'No Place to Dump' Reports Collector

Township Told It Faces Problem in Garbage Disposal

Should Plymouth Township and surrounding townships, villages and cities start thinking of an area incinerator to handle the garbage and rubbish collections?

That question is in the minds of the Plymouth Township Trustees after hearing Karl Hornback, 43944 Shearer Drive, tell of the problems a rubbish and garbage collector in the Township has in finding a place to dispose of the collections.

Hornback, who with his two sons, picks up at 3,000 homes in the Township, first asked the Board if there was any change in the disposal program, pointing out that it was illegal to dump live garbage at the present dump on Haggerty Road and that the cost was prohibitive during the winter months when such loads were acceptable at the site.

"We are running out of places to dump," Hornback and his sons said, "At the moment we have to drive as far as 26 miles in one direction and that boosts the costs to such a level that we can't afford to stay in business at our present rates."

"We would like to continue our operation but under the present setup we can't afford to stay in business unless we are able to find a closer disposal spot. We would like to use the Township dump but the cost of just dumping rubbish is so high we just about break even on each load."

"Neither can we afford to continue driving as many as 20 to 26 miles one way to dump live garbage. That takes additional time, costs a great deal more for transportation and puts us in a bind all the way round."

Hornback told the Board that Dial Trucking Co., operators of the Township dump, had boosted the prices for each load of rubbish to a point of no-profit for him and his sons.

"We have appeared before this Board to learn if there is a change in the disposal program," he emphasized, "Per-

Township OKs Water Main Bid

With the City of Detroit Water Board rapidly extending its water mains along Sheldon Road for the scheduled tieup with Plymouth Township mains south of Five Mile Road in two months or less, the Plymouth Township Board last week approved a contract for S. Weissman Excavating Co. for the Sheldon Road water main from Five Mile to N. Territorial Roads via Industrial Drive and Ridgewood Drive.

The S. Weissman Co. was recommended by Township Engineer Herald Hamill after making the low offering at the official bid openings. Weissman made a bid of $162,840 with a 40-day completion clause — low among the seven firms bidding.

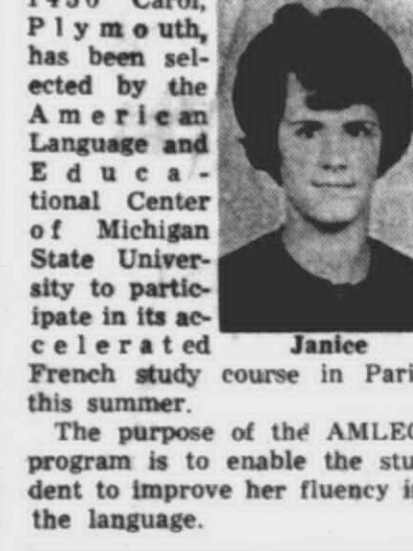

The Territorial Construction Co., operated by Oldford and Sons of Plymouth, had the second lowest bid of $168,850.

Other bidders were: Northwest Contractors, $218,915; Allard Construction, $207,100; Nelson and Son Inc., $199,500; Sinaola Contractors, $199,160; and Capacci Brothers, $192,850.

Township Resolution Praises Fred Davids

A resolution commending Fred Davids, longtime Plymouth Township resident who has been active in community affairs, upon his 28 years of outstanding public service career with the Michigan State Police and his recent promotion to the department's highest position of Commissioner, was passed by the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees in last week's meeting.

Davids, who is better known as Capt. Davids to the Trustees and Township residents inasmuch as he held that rank when a regular attendant of Board meetings, is well-known to all trustees and has long been an advisor of the late Supervisor Roy Lindsay and present Supervisor John McEwen on township matters pertaining to policing of the area.

The testimonial follows: It is with distinct pleasure that we, the members of the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees are afforded this opportunity to recognize and attest to the 28 years of outstanding public service career of Fred Davids and upon his promotion to that of the Commissioner of the Michigan State Police.

Commissioner Davids' academic background, leadership and extensive experience have been recognized over the years by his appointment to many community service organization boards and his consistent rise in the State Police organization from a trooper in 1937 to Commissioner in 1965.

One of "Fred's" most pleasing attributes is his delightful and unflinching sense of humor, which coupled with his dedication to his work, has gained for him a reputation of a man who is enjoyable to work for and with. As a regular attendant at Plymouth Township Board meetings during the past 10 years, he was most informative and assisted the Board frequently in attaining many essential conclusions on important issues before it.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: in recognition of the many years of service of Fred Davids not only to the citizens of Michigan, but to those citizens of Plymouth Township, that this Board of Trustees in regular meeting assembled on July 13 does hereby order this resolution spread at length on the minutes and directs that a suitable engrossed copy be transmitted to Commissioner Davids as a memento to him and his family as an expression of appreciation for his unselfish service and assistance to the people of this Township.

Approve Installation Of 3 Street Lights On Township Roads

Answering requests from residents, who have been in touch with Supervisor John McEwen, the Plymouth Township Board has authorized installation of three additional street lights at dangerous road intersections.

The Trustees authorized McEwen to go ahead with installations at the corner of Ann Arbor Trail and Riverside, Ann Arbor Trail and Terry and S. Main at Judson.

McEwen issued the order on the day following the meeting and expects the installation to be completed by the end of this week.

Split Seen in Twp. Board Over Plan Appointment

For the better part of two months, Plymouth Township Supervisor John McEwen has been trying to fill a vacancy on the Planning Commission, created by the resignation of Clerk C. Veach Sparks, with the appointment of Trustee Ralph Garber.

The matter was tabled in May and was allowed to remain tabled in June although few could understand why there should be any reluctance on the part of the Board to accept the recommendation.

The appointment was finally approved last week after McEwen specifically requested that the item be removed from the table so action could be taken. The reasons for the two months delay also cropped out at the same time.

It was with considerable reluctance that the item was removed from the table but finally those opposing grudgingly gave in.

McEwen immediately asked approval of the appointment of Garber to the Planning Commission and Trustee Dick Lauterbach in almost the same breath requested that a poll be taken of the members.

Fischer Promoted By Ford

Gerald J. Fischer has been elected vice president of Ford Motor Credit Company and Ford Motor Credit Company of Canada, Limited, and appointed vice president—overseas credit operations of Ford Motor Credit Company.

The appointment was announced Tuesday by Robert S. Olson, chairman of the board and chief executive officer.

In his new position, Fischer will direct the activities of the company's international operations.

Ford Motor Credit Company and Ford Motor Credit Company of Canada, Limited are wholly-owned subsidiaries of Ford Motor Company.

Fischer has been a member of the Ford Motor Company finance organization since 1950 and was divisional controller of the Automotive Assembly Division until his new appointment.

A native of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Fischer received his bachelor of arts degree from Rutgers University. A member of Phi Beta Kappa, he also studied at Princeton, Columbia and American University.

Fischer, a naval officer during World War II, resides in Plymouth, with his wife and four children. He is president of the Board of Education of the Plymouth School District and a former president of the Plymouth Symphony Society.

Council Defers Action on Taxicabs, Police

Plymouth's City Commissioners wrestled briefly with the taxi cab license problem Monday night, heard statements from representatives of the two companies seeking permits and then decided to delay action until the first meeting in August pending receipt of letters from the two firms outlining their plans of operation.

There was a time for a few minutes when the Commissioners pondered splitting the eight licenses equally between the companies—one headed by John Florence of Plymouth and the Checker Cab Co. This was after Commissioner George Lawton made a motion that each be given four permits and the Commission evaluate the services before the Dec. 31 expiration date.

However, after hearing comments from each, the Commissioners approved a motion by Arch Vallier to delay action until receipt of the letters.

Florence indicated he would accept half of the licenses and be very happy. He should have been since that was what he was requesting and he is planning on going into the cab business on his own for the first time.

Mervin Tucker, representing Checker Cab Co., indicated his firm would accept the proposal for four permits but said he thought such a split would place both companies in a position where they would find it difficult to get drivers.

"There isn't enough business in Plymouth to support two cab companies on a fulltime basis," he said, "Neither one of the companies could keep drivers since none would be able to make a living."

Tucker asked the Commission to consider giving all eight permits to Checker and then reviewing its service before the end of the year to determine whether they should be extended or not.

"I'm sure you would be happy with the study then," he told the Commission.

However, his pleas met with deaf ears and the Commission

PICTURE TALK

by Les Wilson

BETTER VACATION PICTURES

You can bring better pictures back from this summer's vacation if you remember these simple tips about basic picture-taking technique.

The natural look. Let your camera look at things as you do. Try to avoid posed group shots when you can. Getting a line of people to say "cheese" while the shutter snaps, frequently makes for cheesy pictures. The more natural the activity, the better you'll like the picture result.

Tell a story. Your day at the beach starts long before you get your feet wet. Start shooting when the gang is packing up and get the whole day. Arriving. Unloading. First dash for the water. Lunch. Afternoon activity. Sunset and return trip. You can make picture-stories of the little-league game, the backyard barbecue, or just watching the car.

Check the background. A cluttered background can detract from pictures of people. Whenever possible choose something plain. Grass, sky, dense trees or a plain wall.

Make sure the lens is clean. Fingerprint smudges on the lens can rob your best shots of that sparkling quality. Light rubbing with a soft tissue or lens cloth can remove most of them. Don't punch it. Stobbing at the shutter release is the most frequent cause of blurred snapshots. Remember, easy does it. Press your shutter release gently.

Last, and most important. Make us your source of picture-taking supplies. We're always ready to help you.

U-M Tuition Hike Prompts Investigation

State Representative Vincent J. Pettipren, (D) Wayne, Chairman of the House Committee on Colleges and Universities, has notified the office of Harlan Hatcher, President of the University of Michigan, that his committee wishes to hold a joint meeting with the Board of Regents of the University.

Pettipren indicated his concern and the concern of other members of the Legislature with the sudden tuition increases announced at the university.

He expressed hopes that other universities throughout the state will not consider this as an open-door policy for all to increase tuition rates.

Rep. Pettipren, who is a strong supporter of the junior college movement, expressed his opinion that this recent move would strengthen his arguments for establishment of more junior colleges throughout the state of Michigan.

Rep. Pettipren expects a confirmation date for the joint meeting within the next few days.

Brinn, Reed Receive Promotions

College Approves Contract for New Technical Building

Two promotions to key administrative posts and the awarding of contracts for the construction of the new Technical-Vocational building have been announced by the Schoolcraft Board of Trustees.

Dean John Brinn has been appointed Vice President in Charge of Instruction and Dell Reed, Director of the Evening Division, has been advanced to the administrative post of Dean of Academic Instruction.

Brinn joined the faculty in May 1964, coming from Delta College where he had been Assistant to the President. He now becomes Assistant to Dr. Eric Bradner, College president, and promotion centers the responsibility for the instructional program with the vice president.

Reed had five years previous experience as dean of a community college in Kansas. He received his Master's degree from Kansas State Teachers' College and is completing his doctoral work at Michigan State University where he was a Kellogg scholar in the field of Community College Administration.

The College is still seeking a replacement for Dean of Technical Instruction James Dotseth who resigned July 1 to take a similar position at Oakland Community College.

The Trustees approved a general contract for the new Technical-Vocational building to Donald Nelson of Troy on a bid of $556,550. The mechanical contract went to the J. D. Naylor & Sons of Detroit on a bid of $266,557 and the electrical contract to Jones-Sherman Inc. of Detroit on an offering of $154,229.

Of the total of $997,406, the college will receive $456,000 from the federal government under provisions of the Vocational Educational Act of 1963.

Final contracts are being prepared by the architectural firm of Ralls-Hamill-Becker of Livonia with a completion date set for May 15, 1966.

When this building is opened, Schoolcraft will have one of the finest Technical buildings in Michigan. Facilities will provide for programs in automotive technology, data processing, drafting, electronics, manufacturing technology and welding.

The Nursing Education laboratory will be moved from the Forum building to the new structure when completed.

Faculty offices and added classrooms are included in the plans. When completed, the Technical-Vocational building will serve students who wish fulltime programs and also those who wish only a few courses for retaining or upgrading in their work.

The College has received notification from the Bureau of Higher Education that its request for $60,366 to be used for federal work-study program has been approved for the 1965-66 college year. The College recently received $24,372 of the approved amount.

The Work-Study program, a part of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, has been in operation on the campus since last March. John Cansfield, administrator of the project, reports that 12 students have been determined as eligible and five already are employed fulltime during the summer.

After providing for preferred dividends in 1965, earnings per common share increased 32 percent to $1.93, based on 1,603,301 shares outstanding as of June 30.

Earnings per share for the first half of 1964 were $1.46, adjusted to reflect the four percent stock dividend paid in March 1965.

New $1.5 Million Addition Adds Fifty Jobs at Evans

A $1.5 million expansion program, that will increase the working force by 50 and boost the total on the payroll to a record high 1,200, is underway at the Transportation Equipment division of Evans Products Co. in Plymouth.

That was the announcement Monday by James J. Conway, the division's vice president and general manager, who indicated the expansion will include the addition of a car building bay to the railroad car building plant.

It is the second such program at the Plymouth plant in less than two years—a $1,350,000 expansion was completed last fall due to the tremendous demand for the rail and truck damage-prevention equipment produced at the plant.

Conway said Evans' railway car building facility, which was completed only last September, is already outstripping its capacity. The newest expansion program will increase both the production and product capabilities of the facility.

New buildings include a fabrication wing, a rail car truck assembly shop enabling the division to assemble its own trucks, and a new grit blast facility to prepare cars for painting.

The new buildings, which will be located adjacent to the September expansion program, are expected to be completed by the end of the year.

The program also includes an investment in material handling and service equipment, new engineering facilities and additional production machinery and equipment.

It was slightly more than a year ago that the Plymouth plant lost the bicycle and truck heating divisions. The former was sold outright to another manufacturer and the latter was shifted to Evans facilities in Grand Rapids.

The shifts cost Plymouth a large number of employees but, as company officials promised at the time, the expanded production in the railroad division has more than filled the void.

Matter of fact during the past seven months, the company has received and delivered orders for 100 coil equipped cars to the C&O and 100 to the B&O; 50 flat cars to the Southern Pacific, 30 coil cars to the Norfolk and Western, 75 to the Grand Trunk

Western and 25 to the Canadian National railroads along with 100 box cars to the Frisco Line.

Conway said the division's engineering facilities are being expanded to provide for additional experimental research and development activities, and for more engineering space needed because of the increased work load and personnel.

In addition to manufacturing freight cars, Evans' Transportation Equipment Division is the leading producer of rail and truck damage-prevention equipment, and a manufacturer of a variety of automotive equipment and material handling and shipping containers.

The company recently announced record first half sales and earnings. Net earnings were $3,291,000, up 40 per cent over the first half of 1964, and sales were $101,967,000, an increase of 19 per cent above the figures for the first half of last year.

After providing for preferred dividends in 1965, earnings per common share increased 32 percent to $1.93, based on 1,603,301 shares outstanding as of June 30.

Earnings per share for the first half of 1964 were $1.46, adjusted to reflect the four percent stock dividend paid in March 1965.

In Livonia Bank Contest

Livonian's Dreams Come True-Bucketful of Cash

Everyone dreams of getting money by the bucketful but few realize that ambition.

It came true for Douglas Cook, 15862 Alexander, Livonia, a supervisor of underground lines for Detroit Edison, when he was selected from among thousands of entrants to shovel a bucketful of money from the treasure chest that featured the grand opening of the Mid-Seven Branch of the Livonia National Bank. The celebration started last Thursday and ended Saturday afternoon with Cook winning the grand prize.

Bright and early Monday morning, Cook accompanied by his wife, Monty and daughters

Linda, 9, and Janet, 6, appeared at the new branch office at Middlebelt and Seven Mile Roads and was handed a shovel to start digging a bucket of coins.

He did an excellent job, with Livonia City Treasurer Carl Wagenschutz as official observer, and poured more than $182 into the bucket before it was full to overflowing.

More than 12,000 persons, all with keys to the treasure chest and most from Livonia, had chances at opening the lock during the three-days. A total of 35 had lucky keys and were entitled to a shovelful of coins from the chest.

These going home with a shovelful of money included:

Mrs. Richard Beaugrand, 14600 Ingram, Livonia; Leland Turnbull, 19964 Floral, Livonia; Mrs. Lawrence Schanes, 18462 Fremont, Livonia; Frances M. Walts, 18674 Salem, Detroit; Ann Bacon, 30148 Puritan, Livonia; Mary Melvin, 21023 Orchard Lake Rd., Farmington; Robert Haskins, 11429 Nathalie, Detroit 39; Pamela Davis, 18255 Middlebelt, Livonia; L.H. Hull, 18643 Sunset, Livonia; and Joshua Rosenthal, 19398 Ingram, Livonia.

