have to build 100 additional classrooms a year, which figures out to be about two a week. In not too many years we may be second only to Detroit in student population.

The task of getting competent people to maintain these buildings and to continue to help us keep pace with our fantastic growth will fall heavily on our 'best custodian.' He keeps the custodial staff at 30 elementary, 6 junior high, and 2 senior high schools running smoothly.

"He does not do this from an arm chair, he is out in the buildings every day. He has a large board hanging on his office wall which shows how often he visits each school.

"He has gone so far in trying to help us that he sent his daughter through a teachers' college and she is now an instructor at that original junior high school where 'our man' served as head custodian back in 1957. His daughter and three sons and his wife are as proud of him as we are. I am also sure those of you from Livonia have recognized him from my description. May I present to the rest of you, Harold 'Mickey' McVicar, Supervisor of Plant Operations, Livonia Public Schools."

"THE BEST CUSTODIAN": Livonia School Superintendent Benton Yates shakes hands with Harold "Mickey" McVicar, supervisor of plant operations in the Livonia Public Schools. At a Michigan State University conference last week Yates lauded Mickey as "the best custodian I've ever known."

Redford Twp. Senator Asks State Gov't. Re-organizing

Senator Edward J. Robinson (D-Redford Twp.) personnel specialist and a graduate economist, has submitted what he terms a compact plan to reorganize the "helter skelter hodgepodge" of more than 140 State agencies into 17 departments including Civil Service.

The plan was submitted to the Conference Committee of three Senators and three Representatives under an announced agreement of legislative leaders that reorganization plans could be submitted while the joint conference group ponders the best way to consolidate Michigan's sprawling governmental structure.

Robinson's plan was greeted by members of the Senate as a realization of the long expressed hope that government would utilize the scientific progress which successful industry employs to promote efficiency and economy.

"I used the common denominator of mutual interest and objective in compiling this plan," Robinson said.

"It recognizes special fields of endeavor that should not be combined without risking damage to the agencies involved. For instance, the plan insists upon the continued separation of the Department of Health and the Department of Mental Health. Experts generally agree these should not be intermingled despite the basic health objective."

All parks and state fairs, recreation and tourist activities are under the Department of Tourist Development and Recreation and all state licensing is placed in the Department of Licensing and Regulations.

"As the chief law enforcement officials of Michigan the Attorney General's division is placed at the top of 14 agencies ranging from the Military Establishment and Military Board through the State Police and Safety Commission, to the Liquor Control Commission and State Board of Escheats."

"To provide uniformity and efficiency in the new plan that is a mandate of our new State Constitution, all of these agencies plus the Corporation and Securities Commission and other divisions with allied objectives are placed under the Department of Law Enforcement and Public Safety."

Other major departments in the Robinson plan include: Department of State over eight divisions; Department of Education headed by the State Board of Education and five other agencies concerned with education; Department of State Highways; Department of Labor and Industry; Department of Social Services; Department of the Treasury; Department of General Services; Department of Agriculture; Department of Commerce; Department of Civil Rights and Department of Natural Resources.

'Eggheads' Join Dems In Oakland

The Oakland County Democratic Headquarters, 17 Water Street, Pontiac is sporting an academic atmosphere this summer. Two college seniors, both students of government and political science, have enlisted in the party's ranks for the two-fold purpose of study and advancement of the party's fortunes.

Michael A. Waller of 111 Fourth Street, Rochester, and a senior at Oakland University holds an internship with the party with the co-sponsorship of the Michigan Center for Education in Politics. The program is designed to give senior political science students insight into the political process by placing them in the offices of their state and national legislators. This is the first time the center has placed an intern with a County Committee.

Mike's work will be of practical value to the party as well as of academic value. He is working with Professor Roger Marz of Oakland University on the establishment of a County-wide public opinion poll, as well as acting as research analyst for the Party's Study Committees on Judicial Reorganization and County Government.

Louis Beer of 4740 Burnley, Bloomfield Hills will act as the County's full-time staff assistant for precinct organization. An American government major at Harvard University, specializing in party government, Lou will also be doing research for the Party's Study Committee on Party Reorganization.

In his work in precinct organization Lou will carry on work started last year in the Party's voter identification program. At that time before the November election he was the party's director of volunteer activities for Pontiac. The 20-year-old senior indicated that he hoped to use his experience this summer, both practical and in research, as the basis for a senior honors thesis on Michigan party politics.

Oakland County Democratic Chairman George Googasian expressed pleasure at the academic outlook these two young men give to the party's Pontiac headquarters. "The presence of two creative minds working full time on the problems our communities face will make it possible for us to make really meaningful recommendations to the legislature," he noted. The presence of these two young men on our full time staff more than sixteen months before the next general election shows not only the growing vitality of the Democratic Party in the County, but also our continuing concern with the demands of government and the needs of our citizens."

The real measure of a man is his ability to think individually, and act collectively.

NEW CITY MANAGER of Plymouth is Richard Blodgett, currently holding a similar position in Marysville, O. He was named a week ago as a successor to Albert Glassford, who resigned in December to move to Albion. Blodgett will assume his new post on August 1 but already has started the search for a home in Plymouth. His in-laws reside in Ypsilanti and he visited there over the long holiday weekend.

Church Architecture Exhibit Scheduled

An exhibition consisting of panels of religious structures presenting postwar trends in architecture entitled "Churches and Temples" will open at Sacred Heart Seminary at 7 p.m., Wednesday, July 14 in connection with a University of Detroit sponsored conference on "Church Architecture and the Liturgy."

The exhibit will move to the U. of D. Library July 17 and continue on public display during July. It is being circulated throughout the United States by the American Federation of Arts. The New York chapter of the American Institute of Architects is sponsoring the exhibition with the cooperation of the Pepsi-Cola Company.

"Throughout history, religious architecture has dominated other types of buildings because of the importance of the universality of religion," observed the Rev. Lawrence Green, S.J., asst. to the dean of the U. of D. School of Architecture. "The church and temple have developed accordingly into the most influential and expressive buildings, thus reflecting the evolution of cultural and religious patterns."

"Severing the ties of medievalism," Fr. Green continued, "has necessitated the creation of buildings which capture and embody contemporary religious currents. It has also produced the possibility of experimentation. Churches and temples symbolize a groping for new shapes and forms as well as a reformation of traditional religious principles into the modern vernacular."

This exhibit, Fr. Green pointed out, acts as a guide to indicate the direction in which architecture is moving and projects new concepts of the present and of the future in religious structures. It includes examples from South America and from many parts of the United States; thereby presenting a survey not only of national but of international trends in religious architecture.

Opportunity Camp Gives Kids 2 Weeks

The Seventh-day Adventist churches in Michigan have sponsored a free two-week "Opportunity Camp" at Scott Lake, Michigan, where two groups of boys and girls have each had a week of out-door camping.

Running from June 20-25 and June 27-July 2, swimming, hiking, crafts, boating, and campfires—along with hearty eating—have been the order of the day.

This is the third year for such an activity, with the camp being only for children of non-Adventist families on a purely non-sectarian basis. Participants were chosen from families who normally would not have such an opportunity.

Buses picked up the youngsters from Livonia, Farmington, and Redford at the Livonia Seventh-day Adventist church on Middlebelt Road early Sunday morning and returned them there late Friday afternoon.

Expressions of appreciation from all families have been received, and it is the present plan to continue the yearly camp with future expansion. This year approximately 150 to 200 children, ages 9-13, attended each session.

Plymouthite Gets Degree In Dearborn

Thomas Goebel, of 485 S. Mill, Plymouth, was one of 77 students receiving degrees from the Dearborn campus of the University of Michigan in the spring commencement exercises.

Goebel received a bachelor's degree in business administration.

The Dearborn campus offers degrees in three divisions: business administration, engineering, and literature, science and arts.

A senior college, Dearborn campus is open to students of junior standing or above. The campus operates year-around on a three-term schedule, featuring internship with business and industrial firms.

Three Confirmed

Johanna Jacobs, Donald Gulickson and David Lang were recently confirmed at The Lutheran Church of the Risen Christ in Plymouth. The three students are the first to be confirmed at the church.

'Sacrament' Is Subject

The record of Jesus' last supper and his meeting with the disciples after his resurrection will be reviewed in the Bible Lesson-Sermon to be heard in all Christian Science churches this Sunday, July 11.

The subject is "Sacrament", and the Golden Text is from I Corinthians: "Let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth."

Library Stays Open at Bentley

Suburban area college students on vacation, along with other adults, will be able to study and do research in the Bentley High School library this summer.

As a special service to Livonia and other suburban citizens Billy Pate, Bentley's Director of Instructional Materials, has opened the doors to community library users during the summer school session which runs through August 6.

Library service for summer students and community book-users and researchers will be available daily, Monday through Friday, from 7:45 in the morning to 12:15 noon.

"Today's school librarians believe in the widest possible use of educational materials, films, filmstrips, books, and periodicals," Pate said. "We are proud of our Bentley library and nothing makes us feel better than to see parents, college students, and professional people using our reference materials or just browsing through our magazines and our shelves of lighter summer reading."

Meets July 13

The Federation of Livonia Civic Associations will hold its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, July 13, at 8 p.m. in room B-1 of the Livonia Police Building.

Local Resident Heads The Church of Jesus Christ

From atheist to church president—it might sound like a religious "Horatio Alger" story, but it's true.

Gordon Ciaravino of 9591 Dixie, Redford Township, was raised an atheist. Last April he was named president of The Church of Jesus Christ. The church is an international body numbering about 4,000 "dutiful" members in the United States.

For Ciaravino the post is the culmination of 30 years of toil for the body.

Ciaravino says that he was not permitted to go into any church building of any kind as a child "but I probably went to two without my father's permission."

"When I was 17 my parents changed their viewpoint," he recounts, "my father came to the realization that there was a God and began to seek for something. We studied many churches in New York City (where the family was living) and we came upon The Church of Jesus Christ.

"Believing that this church was the closest to the principles taught by Jesus Christ on earth the family joined."

The church is a non-denominational organization believing in the "restored gospel" and teaches "the fundamentals as preached by the disciples." Ciaravino was 21 years of age at the time.

From then on it seems as though the die was cast.

In 1935 he was ordained as a teacher in the church and moved successively up through the posts of elder and evangelist.

In 1956 he was named one of the 12 "Apostles" in the church and in 1964 he became the first counselor or "right hand man to the president."

Last April Ciaravino was named to the presidency at the church's annual conference at the Pennsylvania headquarters. He is the first person from outside the state of Pennsylvania named to the post.

He met his wife of 27 years, Antoinette, at a convention of the church's Missionary Benevolent Association in Ohio.

She says that before they were married Ciaravino told her "my hours are like doctor's hours and you'll just have to adjust to them."

Mrs. Ciaravino says that she has adjusted and adds that they are both interested in the same things and "are busy together."

A full time employee in the Three local teenagers are touring Ireland, England, Holland and Germany this summer as members of the Michigan Youth Chorale Chorus.

They are: Patricia Snover, a student at Thurston High School in Redford Township; Jill Norton and Jack Dean, students at Plymouth High School. The three left June 23 and will return to Michigan Aug. 21.

The Chorale is sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches and the 68 teen age members range in ages from 16 to 18.

While in Europe the group will sing in various communities and serve as goodwill ambassadors for the United States. They will stay with families in each of the countries.

The students were chosen last September on the basis of the scholastic records, the recommendation of their high school music teachers; and interviews and auditions.

The Ciaravinos recently returned from a "vacation" in California. He visited churches in California, Arizona and Mexico, while his wife went "as a grandmother for the second time."

Last weekend he traveled to Ohio and next weekend he will be in New Jersey and New York.

As he said he has done "considerable traveling" during the course of his duties.

In addition to their married daughter, Carol, the Ciaravinos have one son, Gordon, who resides in Redford Township with his parents.

For The Public To Know

"All the News That's Fit to Print" proudly proclaims the front page nameplate of THE NEW YORK TIMES.

What is this "fit to print" news, anyhow? What news isn't "fit to print"? Who's to decide?

The answers to these questions probably plague the editors of the TIMES daily, just as they provide a point of discussion and debate to the editorial staff of THE OBSERVER and most other papers.

Guided by the public interest, good taste, and that intangible something called "common sense", the editors of THE OBSERVER wrestle with the problem of what to print, and what not to print, as we sift through all the information crossing our desks weekly. Whether it's the TIMES, THE OBSERVER, a big metro daily, or the NATIONAL ENQUIRER, every editor in a free society must face this problem, and must be allowed to make his decision himself.

The point for this discourse today is a number of unrelated incidents in various communities served by THE OBSERVER which could threaten this democratic concept of editorial freedom.

We'd like to tell you about three of them: POLICE NEWS: Our reporters have standing assignments each week to visit police stations, searching out crime news and stories which have vital importance to the community.

THE OBSERVER has no desire to sensationalize such news. And we do not. But, we insist on the right, as responsible journalists, to examine public records and decide for ourselves what should—or should not—be printed.

We will never print news that might hamper the capture of a suspected criminal, and invariably honor such requests from police departments. And when publishing information might be detrimental to the guarantee of a fair trial for an accused person, we will withhold it.

Therefore, when visiting a police station, we insist on the right to examine police blotters and case reports. Some departments have refused to give us this right—and only the news which the department head deems fit for us to see reaches our eyes. We are continuing most intensive efforts to guarantee this freedom of access to public information to us, and, indirectly, to you, and will report back on our progress.

PUBLIC EMPLOYEES' SALARIES: In some cases, the public should know how much their taxes are paying public officials. In other cases, like schoolteachers and school principals, the information is seldom relevant on an individual person-by-person basis. But, the press should have the responsibility of determining when salary figures of individuals is "fit to print."

Recently, we have encountered an incident where officials refused point-blank to make this information available to us. Here, too, we are striving to reach an amicable settlement with the officials and we will report back.

SECRET MEETINGS OF PUBLIC AGENCIES: The favorite trick of a public commission, a school board or other agency when they wish to discuss something out of the earshot of reporters is to call an "executive session." They shut everyone out of the room and tackle a problem, the topic of which is usually not even known. When they emerge, someone will make a motion and there'll be a unanimous vote taken, and the meeting will suddenly end. There is, of course, no opportunity for reporters to find out how individually elected public officials feel about the question at hand. And, it follows that readers of this paper have no chance to hear the opinions of elected officials on certain topics.

