Fund Drive Hits 20% With 10 Days to Go

With 10 days of the campaign remaining — the Victory Dinner is scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 4 — Plymouth Community Fund workers face the fight of their lives to reach the goal of $86,083.

This was apparent after the second report luncheon last Thursday when division leaders and team captains recorded a total of $16,701 in pledges and contributions — barely 20 per cent of the goal.

However, this report doesn't necessarily mean the Red Feather campaign is dragging as bad as it appears since General Chairman John Kamego carefully pointed out that the returns from the industrial division are still incomplete and probably won't be complete until shortly before the Victory Dinner.

"I'd say that the drive is lagging somewhat," said Kamego in a short talk to campaign leaders at the luncheon. "However, I'd also point out that the situation isn't quite as bad as the 20 per cent report indicates. "However, this report does indicate that every worker will have to redouble his or her efforts and check and re-check every person on his or her list. It is imperative that every resident in the Plymouth Community be given a chance to make a contribution this year.

"The goal of $86,083 is the highest ever set for a Plymouth Community Fund campaign and with the victory dinner set for Nov. 4 — well, we just don't have enough days and nights left to rest on our oars."

The women's residential division, under the leadership of Mrs. Martin Schomberger and Fund Board Member Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, was the first to go over its total for 1964. Mrs. Schomberger reported a total of $4,648 to date with many team captains still to turn in their final figures. This was $200 over the final total a year ago and showed the women meant what they said when Mrs. Schomberger told the Board "We'll hit every doorbell in the community." The incomplete reports show that they did.

The Industrial division reported a total of $9,053 including eight corporate gifts. Incomplete reports from the (Continued on Page 9B)

POINTING TO GOAL of the Plymouth High student body in the annual Community Fund Drive is Co-Chairman Randy Williams (right) while James Doyle, division leader for the schools and educational groups, and Co-Chairman Dianne Arnold look on. The students have set their sights of $700 during the drive this week and the co-chairmen have a firm belief that the school will go over the top.

At Discretion of Superintendent

School Board OKs Policy Exceptions

Acting on a recommendation of Supt. Russell Isbister, the Plymouth School Board Monday night granted him permission to make exceptions in the Board's transportation policy that will guarantee bus service for pupils in the Five Mile and Clare Boulevard areas for the remainder of the school year.

Isbister recommended that the Board follow its policy for transportation of elementary and secondary school students but that he be granted discretionary power to make exceptions to the extent that existing facilities will permit transportation on a temporary basis to part of or all of children in grades Kindergarten through six in certain areas who live less than one mile from school, whenever in his judgment they are exposed to unusually dangerous traffic conditions.

Parents in the Five Mile area, who send children to Farran School, had bitterly complained when they learned pupils in grade three through five no longer would receive transportation because an easement in the rear of the school had placed them in an area less than a mile from the school.

They cited the hazardous traffic conditions and stressed the fact that their youngsters were forced to walk along the shoulder of the heavily traveled Five Mile with their backs to traffic.

The Board listened to the complaints and promised action. They ordered a traffic study by a consultant from the Wayne County Intermediate School Board and then decided to have Isbister make recommendations on that study.

His recommendations Monday were the result and met with the approval of all — especially a delegation of parents from the Five Mile area.

His recommendations accepted by the Board are:

"Exceptions to the policy to the extent that existing facilities are available the School Superintendent shall be given discretionary power to grant transportation on a temporary basis to part of or all of children in grades 1 through 6 in certain areas, who live less than one mile from school, whenever in his judgment they are exposed to unusually dangerous traffic conditions.

"Transportation shall be withdrawn immediately from a given area whenever community action programs have removed the dangerous conditions.

"This policy change shall re-

Bruce Scott Fills School Board Vacancy

R. Bruce Scott, president of the Geer School Board of Education, zoning inspector for Superior Township and a research chemist for Parke, Davis and Company at the Ann Arbor Laboratory, Monday was named to fill the vacancy on the Plymouth Community School District Board of Education.

Scott was instrumental in effecting the annexation of the Geer School District, in Washtenaw County, to the Plymouth Community district in September. He succeeded Robert Jenkins, who resigned two weeks ago after accepting a position with a major air line in New York City.

Scott will serve until a school election is held which is slated for next May.

He joined President Gerald Fischer, Vice President Carl Schultheiss, Secretary Mrs. Esther Hulsing, Treasurer Robert Soth, Ernest Henry and John McLaren on the Board.

The new member is a native of Detroit, attending schools there. He received a bachelor's degree from Detroit Institute of Technology and a master's from the University of Detroit.

He joined the research staff of Parke, Davis and Co. in 1949 and was transferred to the Ann Arbor laboratory in 1959.

He and his wife, Patricia, are the parents of three children, Lana and Jeffrey in the 10th and ninth grades and Christopher, age 4.

He will formally take his place with the Board at the November meeting on Monday, Nov. 8.

K. Bruce Scott

President Gerald Fischer emphasized that the existing facilities will not be increased. They pointed out that the Board has six new buses on order. (Continued on Page 9B)

Planning Board Rejects Convalescent Home Bid

The apartment age is fast coming to Plymouth Township judging from the number of requests received by the Planning Commission for rezoning for apartment projects.

In as quick fashion as possible in a meeting of the Commission, the planners rejected a request for rezoning for a convalescent home near the intersection of Ridge Road and North Territorial Roads, ordered public hearings on a proposed shopping center at the intersection of Ann Arbor and

Twp. Civic Club Sponsors Police Protection Talk

"Police Protection in Plymouth Township" will be the theme of a series of meetings sponsored by the Western Homeowners' Improvement Association at Gallimore School. The first is slated for Thursday (Oct. 28) at 7 p.m. according to Association President E. D. Mogle.

Inspector R. Novak, of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, will give an insight into the types and extent of police protection they can expect under the present plan of using the Sheriff's Road Patrol and the State Police.

A question and answer period will follow his talk.

Up to date reports on area planning for Canton and Plymouth Townships will be made by Association officers as well as progress reports of the Association.

The Association serves that area bounded by Canton Center, Ford, Napier and Ann Arbor Roads.

The meeting is open to the general public and specifically for all residents in the area covered by the Association.

Haggerty Roads, a proposed apartment on Ann Arbor Road just west of Sheldon Road, and for proposed multi-dwellings on Five Mile near Bradner Road.

The Board also received a request to rezone 9,206 acres in an area south of Ann Arbor Trail and east of Haggerty for apartments.

It approved for a public hearing the proposal of Richard Fritz for construction of eight homes in the Pleasant Ridge Subdivision on Ann Arbor Trail and Beck Road.

Theodore Brown told the Board of his plans for a convalescent home on Ridge Road at which he indicated the initial construction would cost $410,000 for a 75-bed home with 50 employees and the prospects of expanding to a $1.5 million building with 225 beds and a total of 120 employees. However, the Board rejected the request even though the use was recommended. (Continued on Page 14A)

"Headstart" Topic for Rights Group

The Plymouth Assembly for Equal Opportunity will hear speakers from Ypsilanti and Livonia discuss their experiences in presenting a "Headstart" program to their respective communities. The program is slated for Wednesday (Oct. 27) at 8:30 p.m. in the Plymouth High annex auditorium.

Edwin LaDuke, principal of Monroe School, who was in charge of the Livonia project, will tell of his work.

Dave Weikert, of the special services department of Public Schools, will tell of the work in that community which centered around Perry School.

"Headstart" is a Federally subsidized program which came out of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964. It is designed for culturally disadvantaged children, the intention being that these youngsters will have a better school adjustment if given some pre-kindergarten experience.

The base used for a determining point is a family income of $3,000 or less a year with 85 per cent of the children taking part coming from this segment of the school district population.

The Federal government bears 90 per cent of the cost and the local district picks up the remaining 10 percent.

Plans Are Underway for Civilian Volunteer Patrol

A volunteer civilian patrol, with the purpose of assisting the City of Plymouth Police department in checking vandalism, petty thefts and speeding, is in the making and probably will be presented to the City Commission within the next two or three weeks.

That was the indication Monday from Earl Merriman, sponsor of the plan which he already has discussed with civic association leaders in all sections of the city and received a favorable reception in every instance.

Merriman also has talked over his plan with Kenneth Fisher, administrative aide to City Manager Richard Blodgett, who also is temporarily holding his position of Police Chief, and received backing there.

Fisher is head of the police department until such time the City Commission acts on a recommendation of the City Manager. Blodgett recommended the elevation of Fisher to Administrative Aide with abolishment of the post of Director of Public Safety. At the same time he recommended that Assistant Fire Chief George Schoenneman and Assistant Police Chief Loren Johnson be made Fire Chief and Police Chief respectively.

Schoenneman accepted the new position but Johnson has been reluctant since the City Charter provides that a department head must live within the city limits. Johnson has a beautiful home in the Township and prefers to remain as assistant chief rather than give up his home.

Merriman's proposal is to have the city divided into six areas with a captain and a team of volunteers in each. Each volunteer would be equipped with a walkie-talkie and would aid police in locating and checking reports of vandalism or theft.

None of the volunteers would have police authority but working as a unit, Merriman believes they could help in tracking down culprits. The walkie-talkies would be on a different wave length than the regular police radio.

"We feel there is a need for such an organization," said Merriman. "My group has been canvassing the city as to the feasibility of the plan and everyone agrees that it is a great idea."

Merriman said the plan of operation would be to have the police department get in touch with the area captains as soon as any acts are reported. The captain in turn would notify the members of his team and they immediately would surround the area involved to aid in tracking down the culprits.

Merriman, a member of Plymouth Insurance Agents Association, said the group would back the project to the extent of 15 of the walkie-talkies. He estimated more than 40 would be needed at an estimated cost of slightly more than $100 each.

The program is of special interest to teachers, parents and students and club officials are looking forward to the largest attendance of the school year.

St. Agatha Accents
by Mary Lou Mangold

With pomp and solemnity, the class of '66, robed in green caps and gowns, marched down the aisle to receive blessed rings in the Ring Day ceremony on October 13.

The rite, conducted by Father John R. Reid, took place after a special 9 a.m. Mass attended by the high school student body. Father Reid explained the symbolism of the green stone, gold band, and engraved crest of the rings.

After Mass, the seniors attended a pancake and sausage breakfast hosted by the sophomore class. The luncheon was decorated with a fall motif, carried out with brown and gold crepe paper and sunflower centerpieces and favors.

In the center of the circle of tables stood lifesize "Peanuts" characters made of paper mache and wearing green mortarboards. At the breakfast Gregory Brown, senior president spoke for the class in his thank you address.

On Wednesday, 14 finalists read for parts in the one-act play "Anastasia."

The judges — Sister Helen Charles, Sister Paul Christine, Sister Mary Edward, and Miss O'Leary—cast the play:

Anna—Ruth Brown, Empress
Susan Behrend, Livenbaum—Pamela Kovarik, charwoman—Jessie Garden, Varya — Mary Lou Mangold, Bunoune — Tom Semik, Patrovin — Paul Perko, Chernov — Michael Mc Mahon, Paul—Timothy Rourke, sleigh-driver — Stephen Funke, Sergei — Arthur Francis.

Rehearsals began Oct. 18. Dress rehearsal is scheduled for Nov. 17, and the play will be presented at the Genesian Drama Festival on Sunday, Nov. 20.

Acting as directors are Sister Helen Charles and Sister Paul Christine. Scenery director is Miss Charlene O'Leary.

The 1965 Torch Drive began at Saint Agatha's on Oct. 13, and will run until Nov. 5. Home-room representatives who collect donations each day during co-curr. are: Sue Behrend, Donna Baker, Jessie Garden, Mary Winklejohn, Denise Wittstock, Marcia Meisner, and Ron Blackmire.

Each day the room with the highest percentage of returns displays "Torchy" the traveling trophy, for the day. The room with the highest total percentage at the close of the drive will keep "TORCHY." Chairman of the drive is Mary Lou Mangold.

Student of the Month for October is John Marshall. Since transferring to St. Agatha's in his junior year, John has served the school in many ways. He was treasurer last year and Student Council President as a Senior.

Alexander Hamilton Faces SEC Hearing

Plymouth Co. Denies Stock Manipulation Charges

The Securities and Exchange Commission has announced it will hold hearings on charges of its staff investigators that there may have been "manipulation" and other violations of securities regulations in connection with the sale of stock of the Plymouth based Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Company and the Windsor Raceway Holdings Ltd. near Windsor.

Area residents are particularly interested in the charges involving Alexander Hamilton since many invested in the stock when it was first placed on public sale. Since then the company has had a tremendous rise, advancing to top ranks as the most rapid growth insurance company in history.

Named in the charges are the Detroit stock brokerage firm of Armstrong, Jones & Co. and its top officers as well as certain individual officers of Alexander Hamilton.

Neither the insurance company nor the race track company is involved in the proceedings.

Top officials of the brokerage firm and Alexander Hamilton stated they consider the SEC charges to be unfounded and expressed confidence that the hearings will vindicate them.

The SEC investigation which led to the charges took more than a year. No date has been set for the hearings.

Six persons were named. They include Thomas Itin, George Reuter and Rene Campa, president, vice president and former executive vice president respectively of Armstrong-Jones and E. Keith Owens, Charles Bruce and Robert Safford, who are Board chairman, president and vice president respectively of Alexander Hamilton.

Owens issued a statement saying "we specifically deny the allegations."

He said, "the charges are not based on fact but on assumptions regarding prior relationships that existed before the insurance company was formed. We will use the hearing to prove all of these charges totally unfounded. We expect to be fully vindicated."

He also stressed that the SEC specifically stated that the "operations and the conduct of Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Company are in no way involved in the proceedings against the brokerage firm. "We feel it unfair that the shareholder interest should suffer in any way inasmuch as the soundness of the company is in no way involved."

The SEC staff charges alleged that from April to August, 1964, Armstrong-Jones sold shares of Alexander Hamilton at "purported market prices without disclosing to investors that the market for Alexander Hamilton Life stock was dominated, controlled and manipulated" by the brokerage company and certain of its principals.

Moreover, it was charged, sales of the insurance company stock were made between November, 1963, and August, 1964, "without disclosing that the registrant (Armstrong-Jones) and Alexander Hamilton Life were under common control."

Another charge by the SEC staff was that whereas Michigan authorities authorized sale of 1.5 million shares of Alexander Hamilton, the actual number sold was 682,000 shares more than that.

Still another charge was that the public was misinformed about "the present and prospective price" of Hamilton Life stock, the amount of the company insurance in force, and other matters. Commenting on the charges, Itin said:

"We believe that no willful violations of the security acts, as alleged, have ever taken place, nor do we ourselves nor with others feel we have ever acted in such a way as to misrepresent any material facts or to willfully violate or aid and abet others in willfully violating the security acts, or to engage in any transactions which constitute fraud or deceit."

"We intend to defend these charges with vigor and are confident that given an opportunity in a public hearing, no violations as charged will be found."

