SEEKS MORE SPACE FOR CUSTOMERS

Commission Eyes Solution to Parking Lot Woes

Although acting informally in an open committee-of-the-whole session with members of the parking commission and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, the Plymouth City Commission plans to take steps to resolve the problem of customer parking in the central business section lot.

Chamber and the Commission about lack of space for patrons because the lot is filled early by employees of the various stores and businesses surrounding the area. It was with the thought in mind of finding a solution that Mayor James Houk and the Commissioners decided to sit down with representatives of the groups and all interested citizens.

Wendell Lent, president of the Chamber, admitted that a good deal of the blame must be placed on the businessmen themselves for not having employees park at other places.

"We agreed to police the lot when we asked the Commission to remove parking meters some time ago," he said. "But it is an almost impossible situation. We can't order our employees to park elsewhere, we can only recommend and if they don't follow the recommendations, then we have the situation that now exists.

"We hope you gentlemen (referring to the Commission) will realize the position we are in. It is hard to find good workers these days and we have to lean over backwards to keep them. That's why we can't come right out and tell them to stop using the lot for a day-long parking place."

Lent urged the Commission to take whatever steps it thought were necessary to correct the problem and open the area for more parking by customers.

There were suggestions that meters be installed in the area—but they were quickly dropped when Commissioner George Hudson pointed out that there had been meters and they had been removed at the request of the Chamber.

Another suggestion was that gates be placed at the entrances and parkers charged for use of the lot with a ticket validation arrangement with stores and firms in the area that would take care of the costs.

The thought behind this idea is that the City needs cash for additional parking facilities in the not too distant future and this would be a means of raising the money.

"We believe a fee of some kind should be charged," said Robert Barbour, chairman of the Parking Committee. "A ticket validating plan could be the (Continued on Page 7-B)

Irate Township Residents Rap Apartment Proposals

The Plymouth Township Planning Commission learned last week that residents in the vicinity of Ann Arbor Trail and Lindsay Drive aren't too happy about the proposed plans of Garling Builders to construct apartments on the 5.71 acres of the Jess Jess Tritten property.

The Commission had a request from Garling for rezoning of the land from single family residential to Garden Court Apartments and listened while Garling representatives told of their plans.

Then the dissident residents had their moment. They presented the Commission with petitions carrying the signatures of 150 property owners in the area, all opposing the change in rezoning.

After considerable discussion, the Commission voted to hold a public hearing on the proposal at the September meeting.

JAR Corporation, which started court action to have the Township's zoning ordinance ruled illegal and then apparently gave up after a ruling by the State Supreme Court in a similar case upheld the zoning, presented a request for rezoning to half-acre lots in their 43 acres located directly behind the Woodlore Sub.

Previously, Developer Sam Stoller had told the Commission he couldn't possibly come out with a profit with half-acre lots and asked for a favorable zoning for 90 foot lots. When this was denied, he decided to test the ordinances.

JAR representatives have had a change of heart, since the Supreme Court ruling, and appeared before the Commission for the half-acre proposal.

The matter will come before the Commission again in the September meeting at a public hearing.

Frank and Julia Mangogna, who operate a cocktail lounge on Ann Arbor Road near the intersection of Ann Arbor Trail, asked the Commission for re-zoning of their property from Country Estates to Commercial for the purpose of building a new restaurant and cocktail lounge.

The Mangognas pointed out that they have operated the bar for the past 11 years on a non-conforming basis and need the proper zoning so that they can complete their plans for an ultra-modern cocktail lounge and eating place.

It was pointed out that they had made a similar promise to the Township Board several years ago for a new construction and then had backed away from the promise.

They report they need additional antiques for display and urge anyone with such articles that could be used during the Festival to call the Chamber of Commerce and leave the information.

School Board Hires Five Two Veteran Teachers Leave PHS Positions

Resignations of two veteran members of the Plymouth High faculty were accepted by the Board of Education meeting in a special session Monday night. At the same time, the Board approved contracts for five new instructors, filling one of the vacancies at the senior high.

After 40 years in the profession, 36 with the Plymouth Community School District, Gertrude Fiegel, Government teacher at Plymouth High, sent a letter to School Supt. Russell Isbister announcing her resignation.

Ruth Butts, longtime English instructor, tendered her notice at the same time, citing ill health as the reason for returning her contract.

Nat'l Bank Awarded School District Notes

National Bank of Detroit was awarded the right to purchase $700,000 tax anticipation notes from the Plymouth Community School district on a bid of 1.94 per cent interest.

The award was made in a special meeting of the Board of Education Monday night.

Detroit Bank and Trust was the only other bidder and made an offering of 2.05 per cent interest.

In other action, the Board approved vacating of an easement at Allen School in favor of Kaufman and Broad Builders subject to an opinion from School Attorney William Sempliner.

Miss Fiegel in her letter, wrote: "After considerable thought, I have concluded that circumstances seem to direct that it is prudent for me at this time to submit my resignation as a teacher in the Plymouth Community Schools.

"During the 40 years of teaching, 36 of which have been in Plymouth, I have enjoyed many happy associations and experiences. I appreciate the many kindnesses and fine considerations accorded me through the years.

"I will always be genuinely interested in the activities of the Plymouth Schools and the many fine people associated with them."

Miss Butts indicated she had enjoyed her teaching experience in Plymouth but that ill health dictated that she seek release from her contract.

The resignations were accepted with regret by the Board.

The five new members of the teaching staff have been assigned to Plymouth High, Farland and the Allen and Starkweather Schools. The list includes:

Mrs. Sharon Mosavat, English at senior high. She holds a Bachelor's degree from Brigham Young University and a Master's from the University of Michigan. She has had previous experience at Cherry Hill district and in Berkley.

Two Men Escape Serious Injury In Ann Arbor Rd. Crash

A Berkley driver and his passenger, from Detroit, escaped with minor injuries when their small foreign made car was forced to the edge of the curb on Ann Arbor Road, near the Elks Club, skidded on a water spot, hit the curb and rolled over twice.

The car was demolished but Floyd Levell, 2365 Rosemont, Berkley, and Mike Schloff, 12115 Auburn, Detroit, had minor injuries.

Levell suffered cuts and lacerations of the face and Schloff bruises of the ribs and left shoulder.

PLYMOUTH'S newest fire truck, a 65-foot aerial ladder vehicle, has the attention of Assistant Chief George Schoenneman who is shown testing the various levers shortly after the truck arrived at the central fire station. It was purchased from the City of Detroit for $12,000 and gives Plymouth the only aerial truck in the area.

Forum to Hear Panel Talk By City Council

The Plymouth Businessmen's Forum will hear members of the City Commission discuss "What's Ahead for Plymouth" in a panel type meeting Thursday, Sept. 2 at the Mayflower Hotel.

Mayor James Houk will head a delegation of at least five members of the Commission who will be called upon to answer questions fired by David Witley and Richard Thompson.

The theme of the program will be "The Future of Plymouth" and the discussion is expected to touch on the proposed plans for a second Urban Renewal project, the Senior Citizens Housing which could go into a high rise structure, the widening of Main Street, road improvements, the impact of the new reservoir, the proposal to increase the size of the Police Department, and numerous other topics.

The meeting will also serve as an unofficial welcome for City Manager Richard Blodgett, who will attend his first Forum meeting and take a seat with the Commission.

The program stacks up as one of the most interesting of the early fall and is expected to attract one of the largest attendances since the night meeting that featured Lt. Governor William Milliken.

STRETCHING 65 feet in the air is the aerial ladder from the new City of Plymouth fire truck. Examining the new addition are: (from left) City Commissioner Arch Vallier (better known as the city's most rabid follower of the fire trucks), Chief Schoenneman and City Manager Richard Blodgett.

CROWD AWAITS turn to move into the Vollbrecht home on W. Ann Arbor Trail for a private sale of the highly prized furnishings. The sale was the first step in settling the controversial estate of the eccentric millionaire, Mrs. Marguerite Vollbrecht who died several months ago. It was the first time the home had been opened for public inspection and hundreds poured through the house to see some of the art treasures and unusual items for sale.

few years ago, to a four-day celebration that drew nearly 40,000 in 1964. All activities have been planned to reflect the late 1800's and early 1900's, according to Festival spokesmen, and will provide wholesome family entertainment. Major activities planned are: Thursday, Sept. 9: "German (Continued on Page 7-B)

Cawley Tells of Victory in USSR And of Second Place in Warsaw

When Rex Cawley finishes second in the 400 meter hurdles it's news. The Olympic winner and world record holder, who gained his first fame at Farmington High, finished second in both Germany and Poland recently.

Cawley returned to Farmington last week, and discussed his European races with the Observer.

Why he didn't win in Poland and in East Germany is an interesting story that reveals much about the runner as a young man. It is a story compounded of team spirit and patriotism.

The American team opened its tour with a defeat by the Russians, in Kiev. But Rex took a first in his specialty there.

The next stop was Warsaw. There, the injury plagued American team sustained another serious loss, when Ollan Cassell was hurt and had to withdraw from the 1600 meter relay team. Cawley was picked to take his place.

The 1600 meter race follows the 400 meter hurdles by about an hour. The strategy that developed had Cawley saving his strength in the 400 to ensure victory in the 1600. The plan worked successfully in both that meet and in the next one with the East Germans. In both meets, the U. S. took a first and second in the 400 and first in the 1600.

The strategy was based on a correct assessment that Cawley and teammate Ron Whitney, of Glendale, Calif., had nothing to fear from any of their Polish or German competitors in the 400 hurdles. So Rex would not waste himself fighting to beat Whitney.

In both Poland and Germany, he ran even with Whitney until the last hurdle. Then he coasted, finishing second. He thus saved his strength for his next race, while assuring his team the three points that goes with second place.

Rex is too modest to say that he would have beaten Whitney had he tried. But it is a fact that in Kiev he took a first, Whitney a third.

The loss to Russia has created a furor here. There is talk of Sen. Warren Magnuson, of Washington, investigating it.

Cawley, though a winner and thus free of personal criticism, is nonetheless ranked by the criticism the team has gotten. It bothers him that the AAU officials who went along have been criticized by runner Bobby Morrow and hammer thrower Harold Connelly—neither of whom made the trip. Cawley says our officials did all they could.

He himself is unhappy about some of the treatment the U.S. team got from the Russian officials. When Russian athletes come here, they are allowed to travel directly to the scene of action. But American athletes there must check in in Moscow before going on to the event. This can be exhausting. The extra trip consumes energy.

And while all athletes know that the home team always has an advantage on its home field, the Russian judges appeared to try to compound that advantage with a questionable decision in the hammer-throw.

But the principal reason for the American defeat, he concedes, is that the Russians were the better team, with heavy American injury and sickness adding to their victory margin.

Rex has always gotten along well with the Russian athletes. But he found the atmosphere in the country itself somewhat tense. This was in contrast with the situation in Poland, which was bustling and building and congenial to Americans.

Rex's stopover in Farmington was brief. He and his pretty wife Judy were on their way back to Los Angeles from Europe, after whizzing through customs in New York. They were anxious to get back to the coast, where Rex recently went into business.

Army Reserves Impress Guests

By Allen Rosenfeld
The U. S. Army Reserves work much harder in two weeks of summer training, and are much more battle-ready than the public realizes.

This was the conclusion of a group of civilians from the metropolitan Detroit area, which observed the training regimen at Camp McCoy, Wis., on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of last week.

Those on the tour from within the Observer's area of circulation were Elvin D. Dougherty, President of the Livonia National Bank; Curtis H. Hall, Supervisor of Farmington Township; Joel F. LaBo, Livonia's Director of Public Safety; Harry Tennyson of Tennyson Chevrolet, Vice President of the Livonia Chamber of Commerce; and this reporter.

Our escort officer was Col. Lyman H. Ripley, Chief of Staff of the VI Army Corps. Not only is this gentleman a distinguished officer, he is a raconteur and limerick par excellence.

Our guide was Capt. Sol P. Baltimore, a public relations man and former journalist in civilian life. When on active reserve duty he is Information Officer for the 300th Military Police Prisoner of War Command, and wears the coveted Silver Star ribbon.

Baltimore, whose unit was our host, met us when we landed and kept us going on the double until we left. To his efficiency, belongs much of the credit for the interesting and informative tour.

Ben Nathanson, publisher of an east side chain of weeklies, arose, at a dinner given for us by the 300th's Commanding Officer Brig. Gen. Arthur F. Brandstatter, to say that while he did not agree with what the Army was doing in Vietnam, he had certainly gained respect for the Army itself.

The shadow of Vietnam hung over the Camp. We were given rides with a young helicopter pilot who had just returned from there.

And, on the machine gun range, we heard a young Lieutenant admonish some recruits: "The Vietnamese respect their weapons. You'd better respect yours."

But while a sense of purpose was apparent among the officers and men, there was no panic. The troops are taking the possibility of a call-up with their usual aplomb. "If it comes it comes" is what you hear from most of them.

New Manager for Social Security Office

Persons in the western suburbs with social security problems have a new district manager to serve them.

He's Samuel F. Test, who has been promoted to the manager's position at the district social security office, 18500 Grand River, Detroit. The office serves residents of Redford Township, Livonia, Plymouth and other nearby communities.

Test has served as assistant manager in the downtown social security office since 1958. He began work with the Social Security Administration in 1940 and has worked in offices in both Ohio and Michigan.

A graduate of Ohio State University, Test served in World War II as a lieutenant, and is past commander of an American Legion post. A resident of Dearborn, Test and his wife, Deneise, have four children.

Don't impede progress in your community—if you must kick, kick toward the goal.

More Appeals Result in Crackdown

LANSING — The state wide crackdown on errant drivers has resulted in a sharp increase of nearly 30 percent in the number of scheduled license appeal board hearings through July.

According to figures released by Secretary of State James M. Hare, a total of 5,562 hearings were scheduled the first seven months of 1965, a rise of more than 1,500 over the 4,051 of last year and the 3,428 the year before.

"L. A. B. hearings will undoubtedly reach three-year highs," said Hare, "surpassing the 7,284 held in 1964 and the 4,707 in 1963. This is a reflection of our new "tougher" policies."

The 1,018 hearings held in July was also a three-year high mark, the only time in more than 30 months that the total exceeded 1,000.

Of the July totals, actions by driver improvement officials were upheld in more than 700 cases by appeal boards. A total of 525 appeals were denied outright, while in 177 additional cases, the appellant failed to put in an appearance.

In 205 cases, appeals were approved, some with certain restrictions to the drivers. In 111 other cases, the appeals were approved with modifications and restrictions.

Wayne Sheriff To Tighten Control of Traffic Tickets

Two officers of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department are under suspension and Sheriff Peter L. Buback is taking measures to tighten up control of traffic tickets, following in the wake of the ticket-fixing scandal which has rocked the department this past 15 weeks.

Sgt. Paul Paciorek and Inspector Dan D. Martin were ordered suspended Saturday after Paciorek's admission Saturday to a Detroit News reporter that he had fixed "thousands" of traffic tickets in the last four years.

He said that Martin was the man who had ordered the tickets fixed in "95 to 98 per cent of the cases."

Paciorek, 44, weighing 300 pounds, has been with the sheriff's department for 24 years.

Capt. John DeVoe has been put in charge temporarily of the Road Patrol which was commanded by Martin while Sgt. James Haley is replacing Paciorek.

Other related developments are as follows:

- Undersheriff James Bommarito on Aug. 19 requested all patrolmen and officers to make statements on the case only to the Wayne County Prosecutor's office.

He did however, make an exception to the "Big Five"—four deputies and a former deputy who originally brought the accusation of ticket fixing.

• The publicity has caused postponement of the trial of Bommarito's son, Deputy John

P. Bommarito, charged with accepting $100 from the owners of a Redford Township party store in an attempted shake-down.

- A rookie deputy was fired by Bommarito on Aug. 19 for, what he termed, was a "trump-up" charge. Patrolman Joseph Callewaert said the undersheriff told him he had failed to report a remark made by a jail trustee two days before.

He stated he felt the real reason was that he was seen arriving at the deputies' parking lot at the Wayne County Jail with two members of the Big Five in his car: Patrolmen Johnnie Talley and James Huddleston.

- A Nankin Township soft-drink, drive-in operator, Leslie Eddolls, said he was approached by a policewoman, stationed at the road patrol headquarters in Nankin Township, and asked about Talley's moral character.

Eddoll said that despite a request she made not to mention her inquiry, he reported the matter to Talley Aug. 18 who in turn notified the prosecutor's office.

The mystery of the "fat man" supposedly fixing tickets in a Nankin Bar has not yet been solved.

Another area place mentioned as a place where tickets were fixed is the UAW Local 182 Hall at 35603 Plymouth road, Livonia. James Ianni, 33675 Bock, Garden City, said that he had turned a ticket over to an officer of the local.

REDFORD CIRCULATION MOVE: Observer Hits 100%

Circulation of The Observer Newspapers took another leap forward today with the announcement that every home in Redford Township will hereafter receive The Redford Observer every Wednesday without charge.

"We are pleased, on the occasion of The Redford Observer's tenth birthday, to make the paper available to the entire community," Observer Publisher Myra Chandler said.

"And we welcome the residents of Redford Township to The Observer family in Livonia, Farmington, Plymouth, Nankin Township and Garden City, where residents are already receiving The Observer on a completely free basis."

Mrs. Chandler, who lived in Redford Township for many years, and who was the first women's editor of The Redford Observer when it was started as a community project back in 1955, pointed out that The Observer's expansion was based on a deep faith in the community's potential.

"Many of our advertisers desire to tap this rich Redford Township market," she said, "and consequently are willing to help through their advertising to keep the paper coming to every door."