Stan Somberg, 19978 Maplewood, Livonia; George S. Zinger, 19470 Hardy, Livonia; Elaine Miller, 20113 Maplewood, Livonia; Frank Jenkins, R.F.D. No. 1, Filion, Mich.; Mrs. Wayne Kendall, Sr., 29010 Terrace, Livonia; Edythe A. Cusick, 29973 Curtis, Livonia; Larry Carter, 18239 Gillman, Livonia; Erwin Siedler, 33024 Glenada, Livonia; Mrs. James Mogan, 31845 Gable, Livonia; and Dr. Gerald Laker, 29582 Five Mile Road, Livonia.

Pat Busch, 32535 Lyndon, Livonia; Helene Grover, 14914 Melrose, Livonia; Flora L. Tipton, 12475 Fairport, Detroit; Theodore N. Markes, 16028 Brentwood, Livonia; Mrs. John Gilhooly, 19550 Sunset, Livonia; Mrs. Louise Reniff, 21525 Hancock, Farmington Twp.; Mrs. Eugene Kurcab, 29215 Meadowbrook, Livonia; Sally Sayles, 18949 Gillman, Livonia; Gary Shiffman, 20055 Maplewood, Livonia; and Paul Hosesapple, 19491 Seminole, Detroit.

Rose Cooper, 23097 Cora, Farmington; David Newbauer, 26029 Elsinore, Detroit; Susan Poirier, 33041 Meadowlark, Farmington; Ronald Bowden, 19628 Parkville, Livonia; Amelia Aquilina, 31547 St. Martins, Livonia; and Marta Scharrenberg, 19785 Weyher, Livonia.

No Service for 7 Hours

Slashed Phone Cable Blacks Out Observer

The Observer Newspapers Inc. is sorry for any inconveniences to customers seeking to place classified advertising Monday — we didn't have any telephone service to our Farmington office for more than seven hours due to a blackout of Michigan Bell lines in Northwest Livonia.

Workers on the road widening of Merriman Road near Five Mile, cut the cable with a trencher shortly after 8 a.m. and service was not resumed on a normal basis until 6 p.m.

So, the Observer classified advertising department was out of contact with the area for most of the day despite efforts of Michigan Bell officials to set up communications through a trunk line from downtown Detroit.

Service was partially resumed to the Observer offices at 3 p.m. John Kamego, district manager for Michigan Bell, reported the cable cutting blacked out the area for almost 10 hours before service was completely restored.

The blackout took in 225 lines including 48 foreign exchange, two Western Union and five teletype circuits.

Kamego reported Michigan Bell used every means possible to correct the situation but it took hours of work before the job was completed.

He said the cable was cut by a worker for a sub contractor on the project which was contracted to Cook Construction Co.

"The worker was using a trencher," Kamego said, "and despite the fact that Michigan

Bell had given the contractor the exact location of the cable, the trencher cut it in two and our troubles started.

"Michigan Bell used every means possible but this was a slow and tedious chore—we had service restored at 6 p.m. with partial service as early as 3 p.m. We are sorry for the inconveniences but this was something beyond our control."

CHECKING LEASE for the Newburg School are representatives of the area sheltered workshop and officials from the Livonia Board of Education. The Board approved a lease for the building a week ago for the workshop which will include retarded adults from Livonia, Redford Township, Plymouth and Northville. The group includes: (seated from left) Robert Clogg, of

Queen of Hearts On Seafood

by Faith Gillespie

The thing about summer, is it gets hot. And there's not a whole lot of sense to cooking up a storm when it's hot. After all, it is summertime, and the living is supposed to be easy. So go and lie in the sun and get toasty. Or sit in front of the fan in the basement, or read under a tree with your feet in the kids' wading pool, or melt into a puddle, or do whatever you do in the summer. And when they come around asking "What are we having for dinner?" you can smile a serene smile and say, "It's in the refrigerator."

The secret is Seafood Salads. Keep a can or two medium shrimp on hand, and a can of crab meat, and for very special occasions, a can of lobster. You can buy the frozen kinds, but they call for some cooking, which is what we are trying to avoid.

At breakfast time, early enough in the day that you can still bear the idea of turning on the stove, hard-cook some eggs, one for each person or so. While the eggs are cooking, stir up one of these dressings, and tuck it away in the refrigerator till dinner.

LOUIS DRESSING

Mix together:
 1/2 cup French dressing
 1/2 cup chili sauce
 1/2 cup mayonnaise
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce dash freshly ground pepper.
 Shake well and chill. It's almost too good to be so easy.

SEAFOOD LAMAZE DRESSING

Mix thoroughly and chill:
 1 can tomato soup
 1 cup mayonnaise
 1/2 cup sweet pickle relish
 1 teaspoon grated onion
 1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard
 1 tablespoon lemon juice

When dinner time comes, line a large bowl with lettuce leaves. (Use leaf lettuce if you like, the price of head lettuce being what it is today.) Add shredded head lettuce, then the eggs cut into fourths or eighths, then pile on the seafood and top with dressing. Any leftover dressing is good for several days.

This is sturdier far more than you may think, served with hot rolls or toast (the toaster doesn't generate all that much heat). But if your King of Hearts thinks he needs something with a more masculine appeal, try Sally's Crabby Sandwich for a change.

SALLY'S CRABBY SANDWICH

Mix together:
 1 can crab meat
 2 finely chopped celery stalks
 four sliced green onions
 1 small can mushrooms, chopped
 2 teaspoons celery seed

3 or 4 tablespoons mayonnaise or sour cream, to moisten.

Pile onto slices of French bread (toasted on one side) or halves of hamburger buns, top with sliced or shredded cheddar cheese, and broil till the cheese melts. Mix all the ingredients early, except the mayonnaise, and get back to your pool, honey.

If you can't get out of entertaining your pinocle club, the best bet is to do most of your preparation the night before, so you can forget about it the day of the party. The really legal seafood salad for this purpose was marked by worry, because Ginny's husband, away on business, was at that very moment holed up in the Havana Hilton Hotel while Fidel Castro was shooting his way into Havana. With nervous laughter, we named the dish Cuban Pink Shrimp.)

GINNY'S ROYAL SHRIMP MOLD

Heat together till cheese melts: 1 can tomato soup, 1 package cream cheese (8 ounces.)

Beat till smooth. Soften 2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin in 1/2 cup cold water, add to hot soup mixture, stir till gelatin dissolves, and cool.

Then stir in:
 1 cup mayonnaise
 2 cups cooked shrimp
 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
 1 cup chopped celery
 1/2 cup minced onion
 1 teaspoon lemon juice.

Pour into fish mold, or whatever large mold you may have. It makes a lot, and ladies love it. (Incidentally, Ginny's husband didn't really mind his experience. He got back safely, and besides, he doesn't like shrimp.)

Fruit Gift Will Appeal To Everyone

Lawrence Mayer, Farmington florist, believes that he has found the solution to many difficult problems. For example, what to send a man who is hospitalized, a sympathy gift for a family, someone who is convalescing but on a strict diet. Mayer has taken a dealership for the Gift-of-Fruit.

These items are loaded with eye appeal. Luscious looking fruits are temptingly arranged in glamorous plastic and glass containers and topped with an elegant bow. (We loved the outsize brandy glass snifter which could be used for green plants later.)

The containers can all be put to good use afterwards. Cookie jars, baskets for knitting and sewing, candy boxes, are just a few of the ways in which they can be used. Cheeses, assorted candies, and bottles of beverage can be added to the GIFT-of-Fruit. Each one of these containers comes with a bottle of fruit beverage concealed inside. (Apple cider, etc.). In season fruits are chosen, and are selected according to top size and color.

There is virtually no end to the list of occasions when this gift would be most welcome. Holidays, housewarmings, etc. What a wonderful way to insure a repeat invitation when sent as a bread and butter gift to a gracious host and hostess! Call 474-2800 and get more details from Mayer.

MAXWELL M. MALTZ, M.D., F.I.C.S., will discuss "How to Stand Up Under Stress" July 27 at 8 p.m. at Bentley High School. A well known plastic surgeon, Dr. Maltz is author of the books "Psycho-Cybernetics" and "The Magic Power of Self-Image Psychology." Dr. Maltz is being brought to Livonia under the sponsorship of Diane Seaman, Minister of the Unity of West Suburbia Church.

U-M Economist Raps Draft Law as Unjust 'Slave Labor' Source

ANN ARBOR — The United States selective service or draft law is an unjust source of "slave labor" that needs either revision or elimination, a University of Michigan business economist charges.

Associate Prof. Ross Wilhelm of the U-M Graduate School of Business Administration says there is a clear need for national debate over the "out-of-date" draft law, particularly in view of the Viet Nam situation.

He points out that the draft helps distort our economy by: 1) encouraging early marriages, 2) inducing students to stay in graduate schools longer than necessary, 3) causing high unemployment rates among men in their teens.

"In addition, the draft law according to the employment standards set forth in the Civil Rights law is completely discriminatory," Wilhelm declares. "The draft law discriminates directly on the basis of sex, which is in conflict with our basic public policies relating to the selection and hiring of persons by government and business."

"And of course the draft law is nothing more than a peculiar method of securing employees to perform military duties. Indeed in an economic sense the draft law is a slave labor law or an involuntary servitude law by every definition."

"At the present time Congress is considering a pay raise bill for the military services. It is being touted as increasing the pay in the armed forces sufficiently so they will be able to attract and retain adequate numbers and quality of personnel."

"If this is the case, then the Secretary of Defense has admitted that there is no need for the draft law. And this is certainly the case. There is no reason why the most affluent nation on the earth has to rely on slave labor."

The United States Government is cutting taxes and at the same time forcing young men to perform duties that often pay them less than they could earn in civilian life, Wilhelm says.

"It is absurd for us to be cutting taxes before we have brought the pay scales of the armed forces to the level where they can secure all of the recruits they need without the use of coercion. It is the Army that uses the draft to secure its personnel today."

"The other services already are based on volunteer enlistments. This is a direct market indication that pay for officers and men in the Army should be raised sufficiently above the pay levels of the Navy and Air Force to compensate for the lower willingness of individuals to volunteer here."

The worst aspect of the draft is the "vast economic waste" it generates on a hidden basis, he adds.

In addition to the waste implicit in early marriages and unnecessary education, "employers are very wary about hiring individuals who are subject to being called into the military. In addition, the threat of this unfair law hangs over these young people for years and does untold damage.

"The President promised in the last Presidential election that we would have a report on the draft by April 1965; it's about time he delivered. And it is also about time for Congress to start substituting money for force as the means of securing military personnel. If there is money enough for tax cuts and foreign aid that is largely wasted, there is more than enough to eliminate this vicious form of coercion."

IN 1957 IT WAS

WESTLAND OPENS

And the great, grand day is Thursday, July 29—when Westland Center opens. Westland is a community of fine stores and services in a beautiful new setting. A shopping center where it's always summertime, for its stores are joined by covered, temperature-controlled courts, landscaped with tropical plants. And Westland is more than simply a place to shop. It's a beautiful center to come and visit—with its imaginative landscaping . . . its interesting sculpture . . . its many fine service facilities. The parking lot at Westland provides space for 4,500 cars—on well-lighted, paved lots. (Westland is also serviced by two bus lines, the DSR and Metro Transit.) There are fine restaurants, a glass-enclosed elevator, a large auditorium—in short, a wonderful world of things to see and do. And Westland is easy to get to—whether you're coming from Dearborn, Ann Arbor, Livonia, Northville—or the many other cities west of Detroit or from anywhere in or near Detroit. It's located at West Warren and Wayne Roads in Nankin Township. Plan a visit soon. Best of all, be with us Thursday—our grand and glorious opening day.

An AFS Student Writes Home
It's Wonderful To Have Two Families!

(Editor's Note: Nancy Dean, a teenager from Coventry Gardens in Livonia, has been spending the past year, with the Caveller family in Brussels, Belgium, under the American Field Service program. She will return to Livonia about July 26th. Following is an excerpt from one of her recent letters:)

Chere famille,
 I am sitting in my room with two big boxes full of things to be sent home and strewn all over are souvenirs and mementoes that don't fit in the boxes. You would never believe all of the stuff that I have collected. Just a few—the "Happy New Year" in icing, from our New Year's party, all of my school notebooks, hankies, tickets and programs from millions of places, a candy pig from a restaurant in Paris and a piece of pavement that some boys brought me as a "unique" souvenir of Belgium. I think that will have to stay here though—it is so heavy that I can hardly lift it. There is only one hitch to all of my lovely collection—it is going to cost a small fortune to send home. Papa is taking the two boxes to the station today.

I went yesterday with the son of an English teacher at school to see a showing of that government movie on the life of Kennedy, "Years of Lightning, Day of Drums." His mother had gotten the tickets and the picture was very good, very well put together.

Last Saturday afternoon Papa, Maman, Christian, Mimi and I went to a restored village (something like Williamsburg) and spent the whole afternoon inspecting hundreds of years' old farms, houses, churches and windmills. It was lovely and fascinating. I could have stayed for a much longer time.

Sunday we left after 7:00 Mass and reached the extreme southern part of the coast at about 10 a.m. We spent the day, following the coast all the way to the resort town of Knokke. At the town of Oostende we stopped for lunch and to watch the passenger and ferry ships leave for and arrive from England. We also saw some of the major battle fields of the 1st World War and visited some trenches. What unbelievably horrible, cramped places they were!

Last Tuesday I went to Louvain University. The boy next door went with me and showed me where the two classes were that I was to observe. I got to the 1st class (Chemistry) just in time and sat through a very interesting 1½ hour lecture. I had about a five minute walk to the next class which was French Literature. This lecture was by a really neat, roly-poly professor who absolutely loved the 16th and 17th Century literature that he was teaching. I just sat there taking notes like everyone else. Both of these classes had about 200 students who sat in an auditorium-with-decks type room and each professor had a microphone. The language was no problem.

I am going to school this afternoon to return my books, etc., and it will probably be the last time that I go.

The family is going on a four day weekend trip to the Ardennes and Luxembourg next Thursday and then a week later I start my A.F.S. tour. The big day of leaving is getting here so quickly—it's going to be difficult.

I hope everyone here knows how much I appreciate what they have done and how happy they have made my year. I think of Mimi and Christian as my brother and sister and Papa and Maman as a second set of parents—I like having two families!

LOVE,
 NANCY

Sharon Lee Nastoff became the bride of Jerry Charles Ramey on June 18 at a candlelight ceremony at the Martha Mary Chapel at Greenfield Village.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nastoff of Livonia, while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Francis Ramey of Dearborn Heights.

For her marriage, the bride wore a white peau de soie gown with a slim bell skirt sweeping back to a chapel length train. The headpiece was of hand made Belgian lace.

Ruth Ann Arps served as the maid of honor, while the bridesmaids were Mary Katherine Kelly; Karen Lee Ramey; Christyann Zimmer; and Janet Marie Nastoff, a junior bridesmaid.

They wore floor length empire princess gowns of soft blue textured silk with free flowing back wattleau panels. Blue silk roses attached to blue scalloped net were the headpieces.

Charles Boyington was the best man, while William Heil, Paul Ford and Tony Golig seated the guests.

Jo Ann Ponsock Exchanges Vows With James Mongold

Wedding vows were exchanged between JoAnn Ponsock and James Mongold on June 18 in a candlelight service in Temple Baptist Church.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Paul Ponsock of Livonia and the parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. William C. Mongold of Warren.

Five tiers of white Chantilly lace trimmed in white sequins and pearls formed the skirt of the bride's gown. Her crown holding her veil in place was of white satin roses with pearl tear drops. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and carnations.

The attendants were similarly gowned in white lace top long dresses with pink organza skirts and pink satin cummerbunds. They each wore long white lace gloves, a gift of the bride. Judy Taylor was maid of honor with Lind Thwoldt, Annette Carnes and Margie Mongold serving as bridesmaids.

Leon Dial was best man with Jim Carnes, Larry Brandon and Jerry David seating the guests. Two hundred guests honored the young newlyweds in the dining room of the church following the ceremony.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID ELSILA

Newly-wed Elsilas Touring Europe

In a beautiful but simple ceremony Katie Deutch was united in marriage to David Elsilas in the chapel of Temple Israel in Detroit Saturday evening.

The Rabbi M. Edward Syme officiated over the ceremony witnessed by 40 of the young couple's relatives and close friends. Following the wedding ritual 300 friends were the guests of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Deutch to honor the newlyweds at a buffet at Raleigh House in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Elsilas, Westover, Southfield, formerly of Redford Township, are the parents of the groom.

The new Mrs. Elsilas chose for her wedding a gown of white silk. A-line trimmed, bolero style, with cotton lace bodice of bouquet of daisies. Her veil was held in place by a flat bow covered in the same bouquet of lace daisies designed by the bride.

Attending the couple were

Harriet Deutch, sister of the bride, and Charles Cheng of Pontiac.

Presently the newlyweds are on a three-week tour of Europe and Israel.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Michigan and is a teacher at Bryant Junior High in Livonia. The groom is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University and is the Livonia-Redford editor of The Observer Newspapers.

Nankin is to be the future home of the Elsilas.

Karen Bauman Weds Howard D. May

St. Robert Bellarmine church was the setting for the June 26 marriage of Karen Ann Bauman to Howard D. May with Rev. Fr. Thomas Bodalski officiating at his first wedding as a new priest in the parish.

