

Trustee Lauterbach urges action on police talks with City

A Plymouth Township police department may be added to the duties of the proposed public safety director after Trustee Dick Lauterbach urged some action on his March police report last week.

Lauterbach asked for further consideration of his report at last Tuesday's regular meeting of the Plymouth Township Board.

He brought up the matter at the close of the meeting, and noting recent changes in Township leadership because of the death of Roy R. Lindsay, said:

"I'd like to see some action on my sub committee report on the police issue. I realize we've had a lot of problems develop since it was made in March, what with appointments. But I'd appreciate some action on the report and final recommendations."

Supervisor John McEwen noted that the public safety director would affect this request and said:

"I assume this will come under his jurisdiction."

LAUTERBACH agreed. "My suggestion would be that this man should most certainly work in this area. I'd like to see action in the near future."

At the last two meetings of the Board, the proposed safety director had been discussed, and the Fire Administration Board was ordered to draw up qualifications and duties of the post.

McEwen agreed he would discuss it with the rest of the Board.

Lauterbach's March report concluded, in part:

"Because of the cost factor and the apparent inefficiency of a small police department, this committee suggests that establishment of our own police force would not be feasible."

"Additionally, we feel that interest in this area of police protection as to quality, efficiency and adequacy is especially high at this time. Response from the City of Plymouth and from Northville indicates that discussions between these governmental bodies and the Township of Plymouth relative to providing additional protection to out Township populus would be most desirable and this committee so recommends."

"Moreover, this committee recommends that the Township delegate responsibility for such discussions to a committee appointed by the Supervisor at the earliest possible date and that such committee be instructed to report its findings to the Township Board not later than 90 days after its appointment for the purpose of ascertaining progress."

In an interview Thursday, Lauterbach noted that Northville and Plymouth had been interested in the matter.

"THE recommendation from our committee was that we set down and talk. Here is an area of mutual co-operation. We both have the same problems."

Lauterbach further noted: "We are considering a public safety director; he should very definitely be a part of such a committee. Maybe we can let him start the ball rolling."

Township officials indicate they have been considering the public safety director for some time, and that they had been promised aid from State Police Commissioner Frederick Davids, long active in Township affairs. Many state police officials retire at an early age and look for such administrative posts.

"I'm not saying this is what we should do," Lauterbach said, "but it ought to be investigated."

When asked how far away a Township police department was, Lauterbach said: "That's hard to say. We don't have too many complaints. But the question is are they going to the Sheriff or to the Township?"

"I can't say if it will be six months, a year, or two years. (Continued on Page 8)

Blodgett studies police staff, City's wages

It was the first important meeting for the new City Manager Richard Blodgett Monday night, and he took the opportunity to submit 17 reports, including one on the police department and one on the wages of City employees.

Blodgett reported he had assigned Public Safety Director Kenneth Fisher to study police manpower needs. Blodgett noted that he felt it would be premature for him to recommend a youth officer at this time. Blodgett's report read, in part:

"THE QUESTION of police manpower has been under study during the last several months. It is my understanding that the Automobile Club of America is presently doing some work in this area and its report should be forthcoming in the not too distant future."

"It would be premature for me to recommend that the police department hire a youth officer at this time. The complete manpower study may point out the need for police manpower in other areas rather than in the specific area of youth."

"Before I recommend the appropriation of money for a youth officer, you should know what other funds will have to be allocated for police activities. This is not to say that we do not need a youth officer; only a study of police records will reveal whether we can justify a full time youth officer, or whether youth officer work should be assigned to the patrol or command officers. This will be understood only when we can analyze the complete departmental manpower needs."

"As to the regulation of bicycles, we have contacted the Michigan Municipal League for copies of other bicycle ordinances. This matter is presently under study. I have also contacted Kenneth Bisbee and explained the situation to him. He feels satisfied that we are making an honest effort to remedy the situation.

"The question of an auxiliary police force has been checked into. Birmingham has utilized an auxiliary police force with varying success. The question of need and the manpower required for an auxiliary police force will be included in the report you will receive on police manpower needs."

On the matter of wages and a new classification plan for the City employees, Blodgett reported he was making progress.

"I have met with all the department heads and the employees. All the regular employees have filled out questionnaires so I can analyze their jobs and try to set wages."

He hopes to have the report done by Sept. 1, or the first meeting in Sept., on the 7th.

The Commission also discussed Thomas Cape, controversial builder of the Bryn Mawr apartment development on Byron Ave.

It was decided to have Blodgett and Edward Draugelis, the city attorney, investigate what steps could be taken on the illegal paving job Cape had done on Byron Ave. Commissioners expressed concern over the width of the street, fire lanes, catch basins that had been paved over, drainage, curb and gutter and cost — who's going to make it meet City standards.

COMMISSIONER Arch Vallier's long-awaited ladder fire truck will be picked up in the next few days. The truck was purchased from Detroit through Vallier's efforts, and the efforts of Detroit's Mayor Jerome Cavanaugh and the Common Council.

Vallier issued a vote of thanks to Detroit officials.

The truck is the first of its kind in the immediate area, and will serve for Canton Township, Plymouth and Northville Townships and the City of Northville, under mutual aid agreements.

WAYNE COUNTY HEALTH DEPARTMENT representative Carl Schieffelbein, of Plymouth, spends much of his time investigating and tracking down sources of venereal disease. His interviews are strictly confidential. Also, in addition, he spends time on public information campaigns; he regretfully notes that the Department's film on VD is rarely used by the schools.

VD is on increase in Plymouth and nation

Venereal disease is present in Plymouth this year — enough to make the Wayne County Department of Health step up its public information campaign.

Carl Schieffelbein, a public health field representative, said the problem was not rampant in Plymouth.

"Plymouth is below the national average; but the feeling of the health department is that as long as there is one case, there's a problem, and it should get some type of treatment. There should be no hesitancy on the part of a doctor to report the disease."

Venereal diseases are contagious ailments contacted through sexual intercourse; two primary types are syphilis and gonorrhea. Both are dangerous, and syphilis in the later stages can lead to blindness, insanity and death. It costs the United States an estimated $50 million yearly to care for the syphilitic insane alone.

Both the syphilis treponema and the gonorrhea gonococcus are bacteria that live in the mucous system of the body.

A TOTAL OF ten cases of syphilis were reported last year for the City of Plymouth. Eight cases of gonorrhea were reported for 1964. Figures thus far for 1965 show five cases of gonorrhea for the first five months of the year—a possible increase over last year.

'90's - you are there during Fall Festival

By JOHN HERB
Fall Festival Publicity Chairman

When Grandma wore her bustle and Grandpa his celluloid collar, life moved at a more leisurely pace. The people of The Plymouth Community will attempt to recapture the spirit of that era during their Fall Festival Days September 9 - 12.

All of the personnel of downtown stores will be dressed in costumes of the type worn at the turn of the century. And if, perchance, one of those beautifully gowned ladies should drop her handkerchief as she strolls through town, many a gallant man will rush to retrieve it.

As part of the activities scheduled for Thursday evening, September 9, there will be a contest to award prizes for the best costume. Judging will be done by members of the Plymouth Historical Society. If past years are any indication, it will be a difficult decision.

In keeping with the turn of the century theme, store windows will be decorated with merchandise of that period. Like to see what Grandma looked for when she went shopping for shoes? Or, what the local druggist of the 1890's displayed in his windows?

You will find these things and much more in the windows of Plymouth stores. Window shopping will take on added delight during Festival days.

BOTH FATHERS Weekend claims 2 lives in mishaps

Two Plymouth men, one the father of seven children, died in separate tragedies over the past weekend. Robert Applegate was the victim of drowning and Donald Sundstrom died as the result of a car crash.

Robert George Applegate, 43, 9235 Northern St., drowned in Half Moon Lake at 9:20 p.m. on Sunday, August 15, while on a family outing with his wife and seven children.

Applegate's body was found in 12 feet of water by Gilbert Tomelin of Mt. Clemens, and Cecil Herman of Gregory, according to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's office. The men dived for the body for about 20 minutes after Applegate's wife heard her husband calling for help.

Funeral services for Applegate will be held today, Wednesday, August 18, at 1 p.m. in the Schrader Funeral Home with burial in Riverside Cemetery.

Born in Toledo, Ohio, on April 25, 1922, he was the son of Walter Applegate and Gertrude Haas. He came to Plymouth from Belleville 10 years ago and was employed by Fisher Body.