Itin explained the sale of the extra 682,000 shares of Hamilton Life by saying these shares "were authorized by the state as an over-subscription," because of the great number of investors wishing to buy the stock. He said all persons who bought the original 1.5 million shares were given a chance to get a 100 percent refund of their money if they objected to the issuance of the additional 682,000 shares.

As for the allegation that the brokerage firm and insurance firm were under "common control," Itin said Hamilton

Life had two directors on the Armstrong-Jones board of directors, but that Armstrong-Jones had no directors on the Hamilton Life board. Itin said he would not consider that to be "common control" and that, anyway, all brokerage house customers were advised of the relationship on their notices confirming purchases of the stock.

Judgeships on Ballot Tuesday

Voters in Wayne County will go to the polls Tuesday to elect four new judges on the Wayne County Circuit Court bench.

Seeking election are Robert E. DeMassio, of Detroit; Harry J. Dingeman, Jr., of Detroit; Charles S. Farmer, Detroit; Thomas J. Foley, Plymouth; Orville L. Hubbard, Dearborn; Blair Moody, Jr., Grosse Pointe Shores; Joseph B. Sullivan, Grosse Pointe Farms; and Anthony J. Szymanski, Detroit.

Polls will be open at 7 a.m. Tuesday and close at 8 p.m. In most of the communities within the Observer's circulation area, a light turnout is expected, with no major local issues on the ballot except in Redford and Nankin Townships. Three millage requests will face Redford voters, and one will face Nankin voters.

In Livonia, Clerk Addison Bacon predicted a turnout of no more than 6,000 of the city's 35,000 registered voters.

PLANS AREA TOUR WITH VIVIAN IN '66

Will Humphrey Visit Again?

There's an excellent chance that Vice President Hubert Humphrey will pay a visit to Plymouth during a tour of the Second Congressional District shortly after the first of the year.

At least that was the indication from a telegram sent out from Mr. Humphrey's office over his signature to the Observer Newspapers along with other publications in the Congressional District.

The Vice President originally was scheduled to make a tour of the district along with Congressman Wes Vivian with a stopover at Adrian College and a press conference there for high school editors of the District.

But the rain caused cancellations of the plan, inasmuch as the Vice President was detained in Buffalo, N.Y., for two hours and was two hours late for the dedication of the new Adlai Stevenson High School in Livonia last Friday.

The telegram reads:

"Deeply regret last minute change of schedule forces cancellation of reception Congressman Wes Vivian thoughtfully arranged for Friday, Oct. 22 at Adrian College. I have promised Wes that I will be with him and my good friends in the Second Congressional District early next year." Signed Hubert H. Humphrey.

Urge Kids to Celebrate Halloween on Saturday

Youngsters in the six-community area covered by the Observer Newspapers are urged to celebrate Halloween on Saturday night and allow Sunday to be a day and night of the Sabbath.

CHRIS WILSON reigned as Clarenceville High School's Homecoming Queen last week. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Wilson, 28004 W. 7 Mile, Livonia. Chris reigned over a victorious football team which defeated Clarkston's gridgers.

City and county officials of Livonia, Redford Township, the City of Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Nankin, Garden City, Farmington and Farmington Township joined in asking youngsters to observe the Sabbath and hold their "trick or treat" activities Saturday evening.

"We realize that Halloween comes on Sunday," said City Manager Richard Blodgett, of Plymouth, and Plymouth Township Supervisor John McEwen, "But we feel there will be ample time for all of the fun and celebration on Saturday evening. We urge parents to do everything possible to have their children join in this request."

The statement was echoed by Mayor Harvey Moelke of Livonia, Redford Township Supervisor Jack McDonald and top officials from Garden City, Nankin, Farmington and Farmington Township.

At the same time the National Fire Protection Association issued a plea for a fire-safe Halloween indicating the trick is to treat the youngsters to a hazard inspection before they go out for their evening of fun.

The Association reminds parents that there are painful burns and even more tragic accidents waiting to pounce on children if they carry candle-lit pumpkins or wear flimsy costumes that can ignite easily.

Parents are urged by the international fire safety organization to keep this Halloween fire-safe for their children by heeding these important precautions:

1. Use a flashlight — never a candle — to light the pumpkin which the children carry. A candle-lit pumpkin is hazardous indoors too; it can easily set fire to curtains or table decorations.
2. In buying or making costumes, stay away from flimsy materials, baggy sleeves and billowing skirts. . . . the smallest spark or touch of flame can start them burning. Wigs and masks with fibrous hair are also possible fire hazards and should be avoided. Dark-colored fabrics increase the danger of children not being seen by motorists; a much safer choice is a light-colored costume.
3. Costumes, if store bought, should be flameproof. This process, which may also be done at home, will add a measure of protection if it is renewed each time the costume gets wet or is washed. However, almost any clothing material — lightweight or heavy, flameproofed or not — will burn to some extent.

4. Be sure children understand they must stay well away from any flame, including bonfires and burning leaves outdoors, lighted matches and burning cigarettes, and fireplaces and stoves indoors.

5. Make certain that smaller children are under the competent care and close watch of a responsible person at all times!

Cuban Refugees Have Reunion in Plymouth

Imagine 30 people in a 32-foot boat making a journey over 90 miles of open water and you have some idea of how much it means for Cubans to flee their native land to take residence in the United States under the new policy announced recently by Premier Fidel Castro.

Castro opened the doors for Cubans to come to the United States provided they could arrange transportation and President Lyndon Johnson immediately took action to allow as many as came to this county to be accepted.

For two cousins, who have resided in Plymouth for more than two years, it was a God-send for it enabled them to be united with loved ones they hadn't seen since they fled Cuba four years ago.

It was a happy reunion for Ramon and Miguel Del Rio, both employed as welders at Evans Products Co., since it enabled Miguel's wife and two children and his mother to come to the United States along with Ramon's mother.

But it wasn't a happy trip for the overloaded boat, owned by Miguel's brother Luis, began to take water while still miles away from the Florida Keys and only the appearance of a U. S. Coast Guard boat saved the day.

It was a happy family that was interviewed in a Plymouth Township home Saturday morning but there are still numerous problems to be solved. The most pressing is to find a home for the two families.

For Miguel, it gave him an opportunity to see for the first time his three and a half-year-old son Miguel, Jr., who was born after his father had escaped to the United States. Miguel also was united with his wife, Marta, and daughter, Marian, 6 and mother, Senora Blanca Del Rio.

For Ramon, it was an opportunity to take care of his mother, Senora Ludgarva Arcos, with the prospects that his father and other members of the family will try to come to this country at a later date.

Life under Castro in the Communist-ridden country isn't any bed of roses according to the three women.

For instance, the two children were busy eating candy bars as fast as their mother would allow. It had been a long time since they had tasted chocolate.

Workers in Cuba are employed by government operated projects five days a week for which they receive $85 per month and take some $75. But on Sundays and Saturdays, they are required to work in the sugar cane refineries and on the farms—in appreciation of all the government is doing for them. They receive no pay for the two days but must appear for work.

Most of the food is handed out on ration cards with an allowance of a half pound of very poor quality beef each week, per adult.

Families are allowed one and a half ounces of coffee per week per adult and Mrs. Miguel Del Rio indicated that she was allowed four ounces each week for herself and two children.

Of course there is the matter of purchasing coffee on the black market, if one has the cash—the going price is $5 per pound with few takers among the average families.

"We are happy to be in the United States," said the two grandmothers. "We didn't want to leave our homes but conditions were so bad that we couldn't stay any longer and welcomed the chance to make homes with our sons. Life under Castro is very hard, so hard that one just barely lives."

Silberman to Head Livonia Mall Group

Jerry Silberman, manager of the Hughes, Hatcher Suffrin store, is the new president of the Livonia Mall Merchants Association, serving through 1966. He was elected at the annual meeting Monday afternoon and succeeds Marion Young, manager of the S. S. Kresge store.

Other officers are: Seymour Goldberg of Crowley's, first vice president; Sidney Freeland, of the Homemaker Shop, second vice president; Marion Young, treasurer; Robert Poris, general manager of the Livonia Mall, secretary.

All were named to the Board of Directors along with Stanley Kirsch of Fashion Shoes, Don Hooten of General Cinema, Jerry Wasserman of Meyer Jewelry, Roy Perlove of Shiftman's and Oscar Kahn of Livonia Card Shop.

The 10-member board will have charge of the advertising and promotional activities of the association for 1966.

Today's crying need is an invention that will take the financial ache out of a vacation.

Schoolcraft to Sponsor Bowling for Credit Course

One can't accuse the Schoolcraft College of not meeting the demands of students for varied courses.

Last spring, the college sponsored a course in the handling, training and conditioning of thoroughbred and standard-bred racing horses and the operation of a racing stable. A class of more than 35 started the course and all but five or six completed it.

The same course may be offered again next spring if the demand is great enough.

Now Director of Athletics Marvin Gans, who has to take his varsity teams all over the district to practice, has come up with a brand new offering — a course in bowling for credit.

Gans, assisted by Robert Leggat, his assistant in the Physical Education Department, and Helen Shablis, prominent woman bowler and well-known instructor at the Merri-Bowl Lanes, started classes Tuesday morning at 8 a.m. A second session was held at 10 a.m. with 40 enrolled in each section.

The students will receive instruction in bowling, will enter into competition at the classroom level and will be graded at the end of the course for improvement and the manner in which they have advanced as bowlers.

"We had a demand for a course in bowling," said Gans, who now has 27 sections of physical education students. "We made the arrangements through owner-manager Mac Goldman for the lanes and then asked for registrations. He had the required total of 80 within hours of the announcement."

Sears to Present James Bond Car At Livonia Mall

The Aston-Martin car used by James Bond, in the picture "Goldfinger," will be on display at Sears Livonia Mall, Middlebelt at Seven Mile Rd., next Tuesday (Nov. 2) from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The display, which is making a tour of all Sears stores, will be set up in the Garden Center Area.

It is part of a promotion for the new "James Bond 007 Road Racing Set" which is expected to be one of the most popular toys this coming Christmas.

PICTURE TALK by Les Wilson
TRICK THE TRICK-OR-TREATERS
 Every Halloween we get a few more trick-or-treaters than the year before. And it gets that much harder to play our trick on them—we have the camera ready when the doorbell rings, and snap a flash picture of all the goblins and ghosts. The costumes get a little cuter every year too, and we have a lot of fun looking through our color snaps. It's especially interesting to watch the kids in the neighborhood grow up—in costume—in our Halloween album.
 But back to the fun of taking the pictures. There they are, the hungry little demons, with their hands out. More of them every time. And there we are, asking them to wait while we change flash bulbs. There we used to be, I mean.
 This Halloween, we're ready for them with the cleverest thing that's happened to flash pictures since they got rid of the old flash-in-the-pan system. It's called flashcube photography. There are eight new KODAK Cameras that use this pop-up flashcube. We take a picture, the camera that winds itself, and this amazing little flashcube turns automatically. And we're ready to take another picture, literally in an instant. Because every flashcube is good for four flash pictures in a row, automatically, as fast as you or the camera advance the film.
 Choose from six new instant-loading KODAK INSTAMATIC Cameras and two fine precision 35mm Kodak cameras. Stop by for a look this week, so you'll be ready for Halloween.

Bill Eldred Fund Closes Oct. 29
 This is the last week for friends to contribute to the fund set up for Bill Eldred, the J. L. Hudson driver who suffered the amputation of his leg recently. The account will remain open until Friday, Oct. 29. A total of $850 has been received by Mrs. Betty Korte (National Bank of Detroit, Main Street, Plymouth) as of Friday.
 The cash will be turned over to Bill next week with a card and list of names. Bill lives at 471 East Troy, Ferndale and was able to go home Saturday. He is getting along fine with his crutches and will be ready for an artificial limb in six to eight weeks.
 It is the hope of his friends that it won't be long before they see his smiling, friendly face at the door and that this gift from his friends will help pave the way until he is back on the job.

Frequent Eye Exams Are Urged

A trucking industry safety director today urged drivers to have their eyes checked frequently.

"The recommendation of optometrists and ophthalmologists for an eye check-up at least every two years is more than just advertising," said Mr. Jerry Gilles, Safety Director of Michigan Trucking Association, speaking in connection with the Michigan trucking industry's October courtesy and Safety Campaign on "Vision."

"When you stop to realize that practically every action a driver takes is based upon what he sees," Gilles said, "the importance of good vision cannot be overemphasized."

Gilles said that eye specialists recognize many aspects of vision as having a relationship to safe driving. He listed the principal factors in good vision and their importance to safe driving as:

1. Visual Acuity—Best defined as "see-ability," the basic ability to see and distinguish objects.

2. Form Field of Vision—The ability to see objects out to the side while looking straight ahead. This is what enables the driver to see hazards off to one side.

3. Binocular Vision—The ability of both eyes to work together as a team. The failure of the eyes to work together, due to muscular deficiencies, results in undue eyestrain and distorted vision.

4. Depth Perception—The ability to judge the position of objects in space, the relationship and distance between them and their relation to the viewer. It is important in judging following distance, safe passing space and clearances when driving.

5. Color Perception—The ability to recognize and distinguish between colors. For driving, it is important to distinguish between red, green, and yellow.

6. Night Vision and Glare Recovery—The ability to see in dim light and to quickly regain normal night vision after looking at a bright light is important to safe night driving.

Gilles went on to say that a person's vision changes constantly.

"Some changes are temporary and are caused by fatigue, excessive smoking, or even something so seemingly simple as a cold or hay fever. Of greater importance are the subtle changes that occur with the passage of time.

Visual acuity, night vision and glare recovery all deteriorate with age.

"Many eye diseases can develop, which, if neglected may prove serious and even lead to blindness," he declared. "Vision tests are available to any interested group by contacting the safety department, Michigan Trucking Association, Lansing," he added.

"On the other hand, periodic eye examinations can enable the detection of these conditions, and, in most cases, permit them to be corrected. They also warn the driver of any abnormal eye condition that he may have and the specialist can often suggest means to compensate for the condition so that the patient can continue to drive safely," Gilles pointed out.

"Even for the youngsters, who will be tomorrow's drivers, an eye examination now will not only uncover visual problems that may be a source of trouble in their schoolwork, but it may not be too late to correct them for greater safety when the youngster reaches driving age."

Area Scouts List District Meet Tonight

Sunset District of the Detroit Council Boy Scouts of America will hold its annual meeting Wednesday (Oct. 27) in the Franklin High School auditorium in Livonia with dinner at 6:30 p.m. and the program beginning at 8 p.m.

Highspot of the evening will be the presentation of the Silver Beaver, highest award of Scoutdom to an adult leader, to an as yet unnamed Scout Leader in the district which includes: Livonia, Plymouth, Northville, Redford Township, Nankin and Garden City.

Frank McInnis, of the Detroit Council, will make the presentation of the Silver Beaver at which time all previous holders of the coveted award from the district will be on hand to welcome the new member.

Principal business of the evening, other than the presentation, will be the installation of new district officers.

Following the business meeting, Terry Barr, star halfback and pass receiver of the Detroit Lions, will give a short talk and show films of the highlights of the 1964 and 1965 seasons.