The Farmington School Board has been the agency most guilty of this practice. Its "study sessions" have been off-limits to OBSERVER reporters. And, from time to time, other commissions and boards have adopted similar tactics.

There's too, the "unpublicized" meeting—the most flagrant example of which was the recent session of the Wayne County Intermediate Committee to discuss the carving up of the Nankin Mills School District.

The meeting's place was barely publicized, and it took an Observer reporter two hours to track it down. When she finally arrived, one official looked up and, at this ostensibly "public" session, said, "Our local reporter has arrived... I'm not going to say anything."

Incidents like this concern us, and should also concern our readers. In our dealings with public officials, and agencies, we will continue to work for the fullest access to public information and records.

We hope that our readers, through your letters, conversations and other dealings with your elected officials, will do the same.

—DAVE ELSILA

The Reader Speaks Up:

Teen Drinking Problem

Editor:

Having just read your article in the Observer of Farmington concerning the teen-age drinking problem it is interesting to note that in the article no mention is made of "Where Do These Teen-Agers Obtain These Alcoholic Beverages?" If a majority of the parents of these teen-agers do not furnish these alcoholic beverages to their youngsters, and I do not believe they do, then where are they getting them.

They are of course, purchasing them from a convenient liquor, beer, or party store many times within their own neighborhood. These liquor, beer, or party store operators go through the motions of checking to see if they are of legal age, and are accepting the showing of a counterfeit or forged driver license as prima facie evidence of being of legal age. This in spite of the fact that it is common knowledge amongst these operators that many of these teen-agers are in possession of such forged or counterfeit documents. Please bear in mind that these sellers of intoxicants have a legal responsibility to be certain that a purchaser is of legal age. They likewise have no legal responsibility that forces them to sell to anyone of questionable age despite any document that is furnished. In other words it is the feeling of the writer that some of the blame should be placed on the sellers of these alcoholic beverages who couldn't care less if a purchaser is a minor just as long as this minor shows a paper denoting his age.

In going further, just how much of an investigation is conducted by our law enforcement agencies when a minor is apprehended in possession of an alcoholic beverage? In many cases no investigation is conducted to determine where this minor purchased his drinks. I realize of course, that this minor does not freely tell the investigating officer where he made the purchase, but like any other investigation, all the facts should be developed by the investigator in order to lead to a successful conclusion of the investigation. You may rest assured that should this minor be found in possession of stolen property for example, the investigation would be furthered until it was learned from whom the stolen property was obtained.

It is a sad fact that a teenager can do what can legally be done by his parents and can be imprisoned for doing so, consequently placing a blot on his records which remains with him for his lifetime, and the seller or purveyor which placed this alcoholic beverage in his hands is not even criticized for doing so.

It is the opinion of the writer that in a prosecution of a minor for violation of the Michigan law concerning possession by a minor, that it be required that the seller of the alcoholic beverage be required by law to serve as a prosecution witness for the State in order to prosecute this minor.

This would accomplish two things: it would cause these law enforcement agencies to do the job they should be doing, and secondly, would cause these operators of liquor, beer, and party stores to be just a little more careful than they presently are in selling their products. This for the reason that none of them would relish the idea of having to go to court to aid in the prosecution of a minor to whom they had sold their wares.

CONCERNED PARENT

Kuhn Titular Head

Editor:

The recent selection of Christian F. Powell to the Chairmanship of the 19th Congressional District Republican Party, has brought about remarks of disunity in the G.O.P. This is not the way I have observed the scene at the many meetings that I have attended as an interested Republican observer.

What cries of disunity there were, came from a few individuals from the Farmington area, whose major concern was for a stronger Oakland County organization and a weaker 19th District Republican organization.

Former Chairman, John Coe, tried to unite the new 19th District into one organization, but ran into opposition from several Farmington and Livonia dissenters.

The majority of members on the Statutory Committee come from the Livonia, Redford Twp., and Farmington area. The attendance of some committee members from these areas, at the monthly meetings, has been unworthy of the responsibility they were chosen to perform.

It is only proper that Richard D. Kuhn should be the titular head of the 19th District on the basis of winning the Republican nomination as candidate of the U.S. Congress, as is William Broomfield in the 18th, George Meader in the 2nd, etc.

Dick Kuhn has constantly suggested that we have one Congressional District organization that each area in the district be fairly represented, and so all interested citizens will have a meeting place.

I urge ALL Republicans who are concerned and interested in good government to make an effort to attend the monthly meetings, which will resume again in September, so as to be informed what really is happening in our district.

JOHN TIMISON
Republican Precinct Delegate,

Crime and The Human Brain

(Second in a series by Ralph H. Pino, M.D. former head of Ophthalmology for Harper Hospital, now living in Plymouth. The series concerns itself with the problems of drinking as it relates to crime, violence and youth.)

In this second article relating to increasing crime, it is important that we consider more about the brain which is the organ of the mind, the seat of learning, and of human behavior.

In crime, the human brain functions in the opposite direction to all that education proposes. Children and young people go to school with the hope of success in life, but crime begets failure.

With all the marvels of nature in the whole field of biology, nothing has been created to compare with the human brain. Except for man, the earth would be only a wilderness today. We suppose we are here for a purpose. From the day a child is born, and from its first day in school, fond hope and expectation dwell in the hearts and minds of normal parents for that child.

Nature has provided greater protection to the brain than to any other organ of the body by enclosing it within the bony skull. Its only openings are small and for the exit and entrance of important nerves and blood vessels and their supporting tissue. So great are the energy needs of the brain that one-fifth of the blood supply of the entire body is shunted through it. Not only has the importance of the brain been safeguarded by nature by its evolutionary isolation, but by being created in duplicate (though connected) into two cooperating yet separate brain hemispheres. Either side can function quite well in the partial absence of the other side as when surgical removal of the cortex (the gray matter) is necessary, comparable to the removal of a lobe of one of the lungs, or of one eye which is an extension of the brain.

We hold much in common with the animals in brain structure except that in the creative process man's upper front brain has expanded far beyond the development of any type of animal. That which we hold in common with the animals is spoken of as the "old brain"; that which has been added through evolution through the centuries of learning in the form of the larger cortex is distinctive of man. It is the relatively more recent "new brain". All of the brain of man however, is essential to his life. The instincts are native to the brain and body function, but in the human being are much modified by action of the conscious mind as compared with the animals. This "new brain" is the main area of conscience and of judgment. It is the "supreme court" of the mind.

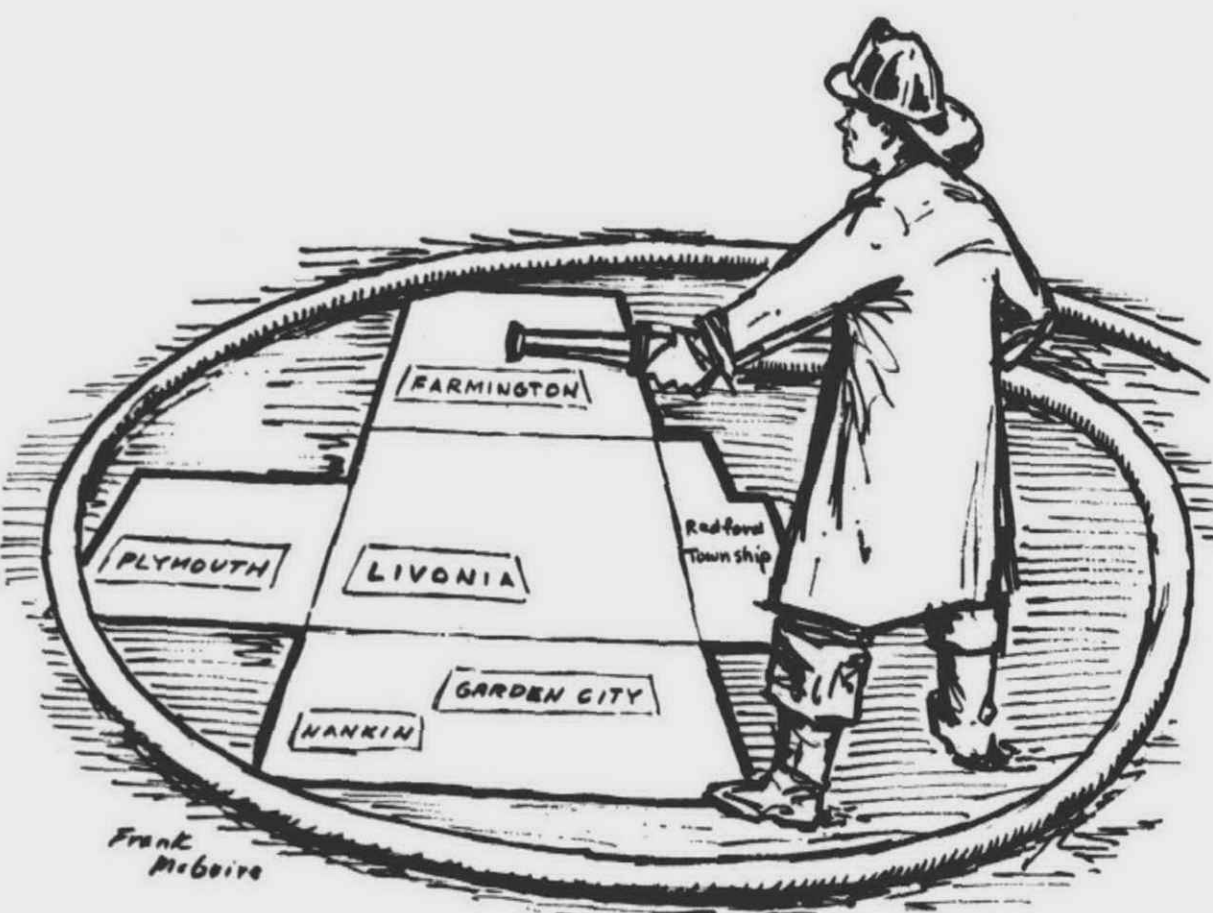

When by reason of disease, heredity, environment, ignorance, or intoxication, the "new brain" becomes temporarily or permanently injured, a man's behavior and competence is impaired.

By reason of man's higher analytical powers, man can be more dangerous than animals, for animals are not capable of inventing and using complicated instruments of destruction and other methods of conscious subversive human behavior. In crime, areas of the "new brain" go out of control. The brain is very resistant to chemicals and drugs, but exceptions to this include alcohol, the barbiturates, and other tranquilizers which throw the upper front judgment area off balance first. Thus it is that crime can be propagated by the vigorous sales pressures of these and other habit forming drugs.

The importance of the human brain among all of nature's wonders is further emphasized by the vastness of its mechanisms. It is made up of 10 to 13 billion cells, and each cell is attached to an incoming and an outgoing tendril carrying to other cells and centers, messages—back and forth in a telephone system. Many of the messages are by order of the conscious mind, but many more are automatic. The automatic functions keep us alive with the help of the instincts, while the will selects the things that give purpose and direction to life.

And strangely enough, these billions of brain cells contain electric batteries, self-charged from the biochemical inherent in our creation. So important is the nourishing blood supply to the brain, that a tiny blood vessel accompanies each brain cell and its tendrils to as close as one-thousandth of an inch of each neuron. The complete cell unit is called a neuron. Neurons forming into bundles make up the nerves which form into pathways which transfer messages throughout the body and consciousness. Some nerves, such as the nerve of vision, contain a million or more cells which make up the retina and vision, as many also supply the areas of hearing, speech, locomotion, etc. Nature tries to give us perfect brains, so important is human life, but when some of the senses fail, others may check in to help.

RALPH H. PINO, M.D.

Observing the Scene...

By MYRA CHANDLER

It is difficult to find a solution to a problem until the problem is clearly defined.

Everybody recognizes the problem of too high taxes in suburban communities today. Each of us is inclined to blame our mayor, supervisor, school board, President of the United States, his wife, or the Vice President, depending on our mood and politics.

My theory is that we are to blame ourselves. We have moved from the bustling city with all of its services to the glorious country.

We don't want to part with one of our city services and yet we cannot tolerate a change of one of our suburban traditions.

We are pricing ourselves right out of our lovely suburbs. We must change our thinking. Leaders recognizing this need for change are fought to the mat.

For instance, the Association of Township Supervisors, Treasurers and Clerks has repeatedly gone on record against the League of Women Voters and its stand in favor of County Home Rule, one method of consolidation of powers. Harm every hair on their ole grey head, but don't strip them of any power.

Through the efforts of the Governor, the LWV, the Jaycees of Michigan, the organized Republicans, and those Democrats that were disorganized, the 1963 Constitutional Convention was accomplished.

Thus allowing this session of the Senate and House to pass a bill which reorganized some 140 state agencies into 19. It wasn't easy.

Mayor Harvey Moelke of Livonia has long been beating his breast trying to get someone to listen to him about consolidation of fire and police below the administrative level.

It was definitely recommended by the Citizens Research Council of Michigan. This council has to be respected. It is absolutely without bias, has no political party affiliation, is no cousin to anyone involved, and always comes up with just a pure analysis and careful study.

The plan is so beautifully simple—but, of course, it does involve a change—something new.

Based on the premise that a fire department must provide a given number of men for relatively infrequent and short periods and a police department better prevents crime and accidents with a large number of men on patrol, it was evident to the council that firemen, appropriately trained, can be used for patrol, also appropriately trained, can respond to fire alarms. Thus, the potential usefulness of each man is increased and the same number of men can provide better protection to persons and property from criminals and fires.

Fire halls with bedrooms, kitchens, etc., can be eliminated as one expense. Maybe in this way each can receive a more equitable living wage. Firemen could work eight hour shifts.

Can we shake tradition that much?

And in this area of changing tradition there is going to be a campaign launched early this fall to study the year-round school plan. New York area has put the plan into operation on a last family initial basis—thereby allowing families to have like vacations.

A complete report on the campaign will be awaited eagerly by this reporter.

Another report that has come across the desk that was jointly sponsored by Wayne State University, U. of M. and Michigan State, is a detailed study to stake out the course of action that will enable the local units of government in a six-county area—Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe, St. Clair and Washtenaw—to meet the local government needs of the people of the area in the most efficient, economical and responsible manner. It was published by the Metropolitan Fund, Inc.