BESIDES his wife, Mary, and his parents, he is survived by his children, Robert C., Frank R., Mary K., George W., Joseph G., Dolores, and William, all of Plymouth. Also surviving are two brothers, David of Wayne, and Walter of Ypsilanti; and two sisters, Mrs. Herbert (Lois) Brauns of Ypsilanti, and Mrs. Mildred Ramson of Nevada.

Another tragedy claimed the life of Donald Sundstrom, 31, of 317 Ann St. on August 14 when the car he was driving crossed the center line on Hines Dr. near Telegraph Rd. and crashed almost head on with a car driven by Terry Melvin Randles of Livonia, according to Dearborn Heights police.

Sundstrom died in Wayne County General Hospital. (Continued on Page 8)

Louis Stein retires as Canton's chief

Canton Township's long-time supervisor, 66-year-old Louis Stein, submitted his resignation at last week's Board of Trustees meeting.

It was a move he had been talking about for some time; Stein is serving in his thirteenth year, the seventh term.

The ex-railroad and road contractor said, "I'm just tired. I'm 66 with another birthday coming up."

"I enjoyed every minute of it. The people were very good to me — voting what I recommended. They voted the Charter Township when I asked for it. They have always supported the sewer and water programs. I would say I got a lot more out of it than I gave."

Stein's short letter of resignation said he wanted to make it effective Aug. 30. The Board tabled the matter for consideration; they will be faced with an appointment, which they have the right to make. An election will not have to be held.

LOUIS STEIN

STEIN indicated he wanted to travel this fall to Yellowstone, and get back in time to go moose hunting. "And I don't think I want anymore winters in Michigan," Stein said.

No indication was made by Canton officials as to who would replace Stein. Township Treasurer Philip Dingley is a possibility.

Later he became a railroad contractor, and built or tore up railroads.

He became Canton's supervisor in 1953, and saw Canton Township through many years of development.

He was a member of the Wayne County Ways and Means Committee, Chairman of the Hospital Infirmity Committee, member of the Civil Defense Committee and Vice-chairman of the Wayne County Department of Public Works Committee.

Stein was also immediate past president of the State Association of Township Officers.

Stein commented on the Board's tabling action: "This is no secret. The Board knows I had this in mind. I submitted the letter with the understanding that they would take action later, and I'm sure they will."

IN OTHER ACTION on the Canton Board, as reported to the Mail by treasurer Dingley, two petitions were heard.

The first, from the Canton Hills development, asked for consideration of a sewer line in that area. About 30 homes are involved in the 48-lot subdivision; the project was referred to the engineer.

Propose $1 million urban renewal plan

The City of Plymouth took initial steps toward a $1 million urban renewal project in the area of Main St. and Ann Arbor Trail Monday night as they approved the second phase of a study.

The Central Business District urban renewal project includes areas along Deer, Wing and Maple Streets. (See map.)

Local cost would only be about $137,000, with the $1 million total cut in half with funds from the re-sale of cleared land; federal cost would total about $412,000.

The City agreed to have the regional office Urban Renewal Area Co-ordinator will view the proposed area and project first hand; if he approves it, the City will spend about $750 on further studies.

Basically, urban renewal projects involve the repurchase of land with blighted buildings yielding a low tax base, and replacement of those buildings with higher tax base structures. The final gain in taxes is expected to offset the initial cost of land purchase and demolition.

THE COMMISSION reviewed a report from planning consultants, Velican and Leman, and here's what their report said, in part:

"Several commercial structures on the Main Street-Ann Arbor Trail frontage would probably remain as they are structurally sound and would conform to the re-use plan.

"The majority of residential and some commercial structures appear to be substandard and could be cleared. Redevelopment in the clearance area would probably consist of commercial and office sites, off-street parking and multiple family residential development.

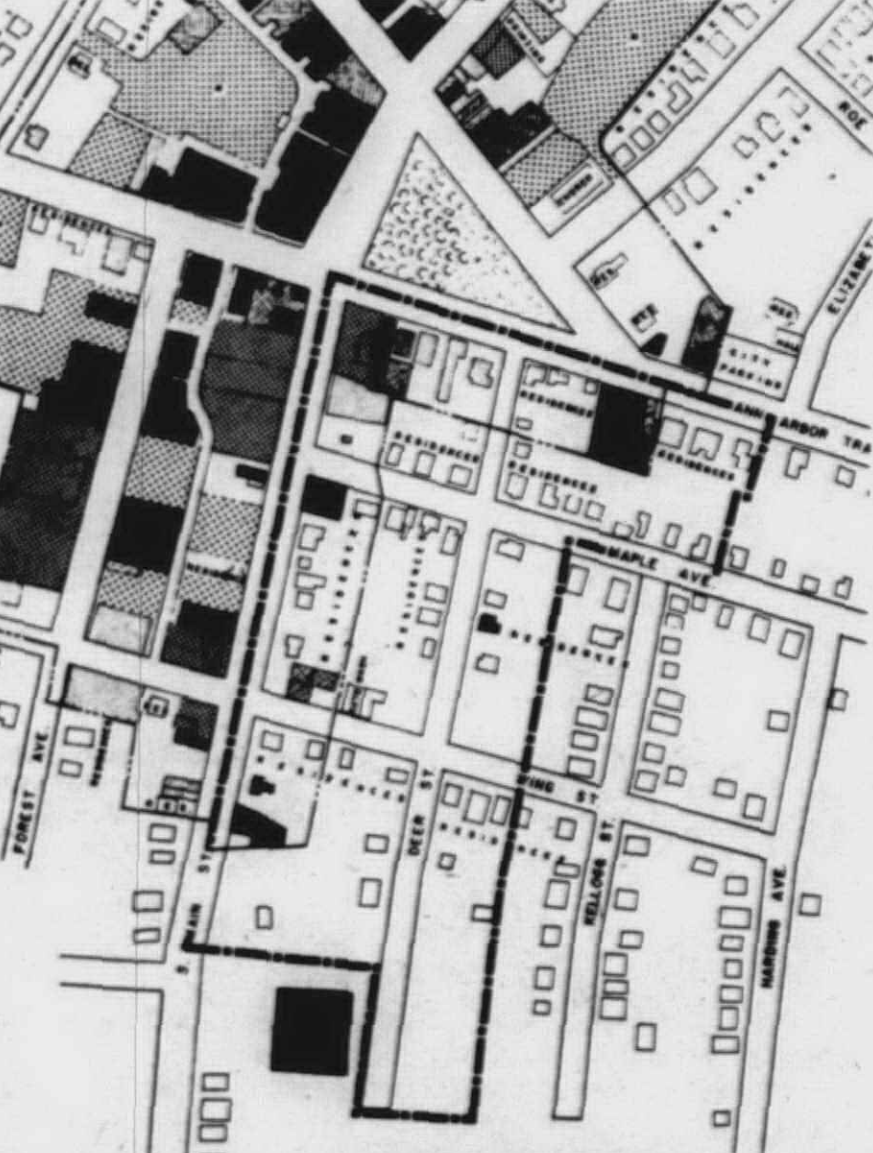

"In order to qualify for federal urban renewal assistance it must be shown that more than fifty (50) percent of the structures are substandard or exhibit blighting influences.

"In addition, it appears that the area contains three environmental deficiencies (improper location of structures on the land, obsolete buildings and incompatible of structures on the land. "35 of the 58 structures or sixty (60) percent appear to be substandard or exhibit blighting influences.

"In addition, it appears that the area contains three environmental deficiencies (improper location of structures on the land, obsolete buildings and incompatible

The Sporting Life

From Russia, with schmaltz

Doug Johnson

From Russia, with schmaltz. "Tell us a goodnight story, uncle Doug." This from my cousins a few weeks back.

"Bout what," I asked.

"James Bond and the man who cuts people's heads off with his hat. He's funny," they answered.

"OK," I said. "It was a misty, summer night in Tel Aviv, the ancient port city of Israel. The bees were humming, moonshine . . ."

"Uncle Doug, bees don't hum at night," one said. Another said, "Was everybody drunk on moonshine. Come on and tell us about the car that shoots bad guys into the air."

James Bondberg, agent 007, rested easily in the big chair in the Chief's office, awaiting his next assignment. The rare double-0 prefix meant he had a license to kill, wholesale or retail, whichever you wanted. ("I'll always make with you such a deal," Bondberg would always say).

"Ever hear of Gordy Greenfinger," the Chief was saying.

Bondberg dug back in his memory. "I think I have. Isn't he the guy that's always hitting garden shops for ivy plants and peat moss — brother of Pabst Beer-finger?"

