Philip Power Takes Over Dec. 31

Observer Enters The New Year with a New Owner

(See "Observing The Scene" on Page 14-A)

The Observer Newspaper Group has been sold to Philip H. Power of Ann Arbor, according to a joint announcement by Power and Mrs. Myra Chandler, the present publisher. Power will assume ownership on Dec. 31.

Formerly headed by the late Senator-elect Paul M. Chandler, the chain publishes papers in Plymouth, Garden City, Redford Township, Nankin Township, Farmington and Livonia with a circulation of 86,450. Since Mr. Chandler's death a year ago the papers have been operated by his widow in silent partnership with William C. McKay, Detroit attorney and Stanley Swinton of New York, vice-president of the Associated Press.

Power, 27, was born in Ann Arbor, and was graduated from the University High School in that city. He was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1960 with A.B. degree summa cum laude. While a student he served as editorial director of the Michigan Daily and as a member of the Student Government Council. He was elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

Power continued at the University for an extra year as a graduate student in history before going to Fairbanks, Alaska, where he served as city editor of the Daily News-Miner. From 1962 to 1964 he was a Marshall Scholar at University College in Oxford, England and received a degree in philosophy, politics and economics. During the same period he served as a foreign correspondent for the Chicago Daily News.

In the fall of 1964 Power served as campaign aide to Neil Staebler during the latter's attempt to win the Michigan governorship. For the last year, Power has been administrative assistant to Congressman Paul H. Todd, Jr. of Kalamazoo.

Power is the son of Eugene B. Power of Ann Arbor, University of Michigan regent. Both are descendants of Arthur Power, who founded Farmington, Mich. in 1824.

Stating that he would shortly establish residence in the area served by the papers and would

"LOOKS GOOD" was the comment of Philip Power, of Ann Arbor, as he looks over an edition of the Observer Newspapers with Mrs. Myra Chandler, president and publisher of the six-newspaper group, shortly after they jointly announced the sale of the chain to Power.

Major Stories Keep Area Buzzing in 1965

The election of Edward Draugel as Plymouth's Municipal Judge; the sudden death of Supervisor Roy Lindsay; the appointment of Richard Blodgett as Plymouth's City Manager; the $6 million expansion at Evans Products Co.; the opening of the new reservoir by the city and the tremendous building surge in Plymouth Township attracted the most attention during the past year.

City Attorney Draugel was the choice of electors as the successor to Harry Deyo, who stepped down from Municipal Judge in forced retirement by the new state law.

But only after a court fight in which a suit was filed by Draugel to determine his eligibility for the post. A question arose as to whether he had met the residence requirements for the Judgeship.

Rather than have the issue cloud the election, Draugel preferred to have the matter cleared in advance by a court ruling. It went before Circuit Court Judge Joseph Rashid who ruled in favor of Draugel.

Then with the matter cleared, Draugel went into the final vote and was completely vindicated by the overwhelming majority in his favor. He will take office next week when he will be sworn in officially.

Veteran Lindsay, dean of the state's Township Supervisors, was ailing as early as the fall of 1964 when he sought reelection to the post he had held for 11 years. He won in easy fashion but even at that early date it was apparent that he was not a well man.

However, it wasn't until a month before he was to start his new term that he died of a heart attack in his bed.

After considerable study and opinions from election officials and the attorney general, the Township Board elevated Clerk John McEwen to fill the vacancy and then in turn voted to give the Clerk's post to Trustee C. Veach Sparks.

It took more than six months during which time Commissioners studied applications from almost 60 for the post of City Manager, gradually weeding out the list until it was down to five. Then each of the finalists was granted a personal interview.

Then additional time was devoted to a study of the qualifications of all finalists before the City Commission finally decided on Richard Blodgett of Marysville, O. as the successor to City Manager Glassford.

The veteran Glassford re-

McEwen Sees Rapid Growth in Township

In pausing to review the activities of the year now closing and to prepare for those of the year ahead Plymouth Township has witnessed sorrow, marked progress, and controlled development.

Citizens of Plymouth Township have felt a deep personal loss in the death of Supervisor Roy E. Lindsay, a beloved and respected official who passed away early in 1965. The loss of his dedicated and demonstrated service to his citizens and fellow officials has been prevalent.

Marked progress within our boundaries has been made by the installation of 13.83 miles of water mains at a cost of $698,000 and 12.14 miles of sanitary sewer at a cost of $1,060,000.

During the year 1965, 402 building permits have been issued with a valuation thereon of $6,685,000. Included in these figures is the industrial development of three new manufacturing plants on Lilley Road, built by a local resident, and a large expansion of Evans Products on Eckles Road.

We have had an orderly, gradual development during the past year.

However, the growth curve that we are about to embark upon, will commence early in 1966; and through the efforts of the Township Board and Planning Commission we are confident that a good community development will prevail due to positive planning.

According to plans currently on file in the Township Offices, seven new subdivisions consisting of 600 homes will be built in the forthcoming year. Four new apartment projects have been approved consisting of approximately 450 units. The purported movement in sales of industrial property within the Township indicates that new industry may be expected.

The upgrading of Sheldon Road from the railroad to Five Mile Road to that of a "grade A" road will enhance the property for an industrial park in that huge area.

Early in 1966 a division of all voting precincts in Plymouth Township will have been completed. The citizens of Plymouth Heights will be first to

Mayor Sees Need Of New Ordinance For City's Growth

By MAYOR JAMES HOUK

As we review the accomplishments of 1965 and look forward to the new year, we can readily see that the City of Plymouth is constantly on the move.

The Federal government has given Plymouth its approval to proceed with plans for a 60 unit elder citizens home. While several hurdles have yet to be cleared, we can expect this plan to become a reality during the latter part of 1966.

Plymouth can be proud of the fact that it is concluding its first urban renewal project in a three-year time period. The last parcel of land has been sold and cleared in the Mill Street project. Continued private development in this area is certain to enhance our tax base over the next two years. In the meantime, a new urban renewal project is under study for a portion of the southeastern quadrant of the downtown area.

The Planning Commission submitted the proposed new zoning ordinance to the City Commission for study. In 1966, we can expect the new zoning ordinance to be completed. This new ordinance should insure the proper development of the entire city.

In November of 1965, the City dedicated its new two million gallon water reservoir which is designed to provide increased water pressure and supply to the 3,300 Plymouth water customers. A side effect of this major improvement will be the great reduction in the amount of rust in our water mains.

In August, a new city manager was hired to fill the vacancy created eight months earlier when Al Glassford resigned to accept a city manager post in Albion. Richard D. Blodgett, former city manager of Marysville, O., was hired by the Commission and is working well with our city and with the municipal employees.

One of his first tasks was to prepare a wage and salary study, in order to compare pay for Plymouth's employees with that of comparable cities in the area. As a result, the City Commission voted an increase in pay to all Plymouth employees.

The City has been a party to developing Plymouth Community Planning Commission with Plymouth and Canton Townships. The hiring of Harold Fischer as Planning Director and the results of this work should go a long way in strengthening the townships and city tax bases.

At no cost to the City, the Big Challenge Ahead for Area Says Plan Chief

A certainty of life is change—and how a community plans for it, and accepts it, can determine to a large extent whether we look back on a turning point with pride and approval or with bitter resentment.

Change can be challenging, and it is healthy if it involves growth; growth of our community, growth in our government, and growth in our citizen thinking.

Indications are that 1966 will be a banner year for industrial expansion, and several things have helped this to come about. In my opinion, one of the most significant is the effort put forth by the three units of government to form the Plymouth Area Planning Commission, to show a sincere interest in attracting and keeping industry.

The creation of an industrial park enhances our opportunities to offer individual sized parcels to fit specific needs, with good roads and all utilities available.

In my few months of meeting with company representatives, it has become apparent that bare acreage on secondary roads, with an all or nothing clause on its size, with no utilities installed, has small attraction.

From the book "Techniques of Industrial Development" is the quotation: "An industry goes where it is invited and stays where it is well treated." We can make this apply to our community, and strive to make our changes well planned. We must be unafraid to grow!

Harold Fischer, Director Plymouth Area Planning Commission

EXCITED LOOKS of elementary pupils tell the story at Our Lady of Good Counsel School when Santa Claus made an unannounced pre-Christmas visit on the final day of classes before the start of the holiday vacation. The gay old gentleman took the entire school by surprise but word of his visit spread rapidly after he visited the first classroom. There were nothing but angelic looks from all pupils from that moment. This is a typical example.

Time to Ask About "Surprise" Gift From Livonia Board

The colored paper and the tinsel have been tossed aside. The sound of the jingle bells is only a faint echo. Tired old Santa Claus is back at the North Pole and it is time to take a better look at the presents we found under the tree on Christmas morning.

This tree of life is most important. Because it is then that you start to ask yourself some questions. And with much of the emotion of the happy morning gone you begin to wonder.

You wonder why Aunt Alice ever sent you such a gift. You wonder which one you can exchange. As you cast your eyes over the packages you wonder again which was the biggest surprise.

And for surprises you'd have a most difficult time beating the surprise—yes, the shocking surprise—the folks in the Livonia and north Nankin Township received for Christmas.

It didn't come tied in any fancy paper with bright colored ribbons and bows. In fact it wasn't wrapped at all. It was just a blunt announcement by the Board of Education that a nine mill raise in taxes and $9 million was needed. . . . The Board was so nice about it, too. The announcement stated you would have the opportunity to vote on the request on January 17, 1966, but added that these sums were needed to keep things at the present level—and build a new high school.

What a gift to get for Christmas!

Reminded me of the time, years ago, when as a lad I came hustling down the stairs on Christmas morning "to see what Santa had left me" and found my stockings had been filled, for the most part, with chunks of anthracite coal.

In the tradition of the Pennsylvania Dutch country this was a sort of punishment for poor behavior. You can imagine there was little enjoyment for me on that distant Christmas Day.

In no way can the request of the Board of Education be construed as punishment, but it didn't add much cheer to the holiday season to learn that your taxes possibly would be raised "only about $70 a year."

So, it's about time we cast aside the holiday spirit for a bit and started asking a few questions.

Is our school tax money well spent?

Are we getting the most for our dollar?

Could the total amount be reduced without lowering the educational standards?

Why can rooms be built in churches at a much lower figure than those of comparable size in our schools?

How does our cost per student compare with the cost per student in other communities in the area?

Why must we have a different architect on each new school and pay huge architects fees when we already have the plans of all the previously built schools in the area.

If one type of building is adequate in the southeast section of the city why shouldn't a duplicate of it be adequate in the southwest section?

Well, I'm not complaining. Many of the questions I ask aren't new. Some years ago, as a member of the first City Council in Livonia, I asked the Board of Education why the same blueprints couldn't be used over again. I was told then that this was against the architects' policy (imagine that) and that you needed an architect to be certain of expert inspection.

I countered, "Give me the architects fees and I will get the best inspection possible and give you back a nice sum of money."

I was greeted with a smile and the remark, "You wouldn't want all of our schools to look alike, would you. The youngsters couldn't tell one from the other."

Well, I often heard the critics say of the famed "block" or "row" houses in Philadelphia that if a person imbibed too freely of laughing juice he'd have a hard time finding his own home in the block.

Maybe so. But our schools are built far apart. And most of the youngsters are taken to them by bus.

So I wonder—Perhaps you should start wondering, too.

Before January 17, 1966.

Building Permits In Plymouth Climb in 1965

The City of Plymouth issued 129 building permits during the period of January 1 through the month of November in 1965 according to a report to City Manager Richard Blodgett by Building Inspector Charles Thompson.

This compares with 104 for the same period in 1964. The report shows a total of 64 single family residences with a value of $1,028,500 contrasted to 26 permits totaling $478,000 a year ago.

Thompson issued four permits for multi-family residences for valuation of $463,000, a drop from the eight in 1964 with a value of $789,000.

A total of 29 garages were constructed with a value of $34,286 compared to 38 for a total of $39,920 in 1964.

Thompson reported 20 commercial permits with a value of $267,028 against 18 and $256,050.

Industrial permits dipped from 14 in 1964 to 12 in 1965 but one was for the new Wheel Trueing plant and boosted the valuation to $1,220,700 this year contrasted to $56,200 a year ago.

Regional Center For Retarded Children Proposed In Wayne

A regional center for retarded children is expected to be built in the City of Wayne by September.

The center, sponsored by the Wayne County Intermediate School District, would serve the local school districts of Wayne, Garden City, Nankin Mills, Inkster and Cherry Hill among others.

The Wayne Association for Retarded Children (WARC) directed by Mrs. Margaret Meier, will be responsible for children 18 months to five years and for students 15 years and above. Students 5 to 15 will be under the direct supervision of the Intermediate District.

The State will pay 75 per cent of the cost and the remaining 25 per cent will come direct from participating districts which will also be asked to transport their own children.

Although final approval must come from the Intermediate School Board, the Wayne Board of Education has directed its administration to "study in detail instructional, organizational and financial problems related to the establishment of a regional center for special education classes . . ."

The staff of the proposed center will be employed by the Wayne Community School District. Each teacher must be certified and must have at least a bachelor's degree. Teachers will receive the same benefits as staff members.

The school district will negotiate for property for the new center and also will be responsible to maintain and operate its facilities.

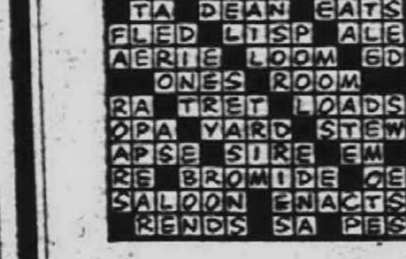

Other responsibilities of Wayne are: payroll, personnel records, contracts, purchases, and insurance. Mrs. Meier had asked the Board for a commitment of support so the Wayne Association for Retarded Children could be.

Chisholm Promoted at Bank

Donald H. Chisholm has been named a 2nd vice president of Manufacturers National Bank, according to announcement by William A. Mayberry, chairman of the board, and Roland A. Mewhort, the president.

An officer in the U.S. Army during World War II, Chisholm joined Manufacturers Bank in 1946. Before being named an officer in 1963, he served one year as head of the FHA Division of the Installation Banking Department.

Mr. and Mrs. Chisholm now reside in Farmington. They have five children: Donald, Diane, Michael, Eric, and Brian.

Bus Fleet Insurance Costs Rise

Insurance for Livonia's school buses and vehicles will be provided next year by State Farm Mutual Insurance Company which recently submitted the lowest of five bids to the school board.

Its offer, made through the John E. Tripp Agency of Plymouth, was $11,221—an increase of $2,000 over the premium for this year.

Wolverine Insurance Co. which submitted the second lowest bid of $14,133 is carrying the district's insurance this year.

Coverage for liability provides $100,000 for each person injured and a maximum of $1,000,000 for each accident.

In other business, the board:

• Approved final plans for additions to Emerson and Whitman Junior High Schools. Bids for Emerson will be opened Jan. 20 and on Feb. 3 for Whitman.

• Gave approval for election inspectors for the 41 precincts who will conduct the Jan. 17 election.

• Agreed to apply for $102,000 in federal tax funds to expand the "Livonia Program for Educationally Unaccommodated Children in Areas of Relative Economic Deprivation."

• Decided to conduct a Nurses Aide and Orderly Training Program in conjunction with St. Mary Hospital in Livonia.

retain Mrs. Chandler as editor, Power said "The tradition of excellent journalism and community service established by the Observer papers under the late Paul Chandler has been outstanding. That tradition will be continued and strengthened."

"As new publisher I have the greatest confidence not only in the present staff but also in the future growth of the chain and the dynamic communities which the papers serve."

Mrs. Chandler said, "It is with the utmost confidence that I turn the reins of publishing the Observer Newspaper Group over to Philip Power knowing that he will continue to serve the community with the same energy and dedicated journalism established by my late husband, Paul M. Chandler."

The papers were purchased by Paul M. Chandler and William C. McKay 11 years ago from the late Sterling Eaton. At that time there were The Livonia and Plymouth newspapers.

Subsequently Paul Chandler added the Redford paper to his chain and changed the name to The Observer Newspapers. Just a short time before his death Publisher Chandler started The Farmington Observer.

He believed in total community circulation as the best means for keeping the public informed and formulating opinion based on close observation of daily happenings in school and government; and as the most efficient way to get the message of the merchant to the consumer.

Following his death on Dec. 12, 1964, his widow Myra Chandler was elected President of the newspaper chain. She added the Garden City and Nankin Newspapers and switched the Redford paper to a controlled circulation newspaper also, thus solidifying the area.

"With the consummation of this sale," concluded Mrs. Chandler, "I look upon this as a first step toward The Observer Newspaper Group becoming a daily newspaper, a fond desire of both my late husband, and myself."

Jury Finds Ellerhorst Guilty Of Conspiracy

Garden City contractor Lester C. Ellerhorst was found guilty of conspiracy on two counts Monday by a Recorder's Court jury and will face sentencing by Judge Vincent J. Brennan on Jan. 10. Also named guilty were co-defendants Edward Szeles, 34, and James Clark, 46, both of Florida. The trio were found guilty of conspiracy to murder and extort money from Rep. James Tierney, former Garden City mayor, Municipal Judge Russell L. Swarthout and Detroit attorney Arthur Bichan. Maximum penalty is five years in jail and/or a $10,000 fine, which could add up to ten years in prison and/or $20,000 in fines. The jury of eight men and four women deliberated for a total of four hours according to Brennan. The jury had recessed over the week-end for the Christmas holiday. The conspiracy plot was reported to Detroit Police by Donald Sundberg of Sylvan Lake and Floyd Kupkowski of Livonia. Sundberg took the witness stand but after refusing to answer questions was cited for contempt.

It was Sundberg who accused both Swarthout and Garden City attorney Evan H. Callanan of bribing him, a charge denied by both.

Kupkowski had testified earlier that Bichan, Swarthout and Tierney were to be forced to sign blank checks, placed in cement-filled oil-drums, and dumped in the river by Ellerhorst, Szeles and Clark.

Ellerhorst denied telling Kupkowski of the plot and denied bringing Szeles and Clark to Detroit to expedite the scheme. Neither Szeles nor Clark testified.

During testimony, Ellerhorst disclosed that Callanan was counsel for the main prosecution witness and for two companies Ellerhorst heads.

Callanan is attorney for Sundberg who is a co-conspirator but not a defendant in the case. Ellerhorst said Callanan made several trips to the Wayne County Jail since the trial started to take care of legal matters involving his two firms.

Callanan had previously represented Kupkowski, Sundberg and Mrs. Minerva Ellerhorst but withdrew as counsel for the three on Oct. 13.

At the time of his withdrawal, Callanan told Circuit Judge George E. Bowles that a clash of interest existed between him and Kupkowski because he believed Kupkowski made charges against him to Detroit Police.

The petition asking for withdrawal listed Kupkowski, Sundberg and Mrs. Ellerhorst as shareholders of MacQueen Associates, Inc. in a civil case with Bichan as one of the defendants.

Tierney has won a $150,000 civil suit against Ellerhorst.

Schoolcraft Board Looks Into Future

By HAROLD FISCHER
Chairman Schoolcraft College Branch

Schoolcraft College has made a creditable beginning, and it has a promising future. The Board has tried to meet its responsibilities to the people in the selection of administrators, formation of policies, and wise planning of the physical structures to allow for growth.

The need for Schoolcraft College has been verified. Two thousand full-time students for our second year of operation is proof of acceptance and utilization.

1966 should see both the Waterman Campus Center and the technical building completed. The campus center will house the bookstore, the cafeteria, and provide the much needed space for students to gather. Today all food is furnished by coin machines, and it will be a forward step to have freshly prepared cafeteria meals.

The completion of the technical building will enable the college to offer data processing, auto mechanics, metallurgy, drafting, etc., and will free other classroom space.

An ever pressing goal is to provide for a more adequate physical education program. Accreditation demands a two year offering of physical education, and we are trying to meet the requirements in make-shift fashion at the present time. We recognize the shortcomings of our present setup, but we've tried to use a first things first approach. Likewise, we need a better facility for our fine arts program and for business education.

