C&O Seeks Solution To Plymouth Wreck

C&O Railroad officials are still seeking the answer to the puzzle of what caused the wreckage of 17 cars on a Flint-bound freight and found two loaded boxcars dropping off a bridge on Northville Road and causing a traffic tieup for more than 24 hours.

Bound from Grand Rapids to Flint, the 76-car train had just pulled out of the nearby switch yard and was estimated to be traveling at eight miles an hour when several boxcars, about 200 feet behind the two Diesel engines, left the tracks, tore up ties and twisted rails.

Two of the boxcars flipped off the trestle and fell to the normally heavily traveled Northville Road.

Fortunately, there wasn't any approaching traffic at the time. There were several motorists in the vicinity and all reported hearing a loud crash and then saw the boxcars flip and fall into the highway.

Earl Demel Back On Job After 6 Months

After being sidelined for more than six months by a chronic ailment, Attorney Earl Demel, who has been Plymouth Township's legal advisor for the past 27 years, has resumed his law practice. Demel returned to work a week ago and has been busy catching up with the many items that piled on his desk for so long.

And after a week, he reports he can just now see over the top of the desk.

Sheriff's deputies were called immediately and quickly blocked off all roads to the area. As a result motorists found themselves in a position where they had to go back to Five Mile Road, over Haggerty and then on Six Mile to get to Northville and the western section of Plymouth and Plymouth Townships.

Those approaching from Northville had to swing up over Five Mile Road to Sheldon to get to Northville.

The two boxcars snapped off their undercarriage wheels as they dropped on the road. Strange enough, there was only slight damage to the highway although train crews had to work around the clock to clear the wreckage.

The mishap happened Friday afternoon at 1:45 and the road wasn't cleared until shortly after 3 p.m. Saturday.

Richard Kett, 18, of 4855 Beck Road, Belleville, said that he was approaching the underpass when he saw a set of railroad wheels, weighing 1,500 pounds, crash to the highway along with a boxcar.

He showed sheriff's deputies.

Mrs. Ardith Fischer Quits Township Job

Mrs. Ardith Fischer, longtime employee in the Plymouth Township Treasurer's office, tendered her resignation recently and left the Township Hall last Saturday.

She had been a member of Treasurer Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes' staff for the past four years.

100 feet of skid marks where he had brought his car to a stop. "I just threw the car in reverse and got out of there as fast as I could," he said.

The boxcars' undercarriage dug deep gouges into the pavement, and one boxcar split open, spilling its contents—new auto.

Humphrey Lists 2 Appearances On EMU Campus

The Vice President will participate in press conference with representatives of every high school in the Second Congressional, following which he will attend a private reception for community leaders from throughout the District, also to be held on the EMU campus.

The Vice President is visiting Michigan in his capacity as Chairman of the President's Youth Opportunity Task Force. He will discuss problems of school dropouts and the needs for job opportunities for young people.

The Vice President will arrive at the EMU campus at 10 a.m. and will depart for the Detroit area at noon.

Postmaster Asks Homeowners To Clear Walks

Plymouth's Acting Postmaster John A. Mulligan Monday issued a plea to homeowners to scrape the ice and snow off the sidewalks to make the chores of the mail carriers a bit easier.

"We have had numerous complaints from our men about slippery sidewalks," he said, "Perhaps the homeowners could make their job a bit easier by giving them a safe route to walk."

Buy 35 Acre Township Site

Spartan Stores Announce Plans For New $2 Million Warehouse

The first step in the much heralded industrial expansion in Plymouth Township became a reality when Spartan Stores, of Grand Rapids, officially signed papers for the acquisition of a 35-acre site on Haggerty Road near Joy Road.

Purchase of the property was finalized when Executive Vice President Joseph Foy, of the huge Michigan food distributing firm, announced the completion of the deal and Raymond Dutton, Spartan operations executive, signed the papers.

The property was purchased from Wilford and Margaret Bunyea.

Work on the sale was done by Harold Fischer, director of the Plymouth Area Planning Authority. It was the first deal handled by the Authority which was formed for the purpose of building the tax base in the community through sale of industrial land in Plymouth and Canton Townships.

Almost at the same time, Lawyers Title Insurance Corporation officially opened its new Plymouth branch in the Colonial Professional Building, 729 E. Ann Arbor Trail, with a gala open house to which all real estate brokers and bankers in the area were invited.

The branch will be in charge of James Greene and lists a staff of five including Salesmen Blair Diville and Earl Reed and two secretaries, Mrs. Linda Holmes and Mrs. Evelyn Welsh. Diville, Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. Welsh reside in Livonia and Reed is a longtime resident of Northville.

The branch will handle title insurance in the Plymouth, Livonia, Redford Township, Nankin, Farmington, Novi, Northville, Canton Township and Wayne area. Plans of Spartan Stores call for the construction of a 350,000 square foot facility to be used as a warehouse for distribution of items to independent grocers throughout this section of Wayne County. Work on the $2 million structure is expected to start in the near future and Spartan officials hope to be able to present preliminary plans to the Plymouth Trustees within a short time. The warehouse will have 1100 feet frontage on Haggerty Road. Dutton and Joseph Mumery, resident manager, indicated they hope to start construction in late spring so that operations may begin from the location in early 1967. The Spartan warehouse in Grand Rapids, which covers 12 acres, is recognized as one of the most efficient in the United States. Current Spartan sales are in excess of $140 million annually. With the Spartan site assured, Fischer indicated he will immediately turn his attention to other plants that have shown an interest in locating in Plymouth Township. Loren Gould, who has plans for developing more than 50 acres on Ann Arbor Road near Lilley Road, has already started work on dividing the land into small industrial sites. "Bud" isn't saying much these days but there is a rumor that he already has a couple of nibbles and may have one or two small plants signed for the site within a reasonably short time. There is also considerable conjecture that negotiations are underway for one or two industries in the Elvridge property just north of Western Electric on Sheldon Road. The recent action of the

325 ATTEND ANNUAL DINNER

'Stand Up and Be Counted' Challenges Chamber Speaker

It probably was the longest talk ever presented at an annual dinner of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce but everyone of the more than 325 in attendance left the Mayflower Meeting House last Thursday convinced they had heard one of the greatest after-dinner speakers ever to appear in the community.

Dr. Kenneth McFarland, of Topeka, Kans., came advertised as America's foremost speaker, he left shortly before 11 p.m. to catch a plane but there wasn't any question that he was everything as forecast.

Prior to the address, retiring President Wendell Lent turned the gavel over to incoming President Carl Pursell.

Then he presented plaques for outstanding service to retiring Board members James Thomas of Consumers Power, and Municipal Judge Edward Draugells, who also served as master of ceremonies in his usual inimitable style.

Pursell, after receiving the gavel, gave an insight into the Chamber plans for 1966 and presented certificate of appreciation to Dr. Ray Barber, for his work in developing the Businessmen's forum; to William Harding, as chairman of the Education committee; and to Charles Engstrom, as head of the Membership committee which signed up 50 new members during 1965.

Pursell also presented an appreciation plaque to Lent who told the audience he has nine lives—his wife, three daughters, a son, son-in-law, two grandchildren and the City of Plymouth.

Rev. David Davies gave the invocation and the benediction, and entertainment during the dinner and in a special program was furnished by Organist Dan Greer, one of the most outstanding young musicians in the area.

Speaking on the topic of "Wake the Town and Tell the People," Dr. McFarland touched on practically every subject anyone in the audience could possibly be interested in.

He challenged the Chamber of Commerce to awaken the city and the community to make it a better and more progressive place to live.

He decried the spending of the Democratic party; had scant score for the marchers in the recent Viet Nam protest in Washington; told of an incident in Chicago where a mother on welfare was named to a high paying post on the Anti-Poverty program to which she had no experience; hit the college campus for the sitdowns in protest to the Viet Nam war; and then urged all to stand up and be counted to make a better world. "When we are involved in a war," he said, "All things are not equal. We are in this conflict because we did not win in Korea. We compromised there and that started the Viet Nam war."

"People all over this nation of ours are going to have to stand up and be counted. We can't afford to have a complacent attitude. And there isn't any better place to start this action than in communities of this type—Plymouth is an excellent example of where people should wake up and tell the people."

"The people who built this land are people just like you. When the businessman wins, we all win because of his success. "Why should we picket in Alabama when we have problems right here at home that have to be resolved. We see examples under our noses (Continued on Page 10-A)

THIS SHOWS a portion of the crowd that gathered in the Mayflower Meeting House for 325 was the largest ever to attend the dinner the annual meeting of the Plymouth Chamber meeting.

Michigan Bell Schedules $1.2 Million Expansion

Michigan Bell Telephone Company announced today it will spend $1,276,000 in Plymouth this year to expand and improve its communications services.

The local outlay is part of Michigan Bell's 1966 construction program totaling a record $175 million, which surpasses last year's previous high by $40 million and is about double the amount spent only three years ago.

William M. Day, Michigan Bell president, said in Detroit that much of the capital required to finance the program must come from investors willing to put their money into the telephone business rather than in other investment opportunities.

He said the expanded 1966 program will require hundreds of additional employees to supplement the company's present force of some 23,400 men and women. It also will give substantial amounts of additional business to Michigan construction companies and suppliers.

"A program of this magnitude is necessary to keep pace with Michigan's economic boom," Day said. "This boom has led to service demands such as the company never before has experienced."

Day also attributed a good share of the surging demand to higher telephone usage stimulated by increasingly attractive prices. He cited the recent series of rate reductions and service improvements which "are making telephone service a constantly increasing bargain." As examples, he mentioned the declining costs of both interstate and intrastate calls.

"These economies are prompting people in general to use their telephones more and more," Day said. "In addition, many people without (Continued on Page 10-A)

What's Needed in Program?

Forum to Hear Talk on Expansion Problems

Harold Fischer, Director of the Plymouth Area Planning Authority, will discuss the industrial and commercial development in the Plymouth Community School District and what should be done to help it when he addresses the Plymouth Businessmen's Forum Thursday noon in the Mayflower Meeting House.

Industrial development has become one of the hottest topics in the area and Fischer is expected to give an insight into plans of the Authority.

His talk comes on top of the announcement that Spartan Stores will build a $2 million warehouse in the Township on Haggerty Road near Joy Road and of a more than $1 million expansion program set by Michigan Bell in Plymouth.

Fischer will cover: What industrial and commercial development means to the future economic growth of the community; What is needed to accomplish this development; and What other communities are doing to develop their industrial and commercial growth.

The Planning Authority, which includes three representatives each from the City and from Plymouth and Canton Townships, has financial support of the three units on the basis of $5,000 each from the City and Plymouth Township and $2,500 from Canton Township.

A group of community-minded businessmen started the project several years ago when they recognized the pressing need for developing a sound tax base for the schools.

The nine-member Authority agreed that a full-time director should be hired to implement the undertaking. After scanning a host of candidates, it finally agreed on Fischer, a long-time resident of the community who has been active in civic and service programs, as the director.

Fischer assumed the post on Oct. 1 and since has made a thorough survey of the area. It will be the results of this survey that he will convey to the Forum.

Joe Has Rough Trip; Backwards Over Track

Joe Barton, Jr., of 1943 Elmhurst, Plymouth, is still wondering what happened after one of those freak incidents that found him driving backwards over a C&O Railroad spur between Holbrook and York.

Joe had stopped at 927 Holbrook to drop off his uncle, David Simmons. He was asked to stop in for a cup of coffee, declined and then started to reach into the back seat for an article belonging to Simmons. At the same time, he apparently stepped on the gas and the car started backing up—it curved across the street and started down the tracks with Simmons hanging on the side. As it jolted backwards over the tracks, Simmons finally was thrown off, suffering minor injuries, and the car continued on its way until it finally stopped some 300 feet from the starting point according to Plymouth Police reports. Joe escaped without injury but stepped out of the car, well shaken and still wondering what happened.

JUST CHATTIN'

By W. W. EDGAR

Ordinarily, I am a rather cool, calm and collected fellow. I am not given to emotional upsets. My nerves have been "toughened" by years of the deepest kind of concentration required to correctly record the highlights of the main sports events from high up in the nation's press boxes. Through the years I have held to the philosophy that ulcers are for other folks... I don't want them. Yet, with all of this training and the years of holding back emotions while watching thrilling contests and battles, there still is one thing that can upset my usual placid way of life —

This one thing is the lack of courage by those who refuse to "stand up and be counted"... the folks who write vitriolic criticism of persons and things and then refuse to sign their names. These are the cowardly folks who use such non-de-pluses as "Disgusted Taxpayer," "Disgruntled Citizen," and a host of others. Any time I receive a letter signed in such a manner I usually whisper to myself, "There's another coward," while tossing the letter in the waste basket. This cowardly act not only is shown in letter writing. You can see it at many public meetings when those discussing a ticklish question agree to make this a "voice vote." They don't want to stand up and be counted. They haven't the courage of their own convictions or the intestinal fortitude to face their critics and admit their vote. They'd rather their "naye" or "aye" be lost in the muffled sound. During the recent campaign by the Board of Education to seek a raise of nine mills in taxes and a nine million dollar bond issue, I was the recipient of many letters containing scathing denunciations of those who administer our educational system. And with only two exceptions, the senders refused to sign their names. My waste basket was well filled. Now we are on the threshold of another city election. If it follows the usual pattern, the air will be filled with caustic criticism and the mails will be cluttered by these cowards who dote on firing from behind a fictitious name. There always are some who are brave and great leaders until they are asked to "stand and be counted." And I doubt if it will be any different this time. There is another breed—even more upsetting. These are the fellows who do not have the courage of their own convictions, but seek out some individual and express their thoughts through him. These are what we used to call "bushwackers" down in the Pennsylvania Dutch Country where I had my beginnings in the colorful task of writing daily history. These are the fellows who never come out in the open to fire—they'll hide behind bushes to take an unfair advantage. You're certain to see many of these, too, during the coming campaign. For aside from nominating folks for public office we also are being asked to vote on what is being called a "review" of the city charter and to nominate a field for the Charter Commission. You are bound to hear folks say that the Charter should be re-written—that it is out-moded—that it should be clarified in many areas—that it was written for a township form of government and should be up-dated to keep pace with the city. If you pay close attention to some who are shouting the loudest with such claims, you'll find that, in some cases, they have been in positions to bring about, or offer, improvements they say are necessary—but never did. The kindly old editor who started me on my way always said, "Have the courage of your convictions... stand up and be counted... even if you must stand alone." And there came a time when he practiced what he preached in a manner I never shall forget. He had written a bitter piece about the City Council and the headline on the front page of our paper the next morning read: Half of the City Council is Crazy. That evening when I came to work, the office was filled to overflowing with city officials. They were storming the editors office in protest. They wanted to be heard. They were demanding an apology. Now, I never knew of a time when the kindly old editor flinched. So, I listened with keen interest. After a time I heard him say, "Gentlemen, I am surprised at all of the fuss being raised about my writing. But I will do this. I will check my notes again, give them some serious thought and if I then think an apology is necessary I will apologize gladly." That seemed to satisfy the protesters. But it left me with a bit of doubt, too. Was the Old Editor weakening? Next morning I picked up the paper with keen anticipation. Sure enough. He had written another story. This time the headline read: Half of the City Council isn't crazy. He had the courage of his convictions. He didn't flinch when it came time to stand and be counted. He had no truck with those who did otherwise. That's the man who taught me.

AND QUICKLY DROVE AWAY

Livonia Police Seek Driver Who Struck Six-Year-Old

Livonia Police are seeking the driver of a Volkswagen who struck a six-year-old girl on Barkley near Middlebelt Road and sped away without stopping. Suffering a broken pelvis and internal injuries that will keep her home in bed for another three weeks to a month is Susan Kathleen Lacey, 6, of 29226 Barkley. She was struck by the hit-run driver while crossing the street in front of her home, according to a police report.

Susan, a twin, started across the street, according to police reports, stopped to pull up her snow boots and was struck by the car which sped west on Barkley, went west on Middlebelt Road and disappeared.

The accident was witnessed by her mother who reported the incident to investigating officers; her twin, Jean Irene; her sister, Mary Ellen Lacey, 9 and a neighbor youngster, Mark Bryngelson, 10, of 29000 Barkley.

Mrs. Lacey told the officers the car struck Susan at the left front fender, knocked her against the curb and never made any effort to stop.

Mrs. Lacey and the youngsters gave officers a partial description of the license plate which begins either with a GW or a WG. The car was described as a dark colored Volkswagen.

Lt. Robert Thorne, of the Traffic Bureau, urges the driver to report to the police station at once to make a report. The witnesses described the driver as a male and he faces a charge of leaving the scene of a personal injury accident when found.

At the same time, Livonia

Police learned of the arraignment of Frances Reed, 9115 Ball, Plymouth, on charges of leaving the scene of a personal injury accident. She will appear before Municipal Judge Robert Lorion on Feb. 7. She is accused of striking Audrey Newland, 42, of Romulus, who was crossing Plymouth Road in front of the Fisher Body plant.

Miss Reed reportedly stopped and asked "Are you hurt?" and drove away. She was stopped a half hour later on Farmington Road by a police car, according to the reports.

Roberts Eyes Judgeship; Pursell Seeks Senate Job

State Senator Farrell Roberts, of Pontiac, will leave his post as representative of the 14th district to seek one of the six-year terms for the Oakland County Circuit Court.

That was his announcement Monday and at the same time Carl Pursell, of Plymouth, newly elected president of the Chamber of Commerce there and Roberts' campaign manager, announced that he will seek the State Senatorship.

Roberts' desire to move to the Circuit Court closes his career as a State Senator at the end of this term.

He was the successful candidate for the post left vacant by the death of Paul Chandler, of Livonia, late publisher-editor of the Observer Newspapers in December, 1964.

Roberts is a member of the Oakland Bar Association; Michigan Bar Association; American Bar Association; American Judicial Society; and the Board of Visitors to the University of Michigan Law School. He is a member of the law firm of Dietterle, Roberts and Mann in Pontiac.

Pursell, owner of The Western Office Equipment Co. in Plymouth and Farmington, is head of the Plymouth-Northville Republican Club and one of the leaders in organizing the first Lincoln Day banquet on Feb. 10.

In announcing his candidacy, Pursell said "I feel my business, educational, civic and military experience plus a dedication to the betterment of our communities would provide the residents of the area with a strong effective voice in Lansing. Leadership and courage are essential to meet the challenge of today's society."

Pursell was a member of Gov. Romney's Task Force on Political Organization in 1965; is a former teacher in the Livonia Schools; holds a bachelor's and a master's degree from Eastern Michigan University; is a member of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club; past treasurer of the Veterans Memorial Foundation in Plymouth; charter member of the Plymouth Historical Society; and served in the U.S. Army in the Korean conflict, coming out with the rank of Captain.

He and his wife reside at 499 Auburn, Plymouth, and are the parents of three children.

Call Area Men For Induction

A number of area men have been ordered to report for induction into the armed services on Feb. 18 at Local Board 219 located in the basement of the Wayne Post Office.

Ordered for induction from Livonia are Gary L. Slaughter and Robert M. Kosovich.

Posthumous Honor to Paul Chandler

Observer Wins Three Awards At Michigan Press Meeting

Last weekend The Observer Newspapers—which service the communities of Livonia, Plymouth, Farmington, Garden City, Redford Township and Nankin Township—won three awards in judging by its peers.

The occasion was the Michigan Press Association's annual convention at the Kellogg Center on the Michigan State campus in East Lansing.

Awards went to The Observer for:

- Excellence in writing by Observer publisher and founder, the late Paul M. Chandler, and by his widow Mrs. Myra Chandler following his sudden death Dec. 12, 1964.

- Included in the exhibition of the prize winners at the convention was the special memorial edition published by the Observer staff on Dec. 16, 1964.

- Second place for all editorials in the classification of metropolitan weeklies; and

- Second prize to The Observer of Plymouth for the advertising idea of the year.

Specifically singled out in the exhibit of the special award—which was accepted by Mrs. Chandler at the awards luncheon Friday—were three columns.

The three were: Paul Chandler's column on the 1964 presidential campaign which was written just prior to the election for publication the day following the national balloting; the special column Chandler wrote for the Goodfellows two days before he died; and the first column written by Mrs. Chandler for the paper following her husband's death.

The editorial award was made on the basis of two editorials written by Allen Rosenfeld during his tenure as editor of The Observer of Farmington.

In the words of the judges of the editorial contest, William E. Porter of the University of Michigan, "The Observer editorials show particular concern with problems relating to the freedom of speech and in the process do a beautiful job of defining what a paper is for."

