Township Supervisor Discounts Consolidation

Plymouth Township Supervisor John McEwen told members of the Businessmen's Forum that he sees little chance for consolidation of the City and Township in the immediate future. At the same time, McEwen proved to the satisfaction of all...

"Any hopes for consolidation must be by annexation," he stated emphatically, "It should consider the City of Northville, Northville Township and perhaps part of Canton Township. City Commission Stands Firm on Denial to Cape

Plymouth's City Commission ended the Thomas Cape story Monday when members voted unanimously against a motion to vacate the remaining portion of Byron Street between S. Harvey and McKinley as requested by the controversial apartment builder. Monday's special meeting was called on a rather bitter note since the Commission had taken action previously to deny the request after a lengthy public hearing and then voted a week ago to reconsider that action.

he did not meet with the zoning ordinance requirements. He had told the Commissioners that financing for the project depended on securing the certificate and that he had only until Monday (same day as the meeting) to get it from First Federal. He had told the Commission that he would have to sell unless he received a favorable action. Cape didn't say a word after the unanimous vote although his wife did pass out booklets to the Commissioners entitled "The One Way" and read copiously from a religious publication until halted by Mayor Houk. Mayor Houk pointed out that the Commissioners felt just as bad about making the decision as Mrs. Cape did about the final vote but that was part of the job of a legislative body. In other actions, the Commission approved addition of a second classification to the Department of Public Works, adding the rank of foreman on the request of Supt. Joseph Bida.

Board Approves Plan To Assist 'Deprived'

Plymouth School Board members took the first steps Monday to establish a Federally-financed program to aid "deprived and disadvantaged" students in public schools here. The program, to be supported entirely by Federal monies, basically would be designed to improve the reading skills of pupils who otherwise are hampered in their entire learning process throughout the duration of their school years.

Board members officially approved the three-phase program at their regular meeting and sanctioned a Tuesday morning meeting with a representative of the State Board of Education to establish the validity of the proposed program. The project will consume $51,000 under the terms of the National Elementary and Secondary Education Act. Plymouth School District's expenses will be fully reimbursed if the plan receives higher approval and is placed into effect. Board member Esther Hulsing indicated that the program conceivably would go into effect about Feb. 1, assuming state approval is forthcoming.

First phase of the project would be to establish a three-member diagnostic team consisting of a reading specialist, a social worker and a psychologist. The team would be assigned to determine the individual problems of any "disadvantaged and disadvantaged children" here. Superintendent Russell Isbister said that there were "about 300" such children in Plymouth schools who may have need of the service that would be offered under the proposed program. The second phase is a teacher in-service training designed to equip teachers "to administer and interpret informal diagnostic tests that indicate weakness in reading." Isbister said that "at least one" additional teacher

PHS Students Told Of NMS Deadline

Students who expect to complete their secondary school requirements at Plymouth High School and enter college in 1967 can register now at the school office for the 1966-67 National Merit Scholarship Program, Principal Carvel Bentley announced Monday. First step for those who wish to enter the nationwide competition is to take the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMQST), which will be given in the school at 9 a.m., Saturday, Feb. 26 (or Tuesday, March 1).

Commissioner Arch Vallier, who has had more than one heated debate with Cape over the past 20 months, bitterly opposed the motion to reconsider on the grounds that property owners involved, who had appeared at the public hearing, had no indication of the reconsideration move. Thus Vallier was the first to object when Monday's special meeting opened, presenting a letter to Mayor James Houk in which he gave six reasons for his objections. City Manager Richard Blodgett then presented a letter to the Mayor from three property owners who objected to the vacation request. At this juncture, Vallier asked City Attorney Tom Healy if the charter didn't provide that if an objection was made that the Commission had to have five affirmative votes to approve the vacation request. Healy said the charter did provide for such an affirmative vote.

Then Commissioner James McKeon took the floor and stated that he felt the Commission had faced the Cape problem long enough and that it was time for action so that the Commissioners could devote their time to more pressing matters. "This Commission has been involved in this controversy for 20 months," McKeon said. "During that time Cape has been on the agenda 27 times. I have heard Mr. Cape threaten Commissioner Vallier; I have heard him plead financial difficulties; I have heard complaints that he has violated the city ordinances. I feel we have devoted more than enough time to this matter and I believe we would make a decision and then move on to other pressing problems such as a new budget, the water system and others that have been facing us." "Personally, I can't see how this Commission can reconsider and still face our citizens. If we vote to vacate, then we have no right to question zoning in the future." Commissioner George Hudson made a motion to vacate Byron Street as requested and received support from Commissioner Robert Smith. Mayor Houk called for a vote and it was unanimously turned down. Cape sought the vacation in order to get a certificate of occupancy for two units in his Bryn Mawr apartments on Byron. He had been denied the certificate on the grounds that

Plymouth 'Y' Eyes Young Adults Group

Plans for a Young Adults Group, sponsored by the Plymouth Y.M.C.A., will be discussed at a meeting of those between the ages of 19 and 24 who are interested in such a program. The get-together is set for Thursday, Jan. 20 at 7 p.m. in The Chip, located in the community building directly behind the City Hall. Initial plans for the new group would be to hold meetings on Thursdays and Saturdays with varied activities throughout the year. The proposed list includes: informal parties and dances, skiing and ice skating parties, boating - canoe - sailing; overnight trips, theater and movie parties, sports events such as bowling, h-ckey, basketball, football, baseball and thoroughbred harness racing, service projects, car rallies, pot-luck dinners, politics, lectures, symphony events and other programs of similar nature. Mrs. Johnnie Crosby, director of the Young Adult program of the "Y," will serve as chairman of the meeting. All interested are urged to contact Mrs. Crosby at 453-2904 prior to the meeting so that "Y" officials will have some idea of how many are interested in organizing the program.

Mrs. Witwer Leaves Jr. High East School Board Accepts Resignation; Hires Six

Mrs. Clarissa Witwer, long-time physical education instructor at Junior High East, Monday, presented her resignation to the Plymouth Community School Board and it was accepted with regrets. At the same time, Trustees approved contracts for six new staff members on the recommendation of Supt. Russell Isbister. Mrs. Witwer, who has taught at Junior High East since the building opened in 1957, indicated in her letters that her husband, Joseph, had retired recently and they expect to do some traveling. Mrs. Witwer wrote "It is with mixed emotions that I ask you to accept my resignation at the end of this semester. As you know, Joe has retired and we expect to do some traveling. "At this time, I want to thank you for privilege of being one of your staff members. I have appreciated your thoughtfulness, your consideration and your friendship. Please always consider both Joe and me as most interested citizens, willing to help out in any way—and if you will have me, I'd like to be a substitute teacher."

Mrs. Witwer will be replaced by Mrs. Janet Lawson who has been serving as a full-time substitute in the school system. Mrs. Lawson is a graduate of the University of Michigan and has had teaching experience in Highland Park and at the University of Colorado in addition to the Plymouth schools. Other appointments approved by the Board include: Mrs. Florence Jones, second grade at Gallimore School. She is a graduate of Marshall University with experience in Tempe, Avondale and Phoenix, all in Arizona. Robert McGregor, math and science at Junior High East. He has a bachelor's degree from Hillside College and a master's from Wayne State with 17 years experience in Detroit and two in Royal Oak. Mrs. Ann Palmer, first grade at Farrand School. She is a recent graduate of Hillsdale College and also attended Eastern Michigan University. Mrs. Emily Schuster, sixth grade at Junior High West. She is a recent graduate of the University of Michigan and also attended the University of Wisconsin.

Mel Blunk Finds Self in Quandary

If Christmas bills are still troubling your household budget, chances are you'll be sympathetic to the plight that faces Melvin Blunk, Plymouth School District's assistant superintendent in charge of business affairs. Blunk is faced with the apparently impossible task of paying off a $700,000 debt—in behalf of the School District—with only $250,000 with which to do it. The $700,000 obligation is in the form of a tax anticipation note, due April 1. The $250,000 is on deposit with a bank—and drawing a fat 4 per cent interest to boot. Fortunately for the district, Blunk, too, for that matter, the School District can look forward to additional tax collection monies about the same time the tax anticipation note falls due — so Blunk's budget will balance out after all. In reality, the School District is solvent. It has on deposit $560,000 in the building and site sinking fund, $220,000 in a 1955 debt retirement fund, and the aforementioned $250,000 in an operating fund. The total — some $1 million, give or take a few tens of thousands — is all drawing a healthy 4 per cent per annum, enough to solve the problems of a lot of household budgets, but not exactly enough to resolve the matter of financing a school district valued at nearly $1,116,000.

Plymouth Fund Lists Election, Reports At Meeting Jan. 18

New directors will be elected and reports made by all participating agencies in the annual meeting of the Plymouth Community Fund Tuesday, Jan. 18 at 8 p.m. in the Plymouth Township Hall. President Frank Palmer anticipates one of the largest attendances in several years since the 1965 drive went over the top with room to spare. All contributors to the fund are invited to attend and learn how the monies collected in the annual drive are distributed to the various agencies and what use is made by each of the groups. School Board Okays Trip to Ohio Meeting Acting on a recommendation of Supt. Russell Isbister, the Plymouth Community school board Monday gave approval to a request of Principal Robert Smith, of Junior High West, to attend the 50th anniversary of the National Association of Secondary School Principals in Cleveland on Feb. 5-9.

JUST CHATTIN'

By W. W. EDGAR

Several weeks ago, at the height of the Yuletide season, the Livonia Board of Education dropped a bomb on the populace with a request for a nine-mill increase in taxes and a nine million dollar bond issue.

Coming at the time of year when we are preaching Brotherly Love and supposed to be at our jovial best, the request seemed to dull some of the Christmas Spirit.

Register Mon. For Adult Ed. Classes

Adult Education registration for the second semester will be held at the Garden City High School, 6500 Middlebelt, 7 to 9 p.m., Monday through Wednesday, Jan. 17, 18 and 19.

Stunned by the boldness of the request and its poor timing I stated that it was about time we asked a few questions, such as:

- 1—How is our money being spent?
- 2—Are we getting our money's worth?
- 3—What about architect's fees? Is it necessary to have an architect for each new school when we already have the plans? Why couldn't we just duplicate the building in another area?
- 4—Why couldn't we make better use of our schools by having double shifts or running 12 months?

These are all good questions and have been asked many times during our population explosion and its attendant school building boom.

But after I asked them I recalled one of the teachings of the great old editor who started me down the river of printer's ink on a journalistic career.

"One of the marks of a good newspaper reporter," he said, "is not that you have all the answers—but that you know where to get them."

Well, it so happened that I didn't have to go in search of the answers. I was invited to come and get them.

Among the many phone calls from folks who spoke with mixed emotions came two invitations to visit the offices of the Board of Education in the quiet of the evening to discuss the subject and, perhaps, get the answers I wanted.

And so it was that I sat down with Benton Yates, Superintendent of Schools, and Ron Upton, of his staff, for what turned out to be a most delightful visit.

After exchanging a few pleasantries, Upton opened the flood gates of information with the explanation that while the office had a rich looking appearance, the paneled walls were movable and lent themselves to an economic operation if at any time in the future it was necessary to enlarge any of the rooms.

All the while Supt. Yates was piling the desk with all manner of charts and pamphlets that told the story behind the request for the nine mills and the bond issue.

"You know," he said, "one of your questions concerned architects' fees and the duplication of buildings inasmuch as we had the plans.

"Let me tell you what we have done. First, under state law, there must be an architect for each building. But we have been doubling up for more than a decade. For example, away back in 1953 we built the Wilson and Harrison elementary schools—and they are duplicates.

Then, warming up to his subject, Yates quickly added:

"We have four junior high schools that are duplicates. There's Bryant, built in 1962, Robert Frost in 1964, Holmes in Section 17 and Nankin No. 6, on Hix Road. What's more Emerson and Riley Junior High Schools were built in 1956 and they are duplicates.

"And I might add," he continued, "that the Franklin and Stevenson High Schools are virtually duplicates. This doubling up has brought about a reduction in the architects' fees."

"Would you believe it," Upton interrupted, "we sacrificed kitchens for classrooms in many schools and cater the lunches to save money."

"You asked about double shifts," Yates pointed out. "We tried that for a time and found that the education provided was not as good. We had to shorten the periods and curtail use of athletic facilities.

We also learned that year round operation of the schools brought confusion. The youngsters had different vacation times in the same family. In college, where a boy or girl is away from home, this might work but not in elementary and high schools.

"We come as close as we can to making full use of the schools' by having a seven period day, starting in many cases at 7:30 in the morning.

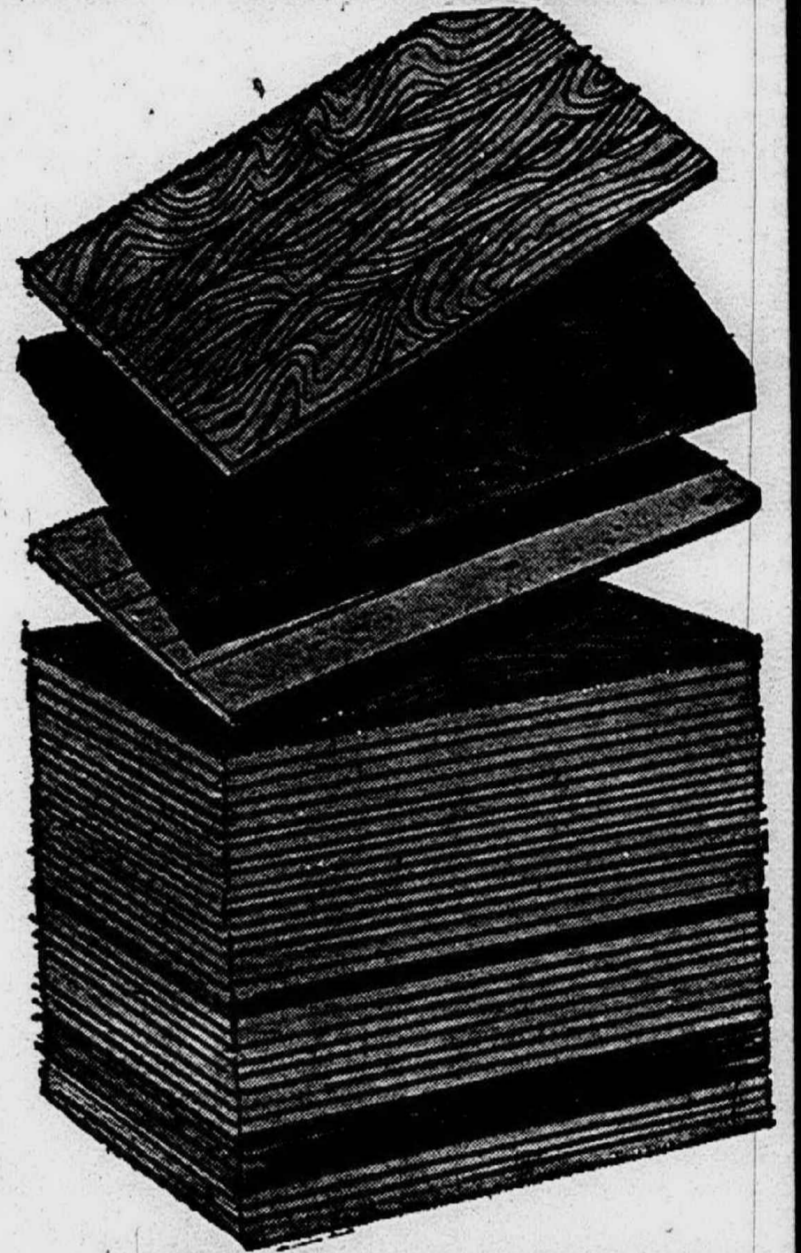

While the Superintendent was catching his breath, he passed the baton to Upton, who made this point:

"We built Franklin at a cost of $11.80 per square foot, including air conditioning. And don't forget," he added, "at our present rate of growth we are building an average of two and one half class rooms a week—while at the same time our tax base is getting smaller."

It was quite a revelation and an education just to sit and listen.

But I got the answers.

PROPOSAL WOULD TRIM PARKING LOTS

Schoolcraft Board Irked By Plans for Highway

The future and final fate of the route of Highway I-96 across the easterly edge of Plymouth Township and the City of Livonia appears to rest in the hands of the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees.

Trustee Sam Hudson, of Plymouth, made a motion that inasmuch as the plan as presented wasn't acceptable to the Board, it would be willing to consider alternates presented by the Highway Department. It received support of the Trustees. The matter was finally resolved with the Trustees agreeing that they would be willing to study an alternate plan but they had no thoughts of approving any plan that would be detrimental to the college.

It was agreed that most certainly any plan that would limit entrance to the campus wouldn't be for the betterment of the college.

At least, that was the impression given at last week's Board meeting when State Highway Director Howard Hill, Route Location Director Edward Bellenbaum and Steve Kessler, project man of the Highway Department, appeared to ask if the Board would welcome a proposed route following the general line of Haggerty Road.

"We are proposing this route which would cut approximately 100 feet from the front side of the college, eliminate the faculty parking lot, take a good slice from the student lot and provide entrance to the campus only from Seven Mile Road," said Hill in telling the Trustees of the Highway Department plans.

Hill indicated that the department has three routes on the boards.

One would have gone around the east side of the campus, isolating a section of Livonia between Eckles and Haggerty Roads. It was rejected by the Livonia City Council and Mayor Harvey Moeke on the grounds that it would have residents cut off from the remainder of the city.

