Cape told his new Byron Ave. paving illegal, seek test

The City of Plymouth Commission Monday night told builder Thomas Cape that he had illegally paved a City street, but that they would hold off action until tests of the paving were made.

Cape had requested permission to pave Byron Ave. between Harvey and McKinley, but they had told him to wait until they heard from their engineering firm, Johnson and Anderson.

Rene Peters, the City's project engineer, had a report ready, but it was too late. The street had been paved by Thompson, McCully, the company currently paving Plymouth streets.

City Attorney Edward Draugelis said the street had been paved in violation of the law, and advised the Commission that "no private person has the right to improve a public right-of-way."

Commissioner Arch Vallier asked if he had obtained a permit, and was told Cape didn't need one, according to City ordinances.

COMMISSIONER James Jabara questioned Cape about his actions, but Cape exploded, apparently mad at Vallier, and moved over towards him. He accused Vallier of saying something under his breath:

"Arch, I don't like that kind of language."

Vallier then said: "Have a policeman come up and eject this man from the meeting." Vallier said he didn't say anything.

Cape retorted: "That's a lie. Alright, Arch, I'd like to get back to this," indicating his plans.

"As a City official do I have to take this kind of language. I'd like a ruling from our attorney," Vallier said.

City Attorney Edward Draugelis said he hadn't heard any remark from Vallier, and told Cape:

"You're a guest here. You have no right to insult any Commissioner." Draugelis further indicated that the matter was a problem for the chair.

Mayor James Houk then said: "Things have gotten out of line several times recently."

CAPE THEN was asked to explain his actions. He said he came home from work, and the workers had leveled the road off, preparing it for paving.

"We decided . . . we wanted so badly to get this project finished . . . so we would have happy tenants."

Houk then said: "If you put people in there before your buildings were ready it was your responsibility."

Jabara then told Cape: "If you could sit on both sides of the fence you can understand our feelings." Cape said that Jabara would understand better if he had come down and looked at the scene. Jabara said he had been there, as had the rest of the Commission.

The matter was tabled after discussing who should pay for the tests of the paving . . . Cape or the City. Cape admitted that he had not fulfilled the first requirement of the engineer's recommendations, that of a special borings to be made to check for thickness.

COMMISSIONER George Hudson commented: "I have doubts whether or not the work was done legally, and whether or not the City should ask him to remove it."

Cape is the builder of the Bryn Mawr apartment development on Byron Ave. He had requested that the City dedicate him a portion of the land so he could meet land requirements for additional units.

They told him no. He then had asked to pave the street, but the Commission deferred action pending

Motorcyclist loses fight for life

George Richard (Rusty) Condash, 22, of 465 Provincetown Ln., died July 29 in Wayne County General Hospital, of injuries he received in a July 22 motorcycle accident.

The motorcycle, driven Mr. Condash, missed a curve west of Flat Rock and struck a guardrail shortly after midnight, July 22.

Dianne Allen, of 14100 Beck Rd., passenger on the cycle, also was injured fatally.

The son of George S. and Elma E. Vanderwheeler Condash, he was born May 8, 1943 in Detroit.

He moved to Plymouth in 1955, was a 1961 graduate of Plymouth High School and attended Ferris State University where he was affiliated with Theta Xi Fraternity. He was employed by Selle Buick, Plymouth.

Mr. Condash is survived by

Two cab companies to serve Plymouth

The City Commission granted taxi cab licenses to two companies Monday night, ending two months of debate on the issue of poor taxi service in Plymouth.

Checker Cab Co. of Livonia was granted five, and a new company, the Plymouth Cab Company, was granted another five. The new company will be run by Plymouthite John Florence.

Two weeks ago, the Commission had asked for written statements from each of the two applicants for the licenses, seeking their comments on the type of service they would render.

There was considerable discussion on the matter before it was finally decided. Commissioner George Hudson moved that eight licenses be given to Checker Cab Co., but his motion was defeated 4-3.

COMMISSIONER GEORGE Lawton was among those voting no, and said the City ought to take advantage of the chance to create a competitive situation. Commissioner Arch Vallier did not agree, and said that Checker ought to be given until December 31 of this year. Hudson agreed with Vallier, and said: "A split business is going to end up with no business."

Lawton then moved to grant five to each applicant, and up the number allowed in the City from eight to ten. Hudson and Vallier voted against the move, with the rest of the Commission voting yes.

Mayor James Houk expressed his opinion on the matter: "It is just as reasonable to be competitive in that business as in any other."

Both companies agreed in writing to several things. John Florence wrote the following:

"Four cabs will be available for service twenty-four hours a day.

"This is my own operation, no one else has any financial interest in it.

"I intend to buy four new cabs to be put into service as soon as possible after I obtain licenses. I have arranged for the financing of these cabs and have mortgaged my home for the down payments and that cash is in the bank and immediately available.

"There will be a fifth car available to put into service if any of the cabs should be laid up for repairs, and which will be used to make package deliveries so that none of the cabs will be tied up in that service. I have drivers available who will go to work as soon as the cabs are on the street. These drivers are all Plymouth men.

"I have entered into an arrangement with a local repair garage which has promised me that my cabs will have priority for service, and they have further promised me that any cab will be back on the street within two hours except for body or painting repairs.

"I have entered into a lease with the Yellow Cab Company of Livonia to furnish me telephone answering and radio dispatching service. My arrangement with Yellow Cab is that I am to be called at once if difficulties or anything of an unusual nature arise."