Farmington Socially Speaking

By JERRY WENDT
IT'S A GIRL for Farmington's popular Dr. Lawrence Goldman and his wife. At seven weeks, Ellen Francis has the poise of a debutante, blue eyes and dark hair.

A HANGING PARCHMENT was made by the children in the Special Education Class this week. They took a two foot piece of wax paper, folded it over a dowel. Then carefully placed a colorful collection of autumn leaves on the paper.

Next a hot iron was pressed on the paper and the leaves. Last a skein of yarn with two thumb tacks on each end. Presto, a colorful parchment to hang on the wall.

IT'S OFFICIAL. SATURDAY WILL BE Halloween. In addition to the trick or treat crowd, there will be several Halloween parties.

THE FARMINGTON JUNIOR Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a Halloween Dance for teens Saturday night, Oct. 30, at the Farmington Senior High School on Shiawassee Ave. DISC Jockey Johnny Fon of Radio Station WPON Pontiac will provide the music. There will be no admission charge.

THE TOPS CLUB will hold its annual Halloween party at the First Methodist Church on Thursday, Oct. 28. There will be a masquerade, games, and a low calorie buffet.

JR. WOODCREEKERS will start to gather at 4 p.m. Saturday at Westmount Court Circle for the round of fun events that have been planned for them.

FAM LOVE and LINDA JUNE will co-hostess a Halloween party on Saturday, Oct. 23, at the Love residence on Thorny Brae. Nearly 40 teenagers will gather. A Scavenger hunt and a teen age buffet featuring hot dogs, cokes, etc. are just a few of the plans in store.

MEMBERS OF THE HOBBY CLUB had their annual progressive dinner, Mary and Bill Lowery served cocktails and canapes at their home on Thorny Brae to start the ball rolling. Next a selection of salads and hot breads at the home of Paul and Arlene Mosher. Standing rib roast, fried chicken, and other items formed the main course at Stan and Wanda Guzik's.

The club wound up the evening with dessert and coffee and dancing at the home of Beryl and Gary Munro on Peppermill. Attending the fun filled and calorie laden evening were Ray and Norma Eckenley; Irene and Fred Malik. Jo and Kathy Ziska, Paul and Barbara Karbell, Harry and Betty Anderson, Marg and Frank Tuversson, Lucy and John Perz, Jerry and Theda Thayer.

OUR LADY OF SORROWS is holding a class on the History of the Church. It will continue for nine weeks. Father Luchi will conduct the church class. It is titled "The Protestant and Catholic Reformation." Everyone is welcome.

SATURDAY NIGHT WAS DANCE NIGHT for Farmingtonites. St. Alexander's held their fifth anniversary dance at Roma Hall. Fred Day supplied the music. There was a lavish buffet of roast beef, chicken, ham, spaghetti, and pizza.

MEANWHILE, OUR LADY OF SORROWS held their annual "Parish Mixer," a get acquainted dance, at the church parish hall. "The Million-Aires" supplied the music and they danced until one o'clock.

ALTHOUGH AUTUMN is well on its way, the Garden Clubs are still flourishing. Harper Woods Garden Club presented "My Country 'Tis of Thee" a flower show in honor of Columbus Day.

THE JOHN F. KENNEDY MEMORIAL LIBRARY IN HARPER WOODS was the site of the show. Mrs. Bob Hastings took third place in the "one member luncheon."

HILL AND DALE took a place ribbon for its Williamsburg 18th century table. Plates in deep red with white background were used. The centerpiece was red and white sumac.

IN THE JUNIOR DIVISION, Konnie Kustron, Karol Kustron and Pam Hastings took honors. "CUP OF FLOWERS" division again brought Konnie and Karol second place.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, the Al Smalls—All four of them. Oct. 23 is the birthday of Al Small, Jr. Oct. 24 is the birthday of Al Small, Sr., Al Small III, and Mrs. Small Sr. The Senior Smalls are in Florida so the usual big family celebration will wait until their return. Al Small is the general Farmington and Redford Observer circulation manager.

'Exercise: Ragweed' Fireman Apprentice Ronald R. Conkright, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin T. Conkright, 20316 Gillman, Livonia, participated in First Fleet Training exercise "Ragweed," while serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Kitty Hawk.

AT HEARINGS IN LIVONIA:

Suburbs Speak on County Reapportionment

How can suburban residents gain a stronger voice on county boards of supervisors?

A committee of the State Legislature, in Livonia Monday for public hearings on county reapportionment, heard five pleas for the "one man-one vote" principle in testimony from local political leaders.

Livonia Mayor Harvey Moelke, Farmington Democratic leader Aldo Vagnozzi, Wayne County Board of Supervisors member R. F. Hutcheson of Wayne, Plymouth Mayor James Houk, and Northville City Manager Roger Rehberg all urged reapportionment. Although they agreed on the "one man-one vote" idea, they differed on the question of partisan elections for members of boards of supervisors.

Representing the apportionment committee of the Michigan Municipal League, Moelke said his group supported "immediate reapportionment based upon strict population criteria with election by the electorate of all supervisors."

In addition to population, he said, the committee favored boards of supervisor election districts based on contiguous and compact districts which, whenever possible, followed local units of government boundary lines.

"For example," he said, "we in Livonia, and in each suburban community, should be able to elect our own municipal representatives to the Board." Speaking as Mayor, he emphasized the point, and added his belief that public officials should be allowed to run for the supervisors' posts.

Livonia Democratic Representative Marvin Stempien served on the committee which took testimony, and said the group's next stops were Iron Mountain, Port Huron and Detroit.

"We hope to have a bill drafted early next year and hope for its passage in the early part of the session," Stempien said.

Vagnozzi suggested implementation of the Kleinert plan for county board revision, which sets up a four-man reapportionment commission, made up of two Democrats and two Republicans, to draw up election boundaries. He agreed with the general plea for immediate reapportionment voiced by Moelke. The two, however, differed on the question of partisan elections, with Moelke urging a non-partisan vote and Vagnozzi plugging for a partisan ballot.

Hutcheson pointed out that the out-county area in Wayne County, although it has more than 50 per cent of the population, has a minority of representation on the Board of Supervisors. An area (Detroit) with less than half the population, has a majority on the Board.

Houk, emphasizing Moelke's points, urged non-partisan elections, as did Rehberg, who said non-partisan voting "would tap the best talent in all groups." The local hearings were held in the meeting room of the Livonia Police Department.

Terrell Is Promoted

Appointment of Richard L. Terrell as general manager of Frigidaire Division of General Motors, Dayton, O., effective Nov. 1, was announced by GM President James M. Roche.

Terrell will succeed Herman F. Lehman who goes on special assignment until Nov. 30 when he retires at age 65 under provisions of the General Motors' retirement program.

Name Price McAllister To Manufacturer's Joy-Stahelin Branch

Price S. McAllister has been appointed manager of the Joy Road-Stahelin Office of Manufacturers National Bank. He will assume the duties of Virgil S. Leach who has accepted a position as executive vice president of the Security Bank and Trusts Company in Mt. Carmel, Ill.

A native of Detroit, McAllister has been a manager of Manufacturers Bank's Plymouth-Telegraph Office since he first was named an officer in 1958.

An Army veteran of World War II, McAllister is a director and past president of the Kiwanis Club of Lola Valley and a past director of the Redford Chamber of Commerce. He also is International Relations chairman for Division III of Kiwanis International.

Burroughs VP Tells How To Meet Market Need

R. O. Baily, a vice president of Burroughs Corporation, addressed the nation's marketing executives at a session of the National Industrial Conference Board in New York City on "Meeting the Needs of Today's Segmented Markets."

He cited examples of successful market segmentation strategy of the auto, publication and food industry as well as Burroughs own program. He said that there are four vital elements required to meet effectively the needs of these markets:

A well defined set of objectives, versatile yet specialized products, a sales force turned to customer needs, and perceptive sensing mechanisms to keep in touch with today's realities.

Noting that stiff competition, rapid technological change and growing customer sophistication have created headaches for marketing management, he maintained that these same conditions were generating unlimited opportunities for creative and aggressive companies.

In the business machines industry, exploding world demand for adding and accounting machines as well as computer systems has made it imperative for marketing resources to be concentrated with the greatest possible precision in order to serve all segments of demand, Baily pointed out to the conferees.

The Burroughs vice president emphasized that only aggressive and experienced marketing leaders, willing to make tough decisions could hope "to divide and conquer" in today's market place.

War Hero Is Speaker

Clifford C. Higgins, Jr., son of Mrs. Clifford Higgins, Sr., of Farmington, will be the guest speaker at Detroit Country Day School on Wednesday, October 27. The subject of his talk will be "Our Position in Viet Nam."

Last week, Higgins received a medal from the War Department - a "commendation for Valor" in the raid on Pleiku, South Viet Nam, February 7th. It was in this action that he was wounded.

He spent 13 months with the U.S. Advisory forces in South Viet Nam, after his basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky, and paratrooper training at Fort Benning, Georgia.

Higgins was graduated from Detroit Country Day School in 1959.

PROVINCIAL MOTHERS from Felician Sister homes in Canada, Chicago and Connecticut paid their respects to Mother Laudine, of Madonna College, prior to her departure to Rome where she will become Vicar General of the Order. Shown bidding Mother Laudine farewell are: (from left) Mother M.

Raphael of Chicago, Mother M. Innocenta of Chicago, Mother Laudine and Mother M. Viterbia of Enfield, Conn. The group also attended the cornerstone laying ceremonies for the new residence hall and academic building on the campus.

K of C to See Film on Cuba, Public Is Invited

At its regular meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 3, St. Francis Council, Knights of Columbus will present the motion picture "Castro's Take Over of Cuba". It is narrated by Serafin Menacol.

Menacol is a graduate of Havana and former president of the Cuban Electric Company. He was an eye witness to the story and managed to escape to the United States with his family.

The public is invited to this movie. There will be no charge or collection.

The K of C hall is located at 21900 Middlebelt Road, Farmington. The program starts at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 3.

Longacre Parents To See Circus Film

"It's the best circus film ever produced and I've been in this business a long time", claims Dennis Atkinson of Ideal Pictures about the circus movie to be shown, during Teacher's Institute at Longacre Elementary School, 34850 Arundel, on Friday, Nov. 5.

There's 96 minutes of laughter and fun in following the adventures of a young boy in the exciting and colorful world of the circus. Adding to the merriment is the Head of the Laugh Department - that imp of a chimp, Mr. Stubbs.

"There's been a lot of circus films made," said Atkinson, "but usually you'll find one or more depraved characters in them, but there is nothing but good, wholesome people in this picture." There will be a cartoon along with the movie - both in color. The two films were made by the most famous producers of children's movies and cartoons in Hollywood.

He is such a diversified businessman that he also owns a famous amusement park in the West and can also be seen in color on TV every Sunday evening at 7 p.m.

Show times will be at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. in the multi-purpose room at Longacre. Advanced ticket sales will be held on Nov. 1, 2 and 3 from 8:15 to 8:45 a.m. as well as on Friday, Nov. 5, prior to the movie.

Refreshments will be available.

Sr. Citizens On the Go In Plymouth

The management of the Plymouth Bowl has offered its facilities to the Senior Citizens Club of Plymouth at a reduced rate. Members are urged to take advantage of the offer at once while the lanes are available. Reservations for the catered Thanksgiving dinner on Nov. 18 in the Masonic Temple must be made by Nov. 4.

The bus for the Ice Follies performance at Olympia Stadium in Detroit will leave the Masonic Temple at 12:30 p.m. on Nov. 20. The price is $2 plus $1 for bus fare. Members should make reservations now to insure good group seating. Call Dorothy Welhmi at 453-2164.

Host and Hostess for the month of November are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ciolkoski with Chairman Mrs. Adelph Trapp and her committee of Hilda Barnes, Evelyn Fischer, Zaida Fisher, Ethel Micol and Addie Storrie.

KEYS TO FOUR Plymouths are presented to Assistant Supt., Melvin Blunk (left), and William Green, director of driver education for the school system, by Robert Mallory, president of Arbor Chrysler-Plymouth agency at the intersection of Ann Arbor and Lilley Roads. The School Board will have use of the cars for the driver education program for a year courtesy of Mallory. The 1966 Fury models are completely equipped with all powers, automatic transmission and dual controls.

Apartment Projects

Robert Wedler, who has appeared before the Board on several occasions, with his request for rezoning the site at the intersection of Ann Arbor Road and Haggerty for a shopping center, made another plea for C-1 zoning. After considerable discussion, the Commission approved a public hearing but informed Wedler that a C-1 zoning would not allow a bank which apparently is one of the keys to his project.

Wedler told the Board that he had not been told that he could change his request for rezoning prior to a final decision. Earlier the Commission had denied a request for C-2 after a lengthy public hearing.

After hearing Wedler's complaint, the Commission on its own initiative voted to grant the second public hearing on C-1.

Bernard and George Stad-miller requested rezoning of the site on Ann Arbor Road west of Sheldon for an apartment that would include 64 one-bedroom units and 64 two-bedroom apartments with parking facilities for 250 cars.

The land is adjacent to a non-conforming wood manufacturing plant and the Board approved the request and set the public hearing for the November meeting.

Gerald Loissele is seeking rezoning on eight and a half acres on Five Mile Road near Bradner (the Plymouth Fruit Farms) for a proposed 112-unit apartment project. He has 760 foot frontage on Five Mile Road and plans seven buildings with 16 units to each.

Holtzman and Silverman and the Gould Development Company asked for rezoning of the 9.206 acres in the Ann Arbor Trail-Haggerty section for multi-dwellings but indicated they were in no hurry for a decision although they would like some action from the Board in another two or three months.

In other actions, the Board accepted preliminary plans and the restrictions for the development of the area south of Postiff Ave. by the Rose Hill Building Co.

Plymouth Optimists Plan Open House In Membership Drive

The Plymouth Optimist Club will kickoff its 1965-6 membership drive Monday, Nov. 1 with an open house dinner meeting at Lofy's to which business, industrial and civic leaders of the community have been invited.

The program is designed to acquaint guests with the functions of the Optimists in the community and also to sell as many as possible on becoming members of the Club.

President John Close indicated the function of the program is to recruit new members from all persons interested in becoming affiliated with a service club.

Tolerance can be used as a yardstick in measuring the character of any man.

VFW Post Halloween Dance Set

Mayflower Post 6695, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold its Halloween dance next Saturday, Oct. 30 in the Post Home on Mill Street in Plymouth. Larry Livingston and his band will furnish the music from 9:30 p.m. to 2 a.m. The public is invited and there will be prizes for costumes.

Mayflower Post color guard handled the flag raising ceremonies at the Plymouth High homecoming game two weeks ago.

With the 1965 membership drive slated to end Sunday, Oct. 31, Mayflower Post officers report only 55 per cent of last year's total has been reached with a total of 116 members.

The Auxiliary has 75 paid up members or 60 per cent of the membership of last year.

