LEADERS ANNOUNCE $55,871 TOTAL

Community Fund Reaches Goal; Final Report Confusing

Although the figures announced at the windup dinner didn't exactly add up to a successful campaign, officials in charge of the annual Plymouth Community Drive assured the audience of more than 300 in the Mayflower Meeting House that the 1965 campaign was a whopping success. "Unlike previous drives where figures were released showing the campaign over the top with room to spare, we decided this year to release only the actual total at the end of the drive," said General Campaign Manager John Kamego. "We know that all will be shocked when the figures show the fund is more than $30,000 short of the goal of $86,083 but we also know that contributions and pledges from the industrial division will push the total well over the top. Unfortunately, we won't receive the final figures from the United Foundation for at least two months, then we'll know exactly where Plymouth wound up in its 1965 campaign." Kamego and Fund President

Frank Palmer referred to the contributions and pledges from workers in all of the large industrial plants where the cards go through the United Foundation assigned to Plymouth. They pointed out that the complex computer system won't make the final figures available until mid-January when the Plymouth Fund will receive word from the UF as to the total amount. "This amount figures to be well over $30,000," said Palmer. "We feel the present Plymouth drive is the most successful in history and continues the Plymouth community spirit of taking care of its own as it has for the past 10 years." The total amount shown at the dinner, which was not identified as a Victory Dinner for the obvious reasons, shows $55,871. It is simple enough to add $30,000 or more expected from the UF to show that Kamego and Palmer have every reason in the world for their optimism.

Every single division reported gains over 1964 with the biggest increase coming in the residential division headed by Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes and Mrs. Leona Schomberger. The division, which includes the women's teams which canvass every home in the community, reported $6,954 with more to come. This was considerably more than raised by the division a year ago.

Terry West, head of the business division, turned in contributions and pledges totaling $18,309 and indicated there is a possibility of more before his group calls it quits. He indicated his 16 team captains made 357 individual calls during the three-week long campaign.

James Doyle, president of the Plymouth Education Association and counselor at the high school, reported his group raised $3,750 with $2,450 from the teachers and administration and $1,300 from the pupils. This contrasted to $2,810 in 1964.

Doyle praised the efforts of Assistant Principal Gus Gorge, at Plymouth High; Carl Taylor, principal at Junior High East, and Betsy Gibson, at Junior High West, for outstanding efforts.

"Each outdid themselves in an effort to make the showing of the schools the best and they succeeded admirably," Doyle said.

Robert Sincovek, head of the government division, reported gifts of $1,095 with more expected within the next week or 10 days—perhaps as much as $1,000 more.

Then came the big report, the one that traditionally boosts the drive to the top or near the top. This year the Industrial division was headed by George Burrows, of Gaylord Container, and he reported a total of $25,261.

"This report is far from final," Burrows said. "We know the UF has thousands of dol-

Commission Tables New Ordinance and Rezoning

The proposed zoning ordinance which would rezone the land on South Main St. adjacent to the Food Fair to PR-2 (Modified Professional Residential) and would lower the unit requirements for buildings higher than two stories to 1,500 square feet has been tabled by the City Commission pending whether or not a "compromise" can be worked out between the Commission, the City Planning Commission and the City Planner.

Following the public hearing Monday night the Commission voted 5-2 to table the ordinance. Commissioner's Smith and Vallier cast the negative votes.

Vallier had expressed his opposition to the new ordinance terming the lowering of footage requirements as a means of "selling Plymouth down the river" apparently cast his negative vote because the ordinance could be removed from the table and acted upon without the residents in the affected area being notified.

Commissioner George A. Hudson, who made the motion to table the proposed ordinance, pointed out that under the present ordinance a five-story apartment building could be constructed within the city limits.

He said that the City Planner would be in Plymouth in a few days to confer with the Planning Commission and maybe something acceptable to both the Commission and the Planning Commission could be worked out at that time.

During the public hearing the Commission learned that residents of the area are unalterably opposed to high rise apartments not only in that particular location, but within the city limits.

Wayne Dunlap of 760 Burroughs told the Commission that he was not opposed to the zoning change, but he was opposed to the apartment building proposed for the area.

The building proposed by Patrick Finlan would be a five-story structure with 39 luxury two and three-bedroom units. The exterior of the building would be contemporary with balconies for the apartments. The entrance to the building would face south or toward Main St. In addition to the apartments the building would contain 29 car ports plus additional parking spaces, a barbecue pit and a swimming pool. The lack of more recreational area was one of the things criticized most sharply by both the residents and some Commission members. Dunlap pointed out to the Commission that the contemporary exterior was not in keeping

Reservoir Dedication Sunday

Dedication of Plymouth's new two million gallon water reservoir which is already at work raising the city's overall water pressure by 20 pounds are scheduled for 2 p.m. this Sunday.

The services will be held at the reservoir on Beck Rd. between Five and Six Mile Rds.

The new facility, which was built with matching federal and local funds, went into operation Tuesday.

Included with the new reservoir is a well house which includes a new telemetering system. Total cost of the facility was $270,000 for the reservoir plus the $6,000 land acquisition costs which the city paid. At the same time $236,000 in matching funds was spent for water main improvement.

Rev. Ned Castner will give the invocation at the dedication ceremonies, while Fr. Alfred Renaud will end them with benediction.

Former Mayor Richard Wernet will serve as the Master of Ceremonies, while Flex Anderson, of the engineering firm Johnson, Anderson, will present the facility to the city. Mayor James Houk will receive it in the name of the city.

It is estimated that within two weeks the water towers within the city limits can be dismantled.

Jenkins Gets Personnel Job With TWA

Jenkins, who will be headquartered in New York, will be responsible for TWA's program of appraisal and development among the ranks of the airline's 28,000 employees in the U. S. and overseas.

Prior to joining TWA, Jenkins was with Ford Motor Company for 14 years, most recently as manager of sales and marketing management training for the Lincoln-Mercury division.

He resigned from the Plymouth School Board in October.

A professor of management at the Henry Ford Community College, he previously taught economics at Ohio State University, was assistant director of research for the Ohio State tax and revenue study commission and assistant director of research for the Ohio Education Association.

Jenkins was graduated from Denison University and received an M.A. and Ph.D. in

Hold On to Leaves

Joseph Bida, Superintendent of the Department of Public Works, reports that there will be no leaf pick-up this week in the city.

Bida said that the leaves will be picked up, however, as soon as the City receives delivery of its newly purchased leaf scavenger.

New School Committee Eyes Vocational Education

Plymouth community leaders in civic, service, industry and business have joined with administrators and teachers of the school system to form a general advisory committee for vocational education. The purpose is to develop an overall vocational education program in the schools.

Organized by Board President Gerald Fischer, Supt. Russell Isbister and Asst. Supt. William Harding, the committee, which met for the first time a month ago, set up several objectives aimed to improve the vocational program.

The committee includes:

Howard Oldford, John Murawski, James McKeon, Marvin Sackett, Dale Carmine, Joe West, Edward Sawrich, Don Lightfoot, Elroy Merchant, Earl Lundin, Warren Worth.

Marion Hobart, Arnold Johanson, Kai Jabara, Wendell Lent, Ralph Lorenz, Don Sutherland, John Kamego, Edward Dowling, Clarence Moore, Carroll Porter, Phil Johnson, William Campbell, Merle Atchinson, Mike Kohut, John Hoben, Herbert Spring, Ed Brown, William Herter, R. J. Stewart and Asst. Supt. Harding.

The committee was slated to meet Wednesday to start appraising the present program, equipment and facilities.

The objectives of the committee as set up in the initial meeting are:

1. Appraise the present vocational education program in light of curriculum offered, facilities and equipment.
2. Advise the school personnel about what will be needed in regard to new programs, facilities, and equipment after members of the committee familiarize themselves with the present program and the area vocational program now being developed at Schoolcraft.
3. Advise school personnel of present and future manpower needs.
4. Advise school personnel regarding training needs.
5. Advise on curriculum content needed for the vocational

Forum Told U-M Goes As Cazzie Russell Goes

"This year's Michigan basketball team will go as Cazzie Russell goes," was the manner in which Coach Dave Strack described his prospects for 1965-1966 before members of the Plymouth Businessmen's Forum.

Strack, a likable, personable individual who believes in placing credit where it is due, didn't waste any time in telling the group that a great deal of his success at Michigan stemmed from the moment big Bill Buntin became eligible to play for the Wolverines.

"We weren't the worst team in the conference," he pointed out, "But we certainly weren't among the best. But the appearance of Buntin four years ago as a sophomore changed the picture considerably—so much that Michigan, long a doormat in the Big 10, has been a contender ever since.

"There isn't any question but that we'll be hurting this year by the loss of Buntin, Capt. Larry Tregoning and George Pomy through graduation. I'd have to say without exaggeration that Buntin was the greatest rebound player in collegiate basketball during his three years at Michigan. He could go down as one of the best of all time.

"Then, in his last two years, we had the good fortune to have such standouts as Russell and Oliver Darden, captain of this year's team, to go along with him. There isn't any question but that Russell, Darden, Tregoning and Pomy made it impossible for the opposition to center their attention on Buntin. But then, rebounders like Buntin, a huge, giant of a man, comes only once in a coach's career—I'm real happy that I had the chance to work with such an outstanding player."

Then Strack went on to describe Russell as the most outstanding player in college basketball this year and a true will be "to examine in detail the future needs of the district and develop recommendations covering at least the next five-year period, and to recommend the general area for location of a second high school."

School Board President Gerald Fischer appointed Frong, a planning specialist with Ford Motor Co., to serve as chairman of the committee and named 12 citizens to the special study committee. All had earlier indicated their willingness to serve.

In a letter he wrote to the 13 residents soliciting their assistance, Fischer said the committee would "utilize data from the (district's) administrative office and other available sources to provide an independent advisory plan to the Board for school construction and related financing over a five-year period, roughly 1968-1972."

Livonia School Officials Eye Direction of Federal Aid

Local education throughout the country faces the twin problem of spiraling costs and enrollments.

Due to the inability of the local tax base to assume the entire cost of education both the state and the federal government have stepped into the picture.

This is a two pronged sword, however, because with financial aid comes control.

The Livonia Board of Education has been outspoken about the problem of retaining local control over its education. The Board of Education is not alone in this feeling — just about every

Board of Education feels the same way. They believe that increased communication among the agencies would help.

Livonia Board of Education President Strela Schreiber and Superintendent of Schools Benton Yates recently participated in a regional conference sponsored by the National School Boards Association on "The Challenges Facing Lay Control of Education." The need for better communication was agreed among all the participants.

Mrs. Schreiber said that the first of five regional conferences drew some 200 individuals from nine midwestern states.

They discussed two basic questions: "What are the proper roles of local state and federal educational agencies?" and "What are some promising courses of action for state and local educational agencies to employ in correcting identified sources of weakness?"

As a consensus the Conference defined the responsibilities as:

The local Board should give leadership in assessing needs and establishing goals and adopt policies and must assume the responsibility of strengthening state and national associations of social boards and state departments of education; The state should provide broad educational leadership, supervision and services, including resources for research, experimentation and evaluation of programs and practices designed to improve education and disseminate the findings to the local boards.

In addition the state should render interpretations of federal legislation to the local boards and its recommendations for new state legislation.

The Conference called for the Federal Government to indicate national concerns about education through involvement of state educational authorities, to inform the state departments of its findings, and to provide financial assistance, on a general aid basis so far as possible, to be dispensed and accounted for the state department.

Increased professionalization of state education agency personnel is sought by the Association as is involvement and commitment of all educational organizations in the consideration of all proposed educational legislation before it is enacted.

The group wants to consult with congressional delegations in the future to bring order and coordination out of the many federal programs.

The establishment of joint educational councils — on all levels — which would include schools boards, PTAs, administrators and staff, and other concerned community representatives to present a united action program on educational issues.

A final sleeper came out of the Conference — but probably the hottest conclusion — that "State departments of education should ask the advice of all educational and lay groups in developing policies and regulations relating to problems of federal aid — this is because we (the conference) recognize that 'political participation' is necessary if real coordination and understanding is to be achieved."

33 PER CENT GAIN IN NEW HOMES:

Local Housing Boom Outstrips the Rest

That suburban building boom is still swinging in high gear throughout western Wayne and Oakland Counties, a report from the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission reveals this week.

In fact, in the communities served by The Observer News-papers, there's been a 33 per cent increase in the number of new dwelling units during the first nine months of this year, compared to the same period in 1964.

A total of 2745 new units was approved for construction in Livonia, Redford Township, Farmington, Farmington Township, Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Garden City from January 1 to Sept. 30.

During the same period in 1964, the figure was 2124.

The growth in suburbia far outstrips the rest of the four-county Detroit region—Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Washtenaw. The total regional growth in this year's first nine months, compared to the same time last year, was only 20.9 per cent, compared to the 33 per cent gain in the local areas served by The Observer.

Figures for Nankin Twp. are incomplete, a spokesman for the Regional Planning Commission, said. But during the first six months of this year, 402 dwelling units were approved, compared to 365 for the first nine months of last year.

Four communities show fewer home permits approved this year than last, but the gain in the rest of the local areas makes up for that decline.

Farmington Township outstrips every other local area, with nearly a three-fold increase—783 permits through Sept. 30 this year as compared to only 262 in the same period last year.

Runner-up was Livonia, which showed a modest gain from 1107 in the first nine months of last year to 1239 this year.

Redford Township, Plymouth, Garden City declined, while Farmington held its own.

The total picture for the first nine months of each year:

COMMUNITY	1964	1965
Farmington	32	32
Farmington Twp.	262	783
Garden City	121	110
Livonia	1107	1239
Nankin Township	365	402*
Plymouth	149	106
Plymouth Twp.	308	342
Redford Twp.	145	133

Cavanagh Lauds Voters' 'Good Sense' at District Democrats' Banquet

Five hundred area Democrats heard Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh laud the "good sense of the voters" in his first post-election political talk before Friday night at the annual congressional dinner of the 19th District Democratic Party.

Cavanagh joined honored guest U.S. Congressman Billie S. Farnum and other political figures in a rousing appearance before the $20-a-couple political feast which found most of the audience in high spirits over the general liberal-Democratic sweep in last Tuesday's voting.

Referring to the defeat of rightist Thomas Poindexter in Detroit, and liberal election victories in other parts of the country, Cavanagh noted:

"Sometimes we forget voters' good sense because of the results of lightly voted off-year elections. In these elections we sometimes end up with winners who are political caricatures with a small, but militant, base of support.

"In lightly-voted elections we sometimes tell ourselves large political lies—kidding ourselves that the sentiments of these political caricatures reflect the mainstream of the electorate.

"That is why I say last Tuesday's election is a breath of political fresh air, clearing our heads, setting us back on the right path again."

Cavanagh, who kept up his tradition of making his first post-election victory speech in Livonia, keyed his talk to problems faced by urban areas.

He added:

"Cities today are the point of focus of four great revolutions that are changing this entire nation. Each of these four alone has a staggering effect. Yet we are faced with all four and they are testing heavily the structure and traditional operating patterns of cities across the nation.

"There is the civil rights revolution which has awakened a broad range of new problems, bringing with it renewed interest in community organization.

"The population explosion is having an equally dramatic effect, deluging us with the problems of too small schools, the need for millions of new jobs and all the attendant problems.

"The third of these great revolutions is in science and technology bringing vast changes in the way men earn their living and the amount of skills needed to gain a job in our rapidly changing world.

"The fourth great revolution is the urbanization of this nation—the change from the rural nation to the nation of great cities where seven out of ten Americans now find themselves living in an urban setting.

"All of these problems are having deep impact on the way we live, the way we work, the way we educate our children—on the whole social and cultural fabric of this nation.

The Detroit mayor was preceded at the speaker's podium by Farnum, who thanked voters for their support. "To have served in Congress," he said, "that has had the opportunity to fulfill its campaign promises of helping to create a really Great Society, has been a rich and meaningful experience. I can hardly express this opportunity, and to my colleagues in Congress for pushing forth so much beneficial legislation."

Farnum cited the administration's goals of educational opportunities for all citizens, for medical care for senior citizens, for equality in the right to vote, and for elimination of poverty. He was presented the Party's first annual Outstanding Citizens Award by White Lake Twp. Supervisor Ed Cheyz.

Others at the speakers table included Attorney-General Frank Kelley, Democratic national committeeman Neil Staebler and committeewoman Millie Jeffries, Circuit Judge James N. Canham and Secretary of State James Hare. Paul Livingston was master of ceremonies and participating clergy were Fr. Thomas Cain of Livonia and Rev. Joseph Pelham of Farmington.

The 19th District includes Livonia, Redford Township, Farmington, Farmington Township and most of western Oakland County.

CHOWING DOWN BEFORE the speechmaking, Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, master of ceremonies Paul Livingston and State Representative Marvin Stempien join others at the buffet table in Livonia's Roma Hall Friday night. The occasion: annual congressional dinner of the 19th District Democratic Party. Cavanagh was the featured speaker and Congressman Billie S. Farnum the guest of honor.

With the exception of Goldberg and Manko, all are area supervisors at the store.

Crowley's Celebrates 57th Anniversary

A business that started 57 years ago in July, 1908, is celebrating its 57th anniversary with one of the biggest sales in history. It is Crowley's, which has a suburban branch in the Livonia Mall where Manager Seymour Goldberg is looking forward for the greatest flow of business since the store opened slightly more than a year ago.

The 57th anniversary sale actually opened Monday but will continue for another week with numerous outstanding bargains offered this weekend for what could be the biggest three days for Crowley's at the Livonia Mall.

The sale officially was kicked off by Goldberg when he and a group of area supervisors dressed in football togs and literally kicked off the campaign.

It was in 1908 that the first chapter in the history of Crowley, Milner and Company was written when J. J. Crowley and W. L. Milner bought controlling interest in a retail establishment operated by Partridge and Blackwell.

The business was incorporated with Milner as the first president and Crowley as vice president and treasurer.