Matter of fact, Moeke and the Council took such a determined stand against the proposed route that Hill and his associates had little to say except that it had been presented to the Council and just as promptly turned down.

The second route would have gone through the Northville State Hospital site—it met with scant attention from the staff there who pointed out it would have a depressed highway going through a hospital for mentally disturbed.

So, the second route also went down the drain to all intents and purposes.

That left the matter strictly up to route three—that which follows Haggerty Road across Plymouth Township and Livonia and one that would trim the 100 feet from the front of the Schoolcraft campus.

Hill's suggestion left the Trustees aghast for a moment but protests came loud and quick when it was learned that there wouldn't be any entrance to the campus except from Seven Mile Road.

The plans call for a huge cloverleaf at Six and Eight Mile roads with exits on Seven Mile Road but none on Six and no roadways from Six Mile Road into the campus.

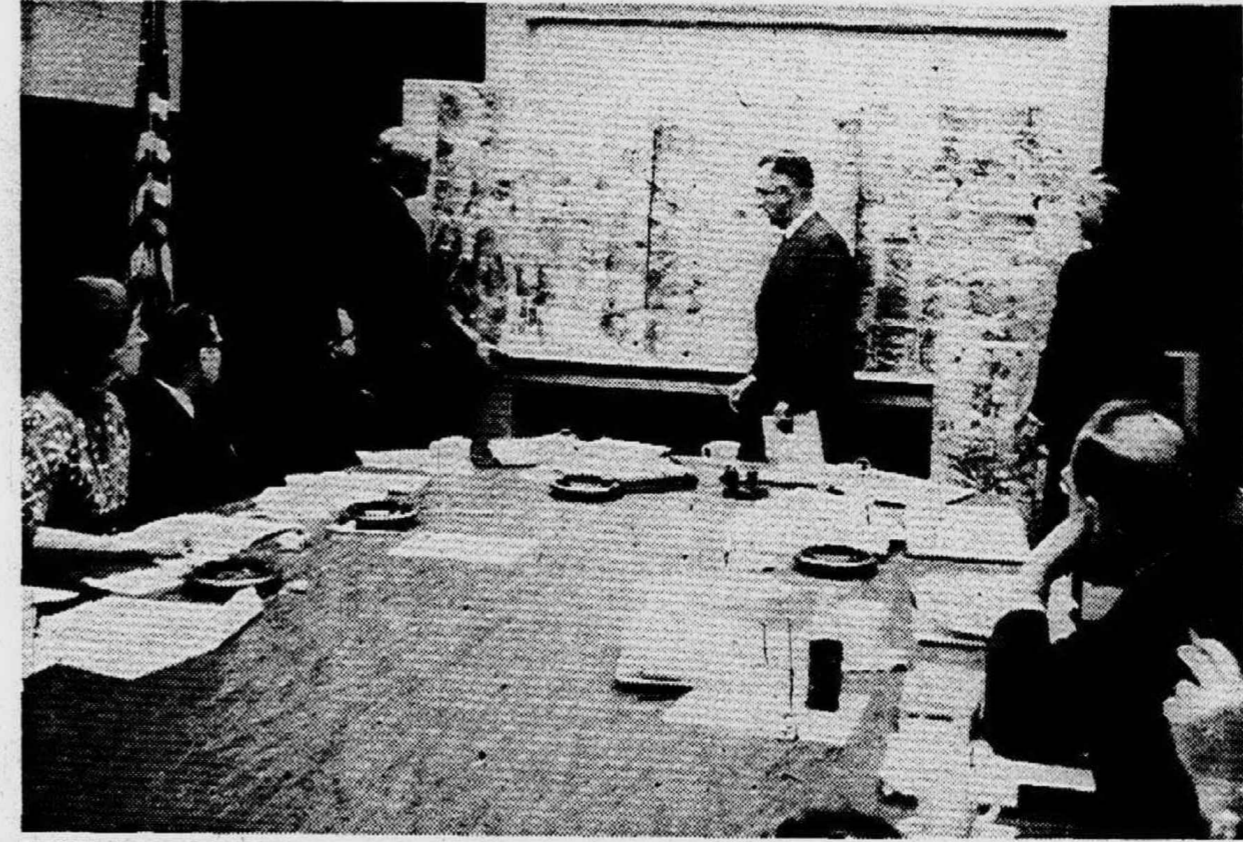

The plans do provide for a service road west of the proposed highway that would permit entrance to Hawthorne Center and the State Hospital but no crossovers from the service road to the college.

Board Chairman Harold Fischer reminded Hill that the Trustees hadn't budgeted an inch towards their campus plans until they received word from the Highway Department that it would be advisable to build as close to the western boundary of the property as possible since the proposed freeway would probably skirt the eastern campus boundaries and possibly take off as much as 120 feet.

"We followed your recommendations," said Fischer. "Now we find that because of that, we may be forced to give up as many as 100 feet from the front end of the campus, the faculty parking lot and about a third of the student lot."

It was pointed out that the college would have to change the entire complex of the campus, making it face east instead of west; would have to make arrangements for a service road in front of the Administration building that would bring the road within 20 feet of the building.

After considerable discussion,

Board OKs Tax Hike

With a pressing need for additional operating expenses due to the growth of the college and the anticipated increased enrollment next fall, the Schoolcraft College Board Wednesday approved action that will increase the tax levy by a half-mill effective Sept. 15.

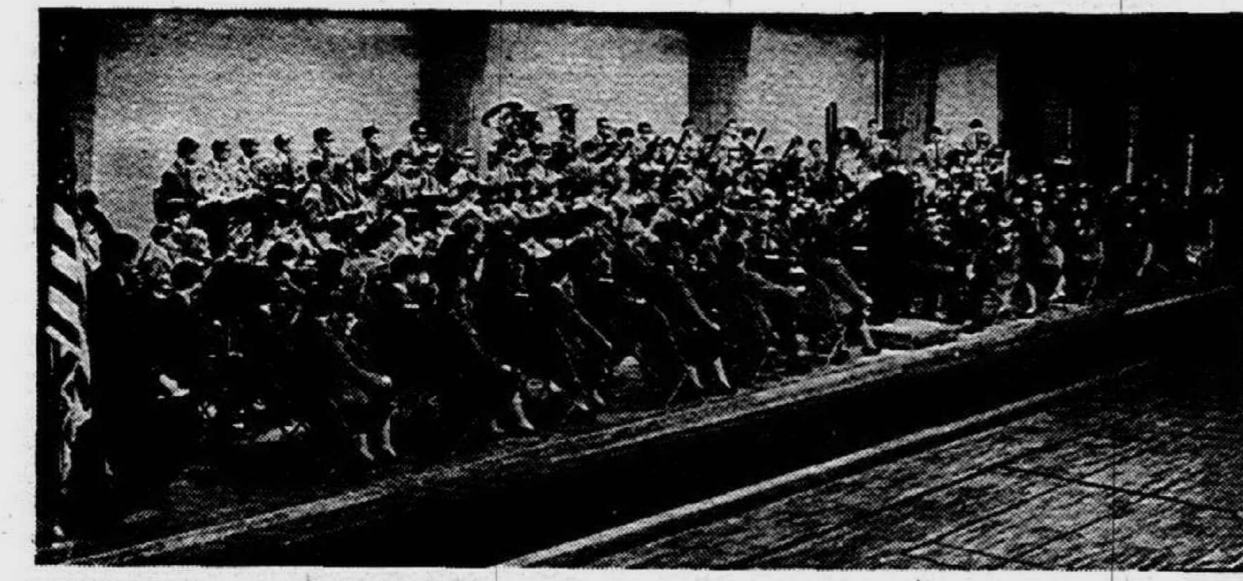

Apprised of the fact that the college is considered under the Charter provision of the new Constitution and thus under terms of Public Act 188 can levy without a vote needed debt requirements, The Trustees voted unanimously to use all of the vote millage for operations and assess an additional half-mill to cover the costs of current bonds.

The action will add $300,000 to the operating funds and provide $300,000 for the bonded indebtedness.

The action came after the Board received a verbal opinion by Attorney Fred Thrum, of the firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, that such a resolution was permissible. He planned to send the Board a written opinion within a few days.

In other actions, the trustees accepted a school bell from the Northville School district that will be placed in the tower with bells from all other sections of the college district.

Approved a change order in the technical building in accordance with a recommendation from the Architects.

THE FAMED Interlochen Academy orchestra, with more than 100 teenage members, will perform Saturday (Jan. 15) in the Plymouth High auditorium under the auspices of the Plymouth Symphony League.

Famed Teen Orchestra in Plymouth Saturday

The nationally famous Interlochen Arts Academy Orchestra, composed of outstanding teenage musicians from all parts of the United States, will make its first appearance in Plymouth, and one of the two in the area, Saturday in the Plymouth High auditorium.

Scheduled for 8 p.m., the concert, which is being sponsored by the Plymouth Symphony League to bolster its scholarship fund, is expected to attract a capacity crowd of more than 1,800.

The ticket sale started three weeks ago but members of the committee in charge indicated tickets will be available at the door on the night of the performance.

The orchestra, which has almost 100 members, is made up of musicians ranging in age from 13 to 18. The teenagers, from throughout America, practice two hours five days a week and then perform a concert on the sixth day.

Dr. Thor Johnson, Academy director, conductor of the Chicago Little Symphony, former director of orchestra activities at Northwestern University and for 11 years director of music for the Cincinnati Symphony, is the orchestra's regular conductor.

Also conducting is Dr. Joseph Maddy, founder and president of both the Academy and the National Music Camp from which the Academy grew.

Each will have a part in the Plymouth program.

Four area youngsters are members of the orchestra which lists approximately 21 from Detroit and suburbs.

The two from Plymouth are: Norman Fischer, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fischer, 505 McKinley, and Roberta Van Meter, 13700 Ridgewood Drive. Norman plays the cello with the orchestra and has attended Interlochen's summertime National Music Camp since 1960. Roberta plays violin and attended the summer camp in 1965.

The list includes two from Livonia: Victoria Haltom, 14, violinist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Haltom, 33544 Cindy, and Kathedine McIntoch, 14, violinist, daughter of Mrs. Jean McIntoch, 16135 Bell Creek Court.

Saturday's program includes:

Roman Carnival Overture, Op. 9 with Dr. Marry conducting; Concerto for Orchestra; Symphony on a French Mountain Air with Louis Goldstein at the piano; and Symphony No. 1, Op. 10 with Dr. Johnson conducting.

Plan Tuberculin Tests In All Livonia Schools

Tuberculin skin tests will be given to more than 9,000 students in Livonia public and parochial schools during the four weeks starting January 17 to determine whether they are free from tuberculosis.

During each of the four weeks teams from the Southeastern Michigan Tuberculosis Detection Project will give tests on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The results will be examined on Thursday and Friday.

Here is the schedule of testing for the first week:

Monday, Jan. 17 — Cooper, Hayes and Monroe Elementary, kindergartners and first graders.

Tuesday, Jan. 18 — Cleveland, Wilson and Jefferson Elementary, kindergartners and first graders; St. Damian first graders.

Wednesday, Jan. 19 — McKinley Elementary kindergartners and first graders; Whittier Junior High ninth graders.

The classes were selected at the request of the United States Public Health Service. Testing of kindergartners and first graders is also in keeping with the new state law requiring that all school students be tested for TB.

The Southeastern Michigan TB Detection Project, organized in 1956, serves Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw, Monroe and St. Clair counties.

It is financed in part by funds from the Detroit Tuberculosis Association, local and state health departments, Christmas Seal agencies and, most recently, the U.S. Public Health Service.

Meet Your Carrier Boy

Philip Michelini, 14, of 20402 Inkster Road, Redford Township, has been a carrier for the Observer News papers for the past four years, handling homes in his immediate area.

A student at St. Agatha High School,

Phil has ambitions of attending college although he also is looking in the direction of the Air Force if called into service when he becomes of draft age.

He is a member of Junior Achievement and enjoys putting model airplanes together that actually fly. He also enjoys reading fiction and nonfiction. His favorite subjects in high school are math and Latin.

Phil is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Michelini.

ISSUES WARNING TO MERCHANT

Observer Not Affiliated With Promotion Agency

Merchants in the area are warned that The Observer Newspapers have no connection or affiliation with an organization called "North American National Agency, Inc.," according to a statement by Milton Smith, general manager of the publications which service Livonia, Plymouth, Farmington, Redford Township, Garden City and Nankin Township.

A young man calling himself Gil T. Morgan, representing the agency, called last week at Jennifer's Beaute Salon in the Farmington Plaza and represented himself as being affiliated with The Observer.

Morgan told the shop's owner, Thelma Monear, that under the new ownership of the papers he could offer a special type of advertising in the women's section of all the newspapers for a total of $5 per week or $260 per year.

This particular advertisement would carry a commentary on hair styles and a notice of weekly specials. Jennifer's would be the only beauty shop in the Farmington area offered the service according to the presentation.

A copy of the contract lists the address of the Agency as 1380 Penobscot Building in Detroit. An answering service handles the incoming phone calls.

The young man, judged to be in his late 20's or early 30's by Mrs. Monear, told her that he lived in Redford Township.

C'ville To Seek Renewal

Voters in the Clarenceville School District will face a renewal millage proposition on the ballot Monday, Jan. 17.

The voters are being asked to renew a seven (7) mill levy which expires with the 1965 levy. Approval is being sought for another 10 year period to cover the years 1966 through 1975. The money is to be used only for general operating expenses.

All registered voters of the Clarenceville School District who own property are eligible to vote. There are two precincts. One is the Junior High School and Precinct 2 is the Senior High School.

This is not a tax increase for Clarenceville School District but a request for a renewal of an millage already levied. This renewal request if passed will not cost the residents of the district any more money.

Antique Walk Opens Thursday At Livonia Mall

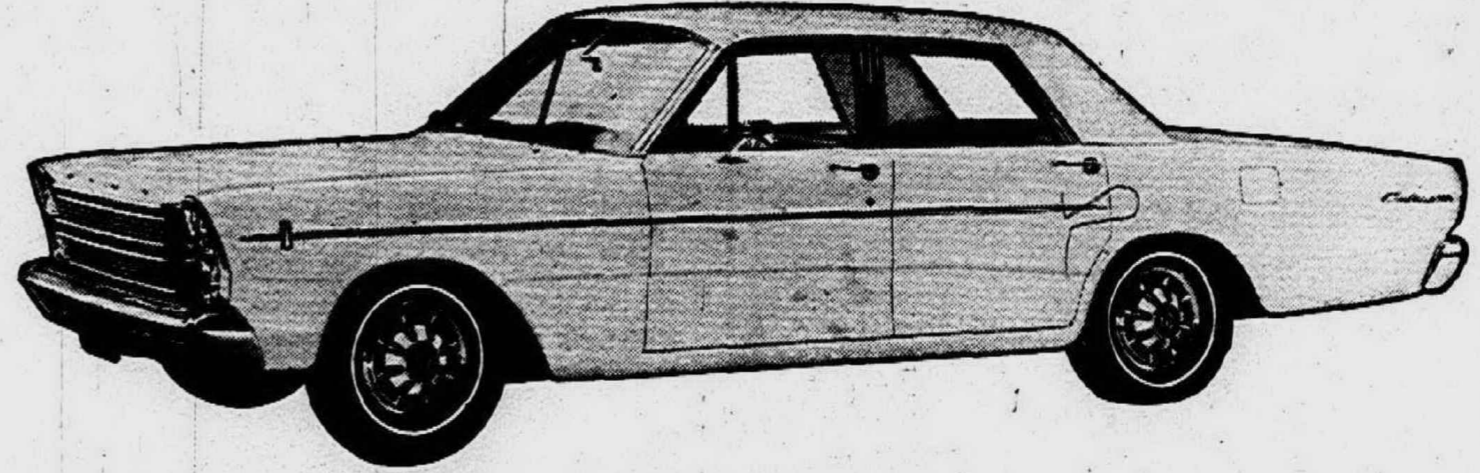

The "Antique Walk" opens again at Livonia Mall Shopping Center, Middlebelt at Seven Mile Road, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday (January 13-15).

Some 19 leading Antique dealers from the northwestern area of Metropolitan Detroit will be exhibiting and selling items of Americana in the three day show.

Livonia Mall's show is held indoors, in the climate-controlled mall of the completely enclosed shopping center. This will be the largest Antique Show yet held there.

Jerry Silberman, president of the sponsoring Livonia Mall Merchants' Association, noted that each successive Antique Show has drawn additional exhibitors and more thousands of visitors. "Making it," he said, "one of the most successful and interesting shows of its kind in the area."

MR. AND MRS. DALE C. GOOD

Partridge-Good Plight Troth

Marilyn M. Partridge, became the bride of Dale C. Good on Dec. 18, at an 11 a.m. ceremony in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in Livonia. The Rev. J. F. Coulton performed the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Partridge, 49433 Pine, Plymouth.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Emma Good, 15494 Forrer, Detroit and the late Professor A. C. Good.

The bride's wedding gown was empire style with lace top and silk taffeta skirt with a panel train. The sleeves were wrist-length and the bodice had a scoop neckline. The headdress was composed of three flowers. She carried a cascade of white butterfly rosebuds.

Candida Partridge was the matron of honor. She wore an empire style gown of green on green crepe. A green bow was in her hair. She carried a crescent bouquet of festive red carnations and English holly.

Ruthann Busenbark was the bridesmaid. She wore a similar empire style gown of green on beige crepe. She wore a similar headpiece and carried a bouquet similar to the matron of honor.

