ARRIVES IN KELLOGG PARK AT 11 A.M.

Kids!! Saturday Is THE Day - Santa's Coming

Grab your hats, kids. Tell Mom and Dad to get out your warmest clothes and snow boots and start making plans now to have you in the downtown business section of Plymouth Saturday morning before 11 a.m.

Why ? ? ? Surely you know the answer before we tell you. Santa Claus is coming to town and who wants to miss the pre-Christmas visit of the smiling Kris Kringle with his flowing white beard, his hearty "Ho, Ho. Ho ! ! !" and his colorful red suit.

He's the one you have been secretly awaiting ever since the start of school in September. Remember back then when you began to think of all the things you'd like to have the patron saint of all youngsters bring on Christmas morn?

Now, you'll have a chance to tell him in person. Make out your list, study it carefully and then be at Kellogg Park Saturday morning to greet Santa when he arrives via fire truck with sirens blaring and lights flickering.

Yes, it's true. Santa is coming to town, thanks to the cooperation of the Retail Merchants division of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce.

The sounds of the sirens shortly before 11 a.m. will signal that he's on his way and then suddenly the gay, smiling Santa will be there before your eyes, waving his arms and sounding his "Merry Christmas" to all - but especially to you.

Then after a brief welcome from Chamber of Commerce President Carl Pursell and Mayor James Houk, who also is a member of the Retail Merchants division. Santa will move into his quarters in the Santa House to personally welcome and listen to all children who wish to tell him of their desires for Christmas.

Each child visiting Santa will receive a candy cane and a chance to have a private, personal visit with him. Then you can be assured that Old Kris knows what is wanted and will relay the information to his helpers. With a bit of assistance from your Mom and Dad, your requests will be filled.

It isn't necessary that all children in Plymouth try to visit Santa on the first day. He's going to have visiting hours every weekend from Saturday through the night before Christmas.

But it would be wise to get in line as soon as possible. That helps Santa get your order and it also helps your Mom and Dad assist him by refreshing his memory as to what you want.

There's a complete schedule of Santa's appearances in the Santa House elsewhere on this page.

Plymouth's retail stores plan to start night openings until 9 p.m. on Thursday and will continue on the late hours through Dec. 23.

In the meantime, crews of workmen from the Department of Public Works started decorating Kellogg Park over the weekend and expect to have all decorations in place before Thursday.

Complete Schedule For Santa Visits

A word to the wise to parents who are unable to take their youngsters to Santa House in Kellogg Park Saturday. Santa Claus will follow this schedule of appearances in the House and in downtown retail stores, starting Saturday and continuing through Dec. 23.

Santa's Hours:

Saturday, Dec. 4 - 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 9-4 p.m. to 8 p.m. (Visiting stores from 4 to 6 p.m.)

In its introduction to the report, the Planning Commission indicated it does not assume that the comprehensive development plan will solve all the Township problems presently or in the future.

The plan is concerned primarily with the best use of land. Its function is to identify, by use of maps and text, the physical environment within which the citizens of the Township can best realize their desires for a better community.

THIRD ADDITION IN TWO YEARS Evans Slates $3 Million Expansion

ment division of Evans Products President and Division Manager | $181.1 million. James Conway Monday as he announced a $3 million addition, the third for the Plymouth plant in less than two years.

Work is already underway on the newest expansion which will increase the size of the railroadcar building plant to 300,000 sq. feet and the overall plant to more than 800,000 square feet.

Thus in the short time of two years, Evans has boosted the Plymouth Township tax base by more than $6 million and hiked the school tax base by the same amount. This without all of the fanfare that came in recent months with the announcement of the locaation of several small industries in the community.

It was in 1964 that Evans' carbuilding plant covered 57,000 square feet and the two expansions, including the newest, have boosted that to more than 300,000.

Matter of fact, it was only a few months ago that Conway made a similar announcement of a $1.5 million expansion. Workers had barely started building cars there until the latest improvement was announced.

