Four Days of Exciting Events Start Thursday

See 50,000 Attending Fall Festival

More than 50,000 are expected to pour into the City of Plymouth, starting Thursday and continuing through Sunday, for the annual colorful Fall Festival. The traditional event officially opens Thursday when the Business and Professional Women's Club sponsor an old-fashioned German dinner in Kellogg Park, complete with knackwurst, sauerkraut and all of the trimmings that go with it.

Serving will begin at 4 and continue through 9 p.m. and the Fall Festival will be off to what officials feel will be the most successful program in annals. From the moment the first knackwurst is served until the final barbecued chicken is handed out at Kellogg Park on Sunday evening by a member of the Rotary Club, the city will be humming with activities. Officials predict some 2,000 will partake of the German dinner; more than 1,500 will take advantage of the Lions' Club ice cream and melon social Friday from 4 to 9 p.m. in Kellogg Park; an estimated 1,800 will eat pancakes and sausage at the Pancake Festival sponsored by the Kiwanis Club all day Saturday in the Masonic Temple; and then the big event of the four days, the Rotary Club barbecue chicken dinner Sunday is expected to attract as many as 15,000 diners during the hours of noon to 6 p.m. The Rotary Club barbecue was the nucleus of the Festival several years ago and the scope of the affair was expanded through the years to a four-day event with all clubs participating. There isn't any question but that more clubs are planning more things this year than ever before. (Continued on Page 19A)

It's Festival Time Again

FAMILIAR SCENES will be repeated during the four days of the annual Fall Festival. Fighting smoke, heat and high temperatures are members of the Rotary Club and volunteers as they prepare chicken for the barbecue dinners that highlight the big event on the closing Sunday.

WHO'S FOR ICE CREAM? Members of the Lions Club, gaily togged in striped jackets and straw hats, will have the answers for that question Friday in their ice cream-melon social—one of the highspots of the Festival.

FLIPPING PANCAKES are members of the Kiwanis Club who annually serve more than 1,500 at the Pancake Festival all day Saturday in the Masonic Temple. This shows the kitchen staff buzzing with activity.

Spiraling Services Result in Record Budget

Community Fund Sets '65 Goal $86,083

With costs spiraling and demands for service greater than ever, the Plymouth Community Fund Board has set its sights on the greatest drive in history with an all-time high goal of $86,083. That was the decision of the directors after a series of meetings during which heads of the various agencies were asked to present their 1965 requests and then appear before the committee for explanations. The Board set the dates of Oct. 11 through Nov. 4 for the annual fund raising drive and then announced the 1965 budget.

et and goal which is seven per cent higher than that of a year ago.

PCF President Frank Palmer and Campaign Manager John Kamego pointed out that this year's goal includes $2,500 for operations — an item that was not included in last year's quota of $78,560. "This accounts for part of the increase," they pointed out. "However, the Board, after reviewing all requests, granted several hikes, trimmed one item where the allotment wasn't being used and finally set the 1965 goal at the announced figure."

"We realize this is a tremendous job," said Kamego, area manager for Michigan Bell. "But the Plymouth Community has a reputation of doing its best when the odds are the greatest, we feel the story will follow that traditional pattern."

Kamego plans to call a meeting of all division leaders and team captains within a few days to start the preliminary plans for the campaign. Several division leaders have yet to be contacted as to their availability and Kamego doesn't expect to start the early work until he has received approval of appointments from all.

The breakdown of the 1965 budget shows the Huron Valley Girl Scouts received a boost of $500 from the $4,500 of a year ago. Other increases were Michigan Cancer Foundation from $4,020 to $4,075; Veterans Memorial Association from $2,000 to $2,500; Salvation Army from $9,000 to $10,000 for the smaller boosts.

The controversial Family Service Bureau, which reportedly will become a Plymouth agency and sever all connections with the Ann Arbor Family Service Bureau was granted a hike from $17,840 to $19,926, almost 25 per cent of the entire goal, and the YMCA had its grant boosted from $8,000 to $10,000.

The complete breakdown of the budget:

American Red Cross	$ 4,500
Boy Scouts	$ 6,000
Girl Scouts	$ 5,500
Plymouth Dental Fund	$ 1,000
Michigan Cancer Foundation	$ 4,075
Senior Citizens Club	$ 780
Veterans Memorial Foundation	$ 2,500
Visiting Nurses Association	$ 5,000
Salvation Army	$10,000
Family Service Bureau	$19,926
NW Child Guidance Clinic (Grant)	$ 1,400
Plymouth Symphony Society	$ 2,000
Y.M.C.A. (Grant)	$10,000
15 per cent to UF	$10,902
Operating expenses	$ 2,500
Total	$86,083

800 Cars for Four Railroads

Evans Gets Order For $15 Million

With the backlog of orders for railroad equipment and cars at an all-time high, Evans Products Co. Tuesday announced receipt of an order for 800 freight cars from four railroads at an estimated cost of $15 million. The announcement was made by Vice President and General Manager James Conway of the Transportation Equipment Division in Plymouth. He indicated it was the largest order since the plant expansion more than a year ago.

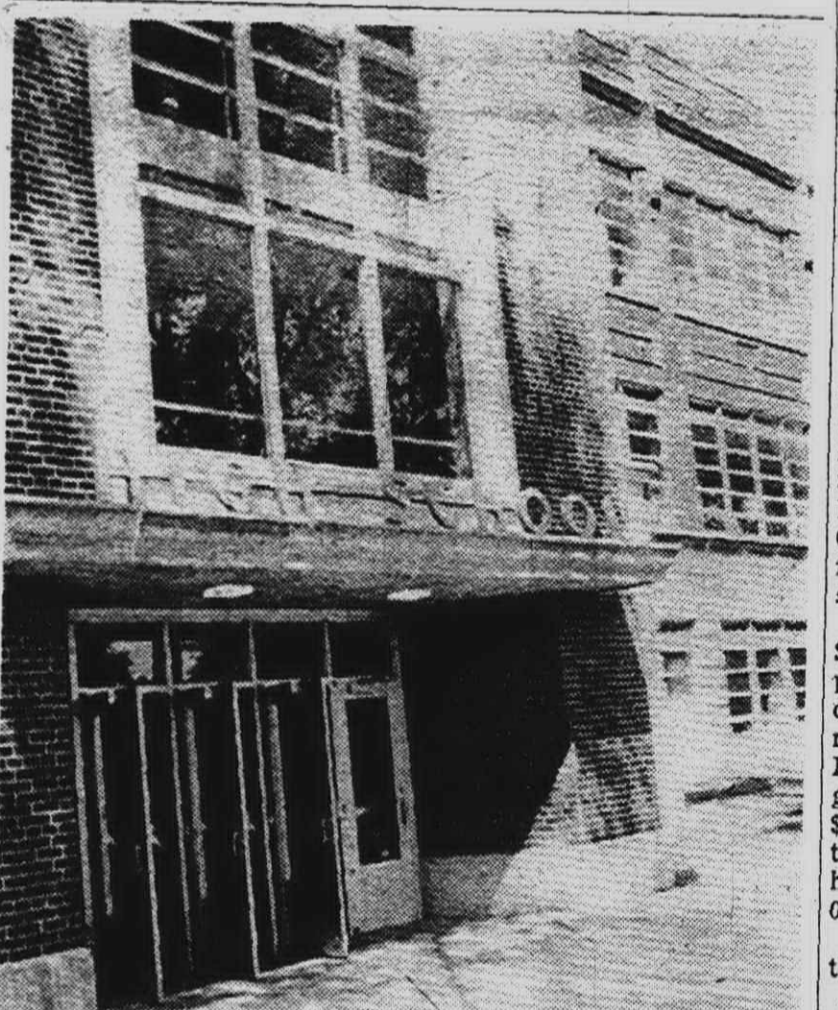

automotive equipment, material handling and shipping containers in its plants in Grand Rapids, and Gagetown, Mich. and in Annapolis, Md. Conway pointed out that Evans sales will be in excess of $200 million this year compared to $117 million in 1962. The corporation's earnings have climbed from 79 cents per share in 1962 to $3.70 in 1964 and to $1.93 for the first six months of 1965 compared to $1.46 for the same period in 1964.