Kathy Nazars was the flower girl and she carried a miniature bouquet. Ring bearer was Benjy Partridge. Clay Good of St. Charles, Mo., was best man. Arvin Good, St. Charles, Mo., and Howard Partridge seated the guests.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. The bride's mother wore turquoise crepe and a white carnation corsage.

The groom's mother wore a green crepe dress.

The wedding reception was held at the Kenwood Lounge where over 75 guests attended.

The bride wore a blue brocade going away outfit. Following a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Washington, D. C., the newlyweds will make their future home in Plymouth.

The bride graduated from Bentley High in 1963 and the groom graduated from Cooley High in '55, and attended Wayne State University.

PICTURE TALK by Les Wilson

Discover the Great Indoors

No doubt about it, the great outdoors is big and grand and wonderful. But when it comes to pictures of family and friends (instead of mountains and lakes), your own home is the greatest place in the world to take them.

So, discover the great indoors! Birthdays, anniversaries, friendly get-togethers, the kids and their pets, family projects... there's no end to the great picture-taking opportunities in your home.

And now that Kodak has made it so downright easy to take indoor pictures, it's a shame to let them get away from you. Flashcube photography is the answer. All you do is drop a KODAK-PAK Cartridge into a new KODAK INSTAMATIC Camera. Pop on a flashcube, and you're all set to take four flash pictures without changing bulbs. After each shot, the flashcube rotates automatically as the film advances. You're always set for the next picture opportunity.

If you want really great indoor pictures this winter — color or black-and-white snaps or color slides — come in and see the new KODAK INSTAMATIC Cameras with flashcube. We have complete outfits, including camera, film, batteries, and flashcube, from as little as $17.95. Drop in soon, and start discovering how great the indoors can be.

JOYCE PLAMP, first tenant of Brookfield Apartments displays some of the attractive features of her new home. A built-in stove and king size refrigerator in copper-tone color are separated by a good sized work table with drawer and cupboard space beneath.

Apartment Living Can Be Beautiful

If there is anything a house apartment knows what that means. Drapes are furnished also. The air conditioning is attached to the furnace so that all unsightly apparatus is not seen jutting out at all angles to the wall. The patios are especially attractive. On one side is a space for trees and a flower garden, the other part of the patio is walled in by brick and would be an ideal spot for an umbrella table, and the wall affords privacy. A full basement is included with each apartment. The one bedroom apartments are identical in all detail except that they are on one floor. Brookfield's first tenant moved in New Year's Eve, Joyce Plamp, a teacher at the Larkshire School celebrated the New Year in her brand new home. Sharing the apartment with her is Patricia Brown who is also a teacher at the Larkshire School. Joyce gave her reason for selecting Brookfield as, "I loved the feeling of spaciousness. There is no noise from other tenants or apartments and the walls are soundproof." Brookfield Apartments are built by Albert Nelson, the only apartment builder in Michigan to receive a first honor award in nationwide competition for apartment building. Sales for Brookfield units are handled by J. L. Hudson Realty Co.

AN OPEN LETTER

Concerning a Rezoning Proposal which may Vitaly Affect You as a Citizen and Taxpayer

Next Monday, January 17, at their 7:30 p.m. meeting in the Township Hall, your Nankin Township Board of Trustees will consider a decision which will have a very important bearing on the future of this community. We feel this decision is so important that it should be brought to the attention of everyone in Nankin Township.

The Board will vote on whether or not to create an ordinance rezoning 45 acres of land on Cowan Road, across from Westland Center. A decision to rezone this parcel as requested would affect the entire community because it would be a major departure from the very excellent Master Zoning Plan so recently adopted by the Township Board to assure orderly, well-planned growth of this community.

Citizens will recall that in 1960 the Township Board wisely employed a nationally known firm of planning experts to develop this Master Zoning Plan for the entire Township. After three years of careful, thoughtful study, and after many public hearings, the Master Plan was completed and enacted into law by the Township Board.

Westland Center was planned and built within the framework of that plan. It gave us confidence that the community was dedicated to look ahead to constructive and consistent future development.

Under the Master Plan a large parcel of land North of Cowan Road was zoned for apartment use. The owners of a 45-acre parcel of that land are now asking the Township Board to rezone their land as a regional shopping center. The proposed rezoning has been considered twice by the Township Planning Commission and after full public hearings has twice been voted down as not in the public interest and not consistent with sound community planning.

Many interested citizens believe that rezoning now as requested could be a major step toward breakdown of the Master Plan, and that a policy of spot rezoning could ultimately seriously endanger property values all over the community. Moreover, if commercial and residential developers cannot have confidence in the existing Master Plan, they are very likely to be deterred from undertaking the kind of major growth programs the area so obviously desires.

Because of the controversial nature of this rezoning proposal, we suggest to you and to our Township Board that the rezoning proposal be deferred and submitted for impartial review and study by the experts of the Metropolitan Regional Planning Commission — and that the ultimate decision be based on their recommendations. This, we feel, whatever the final decision, will reinforce your public officials in the action they must finally take.

If, as a taxpaying citizen, you believe that this proposed change from the existing zoning ordinance should have the benefit of such an impartial study, may I suggest that you demonstrate your interest and your concern by calling Supervisor Thomas H. Brown at the Township Hall (PA 1-6000)—or any other trustee known to you—and express your opinion.

We at Westland are proud to be corporate citizens of Nankin Township. We are confident that alert citizens and their public officials will always chart a forward-looking course for the best interests of all the community.

Joseph L. Hudson, Jr.
Board Chairman
WESTLAND CENTER

Hare Explains New Laws; Urges All to Get Licenses Now

LANSING—Now that the holidays are over and things are getting back to normal, Secretary of State James M. Hare is asking all vehicle owners who still have not purchased 1966 plates to do so in early January if possible.

"There are going to be plenty of distraught, angry persons in late February when Michigan faces a rush period like we've never seen before," he said.

Hare noted that license sales are taking longer this year because of collections for the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund, in some instances up to three times as long.

He reminds car owners that they do not have to have their car titles to buy 1966 plates. The previous year's registration certificates will do just as well.

Hare explained that many persons, who have a late model car and have a lien on it, do not have a title. "In 1965, Michigan became a title state. All titles were sent to the lien holder such as the bank or finance company until the contract is paid off," he said.

Registration certificates are usually easier to produce since most motorists either carry them in their cars or on their person.

Hare points out that the new Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund is now in effect and claims for accidents which have occurred since the first day of 1966 may be filed by innocent victims of uninsured motorists.

As chief administrator of the Fund, Hare said he did not expect any claims to be coming in for a while—until possibly the end of the month at the earliest.

"Persons have one year from the date of the accident to file against the Fund," he stated. "In any event, our Lansing central Fund office is getting geared for business."

Hare indicated persons who have not contributed into the Fund since they have until February 28 to buy plates and make their contributions are eligible for claims against the Fund.

Hare also emphasizes that contrary to some opinion, it is not mandatory for car owners to carry uninsured motorist coverage as part of their auto liability insurance package.

He said the "word had gotten around that everyone had to carry the uninsured motorist coverage." Hare said the new law, embodied in Senate Bill 544 passed by the Legislature, was among three stipulations exacted by Governor Romney before he would sign the bill which created the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund.

Supporters of SB 544 said it would reduce claims against the Fund and would cover insured motorists under some circumstances where the Fund would not protect them, notably when driving outside Michigan.

The Secretary of State said he personally recommends that motorists keep or take out UM coverage.

carry the UM protection, then he will have to indicate the fact to his insurance company in writing by rejecting the additional coverage."

Carpenter Is New Head of Shopping Centers

Horace Carpenter, Jr., was named president of Shopping Centers, Inc., by Joseph L. Hudson, Jr., chairman of the board of Shopping Centers, Inc., a subsidiary of The J. L. Hudson Company. Richard W. Frey was named vice president and general manager in the same announcement.

The announcement was made immediately following the January meeting of the Board of Directors of Shopping Centers, Inc.

According to Hudson, "the promotion of Mr. Carpenter to the position of president is in recognition of the increasing size and scope of Shopping Centers, Inc. operations, both present and planned."

Created 15 years ago as a real estate subsidiary for Hudson's suburban branches, it has steadily grown into a major real estate development and investment company in its own right. With substantial further growth clearly in sight we feel that it is timely for Shopping Centers, Inc., management to have independent corporate status."

Carpenter has served as vice-president and general manager of Shopping Centers, Inc. since the organization was formed in 1950. He has been in charge of the development and management of the firm's three regional Shopping Centers; Northland Center, the world's largest, which opened in 1954, Eastland Center which opened in 1957 and Westland Center which opened in mid-1965.

Frey has been vice president and assistant general manager of Shopping Centers, Inc. since 1963. Prior to that he was manager of Northland Center. As vice president and general manager Frey will be responsible for the operation of the three existing centers and for the development of future regional shopping centers.

License Plates Yield $78 Million for State

LANSING — License plates, long a multi-million dollar revenue producer for Michigan, climbed to another all-time yearly high of $78-million during the 1965 licensing year which closed October 31.

Total, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare, was $4.1-million over the previous high established only last year.

Plates sales moved close to the 4 1/2-million mark, an increase of nearly 220,000.

JOHN J. EVANS, of Grosse Pointe, director of the Eastland Regional office of Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Co., with headquarters in Plymouth, has been named Director of Training. He will develop company training procedures and operations in his new assignment.

Evans Lists Changes in TE Plant

R. K. Tobin, Director of Sales of Evans Products Company's Railway Equipment Division, has announced the appointment, within the Division, of J. J. Chavis as Assistant Director of Sales, H. F. Little as Assistant Sales Manager, W. E. Gilkey as Regional Manager, St. Louis Office, and J. R. McMillen as Marketing Manager.

Chavis has been with Evans 20 years and was most recently Manager of the Division's Southwestern Region. Prior to joining Evans, he spent 13 years in Traffic and Mechanical Departments of the Missouri Pacific Railroad.

Little has been with Evans since 1947 in various capacities in service and sales engineering. He was most recently Supervisor of Orders and Schedules for the Division.

Gilkey has had many years experience as a sales engineer in the railway equipment field. Just prior to joining Evans, he was with the New York Air Brake Company.

McMillen has been a sales engineer with Evans since graduating from Michigan State University 10 years ago. The Railway Equipment Division is part of Evans' Transportation Equipment Group, headquartered in Plymouth. The T. E. Group also includes the Railway Car Division, the Automotive and Industrial Division, the Research and Development Division, and the United States Railway Equipment Company, and Evans subsidiary.

Late Tax Bills Cost Money

The Livonia Treasurer's Office is swamped with phone calls of residents who have paid their taxes in escrow accounts to mortgage companies and did not receive credit for it for 1965 tax purposes.

The mortgage companies were not able to pay taxes to the City in 1965 because they did not receive the tax bills from the Treasurer's office until too late in December.

City Treasurer Carl Wagenschultz said he was unable to get the tax bills mailed because the state tax commission held them up pending late hearings against assessments.

The penalty to some residents will be as high as $75., that ordinarily they could claim on their income tax.

Residents paying their taxes directly to the city are given the benefit and have had their bills stamped paid in December.

Legion Ladies Plan Major 1966 Events

With a record enrollment during the annual membership drive, Mrs. M. Heischer, president of Passage-Gayde American Legion Auxiliary Unit 391, is making plans for one of the busiest years in history.

The Unit's program for 1966 calls for special emphasis each month on different activities, designed to meet the needs of the growing and changing community.

During February, the Auxiliary stresses Americanism and will join with the nation in the observance of the birthdays of two great Americans, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

Rehabilitation Chairman Fern Burleson reported that in December, James Stein and Harry Burleson delivered and distributed 100 canteen books and cigars for Christmas to veterans at Maybury Sanatorium.

A short business meeting will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 19 at 7 p.m. to which all officers are asked to attend. The regular business meeting will follow at 8 p.m.

Plymouth Fall Festival To Evaluate Program In Meeting on Jan. 18

The annual meeting of the Plymouth Fall Festival will be held Tuesday, Jan. 18, at 7:30 p.m. in the Council Chambers in the City Hall.

All organizations which participated in the 1965 Fall Festival are urged to have a representative. The purpose is to evaluate the 1965 Festival, and, to offer suggestion for 1966.

A final financial report of the 1965 Festival will be distributed. It now appears the festival will close its books with a small deficit.

Will Livonia Remain in Pocket?

The City of Livonia doesn't want it. The State of Michigan wants no part of it. And now Schoolcraft College's Board of Trustees just as much as told the State Highway Department that they also don't want any part of proposed Freeway I-96 if it is going to take a sizeable slice from the front of the campus along Haggerty Road.

All of this came to light last week when top officials of the Highway Department appeared before the board to tell of plans for a proposed freeway to follow the general route of Haggerty Road along the easterly boundary of Plymouth Township and the westerly border of the City of Livonia and smack across the college campus.

All of this seems like making a mountain out of a mole hill until one learns all of the ramifications of the Highway Department proposal.

In the first place, the Department originally had three routes on the drawing boards.

One would have followed a route between Eckles and Haggerty Roads, that took a sizeable slice out of Livonia and left a triangle of land more or less isolated from the remainder of the city. It would have chopped off a portion of the eastern side of the college campus.

Mayor Harvey Moecke and members of the City Council denounced the plan, indicating that there were plans for a subdivision in the area for homes in the $40,000 to $50,000 class.

So, after listening to the protests, the Highway Department backed away from the plan.

Plan No. 2 was to route the freeway through the Northville State Hospital and it was promptly stamped unfeasible almost as quickly as suggested. Who ever heard of having a highly traveled, depressed freeway run through land used for institutions for mentally disturbed.

That left the Highway Department with Plan No. 3 along Haggerty Road that would slice a big chunk off the front side of the Schoolcraft campus, eliminating the faculty parking lot and taking about a third of the student lot.

But that's only part of the story. The plans provide for cloverleafs at Six and Eight Mile Roads with exits at Seven Mile Road but no entrances to the college except from Seven Mile.

The Trustees immediately charged this aspect of the plan just as much as they were bitter about the proposal to have the highway along Haggerty Road.

They remember rather clearly a few years back when the Highway Department advised them to build as close to Haggerty Road as possible since the Highway would come across the eastern side of the campus.

They also recalled how the same Livonia City Administration, that appears now want the highway along Haggerty Road, did so much to induce the college to locate in Livonia. It was the administration that made the site available and then made the offer even more attractive by putting in water and sewers.

Now that same administration appears to care less about the college and more about a proposed subdivision that hasn't yet seen the light of day.

All of these were told to the Highway Department officials. But the answers were all the same. Take the route as proposed or leave it—if you do the latter then it appears as if I-96 will not go through Livonia at all.

The Trustees are wondering about the justification of the proposed route. It would mean the present front of the college would be the back—but the buildings are already built and in use and future plans call for buildings to face the present structures.

They would have to relocate the lots and they are wondering just how the Highway Department proposes to have students enter the campus with only one entrance and exit on the boards—on Seven Mile Road.

They are wondering what will happen when the campus enrollment reaches the projected 10,000 within a few years.

They would like the answers to all these questions. That's why they told the Highway Department the proposed route is not acceptable and there isn't much the Highway Department can do if the Trustees stand pat. R. T. T.

The Aliases of Ben Franklin

On Jan. 17, we celebrate the birthday of one of America's most outstanding men, Benjamin Franklin. Statesman, orator, inventor, newspaperman, his name has been an illustrious one throughout the ages. His story is too well known for repetition, but a little known fact is that he wrote under several non-de-plumes in his life, several of them purporting to be women, in fact.

Benjamin Franklin came into printing via his love of the sea, strange as it seems. He was the 15th child of a poor but respected candle-maker who fathered 17 children. Ben loved the sea, and used to spend all his time in the harbor at Boston, watching the ships.

His father fearing that he would run away to sea, apprenticed him to his brother, James, who ran a small printing shop. Franklin rebelled at the mundane tasks required of him, such as washing and sorting type, delivering papers, taking ads for jobs, etc., and longed to get into the creative end of the newspaper.

Realizing that his brother would never print his articles, Ben would sneak to the job at dark and slip his articles under the door. He signed the name of Silence Dogood to the articles. Silence was a woman who worked as housekeeper to a minister (he wrote) who later married her. Under this guise, Ben aired his opinion on many of the leading topics of the day. His brother was impressed with the articles and decided to print them. They did not have quite the effect Ben had hoped for as his brother James was imprisoned for a period after printing them.

Franklin abandoned writing under an alias for awhile after that, but years later again turned to this ruse when he wanted to buy a paper. There were two rival papers in town. When the publisher of one tricked him, causing him to lose an opportunity to legitimately acquire the paper, Franklin decided to outwit him.

He wrote a series of letters to the opposite paper and signed them Busy Body, purporting to be a simple woman who took an interest in events in her community. So salty were his comments that soon everyone was reading his rival's paper. Discouraged, the publisher who had tricked him sold to him and sailed away to the West Indies, never realizing the true identity of Busy-Body.

Thus Franklin obtained the Gazette which remained an outstanding newspaper until he sold it.

One of his most famous non-de-plumes was that of Richard Saunders. Ben wrote that Saunders was a poor astrologer whose wife kept nagging him to go to work, so he decided to put together a book of proverbs of all countries. This came into being, Poor Richards Almanac, which has outsold nearly every other book except the Bible.

Here are a few of the most famous sayings: "Up, Sluggard and waste not life—in the grave will be sleep enough."

"A plowman on his legs is higher than a gentleman on his knees."

"Tis Hard for an Empty Bag to Stand Upright!"

"Constant Dropping Wears Away Stones". "Fish and Visitors Stink in Three Days". "Little Strokes Fell Great Oaks".