Auxiliary members presented 18 classroom flags to students in the Washington School in Livonia. Those attending included: Mrs. Lucy Johnson, Mrs. Mildred Dely and Mrs. Lou Archer.

Post Commander William Cadaret, Auxiliary President Mrs. William Cadaret, Betty England, Mrs. Jack Olsaver and Mrs. Lucy Johnson will go to Port Huron over the weekend when Mrs. Sam Goldstein, of Chicago, National President of the Ladies Auxiliary makes her official visit to the Department of Michigan.

Drivers Are Urged to Get Plates Early, Avoid Long Wait

LANSING—Secretary of State James M. Hare has urged responsible insured Michigan drivers to get in line early for 1966 license plates to get away from last-minute rush which could be bigger than ever because of the new Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Act.

"It's going to take longer to process applications for plates this year because of collections to the Fund," Hare said. "Since this is the Fund's first year, we're bound to have some confusion and delay on collections."

He said this is the reason he is appealing to persons who have liability insurance, have insurance certificate, policy, or other affidavit, to get into Secretary of State branch offices early in November to obtain 1966 plates."

Hare said he expected that most of the "buy early" people will be those who will be paying only $1 into the new Fund.

"Uninsured vehicle owners who will be paying the increased fee of $35 into the Fund will probably be among those in the last-minute rush for plates before the deadline of Feb. 28," Hare said.

"And this $35 doesn't buy them a cent's worth of insurance protection," Hare said. "These drivers remain uninsured . . . subject to Michigan's financial responsibility laws . . . subject to repaying the Fund in full in the event a claim is made against the Fund for an accident in which they were negligent."

Although collections begin with the Nov. 1 start of 1966 license plate sales at the more than 200 branch offices of the Secretary of State, only accidents which occur on or after Jan. 1, 1966, will be honored by claims, Hare said.

A small staff headed by Robert E. Hall, Lansing attorney and insurance claims man, has been set up to administer the Fund. Staffing pattern is expected to grow as the volume of claims gets heavier, Hare indicated.

"It's difficult to predict how many claims will be filed against the Fund," Hare said. "We're geared to handle

1,000 the first month and expected heavier volumes as we go along." Michigan has more than two-and-one-half the number of vehicles that Ontario has and "we expect to process about three times the number of claims that Ontario does and perhaps more," Hare stated. "Because of the newness of the Fund, and its complete difference from anything in existence in any other state, we'll just play it by ear and hope for the best," Hare concluded.

DPW News and Notes

By SUPT. JOSEPH BIDA

Plymouth Dept. Public Works The past week found the Public Works Department busy blocking off the Central Parking lot and also making a Parking Lot Survey of all the lots in the downtown area. With all the rain we have had this past week our Public Works men have been busy cleaning leaves off the catch basin tops so as water could drain away.

Manholes were lowered on East Ann Arbor Trail. A six-inch water main was repaired in front of 777 Ann Arbor Trail. We had quite a problem locating this break because it was under old concrete and new blacktop. The men were called out at 11:30 p.m. Thursday evening to shut off gates to reduce the pressures. Work was then resumed Friday morning and the men worked through until 6 p.m. that night before work was completed.

Work was also continued out at the Salem Refuse Site. We have been busy covering rubbish. Sixty-four man hours were spent out there in the past week. The two million gallon reservoir, on Beck Road, has been filled and passed all tests and next week the controls should be in operation.

City Manager Richard Blodgett and myself took our new truck down to Minerva, O., to have the new catch basin and leaf getter installed. We hope this will be soon. Leaves are now being picked up with a piece of equipment loaned to us by R. G. Moeller Company.

It has been observed that the public has been raking leaves out into the street—this not only causes a traffic hazard but plugs up the drains. THIS SHOULD BE STOPPED—the Citizens are urged to rake the leaves out between the sidewalk and the curb—NOT INTO THE STREET. From here the leaves will be picked up.

Crews will be starting at the North end of the city and will work South. This practice will be continued until all leaves are picked up. There will be no set schedule.

Edges were graded on Goldsmith and also on Blanche Streets between Starkweather and Amelia. Parks in the downtown area were cleaned up. One water line was moved on Adams Street. Water was shut off for the winter at the City Parks and playgrounds and at the cemetery.

Thirty-six foundations were dug out at Riverside Cemetery so the head stones can be placed at a later date. In the past week two funerals were held at the Riverside Cemetery. To complete the week's work the alley back of Allison's Parking lot on Main Street was striped. This was off of Blanche Street.

On Dean's List

Midshipman First Class Leonard K. Kane, II, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard K. Kane of 30410 Puritan, Livonia, has been named to the Dean's List for the first semester at the U.S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md. Midn. Kane graduated from Bentley High School in 1961 and attended Michigan State University prior to entering the Naval Academy.

FROM THE VICE-PRESIDENT:

A Plea for Peace

A strong plea for world brotherhood and peace was voiced by U. S. Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey when he appeared Friday in Livonia to kick off United Nations Week and to dedicate the new Adlai Stevenson High School.

Despite its length, The Observer prints here-with the entire text of that address, often punctuated by ad lib remarks, because of its importance as a statement of American foreign policy. It is especially fitting as the 20th anniversary of its observance this week of the 20th anniversary of the founding of the United Nations.

—THE EDITORS

I must apologize for my tardiness. The weather is something, of course, that even the vice-president has no control over. Thank you for your graciousness in waiting.

It is, for me, a source of particular satisfaction—and humility—that you have seen fit to invite me here today.

I wish especially today to pay tribute to the foreign exchange students who are guests here. I want to say how happy we are to have our American communities enriched by these fine young people who come here to share their experiences and backgrounds with us. There is no better way to build peace and understanding than through an exchange of people.

The dedication of this high school in the name of Adlai Stevenson—the first so-named in our country—takes its deepest significance not as a monument to his memory, but as a first milestone in the bright new world he foresaw for all men.

Today would have been a day of tremendous satisfaction for him—because no man in our time was so dedicated to the idea that the only lasting mark a man can leave is a beacon by which the future generations can guide themselves.

In man's physical world, the trail blaze of yesterday is the highway of today. You need merely look about you to see its proof. Only two centuries ago, the French voyagers, pushing westward through the Lakes, paddled their birchbark canoes through the blue waters of the wilderness peninsula of Michigan.

Not one of them could possibly have dreamed of the highway he was blazing or the breadth and power of the new civilization which would use it.

It is my firm conviction that today we embark upon another such adventure, for there are future highways of the mind as well as of the wilderness.

Only 400 short years ago, man believed he was the center of the universe, that the planets themselves revolved around him and had been doing so for only 5,000 years.

Then Copernicus saw with his mind's eye that the earth itself was in motion, that it was not the center of the universe, but part of a larger and more majestic movement.

Man today stands on the threshold of such discovery about himself.

As man once believed the earth was the center of the Heavens, each nation believed it was the center of this earth—and spent its blood and treasure trying to make other nations revolve around it.

This concept compelled other nations, in turn, to preserve at similar cost the independence of their culture and people.

Hundreds of millions of innocent people died, cities were destroyed, libraries of priceless knowledge were obliterated because of this ghastly concept.

But it is no more ordained that the peoples of this world shall revolve around any one nation than that the planets and stars of the Heavens shall revolve around this earth.

That was the great idea of Adlai Stevenson. It is man's latter-day discovery. It is the concept underlying the United Nations.

Today our poets and philosophers—yes, and our forward-looking political leaders—already sense that humanity is on the brink of development of a society which may unloose man's spirit and human potential—a society where, as President Johnson has said, men strive not for themselves alone but for all men.

The United Nations represents the triumph of the concept that no nation is the center of this earth any more than man is an island to himself.

Adlai Stevenson, a Copernicus of public life, gave strength and insight to this concept and he marshalled the giants of the ages to the cause of the United Nations.

"Know Thyself," said Socrates. Adlai Stevenson added to this the Copernican view: That the key to a man's understanding of himself and of his country will be found in all other men and nations.

In a physical world of clashing arms and nuclear weapons, Adlai Stevenson took the noble path of Athens.

It was the knowledge that the only victory is in civilized persuasion . . . that that army never existed, nor that weapon ever invented or devised, by which hostile forces can enter into the realm of men's minds or hearts.

He knew that no nation and no man could ever extinguish the light God gave to men of every race, color and creed; the light of man's free spirit.

There have been many attempts to extinguish this light—dictators throughout the ages have existed, but all of them have been extinguished. Man's desire to be free is a light that no one can extinguish. Freedom cannot live in isolation. Today we do much at home to help the helpless and because of this, we resist aggression abroad, while ever willing to pursue the noble objectives of peace. We seek to build a world of interdependence. There are no militarists in this government. No political party has a monopoly on the virtue of peace.

No physical force ever existed which can turn back the force of the evolution of man's soul.

Consider the preponderant force of the pagan emperors of Ancient Rome.

Their legions were pitted against a forlorn group of men and women who insisted unto death that all men are brothers.

Which has lived through the centuries—the physical force, or the noble idea?

Where are the Caesars, where are the Legions now?

And where is the noble idea?

The idea governs the consciences of billions of people of all religions—and may it soon govern the conduct of nations.

Like the early idea among men, two thousand years ago, the early idea—as among nations—faces a heavily armed world.

The United Nations today may appear weak in the physical world. But that nation does not exist which is powerful enough to kill it. For the idea moves forward.

And among its allies is the United States of America.

The most wealthy and powerful nation on earth, we have made our commitment to the idea and the precepts which underly the United Nations.

For, in this nuclear age, we have reached the maturity to know that the strongest and weakest in mankind are equally vulnerable to mankind's dangerous inventions.

We have come to realize that, faced with a world two-thirds hungry, sick and ignorant, no one nation, acting alone, can hope to carry the burden of remedying those conditions.

We have come to know that both man's survival and his progress depend on his devising common and peaceful solutions to disputes and disagreements which, in previous history, were settled by force.

What we seek to do in faraway places, like Vietnam, is to demonstrate that force, brute force, shall not destroy freedom.

We have come to see that the evolution of man's technology has indeed forced evolution in man's organization and behavior.

Adlai Stevenson placed his faith and hope in the United Nations—even in times when it was mocked, belittled and disregarded as an international instrument.

For his greatness was in his ability to look beyond the limited horizons of the mockers and belittlers.

Today Adlai Stevenson is not with us. But his aspirations, his breadth of vision, his commitments to the United States as an institution . . . to the interdependence of man as a reality of life are shared by this nation.

People like Eleanor Roosevelt, Dag Hammarskjöld, John F. Kennedy, Pope John XXIII and Stevenson gave their lives for principles like this. Everyone, a soldier of peace—peace is man's noblest pursuit. Peace requires far more courage than war, it requires a sense of dedication.

Could the French couriers viewing these wilderness shores have imagined modern Detroit?

Could Columbus, tracing his lonely line across the Atlantic, have dreamed he was blazing trail for ocean liners and jets?

Could Galileo, training his telescope on distant sky, have dreamed that man would one day leave this planet?

These are miracles we today accept. Adlai Stevenson accepted them and their expanding truths as the challenge of the future.

He believed—and the coming generations will prove—that the upward striving of man will bring revelations by which he may cure the ills of his body politic as he now cures the ills of his physical body.

You stand on the threshold of these great new perceptions.

As long as man has the ability for surveillance, to know what's going on, warriors and dictators, who need secrecy, will not succeed. When you open up men's minds, and give them knowledge and learning, it is difficult for dictators to arise.

If one may presume to speak for his great and gentle spirit, I know that Adlai Stevenson would want this school to stand not as a monument to him, but to the promise and the goal of the true brotherhood of man.

Let us then make our hopes the hopes of all men. Let us make our cause the cause of mankind.

Moose of G.C. Have Big Heart

Editor: It is with the most sincere and heartfelt gratitude that I present this letter of thanks to the Moose Lodge of Garden City in behalf of the Mayor and City Council, all the Santaland Committee members and citizens of the City of Garden City for the donation of their hall on Saturday, Oct. 16, for the purpose of raising funds for the community project of Santaland.

It is only through the unanimous gestures of public minded individuals and organizations such as the Moose Lodge that civic projects of the nature of the Santaland Dance held Oct. 16 can attain their fullest success.

Health Menace

Editor: An item in your paper quoted Farmington Township Supervisor as saying, "The only time the Township can enter in is when the houses are a menace to the health, safety, or morals of the community."

If that is the case, then he must consider draining septic tanks into open ditches, not hazardous to one's health. This situation has been brought to his attention on numerous occasions and we have been told that nothing can be done unless the house is empty.

Light Needed Now

Editor: We feel that the City of Livonia should get an investigation underway as to why the Wayne County Road Commission cannot put up a light now instead of "sometime early next year" at the business intersection of Five Mile and Levan. Levan is a county road which now has a yellow flashing light at this crossing but is still an extremely dangerous intersection.

This traffic crossing is close to St. Mary Hospital. Yesterday an ambulance carrying a passenger and an automobile were involved in an accident.

"Sometime early next year" is going to be too late for someone or perhaps several people. Kingsbury Heights Residents

Mall Needs A Light

Editor: HELP! Mr. Editor, City Council, Traffic Safety Bureau . . . Somebody! PLEASE can't we have more of a traffic light system at the Livonia Mall Shopping Center?

There should be a light on both Seven Mile and on Middlebelt to enable the drivers to get out safely. Both roads have so many lanes it is extremely dangerous to get out. Especially if one wants to make a left hand turn and when one does it blocks traffic in the line because it can't get out.

I like the Livonia Mall very much, but I find myself avoiding it because of this. With the holidays coming up it will get even worse.

Wonderland has the light system and I see no reason why Livonia Mall doesn't. Even your small shopping centers have at least one light.

Also I think a left turn only light would be good at the intersection also as at Wonderland. How can we go about getting this? Do I have reason to be concerned or am I

JUST A CHICKEN

Fresh Air, Please

Editor: All I can say is Help! Won't somebody help convince people who burn and smolder their paper in big metal drums or barrels that it's illegal—against the law! All that's really proper is the large wire cage type burning basket. For the air feeds the first, burning it all away fast; then the leftover cinder ash blows away.

It should blow away. It's settled back into the earth and holds no ill smelling and sickening effects on anyone. Let's be kind to each other. Have you ever been surrounded by six such loaded and packed down drums and got their odors in the house?

Well you get sick and dizzy and might even get a heart attack breathing the filth into your bloodstream.

A FRESH AIR FIEND

Policemen, Too

Editor: Suburban highway facilities are increasing at an alarming rate. Recently The Observer published a letter about putting lights on in the fog or early dusk. This week I saw a policeman, in his private car, pull out onto Farmington Road from the police lot after sundown with no lights on. How do you like that?

It looks like a lot of people need driver education. Adults, and policemen, not just teenagers.

Club For Investigation

Editor: We of the Livonia Non Partisan Club Inc. urge the City Council and all citizens interested in the present police problems facing our community to support the Citizens Study Committee. This committee has recently been organized to conduct an independent investigation of Livonia's police problem.