"I said before that I intend to give Plymouth full twenty-four service with local cabs and local employees. Without detracting from that, I say that I presently contemplate, because of my knowledge of the taxicab business, to have four cabs in service on the streets of Plymouth from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m., two cabs on the streets of Plymouth from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. and

Start fund in memory of Wiedman

Plymouth Rotary Foundation Board accepted a substantial donation from individuals in memory of Paul J. Wiedman at its regular meeting July 28.

The Board has designated this as the "Paul J. Wiedman Scholarship Fund" and will use it to help deserving young people of the Plymouth Community in furthering their education.

During his lifetime, Wiedman contributed much to the Plymouth Community and furnished advice and guidance to many people.

The Plymouth Rotary Foundation Board feels that this fund is a fitting way to perpetuate Wiedman's memory and continue this type of service to the Community.

JC president's wife dies in car crash

Bernice E. Fletcher, 32, wife of Joseph R. Fletcher, 12176 Amherst Ct., died Aug. 2 in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, after the car she was driving collided broadside with a truck on Plymouth Rd., near US-23 in Ann Arbor Township.

Mrs. Joseph R. Fletcher
Mrs. Fletcher was the wife of well known civic leader and JayCee president Joseph Fletcher.

The truck was driven onto Plymouth Rd. from a driveway moments before the accident, according to Washtenaw County sheriff's deputies.

Mrs. Fletcher was pinned inside her car after the car hit the truck, demolishing the front of her vehicle, officers said. She was traveling southwest on rain-soaked Plymouth Rd. toward Ann Arbor.

The driver of the truck, Chester T. Wojtowicz, 35, of Detroit, and his passenger, Charles D. Zorn, 38, also of Detroit, were taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for treatment.

Mrs. Fletcher was born June 29, 1933 in Bound Brook, N.J., the daughter of John N. and Gertrude Winseman Apgar. She came to Plymouth in Dec. 1959 from Cleveland and was a member of the First United Presbyterian Church.

She is survived by her husband, Joseph R. Fletcher; two daughters, Pamela and Kelly; and a son, Scott, all at home; her parents Mr. and Mrs. John Apgar of

Citizen asks aid on bike riders

Bike riding in the City came before the City Commission at its regular Monday night meeting, with a letter and a personal appearance from Kenneth Bisbee, 440 N. Harvey.

Bisbee said he was concerned about the bike riding safety problem in the community, and wanted a licensing setup for bikes established.

City Attorney Edward Draugelis said that bicycle riders can ride on either the street or the sidewalk. Commissioner James McKeon asked if other ordinances had ever been considered, and Mayor James Houk urged action on the matter.

"It is a lack of communication between school officials, parents and police," Bisbee said.

The City leaders decided to add the matter to the general police report within a month.

Bisbee read a letter to the Commission, which said, in part:

"I am a parent and taxpayer and have lived here for over fifteen years. I am vitally concerned, as no doubt you are, with preventing people from being killed or injured on our streets and highways.

"On March 16, 1964, I formed the 'Concerned Citizens For Saving Lives on Highways' and probably some of you are among the six hundred who joined in this grass roots effort.

"I am writing you today because of the shocking way in which children, youth and even adults are riding bicycles on our city streets and sidewalks in direct violation of our Michigan state laws and our City ordinances.

"At present, as you know, six to eleven year old boys and girls are riding bicycles in our city streets. They are riding on the left side of the road, two on a bike, going through stop lights, making 'u' turns and other illegal turns and many times three and four abreast.

"The tragic thing is that we parents and the police are

It's Plymouth sidewalk sale time again

The annual event that so many area shoppers look forward to — Plymouth's Sidewalk Sale — is here again.

This Friday and Saturday, August 6 and 7, local businesses will take to the sidewalks with values and goods specially designed for the event.

A special section of this week's Plymouth Mail is filled with Sidewalk Sale advertising.

Friday evening's activities will also include a concert by The Plymouth Community Band in Kellogg Park at 8 p.m.

PASSAGE GAYDE American Legion Post No. 391 hosted a 17th district installation of officers Saturday night. Outgoing officers are, left to right, Gil Rohde of Livonia, and Marion Behnke of Redford. Incoming were Laura McDougall and Gil Williams. The appointment of Plymouthite Ernest Koi as the new vice commander for the third zone was also announced at the installation ceremonies.

Optimists win pair in playoffs; U. Litho undefeated

The Plymouth Optimists surprised two strong foes last week in the playoffs as they shut out South Dearborn Heights 6-0, and then nudged the Wayne Ford Civic League Monarchs 1-0.

They were big victories for a team that only finished fourth in the Livonia Class 'D' Connie Mack American League.

Well-asserted tact

We have to give credit to Robert Jenkins for his criticism of the Plymouth Community School District recently. He hit out at the lack of a multi-purpose room in plans for a new elementary school in the Lake Pointe area at Five Mile Road and Haggerty Road.

Jenkins felt it was tantamount to a reduction in educational services, and made it very plain he didn't like the idea.

Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister agreed that the lack of a multi-purpose room might curtail the winter physical education program. Jenkins went even further and said:

"Apparently we don't make the right kind of financial opportunity for ourselves."

School Board president Gerald Fischer appeared miffed at the comments and said that the board was not going back and ask for more millage. He also noted that there were only 13 months left before the September 1966 opening date of the new school, and they needed to get going.