A Point: Not A Thing

Many of us who keep endeavoring to understand the New Math and are still floundering might just as well toss in the anchor and hang on as to try to decipher some of the esoteric explanations.

One of the most recent comments made in the 12th of a special series, running in the morning paper printed in Detroit, states:

"A point is an idea, not a thing. We draw a small dot to represent a point in space even though a point has no size nor dimension."

This seemed logical enough until the succeeding statement:

"A point exists in space. Space is filled with points. In fact, space is nothing but points. Space is said to be the set of all points."

Now this is all pretty nifty! But what did the man say?

Maybe it would be best to head for one of the adult education classes being offered in the Livonia Schools but available to anyone in the surrounding area.

There is a "Modern Math for Parents."

Let's see now: "A point has no size or dimension but space is filled with them..."

Should we ask the teacher to explain this at the first or second class meeting?

Farmington

Salute To Vernon P. Fisher

The resignation of Vernon P. Fisher as trustee of the Farmington Board of Education leaves a void that will be hard to fill.

For ten years Mr. Fisher willingly has offered his services and energy far beyond the two official meetings a month that ordinarily come to the public eye. His viewpoints always have remained objective and his knowledge of the construction business has provided valuable information in the big, expensive task of constructing new schools and additions.

Quick to oppose what he thought wrong and just as quick to offer praise for a job well done, Mr. Fisher's opinions always have been respected and carefully weighed.

The job of a school board member is a time-consuming and often a thankless one. Only a Board member really knows. There are study sessions in between Board meetings, conventions to attend, county gatherings, school board association meetings, countless other functions to attend, requests for speeches and other community work requested of a school board member.

Mr. Fisher has not been one to put aside these duties. He could still sit on the Board and cut-back on the school work he is doing. But, this is not in his constitution. A job well done with the willingness to volunteer complete service. This is why Vernon P. Fisher is lost to Farmington Public Schools.

He will be missed. JOY STINSON

Must Economize in Livonia School District

Editor: Subject—Livonia School Millage and Bond Issue.

On behalf of the large number of fellow citizens like the writer with fixed or declining income, may I express an opinion on the above subject on which we are asked to vote next Monday. I define the declining incomes by the fact that purchasing power of our dollars declines about three per cent a year.

This necessitates pretty strict economy on our part. We cannot help wondering if the School Administration exercise like thrift in their spending, we think not. On the millage question, we think the School Board has gone "hog wild." Our present tax load direct and indirect is plenty onerous enough.

As to the bond issue we are of the opinion the amount requested is excessive. True it may be necessary to eliminate some fads and frills, so what, a sound educational system is still possible.

These opinions are the writer's who represents no particular group but have talked to enough fellow citizens to believe the views as expressed above are held by a sizable segment of the population.

If I am correct, I hope they will register their opinions at the polls Jan. 17. JAMES W. ORE

The Reader "Speaks Up"

Valid Reasons For 9-9 Support

Editor: After reading a letter to the editor in last week's Observer, I was prompted to write this reply. I am supporting the 9 million—9 mills for our schools for the following reasons: The 9 million dollar bond issue:

1. The $9 million bond issue will not increase our property taxes.

2. The bond issue spreads the cost of school financing over a longer period of time requiring all residents to pay their share.

3. I served on the citizens committee studying the fourth high school and realize the need for not only this school but for a fifth high school.

The 9 mills for operation:

1. The cost of educating our youngsters must be shared by everyone in the form of a property tax, a sales tax, a state income tax, or a federal income tax.

2. Since we do not have fiscal reform in Michigan, the state cannot increase its aid to schools and the federal government with its income tax cut is in no position to do it; so the property owner must face his responsibility.

3. The 9 mills may seem high but it will cost the average taxpayer less than the social security tax increase of $103 per year to support the federal "Medicare" program.

Mr. Remaley's letter last week blasting the School Board and administration is completely unjustified in my opinion. I believe Mr. Yates qualified to receive a $25,000 income as would any president of a business employing 2,000 people with a budget of 16 million and a bonded indebtedness of $48 million. It is odd that I have never seen Mr. Remaley at School Board meetings to offer his suggestions concerning the schools. Also, if he knows how to cut school construction costs 35%, we would welcome him on our building construction committee of the School Board Advisory Council. DAVID F. MERRISON Livonia Citizen

9 Plus 9 Too Much

Editor: The headline in the Wednesday issue of The Observer, Jan. 5, entitled "Why We Need Nine-Plus Nine" is cause for grave concern.

Five years ago our tax in Livonia was $325 per year. In the ensuing years it has risen to $505 per year. This represents an average increase of $36 each year.

Your paper along with certain individuals are now beating that proverbial bush for another increase.

As iffy the Dopster (if he were alive would ask) when is this march for taxation going to end? We approve school increases with the promise of future relief and the votes are no sooner tabulated when other requests for money are forthcoming. I wonder how long people of Livonia will tolerate this type exposure.

It would not surprise me if the request for "Nine-Plus Nine" will be overwhelmingly defeated in the coming election. If this occurs I along with many others will say—"justice has finally prevailed."

J. BENEDICT LIVONIA

From Former Board Member

Editor:

When I first started to read the anti-school letter in last week's issue, I was concerned that such a long and obviously uninformed statement was printed without the majority view, expressing what is right with our schools, also being reported. The more that I read of that letter though the more I realized that it was so utterly ridiculous that I started to laugh aloud. Of course, the thousands never believe any of the comments of accept any of the proposals suggested by that writer even if he were serious, which I doubt.

For example, the best bargain we have bought for ourselves as a community is the type of school construction employed here for the past several years. Utilizing poured concrete, concrete block, durable floors or terrazzo and vinyl, and good lighting, we have trouble-free, low-maintenance structures which should last 50 years or more. The wise use of color in protective paint finishes makes them attractive enough for good education. In addition they cost less than just about any group of school buildings in this part of the United States.

When I am asked how I feel about the Nine-and-Nine proposal on the ballot for Monday, Jan. 17th, I have to answer that it has been over 1 1/2 years since I served as a school board member, so I just do not know enough of the details to venture an opinion about the specific number of mills being requested. In this situation I am just like the rest of your readers who cannot be fully informed of the details of running our schools, and should not have to be.

The important point, however, is that we have to have confidence in our school leadership and support them, or else replace them. In this, I do feel qualified to speak because we do, thank goodness, have not only dedicated Board members and full-time staff administrators, but also highly able ones. They are able to keep their "eye on the doughnut and not on the hole"; that is, they have the welfare and training of our children foremost in their minds. Is not that the reason most of us live here? What other purpose have we except to lead productive lives and train our children to take their place in this world, hopefully to do a better job than we have done.

Everyone who has even poked his nose out of his home lately can see the fantastic home-building going on in town. It is obvious that every new house, just like our older ones, will be filled with the patter of little feet, all on way to schools which must be built, heated, lighted, and equipped not just with books, but most importantly with the best teachers we can find.

On this basis, then, I have personally concluded that: 1) there is an obvious need for the new school to be built starting now, 2) that there will be more children to teach and inflationary influences have forced up the cost of everything the schools buy, 3) that I do trust the judgment and the wisdom of such outstanding public educators as Mr. Benton-Yates and his tremendously capable assistant for business, Ron Upton, 4) that the Board has weighed the evidence and concluded that we need the Nine-and-Nine, and 5) that I must vote in support of it because I must trust their wisdom and I love my children. LEE E. LANDES, LIVONIA.

Let's Face It—We Need Schools

Editor:

It seems that whenever a school millage election is in the offing here in Livonia we hear and give the same old arguments for and against a tax increase. Well, what else can be said? We all know that our population in the Livonia School District is growing rapidly, and anyone who has rolled a basket through the local super market is aware of the ever-increasing cost of living.

Certainly no one will dispute the fact that you can't educate 32,000 children for the same amount of money that it takes to educate 25,000. It is also fairly obvious that the schools do not enjoy any immunity against cost of living increases. In other words, the schools are asking for more money to educate more children and to keep pace with increasing costs.

Livonians have spent a lot of money for good schools; and they, unlike many others, can proudly proclaim their willingness to support education. It takes unusual dedication to education to continually vote for increasing taxes; and, if the voters approve the proposed nine mill increase, and I hope they do, we will have witnessed an outstanding display of civic pride and community responsibility. DONALD H. MURCH LIVONIA

Observing the Scene...

By MYRA CHANDLER

As one of the faithful shepherds of the sacred cow known as education I feel I must rise to the occasion. As the mouths appear at our family table we feed them—as the minds appear we must educate them. We don't divide the milk into smaller portions, we buy more milk.

Milk on the table is not a frill of life and neither is education.

When the critics of education say there are "too many frills"—I wonder if they are content to listen to radio instead of having a TV in their home; are content to wear a watch and fob across their middle, instead of one that is sleek and smart on their wrist; if their wives use carpet sweepers instead of vacuum cleaners, wooden spoons instead of mix-masters.

Our schools are not filled with frills—even to the most critical of us, if they would compare—they have modernized. What was good enough for grandma and grandpa, unfortunately today is not good enough for junior. The world has changed.

The Observer has tried to bring both sides of this question forth on nine mills and nine million for building. The League of Women Voters has an objective, comprehensive pro and con on the question in today paper, page 15-B. You have to make up your own mind, of course.

Since I work hard for my money I feel it is up to me how I spend it. I resent paying the high taxes I must, but I want police and fire protection, want to reach out with an arm to get my mail, and certainly want my children to be professionally taught everything they can possibly sponge up from 6 to 21.

If these proposals pass the average home owner will be increasing his taxes by about $100 per year. If the millage and bond issue fails, the Administration and School Board will just come back again, and again until they get what they need. Each election costs money. Be assured they will return to the ballot because it is the School Board's and Administration's responsibility to educate the children. If they are doing a good job this is the only course of action they can take.

Many senior citizens complain about their income being stable but their taxes are climbing. Senior citizens are receiving more increased benefits annually, and parents of young children are paying annually for this.

It may not be the best system to ever be invented—the one under which we live—but what country has a better one?

As a citizen, examining my conscience, I cannot say that I would rather spend 100 dollars on furniture, entertainment, travel, or even food, than I would to keep my school district progressive, competitive and thorough. If you can, then I only pray there are more of me that go to the polls than there are of you.

Citizen Cites Danger Let's Face Reality

Open Letter to Board of Wayne County Road Commissioners, President of the Westbrook School PTA and Secretary and active member of the North Central Livonia Civic Association and a citizen feeling responsible for the welfare of my fellow man, I want to inform you of a dangerous blind area in the newly constructed Merriman Road.

I would like to personally point out the danger traveling South from Baseline Road. One can clearly observe the traffic light at the Seven Mile-Merriman intersection and the road may seem clear for passing. However, there is a summit of a hill near the crossroad of Norfolk and a driver cannot see an approaching car just on the other side.

This condition exists also if traveling South from Seven Mile Road to Eight Mile. There is no warning "do not pass," nor is the road pavement marked.

It is a shame in this day and age when such powerful road and earth moving equipment can move mountains that this condition should be constructed into the road instead of it being leveled off and lowered as the rest of Merriman Road. MRS. E. NIKORAK LIVONIA

We need tax reform to relieve the burden on the property owner now as we have for years, yet even our State Representatives voted against it last legislative session.

Since we cannot rid ourselves of the responsibility to the youth simply by ignoring the issue, we must do two things: First, we must vote to provide the funds needed now, and second, we must insist that our elected representatives in Lansing look at the problems of this and other school districts and demand that they face up to their responsibilities or be replaced next November. LEROY C. BENNETT, LIVONIA

Buses for Safety

Editor: We are constantly hearing fasten your seat belts, for a safe ride and safety is constantly being preached, and yet the school buses in the Six to Seven Mile, west of Farmington area are jammed every day to the door.

Children in this area, not only have never been able to sit down for lack of seats, but hardly have standing room. We have been promised additional buses for some time. Why has this condition been permitted for this length of time? In this neighborhood many people feel they are endangering our children's lives by not having sufficient bus service. MRS. # M Honors Nine Area Freshmen

Nine area freshmen are among 464 first year students at the University of Michigan participating in the academically select Honors Program. The figure is approximately 16 per cent of the 2,896 freshmen who entered the College of Literature, Science and the Arts for the fall semester. There are 301 sophomores, 235 juniors and 184 seniors in the 1,184 student program.

Michigan, with 256 honors freshmen, has the most in the program. Illinois, Ohio and New York with 48, 41 and 32 respectively are next in line among the 27 participating states.

The Honors Program, initiated in 1957, admits students on the basis of scholastic aptitude and achievement scores. The program consists of fulfilling basic distribution requirement in the freshman and sophomore years in special introductory courses.

"Enriched programs" are also elected by the Honors Students which cover the same subjects as regular courses but in greater depth.

In the junior and senior years, the Honors Students select majors in various departments and elect courses which intensify their studies leading to undergraduate degrees.

Area freshmen involved in the program are:

- GARDEN CITY—Karen Serl-gvichl, 8045 Randy.
- PLYMOUTH—John Burg-ener, 1317 Ageridan.
- LIVONIA—Clifford Arola, 29522 Puritan; John Bennett, 14249 Ingram; Michael Buck-ley, 9945 Garden; Constance Cleston, 16885 Mayfield; Cary Gordon, 37937 Jamison; Elyse Hulquist, 28984 Minton; and Mark Rabinovitch, 32325 W. Seven Mile Road.

Livonia DPR Steps Up Indoor Card

The Livonia Recreation De- partment winter term of leisure time activities for boys and girls is being expanded this week according to Assistant Supt. Bill Zirblis.

Afternoon recreation ac- tivities including group games and sport skills are open at Mad- ison, Kennedy, Botsford, Lin- coln, Grant, Adams, Web- ster, Harrison, Johnson, Pierson, Hoover, Hull, Wilson, Mc- Kinley, Rosedale, Coolidge, Jefferson, Cleveland, and Tyler Elementary schools.

Evening recreation periods for boys of junior and senior high age are scheduled at Mad- ison, Adams, Webster, Johnson, Lincoln, Hull, McKinley and Cleveland.

Also scheduled are Saturday sessions at Clarenceville Jr. High for boys from the fifth grade through high school age.

Other activities include arts and crafts classes at Adams, Hoover, Webster, Marshall and Jackson. New terms will start in the tap, ballet, and accord- ian classes.

The recreation program, is made possible through the co- operation of the Livonia and Clarenceville Boards of Educa- tion, who make facilities avail- able.

Three Chrysler Executives Get 1966 Awards

Three top executives of Chry- sler Corporation received the 1966 AI Outstanding Career Achievement Awards in presen- tations at the Detroit Athletic Club, Monday, from Hartley W. Barclay, Editor and Publisher, AUTOMOTIVE INDUSTRIES Magazine.

The selection committee, was influenced to choose three award recipients for 1966 be- cause of the all-time record performance of Chrysler in 1965 in exceeding $5 Billion gross volume, and the complete turn-around made by the company under the present man- agement team since 1961.

Awards and citations were: first award, to George H. Love, Chairman of the Board, for Distinguished and Outstanding Achievement in Public Service; second award, to Lynn A. Town- send, President, for Disting- uished Public Services in Engineering, Management and Manufacturing; third award, to Virgil E. Boyd, Group Vice President, Domestic Auto- motive, for Outstanding Achieve- ment in Administration and Marketing.

Previous recipients were: 1965—Edward N. Cole, Exec- utive Vice President, General Motors Corp., and in 1964— Charles Patterson, Executive Vice President, Ford Motor Company.

Alums Challenge Varsity

By Mary Lou Mansold
One of the school activities scheduled during the Christmas holidays was the annual Varsity-Alumni basketball game. Familiar faces, many home from school for the Christmas season, enlivened the court and bleachers.

Challenging the Varsity were: Mike Stein ('64), Mike Branch ('61), Tim Lafferty ('61), Dennis Gaucher ('61), Phil Davison ('65), Mike Roemer ('65), Bob Schimmel ('64), Tom Anthony ('65), Bob Dorchy ('63), Jack Harrington ('63), Don Jetke ('62), Claude Inch ('64), Rick Collins ('65), Bob Roemer ('62), Bill Lenaghan ('62), and Mike Murphy ('63).

neth Krupansky, and Christopher Berger attended the sessions.

The progress of the 1966 Saga is proceeding according to schedule. With the copy deadline Wednesday, Jan. 5, almost all the writing had been submitted by the students to the yearbook staff. Saga orders and $2 deposits will be taken next week.

The staff announced recently that the 1965 Saga received a first place rating from the Columbia Student Press Association.

With the annual card party only one month away, the Varsity Club is deep in preparation. Tickets were distributed to the student body.

The 20 prizes were purchased with trading stamps collected from the students. This year a portable television, typewriter, two bicycles, and a set of luggage are among the prizes.

In the past proceeds from card parties like "Operation Plyfield" and "Operation Sit-Down" were used to purchase bleachers for the gym and transform a marshy tract of land adjacent to the school into a baseball field.

On Wednesday, Jan. 5, Mr. Hobin, of Lawrence Technical Institute, spoke to the senior and junior boys about a college education and the opportunities offered by Lawrence Tech.

Band Peps Up Games

By MADGE HILDEBRANDT
Strains of the Fight Song and other pep music greet fans at Farmington High's home basketball games. The source of the lively tunes, which are played before and after the games and during half time, is a group of 12 young musicians.