A thorough study was made to see what services could be provided combining the services among the 404 units of local government in this area.

The money that could be saved from garbage contracts to each individual nook and cranny in this six-area six-county area would be enough to make any Mayor or Supervisor able not only to campaign on cutting taxes, but also to do it.

Course every traditionalist in six counties will be beating the bushes to find an army opposing the many measures suggested in the 69-page study.

Nevertheless copies of this report are available free of charge to any political office holders—or potential of same—free of charge to them.

If ANYTHING happens the investment will be worth it.

Yesterday's Headlines

25 YEARS AGO
(July 10, 1940)
Because of the establishment of a fifth precinct in Livonia, the Township clerk Harry S. Wolfe and his assistants were kept busy as registration continued for the upcoming election. Other front page news reported that $125,000 worth of Water Bonds had been sold to three companies.

5 YEARS AGO
(July 7, 1960)
In this year the Township of Redford had over 32,000 kids in their school district. Of these 32,000, 17,000 are in Redford South and 15,000 in neighboring Union Redford.

1 YEAR AGO
(July 8, 1964)
Over 15,000 people crowded the streets of Plymouth as the biggest Fourth of the July parade passed down Main Street. The prime attraction of this parade was the appearance of Gov. Romney and the crowning of Miss Plymouth for 1964.

Division in the family circle will always be a very unsatisfactory kind of arithmetic.

Redford Man Gets New Post at Evans

George Nampa, 12800 Hemingway, Redford Township, has been promoted to Sales Engineer assigned to hydra-cushion underframes at Evan Products Co. plant in Plymouth. He had been assistant project engineer.

Nampa has been with Evans' engineering department for seven years in Plymouth. Evans and the Waugh Equipment Co. of Chicago are co-owners of Hydra-cushion Incorporated, manufacturers of the hydra-cushion shock-absorbing underframes which are used to protect freight cars and their contents from damaging shocks due to impact. Prior to joining Evans, Nampa was employed by Ford Motor Co. in Dearborn for a year and spent eight years with North American Aviation in Los Angeles. He attended Michigan State University and Furman University where he studied mechanical engineering. He served in the Air Force during World War II. He and his wife are the parents of two daughters. In addition to hydra-cushion underframes, Evans is also a leading manufacturer of specialized freight cars, and is the leading producer of rail and truck-trailer damage prevention equipment.

Farmington Youths Visit Europe, Asia

Five Farmington youngsters are among 600 students from more than 200 Michigan high schools, who left Detroit Metropolitan Airport on Friday, June 25, to spend two months as members of families in 14 different countries.

The Farmingtonites are part of a mission of good will sponsored by the group known as Youth for Understanding.

They include three students from Farmington Sr. High, and two from North Farmington High. From Farmington Sr. High, they are Connie Aldrich, 23935 Gill Road, who is going to Sweden; Janet Lawsche, 33131 Meadowlark, who is going to Japan; and Dennis Moore, 28263 Brar Hill, who is going to Holland.

From North Farmington High are: Richard North, 36416 Quakertown Lane, whose destination is Sweden; and Joyce Ray, 23812 Farmington Road, who will be in Germany.

Other countries to which Michigan students are being sent, as part of this program are Finland, Denmark, Austria, Switzerland, France, Spain, England, Ireland, Mexico, and Uruguay. They will be accompanied by 90 adult leaders. The program also brings youths to Michigan, from Europe and Latin America.

Four hundred European youngsters left here on Monday, June 28. Six hundred and fifty will arrive here from Europe in August.

School Buys Forty Acres

The Farmington Public School District has concluded a purchase agreement to acquire some 40 acres of land at the southwest corner of 12 Mile and Drake Rds. The property is owned by Mrs. Eunice M. Morris.

The sale price of $94,000 is subject to survey. The purchase agreement reached was $2,350 per acre or fraction thereof, depending upon the survey.

The site will fit into very long range planning to meet the district's future needs — possibly to serve the district as a site for a fourth senior high school.

LUANNE BELLFY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Bellfy of Arcola Ave., Livonia, was graduated from Mercy School of Nursing on Sunday, June 6 at Mercy College of Detroit. She was a 1962 graduate of Benedictine High School of Detroit. Miss Bellfy received special recognition for academic achievement, attitude, loyalty and interest.

Director Named for Area Sheltered Workshop

Although the organization is less than seven months old, Community Opportunity Center, which includes interested residents in Livonia, Plymouth, Redford Township and Northville, will open its sheltered workshop for mentally retarded and handicapped adults in September—with a few provisions that are expected to be answered within the next two weeks.

That was the announcement Monday by President Wendell Smith, of Plymouth, when he told of the hiring of an experienced Workshop director and hopes for locating the center in the old Newburgh School at the intersection of Ann Arbor and Newburgh Roads in Livonia. Ernest Moran, of 41463 Crestwood Lane, in the Lake Pointe subdivision of Plymouth Township, has been hired as director and assumed his new post Tuesday.

Moran will have headquarters in downtown Plymouth until the organization receives approval to use the Newburgh School. That decision rests with the Livonia Board of Education in its regular monthly meeting in two weeks.

Smith indicated the Center hopes to receive affirmative action since the building has been practically abandoned since Schoolcraft College moved its administrative offices and Library to the new campus last September.

"There is ample space in the building even though the structure itself is an old one," said Smith, "It will answer our purposes for a long time and we hope the Board gives its consent."

Moran, a native of Detroit where he was graduated from Northwestern High, holds a Bachelor's degree in Liberal Arts and a Master's degree in Education from Wayne State University. He has worked with retarded at the Wayne County Training School for the past six and a half years, dealing primarily with the secondary program for boys between the ages of 15 and 17.

Moran plans to start the task of screening applications for the workshop which will probably start with a pilot program of eight and then gradually grow as the work contracts improve and there is demand for additional workers.

Moran hopes to move out of the temporary offices into permanent quarters in the Newburgh School if the approval is granted and then start the task of securing work contracts for those enrolled in the program.

take care of those handicapped who never will be able to stand the rigors of competition always present in regular employment. These can work and do a good job but only under conditions that take into consideration their capabilities and limitations.

Moran and officers of the Center have contacted all school systems in the four communities for names of handicapped and expect to receive additional names on a voluntary basis.

"We know there are many in the four communities who should take advantage of this program," Moran said, "Unfortunately the names aren't readily available and we have to depend on school system recommendations and from the persons themselves. We urge all to contact us when we are in permanent quarters."

The officers of Community Opportunity Center are: Smith, president; George Conover of Plymouth, vice president; Robert Clogg of Livonia, treasurer; and William Green of Plymouth, secretary.

Board of Directors: David Cooper, Plymouth; Clifford Page, South Lyon; Anna Jung, Plymouth; Marjorie Conover, Plymouth; James Mies, Livonia; John Murawski, Plymouth; and Alice Mohrhardt, Plymouth.

'RESOURCES WORKSHOP': 47 Area Teachers Look Around Them

Learning more about the community around them is the goal of 47 classroom teachers from areas served by The Observer Newspapers.

They are enrolled with educators from throughout metropolitan Detroit in the 1965 Northwest Community Resources Workshop.

And, from June 28 to July 23, they'll be visiting public service, industrial, commercial and other enterprises. They hope to use the information garnered from the three-week session to improve their teaching background for next year's classes.

As an example of their activities, the teachers boarded busses last Wednesday at 8 a.m. to visit two Detroit Edison plants. How handicapped workers repair meters and other facilities were shown them, and slides of electrical service operations were viewed.

Teachers from this area who participate in the workshop, which is under the direction of Corlan D. Bovee, include:

Livonia: Erma Bannell, Donna Bertell, Marjory Brown, Mary Susan Coleman, Ronald Cowden, Myrna Dunn, Olan Johnson, Lydia King, Pat Kresin, Patricia Laarman, Lucretia Larmon, Sylvia Long, Marilyn Love, Judy Morgan, Margaret Morrison, Shirley Perryman, Nancy Sekulich, Marguerite Stasak, Frederick Toy, Sylvia Varady and Nicette Watkinson.

Wayne Community Schools: Linda Notman and Marilyn Surdyk.

Arbor Chrysler Opens Huge Plymouth Salesroom

The Arbor Chrysler agency, Plymouth's newest entry to automobile row along Ann Arbor Road, is open for business in its new quarters at the intersection of Lilley and Arbor Roads, giving the area the first Chrysler sales and service plant in several years.

Arbor Chrysler started operations in its new 13,140 square foot building two weeks ago but Owner Robert Mallory is withholding the grand opening for another two weeks.

"We wanted to have the entire plant with the six acres of blacktop parking facilities and the huge used car lot in use before having a grand opening," said Mallory, longtime Chrysler official establish an outlet in the Plymouth area and finally picked the site at the intersection of the two main highway arteries as the best available.

It also is located at what is

Marshall Mowen

now the start of Plymouth's auto row which continues along Ann Arbor Road from Lilley Road to Main Street and lists most of the new and used car dealers in the community.

Mallory started selecting his department heads well in advance of the opening of the facilities and believes he has one of the best organizations in the entire section.

Harold Marshall is the new car sales manager and is well known to Plymouthites since he has been in automobile sales for more than 15 years in the Plymouth-Wayne district. He has 13 years service in Wayne and was with another Plymouth dealer for the past two years before accepting the post with Arbor Chrysler.

Other department heads are: Robert Leppo, used car manager; Harry Mowen, service manager; and Ernest Olson, parts manager. All currently are residents of the Plymouth community.

Leppo Olson

Arbor Chrysler is equipped to handle all types of service including body and collision work and the staff of 25 will be on hand at all times to take care of any requests for service, demonstrations of new models for sales or for prospective buyers in the used car lot which is one of the area's largest.

Mallory is a resident of Dearborn Heights but plans to move to Plymouth as soon as he can find a house after the grand opening.

He is married to Mary and they are the parents of one son, Dan, who attends Riverside High.

Mallory has been a Kentucky Colonel, by appointment of Gov. Bert Combs of Kentucky, since 1963 and traditionally makes the trip to the Kentucky Derby in Louisville and then attends the post-derby breakfast given by the Governor at his mansion on the Sunday morning after the Derby.

But at the moment his attentions are on the operation of Arbor Chrysler and the grand opening—he has big plans for that celebration and expects to have an announcement available within a few days.

Safety Checks for Autos Set by Livonia JCs

Plans are progressing for the Livonia Jaycees' fourth annual Automobile Safety Clinic to be held at Wonderland Shopping Center, July 17-18. As in past years, the Clinic will feature an automobile safety inspection as well as the installation of many items of automobile safety equipment. The Jaycees have installed almost 1000 seat belts in their past three clinics and hope to provide many more motorists with these aids to safe driving in this year's project.

Chairman Buck Sobolewski feels that "rear seat belts for the children should be popular this year. Many cars already have front seat belts but people are now beginning to consider the safety of the rear seat passengers as well. After the recent Fourth of July weekend, we hope the public is somewhat more safety conscious and will take advantage of this opportunity to improve their automobiles at a minimum of cost."

In addition to the approved belts, the Jaycees will be offering running lights, belt retractors, headrests, children's safety harnesses, and four way light flashers. Most items will be installed at no additional cost. All motorists in the metropolitan area are invited to attend the Clinic.

Attendance Up As Livonia DPR Opens Programs

Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation leaders began their responsibilities of conducting playground programs last week with a flurry of activities.

"Unbelievable attendance" was the comment of most leaders. As one leader commented, "perhaps, the youngsters were a little bored after spending a week of vacation from school."

Whatever the reason, Department officials are happy of the acceptances of the program by Livonia youngsters.

Procedure for attending one of Livonia's 27 playgrounds is to have the youngsters register between 9:30 p.m. and 5 p.m. which are the hours of operation.

Four Straight Puts Giants on Top

The test of a great team is its ability to come through in a clutch.

Manager Lucky Birkett's Livonia Giants proved themselves real Giants last week in the Greater Livonia - Detroit Free Press baseball league.

At a stake was a trip for the July 4-5 weekend to Zanesville for the leader of last Wednesday. Going into the week, the Redford Township entry held a commanding edge over the Giants.

What's more the Giants were faced with the problem of making up two games because of previous ties and rainouts.

The showdown began on Sunday for the Giants. They had to go against the Redford Township.

In as exciting a game as been played on Livonia's Ford Field, the Giants came through a 2-1 winner. Then on successive days, the Giants bested North Dearborn, 9-5; South Dearborn in a 1-0 thriller, and Wayne Civic Center, 5-1.

Redford had only one other tilt in the league and won, 6-4.

The net result was that the Giants with one fewer loss after the June 30 competition was awarded the holiday trip.

Here's a rundown, game-by-game on what happened last week in the Greater Livonia-Free Press League:

Giants 2, Redford 1
Pete Hembrough of the Giants outduelled Arnie Helwig. The Giants managed only five hits to eight by the losers.

Both the Giants runs came in the first inning when Perry Foor and Jim Rose singled, Mike Stachurski also singled, Roger Frayer was safe on an error and Hembrough delivered what proved the winning hit.

A double by Tom Tanner and single by Tim Fisher produced the Redford run in the second.

Redford had all kinds of fine chances, but Hembrough was terrific in the clutches. In particular, Hembrough got into a real jam in the seventh (and final) inning when Terry Rothwell walked, Dave Woloch doubled and Rich Harlow walked with one out to jam the bases.

Hembrough then proceeded to get the next two batters on strikes.

Giants 9, No. Dearborn 5
Bob Morgan hurled for the victors and lost a shutout in the final inning when the defense caved in behind him. Morgan permitted only one hit in the entire game and sent down 11 batters on strikes.

A six-run uprising in the sixth inning gave the Giants their winning cushion.

Lucky Birkett Jr. opened matters with a walk. Paul Hartage also drew a pass. Then after Perry Foor doubled, Rose and Stachurski walked. Paul Deedler doubled. Rose and Stachurski walked. Paul Deedler doubled and Bob Morgan singled.

Giants 1, S. Dearborn 0
Another thriller from start to finish. It took the Giants eight innings (one extra frame) to gain the verdict when Foor slammed a triple and walked home when Rose socked a single up the middle.

Bill Montroy hurled the route for the victors and kept South Dearborn in check.