Jenkins agreed, but he apparently was pushing to make good some of his campaign promises, which in this day and age is a rare thing. In his successful campaign for the school board post, he had decried the lack of action to prepare for school needs in the face of the building boom and burgeoning school enrollments.

He further urged that all planning matters be brought to the attention of parents involved. He asked, for instance, that the planned addition to Allen School be shown to the Allen PTA as soon as possible. He was told they had always declined such offers in the past.

It takes, we feel, a certain amount of courage to join a well established organization like the Plymouth Community School Board, and then criticize the course of things. And it takes some knowledge to do it effectively.

Jenkins managed the matter with well-asserted tact. He may have rubbed some members of the board the wrong way; but even if he did, we hope he started all of them thinking.

Jenkins promised to start action on a new high school immediately. That may take even more tact, carefully asserted, than last week's comments.

In the meantime, we hope the board finds a way of providing physical education facilities for the Lake Pointe school. At Farrand School, last year, gym classes were held in the hallways. At the new school, the board lacks $90,000 for the multi-purpose room. Despite the temporary nature of the matter, we would hate to see the room not built.

Such cuts can snowball, and can't help but hurt the total education of Plymouth youngsters.

I am about to go to war with the stupid cereal people.

Under normal circumstances, everyone knows that brothers and sisters can barely tolerate each other. And when there's a three year age differential, the threshold of intolerance is lower.

But, given all this foreknowledge, the flaky breakfast flake producers forge ahead — leaving in their wake a trail of mayhem, bruises, black eyes, oceans of tears and general disharmony.

My goofy kids are no exception. Take them into a supermarket and you must arbitrate a battle royal over which kind of crunchy stuff will be purchased.

"I want Frosty Flops," one will scream. "There's a thermonuclear water whistle in the box."

"Uh, uh," the other snarls menacingly, "I wanna get Sugar Snorts. You can send away and get a 14-foot plastic gorilla."

"Why don't we compromise," you suggest. "If we buy the Raisin Caramel Cracks, you get a copy of 'The Children's Guidebook to World War II Atrocities!'"

"Nah, we already read that." So you buy Cinnamon Noodle Nuggets which neither of them want.

And the next morning when the box is opened it takes both parents to quell the riot over who gets the miniature Pirate Pete ship, replete with ten-pound anchor.

I remember the junk you could get from Tom Mix with box tops; but I never got in a fight with anyone over it.

Maybe everyone should be an only child. Or maybe we should go back to gluey rolled oats in the mornings.

Off to The Detroit Press Club and Tiger Stadium a week and a half ago for the annual outing that Detroit Edison throws for editors.

Following the cold cuts and other assorted goodies, we all got to listen to Tiger man Neal K. "Doc" Fenkell who lives (where else?) here in The Plymouth Community.

Before the festivities, Doc mumbled something about the probability that I would misquote him which I thought was a gross misjustice.

Doc loves his job and someone noted that the thing he loves most is arranging tickets for Tiger parties. Just call him at home about 2 a.m.

Ask any Republican and he'll be glad to spend a week or so telling you what a decadent bunch the Democrats are.

After this morning, I'd be tempted to agree. The mail brought a blurry carbon copy of a news release that leads off like this:

"Sinning, dancing and barbecued beef will be the fare at the annual . . . Democratic picnic."

Honored guests at this bacchanalian affair will be Congressman Vivian, State Representative Tierney and Secretary of State Jim Hare.

The release doesn't say whether they'll be there for the sinning or not.

All of this happens Sunday, Aug. 8 from noon on at a place called the Triple R Ranch, 6865 Devil's Lake Highway, off U.S. 223, near Adrian.

I guess the righteous need not apply.

Further, we will divert as many of our Plymouth-licensed, Livonia-based cabs to cover Plymouth calls at any time when circumstances warrant, i.e. when Plymouth cabs are away on long runs or when other unusual conditions exist.

a report from Acting City Manager Kenneth Fisher and the engineers.

In other action, the City considered the vacation of the alley bounded by Amelia, Blanche, Starkweather and Main Streets. Considerable comment on the move was made, including words from William Fehlig, who questioned the need of the vacation, as well as the good of it.

"Why should the City give a 16 ft. x 100 ft. piece of land to one property owner?" Fehlig also noted that the move was a definite inconvenience to the tenants and to garbage collectors.

The City approved the vacation, which Ernest Allison had requested to expand his Chevrolet used car facilities. But two Commissioners voted against the motion — James McKeon and Robert Smith.

THE COMMISSION also granted Wheel Trueing Tool Company an extension on their plans for a building in the City's industrial park on Plymouth Road.

William Rucker, Sharon Root speak vows

Mr. and Mrs. William Rucker

In a June 26 candlelight service at Middleburg Heights Community Church, Middleburg Heights, Ohio, Sharon Lee Root became the bride of William F. Rucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Rucker of Morrison St.

The Rev. Robert F. Beck performed the ceremony. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Root of Middleburg Heights, was given in marriage by her father. She selected a white silk linen short-sleeved gown featuring a lace bodice and detachable train. Her silk illusion veil was elbow-length, and she carried a bouquet of white and yellow roses on a small white Bible with ivy tied in streamers.

Sandra Bailey of Plymouth, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. David Lawrence of Ann Arbor, and Ms. William Gratch of Kalamazoo.