A college is never finished in the sense of work accomplished; it must be ever changing to meet new needs. It will continue to succeed with the community's interest and support.

School Board Will Inform On Tax Needs

With the January 17 school elections less than three weeks away, Livonia School District officials are making plans to inform residents of the City of Livonia and north Nankin Township about the issues involved.

In all likelihood, a brochure will be printed to explain the need for: nine more mills for operating expenses, and, borrowing nine million dollars to build a fourth high school and provide funds for equipment.

School board members set the election date last week at a special meeting. They are hopeful the public will approve both measures.

Wayne State Offers Off-Campus Courses

Area residents may now enroll in off-campus courses by Wayne State University College of Education at Nankin Mills Jr. High and Wayne Memorial High School.

Applications and registration forms must be received by WSU by Jan. 6. Classes begin the week of Jan. 12 and continue through March 21.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Melton, Sr. He plans on a career in the Navy when he reaches that age.

Ken likes archery and bowling and is a member of the Boy Scouts where he has earned several honors.

Schoolcraft Slates Course for Graduates

Beginning Monday, January 4 p.m., graduate course entitled "The Community College" will be offered at Schoolcraft College with credit available from Michigan State University, University of Michigan, and Wayne State University.

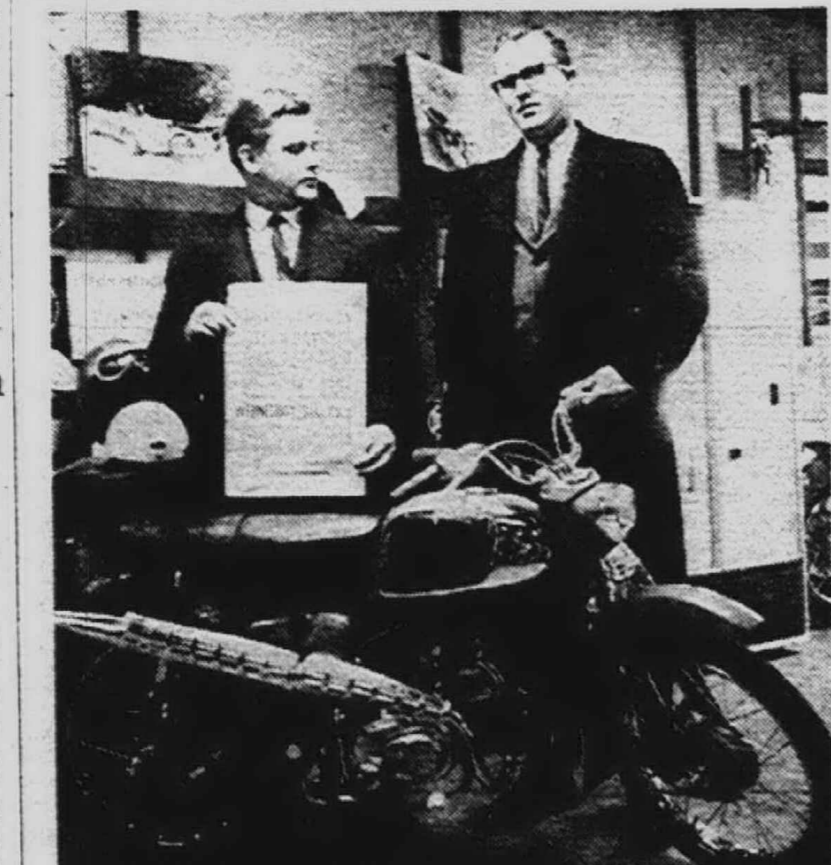

Classes will meet for 11 weeks, according to president Dr. Eric Bradner. Sessions will be from 4 to 7 p.m., each Monday.

The instructor will be Professor George L. Hall who holds full professorships at the three universities. Dr. Hall is a leader in the community college field and is considered one of the top authorities in the United States.

Individuals, who have been admitted to graduate study at one of the three institutions, may register for the class. Individuals, who are not in graduate programs at one of the three institutions, may register for the class for graduate extension credit at the University of Michigan. The only prerequisite for admission for graduate extension credit is the bachelor's degree.

Fees are payable at the initial session of class. A minimum of approximately 10 students are needed for the class.

SOME LUCKY teenager will be the proud owner of this Honda which will be awarded to the winner of a contest at Wednesday's (tonight) Christmas Teen Dance at Roma Hall. The affair, which benefits the sheltered workshop for retarded adults in the area, will start at 7:30 p.m. and continue until 11. That's Chairman Roy Jacobson holding the sign while Wendell Smith, a member of the sponsoring Plymouth Jaycees, looks on.

Gem Store Robbed of 29 Pistols

Livonia Police are searching for a band of robbers who broke into the Gem Store, 13507 Middlebelt, and fled with 29 pistols.

Police reports show the thieves knew what they were after—they overlooked a strongbox in an adjoining room containing $10,000 in cash and went directly to the showcases holding the pistols.

And they were lucky since the silent alarm sounded in the Livonia Police station but the nearest police car was busy on a family trouble call and didn't arrive at the scene until the robbers had left.

Vandals are sought in the shattering of a plate glass window in the branch office of the Livonia National Bank at 30055 Plymouth Road. Bank officials reported someone shattered the window which was valued at more than $300.

Principal William Warren complained to police that burglars broke into Emerson Junior High, 29100 W. Chicago, and ransacked the teachers' lounge. He told investigating officers the robbers took several new paperback books and an undetermined amount of costume jewelry.

Plymouthite Retires from Edison Post

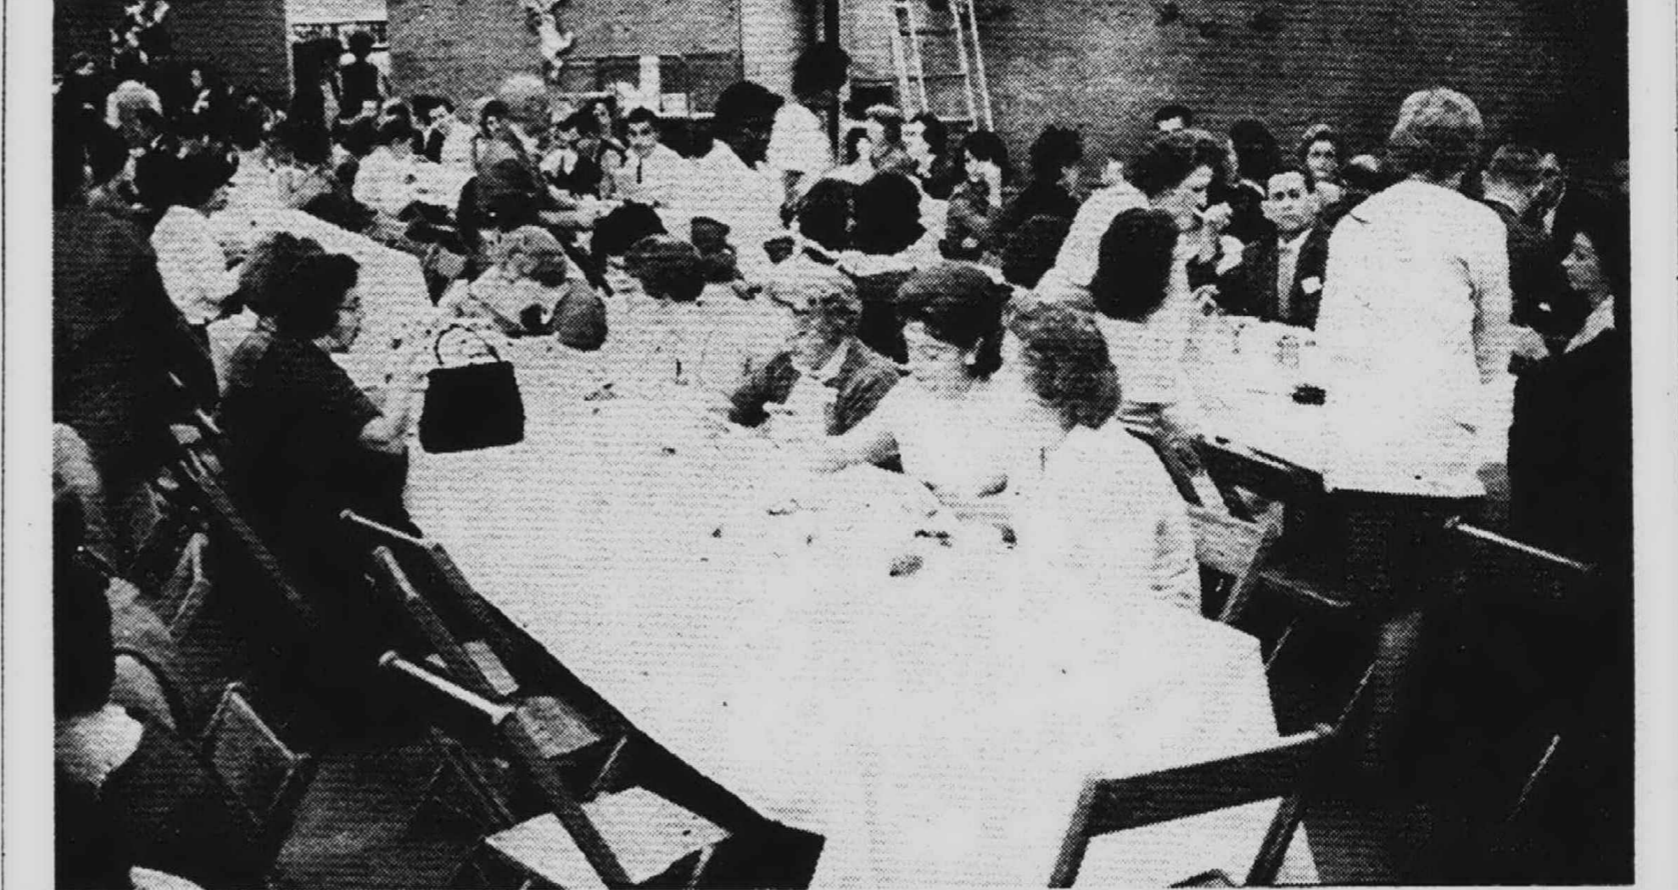

Charles D. Davis, assistant to the director of Detroit Edison's tax department, retired Dec. 1 after 42 years of company service.

Though a native of Denver, Colorado, Mr. Davis has lived in the Detroit area since early childhood. He graduated from Central High School and holds a bachelor of science degree from Michigan State University. He is a registered professional engineer.

Mr. Davis joined Detroit Edison's plant accounting department in 1923 shortly after graduation from Michigan State. He was appointed assistant to the company's director of taxes in August, 1960. He has been active in the National Association of Accountants, the Engineering Society of Detroit, and has served as chairman of the depreciation accounting committee of the Edison Electric Institute.

Until last August Mr. Davis and his wife, Marie, made their home at 14176 Grandmont Road, Detroit; since then, they have lived at 14155 Shadywood Drive in Plymouth.

SANTA ARRIVED EARLY for the more than 1,400 employees of Sears Livonia Mall when Manager Arthur Cone hosted all at the annual Christmas luncheon. It was buffet style and the workers were scheduled on half-hour shifts with continuous entertainment furnished by fellow employees. The annual affair gave all a welcome noon break from the day before Christmas last minute shopping rush.

School Advisory Council Hears Federal Aid Talk

Dr. Allen L. Bernstein of the Wayne County Intermediate School District and Dr. Paul Johnson, assistant school superintendent in charge of instruction, last Wednesday addressed members of the Livonia School Board Advisory Council at their regular "third Wednesday" meeting in the board administration building.

The two experts spelled out the various government aid programs currently available to Livonia schools and how suburban school boards and advisory councils could utilize these funds to upgrade and spread out educational opportunities for local children.

Chairman of the committee checking state and federal involvement in public education is David Merriam of 11401 Cranston.

Another committee studying building and maintenance problems is chaired by V. C. Reddy of 19038 Shady Side. His report is expected at the next meeting which will be held on Wednesday, January 19.

According to George Kindred, Council president, the advisory group plans to select specific topics relating to school finance, planning, or philosophy with the total group breaking into sub-committees to do in-depth studies of different aspects of the problem.

Last week the Council sent out a "last chance" invitation to qualified community groups to send delegates or alternates to the advisory discussion meetings.

Past-President Don Murch, who has made recommendations on how the citizen advisors could be most effective, was pleased with the wide range of topics the group planned to explore.

"It's good to find so many citizens interested in such a wide range of educational planning, philosophy and research," Murch said. "We need more grass roots interest in defining the goals of public education, the impact of new inventions on children in the classroom, the proper role of the Federal government in financing schools, the changing patterns of teacher preparation, and other problems of our everchanging educational world."

Gal Drivers Will Learn About Cars

Suburban women in Western Wayne County will get a chance to prove to their husbands, brothers, or fathers that they have the ability to care for and maintain their automobiles with the same skill and interest as do the men in their family.

Joe Jandasek, who teaches industrial education in Livonia high schools during the day, will offer a winter term course for women at Franklin High, Joy Road near Merriman on Thursday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30.

The fee for the ten-week course is $10 for all students, both Livonians and non-Livonians.

According to Jandasek, each week demonstrations will be given showing correct methods of servicing cars while discussions will be held to answer all maintenance questions.

Students' cars will be used to show how to tune up an auto, change oil, do a grease job, and do other routine services.

"A great many women tell us that this course has not only helped them in emergencies but has saved them many dollars as well," Mrs. Dorothy Wylie of the night school office said.

"We are pleased to be able to offer this course again during the winter term. We welcome all women living in or outside of Livonia to enroll in this practical course."

Seek Dog Which Bit Livonia Girl

Ian MacMurtie, 20427 Milburn, Livonia, is looking for a dog that bit his daughter, Cathy, last Friday, Christmas Eve.

Described as medium-sized and black, built like a cocker spaniel, the dog answers to the name "Bud." Cathy was bitten in front of her home. The dog was picked up by Livonia Police, but escaped while being transferred to the dog pound at Farmington Rd. and S Schoolcraft.

Unless the dog is found, Cathy, 10, will have to undergo painful anti-rabies shots. Anyone with information is asked to call MacMurtie at GR 6-0139.

Major Stories Keep Area Buzzing

Blodgett had hardly settled in his office when he was faced with the prospect of drawing up a wage increase schedule for all city employees. It took more than a month after his arrival but he finally made recommendations that were accepted by the Commission.

Blodgett also participated in the official opening of the new two million gallon reservoir in November—a reservoir which definitely proved its value a week ago when a pump broke in the Six Mile water field and left the city with a limited amount of water for more than 24 hours.

During that period the water was gradually used from the reservoir to maintain the pressure. The loss of pressure was so little that hardly any of the city's water users noticed the difference until a pump was borrowed from Washtenaw County to fill the breach until repairs could be made.

The borrowed pump is still in operation. The water pressure is near peak in the reservoir and the danger of low pressure is over.

Perhaps, one of the biggest stories in the area during the past year was the tremendous expansion at the Evans Products plant.

More than $6 million has been poured into the transportation equipment division of the plant in the past 19 months with more expected in the near future.

It has brought an unheard of backlog of orders, made the plant one of the nation's largest manufacturers of railway cars with damage-prevention devices. The additions will increase Evans annual capacity to 3,000 cars by the spring of 1966.

And added to all this, the extension of water and sewer lines to the western section of Plymouth Township has brought the biggest building boom in history. Water was made available to the industrial zoned land north of Western Electric on Sheldon Road and water and sewer lines are being installed adjacent to industrial sites on Haggerty Road north of Joy, bringing prospects of a tremendous industrial growth during 1966.

It appears as if the Plymouth community and especially the Township is headed towards a boom that could make the area the fastest growing in the state—time alone will tell the tale in the near future.

Michigan State students like to follow their football team. More than 7,500 Spartans purchased tickets to see their favorites in action against UCLA in the Rose Bowl game 2,300 miles away in Pasadena. That amounts to one-fifth of the student body.

Mayor

Automobile Club of Michigan prepared a traffic engineer's report of the more critical traffic problems in Plymouth. As a result, we can expect changes in traffic control, which should reduce congestion and produce better traffic safety on Plymouth's streets.

One of the more recent ordinances adopted, which bans parking on city streets between 2 a.m. and 6 a.m., will result in easier access for more efficient snow removal and street cleaning service at some saving costs to the taxpayers.

In the summer of 1965, the City Commission undertook a $140,000 street improvement program, as follows:

Widening and resurfacing W. Ann Arbor Trail from S. Main Street to Elizabeth Street, Widening S. Main Street from W. Ann Arbor Trail to Maple Street, Installing bituminous paving on S. Harvey Street from Wing Street to M-14 and on Maple Street from S. Harvey Street to McKinley, and re-capping approximately 16 blocks with bituminous concrete.

May all of you enjoy a healthful, happy and prosperous new year, and on behalf of the City Commission, you are always welcome to attend our meetings and take an active part in governing our city.

Established a Board of Education Committee on Community Relations which published a Newsletter to the citizens and provided speakers for organized groups within the Community

Initiated in the Farrand School an ungraded primary program where a student's progress in school is recorded on a multi-level rather than on a grade level basis.

Adopted modern mathematics program after an intensive study by teachers. The new teaching materials are in use in all grades.

PROJECTS FOR 1966: The Citizens Advisory Committee on School Facilities will complete its report and recommend to the Board of Education the additional facilities required to house both elementary and secondary school students through 1972. The Committee will study the financial condition of the School District and recommend a method of financing the new facilities. The location of the second high school will also be included in the recommendations of the Committee.

The 701 program proposed a new Township civic center on North Territorial Road, among other recommendations. It was the civic center that drew the most fire and criticism at the hearing and it is thought that McEwen will make it one of the major points in his address.

Elementary School No. 7 on Five Mile Road, west of Haggerty Road, and the four-room additions to Bird and Gallimore Elementary Schools will be completed and, hopefully, ready for the opening of school in September, 1966.

Beginning in September, 1966, a portion of the sixth grade, probably from the present Farrand and Gallimore attendance areas, will be placed in the elementary schools and the remainder will attend Junior High School-West. At the same time a portion of the eighth grade will be placed in Junior High School-West and the remainder will attend Junior High School-East.

An enrollment increase of 625 students in Grades Kindergarten through 12 is anticipated during 1966.

Greater attention will be given in the schools to the educationally disadvantaged child. Early identification of this child and a planned program of special teaching services to assist him in developing a feeling of success in school will be given top priority in program planning during the coming year.

Federal funds granted through the State to the school district under Titles I and II of the National Elementary and Secondary Education Act, 1965, will finance these services for the disadvantaged in both the public and private schools.

McEwen

The sewer and water program for 1966 is currently being prepared by the Township Engineer for those sections of the Township that are deemed most essential.

The Planning Commission of the Township will complete its Comprehensive Development Plan and Report (701 Program) early in January 1966. They, along with the Planning Consultant, are to be commended for their far-reaching thoughts into the future for the orderly physical and economic development of the Township.

Many thanks to the Township Board and other public officials who have assisted in the work of the Township during the year.

May the forthcoming year be marked with growth of interracial and international friendliness, spreading upward from the community level, which will bring just and permanent peace to men of good will.

John D. McEwen
Township Supervisor

tions. With the election concerning millage and bonds set for Jan. 17, the matter needed more thought before any course of action could be taken. This cannot wait until the next regular executive board meeting. Therefore, on Jan. 3, at 8:30 p.m. in the large multipurpose room, the position to be taken will be decided upon and the method of implementing that decision will be resolved.

Because the issues involved are important to every member of the P.T.A., this general invitation is being extended. Coffee will be served.

Father and Sons Sport Night is planned for Jan. 14. The Speaker Bureau of the Detroit Tigers is furnishing the entertainment. Roy Stewart is in charge of arrangements and Mrs. Winifred Clark is in charge of refreshments for this evening.

Engineers' Wives To See Cancer Films

The Engineering Society of Detroit Junior Wives will meet on Jan. 5 at 8 p.m. in the reception room of the Rackham Building.

Two informative films from the Michigan Cancer Foundation will be shown entitled, "A Breath of Fresh Air" and "A Habit for Life". These films stress the importance of regular physical examination for early detection of cervical cancer and the technique of self examination for breast cancer.

