ADDITIONAL MILLAGE or industrial and commercial expansion. That's the financial picture painted for the Plymouth Community by Harold Fischer, Director of the Area Planning Authority, in his address before the Businessmen's Forum. He's shown with one of the charts telling of the community needs for only $23 million to answer school problems.

"Surrender Planning Rights" Urges Area Expansion Director

A plea for the various governmental units to surrender their planning rights and form an area planning commission with authority to do exactly that for the entire community was made by Harold Fischer, director of the Plymouth Community Area Planning Authority, in a talk before the Businessmen's Forum in the Mayflower Meeting House.

The program attracted more than 60 and was one of the best attended in the more than a year of Forum meetings. "We are in a bit of a bind in this matter of expanding the commercial and industrial tax base of the community to build up school taxes," said Fischer. "We can't control where water mains and sewer lines go. We don't have enough sites that meet the requirements of water, sewer and class A roads. That's why I firmly believe the governmental units should surrender the planning to an area board."

Fischer pointed to the 99 acre site, acquired by Loren Gould of Plymouth, located on Ann Arbor Road near the intersection of Lilley Road as the best suited in the area for industrial and commercial expansion. Fischer told the Forum that there are 1,485 new homes on the planning board at the moment for the area. It estimated that it costs the community $427 per home to send children to the schools. He figured that the school district would need an additional five and a half mills to raise the needed amount of $632,610 to cover the costs of students from the new homes.

"This means that the Planning Authority is faced with the prospect of adding $23 millions of assessed valuation in industrial and commercial expansion," he pointed out. He quoted figures from the school administration that projects an additional 1,798 students in the next five years and added that the valuation behind each child has dropped from $21,300 in 1961 to $17,188 in 1966. "Of the 1,485 new homes planned for the area, we figure each will add 1.85 children to the school system," he stated. "It costs $527 annually to educate one child, of this $323 comes from the state and $225 from local taxes. However, there is a cost of $974 per home and we are collecting only $548. It is that deficit of $426 per home that we have to make up in some way. "We are hoping it will be through the industrial and commercial expansion and the ef-orts of the Area Planning Authority. As you can readily see, that is quite a chore and we need all the assistance we can get from the various governmental units." He mentioned the expansion of Evans Products which has added almost $6.5 million in additional facilities in the past three years as another example of what is going on in the community. "However, we feel we should expand our responsibilities to take over all forms of planning in the community. We believe we will be able to work better with prospects if we know exactly what we can promise," he said. "The simple matter is that we need more goods on our shelves and the only way we can get it is through a lot more concrete cooperation by all units involved." Fischer indicated that under the provisions of Public Act 281 the governmental units could surrender all areas of planning to a planning authority and he recommends it.

Japanese Teacher Finds Students Same All Over

Tamoyoshi Genkawa, a Fulbright Scholar from Japan, who is currently touring the United States as part of his six-months course, is much intrigued with the Plymouth School system. Tamoyoshi, who ends a 10-day stay in the community Saturday, has been the guest of various teachers from the Plymouth High faculty with the aim of getting some ideas of how teachers, students and people react in a typical small city.

"We have stadiums with capacities of 60,000 to 70,000 and they are filled for most every game. We have a combination of some players from the United States built around some excellent Japanese players. "We have an all-Japan high school basketball tournament that stars with more than 20,000 teams and ends with a champion. The schools have their cheerleaders, bands and everything just like here."

The teaching system is a bit different from that here. The classes, because of their size, are largely lecture courses with the teachers doing the talking and the students the listening. And as in the United States, there is a decided shortage of science and math teachers.

As Tamoyoshi explains it, "Who wants to teach at the low annual pay when he can get a job in industry that pays much more. Business and industry grabs off all the math and science just as soon as they are graduated."

Tamoyoshi spent the first weekend of his Plymouth visit with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wager and family on Hines Drive. Wager is a teacher at Plymouth High.

JAPANESE FAN brings smiles to the face of Cindy Wager as she accepts a gift from Tamoyoshi Genkawa, a Japanese Fulbright scholar, who was visiting her parents while inspecting the Plymouth School system.

Thus far he has discovered the students are just about the same all over the world. "They are just as hard or as easy to handle in the United States as in Japan," he said in an interview. "The only difference is that in Japan we have an average classroom load of 58 students where teachers here handle only 30 or 32 at one time. "However, we teach only three classes a day where the instructors in Plymouth have five classes. In the overall picture, the classroom load for a day is about the same, in the neighborhood of 150 pupils."

Tamoyoshi, who has been taking courses at San Francisco State College, finds the high school youngsters are just about the same. "It doesn't make any difference where you go," he said. "The students have the same manner of dress, their dances, if one wants to call them that, are about the same. A lot of arm waving, body wiggling and the loudest music anyone could imagine."

But he is quick to point out that there is quite a difference in the pay scale in the United States compared to Japan where he received $180 per month for 12 months. Tamoyoshi teaches in a small private school at a city of 100,000 near the large industrial center of Osaka in southern Japan. He has been an instructor for four and a half years.

His description of the school system there fits in well with the plans in the United States. The high school is a six-year course—three years junior-high and three in senior high—followed by four years in college, if one can afford it. The high schools have a sports program, concentration on baseball, swimming and gymnastics. "Right now baseball is the big sport in Japan," he smiles.

Hot Debates Mark Council Session

Dispute Over Land Sale Forces Revocation Order

After hearing a charge that reflected on the integrity of the City Manager, members of the Plymouth City Commission Monday voted to reconsider a previous action and ordered new, closed bids submitted for the purchase of city-owned land near Snyder's Furniture Store on Ann Arbor Trail.

The implied charges were made by James Roberts, who along with G. D. Snyder, had submitted an offer to purchase. Earlier in the meeting, the Commission received a report from the City Manager that Snyder had made an offer of $4,100, accompanied with a check for $500 as a good faith bond, and Roberts had submitted an offer of $4,000.

Snyder indicated in his letter that he needed the land for expansion of his present building and intended using the additional land for parking facilities. Roberts stated in his communication that he planned on erecting an office building. After due consideration, the Commission voted to sell the land to Snyder as the person making the highest offer.

That action stood until shortly before adjournment, when Roberts asked to be heard and during his comments told the Commission that he had presented his letter to the City Manager late Monday afternoon with the understanding that the item might be on the agenda or it might be held over until the second meeting in February. During the conversation with Blodgett, Roberts told the Commissioners that he had been

Detroit Trust Opens New Plymouth Branch

Detroit Bank and Trust opened its 69th office Tuesday morning at the Plymouth Township location on Ann Arbor Road near the intersection of Lilley Road. That was the announcement made jointly by Board Chairman Raymond Perring and President Charles Hewitt. The new branch will be located at the southeast corner of Ann Arbor and Lilley Roads. It will be housed in a temporary trailer until a permanent center is erected. Plans for the facility have been approved by the Township Planning Commission and the Township Board.

In announcing the new branch, Perring and Hewitt observed: "The area surrounding the new office is experiencing a rapid growth and we are pleased to be a part of these growing communities in Western Wayne County." The new branch will serve residents of southern Plymouth, Southern Plymouth Township and western Livonia. Eldon Morgan, formerly manager of the Detroit Bank and Trust office at Warren and Junction in Detroit, has been named manager of the new office. He has been with the bank since 1946. The banking hours will be 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and until 7:30 p.m. on Friday. Detroit Bank also has another branch in Plymouth Township on the edge of the Lake Pointe subdivision at Wilcox and Shadywood Roads.

The Plymouth Community Mothers' March for the March of Dimes campaign netted an unofficial total of $3,043.39 on Feb. 1, an increase of approximately $400 over the efforts of a year ago. That was the report of Mothers' March Chairman Mrs. Roger Corey who indicated the total will be boosted by all direct mailings into the Detroit headquarters. The marchers left many "Sorry we missed you" envelopes which may be mailed in and will be credited to the Plymouth Community.

Grade School Band Prepares for Concert

Grade school boys and girls in the Redford Union north end honor band meet every Wednesday under the leadership of their conductor, John R. Avolio.

The children are fifth and sixth graders who have been studying instruments since the summer before their fifth grade in school. Fifth graders have been learning to play instruments for eight months; sixth graders for 20.

The North End Band will make its first appearance for Keeler Mothers' Club on Wednesday, March 2. It will also perform for Stuckey Mothers' Club and Volney Smith P.T.A.

The band will give an afternoon concert for the students in each of the three participating schools and also will play in a spring concert.

Redford Union's elementary instrumental program begins at the end of the fourth grade, when all students are eligible to begin song flute, a pre-band instrument. Boys and girls who show aptitude in this program are recommended to begin study during the summer on band instruments.

Instrumental instruction is continued in small classes during the school year, and each school has a band. A total of 125 students is in the band programs at Keeler, Stuckey and Volney Smith Schools. Those who show extra talent are selected to play in the honor band.

In a similar program, pupils from Bulman, Roosevelt, Westland and MacGowan Schools play in the Redford Union south end honor band under Dorothy Meadows and Dave Kelton.

College Board Supports Moelke Freeway Proposal

The Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees, which has expressed a willingness to sit down with the Livonia City Council to discuss the I-96 freeway snarl. Wednesday passed a resolution concurring with the position of Mayor Harvey Moelke.

The resolution reads "The Schoolcraft College Board concurs with Mayor Harvey Moelke's reported position that the proposed I-96 freeway should be an urban type sunken expressway."

"The Board also believes the location should be the one the College agreed to before the purchase of the building site at the intersection of Seven Mile and Haggerty Roads in Livonia."

There has been a report that the Council instructed its secretary to send a letter to the Trustees setting up a joint meeting to discuss the problem. The letter had not arrived on the campus as late as Monday afternoon.

The highway snarl developed when officials of the State Highway Department sat down with the Trustees and told them of a proposed plan to extend the highway along Haggerty Road west of the campus.

This involves chopping off a large share of the student parking lot, all of the faculty parking facilities and part of the visitors' section. It also would slice some 210 feet from the front or western side of the college campus.

The proposal brought roars of protest from the Board which indicated it had been told, prior to the start of construction of the facilities now in use, that the highway would extend across the eastern side of the campus.

Inasmuch as the final decision rests with the Trustees, they informed the State Highway official they would not agree to the proposed plans and asked that they present alternatives that could be studied.

As far back as three years ago, the Trustees were informed by State Highway officials that they should build the campus as close to Haggerty Road as feasible since the proposed freeway would skirt the eastern end of the land.

Acting in accordance with that information, the College Board placed the Administration building facing Haggerty Road with the Library a short distance away south and east.

The student parking lot has an entrance from Haggerty Road as does the visitors and faculty lots.

The plans as proposed would cut off a third of the student lot, half of the visitors and all of the faculty facilities.

It would mean that the Administration building would be in the rear of the campus instead of the front and would force a complete change in the Board's planning.

Part of the reason for the change in the Highway Department plans came when the Livonia Council refused to accept plans for a route at the eastern end of the campus, stating that it would cut a portion of the city away from the rest.

Furthermore, the Council pointed out that there are plans for a subdivision of homes in the $40,000 to $50,000 class for the area through which the highway would pass.

The Councilmen and Mayor Moelke are just as adamant as the College Board that the Highway Department will have to revise its thinking. That's the way the matter stands right now.

Livonia Mall to Entertain Ladies, Kids with Programs

Two major events are on tap this week and next for ladies and youngsters of the area, according to an announcement by the Livonia Mall Merchants' Association.

The famous Puppetville Players are slated to entertain young children of the area Friday evening and Saturday morning and afternoon when the Livonia Mall Shopping Center will host youngsters from three to 12 years at three special shows.

All youngsters are invited to attend any one of the three shows in the Community Room of the huge enclosed Center.

The first is scheduled for Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. with two shows on Saturday, at 10 a.m. and the final at 2 p.m. All seats will be on a first come first served basis, according to Jerry Silberman, president of the Merchants' Association.

Tuesday, February 15, is Ladies Day and a host of surprises are planned for the ladies.

Main attraction is a theater party starting at 10 a.m. Tuesday, with free admission to a Hollywood feature film in Cinema I located in the Mall.

"The merchants felt they would like to do something for the ladies and have invited them to be their guests at the movie and then spend the rest of the day browsing and shopping in the Mall," said Silberman.

"We feel the girls deserve a day a week away from their household duties. If they can't get baby sitters, we'd like them to bring their under-school-age children too," he added. A "ladies day" is planned for every Tuesday.

PUPPETVILLE PLAYERS and their friends Peter and Barbara Rekenbeil will be at the Livonia Mall Shopping Center to entertain youngsters between three and 12 years old Friday evening and Saturday. The famous puppets which have appeared all over the world were conceived and are operated by the Rekenbeils, shown above with four of their charges.

Gorney, of 1611 S. Van Buren, Bay City; Paula Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Schmidt of Saulte Ste. License Suspended

The Michigan Department of State has suspended the driving license of Milton E. Olds, 22, of 12065 Beck Rd., Plymouth, for an unsatisfactory driving record.

Clowns, Animals, Acts — Not One Child Lost

More than 2,500 youngsters from Livonia and Clarenceville public and parochial elementary schools, all members of the Safety and Service Patrols, had their annual day at the Shrine Circus last week and thoroughly enjoyed every minute of the two-hour performance.

It was the 13th annual visit for the youngsters under the sponsorship of the Livonia Police Officers Association, the co-operation of the Livonia Fire Department, and the financial assistance of the Shrine Club, which furnishes the tickets.

It was the 13th time that Sgt. Robert Baumgartner, of the Livonia Police Department, headed the party and he termed it the "biggest and best to date."

"We didn't lose a single child," said Sgt. Baumgartner. "We are quite proud of that since there was a time a few years back when we transported all of the youngsters via a C&O train to the State Fairgrounds."

"Now, it is all with school busses, furnished by the kindness of the Livonia Board of Education and the school administration which also allowed many of the teachers to accompany the youngsters."

A buddy system is used to help assure the safety of the youngsters; each child is assigned a buddy and it is the responsibility of each to make sure that his or her buddy is with him or her when they board the busses for the trip back to the schools.

More than 35 police officers, firemen and Shriners accompanied the youngsters in the more than 50 busses.

The children came from all of the elementary schools in addition to St. Michael's Catholic Church, St. Paul, Peace and Faith Lutheran Churches.

Explosion Destroys Everything

The home, clothing and possessions of Mr. and Mrs. Heinz Goese at 21724 Albion, Farmington Township was utterly destroyed Tuesday morning when an explosion rocked the house and surrounding neighborhood. No one was injured.

Officer Mirl Spencer of the Farmington Township force told The Observer that he was sitting in a police car about four blocks away when the explosion occurred at 11 a.m. "It shook the vehicle slightly," he said, "but sounded just like a sonic boom and that's what I thought had happened."

"When the call came over the radio a moment later, however, I started for the scene and was there within a moment."

Six pieces of fire fighting equipment were called to the scene and firemen battled the blaze for more than an hour and a half. However, the damage was complete. The Goeses have nothing other than what they were wearing at the time of the accident left.

The explosion which caused the fire occurred while Consumers Power workmen were removing a meter in the utility room. Spencer told The Observer that he had obtained a statement at the scene that no one was smoking at the time of the incident and it was not immediately known what the cause of the blaze was.

At the time of the explosion only Mrs. Dora Goese was present in the house. Her husband was at work and the couple's two daughters, Marian and Ramona, were in school.

Mrs. Don W. Danforth of 22228 Albion, about a block from the Goese home, told The Observer that the parents would be staying with them for the time being.

The two Goese girls will stay with another neighbor, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kneezes at 22189 Albion, just across the street from the Danforths.

Farmington Township officials said that the Goeses could probably apply to the Oakland County Welfare Authorities for aid in relocating.

Consumer's Power Slates $2.4 Million Expansion

More than $2.4 million will be invested by Consumers Power Company during 1966 in its West Wayne Division, headquartered in Livonia, on projects to expand and improve natural gas service in the area.