Conway said the latest addition includes $2.5 million in building construction with the balance in machinery and equipment. He also told of plans for an addition to the present research facilities with a proposed 10,000 square

"We can't say the expansion will add 200 employes," he quickly added, "We can use almost that many skilled workers right now but unfortunately they aren't available. There are men available for jobs but very few for the skilled positions we are trying to fill."

It was slightly more than two years ago that Evans moved the firm. This required the shifting tainment. of almost 200 men but at that time Evans' officials stated they believed new types of jobs would more than take care of all.

That's when the company decided to go into the new freight car construction business. And the division has done nothing but climb ever since.

> Nankin JP Leaves Post

Nankin Justice of the Peace Michael W. Bradley has taken leave of his bench until charges of malfeasance have been resolved by Gov. George Romney. The 36-year-old attorney and judge has been accused by Grand Juror Edward S. Piggins, conducting a one-man grand jury investigation in ticket-fixing in the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, of irregularities in the conduct of his justice court.

Piggins has asked that the governor remove Bradley from the post he has held since 1955.

Bradley's lawyer, Robert E. DeMascio, has denied the allegations and said, "I am sure my client will be vindicated." Among the charges Piggins recited are that Bradley: · Removed or destroyed certain public records from his court.

• Entered convictions for traffic violations against some defendants without their knowledge.

• Failed to tell the Circuit Court of his knowledge of ticket fixing by the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

• Suspended sentence or dismissed many traffic cases involving members of United Auto Workers Local 182, located at 35603 Plymouth Rd., Livonia.

At Livonia Custom Picture Framing Company here in Livonia, they not only do fine custom picture framing, (which you can still have done for Christmas) but, they also have one of the largest selections of candles in the area. They carry The Colonial Candle line of Hyannis Port which includes tapers, twists, slims, pillars in most any color or size that you might want and a wide selection of candle sticks and holders to add to your holiday colors.

These music boxes are items that are handed down from family to family, as they are collectors items, and must be seen and heard to appreciate the deli-cate hand work that has gone into each of them. In their large Art Department you are sure to find most any item that the artist might need. Livonia Custom Picture Framing Company is located at 33684 Five Mile Road, 3 blocks W. of Farmington Road and they are open evenings until nine for your Christmas shopping.

HONEY-PUMPKIN PIE Mix together:

2 eggs, slightly beaten 13/4 cups canned pumpkin

(1 can) 3/4 cup light brown sugar firmly packed 3 tablespoons honey

- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- (scant)
- 1/4 teaspoon ginger
- 1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg

1 tablespoon grated orange rind (optional)

Stir in 13/3 cups (1 tall can) evaporated milk. Mix thoroughly. Pour into unbaked pie shell. Bake in preheated oven at 450 degrees for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 and continue baking about 45 minutes, until knife stuck in the middle comes out clean. Serve with honey. flavored whipped cream, sweetened to your taste.

You might as well be told: it is too late to make fruit cake. at least for this Christmas, if you were contemplating such a thing. The responsible housewife, one who is organized, efficient, industrious, conscientious, and like that, has already made her fruit cakes, because she remembered way before Thanksgiving that fruit cakes need at least a month to ripen. The responsible household columnist, the one who is organized, efficient, etc., published the fruit cake recipes 'way back before Thanksgiving, too, but I was involved in remembering to get mittens for everybody before the snow fell, with six children (count 'em) is some project. So I get lost up there at "organized." Don't feel bad if you dropped out somewhere along the way.

There are some perfectly wonderful recipes for holiday cakes that are as pretty and festive as can be and they do not take time to age. They will keep two or three weeks, tightly wrapped, or can be used almost immediately. They have an added advantage in that people dark, plum-puddingy sort of The gremlins or printers' goodie, moist and mildly spiced; devils got into last week's it keeps very well. You may recipe for Honey-Pumpkin Pie and left out the following: use the deluxe mixture.

> RITA'S CHRISTMAS CAKE Place in large sauce pan: 11/2 cup raisins 11/2 cup dates (cut up) Add 2 cups bolling water and 5 tablespoons shortening (not butter) Simmer 20 minutes, then cool.