Hosting the program will be the Community Services Committee.

'Christmas Magic' Presented By Youthful Players

A group of 10 and 11-year-olds in Lincolnshire Estates in Farmington presented an original play "Christmas Magic" last week. This dedicated group charged NO admission, rehearsed for weeks.

Saturday they presented the play at the home of Mrs. Edward Otto, of Lyncastle. Written by Betsy Hoffman and Gail Heper, the play dealt with a pair of cynical youngsters who refused all attempts to make them believe in Christmas. Only when the true story of Christmas was revealed to them, did the "magic" take hold, and they begin to believe in Christmas and all it stands for.

Players were Gail Heuer, Helene Kouzoujan, Margaret Otto, Martha Otto, Betsy and Pat Sullivan and Jane Andrews.

Another group went out caroling and the money they collected was turned over to the Sarah Fisher Home. Carolers were Gail Heuer, Helene and Laurie Barto, Margaret Otto, Sharon Haefner, Colleen Given, and Betsy Hoffman.

"Queen of Hearts" Prepares A Casserole That Men Like

A few weeks ago I saw a cartoon that touched a nerve right in my cook's elbow (not the same as housemaid's knee, by the way). The cartoon shows the husband looking with dismay at the helping of food on his dinner plate, and the wife is saying "I call it Enthusiastic Casserole because I put everything I had into it."

If it hurts when you laugh, it is because this illustrates the painful problem every housewife faces with discouraging regularity, the problem of what to do with leftovers. This could be the key to the reason why casseroles are met with less than enthusiasm in some circles, especially among men.

You can scarcely blame a man for viewing with suspicion a dish in which he can spot the sodden remains of everything he has to eat all week, interspersed with over-cooked macaroni, and held together half-heartedly with a can of tomatoes. Really good casseroles are made with new, not second-hand ingredients.

Oh, some left-overs can be handled with inspiration, surely, but I don't usually have left-over sirloin tip to bake with sour cream, noodles, pungent herbs and poppy seeds. Left-over broccoli makes a beautiful casserole called Chicken Divan, if you have some left over chicken breasts, about 2 pounds, which I never do.

It seems to me that there is never really enough of any left-over left over to be creative about. Maybe the honest thing to do is just throw them away before they spoil, instead of after, but then you have to labor under the guilt brought on by the vision of all the people in the world who are starving. Whatever you do with left-overs . . . freeze them, make soup with them, eat them for lunch . . . don't try to use them all in casseroles.

Some stubborn meat-and-potatoes men may never capitulate but most men will respond fairly well to casserole when they are made on purpose, instead of accidentally. A casserole can be a Cause, not an effect.

This particular recipe was served to us . . . on purpose . . . by Sue Lund, a friend in Minnesota, who is a wonderful cook. It is a great success at parties, she told us, "because men like it."

SUSIE'S CASSEROLE THAT MEN LIKE

Mix all together and place in buttered baking dish, 1 can chow mein noodles, 1 can chop suey vegetables (drained), 2 cans boned chicken (or tuna or shrimp), 1 small jar pimento (chopped), 1 package slivered almonds (toasted), 1 can water chestnuts (drained and sliced), 1 can evaporated milk, 1 can mushroom soup, 1 can cream of chicken soup.

Top with crumbled potato chips. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. This amount will serve 6 to 8 people; it may be doubled or even tripled for a crowd.

Some day maybe all the great scientific research that is being done on the problems of feeding the growing population of the world will turn up the answer to what to do about left-overs.

Nancy North-William West Speak Vows by Candlelight

In an evening candlelight ceremony in the First Methodist Church Plymouth on Tuesday, Dec. 28, Nancy North, of Saginaw, and William West, of Plymouth, were united in marriage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall F. North, 4335 Elmorte Drive, Saginaw. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph West of 837 Church Street, Plymouth.

Nancy, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of Peau satin fashioned with a lace mock jacket of Alencon. The sleeves were elbow length and the neckline a high scoop. The windswept skirt was trimmed with matching lace motifs. The skirt which fell in to a Chapel length train, had the hemline of Alencon lace. Her veil was secured to a Dior bridal bouquet with cascading gardenias.

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Paul Heydenburg of Midland. Bridesmaids were Mrs. David Nelson of Iowa, sister of the groom, Jeri Meckley, a sorority sister of Wyoming, Mich., and Martha Wall of Beck Road. Matron of honor and bridesmaids wore floor length gowns of ruby velvet, trimmed in matching satin, styled with empire waists and elbow length sleeves. Head pieces were of matching satin and velvet. The bridesmaids carried lace edged nosegays of white mums and red sweetheart roses.

Flowergirl was Kevie Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brown, Ann St., wore a white organza over satin A-line floor length gown with cap sleeves and a sash of ruby velvet. She carried a miniature nosegay. Her headpiece was a crown of red and white sweetheart roses.

James Jensen, of Plymouth, served as best man. Ushers were Paul Heydenburg of Midland, Richard Schryer, Robert Smith, Mark Fischer and Gerald Wallace of Plymouth.

David Nelson, brother-in-law of the groom sang "One Hand - One Heart," and the "Lord's Prayer." Dr. John Flower of the University of Michigan was organist. Rev. Hugh Clifford White and Rev. Sanford P. Burr performed the ceremony.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. North chose a lotus green floor length gown. Mrs. West wore a silver blue floor length gown. Both wore white accessories and carried orchids.

Some 300 guests from Plymouth, Saginaw, other Michigan cities, Iowa and Ohio attended the church reception. The punch bowl was presided over by Barbara Utter and Beth Weidman, was of lighted candle ice accented by wedding bells and poinsettias.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Roberts of Farmington attended the guest book. The brides' table, arranged by Mrs. A. D. Johanson, featured a five tier wedding cake, decorated with red and white roses and soft candle glow. Mrs. Kenn Loomis of Farmington and Mrs. Johanson poured.

The couple left for a short honeymoon, then to Kalamazoo to start housekeeping at Western Michigan University, where both are juniors. The bride is affiliated with Chi Omega sorority and the groom with Phi Kappa Tau fraternity.

MRS. ANDREJS KRUKLITIS

Selle-Krukklitis Wed In Evening Ceremony

Kay Sandra Selle became the bride of Andrejs Krukklitis Dec. 28 in an evening ceremony in St. Peter's Lutheran Church in Plymouth. The Rev. Norman Berg performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Selle of Plymouth. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Karlis Krukklitis of Plymouth.

The bride was gowned in white silk peau de soie blended with Alencon lace. Pearl tracery frosted the rose patterned lace on the midlength sleeves and bordered the hem of the skirt, which flared with backswept fullness to a court train. A matching circlet of jeweled lace caught her bouffant veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade of gardenias and ivy.

Mrs. James Standu, of Cincinnati, O. was matron of honor. Julie Smith of Franklin; Mrs. Charles Young of Coldwater, and Barbara Krukklitis, sister of the groom, were attendants.

The four attendants wore floor length gowns of red velvet with a white brocade bodice. They carried bouquets of white mums and holly and wore matching red velvet Dior bows in their hair.

The bride's mother chose a floor length gown of French blue crepe and brocade. She wore matching accessories and a gardenia corsage.

The groom's mother wore a floor length gown of green brocade. She wore matching accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Dale Gulbrandsen was the best man. Seating the guests were ushers: Jay Selle, Scott

Soth, William Schmidt and Bernie Kutchinski.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Following the wedding a reception for over 200 guests was held at the Mayflower Meeting House.

The bride's going away outfit was a red knit suit. Following a wedding trip to California the couple will make their future home in Plymouth.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Andrej Krukklitis are graduates of Michigan State University.

Reveal Troth

Mr. and Mrs. Mearl McLaughlin, announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen M. to Max L. Bidwell, son of Mrs. John Bidwell and the late John Bidwell, of Brighton.

The bride-elect is a recent graduate of Farmington High School.

The prospective bridegroom attends Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo.

An August wedding is planned.

Don't Repeat

If you like furniture in deep colored, richly patterned hardwoods, don't make them disappear in the room by repeating the same type of wood for wall surfaces. Instead, set off your cherished pieces with a wall that accents by contrasting color and texture. Paneling in vertical grain, champagne colored western hemlock is one recommended choice.

686 Frozen Food Items Available in Most Stores

How big is your refrigerator-freezer? Large enough to store all the frozen food you want?

If you're short on freezer space, consider the problem of your local market. One large food chain reports it stocks 686 frozen food items, 529 of them appearing in display cases in all stores. Even this represents only 24 percent of the 2,823 items available to the average supermarket.

Of these 686 items, vegetables accounted for 36 percent; juices, 22 percent; entrees and pizzas, 11 percent; dinners, 11 percent; seafoods, meat and poultry, 10 percent; ice cream 5 percent; fruits, 3 percent, and miscellaneous items, 2 percent.

The great increase in the number of frozen foods is one of the reasons why more than half the refrigerator-freezers sold today contain 14 cubic feet of storage space or more. Ten years ago, the average size was eight cubic feet, with little or no true freezer space.

Santa Visits Senior Citizens In Livonia

Seated at circular tables attending the seventh annual Christmas dinner of the Pioneer Club of Livonia Senior Citizens were 148 members and guests. It was held in Roma Hall, Livonia, on Wednesday, Dec. 15. The Christmas Committee was chaired by Mrs. Mary Spitz.

Activities included games by the members, a violin solo by president Arthur Schett. Selected Christmas carols by the Madonna Choir directed by Sister Paulet, highlighted the festivities.

The hostess was responsible for the unique table decorations which were cans of coffee topped with flowers and centered with a candle which were later used for table prizes. Mrs. Santa Claus, properly attired, was really Mrs. Mary Findley, sister of two of the members. Mrs. Claus handed out the gifts to the winners. A very special prize was a hand made rug by Mrs. Perby won by Mrs. Petrie. Honored guests introduced by the president were Mayor Har-

Grandpa Comes To Visit And Is Put to Work

When Mr. and Mrs. John B. MacKay left Ormond Beach, Fla. to spend the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. James MacKay of Farmington they expected to have a quiet visit.

Suddenly the senior MacKay was drafted out of retirement. And on Christmas Eve he will visit Canterbury Commons children . . . including his own grandson, Roddy, on Foxgrove Road.

Commented the senior Mrs. MacKay, "Grandpa's having so much fun, it looks like he's going to want to be Santa every year during our annual holiday visit to Michigan."

F'ton Kiwanis To Distribute Toys to 220

Some 200 children will have a brighter Christmas in the area thanks to the efforts of the Farmington Kiwanis Club.

Kiwanians spent Sunday afternoon packaging the gifts, which will be distributed to about 50 families, at the National Bank of Detroit Kendallwood Branch.

Gifts were obtained through the collection of trading stamps gathered in cooperation with radio station WXYZ. The presents are being distributed this week.

ROBERT SCHROEDER receives his certificate from Farmington Township Clerk Floyd A. Cairns for completing the 12 week Medical Emergency Training Course. Betty Best, coordinator of the program for the south end of the area, stands to the left of Cairns. A total of 29 individuals from throughout the area completed the training program.

Farmington, Socially Speaking

THIS IS THE WEEK THAT WAS, holiday speaking. Parties, parties, parties are still on and will be well into the month of January.

THE HAL MCDAVIDS of A-ranel held their annual Continental Breakfast, Sunday, Dec. 26. Either before or after a busy Sunday nearly 75 people dropped by the McDavids gaily decorated home for fruit punch, black coffee with whipped cream, and French breakfast pastries. This year something new had been added, a "do it yourself hot appetizer" grill. This was a Christmas gift to the McDavids and they put it to prompt use by inviting the guests to grill their own sausages, etc.

MRS. ARTHUR YOSS, of Glenn Orchard enjoys the reputation of a fine hostess and she does much entertaining between that she does for her husband, Rev. Yoss, and her duties with the Valpo Alumni Guild. Last week Mrs. Yoss had her annual Christmas luncheon and introduced her guests to a new treat of her own invention, which she has christened, "Surprise Sandwich". This is composed of a first layer of toast, topped with sliced chicken, shredded crisp bacon, sharp cheese, and all other manner of tasty items that gave the dish its name. Incidentally, the Yoss family will entertain their son Rev. Schroeder and his family for a visit starting New Years Day.

MARY CHECKETTS of Old Homestead Subdivision will take time off from party planning and attend the Rose Bowl game with her husband. The Checketts intend to make this once in a lifetime occasion and have planned a raft of festivities to celebrate the event. Both Checketts are graduates of MSU and are going with a group of alumni from MSU: New Years Eve will find them at the Biltmore banquet with many Michigan celebrities on hand including Governor Romney. Also on hand will be many big name stars from stage and screen. Mary has promised to call us on her return and share some of her experiences with us.

GUESTS RAVED ABOUT food at the Open House of the Luifi Martins on Biddlestone. As a welcome diversion from turkey and ham, Christine prepared a menu of Italian specialties including Lasagne. The item that got the big hand, though, was her famous cheesecake which includes among other ingredients-creme de cocoa!

NEW YEARS EVE will find Norma Lee and George Bruner returning from Williamsport, Pa. for a gala New Years Celebration to take place at their home. And what better place than their gorgeous party room

Be thrifty—there's nothing more worthless than a reputation as a good spender.

Schools Grow and Expand During Year

By G. V. HARRISON
Superintendent, Farmington Schools

The Farmington Public Schools close the pages of the calendar on one of the most challenging years of a decade. Meeting these challenges of growth, expanding curriculum and finance has required the creative energies of a cross-section of community leaders — citizens, school board members, teachers, the press and school administrators.

High on the list of problems solved in 1965 was the successful bond and millage campaign in November when voters who went to the polls gave 4 to 1 approval to a $6,100,000 bond proposal that will enable the school district to continue orderly physical expansion to handle the rapid student population growth the district is experiencing.

The bond issue requested was the largest in the history of the present school district. The facilities it will provide will take care of basic building needs for the next five years.

Growth in numbers of students, teachers and facilities and growth in quality of curriculum continued to be the district's pattern in 1965. In 1964 the total student population in the system was 12,732. Twelve months later, we number 13,517 students.

To serve these young people academically, we've added 56 teachers to our professional staff. We've opened 85 more classrooms by completing the new Larkshire Elementary School and opening 24 additional classrooms at North Farmington High School, East Junior High and Bond and Middlebelt Elementary Schools.

Three exciting developments have been accomplished this past year in elementary education.

A curriculum in the New Mathematics was introduced in September to children in kindergarten through sixth grade. New textbooks in mathematics are in use and all Farmington teachers have had depth in-service training in the teaching of the New Math. Transitional material is being used with children who are meeting the New Math for the first time.

A second educational debut was the operation of a seven week Project Head Start this summer at William Grace School. The program was jointly financed by the federal government and the Farmington Public Schools.

In a pilot class, 24 of the district's pre-school children who needed a strengthened language background and a richer fund of experiences on which to build a successful start in school, met daily with a kindergarten teacher and two aides. The children received immunizations, dental and medical examinations — and in some cases dental and medical care.

One of the most extensive reading developments in our school system was launched last spring with the appointment of a reading specialist. A dramatic service the specialist has rendered is the screening of all third grade children to determine their individual reading levels. The results of testing the 1,142 children has been compiled so that teachers may make more realistic expectations of the children according to their individual needs.

Our secondary schools graduated 639 students in June. Some of our graduates went on to higher education. Both of our high schools are accredited by the North Central Association of Schools and Colleges.

The Cooperative Training Program—a work-study opportunity for selected high school seniors was expanded to include coordinators for technical and industrial training and for retailing and office training. Enrollment in this program is almost five times as high as it was a year ago when the program was launched.

A major financial obligation was undertaken by the Board of Education last spring when improved salary schedules were adopted for both professional and non-certified staff members. The new schedule became effective with the current budget on July 1, 1965.

The starting salary for beginning teachers was raised $300. An improved scale for more experienced teachers reflected similar improvements. Thus the salary range for teachers in the Farmington Public Schools will be from $5,200 to $8,700. Educational specialists with maximum experience will receive $9,250.

Across the board improvements in minimum and maximum salaries for non-teaching personnel ranged to $200, a reflection on the present rising cost of living.

The year ahead will surely reflect and extend the challenges of 1965. Considerable progress has been made on the construction of a new elementary school. Plans are underway for a fourth junior high school, with citizen and teacher participation in the planning.

The schools can only do this in partnership with the community, so we'll endeavor to cherish and nurture this relationship as we have in the past.

Plymouth State Home Tells of Plans for Picnic Grounds

The Redford Association for Retarded Children recently saw slides and heard a talk by William Boyd concerning the Plymouth State Home.

He described their program of recreation including parties and fashion shows and plans for future work to be completed on the grounds included a pool, picnic grounds, recreation building and a lake.

The recent successful card party was greatly aided by the services of Girl Scout Troop 1157 headed by Troop Leaders Pat Hartsell and Shirley Mara. Girl Scouts attending were Diane Hartsell, Karen Monette, Judy Stonik, Kris Herbert, Pat Hickey, Ann Daugherty, Linda De Vas, Sandra Burlek, Shirley Mara and Joanne Cindric.

Mrs. Florence Grant reported on a committee meeting for the social "Just Fun" Club held at the Community Opportunity Center.

Arrangements have been formulated to increase the community area for the club to include Livonia, Plymouth, Farmington, Northville and Redford Township.

Officers chosen for the increased area group are Leonard Leudtke, chairman, and Mrs. Grant, secretary-treasurer.

Regulations were also set up to include membership cards at 10 cents and monthly dues of 25 cents; extra amounts will be charged for special trips. The recent hay ride enjoyed by all in spite of the rainy weather.

The meeting night was also changed to the third Friday of each month at 7:30 p.m. to meet at the Community Opportunity Center, 9901 Newburgh Road.

Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Grant, KE 3-5286.

The RARC voted to donate $300 to the Community Opportunity Center and it was presented to Ernie Moran, Director of the Center, by Al Priebe, President of RARC.

Priebe made the announcement that the Supervisors of the Cadillac Motor Sheet Metal Division had decided again this year to donate money to some worthy organization in place of cost of exchanging Christmas cards.

This year they chose to make their donation of $250 to the Community Opportunity Center and this check was also presented to Moran.

An Open House for parents was held on Dec. 15 at the newly-formed RARC Nursery room at Mason School. Since it was one little boy's birthday, his mother brought cup cakes and candles for the children. Each child received a bag of candy from Teachers Wanda Hudson and Shirley Austin who in turn, through Chairman Barbara Moore, received gifts from the children.

A gift from all the class was presented to their bus driver, Rex Kennedy.

Preparations are now underway for the Annual Dance to be held at Roma Hall on April 22. Tickets are available from members or by calling Shirley Austin, KE 3-2507.

The next meeting of the RARC will be Feb. 8 at the Beech Road School; 18499

Beech-Daly Road, at 8 p.m. and the second Tuesday each month through June.

Senate Unit Will Probe State Aid

The Special Senate Committee to study local, community and state functions and areas of state financial assistance to local communities, will hold a series of public hearings in the Metropolitan Detroit area.

The hearings are scheduled as follows: Jan. 6, Wyandotte City Hall; Jan. 7, Dearborn Heights City Hall; Jan. 11, Allen Park City Hall; and Jan. 10, Romulus Township Hall.

The study is being made at the suggestion of Mayor Jerome Cavanaugh of Detroit, who has been increasingly critical at the lack of state support for problems facing the suburban areas of the state.

State Senator Edward S. Robinson (Dearborn) said, "I hope this study will determine if there is any overlapping between current, local and state services, and whether the state should increase its financial contribution to specific services demanded of local governments."

Members of the Committee in addition to Senator Robinson, who serves as Chairman, are Senators: Roger E. Craig (Dearborn), John E. McCauley (Dearborn), Farrell E. Roberts (Dearborn).

Draft Board Calls 45 Men

New Year's greetings will be sent Monday to 45 Western Wayne County bachelors asking them to report Jan. 12 at Fort Wayne in Detroit for induction into the armed services.