Parents of the couple are: Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bauman of Redford Township, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh May of Fraser.

The bride wore a gown of white silk organza with a scalloped neckline and bodice of Alencon lace adorned with seed pearls. Her veil of illusion was held with a small crown of pearls and rhinestones. The bride's bouquet was a cascade of baby carnations, mums entwined with ivy, and centered with one white orchid.

Linda Bauman, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor and her floor-length gown of American Beauty topped with eyelette of deep pink was fashioned with a velvet bow at the waist. Her flowers were dyed to match carnations and mums in a cascade with trailing ivy.

Bridesmaids included: Cathy Hendricks, cousin of the bride; Isabel Fry, Marcia Harris, Joanne Steele and Lisa May, sister of the bridegroom.

Their gowns were identical to the maid of honor's in pink with matching headpieces of short veils with a material-cut flower in the center with pearl pointed petals. They all carried bouquets of carnations, mums and ivy to match their gowns.

Dick Powell, a former room-

Mailmen To Meet The Boss

Postal employees in the Second Congressional district will have an opportunity to meet and chat with the boss, Postmaster General John Gronouski, Friday when he visits Ann Arbor and Adrian as guest of Congressman Wes Vivian.

Vivian and the Postmaster General will arrive at Willow Run Airport Friday afternoon at 3:50 p.m. for a brief informal press conference. The Postmaster General will be special guest at a reception in Ann Arbor in the early evening honoring the Congressman.

After the dinner with postal personnel, Gronouski and Vivian will lead a caravan from the main post office in Ann Arbor to Siena Heights College in Adrian where they will attend a reception for postal and federal employees of the District, at 8 p.m.

The reception, open to the public, is being co-sponsored by postal employees groups in the area.

That's just part of the three-day plans for the Postmaster General who will travel to Flint Saturday for dedication of a new Post Office, attend a luncheon Sunday in Mackinaw City and deliver an address at a dinner in Escanaba in the evening.

Livonia DPR Plans Annual Paper Drive

The Livonia Parks and Recreation annual City-Wide paper Drive will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, July 26, 27 and 28 with the neighborhood playgrounds being the focal points for the newspapers to be brought to.

Homeowners and Livonia citizens are urged to save their papers and bundle them up and bring them to their nearest playgrounds on any of the above dates.

One important factor to remember is the fact that no magazines or cardboard will be accepted.

The proceeds will be given back to the children on the playgrounds and play leaders for the annual playday scheduled for the last week of the season.

Livonia people who care to may deliver their bundles of paper directly to the trailer which will be stationed at the large parking lot off Lyndon at the Henry Ford Centennial Field beginning on Monday, July 26.

HOUSE GUESTS

Sue Ellen and Candy Sawusch along with their parents are busy getting ready for house guests Mr. and Mrs. Randy Willoughby and their five daughters from Park Ridge, a suburb of Chicago.

AAA OFFICE ON THE MOVE

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parton, of Mill Street have returned from Cape May, N. J., after spending their vacation. The Gerald Schrams chose the New England States and Plymouth, Mass., for their holidays. The Michael Conrads and family enjoyed the north woods and cottage life on the Au Sable River. Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Kase, Wesley Lynn, Ricky and Sue are anticipating their visit with the Kenneth Mullens in North Bay, Ontario.

Lolah Noll and her two daughters, Sandra and Susan, motored to North Conway, N.H., where they visited her brother, George Barlow at his Lodge in Madison Heights, Maine, Old Orchard, Bailey Island and Mass. were highlights of the vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Davidson of Penniman Avenue have returned from Chicago where they spent a few days vacationing while little Brad and Johnny remained at home with Grandmother Milby. Johnny's new pet Fritz kept the boys busy.

Mr. and Mrs. James McKindles of Evergreen Street vacationed in Chicago, stopping off at Benton Harbor for a few days of fun and sun.

DICK AND ANN LEMIEUX of Minton Ave. will take off by jet for San Francisco and the Bay area. There they will visit son Lynn and daughter-in-law Joisse Brune, who lives in the San Bruno area. Ann lives all year long for that moment when she can see those two adorable grandchildren, Steve and Marvin. The Lemieux will also visit friends in the Santa Cruz area before returning to their home. A MUST on the agenda is that yearly trip to Fisherman's Wharf, they will have that fabulous lobster dinner. Dick Lemieux can fairly make you drool with his graphic descriptions of sea food and melted butter sauces.

NEW YORK CITY is the goal of pretty blond Pat Etherington and Joyce Appleton of Plymouth. They will stay 10 days and the lucky girls have tickets to "Funny Girl," "Golden Boy," "Luv," and "Flora, the Red Menace." They had written nearly a year in advance for them, the smarties! In addition they had a whole list of fascinating places to do and see and eat at planned out for them by Drama Editor Sue Shaughnessy who was a New York career gal in a TV agency before coming to The Observer.

SHEILA LORENZ FITTED

Ethel North and Dottie Dible acted as co-hostesses to a large group of friends at the latter's home on Thornapple Lane in Northville to honor Sheila Lorenz who will soon become the bride of Frederick Reimer Osann.

An 'Around The Clock' theme cleverly carried out, made the bride the recipient of an array of beautiful gifts.

Birmingham was the scene of another such festivity for Sheila; friends of Mrs. Joy Osann held a miscellaneous shower at the home of Virginia Schnell on Wellsley with Ann Hudson and Peg Gilbert hosting the occasion.

The kitchen was highlighted at the July 21st party given by Linda Aho of Detroit and Sharon Noetzel of Bloomfield. Incidentally Linda will be matron of honor for Sheila's wedding.

SURPRISE PARTY

The Russell Egloffs of Fairground entertained friends and close relatives at a 4 o'clock buffet dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Orlan Egloff of Adams Street who were celebrating their 25th anniversary. They were the recipients of many beautiful gifts and well wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Bidwell and family of Ross street entertained at a family cook-out on Sunday. Forty cousins, aunts, uncles, parents and grandparents from Livonia, Romulus, New Hudson, Plymouth and Detroit gathered to honor Major and Mrs. Howard R. Ebersole and son Kurt who are enroute from a three year assignment at Elemendorf AFB, Anchorage, Alaska to Langley AFB in Virginia. Games were played and the highlights of the evening were slides of the earthquake in Alaska, the Alcan and Trans-Canadian highways.

Suburbs Hike Donations To Easter Seal Drive

Final figures in the 1965 Easter Seal Drive show a total of $46,953.06 in contributions from western Wayne County residents—up more than $9,000 from last year.

Contributions showed a big upswing in each of the communities served by The Observer Newspapers, with Garden City residents contributing $1,911.04 — up more than $900 from 1964's totals.

In Livonia, contributions totaled $5,473, compared to $4,149 last year. Plymouth residents chalked up $3,167 in contributions, compared to $2,829 last year. Redford Township gave $3,172, compared to $2,412 last year.

Fined For Give-A-Way

Livonia Scouts Busy At New Mexico Camp

Scouts from the Detroit Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, have arrived at the Camping Headquarters of Philmont Scout Ranch in the historic Santa Fe country of New Mexico.

The 15 Scouts and their leaders began training at "the university of the great outdoors" for a 12 day high adventure expedition under the guidance of Philmont's ranger staff.

Training is scheduled in open fire cooking, backpacking, burro packing, use of a compass and map, wilderness sanitation and setting up trail camps. After three days with a ranger, the Livonia area Scouts will follow mountain trails under their own leadership.

In a practical demonstration of the Boy Scout motto "Be Prepared," the Philmont staff repaired facilities damaged by mid-June Rocky Mountain floods. Scout Camp opening was delayed for six days while the Volunteer Training Center for adult leaders continued with its schedule of specialized courses throughout the heavy rains.

On Philmont's 137,000 acres of rugged terrain, these Scouts will participate in such activities as conservation, rifle practice, gold panning, archeology, horseback riding and training in other Scouting skills. A staff of 375 Scouts will offer instruction in program features at 23 equipped campsites.

After the opening day campfire at which the "New Mexico Story" was narrated, the Scouts moved to a base camp before starting their trek through the picturesque Sangre de Cristo range of the Rockies. They will leave Philmont Camp Headquarters on July 23.

Mayflower Post Urges Support Of New Bills

Officers of Mayflower Post 6695, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Monday urged members to write to Senators and Congressmen in Washington on a few bills now up for consideration.

The list includes: H.R. 7765 which has been passed by the House—so write only to Senators Patrick McNamara and Philip Hart. This bill would provide job security for veterans and authorize sufficient funds to operate the Veterans Employment Service. H.R. 202. This bill calls for approval of the House Veterans Affairs committee before any additional Veterans Administration facilities are closed.

H.R. 2182. This is the Veterans Homestead Tax Exemption Bill. It was tabled until the fall session. All are urged to write Congressmen and Senators on it now.

Just in case you don't know where to write: Senators Hart and McNamara are in the Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C., and Congressman Wes Vivian is in the House of Representatives in Washington, D.C.

Get well wishes are extended to Hal Young who is in St. Mary Hospital in Livonia for tests.

The Reader 'Speaks Up' with 9 Ways to Check Vandalism

Editor:
This morning the Livonia Police Department made its regular call at our neighborhood school to tote up the night's vandalism score and write a report. Since the damage done in the last week adds up to about $5 of my tax money, and the total is higher for the year. I felt that nothing would be lost if I added another nickel's worth to the pot. Hence, a letter to the editor in what, I hope, is the proper tone of outrage.

A brief conversation with the authorities who are performing Herculean feats in the Augean Stables of public apathy brought out the impression that "something ought to be done" and that no one could agree on what that something ought to be.

So here are a few ideas on the subject that wiser and more informed people can shatter, or mould, or ignore; or even go so far as to act on.

ONE: The Board of Education might set an absolute policy that all vandals over 12 must be prosecuted without exception; vandals under 12 could be prosecuted at the Board's sole discretion after police and psychiatric reports on the suspect and the suspect's parents.

TWO: The Judicial branch should sentence a convicted vandal to a just term in a penal institution without exception, and in addition to all fines and damages awarded. Suspended sentences to a penal institution would be in order when conditions warranted, but these should be exceptions rather than policy.

THREE: Adequate Police and Patrol service should be provided for the city. The current Police shortage and the fiscal problems it presents are short term and will be solved in time.

In the interim, school properties could be guarded in several ways from volunteers drawn from the neighborhood, by Senior Citizens stationed inside the buildings during the attack hours between dusk and midnight, by Auxiliary Police, by Civil Defense Units, or even budget conscious housewives. Once the interim has passed, normal police protection would serve the purpose.

FOUR: Each existing school could be equipped with an alarm system as soon as possible. Future schools could be planned to include an alarm system as part of the original plan.

Many alarm systems, either radar or ultrasonic, are available commercially, some dual purpose guarding against both fire and vandals. The cost of the system compared to the cost of vandalism is modest and the systems could "pay-out" within two years if the current rate of destruction were reduced by one half each year.

FIVE: Year round use of the schools in the evenings could cut down on opportunities for vandalism. Many schemes could be used: adult education, summer school, a traveling library based on distribution from a school, year round University extension classes.

In short, any program that would bring responsible adults into the school buildings during the evening hours.

SIX: More parent action could be sought through a concentrated and continuous publicity campaign in the various media. Minimum responsibilities plus an explanation of the punitive results of failure published together might possibly help some parents better understand what is expected of them.

SEVEN: The Legislature could further strengthen the present laws for crimes against public property by eliminating all financial limitations for damages and increasing the other punitive actions available to the courts.

EIGHT: Juvenile Detention centers should be provided for each city as soon as possible through joint action by the citizens, the City, the County, and the State.

These facilities could be of a type which would be a counterpart to the "honor camp" prisons so that a convicted person could continue most normal activities except that "off" hours would be spent at the detention center until the degree of rehabilitation could be achieved.

NINE: A continuing Citizens Committee drawn from within the community, reporting to and under the jurisdiction of the local government could be presented with problems of this nature and provide an independent, and hopefully impartial analysis of problems together with possible solutions.

And so much for my nickel's worth. I write with a profound lack of knowledge on the subject and I would be only too glad to have a wiser and better informed people pick up the battle.

One thing I am sure of is that somewhere, soon, all the various departments and agencies responsible for the school system and public safety should sit down together, agree on who is to do what, and then do it. May the day be tomorrow.

Let's Declare War On Dutch Elm Disease

Editor:
The suggestion of Councilman Ralph Yoder at the last City Council meeting, "that the city put forth a greater effort to get dead and diseased Elm trees removed," prompts me to call attention to the seriousness of this situation and the lack-adaisical attitude that has been taken by local authorities and many property owners in regard to it.

Our community has been generously endowed with beautiful and valuable trees of all kinds. Too great a number of these happen to be American Elms subject to the devastating Dutch Elm disease.

The disease can be recognized by the sudden wilting and browning of leaves and branches beginning at the tips and extending inward towards the trunk. When this wilting process becomes recognizable the tree is usually already infected and doomed to die.

The only defense against the spread of this disease is to recognize it early and act immediately by removing and burning the tree in the hope of destroying the bark beetles thereon; and by a program of regular spraying with effective chemicals or inoculation with the newly authorized product "Bidrin."

To my knowledge no such program has been undertaken and enforced by any local government agency. The State Department of Agriculture does issue condemnation proceedings but time delays in follow-up make enforcement ineffective.

Many conscientious individual property owners have tried to cope with the spread of this killing disease by spraying diligently year after year and by removing infested trees immediately only to find that others do nothing thereby making their efforts show little progress.

In our own small, one block long subdivision on the west end of the city we have just lost a beautiful Elm over 50 years old. Last year four fine trees had to be removed. Several more now show evidence of infection. Dead trees have been left standing in various places around the city and township for years. Many are still standing. These trees, no doubt, were the sources of infection for thousands of others. A rash of infections has taken place the past two years. Why? Because too many people did NOT care.

Our Farmington newspapers could do the city and surrounding areas a valuable service by taking a leading role in a serious campaign to awaken active community interest in a determined war against the spread of the Dutch Elm disease.

So many property owners brush off the threat by repeating and spreading the idea that "Eventually all the Elms are doomed!"

Are we going to drift along with this idea or are we going to fight against it and the disease—together?

We on Earl Court and the many others who have been fighting this disease for years cannot win alone. We need the cooperation of every single property owner and every single citizen.

How about it?

Help The Policemen

As a new Livonia resident and old corporation owner within the City of Livonia, I wish to voice my opinion.

Rumor has it that the new brilliant Yellow Police cars are to be repainted to the old color of "INCA" gold much to the dissatisfaction of the City Council and the Police Department themselves. It has been said that the Council and Police Department are much in favor of the cars being painted a deep shade of blue inasmuch as they are going to be painted anyway.

The blue would be similar to the blue that the cars of Livonia originally were in the years gone by prior to 1957 when "INCA" gold made its debut on Livonia streets. Unfortunately someone in the City offices has said, "NO," paint them "INCA" gold. Judging from the article which appeared in the Detroit News, Mayor Moelke is not in favor of the present "brazen, orange yellow."

Blue has always been a policeman's color and will remain in the majority of our "BIG THINKING" cities.

Why must our officers face ridicule each day by being placed in a "TAXI" and then expected to maintain pride in their department and themselves. Our officers are good men trying earnestly to do a good honest job each day. Let's help these dedicated men, give their pride and confidence back, put them in a real police car and remove them from mockery.

Who is this one cog in a big gear that refuses to mesh with the others and help maintain a smooth running city? Who has said, paint them yellow in spite of what the majority, including the citizens prefer?

Our policemen are the ones doing the job, so if merely the color of their cars will help their morale and possibly smooth some of the waves in the storm at our Police Department then why can't we at least give them that much?

We have lost so many men over the low standard of pay. How many more men are going to leave the department before we wake up and do something about it?

Police protection is vital to our community which has grown at such a rapid rate. Let's show our Policemen that the citizens of Livonia are with them 100%.

The Good Politician

By some marvelous process, the world seems to take the measure of a man immediately upon his passing.

The greatness of each of these men was confirmed on the very day he died. It was confirmed by the public eulogists in the press and on the speaker's platforms, and — more important — by the sense of loss felt by the people.

For Adlai Stevenson — who was never President — the closing reviews were somewhat mixed. He was universally acclaimed for his qualities as a human being, as a citizen, and as a public servant.

What makes this paradox unfortunate is that the same qualities that made him great as a man — his nobility of spirit, his candor, his lofty eloquence — are the things that are said to have made him less than great as a politician.

This is a faulty appraisal of him, and one that should be corrected. For, as it stands, it implies that the American people are incapable, and undeserving of a higher standard of politics.

It is, I think, important to realize that Stevenson was a good politician — and proud of it.

No American politician in history had a more loyal following. And it was a large one.

There are millions of us around who pounded the pavement for him three times, and would just love to do it again; who were spiritual members of his government in exile after he passed from power.