Sift together: 3 cups all-purpose flour I teaspoon baking soda 1 teaspoon cloves 11/2 teaspoons cinnamon

1 teaspoon salt Stir into cooled mixture. Add 1 cup chopped nuts and 1 cup mixed candied fruit (or more). Bake in tube pan 11/2 hours or longer, till toothpick stuck in center comes out clean, at about 275 degrees. If you use small loaf pans or nut cans, they may take less time to bake. You will have best results if you place a pan of water in the bottom of your oven for moist baking. Children love the gumdrop cake, and so does everyone else. VIRGINIA'S GUM DROP CAKE

Sift together: 4 cups all-purpose floor 1 teaspoon cinnamon

1/4 teaspoon each: cloves, nutmeg and salt

Dredge in a little flour: 1 pound light raisins 2 pounds large gumdrops, cut up (we eat the black ones beforehand) 1 cup pecans, broken Cream together: 1 cup butter

2 cups sugar Add 2 well-beaten eggs. Add 1½ cups applesauce alternately with the butter-sugaregg mixture to the flour mixture. Stir in 1 teaspoon baking soda dissolved in 1 tablespoon hot water. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla. Add the nuts and gum drops. Bake nearly 2 hours at 275 degrees in a tube pan or a little less time in small loaf pans. (For this cake, remove the wax paper before the cake cools, or you may have missed your chance.)

So pick any day before Christmas, and try these. Baking, if approached properly, without a

Santa Photos Available for Every Child

Pictures of your child's visit with Santa Claus, in color and 5x7 inches in size, are available if you desire, at the Livonia Mall Shopping Center.

There is no obligation to buy the photograph. However, every visiting boy and girl is photographed with Santa and if you wish to purchase such a souvenir of your child's visit, you may do so as you leave Santa's house.

As many as three children can be posed in a single photograph, or, one or both parents may pose with a child. Such group photos cost nothing extra.

Santa-Graf souvenir photographs are sold at a nominal price. Payment is due when you order the pictures and you will receive them at your home in the mail within 10 days of purchase.

Grinnell's is celebrating its 86th anniversary this year and now lists 36 stores in Michigan and Ohio, five subsidiary stores in Kentucky and New York state and the Grinnell piano factory in Holly, Mich.

In addition to being the world's largest distributor of pianos, Grinnell's has been one of the world's leading manufacturers since 1902. The first factory was located at Cass and Jones Streets in Detroit. A larger, more complete factory was purchased at Holly and has been producing since 1912.

Grinnell's furnishes all the pianos, organs, rehearsal space and financial support for the annual Michigan Music Festival. The 22nd version was held in Cobo Hall last June.

The Grinnell stores encourage home and family music making by providing studios with qualified teachers for beginner's lessons and auditoriums for recitals to stimulate practice and demonstrate progress.

New, Unusual Porta-Shop System Adds Air of Mystery to Livonia Mall

The Livonia Mall Saturday welcomed a new store in the Sears corridor, and it is probably the most unusual store in Michigan.

When you walk in, the sales people won't tell you what they are selling or how much it costs.

The store is called the Porta-Shop System.

The words Porta-Shop stand tem of home furnishings.

Inside one can see results of the little machine at work. The keynote of the displays are unusual furniture designs in rare and exotic hardwoods.

There is a modern couch built of solid Brazilian Rosewood which has a value of more than $1,200. An unusual chest-coffee table worth more than $600 that is built of solid Zebrawood, Ebony and Vermillion, all rare African hardwoods.

The table is enhanced by a unique set of Rosewood and Zebrawood chessmen with a value of over $200. The king of the set is over 10 inches high. One of the most interesting pieces in the store is a map of the world in which each contiment is cut from a different exotic hardwood and mounted is bas relief on a gold burlap background. The map measures four feet by eight feet and has a value of $500.

These pieces and many more are examples of what amateur craftsmen are capable of doing with Porta-Shop System.

Everything in the unusual store, including most of the walls, were built by amateurs using no power tools except the remarkable Porta-Shop.

