Cites Speeding, Reckless Driving

Hough Sub Group Asks for More Police Protection

The question of whether the Plymouth City Commission should or should not take steps to beef up the Police Department from its present roster of 11 men to an additional three or four came up at last Tuesday's meeting.

It was posed by a group of irate residents in the Linden-McKinley area of the Hough subdivision who have been bothered recently by drag racing, speeding, motorcycles roaring by and numerous other violations by teenagers that they feel endanger the lives of their children. With Dean Manley and George Spanio, as spokesmen, the group asked the Commission to re-study the strength of the police department with the thought that the ever increasing problems of youth makes it necessary to add additional men. "We have had several cases of speeding in the area," said Manley. "The most recent one when a driver ripped through a yard, just missed a telephone pole and most certainly would have run down any youngster in the immediate area. "Then we have an instance of where three or four of our neighbors chased, ran down and caught a driver a few nights ago and plan to press charges against him." "We realize that the Plymouth Police are doing everything they can, considering the limited number of cars available but we also feel that there should be more arrests of these kind of drivers."

"We believe this is getting out of hand and urge the Commission to make a study and evaluation of the department with the idea that Plymouth has grown enough that it should have more policemen and more cars to combat this wild, reckless driving." Public Safety Director Kenneth Fisher, who also has been serving as acting City Manager, agreed with the group that there probably should be additional men.

"We haven't added any personnel to the department since 1951," he said. "We have hired two part time civilian employees to relieve patrolmen of desk duties and thus strengthen our forces on the road but we do not have enough cars or men to successfully check this type of driving."

"We have two cars patrolling the streets from 6 to 10 p.m. and one for the remainder of the night. It's rather difficult to catch these speeders when they know at all times where the cars are."

"If we have cars on the east and south side, then the speeding breaks out in other sections. If we have men stationed in the west and north, then they move to the east and south."

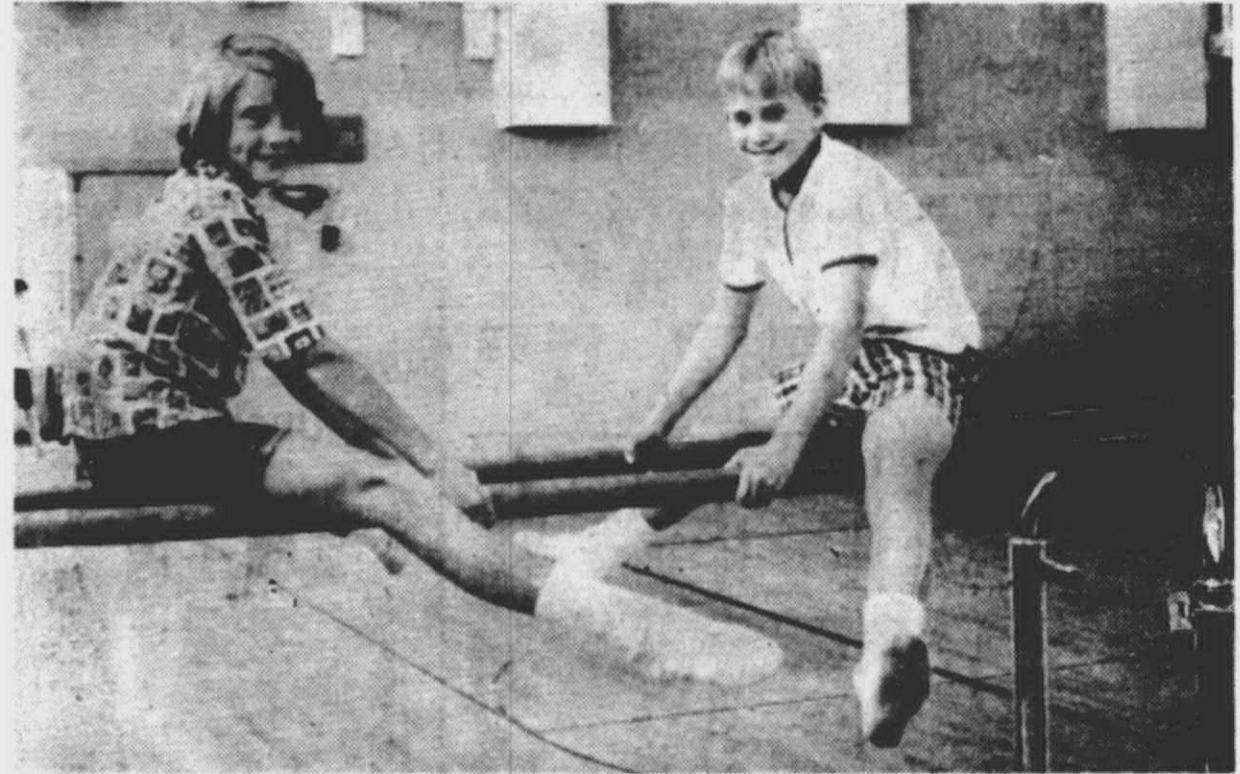

"More than that it isn't the easiest thing to get a conviction for reckless driving. We must positively place the person in the driver's seat to get a court conviction and this is one of the hardest things to prove—if we can't, then the case is ruled out of court."

Fisher indicated that he has asked for additional men every year for the past several at the budget hearing but in each instance the matter has been dropped."

"There isn't any question that we could use three or four additional men—this is a matter of record by my requests at budget time but this involves considerable money which the City Commission feels it doesn't have unless taxes are raised."

Fisher was asked by Mayor James Houk to make a complete report on the situation at the next meeting although the Commissioners agreed that ac-

Geer Asks Annexing Of Schools

Geer School district, of Superior Township in Washtenaw County, Monday made a formal request to the Plymouth School Board for annexation so that the 77 youngsters of school age will become eligible to attend Plymouth schools at the start of the 1965-66 school term.

The Geer district is bounded by Powell, Napier, Hanford and Berry Roads, and 28 of the 77 students attended Plymouth schools last year on a tuition basis.

Geer School President R. Bruce Scott made the request for annexation, pointing out that the district involved has a valuation of $1,407,000 with $19,500 behind each child of school age.

The district would pay school taxes of $37,900 if accepted for an average of $526 per pupil.

At the present time, 44 pupils in that district attend a school there manned by two teachers, taking in all between the K through six grades.

Plymouth School Supt. Russell Isbister asked if the Geer Board would be satisfied to have the pupils remain in the school even though annexation was approved.

Expenditures Up $503,040

School Board Approves Budget of $3,493,875

The Plymouth Community School Board held a public hearing on its proposed 1965-66 budget Monday and as usual the public was conspicuous by its absence.

But that didn't deter President Gerald Fischer from carefully going over items of the program after which the Board unanimously adopted a budget of $3,493,875 for the coming school year.

That makes the Board one of the biggest businesses in the area, a point that was stressed by Fischer and the Trustees as they okayed expenditures of $503,040 more than that in the year which ended on the final day of June.

Business Manager Melvin Blunk used the proposed state aid formula of $255 per pupil and 4.6 mills deductible millage, the official state equalized valuation of $113,212,280 and an estimated enrollment of 6,900 in computing the anticipated receipts of $3,607,159,436 for the 1965-66 school year.

The Board expects to receive $1,238,723 from state aid, $50,000 transportation reimbursement, $35,000 special reimbursement, and federal aid of $12,000 for a total of $1,235,723 from those sources.

It anticipates receiving $2,135,636 from local taxes, $65,000 in delinquent taxes, $4,000 interest on delinquent taxes, $5,300 in summer school receipts, $2,500 in trailer taxes, $32,000 from tuition payments, $2,000 in transportation, $8,000 interest on investments, $5,000 miscellaneous and $12,000 for instructional fees for a total of $2,271,436.

This gives a grand total of $3,735,864 and leaves the Board with an expected balance of $241,989 at the end of the fiscal year 1965-66.

Fischer explained the $503,040 increase in expenditures in

Mile. It is expected to end the water pressure problems once it is in operation which is expected sometime within the next three or four weeks.

WATER PIPES are shown along the side of Sheldon Rd. in Northville Township as the City of Detroit Water Board rapidly pushes the water line to a point beyond Five Mile where it will tie in with the expanded program of Plymouth Township. The line will go across the Industrial Park adjacent to the Western Electric plant, down Ridgewood and then join the new mains on N. Territorial. The expansion will furnish water and sewers to the western side of the Township and is expected to result in a tremendous boom in that section.

W. Sparkman Takes Position as Teacher

Wayne Sparkman, one of Plymouth High's greatest football players of a few years back and later a standout back at the University of Michigan, Monday accepted a position with the Plymouth School system as physical education director at Junior High East.

He replaces Charles Ketterer, longtime phys ed teacher who also served as football and basketball coach at the high school and who turned in his resignation Monday night to take a position with an insurance firm in Petoskey.

Sparkman was a member of the football coaching staff at the University of Michigan last year and currently expects to receive a Master's Degree in January. He completed his collegiate football career in the 1963 season.

4 HIRED BY BOARD OF ED. Ketterer, Boring Quit Plymouth School Jobs

Two members of the Plymouth High coaching staff, each of whom indicated earlier that he wanted to be relieved of the assignments, have resigned from the teaching staff to accept positions in business and industry.

Charles Ketterer, longtime basketball coach and for several years football coach, gave up his basketball duties at the end of the 1964-65 season. Two weeks ago he wrote a letter of resignation to Supt. Russell Isbister submitting his resignation as a member of the Junior High East to accept a favorable position in the life insurance business.

Ketterer and his family already have left Plymouth and are now residing at Harbor Springs. He plans to have headquarters in his new assignment at Petoskey. Charley had been in the insurance business for several years in addition to his teaching duties and it was known that he was considering the move.

Brian Boring, who succeeded Mike Hoben as baseball coach the past season, requested a year's leave of

VICTIM OF SOUTHERN MOB:

Farmington Freedom Rider Rises from His Wheelchair

By DAVE ELSILA and ALLEN ROSENFELD
When the Trailways bus stopped at the sleepy Alabama town of Anniston, a group of tough looking young men brushed passed the policeman and climbed aboard. Inside, they began to throw punches. While his wife looked on, 62-year-old Walter Bergman was sent crashing to the floor. When he arose, his head was badly swollen. For four days, he was too sick to eat. For the Bergmans, Walter and Frances, this was the last stop in a Freedom Ride aimed at testing public accommodations in South. Three years have passed. Today, from their home overlooking a peaceful, wooded ravine on Inkster Rd. in Farmington Township, the incident is recalled without bitterness or rancor by the Bergmans. It is a tribute to their idealism that it is not. Walter Bergman returned from the harrowing incident in Alabama to Detroit, and for three months he spoke about the south to every group that would listen. Suddenly, one day he collapsed. He fell into a coma and his heart—for a moment—stopped beating. When he regained consciousness, he was completely paralyzed, unable to speak, and virtually helpless. Doctors termed his condition—a sub-marginal concussion—a delayed reaction to his beating in Alabama. That such a fate should befall Bergman was not surprising. For though his life was dedicated to peace, it was never peaceful. Born in Youngsville, Pa., in 1899, he moved to Illinois and at the age of 16 enrolled in Greenville College. There, he got his first taste of politics. In a county where Republican rule had been the byword for generations, he managed the campaign of a Democratic candidate for Sheriff—and his man won. It was the first time a Democrat has been able to win such an honor. Bergman had interrupted his college career to serve with the U.S. Army as an aviator during the closing months of World War I. He returned from Europe to continue his education, graduating from Greenville in 1922, and then going to study at the University of Michigan.

Within three years, he had become an instructor in education, and by 1929 he had earned his Ph.D. It was in the intellectual climate of Ann Arbor that Bergman became exposed to socialism and pacifism. Joining with Neil Staebler in what was called the "Roundtable Club," Bergman and other young radicals started a campaign to promote the integration of the University's few Negroes into campus life. The cause celebre of the 1920's—the Sacco-Vanzetti Case—attracted Bergman's participation, and in Michigan he became one of the founders of a committee opposed to the effort to institute the death penalty in Michigan. Bergman's interest in education continued. He rapidly rose from an instructor at Wayne University (and the first state president of the Michigan Federation of Teachers) to Director of Instruction and Research for the Detroit Public Schools. He held that post for 25 years, until his retirement in 1958. Retirement gave the Bergmans more time to plunge into the integration movement. When they first heard of the Freedom Ride they decided it was a way to help demand enforcement of the Supreme Court decision requiring equal accommodations in places serving interstate commerce. "Nobody in the South was paying any attention to the decision," they said, "and we felt this form of non-violent action could dramatize to the nation the need for law enforcement. We fully expected to be arrested." After a training session in Washington, D.C., the Bergmans with a dozen companions started South. Through the Carolinas and across Georgia they rode, encountering minor trouble and insults and discrimination until they reached Anniston, and the climax of their trip. The rest of the Bergman's story reflects the same hope and optimism which they excluded throughout their lives. Three years ago, Walter Bergman could not walk. Today, assisted by a devoted wife, he often walks three-quarters of a mile in the Farmington countryside daily. Three years ago, he was unable to utter an understandable word. Today he can speak clearly and with emphasis to his visitors. Three years ago, he was unable to lift a pen. When he visited him last month, he proudly showed us a letter he had just written. Walter Bergman, at the age of 66, is still confined to a wheelchair. But his physical disability has not stunted his desire to stay in the mainstream. He is a frequent participant in meetings of the "Farmington Forum," the American Civil Liberties and other groups. He travels regularly, with the aid of his wife, to events throughout the metropolitan area. "The Freedom Ride," the Bergmans told us as we left, "was the most thrilling experience of our lives. In the South we saw people who are subject all of time to the abuse which we faced for only a short while. There is a certain nobility in their faces, a certain hope with America must capture. If there is any promise for our country, it lies in the same kind of faith which these Negroes are able to maintain."

College Lists Total of 14 Scholarships

Schoolcraft College now has a total of 14 scholarships, seven new and seven renewals, according to a report to the Board of Trustees by Dean of Students Lois Waterman. The seven new include: Paul Chandler Memorial Scholarship Fund, $1,500; Lee Coolman Memorial Scholarship (Mayflower Post 6695 of Plymouth), $240; Garden City Association of Insurance Agents, $400; Garden City Osteopathic Hospital Guild, $250; Girls Work Council of Detroit, $117; Northville Future Teachers Club, $100; and Livonia Town and Country Chapter, National Secretaries' Association, $100. The renewals are: American Association of University Women, Plymouth Branch, $135.65; Burton Hollow Civic Association, $100; Garden City Unit 396, American Legion Auxiliary, $105; Plymouth Jaycees, $210; Plymouth Kiwanis Club, $200; A. Ward McCain Memorial Scholarship, $420; and Plymouth Rotary Foundation, $500.

The Office of Admissions has accepted 929 new students for next fall and is working on current applications that will boost the total well over the 1,000 mark. Dr. Bradner told the Board the College anticipated an enrollment of 1,900 day and 1,000 evening students for the fall term. He reported 640 returning students have registered.

The Admissions Office is giving first choice to college district students and the indications were that few non-resident students will be accepted for day courses. The College has received word from the Wayne County Road Commission that Haggerty Road between Six and Seven Mile Roads will be paved well in advance of the late August opening for the second year of operation. Warren Worth, chief engineer for the Commission, indicated the work will start within the next two weeks. It is felt that paving of Haggerty Road will eliminate traffic hazards as well as dust in the heavy traffic area.

Elect Norm Stockmeyer County School Board Head

Norman Stockmeyer, prominent realtor, civic and political leader from Wayne, is the new president of the Wayne County School Board succeeding Carl Morris of Romulus. Other officers elected at the annual meeting include: Ralph Johnson, of Gibraltar, vice president; Mrs. Betty Becker, of Detroit, secretary; Mrs. Helen Field, of Highland Park; treasurer; and Carl Morris, of Romulus, trustee. Stockmeyer said "We are particularly anxious to see that our recent grant of almost a quarter million dollars to improve education in Wayne County" does just that. Stockmeyer has served as a member of the Wayne County Intermediate Board of Education since June, 1961. Last year, he was Vice-President of the Intermediate Board of Education. Past educational and civic responsibilities indicate that Stockmeyer is highly qualified for his new position. From 1946 to 1959, he served in his local school district on the Wayne Community School Board. He is also treasurer of the Wayne County Schoolboard Association and is currently completing his third term in that position. Governor George Romney appointed Stockmeyer to the Wayne State University Board of Governors. Stockmeyer is a director of the National Bank of Livonia and the Wayne Bank. For 10 years he has been a trustee on the Detroit Institute of Technology Board of Directors. The Detroit Public Schools, Wayne State University, and Stockmeyer resides at 38042 Glenwood, in Wayne, with his wife Lillian.