Stevenson won the Governorship of the State of Illinois by 250,000 votes when President Truman was squeezing by Gov. Dewey in that State by about 6,000. He polled 27 million votes in his first bid for the Presidency, and 26 million in his second. These were the highest totals in history except for those of the man who beat him.

The man who beat him was himself unbeatable. President Eisenhower was with the possible exception of George Washington the most popular man in our history.

Against any other living mortal, Stevenson would have been elected President twice. And as the New York Post noted in its discussion of his passing, "Stevenson could have been elected President of the world at any time in the last 10 years."

As a good politician and a successful one, Stevenson taught us that you can be successful and still talk sense to the people. That you can still treat them as adults who can accept hard truths. That you don't have to be ruthless to win.

The level of our politics is higher because he lived. And it will be higher still if our public men are made to realize that Stevensonian politics is good politics.

Reading Is A Seasonal Thing

It is once more time for book reviewers' use of that silly phrase, "light summer reading." They get it from the book publishers, of course, who publish books designed, they blithely attest, for "light summer reading."

Who invented the notion that summer is the time for books of fluff and frivolity is beyond imagining. The reasoning is apparent, however. In the bad old summertime, the weather ranges from warm to hot. The hotter it is the less a person should exert himself. This applies to mind as well as to body.

Therefore, read only books that require no effort to understand. Real pleasant novels in which boys gets girl without much strain and sweat. Read humor that will go down easily with a cool drink. Read escape stories. Read light verse. Read stuff that will slide off the top of your mind and not disturb it. Read garbage.

If this kind of nonsense were to be applied to activities in which heat plays a real role, the economy and the country would go immediately to pot. No one would play golf, tennis or baseball. No one would travel or tour. No one would root in a garden, mow a lawn, re-do an attic or putz in the yard.

All the diverse industries founded for help to the vacationer, traveler, sportsman, sports fan and recreation seeker would wither and die.

It would be too hot. Worse for the economy, if heat were a factor, business and industry would close down for the summer. No wheels would turn. No sales would be made. No plans would be forwarded. Too hot.

To the inveterate, insatiable reader there are no seasons — no hot, warm, cool or cold. He reads what moves him when he is interested.

in it. He will not only not read seasonally. He will read anywhere and any time he can.

Some of the world's best reading is done on buses while the reader is straphung. Some is done at meals. Much is done in bathrooms. The reading done in bed is past all reckoning.

The wish to read is the important factor; infinitely more important than any season of the year. A couple I know drive 20 miles to work together. The husband reads to his wife. In a year's time they read their way through Toynbee's "A Study of History," Plato's Dialogues, Rousseau's "Confessions" and Goldwin Smith's "History of the World." They averaged nine pages a ride.

Many busy persons, who know that regularity of habit is the best way to get through big books, do most of their reading in bed. They will retire an hour earlier than they would otherwise, then read themselves to sleep. A Detroit home from Greece got through that way all the tragedies of Euripides, Aeschylus and Sophocles, and some of Aristophanes' comedies, in a few months.

The difficult sleeper has the edge here. The person who reads a paragraph, drowses and is gone can't do much reading in bed. The insomniac's compensation for sleeplessness is that he can get much reading done.

"Light summer reading" implies "heavy winter reading" and even "middleweight" fall and spring reading. All are meaningless. Reading is reading, any time of the year. In an era of massive over-entertainment for Americans, reading has a tough enough time without the added handicap of pretending that summer is for fluff and nonsense only.

And We Won't Be Home...

Congressman William D. Ford made an appeal to his constituents Sunday to back up the boys who are in the armed services.

"There is no question that a good many boys are going to be killed," he said, "and our communities are not preparing these boys emotionally."

If this be so and it certainly appears well on its way to being so, we urge Congressman Ford and all congressmen and all United States senators to hurry home to their balliwicks and call a rally for all the citizens of their communities who want to know more about Viet Nam.

It took courage for Congressman Ford to point up the brutal facts that confront us and it is going to take more courage for all of us to face the ugliness that is war.

Do we want it? How do we know? How about it, Weston Vivian and Billie Farnum and Senator Hart and Senator McNamara: Are you willing, ready, and able to call a rally, and talk with us and let us talk with you?

If this is going to be an all-out war, let us make sure that this is what the people want.

A Kick in the Pants — Lightly

Two letters received by The Observer this week from Washington indicate that the United States Post Office Department is taking a look at improving the locations and design of "snorkel" or "motorist collection boxes," which I prefer to call "drive-up mailboxes."

The writers have supplied their comments on this newspaper's editorial photograph and succeeding editorial which recently complained about the problem the driver has trying to put letters into boxes when the snorkels are located on the right side of the car.

This type of problem may seem rather insignificant and hardly worth creating any furor over, but I did it and I am glad! It does serve to point up, however, that government officials can't keep an eye on everything and many times a little prodding will cause them to improve conditions which benefit many people. And they don't mind.

We are all a little lazy — like the time I ran up a ten-dollar water bill because I didn't take five minutes to change a five-cent washer. So take heart, dear friends, don't just grumble to yourself if you don't like something, tell the right people and we may all be surprised and pleased at the results.

The Reader Speaks Up

Time to Pay Respects to Firemen

Editor:

In retaliation to the article appearing July 14th, entitled "Firemen overworked," I wish to add the following facts to a few unbelievers and falsehoods. Even though I'm not a resident of Livonia, I feel it's right and justified to speak up in favor of our public servants, especially the Livonia Fire Department and The Fire Department in our area.

Let me start by saying this: If the Firemen were not overworked and underpaid, why then has the State of Michigan organized, voted and signed into law the 56 hour a week work law for Firemen, House Bill 2457. This law states briefly that effective July 1, 1966, Firemen will not work more than 63 hrs. a week, and effective 1 July 1967, not more than 56 hrs. a week. In straight figures, firemen working a 72 hour week, (allowing for 2 weeks vacation) work 3,600 hrs. a year. While the average reader of this paper works a 40 hour week, (allowing for 2 weeks vacation) works 2,000 hours a year. One thousand Six Hundred (1,600) hours LESS a year.

Most Firemen do not get paid time and a half for overtime or triple time for holidays, they work a straight salary a year — and are subject to recall on all major fires and work their holidays. Kelly Days are also covered by State Law.

The term "Kelly Day" comes from the man who introduced this bill, named Mr. Kelly. It states that Firemen must work their regular shift, and after completion of a given number of these days are entitled to one extra day off. Again, let me say these are laws and are for the protection of the Firemen. Someone has to!

He is forbidden by law to strike for higher pay or better benefits, while the average reader and workers can and does. Do you know that the loss of lives among Firemen as a direct result of their duties (Death as a result of falls, building debris falling on them, burned by fire, death as a result of smoke or gas and heart and lung diseases resulting from their work) is in second place from the top of a national poll of all occupations. Firemen are supposed to risk their lives for you as a human being. Firemen are supposed to "live" at the fire station for 24 hour periods, away from his wife and children (On a 72 hour work week, that's 150 days a year — 24 hour days). Firemen are supposed to come to your aid when in need of First Aid or the Resuscitator, Fire and any other emergency to include locked out of the house or a cat in the tree.

Firemen are supposed to give up their sleep to answer alarms, to sleep lightly so as to be able to function at their peak in a matter of seconds, not after their third or fourth cup of coffee. Yet, it comes time for wage increases, betterment of benefits and working conditions, and you start to list items that are rights given the Firemen by State Law, and state these reasons for turning down their requests.

Thank God that someone had the foresight to make these two laws! Firemen come to your aid, in a truck or rescue car equipped with lights and sirens, yet you won't move out of their way, YOU delay them in answering the alarm. Just riding in a fire truck, let alone to drive one, would give the average man a heart attack. And in most communities around here, you won't even protect your firemen with a Pension and Disability Act.

Firemen are supposed to and do give their entire self to every alarm they answer.

If you don't believe that statement, ask the Livonia Fireman who gave up his legs answering an alarm in the wee hours of the morning, giving of himself to one of you careless drivers who probably is the type who says, "those Firemen have it made."

If the Firemen were paid a substantial wage and compensated for their time and efforts, they wouldn't have to have part-time jobs and be away from their families even more. And then he must live within the community he serves. It takes a particular type of a man to become and stay a Fireman. He must get along good with others, learn to perform his duties as a team, learn to depend on his fellow Firemen in time of need and to be able to be depended upon.

He must be a High School graduate, be able to pass a Civil Service examination, and many firemen have a year or two of College. Many have given up eight and nine thousand dollar a year jobs to become Firemen, to receive the pleasure and enjoyment of serving their fellow man in a time of need. And many Firemen are going back to their old jobs because there is no thanks for the job they're doing.

He must have strength and courage beyond the average man and ability and training to climb ladders, carry hose and ladders, drive the different pieces of apparatus, and the knowledge of Emergency First Aid to save your life when called upon. He is usually a member of many different organizations within the community, to include the Goodfellows, the Metropolitan Club, the IAFF, Boy Scouts, and different Church Groups.

His wife must be able to accept the fact that she will be completely alone for a 150 days and nights a year, able to be mother, father and friend to her children on these days, (How many of you women can qualify) and whenever she hears the Fire Whistle or a Fire Engine siren her heart must stop beating a couple of seconds and I know a silent prayer is uttered from her lips.

Have you ever stopped into your Community Fire Station? You will never find a discourteous Fireman. More times than not, he will want to show you the equipment he uses and answer your many questions. This next week, why not make it a point to visit your Fire Station, bring the children and talk with YOUR Firemen. Get to know your Firemen and his duties, I'm sure your tune will change. Make this next week — July 25 thru 31 "VISIT YOUR FIRE STATION WEEK." Interested in Fire Department Plymouth

Key Questions About Plymouth Auditorium

After reading the headlines in last week's issue on the one million dollar auditorium proposal, a lot of questions come to my mind. First of all, however, those people who gave of their time to make this study are to be commended for their interest, endeavor and time.

After studying the article more closely I have the following questions:

- 1. Is a one million dollar auditorium feasible for a community of our size?
2. As a school project, any millage levied will be considered as school money no matter what name you give it.

3. Millage levied could seriously affect school millage needs in the future.

4. It is expected it will run a deficit from the operation which will require more taxes. We should not overlook this.

5. Is the Board of Education the proper body to handle this project? Sam Hudson said, according to this article, that the School District was the logical body to handle such a project because of the "lack of unity among the various local governments units."

I do not like to hear this statement made as I like to feel this is something of the past we should forget. These so-called government units actually are the representatives of the people in this same school district. They were freely elected by majority vote. The very people who elected these officials are the very people who comprise our school district and to whom this article is directed.

Board member J. D. McLaren mentioned a recreation site committee which he felt should be consulted in this matter. In understand this committee. However, on this committee, I am told, are representatives not only from the various units, including city and township, but also the school board. Is there a lack of unity here? If so, let's bring this question out in the open and find out if they are wasting their time.

This study stated tentative plans called for locating the project next to the high school, but indicated it could be placed elsewhere. Here, I feel, is something which could go a long way towards helping or rejecting the proposal. This could be a real stumbling block.

I feel confident that the committee has considered other means of financing? Why not consider establishing an Authority, independent of any unit, plus soliciting of private donations of land and money towards this project. This is not anything new.

As a school project, I personally would be against it.

There is one bright side: I can foresee if it is voted on as a school project, and also a bad one. It could bring out the voters to the polls in numbers greatly exceeding past elections, which is what we need. However, by the same token, if only the usual handful showed up, the decision could not be construed as the desire of the majority. As Sam Hudson is quoted, "We want as many people in the act as possible over a broad base."

This is good thinking. FRANK MILLINGTON, PLYMOUTH

Fan of "Queen"

I just bought a new file cabinet; it is a beautiful file cabinet, already bursting with important things to remember. On one of its shiny folders I wrote: "Queen of Hearts," Faith Gillespie cooking and other such creative stuff.

Last week I searched The Observer for clipping number four, but it wasn't there. Alas! My file cabinet is incomplete. So was your newspaper.

So, who goofed? Incompletely yours, KATE PEARSON, LIVONIA.

(Ed. Note: The "Queen" has returned this week.)

Fan of Faith's

For two weeks now I couldn't find Faith Gillespie's food column in the paper. You started out with her articles written with such flair and know-how... so what happened? Please start printing them again. She's tops in cooking — and her writing shows she enjoys it. Besides, this is the best way to get her recipes — on a consistent basis, and it's the easiest! Congratulations to the whole staff on your being received into the MPA. It's something of which you can be justifiably proud!

JEAN PALUZZI Livonia

Observing the Scene...

By MYRA CHANDLER

So it's a personal thing, but I want my home base of the Redfords to join the Schoolcraft Community College District.

Geographically, spiritually, philosophically they belong together with Plymouth, Garden City, Clarenceville, Livonia, Northville. Some of the original planners of the college came from Redford Township. From its embryo, the Redfords were slated to be part of the district.

Despite this fact, many opportunities to do so have gone astray — there are a great many more citizens each year in the Redfords who see the increasing value of belonging to this beautiful, well-planned community college.

This is particularly true now that it is more fact than fiction that the Redfords will become part of the sprawling, six campus complex, all over the unwieldy Wayne County college district. And to the tune of from one and one-half to two mills. Where will the control be? Will Redford Township, South and North, be able to elect a representative from its puny 11 mills as compared to the sprawling giant encompassing it?

It would be exactly as if the Redfords decided to join the Detroit School system — and there would be just as much chance for representation.

The contrast is so fantastic, it seems ludicrous. Either everyone in Redford Township has just died or there aren't any more students, young or old.

Schoolcraft Community College has fulfilled all of its promises. It has been built, is beautiful, and operates on one mill. It is fully accredited by the State and has a team from the North Central Association working with Dean Waterman on national accreditation.

The present buildings house the following courses of instruction, both for full and part-time students: Accounting, Agriculture, Art, Automotive Technology, Biology, Business (about a variety of 24 specialized courses), Chemistry, Drafting and Design, Economics, Electricity-Electronics, English, Foreign Language, Geography, Geology, History, Law Enforcement and Industrial Security, Manufacturing Technology, Mathematics, Music, Nursing, Practical Nursing, Philosophy, Physical Education, Physics, Political Science, Psychology, Reading, Social Studies, Sociology, Speech.

The first two years of a future teacher's education can begin at Schoolcraft. It is geared for literati who want to teach advanced French; as well as for the mechanically-minded who are going to find their niche in the world in the machine shop — but with metallurgy, welding training.

It's all there at your fingertips — Redford — to the tune of one mill, approximately $5 per year.

The most incredible fact is that the Schoolcraft Community College Board, although split in its feeling, has a majority that would accept the Redfords into the district. They have been polled and if a delegation from the Redfords would petition the Schoolcraft Community College Board, they would consider the application favorably. For the most part this present eight-man board recognizes that the Redfords are a natural part of the district.

It is even more meaningful when you consider, as a part of the district, that both South Redford and Redford Union would elect a representative, as well as vote on the representative from the district at large.

Let me emphasize just how strongly I feel about this decision. Any community that doesn't feel the moral obligation to pursue this, past the maladjusted of its community, doesn't feel the moral obligation to its children, is a community that also does not deserve the blood, sweat, and tears we of The Observer of Redford Township give week after week in an effort to bring a shaft of light and a moment of truth to a community.

Why bother?

Crime and Economics

In 1963 the total number of arrests in the United States as reported by the F.B.I. was 4 1/2 million persons, and the annual cost of crime $27 billion. By comparison, the total cost of our public schools was $18 billion, and of our military establishment $48 billion. So crime cost 9 billion more than the education of our children, and more than one-half the cost of the national defense. These are but examples.

Alcohol accounts for more than one-half of the deaths, maiming, and property damage on our highways, and a half of the inmates of our prisons are alcoholic. The cost of absenteeism, etc. in industry has been estimated all the way from one to $13 billion annually. It costs the state at least five dollars for each dollar it receives in alcohol revenue.

How much money passes over how many bars that is needed for family care of all kinds. Can we begin to estimate the related hospital and funeral bills, or the effect on premium rates of our health insurance companies and our automobile insurance companies or life insurance companies. Who are accessory to propagated crime, and the disasters that follow in its wake?

The health professions have to ask these questions about cause in their responsibility for the prevention and treatment of disease.

Can the American people afford to "live it up so fast?" The following figures are of help in answering whether they can afford it or not. There are theoretically 130 million people in America eligible to earn some income. Actually there are only about 95 1/2 million who earn from a little to very much, percentage-wise.

While America is a very wealthy country, there are very few who are wealthy percentage-wise. We talk of labor making a great deal of money, but in these times of inflation when a weekly grocery bill, rent bill, or payment on the house, insurance of all kinds, doctor bills, and all others are to be paid, there is little if any of a week's pay left.

If a factory worker or school teacher were to make $25 per day five days per week, 52 weeks per year including vacations, the annual income would be $6,500. Few, percentage-wise, make this, except full-time skilled workers, and the present dollar is worth only about 50 cents in terms of Ford's early $5 per day.