"The previous high for orders at one time was 700," said Conway. "At the moment the Plymouth division has a backlog of more than $30 million, more than 10 times the backlog in 1962."

The big order includes 500 insulated box cars for the Union Pacific Railroad. The 50-foot, 70-ton cars will be insulated and equipped with Evans DF-2 damage-prevention device which prevents load shifting in transit. Each also will be equipped with cushioned underframe and delivery is to start during the first quarter of 1966.

The remaining 300 cars for three other railroads include 100 125-ton coil steel cars, 100 100-ton coil steel cars and 100 70-ton insulated box cars equipped with Evans DFB bulkheads and sidewall fillers. These cars will also be equipped with Hydra-cushion, shock-absorbing underframes. All cars will be built at the Plymouth plant which currently has a record high payroll and employment roll.

The company recently announced a $1.5 million expansion program at the Plymouth plant, which includes the addition of a car-fabrication bay to its railroad carbuilding plant. It was completed last September. There is a rumor that Evans has an additional expansion program on the drawing boards for Plymouth and an announcement may be forthcoming in another two weeks of another 35,000 square foot addition. In addition to manufacturing railroad freight cars, Evans' Transportation Equipment Division produces rail and truck damage-prevention equipment and manufactures a variety of

Mayor Proclaims Fall Festival Week

Plymouth Mayor James Houk Monday issued a formal proclamation urging all residents of the community to join in the fun and work to make the annual Fall Festival the most successful in history.

The complete proclamation: "Whereas this Plymouth community is planning its annual Fall Festival.

"Whereas the Fall Festival brings about a spontaneous effort on the part of business, industry and residents in order to provide a memorable occasion each year.

"I hereby proclaim that the week of Sept. 9 through Sept.

12 be designated as Plymouth Community Fall Festival and urge that every citizen of this community join in the fun and work to ensure a truly enjoyable Festival for our neighbors and friends."

Water Main Extension Increases Twp. Potential

With the water main assured from the north, the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees took another step to make the western side of the community available for expansion when it approved extension of the mains on North Territorial Road west to Beck Road. This involves something like an additional 900 feet and will add $8,395 to the cost of the present water project. The original plans called for the water line to end at the Glenview subdivision on N. Territorial and the expanded plans will give the Township a complete circuit through the western side.

"We are in the process of studying plans for expansion of the Township government into that area," said Supervisor John McEwen. "And this fits into our thinking. The rapid growth of the Township has caused the Trustees to revise their thinking about expansion. We know now that we have to start moving rapidly if we hope to have our own plans completed before the growth puts us in a deep bind." In other actions at the special meeting, the Board voted to assume jurisdiction of storm sewers in the Woodbrook subdivision so that the developers

Forum Told Of City's Plans For Police, Housing

With a capacity crowd of more than 50 attending, the Plymouth Businessmen's Forum received an insight into the problems and plans of the City of Plymouth in the monthly meeting at the Mayflower Hotel. The panel included Mayor

James Houk, City Manager Richard Blodgett and Assistant City Manager Kenneth Fisher with Commissioners James Jabara, Robert Smith, George Hudson and James McKeon also attending. Blodgett told of the problems facing the Police Department where he admitted the salary situation has been a bit pressing but that he is working on a presentation he hopes will be acceptable to the Policemen and the City Commission.

"Plymouth is in the same situation as most communities in Michigan," he said. "There are plenty of jobs available now that pay much more than the salary schedule of the Police Department and we face the loss of many of our veteran officers unless we make an adjustment. We are working on it and hope to have the presentation ready within another week or so."

Blodgett told the Forum he thought the Police Department, which includes 11 men, is doing an excellent job in handling the crime and juvenile situation in the city.

"There have been some complaints," he said. "But I feel the men have done an excellent job. It just isn't possible to have men at every section of the city every hour of the day and night. We try to do our best and I think it has worked out very well."

Blodgett indicated a study is also being made to determine whether the Department has an adequate force. He pointed out that he thought Plymouth should start thinking of an Auxiliary Police group that could give assistance at the high school functions, public gatherings and other events that generally have all of the men centered at one place.

"An auxiliary force that would be composed of volunteers could go far in solving many of the problems we face," he said. "For instance we could use as many volunteers as signed up during the Fall Festival, the (Continued on Page 19A)

Ed Draugelis Resigns As City Attorney

Plymouth's City Commissioners knew the day would come when they would have to start looking for a successor for City Attorney Edward Draugelis who was recently elected Municipal Judge and will have to resign from the City Attorney post before taking office as a judge.

The day arrived Tuesday night when Draugelis turned in his letter of resignation effective the first week in November.

Draugelis indicated he will work with the Commission, if it desires, in seeking a successor and will devote the time between now and the effective date of the resignation in training and working with any man the Commission names.

The provisions of the City Charter provide that the City Attorney must be a resident of the City—thus the Commission plans to scan the available talent during the next week or so before making a decision.

Draugelis will succeed Harry Deyo as Municipal Judge. Deyo didn't run for re-election since he is already at the mandatory retirement age as set up by the state statutes.

Urges Warning to Children

Livonia Traffic Bureau Head Offers Safety Tips to Parents

School bells will be ringing shortly for more than 30,000 Livonia youngsters, whose lives will be in the hands of the automobile drivers who travel the city's streets daily.

"We are striving for a back-to-school period this year without one serious traffic accident involving a child," said Lieutenant Robert L. Mitchell of the Livonia Traffic Bureau.

"This will be difficult because hundreds of children will be going to school for the first time and will be unfamiliar with crossing busy streets."

The Livonia Police Department offers the following advice for parents and children. Lt. Mitchell stated, "Parents should take their kindergarten children to school the first few days, instructing them as to what route to travel and emphasizing that they must always stop at the curb and look for cars before crossing the street. They should also remind older children of these same precautions.

"Parents should instruct their youngsters, young and old, kindergarten, eighth grader or high schooler, always to obey the safety patrol boys and school crossing guards, if there happens to be one or more assigned to a crossing they use.

This is a necessary safety precaution for little children. If older children disregard the directions given them, they set a bad example for their younger brothers and sisters.

"Children should take the same route to and from school each day. Most schools have the safest routes all laid out for children.

"The youngsters should not only follow the direction of the Safety Patrol Boys, but they should go right home after school and check in with their mothers. They should stop at the curb and look both ways before crossing," he added.

Ronald Stempien Eyes Nomination for Judgeship

Ronald R. Stempien, widely known in state and county government circles, hopes to capture one of eight nominations in Tuesday's county-wide election of circuit judges.

