Oldtimer Finds Fault With Street Names And Numbers

At an age when most retirees are ready to take a strong hold on the rocking chair and just sit by and watch the world go past, Harlan Hickerson, 9595 Gold Arbor, Plymouth, is anything but ready to take things easy.

Motor Co. was looking for something to fill his spare time and more than a year ago he discovered a few things about street names and addresses that amazed him. He wondered why something hadn't been done to correct what appeared to him to be glaring errors.

leaders and heads of the two governmental units are beginning to believe he has something. It was just little more than a year ago that Harlan appeared before the City Commission and the Township Board and asked each body to consider changing the names of two main highways.

Arbor Road until it reaches Napier Road and then becomes Plymouth Road again all the way to Ann Arbor. Harlan, rightfully, believes the road should be known as Plymouth Road all the way from the starting point at Grand River in Detroit to Ann Arbor.

downtown business section to Joy Road. But, he adds, actually part of what is known as Plymouth Road becomes Main Street just south of the Hillside Inn at the edge of the city limits—to add to the confusion.

portion of Livonia and Plymouth Township to Napier Road instead of having it named Ann Arbor Road as today. Then he goes into the numbering system used in the City and Township and one becomes more and more confused as he tries to make some sense of the present numbers.

out that the street numbering system in the City presents difficulties for the visitor to the city and could, in the future, create an unfortunate situation for requested emergency service. Glassford told the Commission that Burroughs used the Detroit Edison street numbering system to identify the office and plant. RCA immediately across the street used the same system and upon request of the City, hesitated to use the city numbering system.

Hickerson picked up the fight after Glassford's departure and has been battling for a change ever since. Hickerson cites the fact that duplicate numbers are used on N. Mill and S. Mill. But he emphasizes there is a point on S. Mill where the Township side is known as Lilley Road and the City side still retains the name of S. Mill. He points to Main Street where S. Main numbers start at (Continued on Page 10B).

will know where to stop. "We hope to stop at every single home in the community on Tuesday," she added. "And we hope to collect more than the $3,000 of a year ago. Matter of fact we hope to make this the greatest Mothers' March in Plymouth history."

Mrs. Corey and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Witwer, are co-chairmen of this year's March of Dimes campaign in Plymouth.

Name Derald McKinley 'Young Educator of '65'

Climaxing the greatest celebration of National Junior Chamber of Commerce week in the Plymouth Community, members of the Jaycees and auxiliary Jayettes, paid tribute to Mrs. Russell Koepke as "Woman of the Year" and Derald McKinley, of the senior high faculty as "Young Educator of the Year" in appropriate presentation ceremonies.

Lady of Good Counsel Church, received the "Most Outstanding Woman of the Community" plaque from Jayette President Mrs. Ron Willard as highspot of a dinner meeting. McKinley, of 42235 Hammill Lane, was announced winner of the "Young Educator" award at a breakfast program Friday morning in the Mayflower Hotel. He was one of the six finalists from a list of 31 nominees and was selected by a group of judges from the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Schoecraft College faculty.

VFW Unit Collects For Vietnam

Members of the Auxiliary unit of Mayflower Post 6695, VFW, are busy collecting items for children to be sent to Vietnam through the father of a soldier stationed there. Those in charge point out the need for vitamins, wash cloths, towels, sheets, pillow cases, canned meat, and baby food, baby bottles (plastic), diapers, baby formula (Similac), material for clothing, evaporated and powdered milk, soap, toothpaste and brushes.

The breakfast was attended by the six finalists, officers of the Jaycees, school administrators and members of the Board of Education and principals of all the secondary and elementary schools.

"YOUNG EDUCATOR OF THE YEAR" award is presented to Derald McKinley by Jaycee President Cal Strom as the highlight of the Education Day breakfast at the Mayflower Hotel. FOR "MOST PATIENT MAN" IN COMMUNITY

Russ Should Get Award

The Plymouth Jaycees and Jayettes made awards to the "Man of the Year," "Woman of the Year," and the "Young Educator of the Year" and they could well have made one for the most patient person of the year—had any member of either organization attended last week's meeting of the Plymouth Township Planning Commission.

evening's first item on the agenda shortly after 8 o'clock. The public hearing ended at 9 p.m. and then Russ just sat and listened until 12:15 a.m.—three and a quarter hours later—to serve as legal counsel on a request for rezoning of a position of a lot on Northville Road for an apartment complex.

400 to Attend Annual C of C Dinner Thursday

More than 400 are expected to attend the 44th annual meeting and banquet of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in the Mayflower Meeting House when Dr. Kenneth McFarland speaks

National Bank Asks Rezoning For New Branch

Although still awaiting official approval from the Comptroller of Currency for a branch on N. Sheldon Road, National Bank of Detroit officials have made application to the Plymouth Township Planning Commission for a change in zoning of the site which is adjacent to the Gould professional office development.

"STEW" in Real Stew —It's All a Mistake

Stewart Oldford, Jr., junior member of the building and developing firm of Stewart Oldford and Sons, had fire in his eyes and a bit of brimstone on his lips when he entered the Township Hall for the Planning Commission meeting.

plat approval before he could present his case. The matter was resolved within five minutes and a smiling, happy Stewart and brother, Howard, left the meeting in a much better mood than when they had appeared.

'Russ' was attorney for Richard Fritz during a public hearing on the

And to add a bit of irony to it all, Russ advised the Planning Commission on the proper parliamentary action to recess its annual election until a special meeting with the Township Board in two weeks.

Prior to that Lent will present certificates of appreciation to retiring Board members and also introduce the new directors. Retiring members are: James Thomas, Edward Draugelis and Bernie Morrison.

Pursell in turn will present plaques to 1965 committee chairman, tell of the Chamber goals for 1966 and of amendments to the bylaws passed by the Board in a recent meeting.

The Commission was told the National Bank area central office in the City of Plymouth needed the branch to expand its operations and provide for additional parking. The new site would have spots for 96 cars. Township Planning Consultant W. C. Johnston reported the building was compatible for plans for the area. However, the Commission turned the request back to Johnston for additional study and information with an indication it would be discussed at the February meeting again before a date is set for a public hearing.

"Stew," who always receives a copy of the Commission minutes after any meeting he has a part, thought the Planners had reversed a decision on one of his projects after he had left the meeting.

He had a good reason for his belief—the minutes told him so.

Thus, "Stew," who appeared on the scene after the Commission had approved the minutes, was ready for a fiery session. But he quickly learned all of his fears were needless—the Commission listened to his explanation, then acted to correct the minutes. There had been an error but only Stewart, Jr. was aware of it until he brought it to the attention of the group.

But he did have to wait through a public hearing and a lengthy discussion of a final

Garden City Wonders How It Happened

Stories of a tuberculosis epidemic at a Garden City nursery school broke with both a bang and a whimper.

Whimpers were audible from parents with children removed from the nursery and admitted to Maybury Sanatorium in Northville and from employees of the Hansel & Gretel Day Nursery School, 6585 Middlebelt.

Nursery employees understand the concern of parents and share their grief. "We are living in a dream world," said one nursery, "How could it happen here after so many precautions were taken and so much care given?"

One Garden City mother suffering personal grief from the outbreak called nursery officials threatening to put the nursery out of business for good, threats made with very abusive language. Similar calls add to the tensions created by the epidemic.

Whimpers were also heard at an area hospital from the middle-aged woman who is said to be the carrier. She had TB earlier in her life but X-rayed by her private physician in August and was cleared. Apparently she caught the disease in October but it was not known definitely until a skin-patch test was given to nursery employees and 44 children by the Wayne County Health Department on Jan. 6.

Since the mass admittance of children into Maybury, Mrs. Marie Gaylord, owner of the nursery school, has been conferring daily with Wayne County health officials.

When she returns to Garden City, Mrs. Gaylord has to answer reporters, face television cameras, city officials and concerned parents. Meanwhile, children at the nursery behave as usual . . . playing games, making paper hats, coloring, teasing, and taking naps.

Mrs. Gaylord showed a member of The Observer staff records she has kept of each child admitted and objected to charges made that the nursery was lax in keeping records. Nurses and children of the nursery are checked annually for TB and each child must submit a physical examination report before admitted.

The admittance requirements, check on employees and cleanliness of the nursery keeps one question running in Mrs. Gaylord's mind — How could it happen to us?

As you enter the nursery, there is a long, oblong room containing tables for children's handcraft. Adorning bulletin boards are paper hats, painted paper plates, crayon drawings and snap-shots of a Christmas party.

To the right is a lounge for parents to consult with nursery officials and in the northeast corner of the building is a small room with closets. The closets are stacked with shoe boxes with children's articles of clothing with the child's name written on each.

In the center of the building is a square room with a number of cots for the afternoon naps. A kitchen with the usual apparatus is at the southwest corner of the building and to the rear is a small room also used for crafts.

A playground used during summer months adjoins the south wall which is decorated by plywood figures of Hansel & Gretel and other popular nursery rhyme figures.

Will normalcy ever return to Mrs. Gaylord?

JUST CHATTIN'

Suggestion for Schools; Use Taxes for Building; Charge for Tuition

By W. W. EDGAR

Now that the people have spoken in no uncertain terms and the Board of Education has suffered a stunning defeat in its quest for additional millage and a bond issue, the time has come to take a good, hard look at the entire picture in Livonia and the surrounding areas.

Where are we going? How are we going to get there?

Who is going to pay the bill? There may be many underlying reasons why the millage and bond issue were beaten, so one-sidedly, but in the final analysis it was a matter of taxes.

The people with whom I spoke—and they were legion—feel that their real estate taxes are high enough now—and that they can't stand an increase.

Yet, many of these same people will storm the citadel to protest when an industrial plant or a large market or shopping center is being discussed for the immediate area of their homes or subdivisions.

What's more, they turn a deaf ear when you attempt to point out that approval of such a plant or market will broaden the tax base.

These folks are stubborn. They want their cake and want to eat it too.

I recall early in my career as a member of the Livonia City Council we were discussing the problem of garbage collection. We had made a survey and came up with a plan whereby a small addition to the tax rate would relieve the people of the monthly fees being paid to the garbage collectors. As a matter of fact the tax increase we spoke about was a minor one compared to the saving that would come about by elimination of the monthly fee.

When the program was presented we, on the Council, were shocked to learn that the people resented it.

"Do anything you want," one of the leaders pleaded, "but let our taxes alone."

Another reason for the defeat of the recent school proposal could be that the schools asked too much at one time.

A nine mill increase in taxes and a nine million dollar bond issue is quite a lump to swallow. Such fancy trimmings as a statement that "we won't ask for anything else for three years," are no longer acceptable, for no one can tell what the next three years holds in store for us.

Perhaps, if the plan was given in smaller pieces it would have been accepted. Yet, even that is questionable.

So by taking a good, hard look at conditions as they are without becoming emotional these are some of the things I see:

1—Perhaps a new method of levying real estate taxes would bring results.

2—A crying need for industry to broaden the tax base—yet with the realization that industry cannot be made available over night.

3—A tightening of the belt on the part of the school folks — get rid of the frills without sacrificing modern methods.

4—A plan whereby the money paid in school taxes would be used to provide the buildings and a tuition fee would be charged for educating the children.

Oh, I know there will be howling and yelping at the latter suggestion. There'll be screaming that all youngsters are entitled to an education—and I would be the last to deny them—but, seemingly, it can't be done under the present system.

At the same time, folks unfortunate enough to be without children, are screaming about the high school taxes. Maybe they have a right to scream—for they are paying for something they get nothing in return.

So, why not a plan whereby our tax money goes for school buildings and the students are asked to pay a tuition? It is done in junior colleges, community colleges and our higher institutions of learning.

Driver Training Classes Planned for After School

Epidemic Spurs Legislative TB Prevention Action

Seek Tighter Nursery, Public School Health Policy

Sixteen children contracting tuberculosis at the Hansel & Gretel nursery school in Garden City was unfortunate and heartbreaking news for parents but some good has resulted.

Hundreds of area children have been taken by parents to the Wayne County Health Department for TB tests. The public is more conscious of tuberculosis and the fright engendered by the Garden City epidemic might prevent many infants from contracting the disease.

This arousing of public sentiment towards the danger of TB makes it easier for health officials throughout the state and across the nation to expedite their control program to curb TB.

Stories of the epidemic in Garden City have gone over national wire services and have been published in papers as far west as California. All across America a public awareness of the dangers of TB is being felt.

Good has also reached the Maybury Sanatorium in Northville where the inflicted children from the nursery are being treated. A number of television sets has been donated by concerned citizens and service groups to make it easier to entertain the children committed for treatment.

Garden City councilmen voted Monday for an audit of funds the City allocates to the Wayne County Board of Health to determine how much and for what the money is being spent. Prompting the move was Mayor Edwin Freeh, Jr.'s feeling that Garden City should have been informed of the outbreak by County health officials.

After passing the resolution for the audit, the Council then authorized the City Attorney to draw up a resolution creating City Health officials instead of leaving matters to the County. It was felt a Health official would better centralize responsibility and result in more care for local citizens.

Another outgrowth of the epidemic was passage by the House of Representatives of a bill creating an investigating committee to check for loopholes in policies governing the health status of nursery and public schools.

Rep. James Tierney (D-Garden City) introduced the resolution with hopes of preventing such an epidemic from occurring in the future in nursery or public schools.

Jack McDonald, chairman of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, also made recommendations to prevent recurrence of another epidemic after meeting with members of the Wayne County Department of Health.

Gov. George Romney has urged legislation to plug gaps in State controls against tuberculosis.

Romney recommended mandatory state TB tests for persons in close contact with the public and mandatory state requirements for TB tests to be given to pre-schoolers attending private schools open to the public.

Hints of a possible epidemic reached County health officials when two children were discovered to have contacted TB from the same source, the Hansel & Gretel nursery in Garden City.

County health officials examined 44 children from the nursery and private physicians checked another 13.

Twelve children were found to have TB after taking skin-patch tests bringing the total to 14 from the same source.

An employee given a skin-test on Jan. 6 found she had TB, resigned on Jan. 13 and later was hospitalized for treatment.

Irate parents contacted papers about the epidemic and complained about not receiving enough information from health officials involved.

McDonald blasted the Health Department for "bungling" the incident but afterwards exonerated the department's handling of the epidemic.

Another employee and four more children were found to have TB.

Mayor Freeh criticized County health officials for not informing the City of the epidemic and questioned why McDonald changed his views overnight.

While other clashes are being heard, health officials apparently have the outbreak under control. Dr. John Hanlon, director of the County Health Department, has urged that the nursery remain open.

Evans Slates Expansion

Evans Products Co., which has announced expansion plans of more than $3 million in less than two years, Monday made known its plans to erect a new Administration Building to meet the expanding needs of the Transportation Equipment Group.

James J. Conway, executive vice president in charge of the Transportation Equipment Group in Plymouth, said ground will be broken early in February for the new office building on the company's property on Plymouth Road.

The building, scheduled for completion about July 1, will occupy 2,000 square feet. The one-story steel and masonry structure of modern design will face Plymouth Road.

It will contain the Transportation Equipment Group's headquarters offices as well as offices of the administrative and engineering personnel of Evans' Railway Car Division.