The following set of figures might be called the multiplication table, or index of income of all who earn money from one dollar to the income of the president of a great industry. We are giving here only a part of 300 percentage items from our complete figures, which include such divisions as year round full-time workers, part-time, male and female, farm and non-farm, colored and white, etc.

Note that the first column gives the percentage of the earning population who get the amount in the second column. The third column is also significant for it is cumulative. The second item in the fourth column for example means that 25.7 per cent of all who earn, make up to $1,000 per year or less. The fourth item, that 40.7 per cent make $2,000 per year or less. The eighth item that 62.1 per cent make up all who earn $4,000 or less, and that 86.6 per cent of the total population make $7,000 or less.

Table with 4 columns: Percentage of Earning Population, Annual Income, Cumulative Percentage of Earning Population, and a note at the bottom: $2,803 is the median income of all who earn in the United States. RALPH H. PINO, M.D.

Trenkle Named A Major

Announcement is made of the recent promotion of Howard R. Trenkle of Livonia to the rank of major in the United States Army Reserve.

The "oak leaves" were presented Sunday at Fort Knox, Ky., where the unit is currently undergoing annual active duty training, by Col. William H. Birbari, Commanding Officer of the 330th Regiment.

Major Trenkle has been the Executive Officer of the 3rd Battalion, 330th Regiment (BCT), 70th Division (Tng) since November, 1963. Prior to assuming his present duties, he had held several command positions, including that of Commanding Officer of the 315th Transportation Company (Heavy Bost.).

A graduate of Purdue University, Major Trenkle also holds an MA degree from the University of Michigan and, in civilian life is on the faculty of Bentley High School where he teaches American Government and World History. He is Secretary of the Livonia Education Association.

Major Trenkle, his wife, Barbara, and their three daughters live on West Chicago.

Pick Moser Realtor Of The Year

Members of the Western Wayne-Oakland County Board of Realtors have named President Marvin O. Moser as the organization's Realtor of the Year for 1965.

As winner of the local organization's top award, Moser will be in competition for the state Realtor of the Year award to be selected at the Michigan Real Estate Association convention to be held in Detroit Sept. 12-14.

Moser is president of Mayfair Realty, and lives at 16711 Bell Creek Lane, Livonia. A graduate of Highland Park High School and the Detroit Business Institute, he also holds a certificate in real estate from the University of Michigan.

The annual selection of the Realtor of the Year award is based upon local board activities, state association activities, activities with the National Association of Real Estate Boards, service to the community and business accomplishments.

Special significance in each category is attached to service to the organizations involved. In addition to being president of the Western Wayne-Oakland Board of Realtors, Moser has served as vice-president, secretary and as chairman of several committees. He has also been active in the state association and at national conventions.

Moser is now on the Mission Board of Michigan of the Lutheran Church, has served as chairman of the congregation of Faith Lutheran Church in Livonia, and as an elder and as a steward.

He is a member of the Livonia sewer and water commission. Moser and his wife, Tatiana, have a son and a daughter.

Seek Names Of Bentley High Grads

The Bentley High Alumni Association is going modern—in other words officers are going to adopt an IBM system that will enable them to have a complete file of graduates with their occupations and other data at their fingertips.

However, there is one slight rub—the Association doesn't have the correct names and addresses of all graduates and is desirous of getting its records up to date before going into the IBM computer system of records.

If you are a graduate of Bentley High and are not receiving your Alumni Album, then the Association doesn't have the correct name and address.

You can help correct this by dropping a note to the Alumni Association at Bentley High with all of the needed information. This should be taken care of as soon as possible.

Membership cards for the graduates in the 1965 class will be in the mail no later than Aug. 1. Once again, if you don't receive your card within a few days after that date, then drop a note to the Alumni Association with the correct name and address and cards will be in the mail within a few days thereafter.

55 Attend Meeting of Boys Inc.

Approximately 55 parents attended the general meeting of the North Farmington Baseball for Boys, Inc., on July 13, in the O. E. Dunckel school cafeteria with Commissioner Bob Grattan, presiding.

Joe Kilmer, treasurer, passed out financial statements and explained the statement in detail. Grattan thanked the Farmington School Board for the 13 diamonds that have been available for League use. He also requested that parents attending games park in areas so designated and refrain from using the fields as a parking space, at the request of the school board.

Grattan also related the activities of the present Board, since past commissioner, Harry Kujawa and his team, pulled the league out of debt and set up an organized filing system.

This season's board changed the boundaries of the League, and studied the by-laws, as Kujawa recommended.

He related that the Board puts on the programs, registration, schedules and seeks funds that are necessary. Grattan also reminded those present that readying the fields for playing this season was a month behind due to weather conditions and commended Marty Gluckstein on the results with what he had to work with.

The Board has set aside funds for improving fields in the future and replacing playing equipment. This year the league was able to purchase a better grade of bats, uniforms, and baseballs.

Babe Ruth Entries Bow Out

Garden City's two entries in the area Babe Ruth baseball tournaments were eliminated last week. So was Nankin's one entry.

Garden City East won from Monroe, 8-6, before losing to Lincoln Park, 4-1. Nankin whipped Garden City West, 9-2, but Nankin was downed in the next round by Lincoln Park Nationals, 5-0.

One defeat eliminated the area teams.

Gary Pike scattered seven hits in East's win over Monroe.

The victors capitalized on nine walks as they made only three hits—a double by Harry Kightlinger and singles by Gary Ashe and Kevin Wikison.

Fine defensive plays by Rick Clark and Jim Furay featured the victory.

Furay allowed Lincoln Park seven hits. Clark and Wilkinson had doubles and Pike and Paul Laut singles in the losing cause. Errors helped Nankin to oust Garden City West.

FIRST PLACE WINNER in the Miss Wonderland Contest was awarded to Carol Bowerman, 20-year-old (center) representing Winkelman's. On the left is June Eden, 18, second place winner who was known as Miss Federal's. Third place winner was (far right) Coni Gorak, 8-year-old from Garden City as Miss AAA Bird Store. Music for the event was provided by The Continentals and Emcee (above) was Frank "Swingin" Sweeney of WKNR. Miss Bowerman received $500 worth of beautiful prizes from the Wonderland Center as a result of winning the grand "Miss Wonderland" title. She is employed at Shell Motor Lab. Title Play Starts for Little Loop Action begins this week in Little League baseball area play, the first step on the long road to the championship of the world to be decided at Williamsport, Pa., in late August.

For the tournaments, each league picks an all-star unit as its representative tourney. Then come the states, the regionals and finally the world meet.

Redford Township, Garden City and Nankin all contest for Little League honors.

Garden City North will meet Nankin Central at Fort and Schaefer in Detroit Thursday at 3 p.m. In a game at 5 p.m. on the same field, Nankin

American will play Temple Central.

Southwest Detroit and North Detroit drew the byes and will meet the winners on Friday. The title game will be decided Saturday.

At Curtis and Beech Daly in Redford Township, it will be Garden City Federal vs. Lincoln Park South on Thursday as Garden City American, Taylor Northeast and Redford Central draw the first-round byes.

In Little League action one defeat eliminates a team.

DR. SAM PRISK visits the Clarenceville School District's Head Start class to instruct the pre-schoolers in the importance of proper dental care.

Clarenceville Head Start Program Underway for 16

The Clarenceville School District's Head Start Program is well underway with several staff members and area residence working toward its success.

With the opening of the classroom door July 6 and the raising of the Head Start flag at Edgewood School, 76 youngsters started their formal educational training. The curriculum designed by Clarenceville staff members includes many of the regular kindergarten activities.

Mrs. Norma Kitzman, Head Start teacher, is working with art materials, organized games, body coordination, speaking and listening activities, and social activities. Each of these activities is designed to help the young child to make the adjustment from his pre-school ways to the ways of school life.

Along with the developing of the student, this program helps create a new interest in education within the parents of these children. The parents take an active part in the classroom activities as well as the field trips and other social activities.

Each morning the program starts with a breakfast served to the students at the school. Parents are asked to help serve this meal which is prepared by a member of the Clarenceville cafeteria staff, Mrs. Eleanor Bonner.

After the breakfast meal, the importance of care of the teeth is emphasized by the supervised brushing. The introduction of dental care was done by Dr. Sam Prisk who volunteered his services and a supply of tooth brushes and paste. Dr. Prisk has also made a return visit to remind the children of the proper use of the tooth brush.

Perhaps one of the most important features of this program is the fact that due to the small number of children in the class, the teaching can be done almost on an individual basis which will offer these children the proper start to school once the regular semester begins in September.

This program is a part of the nationwide Head Start Project and the expense of the program is on a shared basis. This year the federal government is assuming 90 per cent of the total cost of the Clarenceville program. The additional 10 per cent amounting to about $200 dollars is being paid by the school district.

Complete Workshop in Nature

Three residents of the area and one teacher will complete the seventh annual Nature Interpretation Workshop Course at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropolitan Park on July 23.

They are:
Mrs. James S. (Rosetta) Maddick of 17163 Kinloch, Redford Township.
Michael G. Hanes of 33117 Hopecrest Ct., Farmington.
Mrs. Richard (Jean) Maslingill of 15905 Harrison, Livonia.

Bruce Beebe, a fourth grade teacher at Wilson School in Livonia.

The workshop is sponsored by the department of biology and division of field services of Eastern Michigan University, and the Höron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, a regional park and parkway agency serving Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw, and Wayne Counties.

The instructor this year is Dr. John E. Lutz, associate professor, Eastern Michigan University, assisted by members of the Kensington Park naturalist staff, headed by Richard Mortemore.

The group attended lectures and studied exhibits at the Nature Center and learned about plant and animal life along the nature trails in the park also learning how to conduct field trips and how to plan a nature trail.

IT TOOK 37 MINUTES for a crew to install an eight-inch water main from the Plymouth system to the Haller Manufacturing Plant on Northville Road last Saturday. The plant was without water only a few minutes during the cutover, thanks to the co-operation of the Plymouth Township and City Fire Departments. DPW Supt. Joseph Bida is shown watching workers making the final connection — water flowed through the main within minutes.

OBSERVING SPORTS

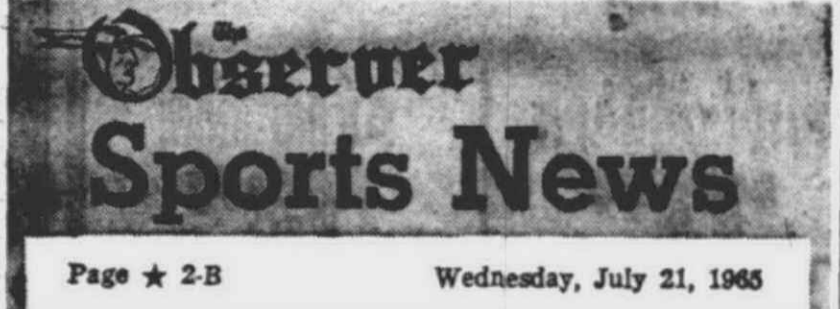

By George Maskin

You can't top the people you meet. There's Bill Buntin, the player attributed by many as being most responsible for the rebirth of basketball at the University of Michigan.

Buntin has received his degree from the University. In a few days he'll be heading overseas with his Michigan basketball teammates for a series of games in Southern Europe to be sponsored by the United States State department.

When he comes back from Europe, Buntin will turn to playing for the Detroit Pistons. He's a cinch to get a five-figure contract. All first draft picks in the National Basketball Association do.

Nonetheless, Buntin hasn't loafed this summer. He went to work in the management department at Chrysler's. His bosses report that in just a few weeks Big Bill has proved to them that he'll be as great behind a desk as he is on the basketball floor.

All of this hasn't affected Buntin. He talks slowly and quietly. There's nothing big-shot about this young man of 23.

Another big man—physically speaking—is Bill Chmielewski, who also is reporting to the Pistons in the fall. Bill's story hasn't taken a different path than Buntin's. Like Buntin, Chmielewski was a great school basketballer. "Chim" went to Detroit Holy Redeemer, Buntin to Northern in Detroit.

From Holy Redeemer, Chmielewski went to Dayton University. As a sophomore he became one of the most talked-about college cagers in the country. He led Dayton to the National Invitational tournament.

Something then went wrong within Chmielewski. He had to leave Dayton. For two years he floundered. In 1964, he had a tryout with the Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Association and flunked.

Last May, the Pistons purchased rights to Chmielewski. Big "Chim" read in the papers that Player-Coach Dave DeBusschere didn't think "Chim" had much of a chance to make the Pistons because of his weight and attitude.

But last week, Chmielewski appeared at a Pistons' luncheon. All of the bragging and boasting that once marked his way of life had gone. He told press, radio and television personalities that he had cut his weight from 255 to 238.

Chmielewski works for the Ford plant in Livonia. What he does isn't easy. The pay is just fair.

He knows now that if he is to make it in basketball, the chance being afforded him by the Pistons will be the last one. Hence, his entire attitude toward life now has changed—for the good.

For more reasons than one, we hope Chmielewski cashes in with the Pistons.

It Takes No-Hitter To Beat One-Hitter

Top this one in baseball! Final Score—Plymouth Elks 1, North Nankin 0.

What's more—Elks' pitcher Fred Higgs turned in a no-hit gem while Tom Cannon, hurling for Nankin, permitted just one hit.

Higgs walked two batters and fanned 15 in turning in his masterpiece.

Cannon deserved a better fate. He had a no-hitter going until the sixth when Paul Carlson tagged him for a single. But the score still remained 0-0 after the inning was over.

The game's lone run came in the seventh and final inning. Don Stamper of the Elks was safe on an error. He stole second and third and came home on another error.

All of this happened last week in Greater Livonia's Connie Mack League where regular-season action was slated to end this week and playoff competition begin shortly thereafter between the two divisional leaders.

North Redford appeared to have its section sewed up, but it was a tossup between South Redford and the Livonia DRC in the other division.

In the playoffs the two winners will fight for the right to advance to the state-district Connie Mack tourney. The losing team will qualify for the state recreation tourney.

North Redford helped its cause with three victories last week.

Two of the triumphs were fashioned by Rick Barryman who beat South Dearborn, 9-2, and then missed a no-hitter in blanking the Livonia Giants, 3-0.

Barryman needed only one more man in the seventh inning against the Giants to complete the game without yielding a hit. The man was Mike Stachurski, who had different ideas.

Stachurski drilled a clean single to right to spoil Barryman's no-hitter, but not a great mound effort. Barryman fanned 15 and walked two.

He had also struck out 15 in the South Dearborn game, so his week's work upped his record for the campaign to 8-0 and 91 strikeouts in 57 innings of action.

With Larry Ruszas pitching for the Giants against North Redford, the Townshipers scored in the first inning on hits by Randy Maltby and Leland Bjerke and a walk to Robby Masson.

Jim Johnston and Dick Beckerleg knocked out hits to make it 2-0 in the second. Maltby then squeezed in Masson after a walk and double by Dave Bourassa for the final North Redford run.

Bourassa, Beckerleg and Barryman each rifled out two hits to help simplify Barryman's job against South Dearborn. The trio each delivered a safety in the first inning when North Redford counted three times to spring into a fast lead.

North Redford also met South Dearborn the next day and won in a 14-0 breeze. Bourassa pitched and fanned 12. He allowed one hit—a single in the sixth.

North Redford capitalized on walks to win easily. The Townshipers tallied only four hits in the game. In the second inning, Redford tallied eight times with the aid of eight walks.

Another three-time winner in Connie Mack play during the week was Livonia DRC.

First came a 7-2 win over Wayne, then a 7-6 verdict over South Redford and finally a 4-0 triumph over North Nankin.

Six runs in the seventh inning sewed up the victory over Wayne. After an error,

WXYZ to Air All-Star Game

As a continuing sports service, WXYZ Radio will broadcast the 1965 College All-Star Football Game from Chicago's Soldiers Field, Friday, August 6, at 9 p.m. (Detroit time.)

The 1965 contest will pit the National Football League Champions, Cleveland Browns, paced by fullback Jimmy Brown, against one of the most outstanding groups of collegiate football seniors ever assembled.

hit batsman and walks loaded the bases, Bill Woods singled, Mike Dodson doubled, Hank Schoenbeck doubled and Larry Waara singled.

Larry Sladek picked up the victory, allowing five hits and fanning eight.

A five-run uprising in the first inning started DRC on the way to nipping South Redford, Mike Nye and Jim Rose singled, Mike DeGutis walked, Sladek was safe on a fielder's choice, Bill Jacobs was hit by a pitch, and Waara tripled.

DRC added runs in the third and fourth while Redford fought back. A homer by Dave Woloch, triple by Tim Fisher and single by Bill Holmes netted South its first two runs.

Reg Barryman singled in another tally and a hit by Terry Rothwell led to the fourth run. Jim Spruiell's double brought Redford to within a run of a tie and then the failure of a runner to tag third—an incident which led to a heated protest—cost Redford the equalizer in the seventh and possible victory.

Schoenbeck worked five innings and fanned nine while Sladek finished up against North Nankin.

Hits by Jeff Mills and DeGutis led to DRC's first two runs in the initial inning. Mills doubled and DeGutis singled in the third when DRC counted its final two markers.