Stempien, a veteran downriver attorney who is serving his third consecutive term as the mayor of Lincoln Park, is expected to finish high on the list of nominees in the hotly contested race. His bid for a judgeship is strongly endorsed by labor and civic groups alike.

Music Combos Compete at Wonderland

More than a dozen young musical groups will begin competing Saturday for a $100 grand prize in Wonderland Center's second annual Combo contest.

The lively rock-and-rollers will compete in a first-round elimination contest beginning at 12:30 p.m. All competition will be held on the Wonderland hand stage, near Robinson Furniture.

The contestants, all from the northwest suburban area, range in ages 13 through 21. Included is an all-girl combo.

The complete list of entries: Royal Shandels, Capries, Montrey's, Beatmakers, Wanderers, Cavaliers, The Wanderers V, The Twilighters, Musell Accordion Quintet, Blue Tempos, Royal Coachmen and Shades.

Backed by 10 years' experience in city government and community projects, Stempien has gained wide recognition in state and county affairs. A member of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, the 36-year-old U of M graduate has played a key role in shaping county government procedures.

Following two years' service in the Navy, Stempien plunged into civic affairs in 1950. In his first bid for public office, he was elected to the Lincoln Park city council in 1959.

Stempien, who has six children, campaigned successfully for Mayor in 1961, a position he has held ever since.

Stempien received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Michigan and law degree from the Detroit College of Law.

Prior to moving to Lincoln Park, he resided in Dearborn, where he attended St. Alphonsus High School.

Two Sessions Thursday At Madonna College 200 Register for Workshop

With a registration of almost 200, the first annual Observer Newspapers publicity workshop promises to be one of the most successful ever attempted in the area.

The two-session workshop is scheduled for Thursday afternoon and evening at Madonna College in the new cafeteria, which was opened for use for the first time last fall.

Madonna College is located at the intersection of Levan and Schoolcraft roads in Livonia and the entrance recommended is that off Levan Road which leads into the parking lot closest to the dormitory-cafeteria building.

The sessions will start at 1 p.m. and 8 p.m. Each will be followed by a social period during which donuts and coffee will be served.

During the sessions, the Observer staff will attempt to make publicity people more proficient in their work and also establish a style that will make the job easier for all.

Mrs. Myra Chandler, president and publisher of the Observer Newspapers Inc., women's editor and director of the editorial page, will serve as master of ceremonies and give a short address of welcome to open each session.

She will be assisted by Managing Editor R. T. Thompson and editors of the various newspapers in the Observer chain, David Elsila of Livonia and Redford, William Gail of Garden City and Nankin, Allen Rosenfeld of Farmington, Church and Entertainment Editor Sue Shaughnessy and Paul Lutzner, director of public relations for the Livonia Board of Education.

Thompson and Lutzner will have charge of the photographic panels in which they will explain the types of pictures that are and are not acceptable to the Observer Newspapers.

Mrs. Chandler will explain the basic reasons for the workshop and Elsila will show movies and slides of the operations of a newspaper from the time a story is submitted until the presses start to roll.

Then the workshop will break down into discussion groups at which the various phases of publicity work will be discussed. Following the group meetings, those in attendance will convene for a question and answer session at which all members of the staff will be present to participate.

The afternoon session will start at 1 and continue until 3:30 and the evening program will begin at 8 and continue through 9:30.

Registrations will be accepted at the door for each session and all club, church, PTA, school or other types of publicity workers are urged to attend.

Eight Local Men Seek Places On Circuit Bench in Tuesday's Vote

Eight candidates from western Wayne County will be among 46 names on the ballot next Tuesday when voters go to the polls to nominate candidates for vacancies on the Wayne County Circuit Court.

A light turnout is forecast in most of the communities in The Observer's circulation area. Polls will open in Livonia, Redford Township, Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Garden City and Nankin Township at 7 a.m. and stay open to 8 p.m. Most of the communities will use voting machines to expedite the tallying.

On the primary ballot, voters may vote for no more than four names. The eight top vote-getters will then compete in November's general election for the four vacancies on the Circuit Court. Terms of those elected will expire Jan. 1, 1971.

Among the local candidates, listed alphabetically, are:

- MICHAEL W. BRADLEY, 36, 31975 Cowan, Nankin Twp., a Justice of the Peace in Nankin Township since 1955, an attorney for six years, and a graduate of the University of Detroit with Ph.B. and LL.B. degrees;

Juror Starts Probe Of Ticket Fixing

One-man grand juror Edward S. Piggins starts in earnest this week to dig into the welter of material connected with the Wayne County Sheriff's Dept. ticket fixing scandal and to begin hearings to determine if there has been wrong-doing as has been alleged.

A Wayne Circuit Judge, Piggins was chosen Aug. 31 by his colleagues to conduct the probe after Attorney General Frank J. Kelley presented his petition for the grand jury.

County officials have estimated the cost of conducting the jury will be $50,000.

Piggins has notified all municipal judges and justices of the peace in Wayne County to turn over to him all the tickets they have voided since 1961.

The judge discussed organization procedures Friday with Kelley and with State Commissioner Frederick Davids of Plymouth.

In his petition for the jury, Kelley said he had information of "alleged wholesale voiding and fixing of traffic violation summonses by certain officers and employees of the Sheriff of the County of Wayne and it is common knowledge that thousands of traffic violation summonses have been voided and fixed by certain officers and employees of the Sheriff of the County of Wayne, contrary to law."

He noted also that he had "information and belief that certain persons have paid money and other valuable consideration for the act of voiding and fixing traffic violation summonses by certain officers and employees of the Sheriff of the County of Wayne," between 1961 and 1965.

Suburban School Leaders Slate Education Study

Suburban school superintendents, board trustees, and other state educational leaders will converge at Cobo Hall in Detroit next week as the Michigan Association of School Administrators and the Michigan Association of School Boards meet in their third joint convention.

Theme of the conference, which is set for September 14, 15, and 16, is "Education—Whose Responsibility?"

Presiding at the general MASA-MASB joint session at 10:30 Wednesday morning will be Superintendent Benton Yates, of Livonia, who as 1964-65 president of the school superintendents association has been active in conferring with Governor Romney, Lansing lawmakers, and state educational leaders in spelling out the need of public schools in Michigan.

Alexander Kloster, acting superintendent of public instruction, will make the keynote speech following a welcome by Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh.

Among the many topics up for discussion among school administrators and trustees are the relationships between boards and employees, on what schools can do for emotionally disturbed pupils, on governmental immunity, on school district reorganization, on methods of evaluating personnel, on tenure, on policy making and revision of existing policies, federal aid programs, on the use of green belts, on automation in the educational process, and other topics delineating the role of the superintendent and the school board in today's rapidly changing world.

Among metropolitan area educators and board members involved as speakers, panelists, or in other phases of the program are Mrs. Esther Hulsing and Carl Schultheiss of the Plymouth Board of Education, Superintendent D. Harlan Hudgins of Nankin Mills, Mrs. Helen Field of Highland Park, George

Schoolcraft Enrollment Climbs to 2,389 Students

Schoolcraft College last week opened its doors for classes for the second full year of operation with a total enrollment of 2,389 with the prospects that it will soar as high as 2,800 by the end of this week.

That was the announcement of President Dr. Eric Bradner after receiving preliminary enrollment figures from the Registrar's office.