Giants 5, Wayne 1
After only resting 72 hours, Hembrough was back on the mound for the Giants.

This time he came through with a two-hitter and received some heavy stickwork from Stachurski with three for three, Foor two for two and Morgan who unloaded a vicious triple.

Redford 6, N. Dearborn 4
Tom Tanner's seven-hit pitching, along with 15 strikeouts, highlighted the conquest for Redford, its sixth against only two losses in the Free Press circuit.

A four-run uprising in the third inning enabled Redford to carry off the banner.

Woloch began the rally with a walk. Harlow and Banwert then singled and Rothwell walked. With one run across in the inning and the bases jammed, Ken Black stroled to the plate and socked a long triple to clean the sacks and give Redford more than enough runs to emerge on top.

Harlow added a double to his single to lead the Redford attack.

Then, It's One Win In Ohio

ZANESVILLE, Ohio — The Phillip Giants of Livonia, Mich., made an impressive showing here Saturday and Sunday against Zanesville's runnerups for the National Amateur Junior baseball title in 1964.

Manager Lucky Birkett's Giants won one and lost two against Zanesville.

"I was very impressed with the way my boys performed on and off the field," declared Birkett.

The Giants started off by losing, 8-1. Then the Livonians rebounded to score an 8-7 conquest.

In the rubber contest on Sunday, the Giants succumbed by a 4-0 score.

The Giants managed only three hits in the series opener. Paul Deedler socked a single in the second inning. Thereafter the Giants went without a safety until the seventh when hits by Gary Birkett and Perry Foor enabled the Giants to avert a shutout.

All scoring in the second game came early in the festivities. Phillippi counted once in the first inning and then erupted with seven in the second to go ahead, 8-0.

But the hosts erupted for seven tallies in the fourth inning and the Giants had to battle to hang on and win, thanks to some fine relief pitching by Bob Morgan.

A double by Deedler and singles by Jim Rose and Mike Stachurski started the Giants to their early 1-0 lead.

In the second inning, Morgan and Pete Hembrough singled and Paul Hartage walked to load the bases. Roger Frayer, Deedler and Foor followed with singles and Rose walked to put the visitors on top, 8-0.

Hembrough, who started for the Giants, coasted along until the fourth when Zanesville knocked him out with seven runs. Morgan then took over and allowed only one hit in the remaining innings.

Deedler with a single and double paced the Giants hitting in the game.

Deedler socked out two hits and Morgan one in the series finale.

Ron Kapanke worked for the Giants and pitched well enough in the game to win under most circumstances.

Plymouth Gal Has Low Score But Doesn't Win

Mrs. George Todd, of Plymouth, fired the best round of golf in the weekly matches of the Women's Suburban Golf Association but it went for naught. She had the low gross of 63 in matches at the Bob O'Link Golf Club in Novi but wasn't eligible for a prize.

So the low gross prize went to Mrs. Frank Lagford, of Dearborn Heights, in the championship flight with an 87 and the low net to Mrs. C. Wingerson of Dearborn with 94-20-74.

The Association moves to the Carleton Glen course in Flat Rock for this week's matches.

Other winners included: FIRST FLIGHT—Mrs. I. Walters, Trenton, low gross with 92; low net, Mrs. P. Woodruff, of Dearborn, 94-25-69.

SECOND FLIGHT—Low gross, Mrs. B. Brier, of Dearborn, 91; low net, Mrs. Doug Bathey, of Northville, 103-30-73.

OBSERVING SPORTS

By George Maskin

PUTTING ONE WORD AFTER ANOTHER — 'Twas a fine story our good friend, Hal Schram, ran in the Detroit Free Press the other day about the sandlot baseball program in Livonia.

Hal very well might have added that Kids' baseball also is prospering in all of the communities bordering on Livonia—meaning in Redford Township, Plymouth, Farmington, Garden City and Nankin.

In each area, there is baseball for all age levels—from eight-year-olds on up.

If there is a tragedy, baseball speaking, it's found in the fact that teams are overloaded in the Little League bracket, but when you get up to teen-agers and adults, the totals fade away to almost nothing.

Where does the blame belong for the scarcity of adult teams?

Point a finger at television . . . at automobiles . . . at rock and roll. There just seem to be too many diversions for our older boys and girls in the modern era in which we live.

Orchids to Willie Horton, who in his rookie season has won himself a starting spot on the American League All Stars who go against the National Leaguers in Minneapolis next Tuesday.

When Horton started his hitting terror in early May, the "know-it-alls" said that he would cool off and fade out the next time he had to face the various clubs.

True his hitting has slipped . . . but he's still socking the ball at better than a .300 clip and ranks among the leaders in the most important department of batting—runs batted in.

The Horton story is a great one in still another manner. Last winter his mother and father both were killed simultaneously in an auto crackup.

The shocking event could have knocked out Horton. But Willie fought off the tears within. And now he has been saluted "as the best" by those who should know better than anybody else—the players and managers in the American League.

It won't be long now and the horses will be racing at the DRC over at Middlebelt and Schoolcraft roads.

Tommy Divine, the DRC publicist, tells us the new clubhouse will be finished in time for the long fall meeting with figures to set all kinds of new records—both in attendance and wagering.

Meantime, for those wishing to watch the horse close to home, there are the trotters who go every evening but Sunday at Northville Downs.

What's happened to the summer?

The Detroit Lions are getting ready to spring into training out at Cranbrook . . . and if you didn't remember . . . the all-star game comes off in Chicago some five weeks hence.

The Lions will play a couple of their pre-season games at Tiger Stadium, slipping in their activities between contests played by the Tigers.

Speaking of the Tigers, they keep fooling all the dopsters who didn't concede them a chance before the campaign began in April.

The Tigers aren't folding. They may have their problems with Sunday doubleheaders, but as long as they can win four or five times during the rest of the week, they'll stay in the thick of contention.

What you have to like about the Tigers is their bench. Charlie Dressen isn't stuck with just his starters.

He always has two or three topflighters in the dugout ready to pinch bat or help out defensively in the late innings. The addition of Orlando Pena also has bolstered the pitching department considerably.

Wouldn't it be something? . . . the world series in Detroit in October?

JUST A THOUGHT: Why not fence in Livonia's Ford Field for baseball?

Wonder when Farmington, Redford Township and Garden City will light up their diamonds for baseball?

TODAY'S TIP: If you don't find Channel 50 on your TV set, be sure and have one for the fall.

The station will carry pro football exhibitions . . . Michigan, Michigan State and Notre Dame . . . in football and basketball . . . also all the 35 road games of the Detroit Red Wings and a flock of contests involving the Pistons.

While you're fixing up your TV, you might make certain that you have a nice, soft chair and lots of pop

Farmington Rolls On In Legion Baseball Play

The Farmington Express continues to roll in the American Legion's Eighteenth District baseball league.

The big Farmington bats knocked over Troy, 10-4, and 7-0, in a doubleheader and then proved too much for Waterford, 7-3, before Manager Wally Christensen's team moved against Southfield in a showdown for first place.

The sweep against Troy and win over Waterford upped the Farmington record to 9-2 for the campaign.

Chuck Viane's pitching and hitting paced the opener against Troy.

The slick hurler from North Farmington high school posted his third Legion win without a loss as he held Troy to six hits.

In addition, Viane clubbed out two hits on his own and scored a pair of runs.

Farmington boomed ahead in the third inning when Dick Johnson homered after Miles Kearney had singled. In the fourth inning, Farmington notched three runs when Bill Oldershaw walked, Wayne Johnson tripled and Viane, Mike Perry and Barry Aeneda singled.

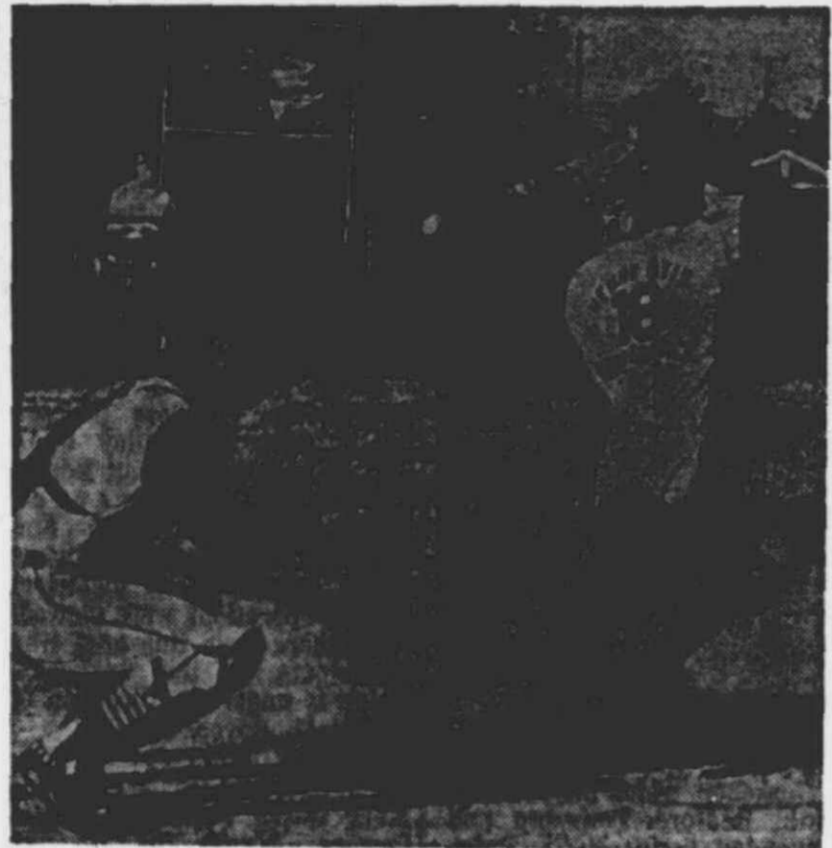

Came the sixth inning and Farmington checked in with five more runs. Oldershaw began matters with a walk. Wayne Johnson and Viane singled, Perry doubled, Aeneda singled and Jim Johnson singled.

Rick Krumm scattered three hits and struck out eight in blanking Troy in the second half of the twin bill.

The long ball again shot Farmington off to a lead. This time it was Tim Marzol's homer following singles by Bill Bowles and Wayne Johnson which made it 3-0 for Farmington in the second inning.

Singles by Misch and Bowles added another run in the third. In the fourth Marzol walked and Krumm and Aeneda singled to up the Farmington lead to 6-0.

The final run scored on hits by Oldershaw, Bowles and SLUGGER IN ACTION: Carl Misch of Farmington's American Legion team clouts out another hit. He started the week with a .636 average.

Wayne Johnson. It was Johnson's fourth hit of the afternoon. Aeneda also collected four safeties in the game.

Steve Page struck out eight of the first nine men he faced and finished with 11 whiffs before retiring in the sixth inning against Waterford. Viane finished up and fanned four more batters.

Tom Webster scored the first Farmington run when he singled, moved to second on a wild pitch and counted on Perry's hit.

In the fourth, Oldershaw tripled, Webster singled and Johnson walked along with a sacrifice fly and a passed ball for three more runs.

Hits by Oldershaw and Bowles added a marker in the fifth. In the seventh, Wayne Johnson homered, Kearney tripled and Bowles delivered a sacrifice fly.

Last weekend also proved a productive one for the Farmington Legion team.

After a 7-0 loss to Southfield on Saturday, Farmington bounced back on Sunday with 3-2 and 3-0 wins over Milford to lift its record to 11-3 for the season.

All of Southfield's runs were unearned. Seven walks and four errors helped along with just three hits.

Farmington had a good chance in the second by loading the bases. In the third, Farmington put two men aboard.

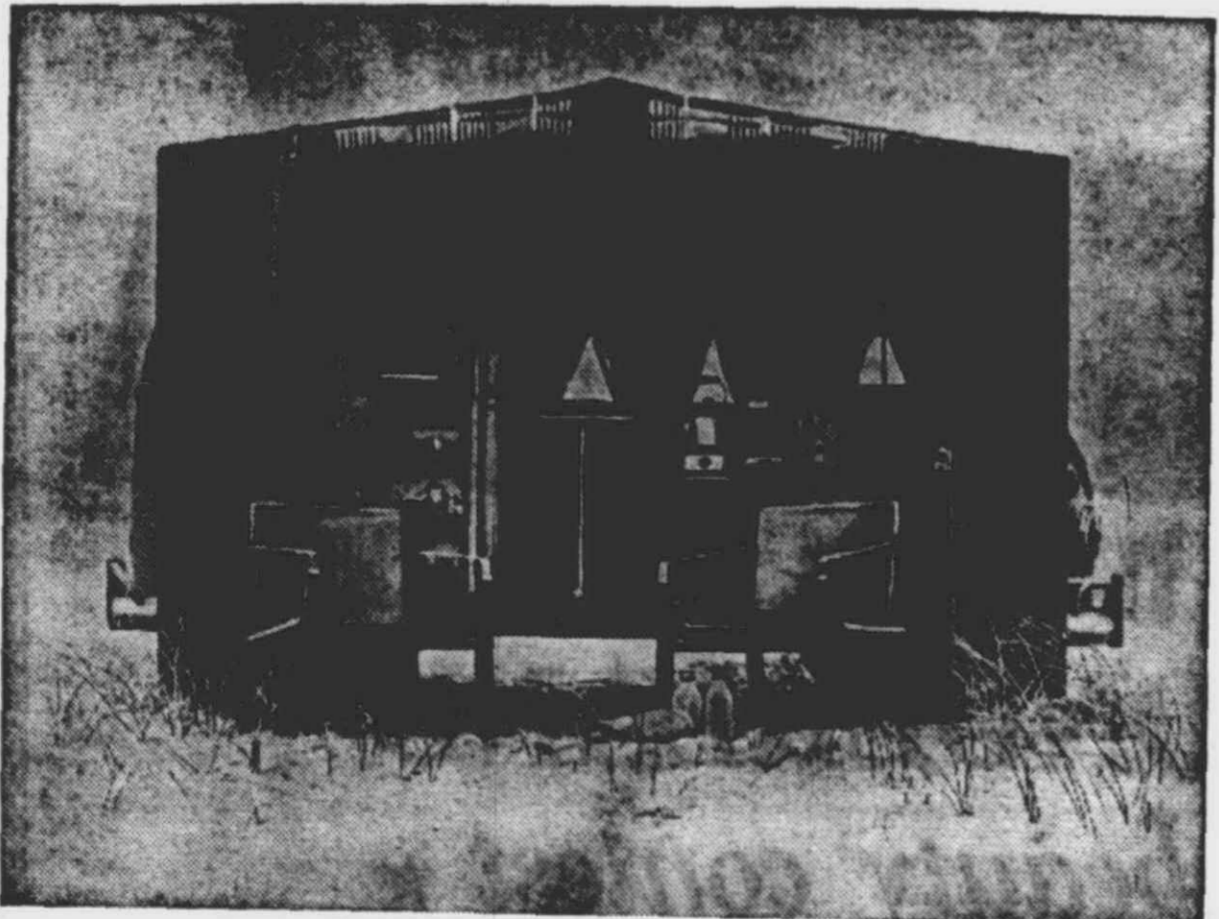

But each time the result was the same—nothing.