The award to The Observer of Plymouth was made for a

28 Madonna Seniors Join With Grads

Twenty-eight seniors were officially inducted into the Alumnae association of Madonna College at a tea sponsored by the West Suburban chapter of the alumnae on Feb. 2 in the student center of the college.

Among these are from Livonia: Alicia Modinski of 754 Eastlawn; Barbara Hopkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hopkins of 9816 Crans-ton; Loraine Webb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Webb of 9543 Columbia; Sandra Puskaric, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Puskaric of 19930 Gaylord.

Speakers were introduced by Joanne Guida, '62, chairman of the program. Sister M. Danatha, president of Madonna, and Father Leon Kennedy, theology and philosophy instructor, addressed the seniors and alumnae. Florence Kijek, '62 alumnae president, told the incoming members about the objectives and aims of the association.

The Alumnae association, numbering 261 graduates, has two chapters, the West Suburban chapter and the Detroit chapter. The Detroit chapter has put into operation "Project Madonna."

The aim is to make Madonna College known to the public especially to prospective freshmen. The Alumnae have prepared film strips and will give talks about the school and its activities, facilities, curriculum, and its special features to high school students, parents' clubs, and CCD classes.

Louis J. Wolter of the Michigan State University advertising faculty stated that:

"Anytime anyone is able to clean up the usual 'shopping list' format of the grocery ad they deserve a prize. This series managed that and made it attractive and appealing to boot. The intelligent use of color to highlight specials is also to be commended. All in all, a rare and welcome sight."

MORE THAN 800 attended a reception Sunday at Western Golf Club introducing Philip Power, new owner of the Observer Newspaper Group, to business, civic and industrial leaders of the six communities covered by the newspapers. Power had a chance to relax while sitting down with representatives of the Felician Sisters from Madonna College and St. Mary Hospital in Livonia. The group includes: (from left) Earl Demel, member of the college advisory Board; Sister Damascene of Madonna; Mrs. Myra Chandler, Observer Editor; Power; Rita Radziowski, Director of Nurses at the Hospital; Sister M. Calasanta, business administrator of the Hospital; and Sister M. Danatha, president of Madonna College.

General co-chairmen of the awards contests were William C. Sliger of the Northville Record and Robert G. Silbar of the Fenton Independent. Entries in the MPA Awards Contest were submitted by weekly newspapers throughout the state.

Removal Hearing Monday

Removal hearings for Nankin Justice of the Peace Michael W. Bradley are scheduled for Monday (Feb. 17) before Oakland County Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard.

Bradley has been charged with misconduct in office by Grand Juror Edward S. Piggins in connection with the ticketing investigation of the Wayne County Sheriff's Patrol. Piggins asked Governor George Romney to remove Bradley and Nankin J.P. George R. Perry and Romney asked Judge Barnard to conduct a hearing on the charges.

Earlier hearings have been adjourned with the latest postponement prompted by a constitutional challenge to the hearings raised by Bradley's attorney Robert E. DeMascio.

DeMascio argued the State Constitution requires the two-thirds vote of the House and Senate to remove a J.P. from office and that both branches should have approved calling of the hearings.

Perry's hearing is scheduled for the day following Bradley's.

1965 Road Toll Passes '64 Figures

Delayed death reports have pushed Michigan's traffic toll for 1965 to 2,131, passing 1964's count of 2,120 to become the third worst annual record in state history, State Police figures show.

With the final count still several weeks away, the 1965 loss also will undoubtedly surpass the 1941 toll of 2,133 to become the second worst annual mark.

It would then be the highest loss in 28 years, exceeded only by 1937's total of 2,175.

Contributing to the worsened toll for last year were 240 deaths in December, which became an all-time high for any month. Previous record was 235 counted in December of 1936.

The revised figures for deaths are in addition to the estimated all-time high totals of 157,000 injuries and 318,000 accidents previously charged to 1965.

Provisional death figures for early this month were 2,087 for the year and 216 for December.

17 in Nursing Program At Schoolcraft College

Seventeen students have registered for the winter semester in the practical nursing program at Schoolcraft College. The practical nursing program is one of a variety of one-year career curricula offered by the College for persons who desire to prepare for immediate employment after graduation.

Members of the class range from age 18 to 41. Sixteen are between 18 and 20, six are between 26 and 41. Of these, 11 are single and six are married with a total of 17 children. Thirteen were graduated from high school, and four qualified for admission by achieving passing scores on the General Education Development tests.

During the 16-week fall semester, students had an average of 6 to 7 hours daily of classroom instruction and supervised work with hospitalized patients. Hospital experience began with orientation to Garden City Osteopathic Hospital where the students continued clinical work through the semester.

Currently, students are having clinical experience at Wayne County General Hospital in the Psychiatric Division. Students will complete the program in mid-July, at which time graduates will be eligible to write the Michigan Board of Nursing licensing examination in practical nursing. The 23 residents of the College District who graduated last July are now employed in local hospitals and doctors' offices.

The course is open to both men and women, married and single, between the ages of 18 and 50. Students are admitted once a year, fall semester, to the full-time day program. Classes are held on the college campus with supervised clinical experience in nearby hospitals under the guidance and supervision of college nursing faculty.

Persons interested in the program should contact the College for further information and application for the fall semester.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD W. HOMBERG

Wherley-Homberg Wed in Candlelight Ceremony

Carol Ann Wherley became the bride of Richard William Homberg in a candlelight ceremony in Grace Lutheran Church in Detroit. Pastor Victor F. Halboth performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moreland Wherley, 9045 Kinloch. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Homberg, 15157 Nola, Livonia.

The bride's gown was of tiered lace with long sleeves and a scalloped neckline. The veil was held by a crown of seed pearls and white rosebuds centered by white orchids.

Sandra Enoch, cousin of the bride was maid of honor. She wore a turquoise taffeta sheath skirt with lace bodice. Her flowers were yellow rosebuds. Diana Homberg, sister of the groom wore an identical outfit.

Ronald Homberg, brother of the groom, was best man. Marnie Homberg, cousin of the groom, seated the guests.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Wherley wore a green silk dress with ribbon lace bodice for her daughter's wedding. The groom's mother wore a blue silk with lace bodice.

Following the ceremony, 150 guests attended a reception in Roma Hall.

Following a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the bride and groom will reside in Livonia.

The bride graduated from Thurston and the groom from Bentley.

Our Queen of Hearts Cooks 'Golden Chicken'

Several knowledgeable people have patiently explained to me the facts about the pork farmer, and the economics of the farm subsidy program, and how all this is necessary to the overall well-being of the nation.

I suppose it must be, though I confess there are some subtleties in the argument that escape me totally. Whatever happened to our old friends, Supply and Demand?

I find the problem particularly incomprehensible when I am at the meat counter and the bacon costs more for a pound than a porterhouse steak does. I have a vision of the next All-American Status Symbol being a rare gourmet dish called "Bacon and Eggs."

In the meantime, we will all eat chicken. It seems to be the only reasonably priced commodity in the meat department.

Even then, you have to be careful. The chicken farmer has his impatient days too, it seems, and he sends off to market some little, scrawny chickens that are scarcely old enough to leave their mothers. You can find yourself paying for skinny birds whose meat hasn't grown up to their bones yet.

You may have to search a bit, but any chicken fit to eat should weigh more than 3 pounds, ready to cook, or you aren't getting your money's worth.

If you would rather buy chicken parts, make sure they are nice and meaty. I usually buy the whole bird, and I make soup with rice or noodles out of what my mother always called "Napoleon's Chicken, the Boney-parts."

This recipe calls for chicken legs and breasts, but a whole chicken cut into serving pieces will serve as well.

GOLDEN CHICKEN

Shake 8 chicken parts in a bag containing a mixture of ½ cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, and ½ teaspoon paprika.

Melt in a large skillet 3 tablespoons butter. Brown chicken pieces quickly, adding a little more butter, if necessary. Remove chicken from pan.

Add to the fat in the pan: 1 medium onion, chopped. Stir and saute lightly. Add 1 cup raw rice; stir until golden. Add ¼ cup raisins, 2 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley (or 2 teaspoons dried parsley), 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon sugar, 1 cup orange juice, and 1 cup of water.

Stir all this together and then place chicken pieces on top. Bake, covered, at 350 degrees, for 1 hour.

This dish is tasty and inexpensive for the family, and it also makes a pretty company meal, especially if you make it with golden raisins and serve it in an attractive skillet.

The Pork Farmer had better watch out. The housewife may just get to be so happy with chicken that she may stop buying pork products altogether.

The next thing the farmer knows, he will be out of the pork business and forgotten, and almost no one will even care!

How to Grow Sweet Peas

Many area members attended the Federated Garden Clubs District I Mid-Year Meeting held at the Women's City Club on Tuesday, Jan. 24.

Slides of the memorable "Magic of Poetry" taken during the annual Warren Jewelry Company table settings and flower arrangement exhibition last fall were shown.

Hill and Dale Garden Club presented a skit encouraging members to attend the coming State Convention of Federated Garden Clubs to be held at Boyne Highlands in June. Golfing, tennis, patio buffet, bird watching are some of the activities you may enjoy while attending the convention.

Mrs. Merle Dixon of Ann Arbor gave many helpful tips to gardeners in her lecture, "How to Be a Lady Gardener."

One interesting bit of advice was on how to grow sweet pea seeds. Before planting, soak them for three or four days in water, until they swell. The ones that don't swell, should be taken out and placed in a coffee can that is lined on the bottom with sandpaper. Shake these up vigorously and scratch the surface and re-soak them. Then you may plant them.

Warns Motorists to Learn Safe Winter Driving Habits

The season's first snowfall revealed to some area drivers their need to relearn safe winter driving habits lost during thousands of miles of carefree summer motoring, Livonia Police Chief James Jordan reported today.

"Tie-ups and minor accidents in several parts of the city weren't as serious as they might have been," the Chief said, "but I hope our next taste of winter will find us a little better prepared."

Stopping on packed snow, especially where it was polished down by skidding and spinning wheels to the smoothness of glass at the approach to intersections, was far more treacherous than some drivers anticipated, the Chief reported.

He offered the following tips provided by the International Association of Chiefs of Police for future reference:

1. Check weather reports and adjust driving schedules for reduced speed on slippery streets.

2. Allow considerably more distance between cars in traffic.

3. Equip your car with snow tires and carry reinforced tire chains for severe conditions.

4. Pump brakes when stopping to prevent wheel locking and skidding.

5. Use a brush and scraper to clear all windows as well as headlights, tail-lights and directional signals.

6. Correct immediately all defects in equipment that caused trouble or concern during yesterday's slippery going.

Atty. General Explains Rights of Officers

By Atty. General Frank J. Kelley

(This is a public service article explaining in general terms a provision of Michigan law, individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult a private attorney.)

In Michigan, as in most other states, a peace officer is authorized to request the aid of private citizens to aid him in serving process in civil or criminal cases, preserving the peace and in apprehending or securing any person for felony or breach of the peace.

Any person failing to respond to a peace officer's request for aid is guilty of a misdemeanor and is liable to punishment by a fine of not more than $100 or imprisonment for not more than 90 days.

On the other hand, a private citizen who responds to the call of one whom he knows to be a police officer is protected against suits for trespass and false arrest if he confines himself to the order and direction of the officer.

This is true even though the officer may, himself, be acting illegally and thus liable for false arrest. Likewise, a private citizen communicating any information concerning the commission of a crime to the proper officials is protected against being sued for libel or slander.

Understandably, perhaps, many citizens are reluctant to become involved. This reluctance has recently been dramatized by news articles detailing the failure of bystanders to not only come to the aid of innocent victims of crime, but of their failure to call the police as well. However, if crime is to be dealt with effectively, then we must discharge our rights and responsibilities.

Of recent date I have suggested legislation for indemnification of the victims of crime or their families in certain cases, particularly where a person has suffered as a result of coming to the aid of an officer.

I am pleased that the initial reaction to this suggestion is gaining wide acceptance. Legislation embodying my idea has already been introduced into the 1966 Legislature.

Parents Should Force Sitters to Take TB Tests

Parents who employ maids and baby sitters can make sure that the employees are free from tuberculosis by requiring proof of a test be shown at least once each year.

Officials of the Tuberculosis and Health Society, Wayne County's Christmas Seal agency, points out that it is a simple matter to get a free chest X-ray or a tuberculin test.

In Detroit free chest X-rays for persons 18 and over, may be obtained in room 333, City-County Building from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. and from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Welfare Intake Center, 3401 Lodge Expressway.

Persons under 18 are tuberculin tested. In Detroit, these tests may be obtained at the Herman Kiefer Hospital Clinic between 8:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. Parents must accompany the children.

In communities outside of Detroit the tuberculin tests may be obtained from the Wayne County Health Department TB Clinic (between 8:30 a.m. and 3 p.m.).

The tests determine whether individuals are free from active tuberculosis.

The Distaff Point of View

Jerry Wendt
Woman's Editor

BEING A MEMBER of the fourth estate has as many facets as a prism. There are the "fun" days when you attend parties and meet celebrities and there are the hours when you grind out copy one foot ahead of a relentless deadline. There are the tense times when you go to press and the managing editor paces the floor like an expectant father, and you wait for the WORD from the press floor that all is well, and there are times when you are proud of your paper and wouldn't trade jobs with anyone.

Last weekend, at the Michigan Press Convention, it was one of those wonderful times. There were stimulating workshops going on all around, other newspaper people to visit with, and best of all the Award Ceremonies. The Observer took, not one, not two, but THREE awards.

To top it all off, we came home from the banquet with a sack full of groceries! I repeat, not a cute "doggy bag," or a "tote bag" but a shopping bag full of attractive edibles.

It was a Michigan banquet honoring Michigan products and a bountiful scene met our eyes when we came into the banquet room. Our places were heaped with packages and there were even some piled on the chair. Like us, I'll bet you have never realized how much our native state contributes to the nation's tables.

There were jars of Michigan honey, representative of an industry which contributes $100 million to our state. Michigan bread, navy beans, pure sugar, and "apple jacks" cereal came next.

Mushrooms, onions, chopped beef, potatoes, apples, and celery soup and biscuit mix were also in the "loot". Sending up a savory aroma to the hungry diners were "Hickory Stick" sausages. On the dessert side there was Michigan cherry topping and Dutch apple dessert. Believe it or not, we didn't have the kitchen sink but there were two Michigan blue spruce trees (miniatures of course) at each place with a package of flower seeds. Upon unpacking each couple had a box of fragile egg-cups for serving our own soft-cooked Michigan breakfast eggs.

Michigan pickles were served with the dinner, and our new publisher, who has an amazing fund of practical knowledge recognized the county the pickles were pickled in. He informed us that "pickle picking", far from being the subject of verse, is one of the hardest jobs known to man. According to publisher Phil Power, there will shortly be a pickle-picking machine on the market that should put an end to some of the back-breaking labor performed by the pickers.

Margaret Ann Nicholas, who was born Jan. 1 in Women's Hospital, came into the world with the bonus of four grandparents, and eight great grandparents, all hale and hearty. Her grandparents are: Mr. and Mrs. Lee Shiflet, 34861 W. Six Mile, Livonia; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nicholas, 27610 MacKenzie, Garden City. Great-grandparents are: Mr. and Mrs. Carson Humphrey, 14100 Susanna, Livonia; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Shiflet, 8853 Anchor Bay Dr., Fair Haven; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Paccia, 27640 MacKenzie, Garden City; Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Nicholas, 8851 Fremont, Livonia. Best Wishes from the Observer on a continuation of this life pattern.

There is nothing like PINK this time of year to make a Spring like note in the drab weather. The Republican Womens Club Luncheon at Devon Gables last Thursday had pink snapdragons and roses on all the tables and many of the women wore soft pink. It made one forget the horrid sleet and snow which waited outside.

Her pillbox headdress was covered with Alencon lace and had bouffant shoulder length veiling. Her flowers were a cascade of white roses with a white orchid in the center.

Pat Wagner (sister of the bride) was maid of honor. Melody Cunningham, Carole Wilson (cousin) and Sandy Van Scoeder were bridesmaids.

Mich. Bell to Expand

(Continued from Page 1) service now are ordering it, and others with lower grades of service are ordering private lines. This all adds up to the heaviest burden ever placed on our facilities.

"Our 1966 program is designed not only to meet the greater demand for basic telephone service, but to give every Michigan Bell customer the type and quality of service he wants and expects from us."

John Kamego, Michigan Bell manager here, broke down Plymouth's $1,276,000 outlay as follows:

$339,000 for outside plant facilities, $194,000 for telephone equipment in homes and offices, $385,000 for central office equipment, and about $358,000 for land and buildings.

Statewide, the program includes the massive placement of nearly 10 billion conductor feet of cable—about 2 billion more than was ever before constructed in a single year. Michigan Bell will start nine new telephone buildings during the year along with 22 building additions. One of the major manual-to-dial completions will take place in Calumet where local dial service and Direct Distance Dialing will be inaugurated in May.

Three more communities — Port Huron, Mulliken and Scotts — will be tied into the Direct Distance Dialing network this year, bringing to 92 per cent the number of Michigan Bell customers able to dial their own long distance calls.

During the year, the company will continue its program of central office equipment modifications to accommodate Touch-Tone telephones, the new no-dial type which uses activate by push-buttons rather than the conventional dial.

Touch-Tone modifications are slated for five more Detroit central offices and 18 outstate areas including Calumet, Auburn Heights, Birmingham, Roseville, Flint, Grand Blanc, Escanaba, Grand Rapids, Iron Mountain, Jackson, Niles, Grand Haven, Plymouth, Pontiac, Rochester, West Bloomfield, Saginaw, and Wyandotte.

Chamber

(Continued from Page 1) every day. We allow the sale of filthy books. We allow our young people to gather in spots where the lights are low and most anything is sold.

"There are some things that are right and some things are wrong and never the twain shall meet.

"It is the duty of this Chamber of Commerce and the people sitting here to start right now to correct the things that are wrong and better those that are right.

"Now is the time to stand up and be counted. We no longer can afford to sit by and allow the things to happen that are happening all across the land. I challenge you to start now and do you share to make this a better community and thus make everything in this area better and better."

Warehouse

Inasmuch as it has considerable frontage on the C&O Railroad, it is believed to be one of the most sought sites in the area.

Although all connected with the acreage are silent on negotiations, there is a rumble in inner circles that officials of several plants, which need room for expansion, have been looking into the possibility.

So, it appears as if the anticipated industrial growth in the Township is underway. Spartan is the first on the southeastern section and one wonders who will be the first to start development in the northern area.

Mrs. Eaton Dies at 83 of Stroke

Services for Mrs. Grace Eaton, 83, 18520 W. Seven Mile Road, Detroit, were conducted in the Schrader Funeral Home in Plymouth in charge of Rev. Melbourne Johnson with burial in Riverside Mausoleum.

Mrs. Eaton, wife of the late Elton R. Eaton, and mother of the late Sterling Eaton, died Jan. 27 of a stroke after a lengthy illness.

Her son followed in the footsteps of his father as a state representative and editor and publisher of the Plymouth Mail. He maintained ownership until two years ago when ill health forced him to sell to Russell Strickland of Birmingham.

Mrs. Eaton was a member of the Order of Eastern Star, Kalamazoo Chapter; Past President of the House and Senate Club in Lansing and was a member of the Women's Club of Plymouth and Northville.

She had resided in Northville and Plymouth for years.

Tells How Firms Milk GIs

By CONGRESSMAN WES VIVIAN
Recently I received a complaint from the parents of a young man from the Second Congressional District who is now serving in the United States Army. It had to do with the solicitation of these people by out-of-state insurance companies not licensed to do business in Michigan.

I immediately started an investigation of this situation, with the Department of Defense, here in Washington. The facts uncovered in that investigation will, I believe, be of interest to many residents of our area.

I am therefore passing them along to you, with the plea that you look carefully at any insurance solicitations which you receive, particularly in the mail, purporting to offer special insurance benefits for servicemen or their parents.

Unfortunately, some states are terribly careless in their regulation—or lack thereof—of insurance companies based within their boundaries. Such lack of proper regulation, of course, encourages companies with unfortunat practices and methods to locate in these states.

Apparently Arizona is presently one of the states which, through lack of adequate regulation, is currently encouraging companies that do not meet the normally high standards of the Life Insurance Industry.