"There are still students who haven't enrolled or started classes," he said. "The opening before Labor Day for the trimester plan used at Schoolcraft caught many by surprise and therefore we anticipate many more registrations for the night college courses during the next week or 10 days."

The breakdown shows 1,252 residents in the day classes and 414 non-residents. Those attending night classes include 576 residents and 147 non-residents.

The student count shows 1,666 attending day classes and 723 in the evening.

Youngsters will be able to see Booth on two occasions Saturday, from noon to 12:45 and from 2:30 to 3:15 p.m.

Juniors Form Area Grid Loop

Adult groans of "too much travel" have been removed from little league football this fall in Garden City, Nankin, Livonia and Farmington.

These communities have splintered off from the All American Football Leaguers to operate as a nine-member Western Suburban Junior Football League for the 9-to-12-year-old brand of fall athlete.

Travel was the principal reason given by officials of the new league for withdrawing to form a "neighborly" conference. The All American last fall operated with 17 member communities, reaching from Riverview on the south to St. Clair Shores on the northeast and as far west as Nankin and Livonia.

As a result, Nankin, Livonia and Garden City withdrew to form the nucleus of the new loop, and "sold" Farmington on entering a new franchise, called the "Missiles." Farmington High School field will serve as "home" for the newcomers.

Garden City also has a single member representative in the league. The Garden City Hornets will call the Legion Field their home base.

Nankin has two entrants, the Rockets and the Jets, who share Nankin Junior High as their home park. The two Nankin clubs are scheduled to meet on the final day of the season, November 7.

Livonia has five members in the league, the same as a year ago when travel imposed special problems. The Livonia Falcons, Hawks, Blue Jays, Eagles and Cardinals all will use Ford Field, with occasional hosting at Hydromatic and at least one game on the Bell Creek field.

As for additional cost, each team underwrites its own financing for uniforms, equipment, insurance, travel and game costs, so the individual member burden remains the same under either setup.

So a lot of residents and friends in the area are going to get an opportunity to buy Sanders candy—with nine clubs ringing doorbells starting Sept. 18.

Since the beginning of little football in the Detroit area, all funds for equipment, insurance and other expenses have been raised by the boys themselves in a candy sale during the last two weeks of September, actually the first two weeks of the playing season.

This year, the Western Suburban Junior Football League plans to open its financing candy sale on September 18.

L. A. Policeman Will Talk on Watts Riots

"An insight into the Los Angeles Riots" will be the topic of a talk by Michael Hannon, a Los Angeles police officer at a public meeting to be held at the Northwest Unitarian-Universalist Church on Friday, Sept. 10 at 8 p.m.

Hannon was recently suspended by the Los Angeles Police Chief William Parker as a result of his civil rights activities when off-duty.

The meeting will be co-sponsored by the Metropolitan Detroit Branch of the American Civil Liberties Union, the Detroit Chapter of Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) and by members of the Social Justice Committees of the Unitarian-Universalist Churches in the area.

The Northwest Unitarian-Universalist Church is located at 23925 Northwestern Highway in Southfield.

THE CONKLINS

DONELDA WOODWARD

Madame President

One must work to be a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club—but in order to have the time which she feels the president's office requires, Donelda Woodward has gone into what she calls semi-retirement.

This means that she has turned over her share of responsibility in the Hines Park Motel to her ever-busy husband, Burl, and is concentrating solely on management of the Burnside Lounge, which is only part of her business.

One has the feeling that with Donelda's experience in the business world and her philosophy of delegating work—giving others a job to do, and then letting them do it—that Livonia's BPW has a happy successful year ahead.

But who is this Donelda Woodward—housewife? mother? person? We visited her in a cozy little home the Woodwards have just rented as a retreat from the Hines Park Motel; a place to "come home from the office" to.

"We tried renting an apartment, but that just wouldn't do. You can't do much living in three rooms," said Donelda. "We feel very fortunate to have this place, rentals are so hard to find now."

Donelda started working when her boys were in school. "I always made my working hours fit so that I would be home when the children were home," she says. "I think it's very important for a mother to be with her children."

"I know I have a dominant personality," she adds, "and this is both good and bad. I feel you should know what you want to do—and do it. I suppose I was hard on the children at times, but they knew what they could and couldn't do."

From her first job as a cashier, she went on into bookkeeping and for a short while owned a restaurant. Her first job that placed her in a position to work with the public was in a bank. It was here that Donelda found she liked working with people.

Then about ten years ago she got into hotel work and liked it so much that she attracted another Woodward into the field—her husband. Since that time Burl and Donelda have worked as a team, each back-stopping the other.

Is motel work awfully confining? "It can be if you don't learn to delegate work," is her reply. "Burl and I can get away often now because we have competent people working for us—you have to learn how to hire help you know."

Do you hire many young people? "We used to get college students during the summer, but frankly, today's students are not dependable. I prefer married women between 45 and 50. Lately, colored people seem to be more responsible and stay with you longer."

Do you hire only experienced help? "We hire only inexperienced help. I'd rather train someone the way I want it done." Donelda went on, "I can still make a bed better and faster than anyone who works for me. There's a science to it—and we train the women how best to do it."

"I make beds the same way at home—not as fast though. You know housework," Donelda grinned, "it's always there."

In addition to her business and home life, Donelda through the years has kept an active interest in church and civic projects. The Woodwards together were president of the Fideles Class at Newburgh Methodist Church and Donelda is currently secretary of her church circle. She is membership chairman of the Historical Society and a member of Rotary Annex.

Just back from a BPW national convention in Washington, D.C., Donelda has great hopes for her club this year.

"With business women," she says, "you let them set the pace—and then just try to keep up!"

Local Buxom Belles Begin New Season

Ladies—did you lose weight once and have the pounds been creeping back, and you've just been drifting along trying to ignore it?

It's time to conclude this careless coasting; time to content yourself with, and concentrate on craving, low-calorie foods.

The Redford Figurines Chapter of Buxom Belles, International will begin its weekly meetings on Thursday evening, Sept. 16, at 7:30 p.m. in room 109 of the Lola Valley Junior High School.

Ladies of Redford Township and surrounding areas are invited to attend, sit through one of the meetings, and glance through the scrap book of "before" and "after" pictures of those who have succeeded in reaching their goals.

Further information about the club can be obtained by calling the President, Mrs. Bernice Henk, KE 4-9034 or Secretary, Mrs. Mary Schultz, KE 5-5793.

Maxine Sheldon to Open Season

"The Personal Touch" titles a talk and demonstration in self improvement to be given by Maxine Sheldon before the Brookwood Women's Club Sept. 13, at 8:30 p.m. The meeting, which opens the new club year for the women's club, will be held at the Livonia Knights Inn.

Miss Sheldon, a resident of Royal Oak, is the originator of the Maxine Sheldon Workshops in charm, fashion and visual poise. For the past several years she has taught these subjects in the Continuing Education department of the Birmingham Public Schools.

PICTURES BRING IT ALL BACK
Now that the kids are set to go back to school and the tempo of living returns to normal, you've got a chance to relax a little and think back over the summer's many pleasures. If you're like me, you've got a bunch of snapshots to help you remember.