Viane came through with his fourth win in beating Milford by a 3-2 score. He allowed four hits and struck out nine.

Singles by Aeneda, Kearney and Dick Johnson gave Farmington an early 1-0 lead. After Milford went ahead, 2-1, in the bottom of the first, Viane won his own game in the fourth by

VW Campmobile delivers at $2995*

The engine's in the back.

Tell the truth. Did you know right off that it was just a Volkswagen Campmobile? Or did you think it was really a place to live? It's an easy mistake to make, because the VW Campmobile is actually more like a house than a car.

There are curtains and screens on the windows, wood paneling on the insulated walls, and wall-to-wall covering on the floor. (All standard equipment.) Two adults and two kids can sleep in it, eat in it, wash in it and keep their clothes and food in it.

And if the old scenery gets dreary, just fold the optional tent and find some new scenery.

Of course, it isn't a house. It's a Volkswagen. With all the things that make a Volkswagen a Volkswagen.

But lots of people go on making the same mistake.

We keep saying it's a Campmobile. And they keep saying it's a place to live.

8,239 Wager $401,221

Betting Mark Falls At Northville Downs

With business at an all-time high for the first two weeks, Northville Downs officials are looking forward for even better things as they swing into the stakes portion of their 37-night summer meeting.

Northville passed the $400,000 barrier for the first time in history last Saturday with a mutual handle of $401,221, bettering the previous high of $396,327 set on April 10 in the 18-night spring campaign.

And now with that barrier hurdled, the Downs is setting its sights on $500,000 and has ambitions of reaching it this season—without the assistance of the twin double which Executive Manager John Carlo has opposed from the start.

A gathering of 8,239, largest of the year for Northville, poured the $401,221 through the machines and boosted the nightly average to $285,881 compared to $266,537 for the same period a year ago. That's an increase of 7.2 percent in wagering.

The better business conditions are reflected in the attendance which is at an all-time high average of 4,790 for the first two weeks, up 9.6 percent over the 4,361 of a year ago.

Northville has handled $3,430,572 to date and that contrasts with $3,199,442 for the same time in 1964.

And things are expected to pick up this week with the renewal of the traditional Michigan Pacing Derby Wednesday night which finds 11 pacers going postward for a purse of $13,100.

The field is the largest in several years and Racing Secretary Harry Peterson tags it as just about the finest in the three years he has been handling the richest of the Northville stakes.

This year's renewal promises to be one of the most exciting

N. REDFORD SCORES THREE TRIUMPHS:

One-Hit Gem Wins For Optimists

Jack Robertson drew the cheers after the Plymouth Optimists bested the South Dearborn entry, 3-1, in a Class D baseball game last Thursday.

Robertson set down Dearborn with one hit and fanned 12 batters. The only run off him resulted from an error.

Robertson also helped his own cause with a single that knocked in Jim Carter with the Optimists' first run.

The other Plymouth markers came when John Bida singled, Jim Arnold tripled and Dave Prochaska singled.

In the Optimists' other game last week, they were blanked by strong North Redford, 8-0.

Dave Bourassa turned in a four-hitter for the winners and fanned six while Randy Maltby slugged out three hits in as many trips to the plate.

Redford jumped into a 3-0 lead in the first inning on singles by Jim Johnston, Dave Beckerleg, Harry Kendrick and Maltby and a walk to Robby Masson.

Maltby socked over Leland Bjorke in the third, hits by Masson and Beckerleg produced two more runs in the fourth and then in the fifth, a triple by Kendrick and singles by Malby and Bourassa concluded the scoring.

North Redford also bested Northville, 4-1, last week and picked up another win when the Wayne team failed to present enough players on the field.

Rick Barryman turned in a neat two-hitter and fanned nine as Redford stopped Northville. He walked five men in the game.

The Redford team again jumped off to a 3-0 lead in the first inning. This time Masson walked, Maltby tripled and Kendrick singled. The latter stole second and came around on a wild pitch.

Masson tallied the other Redford run in the fifth when he was safe on a three-base error and came home on an infield tab.

South Redford turned back the Plymouth Elks, 9-2, in another Connie Mack tilt as Rick Fisher posted his fourth sandlot win of the season without a loss.

Fisher scattered two hits and struck out 11. A hit batter and three walks gave the Elks their first run and the second score resulted from an error and a single by Simmons.

The South Redford team counted twice in the third inning when Mike Turner singled, Rick Fisher walked, Jim Sprout walked and Dave Woloch singled.

A seven-run explosion in the fourth inning settled the proceedings.

Tim Fisher walked and roared home on Claude McTaggart's triple. After Turner walked, Rick Fisher doubled and Reg Barringer unloaded a homer. Woloch gave up the bombardment with a double, Terry Rothwell singled and Tim Fisher, up for the second time in the inning, slammed a double.

The Livonia Bisons went down to defeat in two games. North Dearborn clipped the Bisons, 12-2, as Don Montroy and Pete McGregor knocked in the Bisons' runs. Then the Bisons fell to the Nankin township team, 5-3.

The week's wildest scoring Class D game saw North Dearborn edge Livonia DRC, 10-9.

All of the North Dearborn runs were scored in the second inning on five hits, four walks and one misplay.

DRC came back with a six-run uprising in the fourth when triples by Hank Schoenbeck and Mike Dodson paced the assault.

But at the end DRC still found itself one run short.

The Livonia Giants, playing their fifth game in as many days, made it five straight by blanking Inkster, 5-0. The other four games were in the Free Press League.

Larry Ruzas was on the hill for the Giants, and was in command all the way with a three-hitter.

Ron Kapanke's run-producing doubles in the second and Paul Deedlers' two-run triple in the sixth gave the Giants more than they needed to come out on top.

Garden City Champs! Playoffs Next Target

Hail to Garden City, the champs of the Western Wayne-Washtenaw Counties Connie Mack baseball league.

Manager Chet Buczek's charges took the crown with an 8-2 record and now prepares to embark in the league playoffs which are scheduled to start this weekend.

The playoff victor will advance to the district meet at Monroe. The district champ then advances to the state meet.

The hitting of Stan Wiekowski, Dana Ewles, Ford Simpson and Norm Vasquez led Garden City to the crown.

Vasquez and Paul Kightlinger shared in the pitching, but the latter now is in Puerto Rico and won't rejoin the team for at least two more weeks.

Garden City scored an 8-3 win over Belleville before losing to Ypsilanti Budman, 10-2, and winning on a forfeit from Ann Arbor Everetts last week.

Vasquez was the big show against Belleville. He not only pitched and held the losers to six hits, but he rapped out a single, double and homer and knocked in three runs.

Ewles also unloaded a homer — and his roundtripper, like Vasquez', came with two men aboard.

Ewles' sock put Garden City in front, 3-0, in the first inning. Ken Carier had singled and Simpson had doubled to put runners on third and first.

Up came Ewles and the score became 3-0.

In the fifth inning, Don Chute lashed a single and Bob Stevens was safe on an error. Vasquez followed with his homer and Garden City had more than enough runs to coast home on top.

Ypsilanti Budman unloaded 11 hits against Chute, Mike Hess and Ewles who pitched for Garden City. Six errors also helped Ypsilanti in its run production.

The Garden City hitting attack was limited to three hits—one each by Cartier, Vasquez and Chute.

Sunday's game with Ann Arbor didn't materialize when Ann Arbor failed to show up.

League officials were to meet this Wednesday to decide on the playoff pairings.

Manager Buczek of Garden City is hopeful to play some of the games in Garden City.

It is expected that the playoffs will begin on Saturday.

Observing Sports

corn around. You won't have much time to turn your eyes away from the TV.

We see it all the time in games involving Little Leaguers in particular. Managers and coaches . . . and parents . . . scream at umpires:

"We're going to protest."

A decision on the calling of a ball or strike . . . a safe or out . . . a fair ball or foul ball . . . has disturbed the partisans.

Protesting such verdicts are a waste of time and energy. The rule book specifies that the only time you can protest is when an umpire misinterprets a rule.

Balls and strikes . . . foul or fair balls . . . safe or out . . . come under the category of judgment calls. When judgment is involved . . . there can be no protest.

Kansas City Manager Hayward Sullivan found it against the Tigers a few weeks back. He argued over whether the ball was held long enough by his shortstop. The ump's said "no." The league president backed up the men in blue.

It's the same on the sandlots.

It's Bishop, Van Berg In Duel at Hazel Park

Two of the winningest owners-trainers in thoroughbred annals are now campaigning at the Hazel Park Race Track.

They are Marion H. Van Berg, 69, of Columbus, Neb., and William Hal Bishop, 65, of Anna, Ill. Between them they have won almost 5,000 races for purses totaling over $14,000,000.

Van Berg has been the top thoroughbred owner in the number of races won for the past five years. And he had his finest year in 1964 when he saddled a record 228 winners and won $822,305.

kept them busy, sending them to the post a total of 1,073 times.

Both retain their winning touch but competition is so sharp at Hazel Park these days that they must keep winning if they hope to become the leading owners here. After 56 days of racing, the Van Berg stable, trained by Bob Irwin, has had 26 winners while Bishop saddled 25. Dick Hazelton has sent 28 winner, Dewey Smith 26, Bill Ressequet Jr. 22 and Bob Holthuis 20.

YMCA Sponsor Softball League

The Farmington Area YMCA is sponsoring a Pigtail Softball League for girls between the ages of 9 and 14 years of age. The teams will play at Cloverdale School on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Clara Simpson, a resident of Farmington and well known for her interest and outstanding ability in girls' baseball, will be coordinator and coach for the league.

The teams begin playing the week of July 12 and continue for six weeks. In addition to the YMCA Family or Youth Membership, a $5 program fee is required. Call the YMCA today to get more information or to register — 474-3232.

Lenawee Creed, who won 16 straight as a two-year-old when he was Michigan's most outstanding juvenile, has only been out twice this year—both times under the guidance of Harold Fisher and he showed plenty of speed in each race even though he didn't win.

The remainder of the field includes: a two-horse entry from the Saunders Mills stable of Toledo including Stormy Weather and Buckeye Bay, Livonia Boy, Gold Step, Success Hera, Renard, Trespassers Will and Nice Dream.

The Derby is scheduled as the seventh race Wednesday over the distance of a mile with the pacers shooting at the stake record of 2:02.2 set by H. D. Hanover in 1953.

END OF STRING

The Detroit Tigers were unbeaten in their first six day games of the 1965 season, then lost a matinee doubleheader to Boston.

Pilot Tries Playing; Suffers Fracture

Wally Christensen of Farmington will stick to managing the rest of this season.

He's the pilot of Farmington's high-flying American Legion baseball team.

But last Friday he had the urge to play with the K. C. Slo-pitch team.

The teams were loosening up before the action when Christensen suddenly collapsed. He had fractured a bone in his right foot.

He'll wear a cast for several weeks, but that won't keep him away from his Legion team.

Plymouth to Stage Donkey Baseball Game

There'll be a different cast in the limelight Saturday night on the Plymouth Little League field when league officials, and umpires join forces for a donkey baseball game under the lights against the managers and coaches of teams.

Boys, who participated in the Junior Baseball Program, will have seats in the stands while they watch the adults perform.

The program, which benefits the league, is slated for 8 p.m. under a portable lighting system and is one of the most unusual of the year in the area.

Tickets are available from managers, players and coaches or any others connected with the Plymouth Junior Baseball activities.

Guild Gives Library $50

The success of the 1964-65 season for the Children's Entertainment Guild was the topic of conversation at its recent annual meeting. Sponsored by the Livonia Libraries, the group held two performances for Livonia youngsters and have made plans to have three for the coming season. Plans are to have a theater production, a musical and a choreography program during 1965-66. Marilyn Rosenthal, retiring chairman of the group stated that because of the response to cultural entertainment for our young people the Guild was able to purchase children's books for the Library this year. A non-profit organization there have been occasions when individual members have subsidized the treasury in order to meet the budget. Wilma Wagner has been named as chairman for the coming year. Rachael Rion will act as secretary and Pat Morrill as treasurer.

Garden City Youth Named to Committee

James Abaied of 29564 James, Garden City, a student at Garden City High School, has been named to serve on a Youth Advisory Committee formed to advise the Michigan State Fair management on teen-age tastes and attitudes. Karen Fick of 31332 Elmwood, Garden City, is the alternate delegate from Garden City High. The committee of 25 metropolitan area high school students was formed according to Charley Figy, chairman of the Michigan State Fair Authority, "to keep abreast of the changes in tastes and attitudes of young people in terms of Fair programs, exhibits and entertainment." "The young people actually were recommended by their high school principals or administrators and form a geographical cross section representative of the heavily populated area in and around Detroit," Figy said. Members of the Youth Advisory Committee were selected as follows: one from each of the high schools in the nine

Masque Production Of 'Rebel' Has Merit

BY SUE SHAUGHNESSY
Adolescent behavior was the film-makers' favorite subject a few years back. There was a rash of movies dealing with teenagers—good and bad. Probably the best of these was "Rebel Without a Cause" starring James Dean and Sal Mineo. The stage adaptation of the film is currently running Thursdays through Sundays at the Masque Theatre until July 17.