The increased circulation of The Observer brings today's total press run to 87,850. The

Schoolcraft Honors Dean; Center Carries Her Name

Miss Lois Waterman, retiring Dean of Student Affairs at Schoolcraft College, received the highest honor a college can confer on an individual when the Board of Trustees voted to name the new Campus Center building "Lois Waterman Campus Center."

Miss Waterman, who has been one of the leading influences in the rapid development of the community college, received news of the honor at a retirement dinner tendered by the Board at the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth.

she served first as an Assistant to the President and later to establish the Office of Student Affairs.

Miss Waterman has developed close relationships with the principals, assistant principals, and counselors of the high schools of the College District so that every graduating student might be adequately informed of the advantages open to him at Schoolcraft. She has also been most anxious to have proper relationships with other two and four year colleges in order to make possible easy transfer for Schoolcraft students to other colleges.

Because of her efforts to develop the first curricula, the College was able to apply early for recognition and accreditation by the Michigan Commission on College Accreditation. Her insistence upon quality and intellectual honesty was a major factor in the granting to the College of its first accreditation, in March of this year.

Although Miss Waterman is retiring from full-time service with the College, she will remain as a consultant, with an office on the campus. Her major assignment will be to guide the College through the necessary steps to reach accreditation by the North Central Association.

The Board also presented her with a plaque bestowing her with the title of "Dean Emerita." She will retire Sept. 30 from her post and will be succeeded by Edward McNally.

Miss Waterman came to Schoolcraft in May 1962 from a similar position at Delta College. She had served under Dr. Eric J. Bradner, now President of Schoolcraft College, as Dean of Women and Presidential Assistant when they both were at Bay City Junior College some years previously. At Schoolcraft

The Lois L. Waterman Campus Center is a facility costing approximately a million dollars. In addition to cafeteria, snack bar and dining facilities the building will have study areas, a bookstore and student office facilities.

Instructional area will include a television studio and a classroom for instruction in culinary arts. When fully equipped this facility will provide "a home away from home," for the approximately 5,000 students expected by Schoolcraft in the next few years.

Medicare Explained In Booklet

Two pamphlets giving brief explanations of the Social Security Amendments of 1965, including the new medicare plan, are being offered without charge to residents of the 15th Congressional District by Congressman William D. Ford.

The Congressman said that copies of the two pamphlets may be obtained by writing to him at Room 106, House Office Building, Washington, D.C.

One of the booklets outlines all the Social Security amendments adopted by Congress, and signed into law by President Johnson. Included payments, liberalization of rules covering widows' benefits, divorcees, remarriage, disability and others.

The second pamphlet explains the medicare plan, which establishes a broad program of health insurance for persons 65 and older, and also offers a voluntary medical insurance program at low cost for the elderly.

"The protection offered by these programs will start in July, 1966," Congressman Ford said. "These explanatory booklet will be of interest to every working person, for they will have this protection in later years. For those who are already 65, or those who will reach that age soon, the pamphlets will be of special importance."

Ford explained that the start of the medicare benefits is being delayed for a year to build up the Social Security reserve fund that will finance the program.

The Medicare-Social Security Amendments were signed into law by President Johnson at Independence, Missouri, in the presence of former President Harry F. Truman, who proposed the medicare plan 25 years ago when he was president.

IT WAS Baby Picture taking time at Sears Livonia Mall when the Observer photographer dropped by and caught the following pictures of tiny tots waiting their turn. (Top) Won't catch me napping appears to be the idea of this bright-eyed youngster. (Middle) Shucks, nothing to worry about. (Bottom) And this tot didn't want any part of the picture snapping, the waiting or anything else.

Plymouth School Bd. Has Openings for Six Bus Drivers

The Plymouth School Board is seeking six additional bus drivers for the coming school year.

That was the announcement Monday by Director of Transportation Robert Houghton who indicated he would be happy to receive applications from any qualified for the positions.

Houghton emphasizes that applicants must have a chauffeur's license and must pass the physical examination required by the School Board.

"We have openings for part-time and full-time drivers," he said. "Anyone interested in such a position should contact the Director of Transportation at the Plymouth School system administration on Lilley Road in Plymouth or by calling 453-0200 for additional information."

Houghton stressed the need for applicants as soon as possible since the school opening is only two weeks away and all of the preliminary examinations must be passed before the applicant is approved for a position.

THESE TEENERS from area junior high schools comprise the Teen Fashion Board at Sears Livonia Mall which will offer fashion suggestions to classmates on the next three Saturdays, from noon to 5 p.m. The final session is scheduled for Sept. 11. The sextet includes: (from left) Susan Zuchowski, Farmington East Junior; Kathy Krese, Redford Pearson Junior; Jacque Rhodes, Livonia Frost Junior; Paula Hennis, Livonia Bryant Junior; Jury Martin, Clarenceville Junior; and Pat Heahan, Livonia Riley Junior High. The Board members may be found on Saturdays in the Teen section at Sears.

Chief Jordan indicated the police department would release any bikes for which the owners have a reasonable means of identification.

"If a youngster has a bill of sale, some private way of making an identification, or has a friend or two that can positively identify the bike, then it is his. We want to clear out the storage room as much as possible before the fall auction that isn't scheduled for another six weeks."

So, if you have lost a bike, here's a chance to see if it has been recovered by the Livonia Police.

GUARANTEED you can find something to spruce up your bath or powder room at the new Bathroom Boutique in Wards of Wonderland. There are decorator colors and ideas to inspire every homemaker's imagination.

MANAGER GEORGE BRANHAM standing amid a few of the unusual items of the Bathroom Boutique at the second floor of Wards Wonderland.

New Bath Boutique Opens In Wards of Wonderland

We made a find this week that will not only appeal to the interior decorator in you, but will bring out talent in this direction that you probably never knew you had.

The place is the brand new, and most elegant, Bathroom Boutique Department at Wards of Wonderland.

Fabulous, magnificent, are words which describe it—the colors, the items, the combinations of material is as new as next month's Better Homes magazine.

So often the urge to redecorate inspires you as far as the new paint and interesting wall paper. But the entire room, despite your new walls, goes back to the flat old bath or powder room because accessorizing has not kept pace with new color schemes and ideas.

It's all different now ladies. In this department on the second floor of Wards they have brought in 12 brand new shades—orange, hot pink, coin gold, chapel green, cactus—they combine the pink and the orange, the blue and the cactus.

Everything is coordinated and it is appropriately named Age of Elegance line—Thank goodness the age of elegance is catching up to the bathroom at last.

In addition to paper mache spray can covers (like graceful ladies) soap trees, towel holders, soap dishes, tooth brush holders, and many other accessories, they have luxurious shower curtain sets completely coordinated in color—and to trim them or use in a thousand different ways are beads—picture them in emerald green on a blue velvet shower curtain.

James McCoy, manager of the Wards of Wonderland store, is justly proud of his new line which also includes the gold leaf hardware. In fact he invites you in to browse and enjoy seeing the beautiful items. Manager of the department George Branham will be glad to help you with any decorating problems.

See You There!

The Plymouth Symphony Women's League Round Robin Bridge Club is starting its fall season. If you are interested in joining, contact Mrs. Fred Sigmon at GL 3-4458 or Mrs. Conrad Krankel at GL 3-4454 before Sept. 1.

Big game hunter Tony Dauksza's color film will be shown Thursday, Sept. 2, at 7:30 p.m. at Greene Motors, 34501 Plymouth Rd. in Livonia. There will be a display of campmobile and camping equipment. Refreshments will be served.

Many Hands Help Antique Mart Function

Although the Antique Mart is sponsored by the Plymouth Symphony League many "antiquers" in the area are lending their talents to the project.

Working with Decorations Chairman Mrs. Harvey Troutman are Mrs. George Hudson, Mrs. Virgil Haws, Mrs. Gordon Andrews and Mrs. Blaise Delaney. Former Plymouthite, Mrs. John Moorhead, now a Northville resident is supplying wagon wheels, a flower car and is making calico flowers for the show.

A special "thank you" from General Chairman, Mrs. John Moehle goes to Mrs. George Johnson and her publicity committees who have been working behind the scenes for many months.

To Mrs. Margaret Hough whose large red posters with their calico figures and lettering, brought raves from all the dealers who received them.

Thanks also go to Mrs. David McCubrey, Mrs. Denver McCord, Mrs. Norbert Batterman, Mrs. Arthur Redcliffe, Mrs. Gerald Fischer, Mrs. Robert Werner, Mrs. Thomas Adams, Mrs. Charles Miller and Mrs. John Jacobs.

Also Mrs. R. J. Emerson whose attractive directional signs will point the way to the Antique Mart and Mrs. Charles Childs who is in charge of radio publicity.

Newlyweds Olivet College Alumni

On August 7 at two in the afternoon Linda Zay Ludington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orvis L. Henke, Farmington, became the bride of Thomas Keith Gorman, son of the Robert Gormans of Riverview, Redford Township, at Bushnell Congregational Church with the Rev. William Strait officiating. A reception for guests followed at the Rose-dale Park Civic Center. Later the wedding party and out of town guests had dinner at the Henke's home on James Court, Farmington.

The bride wore a floor length gown of peau taffeta trimmed in pointe de venise lace. The bouffant skirt extended to a chapel train completely encircled in Venice lace. Her matching pearl crown held a three-tier veil of silk illusion and she carried a nosegay of white carnations and pink rosebuds.

Her attendants: Mrs. Martin A. Ludington, of Ann Arbor, matron of honor, Mrs. David M. Ludington, of Detroit, Miss Barbara Ann Horn, of Westport, Conn., and Miss Carol Nichols, of Detroit, wore floor length white Venetian lace over pink dresses. They carried nosegays of pink carnations with white rosebuds. Wayne Gorman served as best man, with Gary Gorman, Robert Fone, William Teller seating the guests.

Both attended Olivet College. Linda was affiliated with Alpha Lambda Epsilon. She was feature editor of the Olivet weekly, The Echo. After winning the 1964 Shipperd award for creative writing she was made a member of the organization committee for the Shipperd Literary Magazine. She is a member of Ft. Pontchartrain Daughters of the American Revolution.

A June graduate of Olivet, Tom was affiliated with Adelphi Alpha Phi. He played varsity football for four years, intramural basketball and baseball. He will be teaching at the East Junior High School this fall, while his bride completes her studies at Wayne State University. Following their honeymoon at Hinchman Acres in Mio, the couple will reside at the Golfview Manor, West Seven Mile Road in Detroit.

Lengthen House

To make a little house look bigger, build a porch the length of the house front, with steps to porch leading up from one end. Use Douglas fir 2x4s on edge and set at right angles to house walls.

Keep porch railing to a simple pattern: a handrail with a minimum of supporting uprights gives a good, lengthening horizontal line.

None are so blind that they can't see the faults of others.

Honeymoon In Canada

A peau de soie gown trimmed in Alencon lace with a cathedral train was chosen by the bride for her wedding. Her headpiece of Alencon lace with scattered pearl flowers held in place a fingertip veil. Her bouquet was of white roses, stephanotis, orchids and ivy.

Marylynn Nesseth was the maid of honor with Jeannie Kay Krumm, sister of the bride, and Diane Bell, cousin of the bride, identically dressed in yellow empire floor-length gowns. They carried yellow daisies. Tammie Bell, another cousin, was flower girl in yellow.

Robert Kobielski was best man and Richard Dembrowski and Clayton Guensche seated the guests.

Guests from Plymouth, Livonia, Bay City, Canada and Dearborn attended a reception honoring the newlyweds at the VFW Hall in Plymouth.

Following a wedding trip in Northern Michigan and Canada the young married couple will make their home until late autumn in Canada. In the fall they will move to Dearborn.

Ask Hana

(Questions on Hairstyles And Beauty)

(Readers with beauty problems may write in care of this newspaper, 'Ask Hana' and their questions will be answered via The Observer. Letters need not be signed.)

There are many problems presented to us in the course of an average day in our salon as I'm sure occur all over the country.

Girls don't want their hair cut too short; women don't want a tight permanent; or not too much red in their hair—or etc. All in all far too many problems to be put in print.

Last week, however, I was faced with a challenging problem that is entirely out of my jurisdiction, and though very humorous in a sense, because it rings pathetically true of many American women.

After much consideration it was decided to turn the tables and ask the help of our readers.

Mrs. O. is a regular client at our salon. Her cultural patterns and customs that she brought from Europe have played a strong role in her life and although a little plumpish, she is feminine, charming and very much a lady.

She loves her adopted country but her English is not so good, and since my background is similar we thoroughly enjoy talking together even to the point of using our hands demonstratively for full effective understanding. It is with her full permission that I will attempt to write this in the style as close as possible to our conversation.

"We got two boys who don't want to get married. We sent them to college for a good education and they have good jobs. Me and my husband, we come to this country, we work hard, save our money, raise our children and we got everything, new house, new furniture, new car, but no grandchildren."

"My husband said 'you ask your beauty operator, maybe she knows some nice girls because mostly girls go to beauty shop.'"

"In the beginning we let them find their own girls, but they say they can't find nice girls so now we help. All our friends' children are married. All got one and some four or five grandchildren already and we got nothing."

"We tried everything. We talk to them. We beg them. We talk to our friends who have a daughter and arranged a date for them."

"When our boy came home from first date we all waited to hear what he had to say, and he said, 'hm-maybe'."

"Oh! papa and I were so happy. We call our friends who has wedding hall to rent and he said to give plenty of notice."

"So next Sunday our boy took this pretty girl to one of our picnics and she came with rollers in her hair. And now again there is no hope for grandchildren."

"We found a nice girl for the other boy but she looks like she's been in a fight because her eyes got so many black lines.

"Every time they go on a date, papa and I wait patiently for the good word, but it's always something. The girls wear pants, or shorts too tight or the hair has fifteen different colors, or they smoke too much."

"They say 'mama, you don't wear rollers all the time, or wear pants on the street,' so I try."

"Papa help me to put some rollers in my hair and we bought some pants and papa laughed and laughed. I think I will keep going to the beauty shop and wear skirts."

I said, "Mrs. O. this is the American way of life. The black lines are makeup and the pants are slacks and the girls like to wear rollers in their hair."

But somehow I have the feeling that these boys don't need explanations since one is a college professor and the other some kind of an engineer.

My problem is, or who has it?

MR. AND MRS. PHILIP P. CLARK

Betty Bowdle Weds Philip Clark in Garden

Betty Jean Bowdle became the bride of Philip P. Clark at a garden wedding at her parents' home Aug. 21. The Rev. Ronald Walker, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Nate Banks of Redford Township are the bride's parents, while Mr. and Mrs. Oris Clark of Redford Township are the parents of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the new Mrs. Clark wore a short white gown of peau de soie and lace. She carried white and red roses.

Mrs. Gary Nelson served as the matron of honor. She wore a street length pale blue gown of taffeta and lace.

Keith Thode was the best man.

A reception for 100 guests followed the ceremony. Out of town guests from Ohio, California, Georgia and Canada attended.

The bride is a 1964 graduate of Redford Union High School, while her husband graduated from Henry Ford High School in 1963.

Following a honeymoon in northern Michigan, Canada and Chicago, the newlyweds will reside in Redford Township.

Air Blanket Adds To Wall Insulation

Air has become an important factor in making your home cooler in the summer and warmer in the winter.

A new method of installing aluminum siding, which uses uniform metal stringers into which siding panels are locked rather than nailed, provides an additional blanket of air between the house and siding.

This air space acts as a buffer against the transference of both heat and cold and increases the insulation potential of conventional siding.

Don't criticize anyone's religion by the actions of some of its followers—church is a place for sinners, not saints.

FAY MOORE, the nation's outstanding feminine artist specializing in thoroughbred racing scenes, is shown with her exhibit in 'The Corridor of The Stars' in the new $3 million clubhouse at the Detroit Race Course. Miss Moore came from New York for the DRCs opening and to supervise the hanging of her collection. There are 30 paintings in the exhibit.

Vivacious Artist Displays Turf Paintings At DRC

A vivacious redhead who has had successful careers as a theatrical scene designer, sculptor, and high fashion designer now is gaining recognition as one of the nation's outstanding artists of thoroughbred racing.

Fay Mowery Moore was a Detroit visitor to supervise the hanging of 30 of her oil paintings in the 'Corridor of The Stars' in the new $3 million clubhouse at the Detroit Race Course.

The collection, which includes many canvases which were painted especially for the DRC exhibit, will be on display daily from now until the end of the race meeting on Nov. 6.

The collection is the largest of its kind and represents more than a year's work on the part of the artist.

The titles of the paintings reflect the subject matter. They include Tumult At The Gate; Riders Up; Onto The Track. Challenge. Muddy Track. Break. Competitors. Nose To Nose To Nose. Wire, Whips, and Pink Blinders. Miss Moore's work differs greatly from the usual artist's conception of thoroughbred racing activities. The majority of artists in the field are equine portraitists or attempt to transfer to canvas and oil reproductions of action photographs.

"The thing which sets the horse . . . and racing . . . apart from all else is motion," Miss Moore says. "The thing I try to do constantly is to capture that motion. Literally, I paint in motion to capture the authentic happenings of the horse."

Miss Moore has an odd confession to make in connection with her superlative collection. "When I first became interested in thoroughbreds as a subject matter, I found it difficult to draw a horse," she laughs. "Then, I soon came to realize that it was their motion which makes them real and that solved the problem for me."

Miss Moore likes to work on three canvases simultaneously. "While at times I make rough sketches on a pad or the back of our envelopes, mostly I just look and study the horses before

I set to work. I have a good visual memory," she says.

It was a former great jockey, Sammy Renick, who now is a radio and television commentator, who first suggested to Miss Moore she assemble a collection of thoroughbred paintings.

She then discussed the matter with Edward T. Dickinson, President of the New York Racing Association. Mr. Dickinson encouraged her to go ahead with the project. The result was an exhibit a year ago at Aqueeduct.