On Jan. 14, 150 more will report for pre-induction physical examinations. This is 25 less than the 175 who received pre-induction physicals on Dec. 22.

Thurston Holds Senior Breakfast

By LYNN BARNETT
The annual Senior Breakfast was held Dec. 21.

The college orientation provided an opportunity for students to get a direct report from the campus of their choice.

They found out about dorm life, scholarship problems, courses, and many more helpful things.

It was not only an informative experience, but students were also able to say hello to all the '65 graduates who attended college.

About 150 alumni attended and most of Thurston's seniors. Jon Jacobs and John Knox, counselors at Thurston, have just completed a revision of a booklet that lists most of the two-year training programs in colleges throughout the state.

These training programs are generally two years in length, and train the student to work in a specialized area such as drafting, electronics, nursing, engineering technology, automotive technology, and secretarial science.

The Christmas issue of "The Eagle Outlook" was on sale Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 21 and 22. The 24-page issue, was printed in red and green.

The "Candy Cane Affair" took place Thursday, Dec. 23. The dance, sponsored by the sophomore class, was dressup to semiformal. Entertainment was provided by the John Kaye Ensemble.

Donate Stamps

By MADGE HILDEBRANDT
Fifty-five and one-half books of trading stamps were donated by Farmington High for the purpose of providing Christmas toys for needy children.

The campaign to collect trading stamps in the entire Detroit area was sponsored by the WXYZ radio station and the Kiwanis Club.

Greg Klech, FHS senior, organized the drive at the high school. He pasted multitudes of green, gold, red, and yellow stamps in their respective books and delivered them to the radio station over a two-week period before Christmas.

The French Club, of which Kelch is president, held a dime dance and charged an admission price of 20 stamps. The proceeds from the dance, 20 stamp books, were added to the FHS fund. A bake sale was held by the Student Council, and the money made was used to purchase what Kelch referred to as "two grocery bags full of canned goods" for the Goodfellows Drive. Fifty stamps were obtained with the purchase and contributed to the growing fund.

The WXYZ campaign closed Dec. 18 and the Kiwanis Club distributed the toys bought by the stamps to 12,000 underprivileged children.

The FHS Student Council is planning a Workday in conjunction with the student body. Two representatives from the North Farmington High council visited

F'ton Township Purchases Sirens

New alarm equipment will be purchased for the Farmington Township Volunteer Fire Department at a total cost of $1,280.50.

The equipment, manufactured by Plectron, includes eight notification devices, plus two small transistor alarm systems for the chiefs and a control mechanism to operate the new equipment.

Thief at School

Someone had an additional $31 to do Christmas shopping thanks to Joseph Himmelspach, of 33702 Oakland, Farmington. The only problem is that Himmelspach didn't intend to donate the money. He told Farmington Police that he placed his wallet in a locker at the Farmington Senior High Dec. 20. When he returned he discovered that someone had gotten into the locker and removed $31 from his wallet.

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

PICTURE TALK by Les Wilson

It's Buy-Yourself-A-Gift-Week

Anybody with any luck has a relative who sent money for Christmas. Before you fritter it away on frivolities, we'd like to suggest a way to use it which will return dividends to you and your family and the nice person who sent the money, for years to come.

There's only one thing we know of that will do all that, and it takes pictures. Wouldn't pictures of your family be a wonderful way to say thanks for the money? And wouldn't pictures of all your family fun be lasting fun for all?

Sure, you've got a camera. But does it take sharp, clear pictures every time, and do it as easily as the amazing new models that are out now? KODAK INSTAMATIC Cameras, for instance. It wasn't enough that you dropped in the film to load them, which made picture-taking faster and simpler and surer than ever before. Now they've got a whole new line of them that take four flash pictures without bulb changing. Even that wasn't enough. Kodak adapted the instant-loading idea to movie cameras. And now you get bigger, brighter, sharper movies, and more easily than ever before. They're called KODAK INSTAMATIC Movie Cameras.

You say you got one for Christmas? Well, how about a projector for your slides or movies? They're new and better too. Well, even if you also received all the handy photo aids there are, and that's saying quite a lot, you can't say you have enough film. Nobody ever has enough film. Why not use that Christmas money to stock up on an enough film so that you'll never have to skimp, and miss a wonderful shot.

The Power To Tax

As we prepare to enter the New Year it would not be amiss to remind ourselves that:
• You can't have your cake and eat it, too.
• He must pay the fiddler who would dance, and
• The power to tax is the power to destroy.

more than the 9-mill tax would amount to for the average property-owner.
The power to tax...
Although the federal government lowered the income tax it has failed to balance the budget.

Meet Schimpke Of Schoolcraft Road

In a world where individualism is all too rare, there is a man in Livonia who stands out for his dedication.
He is a man of action and his dynamic personality has built his corporation into a world-wide organization dedicated to development of new methods for air and water pollution control.

Schimpke

matic handling equipment and special machines.
The main plant is in Livonia. There are offices in Chicago, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Croydon, England; Paris, France; Köln, Germany; Windsor, Ontario and Mexico City, Mexico.
For years Mr. Schimpke has been aware of the growing need to control and eliminate air and water pollution.

Centri-Spray Corporation is a pioneer in the development of air and water pollution control equipment with its dust and chemical fume collecting systems described as the most efficient in the industry.

It is no doubt that Centri-Spray people work hard at setting the standards high for air pollution, which in turn will benefit their business.
The important thing, however, is that there is one man — motivated by a moving desire to improve his country, his state, his community.

Leave This To Administration

Are the Farmington Public Schools doing enough for their scholars? We think so. But, one member of the Board of Education doesn't agree.

sidetracked and muddled with programs, ideas and plans that they no longer should be concerned with. When they were a tiny school district, a finger in every pot might have been a good philosophy. But, this no longer can be practiced.

After a review of the high schools' policy for honoring high scholarship, Board Trustee Herbert Neal took objection. Other Board members, seemingly content with the existing policy, asked him to prepare a list of suggestions for more honors. He did and they were presented in detail at the next meeting. No action was taken and the matter was tabled pending further study.

Two prime examples are this business of scholarship and the recent discussions over the teachers' decision to take on a Tax Sheltered Annuities policy.
Seems to us that with no complaints on hand and an up-to-date review of the policy before the Board, the scholarship honor program is an administrative responsibility.

So it should be. No action is required. The two high school principals indicated that parents and students alike were satisfied with the system of honoring scholastic achievement.

These are only two examples of Board involvement in matters they can't be tending to if they are going to run an efficient, large school system. Both Mr. Neal and Mr. Clifford should be commended for their concern.

King Merger Is Dead

Place a member of the Michigan Education Association and Michigan Federation of Teachers in the same room and usually an endless debate will ensue on how a professional teacher should behave.

which allows public employees to appeal to the State Labor Mediation Board to conduct an election for sole bargaining rights.
This is unfortunate because the issues in dispute between the two organizations will remain in spite of Act 239. The dispute actually involves definition of terms, such as "strikes" and "sanctions," and could have been resolved easily.

THE READER SPEAKS UP: Wants School Buses

Editor:
I wonder how many people went to the polls in South Redford and voted the millage in on the strength of restoration of bus service only to find on Thursday that there were no busses except for kindergartners?
Mr. Roe stated in the newspaper that we would go back two years in service. He was either mistaken or misquoted.

taxes these people pay and produce more "ghost towns" such as Sheldon Center seems to have become?
Will the "increase in city income" really compensate for the dissatisfaction among your friends and neighbors — to say nothing of votes lost to the present administration?

want our government office all over run properly. Let's do this today. Our buses could be run properly if drivers punch in before leaving the yards; and leave with time for the trip, to its school and wait there, no longer than seven minutes. Why should we pay for a dozen coaches to stand around making smog for 15 or more minutes.

Vandals A Problem

Editor:
I am a Livonia contractor and have recently erected three commercial buildings for lease.
Vandals, in a few short weeks, have broken large plate windows for the second time.
The disgusting element in my mind is the end result.
Insurance rates must certainly continue to increase. Taxes are soaring as our municipalities attempt to cope with malicious destruction.

If this re-zoning goes through there will be many of us who will not wait around for all the inconveniences, dirt and lower property values. By tabling this resolution until the complete plan is available, the council may hope for re-election. However, if it is passed then, we will only dig the knives from our backs and wait... our chance is bound to come!

to basic training are dead. They didn't have the opportunity to enjoy the extra training I'm getting and at that time I considered them mixed-up children. No one can deny them their manhood now, but in proving themselves worthy as men, they were deprived of their right to live and reap the benefits of their sacrifice.

Faith Of A Boy

Editor:
On Christmas Eve my little son had not seen Santa. No matter where we took him Santa was for some reason not in.

Ed. Note: To answer briefly — the proposed department store would bring into Livonia a three million dollar tax base — sorely needed in view of the schools asking for an additional 9 mills and another $9 million to build another high school for the school children that are presently living here — not for those you propose to move to Schoolcraft and Farmington.

As officers, we must be capable of facing reality with unwavering stability for after all we are going to be sending men to die in less than a year. I imagine it won't be easy for me to sit down and write the parents of a man I knew only by his last thrust for glory that he was killed on Christmas Eve in a teeming jungle ditch.

Against K-Mart

Editor:
Whoever wrote your articles last week in regard to rezoning the parcel of land at Schoolcraft and Farmington must be sitting in a safe, side-line position where their home is not threatened by this invasion of big-time commerce.
What do you have against "more homes?" Homes, not industry alone, have made Livonia what it is today.

Time Clocks?

Editor:
While we're on the subject of the board of education, what I'd like to know is why don't we have time cards, and time clocks so we can account for governmental funds spent exactly?
The smallest check should be paid from a time clock, card punched. Why doesn't our government officials see that this is done today?

Observing the Scene...

By MYRA CHANDLER

A column is a personal thing. Each week as a columnist pours out his heart he builds up an image of the readers with whom he has a rapport.

For some reason my column has always been a source of strength to me in my ever-changing pattern of life. A place to spill it, unburden, be glad, get mad, release the tensions and engrams.

One year ago there were grave doubts in my mind as to my capabilities to carry on without my husband and publisher of the paper after his death Dec. 12.

Through team effort the paper managed, as Paul always predicted, to grow and prosper. "Any of us could be hit by a Chinese streetcar and The Observers would carry on by their own momentum," he used to say.

There does come a time in the life of a newspaper, however, when you either strengthen and grow, or remain in the status quo, and thus, in effect, eventually slide backward.

This must not happen to the strong voice of The Observer Newspaper Group. The well-earned reputation for honest and fearless journalism must continue, and must grow stronger.

He brings to The Observer a reputation, among reliable newspaper men, for honesty, honor and integrity. This is not his only advantage. For the first time, The Observer will have a strong working capital.

It is a thrilling thought to me — and a fine monument to Paul Chandler — for the future plans Philip Power has for the papers. And thus it takes the edge off any hesitant feelings I may have in relinquishing the challenge and responsibility of publishing the paper.

When Philip Power comes to this area as a working publisher this spring I look forward to a new and dynamic era for our communities. I think he will bring a fresh viewpoint to government and new leadership to our areas, and that he will be stimulating and exciting.

It is my wish for the New Year that my friends in the community will give the same loyalty and interest to the new publisher as I have enjoyed and that my enemies will be just as wary.

Plans Change
(Thirty seconds of reading that might give you an insight how another son, another family spent their Christmas.)

Fort Gordon
Dear Folks,
I have some bad news for you and there is no way of breaking it softly.

Our morale was lower than it has ever been. On that day we grieved and moaned but by the next morning it was all behind us.

And so we find a newer philosophy and a broader concept of Christmas.

ESTHER AND JIM

The Governor On Viet Nam

It's good to be back in Michigan again and to resume my weekly visits with you.

I was privileged to spend nearly three weeks in the Far East with nine other Governors at the invitation of the Japanese government and our own State Department.

The few days I spent in the Republic of Vietnam gave me the opportunity to visit personally with several hundred of the thousands of Michigan men who are risking their lives there in the cause of world freedom.

Man's most precious gift, aside from life itself, is the right to live according to the dictates of his own conscience and make his own choices.

War is horrible. We all yearn for peace, as most people do.

Observer Readers 'Speak Up' on Issues of the Day

Editor:
Are you a quiet citizen? Do you take fire protection for granted? Well it's time the quiet citizens of this city start to worry. We lost a fire station almost two years ago at 5 Mile and Farmington that has not yet been replaced. (I live in this unprotected part of Livonia and I know how long it would take the Fire Dept. to respond to a run in this vicinity.) It only stands to reason that if we had a station at 5 Mile and Farmington in 1964 we still need this station today, not to mention the new stations for better protection that should be necessary for a city of this size. The people have two less fire engines at their disposal and I don't think the people realize the many experienced firefighters that have left their positions for decent wages in order to get ahead instead of existing from pay to pay.

Has your Mayor helped the people of this city concerning fire protection? Watch your fire insurance, citizens. The quiet in you might rise to a boil, and you have no one to blame but yourselves. You did vote in the last election, didn't you?

The Mayor of this city and Public Safety Director, Mr. Labo, have done nothing to try to improve the above conditions in the fire department. They have, however, tried to harass the fire department by their consolidation program which the council has temporarily put a stop to. There is also a disparity pay between police and fire departments. A fireman's top pay is $200 lower than a policeman's starting pay. Equality in firemen and policemen wages has just recently changed. Does the mayor feel the policemen deserve an increase in pay? Could this be the result of the friendship between a candidate for Mayor and a police department in the previous election.

The firemen of this city have tried for you as well as for themselves to better their department. They want more men and equipment and new stations for your protection. All this won't make it easier for firemen; it will be for the protection of you the citizens of Livonia. Help your community and the fire department. Call your Mayor, Mr. Moelke and demand the answers you deserve as a taxpayer of Livonia.

Critical of Mayor
Editor:
Political brainwashing is the art of showing that a candidate is suitable for public office, when actually he is not. This art, also, can distort facts or figures in order to cover an inability to produce needed work or services while in office.

Politicians lie about each other as candidates; they lie about what they will accomplish while in office; and they place the spotlight on someone else when they fail.

Mayor Moelke's relentless campaign against Livonia Firemen is a perfect example. The Mayor uses his powerful office and the voice of the newspaper to batter a small city group which has neither the right to strike nor the right to air its political opinions. However, in the months to come, it is certain that the voters of our city will end this one-sided battle. Because Mayor Moelke's campaign promises still ring clear and are remembered.

Our Mayor promised tax cuts while running for office, but presented the taxpayers with increased home assessment, industrial development taxes, a lowered General Motor tax.

A one mill police tax, and a request for doubling our present millage or an income tax. He is a failure and the blame is being placed on the shoulders of the lowly, beaten Fireman. For his benefit, I offer the following points of interest.

1. Any worker with problems similar to Fire Department problems would have been on strike long ago. State law denies him this privilege.

2. Fire Department regulations violate state laws.

3. Men who work hazardous jobs are given premium pay. The fireman has the second most hazardous job, according to government survey, but is paid less than policemen.

4. Every call to the Fire Department is an emergency situation, while the majority of police calls are routine.

5. The fireman is on standby while at home but is not paid when called in for extra duty.

6. The fireman is away from home 122 days per year, while the policeman goes home every day, 365 days per year.

7. The fireman is on duty 24 hours; the policeman, 8 hours.

8. Firemen are on duty 2912 hours per year, while police are on duty 2080 hours per year.

9. Firemen are paid $2.28 per hour; policemen $3.56 per hour.

The Mayor has our firefighters under such pressure that I am amazed when they report for duty. It is no wonder that the policemen and firemen did not wish to combine duties.

People of Livonia, how long will you allow these conditions to exist? Call or write the Mayor — now ask for answers and better government.

Goodfellows of F'ton
Editor:
Once again the Farmington Goodfellows have accomplished their goal of "No Child in Farmington Without A Christmas." A total of 174 Food Baskets, 115 boxes of Toys and food, clothing and toy checks amounting to over $2,100.00 were distributed to 127 families which included 562 children in the Farmington community.

The names of 181 families were turned into the Goodfellows this year and every family was investigated personally to ascertain first, if help was needed and secondly, which areas these families could best be served. Fifty-four of these families either refused help themselves or did not qualify because there were no children, or in the opinion of the investigators their needs were not sufficient to merit help.

To mention the names of all the groups and individuals who made this effort possible would be most impractical. No matter how long the list might be, someone would surely be inadvertently omitted. Those who participated know in their own hearts, and recognition for their efforts comes from that feeling down deep within that they have made this a Merrier Christmas for someone much less fortunate than themselves.

JOHN H. RICHARDSON, DVM.
Goodfellow Chairman, 1965

who are rushed in, seen, charged and then the family is told to take them elsewhere "because we don't admit intoxication or suicide."

Put The Observer behind this real and important problem and the people who want to integrate can move elsewhere. Maybe then you won't have to give this paper away. It will be worth 10 cents.

Ed. Note: Changes in our way of living are extremely difficult for some people to adjust to — particularly when they involve social reform. It was not The Observer's idea to transport the first negro to the United States as a slave — subsequently we have not been instigators of legislation to upgrade or free them although heartily approve. Likewise Mrs. Palmer is just as uninformed about the "private" hospital in Livonia (no doubt referring to St. Mary) the new addition is a wellstaffed, well maintained emergency unit. Ad equate — no! But perhaps Mrs. Palmer would be interested in joining other citizens in a financial drive to further increase the hospital facilities. Like schools, government services, postal service — the people are moving in faster than can comfortably be serviced. Credit should be given all agencies for attempting to do so.

A Soldier Replies
Editor:
I am one of many who sent Christmas cards to our soldiers in Vietnam.

The other day I received a letter from one of them and I would like you and everyone to read it:

"Dear Mrs. Oberndorf:
I was one of the G.I.'s who received letters and cards sent to Vietnam expressing support for us.

I know you weren't expecting an answer, but I felt the least

I could do is answer and tell you that your prayers, support and Christmas cards are most welcome. Do not forget to include in your prayers that the sacrifices being made by so many of our men here will not be made again by our younger generations at a future time. This, I think, is the most important reason for us being here.

Once again I thank you and may God bless and watch over you all.

Respectfully yours,
Sgt. Luther M. Rood
Bien Hoa, Vietnam."

On Dec. 1 you ran the item I had sent in giving the address of where people could write to these men. I can't tell you how thrilled I was that this soldier took the time to write. Thank you very much.

Slow Delivery
Editor:
Isn't there anything that can be done about the slow mail service in Livonia? Specifically I am referring to magazines, advertisements, and literature that are not first class pieces of mail. Understandably these items do not receive the same attention as first class mail, but does this mean that they should be delayed one to two weeks and longer?

Many times we have received advertisements the day after the sale ended. Today we received an advertisement from a hardware store in Dearborn that expired Dec. 8—one week ago.

It was mailed 10 days before that.

This store sends these advertisements periodically and it is one that we have requested.

It has our complete name and address on the label.

I wonder if the merchants who are paying for the postage (not to mention the paper and printing) have ever wondered why they did not get a good response to their advertising. My advice to them is: to advertise in the newspaper if you want to be sure it is delivered to the customer.

Or maybe someone at the post office has a better answer?

On 89th Congress
Editor:
From the embittered dispute over who discovered America, one might find that the voyage of Columbus was not altogether unlike that of our Great Society's 89th Congress.

In both ventures, the explorers set sail in the wrong direction, lost their way during a storm, thought they were somewhere else at journey's end and did it all on borrowed money.

As members of the C.F.M. (Christian Family Movement) of St. Michael's Church in Livonia, we wish to go on record in support of the Jewish families living in our city and/or any other racial or religious minority group already in our midst or planning to find a home here.

We are prompted to write by the recent outbreaks of anti-semitic vandalism in some sections of Livonia, which we deplore as abominable and as first-rate examples of "man's inhumanity to man."

It is our belief that "white Christians" are not doing other ethnic groups a favor by allowing them to live with us — rather they are the ones who are helping us, because if, God forbid, we remain exclusive and bigoted in our age when enlightenment is such a grand possibility, there is little hope for us.

Livonia Symphony?
Editor:
Being a neighbor of yours in Coventry as well as in the City of Livonia, and also being an admirer of your late husband whom I now wish I had known better, I am moved to bother you with some of my thoughts.