But how about the people who shared those good times with you? If you were the only one to bring along a camera, chances are, you've got the only snapshots. One of the nicest things you can do for the people who helped you enjoy the summer would be to share some of your pictures of them with them. You don't have to give up your own prints. Bring us your negatives and we'll make duplicates. Can't find the negatives? We can make new negatives from your prints. For the little it costs, these duplicates of your snapshots can spread a lot of friendship.

Another thought... you could have us make enlargements in either color or black and white. Stash these away, then give them to your friends as Christmas gifts. If you made movies, duplicate prints of your movies also make unique and highly welcome gifts. And now is the time to plan ahead for them.

Bloodmobile Sets Date for Livonia

Over the past several years the population growth of the Northwest area—along with increased production and economic expansion has brought with it an increase in community responsibilities which must be shared by us all.

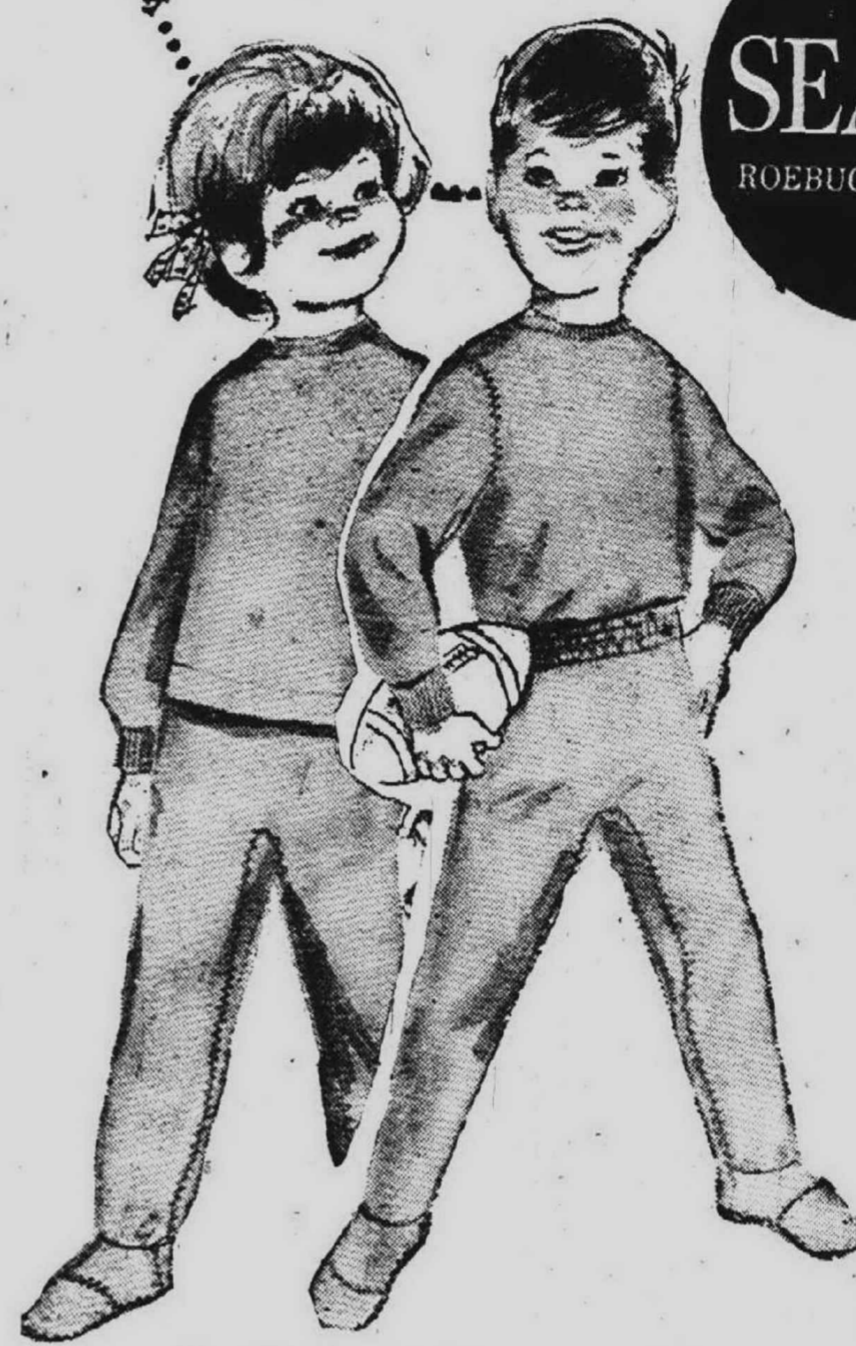

Among the more vital community services to experience an ever-increasing demand, has been the Red Cross Blood Program. As population figures become larger, the calls for blood become greater. Red Cross serves as a collecting agent for blood. Because you give, blood is available through your group account when you need it.

The bi-monthly Northwest area bloodmobile is visiting the Red Cross Office, 31228 Five Mile Road in Livonia, Thursday, Sept. 16, from 3 to 9 p.m. For an appointment to give, call 422-2787.

QUEEN OF HEARTS

Mousse Is Accented

By FAITH GILLESPIE

Before I close my Paris notebook for the time being, I have two things to do: I wish to dispel a myth, and I want to give you the recipe for my absolutely irresistible all-time favorite French dessert, Chocolate Mousse.

Let us first deal with the myth, which I call the Two-pronged Foreign Language Myth. The first prong of the problem comes from helpful people who may (or may not) have ever set foot on any foreign shores. They smile encouragingly and say, "Luckily you don't have to worry about the language, because everyone in Europe speaks English now."

Well, they did not. In the very expensive restaurants, yes. In the elegant little shops that cater to rich travellers, always. In the great hotels on tourist row, certainly. But not where I went most of the time.

When you are out on your own, you can be hard-pressed to get directions, or the time of day, or any other necessary aid from the man on the street, or from the people in the neighborhood markets and cafes. No cab driver ever understood a word I said.

So you find yourself hoist on the second prong of the hoax, which goes thus: "People in other countries just love it when you try to speak their language." Maybe some people do. But in Paris, I discovered that the people feel that theirs is a lovely language to listen to. Indeed, it is. They simply do not appreciate hearing it spoken badly, and they are very sensitive to accent.

Innocent abroad, I was determined to be as pleasant and considerate as possible, so no one would mistake me for an Ugly American. I really tried to use my French. It didn't work, ever. I finally realized how impossible my accent was when I sat down at a sidewalk cafe to order a bottle of plain tonic.

"Schweppes," I said, and he brought me a Coke.

I gave up. After that, everything was easier. I didn't annoy anyone by murdering the mother tongue, and everyone seemed to enjoy my charades.