"I am intrigued by the possibilities which open up with exhibits such as my current one at the Detroit Race Course," she says. "People who never have set a foot in an art gallery now have a chance to see an exhibit."

Miss Moore is a native of Boston. She is a graduate of Bennington College and the Yale Graduate School of Drama.

In private life, Miss Moore is Mrs. Roger Donoghue. Sports fans may recall her husband as one of the brightest and most promising young welterweight boxers of the early 1950's.

Garden City Beaten in Title Game

Dearborn Heights emerged as champions in the slo-pitch district softball tournament held in Livonia last weekend.

The Heights downed Garden City, 11-8, in the final game after Garden City had ousted Livonia, 17-14, in the semifinals.

In the earlier games, Garden City blasted Livonia, 14-3; Dearborn clubbed Garden City, 17-10 and Livonia downed Nankin, 12-4.

Fred Muschinski knocked out two homers to lead the Heights in the deciding game.

Johnny Johnson was the star for Garden City in the series. He collected 11 hits in 15 times at bat and also turned in a great defensive performance. Bob Samples contributed a homer and a single in the final game while Garden City's Don Haye finished the series with seven hits in 13 appearances at the plate.

It's a Challenge, Says Falcons' New Grid Coach

"It's a challenge . . . The man doing the talking was newly named football coach Dick Tyler at Farmington high school.

Actually, Tyler is just the "interim" coach, but more about that later.

"Yes, I was very surprised," he continued.

"My wife and I were away for a few days. When we got back, there was the phone call from Jack Cotton (the Farmington athletic director).

"He wanted to know if I would like to take over. He explained that Jack Hayes had resigned to take a college job.

"I thought for a few moments and said, 'Yes.' All of which now could alter what I do in school work in the immediate years to come."

Tyler, a former star himself in football at Farmington High, had been serving as Hayes assistant for the last eight years.

A young man . . . he's just 30 . . . Tyler was looking ahead to stepping out of coaching athletic teams. He was thinking of working fulltime in administrative school work.

Already Tyler is in charge of adult education and the summer school program in the Farmington system. He also is assigned to attendance duties.

Then, why the decision to take command in football?

"I enjoy working with boys and girls," he said. "When you plunge headlong into administration, the contact with the kids vanishes.

"To me this is a great opportunity. Who knows? Maybe I'll stick to coaching for a long time."

Tyler talked about the "interim" assignment.

"I have the job for a year," he said. "We decided on that because of the lateness of Hayes' departure. Finding a replacement for a head coach in late August is pretty tough.

"It was decided that after the 1965 season is over, all of us would exam the situation. It depends how things go . . . how I like the job.

"I'm under no pressure to remain as coach if I don't wish to. And the administration is under no pressure to keep me.

Tyler talked on:

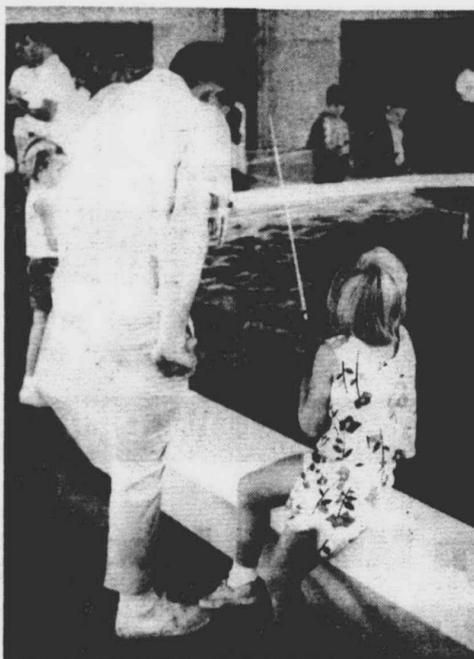

"I guess every coach has two dreams: One is to become a head coach, the other to coach in college.

"So, this has to make both Hayes and myself happy. Jack has the job he wanted—in college; I get my chance to be a boss in football."

Tyler has directed Farmington teams in the past in track and baseball.

During his prey days at Farmington, he was voted the Interlake League's Most Valuable Player as a senior. He played quarterback for the Falcons.

He went on to college at both Heidelberg and Eastern Michigan. He played end two years at Heidelberg.

EVEN DAD got interested when his tiny daughter tried her hand at landing a trout in the fishing contest conducted by the Merchants Division of Livonia Mall Thursday, Friday and Saturday last week. Thousands of youngsters paid a dime to fish and hundreds went home with one of the hatchery-raised fish. The proceeds went to the Dollars For Scholars fund.

Cards, Elks Win

Livonia's Cardinals and Elks coveted themselves with more baseball glory last week.

Both teams won district and regional honors in their bids for state championships—the Cards in Class F competition for boys 13 and under—the Elks in Class D play for boys 13-15.

The Cards had to win three games to reach this week's state semifinals at Jackson.

The Elks were a little more fortunate, being called upon to perform twice. And they won twice.

The Cards started their drive with a 6-0 win over Nankin in the districts. Then came an 11-0 romp over Plymouth and a 10-4 scalping of Jackson.

As for the Elks, first there was a 6-0 shutout at the expense of Novi, then an easy 12-5 win over Jackson.

Now for the details: Bob Sievert fired a one-hitter, struck out nine and didn't issue a walk as the Cards ripped aside Nankin. The game was suspended in the sixth inning because of darkness.

Sievert more than pitched a stellar game. He also was the hitting star for the Cards, unloading a triple and a single.

Three runs in the second inning put the Cards on easy street. Sievert and Bob Hood singled, then came three walks and a couple ground outs.

It was Randy Lee on the hill for the Cards in their 11-0 breeze against Plymouth. Lee was borrowed from the Livonia Phillies for the tournament and he justified the confidence the Cards had in him.

He whiffed the first six men to face him. In all, he struck out 15 in the game, while scattering two hits and walking four batsmen.

Dave Farwell struck the big blows for the victors with a homer and double. Matt Stachurski added a pair of singles while Jie Saputo slugged a triple.

Plymouth used three pitchers in an attempt to stop the Cards. Seven walks helped the Card's attack.

Then it was on to the regionals in Jackson for the Cards and an impressive 10-4 decision against the host city.

Sievert was back on the mound for the Cards. This time he was touched for six hits, while walking two. He struck out 10.

Roland Eveleth drilled a homer over the centerfield fence and a single for the victors. Lee also poked one out of the park while Chris Larsen and Hood each picked up a pair of singles.

The Cards sewed up matters with six runs in the sixth inning.

Saputo, Larsen and Dick McAdams singled in a row. Then followed walks to Sievert and Eveleth before Hood singled. Dave Gregory drew a walk to help the Cards in their big explosion.

The Elks received a great shutout job from Gregory Coleman in jumping off to a winning start in the district tournament.

Coleman held Novi to three hits. He fanned five and enjoyed excellent control.

The victors were held to four hits, but took advantage of free passes to fatten their run total. Dave Storm collected half of the Elks' hits. Both were singles.

The winners tallied three times in the first inning when Storm opened with a single. Two errors and a walk netted one run. Then Craig Gray knocked over two more.

In the fourth inning, the Elks fashioned three more runs. Coleman walked and Storm was safe on an error. Bill Holstein delivered a sacrifice. Mark Doner walked and Dave Fisher singled.

Storm pitched the 12-5 verdict over Jackson. He issued just four hits while Dave Payden, Coleman and Hellstein led the winners' hitting assault.

Payden slugged three singles, Coleman a double and triple and Hellstein a double and single.

The Elks wrapped up the game with a six-run rally in the third inning.

Storm and Hellstein singled in a row. Then Fisher and Coleman doubled. After Doner walked, Dave Paden and Larry Draughn unloaded singles.

Fire Rescue Squad Aids Townships

Five hundred units of oxygen were administered to Frank Zarenski, 10020 Inkster, by the emergency squad of the Redford Township Fire Department Sunday. Fire rescue workers also assisted Mrs. Miklas, 25912 Cathedral, with oxygen treatment Sunday.

M's Bowl Kings Work Out

ANN ARBOR—Seventy-three invited candidates for positions on the University of Michigan's 1965 football squad gathered on Ferry Field Monday to open the Wolverines 86th grid season since 1879.

The Wolverine invitees were joined by a number of other candidates who came back on their own seeking to earn a place on the varsity squad.

Head Coach Bump Elliott started his seventh season as Michigan's mentor when he called the group together at 8:30 a.m. for the initial meeting and workout.

The annual press photographers' session was held at 2 p.m., Monday with the players in full dress uniform for the picture-snapping session.

Twice-daily sessions will be held until Monday, August 30, when University classes begin. From then on only afternoon sessions will be in order, starting at 3:30 p.m.

"We'll be all set for a quick start," Elliott said. "The pace will be fast the first week since we must get in a lot of conditioning and preliminary work in a short time. Since we're moving into a ten-game schedule this year, the opener with North Carolina down at Chapel Hill, September 18 will be only about four weeks off when we start."

Replacement of men in several key positions, principally at quarterback and the ends, are major problems as practice got under way, Elliott emphasized.

No letterman is available for the spot vacated by Bob Timberlake, graduated All-American quarterback, and all four starting ends, both offensive and defensive, are gone from last year's Big Ten and Rose Bowl champions, Elliott pointed out.

"Quarterback presents a serious problem with no experienced talent available, Elliott said. "Dick Vidmer has shown good potential but he lacks game experience, and so does Wally Gabler.

Vidmer, from Greenburg, Pa., was regarded as a possible understudy to Timberlake when he broke his leg in early fall practice. Gabler, a senior from Royal Oak, made the Rose Bowl trip and showed improvement during spring drills.

Captain Tom Cecchini heads the Wolverines this fall from his linebacking position, and All-American tackle Bill Yearby will be on hand for his senior season.

Lions Cop Inter-City 'F' Title

The Lamplighter Lions, Livonia's representative in the Class "F" Inter-City Tournament, won the championship by defeating Taylor Township, 4-1.

The Lions 'scored' four consecutive victories during the five day tournament sponsored by the Livonia Recreation Department.

Ray Grant, the Lion's star hurler during the regular season, stopped Taylor with four singles. The winners erupted for their four runs in the fourth inning when Bill Zamples singled and was chased home with a long triple by Hugh Shannon.

Red Cross Seeks More Recreation Workers

Young women seeking career opportunities are urged to consider the challenging hospital recreation field now being expanded by American National Red Cross to meet current needs in military installations at home and abroad, Mr. Elmer K. Revell, Assistant Manager of the Southeastern Chapter reported.

"More recreation workers are needed by Red Cross to serve in the United States and overseas," Mr. Revell said, "and applicants will find this opportunity to serve others satisfying as well as rewarding. Red Cross recreation workers on duty in military hospitals work with patients in recreation activities such as creative arts and crafts, dramatics, social programs, music, games, and hobbies."

Applicants are particularly needed now for hospital assignments at military installations in the United States, but world-wide mobility is also a requirement for employment in the recreation program.

Applicants must be between 21 and 35 years of age. A college degree with specialization in arts, crafts, drama, music, recreation, or allied fields is preferred.

Recreation workers receive periodic salary increases, group insurance, generous vacation and sick leave, uniforms as well as retirement and social security benefits.

Local applicants can receive information on Red Cross recreation worker opportunities by contacting Mr. Revell at WO 1-3900, or by visiting the Southeastern Michigan Chapter, 153 East Elizabeth.

Tighter Code To Improve Driver Safety

LANSING — State driver improvement activities already at all-time highs in several categories . . . are expected to rise at an even faster clip when the full impact of new, tighter restrictions are felt.

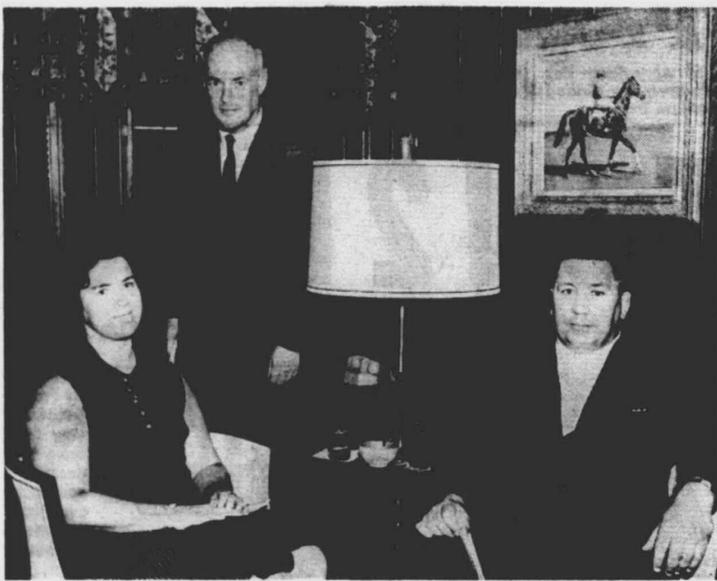

Secretary of State James M. Hare said he expected dramatic increases in all categories for the final half of 1965.

Meanwhile, the first half of 1965 were the highest in recent years. Total activities conducted by the section numbered nearly 27,000, a rise of more than 11,000 up over 1963.

Revocations, suspensions, and other types of license actions were taken against more than 16,000 Michigan drivers, an upward swing of more than 3,500 over 1964 and a rise of nearly 7,000 over 1963 totals.

Warning letters sent to drivers in the seven to nine point range went over the 50,000 mark for the first half of the year, a rise of more than 8,000 over 1964.

Scheduled license appeal board hearings . . . which Hare indicates will also rise sharply when the new regulations are fully implemented . . . are already more than 600 ahead of the June 30 date of last year.

1,200 Evening Students Expected at Schoolcraft

Students will register for the Schoolcraft Evening College during the week of August 30, and 31, and September 1 and 2, at the first session of classes, according to Dell Reed, Dean of Academic Instruction, and Director of the Evening College.

More than 500 students have been pre-registered for classes and an additional 700 are expected to register. Classes which meet only one time previous to Labor Day will accept students through Tuesday, September 7 as openings remain.

A broad selection of classes, both technical and academic are available to the evening students. Courses being offered for the first time include Painting, Retail Principles and Practices, Transistor Circuits, Grammar and Usage, Introduction to Law Enforcement, Plane and Solid Analytic Geometry, and Developmental Reading.

A large number of classes are open to resident students who have not as yet completed the application for admission. Students may complete the application for admission forms at the first meeting of class, but are strongly encouraged to complete these in advance of registration.

Students are to report directly to the class in which they desire to enroll. Instructions will be given there for the completion of the enrollment procedure which will include the payment of all fees and tuition. Information pertaining to course offerings can be secured at the college each week day through 9 p.m. Courses at Schoolcraft College may be taken by those who wish to work toward the completion of a degree, who want to upgrade their occupational skills, or who want to continue their education for any reason.

Driver Improvement Activities 'Brisk'

LANSING — Driver improvement activities of the Michigan Department of State continued "brisk" climbing to new three-year highs with actions through July 31 totaling more than 30,000.

Through July, Secretary of State James M. Hare reported that hearings by DI officials numbered 30,512, a hike of more than 5,000 over last year and a climb of 7,000 over 1963.

Cancellations, revocations, suspensions and other driver restrictions based on the point system were almost at the 20,000 mark. This is two months ahead of 1964 pace. It compares with 15,000 in 1964 and 11,000 in 1963.

Other actions, such as instructions and warning letters, also increased over 1964. They totaled nearly 60,000 over the previous two years.

Beam Lighting

If building an open beamed ceiling for a family room-kitchen, plan to include luminous ceiling light panels between beams and positioned directly over kitchen work areas and reading corners in the family room. Alternating luminous panels with exposed western wood ceiling deck is most effective and practical.

BEANS AND CORN . . . Have you noticed the colorful rooster displayed in the window of Red's Barber Shop on Penniman? June McMullen of Portis is responsible for the picture made entirely of beans, corn, mustard seed, colored pop corn and one black-eyed pea. The proper spectrum was made by a special order of beans all the way from Texas so when passing peek in and take a look see.

KELLOGG TRUMPETER is heralding attention to the Fall Festival by wearing a new sign every few days advertising the different groups participating. This was Joe Bida's way of having him earn his keep.

IT'S BACK TO SCHOOL for Hollis Haynes of Simpson St. after spending the summer at the Snug Harbor Marina in New Buffalo. She will complete her education in the teaching field at the University of Michigan.

The summer was seven countries for the Melvin Blunks and their daughter, Janet. However, they report that the friendly characteristics of Switzerland most appealed to them.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT . . . Back from Rock Port, Ontario are the Robert Beyers and the William Covingtons and their families. They picked up fully equipped house boats and cruised through the Thousand Islands and the four locks of the Rideau Waterway. Snorkel diving in the crystal clear waters, observing the countryside, and just plain relaxing were the main order of business for the two families.

Irene Lyke of the First Federal Savings is sporting a beautiful tan these days. She reports that at Gun Lake near Grand Rapids, their three-year-old visitor, Charla Huff, really kept them in the sun.

Also visiting them from Plymouth were the Charles Hansons and the William Eschs and their daughter, Karen.

PHILADELPHIA BOUND Mrs. Lester Lily of Lakeside Drive was entertained at a luncheon by Mrs. Wendell Lent. Guests included: Mrs. Craig Bowlby, Mrs. Byron Becker, Mrs. George Hudson, Mrs. Laurence Becker, Mrs. Donald Graham, and Mrs. Claydon Koch. The Lily family moved to Philadelphia this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Orlan Egloff and sons, David and Ronald, returned home Monday from visiting their son Randy and family at New Haven, Conn. Their pleasure at meeting their new grandson Stephen Douglas was a highlight of the trip.

