Wheel Trueing to Build in Industrial Park

Two Cab Companies Split Permits

Plymouth's City Commission finally reached a decision on the controversial taxi license problem by issuing five permits to each of two companies, assuring residents of service from two sources instead of one as in the past.

Although representatives of Checker Cab, which sought to retain the eight licenses it has had for the past three years, warned that the city isn't large enough to support two outlets, the Commission chose to ignore the warning and decided to give two companies a chance to satisfy Plymouth residents. At the same meeting on Monday, the Commission learned that Wheel Trueing Corp. will pick up its option to buy land in the Industrial Park on Plymouth Road and plans construction of a 32,000 square foot building. The work will start as soon as possible, according to Wheel Trueing President Harold Robinson who attended the meeting along with officials of the company.

"We realize that this matter has been dragging for a long time but we were involved in legal matters after the death of one of our top executives," he said, "And it was only a few days ago that we finally could make the decision to construct the Plymouth plant." Robinson told the Commissioners the company will have an estimated 150 employees at the start but anticipates building up that total within a short time. "Many of these workers will come from the area," he said, "We anticipate some of the employees of our plant on Davison in Detroit shifting to Plymouth but there will be many who will find employment in the area of their homes." Robinson was given an additional 60 days to start construction but thought the work would start well in advance of that time. The Wheel Trueing site is the last available land in the Industrial Park.

The Commission also approved vacating the alley in the rear of the Allison Chevrolet agency over the protests of property owners of the area. The area is bounded by Amelia, Blanche, Starkweather and Stark.

William Fehlig, who owns property in the section, filed a long letter of complaints against the vacating procedure. After considerable discussion, Mayor James Houk asked for a roll call on the matter and it passed by a 5-2 vote.

Getting back to the taxi problem, the Commission voted to allot five permits to the Plymouth Cab Co., a new organization headed by John Florence, and five to the Checker Cab Co.

This action came after lengthy debate which was climaxed by a plea by Commissioner George Lawton for free enterprise and not a monopoly and the granting of permits for each of the companies.

Earlier Commissioner George Hudson made a motion to give all eight licenses to Checker Cab but it was voted down. Hudson's stand was backed by Commissioner Vallier who Has JAR Given Up Court Suit?

JAR Corporation, a real estate firm which termed the Plymouth Township zoning ordinance illegal and unconstitutional and started a court suit to prove its point, apparently has had a change in heart.

That was apparent a week ago when JAR made a request for rezoning of its acreage adjacent to Woodlone subdivision for half-acre lots be placed on the agenda of the Township Planning Commission.

It was this same sort of zoning that JAR rejected earlier when its representatives stamped the Planning Board actions as "illegal." That was when JAR was adamant in a demand that it be allowed to use 90-foot lots and the Commission was just as adamant that it would allow half-acre and nothing smaller.

JAR had the case in Circuit Court and asked for one delay after another when the court dates came up.

Then came the opinion of the State Supreme Court upholding the rights of the governmental units to set up zoning ordinances. An opinion that made the Planning Commission and Township Board smell like a rose.

The sweet odors must have struck the noses of JAR officials, either that or they realized that the Supreme Court ruling was a bit too much to fight. So, it appears as if the firm has given up the fight and will not be content to use half-acre lots.

The matter was tabled by the Planning Commission at its last meeting when representatives of JAR failed to appear. There is a strong possibility that they will have someone on hand at the August meeting.

Colorful Sidewalk Sales Open Friday

With a carnival theme, Plymouth's annual carnival of bargains, built around the traditional August sidewalk sale, will take place on Friday and Saturday when merchants fill the sidewalks in front of their stores with racks and racks of unusual offerings on a first come, first served basis.

The sidewalk sale is always one of the most colorful merchandising events in the Plymouth community and finds practically all of the stores in the downtown business section joining and participating by having their salesmen and sale clerks attired in costumes that fit in with the theme of the two-day event.

Straw toppers, colorful blazers, dresses and bonnets of the period around the turn of the century — they'll all be on display in the downtown stores and there'll be hundreds of bargains for shoppers throughout the two days.

Don Zander, chairman of the Retail Merchants division of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce which is sponsoring the event, indicated the stores will be open until 9 p.m. Friday night and until 6 p.m. on Saturday.

And to add to the color, there'll be an old-fashioned popcorn stand in Kellogg Park along with displays and offerings from several merchants on the fringe area of the business community. Several tents will be erected on the Main Street side of Kellogg Park for those planning to set up for business during the sale.

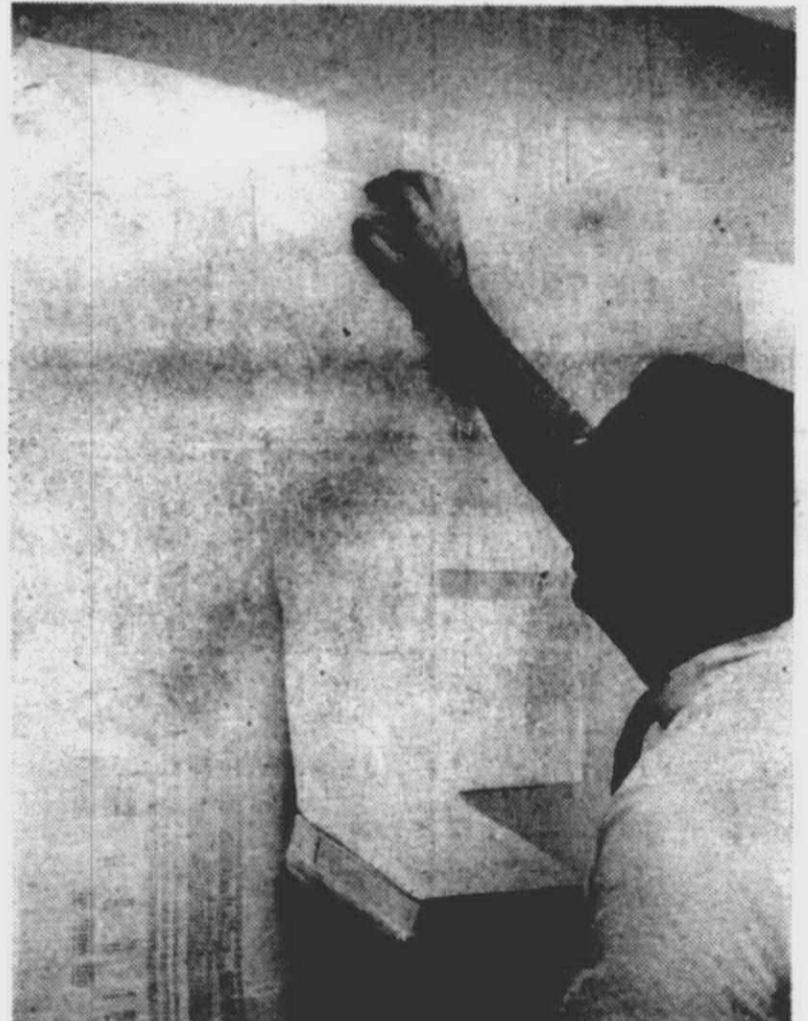

The Plymouth Community band will present its final concert of the summer season Friday night at 8 p.m. in the portable band shell in Kellogg Park to add a bit of music to the event. Raymond Young, of Ann Arbor, rated as one of the top euphonium players in the nation, will highlight the concert.

"The sidewalk sale is traditionally one of the major events of the summer in the community," explained Zander. "We are taking every step possible to make this the biggest and best in history and expect hundreds of bargain seekers to jam the business section on each of the two days."

So, if you're seeking bargains, ones that you can pick out yourself on the sidewalk shelves, then get downtown bright and early on each of the two days — there'll be plenty on both days since most merchants plan to split their offerings between the two days.

Then, with the sidewalk sale out of the way, all leaders of the community will concentrate their efforts on the annual Fall Festival which is just a little more than a month away.

Builder In Hot Water Once More

Tom Cape, who has one apartment building completed on Byron Street and would like to start another, ran into another snag Monday in an appearance before the City Commission. Cape, who manages to get into hot water more than any other builder to appear before the Commission, became involved in a hot debate with Commissioner Arch Vallier after it was pointed out that he had illegally paved the street in front of his development.

Cape asked permission to discuss possibilities of getting permission to start construction on the second unit of his development.

Listed for $4 Million Storm Sewer Grant

Plymouth Township is being considered for a $4 million federal grant for storm water sewers and storm water drains to prevent floods and eliminate public health hazards under the provisions of a new Federal Public Works act.

That was the announcement of Wayne County Drain Commissioner Henry Herrick to Supervisor John McEwen after sending a communication to Senator Patrick McNamara indicating areas that needed financial assistance.

Herrick recommended $5 million for Livonia, $3.5 million for Redford Township, $6 million for Nankin Township and Garden City and $4 million for Plymouth Township.

Mrs. Joseph Fletcher Killed in Car Crash

Apparently rushing to fill an appointment in Ann Arbor, Mrs. Bernice Fletcher, 32, of 12176 Amherst Court, Plymouth, was killed instantly when her speeding car struck a truck broadside on Plymouth Road, west of U.S. 23, outside of Ann Arbor shortly after 9 a.m. Monday morning.

Mrs. Fletcher was the wife of Joseph Fletcher, immediate past president of the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce and long one of the leaders in activities of that organization.

Reports of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department show that Mrs. Fletcher, traveling at a high rate of speed, had just passed a large truck when she smashed into the second truck coming out of the driveway at Bolgos Dairy.

Sheriff's deputies reported that both the Fletcher car and the truck were completely demolished.

The truck, driven by Chester Wojtowicz, of 6874 Edgetown, Detroit, was owned by Michigan Carbonic Co., of 18275 Weaver, in Detroit.

Mrs. Fletcher was rushed to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor but was pronounced dead on arrival.

Services were conducted in the Schrader Funeral Home Tuesday night and then the body was shipped to Bound Brook,

N.J., for services and burial on Thursday.

Mrs. Fletcher was born June 29, 1933 in Bound Brook, N.J., a daughter of John and Gertrude Winseman Appar. She had moved to the community in 1959 from Cleveland with her husband and family. She was a member of the First United Presbyterian Church of Plymouth.

Surviving are her husband, Joseph; three children, Pamela, Scott and Kelly at home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Appar of Bound Brook, N.J., and two brothers, Jack of Somerville, N.J., and Irving of Westfield, N.J.

ON THE JOB for the first time is Plymouth's new City Manager Richard Blodgett (right) who is shown discussing the agenda for his first council meeting with Finance Officer Kenneth Way, who was serving as his assistant for the meeting in the absence of Kenneth Fisher.

RAYMOND YOUNG, nationally known as a soloist on the euphonium, will headline the final band concert of the Plymouth Community Band Friday at 8 p.m. in Kellogg Park. He will play two solos accompanied by the band, including "Beautiful Colorado," and "Ballad for Evening." He received his bachelor's and master's degrees in Music from the University of Michigan but currently is an assistant professor of brass and associate director of bands at the University of Southern Mississippi. SISTER M. AMABILIS, CSSF, helps the students place moveable musical notes on small sheets during a "singing-playing" session. These are some of the 32 youngsters enrolled in a summer workshop for gifted children at St. Michael's School in Livonia.

Gifted Children Workshop Makes Tremendous Hit

Have you ever heard a group untrained of nine and ten-year-olds sing "Little Liza Jane" so that you not could only understand the words, but follow the melody?

Up until last week we had not, but after a three weeks of a workshop at St. Michael's School in Livonia 32 youngsters from Livonia, Redford Township, Detroit and Dearborn were not only singing loud and clear, but playing tunes—old and new—on a variety of instruments. They were also translating their ideas and impressions onto canvas and through sculpture.

The four week workshop exploring new approaches to the teaching of gifted children is under the sponsorship of Madonna College.

Two Felician nuns, Sister Mary Amabilis, CSSF, and Sister M. Aloysius, CSSF, are teaching the youngsters.

In addition to exposing the children to music and art the course also emphasizes literature.

Sister Amabilis explained that "The daily situation of a classroom does not meet nor satisfy the curiosity of the gifted child. But the time a child is ten his potential in the line of the arts should be discovered and well on its way to development.

"In the workshop we hope to challenge and stimulate these youngsters to capacity. Heredity and environment go hand in hand in the production of talent; and aptitude for the arts is necessary, but the child needs the help of parents and teachers in order to develop this talent.

"However," she cautions, "the program is not just a talent hunt. Our objective is to expose gifted children to the arts so that each may become a more fully experienced and cultured person so that later in life he may seek to renew these experiences of aesthetic beauty and inner satisfaction on his own."

Sister Amabilis, who holds a master's degree from Wayne State University, teaches the children about the wonders of music.

She has taken children, some with no musical training, taught how to read music, play a variety of instruments, enjoy good music through the use of recordings, and encouraged them to make up their own tunes on a huge musical sheet on the floor of one of the classrooms.

The youngsters arrange the notes in any way they wish on the sheet and then play it on the instruments.

On the graphic art side, Sister Aloysius, who holds a MA from Catholic University, helps the children express themselves with crayons, paints, sculpture and a variety of other media.

The children express themselves three dimensionally and are attempting to do puppetry.

Stained glass windows, a puppet theatre, drawings and pieces of sculpture adorn this room.

On the lawn between the school and the parish's activity building easels are set up while the budding artists translate their interpretation of what they see to canvas.

Both teachers correlate their fields with literature using books acquired from the Livonia Library and the University of Michigan Library.

The program closes July 30. Parent's and cooperating principals from the schools (each child was recommended for the program by his principal) are expected to visit the last session to view the results.

Dr. James Watt Opens Office

His office hours are by appointment Monday through Saturday. Dr. Watt may be contacted at his office phone 278-0080.

An Army veteran, he spent 14 months on duty in Hawaii.

Dr. Watt and his wife, Joan, have no children.

COLONIAL LOOK is being given to the DSI buildings on Union Street and this shows crews of workers from the Stewart Oldford and Sons Co., placing the three pillars in front of the office building. The new look is the final work on the $400,000 expansion program at the plant, according to President William Scott. The work will be completed within a month and then the front will give Plymouth its first industrial plant with a colonial appearance.

Joins Staff At College

Russell Bogarin, a counselor at Lincoln Consolidated Laboratory School in Ypsilanti, has joined the faculty of Schoolcraft College as Counselor and Director of Student Placement.

That was the announcement Monday by Dr. Eric Bradner, President of the college, who stated that Bogarin will be contacting industry and business of the college district to find what job opportunities are available.

To Test Middle Rouge for Pollution

Rep. Richard A. Young announced from Lansing that after consultation with the Water Resources Commission of the State, Gerald Remus of Wayne County Public Works Department, that the Middle Rouge River be tested for pollution content beginning in August.

This river, which passes through the western suburban communities of western Wayne County, has great potential as being an attraction to canoeists, fishermen, and nature lovers.

It has great value as a natural resource but in its present state of pollution it is impossible to use as nature intended.

Anyone who is interested in attending meetings or actively participating in the study of this problem is urged to contact Rep. Young by writing to him at the Capitol Building, Lansing.

Rev. Eddy Defends Stand; Made Proposals Year Ago

Editor: One of my responsibilities as a Unitarian Universalist minister is to analyze, current problems in the light of ethical principle and to offer suggestions for solutions.

Over a year ago in a series of three sermons I discussed three problems related to sex: adolescent promiscuity, homosexuality and adultery. The first of these sermons was summarized by the Free Press, when I delivered it again in a Wednesday evening service this spring.

In response to that summary, and without troubling to obtain a copy of the sermon which had been available for a year, some citizens of Farmington have questioned my moral fitness to serve as Chairman of the Greater Farmington Youth Guidance Committee.

That my proposals are controversial I am willing to admit. But that these views make me unfit to serve the youth of my community I emphatically deny.

The problem is promiscuity. Instead of viewing sex as a beautiful and powerful language for the expression of the deepest kind of love, many teenagers view it simply as a form of entertainment, amoral "as long as no one gets hurt."

With the easy availability of contraceptives and the ever present sexual stimulation of popular entertainment, many young people are falling into a tragic pattern of casual promiscuity. I wish to stop this trend. However, since newspaper readers must read on the run what newspapermen must write on the run my position has ironically become reversed in the public mind.

I am sure many of your readers mistakenly believe I advocate promiscuity. Of course I do not. But I do think we should recognize that neither present law nor present custom seems to be preventing the degeneration of sexual responsibility among teenagers.

I made an analysis of the problem and a proposal. I have tried to find a way to summarize that proposal in a few words but can find no way that would not invite further misunderstanding. Those who really want to know can obtain a copy of the sermon by sending 25 cents to 23604 Warner, Farmington.

As for my resignation: if it is offered it will be because of the harm irresponsible people can do the committee by viciously and unjustly attacking the Chairman. I am sure those who have taken the trouble to know me have no doubt as to my moral fitness. Those who would pillory a man without thorough investigation and who would endanger the hard working efforts of the delinquency fighting committee, deserve pity and nothing more.

AAUW of Farmington Grants Scholarships

The Farmington Branch of the American Association of University Women has sent a gift of $500 to its Fellowship Fund for International Awards. These awards are made to women of other countries to provide advanced training for women of outstanding ability who may be expected to give constructive leadership in their home countries upon their return. This year fellowships have been awarded by AAUW to 96 women scholars from the United States and 31 other countries. The awards amount to approximately $300,000.