Visitors, after a tour of the showroom and an informative talk on the furniture pieces, are invited to attend a demonstration of the Porta-Shop System.

METROPOLITAN GOVERN-MENT . . . was to me the most interesting workshop session at the 71st National Conference on Government. The Metro-government of Toronto, Dade County, Florida, and Nashville, Tennessee were discussed in depth.

All of the panelists agreed that metropolitan government could not work effectively unless the chief executive was elected on a non-partisan ballot. They attributed the lack of success of Dade County (Miami) trol rather than big governgovernment to its manager ment. form of government which has resulted in an unstable condition with ineffective political power and a void created by the absence of the checks and balances derived from a strong executive-legislative type of vites the public, but includes government.

It was also the considered opinion of our experts that metropolitan government was best suited for the smaller metropolitan areas such as Nashville and that areas such as Detroit and Chicago could not effectively serve their citizens through metro-government.

"American County Government" magazine, in their November issue, questioned the new form of constitutional metropolis by reapportioning county boards of supervisors. It was predicted that this super-government would soon usurp the local cities' jurisdiction in, first, planning, taxation, and finally the full police powers.

Hartford, Connecticut's approach to metropolitan government had an entirely different motive according to a spokesman from their area. There the movement was sponsored by the NAACP. Their announced policy was to have two Negro students in every classroom in the entire Hartford metropolitan area. They hope to accomplish this by first creating a metropolitan government which would then be responsible for administering and carrying out all public school policies in the area. Their avowed purpose was to require the busing of students from one neighborhood to another to achieve integration.

Here in Michigan is a bill pending before the legislature which would require all counties to be reapportioned and which would provide for the election of county supervisors. Presently every city and township has direct membership on day the county board's primary responsibilities are administrative and there is a definite need for a chief executive for the county government. I personally believe that the supervisors can better serve the county and their local community by being local elected officials.

This change in county representation should be closely watched by all citizens who believe in local government con-

The National Municipal League, which sponsored the conference on government, encourages citizen participation. This is the only meeting to my knowledge which not only incooperating local organizations in the planning and program-

The League of Women Voters, the Jay Cees, the Bar Association and other civic groups are invited to attend the sessions. College students are enrolled at a special rate of $1.00 and many take advantage of the six concurrent workshops each morning and afternoon. Some local governments sponsor their civic leaders' attendance at these National meetings. Members of the League of Women Voters, Jay Cees, and Federated Civic Associations were in attendance from most sections of the country. I believe that the City of Livonia should sponsor local civic leaders' attendance at these meetings. Michigan and the Detroit area, in particular, were well represented on the workshop panels.

Keep the Magic of the Season

No matter what a person's religious beliefs may be — there is magic in the air at the Christmas season. Perhaps it is because people do exude "good will toward men." People want "peace on earth."

There is magic in the little child all the year, but with the traditional joys of

... And a little child shall lead them. the Christmas season, busy adults pause a moment to notice and do their best to create that special happiness that comes from pleasing a child.

> Don't let anyone spoil Christmas for you — find the littlest Angel you can to be with and the true spirit of the season will live in your heart too. M.C.

Lnemy on Outside

(Reprint from Michigan Democrat)

"Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

The First Amendment to the United States Constitution is unequivocally clear. Every American, even if he stands alone, has the right to protest his government's policies, both foreign and domestic.

During the history of our nation, there have been short periods of time when the right of dissent has been seriously challenged. The most flagrant challenge in recent years came in the 1950's when the late Seantor Joseph McCarthy carried on his personal vendetta against any and all persons who disagreed with him. This threat to free speech was met and conquered.

It now appears that another serious threat to freedom of expression and dissent is imminent. With notable exceptions, pronouncements from the press, radio and television commentators, elected officials, government spokesmen and writers to editors reflect growing concern with, and in many cases undemocratic objections to, the opinions of a minority of Americans who disagree with our nation's policy in Vietnam.