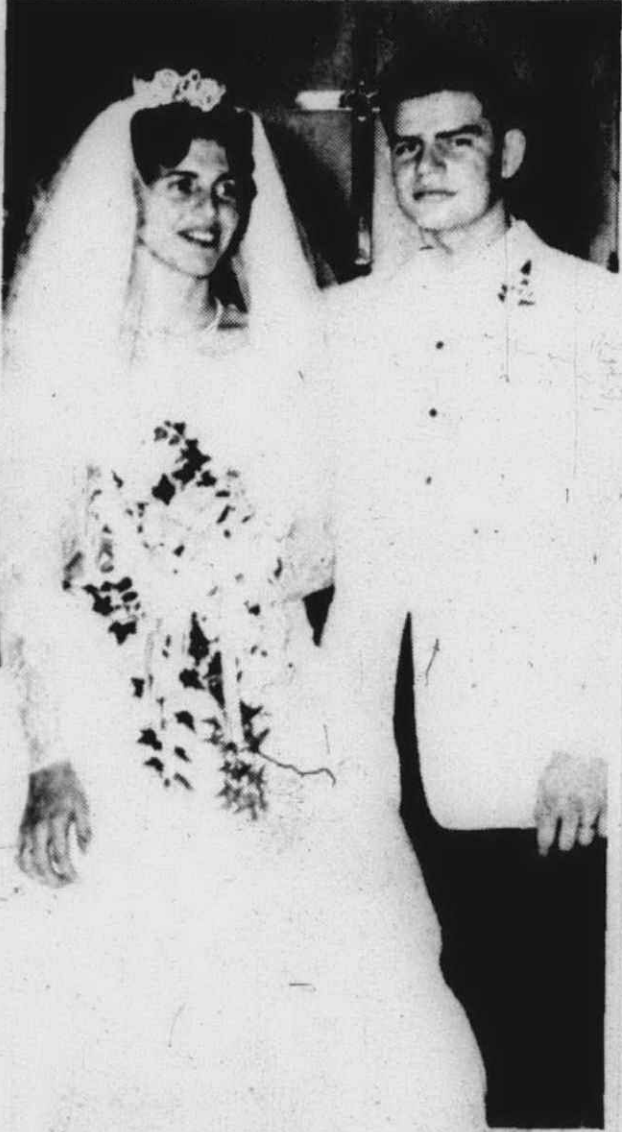

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Ronald Mulder of Saline. Seating the guests were Roger Mead, the bride's brothers, Donald W. Root, Jr. and Thomas A. Root, and the bridegroom's brother, David Rucker.

A reception in the church fellowship hall followed the ceremony.

The couple is living at 1217 Hill St., Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Rucker teaches seventh and eighth grade English at Bloomfield Hills Junior High School, Bloomfield Hills. Her husband is a student in University of Michigan Dental school. Both attended Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo.

Tanya Vukovich, Soren Pedersen marry

Mr. and Mrs. Soren Pedersen

Tanya Marie Vukovich became the bride of Soren T. Pedersen in an evening ceremony July 24 in St. Peter's Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Norman Berg performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Vukovich of N. Evergreen and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Yens Pedersen of Ann Arbor Tr.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white lace gown with scalloped tiers each edged with small iridescent sequins. The scalloped neckline of the gown also was trimmed with sequins as was the detachable train.

Her cascading bouquet was made up of white rosebuds and white carnations with stephanotis and ivy. Twin white lace crowns trimmed with iridescent beads held her illusion veil.

The maid of honor, Esther Loskowki of Garden City, and the bridesmaid Carol Jansen also of Garden City, were attired in full length gowns of pale pink taffeta with white lace. They carried bouquets of roses, carnations and ivy.

Best man was Gary Witherson of Plymouth, and ushers were Jared Stevens and Michael Buffe, both of Plymouth.

Mrs. Vukovich, for her daughter's wedding, selected a navy blue silk crepe dress with a crossover bodice of white lace which she bought in England recently and white accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a coral chiffon full-skirted gown with a scooped neckline and beige accessories.

A reception in Plymouth's Knights of Columbus Hall followed the ceremony.

The couple is living at 2006 Gorman, Plymouth. Both are 1962 Plymouth High School graduates.

CUTTING POTATOES for her "potato salad" is Mrs. Joseph Gates of Farmbrook Dr. A native of Germany, Mrs. Gates has lived in Plymouth since Dec. 1957

A recipe for that old-fashioned summer favorite "Potato Salad" was suggested this week by Mrs. Joseph Gates of Farmbrook.

The Gates, who are moving into their new home on Farmbrook have three children, Robert, three-months-old, Sherry, five-years-old, and Beth, seven.

Mrs. Gates, a native of Germany, came to the United States in Dec. 1957. She explained she met her husband while he was in Germany.

Knitting and cooking, she lists as her hobbies.

An excellent picnic dish, Mrs. Gates added all of her friends rave about how delicious the salad is.

POTATO SALAD
5-6 large potatoes, boiled
4 sweet pickles, sliced
7 stuffed sliced olives
1 small onion, minced
3 hard-boiled eggs, sliced
2 stalks celery
1 pimento, cut up (optional)
salt and pepper to taste.

Dressing
2 heaping Tbl. mayonnaise
2 heaping Tbl. slaw dressing
2 Tbl. vinegar
1 heaping tsp. mustard
1/2 tsp. sugar

Combine dressing ingredients and pour over other ingredients, mixing well.