Police protection is a most elementary and necessary function of any government. Livonia has not only been humiliated but more important placed in a vulnerable situation by the exodus of fine qualified police officers.

We congratulate any citizen or group of citizens who take the time and effort to study this crucial and alarming problem.

We recognize that in order for this committee to achieve its goal that they will require the interest and support of all citizens that share this problem. We as an organization, our major purpose being to advance and promote civic interest; to encourage high standards of citizenship; and to protect the public interest and welfare, fully support this committee.

Ed Note: Members of Livonia Non-Partisan Club and Citizens Study Committee have one and the same members. This is all right, but we would like the results of their investigation published well before the next Livonia majority race. Both groups are former supporters of William Brashear in his previous candidacy for mayor.

CARROLL C. PATZSCH President, L.N.P.C. Livonia

'Humanity Dying'

Editor: In defense of attorney Brennan and to enlighten the darkened mind of some writers, I have something to say briefly:

To a man of the cloth who would even think, let alone state, boldly that there should be parental consent for teenagers to live together in trial marriage, I say such a person must be pretty low down spiritually. God help such a soul who occupies such a pulpit and condones such a view.

Why condone fornication in any form? Its prevalence to ever-increasing cases of venereal disease, let alone the guilty conscience which must develop from such behavior. Do our reverends of today ever think of getting teenagers together for a weekly hymn sing?

This would have something of the essence of faith in God, absolutely respect for clean living, which is the best start in life a young person can have. Decency and respect for law and order early in life makes for good citizenship later.

We are taught to abhor the rodent and rats. The only rats I am afraid of are the two-legged human rats, and they are multiplying rapidly. Animal rats are easily dealt with, using Decon. Wake up, parents and Gospel ministers. Nothing is so cheap as a human life today, the world over: babes thrown in ashcans, children raped.

Nothing could be more degrading than the behavior of 75 per cent of the human race today. They're hardly human any more. I know. I've been in the business of service to humanity many years.

Teenagers

Editor: Do some of our good citizens really care what happens to our teenagers? I live in the first block off Five Mile Road on Yale, and yesterday at 1:00 o'clock in the afternoon, some neighborhood boys were practicing a hand in the garage next door to me.

One of our good neighbors called the police and complained about this music. Now, I'll grant this neighbor the courtesy of saying that the music was a bit loud, but I'm sure if he had walked over and asked the boys to quiet down, they would have done so.

At the time this music was being played, I had two grandbabies asleep in the room right next to it, and when I checked on them, they were sleeping as only the innocent can sleep. Would our neighbor rather these boys were out with a gang, wrecking a park, or maybe endangering lives on the highways? Wouldn't it be better for these TALENTED youngsters to practice?

HOW MUCH DO YOU WANT TO GET OUT OF LIFE?

Beautiful 20-year-old Jennie Wallis, popular Dearborn model, 5'7", 37-25-37, 132 lbs., says: "Until about four years ago I had been a sickly girl all my life. Most of the food I ate did not agree with me, and I suffered from flu attacks every year. I was soft and flabby and had a difficult time participating in sports and social activities.

"Since I began using unprocessed foods and especially a high-protein diet which includes beef that is not fattened artificially I have not had any more trouble with retaining water in my tissues. No more eyeglasses for me either!

"I also use weight lifting four times weekly for figure control. Since I began using natural food supplements I have been able to control overweight and the bloated feeling I had before."

Jennie Wallis neither smokes or drinks and is the mother of a cute 3-year-old girl. "I heartily recommend anyone with a career in mind, or who wants to enjoy a zestful life, to get acquainted with the natural way of life — try ZERBO'S NUTRITIONAL PROGRAM."

OBSERVER RECOMMENDS DINGEMAN and FOLEY FOR CIRCUIT COURT

It is the policy of this newspaper to recommend only candidates for public office that are known to us personally, or by observing them at public meetings through the years, or if they come recommended by a trusted third party.

As noted in The Civic Searchlight for the office of Circuit Court Judge the four given "Preferred and Well Qualified" are Harry J. Dingeman, Jr., Thomas J. Foley, Charles S. Farmer and Blair Moody, Jr.

The recommendation of The Observer Newspapers can underline the two known to us, through the medium of the newspaper business. Harry J. Dingeman, Jr., 49, resident of Edinborough, Detroit, is excellent judge material. He has the experience of being a Common Pleas Court Judge since 1947, always serving with integrity. He is respected by his fellow judges and attorneys. Both Edward Drangelis, City Attorney from Plymouth, Steve Polgar, City Attorney of Livonia—many other Livonia attorneys including Livonia City Councilman John Dooley, recommend Judge Dingeman.

It is Judge Dingeman's opinion the millions of dollars in granting new trials for already confessed and convicted criminals could be more logically spent to beef up the police department and raising pay levels and its image to a point where once again the Department would attract the highest types of candidates for policemen and have them paid adequately. This makes sense to us too.

The other candidate we seriously ask you to consider with a vote is Thomas Foley, 43, of Priscilla Lane, Plymouth.

Thomas Foley is an attorney, former Wayne County Assistant Prosecuting Attorney from 1950-56. He has a Ph.D. and L.L.B. from University of Detroit.

He knows the suburban problems, a justifiable reason for a vote on this issue alone. He has the confidence of a large segment of his fellow lawyers, and has always maintained a high level of integrity in his career of attorney, both his six years as assistant prosecutor and nine more in private practice. He is presently attorney for Canton Township.

The election is Tuesday, Nov. 2. Please vote!

Back From South Africa

Tom Czubiak of 33135 W. Fourteen Mile Rd., Farmington Township has just returned from a trip to South Africa. This is his second trip there in six months, with the Credit Department of Ford Motor Co. In his travels, he meets with other credit personnel and also Ford Dealers.

The trip to Africa, is 25 hours by jet, New York to Rome, then Athens, and finally destination Africa. According to Czubiak Africa is one of the cleanest places in the universe. It is perfectly safe to drink the water and eat the vegetables, unlike some of the other foreign countries.

Flowers bloom everywhere, and are used throughout the continent in profusion for decoration. Usually swimming and golf are the chief means of recreation but this was the early Spring season in Africa, so the weather was too chilly to indulge in these pastimes.

Mr. Nemeth was born in Hungary in 1916 and had been a farmer during his working years. Mr. Nemeth is survived by his wife Anna Smold of Detroit.

Mr. Manning died Oct. 24 in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. He was born in Cord, Ark. and was an inspector at Evans Products Co. He had resided in Plymouth since 1946 and was a member of Plymouth Rock Masonic Lodge F. & A.M. No. 147, Fishers of Wixom and two grandchildren.

Mr. Sutherland had been a frequent visitor to the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Patterson in recent years. She was a member of the First United Presbyterian Church.

Drive For Members Success

"The Farmington Jaycees' fall membership drive was a complete success," reported Pat Nowak, Jaycee President. "The turnout of new men and their wives was much better than hoped for."

Registrations will be taken for all age groups Thursday night at 7:30 in the Plymouth High school annex and auditorium. Parents are urged to attend with their youngsters. The next practices are scheduled for Nov. 5 and Nov. 12 in Tilbury, Ont. Departure time is 8:30 p.m. and all sessions will be for two hours of ice time.

Officers of the Hockey Association tried desperately to secure ice time in area rink but none was available. They finally committed themselves to the Toledo and Tilbury rinks. If anyone in the Plymouth area knows of any artificial ice for rent within a 50-mile radius, please contact Vern Schilawski at 453-9279 or Jim McKinley at 453-7036.

Among the women assisting Director Molly Hechler, will be Joyce Bass, Dorothy Bienenfeld, Mary Fellaender, Florence Goldberg, Maxine Jackson, Roz Kahl, Dorothy Knopner and Betty Levy.

Plenty of Players But Plymouth Loop Needs Practice Rink

Hockey players, 18 years old and younger residing in the Plymouth area, are eligible for competition in the Plymouth Hockey Association. The first practice is slated for Saturday, Oct. 20 in the Ice Arena in Toledo with players leaving at 5:45 a.m. from the rear of the City Library.

Registrations will be taken for all age groups Thursday night at 7:30 in the Plymouth High school annex and auditorium. Parents are urged to attend with their youngsters. The next practices are scheduled for Nov. 5 and Nov. 12 in Tilbury, Ont. Departure time is 8:30 p.m. and all sessions will be for two hours of ice time.

Officers of the Hockey Association tried desperately to secure ice time in area rink but none was available. They finally committed themselves to the Toledo and Tilbury rinks. If anyone in the Plymouth area knows of any artificial ice for rent within a 50-mile radius, please contact Vern Schilawski at 453-9279 or Jim McKinley at 453-7036.

1,000 Brave Cold to View Madonna Cornerstone Event

More than 1,000 friends, students, alumni and supporters of Madonna College braved wintry blasts on a brisk, cloudy Sunday for the cornerstone laying ceremonies for the new residence hall and the academic buildings.

BLESSING THE CORNERSTONE for the Academic Building is Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph Rybinski, vice rector of St. Cyril and Methodius Seminary at Orchard Lake. The ceremonies were viewed by more than 1,000 students, alumni and friends of Madonna College.

Juvenile Crime on Rise In Suburbs, Davids Warns

Crime in the suburbs is rising at an alarming rate. It will continue to increase unless the community as a whole adopts a more realistic attitude toward juvenile delinquency.

Such was the message that Michigan's top law-enforcement officer brought to this area. State Police Commissioner Frederick E. Davids spoke to a luncheon meeting attended by members of the Western Wayne-Oakland County Board of Realtors at Cregar's Restaurant, in Detroit.

"The number of young people involved in serious acts of misbehavior has risen constantly for the past six years," Davids reported. "Crime figures for the past three years indicate that 55.7 per cent of the total arrests for major crimes involved children under 17."

Davids reminded his hearers that in our modern society the city limits, township and county lines and other political-subdivision boundaries grow less distinct each year. As a result, he said, youthful behavior and youth crime have taken on new dimension and character.

"The availability of the automobile, improved roads and a thriving economy have done much to make today's youth mobile. These changes and their related community involvements place a premium on co-operative effort by schools, courts and law-enforcement agencies," he declared.

AMERICAN FLAG that flew over the White House is presented to Mother Laudine, new Vicar General of the Felician Sisters, by Congressman Billie S. Farnum. He asked Mother Laudine to take it to Rome with her and have it placed on the flagpole of the Motherhouse there.

Participating in the academic procession were guests of the Felician Sisters from Canada, Buffalo, N.Y., Enfield, Mass., and Chicago.

Among the distinguished visitors were: Congressman Billie S. Farnum, and his executive secretary William Coughlin, Mayor and Mrs. Harvey Moelke, Dearborn Mayor and Mrs. Orville Hubbard, Judge and Mrs. Nathan Kauffman, Councilman Edward O'Connor, of Detroit, Livonia Council President and Mrs. Rudolf Kleiwert, State Representative and Mrs. Marvin Stempien, Architect Robert Svoboda and his wife, Builder Richard Brennan and James Reed.

The program served as a cornerstone laying for the two buildings and as a farewell for Mother Laudine, of Madonna College, who left Tuesday morning for Rome to become Vicar General of the world wide order of teaching sisters.

Dr. Dewey Barich, president of the Detroit Institute of Technology, main speaker of the day, emphasized the significance of Madonna as a college which produces cultural women and effectively teaches the reality of man, God, and the universe.

He spoke of the present concern for excellence in teaching. Finally, he thanked "those who have made possible the present achievements and look forward to even greater things . . ."

Thomas Bosco, Madonna advisory board member, praised the achievements of Mother Laudine, director of the Felician Sisters of Livonia, saying,

"Few have distinguished themselves in so many ways and in so many places. She has exhibited magnanimity and equanimity and is the ultimate in poise, graciousness, and self-confidence . . . has added new vigor and a greater esprit d' corps . . . created a finer image to be cherished as a memory of her foresight . . ."

"You have conceived, believed and achieved." Bosco concluded his speech with a promise of several scholarships to Madonna sponsored by the advisory board.

Several presentations were made to Mother Laudine. John Marcy, president of Madonna College Parents Club, gave her a check as a "small token from sincere hearts."

Congressman Farnum presented her with an American flag with the words, "It is a symbol of democracy and freedom throughout the world. Take it with you to remind you of friends in Michigan and the U.S. My wish and hope is that young people who walk in its shadow may further God's freedom and democracy throughout the world."

Mayor Moelke gave Mother Laudine a golden key to the city.

Mother Laudine responded to the tributes with "My continuous prayer will be 'God bless America and bless each person who has helped to make it so dear to me.' God love you all!"

Monsignor Joseph Rybinski performed the rites of the ceremonial blessing and laying of the cornerstone. After the ceremony the guests attended a reception and tea in honor of Mother Laudine in the college dining hall. Students then took visitors through a tour of the college buildings.

Sister Mary Danatha, President of Madonna, said of the occasion, "This is a milestone in the history of our college. It is our hope that in the very near future we can be witnesses to the dedication of an auditorium, a gymnasium, and a college chapel."

Hail to Champs--Bentley and North Farmington

Clip Trenton, 7-6, in Big Upset

Sing out, all Livonia Bentley High football rooters. Sing out, loud and clear.

Let them hear you everywhere:
"Hail to the champs... Bentley's Champs."
For the second straight year, Coach Larry Joiner has led his young football warriors to a championship in the Suburban Six League.

In 1964, Bentley shared the title with Trenton. Whether Bentley wins the '65 pennant outright, or must split it again with Trenton, depends on what happens this Friday night as the league campaign ends.

If Bentley beats or ties Redford Union on the Bentley Field, it will make no difference what happens to Trenton in its game with Belleville.

Should Bentley lose to RU, and Trenton beat Belleville, there'd be co-champs once more. A Bentley loss and a Trenton loss would mean an outright crown for the Livonians.

Bentley grabbed control of the league's race last Friday night in the suburban area's "battle of the week" which pitted Bentley vs. Trenton.

Both teams took the field with spotless 5-0 records. When the night ended, there stood Bentley with a glorious 7-6 victory—a 6-0 record and nothing worse than a share of the league flag.

And, Trenton? While the Downriver team had been stunned... "upset" cried the papers the next morning in describing what had happened in the rain and the mud at Trenton.

Down at Trenton they still can't understand how their idols could have lost.

Consider these statistics:
1—Trenton ran 55 plays to Bentley's 22.
2—Trenton engineered 16 first downs to Bentley's two.

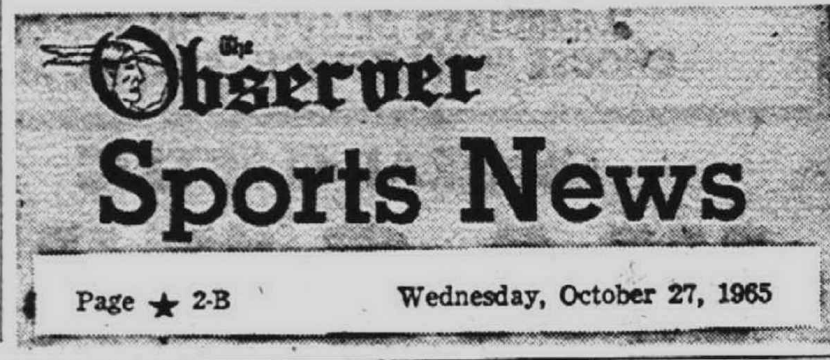

3—Trenton rolled up 297 yards to Bentley's 91. "It just proves statistics mean nothing," laughed Bentley coach Joiner at the game's finish.