Secretary of State Declares 'War' on Errant Drivers

LANSING—If you are one of a tiny number of "chronic bad drivers" in constant trouble with your driving and running up red points or getting into other trouble, you had better mend your ways because the Michigan Department of State has declared "open season on you."

A four-point program against these "incorrigibles" was outlined by Secretary of State James M. Hare who ordered the "crackdown."

"Something has to be done to curb this hard-core of bad drivers," Hare said. "We decided on a 'tough' approach."

Hare said that it involved only 10,000 of the state's more than 4 1/4-million licensed motorists, a "minuscule one-quarter of one per cent."

The Hare crackdown involves the actions:

(1) Rigid minimum actions for accumulated points. Where officials heretofore had an option on actions, penalties are now sharper, more defined, and tougher. For instance, a 17-pointer now automatically receives a 10-day suspension on his first re-examination. Before, the driver improvement official could have permitted this driver to continue driving if, in his judgment, circumstances warranted it.

(2) Obtaining records from the state police which would help shape and determine the severity of the penalty. Some drivers have records which are dotted with drunk driving, assaults, and other criminal actions, Hare charged. He said he was hopeful that something could be worked out with the state police on this matter.

(3) Notifying local law enforcement officials of action taken against bad drivers and asking these officials to "keep an eye on these offenders to see that they do not drive during their suspension or revocation periods. Hare said that one of the major problems was that an estimated 50 per cent or more of all suspended or revoked motorists drive anyway, and "enforcing penalties is the toughest part of our entire DI procedure."

(4) The positive identification of the "alcoholic personality" and "referral to a clinic, official agency, organization or private physician for medical help."

Hare pointed with pride to the general effectiveness of the point system, which he said works with more than 99 per

Contestants may register at 9:30 a.m. in the parking lot area adjacent to the Livonia National Bank with contests scheduled at 10 a.m.

Competition will be held for the following age groups: 8 and 9 years, 10-12 years, and 13 through 15 years.

Prizes will be gift certificates awarded to the first, second, and third place finishes in each event.

Various events will include distance and slalom. All contestants must have waiver slips signed by their parents or guardian.

Livonia DPR Crowns Champs In Horseshoes

It was horseshoe tournament time for the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation playgrounds Thursday at Henry Ford Field. After the day long shoe tossing stopped and the dust settled, winners in each of the four age categories were named.

In the senior category - John Weismueller, Webster playground, took top honors. Mike McGowan, Rosedale, won the first place ribbon in the Junior class. The Midget champ was Brian Dinsmore of Jackson while Grandview's Tim McCannon copped the sub-midget crown.

On a family note it should be pointed out that the McCannon brothers of Grandview almost stole the show. In addition to Tina's victory, Mike and Jim McCannon finished close seconds in the Junior and Senior class respectively.

The next citywide tournaments will be the basketball free-throw contest at Whitman on Thursday, July 16.

cent of all motorists. He said that since 1958, some 300,000 re-examinations had been held involving 225,000 individual drivers. "You can deduce that a mere five percent of all drivers are ever in trouble with their driving and that the first re-examination is effective," he noted. "The real chronic offenders... the persons who are back for two or more re-exams... constitute only a fraction of this five percent."

He said that this year, more than 80,000 warning letters would be sent to drivers with seven to 11 points. These are being produced on the computer for faster output and more accuracy. Records of all drivers against whom any action is taken... seven-pointers and above... are being computerized for studies and fast updating.

FAMILY PICTURES

Having a family may be less a matter of "settling down" than of being weighted down. Seems every time you go anywhere—a picnic, or vacation, or visiting—there are things to carry. Bags, clothes, equipment, toys, food—to pack, unload, reload, unpack. It's a lot of work and some people may accidentally omit their camera.

Now you can travel light, camera and all. Make a point to stop in and see the KODAK INSTAMATIC 150 Outfit. This one comes ready to travel, in its own light-weight carrying case. Everything you need for easy picture-taking, indoors or out, day or night, comes in the carrying case.

You won't find an easier camera to use. The "150" loads instantly. You just drop in a Kodapak Cartridge. There are no settings to make, just aim-and-shoot. A spring-motor advances your film automatically after each shot. You can shoot a shot a second, if you like. You never miss a picture opportunity. And it's just as convenient indoors because this camera has a built-in pop-up flash holder. The complete INSTAMATIC 150 Outfit cost only $26.95. It's a terrific gift for the youngsters going away for the summer and it can make friends instantly with the mother who doesn't like cameras but who loves pictures of the kids.

The KODAK INSTAMATIC 150 Outfit is just one model in a line of seven KODAK INSTAMATIC Cameras, all of which load instantly and take better pictures automatically. One of them can make your summer picture-taking easier, more rewarding. And solve your carrying problem as well. Stop in and look them over.

It's Flair for Beauty

By Jerry Wendt

Everyone knows that Farmington is a pleasant residential community but few people outside the area realize what can be achieved here in a business if they apply determination and talent.

Larry Mayer, owner of Flair Beauty Salon on Orchard Lake symbolizes the young men who have come here and succeeded. After his stint in the service with the Air Force, Larry received his B.A. degree in science from the Detroit Institute of Technology, then went to the Northern Illinois School of Optometry. No one could have a more unlikely background for an owner of a beauty salon. At this point Larry played semi-pro baseball with a Nova Scotia team. He toured the country as pitcher for this rugged group.

Eventually, he became homesick for his family. The close-knit unit consisting of his mother and father who live in Livonia, his brother George, and his sister Cecile Zukowsky all work at separate business enterprises of their own. George Mayer is a realtor and Ted Zukowsky is president of Cardinal Realty. Larry decided to open his own business in Farmington. Cecile persuaded him to enter the field of cosmetology and he perfected his trade and remained on the staff of Virginia Farrell Academy for five years as instructor in advanced hair styling and permanent waving.

In May 1964, he opened his first shop on Orchard Lake Road with one operator, Mimi Biechele, who was born in France.

A year later, he moved to a larger shop on Orchard Lake Rd. equipped for seven operators and three styling rooms. His sister, Cecile, will be his receptionist and business manager in his new quarters.

This shop is decorated in French decor, with pink the predominating color. The reception room has a large fireplace. One of his first visitors was Mr. Anthony, the world renowned hair stylist who heartily approved of the new quarters. He particularly liked the home-like aspect of the place.

Larry is the first to admit that this is not what he envisioned in the days when he toured the country in professional baseball, or circled the world in the Air Force but he is very satisfied and looking forward to remaining here a long time.

"The women of Farmington are a delightful challenge," admits Larry. They are typical suburbanites. Casual and friendly, but they are extremely hair-conscious. They keep him on his mettle, devising new methods of styling. His secret of success, he declines to discuss but feels that treating every customer as an individual instead of a production line of hairdos has much to do with it.

However, the best story of all, Larry refuses to discuss how, surrounded by women, he has managed to remain a bachelor!

MR. AND MRS. DANIEL FUHRMAN

Fuhrmans Feted 50 Students Attend Cancer Orientation on Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Fuhrman of Livonia were honored on their golden wedding anniversary June 27 at an open house given by their daughters.

The Fuhrmans, who have lived in Livonia since 1921, were married June 29, 1915 in Trenton, Michigan.

Their daughters are Mrs. Ralph (Annabelle) Graham and Mrs. John E. (Patricia) Clemens. The Fuhrmans have three grandchildren.

One hundred and thirty friends and relatives attended the open house at the UAW Hall on Plymouth Rd.

GOLDEN AGE members approve the plans of the new 60-bed convalescent home on the corner of Grand River and Gill Roads, Farmington. Co-owners of the modern, new home are Dr. Edward Blumberg and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Maahs who presently operate Pine

He admonished the young scholarship winners not to think of careers in science only in terms of laboratories and test tubes.

"It is equally important," he said, "to study disease from a psychological and sociological standpoint too, considering the effect of the disease on the pa-

A panel discussion of the program to be carried out this summer was conducted by the biology teachers who will be in charge: Alex Mercer, Redford High School; Arnold Lockett, Denby High; Willis Bloxson, Emerson Junior High in Livonia; Gerald Filipiak, Wyandotte High; Sister Ann Margaret, IHM, Marian High School in Birmingham and Leonard Draving, Cousino High in Mt. ### Senior Citizens Hear of Investments

We want to say "thank you so much" to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Selfe for taking us with them on that interesting trip through the western states. Those "off the beaten path" scenes were breathtaking. After being away for four months they brought us back to good old Michigan and showed us our own Upper Peninsula in her Autumn dress (via movies).

Our genial entertainment chairman, Charles Bowdler has another fine program lined up for us.

We enjoyed a panel discussion by the Investment Club recently at the Rosedale Presbyterian Church parlors. We learned what makes a good investment and if Senior Citizens should invest.

Redford Defeats Detroit

Another feather in the cap for baseball in the Greater Livonia League!

It came last week when Redford Township of the Livonia-Detroit Free Press League knocked off West Seven Mile of the Detroit Baseball Federation, 2-0.

The game served as the first test between the so-called strong teams from Detroit against teams from the Livonia area.

"I sure was proud of the way our team came through," said Manager Al Turner of the Redford Townshippers. "Five of our regulars weren't there, yet we still won impressively."

Arnold Helwig pitched the shoutout—the first of two white-washing jobs the ex-Thurston high star turned in during the week.

Helwig followed up by blanking Wayne, 6-0, in a Free Press League game.

He scattered two hits and fanned ten in the West Seven Mile battle. Tim Fisher's single and Dave Woloch's triple produced Redford's first run in the third inning.

In the fifth, Mike Turner walked, Helwig moved him to second with an infield out and Bob Holmes delivered a run-producing single.

Against Wayne, Helwig yielded only three hits, while fanning nine.

Redford jumped off to a 3-0 lead in the first inning when Glen Knock tripled, Rick Harlow singled, Rick Collins singled and Terry Rothwell delivered a one-base blow.

In the fourth Redford bagged two more runs when Claude McTaggart was safe on an error and Turner and Knock followed with singles.

A walk and error ended the Redford scoring in the fifth.

Games are scheduled in the Free Press League this Wednesday and Friday at Henry Ford Field.

Wednesday's action matches Redford against North Dearborn at 6:15 p.m. and Wayne against South Dearborn.

On Friday, the Livonia Giants face Wayne at 6:15 while Redford squares off with North Dearborn at 8:15.

The regular season ends next Wednesday (July 21). Then will follow the playoffs to determine who'll go against the Oakland County Champs on Aug. 1 for the right to play in the state semifinals at Ann Arbor on Aug. 7.

Hooker is the pride and joy of Sandmann on the trampoline and loves nothing better than to go higher and higher but actually he isn't anywhere near the ceiling — just one of those photographic quirks.

Gold Seal Completes Expansion Program

Extensive modernization and expansion of the Plymouth plant of Gold Seal Photo Service, Inc., is now complete, according to an announcement by Harold Head, President. Over 10,000 square feet of floor space has been added to existing structures at 775 Davis Street.

Designed in cooperation with Eastman Kodak engineers, the expanded facility can process five million rolls of film annually, and is considered the most highly automated photo finishing plant in the Midwest. Present operations cover a 22-hour day, with nearly 100 employees working two shifts to serve the photo finishing needs of nearly 400 camera shops and drug stores throughout southern Michigan and northern Ohio.

Under the plant's automated work flow plan, exposed film is brought into one end of the building and the finished product — processed, inspected, priced, and sorted by delivery route and retail outlet — is ready for pickup at the opposite end. A staff of route men, utilizing 12 delivery vehicles, are thus able to keep film moving to and from retail outlets on an around-the-clock basis. A continuous conveyor system carries the rolls of film through processing and printing machines, into and out of correctly-balanced chemical solutions, with precise time and temperature controls.

Negatives are "read" by an electronic printer for density and color balance, making possible the correction of minor snafus before printing. Although prints are exposed on huge 500-foot rolls of special Eastman Kodak papers, each picture is individually inspected for best possible results, and reprinted if necessary.

At the end of the processing operation, IBM machines are used to record envelope and dealer numbers, type of work, pricing and billing information. The entire procedure is designed to save the dealer's time in handling his Photo Dept.

The complete in-plant process takes about 18 hours for black and white or color work, making possible one-day service to dealers affiliated with Gold Seal. Work brought in by a driver at 5 p.m. is ready for delivery at noon the next day. High speed freeways make the Plymouth location ideal for this fast service.

Annex

Scott told the Plymouth Board that residents of the Gear District realized their school taxes would be increased 66 per cent by annexation, if approved, but there wasn't any question but that it would meet with their approval at a vote to be taken on the proposal.

The Plymouth Board passed a resolution approving the annexation subject to approval of Legal Counsel William Sempliner. This in turn will be presented to the Director of Public Instruction for approval after which voters of the district will be asked to affirm or deny the request.

It is believed the Gear Board will seek approval of the vote in mid or late August so that annexation will become official prior to the start of the school term.

Plymouth Lions To Hear Talk On New Drugs

"The Search for New Drugs" will be discussed by Robert Ervin, staff director of Clinical Services of the Parke-Davis Research division in Ann Arbor, to members of the Plymouth Lions Club in the meeting on July 15.

Ervin will review the numerous steps necessary over a long period of years to bring a new and useful drug to the medical profession.

He was recently transferred to Ann Arbor in the Research Division. Prior to his promotion, he was manager of the Research Administration at the Detroit main office. Before joining the Parke Davis staff, Ervin was a member of the faculty at Notre Dame University in South Bend for several years.

Vivian Urges Defeat of Cigarette Bill

U.S. Representative Weston E. Vivian has joined 33 of his colleagues in the House of Representatives in signing a letter to all members, calling for defeat of S. 559, the Federal Cigarette Labeling and Advertising Act.

The bill has been passed by the U.S. Senate, and requires only House passage, and signature by the President, to become law. It would, if enacted, prevent the Federal Trade Commission from requiring future cigarette advertisements, printed, or broadcast on radio and television, to include a warning of the hazard to health from cigarette smoking.

S. 59, the result of conference between House and Senate members, is expected to reach the floor of the House this week. While it requires that cigarette packages and cartons display a printed warning that cigarette smoking "may be hazardous," its main result would be to ban States, and the Federal Trade Commission from further controlling package labeling, or advertising.

The FTC had promulgated regulations which were due to go into effect on July 1 of this year, requiring a stronger health warning on packages, plus a similar warning in all cigarette advertising. These regulations have now been suspended, and would be delayed for at least four years, by the adoption of S. 559.

Commenting on the bill when it was first passed in the House, on June 22, Vivian had said, during debate, "I object to the proposition implicit in this bill: that health is less important to the American people than maintaining employment and profits in the tobacco industry, and protecting cigarette tax receipts. I support the Federal Trade Commission regulations. I want them put into effect immediately. Therefore I shall vote against H.R. 3014." (The original House version of the cigarette labeling bill.)

In supporting the effort to defeat the final version of the bill, Vivian commented, "This bill pretends to regulate the tobacco industry. It is interesting to note, however, that it has enjoyed near-unanimous support by spokesmen for that industry, and by Senators and Representatives from tobacco-growing states and districts."

"The New York Times, in an editorial published on July 9, called the bill 'a shocking piece of special interest legislation' and 'a bill to protect the economic health of the tobacco industry, by freeing it of proper regulation.' I intend to vote against the bill, and I have joined a number of my colleagues in urging all Members of the House to prevent this legislation from passing.

"As the editors have pointed out, 'If Congress takes the position, after passing this legislation, that it has done something constructive about the health hazard of cigarettes, it may sit back and do nothing more.'"

"What is really needed is a strong educational campaign, in the schools and elsewhere, to reach youths with the message that it is much easier not to develop the smoking habit than it is to shake it."

"I wholeheartedly agree with these conclusions. As a matter of fact, I am currently developing legislation which I intend to introduce in this session of Congress, to encourage the development and extensive use of new secondary school curricula aimed at forcefully pointing out to junior and senior high school-age students the hazards associated with cigarette smoking, and the importance of not starting the smoking habit," Vivian concluded.

PM General Slates Visit To Plymouth

Postmaster General John Gronouski, head of the United States Postal department, will make a tour of the Second Congressional District post offices and facilities on July 22, according to an announcement by Congressman Wes Vivian.

Congressman Vivian indicated plans are being made to have a reception for all postal and federal employees in the district with Postmaster General Gronouski as the guest of honor.

Final plans are being made now and will be announced in another week.

Plymouth DPW News

By SUPT. JOSEPH BIDA
Plymouth Dept. Public Works
The Department of Public Works has had two cases of vandalism at city playgrounds in the past week.

At the Auburn Street playground, a table was broken, a barrel smashed, chains cut and other acts of vandalism reported. At the Hamilton Street playground, there have been reports of broken bottles and other debris scattered around that could cause injury to the youngsters using the facilities.