The Vietnam dissenters are in the minority. Of this, there can be no doubt. Many of them are using tactics which may be ill-advised. Certainly, burning draft cards and lying on railroad tracts in front of troop trains add nothing to the debate over U. S. policy in Vietnam. There may come a time when such actions are necessary, but only when more reasonable alternatives have been eliminated.

on U. S. Policy in Vietnam War." They may, indeed, be experts, but there are experts of equal caliber who oppose U. S. policy in Vietnam. The political scientist who signed the letter is on record saying ten years ago, "The best hope for a free Vietnam and a free world lies with Ngo Dinh Diem." Even experts can carefully weigh the advice of "experts" on both sides of the question.

Human judgment is always subject to error. Those persons who disagree with United States foreign policy must be given a forum to express their views. If such forums are available to minority opinions, then persons expressing themselves need not resort to burning draft Editor: cards and blocking troop trains.

"Never let it be said that we denied to Americans the same guarantees of freedom and democracy for which Americans have died in Vietnam."

The tide of McCarthyism must not be permitted to once again engulf the American people. A hole appears to be in the dike and it is time we collectively stuck our finger in it.

Gov. George Romney may be wrong in comparing the John Birch Society with the Communist Party at this time.

It is probably no longer accurate to say that the Society is a tightly knit, secret organization. They said it couldn't be done - but it was and darn well, too.

Skeptics are everywhere-spreading negative thinking wherever it will sell.

The areas of endeavor this week tipped over the negativism, however, and they were pleasures to behold.

One was the ambitious undertaking of the Livonia-Redford Theatre Guild's "Stop The World - I Want To Get Off." It played at Bentley High School last week-end and will be playing again Dec. 3, 4 and 5.

As an Anthony Newly fan (author who was in the original cast), it seemed to me community theatre doing the symbolic "Stop The World" would be ludicrous. I listened and agreed with all of the armchair directors and critics who mouthed my private thoughts of doubt.

We were all proven wrong. It was an excellent production. Great directing, choreography, supporting cast. Fine and convincing work by veteran community theatre actress Livonian Moya Taormina as Evie.

But the real kudos go to the main role, "Littlechap," as played by a Redford High School student Larry Parks. He plans on attending Northwestern University for dramatic training. As long as he has the desire there is no way for him to miss. He played this difficult and most meaningful role with timing and taste.

But there is more to make this convincing and good theatre - and the more is all-important. There was a meshing — a teamwork — lights, scenery . . . believe me, I know, teamwork with energy and enthusiasm pays off ... it can be done.

Then there is the Adlai Stevenson High School in Livonia. It will open in November, said Business Administrator Ron Upton-"No, no, no, no," said they. - well the students came marching in on Tuesday, Nov. 30, 700 strong. Of course the school isn't all finished, but the instructional unit is and classes, teachers, books, chairs, lockers, drinking fountains and lavatories are all present and accounted for.

There are a few blackboards, window drapes and connections missing — but there is heat — and there are workmen - and somehow it all came off very fine on opening day.

Maybe this, too, can be explained as an enthusiastic crew of non-professionals, good teacher morale; and students kind of proud to "be the first" in the school.

A sense of humor helps - as noted on one of the few blackboards — "A Silver Lining — (or) Don't worry about a thing — nothing is going to be all right."

Again — behind the scenes men put it over. Thomas Abbott, who got up at 4 a.m. Tuesday to get the chairs moving in order for them to be at the school when the first students arrive - he is in charge of stock control - and that means everything from a blackboard to a pencil. Harold McVicar, head of the district's custodians - and Tom Reinhart, chief custodian for the new Stevenson High School. There are others.

While many persons consider such actions irresponsible and detrimental to rational debate, it must be recognized that it is equally irrational to condemn as unAmerican and traitorous these persons who have offered reasonable, constructive and intelligent criticism of U. S. foreign policy.

The case of Vietnam is not an open and shut one. Those who claim an easy solution to this complex problem have not seriously considered the many alternatives of dealing with aggression and suppression in a nuclear age.