Servicemen and their parents have been receiving deceptively contrived envelopes from Arizona insurance companies, claiming to inform the addressee about "government-sponsored" life insurance. One company has carefully designed to look like an official Department of Defense envelope, marked "important business" and "New regulations for government life insurance enclosed."

Cars Flip

One railroad official said that if the train had been moving faster, "the boxcars would really have piled up at the overpass."

Detective Arthur Torikian, of the sheriff's road patrol, said that had the accident occurred two hours later, "We would have had a tragedy on our hands because of the many factory workers who use Northville Road to go home."

The rail line was completely blocked by the accident. Cranes were brought to the scene from Saginaw and Detroit to remove the wreckage.

PAID POLITICAL AD.

Why do people with hard-to-heat rooms turn to electric heat?

It's pure and simple

Electric heat is the clean, modern heat—no flame, no fumes. It's a snap to install—costs less, too—because it's more compact and needs no flue. And only electric heat is 100% efficient; the heat is created right where it's used. It's also economical. You can buy an attractive, low-operating-cost unit for as little as $35-$40 (plus thermostat and installation). And we're talking about a unit that can turn a 12' x 20' polar region into a tropical delight. Just dial the warmth you want, and you get it. Give us a call. We'll send an Edison Heating Specialist to discuss equipment, installation, and operating cost with you. No obligation, of course.

Ways Given to Curb Nuisances; Noises That Threaten the Home

There's a new bogeyman menacing the modern home. It's called sound pollution by technical-minded folk. To most people, however, it's simply labeled noise.

Studies conducted recently indicate that residential noise has become a serious problem, causing tension and fatigue in adults and children alike. Some psychologists even suspect noise as a possible cause of ulcers in children since noise produces what is known as a fear reaction.

There's not much a homeowner can do to prevent the noise that originates outside his house, but there is a good chance to correct noise-producing situations inside the home.

Most household noise is caused, unfortunately, by modern home equipment—the dishwasher, garbage disposer, range fan, washing machine, dryer, air conditioners and air cleaners, water pipes—even the furnace.

Get all these going together and add to it the exuberant sounds of children at play, the hi fi, and the weekend football game on TV, and you have produced a high enough noise level, quite literally, to drive anyone out of his mind.

When building a house, it's possible to design with sound-conditioning in mind, adding sound-deadening material to stud walls, especially in interior partitions, and positioning noisy equipment away from what should be quiet and restful rooms.

Plumbing equipment can be engineered and positioned for quiet on outside rooms rather than against room partitions. Equipment like dishwashers and disposers can be installed in such a manner that vibration is lessened or eliminated—and the worst noise with it. The open plan can be eschewed in favor of a floor plan that puts a good, solid wall between rooms.

In an existing home, several things are possible. First seal off rooms with solid doors that fit snugly, adding a flap of weather-stripping at the bottom, if necessary, to make the sound-seal effective.

In bedrooms, arrange closets on connecting walls so that clothing will form a sound barrier from one room to another. Use louvered closet doors; they reduce sound transmission.

Carpet floors wherever possible, especially hallways, stair treads and upstairs rooms, and use draperies in noisy areas like family room and kitchen to help absorb sound.

Books also do a fine job of absorbing and breaking up sound waves. If kitchen and living room back up to each other, make that connecting wall a book wall, floor to ceiling if possible.

Use textured materials for wall treatments in the quiet zone—living room, dining room, library and bedrooms. A current favorite is rough-sawn lumber paneling in the western woods like Douglas fir, western red cedar, ponderosa and sugar pine.

Such wall treatments are elegant, relatively low in cost, and hard-wearing. Some architects also recommend use of bevel siding boards, installed vertically, for wall treatments since the pattern helps to break up sound waves.

Install lumber paneling over existing walls, if possible, to gain another layer of thickness that will increase the wall's effectiveness as a sound barrier between rooms.

How to Extend Life Of A Garbage Can

Overloading is the chief cause for the poor condition of so many garbage cans in home use. That's the opinion of health officials and refuse-removal experts who contend that the useful life of a galvanized steel garbage can could be extended by almost 50 per cent if it were not abused through overloading.

Excessive and consistent overloading of a garbage can does not damage the can in itself. However, when you force 30 gallons of trash into a 20-gallon can, the refuse collector has to bang the can against the truck in order to loosen tightly packed garbage.

Eventually, the cover or the can itself is bent and it becomes exceedingly difficult to keep the cover in place.

When you no longer are able to use the cover, the garbage can is virtually useless. Health officers recommend strongly that all garbage and refuse be stored in galvanized steel cans which are both rust-proof and rodent-proof. However, the health officers point out, the cans must be equipped with close-fitting covers and kept covered at all times.

A cover-less garbage container has no sanitary value. It can still be used for the storage of paper or non-food items, but not for anything that has had contact with food. The presence of food tins, bottles and wrappers in an uncovered refuse container is certain to attract flies and rats and to threaten the health and well-being of the residents in the area.

Meter Aids In Saving City Water

A small bronze instrument in nearly every home is playing a major role in water conservation — a current topic on the parched lips of nearly every American.

It's the water meter, a device to which no one consciously gives much thought, until perhaps the meter reader comes around or a city water bill is received. However, meters have proved to be substantial water conservers, a fact especially noticed in those areas such as the Northeast, which is in its fourth year of drought.

"It has been estimated that metered cities average a 30 per cent water saving," William C. Flanders, president of Gamon-Calmet Meter division of Worthington Corporation, points out.

"Meters, besides being an equitable means of allocating a city's water costs, subconsciously make people save water. Faucets are not left open, leaky faucets are repaired and the lawn sprinkler is not left running all day," said Flanders, a 40-year veteran of the water industry.

Also checks by meter readers can quickly point out unnoticed leaks in pipes and mains which can waste large amounts of water if unchecked. For example, a leak through just a 1/8 inch hole under 40 pounds of pressure amounts to a water loss of 3600 gallons a day.

"Conservation of water is probably the greatest single achievement of the meter industry," he added.

Manuel On Rust Available

When Old Man Rust gets the upper hand, the result can strike at the pocketbook, according to a survey of realty firms just released by the Rust-Oleum Corporation.

The report indicates that the average home may suffer as much as a seven per cent lower resale price where unsightly rust has gone to work.

Chief targets in the nine point rust attack on the home are gutters and downspouts, porch railing, steel sash, metal fences, patio furniture, pipes and fittings, air conditioners, children's swing sets, and outdoor light fixtures.

Now is the time to undo damage by stopping rust, the company advises.

A complete how-to-do-it manual "101 Rust-Stopping Tips," is available free of charge from the Rust-Oleum Corporation, 2799 Oakton Street, Evanston, Illinois.

Pastor Explains Church's Role

By JERRY WENDT

"The Lutheran Church has, by its apathy, sanctioned segregation and dissension." This forthright statement comes, surprisingly enough, not from a critic of the Lutheran religion but from one of its foremost pastors, Rev. Ronald Starenko, pastor of Faith Lutheran Church and School, 30000 Five Mile Rd., Livonia.

Rev. Starenko is one of the most successful Lutheran pastors. The growth of his church in the last five years has been symbolic of the growth of the entire church. This rise of the Lutheran Church in the last twenty years has been thought-provoking. The Observer decided to interview Rev. Starenko, and ask why the Lutheran Church had flourished in an age of free-living and free-thinking, when the Church has steadfastly maintained its standards.

Of all religions, the Lutheran is one of the most formal, and considered one of the most strict. Why have large numbers of young people then flocked to this church while proclaiming that they want to live a life free of all restrictions?

An intense, thoughtful, man Rev. Starenko feels that despite their statements the young people are seeking order in an age of rootlessness. "The Lutheran Church is not tied to any specific culture or century," he said. "Therefore it is able to adapt itself to any age."

"It also holds to the basic doctrine of Christianity," he continued. "It does not become part of cult movements, it offers no false security. Basically the Lutheran Church came into being for the sake of the Gospel. It attempts to show the joy of service and to make the church active in love."

He feels any differences between the Lutheran churches are mythical and that they have the common goal of helping people to discover what it means to follow Christ.

Rev. Starenko served as a chaplain in the service and became closely acquainted with young people and their problems. The church has become more relaxed in its attitude toward young people and there are dances (which were once frowned upon) and many activities for its Youth Group (the Walther League).

"Where injustice is involved, it is the duty of the Church to speak," he said. "The Church must function for all men."

If Rev. Starenko, is any spokesman, his Church will soon take its stand in the integration issue.

SEATED AT HIS DESK, Rev. Ronald C. Starenko, Pastor of Faith Lutheran Church and School ponders the role of the Lutheran Church in the integration issue.

Request Help of Area Districts Livonia Schools Seek State Aid Following Millage Defeat

What to do about Livonia School District's future financial problems is uncertain, following the sound defeat of millage proposals recently school board members and concerned citizens are not sitting by idly wringing their hands.

After the Jan. 19 election, which saw taxpayers turn down a nine-mill increase of operating millage, by 3 to 1, and the borrowing of nine million dollar for a fourth high school and school equipment, 2 to 1, the board has been analyzing what happened and what to do now.

Financial aid on the state level has been assuming more and more importance in the eyes of district officials.

Mrs. Strela Schreiber, board president and School Supt. Ben Yates have met with legislators to express the board's views.

Wheels have already started turning.

The board delved into the subject after meeting with State Representative Marvin Stempfen of Livonia.

Letters have been written to other legislators and neighboring school district associations enlisting their support in the fight to obtain more assistance from the State.

An immediate step taken by the board was to ask the administrative staff to prepare a budget based on the present income.

"Even this will leave us $1,500,000 short," said Assistant Superintendent Rolland H. Upton, "if we just keep the staff we now have and increase class loads."

Trustee Dominick Taddonio said his computations showed need for an additional $3,600,000 in the next three years just for teachers' salaries.

Discussions at board meetings have centered on reasons why the "nine-plus-nine" vote failed but the threat of insufficient time to communicate the need was woven into the ideas presented.

Lynn Gilmore, executive secretary of the Livonia Education Association said, "I'm thoroughly convinced the public didn't understand the vote."

Repercussions are apparently felt from the manner in which the school board handled a salary increase last fall for Yates.

Both Mrs. Schreiber and Dr. A. Edward Katz, board secretary, have assumed responsibility for not having the $25,000 figure announced publicly at the time the action was taken, to take effect in July.

"There was no intent on the part of this board to hide the figure," Mrs. Schreiber said. "It was published in our official minutes."

Referring to the quality of education offered by the local district, which includes Livonia and portions of north Nankin Township, Trustee Lonnie Brashear noted, "People want the type of education we offer but are reluctant to pay the bill; some are unable to do so perhaps."

"It will be necessary to come back to voters for millage and permission to borrow."

Taddonio said the board had tried to avoid threatening the public and added, "Many citizens did not know the consequences. Perhaps we should tell them this."

William H. Craft, vice-president, indicated he thought some organized opposition had urged defeat of the two proposals.

"I've talked to people who received four or five phone calls saying vote 'no', he commented. "I don't believe it was an informed vote — voters were not sold on the need."

U-M Grads Sought By Top Companies

ANN ARBOR—Demand—the best tribute a quality product can receive—continues high for degree recipients from The University of Michigan Graduate School of Business Administration.

At Michigan, visits from business and industry recruiters usually outnumber the available graduates.

During the past academic year more than 300 top companies sent recruiters to the Business School. They scheduled more than 450 visits during the placement program in which 264 of the school's 343 candidates for the master of business administration (MBA) degree took part, as did 60 of the 172 candidates for the bachelor of business administration (BBA) degree.

Starting salaries for MBA graduates ranged as high as $1350 per month, with the median at $700.

Salaries for BBA candidates ranged up to $725 per month, with median at $590.

A. S. Hann, director of placement activities for the U-M Business School, compiled these figures. He said the most active recruitment during the year took place in the fields of accounting, banking, corporate finance, marketing, actuarial science, and quantitative methods.

Demand tends to far outrun the supply of graduates in these areas, he added.

Hann said that an estimated 150 companies are expected to recruit Business School students this year, indicating no decline from last year's record levels in terms of numbers of companies, number of interviews, students participating, job placements, and salaries offered.

"It is too early to judge the salary picture accurately, but it is safe to guess that they will range three to four per cent over last year," Hann asserted.

He noted another trend toward increased numbers of MBA candidates: "The MBA degree is highly attractive to students now. Business is attaching increasing importance to the advanced degree—in some cases to the degree that companies will note good people while they are still undergraduates and trace their progress through graduate school."

Hann said that less than half of the BBA candidates at Michigan register for placement. A majority of them continue their education, mainly at the U-M, until they earn MBA degrees.

Last year the figure was 77 per cent. This year it may reach 85 per cent, he said.

The placement office made a study of factors determining job selection by the school's graduates. At the top of the list for both MBA and BBA candidates was "type of work," while "opportunity for future growth" ranked second.

MBA candidates put "salary level" in third place, followed by "my type of people" and "location" rated equally, "type of industry," size of company, and "possibility of draft deferment."

BBA candidates ranked "location" third, possibly due to desire to continue schooling at a nearby university, followed by "my type of people," "type of industry," salary level," "size of company," and possibility of draft deferment."

Drake Garrett, sophomore halfback on the Michigan State football team won All-Ohio honors as a senior for Dayton, O., Dunbar High in 1963.

Tigers Find AL Expansion Has Helped

After five years, what has American League expansion meant to the Tigers?

In the won-and-lost column, it has meant 57 victories with 33 losses against California and a 55-35 mark against Washington, the teams which were new five years ago.

However, the Tigers have won more games—61, against 29 losses—from Kansas City, an earlier transplant from Philadelphia, and they have a 1961-65 record of 50-30 against the venerable Boston Red Sox.

Against the rest of the league during the five-year expansion era, the Tigers stand 44-46 with Baltimore, Chicago and Cleveland; 43-47 with Minnesota; and 4-43 with New York.

The Tigers have never lost a series to the two expansion teams, California and Washington, nor have they lost one to Kansas City since 1961. Washington, however, gained a split in 1963.

Since 1961, the Tigers have lost only one season series to Boston (1962), but they have won only one each from Chicago, Baltimore, Cleveland and New York. Of the total of 45 season series with their nine opponents in five seasons, the Tigers have won 23, lost 16 and split six.

PLANS OPEN HOUSE SUNDAY Madonna College Sets High School Program

COLLEGE DAY at Madonna College in Livonia will be held for juniors and senior high school girls on Sunday, Feb. 6 from 1:30 to 4 p.m. This will give young ladies an opportunity to acquaint themselves with the campus and the facilities of the college.

Student guides will accompany the visitors on a tour of the new two story library residence halls, student center, and academic building, all completed in 1965.

Visitors will have a chance to see and inspect the academic, administrative and laboratory areas, the music, home economic, art, science, journalism, educational, and language departments.

In the residence hall they will see the lounges, private and double dorm rooms, the cafeteria and dining halls, the circular snack bar, the shampoo room, the laundry facilities, the Danish Modern reception room, the patios and terraces—all attractive living features for the resident and commuter.

Guest speaker, Mrs. John Shada will point out the importance of education for the woman of today, and the role she must play in the world, in her speech, entitled, "The Wonderful World of Women."

Besides being a busy wife and mother of eight children, Mrs. Shada is a member of the Continuing Education Department at Oakland University and a member of the Round Table of Christians and Jews.

Previously, she taught at Presentation Junior College before that became Madonna College. She received her master degree in English and speech from the University of Detroit.

Livonia Has International Day Friday

International Day, the first at any Livonia high school, will be held on Feb. 4 at Franklin High School. The American Field Service school chapter is in charge of arrangements. About 20 foreign exchange students from 15 surrounding high schools have been invited as special guests. The program will start at 10:00 a.m. Special displays have been set up and the focal point is the collection of flags of all the United Nations countries.

Beginning at 4:30 p.m., the adult chapter of the American Field Service will sponsor a pancake supper at the school cafeteria. The purpose of the supper is two-fold, one to introduce the foreign students to the public and the other to raise funds to continue the exchange program of the AFS. Supper is 75 cents per person and will end at 7:00 p.m.

A basketball game between Franklin and Oak Park, which begins at 6:30 p.m., will end the day's activities.

St. Agatha Freshmen Electing Class Leaders

By Mary Lou Mangold
Junior Edward Gillis has been invited to apply for the Tellurite summer scholarship program. The grant includes tuition, books, and room and board at Princeton, Hampton, and Cornell Universities.

The freshman class is in the midst of election of class officers for the coming semester. President is Charles Costello, and vice-president is Michael Brown.

The secretary, treasurer, and social chairman have not been chosen, but the following candidates have been nominated: Patricia Schlee, Wanda Smith, Gerald Miron, Colleen Cooney, Martin Wellico, and Judy Stonik.

St. Agatha students are taking mid-term examinations this week. There is one advantage to exam week, however; school days are shorter. Students are required to report to school only for morning Mass and during the periods in which they have an exam scheduled.

St. Agatha's has acquired a new teacher, Miss Mary Cusick, from the University of Detroit. She will take over the physics, earth science, and geometry classes.

The Sodality has begun preparations for the Annual King and Queen of Hearts Dance. At the regular meeting last Thursday, committee chairmen were selected and ideas aired. Committee chairmen are: Decorations, Pamela Kovarik, Susan Behrend, Mary Lou Mangold; Refreshments, Lynda Wilkerson; Entertainment, Judy Gonyou and Sharon Brazzil; Publicity, Ruth Brown; Invitations, Janet Parent and Karen Sklut; Co-ordinators, Donna Baker and Davidina Dow.

Known as the King and Queen, Sweetheart, or Valentine's Day dance, it is considered the biggest schoolwide social event of the year and is always scheduled for the Friday nearest Valentine's Day. This year it falls on Thursday, February 18.

One tradition will be changed. Previously, each class would elect a king and a queen candidate and support their choice by raising money through enterprises like candy sales, and parties.

But this year there will be no money votes. Instead, each class's candidates will be on the court. The king and queen will be seniors (the seniors always win in the past, anyway) elected by the entire school from the six candidates chosen by the senior class. Voting will take place the week before the

Bentley Faculty Defeats Seniors

By SUE DOWELL
The Seniors did it again! They played a terrific game against the faculty. This year's Senior-Faculty game was a fight to the finish. Both teams battled it out neck and neck to the last second. It was surprising that the seniors didn't come out on top. But losing by only two baskets wasn't far from their goal.

When you match up seniors like Mike Degutis, Roch Wheeler, Jack Horbaniuk, Dennis Burry, Jack Wilson and Brian Lucas against teachers such as Henry Cannon, Charge 'em Garvey, Randolph Webster, "Bear" Timmons, Ray Foster, and Kenneth Knipschild you come up with a challenging basketball game.

No game is complete without cheerleaders. Even the Senior-Faculty game had its own squad to lead the crowd in cheers. The boys who did a swell job of getting the crowd to yell are: Nick Bonard, Bob Musial, Horace Blankenship, Bob Carlson, Jack Nickels and Scott Reed. Before the game, the senior dance. Members of the Future Teachers' Association observed and reported on classes in the grade school this week. Some of their duties lately are correcting the children's assignments, and acting as substitute teachers if a grade school teacher is absent.

The Genesien Club has scheduled the school eliminations for the Genesien Interpretive Festival for Feb. 16. Students selected by their English teachers will be invited to try out. The winners will present their selections at a school festival on Feb. 22.

The Genesien Festival is Sunday, Feb. 27.

girls and some of the female faculty started off the evening with a game of volleyball. The game was full of fun and excitement.

Masters of ceremonies for the evening who filled spectators in on what all was going on were Gary Faulkes and Danny Sommerman.

Only three days have gone by of the new semester. This means that students still have a long time to bring up their averages. All pupils who are not satisfied with their new schedules and have some good reason for having them changed should notify their counselors immediately.

The semester vacation proved to be eventful for the Concert Choir. Last Thursday the choir took a ski trip to Mount Holly.

No school is complete without pennants. Thanks to The Historical Club, Bentley too has pennants. They are every bit worth their 50 cents. They are green and white. With a green background the pennant consists of the head of a white bulldog.

The letters B-E-N-T-L-E-Y are printed out in white. These spirit symbols can be seen and most of Bentley's athletic games waving high in the air. Be sure to purchase yours during lunch on the day of a game.

Farmington's February A Busy Month

By Madge Hildebrandt
February is a busy month for many Farmington Senior High students. Brotherhood Week, sponsored by the Exchange Club, is the highlight of the month's activities.

The annual exchange program begins Feb. 21. American students from high schools in the area who went abroad last summer will attend classes at FHS and relate their experiences in various foreign countries. Teens who took part in the American Field Service or the Michigan Council of Churches' Youth for Understanding programs will be present.