James P. Thomas, West Wayne division manager for the company, made the announcement.

Thomas said the major project for the year will be the continued expansion of the gas distribution system, with the installation of over 50 miles of new gas pipelines and the addition of 3,800 new gas customers to the division system.

Related projects include the completion of the Farmington road project begun last year. This involves the replacement with new, larger pipeline of the main connecting Plymouth and Eight Mile roads, necessitated by the widening of Farmington road.

Thomas said the division at present provides natural gas to 63,000 customers in an area encompassing 280 square miles of western Wayne county, including the communities of Farmington, Livonia, Wayne, Northville, Novi and Plymouth.

He said the 1966 construction program is part of Consumers Power Company's state-wide expansion and improvement program, in which the company is investing a record $134 million this year.

Consumers Power Company has 950,000 electric customers and 700,000 gas customers in a combined service area which encompasses all but one of the 68 counties of Michigan's Lower Peninsula, outside Detroit proper.

MONEY AT BARGAIN PRICE; CAR FOR 22 CENTS

Wonderland Makes Plans for Washington's Birthday Sale

Final preparations were made this week at Wonderland Shopping Center for one of the most unusual Washington's Birthday

Sales ever staged in the Detroit area. The event, patterned after Washington's Birthday sales staged throughout the country, will include for the first time the actual sale of United States currency.

Ernie Epps, promotional director of the center at Plymouth and Middlebelt Roads, said, $5,000 in cash will be sold on Feb. 22, at a flat 22 per cent discount. "We intend to sell this money on a first-come, first-served basis with no strings attached. Our only stipulation is that only one bill will be sold to each customer and only in the denominations we have selected."

Epps said that plans call for the sale of five 100-dollar bills, 10 fifties, 100 twenties, 100 tens, 100 fives, and 500 one-dollar bills.

The sale, at a booth in the center of the mall, will continue until the supply of money is exhausted.

Other highlights of the five-day value event include the sale of a 1959 Ford station wagon, complete with radio, heater, white sidewall tires, and 1966 license plates. The car has been completely refinished and is on display now at Wonderland.

The car will be sold for 22 cents to the person whose name is selected at a drawing to be held Feb. 22, at 3 p.m.

Registration for the vehicle can be made up until 7:30 p.m. on that date. Official entry blanks are available at most Wonderland stores.

In separate contests buyers will be selected for a portable television set, courtesy of Montgomery Ward; 100 gallons of Wards gasoline; a pair of Northland skis, courtesy of Griswold Sporting Goods, and a boy's or girl's 26" bicycle.

All will be sold for 22 cents to persons whose names are selected February 17-18-19 and 21. A registration booth will be maintained near the center of the Wonderland Mall.

"Aside from these spectacular bargains, Wonderland merchants have joined hands in probably the greatest sale-event of the year," Epps said. "Nearly all of the 56 stores at Wonderland will offer sensational specials during this zany sale event."

"Most of the bargains will be featured in a special supplement of the Observer Newspapers on Wednesday, Feb. 16. Other bargains will be advertised on Feb. 20.

"We're really excited about the 'Money Sale' and also the other 22-cent specials," he continued. "Where else is there an opportunity to buy 100-dollar bills for only 22 cents? Of course, supplies are limited and I urge everyone interested in 'buying money' to be here early."

The sale of money is open to persons of all ages, except employees of Wonderland Center and its advertising agency. Registrations for the car are limited to adults but children are invited to register for the skis, television set and bike.

COUNTING CASH—Checking a stack of money, $5,000 in assorted denominations—are John Michlewicz, manager of the Livonia National Bank branch office at Wonderland, and Mrs. Helen Burdette, Wonderland Merchants' Council secretary, prior to a "Money Sale" to be staged Feb. 22, at Wonderland Center.

Wonderland Center is going to sell $5000 in real cash — at a flat 22% discount!

The sale will start at 10 a. m., Tuesday, February 22 BE THERE!

And, if you really like bargains, consider this: we're going to sell a 1959 Ford wagon, a TV Set, a bike, a pair of skis and 100 gallons of gasoline — all at 22 cents!

BE THERE!

Plymouth Club To Hear History Program Feb. 10

Plymouth Historical Society will meet in the Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union building on S. Harvey St. on Thursday, Feb. 10, at 7:30 p.m. The program will be presented by Harry Reeves concerning Pioneer Plymouth.

Last month, Karl Starkweather gave an early telephone history in Plymouth. In about 1866, people could contact friends and relatives by calling John Gales general store, where the National Bank of Detroit now stands, and have their messages relayed. There were two early telephone companies, the Independent and the Bell. The late Chauncy Rauch was treasurer of the latter.

The first switch board was about half the width of an ordinary door. The first directory was a printed card about 5x10 with about 125 names. The population was then about 1500. They later issued a second and a third card and then the first book directory.

A memorial was conducted by Frank Henderson for departed members Leona Harer, Edmund Watson and William Kaiser.

The museum is open every Saturday and Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. or by appointment for groups. Recently scout groups and the Newcomers clubs visited the museum.

Sears Shows New 'Dream' Appliances

Now on the market and available at Sears, Roebuck and Co., are two new and exclusive kitchen appliances. What has been a decorator's nightmare, (the very useful and needed stove and refrigerator.) is now a homemaker's and decorator's dream come true.

The Coldspot TwinDor Cupboard refrigerator-freezer is offered with a choice of six decorator-front panel styles, which can be replaced when the mood suits you to do so, for a nominal cost and simple enough to do yourself. Functional as well as beautiful, it also is spacious.

A "Swingmaster" bottom is a frostless freezer compartment with a basket arrangement permitting the entire contents, including ice cubes, to swing out with the freezer door.

The front decorator panels are available in Provincial, Frontier, French Elegance, Empress, Contemporary Walnut and Birch styling.

The problem of right or left hand models is completely eliminated by the swing-out twin-door principle. The twin doors seal tightly in the middle without use of a center post.

The Kenmore Classic pilotless gas range is electronically-ignited, operated on a principle of electric arcs igniting a flame within two seconds after the burner is turned on. The "pilotless" concept promises advantages of safety and economy.

All parts, including a glass-covered control panel, stainless-steel back panel, and all porcelain interior, requires no scouring and can be wiped clean with a damp cloth. Decorator styles in the ranges come in white, coppertone or a completely new walnut finish.

200-Yard Freestyle Mark

The 200-yard free style record Steve Glazier set a week before didn't last very long.

Burglar Foiled by Night Guard

Two men were evidently foiled in a robbery attempt Feb. 5 at Rapistan-Keystone, Inc., on Nine Mile Rd. in Farmington by a security guard.

William Everside, an employee of Southfield Security Patrol, told Farmington Police that he entered the building at 1:54 a.m. and saw two men, one of whom was armed, running toward the rear of the building and out the back door. He radioed his office, which in turn contacted the City of Farmington and the Farmington Township Police.

Police found office desks searched, but evidently nothing of value was taken. Police also found tire tracks at the corner of Gill Rd. and Lytle where a car had been parked.

AUDREY S. LAMBERT, 24723 Lehigh, Dearborn, was the fourth recipient of free license plates awarded every Tuesday at Wonderland Center, Plymouth and Middlebelt Townships. A check, covering the entire purchase price of her '66 license was presented to Miss Lambert by Lou Segal, a member of the Wonderland Merchants' Council.

Manufacturer's Opens Facility in Township

Farmington Township officials will be on hand to help open the Township's newest banking facility Thursday, Feb. 10 at 9:30 a.m. when the Manufacturer's National Bank formally opens its new building at Orchard Lake and 13 Mile Rd.

Supervisor Curt Hall, Clerk Floyd A. Cairns and Treasurer Mrs. Elsie Avery will be present along with bank officials and the general public.

An open house is scheduled from 9:30 to 5:30 p.m. on Thursday and 9:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Friday to inaugurate the facility.

The building, designed by Leonard G. Siegal Associates, replaces the facility at 31555 W. 13 Mile Rd. It is built in the colonial style architecture.

Featured at the open house will be a display of the Bank's Origami Exhibit, money folded into delicate figures by craftsmen skilled in the ancient oriental art of paper folding.

Included in the building are nine teller's windows, a large safety deposit and vault area, three drive in windows, a night depository, coupon booths and a conference room.

Manager of the new office is J. Milford Biscoomb. A Farmington Township resident, Biscoomb is a member of the Kismet Lodge 489 F&AM, the Westbrook Shopping Center Association and the Kendallwood Kiwanis Club.

Child to Gain by Ladies' Drive

Little Pablo Enrique Torrentes Alvarez of Costa Rica will have a full tummy and adequate clothes next year because some women educators half a hemisphere away care enough for all children to assume the responsibility of supporting one little stranger.

They are members of the Southern Oakland County Association for Childhood Education. Farmington's unit is planning a series of card parties in member's homes Feb. 18 at 7:30 p.m. to raise their share of Pablo's support.

Opening their homes for the event are Laura Morris, 33147 Tall Oaks, Farmington; Jean Ralph, 28370 Bella Vista, Farmington; and Marvel Ide, 17284 Warwick, Detroit. Donation is $1.

The planning committee, Niva Orr, Milly Bennett, Audrey Schmedlen and Esther Bell Greenfield have announced that they would accept contributions whether or not reservations were desired for the evening of cards.

Ends Basic Training

Marine PFC Terry V. Donner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Donner, 28475 W. Chicago Blvd., Livonia, has completed training with the Basic Infantry Company of the Second Infantry Regiment at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

3 Injured in Accident

Gregory Anthony Kroll, 18, of Detroit, is suffering from an injured leg, following an accident Feb. 6 on Grand River just west of Eight Mile Rd. in Farmington Township which also injured two Redford Township residents.

Kroll told police that he was changing a flat tire when a car driven by Charles Dewitt Busby, 34, of 26850 Lyndon, Redford Township, struck his vehicle in the rear driving it into a fence at the Wayne Oakland Nursery on Eight Mile Rd.

Busby and a passenger in the car, Laura Hopkins, 21, of 19124 Norborne, were taken to Botsford General Hospital following the accident. Another passenger in Busby's car, Carol Geesman, 17, of the same Norborne address was not injured.

Scout Spends Day Watching John A. Allen

Wayne Preuett, 15, of Birmingham spent Monday with Farmington City Councilman and architect John A. Allen.

Preuett, a sophomore at North Farmington High School, is the son of James Preuett, former manager of the A&P Food Store at Farmington Rd. and Grand River.

Preuett and Allen were participating in Eagle Scout Recognition Day. Preuett, an eagle scout, is a member of Troop 116 which meets at the Eagle School.

The young man, who says that he hopes to study architecture, spent the day in Allen's office and visiting the various buildings the architect designed. Included on the itinerary was also a visit to Farmington's City Hall.

Allen told The Observer that he participated in the program because "as in the words of Edward H. Leland, a scout executive who helped set up the program, it 'provided an opportunity for the community to honor scouts who have attained this highest honor and also provides a significant vocational guidance experience.'"

It pays to cultivate the habit of kindness—it is a part of the business of life.

Evans Lands New $3 Million Order

The booming rail car business at the Railway Car Division of Evans Products Co. in Plymouth received another boost Monday when Executive Vice President James Conway, in charge of the Railway Transportation Equipment division, announced a $3 million order for 235 40-foot box cars.

The order, from Seaboard Air Line Railroad in Richmond, Va., calls for delivery in the third quarter of the year.

Evans recently announced a $2.8 million car building plant expansion to the Plymouth facility following a previously announced addition at the same plant.

The newest addition, which has a target date of late spring, will boost the capacity from the present five to 10 new freight cars daily.

It was just a week ago that Conway announced awarding of a contract for a 22,000 square foot administration building, which is scheduled for completion about July 1.

The new building will contain the Transportation Equipment Group's headquarters as well as offices of the administrative and engineering personnel of the Railway Car division.

Some folks run into trouble and then try to back out of it.

DPW News And Notes

By SUPT. JOSEPH BIDA Plymouth Dept. Public Works

Department of Public Work crews flooded skating ponds at Hamilton, Sutherland, Auburn, Burroughs and Joel streets.

Workers repaired a broken water main on Hartsough near Main. A shutoff was repaired on Blanche at the rear of the senior high school.

The main streets, intersections and the entrance to Riverside Cemetery were salted, requiring the use of approximately 48 tons of salt. All city owned sidewalks were cleaned following the snowfall.

Sanitary sewer mains were checked at various locations and all main streets were cold patched where necessary.

One funeral was handled at the cemetery. Workers devoted time to construction of shelves in the new building and all materials were moved into the building during the week.

Vivian Sees Chance For Area A-Plant

By CONGRESSMAN WES VIVIAN The budget proposed by President Johnson shows predictable increases in expenditures for national defense, education, health care and welfare. Funds have also been proposed which will allow a continued attack on the grave problems of water supply and water pollution.

One area of special interest to the Second District of Michigan is the construction of a new, powerful proton accelerator, for high energy research, by the Atomic Energy Commission. The schedule for design and construction of this facility has been somewhat delayed.

This is due to a decision to make much more extensive studies of possible locations for the accelerator than had previously been anticipated. No matter where the accelerator is finally located, I believe that these studies are well-justified.

The risk of facing heavy over-runs on construction costs can best be reduced by a relatively small expenditure of funds, and a small additional amount of time being consumed, to gain solid knowledge of the geological characteristics of the several sites finally recommended to the Atomic Energy Commission.

I remain convinced that the Northfield site, in Washtenaw County, stands extremely high on the list of potential sites. It is very likely that extensive geological test-borings of several sites will be undertaken by the Atomic Energy Commission in the months following receipt of recommendations from the site evaluation committee.

I believe that the Northfield site will be one of a very small number of sites actually on the recommendation list. And I feel certain that, as indicated by the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, funds will be provided for design and engineering studies, once the accelerator site has been selected.

The President has requested reimposition of the 10 per cent excise tax on telephone service. He has also requested the Congress to reimpose an additional one per cent of the excise tax on automobiles.

I oppose both of these taxes, and believe that first attention should be given to reimposing luxury taxes on goods such as jewelry and furs. If further tax receipts are then necessary, I would support an increase in personal income taxes, with attention being given to finding ways to prevent these additional taxes from falling on families with incomes of less than $4,000.

Much has been made of the size of the federal debt—the amount which the public as a whole has borrowed from individual and corporate investors in this country. It is expected that this debt will rise by about $2 billion. What is often overlooked, however, is that this federal debt, when expressed as a percentage of the total of all goods and services produced each year—our Gross National Product—has declined continuously since the end of the Second World War, and that this percentage will drop again in the coming year.

The number of federal government employees will rise slightly in the coming year. But, again, as for the past 20 years, this growth will be far less than the growth in the number of state and local public employees. For the past three years, less than one-fourth of all public employees have been on federal payrolls, the balance being found in state and local government. It is interesting to note that 20 years ago this figure was 55 per cent.

The terrible cost, in human and material resources, which we pay for war and war preparations is brought home strongly in this year's proposed budget, with 53 cents out of every tax dollar being earmarked for defense.

At a time when hundreds of millions go to bed hungry every night, when there is desperate need for education, health care, population control measures, industrial development and resource conservation, the necessity of increasing expenditures for war, for death and destruction, is truly distressing.

In the 20 years since the United Nations was first created, as the world's best hope for peace, our Nation has spent far less on contributions to that organization than it will spend, this year, in increasing its appropriations for war and its preparations.

Surely we must find, in the years ahead, those steps and those roads which will ultimately lead us away from the threat of war and mass killing, and toward the hope of human dignity and human welfare.

Commercial Lookup Fee Boosted to a Dollar

LANSING—Cost of commercial lookups into driver and vehicle central files was raised from 50 cents to $1 February 1.

Three reasons for the raise were listed by Secretary of State James M. Hare:

"Costs to the Michigan Department of State for this service have risen sharply during the past few years.

"The increase will bring Michigan in line with other states, many of which charge $1 or more in fees for the service.