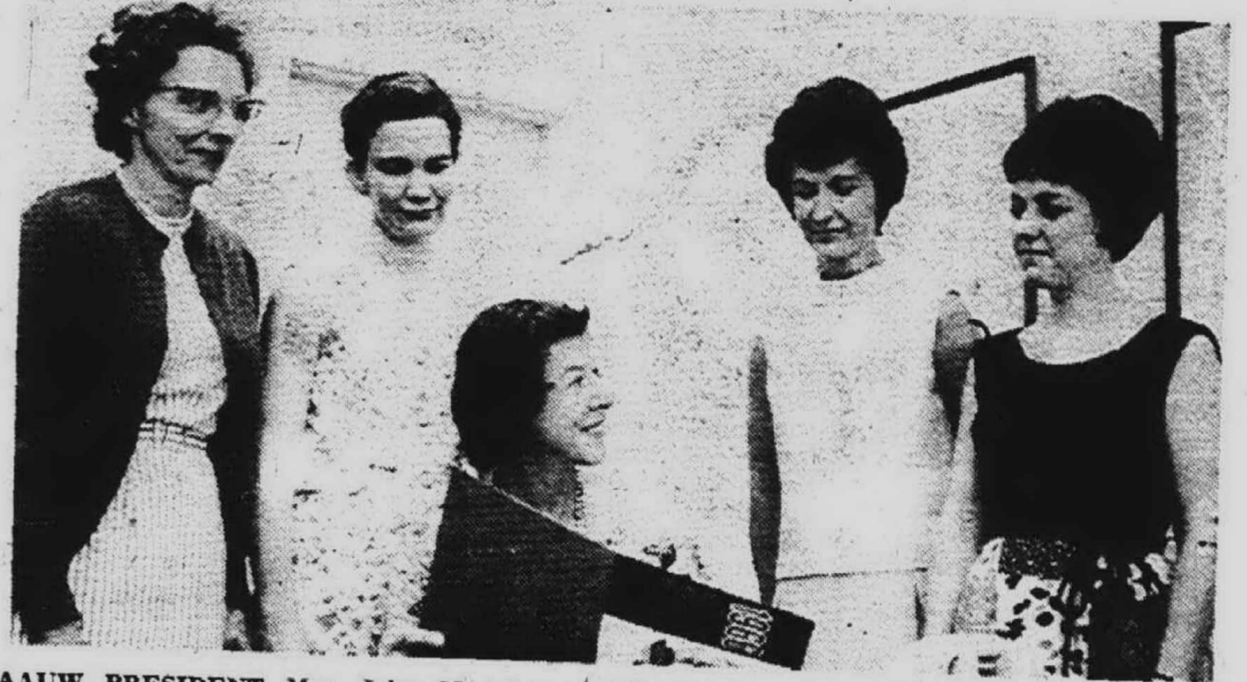

Oh, I continued to say please and thank you and good morning in French, to save my own ego, and I still could use my favorite word, because it is accent-proof. That word is "mousse." Everyone knew what I meant.

Quickly fold the egg whites into the chocolate mixture, half at a time. Be sure to blend thoroughly. Pour into serving dish and refrigerate for several hours, or overnight. Serve with whipped cream.

You may line your dish with split lady fingers, for extra elegance, or pass lady fingers as an accompaniment. Ground almonds sprinkled over the top add another dimension in flavor. This recipe makes six good servings, and could be chilled in individual portions also, in sherbet glasses or parfaits. I would rather eat chocolate than anything, I guess, and this is the way I like it best.

There now, I have dispensed the mousse, but I fear I can never demolish the myth, for it has, like most rumors, some basis in fact. When we were in Paris, White and McDevitt, the Gemini crickets, flew into town accompanied by enthusiastic acclaim and Hubert Humphrey. The Paris press reported with delight that McDevitt said, "Bon jour mes amis." Everyone was tickled; his accent must have been impeccable.

But until the day that I come down to France in a space capsule, I will stick to my charades and my Mousse au Chocolat.

AAUW To Open Year With Potluck

The program is planned to acquaint members and guests with AAUW and its three fundamental principles:

1. To enable college women to continue their own intellectual growth.

Serving on the committee for the meeting are Mrs. Theodore Lapinski and Mrs. Robert Benya, Co-Chairmen; Mrs. T. A. Coffey, Mrs. Walter Frontczak, Mrs. Douglas Hammill and Miss Doris Lachmann.

Coat Your Labels

If the label on your prescription medicine is on the outside of the bottle or vial, coat it with clear nail polish or transparent tape. The coating will keep the description and dosage from smudging. And remember, you should periodically clean out the medicine chest and dispose of old prescription drugs. They could be dangerous.

Through Foster Parents' Plan

Plymouth Family Adopts Youngster in Hong Kong

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Turner and family, 1339 Elm, Plymouth, financially "adopted" Young Kwong, a 12-year-old Chinese boy in Hong Kong, through Foster Parents' Plan, Inc., 352 Park Avenue South, New York, N.Y. 10010.

The Turners have already received a photograph and case history of their child. Through an exchange of monthly letters (original and translation are transmitted by PLAN) they have learned to know and love one another.

Many a Foster Parent who has visited his Foster Child finds that his letters are tattered from reading and re-reading. In turn the Foster Child writes about the near-miracle that his generous Foster Parents have wrought . . . the cash grant of $8 a month . . . new clothing . . . household equipment . . . medical care . . . and education.

All this plus good used clothing for the Foster Child's entire family, guidance and counseling from on-the-spot trained social and case workers supervised by an American Director in each of the seven countries where Foster Parents' Plan works — Greece, Hong Kong, Korea, the Philippines, Viet Nam, Colombia and Ecuador.

Kwong is one of the thousands of unfortunate children of refugee Hong Kong who live in bitter poverty, suffering endless privations and hardships. He lives with his parents, and brothers, Hung (15½), Ming (9), Leung (7), Yiu (6) and Fai (4).

His father fled to Hong Kong in 1944 and the mother in 1945. The father runs a small shop where he sells birds and bird cages, which he makes out of bamboo. He earns about $61.40 a month and pays a monthly rental of $10.09 for the shop.

This family lives in a government resettlement estate and occupy two cubicles which measure 9½ x 9' each. Their cubicles are furnished with two metal double bunk beds, a wooden chest of drawers, a folding table, some chairs, a fan, a sewing machine and some cooking utensils.

Kwong is a nice looking young boy with dark hair and dark eyes. He is in the fourth grade of primary school and enjoys all of his school subjects. He says that he would like to become a police inspector when he grows up. He pays a monthly tuition of 88 cents for his schooling. He is quite active, obedient and has a pleasant disposition. Hung completed his primary school education and helps his father in the shop.

Ming is in the first grade of primary school with a fee of 88c and Leung is in kindergarten and pays a school fee of $1.05 a month. Because of PLAN aid, this family now has some bedding and clothing, which they so desperately needed. PLAN aid has benefited the entire family.

When the desperate need of Kwong and his family came to PLAN attention, aid was given immediately through the goodness of a Foster Parent unable now to continue. The "adoption" assures the continuance of all PLAN benefits, which are still so sorely needed.

These are a monthly cash grant of $8, food, special medical care, some distributions of suitable new clothing, the chance to continue his education and PLAN's friendly professional counselling to help his parents with their most difficult problems.

Foster Parents' Plan is a non-sectarian, non-profit, non-propaganda, independent, government-approved organization. PLAN has no professional fundraisers and its financial statement is mailed to anyone who asks for it. Children may be selected according to age, sex and nationality.

To rescue one of the thousands anxiously awaiting "adoption" write Foster Parents' Plan, Inc., 352 Park Avenue South, New York, N.Y. 10010.

Twp. Issues 98 Permits

The building boom, that has turned Plymouth Township into one of the most rapid growing communities in Western Wayne County, hit a high for the year during August with a total of 98 building permits issued.

That was the report of Building Inspector Matt McLellan to Supervisor John McEwen. It will officially go to the Trustees at the September meeting next Tuesday night.

McLellan reported a total of 79 permits issued for single dwellings at a total valuation of $1,305,000 for which the Township collected $4,860 in fees.