In making the announcement the Fellowships Chairman, Mrs. M. Sacid Ozker (29861 Woodbrook, Farmington), said the award this year was named for Gwendolyn Constable Grinager as a tribute to her interest in the Farmington Branch since its inception. Mrs. R. M. Grinager (28810 Halsted Road, Farmington), a charter member, is a past president of the Farmington Branch and has served on committees at the State level. She is a graduate of Hamline University in Minnesota. Besides being active in the American Association of University Women, Mrs. Grinager is a member of the Friends of the Library, Farmington Historical Society, and the League of Women Voters.

Fellowships Chairman, Mrs. Ozker, also announced that besides the gift of $500 to the Fellowship Fund for International stipends, $260.53 was given to the Fellowship Fund as undesignated funds, and a check for $84.50 has been given to the Farmington Library.

Funds given to the Fellowship Fund and the Farmington Library are raised by the annual Used Book Sale. The dates for the 1965 book sale have been set for September 23, 24 and 25. Members of the Farmington Branch are now collecting used books for this sale. Anyone wishing to contribute books for the sale may deposit them in the Book Sale Box at the Farmington Library or call Mrs. Robert Simanek (474-7532) who will pick them up. White elephants are also sold at the sale.

To contribute items of this sort, call Mrs. John Allen (474-2563) who will pick them up.

(Questions on Hairstyles And Beauty)

(Questions on hair style and beauty will be answered through this column by addressing your letters to this newspaper. Letters do not have to be identified.)

One can scarcely believe that only a few short months ago mountains of snow enveloped and plagued us. And this too has passed; now summer is here in full splendor. The beauty of the sun's rays penetrating the foliage and blossoms are breathtaking. But in spite of its glories, this season has its shortcomings too.

As the greens need moisture and care to keep up their wondrous beauty — so do women need special attention to avoid the season's maladies such as dry skin, scalp and sun-streaked hair. Questions come to me every day concerning these common problems:

Today's woman can skillfully manage a household, an office or anything else she puts her mind to. She is capable of being a leader in the event of family or financial crisis, and to perform many tasks too numerous to mention — all in a day's work. "She appears a true goddess in her walk" — but she doesn't know why her hair is dry or why her nails are broken and brittle or why her skin is shriveling.

If you are exposed to the sun for prolonged periods, try wearing a snappy sun hat. They're being made so attractive these days. If the damage is already done, there are several good hair conditioners available. But above all — do avoid further exposure.

And your skin? Does it feel tight, itchy and dry? Then you must use a moisturizing lotion and not an oil. This will be soothing and relieve dryness, and generally makes you feel good all over.

It is obvious that summer creates havoc with your hair skin. It is much less obvious — but equally true — that the season's heat presents problems for your nails as well. Exposure to heat may arouse allergies in some sensitive individuals. If you have tried all of the available products, but have found them ineffective, then do consider a possible allergy. The Allergy Foundation estimates that some 30 million Americans suffer from some kind of food, drug, biological or chemical allergy. And believe it or not, brittle nails are many times indicative of an existing allergy.

Miss Michigan State Fair will be crowned on Thursday evening, Sept. 2, in the Music Shell. The fair runs from Aug. 27 through Sept. 6.

The bride wore a white pique dress for her wedding. Her headpiece was a lace mantilla and she carried a cascade bouquet of white rosebuds and stephanotis and ivy.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Stuyvenberg chose a pink lace cocktail length dress. Mrs. Wilson wore a blue cocktail length dress with a beaded bodice.

Following the reception at The Round Table Club the newlyweds left for a wedding trip to California. They will reside in Glendale, California.

The bride is a graduate of Seaholm High School in Birmingham, while her husband graduated from Plymouth High School in 1965.

Donna Janowitz Weds Charles Gregory Galla

Donna Marie Janowitz and Charles Gregory Galla, Jr. were united in marriage June 26 at St. Genevieve Roman Catholic Church. Rev. Ferdinand Wolber performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Janowitz of Detroit, while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Galla, Sr.

For her marriage the new Mrs. Galla wore a three tiered gown of chantilly lace over silk organza with a sweetheart neck. She carried three dozen pale yellow roses with baby breath.

Charlene Galla served as the maid of honor. Her gown was white lace over pink taffeta with large bow hat matching a large bow at the waist. She carried a nosegay of pink sweetheart roses and pink and white bachelor buttons.

The attendants were Cheryl Galla; Bev Janowitz; Gail Burcar; and Linda Lindquist.

They wore gowns of white lace over blue taffeta and carried nosegays of pink sweetheart roses and blue bachelor buttons.

Alfred Mason served as best man, while Wayne Fischer, Ken Janowitz, Don Janowitz, Jim Troher and Larry Heal acted as the groomsmen. Donna Janowitz served as the ring bearer.

A reception for 250 guests was held at the IOOF Hall. Friends and relatives from Ohio, Florida, Chicago and the northern part of Michigan attended. Mrs. Freida Dowe, grandmother of the bridegroom, came from Cleveland for the occasion. The bride is a graduate of Henry Ford High, while her husband graduated from Bentley High School.

Following a honeymoon in Canada, the newlyweds will reside in Livonia.

Television personalities from children's show will perform for young visitors to the Michigan State Fair Aug. 27 through Sept. 6.

Northville's Dr. Brown Retires

Northville State Hospital's "A" Building Cafeteria was the setting, Thursday, July 8, for the gathering of over 300 employees, professional friends, and volunteers, who honored the retirement of Dr. Philip N. Brown, as the hospital's Medical Superintendent.

During the buffet dinner, Charles Wagg of Lansing, former Executive Secretary of the State Mental Health Commission and presently a consultant to the State Mental Health Department, served as toastmaster, while Dr. Robert A. Kimmich, the Department's Medical Director, represented Governor George A. Romney.

Dr. O. R. Yoder, former Superintendent of Ypsilanti State Hospital, was the main speaker. He could speak with authority about Dr. Brown's many years of service to the State Mental Health program for Dr. Brown had served on the staff of the Ypsilanti facility for 16 years before he was named superintendent of Northville State Hospital in December of 1950.

Then Wagg called upon Mrs.

Wanna Thomas, 9960 Hemingway Avenue, Redford Township, chairman of the hospital's Red Cross Gray Ladies, as a representative of all of the hospital's 450 volunteers. Mrs. Thomas cited Dr. Brown's many years of interest in and encouragement of Northville State Hospital's Volunteer Program.

She then read the words of the plaque of appreciation which she presented to him:

We, the Volunteers of Northville State Hospital, are proud to present you with this scroll.

We salute a man of great compassion, integrity and tremendous perseverance — a man with an extensive knowledge surpassing wisdom.

His place has become an honor for his successor to fill.

It has been a privilege for each of us to share with him one of Michigan's towering efforts in behalf of our mentally ill.

Subsequently, Dr. J. J. Miller, the hospital's Clinical Director, presented to the honored retiree a 20 gauge shotgun. This presentation piece was a gift from all those attending the luncheon.

A portrait of Dr. Brown was unveiled by the Assistant Superintendent, Richard J. Lilly, M.D. This portrait, painted by Gunnar George of Birmingham, will be hung in the hospital's lobby.

Rare Disease Claims Life of Bethnie Rice

Two year old Bethnie Ann Rice died July 25 at her home in Clio.

Bethnie was afflicted with a rare disease, metachromatic leucodystrophy, which affects the nervous system.

On Oct. 28, 1964 the Observer carried a story telling about the child and carrying a plea of cards to help amuse her.

The girl's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gorte of 33935 Hathaway, Livonia, wanted to thank all the area residents who responded to that plea.

"The response to the call was terrific," said Mrs. Gorte. "The cards helped to make Bethnie Ann's last months more pleasant for her and easier for her family."

Two brothers of Bethnie Ann's had preceded her in death caused by the same disease.

The Rice's have two other sons, Daniel, 6, and Burth, 17 months.

Attention girls who will be entering the fourth grade next fall in the Lincoln School area. Mrs. Nancy Tuttle is forming a new Camp Fire group and can take a few more girls. Anyone interested in the group may call her at GA 7-4303.

Grant School will need leaders for one Blue Bird group and one Camp Fire group. Anyone who would be interested in helping these girls please contact Mrs. Lavonne Johnson at GA 1-4022.

Mrs. Tuttle is a former Camp Fire Girl, who has two preschoolers but not girls of Camp Fire age, so you can see it is not necessary to have a daughter in a group in order to be a leader.

If you have a Camp Fire Girl, if all your children are boys, or if you have time on your hands and would like to do something that is satisfying and fun, volunteer as a Camp Fire leader.

Both attended schools in Livonia, Judy at Franklin High School and Billy graduated with the class of 1962 from Bentley.

Cindy Lu Evey Marries

Donald D. Ketcham July 17

Cindy Lu Evey and Donald Dennis Ketcham repeated their marriage vows at the First Presbyterian Church in Plymouth on July 17. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Henry Walch.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl O. Evey of Berkley, formerly of Plymouth, while Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ketcham of Kalamazoo are the bridegroom's parents. July 17 was the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Evey.

MRS. KETCHAM

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white silk organza fashioned with a portrait neckline edged in chantilly lace and a detachable chapel train. A cluster of white satin lilies trimmed with seed pearls and brilliants secured the finger tip length veil of silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis, white daisies and miniature carnations.

Mrs. Norman Obert of Detroit served as matron of honor, while the bridesmaids were Diane Ketcham of Kalamazoo; Susan Eckrich of Fort Wayne, Indiana; Maureen McCulley of Jackson; and Stephanie Jane Webb of Long Beach, California, a junior bridesmaid.

They wore identical floor length gowns of yellow dotted swiss fashioned with a fitted bodice, long sleeves and bell shaped skirts. Miss Webb's dress, also in yellow dotted swiss, was fashioned with a low waist with three tiers of ruffles and a white organdy bustle. They carried white baskets of yellow and white daisies.

Gary Draison of Royal Oak was the best man. Gary Gauthier and Tom Moyer of Kalamazoo seated the guests. Following a reception at the Mayflower Post Home, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon at Niagara Falls. They will reside in South Bend, Indiana.

Mrs. Ketcham graduated from St. Joseph's Academy in Adrian and attended Central Michigan University. Her husband is a graduate of Central Michigan.

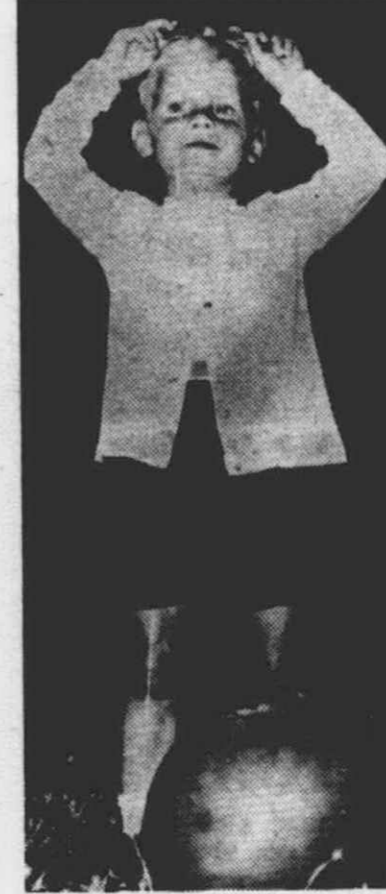

Founders' Festival (100 Years) to Young Farmington

RICHARD HENDRIAN is just two and he is trying to blow up his own balloon at the bar-b-que.

ONE YEAR OLD, David Allen Witt finds contentment with a pretzel at the city park during the festivities.

YOU CAN DO A million things with a balloon and a piece of string as Courtney Stranz demonstrates.

WHERE DID IT GO? This is the question two year old Scott Hill ponders as his balloon had just hit a thorn and burst.

NO MORE CHICKEN! One year old Tim Kuhnlein just can't face it. Many others were also disappointed when the Jaycees ran out of chicken at their bar-b-que at the city park. But they didn't run out until they had served 1240.

Girl Scouts Report From Big Roundup

BY AMY CHARRON

Girl Scout Roundup time is currently underway in Farragut State Park, Idaho.

Mrs. Richard Schulkins of Medbury Ave., Farmington is one of the adult volunteers at the Roundup. Mrs. Fred Reagan, leader of Senior troop 258 in Farmington, and one of the scouts Vickie Pape, have sent a boxful of "Friendship Sticks" to Mrs. Schulkins for distribution.

She has sent a clipping from the Spokane Daily Chronicle which describes the scene and atmosphere of the Roundup. It is reprinted in part for our readers:

"Roundup is here! It's a song they were singing and an adventure they were bringing to northern Idaho (July 15 and 16).

"Forty-five hundred strong, this first day's arrivals, they were green-clad, excited senior Girl Scouts and wide-eyed Girl Guides.

"The teenagers bounded from trains, planes and buses that had brought them to an event they had hoped for as Brownies, crossed their fingers about as Scouts and unceasingly prepared for as delegates.

"Many in the East had taken Horace Greeley's advice, coming west to Farragut

Build Tote Box For Campouts

For Boy Scout campouts, there's nothing handier than a tote box which opens up to become a serving table. Companion pieces are folding benches. Scouts with some adult coaching can make tote boxes of lumber and smooth, splinter-free Masonite Weatherall, a factory-primed hardboard which takes hard knocks.

For a free plan showing in diagrams and pictures how to make one, send a postcard to the Home Service Bureau, Box B, Chicago, Ill. 60690, requesting AE-505. It also tells how to build a car-top luggage carrier.

PICTURE TALK by Les Wilson

Only Young Once

Our children are growing up and away from us. Away from the playpen, the tricycle, skip-rope, and little-league. Growing away from the way they look now, leaving a lot of meaningful moments behind for us to remember.

They're only young once. Why not keep them young in movies? Is movie equipment too much bother? Think it's too expensive? Not any more!

Now there's a whole new system for making movies. A new kind of movie camera... a new kind of movie film... and a new kind of movie projector. And they're probably the easiest movies ever to make with cameras like the new KODAK INSTAMATIC M2 Movie Camera.

There's nothing technical to learn. There's no threading film. The KODAK INSTAMATIC M2 Movie Camera loads instantly with a KODAPAK Movie Cartridge. Open the camera, drop in the cartridge, and your camera is loaded. You never wind it because battery-power drives your film. There's no film to flip over during your shooting. You can shoot a whole 50-foot roll without stopping, if you like. And because Super 8 KODACHROME II Film has 50% more picture area than regular 8mm film, your movies will be the best-looking home movies you've ever seen.

If your children are growing up and away from the way they look now, new KODAK INSTAMATIC Movie Cameras could save these memories for you. Stop in and let me demonstrate them for you.

Diabetic Association Organizing In Area

Concerned residents of the Livonia-Farmington area will meet tonight (Wednesday) to form a local unit of the Michigan Diabetic Association at the home of Sidney Diamond, 19170 Osmus, Livonia, at 8:30 p.m.

One of the chief purposes of the local unit will be to bring non professional people and medical doctors together in an attempt to create an informed public. There are over 400,000 people in this country who are unaware that they have diabetes.

The Association is noted for its free detection work, and the help it gives to children in adjusting to diabetes.

The local unit will substantially be composed of diabetics and members of their families, however tonight's meeting is open to all concerned.

Answers to Social Security Questions

Q. I have been told I can get my Social Security for the summer months that I do not work. I work for the Board of Education in the school lunchroom. Is this right?

A. If you are 62 or past and do not earn over $100 in a month, you may apply for your Social Security check. Assuming that you do not work during July and August, you would receive your Social Security check for those two months regardless of the amount you earned for the whole year. If you were at least 62 last July, you should go into the Social Security office. It is not too late to apply for July and August of 1964.

Q. Can a divorced woman get Social Security when her ex-husband begins drawing his Social Security checks?

A. No. A divorced wife cannot qualify for wife's benefits because she is no longer the legal wife of her husband. If a woman becomes divorced after she has started to get wife's payments, she must notify the Social Security office and her payments must be stopped.

Your Social Security questions may be sent to the Observer, 33050 Five Mile Rd., Livonia.

It's all right to be exclusive, but at least stay on speaking terms with your conscience.

MRS. JAMES REECE WOLFE

Kathleen Pyorala Weds James Reece Wolfe

Kathleen Marilyn Pyorala became the bride of James Reece Wolfe at a candlelight ceremony July 24 in Salem United Church of Christ in Farmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Pyorala of Farmington are the bride's parents. The parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Wolfe of Bloomfield Hills.

Following the ceremony performed by the Rev. Carl Schuitz, a dinner reception was held at Devon Gables.

The bride chose a floor length A-line Empire gown of silk organza fashioned with a bodice of Alencon lace and a chapel train. She carried a bouquet of white orchids with stephanotis and English ivy.

Virginia Maattala served as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Peggy Wolfe and Betsy Wolfe, sisters of the bridegroom.

They wore matching light blue crepe Empire gowns with bodices of white lace and carried bouquets of blue pompon mums and ivy.

Ronald Miller was the best man, while Richard Whitehead and Michael Brennan seated the guests.

Following a honeymoon in Miami, San Juan and the Virgin Islands, the couple will reside in Madison, Wis.

Queen of Hearts Goes to French Cooking School

Le Cordon Bleu, in Paris, is the most famous cooking school on earth, a Mecca for cooks throughout the Western world. One of the aims of my life was to have a cooking lesson there, or even just to see it. Surely the True Secret of Great Cooking could be discovered in that magic place.

Then I got scared. Maybe the cuisine practiced there was beyond the skill of the ordinary cook, and beyond the budget of the average housewife. Perhaps it was so elaborate and expensive and exclusive, that I couldn't even get in.