The business district was swept and a move has started to mow all vacant properties that have been left unattended by the owners. The property owner will be billed for the services.

Work was continued at the playgrounds, mowing the lawns and working the flower beds in the parks and the playfields.

A six-inch storm sewer was installed on Forest; a catch basin was lowered on Fairground and Fair on the west side and one rebuilt on Kellogg and Wing on the southwest corner.

The Department is fortunate at this time to have a representative from the State Forestry Department checking all Elm trees for the Dutch Elm disease. All Elm trees will be checked and a list of those found diseased will appear later.

A water tap was installed in Fermanough Court in Northville Township. A service line on Amelia, which was damaged by Union Excavating Co., was repaired and a gate well was built to grade on Ann Arbor Road west of Main.

Civil Rights & Official Reaction

Taking a stand in support of civil rights for minority groups is not a particularly popular political position today. Especially in a suburban community where a deep reservoir of prejudice persists.

That is why it has been encouraging to see, over the past few months, the commitment to law and order which a number of local governments in The Observer's circulation area has declared in connection with minority group issues.

And that's why it was encouraging to see the unanimous re-affirmation of the Livonia City Council recently to its "determination to uphold the law and assure equal protection of the law to all persons."

Livonia's Council, at the behest of a human relations organization, will soon consider the establishment of a local civil rights commission. The Councilmen who took a moral stand recently — John Dooley, Ed McNamara, Jim McCann, Ruby Kleinert, Pete Ventura, and Charles Pinto — will have two examples to turn to from nearby suburbia when they face this stronger challenge.

They can turn to Dearborn and see the picture of a stormy mob attacking the home and car of a young Italian immigrant because they thought he sold his home to a Negro. They can see the tacit approval given this kind of mob action by city officials who were guided more by political expediency than by moral principle.

They can turn to the Wayne-Nankin community and see a different kind of action. A Negro family moves into the area to be near the father's place of employment, and strong pressure by the Mayor and Council heads off what might have been an ugly incident. Nearly a year has passed, and the principled stand and gestures of goodwill by governing officials has paid off with a harmonious community.

There are other examples: to the east, Redford Township officials, who "turn their heads and pretend that they just don't see", even failed to acknowledge a request for the proclamation of "Brotherhood Week" because of political fear. To the west, Plymouth city and township officials, on the other hand, have wholeheartedly backed the formation of an official government-sponsored Human Relations Commission.

Livonia has faced some minor human relations problems in recent months. In the future, as the community becomes integrated, it may face even more. If official city backing is given to a Commission designed to head off these problems, to take preventive measures now, our community will be able to deal effectively with these problems, if and when they arise.

If each councilman considers this point, looks at the contrasting experiences of Dearborn and Wayne-Nankin, and searches his heart for the right answer, there should be no doubt that the progressive community of Livonia will take the right step when the question of a Civil Rights Commission comes before the Council.

DAVE ELSILA

"You can't trust a politician," is a statement often heard over our land, reiterated by those not in public life. It has always made me Irish-fightin'-mad.

By and large the glib statement just isn't true.

But then last week in Livonia, a public office holder set my cause back 100 years. Councilman Dr. Daniel C. Allen revoked his public trust, and in the dark of night stole out of town. When he did so, he stole something else — public trust in elected officials.

When a man declares himself a candidate for public office, in my opinion, he no longer belongs entirely to himself and his family. He assumes an obligation. When he is elected this increases two-fold. Voters have paid him a high honor. They have put their trust in him. To treat this trust and obligation lightly is an offense.

Perhaps I am the more prejudiced because I have known men to give their lives in dedication to serve the public with no thought to personal reward. I believe my husband did.

Another case in point is Senator Farrell Roberts from the 14th District, and his struggle in seeking a proper decision in a recent personal conflict. All of his adult life he has been devoted to law and politics. He concerned himself with important legislation as a Senator planning the Appeals Courts. He ran for the newly created judgeship in Oakland County and was defeated during the Presidential election last November. . . . Subsequently he was elected State Senator and recently another judgeship opened up in Oakland County.

It was a great temptation for Senator Roberts to seek this judicial seat. Many judges urged him to do so. He declared, however, that interested as he was in the opportunity, he felt an obligation to the many who had worked for his election to the Senate and to those who had voted for him to represent them.

The other side of the coin: Dr. Daniel Allen, in my opinion, was cynical in his decision to leave his Councilman post and his City, shrouded in mystery. He treated those who worked hard for him and supported him shabbily. He took the book of Ayn Rand, "Atlas Shrugged" too literally.

When the characters of her book found life in the U.S. becoming too altruistic, a sign of weakness to them, they would without warning, take their money and their talents and leave the world — they all went to another place to rebuild a different world and this new place was called "Gulch Valley."

In a packet of books Dr. Allen returned to a Livonia friend the return address was Gulch Valley.

On the plus side we have two excellent men who are considering entering public office. Men of integrity, ability and proven sound judgment. Any vote of confidence we can give these men to become candidates seems called for.

One is Louis Schmidt who in these many years has taken the Clarenceville School District over stormy seas as its Superintendent. He is considering resigning this to become a candidate for the State Representative in the 34th district on the Republican ticket.

Another, who knows his way around the campaign trail and is a good campaigner, fighter and more important, good loser, and who would also make a good winner is Jim O'Neil. He is thinking of becoming a candidate, also on the Republican ticket, for Congress from the 19th District.

The Daniel Allens and the Daniel Wests may, each in their own way, make politics seem cheap and shabby, but hopefully there will always be men who bring the fresh air of forthrightness back to the political scene.

Some Writers Can Be Wrong

Col. Robert McCormick was a very bad man. He was Publisher and total ruler of the Chicago Tribune. The Tribune describes itself as "The World's Greatest Newspaper." In point of fact it is close to the world's worst.

The Tribune is against civil rights. The Tribune was against the British when they were fighting the Nazis. It was against the United Nations, against the Marshall Plan.

Its pages were illiterate, vile, full of hate. Its articles were out of context. Its quotations were often taken for out of stanted.

It was unashamedly dishonest. Innumerable exposes and law suits rolled off its moss-back like water.

Col. McCormick was the master-villain of American journalism, and though he is dead several years, his spirit and the techniques he developed are still with us.

These thoughts came to this writer on Memorial Day, at a dinner sponsored by the VFW and American Legion. One of the officers at the table — a public relations man in private life — was talking about a tabloid weekly in northwest Wayne County. The views and conduct he ascribed to this weekly were precisely those I have just attributed to the Tribune.

"You know," he said, "this guy (the publisher of the weekly) thinks he's more American than any of us — that he's 200 per cent American."

The officer was wearing the Silver Star.

Knowlson Residents — Livonia Appeal To Builder For Help

Editor:

We would like to enlist your aid in the following situation. All of us are new home owners in Livonia. We moved into our new houses in March, 1965. To date we have been unsuccessful in our attempts to have Rose-Hill Builders, Inc. complete the final grading of our lots. Our backyards are like a refuse dump, containing boards with rusty nails, sharp pieces of sheet metal, broken glass, ruts, holes, rocks, trash, etc. Those of us with small children are especially concerned about these potential dangers.

Because the grading is still unfinished, we have been thwarted in our wish to install fences. Here again, those of us with small children feel that the youngsters are being unnecessarily exposed to possible traffic accidents, dog bites, etc. We have been told that no fences can be erected until the builder finishes the grading.

Besides the safety hazards generated by this builder, we feel that our desire to landscape our lots has been unrealistically delayed. Any help that you can render us will be appreciated.

you had every right to ask what they did: what would the building of a municipal incinerator do to their land evaluation; just how do you justify the building on an incinerator between two very nice housing areas; why didn't you pursue further the purchase of the alternate site; just why do you feel it is not objectionable to build such a facility within a few feet of a house of worship and its adjoining convent and school?

Do we give the Legion of Merit to Eugene Duston because he voted for the purchase? He wished to go on record as approving the purchase, in spite of the fact that he lives nearer to the site than any of the other board members. Hurrah for him! He certainly does live nearer to the proposed garbage burner than the rest. He fails to mention that his home is over a mile away from it, he will not hear the garbage trucks, the prevailing winds will not bring him any of the odor (he says there will be none) and he will not have to hear, see or smell any of this delightful arrangement when he kneels in his church. Such humility and sacrifice is indeed touching.

In your efforts to push this project down the throats of your voters, gentlemen, you lost sight of a main issue: we are not protesting the purchase of a land site, nor are we disputing the fact that an incinerator is needed. We are protesting the choice of the proposed site. I don't believe that when Mrs. Lyndon Johnson appealed to civic leaders to beautify America, that she had in mind a community incinerator nestled in a residential area adjoining a church, playground and school and a nun's convent!

I am a registered nurse with a B.S. degree in industrial science, and try as I may, I am unable to believe that the burning of week-old garbage will yield an odor that is pleasing to anyone. Some of my neighbors have moved out of Detroit and the proximity of some of these so-called "odorless" facilities—which of you have such first-hand living experiences?

Orchids to all of you for your foresight in seeing the community problem and in trying to solve it so many months ahead. No one is disputing your wisdom in starting this planning as early as possible. But please, gentlemen, why build this incinerator in our backyards when you have an alternative site completely surrounded by industry? Your plans to pay for this area by selling services to adjoining communities means that this building will be in use night and day. Would you like this type of activity next door to you? I'll just bet you would!

This was brought to your attention quite some time ago, but we are advised that it was too costly to change the street signs, maps, etc. Once again we request that you consider correcting the spelling to read POWER COURT. Since this would not require any extra work or money perhaps you could take care of a portion of the road at this time.

Your careful consideration of this matter will be appreciated.

Save That Bike Rider!

Perhaps we have all heard so much about safe driving and accidents we are becoming completely immune to any more entreaties, but in hopes that some few persons will pay heed, these remarks are made.

Summer is bicycling time; and it is a happy time for children—yours and mine.

But it only takes one careless motorist or one negligent bike rider and an avoidable tragedy can result.

Extreme care and diligence is needed by everyone especially on highways where the bicyclist has no place to ride but on the shoulders of the highway.

Each one of us should make every effort to reduce the speed of his car to a point that he can stop or swerve instantly should a rider lose control and dart onto the highway.

Perhaps at this point we should resort to an emotional approach and touch the heart with the question: How would you feel if 'your child were struck'?

But we will eliminate painting a complete picture of a huddled heap of humanity, blood streaming from a head wound, a twisted leg, and a bent bicycle and again urge everyone:

Watch that bicycle rider!

Resents Remarks

AN OPEN LETTER TO SUPERVISOR J. McDONALD AND THE REDFORD TOWNSHIP BOARD:

I wish to protest your remarks in the last issue of the "Observer." Most particularly, I resent the fact that you felt the people who attended your meeting were there to "heckle" you. Since when is it heckling when landowners come seeking information regarding a matter that concerns them as citizens of the community, and also regarding a purchase that directly affects them and their homes? These were my friends and neighbors, gentlemen — people who elected you to serve our community—not rabble-rousers! The people who questioned

It is now becoming clear that the genes of the children of alcoholics may become involved to the point that many children of alcoholics become alcoholic. Often new born babies of alcoholic mothers need immediate treatment with alcohol at birth to prevent death by too sudden withdrawal of the alcohol the baby has become used to before birth. There are at present so many alcoholics that if alcohol should suddenly not be available, great numbers would die. The treatment of Alcoholism requires skilled attention, and alcoholics deserve such attention by modern society that has contributed so much to producing alcoholism.

Who are the propagators of such crimes that come from the use of alcohol? The over-all producers are all who make money resulting from the sale of alcohol to the consumer, from whom the money comes. The more obvious ones are the distillers, brewers, and wine makers, the bar owners, restaurants, and hotels. All liquor outlets. All advertisers of alcohol products including newspapers, magazines, television, radio stations, and many more. In an era when juvenile delinquency and crime is such a sad problem, the advertising of alcohol in the form of beer as a part of reporting baseball and other athletics would seem to qualify as an act of crime in itself, for one out of every seven and one-half children will become either a chronic alcoholic, or a problem drinker in preparation to become a chronic alcoholic. And 40 million persons who are the families of acute and chronic alcoholics have the sad and costly condition to contend with. Liberty to drink under the law is one thing, but liberty for money, to persuade youngsters during the years when conformity is natural, is something else.

It will be interesting to note what 68 million women voters will say about this to the law makers, as these mothers of the race awaken to their superior numbers and power at the polls.

'Alcoholism Is Cultivated' Says Noted Doctor Pino

CRIME

In closing last week's article on "Crime and the Human Brain," this further statement is introductory to the methods involved in the propagation of crime: From heredity and environment, from genetic evolution to his present brain and body development, man has reached the highest intellectual stature known in the vertebrate kingdom, with ability to think, to learn, and to create through brain and body function. Our educators and parents need to appreciate that the brain is the tool of first importance in education.

Students' interests can be stimulated in the fascinating subject of brain anatomy, so that they will respect their brain—the greatest electric instrument in the world. A true understanding of the brain . . . what will harm it . . . what will nourish it . . . is basic to the highest motivation. The human brain is marvelously organized for a purpose. That purpose is to think. The hope of the world depends on the use of the human brain.

CRIME PROPAGATED

Here we consider briefly the vigorous propagation of products that corrupt the brain all the way from the lesser delinquencies to major crime. I think it is important to state that each century and each generation inherits many of its most serious problems and serious behavior patterns. So the methods which propagate crime today are carry overs from the 19th century. Young men maturing at the beginning of this century who inherited the massive causes of crime could not readily destroy all the alcohol business, and they soon added the most modern methods of promotion, advertising, and public relations. So efficiently are these methods working, and such a habit-forming hold has liquor addiction on the American public become, and so directly does it downgrade the conscience and reasoning areas of the brain, that crime is out of control.

We are once again experiencing a new form of slavery for cash, and at the present by all outward appearance, accepting it as a way of life as we did for 246 years in selling human beings for cash. No normal person wants addiction to habit-forming drugs, or a potential criminal in his own family, nor wants anyone in his family to become the victim of criminal assault. Crime is nonpartisan in every sense and meaning. So we should all be agreed that the advancing trend should be reversed.

There is no group more anxious than the manufacturers of alcohol that no crime or health defects should come from its use. Much public relations emphasis is to the point that alcoholism is a disease. That possibly one out of every twenty-five persons have the disease, and that these should not drink after they discover it makes them alcoholic, and that all others should continue to drink. The truth is that everyone can become an alcoholic if he drinks enough, and so millions drink enough to become alcoholics. The cause of Alcoholism is constantly debated, especially by those interests who want people to believe that alcohol has nothing to do with Alcoholism. Of course the cause of Alcoholism is alcohol, otherwise the condition is misnamed. The popularization of Alcoholism going on in this country savors of cultism and quackery. All emphasis is on propagation and treatment; none on prevention. No program of treatment will be adequate in Alcoholism if we leave the door open to the new recruits at the rate of 1000 per day.

To simply say, "Alcoholism is a disease" is an attitude that will defeat any program of prevention. Alcohol is the direct causative factor of one of the four leading disease and death entitles in this country, ranking with heart disease, cancer and stroke. Alcoholism is a disease, but so is tuberculosis, polio, cancer, and many others. Unlike all other diseases, Alcoholism is cultivated. Many people are more immune naturally than others, but we do all we can to increase immunity and prevent other diseases. We do not extol the methods of acquiring the contagious or other diseases. We try to prevent them. We do this by education, by immunization, and by constantly keeping the facts before the public. Millions are spent in trying to avoid and cure our major diseases.

It is now becoming clear that the genes of the children of alcoholics may become involved to the point that many children of alcoholics become alcoholic. Often new born babies of alcoholic mothers need immediate treatment with alcohol at birth to prevent death by too sudden withdrawal of the alcohol the baby has become used to before birth. There are at present so many alcoholics that if alcohol should suddenly not be available, great numbers would die. The treatment of Alcoholism requires skilled attention, and alcoholics deserve such attention by modern society that has contributed so much to producing alcoholism.

Who are the propagators of such crimes that come from the use of alcohol? The over-all producers are all who make money resulting from the sale of alcohol to the consumer, from whom the money comes. The more obvious ones are the distillers, brewers, and wine makers, the bar owners, restaurants, and hotels. All liquor outlets. # Hurrah for Doylestown!

It made our day a little brighter recently when we read the story about the renovation of the little town of Doylestown, Pennsylvania. It seems that the town's Republican and Democratic leaders decided to "try all our own ideas and resources to solve our downtown problems", before accepting $500,000 in federal money for an urban renewal grant.

A water colorist was hired to sketch the tired old buildings, adding co-ordinating colors, architectural plantings and minimal remodeling of the store fronts. The artist's brush succeeded not only in lifting the faces of the buildings but also the spirits of the townspeople.