Fashions were changing in 1908. Henry Ford introduced his famous Model T that year, and Henry Farman, an ambitious Frenchman, made the first heavier-than-air flight, taking his plane 20 feet off the ground at 31 miles an hour. Later that same year, the Wright Brothers flew successfully at Kill Devil Hill in North Carolina.

The Crowley, Milner and Company department store was quite impressive in 1908, occupying half the block where the main building now stands. It was six stories high.

J. J. Crowley and W. L. Milner were aggressive leaders, and the store grew rapidly and prospered. In 1917 the entire block now occupied by the main building was acquired, and Crowley's became the largest store in Michigan.

In 1920 the Goldberg store on Library was purchased and connected to the main store by a tunnel in the basement. By 1923 the Detroit Council City Ordinance allowed a bridge to be built across Library, and this was done in 1925, when a new eleven story building was planned to give the store frontage on Library. Crowley's basement store was also opened that same year.

Management of Crowley, Milner and Company by J. J. Crowley and W. L. Milner came to an end in the early 1920's. Mr. Milner lost his life in an automobile accident in 1922; and J. J. Crowley suffered a fatal heart attack in 1925.

By 1927 the three combined Crowley families had acquired controlling interest in the company, and Daniel T. Crowley, brother of Joseph J. became president. When Daniel T. passed away in 1936, James B. Jones became president, holding that position until his death in 1938. Daniel J. Crowley then assumed the presidency, and under his leadership, the Joseph Crowley family gained controlling interest in the store.

Following the death of Daniel J. Crowley in 1957, James H. Chamberlain was elected president, and when he passed away in 1964 Robert E. Winkel was elected president.

Down through the years Crowley's built a reputation as the friendly store; seeking always to make the shopper happy and well pleased with every purchase. That reputation has literally become the hallmark of Crowley's.

As Detroit grew, and as suburban areas began to attract home owners, Crowley's met the challenge by opening branch stores. The first branch store was opened in 1959, in the Westborn Shopping Center in Dearborn. A year later, Crowley's opened a second branch store on Grand River near Greenfield, to serve the Northwest Section of Detroit.

In October of 1964 two ultra modern shopping malls were opened — the Macomb Mall at 13½ Mile and Gratiot, and the Livonia Mall at Seven Mile and Middlebelt — and Crowley's opened a beautiful full line department store in each of them.

Should Schoolcraft College become a part of the proposed new Wayne County Community College District?

Redford Youth Killed in Livonia Auto Accident

A 19-year-old Redford Township youth was killed in an auto accident early Saturday morning in Livonia.

Dead is Richard Cizewski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Cizewski of 18531 Denby.

Livonia Police said Cizewski was killed when his car ran off Seven Mile near Haggerty Rd. and overturned. He was dead on arrival at St. Mary Hospital.

Cizewski is survived by his parents and two brothers, George E. and Charles T. Funeral services were held at St. Agatha Church in Redford Township Tuesday morning.

That question is being pondered by the President of the State Board of Education — but to Schoolcraft College president Eric Bradner, it's a surprise.

Thomas Brennan of Dearborn, chief of the State Board, told THE OBSERVER last week that he sees "a great deal of benefit to be derived" through affiliation of the two districts. Voters will be asked next spring to approve creation of the new Wayne County District, made up of all present non-college affiliated school districts. Schoolcraft is supported presently by residents of the Livonia, Clarenceville, Garden City, Plymouth and Northville Districts.

Dr. Bradner was asked about a merger by THE OBSERVER last month, when such a proposed move was first rumored. His reaction: "I'm surprised that anyone would suggest it. It's our belief that we have an established institution here and I don't see the logic behind asking us to affiliate with a district not yet established."

DPW News and Notes

By SUPT. JOSEPH BIDA
Plymouth Dept. Public Works

The Public Works Department hopes to have its own catch basin cleaner and leaf "scavenger" this week. When it arrives, crews will pick up leaves that have been placed on the curbs by residents during the week.

The department has been using a demonstrator leaf scavenger during the past two weeks through the courtesy of the R. G. Moeller Co. A total of 495 man hours were used totaling $1,591. Had the department rented the equipment, the rental would have been $1,444 and the total cost of leaf removal would have amounted to $3,036.

The business district was swept twice, all local streets were cold patched and work done at Riverside Cemetery getting ready for several funerals. A total of 57 man hours was used at the Salem refuse site covering and taking care of rubbish and burning materials possible.

A test was made of the electrical equipment for the new reservoir which will be dedicated Sunday afternoon. This was done to iron out all the kinks of the telemetering system. Water gates were checked in the Hough subdivision in the area of Wood and Place. Traffic control signs were repaired and replaced at several locations.

The department collected park benches for the winter from parks and playgrounds and all were stored in the Public Works Yard.

Community Fund

lars in contributions and pledges assigned to Plymouth but we don't know exactly how much. This is a report of the contributions definitely reported to date.

Burrows broke it down to $9,195 corporate gifts and $6,669 from employees of these corporations and then $9,397 from employees of other plants in the area.

Kamego was presented with the traditional "Go-Go" Bird award for his outstanding efforts by Charles Bruce, chairman of the successful 1964 drive, and Palmer received a plaque from Dr. William Covington, vice president of the PCF, for his efforts in guiding the Fund for the past year.

Plaques were presented to each of the division leaders by Toastmaster James Orvis.

Neal "Doc" Fenkell, head of the radio and television division of the Detroit Tigers, regaled the audience with a humorous talk as the highspot of the evening. "Doc" held the attention of the group throughout his half-hour address which has to go down as one of the best ever given at a Fund Victory Dinner.

Mrs. Alice Strong served as hostess and Rev. Edward Castner, of the First Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation.

The dinner was sponsored by the area's banking institutions including: National Bank of Detroit, Detroit Bank and Trust, Michigan Bank and First Federal Savings and Loan.

UM Goes as Cazzie Goes

All-American in his two seasons with the Wolverines.

"Cazzie does everything better than any other player I have ever seen," he said. "If we use him at guard, he'll be the best in the country. The same can be said wherever we place him, center or forward. He's the best wherever he plays."

But the problem of finding a replacement for Buntin is something else. Strack is the first to admit that Craig Dill, the 6'10" center from Saginaw, has part of the answer but quickly points to the difference in the two players.

"Dill is tall and lanky," he emphasized, "Buntin was big and rough. Whenever anyone fought him for the ball off the backboards, he knew he had grabbed something. Dill has that same scrappiness but he doesn't have the weight and build of Buntin. It may be that we'll have to depend on Russell and Darden, both big men, to do the brunt of the rebounding. They can throw their weight around fairly good."

Strack figures Michigan will be in the thick of the conference race again but looks for Minnesota and Iowa to be strong contenders, with Indiana and Purdue making their usual strong showings and for Ohio State to come back strong after a rather dismal season a year ago.

"Michigan definitely isn't as strong as a year ago," he stated. "But then when will the Big 10 have as many strong teams in one season as it did in 1965? That perhaps was the most exciting campaign in Western Conference history. We were real happy to come out with the championship and we had the club that ranked No. 1 in most polls throughout the greater share of the season."

Strack was asked what had happened to Michigan last spring in the finals of the National Collegiate tournament when UCLA crushed the Wolverines in convincing style.

"We just couldn't contain Goodrich as we had hoped to," he groaned. "He rose to the greatest heights I have ever seen a player reach and we never could get him under control. His magic rubbed off on the other players and while Michigan played its normal game, UCLA turned into the greatest collegiate machine I have ever seen in a single game. No team, including the Boston Celtics, could have beaten UCLA that night, and we definitely weren't in the class of the Celtics."

Tungate Promoted

Orville Tungate, longtime Democratic leader in Plymouth, has been appointed Detroit District sales manager for Seaboard World Airlines. He will make his headquarters at Seaboard World's Detroit office in the Book Building.

He was formerly of the Plymouth office of the Secretary of State.

Strack told of the experience of the Wolverines during the goodwill tour of Europe, Asia and Africa last summer when the team met the most outstanding basketball teams from those nations.

"I'm sure glad that we had an American referee traveling with us during the tour as one of the officials," smiled Strack. "The games were played under international rules, which are quite different from those used in the United States."

"I'm not saying that the officiating was a bit 'hometown' in most places, I'm just saying that it was a good thing we had an official from the United States with us. Otherwise, Michigan could have lost more games on that tour than it did in the past two collegiate campaigns."

The most amusing incident occurred in Greece, where U-M met the national champions. After a terrific struggle, in which Michigan had to come from behind most of the time, the game ended in a tie at the end of the regulation time.

Then when the teams were supposed to come back for the overtime, Michigan took its position on the floor for the tip-off but the Greek team walked off the floor, content with a tie which added considerable prestige to the coach—a tie with the top rated team in the United States.

"It was an interesting tour, to say the least," Strack said. "I know that I learned a lot about international relations and I'm sure our boys made an excellent impression wherever we appeared."

A Plymouth resident since 1956, Fronk is a representation planning manager at Ford Division of the Ford Motor Co. He holds a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of Wisconsin and a CPA from the state of Wisconsin.

He and his wife have three children, two of whom attend Smith Elementary School and the other Junior High West.

Fronk told school board members that the first meeting of the study committee is scheduled for Nov. 18.

Fischer, in his letter, asked that the committee work toward submitting a final report on recommended new school construction and related financing by next June.

Coincidental to the formation of the citizen's facility committee Monday night was a report on enrollment in the Plymouth School system, as of Oct. 29.

Total enrollment was 6,716 with 3,864 children in the elementary grades and 2,852 in junior and senior high. The enrollment at this time next year is expected to swell far beyond the 7,000 figure — possibly reaching as much as 7,500.

In other matters Monday night, the school board was informed by member Carl Schultheiss that the Plymouth Education Association has requested to be formally designated as the official bargaining agent for Plymouth teachers.

Apprised of the matter by a letter from James Doyle, president of the P.E.A., Schultheiss said the P.E.A. membership would be validated to assure it represented at least 50 per cent of the teachers. He recommended that formal stipulation of the P.E.A. as sole bargaining agent of Plymouth teachers be delayed—only as a formality—until the next board meeting.

A spokesman for the P.E.A. said that 91 percent of Plymouth teachers are agreeable to having the P.E.A. be named as their agent in matters involving wages, hours and other conditions of employment.

Once the designating action is taken by the board, it will merely formalize a system that has long been in effect, according to School Supt. Russell Isbister.

The matter of specifying an official bargaining agent arose as a result of recent state legislation making the action mandatory.

The P.E.A. is affiliated with the Michigan Education Association. Only the American Federation of Teachers could oppose the matter, and this organization does not appear to have sufficient local backing of teachers to effectively block recognition.

The board approved the appointment of Judith Brosnan as a part-time speech correctionist. She is a graduate of MSU with three years teaching experience in Dexter and Whitmore Lake and will work only half weeks in the Plymouth School system.

Board members accepted a grant of $176 from the Plymouth Firemen's Assoc. to defray the cost of transporting band members to away football games this fall.

ing with the colonial theme which the city has gone to great lengths to carry through in its public buildings.

Clarence Moore of 738 Burroughs told the Commission, however, that he was not only opposed to the high rise building, but to the rezoning. "I would rather see a supermarket on that land than high rise apartments," he asserted.

Ed Miller of 772 Burroughs told the Commission that he agreed with Moore's position on the rezoning. Pointing out that the clinic blocked him from the property in question, but he said that he would still see the high rise building.

Meddle with the buzz saw of speculation and you'll get hurt.

Plymouth Brothers Get Chance to Eat Steer They Raised

Two young Plymouth boys will be eating "the best meat there is" this week.

It's "the best" because it's their meat. The steaks and roasts that Billy and Larry Sheridan sit down to this week come from steers the two boys raised for more than a year. Last Thursday the steers were auctioned off at the Detroit Junior Livestock Show.

As a special favor to the boys' father, John Sheridan of 49475 North Territorial Rd., Ed Netherton — director of meat operations for Food Fair — bought the two steers. He paid Billy $229.10, and Larry $287.10.

Because of the elder Sheridan's request that Food Fair buy his sons' steers, Netherton has decided to arrange it so that the meat from those steers will be sold at the Plymouth Food Fair, 705 South Main Street, where the family buys its groceries. The beef will be sold this week—and the Sheridan family plans to do some heavy shopping.

Billy and Larry are both delighted at the idea of eating meat which they raised. "This way you know you're getting the best meat," Billy said, "because you raised it yourself."

At 15, Billy is a veteran cattleman, with five years of working on steers behind him. Eleven-year-old Larry has had only a little more than a year's experience, but already is catching up to his brother.

The two boys each spend an hour or more every day working with their animals, seeing to it that their feed is right and making certain that nothing goes wrong. For the past three years running their work has paid off with grand championships in the Wayne County Fair.

When they're not working on their steers, Billy attends the 10th grade at Plymouth High School, and Larry goes to the fifth grade at Our Lady of Good Counsel School. Both boys say they make "average" marks in school, and both are members of 4-H clubs. They plan to stay in the cattle business all of their lives. "We like it," Billy said.

They like to eat well, too. This week, at any rate, they will.

VFW Post Sponsors PHS Essay Contest

Mayflower Post 6695 and Auxiliary Unit of the Veterans of Foreign Wars are joining in the sponsorship of the 19th annual Voice of Democracy contest in Plymouth.

All Plymouth High students are invited to participate and write an essay on the theme "Democracy: What It Means to Me." The script must be short enough to be read in five minutes or less.

The national prizes include five college scholarships and a trip to the national capital. Locally, Mayflower Post is offering a $50 savings bond for first place and a $25 bond for second.

Details are being handled by Assistant Principal John Hoben and the deadline is Dec. 1. Students should contact Hoben or VFW Chairman Harvey Jones (453-3437) or Auxiliary Chairman Lucille Johnson (453-0831) for additional details. Belated get well wishes are extended to Donna McAllister, and to Marlyn Wiltse's daughter who had her tonsils out. Get well wishes are extended to Rosemary Lyke who is in the hospital.

The auxiliary would like to thank the following people for their help in providing treats, for Halloween, for Our Lady of Providence girls. Thanks to: Mr. Wenzel—Westland Kresges, Mr. Perteet—Kresge's in Wayne, and to Cross and Peters—Westland.

Those who attended the Pow-wow, at Port Huron, from Mayflower Auxiliary No. 6695 were

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cadaret, Dorothy O'Reilly, and Marion Skoglund.

The next meeting of the Auxiliary will be held on Nov. 16.

PLYMOUTH MAILMAN
The Plymouth Post Office will observe a holiday schedule on Thursday, Nov. 11 (Veterans' Day), according to Postmaster John Mulligan.

Mulligan indicated there will be no regular business, residential or rural deliveries and no window service.

Mail will be picked up from street boxes on a Holiday schedule and outgoing mail will be dispatched. Special delivery service will be available.

The lobby will be open to provide access to lock boxes, stamp dispensers and mail deposit slots.

Westland Opens Art Show November 11

In a carnival atmosphere surrounded by beauty on every hand, shoppers at the new Westland Shopping Mall (Wayne Road at Warren), will be able to talk from booth to booth enjoying outstanding art work by well-known local artists, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 11, 12 and 13.

Original oils galore, collage, water colors, miniature oils, antique pewter, metal sculpture, sculpture in wood and clay to name only a few available items at this most unusual carnival of art. This show will enable many to experience the joy and prestige of owning an original work of art by local talent. Everything will be for sale and at reasonable prices.

A special treat will be the opportunity to pose for a portrait by Jon Lockard, professional portraitist from Ann Arbor. Mr. Lockard has done portraits of Jacqueline Kennedy, Walter Pidgeon, Harry Belafonte and others among the famous. In December Jon will have a one man show in New York City sponsored by Senator and Mrs. Javits.

At the carnival of art Mr. Lockard will do charcoal and pastel portraits on a raised platform so all may watch his skillful fingers at work.

Mrs. Ronnie Irland of Dearborn will also be available to do 10 minute pencil sketches for the shoppers.

Larry Kazzyk will display his many unusual designs in metal sculpture which created quite a sensation at a recent art show.

Ruth Thompson, sculptress of wood and clay, who is a resident of Redford Township will be at the mall to explain her beautiful works to the public.

The works of over a 100 artists will be under the direction of Betty Baldwin, owner of the artist's show place agency.

This revolutionary new idea in the sale and promotion of art, having the public meet and talk to the artists about their creations is starting a new trend.

Association is sponsoring the Carnival of Art and the show will open from 9:30 in the morning until 9 at night, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 11, 12 and 13.

Judge Edward S. Piggins, Chairman of the Explorer Planning Committee of the Detroit Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, announces that Eagle Scout Richard W. Joyner, age 16, has been selected as the "Report to the Nation" candidate from the Detroit Area Council.

Richard W. Joyner, Eagle Scout, selected for "Report to the Nation" from the Detroit Area Council.

Judge Piggins said that one Scout or Explorer will be selected by Region Seven Scouting officials from the 80 Scout councils in the four state area of Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin, to represent the region during 1966 Boy Scout Week activities in Washington, D.C.

The Region Seven representative, along with 11 other regional representatives, will make a personal report on Scout achievements for 1965 to the President of the United States at a special White House ceremony in February.

Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Joyner, 32814 Indiana, Livonia. He holds the rank of Eagle Scout with a Bronze Palm. He is a member of Explorer Post 270, sponsored by Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church, and has earned the God and Country religious award of that church.

Dick has taken part in many special Scouting activities, including the 1964 National Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., the International Scout Exchange program with Scouts from Venezuela, and was a member of an expedition to Philmont Scout Ranch, New Mexico.

In addition to his Scouting activities, Dick finds time to enjoy many extra-curricular affairs at Franklin High School. He is a member of the swimming team, a Junior Achiever, member of the Broadcast Club, the Junior Class Council, the American Field Service, and is an active member of his church youth group.

He was presented with an Outstanding Award for his exhibit at the 1963 Detroit Youth Science Fair.

Trio From Livonia Gets Insurance Award

Three Livonia-resident associates of a Detroit general agency of National life insurance have been presented the 1965 National Quality Award for excellence of service to policy owners.