Well, it wasn't that way at all. The American Embassy arranged for me to go, bless 'em, and they would do the same for anyone interested. All it takes is 12 francs, which amounts to about $2.40.

And it is not the least bit elaborate. Quite the contrary; all there was was a small anteroom, which led into a classroom big enough for about thirty-five people. The kitchen at the front of the room was little, with just the minimum essentials, an electric stove, an old oven, plain, ordinary pots and pans . . . sort of like my kitchen. Where was the magic?

Behind the work-counter stood the genial chef, Chef Narses, in his high starched hat. It must have been 10 inches high. He is probably nearing 60, and he looked almost portly, dressed in his white coat, double-breasted, with 10 buttons up and down, and a towel tucked into a pocket.

He had a helper to fetch and carry, a lad in a white hat only three inches high, wearing a white coat with considerably fewer buttons, his lower rank apparent. It was the chef's show all the way.

What presence that chef had, and what deftness. It was a joy to watch him slice an onion. He quite obviously loves his work, and he licks his fingers! My lack of French made no difference; he was a master demonstrator.

The first recipe for the day was a strawberry tart, and believe it or not, he was using that same rich French pastry recipe that I gave to you before I left for France. (If you can't find that recipe, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me in care of this paper, and I will send it to you.)

He used a flan ring with straight sides, not as high as a spring-form pan, but a pie tin will do. His habit is to put a layer of dried beans over the bottom of the crust after he had pricked it all over, which keeps the pastry from puffing up and from shrinking. After it was baked, the tart he produced was a thing of beauty.

First he brushed the bottom of the warm pastry with raspberry glaze. Then he carefully, symmetrically, arranged big, beautiful, fresh strawberries in a single layer all over, and brushed the remaining glaze across the berries. It is very simple, and quickly done. It may be served plain, or with whipped cream.

RASPBERRY GLAZE

Heat to boiling: 1 cup raspberry jelly.
Add to thin: 2 or 3 tablespoons water, or you may use cognac, if you have some, or another liqueur.
Stir and cool.

That's all there is to it. Currant jelly makes a lovely glaze too. This same method works beautifully for sweet cherries (in two layers, perhaps), pears, peaches, or apricots. For apricots, an apricot glaze is better. You do exactly the same thing, but you use a cup of sieved apricot jam instead of the raspberry jelly. Now that the fresh fruit season is upon us, you simply cannot serve a more attractive and delicious dessert.

Then Chef Narses made an omelette with herbs, using chives, chervil (parsley will serve), and fresh tarragon. I don't know where you can buy bunches of fresh tarragon, as they do in France. If you aren't growing some yourself, a pinch of the dried herb works nearly as well. Making an omelette is very simple, the chef said. When he did it, it looked like a cinch.

OMELETT aux FINES HERBES

Chop fine: 1 tablespoon chopped chives, 1 tablespoon chopped tarragon, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley or chervil.
Beat with a fork: 4 eggs, 1 tablespoon water.

Place in hot pan: 2 tablespoons butter.
Pour in eggs and quickly toss in chopped herbs, saving a little out for garnish. Add a pinch of salt, and stir . . . yes he did, he stirred it around a little till it was warmed through. Then he stopped stirring and let it cook on low heat till it was almost set.

He lifted up the pan and gently shook it a couple of times while he told us that he never uses that little black frying pan for anything but omelettes. He rapped the pan sharply at the handle two or three times with the fork, to loosen it from the bottom, and then he folded it over, still using the fork. He rolled it neatly out onto a warm plate . . . voila!

That is just what he did, and if we do it too, we can all make perfect omelettes, I bet!

Well, my conclusion about the True Secret of Great Cooking is just what I suspected all the time: it lies in the cook. You don't need special ovens and fancy utensils and exotic ingredients. You need a little time, a little patience, a little practice, and a little love, and you need to lick your fingers.

On second thought, maybe what you really need is that lad in the three-inch hat to do the fetching and cleaning up!

C&O to Spend $10 Million for Expansion of Facilities

To keep up with the growth of Michigan industry, the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway announced Monday that it plans to spend $10 million on expanding and improving its facilities in the state.

In addition, C&O said it is planning to spend $12 million for new freight cars, most of them to serve Michigan industry, and another $1 million on roadway maintenance equipment to be used in the state.

Burford G. Nash, C&O regional manager at Detroit, said the railroad already has an investment in its Michigan facilities of $180 million.

"C&O is, in effect, an extension of each industry it serves in this state," he said. "Because of the railroad, raw materials can come in and finished products go out. C&O is aware of its responsibilities as a partner to the state's industries and is spending this money to keep up with the growing industrial might of Michigan."

The C&O improvement program, which includes the $2.5 million expansion announced last week for C&O's Wyoming Yard in Grand Rapids, is scheduled for a five-year period. The program covers the expansion of yards, installation of additional electronic traffic control, new industrial tracks, extension of radio communications and construction of new piggyback loading facilities.

Cities where work will take place include Detroit, Grand Rapids, Lansing, Flint, Saginaw, Bay City, Port Huron, Ludington and Midland.

In the past two and a half years, Nash said, C&O's board of directors has authorized the spending of $16.5 million in Michigan for the improvement of facilities and freight car additions. Over 600 specially equipped box cars were added to C&O's fleet of 5,000 such cars, which are used mainly to serve the automotive industry. C&O also has acquired in recent months 360 tri-level and bi-level racks for carrying automobiles, which are installed on flat cars for handling the booming automobile shipments.

C&O's affiliated railroad, the Baltimore and Ohio, although it does not serve Michigan directly, also has a substantial investment in Michigan's growth, Nash said. In equipment to serve the automotive industry alone, B&O's investment has amounted to $26 million in the last two and a half years, and over the next five years it will at least equal the $12 million to be spent by C&O. "C&O-B&O rail lines," Nash said, "are practically an extension at either end of the vital Michigan automobile and other manufacturing assembly lines. The $78 million C&O-B&O have spent to serve Michigan industry in recent years and will spend in the next few years cap" is to focus attention on will help the state stay competitive and protect Michigan jobs."

Blind Society Searches for Needy Persons

The Metropolitan Society for the Blind is launching a search of Detroit-area hospitals for blind persons who may require unique aids and appliances to better perform the routine tasks of everyday life.

The Society, a United Community Services agency supported by the Torch Fund, can aid blind persons in obtaining special kitchen equipment such as a bread slicing device, braille timers and measuring containers, writing implements, tools and games.

"We are contacting the hospitals to alert them and their blind patients to the services we are able to provide," said Charles F. McLaughlin, president of the agency's board of trustees. "This is part of our continuing program to help the 8,000 sightless persons in the Detroit area," McLaughlin added.

He said a pamphlet detailing some of the aids is being sent to the hospitals.

Some of the newest devices for the blind that can be obtained through the Society include special tools for blind piano tuners, radio-television test equipment with braille labels and audible signals, braille shorthand machines, relief maps, braille labeling devices, diabetic syringes, games and an 8-inch "kick ball" that emits an electronic tone.

Boat Owners Warned of Regulations

LANSING — Michigan's vast armada of motorboat owners were reminded that their boats have to be numbered in the correct fashion or face possible action from the Coast Guard if they travel in the Great Lakes or connected waterways.

Secretary of State James M. Hare said that federal regulations are "quite explicit" that boat registration be separated from numbers by either hyphens or equivalent space, like this: MC-1234-AA or MC 1234 AA. Never MC1234AA.

Hare reminded owners that each is responsible for registering his boat and seeing to it that it is properly numbered.

BB Peppers Sought

Livonia police are seeking a band of BB shooting juveniles who peppered several new cars in the rear of a lot at 28425 Eight Mile Road, shattering windows in seven 1965 Pontiacs parked there by Clohecy Pontiac.

The cars were all locked and police conjecture that the juveniles stood nearby and took potshots at the windows and cars.

Plymouth Postmen Join In Efficiency Plan

James Grater, acting postmaster of the Plymouth Post Office, announced Monday that all employees will be asked to participate in the new Postal Efficiency Plan announced a week ago by Postmaster General John Gronouski in Washington.

"The Postal Efficiency Plan includes comprehensive programs for improving postal service and reducing costs," Grater said. "It is our way of helping President Johnson fulfill his pledge to provide more effective and economical government services."

In Washington, Postmaster

General Gronouski termed the twin objectives of the plan of economy and service betterment as "a matter of highest priority" and called for total involvement of all employees through the Post Office suggestion program.

Semiannual reports will be made to the President, Gronouski said, and realized savings will be reverted to the Treasury or applied to improving postal service.

Grater said a local committee will be organized to fulfill the two purposes of the program.

Ideas generated by individual employees will be taken up by the committee. Accepted ideas will be passed on to Washington for possible application on a national level. Employees whose ideas are adopted nationwide will be given national awards.

Acting Postmaster Grater will chair the local committee.

Activities of Plymouth Sr. Citizens

The Senior Citizen's Club of Plymouth will take a bus trip to the Irish Hills and Jackson Cascades on Tuesday, Aug. 10. The bus leaves the Masonic Temple at 1 p.m. and the group will stop at the Regents in Jackson for dinner.

Reservations should be made with Dorothy Wilhelm.

More than 50 made the annual trip to Bob-Lo Island on July 15.

The club was saddened by the death of three members in July, including: Mrs. Mary Kranz, Mrs. Lottie Amrhein and Lou McKinnon.

The host and hostess for August are Mr. and Mrs. James Norman with committee chairman Mrs. John Gillis and her associates, Eva Farquhar, Marie Gustafson, Barbara Karnatz, Lou Montie and Martha Tomhave.

The club will hold its next business meeting on Aug. 5, a regular meeting on Aug. 12, a birthday meeting on Aug. 19 and a pot luck on Aug. 27.

Christ Church Plans Entirely Different Vacation School

The Plymouth Church of Christ has a new format for its vacation bible school this summer, from Aug. 16-20, in the church building at 9301 Sheldon Road, south of Ann Arbor Trail.

The church will hold its classes at night so that all members of the family may attend. It has arranged an excellent staff of teachers with Arnold Pytkas, who was recently named principal at Gallimore School, as director.

The school will include classes for adults as well as youngsters. All in the Plymouth Community are invited to attend. There is no enrollment fee, no collection is taken and the classes will be of the type to benefit all.

Military music, precision drill teams, a colorful parade, a memorial service, and a jet flyover are a few of the activities slated for Veterans' Day at the Michigan State Fair, Saturday, Aug. 28. The fair runs from Aug. 27 through Sept. 6.

WORK IS PROGRESSING on Plymouth's street improvement program as these two pictures show. (Above) Curbs have been ripped out on Ann Arbor Trail for the widening and paving of the street in the vicinity of the Gaffield Studio. (Below) This is the completed project between Union and Main Street on Penniman which was donated to the city by Cadillac Asphalt as its contribution towards making the Fall Festival a success.

Name Dougherty Bank President

The Livonia National Bank board of directors has announced the resignation, on the advice of his doctors, of Fred A. Lavery, president and director. At the same time, it was revealed that Elvin D. Dougherty bank vice president, has been elected to succeed him as president.

Both actions were taken at a special board meeting called by Lavery after consultation with his physicians. The board members, familiar with the details of Lavery's recent medical history, regrettably accepted his resignation.

In the period since his election as president of Livonia National in January of 1964, Lavery has administered an operational program that has resulted in a growth in assets from $12,073,304 to $20,439,500 as of June 30.

Dougherty was named vice president of Livonia National Bank in August of 1964 following an 11-year association with the Michigan Bank. He was elected to the Livonia National board of directors in January of this year.

A graduate of the U.S. Maritime Academy in Kingsport, Long Island, Dougherty served with the Army during the Korean conflict, joining Michigan Bank following his separation from the service in 1952. He, his wife Suzanne and their four children reside at 32201 Scone in Livonia.

The retirement of Lavery brings to a close a banking career that began in 1929. Following graduation from high school in his native Chateaugay, N.Y., Lavery served with the Marines in World War I. After the war he attended the University of Denver Law School and then was a practicing attorney in Detroit for two years.

He joined the Detroit Bankers company in 1931, then left in 1933 to move to Flint as Executive Officer of the Genesee Trustee Corporation, which was engaged in bank liquidation.

In 1942 the recently formed Michigan National Bank called on Lavery to serve as executive officer of its Flint operation. He remained with Michigan National until October of 1963 when the bank's mandatory retirement program brought the end of his service.

However, he was back in banking within 90 days as he joined Livonia National Bank the following January.

WITH 6 MYI MUSICIANS Plymouth Youths Return From Tour of Mexico

Two Plymouth youths, Ron Jones, of 493 Arthur, and Bob Wilson, of 13887 Ridgewood, who are members of the 69-student Musical Youth International group touring Mexico, will return to Metropolitan Airport on Thursday.

But that's just the start of activities for the musicians, who are under the direction of Lester McCoy and Charles Kirsch. They have been invited by the School of Music at the University of Michigan to give a concert that evening in the promenade of the north campus from 7 to 8 p.m.

Then on Aug. 5, they will be guests of the Post Cereal Co. in Battle Creek for dinner in the Post clubhouse and will join with the Post Cereal band in a concert at Willard Beach on Gogmag Lake near Lakeview at 8 p.m. that evening.

The students are enthusiastic in praise of Mexican hospitality. In Guliacan, members of the Rotary Club greeted them with a tambouro band.

The MYI chorus sang for the high mass at Mazatlan Cathedral, including "St. Francis of Assisi Prayer," and the "Instrument of Thy Peace" among the selections. Both numbers were written by Dr. Haydn Morgan, president of MYI.

In Mazatlan, a United States destroyer was in the bay and the officers invited the group on board for dinner after which they presented a concert as a token of their appreciation.

In Durango, the group was formally received by the Governor and certificates were presented to each of the 69 musicians for participating in the 402nd anniversary of the founding of the City.

The MYI students attended the Durango Fair and were much impressed with the beautiful art displays from all over Mexico and the excellent glass blowing demonstrations.

The group was taken on tours of sugar cane ranches, coconut groves and pineapple plantations.

As one student wrote home: "Language is no problem with smiles and applause. Music is a perfect way to make friends."

State Gives Approval For School Annexation

Requests of Geer School District and South Salem Stone District, in Washtenaw County, for annexation to the Plymouth Community School system have been approved by the Acting Supt. of Public Instruction William Klosterer, according to information received at the Plymouth Board's administration offices Monday.

The approval was sent to all three school districts Friday. Geer and Salem Stone delegations had appeared before the Plymouth Board a few weeks back to make a formal request for annexation. The matter was taken under advisement pending approval of the State Board and voters in the district.

Elections will be held in both districts on Sept. 13 for approval or disapproval of the annexation. The action becomes effective as soon as the voters approve.

The annexation won't add many students to the Plymouth School district since most of the pupils in the area have been attending school on a tuition basis. It is believed the only addition will be some 24 students in the K to Grade 4 level.

If the Plymouth Board follows the policy used a year ago when two other Washtenaw districts filed for annexation, the pupils will be allowed to start school in September and the districts charged for whatever time elapses between the start of classes and the election.

Down River Plans A Major Addition To Plant in Wayne

The Down River Packaging Corporation announces addition of 20,000 square feet to its Wayne plant bringing the total area to 50,000 square feet.

This is Down River's third expansion within three years and was necessitated by the expanding market for corrugated containers and specialties throughout Southern Michigan and surrounding areas.

Down River is also expanding its California plant and additional equipment will be added as the result of recent research and developments in "DOR-KOR," an expandable honeycomb core for hollow core flush doors.

AMA Lists Criteria for Choosing Nursing Home

Choosing a nursing home for a relative, a friend or possibly for yourself is an important decision. A new pamphlet from the American Medical Association offers valuable suggestions to help you with the decision.

Ideally, a nursing home is a facility which provides good nursing care in an environment as physically and psychologically homelike as possible. It may be a proprietary (privately owned) facility; under church or other non-profit auspices; or a tax-supported governmental institution. The nursing home generally will offer one or more of these types of service:

- (1) Residential care—room, board, laundry facilities and personal courtesies, such as help with shopping or correspondence;
- (2) Personal care—personal services such as help in walking, getting in and out of bed, bathing, dressing and eating, and the preparation of special diets;
- (3) Nursing care—nursing procedures requiring skill beyond that of the untrained person, including procedures ordered by an attending physician.

To help you determine the level of nursing care offered, the National Council for the Accreditation of Nursing Homes accredits nursing homes in three categories: (1) An intensive nursing care facility, which provides nursing service under the supervision of a Registered Professional Nurse (RN), and an RN is on duty at all times; (2) A skilled nursing care facility, which also is under the supervision of a full-time RN, or a Licensed Practical Nurse (LPN) is on duty at all times; (3) An intermediate care facility, which is supervised by a full-time RN or a full-time LPN, with an attendant on duty and alert at all times. The most important aid in deciding whether a nursing home is the best answer to a particular situation, and which particular home is most suitable, is a complete physical examination of the patient by a physician. The physician will then be able to assist in selecting the home. He may be able to provide a list of nursing homes in the area offering the type of service needed. Another excellent source of information is your state affiliate of the American Nursing Home Association. Your community welfare council, health or welfare department may also have information on homes in your area.

Look for the home that tries to keep patients active and helps them take care of themselves as much as possible. (7) Is the nursing staff trained in basics? A good staff will understand and use techniques for preventing deformity and contracture of muscles, for retraining in self-care (eating, dressing, bathing, walking, etc.) and for assisting the incontinent to regain bowel and bladder control; (8) Are there adequate safety precautions? A plan for evacuation in case of fire should be posted and the staff should be drilled periodically; (9) Does the home maintain high standards in its food service? (10) Does the home prepare therapeutic diets when needed?