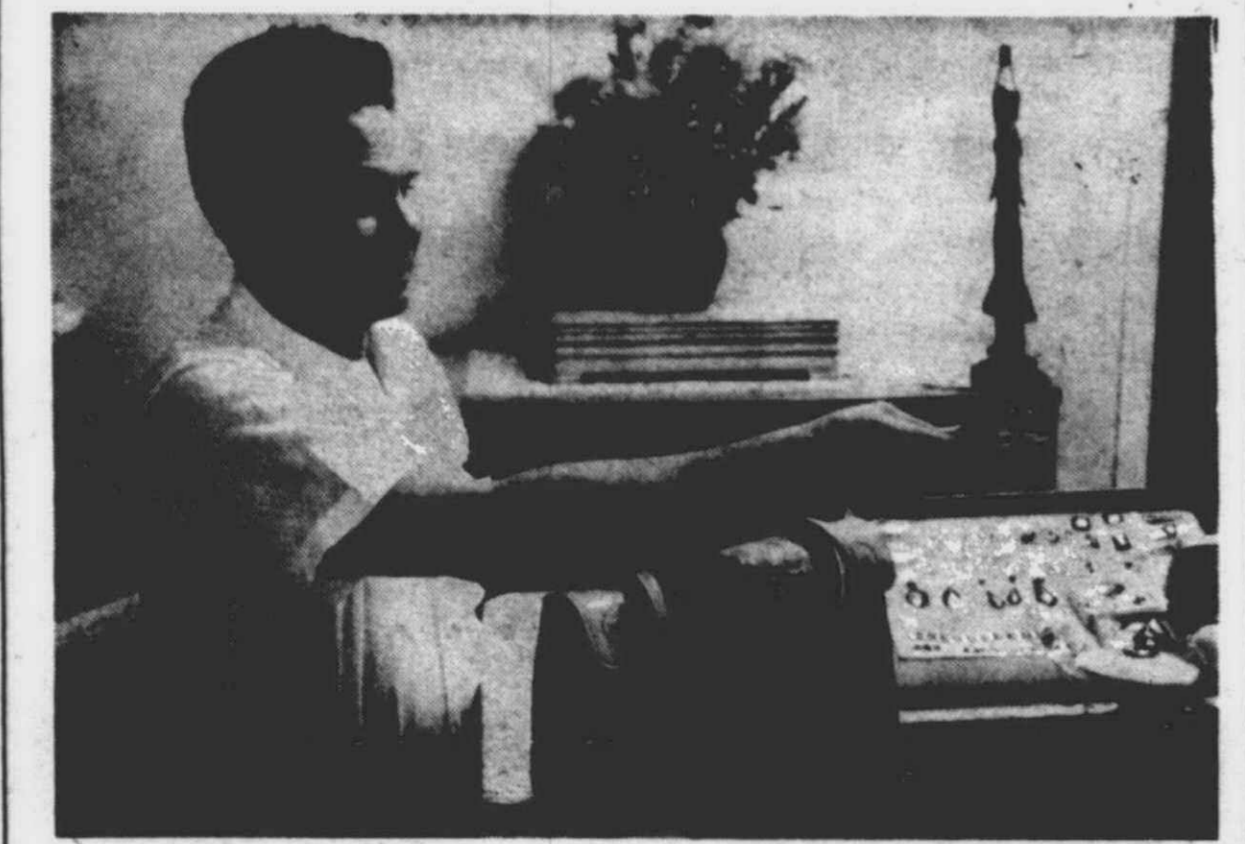

Enthusiasm spread and local laborers, merchants and bankers joined forces to scrub, polish, paint and perform minor surgery on their town's face. Their project was successful and was completed without government aid.

Their efforts saved the taxpayers almost one-half million dollars; and yet all of the money in the U.S. Treasury could not match Doylestown's profits from this venture; for fortunately, pride and integrity cannot be awarded, even by an Act of Congress.

It would seem that a similar self-examination and trial, as a prerequisite to applying for any federal grant, could add greatly to our country's resources.

'IF YOU DRAG, YOU DON'T DRIVE': Young Drivers Get Stern Warning from Judge Lincoln

Judge James H. Lincoln of Wayne County Juvenile Court today issued this warning to all drivers under seventeen years of age:

"The Juvenile Court will continue its rigid policy with regard to moving violation tickets. The implementation of the point system for juvenile drivers does not eliminate the discretionary authority of this Court. In addition to the points assessed by the Secretary of State, I will continue to suspend and restrict the driving privileges of the youthful drivers who show a careless or improper driving attitude. This is not a 'get tough' policy, but rather a firm and continuing enforcement and educational program for the beginning driver."

On May 25, a bill subjecting drivers of juvenile age to the point system for traffic violations was signed into law by Governor Romney. This bill was given immediate effect. Accordingly, when a driver of juvenile age appears before the Court on a traffic violation if the Court finds the accusation to be true an abstract of this finding will be prepared and forwarded to the Secretary of State.

"Some of the youthful drivers appearing in the Juvenile Division of Traffic Court since the point system became effective are of the mistaken opinion that nothing will happen until they accumulate 12 points. This is not true, and as a reminder I would like to restate the policy which has been in effect since 1963 and which will continue in force," said Judge Lincoln.

"If you drag—you don't drive."

Racing is willful recklessness and juveniles who are ticketed for racing face suspension of drivers' license for upward of one year.

"As a general rule, three moving violations will call for suspension of license until the juveniles' 17th birthday. There will be exceptions for personal hardship in the family; i.e. illness, essential employment or other valid reasons, but these exceptions will be few.

"The above does not imply that three moving violations are necessary before license suspension. I intend to suspend licenses on one or two tickets if the violation warrants suspension of driving privileges.

"Juveniles who drive after their licenses have been suspended will be dealt with very firmly. In some instances petitions will be filed, bringing them within the Juvenile Code as delinquents. The Court considers this to be a serious offense and will deal with it accordingly.

"I do not wish to give the impression that I am indicting all teen age drivers, because I am not. I believe the majority of youthful drivers do accept their responsibilities to abide by the motor vehicle laws and to respect the rights and privileges of others. These individuals should not stand accused as bad drivers because a few are careless and reckless in their driving habits. However, it is the position of this Court that all juvenile drivers must be careful and considerate, and any person who abuses this responsibility will lose his driving privileges."

Proclamation Lauds Mrs. Peg Schumacher

City employees paid tribute to retiring voting registrar Henrietta 'Peg' Schumacher at a dinner in Livonia Knights Inn last week and presented her with a silver tea service.

The tea service, a gift from all city employees, was accomplished by a special proclamation signed by Mayor Harvey Moelke, City Council President Rudolf R. Kleiwert and City Clerk Addison Bacon.

The proclamation read:

"Whereas Henrietta Schumacher has served the City of Livonia and her fellow citizens as an employee of the City Clerk's Office for more than eleven years, and came to be known affectionately as 'Peg,' and

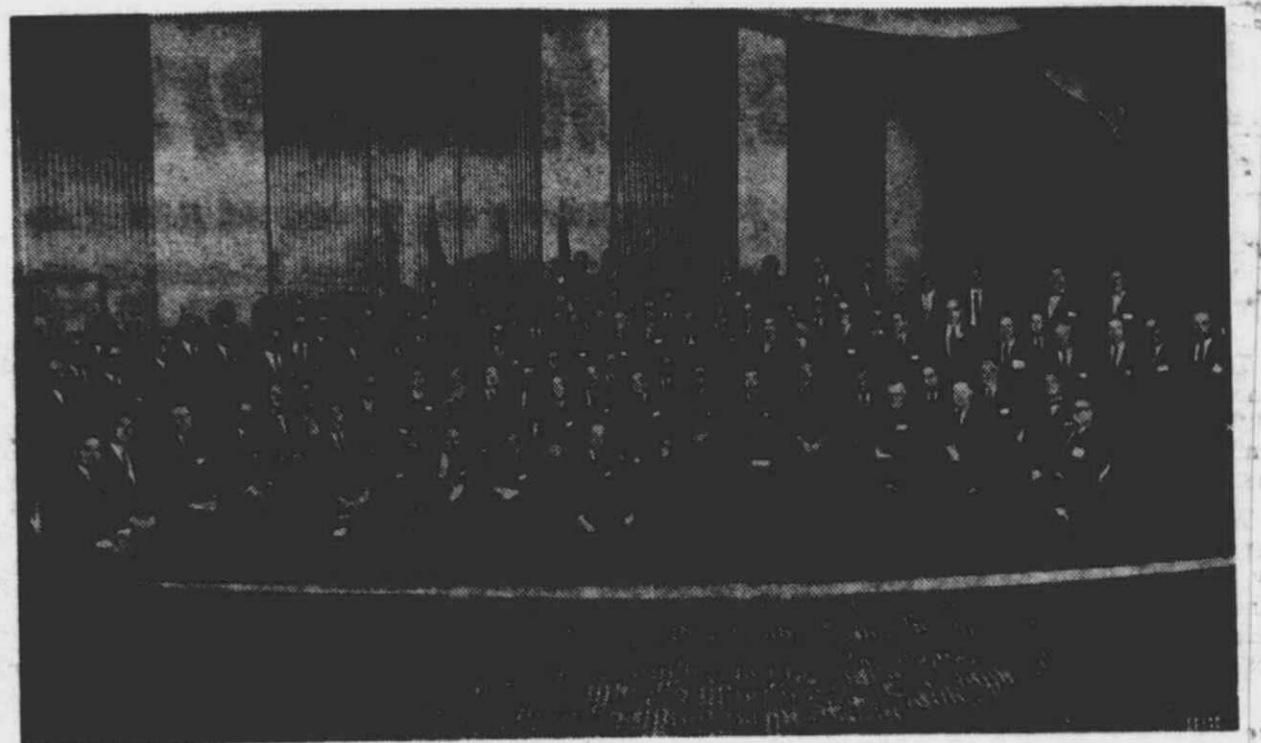

"Whereas she has seen the registered voters grow from 12,259 to over 39,000 today, many thousands of these having been registered by 'Peg,' and has seen the voting precincts grow from six to forty and

Whereas 'Peg' is now retiring from her position with the City of Livonia we, her fellow workers, take this opportunity to tell her that she has found a lasting place in our hearts and we will long recall her charming and courteous manner, her warm smile, and her great love and consideration of her fellow man."

MSU Expert Offers Tips For Family Vacation Trips

A systematic safety program should be introduced into family vacation travel, advises Louis F. Twardzik, park and recreation administration specialist at Michigan State University.

Twardzik reports that safety devices on cars or on roads can be meaningless if parents don't plan for a safe trip, especially if children are along.

By making safety a part of family participation and fun, Twardzik says, a safety program need not detract from travel pleasure. He makes these suggestions:

While traveling, one member of the family should be assigned to keep the driver "company," so he won't doze. "Company" could amount to singing nonsense songs or blowing in the driver's ears—almost everything to keep the driver alert.

The buddy system of water safety fame should apply to families when visiting strange places. Members of the family should pair off and be responsible for each other's whereabouts. This system works as well in crowded city parks as it does in a wilderness area.

Assign a member of the family to collect ideas on what to do when lost in the woods and see that each member of the family shares this information. The teacher will have a captive audience for dispensing such information while the family is traveling.

Poison ivy, oak and sumac probably account for as many ruined vacations as any other cause. Assign one of the younger members of the family to learn what these plants look like.

"The best rule," Twardzik says, "is to stay away from plants with three leaves. They grow almost anywhere."

Assignments for family safety programming and getting the family to participate are bounded only by parents' ingenuity in getting the children interested and enthused in the project. The key is to make the responsibilities enjoyable. This in turn helps make the youngster aware of the need for thinking and acting in a safe way.

"There isn't too much that can be done for the individual who stops on park and forest roads to feed wild bears or poses for pictures with them. Best rule: watch animals from a safe distance," Twardzik concludes.

Auto Safety Clinic Lauded

The July campaign of the Livonia Junior Chamber of Commerce to equip autos with safety seat belts and to conduct a safety check next Saturday and Sunday has won the plaudits of city officials.

Here's the official proclamation of Mayor Harvey Moelke citing the special event:

WHEREAS, the Livonia Junior Chamber of Commerce is launching an "Automobile Safety Clinic" at Wonderland on Saturday, July 17th, and Sunday, July 18th, to have seat belts and other safety equipment installed in the cars of the Livonia area; and

WHEREAS, traffic safety experts conservatively estimate that the chances for injury or death in traffic accidents are approximately 60 per cent less when seat belts are worn, and that use of this effective device throughout America would save 5,000 lives a year.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Harvey W. Moelke, Mayor of the City of Livonia, County of Wayne, State of Michigan, declare this JULY CAMPAIGN OF THE LIVONIA JUNIOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE to be one meriting the support of every citizen in the Livonia area, and I hereby pledge the wholehearted cooperation of the Livonia City Government in this most worthwhile effort.

Observer Readers 'Speak Up' on Firemen's Wages

Livonian Against Police-Fire Merger

Editor:
People of Livonia—wake up to the problems within your city. Yes, you do have problems. Do you care? Do you know what they are?

If you read your one and only city paper, then you must know. Almost every column says the same. It says that the police force is at an all time low. Police protection is lacking. What is happening in our police department? And to approach a subject that has been avoided for some reason, what is the trouble in our fire department?

Do we need more policemen? You can bet your last dollar that we do. During the night hours, when prowlers, robbers, teenage drinkers, car thieves, and drunks, go through the city, there frequently have been three cars patrolling our vast city of 36 square miles. One of these cars is allowed for a meal, leaving only two cars. Is that police protection?

In the afternoon when accidents are most frequent, as little as four cars are on duty covering four thousand accidents per year. Each one involves endless paper work and the time of one or more patrol cars. This amounts to more than ten accidents per day and probably more in future years. And dog bites, lost children, family disturbances, and speeders to round out the policeman's day. Is this proper police protection? My answer is NO. An emphatic NO. We need more policemen and more cars.

Now, what about the fire department? Why has this problem been avoided for so long? Why such emphasis on police problems? The fire department is losing men. Not as many as our police department. But it is under strength, just as the police, and in three stations manning two rescue squads with rescuers, four engines, a ladder truck, and furnish a man to operate the switchboard. Men are ordered to work during the holidays when no volunteers step forward. Is this proper fire protection?

Last year, the fire department handled over 1,500 calls. Grass fires, shed fires, house fires, heart attacks, injury accidents, and burning complaints are tackled with a skeleton force. Is this proper fire protection?

My answer is another emphatic NO.

What then is the problem? There are four. Low wages, poor retirement benefits, constant harassment by the city administration, and the administrative control over the civil service board which is supposedly a friend of the city worker.

The average wage of the Livonia Citizen is two thousand dollars above the wage of a city worker. Yet they are expected to be respected citizens of Livonia and forced to live within its boundaries. Our mayor expects city workers to buy from local merchants within Livonia, when the price of land, homes, taxes, food, and just general living expenses are less in surrounding communities. This is problem number one.

The general retirement for most workers is approaching four hundred dollars per month. The retirement benefit offered by Livonia is half this amount including social security. This is problem number two.

The Civil Service Commission, the friend who advises the council and mayor of needed wages, fringe benefits, and working conditions, is in my opinion, under political pressure and controlled by the mayor's political appointee and they do his bidding. This must be corrected with unbiased people. This is problem number three.

All city workers are harassed by the threat of elimination of jobs, constant low wages, increasing work loads, and straight time pay for over-time hours. Finally, you can be sure that our mayor will not forget the city employees supporting former Mayor Brashear during the last two elections. And the firemen picketing City Hall, because of no wage increases for five years, is the reason for so much emphasis on police problems while the fire department experiences the exact same difficulties. This is problem number four.

Where, people of Livonia, is the answer to this dilemma? Is it tax increases for wages, integration of police and fire departments, or is it within the administration?

First, a vote will be taken during the next election on a one mill increase for police officers. Is that fair when other city employees do comparable jobs and deserve comparable wages? Or is this a reprisal for supporting Mr.

Brashear and picketing city hall.

Second, integration of police and fire services. The simple fact about integration is that it doesn't work. Many cities across the United States have tried it and have gone back to separate departments. It is also false economy because fire protection is almost eliminated. Taxes will not go down with integration but fire insurance rates will increase to far surpass any future tax savings. If you can't believe that, ask your insurance man. Take the fire at Rosedale Bike Shop as an example. Off-duty firemen and policemen were called to duty. Ten police cars were sent there but seven were called away to other important runs. If these forces were integrated, one or more of these emergency situations would have to wait or be ignored. Would you like to wait, in need of a policeman, while he fights a fire or wait, in need of a fireman, while he chases a speeder? Or can you imagine your job being combined with another and be paid the same for a double work load.