Calvary Baptists hold crusade Aug. 8-29

The third annual New Life Crusade sponsored by Calvary Baptist Church, will be held in the big tent at the new church site, 43065 Joy Rd.

The first service in the tent will be held Sunday August 8, at 7 p.m. Services will continue nightly, except Mondays, through August 29.

Evangelist Harry Trover of Boca Raton, Fla., will be the speaker for the first week. Rev. Trover for several years was associated with the Children's Bible Hour broadcast of Grand Rapids and has taken part in evangelistic campaigns and Bible conferences.

Aug. 15-29 evangelist Elton Crowell of San Luis Obispo, Calif., will speak. He has been associated with the Moody Bible Institute Extension Department and has conducted meetings in United States, Canada and Latin America. For four years, he was director of the nationally known Gull Lake Bible Conference.

Special music also has been planned for all services. On Aug. 12 the Melody Messengers of the Calvary Bible College of Kansas City, will present a special musical program of vocal and instrumental numbers.

The closing day of the Crusade will be homecoming day and former members, now in Christian service, will take part in an afternoon rally at 2:45 p.m. All services are open to the public.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Harriet Trombley and a brother, Frank Trombley, of Sunnyvale, Calif.
Services were held Aug. 2 in Schrader Funeral Home and interment followed in Newburg Cemetery, Livonia. Brigadier Ernest Hammer officiated.

Invite whole family to Aug. Bible School

Too often Vacation Bible School is thought of as only for the children. This is shown by the fact that most are conducted in the morning when children are about all who can attend.

All this is being changed this year at the Plymouth Church of Christ. Their Vacation Bible School is to be at night so the whole family can be present. August 16-20 are the dates set. The church meets at 9301 Sheldon Road—just south of Ann Arbor Road.

The Plymouth Church corps of teachers will be supplemented by outstanding visiting teachers and speakers. There will be several adult classes as well as those for children and young people.

Arnold Pytkas, new Gallimore principal, is the director of this year's Vacation Bible School. Earlier in the summer he directed a very successful VBS in Niagara Falls, Ontario.

All in the Plymouth community are invited to attend. There is no enrollment fee of any kind. No collection will be taken.

Coonce church life spans 3 generations

Three generations of Jehovah's Witnesses the Coonce family, will be on the road shortly, destined for one of 30 cities in either the United States, Canada or Bermuda, chosen as convention sites for their "Word of Truth" District Conventions.

Harold and Lorene Coonce of 621 Ann Street, Plymouth, began their activity with Jehovah's witnesses in 1938. Soon Coonce was asked to oversee an entire congregation and then a "circuit" of congregations in the United States.

Presently, he instructs the adult and child ministers in the art of public speaking and teaching accuracy at the Plymouth Congregation at 774 Sheldon Road.

The second generation took up where Mom and Dad left off. C. Carson Coonce, their son, is presiding Minister of the Plymouth Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Coonce is maintaining the family heritage of producing ministers by training his three children with Bible study as well as five meetings held three times a week.

Grand-dad, Harold Coonce said: "We are very enthused over the convention arrangements this summer. Our interest in them is primarily educational. Each assembly will feature four days of Bible instruction that will be centered around everyday matters of living. Of course, we will look forward to seeing our Witness friends."

Come to Church THREE CHEERS

Here comes the winner! Can he hold that first place position, or will he fail? In the eyes of these youngsters, victory is the most important thing in the world. Everything hinges on the outcome of this contest!

Enthusiasm is part of successful living, stimulating the imagination, and inspiring the mind. It is contagious, too, and can affect co-workers, friends, families. It is essential to organizations as well as to individuals.

Through the centuries a rich spiritual enthusiasm has been handed down by the Church, one of the greatest institutions on earth. Its members, working together, fired by the enthusiasm of faith, can give you renewed inspiration, and strength.

Why not attend church next Sunday? Become a part of this great fellowship of believers! You, too, can be a winner.

TAKE ONE FAT GOOSE . . .

Goose grease used to be found in most medicine chests. For a long time, it was a common remedy for chest colds and pneumonia. The high mortality rate of lung patients proves how ineffective this remedy was. Modern medications—particularly the antibiotics—have drastically reduced the death toll of pneumonia victims, shortened hospital stays and relieved untold pain and suffering. So, don't medicate yourself. Let your physician do the diagnosing and prescribing. Then come to us for any medications he may recommend.

From Washington Urge over-65 to examine Medicare

By Congressman Weston E. Vivian

The "medicare" bill has now been cleared for final action by the House and Senate, and signature by the President. This law demonstrates boldly the tremendous effect federal legislation can have on citizens of local areas. Seldom has the federal government taken action which will have a greater impact on citizens in the Plymouth community.

An estimated 2700 people in Wayne County, over the age of 65, will be directly affected by the new program. These citizens are now faced with the necessity of critically examining their health insurance plans and needs.

As your U.S. Representative, I cannot stress too strongly in this situation the fact that the Medicare program will not go into effect until July 1, 1966. Therefore, those who, after consideration, wish to alter their present insurance plans should not make changes effective until that time. Anyone who drops health insurance before July 1, 1966 will be left without coverage until the program begins.

THE MEDICARE program itself will consist of two parts. The first is hospitalization insurance, corresponding in benefits roughly to the present Blue Cross program. This hospitalization insurance will automatically cover everyone over 65. It will provide that those over 65 have their room and board (and various other benefits) paid, while in a hospital for up to 90 days.