A quality nursing home will make every reasonable effort to help restore patients to the maximum degree of independence and self-help possible. Medical and scientific research is progressing toward finding new ways to repair the results of crippling accidents and diseases, but all Americans still must take the responsibility of safeguarding themselves and their children, the Easter Seal Society warns.

When visiting a nursing home in seeking an institution for the patient, there are some basic questions to ask: (1) What type of patients does the home accept? Is the home licensed by the state or local licensing agency? Ask to see the certificate of licensure; (2) Does the institution require a physical examination and a physician's orders for treatment prior to or immediately after admitting the patient? A good nursing home will insist on this information; (3) Is there a staff physician who actually spends time in the nursing home with the patients and the nursing staff? Does the home report regularly on the patient's condition to his personal physician? (4) What level of nursing supervision is provided? (5) What provision does the home have for dental care of patients? (6) Are facilities available for patient rehabilitation? Are they used regularly?

Determine whether the nursing home has a general home-like atmosphere. Are the floors clean, the lawn trimmed? Is there sufficient space for each patient? Observe the attitude of the staff and the patients, as to whether relationships are amiable. If possible, visit a patient at an off-hour when you aren't on tour. Adequate recreational services also should be available. Look for a certificate of accreditation by the National Council on Accreditation of Nursing Homes, and for diplomas and certificates of nursing home study on display, particularly in the administrators' office.

Find out about costs. What does the rate cover in addition to nursing care, room and board? Are extra charges made for drugs, special diets, extra nursing care, and such personal services as shampoos, haircuts, shaving?

Aluminum, Wood Still Popular with Boaters

LANSING — Although lightweight aluminum has taken over as the most popular hull material for Michigan's vast army of outboard motorboat fanciers, old-fashioned wood still retained its overall popularity in total registration of all types of motorboats.

According to figures released by the Michigan Department of State, wood was ahead in total registrations, 115,000 to 107,500 for aluminum. But in outboards, aluminum totaled 107,000 registrations to 96,000 for wood. Plastic was the next most popular with steel fourth.

Secretary of State James M. Hare also advised Michigan's motorboat owners . . . more than 150,000 of whom are still cruising around in unregistered boats . . . that all branch offices of the Department of State were now handling motorboat registrations directly.

"Before this year, only a select few branches handled applications for registrations," Hare said. "But this year to make it more convenient for boat owners, and provide faster service, all branches handle registrations direct."

Of the registered boats, most of them are in the smaller classes . . . less than 16 feet. This accounts for nearly 300,000 of Michigan's total registrations. The next most popular size is the 16-to-26 foot class which registered 65,000.

Inboards become more popular in the next largest group . . .

26-to-40 feet . . . this by a ratio of nearly six to one. In the 40-to-60 foot class, there were 530 inboards as opposed to only 80 outboards, and in the over 65-foot class, there were only a pair of yachts.

In registrations by counties, Wayne county led the way with nearly 60,000 motorboats registered. Oakland county was second with 30,000; Kent third with nearly 19,000, and Genesee fourth, just a few registrations behind.

Other counties over the 10,000 mark in registrations were Macomb with 16,500, and Ingham with 11,500. Jackson and Kalamazoo counties had nearly 10,000 motorboats on the registration list.

OCC to Get Govt. Money

Oakland Community College is expected shortly to be approved for participation in the Collega Work-Study Program. This program authorizes student employment in 300 on-campus part time jobs at $1.25 per hour, up to a maximum of 15 hours per week for students in need of financial aid.

A temporary allotment of $27,712 for student loans has been granted under the provisions of the National Defense Education Act. Students may borrow up to $200 per year at extremely low interest rates, and, in the case of students ultimately using their training in certain curricula, the loan may be forgiven. The balance of the approved allotment of $144,000 is dependent upon passage of the amended NDEA.

Approval has been received for participation in a program of the Veterans Administration which provides tuition benefits for children of servicemen who died while members of the armed forces or who died of service incurred injuries.

The Board authorized the deposit of $1,000 with the Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority which provides a fund up to $20,000 from which students may borrow under the terms of a liberal repayment program.

Tile Will Take Abuse

What's the most desirable material for kitchen counters and backsplashes?

Many homeowners specify ceramic tile for these areas, possibly because they have seen it being used so extensively in the heavy-duty areas of public eating places. Whatever the reason, it's a fact that the trend to the counters that started in the West is now spreading to the East.

What has brought about this increased popularity of tile in kitchens? For one thing, a tile countertop can't be burned, not even if a sizzling frying pan is placed atop it. Also, while some substitute materials can be scratched, neither the sharpest razor nor knife will damage tile.

The many new decorative patterns in which tile is now available also have contributed to making it a preferred material in kitchens. The almost endless number of sizes, shapes and colors tile comes in means this versatile material can harmonize with any decorating scheme.

Editor: Township voters, take notice: One again my neighbors and I sat in on the Township Board meeting—our principal interest being the incinerator problem. Mr. McDonald was controlled, amiable and polite—quite different from the tart personality he evidenced at the last meeting he conducted. He presented a smooth-flowing prepared report on the refuse problem. The most astonishing portion dealt with his feeling that the many recommendations and suggestions which had been presented by interested persons were welcome and should be considered! Quite an about-face from his previous impression, I should say.

However, he stated that he felt "frustrated office-seekers" were responsible for most of the dissent. Here his halo slipped a bit. We who have gone from door to door with petitions, who have telephoned so many, who have come to board meetings to protest, are not "frustrated office-seekers" but a much larger portion of this community.

One board member gave the impression to the press that our beloved pastor could not be too adverse to having the incinerator next to the church or he would have been present to protest it. This dear man should be enlightened on this point: many of the parishioners are aware of the fact that this board member knew and encouraged our pastor to visit a "lovely" incinerator while on a visit to Florida to see his aged mother. We would like him to know that we resent this implied lack of interest on the part of our pastor.

Temporarily the building of an incinerator next to our church has been shelved in favor of a plant to transport garbage to a fill-site. We who would have had to live next door to the proposed incinerator will watch with interest the activity of this new committee.

AN INTERESTED VOTER, FLORENCE NATUSHKO, REDFORD TOWNSHIP.

Comments on 'Quaker'

Editor: Let me congratulate you on your editorial concerning the Rev. Robert Eddy that appeared in the July 28 issue. I agree completely with your opinions and conclusions concerning Eddy.

I cannot agree with Eddy's positions concerning the Vietnam crisis and teen-age sexual dilemma. I will, however, defend his right to take these stands, which are for him stands of personal conscience. I will also defend his right to be on the Youth Guidance Committee in whatever capacity.

I know the Rev. Eddy through the Farmington Clergy Fellowship and in other areas as a friend. Though I do not always agree with what he has to say, I must say that his sense of responsibility, both as an American and as a churchman, and his ability to think things through to logical conclusions cannot be criticized in the slightest.

Your closing sentence was the only thing that bothered me in the whole editorial: "It may be that Mr. Eddy's trouble is that when he has something on his mind he says it out loud." No doubt Mr. Eddy's ideas sound radical to many of us. I do not think, however, that the answer is to shut him up or to squeeze him off a committee that he serves so well. I think the real problem here lies in those of us of a more moderate mind who refuse to speak "out loud" with viable answers to the world's problems—be they in Vietnam or within the walls of our homes.

Instead of shutting up Mr. Eddy, let us open up ourselves. I hope we are not calling Robert Eddy irresponsible (or whatever some have called him) in an effort to cover up for a lack of real responsibility in ourselves.

THE REV. ROBERT N. SAWYER, JR. FARMINGTON.

How Has City Grown?

Editor: In April of 1963, some 12 years ago, when we were living in what we thought was a very modern age, Livonians were living under the then newly enacted Ordinance No. 60. Admittedly, Livonia was much more "rural" than "suburban" then, but it took a giant step into what we now know as "city life," it prohibited the use of outside pit toilets!

Livonia is now a city, even if many displaced Detroiters call Detroit their "Downtown." Well, they can "have" Detroit, but you must give Detroit credit for at least having SIDEWALKS.

It would be my liberal judgment that no more than 5% of the major thoroughfares in Livonia have sidewalks. There are even subdivisions with long expired deadlines for the sidewalk improvements, and they will probably be so for some time to come.

There are areas such as the west side of Middlebelt Road, between Five Mile and Schoolcraft, (where traffic is increasing almost daily) which have high, impassable areas which force you to walk on the travelled portion of Middle Belt Road. In areas like these, it is highly impossible for a woman to push a baby carriage to the store; highly impractical for a youngster to ride his bicycle over, and even very difficult to walk over, especially in the snow.

It is inconceivable that a city the size of Livonia, with such a large and growing population, and supposedly so progressive should deny its residents of a simple matter such as sidewalks. Without sidewalks, your children must use and play on the roads.

Something should be done (and COULD be done to provide safe access for pedestrians, bicyclists, tricyclists, coaster wagons, baby carriages, wheelchairs, children at play and for those who just care to go for a plain walk. The irony of it is that it won't cost the city one red cent—at least, it didn't help me pay for my sidewalk! LIVONIANS SHOULD HAVE, AND DESERVE, SIDEWALKS ON BOTH SIDES OF EVERY STREET! Cars and trucks are not the only ones deserving of a right-of-way.

Now, you wonder why the mention of the little houses with the crescent-shaped windows in their doors? It's just to remind you of how little Livonia has progressed in the past 12 years.

ALFRED D. YOUNG LIVONIA

School Girl Speaks Up To Bd. of Education

Editor: I am a high school freshman going to Frost Junior High this fall. After reading the new schedules for Frost and Bentley I was dumbfounded. Of course I've had things of this type happen to me before. In elementary school I was tossed about from school to school. In the seventh grade I was housed at Bryant until Frost was completed. But this is the last straw.

We (the student body at Frost, particularly the ninth graders) are missing close to an hour and a half of class time each day. Multiply that by weeks and months. We're in high school too, just like the students at Bentley (although their classes are also shortened but not as much as ours). Our grades count for college. We'll have more homework and less teacher help. We'll have little or no after school activities that keep school from becoming a grind and use what we learn for enjoyable purposes. How can we stay after school to use the library or for extra help (which will most certainly be needed since it was needed last year when we had more class time)? We'll have loads of homework which I find easier to do much of at school.

It will be even harder for the Section nine students who have school in the afternoon and will have to do most of their homework in the morning. That mathematical formula that was so clear in class isn't quite so simple after you sleep on it. And the Section nine Junior High students—after Frost they'll go to the new high school and then to the new junior high. I know if I was a seventh grader (just green from elementary school) I'd find it difficult.

I realize that Livonia's population is rapidly increasing and that many new schools must be built, but I can't help thinking that there must be something the Board of Education can do to make sure they are done on time. I know it's too late to do anything about the situation now but perhaps it can be prevented from happening to other students because to me an education is an important thing. Too important to be shorted. Thank you for letting me speak my piece.

SIMPLY A SCHOOLGIRL LIVONIA.

In Defense of Eddy

Editor: I would like to write a few words of praise for Rev. Eddy. It is good to know there is some one in our midst that has the nerve to stand up for his convictions.

As far as the trial marriages, the kids are practically doing it anyway. Maybe under guidance and approval, it would save a lot of divorces and ruined lives. The main thing though is his stand for peace. Most people are against this senseless war in Viet Nam, but haven't the time or nerve to say or do anything about it.

I voted for LBJ and the whole team, but they promised us peace. He really wants it, but the pressure from big business and the few that really run the government was too big.

The people have to speak up. Write to Senators McNamara and Hart in care of the Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. and tell them you are against this war. I haven't done it myself yet, but we have to take time to do these things.

Does any one really think we, a big country, should be bombing a small half of a country miles away from our shore. We admit to flying 30 miles from China.

What if Russia or China was bombing Mexico or some South American country on our doorstep? I tried to enlist in the Air Corps in WWII (and was drafted later) because we had been attacked.

Now my boy is about to be sent over there to fight people that are fighting for their civil rights (as I see it). I don't want him to go, because we wasn't attacked. I taught him to fight in self defense only.

In closing I would also like to mention that one of the first Marines killed in Viet Nam was a Negro. It's the same old story—the Negro is good enough to die for his country, but not good enough to live in it.

RUSSELL LACROIX
P.S. This is the first letter to the editor I have written in about 10 years, but I just had to write in the hope that it would get a few people to write to someone to let them know your views.

Wants Answers From Redford Letter Writer
Editor: Open Letter to Paul Scapholm: You have stated publicly on July 15 that you are recognized as the local Republican Editor of a monthly letter with a coverage of over 1,000 Redford Township Homes. Assuming this is correct and that you are the spokesman for the Republican Party in Redford Township, please review your previous answer to your number two comment: "Yes, property was reassessed. Long overdue and not necessarily a tax increase—a re-valuation so each citizen pays only his own fair share."

Your review is based on this problem. Will you retract your original answer of July 15, WE'LL see!! Here's the problem.

Maxitrol property located on Beech Road and property that Township officials authorizing to buy consists of four parcels of land. The legal description is listed on page 1465 as 29JJ3a1 and 29JJ3a2. This portion is 7.74 acres.

The assessed valuation is $7,740. Land adjoining this property and land in the immediate area is listed at from $54,180 to $30,160 for the same acreage size because our supervisor has a sliding scale of assessment for acreage (commercial).

The problem has been presented, now the questions.

• Is your original answer correct?
• Does this problem have any reflection that surrounding properties are overtaxed or undertaxed?

• Do you feel that tax increases of all private properties is justifiable while inequities still exist on many commercial properties?

• Has the tax assessor done a good job on reassessing commercial property?

• If your answer is yes, why was this property listed low and bought at a very high price by the same township officials?

• Do you feel that more interest be displayed by the school board officials who have been stating lately that they need more millage for the schools?

• Do you feel I am overstepping my bounds in asking these questions?

Answers to these questions are requested. Will you reply or do you prefer to remain silent and admit some errors have been made.

Farmington Couple Observe 60th Wedding Anniversary

Twenty-one years ago this past month, William Francis Lancaster and wife moved from Alton, Ill. to Farmington and took a home at 33104 Grand River, where they have resided ever since.

Wm. Lancaster's grandfather, Francis Lancaster of London, England, moved his family to Bunker Hill, Ill. in 1844. He was a brick-maker by trade, but hoped to be a farmer and stock grower, also. He bought 800 acres and built a 13 room brick home—making the brick himself.

He also built a very large barn in which he could drive a team and wagon through. Both buildings are still in excellent condition. He had a large family and was a very successful business man. After his demise his youngest son, Joseph, fell heir to the homestead, and it was there that William Francis was born in 1878.

During the same year, the Lancasters settled in Illinois after the graduation exercises, she retired to her studio, in the presence of some 100 friends and relatives, she and Mr. Lancaster were married.

They have one son, Mr. Richard M. Lancaster of 35353 W. Nine Mile Rd. They also have a foster daughter, Mrs. Pat Hanlon of 900 State St., Alton, Ill. Both their son and (Bettie Barret) went through high school and graduated together. The Hanlons visit them almost every year. They have one granddaughter, Mrs. Denny Benson (the former Alice Lancaster) of 20954 Birchwood of Farmington and two great grandsons, James and Richard Benson.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lancaster have a lodge on Saginaw Bay, near the town of Sebewaing. They took their parents up there to help Richard celebrate his birthday, Saturday, July 31 and to observe their 60th anniversary. They returned home Monday morning.

The Lancasters are well known in Farmington. Mr. Lancaster drove one of the school buses 11 years and Mrs. Lancaster still teaches expression. On their 60th anniversary, many friends sent cards and best wishes.

Nankin Man in A.F.

Airman Third Class Ronald L. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent W. Martin of 7563 Gillman St., Nankin, has completed U. S. Air Force basic military training at Lackland AFB, Tex. The airman attended Franklin High School at Livonia.

FOUR PUT-PUTT GOLF COURSES donated an entire day's proceeds to Big Brothers of Western Wayne County. Thomas Robert Hooper, assistant director of Western Wayne County Big Brothers, is seen receiving the check from Al Carter, manager of the two courses in Oakland County, along with Norman Kreskamp, owner of the Royal Oak course, and Rick Arnold, owner of the Livonia course.

Summer Is Good Time for Pleasant Reading

"Once upon a time, a long time ago..."

Many a pleasant hour has been ushered in with this phrase. For, once upon a time, parents used to read to their offspring regularly. Now the practice is about as rare as baking bread. Perhaps the bedtime stories were taken for granted, but, nonetheless, they were enjoyed.

"It's a custom which has lost itself in our modern, busy world," said Skip Rosenthal, Librarian at the Livonia Public Library. Many people have the mistaken idea that youngsters put their books aside until school starts and lose nothing in the interim. Nothing could be farther from the truth.

Children cannot spend all their time sunning, swimming and playing baseball. It is important that primary grade children maintain their reading skills during the vacation months.

Reading is just as important to the pre-schoolers, however. What is necessary to make reading sessions both pleasant and successful?

There are three requirements, Mr. Rosenthal said: time, interest, and a good book. The time need not be lengthy—a half hour will do—but it should be free from interruptions.

And if the book is good, the interest will be two-fold. Some parents find it pretty difficult to get enthused over rather banal tales about Lucky Ducky, but, as Mr. Rosenthal said, there are many good children's books which adults will find enjoyable.