It is a production with considerable merit. Jack Sarcona, who appears in the lead role of Jim Stark, is convincing. The real star of the show, however, is Frederic Alpert who appears as Plato. A local boy who attends Clarenceville High School, he steals the show by acting, not hamming. Bernadette Lukasik appears as Judy and her performance improves as the play moves on. Real accolades go to Director Maraman Glessenger, however, for his effective staging and set—or rather lack of scenery. It is a tribute to his work and to the entire cast that nothing is lost by the complete absence of a set.

Rather, this void, while demanding more of the audience, assists in the fact changes of locale. Louise Martin, well known to local audiences from her appearances in Livonia-Redford Theatre Guild and Redford Suburban League productions, appears in the cast as Mrs. Stark—the domineering mother. She is convincing as the shrew, but stilted when the role demands some understanding and compassion. As was stated earlier, the production has a considerable merit and should be on theatre-goers list of "things to see."

Be prepared for a long evening though. While the pace of the play is just about right the two 20-minute intermissions are killing. This reviewer would strongly suggest that the intermission times be cut in half during any future productions.

Rotary Sends Redford Kids to Summer Camps

A happy and unexpected event by many attending was the formal presentation of a check from the Redford Rotary Club to send six children to Camp for two weeks. The check was presented to Robert Tower, President of the RARC, by Art Harper and Dolph Ploehn. The Public is invited to attend RARC meetings held on the second Tuesday of each month at 8 p.m. in the Beech Road School, 18499 Beech-Daly Road. Refreshments and a social hour follows each meeting. For information call KE. 4-6259 or KE. 3-8722. The Sheltered Workshop organization is well under way and an attempt is being made to discover the names of persons who might take advantage of this service. Redford representative is Phyllis Armour, KE. 1-6842, who will assemble this information.

MOST WINS
Hank Aguirre has more major league victories than any other pitcher on the Detroit Tiger staff. Going into the 1965 season he had 53 wins.

Group Meeting

Boys and girls between the ages of six and 12 are invited to participate in the Farmington YMCA's Summer Fun Club. It meets on Tuesday mornings between 10 a.m. and 12 noon. Its activities are crafts, softball, archery, hiking, ping pong, pool, and table games. It is informal, with no registration required. For Y members it costs 25 cents for each session.

DWAYNE HICKMAN AND DEBORAH WALLEY visited the State Theater in Wayne last week. They are currently on a promotion tour for their recent films. At the time of the visit Miss Walley's film "Ski Party" was showing at the Theater.

Color Panels on Display at Cranbrook

Eminent artist Josef Albers has devoted years to the study of color phenomena and the development of a color theory. Some of the results of this research in the form of the Albers color panels will be on display in Cranbrook Institute of Science from July 15 through August 30. The exhibit is circulated by the Smithsonian Institute.

Albers has written: "Color is the most relative medium in art. In order to use color effectively it is necessary to recognize that color deceives continually". In his book Interaction of Color, Albers demonstrates that no color exists independently but rather that each color is affected by adjacent tones. He then develops the thesis that we know little about color and then increases our sensitivity to it.

Optical illusions, after-images, color textures, color temperatures, spatial effects, the distortion of color photography and reproductions are all illustrated in his book and the exhibit based upon it. Cranbrook Institute of Science is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and from 1 to 5 p.m. on the weekends, except major holidays. There is an admission charge.

To Tour Europe In Choral Group

David Stidwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Stidwell, of 23663 Longacre, in Farmington, is one of the members of the Michigan Youth Choral, a group of 68 teenagers and their sponsors, representing 35 Michigan communities, left June 23 for an eight-week concert tour of four European countries. Mr. Robert Pratt, chairman of the music department of the Ann Arbor High School, is their conductor.

Making their fifth trip to Europe on their eighth international concert tour, the Choral will leave Wednesday evening from Metropolitan airport, for their first stop at Bangor, Northern Ireland. The 60-day itinerary will include Bangor, Northern Ireland, Burton-on-Trent and Tunbridge Wells, England, Amsterdam, Holland, and a tour through Holland. In Germany, they will sing in Stolberg, Iserholm, Berlin and in Hamburg. Television and radio performances are scheduled in each country.

Choral members will live in the homes of European families during their stay in each city. They were chosen from more than 300 students of Michigan high schools who auditioned during last October. The purpose of the group tour is to carry American student's interpretation of our school music programs into other countries. The Michigan Youth Choral is sponsored by Youth for Understanding, an organization which is related to and cooperates with the Michigan Council of Churches and other re-

THE MONTEREYS will compete July 13 against four other bands for the State of Michigan Championship in Bay City. If they win they will compete against a band from each big city in the state for the title. Members of the group are from left, Artie Fleischer, Richard Owen and Kevin Lambert, all from Farmington; Wayne Hurd of Oak Park; and Lanny Young of Livonia.

Schedule Old Car Festival

The "finest of the fine" would easily describe the 100 classic automobiles, circa 1925-1942, that will be entered in judging competition at Greenfield Village on July 10. Elegance, beauty and engineering masterpieces are some of the words used to describe the sleek machines that will be exhibited at the Midwest Grand Classic. Vintage model Rolls Royces, Duesenbergs, Lincolns and Cadillacs are just a few of the many automobiles that will be entered in the judging for national honors at the rally. Visitors to Greenfield Village are invited to witness the many activities connected with this program. All of the special outdoor programs during the summer are included in the regular Greenfield Village admission charge.

For A Real Evening of Pleasure Visit Taylor's

Wally Roberts GOING UP 'CURTAIN

Stratford's Shakespearean Festival has moved silently into its thirteenth season without the advance fanfare of the usual big name stars. Alec Guinness, Jason Robard Jr., Paul Scofield, Christopher Plummer, James Mason have all had their "day" at Stratford's theater.

Perhaps the management thought possibly they were in for a streak of bad box-office luck with season thirteen looming ahead. Their past twelve seasons have assured them that nothing drastic could go wrong. And old Wally is happy to report after a two-day visit that Stratford is still superb.

The 1965 company includes the versatile Douglas Campbell this year. He's paying a farewell visit. Starting next year he will replace Tyrone Guthrie as the artist director of the Minnesota Theater Company.

Campbell has directed "Julius Caesar" and is playing the part of Hotspur in Henry IV for the Canadian company. As always he does an outstanding job in both departments. His "Hotspur" is a friendlier, yet a vocally more powerful presentation of this villainous character.

In 1958, when the Stratford folks did "Henry IV" Douglas Campbell played the roistering, boisterous Falstaff. His Falstaff was broad and bathed in lechery.

Tony Van Bridge's interpretation suggestions is a softer, more affable portrayal. Mr. Van Bridge gives the part an inner strength via sensitive underplaying. Only occasionally does he rise to raucous heights. Consequently, the full humor of the masterful lines as written by Shakespeare come through clearly and cogently.

Falstaff's companions, especially Gadshill and Bardolph, do their utmost to steal the center of attention away from wise, witty old Jack Falstaff. Eric Christmas as Bardolph comes close to stealing several scenes with his popping eyes and bizarre movements.

Douglas Rain, one of the few Stratford actors that can claim to have been with the company for 13 years, turns in a magnificent job as Prince Hal. Over the years Mr. Rain can be remembered for many fine roles. His Iago was great. As Boyet in "Love's Labour Lost" he proved to be quite comic. In "Henry VIII" his Cardinal Wolsey was a powerful interpretation. As the king in "King John" he held the show together. Without a doubt Douglas Rain is truly an accomplished, versatile performer.

Rain's versatility and wide range of parts puts him in the number one spot of my Stratford ratings. Chris Plummer occupied the top spot for a long while. John Colicos was up there for awhile, but not consistently. Incidentally, Mr. Colicos is out on the summer stock trail this year doing the lead role in "Mary, Mary." A curious switch for an actor so at home in classical roles.

Stuart Burge's staging seemed a bit static at times. Stratford has always given the customers a great deal of swirl and scintillating action for their Shakespeare dollar. Mr. Burge, being a purist at heart, loves to leave

LOUISE MARTIN of Redford Township portrays the domineering mother in an episode scheduled for the July 28 TV program "Juvenile Court." ROBERT WEBBER

Publicity Shy Actor Featured in 'Sandpiper'

After completing more than 400 major shows for television, Robert Webber has devoted the greatest portion of the past year to the film industry.

His fans will soon be happy to see him return in "The Sandpiper" just released and "The Third Day" soon to be released.

"The Sandpiper," starring Liz and Richard Burton, opens July 23 at the Mai Kai Theatre on Plymouth Rd. in Livonia.

Webber is a paradox in a profession which considers publicity its life blood.

He has managed to guard his privacy zealously. Even his most devoted fan knows little about him except a few vital statistics.

Born in Santa Ana, California, Webber stands a lean and lithe six foot one, weighing in at 170 pounds. Irish, English, German and a strain of Cherokee Indian form his ancestry.

While still in his teens, he went to New York to begin his acting career on the stage.

Set Construction To Be Explained

Fred Sammut, scenic designer for Northland Playhouse, will give a demonstration on constructing a set for a play at the Thursday (July 15) meeting of "Inside Show Business" from 2 to 3:30 on the Northland Playhouse stage.

This is the fourth in a series of six weekly Green Room meetings sponsored by the University of Detroit Repertory Theatre and U. of D. Center for Continuing Education in conjunction with Northland Playhouse.

Sammut will be assisted by Northland Playhouse apprentices as he illustrates the creation of the set for the current Northland production "Never Too Late" from bare

Thurston Teacher To Study Geology

Thurston High School will be represented next year in a very elite group of 20 teachers of superior ability selected from across the nation to study under National Science Foundation auspices as part of an experiment in maximizing the preparation level of the high school teacher.

Selected from Thurston was Richard Munson, teacher of earth sciences, who will take a sabbatical year for the tough schedule at Indiana University at Bloomington. He was one of the group picked from 600 applicants to study geology, meteorology, conservation, astronomy, and physical geography at the highest possible subject matter level of training.

In this advanced study, students will make use of computers and seismograph equipment. As part of the program, Munson will spend the summer in the field for eight weeks in southwestern Montana in the "Tobacco Root Range" of the Rocky Mountains.

According to Supt. M. D. Roe, "this use of sabbatical time represents a kind of activity which is becoming more common as foundations make funds available to add to the half-salary compensation given teachers by the district under sabbatical policy. The results in upgrading teaching are being demonstrated widely."

Other Thurston faculty members utilizing grants include Mrs. Shirley Duller, studying at Michigan State on a fellowship; Carl Peters, who will be at Michigan College of Mining and Technology for the summer, under a National Science award; and Marvin Smith, who will be at the University of New Mexico on a NDEA sponsorship to participate in the nuclear studies program in summer school.

KEY OF OPPORTUNITY is presented to Krisan Fluckey, Miss Plymouth of 1964, by Mayor James Houk with the best wishes of the entire community in the Miss Michigan pageant in Muskegon later in the month. The presentation was one of the highlights of Friday's Miss Plymouth Pageant in the high school auditorium.

seats of honor in the first float in the July 4 parade when they were officially introduced to the community for the first time.

Judging was handled by a panel including: Al Wouters, Mrs. Marilu Hunt, Mrs. Rustle Shand and Dr. Kenneth Anderson.

The pageant was in charge of General Chairman Staton Lorenz with Marty McNeeley, of WWJ Newsline as the master of ceremonies.

In an additional ceremony at the pageant, Mayor James Houk presented a Key of Opportunity to Krisan Fluckey, who will represent Plymouth in the Miss America pageant at Muskegon later in the month.

Queen Marilynne received a $400 scholarship among other valuable merchandise prizes for her victory. She will represent Plymouth in the Miss State Fair contest in late August and will be the city's official representative at numerous civic events during her year as Miss Plymouth.

The parade, probably one of the longest and most entertaining in years, attracted more than 10,000 to Plymouth's downtown section along the line of march.

It was led by former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who was making his 12th appearance in the parade, and Congressman Wes Vivian.

Then came the floats, bands (five of them), marching units, bicycle riders, horsemen, antique cars, and just about anything one could expect from a July 4 parade.

And while the thousands of spectators were oohing and aahing, the panel of judges was carefully watching each unit for the final award of plaques.

The panel included: City Commissioner George Hudson and his brother, Councilman William Hudson of Grosse Pointe Park, City Commissioner James McKeon and his wife, Township Trustee Dick Lauterbach and William Saxton.

The final decisions were made when the panel examined the floats and units for a second time at Junior High East.

Then they awarded the plaque for the best commercial float to the National Bank of Detroit; best organizational float to the Newcomers Club; best organizational marching unit to Company C of the American Legion, a group depicting soldiers of the Civil War; best organizational band to the Chrysler Highlanders bagpipe band; and the best military marching to the Ambassadors in Blue of Selridge Field.

70-YEAR-OLD Ruth Von Stein, of 1450 Sheridan, forgot her age and acted like a youngster again as she personally took charge of placing flowers in the float of the Plymouth Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association. That's Mrs. Marie Frisbie, (left) 9410 Ball, and Mrs. Evelyn Gilbert, club president who resides at 10440 Warren Road, lending a hand.

Plymouth DPW News; Explains Playgrounds

BY SUPT. JOSEPH BIDA
Plymouth Dept. Public Works
Last week an article appeared in one of the local newspapers (not The Observer) in regard to the Mill Street playground.

I would like to point out that the swing in question was not rusty and old but rather was purchased this spring and installed in April. The pole mentioned in the article is a ball net and the City doesn't furnish the balls—this is entirely in the hands of residents of the neighborhood.

In regard to Hough Park Playground, this is not considered a TOT LOT.

The Starkweather School is only three blocks from the Mill Street playground and there is equipment there that could be used. There will be additional equipment at the Mill Street playground as soon as the DPW has the time to install it.

Beginning this week, weeds will be cut on unsightly vacant property that has not been taken care of by the owner. The work will be done section wide and as quickly as possible by DPW crews.

The past week found the crews installing water taps on S. Main, W. Liberty, and Karmada.

The business district was swept, parking stripes were painted in the Central Parking lot and mowing was continued at the City Hall and all playgrounds. There were three funerals at Riverside Cemetery and mowing and cleaning continued at the cemetery.

A sanitary sewer tap was installed on Karmada and the sanitary sewer was dug up on S. Harvey. Chloride was applied on Davis Street between the railroad and W. Liberty Street. A low spot was cut out of the road on Church Street just west of Adams.