Foreign students who are spending the school year in Michigan will visit FHS Friday, Feb. 25. They will be staying from Thursday evening until Saturday afternoon in the homes of Exchange Club members. Friday evening the guests will attend a home basketball game and the dance which follows. The day's festivities will be completed with a party held by some of the members.

Saturday, the students will go tobogganing, weather permitting. If the snow is absent, there will be a recreation time held in the FHS gym. Mats, volleyball nets, parallel bars and other gym equipment will be available for the students' use.

Exchange Club President Paula Norman said, "There will be approximately 30 foreign students visiting on Friday. But there will be about twice that number of American students earlier in the week."

The FHS band, under the direction of Robert Zimmerman, will hold its annual winter concert this month. The title of the program is "Carousel" and will feature, among other selections, music from that hit musical. Band members will be selling student, family, and adult tickets.

Clarenceville Journalism Class Sponsors Directory

By TONY HEAD
Something new will be introduced to Clarenceville High School soon. It is a Student Directory for the pleasure and convenience of the students.

Sponsored by the Journalism Club, this directory will contain names, phone numbers and address of all the students. There is a slight charge for entry of a student's name.

Due to exams and semester change-over during the past week, school activities have been dormant as of late. Minor sports, however, have had quite a busy time. The Clarenceville gymnastic team defeated Chipewa Valley High School 84-42 there.

Clarenceville took six first places. Top scorers were Charlie Morse, Jim McCammon, Barry Ferchette, Rick Fredrick, Tom Webber and Tom Stanton. On Thursday, January 27, the Wrestling Team overwhelmed South Lyons 37-11, here. Three boys pinned opponents. They were Wayne Bailey, Dave Kaipio, and Jerry Litwin.

Jerry Litwin set a record of 12 seconds in pinning his opponent, breaking his own mark of 19 seconds. Three on the team are undefeated for the year. They are Ray Wehner, Wayne Bailey and Don Yitalo. On January 27, Clarenceville's swimming team lost to Garden City in the second meet of the year. Clarenceville took first place in the 400 yard relay, the 200 yard relay and the 100 yard breast stroke.

Now that the semester has ended, report cards will be given out. These cards will not only have the recent six weeks grade but also the grades for semester exams and the final semester grade. Cards will be given out on Wednesday, Feb. 3.

Lynne Marano Wins Betty Crocker Award

By Sheila O'Brien
Lynne Marano, '66, is a Ladywood's 1966 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow. She scored highest in a written examination taken by the seniors for December and is now eligible for state and national scholarship awards.

Lynne is president of the drama club and a member of the Student Council. Among Lynne's scholastic endeavors is an honors English course at Madonna College each Saturday in addition to her high school subjects.

Lynne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orland Marano, 29916 Greenland, of Livonia. Firefighters Kept Busy
The Nankin Fire Department answered a total of 1067 alarms last year compared to 902 in 1964. Total fires in Nankin last year was 549, a reduction of 66 from 1964.

Thurston Debators Finish Season

By Lynn Barnett
Popcorn was sold by the Pep Club at the basketball game against Franklin in Thurston's gym Jan. 21. Dick Touchette, chairman of the Pep Club, assisted by Chuck Nole, member, sold the popcorn and $30 was earned for the treasury.

The debate season came to an end last week. The team was one short of wins to be in the regional.

Members of the Ski Club participated on ski trips to Mt. Holly on Tuesday, Jan. 25 and Thursday, Jan. 27.

On Thursday, Feb. 3 members will ski at Mt. Christie. An assembly given by the Ski Club will be presented to all Thurston students and teachers Feb. 9.

Students wishing to have an American Field Service exchange student living at their home next school year have been requested to turn in their applications. In 1966-67 Thurston will have two exchange students. This is possible because of the large amount of students that helped on the Canister Drive.

A mixer was held after the basketball game against John Glenn last Friday. All John Glenn students were invited to attend. The "Untamed" provided the music.

Congratulations are due to the girls that participated in the League Sports Day. The girls came in second in volleyball.

N. F. Students Complete Exams

by Debbie Lusky
Exams are finally over, and sighs of relief are audible in the halls of N.F. Report cards will be issued this Friday.

On Jan. 28, the senior class sponsored a successful dime game following the basketball game with Franklin. Students from both schools were invited to attend, and a local band provided the music.

The gymnastics team gave a fine display of their skills at a home meet with Ann Arbor on Jan. 29.

Plans are being made for the Y-Teen's annual Sadie Hawkins Dance. Girls ask the boys, and everyone is asked to dress in typical Dogpatch fashion. The dance will be held in the Gym from 8 to 11 p.m. on Feb. 12. This will be a big weekend for sports at N.F. On Friday, Feb. 4, there is a basketball game at John Glenn and also a home wrestling meet. The Raiders will challenge Big Brother Farmington High in a game at Farmington Saturday night. The gymnastics team travels to Ionia that evening.

A meeting of the Northwest Suburban League Student Councils will be held at 7 p.m. on Feb. 9.

Both the Senior Class and the Art Club are making plans for sleigh rides in the near future. Several North Farmington students have entered works of art in a national student art show in New York.

Top individual single-game rushing effort in the Wayne State University record books is the 228-yard performance by Vic Zucco vs. Washington (Mo.) in 1953.

Ladywood Dramatists Get Applause

By Pat Giacabozzi
Freshmen drama members received a round of applause on Jan. 20 and 21, for their outstanding performance in the "Pantomime Festival."

This was the first project of the dramatists. The purpose was "to show the freshman talent."

Fran Asztalos, with her song "Old Man Higgins," was said to have been the best performer. Many students commented that she was very good, but that Colleen Kelly with her song "I'm Five," was also very well done.

Tryouts have been held for the annual play. The cast for this year's production, "Pride and Prejudice," will be announced soon.

Ladywood's annual Father-Daughter Breakfast was held Jan. 23. Rev. James Sheehan was the speaker. He is the head of the Archdiocesan Human Relations Commission, and this was the topic of his speech.

It's Our 26th Birthday

IT'S ONLY A PAPER CAKE BUT WE LOVE SHARING IT WITH YOU.

Observing the Scene...

By MYRA CHANDLER

Twenty-Six. If you are a carpet you need replacing, if you are a dog you are old, if you are a person you are young, but if you are a newspaper you are reflective.

Looking back through 26 years of bound editions of a newspaper tell an amazing story. The dreams, hopes, ideas of the citizens of the community are all reflected. Those dashed dreams could make the eyes of some smart.

The paper had those, too. A community college for Redford Township; a sinking fund for building Livonia's ninth junior high school; more park area for all communities; to name a few.

There are the victories. The formation of Schoolcraft College to serve Plymouth, Garden City, Nankin and Livonia in our areas is one happy plus.

And then there is the future. We have on our lists of items to accomplish—needed traffic lights, widened highways, an expressway to serve our areas; a new way to finance quality education—to name a few.

Another issue that is delicate and controversial, but important, was one Paul Chandler was toying with when he was State Representative. He was investigating introducing a bill in the Legislature in an effort to curb juvenile delinquency.

There is a bulging file of correspondence with Judge James Lincoln and others, several columns he had written indicating the need for drastic action.

The issue is now an unwritten law among newspapers. Unless a juvenile murders someone their names are not printed in the newspaper.

I personally do not believe in this. Of course, circumstances always enter the scene, however, when a youth or gang of kids destroy a classroom, run off with a car, steal from a store, I think their names should be published.

Not all, but many parents of these kids aren't as concerned with the crime their kid was responsible for as they are at his being caught and exposed. This is a sad fact.

Juvenile delinquency (an overworked word, I agree) is on the increase pretty nearly everywhere in America.

Do you know the latest figures show it is declining in Montana?

Several years ago Montana scrapped its juvenile courts and insisted upon dealing with all offenders, regardless of age, in open court.

Their names, addresses, crimes, parents are all completely reported in the newspapers. The publicity has proven a genuine deterrent to crime.

Felony cases in Montana are down 49%, traffic cases 75%.

Judge Lester Loble, who introduced the "treatment like adults" says, "The system is effective because we lecture offenders and their parents in open court so that their cases can be fully reported. It passes responsibility on to the parents. They can no longer hide behind the anonymous charges which used to go on the record in the juvenile court."

Governor George Romney is pushing legislation to encourage this treatment of youth in traffic cases only.

I would like to see an in-depth study made of Montana's laws on the subject, by our Michigan legislators. Maybe a newspaper goal for 1966.

Incidentals Are Serious

Conditions are normal under the Lansing dome as executives and legislators have adjusted their compasses and are off on a hike in different directions. The present hikes involve traffic safety and the rights of the driver.

Gov. George Romney has launched an all-out drive to reduce traffic fatalities, a launching made timely by an attempt of two Detroit Democrats to pass legislation protecting the privacy of bad drivers. Reps. Edward Michalski and James Del Rio must share the Governors' concern for the rise in traffic fatalities but their privacy bill would only reduce the effort of Romney's bills, providing both pass.

The Representatives feel a drivers' record should not be made public record but should be used only by the Department of State, law enforcement agencies and the driver or his attorney. The argument is that drivers may collect 12 points on their records for incidentals and still be a good driver. It is poor defense because far too many fatalities are caused by incidentals.

By removing driving records from public record, you also remove a stern warning to motorists of punishment given to drivers who continually disregard the law, be it a minor violation or not. The Observer prints names of drivers whose licenses have been revoked or suspended to remind our readers that adherence to all traffic rules make for greater safety. We feel this continual reminder of the punishment meted out to traffic violators is helpful, but apparently some don't.

This hoped for privacy would also make it more difficult for insurance companies to keep track of habitual traffic violators, thus reducing the effect of the uninsured motorists act. Purpose, of that act was to keep bad drivers off the road by making it inconvenient for uninsured motorists to get license plates.

If insurance companies are not allowed to inspect their clients driving record, policies will be issued to bad drivers and purpose of the act will be defeated. From a practical viewpoint, denying insurance companies the right to inspect records will only increase insurance rates already on the rise.

A curious rider to the privacy bill is a proposal to eliminate faulty equipment as an offense under the point system. This will counteract any affect the proposed compulsory vehicle inspection bill might have. Why spend money to inspect cars if a driver can drive a faulty vehicle without points being added to his record?

Courts have waived the right of privacy when public safety and welfare are concerned. Legislators should do the same.

EMORY DANIELS

Change Due For Young Drivers

Recently I announced sweeping new recommendations for the state to accept responsibility for treatment of all law-breakers under age 21 who are committed by probate and circuit courts.

These proposals mark a historic new departure in the state provision of effective, flexible, and equitable programs for treating and rehabilitating youth from age 15 to 21. These major steps would not have been possible without the great amount of hard, imaginative planning and action which has been undertaken by state agencies over the past few years.

I will recommend amendments so that the Department of Social Services can and shall accept all juveniles (under age 17) committed to it. State facilities and services will not be just "finishing schools" for selected so-called "nice" delinquents. The Social Services Department has been operating under this policy since last year, but we must make sure it has proper legal authority to carry out this mandate.

Also, I will seek new "Alternative Sentencing of Minors" law, which will give Circuit Judges the option of handling 17-21-year-olds in civil "youthful offender" proceedings. Under present law, only criminal proceedings are available for handling these older minors.

Under my proposal, 17-21-year-olds whom Circuit Judges choose to handle in civil proceedings would be committed to the Department of Corrections, which would place them in specifically designated "youthful offender" facilities.

The Corrections Department's "youthful offender" facilities would also be able to accept transfers of appropriate juvenile cases from the Department of Social Services. The facilities would also be available for the treatment of certain juveniles who had been tried under alternative sentencing procedures in Circuit Court after waiver from Probate Court. In no case would minors be mingled with adult criminals.

The Corrections Department now has adequate facilities which it can designate at present for "youthful offenders," but additional facilities may be needed in the future.

I have urged that Probate Court commitments of juveniles (under age 17) should be made to the Department of Social Services, rather than to specific institutions under its jurisdiction, as is now the case. In this way, there will be no artificial barriers to utilizing the total resources of the Department for rehabilitating committed youngsters. The Department of Mental Health will also assist with facilities and programs.

GOV. GEORGE ROMNEY

Help Wanted

A vacancy on the Plymouth draft board, which serves northwest Wayne County, has been unfilled for a year and a civic-minded citizen is being sought to round out the five-man board.

Here is a good opportunity for a true citizen, willing to serve without compensation, to step forward to serve in a position so important to this nation.

Anyone interested, provided he is not a serviceman, may submit his application.

This is a job whose only reward is one of public service and every volunteer who steps forward deserves to have his name on the roll of honor.

School Information Needed Before Emergencies

I want to comment on your two recent editorials of 1/12/66 and 1/19/66. I realize it is your policy to state your views and at the same time influence the voters if possible. While I differ in some respects with your views I respect your opinions.

On the one hand you seem to condemn the voters for having modern conveniences, while on the other hand you claim there are no frills in our schools.

I wouldn't want to go back to the era of Grandma and Grandpa, but I think you will admit they received a pretty fair education. Granting that times have changed I still believe the extravagance of modern living should be confined to the home, where we know exactly what it cost and how hard we had to work to achieve possession of it.

We all do not live in splendorous homes, so why such magnificent schools? Does this ultra modern equipment and beautiful lounges, etc. guarantee a better education?

These are a few of the frills that I assume the voters do not want to pay for, and for this I can't blame them. I am one of the many senior citizens you refer to in your editorial, and I for one am not complaining only in retrospect as mentioned, for which I think I have a perfect right. I attended meetings about this millage issue and the school board members were unable to brain wash me at all.

I explained my views on their lack of communication with the voters but they still seem to feel they alone have all the answers. Why is it the voters are only entitled to information when an emergency has been created? Didn't they see this emergency coming and why were we not advised and asked for suggestions to help avoid a crisis?

I sincerely believe the school board is comprised of outstanding and dedicated members, but, after all they can't be expected to know all the answers, and I personally don't like to be called on at the last minute, when they claim more money is the only answer, and I feel a large segment of the voters feel the same way.

There are, I believe, ways and means of avoiding such embarrassment, but space in your paper I know is limited, however I would be glad to elaborate on this matter, at any time.

Incidentally when we expect an "ACTION LINE," in your fine paper?

C. M. MCINTYRE

Editor's Note: Would like to see you, Mr. McIntyre, volunteer for the citizen's group presently making an in-depth study of school needs. If interested call Mrs. Connie Hierta, GA 2-8711. Action Line is great—it belongs in the "wish we thought of it" file.

For Parking Plan

I own a Plymouth Road business, Livonia Penthouse, between Farmington and Merriman. I want to go on record as concurring completely with Myra Chandler's article on improving the parking on Plymouth Road.

I am sure this would improve the business climate of the entire business complex from Wonderland to Sheldon Center. Please know I appreciate the work and study the Livonia Planning Commission has made on behalf of the merchants on Plymouth Road. Keep up the good work.

HUGH GEDRICH
Livonia Penthouse

Our Readers Speak Up Wants Answer To Brookdale

Editor: Just how bad things are at Brookdale Cemetery in Livonia is not yet known. This cemetery has been described as a clay, weed-laden, swampland site where unsightly daisies adorn graves of loved ones. This is so right!

Water stands much of the time on the graves because of NO DRAINAGE. Workmen have admitted that formaldehyde rises to the top of the ground and mixes with the standing water. Since it has been stated at the Senate committee hearings, that some graves are only eight inches deep, I can readily believe this to be the truth.

Complaints have been made to the city of Livonia, for years about this disgrace to humanity and yet not one single thing has been done. This shameful health hazard remains! Violations of city ordinances are ignored. No effort has been made to have them corrected.

Why has our Mayor of Livonia remained so unconcerned about a situation that blackens the name of our city? Why has the officials that our votes placed in office ignored this unhealthy situation that remains in our city today? HAVE I PUT MY TRUST IN THE WRONG PEOPLE?

I would like to have this printed in your paper. It's time someone expressed their opinions regarding this matter, or are you also unconcerned?

MRS. MONAHAN

Ed. Note: If Mrs. Monahan were a regular reader of The Observer she would know of our concern that has been expressed in pictures, editorials, new stories, in-depth reports, a total of 380 inches over the past year. The status at the present Mrs. Monahan, the entire area has been purchased by reputable business men—in the due course of events it will probably be a high rise dwelling, a park, subdivision or shopping complex. The City has no jurisdiction over the legal aspect. It is under the State Court.

Candidate for Supervisor Expands SOME VERY INTERESTING FACTS

Your readers and yourself may be interested in the facts listed below:

1—Robert G. Adams, the Water Department Auditor, has been paid $5,813.75 in auditor's fees from this one department in 1965! The General Fund auditor fees for the last fiscal year were only $3,321.50! This is of course, a different auditing firm. The General Fund includes all other departments and expenditures and income handled by the Township—not just one department.

2—Three recent appointees, a Park Commissioner, a Constable and a member of the Board of Review, are also recipients of Township Water Department Funds in return for "services rendered." This is not only questionable, but very, very unethical!

3—The administrative costs and the renovation costs of the "Water Department Building" is up to around $30,000 and climbing! The initial cost came to $310,000.

4—We still remember the vicious attack the local Republicans launched against the Manning Administration for using the legal firm of Kasoff and Young, because they were not "local people." Kasoff and Young, who specialize in municipal government law, were strictly on a retainer and the only time they charged any additional fees were if a case went to court. Mr. Kohler, the present Township Attorney, receives a retainer and still charges for almost every service he renders. The firm of Kasoff and Young are still called in on numerous occasions to represent the Township in legal actions. This certainly raises some questions as to Mr. Kohler's ability in the field of municipal government law. He is probably a better Republican than he is a lawyer!

We in Redford Township had better wake up and get a more even representation of both political parties on the Township Board. Without a division on the board, we can only learn the facts after they have happened. As for me, I stated after the last election that I felt it was my duty to keep the more than 11,000 people who voted for me for Supervisor, aware of what went on in Town Hall. This I have tried to do. It would be much better for the people if we could stop these things before they happen, rather than to report them to you after they have happened.

Concerned About Tax

It seems as though everyone hopes to find an answer to Livonia's problem of providing good education when the taxpayers vote a tax increase but the Board of Education is still looking for a solution and I believe they mentioned "going back to the polls" again. To begin with I wish there was some way that when we vote down a tax increase the board should not be able to bring it up again for at least a year. It seems to me we spend an awful lot of money on elections.

I wonder (as a parent) why junior and senior high students need to be bussed. We live near Merriman and Lyndon and I see no reason why our children shouldn't walk or ride their bikes to Frost Junior High School. We have physical education programs and expenses pushed down our throats til I'm awfully sick of it but we won't even let our children out in the fresh air twice a day. I realize there are some who will have to be bussed but if a student lives two miles or closer to school he should certainly be able to walk. (My children will be carrying musical instruments too, so I know about that). I would rather give our good teachers a pay raise, get rid of the poor teachers and be picky about who we hire after this.

Instead of a new high school (and I think the Board should remember we did vote this down), why not put the students on half day schedules and give them more homework. It seems as though we are scared to death we will make our teenagers unhappy if we expect them to assume some responsibility for their own education.

We are one family and there were several thousand others as evidenced at the polls, who feel we just cannot afford another tax increase. Our money does not go for beer and cigarettes as one writer thought it might, it goes for basic living expenses for our family. We can't afford it and we have an income, I think we have a responsibility to retired people as well as to our children. We will do all we can to see that our children get a good education but if it means putting taxes so high we can't even afford to live here I don't think we have attained our goal.

Waiting for state or federal aid isn't the answer either, we pay for it no matter where it comes from so we might as well figure out how much we can afford and stop at that figure.

I'm not a politician, I'm not a member of the Board of Education and I'm not a teacher. I'm a parent who would like to continue raising our family in Livonia where I grew up.

Has Had It

Editor: Regarding Mrs. Chandler's editorial in last week's paper, it seemed like it was meant to be a scolding.

It is high time that people realize that Livonians have "had it" when it comes to raising taxes. We have reached the saturation point.

Some other source of money will have to be found to build and maintain our schools. State or federal?

We have a school board which should be investigating this instead of how they can pressure the taxpayers to vote to increase taxes that are already out of reach.

In the Jan. 12 issue of the paper we read that our school board is going to spend nearly $100,000 for a vocational laboratory at Franklin High; $15,302 for electric typewriters at Stevenson and Stevenson is air conditioned.