The Chief's eyes got very hard. "Yes — but it's bigger this time. Much bigger."

"You mean . . ." Bondberg waited.

"Yes. He's going to hit the Vigoro factory."

As Bondberg left the office for Rudy's for a cup of chicken soup, he tabulated what he knew about Greenfinger. He was cold, mean, shrewd; always carried a can of Raid in one shoulder holster; a can of Green Grow in another; never hesitated to use either. Suddenly Bondberg knew he was in for a tussle. He hopped in to his 1947 Hudson and made for Greenfinger's known hideouts.

Bondberg's long awaited meeting with Greenfinger came two days later, in Greenfinger's penthouse greenhouse. After a brief scholarly exchange about the Madagascar beetle, Greenfinger unexpectedly hit Bondberg over the head with a can of rose dust. Every moment of training Bondberg had gone through suddenly came to the fore and he said, "Was that nice? A friendly talk and all I get is such a hit. Orvey."

Bondberg left, but not before he had tripped over a rubber tree plant. (Ain't that a kick in the head?)

Bondberg decided to lay a trap for Greenfinger inside the Vigoro factory. He would use the secret weapon Q had come up with, hidden cleverly in an attache case.

Late that night, Bondberg was hiding behind packing crates waiting for the dread Mr. Greenfinger. After hours of tense moments, Greenfinger arrived; as he was about to load the first sack of Vigoro into the truck, Bondberg sprang with cat-like movements, attache case in hand.

Greenfinger whirled, his can of Raid in one, his can of Green Grow in the other. Their eyes flashed, each sizing the other up. Then 007 sprang the steel clasp on the attache case. Suddenly Greenfinger slumped over.

Bondberg called the police, calmly lighting a cigar.

"Uncle Doug, what was in the case," they all pleaded after this lively tale.

"The ultimate weapon for use against Greenfinger."

"What? What?" they asked.

"Crabgrass."

You think I'll ever replace Ian Fleming?

A slap in the face

A harmless request from Township engineer Harold Hamill came before the Plymouth Community School Board recently, and received a very un-businesslike response.

The request was for a 10 foot easement in front of Bird School just inside the sidewalk for the new Township Detroit water line coming down Sheldon Rd. Original plans had called for laying the line between the sidewalk and the street.

But subsequent excavations revealed sewer and power lines, and a danger that sand might collapse and cave in the sewer. Hamill proposed to lay the line in an area less crowded with public utilities.

Engineer Hamill's request was handled rather carelessly by the School Board, with a snide remark cast about his competence.

The board agreed to the easement contingent upon:

- (A.) a formal request from the Township Board,
- (B.) replacement of the sod, and maintenance through the next growing season,
- (C.) tunneling or replacement of existing drives and sidewalks,
- (D.) completion of the project by the opening of school Sept. 7.

Request A was simple enough, but really not needed. Hamill's formal request should have been sufficient.

Request B was a little farfetched, particularly maintaining the new sod for a full year. Governments don't do it in other circumstances. A close look at the grass at Bird School reveals it's mostly weeds and field grass cut down from time to time. It's dried out and brown like most grass this time of year.

Request C was well-taken.

Request D made at least one Plymouth Township board member steam. The school asked that the water line be done in front of their school by Sept. 7, when school starts.

Several months back the Township's officials said they couldn't promise the water until at least October 1. No one asked then that the line be in by September 7 when it was between the street and the sidewalk. But a simple request to move it 10 feet or so, brings an unreasonable condition that it be done by the time school opens.

In a community that is full of leaders talking of co-operation among governments, this is an open slap in the face.

We're tempted to suggest that the Township Board, in the interest of the people in the Township, ask that the school board guarantee the new elementary school in Lake Pointe will be done by Sept. 1, 1966.

Stein will be missed

At 66, Louis Stein, Canton Township's about-to-retire supervisor, can count many successful years in township politics. This year, his thirteenth, began his seventh term.

Long terms in office aren't unusual for Michigan townships, but unlike many of his peers, Stein apparently had no desire to create a dynasty, or feather his own nest.

He instead recommended logical programs, and received support for them in true progressive fashion. He appeared content to administrate.

He was not an old political smoothy; rather an open-faced ex-railroad contractor and road builder who knew what it meant for an area to develop.

He had watched it happen in Garden City, then in Nankin Township, when he was building roads in the Twenties.

Canton, and thus The Plymouth Community, has lost a leader of unusual candor, honesty and fairness.

Stein viewed the approaching building boom in Canton philosophically. "It's going to come. And we're ready for it."

That apparently was Stein's motivation . . . getting Canton ready for the builders and developers from Detroit. He went to the people for the Charter Township, and for several sewer and water programs, and received their support.

Canton's plans weren't without opposition; right now the planning commission is embroiled in the 701 Master Plan after several weeks of controversial public hearings.

But Stein, as Canton's leader, always appeared unruffled, and confident of Canton's ultimate progress.

The nature of the man might be revealed in a report we received a few weeks back that he and Canton's treasurer, Phil Dingledey, (Stein's possible successor), were out in the hot sun helping lay water lines.

Both Stein and Dingledey have publicly stated their willingness to talk over mutual problems . . . problems long unsolved in the history of The Plymouth Community.

Stein's simple dignity and integrity will be missed in local government when he steps down at the end of this month. But at 66 he's earned his rest, and, a vote of thanks from people of the area, and Canton residents in particular.

TALKING OVER plans for the many agricultural exhibits as Michigan State Fair time nears are Bob McLachlan (left), director of that department, and State Fair General Manager Walter A. Goodman. McLachlan, of 15109 Farmbrook, joined the fair staff last year. He succeeded his father, Eldon McLachlan, as director of agricultural exhibits. This year's State Fair, the 116th, opens Friday evening, August 27, and runs through Labor Day, September 6.

LETTERS:

Editor gives Mary Vallier rave review

Aug. 13

Dear Editor: It was grand to see the picture of Mary Vallier in last week's Mail as she played the role of Elisa Doolittle in "My Fair Lady" in Caseville.

Mary was tremendous in the part and she certainly has a beautiful voice and marked stage ability, as do most of the youngsters who take part each summer in the annual musical staged at the tiny Thumb town.

Caseville's Summer Enrichment Program is a lesson to all school districts. It was started by an on-the-ball superintendent (since hired away by Bangor), who felt property owners who only used their places in the summer deserved something for their School tax dollars.

So five years ago, he started a six-week vacation deal, which the kids love. All youngsters are welcome and they come from far and wide. As I understand it, kids of property owners go free or at reduced tuition, others pay a full shot.

SCHOOL BUSES roam far and wide, collecting the kids each day about 8 a.m., returning them home in the afternoon. There are some academic classes, but emphasis is placed on the arts—ballet, vocal, painting. A qualified faculty teaches.

The climax is always the annual musical comedy, which is staged nightly (four evenings) to absolutely packed houses.

One of the reasons for this is the ability of the director, Patricia Ankney of Essexville, who handles the entire show. She also conducts the 35-piece orchestra, which really can play.

Suffice it to say, this Miss Ankney is a One Gal Gang who pushes her cast to scale mountains and makes it look easy. There were 65 kids on stage of "My Fair Lady" and each one, no matter how minor a role he or she played, was expressive each time before the audience. No wooden Indians.

As you may guess by now, the Riordans are hooked on the Caseville program.

Quite by accident we heard about it. Looking for a spot to vacation a year ago, we rented a cottage north of Caseville. Upon arrival in town, we saw a banner advertising "The Music Man," which was to be put on by Summer Enrichment kids.

We saw the musical and were all delighted. The upshot was that we went back again this year, primarily to view "My Fair Lady." Once again, here was grand entertainment, in parts rivaling or surpassing professional performances.

Miss Vallier was a magnificent Elisa and I was pleased to see you use her picture.

Best regards,
Tom Riordan

Crash pilot has 25 years experience

Last week's story in the Mail about the air crash reported that Wayne County detectives felt the crash was due to the inexperience of the pilot.

The pilot, Donald Belangie, told the Mail Monday that he had been flying 25 years, and had logged well over 300 hours in that type of plane (Cessna single engine Sky Hawk.)

He has held a pilot's license since 1940, and was a liaison pilot and air liaison officer in WW II, and has flown with the Air National Guard. The Federal Aviation Agency will make the final report on the matter. Belangie indicated there was a possible mechanical failure.

"I think I'm not in the novice class," Belangie said.