WATCH OUT PLYMOUTH . . . The Business and Professional Women want to be certain that the crowds are in town for the Fall Festival. Club President Connie Aldrich along with Daisy Proctor and Connie Heyder have the writer's cramp because contacting all members in the district didn't seem quite enough so they notified all district directors in the State who will in turn all the clubs in their district.

A special thank you from the Plymouth Grange to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nash for donating a speaker system and having son Edgar install it.

The William Fehligs had a double surprise when daughter Pat and son David combined efforts with their special Gourmet Club and surprised them with a 25th anniversary party at the Robert Erdelyi home.

Clarenceville OKs Budget of $1.8 Million

A $1.8 million operating budget for the 1965-66 year has been approved by the Clarenceville Board of Education.

The budget action came August 12, following a public hearing attended by 20 residents, many of whom were concerned about the question of bus transportation. Included in the increased budget of $60,000 for transportation costs is a policy allowing transportation to elementary students living more than three-quarters of a mile from school, and to secondary students living more than a mile from school.

According to Board of Education President Dr. Samuel Prisk, this year's school budget "reflects the increasing cost of providing a constantly improving school program. The desire of this community to have special area teachers, smaller class sizes, enrichment programs, and the necessary instructional supplies along with the normal increased cost of equipment and staff salaries played only a part in formulating the new budget."

"It is the desire of the Board of Education to provide the children with the best educational program possible for the money available. Once again this year the Clarenceville Schools have moved forward in its educational plans and yet the budget is within the means of the funds."

Be cautious at school crossings — give our children their right-of-way to a long life.

State Fair Lists Full Program for Annual 10-Day Run

"Come early and stay all day," Michigan State Fair officials are urging the public this year.

There's so much to see and do at this year's State Fair that the visitor could return every day and never run out of fun and excitement. The fair opens Friday evening, August 27, and runs through Labor Day, September 6.

As always, agriculture and industry will be well represented at the fair.

The state's farmers will be competing with their best livestock and crops. Automotive and other industries will have extensive exhibits.

In the Community Arts field (it was called Home Arts until this year), there'll be prize-winning exhibits of canning, baking, needlework, hobbycraft, fine arts plus a Food Show and Fashion Show.

And while the men are looking over the animals and watching the judging, the women will have an opportunity to see cooking and other demonstrations in the new Community Arts Building.

Entertainment, as always, will be big at this year's fair. Music Shell shows will star the Serendipity Singers and the NBC television "Hullabaloo" dancers with special guest stars The Four Tops, Lesley Gore, Johnny Rivers and Tony Clarke from Friday, August 27, through Wednesday, September 1.

From Thursday, September 2, through Labor Day, September 6, the Music Shell shows will have The Supremes, the singing group which has made "the Detroit Sound" internationally famous, and ballad singer Jack Jones with the Jimmy Wilkins Orchestra.

An Honors Band, made up of the top high school musicians in the state, will play concerts in the Music Shell Friday through Sunday, September 3-5. Guest soloist will be trumpeter Carl (Doc) Severinsen, assistant director of the TV Skitch Henderson Orchestra.

In front of the grandstand, meanwhile, the Barnes and Caruthers Circus will perform three shows daily from Saturday, August 28, through Friday, September 3.

All of these entertainment features are free to State Fair visitors.

The Joie Chitwood Thrill Show, with daredevil drivers, will perform in front of the grandstand Saturday through Monday, September 4-6. Auto races are scheduled on Sunday and Monday. These are extra-charge events.

Other entertainment highlights of the fair will be strolling musicians throughout the grounds; shows in the Coliseum Grove featuring acts from theatrical and dance schools; round and square dancing in the Old Timers' Grove; Avenue A-Go-Go with music and features for the teen-age set; children's contests and features such as the TV Fun Circus; and, of course, all the fun and excitement of the shows and rides on the Gay Midway.

In the Coliseum, 15 free horse shows are scheduled, with beautiful Appaloosas, giant Clydesdales and Percherons, Arabians and Morgans, and a host of ponies stepping through their paces. The Detroit Mounted Police will perform at each horse show except on Labor Day.

It all adds up as the biggest entertainment bargain of the year, with gate admission of $1.25 and children under 12 free when accompanied by adults.

Modern Techniques Enhance Paneling

Modern finishing techniques apply color to paneling in a way that enhances the natural character of the wood. This has created a pleasing flexibility in design. In rooms where darker shades are desirable, pine can be given an ebony hue that seems scarcely less authentic than its actual golden color.

Such finishes are transparent to expose the wood grain. Some types tend to subdue the texture while others bring it into bolder perspective. A light-colored wood can be given any shade that circumstances require — be it light or dark — dull or brilliant. In sleeping quarters, for example, a relaxing atmosphere can be created with a finish which applies "cool" colors and also subdues the wood grain. In entertaining areas, the opposite would apply — "warm" stimulating hues in a finish that brings out the grain texture.

HOME IMPROVEMENT

Do-It-Yourself • Decorating • Remodeling

Wednesday, August 25, 1965 Page 13-A

Plan Four Big Steps In Basement Fixup

How does one panel a basement room? First, waterproof the walls; second, install furring strips; third, do all the electrical work; fourth, add panels.

This procedure, outlined by John Concord, home improvement consultant to Masonite Corporation assures a trouble-free installation. Furring strips will give you reduced condensation, as they set up an air barrier between the paneling and foundation. They provide a level surface and a place for positioning outlet boxes and electrical fixtures. Furring strips of 2"x2" or 2"x4" lumber are spaced 16 inches apart, measured from center to center. They may be attached to the foundation walls separately or assembled ahead of time on the floor and then fastened to the floor plate and the joists.

Booklet Has Tips For Homes

You wouldn't think of putting a new television set behind a sofa or a potted rubber plant any more than you would want to install a heating boiler in the middle of a utility or recreation room. It is simply not good planning.

Selection of paneling is important, too. It should be resistant to moisture so that panel movement won't be noticeable. Preferably, it should be factory-finished and easily maintained by damp-wiping. It should be attractive. Royalcoote woodgrain panels fit these requirements exactly," Concord points out. "A wide selection of colors and patterns is available, including wood-grained Peg-Board in three shades of walnut. "These panels are designed to go up quickly. Use either color-matched nails or an adhesive cartridge. Joints are hidden in vertical grooves. Panels, molding and fasteners are available at lumber yards."

Similarly, you don't want an awkwardly arranged bathroom — the tub under a drafty window, the water closet of most prominence when looking through the doorway, an overly spacious lavatory for a small room or one compact model when space-saving is not necessary, the door opening out, etc.

Always Be Prepared For Visitors

You can be prepared for an unexpected guest even though your home has no spare bedroom. The guest will think nothing of it if you put him on a fold-away cot in the living room or porch, and provide privacy with a screen made in your workshop.

To help you better plan the bathroom in a new home or for remodeling, the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau offers a booklet titled, "Modern Bathroom Plans."

Your folding screen can be attractive and functional. Cover the framework on one side with a woodgrained hardboard in an exotic pattern such as teak or pecan. On the other side, attach paneling which the guest can use as a wardrobe by placing his clothes on hangers and suspending them on fixtures placed in the perforations. New fixtures and shelves of white plastic stay in place without jiggling; they're good looking, too.

It contains 34 scale drawings of model bathrooms and gives step-by-step explanations of why different families in different homes should give careful consideration to what plan is best for each individual situation. The booklet is available for 15 cents from the Plumbing-Heating - Cooling Information Bureau, 35 East Wacker Drive, Chicago, Illinois 60601. Convenience in use is the primary consideration, says the Bureau, but it is desirable to centrally located plumbing outlets for the most economical installations.

In a two-story house, for instance, it is wise to have bathrooms located above and adjacent to the kitchen sink for piping economy. Bathrooms and powder rooms planned back-to-back can be installed by a plumbing contractor for much less than for completely separate rooms. The booklet offered shows the pitfalls of poor bathroom planning, and clearly illustrates how to most efficiently plan for function and beauty.

Put such tools as hammers, screwdrivers, pliers, saws, nails, and screws where adults will find them easy to see and reach. However, plan storage so that young children cannot reach tools. With the proper arrangement of less frequently used items, such as gardening, hobby, and play equipment, it's easier to see and reach those used most often. Other ways to improve storage in the home are suggested in a publication of the College of Agriculture Extension Service of The Pennsylvania State University. For a copy send your name and address with 25 cents to STORAGE, Box 6000, University Park, Pa. 16802.

Stop Paint Skimming With Waxed Paper

Store leftover paint in screw-top jars, such as instant coffee or peanut butter jars. Fill to the brim to exclude all air. Place a piece of waxed paper, larger than the top, over the jar and screw on the lid over the paper. Air causes paint to skim over. By sealing out the air, the paint will remain fresh and ready for use.

Kitchens Are High On Remodeling List

The most room in most homes That's one likely in need of improvement is the kitchen, whether the need be for modern appliances or for additional countertop working space. You can gain color for the kitchen as well as trouble-free working space by surfacing the counters with ceramic tile. Real tile is both heatproof and scratchproof.

Seed Your New Lawn Right Now

Seed your new lawn by Labor Day is one of the suggestions made in a Pennsylvania State University correspondence course on home lawns. Grasses you plant in late summer develop strong plants with good roots before winter comes. Grasses like cool weather. They grow best in spring and autumn. But dry, hot summers are hard on them.

You'll find many advantages to seeding lawns in late August instead of May. Rains come with more certainty in autumn than in mid to late summer. Your soil is readily worked into a fine seedbed. And weeds have lost their early summer vigor. The array of grasses and seeding mixtures offered for sale may perplex you. Bluegrass is the basic lawn grass, but several of its selected varieties, as well as other grass species, produce first rate turf, according to the Penn State correspondence course. If you want to learn more about starting new lawns and caring for established turf, study the Penn State course. You enroll simply by sending your name and address with $2.75 to HOME LAWNS, Box 5,000, University Park, Pa., 16802. This is the only charge for the course.

Choose Paint For the Job

Whether you're planning to paint wood, cinder block, stucco, brick or prime a metal gutter, choosing the right paint for the job is important. The paint industry produces a variety of coatings for specific surfaces. Which paint do you need? Contact your local reputable paint dealer or painting contractor to be sure you select the right product for the surface to be painted.

Peg Board Will Keep Tools Neat

An orderly arrangement of tools in the basement, garage, or workshop can save time and frustration of family members. One way to achieve this arrangement is to mount pegboard on the back of the workbench. With hooks on the board you can group tools according to their frequency of use. Such a grouping also helps you remember where each tool is located.

Put such tools as hammers, screwdrivers, pliers, saws, nails, and screws where adults will find them easy to see and reach. However, plan storage so that young children cannot reach tools. With the proper arrangement of less frequently used items, such as gardening, hobby, and play equipment, it's easier to see and reach those used most often. ## The Method, Not The Name

Our critics will call it "sour grapes" and our friends will wish we had "let it lie," but The Observer would be less than frank if we did not express our deep disappointment over the naming of Livonia's third high school last Thursday.

Our hope, shared by many hundreds of petitioners, was that the school's name would honor Paul M. Chandler. Despite the fact that he was the publisher of our newspaper—our "chief" at The Observer—this hope was not based on any wish for commercial recognition or prestige. It was based on the fact that we, as his employees and co-workers, knew—perhaps more closely than anyone else—Paul Chandler's deep personal commitment and dedication to developing a strong, educated community.

And it was his untiring efforts to use the press as a vehicle for continuing education and community debate that would have made the naming of a school for him especially meaningful. For Paul Chandler saw that education, if it had some relevance for the press, had to be rooted in a solid foundation. And his record in Livonia and in Lansing testified to his many endeavors on behalf of the public school system.

petitioned otherwise, and that dozens of people took the time to offer a variety of names for consideration indicates that the naming of a school calls for public discussion and involvement. Yet, the Board—instead of dealing with this issue before an audience—had made its decision before coming to Thursday's meeting. And citizens who had requested prior notification from the Superintendent when the matter came up were not notified.

The Board, realizing that this was an issue of some controversy, chose to hold its debate behind closed doors and then to don a cloak of unanimity in public session.

It is a sad commentary on the dynamism of democracy when Boards of Education so act. It was reflected a second time Thursday, when the Board voted "unanimously" to renew the contract of the school attorney. At least one Board member had promised to vote his convictions and cast a negative ballot. But he apparently was so intimidated by this same desire for a "unanimous front" that he took the easy way out and voted "yes."

Really, then, it was no surprise that a Board so dedicated to conformity would bypass the name of a man who saw and promoted controversy as the healthiest ingredient of democracy and whose newspapers reflect this philosophy to the benefit of the community.

In any case, however, the school has a new name. The Board of Education has chosen to honor the late U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations, Adlai E. Stevenson. A philosopher in every sense of the word, a dedicated and articulate spokesman for the United States, Stevenson deserves our accolades. And, despite our disappointment recorded above, we believe the Board chose a name which Livonians will view with pride.

But—we cannot abide by the procrastination and the almost-hidden methods used by the Board of Education to arrive at its choice. Surely, the fact that hundreds of citizens

The Board's refusal to deliberate in public, its refusal to notify those in the community interested in this issue, and—in general—its lack of courage will hopefully change in the future. Even a glimmer of evidence that it understands the functions of a public body in a democracy, and realizes that it is a sign of strength, not weakness, to have debate and controversy, would be encouraging to the citizens of this community who look to educators for leadership.

DAVID ELSILA

How Is the Baby?

Many groups like to wait until a special project has been completed before advising their friends and neighbors that the goal has been reached.

But, it seems to me, these groups don't realize that we are all interested in progress.

In other words: How's the baby?

Grandmother doesn't want to wait until her favorite grandchild has grown to manhood before mother writes. She likes to know that he had a reaction to his shots, just cut his first teeth, walks now, started kindergarten today... oh, oh... he got into the poison ivy on a picnic.

And so, we citizens want to know about our babies.

How are the talks progressing on the extension of the water and sewer lines? Who is being considered for appointment as high mogul? When will construction start on the new 50-story building?

As a case in point of a group that is keeping the area up to date on developments, take the Westland Charter Commission, working toward an eventual incorporation of Nankin Township.

Decisions are publicized after each meeting so that when township residents get around to voting on the charter, they should be familiar with many of the provisions and why they were included.

Many times, the issuance of a progress report seems unnecessary and tedious but if the project is big enough and affects many people, it pays off handsome dividends to let everybody have a peek through the knothole in the fence.

I urge all civic organizations, engaged in important projects, not to hide their lights under a basket. Put the baby in a stroller and take him for a walk in the park where we can all get a good look at him.

BILL GAIL

The Side For Killing 14-B

On this page, last week, my colleague Bill Gail made an eloquent defense of Section 14B, that part of the Taft-Hartley Law which permits states to enact right-to-work laws.

The position which he took was essentially that of the majority of Republicans, as reflected in their current defense of 14B against the effort of President Johnson and the Democrats to repeal it.

In a strangely related event, a week earlier, the Farmington Township Board of Trustees made known its refusal to recognize the newly organized union of building inspectors in that community.

The reason it gave has at least surface validity: that if there was a union it should represent all of the municipal employees in Farmington Township and not just one-seventh of them, as in the case of the building inspectors. "We say," wrote Township Attorney Joseph T. Brennan in his legal opinion, "if we are to have any union at all we should have one union to deal with, and not three or four in a relatively small community."

The Farmington Township administration, including its attorney, is to a man Republican. Though I have not polled its members, I am sure that, to a man, they favor 14B and would fight its repeal.

They would fight its repeal, though they take a position completely contradictory with respect to their own building department.

On the one hand they say that to recognize the inspectors union would create a chaotic situation.

"Those familiar with newspapers and railroads," observed Township Trustee Earl Oppenheimer himself an attorney for the Grand Trunk Railroad, "know how vexatious it is to work with numerous small unions. You'd spend more time bargaining with unions than running the Township."

On the other hand, they would retain T-H 14B, which if it became the universal rule in every state, would make it impossible to develop large, strong unions.

Clearly, here are revealed the real desires of the Farmington Township Board of Trustees. They do not want to have to deal with a number of little unions, which would be "vexatious" and time consuming. Nor do they want to have to deal with a single, large union, which would have the strength to deal with them as equals.

To Dump... To Burn...?

Suburban communities in Northwestern Wayne County may as well face the fact that the time is about ripe for getting together to study the problem of garbage and refuse disposal.

The problem may not be acute in some of the communities at the moment but incidents of the past few months have proven that it can become a very acute problem almost overnight.

Redford and Plymouth Townships are the latest to be hit by the garbage situation.

For Redford it has almost reached the point where the Township Board will have to take some firm action within a reasonably short time.

In Plymouth Township, the situation is rapidly nearing a crucial point although there still remains probably two or 2½ years before the refuse disposal becomes a pressing problem.

The Trustees there were told a month ago by the area's second largest garbage collection agency that it was having trouble finding a place to dump the live garbage. The company can take the refuse to the dump on Haggerty Road but the owner there has refused to accept any live rubbish.

And that, the operator told the Trustees, means that he has to send his trucks as many as 26 miles one way for a dump. Then back 26 miles before they can collect another load. This situation, he told the Board, is unprofitable and unless the situation is corrected within a short time, he and his sons may have to abandon the business as an unprofitable venture.

With the rapid growth in Plymouth Township, the Trustees are face to face with the problem of finding some means of disposing of garbage. They may be able to delay the decision for a year but then it will hit them right in the face when housewives start to complain about the garbage cans sitting on the street in front of their homes.

We don't have the slightest idea of what is in the minds of the Plymouth Township Trustees but they should be thinking in terms of an incinerator.

Perhaps an incinerator for as man as six or eight communities on the basis of an Authority—one big enough to take care of all the needs now and for some time in the future.