A 10-run inning enabled the Livonia Giants to outslug the Monarchs, 18-9. The Giants trailed 9-8, when the uprising occurred.

In the wildness, Paul Hartge was safe on an error, Bjerke singled, Ron Kapanke walked, Ruszas singled, Deedler singled, Roger Frayer walked, Stachurski walked, Zaleski singled, Hartge doubled and Berger walked.

Deedler had three hits and Frayer, Zaleski, Hartge and Berger two each for the Giants.

Here's what happened in other Connie Mack action last week: With Rich Fisher turning in a five-hitter, South Redford downed South Dearborn, 3-1. Woloch had two hits and Tim Fisher a triple for the victors.

The Plymouth Optimists gave up seven runs in the second inning and lost to Northville, 7-5. Hack Robertson hurled shutout ball after the second inning for the losers.

The Optimists then played a 4-4 standoff with Inkster. Johnny Adams tripled for the victors.

In this Thursday's regular-season final games, North Redford meets Plymouth Optimists at Riverside Park, Livonia

Giants engage Northville at Henry Ford (8:30 p.m.), the Livonia Elks take on South Dearborn at Henry Ford (6:15 p.m.), DRC faces North Nankin at Nankin Mills, South Redford engages the Plymouth Elks at Perrin Field and the Livonia Bisons meet South Dearborn at Wallaceville Field.

DEJECTED TEAM: Manager Wally Christensen and Farmington's American Legion team hobbles from the field as Dick (15) and Wayne (4) Johnston wipe their hands with two out in final inning as rain dropped against Waterford. Farmington lost 4-2, and all but saw its hopes for an 18th District title vanish.

FOR FARMINGTON LEGION TEAM:

Title Chances Slipping

The chances appeared slim this week for Farmington to haul in the 18th district American Legion baseball championship.

A 4-2 loss to Waterford last Friday jarred the Farmington chances and left the Waterford team with a two-game edge over its victim entering the final week of action.

Farmington succumbed to Waterford after downing Walled Lake, 6-2, and Troy, 10-1. As a result, Farmington's record stood at 14-5.

Two runs in the fourth inning and two more in the fifth brought Waterford home a victor. Each rally came after two men were out.

Farmington had to wait until the sixth inning before cashing in. A single by Bill Bowles and a walk to Chuck Viane paved the way for both to register when Barry Aneda unloaded a big single.

But that's all Farmington could accomplish in the way of runs.

The losing pitcher was Mike Krumm who gave way to Viane in the fifth inning.

Viane fashioned his sixth Legion win of the season in the game with Walled Lake. He scattered five hits, struck out 11 and walked one batter.

Farmington roared ahead with four runs in the first inning and never was threatened the rest of the way.

Tim Marzolf started matters for Farmington with a single. Wayne and Dick Johnston then walked. Singles by Carl Misch and Bowles drove across three runs.

Then after Bill Freeman drew a free pass, Viane came through with a run-producing single to ease his load.

In the sixth inning, a single by Bowles, double by Freeman and long fly by Viane helped to bring Farmington its final two runs of the game.

Bowles and Aneda each collected a pair of hits in the game while Viane took honors in the runs-batted-in department with two.

Miles Kearney turned in a one-hit gem in Farmington's 10-1 romp over Troy. The single came in the seventh inning after Troy had scored its only run on a walk, stolen base, error and wild pitch in the second inning.

That marker enabled Troy

The Volkswagen is the big one.

We know our wagon is five feet shorter than the other model. But we still say it's bigger because it holds more: 170 cubic feet. (Regular wagons vary from 57 to 91.)

To understand how we get the extra room, you have to appreciate the shape of the Volkswagen Station Wagon.

It's built like a big box—taller than it is wide. A good-sized kid can walk down the aisle standing up.

There is virtually no wasted space on the VW. Even the engine is tucked away. (In the rear, over the drive wheels.)

You can carry 8 big adults with luggage. Or 1632 lbs. of assorted children.

And if you slide the sunroof back you can lug home a big day at the auction.

Big as our wagon is, it's only 9 inches longer than the Volkswagen Sedan.

So if you're ever in a tight jam, it can seem pretty small.

Redford Takes Free Press-Loop Round

Round One went to Redford Township . . . Round Two to the Livonia Giants . . . Round Three to Redford Township.

Now it's into the final round of the Greater Livonia-Detroit Free Press baseball competition to determine the qualifiers for the post-season playoffs.

The Redford team, managed by Al Turner, swept to three victories last week.

In rapid-fire order, Redford ripped South Dearborn, 13-3; clipped the Giants, 3-0, and then the North Dearborn entry, 10-4.

Tom Tanner was the pitching hero for Redford against South Dearborn. He flipped a neat five-hitter and came through with 13 strikeouts.

Meantime, Tim Fisher led the Redford batting assault with a single, double and homer. Ken Black socked two singles and a triple and Glen Knock poked a triple to make matters easy for Tanner.

The Redford-Giants game was a thriller. Arnold Helwig, hurling for Redford, permitted only two hits—singles by Mike

Stachurski and Paul Deedler. In addition, Helwig fanned 10 batters. Pete, Hembrough of the Giants got off to a shaky start. He was touched for two runs in the first inning and one in the second. Then Bob Morgan took over for the Giants and blanked Redford the rest of the way.

Successive singles by Dave Woloch, Rick Harlow, Lou Banwert and Knock led to Redford's first two runs. In the second inning, Catcher Harry (Spud) Kendrick unloaded a long homer.

Redford spotted North Dearborn a 4-0 lead before the Townshipers began to find their batting eyes.

A six-run uprising in the fourth inning turned the tide of battle.

It, all started when Harlow was safe on an error. Banwert doubled Harlow to third.

Up came Black to park one of the longest homers ever clouted at Livonia's Ford Field. The drive sailed across Lyndon Avenue, more than 450 feet away from home plate.

It was a miracle that the North Dearborn outfielder could find the ball in the dark.

After Black's clout, Jim Sproul walked and Terry Rothwell was hit by a pitch. Kendrick chased both across with a triple and Kendrick himself counted the sixth run of the inning on a wild pitch.

A two-run single by Glen Knock in the next inning helped to cement the victory for Redford.

Rick Fisher went the route for the winners and fanned 12 batters.

The Livonia Giants were awarded a forfeit victory over the Wayne Red Sox when the latter team failed to return to the field after rain had suspended play with the score tied at 3-3.

Members of both teams were told to wait around by the umpires, pending a verdict on the rain.

When the showers passed over, the Giants returned to the field, but the Wayne Sox weren't to be found. Their players had headed home.

The umpires ruled the game forfeited and League Director Al Roscoe agreed.

The Giants had counted three runs in the first inning when Stachurski walked, Paul Hartge was hit by a pitch, Berger walked, Hembrough doubled and Mitch Zaleski singled.

Wayne tied matters in the fourth, just before the rains came.

The regular season in Free Press play ends Wednesday with North Dearborn meeting Wayne and South Dearborn playing the Giants at Ford field in night action.

The playoffs begin on July 26 to determine which team meets the Oakland County champ the following week. The state semifinals are held for Ann Arbor on Aug. 7.

Overall, Redford now has a 10-2 record, the Giants of Livonia 8-2, in Free Press league play.

Battle for 1st in Colt League

Redford Township's Colt League tournament team will play its first game in Lincoln Park on Saturday, July 24, at 2 p.m. against Birmingham. The second game will be the following Sunday.

The all-star Township team, which has been holding daily practice under the direction of manager George Fritz, will meet Birmingham in the first game.

There will be an apparent close race in the regular league, with the Rovers battling it out with the Rangers.

Current standings:	W	L
RANGERS	12	5
RUSTICS	6	13
ROCKETS	6	13

HELPING HAND: Catcher Dick Johnston, of Farmington's American Legion team, helps fallen Waterford player who was hit by a pitch. Umpire signals that time is out.

'A' Team Beaten by Redford

Redford Township downed Livonia's Class A baseball team, 8-2, in a non-league game.

Arnold Helwig hurled the first six innings for the winners with Rick Fisher toiling the final three.

Four runs in the third inning sewed up the game for Redford. Helwig himself was safe on an error. Then Jim Sproul, singled, Rich Harlow and Harry Kendrick doubled and Tim Fisher singled.

Helwig knocked in a run in the fourth. Claude McTaggart a tally in the sixth and Ken Black and Harlow two more runs in the ninth with a double and single respectively.

Gary and Jim Slusser produced hits and Rick Sloan was hit by a pitch to account for the two "A" team runs.

Cawley Wins Dublin Race

Farmington's Rex Cawley, who raced to honors in the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo, continues to win in international competition.

He raced last Saturday in Dublin, Ireland, and won the 440-yard dash.

In the Olympics Cawley won the 400-meter hurdles.

Cawley was a hurdling champ at Farmington High School during his prep days. He attended college at Southern California and now makes his home in Los Angeles.

Observing Sports

As sports general managers go, Jimmy Campbell rates with the best. You dine with him in the press room at Tiger Stadium as the rain delays the start of action with Baltimore.

Campbell has had a great deal to do with the upsurge of the Tigers. He has made the deals . . . perfected the farm system . . . called the shots.

As he waits for the rain to cease, the major headaches of his job don't attract his attention.

He's more interested in who'll win a crowd-predicting game in which he and other Tiger officials currently are engaged.

"Why 25 cents a game is at stake," Campbell laughs. But you remember a dinner in May when Campbell wasn't laughing. At that time, the fans were staying away from Tiger Stadium and there were many criticisms of the club.

Now it would appear, Campbell's Tigers will draw more than one million folks to the Stadium. Maybe a lot more.

Into the Tiger Press room comes Jack Tighe, the ex-Tiger manager who presently scouts for the Milwaukee Braves.

We'll never forget asking Tighe to go with us on a special story when he was managing the Tigers. We went downriver to visit a youngster who was ailing.

Tighe took along a brand new catcher's glove and left it for the youngster. That evening Tighe headed east with the Tigers, unaware that within a week he would be chopped off as the Detroit manager.

Tighe likes his new job. He scouts major league rivals for the Braves to get a line on possible players for whom the Braves might make a trade next year.

The Tigers do the same thing. They scout all the other clubs in the majors, as well as the minors. It was just such a scouting job that enabled the Tigers to snatch away Dennis McLain from the Chicago White Sox.

Ray Lane, the TV personality and Tiger broadcaster, talks about Farmington's Bud Erickson, who is assistant general manager and publicity director of the Detroit Lions.

"Bud is doing very well with the Lions, but maybe he missed his calling," says Lane. "I think Bud should have gone into professional golf. He sure smacks that ball. Got a 73 the other day on a tough par-72 layout. Imagine, how Bud would shoot if he got a chance to play 10-12 hours a day!" It should be added that Bud's wife also is an excellent golfer.

Speaking of the Lions who start practice in a few days now, one of our Observer colleagues relates an interesting story about Wayne Walker, the great linebacker who also has become a television commentator.

"Wayne lives on the same block with us in Livonia," our friend declared. "Just a few doors away."

"My kids came rushing home to tell me that we had such a great celebrity in our midst. But not being a football enthusiast, the name meant nothing to me."

"From that moment on, I became nothing as far as my kids were concerned."

Energy's Source Is Lecture Topic

The Question, "Where Does Energy Come From?" will be examined from the Christian Science point of view at a public lecture in Detroit on Thursday, July 29, at 8 p.m.

Gertrude E. Velguth, a Christian Science practitioner from Flint, will be the speaker, under sponsorship of Eighth Church of Christ, Scientist, 20011 Grand River Ave. at Evergreen Rd.

The lecture offers an explanation of "spiritual energy" and describes it as the basic divine force that impels human progress and changes people's lives.

Mrs. Velguth entered the public practice of Christian Science healing in 1945, resigning her position as chairman of a high school Arts Department in Flint.

She is a graduate of the Conservatory of Music at Eastern Michigan College.

The traveling exhibit of the Guild for Religious Architecture, Washington, D.C., includes a design of the local Livonian church which was planned by architects Roy D. Murphy and Associates of Urbana, Ill.

The designs in the exhibit are of 10 churches located throughout the United States and were chosen from those submitted at the Guild's annual meeting in Dallas last year.

Dr. W. A. Harrell, church architecture department secretary of the Southern Baptist Sunday School Board, Nashville, will direct the church buildings and architecture conference, which has been planned for church architects, members of church building committees, and other interested persons.

Bible School Schedule
Faith Lutheran Church in Livonia will hold a Vacation Bible School Aug. 9 through 19. The eight-day course from 9 to 11:30 a.m. is open for students from kindergarten through eighth grade. The course is based on the church's belief in God as stated in the Apostles' Creed.

Truth Is Topic for This Sunday
"Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day."
This application from Psalms will begin this Sunday's Bible lesson at all Christian Science churches. The subject of "Truth" will be explored with particular emphasis on the teachings of Christ Jesus.

In addition to selections from the Bible, there will be readings from the Christian Science textbook.

ENERGY

Where does it come from?
When you look deeply enough, the basic energies that push forward our progress are spiritual—and could only come from God. This insight changes people's lives. Hear this public lecture, "Where Does Energy Come From?" presented by GERTRUDE E. VELGUTH, C.S., of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

Home Should Always Include Corner For Child's Playground

The old saying, "The grass is always greener in the other fellow's yard" need not apply these days. Let Dad fuss with the fertilizer, the seed and the lawn mower to his heart's content, but save a corner of the yard for a playground area and provide your children with an imaginative learning experience as well as fun.

Sound expensive? Not so, according to Frank Caplan, President of Creative Playthings Inc., Princeton, N.J., whose latest free catalog has an entire section on how to set up play areas for children. According to Caplan, a well planned play area can cost surprisingly little and for those parents who want as much variety as possible a cooperative playground provides the solution.

A start can be made on your own block in a cooperatively run backyard playground with each parent giving up a part of his unused backyard. The important thing to remember is that play yards are meant for active, spontaneous play and layouts should provide for adventure, discovery and activity.

Tunnels for crawling and climbing add adventure. Concrete pipe crawl ducts embedded in hills of earth provide the mysterious cavern-like darkness so intriguing to children.

Short tree trunks or large smooth rocks properly placed will do for a variety of jumping games as well as for seats and tables. Every playground should have a sand and water play area.

Most sand boxes are so small, most children won't sit on one spot and make sand pies, but prefer to build castles, tunnels and trenches.

Reasonable ways of providing water are to use tractor tires cut horizontally or have large plastic basins at varying heights connected by falls or channels with circulation completed by a simple pump.

Children love running up and sliding down. Full advantage should be taken of any difference in levels. Earth shaping by a bulldozer can create artificial mounds for falling down and if laid with granite steps, can be slid down or climbed up.

For active play without interruption, provide play facilities and equipment indoors for use in inclement weather or shelter from sudden downpours or burning hot sun. Covered verandas or roofs extend play in damp or hot weather. Swings and see-saws do not make a play space.

A climbing tree is better than a see-saw. Opportunities to use sand and water, to work with construction and artistic media, to play with games, to dramatize with dolls and play houses, to use wheel toys, to sail boats or to garden—all these are important in any play yard plan.

Provision should be made for children to play by themselves.

Appropriate plantings and dividers can create play niches for intimate individual play, for dreaming or contemplation. Vast open playgrounds are not child-like, they're noisy "recreation factories."

If a backyard is not available, community authorities may be appealed to for the use of center areas on wide boulevards or dead end streets.

That provision of play areas is important is emphasized by UNESCO's current world-wide campaign for "Space for Play."

Parents — in their own backyards — can help promote this great cause.

Wood Paneling Adds To Home Decorations

Once upon a time wood paneling meant an early American setting or an expensive book-lined den. Today, paneling is used in homes of every price range and in every room in the house.

Modern furnishings especially require a setting of sufficient warmth to give rooms a softened air, but one that doesn't conflict with the decorative scheme. Warm of tone, rich and expressive woods are ideal for the paneling of modern rooms.

News in the use of wood in modern home decoration is the upsurge in the use of color which can be obtained by blending finishes with the wood surface. Blues, greens — even golds — can provide beautiful wall effects and may be applied to Western Pine region woods with excellent results.

Lumber responds beautifully to stains and clear or pigmented finishes that allow the grain and knots to show through. Thus, the lumber may be left with its natural tone, or even when color is added with a wipe-on, brush-off finish, the wood will display its qualities of beauty and interest. It also may be painted, but then the beauty of the wood is hidden.

The size of a room and style of furniture determines the type of paneling installation. An air of spaciousness is produced by use of boards 10 or 12 inches wide for paneling. Narrower widths emphasize the direction of line, as well as lending a textural and subtly-patterned effect to the wall.

In a modern living room where a formal but comfortable atmosphere is indicated, use 6-inch widths of paneling with simple V-joints and a light finish to blend with any colors selected for furnishings, giving a sense of wholeness and harmony.

The fine patina of waxed paneling will complement a soft drapery fabric to great advantage, yet dramatize a loosely hand-woven material.