The topics are limitless, and almost every type of book which adults enjoy has its counterpart in the children's section.

What better time is there to get acquainted with these books and to get into the habit of sharing them with youngsters than during the leisurely summer months?

The South Branch is located at 33720 Plymouth Road, GA 7-1900 and the Sandburg Branch is at 30100 W. Seven Mile Road, 476-0700. The Livonia Libraries are open as follows: Monday through Thursday, 12-9; Friday, 9-5. Closed Saturdays.

Elegance In Dining At The Pontchartrain

The space planning and interior design concepts for the Pontchartrain's 12,000 square feet of dining and entertainment motif for each of the areas has been created to authentically reflect a different facet of French tradition.

These areas include: "La Mediterranee"—the main dining room; "Salamandre Bar"—the men's bar; "La Cafe"—a coffee shop and "Cabaret Boheme"—the night club.

The interior of La Mediterranee, where seafood will be the specialty, has been designed to capture the semi-elegant mood of the Mediterranean area of Southern France.

The architectural elements of white painted brick, arches, alcoves and two ceiling heights create a combined indoor-outdoor atmosphere. The wrought iron screens and hanging light fixtures are similar to what one sees in Southern France.

The colors are warm, soft and gay—particularly the colored tablecloths and linen. Several types of seating arrangements were planned to include half-round settees, semi-private alcoves and special areas for large groups.

Original paintings depicting seafood scenes will be intermixed with accessory items purchased from antique shops in Paris. There will be a small bar and cocktail lounge where people can relax before eating.

The waiters will wear authentic French waiter uniforms with long white aprons and black jackets. The bartenders will have striped shirts with black leather aprons while the busboys will be dressed in short colorful striped jackets. All lighting will be rheostatically-controlled to provide this Mediterranean atmosphere with a variety of lighting effects.

Oakland GOP Slate Roast

For the Salamandre Bar, the motif suggests an underground vaulted room. Large exposed wood beams, rough plaster, rustic brick pillars and black iron meal grilles have been utilized to establish the desired earthy affect. The lighting will be low with the colors subdued except for a rich dark blue carpet which will provide the prime color accent in the room.

Tables and seating arrangements are in small intimate groups. Included is a piano bar area consisting of large overlapping planks of rough hewn wood. To further accent this underground theme, the accessories for the Salamandre Bar were selected from the inner sanctum of the Flea Market in Paris.

Adjacent to the Salamandre Bar and approached by the same entrance foyer is the coffee shop known as Le Cafe. This is the informal eating place in the hotel. It was designed as an outdoor patio and garden area.

One wall of the room will be glass overlooking an outdoor court. On the north and south ends of the room, a simulated outdoor setting will be visible through a lattice curtain where flowers, plants, bird cages and an array of old copper, pewter and earthen cooking ware of French origin will be displayed.

The furniture is wrought iron with brightly-colored checkered tablecloths. Colorful peasant dresses with aprons for the waitresses will give the coffee shop a gay outdoor cafe feeling. At night, the lighting can be lowered to create a subdued but sparkling mood.

On the top floor of the Pontchartrain will be the Cabaret La Boheme. This glamorous entertainment area of the hotel will have an impressive floor-to-ceiling glass wall stretching around three sides of the entire room to give a dramatic view of Detroit's riverfront. Along this glass wall will be an outer perimeter seating arrangement. An elevated area in the middle will feature a horseshoe-shaped bar, a dance floor and podium for entertainment. This upper level with its additional seating will provide guests with a special panorama of the entire night club activity surrounded by the dazzling scene of the riverfront.

The design theme is Bohemian in the modern French sense of the word. The colors are a sultry mixture of deep reds for the carpets, wall coverings and ceiling. A collection of original paintings by young artists from Montmartre in Paris will be on display as the focal center of the room.

The lighting level at night will be low key with the sparkle of crystal from pin point light fixtures. The waitresses will wear facsimiles of young French artist's studio garb consisting of tight slacks and jersey sweaters in a variety of bright palette colors. Glassware, chinaware, menus and other accessories will be on the off-beat side to tie in with the overall Bohemian theme.

The Fifth Annual Republican Ox-Roast will be held Saturday, Sept. 25 at the John F. Ivory Farm at Union Lake it was announced today by GOP County Chairman, Dale A. Feet.

The Oakland County outing is open to everyone in the area — with a barbecue of prime beef, corn on the cob, ice cream and soft drinks to be served free to several thousand people during the afternoon.

A dance for the Teen Age Republicans, pony ride and games for the children, athletic contest, music and speeches are part of the day. Governor Romney and Congressman Broomfield will be on hand; they are expected to make short talks during the program.

Feet said, "The annual free Ox Roast is being given by the Oakland County Republican Committee to recognize the work of thousands of people during the year."

Chairing the event and busy coordinating activities is Doug Lawrie of Clawson. Further information can be obtained by calling Party Headquarters, 649-8414.

Football Just Around the Corner for Plymouth Gridders

Coach John McFall, who takes over the reins at Plymouth High this fall for the first time as head football mentor, isn't wasting any time making plans for the 1965 campaign.

The Rocks open their season on Sept. 17 in a game with Northville there and then entertain Farmington in the home opener a week later.

But long before that time, McFall will have some idea of what to expect since he has issued a call for prospective candidates to report for equipment next week in preparation for the opening day of practice on Aug. 30.

The seniors will be first in line for equipment and have been asked to report to the high school gym next Tuesday night at 8 p.m. to sign up and receive togs.

The juniors will lineup on Wednesday, Aug. 11 and the sophomores on Thursday, Aug. 12.

Then McFall plans a short vacation prior to the start of workouts with the thought of returning to Plymouth at least 10 days in advance of the Aug. 30 start.

Just to remind the footballers that the season isn't too far away, he sent the following letter to every possible candidate, including all those who performed in the junior highs last fall.

"It is of the utmost importance that our team of this year set standards upon which Plymouth's Football traditions can continue to be built. Most of the athletic future of your school will depend on how well you perform as an athlete. Because of these reasons, there are certain qualities which we consider essential for an athlete to be outstanding and a credit to his school, his community, his parents, and above all—to himself.

These qualities are as follows:

Aggressiveness—the most important single quality for a football player. Success of any team is determined by the fight and spirit that the players put into the game. We want men who can do more than take it. We want men who can give it. Enthusiasm—with the quality you will have no problem playing Football at Plymouth. It is that something that makes one do his level best and encourage others to give their best in order to produce Team Spirit, and the Will to Win.

Determination—be determined to achieve your goal of making the 1965 Football Team. Take pride in a serious determination to be a Football Player—a great one. You will only achieve that which you have a desire to do.

Confidence—every great athlete and every great team has this quality. It is not the same thing as swell-headedness. It is a feeling that you are superior to your opponent in every way, and through good hard work you will win. Always respect your opponent, but never fear him.

Reliability—This is your greatest single quality. It is something all men should develop. If you do a complete and thorough job in everything asked of you, you will acquire a habit that will make other people respect you.

Cooperation—You will be expected to cooperate for the good of the team. It means that each player is willing to do the task assigned and do that job to the best of his ability. We are going to have a team working together when the Northville game rolls around.

Obedience—A winning team must have this quality. Some players resent criticism because they fail to understand the reason for it. If you are criticized it is because you are a member of the team, and there is some fundamental technique which we believe you are not doing to the best of your ability.

If your coaches were not interested in you as a team member as well as a person you would probably not hear a word of criticism. This means everyone must be obedient to the orders and instructions given out.

If you are with us at the opening of practice, we will assume that you agree that such qualities are necessary for the good of the team.

Football practice will begin Monday, August 30 at 7:30 a.m. Physical examination cards and insurance money will be handled in the high school office. In the meantime, continue getting fit.

Understanding the ecumenical movement was his address after a standing ovation.

PUERTO RICO AND THE VIRGIN ISLANDS

For Mrs. Florence Lathers of Ann Street. Her visit included the Peace Corps Training Camp and fort of San Juan. NEIGHBORLINESS

"To each his own, a way of life" but get-togethers where the whole block participates keeps neighborliness at its peak. The good old fashioned potluck held at the Potter home on Arthur street on Saturday was fun as usual with the Robert Barbours returning from Caseville, in time to attend the party, and newcomers to the neighborhood, the Louis Borregards, enjoying the comradeship.

FROM EAST

Split Cabs

pointed out that the Council had the right to review the situation at the end of the year and if the service wasn't suitable then changes could be made.

The words met deaf ears and the Commission went on with the business of increasing the number of permits from eight to 10 and then divided them equally between the two companies.

In other actions, the Commission:

Read a letter from Kenneth Bisbee urging a new bicycle ordinance and complaining that children and even adults are riding on the city streets and sidewalks in violation of the city ordinance. He asked the Commission to consider a new ordinance which would limit bicycle riding in the streets to children between the ages of 12 and 15 only with permission of their parents. The matter was referred to the City Manager to make a report at his earliest convenience.

Approved an allotment of $1,500 for the upcoming primary and election for judges. There had been no monies set aside for this election in the budget.

Approved purchase of a tar machine and a catch basin cleaner for the Department of Public Works upon recommendation of Supt. Joseph Bida.

Deferred action on a recommendation of the Building Board of Appeals for changes in the code pending a study of the Detroit and Dearborn regulations.

Builder

gonized the Commission with the result that it ordered a complete inspection of the new paving to see if it meets the specifications set down by the consulting engineers, Johnson and Anderson.

Matter of fact there was some talk by the Commissioners of ordering the paving removed since Cape had gone ahead and paved city property without permission and strictly in violation of the city ordinances.

Cape explained that the contractors had leveled the area in front of the apartment and then he had given permission to go on with the paving inasmuch as the men and equipment were on the scene.

All of which brought considerable criticism from the Commissioners and the orders to make the inspection—which probably will be charged to Cape. And hanging over his head is the thought that the paving on city property may be ripped out.

He'll have to wait for the report of the inspectors before any additional action is taken and judging from the frame of mind of the Commission, it may take some time in doing.

Rich Stake Heads DRC Card

Budding young racing stars and some of the top handicap performers in the Mid-West vie for the spotlight in two stakes which feature the first week-end card of the Detroit Race Course's 84-day meeting.

The young stars will go to the post in the $7,500 Youngster Handicap at six furlongs, while three-year-olds and upward will contest the $10,000 added "Good Neighbor Handicap."

The "Good Neighbor Handicap" is to focus attention on the annual DRC observance of "Good Neighbor Week," which will be observed from August 9 through August 14 at the track.

This issue of The Observer Newspapers contains coupons good for free admission during "Good Neighbor Week."

Dale Shaffer, President of the Detroit Race Course, had special words to offer on the track's observance of "Good Neighbor Week" this season.

"This is our 17th season in Livonia and we take pride in our growth as well as that of the communities in the area," Mr. Shaffer said. "We feel that with our $3,000,000 expansion program we've expressed our confidence in the continued growth of racing in Michigan and of these suburban communities."

many residents will visit us during the coming week and see the many improvements and additions we have made." Among the features of "Good Neighbor Week" will be Ladies Day on Thursday. The DRC management has expanded Ladies Day this season, with the award of 10 major prizes weekly. All ladies are admitted free on Thursday.

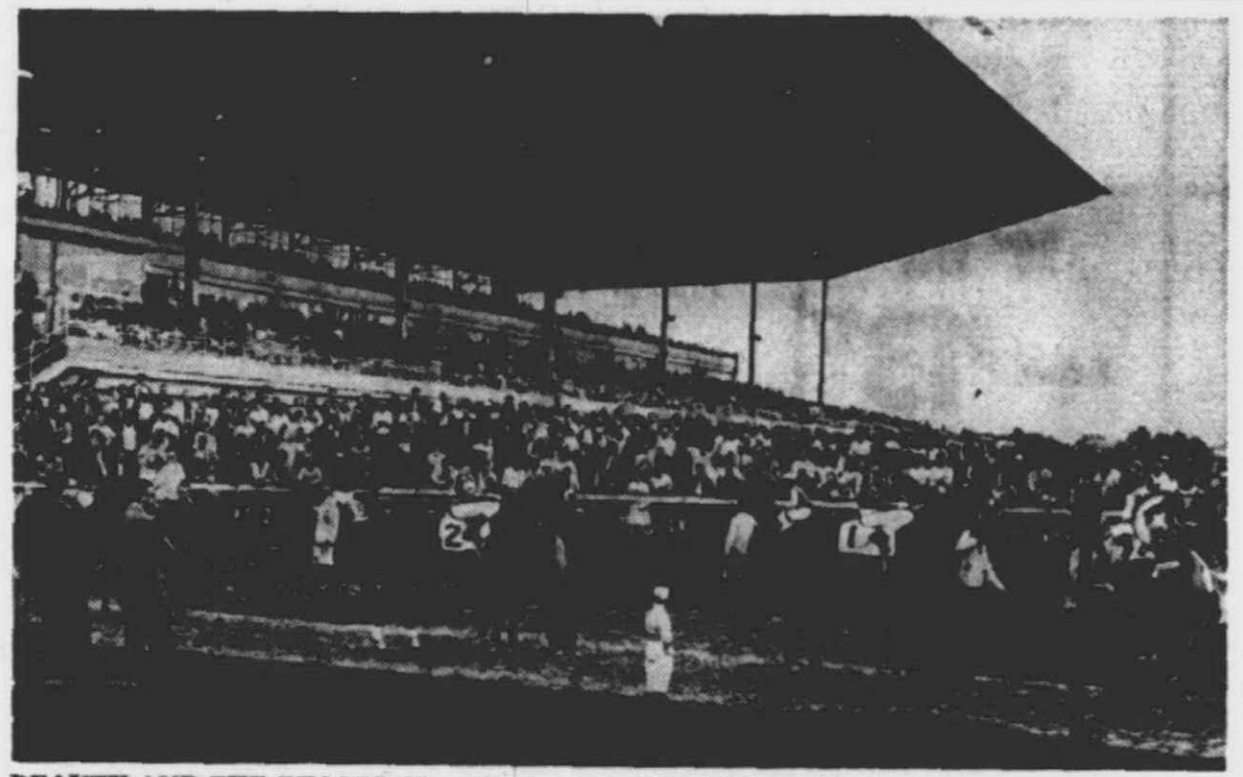

Tigers to Entertain Ladies on August 12

The final Ladies Day on the 1965 Tiger Stadium schedule will be played Thursday, August 12, with the Tigers meeting the Kansas City Athletics. As usual, admission will be 50 cents for women and girls, plus boys 14 or under.

The Tigers have won three of their four Ladies Day engagements this year and hope to chalk up another victory for their feminine fans in the final bargain day of the season.

OBSERVING SPORTS

By George Maskin

If you're one of those parents who has had to delay the summer's vacation because sonny boy was playing Little League baseball, read on.

Or, if you haven't decided on what to do in your time off during what's left of the summer, the following may interest you.

Or, if you are wondering, where can we go to relax for a few days... then, maybe this rendition can be of some value.

Those familiar with this particular weekly effort in the Observer have read from time to time about our various traveling ventures.

Most of the trips have come in the line of duty... with the Detroit Pistons. Going to such cities as New York, Philadelphia, Boston, etc. have become old stuff. The thrill attached to buzzing in a jet airliner isn't what it was at first.

But in getting around, we must admit today that if you're looking for some place beautiful and exciting and restful... why not try the northern part of our own state of Michigan?

We trekked north for a couple days with the touring contingent from the Detroit Pistons, who visited boys camps to stage clinics and exhibitions.

In less than four hours from downtown Detroit, without exceeding the 70 m.p.h. freeway speed, we hit Grayling. There, after a few hours for sleep, we headed westward toward Kalkaska and then up to a spot... and it's hardly much more... on the map called Kewadin.

A mile or so from Kewadin stands Camp Maplehurst, high between two lakes and with the beautiful Grand Traverse Bay just a few miles away.

You behold the sight with amazement. There's something about the air which makes you say to yourself: "Why can't it be that way down around Detroit?" Everything is so refreshing.

The hustle and bustle of the Metropolitan area is non-existent around Camp Maplehurst or Kewadin. Not even when a couple hundred campers swarm around Reggis Harding, Earl Lloyd and Dennis Butcher.

President Johnson couldn't have received a more royal victory.

From Maplehurst, the winding road along Grand Traverse Bay took us into Traverse City... a city which always has created a soft spot within us.

If you're going to Traverse City, don't take a chance of showing up at the last second and expect to find a motel or hotel empty. For miles along the main street, all you see are motels, and comes supper time everyone hangs out the "No Vacancy" sign.

On the next morning we're off to Glen Arbor and Glenn Haven... for an appearance at the Leelanau School and Camp for the boys.

The school and camp are nestled in the woods along Lake Michigan. Their basketball court rests on the beach, almost close enough to have a stray shot plopping into the cool waters of the lake.

We have delighted to watching basketball in a great many spots — like Cobo Arena in Detroit, Jenison Field House in East Lansing, the Boston Gardens in Boston and Madison Square Gardens in New York.

But never have we enjoyed cage action more than we did as the Pistons matched shots with the cagers with a million dollar ski hill behind us in one direction and the Manitou Islands clearly visible in another direction.

And if one peeked to the Southwest, he could spot the famed Sleeping Bear Dunes.

We drove over to see the Dunes... where special cars make it possible for one to race around and over the sand hills. Or, if you wish, you can engage in some climbing... a popular pastime of many hundreds every day.

Leaving the Traverse City area, you're less than an hour from Petoskey, another beauty spot.