The newly-formed pep band, which is composed solely of boys, is an extra-curricular activity which requires hours of thankless practice.

outings free of charge, but there is a fee of 50 cents for non-members who wish to get target practice with their rifles, shotguns, or pistols. As for future plans, President Ken Rogerson said, "If any snow falls, we'll go fox or rabbit hunting."

A Student Council project which has been under discussion for an entire semester has finally been completed. The poster stripping, which was ordered last spring for the price of $90, was tacked on the walls during the holiday vacation. The 200 feet of stripping was bought for the purpose of providing more space for those students who run for class or student council office to put up campaign posters. Between elections, it is used for bulletins and pep signs.

Clarinet players include Rick King and Bruce Carlson. There are also two trombonists, Lee Perry and John Weldon. Four boys play the saxophone: Steve Shotwell, Bob Brown, John Bailey, and Barton Foster. Gary Lake, Bob Charles, and Jim Williamson are on the trumpet, and the lone drummer is Rick Curtis.

The Gun Club at FHS is enjoying a more active season than in the past years. The 13 members have made three trips thus far to Proud Lake State Park to use the available shooting facilities.

School Advisory Council to Hear Upton, Jan. 19

Ron Upton, Assistant Superintendent of the Livonia School System, will address members and guests of the Livonia School Board Advisory Council at its regular meeting, Wednesday, Jan. 19 in the Administration Building on Farmington Rd.

Upton's talk will focus on school business administration, its departmental functions and problems. Also on the agenda will be reports from the committee checking state and federal involvement in public education, chaired by David Merion; and V. C. Reidy's committee studying building and maintenance.

'Winter Fantasy' Prom Set for January 22

By SUE DOWELL
Pastel gowns, dainty corsages and neatly tailored suits will all fit into the gay festivities, that will be carried on in Bentley's gym on Jan. 22. This, of course, will all be part of this year's Junior Prom.

The theme is, "Winter Fantasy." And from the looks of the weather outside this selection is perfect. To entertain the guests during the evening, the Les Shaw Orchestra will provide the music.

Semiformal will be worn by girls who attend. Their dates will be dressed in suits and ties and polished shoes.

Tickets with gold printing will go on sale soon. They can be purchased for $3:00 a couple. So that students will never forget this memorable evening, Remembrance booklets will be handed out.

The dance will begin at 8:30 and end at 11:30. Teacher sponsors will also act as chaperones along with several other select teachers. The sponsors are Mr. Herman, and Miss Diane Ptak. The student chairman of the Junior Prom is Gary Moss.

Pro Basketball is interesting to watch. But even more fun is a basketball game that is played just for fun. Bentley's annual Senior-Faculty game is just that. It is just about that time of the year again when the seniors try their hardest to get the better of the teachers by competing against them in a basketball game.

These men have to play against Bentley's senior boys. The games begin at 7:30 and are followed by a sock hop that will end at 11 p.m.

Semester Nearing End

By Margaret Rudloff
Now that everything is pretty much settled down in Plymouth High after the holidays, I would just like to offer a word of warning to those students who are going to put off studying for exams one more week.

There are only 10 school days until the semester ends. Better hurry up and get busy!!!

hold its initiation ceremony Feb. 15, from 7-9 p.m. All prospective members are invited to bring their parents. If there are any questions, contact senior Margaret Rudloff.

For a fun filled get together after the games, come to the Firemen Dances. Sponsored by the Fireman's Association a dance will be held after the game this Friday and the games on January 22 and 28. The Spanish Club will also hold its dance on January 21.

Parents who wish to find out what is going on at school will have their chance. Two guidance meetings are scheduled for parents within the next two months. A meeting January 11 for parents of the juniors and on February 8, for the parents of sophomores.

This is the opportunity for asking any questions you may have about curriculum and the college future.

Students, for your convenience the high school library will be open Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7-9 p.m. throughout January. This sort of makes useless the old excuse that your house is too noisy to study in.

And now a special word for the Juniors—

The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying test will be given on Saturday, Feb. 26. All those interested juniors may sign up in the guidance office now.

The Quill and Scroll Club will

'Seniorities' Takes Over

By DEBBIE LUSKY
"Seniorities" is beginning to spread through North Farmington.

Plans for the Senior Trip are well underway, and the strange ritual of signing and swapping Senior pictures is becoming a common occurrence.

Last Wednesday the class held nominations for the D.A.R. good citizenship award. Perseverent Senior girls are still trying to persuade the administration that they should be allowed to wear white gowns for graduation.

The proceeds from the Student Council Christmas card postal service, over $200, were donated to the Tuberculosis Association.

Literary-minded students entered their works in the National Scholastic Writing Competition. Results of the preliminary judging will be announced in March.

On Jan. 8, the Gymnastics team, coached by Mr. Richard Shilling, traveled to Allen Park for their first meet of the season. Next Saturday they head for Hillsdale.

Student Council Exchange Days will be held between North Farmington and Franklin on Jan. 12 and 13.

New faces can be seen heading towards the faculty lounge these days. Several student teachers have joined the North Farmington routine, and we extend a welcome to them.

This week NF honors the area's exchange students. Posters bearing slogans translated by Mats Alberts, Bengt Hanson, Monica Raffaelli, Leena Rosenberg, and Jutta Wachtendorf into Swedish, Spanish, Finnish, and German (respectively) will be hung in the halls.

On Friday at 1:30, a special assembly to introduce the exchange students will be presented. They will be assigned to NF "brothers and sisters" who will escort them to classes and in whose homes they will be guests for the weekend.

The exchange students will attend the Thurston basketball

Plymouth JC's Plan Eight-Day Program For National Week

Plans for the most ambitious celebration of National Junior Chamber of Commerce week in area history were announced by Cal Strom, President of the Plymouth Jaycees—are rapidly developing into the most active chapter in southeastern Michigan.

With a field of at least eight candidates and possibly as many as 10, the Plymouth Jaycees will name the city's most outstanding young man of 1965 Monday in the annual Bosses Dinner at the Hillside Inn.

The Distinguished Service Award is one of the most sought in the community and distinguished winner as the young business leader doing the most in the community during 1965.

Past winners include: James Garber, George Lawton, James Jabara and Harvey Ziel, all of whom are expected to attend Monday's program.

Actually the Plymouth celebration will have two high spots—the naming of the "Man of the Year" Monday and the selection of the most "Outstanding Young Educator" Friday in a breakfast to which principals of all schools in the Plymouth system, top administrators of the school district and of Schoolcraft College have been invited.

The week's activities start Sunday Jan. 16 with the first Open House for the Community Opportunity Center—the sheltered workshop for retarded adults—in headquarters in the old Newburg School located at the intersection of Ann Arbor and Newburg Roads in Livonia. The Open House will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. under the supervision of Chairman John Murawski with Opportunity Center President Wendell Smith and Director Ernest Moran explaining the program and conducting tours.

The Bosses dinner at Hillside Inn with the naming of the "Man of the Year" has the dinner starting at 7:30 p.m. with Jaycee President Cal Strom as master of ceremonies. Dr. Donald Starr of the Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Co. will be the principal speaker.

Matt Kammer, regional director of the Dale Carnegie Institute, will feature Tuesday's activities at a breakfast from 8 to 9:15 a.m. in the Chamber of Commerce offices. The program will be headed by Chairman Richard Anderson.

The Jaycees will sponsor a cocktail party for the press on Wednesday evening in the Round Table Club starting at 6:30 with Chairman Ray Jacobson in charge.

Thursday will be an open day but the activities start again Friday with the Education breakfast at the Mayflower Hotel at 7 a.m. High spot will be the announcement of the "Young Educator of the Year" and announcement of an Independence Hall essay contest for seventh and eighth graders on the topic of "What My American Patriotism Means to Me."

Saturday will be featured by an appreciation dinner for wives of Jaycee members at which the JCs will cook the entire dinner and then hold a dance afterwards.

Final event of the week is slated for Sunday Jan. 23 when a prayer breakfast will be held at 7:30 a.m. in the Free Methodist Church in charge of Rev. David Strang of the Epiphany Lutheran Church.

All Jaycees and others interested are urged to attend the program which will start at 7:30 and conclude at 8:15 a.m.

In the afternoon the Jaycees will have a putting for their children at Murray Lake near Curtis Road. There will be ice skating and sledging if the weatherman permits.

Each expects to be using the new facility by Feb. 1.

Wood Framing Still Superior For Homes; Builders Prove It

Houses still are being built the same way as they were a hundred years ago. Why? A recent housing technology issue of a magazine, read widely by home builders and building products people, posed this question. Its answer is of equal interest to home owners and home buyers. "We're still building houses in the same old way," says the magazine, "because under today's conditions, there's no better way." The wealth of new materials and wealth of engineering talent now working to create new building systems have not yet drastically changed home building, the magazine added. "It's time for the engineers and theorists to wake up to what builders have known all along: the time-honored system of a wood frame faced with skins and sitting on a masonry foundation is a very good system indeed.

"This is not to say that the old way can't be improved," the editors opined, "but home builders aren't sticking to the old ways out of sheer obstinacy. They're doing it because the old way offers advantages that no new system has yet come close to equaling. Specifically:

Place Closet Handy to All

Every home needs a big cedar closet where off-season clothing can be stored. This closet should be located in a family room, hallway or basement rather than in a bedroom so that it's accessible to all members of the family. Space under a stairway could also be enclosed, lined with cedar, and outfitted with hanging rods to create a family storage closet. The closet lining can be either western red cedar or incense cedar boards installed without finish of any kind. But don't count on the cedar lining to do the whole job. Be sure all clothing to be stored has been dry cleaned or laundered so there are no food or other spots to attract a hungry moth. Also use zippered garment bags as added protection against insects and dust. These three items — cedar closet lining, garment bags, and pre-cleaned clothing — provide triple insurance against attack from moths, silverfish and other destructive insects.

Important Walls

To create important looking walls needed to set off today's more ornate furniture, panel them with solid lumber boards four or six inches wide. Use Idaho white pine or western hemlock when a creamy-beige color is desired, western red cedar or ponderosa pine for deeper coloring.

cheap, relatively light, easy to finish, and, if properly cared for, good for several lifetimes. "These properties give the conventional building system an all-important asset: flexibility. There is virtually no limit to the variety of design that can be easily created with wood framing and skins. Last-minute buyer changes, such as re-sized windows or shifted partitions, can be made on the job without extensive re-engineering." The magazine's analysis of building systems went on to point out that traditional wood framing meets the demands of most home buyers by permitting individuality in design and floor plans. Buyers, it declared, "no longer want the most space for the least money, as they did ten years ago. They want individuality — design and plans tailored to their personal wants. And the old way of building, with its great flexibility, is the cheapest and easiest way to provide this individuality."

Try Moldings With Burlap

For an elegant wall treatment, try this. Cover the wall with burlap in natural tone or a subtle color. Then create a paneled effect with rails and stiles of screen stock, 3/4-inch thick by 2 1/4 inches wide.

Space the stiles, the vertical pieces, to match stud spacing, usually 16 inches on center. The rails, or horizontal pieces, are evenly spaced to make three panels between floor and ceiling. Rails are also used top and bottom, easing into a baseboard at the floor and a cove molding at the ceiling line.

Then outline the panels created by the rails and stiles with cap molding, mitering corners. The cap molding is applied to the edges of the rails and stiles with finish nails and glue.

All woodwork should be finished before installation. Use a coat of sealer, then stain, and finally one or two coats of clear varnish or lacquer.

Roll The Press For Nankin Teen Express

Teenagers in Nankin Township and Garden City have a new "voice."

A thousand copies of a new publication, the "Nankin Teen Express," rolled off the presses of The Observer and were on their way to teens throughout the two communities.

Engineered by two junior high school students, the new paper will be published on a monthly basis. It contains school news, sports items and advertising. The first issue, a single page sheet, is being distributed free.

Editor of the new paper, is Jim Kerr, 13, who lives at 33266 Lynx Rd., Garden City; his assistant is Ken Bjornbak, 14, a ninth grader at the same school, who lives at 7526 Bison, Nankin.

The two write the news and sell advertising and can already point to a bank with a balance entered in the name of the paper.

Future editions, the two said, will be eight pages in size and subscriptions are being sold by the students now.

Les Ellerhorst Sentenced To Jackson State Prison, Judge Declares Five-Year Sentence Is Too Light

Circuit Judge Vincent J. Brennan reluctantly sentenced Garden City contractor Lester Ellerhorst to five years in Jackson State Prison Monday on charges of conspiracy to commit murder and extort money from Detroit attorney Arthur Birchan.

Brennan dished out the sentence with reluctance because as he put it, "the statute is limited to a maximum of five years."

Also receiving the maximum five-year term were conspirators James Clark and Edward Szeles, both of Florida.

Police claimed that Rep. James Tierney, former Garden City mayor, and Municipal Judge Russell Swarbutout were also objects of the plot.

Ellerhorst has been in and out of court since 1957 when he critically wounded Tierney at a public meeting and took a pot shot at Swarbutout, then city attorney. For this incident, he was charged with felonious assault and released on four-years probation by Circuit Judge James E. Canham.

Ellerhorst was later cited by Judge Canham for violating his probation by not submitting to periodic psychiatric examination. But before coming to trial on probation violation, the murder conspiracy story leaked out.

Bichan became an object for the plot after winning a $150,000 damage suit against Ellerhorst on behalf of Tierney.

Detroit police were informed of the plot by Floyd Kupowski of Livonia and Donald Sundberg of Sylvan Lake, both former Ellerhorst business associates.

Testimony in Recorder's Court revealed the plot which was to have Tierney, Swarbutout and Birchan sign blank checks, be placed in oil drums filled with cement and dumped in the river.

Sundberg's aid led to failure of the plot and after becoming the chief prosecution witness, police named him as a co-conspirator but not as a defendant.

Sundberg was cited for contempt after refusing to answer defense questions. Attorney General Frank J. Kelley is still investigating the bribery charges made by Sundberg on the witness stand.

Also refusing to answer inquiries was an officer of the Internal Revenue Department who allegedly was informed of the plot by Kupowski and told the Livonia man to report it to the police.

The most recent splurt of the Ellerhorst case is the charge made against Wayne County Sheriff Peter Buback of giving special treatment to Ellerhorst.

Reports have it that Ellerhorst was living in a seven-room suite at the Wayne County Jail, supposedly because his attorney, Joseph Louisell of Detroit, is also legal counsel for Buback.

Buback denied any special treatment and to prove his point took reporters on a tour of Ellerhorst's cell, which was given to him because of his diabetic condition.

The sentencing by Brennan is one of the rare setbacks for Louisell who has gained a reputation as a criminal lawyer nearing that of Perry Mason's. Ellerhorst has always claimed Garden City owes him money for work.

Farmington Kids Have Holiday While Teachers Are Taught

Farmington's elementary school students will have the afternoons of Jan. 26 and 27 off while their teachers continue their "learning process."

The relationship of mental health to the rapid growth of a suburban community and its schools will be examined in depth at the annual workshop of the Farmington Schools elementary teachers on those afternoons.

Theme of the conference, which will begin each day at 12:30 p.m. at Farmington Junior High, "With Growth Comes Change."

Regular morning sessions will be conducted in the elementary schools on the days of the workshop.

of the suburban community to the larger metropolitan area will be discussed at the sessions.

Organized car pools from each elementary school will bring all elementary teachers in the school system together for lectures, panel discussions and talk sessions.

Workshop planning committee members include Minnie Zielke, director of elementary education; Margaret Cottrell, Eagle School; Mrs. Phyllis Allison, Larkshire School; David Coffin, Shiawasse School; Mrs. Lee Ann Duggan, Longacre School; Mrs. Vara Hoekstra, Gill School; Robert McLean, Flanders School; John Schmidt, speech correctionist; and Mary Severance, Kenbrook School.

Farmington Man Killed in Accident

The first traffic fatality in Farmington was recorded Jan. 4 when Jack E. Nelson, 32, of 30117 Fink, Farmington, was killed as his car crashed into the back of a garbage truck on Middlebelt Rd. between Grand River Ave. and Liberty St. in Farmington Township.

Nelson was pronounced dead on arrival at 1:19 a.m. at the Botsford General Hospital.

The garbage truck was driven by Harvey E. Willard, 48, of Milford.

Farmington Township police reports stated that both vehicles were traveling north on Middlebelt. Police measured 20 foot skid marks from Nelson's 1957 Mercury. The garbage truck travelled a total of 54 feet after the impact, according to the investigating officer.

Nelson is survived by his wife, Nancy, and three children, Linda G., Tammy A., and Kelly J., all at home.

Also surviving are: his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Nelson of Southfield; three brothers, Leroy of Warren; James of Southfield; and Bruce of Detroit; and four sisters, Mrs. Elva Witkowski of Livonia; Mrs. Joyce Cardwell and Mrs. Marian Smith of Farmington and Mrs. Sandra Schuman of Warren.

Nelson, who moved to Farmington a year and a half ago from Redford Township, owned a used car dealership in Detroit.

Services were conducted Jan. 7 at the Henney-Sundquist Funeral Home in Farmington by the Rev. Elsie A. Johns, pastor of the Clarenceville Methodist Church. Burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Powerful Groves Is Next Test

Franklin or Birmingham Groves?

One or the other will stand No. 1 by Friday night in the Northwest Suburban High School League's basketball chase.

Each will put a 3-0 conference record on the line in a head-on duel scheduled for the Franklin gym with the tipoff at 8 p.m. Friday.

Groves also will be staking an overall unbeaten mark. The Birmingham team has won seven in a row thus far this season. Franklin has copied four of its six in overall action.