The honor is a public recognition by the Life Insurance Agency Management Association and the National Association of Life Underwriters to Paul M. Davidson, (19650 Deering); Ira A. Lehman, Jr., C.L.U. (9928 Auburndale), and Gordon J. Muir, (19720 Osmus), for preventing the lapse, with the resultant loss of protection, of life insurance bought by policyowners.

Council Overrides 2 Vetoes; Readopts Municipal Budget

The question of police and fire salaries was shunted to a joint City Council and Civil Service Commission meeting last night — but Livonia's total municipal budget for 1965-66 was re-adopted over the Mayor's veto Wednesday, 7-0.

Councilmen reaffirmed their decision to spend $5,043,104 during the coming fiscal year in almost the same amounts contained in their original budget. But, noting objections by Mayor Moelke in his veto message, they made some adjustments.

To the Mayor's complaint that the council had eliminated "entirely from the budget of the Law Department the appropriation for court expenses," the Council responded with a $500 allocation. This permits the Mayor, should he desire to use the city attorneys without the Council's approval, to direct them to engage in court action.

The Council also overruled Mayor Moelke's veto of a separate resolution which established the itemized 10 cent-a-mile rule for members of the four commissions. Moelke had called the action "entirely contradictory and inconsistent with the Council's approval of the budget for the Zoning Board of Appeals where the Council either approved the recommended amount or increased the amount requested."

In other action Wednesday: The Council asked the State Liquor Control Commission to give favorable approval for an SDD liquor license to Independent Drug Fair, Inc., at Schoolcraft and Inkster. Councilmen noted that despite a five-year history of the store's request, and the fact that there are no nearby outlets in Livonia, no license has been approved despite approvals in other parts of the city.

The service fee of $1.50 for photostatic copies of accident reports from the police department was broadened to include all copies of official police reports.

By a 4-3 vote, the Council referred to Mayor Moelke for his recommendation a request by the Shephard and Young Tool Co. for an exchange of City owned property on Stark Rd. for nearby property owned by the firm.

The salary of the Youth Employment Director was boosted to $5,722 annually.

Food Fair Supermarket at Five Mile and Levan was requested to take "whatever action is necessary to eliminate" a noise problem emanating from the store's refrigeration unit. City attorneys were asked to report on what legal steps could be taken to halt the alleged disturbance.

Costumed Kids Frolic at Party in Brookwood

Brookwood Estates was alive Friday night as pumpkins, organ grinders, and assorted 'Monsters' invaded the hall at nearby St. Matthew's Church for the Brookwood Estates Association's annual Children's Halloween Party.

A total of 167 costumed children participated and were delighted to be treated to cider and doughnuts, movie cartoons, and prizes which were awarded in three categories: prettiest, funniest, and most original, awarded in each of four age groups. Those winning prizes included Julie Phillips, Gi Gi Balenger, and Kelly and Kirsten Heath in the pre-school group, Suzie Dickey, Kathy Hicks, and Susan Elemen among the 1st and 2nd graders. Third and 4th graders receiving prizes were Brian Lynch, Laura Scroggins, and Dan and David Elliott, while Mark Taylor, Alice Cardasis, and Jeff Reidle received awards in the 5th and 6th grade groups.

Judges faced with the difficult task of selecting winners were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller and Mrs. Clayton Heller. Committee members responsible for the fine program included Evelyn Bowles, Rosmaire Geran, Sadie Douglas, Ruth Kimball, Janet Heath and Kay Elliott.

The MAYOR'S CORNER

By HARVEY W. MOELKE

THE COUNTY ROADS AND BRIDGES COMMITTEE, . . . of which I am chairman, had the opportunity of inspecting County Road Commission road building projects on an all-day tour last Wednesday. The members of my committee were favorably impressed with the Road Commission plans.

We traveled principally over county roads south of Michigan Avenue. There is no doubt that Livonia is receiving major attention to solving its county road problems. This year the major portion of the new improvement county budget is being spent in our city.

While in Livonia, of course, are principally concerned with the need for additional road paving projects, we cannot, in good conscience, fail to recognize the tremendous need for road improvements in the balance of the county. We traveled over many gravel roads and improved roads in desperate need of repair. The County Road Commission faces the same problems that we in our local government face — the need for additional funds to carry out an adequate program to meet the needs of the area.

When one talks in terms of millions of dollars, it is sometimes difficult to understand why a few hundred thousand cannot be sent by the county to solve our needs. However, it takes millions of dollars for a major road improvement. Farmington is budgeted for $3,732,000. Livonia's share is $1,244,000. Two lanes on Merriman are budgeted for $2,030,000. Livonia's share is $676,667. Having the opportunity to look at the total picture, as the Road Commission must do, can only bring the realization that we have fared very well.

City Council members, our staff and I met with the Road Commission last week in an endeavor to secure cooperation and approval for the boulevard treatment of Farmington Road. All but one councilman present were staunchly in favor of boulevard treatment to beautify Farmington Road north of Schoolcraft, which is predominantly residential in character and will be the main avenue leading to our civic center.

It undoubtedly will mean Livonia's paying for the additional expense that may be necessary for this beautification project. All but the recalcitrant councilman were willing to accept this responsibility and even the possibility of a minor delay in order to achieve this long-range objective.

Farmington traffic, of course, will be relieved with the opening of Merriman. Also, other benefits to Farmington Road users would be the continued use of the existing Farmington Road paving during new construction provided it is done with a boulevard treatment and the old road removed after four lanes for traffic are opened.

Detroit Councilman, Bill Rogell, who serves as my vice-chairman, moved to request the county to buy additional right-of-way to provide for boulevard treatment of roads wherever possible in the county, particularly when the local community requested it.

Bette and I had the privilege of attending the Livonia Irish Society's meeting where a beautiful travelogue on Ireland was shown.

We were invited guests of the Compton Village Civic Association at their annual dinner-dance which we enjoyed very much.

On Friday night we participated in the testimonial dinner for our congressman, Billie Farnum, and heard an inspiring address by him. He is a very dedicated and sincere man. Mayor Cavanaugh's speech was, as usual, very well received.

Bette and I are looking forward to the annual dinner meetings with the Junior Football League of Livonia. These five dinners at Roma Hall are not helping my efforts to lose weight. I am told by my colleagues that this one of the hazards of a political office holder.

The Council also agreed to discuss in the future the need for a "communications section" within the Department of Public Safety, which Moelke had complained was overlooked in the Council's budget.

To another criticism, that the Council reduced his $2,000 "emergency fund" to $500, the Council noted that last year Moelke spent only $100 of the amount.

Moelke had also criticized the Council's action in eliminating the car allowance of $25 per month for members of the Library Commission, Traffic Commission, Industrial Development Commission and Parks and Recreation Commission as a "political maneuver" because the Council had at the same

Drain Work Starts

Construction work on the Pater Drain on Five Mile Rd. west of Farmington Rd. began last week.

Workmen were on the scene, Mayor Harvey Moelke reported, shortly after he issued a threat to confiscate the performance bond which the Fattore Construction Company had put up for completion of the project.

The Council also agreed to discuss in the future the need for a "communications section" within the Department of Public Safety, which Moelke had complained was overlooked in the Council's budget.

Senator Roberts Urges Hunters Follow Gun Safety Rules

LANSING—With Michigan's "Red Army" preparing for the invasion of the State's forests in search of the elusive buck and doe, Senator Farrell E. Roberts, Republican, offered some startling accident figures for this year's estimated 600,000 deer hunters.

The new deer season, set by the legislature this year, runs from Nov. 13 to 28 in the Upper Peninsula and will open Nov. 20 and run through Dec. 5 in the Lower Peninsula.

With hunting accidents increasing every year, Roberts has asked deer and small game hunters to be doubly alert this year.

Last year, according to Conservation Department figures, 564,000 deer licenses were issued — but with doe permit requests up 60,000 this year, the total is expected to be a record-breaking 600,000 deer licenses issued.

The 1964 State hunting accident toll took a turn in the wrong direction as 16 sportsmen were killed and another 264 wounded during the deer and small game season.

The total of 280 shooting mishaps was a 41 per cent increase over the 1963 season, and 13 per cent above the state's 10 year average. Roberts stressed that a close look at hunting accidents bears out the fact that the biggest threats to sportsmen are their own weapons and their hunting partners.

For example, Roberts said, one of every four gun victims wounded himself — and for every three hunters wounded, one was in the range of 10 yards or less from the gun that did the damage. The distance from gun to victim was 100 yards or less in 77 per cent of all accidents.

Roberts said that according to figures compiled by the Conservation Department and Michigan State Police, hunters under 17 years of age were responsible for 30 per cent of last season's accidents.

Hunters in the 17-24 age group, who purchased 24 per cent of last year's small game licenses, accounted for 26 per cent of hunter casualties. Hunters in the 25-32 age group, comprising 20 per cent of the hunter total, represented 16 per cent of the accidents. Hunters 33 years and older, representing 43 per cent of last season's licensed sportsmen, accounted for 28 per cent of firearm injuries.

With license sales estimated at 545,600 last year, the season's accident rate averaged one death per 54,560 hunters and one wounded for every 9,033 hunters. With this year's hunter total expected to increase by 60,000 plus, Roberts warned that the death and accident ratio will climb and asked sportsmen to reduce the accident ratio by following the Ten Commandments of Gun Safety.

1. Treat every gun as if it were loaded — it could be.
2. Unload your gun before taking it into home, camp or car.
3. Check now and then to make sure the barrel and action are clear of obstructions like mud, snow or ice.
4. Always carry your gun so you can control the direction of the muzzle should you trip, fall, or bump your arm.
5. Be sure of your target before you even put your finger on the trigger.
6. Never point your gun at anything you don't want to shoot.
7. Before you put your gun away — whether for an hour,

Road Toll Takes Dip In State

Michigan traffic accidents killed 187 persons in October, 11 or six per cent less than 198 in the same month a year ago, according to State Police provisional figures.

The month's toll was 12 above the average of 175 for October in the five years, 1960-64. Record high October was 230 in 1941, the low was 97 in 1944, a war year.

The deaths bring the 10-month provisional toll to 1,664 which is 88 or five per cent less than 1,752 in the same period last year.

Meanwhile, final figures for September showed 201 deaths and 12,910 injured in 23,863 accidents. Compared with the month last year, deaths were up 14 per cent over 177, injured were increased four per cent over 12,454 and accidents rose four per cent over 22,865.

Available accumulated figures for the first nine months showed 1,487 persons killed and 109,139 injured in 219,930 accidents. Deaths were down four per cent while injuries increased eight per cent and accidents 11 per cent compared with the same period in 1964.

Estimated travel for the first eight months, the latest available information, was 26.5 billions, an increase of six per cent compared with the same period last year, while the death rate of 4.9 per 100 million vehicle miles was down 11 per cent on the same comparative basis.

or a year, check and recheck to make sure it's empty.

8. Never climb up a tree, over a fence, or into a boat with a loaded gun in your hand.

9. Never shoot at a flat hard surface, or at the surface of water.

10. Don't "mix" alcohol and firearms.

In pointing out the shocking statistics, Roberts further urged hunters to be doubly cautious by being careful of clothing and usual colors used by the hunters. Don't use visible white clothing. Avoid wearing white socks and exposed white shirts if possible — and avoid littering the woods with white lunch papers, wrappings and tissues. Carry a flashlight before dawn so you do not trip over brush or debris. Keep your gun unloaded when carrying a light; in this way you will not be charged with shining deer, Roberts concluded.

Wild Clothes, Long Hair Miss the Mark at Bentley

Are students at Livonia's Bentley High School dressing "too extremely" this fall? Decidedly not, according to Principal Jack R. Comstock. In fact, writes Comstock in the current edition of the Bentley Bulletin, a newsletter for high school parents, "Our young people have been markedly conservative in their dress and grooming."

"We feel confident that most parents and students have been making a fine effort to curb the extremes in styles of hair and clothing popular in parts of the country this summer. "There is still a small segment of our student population which has yet to decide whether they are going to comply to the dress and grooming regulations. Educators generally agree that many of these same young people are in fact deciding whether they are going to continue attending school. Violating the dress code may be only a visible way of expressing their dissatisfaction with school and adult responsibilities."

Livonia Teachers Group Start 'Judicial' Branch

Livonia Education Association's newly organized Board of Reference met recently to formulate plans for 1965-66. Chairman of the newly organized Board is Charles Ruckhaber (Division of Instruction). Mr. Ruckhaber, states, "This is a real advance for the profession. It is time that we, as professionals, start policing our own ranks." Other members of the Board are Jack Schneider (Riley), Cecelia Wright (Coolidge), Alan Riegel, (Madison), and John Ort (Franklin).

The Board of Reference is the judicial branch of the local association. It will handle all questions arising from the association's Construction, questions of ethics, and other problems involving the association's structure and membership. The Board of References will operate as a panel of call witnesses, hear testimony, and examine evidence.

The Board of References will have the power to impose censure upon members and recommend their denial of membership, as well as the power to reinstate members. The Board of Reference was established under the revision of the Constitution of the association last year.

Parents' Night Set Today at Franklin High

A combined Junior-Senior Parents' Night will be featured as part of Franklin High School's Observance of American Education Week. Tonight at 7:30 p.m., parents of Franklin's juniors and seniors will be welcomed to a program designed to give them an opportunity to meet their children's teachers, visit the classrooms, and ask questions.

The program will begin with a brief, general meeting in the lecture theatre where the evening's activities will be explained. Following the general meeting, parents will be encouraged to follow an abbreviated version of their children's daily school schedule, meeting with their teachers in classrooms throughout the school. The eleventh and twelfth grade guidance offices will also be open at this time.

Parents who wish to, may make appointments to meet at some later date with their son's or daughter's counselor.

Study halls will not be held as scheduled. Parents are invited to spend this period visiting the library, talking with the Student Activities Director, or meeting with the Counselor who is assigned to their son or daughter.

Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria after the class visitations and the staff will be on hand for "after class" discussions.

He was named an associate professor in Sept., 1949, and assistant dean of liberal Arts in Jan., 1961. Dr. Adamson holds B. A. and Ph. D. degrees from the University of Wisconsin.

Freedom Not Sometime Thing

(Written by Acting Governor William G. Milliken while Governor Romney is in Japan) Legislators and private citizens have expressed to me their anger and concern about students who are attacking U.S. policy in Vietnam or even offering aid to the Viet Cong.

difference between honest protest against our nation's policies and disloyal assistance to our nation's enemies. It is precisely when our anger and disgust are most intense that we must guard most against the suppression of legitimate dissent in the name of patriotism.

We must remember that since adoption of our U.S. Constitution, freedom of speech has been, and is, a gift from each individual to each individual. In the words of Thomas Jefferson, "Error of opinion may be tolerated where reason is left free to combat it."

It is difficult to grant freedom to immature individuals who remember their rights and forget their responsibilities. Yet, by its very nature, freedom must be complete and indivisible. Each person has it, or no person has it.

F'ton Schools Need More Mills

The Farmington Public School District has called a special election this Monday, Nov. 15. Three proposals will be decided upon. Proposition I is a $6,100,000 bond issue. Proposition II asks renewal of 3 mills of operating tax which expires in 1966. Proposition III calls for 4 additional mills between now and 1970 to meet rising costs. None of these proposals call for an increase in tax rate.

The Observer lends its strongest support to all three issues. Each is a must if the school system is to keep pace with progress. Without any one of the three, it will falter.

The real issue is not a question of a "yes" or "no" vote. We believe the vast majority of the voters favor all three proposals.

The problem—which could spell disaster—is voter apathy. There are approximately 22,000 people eligible to vote Monday. At best the school administration hopes for a 15 percent turnout. This expected vote reflects the attitudes for only a small percent of the people that the election outcome will affect.

Statistics show that generally a fourth to a third of the people who vote in such an election will automatically pull the "no" lever. These same people will vote rain or shine and their vote would be negative regardless of the issue.

If the large block of people favoring the proposals don't close their minds and exercise their legal right to vote Monday, the school system could suffer a staggering defeat as the result of this negative faction.

It is up to each voter to go to the polls. The privilege to vote shouldn't be left up to the other fellow. Voting is the only way we can be sure that the majority of people favoring an issue come out on top.

The issues, once understood, clearly show their necessity.

The $6,100,000 bond issue—biggest the district has ever sought—will be used to build new schools, acquire sites and add to existing building. The 1963 bond issue is nearly exhausted.

haunted. Between now and 1970, the district anticipates about 1,000 more students each year with a total of 17,300 by 1970. These children will require 31 new teachers each year. Without additional facilities which this bond issue could provide, half day sessions might have to be considered.

The renewal of 3 mills for a 10-year period will not raise taxes, but merely extend the present levy until 1976. This millage produces $360,000 a year of the annual budget of $6,305,497. It is a vital part of this year's cost of $470 per child for education. It also pays for improved salary schedules adopted last spring. Without these three mills, the school district would be stepping backwards.

Thirdly, it is estimated that 4 additional mills will be needed between now and 1970 to meet the annual rise in operating costs. These 4 mills can be gained without raising the present total tax rate of 32.50 mills. The plan calls for an exchange of 4 mills from the present debt retirement levy to the operating levy. It is like taking money from one budget envelope and putting it in another. School finance experts say this is sound planning. School districts are no different than businesses regarding rising costs. More money is needed to pay for the higher bills and additional students and staff.

The Board of Education has spent several months trying to solve the problem of school finance in this district. With the help of bonding experts they have come up with a plan that won't cost the taxpayers more money. For this the Board should be commended.

Now it is our duty as citizens to vote "yes" on all three special school election propositions. Don't neglect the right to vote and allow a small number of people—such as 15 percent—rule. The majority of this 15 percent might not reflect the feelings of the other 85 percent who choose to stay home and assume the issues would pass.

JOY STINSON

GOP Bright Light In Farmington

The Republican Party has a future. John Lindsay proved that when he became the first Republican Mayor of New York in a generation, despite the "rule-or-ruin" tactics of his Party's right wing.