To orient all new teachers

The Plymouth Community School District has scheduled two days of pre-school conferences for all teachers in the school system to be held at Plymouth High School.

On Tuesday, Sept. 7 the teachers will hear William Harding, assistant superintendent for secondary education, discuss "Human Growth and Development Curriculum Study" at a morning session. Dr. Charles E. Brake and Dr. Rachel Brake will present a talk on "Today's World as Viewed by Two Around the World Travelers."

A tour of the community for new teachers only is planned for Wednesday, Sept. 8. Robert Houghton, director of transportation, and Earl Gibson, principal at Bird Elementary School, will conduct the tour.

The new teachers will also be honored at a reception at the Mayflower Hotel on Wednesday, sponsored by the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce.

After a year and a half of mumbled explanations and muttered apologies, I am changing the miserable name of this column.

It has been a pain in the neck ever since I conceived it.

"My God," the late Sterling Eaton commented when I proposed The Grim Pilgrim as a title, "why can't you call it the happy pilgrim — or the progressive pilgrim?"

"You know," one dear old soul offered one day, "I'd like to read it, but the title scares me away."

Similar viewpoints have been expressed by people ranging all the way from my boss, Russ Strickland, to the proofreader in the office.

Last weekend, I was loading up on goodies from the garden at a Main Street produce stand when the young man behind the counter inquired who I was.

"Oh yeah," he responded, "The Grim Pilgrim."

"Why do you have to be grim?"

So I give up.

If you'll excuse the rape of the King's English, I ain't hardly grim at all.

But neither am I all sunshine and light.

I am just a guy who likes to say what he thinks in a weekly collection of words.

For the sake of simplicity, let's call it "The Plymouth Pilgrim." O.K.?

In a week or two, Mike Ross will be leaving for college in Florida. When he goes, The Plymouth Mail will discontinue his "PHS Viewpoint" column which, over the past year, has attracted a large following. Mike has had his trials.

An outspoken young man who said what he thought, he has been routed out of bed in the wee hours by adult retards who have cursed him, berated him or simply contented themselves by breathing heavily into the phone.

He has gotten poison pen letters. But Mike went ahead and wrote what he darned pleased anyway. He had complete editorial freedom and I, for one, think the experiment paid off.

While none of us have agreed with Mike Ross in all cases, it has been refreshing to have him express a young viewpoint in these pages.

We will be looking for another high schooler to take Mike's place. In the meantime, I hope Mail readers join me in thanking Mike and wishing him well at the university level.

Fall Festival pledges are coming in slowly — too slowly — and Festival committee members would appreciate accelerated results.

This remarkable four-day event has only achieved its present stature because of active local support, and I'd hate to see it lose any of its momentum.

Pledge checks should be sent to Plymouth Fall Festival, 455 S. Main St., Plymouth, Michigan.

The Festival should be bigger than ever this year. Part of the publicity efforts include distribution of over 400 news releases on two consecutive weeks to virtually every newspaper in the State of Michigan.

The Plymouth Mail arranged to have the releases sent out by the Michigan Press Association, headquartered in East Lansing.

Back to Mike Ross. Last week, he submitted a column on the junior high school set and social problems which have become apparent since the junior high concept was implemented.

The problems have raised their ugly heads in The Plymouth Community, too.

Parents and a few school officials have expressed a nagging feeling of worry.

Worry about seventh graders who want to wear makeup and sexy clothes before they've got anything to be sexy about.

Worry about discipline, or the lack of it. Worry, in short, because kids are being forced to compete socially, to mature emotionally, to want mentally and physically before they're ready for it. The rat race starts too early. Mom and Dad, and if you doubt it, take a look at the pathetic efforts of your seventh and eighth grade offspring to reach the holy grail of social acceptance.

Back in the 40's, when I was a newcomer at Detroit's Denby High School, I remember how much older the kids who had attended junior highs seemed.

They were aged beyond their years and sophisticated far beyond the deprived group that were produced by conventional Kindergarten through eighth grade schools.

The quickened stride of society, overstepping itself. Will it never slow down?

IT'S A FACT..

Sue Fleming, James Izett Marry

Mrs. James M. Izett

James McRae Izett claimed Sue Nell Fleming as his bride on Saturday afternoon, August 14 in the First Baptist Church, Johnston City, Ill.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Fleming of Johnston City, while Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart Izett of Priscilla Lane are parents of the bridegroom.

The 3 o'clock double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Thomas E. Adams.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor length gown of white peau de soie featuring embroidered chantilly lace etching the elbow length sleeves and sheath skirt. Her shoulder length veil was held in place with a Swedish toque headpiece. Her bouquet of orchids was surrounded by stephanotis and lemon leaves.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Mary Rita Senkavech, of Johnston City. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Janice Reynolds of Oak Park, Ill., Mrs. Carol Smith of Rockford, Ill., and Judith Izett, sister of the bridegroom.

The attendants were gowned alike in floor length dresses of two-tone pink linen. They carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations and rosebuds.

Hayden Schuett of Carbondale, Ill. served as best man. Seating the guests were William Rossow of Plymouth, Thomas Barry of Evanston, Ill. and Matthew Jandura of Joliet, Ill.

For her son's wedding Mrs. Izett chose a green silk knit dress with white accessories. The bride's mother wore embroidered pink voile with a pink feather hat. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

After a reception in the lower auditorium of the church, Mr. and Mrs. Izett left to a wedding trip to Jamaica, West Indies.

The young couple both graduated from Southern Illinois University where Mr. Izett was affiliated with Alpha Kappa Psi fraternity. They will live in Davison, Mich.

Engaged

Sara Lynn Wesley

Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Wesley of Rogers, Arkansas, formerly of Plymouth, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sara Lynn, to John Wayne Ford, son of Mrs. J. Wayne Ford and the late Mr. Ford of Rogers.

Miss Wesley is a graduate of Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, where she was affiliated with Delta Zeta sorority and Delta Phi Delta honorary art society. For the past three years she has been associated with Design Associates, Inc., of Rogers.

Mr. Ford is a graduate of the University of Arkansas where he was a member of Sigma Pi fraternity. For the past four years he has been teaching in the Rogers School system, and is presently working on his masters degree at the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville.

Plans are being made for an early winter wedding.

Mary Jane Cross

Announcement of the engagement of Mary Jane Cross to Robert Haas is being made by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin C. Cross of Five Mile Road.

The future bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Haas of Ypsilanti.

Both are 1964 graduates of Plymouth High School. An October wedding is being planned.

West Trail home opens addition

Completion of the addition to the West Trail Nursing Home on Ann Arbor Trail was celebrated Sunday afternoon with an open house for about 125 persons.

The addition made available 21 new beds for the home making a total of 46 beds in the Nursing Home. Carl Lampton, manager of the home, employs a staff of 18.

Out-of-state guests at the open house included Mr. and Mrs. Vera Griffen of Homestead, Florida, and Mrs. Fern L. Wells of Palm Beach, Florida.

MEET MIKEY

Mrs. Richard Blodgett

Chatting over a cup of coffee in her new home in the Plimeth Place Apartments on Sheldon Road, Mrs. Richard Blodgett, wife of Plymouth's new city manager, revealed herself as charming, friendly and vivacious.

Dashing in from lunch with friends, she said, "Oh, I know we'll like Plymouth. Everyone's so friendly."

An attractive, slim, strawberry blond, the former Mickail Diane Forme of Battle Creek is just 26 years old. She likes to be called "Mikey" — with a long i.

The Blodgetts moved to Plymouth less than a month ago. Blodgett began his duties as city manager on August 1.

Mikey met her future husband on a blind date. But, she confessed, she has been very impressed with him from a distance long before that first date.

The college romance resulted in their marriage in December, 1960, while Mikey was still studying at the University of Michigan College of Nursing. Her husband was working on his Master's degree and at the same time was administrative assistant to the city manager of Ann Arbor.

After her graduation with the coveted RN in June, 1961, Mrs. Blodgett began her nursing career with the psychiatric patients at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor.

"I especially liked working with the children," she said.

When her husband became city manager in Marysville in 1963, Mikey continued her career, this time as a Public Health nurse in that area.

Will she continue her nursing career in Plymouth?

"Well, no," she admitted. "I'll be starting a new career in motherhood early next spring." And her eyes sparkled with that announcement. When that happy event occurs, they hope to be in their own home, she said.

While sewing, knitting, and reading are among her interests, Mikey also loves to play the piano—"just for my own enjoyment". She is also looking forward to some of the cultural advantages Plymouth offers.