Kenneth Hulsing

Ken Hulsing Promoted by GM Diesel

Kenneth L. Hulsing, of 1010 Church, Plymouth, has been named Director of Engineering at Detroit Diesel Engine Division of General Motors by General Manager C. W. Truxell.

Hulsing replaces C. W. Frederick, who retired July 1 under provisions of the Corporation's retirement plan.

He is the husband of Mrs. Esther Hulsing, longtime secretary and Trustee of the Plymouth Community School district Board of Education, and has been active in community activities for several years.

Hulsing has served the Detroit area Boy Scouts Council in many capacities for the past 22 years and was awarded the coveted Silver Beaver in 1963. That is the highest award of the Boy Scouts for an adult leader. He also served two terms of three years each on the Plymouth School Board.

He joined Detroit Diesel Engine division in 1942 as an analyst in the engineering department. Since he has served in many engineering capacities, including chief applications engineer, staff engineer in charge of product design, and his last assignment as assistant director of engineering, a post he held since March, 1961.

Hulsing was born in Renville, Minnesota on Feb. 14, 1912 and later moved to Miles City, Montana where he finished high school. He attended Montana State College in Bozeman, Montana for three years and then transferred to the University of Michigan where he was graduated in 1936 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Chemical Engineering.

In 1960 he attended MIT's Sloan School of Industrial Management Senior Executive program.

Hulsing is a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers, American Society for Experimental Stress Analysis, American Ordnance Association, Engineering Society of Detroit and the Economic Club of Detroit.

DONNING MASK prior to entering the smoke-filled house is James Gignac, member of the Plymouth Township fire department. Gignac was in the first truck when the call came about a house fire at 42410 Parkhurst. That's where Jim lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Gignac. The fire started in a rear bedroom and did considerable damage before it was extinguished. The blaze was discovered by two youngsters mowing the lawn at the home. They noticed smoke pouring through a rear door, notified a neighbor and the fire department answered the call immediately but too late to check considerable damage.

Back Yard Play Ideas Keep Kids Active

Exercise through play is essential to American children, who no longer have easy access to beneficial physical exercises enjoyed by former generations. To interest them in play for the sake of exercise, try some interesting installations in your back yard, suggests Norma

Brown, homemaking consultant to Masonite Corporation. These needn't be expensive; in fact, she points out, Dad can build several of these in his spare time.

A basic play device is a series of tree stumps of varying heights set a few inches apart. Firmly set in the ground, they can be used for seats, a mountain, forest, fort or even space missiles ready for takeoff. And they're great for climbing, too.

Since good climbing trees are rare, the handy Dad can make a jungle gym of standard pipe units to challenge children of all ages. Basic muscles and skills are developed by such a device.

An attractive addition is a simple A-frame playhouse made of 2x4-inch lumber with a roof extending half way to the floor. The open air features of the playhouse make it ideal for youngsters as they relax after more active play.

The Masonite homemaking consultant suggests a teeter-totter and a sliding board. Another excellent idea for the roomy yard is a paved roadway encouraging the kiddies to use wheeled play equipment in a safe place. This can be made in the form of a circular track with an apron for getting on and off.

Low Temperatures Don't Hurt Bentgrass Research in Michigan shows bentgrass to be least injured among fine lawngresses by severe freezing (in a "controlled climate" chamber).

One of the easiest bentgrasses for the homeowner to plant is Highland, economically available as seed.

It costs very little to be courteous, but few people seem willing to pay the price.

On the lawn WITH LARRY LAWRENCE

How much does it cost to water a lawn? I sometimes run into the man who complains that his lawn is dry but who never waters it. When I ask why he says it's too expensive.

But is it? The cost of water per 1,000 gallons varies considerably (Detroit 18 cents, Columbus, Ohio 32 cents, Boston 40 cents). But few homeowners realize how little the cost of summer watering is likely to be. Most of them guess from 3 to 5 times the real cost.

For most lawns it would be good if they could have an inch of water a week from rain or sprinkling. On a 5,000 sq. ft lawn this is 3,200 gallons.

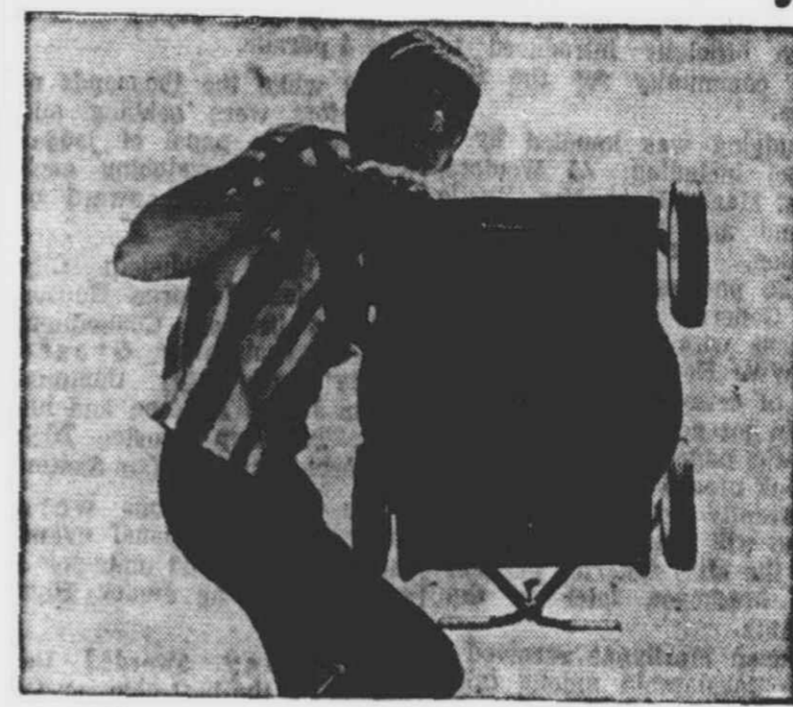

At a typical 30 cent rate that would be less than a dollar. And even with a dozen such waterings a year it would seem like a bargain price for the continuous enjoyment of a flourishing green lawn.

If you're wondering how long it takes to put an inch of water on a 50x100 (5,000 sq. ft.) lawn, figure 3 hours with a 1/2" hose or 5 hours with one of 1/4" diameter.

To check on soil moisture professional men use a soil probe, a handy little gadget obtainable for $1 postpaid from Scotts, the lawn people, in Marysville, O.

Summer Safety Tips

Stop Throwing Things With Your Rotary Mower

The propeller-like blade on a rotary power lawn mower revolves at a rate of 4,000 times per minute. It efficiently and indiscriminately cuts everything in its path.

It can turn a stone on the lawn into an unguided missile if it strikes it. Such flying objects have been hurled at great distances at speeds up to 170 mph and have pierced, fractured, crippled, blinded and killed. They will cause an estimated 30 per cent of the 100,000 power mower accidents expected to take place this year.

Mower producers are constantly working on designs to eliminate the danger of thrown objects. They have carried on broad educational programs to familiarize owners of the estimated 22 million rotary mowers being used in this country with proper safety procedures. To reduce the danger, they advise:

• Before mowing, clear the lawn of stones, wire, glass, toys, etc.;
• Don't let children stand on the sidelines watching;
• Stop the mower if someone approaches;

• Guide the mower so that the discharge side never faces a sidewalk or neighbors on an adjoining lawn;
• Always stop the engine before crossing a gravel driveway, walks or dirt roads.

This year a new type of rotary mower is available that will not throw objects. It has no propeller-like blade, but cuts grass efficiently with a unique "safety disc" cutting system that has been developed by P.M. Engineering & Manufacturing Co., of Ridgeway, Pa.

Four small steel blades are securely fastened to a round "safety disc" that rotates inside the mower's housing. Each blade is free to spin in a complete circle around a special bushing and is held in place to cut the grass by centrifugal force from the spinning disc.

On contact with a solid object, the blades spin back and seldom even move the object. They are immediately returned to the cutting position by the centrifugal force.

The "Whispering Jet" weighs 40-44 lbs., about 20 lbs. less than the average comparable metal mower, because reinforced plastic has been used in the housing, safety disc and motor cover. These sturdy components are fabricated using polyester resins produced by Koppers Company, Inc., reinforced with fiberglass. They won't rust or corrode.

P.M. plans to sell the safety disc and blades separately for less than $5 to owners who want to convert their conventional rotary mowers to this new cutting system. Information on the safety disc can be obtained by writing to P.M. Manufacturing, Ridgeway, Pa.

New Grass Stays Green Long Time

There's a color advertisement in some of the magazines that is quite a stopper. Maybe you've seen it. It shows a close-up of a golf ball sitting pretty on a fairway and the headline is "The Perfect Lie."

The story is about the new mutation grass known as Windsor, discovered by Scotts in Ohio and just beginning to be available on the market. Golf superintendents are excited about it for several reasons.

It grows a dense, deep green top that supports a golf ball in style. It has tough, fibrous roots and thrives in heat and drought that soon turns other grasses brown. It can take foot traffic and divot-digging punishment. And because of strong lateral growth it can get along nicely with less mowing.

Since all these virtues make it ideal for home use, too, it appears to have a big future in all directions. If you would like to try it, either for a new lawn or for seeding into rundown areas, you'll find it available in two forms.

You can buy 100% Windsor under that name, or you can get Triumph brand which is 50% Windsor and sells at a somewhat lower price.

Cover Flower Heads Against Garden Spray

To save special flowers from contamination of dusts, sprays or bugs, try putting a sandwich-size plastic bag over their heads 24 hours before cutting. Be careful not to use in the hot sun.

Try Weekly Watering

As temperatures get warmer, it's good to freshen up your African violets at least once a week by standing their clay pots in room temperature water, until the pot's capillary action draws moisture from below to the top soil.

Good Grass Seed Is Never Cheap

Although high price does not assure quality, exceptionally low price is almost a guarantee of inferiority. This is as true of lawn seed as almost anything else.

There are a number of causes for reduced quality, and price, in lawn seed. Foremost is use of impermanent or coarse hay-grasses instead of perennial beauties such as the Kentucky bluegrasses, Oregon fine fescues and bentgrasses.

Under the newer labeling the latter are grouped as "fine-textured grasses," while the inferior rough species must be listed as "coarse kinds." So there is a ready clue to this phase of quality that you can check easily on the seed package.

Other ways in which cheap lawn seed mixes may be deficient are not quite so apparent. There may be smatterings of unwanted species that don't have to be listed (unless the state law terms them weeds, or they are more abundant than 5 per cent).

Best protection here is to buy above rock-bottom prices, and from reputable sources.

Be suspicious of seed mixtures which feature insufficient quantities of big name varieties. A mix may be billed as "containing Merion Kentucky bluegrass," "with Park Kentucky bluegrass," or "featuring Pennlawn fine fescue," yet have only a per cent or two of the named ingredient.

Strangely, weeds are seldom cause for alarm, contrary to public impression. Great pains are taken by most domestic producers of the fine-textured grasses to sell clean and essentially weed-free lots, the only way to earn top price and a good reputation.

Sampling by the Lawn Institute of hundreds of seed lots showed about a half to contain no weeds at all, most of the remainder relatively few weeds, generally of types not a pest in lawns.

State seed laws require the listing of weeds if they are particularly noxious to agriculture. Although weeds serious in the farm fields are not necessarily troublesome in lawns, fear of having to mention weeds on the seed box causes packagers to seek weed-free seed.

If you have weeds in your lawn, chances are a thousand to one that they came from weed seed already in the soil, or that blown and tracked in from surrounding properties, not from purchased lawn seed.

Bright Zinnia Judged Best Of Flowers

The greatest of zinnias, giant cactus-flowered F1 hybrids, were introduced with the 1993 silver medal winning, rich red "Firecracker." The golden orange colored "Bonanza" followed with a similar award in 1964. "Yellow Zenith" is the All-America for 1965, largest, liveliest and brightest color of them all.

In vigorous bushy plants to 30 inches high, long stemmed double cactus-flowered blooms, mostly with curled petals, are five to six inches across.

Marvelous for cutting, the quilled petals providing airiness even with such large flowers, Yellow Zenith puts on a matchless garden display of color. Hybrid vigor keeps these plants growing and blooming over a longer season.

These hybrids are the big zinnias to plant. Remember, too, that zinnias perform best when grown in place from direct seeding.

Brush Cuts Aren't For Green Lawns

To mow or not to mow is never the question. Rather, it's how high to mow. And how often.

According to turf experts at the U. S. Department of Agriculture, you should never take off more than a third of the green leaf area at one time.

A once-a-week mowing ought to keep things under control except in the early spring and early fall, which are extremely fast-growing periods.

But should you be too busy or be off on a vacation and find a virtual hayfield when you get back — remember that one-third rule. Cut no more. Then give the grass a rest for a couple of days, then take off another third. Repeat until you've got your lawn back to normal.

Flower Garden Is Fascinating Study in Color

One of the most fascinating aspects of the home garden is the education in color that it offers to those who observe its ever-changing hues.

The range of color on a well-planted property outdoes the most extensive color chart. There are many hues of flower petals, roses and flowering shrubs that change with the degree of sunlight and with their age.

The bark and foliage of trees may be white, green, reddish, brown, gray and other shades. Leaves may be gray, yellow, red, green, bronze, with hundreds of intermediate tints, changing with the seasons.

A garden in flower is never the same from one day to the next.

Once you see it, you or anybody else will never see it exactly like that again. Educate your eyes to observe the range of colors in your home garden.

In that way you not only will more greatly appreciate the garden, but your mind will dwell on the wonderful mysteries of a beneficent Nature. Teach the observation of colors in Nature to your children — it will be one of the most satisfying gifts of their lives.

If will-power could be purchased in this life we'd all be mighty big personalities.

Wood Is Popular in Landscaping

Wood is becoming increasingly popular for landscaping. Landscape architects, as well as amateur gardeners, are finding beauty in used railroad ties, tie-size timbers, used rails and posts, reports Victor Horvath, Area Forester for Michigan Conservation Department at Ann Arbor.

Steps, terrace walls, retaining walls and fences made of timbers add a rustic beauty to the landscape that no other material can provide. Designs are limited only by the imagination of the user.

The wise user will install only treated material unless he is fortunate enough to obtain such naturally durable wood as locust, white oak or white cedar heartwood. The most commonly available kinds of wood are not long-lasting unless treated with a wood preservative.