I am not aware of the source of the word Livonia. In my humble estimation, it could lend itself as a title to a lovely symphony. Which further inclines me to think what a beautiful symphony it would be if all of the responsible people in our City government would work together in harmony.

You have my permission if you wish to print this in your Public Letter Box.

Wishing you continued success in your efforts to bring to the people of this fair City the news as it happens, I am

Human Rights
Editor:
I have just read the Observer Editorial on "Human Rights." Now I know why they don't charge for this paper. What does the line "I've got news for you — Negroes are coming" mean? Does the Editor have a little private dictatorship, or do the people here have some say — such as the ballot to say how their tax money shall be spent?

Who is buying the Negro dolls and teaching aids for the Livonia kindergartens? Why can't a majority who moved here for obvious reasons have something to say? What motivates people who insist on forcing integration? Why must these people insist on destroying the quiet peace which we are paying so dearly for?

If you need a cause which will truly benefit the City of Livonia how about working on a decent public hospital with adequate emergency care?

We are 90,000 people with no where to go but a private hospital that is running an emergency room known commonly as the "slaughter house." If you want to find an issue how about those who wait for hours only to be seen by one lonely intern or to those who have such serious injuries that the one intern doesn't know what to do. What about those alcoholics

COMMUNITY PROTECTION.. IS EVERYONE'S CIVIC DUTY

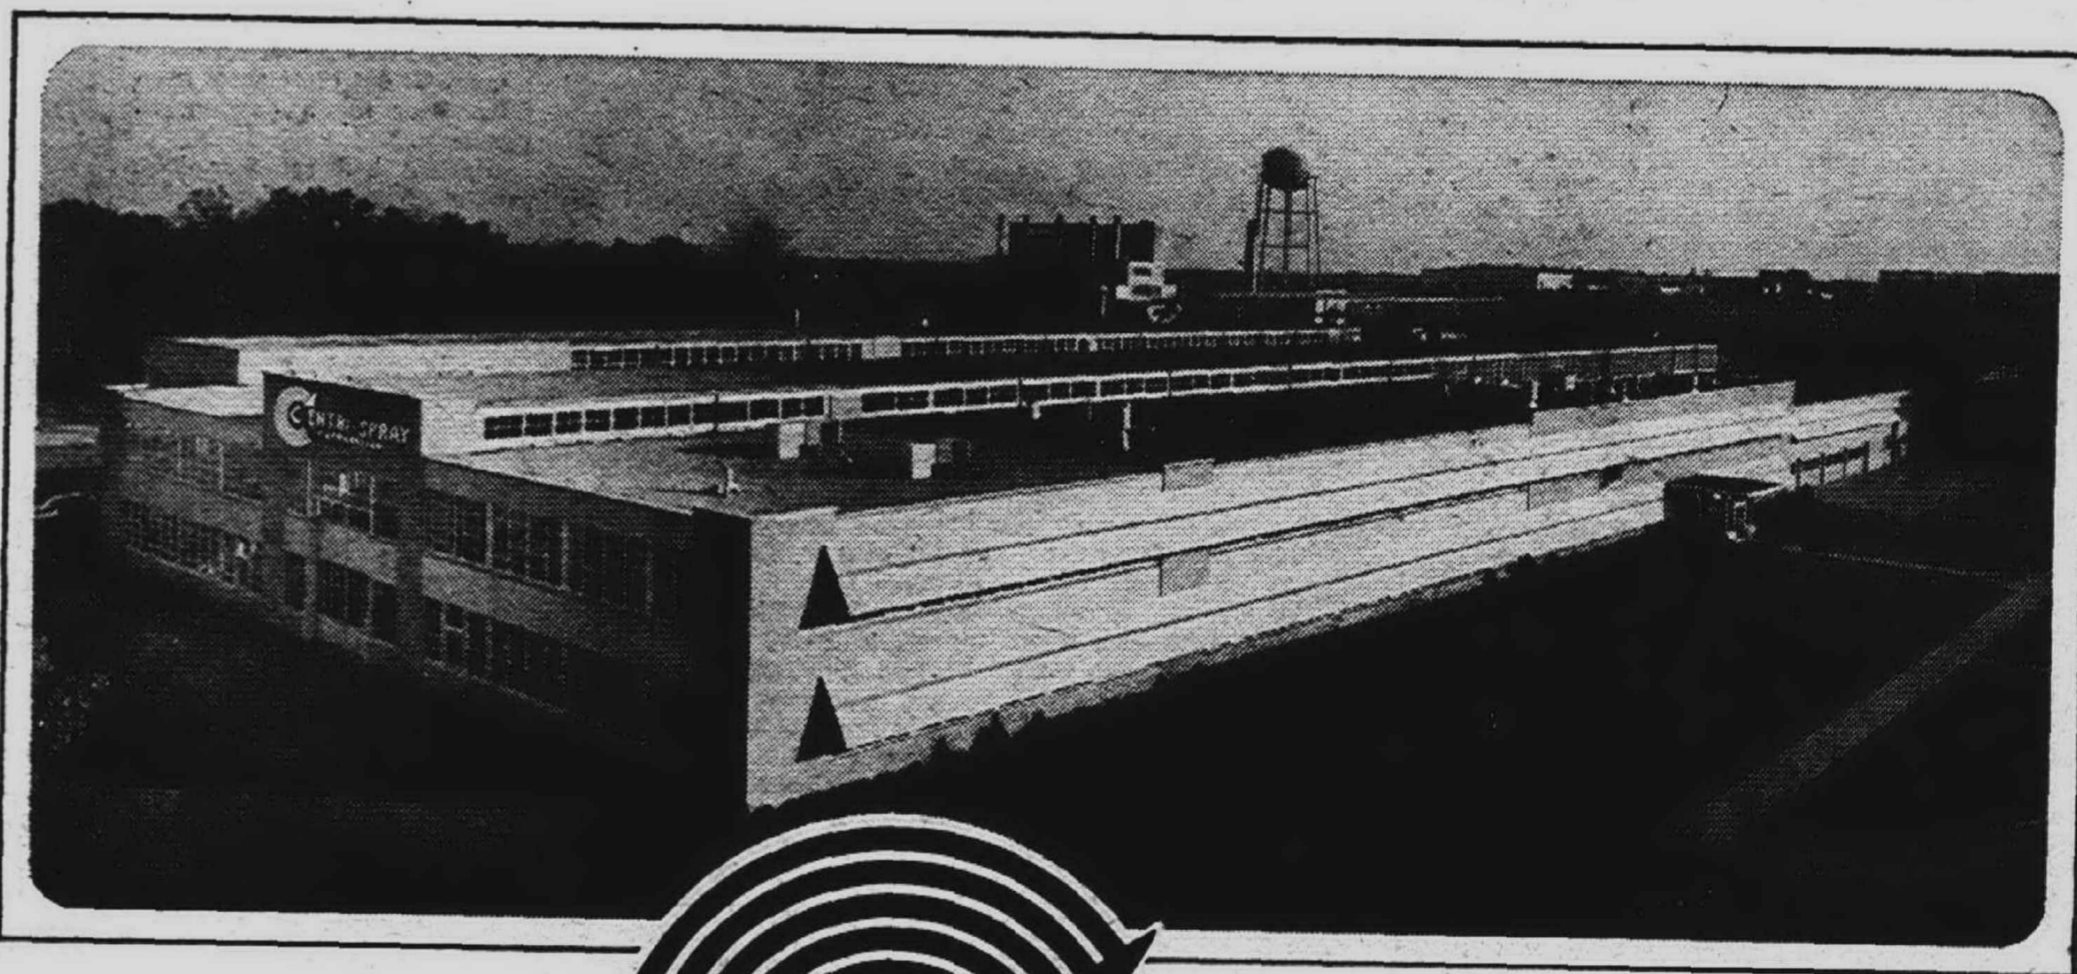

COMMUNITY PROTECTION what does this mean to you . . . as an individual . . . as a corporate official . . . as a business owner or a public facility administrator . . . It is Everyone's Civic Duty to do what he can to help and improve his community. At Centri-Spray Corporation, Community Protection means Air Pollution Control and Water Pollution Control. The Centri-Spray engineering and development staff are constantly seeking new methods of Air and Water Pollution Control, which will allow manufacturing processes to return pure, uncontaminated air to the atmosphere and prevent the release of undesirable waste materials to our lakes and streams. Water and Air are Every Community's most valuable natural resources, yet each day increased, uncontrolled, industrial and public use of these resources result in greater quantities of pollutants released to contaminate the air we breath and the water we drink.

Scientific studies are tracing many respiratory conditions to breathing of polluted air, also some industrial by-products and domestic materials in daily use are producing chemical compounds in our drinking water whose long term effects on health are questionable.

These conditions must be controlled for every Community's Welfare and Protection, and they can be controlled with proper application of Centri-Spray Dust and Chemical Fume Collecting Systems for specific industrial processes, or installation of Centri-Spray Liquid Recovery Equipment and Water Pollution Control Systems.

Set $2,500 Top Prize In Mixed Doubles

The New Year brings good news to area bowlers with the announcement that the top prize in the fourth annual Observer Newspaper-Merri-Bowl Lanes mixed doubles bowling tournament has been boosted to a guarantee of $2,500 from the $1,500 of a year ago. That was the announcement by Tournament Director Mac Goldman who stated the first three prizes for the 1966 tourney will be $2,500, $1,250 and $750—all guaranteed.

"This tournament has grown so fast in the past three years that we decided to boost the top three prizes and guarantee each," said Goldman. "We anticipate an entry of close to 2,000 this year and expect bowlers from as far west as Lansing and Kalamazoo, north to Saginaw and Bay City and south to Toledo and surrounding areas."

Goldman plans to have entry blanks available in another week and has set Feb. 5 as the opening date with the closing slated for May 29.

"Merri-Bowl Lanes will guarantee each of the top three prizes," Goldman said. "The remainder of the prize list will be broken down as in the past with all of the prize fee returned to competing bowlers."

The entry fee is $10 per couple of which $5 goes into the prize fund, $3.30 for bowling and $1.70 for tournament expenses.

"We paid 192 monies a year ago," said Goldman. "We expect to do even better this time since we anticipate the total entry will be almost double that of 1965. We have made one important change in the rules this year—no bowler will be allowed to compete more than once. In the past entrants could compete three times provided he or she had a different partner each time."

The tournament will be a handicap affair based on 70 per cent from 400 pins with a maximum of 120 pins per game based on the high average as of Dec. 31, 1965.

The averages must be based on a minimum of 21 games and if none is available for 1965, then the bowler may use the final average of the 1963-64 season.

All entrants must present their sanction cards at the time of bowling, either from the ABC or the WIBC. Any bowler who falsifies his average forfeits all rights to prize money. Prizes will be paid when averages of prize winners have been verified.

Goldman indicated that ABC and WIBC tournament play rules will apply in all instances not specifically covered by the rules listed on the entry blanks. The new rules also provide that employees of Merri-Bowl are not eligible to participate. The tournament will be held on the following dates:

SATURDAYS
February 5, 12, 19 and 26; March 5, 12, 19 and 26; April 2, 9, 16, 23 and 30; May 7, 14, 21 and 28.

SUNDAYS
February 6, 13, 20 and 27; March 6, 13, 20 and 27; April 3, 10, 17 and 24; May 1, 8, 15, 22 and 29.

Squads will take the lanes on the following time schedule: 11 a.m., 12:30 p.m., 2 p.m., 3:30 p.m., 5 p.m., 6:30 p.m., 8 p.m., 9:30 p.m. and 11 p.m.

GOING HIGH for a rebound is Ken Bowman (54) of Bentley as teammate Fred Matevia (44) and Frank Price (25) keep a close eye on the proceedings. Rouge's late rally ended Bentley's unbeaten streak at four games.

MSU Athletes Busy With Holiday Events

EAST LANSING—While the football team is out in the California and the student body is on vacation, many of Michigan State's winter sports athletes are hard at work preparing for upcoming seasons.

The wrestlers are working out prior to entering the Midlands tournament at LaGrange, Ill. Dec. 29-30. The grapplers are 3-0 thus far and hope to maintain their streak through the Big Ten meet early in March. Spartan lightweights Don Behm (130) and Dale Carr (137) both are unbeaten to pace the season thus far.

The MSU swim team under Coach Charles McCaffree is set for a full round of practice sessions through the vacation before getting back into live action at the Big Ten Relays on Jan. 8.

The splashers, with most of last year's fine team returning, have been ranked No. 5 in the nation by Swimming World magazine.

The experts also predict that

Rally by Rouge Beats Bentley

"There was nothing of which to be ashamed."

Coach George Fefles was talking after his Bentley High basketball team dropped a 77-72 decision to River Rouge, the State Class B champions for the last five years running.

"It was one of the best games we ever played at Bentley," explained Fefles. "Sure, I'd like to have won, but you can't fault your players when they do as well as they did against an opponent like Rouge."

Only a brilliant one-man effort by Frank Price saved the night for River Rouge in the battle of the unbeaten.

Bentley had carried a 4-0 record into the game. Rouge had won three straight.

With five minutes left in the game, Bentley led by 65-59 and appeared to be "in."

It was here that Price took over. He made two free throws before Bentley's Larry Grimm sank a basket to make it 67-61 with four minutes to go.

Then Price drilled in two from the outside and the Bentley lead was down to two points. After Fred Matevia eased the pain for Bentley with a basket, Price hit twice more, the second time with 2:17 left to knot the score at 69-69.

Moments later, a free throw by Bob Elsnor put Bentley in front, 70-69. The lead was shortlived.

Here was Price again. He tossed two more from 15-20 feet out and with a minute to go, Rouge held a 73-70 lead.

Bentley was by no means through. A long blast by Matevia put the Livonians within a point of the Rouge Panthers.

Then Bentley went into full press, but made the mistake of leaving Loren Pittman free under the hoop. A long pass to Pittman resulted in an easy basket and Price finished it up with two free throws.

Rouge had started the game by taking a 25-15 lead. But Bentley cut the deficit to 38-35 by halftime and they went ahead, 57-54, after three periods thanks to some fine shooting by Matevia.

Both teams pressed all over the court, although Bentley eased up in the second half when it ran into some foul trouble.

Price was the game's leading scorer with 31 points, getting 18 of them in the last quarter.

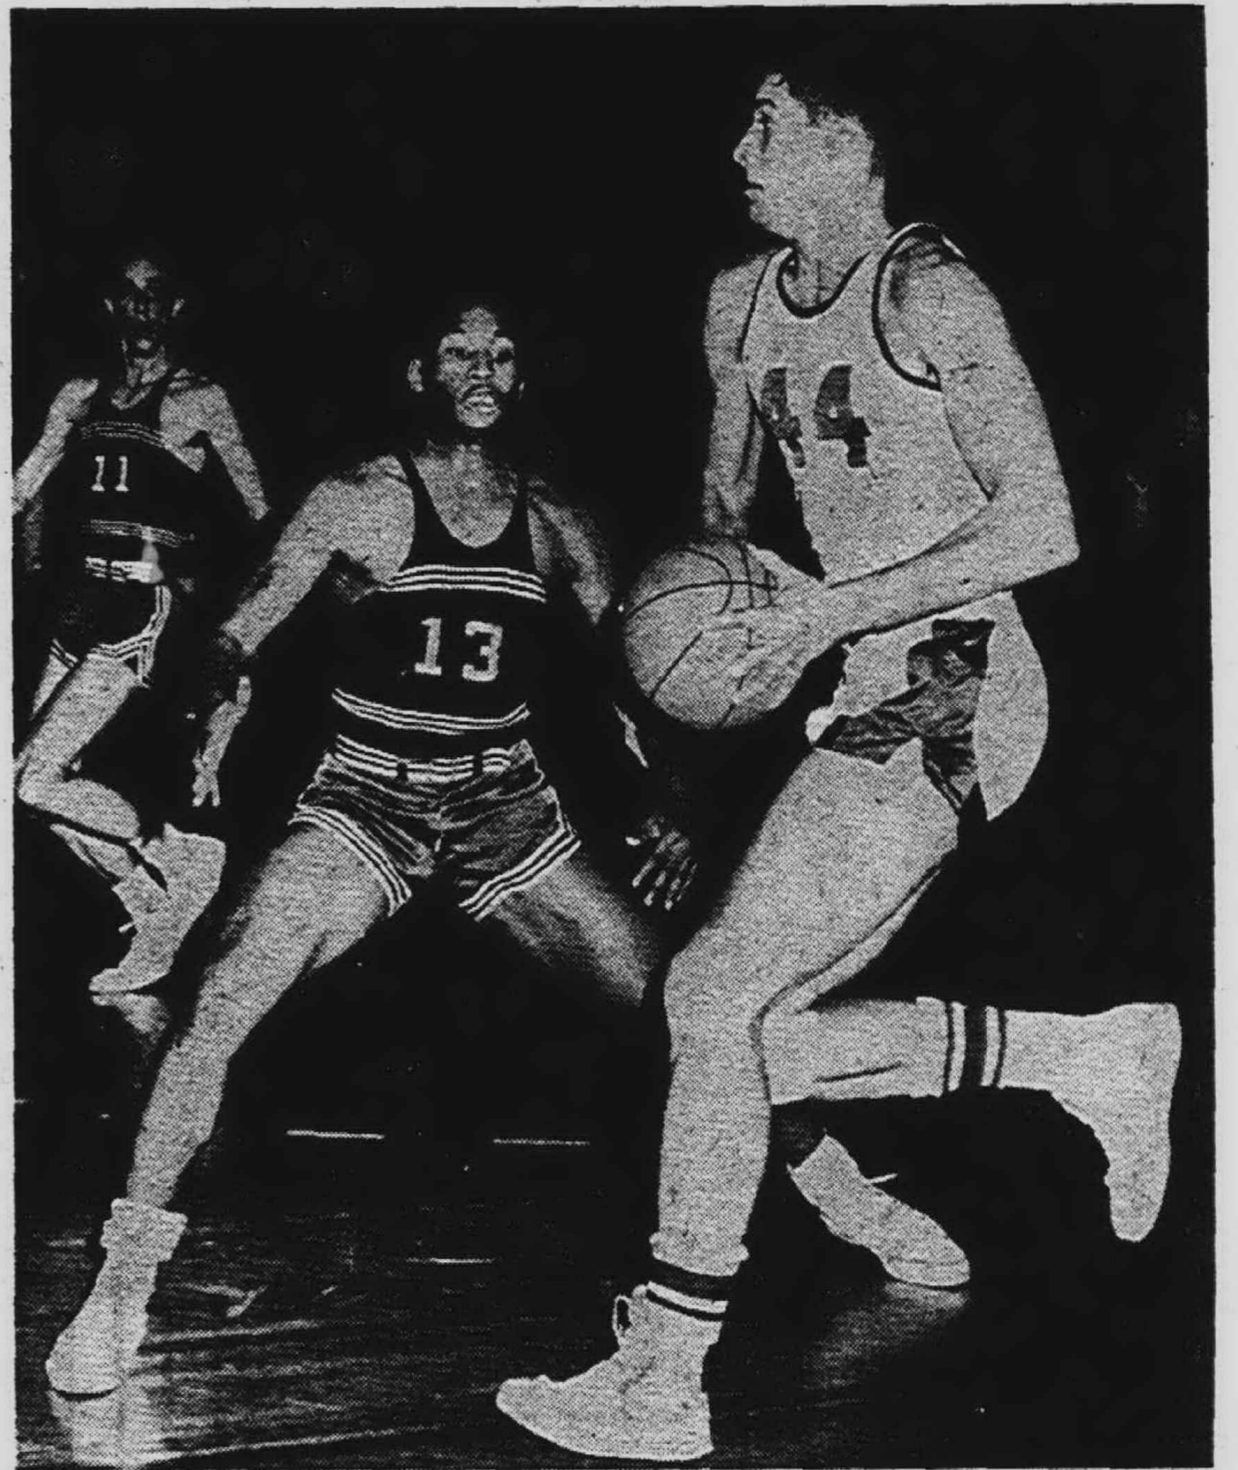

Matevia topped Bentley as he socked in 28 points on 12 baskets and four free throws.