What Lindsay also proved was that the Republican future lies in the path of moderation and in a concern for civil rights and civil liberties. The "ultras" cloud that future. But they have been proven not insurmountable.

A Lindsay-type Republican who has begun to attract attention in this area is Charles Stevenson, of Farmington Township, who has just been appointed Republican Director in Farmington Township. He is young, able, articulate, an able vote-getter—last Monday he was elected President of the Village of Quakertown, by an impressive majority.

Unless the GOP is resigned to permanent second place, it will have to turn its back on its right wingers with their ancient grudges and pathological fears and turn to people like Charles Stevenson who are trying to find real solutions to real-life problems.

ALLEN ROSENFELD

A Poor Political Practice

Despite an unsigned letter urging a "no" vote for Nankin's Fire Millage Proposal, the measure was adopted Nov. 2.

The contents of the letter included nothing in any way defamatory or libelous—it was not a "poison-pen" type and it is therefore mystifying why the author felt he had to remain anonymous.

Any letter gains in stature and respect when the source is known and it would be well for all persons who either favor or disapprove a public referendum to come forward and declare themselves openly.

This is the approved method in a democratic government and let us hope we all subscribe to it.

'World's Greatest Wonder'

What is the worth of a library? William Alexander Silverman, assistant news editor of the Cleveland News, had this to say about it:

"This is the library. If one should ask me which is the greatest wonder of the world, I would choose neither the pyramids of Egypt nor the splitting of the atom. Instead, quite proudly as though I myself had discovered this, I would reply, the public library—for it is all things to all men.

"To me it is truly the greatest wonder for beneath its sheltering roof, it is the distillate of everything man has learned since the beginning of his existence. Here—each in its cloister and catalogued in a most amazing way—are all of the questions and the answers mankind is capable of asking and finding.

"It is where the blind can see; where the deaf can hear; where the mute can speak. This is where the old grow young and the young gain the wisdom of the ages.

"This is the only place man has ever found where the Greek words Alpha and Omega assume their literal meaning for wisdom indeed is the beginning and the end of all human experience.

"This is the public library."

Eight Cents Will Do It

(Open Letter to the voters of South Redford School District)

In a time of unprecedented prosperity can we afford an additional eight cents per day for the education of our children?

On Dec. 14 we will be asked that question at the polls.

Although our school system may not be perfect (which one is) our students have compiled excellent records in national competitive examinations. Our graduates have done very well in their college work, and our drop-out rate is among the lowest in the State. How else should we measure the quality of our educational system?

This school year our School Board was forced to make $160,000 worth of reductions in the following areas: education, transportation, foreign languages, athletics, health, teaching supplies, athletics, maintenance, community use of

THE READER SPEAKS UP:

Not Anti-Romney Says Candidate

Editor:

In response to an article written by Jerry Wendt in your last edition of The Observer, I would like to correct the record and make it crystal clear that I am not anti-Romney. I wish to label the statement that I am "anti-Romney" as a complete lie started by those who would like to see the Republican Party split into factions and continue internal fighting rather than fighting the great enemy, the Democrats. I want to make it perfectly clear that I supported the entire Republican team from the top to the bottom in the election of 1964 and campaigned vigorously for it.

I supported George Romney when he ran for delegate to the Constitutional Convention and voted for him on at least fifteen ballots to be president of I have supported him every time he has been a candidate for Governor; and, I shall continue to support him. It should also be noted that the Governor and I campaigned together as a team after the primary when we were running as delegates to the Constitutional Convention; and, last year when I was the Republican nominee for Congress in the 19th District, the Governor and I ran as a team in this District. I think where some people make a mistake in terminology is the fact that I, as a responsible individual, have the right to not agree one hundred percent or be a rubber-stamp for anyone when it comes to questions of basic issues and principles.

The Governor is very strong-minded and fights hard for his principles and beliefs; and I must submit that I, too, am very strong-minded and fight very hard for my principles and beliefs but this should not mean that I am anti-Romney. One of the good things about the Republican Party is that we are individuals with the ability and capacity to think and make decisions based on fact and are not a bunch of rubber-stamps; and, the day I become a rubber-stamp will be the day I retire as a candidate for public office.

buildings, text and library books, and special education.

These reductions were in addition to $100,000 worth of reductions made in many of the same areas in 1964-65.

Recent legislation requires that parochial, as well as public schools, benefit from many of these items.

Due to constantly increasing costs, unless additional funds are made available, the Board will have to make further reductions next year. I don't know exactly what can or will be reduced but I can guess that our schools may be put on half days; all transportation may be eliminated; all athletics may be out; music may be out; personnel may be laid off; and the quality of education may be reduced. In addition, we may lose many of our teachers and other personnel because we can't pay competitive wages.

If any or all of the above occurs, what will happen to our accreditation? What will happen to our drop-out rate? How many of our citizens will leave the Township so their children can be provided with a good education?

In a time of plenty will any of this happen because of eight cents a day?

You, as a voter, can answer at the polls.

A Parent South Redford Township

For Dick Kuhn

Editor:

It was an absurd false accusation when some dissenters at the last Republican 19th District committee meeting, claimed Candidate for Congress Dick Kuhn was anti-Romney.

May I set some facts straight. Dick Kuhn supported George Romney for Governor and Governor Romney supported Dick Kuhn for the U.S. Congress in last year's election.

George Romney and Dick Kuhn as elected delegates to the Constitution Convention (con-con) worked to give Michigan a good constitution. They helped Michigan on the move after years of Democrat ruin and bankruptcy.

Now, it has become evident that the control of the Democrat party had been wrested from the people. It has fallen into the collaborating hands of union labor barons and the greedy fat cats of industry because of division in their party. This must not happen in the G.O.P.

Therefore, we Republicans should be united to the principles and philosophy of Abraham Lincoln. We should have a "A Government of the People, by the People and for the People." We would unite to elect capable and well qualified "Republicans" from the White House to the Court House. I know Dick Kuhn is certainly well qualified and is most capable of being our next congressman in 1968.

Praises Ralph LeBlanc

Editor:

I wish to take exception to the manner in which you reported the accidental death of Ralph T. LeBlanc.

Mr. LeBlanc was buried from Our Lady of Loretto Roman Catholic Church on Saturday, Oct. 23 with full rites. His death was brought about by the accidental discharge of a .38 caliber pistol into his mid-section and death was almost instantaneous. You reported it as being a 30 caliber gun. Your tabloid competition reported a shotgun wound. The teacher shown in the photo with Mr. LeBlanc and his son is at the Westland School which is not as you reported.

It seems that you went to a great degree of trouble to get the wrong information. It is a sad commentary on the fourth estate when such lousy reporting and a slipshod work should appear on the front page of a newspaper.

I knew Ralph T. LeBlanc for 10 years and I don't believe that his community efforts should be written off in such hurried fashion as to say he worked for Redford Township.

He was instrumental in the Redford Township Goodfellows during the past eight years serving in a variety of capacities.

He was instrumental under the leadership of Rep. John Bennett in setting up Redford Township's food surplus program. This program allowed Township recipients of surplus food to get it locally rather than making a long trip to an outcounty depot.

He was the main driving force in setting up the Redford Township Civil Defense Police Force. When he entered the program there were but a handful of men. The force under his lieutenant grew to a staff of over 35 men. Through his efforts and that of other Township officials the men were uniformed and trained to handle all sorts of unusual situations and all of a minimal cast to local government.

His work as the ordinance officer brought nothing but high praise from the zoning board and building department and the police department.

In review I have tried to encompass in a few words what this man had accomplished for his community. If I am ever unfortunate enough again to have to receive surplus food I will thank Ralph T. LeBlanc for making a little easier for me to swallow this bitter pill for I won't have to go out of my area to get it. He helped prove that our community can care for its own.

REDFORD TOWNSHIP FRANK MCGOWAN

Ed Note: Unfortunately the press of deadlines and tight newspaper schedules sometimes prevent us from in-depth reporting. The facts involved in this case were taken from the police blotter and were accurate. The Observer would like, however, to add a proper—30—to Ralph T. LeBlanc: "He never stopped until the job was done—and for the least of us."

Correction on Phenev

Editor:

Reference is made to your recent article concerning my appointment to the Associate Municipal Judgeship for the City of Farmington.

Last the Department of Music of the University of Notre Dame fall into disrepute among those who are acquainted with my musical ability. I should like to point out that it was the Department of English of that University in which I pursued my Major.

And lest the Michigan State Bar Association be alarmed that I had been practicing law for some five years prior to my graduation from law school, I hasten to inform you that, in fact, I did not begin to practice law until I was admitted to the Bar, approximately two years ago.

Yours truly, Dennis J. Phenev

An Apology

Editor:

Last Friday evening at the Saturday matinee the Livonia Theatre Cinema announced a dance contest to the teenagers here in Livonia in conjunction with the premiere showing of "Having A Wild Weekend."

The contest was not held because of the ruling set up by the Livonia Mall management and, therefore, was not the fault of the theatre. We apologize for any inconvenience this might have caused our patrons.

Observing the Scene...

By MYRA CHANDLER

Operation Head Start does not necessarily apply to educating pre-schoolers. It is apropos as applied to some of our local political candidates.

For instance, with the primary election nine months away interested voters can satisfy their appetites... political and otherwise. Aldrick Bellaire, candidate for Township Supervisor next year is meeting supporters each Saturday morning for breakfast at Paul's Restaurant, Telegraph and Plymouth Road in Redford Township and invites those who would discuss local current issues to join him.

Through with breakfast? Jack McDonald, seeking the 19th District Congressional nomination as a Republican, has launched his campaign by lunching every Saturday at noon at Huck's Bavarian Village, Five Mile and Inkster. He, too, will discuss issues with interested persons.

Billie Farnum, present Congressman from the 19th District, has opened an office in the Wilshire Plaza, 24634 Five Mile Road in Redford Township. He plans to serve refreshments from 3:30 to 5:30 this Sunday for an open house to officially open the headquarters. He will be available to discuss problems with local people.

Around our office we have been trying to think of slogans for the gentlemen, like "Break Bread with Bellaire"—"Munch with McDonald" or "Take a Break with Billie."

A hard, cold fact to back Governor George Romney's plea for changing the minimum driving age for Michigan youth to 17 instead of 16, should be the report from the Juvenile Court Branch Office. During the month of October 724 youths were referred to the Juvenile Court Branch Office for violations.

Even if the driving age stays at 16 I'd like to see the Governor's recommendation put into operation that the first year the driver would be on probation. This would mean that his license could be suspended if he were convicted of a hazardous violation or caused an accident. Sounds reasonable, yet you would be amazed, at the reaction of many—who say police are always picking on the young. Remember 724 violations in one month just in the northwest section alone.

Pausing to reflect a moment on Veterans Day, Thursday, Nov. 11, so many thoughts are hard to apply to reality:

That it has been 20 years since the World War II Armistice was signed.

That the original Armistice Day was proclaimed Nov. 11, 1918, to honor the ending of World War I—to end all wars.

That, in my opinion, we have Benedict Arnolds even in the 20th Century. Treason is what I would label the young man at U. of M. who spent his time and effort to collect money to send to the Viet Cong "because in his conscience he thought it was right to help the enemy the Americans were fighting."

No amount of justification, no palaver, spouting "freedom of speech" will make that one stand right in my book.

So he has opinion, disagrees with his Government. Let him be an armchair President, or General—but to raise money to send to those who raise arms against the soldiers protecting him, while he is allowed to go freely about obtaining an education is ludicrous—and treason besides.

On a happier note—if you get anywhere near New York City, just for pure enjoyment, try and get tickets for "On A Clear Day You Can See Forever." Barbara Harris is charming both on the stage and off. A friend, Byron Webster, plays the part of Sir Hubert Insdale, one of the principals. His singing and cavorting about the stage was a high spot in the show not only for me, the audience, but also his sister, Eileen Boze, an Observerite who accompanied me to New York. Byron introduced his "sister Eileen" (always got a laugh because his timing is professional) and me to many Broadway greats—and for a fortnight we lived in the glittery, exciting pace and life of Broadway—which begins at 11:30 p.m. and lasts until 3 a.m.

On Opening Night amid the huge floodlights, and formal finery those two in the high hair and long gowns were not celebrities—they were Eileen and me. But we didn't tell. We were included in the Opening Night party Alan Jay Lerner gave for the cast and guests. Looking beautiful in the audience that night was Jacqueline Kennedy and Princess Radziwill, her sister, who is an investor in the show. Ah me!

Entrepreneur Paul Lutzeier, Livonia School District Community Relations Director has been assisting The Observer in getting a dignitary to speak at The Observer's annual AFS banquet. Once more it will be held in the Mayflower Hotel and proprietor Ralph Lorenz will again conjure up the original Thanksgiving feast to serve the visitors to America and their local families.

Editor:

HELP!!! The Livonia Public Schools lunch menu was omitted again this week from the Nankin Observer.

True, we do live in Nankin, but our children go to Hayes School. You have no idea how much we rely on that published lunch menu. Is there some way you can see to it that it is published on the pages of the paper we receive?

Thank you very much for your cooperation. Mrs. Ross Humphries Nankin Twp.

of the gracious participation of the entire Observer staff in assisting us with the additional press arrangements for other representatives outside our district.

We appreciate the outstanding gesture on the part of the Observer and the warm spirit of cooperation in which it was extended. We are most grateful for this impressive effort. (Mrs. Strelsa H. Schreiber, President, Board of Education, Benton Yates, Superintendent of Schools)

By SUE DOWELL
Bentley High school likes to give surprises. The student body surprised the Bulldog football team last Thursday afternoon while they were practicing for their final game of the season.

It was a pep assembly that helped to get the students as well as the team in good spirits for Friday night. Mr. Webster served as host while the cheerleaders helped get things under way. A pep band also took part in making the afternoon a big success.

Just about every Tuesday after school, over 100 Bentley students take part in a club that involves only fun and singing—Folk Singing group. Last year the club started out with less than 20 members and now has well over 100 with more joining all the time.

During the Folk Singing club meetings many solos are sung by students like Leigh Manning,

"Still Life" a costume party hosted by the junior class, was held on Oct. 29, from 8:30 to 11:30 in the school gym.

In place of the classmates one ordinarily expects to meet at a school dance, a variety of ghouls from the sophomore, junior and senior classes attended the affair. Gomez and Morticia Adams, usually known as Denise Wittstock and Christine Kessler took first prize of $5 for the ingenious costumes.

Dennis Phillips, as a shining silver robot complete with flashing lights, won a special of $5 for his costume.

Television and storybook characters—from Ilya Kuryakin to Captain Cruch—proved most popular. Hell's Angels—alias the Senior boys—also captivated the notice of those in attendance.

A hootenanny, sponsored by the senior YCS, took place on Sunday evening. All St. Agatha students were invited, as well as those from Our Lady of Sorrows, Farmington, and the catechism class members.

Christ the King crowning took place on Friday, Oct. 29. The ceremony opened with a procession into Church by the senior Young Christian Students—Christopher Berger, Daniel Pavlat, Gregory Brower, Kenneth Krupansky, Daniel Gillis, Gerry Kaminski, Robert Gardner, Patrick Murphy, John Marshall, Edward Schrock, Terry Dillon, Joseph Wlenczak, and John Harvey—in green caps and gowns.

An Act of Consecration to Christ the King, Scripture Reading, crowning by Y.C.S., president John Harvey, rosary, and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament completed the program.

Next Friday is "Be Kind to a Teacher Day." Students will choose a special teacher to be especially helpful to.

A Paper Drive is being held this week, on Wednesday and Thursday. The sophomore class is in charge of this activity.

On Saturday, Oct. 30, seven members of the Future Teachers Club attended the annual F.T.A. which was held at the University of Detroit.

The students who attended were: Donna Baker, Patricia Clinton, Davidina Dow, Jessie Garden, Ann Roemer, Lynda Wilkerson, and Sandra Wilkerson. Moderator, Sister Paul Christine, O.P. accompanied the group.

Senior Play at Thurston

By LYNN BARNETT
Tickets went on sale Wednesday, Nov. 3, for the all-school play "The Great Big Doorstep." The cost is 75 cents for students and $1 for adults. There is a special Thursday night rate of 50 cents for students. The play will take place in the little auditorium Nov. 11, 12, and 13.

Thurston had two bake sales last week, Nov. 2 and 3. The recipients of the profits were the French Club and the sophomore class.

Pictures of clubs and organizations were taken Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 8 and 9 for Thurston's 1966 "Vita" yearbook.

The Homecoming issue of the "Eagle Outlook" was on sale Nov. 3. It contained eight pages of 26 pictures of the festive Homecoming weekend.

School was recessed November 4 and 5 for the annual Teacher Institute. The teachers met at Cobo Hall Thursday and at different schools in Wayne County on Friday.

Thurston Slates Parent Confabs

Thurston High School's parent-teacher conference, scheduled this fall for Nov. 15, 16, and 17, received state-wide publicity in the November issue in the Michigan Education Association Journal, official publication of more than 89,000 Michigan teachers.

Written by Assistant Principal Helen Ditzhazy and Eldon Hamm, journalism teacher at Thurston, the article describes the plan initiated by Principal Frank Block wherein parents can come to school and see all of their children's teachers at one time without pre-arranged formal appointment.

Block again urges parents to come whenever it is convenient on either a Monday or Wednesday afternoon or Tuesday evening.

Where possible, he indicated, it will be helpful if the following schedule can be followed:

Nov. 15—1:00-1:30 A-B; 1:30-2:00 C-D; 2:00-2:30 E-G; 2:30-3:00 H-J; 2:45-3:15 K-L. Nov. 16—7:00-7:30 A-C; 7:30-8:00 D-G; 8:00-8:30 H-M; 8:30-9:00 N-T; 8:45-9:15 U-Z. Nov. 17—1:00-1:30 M-O; 1:30-2:00 P-R; 2:00-2:30 S; 2:30-3:00 T; 2:45-3:15 U-Z.