Third, is it the administration? Let us examine the surrounding and comparable communities. You will find lower taxes, separate police and fire departments, higher salaries, and twice the men or services provided by Livonia.

Where is our tax money going? Ask yourself this question when you go to the polls and find the ballot listing wage increases for our mayor and other city officials. Ask why the mayor spent seven thousand dollars to remodel his office and acquired another secretary. Ask why one city employee deserves more money while others do comparable jobs and are neglected. Why does the administration try to change the firemen's 56-hour work week when it was given to them by the people. The Governor signed into law a bill declaring all firemen are to work these hours next year. Ask why the protests were given little consideration following the last police department promotional examinations. And why is a real estate man so absorbed in pushing a parks bond down our throats. Is it because he has some property to sell or some political contributions to repay?

Citizens of Livonia, you now have a few facts and observations. It is your given right to make a decision. Some of you will sit and not care at all. But some will begin to wonder and ask questions. While it may be difficult and time consuming, you will surely find truth in what is said here. Call upon your officials for explanations and talk to the city employees for down to earth honesty in opinions. Be an active citizen, for your reward will be lower taxes and better city services in the future. Remember that your vote elected the present administration. But that same vote can elect better and more responsible persons in the future.

AN INTERESTED LIVONIA RESIDENT

Firemen Overworked?

Editor:
There is no one who is more ready to admit that the lot of a fireman (or a policeman) is more hazardous than the usual occupation, and I would not wish to belittle the risks that they take. However, it appears to some of us that the "long hours" that the former "work" has been blown somewhat out of realistic proportion. I refer specifically to the accusation of the Livonia Firefighters Association in the June 30 Observer, wherein it is asserted that firemen "work" eighty hours a week. It is true that for twenty-four hour periods firemen are on duty, but has it been thought out that about half of this time is involved in sleeping? From some who are on the force it has been determined that so far as the number of days is concerned, firemen work nine days each month, on the average.

Periodically throughout the month there are so-called "Kelly days," when, after working a regular turn and receiving the resulting average time off, additional days off—called "Kelly days" are given. Then, after every third or fourth "Kelly day" an additional such day is given. So far as I know, there are practically no firemen who do not have moonlighting jobs, but many of these are carried on by way of personal businesses and are not all by persons whose financial need is causing it.

Additional to the sleeping time, is the time involved in card-playing and other similar non-productive jobs, and for the Firefighters Association to state that the firemen are so overworked is to tell some facts, but in leaving out others, give an untrue picture. If they desire to present their case for salary improvement fairly, fully, and honestly, fine. But to only present half-truths is not giving much credence to those who know more of the facts than they present.

Dollar-wise, the $6,385.00 mentioned in the article still compares favorably to the beginning salary for a teacher, living in this same city of Livonia, who begins at about $5,300.00, be married or single.

Final Say on Weeds

The Noxious Weed and Refuse Ordinance is proving to be of little value to the City of Livonia. For example: a large tract of land just east of Roosevelt School was cut of weeds last year under then existing Ordinance No. 486; this year, under Ordinance No. 516, only about 25% of this area is vulnerable to the Weed Ordinance. This is not an isolated instance, and what does it prove? It proves that weeds that were illegal last year have suddenly become legal. The Weed Ordinance was botched-up last year and permitted weeds to grow until July 29th. The new ordinance eliminates thousands of acres from its control.

Reading the ordinance, you would assume that the weeds and refuse would be taken care of. Not so, however. What is required, and not stated in the ordinance, (nor the letter we all received from the Mayor last May) that a Weed Complaint Form, available from the City Clerk or the D.P.W., be submitted after searching out the property owner's name, lot number, parcel number, subdivision, section and address and then sign a complaint.

There is a Mayor's Committee to "Keep Livonia Beautiful" but I know of nothing the Mayor nor the Committee has done to strengthen the ordinance. Their "kid-glove" approach will get them nowhere, a strong ordinance could be their real weapon. When I fought so hard for a better ordinance, you may have thought the Mayor would have sought me out for his Committee, but I thought not because I would have gone after the biggest offenders, the builders and large land-owners.

I am confident that the present ordinance will be an expense to the City, hence my recommendation of raising the penalty provision to 25%; first, to more adequately assure reimbursement to the City, and second, to give the ordinance more incentive to compliance.

We need a full-time Weed and Refuse Inspector to police our weed and refuse strewn city. It would pay off in the long run with a cleaner, neater and healthier city, eliminate rats and vermin, encourage citizen participation, attract industrial and commercial development and eliminate many areas vulnerable to child molestation.

To me, the initials "H. W. M." could stand for HAVE WEEDS MOWED, but apparently they stand for HELP WEEDS MATURE!

I've had my say, now let's hear from the opposition.

About IBM Schools

Editor:
I'm writing to you in regard to these IBM keypunch schools. I, for one, enrolled in one in the suburban area.

The school said it would give free placement assistance. When you call them up they are very sarcastic. After they get $229 from you they don't even want to talk to you.

The places they send you are places like Fords, National Bank, Fisher Body, and the Board of Education. All those big firms are not hiring and the school doesn't want your application because they do not hire trainees.

These schools know this before they even take your money. I have been to employment agencies and even these places can't get you a job until you have six months experience. I have tried every day for two months and still no job. I have lost $229, four weeks of called training, my time and everything else.

These schools should be made to place their students or be made to close their doors. It's just a racket to make big money on poor girls trying to better themselves.

I'm writing not only for myself, but also for hundreds of other girls spending this kind of money.

MRS. C. CECCAIELLI
Ed. Note: A copy of this letter will be forwarded to the Better Business Bureau, and local Chamber of Commerce with the name of the school which has been withheld from publication at this time.

Yesterday's Headlines

10 YEARS AGO (July 14, 1955)
The long awaited sewer project for the city was set back another 90 days as one of the contractors was unable to furnish a performance bond. This was the second delay in the much needed project as the first occurred when contractor bids were $400,000 too much.

Here Are Texts of Two Proposed Charter Amendments for Livonia

Following is the official text of the two proposed charter amendments which will face Livonia voters on a special election ballot Tuesday, Sept. 14.

The first provides for a one-mill tax increase to support "additional revenues for police protection and law enforcement personnel, equipment, supplies and facilities." The second changes the salaries, and methods of fixing same, for the Mayor, Clerk and Treasurer. Printed are both the present charter language and the proposed, if the amendments pass:

The form of notice of said Charter amendment to be posted and published shall be as follows:

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE THAT AT THE SPECIAL CITY ELECTION TO BE HELD IN THE CITY OF LIVONIA ON TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1966, THE FOLLOWING CHARTER AMENDMENT PROPOSITION WILL BE SUBMITTED TO VOTE OF THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF THE CITY:

for municipal purposes but such levy shall not exceed one half (1/2) of one (1) per centum of the assessed value of all real and personal property subject to taxation in the City.

That in the event the foregoing proposed Charter amendment is approved by the electorate at said Special City Election, Chapter VIII Section 1 will read as follows:

Chapter VIII Section 1. Power to Tax; Tax Limit. The City shall have the power to annually levy and collect taxes for municipal purposes, but such levy shall not exceed one-half (1/2) of one (1) per centum of the assessed value of all real and personal property subject to taxation in the City; provided, however, that in addition thereto the City shall have the power to annually levy and collect taxes each year, commencing on December 1, 1965, in an amount not to exceed 1/10 of one (1) per centum of the assessed value of all real and personal property subject to taxation in the City for the sole and exclusive purpose of providing additional revenues for police protection and law enforcement personnel, equipment, supplies and facilities in the City of Livonia?

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE THAT THE FOLLOWING IS THE EXISTING CHARTER PROVISION THAT WILL BE ALTERED OR ABROGATED BY THE FOREGOING PROPOSED CHARTER AMENDMENT:

Chapter VIII, Section 1. Power to Tax; Tax Limit. The City shall have power to annually levy and collect taxes and Section 4 in Chapter V, which changed sections shall read as follows:

Charter IV, Section 30. Power of Council Over Salaries and Compensation. The Council shall have no power to change the salary or compensation of any elected officer of the City, except the Mayor, City Treasurer, City Clerk and the Justice of the Peace. The salary or compensation of all other officers, including the Mayor, City Treasurer, City Clerk and the Justice of the Peace, may be fixed, reduced or increased by the Council at any time, except that no salary or emoluments of any public official shall be changed after his election or appointment or during his term of office.

Chapter V, Section 4. Compensation. The compensation of the Mayor shall be fixed by the City Council in an amount not less than $10,000.00 per annum, and that of the City Treasurer shall be not less than $8,500.00 per annum, and that of the City Clerk shall be not less than $8,500.00 per annum. Except as otherwise provided by law or this Charter, the salary and compensation of every other administrative officer shall be fixed by the Council. Such salaries shall be payable monthly, and, except as otherwise provided in this Charter, shall constitute the only salary or remuneration which may be paid for services.

RESOLVED FURTHER, that the provisions of existing sections of the Charter of the City of Livonia which are altered, abrogated or affected by this proposal, if adopted, now read as follows:

Chapter IV, Section 30. Power of Council Over Salaries and Compensation. The Council shall have no power to change the salary or compensation of any elected officer of the City, except the Mayor, City Treasurer, City Clerk and the Justice of the Peace.

The salary or compensation of all other officers, including the Mayor, City Treasurer, City Clerk and the Justice of the Peace, may be fixed, reduced or increased by the Council at any time, except that no salary or emoluments of any public official shall be changed after his election or appointment or during his term of office.

Chapter V, Section 4. Compensation. The compensation of the Mayor shall be fixed by the City Council in an amount not less than $10,000.00 per annum, and that of the City Treasurer shall be not less than $8,500.00 per annum, and that of the City Clerk shall be not less than $8,500.00 per annum. Except as otherwise provided by law or this Charter, the salary and compensation of every other administrative officer shall be fixed by the Council. Such salaries shall be payable monthly, and, except as otherwise provided in this Charter, shall constitute the only salary or remuneration which may be paid for services.

NEW PRINCIPAL AT BENTLEY: Assistant Supt. Cecl H. Alford (l.) who was principal of Bentley High School from 1950 to 1958 prior to moving to the Board offices, congratulates Jack R. Comstock, newly appointed head of Livonia's first high school. Comstock was assistant principal at Franklin High from 1963-65. He has also served as an English-Journalism teacher and a counselor at Bentley from 1952 to 1960. Comstock lives at 15554 Comstock in Livonia.

State Police Seek German Shepherd Dogs

The State Police are seeking donations of German shepherd dogs to meet the increased demand for the service department tracking dog teams, Commissioner Fredrick E. Davids announces.

The department first experimented with the use of a tracking dog in 1960 and the results were so good that the program was expanded in 1961 to five handler-dog teams. Two years later this was increased to 10 teams and the plans are to add another five teams.

Because age limits the usefulness of a dog, replacements are also being sought. All of the dogs have been gifts.

Male German shepherds of pure strain and, if possible, registered are being sought as they are regarded as the best all-around type of dog for police purposes. Dogs selected must be between one and two years of age, big boned, and at least 24 inches tall measured from the ground to the top of the front shoulders.

Ears must stand up and there must be no noticeable scars or odd and unusual markings.

Donors are requested to get in touch with any State Police post.

A trooper is assigned to a dog and both are trained at State Police headquarters in East Lansing by Corporal Richard Abbott, who has headed up the program since the beginning.

Tracking teams are now assigned at the East Lansing, Ionia, Pontiac, Bay City, Jackson, Paw Paw, Grand Haven, Cheboygan, Houghton Lake and Marquette posts.

A task finished today is worth dozens planned for tomorrow.

One Out of 70 Will Win Big 'Shopping Spree'

A field of more than 70 young girls has been selected for Wonderland Center's first annual bathing beauty contest, it was announced this week by Ernie Epps, promotion director for the 37-store shopping center at Plymouth and Middlebelt.

The young ladies, all between the ages of 18 and 22, will compete for more than $1,000 in prizes, including a $500 first prize.

The top award will be in the form of a "shopping spree" at Wonderland stores.

Swinging Sweeney, WENR disc jockey, will serve as master of ceremonies for the pageant, which will begin at 2 p.m., Saturday, July 17.

Music will be furnished by the Continentals, a young musical group from Franklin High.

The difficult job of selecting the winner will be entrusted to a panel of judges, consisting of Mrs. Elvira Egeand, Mrs. Michigan title holder, and Mrs. Margaret Rosenberg, runner-up in Wonderland's recent Mrs. Livonia contest. Other judges include Barbara Loren, teenage fashion consultant, and 22-year-old Kenneth Shaner.

Prior to the final judging, all contestants will appear at Wonderland Wednesday night during a performance of the Glenn Miller Orchestra. The girls, dressed in streetwear, will be introduced during an intermission.

Livonia Bank Opens New Mid-Seven Branch Thursday

Livonia National Bank will formally open its new Mid-Seven office Thursday at 9:30 a.m.

Located at the northeast corner of Middlebelt and Seven Mile roads, the new office—the bank's fourth—will provide full range banking services to nearby residents in addition to serving as a convenient banking center for persons visiting the massive Livonia Mall shopping center.

Commenting on the opening of the new office, bank president Fred Lavery said, "The dynamic growth of Livonia has brought an ever-increasing demand for banking services. This new office has been built as part of our continuing commitment to provide Livonia residents with the best possible banking facilities."

John Michlewicz, manager of the office, and his assistant, Joseph Bardoni, will supervise the operations of the staff at the new facility, which has more than 6,600 square feet of service area, evenly divided between the building's two floors. Soaring white marble panels on the second floor exterior provide gleaming contrast to the black granite that covers ground level walls.

Two drive-up teller windows are spaced along the north wall of the building, where the night depository is also located. Customer parking for more than 40 cars is available in the spacious lot north of the building.

Interior decorators for the building, Robert Lowry Associates of Ann Arbor, have used wood tones and warm colors throughout the bank to convey a feeling of hospitality.

The first floor, in addition to the lobby area, has eight teller stations, an officers platform, conference room, lounge area, and safe deposit vault section. Oiled walnut wall panels are accented with sections of vinyl wall covering in Nordic gold. Desks, furniture and tellers stations are finished in walnut. Counter tops of rust formica, drapes and carpeting in tones of gold, brown, russet and marigold, and ceramic tile insert panels in the counter fronts that are done in gold and russet, provide contrasting highlights.

Paintings in a contemporary motif by the California artist Dietrichs, add special notes of interest to the lobby and conference room. The paintings are done in a silk-screen process called serigraph.

The second floor contains the installment loan department and employees lounge with kitchen facilities.

Carpeting in the upstairs area is a soft gold that is picked up in the pale gold tones of the vinyl wall covering. Accent colors used in the furnishings are pumpkin, dark brown and lemon yellow.

Grand opening activities will include "open house" visits by the general public, with gifts for each person. In addition, cash prizes will be awarded to those who have lucky keys that open a treasure chest of money. The grand prize winner will be entitled to a bucket full of cash from the treasure chest.

In the words of President Lavery, "The people of Livonia have fashioned a dynamic, growing city and it is the responsibility of our bank to keep pace by providing the most progressive banking service possible. This new office is a tangible expression of our belief in the future of Livonia."

Language Teachers In Demand

ANN ARBOR — The demand for high school language teachers is still far in advance of the supply, says Valentine C. Hubbs, University of Michigan assistant professor of German.

At the same time, demands for language teachers on the elementary school level are rapidly increasing as new FLES (Foreign Language Elementary School) programs get underway throughout the country, he points out.

The U-M Bureau of Appointments has supplied the following information. From October 1, 1963 to October 1, 1964, there were 209 candidates for language teaching positions registered at the University's Placement Bureau.

During this same period of time 984 requests for language teachers were made by schools in Michigan and other states. The breakdown:

French teachers available, 88; French teachers requested by Michigan schools, 119, by out-state schools, 322. Total 441.

Spanish teachers available, 48; Spanish teachers requested by Michigan schools, 102, by outstate, 219. Total 321.

DRC Scores Pair of Shutouts

It's tough to surpass the pitching the DRC team of Livonia received last week. Larry Sladek and Hank Schoenbeck each came through with a shutout performance as DRC won over the Livonia Bisons, 3-0, and the Plymouth Elks, 2-0, in Class D-Commie Mack League action.

Sladek held the Bisons to a single hit—by Mike McCauley. The DRC hit production wasn't much better against Bill McAlpine. Only Dodson and Woods managed hits, but Dodson's blow drove in the first run following a walk while Woods drilled in two runs after an error, hit batsman and walk had jammed the bases.

Schoenbeck held the Plymouth Elks to a pair of safeties, one each by Dick Simmons and Paul Carlson.