The patient, however, will be required to pay the first $40 of the bill, and $10 a day thereafter. Blue Cross will cover the remainder of the bill. Blue Cross rates vary according to income. In Michigan, those earning less than $2500 pay $2.74 per month, those earning $2500-$3000 pay $3.21 per month, while those earning over $3000 pay $3.67 per month.

At the present time few people purchase Blue Shield without also purchasing Blue Cross.

ACCORDING to Blue Cross-Blue Shield officials, their organization has always lost money on their over-65 coverage.

They have had to subsidize these losses by increasing the rates paid by those under 65. Therefore, it is quite possible that Blue Cross-Blue Shield rates will be revised as a result of Medicare.

In terms of coverage of over-65 policyholders, it is also likely that private insurance companies will revise their benefits. The best guess is that companies such as Blue Cross-Blue Shield will not attempt to compete directly with Medicare, but will instead offer supplementary plans which will fill in the gaps now covered by the newly-enacted legislation. Will insurance companies will undoubtedly soon be in touch with their policyholders to inform them of any changes in policies. If any uncertainty exists concerning changes in the provisions of these policies, I suggest the best re-

Grater to head local P.O. efficiency plans

Acting Postmaster James Grater announced today that he has accepted a suggestion program. Semi-annual reports will be made to the Postmaster General. Grater said, and realized to the Treasury or applied to the Postmaster General John A. Gronowski.

A local committee will be organized to fulfill the two purposes of the plan:

1. Reduce costs.
2. Improve services.

Ideas generated by individual employees will be taken up by the committee. Accepted ideas will be passed on to Washington for possible application on a national level.

Employees whose ideas are adopted nationwide will be given national awards. The Postmaster General will personally oversee the program. Postmaster Grater will be chairman of the local committee to implement PEP.

A switch on the old chain letter routine hit an unsuspecting Plymouthite pretty hard last week as a full fledged outhouse was delivered to his front door. It was meant for Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dennis, 302 Roe St., but had been delivered to their old address on Starkweather. A neighbor brought it to the correct address. Young Bonnie Dennis looks over the structure, which came from the Royal City Square Dance Club in Canada (Guelph, Ont.). The outside facility was full of items placed there by previous recipients; the Dennis family must add their contribution before shipping the outhouse on. Now all they have to do is stop the neighbors' guffaws.

Bell rate cuts affect everyone, new Metro service in offing

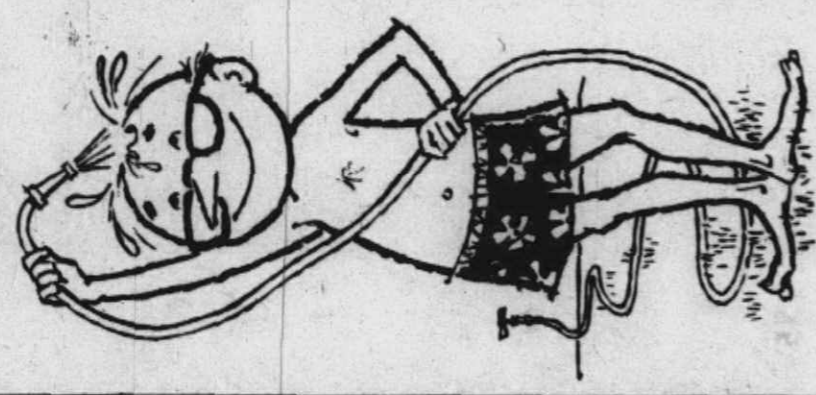

The Michigan Public Service Commission approved a rate reduction schedule and adjustment plan presented by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company recently.

The approved reductions will result in a savings of $8,386,000 annually by Bell customers.

A new metro-calling service is to be offered October 1 to area residence customers. It provides for toll free calling from some 80 communities from noon to 7 a.m. daily and all-day Sunday. Its $10.95 monthly rate includes a private line and unlimited local calling.

Persons who use Metro-15 service will get four more weekday calling hours at no increase in costs and Metro-21 customers will pay $2 a month less than now. RURAL residence rates will be reduced 20 to 30 cents a month September 1. The company's 302,082 two-party residence flat rate customers will receive 15 cent-a-month reduction and 74,159 residence four-party customers will pay 25 cents a month less.

Initial charges for color telephones will be reduced one third, from $7.50 to $5.00. Decreased billings worth a total of $90,000 will go to many small business locations which have semipublic coin telephone service.

Mileage charge rates for customers with urban service outside base rate areas will be replaced September 1 with "zone" charges resulting in lower rates for most persons.

A NEW service known as INWAYS (Inward Wide Area Telephone Service) will allow business to offer its customers or employees a toll-free number to call. Initial periods for all stations, short haul toll calls up to 40 miles will be increased one minute as of September 1 and the overtime period will be increased one minute on station calls to 10 miles.