"It will provide faster, more efficient service to the public."

Revenue for this service last year totaled more than $700,000. In the past, the Michigan Department of State retained 50 percent of the revenue to run its central files operation, while the other 50 percent reverted to the state's general fund.

Hare said he would like to retain all the revenue to help in the gradual conversion of the entire central file to a computer operation.

Commercial lookups are used by insurance companies, financing institutions, lawyers, and other businesses as well as in-

Motorists Urged to Get Plates Now; Avoid Deadline Jam

LANSING — A good measure of responsible citizenry, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare, is to be able to answer "yes" to the question of "have you purchased your 1966 license plates?"

Hare predicted the "biggest deadline log-jam" in history if motorists didn't buy their plates before February 15. Deadline is February 28.

"We're ahead of our 1965 sales by nearly 150,000," said Hare, "but this actually puts us behind instead of ahead, since we've been gaining more than 200,000 licenses a year."

He scored the new Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund collections as slowing and complicating sales.

At the end of January, a total of 1,493,459 plates had been sold, a high for this date. Hare estimated that more than three million plates would be sold by February 28.

He said collections of $35 from all uninsured vehicle owners under the new Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund were "running very low," in some localities under one percent of total sales.

Motorists were reminded again that they should have to have the following when they buy plates:

- Drivers must have:
- Prior year's registration or certificate of title;
- Proof of in-effect liability insurance and $1 insured fee, or $35 to pay uninsured motorist fee; and
- Cash to pay for plates at the customary 35c

a hundred-weight. Hare said his branches are accepting as proof of liability insurance the following: (1) An insurance certificate furnished by the insurance company. (2) the actual in-effect policy (3) A letter or affidavit from a recognized agent attesting to the fact that the person has insurance (4) An identification card which lists the type of vehicle and expiration date of the policy.

991 X-Rays Taken in TB Tests

A total of 991 chest X-rays were taken during a two-day survey at Westland Shopping Center Jan. 27-28, the Tuberculosis and Health Society, Wayne County's Christmas Seal organization, reported Monday.

The mobile X-ray unit was sent to the area through the courtesy of the Detroit Department of Health after the outbreak of tuberculosis among children in a Garden City preschool nursery.

The technicians attached to the mobile unit, Xavier Lafuente and Benedict Temerowski, averaged 90 X-rays per hour for the two-day period. They gave 455 chest X-rays on Thursday and 436 on Friday.

The following Garden City volunteers under the direction of Mrs. Ronald Evans, 631 Janice Court, helped register those getting X-rayed:

Mrs. Ronald J. Ross, 28537 Leona; Mrs. Olav Barikmo, 30920 Hennepin; Mrs. James G. Kerwin, 326 Lytle Place; Mrs. Duane Reed, 27559 Windsor; Mrs. John Maklary, 27564 Windsor; Mrs. James R. Bohr, 32118 Windsor; Mrs. Paul E. Winslow, 6561 Hawthorne, and Mrs. Archie C. Hall, 32129 Dover.

Alan Schwartz New President of Davidson Bros.

Alan E. Schwartz, a Detroit attorney, was elected chairman of the Board of Directors of Davidson Bros. Inc., at the board's meeting in New York City.

He was also named president of the company to succeed Joseph Ross who had resigned. Schwartz and his associates have made a substantial investment in the stock of the company.

Davidson Bros. operates 64 stores in 23 cities in Michigan, Ohio and New York, under the names of Federal Department Stores, Kobacker's, Boston Stores, Tiedtkes, Reiners, Giant Stores and Hoffritz for Cutlery.

For the year ended July 31, 1965, Davidson's reported retail sales totaling more than $134,000,000.

Law Extends Dealer Plate Deadline Date

LANSING — Michigan police agencies have been asked not to ticket vehicles bearing 1965 dealer plates with Jan. 31 expiration dates since the Legislature extended the deadline for these plates to Feb. 28.

Secretary of State James M. Hare said the law was changed after 1965 dealer plates were issued. Deadline was extended to coincide with expiration of other plates Feb. 28.

Refrigerators Improve Home Life

Times have changed, and so have kitchens. The most dramatic evidence of this is furnished by the new electric refrigerator-freezers, which set a new pace in advanced technology, design and styling.

The new units hold more food and keep it longer than models just a few years older. They also have added conveniences and look smarter, yet require less care than ever before.

Much of the work formerly associated with the care of refrigerator-freezers has been eliminated. With the new frostless units, there is no need to defrost the appliances and frozen food packages will not stick together.

The refrigerator-freezers do a better job of storing frozen foods, meats, fresh fruits and vegetables, butter, cheese and numerous other items. They can also make and store more ice cubes with less trouble.

Separate zero-degree freezer compartments maintain ideal temperatures for preserving the freshness, flavor and nutrition of frozen foods. They are also roomier, to accommodate the many new frozen food varieties being introduced all the time.

Special meat keepers, where temperature is maintained at 28-32 degrees, can store meat up to seven days with out freezing or loss of freshness and flavor.

Improved crisper compartments keep fruits and vegetables fresher longer because of better humidity control. Butter and cheese stored in the special compartments designed for them will maintain freshness, flavor and consistency.

Temperatures are more strictly controlled, thanks to better insulation, tighter-fitting doors and better-engineered food storage areas.

Many new refrigerator-freezers have automatic icemakers, which replace ice cubes as they are used. Special bins can store up ice for special occasions.

The units have greatly increased the food storage space of models just a few years older, without an equivalent increase in floor space.

For example, an 18-cubic-foot model can stand in a spot formerly occupied by a 12-cubic-foot unit. Thinner and better-insulated walls, specially hinged doors, square-look design and more compact mechanical units add up to more usable interior space, without adding bulk.

Although there is more room inside, glide out shelves and storage bins make refrigerator and freezer areas easier to reach.

One of the more important advances has been in the area of color and styling.

White still accounts for more than half the new refrigerator-freezers sold, but color is becoming increasingly popular. Colors most in demand are copper, turquoise and yellow. The newest is beige, which complements the warm tones of wood cabinetry.

The trend toward high-style kitchens and a rising demand for built-ins also have affected styling. Today it is possible to obtain units to harmonize with any kitchen decor. Some have special customizing kits that enable homemakers to match their refrigerator-freezer with the cabinets, the wallpaper and even the curtains.

Such a system, which would cost less than half as much as competing types of transportation and would be self-liquidating, could be built by the early 1970's, according to Marvin J. Stevens, president of Teletrans Corp.

"The transit system we propose for Detroit and its environs would entail 10 lines, and capable of moving 170,000 people an hour, which is over two million people in a 12-hour day. This is equal to the total number of people presently handled by the combined subway and bus systems of New York City," Stevens pointed out.

"This offers at least some indication of how much we are losing day after day, week after week, year after year through the lack of an adequate transportation system," he said.

Teletrans Corp. is presently awaiting approval to build a mile-long demonstration line on Woodward between 7 and 8 Mile. Once approved, Stevens estimated that construction of the test line would be completed within 15 months.

They pointed out that Bidrin has no effect on Dutch elm disease itself, which is a fungus, but is simply a means of controlling the disease's vector or carrier, the smaller European elm bark beetle.

They said the experience of the commercial applicators fully supported the data obtained in five years of research, indicating that Bidrin kills 75 to 100 per cent of attacking elm bark beetles within 24 hours, for a period of at least 22 days.

The team stressed that an effective program for the control of Dutch elm disease requires that Bidrin, like other insecticides such as DDT or methoxychlor, be coupled with a thorough sanitation program involving the cutting and burning of diseased trees as well as control of tree to tree infection through the root system.

They indicated some controversy has arisen over the effectiveness of Bidrin through its supposed failure to prevent Dutch elm disease in uncontrolled short-range experiments in epidemic Dutch elm disease areas.

Under conditions of a heavy insect infestation in a relatively small tree population a breakdown in control would be expected regardless of the effectiveness of the chemical or the excellence of the design and application of the experiment. Such a phenomenon happens frequently on all crops, under high insect infestations and is readily accepted by most scientific workers.

In the course of treatment made last year there have not been any reports of injury to children, pets, or wildlife from Bidrin. These findings are in accord with the observations made in previous years and support Shell's contention that the Bidrin application represents little or no hazard.

Four reports of injury to operating personnel have been received. All were minor with the men returning to work in a few days. Investigation of these reports indicates that all injuries resulted from violations of safety instructions given at the training schools and outlined in the visual aid material.

Tree injury due to Bidrin was, for the most part, confined to marginal leaf burn. In a small number of cases, however, injury was severe and involved the defoliation of 50-100 per cent of the tree's leaf surface. In even the most severe cases, treatment of the tree with water or a diluted fertilizer solution usually resulted in complete recovery of the tree.

Stand in the center of your garage (when the car isn't there) and make a complete, slow turn. Look at all that wall space going to waste.

It requires no carpentry skill to put up shelves between the studs of garages with unfinished inside walls.

Almost any type of available lumber will do for this purpose.

You can use plywood strips if desired . . . or you may open to have some scrap pieces of plywood around. You will find it easy to set the shelves on wooden or metal supports nailed or screwed to the sides of the studs.

Tools, garden implements and the like can be hung from metal hooks set into the perforations of hardboard.

The hardboard is easily attached to the studding. In the event that the inside of your garage is finished . . . that is, it has a flat-surfaced wall . . . you will have to attach furring strips in order to make use of perforated hardboard.

If you do not do this, there will be no space behind the hardboard panels to insert the metal hooks.

If the inside walls of your garage are concrete or some form of masonry, attachments will be more difficult than with wood.

Masonry shields or anchors may be the answer. These are small, hollow receptacles which are inserted in holes drilled into the concrete with either a power drill with a carbide-tipped bit or with a star drill.

When a screw or special bolt is inserted into the shield or anchor, the receptacle expands, firmly gripping itself inside the concrete. In drilling the hole, make it slightly smaller than the shield or anchor, which is tapped into place to make a snug fit.

Masonry nails also can be used. These are hammered into the concrete like ordinary nails, but require strong blows.

Some of the new epoxy adhesives permit the attachment of wood or other materials directly to the concrete.

Furring strips or studding are hammered onto nails sticking out from the metal squares.

Should your garage be so small that there is no room at all to put anything on the side walls, you still can make use of the space at the back end.

Due to this positioning, along with the natural insulating value of the wood, the floors are healthfully warm in winter, the homes easier to heat.

Wood technologists point out that for insulating purposes one inch of wood is equivalent to eight inches of concrete.

Thus an average wood floor system, including subfloor and hardwood finish floor, furnishes more protection against heat loss than 12 inches of concrete.

Hardwood floors also possess resilience which enables them to have a cushioning effect on the feet. Therefore they are less tiring than hard, unyielding surfaces.

Additionally, of course, floors of hardwood boast matchless natural beauty, lifelong durability and ease of upkeep.

Finishing a basement with attractive hardwood paneling, adding a bar, bookshelves or other improvements can be a moderate-cost project for the "handy" householder.

And the non-handy? Even if he has no helpful friends readily available, he usually can obtain easy financing for such a worthy endeavor.

Realtors Told of Plans For Rapid Transit System

A rapid transit system capable of moving two million residents of the Detroit metropolitan area smoothly, swiftly and comfortably between their homes and places of business was described to members of the United Northwestern Realty Association.

Such a system, which would cost less than half as much as competing types of transportation and would be self-liquidating, could be built by the early 1970's, according to Marvin J. Stevens, president of Teletrans Corp.

You can use plywood strips if desired . . . or you may open to have some scrap pieces of plywood around. You will find it easy to set the shelves on wooden or metal supports nailed or screwed to the sides of the studs.

Tools, garden implements and the like can be hung from metal hooks set into the perforations of hardboard.

The hardboard is easily attached to the studding. In the event that the inside of your garage is finished . . . that is, it has a flat-surfaced wall . . . you will have to attach furring strips in order to make use of perforated hardboard.

If you do not do this, there will be no space behind the hardboard panels to insert the metal hooks.

If the inside walls of your garage are concrete or some form of masonry, attachments will be more difficult than with wood.

Masonry shields or anchors may be the answer. These are small, hollow receptacles which are inserted in holes drilled into the concrete with either a power drill with a carbide-tipped bit or with a star drill.

When a screw or special bolt is inserted into the shield

or anchor, the receptacle expands, firmly gripping itself inside the concrete. In drilling the hole, make it slightly smaller than the shield or anchor, which is tapped into place to make a snug fit.

Masonry nails also can be used. These are hammered into the concrete like ordinary nails, but require strong blows.

Some of the new epoxy adhesives permit the attachment of wood or other materials directly to the concrete.

Furring strips or studding are hammered onto nails sticking out from the metal squares.

Should your garage be so small that there is no room at all to put anything on the side walls, you still can make use of the space at the back end.

Due to this positioning, along with the natural insulating value of the wood, the floors are healthfully warm in winter, the homes easier to heat.

Wood technologists point out that for insulating purposes one inch of wood is equivalent to eight inches of concrete.

Thus an average wood floor system, including subfloor and hardwood finish floor, furnishes more protection against heat loss than 12 inches of concrete.

Hardwood floors also possess resilience which enables them to have a cushioning effect on the feet. Therefore they are less tiring than hard, unyielding surfaces.

Additionally, of course, floors of hardwood boast matchless natural beauty, lifelong durability and ease of upkeep.

Finishing a basement with attractive hardwood paneling, adding a bar, bookshelves or other improvements can be a moderate-cost project for the "handy" householder.

And the non-handy? Even if he has no helpful friends readily available, he usually can obtain easy financing for such a worthy endeavor.

Bidrin Prevents Dutch Elm Spread

Commercial application of Bidrin® insecticide for the control of the smaller European elm bark beetle in 17 states last spring demonstrated new Bidrin's effectiveness as a tool in the struggle to halt the spread of Dutch elm disease, according to a report by a team of Shell Chemical experts.

Bidrin was applied to more than 100,000 elm trees and to date reports have been received on more than 57,000 of these applications. The trained and certified tree-care specialists who made them say that Bidrin held the breakthrough of the disease to previously uninfected trees to 1.4 per cent.

This performance, in the first year the product was used commercially (1965), was reported by J. M. Bann and R. S. Woolley in a paper delivered at the national meeting of the Entomological Society of America in New Orleans.

The total breakthrough on bidrin-treated trees, including those which may have been infected prior to treatment, was 2.8 per cent, they said.

They pointed out that Bidrin has no effect on Dutch elm disease itself, which is a fungus, but is simply a means of controlling the disease's vector or carrier, the smaller European elm bark beetle.

They said the experience of the commercial applicators fully supported the data obtained in five years of research, indicating that Bidrin kills 75 to 100 per cent of attacking elm bark beetles within 24 hours, for a period of at least 22 days.

The team stressed that an effective program for the control of Dutch elm disease requires that Bidrin, like other insecticides such as DDT or methoxychlor, be coupled with a thorough sanitation program involving the cutting and burning of diseased trees as well as control of tree to tree infection through the root system.

They indicated some controversy has arisen over the effectiveness of Bidrin through its supposed failure to prevent Dutch elm disease in uncontrolled short-range experiments in epidemic Dutch elm disease areas.

Under conditions of a heavy insect infestation in a relatively small tree population a breakdown in control would be expected regardless of the effectiveness of the chemical or the excellence of the design and application of the experiment. Such a phenomenon happens frequently on all crops, under high insect infestations and is readily accepted by most scientific workers.

In the course of treatment made last year there have not been any reports of injury to children, pets, or wildlife from Bidrin. These findings are in accord with the observations made in previous years and support Shell's contention that the Bidrin application represents little or no hazard.

Four reports of injury to operating personnel have been received. All were minor with the men returning to work in a few days. Investigation of these reports indicates that all injuries resulted from violations of safety instructions given at the training schools and outlined in the visual aid material.