Men posing as experts bombard the public with their bargain-basement solutions. One case in point. A political scientist at Michigan State University recently signed a letter along with nineteen other professors and other men from around the nation in which they defended U.S. policy in Vietnam. This letter was sent to editors throughout the nation. They called themselves "Scholars and Specialists" who have "devoted much of their adult lives to study and work in South and East Asian affairs." The headline over their letter in one Michigan newspaper read "20 Experts Reply to Attacks

Stevenson High Opens Doors

Close to 700 Stevenson High School students trooped through the halls of their new building — Livonia's third and newest high school—yesterday for the first time.

Still incomplete, but capable of serving students with basic study needs, the school is located on the north side of Six Mile just west of Farmington Rd.

For a while, students will not have the use of a library, nor will they be able to buy hot lunches. But for the first time since September they'll be on a normal class day. They had been sharing Bentley High School on a split-schedule shift with Bentley pupils.

Jay Formsma, new Stevenson principal, guided students around the new building this week. Observer cameraman Jerry Gazda was on hand to take these photos.

Murphy shot in 12 baskets for 24 points. Pavlat, Timmons and Wlezniak also wound up in double figures.

Timmons canned six from the floor and three free throws for 15 points. Pavlat meshed five and five, also for 15. Wlezniak sunk six hoops for his 12 points.

It wasn't until the third period that St. Agatha made its move to pull away. After one quarter was 12-11 for the Townshippers. At halftime, St. Agatha clung to just a 20-17 advantage.

Are some of the regulations which govern high school sports in Michigan outdated?

Should the State Association's Representative Council engage in some more "modern" thinking?

Should the principals, the athletic directors and the coaches who are responsible for the prep programs sound off?

And what about the parents?

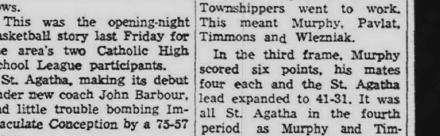

And, more important, the participants themselves? The answers to just about every one of the aforementioned questions is "yes."

Who says so?

Nobody else but one of the top athletic directors in this part of the state, a man who has enjoyed success in coaching and also in administrative work.

We were sitting with the gentleman, whose identity of necessity must remain a secret in this particular rendition.

"I have to agree with you on many subjects and in your thinking," the gent declared. Naturally we were elated to have somebody think our way - for once. "Some study and thought should be given to the prep rules in our state," the handsome fellow opposite us continued. "The recent situation at Austin High in Detroit, where the entire football team was barred for an entire season because the coach engaged in illegal pre-season workouts should serve as reason enough to get the State Association acting along more modern ways. "Equally alarming to all of us in the schools is the increase in the number of football deaths . . . and injuries. Many of these we feel can be attributed to the jamming up of practice time (less than three weeks) from the hour a coach can assemble his team until he sends them into their first game. "There are rules which aren't realistic. We are here to help the students, yet the schoolboy rules don't often work that way. They hurt the kids. "Take a youngster whom I know. He suffered an emotional breakdown. He tried in two different semesters to make it in school, but had to drop out. "Now he's back in school. Doing well, too. But under the state rules, he's listed as a ninth semester student. This makes him ineligible for athletics depite the fact the Mid-Wayne League while he's just a ninth grader and hasn't reached his 19th "If this boy wanted to go out for the debating team he could. mons each notched six points. Three other St. Agatha players gained the scoring column. Dennis McKenna made six points on three baskets, Tim Rourke had one hoop and Chris Berger a charity toss.

The St. Agatha reserves also rolled to an easy verdict, coming through with a 50-33 conquest.

Three of the winners' reserves tallied in double figures - Don Sinteney with 14, Chuck Costello with 12 and Jerry Miron with 11.

This Friday finds St. Agatha hosts to St. Hedwig.

The prep director paused for a few seconds and lit a cigarette.

"Our state rules are too rigid. The penalty is always the same . . . regardless of the intensity of the infraction, or what might be behind it.

"I'm not saying that the State Association should not rule with an iron hand. But it could work with a more realistic approach.

"As far as football practice is concerned, why the sharp limits on this sport when it's okay for coaches to have their basketball, swimming, tennis, golf and baseball teams together all summer?