"Our kids rose up and stopped them when we had to. That's what counts."

Bentley made the most of one big break. It came in the second period.

Trenton tried a kick. A bad snap from center led

A Boot Defeats Thurston

Only Oak Park stands between North Farmington high school and a sweep to the Northwest Suburban League's 1965 football championship.

The Raiders already are assured of no less than a tie for the crown.

They made sure of that last Saturday in outbattling Thurston, 17-14, in a game decided by the educated toe of Gingt Hansen, the North Farmington exchange student from Sweden.

With the win, North Farmington stretched its league record to 4-0; its overall mark to 6-0.

All that's left in the league for the Raiders is Oak Park this Friday afternoon.

If North Farmington ties or wins, the outright crown will belong to the Raiders. An Oak Park triumph would provide 1964 Franklin a chance to share the flag by beating Thurston Saturday afternoon.

Thurston, now 2-2 in the league and 4-2 over all, was gunning for a chance to pull even with North Farmington. The Townshippers pressed the Raiders all the way.

In fact, with a few moments left, Randy Ault of Thurston reared out of a mixup and heading all by himself for a touchdown. Or it seemed for Thurston fans.

But the officials had ruled they had whistled the ball dead before Ault stole it from a North Farmington back.

The Raiders of Coach Ron Holland capitalized on a Thurston fumble following the opening kickoff to post a 7-0 score in quick fashion.

The recovery took place on the Thurston 33. Two plays later, crack North Farmington quarterback Bill Oldershaw rolled to his right, found an opening and scooted 28 yards to score.

Hansen rushed in to make the conversion.

Thurston didn't stay behind very long. Taking the next kickoff, the Townshippers made no mistakes. Punting away on the ground with first place Reg Baringer and then Paul Santangelo carrying the pigskin, the Thurston force marched to the North Farmington one.

Then the ball went to Baringer who cracked across for the touchdown. A perfect conversion by Dan Harris evened the score at 7-7.

Just before the first half ended, Hansen put his foot to work again. This time, he dropped back to the Thurston 17 and kicked a neat field goal. The ball actually covered 27 yards.

This put North Farmington on top, 10-7, at the intermission.

However, Thurston had threatened when Barry Simescu ran 45 yards with an intercepted pass to the North Farmington 25 where the Townshippers' attack bogged down. A field goal try by Harris failed, because of a poor snap from center.

There was no scoring in the third period as North Farmington held the upper hand and played in the Thurston end for the most part.

Early in the fourth quarter, North Farmington went to the air and on a 34-yard strike from Oldershaw to Chuck Viane fashioned a touchdown that put the Raiders on top 17-7 after Hansen had clicked for his second extra point of the game.

Less than three minutes remained when Baringer turned in the game's most spectacular run. He hauled in a North Farmington punt on his own nine and went winging his way for 91 yards and a touchdown.

Harris ended the scoring with successful conversion.

North Farmington rolled up 279 yards to 131 for Thurston. In first downs, the winners had 10 to Thurston's seven. Six of Thurston first downs came in the first half.

In passing, Oldershaw hit on five of 18, while Thurston tried only three and made one. Thurston fumbled twice and lost the ball each time.

Both coaches hailed their charges at the end.

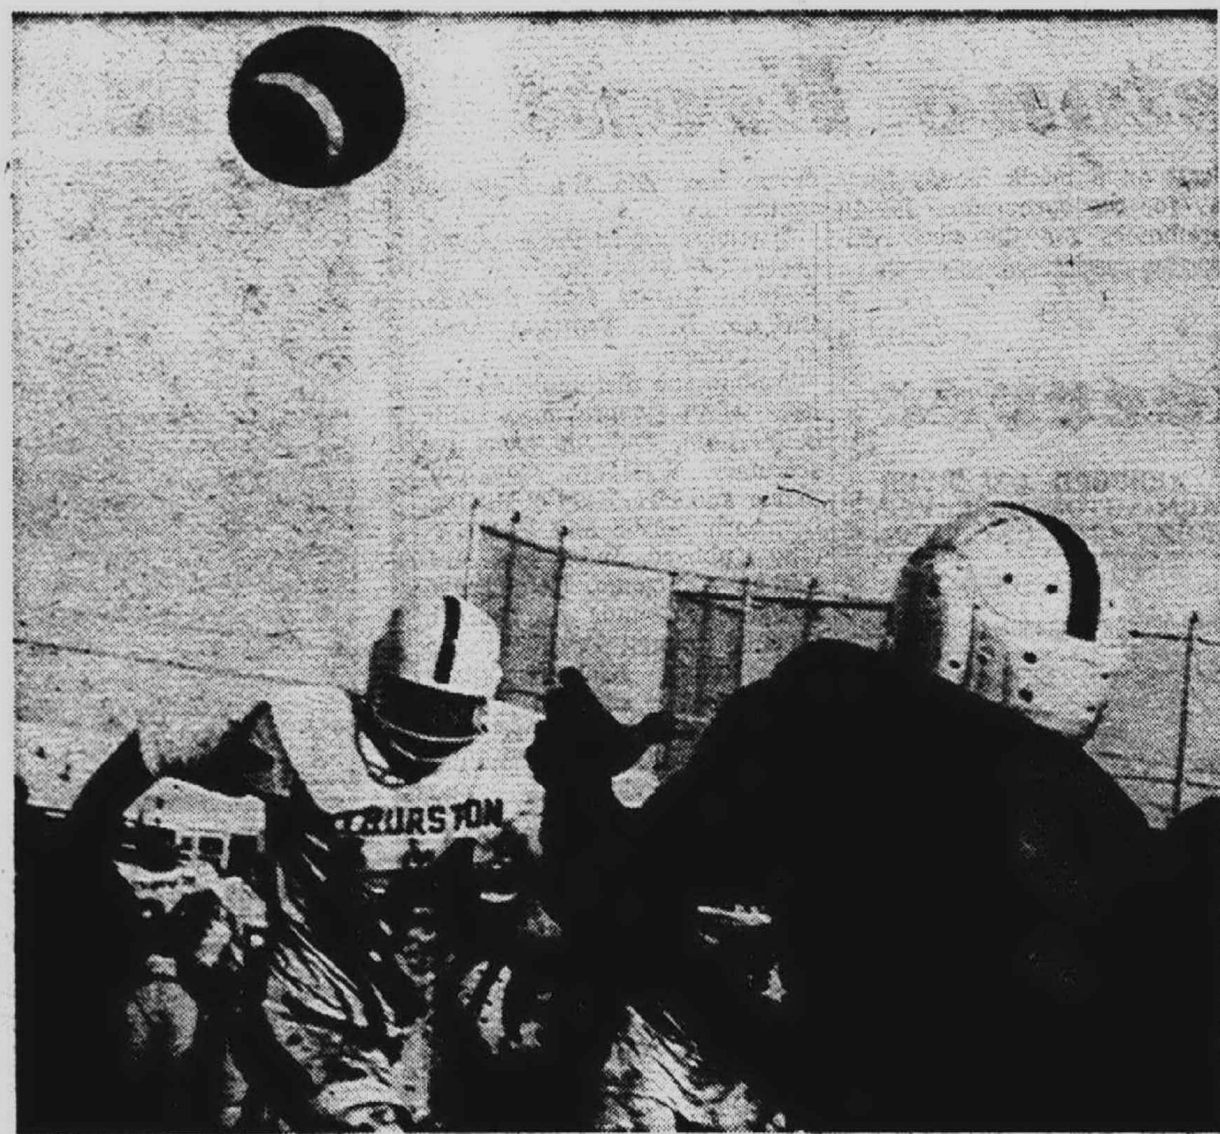

"We fought all the way, and came through when we had to," said North Farmington's Ron Holland.

"I was proud of my kids, even in defeat," said Thurston's Bill McDonald. "The early fumble really hurt us."

Perry Froar Stars For Adrian League

Perry Froar is presently Adrian College's No. 1 punter. Perry is a sophomore and won two varsity letters last year as a freshman.

He was named the league's best first baseman last spring and was one of the Bulldogs' top hitters. Perry plays offensive end and is battling for Adrian's leading pass receiver. Perry came to Adrian from Livonia Bentley High School.

WAITING FOR PASS IS End Chuck Viane for touchdown in 17-14 victory over Thurston. (91), of North Farmington High, as he heads

RU Tops Plymouth In Mud

A 500 season! That's the goal of Redford Union high school's football team which has won two and lost four with two games remaining on its 1965 schedule.

This Friday RU plays at Bentley before winding up the campaign the next Saturday against Township rival Thurston.

"I think we have a great chance to win the final two," said RU coach John Rogers after his charges outlasted Plymouth, 20-6, in the battle of the mud last Friday night.

"We're a better team than our record would indicate," added Rogers. "Our boys have been improving with every game that cheers me a great deal."

All three of the RU touchdowns against Plymouth came on fairly long strikes. Here's the way the RU team tallied:

1—A 40-yard march in which Jim Johnston, Terry Shirkey and Red Ferguson lugged the ball. It was Johnston on a 16-yard chase that ended in the end zone who put RU on the scoreboard first. He added the conversion and RU held a 7-0 bulge.

2—Johnston registered TD No. 2 on a 40-yard dash off tackle. He kicked up a lot of mud as pursuers tried in vain to catch him. Johnston added the point and RU went to the dressing room at halftime with a 14-0 lead.

3—The final RU tally had to be the most electrifying play of the night. Shirkey took the ball at his own 20, hit the line and was off to the land of the roses. He naturally received some nifty blocks before he was able to break into the clear.

Plymouth, which has only a tie to show in its six starts, avoided a shutout with a 50-yard march in the last period. John Adams cracked the final six for the Rocks who have dropped five tilts to drop into last place in the Suburban Six League standings.

Redford Union, 1-3 in the loop, outgained Plymouth, 207-132 yards, in the game which was played for the most part on the ground.

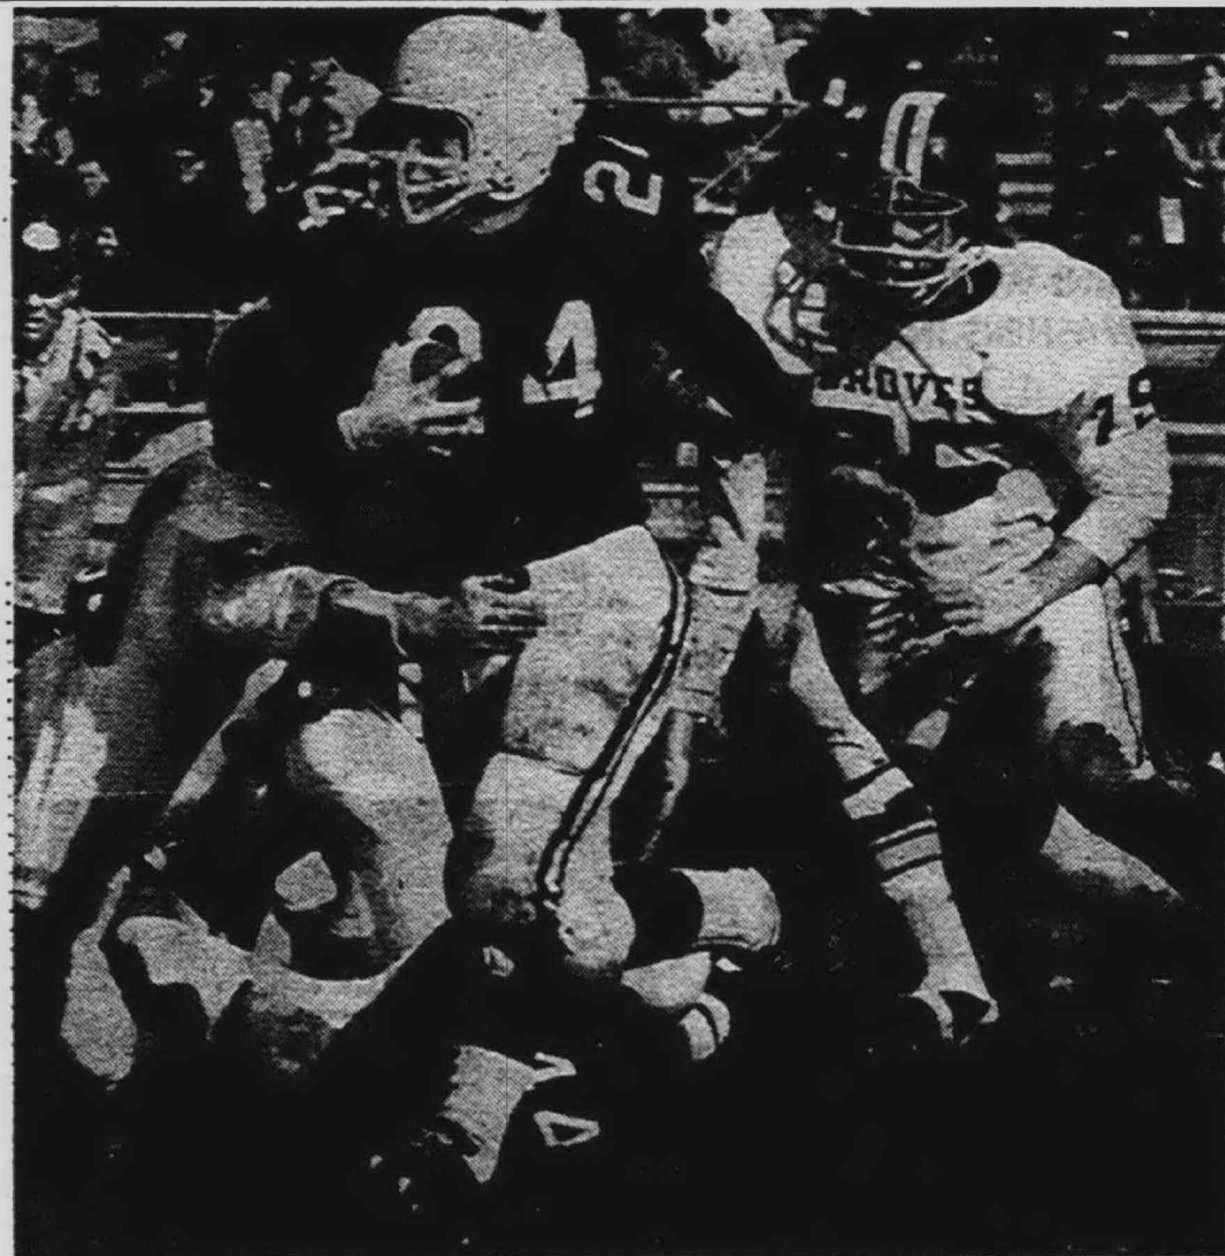

RU tried five passes and made only one. Plymouth fired seven times, but none was completed.