Loser Bob Gotro scattered four hits. One of the DRC runs came in the fourth inning when Jim Rose stole home.

The Elks also lost to the Wayne Red Sox during the week by a 5-4 score. Pat Williams and Don Stamper each knocked in a pair of runs for the losers.

Meantime, the North Redford entry ran its record to seven wins against one loss and a tie by downing the Livonia Elks, 4-3, and Northville, 8-0.

Dick Barryman went the route against Northville, allowing four hits and fanning 10. He also was in the victor relief against the Livonia Elks to run his record to six wins without a loss in sandlot action this summer.

Leland Bjerke knocked in the first North Redford run against Northville. Then in the fourth inning, the team broke loose with three tallies—all following a squeeze-play bunt.

Barryman opened the inning and was safe on an error. After Jim Johnston walked, Robby Masson also drew a free ticket to load the bases.

Randy Maltby then bunted and Barryman and Johnston both scored on the throw to first. They were running on the play. On a wild peg, Masson also came across.

Against the Livonia Elks, North Redford went in front, 1-0, when Maltby singled in sacrifice. Then Leland Bjerke's Maffione fly and Harry Kendrick helped North to take a 3-0 lead.

But the Elks got even in the fifth, a double by Davies following a walk and two errors. Thereafter Barryman took over for North Redford and fanned five of the last six men he faced.

The winning run was scored when Glen Buckingham singled in the seventh. He moved to second on a sacrifice by Johnston and clicked on Bjerke's single.

The Livonia Giants stayed in second place behind North Redford with a 5-1-2 record by belting the Elks, 14-3, and then tying the Plymouth Optimists, 3-3, in a game halted by curfew regulations.

The Giants broke a 3-3 deadlock in the fourth inning against the Elks when Bruce Berger and Gary Birkett singled and Paul Deedler doubled.

After adding six tallies in the fifth and sixth, the Giants erupted for seven tallies in the seventh inning.

Walks by Mitch Saleski and Paul Hartge started matters. Berger singled, Birkett walked, Deedler singled and Roger Frayer doubled before Mike Stachurski homered with two aboard.

Al Wallman with help from Larry Ruzsas pitched for the victors. Frank Dudley's doubles was the big blow for the losers.

Frayer singled in Saleski with the Giants' first run against the Optimists. In the fourth a double by Deedler and singles by Frayer and Stachurski made it 2-0.

The Optimists cashed three runs in the seventh when John Bida singled and took second on an error. After Jim Carter walked, Jack Robertson singled and Dave Nunez doubled.

But the Giants got even in the seventh when Deedler singled and came home on Frayer's hit. Nunez and Robertson shared the pitching for the Optimists while Bill Montroy worked for the Giants.

South Redford also engineered a pair of victories, gaining an 8-3 decision over the Livonia Bisons and ripping the North Nankin entry, 10-4.

Fine relief pitching by Jim Sprout, taking over for Tim Fisher, held the Bisons in check after the Livonians went ahead, 3-2, in the fourth when Ed Ryan, Pete MacGregor and Dan Montroy singled and Joe Fortman was safe on an error.

Ex-Plymouth Star Shines For Spartans

EAST LANSING — Former Plymouth High track standout Bob Steele compiled a fine record in his first season with the Michigan State track team this spring.

The 6-1, 165-pound first year man was one of a quartet of Spartan hurdlers that captured titles in the Drake Relays, Ohio Relays and the indoor Michigan State Relays. In the Drake Relays the foursome set a record with a :57.9 for the 480-yard shuttle hurdles.

Although hampered by injuries this spring, Steele came through with good performances in the high and intermediate hurdles and the relays. His best timed were a :14.3 clocking in the high hurdles and a :38.6 mark over the 330-yard intermediate sticks.

Steele helped the Spartans win their first Big Ten track championship this spring. Steel was three-year letter-winner in track at Plymouth High and was also a member of the basketball team.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Steele, of 1150 Dewey, Plymouth, and is majoring in physical education at Michigan State.

'A's' Rally; Down Giants 8-5

Livonia's Class A baseball team—the club without a league this season—rallied for an 8-5 win over the Class D Livonia Giants Saturday night.

Down 4-2 in the ninth inning, the "A" team took advantage of three straight errors, followed by doubles by Coleman and Sloan and singles by Beale and Stockwell to pull the game out.

Larry Ruzsas pitched three fine innings of relief for the Giants and also doubled in one run in the sixth and singled in two more in the eighth.

Roger Frayer with three hits and Jim Rose with a pair of safeties topped the losers who outthit their older foes, 11-8.

OBSERVING SPORTS

By George Maskin

Nicer guys than Earl Lloyd you won't find around sports.

Lloyd, once a star in the National Basketball Association, now is the chief scout for the Detroit Pistons. He truly represents "class." There is no man, friend or foe, who speaks in derogatory terms when it comes to Lloyd.

Just how high Lloyd rates can be drawn from remarks registered by Alex Hannum of the San Francisco Warriors, considered by many the No. 1 coach in the pro cage wars.

We were on vacation in Las Vegas in mid-April when we bumped into Hannum, who was in the city of gambling to observe a team of U.S. College All Stars in action against a visiting squad from Russia.

Probing Hannum on whom he might select in the forthcoming draft, we got the following answer:

"I sure would help me if I knew whom Lloyd considers the top college players in the country. My job sure would be simplified."

A few weeks later we encountered Hannum in New York City. He again uttered:

"I wish Lloyd would tell me something."

While Lloyd didn't let anything out of the bag as far as Hannum was concerned, Earl did spill some interesting words the other evening when he appeared as the featured speaker before the Plymouth Lions Club.

"The best advice I can give to fathers who think they have sons who are good athletes is to not encourage the boys to seek a career as a professional sports performer," Lloyd declared.

Lloyd quickly added:

"Believe me, I'm not knocking my profession. Playing in pro sports, especially in any of the major leagues, is the greatest thing that can happen to a person.

"But, keep in mind these facts."

And then Lloyd elaborated.

"Very few athletes really become a success in pro sports. In our league we have only 99 players all together. Hockey doesn't have many more. Baseball and football, of course, have more, but take a look at the number of boys who engage in these sports throughout the country.

"Those who get to the majors represent a minute percentage.

"It takes a boy with exceptional ability to advance to major-league status. Even the bench warmers in the National Basketball Association were All Americas in college."

After a momentary pause, Lloyd declared:

"Now let us consider the boys with average scholastic ability in high school. True, college enrollment requirements are getting tougher, but just about any boy who wishes can get to some school of higher learning.

"With just his average ability, the boy can choose from many different courses . . . and professions.

"He has a far better chance of being a success as a mechanic, engineer, doctor, dentist or lawyer than he would if he put all his eggs into a professional sports basket.

"Then, there's something else to remember. The athletic career of the professional is short. Most don't last five years in the majors, hardly enough time to make a bundle of money.

"This means that the boy must make a decision at age 30 to go into another job. Only by getting proper training in school can he be ready to enter a more sustained occupation."

Hazel Park Nears Million at Turnstiles

The Hazel Park Race Track has a solid chance of passing the one-million mark in paid attendance for the current thoroughbred meeting which will continue through July 31.

With the exception of the Detroit Tigers, no professional sports attraction has ever drawn 1,000,000 cash customers in one year in Michigan.

To continue to sustain interest, Hazel Park will offer one of its richest programs of the year on Saturday, July 17, with two outstanding feature races:

• The $20,000 added Freshman Derby, Michigan's No. 1 race for two year olds, at six and a half furlongs.

• The $10,000 St. Clair Handicap for three year olds and up at one mile.

For the first 11 weeks of its 14 week meeting, Hazel Park has averaged approximately 12,400 paid admissions per day. If this present pace is maintained, the track will conclude its 84-day meeting with a new Michigan thoroughbred record of more than 1,000,000 paid admissions.

The previous high in attendance for a race meeting was established last year by Hazel Park with 856,307 for a 72-day meeting, an average of 11,893 per day.

have leaped and cheered had they been present to hear Lloyd's remarks.

It's no simple chore to drive home to youngsters — and even some of their parents — the importance of going all out to make the most of one's time spent in school.

Boys and girls at 16 or 17 often lack the foresight to be able to see why they should stick in school. They find it easier to slip away from their schoolwork.

It's not until they get into a jam, or become ten years older, that they realize what a mistake they made when they were in their teens.

Maybe our school masters should adopt a new rule — instead of permitting students to drop out of school at age 16, they should lift the dropout age to 18. This would keep many a student where he belongs—in school.

Getting back to Scout Lloyd of the Pistons, he talked about some of the new hopes of the Pistons — players like Michigan's Bill Buntin, Indiana's Tom Van Arsdale, Notre Dame's Ron Reed and ex-Dayton star Bill Chmielewski who'll be reporting for drills in September.

The quartet were introduced today at a luncheon hosted by the Pistons in downtown Detroit for press, radio and newspaper representatives, including the Observer's Tommy Thompson.

Both Buntin and Van Arsdale will do a little traveling before they join the Pistons. Buntin will go to Europe with fellow members of last year's U. of Michigan team. Van Arsdale also is going to Europe with a group of top collegiate stars of the past season.

These trips are sponsored by the U.S. State Department as one way of showing our friends in other lands how the Americans perform in sports.

The Michigan and U.S. teams will meet homegrown teams in each country. At the moment, the Americans have the edge over most countries in basketball.

But the word is that the time fast is approaching when the U.S. teams will have their problems trying to master Europeans and others on the hardwoods — in the game which was founded here in the states.

REMAINS IN THICK OF LEGION RACE:

Farmington Wins, Loses on Protests

It was an afternoon of protests as Farmington's American Legion baseball team wound up in a standoff against Southfield in a doubleheader last Sunday. Farmington dropped the opener, 1-0 with Manager Wally Christensen indicating that he would lodge a protest over the way the game's lone run was scored.

In the nightcap, Farmington was awarded a victory on a forfeit because the Southfield manager refused to leave the premises after being ejected by the umpires in the fourth inning with the score 4-0 in Farmington's favor. Christensen claims that the umpires admitted after the first game that they "had missed the call" which led to Southfield's run.

Here's what happened: Jeff Poljola, the Southfield pitcher, started the sixth inning with a single off Steve Page of Farmington. Two walks and one out later, Farmington had the bases loaded.

Bill Bowles, the Farmington first baseman. He made the catch and pegged to third in an attempt to double Poljola. The throw was wide, but Miles Kearney, Farmington's shortstop, retrieved the ball and fired to Mike Perry, in time to double the runner who originally was on second base.

In the meantime, Poljola had streaked home and the run was allowed, although the umpires couldn't agree. One said the run should count, the other said "no." Finally, the run was allowed.

It was Christensen's contention that since the double play was made without a break in the action, no run could score.

(Editor's Note: Since the third out was made on a situation in which the batter-run failed to reach first base safely or on a force out at another base, the run would count, if the runner from third crossed the plate before the out was recorded at second.)

Christensen also had some words with the umpires an inning earlier when Kearney was tossed out as he tried to steal home.

"How could the umps miss such a play?" screamed Christensen. "First of all the pitcher balked. Then he quick pitched ... Finally the catcher stepped in front of the plate and interfered with our batter."

Christensen realized he could only holler on such calls. They all involved umpire's judgment and there can be no protesting these verdicts.

Page, the Farmington loser, allowed only two hits in the game while Farmington collected six. Kearney had a triple and a single, Carl Misch a single, Wayne Johnson, a single, Perry a single and Bill Farmington a single.

In the second game with Richard Krumm pitching, Farmington was rolling along in high gear until Bud Bryant, the Southfield pilot got himself thrown out for disputing a third strike.

Bryant stayed on the scene and when he refused to depart, the umps ruled the game a forfeit, although Christensen asked that the game be continued.

Singles by Tim Marzolf, Wayne Johnson and Dick Johnston brought Farmington its first run in the first inning. In the second, Bill Oldershaw tripled, Krumm was safe on a fielder's choice, Barry Aeneda singled and Marzolf delivered a roller on which Krumm scored.

Johnston doubled in the fourth, stole third and scored on Misch's sacrifice fly.

The weekend's action left Farmington with a 12-3 record and in a hot battle with Waterford and Southfield for the 18th district title.

Farmington will play at Troy this Wednesday and then host Waterford Friday. The latter game could decide the divisional flag and decide which team qualifies for the state tournament.

On Sunday, Farmington goes to Milford and then the same teams clash again at Farmington on July 21 to end the regular schedule.

TO THE CHAMPS: Mayor Edwin Freeh of Garden City honors Garden City's Connie Mack League baseball champs in special ceremonies at the City Hall. The team copped the regular season title, beating out teams from Ann Arbor, Wayne and Ypsilanti.

Garden City Knocked Out In Title Play

Champs in the regular season . . . quick knockout victims in the playoffs.

So it went this season for McK's Partyville, Garden City's Connie Mack baseball team.

During the regular camp, the way to all its opponents. This established Garden City as the favorites for the playoffs to determine the league's representative in the district meet coming up at Monroe.

But there'll be no district tourney for Garden City. In fact, the campaign now is over . . . with July only halfway completed.

Ann Arbor Everett squelched the Garden City hopes by downing the Partyville team, 4-2, on Saturday and then 12-0, on Sunday in the best-of-three eliminations.

The end of the campaign also marked the end of Chet Buczek's 10-year reign as a manager of Little League and Connie Mack teams in Garden City.

"I'll keep my hand in kids' baseball," an unhappy Buczek declared after Sunday's defeat. "But I won't have the time to stay on as a manager."

One thing Buczek hopes to accomplish is to switch Garden City into Livonia's Class D Connie Mack and Free Press Leagues.

"It makes more sense to play the teams now in the Livonia League," said Buczek. "The clubs from Livonia, Redford Township, Plymouth, Nankin and Dearborn Heights are so much closer to us."

In its present league, Garden City has had to invade Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti.

Garden City's Partyville was short on pitching going into the playoffs.

Paul Kightlinger, the team's ace, was in Puerto Rico while Mike Wilson was on the sidelines with an injury.

The Partyville defense also sacked in the eliminations. So did the hitting.

Ann Arbor was held to two hits in Saturday's game. One safety, a double, started the game for the victors. The other blow came in the fifth as Mike Hess and Bernie Shoemaker pitched well enough to win most games.

After the initial doubles, two walks and a sacrifice netted Partyville a run. In the second inning, two errors, two walks and a sacrifice produced two more runs. In the sixth, an error and three walks made it 4-0.

Garden City eluded a shut-out by counting twice in the seventh and final inning. After Don Barchus was safe on an error, Norm Vasquez singled and Ken Cartier doubled for two runs.

Partyville outthit the winners, 8-2.

There was no threat by Garden City against Ann Arbor on Sunday. The losers were held to five hits—singles by Dana Ewles, Cartier, Stan Wieckowski and Ford Simpson and a double by Cass Simpson.

Ann Arbor never notched more than two runs in any inning, and most of the tallies resulted from either physical or mental errors on the part of Garden City players.

The shutout was the first suffered by a Garden City team in Connie Mack play in four years.

At least five of the Garden City players now are headed for college. Ewles is going to Vanderbilt, Vasquez to Indiana, Wieckowski to Eastern Michigan, and Cartier and Cass Simpson to schools still unselected.

Manager Buczek called the season "a good one" in most respects.

Dodgers Still On Top of Little League

The Braves won a 54 meet over the Redlegs in a June 28 game in the North Redford Township national Little League.

In companion games, the Dodgers beat the Pirates, 3-1, and the Cubs were outplayed by the Giants, and Giants tied with a 5-5 score.

On July 8, a 1-0 victory was registered by the Pirates over the Cubs, and the Giants defeated the Braves, 4-1. The Dodgers outdistanced the Redlegs, 15-4. Gordon Perry and Mark Miron both hit home runs to help the Dodgers to victory.

In Minor A league play, the Giants whipped the Cubs, 13-7, the Pirates and Dodgers tied at 2-2, and the Braves beat the Redlegs, 8-1, in games played June 29. On July 6, the Cubs defeated the Pirates, 4-2, the Braves beat the Giants, 3-2, and the Redlegs beat the Dodgers, 6-2. Scores on July 9: Dodgers 10, Cubs 5; Giants 21, Redlegs 5; Braves 14, Pirates 0.

In the Minor B league, the Giants trounced the Cubs, 13-4 and the Redlegs were defeated by the Dodgers, 10-9, in June 30 league play. On July 7, the Cubs and Dodgers tied at 4-4 and the Redlegs beat the Giants, 8-3.

Catholic Schools Split Up

Redford St. Agatha and Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows no longer will lock horns in the same division when Catholic High School League action opens in the fall.

Heretofore both teams have been in the Northwest Division along with Royal Oak St. Mary's, Pontiac St. Michael and St. Frederick, Orchard Lake St. Mary's and Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes.