Tree injury due to Bidrin was, for the most part, confined to marginal leaf burn. In a small number of cases, however, injury was severe and involved the defoliation of 50-100 per cent of the tree's leaf surface. In even the most severe cases, treatment of the tree with water or a diluted fertilizer solution usually resulted in complete recovery of the tree.

Basements Billed As Best Buy in Building Business

If you're planning to build or buy a home, take advantage of the big benefits a basement offers.

That's the advice of many builders and building industry suppliers, who point out that basements are truly a bargain, probably the best buy you get in building a house these days.

"Look at it this way. If you were building a house and the contractor explained that for another thousand dollars or so he could give you virtually double the space you were expecting, wouldn't you consider that a wise investment?"

"That's the situation with the average basementless slab-on-ground house, as against the same size home with a basement.

"At $1 to $2 a square foot you get usable basement space, whereas the cost of above-ground construction may be anywhere from about $10 to $15 or more a square foot."

With today's efficient heating systems that are clean, compact and require little or no fuel storage space, practically the entire basement can be utilized for convenience and better living.

In addition to the usual storage and laundry facilities, modern basements can provide beautiful recreation rooms, children's playrooms, complete workshops, quiet studies or home offices and second bathrooms.

Many families—and they include those in quite comfortable circumstances—even convert part of their basement areas nowadays into an added bedroom or two. Sometimes this is done to accommodate their growing numbers and sometimes just for guest use.

Another important advantage of homes with basements, building experts declare, is the fact that they have wood joisted floor systems, which offer dryness, warmth and foot comfort.

Generally topped with genuine oak or other hardwood finish floors, the floor systems are placed well above the ground and thus are not subject to the dampness often associated with concrete slabs laid on the soil.

Due to this positioning, along with the natural insulating value of the wood, the floors are healthfully warm in winter, the homes easier to heat.

Wood technologists point out that for insulating purposes one inch of wood is equivalent to eight inches of concrete.

Thus an average wood floor system, including subfloor and hardwood finish floor, furnishes more protection against heat loss than 12 inches of concrete.

Down River Packaging Joins in Mutual Pact With West Coast Firm

The Down River Packaging Corporation, with converting plants in Wayne, and in Stockton, Calif., and the Mid-Sierra Lumber Company of Stockton, Calif., announce a joint venture agreement whereby the productive facilities of the two firms will be combined to better serve the wood and woodworking industry.

Down River produces "Dor-Kor," expandable corrugated honeycomb used extensively in the hollow core door industry as the sandwich material. Mid-Sierra manufactures the complete wood frame and other specialized interior components for the same industries.

Under terms of the agreement, customers may order combined carloads of cut stock frame section and "Dor-Kor" fillers to be shipped together from Stockton, Calif. This will allow tighter inventory control by the user and more flexibility in ordering and releasing.

Plans call for the immediate relocation of Down River's Stockton plant to land immediately adjacent to that of Mid-Sierra in Stockton proper. The site is serviced by three major West Coast railroads and is less than a mile from the Port of Stockton where combined overseas shipments will originate.

A liaison person from Oakland Schools to deal with Federal and State government became a possibility as designates from school boards in the county met last week to study the intermediate district budget.

Application forms for funds under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act are "distressing, frightening even to look at," said Farmington Trustee Herbert Neal.

The $22,000 item in Oakland Schools $631,157 projected expenses for next year would cover the costs of salary, secretarial time and travel for a full-time person to assist county schools in their dealings with Lansing and Washington.

It would call for 18.6 cents of the $15 per thousand allowable tax on equalized property valuation.

The budget presented was $92,353 over the $539,904 sum allocated for the instructional administration and administrative operations of Oakland Schools this year.

There was no budget provision to continue activities in behalf of gifted students. A study on programs for children of exceptional ability is to be completed this year and recommendations for further action are to be made at that time.

Edison Eyes Entries For 'Cook-Off'

Entries are now being accepted for the fifth annual Detroit Edison Company cook-off to select the "Queen of the Kitchen" among women who work.

Electrical appliances will be awarded to 10 finalists. The grand prize is a new deluxe range. The "Queen" will have her choice of six models from nationally known manufacturers.

The special second prize will be an open-hearth smokeless broiler-rotisserie complete with shish kebab attachment, and the third award will be a seven-speed blender. The other seven finalists will each receive an electrical appliance.

The cook-off is held each year in cooperation with the Central Business District Association's annual Salute to Women Who Work Week which begins on March 13 this year.

The contest is open to any girl or woman working full time who lives in Southeastern Michigan.

Each is invited to submit a recipe for a one-dish meal that can be cooked in an hour or less. The recipe should be sent to Electric Living, 2000 Second, Detroit, Michigan 48226, or to the local Edison office.

Deadline for entries is midnight, Tuesday, March 1.

Each entry must include name, address, telephone number and occupation. The contestant must be able to compete in the cook-off which will be held in Edison's Electric Living Kitchen in Detroit on Thursday, March 17.

Ford Wins 20 Awards From NFPA

Ford Motor Company plants and facilities won 20 of the top 30 industry awards in the 1965 fire prevention contest sponsored by the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA).

The grand award in the competition's industrial division went to the Ford Los Angeles Assembly Plant. It became the third Ford facility in four years to win first place.

Ford also won an NFPA Certificate of Merit for the eighth consecutive year.

Plants which took part in the contest submitted documented reports describing their year-round fire-prevention programs, including details on equipment testing, employe training, visits by local fire officials and support by employe publications.

Entries in all divisions of the contest in 1965 totaled 1,694, including 136 in the industrial division. Last year, Ford won 17 of the first 30 places in the division.

Eleven of the 20 award-winning Ford plants are in the Greater Detroit area: the Oakville Operations, Ford Motor Company of Canada, third place; Steel Division, Dearborn, fourth; Rawsonville Plant, fifth; Livonia Plant, eighth; Windsor (Canada) Manufacturing Operations, ninth; Wayne Assembly Plant, 14th; Ford Division General Offices, Dearborn, 16th; Michigan Truck Plant in Wayne, 20th; Sterling Plant, 25th; and Dearborn Iron Foundry, 26th, and Dearborn Stamp- ing Plant, 30th.

What About Equal Opportunities Act?

Observing the Scene...
By MYRA CHANDLER

Wheel of Fortune

Where are those militant Michigananders who so soundly chastized southern policemen for arresting civil rights demonstrators? Where are the unionists who support the tradition of picketing unfair management? What has happened to the masses who rise in protest of government bureaucracy? Have all the Will Rogers vanished from the American scene?
Citizens usually aroused by oppression of freedom remain seated on the merry-go-round of complacency while the Ann Arbor protestors are getting the shaft for engaging in the traditional American right to object.
I do not agree with the stand taken by the protestors but Gen. Louis Hershey's actions prompts memories of history lessons on the Alien and Sedition Acts. Admit it or not, these young men have been jailed because they expressed a dramatic opposition to government policy. That opposition was expressed by the same means as civil rights sit-ins and union picket lines, yet it has been ruled to be criminal.
And the majority of us have accepted Hershey's actions and shaken a finger at those naughty boys. Granted, the majority may not agree with the protestors' beliefs but certainly they must agree with the constitutional guarantees of freedom to oppose peacefully!
We have sat by and kept our mouths shut because the injustice didn't involve us and because we haven't agreed with the thoughts of those to whom the injustice was administered. In fact, some of you have even waved your pom-poms because the protestors have been temporarily muzzled.
Searching for an explanation for this apathy, I cannot help but feel Americans have subconsciously changed their attitudes about democracy and government. Since the advent of government concern for social welfare, the material portion of our lives has been greatly enriched.
Our material future is more secure, employment and wages better, and most of our wants can be easily met. We have been handed material welfare in a package and have grown to expect handouts as a necessary governmental function.
Government then has become a means of material betterment and democracy a provider of material gains. While this may not be wrong, a transition has taken place which is unfortunate. Democracy and governmental functions are being defined only in a material sense, the philosophical and spiritual values of democracy have vanished.
The values of democracy which give strength to the spirit are being minimized. Those doctrines guaranteeing initiative, inventiveness, integrity, creativeness and leadership are being pushed aside by economics.
Attacks on public apathy are as eternal as apathy itself. Maybe we should refrain from these attacks to avoid criticisms of being right and let Americans pull down their flags in place of credit cards and government allowances.
Eventually we may adjust to this governmental transition of caring for us and remember to include freedom and liberty in our modern definition of democracy. Government has adjusted to care for us, for which we should be grateful, but we should not fall asleep after being fed and neglect our spirits and minds. Without protest, be it right or wrong, there can be no democracy.
-EMORY DANIELS

You can challenge me if you want to, but in my opinion I'm as modern a grandmother as ever came down the pike.
I can take up a plane (can't land, but that's the last lesson) belong to the group that believes in the little green men from Mars, and, what's more, attend meetings of same; have a reservation for the first passenger flight to the moon; use cake mixes, instant everything and wear a wig.
But there is a limit. Despite what the Rev. Robert Eddy says I believe we must encourage our sons and daughters to be virtuous. It was my pleasure to introduce the controversial Mr. Eddy, minister of the Universalist-Unitarian Church of Farmington to the Livonia Soroptimists and their husbands at a dinner meeting last week.
He talked about sex—the double-standard, promiscuity, preparedness, prevalence among youth and such. All of the people in the room were parents of teenagers. During the informal discussion afterward it amazed me to hear how many shared Dr. Eddy's views. I did not. I agree only that he has a point of view but it is too modern for me. When you take away the mystery of boy-girl you also take away the romance and the joy.
But I would highly recommend that you avail yourself of the opportunity to hear Rev. Eddy. A discussion with him is most thought-provoking.
Before we solve this delicate problem that I firmly believe belongs in the home, I think we should take up the problem of the double-standard (on the distaff side) among working women.
United States Government can pass all the laws they want to like the Equal Opportunities Act—but it's a stone wall when you want to do something that is, always has been, and, if a few get their way, always will be forbidden to women.
There was a vacancy on the draft board in Plymouth and being a good citizen I decided to see what the requirements were for fulfilling the post. It is a non-paying, non-political job, and, I thought, one that would be meaningful.
The lady clerk said women could not serve on the draft board. "Oh, really, what about The Equal Opportunity Act passed by act of Congress?" said I.
"Madam, I don't know about that, but you cannot serve on the Draft Board; that I do know," says she.
Colonel Eugene Brunk, who heads the draft board for Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties, confirmed this. There is also a vacancy in Farmington.
Not that the Colonel isn't trustworthy. But I went a step further. Captain William S. Pascoe, Public Information Office, National Headquarters Selective Service System, Washington, D.C. said, "In response to your second inquiry, it is pointed out that Selective Service Regulations limit members of local boards to male citizens of the county in which their local board has jurisdiction."
In view of this, we do not have any women members on such boards. And that is that. The lady clerk in Plymouth said she guessed it was because women were too emotional.
While on the subject, let us all appreciate what the cool Indira Gandhi has accomplished—to become the first Prime Minister of India.
And to think that in India where many women still walk 10 paces behind the men—but they have a woman as the head of their country.
Only in America where the men run to catch up, is a woman on the draft board impossible, much less the thought of one sitting in the Oval Office.

Citizens See Need for Boys' Club

Keep the Boy's Club
Editor,
Because your paper goes into all the homes in Redford Township we are writing this letter to you hoping you will publish it.
Some of our residents are aware of the problem facing the Boys' Club but I wonder how many residents do not know that we may lose the Boys' Club in our community unless we can get our Township Officials to act now.
Anyone familiar with a Boys' Club and the part it plays in a community knows what a great loss this would be. A Boys' Club is a place a boy can go after school and on Saturday to play games, make things in the woodshop or arts and crafts room. Counselors are available to help a boy if he has a problem. The boys are taught good sportsmanship, respect for the home, law and community. These are just a few of the worthwhile things a Boys' Club does.
It seems to us when we have a chance to get a beautiful building, large enough to meet the needs of our boys; and to get this building at no cost to the residents of Redford Township, that we would be fools to let a few people that do not want the club in their neighborhood rule the majority of people that want a Boys' Club.
A Boys' Club is an asset to any community and we should do all we can to keep our club. The residents that are against it, just because they do not want it in their neighborhood, are making their views known and unless we that want a club let our Township Officials know that we want it we will not have a Boys' Club.
MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH E. WESTON

Where Are Parents?

Editor:
Most youth groups suffer due to lack of parental help.
Groups, such as the Cub Scouts and Girl Scouts, are not able to participate in activities because the leaders are not able to get the parents to help in any way. They are not able to get help even on simple things, such as: driving a group for an outing. There have been many outings and other activities cancelled due to lack of help from the parents.
I find in my own experience in Scouting, that we have a small group of parents who do all of the work with the boys. When there is a job to be done, regardless of how small, it is very difficult to get any new (and many of the old) parents to join in and help. If the job is done, it is generally taken care of by one of the few who do everything. The only way we can help is to say, "if we cannot get help on this we will have to drop it." In quite a few cases, we have to drop the project.
I find it very discouraging (I find many other leaders with the same feelings) to call someone for assistance on a project and be told, "I am very sorry, but I just do not have the time to spare." I usually have a little knowledge of the activities of these people and know they have more spare time than I.
At the time of writing this letter, my son has been signed up to play basketball on the city's Little League teams since last November. The first game was to be played last Thursday. I called the office of the Parks and Recreation to find out why my son's team had not yet started. I was told that they could not get fathers to coach the teams. Unless they could get some of the fathers to help, they would have to cancel the rest of the teams. Now, I want to point out the fact that the average Little League Basketball team has from 14 to 18 boys. Out of 14 to 18 boys they cannot get just one or two dads to help coach.
Why? To answer this question, most parents think more of sitting home and watching television or attending cocktail parties, bridge parties, etc. rather than helping their children. They could care less if their sons played basketball or not. Especially, if their help is required in any way.
If we want our children to get the most from the youth groups they are associated with, it is essential that we, as parents, assist in any way possible to make these groups successful.

by W. W. EDGAR

Some of the fondest memories of my childhood are those occasions when I sat in the kitchen of our little home in Pennsylvania and watched my Mother bake a cake.
She was from what is commonly known as "Pennsylvania Dutch" stock that is notorious for its cooking and baking ability. And she was an artist when it came to what she called "whipping up a cake."
She would have all of the ingredients on the table—lined in dows—and then start the art of mixing them.
(This was long before anyone ever heard of Betty Crocker and her cake mix which requires the addition of only a bit of water or milk to assure success.)
My Mother would add a bit of one ingredient and then another and then taste it. As the memories come tumbling down through the years I can see her now, smacking her lips a bit and saying "It needs a little more—"

I got to thinking about her plying her culinary art during the past few days and couldn't help feeling that there was little difference between building a community and the old style way of baking a cake... you have to have a proper mixture of ingredients or you're in trouble.
Take many of our suburbs, for example. There is an influx of population attracted to the area because it offers "good, fresh air, a place for the children to play, and low taxes." So the rush is on and before you know it there is the disillusionment that all is not as fine as it seemed.
The fresh air is there and the place for the children to play, but—the taxes are forced higher and higher for the simple reason that there is little industry, if any, to broaden the tax base and help pay the bills.
Who is to blame when this happens?
Surely, not the city officials or the members of the various Boards of Education who, by force of circumstances, repeatedly ask for a raise in taxes or the approval of a bond issue.
The real blame is on the folks who came running and who didn't look before they leaped.
Few, if any of them, looked beyond the particular area in which they were purchasing their home. It is doubtful if any of them asked about such things as the tax base—the amount of industry that was available—transportation—shopping facilities—or the amount of commercial activity that is needed to give a community real balance.
Yet, they came. And their coming innocently has brought many complex problems.

After their arrival many complain about facilities. They request paved streets, sidewalks, sewers, and all the things that go to increase the tax bill. These are all things they didn't notice—or paid little heed—when they decided to locate in the area. And when these facilities are not forthcoming a howl of protest goes up against the city officials.
What is the proper balance for a thriving, contented community?