A new service offering called ECONO-UNIT Service will be made September 1. For a dollar more than the present flat rate charge, econo-unit services can be provided, on an optional basis, with one party and two party residence flat rate service. econo-unit service plus a 60 message-unit allowance for inter-zone calls. With this new service a flat rate customer who now pays $1 for message units can more than double his unit calling for no cost increase. A flat-rate customer who presently uses 60 or more message units will have $1.52 under the plan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Kaiser and their daughter Faye spent a week camping in Tawas. They camped in the city park with a trailer in the midst of many relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fotovich, Tim and Susan, also trailer campers, toured the southeastern United States covering a total of nine states in a week. They visited various historical scenes including Gettysburg, Endless Carnivals in Virginia, the Smokies, and a ghost town in Maggie Valley. In North Carolina they saw a drama presented in an outdoor theatre by the Cherokee Indians. Also included was Gatlinburg, Tenn. Christmas Gardens where the life of Christ is displayed in wood. To conclude the tour, the Fotovichs stopped at Remfry Valley then headed homeward.

Mrs. Eugene Ferrari of Ford Rd., recently underwent surgery at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. She was admitted July 11 and returned home July 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Lenhardt and their son, David, of Saltz Rd., went to Chapleau, Ontario, for a week of fishing at Camp Nemegosenda.

Mrs. Elsie Hertrich and Mr. Harold Bauer of Hamlet, Ohio, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Hertrich of Hanford Rd., for the weekend of July 23-25. While there, the four of them visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coble in Gregory. The Cobles are former Plymouth residents.

Marty Korte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Korte of Warren Rd., has returned from a six week stay with his Korte grandparents on Drummond Island. Marty fished during his stay.

Chrysler-Plymouth dealerships holds grand opening Fri., Aug. 6 operation, and comes to the new Arbor Chrysler-Plymouth dealership this Friday on Ann Arbor Road will feature free gifts for all, and a color TV set.

Robert Mallory is the owner of the new Arbor Chrysler-Plymouth dealership on the corner of Lilly and Ann Arbor Road in Plymouth Township.

Mallory is in charge of the ent infantry divisions. He was also Assistant Staff Judge Advocate General and Prosecutor, because of his legal background.

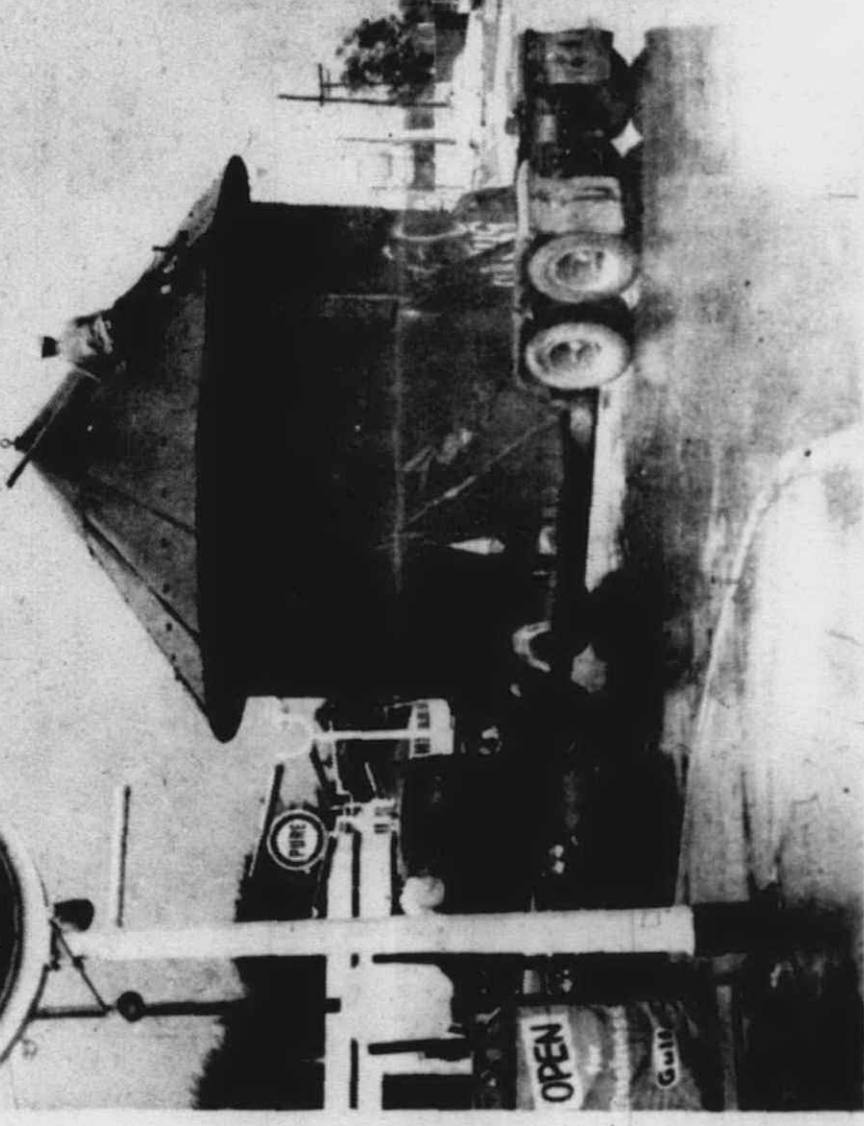

LATER he was appointed United Nations prosecutor for prisoners of war who committed crimes after their capture.

In between? A stint as a law clerk, a term as an instructor in Marketing and Law and Michigan State University.

Mallory received his first degree in 1943 from the University of Detroit; he was awarded his law degree in 1948 from the U of D Law School. He worked for Chrysler Corporation from 1959, until recently, when he quit the company, to go into private business—running a Chrysler dealership.