The wet ball didn't help either team.

Bob Gigliotte, Rick Carlson, Ken Griffith and Glen Davis turned in notable defensive efforts for the winners. Davis also handled the quarterbacking again for Redford Union and continued to lead the attack in impressive style.

The RU sophomores got a good chance to show Rogers a few things and Glen Whitelaw, a back, gave indications he'll be a standout in another year.

Former Michigan State football halfback Wayne Fonets has a younger brother, Arnold, who's a member of Ohio State's 1965 grid varsity.

BREAKING LOOSE for a sizeable gain as he helps his team roll to a 19-6 victory around end is Franklin High's Gary Junk (24) over Groves.

Seaman Celebrates
Postal Clerk 3/C Charles R. Thomas, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur L. Thomas, 27735 Terrace Drive, Livonia, a crewmember of the attack aircraft carrier USS Forrestal, helped celebrate his ship's 10th anniversary Oct. 1 while anchored in Genoa, Italy.

Help! Franklin Looks for Some Help... Help... Help. So goes the cry this week at Franklin high school.

Coach Bob Bentley and his footballers need help... help from Oak Park.

If Oak Park can upset North Farmington on Friday, then Franklin will have a chance on Saturday by beating Thurston to wind up as co-champs in the Northwest Suburban League.

Unless Oak Park helps, however, Franklin can't reign at the head of the league for the second year in a row. In 1964, Franklin swept unbeaten through everything to reign as undisputed champs.

"We've known since North Farmington beat us," said Bentley, "that somebody would have to do us a good turn. Nobody has yet."

Franklin surged to its third win in four league games (North

Farmington has a 4-0 mark in the conference by clipping Birmingham Groves, 19-6, last Saturday afternoon.

The game actually was decided in a hurry.

Franklin's Gary Junk sprinted 55 yards in the first play from scrimmage for a touchdown and the Livonians were on their way to victory.

Steve Dippert had a hand in both the other Franklin touchdowns.

He flipped a 15-yard pass for one tally to Al Jose, then culminated the afternoon's entertainment with an exciting 40-yard run to pay land.

Defensively, Franklin turned in its usual fine effort.

Even should Franklin fail in its bid for the league flag, the Joy Road contingent still will have another major crown to shoot at.

After Thurston comes Bentley for the Livonia city title.

And Bentley at the moment stands 6-0 and has wrapped up a share of the Suburban Six Beating Bentley would be enough to make Franklin's season a success.

Farmington Beaten by Lakers for Title

Forty seconds! Yep, 40 seconds! That's how close Farmington high school's football team came to pulling off its second major upset in as many weeks last Friday night.

A week before, unheralded Farmington had knocked East Detroit from the ranks of the unbeaten-untied and also from the first ten in the state Class A ratings.

Now Farmington found itself up against Walled Lake in a showdown for the Inter-lakes Conference championship.

The Falcons had to win to tie the Lakers for the crown. But a deadlock would have meant something, too, for the Falcons, because they took the field at Walled Lake as distinct underdogs.

Until 40 seconds remained on the clock in the last period, Farmington had battled Walled Lake on even terms.

The score read 13-13. Walled Lake had the ball on the Farmington 26. Terry Lehman dropped back and uncorked a pass. It went to Jack Ashby who pulled it down with ease and stepped on to the end zone to tie the Lakers their seventh straight title and break the hearts of every Farmington rooter.

Farmington had fought back after spotting the Lakers a 13-0 lead.

Rick Herron had counted on runs of 2 and 8 yards for the Lakers. The first score resulted from a long march; the second after the Lakers had blocked a punt and recovered the ball on the Farmington 14.

"I guess that was the big break of the game for them," said losing coach Dick Tyler.

Farmington struck back on the passing of Mike Wilson who defied the elements—the rain and a muddy field.

Wilson, operating like a Bart Starr or Johnny Unitas, hit on 16 of 28 passes in the game. He made three out of five for one touchdown in the first half and 12 out of 21 for another TD in the second.

All totalled, Wilson's aeriels were good for 199 yards, which constituted just about all of Farmington's offense. On the ground the Falcons were held to a meager 45 yards.

Wilson elicited to Steve Moore for five yards on Farmington's first touchdown just before the first half ended.

Glenn Defies Elements To Rip Oak Park

It was muddy and damp. But John Glenn high's football team warmed the hearts of its fans by rolling to an easy 32-6 victory over Oak Park in a Northwest Suburban League game.

The outcome of the game never was in doubt. Glenn cashed one touchdown in the first quarter, two in the second and one each in third and final stanzas while holding Oak Park to a single TD in the third quarter.

Jerry Young began the scoring for Glenn with a four-yard run off tackle.

The second-period tallies came on a pair of longer maneuvers.

First Mike Mahakian scooted over from 16 yards out. Then came a neat 38-yard TD pass from Jack Holland to Dennis Jackson.

The last two Glenn touchdowns both were scored by Ron Kuban. He raced in from the ten in the third period and bucked across from the one in the fourth.

In between Kuban's tallies, Cy Weiner slashed four yards to save Oak Park from being shutout.

Stevenson Fashions 3rd Victory

Football's infant fast is becoming a grown up.

After losing its debut on the gridiron, Stevenson high has bounced back to win three straight and bring some smiles to Coach John Reardon, who admits:

"We are delighted the way the team continues to improve with every start."

Ten days ago, Stevenson scored its first conquest over a varsity rival, downing New Boston from Huron, Mich., 13-7, and then last Saturday Stevenson clipped the strong Walled Lake reserve team, 12-6.

A 60-yard pass from Randy Johns to Charles Dickey highlighted the win over New Boston. Dickey hauled in the pigskin on the run and carried it for a touchdown.

Dave Regina scooted five yards for the other TD.

Tackle Carl Homer galloped 60 yards with a recovered fumble for the first touchdown against Walled Lake. A 35-yard pass from Tom Parker to Dave Mastny produced the second counter.

This Saturday Stevenson plays the River Rouge reserves at Rouge at 10 a.m.

Livonians Enter Loop For Hockey

The Livonia Hockey Association again is entering teams in the Westland League for the coming season.

Livonia will contest against rivals from Garden City, Nankin, Plymouth, Wayne, Dearborn Heights, Allen Park and Inkster.

All games will be played on Garden City's artificial rink.

Players interested in joining should contact the following:
12-years and under — Tom Morrell, GR 4-1591.
12-14 years — Jack Harris, GA 1-2858.
14-16 years — Ed McDonald, 421-2221.
16-18 years — Art Perkins, GA 1-7579.

Interested players also may write the Livonia Hockey Association, 29853 MacIntyre, Livonia.

Bob Apsa, Michigan State's brilliant sophomore fullback, was born on the island of Samoa.

Two Big Stakes on DRC Program

Two outstanding Stakes put added spice to the racing program as the 84-day meeting at the Detroit Race Course moves into its final stages. The longest meeting in the 17-year history of the DRC will close on Saturday, Nov. 6.

The Detroit Race Course Special, a $15,000 added event for three-year-olds and up at a mile and one quarter and The Young Matrons, a $7,500 event for three-year-olds and upward fillies and mares headlines the big program at the DRC this Saturday.

The DRC Special likely will result in a rematch between two excellent Detroit owned stars. They are Wesley Ashcraft from the stable of industrialist

East Falls But Score Deceiving

Final scores often are deceiving as was the case last Friday night when Inkster Robichaud wound up a 26-0 winner over Garden City East.

The game was much closer than the score would indicate. Much, much closer.

For example, East didn't yield a point until the third period. By the end of the third stanza, the strong Robichaud team had only a 7-0 lead.

But then Robichaud struck for three touchdowns against a tired gang from Garden City and the score took on a lopsided flavor.

"We worked very hard," said coach Bill Wilson of East. "It's a shame we couldn't click for a touchdown somewhere along the line."

"We had some chances, but just couldn't get through. It sure would have made a difference."

Early McKennie started the scoring for Robichaud in the third period when he slipped across from a yard out. In the fourth period, the same McKennie galloped in from 20 yards out.

Then Robichaud really broke matters apart. A 30-yard pass from Claude Brown to Richard Mason produced the team's third touchdown and LaVerne Gallant finished the scoring when he scooted 40 yards.

East actually did cross the goal line once. Marvin Martin drilled over from the 10-yard line in the second period.

However, a five-yard penalty for offside nullified the TD and East was stopped after being set back on the Robichaud 15.

Mike Sparkman, East's 130-pound ball of dynamite, played his usual fine game for the losers. So did Quarterback Steve Fugabon, getting his first chance to go all the way in a game.

Robichaud now leads the Mid-Wayne League with a 4-0 record.

Homecoming Set at Bentley

October 29 is scheduled as Bentley High School homecoming. After the game and the homecoming parade, the Alumni Association will hold an "Alumni Get-Together."

Cider and donuts will be served in the cafeteria, where alumni can meet their old classmates and talk about "when they went to Bentley."

Sponsored by the Alumni Association, the event will last for an hour after the end of the game. All alumni are invited to attend their homecoming.

Alumni Association members are reminded that they can purchase tickets for the game at half price upon presentation of their Alumni Card.

OBSERVING SPORTS

By George Maskin

PUTTING ONE WORD AFTER ANOTHER... So you didn't like that double penalty against the Lions in the Green Bay game? Or did you?

Somehow we got the impression after seeing the play first on television and later on film that the referee called Bruce Maher for something more than making a tackle after the whistle had blown.

Having officiated ourselves, it struck me that the way the flag was thrown, Maher may have inflicted a little extra when colliding with the ball carrier.

It was a tough call for an official to render, but that's what he's paid $300 a game to do. We can't agree with the fans for creating the vocal storm they did. Had the ruling been made in favor of Detroit, the customers would have gone wild in much different way.

The one play didn't decide the game. It was settled earlier by Bart Starr.

If you're looking for some place different to go, may we suggest the new Windsor Raceway across the river.

We haven't had a chance to get there yet, but we understand it's quite the place to go. Many of the officials at Windsor have served in the past at Livonia's DRC and Wolverine meetings.

Weather can't stop the trotters at Windsor. The new track can take anything the heavens have to offer. The fans will find the clubhouse and other facilities warm and delightful. They even have young ladies who come right to you to collect your money for bets.

This is a lot like in Las Vegas where lovely eye-fuls help to make your financial losses much easier to take.

It's easy to get to the new track. From this side of town we suggest you take the bridge.

Trust you have a Channel 50 receiver in your home what with so many of the Pistons' and Red Wings' games now being carried live.

We received an extra thrill a week back sitting high in the stands in New York's Madison Square Garden and watching as the cameras caught the action and sent it back to Detroit.

Imagine looking at a TV and seeing your own ugly face! Then getting home and having your wife scream: "Why don't you sit up more erectly?"

The Wings, incidentally, will be on TV this Saturday night from Toronto; the Pistons Sunday night from Cincinnati.

Both clubs also have home dates this weekend—the Pistons against the world champion Boston Celtics Friday night and the Wings on Sunday.

Where has the prep football season gone? It seems as though we just started our coverage of the 1965 season. Now it's down to the final couple weeks for most of the teams in the area. But there are some dandy games left—topped off by those inter-city battles between Farmington-North Farmington, Bentley-Franklin and Garden City East-Garden City West.

Talk about your exciting sports rivalries! What about the one the Buchheit brothers of Clarenceville have been staging every week.

The Buchheits have been running one-two in meet after meet with Larry out in front at the wire and brother Gary close behind.

They'll be shooting for more honors this Saturday when the state regionals are staged. Wouldn't it be something if the brothers run one-two in the regionals!

What's happened to talk about giving Livonia an artificial ice skating rink for the coming winter? The city's hockey bugs are getting ready for the 1965-66 season, but they have to find places all over the map for practice and games.

Come on, you city fathers! Let's do something for the skaters.

Bentley Sinks Trenton

Bentley recovering the pigskin on the Trenton 35. Instantly, Greg Coleman of Bentley dropped back and slipped a neat pass to Ken Bauman. The play went for 33 yards down to the Trenton two.

On the next play, Coleman smacked over, then hit rifled a pass to Bauman for the extra point... and how important the conversion was to prove.

Trenton came back to score before halftime on a 22-yard gallop of Lance Scheffer.

For the extra-point try, Trenton gave the ball to its ace back, Eric Federuce who has been averaging over 85 yards per game on the ground.

Federuce smacked into the Bentley line. He received a royal reception from fellows like Brian Quayle, Harold Schoen, Bob Eleanor, Mike McCauley and Coleman, to mention a few.

When everybody unpiled, the referee signaled "no point." Federuce had been stopped 12 inches from the goal line.

Trenton had the upper hand in the second half. Once the team got to the Bentley six, later to the ten.

No dice! The Bentley defense was more than equal to the task.

With a couple minutes left, Bentley had to dig in on its own 30. Then a penalty set Trenton back, and Bentley roared from the field—enjoying one of the finest moments in the school's long and proud history.

Heroes for Bentley! "Everybody was one," declared Coach Joiner, who now will have to wage a battle to keep his charges from taking Redford Union too easily.

This is a traditional game in which past records mean nothing. After RU, there's Franklin in the battle for the Livonia city championship.

Oh, yes... Bentley would like nothing better than to make it a perfect season, thus matching what Franklin accomplished a year ago.

Flies High

Air Force ROTC cadet David W. Preston, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. William Hall, 15616 Inks-ter, Livonia, a Michigan State University freshman, received a one-hour orientation flight in an Air Force C-130 aircraft Oct. 17. He was graduated from Bentley High School.

Common sense is a compass that we never think of consulting unless we have lost our way.

Defense Shines for Sorrows

Concentrated efforts on defense during the week previous paid off big dividends for Our Lady of Sorrows' high school football team.

With a great defensive performance, Sorrows scored a 7-0 win over St. Rita to up its season's record to 4-2, with a 3-2 standing in the Catholic League's northwestern division.

Players like Stan Tyler, Jim McHugh and Tim Horner all turned in great work in keeping the St. Rita attack well in check.

Only once did St. Rita threaten, getting to the Sorrows' 22 in the third period where big tackles by Tyler and Kreson stopped the match.

Meantime, Cliff LaFond turned in another spectacular running show for Sorrows. All he did was:

1—Carry the ball 31 times for 188 yards.

2—Account for all seven of the Sorrows' points.

3—Catch the only pass Sorrows completed all afternoon for 18 yards.

The Sorrows touchdown came on a four-yard run by LaFond in the third period to climax 68-yard march in which LaFond did most the ball lugging.

LaFond ran over the point—and the issue was decided.

All totaled, Sorrows garnered 231 yards and made 12 first downs to St. Rita's eight.

Penalties hurt Sorrows in a bad way. The team was tagged for five 15-yarders and seven of the five-yard variety.