There is a "rule of thumb" that business and industry should furnish at least 70 percent of the tax base. This would leave only 30 percent for residential property.
It is claimed by folks who make a study of such things that this ratio—if obtained—would enable a community to have a good school system, all modern facilities, parks, playgrounds, and the other components that go to provide a well balanced city.
If that is so—and there is no reason to doubt it—it isn't difficult to learn where much of our troubles lie today.
Livonia is a good example of what happens when there is an imbalance.
I recall, as a member of the first City Council, one of the first great shocks we received. After incorporation, one of our first acts was to enter into a contractual agreement for water. We did. We contracted for an amount that we deemed, at that time, would be sufficient to supply our needs for at least 12 years.

So great was the influx of new families that after only two years we had to re-adjust the contract.
This was the first sign that we could be getting into trouble.
Because of the race track and our several large industries we were able to keep a balance. But the day came when the rush of families disrupted this balance and residential property had to carry the heaviest part of the tax load. That is always a dangerous position—and it is the dangerous position most of the suburbs are in today.
At the moment, because of the recent industrial development, industry and residential are about equal in the tax base. That is, they each supply about 50 percent. But each time a new family moves in the balance goes out of whack again.
That's why there is a crying need for industry, not only in Livonia, but in all suburbs. There is a desperate need for a broader tax base. Fortunately, some areas are prepared to lure industry. Livonia is one of them.
But, until recently industry of the type needed hesitated about locating here.
"Why?" I asked a man whose business it is to locate plant sites.
"Your tax base is not stable enough," he answered. "You folks are always asking for some kind of bond issue and our company just wouldn't know how to plan for such conditions. When you become more stable we may consider Livonia."

At last, it seems, that time is approaching.
But all the while I keep thinking of my Mother working in her little kitchen in Pennsylvania who, when asked for a recipe, explained—
"You add a pinch of this and a pinch of that and then mix it until it feels right."
It's the same way with communities.
You've got to have the proper mixture.

Reasons for Club

Editor:
I understand the Boys' Club of Metropolitan Detroit Redford Township has the finances to erect a new building here in the township. The Parks and Recreation Dept. has offered them a corner of the Volney Smith Parks and Recreation play field. This building will not be an expense to the township in construction, management or upkeep.
As a mother and resident it was good news, until a few residents near the field objected. I understand the Boys' Club must withdraw their offer and allocate the funds to one of the other three communities that are next in priority for a new building. Oh! What a loss to Redford, if this is the way it is going to be.
There are many people not on the streets of the park but just as close footage wise, who would be very pleased to have the club there. I understand the park belongs to the taxpayers. I do not mean to imply that the residents do not have the right to state their objections. However when they are aired and found to be negative I feel the leaders in public office should investigate the matter as to the benefit of the area and the entire community. We have them in office for just that purpose—to make decisions for the benefit of all.
I wonder if they know what a wonderful organization the Boys' Club is? I think aside from churches and schools the Boys' Club is the finest organization there is. And I strongly say that if there is anything that should be supported it is community organizations for American youth.
Our world is overflowing with moral degeneration. Everyone is talking about it, many are experiencing it in their lives, many more are doing something about it. The Boys' Club of America is an arm of guidance for many thousands of boys (900 in Redford).

Let's face the facts of the broken homes, the materialistic world in which we live and realize that we are all going to be affected in the years to come. We are experiencing it in a mild form now.
Let's not just talk, let's do something to help build strong character in our American boys. Let's do all we can to find suitable land to build a more adequate building for the Boys Club here in Redford.
Lest I leave you with the impression that the Boys' Club is just for boys who need guidance that their families cannot give, let me tell you that some of our finest boys are members. The club has enriched their lives beyond measure. The staff members consist of the finest caliber of men you could ever meet. The club activities they offer a boy are wholesome and fun. The club is a boy's world. The opportunities would not be available in many organizations.
I could go on and tell you more but I am sure you and many of your readers know the value of a Boys' Club. I hope you and your readers can help the 900 boys in the township find suitable land for a building. They do not understand all the RED TAPE, so it is up to those people that stand so tall who stoop and help a boy. Can we count on you?
MRS. WM. McQUEEN Redford Township

Need Boy's Club
Editor:
We are writing in regards to the issue of a new Boys' Club building in Redford Township.
We have the land so what is the problem? A handful of people in the Volney Smith area who object to the building in this neighborhood?
Do they speak for Redford Township? Are we to allow a minority group of people to rule the future of our Township?
Isn't it time we stop thinking and start doing something about it. We, as parents, should take on this responsibility in thinking of our boys' and help them to plan their future, but this should be a decision that all of our residents should be involved in.
We are positive that a large majority of our people realize this need for a Boys' Club building and should have the chance to express this belief.
Fannie Pate and Harold Pate, Redford Township.

For Boys' Club
Editor:
I am writing in regard to and in full support of the Boys Club to be built in the Volney Smith area. I understand this is the only available location and the Boys' Club will be discontinued in the Township if the small minority of people opposed to it can block it successfully.
I am a widow with an eight year old son. He has attended the Boys' Club regularly for the last year and a half. It has given him much of the male companionship and guidance he has learned a great deal there as I am sure every boy who has ever attended has.
To let a handful of people stop the building will be a great loss to the thousands of boys who are to be our future citizens and leaders.
MRS. ROBERT KAISER Redford Township

Schoolcraft Adds Albert Travis
Schoolcraft College announces the addition to the Music Department faculty of Albert L. Travis, at present a doctoral student at the University of Michigan. Travis is also organist-choir master at the First Methodist Church in Northville.
He has a bachelor of music from Oklahoma Baptist University where he graduated magna cum laude in 1962. In addition, Travis received a master of music degree at Syracuse University in 1964. During the last year, 1964-1965, he was a recipient of a German Government Grant for study of organ and harpsichord in Frankfurt with professor Helmut Walcha.
Travis will be an additional piano and organ teacher on the faculty of Schoolcraft College.

No Tax Dollar Club

Editor:
Because a few people are opposed to building a Boys' Club at Volney Smith School, Redford Township may be without a Boys' Club. The present facilities are so small some of our children have to be turned away from the activities because there is no room.
The people around Volney Smith School claim there will be an increase in vandalism. There is no more vandalism around the Boys' Club than any other similar neighborhood.
Not one tax dollar is given to the operation of Boys' Club. It is supported by the United Foundation and private contributions.
JAMES F. LEHR GERALDINE LEHR Redford Township

No Pool Near Church
Editor:
Why is there this swimming pool and church bit? Why do we question it, we need a pool like a hole in the head, anywhere, near our churches.
Must we debate such a thing? It's out of the question. Next we'll give everyone a bayonet, for it pleases them to puncture a Chinese or someone. Maybe, you'll be the victim. If we're gonna fight, let's fight dog packs, that are forming from free pets on the loose, that ruin lawns and shoes in the dark.
Let's cure something—not start something. Let us good folks get up in arms and protect the church. For she teaches respect and concern for each other. Place the pool elsewhere or shield it and diving board from sight.
Our churches can't form good future citizens, who'll respect you and your property, due to good teachings and without distractions.

So you see it's for everyone's good.
A church goer and swimmer too. Livonia

Thanks Livonia Police

Open Letter
To the Police and Teachers of Livonia:
I want to humbly apologize for taking your generosity for granted.
You didn't know this but I thought it was I that was so generous. Yes, it was I that dressed my child warmly and put some money in his pocket so she or he could buy some hot dogs, peanuts or what not. I was real generous because I gave more money than I ordinarily would give because this is a special day. All this effort has taken a maximum of one hour's time. Now I can busy myself getting dressed and going to some club for a tete-a-tete or else do some domestic duty.
I feel real good as my child is going to really have fun and my money provided his luxury.
You have got one hour but many hours of yourself. I saw you handle not one or two but 80 or more children at a time.
I saw you running perspiring trying to keep order when some decided to throw sharp objects at one another.
I saw you giving all you had with dignity and calm direction in trying to prevent mass hysteria.
How did you do it? I know you couldn't have slept well that night because I saw your perspiring and wilted bodies.
This you did for my child and I want you to know that I am both grateful and ashamed. Ashamed, because I viewed things in a materialistic way and took credit for something I didn't deserve.
Also, I envy you for your stamina and grace.
Believe me the next time I hand my child money and get him dressed for the Shrine Circus I will feel a debt of gratitude.
In conclusion please permit me to say thank you for re-awakening me and yet I know I can never be your equal.

St. Agatha Student Body Attend Two Day Retreat

By Mary Lou Mangold

Before the opening of the second semester at St. Agatha, the entire student body took a break from customary schedules to attend a retreat.

Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen spent two days, under the direction of the retreat master. From 8:45 until 2:30 they attended conferences, Mass, held private discussions, reported on their conclusions and ended with Benediction.

Confessions were heard throughout the day. The boys were obligated to wear suits and the girls came in Sunday dress.

Senior boys returned to St. Paul of the Cross where the Passionist Fathers directed a closed retreat. Senior girls left for St. Mary Raptatrix where Father Hanish guided them.

The Seniors have been active, with a skating party at Cathy Carney's home, and a tobogganing party for the Senior girls at Cass Benton Park, who also planned an outing to Livonia Mall Cinema II, to view Othello.

Esther gave materials for costumes, to be made by volunteers or as part of Sr. Bernadette Theresia's Home Economics class.

The role of the wives in "The King and I" will be given to the Freshmen and Sophomore choral classes, and 20 Freshmen will be cast as children, along with preschoolers from the families of students in the play.

All the choral classes have begun work on a new English Mass, upon request of Fr. James Varty. The Kyrie, Sanctus, and Agnus Dei, will begin in two weeks but the congregation will remain singing the same Gloria and the Creed.

Last Friday, Seniors held their "First Friday Dress-up Day" when they were allowed to come in regular dress. They, as usual, marched into Church in caps and gowns, after Mass, sponsored "First Friday Breakfast" where donuts, orange drink and chocolate milk were offered for sale.

The decorations committee assembled for a general meeting, planning the annual "King and Queen of Hearts" dance decorations. With their diligent planning and eager cooperation, Feb. 18 may prove to be the most beautiful night of the year.

Farmington Boosts Miss

By DEBBIE LUSKY

North Farmington can be proud of Bonnie Britton, who was crowned Michigan's Junior Miss in Pontiac. The 29 contestants were judged on the basis of talent, intelligence, poise, personality, and appearance. Sponsors were the Michigan Junior Chambers of Commerce.

Bonnie will travel to Mobile, Ala. next month to represent the state in the national Junior Miss pageant.

The Senior class reported the dime dance which followed the Franklin basketball game was a great success.

This Saturday, the Y-Teens will present their annual Sadie Hawkins Dance in the gym. The featured band will be The Other Ones.

Plymouth Runners Get Cheerleaders

By Margaret Rudloff

It has been a long hard struggle but after a recommendation by the Plymouth High School student council, it was decided that the cheerleaders for swimming will attend next fall's cross-country meets.

The four girls who are selected swim cheerleaders next year will be the first to give support at a cross-country meet for Plymouth.

AT THE BEGINNING of a new semester a careful examination of classes by students takes place.

Next year another kind of curriculum study will take place when representatives of the North Central Accreditation Group spend a day looking at the school program.

Teachers, administrators, and college professors will spend the day looking at the curriculum, teacher qualifications, student activities, and general appearance and behavior of students.

They will also look at graduates' records to see how they were prepared for college or jobs after high school.

Chairman of a steering committee to help prepare for the visit is Phil Johnson, in charge of occupational training.

The other six members are: William Green, special education teacher; Carl Scheffler, earth science teacher; John Sandman, head of the athlete department; William Raich, American history and sociology teacher; Louise Spence, English teacher; and John Hoben, assistant principal in charge of the guidance department.

"The importance of this accreditation is that, if a school succeeds in becoming accredited, the students from that school who wish to go on to college do not have to take the entrance examinations — only placement examinations," stated Carvel Bentley, School Principal.

For a delightful break in the old routine, the German Club, under the direction of German teacher, Mrs. Bauer traveled to Wayne State, Feb. 4 to see the play "Luther."

WINNING STREAK

Denny McLain, 21-year-old Detroit Tiger righthander, won eight straight games in 1965, longest streak for a Tiger hurler since Frank Lary won the same number in 1956.

Hear Soviet Union Talk

By Tony Head

On Feb. 4 a special assembly was held for the Clarenceville High students. Guest speaker at the assembly was Mr. Scharif, who gave a lecture on his impressions of his seven trips to the Soviet Union. After the interesting lecture, the students were allowed to ask questions.

Clarenceville students participated in an exchange of students with Brighton. While Brighton Student Council members were taken on a tour through Clarenceville, Student Council members of Clarenceville were taken on a similar tour of Brighton in a gesture of good will before the Clarenceville-Brighton basketball game.

Ribbon Day At Thurston

By LYNN BARNETT

Ribbon Day, sponsored by the junior class, took place Feb. 4. The girls brought a ribbon for a dime. Any girl wearing a ribbon was not permitted to talk to a boy.

If she said something the boy could take the ribbon and wear it.

After last hour the boys with 10 or more ribbons reported to a room where the winner had his choice of a gift certificate or two tickets to the show of his choice.

The winner will be announced next week.

Seeing the $17.00 profit the junior class made on their candy sale, the sophomores decided to have one also.

They are selling mint, pecan, and assorted candy. The money will help the sophomores give the junior-senior prom in 1967.

German Club tobogganing party took place Saturday at Rouge Park. After tobogganing, members enjoyed refreshments at Jackie Follick's home.

Special practice sessions for the all-school musical that will take place in the spring, started Feb. 1. The lessons will take place every week and anyone interested may attend.

Committees for the junior-senior prom in June have been formed.

Debbie Spencer is chairman of tickets and chaperones, Sue Webb is chairman of the favors committee, Carol Witte is in charge of flowers, the invitations committee is chaired by Charlotte Lazar, Nanci Greenburg is in charge of the theme, and Linda Pliehe, publicity.

Farmington GAA Challenges

By MADGE HILDEBRANDT

The GAA at Farmington Senior High no longer engages in only intramural sports tournaments, but has challenged other girls' athletic associations to inter-school contests.

Four GAA teams from FHS played a volleyball tournament the evening of Feb. 3, at North Farmington High. The squads, captained by Sharon Daly, Charlotte Legg, Sue Antonow, and Sue Mynatt, made a good showing against the female Raiders.

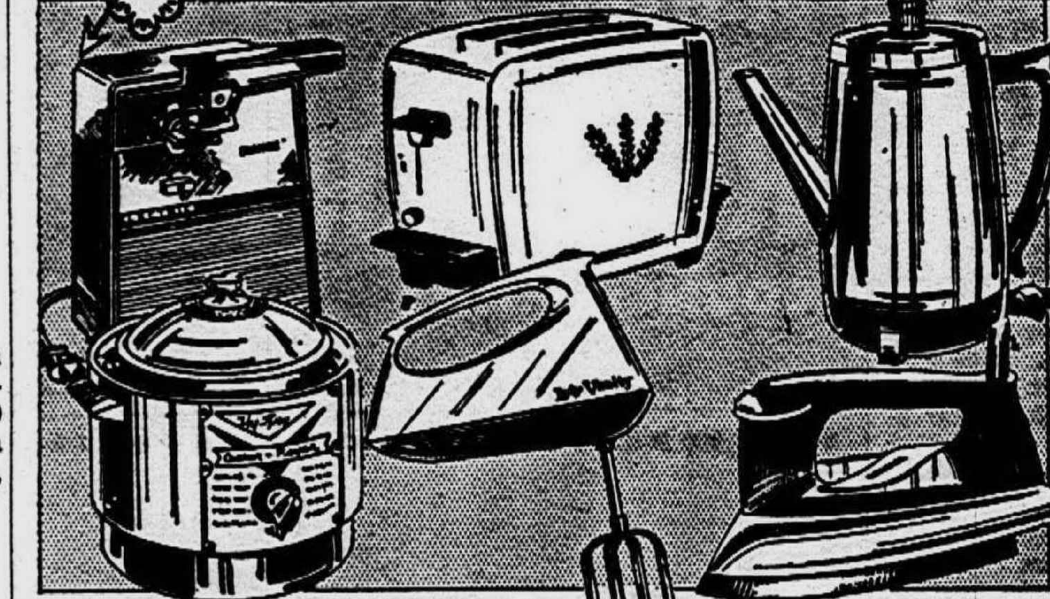

Sharon Daly's was the only team which won its series of three games. However, Sue Mynatt's squad came near victory but lost after a tie and playoff. Single games were also played, and no school finished entirely triumphant.