"We feel that Plymouth is a very progressive, forward sighted community and hope to become an integral part of it", stated Mrs. Blodgett.

This charming young lady will be a definite asset to The Plymouth Community.

BRANDON de Wilde as Ensign Jeremiah Torrey and Jill Haworth as Torrey's Annalee Dorne appear in Otto Preminger's "In Harm's Way," a Paramount release showing at the Penn Theatre August 18 through 24. The film also stars John Wayne, Patricia Neal, Tom Tryon, Burgess Meredith, Paula Prentiss, Barbara Bouchet, Franchot Tone and Henry Fonda.

Mrs. Henry Ehrensberger of Joy Rd. and her sister, Mrs. Ida Kroff of Detroit left Friday for a few days' visit with the former's daughter, Mrs. Virginia Dash, and family in White Plains, N. Y.

Douglas Sabo, who has been visiting relatives for five weeks in Palos Verdes, Hermosa Beach, Torrance and Pasadena, Calif., will arrive Friday at his home on Starkweather Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mathews and daughter, Joy, who have been visiting relatives in the northern peninsula, will return by way of Minnesota and Wisconsin following a 10-day vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. James Carney, who have spent the summer with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Elmore L. Carney on Wilcox Rd., left Monday morning for Forest Grove, Ore., where he will continue his studies at the optometry college. On Sunday his parents entertained in their honor Mrs. Carney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fifes and son, Ronald, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Binder and family of Benton Harbor and Dr. and Mrs. Merrill Draper of Ypsilanti.

Miss Sackett wed in afternoon rites

Wearing a gown of white peau de soie and Chantilly lace, Louise Sackett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arden Sackett of Russell St., became the bride of James C. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis of Brookville Rd.

The afternoon ceremony was performed by the Rev. Canon David T. Davies at St. John's Episcopal Church on Saturday, July 31.

The bridal dress was fashioned with a Chantilly lace bodice, a sabrina neckline and long, lace sleeves. The full skirt, which was accented with an insert of lace, fell to a cathedral train. A lace crown embroidered with pearls and crystals held her veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a cascade of white rose buds and stephanotis centered with white orchids.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, asked her sister, Mrs. Lee M. Huber, to attend her as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Kathy Davis and Mrs. Marylee Gibson, both sisters of the bridegroom. Amy Sackett, the bride's sister, was junior bridesmaid.

The attendants wore street length dresses of pale yellow fashioned with a full skirt and a fitted bodice of white eyelet. They wore matching yellow headpieces. The matron of honor carried white daisies while the other attendants carried yellow daisies.

Ray Sackett, the bride's brother, was ring bearer.

Mr. Davis asked his brother, John, to serve as best man. Ushers were Leonard Sackett, brother of the bride, and Edward Davis, the bridegroom's cousin.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Sackett chose a blue crepe sheath with a matching full length lace coat and matching accessories. Mrs. Davis wore a pink linen sheath fashioned with overall embroidery of deeper pink and matching accessories.

After a reception in the church fellowship hall for 165 guests, the young couple left for a wedding trip to Northern Michigan. For her traveling costume the new Mrs. Davis chose a white, gold and green print dress with white accessories. She wore her orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis both graduated from Plymouth High School. The bride graduated from Eastern Michigan University in 1965, while Mr. Davis is a graduate of General Motors Institute of Technology.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Kovala of Butternut, Wis., announce the birth of a nine pound son, Duane Allen, born July 26 at the University Hospital, Ann Arbor. Mrs. Kovala is the former Mavis Williams. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Williams of Buck Lake, former residents of Plymouth. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Warno Kovala of Highbridge, Wis.

Tell marriage of Marilyn Jamieson

On Friday the thirteenth, Mrs. Marilyn Jamieson of Dearborn, formerly of Plymouth, and Donald Stratton of Birmingham were united in marriage in the First Methodist Church in Saugatuck by the Rev. Alexander.

A luncheon followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard W. Stratton in Saugatuck, parents of the bridegroom. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Craig J. Bowly of Plymouth, who were also present at the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Stratton left that evening by plane for a ten-day wedding trip to the Virgin Islands. They will reside in Birmingham.

Bridge, anyone

Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter DAR is sponsoring its second Round Robin Tournament beginning Sept. 15, 1965.

There will be two groups—one of 20 individual players, the second with 10 couples. One game will be played every three weeks until 10 games have been played.

Each time a designated hostess will collect $1 from each player. Games will be played during the daytime at the discretion of the hostess and those with whom she will be playing.

There are openings in both groups. Interested persons can call Mrs. J. A. Sample, 349-2308.

Proceeds from last year's tournament were used for the many educational purposes, both local and national.

Fortune - Soth rites read in Ann Arbor

Mrs. Scott R. Soth

In an afternoon ceremony on Saturday, August 14, Peggy Lynn Fortune became the bride of Scott Robert Soth.

The 2 o'clock rites were performed by the Rev. Richard Cockrell at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Ann Arbor. A reception followed the ceremony in Henry Lewis Hall.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard L. Fortune of Ann Arbor and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Soth of Warren Road.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a white, floor length gown of nylon organza over taffeta and Chantilly lace featuring long pointed sleeves, a full skirt and a chapel train. Her imported silk illusion veil was held in place by a crown of Chantilly lace leaves and sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and ivy centered with an orchid.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Marshall Green of Palmyra, was matron of honor. The bridegroom's sister, Joyce Soth, Mrs. George Azar of East Lansing, and Mrs. Ernest Drew of Selma, Ala. served as bridesmaids.

The four attendants were dressed alike in floor length gowns of blue organza fashioned with empress waists and A-line skirts. Their bouquets were of pink carnations, pink roses and ivy.

Flower girls were Debra Green of Palmyra, the bride's niece, and Leslie Jo Lane of Ann Arbor.

Serving as best man was Marshall Green of Palmyra. Ushers were Andy Krukutis of Plymouth, William Rea of Jackson, and Walter Smith of Anderson.

After a week's wedding trip in Northern Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. Soth will live in Spartan Village on the campus of Michigan State University, East Lansing. They are both students at MSU and will graduate in December.

Women's Clubs Sponsor Fall Festival booths

The women's organizations in Plymouth are well represented in the Fall Festival activities.

The Soroptimist Club will again sell cider and donuts at their booth with Mrs. E. H. Merchant in charge. Her committee consists of Mrs. Evelyn Arthey, Mrs. Lorena Hubbs, and Mrs. Charles Gladstone. The Cider Mill will be in operation on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, Sept. 9, 10, 11.

The ladies of the Plymouth Grange will be selling cookies and sandwiches at the Antique Mart, sponsored by the Women's League of the Plymouth Symphony. They will be stationed at the Plymouth Grange Hall and the Plymouth Community Hall on Union St. Mrs. Claude Eckles is chairman for the Grange.

The Business and Professional Women's Club have slated a German dinner for Thursday evening, Sept. 9, and the Plymouth branch of the National Farm and Garden Association will have their display at Leo Calhoun Ford sales room on Main St. on Sunday, Sept. 12.

Symphony League says thanks

Much of the behind-the-scenes work on any project is done quietly, with no fan-fare, and, sometimes, with no recognition.

Work on the Plymouth Symphony League's Antique Mart, slated for September 10, 11, 12, was started quietly last winter.

Painting posters and directional signs, making costumes, and planning this year's Mart have kept these women busy for the past six months.

Mrs. Margaret Hough, Mrs. R. J. Emerson, Mrs. David McCubbrey, Mrs. Gerald J. Fischer, Mrs. Thomas Adams and Mrs. Norbert Batterman.

Also Mrs. Dewer McCord, Mrs. Blaise Delaney, Mrs. Robert Werner, Mrs. Charles Miller, Mrs. John Jacobs, Mrs. Arthur Radcliffe and Mrs. Charles Childs.

"BROWNING HAMBURGER for her 'Kidney Bean Casserole' is Mrs. Alan J. Woodworth of Church St. The recipe, besides being delicious, is easy-to-prepare, according to Mrs. Woodworth.

A delicious, easy-to-prepare recipe for "Kidney Bean Casserole" was suggested this week by Mrs. Alan J. Woodworth of Church St.

A longtime Plymouth resident, Mrs. Woodworth is the former Connie Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schmidt of Blunk St. Her husband, a native of Plymouth, is an airplane pilot and flight instructor at Detroit City Airport. The Woodworths have two children, Scott, 4½, and Lisa, 2½.