To get ready for Friday's collision, both Franklin and Groves fashioned almost identical victories last Friday evening.

While Franklin turned back John Glenn, 76-55, Groves had too much for North Farmington, 78-57.

Franklin hopped off to a fast 21-9 start against Glenn and by half time had built up a 42-21 edge.

Coach John Hartsig of the winners was encouraged by the showing of Earl Neely, making his debut for Franklin. A transfer student from West Virginia, Neely promptly grabbed off top honors for Franklin with six baskets and four free throws for 16 points.

"Earl is a good dribbler and ball handler," said Hartsig. "He'll help us in many ways on the attack."

Al Jose and Paul Katosh also delivered in double figures for Franklin, nailing 13 and 10 points, respectively.

The Franklin headaches against Groves will center around trying to contain Mike Raftery in particular. Raftery ranks among the league's leading scorers.

He has 17 against North Farmington, while Rick Whitnow and Greg Love each had 16.

Groves also may have a little too much size for Franklin along with some superiority in the rebounding department.

Against North Farmington, Groves took an 18-13 lead after one quarter. It was 34-26 at halftime and then Groves outscored North Farmington, (Cont. on Second Sports Page)

Thurston Scores Easy Swim Win

Thurston high's swimming team had little trouble scoring a 79-26 victory over Ecorse in a dual meet last week.

The Thurston swimmers won every event, except the 100-yard free style and tied a school and pool record by being clocked in 3:34.8 in the 400-yard free style relay.

Bill Zeeb, Bill Barringer, Ron Smith and Chris Hudson combined to swim on the relay quartet.

Thurston winners:

Medley Relay: 1—Thurston (Harris, Owen, Sansone, Riek). Time: 1:53.5.

200-yard free style: 1—Keither. Time: 2:10.7.

50-yard freestyle: Smith. Time: 24.1 seconds.

Diving: Massoll.

100-yard backstroke: Glover. Time: 1:07.3.

400-yard freestyle: Keither. Time: 4:46.3.

100-yard breaststroke: Owen. Time: 1:09.3.

Spring Fever Coming To West High School

By Karen Slobodnik West High Reporter

Spring fever is coming to Garden City West High School.

"Spring Fever" is the name given to the fashion show being sponsored by the West High Athletic Boosters' Club.

The fashion show will be held Tuesday (Jan. 18) in West High gymnasium with a card party afterwards.

The models hairstyles are fashioned by GigiGalore and the garments provided by Bette's Fashion Shop at Cherry Hill Plaza.

Proceeds are to be given to the West Athletic Funds. Tickets may be purchased from any member of the Athletic Boosters Club or from Jacki Durr and Karen Slobodnik.

Prizes are being donated by the area merchants, and utility companies.

School council is organizing a contest between classes, clubs and students, to sell tickets to the upcoming performance of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra to be held in the West gymnasium.

DOWN BUT NOT OUT is Franklin High's Al Jose (54) as teammate Paul Katosh (20) dribbles away with the ball during a tense moment in the game with Glenn High. It turned into an easy victory for the Livonians.

St. Agatha Divides in 2 Games

The first week of the new year produced a pair of high-scoring games for the St. Agatha high school basketball team.

One ended happily for the Townshippers, the other in gloom.

Against Immaculate Conception, it was all St. Agatha with the final score reading, 84-73, after the Townshippers got going in the second half.

Immaculate Conception held a 42-37 halftime edge before Mike Wlezniak and Pat Timmons went to work to turn the tide in St. Agatha's favor.

Mike fashioned 10 points and Timmons nine in the third period to send St. Agatha in front for keeps.

Pat Murphy dropped 20 points, Timmons 19 and Dan Pavlet 17 to pace the winners. Dennis McKenna caged 13 and Wlezniak 11 to give St. Agatha five double-figure scorers. Mike Brown and Tim Rourke notched two points each to round out the winners' production.

In the reserve action, it was 65-21 for St. Agatha as Dan Blackmore 11.

Three night later, St. Hedwig poured it to St. Agatha, 100-54, in one of the biggest totals ever fashioned against a St. Agatha team.

St. Hedwig jumped in front, 25-12 after one quarter and led 57-21 at halftime.

All 12 of St. Hedwig's performers scored with Rick Opalinski getting 16 to lead the way. Timmons dumped in 24 to top the losers.

The reserve game also went to St. Hedwig by an 85-63 score. Chuck Costello and Mike Lilley each tallied 19 for the losers.

St. Agatha plays at St. Francis Xavier of Ecorse this Friday night.

What's Doing at DPR? New Schedules Out

The new Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation schedule of winter time leisure time activities are now available by contacting this agency between 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. at GA 1-2600.

The schedule includes adult and children's classes, clubs, and athletic activities.

Prizes Will Be Given to Class or Club Which Sells the Most Tickets or the Largest Amount of Money per Person.

Persons selling ten tickets may have the choice of keeping one ticket or the $2 profit. They will also be treated to a free splash party sponsored by the school if they sell at least the three-ticket quota.

Prizes are the choice of running the coat checking or the concession stand with the club or class retaining any profits made.

Future Homemakers of 15 is sponsoring the annual Dogpatch Daze. It will be held on Feb. 5 in the cafeteria from 7:30-11 p.m. and the dress will be Barnyard fashions.

Heritage is beginning another big campaign to order yearbooks and to place your final payments on your book. This will be the last time books will be on sale. Plastic covers will be available at extra cost.

There will be an open school council meeting after school today (Jan. 12) for anyone interested in viewing our procedures in action.

OBSERVING SPORTS

By George Maskin

The modern means of travel certainly permit the jamming of so much into so little.

Like the other week when we flew out of Detroit Metro Airport with the Pistons with our first stop Friendship Airport in Baltimore.

Some 35 minutes after our plane had hit ground, we were in what to us has to be the most thrilling of all U.S. cities—our national capitol, Washington.

There's something about driving along Pennsylvania and peering at the big dome of the Capitol . . . or turning down a few streets to ride in front of the White House . . . or spotting the Washington and Lincoln Memorials which sends a flash running down your back.

This is the heart and soul of the greatest country in the world . . . you don't even get mad when you see the Internal Revenue Building and realize that within a few weeks the moment of decision with Uncle Samuel will arrive and you'll have to settle up with millions more.

Your drive takes you behind the Capitol to take an upward look at the new DC Stadium where the Senators and Redskins play and then over the Potomac past the Pentagon and after a few wrong turns to the Arlington Cemetery where hundreds come daily to mourn the late President Kennedy and visit the tombs of the Unknown Soldiers.

On the way to meet old Times' colleague, Jake Berson, you pass many of the foreign embassies, including the Russian on 16th St. You're wrong, if you had the impression guards stand outside of the building.

Into Silver Springs, Md., and to the Berson home, before cutting back on the highway, past the University of Maryland at College Park, the race tracks at Bowie and Laurel and into Baltimore where at their very fine civic center, the Bullets turned their might on the Pistons.

The day over, there's really little time to sleep. By 7:30 a.m. (on Sunday) it's time to hop out of the sack, load up . . . bid your fare wells to son Douglas, who's heading up toward Boston, and rush for another plane, this one bound for the world of fantasy at Miami Beach, Fla.

Most of the ride down is 'over the ocean. You get to see very little.

Finally, our plane cuts westward and banks southward over the mainland of Florida.

The clouds are thick, but as if from a signal from the pilot, everything clears as we pass to the west of Cape Kennedy.

All of the launching pads clearly are in view. So are the new structures from which some day will come the rocket that takes an American to the moon.

Southward we go . . . the plane dropping altitude all the time. We pass Vero Beach, where the Los Angeles Dodgers train . . . and then go directly over the Yankee Stadium of the South at Fort Lauderdale, where the ex-World Champs drill. The field is ready for Mantle, Maris and Co.

Nearby is the Pompono Park race track, operated by the same folks who boss harness racing at the Detroit oval on Middlebelt and Schoolcraft each summer.

The plane keeps dropping . . . and then comes touchdown at the immense Fort Lauderdale airport where we're told most of the millionaires have their private craft settle as they come to Florida for some sunshine.

It was around 88 in Baltimore and raining when we boarded our plane. At Fort Lauderdale it was hot, sunny and not a cloud to behold.

Vacationing wife and daughter were there. Ditto for father-in-law.

The drive into Miami Beach caused your eyes to pop as you note all the new buildings and hotels that have risen since you last visited the Beach 20 months ago. (Cont. on Second Sports Page)

Trenton Guards Rated 'Key'

It'll be "Showdown Time" in the Bentley high gym Friday night.

Bentley goes against Trenton with undisputed possession of first place in the Suburban Six League riding on the outcome.

One couldn't ask for a match pitting two more evenly balanced teams.

Each has a 3-0 record in the league.

Overall, both are 8-1.

Bentley's lone setback was administered by state Class B champ River Rouge. Trenton fell before the might of Ann Arbor High.

Both teams tuned up for their head-on clash by literally "murdering" opposition last Friday evening.

Bentley stormed through

Belleville, 88-34.

"It all depends on how our guards handle their guards," said Coach George Fefles of Bentley in looking ahead to the Friday clash with Trenton.

Fefles had in mind a couple of gentlemen by the name of Dave Fisher and Dan Stanley, two of the niftiest blackliners in prep action this winter.

The Bentley coach was very satisfied with his team's showing against Belleville.

"We hit on 35 out of 80 shots, which is good hitting . . . we also rebounded well . . . and the kids gave a fine team effort," declared Fefles.

Bentley rolled on top, 21-14, at the end of the first period and then stopped Belleville without a basket and just four free throws in the second period.

This made it possible for Bentley to engineer a 40-18 halftime edge. Even with free substitutions, Bentley upped its margin to 67-25 after three periods.

Everybody on the Bentley team cash in on the scoring.

Bob Elsnor led with 14 points, while Fred Matevia was next with 13.

The rest of the Bentley contingent was under double figures, as follows:

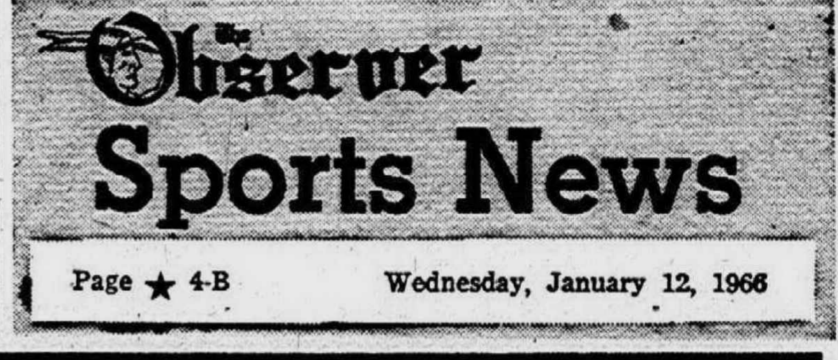

Don Sommerman, Mike McCauley, Ken Bowman and Morrie Scherrens, eight each; Gary Faulkes, Greg Coleman and Mike Morsma, six each; Larry Grim four and Nick Bonder two.

Plymouth never had much of a chance against Trenton. The downriver team took a 33-12 lead at the end of the first period, held away by 49-24 at halftime and coasted the rest of the way.

Ten Trenton players scored with Fisher's 18 and Staley's 13 tops.

In the first half alone, Trenton fired up 37 shots from the floor and made 20. From the foul line, Trenton cashed nine out of ten before intermission.

Plymouth entered the game with star tenth grader Mike Stakas limping because of a sore ankle. Stakas played briefly, but still topped his team in scoring with 10 points. Jim Scharmen was a work-horse on the boards for the Rocks and also came through with eight points.

GOING IN FOR SHOT is Redford Union's Ron Bauer (24) despite efforts of an unidentified Allen Park guard to stop him. That's Leland Bjerke (50) backing away from the action to avoid any possibility of committing a foul.

Schafer 'Derails' West 5

Garden City West high's basketball express ran into a derailment last Friday evening.

After winning three straight in as many starts before the holiday break in Tri-Rivers League play, West knocked off by Schafer, 80-47, in a battle of the unbeaten for first place.

It wasn't much of a game.

West scored only one basket and four free throws in the first period and quickly fell behind, 26-6.

Another six-point period—in the third—killed off whatever hopes West had of pulling out their big battle for the lead.

In the first period, Schafer tossed in 12 out of 17 shots from the floor with nine of their strikes coming on a 12-18 footers.

"You can't hope to win when they shoot that way against you," said Coach Cal Krupa of West.

West overall scored on 19 of 54 tries in the game, but Schafer finished with 30 for 58 . . . which is better than 50 percent.

West did emerge a slight winner in rebounds with 40 to Schafer's 37.

Gary Slade was the only West player to score in double figures. He made seven baskets and one free throw for 15 points.

Bo Ardell tallied seven, Ford Simpson, Bob Gamasche and Bill Johnston five each, Bruce Towart and Bret Feigner three apiece and George Domanski two.

For Schafer, the big guns were Jack Mazola with 24 and Jim Casnova with 18.

West's reserves came through with a 58-46 victory to give the Garden City school a split on the evening's proceedings.

It'll be West vs. Riverside at West this Friday night.

Foul-Line Trouble Beats Farmington

It helps to be able to sink free throws.

Farmington high's basketball team discovered why Friday night in losing its Interlakes League opener to Waterford, 68-57.

The contest was a strange one. And a rough one.

Each side made more free throws than baskets.

Waterford notched 20 hoops, but was simply brilliant from the charity line, making 28 out of 32. That's better than the professional teams do.

In losing for the fourth time in eight starts, Farmington was led by Greg Dorrow with 15 points. Mike Wilson notched 13, making 11 of his points on free throws; Steve Moore tallied 12, Mike Ames 11, Bob Gilbert three and Dan Miracle two.

This Friday, Farmington plays at home, hosting Walled Lake in another league game.

for Waterford after the teams had been tied at 14-14 after one period and 35-35 at the half.

Each side made only two baskets in the last eight minutes.

But—and what a "but"—Farmington clicked on only five free throws in those last eight minutes, while Waterford tossed in 13.

That was the difference.

Except for the charity tosses, the teams played on an even keel. Farmington had a 42-41 edge in rebounds and the mistakes were virtually the same.

In losing for the fourth time in eight starts, Farmington was led by Greg Dorrow with 15 points. Mike Wilson notched 13, making 11 of his points on free throws; Steve Moore tallied 12, Mike Ames 11, Bob Gilbert three and Dan Miracle two.

Sorrows' Late Rally Nets Split

A pulverizing final period enabled Our Lady of Sorrows high school basketball team to gain a split on its action last week.

After losing to Royal Oak St. Mary's 85-68, Sorrows found itself on the short end of a 51-47 score after three quarters against St. Rita.

Then came a big explosion, led by Tim Doyle to put Sorrows over the hump and bring the Farmington school home a 72-59 victor.

Doyle bagged nine points in the closing period and ended the game with a whopping total of 37 points on 17 baskets and five successes from the free-throw line.

He was the only member of the Sorrows team to score in double figures. Far back were Jerry Turner with nine points and Frank Carrico with nine.

St. Rita had led, 16-15, at the end of the first quarter and reached halftime with a 32-31 command.

Against Royal Oak St. Mary's, Sorrows fell behind, 20-10, in the first period and never was able seriously to challenge.

Doyle again was the top scorer for Sorrows, this time with 11 baskets and five free throws for 27 points. This meant that in one week, Doyle scored 64 points.

Turner had 13 points and (Cont. on Second Sports Page)

Franklin Natadors Set Marks

Franklin high swimmers fashioned three new school records in roaring past John Glenn, 71-33, in a Northwest Suburban League dual meet last Friday night.

Ron Barclay (butterfly), Judd Kingsbury (400-yard free style) and Tom Bates (breast stroke) fashioned the marks. Bates also won the individual medley to score the meet's lone double triumph.

The results:

Medley relay: 1—Franklin (Kingsbury, Zelek, Hultquist, Henderson). Time: 1:56.5.

200-yard freestyle: 1—Young (F), 2—Joyner (F), 3—Banderburgh (G). Time: 2:17.9.

50-yard free: 1—Hultquist (F), 2—Schoenfeld (G), 3—Adkins (G). Time: 25.2 seconds.

Individual medley: 1—Bates (F), 2—Hanson (F), 3—Pettit (G). Time: 2:22.3.

Diving: 1—Zwickler (F), 2—Pregitzer (F), 3—Green (G).

100-yard butterfly: 1—Barclay (F), 2—Lane (G). Time: 59.9 seconds (School record).

100-yard freestyle: 1—Arnold (F), 2—Ferguson (F), 3—Adkins (G). Time: 56.9 seconds.

100-yard backstroke: 1—Higgs (G), 2—Barclay (F), 3—Ogden (G). Time: 1:09.09.

400-yard freestyle: 1—Kingsbury (F), 2—Barbu (G), 3—Joyner (F). Time: 4:26 (school record).

100-yard breaststroke: 1—Bates (F), 2—Zelek (F), 3—Pettit (G). Time: 1:07.3 (school record).

400-yard freestyle relay: 1—Glenn (Scheerer, Giles, Rowe, Glandon). Time: 4:17.6.

Prep Cage Schedule

FRIDAY'S GAMES

Robichaud at Garden City West Garden City East at Lutheran West.

Walled Lake at Farmington. Thurston at North Farmington. Clarenceville at West Bloomfield.

Trenton at Bentley. Redford Union at Plymouth. Our Lady of Sorrows at St. Francis de Sales. St. Agatha at St. Francis Xavier (Ecorse). Groves at Franklin. Glenn at Oak Park.