The day before the match, the GAA traveled to Southfield High for volleyball practice with girls from Hazel Park, Birmingham Seaholm, Berkley, and Southfield high schools. The girls were placed on mixed teams and did not play school against school.

The North Farmington tournament concluded the girls' study of volleyball. They now begin practicing basketball in preparation for two upcoming games. The first is scheduled for Thursday, March 24 with North Farmington, and the second is with Redford Union on Monday, March 28, at 3:30 p.m.

A correction must be made concerning last week's FHS column. The dates for this year's Brotherhood Week were incorrectly reported; they are Feb. 14 through Feb. 18.

'Dogpatch Daze' Due at West High Saturday, Detroit Symphony Orchestra Will Perform

By KAREN SLEBODNIK
Second semester is upon Garden City West High and many different activities are being planned.

On Saturday, (Feb. 12) the Future Homemakers are sponsoring the dance, "Dogpatch Daze." The theme is to wear patches and for girls to ask their favorite guys.

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra will be at West on Feb. 27 in the gymnasium. Tickets may be purchased from any student. Prizes will be given to the group or class selling the greatest number of tickets, and the highest percentage per person in the group.

Students selling at least three tickets will be treated to a free swim party sponsored by student government.

There will be a school government meeting on Wednesday. Scheduling, new business, and the East-West dance will be discussed.

Clubs wishing to have dances should submit a requisition form in the government mailbox in the office. These forms must be in by the Friday before the meeting. Besides the usual information on this form, it has been asked that we have the name of the person operating the record player.

As many students realize, 1966 will be the first year West will have a yearbook.

The name chosen by the staff is Heritage which was suggested by Walter Snyr, a Junior.

The response of students so far has not been good. Of 700 yearbooks ordered, only 436 yearbooks have actually been sold. Order your book now, if you haven't already.

The cover is black with 1966 written vertically on the left hand side. In the lower right hand corner is the name Heritage in orange lettering. Orders will be taken after school for the next week in the yearbook room.

WEST SIDE STORY, the school newspaper will be coming out with a Valentines issue very soon. Save your money for a six page thriller filled with all kinds of news.

West High Athletic Boosters are holding their monthly meeting tonight (Wednesday). Success of the fashion show held last month will be announced and plans discussed for a dinner for the basketball parents.

Sophomores to Sponsor Valentine Day Dance

By Sue Dowell

Bentley will celebrate Valentine Day. On Feb. 12, another Sweetheart dance will be held for the entire student body.

The dance will be held in the gaily decorated multipurpose room. From 8 until 11 p.m. the festivities will include dancing to good music, refreshments, and a lot of fun.

The dance, as always, is being put on by the Sophomore Class. This will be the first all school activity the sophomores have put on this year. Tickets are on sale this week and can be purchased during lunch.

What are many Bentley Juniors doing these days? They are taking part in the Junior Play. This year's Junior play has room for as many as 40 parts.

The Lute Song is the name of the story that will be presented. It is about a Japanese scholar who has just been married. He is called to work for a prince and must leave his wife.

The prince becomes interested in the scholar and bids him to marry his daughter. The scholar now has two wives and carries on his work for the prince. Meanwhile, his first wife is back home caring for his parents. The parents eventually die of starvation.

The princess finds out about her husband's other wife. She seeks out her husband's first wife and makes him choose between two women that love him so much.

Which woman does he choose? The answer to this question can be easily found out by all those who attend the Junior Play on April Fool's Day and the day after.

A BIG SUCCESS! Yes that is

FEBRUARY IS ACTION month for the Marine Corps. Mayor Harvey Moelke issued a proclamation making it official for Marine Corps Reserve Civic Action to carry out their "Care" program. All donations by citizens to "Care", Marine Corps Reserve Civic Action Fund, 916 Guardian Building, Detroit 26, will be guaranteed by the Corps, the donations will be used to help the soldiers in Vietnam and raise the moral of the civilians of South Vietnam. Lt. Colonel Arthur Dromp from Livonia accepted the proclamation.

PICTURE TALK by Les Wilson

A CAMERA FOR CUPID
Valentine's Day, it seems to us, is for pictures. It's a great chance to save those "Be My Valentine" moments—in snaps. But not just with any camera—especially if it's a gift for your Valentine. It's no time for complicated camera settings or slow loading.

These requirements point to but one family of cameras—KODAK INSTAMATIC Cameras—six models. Each model loads in an instant, and is virtually mistake-proof, so snap-shooting starts moments after the gift box is unwrapped. But, in addition to instant loading, these cameras are fantastic for any kind of indoor picture-taking because all are equipped for flashcube photography. One little pop-on flashcube takes four pictures without changing bulbs. That means four "picture stories" of the fun can be snapped when it's happening. And if you and your Valentine like to follow—and save—the fun, see us for a flashcube model Kodak Instamatic.

Deputies Face Trial For Assaulting Boy

Two Wayne County Sheriff's Patrol deputies face trial on charges of assaulting a 17-year-old Taylor Township boy.

Wayne County Assistant Prosecutor John Mowatt recommended a warrant on assault and battery against patrolmen Alex Robertson and David Roberts after receiving results of lie detector tests given the deputies and boy. The tests were administered by state police officials in Lansing.

The two deputies stood mute at an arraignment before Taylor Township Justice of the Peace Anthony Nicita. Nicita told The Observer a trial date will be set as soon as a jury is selected.

Capt. John DeVoss, outcounty Road Patrol head, suspended the two deputies when charges were made and said he would not consider reinstatement until a jury verdict is reached.

Roberts and Robertson were released by Nicita on $200 bond. DeVoss said earlier he would reinstate both men if Mowatt decided against issuing a warrant. The Taylor youth says he was taken from a girl friend's home by the deputies to be questioned about a breaking and entering. The boy said he was taken to a remote area and beaten.

Both deputies earlier claimed they had only apprehended the youth for possession of intoxicants in a car.

A&P Lists Changes in Executives

Promotion of John H. Main, former operating superintendent for A & P Food Stores' Detroit Unit, to the post of assistant to director of operations for the Company's Central Western Division, was announced by Division President Philip Nyquist.

Main replaces Lyle E. Smith, who has been made director of operation for the company's Atlantic Division with headquarters in Philadelphia.

Lewis Wotring, former assistant operating superintendent of the Detroit Unit, has been elevated to the post vacated by Main. Succeeding Wotring, is W. A. George, former assistant operating superintendent for the Louisville Unit.

Main has gained experience in many phases of the firm's operations since joining A&P in 1935 in Huntingburg, Ind. After serving in various capacities, including manager of retail outlets in Indiana and Kentucky, he joined the operating department and was promoted to operating superintendent of the Louisville Unit. In 1956 he was transferred to the divisional office, and subsequently appointed operating superintendent for the Detroit Unit where he has served for the past six years.

Wotring started with A&P in 1944 in the transportation department in Toledo. He later served as assistant transportation superintendent, transportation superintendent and assistant operating superintendent prior to coming to Detroit last year as assistant operating superintendent.

George has been with the food chain since 1949, starting as a stock auditor in Indianapolis. He filled various posts including office department head prior to his promotion in 1956 to assistant operating superintendent of the Indianapolis Unit. In 1963, he was transferred to Louisville in a similar capacity where he served until his recent assignment.

During the last quarter of 1965, Evans reported the acquisition for cash of United States Railway Equipment Company, Chicago Railway Equipment Company, M. Capp Manufacturing Company, and International Housing Corporation. In addition, acquisitions for stock during 1965 included Moore's Super Stores, Inc., Williamson Veneer Company, and Rand Acceptance Corporation.

Farmington Cagers Square Off for Crown

Champs of the Interlakes League! Who? Farmington high school's basketball team. The Falcons shoot for the golden honor Friday night when they close their regular loop campaign at Pontiac Northern. A triumph would give Coach Jack Quiggle and Co. an undisputed crown. Otherwise, Farmington would have to share the flag.

It's been five years (1961) since Farmington last reigned as titlist. The Falcons assured themselves no less than a title the last Friday and at the same time set a school record for points in routing Walled Lake on the Lakers' court, 100-62.

The next night Farmington capitalized on free-throw shooting to down North Farmington, 58-45.

"We're really coming along very well," said a happy Quiggle, whose team now boasts an overall 10-4 record while standing 4-1 in the four-team Interlakes League.

Farmington soared off to a 29-14 lead against Walled Lake and really slowed down despite the fact Quiggle gave all his charges a chance to play.

In the second period, the Falcons tallied 21 points. They added 27 in the third period and finished with 23 in the closing quarter.

Steve Moore rolled in 20 points on five baskets and 10 free throws to top the winners. Mike Wilson and Greg Dorow fashioned identical totals of eight hoops and three charities for 19 points.

Mike Ames fired in four baskets and seven free ones for 15 points.

Others to score for the Falcons were George Habicht and Fritz Simons with seven each, Al Kilka with five and Mike Thompson and Bob Gilbert with four each.

Free throws proved the deciding factor in the Farmington-North Farmington game. The Farmington team notched only 17 baskets to 20 for North Farmington.

However, when it came to charities, Farmington pumped in 24 while its cross-town rival clocked on only five to finish with one of its lowest totals in a long time.

Mike Ames was the big gun for the victors, scoring 23 points on eight baskets and seven free throws. Wilson also hit double figures with 14 points while Rick Lorenz was the lone North Farmington player in double figures with 12.

Farmington moved to an 11-10 edge after one period, then outscored North 15-9 in the second and 11-7 in the third to pull away to a comfortable margin.

The reserve encounter went to North Farmington, 61-53, despite a 24-point effort by George Grimmala of the losers.

CLOSE QUARTERS: Mike Benner (22) of Our Lady of Sorrows is closely guarded by Joe Wejtys of Orchard Lake St. Mary's. But Benner still gets his shot off. St. Mary's won game in breeze.

TAKE IT EASY: Groves' Mike Rafferty gives the impression he's mad and slapping at the ball as Ron Block of Thurston goes to shoot. Rafferty paced Groves to victory and a step nearer to title.

Bentley, Trenton Still Tied for First Place

The dog fight continues in the Suburban Six League's basketball title chase.

With three weekends to go, it's still Trenton and Bentley in a tie for the top with 6-1 records. Right behind is Redford Union at 5-2.

"Anything can happen," said Bentley coach George Fefies after his forces had charged past Plymouth, 61-44.

At the same time, Trenton had jarred Allen Park, 66-60, and RU ripped apart Belleville, 88-57.

"If we just keep winning, well, nobody can catch us and we'll take it all . . . by ourselves."

What's left for Bentley? This Friday it's on to Belleville. Then comes what shapes up as the most vital of all games—against Trenton.

And to end the regular campaign, Bentley must face Redford Union, the team which jolted the Livonians the last time around.

"We can't afford to slip, not one inch," added Fefies who was satisfied with the way Bentley finished against Plymouth.

Bentley got into some foul difficulties in the first half against the Rocks with the result Bentley held only a 19-15 edge after the first period and a 34-26 half-time command.

In the first half, Plymouth notched only six free baskets, but hit on 14 of 31 free throws.

Bentley tightened up after the intermission, making fewer fouls—10 in all—and holding Plymouth to just 18 points in the remaining 16 minutes of action.

BOUNCING ALONG ON THE SPORTS BEAT!

You never know where you'll run into old friends . . . like Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State's 1966 Rose Bowl football team.

Duffy bounced aboard a Northeast Airliner in Boston, as we waited for the takeoff to Philadelphia. With the departure twice delayed, there was plenty of chance to talk with Daugherty.

He was in Boston to give a football clinic. Now he was en route to Pittsburgh for a similar affair.

This past weekend saw Daugherty lecturing at Grand Rapids.

"The clinics have become a big thing in recent years," Duffy tells you. "We get bigger turnouts every year. Up in Grand Rapids we'll draw close to 1,500 coaches."

And where do the coaches come from? "Mostly the high schools," added Daugherty. "These are men dedicated to their professions. They want to learn more about their jobs so they can pass along more to the kids who play for them."

Daugherty paused for a couple seconds. "I'd have to say that the clinics have helped improve the caliber of schoolboy sports. It's especially true in Michigan where they're turning out better schoolboys in football, basketball, baseball and everything else."

There was another pause. "We at Michigan State should know how good the Michigan kids are. We'd be in bad shape . . . very bad shape without them."

Here's an invitation to all our Observer friends who'd like to see the Detroit Pistons in action. On Sunday afternoon, Feb. 20, the Pistons square off against the Cincinnati Royals at beautiful Cobo Arena in downtown Detroit. The tipoff is slated for 2 p.m.

We will make available to all Observer readers a regular reserved seat for just $1. All you have to do is to mail us a check covering the tickets you need (the maximum is six tickets per letter) along with a stamped, self-addressed return envelope.

Send it to George Maskin, the Detroit Pistons, 202 Michigan Ave., Detroit 48226. You'll get your reserved seats in prompt order.

So let's make it Observer Day at Cobo Arena. And we might add that the game will be nationally televised. If you know somebody in San Francisco or Bangor, write and tell 'em you'll wave in their direction.

THREE WEEKS HENCE it will be state tourney time for the Michigan prep cagers.

One can feel the air thickening as the annual March Madness approaches.

For those high school teams now out of contention for league honors, the state meet offers a second chance to capitalize in the glory parade.

SPRING CAN'T BE FAR AWAY . . . not with the Detroit Tigers heading south to start preparing for what everybody in the Detroit organization feels will be a great season.

ORCHIDS TO NORMIE ULMAN, the Livonian who is enjoying another great season with the Red Wings. Normie's play sometimes gets overlooked with such teammates as Gordie Howe, Roger Crozier and Alex Delvecchio around.

Second Half Collapse Kills Thurston's Hopes

Coach Mike Pasternak of Thurston high school's basketball team plans to change his half-time "pep" talks.

There had to be something he said last Friday night—so it would seem—that changed the entire complexion of what was transpiring on the floor in Thurston's showdown with Birmingham Groves for first place in the Northwest Suburban League.

of the first period with an 18-17 lead.

When the half ended, it was 38-35—Groves on top.

But look at what happened in the third period!

Groves tossed in 36 points in eight minutes to 17 for the Thurston team.

"It's impossible to believe what happened," said Pasternak.

"We came out for the third period, ready to try and play the same way we did in the second period. We decided to stick to a man-to-man defense.

"But the ball just wouldn't bounce for us. And everything Groves did . . . everything they threw up . . . it worked."

Never before had Thurston given up 36 points in one period. Professional teams, who play 12-minute periods, rarely hit as many points.

"The net result was that (Cont. on Next Sports Page)

Capuchin Guild Benefit Set For April 28

Thursday, April 28, has been selected for the 25th annual Baseball Dinner of the Capuchin Charity Guild.

Rev. Quentin Heinrichs, head of the Capuchin group, said the dinner again will be held at Cobo Hall, with a crowd of about 2,000 expected.

The Tigers, who will be playing the Kansas City Athletics at Tiger Stadium that afternoon, will attend the dinner en masse—as they have for several seasons.

A special committee is selecting the principal speaker and arranging the program for the dinner, Fr. Quentin said. A ticket sale will begin soon and feminine fans again will be welcomed.

Proceeds from the dinner go to the support of the Capuchin Soup Kitchen at the order's monastery on the East Side.