Farmington was troubled with a garbage problem earlier, reaching the point where officials there appealed to the City of Plymouth for permission to dump at its Salem Township dump until such time that it was able to find a new dumping site.

Fortunately, Farmington was able to resolve the problem before it had to take advantage of Plymouth's co-operation. But it's certain that if it had such a problem before then one can feel sure that Farmington will have to face it again before long.

It isn't too early for the area to start studying an Incinerator Authority—the growth out this way has been tremendous, is getting bigger every day and the problems are bound to become more complex as more people move in.

That's why it isn't too soon to act. We hope the city and township fathers begin to think that way.

The Readers Speaks Up: We Must Discipline Vandals

Editor:
 Having experienced vandalism in our park across the street and on the premises of the church (broken lights, windows, stair railings, etc.) it would seem to me that we of Livonia need a new approach to discipline or perhaps a return to an older code.

The current attitude of letting the parents' insurance take care of damages isn't really doing much for the offenders or in fact for the whole community. A sense of community pride or responsibility will not likely come to anyone unless those guilty of destruction have to work to replace glass, play equipment, picnic tables, band instruments, grass, trees, and all the rest.

Can we not therefore as parents, judges, City councilmen, Mayor and counselors agree that children, young people and adults are not beyond working off their debts to society? Must we forever pamper ourselves in our delusions that life should be as painless as possible?

No, I feel that the time has come (and I hope we are not too late) to elevate the worth of all work to the position it deserves in our heritage.

In no sense do I see the repairing or replacing of a city park picnic table or teeter totter as degrading.

Rather I envisage such involvements in work as a prelude to civic pride and personal satisfaction. We don't have to parade up and down the streets those who have offended society by destroying public or private property, but as a responsible society we should insure ourselves against tomorrow by developing within our youth today a sense of responsibility.

Protection of our children and youth is one thing, coddling and babying kids is another. What I am proposing is a change in attitude which would permit us to deal honestly, forthrightly and creatively with those whose energies have been mischanneled. May I trust that this proposal will receive favorable consideration?

ARTHUR BUEMLER,
Livonia.

The vote was unanimous and the audience was advised that the two absent members had concurred in this decision.

We grant that the naming of a school can be a controversial issue and that our request to have the school named after Paul Chandler would have been most controversial. Paul Chandler was a controversial man. But, in any event, we did have the right to be heard prior to any decisions being made and we did have the right to participate in any debate on the issue.

The Livonia School Board has made a public decision in private, contrary to the wishes of the public and contrary to their own stated policy. In public life it is neither possible nor desirable to escape responsibilities by retreating behind closed doors and then performing in public for the sake of the record. In this matter, the Livonia School Board has failed the citizens of Livonia.

We do not object to the naming of the school after Adlai Stevenson. He was a great man and one in whom we can justly be proud. His loss has been felt throughout the world and he consequently will be revered and honored throughout the world.

Paul Chandler, on the other hand, belonged to us. His interests, his family, his work, was right here in Livonia. Take his editorials, put them side by side in chronological order, and the inescapable conclusion reached is that here was a philosopher, a potentially great statesman who was growing each day. His future was bright.

We believe that the Adlai E. Stevenson High School could justly and properly have been named the Paul M. Chandler High School.

effective as of July 1, 1965. Proposal #2 asks the citizens of Livonia if they agree to a tax increase of one-mill "for the sole and exclusive purpose of providing additional revenues for police protection and law enforcement personnel, equipment, supplies and facilities."

While the Federation did not find it necessary to adopt a resolution supporting Proposal #2, it should not be assumed that the Federation takes a "hands-off" position; Nor, any implication be made that the Federation opposes Proposal #2. On the contrary, at our June meeting members went on record commending the Livonia Police for the efficient, courteous, and effective manner in which it operates, particularly so, with a staff so undermanned.

It is the feeling of the Federation members, as expressed at our August 10 meeting, that the citizens of Livonia need and deserve more ample police protection. Regarding Proposal #2... it will be decided by the taxpayers on September 14.

In the same article your newspaper, in a paraphrastic manner, described the Federation as "a loose-knit affiliation of 26 civic associations in the city." Your writer's ambiguous terminology is exceeded only by his total ignorance as to the organizational and functional aspects of the Federation.

It might surprise you to learn that the Federation is a non-profit, non-sectarian, non-political civic group that is chartered under Act. 327, Public Acts of Michigan, and is registered with the City of Livonia. Membership in the Federation is restricted to registered or chartered, active civic associations with by-laws, of the City of Livonia.

The Federation was formed by civic associations to protect and promote the interest and welfare of the citizens of Livonia and to cooperate and coordinate with the member associations. If your newspaper has any doubts as to the fulfillment of this purpose, I suggest that the Livonian Observer hasn't been very observant.

The cooperation and unanimity of purpose in the Federation would be the envy of any other organization, including some of our city's boards and commissions. If there is a loose-knit facet to the Federation of Livonia Civic Associations it would be: (1) Each individual civic association has its autonomy maintained and jealously protected, (2) Each individual civic association has a voice and a vote through its elected delegate or alternate, (3) A delegate is trusted to give an honest report, to his civic association, of the Federation meeting.

The invitation to attend Federation meetings is still open. Our Election Meeting will be held on September 30, 8 p.m., at the Livonia Police Station, Room B-3.

GEORGE KINDRED,
President, Federation of Livonia Civic Associations

Naming The School
Editor:
 The naming of the new Section 9 High School has been an item of considerable interest to a great number of Livonia citizens. Petitions containing 450 signatures urging the adoption of one name were sent to the School Board several weeks ago. Letters from several citizens asking consideration for other names were also received by the Board.

As long ago as January, and as recently as the last School Board election, specific requests were made by us to the office of Benton Yates, Superintendent of Schools, to be notified prior to placing this item on the School Board agenda. Despite these requests, despite the obvious public interest, the School Board saw fit to decide this issue at its regular meeting on August 19 without notification to any of the known interested citizens.

It was only by accident that we learned of this at 11 p.m. the previous evening.

Upon arriving at the meeting and requesting to be heard on behalf of Paul Chandler, Mrs. Strela Schreiber, President of the Board, asked us not to make any remarks prior to the vote as the names had already previously been decided and nothing we could say would affect the decision.

Speaking Up
 The Observer welcomes contributions from readers to its "The Reader Speaks Up" column, but requests that all letters be signed and limited to 250 words. We reserve the right to edit letters for length. Names will be withheld from publication upon request.

'Ambiguous Words'
Editor:
 On behalf of the Federation of Livonia Civic Associations, I would like to correct and make a clarification regarding two erroneous and/or slanted statements, via editorial phraseology, that appeared in the August 18 issue of the Livonia Observer.

First, let us take your words, "The Federation took a 'hands-off' position on the proposed one-mill tax hike for police and fire salaries which will go on the Sept. 14 Livonia ballot."

I am sure you are aware that on August 4 our city council adopted resolution #768-65, providing a general 4 percent increase in police and fire salaries

There is a term that is heard frequently in political circles known as "conflict of interest." It is used more frequently during an election campaign.

When the Mayor of Livonia asked me to fill a vacancy on the Livonia Planning Commission this was my immediate reaction. "Oh, I couldn't. I would have a conflict of interest."

His reply was, "Who hasn't?"

Taking it home and musing over the subject I realized how true it is. No matter what we become involved in, there could easily be a conflict of interest with the work we do to earn our living. Scouting, PTA, church work or Red Cross—even a social or service club—if we are going to cheat, it is better that we not become involved in our community at all.

Either you apply principle and integrity in everything you do—and take your chances—your intentions will be recognized, or you come home from your work, pull down your shades and don't bother with the world. It isn't possible to become involved "just a little bit."

It's like getting a little bit wet, or a little bit drunk, or mad, or dishonest. Either you are all or you are not. It is a show of faith in your community when you get involved. I have faith in Livonia and now I am about to prove it by giving of my time to do what I can to assist my community.

All these platitudes come without attending a meeting. Having sat on the other side of the railing on occasion when some particularly irate citizen yells out, "Ya, are you takin' money under the table?" I'll probably be ready for bare pistols at dawn.

The Observer is also displaying a show of faith this week in Redford Township—faith that citizens are interested in what a real community newspaper has to offer. The Observer, beginning this week, will be delivered into every home in Redford Township free of charge. This is a change of policy in Redford to match the blanket coverage The Observer gives Livonia, Plymouth, Farmington, Nankin and Garden City—it is not an experiment.

We believe it is our function to inform, entertain, reflect and lead the community toward the better things. We want the respect and love of the community—but if we have to make a choice it will be our aim to have the respect.

One Man's Public Philosophy

Editor:
 This is just mental exercise, and according to the popular concepts of the day, it should never have been written. For some 25 years we have been learning to confine our communications to small talk. You may even have a widow tell you that her late departed had much trouble to learn the art of small talk. Now if talk is indulged in as food for the whole man, and who is there who would like to lose the faculty of speech, then small talk can not be other than small food. Diets are sometimes embraced so we may better fit into something, perhaps a size 12 or back into the age of 12. At any rate if the diet is continued too long we may never know a hearty meal for the mind.

Last weekend I admired a mammoth church building, which would still be a large building if it were only 25 percent of its present size. The building is beautiful, and has a tremendous message. Then the thought came to me, could the minister have a message as great as that of the building that housed it? Should his message lack the majesty and grandeur of the building, his would be small talk. But should he have called out nature's demands for the glory of God, would he have many listeners? Have we been vaccinated with small talk against a full life?

De we as a people live in the eternal now, as we have been advised to do, or are we still travelling in a far off country? Ancient script tells of the gladness and of the feast when we return. War has no return.

Dedicated men fill the ranks of all governments, but we have experienced dedicated men in all the follies of history.

All great men live vital lives, and all deep relationships are well nourished and have meaning and under standing. Not even a seed will germinate in a vacuum. Let us live to a great fullness, and if we cannot teach others, we will have taught ourselves.

When youth gathers the concept that they are surrounded with a form of nothingness they have to move, they have to change their environment. They are likely to embrace chaos, because order has come out of chaos, they have polarity. Perhaps we should double our police force, because some need Jobs. Some want to learn the rules that they may force others to live by. But let us look at our own natures and the great hap-

Bus Schedules

Editor:
 The Livonian school bus schedules will be printed this year, as usual, in the Back-to-School issue which will be distributed on Wednesday, September 8. In the past, as a public service, different advertisers have printed the weekly schedule of meals served in the public schools. We believe local advertisers will continue to publish this helpful information throughout the 1965-66 school year.

Rev. Eddy Defenders

Editor:
 We have viewed with dismay the recent assault by citizens on Rev. Robert Eddy's freedom and integrity.

The health of our society demands the realistic confrontation of all social problems in an atmosphere of open inquiry and respectful listening. Unless there is the willingness to study and evaluate new ideas without fear, social progress is not possible. If our old values are worth preserving, they will easily withstand the test of any challenge.

We know Rev. Eddy to be a man sincerely concerned with helping others and eminently qualified to be of service to the community. We know that he has not sought the present publicity but has become the victim of distortion and half-truth. We do not endorse his solution to the problem of marriage in our society, but we applaud his willingness to deal with this serious dilemma with more than a perfunctory nod to "safe" answers.

We trust that the wise judgment of those who believe in truth above scandal will prevail, and that he will continue to serve his community with the distinction already shown.

Thurston Pupils to Plan Senior Trip to New York

After taking a poll of interest and desires of both students and parents concerning a senior trip for the class of 1966 from Thurston High School, a parent-sponsored Travel Club was formed and is offering a tour of New York City.

The tour is scheduled to leave by train Wednesday evening, Nov. 3, and return Sunday morning, Nov. 7.

There'll be no school in session at this time because of use of teachers institutes. This time was chosen because of over-crowded conditions in New York at Easter.

The travel club will be using the Kearney Travel Service-Teen Tours who will be responsible for arrangements, such as transportation, hotel rooms and meals. Teen Tours have definite rules by which each tour is conducted. This will be a parent-supervised tour.

Some of the highlights of the trip will be staying at the Hotel Taft in Times Square, visiting the Bowery, Chinatown, Greenwich Village, Statue of Liberty, Broadway Play, United Nations, Rockefeller Center, International Nightclub, Empire State Bldg. and more. The club still has room for 40 more senior students. Those pupils who would like additional information may call Mrs. H. Poike, KE 4-3237, or Mrs. R. Cunningham, KE 5-9423. There is a $10 deposit required at registration. Reservations will be closed on Sept. 30.

State Board Expected to Rule on College Today

The State Board of Education is expected to take up the question of Redford Township affiliation with Schoolcraft Community College at a meeting in Lansing today. Residents of Redford Union and South Redford School Districts have petitioned for an election to affiliate with college, which now is made up of Clarenceville, Livonia, Northville, Plymouth and Garden City School Districts.

The Board must approve the petitions for the election before any more steps can be taken.

SMILES WERE SPREAD OUT a mile wide on the faces of these boys who won the "Pee Wee" 440-yard relay race at last Thursday's Junior Olympics in Redford Township. The kids, on the awards podium at Lola Valley Field, represented Vandenberg School (first place), Jefferson (second) and Phoenix Park (third).

Schools Keep Doors Open All Summer Long in Twp.

By D. C. BARNETT

Most people assume that, when the last shrieks of joy and laughter die away in the corridors of the schools in mid-June, school closes down during the summer months. In most cases this is not true. Redford Township Schools are no exception. There are programs which operate during the summer months that serve the community and utilize school facilities.

The old stand-by that most are familiar with is the summer school program. This summer Redford Union High was the site of high school and junior high summer school while the elementary summer school was conducted at most of the grade schools. Several of the grade schools also provided access to their libraries for a summer library program.

One program conducted in conjunction with the Wayne County Health Department is the fluoridation of pre-school and elementary students' teeth. This, along with the summer music programs of individual and group instruction, was held in a number of school buildings throughout the district.

Miss Judith Hershey, the speech correctionist, also worked in several buildings continuing the work begun during the regular school year. And, as if this were not enough, there is an intensive drivers' education program which is run from the high school.

MUSIC CONTINUES TO waft through the halls of Redford Township Schools during the summer months. Here, in a summer school session at Keeler Elementary School, Mr. John Avolio, instrumental music teacher, gives some pointers to saxophone students Richard Erickson, Mark Henegar and Bruce McDonald.

THE READER SPEAKS UP:

Farnum's Vote Called 'Payoff'

Guard 14-B!

Editor: Three cheers for Bill Gail! In the column "A Congressman's Workbook" Dem. Rep. Billie Farnum glibly portrays himself concerned over water shortages and pollution. In another column a few inches away, Bill Gail magnificently reveals Farnum's record of voting for shortages in liberty and freedom of choice, and the pollution of pressure politics.

The Congressman's Yes vote to repeal section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley law was another example of him being a rubber stamp. But, Bill, may I say the Congressman's vote to repeal section 14-B was not a payoff to labor, but a payoff to the labor barons of Solidarity House.

We, of the laboring society, have the intelligence to choose if we desire a right-to-work law or not. It is regrettable that our Congressman voted in favor of denying us this freedom of choice. 1966 will soon be upon us. We still have the liberty and freedom of choosing another Congressman.

John Timson, Livonia.

'Offensive' Comment

Editor: The "news" story regarding the action of the Farmington Board on Dutch Elm disease was a classic in poor reporting. The comment regarding Aldo Vagnozzi and the new cure for the disease was most offensive (and I am a Republican).

As an anecdote it may have been alright, but as straight news reporting it was very poor, and in extremely bad taste.

CONFESSIONS OF A RACE TRACK OWNER

I Want To Give You A Tip.

It is NOT on a horse, but rather on PEOPLE.

The horses are running at the Detroit Race Course (nine races Monday through Friday, with a post parade at 3:20 P.M. and a big 10 race program on Saturdays starting at 2 P.M.).

The thoroughbreds are competing for the biggest purses in our 17-year history and the caliber of racing is high. I am proud of this, but prouder still of the fans who are turning out in record numbers to see our new, modernized plant that makes the Detroit Race Course one of the finest sports facilities in the United States.

A year ago, we inaugurated a V.I.F. Program.

V.I.F. stands for Very Important Fan.

I said at the time, I regard each person who passes through our gates as a Very Important Fan. I mean it sincerely.

As a result of the VIF Program, I have had an opportunity to meet and talk each week with fans selected at random to represent all our patrons.

It has been one of the most pleasant and rewarding experiences of my many years in racing.

The Fans have given me a multitude of TIPS . . . tips on the things they like and dislike about our operation and on their views on racing in general.

Our VIFS have shown themselves to be informed and understanding. Their views have been sound and well presented. I have welcomed their comments, whether critical or favorable.

When I say YOUR PLEASURE IS OUR BUSINESS, I am not merely voicing a slogan. This is the key to our entire operational philosophy. We want you to enjoy the thrills and excitement of top racing in pleasant surroundings and a congenial "It's-fun-to-be-here" atmosphere.

The response to our VIF Program last season was overwhelming. In order that more fans may have the opportunity of being selected as VIFS, we have enlarged the scope of the plan this season.

It is simple to become a participant. Merely fill out a coupon in the daily racing program and drop it in one of the VIF boxes, which are located conveniently throughout the grandstand and clubhouse areas.

If you are selected . . . and I hope you are . . . I think you will find the racing experience ahead a memorable one.

So enthusiastic was the support of our VIFS last season, we are forming a VIF Alumni Club this year so we may continue our pleasant association.

Take a tip from me . . . DRC fans are tops. Why not join their ranks and get in on the fun? Come out soon and see us.

Hare Continues Hunt for Director

LANSING—Secretary of State James M. Hare is continuing his "big hunt" . . . a search,

SERVICE is more than a word at our funeral home . . . it is a way of life. For seventy years members of our family have provided the utmost in funeral service and we pledge to continue doing so.