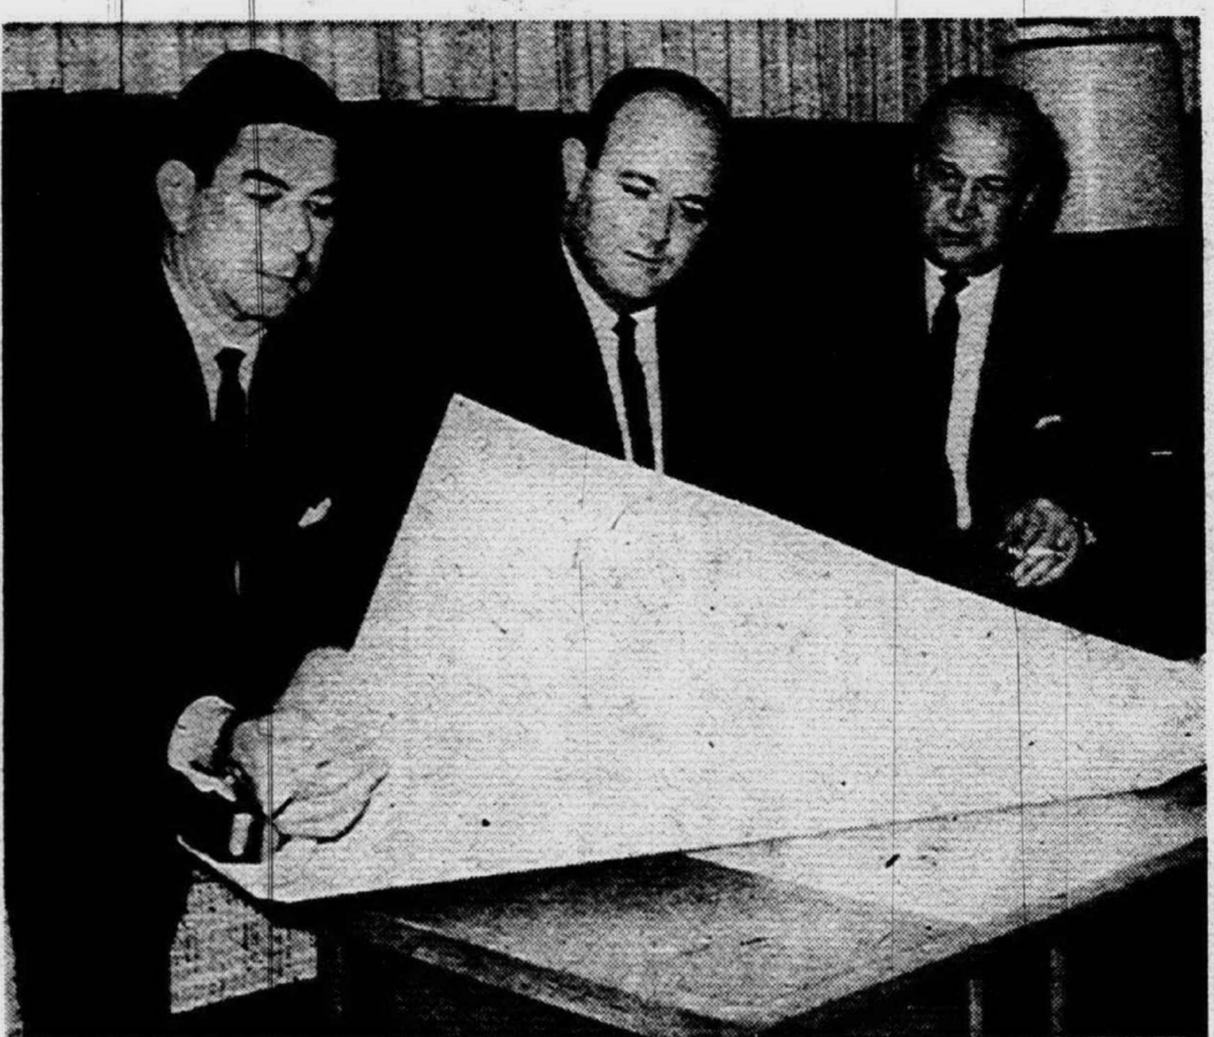

Conway said the new building is needed because of continuing growth in the transportation equipment part of the company's operations. Evans has long been the nation's leading designer and manufacturer designed to prevent damage to railroad freight cars and lading.

In addition to an increase in volume of sales for this equipment, the company's freight car construction facility originally built in September 1964 has undergone two major expansions to meet railroad and shipper needs.

The company also recently broadened its activity in the railroad industry by acquiring a freight car leasing firm (United States Railway Equipment Co. in Chicago) and a freight car door manufacturer (Chicago Railway Equipment Co. and Superior Car Door Co. in Chicago).

The construction of the administration building follows closely on the heels of the announcement of the $3 million expansion that increased the size of the railroad-car building plant to 300,000 square feet and the overall plant to more than 800,000 square feet.

A group of Eastern Michigan University students who plan to teach industrial arts visited Franklin High and Emerson Junior High schools last week, to observe classes and ask questions about the various vocational programs in Livonia secondary schools.

The group of 15, led by Eastern Michigan University Professor Gerald L. Jennings, expressed pleasure at the wide variety of programs offered in Livonia and told Arlie Fairman, coordinator of vocational education instruction, that they would seriously consider teaching in this area once they had earned their degrees and teaching certificates.

Joe Knight, Emerson industrial education teacher, explained the junior high program and outlined the philosophy followed in the Livonia system to prepare young people interested in vocational and craft careers in the metropolitan area.

Pills Strewn; Police Find for Victim

Mrs. Janet Booker of 22780 Purdue, Farmington Township, is a polio victim and requires constant medication.

On the afternoon of Jan. 22 the Booker car was parked on Haggerty Rd. and Mrs. Booker had left her purse with her pills on the front seat.

Three youths stole the purse which also contained about $73 in cash.

About 4:30 p.m. the Bookers reported the theft to the Farmington Township Police and the fact that, with about five hours to go before medication would be necessary, the fact that the prescription could not be refilled and the family doctor was out of town.

By 7 p.m. the Township's Detective Bureau arrested three juveniles from Livonia who admitted stealing the purse. They told police that they had thrown the contents out the car window between the location of the theft and the City of Walled Lake.

Two detectives then started at 12 Mile and Brookview and walked to within one and a half blocks of the roller coaster at the Walled Lake amusement park.

They did, however, recover the medicine and most of the other contents of the purse including most of the $73.

The three youths are now in the hands of the Township's juvenile authorities.

Hillside Inn was the scene of far away places, when the Business and Professional Women's Club met for the first meeting of the New Year. Mr. and Mrs. Roswell Tanger, of Irvin St., delighted the group with slides and narration of Africa. The Tangers, world travelers are well known in the area for their remarkable travel reviews.

Tanger acted as photographer and Mrs. Tanger the narrator. The winter meeting of District nine report was given. Those attending from the Plymouth area were: Daisy Proctor, Connie Heyder, Laverne Carpenter, Mary Ellen Hosier, Grace Formax, and Mary Jane Wagonchutz.

Emphasis was placed on youth of today with William Bolster as guest speaker from the neighborhood conservation office of Detroit. Bolster spoke on Youth Block Clubs. The meeting was held at the Dearborn Youth Center.

The Distaff Point of View

Jerry Wendt
Woman's Editor

"Am I like that?" "That couldn't possibly be me!" Those and hundred other questions will whirl through your brain if you will subject yourself to one of the most unusual experiences of your life.

You will witness a movie with no words, no sub-titles, only the strangest, most haunting music as an accompaniment. The only sound throughout the movie is a blood-curdling death shriek, which will bring you to your feet. You will never know the plot of the movie, the meaning, or just why you are able to see it. When the lights go on, you will see people around you, who are as curious as you are. You will probably discuss the picture with them, but you will never, never, know for sure the real answer, for it lies within yourself.

VIRGINIA CAIRNS

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. Cairns, of Farmington Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Virginia, to Donald Allen Keillor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Keillor of Walled Lake. The bride-elect is a graduate of Farmington High School and her fiance of Walled Lake High School. A May 21 wedding is planned.

If you want a haunting experience and one that will chill you and leave you with an eerie feeling, go to Northland. When you are there, go to the "Y" Concourse, take the stairway down, and stop at a small room called the "Salt Cellar". This room is hung with abstract black and white drawings. Make your way to the rear, and explain that you want to see the movie.

There is no charge, and you will be seated in a rocking chair. Strange chords of music will be heard, and a colored panorama of a circus will flash on the screen. All the elaborate and gaudy trappings of the circus and the characters will pass before you. At the end of the procession is a clown, dressed entirely in white. Even his makeup is chalk white. This is the story of a day in his life and the many characters in the circus.

Memorable scenes are the one where a man, his face twisted with hate is hurling baseballs at a young negro boy. When the clown takes his place as a target, the man directs the balls at the negro even when he is out of range.

When the lights went on, I was standing, twisting my beads around my throat. I tend to see it again, many times, for I am unable to figure it out, or to forget it.

The name of the movie is the "Parable".

There is no charge, I repeat, but see it at your own risk. Some people have seen it as many as 30 times, and are still searching for the answer.

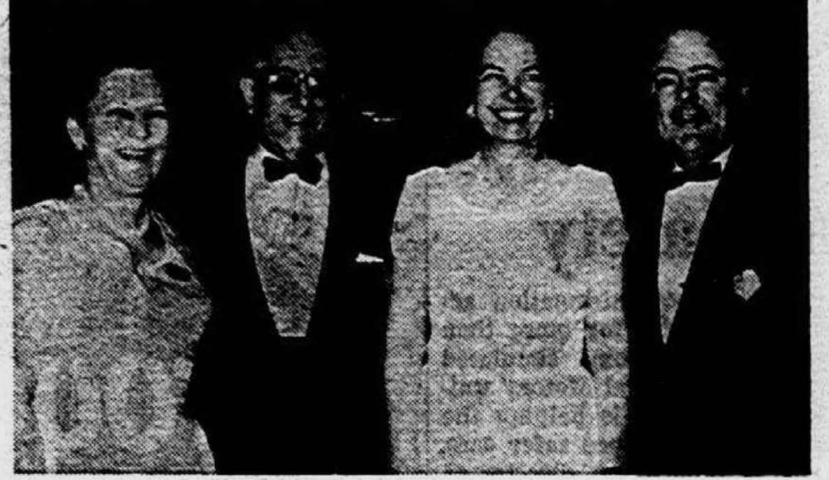

One thing is certain: you will not be unimpressed by it and you will never forget it.

GM 'Sled' Aids Study of Safety

A wealth of information accumulated daily for more than three years from simulated crashes in General Motors' unique impact sled is helping the Corporation produce safer cars, Louis C. Lundstrum, director of Automotive Safety Engineering for GM, reported Monday.

Since its installation, the sled has been "crashed" more than 1,600 times, including 548 times in 1965. The work with this automotive crash simulator is part of an intensive test program conducted at the GM Proving Ground in Milford, which also has involved the intentional crashing of hundreds of actual vehicles since it was begun in 1933.

"Many vehicle parts that affect safety are being tested at this GM Proving Ground facility. In these 'crashes' we study occupant restraint systems; door latches and hinges; seat retention; and passenger kinematics, or how passengers move in the vehicle under impact conditions, to mention but some of our projects," Lundstrum said. "What we learn enables the designer to make improvements in our products," he added.

While seat belts, for example, have to meet established standards, Lundstrum explained, these standards generally are based on static tests. "By simulating accidents our sled tests prove out dynamically the effectiveness of our seat belts. Many improvements in our belts and in other safety equipment have come about as a direct result of our sled tests," he said.

The General Motors' impact sled, the first and only full scale machine in the industry and the most extensive such facility in the world, was completed in October, 1962.

It enables GM's Safety Test Engineering Laboratory engineers to "fire" payloads up to 5,000 pounds by compressed air along a pair of 100-foot rails on a sled-like structure. The firing is done by a thrust column extending from a thrust piston embedded in a 91-ton concrete block. A launching thrust can range as high as 300,000 pounds.

An interesting feature of the sled is that it "crashes" with a tremendous acceleration pulse. For example, to simulate a head-on crash, the car body is "fired" backwards from a standing position. What happens to the passenger dummies is the same as what would happen to them if the car body were stopped suddenly from a selected test speed.

The advantages of impact sled testing indoors over earlier techniques of ramming cars into concrete barriers or stopping them suddenly at the end of a cable is that repeated tests are possible under controlled conditions. Controlling the variables of the older outdoor testing techniques was difficult at best and weather conditions could easily cancel out a testing program.

The versatility of the impact sled is another important advantage, Lundstrum pointed out.

"We can mount test equipment ranging from a seat belt anchorage to a complete car body. With complete car bodies, the sled can produce 40G accelerations. This is equivalent to a head-on impact involving two cars, each traveling at 40 miles per hour. Components can be crashed at speeds up to 74 miles per hour, and car bodies and components can be mounted to stage crashes with impacts from the front, rear, side and any angle in between," he said.

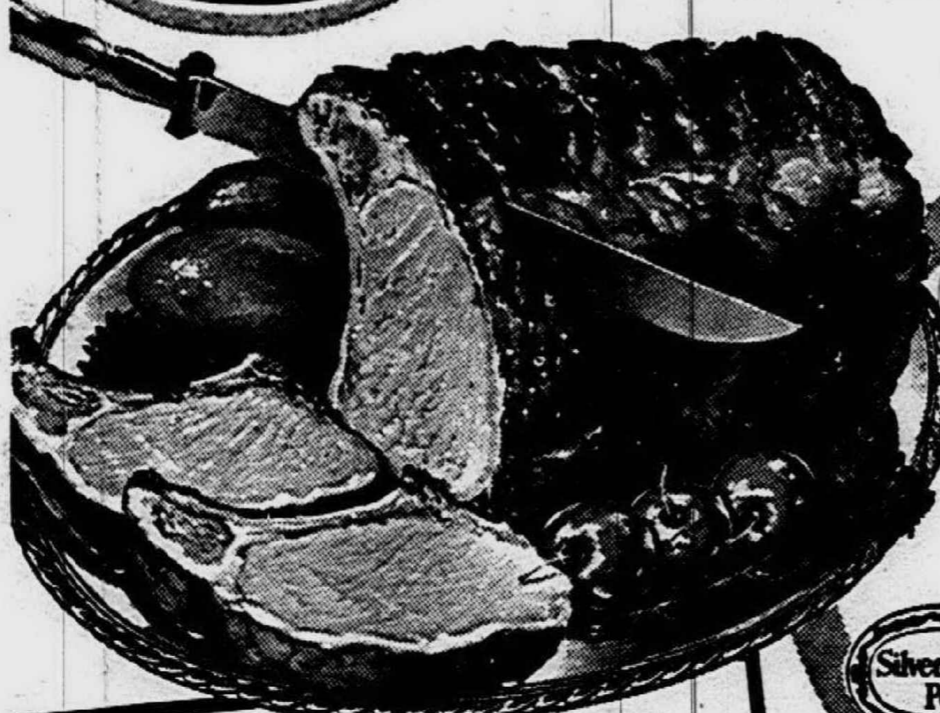

To record the impact tests, high speed color motion pictures at rates as high as 3,000 frames per second are taken. Camera coverage can be handled from several angles, including high impact types of cameras on the sled itself. Two banks of incandescent floodlights producing more than 10,000 foot candles illumination provide the lighting necessary for photography.

Sixth Graders Have Substitute For Automobile

What proper name means "automobile" to sixth-graders? In the case of 28 out of 31 pupils in one class at a Rockland County, N.Y., elementary school, the answer was "Ford."

The class was asked to substitute a proper noun for a common noun as part of an English assignment, and the word "Ford" won hands down as the name used in place of the word "automobile."

Intrigued by the response, the class room teacher asked her colleagues to run a similar test with other sixth graders in the school system and report back with the results. Out of the 233 English students tested, 130 named Ford.

Evidently there were some animal lovers in the class, because the next highest number of students responding 11 chose the name of a car with "tiger" connotations in its advertising.

Dark Ages for Schools?

To the Editor: Let's go along with Mr. Remaley. (The Observer Jan. 5). However, he doesn't go far enough.

Along with eliminating drinking fountains and swimming pools, let's cut out toilets and go back to democratic four hole outhouses. If the schools wish to preserve electric lights, the school can ask the students to bring in candle and flashlights. Let's also make sure every piece of equipment, like pencils, chalk and school paper be approved by a vote of the people who pay the taxes.

As far as the number of pupils in classrooms, which educators feel 30 students is the maximum per teacher, let's double the number and put 60 students in a class, and fire half of the teachers.

In closing, I say lets bring back the McCarthy era, and let's put our schools back into the dark ages.

GERALD J. GAZDA.