RU Bounces Back

Redford Union's back on the ball... and still in contention. The Township cagers, coached by Milo Karhu, hit a season's high last Friday in swamping Belleville, 88-57.

Franklin Tankers Gain Split

Franklin high's swimmers gained a split in action last week. After losing to Bentley, 55-50, Franklin bounced back to trim Ypsilanti Roosevelt by a 65-40 score.

In the Bentley meet, the decision went right down to the final event — the 400-yard free style relay. J. Schreiber, swimming anchor for Bentley, edged out Franklin's Barclay to give Bentley the race and meet.

Barclay and Jud Kingsbury each won two events for Franklin against Roosevelt.

The results: Bentley 55, Franklin 50. Medley relay: 1-Bentley (Donaldson, Stewart, Palmer, Shaw), 2-Franklin, Time 1:52.4.

in seven games for the Townshippers who started the season by winning only one of their first five.

"The kids really came back," said Karhu after the Belleville victory.

"I was afraid that following that tough loss to Trenton, we might have our problems with Belleville."

The fact is that RU did have some difficulties early in the second period. RU had rushed in front, 21-13, after one period, and then Belleville put on a blast that made the score 26-22 early in the second session.

At this point, Leland Bjerke and his RU mates took command. They ripped in 12 straight points, with Bjerke making eight of them, and by half-time it was 42-26 for RU and the outcome no longer was in doubt.

Bjerke and Ron Bauer provided RU with its big scoring punch. Bjerke made 11 baskets and five free throws for 27 points, while playing only three-quarters of the game. Bauer chipped in with 10 baskets and two charities for 22 points.

Bill Arnold had six hoops and two charities for 12 points, but more important he was the star rebounder for the victors with 15.

Glen Davis and Mark Lindman had six each for RU, followed by Doug Mach with five, Carl Ruohonen with four and Jack Shepherd and Bill Fahey with two apiece.

Three games remain ahead for RU in the league chase, starting at Allen Park Friday night.

"We still have a great chance," says Karhu. "Suppose Bentley can beat Trenton and we repeat over Bentley. That might bring about a triple tie for the title."

The RU reserves scooted past Belleville, 66-43, with Bill Mieras the big gun, scoring 25 points.

THURSTON'S Ron Block pulls the ball away from Mike Rafferty of Groves in battle for league lead. Groves won to near the Northwest Suburban basketball championship.

Livonians Take Lead In Tourney

Firing opened over the weekend in the fourth annual Observer Newspapers-Merri-Bowl. Livanes mixed doubles tournament and judging from the start, the score for the 1966 event will be the highest in history.

The team of Robert and Corinne Floyd of Livonia took the lead after the first weekend and practically assured themselves of a share of the prize money when they combined for a 1212 count.

Mrs. Floyd, who entered with a 124 average, bettered that in each of the three games with 134, 174 and 133 for a net 441 while Mr. Floyd, who has a 173 average, started slow with a 155 and then came roaring back with 175 and a big 225 for a 555.

This gave the couple a score of 996 and combined with their 216 handicap for the 1212 series.

Carol and Alex Hargis, of Redford Township, moved into the second spot in the early scoring with 1190. The duo of Bev and Jim McCabe, of Detroit, are third with 1145.

After the sporadic opening, the tournament settled down to the weekend grind that continues for the next four months until it finally rolls to a halt on Sunday, May 29.

There are still choice dates and times available according to Tournament Director Mac Goldman. He urges all planning to compete to make entries now and assure themselves of some of the better dates.

The tournament has a guaranteed first prize of $2,500, making it the richest mixed doubles meet in the area and Goldman anticipates the largest entry in the four years with a total well over 1,500 teams.

BEATEN IN OVERTIME DUEL:

Big Lead Means Nothing

You lead by ten points with just under two minutes left in the game. With 12 seconds on the clock, you're four points up. But you still LOSE the game. Don't think it can happen? It did — to Franklin high's basketball team against Oak Park last Friday.

The Livonians were sailing along for 30 minutes in the game. Then came the explosion and Oak Park pulled even in regulation time and went on to win with the game's only overtime basket, 61-59. "I'm still stunned," declared coach John Hartsig as Franklin went back to drills on Monday. "I've replayed what happened in those last 120 seconds of the fourth period a thousand times. I doubt if I ever will see something like that again."

Franklin had jumped ahead in the first period, 16-13. It was 31-24 at halftime and Franklin by two points after three periods.

The Livonians then opened up what looked like an untouchable lead, notwithstanding Oak Park was using a pressing defense the entire game.

"Maybe our kids just got over excited at the end," explained Hartsig. "We started to throw the ball and that's what hurt. "Oak Park cut our lead to four points and we still looked like we were in."

"Then they pull off what amounted to a four-point play. Jeff Atkins made a basket and one of his mates gets fouled. They miss the foul and Atkins tips in the tying hoop with three seconds to go."

In overtime Paul Tarnoff made Oak Park's big shot, a tip-in with 90 seconds remaining.

Franklin had a couple of shots in the extra, three minute session but couldn't click.

It was all like a nightmare, Hartsig had to agree. The fact Franklin played without regulars Ron Wicks, Carl Gulbransen and Steve Atkinson likely affected the result, but Hartsig didn't register an alibi about his reduced roster.

Tom Reich led Franklin with 13 points, Al Jose had 12 and Dale Lee 10. Paul Katoosh notched eight, Earl Neeley seven, Bill Bauer five and Ray Porter four.

Sophomore Atkins, a 5-9 jumping jack, topped Oak Park with 11 baskets and one free throw for 23 points. Franklin's reserves won, 60-46, with Bill Hellstein pumping in 13 points.

East Slices Errors, Rolls to Easy Win

In sports, or elsewhere, carelessness can prove very costly. Correct the mistakes and you stand to profit.

Garden City East high's basketball team found out as much last Friday in turning back Taylor Center, 61-46, to make its record read 4-3 in Mid-Wayne Conference action.

East struggled to hold a 27-25 lead at halftime. What was East's trouble? "Floor mistakes," declared Coach Billy Young. "We kept throwing the ball away. That's costly."

Came the third period, Garden City ceased fumbling away the ball.

"We made only one floor mistake in the second half," a happy Young declared.

With the better ball control, Garden City outscored Taylor, 16-9, in the third period and 18-12 in the final period to win going away.

Another important part in the victory was East's free-throw shooting. The winners stormed to the charity line 29 times and made 23.

Joe Heuber was the big ace at the foul line. He made 10 out of 11 "gifts" to maintain his better than 80 percent success story at the foul line.

It was Heuber with seven points, Paul Kightlinger with five and Carl Glasser with two points in the third period for East when the team pulled away from Taylor.

In the final quarter, Glasser scored six, Heuber four and Kightlinger three.

Kightlinger took overall scoring honors in the game with 17 points. Heuber had 16 and Glaser and Norb Podwoiski 12 each.

Harvey Kightlinger scored to round out the East scoring. Gary Popler and Mike Conyer contributed to the winners' effort, although neither scored.

The East reserves also came through with a victory, finishing with a bulging 67-39 edge. Bob Kalinowski had 20 points and Rick Clock 14 for the winners.

Inkster plays at Garden City East this Friday night.

Russell's "Rep" Doesn't Scare Piston Rookie

The test of a center in the National Basketball Association comes in head-on involvements with Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics. Russell for many years has been hailed as the NBA's most valuable player, notwithstanding the presence in the league of a gent named Wilt Chamberlain.

More than one rival has been buried by the sweeping and overhauling power of Russell. He has forced player after player to change their course of attack and shooting.

But the story has been different when Russell has gone up against rookie Joe Strawder of the Detroit Pistons.

Strawder admits he respects Russell, then adds: "But he doesn't scare me."

Twice within the past week, Strawder turned in brilliant efforts against Russell. Each time, the Pistons came out a winner to assure themselves their best season in history against the mighty Celtics.

Playing at Boston, Strawder dumped in 29 points and picked off 20 rebounds. Five nights later in Detroit's Cobo Arena, Strawder scored 20 points and picked up 16 rebounds.

"Joe is coming along nicely," says Player-Coach Dave DeBusschere. "With steady play like the kind Joe turned in against Russell, we won't have to worry about looking for a center in the forthcoming college draft."

Perhaps one reason Strawder does so well against Boston is that the Celtics originally drafted him. However, they never gave him a chance to play, obviously figuring they had no room for another center, with Russell on the scene.

The Pistons face another four-game road swing this weekend before they return home a week from Friday against the New York Knicks. The Pistons start their tour at Boston against the Knicks Friday. Then it's on to Cincinnati Saturday, to Charleston, W. Va., Monday to face Philadelphia and then to Baltimore for a Tuesday date with the Bullets.

Stevenson Continues To Improve

Stevenson high's basketball fortunes are on the upswing. After a slow start, the new Livonia team under Coach Don Iott has won four of its last five to bring its overall record to 5-7.

Stevenson kept its string going last week by downing the Redford Union reserves, 50-42.

The happy spot for Iott was the way his team came on later after netting only two baskets and one free throw in the first period to fall behind, 12-5.

Then Stevenson got going and finished by outscoring RU, 18-9, in the last period.

Jim Olsen and Paul Pender each meshed 12 points for the winners. High for the losers was Fahey with 10 points.

Stevenson battles Bentley's reserves at Bentley this Wednesday evening and then goes against Walled Lake at Bentley next Tuesday night.

Come next year Stevenson will embark on a variety schedule, playing in the Interlake Conference whose membership includes Farmington.

Groves Wins

Groves stormed to a 94-63 victory... the most points any Thurston team ever has ever given up in an entire game.

The setback just about crushed Thurston's hopes to cash in at least a share of the crown. Had Thurston won, the Townshippers would have tied with Groves for first place.

But now Groves leads with a 7-0 record, while Thurston has a 5-2 mark.

"I can't see anybody catching Groves," said Pasternak. "Of course, they might collapse."

But Groves has copped 11 in a row without a loss this season and has to rank among the state's powerhouses.

The Groves team is a balanced unit. In the third period uprisings, nobody scored more than eight points for the Birmingham team. The honors were well divided, although at the finish Dick Rafferty had 23 points to show the way.

Reg Barringer tallied 15 points to pace the losers. Gary Knock scored 14, Bob Wardrop 13, Sandy Samelson 11, Don Block eight and Al Szymanski two.

The night did have some cheer for Thurston. The school's reserves won a 66-64 thriller with the payoff shot coming with just 25 seconds left on the clock.

Rick Klock scored 16 and Jim Lytle 11 for the Thurston reserves.

This Friday Thurston goes to Oak Park and must win to keep its dwindling flag hopes alive.

Observing Sports

(Continued from First Sports Page) presence of Manager-Coach Sid Abel... the parade of adjectives and superlatives never cease. Ulman appears a cinch to gain all-star honors this season in the National Hockey League.

JOHN WALTER, the very able sportswriter for the Detroit News, has been leading a campaign of late to bring about a state baseball tournament for Michigan high school teams.

This is a venture which this author has advocated for many years. We sounded out on a state prep meet during our days on the late Detroit Times.

Our thinking made little headway with State Prep Director Charles Forsythe and other members of the State Representative Council. We're hopeful Walter's words gain a more favorable response, although we have our doubts.

Forsythe keeps insisting there just isn't time in the spring for a state baseball meet.

Like Walter, we disagree. Why not just take the various league champs and send them forth to bid for state honors?

Or use such meets as the Observer's annual invitational to serve as a qualifying regional.

There definitely IS time for a state meet. As the old saying goes: "Where there's a will, there's a way."

REMEMBER THAT newspaperman who sailed the Atlantic by himself in a 15-foot boat? It took him some 37 days.

Had the privilege of meeting him the other afternoon and he fascinated those in the audience with his remarks.

Why does a man do such things? "I always had the urge," he declared. "So I did it." Somebody made the remark that he was trying to get away from his wife.

"Oh, yea? Guess who was waiting for me when I stepped out of the boat in England? My wife." Was he scared at any time? "Yes, a few times, especially the first time I fell out of the boat."

Schoolcraft Drops Two More Basketball Tilts

The basketball fortunes of Schoolcraft College took an upswing last Saturday night. The team ran up its highest total of the season, 67 points.

But it didn't win the game at Muskegon Junior College which romped off to 107-67 conquest.

Earlier in the week, Schoolcraft had lost to Kellogg, 92-49.

The twin setbacks lifted the Schoolcraft reversals for the season to 14 without a victory.

OLGC Holds Kickoff Dinner

A get-together for ladies of the Rosary Society of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church was held on Wednesday evening. The Parish Hall was decorated with a sweetheart theme, and the evening began with a dinner at 8 p.m.

The presentation of a skit in three parts was made by John Broderick; the singing ladies dressed for the occasion paid a tribute to the past, and present, and then took a look into the future. They were accompanied by Nancy Covington at the piano.

A prize of a beautiful hand knit stole was taken home by Mrs. Raymond Kimble. The evening devoted to new membership under the chieftainship of Mrs. Robert McVoy proved successful and plans were laid for a tea in the near future.

No education is complete unless it includes a study on how to get along with other people.

Vote for Sealed Bid's

 told that the Council probably wouldn't consider an offer of less than $4,000 since assessors had reported that to be a fair price.
 Roberts' letter made an offer of $4,000.
 Snyder's letter was written on Feb. 4 (last Friday) but wasn't delivered to Bridget until sometime Monday. It contained the offer of $4,100.
 The terms of the sale did not state that the offers had to be made sealed but rather the Commission had authorized the City Manager to make the best possible deal and report back.

 "Since both letters were open, what reason have I to believe that a call wasn't made to the other party," questioned Roberts.
 With that charge in mind, the Commission recessed briefly and then voted to submit sealed bids with a written explanation of the proposed use of the land.

 The letters must be in the hands of the City Manager prior to 7:30 p.m. on the night of Feb. 21 after which they will be opened by Mayor James Houk and the matter brought to the attention of the Commission again.
 The motion for the secret bids passed by a 3-2 vote with Commissioners James McKeon, George Lawton and Arch Vallier favoring and George Hudson and Mayor Houk dissenting.

assigned a team of three volunteer advisers from business and industry. They then incorporate their group, elect officers, sell stock, and go into production of a product of their own choosing.
 With the financial support of individuals and local business firms, Junior Achievement provides the business center, office and the production equipment each company

Another hassle developed when City Attorney Thomas Healy and Building Inspector Charles Thompson presented a resolution for Commission approval, declaring the building or structure at 206 N. Holbrook, owned by Mrs. Pauline Nowotarski, to be a public hazard or nuisance.
 The resolution orders Mrs. Nowotarski to abate the nuisance or to tear down and remove the building or structure within 10 weeks of the resolution.

The Commission finally passed the resolution but only after a lengthy debate during which Commissioner Vallier pointed out that there must be many other buildings in the city in worse shape or just about the same condition as the condemned home.
 Vallier contended that the City should take steps to condemn other properties just as it has in this instance but expressed a feeling that such actions should be initiated by the building inspector and not until after a complaint had been filed.

The City Manager promptly pointed out that such actions should be taken but that it would require the fulltime services of a building inspector hired to enforce the housing code.
 The debate was finally resolved when the Commissioners recommended that Thompson do everything possible to check dwellings in the city that are substandard and to start similar demolition actions.

"I believe the building inspectors could find a good many homes that need actions of this type," said Vallier, "I feel that if he devotes time enough during his inspections that he'll be able to come back to this Commission and report as many as 12 or 14 within a reasonable short time."
 In other actions, the Commission:

Agreed to send three Commissioners plus Mayor Houk and the City Manager to the leadership conference planned by the Chamber of Commerce at Hillsdale College on March 5 and 6.
 Authorized the City Manager to settle water and sewer damage claims by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Chaiken and William Wolfe and Mrs. Seraphia Moore in accordance with the city's policy.