Thus he went from economics student to infantryman to war lawyer to teacher, to corporate lawyer to selling cars.

What is it?

WHAT IS IT? That was the question Plymouthites were asking last Wednesday as a silo being moved through town tied up traffic for a while. It was raining and the streets were slippery; City police led the huge structure through town. No one knew for sure what the man on top was supposed to be doing. But everyone agreed they were glad it wasn't them.

some time. His wife's name is Virginia.

James Zoumaris, has lived in the area fifty years, has four children, Jim, 21, Sue, 19, Greg, 17 and Jeff, 8. He spent four and a half years in the army, is a member of the Nankin Recreation Council, and has been in the selling field for 17 years.

Paris and service are headed up by Ernest Olsen and Harry Mowen respectively.

Olsen is a newcomer to Plymouth, is married (Barbara) and has a baby boy.

Mowen, who's hobby is fly-fishing, lives in Plymouth, is married (Mary Ann) and has three children, Mary Ann, 16, Harry 14, and Linda, 11. Mowen is an optician in car service, and has logged well over 20 years in that role.

Name placement director at Schoolcraft

Schoolcraft College has announced that Russell S. Bogarin has joined the College staff as Counselor and Director of Student Placement.

As Placement Director, Bogarin will be contacting business and industry of the community to find what job opportunities are available. The College also hopes that anyone in the area needing student help will contact the Placement Office in the Office of Student Affairs.

Bogarin received his undergraduate degree from Northern Michigan University and his Masters Degree in Counseling from the University of Michigan.

He is now pursuing graduate studies which will certify him for the Degree of Specialist in Education. He is a member of the Phi Delta Kappa Educational Fraternity and belongs to the Michigan Counselors' Association and the Michigan Association for Higher Education.

He is also listed in the 1965 edition of "Who's Who in the Mid-West."

Bogarin formerly was employed as Counselor at the Lincoln Consolidated Laboratory School in Ypsilanti, where he still lives with his wife and three boys.

U OF D VISITS

A number of education classes from the University of Detroit visited Schoolcraft College on July 28. The group of about one hundred are at present taking classes in counseling under Dr. Bruce Kenner.

During the Schoolcraft visit, at the request of Dr. Kramer, Dr. Eric J. Bradner spoke of the nature of the community college and Dean Lois L. Waterman discussed the organization of the personnel program.

A survey conducted by Engineering News-Record, and reported in the March 25, 1965 issue, noted an acceleration of Michigan highway development in 1965, calling for an 85% increase in planned contracts over 1964, which will place Michigan ninth in the nation this year.

Daniel Hay competes in model airplane championships

Daniel L. Hay, 19, of 449 Sunset St., was among the more than 1500 entrants in the National Model Airplane Championships at Naval Air Station, Willow Grove, Pa., July 28 through August 1.

Contestants in this meet, the 34th national championship, range from 6 to 60 years old, and come from all 50 states, Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico, Scotland, Germany and one contestant from South Australia.

The meet is conducted by the Academy of Model Aeronautics of Washington, D.C., model aviation's governing body.

Competition is divided into three age groups: junior class, open to those less than 16 years old; senior class, open to contestants between 16 and 21; and open class for contestants over 21.

Robert Leppo used car salesman, who lists his address as Charlotte, Mich., has been in the business a record 35 years, spent three years in the U.S. Air Force, belongs to Kiwanis, is married (Dorothy) and has a daughter, Beth Ann, 13.

SIDEWALK DAYS

Area residents will be robbing their piggy banks and bank accounts this week as merchants in Plymouth launch their annual Sidewalk Sale on Friday and Saturday, August 6 and 7. Here, pretty Kathy Allison of Plymouth helps a customer get some ready cash for the event. This section carries advertising for Sidewalk Days. Goods offered are specially selected by the stores for the sale.

SIDEWALK DAYS are always a big event in Plymouth. Last year the women jammed the sidewalk in front of Graham's on Ann Arbor Trail to look over the items on sale.

MAIN STREET was crowded to capacity as throngs of shoppers swept back and forth, checking the bargains. This picture was taken from the second floor of Davis & Lent Men's and Boys' Wear.

"Used homes, realistically priced, are selling extremely well in all sections of our territory," Moser said. "Any home owner who lists his property with a realtor and doesn't overprice it is likely to get fast action."

"Month after month, our new sales records," Moser said. "Sales each month since January have not only exceeded the sales of the previous month, but sales for the same month last year, by impressive margins."

"Beginning with March, when our sales exceeded the $10,000,000 mark for the first time, every month this year has established a new all-time high in sales volume."

While largest volume of sales continues to be in the $10,500-to-$15,000 price bracket, there has been a marked increase in demand for higher-priced homes, Moser reported. For June, he said, sales in the $25,000-to-$30,000 bracket were up 121 per cent from 1964; while sales in the over $30,000 bracket were up 64 per cent.

"Houses 10 to 20 years old continue to be the most popular, in terms of sales to listings," Moser said. "One-and-one-half-story continue to be favored over one-story, two-story and split-level. Three-bedroom houses seem to get the nod over those with fewer or more bedrooms, while brick construction is preferred to frame and houses with basements are definitely more popular than those built on slabs or over crawl space."

SAYS UNRA's President Moser: "Multi-listing benefits the prospective home buyer by conserving his time and greatly widening his choice of properties. A visit to one member's office places at his disposal all the multi-listed properties in the area in which he would like to locate."