Gary Faulks scored 13 points, Elsnor 12, Nick Bonder seven, Ken Bowman six and Grimm six.

The game was decided at the free-throw line. Bentley had a 29-27 edge in baskets, but Rouge canned 23 of 31 free throws while Bentley clicked on 14 of 24 chances.

The night was a happy one for the Bentley reserves who trimmed Rouge, 51-31.

Ken Bollin continued his fine play for the Bentley reserves by scoring 25 points on 12 baskets and a single foul toss.

"HOLD IT, FELLOW"—This would seem to be what River Rouge's Bennie Benford is tossed in 28 points to pace Bentley's attack, telling Bentley's Fred Matevia (44) who checks his dribble on the way to the basket.

TAKE 3RD BY TWO POINTS

Close Ones for Franklin

Is Franklin high school's basketball team stuck on the "two-point" theme?

Coach John Hartsig and his cagers had to be wondering as they wound up their 1965 phase of operations by nipping Dearborn Edsel Ford, 56-54.

It was Franklin's third straight victory after losing its opening game.

All of the Franklin triumphs have come by TWO POINTS.

"Better that we win by just a point than lose," declared Hartsig, "but it's pretty tough on a coach to have to endure so many close games."

"And, in a row, too."

Actually, the Edsel Ford victory just appeared close on paper.

With 3½ minutes left to play, Franklin was coasting along with an 11-point lead.

Edsel Ford went into a full-court press and started to foul.

"This is where we had our troubles," explained Hartsig. "We had all kinds of one and one situations from the free-throw line. We could have really built up a bigger lead, but we kept missing and they kept coming down with the ball and scoring."

Hartsig explained he would use the vacation practices to have his charges sharpen up their marksmanship from the charity line.

The game was close through the first half. Franklin led, 14-10, after one quarter and 26-24 at the intermission.

In the third period Ron Wicks struck with three baskets and a free throw and helped Franklin pull in front, 39-34.

From there with Al Jose and Paul Katosh hitting, the Franklin lead expanded until Ford's late surge almost brought the Dearborn team even.

Jose wound up with 19 points while Dale Lee scored 14 and Katosh had ten. Wicks turned in seven and Carl Gulbransen four.

Hartsig expressed satisfaction with the showing of Franklin since the season began.

"We're coming right along," he noted, "despite the fact we don't have much size."

Against Ford, Franklin made 23 out of 41 shots from the floor for a dazzling 55 percent.

Hartsig had set four interschool scrimmages for the holiday period. The regular schedule resumes next Tuesday against Romulus at Franklin.

On Jan. 7, Franklin faces Glenn in the resumption of Northwest League action. Franklin and Groves currently top the loop with 2-0 marks.

Thurston Cagers Whip R. Union

Round one in the battle of the Redford Township high school basketball teams for 1965-66 went to Thurston last Wednesday evening.

In a game, whose outcome never was in doubt, Thurston scooted past Redford Union, 84-68.

With Gary Knock and Don Block scoring six quick points and Reg Barringer and Randy Samelson adding four each, Thurston roared ahead, 23-15, by the end of the first quarter.

It was 44-29 at halftime and 62-50 by the end of the third period.

Thurston had a wide edge in the field goal department, making 34 for Redford Union's 23.

The lone RU advantage was at the charity line, where the North Townshipers canned 20 to 18 for its rival.

Knock and Barringer provided the big one-two punch for Thurston as they scored 23 and 19 points, respectively. Knock tossed in 10 baskets, plus three charities. Barringer had six hoops and seven free ones.

Samelson, Block and Bob Wardrop also wound up in double figures to cheer coach Mike Pasternak. Samelson tallied 13, Block 11 and Wardrop 10.

Leland Bjerke and Doug Moch carried the load for Redford Union with 22 points and 17, respectively.

"The rebounding hurt us," moaned Milo Karhu, the Redford Union coach.

Thurston also took the reserve game by a score of 68-35. The varsity box score:

West Fashions No. 3 In League Cage Play

If 1966 can just be like the end of 1965, you'll hear no complaints around Garden City West.

At least, when it comes to basketball.

Unheralded West finished the '65 portion of its Tri Rivers League schedule with a 3-0 record and tied for first with Southgate Schafer.

And, guess whom West meets a week from Friday night (Jan. 7) when the new SHORT HAPPINESS was the story for cheerleader Ann Friedrichs of Bentley high. Here she's jumping with joy as her team goes ahead of River Rouge. At the end, however, it was a victory for the downriver state champs.

year dawn in? Nobody else than Schaefer to decide the league leadership.

Some hearts must have stood still last Tuesday when West stormed from behind to knock off Lowrey, 79-78, in a wing-ding finish.

Ford Simpson emerged as the hero for West. With 11 seconds left on the clock, he slipped in a layup that lifted West from a 77-78 deficit to their winning margin on the scoreboard.

West is a team without much size. Bill Johnston at 6-3 is the team's "giant."

But Coach Al Krupa's cagers have speed and can work the fast break. They also know how to press the opposition when West goes on defense.

Against taller Lowrey, West knocked in 32 out of 71 shots for 45 per cent. But West received only 25 free-throw opportunities (making 15) to 41 attempts for Lowrey, which was able to notch only 20 of its free ones.

"That was a break for us," said Krupa, "when they missed so many free shots."

Krupa couldn't understand why his team was guilty of 30 fouls, but he didn't complain—you don't after you win.

West surged in front, 23-17, at the end of the first period when Bo Ardell got his team rolling with seven baskets.

Gary Slade drilled in four hoops in the second period to enable West to hold a 43-38 halftime edge.

Lowrey rallied to get even at 66-66 and then the score seasawed until Simpson delivered his winner.

Ardell with 11 baskets and one free throw for 23 points topped the winners. Slade followed with 18 and Simpson 13. Bob Gamsich tallied ten, Johnston five, George Domanski six and Jerry Thompson and Bruce Toward two each.

The West reserves had to battle into double overtime before registering an 81-77 victory. At one stage, West's reserves had led by 20 points.

Bill Merriman's basket proved the winner while Greg Confor took high honors for West by sinking 20 points.

Quarterback Steve Juday in 1965 received Michigan State's Ross Trophy awarded each year to the Spartan football player best combining athletic and scholastic ability.

Sorrows Falls To Lakers Five

It's a known fact that basketball players never shot better than the young men who presently play the game.

A classic example was last Tuesday's battle between Orchard Lake St. Mary's and Our Lady of Sorrows.

St. Mary's won, 99-75, to set scoring records.

The combined total of 174 points means that the teams scored better than five points every minute. Preps play 32-minute games.

The big quarter had to be the third. St. Mary's poured in 32 points, Sorrows 25 in an eight minute span.

"Everybody was hot, but they were just hotter," said Bob Morris, the Sorrows' coach.

The victors hit on 42 of their 84 shots . . . for an even 50 percent.

St. Mary's never was in trouble, taking a 21-12 lead after one quarter and holding a 46-28 edge at halftime.

Tim Doyle paced Sorrows with 26 points, making 11 baskets and four free throws. Right behind was Jerry Turner with eight hoops and nine charities for 25 points.

Mark Benner tallied seven, Paul Gunker five, Mark Christopher four and Brent Stoops four.

John Stepien tallied 32 for the winners.

St. Mary's also won the reserve game, 62-57.

OBSERVING SPORTS

By George Maskin

In something like 48 hours, the tune of Auld Lang Syne will send the year of 1965 into history. Some will welcome '65's departure... others will wish it could live on forever.

It's been a year, like all others, with its ups and downs. There have been high moments for us in sports... and some low ones.

This was the year when the chronicler of this effort saw his own No. 1 son stage perhaps the greatest comeback of all—after being a school dropout twice, making the most of it the next time he tried so that comes the month of June, graduation bells will toll.

But this also was the year when at 3 a.m. on a Tuesday morning in late September, the phone sounded. It was Sportswriter Jerry Green of the Detroit News on the other end.

"Have you heard?" a broken-voiced Green asked. "Heard, what?" we countered.

After a few seconds pause, Green spelled out the shocking news: Don Wattrick, the Pistons' executive manager and our immediate boss, had been stricken with a fatal heart attack an hour or so earlier and was dead on arrival at the hospital.

This seemed unbelievable. Just before we had retired before midnight, we had talked with Wattrick and he had said: "We've got some things to do tomorrow."

He never got to them...

Sports, nor the world, of course stops for any man as all of us so vividly recall two years back when a bullet snuffed out John Fitzgerald Kennedy in Dallas.

As they say on Broadway: "The Show Must Go On." It did.

More people saw sports events in Michigan... in the United States than ever before.

There was the end of the monopoly of the New York Yankees... the closing of a fabulous career for Casey Stengel... the brilliance of Sandy Koufax, especially on that night you picked up the broadcast when he was pitching a no-hitter.

The "tragedy" which befell the Baltimore Colts in losing both their quarterbacks... the departure from our local sports scene of a gent named Al Roscoe who did so much to promote baseball and other activities for teenagers...

There were the difficulties encountered by Jack Nicholas and Arnie Palmer in golf... the raps directed at Harry Gilmer and Milt Plum of the Lions... the perfect seasons enjoyed by Bentley and North Farmington in football... the reversal owner Fred Zollner of the Pistons suffered when the men he had helped most turned him down on his first bid to land Michigan's Cazzie Russell for 1966-67.

You remember sitting in Yankee Stadium and seeing Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris unable to leave the bench... and watching Al Kaline hobble through his paces at Tiger Stadium.

The hockey world went mad the night that Gordie Howe scored No. 600 of his career. It took awhile coming, but where in the world will you find a greater athlete than genial Gordie?

Horse racing flourished like never before. At the Detroit Race Course with its new clubhouse and other facilities records were set both in wagering and in crowds. It was the same way when the trotters held their season at Middlebelt and Schoolcraft.

Some very excellent men left the schoolboy coaching ranks in our area. We're thinking of Mike Hoben at Plymouth and John Hayes at Farmington High. To mention a few.

One could go on, reflecting and reminiscing... like the happiness that the Pistons experienced when they made Michigan's Bill Buntin their No. 1 draft pick in May... but just the other day Buntin was scratched from the active roster.

It's been customary that we end a year by listing what we consider the top sports stories. This time we have grouped 'em under two categories—the first dealing with the State of Michigan as a whole, the other with the area serviced by the ever-growing Observer Newspapers.

MICHIGAN'S BEST

1—The all-winning season in football at Michigan State and the Spartans march to the Big Ten and national titles plus next Saturday's appearance against UCLA in the Rose Bowl. Duffy Daugherty's forces came literally from nowhere. They were ranked in none of the pre-season polls. Most figured they'd be fortunate to finish in the middle of the pack in the Big Ten. The Spartans fooled the world.

2—The hot spree of the Red Wings in January, February and March, as they leaped from well down in the National Hockey League race to capture the 1964-65 title and then earn a place in the finals of the Stanley Cup. The Wings, like Michigan State, didn't seem to have what one might consider "the championship stuff" when the going began.

3—The disappointments of the Tigers and the Lions. Here were two teams which were supposed to make serious bids for title honors. Neither did. What went wrong with them? The best answer: A lot of things.

4—The charge of the 1964-65 University of Michigan basketball team to the Big Ten title, the regional crown in the NCAA and finally a shot at UCLA in the NCAA final out on the coast.

5—Beautiful Peaches Bartkowicz of Hamtramck being named the No. 1 junior tennis player in the country. This is an honor which never before had come to a male or female tennis player who called Michigan their home.

THE AREA'S BEST

1—Franklin's Bernie Carbo being named No. 1 by the Cincinnati Reds in the first professional baseball draft of amateur baseball players. This honor enabled Carbo to sign a fancy five-figure bonus contract.

2—North Farmington winning nine straight in football to wind up among the first five in the State Class A ratings. Biggest victory of all, of course, came against Denby, the team which copped the Detroit Public School championship.

3—Bentley turning in its first all-winning grid season by taking eight straight.

4—Franklin High copping the Observer's first annual high school baseball tournament.

5—The records set at the Detroit Race Course—both by the runners and the trotters.

Yes, Auld Lang Syne... and the Happiest of New Years!

ROAD PAST ST. GREGORY

East Cagers Get Revenge

Revenge... revenge... revenge. This was the cry at Garden City East as the school's cagers moved out to play against St. Gregory.

East had nothing against St. Gregory. The Garden City team still was burning over how it lost to Taylor Center four nights earlier when East led by 20 points in the third period.

"Our kids were out to prove a point," said East coach Billy Joe Young.

"We wanted to show that when we played together, we could get the job done. Also the kids wanted to show that when their first-stringers were in action, they were something."

The net result was that East bombed St. Gregory, 90-64, and in no way did Young attempt to pour it on.

He gave everybody a chance to play. The victory gave East a 2-3 record for the 1965 portion of the schedule.

St. Gregory stayed close for one half. It was 35-30 for East at the intermission.

Then in the second half, East rolled in with 55 points to turn the game into a rout.

The East score at the finish set no school mark. Previous East teams have tallied 97 and 96 points in a single outing.

Paul Kightlinger continued his brilliant scoring for the winners. He tossed in 23 points to give him a total of 122 in five games... a 24.5-point average.

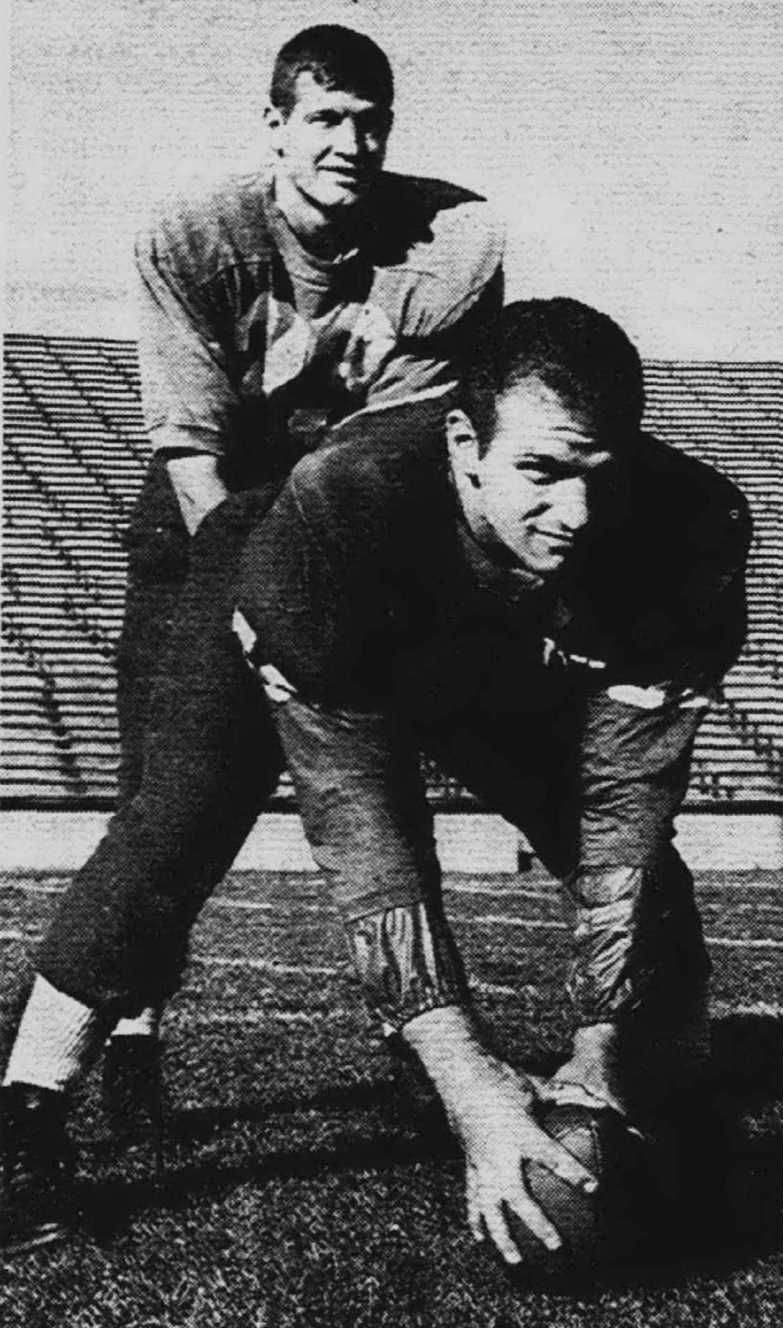

Joe Huber added 21 points and brought his average up to 18.8 points for the season. Carl Glaser finished the night with 20 points.

Norb Podwoiski tallied nine. Gary Popler six, Dennis Devlin and Jim Juopperi and Harvey Kightlinger three for East.

In the percentages department, East put up 63 shots from the floor and canned 36. That's better than 36 percent. East added 31 free throws in 51 attempts.

The East reserves beat St. Gregory, 57-50, as Bob Kalinowski led with 28 points. In his two previous games, Kalinowski had scored 20 and 35 points.

RARING TO GO are these two area gridgers who are with Michigan State University's unbeaten Spartans in Los Angeles preparing for Saturday's Rose Bowl Game against UCLA. That's Boris Dimitroff, former All-Stater from Bentley High, over the ball with Quarterback Steve Juday. Dimitroff is the offensive center and rated as one of the best in the land while Juday, of Northville, was an All-American selection.

Garden City Sextets Win 3 Puck Contests

Garden City hockey teams picked up three victories and a tie, as the Suburban Hockey League got underway at the City Park rink.

In the Juvenile League, Garden City smashed Plymouth, 7-2. Goals for Garden City were by Donnelly, Black, Saylor, Kamieniecki, and Cartier, with Steve Joseph scoring a pair. Plymouth's goals were by Price and Shelley.

In other games in the Juvenile Division, Dearborn Heights overwhelmed Inkster 11-1, Nankin edged Allen Park 4-3, and Livonia defeated Plymouth 5-2.

In the Midget Division, Garden City and Plymouth battled to a 1-1 tie. Scoring for Garden City was Rhoades, with Herter scoring for Plymouth.

In other Midget games, Dearborn Heights defeated Inkster 6-0, Nankin beat Allen Park 5-1, and Livonia edged Plymouth 3-2. In the Bantam League, Garden City beat Plymouth 3-1 on two goals by Rhoades, and one by Clegg. Plymouth's lone goal was made by Cosgrove.

Other scores in the Bantam Division: Dearborn Heights 14,

Bad Start Costly to Falcons

An atrocious first period doomed Farmington High's basketball team against East Detroit last Friday night.

Over the eight-minute span, Farmington managed only two baskets—one each by Mike Ames and Greg Dorow—plus a free throw.

This tallied up to five points, while East Detroit was knocking in 19.

With that kind of a start, East Detroit rolled on to an easy 83-55 victory.

"Our shooting was terrible," said Farmington coach Jack Quiggle. "Imagine we hit only seven of 24 shots in the first half."

The half break, incidentally, found East Detroit holding a 20-10 lead. Mike Wilson notched three baskets and 10 baskets for 16 points to top Farmington.

The Farmington reserves also took a beating, losing by a 73-56 score, despite the fact Al Kilikka had a fine night with 20 points, hitting six baskets and eight charities.

Franklin Sets Swim Records

Franklin high swimmers turned in some record-breaking efforts as they finished second with 56 points to winning Fitzgerald (68 points) in a triangular meet, Redford Union was third with 43 points.

Tom Bates set two Franklin varsity marks when he won the breast stroke in 1:07.6 and placed fourth in the individual medley with a clocking of 2:20.8.

Hal Hultquist's time of 25 seconds flat in copping the 50-yard free constituted another mark as did Ron Barkley's 1:00.6 in placing second in the butterfly.

Judd Kingsbury won the back stroke in 1:02.8, another Franklin record, while the other school mark was set by Franklin's 400-yard free style relay combination.

Here's how Franklin and Redford Union performers placed: Medley Relay: 1—Franklin (Erickson, Zelek, Barkley, Henderson), 3—Redford Union (Wren, Barnes, Anthony, Barthem). Time: 1:54.2.