And a few miles farther up the road is Mackinaw City and the great bridge across the Straits. And, from Mackinaw, there are the boats which make the crossings to Mackinac Island which Joe Dowdall of the Free Press this week described as the "Bermuda of the North."

On the Island, there are no cars. You either walk or ride in horse-drawn carriages.

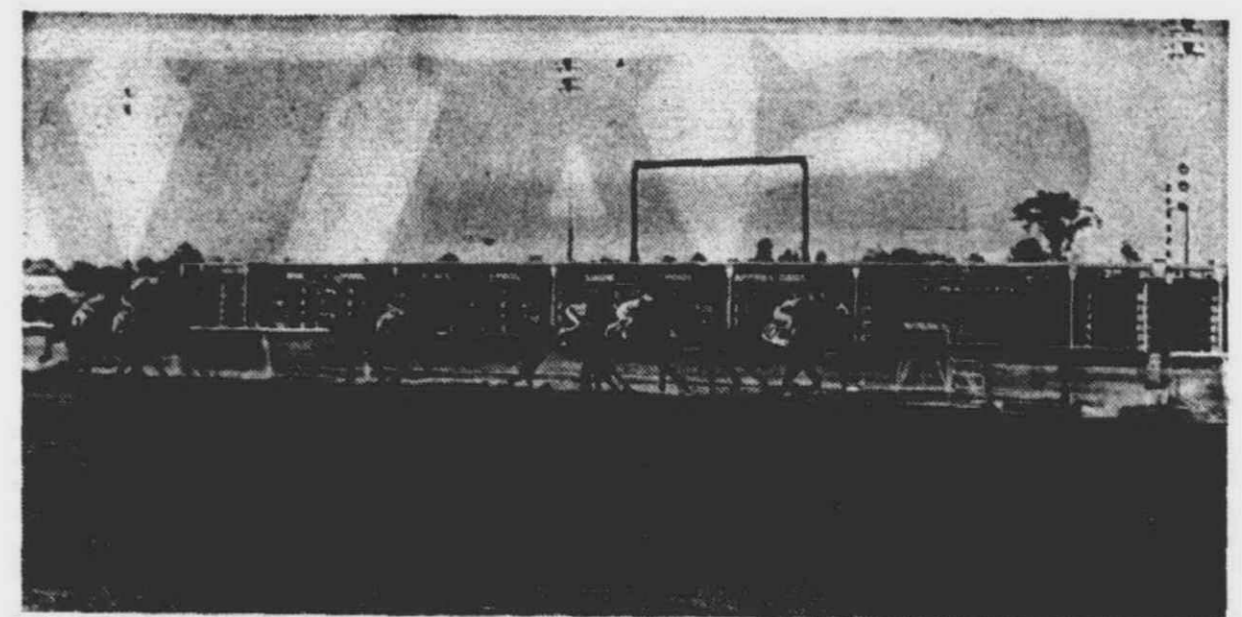

We could say a great deal more about Michigan... the countless lakes which jam Oakland County. From your airplane window, you get the impression that there is almost no land, just water in Oakland County.

The best part of seeing Michigan first is the fact that you can get around so quickly, thanks to the new expressway system. Five hours can take you from the Detroit area to the Straits.

Motel accommodations up north can't be topped. Nor can the food, the swimming, the air... or the scenery.

We should add that nobody from any travel agency or State Tourist group hounded us into these words. They simply came from deep within us.

You can't go wrong... looking around our wonderful Michigan!

ON TOP: In a driving finish, Cinder's Brother inaugurated the 84-day racing season at the Detroit Race Course by capturing the opening event of the meeting under a fine ride by the veteran Calvin Stone. Texas Avenue (No. 4) was the runner-up.

Area Stars Blaze In FP Action

Players from the Greater Livonia-Detroit Free Press League stole the honors last Saturday in outstate all-star competition at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

They combined with standouts from Oakland County to score a pair of victories—first over Lansing-Jackson, 5-0, and then over Midland-Saginaw-Alma, 7-1.

Dave Woloch from Redford Township was the hitting star in the opener.

He slammed a single, double and homer. His circuit sailed over the fence on the MSU diamond.

Jim Rose of the Livonia Giants also had three hits—all singles.

Woloch duplicated his homer blast in the second game in which three Townshippers — Tom Tanner, Rick Fisher and Arnold Helwig — teamed to turn in a no-hitter.

Tanner, who recently had a trial with a New York Yankee farm, worked five innings; Helwig and Fisher one each.

Rose also had three for three in the second game while Rick Harlow and Mike Stachurski added to the offensive thrust of the victors.

North Farmington Bested in Final for LL Title

Close... but, yet so far. That's the way it was for North Farmington's Little League baseball team.

The Stars had won three straight in District Four competition. That brought them against Birmingham Federal last Saturday for the crown.

But after North Farmington jumped in front, 1-0, in the first inning, Birmingham came back to take the contest, 7-2, and eliminate North Farmington in the one-defeat and out competition.

By winning, Birmingham Federal earned the right to face the District Three winners en route down the Little League road which ultimately winds up in Williamsport, Pa., where the world championships are decided each August.

Back-to-back doubles in the first and fifth innings accounted for the North Farmington runs.

In the initial frame, Rick Harton and Arnie Kakkonen connected; in the fifth it was Mike Gow and Dave McCoy.

Birmingham tallied once in the second to tie the score, then counted three in the third inning and sewed up matters with three more in the fifth.

A combination of fine pitching and long-ball belting enabled North Farmington to star its tournament bid in high gear by trimming Novi, 11-3.

Kevin Kropp hurled the route for the victors while Kakkonen delivered a grand-slam homer and Dave McCoy hit for the circuit with none aboard to simplify Kropp's job.

In the second game, North Farmington had to push across a run in the bottom of the sixth (Continued on Next Sport Page)

Cawley Wins Race in Kiev

Rex Cawley, of Farmington, won the 400-meter hurdles in the dual meet between the Soviet Union and the United States, in Kiev, last Sunday. The event was shown on television.

Though Cawley holds the world record and an Olympic Gold Medal in the event, he was not touted as a sure winner. There was fear that he might be hampered by an injured leg.

U-M Warns of Ticket Deadline

ANN ARBOR—With season ticket sales for Michigan's six home football games approximately 45 per cent ahead of 1964 at a comparable date, annual season ticket purchasers were reminded of the seating priority deadline.

Michigan Athletic Director H.O. (Fritz) Crisler announced that until the needs of regular season ticket purchasers who have been buying for years, as well as student enrollment needs become known, it will be necessary to suspend temporarily the sales of single game tickets for the Michigan-Michigan State game here, October 9.

"It is felt that after these needs have been determined," the Michigan athletic director said, "that individual ticket sales for this game may be resumed."

The Wolverine director said, however, that season ticket orders still will be accepted as well as individual orders for all other games on the home schedule.

Michigan's complete home schedule follows:

Sept. 25 — University of California (Band Day)
Oct. 2 — University of Georgia
Oct. 9 — Michigan State
Oct. 16 — Purdue (Homecoming)
Oct. 30 — Wisconsin
Nov. 20 — Ohio State.

Four "away" games are on the complete 10-game schedule in effect in the Big Ten for the first time. These include North Carolina at Chapel Hill, N.C., Sept. 18; Minnesota at Minneapolis, Oct. 23; Illinois at Champaign, Nov. 6, and Northwestern at Evanston, Nov. 13.

Farmington Colts Win Twice Before Fading in Districts

Farmington, North Farmington and Redford Township all made their bids last week for tournament honors in Colt League baseball action for boys 16-17 years of age.

Farmington enjoyed the best success, winning two and losing two. The Farmington team got off in high gear by rallying from a 3-1 deficit to beat Lincoln Park, 5-3. Don Wright knocked in two runs and Jerry Tinkle and Dan Wolfman one each for the victors.

The big hero for Farmington was Frank Carrico who turned in a brilliant job of relief pitching. He stopped Lincoln Park cold in the last five innings. Carrico also dropped a neat bunt to squeeze in what proved the go-ahead run for Farmington in the sixth inning. What happened in the next game is something Farmington players would just as soon forget. Southfield trounced Farmington, 13-0, as the losers committed seven errors. The next time out, Farmington trailed Redford by a 4-2 count, then exploded for five runs in the seventh (and final) inning to gain a 7-4 verdict.

Gary Smith started the comeback with a single. Wright doubled and Wolfman walked. Jim Carlson was safe on an error after which three more walks helped the Farmington team to forge in front.

Wright hurled for the victors and fanned 11. Loser Charles Rothwell also struck out 11 before weakening in the last inning.

Elimination for Farmington came against Birmingham in a thriller, 2-1. Wright singled in the only Farmington run as Wolfman held the victors to four hits.

Birmingham was led by Manager Steve Gromek, one-time pitcher for the Detroit Tigers and Cleveland Indians. Gromek's son, Greg, was the Birmingham team's standout individual.

Redford lost to Birmingham, 6-1, in its initial league encounter as Chuck Bondie of Redford turned in the game's finest defensive effort. He made a great catch and held on to the ball while banging into the fence.

Redford made only three hits—Greg Fulks, Tom Booker and Rod Ferguson.

With Deno Syrios tossing a three-hitter and fanning six, Redford bounced back to eliminate Lincoln Park. Henry DeLong and Ferguson scored for the victors.

Then came the defeat at the hands of Farmington.

The North Farmington Colts found St. Clair Shores too much. The Shores tripped North Farmington, 5-1, in the tourney's first game and then ousted North Farmington, 6-3, two games later.

Al Kilka socked a double while Steve Sager, Steve Madigan, Bob Johnson and Don Letchman delivered singles in the first game against the Shores.

In the second encounter, North Farmington went scoreless until the last inning when two errors, two walks and a pair of singles enabled the team to avert a shutout.

In between bowing to the Shores, North Farmington downed Southgate, 5-3. Fritz Simons hurled the victory. None of the runs were earned. He didn't walk a man.

Kilka and Sager were the hitting stars for North Farmington. Each had three hits in as many trips to the plate.

Redford Beats Giants For Free Press Title

Redford Township today is wrapped up in a best-of-three series with Ferndale for the right to gain a spot in Saturday's Detroit Free Press Baseball outstate baseball finals in Ann Arbor.

The Townshipers took the Greater Livonia-Free Press crown last Sunday by blanking the Livonia Giants, 8-0, to run its season's record to 14-3 in the newspaper's competition.

The series with Ferndale is to be decided on a best-of-three basis.

Game No. 1 was booked for last night in Livonia. The teams meet Wednesday evening at Royal Oak Memorial Field (Woodward and 13 Mile Road) at 8 p.m.

Should a third game be necessary Thursday, the rivals will flip a coin to determine whether they'll contest at Livonia's Ford Field or in Royal Oak.

Pony Stars Fall In 2 Straight

North Farmington Pony League All Stars were bounced in two straight games in district tournament action.

St. Clair Shores beat North Farmington, 2-0, as Jeff Werner collected the losers' only hit. Then the Farmington entry bowed to Redford, 4-3.

Today's villain is a scoundrel, but originally the word "villain" meant a farm hand, reports World Book Encyclopedia.

Redford received brilliant one-hit pitching from Lefty Arnold Helwig late of Thurston High and now of Port Huron J.C., in beating the Livonia Giants in Sunday's play-off at Ford Field.

Paul Deedler ruined Helwig's bid for a no-hitter when he slammed one off the pitcher in the third inning. The ball bounced away from Helwig and before he could retrieve it, Deedler had reached base.

Roger Frayer was the only other Livonian to reach first off Helwig. He got there in the first inning via an error Helwig set down the last 13 batters to face him in the game.

The Giants, which had won one Free Press round to Redford's three during the regular season, started Larry Ruszas on the mound. He needed help from Pete Hembrough and Bob Morgan before the afternoon was over.

Helwig himself started Redford on its way to an easy win, by tripling in the third. Dave Woloch singled, Rick Harlow tripled and Tim Fisher delivered a sacrifice fly to make the score, 3-0.

That's the way matters stood until the sixth. After Harry Hendrick and Reg Barringer walked and moved up on an infield out, both scored on Helwig's single.

Woloch also singled. Then Harlow lofted a long one for a homer to score behind Helwig and Woloch and wrap up the scoring.

N. Redford in State Tourney

North Redford accomplished what South Redford couldn't do—win a trip to the state Connie Mack baseball tournament which starts Friday in Marshall.

The North, guided by Bob Atkins, bested Wyandotte, 6-1, last Saturday to take district honors in a single-game elimination at Wyandotte.

The South, meantime, had lost in a double-elimination district completed at Livonia Friday night where Ann Arbor beat the Townshipers, 3-1.

Both the North and South had resigned as divisional champions in the Greater Livonia Connie Mack-Class D action during the regular season.

The North won the American Division, the South the National flag.

Rick Barryman emerged as the pitching hero while Clyde Ziegler was the batting star for North Redford in its district conquest.

Barryman struck out eight, walked three and allowed six hits. The lone run came off him in the fifth inning.

Meantime, Ziegler blasted in four runs. His first RBI came in the first inning when he singled across Jim Johnston who had singled and stolen second.

In the third inning, Robby Masson walked, stole second and came around on two throwing errors. In the fourth, Ziegler was safe on a fielder's choice, stole second and scored when Randy Maltby singled.

North Redford broke open the game in the fifth with three runs. Dick Beckerleg and Johnston walked and Harry Kendrick was safe on a fielder's choice. That brought up Ziegler who slashed a long double to knock in three runs.

The winners tallied six hits—two of them by Ziegler.

The district meet at Livonia had started with Ann Arbor beating Lincoln Park, 4-1.

The Parkers managed only one hit, but were able to conquer South Redford, 3-1, in eight innings. Rick Fisher was the victim of some shaky defense in the eighth.

A dropped pop fly started Lincoln Park on its way. Then came a walk and two more errors and Lincoln Park had its deciding runs.

Tom Fisher counted the lone Redford run when Claude McTaggart lifted a long, sacrifice fly.

South Redford called on Denny Manshusary, who was borrowed from Dearborn in the Greater Livonia League, against Ann Arbor.

While Denny pitched well enough to win on most occasions, the bats of South Redford, which usually have boomed, were pretty much on the quiet side.

The Townshipers had their chances, but couldn't put their six hits to work with any effectiveness.

The lone Redford run came when Bill Holmes singled, stole second and went to third on an error. He finished up by scoring when a pitch eluded the Ann Arbor catcher.

South Redford had to engage South Dearborn and the Livonia Giants for first place in the National Division and the right to enter the Mack tourney.

A two-hitter by Rick Fisher brought Redford an 11-0 romp over South Dearborn. Barry Sinescu rapped a double and homer and Tim Fisher a pair of singles to pace the Redford assault.

The next night saw Redford pin the Giants, 7-1, with Jim Sproul carving a two-hitter. Banwert cooked a homer, Sinescu a triple and two singles and Tim Fisher a single and a double.

Loses All Around

Gaylord Fisher, 28, of 1638 S. Wayne, Wayne, decided to try his luck at the pacers and trotters at Northville Downs and proceeded to lose $245 during his evening at the races.

The only rub is that Fisher is charged with using money from the cash drawer of the Clark Service Station, Plymouth at Merriman, and not his own.

That was the complaint of Station Manager Lanny Mikesell, 34626 Fairchild, Wayne, who reported to Livonia Police that Fisher had taken the cash for deposit in the bank but instead went to the track to try his luck.

His luck was bad and now it's even worse for he is charged with investigation of larceny over $100, according to police reports.

Loses in LL Tourney Finals

The big North Farmington bats boomed again in the team's 11-4 verdict over Southfield in the third round of the tournament.

Once more Kahkonen drilled a homer with three mates aboard. John McBeth, Harton and Tom Nicoloy also slugged homers while Kropp coasted along to his second pitching victory in as many tournament starts.

Al Kilka socked a double while Steve Sager, Steve Madigan, Bob Johnson and Don Letchman delivered singles in the first game against the Shores.

In the second encounter, North Farmington went scoreless until the last inning when two errors, two walks and a pair of singles enabled the team to avert a shutout.

In between bowing to the Shores, North Farmington downed Southgate, 5-3. Fritz Simons hurled the victory. None of the runs were earned. He didn't walk a man.

Kilka and Sager were the hitting stars for North Farmington. Each had three hits in as many trips to the plate.

Other winners: C FLIGHT — Florence Goodlesky low gross with 49 and Lou Nelson low puts. D FLIGHT — Alice Game, 47; Aline LaVier low puts. E FLIGHT — Cindy Rothley low gross with 74; and Irene Hudak, low puts.

Audrey Hermann had the low gross and low puts in the B Flights with a score of 50.

Use of Automation Gives Professors More Freedom

ANN ARBOR — Future students are likely to gain as the use of automation for independent study gives professors greater freedom.

At the same time, certain education trends — the need for more teachers, growth of residential colleges, improved ways to train assistants — are to grow stronger.

So predicts Prof. Stanford C. Ericksen, director of The University of Michigan Center for Research on Learning and Teaching.

"The use of automation for independent study by the student will give the professor greater freedom," Ericksen says. "This will enable the professor to meet his students in the more challenging tasks of opening new perspectives, and giving strength to their educational aspirations."

How about technological aids for instruction? "The book will continue to be the most versatile technological aid for teaching and learning," believes Ericksen.