Good Course—Need Editor:

I wonder if people are becoming apathic in their regard for a lot of material things, like cars, appliances, and houses.

The reason that I ask is that a course for home buyers was offered three school terms in a row and the response has been very poor. In the spring of 1965, this course was offered to the Livonia school adult education program, and the notice of the course was printed the day the course was to start, and as a result it was cancelled.

Last fall the same course was offered by three different schools, and the net result was 10 couples at the Farmington High School. This January the course was offered again, and the people that registered did not make up a class of 10.

Now, this course was put together with a lot of painstaking research, and a lot of time was spent to compile it and I guess that will have to go by the board now as the interest is sadly lacking.

For people not to find out what their house will consist of in regards to materials, method of construction, and the hundreds of parts that go into it, is apathy on the home buyers part. A buyer of a car takes a lot of time going from dealer to dealer to get a good deal, and the buyer knows exactly what is on that car, its size, and how it operates, and then he may keep this car for two to three years, while a home may be bought for a lifetime.

Why do people have such great trust in the builders, that they sign a literally blank piece of paper for a purchase that means payments for 25 years.

How do they know if they will get their money's worth, and are they sure that their dream house will be built properly, and that a lot of substitutes will not be made, as a builder can switch materials on a party and the buyer will never know. The quality of workmanship today is very poor in many cases as their workers in the trades that only look for a fat paycheck, and the pride of workmanship is sadly lacking.

People lose money on a house because of oral agreements, as there is no guarantee that a price quoted will be the one that is paid in the end. People do not know how material is rated, as today there is a lot of real good material on the market, but not knowing how to shop for it puts the buyer at the mercy of the seller, etc.

Clarenceville High School may offer this course again, in the near future, but if there are no students, this person feels that since the buyer had his chance to learn about his future, and didn't take it, he has no right to go to the inspection department or to the newspaper with his tale of woe, as in the case of those now having a to do in Warren. Once a house has been passed by the inspection department, there is very little recourse, and then only if your house falls down, but that isn't likely, because it will stand for the length of the warranty period.

I also find that some newspapers will not give this type of course any advance advertising, as this course was sent to the reporter of the Detroit News of western Wayne County.

I guess that a few advertisers in the News in the Homes for Sale section, might be offended, no notice in the paper that once you read it, you know everything, that is, what they want you to know. It's nice to know that the Observer isn't afraid of a little criticism on issues that concern a lot of people.

TEACHERS OF BUYERS COURSE

Editor: I am thoroughly convinced this is a "For Livonia Only" spirited paper. Your Mrs. Myra Chandler, Editor-in-chief proved this without a doubt. The heck with the neighboring communities is your theory. In scolding the voters of Livonia for not voting the way you wanted them to, you completely tore down Redford Township. We have pride in our community, too and we don't need to insult our neighboring communities and brain-wash our citizens as you took it upon yourself to do, Mrs. Chandler.

You spoke of Redford's Master Plan for the City of 14 years ago. You went on to say we "at that time had more expedient politicians than dedicated public servants." Maybe so then! But you pointed out their names and faces have long faded out. Very true. A lot of residents can come and go in 14 years. These people have been replaced with truly interested citizens.

Maybe there wasn't enough who cared about the community's future generations then. Things can change in 14 years and they have. I don't believe you've been in Redford Township in the past 14 years. You couldn't have been here and written that Editorial, not if you have eyes to see with.

We have active Civic association throughout the Township who know for a fact it's not "too late for Five Mile and Beech Road" in our Township. You were very ignorant even to suggest something like that.

We have pride in ourselves and our community Mrs. Chandler and we aren't standing still as you claim we are.

I doubt very much if you'll print this for everyone to see Mrs. Chandler, you're the kind of person who wouldn't have the nerve to admit you were wrong. So very, very wrong.

I just wanted you to know there are still people who have backbones and won't let people like you go uninformed for very long. It's about time someone set you straight on the facts.

Thank you for taking the time to read this. I hope you spend as much time gathering your information next time.

"SINCE THE LAST DECADE"

Ed Note: Speaking of backbone it would be nice if the letter writer had enough backbone to sign their letter. We will always withhold a signature but rarely run unsigned letters. Couldn't resist running this one, however. By the way—what are the facts of the beautification of Five Mile and Beech Road—they escaped me in the letter.

Editor:

May I say that I think you are doing a great disservice to your readers by your continual printing of such letters as the ones you feature from a Mr. Remaley. It seems to me that the letter column of an impartial newspaper should reflect a typical sampling of all the letters the paper receives. Surely Mr. Remaley's are not typical — if so, heaven help Livonia. Your weekly featuring of his kind of thinking should not be encouraged, but discouraged.

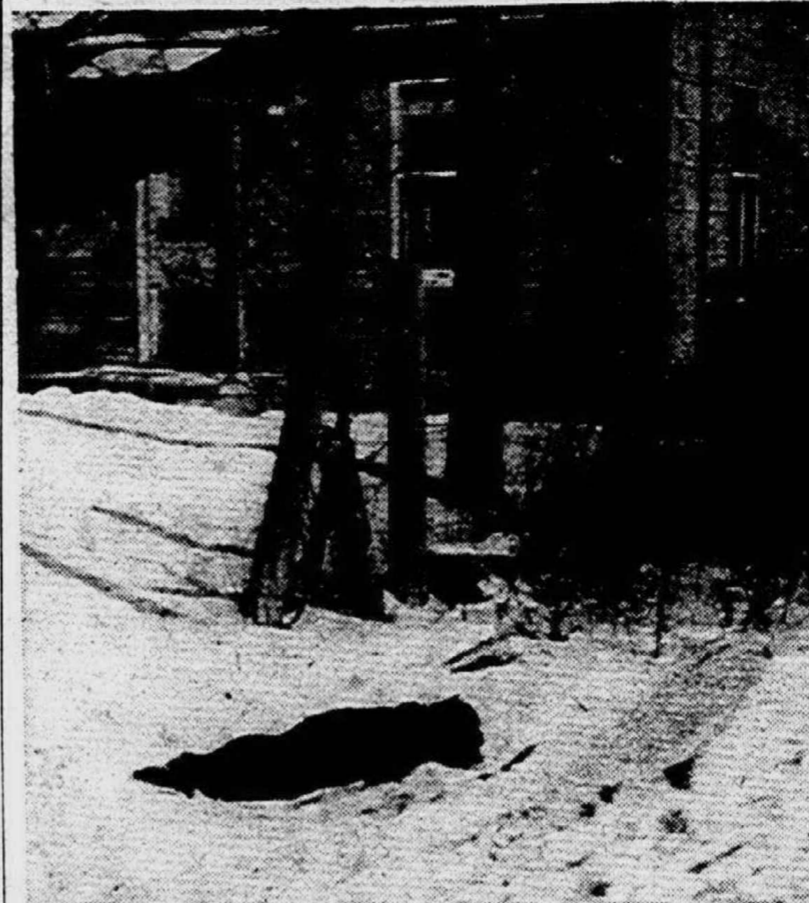

In defense of the school board I would like to say that I know every one of the members, and not one is dishonest or deceitful. They are trying to do an almost impossible job to the best of their abilities. Anyone who wants to know where all the money goes should attend some of the 52 open-to-the-public meetings every year, and not point a finger in the public press, and say "I wonder."

No, I don't want to pay an extra nine mills tax, but Yes, I am going to vote for it, because I can't afford not to. It is worth it to me for my children and all the children of Livonia to receive the best possible education, and the best teachers are worth more money than they are getting — and can get it elsewhere if we don't come through.

Our children — incidentally our most precious possessions — live in the school buildings a great share of their waking hours. Should they be cramped, ugly, unsafe, and without conveniences? Would we live or work this way? It costs $490 a year to educate one child in Livonia, and this is below the national average, which includes such states as Alabama and Arkansas.

Even with the additional nine mills, my individual school tax is not going to amount to as much as many people pay every year for liquor and cigarettes. The children are worth more than those items, in my estimation.

A DEAD DOG has been laying at the side of Albion in Farmington Township since Friday according to Dorothy Buxton of 22640 Albion. The dog was still there Monday at about 3 p.m. as evidenced by this picture. Mrs. Buxton said that she reported the dog to both the Township Police and the State Police on Saturday and again on Monday. The Farmington Township Police said that they report all such cases to the Oakland County animal shelter as they do not pick up dead dogs, which was done in this case. Mrs. Buxton, who states that the Township Police were in the neighborhood over the weekend, feels that the dog is constituting a public health menace.

Oakland University Has Varied Adult Courses

Courses on 10 modern plays, music of the Baroque Era; an introduction to computer programming called computer software concepts; and a survey of technical ceramics are among many new offerings of the Division of Continuing Education at Oakland University.

A catalog describing 165 adult non-credit courses which start Feb. 14 is available from the University.

The course program has been expanded as a result of the 31.9% growth in enrollment in continuing classes last term. 2,125 students were registered as contrasted to 1,618 in the fall of 1964.

Some other new subjects for the winter-spring term will be Philosophical Thinking; China; Role of the Church in the New World; Archaeology and the Bible; Philosophy in the Contemporary World; Philosophy of History; and Human Adjustment in Groups.

Turner Tosses Hat in Race for Judgeship

Robert J. Turner, Ferndale City Attorney, has announced his candidacy for one of two vacancies on the Oakland County Circuit Court in the pending November election.

Turner, Ferndale City Attorney since 1962, has practiced law in the County of Oakland for 10 years. In addition to his role as City Attorney he has been a member of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors since 1963.

As City Attorney, Turner has been responsible for representing the legal interests of Ferndale's 33,000 residents for nearly four years. While a member of the Board of Supervisors, Turner has served on the veteran affairs committee, aviation committee, and the T.B. Sanatorium committee. Turner, 41, 606 West Drayton, Ferndale, and his wife, Helen, have four children.

A 35-year resident of Oakland County, Turner was graduated from Wayne State University Law School.

Turner also has received a bachelor of arts from Detroit Institute of Technology and a bachelor of science from Wayne State University. He is a member of the Michigan State Bar Association, the Oakland County Bar Association and the South Oakland Bar Association, and Sigma Nu Phi legal fraternity.

Need Transportation

Editor: As a temporary resident of Livonia and a student at Madonna College, I would like to ask your assistance in a transportation problem.

Livonia is a fine city with many facilities, cultural, business, and civic. Without a car, it is impossible to get to them, however. There are many times when one needs to get to Detroit or to Lansing. Buses are available to these destinations from specified stations. However, Livonia, does not provide any kind of transportation to these stations.

If public transportation were provided, I am sure that not only college students, but much of the public would avail itself of this facility.

As a paper serving the public interest, I am sure the Livonian Observer will not hesitate to support my plea for public transportation by printing this letter to the Editor.

Liquor License

Roman House, Farmington's new athletic club, will have to wait for its liquor license until the Township Board is certain that the license belonging to the old Parker House will revert to the Township when it expires in April.

The Township has expressed its opposition to the renewal of the license to the State Liquor Control Commission, but doesn't want to let its one remaining license out of its hands until it is certain that after the spring it will still have one in reserve.

Roman House needs a Class C license as its dining room is open to the public.

GOP Head Rips Tierney Action

Carl Pursell, chairman of Wayne II Second Congressional District Republican Party, Monday accused Rep. James Tierney (D., Garden City) of jumping on a political bandwagon by calling for legislation before the facts were known.

Tierney filed last Wednesday for introduction of a resolution creating a special committee on health "regarding day nurseries and other establishments serving the public." Disclosure was made Tuesday that 14 children at the Hansel & Gretel Nursery had contracted tuberculosis in what Wayne County health director Dr. John D. Hanlon described as "an epidemic."

The resolution calls for the five-man committee to investigate factors of health policies, procedures and practices involved in day nurseries and any other establishment serving the public throughout Michigan.

Calling the resolution premature and superfluous, Pursell pointed out that there are already in existence state, county and city agencies whose purpose is to keep an eye on health policies, procedures and practices in these establishments.

The Republican leader said it was not a matter of creating new agencies and adding additional personnel, but rather of amending our present laws and insuring proper enforcement.

Pursell added that a spot-check with local nurseries revealed that owners also felt Tierney was out of line with his proposal.

Atty. Gen. Explains Lake Access Laws

(This is a public service article by Attorney General Frank J. Kelley explaining in general terms a provision of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult a private attorney.)

Michigan's numerous lakes and streams are among its most valuable assets. Because of the great use made of our lakes and streams by the public, knowledge of the laws governing their use has become very important.

In Michigan the bottom lands of streams and inland lakes are owned by persons whose property touches them. Such ownership does not, however, give the adjoining property owner exclusive rights to the use of the water on navigable streams and lakes.

An adjoining property owner may use the entire stream or lake for boating, fishing, swimming and other recreational use but the public also is entitled to use the water from a point of public access.

Public access is available through township, village, city and county parks, or other lands under their control and Department of Conservation fishing sites which number some 600, state parks, recreational, hunting and forest lands.

The public's right to use Michigan's inland lakes and streams does not mean they can anchor a boat indefinitely in front of somebody's cottage, picnic on his beach or otherwise disturb his ownership.

The public can, however, travel by boat over the entire surface of the water, and fish and swim in such water. They cannot, however, trespass on the property adjoining the water. An adjoining property owner has exclusive control over his property to the water's edge. The laws governing the use of navigable waters go back over a hundred years.

During the 1965 session of the legislature, some of these laws were consolidated by passing Act 291 which will assist in preserving our water wonderland. This act will become effective on March 31, 1966.

This statute, for the first time, places in an easily accessible form the laws governing filling and dredging. Thus, an adjoining property owner cannot fill in part of a stream or lake and thus eliminate some of the water from both public and private use unless he secures a permit from the Conservation Department.

Such permit will only be issued if it does not cause any substantial harm to the stream or lake involved.

Likewise, the property owner will not be able to dredge waters on which he is located destroy spawning grounds and wildlife habitat unless the Conservation Department feels that no substantial injury will be done to adjacent property or habitat, and that other uses will benefit from such dredging.

Planning Board Delays Election

The Plymouth Township Planning Commission delayed its annual election of officers until a special meeting with the Township Board on the 701 program, a plan for orderly expansion of the Township, when all members will be present.

Actually, the Commission recessed last week's meeting and will reconvene briefly prior to the special session to name officers for 1966. The Township rules and regulations provide for the election in the first regular meeting in January.

However, Chairman Irvin Rozian recommended the delay due to the absence of Commissioners Art Stecker, Maury Breen and Tivador Balogh. Others present concurred and the meeting was recessed.

"THE CHURCH IN the Community" was the subject of the panel discussion in Plymouth's Inter-Faith dinner. Seated left to right are: Thomas J. Foley (Circuit Judge, Wayne County); Sanford Burr, (Dean of Academic Affairs, Southfield High School); Rev. Alfred Renaud, (Our Lady of Good Counsel); Russell Isbister, moderator (Supt. Plymouth Community Schools); Rev. Ron Phelps, (Wayne County Training School); and John Herb, (Secretary-Treasurer, American Community Mutual Insurance Co.)

350 Join in Second Annual Plymouth Inter-Faith Dinner

Many people are interested in furthering the growth of the church and the role of the church in the community. More than 350 jammed the dining room for the second annual Plymouth Community Inter-Faith dinner.

Following the dinner, a panel of five discussed "The Church in the Community."

Moderator Russell Isbister, Supt. of Plymouth Community Schools, kept the pace lively, and the panel members were candid in their observations.

Sanford Burr, Dean of Academic Affairs (Southfield High School); Thomas J. Foley, Circuit Judge, (Wayne County); John Herb (Secretary-Treasurer, American Community Mutual Insurance Co.); Rev. Ron Phelps, (Wayne County Training School); and Rev. Alfred Renaud, (Our Lady of Good Counsel), comprised the panel.

Consensus of opinion is that the Church is no longer a body separate from the people but is now becoming the people themselves. The duty of people to the church and the church to the people was discussed.

Rev. Phelps stated that the very structure of the church is dependent on the life of the family.