Now, I would like to have my home air conditioned but I cannot afford it. The school board should do as any family must do—buy the necessities and forget the frills. We cannot afford these things. Instead of running to the taxpayers for more money, they must realize what you cannot afford you cannot have. If the schools are in the desperate condition they would have us believe, the school board had better sit down with pencils and paper and see what we can eliminate. Spend the available money where it will do the most good.

As far as parks are concerned, the City cannot take care of the parks we have now! Tables have had to be removed because vandals ruin them as fast as they are replaced. Gangs hang around so that common, decent people are afraid to use the parks. Police are called all summer.

Why have more of this? The taxpayers have "had it." Anyone who uses their head to think will not vote for these things.

Lauds Health Dept.

I am very pleased with the work of the Wayne County Health Department in this area, and I think that they did an excellent job in the latest tuberculosis outbreak. Having had contact with the department, I know of the many services it provides for our schools and community. A city health department couldn't begin to provide these services. I suggest that some of our city officials as well as some of our citizens acquaint themselves with the work of this department and also come up on some of our public health problems.

 One-hundred and fifty years ago, average annual consumption of sugar per capita in the United States was five pounds. Today over 100 pounds per capita each year! The increase in high-blood sugar and low-blood sugar has been coincidental with the consumption of sugar. G. C. Cooperative Nursery Going Strong

Editor: The first semester has been completed in Nursery School. The Nursery mom's can look forward to the future with anticipation of things to come and pride of past accomplishments. The four-year-old group is tentatively planning an ice skating party and visit's from a nurse and dentist are being discussed.

Garden City Co-Op is a non-sectarian, non-profit organization, which is located at John Hawk and Middlebelt Rd. held in the Garden City Presbyterian Church.

The Co-Op is opened to children three and four years old. All mother's of children entering Nursery School are required by law to have a complete physical which includes a chest X-ray. All children entering Nursery School are also required to have a complete physical. No child is allowed to enter school without this physical completed, nor a mother is not allowed to enter without her physical completed before the start of the season. The Nursery School, the teacher's and all the school's facilities are inspected by the Board of Health before the September session.

The three and four-year-olds each attend two days a week, for two hours, either in the afternoon or morning sessions.

The children are not allowed to come to these sessions if there are any signs of colds or rashes.

The mothers of the Co-Op recently had a clean-up, fix-up night which included washing the nursery and its equipment from stem to stern.

At each session of Nursery School there are three working mothers present along with the teacher. Each mother has specific duties. One of the duties included for one mother is cleaning the bathrooms (bowls and commodes) with a Lysol solution. This is not required as the bathroom's are sanitized but is done as an extra protection for the nursery children.

Throughout the history of the Nursery School there has never been an outbreak of any disease of any kind. The children in the nursery are probably as safe hygienically as any group situation can be.

Anyone desiring information about the Nursery School can contact Mrs. Jackie Ball, PA 2-3794.

About Mac's Interest

Editor: Supervisor Jack McDonald of Redford Township did some wheeling and dealing. Did he forget his main interest should be to the people of Redford Township?

He had Wayne County come in and re-assess the property in our Township much higher. He was clever not to raise our taxes very much this year but there is room for "higher taxes" in the future.

By law he had to let people vote on millage increases, but this is one way of increasing taxes without the people having a voice in it.

Mr. Cavanaugh said on television that Detroit has a valuation of 28 per cent of true value but Mr. McDonald has stuck us with 40 and 50 per cent. I know he's young and people make mistakes, but with his political aspirations?

But we know there is more to it. He is the head of the County Board of Supervisors. Where is his interest?

Shaw's 'Saint Joan' Opens at Classic

"Saint Joan," the most ambitious work of the Irish playwright George Bernard Shaw, will become the fourth play to join the current repertory at Wayne State University's Hilberry Classic Theatre when it opens at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 9.

The play, a profound human drama of the clash between individual genius and social order, presents a heroine who is both practical and idealistic.

Saint Joan is played by Marjorie Lerstrom, a veteran of the Classic Theatre stage. Theatre-goers will remember her portrayal of Katherine in last year's "The Taming of the Shrew." She is also appearing this year as Helena in Shakespeare's "All's Well That Ends Well."

Other leading roles in the new Hilberry offering will be played by Pierrino Mascarino, Philip Davidson, John M. Criner, Jr., Jeff Tambor and Marshall Borden.

"Saint Joan" will also be performed Friday night, Feb. 11, and continue in repertory through June 9. The play is directed by Leonard Leone, director of the University Theatre.

Tickets and information may be obtained by calling the Hilberry Classic Theatre Box Office, 833-5151.

Baker Proposes Litter Warning Legislation

State Representative Raymond L. Baker, Farmington Republican, has proposed that beer cans and throwaway bottles be required to carry warnings against littering.

Baker's bill comes as a result of last summer's House Liquor Committee hearings at which much concern was expressed about littering caused by the careless discard of beer and ale throwaways.

"We learned that throwaways comprise about 90 per cent of the littering problem and present real hazards to machinery, livestock and individuals," Baker said.

"What is needed," he claimed, "is stricter enforcement of existing anti-litter laws and increased public awareness of the penalties involved and the desirability of cleaner roads and parks."

"Printing of a warning on containers will not only provide a deterrent, but also add greatly to needed education on the subject," he said.

Baker labeled a proposal to outlaw throwaway containers introduced last week "as too extreme and not standing much chance of passage."

"We ought to try this approach first, since the problem is chiefly one of education," he concluded.

A gold arrow under Wolf went to Joe Centers. Bear badges were earned by James Day and Dan Petronio. James Day also earned a gold and silver arrow, while Dan Petronio received a gold arrow.

William Maloney received a gold arrow under bear and Chris Weber received a lion as well as a gold and silver arrow. Tom Johnson received the gold arrow under lion.

Denner bars were awarded to Dale Gallagher, Dan Petronio, Jim Day and Larry Gauthier. Assistant bars went to Jim Halton and William Maloney.

One year pins were given to Cliff Graham, Dan Markorwik and Richard Gibes. Individual prizes for projects were won by Jim Day and Ed Sempoksi.

5,457 TESTS SINCE JAN. 1

TB Tests Keep County Busy

Tuberculosis clinics of the Wayne County Health Department have given skin tests to 436 persons last Saturday bringing the total since Jan. 1 to 5,457.

Between Dec. 16 and Jan. 29 some 6,638 persons received TB tests at clinics at Eloise and Ecorse with only 1,181 tests being given between Dec. 16 and Jan. 1.

The majority of the tests were given following the epidemic scare accompanying news of an outbreak at a Garden City nursery school, the Hansel & Gretel Day Nursery.

About 500 persons took tests the first Saturday following Jan. 18 when news of the epidemic broke.

Dr. Florine Hampton, deputy director of the Wayne County Health Department, told The Observer the number of tests showing positive results are about what could be expected for a normal screening. A positive test shows the person has come into contact with the TB germ but does not necessarily mean the individual has tuberculosis.

Another name has been added to the list of children contracting TB from the Garden City epidemic bringing the total to 17. The latest case involved a three-year old girl who was in contact with children attending Hansel & Gretel.

Earlier reports of a second employee of the nursery contracting tuberculosis have proved to be misleading. She actually had symptoms of an upper respiratory infection and was put under close observation but was said not to have TB.

The latest expression of discontent by parents is the delay experienced between testing and notification of results. The mass of area residents taking tests has made it difficult for health officials to grant a quick response to tests results.

The complete epidemic case file is presently being investigated by the State Department of Social Welfare in Lansing.

County health officials are studying the X-rays given by a private physician to the nursery employee said to be the carrier. It is being questioned why the physician did not report a finding of T.B. in October when she was found to have T.B. on Jan. 6.

Garden City Councilmen met Monday night with parents and Wayne County Health Department officials. The Council had earlier requested an audit of funds allocated by the City to the County for health services.

During the meeting, Dr. John Hanlon, director of the Wayne County Health Department, promised parents a report would be made on questions raised as soon as he completed his investigation.

Hanlon said he has called in experts to study the X-ray taken by the alleged carrier's private physician as well as one taken at an area hospital when the nurse was X-rayed prior to an operation.

The hospital X-rays, taken prior to October, might have been read by a radiologist, and should have detected the presence of the disease if it was present, Hanlon said.

Councilmen will now discuss an earlier proposal of Mayor Edwin J. Fresh Jr. of Garden City organizing its own health department.

Residents to Discuss 'Vietnam Struggle'

Suburban groups in the area covered by The Observer Newspapers interested in the Great Decisions program, will discuss the "Struggle for Vietnam" during next week when this coast-to-coast discussion project starts its program for this year.

Among the other topics scheduled for discussion in the weeks ahead are "Israel in the Arab World," "Western Europe and the U.S.," "Sub-Saharan Africa," "Russia After Khrushchev," "Japan Resurgent," "Latin America and the U.S.," "Making Foreign Policy in a Nuclear Age," as well as local topics chosen by participants throughout the suburban area.

Fact sheet kits are available at $2 each at county libraries.

In the western suburbs, kits are offered at the Carl Sandburg Library, 30100 Seven Mile, in Livonia; Plymouth Public Library, 223 South Main, in Plymouth; Redford Township Public Library at 15150 Norborne, Detroit; and at the Livonia Adult Education Office, 15125 Farmington Road near Five Mile.

The Sandburg group will meet each Tuesday evening, starting February 8, at 8 p.m.

John Anderson, Livonia coordinator of extended school services, listed some of the ways the Great Decisions program enriches cultural life in the suburbs. According to Anderson, taking part in these discussions can help the participants to:

- Become better informed on foreign policy issues.
- Develop talents to discuss and to listen and to form opinions on worthy issues.
- Increase understanding of other people's viewpoints.
- Express their opinions to Congress and other officials.
- Look at one's own community with plans to improve it.
- Make new and interesting friends seeking the truth about the world in which we live.

Begin Another Term Following Workshops

Garden City Public Schools began its second semester of instruction yesterday (Tuesday) following a one-day Teachers Workshop on Monday.

Garden City children were given a day's vacation Monday due to the annual mid-winter workshop which has been an established practice for many years.

The workshop is one of many opportunities provided throughout the year for in-service training of teachers. It was held at West Senior High and opened by a welcoming address given by Supt. of Schools Dr. Edwin J. O'Leary.

Ford Announces Renewal Grants

Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District) has announced approval by the Urban Renewal Administration of increases for urban renewal projects in Lincoln Park and Wayne.

The increase for Lincoln Park is $210,621 for the Raupp Number One Project, making a total of $1,215,971 in federal funds authorized.

Wayne will receive an extra $126,000 for a total of $6,211,533 in its Central Business District Number One Project. The increase will enable the city's Urban Renewal Department to make additional relocation payments as authorized by the Housing Act of 1964.

Also addressing Garden City teachers were Dr. Chandos Reid and Dr. Theodore Rice who spoke on the topic "Criteria for looking at innovations and trends in the area of curriculum development."

Dr. Reid was formerly with Waterford Township Schools and currently is writing, and Dr. Rice is a staff member of Wayne State University.

Reports given Monday morning on school happenings were given by: Marilyn Rintamaki, teacher of emotionally disturbed, on the elementary; Elizabeth Collier, counselor at Burger Jr. High, on the junior high; Robert Duhan, special administrative assistant, on federal programs in the senior high schools, and Florence Striph, programmed learning coordinator, on Programmed Instruction.

During the afternoon, grade and department meetings were held covering a number of topics.

Industry on Go in Garden City

Major industrial development in Garden City is still in its budding stages and mostly limited to a garden known as the Industrial Park located north of Ford Rd. to the immediate west of Venoy Rd.

Three major industries in operation within the Industrial Park include: Wolverine Products Inc., Dearborn Gage Inc., and Gypsum Erectors Inc.

The combined trio contributed a total of $7,474.36 in tax monies to Garden City for 1965 which broken down individually shows the following: Wolverine, $2,768.69, Dearborn Gage, $4,507.23 and Gypsum Erectors, $198.44.

The financial contribution to the community, however, is greater than taxes paid to City government. Also to be weighed are the tax contributions made to the schools, the community college and Wayne County.

City accounting tabulations show tax contributions to public schools, Schoolcraft College and the County under the single category of County taxes.

During 1965, the three major industries in Garden City paid $25,256.38 in County taxes which were divided among the Garden City School Board, the Schoolcraft Community College and the various County agencies serving the City.

Therefore, the total financial contribution made to Garden City by major industry amounts to $32,730.74.

A manufacturer of storm windows is presently building in the Industrial Park and is expected to be completed in six months. The newest addition is being developed by the H. F. Campbell Co.

The total area of the Industrial Park, which is being developed by an Accelerated Public Works Grant, will allow about 12 fairly large industries to locate.

Heating Pad Sparks Fire

An electric blanket left plugged in caused a fire at 33451 Bock, Garden City, inflicting damage to a home belonging to Glen Hough.

A neighbor reported smoke coming out of the Hough home to Garden City firemen.

Entrance was gained by placing a roof ladder at the east end of the house and breaking a window. The fire was located in the east bedroom and firemen used a smoke ejector to clear the upstairs of smoke.

Upon entering the bedroom, firemen found an electric blanket plugged in and turned on. Chief Onas Rowe says the blanket was the apparent source of the fire.

The blanket, smoldering mattress and bed were thrown out the window and extinguished. No one was home when firemen arrived.

Fire Marshall William McDaniel estimates damage at $1,500. McDaniel said extensive smoke damage was done upstairs with some water damage and possibly smoke damage downstairs.

Climb 45 Per Cent Over 1964

Suburban Home Sales Set Record

Home sales throughout north-west Detroit and the western portions of Wayne and Oakland counties zoomed to new heights during 1965, far exceeding the totals reached in any previous year, according to statistics compiled by the United North-western Realty Association.

The figures, just released by Everett J. Wilson, UNRA president, show that sales last year of residential properties multi-listed by the 1,400-member organization amounted to just over $133 million—up 45 per cent from the previous record set in 1964.

Virtually all sections of the city and suburbs served by the members shared in the rise, Wilson reported. Greatest increases in total number of houses changing hands occurred in the Garden City-Wayne-Inkster-Nankin area, where 1,017 homes acquired new owners, as against 514 in 1964.

Other suburban areas registering large percentage increases were Livonia and Canton Townships.

During the year the UNRA brokers rang up 8,475 house sales, compared to 6,453 residential sales aggregating $91.4 million during 1964.

The average selling price also was up 7 per cent—amounting to $15,460 per house in 1965, as compared with the $14,448 average selling price per house in 1964. Property sales by members of the multiple-listing organization, who are also members of the Western-Wayne-Oakland County Board of Realtors, provide the most comprehensive and reliable index to residential real estate activity throughout the metropolitan area, Wilson pointed out.

While the largest volume of sales was in the $10,500-$15,000 price bracket, there has been increased demand for higher-priced homes, Wilson reported. Sales in the $15,000-to-$20,000 were up 108 per cent from 1964; while sales in the over-$30,000 bracket, percentage-wise, showed the greatest increase.

"Houses 10 to 20 years old were most readily saleable, according to UNRA statistics," Wilson said. "Three-bedroom houses are more popular than those with fewer bedrooms, while brick construction is preferred to frame."

Houses with basements are definitely more popular than those built on slabs or over-crawl space."

Membership in the multi-list organization, founded in 1920 and probably the oldest Realtors' cooperative in the country, includes 200 brokers' offices with more than 1,200 affiliated salesmen. The more than 20 separate communities served by UNRA comprise over 800 square miles and nearly 1,900,000 people. Wilson pointed out that both buyer and seller can gain by the multi-list.

"Multi-listing benefits the prospective home buyer by conserving his time and greatly widening his choice of properties. A visit to one member's office places at his disposal all the multi-listed properties in the area in which he would like to locate.

"Photographs and detailed information about each house for sale can be gone over quickly and conveniently in the comfort of the Realtor's office, those in which he is not interested eliminated and appointments made for a personal inspection of the others."

Camper's Group Will Organize On Monday

The National Campers and Hikers Association will host a chapter organizational meeting, Feb. 7, at 7:30 p.m. at Scout Hall on West Cady in Northville. From the main corners in Northville, Center and Main Streets, Scout Hall on West Cady is one block south and in the second block west.

Anyone interested in camping or hiking is invited and urged to attend and bring along another camping family with them. Field Director Marjorie Schulkins, and District Field Directors Ken and Jean Stumpf, will be on hand to explain NCHA and answer any questions.

Slides will be shown on local chapter activities. Michigan State Campment at Holly, and the National Campment at Bowling Green.

"Multi-listing also benefits the seller, by placing his property in the hands of all the Realtors and their salesmen who are members of UNRA. A sales force of 1,400 experienced real-estate men is at his disposal immediately and at no extra cost. This greatly increases his chances of quickly finding a buyer."

All UNRA officers also hold the same positions with the Western Wayne-Oakland County Board of Realtors.

In addition to Wilson, they include Richard S. Elsea, vice president; William Y. Mathers, secretary; and Edward J. Dub, treasurer.

Accreditation Hearing Set For College

Schoolcraft College will learn on March 23 whether it will become a candidate for accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

That was the information given to members of the Board of Trustees Thursday by President Dr. Eric Bradner. Dr. Bradner indicated the College had been asked to make a presentation before the Accreditation Board in Chicago after which the members will decide on future action.

Should Schoolcraft receive approval to become a candidate, then it is believed, the official accreditation will take place within two years.

Farnum Introduces GI Bill for 'Cold War' Vets

Congressman Billie S. Farnum (D-19th Dist.), announced that Thursday he introduced a "Cold War G.I. Bill." Enactment is to be the number one objective of the House Veterans Affairs Committee, according to Farnum.

Farnum said: "G.I. Bills were enacted for the Veterans of World War II and the Korean War. The 'Cold War' has turned into a 'Hot War' for tens of thousands of young Americans. They certainly deserve the same consideration that has been given to war veterans in the past. All former G.I. bills have proved to be the best investment that our country could make."

He pointed out that 2,381,000 veterans were trained under the Korean G.I. Bill and that more than one-half of them went to college. Under the World War II G.I. Bill, 29 per cent of all veterans trained went to college and 44 per cent to special schools. Under this legislation, 1,400,000 received on-the-job training.

It has been established, that because of the additional earning power of veterans who took advantage of the G.I. Bills, these veterans are now paying more than one billion dollars in additional tax revenue.

"I am convinced that a G.I. Bill for the new group of veterans will pay for itself many times in the future, economic growth of our country," the freshman congressman said.

The bill introduced by Farnum provides the same benefits accorded to World War II and Korean War Veterans, except for the fact that the amounts are increased due to the higher cost of education.

Drake Garrett, Michigan State sophomore halfback, was a four-year letterman in both football and track at Dayton, (O.) Dunbar High.

5-YEAR GROWTH GREATEST IN AREA

Livonia In Midst Of Huge 'Industrial Revolution'

Take some old, unused farm land that lies next to a busy transportation link, add a force of skilled workers and some enthusiastic civic leaders, and mix them together under the tutelage of a young, ambitious community "chef."

The result? You've got the makings of another "industrial revolution."

In Livonia, that's the process which in the past five years has created new industrial growth unequalled by any other western Wayne or Oakland County community.

With a direct transportation link to the rest of the Midwest through the C and O Railroad tracks, which cut a wide swath from east to west across Livonia, and with three state highways crossing the city, the first ingredients for promoting industrial growth — transportation — is there.

A wide-awake Industrial Development Commission, active for more than eight years in Livonia, has given the added thrust to industrial development, and the city's Industrial Coordinator, Daniel C. Andrew, has worked full-time to put prospective industrial development in touch with landowners.

The combination has produced phenomenal results.

Last year alone, Andrew reports, close to a million square feet of manufacturing space was built in Livonia — either in the form of new construction or additions to present facilities.

Employment was boosted by more than 1500 jobs in the process, he said.

Today, commercial and industrial property in Livonia accounts for nearly as much of the city's tax base as does residential land. The figures: 44.5 per cent for industrial and commercial; 48.8 per cent for residential; and the balance in vacant property and public utilities.

mean $650,000 more a year in Livonia's city treasury.

"Most of the city's industrial growth is taking place in a series of developments along the C and O tracks," said Andrew. "The railroad itself has developed an industrial park along the south side of the tracks near Eckles Rd.," he stated. "In less than two years, all of the available acreage has been sold."

The city recently opened an Industrial Road which parallels the tracks just to the north, and which runs from Merriman Rd. east to Middlebelt.