LIVONIA GROUP REORGANIZES:

Urge Strong Citizen Involvement in School Board Advisory Council

Building a broadly based citizens' committee in the Livonia School District is the goal of the newly reorganized School Board Advisory Council, which held its official meeting last Wednesday in Board of Education offices.

Committees on school construction and maintenance, and federal-state involvement in Livonia public education were formed, officers were elected, by-laws were ratified and purposes, projects and goals of the citizens' group were discussed.

The Council's steering committee urged interested groups to send delegates to its next meeting, Wednesday, Dec. 15, at 8 p.m. in the Board of Education building, 15125 Farmington Rd.

"We want to have the broadest base of representation possible in the district," a statement issued by the Council said, "and we urge each PTA, civic association, service club, church and school district employees' organization to select a delegate and alternate." Names should be sent to membership chairman Connie Herta, 29193 Brody, Garden City, or telephone her at 422-8711.

President of the Council is George Kindred of 14357 Arden. Kindred has served as Federation of Livonia Civic Association charter president and as a sub-committee chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee for Community Improvement. He and his wife are parents of three children, two currently in Livonia schools, and a third who will enroll next fall.

"I am vitally interested in quality education and continued improvement of our excellent school system," he said. "I believe the Council delegates have selected a steering committee that is dedicated and will work diligently toward that end. I want to commend the School Board for its support, and particularly its statement that it was not reforming the group to push future school bond votes."

Other officers elected are: vice-president, Morris O. Stein, 14609 Country Club Drive, Hull PTA; recording secretary, Thomas Griffin, 38657 Richmond, Washington PTA; and directors, V. C. Reddy, 19938 Shady-side, North Central Livonia Civic Assoc.; David F. Merrion, 11401 Cranston, Bentley High Alumni Assoc., and Bill McQuestin, 1181 Roosevelt, Ply., Livonia Education Assoc.

Committees that were formed are: School Construction and Maintenance, V. C. Reddy, chairman; and Federal and State Involvement in Livonia Public Education, David Merrion, chairman. Other committees will be appointed by the steering committee as the need arises, or is suggested for study consideration by the Board of Education.

WIDE-AWAKE SLIDE-SHOWING
One way of measuring the success of a slide show is to count the number of watchers who are still awake at the end of it. One proved-effective way to accomplish this feat is to keep the show moving along snappily. No distracting, boring, apologetic pauses to unstick a stuck slide.
The one sure way we know of to guarantee a pause-proof slide show is to use a KODAK CAROUSEL Projector. Now, if you shudder at the potential pain in your pocketbook because of this suggestion, it's because you haven't been visiting our camera counter regularly enough. It's true that a KODAK CAROUSEL Projector used to be a pretty hefty investment. Worth every penny, because it gave you unbeatable Kodak quality, positively jamproof slide-showing, remote control over forward, reverse, and focus, and automatically-timed slide changing, but pretty hefty.
But it recently occurred to someone that many people didn't need or want all this automatic fancy stuff. So, while the Kodak folk were busy redesigning their projector to a streamlined, compact, handsome little brute, they also added a couple of models for those of us with simpler tastes. The solid construction is the same, so is the jamproof, 80-slide round tray. But the prices, depending on the features you want, are very, very much lower.
And if your budget is still too slim, or your slide requirements less demanding, you can still have Kodak quality in the KODAK READYMATIC 500 Slide Projector—it doesn't even need trays! See one, see them all, start putting on better slide shows.

Have To Fight Reds

Editor:
This is a copy of a letter I received from my son in Vietnam. In it were expressed the following thoughts concerning the student and other anti-war demonstrations.

"I was just reading the paper and it really makes me mad to see all these people back in the States fighting about us being here in Vietnam. I believe they should come over here and see how rotten the Reds are treating these people; then they would have room to talk about why we are here.

"I don't like being here; but I will stay until my job is complete then I can come back with my head held high and say that I helped to bring freedom to these people who need it. I am really proud to say I am doing my part in saving some people from the Red way of life.

"Everyone should feel this way; we will have to stop the Reds someplace so why not here instead of the States. I am glad we are over here doing our part to preserve the freedom of this country."

Backs Government

Editor:
You would like to know what people think or believe about the United States policy in Viet Nam. I'd like to tell you what I believe!

Since I came to this country about 11 years ago this country of ours has given me everything I dreamed about. Freedom, Freedom of Speech, Free Elections and a Good Job. After my first five years I applied for my citizenship, it was the proudest day of my life. I promised to bear arms to defend our country, that no harm would come to this nation of ours.

I know what Communism is, as I was living under this way of government for many years before coming to this country. Communism spreads like cancer and you have to cut it out to prevent it from getting bigger or spreading to other areas.

Our stand in Viet Nam has my one hundred per cent approval. We have our commitments to fulfill there to help this country against the spread of Communism. Today it is Cuba, Korea and Viet Nam, tomorrow it could be the U.S.A. Let us all get behind our President and give him our full support and the backing our boys need in their fight for freedom.

Just a Citizen,

Queries Vietnam War

Editor:
Thanks to the Observer editor, Bill Gail, for his commendable editorial regarding Vietnam war demonstrations.

Deep concern regarding U.S. policy in Vietnam has been expressed repeatedly by many responsible citizens. During the past year large ads opposing U.S. policy have appeared in the New York Times sponsored by the following groups: 2700 ministers, priests, and rabbis; public school teachers; college professors; artists and writers; and businessmen. Leading newspapers such as the New York Times, the Washington Post, and the Detroit Free Press have expressed serious reservations regarding U.S. involvement.

It should be emphasized that it is possible to raise valid, responsible disagreements with U.S. policy on moral, legal, democratic as well as realistic grounds. It has been challenged on all these counts by well informed individuals, some of whom are specialists in political science. It has even been challenged by responsible persons who have spent time in Vietnam.

There are insistent moral objections regarding the genocidal nature of a war which is so inhumane that a legacy of hate will be created against Americans and the West for generations. Incidents have been reported in the NEW YORK TIMES and elsewhere of whole villages being wiped out because a few "Vietcong" have been cited in the area. Often this involves napalm bombing and burning of women and children.

Finally, in spite of all of the publicity given to our willingness to negotiate, serious questions can, and are being raised regarding the honesty of our negotiating position. The U.S. negotiating position has never declared an acceptance of negotiations with all concerned parties including the Vietcong. It has never declared a willingness to accept a coalition government of all concerned parties. It has never declared support for the U.N. or other international machinery to supervise a cease fire, provide for the establishment of a new government in South Vietnam, and protect the rights of minority groups and the neutrality of it has not emphasized support North and South Vietnam. Also for the principles of the 1954 Geneva Accords — the eventual withdrawal of all foreign military forces, a prohibition against military alliances, the peaceful reunification of Vietnam, and self-determination of the Vietnamese people.

These questions and objections and others must be heard and given more than token attention by the administration and public. As yet our nation is not a totalitarian society, but the first requirement to make it such is a population that abets the silencing of dissent and follows in a mindless and soundless manner government policies that are reigning extreme cruelty and destruction on the Vietnamese people.

Congress has never declared war in Vietnam and the issues involved have never been debated in Congress although some Congressmen have called for such a debate.

In the absence of a national airing of the real issues involved by Congress as well as the nation's news media, it has been imperative that students, teachers, ministers, artists, writers, and businessmen keep alive the right of dissent and open discussion in ads, teach-ins, rallies, seminars, conferences, and demonstrations.

The soul as well as the physical survival of our nation may well depend upon such dissent.

More Anti-Semitism?

Editor:
We were not surprised by the letter sent to your paper by Mrs. Bernard Zupmore but we will be very surprised if our letter appears in its entirety. Mrs. Zupmore tells how her family's car was disfigured on Halloween with the word "Jews". She is not alone in experiencing this anti-semitic gesture.

We live in a different part of Livonia than Mrs. Zupmore. Our neighbor's also had their car window disfigured with the Jewish religious symbol, the Star of David, while we found this symbol on our living room window. As in Mrs. Zupmore's area, our "Christian" neighbors' cars and homes were also clear of this type of disfigurement. Jewish people living in various parts of Livonia have had similar experiences, many far worse.

Mrs. Zupmore states that "maybe Jewish families are meeting with intolerance in Livonia and going to other communities..." There is no "maybe" about it. Anti-semitism has apparently reared its ugly head again and not just on Halloween.

Mrs. Zupmore further states "Do they want us to leave their Christian community?" Obviously some people do want this and it is exactly what is happening. If statistics can be checked they will show that Livonia's Jewish population has declined over the past few years and that the word is getting around amongst the Jewish community to stay away from Livonia, which should overjoy the people who are guilty of this behavior. In the not too distant future perhaps these hate-mongers can smugly and proudly say they, too, are an all-Christian community and can share the notorious reputation of one of our neighboring suburbs known throughout the United States for intolerance.

In your reply to Mr. Zupmore you state, "Please realize prejudice is found everywhere but is being fought everywhere too by those who are educated and intelligent."

This sounds good but realistically speaking this is not always the way it is. Nor does this lessen the initial shock and heart-sick feeling of discovering THE reason your family is hated is only because of the religion you practice.

We certainly realize that a whole community cannot be condemned for the attitudes and action of some of its residents. However this type of thing will continue if the people of Livonia are apathetic and do not have the courage to publicly and privately condemn these deplorable acts and to encourage that all people be judged by their character, not by their race or religion.

We would be most interested to "realize" how prejudice is being fought, not "everywhere" but where we live, right here in Livonia, a typical suburban community in the United States — in the year 1965.

If this is printed, we would be most appreciative if you would give us the courtesy of withholding our name and address in order to protect our children and to prevent our being subjected to crackpot mail or phone calls.

A JEWISH FAMILY
Livonia

Editor's Note: Specifically, Livonia has an active Human Relations Council that is dedicated to fighting prejudiced hate-peddlers. Come and join. You will be enlightened.

Parks in Redford

Editor:
On behalf of the Redford Township Park Commission I wish to express the thanks of each commissioner for the spirit of public service exemplified by the management and editorial staff of your newspaper during the weeks preceding the election of Nov. 2. With objectivity and in great detail The Observer laid before the electorate the needs of Redford Township in the areas of public safety and community recreation. On Nov. 2 the people thus educated and informed chose to take a "first things first" attitude and overwhelmingly supported the millage increase for greater police and fire protection.

No group was more pleased with this result than the Park Commission. By the narrowest of margins, 72 votes, in an election where over 8,000 voters cast their ballots, the citizens chose to defer the question of capital improvements. The Park Commission looks upon this result as a response from the people "Let us know more about the Parks Program and give us time to evaluate its needs relative to our ability to support such a program."

With this in mind the Park Commission pledges to inform the citizens of Redford Township concerning prospective improvements and land requisition and will attempt to sound out the people most affected by the proposals. In so doing we know that Observer Newspapers will continue to contribute the spirit of cooperation and public service that has served the public so well in the past. Again, many, many thanks!

Sunday Schools in Area Face Period of Change

Contrary to the findings of a survey by the Michigan Council of Churches Sunday or Church Schools in the area are booming. They may not be operating at peak, but they aren't wasting away for lack of pupils either.

However, the ministers admit that the Christian education program in their churches face problems.

In some cases the enrollment has actually declined, but in most it has risen. This, however, is tied to the influx of residents into the suburbs rather than to any outstanding efforts on the part of the various denominations.

Rev. John Boruff of the Livonia Christian Church, who attended the Conference at which the survey's findings were made public told The Observer that all of the 18 different Protestant denominations surveyed agreed that their Christian Education programs were declining both in terms of attendance and interest.

Three trends were cited by Mr. Boruff as emerging from the study. They are:

- More emphasis on Christian Education in the home;
- Continue the traditional program in a bigger and better manner; and
- Eliminate the Church or Sunday School completely and concentrate rather on smaller discussion group instruction for adults.

The first trend seems to be drawing the most adherents among the ministers. They cite the problem as similar to what the public schools are facing — an expectation on the part of the parents that the formal education relieves them of all responsibility.

One minister commented that somehow the idea that a child can receive all the religious training necessary in one hour every Sunday must be corrected. He admitted, however, that this was perhaps a symptom of society and added "that while the churches have to keep trying to correct the illness he wouldn't see much change over the short term."

At St. Paul's Presbyterian Church the Rev. Arnold Dalzell said that the main problem was to find space for the 1,900 youth registered for Sunday School in the three scheduled sessions.

He foresees a change in the Presbyterian Sunday School curriculum within the next few years to revise the home participation efforts. Since 1948 the Presbyterians have included in the curriculum specific materials to bring the parents into the religious educational process. Rev. Dalzell said that these efforts had not been successful, however.

Pastor E. Hadwiger at Hosanna Tabor Lutheran Church, however, said that many parents in the Redford Township congregation worked with their children on the subject matter.

Hosanna Tabor, which operates a full time parochial school in addition to a Sunday School added to its evening religious instruction program for youth this year.

In the past the confirmation class had been conducted in the evening and this included seventh and eighth grades and this year fifth and sixth grade classes were added to the Tuesday evening curriculum.

Paster Hadwiger pointed out that the Hosanna Tabor program was a combination use of its facilities. He added that the Lutheran church has always been education minded and that the emphasis on the parent's responsibility for the Christian Education of their children has always been strong among the Lutherans.

Hosanna Tabor, however, has been instituting Wednesday services in the church and foresees a greater use of the evening hours for education rather than on Sunday. They are also examining the released time laws in the state to meet its obligations.

James Schaefer of the Pilgrim Congregational Church in Livonia said that his congregation did not show any decline on enrollment, but added that he sensed "a lack of interest on the part of parents. They don't seem to be concerned if their children attend the church school every Sunday."

He attributes this to a poor

Christian Education when they were children and believes that the solution is in adult education programs.

Pastor Donald E. Williams of the First Baptist Church of Plymouth said that the overall picture over the past five years showed no decline in Sunday School enrollment at that church.

He said that the enrollment had been up and down various years, but the average was about the same. The church does conduct adult education classes which have been successful and the only thing prohibiting the expansion of both the Sunday School and the adult education classes was lack of space.

Eddy Sets New Talks on Marriage

Eddy said in the series he would "re-evaluate my 'controversial' proposals for companionate marriages in the light of actual—as opposed to verbal—standards in America over the last 40 years."

- Praying for the needs of the missionaries;
- Giving of the tithe to the local church and faith promises for the missions; and
- Going out to witness locally, laymen visiting fields, teens and laymen going for short terms of special service, and God called persons serving as missionaries.

Mrs. Leonard Lovello of 34147 Standish, Wayne, will represent the branch at 15041 West Chicago in Detroit and Richard Bologna, 30412 Ledgediffe, Nankin Township, will speak for the unit at 14722 Morris, Allen Park.

The proceedings will begin with general officers presenting their reports and with delegates of each member unit summarizing their individual group's activities during the last six months. The election for the succeeding year and plans for future projects will be formulated after these are concluded.

The MBA is composed of local, regional, and general levels. The local layer is made up of MGA groups from within the branches of The Church and the regional units, called "MBA Areas", are composed of the local groups from within their national geographical boundaries. The general level serves as the head of the organization and is directly auxiliary to The General Church whose main branch is in Monongahela, Pa.

Next Week

There are four main purposes for the MBA. They are the conducting of scriptural study classes, the granting of missionary assistance, the seeking out and giving of aid to needy persons, and the spiritual guidance for young people.

Sunday's Topic

Jacob's struggle at Peniel and the conversion of Paul will be included in the Bible Lesson at Christian Science churches this Sunday to illustrate spiritual transformation.

A verse from Paul's message to the Romans will underscore the theme. "And be not conformed to this world; but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God."

The Lesson-Sermon is on the subject of "Mortals and Immortals."

U-M Looks to Frosh To Fill Grid Holes

ANN ARBOR — Michigan's current freshmen football class faces a stiff challenge next fall — to replace a group of graduating seniors that contains three topflight tackles as well as graduates in several other key spots.

The Wolverines lose All-American Bill Yearby, defensive tackle, as well as two top offensive tackles in Tom Mack and Charlie Kines.

Freshman Coach Dennis Fitzgerald feels that his charges may furnish some of the answers to future problems next season.

"The strongest aspect of our frosh squad is the number of potentially strong tackles," said Fitzgerald. Although he realizes that experience is also necessary, he feels that as many as six tackles will be strong candidates for positions next fall.

Front-liners in this group are Dave Denzin (6-2, 225), Xenia, O.; Bob Penska (6-2, 225), Niles, O.; Terry Frysinger (6-2, 210) Ecorse; Dick Tackett (6-3, 220), Kalamazoo; Warren Sipp (6-1, 215), Akron, O., and Jim Banar (6-0, 225), Detroit.

While tackles are more plentiful than usual, Fitzgerald believes there'll be other sophomores next fall who can help. Among guards are Joe Kuna (6-0, 205), a converted end from W. Braddock, Pa.; Bob Baumgartner (6-3, 210), ex-fullback from Chicago, and Jim Duffy (6-1, 210), Winchester, Mass. Duffy is an offensive guard while the other two are defensive men. Leading center candidates is Vic Raskovsky (6-2, 215), Sewickley, Pa., on offense.

Standout among end newcomers is Jon Kramer (6-3, 215), from Toledo, O. Although Kramer is no relation to Ron Kramer, former All-American and pro star, he has definite possibilities, Fitzgerald believes.

Among backfield replacements, Dennis Brown (5-10, 170), Lincoln Park, and Bob Kieta (6-0, 180), Chicago, are leading quarterback prospects. Brown's forte is passing while Kieta is a strong runner and a defensive back as well. Dennis Beemer, (5-10, 160), who quarterbacked Ann Arbor High's Six-A League champions, is another prospect.

Two bright halfback prospects, Fitzgerald believes, are Ron Johnson (6-0, 190), Detroit, and George Hoey (5-10, 170), Flint. Johnson has shown promise as a blocker and as a power runner as well. Hoey has speed in his favor.

Leading fullbacks are John Reynolds (5-10, 230), Grosse Pointe Woods; Bob Adam (5-9, 190), Akron, O., and Mike Beir (5-11, 190) of Fremont, O. Despite his weight, Reynolds is one of the fastest men on the squad and can play both ways.