The report shows 10 permits for additions and alterations, totaling $20,545 and fees of $165; seven permits for garages, one of a swimming pool and one for a tool storage shed.

The total valuation of permits issued in August soared to $1,338,120 with fees of $5,130.

The Township has issued 161 single family permits and a total of 276 permits thus far this year.

Plymouth Sr. Citizens Plan 2 Trips

The Plymouth Senior Citizens Club has two bus tours planned for the month of September and urges all members desiring to participate to make reservations and plans immediately.

The trip to Canada on Sept. 14 will find busses leaving the Masonic Temple at 9 a.m. and making the return trip at 3 p.m. The cost is $1.35 per person and reservations should be made with Mrs. Dorothy Wilhelm at 453-2164 at once.

The club has plans for a four-day color tour of the Upper and Lower Peninsula from Sept. 27 through Sept. 30. The cost is $59 per person which includes all meals and lodgings during the four days.

A four-hour stopover is planned at Mackinaw City where a ferry trip to Mackinac Island is available and a four-and-a-half hour boat trip on the Tahquamenon River is on the agenda.

Due to the advance planning involved, those interested are urged to contact Mrs. Wilhelm at once.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Karnatz hosted the Sept. 2 meeting at which 97 members attended. The next meetings are slated for Sept. 9 and 16. The birthday celebration is listed for Sept. 23 and a pot luck dinner on Sept. 30.

U-M Seeks Reasons for So Many Moving to Suburbs

ANN ARBOR — Why are so many persons moving to the suburbs? The answer, plus a wealth of data about urban mobility and residential location will be the target for a nationwide study now being undertaken by the Survey Research Center of Michigan's Institute for Social Research.

The study will be made in 32 metropolitan areas having a population of 50,000 or more, including the 11 largest cities (excluding New York City) across the United States.

About 275 interviews will be taken, starting Sept. 9, representing a national cross-section of urban residents.

Purpose of the study is to examine the forces which affect urban transportation. The researchers will make an intensive study of decisions made by private householders — to gain information about why people live where they do in an urban area, why they moved, the type of transportation they use and other relative data. Those living in the suburbs, as well as downtown areas and other parts of the population centers will be interviewed.

The research project is being sponsored by the Bureau of Public Roads, U.S. Department of Commerce. It is expected to be completed late in 1966.

The urban research project closely parallels an earlier study carried out by the Survey Research Center for the Bureau of Public Roads.

Major findings of this study included the following:

People place a positive value on open spaces and closeness to the out-of-doors;

Most people prefer single family homes to apartments;

There exists a wide spread desire for vacation homes;

In regard to urban travel, people overwhelmingly prefer traveling by car to traveling by common carrier.

In announcing the appointments, Dougherty said, "Rapid growth of the Livonia National Bank service area has made it necessary to enlarge our staff in order to better serve our customers."

Kiebusch Hanson

Kiebusch, who joined Livonia National in 1964, has been serving as assistant vice president and auditor. An electronic data processing expert, he was senior programmer and analyst with Michigan National Bank and helped organize that bank's electronic processing center in 1958.

Hanson comes to Livonia National from Michigan Bank, with which he had been associated since 1961, most recently as manager of the Book building office. He will manage the newly-opened Mid-Seven office.

Prof. Edits Book

Thomas C. Rumble, 32019 N. Marklawn, Farmington, an associate professor of English at Wayne State University, is the editor of a new book, "The Breton Lays in Middle English," published by the WSU Press.

Forum Is Told of Plymouth's Plans for Police and Housing

July 4 celebration, at football games and major events at the high school."

Fisher discussed the Urban Renewal plans. He told how the Mill Street project started in 1958 and is now at the point where there is less than a half-acre available.

"This project enabled Bathey Manufacturing to build its employment roll to 400 workers at the moment," he said. "Additional expansion is planned and another 100 will be added to the payroll within a reasonable length of time."

"The Commission feels the Mill Street project has added considerable to the area economy and to the city's tax base. In addition to Bathey, Dura-tainer Corporation has plans for expansion that include 1,600 square feet for offices, 21,000 for manufacturing with an additional 60,000 square feet of manufacturing space in another two years."

Fisher pointed out that the proposed Urban Renewal Project No. 2 will be more of a commercial program with proposals for commercial and multiple development.

Mayor Houk discussed the senior housing project but also touched on the Urban Renewal No. 2, indicating that the Commission had studied the project for a long time and decided to go ahead since there are so many non-conforming buildings in the area.

Houk also mentioned the police stating that there are community problems in this area due to the scope of the school district.

"The school district doesn't have a police department as such," he said. "We try to serve the entire community and this often results in criticism which we on the Commission feel in many instances is unwarranted." Houk told of the $976,000 federal grant for the building and site of the proposed Senior Citizens project of 60 units. It would serve the city and the community and give the retirees better living conditions at a cost that would be comparable with their income.

"The Housing Commission is faced with the prospect of finding a site that will be within a half-mile of the downtown business section and close to churches and meeting places," he said.

"There are several sites under consideration but no announcement can be made at this time pending approval of federal government officials in Chicago."

Houk said the Commission went to the architects with thoughts of a colonial design in fitting with the community motif. He said the architects came back with a new concept with a main building three stories high and two adjoining wings of two stories each—all in the colonial design.

"But," he said, "We can't say any more about the project until the plans are submitted and receive preliminary approval in Chicago."

There are events and programs for every member of the family, from the tiniest tot to the oldest grandmother.

The big days for the youngsters, all of whom go back to school and classes Thursday, will be the pet show Saturday and a special movie at the Penn Theater on Sunday afternoon from 12 to 5 p.m.

The pet show, which annually attracts youngsters from all parts of the community with their pets, is scheduled for Saturday morning from 9 to noon in the downtown parking lot adjacent to Sharrard's.

It is being handled this year by Recreation Director Herb Woolweaver and members of the Plymouth Optimist Club.

Sunday afternoon, Margaret Wilson, manager and owner of the Penn Theater, has a program planned for a showing of oldtime silent movies that should be of interest to all youngsters.

Livonia Greet 292 New Teachers

Livonia's 292 new teachers and staff members met their board of education trustees and school administrators at an orientation luncheon held Thursday at Franklin High School.

Livonia's certified staff, which now numbers 1,410, will each some 30,526 students this year. Most secondary school classes start today, Wednesday, September 8, while 19,276 youngsters in grades from kindergarten through the sixth will head for classrooms tomorrow.

In addressing the group board president Strela Schreiber invited them to drop in at the board's regular and study sessions whenever possible.

"One way to get acquainted with this complex school organization of which you are a part is to see how your board handles the many planning, fiscal, philosophical and other problems they face each week of the year," Mrs. Schreiber said.

Plans were also revealed by President Schreiber to have "get-together" breakfasts and dinners at various schools during this year so that we can get to know each other and discuss our problems and aspirations."

Superintendent Benton Yates urged the neophytes to "be concerned with and understand new State and Federal legislation which will affect your lives and that of the youngsters you teach in the years ahead."

"These are times when many influences are at work," Yates said. "It is good that so many lawmakers and citizens are concerned about the problems we face in education in this decade. Yet we educators must examine each fiscal and philosophical proposal as it comes up to make sure we can work with such new laws and we can help effectuate procedures which will give our boys and girls the quality education they need in this changing world."