This industrial subdivision property is selling fast, and Kroger Corp., for example, has recently purchased 10 acres of land for addition to its warehouse.

The city's second largest industrial development is located at Plymouth Rd. and Newburgh, where the Barton Share Co. has divided an area of land into 54 industrial lots. The Link-Welder Co. is the first firm to begin construction there.

Other individual industrial expansion during the past year has included a 500,000 square foot addition to the Chevrolet Spring and Bumper plant, a 240,000 square foot addition to the Ford transmission plant and 535,000 square feet for a Ford National Parts Warehouse expansion.

While most of the city's industrial development is taking place along the railroad, patches of industry have cropped up elsewhere. Along the southern side of Eight Mile Rd., several factories have been constructed in recent years, and there's a proposal being studied by the Planning Commission to increase the amount of land zoned for industrial use there.

"If the new Jeffries Freeway ever becomes a reality," Andrew told The Observer, "it's possible that we may set aside a small section of the northwest part of the city for what's called ERO zoning — engineering, research and office building development. It would be ideally located next to a busy transportation route."

Recently, Andrew said, additional industrial and residential areas were opened up to development with the announcement of a new 24" water main along Newburgh from Eight Mile to Schoolcraft. It will serve, basically, the new Chevrolet Spring and Bumper plant, and Ford Transmission Plant and other industry, but when it is completed this Spring, it will provide a chance for a new residential construction in the city's northwest section.

With 17 per cent of Livonia's land zoned for industrial development, and approximately 1100 acres still vacant for industrial use, the job of continuing the city's industrial growth shouldn't be hard.

Andrew, who works full time as a city employee and who is backed up by the citizen volunteer Industrial Development Commission, describes his duties as those of a "broker."

"Whenever we hear of a firm interested in settling in Livonia," he said, "we immediately get in touch with them. We'll notify them of the location and availability of the 1100 acres of vacant industrial land, take them on a tour of the city, and put them in touch with the landowners."

"If and when they make a deal to purchase the property," he said, "then we help clear the way through the various city agencies to expedite construction, building permits, development of utilities, and other legal requirements are all met."

Andrew pointed out, however, that industrial development is the wide responsibility of the entire community. "We get assistance from elected officials from the Chamber of Commerce and from the school district," he said. "But we need the continued support of the homeowner too. Industry is the one contribution to Livonia that will give us the kind of tax base to keep down residential land taxes to help pay for new schools parks and community developments.

"We no longer need to think of industry as grimy, noisy, smoky developments that are unwanted for a modern community like Livonia. Today's well kept industrial parks and modern techniques of construction and operation provide communities with facilities which are aesthetically, as well as financially, attractive.

"Our goal for Livonia is a well-balanced community of industrial, commercial and residential development, and we know that the tax contributions of industry will help us achieve this goal."

WHO SAID INDUSTRY had to be noisy, grimy and dirty? These two examples of modern, landscaped plant facilities — can be found right in the heart of Livonia. At top is pictured the main entrance to the Centri-Spray Corporation on Schoolcraft Rd. in Livonia, while at the bottom is the Merriman Rd. entrance to the Angelo DePonio Construction Co. Both firms have been cited for contributions to the Keep Livonia Beautiful campaign.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY'S National Parts industrial plants. It has been cited several times for its excellent record in industrial and Plymouth Roads is one of Livonia's leading safety.

Livonia Once Boasted Reputation of Being

U.S. Cheese Center

It may come as a great surprise to many of the folks now living in Livonia to learn that it once was the "Cheese Center of America."

Back in the Gay Nineties the area that is now the City of Livonia was rich farm country and boasted many large herds of cattle.

The combination brought about a rich dairy industry, with the result that cheese became its greatest commodity. And it was shipped from here to all sections of the country.

Sounds fantastic now, doesn't it?

But remember, there were 27 farms under cultivation in Livonia Township just 16 years ago when the City of Livonia was born.

Mich. Bell Plans Livonia Expansion

Michigan Bell Telephone Company announced today it will spend $2,551,000 in Livonia this year to expand and improve its communications services.

The local outlay is part of Michigan Bell's 1966 construction program totaling a record $175 million, which surpasses last year's previous high by $40 million and is about double the amount spent only three years ago.

William M. Day, Michigan Bell president, said in Detroit that much of the capital required to finance the program must come from investors willing to put their money into the telephone business rather than in other investment opportunities.

He said the expanded 1966 program will require hundreds of additional employees to supplement the company's present force of some 23,400 men and women. It also will give substantial amounts of additional business to Michigan construction companies and suppliers.

Day attributed a good share of the surging demand to higher telephone usage stimulated by increasingly attractive prices. He cited the recent series of rate reductions and service improvements which "are making telephone service a constantly increasing bargain." As examples, he mentioned the declining costs of both interstate and intrastate calls.

"These economies are prompting people in general to use their telephone more and more," Day said. "In addition, many people without service now are ordering it, and others with lower grades of service are ordering private lines. This all adds up to the heaviest burden ever placed on our facilities.

"Our 1966 program is designed not only to meet the greater demand for basic telephone service, but to give every Michigan Bell customer the type and quality of service he wants and expects from us."

John Karnego, Michigan Bell

manager here, broke down Livonia's $2,551,000 outlay as follows:

$1,426,000 for outside plant facilities, $835,000 for telephone equipment in homes and offices, $277,000 for central office equipment, and about $13,000 for land and buildings.

Statewide, the program includes the massive placement of nearly 10 billion conductor feet of cable—about 2 billion more than was ever before constructed in a single year.

Michigan Bell will start nine new telephone buildings during the year along with 22 building additions. One of the major manual-to-dial completions will take place in Calumet where local dial service and Direct Distance Dialing will be inaugurated in May.

Three more communities — Port Huron, Mulliken and Scotts — will be tied into the Direct Distance Dialing network this year, bringing to 92 per cent the number of Michigan Bell customers able to dial their own long distance calls.

Touch-Tone modifications are slated for five more Detroit central offices and 18 outstate areas including Calumet, Auburn Heights, Birmingham, Roseville, Flint, Grand Blanc, Escanaba, Grand Rapids, Iron Mountain, Jackson, Niles, Grand Haven, Plymouth, Pontiac, Rochester, West Bloomfield, Saginaw, and Wyandotte.

Remember When 'City of Elm' Was Hot Topic

By W. W. EDGAR

Industry, or the lack of it, always has been a bone of contention in Livonia.

While the city officials today are bemoaning the lack of industry required for a broad tax base that would lighten the burden on the home owner's real estate tax, there was a time when the officials had to struggle to keep the major plants from being "stolen" right out of our grasp.

Back in the late '40's when the movement for incorporation of the City of Livonia was instituted a group of folks in the southeast corner of the city fought the plan vigorously.

This group had a well paid plan of incorporating three square miles that could encompass the new race track, the General Motors Transmission plant (now the Fisher Body Upholstery Division plant) and the Ford Central Parts Depot.

General Motors and Ford had just completed their buildings and it seemed that Livonia was to have a head start in acquiring a broad tax base until the rival faction started.

The group in the southeast corner had visions of incorporating a city to be known as "Elm" and had gone so far as to make such rash promises as providing paved streets, curb and gutters, along with sewers at no extra cost.

More than that, the battle became so bitter that, in some areas in the southeast corner college educations were being promised for all the youngsters.

This would have been a fine trick, if it could have been done.

Paved streets! Curb and gutters! Sewers!

All at no cost and college educations tossed into the bargain!

And a small, compact city that would include a major race track and two big industrial plants.

That was to be the City of Elm.

But those who had the broader view — those who visioned a great city of 36 square miles—finally won out and the City of Livonia came into being.

No sooner had the fight been won to save the southeast corner than another started over the Lightweight Aggregate plant in the center of the city.

It was claimed that this plant caused too much noise in the normal sleeping hours. More than that, it was digging a hole in the center of the city from which no good could come.

These complaints became so numerous that City Council had to take action and only under a Council edict was the noise abated.

And the big hole?

That's being used now as a garbage disposal area and was a real asset in time of need.

Now, the battle is not with the industry we have, but a struggle to lure more industry into our midst and thus bring relief through a broader tax base.

Paul Zuckerman, president and chairman of the board of Velvet Food Products, Inc.

Peanut Butter King Meet Paul Zuckerman, Legend in His Own Time

The Peanut Butter King has come to town and to the delight of the city's peanut butter fanciers and tax payers alike, brought his castle with him.

The castle, belonging to the industry-recognized king, Paul Zuckerman, is the home of the Velvet Food Products Corporation, a 30,000 square foot peanut processing plant.

Employing 60 workers and resting on a 4 1/2 acre site fronting on Schoolcraft Road, the plant processes in excess of 10 million pounds of peanuts a year.

To the City of Livonia, the Velvet Company, world's largest independent producers of peanut butter, represents a large and significant molder of the city's tax base.

Zuckerman, known to his close friends as "Peanuts," moved the company from its old offices on Livorno near Ewald Circle in Detroit to the present half million dollar plant in Livonia in June, 1963.

According to Vice President Allan J. Cutler, Zuckerman built the new plant in Livonia because "he felt that the climate of the city was progressive and that the area was going through a period of substantial industrial growth. We felt that the city of Livonia displayed a very progressive community relationship with business," he said.

"Some food warehouses were moving towards the suburbs and naturally we wanted to be in the best possible location to serve them. Besides, the traffic in the interior of the city was becoming too hectic for us to remain there any longer," Cutler said.

The Velvet Food Products Corporation, in addition to producing Velvet Peanut Butter, processes granulated nut products and shelled peanuts.

Zuckerman, born in Turkey, is 53 years old, the president and chairman of the board of the Velvet Company and, according to the late Eddie Cantor, "one helluva guy."

Zuckerman, a friend of President Johnson, is regarded as ambitious and a diligent worker. Although he likes to make money he likes giving it away almost as much.

His friends say he is warm hearted. "Why should I be any different?" he asks. "After all, a rich man is only a poor man with money."

E&L Trucking Names Stanwick Vice President

The appointment of Steven Stanwick, of 25620 Deborah, Livonia, as Executive Vice President has been announced by Donald C. Hayden, President of the E & L Transport Company in Dearborn.

GM Extends Plan for Scholars

General Motors Monday announced the continuation of its nationwide Scholarship Plan under which 300 outstanding high school graduates will enter college next fall. Since its establishment in 1955, more than 4,200 able young Americans have gone to college to study for careers of their choice under this Plan.

Selection of the 300 GM scholarship recipients for the fall of 1966 is now being made by the participating institutions which include 133 private and 80 public colleges and universities in 50 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico. Both young men and women are eligible to apply.

Participating institutions select GM scholars from their leading high school applicants and set standards for renewing the scholarships for the four undergraduate years.

GM scholars traditionally rank high in academic performance and campus leadership. Of all the scholars attending college last year, 87 per cent were in the top quarter of their classes and nearly half ranked in the top 5 per cent.

Stipends range from an honorary award $200 per year to a maximum of $2,000 per year based on demonstrated need which is determined by the colleges. Private colleges also receive a grant-in-aid ranging from $500 to $800 per year for each GM scholarship.

There have been seven graduating classes of GM scholars in the 11-year history of the GM Scholarship Plan and over three-fourths of the 2,679 graduates continued their education at the graduate and professional levels.

While holders are permitted to select any field of study, teaching has placed first as a career choice. More than one-third—35 per cent—selected teaching, nearly half of whom say they will teach in the field of science.

Other popular career choices are engineering, 15 per cent; physics and mathematics, 11 per cent; medicine and dentistry, 10 per cent.

Interested students should see their high school principal or counselor for a complete listing of the participating colleges and application should be made directly to the institution. No GM application is necessary.

THE UNANIMOUS SMILES here were typical for 315 salaried employees at GM's Chevrolet and Fisher Body plants in Livonia who received $572,308 in GM common stock, government bonds and cash for their participation in the 1960 Savings Fund Plan under the Corporation's Savings-Stock Purchase Program this past Monday. ## Industrial Growth Noted in Redford Expansion of industry in Redford Township saw 12 industrial building permits issued last year with an estimated valuation of $400,200.

Permits were also issued for 34 new commercial buildings valued at $2,469,200.

Of 1,300 businesses in the township, 800 are manufacturing concerns with employment running from a handful of workers up to 1,000.

Manufacturing is scattered throughout the area but most of it is in the southern portion.

"The township offers many advantages," said Elmer D. Hazelton, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. "Transportation is one of them. Industry is served by the main line of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad which runs through the heart of the industrial area."

Hazelton noted that the township is only 30 minutes away from the Detroit River and in close proximity to Metropolitan and Willow Run Airports.

"We are also tied in with the large national trucking companies which serve the metropolitan area," he stressed.

The secretary also pointed to the importance of the township's access to highways. "Major highways which run right through the township are U.S. 24, U.S. 16, Interstate 96 and M-14," he declared. "Our main highways east and west also tie in with Detroit's freeways which are connected to I-75, I-94 and U.S. 23."

Redford's major industries are:

— Automotive Rubber, producers of rubber components for the automotive industry and manufacturers of special rubber-lined containers.

— Bethlehem Steel which has complete warehousing facilities for construction steel and chain link fences.

— Ford Motor Company, Division which maintains its Detroit Parts Depot and Ford Division Manufacturing Development Building.

— General Motors Diesel, the home of the GMC Diesel engine. This is the township's largest industry with over one million square feet of plant space.

— Standard Tube Company and Michigan Steel Tube Products Division. "This is the most modern steel tube mill in the welded-tube industry," Hazelton said.

The contribution of these industries to the community was noted by Treasurer Edward C. Kennedy who said, "These businesses pay an annual tax bill in the neighborhood of $2,704,000.

Helps Find Manpower

Businesses in Redford Township and adjoining area which are encountering manpower problems can find help right in their own back yard at the Wells Personnel Agency.

Heading the firm which has been in operation a little over two months is Gloria Wells, former executive secretary for Supervisor Jack H. McDonald for three and a half years.

"Business is good," said Mrs. Wells. "Anyone needing clerical and general office workers, either male or female, or executives, need look no further."

A resident of the township, Mrs. Wells is the wife of Herbert J., and mother of two daughters, 10 and 13, who attend the Hosanna Tabor Lutheran School. The family resides at 11375 Dixie St.

Mrs. Wells' business is located at 24755 Five Mile Road, only several blocks from the Town Hall.

Farmington's Industry Is Growing

Increase the tax bills in Farmington by about 11 per cent and one realizes the contribution of industry to both the City of Farmington and Farmington Township and the Farmington School District.

This year the benefit of the industrial development in the area to the homeowner will be even greater.

The 11 percent figure is based on the 1965 tax year figures and this year the Diamond Automation and Futur Mil plants in the Township and Mills Products in the City will be added to the rolls.

During the 1965 tax year the real assessed value of industrial property in the Township was $1,026,050 as compared to the total assessment of $43,174,535. In the City the comparable figures were $5,550,520 for commercial and industrial property as compared with an assessment of real property of $21,804,870.

In addition there are many additions to present plants and smaller ones which have moved into the area. The above are the big three, however, for the tax base.

Both the Township and the City are striving to attract to new industries to enhance the tax base. Added to this, however, is the good planning of a community. Manufacturing firms, industries, and commercial establishments are to be found throughout the area contributing to a well balanced rounded community.

In addition to the above, additional industrial firms in the area include:

Star Cutter, Moore Industries, the soon to be opened Thompson Brown office center in Farmington Township, Ekstrom Electric Controls, Inc., Farmington Glass Co., L & H Wood Mfg. Co., Marble Specialties, Steelcrete.

New industries slated to come into in newly opened Farmington Freeway Industrial Park include an office building for Howell Pencraft scheduled for construction in about six months; Posa Cut and Johnson Die and Engineering.

The growth of the Freeway is a story of community achievement and progress. Its development is possible only through a special assessment of one mill for 20 year which was approved by the voters in 1962.

The added funds — assessed throughout the Township — made possible construction of water facilities in the area and thus lead to its development.

Evans Plant Makes Tremendous Strides In 3 Years

Once known as the company that put wheels (bicycle) under boys and girls in all parts of the world, the Plymouth division of Evans Products Company now is gaining recognition for putting wheels under rail and truck damage-prevention equipment on freight cars.

Matter of fact in the short time of three years, Evans has dropped out of the manufacture of bicycles and now is one of the nation's leading producers of freight cars.

In the last two years, the Transportation Equipment division in Plymouth has had expansions of more than $6 million and recently announced plans for a 22,000 square foot administration building. The ground will be broken for the newest addition early this month and a target date of July 1 has been set for completion.

It was just slightly more than two months ago that Executive Vice President and Division Manager James Conway announced a $3 million car-building plant expansion that increased the size of the facility to almost 300,000 square feet.

That addition was aimed to increase the capacity of the plant from the present five to 10 new freight cars daily.

And that announcement came on the heels of an earlier expansion of $1.5 million to the same facility.

During the interim, Evans acquired the Chicago-based United States Railway Equipment Co., which manufactures, upgrades and leases freight cars at Blue Island, Ill.

Evans manufactures freight car brake beams through another recent acquisition, Chicago Railway Equipment Co. It also manufactures automotive equipment at Grand Rapids, material handling racks in Gagetown, Mich. and prefabricated frozen food warehouses in Annapolis, Md.

Of all the plants in the Plymouth area, Evans has made the greatest strides in the past three years — just growing and growing with still more expansion on the boards if business continues to increase.

The company's sales and net earnings for 1965 were the highest in history with sales and rentals soaring to $246,941,000, a 19 per cent increase over the $206,666,000 in the prior year.

Net earnings rose to $8,404,000 in 1965, an increase of 28 per cent over the $6,575,000 in 1964, the previous record year.

Net earnings per common share after preferred dividends were $3.08 based on 2,475,176 shares outstanding at the end of business in 1965.

This compared with net earnings of $2.50 in 1964, adjusted for the 1965 four per cent stock dividend and a 3 for 2 stock split. Net earnings and the special item totaled $5.24 per common share in 1965.

Evans has long been the nation's leading designer and manufacturer of equipment designed to prevent damage to railroad freight cars and lading. In addition to an increase in volume of sales for this equipment, the company's freight car construction facility originally built in September 1964 has undergone the two major expansions listed above to meet railroad and shipper needs.

In addition to building rail cars and producing railway and truck-damage prevention equipment, Evans is also a manufacturer of other industrial products.

Its operations include three other divisions engaged in the manufacture of building materials, plywood, plywall and fibre products, all of which it distributes nationally.

It has a building materials group headquartered in Portland, Ore. and a pre-cut home division centered in Minneapolis.

Evans Earnings, Sales Set Mark

Portland, Ore. — Evans Products Company's sales and net earnings for 1965 were the highest in the company's history, according to a preliminary report issued by L. L. Wygal, Executive Vice President, Finance. Sales and rentals in 1965 were $246,941,000, a 19 per cent increase over $206,666,000 in the prior year.

In addition, the company reported a special item of non-recurring income for 1965 of $5,364,000 representing gain after income taxes on sale of timber and related facilities, making aggregate net earnings and special item of $13,768,000.

Net earnings per common share after preferred dividends were $3.08 based on 2,475,176 shares outstanding at December 31, 1965. Net earnings per share for 1964 were $2.50, adjusted for the 1965 four percent stock dividend and 3-for-2 stock split. Net earnings and the special item totaled $5.24 per common share in 1965.

During the last quarter of 1965, Evans reported the acquisitions for cash of United States Railway Equipment Company, Chicago Railway Equipment Company, C. Capp Manufacturing Company and International Housing Corporation. Operations of these businesses are included in 1965 results since date of acquisition.

In addition, acquisitions for stock during 1965 include Moore's Super Stores, Inc., Williamson Veneer Company and Rand Acceptance Corporation which have been accounted for as poolings of interests, and the 1964 figures have been restated to give effect to this treatment.

Bill Pence Promoted By Edison

William K. Pence, 14920 Maplewood Lane, Plymouth, has been appointed supervising engineer of relay applications for Detroit Edison's electrical system department.

A native Detroit, Pence attended Catholic Central High School and, following three years Army service during World War II, earned an electrical engineering degree at Lawrence Institute of Technology. He is an associate member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers and has been active in the Institute's local chapter.

He joined the relay division of Detroit Edison's electrical system department in 1952. For the past year he has been supervising engineer of relay performance for the division.

Pence and his wife, Rita, are members of the Newcomers Club in Plymouth. They have two children — Karen and Robert.

Ford Sets New Marks In Livonia

The word "record" summarizes the 1965 employment, payroll and production story for Ford Motor Company's Livonia operations.