"Football involves more boys . . . more teamwork more time to prepare.

"Yet, we are allowed less time to have our teams readied for gridiron play than in all other sports combined. Ridiculous, I say.

"Oh, yes . . . what's wrong with holding spring football in schools which have big enrollments? We keep saying we have to find more things for the teenagers to do.

"There are boys in just about every Class A school in the state who play football and no other sport. They would relish a chance to work out for a few weeks during the spring. It would do them a lot of good and it wouldn't hurt anybody else.

"But, we say . . . sorry, boys. If you're caught working out with your coach, you'll be suspended.

The Bible Baptist Church of | Week Dec. 5 to 12 every evening at 7:30 p.m. The topic of the week long observance is "The Miracle of the Underworld."

> Founded by the Rev. Charles J. Fisher in 1963, the congregation is moving to the building which formerly housed the Clarenceville Methodist Church.

The church is associated with the Baptist Bible Fellowship International. This is not a denomination but a fellowship of churches cooperating together in promoting the Gospel message supporting 223 missionaries in 27 countries. There are a total of 1,400 cooperating churches in the United States and Canada.

The regular schedule for the congregation is Bible School on morning worship at 11:15 a.m. with an evening service at 7 p.m. Visitations are scheduled Mondays at 6 p.m. with a Prayer

ed Monday that they are sponsoring a "Detroit Pistons Platoon" of U. S. Marines.

The platoon will be limited to 75 qualified young men from Michigan and the Toledo, O. area. They will leave for recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif., on Jan. 21, 1966. Prior to leaving for San Diego, the unit will be the guests of the Pistons for the game with the St. Louis Hawks that evening at Cobo Hall. During halftime they will be introduced to the spectators at the game.

Plans are also being made by Pistons' officials for a "Meet the Pistons Day" for interested applicants on a date to be announced. The neophyte leathernecks will be guests of the Pistons at the Philadelphia Warriors game on Dec. 29.

Interested and qualified applicants may enlist in the Marine Corps at any time during the next seven weeks to become a member of the "Detroit Pistons Platoon" through the Corps' 120-day delay program. Two, three and four year enlistments are presently available to qualified applicants between the ages of 17 and 27.

Thief Learns Lifted Birches Are Aspens

There's an Upper Peninsula landowners who has four carefully replanted trees on his property, thanks to the alert eye of Norman Remington, Escanaba, plant specialist with the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

The stolen trees were being illegally hauled home in the trunk of a car stopped by Remington for routine inspection. The over-eager digger said he had lifted the four "little birches" where he'd found them in the woods. Remington reminded him of the violations involved: Trees stolen from private property. No insect and disease inspection. No nursery license. Rather than press charges, Remington convinced the man of the error of his ways. It was suggested that he replant them in the freshly dug holes, under Remington's supervision. The ill-informed birchlover was eager to comply. Especially, noted Remington, when he found that his "little biches" weren't birches at all. but aspens.

Remington, a trained forester, works with the Michigan Department of Agriculture's plant industry division. Such tree checks are mainly to insure that plant discases are not spread. All-State Honors for Raider QB

More honors came to Bill Oldershaw, Chuck Viane and Pete Dolan of North Farmington's unbeaten-untied football team.

Oldershaw was listed as quarterback on the Class A All-Star team picked by the Detroit News and also on the All-Oakland County team, named by the Pontiac Press.

Dolan made the Press' Oakland County team and also was picked at tackle by the Detroit Free Press on its All-Suburban team.

Viane was named at end on the Press' County team. Jerry Tinkle of Farmington, an end, also was honored by the Pontiac Press on its All Class A selections.

All four of the players were picked on the Observer All Area first-team announced last week. The Detroit Free Press will present its all-state team next Sunday.

"Time was in Michigan that many teams played as late as Thanksgiving. Now only one game involving high school teams is played on Turkey Day. It's up in Flint.

"Yet, everywhere else in the country . . . in cities like Chicago and St. Louis and Philadelphia, to mention a few, Thanksgiving still is a big day for high school football.