Judge Foley said that the problems of youth today are far different than faced in the previous generation. He believes that the youth of today are far advanced in their thinking and are not interested in a round of organized activities.

Burr carried this theme along in his discussion and further added that ours is a highly structural civilization — and he believes youth is in a sense rebelling against this by showing a resentment of organized activities.

Father Renaud was amazingly frank in his conversation. He said that the Catholic Church has been obliged to modify some of its ideas and said that no longer are they sticking strongly to the idea that the whole object of marriage is the sacredness of the union and the children.

"Love is the answer to all our problems," he said. "Love of God and fellowman can be expressed in many ways."

John Herb's opinion was acceded to by members of the clergy. He said he believed that the Church should not make a practice of assigning layman duties to those who volunteered or who were well known, but should make a genuine effort to call upon the resources of people who were not known to them. "You will unearth some talents," he advised them.

Rev. Peter Schweitzer of the First Methodist Church was general chairman of the program.

AMA Tells How To Find Doctor

Tragedy can befall those who wait to get a doctor "until he is needed."

True, most communities now have emergency call systems which help find you a doctor when a crisis arises. But that emergency might have been averted if the patient had been under the watchful eye of a personal physician, says a new pamphlet from the American Medical Association.

How do you select a doctor for your family?

Start by calling your local medical society for the names of several physicians in your vicinity. Membership in his local medical society indicates that the doctor is a qualified physician meeting the high standards of those who know him best—his fellow practitioners.

If there is no medical society office in your community, ask your hospital or your local druggist for suggestions. With these names you can investigate further, and make your own decision. The American Medical Directory, published by the American Medical Association, is an excellent source of background information that is available in most libraries.

In making your final selection, it is best to visit the doctor in his office. Does he impress you favorably? No one personality type can be recommended, of course, but if you are "comfortable" with him and sense a quality of competence, he has already begun to win the confidence necessary for a good doctor-patient relationship.

Ask him about his fees. He will welcome such a discussion as a basis for future understanding. If you wish he can advise you about hospital costs and other medical expenses.

When you have selected your family doctor, be completely frank with him. The more your doctor knows about his patients, the better care he can provide. Consider him your health advisor. Follow his instructions and—when you need them—heed his suggestions on selection of a specialist and a hospital.

For your own good—and the health of your family—don't wait until illness strikes to choose a doctor. Select him now so he can have advance knowledge of your family's medical problems and can help you to stay well, as well as treat you when you become sick.

Ford Sets Scholarship Program to Develop Auto Specialists

A scholarship program aimed at raising the number and caliber of specialists in automotive technology was announced Monday by the Ford Motor Company Fund.

The Fund will provide approximately 100 two-year scholarships this year, the first of a series of yearly competitions among children of 170,000 employees in Ford Motor Company dealerships throughout the nation. Winners will study automotive technology at qualified community colleges, junior colleges and technical institutes chosen by them.

In announcing the scholarship competition, Benson Ford, president of the Fund, said:

"We think this competition will offer a real challenge and opportunity for the children of dealership employees. It represents a fresh approach to the problem of providing career training at the college level for young people with outstanding technical abilities.

"Today's automobile is not the simple mechanical tool its predecessor was. It is a complex instrument made up of many related systems which would baffle the most knowledgeable expert of the Model T era.

"The modern car," Ford continued, "has made it necessary to develop a new army of technicians—highly trained to build and maintain cars in accordance with today's high standards of performance and safety. The Technical Scholarship Program was designed with this new generation of specialists in mind."

The new Ford Fund scholarships will pay full tuition and, in addition, will provide a stipend toward room and board of $300 annually for students living at home and $750 for students away from home. The Fund also will make an annual $250 contribution to the general educational budget of the college for each scholarship student in attendance.

Candidates must be graduated from high school between September 1, 1965, and August 31, 1966. Winners will be selected by a committee of outstanding educators on the basis of technical ability, citizenship and leadership qualities. The first scholarships will go into effect in September. Ford Motor Company Fund is an educational, scientific and charitable organization financed by contributions from Ford Motor Company. It is not related to The Ford Foundation.

Who Says Skiing Is Dangerous

ANN ARBOR — Attention all firestarters, snow bunnies and sun snoozers. Skiing may not be so dangerous after all. University of Michigan students survived five winters, with only 19 reported ski injuries — none of which required hospitalization, according to Health Service reports.

To thaw your fears still further, orthopedic surgeons at The University of Michigan Medical Center report "ski injuries may be temporarily incapacitating, but seldom permanently damaging."

In other words, if you are injured on the ski slopes this winter, there's a good chance you will be back in the boots next year.

Broken toes are rare because of the good protection provided by ski boots. Injuries of the hands, arms, hips and back are not common ski injuries either, say U-M surgeons.

Legs, ankles and knees are apt to be involved in minor ski mishaps. Broken ankles and torn ligaments in the ankle and knee, which result from twisting, will probably be seen more frequently this winter because of increased interest in the sport, they note.

Beginners and out-of-condition skiers will suffer the majority of slope injuries, say U-M doctors. Their parting advice — "Take it easy, of course."

Why Millage Figures Differed

Readers have taken this newspaper to task for an apparent discrepancy in figures we presented prior to the Livonia school election, Jan. 17, and those appearing on their 1965 tax bills.

Our story said that the school is levying a total of 30.9 mills while "Tax Facts" prepared by the City Treasurer shows taxpayers they are paying 36.35 mills for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Both figures are correct: The first figure is the actual millage approved by school board action; the second figure can vary from year to year depending what is called "the equalization process." This takes place yearly at the county and state level and is determined by comparing assessments in all communities.

Areas with the highest assessments, compared to others, have the lowest equalization factor or multiplier, while those with the lowest assessments have a high equalization factor.

In a sense, equalization can be compared to inflation: as prices fluctuate, the value of the dollar changes.

The same is true of millage levies. Mills vary in the amount of revenue they produce each year. Redford Township, for example, in 1964 had a factor of 1.4463 but it dropped for 1965 taxes to 1.3397.

Livonia was given an equalization coefficient of a little more than 1.17 for 1965.

Multiply 1.17 times 30.9 and the answer comes close to 36.35 dollars each taxpayer pays for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Perhaps our news story should have shown this, but if next year, Livonia's equalization factor should be 1.0 the amount levied would be only $30.9 per thousand.

This is a simplified explanation but it is presented to explain the discrepancy between our story and "Tax Facts."

To eliminate the need for equalization, Michigan eventually hopes to establish county assessors who theoretically would assess all areas the same, but this step is yet some years away.

Will Nankin Gate Open?

Although not well versed in planning, it seems to me a regional shopping center is one which serves people from all around the immediate community it occupies. Livonia has two regional centers, Livonia Mall and Wonderland, and residents from surrounding communities flock to both and fill the parking lots.

Nankin residents are presently debating the need of two regional centers in the Township. Nat Korash wants to build a center on Wayne and Cowan Roads across from Westland Shopping Center and has met stiff opposition from Westland officials, Planning Commission members and some citizens. The main reason given for not letting Korash build his center is the master plan does not call for another regional center in Nankin.

Yet, in two and a half years the Township's population is expected to sprint to 90,000. If this occurs, either the excess populace will shop elsewhere or Westland will become a neighborhood shopping center. Certainly five years from today Westland will not be able to support the entire Township, let alone serve adjoining communities as a regional center should.

I cannot blame Westland for taking a strong stand against this particular rezoning, however, because of all the open land in Nankin it should not be necessary to locate a second center near Westland. Of course, Korash just happens to own land there and so far no other contractor has come up with an offer to build elsewhere.

Opponents would be well-founded to challenge the location but to question the need of a second regional shopping center seems unrealistic considering population projections.

Planning for the future is difficult which is why the Metropolitan Regional Planning Commission was asked to report on this matter to the Township Board. What is difficult to understand is why Trustees did not request a report earlier, let's say in July when Korash first applied for rezoning.

The rezoning has been kicked around for six months with Township officials feeling qualified to handle it alone. For 30 days the rezoning amendment lay on the desks of members of the Wayne County Coordinating Committee. During this period Trustees still felt competent to act without outside consultation.

But when it came to final passage of the rezoning, four of the Board of Trustees decided they would be amiss in their duties not to consult the Regional Commission before passage. Either the Board was guilty of hasty action earlier or it bowed to pressures applied by a vocal audience and took action considered unnecessary before.

The present controversy will be resolved but municipal officials should learn that opinions expressed by vocal minorities attending meetings do not necessarily represent those of their constituents. The sincerity of the audience became evident when half of them left after the Board voted to table the rezoning. Politicians swayed by room temperature need a breath of fresh air.

Lock The Door

Area school officials are jumping into the pool of state fiscal reform but should also be heading for a swim in the ocean of federal financial responsibility.

It is of no use to lock the barn after the horse has been stolen. And it is no fun trying to swim without water.

It is of no use to try to get more millage for teachers' salaries and operating expenses after the dollar has been stolen out of the barn by inflation.

Monetary stability and responsibility rests solely with the federal government.

School officials and we citizens should be brandishing our pitchforks (only kidding, of course) against our representatives who refuse to help lock the door before any more dollars flee the corral.

So let us all jump on the steeds we have left and dash on down to the nation's Capitol to beseech our congressmen and senators not to pull the plug in the swimming pool known as a balanced budget.

Medicare Citizens Must Register

The Social Security Administration is trying to reach all men and women who are now 65 or who will be in the next few months to give them an opportunity to get the full benefits of the recently enacted health insurance program known popularly as Medicare, Sam F. Test, Social Security District Manager in the Detroit Northwest office, says.

Nearly all people who are 65 or will be within the next few months will have the hospital insurance protection offered by Medicare, even if they cannot receive social security or railroad retirement benefits. But anyone who does not now receive either of these benefits must apply to get Medicare protection.

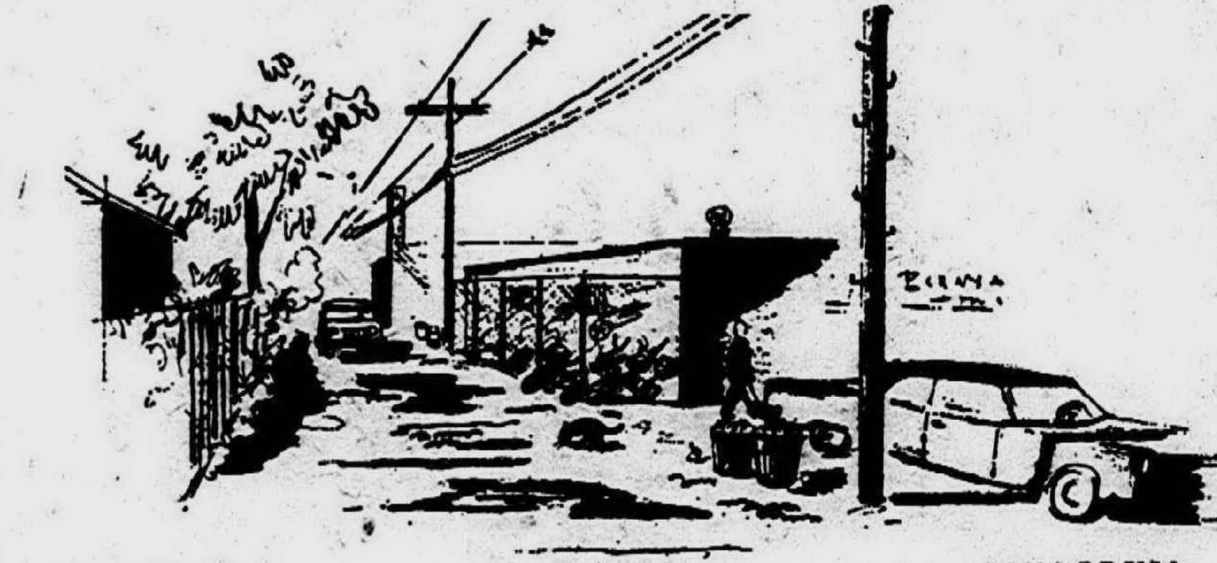

In addition to hospital insurance, Medicare provides medical insurance which will help pay doctors' bills and certain other medical costs.

Medical insurance is voluntary and a person will have this protection only if he signs up for it, Test continued.

Hospital insurance will cost a person nothing after he retires. Medical insurance will cost the person who signs up for it three dollars a month, and the Federal government will pay an equal amount. The premiums will not be due until the protection starts next July.

Both parts of Medicare go into effect July 1, 1966. Anyone who is 65 before Jan. 1, 1966, will have medical insurance protection only if he signs up before March 31, 1966, Test reminded.

Men and women over 65 who are unable to visit our office should write to us, at 18500 Grand River or phone 272-0080. All offices in the Detroit area are open until 8:30 p.m. on Wednesdays.

Before . . . This is the way the area looks now—chaos and confusion.

After . . . With a little planning—even the cat is put on the leash.

Fireman's Wife Speaks Up

Editor:

To start the New Year right I find it necessary to rise out of my "second-class" citizenship and stand my ground. To use a current phrase "I've had it." I'm sick to death of snide remarks and vindictive statements made by displaced real estate salesmen directed at my husband and the father of my children who is (and I say it with pride) a Livonia Fireman.

These remarks have ranged from cracks about building glorified "top-houses" for firemen to the current intimation that he doesn't have sense enough to blow his nose unless one of the officers tells him to (a conclusion drawn from a report that, for all I know, was written by some other part-time expert on fire-fighting and already answered by the Firefighters' Association.)

Once again reference is made to "moonlighting." At least the moonlighting done by the firemen is when they're off duty—not the portion of their employment paid for by the taxpayers' money. They work at these jobs out of ambition and necessity, not as political hobbies—besides with the administrative attitude toward firemen in Livonia they need other jobs to fall back on—they are even subjected to threats and harassment over the actions of their wives.

These men are dedicated specialists who have been trained by their officers to operate as a team—and they darn well better. If they were as stupid as Mr. LaBo would have us believe they couldn't function under the pressure that is present when they respond to an alarm.

We all have bosses, but I don't feel it's because we don't have enough intelligence to function as individuals (even Mr. LaBo does as he is told). Every team has a coach and it is in this capacity that the officers of the department function (very well too — they, too, were firefighters once.)

The firemen have asked for raises based on their duties and needs, not on the police budget. They need and deserve a raise to give them a living wage and the amount requested was below that requested by the police if Mr. LaBo bothered to notice. We are forced to maintain residence in Livonia, but we cannot live at the standard required in this city on our pay.

It seems the firemen are the "monkey-wrench" in consolidation plans and I'm sure if they hopped on the band wagon the harassment would stop. The police are already Public Safety Officers, as they got their much needed and well-deserved raise. By the line of reasoning used by the Mayor and Mr. LaBo the peace time army should be used as F.B.I. agents or some such, not just so they're around somewhere.

The major flaw has been that the firemen and policemen know what they're talking about and in recognizing the pitfalls to such a plan have refused to kow-tow. Their refusal has restored the PSO program to a "realtors' dream."

As far as I'm concerned, at this moment both the Mayor and Mr. LaBo owe us an apology. I don't intend to sit still while my husband and his cohorts are subjected to public ridicule because they think for themselves.

My children are proud of the fact that their daddy is a fireman and so am I, and as long as "pot shots" are taken at him in an effort to degrade his chosen profession I'll continue to voice my objections loud and long and without fear of the reprisal usually forthcoming for daring to disagree with the administration.

It's about time Livonia's needs were the guidepost for Livonia's services and the men performing these services were treated with the respect and dignity of their professions. The attitude displayed toward them throughout this administration is certainly beneath the dignity of the office of Mayor or Public Safety Director. It's experience, not a title which determines an expert.

These departments have managed to operate effectively through several administrations but this one has certainly pointed out the need to form a Civil Service Commission that is not appointed by one man who can use them to force civil servants to work under constant stress and threat and with the power to grant and rescind raises in an effort to force them to change status.