Ford paid more than $80,500,000 to approximately 8,700 hourly and salaried employees in Livonia last year. The 1964 payroll was $69 million for about 7,800 employees.

Richard L. McNulty, plant manager of the company's largest Livonia facility, the Ford transmission plant, said the record highs were reached because of strong production schedules, increased manufacturing capabilities and plant expansion programs.

"Our record employment, production and payroll at Livonia in 1965 reflect some of the giant strides that have been made within Ford Motor Company, its product lines, the community, and, in general, the entire automotive industry," McNulty said.

"With continued high acceptance of Ford products, a strong national economy, coupled with optimistic marketing forecasts and completion of present plant expansion, we can anticipate even larger payrolls and higher production and employment levels at our location during the coming year," he added.

Construction of a 240,000 square-foot addition to the Livonia plant is scheduled for completion this year. It is part of the Transmission and Chassis Division's $71.5 million expansion and modernization program announced in 1965.

During 1965, Ford awarded $163,225 to 2,190 Livonia employees under the company's Suggestion Plan, and 489 employees commendations for ideas submitted under the Management Proposal Plan. Two salaried employees were awarded Mustangs under the revised management plan.

Ford facilities in Livonia include the Transmission and Chassis Division's general staff and product engineering offices, the Livonia Transmission Plant, Ford Division's Technical Service Laboratory and National Parts Depot, and regional and district sales offices of both the Ford and Lincoln-Mercury Divisions.

Specialty Coating, Foto Fax Combination Hard to Beat

Specialty Coating Inc., 15169 Northville Road, Plymouth, and Foto Fax Co. Inc., 23656 Park Dearborn, have an arrangement that is to the advantage of each.

Specialty Coating manufactures Escobar, the finest drafting film ever offered to the industry, and Diaco, a Diazo sensitized, dry erasable polyester film for use by manufacturing and engineering firms.

Foto Fax Co. Inc., headed by Charles Barill, is the principal distributor for the products and both firms are doing exceptionally well.

Sam Slikin is president of Specialty Coating, an operation he started two years ago, to go along with his 10 years of serving as a consultant for various types of duplicating papers on an international scale.

He is also head of the S. C. Slikin Co., which specializes in serving as consultants.

It was just two years ago that Slikin took over the plant of the defunct Worden Specialty Co. and started a renovation and redecorating program that practically made over the interior of the building.

He had been serving as a consultant for an English Company which was interested in forming a company to produce duplicating papers in the United States. Slikin started the company and it is now the only one of its kind in Michigan and serves customers in all sections of the United States.

The company has grown in two years from a five-man operation to a staff of more than 20 and currently is working 24 hours, six days a week.

"And we're just starting to grow," said Slikin. "We are using all but 7,000 square feet of the 25,000 in our plant and hope to expand into that space within a relatively short time."

Of the workers, five have chemical degrees, making the force one of the most unusual in Michigan.

Slikin recently added William Busick, who has 25 years experience in the industry, to his staff as plant manager.

Specialty Coating is the only company in the land devoted exclusively to specialty items. Slikin points with a great deal of pride to the fact that several of the company's largest competitors are buying from Specialty Coating.

Escobar is a new drafting film product that has excellent receptivity to pencil and ink. It enables large industrial plants to make major modifications in items without a complete re-drawing.

Engineers can erase the obsolete parts and place in pencil the major modifications in plans. The erasable drafting film is especially valuable in the aircraft, missile and auto industries where changes are made constantly and can be made with an eraser now instead of a completely new plan.

Escobar permits multiple erasing with no polishing or ghosting and the use of liquor eradicators. It will resist scoring or scribbling even with hard leads.

It is available in 2, 3, 4, 5 and 7.5 mill thicknesses, single or double matte, in rolls or sheets up to 65 inches in width.

Foto Fax, the distributing firm, has had a tremendous growth under the guidance of Barill because of the quality of products and the knowledge of service to consumers in engineering and drafting fields.

It manufactures ammonia and semi-moist Diazo papers and in addition to manufacturing products, it distributes various drafting papers and polyester films.

Diaco is a new completely dry, erasable film produced by Specialty Coating.

Barill is a native of Detroit and received a bachelor's degree from the University of Detroit in 1952.

John H. Siddall is the plant manager and has 22 years experience in the field with several other firms.

Foto Fax is in a modern plant but has grown so fast that management has plans for a new plant due to the tremendous volume of business. The volume has been so great that the move is planned for the near future.

COMPLETELY MODERN Specialty Coating products in the state—and it is perfect that plant, 15169 Northville Road, in Plymouth Township, manufactures some of the most unusual Specialty Coating rather than try to match it.

Ford Payroll Highest in History

Employment and payrolls of Ford Motor Company and its subsidiaries in 1965 were the highest on record—both in the United States and worldwide.

Keeping pace with high car and truck sales in world markets, average Ford employment rose by more than 27,000 in 1965 and the company's worldwide payroll exceeded that for 1964 by more than $360,000,000. Worldwide employment averaged 364,487 men and women last year—and up from 336,841 in 1964. Worldwide Ford payrolls totaled a record $2,612,987,000, or 16 per cent more than 1964 payrolls of $2,252,142,000.

In the U. S., average hourly and salaried employment of Ford and its subsidiaries during 1965 was 217,741 and the total payroll was $2,062,348,000.

Compared with 1964 levels, employment increased by 20,153 from 197,578 and the payroll was up $311,931,000 from $1,750,917,000.

Gross average hourly earnings of $3.58 for Ford Motor Company hourly-rated U. S. employees set a high for any year in 1965—exceeding by 14 cents the previous years' average of $3.44.

Company employment in Michigan averaged 105,616 — 10,686 higher than the 94,930 men and women employed in 1964 and topping the previous record of 101,502 set in 1957.

GM Shows Big Gains In Livonia

While the City of Livonia has expanded greatly over the past five years, General Motors also has substantially increased the size of operations and employment at its Chevrolet Spring and Bumper and Fisher Body plants during that time.

Employe payrolls and expenditures to local companies for goods and services to the two plants have more than doubled from 1960 through 1965. Payrolls and local expenditures for last year reached $57.9 million compared with $27 million in 1960.

Employment has risen sharply too, averaging 6,626 during the past year. In 1960, employment totaled 4,800 persons.

The production capacity of the Livonia GM facilities has also increased in the last five year period. Although a relatively new automotive plant, Chevrolet Spring and Bumper has undergone several expansion and modernization programs since it was built in 1954.

The most recent addition of 500,000 sq. ft. for increased manufacturing was announced in 1964 and will be completed this spring. In addition to production of coil and leaf springs and bumpers for Chevrolet passenger cars and suspension components and springs for Chevrolet trucks, the plant contains one of the largest plating facilities in the nation.

In 1960, Fisher Body Division began a 200,000 sq. ft. expansion program of its Livonia plant. At present, the Fisher cut and sew facility contains 1,130,000 sq. ft. The plant produces seat covers, sun shades and door trim pads for Buick, Oldsmobile and Pontiac passenger cars.

Those words, over 2,000 years old, were never more true than they are today.

Never was the future so unpromising for the uneducated and unskilled.

While thousands of good paying jobs are going unfilled for lack of properly trained people, the uneducated are finding more and more doors closed to them.

The situation is destined to become even worse—unless we all act now.

We can start by doing more to train the unemployed.

We can make a greater effort to impress upon our children the importance of completing their education.

We can show more interest in our schools.

In the end, we will all benefit.

COMMUNITY PROTECTION..

IS EVERYONE'S CIVIC DUTY

COMMUNITY PROTECTION what does this mean to you . . . as an individual . . . as a corporate official . . . as a business owner or a public facility administrator . . . It is Everyones Civic Duty to do what he can to help and improve his community. At Centri-Spray Corporation, Community Protection means Air Pollution Control and Water Pollution Control. The Centri-Spray engineering and development staff are constantly seeking new methods of Air and Water Pollution Control, which will allow manufacturing processes to return pure, uncontaminated air to the atmosphere and prevent the release of undesirable waste materials to our lakes and streams. Water and Air are Every Community's most valuable natural resources, yet each day increased, uncontrolled, industrial and public use of these resources result in greater quantities of pollutants released to contaminate the air we breathe and the water we drink.

Scientific studies are tracing many respiratory conditions to breathing of polluted air, also some industrial by-products and domestic materials in daily use are producing chemical compounds in our drinking water whose long term effects on health are questionable.

These conditions must be controlled for every Community's Welfare and Protection, and they can be controlled with proper application of Centri-Spray Dust and Chemical Fume Collecting Systems for specific industrial processes, or installation of Centri-Spray Liquid Recovery Equipment and Water Pollution Control Systems.

Trojans Sink RU; Bulldogs Rout Parkers

Trenton, Bentley Win; Remain Deadlocked for Lead

The three-way tie for the lead in the Suburban Six basketball race dissolved into a two-way deadlock between Trenton and Bentley, each winning its fifth league game in six starts Friday night.

Trenton, the defending champ, shaded Redford Union, 87-83, and dropped the Panthers, now 4-2, out of first place into third while Bentley rolled over Allen Park, 65-62.

Trenton had to work much harder for its 10th win in 12 overall games than it had in an earlier meeting with Redford Union which resulted in an easy, 87-70, victory on the Panther court.

The Trojans led 25-22 after one quarter and built their margin to 51-38 at the half on the strength of 5-10 guard Dave Fisher's torrid shooting. Fisher pumped in 16 of his team's 26 points in the period.

Redford Union came back in the third period, outscoring Trenton, 24-14, to trail by only three (65-62) and cut its deficit to one (67-66) with five minutes to go, but could never quite catch up.

Fisher paced the winners with 33 points on 14 field goals and five free throws. Lee Bjerke, a 6-0 junior forward, canned 26 for Redford Union, and forward Bill Arnold, the team's top rebounder, added 21 despite missing nearly the entire second quarter with three personals, fouling out in the game's final minute. Center Doug Mach contributed 16.

Bentley, boasting an 11-2 season mark, broke open a tight game in the second quarter and coasted to an easy win.

Larry Grimm, a 6-3 forward, started his first game for the Bulldogs and led both teams in scoring with 17 points, eight coming in the second period when Bentley outscored the Monarchs, 18-8, to take a comfortable, 35-22, halftime lead.

Coach George Fefles emptied his bench after building a 51-33 third quarter margin and 14 players saw action, eight of them scoring. Guard Gary Faulkes sank 14 points for the winners while Gary Googan paced the Parkers with 11.

Chuck Catlett, a six-foot-one senior forward, broke the school scoring record with a 31-point effort to spark Plymouth's 66-40 decision over Belleville.

Catlett tallied 11 baskets and sank nine of 10 free throws to erase Ken Kisabeth's former mark of 30 set in the '52-'53 campaign.

Forward Mike Stakias added 10 points for the Rocks. Mike Armstrong's 13 paced the toothless Tigers which went down to their 12th consecutive defeat.

West Rips Kennedy, 93-48

Garden City West strengthened its hold on third place in the Tri River Conference by trouncing Taylor Kennedy, 93-48, Friday night in a foul-ridden encounter.

The referees called 74 fouls in the game played at Garden City, 45 against the home club which lost four men on fouls — yet the Tigers managed to outscore their taller opponents from the foul line.

Garden City hit 33 of 47 free throws to only 24 of 45 for the Eagles, despite a 16-foul edge for the visitors.

The Tigers' more aggressive play paid off in all facets of the game. They outshot Kennedy 41 to 26 per cent from the floor and outrebounced their foe, 61-34.

Garden City started slowly, building up a 20-16 margin after one quarter, then ran Kennedy practically out of the gym in the second period by outscoring the Eagles, 34-12.

Garden City's "mightymites" did all the damage.

Bo Ardell, a 5-foot-8 guard, got 13 of his 18 points in the second quarter. Partner Gary Slade at 5-foot-7 made 11 of his 17 in the same period to double the Kennedy point total.

Teammate Ford Simpson, a 5-9 forward, notched six of his 18 points in the second stanza to round out a fine day for the shorties.

Tiger center Bill Johnston dominated the boards with 19 rebounds and added 11 points to the victor's total.

The third period was a whistle-happy parade from the foul line to the bench. Simpson, Slade and sophomore forward Gary Robinson each fouled out for Garden City during that eight-minute period.

Sub George Domalski joined them on the bench one quarter later.

SHUTTING EYES TO this action is Bob Lorenz (32), of North Farmington, as he battles line. It was a losing cause for Lorenz since Al Jose (55) and Karl Gulbranson (45), of North Farmington absorbed a 65-48 loss.

C'ville Hits Rivals On Hot Night

Clarenceville had the misfortune to run into Northville on one of its finest nights and dropped a 66-45 struggle to the Wayne-Oakland leaders Friday.

The Mustangs outscored Clarenceville, 18-9, in the first quarter and added to its margin after each remaining period. It was 38-24 at halftime and 50-31 at the end of three quarters.

Northville hit 26 shots in 55 attempts for a sizzling 47 per cent while Clarenceville could only make 18 baskets in 63 tries for 29 per cent.

The Trojans held Jerry Insland, Northville's scoring ace, to seven points but forward Mark Cushing picked up the slack to lead the Mustangs with 20 points.

Forward Chris Hawkins paced Clarenceville with 19 points on eight baskets and three from the line while Mike Nye, a 5-6 junior guard, chipped in with eight second-half points.

Northville also whipped Clarenceville in a junior varsity game, 50-20.

Observer Photo by Gerry Gazda

NOW WHAT? That's the question Chris Hawkins (31), of Clarenceville, appears to be asking as three Northville High players close in on him. The trio includes: John Jameson (14), Jerry Insland (34) and Mark Cushing (40). Northville was hot and Clarenceville cold in the one-sided defeat.

Collegians Split Two Swim Meets

Schoolcraft College swimmers split a pair of dual meets during the past week, defeating University of Windsor, 55-29, and then losing to Detroit Tech, 58-34, at the Franklin High pool.

The split gave Schoolcraft a 3-5 season record. The collegians swing into action over the weekend with a double dual meet against Aquinas and Windsor. Both teams will be swimming against the others at the same time.

Schoolcraft won eight of 11 events against Windsor with Freshman Larry Fitzgerald, of Garden City, stealing the spotlight with a school record of 2:47.9 in winning the 200-yard butterfly.

He was one of the two double winners. Fitzgerald won the 50-yard freestyle in addition to the butterfly and Doug Jaskierney, sensational Plymouth Freshman, captured the 200-yard individual medley and the 500-yard freestyle.

Jaskierney won the medley against DIT while Ron Lotzenroth, of Southfield, took the 100-yard freestyle and Tom Carney, of Livonia, the lowboard diving.

OBSERVING SPORTS

By George Maskin

IT'S BEEN ONE of those weeks . . . Detroit, Fort Wayne, Boston, New York, Philadelphia . . . all stops on a busy parade in sports.

Yet, what we're going to talk about today originated in the kitchen of a residence up in the North Farmington school district where we were flanked on the right by Joe Falls, the new sports editor of the Free Press, and Jim Campbell, the general manager of the Detroit Tigers.

It has been our pleasure to know Campbell for several years, but always on a far more formal basis, like at a dinner or maybe during his working hours at Tiger Stadium.

There are many who pick Campbell apart for the way he has been running the Tigers.

If you could have sat next to him, you'd have strolled from the scene into several inches of snow with greater admiration than ever for the Tigers' G.M.

Campbell leaves you convinced that this could very well be the year for his Tigers.

"We have some great pitchers. We are strong in the infield. We're powerful in the outfield. We have a fine young catcher."

AFTER A PAUSE . . . Campbell talks on . . .

"We're somewhat concerned over our bullpen. But it could take care of itself with the likes of Terry Fox, Larry Sherry and Dave Wickersham."

"Would you trade for Dick Radatz of Boston?"

"Any day of the week. But they aren't about to give up Radatz."

We asked the G. M. about his infield . . .

"The way it looks now we'll go with Norm Cash, (Continued on Next Sports Page)

Falcons Push Waterford Into Third

The congestion at the top of the Inter Lakes basketball league cleared somewhat after Friday night's results were posted.

The four team loop had three teams tied for first place with 2-1 marks. Farmington and Pontiac Northern maintained their tie for the lead with wins but Waterford fell into third place, one game away, by losing.

The Falcons charged into a 23-13, first-quarter lead, faltered slightly in the second period when the Skippers rebounded to within three, 31-34, but cruised to a 24-10 third-quarter margin and swept home free. The final was 78-53.

Mike Wilson led four men in double figures for Farmington with 19 points. Mike Ames (17), Greg Dorow (14) and Steve Moore (11) helped the Falcons to their fourth straight win.

Rick Ziem scored 25 to pace Waterford which took the first meeting between the two teams, 68-57.

Farmington will meet Pontiac Northern in two weeks for the title. The Huskies outlasted winless Walled Lake, 83-76, on some late-game free throw heroics.

Invite 16 Area Schoolboy Teams to Baseball Tourney

The second annual Observer Newspapers-Livonia Optimist Club schoolboy baseball tournament will be the biggest and best to date with a total of 16 teams invited from the Observer circulation area.

That was the joint announcement Monday by Tournament Director Les Anders, athletic director of Stevenson High and chairman of the youth committee of the Optimist Club, and R. T. Thompson, managing editor, and George Maskin, sports editor of the Observer Newspapers.

Franklin High won the first tournament last spring, beating a field of 12 in the one-loss and out affair. The champions clashed with Plymouth High for the tourney crown.

"With the expansion of the Observer Group into Garden City and Nankin during the past year, it was decided to invite all 16 of the teams in the circulation area," said the announcement.

The schools invited are: Franklin, Bentley and Stevenson in Livonia; Redford Union, Thurston and St. Agatha in Redford; Farmington, North Farmington and Our Lady of Sorrows in Farmington; Garden City East and West; John Glenn and Wayne in the Nankin-Wayne area; Plymouth, Clarenceville and Northville.

Director Anders indicated the preliminary plans call for the tournament to start the second week in May and end on the final weekend. All games will be played under the lights (as far as possible) at Ford Field in Livonia.

In addition, the Observer Newspapers also have joined with the Optimist Club in sponsoring the annual Claude Snares Memorial Relays on the final Saturday in May or the first Saturday in June. The plans call for the championship and consolation games of the baseball tournament and the finals of the Relays to be held the same evening.

The Relay meet will be staged on the Bentley High track, as in the past, and the baseball championship at the nearby Ford Field.

"The first Observer-Optimist Club tournament attracted attention throughout the state and brought out a number of major league scouts for all sessions," said Anders.

"The tournament is just one of two currently scheduled in the state but we feel that from this beginning will come a demand for a state tournament in the not too distant future. However, such a tourney shouldn't interfere with our operation and we're hoping the Observer tourney will gradually become one of the state's best."

Baseball interest is high in all of the six communities served by the Observer including Livonia, Redford Township, Farmington, Clarenceville, Garden City, Nankin and Plymouth.

Each of the schools, with the exception of Stevenson High which is fielding its first team this spring, has been a contender for a league championship at some time or other in the past few years.

Thus the Observer-Optimist tourney not only settles the area championship but also could bring together champions of as many as three or four leagues.

The Snares Memorial Relays has gradually built up in recent years to the point where it is second only to the state championships and the annual Wayne Relays.

Anders indicated the field would be practically the same for the Relays as for the baseball tournament with the exception that Dearborn High and Dearborn Ford will be invited to replace the two area Catholic schools that do not sponsor track.

PETITE ELLEN ROBINSON leads Thurston High's cheerleaders in a plea for the basketball team to win and stay in the running for the league championship. Their efforts have worked in all but one league contest thus far. They hope the magic continues Friday when Thurston clashes with Groves.

Agatha Has Easy Time

St. Agatha's stout defense limited Ypsilanti St. John to a single field goal in the first quarter while the Irish were scoring 14 points on the way to an easy, 70-43 rout in a Southwest Second Division Catholic League match Friday night.

It was the fourth victory in 12 games for St. Agatha and the second of the season over the Crusaders who have only one win to show for 10 starts. The Irish took the first game, 46-43.

Agatha guard Pat Murphy sank 11 field goals and two charities to lead all scorers with 24 points. Pat Timmons and Dennis McKenna each chipped in with 12 points for the winners.

Chappelle led the Ypsilanti squad with 13 and teammate Mark Parin scored 12.

Switch from Track to Ice Pays Off Big

When you've got a name like Leiter, you've got to be a comedian. And although it took some doing, that's how Hans Leiter turned out.