Vice-president and membership chairman of Plymouth Cooperative Nursery, Mrs. Schmidt said she likes to read and sew and is interested in interior decorating. Mrs. Woodworth said her recipe is one that her husband's great-aunt gave her when they were first married.

KIDNEY BEAN CASSEROLE

2 C. red kidney beans
¾ C. instant rice
2 C. tomatoes
¼ C. chopped onion
1 tsp. salt
1 lb. ground beef
Brown meat and mix with other ingredients. Bake in a 350 degree oven for 45 minutes.

Mary Pravato, Richard Bennetts say vows

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bennetts, Jr.

In a double ring ceremony on June 19 Mary Frances Pravato and Richard John Bennetts, Jr. exchanged marriage vows in St. Michael Catholic Church, Livonia. Father Thomas McMahon performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Pravato of Livonia and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Bennetts, Sr. of Livonia.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown made by her mother. The white peau de soie gown featured re-embroidered Alencon lace set with hand sewn aurora teardrops, seed pearls and sequins. The dress had long sleeves and a scoop neckline. Her silk illusion shoulder length veil was attached to a double tiered crown. She carried a bouquet of pixie feather orchids and white carnations centered with an orchid.

As maid of honor, Grace D'Anna, the bride's cousin, wore a floor length gown of orchid dotted swiss over orchid taffeta. She carried a cascade of orchid carnations.

Bridesmaids, Linda Pravato, sister of the bride, Gail Hoffmeyer of Plymouth, and Judy Hirschlieb of Livonia, wore orchid dotted swiss over white taffeta. They also carried orchid carnations.

Cheryl Taylor was the flower girl and Greg Pravato was ring bearer.

Best man was Howard Webster. Seating the guests were Allan Bennetts, Frank Pravato of Utica, and Douglas Hoffmeyer of Plymouth.

The bride's mother chose a sea foam lace dress with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink linen suit with matching accessories. They both changed to evening dresses for the reception at Roma Hall for about 275 guests.

For their wedding trip to Miami Beach and Ft. Lauderdale, the new Mrs. Bennetts wore a yellow and white lace sheath with white accessories.

Mr. Bennetts is a junior at Eastern Michigan University where he is affiliated with Alpha Sigma Phi. Mrs. Bennetts is employed at the Plymouth branch of National Bank of Detroit.

Most people avoid bees—for obvious reasons. Rheumatism sufferers of old, however, tried to get stung. They thought bee stings were an effective treatment for rheumatism. Now most of us prefer the more reliable—and painless—remedies of today. Thanks to medical science we have many safe, fast-acting pain relievers. Other powerful drugs, too. When you're ill, take advantage of these newer medications—but only upon the advice of your physician. Then let us render complete prescription service.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED BY DETROIT EDISON

An electric water heater is for the people who don't like to run out of hot water. We're so sure you'll like one, we guarantee your satisfaction—for a whole year! What do we mean by satisfaction? Simply this: If you don't get all the hot water you want, when you want it, you get all your money back, including any you may have spent on installation. And it doesn't matter where you bought your electric water heater. The Edison guarantee still applies. No strings attached. Fair enough?

P.S. Average-size families with electric water heaters pay as little as $3.88 a month—a standard rate—for hot water. How much are you paying?

Rev. Berg elected to high Lutheran post

Some 325 delegates to the 38th biennial convention of the Wisconsin Ev. Lutheran Synod meeting here August 4 to 11 at Northwestern College, adopted major proposals for the expansion of its mission and educational program.

Attending the convention from this area were: the Rev. Norman Berg, St. Peter's Lutheran Church, the President of the Michigan District; Claude Hesse and the Rev. Edward Zell of Lola Park Lutheran Church, Redford Township.

Among the delegates was the former pastor of St. Peter's Church, the Rev. Edgar Hoencke, now Executive Secretary of the Board of World Missions of the Wisconsin Synod.

Acting on educational proposals, the convention authorized the first unit on the campus of Milwaukee Lutheran Teachers College, a junior college established in Milwaukee in 1960 for training teachers, and a multipurpose building for Dr. Martin Luther College, New Ulm, Minn., the terminal schools for Wisconsin Synod teachers.

Also the five divisions of the Synod's work made reports to the convention and their proposals were acted upon.

RE-ELECTED to his seventh two-year term was the Rev. Oscar J. Naumann, Milwaukee. Other officers elected were: the Rev. Irwin J.

Habeck, Milwaukee, first vice president; the Rev. Norman W. Berg, second vice president; and the Rev. Paul R. Hanke, St. Peter, Minn., secretary.

The 358,000 member Wisconsin Synod, fourth largest Lutheran Church body in America, with headquarters in Milwaukee, has been described by observers as "the most conservative Lutheran synod in the United States."

Its convictions have kept it aloof from cooperating in spiritual matters with other church bodies with whom it is not in full doctrinal agreement, and the same convictions have kept it from participating in the ecumenical movement.

 Surviving him are his wife, Gertrude A.; one son, John J. of Indianapolis, Ind.; two daughters, Mrs. David (Mary Ann) Kinney of Northville and Mrs. John (Patricia) Morgan of Detroit; one sister, Mrs. Allen (Ethel) Clark of Detroit; and two brothers, Sylvester of Detroit and Anthony of Redford. He is also survived by 10 grandchildren.
 Services were held Saturday, August 14, in St. Michael's Church, Livonia, with the Rev. Fr. McMahon officiating. Burial was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Southfield. Rosary was said August 13 in Schrader Funeral Home.

KENNETH L. RATLIFF
 Kenneth Lloyd Ratliff, 41619 Cherry Hill, Canton Township, died August 9 at his home after an illness of several months. He was 59 years of age.

THE CALVARY BIBLE COLLEGE Melody Messengers from Kansas City, Mo., were here last week for the August 12 gathering of the Calvary Baptist New Life Crusade in the big tent on Joy Road. The crusades have been running since Aug. 8, and will continue until Aug. 29, 7:30 week nights, and 7 p.m. Sunday. Pastor Patrick J. Clifford of the Plymouth Calvary Baptist Church is conducting the services.

Veneral disease in Plymouth

 Of those five cases, four were in the 15-19 age bracket; one was in the 20-24 age group. Schiefelbein commented on the ages:
 "We urge that venereal disease be taught in the class with the rest of the communicable diseases so we can get away from the social connotations of the disease."
 "It should be taught in the eighth and ninth grade. If you get beyond the ninth grade it's good, but a little bit too late." Continuing, Schiefelbein noted:
 "The problem is not as large in Plymouth as it is in Detroit. But it looks like gonorrhea is going to show an increase this year. In a community this size, one or two cases could start an epidemic. If there were 20 cases there would really be something to worry about."

He also said that the numbers he had to deal with were the numbers reported. "It's easily cured; there's no reason why it has to be a problem anywhere in the United States."
 The problem knows no bounds, Schiefelbein said. In Plymouth, it has touched middle and upper class. He said the most important thing was public information. "I'd like people to know we are available to help in things like teacher workshops."
 The department has films available on the subject that gather dust. The sources of information of venereal disease, or VD, is very small. Only one class at Plymouth High School has used the films, Schiefelbein said.

"THAT'S THEIR ONLY source of information. I don't know what parochial schools are doing."
 In addition to the public information work, field representatives spend a great deal of time investigating the disease — contacting and tracing sources. Wayne County General Hospital operates a free clinic where a minor can be treated for the disease without parental consent or knowledge. The matter is treated as confidential, and information on how to avoid it again is dispensed.

National figures show venereal disease experienced a rapid increase in 1964 in Michigan — well over 500% in the 24 and under age group. The advent of penicillin brought a marked decrease in 1957, but since then there have been increases each year at the national level.

Dr. Lee E. Feldkamp, Plymouth's health officer, commented on the problem.
 "We don't see a great deal of it in this area. Cases are reported directly to Wayne County; they are the best facility available for a follow-up. They have the case workers who can go out and make the contacts."

 "We have no follow-up set-up; it would be foolish to duplicate the facilities and the expense."
 Dr. Feldkamp makes a monthly report of communicable diseases to the City Commission, but does not include venereal diseases on the reports for these reasons. He said his reporting the matter would result in an unnecessary duplication.
 "Fortunately we are in a better situation here than other communities. We don't have the hangouts and personnel walking the streets."
 Schiefelbein's preventative and investigative work includes all of Wayne County. "If it wasn't for private physicians reporting the cases, the program for eradication would be a total loss. A good share of the increase comes from better reporting of the doctors," he said.