SCHMALZRIEDT SONS
Funeral Home

says Hare, which will bring the most qualified man in to be director of Michigan's Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund. Hare said that he and top aides had narrowed a "large field down to about a half-dozen candidates" and that a choice for the top slot would be forthcoming.

In the meantime, said Hare, his Department has begun to move in filling some of the other positions in the Fund's operation.

"We're hopeful of hiring a nucleus of the 22 persons who will handle the Fund's operation when it officially opens for claims on January 1.

Collections . . . $25.00 from each insured driver and $1.00 from each driver who presents proof that he is insured . . . begin with the sale of 1966 license plates starting November 1. Most of the collections period will be during the plate sale period spanning four months from November 1, 1965, through February 28, 1966.

Because insurance companies cannot furnish insurance certificates to all their insured vehicle owners, Hare said, everyone will have to furnish their own valid proof that they are insured when they buy plates to qualify for the $1.00 fee.

In a meeting, representatives of the insurance industry said that "lack of time" prevented them from developing and issuing uniform insurance certificates. "Some companies will furnish their own insurance certificates, others will issue other types of proof, but other companies will not furnish any," Hare said. "An owner has two alternatives . . . he can contact his insurance representatives and ask for some type of company proof of his being insured, or he will have to present his paid-up policy.

"We know that this poses an inconvenience in some instances, but this is the best that the companies can do this year, according to their spokesmen."

Ham Radio Course

Of many new evening school courses requested by suburban citizens which will be offered in Livonia this fall is one which will guide ham radio operators or prospective amateur license holders in purchasing electronic equipment for this growing hobby.

According to Instructor Lovell Barker this course will differ from other ham courses he has taught in that the group will explore the world of oscillators, buffers, PA panels, power supplies, keying and modulation. In depth discussions and evaluations of amateur radio equipment problems will be included in this new course.

Around Township

There's no truth to the statement emanating from Township Hall sources that the Bodker Dairy Co. has been sold, or is even up for sale. That's the emphatic word this week from company official Vern Bodker.

Bodker blamed the false report that one of Redford Township's largest and oldest industries was sold on a post office error which sent the company's water bills to another concern, which, in turn, paid them unwittingly. This led some Township Hall employees to thinking the dairy had been sold.

"We are proud of our long association with Redford Township residents, and we intend to continue and expand our service for many years to come," Bodker said.

The campaign for Circuit Judgeship is gathering steam in this area. Paul Harty, local attorney and until recently a member of the Township Planning Commission, is plugging his candidacy throughout the community.

But, despite his Democratic Party background, he has not received the endorsement of the 19th District-Wayne party's executive board. They're working, instead, for Blair Moody, Jr.; Charles McDonald; Thomas Foley; and C. D. Farmer.

Also in politics: the "Democratic Boosters" a local party reform group, met Thursday night to make plans for future activities. The group, a caucus within the official Township Democratic Party organization, recently sponsored a picnic for Congressman Billie S. Farnum and State Representative John Bennett and drew 150 families to Bell Creek Park for the event. Noticeably absent: Party Chairman Nate Banks and would-be political kingmaker Angie Bommarito.

John Bennett, incidentally, was accused of looking for publicity in the Redford Township press last Friday in an editorial in the Detroit News. The News' editorial said Bennett's only reason for proposing a statewide 25-mile-per-hour speed limit was to get some "local ink."

MEMO TO REDFORD TOWNSHIP'S PARKS AND RECREATION COMMISSION: When will the 1963 Little League baseball schedule come down from the billboard at Claude Allison Park??? For your information, fellows, it's two years old, and the sign—besides being out-of-date—makes an eyesore out of an otherwise pleasant place.

13 Redford Kids 'Hit The Target'

Thirteen Redford Township youngsters were winners in an archery tournament last Thursday at Claude Allison Park.

Jim Hogort (Bulman School) took first place for the Pee Wee Boys, Bill Bartlett (Phoenix) was second and Bob Ganz (Jefferson) was third.

Mike Sweeney (Stuckey) was the Midget Boys winner, and runners-up were Andy Hendrickson (Rogers) and Mark Davis (Claude Allison).

For Midget Girls, Grace Hogart (Bulman) was first, Lisa Baishanian (Claude Allison) was second, and Kay LaFerriere (Manning) was third.

B. Sweeney (Stuckey) was the first-place winner for Junior Boys, Bob Knight (Stuckey) was second, and John Hendrickson (Rogers) was third.

This is a special year for us at the National Bank of Detroit. It marks the 20th anniversary of our Instaloan Department—20 years of helping people get the things they need and want. We've enjoyed every minute of it. Originally, the department had 11 employees. Today we have more than 250 people in the Instaloan Department in our Main Office alone and nearly as many more in our branch offices. During our first 20 years, the National Bank of Detroit Instaloan Department has become the largest of its kind in the state. As of June 30 we had loaned $2,864,238,759 for 2,061,223 good reasons. Some of these reasons are shown above. As we start our 21st year, we look forward to hearing about many more ways we can help people get the things they want. We'd like to hear from you.

DIRECTOR EXPLAINS CHANGES

New SS Legislation Will Aid Area Seniors

Samuel F. Test, Manager of the Detroit-Northwest Social Security Office, Monday emphasized a number of points that are important to millions of people under the new social security legislation signed recently by President Johnson.

The legislation establishes the new health insurance for the aged program and provides for increases in retirement, survivors, and disability insurance benefits.

Test said the people now receiving social security benefits do not need to take any action at all in order to get the increased cash benefit payment the law provides.

The amount of the increase for the months of January through August 1965 will be paid to each beneficiary in a separate check the latter part of September. The first regular checks reflecting the seven percent increase will be mailed early in October, covering the month of September.

Social Security and railroad retirement beneficiaries now 65 or over will not need to take any action to secure their basic hospital protection under the new health insurance program.

All aged persons now on the rolls will receive by mail in September or October a full information kit describing this protection, which becomes effective July 1, 1966.

People 65 and over who have never worked under social security, although not qualified for cash social security benefits, may qualify for the basic hospital insurance protection under the new "health insurance program."

Those receiving public assistance from the States may be signed up for the basic hospital insurance by their welfare agencies.

Enrollments in the voluntary medical insurance plan can be accepted beginning September 1, 1965. Therefore, persons over 65 who have not worked under social security should wait until September 1 before visiting their social security office.

Then they can sign up for the basic hospital insurance and, also, enroll in the medical insurance program if they wish that additional important protection. Certain other groups affected by the law do need to take action now. The major groups involved are:

1. Persons now 65 or over who are insured under social security but have never applied for benefits.
2. Persons 72 or older not now getting benefits because they (or their husbands) had not worked enough under Social Security to qualify under the provisions of the law.
3. Widows age 60 or 61. Beginning September 1965, widows can choose to have their cash benefits start at age 60 at a reduced amount.
4. Students 18 to 22 whose benefits have been stopped.
5. A severely disabled worker may now collect disability benefits if his condition has lasted or is expected to last for 12 full months.

For further information contact your local Social Security Office. The Detroit-Northwest Office is located at 18500 Grand River in Detroit, 48223.

Members of the winning team included John Mutch, 14003 Royal Grand; Norm Bolz, 14017 Crosley; Reg Barringer, 11353 Rockland; Barry Simescu, 14155 Sarasota; Neil Currie, 13575 Beech-Daly; and Chuck Nole, 9929 Brady.

James House New Consultant For County Bd.

Sign Painting Course Offered

Suburban businessmen, club publicity chairmen, and prospective art students are expected to show up for a new continuing education course in sign and show card design and layout.

The class, to be taught by Herbert Wood this fall, is designed to teach the students the basic techniques of lettering relevant to advertising. However, it will also offer practical how-to-do-it help to shop keepers and others who want to make signs for their stores and businesses.

Redford Board OKs Drives for Charity

Two charity drives this fall have been approved by the Redford Township Board, but a third request to paint house numbers on street curbs has been tabled.

The City of Hope Detroit Cancer Fighters will place canisters in local business establishments from Sept. 23 to Dec. 23. The Aiding Leukemia Stricken American Children (ALSAC) drive will be held Sept. 12 through Oct. 10.

A request by Hal G. King of Wayne, on behalf of a "group of students and veterans" to paint street curb numbers and then collect donations was tabled until it can be determined if the Wayne County Road Commission, which has jurisdiction, objects.

Well-Planned Insurance Family Must

Your family can meet economic disaster with money in its pocket if your insurance program is well-planned.

Insurance offers you a large amount of protection for a small amount of money. An insurance company spreads the risk among a large group, so you are covered for the complete amount of your policy immediately after you pay your first premium.

The rule of thumb to follow when buying insurance is to protect against the large losses first, says Dr. Carol Shaffer, Michigan State University specialist in family finance.

The first loss to protect against is the premature death of the family breadwinner. For example, if a man earning $5,000 a year dies 20 years before the average person, that would be a loss of $100,000.

Two other major losses that should be insured are auto liability and the disability of the breadwinner.

When planning your insurance program some needs will be permanent. These will include last expenses, taxes and business costs and the final costs for settlement of the estate.

Your insurance needs can be met through several different plans. The cheapest insurance available is known as term insurance. It serves best for the family that has high need, but only a few dollars to spend on insurance. It is often recommended for the young family on a tight budget.

Straight term insurance will cost more as you age, but today many term policies can be converted into whole-life policies after a few years.

Whole-life insurance offers several different payment plans. You may choose level payments throughout life or you can arrange to pay off the policy in a set number of years, such as 20 or by the time you retire.

Everything for the shopping motorist!

Sister Mary Danutha Gets Top Post

Madonna Board Names President, Academic Dean

Two changes in top administrative posts were announced Monday by Mother Mary Laudine and Board of Trustees of Madonna College.

Sister Mary Danutha was named president succeeding Sister Mary Raynela, who had held that position for five years, and Sister Mary Lauriana replaces Sister Mary Martina as academic dean.

The two changes are effective immediately.

It was during the presidency of Sister Mary

Raynela that the college made plans for and successfully completed a $4.5 million expansion program that boosted the enrollment capacity from 400 to 1,000.

That work was finished last fall and students will be in all of the new academic buildings and the new dormitories this fall for the first time on a full scale.

Sister Danutha's educational background includes a Bachelor's degree from Madonna College, a Master's from Fordham University and post graduate work at DePaul University, Purdue University and Carleton College.

As the head of the Biology department at Madonna, Sister Danutha taught biology for the past 10 years, prior to her teaching at Madonna, she taught at several elementary and high schools staffed by the Felician Sisters.

Sister Mary Lauriana brings years of varied experience into her new office of academic dean. She received her Bachelor's degree from Madonna College, Master's in education and Doctorate from Fordham University and did post-doctoral studies at Teachers' College at Columbia University.

As associate professor at Madonna, Sister Mary Lauriana taught courses in education and directed student teachers. She has been the reading coordinator for the

Explains Amendments In MESC Regulations

By Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley
Recent amendments to the Michigan Employment Security Act will provide broader coverage and reduce the disqualification period in certain cases.

Previously, when an individual was disqualified for one of the reasons set forth below, all of his credit weeks in his base period were canceled (credit weeks are used to compute unemployment benefits and must be acquired within the 52 week period immediately preceding the filing of a claim—commonly called the base period).

(a) Where an individual left his work without good cause attributed to the employer.

(b) Where an individual was discharged for misconduct connected with his work.

(c) Where an individual has failed without good cause to accept suitable work when offered to him, or to return to his customary or self-employment, if any, when so directed by the local employment office or the Commission.

The amendments reduce the period of disqualification in those situations to six weeks. When, however, an individual has been discharged for an act of assault, theft, or sabotage, connected with his work, he may not receive benefits for a period of 12 weeks.

Prior to these recent amendments, an individual could only qualify for benefits by working for an employing unit that hired four or more workers in 20 different calendar weeks in a calendar year.

When the amendments take effect, a claimant will be able to qualify for benefits by working for an employing unit that has had in its employment one or more individuals in each of 20 different weeks within a calendar year, or has paid wages of $1,000 or more, during a calendar year.

New Movies

Back in 1932, Kodak introduced 8mm movies. Maybe you remember those movies when grandfather first showed his film on the living room wall—and maybe you don't remember. Thirty-three years is a long time. But now there's a whole new system for making home movies. New Super 8 movies from Kodak. New drop-in Super 8 KODAPAK Movie Cartridges. New instant-loading cameras and new projectors. Six new projectors priced all the way from $64.50 to $295.00. All six projectors thread themselves automatically. All six made the most of new Super 8 film's 50% greater picture area. They all give you the brightest, sharpest, most colorful home movies ever.

The KODAK INSTAMATIC M50 Movie Projector is pie-simple. One knob controls the whole show—forward projection and power rewind. The KODAK INSTAMATIC M60 Movie Projector not only threads itself but also stops at the end of your reel and rewinds the film automatically.

Both the KODAK INSTAMATIC M70 and KODAK INSTAMATIC M 80 Movie Projectors add enjoyment to your basic movies. Both offer seven different operating speeds for the funniest, fastest, slowest home movies you've ever seen. The KODAK INSTAMATIC M80 will show either Super 8 or regular 8mm films at all seven speeds. Just set the selector switch for the type of film you choose. The KODAK INSTAMATIC M90 Movie Projector offers you an ultra-fast f/1.0 lens. And the KODAK INSTAMATIC M100 Sound Projector is a magnetic sound projector with a half-dozen advantages over conventional sound projectors.

Come in and let us show you why Super 8 movies are the showiest yet.

Prep Gridders Plunge into Drills on Monday

Summer vacation has ended for the area's high school football players.

Or it will next Monday. That's when the preps meet their coaches and start official practices for the 1965 season which begins on Sept. 17.

Upwards of 1,800 preps in the area will answer the calls to drill.

When classes were dismissed in June, there were 12 high schools in the area.

Now there'll be 13. The new addition is the third high school in Livonia, named Stevenson High.

Four of the schools will have new coaches. One of them, of course, is Stevenson High where Jack Reardon will be in charge after assisting at Bentley High for the last few years.

Stevenson won't field a full-fledged varsity in 1965. They'll have only tenth graders in this first year. The other new coaches will be John McFall at Plymouth, Dick Tyler at Farmington and John Trellay at St. Agatha High.

McFall replaced Mike Hoben, who stepped out of guiding the Plymouth Rocks after the 1964 season to become an administrative official at Plymouth High.

Tyler was moved up from assistant to take the place of Jack Hayes, who resigned unexpectedly to take a college coaching job.

Trellay moves in at St. Agatha to fill the shoes of Dave Brazil who has taken a similar post at Benedictine High in Detroit. Brazil led St. Agatha to an unbeaten season and its first championship in 1964.

School-by-school, here's what is on tap during the next few days for the footballers:

BENTLEY
COACH—Larry Joiner. He has sent letters to 100 candidates who are to visit their private doctors for physical examinations. Uniforms will be distributed at the school on Friday. Joiner faces a rebuilding job with only eight lettermen returning. He has some fine candidates up from the reserve team. Plans to build a line around Ends Ken Bauman and Mike DeGutis. In the backfield, Bob Elsner, is the key performer.

Gals to Engage in 'Star' Game

An all-star women's softball game between Ypsilanti's league champs and the best from the Farmington, Taylor, Lansing and Detroit teams will be played at the Farmington City Park next Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Confidence carries the man to the field, but overconfidence sometimes causes wild aim.

FRANKLIN
COACH—Bob Bentley. Players must take own physicals and report ready for work Monday morning. Uniforms already issued. Eighty players are due Monday as Bentley hopes to form a team which will duplicate last year's perfect 9-0 record and a Northwest League championship. Entire starting backfield is gone, but line should be strong again with such veterans back as Center Mike Stachurski, Guard Bill Bauer, Tackles Fred Sievert and Larry Brennan and Ends Cal Lutinen and J. D. Saven. Some fine talent for the backfield is led by Quarterbacks Gary Birkett and Dave Kosteva. First drill Monday is set for 9 a.m.

STEVENSON
COACH—Jack Reardon. He's a former assistant at Bentley High. He'll have only tenth graders with whom to work. Team will play mostly reserve units from other schools. It will be 1967 before the school has 12th graders on its team. Plans call for Stevenson High joining a league perhaps in time for winter sports . . . or by spring of 1966.

PLYMOUTH
COACH—John McFall. No stranger to the coaching ranks. He has worked with departed Mike Hoben for several seasons and also guided Plymouth to titles in swimming. He has distributed uniforms and handled the physicals for players. Expects more than 80 players for Monday morning's first practice. Graduation losses cut deeply into the Plymouth ranks last season.

CLARENCEVILLE
COACH—Ralph Temby. Physicals set for 1 p.m. Saturday. Uniform distribution will follow with first practice Monday at 8 a.m. Cross country as

St. Agatha New Coach 'Old' One

Meet John Trellay, the new football coach at St. Agatha high school.

He's a man of experience.

St. Agatha, in hunting for a successor to Dave Brazil who has become new coach at Benedictine High in Detroit, couldn't have found a better man than Trellay.

He's no novice at coaching.

He has served at such schools as Servite, Wayne St. Mary's and Wyandotte Mt. Carmel in head-coaching roles. Also he coached for a period at Bay City Visitation.

Trellay was out of coaching a year ago. Other duties had prevented him from handling a team.

"I was eager to get back into the game," he said. "I heard about St. Agatha and inquired.

"Going there makes me very happy indeed. I like the setup and the kids who attend the school."

Trellay will have his work cut out. He replaces a man in Brazil who never held a loser in five years at St. Agatha.

The 1964 team, of course, was the school's best in history—winning six and tying one—and winning the divisional title.