Someone Cares

Editor:

As a young couple and fairly new residents of Redford Township (both early 20's and residents for less than two years) we too have wondered with many others, why we have a Detroit Postal designation? Certainly we deserve one of our own. We have our own government units, etc. and our population is large enough (over 72,000 people.)

Whenever I have to give my address either written or verbal I always say "Redford Township." I'm corrected often! I'm told "Oh why, that's Detroit 39 or 40, isn't it?"

Although the border of Detroit is only the next block from us, we live in Redford Township and are proud of it. If we live in this community why can't we have the name of our community included in our address? We would be both proud and happy if our address read:

Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen
123 Main St.,
Redford Township, Michigan
(not the usual Detroit 39, 40.)

We aren't familiar with what needs to be done about this problem but if you give us information on how to go about it and achieve our goal we will do our best to see it gets done.

MR. AND MRS. DETROIT
NEXT TO US.

Ed. Note: Start with your local Chamber of Commerce. When they had a chance for a Redford Township postal address they objected because they were afraid if they dropped the Detroit—no one would know where they were.

reinstated many educational services urgently needed by the District's public and non-public school children;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That, on behalf of the entire South Redford community, and in particular behalf of all school children in South Redford who stand to benefit so much from a strengthened educational program, the South Redford Board of Education extends a vote of appreciation and gratitude to the South Redford United Citizens for Education, and to all of the citizens of South Redford who worked so hard and diligently for a favorable vote in this election.

Basic Sales Techniques

Editor:

The choice of a name for the proposed new city in place of Farmington Township, can be likened to the carrot tied to the end of a pole to induce the forward movement of a donkey. This is one of the crudest tricks in a salesman's bag and is always in Chapter One in any sales manual. You presuppose the customer is going to buy the package (whatever it may be) and offer him magnanimously a choice in color.

"Would Madam care for the pink or the white? Madam could choose either, they both go with the decor." "Madam" chooses pink and walks off happily thinking she had a choice in buying or not buying, but all she had was a choice between pink and white.

In the second chapter of the sales manual is the appeal to greed which we are all encumbered with, but in varying quantities. "If you don't sign the contract today someone else will walk off with the industrial property. Here! Use my pen." "This special is on for one week only. The price goes up tomorrow."

How much will the package cost, should be our first question. (taxes for townships have a ceiling, not so for cities.) Let us ponder on these things well before choosing either "pink of white."

How About Buses?

Editor:

I am a resident of Madonna College and am experiencing a problem that probably is not new to residents of Livonia. In the past few months I have experienced difficulty in obtaining transportation to places within a radius of 10 miles.

Since Livonia is fast becoming a heavily populated city and will probably continue to grow in the future, would it not be possible to have bus service available? I am sure that it would be of great benefit to both the citizens of Livonia and its environs.

By MYRA CHANDLER

NO GUTS!
That is the only way to describe the action of the Livonia City Council last Wednesday night when they turned down, without discussion, the proposal of improvement of the parking and traffic on Plymouth Road presented by the Planning and Engineering Departments of the City.

This is election time. True. There were some citizens who objected. True. It is drastic action. True.

But on the other side of the coin—Plymouth Road parking is a drastic, disgraceful problem. One that gives the entire City a blighted look if you are driving from Plymouth to Wonderland, or Redford to Plymouth.

Everybody agrees Plymouth Road parking on the south side of the street is a disgrace. It is hurting the business climate in the area. What hurts business also hurts residents. This area, with the plan installed, could upgrade that small strip in Livonia and bring in additional tax base amounting to a million dollars.

Down through history it has been proven that sometimes for the sake of progress a few must sacrifice to benefit many.

A case in point is Plymouth. Literally blocks of houses were torn down in Plymouth to revitalize the community. They changed the face of Plymouth with boulevard parking, widened streets. Businesses began to modernize their store fronts. This attracted more shoppers and the whole town benefited.

Do you think for one minute the Plymouth City fathers had no opposition? They had plenty of it—but they had a plan presented by professionals. They accepted it as responsible politicians, voted into office to benefit the majority, and today I wish you would visit the City. It bursts with pride.

Today those who are working overtime to attract high class industry to Livonia and realtors wanting to impress potential home buyers avoid Plymouth Road like the plague.

The proposal to change the look of the blighted area was turned down flat—without discussion—in 15 seconds by the ultimate body, the City Council. Not the first time they saw it—only after they had a hearing and a handful objected. They were not even all present at the hearing.

Here is the plan in a nutshell. The study covered the south side of Plymouth Road from Hubbard to Merriman Road, an eight-block area. The land contained in this area is the Rosedale Gardens Subdivisions and developed with the typical strip type business frontage lot 20x100.

Now, on the south side there is not sufficient existing off-street parking to service the businesses.

The parking area that does exist is rutty, muddy and a disgrace to the north side and the City.

The proposed plan would provide for two parking areas south of the alley, south of Plymouth Road with a total parking capacity of 106 spaces at a total cost of $136,000 (stick with me, will explain where the money comes from). The plan further provides for a wall and landscaped area adjacent to the residential section to the south.

Presently the transition between the business area and the lovely homes is ugly.

This new plan would make it lovely—a boulevard—it would provide parking and add to the beauty of the subdivision.

Now, to pay for it. The City Planner and his staff also worked this out.

The assessment factor would be 100 per cent assigned to the businesses for each parking deficiency of commercial property having the proposed parking improvements located behind and within the same block as the property. Seventy-five per cent if within one half block of their property; and 50 per cent if within one and a half blocks from their property.

The assessment would be based on the number of parking spaces they needed to carry on their business efficiently.

Each business would have 10 years to pay the assessment.

It is without a doubt the increase to their business would be such that they could pay the assessment in additional income within the first few years.

The beauty shop, restaurant, catering and party store would all of them benefit in the first six months.

All we need is to have four Councilmen who would say, "This City needs this and for the good of all 100,000 of us, I VOTE YES."

Then we need a mayor who can withstand the pressure brought to bear by the same aginsters (it would only involve two houses—the rest is vacant land). The Mayor objected to the proposal and counter suggested taking two parcels on Plymouth Road frontage, one an old store and the other vacant. How ugly. Besides being valuable frontage, how would it enhance the beauty of the area, turning vacant Plymouth Road frontage into just a plain old parking lot? It wouldn't!

Rotarians Say Thanks to Community

Editor:

We wish to thank everyone that purchased fruit cakes from Livonia Rotarians during our recent sale over the holidays. We sold all of the cakes we had on hand. The funds will be going to help the Youth of Livonia.

We are sorry that we were not able to provide sufficient cakes to meet the demand, but we were not able to forecast this condition.

It is our plan to continue this program in the coming year and we will be sure to have sufficient cakes for everyone and to satisfy our regular customers.

Area Concern Mounts As TB Toll Increases

Fears are being expressed concerning the possible spread of tuberculosis to other nursery homes by children transferring from the Hansel & Gretel Day School Nursery in Garden City.

Concern mounted when it became known that a Garden City boy transferring to the Livonia Child Care Center, 34500 Pine Tree, was found to have contacted TB after being given a skin-patch test three weeks ago.

State law requires each child being admitted to a nursery school or public school to take a TB test and physical examination. This procedure was followed when Brian Mitchell, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Mitchell, 1847 Gilman, Garden City, was enrolled at the Livonia nursery.

Dr. John Hanlon, director of the Wayne County Health Department, has urged the Garden City nursery remain open so the children can be kept under constant surveillance to prevent an uncontrollable epidemic.

Mrs. Clara Campbell, operator of the Livonia nursery, said she encountered difficulty getting the County Health Department to examine the remaining 60 children attending her nursery because the officials were always in conference.

Names of children said to have contacted the tuberculosis germ at the Hansel & Gretel nursery are:

- Kevin Todd Oberholtzer, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce J. Oberholtzer, 7473 Cochise, Wayne.
- Jolie Pedit, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Pedit, 15547 Liverpool, Livonia.
- Gerald Bokor, 4, son of Frank Bokor, 29850 John Hawk, Garden City.
- Luis Resto, 4, son of Dr. Andres D. Resto, 31325 Marquette, Garden City.
- James Brown, 5, son of Asa Brown, 1296 Venoy, Wayne.
- George Kroupa, 4, son of Calvin Kroupa, 9255 Frederick, Livonia.
- Eric Wagner, 3, and brother Robert, 5, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wagner, 31012 Marquette, Garden City.
- Kenneth Marvase, 4, son of Joseph Marvase, 22700 Garrison, Dearborn.
- Robert Maticic, 4, son of Robert Maticic, 332 Central, Inkster.
- Matthew Humphrey, 6, son of Gary Humphrey, 8660 Mercedes, Dearborn Heights.
- Teoman Griffin, 4, son of Ronald Griffin, 21300 Brown, Garden City.
- Craig Symons, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Symons, 4524 Winifred, Wayne.

Two unidentified children include a five year old girl from Redford Township and a three year old boy.

IMPRESSED BY VISIT TO U.S.S.R.

'Don't Underestimate Soviet Science,' Warns U-M Doctor

ANN ARBOR — "Underestimating the Soviet Union or its scientists would be a serious mistake," says a University of Michigan doctor who has just seen his Soviet counterparts at work.

Prof. Samuel P. Hicks, M.D., of the U-M Medical School's pathology department spent two weeks last month in Russia as a guest of the Soviet State Committee for the Utilization of Atomic Energy. With him were six other American scientists, all experts in radiation biology and neurobiology.

Dr. Hicks found his hosts, from top scientists to assistants, "very proud of what they are doing, and of what they are going to do."

The research in progress ranges from quite modest to excellent, as it does in the U.S.A., but "in many of the places we were shown, things were really just getting started."

Among the areas being explored there are the use of radioisotopes in diagnosis, the neurophysiology of vision, irradiation of tissue cultures, the effects of various agents on conditioned reflexes, and the effects of radiation on the protein structure.

Dr. Hicks found the Soviet scientists already familiar with his own work on radiobiology and the development of the nervous system. From them he picked up ideas "worth exploring" on the potential radiation dangers of space travel.

Dr. Hicks and the others were in Russia while several Soviet physicists were visiting the United States. The exchange was the third since a 1963 agreement between the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission and its Soviet counterpart.

In its main goal, "to keep communications open between the U.S.S.R. and the U.S.A.," the trip succeeded. "Cultural and scientific exchanges like this are just about the only contacts left between the two countries," Dr. Hicks said.

"The United States is anxious to keep them going. The Soviets seemed anxious to keep them going too, for as the directors of several institutes said, through the language of science the doors between the two countries could be kept open."

The Americans visited research institutes, hospitals, and the Advanced Training Center for Physicians — as well as museums, stores, and the ballet — in Moscow, Leningrad, Obninsk and Dubna.

At each place "every effort was made to lay the red carpet before us and our hosts could not have been more hospitable." At the same time, of course, there was vigorous anti-American propaganda in the Soviet press.

Some of Hicks' impressions: At Leningrad's Polonov Neurosurgery Institute "we saw a pair of little boys who were born with their heads joined together. They were bright, otherwise healthy, alert and they were pets of the staff. Outside, they shoveled snow together, sharing one large hat."

"They were being carefully studied, but the director said that they felt that they must attempt to separate them, even continue unchanged as they seemed to be in some laboratories."

"At Moscow's Bordenko Neurosurgical Institute the director introduced us to a custom that a number of the institutions followed — for us, anyhow — cognac and coffee with cake or bread, butter and caviar at midday."

At Moscow's Advanced Training Center for Physicians he was told that there are about 30,000 physicians in the Soviet Union, and about 80 per cent though they shared one superior sagittal sinus (a principal blood vessel of the brain). Ethically, they thought that to do nothing and let them go through life joined together was worse than to try to separate them, even though the risks were great.

At the Institute for Medical Research in Leningrad, where early in this century Nobel laureate Ivan Pavlov pioneered the study of conditioned reflexes, some work "was oriented to use Pavlov's original methods with little attempt to advance them."

A small Pavlov museum "was practically a shrine, and indeed it should be, for the man was one of the great thinkers and innovators of our times. He would be the last man on earth, however, to see his methods of them are women. "The center, which is being expanded into other areas in the U.S.S.R., represents an impressive program to provide practicing physicians and specialists an opportunity for postgraduate study in many areas of medicine and biology. Men dominate most of the executive positions in biomedical research and teaching, but women are also much in evidence at all levels."

Dr. Hicks is cautious in assessing what he was shown. He agrees with veteran journalists that there are two kinds of American experts on Russia — those who have been there for more than 20 years and those there for less than 20 days. He emphasizes that he is the 20-day variety.

ACCIDENTS UP 17 PER CENT

Livonia Road Toll Takes Big Dip in '65

Traffic deaths in Livonia were cut almost 24 per cent in 1965 compared with 1964, according to the Livonia Police Department Traffic Bureau records.

There were 13 persons killed last year, four fewer than in 1964.

"This is some progress," said Joel F. LaBo, Livonia's Director of Public Safety, "but our goal for 1966 must be to cut deaths and injuries even further. With a growing population and more motor vehicles the city faces mounting traffic problems. Accidents and deaths need not increase, however."

Accidents can be cut by courtesy among drivers. Co-operation between drivers and governmental agencies and safety organizations will also help reduce accidents.

While traffic deaths decreased, there were almost 2000 persons injured, an increase of property damage accidents almost as great. Overall there were 15 per cent more accidents in 1965 than the previous year, reaching a record high of 3,459.

In spite of this large increase there were two bright spots. Bicycle accidents decreased 30 per cent and pedestrian accidents were 13 per cent fewer, totals of 37 and 41 respectively in 1965.

Remember that courtesy, co-operation and obedience to the law can improve the record for 1966.

Believe It or Not - Wonderland Will Sell Money at a Discount

Money — real United States currency — will go on sale February 22, in the most unusual sale ever staged at Wonderland Center, according to Ernie Epps, promotion director for the giant shopping center at Plymouth road and Middlebelt.

"We have $5,000 to sell on a first-come, first served basis," Epps said. "And, we're going to sell it at 22 per cent discount."

The sale is a highlight of a six-day Washington's Birthday value demonstration, scheduled for February 17-22. In addition, the center will offer the following items at 22 cents each:

A 1959 Ford station wagon, complete with '66 license plates, radio, heater, and whitewall tires. The car has been refinished by Nu-Way Auto Painting, of Garden City.

1966 Airline portable television, courtesy of Montgomery Ward.

100 gallons of Ward's highest gasoline. (The whole 100 gallons for only 22 cents.)

A boy's or girl's 26 inch bicycle.

ing Goods. The "22-cent" specials will be sold to persons selected at drawings to be held February 17, 18, 19, Epps said.

"Registration for the money sale is not required," he added. "The first persons to show up February 22, get first crack at the $5,000."

Epps said the plan calls for the sale of five one hundred dollar bills, 10 fifty dollar bills, 100 twenties, 100 tens, 100 fives, and 500 ones. Each purchaser will be limited to a single bill.

The following "sale prices" were revealed:

- $100 dollar bills $78.00
- $50 dollar bills 39.00
- $20 dollar bills 15.60
- $10 dollar bills 7.30
- $5 dollar bills 3.90
- $1 dollar bills 78c

"The money sale will begin at 10 a.m. sharp, and continue until the cash supply is exhausted," Epps said. Disc jockeys will act as "cashiers."

"This ought to be a lot of fun for Wonderland shoppers," he added. "This 'money sale' will emphasize the tremendous savings Wonderland stores are offering during the whacky mid-winter value-demonstration."

Proposed Law Would Assist Crime Victims

Establishment of an indemnity fund to be maintained by monetary damages assessed against persons convicted of crimes of violence and the money disbursed to the victim or members of his family, is proposed in a House Bill introduced by State Representative John Bennett, (D.), of Redford.

"This bill sets up a compensation plan which, with modification, is in response to a need recognized by several states and some foreign countries which provide for such compensation paid by the government," said Representative Bennett.

"It is a program, the goals of which have been strongly recommended by Attorney General Frank Kelley, Prof. Harold Norris of the Detroit College of Law and many others.