Thurston Wins Point Duel

Coach Mike Pasternak of Thurston high's basketball team laughed.

He was happy, too.

His Thurston cagers had just bested Oak Park, 85-82, in a Northwest Suburban League game.

"Quite a defensive battle, eh?" said Pasternak.

A combined total of 177 points . . . means the teams were scoring at a rate of almost six per minute.

The Thurston team wasn't a record. The Townshippers went over "100" a year ago.

The big difference in the game was at the free-throw line.

Thurston made 39 baskets, just one more than Oak Park. But at the charity marker, it was 17 for Thurston against just six for the losers.

Both teams had their hot and cold spells.

Thurston, for example, began with a blitz, going in front, 23-

13, by the end of the first period as Randy Samelson and Reg Barringer each scored seven points.

But Oak Park rebounded to trail by a 45-39 count at margin after three-quarters.

Thurston then went back to work, outscoring Oak Park, 20-6, over a four-minute span in the fourth period to put the game out of reach. Samelson paced the explosion with 12 points.

Oak Park then retaliated to make the score a little closer.

But Thurston had its seventh win in 10 games tucked away along with a 2-1 standing in conference play.

All of Thurston's starters wound up in double figures.

Samelson was the big gun with 11 baskets and six free throws for 25 points. Barringer had 22 points on ten hoops and two charities. Gary Knock tallied 15, Bob Wardrop and Gary Schulte 13 each and Roger Steffen six.

Schulte was placing for the ailing Don Block.

Thurston's reserves also won, 70-59, with Rick Knock tallying 21, Urban Rice 19 and Don Kopec 14.

Series Films Available From Tigers

Two exciting plays are featured in the 1965 World Series movie, which can now be obtained from the Detroit Tigers for free showings.

Run and re-run in clear detail are the highlights of the Los Angeles Dodgers' seven-game triumph over the Minnesota Twins in last fall's classic:

1.—The second-game catch by Twins outfielder Bob Allison, in which he took Jim LeFevre's long drive near the left-field foul line, then skidded in the mud through foul territory to help save the Minnesota triumph.

2.—The seventh-game fielding gem by Dodger Third Baseman Jim Gilliam, in which he grabbed Zoilo Versalles' hard smash down the line, spun around in foul territory, then recovered to step on third to end the Twins' last hope of victory.

Slow motion and stop-action techniques are used to emphasize the great pitching of Sandy Koufax and the thrilling action of the hard-fought series, depicted in effective color with Vin Scully handling the narration. Lew Fonseca, who produced the movie, said seven crews of cameramen shot more than 43,000 feet of color film during the World Series. It has been edited to 1,450 feet for the 40-minute film.

The World Series movie is one of 25 baseball films which can be borrowed from the Tigers for showings where no admission is charged.

Franklin

(Cont. from 1st Sports Page)

25-9, in the third period to turn the game into a run-away.

Rick Schultz tossed in 13, along with Rick Lorenz to pace the North Farmington attack.

Prior to beating Glenn, Franklin dropped a 79-56 non-leaguer to Romulus. The third period again proved decisive. Romulus scored 19 points to Franklin's six in the eight-minute segment.

A zone defense and fast-breaking offense helped Romulus to its fairly easy victory.

Dale Lee had 17 points and Jose 16 in a losing cause.

Franklin's reserves emerged with a pair of triumphs. It was 70-39 over Romulus, with Steve Salen scoring 15 and Mike Kindsey 13.

Against Glenn, Franklin had to hold on for a 57-55 verdict in which Bill Hellstein scored 14, Campbell 12 and Kindshey 10 for the winners. Walker and June of Glenn each counted 19.

The Franklin-Glenn varsity box score:

FRANKLIN	B	F	P
Neely	6	4	13
Jose	6	1	16
Katosh	4	2	10
Kosteva	1	3	3
Bauer	2	3	7
Gulbransen	4	1	9
Wicks	2	1	5
Porter	1	0	2
Lee	3	2	8
Reich	1	1	3
Totals	30	16	76

Carrico returning to action after being out with a fractured finger tallied 12. Mark Benner chipped in 11.

Sorrows reserves won both their games, beating St. Rita, 39-26, as Bill Verge led with 10 points, and winning over St. Mary's, 39-32, behind Mike Briolat's 10-point effort.

This Friday, it's on to St. Francis de Sales for the Sorrows cagers.

HIGH FLYING, jubilant cheerleaders from Redford Union had something to smile about in last week's 63-52 victory over Allen Park team.

East Beaten, Coach Happy

"If a coach is happy after his team loses . . . I'm one . . ."

The man doing the talking was Billy Jo Young, cage mentor at Garden City East high school.

His forces had just lost to Inkster, 73-68, to send East to its third loss without a win in Mid-Wayne League action.

"It was our best game of the season," declared Young.

"We have only one boy who stands over six feet. Everybody is a six-footer on the Inkster team (now 3-0 in the league)."

"It's easy to see how they beat us. They made nine baskets by rebounds on their offensive board. We made only three the same way."

"The ball just didn't come down low enough for our small guys to reach it."

East hung close to Inkster most of the way. It was 12-10 for the Garden City team at the end of the first quarter and 44-42 East at the half.

Going into the last period, East hung to a point edge, but Inkster zipped off ten straight and it was too much for East to overcome.

The Garden City team did rebound to pull within four of a tie for three minutes late.

"Our floor play, our shooting, our defense . . . it was all that I could ask for," coach Young said after the game.

Carl Glaser and Joe Huber led the East team in scoring. Glaser notched eight baskets and nine free throws for 25 points. Huber tossed in nine hoops, plus four charities, for 22 points.

Paul Kightlinger scored 10, Mike Conyer six and Norbert Podwoiski five to round out the scoring for the losers.

Harry Kightlinger (Paul's brother), Gary Popler and Dennis Devlin all turned in fine efforts for East, although none scored.

Bernie Bonham, who stands 6-5, topped the winners with 20 points.

East's reserves, meantime, won a thriller over Inkster, taking a 46-44 verdict when Bill Crows slipped in two free throws with just 16 seconds remaining.

Michigan State's 1965 football and soccer teams enjoyed banner years. The gridgers posted a 10-1 record and were national champs on one major poll and the booters were 10-2 and the NCAA runner-up.

Cagers Start Activities In New League

The Spartans and Badgers registered victories in opening games of the new "AA" division of the Plymouth Community Junior Basketball League. The Spartans edged the Buckeyes, 27-11, and the Badgers nipped the Wolverines, 25-22.

The list of unbeaten in the "A" and "B" divisions dwindled to four. The Celtics and Royals pace "A" and the Lakers and Celtics rule in "B".

Trojans Downed in Loop Tilts

Clarenceville high's basketball team still can't get untracked in the Wayne-Oakland League basketball wars.

The Trojans dropped two more last week and still are to win one in conference action this season.

On Friday evening it was Bloomfield Hills over Clarenceville, 73-58. The next evening, Clarkston stopped the Trojans, 83-75.

But, all isn't sadness around Middlebelt and Eight Mile Roads. There would appear a bright basketball future on the Clarenceville horizon.

The school's reserve team triumphed in both of its weekend starts, winning at Bloomfield Hills, 46-43, and Clarkston, 68-49.

The Varsity fell behind, 44-31, in the first half against the Hills and wasn't able to catch up the rest of the way. Fred Neal led the Trojans as he hit on 12 of his 24 shots (50 percent) from the floor and added three free throws for 27 points.

Jim Amick was next with 13 points.

Fouls and Dan Fife led to Clarenceville's win against Clarkston.

Fife tossed in 36 points for Clarkston, getting 16 from the foul line as he and his mates fired home 33 out of 50 charity attempts.

Clarkston moved in front, 26-21, after one quarter and never trailed. However, Clarenceville kept coming back, but each time Clarkston was able to ward off the rally.

Neal had 23 more points for the Trojans, while Chris Hawkins added 20 and Ron Ray tallied 12, along with turning in a fine floor game and a great job on the boards.

Bob Duman was the Clarenceville scorer in both reserve triumphs. He had 17 and Brian Kent 16 against Bloomfield Hills.

In the Clarkston tilt, Duman tossed in 25, Larry Fyne 14 and Kent 12.

It'll be Clarenceville at West Bloomfield this Friday night.

RU Loses To Parker Swimmers

Allen Park high's swimming team had too much all-around strength for Redford Union and triumphed in a dual meet, 57-43.

Jerry Halton scored two wins for the Townshippers in winning the individual medley and the 400-yard free style.

How the RU entries placed:

Medley relay: 1—RU (Reen, Anthony, Barnes, Ringle.)

200-yard freestyle: 2—Rice, 3—Glazier.

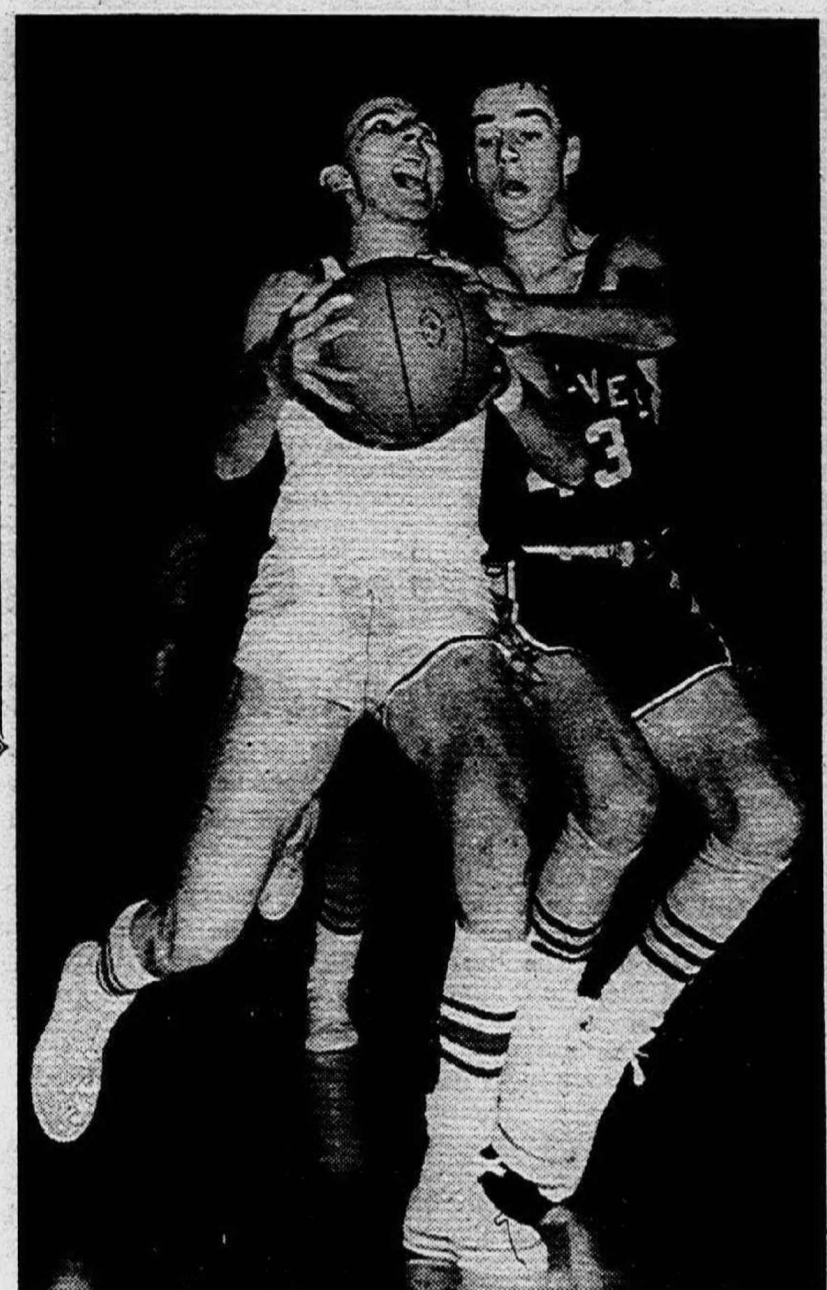

50-yard free style: 3—Bert. Individual Medley: 1—Halton.

Diving: 1—Schoenfeld, 3—Clancy.

100-yard butterfly: 1—Rice. 100-yard freestyle: 2—Mullin.

100-yard backstroke: 2—Glazier.

400-yard free style: 1—Halton. 400-yard freestyle relay: 2—Redford Union.

HOLD ON!! Anguished looks on the faces of Fred Neill (20), of Clarenceville and Dan Fife (43), of Clarkston, reflect struggle for possession of the ball in battle of traditional rivals. It was a losing night for Clarenceville.

Observing Sports

It's exciting to jump into the refreshing salt water at the new Season Hotel . . . even though you must hurry because game time with the San Francisco Warriors is only a few hours away.

The game itself is strictly all San Francisco, but what a difference when you leave the building after it's over. In New York or Detroit or St. Louis around January you must button up. At the Beach the temperature at 10:30 p.m. reads 72 degrees.

Your stay at the Beach is a short one. You can take some . . . lose a few bucks on the dogs . . . and then take off for Detroit in a loaded non-stop jet which makes the trip north in two hours and 35 minutes.

It kind of amazes you . . . how many from the Detroit area took advantage of the Christmas vacation period to go south. Plane reservations north were at a premium and every flight carries upwards of 100 passengers.

The natural hope, when you get back from Florida, is that some folks will notice your tan.

We found ourselves disappointed. Nobody noticed anything — on us.

Bentley Gets Even

Bentley high's swimming team evened its record at 2-2 by beating Belleville, 62-43, in a Suburban Six League meet.

Dennis Roggisart paced the victors by winning both the individual medley and 100-yard butterfly races. Bentley also triumphed in four other events.

How the Bentley natators placed.

Medley relay: 1—Bentley (Donaldson, Stewart, Bassett, Guthrie). Time: 1:53.7.

200-yard freestyle: 2—D. Schrieber, 3—Reimer.

50-yard freestyle: 3—Palmer.

Individual medley: 1—Roggisart, 3—J. Schrieber. Time: 2:16.4.

Diving: 1—Maybe.

100-yard butterfly: 1—Roggisart, 3—Bassett. Time: 61 seconds.

100-yard freestyle: 2—Shaw, 3—Palmer.

100-yard backstroke: 1—Donaldson, 2—J. Schrieber. Time: 1:03.8.

400-yard freestyle: 1—D. Schrieber, 3—Reimer. Time: 4:31.0.

Schoolcraft College's swimming team nipped Aquinas, 46-45, but lost to Delta College, 55-36, in a double-dual meet.

Winnipeg for Schoolcraft included Doug Jaskiercraft, Gary Bohl and Bert Quinn, all former stars at Plymouth high.

Jaskiercraft won the 500-yard free style and individual medley while Bohl took the 100 and 200-yard free style and Quinn the diving.

Larry Fitzgerald, a freshman from Garden City East, took the butterfly and placed second in the 50-yard free style.

Schoolcraft swims at Oakland University this Saturday night.

THE 1965-66 LIVONIA Youth Symphony Orchestra will open its season Saturday, Jan. 15 at 8 p.m. at Franklin High School in Livonia. Lester Farkas is the conductor of the group which has approximately 60 high school and college age members from throughout the area.

Youth Symphony Opens New Season at Franklin

The Livonia Youth Symphony Orchestra will open its 1965-66 concert season with a "Pops" concert Jan. 15 at 8 p.m. at the Franklin High School in Livonia.

Conducted by Lester Farkas, the Symphony has traditionally opened the season with a "Pops" concert.

Featured guest artists on the program will be the Bell

Canto Choir from Franklin, under the direction of William Hall.

The choir will open the program with selections by Bach, Churchill and Banford. Included in their repertoire are: "He That Doth Search The Heart," "Bourree and Fugue in C Minor" and folk songs.

Folk songs to be sung at the concert are: "Black is the Color of My True Love's Hair," "Bluebird," "Blow Prairie Wind," and "Elijah Rock."

The Symphony Orchestra will perform: "The Syncopated Clock," "Pavanne," "Two Dances from the Bartered Bride," and "Victory at Sea."

Two additional conductors will direct the orchestra during their portion of the program. Andy Trestrail, a student conductor, will conduct "The Syncopated Clock" and Dan King, guest conductor, will direct the "Pavanne" number.

The Livonia Youth Symphony Orchestra draws its approximately 60 high school and college age members from throughout the area.

It was founded in 1957 by the Livonia Youth Symphony Society, Inc., who also maintain the Junior Orchestra for junior high students and a String Orchestra for elementary school students.

Adults attending the concert are asked to contribute $1.25 at the door for the support of the group. However, children and students will be admitted free in accordance with the educational policy of the Society.

By JOHN DEW

What do you say after 27 years and 10 months run with a show—and then it closes? Words, feelings, expressions, don't come easy... It was Friday night—last Friday night—and Dick Osgood's "Show World" was no more.

Memories? Of course. Like the beginning of it all when they booked Ramon Novarro in the Michigan Theater in March, 1938; and then got scared that he'd bomb. So George W. Trendle, who conveniently ran both WXYZ and the Michigan, decided to put Osgood on at noon for a week previous, with Hollywood gossip. Then they invited Novarro's fans to send him a question they wanted him to answer. Response was such as to establish the show and Osgood as much more permanent institutions than Novarro proved to be.

Then there was the day they sent that congratulatory note from the executive offices—"Show World" had come in first in the ratings. And this was at a time when not even "The Lone Ranger" had a first place in the local rating race.