Airman 2/C Edward A. Dorany, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dorany, 14440 Blue Skies, Livonia, has been graduated at Keesler AFB, Miss., from the training course for U.S. Air Force radio equipment repairmen.

Glenn '11' Improves Record

Whatever happens Friday night when John Glenn high school's football team ends its 1965 season, the campaign has been an improvement over a year ago.

Coach Bob Lusk's forces have won four, lost three and tied one this fall. A year ago, Glenn fashioned only three triumphs.

It'll be Glenn vs. Carlson in the finale at Wayne high's field and Carlson certainly shouldn't dish up the power Glenn had to endure last Wednesday in dropping a 40-12 verdict to Grosse Ile.

The win for Grosse Ile was its eighth in a row without a loss.

"They certainly are one of the state's powerhouses," said Lusk after the game. "I'd have to rate them one or two in the Class B ranks."

Lusk added: "When we thought we had their passing stopped, they ran on us. Then we checked their runs, so they'd hit on passes."

Dick Drury scored both the touchdowns for Glenn. First he ran back a kickoff 77 yards to pay land.

Then he picked off a Grosse Ile pass on his own 40 and scampered 60 yards to tally.

Dick Reid and Bill Curtis led the way for the powerful Islanders.

Livonia National Bank Makes Two Appointments

The appointment of two new officers was announced last week by the Livonia National Bank.

William E. Lube, 33717 Grove Drive, Livonia, will become a regional sales representative in the Bank's automotive division, according to Bank president Elvin D. Dougherty. He will coordinate dealer automotive financing for the consumer credit department. He comes to Livonia National Bank from the National Bank of Detroit.

LUBE LEITNER

where he worked for the past 14 years as a senior representative for automobiles.

Gerald F. Leitner was appointed credit operations manager in the Bank's consumer credit department.

He left a post as loan manager for UCIT Credit Co. in Pontiac, and prior to that he was a branch manager for Associates Finance Co.

Lube lives with his wife and three children, Linda, Larry and Tom, and Leitner and his wife, JoAnn, and their two children live in Dearborn.

Completes Training

Pvt. Judith A. Shinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett R. Shinn, 17565 Hizmet Dr., Livonia, has completed eight weeks of basic military training at the Women's Army Corps Center, Fort McClellan, Ala.

Wayne U. Ends With Albion Foe

A Wayne State University football season that at times seemed all too long and now appears to be too short, ends Saturday when the Tartars host Albion College. Kickoff time is set for 1:30 p.m. at Tartar Field.

The Tartars started promisingly under new coach Vern Gale with a win and a tie, then sank to three straight losses before pulling out of it with a 23-7 lacing of Case Tech and beating Thiel College, 7-6, last Saturday.

Albion College, MIAA winner again this season, dropped its first two starts as it came into the 1965 campaign with an 11-game winning streak. Since then, the Britons have rebounded to win five straight and take the MIAA title. They were expected to have little or no trouble with a team they trounced, 36-0, last year.

Want to Be A Cop? Training Class Scheduled

Are you interested in serving the City of Livonia in the capacity of an Auxiliary Policeman? A basic training class will begin soon, under the direction of the Auxiliary Police and the Livonia Police Department.

enced equestrian, is urged to apply.

Bentley Nips Franklin -- Climaxes First Perfect Year

Four years has made a difference in the football coaching life of Larry Joiner at Bentley High School. When he took over at Bentley in 1962 his first team sunk to the lowest depths in the school's history. Bentley went without a victory or tie in eight games.

The situation improved the next year. Bentley won two, lost five, tied one.

In 1964, Bentley wound up as co-champs with Trenton in the Suburban Six League by fashioning an overall record of four wins, three losses and a tie.

Now, the 1965 season is in the records — and what a year it was:

- 1 — Bentley posted the first all-winning season in its history — copping eight straight.
- 2 — Bentley captured the Suburban Six League title outright.
- 3 — Bentley bested Franklin, 7-6, last Friday night to gain its first win in three tries over its arch rival for the Livonia city championship.

Joiner hasn't changed in these four years. He was just as humble after last Friday night's thriller as he was back in 1962 when Bentley wound up losing for the eighth straight time.

"This is a tribute to our kids," said Joiner. "It takes a lot to climb off the bottom and fight your way back. This is what the Bentley players have accomplished."

The unbeaten-untied Bentley season helped to substantiate what many have known for a long time — the brand of prep football as played in Livonia ranks with the best in the state.

Just a year ago, it was Franklin, under Bob Bentley's coaching, which had swept through a nine-game schedule without a mar to its record.

The Observer
Sports News

Page ★ 4-B      Wednesday, November 10, 1965

The Bentley-Franklin struggle last Friday night was a thriller all the way.

Franklin started by cutting loose on a long march which carried the South Livonians to the Bentley five. The running of Gary Junk and Gary Rogalski, plus a surprise halfback pass from Junk to Cal Luttinen, had featured the march.

But something went wrong for Franklin on a fourth down situation on the Bentley five. The ball carrier was thrown back almost to the 20.

It was here that Bentley began a march that was to lead to the game's deciding points.

Bob Elsner and Bull Woods cracked away. Elsner went seven, seven and five. Woods clicked for 10, 8, 8.

Down to the Franklin one the Bentley team roared. Franklin was now looking for another line smash. Quarterback Greg Coleman of Bentley pulled a surprise. He called a rollout with himself carrying the ball. When the Franklin defenders moved in for the possible kill, Coleman hoisted a short pass to Woods standing in the end zone for the touchdown.

Elsner then booted what proved the most important point in many a season for Bentley.

Bentley threatened again in the second period. A Coleman to Jim Matevia pass for 21 yards, plus the running of Elsner and Woods carried Bentley to the Franklin four where Bentley lost the ball on a fumble.

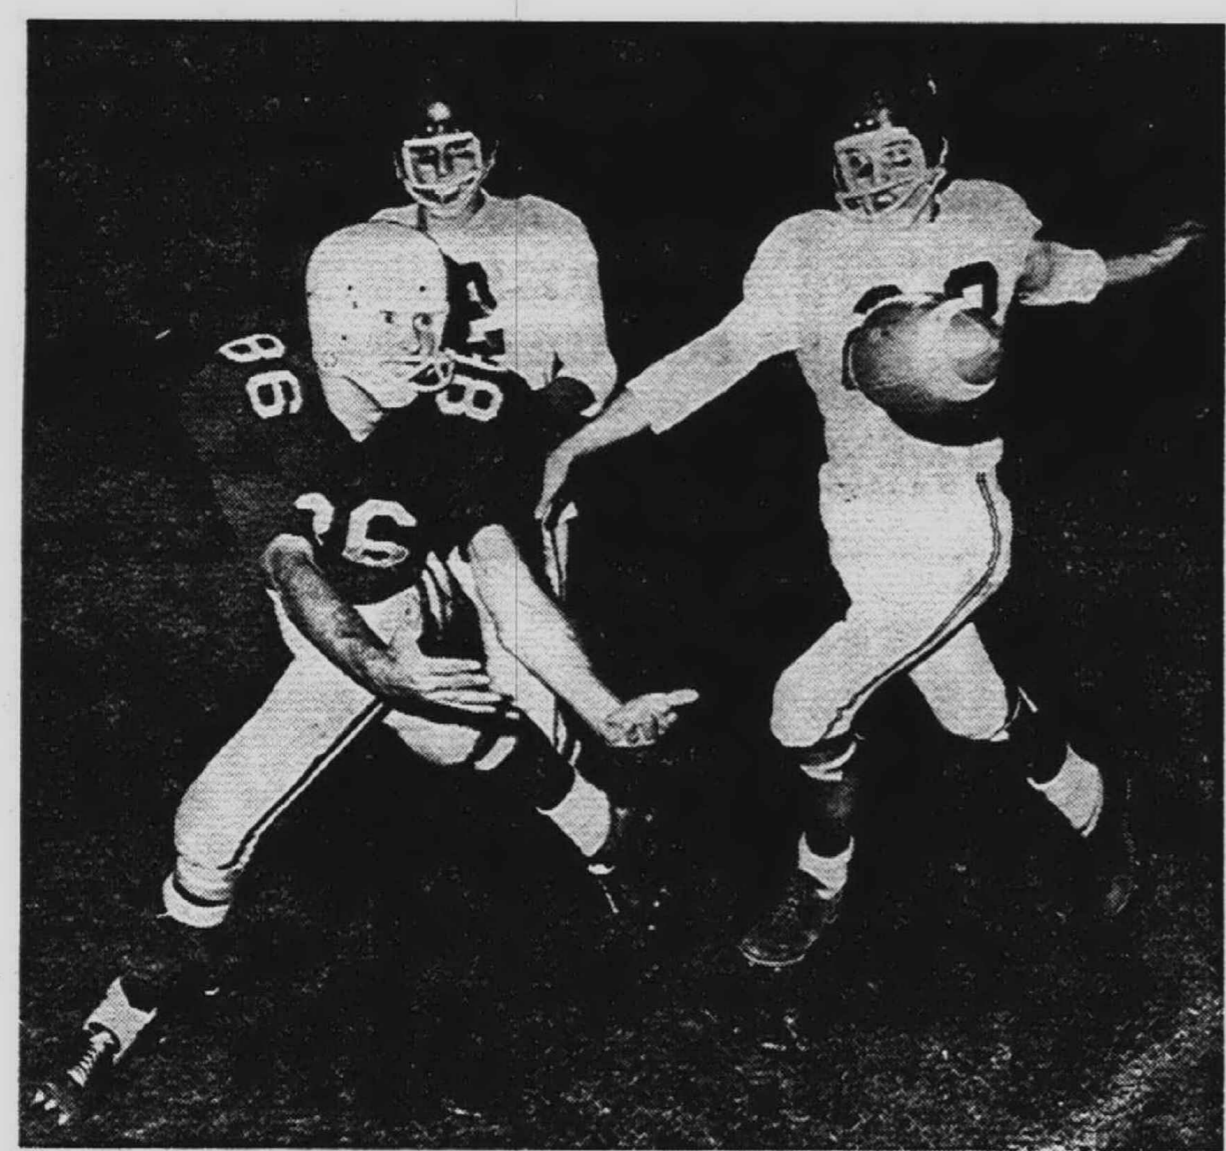

Franklin took charge in the third period, moving 58 yards to score. Rogalski slammed for 22 yards in the big play until the ball reached the Bentley 16.

Then Gary Birkett dropped back and hit Luttinen for the touchdown. But the conversion try was partially blocked and Franklin's hopes also had faded away as matters later turned out.

Bentley played ball control in the final period, hanging on to the ball for 16 plays to only five for Franklin.

There were many heroes. Defensively for Bentley, Harold Schoen, Ken Bowman, Woods, Mike McCauley, Mike DeGutis and Mike Erspama all starred. So did Tom Shepherd who had to take over at tackle when regular Frank Miller suffered an ankle fracture in practice 24 hours before the game.

'COME HERE, BABY': These have to be the words of Franklin's Al Jose as he reaches for a pass with two Bentley defenders close by. The ball bounced in — and out of Jose's waiting arms.

4TH-RANKED STATE POWER ROCKED

Raiders Knock Off Denby

Leave it to the Farmington high schools to show 'em where the football power rests.

Midway in the season now nearing a conclusion, Farmington High kayoted East Detroit's unbeaten-untied team, which ranked fifth in the various Class A state polls.

Then last Saturday afternoon, North Farmington joined its cross-town rival in pulling off a similar stunt. The Raiders cut down Detroit Denby, 23-12, in a battle involving two unbeaten-untied aggregations.

But Denby had rated No. 4 in the state to No. 10 for North Farmington.

Denby was a school with great football prestige. Denby was a team which this coming Saturday meets Redford for the Detroit city league title and the experts were predicting that Denby would take Redford and then beat Notre Dame in the Goodfellow game for the city and maybe the state title.

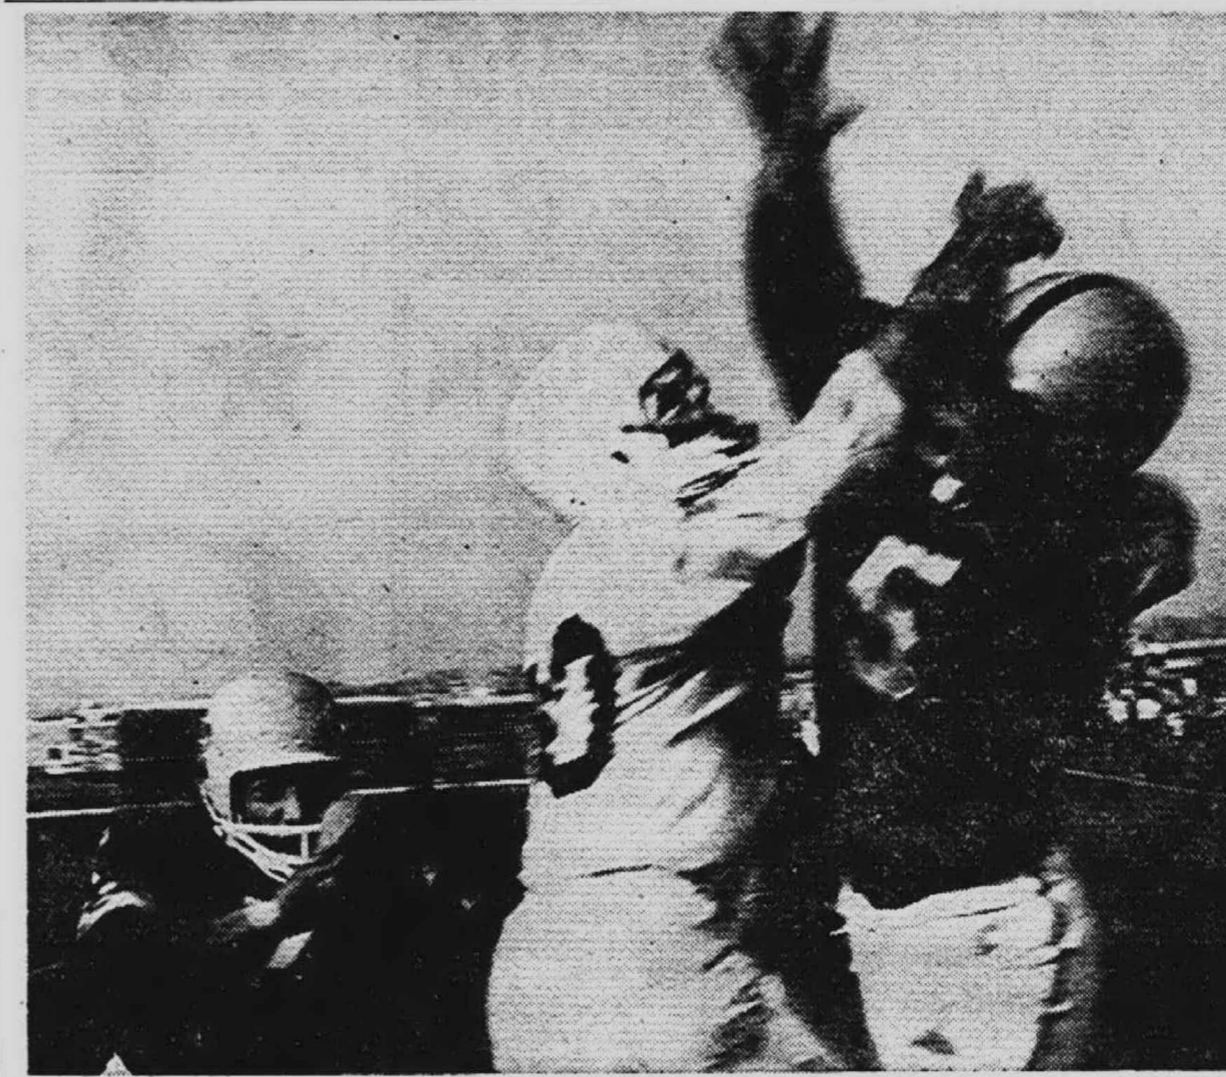

And North Farmington! Sure the Raiders had won seven straight before facing Denby. Granted they had taken the Northwest League title.

Yet, who could see North Farmington in the same boat with Denby?

Who could see the brand of football as played in the suburbs on a par with that in Dynamic Detroit?

So North Farmington showed 'em all and showed 'em a lot.

There was nothing fluky about the Raiders' win over Denby as North Farmington readied itself to square off with Farmington this Saturday for the city title.

HANDS UP, GENTLEMEN: Redford Union's Jim Johnston (5) and Thurston's Jim McEwen square off as they both go after a pass. The game ended scoreless.

North Farmington struck with two quick touchdowns. Denby never really recovered.

Midway in the first period, Larry August busted loose for eight yards on the first TD.

Three minutes later, Tom Ware barged through on a 31-yard scoring run.

Denby managed to fight back in the third period. Gary Parmentier smacked across from one-yard out with 5:21 left in the stanza.

Then it was Ben Hansen, the brilliant kicking exchange student from Sweden who drilled a 22-yard field goal for North Farmington to make the score 16-7 in the fourth period.

With 1:46 remaining in the game, Parmentier slipped in for his second touchdown.

But North Farmington wasn't going to rest on its laurels. Ware capped the greatest game ever by a North Farmington team as he ran over from 46 yards out . . . and the prestige of Detroit prep football had been tarnished.

And the football experts, who make the polls, had to admit they were slightly red-faced.

Now, all that stands in North Farmington's road to a perfect 9-0 season is Farmington.

"On paper, we should win," says Ben Holland, the North Farmington coach.

"But this is a game in which the form sheet means nothing. If Farmington beats us, it'll make their season a success."

Holland doesn't think he'll have to say too much to get his charges up. At least, he hopes he doesn't.

But the Raiders were "sky-high" for their battle with Denby and sometimes it's difficult for a team to get "up" two weeks running.

Never before has been so much at stake for North Farmington, to wit:

- 1.—A perfect season.
- 2.—The city championship of Farmington.
- 3.—A final rating among the top five in the ENTIRE State of Michigan.