Calhoun's Robbed

Two car TV's, a radio, and a polisher were taken from Calhoun's Ford Dealership sometime late Friday evening. The value of the items was set at about $375.

Car Fire

Fire did extensive damage to the interior of a 1965 Buick owned by Loren Goodale, Jr., of 703 N. Harvey late Monday evening.

The seats were burned and the dash melted.
 Firemen think someone tossed a lighted cigarette into the car through an open window. Goodale reported he had smelled something in the car when he was driving home from his father's store on Starkweather St., but that it wasn't until about an hour later he looked out the window and saw the flames in the car.

Plymouthites win 4-H awards

ROB MAGRAW WAS among Plymouth winners at the Wayne County 4-H Fair last week; here he shows his grand champion market lamb.

And, while you stroll leisurely through Plymouth Thursday evening, September 9, you will hear the delightful beat of a German band in Kellogg Park. After you have completed your window shopping, you will find delicious knockwurst sandwiches available in the park, served by the Business and Professional Women's Club. To make "German Night" complete, a barrel of sauerkraut will be on hand to enhance the flavor of the knockwurst.

Festival

 On second thought, maybe you'd better take that stroll after you have had your fill of knockwurst and sauerkraut!
 For an utterly delightful, if noisy, experience, you are urged to visit Plymouth Saturday morning, September 11, for the children's pet show. Dogs, cats, rabbits, turtles — you name it and you'll find it at this show.
 The show will be held in Plymouth's central parking lot, a fact which should be quite apparent as soon as you get downtown.
 In addition to ribbons for the different classes of pets, a free ticket to the Penn Theatre will be given to every child who enters a pet.
 So, better dunk old Rover in the tub and come on over. If you've been to Plymouth recently, undoubtedly you have noticed the colonial bugler in Kellogg Park. The people of The Plymouth Community have grown quite fond of this little man.
 Because they know when he appears, Festival days are close at hand. With his hat perched jauntily on his head and his cheeks puffed out, it has been alleged an occasional note escapes his bugle.

QUANDARY

Would you like to be as young as she is? Would you like to wake up tomorrow and find yourself standing in a field of Queen Anne's lace, with the summer breeze blowing and fleecy white clouds sailing overhead?

Would you really like to be as young as she is? If you've been measuring up to life, the answer should be no. Naturally, you can look at her with nostalgia. But think of the lessons she has yet to learn — lessons you learned long ago. Add up your experiences, both good and bad, which wouldn't be yours were you to revert to youth. The total should make you glad that you are exactly the age you are.

If you aren't—something's missing. Somewhere, you've gotten off the track. In this case, you don't need to return to childhood. You need, rather, a new approach to adulthood, a new grasp, a new understanding. Start finding it now . . . in the church of your choice.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
 ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plans to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Lauterbach

We know it's going to come. You know and I know the Board's not going to act until public pressure is on, and maybe justly so. But we can have done all this research prior to that time when people really come out and ask us for it."

ABOVE ALL, Lauterbach felt "we should indicate we are willing to sit down and talk."

The Mail asked the Township supervisor, clerk, and treasurer to comment on the matter.

Township Supervisor John McEwen said: "Sure, we'll talk. I'd like to have the director of public safety handle this thing right off the bat."

Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes commented: "We'll talk about anything. I see no harm in that — an exploration of the possibilities."

Clerk C. V. Sparks noted: "I would have to get the report out again. It seemed at the time the cost was too high, with no money appropriated. I have had experience with how much protection you would get by hiring police with this method."

"Let's understand, I don't have a negative thought on the thing. There will be discussions on it. There is no harm in talking things over."

Now the matter rests with the fire administration board, which must draw up specifications for a public safety director.

Police protection in the Township now comes from the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol and occasional State Police patrol cars.

Both Sparks and McEwen noted recently that coverage of the area by these two groups seemed to be on the upswing.

The second petition from residents of the Koppernick Road area sought water; the line is expected to be started next week on a special assessment of front footage. The petitions represented about 60% of that footage, Dingledey reported.

The Board also held a special session Thursday evening to approve hard-backs for the second portion of Holiday Park on Joy Road.

Police stated that Randles was not issued a citation.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, August 17, in Schrader Funeral Home with burial in Riverside Cemetery. The Rev. Richard Markham officiated.

The son of Roy L. Sundstrom and Vera Swarthout, Sundstrom was born on May 24, 1934, in Flint. He had been a resident of Plymouth for three years and was a salesman for Mohawk Motors, Inc.

HE WAS a member of the Motor City Traffic Club and the Traffic Club of Detroit.

Besides his wife, Mary Joanne, and his parents, Sundstrom is survived by two children, Vera Ann and Lina Myril; one sister, Marilyn Sundstrom of Plymouth; and his grandmother, Mrs. Rose Swarthout, of Flint.

Blodgett

Now, for the first time, ladders are available to reach to top floors of local structures, such as the third floor of the High School.

The Detroit fire department has indicated they are willing to help train men to use the new truck; cost of the used truck was $12,000.

In other action:

Richard Blodgett was named voting delegate at the Michigan Municipal League convention to be held in the near future.

Bids for demolition work and sidewalks in the present urban renewal area on Mill St. were tabled until next meeting, after the voiced objection of one of the party's to the bidding procedure. Draugelis said he could see no legal defect on their "very, very minor" point.

THE COMMISSION heard reports from George Schoeneman, assistant fire chief, concerning apartment inspections. Vallier asked that the powers of the fire marshal be determined after he was told that not everything the City had asked of the owners of the Crestwood apartment development on Sheldon Rd. had been compiled with.

"You cannot use the catch-all power of the fire marshal to enforce building codes not in effect when the building was constructed," Draugelis noted.

Vallier had recently pushed for a step-up in inspection of all multiple dwellings, after two fires at the new Crestwood apartments.

The Commission also heard from Gerald Stein concerning Dupatainer's plans for their urban renewal property. Recently they had been asked to vacate a building on their property that is to be razed; they were told they were using it as a storage space illegally.

Stein said most of the materials stored there had been moved out and that the building program would be started as soon as possible.

The Commission accepted the resignation of Paul E. Kauffman as chairman of the Plymouth Community Human Relations Commission; he is moving to Traverse City where he will be research and training director at the Traverse City State Hospital.

RICHARD A. Doherty, 1353 Elm St. was named to the Plymouth Tomorrow Committee for a three year term to fill the term of William Nelson, who moved to Northville recently.

Township reviews

fire inspections

The Plymouth Township Board agreed to send fireman Ernest Honke to the Annual Michigan Fire Inspector's Conference in September last week.

The action came at the regular meeting of the Board of Trustees, and only after a lengthy discussion of the matter.

Trustee Ralph Garber expressed some concern over the position of Township Fire Inspector.

"It's fine that we send a man to learn something, but I'm concerned if we send a man and then get no inspections."

The possibility of a civil service exam and specifications for an inspector were discussed. It was agreed to send the fireman to the conference, which runs from Sept. 14 to 17, with the possibility that fire inspection would be one more task of the proposed public safety director might tackle.

SUPERVISOR John McEwen's request for help in recording Township Board minutes met with some opposition, with Dick Lauterbach feeling that it might be a needless expense.

"We pay a pretty high salary — $8,800 — for clerk now. His first discharge of duty is to be secretary of the board."

McEwen noted the Clerk was a member of the board and "could not participate and write the minutes accordingly."

Lauterbach agreed that if an arrangement similar to the planning commission's could be worked out, he would go along with it. The planning commission has a recording secretary that takes a half-day off work, then works the evening of the meeting with no additional expense to the Township.

McEwen and Clerk C. V. Sparks were asked to see if such an arrangement could be made.

In other action, Mrs. Holmes' request for 1400 feet of sewer line on Schoolcraft met with some opposition from McEwen, who said he had never seen the proposal before. Engineer Harold Hamill was asked to draw up plans and estimate costs. Mrs. Holmes said it would cost about $25,000, but McEwen was concerned about where the money was coming from.

"I'm merely asking that the engineer draw up plans and the Gargaro Construction not be permitted to leave the area if they were going to do it. Sometime we are going to have to have somebody lay it."

Slate vacation

Bible school

A family Vacation Bible School is scheduled at the Church of Christ, 9301 Sheldon Rd., from August 16 to 20. Classes will be held each evening from 7 to 8:30 for all ages, including nursery.