"Instead of a state-financed plan, my bill provides that, in event of a crime which results in injury or death of another person, the sentencing court shall take into consideration the defendant's economic position.

"Unless the court finds that such action would cause the family to be on public welfare, in addition to any other penalty, the court shall order the defendant, his guardian or estate to pay monetary damages commensurate with the offense committed and the damages done."

The bill provides that damages collected shall be deposited in an indemnity fund established in the office of the county treasurer in the county where the sentencing court is located.

It is stipulated that aid shall be paid, upon application, to the family of the victim of the crime for which the defendant was convicted, provided that there is need for aid as determined by the Department of Social Welfare.

Area Draft Board Needs 5th Member

Does anyone want to become a draft board member? If so, there is a vacancy on Local Board 102, located in Plymouth, serving the northwest section of Wayne County.

Mrs. L. M. Fedell, managing clerk of the Selective Service board, announced this week, that interested citizens could make application to the present four-member board.

A vacancy has existed for a year since the death of the fifth member, Harry L. Hunter of Plymouth.

Others on the board are John L. Mokorsky, Inkster; Leonard Broquet, Northville; Joseph S. Grebik, Livonia; and George P. Manoles of Redford.

"Just write a letter to the board," Mrs. Fedell said. "The only persons barred from membership are those who are servicemen."

"We would prefer a middle-aged industrialist but this is not a requirement to being appointed."

She noted that there is no compensation for the job and that the board meets once a month for a period of time lasting between four and five hours.

"The appointment is made by the President of the United States, upon recommendation of the local board and State Selective Service headquarters," Mrs. Fedell said.

Referring to February draft quotas, Mrs. Fedell said the board will be asked to supply 62 draftees Feb. 11 and will call 203 for pre-induction physical examinations to be made the same day.

The Plymouth board serves Plymouth, Livonia and Northville and the townships of Canton and Redford.

WHO'S GOT IT? Players from Redford Union and Bentley dive for a free ball. That's Mach (22) of Redford Union sprawled on the floor as Larry Grimm of Bentley (51) and Jim Arnold (52) reach down while Ken Bowman (55) and Gary Faulkes (21) observe the goings-on. Redford Union won in upset.

Pulls Into Triple Tie for Top

RU Stuns Bentley in Overtime

Each season produces its surprises in any sport. As far as the Suburban Six League basketball wars are concerned this winter, the shock so far has been provided by Redford Union under the coaching of Milo Karhu.

Here was a team given little chance to figure in the title chase. But with half the league chase over, look at how the top three teams stand:

Team	W	L
Redford Union	4	1
Bentley	4	1
Trenton	4	1

Something must give this Friday night because Redford Union goes to Trenton while Bentley stays home against Allen Park.

But the league is still talking about the 57-52 overtime upset Redford Union pulled off over Bentley last Friday night.

The win was RU's fifth straight, while the loss ended a five-game winning chain for Bentley and also was only the second in 11 games for the Livonians who were ranked seventh in the state going into the game.

"I just can't believe it," said Karhu after the game. "I never figured we would be doing so well. But the kids have jelled.

They are hustling all over the place and just turning in terrific all-around performances."

Down the hall in the Bentley locker room, Bentley coach George Fefles was angry.

"This was a case of bad officiating," he said. "I don't like to scream. But 17 fouls were called against us and only eight against Redford Union. They shot 20 free throws to our 10. It doesn't make sense."

Bentley held an 11-10 lead after one quarter and then opened the margin to 23-20 at halftime thanks to six points by Fred Matevia and five by Bob Elsner.

Sophomore-guard Billy Fahey gave Redford Union the comeback lift in the third period with six points to bring the Townshipers with two points of a tie at 40-38.

Then in the fourth period, Redford Union exploded and appeared to put the game out of reach. With Doug Mach firing one basket and four free throws and Ron Bauer and Jim Arnold each getting three points, RU built up an eight point edge with just under a minute left.

Bentley was by no means through.

Three straight steals, two by Elsner and one by Coleman, put the Bentley team within two points of a tie. RU had the ball, but lost it with three seconds to go.

Bentley called a timeout, set up a play for Matevia. And it worked. Matevia drove for a layup and when it swished through an overtime became necessary.

The score read 52-52.

Bentley controlled the ball for better than two minutes in the extra session. When a Bentley shot miscued, Arnold rebounded for RU, tossed ahead to Leland Bjerke who fired in a brilliant shot to make the score, 54-52.

Bentley tried another shot—and failed.

RU moved back up floor. Bauer had the ball. Elsner swept at the ball, came up with it . . . but as he drove for what the fans thought was a tying basket, the referee was blowing his whistle.

He had called a foul against Bentley.

Irate Coach Fefles of Bentley jumped from the bench. He was slapped with a technical and Bauer wound up making three free throws to sew up the game.

Bauer topped all scoring with 16 points while Bjerke had 14 and Arnold 11, plus 16 rebounds. Matevia notched 14 and Elsner 11 for Bentley.

The final statistics showed Bentley with 23 baskets and six free throws. RU caged 21 from the floor and 15 charities.

Bentley's reserves won, 54-48, as Ken Bollin scored 18 points, Jim Doyle 15 and Richard Waite 11. Mark Lindman tallied 22 for the losers.

St. Agatha Five Splits In Basketball Action

The week ended in a draw for St. Agatha high's basketball team in the Catholic League wars.

After downing St. Francis, 56-52, St. Agatha wound up a 63-53 loser to Ann Arbor St. Thomas. All of which left the St. Agatha record at three victories against nine losses for the season fast approaching its end.

It took an uphill climb for St. Agatha to win against St. Francis. The Townshipers trailed, 25-23, at halftime, but came on strong as Dan Pavlat, Dennis McKenna and Pat Murphy led the way.

Pavlat took over all scoring honors in the game with 18 points. McKenna made 13 and Murphy dumped in 11.

Against St. Thomas, St. Agatha fell behind 17-11 in the first period, but couldn't catch up. (Continued on Next Spts. Page)

Falcons Roar Twice, Gain Tie for First Slot

'Twas a very profitable weekend for Farmington high school's basketball team.

The Falcons turned in a pair of victories—beating Pontiac Northern, 63-45, and Plymouth, 64-56—to bring their overall record for the season to seven wins and four losses.

More important, the conquest over Pontiac Northern enabled Farmington to tie Northern and Waterford for the Inter-lakes League lead. All three teams have 2-1 marks.

One of the trio must topple this Friday when Waterford invades Farmington.

Farmington jumped in front, 11-6, after one quarter against Northern and kept adding to its advantage as the game progressed. In the third period, the Falcons sealed matters with 21 points to 11 for the opposition.

Mike Wilson paced the victors with 22 points on eight baskets and six free throws. Greg Dorow struck for 14 points, while Mike Ames turned in a 13-point performance.

The verdict over Plymouth didn't come so easy.

After Farmington slipped away to a 19-15 lead in the first period, Plymouth roared ahead, 31-27, by halftime when Chuck Catlett had a big second period with four baskets.

The Rocks held to their lead in the third period, but as the period neared its finish, Plymouth went cold, making only three points in three minutes.

Wilson was particularly brilliant at the free-throw line. He canned 15 out of 18 attempts.

Charities actually made the difference in the game. From the floor, Plymouth had a 22-19 advantage, but in foul tosses, Farmington made 26 out of 35 while Plymouth canned eight out of 17.

Moore, with 12 points, and Ames, with 11, also hit in double figures for the winners. Mike Stakas had 12 to trail Catlett for Plymouth.

In reserve action, Farmington lost to Pontiac Northern, 51-49, with George Gramala scoring 20. Gramala had 15 and Tom Wirtz and Jerry Tinkle 11 each as Farmington downed Plymouth, 57-46. Adams of Plymouth was high man in the game with 17.

Poor Shots Fatal for Sorrows

One statistic told the story of Our Lady of Sorrows' 68-44 basketball loss at the hands of St. Benedict in the Catholic League last Friday evening.

The Sorrows cagers pumped up 71 shots from the floor during the evening.

They made only 15.

That's 21-percent shooting. "You can't win with that kind of marksmanship," said coach Bob Morris whose Sorrows team now stands 4-7 for the season with just three more regularly scheduled tilts remaining.

St. Benedict never had a problem. After one quarter the score read, 15-8, for the Highland Parkers.

By halftime it was 34-22. (Continued on Next Sports Page)

They don't come greater in sports than Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings. Nor are there nicer or more humble guys anywhere. It's currently our privilege to serve on the same committee with Howe, ex-Tiger Vic Wertz and others in connection with a campaign instituted by the Goodwill Industries of Metropolitan Detroit to collect used athletic equipment.

The Goodwill needs the old gear for several reasons:

- 1—It will provide work for the more than 450 handicapped employed by Goodwill.
- 2—It will make available through the Goodwill stores the re-sale of this equipment at lower prices than possible otherwise.
- 3—Youngsters, who can't afford to buy the equipment new, should be able to secure the refurbished items.
- 4—Youngsters, who engage in athletic endeavour, have less chance of going astray than those who don't.

Howe was on deck for the "kickoff" to the campaign the other afternoon at the Detroit Sports Broadcasters Association's weekly luncheon in the Press Club.

The Goodwill folks introduced Gordie and told them "how proud they were" to have him on the committee.

Howe arose, blinked his eyes as is habit with him, and then talked into the microphone.

"You don't know how happy and proud I am to be connected with such a venture," Howe started out.

"To lend a helping hand is the most wonderful thing any of us can do. I haven't forgotten how I was helped . . . when I was a kid . . . and when I started out in hockey . . ."

Gordie took a moment to pay his thanks to men like Jack Adams, Mr. Hockey, and present Manager-Coach Sid Abel of the Wings; to the various publicity men the Wings have had—Fred Huber, Elliott Trumbull and Ron Cantera.

"All of these men, and others, have made it possible for me to be where I am today. If I can just help one kid to better himself, than I'll really be a very satisfied man."

Late Rally No Help To Raiders

A fine rally went for naught for North Farmington high's basketball team last Friday night.

After lagging by a 40-34 half-time score, North Farmington zoomed ahead by a point at the three-quarter mark and then shot up five points against Oak Park.

However, in the six minutes that remained, the Parkers dominated the proceedings and went on to finish a 78-69 winner and drop Franklin two games behind front-running Groves in the Northwest Suburban League chase.

"Call it rebounding, which made the difference," said North Farmington coach Dick Wilson.

"They just commanded the boards, especially when the going got tight in the last part of the game," the coach added.

In the final period, Oak Park made seven baskets and 13 free throws for 27 points, while holding North Farmington down to just 17 points.

The departure of Rick Schultz on fouls didn't help the North Farmington cause in the final period.

Schultz had made eight points, as did Bill Oldershaw, in the third period when North Farmington overcame Oak Park's half-time edge.

Then Schultz added seven more points in the last period before the referee called him for a fifth—and disqualifying—personal foul.

In all, Schultz scored 30 points on 12 baskets and six free throws. Oldershaw had a great night with 18, while Rick Lorenz produced 10. Kurt Schu-

Bowlers Open Firing in Rich Event Saturday

Now Is Time to Enter Mixed Doubles

With a guaranteed first prize of $2,500, interest in the fourth annual Observer Newspapers—Merri-Bowl Lanes mixed doubles tournament is at the highest peak in history with entries pouring in for all dates.

The tourney is slated to get underway on Saturday, Feb. 5 and continue on weekends until Sunday, May 29, after which the scores will be rechecked before the winners of the three top guaranteed prizes are announced.

Tournament Director Mac Goldman boosted the guaranteed prizes to the highest total ever — $2,500 for first; $1,250 for second and $750 for third — and anticipates the largest entry to date.

There are some changes in the rules which should tend to make it more interesting than in the past.

In the first place, no bowler may compete more than once — in the past entrants could compete more than once provided he or she had a different partner in each appearance.

Goldman also has placed a ban on Merri-Bowl employees this year.

The mixed doubles meet is a handicap affair with 400 scratch and 7 per cent handicap. The bowling fee is $10 per couple which covers everything. A total of $5 goes into the prize fund, $3.30 is used for payment of bowling fees and the remaining $1.70 is for tournament expenses.

Bowling will consist of three games across two lanes.

There is a limit of 120 pins per game handicap based on the high average of Dec. 31, 1965 with a minimum of 21 games. If no 1865 average is available, bowlers may go back one year.

Entrants must present sanctions cards at the time of bowling. Any keyler who falsifies his or her average forfeits all rights to prize money. Prizes will be paid when averages of all winners have been verified. The rules committee reserves the right to refuse any entry and the decision of the rules committee is final. ABC and WIBC tournament play rules will apply in all instances not specifically covered by the announced tournament rule.

All entrants are warned that a chance of reserved squad times must be requested five days in advance.

The time schedule is the same for each Saturday and Sunday of the three-month long tournament and includes 11 a.m. noon, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11 p.m.

The dates are:

SATURDAYS
Feb. 5, 12, 19 and 26.
March 5, 12, 19 and 26.
April 2, 9, 16, 23 and 30.
May 7, 14, 21 and 28.

SUNDAYS
Feb. 6, 13, 20 and 27.
March 6, 13, 20 and 27.
April 3, 10, 17 and 24.
May 1, 8, 15, 22 and 29.

SIGNING UP for the fourth annual Observer Newspapers-Merri-Bowl Lanes mixed double tournament are two husband-wife teams from Redford morning and ends the final weekend of the Friday mixed league. The group includes: (from left) Joe Paul, Tournament Director Mac Goldman, Mrs. Verna Paul, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Greulich.

GETTING SET to pump one in is Randy Samelson of Thurston. Carl Gulbronsen (45) and Dale Lee of Franklin stand by, both hoping that his rival will miss an easy shot.

FRANKLIN FALLS:

Better Defense Aids Thurston

Nothing makes a coach or teacher happier than to see that his instruction has produced some results.

Coach Mike Pasternak of Thurston high's basketball team had spent the week working on defense. He knew his team could score.

After all, Thurston had piled in 90 or more points in three of its Northwest Suburban League games.

Pasternak saw his teachings pay off last Friday night when Thurston bested Franklin, 76-63, to take a 4-1 record in the league and undisputed possession of second place behind unbeaten Birmingham Groves (5-0).

It was also Thurston's ninth win in 12 games while dropping Franklin's record to three-two in the league.

"For the first time in several games, we played defense the way we should," explained Pasternak.

Pasternak had Thurston resort to a zone press in the second period in order to cut down an early 18-10 Franklin lead. By the time halftime was reached Thurston had pulled on top, 33-29.

Thurston played a man-to-man defense the rest of the game and it "worked very well" according to Pasternak.

Tom Reich clicked for eight points in the first quarter to help send Franklin into their early lead.

But with Randy Samelson and Bob Wardrop hitting, and the defense tightening up, Thurston took over in the second period and never relinquished the top. In the second quarter, Samelson made three baskets and six free throws for 12 points, while Wardrop added five big points.

Samelson was the big gun for the winners, ripping in 10 baskets and eight free throws for 28 points.

Next came Wardrop with 19 points while Rex Barringer hit double figures with 12.

Carl Gulbronsen had 15 to set the pace for Franklin. Next came Reich and Al Jose with 10 each.

The game was close from the field. Thurston made 26 baskets to 24 for Franklin. The big edge was on free throws where Thurston tossed in 24, Franklin 15.

The Thurston reserves had too much for Franklin, winning by a 67-49 count. Don Kopec had 15, Rick Knock 14 and Urban Rice 12 for the victors. Wendrick of Franklin's reserves tossed in 18.

Thurston takes on Glenn this week, while Franklin travels to North Farmington.

The Franklin-Thurston varsity box score:

Thurston's Bill Zeeb Sparkles

Bill Zeeb of Thurston high school continues to add personal swimming achievements.

Zeeb, who leads the state's prep swimmers in best times recorded in the 200-yard and 400-yard free style events, set pool records in winning the two races at Franklin last Friday night as he led Thurston to a 61-44 victory.

Zeeb covered the 200-yard race in 1:53.2 and took the longer event in 4:14.5.