Livonia Bowler Elected to 'Hall of Fame'

A professional Livonia bowler who boasts that she's a six-time grandmother added another star to her crown this week.

Helen Shablis, popular instructor at Merri-Bowl Lanes was honored with election to the Detroit Bowling Hall of Fame.

Mrs. Shablis, whose average scores are 190 and 186, bowls at least a dozen games a week in addition to her instruction at Merri-Bowl, where she's been employed by Mac Goldman for five years.

The Hall of Fame honor is based on her international and national championships acquired over the past year. In Mexico City, for example, she won the top title in the World Federation of Tenpins competition, an international "olympics" of bowling.

She won the Michigan State Match game championship, the Bowling Proprietors Ass'n. of America national doubles championship title, the Women's International Bowling Congress all-events title and numerous city awards.

Thurston, RU Battle to Scoreless Finish

Redford Union and Thurston settled nothing in their battle last Saturday afternoon for the Redford Township 1965 public prep football title.

After 48 minutes of grueling battle, the two teams stood where they had started.

Neither had scored.

Each team had its chances, but it was an afternoon in which the defenses took the honors.

First it was RU which had to arise, then Thurston.

So it went as RU finished its schedule with a record of two wins, five losses and a tie. Thurston, 4-3-1, still has one game to go — invading Hamtramck Friday night.

Rival coaches — Bill MacDonald (Thurston) and John Rogers (RU) — gave it all they had. Both wanted to win badly.

But each was proud of his team's showing.

Thurston almost capitalized before the game was three minutes old. Thurston had kicked off and recovered the ball on the RU.

On the first running play, Thurston's Paul Santangelo cut loose to the RU 10. But a 15-yard penalty ruined the play.

Later Thurston gambled on fourth and a foot from its own 25 and made. Still later, with a same situation on its 32, Thurston failed.

RU got the ball and with Terry Shirkey pounding away got down to the 10 only to be repulsed by the strong Thurston defense.

Rick Carlson of RU then broke through to block a Thurston kick. He suffered a 16-stitch cut over his eye as RU's John Keith picked up the ball on the Thurston 30 and skipped to the 14.

Shirkey, Jim Johnston and Tom Booker took turns running, but on fourth-and-three, RU just missed on the four.

Thurston put on a 40-yard march to the RU 40 in the third period and in the closing moments, Thurston got down to the 17, before being pushed back 15 yards when a rollout pattern went awry.

The statistics reflected the battle. RU had 139 yards in total offense to Thurston's 129. Thurston led, 9-8, in first downs. Each team made four passes. RU fumbled the ball away twice. In penalties RU lost 50, Thurston, 35.

Trojans Great in Last Run

Speedy Chris Hawkins of Clarenceville high school appears a cinch to gain almost 1250 yards for the Trojans by the time they end their 1965 football season against Dearborn Crestwood Friday night.

Hawkins had one of his "poorer" nights last Friday when Clarenceville was snowed over by Milford, 35-0.

Hawkins was held to just 74 yards, thus upping his season's total to 1160 in eight games or an average of 145 yards per contest.

Clarenceville put together only one serious threat against Milford. The Trojans moved some 65 yards with Hawkins the chief gainer in the second period to reach the Milford one-yard line before losing the ball on downs.

Mike Yeager was the hero for Milford. He scored three touchdowns, going two, five and 25 yards. Joe Trippi also went for a touchdown as did Gary Turnbull while Jack Wood booted a neat field goal.

The defeat gave Clarenceville a 2-6 record in the final Wayne-Oakland League standings as the Trojans averted a last-place finish for the first time in four years. The cellar slot went to Brighton.

For Milford, the defending champion, the victory gave the team a final loop record of 6-2 and second behind newly crowned Bloomfield Hills which wound up standing 7-1 in the league.

Bloomfield Hills had to beat Holly, 20-7, to make sure of an outright crown.

The gentleman at the other end of the telephone had a request:
"Can you appear before a meeting of high school coaches and discuss the future of the high school athlete?"

The caller said that many of his high-school coaching colleagues were disturbed.
"Some of us feel that the kids are taking less and less interest in prep sports," he explained. "And then there are those communities where officials seriously are giving thought to eliminating all or parts of the prep sports programs."

So, in between our numerous chores with the Detroit Pistons, we penned down a few (thousand) words which we subsequently delivered last Friday morning in the East Room of the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel.

It was like homecoming for this reporter, being among so many prep coaches at one time. As we have related herewith on many occasions, we have spent upwards of 25 years covering the prep beat of Michigan.

What does the future hold for the prep athlete? We'd have to say the outlook is greater than ever. To start with, more and more colleges are appearing on the horizon. This expansion means more athletic teams.

And, where do the colleges get their sports figures from? Yep, you guessed it . . . the high schools.

Not to be overlooked are the number of scholarships the colleges have available for the athletes. The boy, who excels on the football field or in basketball or in baseball, often can write his own ticket to a university.

Ditto for the boys who don't star on the prep fronts. The expansion isn't or won't be confined just to the colleges and universities.

Professional sports is increasing, too. Time was when the major leagues had only 16 baseball teams. Today, they're up to 20 and the indications are four or eight more will be added within a decade.

Each new team means 25 more jobs for players, not to forget coaches, managers, etc.

Pro football for many years was restricted to 12 teams in the National League. The NFL today has 14, adds Atlanta next season and a 16th team the following season.

The AFL also has blossomed tremendously. It has 10 teams and also will swell within a year or two.

Add on all the smaller pro grid circuits, plus the Canadian League which attracts heavily from the American collegiate "factories."

The National Basketball Association will add at least another team next year. The National Hockey League is expanding.

Golf is booming . . . so is swimming . . . tennis . . . well, you name the sport that isn't.

All of which should be sufficient inducement for the high school student to stick to it in sports. The dividends pay handsomely.

If you don't think so, let's mention names like Terry Barr, Earl Morrall, Dave DeBusschere, Ron Kramer, Milt Pappas, Bill Buntin, Ray Herbert, Bob Bruce and Jim Ninowski.

Here are just a few Michigan boys who first sprung into the athletic spotlight as high school athletes.

For many, brilliant college careers followed, although Pappas and Herbert jumped directly to the professional baseball wars.

These are young men who have used their sports affiliations to latch on to successful businesses. Nobody will have to hold any benefits for them when they reach the end of their active athletic careers.

Then, too, sports makes possible for them tremendous pension plans which will ease their financial worries when they hit the ages of 55 or 60.

The future for the high school athlete? I sure wish I were one . . . today.

1ST TEAM WINNER

Pick League for Stevenson

Season No. 1 of football ends Thursday night for Livonia's new Stevenson High School.

And it'll be a year to remember regardless of what Stevenson does against the John Glenn reserves on the Bentley field, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Stevenson has won five of its six encounters, a tremendous record considering that Coach Jack Reardon had to start from scratch.

But, there'll be no more action against reserve teams for Stevenson when 1966 rolls around.

Stevenson is joining the Interlakes League which means competition against powerful Walled Lake, Pontiac Northern, Farmington and Waterford.

In addition, Stevenson also has drawn North Farmington as its opener for 1966.

The Livonians had little trouble last Thursday in spanking the Clarenceville reserves, 35-19. It was 21-0 by halftime.

Bentley Nips

Franklin had its standouts, including big Mike Stachurski at center and players like Rogalski and Birkett.

Elsner and Woods again were the offensive workhorses for the winners. Elsner lugged 103 yards in 20 tries while Woods added 66 yards rushing.

All totaled, Bentley made 179 yards on the ground and 76 passing as Coleman hit successfully on seven of nine tries.

Franklin earned 97 yards passing and 80 more passing, thanks to some fine heaves by Birkett.

While the season has ended for Bentley, Franklin still has one piece of unfinished business. The South Livonians will host Wayne High Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m.

Franklin Runner 8th In State

Dan Ryan of Livonia Franklin placed eighth in the State Class A cross country meet at Ypsilanti last Saturday.

Team honors in Class A went to Royal Oak Kimball with Wyandotte second.

In Class B, Clarenceville picked up 122 points to finish third as the team title went to Dearborn Riverside.

Are Perfect

A perfect season for St. Agatha's grade school football team.

It ended Sunday when the Townshippers roared past St. Eugene, 26-7, to post their seventh victory in as many starts and cop their divisional title in the CYO League.

Jim Daniels plunged for two touchdowns, Bob Jess and Mike Murphy one each for the winners.

Murphy and Jess also added extra points.

and Reardon played his second and third stringers the rest of the way.

Dan Keith was the big hero for Stevenson. He scored four touchdowns on runs of 4-4-6-5 yards. Chuck Dickey then grabbed a 38-yard TD pass from Tom Parker.

Conversions by Carl Homer and a safety made possible by an end-zone tackle by Stan Edwards wrapped up the scoring for Stevenson.

When Decorating Coordinate Colors

Can a room ever contain too many colors?
 Most rooms do, according to decorator consultants to the Better Floors Council. The principal reason, they believe, is that furnishings are acquired at different times. As a result, the room is not coordinated in an overall plan.

The BFC suggests that since the floor, apart from the ceiling, is the largest area of any room, it should provide the basic guideline for the rest of the furnishings. If a new floor of resilient tile is planned, they caution that neutral or muted tones be selected that won't dominate the entire room.

For easy floor upkeep, off-white and medium shades in textured or mottled designs in vinyl asbestos tile will need the least amount of care. A daily sweep with a broom or mop and occasional washing and waxings are all that will be needed for tip-top appearance.

After establishing the floor tone, pick up this color or a closely related one for the walls.

And unless architectural details are especially interesting, the room will look larger if walls and trim are the same color.

For upholstered pieces, choose colors which are either complementary (red and green, blue and orange) or neighboring (orange and yellow, red and pink, blue and aqua).

If you try not to deviate from the overall plan, the total effect of the room will be much more pleasing and livable.

Remodel Kitchen For Yule

Before year's end millions of American housewives will launch two all-out blitzkriegs upon their personal fortresses—the kitchen.

These onslaughts will come at Thanksgiving and Christmas when preparing the lavish family feast is as much a grueling chore as it is a rewarding tradition. So why not give the family a pre-holiday gift that everyone can enjoy—by remodeling the kitchen?

Modern built-ins, time-saving electrical appliances and, most important, a lot more countertop working space will eliminate much of the Missus' holidays cooking drudgery and give her more time to enjoy family and friends.

Just as you would buy the most modern, up-to-date appliances, so should you install the most modern types of counter surface. That would be tough, durable ceramic tile.

Tile comes in more than 250 colors, patterns, sizes and shapes for the ultimate in decorating schemes. It's fireproof, so cooling oven-hot mince or pumpkin pies poses no danger to the tile surface.

And knives or broken dishes can't mar scratchproof tile. Likewise cleaning up after the holiday dinner is a snap with a dampened cloth since ceramic tile is stainproof and wards off accidental spills and splatters.

Add Flavor To Home's Personality

Every home has a distinctive personality that is determined by the people living in it. A younger couple, for example, may choose a modern decor, while their parents might prefer colonial or early American style.

Whatever your taste—contemporary, early American or provincial—there is an attractive and durable wall paneling to suit your needs. Marlite plastic-finished hardboard eliminates any need of future redecorating and will remain like new for years with just an occasional damp wiping.

The paneling is available in a variety of designer colors and patterns as well as six luxurious woodgrains. It can be installed by the home handyman over old or new walls, solid or furred. Installation instructions are included in every carton of the material.

Marlite is heat and moisture resistant. Normal household bumps will not dent this durable paneling. Stains won't be a problem, either, since even grease splashes and messy crayon smears will disappear with a quick swish of a damp cloth.

Burlap, Lumber Live Bedroom

Try wood and burlap for an exciting bedroom redecorating project.

Begin by paneling the headboard wall in rough, knotty ponderosa or sugar pine boards, using a board-and-batten pattern and staining the pine a rich, dark brown. Then cover other walls with burlap to retain the feeling of texture for all wall surfaces.

Color of the burlap should be muted but not dull. An old gold, artichoke green, paprika, or natural shade would work well. Repeat the burlap's shade as the principal color in carpeting and draperies. Then add a splash of vivid, contrasting color for the bedspread.

Nearly any style of furniture will look well in the setting: Mediterranean, Scandinavian, or Early American.

How Short Should Lawn Be Mowed for Winter?

Opinion varies about how much mowing a lawn needs in autumn, and how short the grass should be clipped going into winter. Although it's seldom a "make or break" matter, there are good reasons for treating different lawns differently.

If your lawn is bentgrass, one of the most luxuriant turfs, it should always be clipped short—between 1/2 and one inch, even with lawn varieties such as Highland.

Going into winter, there would be no change from the regular routine of frequent mowing and sweeping, so long as the grass still grows.

On the other hand, with the Kentucky bluegrasses and fine fescues, the usual combination for good lawns that can receive only average care, there is more latitude.

For one thing, Kentucky bluegrass grows low naturally in autumn (in response to shorter days), needs little mowing.

With a bluegrass lawn, try for balance between ample green leafage and avoidance of floppiness. The more green leaf left on the plant, the more food the grass stores up, and the deeper its roots grow.

Do not mow any lower in autumn than the customary height, which is usually at least 1 1/2 inches.

On the other hand, with no mowing at all in autumn, grass leaves may tangle and deteriorate. Leaf loss of itself should not be harmful, for persistent subfreezing weather scorches leaf blades brown in any event, unless they are protected by snow. But a sopping mat of old leaves may encourage disease.

A thick layer of old leaves may even "smother" new shoots beneath, causing "winter scald." Better some openness and air circulation.

Moreover, these old, bleached leaves, insulate the sod from springtime's sun, and may delay greening of the lawn because the soil remains cold longer.

So, with a Kentucky bluegrass fine fescue lawn, a middle approach is probably best. Don't scalp the lawn before winter, but do keep it mowed about its customary height.

If the grass leaves are not protected by snow, and become thoroughly frosted before spring, a scalping in late winter (say early March) will remove dead and useless leafage without injuring the grass. In fact, bright new shoots poking from hidden crowns will show more quickly.

Use Ceramic Tile When Decorating

As the holiday season gets into high gear with hectic entertaining and family gatherings, busy homemakers usually shift redecorating efforts into neutral and then just idle until spring.

But before you step on the clutch, here's one more inexpensive and simple idea that will lend festive color and lasting beauty to any room:

Frame your dominant windows and conspicuous doorways in colorful, easy-to-clean ceramic tile.

A big bay window looking out on the front lawn, for instance, can be dressed up in holiday garb by surrounding it with a few rows of brightly patterned or brilliantly hued ceramic tile.

Smaller windows throughout the house, such as in the kitchen or hallway, also can be given this same eye-catching accent.

As for doorways, a few vertical rows of ceramic tile on either side can produce a dramatic look and heighten a room that has a low ceiling.

And, of course, ceramic tile is stainproof, so it's impervious to finger marks usually found on walls around door jams.

DISPLAYING equipment used in the Post Office branch at American Hardware, Eight Mile Road at Merriman, is Manager-Owner Marvin Kemp. The branch will take care of all normal post office duties.

Amer. Hardware Is Post Office Branch

Livonia recently acquired a new post office outlet when American Hardware, on W. Eight Mile Road, installed a courtesy mailing counter.

Equipment, leased to Manager-Owner Marvin Kemp, enables the store to handle post, first class and air mail letters at the Post Office's going rate.

The equipment includes a scale to weigh packages, another for letters and a postage metering machine.

Customers will have to pay only for the postage used and parcels may be insured as they are at the Post Office.

"We've had the service installed through the co-operation of the Post Office as a convenience to customers," said Kemp.

"We make no profit on the mailing-handling service itself."

Kemp pointed out that residents may mail parcels after regular post office hours. They may take advantage of the service at any time the store is open.

Kemp pointed out that residents may mail parcels after regular post office hours. They may take advantage of the service at any time the store is open.

Equipment, leased to Manager-Owner Marvin Kemp, enables the store to handle post, first class and air mail letters at the Post Office's going rate.

The equipment includes a scale to weigh packages, another for letters and a postage metering machine.

FOR BATHROOMS

Planning Is Essential In Decorating Projects

You can have both practicality and attractive appearance in a remodeled bathroom by following a few simple guidelines. Decorators emphasize three points in home bathroom projects:

- Plan carefully
- Insist on good workmanship
- Use the best materials you can afford

Prospective homeowners take particular interest in homes where the bathrooms are planned to give maximum service through convenient location, modern fixtures and attractive decor.

If you're planning to add a handy powder room on the first floor, for example, make certain that it really is handy. Add it in a central location where it won't be necessary to walk through the whole house to get to it.

Of, if you're building a family bathroom, be sure it is adequate to meet the needs of the family. Perhaps a double lavatory or a corner shower stall would help speed things during the morning "rush hour" when dad is trying to get ready for work and the children are dressing for school.

You will want your bathroom to be attractive for years, not just while a particular style is in vogue. One way to protect your investment is to plan a basic decor that is flexible and adaptable to occasional changes. Choose fixtures that will weather the changes that you may want to make later on.

Since walls are the biggest single aspect in the room, choose a material that is durable, attractive and easy to maintain. Many homeowners are turning to plastic-finished hardboard paneling, which can stand up to the heat and moisture present in bathroom areas.

Marlite paneling, for example, is available in a wide variety of colors and decorator patterns, as well as six warm woodgrains. The attractive paneling resists heat and moisture. It will retain its new appearance for years with nothing more than an occasional damp wiping. Special factory treatment protects Marlite against fading or discoloration.

For an elegant touch that will make your bathroom distinctively yours, Marlite has introduced a line of mural panels to which are popular for use in tub recess areas. These plastic-surfaced panels also resist heat and moisture and they won't fade. Available in gold or sepia-on-white, the murals include scenes ranging from the Orient to Colonial Williamsburg to Rome.

Whatever your needs in a bath or powder room, however, planning is the most important stage of the project. With careful planning, you'll be surprised what you can do.