DRC Opens Clubhouse With Near Record Handle

The second phase of a history-making meeting is underway at the Detroit Race Course.

Off to the finest start in its 17 years of operation in Livonia, the DRC now moves into the second month of its 84-day meeting with the greatly expanded facilities of its new $3,000,000 clubhouse available to the fans.

The crowd for the grand opening of the clubhouse was 22,188 and it wagered $1,566,343. This was the second highest mutual handle in the track's history. It was topped only by the wagering total of $1,660,829 last Labor Day.

On the opening of the new clubhouse, Dale Shaffer, President of the DRC said:

"This marks the fulfillment of a dream for me. I hope, in a sense, it also is the fulfillment of a dream for racing fans of Michigan. Racing in Michigan has made amazing strides and I am confident it will continue to grow. We have geared our operation and our facilities to meet that growth."

The expanded DRC facilities make it possible to handle, without crowding or problems, crowds of 40,000 or more fans.

"The new clubhouse virtually doubles our capacity," Shaffer said. "We recognize we may not need all these facilities immediately, but our planning was on a long range basis."

With the opening of the clubhouse, there was another significant development. The former clubhouse was converted into the Grandstand Terrace, a new concept in race track accommodations.

"In our planning we had in mind the grandstand fan as well as the clubhouse patron," Shaffer said. "We wanted to make comparable facilities available to both groups."

On the same day the clubhouse opened there was another change. Saturday marked the final day of twin double betting at Michigan tracks.

Racing Commissioner Berry Beaman directed the DRC to discontinue this popular form of wagering, effective with its program of Monday.

Commissioner Beaman's action was taken after a jockey's agent and groom were accused of purchasing 'live' twin double tickets.

While acceding to Commissioner Beaman's directive without protest, Shaffer said he regretted the passing of the twin double "because it was popular with our fans and it is our business to give them the entertainment they want."

Two outstanding stake events, the $15,000 Fancy Flyer Handicap, and the $12,500 Motor City Handicap top Saturday's DRC program. The Motor City is for three-year-olds foaled in Michigan.

The long baseball season will come to a close at Livonia's Henry Ford Field Saturday night.

Two all-star teams will perform in a doubleheader beginning at 7 p.m.

One squad will be comprised of the best from the Greater Livonia Class D League. Scout Louis D'Annunzio of the Detroit Tigers will be in charge of the team.

The opposition will be supplied by a team of collegiate all-stars from the western part of Michigan.

FOND FAREWELL: Take a good look at this 'tote' board picture for it is now part of Michigan's racing history. It shows the possible payoffs on the final Twin Double race at the Detroit Race Course. Note closely, No. 8 (County Chairman) if he had won would have returned one backer $112,424. As it was six fans each collected $18,737 on the final Twin Double races. The Twin Double wagering has been discontinued by directive of Racing Commissioner Berry Beaman.

OBSERVING SPORTS

By George Maskin

SAVINGS ON POSTAGE STAMPS TO TAKE CARE OF OUR WEEK'S MAIL:

Mr. Barry Beaman, Michigan Racing Commissioner, Detroit

Dear Sir: I'm no horse racing bug. If I visit a track twice a year, that's a record.

Form sheets mean nothing to me. Years ago, when I worked for the late Times, I'd stab at a horse and make the paper's super selection. Sometimes the horse won, more often not.

The other night at the trotters, there was a horse running by the name of "Bertha." I told my wife: "Bet Bertha out of respect for a friend of ours." My wife said no. But Bertha won. That's the kind of a picker I am.

But I do know that the fans eat up horse-racing in these parts. Just look at all the new marks being set for attendance and wagering.

I also know the fans "ate up" the Twin Double. Which is why I'm writing this.

The "Twin" was introduced at the Detroit Race Course last year. To my knowledge things went very well. This spring over at Hazel Park, the "twin" stirred up a lot of big, fat headlines. Yet, the "twin" lived at the Hazel Park oval. But no sooner did the racers switch to the DRC, you put the track on the spot... and in a couple of weeks, out went the "Twin."

Somehow, I think you owed the DRC folks a better shake. They were doing their best to avert problems. And they were succeeding.

So I heard, anyhow. But, you're the boss of racing... and we must go along with your thinking. We hope that you're right.

Sincerely, George Maskin

P.S. Twas quite a crowd at DRC last Saturday to buy the Twin.

School Administrators, Livonia, Mich.

Gentlemen: Now that a third high school is about to open in Livonia and the plans for a fourth are on the drawing board, why not consider banding all the Livonia schools together in the same league for athletic purposes?

We can't see what purpose is accomplished by having schools, which are all under one administration and paid for by the same money, vying in different conferences.

It strikes us that the brand of competition would intensify, along with the interest, were the schools contesting in a predominately Livonia League.

Such loops have worked successfully elsewhere. It would be the same in Livonia.

Sincerely, George Maskin

Mr. Al Roscoe, Athletic Director, Livonia Recreation Dept., Livonia.

Dear Al: Just a thought for the 1966 baseball season. We (meaning the sports editor of the Observer) constantly get beefs from your baseball managers that we don't write enough about their teams.

How's about arranging for Regular scorers, just like they have in Detroit?

At least, you could hire such gentlemen (or gals) for your important games... such as in the playoffs. It wouldn't cost that much.

Best, George Maskin

P.S. Other communities could follow suit.

Mr. Ralph Owen, Athletic Director, Catholic High Schools, Detroit.

Dear Friend Ralph: Hated to see you have to split up St. Agatha and Our Lady of Sorrows high schools and assign them to different divisions in your vast league.

Can understand the problems which face you... and we realize that you are thinking only of the best interests of the schools, the teams and the athletes.

I guess I'm just a little selfish. Having Sorrows and St. Agatha in the same division just made for better newspaper copy.

Continued success in handling the country's biggest prep league.

Best, George Maskin

Cards, Elks Beaten In State Baseball Finals

Livonia's Cardinals and Elks both came within a whisker Monday of winning state boys' baseball championships.

The Cards reached the state finals in Class F competition for youngsters 13 and under.

The Elks followed suit in Class E, for boys 14-15.

Playing at Jackson, the Cards beat Wyandotte in the semifinals by a 4-2 score as the Elks won a 2-1 thriller from Roseville.

Then with the state crowns riding on the outcomes, the Cards fell to Inkster, 6-2, while the Elks extended Allen Park until the 11th inning before succumbing by a 5-3 tally.

The Card shofies to the team further testified to the fine calibre of kids' baseball in Livonia.

In winning from Wyandotte, the Cards received stellar pitching from Bob Sievert who allowed three hits and fanned 13 batters.

The Cards counted two runs in the fourth inning. Joe Saputo walked and Roland Eveleth singled. Then, after the latter was picked off base, Bob Hood walked, Randy Lee singled and Larry Reed slapped a double.

That made it 3-0 for the Livonians who had pushed across their first run in the third inning on singles by Chris Larsen, Dave Farrell and Eveleth.

The final Cards' run came in the sixth when Dave Gregor walked, Reed walked and Matt Stachurski clouted a single.

Lee was the losing pitcher for the Cards against Inkster. He was touched for seven hits and walked four batters.

Inkster cashed three runs in the second and then added three more in the sixth to put the game out of reach for the Cards who finished the season with a 28-4 record.

The Cards counted both their runs in the fourth inning on singles by Dave Farrell, Larsen and Lee and a double by Eveleth.

Dave Paden hurled the route in winning for the Elks in a thriller against Roseville. He fanned 12 and allowed only five hits.

The winning run was cashed by the Elks in the seventh—and final—inning when Larry Prentiss walked, moved to second and third on a pair of sacrifices and came across when Dave Storm exploded a single.

The first Elks' run was tallied when Carl Watkins walked, moved up on an infield out and came in on Jerry Dettler's single.

It took a comeback for the Elks to force Allen Park into extra innings in the championship game.

Trailing, 3-1, the Elks put across two runs when Dennis Fisher singled, Carl Watkins tripled and then scored on a wild throw. From then until the eleventh, it was a dogfight, before Allen Park finally cut loose.

Greg Coleman, Paden, Coleman again, Dettler, Watkins and Prentiss all took turns pitching for the Livonians.

Observing Sports

well as footballers are asked to report for physicals on Saturday. Lost only three footballers from 1964 team which had a 1-8 record. Temby is optimistic with a flock of experienced players back. His first-week practice schedule calls for Backs assembling at 7 a.m. after Monday, the linemen at 10 a.m. and all the players for a 3-5 p.m. session. Then there'll be a chalk talk in the evening at 7.

FARMINGTON

COACH — Dick Tyler. He'll meet his new charges this Wednesday afternoon at which time physicals will be held and uniforms issued. At an evening meeting Wednesday, Tyler will confer with his players and also their parents. Loss of 16 lettermen will leave some major dents in the Falcons' roster. Tyler expects to build around Co-Captains Mike Perry, a guard, and Mile Wilson at quarterback. Two-day drills will be held next week and until classes start a week from next Wednesday.

NORTH FARMINGTON

COACH — Ron Holland. Like Tyler at Farmington, Holland has his work cut out. He lost 25 men from last year's team, so most of the boys who meet Thursday for physicals and equipment will be on the young and inexperienced side. Bill Oldershaw, an all-league back in '64, has returned along with Tackle Pete Dolan, who will be starting his fourth year on the North Farmington varsity. Despite the severe casualties, Holland is optimistic about the team's chances for '65.

OUR LADY OF SORROWS

COACH — Bud Webster. Will meet his players Saturday for physicals and issuing of equipment. Urges all players either to bring a certificate showing they have insurance or money for such insurance. Webster expects to have a squad of 50 for next Monday's first drill. Most will be new faces. Mike Blouin, the Sorrows Captain, is being moved from tackle to guard. Jim Kreason will get one nod at tackle. In the backfield, Webster plans to build around Jim McGrath and Cliff LaFond.

REDFORD UNION

COACH — John Rogers. He'll greet 60 men for physicals and equipment distributions at the high school Saturday. The big problem facing Rogers and his staff is the backfield, where all of last year's regulars have been graduated. Glen Davis, a defensive specialist in '64, is being groomed as the first-string quarterback. Terry Shirkey and Rich Carlson are two others on whom Rogers is counting. Up front, Redford Union will have a strong, veteran line.

THURSTON

COACH — Bill McDonald. After a disappointing year in '64, McDonald is optimistic about team's chances for 1965 campaign. Two-day drills are on the agenda for Thurston beginning Monday morning. McDonald expects a turnout in excess of 70 for his second season as head man. Will meet with players Friday and Saturday for uniform distribution and to discuss training procedures.

ST. AGATHA

COACH — John Trellay. He'll meet with squad this Wednesday for physicals. There are 13 lettermen on deck from last year's team which went unbeaten with a record of seven wins and one tie and won the divisional championship. From what Trellay has been able to ascertain, the '65 St. Agatha team will be on the light side and also will be shy of bench strength.

GARDEN CITY WEST

COACH — Harold Burkholder. From a personal standpoint, he's in the best shape of all area coaches. Save for the tragic death of Gary Gawronski, a back who was drowned this summer, Burkholder has everybody returning. That's because West didn't have any seniors in school last year... only tenth and eleventh graders. Along with the vets, Burkholder also has some fine newcomers coming up. He'll greet players at 8 a.m. Saturday for physicals and the distribution of equipment. Plans call for three sessions daily next week. Backs and linemen will meet individually in the morning, then the entire squad in the afternoon.

GARDEN CITY EAST

COACH — Bill Wilson. In contrast to the returnees at Garden City West, East will have only five of top 33 from '64 team which won eight and lost one returning. In fact, only one of first 22 of a year ago will be on deck when Wilson goes to work with his charges Monday. The "one" is Scott Gardner. This will be youngest team in history of Garden City East. Physicals are slated for Sunday evening at 6 o'clock at the school's fieldhouse. The team was to assemble this Wednesday afternoon for physical examinations.

Under state high school rules, each team will be permitted to engage in one outside scrimmage against another school before opening the regular season's schedule.

Once a game has been played, there's no limit on the number of outside scrimmages in which a team may engage.

U-M Has Strength at Center

ANN ARBOR — As college football concentrates almost exclusively on the platoon system this fall, the center spot at Michigan, traditionally strong, also is sharply divided into offensive and defensive specialists.

Defensively, Captain Tom Cecchini and his partner Frank Nunley, both of whom have seen duty both ways, should provide the Wolverines with another powerful linebacking combination.

Cecchini, at 200 pounds, has several times been picked as the UPI lineman of the week, and is one of the hardest tacklers in the league. His partner, Nunley, a 220-pounder, is equally adept at backing the line. He sometimes alternates with fullback Barry Dehlin in this spot.

On offense, a sophomore may take over. He's Joe Dayton from Detroit, a 6-2, 215-pounder, and he probably will share the post with Jerry Danhof, a junior and a converted tackle.

Danhof also is a Detroit, a former all-city choice at tackle at Denby High. Dayton is a product of Cooley High school where he was two years on the all-state team.

Figuring strongly in this group but probably as a defensive specialist, is Paul D'Eramo from Youngstown, O.

Wally Roberts GOING UP 'CURTAIN

By BOB WALL
 Drama Critic

Merely talking to Miss Niki Flacks, an apprentice with the Minnesota Theater Company at the Guthrie Theater, is an exhilarating experience. Niki scintillates. She radiates charm and poise.

Her dark, tousled hair swirls and shakes as she dramatically stresses a point. Hands dart to and fro adding an emphatic glow to her vivacious discussion of a question.

Miss Flacks for all her 22 years speaks with the authority of a veteran actress. Her dark eyes sparkled and shone brightly in the Guthrie green room where we talked between shows.

"Last time I saw you was at the Wayne State Classic Theater during the 1963-64 season. You played Juliet and garnered a bushel-basket of wonderful notices. What happened after that?" I cautiously asked.

Nicki's brow shot up slightly. It seemed I might have hit a sore subject.

"My experience with the Classic Theater in Detroit was interesting," Nicki stopped and almost did a James Bond over-the-shoulder quick look back. "You must know by now that horrible story of how Mr. Leone promised three of us the part of Juliet."

"I've heard various versions." For the next 10 minutes Nicki told of a frantic phone call to the Northwestern University campus where she was finishing up her degree. Dr. Leone wanted her to drop everything and come over to Detroit for an audition.

The audition was a breeze. Miss Flacks was informed on the spot she had the part.

Of course, hardly had Niki unpacked her bags in the fall when she was informed by Dr. Leone that she would be sharing the role with not ONE . . . but two other JULIETS! Such wild casting shock the foundation blocks of old Bill Shakespeare's crypt.

Nicki took the news stoically. She opened the Classic Theater with a brilliant performance as Juliet. All the critics agreed she was the one redeeming feature in a rather dull production of "R. and J."

"Did such crazy casting policies make you decide to send your application to the Minnesota Theater Company?"

"I'm not sure. The Wayne State approach in their Classic Theater where you have to be continually doing graduate course work while you act is not a happy situation. I guess I just wanted to try for a more professional company."

The McNight Fellowship program at the Guthrie was explained by Niki. You are still, in a sense, an apprentice and taking graduate work at the University of Minnesota. Big difference is you take all your graduate work in the fall. When rehearsals begin in February, you leave the University and concentrate on the five plays.

And, of course, the largest difference is that the Minnesota Theater Company is 100 per cent professional. You have an opportunity to appear with Broadway folks that have left the main stem for the refreshing, artistic climate of the classic repertory theater.

Nicki fairly bubbled over as she pointed out, "To work with Dr. Guthrie, Douglas Campbell, and Edward Call all directors of such magnificent stature is marvelous. Being a part of the Minnesota Theater Company is a beginning actress' dream. I'm only 22 and already I've had a million wonderful opportunities."

"What about next year?" "We don't find out until October," Niki quickly switched away from such a delicate subject by asking, "Did you recognize me in 'Way of the World?'"

"Yes, you were delightful in all three of your roles. The stupid maid role with Jessica Tandy brings down the house. It's a marvelous low comedy bit."

"Thank you I so enjoy doing that role. I'm a maid in the 'Caucasian Chalk Circle.' Will you be seeing it?"

As soon as we moved away from the productions themselves and began to discuss her earlier training at Northwestern University, the interview format disappeared. Old Wally attended N.U. back some years ago. The interview became a "Mutual Admiration Society" meeting. You would have thought Niki and I were classmates to hear us chatter.

All too soon the rehearsal call came for her. I left the dressing room with the feeling the theatrical world will see more of Niki Flacks.

Give her a couple more years at the Guthrie Theater for seasoning and then Mr. Broadway Producer you'd better take a trip to Minneapolis. This vibrant, ebony-eyed beauty fairly bursts with talent and her name right now is Niki Flacks.

Dewline . . . by John Dew

As the cliché sometimes reads, an introduction is in order. Briefly, this is a column with news from radio, TV, and the music business. If you have any questions, comments, or suggestions, they would be welcomed.

Detroit radio of late has undergone more changes than a new-born baby. Fred Wolf has announced his retirement as Detroit's top morning personality after 15 years of "percolatin' pleasure". Marc Avery steps into the "really big shoe" beginning September 6. Thus ends a legacy, and perhaps begins a new one.

The latest line-up at WKNR will read Dick Purton to 9 a.m., Ted Clark to noon, Jerry Goodwyn till 3, Bob Green to 7, Scott Regan till 10 p.m., J. Michael Wilson to 1 a.m., and Jim Jeffries on the all-night show. This leaves Bob Green as the only D.J. who was a member of the original staff when the station changed from WKMJ to WKNR.

The "Detroit Sound" is now famous of course, around the world, but it's always surprising at the tremendous respect and reputation Detroit has gained as a result of the success of Berry Gordy and his Tamla-Motown organization. For example, Peter Noone (Herman of Herman's Hermits) visited the Gordy studios on West Grand Boulevard recently and said that he had never realized that Detroit was a city noted for its automobile manufacturing. It seems that most English performers believe that the city is known for its music production.