Memories too come from the night when Jim Londo, the wrestling champ, appeared on the same program with a female impersonator, Karyl Norman. Norman was known as the "Creole Fashion Plate" and he made his own clothes.

And who that heard it could forget the night that Osgood had the guest with the unlikely name of Stepin Fetchit, who refused at the last minute to be interviewed unless his pianist could accompany him. That required a frenzied phone call to the musician's union to arrange to pay for a stand-by pianist before Fetchit's man could be allowed on the air. The end result was that you could hear Osgood and the piano—but no Fetchit. His piano man had a rather heavy touch.

But now it is some 2,000 celebrity interviews later and suddenly it's over.

Why? Who knows.

Progress? Sure—the same type of progress that brought such innovations as the Edsel or the square wheel.

The show has closed for a final time and what do you say. If your name is Richard Elmer Osgood you say, "Well—it's been fun. That's the Show World. Dick Osgood reporting."

Some quick notes gathered around town... The Supremes open Monday night at the Roostertail, their first major club appearance in their home town. WXYZ radio will be covering the action and broadcasting direct from the Roostertail from 7:15 until 1 a.m....

Prediction—don't be too surprised if Fred Wolf suddenly turns up on the air again. The station? Well, the initials are WJR... Mitch Ryder and the Detroit Wheels are riding high right now as their record is jumping all over the country. They're better known around here as Billy Lee and the Rivieras...

TV developers have come up with a TV set that's wall-length. It measures two feet by three feet and is only a quarter-inch thick. It should be available in about three years... Another prediction, "Batman" will be the hottest show on TV inside of a month.

- 1) JENNY TAKE A RIDE—Mitch Ryder & The Wheels
  - 2) CALL ME—Chris Montez
  - 3) UPTIGHT—Stevie Wonder

Bulman Group Slates Comedy

The Bulman Theatre Group of Redford Township will present its third major production—"All Because of Agatha," a three-act comedy—on Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 5 and 6, in the Redford Union High School Auditorium.

The plot revolves (literally, since things get a bit hectic at times!) around a house in Salem, Massachusetts, which is haunted once a year by a witch who had been burned at the stake 250 years earlier. The hilarity results from the witch's efforts to clear the house of its current occupants, a cartoonist and his wife and an offbeat collection of their friends.

The lead, an attractive witch named Agatha, is played convincingly by Mary Pruss, 16620 Lola Drive. Cartoonist Duff O'Hara is portrayed by George Carlson, 15513 Lexington; his wife, Joan, by Shirley Atkinson, 26437 Student. Shirley's husband, Don, another veteran of the Bulman players group, handles the role of a brash reporter who senses a scoop in the annual visit of the witch.

"All Because of Agatha" is directed by George "Scottie" Freeland, who is one of the originators of the Bulman Theatre Group and played the male lead in its two earlier three-act offerings. DeLores McCormick, 26427 Student, is producer.

Important behind-the-scenes chores are being handled by Kay and Jim Walsh, 15978 Delaware; Elaine and Bill Weir, 14600 Denby; Jean Freeland, 15954 Ryland; Paul and Marge Walberg, 18211 Indian; Carol Olson, 16688 Lola Drive; Betty Keith, 26450 Student.

Success of the Bulman group's two previous productions, "His

GOING CURTAIN

As promised last week my list of the ten best films of 1965 would occupy top attention this week. My list may be as controversial as all such lists should be. No one person can pick ten best films to suit all the likes and dislikes of the millions that go to the "flicks."

My tastes are far from catholic. In fact, old Wally confesses that the non-Hollywood film is usually the greater treat for these jaded eyes. So hold on to your popcorn box and save your arguments until later.

'Monique' Opens This Weekend

"Monique", an unusual mystery play, will be presented by the Plymouth Theatre Guild Jan. 13, 14 and 15 at Plymouth High School. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m.

The play itself is a study in the deterioration of human character under the devious attack of the basest passion.

Kingsley Page of Walled Lake is the director, while the production is being produced by Jerry French of Plymouth.

Alexander Zerbun of Walled Lake plays the leading male part of Fernand. The woman doctor, Monique, will be portrayed by Helen Fortney of Plymouth. A newcomer to the Guild, Denise Lorenz of Plymouth, will appear as the young girl next door.

Ellen McNeice appears as Fernand's wife, Lucienne. Milo Jordan appears as the retired inspector; Jacob Rumpf as Goutteux and Kenneth MacLeod as the messenger.

Richard E. Brown is in charge of the sound effects.

Trombone Concert Set
 The University of Michigan Trombone Choir has slated a concert at the Schoolcraft College Library in Livonia at 11 a.m. Jan. 20. Consisting of 25 U. of M. students, the choir was organized in 1962. Prof. Glenn Smith is the director.

The Schoolcraft College Library Concerts are organized primarily for the students, but arrangements may be made to accommodate a limited number of guests. There is no admission charge.

MAGGIE SMITH stars as Desdemona opposite Sir Laurence Olivier in "Othello" which opens Feb. 2 for a two day engagement at the Livonia Cinema Theatre. Matinee performances are scheduled at 2 p.m., while the evening performance will start at 8:15 p.m. Mail orders are now being accepted and tickets will be available at the box office Jan. 17.

Hylozoist Exhibit Set

Emil Lederer, 35345 West Seven Mile Rd., Livonia, will exhibit his work at the third annual Hylozoist Arts Festival at the Northland Center Geodesic Dome, Jan. 20 through Feb. 5.

Experimental paintings, drawings and sculpture—many using new plastic materials—will be on display.

The 12 member Hylozoist group that stresses the importance of matter will show how sculpture and painting can be blended with unique materials to produce a new form of art.

Another exhibit of Hylozoist work will open Jan. 16 until Jan. 30 at the Lantern Gallery in Ann Arbor.

Hours of the Northland exhibit are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The exhibit is free.

The dozen artists will meet and talk with the public at an 8 p.m. reception Jan. 20 at the Geodesic Dome. Experimental tape recordings will provide background music for exhibit-goers.

Hylozoists are known for using everything from wood, sand, rope, plaster and chicken wire to oil paint, dry pigment and chemical liquid foam to achieve texture and relief. This year, many pieces will show the use of plexiglas and Eurythane, a dense form of Styrofoam.

The Ann Arbor exhibition will open at a 2 to 5:30 p.m. reception Jan. 16 and continue throughout the week. Gallery hours are from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and 10 a.m. to noon Saturday.

The Hylozoists were organized in 1960 and have had exhibits in New York, Detroit and Ohio.

McCarthy Hearings And Witch Trials Dramatized

Students from Bentley High School's 11th grade accelerated English class presented a dramatic sketch for the Livonia Council on Human Relations at St. Aiden's Church.

The presentation was a comparison of the McCarthy Senate investigations and the Salem witch trials. The similar elements of mass hysteria and false condemnation were stressed. This portrayal was the result of a class project culminating in the study of the Puritan period in literature.

Students responsible for the creation and presentation of the dramatic piece included Beverly Bettaso, Bill Parsons, Bob Winship, Chris Kolberg, Jan Goulston and Nelson Merrick.

PAUL KAMP, treasurer of the Youth Group of Antioch Lutheran Church, discusses dream of a Youth Center with Rev. Karl F. Kaltreider, in the latter's study.

Pastor Sees Youth Center As Great Aid to Teens

By Jerry Wendt

Many a suburban parent is devoutly grateful because of the leadership of Rev. Karl F. Kaltreider, pastor of Antioch Lutheran Church in Farmington Township. Although Pastor Kaltreider is known for many activities including his TV work, he has done outstanding work with teenagers in the area.

Many of them enjoy working in his Youth Group and participating in other church activities. The Observer decided to interview him and learn his opinions on interesting young people in the church and in giving them worthwhile goals in life.

Like the ancients who suddenly found the Red Sea opening before them, the way was suddenly shown to us when we had seated ourselves in his study and then heard a knock on the door.

Paul Kamp had stopped by to chat with the Pastor for a few minutes before returning home from school. Paul is typical of the fine young people who have joined the Youth Group. In addition to maintaining a good scholastic record at North Farmington High, he plays basketball, and is also a proficient guitar player.

When asked, he said he feels that fellowship is the reason most of them join the Youth Group, in addition to also learning more about the Bible. Many

Father J. Renfret To Show Movies At Good Counsel

Father J. Renfret from Our Lady of Cape Trois Rivières, Canada, will be at our Lady of Good Counsel Church, Williams and Arthur Sts., Plymouth on Jan. 21 at 8:30 p.m.

He will show movies on the newly dedicated Basilica at this Shrine which recently celebrated its 250th anniversary. This beautiful shrine is compared to Lourdes in France and only a few hundred miles from Plymouth. It is most inspiring to all who visit there.

There will also be movies on St. Joseph's Oratory in Montreal and St. Anne DeBeaure in Quebec.

Because these movies will not be shown anywhere else in this area, neighbors in the surrounding areas are welcome. There is no charge.

Mission School In Plymouth Begins Talks

The First Baptist Church of Plymouth, began its annual School of Missions, Sunday, Jan. 9, and will continue each Sunday evening through January. There will be separate groups for Juniors, Junior Highs, Senior Highs and adults. The theme of this year's school is focused upon Christian Center work and problems of the cities.

One of the features for the Senior Highs will be a talk and question and answer period by Officer Carter of the Plymouth Police Dept. on Jan. 16. Carter is the officer in charge of the Youth Division of the Plymouth Police Department.

On Jan. 9, a Christian Center was set up in the church and the various aspects of a center were discussed.

Other highlights included a talk by Mr. Wright, director of the Baptist Children's Home in Detroit, and a film entitled "What Happened to Hannah?"

DISCUSSING PLANS for the second annual inter-faith dinner, Friday, Jan. 21, at Lofy's in Plymouth, are: (seated from left) John Herb and Rev. Ronald Phelps; (standing) Sanford Burr and Rev. Fr. Alfred Renaud. They will make up a panel that will discuss "The Church in the Community." More than 450 are expected to attend the affair which is open to persons of all faiths and from all sections of the community.

Local DBC Students Solo at Church

Several Bible are among the Detroit Bible College students who will present solos during services Jan. 16 at Bethany Baptist Church, Livonia, according to Dr. Bert Kreller, pastor.

Linda Moon, alto, will sing a solo at the 11 a.m. service. A music student of DBC, Miss Moon lives at 4147 Joanne, Ann Arbor. She will be accompanied on the piano by Laura Causbie, a Christian Education student of 3665 Nelson, Pontiac.

At the 7 p.m. service, Don Watkins, of 3225 Thomas, Berkeley, will present two trumpet solos.

Dr. Kreller recently joined

6-Part Film Series Begins at Livonia Baptist Church

Emmanuel Baptist Church, 14580 Merriman Rd., Livonia, will have a series of six Sunday evening programs at 6:30 p.m. featuring a 16mm sound, color motion picture starring our American Baptist missionary personnel and their native workers and congregations. The schedule will be as follows:

— Jan. 16 — "New Faces of Africa" — with authentic on-the-spot music and sounds.

— Jan. 23 — "The Golden Gift" — the struggle between religions for men.

— Jan. 30 — "Song of the Shining Mountains" — an insight into the need of the American Indian.

— Feb. 6 — "The Bright Flame" — a look at India and Southern Asia.

— Feb. 13 — Mrs. Robert Manogg's slides of our American Baptist Mission stations.

— Nursery and refreshments are included in all programs.

Lutheran Church To Review Book

Holy Cross Evangelical Lutheran Church of Livonia will hold a seminar on the best seller "The Secular City" by Harvey Cox. This book was considered one of Protestantism's best sellers in 1965, and the seminar will hopefully explore the meaning of "religious" ala Harvey Cox.

Christian Week of Prayer Begins January 18 in Detroit

The observance of the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity this year will be sponsored by the Detroit Archdiocesan Councils of the Catholic Men and Women with a Mass at Blessed Sacrament Cathedral on Saturday, Jan. 11 at 11 a.m.

The celebrant will be the Rev. Msgr. Albert A. Matyn, Pastor of St. Lucy Parish, St. Clair Shores. The very Rev. Msgr. James Hickey, Rector of St. Paul Seminary, Saginaw, and a primate at the Vatican Council, will deliver the sermon. In his sermon, Msgr. Hickey will elaborate on the decrees promulgated by the Council, particularly on those dealing with ecumenism and the role of the laymen in the church today.

Admission to the Mass will be by ticket only. Tickets may be obtained at the parish rectories and at the office of the council of Catholic women.

As in the past years, the clergy of the non-Catholic churches has been invited.

The observance was inaugurated in 1960 by the Council of Catholic Men as one of their annual religious activities.

Observed by Catholics, Protestants, and Orthodox alike, the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity, formerly known as the Chair of Unity Octave, extends from the Feast of St. Peter's Chair in Rome on Jan. 18 to the Feast of St. Paul's Conversion on Jan. 25.

Continues Series

The third in the Town Meeting Series will be held at the Jewish Community Center on Thursday, Jan. 13, 8 p.m. The subject to be discussed is "Is Medicare Good for You?" The meetings are open to the general community.

Ceremonies at the Jewish Community Center on Wednesday, Jan. 26, will mark the opening of Festival '66, a cultural program designed to promote painting, sculpture, drama, music and the dance.

The Festival is the first of the Center's 40th anniversary special programs. Over two dozen programs are listed in the month-long schedule of events, ending March 1.

Discounts Consolidation Talk

(Continued from Page 1) savings in a combined police and fire department—combined with the City of Plymouth—and if there isn't any savings, then there isn't any reason to consider such a move," he stated. Sam Hudson, public relations director of Evans Products Co. and a member of the Schoolcraft College Board, asked "When will the duplication of services end?" To which, McEwen replied that he fails to see any duplication of services. He pointed out that the Township is growing so rapidly that members of the official family are being snowed under with demands and that never once has the thought of duplication of services entered into the minds of the Township Board.

McEwen was asked by Carl Pursell, Chamber of Commerce president-elect and chairman of the area Republican Party, if he would be willing to head a committee to study consolidation.

"I have no time to head such a committee," answered the Supervisor, "I'm a working supervisor interested in working for the voters of Plymouth Township. I would be happy to make an appointment to such a committee but I have too many things to do as Plymouth Township supervisor to get involved in such a study."

McEwen read portions of the 701 report as recommended to the Planning Commission by Planners Waring and Johnson telling of the plans for the Township, the predicted density and the projected population in 1970 and 1980.

OK Convention Trip

Supt. Russell Isbister Monday received permission of the Plymouth Community School Board to attend the annual American Association of School Administrators convention in Atlantic City, Feb. 12-17.

DPW News And Notes

By SUPT. JOSEPH BIDA
Plymouth Dept. Public Works Goldsmith Street has been closed from Arthur to Lena—that portion of the street that adjoins the Department of Public Works garage, office and storage site.

Broken water mains were repaired at 388 Auburn, south of Blanche Street, and at 482 Irvin, south of Farmer, during the week. Workmen also repaired the main sewer line break on N. Harvey after more than a week pumping and digging.

Seven breaks in water service lines, on the city side of the properties, were repaired. Work was continued at the Salem Township refuse site until Jan. 6 when the J & H Trucking Co. took over.

The site will be open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Saturdays from 8 a.m. until noon. However, all residents must secure permits at the City Hall and charges will be made in accordance with the schedule approved by a City Commission action a week ago.

DPW workers pumped out and winterized 42 fire hydrants during the week. Crews have started removing the Christmas decorations from the various city parks and other places. The DPW handled one funeral at Riverside Cemetery.

Eyes New Program

Among the specific objectives of the third phase are: Improve student attitude toward reading; improve the reading achievements of these disadvantaged students; reduce the students' "antagonisms" toward their total school program.

In other matters Monday night, the board heard a report from Assistant Superintendent-Business Melvin Blunk that construction of the new elementary school (No. 7) at Haggerty and Five Mile is lagging.

Blunk said the completion date for the roof of the new school building is sometime in March and that this will have to be speeded up in order to have the building finished in time for the opening of school next September.

Blunk also reported that efforts to locate a site for an eighth elementary school elsewhere in the district were continuing.

Blunk informed board members that Northville Township, contrary to the policies followed by other governmental units within the Plymouth District, intends to charge the district a building permit fee of $455 in connection with elementary school No. 7.

He asked for permission to discuss the matter with Northville Township authorities with an eye toward having the permit fee waived.

Students

(Continued from Page 1) scores, and compare his performance with that of other high school students across the country. The handbook and other interpretive materials are furnished by the testing agency at no extra cost.

The highest-scoring students in each state will be named semifinals and will receive further consideration in the Merit Program. In addition to these awards made by NMSC, more than 280 business corporations, foundations, colleges, professional associations, unions, trusts, other organizations, and individuals give scholarship through the Merit Program.

Some 2,000 Merit Scholarships were awarded last year with stipends ranging from $400 to $8,000 for four college years. A winner's stipend is determined by assessing the amount of financial assistance he will need at the college he will attend.

Senior Citizens Hear Report of Record Year

More than 100 members of the Senior Citizens Club of Plymouth were greeted by President Sam Eilhelmi and Vice President Grant Omphunt the first meeting of the new year.

The annual report from the executive committee showed another record year in attendance, membership, social activities and planned trips.

Dues for 1966 are now due. Each member is requested to write his or her name, address, telephone number and birthday date on a slip of paper and enclose it with payment.

Host and hostess for January are Mr. and Mrs. George Pook with Chairman Mrs. Russell Cook and her committee of Maud Cushing, Florence Gould, Maude Hardy, Lucile Keefer, Irene McCartney and Mary Winning.