Make Plans For Yule Tree Now

Want a better, fresher Christmas tree than you ever had before?

Want a tree that you can use, then plant outdoors again?

Or a tree outdoors on your property that can be decorated gaily with Christmas lights?

If so, visit a nurseryman. In recent years nurseries have become centers for high quality Christmas decorations.

Real holly with bright red berries, mistletoe and other evergreens, are available in profusion, as well as Christmas plants for every occasion.

Trees and shrubs for Christmas gifts provide lasting pleasures for the recipient whether they be lovely flowering, shade, or fruit trees to be planted on the property outdoors, or a flowering shrub.

What northern home owner wouldn't want a half dozen of the latest rose bushes or a certificate guaranteeing they would be sent to him at planting time in the spring?

Or, if they live in the south a lovely Camellia of the latest variety. Or perhaps even a young citrus tree?

Leading nurseries have all sorts of "different" as well as ordinary gifts for the Christmas season, including potted plants.

Fireplace Needs Bed of Ashes For Top Results

Neatness does not necessarily go hand-in-hand with fireplaces.

Many people don't realize that every fireplace needs a solid bed of ashes to produce maximum heat. Ashes prevent excessive amounts of heat from being absorbed by stones or bricks in the hearth.

A good rule-of-thumb is to keep one to two inches of ashes in the fireplace as a base. When ashes pile up beyond this point, remove them with care. The best way is to put them in a fireproof galvanized steel box that may catch fire.

Although neatness is not necessary inside the fireplace, it is important in the area around the hearth. Logs and kindling wood should be stacked neatly, not only to improve their appearance, but to minimize them as fire hazards. For maximum safety, store kindling material in a fire-proof galvanized steel coal hod.

Slow Pace Marks Opening Production

By SUE SHAUGHNESSY
 The Farmington Players enjoy a richly deserved reputation as one of the best community theatre groups in the area.

They opened the current season last week with a production of the comical mystery "Ladies in Retirement." I wish I could say they roared into the new year, but they simply limped.

Some excellent moments of theater were to be had from the evening, but overall the production ended up on the deficit side of the ledger.

Why? That's hard to answer. Dorothy Miller was competent as Ellen Creed and at times Jerry Eddy and Joyce Fisk stole the show as her two sisters, Emily and Louisa.

Don Craig, as the only male member of the cast (Albert Feather), more than held his own and Diane Brown was the right mixture of sauciness and servility as the maid, Lucy.

Merle Pedicini is convincing as the kind of woman of the world. Leonora Fiske and Kathryn Kornmesser—are adequate as Sister Theresa.

The cast was polished. The play itself is so so, but that wasn't the problem. What was it?

The evening literally limped along. At times the audience reacted almost physically to push it along.

The pace was horrid. First of all the total time of the production was too long—almost three hours. It was 11:10 p.m. when the curtain came down on the last act. Even considering two intermissions, which welcome reliefs, this is too long.

Not enough physical activity by the actors, not enough of a blue pencil on the script and the actor's pace was too slow, were the main drawbacks to the production.

A comparison is the recent Dearborn Players production of the inane play "Never Too Late." By the end of the first scene, however, both the audience and the actors were breathless.

The difference was not due to the plays, but to the direction. Slow measured reactions are valid, at times, on the stage, but the normal reaction time is faster than what took place last weekend in Farmington Township.

NINE YEAR OLD Michele Drew received her prize in the Terrace Theatre's "Win a Puppy Contest" last weekend. She holds the newest member of the family while her brother and sisters examine it. In the front row sits Lynn, 5, and Michael, 6, while Kim, 8, sits next to Michele. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Drew, 8877 Denne, Livonia. In addition to the puppy, donated by the Michigan Humane Society, Michele won six months supply of Gaines Dog Food, a bed, dish, leash, and toys from the AAA Bird and Pet Store at Wonderland and a year of medical and preventive care at the Cardo Animal Hospital in Garden City.

'The Physicists' Opens Friday at Bonstelle

Playgoers will get a mixture of realism and fantasy, comedy and tragedy in Friedrich Duerrenmatt's compelling satire, "The Physicists," which opens at Wayne State University's Bonstelle Theatre Friday night, Nov. 12.

Additional performances are scheduled Saturday, Nov. 13, and Thursday through Sunday, Nov. 18-21. All performances will begin at 8:30 p.m. with the exception of Sunday's 2:30 matinee.

Written by the author of "The Visit," the play focuses on three nuclear physicists, inmates in a madhouse, and makes some frightening comments on the morality and personal responsibility of modern man.

A modern play in the Brecht tradition, "The Physicists" first appeared in 1962 and is one of three Continental plays on the Bonstelle's six-play schedule this year. The WSU Theatre opened last month with the Brecht-Weill musical, "The Threepenny Opera."

Playing principal roles will be Andre Latyszewsky as Einstein, Michael Bradley as Mobius, Gerald Bamman as Newton, Philippe Gauthier as the Inspector, and Karen Cutler as Dr. Van Zahnd.

The play is being directed by Dr. Richard P. Brown of the WSU Theatre staff. The costumes are being designed by Janice Snodgrass and the sets are by Katherine and Russell Paquette.

Tickets may be purchased at the WSU Ticket Office, Cass and Putnam, or reservations may be made by calling 833-1400, Ext. 265 (833-7386 after 5 p.m.).

Wally Roberts GOING UP 'CURTAIN'

Picture, if you will, a group of interested thespians watching a series of colored slides and listening to a tape recorder. As the dialogue from the tape recorder breaks the silence of the room, the small audience reacts with laughter exactly as the 300 roared their approval via the tape.

Ten minutes later after the audience had heard and seen six slides still another visual sight greeted their tired orbs—an opaque projector filled the screen with a director's copy of his prompt book. The audience now saw the bare mechanics and "bones" of the scene reproduced via slide and tape recorder.

The Nankin Mills Players were given this unusual presentation at a special critique meeting last week. Director Bob Wall from the Dearborn Players Guild had been asked by the group to prepare a critique of their opening production, "Pillow Talk."

The Dearborn production of "Never Too Late" was used at the meeting to illustrate the highly technical job the director faces. His hours of research, planning, sweating out the proper blocking patterns, and thinking through every aspect of the production were stressed and re-stressed by Wall.

Bette Davis Film Set for Sunday

Bette Davis won her second motion picture Academy Award for her role in the picture "Jezebel," which will be featured in the Famous Early Movies Series at Henry Ford Museum Theatre on Sunday, Nov. 14. Performances are scheduled at 2 and 4 p.m.

Directed by William Wyler, "Jezebel" was filmed in 1938. It marked the first picture in which Bette Davis was cast in a costume role. Other actors of note in the film are Henry Fonda and George Brent.

Now in its 14th season, the Famous Early Movies Series at Henry Ford Museum affords present-day audiences an opportunity to see outstanding motion pictures of the past, both silent and sound. The early films are included in the regular admission charge to the Museum.

Classic Tickets Now for Sale

Individual tickets to Wayne State University's Hilberry Classic Theatre will go on sale Monday, Nov. 15. Theatre Director Leonard Leone has announced.

This year's company will open with Shakespeare's "The Tempest" and Oliver Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer" on Jan. 12 and 13, respectively. Shakespeare's "All's Well That Ends Well" will be added the second week, starting Jan. 19.

G. B. Shaw's "Saint Joan" and Thornton Wilder's "The Skin of Our Teeth" will open in February and the sixth play, Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest," will open in May.

Once open, all plays will be performed in weekly repertory—Wednesday through Saturday evenings, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday—until June 11.

Tickets and additional information may be obtained by calling 833-5151 or by writing to the Hilberry Classic Theatre Box Office, Wayne State University, Detroit 4-8202.

DOROTHY AND THE SCARECROW loosen the rusted joints of the Tin Woodman in this scene from the Reed Marionette Production of "The Wizard of Oz." The show will be performed in Livonia on Nov. 20. Two performances, at 1:30 and at 2:30 p.m., are scheduled for the Franklin High School Auditorium. The group's visit to the area is sponsored by the Children's Entertainment Guild. Tickets for the performances may be obtained at any Livonia Library or by contacting Mrs. James McCann at GA 2-5227.

'Rockhound' Exhibit at Fairgrounds

The eager buying of "rockhounds" as they pursue the lure of their hobby will descend upon the Michigan State Fairgrounds at Detroit this coming week-end as the "Gems, Mineral and Earth Science Exhibit," sponsored by the Michigan Mineralogical Society, moves into the Community Arts Building.

According to Gerald Irvine, 11375 Hemingway, Redford Township, general show chairman, the show is being presented not only in the interest of the many avid rockhounds in the state but also as a community service to acquaint the general public with the many fascinating and educational benefits of the mineral hobby.

The show will feature many unusual displays of gems, minerals, fossils, lapidary work, jewelry, carvings and other crafts.

Nicholas and Marjorie Quint, 1411 Cavell, Livonia will display their unusual doublets to which they have given a distinct third dimension effect with the addition of a quartz capping. Some of the designs and colors of these polished pieces are truly remarkable.

Members of the metropolitan mineral clubs—as well as several from out-state—are combining their efforts in bringing to Detroit this huge display of mineral wealth. Among these are the Midwest Mineralogical and Lapidary Society of Dearborn and also the Rock Exchange Club of Dearborn Heights.

In addition to the many exhibits of mineral club members, both the public and parochial schools of metropolitan Detroit have been invited to participate and many have prepared science exhibits for the show.

Hours of the show are from 10 to 10 on Saturday, Nov. 6, and from 10 to 6 on Sunday, Nov. 7.

Several Science Fair winners from last spring's Science Fair will also be on hand with their prize winning displays. Bradford Flaherty, 26645 W. Six Mile Rd. and Jane Elliot, 28873 Lemington, Farmington will be among these exhibitors.

Those interested in purchasing mineral specimens or slabs for polishing—or even equipment—will find a number of "rock shop" dealers on hand to take care of their needs.

Joint Concert Slated Nov. 14 at Marygrove

More than 130 voices will soar together at Marygrove College on Sunday, Nov. 14 as two college Glee Clubs present a program of classical, modern and semi-popular music.

Participants in the concert will be the Marygrove College Chorus, under the direction of Sister Marie Constance, IHM, and the St. Joseph's College Glee Club, from Rensselaer, Ind., under the direction of John B. Egan. The concert is the first joint presentation by the two groups.

The two clubs will sing selections from "Brigadoon" together. The St. Joseph's Glee Club, with 40 male voices, will sing "The Navy Hymn" by Dykes and Whiting, Egan's "Ave Maria," and selections arranged by Copland, Cain, Work, and Carroll.

The Marygrove Chorus, consisting of 90 female voices, will sing Bach's "Suscepit Israel," Handel's "How Excellent Thy Name, Hallelujah," and "Hymnus Angelorum" by C. A. Pelouquin. The chorus will also perform "Love, Look Away" by Rogers and Hammerstein, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" and works by Lasso and Oldroyd.

Tickets and reservations can be obtained at the Student Services Office, Marygrove College, or by calling UN 2-8000. The concert will begin at 8 p.m. in the college auditorium.

Dewline

... by John Dew

Remember Joel Sebastian, the former afternoon favorite on WXYZ? He had been broadcasting in Los Angeles at KLAC as we told you a few months ago. Joel is now in Chicago at WCFL radio and he sends his best to his friends in this area. Incidentally on a good day you can pick up the station — it's located at 1010 on the dial.

It seems as though there is a growing trend among TV networks to use January as a second premiere springboard in which they can introduce new shows to take the place of shows which were introduced in September and which bombed.

The Thursday night "Shindig" on ABC for instance, will exit in favor of "Batman." Since the network wants to dump the sinking rocker as soon as possible, several specials have been planned between now and January wherein "Shindig" will be replaced by "Wide World of Entertainment," a variety show being filmed in London and elsewhere in Europe with George Chakiris as performing host.

NBS's special scheduled for Nov. 26, "The Incredible World of James Bond" will have to get along without James Bond, at least as host. Sean Connery who portrays the spy-guy looked at the advance film footage and the script for the David L. Wolper special and decided that he would feel too "self-conscious" to do it.

He will be seen in the show, but only in scenes from his first three films and some behind-the-scenes footage from the newest Bond-Bill, "Thunderball" which will hit theaters in this area in December. Host for the NBC show will be Alexander Scourby.

"The Wackiest Ship in the Army" has at least one thing in its favor — it's the only new comedy without that corny, obviously recorded laughter.

Incidentally, the third "Swingin' Kind" special with Lee Alan hosting from the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. Building hits the WXYZ-TV channel early in December.

Sudden thought — do you realize that there's less than 38 shopping days till Christmas?

SOUNDS OF SILENCE SIMON and GARFUNKEL

GINE PARSONS, Farmington High junior, begins a nail polish operation in the production of "Get Yourself a College Boy" opening Friday night in the school gym. A Saturday performance of the satire, written by alumnus Kingsley Cotton, is also scheduled. Miss Parson appeared in the Farmington Players' production of "The Wizard of Oz" last spring and in the high school musical "Once Upon a Mattress."

Teens Will Entertain at Eventide

A group of Farmington teenagers, students at the O. E. Dunckel Junior High School, will provide an evening of musical entertainment Nov. 12 at the Eventide Home in Detroit.

Eventide is a hotel residence for retirees operated by the Salvation Army. A total of 200 people reside at the home. The program will begin at 8 p.m. in the Eventide Auditorium. The public is invited to attend.

Eddy E. Ellegood, director of the program, lists three groups as participating in the evening.

• Melodiers, a singing dancing ensemble, is composed of 12 boys and girls. It was organized in 1959 as a segment for the annual spring show at the Junior High.

• An all girl ensemble composed of 11 girls, the Dunckellettes is a singing group. Lynn Goodwin and Sue Misteale are the featured soloists of the group.

• Guys and Dolls, a mixed octette of four boys and four girls, is also slated to appear on the program.

Art Exhibit Underway

An art exhibit of the works of 17 Jesuit seminarians of Colomiere College of the University of Detroit will open in the U. of D. McNichols Campus Library Nov. 8 and continue through Dec. 20.

Landscapes, cityscapes, portraits, figure studies, still life and religious works are included in the exhibit. All of the works were done by Jesuit brothers and scholastic novices, and juniorate students in the art classes of Brother Jerome Pryor, N.S.J., artist, and former lecturer at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

"The exhibition," he said, "will be organized to demonstrate the basic elements of the visual arts: color, value, shape, mass, line and space."

"We will include reproductions of standard works of art as well," Brother Pryor continued, "in order to compare the handling of these elements with prior work." The Library is open to the public from 1 to 6 p.m. Sundays; 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays; 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Fridays; and 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. the rest of the week.

Farmington Woman Named Field Director

Mrs. Marjorie Schulkins, 29533 Medbury, Farmington has been named field director of the National Campers and Hikers Association. She will be responsible for developing the National Campers and Hikers Association's program in Oakland County.

The Schulkins first started camping 10 years ago. She and her children, Sharon, 15, and Gary, 12, travel the highways in a tent trailer.

One of Mrs. Schulkins first jobs will be to organize a local, self-governing chapter.

Most NCHA chapters have activities planned throughout the year. It is a non-profit, volunteer, educational organization dedicated to campers.

Anyone interested in the organization can learn more by contacting Mrs. Schulkins at 474-9459.

College Youth Form Social Club

The college students are uniting! Not for the war in Viet Nam or against it, but this time as a social unit.

Area college youth have formed their own Go-Go Club or a Fraternity to meet at Roma Hall on Friday evenings.

Theme of the organization is "See You at the Campus" and anyone over the age of 17 is invited to attend.

The social club is designed to promote a closer relationship among the college students in the metropolitan area and as an activity center for the students.

For further information contact Douglas Melville at GR. 4-2136.

Fourteen of the state's museums cooperated in the preparation of the 19 chronological-ly arranged displays, which illustrate the colorful story of Michigan's development from prehistoric times to the present.

The Historymobile is being sent to communities throughout Michigan, free of charge, as a service of the Michigan Historical Commission.

Sight Problem Angers Clarenceville Parent

A 13-year-old Clarenceville girl, afflicted with Glaucoma, was admitted to the Michigan School for the Blind on Oct. 25. But her mother is angry at the time it took and at the obstacles that were placed in her way.

She charges that Clarenceville School officials and the Oakland County School Board purposely blocked the girl's admission to the special state school. She is wondering out loud "why the local authorities can say what kind of education a child must have when the parents want only the best for the child." She hopes that other such cases will be handled more expeditiously in the future.

In the account she gives of her daughter's travail, only three people come away with high marks: Dr. Samuel L. Prisk, President of the Clarenceville Public Schools; Mrs. Margaret Moncreiff, Counselor for the Blind at Livonia's Riley Jr. High School and State Representative Marvin Stempien.

The young lady under discussion now sees only shadows. It is expected that she will be totally blind before very long. Her record in the Clarenceville School system has been good. Nevertheless, last July, her parents applied for her full-time admission to the Michigan School for the Blind.

According to her mother, officials of the Clarenceville schools tried to dissuade them; citing her past, good record.

To this the parents replied that the reason their daughter had done well up to that point was that she had special training at the Lochman School for the Blind and during five weeks in the Michigan School for the Blind's summer program. They pointed to the fact that Clarenceville does not have a special program for blind students — only a part-time Braille instructor. At the beginning of September, the mother says she got a letter from the Michigan School stating that it had been advised by the Clarenceville School system that Clarenceville had all of the facilities necessary for that particular case. When the parents questioned the Clarenceville officials on this, the officials denied that they had done anything to stop the girl's transfer.

The mother admits that she lost her temper when one of the officials claimed that the school system had already spent over $400 on the girl's Braille books. She accused the official of thinking of the tax money that would come from having a blind student rather than thinking of the student.

The mother still thinks so. At this point she got in touch with Dr. Prisk, Mrs. Moncreiff, and Rep. Stempien. She feels that these three broke the deadlock.

Now that her daughter is at the Michigan School, she says the girl is very happy, "and is learning to live as a blind person in a sighted world."