Speaking of Motown performers, the Supremes just closed a tremendously successful booking at the Copa in New York. They played before sell-out crowds every night and received standing ovations from audiences which included Ed Sullivan

Woodward Ave. History Told in Exhibit

A panoramic display of photographs and artifacts depicting the history of Woodward Avenue will be on view at the University of Detroit Library Aug. 30 to Oct. 10 on the U. of D. McNichols Road campus.

Included in the display is a copy of the original city plan drawn up by Judge Augustus Woodward in 1806 after the great fire of 1805 had completely destroyed the city. Photographs will cover the period from 1850 to 1965. 1805 to 1850 will be represented with maps, prints, signs, candle molds, bed warmers, lamps and other artifacts of the period.

"What we actually have here," says Gerald Ducharme, U. of D. student assistant, "is an exhibition on the history of the City of Detroit, for a street is only the artery in the body of a city."

Ducharme, a senior English major in the U. of D. College of Arts and Sciences, spent most of his summer gathering and organizing the display.

"What we have done," he says, "is attempt to present pictures and artifacts from the different times in the life of Woodward Avenue to give the viewer a better idea of what his city looked like in its different phases of growth."

There is no admission charge. The U. of D. Library is open Monday through Thursday 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Friday 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sammy Davis Jr. Sullivan has signed them for appearances on his show this fall.

A belated hello and welcome back to Paul Winter who can be found on WERB in Garden City daily. He has returned to the area from a year's stay in Boston.

"Where the Action Is", the popular TVer goes to a 4:30 Monday through Friday schedule in September on Channel 7. We have no word yet on Lee Alan's show, "The Swingin' Kind" yet. Apparently the acceptance to the show was tremendous and the possibility remains strong for the show going nationally.

Jim Hampton, a recent graduate of Farmington High is doing an extremely successful radio show at WAMM in Flint. He goes under the name of Jim Taylor. Look for him to move to the Detroit market soon.

Wally Roberts GOING UP 'CURTAIN

By WALLY ROBERTS "Pickwick," the British musical, at the Fisher, has charm, warmth, and occasionally many funny moments. Biggest problem with this expensively-mounted import is that it is so very, very British.

For years folks have indicated that there might be a difference in the British sense of humor and the American comic manner. After seeing "Pickwick," old Wally realizes such a difference exists. The differences surely must be in the amount of humor necessary to make a person laugh.

In "Pickwick" the humor is laid on broadly with a trowel. If you don't get it the first time, they will repeat it until you do. The British are known for their reserve their reluctant nature, their sense of dignity. To make them laugh is usually quiet a task.

Consequently, Harry Secombe in the lead part of Sam Pickwick works so hard most of the evening that as far as old Wally was concerned many comic situations became oh... so weary.

You might gather from these disparaging remarks that "Pickwick" is a great bore. Not at all. "Pickwick" does have that charm I mentioned earlier. It is beautifully costumed, scenery swings in and around with great ease, dancers float through the air with the greatest of ease, and Harry Secombe does "If I Rule the World" magnificently.

The courtroom scene and the bedroom scene will give "Pickwick" a fighting chance on Broadway. These two scenes are mad, active fun. They tend to run a bit long. If five minutes were cut out of each, I'd say they would be just right for the Broadway crowd.

The heavy hand of Peter Coe, the director, and star Harry Secombe are too evident in those two delightful scenes. Both of these talented gentlemen need to realize that their creative work can stand some curbing.

Earlier this month I compared "Pickwick" to "Oliver," the first successful Dickens musical. Most of the same back-of-the-scenes people worked on both shows. Old Wally found "Pickwick" to be the more enjoyable show, but at the same time I would hasten to add that the audience at the Fisher did not reflect my taste. They appeared to be "lost" much of the time. The English accent is thicker in "Pickwick." The cute children found in "Oliver" are missing.

The musical score of "Oliver" contained more memorable music. "I'll Never Be Lonely Again," the big ballad in "Pickwick," goes nowhere. "A Bit Of A Character" is an excellent patter song done by a most likeable character called Jingles. Anton Rodgers dances the song. It's really his execution of the song that makes it seem great. Once you leave the theater, you forget it completely.

In fact, if it weren't for "If I Ruled the World," "Pickwick" would not have any songs worth recalling.

Yet when you see the show, you are convinced that these numbers aren't too bad. The skill of the performers, the director, and the musical arranger have all worked long hard hours making "Pickwick" appear better than it really is.

Three performers (Harry Secombe, Roy Castle, and Charlotte Rae) make "Pickwick" a passable evening at the Fisher. Harry is a veteran music hall performer. He can work an audience until they laugh at some of his lines drab as they may be. Roy Castle is a great dancer. Charlotte Rae is a top-flight comic.

This trio could recite the Funk and Wagnalls Dictionary and make it seem exciting. Given a little help from Charles Dickens, Cyril Orndel and Leslie Bricusse who wrote the words and music, and Wolf Mankowitz who gave them some funny lines at times these talented performers provided an acceptable show. At least, for old Wally.

Lionel Bart who did the music and lyrics for "Oliver" would have nothing to do with "Pickwick." He is represented in London at present by "Maggie May," a risque musical about a prostitute with a heart of gold (what else?). Oh, yes, his "Oliver" is still running in London. It is now in its sixth year.

"Pickwick" closed in London after only a run of 18 months. Many of the original cast are in the production at the Fisher. Maybe "Pickwick" was even too much at the time even for the jolly old England.

Well, tallyho, and all that rot, old bean, as we say when something so terribly British comes to town.

You will have to judge "Pickwick" on your own. As you can see old Wally is pretty well mixed-up. A critic who equivocates can be a real problem at times.

Clover Mites Are Nuisance In Summer

A common pest is the tiny, red clover mite that congregates by the thousands on sunny sides of the house after leaving their winter homes.

They don't do much damage but they are a nuisance, entering homes through cracks and swarming on walls and furniture.

Don't suck them up in vacuum cleaners. They are easily crushed and make unsightly stains.

To prevent infestations, spray their feeding places in grass and shrubbery near the house and outside lower walls and foundations with Kelthane or chlorobenzilate.

Indoors, use a pyrethrum spray or aerosol, which kills mites on contact. If you have caged birds or fish tanks, remove or cover them before spraying.

STARTING WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 1st "SHENANDOAH"

'Alone--Yet Together'

Ever wandered into a church — any neighborhood church—during the late afternoon on a day other than Sunday?

You'll find the cool, quiet stillness of your casually selected church fills every corner of the sanctuary. As you slowly absorb the deep silence, a joyful fullness creates an aura of well-being.

To be alone in the Lord's House places you in paradoxical situation. Apparently you seem to be outside the presence of other human beings. Yet you stand together among a host of spiritual folk.

Shadows crowd the corners of the chancel. The apostles, formless and as free as the air, stand close by to guide your unformed thoughts heavenward.

The sacred silence presses heavily on your ears. Are those voices crying out for man to stop being inhuman to man? Or is it celestial music sent to soothe the many aching hearts so filled with daily tragedy?

No harsh electric lights mar the dim interior. The cross on the altar half-hidden from the fading afternoon sun looms majestically and fairly shouts the lesson of sacrifice so often told in far too many hollow words.

Yes, walk into a church—of any faith—some hot, summer afternoon. You'll discover the brief visit strengthens the soul and bolsters one's spirit incredibly.

C. C. Coonce, local presiding minister of Jehovah's witnesses, just returned from a four-day Bible convention held in Buffalo, N.Y., which ended Sunday evening.

"The convention high point," he went on, "was the talk given Sunday afternoon by the Vice-President of the Watchtower Bible & Tract Society, F. W. Franz, 'World Government on the Shoulder of the Prince of Peace.'"

Ascension Lutheran Expands Services

On Sunday, Aug. 15, Ascension Lutheran Church observed the Second Anniversary of the First Worship Service in this new church at 35301 Five Mile Road in Livonia.

There was not even the smallest nucleus of actual "members" at that time. Now after two years of services, and after a year and a half since the official organization of the congregation, which took place March 13, 1964, Ascension Lutheran Church has almost 400 members, of which more than 200 are confirmed, representing just over 100 homes.

Another Worship Service is being added Sept. 5. The new

Dynavoice Piano Player Has International Impact

Although in production only since January, the Dynavoice Portable Piano Player—located on Northville Road in Plymouth Township—already is making its impact on an international level.

That was the announcement of President Paul Richards who told of shipments to 47 of the 50 states and into most of the provinces of Canada.

UNCAPPED WELL spews flammable gas high in the air in Plymouth Township and forced officials to order the evacuation of 25 families in the Shearer Drive-Sheldon Road area last Wednesday. It took all night before the well was capped and the families could return. Borne on high winds the flammable mixture coated houses as far as half-mile away. Fire departments from Plymouth Township, Salem, Northville city and township and Canton Township stood by while workers finally capped the well.

"We have more than 2,000 of the portable devices in the hands of dealers and customers throughout the United States and part of Canada," said Richards. "We delayed shipments into foreign countries and even delayed aggressive marketing efforts in this country until we were sure, through field testing, that the Dynavoice was perfected."

The device, which makes a player piano out of any standard size piano, was on the planning boards for two years and experimented with for another year before finally receiving approval of Richards and his associates.

He indicated that orders and inquiries are pouring in from such distant lands as Japan, Australia, New Zealand, India, Costa Rica, Venezuela, Chile, England, Holland, France, West Germany, Italy and from distant South Africa.

"We are ready to start building an aggressive marketing organization to fill the demand in foreign cities," he said. "We expect to select and train numerous franchised distributors in the United States in the next few months."

"There are several large foreign markets for our product. The piano is the most popular musical instrument in homes throughout the world. Two of the largest piano factories in Japan are reported to be larger than any in this country."

Dynavoice has received favorable comment from the news media and arrangements have been made for a CBS network show this fall that will tell the "Plymouth Dynavoice Story."

PRINCIPAL CARVEL BENTLEY, of Plymouth High School, greets more than 125 newcomers in the third and last of a series of orientation programs. The series was aimed to give new students a chance to tour the facilities, learn of the school's curriculum and to get acquainted with their new home for the next nine months. Bentley was assisted by Assistant Principal John Hoben and Counselor James Doyle.

Post Office To Offer Unusual Xmas Stamp

A bit of quaint Americana will be captured on the 1965 Christmas postage stamp. Postmaster General John A. Gronouski announced the 5-cent stamp will reproduce an early 19th Century New England weathervane that depicts Gabriel blowing his horn.

The stamp will be issued in November with first day of ceremonies at a time and place to be announced later. An initial printing of 1,200,000,000 has been ordered.

This is the fourth in the series of special stamps intended for use during the holiday season. The three earlier issues were best sellers.

The Gabriel weathervane stamp is based on a watercolor by Boston Artist Lucille Gloria Chabot, painted in 1939, and is part of the Index of American Design, housed in the National Gallery of Art, Washington, D.C.

The Index consists of some 17,000 watercolors that record American industrial design and folk arts from roughly 1700 to 1900. It was compiled by artists commissioned by the Works Progress Administration, the government agency of the depression years.

The Gabriel weathervane is about five feet high and combines a tubular copper horn with a gilded iron figure. It was fabricated in 1840 by Gould and Hazlett, of Boston, Mass., a fact that came to light years later when a paper stuffed into the horn was discovered by workers refurbishing the weathervane.

The Christmas stamp will be printed on the Glori press in red, green and yellow. Red and yellow will be blended on Gabriel's horn for a burnished copper effect. A patina of green on portions of a yellow Gabriel gives the weathervane appearance.

At the top of the stamp, in red, is "5c U.S. Postage," and at the bottom, also in red, is "Christmas."

It is a horizontal stamp 0.75 by 0.87 and will be issued in panes of 100.

Robert Jones designed the stamp. It was modelled by Howard C. Mildner. Engravers are: Charles A. Brooks (vignette) and Howard F. Sharpless (lettering and numeral), of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

The Archangel Gabriel appears in the literature of Moslems, Jews and Christians.

Parking Problem

(Continued from Page 1) answer. It would provide funds for the future, wouldn't work much of a financial hardship on the participating merchants or those customers who would have to shell out five or 10 cents if they parked and didn't shop.

"We have to do something to relieve the situation. There is too much of the day-long parking by employees who just refuse to listen to any requests to park elsewhere. We at the National Bank issue memorandums about every three months telling our employees to use other lots but I can tell you it doesn't have the desired effect."

After considerable discussion of the pros and cons, the Commission decided to follow a recommendation of Commissioner Hudson that a DPW crew be sent to the lot from 7 to 9 a.m. on two mornings in mid-September to sweep out the lot.

None will be admitted to the lot during this time and the Commission hopes to get some idea of where the day-long parkers will place their cars. Then they plan another meeting in late September to make a final decision on the perplexing problem.

Rap Apartment Plans

(Continued from Page 1) the Commission voted to have a public hearing on the proposal and request at the September meeting.

Theodore Brown, who aspires to build a convalescent home on an 8.76 acre site on N. Territorial near Ridge, will have an opportunity to present his case a second time. The Commission approved a public hearing at the September meeting, making a total of four listed on that agenda.

Robert Wedler, who was turned down in his attempts to receive C-2 zoning for a site at the southeast corner of Haggerty and Ann Arbor Roads where he planned to build a bowling establishment and a small shopping center, returned before the Commission to request C-1 rezoning for the same site.

At first the Commission was in a mood to deny the request since a year hasn't elapsed since the denial, but later the members tabled action until they receive an opinion from Township attorney Earl Demel as to whether year ruling holds true in this instance.

Application for rezoning of land in Schoolcraft Manor by Mel Lake and by Mrs. Albert Williams for permission to divide a lot on Clemons Drive, were tabled for lack of representation by either party.

The Commission slated a special meeting on Sept. 1 at 8 p.m. to consider the Township's 701 program.

DPW FACTS

The past week found the Department of Public Works busy with sweeping the business district and the section bounded by Main to M-14 and Mill to Sheldon. The moving of vacant property was continued.

There were two funerals conducted at the Riverside Cemetery and the grass was mowed and stones and markers were trimmed around. Grass was mowed and regular work was done at the parks and playgrounds and around the city hall. Work was done on the street at the intersection of Hamilton and Roe and two water gates were built north of Roe. A water service was repaired at 236 E. Ann Arbor Trail.

Work was done on traffic control including installation of new signs at various locations throughout the city.

Tree trunks were picked up throughout the city. These were the remains of Dutch Elm diseased city owned trees that had been cut down by the Health Tree Service Company.

Chrysler Arms to Get Bigger Share

BOSTON—Chrysler Corporation is spending $300 million to bring out its new models in a bid for a larger share of a continued strong car market in 1966, according to Lynn A. Townsend.

The Chrysler president also predicted an era of stable growth for the automobile industry for the years ahead in an address before 300 newsmen from all sections of the country, gathered here to preview the 1966 model Plymouth, Dodge Chrysler and Imperial cars.

"All the potentials are there to make the next 10 years a golden age for our industry," he said.

In the matter of safety he said he expected to see "more progress in highway safety during the next 10 years than has been accomplished in the 20 years since the end of World War II." Townsend revealed that the company's 1966 models will be available with 16 of the 17 requirements established by the General Services Administration for 1967 models purchased by the federal government.

Vivian Praises New GI Bill

BY CONGRESSMAN WESTON E. VIVIAN

S. 9, The Cold War Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act has passed the United States Senate and is now before the House Veterans Affairs Committee for consideration. The bill establishes a program of readjustment assistance for veterans who serve on active military duty between January 31, 1955 and July 1, 1965. It requires 180 days of active service for participation in the program (disability cases excepted).

The program includes education and training (including farm training), home and farm loans. It would provide monthly payments for education and training of $130 for veterans with more than one dependent. The bill fixes standards of compliance for educational institutions and participating veterans.

The World War II "G.I. Bill of Rights" was, in my opinion, one of the most significant pieces of legislation enacted during the past two decades. The aid the G.I. Bill gave to millions of veterans had a tremendously beneficial impact on the successful readjustment which the entire economy made, at the termination of hostilities. Similar legislation was enacted to benefit the veterans of the Korean conflict.

As one of the World War II veterans who benefited from the G.I. Bill, I am personally aware of the value of this kind of legislation. My own professional career was aided by the educational benefits available under the legislation.

I personally doubt whether I could have achieved a doctoral degree, without the initial boost of G.I. Bill benefits.

Today, we are reminded daily of the sacrifices which our servicemen are making in Vietnam. I support the provisions of educational and other benefits for these men, comparable to those provided earlier for our other veterans.

Moreover, I believe that it would be wise, as well as beneficial for our Nation, to provide educational benefits for all veterans, whose education was interrupted by military service — including service not in a war theater.

Past experience has shown that the benefits to the Nation as a whole far outweigh the small cost of providing G.I. Bill allowances to veterans. A good case could even be made for the thesis that the increased earning power of veterans who receive training under G.I. Bill legislation actually generates more federal tax receipts than the total cost of the program.

We fuss a lot!

Some mothers say Kinney makes too big a fuss over fitting children's shoes!

Our 71 years experience tells us we don't!

Sure we fuss a lot about fitting children's shoes. But we know, you, as parents wouldn't have it any other way. We measure both feet separately from heel to toe, then recheck for perfect fit. We call it our "Certifit Program." Of course, we fuss a lot about quality too. Shoes like our Nationally Advertised Educator Royals are the shoes people talk about when they say "They're out grown before they're out worn." Of course, that's because we give top craftsmen the finest materials to work with. So come on in and see the most complete selection of back-to-school shoes ever.