Authorized the City Manager to enter into a contract with Salem Township for use of the Salem Refuse site subject to approval of the City Attorney and then with that matter resolved, to enter into a contract with Sheldon Hayes for operation of the site. The last mentioned contract also is subject to approval of the City Attorney and must be signed by the Mayor and City Clerk.
 Approved moving expenses of $1,000 for Eugene Slider, the recently appointed City Clerk, who is coming to Plymouth from the City of Edgewater in Colorado.

Approved sale of the obsolete fire truck to Margolis Nursery in Ypsilanti for $200. It was the only offer received.
 Approved the appointment of Commissioners James Jabara, Vallier and McKeon to the water study committee. The group will explore use of water softeners, cost of treating water after a report from the consulting engineers and discuss Detroit water with the Detroit Water Board. First it will make a study to determine what the interest of the city's residents is to the Detroit water.

NO QUESTION about the interest of this group of youngsters in the performance of Mrs. Kay Devereaux in her role of Rumpelstiltskin which will be presented by the Plymouth AAUW Saturday at Plymouth High. Four showings are slated for the day starting at 10 a.m. Watching her perform are (from left) Wendy Smith, Tom Devereaux, Director Mrs. Wendell Smith, Mike

Library Reports Major '65 Gains

Several new features have been added during the past year at the Dunning-Hough Library.
 About 200 long playing records have been collected through donations by public spirited individuals, the Rotary Club, and Melody House. These records are now circulating, and are proving very popular.
 About 75 were borrowed during the first week that they were available. More are needed, and donations are welcome. Checks should be made out to the Plymouth Symphony Society Record Fund.

The Source by Michener, The Intern by "Doctor X," My Shadow Ran Fast by Sands, and The Gift of Prophecy by Montgomery.

Story time for pre-schoolers is a popular feature of library service. Miss Gene Gardner, the children's librarian, tells the stories, and occasionally shows a film to the children.

The fall series ended at Thanksgiving and the winter series will begin Feb. 8 at 4 P.M. for those in kindergarten and first grade. The pre-school story hour will be Fridays at 10:30 beginning February 11.

Photographed copies of pages of encyclopedias and other reference books have been available at no cost to patrons since the Kiwanis Club gave the library a photo-copier several years ago.
 But there was an increasing demand for other kinds of photographed materials, far beyond the resources of available staff time, so a do-it-yourself Viconic was set up near the entrance. With a coin in the slot and a push of the button, it makes a clear copy in just a few seconds.

The number of periodicals available at the library has jumped from around 60 to almost 160, thanks to a grant from the state of Michigan. The library is now receiving all the magazines indexed in the Reader's Guide.

Most popular book of the year was Up the Down Staircase by Bel Kaufman, the story of a young woman's first year as a teacher in a New York City high school.

Wilder Classic Is 'A Kinetic Delight'

By WALLY ROBERTS

Mammoths, dinosaurs, the inventor of the wheel, Homer, Moses, Cain, Noah's Ark, Sonny Eliot, some "A-Go-Go" dancers, and strains of "We Shall Overcome" all blend together to make the University of Detroit's production of "The Skin Of Our Teeth" a visual, kinetic delight.

A huge cast of 40 talented folks make this Alan Jorgensen version of the Thornton Wilder Pulitzer Prize play have new bite to its satire. Originally produced in 1942 when we hovered on the edge of world-wide defeat by the determined little men of Asia—the Nippons—"Skin Of Our Teeth" in 1966 has retained every bit of its incisiveness.

Director Alan Jorgensen has up-dated the play cleverly. Although Wilder's dialogue has an eternal quality, a little help here and there via stage business or the piquant underscoring of a scene or speech for Jorgensen makes this "Skin" a triumph.

The use of the echo chamber to give the convention scene a touch of super-realism, the somber mortuary-like throbbing of an eerie organ to punctuate the Fortune Teller sequence, and the foot-tapping rhythms of Sousa as an overture are only a few of the many aural plums for the audience to titillate their eardrums.

Visually, the settings and costumes by Bert Ronke and Betty Warner set the mood properly and add to the general excitement. Dominic Missimi's choreography spills into the audience; in fact, it swirls and surrounds you so that you are caught up with its infectious quality. Chuck Derry's colorful slides provide further icing on the U of D's theatrical bonanza.

Perry Mallette, Alice Broder, Vicki Witkowski, Roslyn Hayward, Jackie Phillips, and Kelly Burke prove that Broadway favorites such as E. G. Marshall, Frederic March, Florence Etheridge, and Talulah Bankhead weren't the only people that could play "Skin of our Teeth" so beautifully. This U of D sextet plus one prove that the touch of professionalism in the theater can be found on the third floor of the U of D library as well as in New York City.

To be fair to the rest of cast old Wally would have to admit that no matter how small the role every member acquitted themselves superbly. "Skin" will be playing at the U of D Library weekends until Feb. 20. Take time to see a rip-roaring, rousing version of "Skin of Our Teeth".

Let's hope that University authorities can see their way clear to give these fine production more exposure by repeating it during the summer tent repertory. All of us missed the summer repertory group last year. Let me nominate "Skin" as the production to surely repeat for the starwhat trade.

Wally Roberts UP' GOING 'CURTAIN

The perfect antidote for frigid weather is a torrid stage presentation. You forget the blustering winds, the searing sharpness of the "zero and below" weather outside as Blanche DuBois of "Streetcar Named Desire" sets her suitcase down in the hot, steamy French Quarter of New Orleans.

In the midst of sharply-dropping temperatures the Wyandotte Community Players staged "Streetcar Named Desire" for a freezing four day run. Louise Martin, Redford Surburban League musical comedy veteran, made her dramatic debut with the Downriver group in the lead role of Blanche DuBois.

Louise's magnificent transformation into the eternally romantic, yet neurotic Blanche cast a spell over the audience. The magic of Blanche's lines and the cruel circumstances she faces in the Kowalski apartment combine to make "streetcar" one of Tennessee Williams' greatest plays.

action they represent are far too prevalent in society today. The great bulk of us in our society (the staid, calm middle-class, middle-of-the-roads) might rise in protest and slap Old Wally's wrist. Our conforming sisters and brothers never like to admit life is real, earnest and leads but to the grave. But Williams in "Streetcar" keeps ringing a loud bell to warn us that it does and you'd better not follow Blanche's foot-loose footsteps in a fruitless search for an ideal world.

Henry Albertson as Mitch turned in a sterling performance. His tender handling of the love scenes with Blanche gave the production moments of shimmering beauty. Pat Hoth, Jack Sarcona, and Barbara Wilcox provide professional polish and excellent support to the sensitive portrayal of Blanche.

Only chilling item of the evening on the inside was Don MacGregor's wooden, unrealistic interpretation of the role of Stanley. Where he should have been savage; he seemed only suave. Too often during the evening his upright, clean appearance signaled the opposite of Stanley's bulking, sloppy nature. Stanley's character must be rough-hewn, earthy or the contrast between Blanche and Stanley is completely lost.

Marx Brothers Comedy Slated

The famous Marx brothers are featured in their 1938 comedy hit, "Room Service," Sunday, Feb. 13, in the Henry Ford Museum Theatre at Greenfield Village in Dearborn.

The film, which also stars the great Ann Miller; will be shown at 2 and 4 p.m.

Presented as part of the Museum's Famous Early Movies Series, the rollicking comedy depicts the plight of an impoverished theatrical producer and his aides, who use their wits to keep from being discharged from their hotel room.

The four Marxes — Chico, Groucho, Harpo and Zeppo, give a typically fine performance from that era in motion picture history when their top-rated madcap comedy films were being turned out at least once a year.

The Famous Early Movies presents great films of the past each Sunday afternoon through April 10, and is included in the regular admission to Henry Ford Museum. For further information, call 271-1620.

Livonian Has Role in Mystery

"Double Door," a mystery play, will be presented by the Lutheran High West Drama Club at the High School, 8181 Greenfield, Feb. 12 at 8 p.m. and Feb. 13 at 7:30 p.m.

David Wolfram, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Wolfram of 16445 Fairway Dr., Livonia, play a leading role. Miss Leila Finzel, registrar and drama coach of the high school, is the director. Tickets will be available at the door.

Cranbrook Exhibit Concentrates on Amusements

Toys, games, sculpture and contraptions make up the new exhibition "Amusements Is" which opens in Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries, Bloomfield Hills, on Feb. 15 and will remain through March 6.

From the exhibition at the Museum of Contemporary Crafts some 65 objects of fantasy have been selected to illustrate the ingenuity and imagination that can be brought to the design of toys as demonstrated in this show circulated by the American Federation of Arts.

Some of the objects are self-activated while others are game-type pieces that must be manipulated. In "Amusements" a deliberate emphasis has been placed on the experience of making things and many objects represented strongly reflect the artist's sense of fun as he worked. This is an exhibit for everyone. Included in the show is a large selection of work from artists of the younger generation.

Casting Call

Auditions will be held Feb. 11, 12, 13 and 14 at the Lincoln Junior High School in Wyandotte for the upcoming Wyandotte Community Theatre production of the musical "Gypsy." The auditions will begin each night at 7:30. Miss Ruth Whitworth (AV 5-3570) will direct the production.

Has Major Role

BIG RAPIDS — Kathy McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of 23224 Prospect, Farmington, is to appear in a major role in "Tom Jones" to be presented by the Ferris Playhouse Feb. 24, 25, and 26, at Ferris State College.

Federal Program Designed To Enrich Science Study

A federal grant of $7,148 awarded to the Wayne Community School District has been announced by William Taylor, coordinator of federal and state aid programs for the district. The grant will be used to provide elementary science enrichment for about 200 students starting the first of March. The enrichment program establishes after-school classes for youngsters in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades at Stottlemeyer, Taft, Washington, Hamilton, Jefferson, Lincoln, Monroe and Roosevelt Elementary Schools. The district will engage the nine best available science teachers to conduct the special classes which will be attended by 20 to 25 pupils from each school. Classes will be held twice a week and pupils will be chosen by the school principals on the basis of economic, educational or cultural disadvantages. The eight schools were selected after a study indicated they had the highest number of children considered to be disadvantaged. The district's parochial schools have been invited to send any students eligible to any of the eight attendance areas to the classes, Taylor says. The district's parochial schools are St. Mary's Catholic in Wayne and St. John's Lutheran in Nankin Township. Some $2,180 of the grant is earmarked for scientific equipment to be used in the night classes. Some of the equipment to be purchased includes: telescope kits, microscopes, weather station kits, optic sets, heat and infra ray laboratory kits, garden soil test kits and electricity and solar power sets.

ERNEST SHARPE OF 35835 Castle Meadow Drive, Farmington, has been named vice president and general manager of Wesley Quaker Maid Ice Cream Company, Inc., a subsidiary of Borman Food Stores, Inc. This is a new position. Sharpe and his wife, Florence, have three children who attend Our Lady of Sorrows School.

Five Viewpoints Of Livonia

By M. Kowaleski

The dissatisfied and contented among Livonia's citizens all had spokesmen at the Feb. 6 meeting of Livonia Citizens for Better Human Relations. A panel discussion, along with spirited audience participation, covered the gamut of problems the city faces today, but revealed a general agreement that Livonia is a good place to live and that its residents would choose it for a home site if they had to do again. One of the most acute problems in the community was thought to be the lack of involvement and concern of such a large number of the residents. A small group was seen to be working hard for the community itself, but the majority of the citizens are unconcerned, "too busy," and using Livonia as the traditional suburban "bedroom community" adjacent to the big city and its opportunities. Another problem was the belief that many residents expected all the services and advantages of a progressive community, but didn't want to pay for them — "trying to get something for nothing" as one panelist phrased it. The senior citizens panelist effectively portrayed the plight of the senior citizen in this area of taxation. He came to Livonia when and because it was an inexpensive place to live and is now, in effect, being driven from Livonia because living on Social Security he cannot afford to pay the taxes here. Other serious problems were thought to be the lack of facilities—cultural, athletic, social—for teenagers, a view reinforced by the teen aged panelist's opinion that youth were generally satisfied here, because if they weren't, they could go to Detroit for what they wanted. The parent chauffeurs bemoaned the lack of public transportation in Livonia. Civic associations came in for their share of praise and criticism. They were seen as potentially valuable forces in the community, but too often fragment the interests of the citizens to the concerns of a small area, and are heard from primarily when they're fighting against instead of for something. The panel members were: Andre Smith, a teenager; Gary Gothard, a construction worker; Lawrence Reinard, a realtor; Rev. Kenneth Larkin, a clergyman; and Esther MacKenzie, a senior citizen.

Frosh Stempien Serves On New Legislative Council

State Representative Marvin R. Stempien, D., of Livonia, who has fulfilled many leadership assignments in Michigan's first one-man, one-vote Legislature, now has the distinction of being the only "freshman" member of the House of Representatives to be named to the powerful and newly-created Legislative Council. During the past year, Representative Stempien has successfully fulfilled strenuous responsibilities as chairman of the House Judiciary Sub-Committee on Consumer Protection and as chairman of the House Appropriation Committee which is seeking a workable solution to reapportionment of legislative districts and the application of the one-man, one-vote principle to county boards of supervisors. In addition, Representative Stempien is serving as a member of the Joint Committee on Court Reorganization. The revised state constitution abolished the offices of justice of the peace and circuit court commissioner by January 1, 1969... a step which now requires a substantial overhaul of the state's judiciary. "The Council will maintain

March 31 Deadline To Enroll For Medicare

1967, to enroll. Their protection would not begin until July, 1968, and they will be charged a higher premium, he added. Those who enroll by March 31 will pay a $3 monthly premium, and will be covered beginning July 1. The optional program helps to pay doctor bills and certain medical expenses not covered by the basic Medicare program. Congressman Ford said that approximately 11,500,000 persons have enrolled for the optional program. There are approximately 19,000,000 persons eligible. Anyone 65 or older who has not received an application by mail, or who has mislaid his form, should immediately apply for a new one at the nearest Social Security office. Surviving are his wife, Jean; one daughter, Carol; two sons, James Paul and Robert; and a daughter, Anna Gregory of Madison, Wis. Mary Robinson of East Detroit, Elsie Lewandowski of Dearborn, Mildred Bond of Detroit, Regina Browne of Livonia, and Beverly Muhow of Detroit, brothers Edward and Raymond Doran both of Warren, and one grandson. Mrs. Harriet B. Larson of Livonia, sixth grade, Hull School. Mitchell A. Madis of Plymouth, vocal music, Holmes Junior High School. Mrs. Patricia Hahn of Detroit, biology, Stevenson High School, hired to start in the next school year. Maternity leaves were granted to Mrs. Mary Bengtsson of Cooper School and Mrs. Barbara Davis, business education teacher at Franklin High School. The three new steam generation boiler units now being installed at the Detroit Edison Company's power plants at Trenton and St. Clair, and the new plant at Harbor Beach, will use over 2,620,000 tons of coal per year.

The interior was completely destroyed before the fire department arrived. Fire Chief George Schoenman and Assistant Police Chief Loren Johnson indicated they are continuing the investigation. An initial examination failed to bring out any reason for the blaze.

LOOK, MOM, NO HANDS!

AND A LOT OF ADULTS THINK SELLING A HOUSE IS AS DECEPTIVELY EASY AS DID THE CYCLING CHILD...

Actually, it requires much more than an ad in the newspaper and a sign in the yard. The SALE of your House is a difficult and technical process. You'll need the seasoned knowledge of property values, you'll need access to the broad market of buyers offered only through Realtors', and to bring a successful contact to a successful sale, you'll need professional ability to tie up the loose ends to both parties' satisfaction.

RELY ON A REALTOR
WELL, YOU KNOW HOW THE JOKE ENDED. AFTER HE LOST HIS TEETH, HE USED BOTH HANDS. AS GROWN-UP TO GROWN-UP... WHY NOT CALL A REALTOR FIRST?

The Realtors Advertising on these Want Ad Pages are guided by a demanding Code of Ethics for your benefit—and identified by the Seal you see above. Watch for this Seal. It is proudly displayed by Realtors as your assurance of competent and dependable service.