New Product Simplifies Patching Jobs

Nothing has been discovered to prevent the ravages of winter's freezes, thaws and extreme temperature changes that cause breaks in concrete and other masonry. But a new product, Dry-Latex Concrete, has been developed to make patching easier and the results more durable.

All you need do is add water, mix and apply directly to any clean, sound masonry. No time-consuming preparation of chipping or roughing, no priming and curing are necessary.

The product, the first dry latex concrete to be introduced on the market, is sold in 5, 10 and 40-lb. bags ready to use. It makes an immediate, perfect bond to any surface, and can be applied to damp or dry surfaces, either indoors or outdoors, since it is not affected by weather. In fact it is tougher than the concrete itself and won't dry out or crumble.

Uses include repairing rough, cracked and rain pitted or freeze-cracked sidewalks, driveways, foundations, floors, swimming pools and garden masonry. Scuff-proof and resilient, it is also used for smoothing or repairing large floor and wall surfaces in industrial work.

Latex-Concrete was first available in a powder form which required a special latex liquid for mixing. Now in its dry form, it is available at local building supply dealers, hardware and paint stores or lumber dealers.

Leaks May Mean Roof's Worn Out

Once a roof shows definite signs of wear, don't put off replacing it until heavy rains or melting snow seep into the house and cause costly damage to walls, ceilings and furnishings.

Roofs tend to wear out uniformly, so that a repair job is rarely the answer. If there is a leak, the chances are you'll have others soon. Some leaks, in fact, are so hard to find that a damaged ceiling or wall is the first sign.

A new roof of heavyweight asphalt shingles applied over the original roofing will protect against the worst weather and will improve the appearance of the entire house.

Because they are heavier and thicker, these shingles can be expected to give long service. They are warranted, guaranteed or bonded up to 25 years by their manufacturers.

Weather-Colored
 Western red cedar acquires a true silver sheen when weathered. Douglas fir attains the soft luster of pewter. Both are top lumber species for garden use.

Gate Brace

When building a gate, give it maximum strength against sagging by installing a Z shaped brace facing the hinges. The diagonal piece would then run from the upper corner of the latch side of the gate to the hinge side at the lower corner.

OPEN SUNDAYS
keep away weeds for 1-2 years with one application!

TRIOX is the easy way to destroy weeds in patios, brick walks, driveways, etc.

Get rid of weeds which spoil the appearance of your patio, driveway, brick walks, garden paths, etc. TRIOX not only kills weeds, it makes soil barren, preventing plant growth from 1 to 2 years. Follow label directions and cautions.

Houses Getting Bigger But Prices Are Stable

Houses and lots are getting bigger, but house prices remain stable.

A recent survey by the National Association of Home Builders of its 800-member Builders' Economic Council revealed that half of the new homes being built in 1965 will contain more than 1,370 square feet, with 11 per cent over 2,000 square feet. This is an increase of approximately 100 square feet over 1964.

The typical lot size among respondents this year is expected to be 9,720 square feet, as compared to 9,464 last year.

Today's "typical house" sells for $19,575, up only slightly from last year's $19,225, in contrast to larger increases in recent years.

The typical house is most likely a one-story brick. Survey respondents said 28 per cent of their homes have brick exteriors, 15 per cent wood facing, and 30 per cent a combination of two or more exterior materials.

They expect about 62 per cent of their houses to have one story. In 1964, two-story homes accounted for 17 per cent of the total, and split-levels 21 per cent.

The typical home has a garage or carport, a family room, and two bathrooms. Forty per cent of the respondents' new units have two bathrooms, while 23 per cent have 1 1/2 baths.

A third of the houses have a fireplace, and a third are air-conditioned, although the figure rises to three out of four in the South. Three-fourths of new apartment units are air-conditioned.

In this age of credit cards, there's one card that every member of the family can use, from grade-schooler to grandpa. Nobody checks your credit rating, and no matter how much it's used, there's no monthly bill.

This card can bring menu items from the best restaurants in Europe. It can introduce dad to corporation presidents and foreign dignitaries, and Junior to playmates from India or Japan.

What is it! Your library card. The travel, excitement, fun, fashion, and pleasure derived from use of your library card are immeasurable. Yet only one-third of the men, women and children in the United States take advantage of library cards.

Kamperman Collection at Art Institute

A collection of paintings, drawings, prints, sculpture and American glass assembled by longtime Detroit residents Dr. and Mrs. George Kamperman is now on exhibition at The Detroit Institute of Arts through Aug. 29.

The gift was presented to the museum by Mrs. Kamperman in 1964. Both she and the late Dr. Kamperman were friends and patrons of many Michigan artists, of the Art

School of the Society of Arts and Crafts and of the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts.

The Kamperman collection—112 pieces of 19th century American glass, 61 paintings, sculpture, prints and drawings—was created by the couple for their own personal enjoyment.

Displayed in gallery 32, the group of rare American pressed, molded and blown glass includes many types and shapes not previously represented in the glass collection of the Institute.

Some of the most important paintings in the Kamperman collection are related to the International Exhibitions held at Pittsburgh's Carnegie Institute. "The Wind" by German Expressionist Carl Hofer is probably the most notable, for it received first prize in the International Exhibition of 1938. Others are Hofer's "Girl Before a Curtain," Felice Casorati's "Portrait of Daphne," Robert Lotiron's "Threshing," and Maurice de Vlaminck's "Snowy Landscape."

Among other European artists represented are Henri Matisse by "The Black Ribbon," George Rouault by "The Tramp," and Emil Nolde by "Girl's Head."

A few of the American artists in the Kamperman collection are John Carroll and his wife Georgia, Charles Culver, Carlos Lopez, Liselotte Moser, Guy Palazzola, Sarkis Sarkisian, and Zoltan Sepeshy.

Two major bronzes in this collection are a thrusting figure, "The Avenger" by Ernst Barlach, and the introspective "Dancer" by George Kolbe, both 20th century German sculptors.

Among the drawings and prints are four etchings or dry-points by Pablo Picasso, including one of the great prints of this century, "The Frugal Repast." Other Europeans represented are Matisse, Renoir, Toulouse-Lautrec and Derain.

The Kamperman collection is on exhibition during regular summer hours at The Detroit Institute of Arts: 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday.

Yeoman 2/C Richard L. Bush, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald O. Bush, 31184 Schoolcraft, Livonia, has returned to Long Beach, Calif. after a nine-month deployment to the Western Pacific, while serving aboard the ocean-going minesweeper USS Energy.

The parade down Grand River Ave., will begin at 10:30 a.m. The Highlanders, a 35-piece bagpipe group, has been touring the United States and Canada since it was organized in 1935.

'Actor Prepares' Is Final Topic

"The Actor Prepares" is the sixth and last topic to be explored at the July 29 afternoon meeting of "Inside Show Business Today" from 2 to 3:30 on the Northland Playhouse stage. The weekly Green Room meetings are sponsored by the University of Detroit Repertory Theatre and the U of D Center for Continuing Education in conjunction with Northland Playhouse.

Included in the program of "The Actor Prepares" is comment by host of the series, Dick Osgood, of WXYZ. A reading of Hamlet's Advice to the Players and comments on the method system of acting by members of the acting troupe of the current Northland production will follow. All the programs in the Green Room series are followed by a question and answer period with audience participation. Tickets may be obtained at the door. Further information may be obtained by calling the U of D Center for Continuing Education at 342-1000.

The Pawnbroker Is Fine Socio-Realism

By ALLEN ROSENFELD

America has produced many fine socio-realistic dramas. The Pawnbroker is perhaps the best yet.

There is much in it that is reminiscent of "Knock On Any Door," "The Man With the Golden Arm," "Hat Full of Rain," and "The Cool World." But, by comparison, they were superficial—though accurate—recordings of life in the urban jungle world.

"The Pawnbroker" looks deeply, and produces some remarkable insights. There are few cliches, no heroes, and some unconventional villains.

The pawnbroker is a man whose better nature has been all but destroyed by his experiences in a German concentration camp. But having physically survived and come to Harlem, he finds himself similarly abused by a Negro gangster, his Caucasian muscle man, the Puerto Rican he has befriended, and the Puerto Rican's Negro and white friends.

In short, the theme is that man's inhumanity to his fellows is a universal failing and not restricted to any particular classification of people. A realization of this by all people may be a necessary first step toward a more tolerant world.

All of the performances are good. But Rod Steiger as the Pawnbroker, is unforgettable. He has the ability to completely lose himself in a role. What he becomes this time is a bitter, neurotic, but believable human being.

Plans for Penthouse Opening Set

Plans for the gala grand opening celebration of the Livonia Penthouse July 26 through 29 were announced Monday by Hugh Gedrich, owner and general manager.

The Livonia landmark at 31735 Plymouth Rd. was known until a few months ago as the Pen Mar Lounge. "We will stage two giant buffets daily, 3 to 6 p.m. and 10 to 12 p.m., at an astounding low price, in keeping with our recent successful promotion policy," Gedrich declared.

After several months of face lifting, successful promotions and upgrading, business at the Penthouse is now double what it was in January.

Gedrich told The Observer that "our 40 cent luncheon promotion in February (2,500 lunches in one week) was the most important step in our resurgence along with the splendid cooperation of our employees, who have improved the service."

A 35-year-old ex-marine, Gedrich grew up in Farmington. A graduate of Central High in Detroit, he has taken many courses in restaurant management at both MSU and Wayne State. He recently moved to Livonia and is becoming an active member of the community.

The Penthouse is open seven days a week and features businessmen's lunches, giant cocktails, and dancing every night.

Enrichment Course Opens Next Monday

Do you have a houseful of children this summer with time on their hands?

Looking for a solution which will attract your boys and girls and which will enrich their lives?

Jack Kirksey, director of Livonia's public elementary summer school activities, believes he may have the answer to this problem. A number of class vacancies exist in some of the enrichment classes offered in the summer school program, the last phase of which starts July 26. It runs through Aug. 6.

The art curriculum is designed to provide experience using a large variety of art media. The children work with clay, plaster of paris, water colors, charcoal, and many other materials. Their projects are creative and increase their skill appreciation of the art form. This program is available to children in kindergarten through the sixth grade.

The science project courses explore many of the wonders of science. The children have a chance to experiment with electricity, magnetism and other intriguing subject areas. The emphasis is on actually doing, rather than other approaches to learning. Children in the first through the sixth grade can sign up for these science courses.

Bus transportation is available for students to Rosedale School (Science) and to Grant School from 9 a.m. to 12 and 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. The children are in class from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

On USS Randolph

Firearm Apprentice Leonard J. Marsh Jr., USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard J. Marsh Sr., 20439 Beatrice, Livonia, is serving aboard the anti-submarine warfare support aircraft carrier USS Randolph, operating in the Mediterranean with the U. S. Sixth Fleet.

Mercy Sets Summer Play

George M. Cohan's "The Tavern," a satirical farce on the school of melodrama, will be presented by Summer Theatre Workshop participants at Mercy College of Detroit, July 29 through Aug. 1.

The Summer Theatre Workshop has been a practical experience for members who, from the first day of class, have been working on all areas of play production culminating in an opening night performance and a four-day run.

Adele Thomas of the Mercy music department will provide a "silent movie" piano background for hissing the villain and for curtain-raisers featuring "old-timey" songs and dances.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. in McAuley Auditorium.

Elisabeth Taylor and Richard Burton defy convention when they fall in love in the dramatic story of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Sandpiper." Eva Marie Saint plays the third member of a romantic triangle in the new Martin Ranshoff Production, directed by Vincent Minnelli and filmed in Panavision and color largely on locations in California's magnificent Big Sur country.

Now playing at the Mai Kai.

Plymouth Girl Takes Acting Class

Mary Arnold, of 40700 Joy Rd., Plymouth, was among the high school drama students of nine states who participated in the five-scene program that climaxed the annual Purdue University Workshop on July 16 and 17.

The program ended three weeks of intensive study and practice in acting technique and technical theater.

The 38 drama students constructed the scenery used on the productions as part of their stagecraft laboratory periods. Other activities during the three weeks included classes in fencing, modern dance, voice and diction, acting technique, make-up, stage building and painting and lighting practice.

Mary had the role of Mrs. Raiton-Bell in "Table Number Seven."

'CURTAIN
GOING UP'

"Is everybody happy?" and the haunting, melodic strains of "Some of These Days You're Gonna Miss Your Honey" will fill the Fisher Theater with nostalgia this week. Sophie Tucker and Ted Lewis headline a variety revue at the Fisher for one week.

Georgie Jessel, another fine performer and old-time star, will provide comedy routines for the variety bill. Too bad the producers couldn't have stayed with their original intent of having Joe E. Lewis, the king of cabaret circuit, appear with Tucker and Lewis.

What a memorable bill! It's one of these all time great combinations that only happen on that great big stage somewhere in the sky.

You go to the Roostertail, the Elmwood Casino, or the Copa in New York to see Jessel, Sophie Tucker, or Ted Lewis usually on the bill as a single. Their acts are strong enough by themselves. The tab for an evening at the local cabaret can get to 20 skins in a hurry.

Now for one week the Fisher Theater is giving $60, but wait, who can truly judge such a trio by mere dollars. Their talent means a real evening's entertainment. They are the last of the great vaudeville stars.

Jimmy Durante is of the same caliber. Most of these vaudeville giants are now well past retirement age, yet they continue to adhere to a traveling schedule that would tire a twirling teen-ager.

Some of the teens working in Livonia's first summer musical, "The Music Man" would, no doubt, take exception to that last statement. They have barrels of energy and are ready to prove it.

Roy Ernst, their musical leader, confirms that a large portion of the cast will be parading this coming Saturday at the Livonia Mall and the Wonderland shopping areas. The enthusiastic members of the cast want to show all area folks how good their up and coming musical really is.

You still have time to respond to one of the most generous offers to come down the turnpike: the 50 cent coupon found in this paper. You can redeem this coupon at either the Livonia Mall or Wonderland on Friday or Saturday. And would you believe it, the coupon is good for as many tickets as you would like to purchase.

Save 50 cents on every ticket right now by buying your advance ticket. Old Wally predicts that the tickets at the door are going to be as scarce as gofer dust.

Director Dave Hirvela informs me that all 500 air-conditioned seats will provide a restful, relaxing view of the Franklin High stage. The crazy antics of Professor Harold Hill and his companions in River City are coming to Livonia on July 29. Three performances are planned for each weekend. Be there in the audience when the show opens.

You'll be seeing the cast in colorful skimmers in and around the Livonia area. Those two wily producers, Ernst and Hirvela, have provided their cast members with special hats to advertise the coming of the musical on July 29. It's a promotional stunt in keeping with the theme of the show.

Someone as sly and clever as Professor Harold Hill would surely think up something so aggressive. Only proves that if you live and breathe a show long enough you end up operating like the main character. Let's hope they never decide to do the "King and I".

Two important shows loom on the Northland horizon: "Not

EMU Moliere Productions
Opens Tonite

One of the most amusing farces ever written, Moliere's sparkling "The Doctor in Spite of Himself," opens for four evening performances in the Quirk Outdoor Amphitheatre on the Eastern Michigan University campus tonight, July 21 at 8 p.m.

Moliere, often described as the George Bernard Shaw of France, returned in this play to applying the slapstick where it hurts most to one of his favorite subjects: the medical profession. He also returned to a dramatic form of which he is the ultimate master: the knockabout farce.

Employing as mouthpieces, stock characters reminiscent of the colorful Harlequins, Pantaloon and befuddled young lovers of the Italian commedia dell'arte Moliere proceeded to voice some surgically penetrating and just short of fatal digs at the ineptitudes of the doctors of the Seventeenth (and conceivably several others) Century.

This zany medicinal spoof, while celebrating its 299th birthday this year, is happily supplied with comedy as modern as The Three Stooges and as brilliantly inventive as Peter Sellers.

Tickets for this evening of outdoor antics for the entire family may be purchased at the Quirk Theatre Box Office weekdays from 12:30 to 5:30 p.m. Telephone reservations may be made by calling 482-3453 during box office hours.

Dan Dailey Featured in 'Anniversary Waltz'

Dan Dailey, veteran star of many motion pictures, stage and television shows, heads the cast of Northland Playhouse's current hit Broadway comedy presentation, the hilarious Jerome Chodorov-Joseph Fields "Anniversary Waltz," which racked up 615 performances in Manhattan.

Most of Dan Dailey's life has been spent in show business and he has appeared in practically every phase of the entertainment industry. His "show-biz" baptism was in a minstrel show at age six, followed by vaudeville.

He got his first break on Broadway in "Babes in Arms," which ran for a year. As the juvenile lead in "I Married an Angel," he attracted the attention of MGM talent scouts, which led to some 20-odd pictures for that studio, followed by some 20 more for 20th Century Fox, most starring opposite Betty Grable.

More recently he has appeared in Las Vegas, Miami and London with his own night club troupe in "Take Me Along," "High Button Shoes," "Guys and Dolls" and "Anniversary Waltz," shows in which he not only starred, but also directed.