Under a revision announced by Catholic League Director, Ralph Owen, St. Agatha now goes into the Southwest Division while Sorrows stayed in a revamped Northwestern Sector.

St. Agatha will now vie against St. Francis Xavier, St. Hedwig, Wayne St. Mary's, Ypsilanti St. Johns, Ann Arbor St. Thomas and Detroit Immaculate Conception.

Sorrows will square off with St. Benedict, St. Francis de Sales, Ferndale St. James, St. Rita, Orchard Lake St. Mary and Royal Oak St. Mary's.

Both the Southwest and Northwest divisions will be part of the Catholic League's Second Division. Each team will meet six rivals within its own loop and engage in one-on-leader during the football campaign.

The change in divisions will prevent St. Agatha from defending its Northwest loop football title. It marked the first time the Township school had hauled in a grid title.

St. Agatha also will have a new coach next fall since the resignation of Dave Brazil who guided the Township in football, basketball and baseball.

Fr. James Varty, the school's athletic director, has been searching for a successor to Brazil.

New Marigold Wins Honors in England Trials

Hawaii, a sweet-scented orange marigold introduced by the W. Altee Burpee Co., of Philadelphia, Pa., won double honors at the Royal Horticultural Society's Trials at Wisley, England.

Hawaii, which features odorless foliage and big, carnation-type flowers won a first class certificate and an award of merit.

Three other famous Burpee Marigolds also won the coveted award of merit at the Wisley Trials. These included Mr. Sam, a big, chrysanthemum-flowered, bright yellow variety; Toreador and Yellow Climax.

Yellow Climax, the first F Hybrid American Marigold ever developed, is one of a group of outstanding hybrids developed by Burpee's plant breeders in their continuing search for superior marigold hybrids.

TWO STRAIGHT championships in the rich Michigan Trotting Derby. That's the goal of Driver Hubert Clink, of Brown City, and his six-year-old Seth as they prepare for Wednesday's renewal of the historic stake at Northville Downs. Seth won a year ago in an amazing upset and is the favorite this time off with his two victories over the best trotters at the Downs.

2 MAJOR RACES THIS WEEK Northville's Business at All-Time Peak

With business continuing at an all-time high, Northville Downs moves into its fourth week of its 39-night summer meeting with attendance up 9.1 per cent and wagering at a record high of $291,815 for an increase of 7.3 per cent.

And Executive Manager John Carlo is looking for even better marks at the end of this week with three major events listed on the week's schedule.

The first comes Wednesday when Seth, the six-year-old trotting star of the Stephen Clink stable of Brown City, seeks his second straight victory in the $12,800 Michigan Trotting Derby which has attracted a field of 11 starters.

Seth surprised all but his owner a year ago when he breezed home in the rich stake for an easy victory, stamping himself as one of the state's top trotters.

Now he's off again with two wins in his last two starts, including one over the fastest and best trotters at the 'Downs, and that's enough to make him the early choice in the stake on Wednesday night.

The 11 starters include standouts as: Natchez Bill G, Lassie Song from Chicago, Winter Wonderland, Noble Boy, Amalola, Lind Frisco, Volcanic Dan and Sobriety Sal to mention a few.

Then on Saturday, the 'Downs will present one of the prize pacing events of the entire year—an Open Handicap that matches the speedy Craig Creed, from the Elmer Conrad stable, with Mike's Pick, the star of the Julia Terptrast string from Holland.

It will be the first start of Mike's Pick, who has a mark of 1:58.4, and he'll have to be near top form to beat Craig Creed, who paced the fastest mile in the state last Saturday when he won an Open Handicap pace in 2:01.

Patti J. Adios, who chased Craig to his record mile, will be in the field and could beat both of the top ones if the race is cut out right.

Northville's largest crowd of the year—9,448—helped the suburban track shatter two records Saturday with the highest wagering ever at the plant.

The record for a daily double pool went by the boards early when the crowd sent $39,290 through the machines, shattering the previous high of $38,288 set on April 10 this year.

Rec. Dept. Initiates Big Tennis Program

Tennis anyone? Favorable weather in the next two months should provide much opportunity for the net activity in the Livonia.

The Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation initiated classes last week for children and adults.

The lessons, conducted by Donna Bule and Darlene Gayer, are held on Mondays through Fridays with the following schedule:

Here Are Vacation Tips For Those Busy Gardeners

With vacation time here even the best gardeners want to get away for a brief spell. Here are some tips to make it easier.

First of all, just about everyone has a lawn and how to keep it from drying up is of paramount importance.

If you can't get a neighbor to water it, give it a good soaking with a sprinkler, making sure the soil is wet at least 6 inches deep.

When the grass blades have dried, scatter at least 1/4 inch of very fine, almost dust-like moss or other peat evenly over the surface, making sure it gets down to the surface of the soil.

Put your sprinkler on again briefly and make sure that this mulch is also wet. Now, after a normal cutting with fine clippings left on the grass, your lawn is ready to go two weeks if the soil is sandy, and longer on heavier soils, without water. Vegetable gardens are easier to protect from drought.

After a good watering, as above, you can mulch with any of various materials, such as grass clippings, leafmold, wet newspapers or wood chips, but black polyethylene plastic obtainable at most farm and garden stores is best.

It can be unrolled between rows, held down with stones, boards or large staples made of clothes hanger wire and you're ready for, perhaps, even as much as a month without rain in some cases.

In flower gardens, of course, black plastic is undesirable because of its looks. So, here, you have to resort to other materials.

Some of the best of these are cocoa, buckwheat, rice or pecan hulls, shredded bark, sugar cane bagasse, or wood chips.

Keep away from materials that readily absorb moisture themselves for they could cause stem rot.

In fact, try to keep any of these materials at least an inch away from the stems anyway and don't use them deeper than one inch for annuals and perennials. On roses you can use up to two inches.

House plants present a different problem.

However, perhaps, the easiest and best way to handle them is to water each one on the gentle side.

Then put each one, plant, pot and all into an individual polyethylene for other plastics do not breathe as it does — and set the plant in moderate, not full, sunlight.

Of course, there is always a little risk with any of these methods, particularly the first time you try them, but you will certainly make out infinitely better than without them.

Use A Bench To Unite Yard Shapes

A paved patio and a lawn make awkward partners unless they're joined gracefully.

What's needed is a change of pace at the edge of the paving so that masonry and grass don't meet head-on.

Simple but effective is to build an L-shaped bench in one corner of the patio. The bench will provide a change of elevation, giving a bit of height in one spot.

The bench seat can be built of Douglas fir or white fir 2x3-inch lumber on edge, leaving an eighth-inch spacing between. For legs and cross supports, cut fence posts to the desired height and length.

Then, to finish the project, work a mounded planting bed along another edge of the patio, perhaps using a pair of garden screens in the bed as a backdrop for plantings. The screens will also serve as a means of introducing vertical lines to break the flat junction of lawn and paving.

Try Wood Fence And Screens If Your Lot Lacks Privacy

Many American homeowners share a common problem: The big windows and the small lot. Result? They find themselves living with their neighbors—inside each other's homes as well as in the yard.

It's not a happy situation. Home should be a private place where the family can shut out the world to any degree they want. And most families would like to extend that principle to cover the yard so that it can be used as auxiliary living space in the summer.

Andrew M. Vincent, member of the firm of Arthur W. Erfeldt & Associates, prominent Pacific Northwest landscape architects suggests that the problem often can be cured by redesigning the yard, adding fences of screens to attain the privacy needed.

"It's not always necessary to erect a solid wall around the yard," Vincent pointed out, "though a solid design may be needed in certain areas, such as around the principal outdoor living space."

"In other areas, only a baffle may be required—a pair or trio of screens set with ends overlapping. Such baffles can be built using a variety of patterns or systems, such as vertical louvers or spaced 1x2s.

"In some instances, the baffles are needed directly on the property line; in others, they're most effective when set just a few feet out from house walls to protect certain windows, such as kitchen, laundry or bath.

When set close to the house, a more open pattern can be used in combination with delicate shrubbery and will effectively screen a room's interior while allowing a view from inside out."

Vincent continued by saying there were several things to consider before getting the privacy project underway. First, local building codes should be checked. In some residential areas, perimeter fences of more than a four-foot-height are not allowed, although tall baffles built within the yard may be permitted.

Second, before picking up a hammer, there should be a general garden plan. In addition, it is wise to have scale drawings to make certain that the style fence and the dimensions of both the fence or screen and the lumber to be used complement the house and garden.

Before erecting a fence or screen, check the sight lines to be sure that the proposed location and the proposed height will perform the job intended.

These are services which a landscape architect can render. Vincent then outlined some general rules: Courtyard walls which are attached to the house or closely related to it usually look best when finished to match the house siding or trim. Perimeter fences and baffles built mid-yard should relate to the garden, with natural wood color or weathered wood use.

The exception would be a house of traditional or formal styling with either white-painted siding or a brick exterior, which generally requires white-painted fencing throughout or fencing painted to match the trim, if a colored trim is used.

If, however, a house of traditional architecture has been painted any of the modern shades—warm grey, grey-green, or cafe au lait—blending tone to the natural wood color or weathered wood may be used successfully for screens.

"Remember," Vincent said, "that a painted surface needs frequent repainting to maintain top appearance. Outdoor-quality woods such as western red cedar and Douglas fir finished with an exterior natural wood stain require touch-ups only infrequently to hold the color. Screens left to weather need almost no upkeep.

"Resawn and rough-sawn cedar or fir hold a finish longer in exterior application than does smooth-surfaced wood.

Central Air Cooling Gets Wide Acceptance

Nearly 600,000 American families will begin to enjoy the comfort and health benefits of central air conditioning this year.

By the end of 1965, more than 3,000,000 homes in the United States will have central, "whole-house," air conditioning.

Advance forecasts that 1965 would be air conditioning's greatest year ever are being borne out. In the first quarter of the year, it is reported shipments of unitary (central) air conditioners were up 23 per cent over the same period of last year.

Unitary air conditioners are factory-packaged central units, two-thirds of which go into residences. They do not include room air conditioners or job-engineered central station installations. ARI figures also include unitary heat pumps.

In 1964, unitary shipments rose 22 per cent over the previous year, amounting to 699,469 units. Sixty-nine per cent, or 484,948 units, went into residences.

Air conditioning is one of America's fastest growing industries. Last year, the installed value of air conditioning was almost $2 billion (not including room air conditioners).

For the past several years, the industry's growth rate has been between 10 and 15 per cent over-all. But this expansion has been led by the residential market which is growing by 20 per cent or more each year.

What accounts for air conditioning's great and growing popularity with home owners, home buyers, and home builders? Much of the credit, of course, must go to air conditioning's ability to give summertime comfort.

More and more Americans have come to want—and expect—their homes to be places of relaxation and pleasure in the summer.

But a great deal of air conditioning's popularity growth rests on widening public knowledge about the broad range of benefits it brings.

Among these benefits are better health, lower home maintenance costs, and better family dispositions.

The home life effects of air conditioners are only beginning to be understood and appreciated. As Perry Prentice, vice president of Time, Inc., said recently "air conditioning changes almost everything."

Speaking to a Senior Executives Conference at the National Housing Center in Washington, D.C., Prentice described the benefits of living in an air conditioned home this way:

"Children sleep better, everybody eats more, people get sick less, teenagers stay home, cleaning and laundry bills get smaller.

"Nobody feels he has to go Sunday driving just to get away from the discomforts of home, and all of a sudden home becomes twice as important, because that's where you want to be most of the time, so its worth spending more money to make sure the home you're going to spend more time in will be as nice a home as you can afford to buy."

Date Back to Dinosaurs

Living Fossils Can Intrigue Gardeners

A garden at the New York World's Fair has germinated an idea in the minds of many visitors with green thumbs.

It is the prehistoric garden at Sinclair Dinoland.

A prehistoric garden is one that is planted with living fossils and descendants of fossil trees and plants.

Living fossils are species of plant life which in appearance have remained unchanged for 100,000,000 years or longer. Descendants of fossil trees and plants have changed in appearance, but their lineage has been traced back to their early beginnings in the Cretaceous, Jurassic and Triassic Eras (60 million to 167-million year.)

One visitor to Dinoland asked, "If a prehistoric garden can be grown in the middle of Queens, why can't I grow one at home?"

"He can," replied Dr. Herman Becker, palbotanist at the New York Botanical Garden in the Bronx. Dr. Becker's specialty is fossil botany.

He added, "Many gardeners don't know it, but they may already have descendants of fossil trees and plants on their land."

He mentioned as examples, the elm, magnolia, oak, maple, birch, hickory, persimmon, grape, water lily, fern, mountain laurel and holly.

"There are scores of others," he said.

"And if you live in the South or the tropics," he went on, "there are palms, fig vines, dogwood, bread fruit trees and custard apple."

Dr. Becker said, "its not likely that the average gardener will find living fossils growing in his back yard." But he pointed out that the species can be grown.

He mentioned the Ginkgo trees from China, the Cycads of Mexico, the Sequoias (Dawn Redwoods) of China and North America and the Ailanthus Gladulosa (Tree of Heaven).

"Although these species are rare," he said, "the gardener can buy seeds, cuttings and even young trees and plants from seed stores and nurseries, and grow them in his yard."

The prehistoric garden at Dinoland was planted to provide appropriate surroundings for its life-size dinosaur reproductions.

There are 42 Ginkgo trees, 22 Southern magnolias, some 100 Metasequoias, 650 Osmunda Regalis (Royal Fern), 37 Ailanthus Gladulosa and a variety of 58 pine trees and evergreen shrubs.

Get Jump on Bugs When Blooming Starts

If summer is going to "burst out all over" in the rose garden, homeowners must take effective measures against disease and insects, says a Michigan State University horticulture specialist.

"Control of both insects and diseases is a weekly project," says Dr. Richard F. Stinson. "Think of spraying and dusting as a preventive measure to control insects and disease before serious injury has developed. The idea is to lightly but thoroughly cover the upper and lower leaf surfaces."

Stinson says the worst pest of roses is barely visible to the human eye. The red spider mite — also called the two-spotted mite — damages plants by sucking the juices from the leaves, thereby reducing plant vigor. They multiply at a phenomenal rate in hot weather.

Aphids, soft-bodied, usually green insects suck juices from the soft stem tissue near the flower buds, causing distorted stems, leaves and blooms. Another pest is thrips who cause streaks in petal colors, and sticking of the petals so the flowers "balloon" instead of opening normally.

Stinson says that the best "all-purpose" pest control formulation is one that contains the least number of ingredients that will effectively control pests. He recommends malathion or diazinon as effective pesticides.

The two leading rose diseases are mildew and black spot. Both are trouble-makers in moist, moist, hot weather. Mildew produces a very fine white webbing over buds, leaves and stems. Infected stems may be twisted, leaves puckered, and flower buds may be killed.

Black spot starts as black spots surrounded by yellow zones. The spots first occur on lower leaves, enlarge quickly, and may spread upward in the plant in a few days. Rapid defoliation often follows.

Disease control is similar to insect control. Effective chemicals are Mildelex and Captan or sulfur and Captan.

Spraying may be done in a light wind whereas dusting can only be effective when the air is still.

Many people prefer to use a dust, however, because the equipment is much lighter than that used for a spray solution made up with water. Either method is effective when applied regularly.

Landscape With Color For Beauty

In landscaping your home, try to provide color for the better part of the year, regardless of season.

Of course, evergreen will provide the fresh green color throughout the year. Other trees and shrubs offer colorful branks and berries or attractive branch formations.

In planting, consider whether the shrubs are easy to grow, if they are attractive for long periods, whether they bloom, if they may be used in flower arrangements indoors, and whether they are hardy for your locale.

Evergreens desirable for their foliage include juniper, cedar, arbor vitae, yews, blue spruce and various pines.

Flowering evergreen include rhododendrons, laurels, pieris and azaleas.

Deciduous shrubs, which lose their leaves in winter offer great seasonal color — among them roses for all summer, forsythia early in the spring, bittersweet and flowering quince, another early garden brightener. (Try a few sprigs of flowering quince for a graceful indoor arrangement.)

For flaming fall foliage there is the winged euonymus.

Depending on the climate, cotoneaster may be evergreen or deciduous, and it has bright red berries from fall to winter. Pyracantha also has red or orange berries.

White or copper birch offer attractive bark coloring.

Gardeners Told: Make Effective Use of Water

With much of the country suffering from a water shortage — and not just this year, for this is the third year in a row for many — every effort should be made by gardeners to get the greatest benefit from what moisture they do have.

If any areas are to be planted at this season the soil should be prepared very deeply.

Late vegetable crops will be best when the top layer of soil can be removed one shovel deep and the soil beneath it broken up.