Speakers slated for the adult classes include, Roy Palmer, Joe Jones, Robert McAnally, Douglas Marsh and Elbert Henry. They will discuss phases of missionary work.

For transportation call 453-3020 or 453-2926.

Also scheduling a vacation Bible School is the Plymouth Assembly of God Church. Slated for the church grounds, 42021 Ann Arbor Trail, the school will be held from August 23 through 29 from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

Primarily for children from 4 years through 14 years old, young people and adults are also invited.

The Bible School will be directed by Mrs. Bettijane Wessman of Frostburg, Md.

Rings taken

Thieves broke a window at Beitner's Jewelry store on Ann Arbor Trail early Saturday morning and took ten diamond rings valued at $1600.

The thief or thieves, came very close to being met by City police making night rounds.

The window had been broken, but no brick or heavy object was left inside. The hole was about a yard long.

Another robbery five weeks ago was accomplished in much the same manner as three watches were taken from Beitner's.

No finger prints were found, and City police are continuing to investigate the incident. They have no idea as yet as to who did it.

Assistant police chief Loren Johnson is doubtful it was teenage pranksters.

Thanks . . .

To all you nice people who came in to welcome us to your neighborhood during our open house party. My whole family was so pleased with your interest and friendliness. We prize knowing you and having you as neighbors.

And, Mrs. Virginia McGraw, we're so happy that you won the color television set as our grand prize. We hope that you and all the other prize winners receive many, many hours of pleasure from your gifts.

If you missed our big party, don't feel bad . . . you're still invited to come in and visit with us at anytime . . . the coffee pot is always on. Come in and ask us questions. We're anxious to meet you now so that you'll know all about us the next time you are in the market for a new or used car.

Bill Sheridan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sheridan, 49475 N. Territorial Rd., won Grand Champion and Reserve Champion steer honors with this 905-pound Angus beauty at the Wayne County Fair last week. The year-and-a-half-old steer was auctioned off to the highest bidder Friday evening. Several other Plymouth youngsters won awards, and their names appear in Section A.

Africa and me Visit to Lagos, capital of Nigeria

by Lon Dickerson

Lagos is the thriving capital of Nigeria. Bustling with activity, it is the home of 364,000 people. To get there from Accra we took a plane which covered the 250 miles in about an hour.

Like Accra the city has many new multi-story buildings. But many of its residential sections are more congested and run down.

The people, as those in most big cities, are in a hurry. Many times during the day the streets are clogged with traffic and a large number of people resort to bicycles for transport.

There are several large department stores which stock almost everything a person could want. Or you can buy things from the numerous street vendors.

THE DAY we spent in Lagos didn't enable us to see a great deal of the city. But we were able to visit the excellent museums there and to explore sections of the business...

The resulting prosperity is reflected in Libreville. The shops and houses are like those in any American town, such as Plymouth. In addition it is a very clean city.

THERE are no street vendors and the atmosphere is peaceful. Walking through the city is a relaxing experience. The highlights of our tour were seeing the president's house, the sports stadium, and the French Cultural Center which houses a small library.

One of the two days in Libreville was spent on a beach lined with coconut trees. A picnic lunch supplemented with fresh coconuts with the Peace Corps representatives' family was very pleasant.

Communication was a big problem for us. Since our command of French is practically nil, we had to use sign language most of the time.

A visit to Lagos and Libreville is a study of contrasts. Both are the capital cities of their respective countries and both are modern cities.

BUT ONE is a large city and the other is a small town.

teaming with people and activity, while the other is a small, friendly administrative center.

Both are part of emerging Africa and important for a full understanding of that continent.

Libreville is only a few miles north of the equator. But our visit was during the dry season, and the sky is always overcast then. The temperature was about 70 degrees, but after a year in the tropics we found it cool. Thus we wore sweaters most of the time.

Communication was a big problem for us. Since our command of French is practically nil, we had to use sign language most of the time.

A visit to Lagos and Libreville is a study of contrasts. Both are the capital cities of their respective countries and both are modern cities.

BUT ONE is a large city and the other is a small town.

SUIT YOURSELF

Suit 'clubs' may be unethical swindle

The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce warned today that the so-called "suit club" promotion, one of the oldest something-for-nothing retailing rackets, has cropped up again in some areas of the country and may be in for a revival.

In some cases, victims have reported that the promoters had disappeared after collecting final payments, leaving "members" with nothing to show for their weekly contributions.

NBBB said any suit club or other merchandise club which awards merchandise to the winners of drawings during the period of weekly payments incorporates the three essential elements of a lottery—prize, chance and consideration (payment).

In this event, the club violates the postal lottery statutes if the mails are used and state lottery laws where they exist. Suit clubs also come under the laws and regulations administered by the Federal Trade Commission if they are involved in interstate commerce and the Federal Communications Commission if they advertise on radio or television.

Just nine months remain for veterans to take advantage of the new G.I. insurance which goes off sale May 2, 1966, Robert M. FitzGerald, Veterans Administration Regional Manager for Michigan, warned recently.

The insurance is open to those veterans originally eligible for G.I. insurance between October 8, 1940, and January 1, 1957, and who failed to take it out or have purchased it, let all or part of it lapse.

To secure the new insurance, the veterans must have a service-connected disability or a non-service-connected disability so severe that commercial insurance cannot be purchased. FitzGerald pointed out that while a full $10,000 policy may be taken out, the veterans also may purchase a non-service-connected disability so severe that commercial insurance cannot be purchased.

NEW HOMELITE XL-AUTOMATIC CHAIN SAW

This new lightweight beauty will soon pay for itself as it zips through cord after cord of wood for your fireplace. New features of the XL-AUTOMATIC make cutting easier than ever. Forget about chain oiling... it's completely automatic. A new 35% larger fuel tank lets you cut longer before refueling. Greater power in the XL-AUTOMATIC gives you 30% faster cutting... power to cut through a 10-inch log in only 14 seconds. Still a famous Homelite light-weight, it weighs only 14 pounds, less bar & chain.

Experts . . .

Experts are hard to come by, but for the past 18 years Dunning's has trained and kept the best in every department.

Whether it's in linen and dry goods, casual wear, baby or children's clothes, or ready-to-wear, Dunning's has an expert who is adept in buying and selling women's apparel.

Take Mrs. Camilla Barringer, head of the casual and sportswear department. She is master hand at quality, casual clothes. Her practiced eye examines everything that comes and goes in her department, like the Garland heather fashions she inspects here.

The people at Dunning's, like other Plymouth business men and women, realize you expect them to know all the answers about size, and cost, and quality, and cut.

And they know you expect them to provide answers to the hard-to-answer little questions, like what color goes best with what.

That's why Plymouth businesses are managed and staffed by experts.

Experts who are there to serve you because

Need a chance to show your talent?

Want a chance to display your budding talent? A state-wide talent search is getting underway to bring some of Michigan's best amateur performers to the 60th Annual Belding Labor Day Festival, Sept. 4, 5, and 6.

Offered to talent winners will be some $250 in prizes plus the chance to perform before upwards of 20,000 persons — last year's estimated attendance at the celebration.

Individuals and groups wishing to compete write to Merrill Russell, c/o Belding Chamber of Commerce, 209 W. Main St., Belding, Michigan, 48809, before August 19.

Parents Without Partners meet August 25

The Livonia chapter of the Parents Without Partners invites you to attend their meetings on every fourth Wednesday evening of the month.

Meetings are at the United Church of the Nativity, West Chicago at Henry Ruff Streets, Livonia.

Meeting time is 8 p.m. Parents Without Partners is a National, non-profit, non-sectarian, educational organization devoted to the interests and welfare of single parents and their children.

The group is open to all persons divorced, widowed and those separated with children in the Plymouth area.

RIFLES

The National Rifle Association of America announces that Lamott and Richard Whitbread of 9204 Rocher will be competitors in the 1965 National High-Power Rifle Championships, during the national matches, at Camp Perry, Ohio, August 15 to 28.

The national matches, a joint endeavor of the US Armed Forces, NRA and the National Board for the promotion of rifle practice, bring together, in a competitive spirit, more than 6,000 shooters who will fire in shoulder-to-shoulder competition.

Serving our country

Aral B. Gribble, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Gribble, 696 Herald St., was commissioned a second lieutenant at the conclusion of the 1965 Reserve Officer Training Corps summer camp that ended at Fort Riley, Kan., Aug. 6.

The lieutenant was graduated in 1961 from Plymouth High School and received a bachelor of science degree from Western Michigan University in 1965.