"Anniversary Waltz" will be at Northland Playhouse through Sunday, July 25, followed by "Not Even in Spring," hit British comedy starring Maurice Evans and Celeste Holm, opening Tuesday, July 27.

On Saturday, July 24, at 2 p.m., the Northland Playhouse Children's Musical Theatre will present its third production, the famous fantasy "Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp."

Dems To Hold Picnic Aug. 8

Barbequed beef will be served at the annual Second Congressional District Democratic Picnic on Sunday, Aug. 8, from 12 noon on, at the Triple R Ranch near Adrian.

Among the honored guests will be Weston E. Vivian, United States Congressman from the Second Congressional District; Adelaide Hall, Vice Chairman of the State Democratic party; State Representative James Tierney; State Representative Charles Gray, and Secretary of State James Hare.

Honored at Princeton

Robert Waterston, 27630 Terrence, Livonia, was among the 98 members of the 1965 class of Princeton University to receive high honors. There were 748 graduates. Waterston received high honors in basic engineering.

AT GREENFIELD VILLAGE
Production of Almighty Dollar Is Hilarious

By SUE SHAUGHNESSY

"Almighty Dollar" joined the repertory of the American Drama Festival at Greenfield Village last weekend.

It is at the same time, a good play and a bad play; a good production and a bad production.

To paraphrase — "it is the best . . . and the worst."

The play itself is better than the previously opened "Fashion" because it is not nearly so wordy — it is worse because the dramatic structure of the play more than stretches the imagination—it breaks it.

A woman swooning at an old lover; letters that no one but the hero thinks to turn over to see if anything is written on the other side. Now really.

However, that's neither the fault of the producers of the American Drama Festival nor the actors. It's the fault of the author's — and/or the dramatic style of the late 19th century.

The production is funny. In fact, at times, it's hilarious. It also employs the acting style of the time, which is bad from a theatrical point of view and good historically.

Robert McKee, who appears as Charley Brood is excellent. In fact he steals the show. Somehow the characterization is too much, but he's lovable. You keep rooting for him and never give up — because after all, "good will win."

His sweetheart, Libby Ray, portrayed by Barbara Tarbuk is adequate and doesn't let Charley make off with all the scenes.

Warren Colston is the pompous congressman, The Hon. Bardwell Sloat. It seems to be a role for which he is admirably suited.

Alice Broder appears in this one as Mrs. General Giffory — another slightly vain and rather foolish old woman — as is her role in "Fashion." Her performance is polished and highly competent.

Between the four of them it is a high powered evening. Russell Paquette adds to the evening as the slightly greasy foreigner — Lord Cairngorn.

Arnold Kendall directed the production while Ted Payne is the producer of the Festival.

"Almighty Dollar" alternates in repertory with "Fashion," another "comedy" of the time. The two plays are joined Friday night by "Superstition," an early 19th century drama.

State Police Aide Retires After 25 Years

Nelson

Nelson, his wife Patricia, and three children are busy packing and expect to complete the move to the new home near Northville High School in another 10 days.

Bill was general chairman of Plymouth's Michigan Week program of a year ago that included dedication of the new City Hall and other events that brought the community to the attention of the entire state.

This year's celebration was equally as impressive thanks to planning and hard work by Nelson and committee chairmen, James Thomas, William Harding, Sid Strong, John Hoben John Kamego, John Wiltse Jr. and Rev. Peter Schweitzer.

Resignations from the committee were accepted by Mayor James Houk and members of the City Commission at Monday's meeting.

Many Quaker settlers originally settled in Farmington, giving rise to the nickname Quakertown. The Village of Quakertown today is west of the original settlement in Farmington Township.

Plan Appointment Splits Trustees

(Continued from Page 1) guard of Mrs. Holmes and then Trustees Norman and Sparks (the latter was later appointed Clerk) and the new look of McEwen, Lauterbach and Garber.

Judging from the vote and comment over this appointment, it appears as if the alliance is now McEwen, Sparks, Holmes and Garber with Lauterbach, Norman and Overholt as a second alignment.

As a point of interest, the Board has two members from the West and five from the East but appears to be able to handle the Township business without charges of favoritism.

In other actions, the Trustees:

Tabled action on the community recreation committee study pending a complete report on the activities of the planning consultants under the 701 program.

Accepted a recommendation from the Fire Administration for a method of appointing paid members to the Fire Department.

Approved underground sanitary sewer and water plans for Twin Arbor subdivision on recommendation of Township Engineer Herald Hamill.

Tabled a report from the Township Engineer on the southeast water project pending additional study.

Approved a lease with the C&O Railroad for $240 for 10 years for a right of way for the water mains under the tracks at the north end of Ridgewood Road.

Tabled plans for installation of air conditioning and new counters in the Township Hall until new estimates can be secured. The first estimates on the projects were far out of reach of the Board, going far above the budget appropriations. The Board allotted $1,500 for air conditioning and $2,500 for the counters and the estimates came in at $2,600 plus tax and $5,563 plus tax respectively on the jobs.

Approved reappointments of three members of the Heating Board for terms to expire on July 13, 1968. The trio includes: Russell Ash, Robert Spayth and Robert Erdelyi.

Tabled a communication from the Fire Administration Board requesting an examination for the position of fire fighter in order to build up a Civil Service list of eligibles. The matter was tabled pending a joint session between the Fire Ad Board, the Civil Service Commission and the Trustees before the end of the month.

Approved a request from DPW Supt. Matt McLellan for sewer bucketing equipment. McLellan stressed the need of two pieces of equipment which can be purchased on a rental basis with an option to buy. McLellan reported he has a firm commitment on a price quoted two years ago when the Township purchased other types of sewer equipment.

Passed a resolution requesting the Wayne County Road Commission to pay a $19,875 interest payment from $31,295 they are now holding.

Approved a bid of $2,377 from Leo Calhoun Ford Agency for a van-type cab-over truck that can be used by the water department for transportation of meters and other types of equipment. The action was taken after a recommendation from DPW Supt. McLellan urging the acceptance.

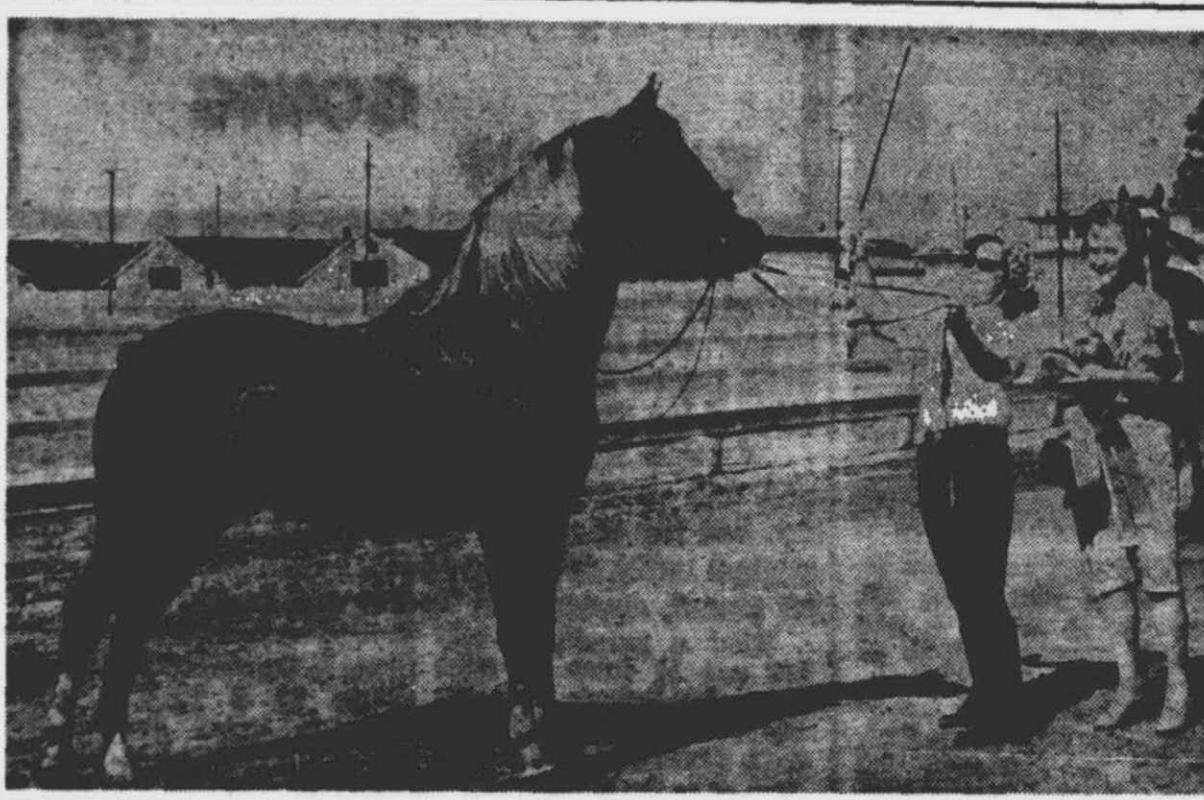

Wayne-Macomb GOP List Bob-Lo Outing

The fifth annual Wayne and Macomb County Republican moonlight cruise to Bob-Lo is being planned for Thursday, Aug. 12, according to co-chairmen Milton Kolarov, of Wayne, and Fred C. Adams, of Highland Park.

The boat will leave the Bob-Lo pier at the foot of Woodward at 8:30 p.m., returning around midnight.

Interested persons from the Plymouth-Northville area can obtain tickets by calling Mrs. R. L. Jacobus, District Chairman for Wayne II, at GL 3-5543.

Central Michigan University's swimming teams of 1955, 1956 and 1957 did not lose a dual meet, winning 32 straight during Leo Wisneski's first three years as coach.

dissatisfaction with a report from Assistant Police Chief Loren Johnson on the police department and asked for a more complete report on traffic conditions and problems of reckless and speeding drivers in certain areas of the city.

In his report to Acting City Manager Kenneth Fisher, Johnson explained the problems of the police department, pointing out that the city had a population growth of 3,000 in the past 10 years but the police force hadn't grown in the same proportion.

He recommended that the City Commission provide the funds to employ four additional police officers including an Investigator-Youth Officer.

Vallier requested a supplementary report and Commissioner James McKeon requested additional information on the effect of the recently passed drive-in ordinance.

While this verbal hassle was going on, Dean Manley, 1260 Linden, asked for and received permission to address the Commission. Manley was spokesman for a Hough Subdivision group that appeared before the Council two weeks ago deploring the speeding and reckless driving in that neighborhood, and asking the Commission to think in terms of increasing the size of the police force.

Manley had a copy of a report and recommendation made by Johnson to former City Manager Albert Glassford in 1964 and pointed out to the Council that it was identical to that turned in Monday night with three minor changes.

"We do not feel that this is a report of our situation," he said, "We are much disturbed that no more time was put in on this study and feel that this shouldn't be considered as a report on our complaints."

His words were backed by William Cronk, 1231 Linden, who told the Commission, "We expected a study and all we got was a rehash of 1964. I personally am not content to pay the taxes I am paying and getting such action."

"I feel this study deserves the attention of an expert and the city should go outside and have a study and report from qualified experts."

Mayor James Houk promised the Commission would give the matter full attention at a committee-of-the-whole meeting to be held in the near future.

In other actions, the Commission:

Accepted with regrets the resignation of William Nelson from the Housing Commission and the Plymouth Tomorrow Committees. Mayor Houk delayed filling the vacancies pending a study of likely candidates.

Authorized the consulting engineers, Johnson and Anderson, to prepare plans for widening Ann Arbor Trail from Pennington to Hamilton, and for the widening of both side of Main Street from Ann Arbor Trail to Wing.

Heard a report from DPW Supt. Joseph Bida that the widening of the east side of Main Street, particularly the section opposite from the Mayflower Hotel, may be delayed as much as a month by demands of the utility companies for prints before starting the task of moving electrical lines and power and telephone poles.

Approved a contract for $5,975 to Thompson and McCulley for resurfacing Ann Arbor Trail from Pennington to Hamilton.

Deferred hearing a report on apartment building inspections until Aug. 16 when Assistant Fire Chief George Schoeneman and Building Inspector Charles Thompson will be available to make a joint report.

Referred back to City Attorney Edward Draugelis a report on an agreement with Thomas Cape, reached Nov. 16, on a Byron Street improvement for his apartment buildings.

Plymouth Twp. Board Sets Policy on Sick Leave

Plymouth Township employees, excluding Fire Department personnel, are entitled to a total of 30 days sick leave, accumulated on the basis of one day for each completed month of service. That was the decision of the Township Board in its July meeting when it reviewed and adopted a firm policy on sick leave.

The rules and regulations provide that an employee shall not be entitled to use sick leave until the completion of six calendar months of continuous full or part-time service except in cases of injury incurred in the line of duty.

An employee may utilize his or her sick leave allowance for absences under the following regulations.

1—Due to personal illness or physical incapacity caused by factors over which the employee has no immediate control.

2—Necessitated by exposure to contagious disease which could endanger the health of others by his or her attendance on duty.

3—Due to illness of a member of his immediate family who requires his or her personal attention and care, not exceeding five sick leave days in any one year.

4—Due to a death in the immediate family, not exceeding three sick leave days at any one time.

5—An employee who has been employed continuously during one year and who has not taken more than five sick leave days in any one year shall be granted an additional two days of vacation.

6—Sick leave shall be taken on a five and a half day work week basis. Holidays falling within a period of sick leave shall not be counted as work days.

7—Any loss of time by reasons of illness due to pregnancy or childbirth shall not be compensable.

The Supervisor or department head may grant sick leave without approval of the Township Board for periods of illness not exceeding 30 calendar days. All requests for sick leave for more than 30 calendar days shall be submitted to the Township Board and must be accompanied by a physician's certificate supporting the request.

Garbage Problem

Hornback's statements caused a bit of a stir among the Trustees, especially after Board Member Louis Norman told them the dump operator had indicated the present site would be completely used within three years.

At the present time, the Dial Trucking Co. owns the land but has an agreement with the Township Board that township citizens can dump rubbish provided they bring it themselves along with a tag from the Township Hall.

"Actually, we have nothing to say about the operation of the dump except that it must follow the ordinances to the letter," said Supervisor John McEwen in answering the Hornbacks.

"It is a privately owned dump and we have arrangements with the owners allowing citizens to dump rubbish free of charge with presentation of a Township tag, other than that we have no authority."

McEwen told the Hornbacks he would go to the dump to talk to the operators within a week and see if a change could be made in the disposal program to give the rubbish and garbage collectors some relief from their problem.

Meanwhile, McEwen and his colleagues are now aware that the Township will be without a dump in three years — they must solve the problem before that time.

The disposal problem appears to be a common complaint at all communities in the area. Redford Township faces the same situation as Plymouth Township; Farmington had a similar problem less than a year ago.

The City of Plymouth has a 40 acre site in Salem Township but even that isn't expected to suffice for any great period of time.

That's why Plymouth Township's Trustees are beginning to think in terms of an Incinerator Authority that could include as many as 10 or 12 communities. It's something that's still in the future but for the Township that future is just about three years in length.

Twp. Clarifies Code for Vacations

The Plymouth Township Board took steps to clarify and firm its vacation policy for all fulltime employees, other than Fire Department personnel by revising the regulations that have been in vogue for some time.

The revised policy is as follows:

All fulltime employees, other than Fire Department employees, shall be entitled to vacation time with pay computed at straight time rates in accordance with these regulations.

1—The number of vacation days to be granted shall be 11 days per calendar year.

2—Employees must take their vacations during the calendar year, no accumulation will be permitted unless approved by the Township Board of Trustees.

3—The regular work week for all employees shall be 40 hours from Monday through Saturday—2,080 hours per year.

4—All employees shall be entitled to vacation time with pay after one year of continuous service.

5—Vacations shall be taken upon a five and a half-days per week basis. Holidays falling within a vacation period shall not be counted as work days.

DPW News And Notes

By Supt. JOSEPH BIDA
Blacktopping of S. Harvey from M-14 to Wing has been completed but the cleanup has still to be finished. The binder has been put in on the following streets: Penniman, Forest, Wing, Union and Church. The topping should be started this week.

The Dutch Elm survey has been completed and the word is anything but good for the community. There are more than 20 trees on public property that will be removed and at least 200 on private land that should be treated according to information from the state survey crew.

DPW crews started work on the stabilization of streets this week. Herald from Maple to Wing and Linden from Main to McKinley will be first on the list. Workmen will begin the task of removing tagged trees on city property.

Crews have been busy sweeping the downtown business district, mowing and trimming at Riverside Cemetery where they handled one funeral. Work was continued on the playgrounds.

A catch basin was repaired on Forest, one relocated on the south side of Liberty at Starkweather and one moved on Liberty on the south side of the street between Starkweather and Mill Streets. Another was removed and replaced on Arthur and the curb replaced at the same location.

Widening plans are being reviewed for work on Ann Arbor Trail from Gaffield's Studio to Hamilton on the north side only. The curb will be removed and replaced with new asphalt curbing. Widening is being considered on S. Main from Ann Arbor Trail to Maple on the east side of the street.