"Sure, I know there's a feeling that if we don't get through by the first or second week in November, we might have to play in lousy weather.

"But, our weather hasn't been so bad of late on Thanksgiving. The Lions play okay. Why not the high schools?

The gent on the other side of the table took another pause.

"What's that they say about an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of health! I wonder if our State Association ever heard of this old saying?

Lee O'Connell, head of the speech and drama department at Madonna, is both director and actor in the plays. The evening will mark the first appearance of the newly formed acting company, The Triumvirate.

The three dramas fall into the tradition of black humor which started with the writings of Swift and Rabelais, went on through James Thurber to the modern nove's of James Heller and others. The first of these dramas "The Boor" is a comedy about a recently bereaved widow, played by Bernardine Muzyk, who falls in love with a boorish Russian cossack, acted by Lee O'Connell; the servant in the play will be acted by Marilyn Sarna.

WERB Faces U.S. Suit Over Wages

An injunction suit against WERB, Inc., and the Garden City Broadcasting Co., 32500 Park Lane, Garden City, was filed in the U.S. District Court in Cleveland by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz under the Fair Labor Standards Act. Milton Maltz and Robert Wright, individually and as officers of the two corporations, were also cited in the injunctive action.

The complaint alleges that the defendants failed to pay many employees the required overtime pay since October 10, 1963, and also failed to maintain adequate and accurate records of hours worked and wages paid employees.

A judgment is being sought to permanently enjoin and restrain the defendants from future violations of the law, including the restraint of any withholding of payment of overtime compensation found by the Court to be due employees.

Legal action followed an investigation of the station by the Detroit West office of the U.S. Labor Department's Wage-Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, under the supervision of Frank C. Modetz.

The corporations are engaged in radio broadcasting and related news gathering and dissemination activities for interstate and foreign commerce.

Modetz noted that the Federal minimum wage for all employees now covered by the law is $1.25 an hour. The Fair Labor Standards Act also requires the payment of time and one-half pay rate for overtime work.

Via TV Circuit Wonderland Turns Kids Into Stars

Wonderland Center has made "television stars" out of thousands of excited youngsters, according to Ernie Epps, promotion director.

Beginning last Friday, there has been an endless stream of starry-eyed boys and girls 'gazing at themselves on closed circuit television at the center's colorful toy workshop.

When the youngsters crawl up on Santa's lap they automatically appear on the large television screen present in the Santa room. The picture is also telecast to a large monitor located in the heart of the Wonderland Mall.

The Santa House, located at the west end of the Mall, is open daily from 10:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. and, on Sundays from 12:20 to 5:30 p.m. Hundreds of toys, many of

First Federal Caretaker Dies of Seizure

Stricken with a seizure while working as caretaker of the First Federal Savings and Loan building, Penniman at Main, Edward Duty, Sr., 57, 1344 Shel-don Road, Canton Township, died on Nov. 24 in the Wayne County General Hospital.

Mr. Duty was found unconscious in the lobby of First Federal by passersby when he apparently collapsed while at work. He was taken to Wayne County General Hospital where he died.

He had resided in Plymouth since 1937, moving there from Walnut Ridge, Ark. He was a member of the General Baptist Church of Canton Township.

Surviving are: his wife, Mrs. Velma Duty; four sons, Edward Jr. and Larry of Plymouth; Gene and James of Garden City; two daughters, Mrs. Gloria Cates of Wayne and Mrs. Romona Carter of Plymouth; two brothers, Billy of Dearborn and Clarence of Chelsea; two sisters, Miss Ruth Schnarrs and Mrs. Margaret Smith of Indianapolis; and 15 grandchildren.

Normally, the DPW can determine where a water service line is broken by shutting off the water at the curb stop. If we close the curb stop off and the water stops, this indicates the break is between the curb stop and the house and the responsibility belongs to the home owner.

If the curb stop off is closed and the water still runs, then this is City responsibility and DPW workers will repair it. We advise all homeowners who have to install new lines to use K type soft copper.