"However, libraries are already storing information in several other forms. Tapes will become a familiar reference term as students retrieve knowledge from audio tapes, video tapes, magnetic computer tapes. The appropriate use of these new modes of presenting information must be guided by the same principles that now determine the proper use of a book, the laboratory, the reference library, or the library stacks." We will need many more teachers," he asserts. "And in addition to faculty expansion we probably will see an increase in the number of residential colleges. Hopefully, these smaller units — will provide a means of adding strength to undergraduate education rather than simply more classrooms."

Ericksen believes the next few years will bring efforts to improve ways of selecting, training and utilizing teaching assistants. "The discussion group will probably remain an integral part of the instructional process, and these classes will usually be taught by graduate-student teaching fellows," he says.

"College students should have the opportunity in the classroom to express, to discuss, and to reflect various opinions, points of view, and alternative interpretations. The teaching skills necessary to lead a stimulating discussion section may not always require the subject-matter expertise of a Ph.D. scholar or scientist."

Many departments are already beginning to explore better ways to use the teaching assistant as an educational resource for our undergraduate students, he points out.

The Ore Creek Camp received a total of 100 out of a possible 100 points, and the Lime Lake Camp received a total of 99 points. At the Ranch the score was, Beaver Creek 96 points, Trout Lake 96 points, and the Jack Lord Camp, in use for the first time in 1965, 98 points.

The "Par 100 Plan" of the Boy Scouts of America establishes minimum standards to encourage each Scout council to take an honest look at its facilities, equipment, staff services, and its program, James R. Bradburn Council Camping Committee Chairman explained.

Nationals Win Finale In Farmington Loop

South Farmington's National League All Stars acted like their big league brothers and beat the American League All Stars 6 to 5 in extra innings.

In the session final, the National League's Dennis Watson, Randy Rene, John Griffith, Mike Hughes and Jim Pooley were exceptional but the efforts of the American's Kevin Hibbs, Tom Kempf, Gary Rainey, Doug Hueman and Paul Simons made the Nationals extend themselves to win.

It was a fitting finale by the players of both teams who kept the spectators excited to the last out.

CURTAIN GOING UP

'Music Man' Is A Blockbuster!

By Wally Roberts

Absolutely wonderful! Magnificent! Oh, so tuneful! Beautifully staged! These salvos of praise greeted the exuberant, happy performers of "Music Man," Livonia's first all-city musical at Franklin High, as audience members milled about backstage.

Such adulation was earned by every member of the cast, orchestra, backstage crew, and their faculty sponsors, directors, and backers. Accolades are quite in order since this unique venture into the field of summer musical comedy took the concerted effort of so many people.

Hundreds of Livonians worked creatively and seemingly effortlessly to present a musical blockbuster. "The Music Man" is not an easy musical comedy to produce. Meredith Wilson's saccharine book and weird theatrical construction leaves you high and dry for smashing climactic endings. Act I and Act II sort of fritter away instead of building to the usual smash ending.

Many a community group has discovered how difficult this musical is to stage half-way through their rehearsal period. Not so with the Livonia Summer Workshop in Musical Comedy production. Directors Dave Hirvela and Roy Ernst merely elicited the cooperation and confidence of the cast to a higher degree and went on to produce a truly rollicking hit.

It would be proper to mention some names of the outstanding performers, but why bother. Everyone in the cast is delightful. They actually sparkle as they perform. The orchestra blends beautifully and never tries to take over from the performers. This cohesive musical action is an accomplishment seldom heard in many amateur productions.

A capacity house greeted the performers on opening night. Three more performances are scheduled for this coming weekend. I hope you can get tickets. You'll love every minute of this rich repast of tune-laden, brilliant musical entertainment. It's two hours of great theater.

There's an old saying in show business: "there are no small parts only small actors." In other words, no matter the size of your part you give it all you've got and create a polished "bit" part. "The Music Man" gleams as the youthful actors play their roles expansively. Every minor role was performed so expertly that you marveled at their explosive freshness as they pranced about on the Franklin High stage.

Truly, the key to the success of "Music Man" is the joy and fun each of the actors has with his part regardless of its size.

Dancing instruction was in the capable hands of Miss Stephanie Miquelon. Her swinging version in Act II lifts the Franklin High Lecture Theater several inches off its foundations. Such gleeful goings-on stop the show.

The singing in this youthful "Music Man" summer presentation deserves special mention. You can hear every word of the songs. Many a time old Wally has been at the Fisher and you have to strain to hear the lyrics. Not so with this crew of singers.

You hear every word of Willson's catchy lyrics. Many of the voices are untrained, but what they lack in tonal quality they make up for in an enthusiastic rendering of the tune.

Hirvela and Ernst, the two Livonia summer school staff members responsible for this first musical comedy workshop, happily have a smash-eroo on their hands. You'll see me back this weekend for another peek. I'll have to stand, but I don't care it'll be worth every minute of it.

From the opening rhythmic "Rock Island" number using the clickety-clacking tempo of the bumpy rails to the mournful blarney of the tuba when the River City Band plays its first concert, "The Music Man" in its summer stand at Franklin High School air-conditioned lecture theater is a pleasurable thrill-a-minute musical.

Here's hoping that many of the student's instructors and administrator friends will make it to the performances next weekend. They will be proud of this dazzling example of how over one hundred teen agers can be cooperative and so considerate of each other. So can't put a show together like "The Music Man" without learning a lot more than the pleasant music and words of the songs.

Livonia's summer high school orchestra which supplies the musical background for "The Music Man" at Franklin High School doesn't have 76 trombones, but it isn't a River City "think" band by any means.

It has quality and, unlike most school musical units, has four violins which help create a special mood that one rarely hears in a secondary school auditorium.

To put on a big six-night production, such as the Meredith Willson nostalgic comedy which brings into happy focus small town life in the early years of this century, takes the hearty cooperation of many hundreds of youngsters, parents, teachers, and supervisors.

This carefree and bouncy musical, which played to packed houses last week with Linda Aubry playing the role of Marion Paroo, the librarian, will again be presented this Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at 8 with Susan Eggers carrying the female lead.

Jon Smith will continue bearing the load of singing the strenuous role of Prof. Harold Hill and Robert Curry will carry on as colorful Mayor Shinn of River City, Iowa, where the action takes place.

How do so many people get together to put on a community-rooted show of this kind

It takes a lot of planning and dedication and perspiration and a few tears to pull together the musicians, the dancers, the costumes, the sets, and to make sure that the make-up, the choreography, the lighting, the program, the house crew, the ticket sellers and scores of others are on the job at the right time and place.

In the case of "The Music Man" auditions started as early as last January, when director David P. Hirvela and musical director Roy E. Ernst began interviewing some 300 young people eager to try out for parts. Each was heard several times before casting decisions were finalized.

Persons in key roles were assigned parts before the school term ended to enable them to spend extra pre-production days in learning their lines and projecting their new stage personalities.

The orchestra, mostly Franklinites, has many young folks in it with experience gained in suburban schools and in music camps such as Interlochen.

According to Ernst, the orchestra was assembled just three weeks before curtain time.

The four violinists were Janet Kelly, Chris Kolberg, Nancy Kushigian, and Shirley Li; on cello were Floyd Fisher and Jill Hauswirth; on bass was Rick Plester; in the flute section: Pamela Halton, Jane Tughan, and Nancy Waring.

On clarinets: Judy Shirley,

Pamela Smith, and Diane Wolf; base clarinetist was Delores Hedstrand; on trumpets were Lee Burgess, Mark Burke, John Crick, Barbara Enloe, Ira Hearshen, and Rick Sorensen; on oboe was Margaret Rabinovitch.

Playing the bassoon was Pat Randall; on trombones were Robert Clark, Terry Jones, Gary Martin and Stuart Miller; in the percussion section were Kent Brown, Kay Grismer, and William Love; and at the piano was Wayne Hindmarsh.

In charge of the task of designing and constructing the sets were Franklin art teachers Anthony Balogh and Robert Kauffman aided by a stage and properties crew consisting of Vickie Halton, Becky DesJardins, June Lewis, Roxanna Maddox, Patricia Madigan, Deborah Petty, Tina Petty, Elizabeth Ray, Judy Renwick, Ethel Somers, Sue Tehison, Alice Tughan, Rosemary Tzareff, and Maureen Thorden.

The colorful period costumes were designed by home economic teacher Mrs. Helen Nutter who looked to Linda Beamish, Sue Chamberlin, Penny Roberts, and Ginette Hilliams to carry out the job of finishing the sprightly clothing of the 1910's.

Mrs. Shirley Perryman, a Franklin teacher who volunteered her skills as a make-up artist handled this difficult assignment with the aid of Karen Baxter, Kathy Brynn, Becky DesJardins, and Marsha Nichols. Their transformation of junior high student Linda Eagle into the elderly Irish mother Mrs. Paroo, helped convince many in the audience that the role was being played by an adult non-student.

The faculty of Schoolcraft college who may be looking forward to producing musicals and dance programs are lucky. Stephanie Miquelon, who handled the choreography for "Music Man" and who helped stage the "Bye, Bye Birdie" dancing earlier this year, graduated from high school in June and is already enrolled in Schoolcraft.

Assistant director and stage manager was Ovid Amos and the lighting was handled by Cliff Brody and Robert Burns. The cover for the "Music Man" program was the creation of Robert Curry.

The auditorium duties were handled by Karen Baxter, Kathy Brynn, Diane Juengel, Roxanna Maddox, Marsha Nichols, and Ginette Williams.

Both Hirvela and Ernst acknowledged their appreciation to many others who helped make the show possible: the school Board and headquarters' administrators, Franklin principal David Amerman, summer school principal Glenn McAdam, the drama departments of both Bentley and Franklin, the Livonia-Redford theatre guild, Robert Wall of the Wayne County Intermediate School District, Stella Kropelnicki and her printing unit, and many others who helped.

6 Plays Scheduled at Classic Theatre

Four centuries of the English-speaking stage will be covered in the third season of Wayne State University's Hilberry Classic Theatre. Director Leonard Leone announced Saturday that the season will be expanded to six plays, all by writers for the British and American theatre.

The season goes back to the seventeenth century for two plays by Shakespeare: "The Tempest" and "All's Well That Ends Well." The eighteenth century is represented by Oliver Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer," and the nineteenth century by Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest." G. B. Shaw's "Saint Joan" and Thornton Wilder's "The Skin of Our Teeth" are the twentieth-century selections.

For the first time, the Hilberry will open two plays during the first week of the season. "The Tempest" will open January 12 and "She Stoops to Conquer" on Jan. 13. "All's Well That Ends Well" will be added the second week, opening Jan. 19. "Saint Joan" and "The Skin of Our Teeth" will be launched in February and the sixth play, "The Importance of Being Earnest," will not open until May.

Once open, all plays will continue to perform in weekly repertory until the season closes June 11. Performances are Wednesday through Saturday evenings, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday. There will be one dark week, March 27 through April 2, this week between the university's winter and spring quarters.

Stars Teach Local Talent

Performing artists of outstanding professional stature are filling double roles this summer at Oakland University.

Last week Saramae Endlich, soprano, Florence Kopleff, contralto, and Blake Stern, tenor, stepped into the spotlight on the stage of the Baldwin Pavilion as soloists on the Meadow Brook School of Music Festival program.

With Kenneth Smith, bass-baritone, they performed under the direction of Robert Shaw, who conducted the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and the adult chorus of the new Meadow Brook School of Music in Beethoven's "Missa Solemnis."

Since July 6, Miss Endlich, Miss Kopleff and Stern also have been on the teaching staff of the Meadow Brook School of Music, giving to the hopeful young students under their tutelage the benefits of talents and careers that have taken each to the heights of musical success.

Local residents attending the classes in four different categories which ended July 31 are:

Youth Chorus: Georgina Buttigieg of 29363 Shackett, Garden City; University Chorus: Meadowlark, Farmington; Choral Conductors: Mrs. Maria Schmitz of 32156 Ann Arbor Trail, Garden City; Jack Trudgeon, 15655 Williams, Livonia; Mrs. Shirley Harden, 31840 W. Chicago, Livonia; Lowell Everston, 14515 Loveland Dr., Livonia; and Mrs. Lorraine Edwards, 15135 Garden, Livonia; Orchestra, Lois Reid, 14720

BETTY JEAN SMITH, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith of Livonia, will play the French horn at the Meadowbrook Orchestra concert at the Rackham Building Aug. 11 at 8:30 p.m. Betty will enter Wayne State University in September, where she has already been accepted to play in the WSU Concert Band.

Sylvi Lin To Solo This Week

Sylvi Lin, pianist, will be soloist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra for Oakland University's Meadow Brook Music Festival concert Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 5-6-7, at 8:30 p.m. in the Howard C. Baldwin Memorial Pavilion. Sixteen Edwin will conduct.

The young Swedish-American artist born in the United States will be making her first appearances in this country in eight years with these performances. In Europe she has become one of the most sought after solo pianists on the concert stage.

Thursday and Friday night Miss Lin will play the Ravel Concerto in G major on a program which will include Weber's Overture to "Euryanthe," Beethoven's Symphony No. 4 in B flat major and Lutoslawski's Concerto for Orchestra.

Saturday Miss Lin will play the Ravel Concerto in G major on a program which will include Weber's Overture to "Euryanthe," Beethoven's Symphony No. 4 in B flat major and Lutoslawski's Concerto for Orchestra. Pavilion seats and grounds admission for Meadow Brook are available at the Festival office, Oakland University, telephone 338-7211.

THE AMERICAN DRAMA FESTIVAL featuring 19th century American Drama is currently underway at the Henry Ford Museum at Greenfield Village. Plays in the repertory are: "Fashion," "Almighty Dollar," and "Superstition." Curtain is 8:30 p.m. each night except Tuesday through Sept. 6.

WSU's Bonstelle Theatre Announces '65-'66 Schedule

Wayne State University will present six English and Continental plays, including two musicals, on its 1965-66 Bonstelle Theatre subscription series.

The season, announced Saturday by Leonard Leone, director of the Wayne State University Theatre, includes "The Threepenny Opera" by Bertolt Brecht and Kurt Weill, "The Physicists" by Henrik Ibsen, "The Comedy of Errors" by Shakespeare, and "Stop the World, I Want to Get Off" by Anthony Newley and Leslie Bricusse.

The season opens with "The Threepenny Opera" on Oct. 8, followed by "The Physicists" on Nov. 12, "Luther" on Jan. 28, "When We Dead Awaken" on March 4, "Comedy of Errors" on April 15, and "Stop the World" on May 13.

Each play runs for two weeks, Friday and Saturday the first week and Thursday through Sunday the second week. All performances are at 8:30 except the Sunday performance, which is a 2:30 matinee.

Season tickets go on sale in September and individual tickets in October. Brochures with order blanks may be requested by calling 833-1400, extension 408.

"The Threepenny Opera," Brecht's greatest popular success, was written and first produced in Germany in 1928, and established his fame. It was first performed in America at the Empire Theatre in New York in 1933, and received a highly successful revival off-Broadway in 1954 and 1955.

A ballad opera with music by Kurt Weill, "Threepenny Opera" is a free adaptation of John Gay's "Beggars' Opera." It is set in a fantastic late nineteenth-century Soho and features ballads inspired by

Sentiment Can Sway Woman Home Buyer

Women often are attracted to a house for sentimental reasons. They will jump at the chance to buy a house that has charm and one outstanding feature, and so many other drawbacks that it doesn't even make sense. Sometimes there isn't even room for the family. "We can always add to it," are famous last words that have made some families miserable.

For one thing—you can't always add to it. And for another—you can't always afford to add to it.

There is a notion among house buyers that if you buy an eight room house for say $32,000 that you should certainly be able to add additional rooms at less than $4,000 each.

This doesn't always work out. Adding to a house can be a rich man's hobby, unless he can get materials at cost and do the work himself, or he lives in an area where labor is very cheap.

People who have had the experience of putting additions to a structure say they were appalled at the cost. In many cases they found it far better to sell the house and move to a larger one.

There are other reasons for deciding against an addition. If it is tacked on to a tiny house in a tiny-house neighborhood, it may look off base.

Many people do not like the big-fish-in-a-little-pond look, so the improvement may not increase the value of the house when the time comes to sell it.

Even if one has lots of land so that he could add without affecting the original appearance of the house, an addition is very serious business.

As costs of materials rise, we may not be able to duplicate the look of the old dwelling.

There is a wide margin in bids in the same neighborhoods, in some instances.

Local carpenters often work for much less than high-powered contractors with big overhead.

Local men have learned how to cut corners, and often are willing to employ ingenuity that can save their neighbors money.

But a contractor with a big overhead may make the cost of adding to the house such a financial burden that you can't carry it.

State Takes Steps To Capture Beetles

More than 20,000 traps have been placed throughout the state to capture Japanese beetles. The beetles emerge from the soil at this season to feed on field crops, fruits, vegetables, lawns, and even ornamentals.

If the 20,000 traps yield no more beetles than they did last year, workers will be delighted in the Michigan Department of Agriculture's Plant Industry Division and the USDA's Plant Pest Control Division. It will mean that the eradication program operated jointly by these agencies is paying off handsomely.

With the exception of the badly infested area around Battle Creek, it was necessary to treat with insecticide only 1,504 acres in all Michigan last year. But at Battle Creek it was different.

Here 12,434 acres were treated with dieldrin to destroy the pest beneath the ground, where it spends 10 months feeding on rootlets before emerging.

Japanese beetle traps are bright yellow and somewhat resemble a lantern. They are suspended about three feet above ground on rods. Baited with aromatic oils the traps attract beetles from 500 or more feet. The aromatic oils are not poisonous but should not be taken internally.