200-yard free style: 3—Kingsbury (F), 4—S. Glazier (RU), 5—Burt (RU).

100-yard breast stroke: 1—Bates (F), 2—Zelek (F), 5—Barnes (RU). Time: 1:07.6.

400-yard free style relay: 1—Franklin (Henderson, Hultquist, Ferguson, Arnold), 2—Redford Union (Wood, Ringle, Perwincker, Mullen). Time: 3:52.6.

PAUL MARTINI is rated as the best freshman basketball player in the past few years. From Garden City East High School in Garden City, he is averaging about 14 points per game and is one of Adrian's leading rebounders. The 6'5" freshman is No. 1 substitute at the center and now has moved up to the first team.

State Traffic Accidents Expected To Set Record

Michigan's 1965 traffic toll — an estimated 2,100 deaths — will be the fourth worst in 33 years of record keeping while the projected injury and accident totals will hit new annual highs of 157,000 and 318,000 respectively.

These projections on traffic statistics are included in the annual roundup of Michigan State Police activities reported by Col. Frederick E. Davids, director.

The year's combined casualties — deaths and injuries — will be the highest on record for the state.

The deaths, one per cent fewer than 2,120 in 1964, could surpass that toll, however, when all reports are in.

Injuries in the state rose for the seventh consecutive year and were 8.6 per cent more than 144,623 in 1964. Accidents increased for a fourth year in a row and were 11.8 per cent more than 284,446 last year.

Other exposure factors also showed new annual highs: 40.1 billions of estimated mileage, 4,066,826 registered motor vehicles and 4,600,000 licensed drivers, each increased about five per cent over the previous year.

The death rate of 5.2 per 100 million vehicle miles was down 5.5 per cent from the 5.5 rate in 1964.

Meanwhile, crime in the state continued to rise with the 1964 rate of 1,393.6 major offenses per 100,000 population being about 12 per cent more than the 1963 rate of 1,238.7.

Major crimes reported — murder, rape, robbery, burglary, assault, larceny and auto theft — totaled 213,717, up six per cent over 201,526 in 1963.

With Michigan's population at 8.2 millions, one means to help combat the traffic and crime problems was legislative authorization of 200 more troopers to raise the State Police authorized strength to 1,459. Recruiting is now underway.

Two new State Police posts with skeleton staffs were established at Tekonsha in Calhoun County and Iron River in Iron county, bringing to 56 the number in operation.

State Police activities for the year included more than 12 million miles on traffic patrol out of a total department mileage of nearly 21 million.

Officers made 196,000 traffic arrests, 20,000 non-traffic arrests, and apprehended 6,300 juvenile traffic offenders and 6,000 delinquent minors.

Troopers assisted 65,000 motorists, investigated 107,000 cars, issued 269,000 oral warnings to drivers, and made 181,000 property and 31,500 liquor inspections.

Provisional 1965 figures indicated 232 persons died and 235 were injured in 534 water accidents. Compared with the year before, deaths were down 58, injuries increased five and accidents were reduced by 72.

Eight persons, three of them children, were killed and 540 persons injured in 575 rural school bus and related type accidents in the state in 1964. Compared with 1963, these were increases of five in deaths, 121 in injured and six in accidents.

Michigan's 88,175 fires in 1964 claimed 282 lives, both totals setting new annual records, and caused an estimated $55 millions in property damage.

The per capita loss was $7.04. Compared with 1963, there were nine more deaths which included four firemen, the first such loss since 1961, 197 other adults and 81 children.

Michigan State soph swimmer Bill Scott of Hinsdale, Ill., is the son of Leslie Scott, who served as MSU's faculty representative to the Big Ten in 1955-1956.

1,800 Livonia Homes, Businesses Checked by Firemen for Hazards

The door-to-door fire insurance inspection program initiated last month by the

Livonia Fire Department has turned up no "serious hazards," Fire Chief Calvin

Roberts said this week, "and, on the whole we've had evidence of generally good fire control."

Since early November, firemen have been assigned for several hours each day to make an inspection of homes and businesses throughout the city. Thus far, they've covered 800 homes and about 1,000 commercial and industrial plants.

With an estimated 25,000 residents and businesses yet to be covered, Chief Roberts sees the program as a "perpetual one" and as soon as the entire city is covered, the procedure will start again.

Chief Roberts said the two most common hazards the inspecting firemen have noticed are:

- Overloading fuse boxes, such as placing a 30-amp fuse where a 15-amp one is called for; and
- Fire extinguishers which have not been refilled.

The chief added, in a press statement:

"Livonia's firemen have been conducting fire inspections of homes throughout the city for the past month and the program appears to be very successful.

"Although this is a voluntary inspection by the home owner, most residents have welcomed the firemen and many fire hazards have been pointed out and corrected. Every hazard that is corrected can be viewed as a possible fire prevented. Your Fire Department has undertaken this program as a service to the community in the hopes that you as a resident will not suffer the results of a tragic fire.

"Fire takes a terrible toll each year. Deaths from this cause exceeded 11,600 annually for the past four years. The loss of property has exceeded $1,000,000,000 annually since 1957. You can help in the fight against fire by eliminating the hazards of fire and keeping your home fire safe.

"When the fireman comes to your door and asks if you would like to have an inspection made of your home, remember he is there to help you, welcome him in."

Wins Desk and Chair Joe Stark of the Matco Tool, Inc., 32367 W. Eight Mile Rd., Livonia, is the winner of the desk and chair awarded during the opening celebration of the Farmington Office Paper Supply Co. Stark's winning ticket was judged by Charles Grant, advertising salesman for The Observer.

Persons who believe that they have a knack for passing on hobby skills or who would like to start unusual cultural or vocational classes are instructed to discuss the matter with the evening school administrators.

"We might just come up with a new course in outdoor cooking, glass blowing, or conversational Arabic," Anderson said.

"If it helps to enrich suburban living, we'll take a good look at any suggestion for a new course."

There are times when the understanding attention of experienced and dedicated people is the only answer. Bereavement is such a time, and we at Schmalzriedt Sons Funeral Home strive always to be totally worthy of your trust.

Completed and its exit is directly opposite Yale Street. "For the past years much of the plant traffic has avoided the intersection of Plymouth and Wayne Roads by detouring through Country Homes Subdivision. This situation will inevitably increase with the improvement of Yale Street and the location of the new Ford parking facility.

"The opening of Westland Shopping Center has also noticeably increased traffic on Wayne Road to the point where it is difficult to enter Wayne Road from Country Homes Subdivision at certain hours."

Circulators of the petition are Mrs. Sue M. Rivers, 35111 Elmira; and Mrs. Mary J. Woodworth, 35135 Elmira. They may be contacted at either GA 7-3345 or GA 2-1388.

Residents of Livonia's Country Homes subdivision are petitioning city officials for three new traffic controls in the Plymouth Rd.—Wayne Rd. area.

Traffic to and from nearby industrial plants "has been obviously undesirable and unsafe for a number of years," says the petition. It takes note of proposed industrial expansion, and asks:

(1) A "No Left Turn" sign between 6:30 and 8:30 a.m. which would prohibit left turns from Wayne Road onto W. Chicago, Parkdale and Elmira. This will keep industrial traffic on Wayne and Plymouth Roads and prevent the use of residential streets during the morning hours when children are traveling to school;

(2) "Do Not Enter" signs between 3 and 5:30 p.m. at the Plymouth Road entrances to Yale and Levan Roads. This will avoid the same situation during those hours when plants are changing shifts and children are traveling home from school; and

(3) The ultimate extension and improvement of Levan Road from its present terminus at Parkdale to the Edward Hines Drive at Parkdale to the Edward Hines Drive would permit the "industrial" traffic to avoid both the Plymouth-Wayne Road intersection and our subdivision by affording direct access to the Parkway."

The petition further states: "As you are aware, the City has authorized the improvement of Yale Street South from Plymouth Road to the Northernly line of Country Homes Subdivision. Present indications are that this improvement will be completed within the next several weeks.

"You may also be aware that the Ford Transmission Plant is immediately opposite our subdivision on the North side of Plymouth Road. Two large industrial parking lots service that plant site and result in an excess of "industrial" traffic each day and night. The second parking lot was only recently com-

LIVONIA SCHOOLS

Want to Learn Something New? Check With Adult Ed Program

New adult courses scheduled among the nearly 200 being offered in the Livonia schools in January include everything from advanced yoga postures to volleyball instruction for women and basic English grammar.

from five to 10 new courses, requested by community groups, are added to the schedule each term. If they are successful, they are offered as often as a demand is indicated. "We naturally tend to offer seasonal classes in gift wrapping in the fall term and gardening or fly-tying in the spring term," Anderson said. "This winter we will go heavy on such things as the Great Books, Human Relations, Great Decisions, and many health and safety education classes."

Any group of 15 or more adults who wish to have a new hobby or vocational course offered can request the night school staff to add it to the schedule for the next term.

"This is how many of our more popular courses got started," Anderson reports. "The big problem is finding the right teacher. None the less I am convinced that we have more untapped teacher talent in this part of suburbia. We know that we have real specialists and experts teaching everything from upholstery, hair trimming for children, golf, and lapidary to electronics and judo."

Persons who believe that they have a knack for passing on hobby skills or who would like to start unusual cultural or vocational classes are instructed to discuss the matter with the evening school administrators.

"We might just come up with a new course in outdoor cooking, glass blowing, or conversational Arabic," Anderson said. "If it helps to enrich suburban living, we'll take a good look at any suggestion for a new course."

Congressman Farnum Reviews 1965, Sees New Year Progress

By CONGRESSMAN BILLY S. FARNUM 19th Congressional District In 1965 we took steps to make ourselves a healthier, more intelligent, more secure people—basing our actions on studies extending back for years. In 1966, one challenging task will be to give the programs of 1965 the hard operational forms that will insure continued progress for us and for our posterity.

grams will reinforce each other. Research grants now are enabling scientists to open promising new areas of study that will be the concern of education soon. I have personally witnessed instances of this at the Institutes of Health Center near Washington.

If we keep the faith with our traditions, a result will be that Americans of the future will look back on our age as rather primitive—just as we do on that of our progressive pioneers. But our posterity will look back fondly, realizing that in the mid-60s Americans had the foresight to keep America moving forward to new plateaus of greatness.

My belief is that unless some now unforeseen difficulty arises, we can do both—keep ourselves safe in a dangerous world while carrying forward domestic programs as noteworthy as any in our progressive past.

As it happens, probably no other American area stands to gain more from our domestic policy than the forward-looking one in which we live. Yet none of what has been done takes away any of our rights as individuals to run our affairs in our own communities as we wish.

In our area, the value of education is understood, from kindergarten through college graduate school. America of the past with universal education showed its awareness of the need for an enlightened citizenry; America of the 60s and 70s will build upon this base achievements of which an earlier America could hardly dream.

We will insure ourselves of better educated citizens with programs at every school level and we will insure ourselves of healthier citizens with programs attacking health problems of the very young and the very old and all of us in between.

In many cases the new pro-

The MAYOR'S CORNER

By HARVEY W. MOELKE

IN THE SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS... we all think of giving and doing for others. It is appropriate at this time of year to thank all of the people who have contributed to our city's well being during the past year.

Not only the people who have served on boards and commissions of your local government, but the many hundreds of people who have expressed their interest in their community by giving freely of their time and effort in the many important service club, PTA and civic association activities.

Your city administration and school board can only carry out their responsibilities when they have the assistance and counsel of these civic-minded people. A very real part of your government's function can only be effectively done by good citizens who are willing to give of their time, talents and money.

Soon we will be engaged in a local election. It is vitally important, if you are going to have the kind of government and the type of officials that you want, for you to take part in some way in the important decisions facing our community.

Too often the very necessary financial needs of a candidate for public office are met by major contributions of special interest groups. It is a political fact of life that a candidate must have campaign contributions to effectively project himself and his ideas to the electorate.

Our community will be a much better one if each of you contribute just a dollar or two to the candidate of your choice rather than require a candidate for office to look toward the large contributor who may have a special interest.

Newspaper reports indicate that over $160,000 was spent by the supporters of Detroit's Mayor Cavanagh in his bid for reelection. I hope that the majority of his contributions were small ones.

IT ISN'T THE TOWN—IT'S YOU

If you want to live in the kind of a town that's the kind of a town you like,

You don't have to pack your clothes in a grip and go on a long, long hike. For you'll elsewhere find what you have left behind—there is nothing really new.

When you knock your town—it's a knock at yourself—it isn't your town, it's you. Real towns aren't made by men less afraid that somebody else gets ahead.

If everyone works and nobody shirks, you can raise a town from the dead.

And so while you make your personal stake your neighbor can make one, too.

Your town will be what you want it to be. For it isn't your town—it's you.

Wally Roberts UP' GOING 'CURTAIN'

"Sweet Charity" is a honey-bun of a musical. It drips, oozes, and swims in an ocean of entertainment. Gwen Verdon dances, sings, tears your heart out, and then sends you home with a chuckle in your throat.

"Sweet Charity" is Gwen's show from the opening swivel of her provocative hips to the final flog of her bedraggled trench coat. She struts, runs, and jumps about the stage as though she owned every board. And she does. Her boundless energy catapults "Sweet Charity" from scene to scene and infects all the actors working with her.

TOMMY KIRK co-stars in "Village of the Giants" now showing at the Plymouth Art Theatre. The Embassy Pictures thriller is in color.

"He said... he loves me. At last, somebody really loves me," shouts Gwen as Charity Hope Valentine. Gwen makes only one mistake in limiting herself to "he" and "somebody." Doggone it, Gwen, everybody loves you as Charity Hope Valentine.

Believe me. "Sweet Charity" is a luscious lulu of a show. It makes you laugh uproariously, get misty-eyed, and sets your feet tapping as the catchy, melodic songs by Cy Coleman spin their merry way. Dorothy Fields' lyrics have a breezy, meaningful quality too long absent from the musical stage.

Bob Fosse's direction and dance numbers propel the show along in modern jet-fashion. Sonic booms punctuate the show; no lags or equipment failures exist. "Sweet Charity" is a Fosse-filled confectionery's delight. His rich man's Frug, "The Afoot," is a hilarious, motion-filled lampoon. His "Big Splendor" number early in Act I has no equal and stops the show.

The evening at the Fisher was one long series of thundering applause pauses; those happy theatrical moments known officially as show-stoppers.

Neil Simon's dialogue, Robert Randolph's sets, the sensible taste of the producers in hiring singers as well as actors, Helen Gallagher and Thelma Oliver for their terrific support in two minor roles, Irene Sharaff's costumes, Fred Werner's musical direction each in their own way brought the audience to the ovation stage of appreciation.

What is "Sweet Charity" all about? The adventures of a dancehall hostess looking for genuine love rather than the temporary bedroom on again off again variety. You quickly forget any seamy quality such a character may have. Charity becomes Everywoman in her arduous search for true love. The heartaches, ambitions, and the pile of dirty dishes always present to be cleaned project this musical, "Sweet Charity," into a larger than life frame of reference.

Rate this musical right along with the giants of yesterday: "South Pacific," "Sound of Music," and "My Fair Lady." Old Wally predicts a minimum of a three year run on Broadway.

Run, don't walk, to the Fisher and get your tickets for one of the performances during its three week stay. This marvelous, magnificent musical is the big one you've been waiting for. You'll enjoy every minute and go home humming songs like "I Always Cry at Weddings," "I'm a Brass Band," "Baby, Dream Your Dream," "If My Friends Could See Me Now," and "Too Many Tomorrows."

John McMartin in the leading male role gives a many-faceted interpretation of a character that could be difficult. As Oscar Lindquist, he sings and acts on a par with Gwen Verdon. The two of them provide many creative sparks during the evening as they play out their wild romance.

"Sweet Charity" is a musical welfare plan good for all ages and will be with us thankfully for eons to come.

Everyone is welcome to read for both shows. For additional information about "Lullaby" call Judy Pierson, GA 5-3796; about "Pinocchio," call Jackie Javor, GA 7-8073.

Tiepolo Work Named Painting of the Month

A lavish canvas with tremendous visual impact is The Detroit Institute of Arts Painting of the Month for January: "Alexander the Great with the Women of Darius" by Giovanni Battista Tiepolo.

Glowing color, rich texture and expert draftsmanship characterize Tiepolo's interpretation of a dramatic episode in the life of the Fourth Century B. C. conqueror. A very young but regal Alexander the Great dominates the left side of the canvas, cloaked in red and wearing a gold helmet. On the right are the daughters of the Persian general, Darius, whom Alexander has defeated in battle. They lean toward Alexander, as if drawn to a magnet, imploring him with telling gestures to have mercy on the Persians.

Born in 1696, Tiepolo was the last of the great Venetian decorators, the purest exponent of Italian Rococo, and possibly the greatest painter of the 18th century.

Community Center, 18100 Meyers Rd., at 8:30 p.m.

"The Elephant Calf" by this modern playwright is a satire on Nazi justice, with music and dance. The performance of Brecht's play will be directed by Robert McKee.

ter appearing in the play will be Hal Adler, Addie Beckerman, Carol Chase, Mike Goodman, Leroy Levitt, Sondra Rubin and Sue Tobin.

Symphony Sets 'Concerto Night'

Three principals of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra will be soloists at the Symphony's "Concerto Night" program at Ford Auditorium on Thursday, and Saturday evening, Dec. 30 and Jan. 1, at 8:30.

Elyze Yockey, harpist, Paul Schaller, clarinetist, and James Tamburini, trumpeter, each will perform a concerto with the Orchestra, conducted by Sixten Ehrling.

Miss Yockey will be heard in Debussy's "Dances Sacree et Profane," Schaller in Mozart's Clarinet Concerto in A major (K. 622), and Tamburini in the first Michigan performance of Alexandra Pakhmutova's Trumpet Concerto. Miss Pakhmutova is a young Soviet composer.

Ehrling also will conduct the Michigan premiere performances of Hilding Rosenberg's Concerto for Strings and Paul Hindemith's Philharmonic Concerto. The Rosenberg concerto was written in 1946 and the Hindemith in 1932. In each of these works three other principals of the Orchestra will be featured in solo parts. They are Mischa Mischakoff, concertmaster, Nathan Gordon, violist, and Italo Babin, cellist.

East Seniors Presenting 'The Mouse That Roared'

By Pat St. Antoine East High Reporter

The theme for the annual Christmas assembly was "Littlest Angel," and portraying the part of the angel was Mike McClain. The assembly was sponsored by the National Honor Society.

"The Mouse That Roared," senior class play, will be presented on Jan. 7 and 8 at Cambridge Junior High.

The "Pride" yearbook will go on sale in the high school cafeteria on Jan. 5 and continue thru the 14. The yearbook will have a protective covering for a longer lasting yearbook.

The all school musical "Where's Charlie" is scheduled for Jan. 25 at 4:30 p.m. at Cambridge Junior High. Evening performances are scheduled for Jan. 28 and 29 at 8 p.m.

The senior class would like to thank those who purchased a Christmas tree from our class to help make it a success. Many of the seniors worked long cold hours to promote the class spirit. The remaining Christmas trees were distributed throughout the Garden City area to needy families.

With the co-operation of many people, I would like to thank those people who gave Christmas cards for the Vietnam scrap-book. Thank you.

Also at this time I would like to wish Mr. Daniels, students and faculty members at Garden City High School (East), and fellow citizens a very Merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year.

Franklin 'Alumni Day'

Franklin High School's senior class were hosts on alumni day 22 from 12:30 to 3 p.m.

A senior class first, the alumni day was centered in the library. Rod Edwards, president of the senior class welcomed the guests. While punch and cookies were served, the guests visited their former instructors.

Besides Rod Edwards, 11325 Berwick, other class officers had a role in the event. Beverly Miner, secretary, 28250 West Chicago and Penny Harrison, corresponding secretary, 29080 Olson, were in charge of decorations. Jackie Doi, 30412 Olson, was in charge of refreshments.

The class recently sponsored the "battle of the bands." Bands from the surrounding area competed for a $50 prize. The winner was the "Five of a Kind."