The penalties cut down three serious Sorrows' threats each of which saw the Farmington team penetrate the St. Rita 15.

LaFond's run included a 25-yarder, one for 20 and four 10 yards each.

Jim Barnes carried nine times for the winners for 43 yards.

Franklin Harriers Cop Titles

Winners of two invitational meets in the last 10 days, Franklin high school's cross country team seeks more honors this Saturday in the Class A state regionals in Cass Benton Park.

The Livonians will face some crack opposition in the regionals, topped by Farmington, Birmingham Seaholm and Pontiac Northern.

Bentley, Thurston, North Farmington, Redford Union and a flock of other teams, adding up to 22, will engage for the right to advance to the state meet the following week at Ypsilanti.

Franklin copped the Wayne Invitational with 25 points while Garden City East took second with 62. Dan Ryan led the victors by setting a new course record of 11 minutes and five seconds.

Franklin then came back strongly and won the Clarenceville Invitational with 73 points. Bloomfield Hills placed second with 75, while Redford Union scored 84 for third. Bentley was among the other entries to place.

Ryan again set the pace for Franklin as he finished in fifth place. Ted Gozdziński was tenth, Rick Hansen eleventh, Ray Nizal 17th and Bill Manion 30th.

In a dual meet with Thurston, Franklin triumphed by a 20-37 score. Ryan once more was the individual winner. He was followed by Thurston's Bob Grim.

What appears to be a golden opportunity often turns out to be nothing but a mirage—it just won't stand the acid test.

Long Runs Overhaul Clarenceville on Grid

There was no crying by Clarenceville high school's football team after the Trojans fell to Bloomfield Hills, 25-14, last Friday night.

Clarenceville coach Ralph Temby led cheers for his teams, surprising as it may seem.

It just happened that Clarenceville was up against the Wayne-Oakland League's unbeaten leader. And before the night was over, Bloomfield Hills knew that it was in for a battle.

Long runs led to Clarenceville's downfall.

After the North Livonians had taken a 14-12 lead to the locker room at halftime, Bloomfield Hills sprung loose two sudden bursts.

One carried for 53 yards and the g-ahead touchdown; the other for 46 yards and the clinching TD.

Earlier an 85-yard gallop had put Bloomfield Hills on the scoreboard. The Hills' second touchdown came on a short plunge of four yards.

Meantime, the running of Chris Hawkins and the passing of Dave Amick had given Bloomfield Hills fits in the first half and more trouble in the second part of the game.

Wilson drilled one to Jim Amick for 14 yards and the first Clarenceville touchdown.

A 22-yard toss from Wilson to Mike Nye netted Clarenceville its other touchdown. Nye ran over both the conversions to make it possible for Clarenceville to hold its 14-12 halftime bulge.

But the Hills had the big runs when they were needed and pulled out the contest.

Hawkins hiked his chances for becoming a 1,000-yard gainer for the season.

This time he piled up 107 yards rushing to up his total for the season to 732 in six games—or an average of 122 per contest.

Clarenceville still has three games left—hosting Holly this Friday night, and then going against Milford and Hoston.

By maintaining his average, Hawkins will rear well past the 1,000-yard mark.

All of our players performed extremely well," added Temby after the game. "It would be impossible to single out one or two men for the bulk of the compliments."

Clarenceville now has an overall record of two wins and four losses. A sweep of the last three games would give the school its first winning grid season in many years.

It was Dennis McKenna on a 25-yard gallop for the final St. Agatha touchdown of the game.

A St. Agatha fumble paved the way for St. Thomas to avert a shutout.

The Ann Arbor team covered a loose ball on the St. Agatha one and Jerry Lirotte quickly turned the recovery into a touchdown.

St. Agatha closes its season this Sunday, hosting St. Theresa at Lola Valley field. St. Agatha has a record of two wins and three ties.

A man can't be judged by what other people say about him, but he can be judged by what he says about others.

"I think we stand a good chance against all three of our remaining foes," said Burkholder.

The coach naturally would like to boast a better record. But the team has given him reason to do some cheering.

"You have to be proud of kids who give forth with everything they have," added the coach. "That's something our kids have done."

It also should be remembered that West is an infant in the football wars. This is just the second year of varsity competition.

Start Now To Prepare For Spring

Housewives can hasten spring by starting in October and November to force amaryllis, hyacinth, daffodil, Easter lily and tulip bulbs into bloom as early as January.

To enjoy this thrill, ask your florist, garden center, or supermarket about bulb varieties recommended for forcing, then pick up a supply of red clay bulb pans for planting.

Cover the drainage hole of each clay pot with a flat or concave piece of broken flower pot, and fill in a half inch of pebbles. Over this, add a mixture of equal parts of loam, leafmold, and sand.

Press this down firmly, leaving about three inches of space to the rim of the pot, and place the bulbs on this, one-half inch apart. Use the same variety of bulbs in a single pot so all will flower at once.

After bulbs are in place, fill soil so the noses of the bulbs barely show, and press the soil down firmly. Leave about an inch of space so it will be easy to water the bulbs after they have sprouted.

Identify each pot's variety name by tying a label on a slim bamboo stake at least a foot long.

Then, place each pot in a pan of water to soak all the way through the porous clay pot walls and the soil within. After this initial soaking, cover each pot with an empty inverted clay pot of the same size.

This protects new shoots as they grow. Next, place each pot in a deep trench or cold-frame for an 8 to 10-week rooting period.

Fill in six inches of soil over the tops of the pots and cover this with a thick layer of leaves.

Along about the first week in January, dig up one of the pots, and gently knock the soil ball from the pot. If there is a network of roots you can slip the earthen ball back into the pot and put the pot into a 50 degree to 55 degree F. north window until shoots turn green.

Then move it to a sunny 60 degree spot and keep the soil well watered. You can bring in several pots at once for a gala display, or one by one in succession to spread the blooming period over several weeks.

Buds will pop open quickly and will leave you breathless with their unbelievably lovely colors and springtime perfume.

Wise Buyers Check Appliance Labels

Ever wonder how manufacturers arrive at the figures used to designate the size of household refrigerator-freezers?

Until now, direct comparisons between different models were difficult, because standards were open to different interpretations.

This year, for the first time, most new electric refrigerator-freezers on the market will be certified for volume and shelf area on the basis of a single standard.

The standard gives the consumer a reliable basis of comparison of the true sizes of two refrigerator-freezers. With confusion about size eliminated, the shopper will be better able to determine how much, or little, she is willing to pay for various conveniences built into a given unit.

The new standard of net volume measures the total interior cubic footage of a refrigerator-freezer minus the volume occupied by certain items, such as fixed projections, partitions and projections within the door which do not serve as shelves, and parts necessary for the proper functioning of the units, such as coils and evaporators.

The standard is the result of a new certification program adopted by the Household Refrigerator and Freezer Section of the National Electrical Manufacturers Association. In a voluntary self-policing move, NEMA members are using a single yardstick which will enlighten consumers to make more meaningful comparisons.

Refrigerator-freezers produced by manufacturers who subscribe to the program, whether or not they are NEMA members, will bear labels indicating the appliances are NEMA-certified as to the net refrigerated volume and shelf area advertised and contained in the specification sheet.

Now, when a customer examines two models with the same capacity rating, he will be able to judge if the convenience features, such as ice-makers and meat keepers, are worth the space they occupy.

The certification program is administered by NEMA. An independent testing laboratory analyzes and checks the manufacturers' claims for their units before they are certified.

Moldings Can Conceal Errors in Workmanship

Moldings are the amateur carpenter's best friend, as they cover errors in workmanship and, in addition, give a professional appearance to the entire job.

Other accessories for a successful wall panel installation are important, too.

These include nails that are color-matched to the panels, putty sticks to fill nail holes so they won't show, and adhesive as a substitute for nailing.

Suppose you're putting up an accent L-wall of woodgrained hardboard to relieve the monotony of painted surfaces in your living room, you can do a professional-looking job by following easy installation instructions.

First, determine the location of moldings and choice of matching metal or wood.

Metal outside and inside corner moldings are applied after a panel on the adjacent wall has been fitted and installed. Edging moldings are applied before fittings and installing the last panel.

Such moldings are fastened with lath nails through flanges, and their use eliminates the need for nailing at 4-inch intervals along the edge of the panel to be covered by the molding.

Always leave a slight gap between the panel edge and the molding to allow for minor expansion.

Metal moldings commonly are available for outside corners, inside corners, edging and as divisions between panels; wood moldings for outside and inside corners and base. The inside corner may also be used for the cove, covering the gap between panel and ceiling.

Putty sticks matching the line of woodgrained panels make nail holes inconspicuous and add to the professional look of the new wall.

Other tips for top-appearing wall installations are:

Nail into grooves wherever possible. Modern hardboard wood-grained panels commonly have grooves at random intervals to give an interesting appearance and hide joints.

Where necessary to nail into grained surface, use the special color-matched nail and drive flush with surface or use finishing nails and predrill slightly below surface with 1/8" drill at nail locations. Set finishing nails and fill with matching putty.

Clean Home Boiler Before Cold Arrives

Only after the wind is howling, the snow is falling, and the ice is forming do you really appreciate the warmth and comfort offered by your home's heating system.

That cold, wintry night, however, is not the time to first think about your heating system. Most systems will operate continuously for 20 to 30 years without major repairs, but they should be cleaned and serviced before the start of each heating season.

Now is the time to do it. The first step is to call in a heating contractor.

Have him thoroughly clean the furnace, or boiler if you have a hydronic (hot water or steam) heating system. Let him adjust the controls and replace all worn equipment. This will greatly increase the efficiency of your heating and will result in lower fuel bills.

For additional information on hydronic heating systems and how to obtain the maximum efficiency, write to the Better Heating - Cooling Council, 250 Park Avenue, New York, N.Y., 10107 for a free booklet entitled "Heart of the House."

Autumn Rains Are Ideal for Spring Bulbs

With the coming of autumn, the fall rains, the warm soil and the cooling atmosphere combine to make ideal bulb planting conditions over most of the United States.

Good root formation is encouraged while the tops are given little or no incentive to start growth.

Tulips are the notable exception. They should be planted in October say the gardening experts at Union Fork and Hoe Company of Columbus, Ohio.

This means that daffodils, hyacinths, crocus, scillas, snowdrops, snowflakes, grape hyacinths, puschkinias and a host of lesser known bulbs among the spring bloomers can be set out now.

And, if you haven't already done so, you can still plant clematis, fall crocuses and sternerbergias — if you live in a mild climate, like the Northwest, the hardy cyclamen, too.

The first two, especially, can be counted upon to bloom this fall provided you get them in early.

Hot? — Cold? Try Mixer

Do you dread showering because the water runs hot and then cold so that you have to keep "faucet fiddling"?

If that's the case, you should consider the installation of a thermostatically controlled shower mixing valve. It automatically compensates for any drop in water pressure, thus eliminating the possibility of a sudden flow of hot or cold water.

Now's Time To Move Your Plants

When autumn night temperatures go below 50 degrees, bring your house plants indoors.

Most modern house plants grown for their foliage are of tropical origin. They suffer permanent harm in 40-degree temperatures.

Repotting and new plant selections can be made at time of bringing indoors.

But care of plants indoors is sometimes difficult. Air is too dry and light less intense than needed for vigorous growth.

To help flower lovers with selection and care of plants for indoor culture, The Pennsylvania State University offers a correspondence course of nine lessons entitled "House Plants For Your Home."

About 175 kinds of plants and their care are described.

Anyone can enroll and get a copy of the course simply by writing to House Plants, Box 5000, University Park, Pennsylvania, 16802.

Include your name and address and $2.25. There are no other charges.

Baseboards Are Usable As Accents

A hydronic (hot water) heating system supplies almost invisible warmth.

Wall-hugging baseboard heat distributors can be painted to blend or contrast with the decor of the room.

They supply even, gentle heat, while adding a decorative flair to the room.

Self-confidence must be built up from the past to give a man faith to face the future.

The DEW LINE

by John Dew

As we predicted last week, "Shindig" has now been officially cancelled as of the first of the year. The show has suffered noticeably since the dismissal of the original...

Look for CKLW-TV to join the color club around the first of next year. Consultants and engineers are working to set up facilities for color-casting.

The CKLW all-night host, Duke Windsor, stopped in Wednesday to entertain Miss Weber's sixth graders at Our Lady of Sorrows in Farmington. He played guitar and sang in an impromptu session.

While "Shindig" is having its aforementioned troubles, NBC's rocker is still rolling. "Hullabaloo" will be expanded soon to an hour on Friday nights replacing the sagging "Convooy."

The Milton Berle appearance on "Hollywood Palace" last Saturday was so reminiscent of his series years ago for NBC when he racked up 365 hours of slapstick and vaudeville as the king of television.

Coin Show Scheduled

The Dearborn Coin Club will hold its "Fifth Annual Coin-A-Rama" on Saturday, Oct. 30 and Sunday, Oct. 31 at the Dearborn Youth Center, corner of Greenfield and Michigan. Admission is free.

Old World Market Set for November

The Old World Market, one of the International Institute's most colorful and popular events, traditionally held the week before Thanksgiving, is slated for its opening on Thursday, Nov. 18, to run for four days through Sunday, Nov. 21, at the Institute Building, 111 East Kirby.

The exhibit and sale of treasures and art from all over the world reflects the cultures of the many different nationalities which avail themselves of services from this Torch Drive agency. In addition, the Market is always eagerly anticipated by an ever expanding following of people, who come to browse and buy and sample and carry home tempting international foods and pastries.

GOING UP 'CURTAIN

College theatrics received the "nod" over two community theater presentations during the past weekend's flurry of local productions. Eastern Michigan University's production "The Fantasticks" nosed out an interesting version of "Pillow Talk" done by the Nankin Mills Players and "Guys and Dolls."

"The Fantasticks" was loaded with talented people such as Jerry Lee, David Siglin, Roy Kalvie, Terry Dean, Robert Mac Genigal, John Frazzini, Katherine Wiederkehr, and Dennis Lake. Each and everyone in this delightful "Tongue-in-Cheek" commentary on life played their roles with great enthusiasm.

Starting off with "Try to Remember" David Siglin (minus his guitar that was a constant companion while singing in Frisco supper clubs) transformed Quirk Theater into a magical world of melody. It was a treat to finally hear songs that had some lilt.

"Soon It's Gonna Rain," "It Depends On What You Pay," "I Can See It," "Plant a Radish" and "They Were You" were sung beautifully. Director James Goussief might have moved his actors a bit more. At times Wally wondered why a lack of fluidity existed. Surely a musical comedy demands some brisk action.

Suzanne Marian, an alumna of Wayne State, staged the number with the right amount of vaudevillian schmalz. Her interpretation of the Indian musical number was the show-stopper of the evening. Terry Dean, a native of Farmington, kept thespic pace with Jerry Lee in the part of the girl's father.

O. Blaine Ballard's musical direction was superb. All things considered Eastern Michigan's "Fantasticks" was a happy sparkling opening production.