Thurston copped seven of the events in emerging as the meet victor.

Free Tosses Prove Costly To Rocks

The battle of the field goals ended all even between the Plymouth and Allen Park high basketball teams Friday night.

In free throw shooting, Allen Park made 28 out of 34 tries to Plymouth's 19 for 28.

Added together, this made it possible for the Parkers to emerge with a 74-65 victory in the Suburban Six League contest.

"They had a little too much depth for us," said Dick Bearup, the Plymouth coach.

"They were able to shuttle in and out of the game 10 players, nine of whom scored. We had to concentrate on five boys and they got a little tired.

Plymouth went off to a 14-11 lead after one period, but by halftime, Allen Park had taken command, 33-26. It was 53-42 for the Parkers at the three-quarter mark and Plymouth wasn't able to get back into the struggle in the closing period.

Jim Scharmen topped Plymouth's attack with 20 points. Rick Jones scored 17, Chuck Catlett 14, Mike Stakas eight and Ron Lowe six.

It's back to league action this Friday as the Rocks entertain Belleville.

the rest of the way, despite a 20-point personal effort by Murphy.

Pat Timmons was the only other St. Agatha cager to strike in double figures as he drilled in 10 points.

John Hamilton with 17 and John Snyder with 14 topped the winners.

St. Agatha's reserves wound up a double winner for the week. They crushed St. Thomas, 54-33, as Mike Lilley tallied 16, Jerry Myron 14 and Dan Sweeney 10.

Myron rolled up 14 points, Sweeney 14 and Lilley 11 in a 72-41 thumping of St. Francis.

IN ROUND TWO:

Trojans Zoom To Fast Start

Round Two started on a happy note for Clarenceville high's basketball team.

After the Trojans had lost their first seven games in Wayne-Oakland League action, they opened the second half of the season last Friday night with a 63-60 verdict over Milford.

"I think we'll have a better time from here on in," said coach Bob McKillop of Clarenceville after the victory.

The return to action of Mike Nye, who had hurt his knee in the second game of the season and required surgery, should help Clarenceville in the home stretch, the coach believes.

Clarenceville spotted Milford a 16-10 lead before rallying to pull the game out. John McClorey struck for eight points in the second period to pace the Trojans to a 27-26 halftime bulge.

Chris Hawkins then took over in the third period and hit for 14 points as Clarenceville matched Milford's 21 points. Seven free throws proved vital for the Trojans in the tight last period.

Hawkins topped the winners with 20 points, plus 15 rebounds. Dave Wilson was next with 12 points while Fred Neal had 10 and McClorey eight.

Ron Ray made only three points, but he plucked 10 rebounds to play an important part in the victory. When Ray went on, Tom Harboure came in to pick up the slack.

The victory followed on the heels of a 61-50 loss to Holly in which Wilson scored 11

Swimmers Fall Twice

The Schoolcraft College swimming team fell short against Ford and Aquinas in a double dual meet last Saturday night.

Schoolcraft was outscored, 80-15, by Ford and 59-35 by Aquinas.

Larry Fitzgerald, a freshman from Garden City, gained the only victory in each meet for Schoolcraft when he was first in the 50-yard free style.

The Clarenceville reserves overpowered Holly by 15 points with a 10-point outburst by Bob Dunaan leading the way. In the Milford game, Clarenceville's reserves suffered a 58-57 setback.

Clarenceville will strive to avenge an early-season, one-point loss when it plays at Northville Friday night.

Ray started his evening's work with a 220, then hit for 12 in a row and wound up with a 213 for a big 733 count.

Individual honors in the game went to Oak Park's Holloman who ripped the cords for 38 points.

The reserve game was a wild-scoring affair with North Farmington emerging an 83-77 victor.

Mark Fuller had a brilliant night with 30 points for North Farmington while Chuck Hill was equally outstanding caging 26 points. Fourteen of Hill's points came on free throws.

All you have to do is locate the nearest Marathon gas station to your home. There you'll find a huge collection box, where you can leave the old stuff.

The Goodwill, in turn, will gather the material from the gas stations. And thanks to you, many folks are bound to become just a little happier.

And you housewives will cheer a little, too, what with less "junk" around to congest the basement or closets in your home.

We know that all of us are called upon regularly to give to one charity or another. Most times we do at the expense of riddling something out of our pocketbooks.

The Goodwill-athletic program will cost us nothing, except maybe for a few moments of effort and a few pennies for driving to a Marathon station.

SHORT 'N SWEET: Hats off to Joe Falls, the newly named sports editor of the Detroit Free Press, and his two right-hand men, George Pucas and Ken Clover. We've had the privilege of working with and knowing all three. They're quite a trio.

Chief-area scout Lou D'Annunzio of the Tigers tells us he plans to spend a lot of time looking over the sandlot baseball players in the Greater Livonia area. Before Louie trudges forth at Ford Field on Farmington Road, he's going to spend some time down at Lakeland, Fla., which shouldn't be hard to take.

Can't understand why the Associated Press and United Press International didn't find a higher spot in their ratings for Livonia Bentley high's basketball team. Hal Schram does well for Bentley, but our outstate sports-writing friends seem to have forgotten that up until this past week Bentley had lost only to River Rouge's state Class B champs.

Comedy Slated To Open Feb. 5 at Redford Union

Witches, seances and Ouija boards are ingredients of a delightful comedy now in rehearsal by the Bulman Theatre Group of Redford Township. The play, "All Because of Agatha," will be presented for the entertainment of area families on Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 5 and 6.

The fanciful play features an attractive witch—strikingly portrayed by Mary Pruss, 16620 Lola Drive, and her annual visit to haunt a Salem, Mass. house.

Her efforts to follow a pledge made 250 years earlier—before being burned at the stake—and drive the current occupants from the house provide many humorous situations and laughs for the entire family.

Residents of the haunted house are Duff O'Hara, a cartoonist, played by George Carlton, 15513 Lexington; and his wife, Joan, Shirley Atkinson, 26437 Student, plays Joan; her real-life husband, Don, has the role of a brash reporter who senses a scoop in the annual visit of the witch.

Other members of the cast include: Lorraine Baer, 15580 Denby; Diane Veale, 16292 Ne-gaunee; John Horning, 17031 Kinloch, Enid Seghl, 15867

Denby, and Helen Antilla, 15590 Denby.

"All Because of Agatha" will be directed by George "Scottie" Freeland, one of the originators of the Bulman Theatre Group and familiar to those who saw its two earlier three-act productions. He played the male lead in "His and Hers" and "Love is Contagious." Another veteran of the Bulman players, Dolores McCormick, 26427 Student, is producer of "Agatha."

Important behind-the-curtain chores are being handled by Kay and Jim Walsh, 15978 Delaware; Elaine and Bill Weir, 14600 Denby; Jean Freeland, 15954 Ryland; Paul and Marge Walberg, 18211 Indian; Carol Olson 16688 Lola Drive, and Betty Keith, 26450 Student.

Success of the Bulman group's previous presentations prompted an innovation this year. In addition to the regular performances at 8 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 5 and 6, a matinee is scheduled for 1 p.m. on Saturday. Parents are especially invited to bring their children to this performance.

For information about tickets to this entertaining comedy, call KE 3-4907, KE 5-1572 or KE 2-0927.

"WITCHES BREW" is the dish cooked up by Mary Pruss for the upcoming production of "All Because of Agatha" by the Bulman Theatre Group of Redford Township. Curtain time is 8 p.m. for the evening performances Feb. 5 and 6 at Redford Union High School. A matinee is scheduled for 1 p.m. Feb. 5. Ticket information can be obtained by calling KE 5-1572 or KE 2-0927.

Franklin Senior Play Opens in February

"A Man Called Peter" has been selected as the senior class play at Franklin High School. Performances will be Feb. 17 and 18 in the Lecture Theater. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

The cast has been chosen and Bob Zink will take the lead as Peter Marshall. Shirley Douglas will be the leading lady.

Wally Roberts UP' GOING 'CURTAIN

Eastern Michigan University's production of "The Physicists" retained all the bite and irony so necessary to make this European example of black humor effective. Director Parker Zellers guided his youthful cast in a sane, sensible fashion through this tale of three supposedly-mad scientists.

"The Physicists" supports the popular superstition that nuclear scientists may be thoroughly insane because of the destructive nature of their research projects.

Friedrich Duerrenmatt, the perceptive Swiss playwright, advances this theory by setting the play in a comfortable Swiss sanatorium for the mentally ill. Three scientists (Einstein, Newton, and Mobius) are introduced as the inmates. Your first impression is that they are bugger than the nuttiest of nuts. Suddenly, Duerrenmatt puts a little back spin on his play and you realize that they are only feigning their madness.

When you see these scientists in their true light, it is then you realize that as reasonable individuals they are truly dangerous. Our proximity to the bomb and the danger of some idiot pressing the button becomes a reality all too soon as you witness this play.

Janice Smith, as the malaculous humpbacked psychiatrist, projected her venomous ways superbly. Her second act climactic speech added the right touch of terror. Ted Mills as Mobius, the scientist who discovers how to conquer gravity and the principle of universal discovery, gave a competent, polished performance. Marilyn Mason as the nurse that falls in love with Mobius was wonderfully convincing in a small part that could have been quite insipid.

Eastern Michigan University's production staff can be quite proud of their staging of this play. The lighting, setting, and costumes had the dash, quality and treatment of a professional production.

The situation at the Fisher Theater was another matter. "The Owl and The Pussycat" was a light, fluffy comedy. Eartha Kitt and Russell Nype were the two performers for the evening.

Any two character play is almost an impossible situation. Theatrical history shows that only two or three have ever succeeded. "The Owl and The Pussycat" makes the column only because of its gag-infested dialogue.

Bill Manhoff as the man that wrote the dialogue has a background that ably qualifies him for such spritely conversation. For years Bill was a gag writer for Duffy's Tavern, Danny Thomas, Henry Youngman, and Milton Berle. His apprenticeship for 20 years served him well.

"The Owl and The Pussycat" zips along for two acts. Eartha Kitt and Russell Nype bat the bon mots back and forth with real zing for those two acts.

The third act with its drawn-out suicide pact sequence slows the show down to a walk. Of course, if you can get two good acts these days, my recommendation is to go and have an enjoyable evening.

A word of caution might be in order. The theme is the age-old one of a prostitute who thinks she is in love. Her conquest of an owl book-clerk writer would seem ridiculous if not played at the furious pace demanded by Director Leonard Auerbach.

Dewline
 By JOHN DEW

The British are coming—again. Four of Britain's top groups are headed toward the U.S. as a new wave of English sound hits the television receiver.

The Animals begin the onslaught with a Feb 4 appearance on the Ed Sullivan TV circle. The following Sunday Smilin' Ed has lined up both the Rolling Stones and Tom Jones. Jones incidentally, has also been signed for an appearance on the new Sammy Davis Show on NBC.

On March 13, the Seekers will be seeking American acceptance for the first time as they debut with Sullivan. Actually they are native to Australia although they found the bulk of their popularity in England.

And of course, to answer the inevitable question—the Beatles are in negotiation for a possible third U.S. tour. It is tentatively scheduled for late summer but much of the negotiations depends on the film schedule of the mop-tops. They are due to start filming in April but a suitable story still has not been found.

Duke Windsor has a new time slot at CKLW. He now holds down the seven to midnight slot having hosted the all-night show for some time. Incidentally, CKLW is holding a big charity show for the March of Dimes at the State Fair Coliseum on Saturday Jan. 29—this Saturday.

Thursday night WXYZ entertains the students at Warren Woods High School. Warren Woods is the winning school in the recent competition drive for trading stamps which were later redeemed to Make Christmas brighter for more than 13,000 needy youngsters.

Hard-working students from Warren Woods managed to collect over 2,100 full books of stamps. What was more amazing was the fact that the school doesn't even have a senior class yet. They started a few years ago with the freshman class and have added a class a year with the junior class being the oldest class this year. 2,100 full books... they're not all delinquents.

Congratulations are in order for the Supremes. Their tremendous show knocked their hometown on its ear. They close their record-breaking engagement at the Roostertail this week. The most encouraging sign of all was in seeing them making "converts" of so many in the audience who thought that popular music and the "Detroit Sound" was strictly for adolescent adulation.

Zap Pow. Kerpluey... Batman has taken the country by storm and as is typical, record companies are racing to overload the bandwagon. Recordings of the theme from the ABC-TV series has been released by Neil Hefti (who composed the theme), the Markets, the Gallants, Nelson Riddle and many more.

Several recording companies are already chasing the comic heroes Adam West, who plays Batman, and his side-kick Burt Ward. Now comes the word "The Green Hornet" and "Wonder Woman" are on the network planning boards as possible fall debuts.

REDFORD TOWNSHIP resident Louise Martin will appear as Blanche DuBois in the Wyandotte Community Theater's production of the Tennessee Williams play "A Streetcar Named Desire." Featured with her is Don MacGregor of Rockwood as Stanley Kowalski. The January production of the group will open Jan. 27 at the Abraham Lincoln Junior High School in Wyandotte. Additional performances with an 8:30 p.m. curtain time are slated for Jan. 28 and 29, while on Jan. 30 the curtain time is 7:30 p.m.

Two Singing Livonians in Film

"The Reflections," a singing quartet which includes two Livonians, are featured in the new Columbia film, "Winter A-Go-Go" now showing at area theatres. Members of the quartet are: Tony Micalo, 26262 Westfield, Livonia; Phil Castrodale, 11673 Haller, Livonia; Dan Bennie of Lincoln Park and John Dean of Detroit.

There will be witchery and exorcism in the air when the Nankin Mills Players present "The Broom and the Groom" at John Glenn High School, Feb. 11 and 12. This light, witty fantasy by Kirtz Gordon and Robert Emmitt was the source of "Betwitched"—one of today's top TV series. Many new faces will be seen when a cast of 10 players bring one of the season's most delightful stage plays to this area. Bill Irwin, 8651 Terri, is directing, with Mrs. Jack Werner, 32824 Merritt, assisting. The producer, Mrs. Robert Knowles, 32856 Merritt, is being assisted by Leonard Weber of Livonia. Make a date with your Valentine to see "The Broom and the Groom," Feb. 11 or 12 at 8:30 p.m., in the beautiful John Glenn auditorium, 36105 Marquette, Wayne. Tickets may be obtained from any Player, or by calling 427-9091.

F'ton Band Sets Musical

A "Musical Carousel" is scheduled for Feb. 11 at 8 p.m. by the Farmington High School Band. The performance is open to the public at the high school. Tickets may be obtained from any band member or at the door. Included on the program are Carousell, Sleeping Beauty, Campyoun Basses (featuring the bass section), Arabesque, Mozart Matriculates and the march, Zacatecas. The Farmington Festival Orchestra will join the band in a rendition of Who's Sorry Now. Also included on the program is My Funny Valentine.

State Democrats Aid Consumers

State Democrats have placed consumer protection high on the list of areas needing legislation, State Representative John Bennett of Redford Township announced this week.

He said a party caucus has established an "ambitious program" for the 1966 Legislature.

Other areas of immediate concern are those of: Constitutional and governmental reform, and public safety and law enforcement.

Bennett said: "Some badly needed rules of fair play in sales for protection of the consumer will be established by statute. An outline of the legislative program is as follows:

• Penalties for deliberate use of misleading or unfair advertising.

• Registration of door-to-door salesmen or solicitors.

• Licensing of hearing aid dispensers.

• Require that full information be given to the Consumer on actual costs of Credit purchases.

• Establish a uniform system for labeling of goods—for weights, measures and costs—and require that the information be clearly and prominently displayed on all labels and packages.

• Require packaged meat to be stamped with a date indicating maximum time in which meat can be consumed.

• Establish state-administered fund to insure policyholders against loss from bankrupt insurance companies. Funds to be maintained by contributions from insurance companies.

• Amend Criminal Code to require contractor to furnish the landowner an affidavit verifying the payment of all subcontractors and suppliers in cases covered by Mechanics Lien law.