In the keynote address Dr. Paul Johnson, assistant superintendent in charge of instruction, challenged the newcomers to utilize the Livonia cultural milieu to accelerate their professional growth.

He stressed Livonia's acknowledged reputation for offering teachers, old and new, in-service training, visitations to pilot projects, workshops, conferences, and other internal programs designed to enrich teaching and to keep all employees oriented on trends in education. Others who greeted the new teachers were William Kinnaird of the Livonia Federation of Teachers, Marvin Liberson of the Livonia Association, and Norman Whisler, director of personnel.

As they waited for the luncheon to start some of the teachers were asked for off-the-record comments on what induced them to apply for a position with the Livonia schools. A large number said they were "sold" by teachers already in the system who urged them "take a look" at the Livonia curriculum, its staff, and its school buildings.

Another certified employee said she had so enjoyed her student teaching that she made up her mind at that time to seek a position in the system.

Many heard good words and recommendations from their college or university placement bureaus.

Several newcomers said that they had read so many fine things about Livonia schools in newspapers and professional magazines that they checked in and ended up by signing a contract.

Most amusing to the question "What made you decide to look for a position in Livonia?" was the answer "When I was in a real estate office looking for a home the agent was enthusiastic about the schools. He sold me on the idea of asking about job opportunities. I did. Here I am!"

Grant School Parents Set Clean-up Drive

Parents in Livonia's Grant School area are focusing their energies on a school "clean-up" campaign next Saturday, Sept. 11.

They'll head for the school grounds all day long, and, according to Grant PTA President John Ziomek, the activity "grows out of a natural interest to create pride in the appearance of the school and, at the same time, to co-operate in the current citywide "Keep Livonia Beautiful" campaign."

The parents plan to replace weeds with grass and will plant some shrubs and small trees. Robert Brown is chairman of the campaign.

Everyone knows that economy is the road to wealth—the problem is to economize.

The DRC Story

THE FINE ART OF SPLITTING SECONDS

The Clocker at a race track is a lonesome and a rugged individual. He is part of a strange breed. He begins work at dawn and his day never seems to end.

His specialized knowledge is amazing. By sight . . . and in a split second as horses come on the track to work . . . he must be able to identify them. At the Detroit Race Course, during our current meeting, for example, that means the talent to recognize immediately approximately 1,500 horses.

The Clocker often must "catch" the works of three horses simultaneously. It requires the quick eye, concentration and an intimate knowledge of thoroughbred training procedures.

When the Clocker says: "He worked in one ten and change," it becomes gospel for owners, trainers and many fans.

Translated it means the thoroughbred went six furlongs (three-quarters of a mile) in one minute, ten and a fraction seconds. "Change" is a clocker's terminology for the fifths of a second used in timing horses.

The Stop Watch and Split Seconds are proper tools of the Clocker's trade. I do not want Detroit racing fans to deprive themselves of the thrills, excitement and some of the finest fun that is available in Sports by borrowing them, however.

A Race Track . . . like an airport . . . isn't a facility it is feasible to build in the center of the downtown area.

Our track, at Middlebelt and Schoolcraft Roads, is 20 miles from the heart of Detroit, Kennedy Square. Yet, the distance should not be a barrier to your enjoyment of our splendid facilities and the unmatched entertainment thoroughbred racing provides.

The Expressways and main thoroughfares from every section of the metropolitan area provide ready access to the DRC from wherever you live or work.

The Smart Fan (and that means YOU) will measure his PLEASURE after he reaches the DRC rather than the minutes or miles it takes to get there. Don't put the Stop Watch on your journey. Let The Clocker worry about the split seconds.

It is our aim to make your every trip to the DRC a memorable one.

There's a New Look to our track this season. We have just completed a $3,000,000 clubhouse that was designed for your comfort, convenience, and ultimate in pleasure.

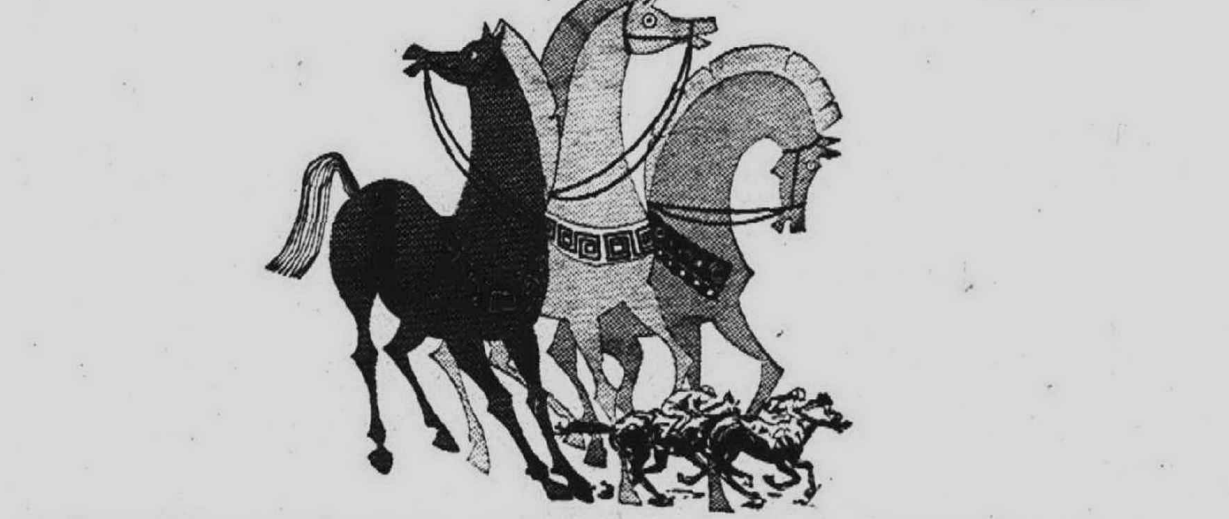

The Grandstand Terrace, with its fine restaurant and bars, is a different concept in race track facilities. I am sure you will enjoy them. The Grandstand has been completely refurbished.

We have expanded and improved our parking facilities. We can handle 12,000 cars. To make it more convenient and quicker for you to reach and leave the track, our entrances off Middlebelt and Schoolcraft have been implemented with a new entrance off Inkster Road.

We have nine races Monday-through-Friday with a post parade of 3:20 p.m. The big Saturday program of 10 races starts at 2 p.m.

Racing at the DRC is finer and more fun than ever. Visit us soon and see for yourself.

Send them off to school with everything you want them to have.

OBSERVER-WANT ADS
Make it so easy for you...

This year, join other smart, modern families — and beat those heavy back-to-school expenses with money-making Observer want-ads . . . here's how you do it.

Go through your home, outside and in — and make a list of the things you find that you haven't been using, and don't expect to use in the future. Look carefully, and you'll begin to see dollars in place of bikes, baby furniture, guns and hunting equipment, musical instruments, cameras, good outgrown clothing, power tools, appliances, photographic equipment, record players and any other items you turn up . . . because these are the very things people come looking for in the Observer want-ads section.

When you're finished, just dial GA 2-0900 or GR 6-7025 any time between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. for a courteous, helpful Ad-Visor and give your list to her. That's all there is to it. A 15 word ad is only $2.00 and you'll reap results right away.

So to send your children happily off to school with all the things you want them to have — and not have to shatter the budget to do it — put fast-action Observer want-ads to work for you right now.