Traps merely locate the presence of Japanese beetles and indicate areas where insecticide application should be made. They are not considered control devices in themselves. Traps are placed in yards, parks, in fields, or along highways.

Many of this year's traps will be placed in the metropolitan Detroit area. There also will be significant numbers located in Berrien, Lenawee, and Monroe Counties as well as greater Battle Creek.

Traps also will be placed extensively in Saginaw and Muskegon Counties with lesser numbers scattered in other parts of the state.

Laymen often mistake rose chafers for Japanese beetles. Japanese beetles are slightly larger but have copper-colored wings and metallic green heads. Tiny white dots under the wings are a positive identification.

Renovate Beds After Harvest

Strawberry beds to be renovated should be free of insects, disease and heavy infestations of serious weeds such as quackgrass, sorrel, purslane, crabgrass and chickweed.

If you have an infestation of these weeds, dig up the planting after harvest.

Prompt and proper renovation is essential. Mow the old leaves immediately after the last picking. Mow as close to the ground as possible without injuring plant crowns.

If renovation is not completed after harvest, do not mow the leaves when the beds are renovated.

Following mowing, broadcast 12-12-12 fertilizer over the bed at a rate of 10 pounds per 1,000 square feet.

Narrow the rows to 8 to 12 inches in width. Then the remaining plants six to eight inches apart.

Irrigate the bed, especially on light textured soils.

Here's Gay Idea For Sun Canopy

Here's an idea for a perky, colorful sun canopy for a garden sitting room.

Set 4x4 inch Douglas fir posts at the corners and connect them with beams to form an open square. Four-by-fours or doubled 2x4s make good beams. Next, run 1x10s crosswise, spacing them three to five feet apart and nailing them narrow edge down.

Now weave wide strips of colorful canvas under and over the 1x10s and staple the canvas ends to the end beams, or tie them through screw eyes.

Bacteria Helps Maintain and Build Soil Fertility

Soil suitable to plant growth is the home of innumerable living beings too small to be seen with unaided eyes. Every ounce of fertile soil normally contains a larger number of living organisms — bacteria, etc. — than the human population of the entire world.

Over 50,000 bacteria could perch on a pinhead says Walter Haldeaman of the Pennsylvania State University.

Bacteria are among the living forms active in building and maintaining soil fertility. Gardeners need to know that adding lime and organic matter increases bacteria population, benefiting plants by humus formation and "fixing" of nitrogen.

Fixing of nitrogen is the conversion from gaseous to nitrate or other solid forms usable by plants in protein formation.

According to a Pennsylvania State University correspondence course, bacteria are both helpful and harmful. Cheese, sauerkraut, alcohol and penicillin are among their products.

But some bacteria grow within or on animals and plants, causing diseases. Tuberculosis and typhoid fever among humans, brucellosis in cattle, cholera in hogs, wilts, leaf spots and blights of plants are results of bacterial activity.

Bacteria are an ever-present threat in foods. Canning, refrigerating, freezing and pasteurizing are done to reduce bacterial action, the cause of food spoilage.

To present the many kinds of bacteriology — soil, medical, dairy, industrial and plant pathology — Penn State offers its course by mail.

Anyone may enroll and receive a course copy by sending his name and address with $3

Clever Shades Cut Off Breezes

Everyone likes a cool breeze across the patio or deck, but no one wants a real wind.

To catch the breezes and eliminate stronger winds, here's an idea.

Build open frames of 4x4 inch Douglas fir or white fir lumber at either end of the patio or deck, anchoring them firmly to deck framing or the patio paving. Make the frames four feet wide by six feet tall, using the 4x4s for sides as well as top and bottom members.

Next, attach screw eyes along the bottom member, spacing them about three inches apart. Then install "window shades" of brightly colored canvas on the underside of the top member.

When the wind whips up, simply pull down the shades, lash their lower edge into the screw eye at bottom, and you have a fine wind baffle. When the weather's fine, leave the shades rolled up.

Paint the frames black or stain them a natural wood tone.

Air Conditioned

For an air-conditioned patio, take a tip from the Japanese and build an engawa — an elevated wood deck that lets cooling air flow underneath.

Mormon Missionaries Conducting Area Visits

PROSELYTIZING FOR THE Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints (Mormons) The two Mormon missionaries are part of a six member "task force" currently in the area including Livonia, Redford Township, Garden City, Nankin Township, Plymouth and Farmington, seeking converts.

In 1820 in the town of Palmyra, New York a 14-year-old boy named Joseph Smith caused a stir when he related a vision in which he claimed to have talked with God the Father and his son Jesus Christ.

Joseph Smith was the prophet, founder and first president of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints. The congregation, popularly known as the Mormons, has grown in size and social acceptance from that time.

One of the best known facts about the Mormons—other than its controversial practice of polygamy during the 19th century—is its active and continuing missionary work throughout the world including the United States.

Michigan residents, of course, are familiar with this activity because of George Romney's son, Scott's, missionary activity in England during the 1962 election campaign.

Proselytizing among all people has been carried on by Mormons since the early times of the church.

Six young missionaries working under the Great Lakes Mission (of which Michigan is a part) have come to the area to conduct door to door visitations looking for converts.

The six, who are donating two years for the church missionary work, will ask two basic questions: "How much do you know about the Mormon Church?" and "Would you like to know more?"

The missionaries, who can be contacted at GA 7-8782, are:

- Sister Jean Farnell from Mesa, Arizona;
- Sister Judy Bollschweiler of Bountiful, Utah;
- Elder Donald E. Galley, Preston, Idaho;
- Elder Steven K. Wirick, Ogden, Utah;
- Elder Darrell M. Behunin, Fremont, Utah; and
- Elder Duane Johnson, Nampa, Idaho.

The age range is from 19 to 21 years of age.

They are among the 40 percent of young men and 20 percent of women in the Mormon who volunteer for the missionary program.

In addition to conducting a door to door survey of the entire area they will meet with church groups or civic organizations to explain their beliefs.

This group is a part of the more than 12,000 full time Mormon missionaries that are currently on every continent. They are being supported either by their families or with funds that they have saved in preparation for the program.

The missionaries are distinct from the local Mormon Ward which hopes to begin construction of its building next spring in Livonia.

The Livonia Ward encompasses Livonia, Garden City, Farmington, Redford Township, Plymouth, Nankin Township, Northville, parts of Novi and Dearborn Heights.

Current membership of this ward is 535. Its membership has practically doubled during the past three years, and the missionaries feel that the potential for growth is great.

The Mormon Church, with headquarters in Salt Lake City, Utah, now has a membership of two and a half million people. In the past ten years the church has doubled in size. It is currently growing at a rate of about six percent convert-wise per year.

Stephen H. Droege Ordained Deacon

St. James Episcopal Church, on West Outer Drive, was recently the scene of one of Christianity's most highly regarded institutions as the Rt. Rev. Archie H. Crowley, Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese of Michigan, ordained Stephen H. Droege to the sacred order of Deacons.

The service, conducted before an overflow congregation followed a tradition dating back as far as New Testament times where the three-fold ordained ministry is Biblically described.

Following the procession of more than 40 participants in the service, visiting clergy, and choirs, the Rev. William F. Church, Deacon of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, read the Preface to the Ordinal, which states the requirements necessary before a man be admitted to the office of Deacon.

The sermon, given by the Rev. Ralph W. Parks, Jr., Rector of All Saints Episcopal Church, Detroit, re-stated the importance and functions of the office of Deacon to the Church.

The actual ordination of the Rev. Stephen Droege, 58, a chemical technician for the Ethyl Corporation of Detroit, took place during the Sacrament of Holy Communion. The candidate was presented by the Rev. Garfield N. Brown, Rector, St. James' Detroit, and was invested—robed in garments and stole of his office—by Victor Lovett, Director of Acolytes at St. James'.

The major responsibilities of the office of Deacon include the authority to read the Holy Gospel, distribute the elements of Holy Communion, visit the sick, train the youth, and pending licensing by the Bishop, to preach sermons.

Also highly honored at the service and the reception which followed was the Rev. Carl T. Hall, who last month celebrated his tenth anniversary since ordination to the deaconate. The congregation honored both deacons with gifts.

Dale Mankin, junior warden of St. James' acted as master of ceremonies at the reception, which was organized and directed by Mrs. Virginia Swickler of St. James'.

Other participants in the service were: Emery Gravelle, III, senior student, Berkeley Divinity School, master of ceremonies; The Rev. Carl T. Hall, St. James', litanist; C. God loves you and cares for you momentary as you have nothing to fear. From the depths of your soul His voice eternally reminds you, "I will not fail you, neither will I forsake you." No matter whom you meet, God is the animating presence in that person. In every situation that confronts you keep your mind filled with thoughts of God's presence and all fear will leave you, for only those thoughts which have your immediate attention and interest can affect you.
You are surrounded with His mantle of protection. Whenever you feel alone or afraid, remind yourself that the very atmosphere that is all about you is charged with healing, beneficent forces.

Diesel Sets Records at Redford

C. W. Truxell, general manager of Detroit Diesel Engine Division of General Motors announced Monday that production and sales in the first half of 1965 established records for the division. 7,395,304 horsepower were produced by Detroit Diesel—31.6 per cent more than in the corresponding period last year, which was the previous record.

Truxell pointed to an increase of over 56 per cent in sales of diesel engines to the trucking industry as a prime contributor to the new records. He also pointed out that Canadian shipments increased over 105 per cent; shipments for industrial applications were up approximately 40 per cent; and shipments to U.S. distributors were up over 40 per cent.

In the six month period, Detroit Diesel sold engines to over 400 equipment manufacturers for over 3,000 different types of power applications. It is this nearly universal acceptance by equipment manufacturers that has resulted in such record-breaking production for Detroit Diesel.

Plant expansion continues at Detroit Diesel to keep up with production demands. In April, a new 200,000 square foot manufacturing area was put into operation. Later this year, a new engineering laboratory and a new addition to the administration building will be opened.

Ypsilanti Post Trooper Named "Man of Year"

Trooper Robert L. Johnston, 36, of the Ypsilanti post, has been chosen Michigan State Police "Trooper of the Year" for 1964 and is the third winner of the Gerstacker award for outstanding community service or heroic action, Commissioner Frederick E. Davids announced. He was selected from five nominees by a three-man civilian committee.

Trooper Johnston was chosen because of his record of public service.

The award was provided several years ago by Dr. and Mrs. Carl A. Gerstacker of Midland. He is chairman of the board of the Dow Chemical Company.

With the award goes $500 to be used by the winner in three ways: For furthering his education through employment-related courses; as donations to charitable causes or worthy community projects; or left on deposit with the Michigan State Police Association for the welfare of departmental employees.

License Revenue Up $3.25 Million

LANSING—If you were in business and that business showed $3¼-million increase in profits the first six operating months of the year without a substantial increase in cost, it would be considered quite successful.

That's where the Department of State finds itself with its vehicle licensing operation over the first half of 1965.

Total income from November 1, 1964, the start of the issuance of licenses, and May 31, 1965, was nearly $73-million. Transactions kept pace with the increased revenue, showing a 175,000 rise.

Passenger cars led the upward swing, more than 140,000 over 1964 totals up to 3.2-million. Total vehicle licensing for 1965 edged toward the four-million total.

1,117,381 Titles Issued in 3 Months For Record

LANSING — The second quarter of 1965 . . . April, May and June . . . proved to be the biggest three-month period in Michigan vehicle titling history.

The record quarter shot the first-half of 1965 to a new high, 1,117,381, a six percent increase over last year at the same time.

All three months of the second quarter were above the 200,000-mark, with April a new all-time high month of 238,076. May kept pace with 205,887, and June proved the second largest month in history with 221,436 titles issued. The three-month figure was 665,400.

Rep. Ford Sums Up New Legislation

(This is the first in a series of periodic reports, planned to keep the 15th Congressional District informed of legislative activities and other significant events in the nation's capital.)

By CONGRESSMAN WILLIAM D. FORD
In its first seven months, the 89th Congress has adopted a wide range of significant legislation which already has marked this Congress as the most productive in recent United States history. There are still a number of important items on our legislative calendar, and there appears little prospect of Congress adjourning before October.

Among major accomplishments to date are the following:
WAR ON POVERTY
The House, on July 22, approved legislation to extend and expand the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, which is the heart of President Johnson's War on Poverty Program.

The 1965 amendments allocate $1.895 billion to finance the various anti-poverty projects — Community Action Programs, Project Head-Start, Job Corps, Neighborhood Youth Corps, Work-Experience Programs, College Work-Study Programs, Adult Basic Education, Rural Loans, Small Business Loans and the VISTA (Volunteers in Service to America), which offers volunteers aged 18 or over a chance to work with migrant laborers, Indians, slum residents and patients in institutions for the retarded and mentally ill.

President Johnson has called for complete elimination of poverty, which affects an estimated one-fifth of the United States population. I am convinced that the Economic Opportunity Act can be a powerful tool in this great campaign.

MEDICARE AND SOCIAL SECURITY
Both Houses of Congress have passed and the President has approved the 1965 amendments to the Social Security Act, which will establish a hospital insurance program for persons 65 and over, under the Social Security Program. Senior citizens also are offered an optional health benefits plan, at minimal cost, with matching federal funds available.

In addition, the amendments will increase all Social Security benefits by seven per cent. The Social Security tax will be increased, over the next eight years, from the present 3.625 percent to 4.8 percent, for both employer and employee. This is one of the most far-reaching actions taken by the 89th Congress, and it will be a tremendous boon to our millions of senior citizens.

It will enable them to live their twilight years in dignity and security, free from the constant fear that illness or poor health will force them to become dependent upon their loved ones.

EDUCATION
I am very proud to be a member of the House Education and Labor Committee, and its General Education Subcommittee, which drafted and successfully fought for adoption of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965. This legislation, passed by both houses and signed into law by President Johnson, is the first bill ever approved by Congress to provide general financial assistance for elementary and secondary education. Although it is aimed directly at some 4,000,000 poverty-stricken children, the funds will go to local public school districts in 95 percent of United States counties. This program brings the resources of the federal government into the fight to provide both quality and equality for the education of our children.

Pending before Congress is the Higher Education Act of 1965, which allocates $250,000,000 in the first year of a five-year program to improve and expand educational facilities at the college and university level. The major portion of the funds — $130,000,000 in the first year — is for assistance to needy students through a scholarship program.

HOUSING
Both the House and Senate have passed the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1965, which continues and expands the federal government's role in helping to assure adequate housing for all. A major innovation is the rent subsidy plan, under which funds will be provided to pay part of the rent for low-income families who cannot afford decent private housing.

In addition to low income, other requirements are that the wage-earner is either elderly or handicapped, or the family must have been displaced by government action or living in substandard housing. The program is primarily aimed at persons in the $4,000-$6,000 income range, although income ceilings will be set individually by each community to re-reflect varying conditions throughout the nation.

It is expected that this program will encourage the private construction of some 500,000 housing units over the next four years to meet the needs of lower income families.

EXCISE TAX CUTS
Of direct importance to every American is the Excise Tax Cuts of 1965, which were passed by both houses and signed by President Johnson. The reductions, which total $4.7 billion, will eliminate all federal excises by 1969 except a one-per-cent manufacturers' tax on passenger cars, and some uses and regulatory excises. These taxes were levied as emergency measures during World War II and the Korean War.

This was the first major reduction since they were imposed. Of major concern to the average citizen will be the elimination of excises on telephone bills, furs, cosmetics, jewelry, luggage, appliances, air conditioners, and admission tickets for theatres and other events.

These reductions are part of President Johnson's announced plan to continually examine and readjust our tax system to make sure that it makes the maximum contribution to our economic growth. The excise taxes had become nothing but a drag on both consumer and business purchasing power.

SENIOR CITIZENS
A landmark of the 89th Congress was the passage of the Older Americans Act of 1965, which has been signed by President Johnson. It creates an Administration on Aging within the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, headed by a Commissioner on Aging. It also establishes a 16-member advisory commission on aging.

This represents the first attempt by the federal government to help solve the problems of America's growing number of senior citizens. The Act allocates $5 million for fiscal 1966, and $3 million for 1967, plus undetermined amounts for the next three years, in grants to the states. The money will be used in community planning and coordination, demonstration programs and training of special personnel for work with the elderly.

Additional funds are authorized for study and research into the needs of older persons, and means of meeting these needs. This is a long overdue step which will be of vital importance to millions of Americans who have reached, or will reach, the age of retirement.

VIET NAM
Although not basically a legislative matter, the situation in Viet Nam is of great concern to every American, and, indeed, to freedom-loving people everywhere.

It is becoming clear that our role in Viet Nam must be expanded if we are to help the South Vietnamese resist the Communist aggressors from North Viet Nam. The eyes of the entire world are on this struggle, for on its outcome may depend the future course of world history.

A communist victory could pave the way for communication of all Asia. By successfully blocking the Viet Cong aggression, we will demonstrate to the world, and particularly to so-called neutral nations, that the United States will fulfill its commitments to help free nations retain their liberty.

City Leaders Summoned To Court

Officials of Garden City are scheduled to appear in Circuit Court today to show cause as to why they should not approve issuance of entertainment permit to Frederick's Cocktail Lounge at 29447 Ford Road in the central business district.

Owner Frederick Nesley obtained a writ for the court appearance from Circuit Judge Benjamin D. Burdick after the City Council declined to recommend to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission that the license be granted.

The lounge has recently been featuring Discotheque (dancing to records) and the A Go-Go girls who perform as soloists.