So that the lighting of "Oklahoma" could be improved, the class broke with tradition and set a new one. A theater light was donated before the production, not at the end of the year when a senior class traditionally presents the school with a gift.

Rod Edwards explained that the class wanted to see the gift used during the year while the imaginative ideas of the Franklin staff, for new ideas spark better education.

Church of Christ in Livonia to Present January Inspiration Program

The Church of Christ at 15431 Merriman Road will be presenting a special inspirational program during the month of January. Designed to draw attention to those areas receiving increased emphasis in 1966, the program will feature speakers from several sections of the U. S. and from as far away as Vietnam.

"We decided the time had come when people should be made keenly aware of the church's world-wide responsibility," Mr. Dean, minister of the Church of Christ said, "and we feel that such a program as has been planned will accomplish this objective."

A complete schedule of speakers featuring the church's missionary and benevolent responsibilities is as follows:

Sunday, Jan. 2, Herbert Dean, Livonia, 10:50 a.m. "And Now Unto Others;" 7:00 p.m. "The World's Greatest Business."

Wednesday, Jan. 5, David Dunn, Livonia, 7:45 p.m. "A Trip to a Foreign Land."

Sunday, Jan. 9, Maurice Hall, Saigon, Vietnam, 10:50 a.m. "Vietnam: A War Torn Vineyard;" 7:00 p.m. "Saving Other Souls."

Wednesday, Jan. 12, Jeff Green, Livonia, 7:45 p.m. "Who Is My Neighbor?"

Sunday, Jan. 16, Cline Paden, Lubbock, Texas, 10:50 a.m. "Cause and Effect;" 7:00 p.m. "What Is My Role?"

Wednesday, Jan. 19, Joseph E. Jones, Detroit, 7:45 p.m. "A Ministry to the Aged."

Sunday, Jan. 23, Lloyd McKelvey, Nashville, Tenn. 10:50 a.m. "Looking Without Seeing;" 7 p.m. "Seven Spiritual Men."

Wednesday, Jan. 26, Verner Cozart, Benton Harbor, Mich. 7:45 p.m. "Building A Home."

Sunday, Jan. 30, Gaston Tarbet, Albuquerque, New Mexico, 10:50 a.m. "Why I Must Go;" 7 p.m. "And Now Unto Others."

Because of the nature of the program and the high quality of speakers the Church of Christ wishes to invite all residents of the community to be present at any or all of these services.

Degrees Go to Livonians

Two Livonia residents received doctoral degrees at Wayne State University's annual mid-year commencement December 14 in Cobo Hall. The mid-year graduation was WSU's largest ever with 1,713 persons receiving degrees.

They were Paul B. Campbell, 33010 W. Chicago who earned an Ed.D. in Evaluation and Research and Louis S. Klein, 28894 Morlock who was granted a Ph.D. in Psychology.

Mr. Campbell had previously taken his B.A. from Eastern Michigan and his M.A. from Michigan after serving in the U. S. Navy. He and his wife, Lucille, have five children ranging in age from 17 to 6.

Mr. Klein earned his B.A. degrees from Oklahoma and his M.A. degree from Temple. He and his wife Leona have one pre-school aged child.

Science Service to Concentrate On Deity

A consideration of the nature of Deity will be the theme of this Sunday's service on "God" in all Christian Science churches throughout the world.

The sermon will consist of correlated readings from the Bible and from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science. Included will be Moses' well-known injunction from Deuteronomy: "Know therefore this day, and consider it in thine heart, that the Lord he is God in heaven above, and upon the earth beneath: there is no one else." And this reference from Science and Health: "The power of God brings deliverance to the captive. No power can withstand divine Love."

On Dean's List

Miss Jane Crisman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Crisman, 29931 Leona Ct., Garden City, has been placed on the mid-term's Dean's List at Olivet Nazarene College, Kan-kakee, Ill.

The Dean's List is made up of students with a grade point of 3.35 or above. This is a letter grade of B or above.

Olivet Nazarene College is one of the seven colleges sponsored by the Church of the Nazarene. It has an approximate enrollment of 1,600 students and is a fully accredited liberal arts college.

Farmington Represented at Leadership Conference

Farmington was represented at a leadership conference sponsored by the Oakland County Human Relations Coordinating Council.

Those attending from Farmington were: John Millhone, The Rev. James O'Hagen and Robert Leidlein.

They heard Burton I. Gordin, executive director of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission, tell them that "In all white suburbs where many, if not most of you here today live, I know you are faced with general apathy because so many people say, 'We don't have any problems here.' This merely means, 'We don't have any Negro Citizens here.'"

"If that's not a problem for your unconcerned neighbors, you can be assured that it's a serious problem for Negro citizens who seek to move into and live peacefully in your community."

Gordin said local councils "can set the climate of welcome and openness" in a community.

"You can do this through informational and educational programs which involve the committed and uncommitted community leaders, including public officials, the clergy, educators, businessmen and labor leaders."

A second role for local councils, Gordin said, was as a vehicle for social action.

"What I am talking about," he stated, "is a process of organization, communication and action. It means getting the facts, analyzing the facts, making the facts known, arousing people's interest and mobilizing support for your position."

Marriage in College Has Little Effect On Future Finances

EAST LANSING — Getting married in college may put a financial burden on both partners while they are still students, but it seems to have little long-term economic effect.

A recent study by Dr. Frances Magrabi and Marcia P. King of Michigan State University's College of Home Economics showed very little difference between married and unmarried students in terms of economic well-being up to seven years after leaving MSU.

"In fact," the study notes, "the married students tended to have slightly higher incomes but smaller liquid assets."

They will work for the Ministry of Agriculture of Kenya as extension workers assisting in irrigation schemes and in the operation of large scale farms.

Kenya, a former British colony and protectorate, gained independence in 1963. The first group of Peace Corps Volunteers arrived there approximately a year ago. This new group brings to 220 members of Volunteers at work there as teachers, agricultural workers and rural community developers.

During training the Volunteers studied Swahili, the language of East Africa, African culture and history, United States history and world affairs. They also received special instruction in farm management.

The departing Volunteers join the 10,000 other Peace Corps Volunteers now working in 46 nations of Asia, Africa and Lat-

CHAMBER PRESIDENT REPORTS:

Business Expands in 1965

By PHILLIP O. TANGUAY
 Manager, Livonia Chamber of Commerce

This year has been witness to growth in the business community both in bricks and mortar and in its interest in community affairs. New plants and retail outlets have been springing up, and each new operation representing heavy financial investment and more jobs have been duly noted in this newspaper. We have seen the build-up of momentum within the newly expanded retail community. And Livonia prides itself today as the home of new products in plastics, sports equipment, home improvement materials — to mention some.

As a result of additional units in our business complex and executive staff changes in older establishments, there have appeared new personalities on the horizon. There are men and women who have warmed to the community and have not hesitated to expand some energy in the interest of Livonia. While in the process of firmly planting their roots, they have also gotten their feet wet in the whirlpool of civic venture. These last twelve months have been a "tenderfooting" period for people like Arthur Cone at Sears, Seymour Goldberg at Crowleys, George Onufer at International Tube Fabricators, Robert Alli at Garden Foods, John Andrews at Chevrolet Spring and Bumper, Harvey Greene at Greene Motors, and a dozen others — all new hands at the wheel that lends movement to the business community's effort at civic involvement.

All this is reflected in the Chamber's process of maturation in 1965. This year has seen the Chamber increase in membership by about seventy new business units, its income close to double that of previous years. But a more important gauge of "coming of age" is the burgeoning interest of business members in civic affairs. This is reflected in the formation of fourteen action groups. They have, by giving serious attention to the businessman's role in Livonia, pointed their efforts toward concrete community needs. These were expressed by Chamber members and Livonia citizens in a series of exploratory meetings held this year not the least of which was the Goals Conference held in March.

So the business community, through the Chamber, has developed a stance toward problems which will still confront us in 1966. It will lend the weight of our businessmen toward the solution of problems like off-street parking on Plymouth Road, Plymouth Road widening, railroad overpass, vocational education, civic auditorium and a host of other important projects.

The business community is ready to take greater initiative than ever before. There appears to be a sharper awareness of its role and more confidence that it can roll up a record of accomplishment. Rather than content itself with a solely supporting role, it will, through the Chamber, exercise a leadership role in proposing solutions to old problems and take new courses of action.

Dempster Opens New Real Estate Office

A new corporation, dealing in real estate and all of the phases of that business, has opened its doors in Farmington with the expectation that it will be expanded to several branch offices during the new year.

The opening of the Dempster Real Estate Company's office at 32729 Grand River in Farmington gives the area a local broker, one who has resided in the area for 35 years and who hopes to guide the new enterprise and maintain the welfare of his clients.

Leonard Gorman, who resides

CAPTAIN EDWIN GLEZA of the Redford Township Police Dept., will be the guest speaker at the January PFC meeting at John MacGowan School, Jan. 11. His topic will be "The Problems of Law Enforcement." Capt. Gleza has been on the force for 13 years.

at 23106 Lilac, moved into Farmington Township years ago when it was a sprawling farm community and then later purchased a home in the City of Farmington.

During his long residency, he has seen the Township and the City reach its present growth. And during that same period, he acquired the qualifications needed for operation of the new enterprise. First as a salesman for a local broker and later as a broker on his own.

Then with a license in escrow, he took time-out to learn the fine points of insurance, finance, the mortgage business and the combination of insured loans and mortgages to home owners and builders.

With the special planning and extra effort put into the new organization, direct and indirect contacts have been established with several lending institutions, making it possible to obtain financing at the most reasonable figure possible.

Leonard and his wife Katherine are the parents of three sons, Larry, Robert and Gerald and proud grandparents of thirteen youngsters.

Two Reappointed

Two members of the Board of Canvassers, James Richard Brown (democrat) and Edward Wayne Christopher (republican), were reappointed for four-year terms by the Farmington Board of Education at their regular Monday evening meeting. Their present terms expire Dec. 31.

EX-BOXER, MUSICIAN

Army Auditor, 70, Ends 23-Year Duty

One of the nation's oldest government employees retired recently with honors at the zesty age of 70.

Frank E. Kowalcheck, 8950 Mercedes, Redford Township, terminated his 23-year government career at Fort Wayne, Detroit, where he had served the last nine years of his government service as an internal review auditor.

Kowalcheck was presented a certificate of achievement from Fifth Army's Col. Philip S. Pomeroy, Jr., Deputy Commander of Fort Sheridan, Illinois.

Fort Wayne, currently in the process of phasing out of the military structure, is a sub-post of Fort Sheridan. Also present for other informal awards to Kowalcheck were: Lt. Col. Donald C. Talbot, Commander of Fort Wayne, and Kowalcheck's fellow employees.

Competition has always been a way of life with Kowalcheck. Few people are aware that he was one of Detroit's early amateur lightweight champions—in the days when boxing was illegal and bouts were staged at secret locations to evade the law.

Fighting under the assumed name of Frank Walsh for obvious reasons, he weighed in at 135 pounds. He retained his lightweight title during 1917-18.

Most of the bouts were fought at the old Detroit Athletic Club, which received some sanction from legal reprisal—"but," he said, "you could never be sure."

His pugilistic career began to look up in 1918 when he turned professional.

JOSEPH F. FALSETTI, of Wayne, has been elected an Assistant Cashier of National Bank of Detroit. Falsetti, who joined the Bank in 1937 as a management trainee, has been an Administrative Assistant in the International Division. He lives at 34045 Barton Avenue with his wife, Patricia, and their three children.

Furnace Out? Here's How to Stay Warm

Power failures can result in some winter emergencies and leave homes without heat. If this should happen, the Rural Defense Office at Michigan State University suggests these recommendations:

Maintain the heat that is already in your home. Additional insulation such as shower curtains, plastic table cloths and towels should be placed over windows, doors, and other places where cold may enter.

Make use of any other available heating methods such as fireplaces, camp stoves or lanterns. Your bed is the warmest place in the house if enough blankets are available. Sleeping bags are excellent in these emergency situations.

More people in one room will produce more body heat. Families or neighbors can gather in one room, and all will be warmer.

HOME FOR THE HOLIDAYS
 ... the phrase takes on a more somber note this year as it applies not only to the happy college student, or the sons and daughters who work in another city, but to an increasing number of military personnel who have managed to finagle a Christmas leave.

JACK WATT, son of Jim and Betty Watt on Blue Skies Drive, was one of the lucky few ... by completing his Marine Corps training in San Diego just the week before Christmas, Jack qualified for a leave until Jan. 10 ... he will return to California for about a month before being sent to Memphis for aviation training.

ON THE OTHER HAND, over at St. Matthew's Church, friends of the Al Newmans tell us they are visiting their son in Texas where he is stationed. A helicopter pilot, he is training future pilots after a tour of duty in Viet Nam.

THEN THERE'S THE CASE of Cadet Bill Bollin in his second year at the Air Force Academy. The son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Bollin on Ingram, Bill had no more than unpacked for Mom when he got an urgent call from the basketball coach asking how soon he could be out to Portland, Ore. to play in the tournament. As a bonus Bill and his teammates will return to Denver by way of the Rose Bowl game on New Year's Day.

FRED AND BERNICE Weir, newcomers to Livonia, celebrated the day before Christmas ... Bernice explained that with so many members of their family and friends attending church services at different times during the evening she had a sort of open house buffet ... serving supper several times. If you recall our foggy Christmas eve, it made finding the house even more difficult for several who had not been there before.

CHRISTMAS DAY ... the Leslies on Berwick took on an international flavor as Kay and Jim invited two foreign students to spend the day with them ... it was the Leslies first experience hosting foreign students, and according to Kay, a bit strained at first, but they (the students) got playing with the kids (Leslie kids) and soon seemed right at home. Both students are from Somali in Africa ... both studying at Eastern. Nuh Ahmed Osman is 32 —left his wife and nine (9) children to come over here for two years ... Osman Jama is unmarried ... 28 ... they will return to Africa to teach teachers when they complete their program.

THE DAVE LEATHLEYS celebrated the day after Christmas ... inviting about 20 couples for cocktails ... including Shirley's boss Livonia Police Chief James Jordan and Mrs. Jordan ... everything went beautifully ... then some nosy guest discovered the meatballs, slightly over-browned, in the oven.

WHEN THE MSU STUDENT special pulls into Pasadena this week one of its detaining passengers will be Nancy Nelson. Nancy's parents, Herb and Marty, took her up to East Lansing the day after Christmas to begin the trip for the roses ... she'll be home Jan. 4.

Ford Smashes Desoto
 Henry Ford got caught riding a DeSoto but escaped without being ticketed.

Ford, 42, of 2208 Deering, was parked on Maplewood 500 feet east of Middlebelt in Garden City. As Ford pulled out, his 1957 DeSoto struck a vehicle driven by George E. Day, 18, of 29074 Barton, Garden City.

Ford said he had not seen Day and Day told police that he could not stop in time to prevent the collision. No ticket was issued.

C of C Plans Leadership Weekend

By CARL PURSELL
 President Plymouth C of C
 The position of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce is one of organized strength dedicated to represent the business community which if prosperous and healthy will give our community a stable economic condition. Economic growth and development in all its phases is our primary responsibility.
 However, it appears that in far too many cases the correlation between actual program, stated purpose and community needs are unchartable, because they are non-existent, with the result that leadership in a community becomes so split and splintered that results are frittered and splattered.
 We have under study a proposal for a Leadership Weekend Conference, designed to bring the community leaders together. We plan to spend a weekend away from home reviewing our past, looking at our present and projecting our future. We are asking leaders from governmental units, school, major service organizations, religious organizations, and our Chamber to spend a weekend together in hopes we may be able to provide an atmosphere of understanding and purpose.
 In today's real life the Chamber must provide leadership that is hard-headed, hard-nosed, and hard hitting to combat the hard knuckled economic problems that smack us in the community face day after day.
 To do this, we realize that we as individuals, have passed over individual responsibility to organizations. We depend on them for Action—for Leadership.
 The question we must ask ourselves. Are we tackling the tough, damaging, seemingly unsolvable, controversial, inflammatory, infectious economic problems of our community?
 IF WE DON'T SOMEONE ELSE WILL.
 It is my belief that our economic development in our community will occur in durable sense only when a sufficient number of dedicated business and professional men and women accept leadership as a permanent part of their business and professional responsibility.

 Christmas trees will be picked up at the curb only this year and the department hopes that Jan. 10 will be the deadline for pickups.

A total of 13 tons of salt was applied on the streets during a light snowstorm last week. The department devoted 55 man hours at the Salem refuse site. A 3/4 inch water tap was installed; two funerals were handled at Riverside Cemetery and the mausoleum cleaned. Two sanitary sewer taps were made on N. Mill Street. A plugged main line sanitary sewer, between Farmer and Blanche, was repaired during the week. The sewer had a broken crock and sand was washing into the main line. Pumps were used in order to keep basements from becoming flooded.

No-parking signs were installed on Maple west of S. Harvey and various other signs were replaced and installed. Several streets were cold patched and S. Main was crack sealed. Surveying was done in preparation for the new fences at the reservoir, the old cemetery and at the DPW garage. Layne Northern crew has been working on the pumps at the Six Mile Well Field and at this time everything is working normally. The entire department wishes to take this opportunity to wish everyone a Happy Holiday Season.

CITY OF PLYMOUTH NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR SENIOR CITIZENS TAX RELIEF

During the month of January 1966, applications will be received by the City Assessor at 201 S. Main St. for those taxpayers who are eligible for relief under the Senior Citizens Homestead Tax Exemption Act.

Eligibility requirements for all applicants:

- Must be 65 years old or over
- Must have been a resident of Michigan for at least the past 7 years
- Gross income including that of spouse should not exceed $5,000 during 1965
- Total market value of all property owned in the State of Michigan should not exceed $20,000

These application forms will be available at the City Assessor's Office beginning January 4, 1966. Any person now living in the city who is interested in receiving one of these forms may call 453-1234, Ext. 43, in advance to have their name put on the mailing list.

It is suggested that anyone over 65 who has applied for a veteran's homestead exemption in the past or who has a major loss in vision might wish to consider this form of tax relief instead if they meet the requirements. Under the Senior Citizens Exemption, the State will pay a greater share of the tax than through the Veteran's or Blind Person's Exemption.

Margo Robson
 Acting City Clerk
 12-15, 12-29

MRS. ROBERT DIEKMAN of Robinwood Drive will be traveling to Aviano, Italy via the Air Lines to visit her daughter and son-in-law, the Bert Adams and little Robbie. Bert is with the U.S. Air Force and the young people have three weeks of fun packed vacation planned for Jane, including a weekend trip to Switzerland.

MR. AND MRS. J. L. HUDSON of Palmer Street, announce the wedding of their son John to Sally Ann Helland on Dec. 22 in Rosewell, New Mexico. John is a member of the teaching faculty at Bakersfield College.

HOME FOR Christmas are some of Plymouth High Grads, spotted around town were Linda Baughman, Kaye Perish, Linda Hill, Jeff Hoffman, Carol Otwell, Becky Lyons, Sue Hudson, Sue Ward, Dave Tidwell and Kathy Hodge.

NEW RESIDENTS and spending their first Christmas in their new homes are the Arthur Baehrs of Jo-Anne Lane and Mrs. Perchard of Thornridge. Both families are delighted with The Observer Newspapers.

Ply. Senior Citizens Make Plans

A Christmas potluck served on gaily decorated tables climaxed the final meeting of 1965 for the Plymouth Senior Citizens Club on Dec. 16.

A beautifully decorated holiday cake was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Loren Goodale. Mayor James Houk, guest of honor, was the principal speaker, discussing the prospects of Senior Citizen Housing.

Highlights of the entertainment were presentations by the Madrigal Club of Plymouth High and harmonica selections by M. G. McNeil of Plymouth. President and Mrs. Sam Wilhelm and Oren Millard were rewarded with Christmas checks for outstanding service. The club also remembered the shut-ins.

Dues for 1966 should be paid on Jan. 6. It is important that each member write his or her full name, address and telephone number on a slip of paper and enclose it in an envelope with the dues. Give it to Secretary Mrs. Lina Birkhold.