Leiter, star of the Ice Capades of 1966, opening at Olympia Stadium for 13 days March 1, started out as a track athlete in his native Austria. He showed real potential in the broad jump and sprinting. But something was lacking... he didn't get any real satisfaction from it.

He switched to skating and was good enough to get the attention of Karl Schaefer, a former world's champion. Leiter studied under the watchful eye of Schaefer and soon developed into an accomplished skater.

His turn to comedy didn't seem a bit strange to him. He liked the sound of laughter. And Leiter has made an art of comedy.

"Basically, anyone can get a laugh by taking a flop," he says. "The problem is to do it artistically, unexpectedly and even with increasing sophistication."

Leiter handles his routine in the Ice Capades show just that way as he gives his hilarious version of "The Night Before Waterloo," using such demanding music as the Marseillaise, Hail Britannica and the Funeral March.

Basketball Game Aids Whittier Dime Drive

Whittier Junior High School went over the top in its drive to raise money for the March of Dimes on January 26.

The Whittier faculty quintet won a tightly contested basketball game over Emerson Junior High School.

An earlier game was played at Emerson as part of a co-operative March of Dimes Benefit. Whittier raised $46.64 in a lunchroom collection and $116.16 was donated at the basketball game, making a total of $162.80 to be sent in from the school.

Michigan State's 1965 victory over Purdue gave the Spartans the lead, 10-9 in the series between the schools.

Observing Sports

Jerry Lumpe, Dick McAuliffe and Don Wert. They can all do the job for us, we believe."

The outfield?

"Your guess is as good as mine or Charley Dressen's. We're very solid out there with Kaline, Demeter, Brown, Northrup and the others."

And what about Kaline's foot?

"Al reports that he is feeling great. He's working out every day. You have to feel sorry for the guy when you see what he had to experience last year with his mashed-up foot. It's amazing that he even played one inning."

(Three days later, Kaline sat along side of us at the Broadcasters luncheon. He looked fit and ready. "Can't wait until Feb. 15," he said. That's when he'll start training in Florida.

CAMPBELL ADMITS that the Kaline situation poses a big gamble.

"I could be shot around Detroit, if something happens and Al doesn't play. Or if he does play and doesn't do a job for us.

"But, I'm confident. I honestly think that Al will be the Kaline of the past for us. That's the risk a fellow in my position has to take."

Friend Falls, at whose home all the conversation was taking place, countered with a remark.

"Isn't that optimistic talk standard with the Tigers every year at this time?"

Campbell had to agree with Falls. But he added: "This year we honestly feel different. The way things finished last year has to encourage us as we prepare to take off for Florida in a few weeks."

FALLS ALSO WANTED to know why the Tigers won't start night games before 8 p.m.

"We just feel that the fans in Detroit prefer an 8 o'clock start," explained Campbell. "However, we have an open mind on the subject. Maybe next year we'll try starting at 7 or 7:30. Maybe earlier."

"With so many people living in the suburbs, it makes it tough for them to get home from work, change clothes and enjoy something to eat and get back to the ball park much before 8 o'clock."

What about interleague action whereby the Tigers could play the Los Angeles Dodgers, San Francisco Giants, etc., during the course of the regular season?

"We at the Tigers are all for such action," continued Campbell. "In fact, everybody in the American League favors the move. But there are three or four objectors in the National League. That's why the issue can't pass. It requires a three-fourths vote in each league."

"But in a few years... maybe five at the outset, you can be assured that there will be inter-league play and the Tigers will be entertaining Houston, the Chicago Cubs, St. Louis Cards, and all the other National clubs."

THE HOUR was running late, or maybe early. It was almost three a.m. and a trio of wives with Sunday morning problems facing them urged the gents to cut out the talk (the gals were going full blast on other subjects) and start for home.

Campbell asked for a few more minutes. He was relaxed and enjoying himself. Needless to say, so were Falls and a guy named Maskin.

"We're looking forward to spring training," the G. M. remarked. "We have a lot of work to do down there. It will be very interesting."

He said that the Tigers expected a flock of youngsters at their rookie school.

"You know, we watch over these kids like they were our own sons. All of our minor league managers and coaches must live in the Tigertown barracks. So do I. This means that we can't bring along our wives."

(There was a groan in the other room by Mrs. Campbell.)

All of which proved that Campbell wasn't doing anything he didn't want the others under him to do. He's just that kind of a guy.

The women in the other room finally won their point. We had to scam and head home.

Outside, the snow had reached the half-foot mark. Campbell borrowed our windshield scraper and remarked:

"I won't need one of these very soon. I wish it were time to leave for Florida already."

The guy standing along side of Campbell wished that he, too, could be scooting off to the warmer air of Florida in a week or two — with all expenses paid.

No such luck!

LEAGUE LEAD AT STAKE FRIDAY

Thurston, Groves in Showdown

There's probably a bright red circle on the calendar in the gym office of Thurston High School these days. You can find it on the Friday square of February 4.

That will be the day the Thurston basketball team travels to Birmingham to meet Groves in a game which will dictate whether the Eagles are to be Northwest Suburban title contenders or just a second-place outfit.

Groves has won 10 straight games, six coming in league play. Its latest conquest was an easy 84-69 decision over Oak Park Friday night.

Thurston owns a 5-1 Conference mark in a 10-3 season. Groves took care of the defeat.

The Eagles stayed one game off the pace by handing John Glenn its fourth straight loss, 76-64, in a game that promises to cause a few harsh words in the household of Mike Pasternak, Thurston coach.

Pasternak started a lineup of five seniors against the Rockets, a team handled with undue ease, 92-52, in December.

Not one of the starters was a regular though, to the chagrin of Mike's wife, Ann, a dyed-in-the-wool basketball fan. The first quarter ended 14-13 for the Eagles, a not-too-comfortable spread, to Ann's extreme displeasure.

Fortunately for the coach, his regulars resumed their proper positions in the second period and the situation was well in hand.

It was 35-26 Thurston at halftime and 62-38 at the end of three periods.

Forwards Gary Knock, Randy Samelson and guard Reggie Barringer each collected 13 points, Don Block and Bob Wardrop adding nine apiece to pace a balanced Eagle barrage, although game honors went to losers' Jerry Wright (22) and Lennie Wells (18).

The Thurston JV's also came out on top, 82-61.

RU Swimmers Crack Two Records And Lose

In Suburban Six swimming Friday night, Redford Union set a pair of school records but dropped a 61-44 meet to Trenton, Allen Park defeated Bentley, 59-46 and Belleville upended Plymouth, 63-42.

Steve Glazier was a double winner for the Panthers, taking the 200-yard freestyle in 2:02.8 and breaking his own school mark of 4:23.1 in the 400-yard freestyle with a 4:22.6 clocking.

FRANKLIN SCORED early and often to dump North Farmington, 65-48, and snap a four-game losing streak.

The win avenged a loss to the Raiders, 63-61, in the team's first meeting, North Farmington's only victory of the year in 10 games.

Al Jose, the Patriots' 6-3 senior center, led all scorers with 18 points and paced all rebounders with 13. Early Neely whipped home 14. Rick Schultz and Rick Lorenz shared 22 points for the Raiders equally.

The foursome of Tom Rice, Mark Favor, Lary Bort and Ray Wood cracked the school 400-yard freestyle relay record with a time of 3:48.5, eclipsing the old 3:53 standard. Rodney Charles won the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:15.2.

In a non-league meet last Tuesday, Franklin swamped Garden City West, 71-34. Hal Hultquist, Jud Kingsbury and Tom Bates combined with Ron Barkley to set a 200-yard medley relay school record of 1:49.1 and with Gregg Arnold in the 400-yard freestyle relay for a pool and school record time of 3:45.5.

Other Franklin winners: 200-yard freestyle — Lary Young, Time: 2:13.3. 200-yard individual medley — Scott Watkins, Time 2:30.8. Diving — Dave Gizzi. 110-yard butterfly — Ron Barkley, Time 1:00. 100-yard backstroke — Craig Erickson, Time 1:09.9. 400-yard freestyle — Dave Barr, Time 5:01.2. 100-yard breaststroke — Pat Zelak, Time 1:09.5.

Plymouth was led by Ron Witthoff who took the 100-yard backstroke in 1:05.5 and Biff Leonard, a 1:11.7 winner in the breaststroke. The two combined with John Skinner and Mark Wittaker to take the 200-yard medley relay in 1:55.

Bentley had one double winner in Dennis Rogissart who took the 100 and 200-yard freestyle.

Whether the youngster has a small foot or a large one, a wide one or a narrow one, there'll be a pair of shoes for him. And he can choose between high cuts or low cuts.

See Pistons And Get Free Shoes

High cuts or lows... for boys and girls.

There's still a chance for every Detroit area youngster, 16 and under, to pick up his (her) free pair of tennis shoes by attending Friday night's Detroit Pistons-New York Knickerbocker basketball game at Cobo Arena.

All a boy or girl has to do to get his free pair of sneakers is to purchase a regular $3 reserved seat. The Pistons, co-operating with the K-Mart stores, have ordered more than 6,000 pairs of shoes.

Pistons' officials report interest is running high in Friday's game and the special give-away. The biggest crowd of the season is expected at Cobo Arena.

In addition to seeing the Pistons meet New York, fans also will be treated to a college preliminary matching Detroit Tech against Alma College. The collegians will tip off at 6 p.m. with the NBA feature slated for 8 p.m.

Friday's battle between the Pistons and Knicks again will bring together the Van Arsdale twins, Tom of the Pistons and Dick of the Knicks.

Both have worked themselves into starting jobs, although Tom now is playing guard for the Pistons, while Dick is playing forward for New York. This will mean that they won't be guarding each other, something they did earlier in the season when both performed as guards.

The Knicks invade Cobo Arena with their strong front combination of Walt Bellamy and Ron Reed, a pair of potent scorers and rebounders. In the backcourt, the Knicks are led by Dick Barnett, who has been averaging better than 25 points during most of the season.

The Pistons, who were to meet the world champion Boston Celtics at home this Wednesday, have been moving along at a fast clip in recent weeks. The additions of John Barnhill and John Tresvant from St. Louis and the "blossoming out" of rookies Tom Van Arsdale and Ron Reed have played a big part in the recent successes of the Detroit cagers.

DUFFYISM OF THE WEEK— Asked how Hawaiian players Dick Kenney and Bob Apisa came to Michigan State, Michigan State's Head Coach Duffy Daugherty said: "First they had to swim to the mainland. That way we knew they had endurance."

Dewline

By JOHN DEW

The census department has just released figures that show that 92.4 percent of all households in the United States have a TV set. That perhaps explains the immense pressures and monies being poured into the media by networks and advertisers.

The competition has become so acute that word leaked out last week that Johnny Carson of NBC's "Tonight" show of success has put the pressure on guest artists to avoid doing a stint on the "Merv Griffin" TV if they want to stay in the good graces of Carson.

Griffin's night-timer is a syndicated vehicle of the Group W or Westinghouse chain and is carried in some areas in direct competition with the "Tonight" show. The whole thing is somewhat comparable to General Motors putting pressure on suppliers to avoid Studebaker.

Stand by for the annual deluge of paper publicity regarding the upcoming academy awards. This year more than any in the past it will be a very unpredictable race for most of the bouquets. It seems that there was no "knock-out" production to come out of the celluloid centers to rival the "Sound of Music," "My Fair Lady" or "Mary Poppins" successes of previous years.

The talk of the TV industry continues to be the overnight smash success of the "Batman" video vehicle. The tongue-in-cheek approach has captured not only the little lookers but also become a fad with college students and the "hip" adult set.

CKLW hosted a very successful March of Dimes Dance last Saturday. Among the talent in town for the affair: The Shangri-Las, Martha and the Vandellas, Lloyd Price, Mary Wells, and Billy Jo Royal.

Incidentally, Dave Prince tells us that his special guests on "Club 1270" this Saturday at

It takes a six-inch layer of moist snow or a 30-inch layer of dry snow to equal the water in a one-inch rainfall.

Nankin Mills Curtain Goes Up Feb. 1 in Wayne

Tom Kinjorski of Merritt Drive, Nankin Township, stars in the upcoming Nankin Mills production of "Bewitched, Bothered and Bewildered" Feb. 11 and 12.

Performances are scheduled at the John Glenn High School Auditorium.

The play is the basis for the current TV situation comedy "Bewitched."

Other characters in the play are: Alma Thomason, portrayed by Samone St. Charles of Detroit and Alma's Aunt Rina from Salem, Mass. Appearing in this role is Peg Knowles also of Merritt Drive.

In the play David is bothered because his wife professes to be a witch and unfortunately challenges her to prove it. He becomes bewildered as she takes faith with an old broom which has been in the family for generations.

Beside himself, David calls on Aunt Rina for assistance. She decides Alma is too far gone and resorts to exorcism with the help of David's boss, Frank Capwell, played by Paul Clark of Joy Rd. and his wife Grace, who in real life is Dorothy Shanklin of Livonia.

The reactions of nosy Mrs. Finnegan, their neighbor, played by Ann Irwin of Terri Drive, Livonia, the bedlam of the broom and that which it has caused the neighborhood, and the situations that arise, all help to make the story line.

Also in the cast are Carol Whalen of Hillcrest Blvd., Karen Isch of Plymouth, Ken Daniels of Belleville and Kent Ebere of Livonia.

Wally Roberts UP' GOING CURTAIN

Harold Pinter's "The Caretaker," a disturbing drama that produces provocative thoughts, is being given brilliant exposure by three able, talented Detroit actors ... at the Concept East Theater in Detroit on East Adams.

The Concept East is Detroit's answer to off-Broadway "The Caretaker" is playing just off Woodward Avenue for those of you that would welcome a week-end relief from the living room "boob tube" and the wide, wide, usually vacant-silly silver screen.

Mark Murri, John Kinney, Lee O'Connell, and Dave Rambam are certain there must be some people in the sprawling suburban area that want their brain box jogged. This ambitious quartet reopened the Concept East after its unfair closing by the Detroit Police Department.

"The Caretaker" enjoyed long runs in London and New York. The Concept East production is Detroit's second look at this exciting play. The Stables Theater did a version a couple of years ago. The run was far too short. Producer Dave Ram-

Festival To Draw Area Teens

Teenage musicians from all the high schools in the area serviced by The Observer Newspapers will participate in the Solo and Ensemble Festival Feb. 12 and 19 at the Highland Park High School.

Sponsored by District 12 of the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association the festival will draw on students from four south Michigan counties.

According to Festival Chairman Frank Wilson of Garden City "The festival this year year will be the largest inter-school event in the state. Nearly 5,000 students will participate in more than 3,000 events."

Roy Ernst of the Livonia School System told The Observer that the participation in the event from this area is wide. "Every school will be represented," he asserted.

Participating students spend many weeks of hard work preparing a solo or ensemble to perform before an adjudicator, according to Ernst. The adjudicator then writes a helpful critique and rates the students on a scale of one to five. Students who receive a rating of "one" participate in a statewide festival in April.

Siamese Kitten Contest Begins

In conjunction with the Walt Disney film "That Darn Cat" starring Hayley Mills, The Terrace Theatre in Livonia is sponsoring a "Win A Siamese Kitten Contest."

According to Terrace Manager William Marcus not one, but two first prizes will be awarded to children through the auspices of the Michigan Humane Society.

All that is necessary to win is to write a short letter on the statement "How people can be nice to cats and kittens." This letter should be mailed to the Siamese Kitten Contest, Terrace Theatre, 30400 Plymouth Rd., Livonia.

Included in the letter should be your age and your parent's consent to winning a kitten.

In addition to the kittens the first place winners will receive a kitten bed, toys and other items from the Montgomery Wards store at Wonderland and medical prevention care from the humane society.

Consolation prizes will also be awarded. The contest ends March 1.

The Walt Disney film will be shown at the Terrace Feb. 16 through March 1.

Judges for the Win a Siamese Kitten Contest are: Joseph Andrews, executive secretary of the Michigan Humane Society; Tom Becker, Montgomery Wards; Wally Roberts, Observer Newspapers; and Bill

Holds Over Film
The management of the Livonia Cinema Theatre has announced that it will hold over "Those Magnificent Men in Their Flying Machines" for a seventh and final week. The Doris Day comedy "Do Not Disturb" scheduled to open this week will be shown at a later date.

KIRK DOUGLAS tries to resume marital relationship when he discovers his divorced wife, played by Ulla Jacobson, is also a member of the Norwegian Resistance in Anthony Mann's "The Heroes of Telemark." The Columbia release is now showing at the Mai Kai Theatre.

AT CLASSIC 'All's Well' Well Done

By WALLY ROBERTS
Shakespeare's "All's Well That Ends Well" as performed by the Hilberry Classic Theater Company gives ample evidence that the 1966 company has reached a new peak of perfection. All is so well with this classic production that Old Wally is ready to give the entire Hilberry Classic company a standing ovation.

Director Richard Spears deserves a lion's share of the credit for his brilliant directorial concept. He has taken "All's Well" out of the 17th Century and moved into the 20th century without jarring Shakespeare's lovely poetry.

The actors have taken to this play so avidly that you sit enraptured the entire evening. Speech after speech rings true and clear. All the nuances and philosophy hit their mark. George Wright as Forolles struts and frets magnificently. His facile facial expressions, his pseudo-posturing, and his meaningful delivery of those difficult Shakespearean speeches gives the character a true universality.

Ellen Varian as Bertram's mother is excellent. Her grasp of the aged mother is complete and etched beautifully. Borden Marshall, Robert Orman, Marjorie Lerstorn, Ingrid Sonnichsen, Pat Criner, Philip Davidson, Wil-

Wayne Ladies Slate Theatre Party Feb. 25

The theater party staged annually by the Farmington-Livonia alumnae club of Women of Wayne will be held Friday, Feb. 25, at the Farmington Players Barn when the Players put on the comedy "George Washington Slept Here."

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. The barn is located at Twelve Mile and Orchard Lake Rd.

The Wayne State University alumnae group uses proceeds from the party each year to contribute to a WSU scholarship fund and finance its service project, aiding needy families in the Farmington area.

This year an afterglow party is scheduled at the Danish Inn on Grand River.

Reservations for the performance may be made through chairman Betty Zann, 31718 Summers, Livonia, GA. 2-8141.

Theatre Guild Sets Comedy

Fresh from its highly successful production of Anthony Newley's "Stop the World, I Want to Get Off" the Livonia-Redford Theatre Guild will present its second play of the current season — "Lullaby," a comedy by Don Appell — on Feb. 25 and 26 at Franklin High auditorium.

"Lullaby," the story of what happens when a middle-aged bachelor decides to cut out from the apron strings of a domineering mother, is being directed by Edgar Guest III.

A 1960 graduate of Dennison University, Guest spent three years in Ohio summer stock as an actor and director, played Japan, Korea and Okinawa for the State Department in "The Man Who Came to Dinner," and toured the Eastern United States in a one-man show on American Humor. In the past few years he has established himself as one of the most respected actor-directors in the Detroit area.

Howard Egan, a 10-year Guild veteran heads the cast in the lead role of Johnny. Egan, a branch manager for the Dictaphone Corporation, has recently appeared in feature roles in "Dark At The Top of The Stairs," "Harvey," "Guys and Dolls," and "Bye Bye Birdie."

Opposite Egan is Lorene Brooks, the female lead, as Eadie. A graduate of the Massachusetts School of Art, Mrs. Brooks broke into show business as a folk singer on a weekly radio show and previously served the Guild as assistant director on "Time of the Cuckoo," and "Show Train."

The third production of this year's University of Detroit Theatre season, Thornton Wilder's "The Skin of Our Teeth," opens Friday, Feb. 4 in the U. of D. Theatre on the third floor of the McNichols Campus Library.

Director Alan Jorgensen of the U. of D. Theatre faculty describes the three act comedy as "A Pulitzer Prize-winning study of the extraordinary adventures of an indestructible family which survives a thousand calamities and a million years. Using the largest cast in U. of D. history, "The Skin of Our Teeth" employs over 40 members of the Players and the community group, the Players Associates.

"The Skin of Our Teeth" premiered at the Plymouth Theatre in New York in 1944 under the direction of Elia Kazan. The characterizations of Frederick March, Tallulah Bankhead and E. G. Marshall earned immediate critical acclaim and spurred the play on to become one of the most popular works in dramatic history.

Running for three consecutive Friday-Sunday weekends from its February opening, the U. of D. production closes Sunday, Feb. 20. For ticket information call the U. of D. Theatre at 342-1000, ext. 207.