Exposed and in contact with soil, their useful lifetime can be more than doubled when properly treated. Specialists in the Wood Products Department at Michigan State University state that using treated wood will result in both a saving in money and replacement time.

Rail fences in landscape plans are another indication of the trend to bring nature closer to the house. They may be rails manufactured for a specific fence design. They could be old oak, walnut, or chestnut rails that at one time fenced in a farmer's cattle. Their irregularity imparts a sturdiness to their character, while beauty may be the outstanding trait of manufactured rails.

These uses are indications of the versatility of wood. It is the most common and beautiful of building materials.

Careful Planning Makes Home Moves Easy

If you'll be moving into a new home soon, it will pay to take as much time making plans for getting settled in your new domicile as you do for moving out of your old one.

Careful planning, can cut out hours of unnecessary drudgery and give your home that comfortable "lived-in" look in a short time.

Why not try the following:
• Draw a floor plan of your new home, more or less to scale, and make a moving-in blueprint. If your new home is about the same size and shape as your old one, your problem is relatively simple. If you face a reshuffling of virtually everything, take time to work on your floor plan several days before moving.

• Be on hand during the unloading to point out where the furniture is to be placed. Have your floor plan with you for reference. This will spare you hours of frustrating confusion trying to direct busy moving men and making on-the-spot decisions at the same time.

• After your furniture and furnishings are in place, you may want to do some rearranging. This can be done gradually over a period of days. Remember, the mover is required to place everything only once.

By knowing where everything is to go on moving day, you will also be spared the drudgery of lifting a lot of heavy furniture and the possibility of damaged backs or floors.

• If your mover packed you, he will also unpack you. However, ever unpacks, places all barrels and boxes in one room. You will find that the remainder of the house can be put in order soon after the move and unpacking will not be a house-wide problem.

Air Tight Wrappings Keep Tools Shiny

Metal garden tools can be kept rust-free by wrapping in clear plastic wrap.

If they have been exposed to moisture, it is a good idea to wipe them with an oiled rag, then place in air-tight clear plastic bag or wrap.

Only an optimist has foresight enough to lay by a little sunshine for a rainy day.

Furniture Refinishing Can Be Fun

Furniture refinishing is one of the most intriguing and rewarding of hobbies. Unfortunately, the initial step—removing the old finish—can sometimes be a little annoying. Even worse, it can be downright messy.

Occasionally you will hear or read about someone who removed an old finish quickly and simply. Don't let it make you overconfident.

It's not likely to happen to you. The removal of most finishes requires time, patience, care and a quality varnish remover.

Make up your mind to that and you'll get good results.

Since many removers are flammable and toxic, be sure to read the label on the container to determine what, if any, precautions must be taken while doing the job.

Another point to determine is whether the particular remover you are using must be neutralized or washed from the wood after the old finish has been taken off.

The remover is applied with a paint brush with light pressure, moving in one direction only and not brushing it out as might be done with some kinds of paint.

After waiting anywhere from 20 minutes to 45 minutes, try scraping with a putty knife.

If the old finish begins to come off easily and with fairly light strokes, continue with the job.

But if there is any resistance, put down the knife and apply another coat of remover right over the old one. Wait a while and then try again.

The more old coats there are on the furniture, the more applications are necessary. (Varnish removal and the application of varnish, shellac, lacquer and other finishes are covered in Andy Lang's helpful booklet, "Wood Finishing in the Home," which can be obtained by sending 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Know-How, P.O. Box 954, Jamaica, N.Y. 11431.)

When the use of a putty knife might damage the wood, use a small brush or steel wool.

An old toothbrush is especially handy for carved woodwork. The putty knife, by the way, should have a dull rather than a sharp blade and it should be held at a low angle rather than upright to avoid gouging the wood.

Some putty knives have tiny pieces of metal sticking out from the ends. If yours has, be sure to file them off so that there is no possibility of scratching the wood.

If you are using a clear finish in redoing the furniture, it is important that every surface imperfection be smoothed, with sandpaper or steel wool.

When the old finish is off, but a slight stain remains, it may be necessary to use a bleach to prepare the surface for the clear finish.

If paint is to be the finish, this stain need not be removed, but a coat of shellac or other sealer will give added insurance against any trouble.

Deck, Patio Are Now Favorite Outdoor Rooms

With growing emphasis on outdoor living, the areas that serve this way of life are becoming increasingly important.

Not too long ago, outdoor living meant a front or side porch. But the porch is rapidly disappearing from the scene, since nowadays, the porch is often enclosed for year-round living and called a family room.

The popular outdoor living rooms are now patios and decks. The patio has come to mean any outdoor living area within prescribed boundaries. The deck is a variation of the patio—a really a wooden-floored patio—which may be as simple or elaborate as a family's needs and pocket-book dictate.

These may be merely open areas exposed to the sun completely. However, an overhead sunshade of wood can be designed to seem an extension from the house roof. This provides an area both shaded and secure from showers for added patio or deck pleasure.

Adjacent areas can then be covered with an open sunshade that consists of a decorative wood pattern. Or, a vertical sunshade such as a fence or louvered baffle can set off one area from another.

A deck need not be adjacent to a house level, although it adds convenience to have a dining deck near the kitchen, or a deck for entertaining as an extension of the living room to facilitate the flow of traffic and conversation.

Any site in the garden that appeals to the individual family may be chosen for a deck—a private sunning corner, on top of the garage, or adjacent to the garage or carport. You could even build a deck on stilts—treehouse fashion but without a tree.

One reason for the growing popularity of these wood decks is the trend toward building houses on sloping tracts of land. A deck is an easy way of providing a flat surface where there is none naturally. Such a deck can be easily constructed of Western Pine region lumber.

Trellises, sun shades and sun screens lend height and give the garden an added dimension it would otherwise lack, and also serve as a framework over which flowers and vines can climb.

In addition to flowers and shrubs, another way of giving individuality to the outdoor living area is by fencing or fence panels.

Big Porch Is Thing Of Past

A form of Americana fast fading from the scene is the porch—that large wooden expanse that was popular when Victorian mansions were in vogue.

Owners of older homes in increasing numbers are converting that space in living quarters.

If you are cramped for space, it might pay you to have an architect look at your home. He can give you professional advice on how you can best transform waste space, often found on a porch or patio, into a roomy family room or bedroom.

While you're at it, you may want to add a ceramic tile bath. To obtain top quality specify ceramic tile that is "quality certified" by the Tile Council of America to equal or exceed U. S. government standards.

Ceramic tile is ideal for bathrooms because it cannot be stained or scratched. And it now comes in over 250 decorator colors and shades, so that it can easily be matched or blended with any decor.

Glazed Tile Won't Stain

Glazed ceramic tile is one of the few building materials that has a jewel-like surface.

It is this hard, fired-on glaze that makes glazed ceramic tile waterproof and impervious to staining.

One of the most colorful surfacing materials in modern home building, and long familiar as a bathroom surface, glazed tile is now found in many areas of the home.

Outdated Radiators Can Be Replaced

Summer is the best time to replace old-fashioned radiators with modern hydronic (hot water) baseboards. It's fast and easy matter for the heating contractor today because of improved design and the use of pre-cut units.

Professional decorators tell us that a piece or two of Victorian or other period furnishings may be blended successfully with a contemporary theme.

Maybe so, but the advice sure doesn't apply to old-fashioned radiators that date back to guest parlor days. These antique heating units are an eyesore in any setting and should be replaced as one of the first steps in redecorating a home.

Convectors are suggested as a highly satisfactory replacement for old-time radiators. The changeover can be made by a qualified heating contractor with a minimum of inconvenience to the home owner, since convectors are installed with the same piping connections used by the radiators.

Here's how a convector works. Supplied with hot boiler water, it draws air in a bottom opening, heats it and sends it out a top opening. Operating in this manner, convectors blanket outside walls and windows with warm air, shutting out cold and blocking drafts.

It has a definite advantage over other heating methods, since half of the heat provided is convected, half radiant—radiant being the sunshine-like variety that emits warm rays. Heating engineers consider such a convection radiation balance ideal.

Neatness is another of the desirable features of modern convectors. The cabinet enclosure presents a smooth, attractive front, broken only by openings at the top and bottom. Painted to match room decor, they are a practical and efficient improvement over any "radiator relic."

Screen Gives Novel Setting For Flowers

While any living room can be brightened with fresh flowers or decorative plants, sometimes a suitable setting poses a problem.

One vacant spot that will look a lot better with colorful flowers is a fireplace opening, suggests Norma Brown, home decorating consultant to Masonite Corporation. She proposes a backdrop in the form of a handsome, low folding screen.

The panels in a three-part, hinged screen four feet high will furnish a lovely background. In fact, they'll add their own decorator touch if made of material like the new Masonite filigree hardboard, available with perforations in cloverleaf or diamond shapes.

Finish the screen to match your living room color scheme or provide a striking contrast. Place the flowers or plant on the floor or on a low table in front of the screen. The filigree panels can be cut and worked with ordinary carpentry tools.

'Living Vases' Popular As Plants in Homes

Bromeliads, Latin America's "living vases," are at home as house plants throughout the year.

These interesting members of the pineapple family, also known as Aechmeas, are now being produced by U. S. pot plant growers in more than 60 varieties.

Their independent attractions as multihued foliage plants are magnified by the fact that they grow their own "vases"—or "cups" formed by their leaves—and they also sprout spectacularly colored flowers from the center of their upright, sturdy stems.

Best time to acquire them is when they've grown flowers above their foliage. They're easily watered—by keeping their own "vases" full. They should be kept evenly moist, but not even wet, so porous clay pots are preferred as containers.

Keep pots on matching clay saucers to catch excess water. And they will prefer diffused sunlight and tolerate temperature ranges of between 62 and 85 degrees at night and 80 to 85 degrees during the day.

Four of the most popular clay-potted bromeliads are:

- Aechmea chantinii — pink-gray cross bands on the attractive rosettes formed by olive-green leaves and red, yellow-tipped bracts identify this showy plant from the Amazon region.
- Aechmea fasciata — presents a compact rosette of green-gray leaves, with tiger stripes of silver and white, from which blooms blue flowers encased in rose-colored heads.

- Aechmea pineliana — gray-rose, copper-hued rosettes form around an upright stem with a bushy head sprouting yellow flowers.
- Aechmea tillandsioides — vase formed by narrow grayish leaves surrounds bracts of yellowish green and yellow flowers. Flowers are succeeded by white and blue berries.

Shelves Easy For A Home Project

Too much optimism and enthusiasm have led many do-it-yourselfers into starting projects they are unable to finish. Often, it's because the projects take too long, aren't truly needed or require skills the average home handyman just doesn't possess.

But one of the quickest, simplest and most practical home improvements that seldom is abandoned is the installation of shelves to meet storage needs.

Wood shelves are usually chosen over metal, and the easiest way to install them is to put up standards and brackets to secure them in place. The brackets come in various sizes, to hold shelves up to 20 inches wide, and height is adjustable.

The project requires only a screwdriver, a hand drill and a saw, and a full 8-ft. long wall of shelves from floor to ceiling can be installed in about two hours.

Home Workshop Enthusiast Finds Drill Press Helps

By the time a home workshop enthusiast gets around to buying a drill press, he has had considerable experience with a portable electric drill.

This stands him in good stead in the operation of the stationary power tool.

Many of the basic rules governing the use of the drill press are the same as those which must be followed in handling the portable drill.

When the material can be brought to the machine, nothing equals the drill press for precision drilling.

In addition, the drill press has a surprising versatility, being capable of such other operations as mortising, routing, shaping, planing, sanding, grinding, sawing and polishing.

New attachments for this machine are constantly being introduced, enabling it to be used on virtually any type of material in contrast to its original job of drilling holes in metal.

Painting? Skip Mess, Use A Spray

Want to add a bright new touch of color around your home this season? You don't want to bother with big brushes and messy cans. Try easy-to-use brush-on enamels or spray enamels.

It takes only minutes to perk up your mailbox, for instance, with a fresh coat of spray enamel.

Inspect your house numbers. You may wish to spray the numerals with a contrasting color.

Flower boxes and flower pots take on new life with a coat of fresh color.

Give the handles on all your gardening tools a coat of bright orange and you won't lose them in grass or plants.

A roll of masking tape will assist in making perfect borders.

Lawn furniture usually takes quite a beating during the summer. A few moments of push-button spray color and the metal or woods parts will look like new.

Perfect perches for hats can be made quickly and easily by coloring two-pound coffee cans.

Use Pail for Mixing

Use a galvanized steel pail for mixing insecticides and weed killers and then hose out the pail thoroughly when you're through.

These same pails also can be used for mixing paints and household cleaners.

Open New Auto Entrance Off Inkster Road

A new entrance off Inkster Road and an entirely redesigned interior road system are part of a vast modernization and construction program at the Detroit Race Course.

The Livonia track, at Middlebelt and Schoolcraft Roads, will open an 84-day meeting on August 2.

The new entrance off Inkster supplements entrances from Middlebelt and Schoolcraft roads and will speed the flow of traffic both in and out of the track.

"An extensive survey we made among our fans during the 1964 season showed the traffic problem was one of the patrons' major concerns," DRC President Dale Shaffer said. "The construction of the Inkster entrance is the answer to the fans' requests and we believe it will be a tremendous help."

There will be deceleration lanes off Inkster leading into a three lane road to the track. At a traffic control point, the road narrows to two lanes.

The new road follows the backstretch of the DRC track and then will lead to the new clubhouse and close-in parking areas.

Relocation of the padock and walking ring has enabled the DRC management to increase the size of its close-in parking lots. It now will be possible to park only a few feet from the main grandstand or clubhouse entrances. As part of the redesigned interior road system, a beautification program has been undertaken with flower-lined walks and a patio pool. Work on the new

$2,500,000 clubhouse now is moving into its final stages. Wall paneling, glasswork and the pouring of concrete for a circular ramp leading from the first to the third floor clubhouse levels was started last week.

Some people get the idea that VWs are cheap cars because they cost less than most cars. This is not the truth. When you buy a VW you have one of the best made automobiles on the road. You pay less, that's all. Greene Motors is building a quality business in service, parts, collision work and sales. So, when you buy one of our used cars, you're driving top quality at least cost. See you tomorrow or next week.