Also 1-2" of humans material, plus 3-5 pounds fertilizer per 100 sq. ft., should be mixed in for deep rooting.

The top layer may be returned and the crop planted — with more humus and fertilizer added.

To encourage germination, rows should be watered after planting, and covered with two thicknesses of newspaper.

This will prevent the seedlings from drying up.

All plants should be protected with a mulch of either black polyethylene plastic wood, or bark chips, peat, grass clippings, corn cobs, partly rotted leaves, ground sugar cane, peacan or rice hulls, pine needles or a layer of small stones.

Do not sprinkle every night. This is a waste of water, and encourages the roots to stay near the surface where the water supply is much smaller.

If water must be applied, put it on at the rate of 1" per week—if it can be spared.

After that, apply water so it does not wet the leaves. A soil-soaking hose is excellent for this purpose.

Water should be applied in the evening when there is less evaporation.

And while we are on the subject, scientific tests prove that garden watering does not consume as much water as leaky faucets, car washing, filling portable splashing pools and even baths.

This last leads us to the question, "Can bath and dish water be safely used in the garden?" The answer is "yes," if not done for too extended periods.

The soaps or detergents in the water in limited quantities will not prove harmful.

In fact they might even be slightly helpful. They may even make the water "wetter" and more penetrating. The important part is not to keep it up any longer than necessary.

"The Music Man" Marches into Area

The Livonia Musical Production Workshop will present Meredith Wilson's "The Music Man" on July 20 through 31 and Aug. 5 to 7 in the air-conditioned Franklin High School Lecture Theater.

The original Broadway script and score will be used, along with a full orchestra.

The cast, orchestra and crews include teenagers representing all of Livonia's junior and senior high schools. The cast and orchestra members were chosen during special auditions in May.

Musical Director Roy E. Ernst told the Observer that "The show is progressing well. I'm certain all will enjoy this opportunity to see creative teenagers. We expect an early sell-out for this first All-Livonia Summer School Musical."

Tickets may be purchased by using the special discount coupon found in the advertisement in today's Observer.

"The Music Man" concerns the abilities of "super salesman" Harold Hill as he attempts to sell River City, Iowa wood, Livonia, while Linda's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nevers of 29738 Mason Ave., Livonia. Performances of the production are scheduled July 29-31 and Aug. 5-7 at Franklin High School.

Songs from the show include: "76 Trombones," "Linda Rose," "Til There Was You," and "Trouble."

The musical production workshop was developed by David Hirvela, English and Speech teacher, and Roy Ernst, band and orchestra director, at Franklin High School.

Sets are designed and built by Tony Bplogh and Robert Kauffman. Mrs. Helen Nutter is the costumiere, while Mrs. Shirley Perryman will head the make-up committee.

Two Livonia teens, Stephanie Miquelon and Ovid Amos, are the choreographer and stage manager for the production.

Display Muskets

Rifles and muskets made by pioneer Michigan craftsmen of the 19th century are now on exhibit at the Detroit Historical Museum, Woodward and Kirby.

Continuing through Oct. 3, visitors can see examples of firearms made in 32 Michigan Communities from 1830-1880. Some 56 weapons are displayed, representing the craftsmanship of 39 gunsmiths. Eleven examples were made in Detroit.

Various types of weapons including the flintlock and percussion lock are shown, along with combinations of rifles and shotguns. Single barreled and double barreled rifles and shotguns are also included.

Others of interest have percussion hammers on the side of the barrel and were called "mule-ears" or "sideslappers." Still others are more ornate and are inlaid with silver and brass.

The tools used in making these weapons form an interesting part of the exhibition. Tools used for wood working and metal working clearly indicate to the viewer the artistic ability of early Michigan gunsmiths.

The Detroit Historical Museum is open Tuesday through Sunday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Closed Monday. Admission free.

Bellini Work Featured During July

Rich in bold color contrasts, Giovanni Bellini's "Madonna and Child" is the Detroit Institute of Arts' featured painting of the month for July. Signed by the artist, and dated 1509, it is a work of Bellini's late period, executed seven years before his death.

During the Renaissance, magnificent glowing color found its most sumptuous expression in the work of Titian, but it is also evident in the work of his teacher, Giovanni Bellini.

Bellini's use of color is both expressive and a delight to the eye. In religious subjects, such as this Madonna and Child, he uses it to achieve a sense of harmony between earthly and spiritual realms.

The Bellini "Madonna and Child" is in Gallery 10 of The Detroit Institute of Arts. Brief talks on the painting will be given by members of the museum's Education Department on Wednesdays and Fridays during July at 12:45 p.m.

Summer visiting hours at the museum are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., Tuesday through Sunday. The museum is closed on Mondays and holidays.

'Art: USA' Talks Slated At Institute

A special series of gallery talks on The Detroit Institute of Arts' current exhibition, "ART: USA" will be given throughout July by Joseph Messing, the exhibition's curator.

After accompanying "Art: USA" on its European tour of 14 countries, where it was seen by nearly 300,000 visitors during a two and a half year period, Messing is completely knowledgeable regarding the 102 contemporary American paintings in the collection in which abstract and realistic trends are equally well represented.

His Detroit Institute of Arts gallery talks, which are open to the public without charge, will be given on Tuesdays at 1:30 p.m. and Thursdays at 10:30 a.m. He will also conduct general tours of the exhibition on Tuesdays at 10:30 a.m. and Thursdays at 1:30 p.m.

"Art: USA" will be at The Detroit Institute of Arts through Aug. 1. The museum is open daily, except Mondays and holidays, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Monster Show Scheduled This Weekend

"Fun With the Monsters" is the title of the special live matinee performances at the Terrace Theatre on Plymouth Rd. July 17 and 18. Two performances are scheduled for each day.

Bill Marcus, Terrace manager, promises that the show will be a fresh and novel approach to the lurking figures of Frankenstein, The Hunchback of Notre Dame, The Mummy and The Wolfman.

There are no reserved seats for the performances so arrive early.

Free Concert Slated Thursday

The South Redford Summer Concert Band will present another outdoor concert on the annual series of summer evening serenades on Thursday, July 15, at 6:45 p.m. The concert will be held in the court yard at Thurston High School.

RARC Hears Nellita Fithian

The speaker for the recent meeting of the Redford Association for Retarded Children was Nellita Fithian, State Department of Social Welfare Nursery Consultant, who spoke to the group regarding aims and goals of a Nursery Program. Some of the goals were to teach the child self help and control; to give the child a sense of security; good physical health habits and to develop imagination by learning through play.

She then described various types of play activities which would help in attaining these goals. The ideas presented should be of great benefit to the workers in the Redford Association Nursery.

The election of officers took place at the May Meeting with only members in good standing allowed to vote. There were no nominations from the floor. The slate consisted of President Al Priebe; Vice-President Wanda Hudson; Recording Secretary Barbara Moore and Mary Williams; Corresponding Secretary Betty Sova; and Treasurer Al Sova. Four Directors chosen by the nominating committee are Jack Salvatore and Robert Curtis from South Redford School District, Gus Kaselemis from Redford Union School District and Ray Edwards, Past President of the RARC. Curtis and Edwards will serve one year terms and Kaselemis and Salvatore, two years each.

Discussion was held on the recent joint efforts of the suburban areas to form a sheltered workshops. Comments were made by the members who have attended these meetings. The group voted unanimously to keep in touch with this activity and to support the sheltered workshop movement.

Parents, whose children have left their school education and are unable to attain work, are asked to feel free to attend the meetings and to actively aid in establishing the workshop.

The workshop will be for Retarded Adults and to attain work permanently or to gain job training necessary to work in the community. Various committees will be meeting during the summer in hopes that the workshop may be a reality by next September. Many Service groups are aiding in the work.

Farmington Sets Free Band Concert

Summer is here again and with it comes the long, warm evening when it's no nice to be outside. What better way to spend one of these evenings than at an outdoor band concert?

The Farmington Community Summer Band will be presenting its first "Summer Evening Serenade" concert in front of the Farmington Senior High School, Thursday, July 15 at 7:30 p.m. The High School is located at 32000 Shiawassee.

The band is comprised of young and not so young adults from Farmington and the surrounding areas who enjoy getting together for an evening of musical pleasure and friendship.

The concert will be a collection of show tunes, marches and other light music. Gather the lawn chairs or blankets and come over to the Farmington high lawn for a most enjoyable evening.

There will be no charge for the concert and new members for the band are most welcome. Rehearsals are held each Monday and Thursday night at the High School from 7:15 till 9 p.m.

You wouldn't cross the street against a traffic light. Or ignore the warning bell at a railroad crossing. Then why continue to smoke cigarettes in face of established evidence that they are detrimental to health? Is it really worth the risk? For free information on smoking and health, write your Michigan Cancer Foundation, a Torch Drive service.

Whittier Sets Antique Fair

A mid-summer fantasy will be found at the Whittier Hotel Antique Fair, which will be held July 27-29, Tuesday through Thursday, in the elegantly chandelied Crystal Ballroom.

The Fair will be open from 12 noon to 10 p.m., daily, giving Detroit area residents plenty of time to browse or buy at the Antique Fair and, at the same time, see the newly decorated Whittier Hotel.

Antique dealers will come from outstate Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and the Detroit area, to display their fine merchandise. Somewhere in this wide variety will be found something for everyone. Jewelry, china, silver, paintings, frames, coins, buttons, furniture of all periods and much, much more.

Seventy-six trombones will blast the July air in Livonia come the 29th of this fair month. Roy Ernst, the creative musical director of "Bye, Bye Birdie" fame, and Dave Hirvela, the talented director of the same production, are combining their talents for a summer Livonian production of "The Music Man."

Tickets are going on sale this week ($1 if bought now) for the mid-summer event. The Ernst-Hirvela earlier musical comedy effort at Franklin High School was a complete sellout. Old Wally was lucky enough to squeeze in for a performance. The vim and vigor of "Bye, Bye Birdie" still remains with me at this late date.

Right now reserve some time on your entertainment calendar for this theatrical event. Incidentally, the Franklin High auditorium is comfortably air-conditioned. Leave your paper fans at home. You'll be able to enjoy this musical comedy in a relaxed, cool auditorium.

"The Music Man," is a perfect choice for a midsummer show. The tunes are gay, light, and hummable. Hundreds of Livonia youth have been busy working on the show during the morning hours. Old Wally caught a small segment of one of the rehearsals and I'm ready to predict that the Hirvela-Ernst production of "Music Man" will be another smash hit for everyone, young and old, to enjoy.

While at Stratford last week, I chatted with an apprentice actor by the name of David Anderson. He is presently a student at the University of Michigan. Last season he had the lead role in Mokiery's "The Imaginary Invalid" and was seen in many of the U of M plays. Dave has only finished his sophomore year, but he wrote and asked for an audition last September. They granted him five minutes. By October, Dave received word he had passed the audition and would be able to join the Stratford company.

Normally, an apprentice with the Stratford company is allowed to say a line or two in some of the productions, but a new Equity ruling has curtailed this added apprentice luxury. An apprentice must be strictly a "spear-carrier" or a member of a crowd scene.

Dave is happy for small favors, and loves his many non-vocal stage duties. He is a part of the Stratford acting company. What better way to learn than being on stage with some of the greatest repertory actors?

You'll be able to see Dave next season at the U of M. He is already studying "Henry VI" in hopes that Director Halstead will consider him for a leading role. After all, a whole summer of being a "spear-carrier" should psychologically qualify a person for a fat role.

I've taken the time to report Dave's case to indicate that non-Canadians can audition for the Stratford Shakespeare players. On occasion the rumor has been that they would not consider anyone in the states. Talent is what they are interested in, not where you live.

A trip to the Unstable Theater at 3727 Second Ave., can be an adventure in itself. This theatrical group has kept operating despite low attendance, changing their location three times, and sticking to plays of the avant-garde variety.

The current production Genet's "The Balcony" is for mature minds and deserves your attention. The play gives you a panoramic picture of society with its violence, oppression, injustice, vice, and falsity. Genet is trying to tell us in a most blunt manner that all of us, as we live today, are so busy trying to be someone else that we soon lose our own individuality.

"The Balcony" provides some genuine conversational fare. Of course, Genet doesn't offer any solutions. Each of us, I suppose, must find his own.

For an evening (Thursday, Friday, or Saturday) of dramatic excitement let me recommend a trip to Detroit's Off-Woodward playhouse, the Unstable. Reservations can be made by calling 866-8069 or 832-8740. "The Balcony" will be playing through July 24.

A DELIGHT
'Fashion' Opens Drama Festival
 By SUE SHAUGHNESSY

More than 100 years ago a very wordy play (which was the style of the times) called "Fashion," opened at the Park Theatre in New York.

Last weekend a production of this social satire kicked off the second American Drama Festival at the Henry Ford Museum in Greenfield Village. The production is a delight.

As much as this reviewer dislikes "rave" notices there is no other course open in this case.

The play, which is subtitled "Life in New York," takes place in the "fashionable" home of the Tiffany family in the big city. Mrs. Tiffany, a dreadful woman, spends all her time and energy (and her husband's money) in the pursuit of "fashion"—the European kind.

Alice Broder, who appears as Mrs. Tiffany, plays the shrewish-fool ably. In fact she does so well that, while one sees her absolute stupidity and vanity you can't despise her. Rather she evokes pity from the audience.

Warren Colston, who appears as Trueman, the real hero of the play and the architect of morality is excellent. An accomplished actor, Mr. Colston seemed to be having line trouble, but he covered beautifully and made it seem a part of the character.

The secondary villain, Count de Jolimaitre, makes one suppress the urge to hiss and boo loudly. Russ Paquette, who appeared in the role, is lucky that no one in the audience had the Marvin Beerbohn of 20201 Gillman, Livonia, won first prize in the Seventh Annual Farmington Art Exhibit, on display for the rest of this week at the Universalist-Unitarian Church of Farmington.

His "Study in Volute and Involute Forms" is an abstraction with harmonious interlocking planes done in inks and acrylics.

Second prize went to Irene Wood of 14252 Arden Rd., Livonia, for her "Red Still Life" in media oil, and third prize to Herman Golo of 23521 Scotia Rd., Oak Park, for his "Spilled Fruit" in media oil.

The exhibit, containing 119 paintings and other works and representing 62 contributing artists, is open to the public from 7 to 9 p.m. each evening through Saturday, July 17. There is no charge. The church is located at Warner at Thomas streets in Farmington.

"AN ENEMY OF THE PEOPLE," Henrik Ibsen's drama, will be performed July 20 at the Trinity Episcopal Church in Farmington. The play begins with the startling news that "all is not well," as Dr. Thomas Stockmann reveals to his wife, Katherine, and Mr. Hovstad, editor of the town's newspaper. The production is being presented by The Bishop's Company, an organization specializing in drama-in-the-church.

Ibsen Coming to Farmington

Henrik Ibsen's "An Enemy of the People," a magnificent and important drama will be given by The Bishop's Company, in person, at Trinity Episcopal Church, 26880 LaMuer Dr., Farmington, on Tuesday, July 20, at 8:30 p.m.

Ibsen's masterpiece, adapted for The Company by Gary Heilsberg, takes place in a small Norwegian village which looks forward to new health and wealth because of the natural hot springs that it has developed.

Stockmann, medical officer of the town, discovers that the Springs are contaminated and takes the news to his brother, Peter, who is the Mayor. The Mayor commands his brother to keep quiet about the discovery, fearing a financial setback for the town.

The two brothers draw sides and in a climatic debate, Thomas is declared an "enemy of the people" by the very citizens he had tried to save and lead to a life of integrity. Thomas is tempted to run away but realizes that with the help of God, he will stay and fight evil and do everything in his power to make this a better world.

The Bishop's Company, which visited Trinity Church with excerpts from Shaw's "Saint Joan" last summer, is an internationally known touring group. It has presented over 6,000 productions in a twelve-year record of 24 national tours covering over a million miles.

The Bishop's Company will appear in Farmington under the sponsorship of Trinity Episcopal Church. Tickets may be purchased at the door, or seats

You are a channel through which God can pour His love and power into His world.
When other persons come to mind and you feel troubled about what they are having to meet, think of this as God's way of saying to you, "Bless them; pray for them; speak the healing word for them. You are My channel, and I will work through you."
"The Father abiding in me doeth His works." What you personally cannot do to help another person, God, working through you, can do. Your faith, your prayers, your vision of the Truth about another can call forth the spirit in him that is all-powerful, that is the answer to his every need.

Some people get the idea that VWs are cheap cars because they cost less than most cars. This is not the truth. When you buy a VW you have one of the best made automobiles on the road. You pay less, that's all.

Greene Motors is building a quality business in service, parts, collision work and sales. So, when you buy one of our used cars, you're driving top quality at least cost. See you tomorrow or next week.