• Amend the Criminal Code to make fraudulent misrepresentation a crime.

Constitution Changes Planned by Democrats

"Many sections of the new 1963 Constitution have been proven unworkable and impractical, therefore a limited number of constitutional amendments will be presented to the voters at the 1966 General Election," said John Bennett, Democratic State Representative of Redford Township. These are as follows:

• Method of filling judicial vacancies. Repeal existing provision and permit the governor to fill vacancies by appointment.

• Repeal existing provision establishing a highway commission and return to Michigan its successful system of an elected Highway Commissioner.

• Revise constitutional legislative apportionment provisions to provide a more workable system of reapportionment procedures that will follow strict one-man, one vote principle.

• Establish uniformity in terms of office for elected officials by setting State Representatives' terms of office at four years.

• Repeal the provision which allows only a flat rate income tax.

Bennett also noted that in a rapidly changing society public needs and responsibilities of government also change.

"If the government does not keep abreast of the changing times, then it will fail to fulfill the responsibilities for which it was created. We propose to provide Michigan with modern governmental tools to meet modern day problems through legislative action in 1966," Bennett said.

He advised that the Democrats plan to create a joint House-Senate Committee to begin work on the development of a comprehensive statewide transportation plan.

Legislation is being prepared for the complete reorganization of the labor department.

"Enactment of an effective County Home Rule law and establishment of one-man, one vote apportionment for county board of supervisors are in the cards," he concluded.

Three Bands Will Perform At Marshall

HAPPY TO REPORT a correction of last week's column. Mrs. Russel Hilbert is now enjoying good health following successful treatment of an eye ailment the latter part of December.

LAST WEEK-END provided us with a fresh layer of snow and I think every youngster in the township was at Lola Valley skating, tobogganing or belly flopping down the hills on their sleds!

WHEN THE REDFORD UNION TEACHERS League met at the bowling alleys Saturday, Milo Karhu was the star for the evening — he was the highest man over average for the evening with a 287 game that started out with no less than seven strikes in a row!

Milo, perhaps you should give up teaching and be a professional bowler. I retract that statement — after the win over Bentley Friday night, Redford Union isn't likely to let you go.

ARRIVING A MONTH EARLY, is Steven Michael Davis son of Barb. and Cy Davis of Park Ave. Steven arrived at 5:47 p.m. on Jan. 23 at the St. Mary Hospital in Livonia, and weighed in at 6 lbs. 6 oz. The new mother (formerly Barb Viau of Lexington) and Daddy are 1958 graduates of Redford Union High.

SCOTT BURROWS OF INDIAN was six years old Saturday, Jan. 8, and had a big birthday party to celebrate on Jan. 9. These are Scott's friends who were there for all the fun and food: Greg Pevler, Kathy Culver, Dave Martzloff, Barbie and Billie Kelly, Denise Scolia, Cathy Silva, Cindy Summers, Brigit Jensen, Anne Lise Williams, and Johnny Alder. Scott is a Kindergartener at Westland Elementary.

MY OWN LITTLEST ANGEL, TAMMI, was two years old on Jan. 25, she really loved all the special attention and her birthday cake which she "wore" for the occasion!

CONGRATULATIONS are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Taackberry, of Fox, on the birth of another son, Kevin Clyde, born Jan. 20, 1966.

PAT ANDERSON, of Denby, played hostess for the Denby Sewing Club last week. In attendance were: Mary Kuhn, Jean Gillen, Elaine Broden, Norma Peters, Donna Herbert, Dot Johnson and yours truly.

ANOTHER SIX YEAR BIRTHDAY we have to announce is that of David Martzloff of Santa Marie — David had a party on Jan. 22 with the following friends in attendance: Kathy Culver, Billie and Barbie Kelly, Stacy and Scott Burrows, and Beth and Tommy Owens.

Lane-Lovend Funeral Home Opens to Public Saturday

"If you can design a funeral home so that it is more like a home than a place of business, then you have accomplished a very important result," says Robert Lane and Bernard Lovend, co-owners of the new Lane-Lovend Funeral Home. The new home is scheduled to open January 29, at 31575 Ford Road, one block west of Merriman. Both Lovend and Lane believe that the newness of the Lane-Lovend Funeral Home is not one of mechanical structure, but rather a modern concept in funeral home design and a personal approach to family service. The uniqueness of Lane-Lovend is no accident. The uniqueness evolves from research into

Home Is A Business, Needs A File System

The average home nowadays is a small business establishment. The first requisite of any business is an adequate filing system. This is especially true in a home where records are needed over the years. The second requisite is a home office, even though it's just a room corner. To emphasize the need for home office facilities, John Concord, home improvement consultant to Masonite Corporation, listed some of the things a family should have on file: Appliance guarantees and parts lists, cancelled checks and bank statements, insurance records or policies, extra copies of legal papers such as wills, bonds and stock certificates; social security numbers and earnings records. Also, receipts of various types, by categories; information needed at federal income tax filing time; records of church and other organization memberships, committees, and the like; family records; Christmas card and birthday lists. Filing cabinets are inexpensive and essential. So is a desk. So is a place to put them—preferably a nook handy to the kitchen, for instance, if the primary record-keeping is done by the homemaker. Other locations are a porch, bedroom, den, living room corner or a partitioned space in a recreation area. To help establish the office as a businesslike place, it's important to have it look pleasant and efficient. Paneling the area with handsome woodgrained hardboard panels such as Masonite Royalcote is about the easiest way to do this, Concord points out. Panels go up quickly with a cartridge-type adhesive. Even the amateur craftsman can make a creditable installation. The prefinished panels require no decorating and only damp-weather maintenance.

Farmington Grp. Plans 3 Exhibits at Cobo Hall

Rena Sovel of the Forest Park Garden Club in Farmington is planning to enter three arrangements at the Cobo Hall Home and Flower Show Feb. 18 through 27. Club members are currently selling advanced tickets to the show. At the group's Jan. 18 meeting Betty Frankel discussed forcing blooms and shade-loving perennials. Helen Moorehouse represented the organization at the Mid-Year District One Meeting at the Women's City Club Jan. 25.

Post Put to Use

If a structural member is interfering with arrangement of space, it can sometimes be made part of a divider, or covered by a built-in, or used as the center pole of a circular bench.

Extinguish Fire

A primary cause of forest fires is the camp fire that is not completely extinguished. Take along a galvanized steel pail on your next camping trip, fill it with water and douse your camp fire thoroughly before leaving the area. If the fire is still smoldering, douse it again.

Cozy Glow

The indoor hours of winter can be bright and cheerful when the living room is wrapped in the orange-gold glow of Douglas fir lumber paneling.

FHA Issues New Policy On Incomes

Perry E. Willis, president of the National Association of Home Builders, recently praised FHA's new liberalized policy on "working wives' income." FHA insuring offices have been instructed by Commissioner P. N. Brownstein to give more consideration to a wife's income in qualifying married couples mortgages insurance and payments. "This new policy," Willis said, "recognizes the reality of the times and will enable more young married people to purchase the homes they want and need and can afford when a wife's income is given due consideration." "For many young people, this policy will open the doors earlier to home ownership and to the stability of family home life." Brownstein, in announcing the new policy, said the primary reason is the trend in recent years for wives to resume employment after a childbirth. He noted that many employers now offer maternity leave benefits and guarantee re-employment rights and that the period of interrupted income is typically short. The financial impact, Brownstein said, frequently is lessened by insurance or hospitalization plans. These considerations, he added, make it possible for FHA to give more weight to the wife's income in measuring the family's effective income for repayment of the mortgage debt.

Mobile Units Are Popular

In the market for a mobile home? If so, you're one of a tribe that is rapidly increasing. According to Stan Johnson, manager of fiberboard sales for a major supplier of subflooring material for mobile homes: "One-sixth of all new single-family homes—some 200,000 will be mobile in 1966. "In fact," adds Johnson, "mobile homes have become a major factor in the less-than $10,000 home market. The units account for one out of every three new residences in this price range, and their share of the market is growing larger each year."

Mobile homes are particularly popular with the 20-29 year-old age bracket, the segment of the U.S. population that is enjoying the fastest rate of growth. The days when trailer living was austere at best, have been long since gone. Today's mobile homes range in price from $3,000 to $12,000 with an average of about $5,600. Johnson reports that most late model mobile homes boast virtually all the comforts of any home including the last word in kitchen appliances, air-conditioning and wall-to-wall carpeting.

Keeping pace in improvements in the mobile homes themselves, today's mobile home parks offer swimming pools, recreation facilities, shopping centers and other accoutrements of gracious living.

REV. DONALD WILLIAMS, minister of the First Baptist Church, is president of the Plymouth Ministerial Association.

'Preach the Gospel' Urges Plymouth Minister

By JERRY WENDT

Rev. Donald Williams, minister of Plymouth's First Baptist Church is considered one of Plymouth's outstanding ministers. In conversation with him, it is not difficult to discover why. He is a man who calls a spade a spade and is able to see all sides of a problem clearly, even though he may have strong opinions about it.

The Observer decided to interview him and ask him about the problems he would face during his term as president of the Plymouth Ministerial Association. Instead, Rev. Williams spoke about what he considers the foremost problem of the clergy today, namely, lack of knowledge of the gospel.

Rev. Williams believes that not only the laymen, but an amazingly large number of the clergy are not well informed about the Bible.

This was surprising to us and we asked him the obvious question, "Isn't the study of the Bible the most important course in the education of a minister?"

"No," said Rev. Williams, "there are studies in humanity, philosophy, etc." He added that he had a doctor's degree in psychology. He feels that while

'Love' Sunday Lesson for Science Churches

"Father-Mother is the name for Deity, which indicates His tender relationship to His spiritual creation," says Mary Baker Eddy, Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, in her book "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." The passage will be included in all Christian Science services this Sunday as part of the lesson on "Love."

Several Bible stories will be read and a correlative reading from Science and Health.

Peter's statement — "Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons: But in every nation he that feareth him and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him" finds a parallel in this line from Science and Health: "Love is impartial and universal in its adaptation and bestowals."

Buzz Group Forms At St. Matthews

"The Christian's Calling" is the theme of a missions program to be held at St. Matthew's Church, Six Mile Rd., Livonia. The program is for all adults and youth and is open to the general public. Meetings will be held at the church from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Feb. 8, Feb. 15, Feb. 22, and March 1.

Open discussion and buzz groups will be organized to discover the task or mission of St. Matthew's church in the community.

life's problems," he said seriously. "I don't believe in going along with situations completely, the Bible is God's word and it should be used as a guide for living."

Rev. Williams' faith and teaching harken to the Biblical rock of old on which Jesus said, "On this I build my church."

the High School with N. Main numbers extending out to Mill Street.
But the greatest confusion is on Sheldon Road. In the north side, the City has even numbers on the south side and the Township has odd numbers on the north. But on S. Sheldon, the Township has odd numbers on the north side and even on the south.
Think of the problems that arise when a person makes a call to the fire department and reports a fire at 672 Sheldon. Should the Township rush out to S. Sheldon or the City to N. Sheldon a house could burn down before the confusion is resolved.

These are just a few of the problems Hickerson has brought to the attention of the City and Township. With the growth predicted for the Township and the plans for the city, perhaps it wouldn't be amiss for the two bodies to get together and try to iron out the difficulties before they get much worse.

Twp. Plan Board Has Busy Night

After a delay of almost a year, JAR Corporation, which initiated a suit against the Township Board and the Plymouth Township Planning Commission protesting the constitutionality of the zoning ordinance, has given up and Developer Sam Stoller appeared before the Commission last week to present pre-preliminary plans for his 43 acre subdivision at the northeast corner of Joy and Beck Roads.

give Kirchoff additional time to present new plans.
Approved a request of Holtzman, Silverman and Gould for a public hearing on rezoning of 9.206 acres of land on Ann Arbor Trail for an apartment complex.

DPW News And Notes

BY SUPT. JOSEPH BIDA
Plymouth Dept. Public Works
The department has had numerous questions about broken water services and mains throughout the city in recent weeks.

Many householders believe the breaks are due to the increased water pressure. However, we in the department wish to point out that most of the city's water lines were installed when the pressure was low—thus, with any increase, such as that we now have, leaks and breaks are bound to come.

The water system is maintaining 50 to 60 pounds of pressure in the north end of the city and this isn't excessive. A leak last week at Gallimore School proved to be a leak in a repair sleeve that was inserted several years ago when a six-inch main broke near the school. The rubber gasket had come loose and the water main was not broken as many believed.

The past week found crews straightening water posts in the downtown area, cleaning and flushing sewers on N. Harvey between Blanche and Farmer Streets and cleaning the main sewer on Wing Street.

The DPW covered all city streets, picking up Christmas trees. Repairs were made on a broken water service at 1117 Beech and 272 Ann Street. The department also repaired a broken main sanitary sewer north of the City Hall on the site of the old city hall.

Major streets were cold patched at various places throughout the city.

in the area Foreign Exchange Students program and has resided in the community for seven years.
Mrs. Koepke is the mother of eight children, two of whom are attending college and the youngest of which is four.
Ron Bondle served as chairman of the "Education Day" breakfast for the Jaycees at which he announced details of the Independence Hall essay contest for seventh and eighth grade students in the public and parochial schools in the community.
The entry deadline is Feb. 15 and students may enter essays on the theme of "What My American Patriotism Means To Me". The essays may be from 300 to 1,500 words in length.
The winner, three runnersup and five honorable mentions will be selected by the judges and honored at a dinner meeting on Feb. 21 along with the seventh and eighth grade teachers from Junior High East.
The rules and regulations governing the selection of the "Young Educator" provides he or she must be between the ages of 21 and 35, a teacher in the first through 12th grades and must have been nominated by some group of individuals.
The school administration and secondary and elementary school principals had nothing to do with the nominations or the final judging.
The final selection was to be made on the basis of 25 per cent for contributions to the profession, community state or nation.
The week long Junior Chamber program ended with a dinner for wives Saturday evening, prepared by Jaycees; a prayer breakfast Sunday in the First Methodist Church and an afternoon out with Jaycee children Sunday afternoon at a nearby winter recreation center.
Earlier in the week, the Jaycees selected Wendell Smith as "Man of the Year" and he and Marilyn Moss, winner of the Miss Plymouth contest last July 4, were honored guests at Friday's breakfast.

eloquent and effective exponent of what is commonly known as the "American system."
To his concept of basic Americanism he has given the label of "progressive conservatism." He wants to conserve constitutional government, to conserve free competitive enterprise and to conserve individual freedom under both.
For more than two decades he has crossed the continent until he has developed a deep appreciation of what it means to be an all-around American citizen. A recent nationwide survey showed that he is literally and actually America's foremost public speaker. He was rated first in each general section of the country as well as amassing the highest total score.
He holds a Bachelor's degree from Pittsburg State Teachers College in Kansas, a Master's from Columbia U in New York City and a Doctorate from Stanford University in California.
Following the address, Draugelis will introduce all firms and industrial plants that advertised in the program, thank the hosts and hostesses and Mayflower Meeting House owner Ralph Lorenz for a fine job well done.

AAUW Busy with Plans for 'Rumpelstiltskin' Shows
On Saturday, Feb. 12, the Plymouth High School Auditorium stage will once again become a magical spot where area youngsters may meet one of their favorite fairy tale characters, Rumpelstiltskin.
This is the sixth annual production of the Drama group of the Plymouth Branch of the American Association of University Women.
Director for the 1966 production is Mrs. Wendell Smith.
There will be four performances beginning at 10, 11:30, 1:30 and 3. Tickets will be pre-sold in the public and parochial elementary schools beginning Tuesday, Feb. 2.
The cast includes Mrs. William Fronk, Patricia Dorrain, Mrs. James Knowles, Mrs. James McKeon, Mrs. John Anderson, Mrs. David Van Hine, Mrs. Glenn Arendson, Mrs. T. F. Devereaux, Mrs. Juergon Badindieck, Mrs. J. M. Hopkins, Mrs. Richard Fritz and Mrs. Jerry Yohey.
