

Sheltered Workshop program needs your help . . .

The Community Opportunities Center's Sheltered Workshop which serves The Plymouth Community is in trouble; and The Plymouth Mail is trying to help by sponsoring a fund raising campaign.

The workshop is a unique effort on the part of local people to help mentally handicapped persons make their own way in the world.

Wendell E. Smith, selected this week as one of Michigan's Five Outstanding Young Men of 1965, is president of the center.

Located in the old Newburgh School in neighboring Livonia, the Community Opportunities Center is not presently available for Federal or State assistance.

It is up to local people to see that the effort successfully completes its first year of operation before such help is possible. Here's what the center does:

(1) It attempts to give mentally handicapped people from the local area a sense of worth and self sufficiency by training them to do useful tasks.

(2) Work contracts are made with local business and industry to accomplish jobs that, although simple, are often time consuming and tedious.

(3) With training and supervision from Center director Ernie Moran, the handicapped employees are taught to fulfill the contracts — performing "nuisance" tasks for business and industry.

The work projects include simple assembly, gluing and packaging jobs.

During the past year, Wendell Smith has personally made over 30 public appearances before civic clubs and groups — appealing for help for the project.

While some response has been forthcoming, more help is needed.

This is where you come in.

If you feel strongly that the Sheltered Workshop project is worthy, you can make a donation to it through The Plymouth Mail.

You may write a check to the Community Opportunities Center and either bring or mail it to The Plymouth Mail, 271 S. Main St., Plymouth. Please do not make checks out to The Plymouth Mail.

The Mail is located in a large, dark gray building with a Georgian Colonial front, directly across the street from the Schrader Funeral Home. If you wish to donate cash, you will be given a receipt.

Seek mobile room cost for Farrand

Unhappy Lake Pointe parents were before the Plymouth Community School Board Monday night, rapping conditions under which 20 first graders had been forced to use a storage room for a class room.

They urged the board to consider another solution, including temporary leasing of mobile classrooms.

They agreed they would, with the administration seeking cost and delivery time figures.

Recently, first graders were forced to use a materials center room at Farrand Elementary school as a classroom. The school has a capacity of 720, with a present enrollment of 743. More are on the way as Lake Pointe's expected 1300 homes continue under construction.

NO RELIEF is in sight until next fall, when a second Lake Pointe school on Five Mile and Haggerty Road is completed. J. Trosky, 41425 Ivywood, was among the unhappy parents. "The Farrand property borders on my back yard. We heard a move was planned, and thought we'd come here and get the facts from the horse's mouths. The real capper came when we were told our first grader would be bused when my wife could look out the back windows into the class room."

In a nutshell

★ City of Plymouth regular and volunteer firemen were taken away from Sunday afternoon television this week to a fire at 801 Sarkweather around 4:30 p.m. The home, owned by Mrs. Clara Zanders, suffered very minor damage from the blaze, which was started by an overheated ceiling fixture.

★ Paul Hamlin has been named to head Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Company's Michigan sales operation. Hamlin has served as Hamilton's regional director for the Plymouth office for the past two years — an office that has compiled a business volume of $63 Million. Hamlin, 29, is a native of the Plymouth area.

★ The City of Plymouth planning commission has appointed a committee of Sidney Strong, Ernest Henry and a Detroit Edison representative to work on the problems posed by Harlan Hickerson's street renaming project. Hickerson recently petitioned the governments of The Plymouth Community to help straighten out the confusion over several street names and numbers in Plymouth.

★ The Plymouth Post Office will operate on a regular holiday schedule Feb. 22. That was the announcement of Acting Postmaster John A. Mulligan who indicated there will be no window service and no regular delivery of mail. Special delivery service will be provided. The Post Office lobby will be open for use of stamp dispensers, mail depositories and for access to lock boxes. Mulligan said that outgoing mail will be picked up on a holiday schedule and processed for dispatch.

Township to send three to Hillsdale leadership conference

At least three members of the Plymouth Township Board will attend the Chamber of Commerce's special weekend leadership conference at Hillsdale College in March.

The Conference is a community-wide effort on the part of the Chamber for more City-Township cooperation.

Trustees Dick Lauterbach, Gene Overholt and Louis Norman all indicated at the Tuesday meeting of the Township Board last week they would attend.

Supervisor John D. McEwen, Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes and Clerk C. V. Sparks did not indicate they would attend.

McEwen also noted that he was not satisfied with the way the community cooperation campaign was being conducted.

"I would definitely go if a natural geographic area were outlined. I have been told the Plymouth School district forms the natural community. What about Northville; they are as near as some of these areas. Why aren't their names on the list to go?"

McEWEN also charged that the idea had been dreamed (Continued on Page 2)

Weston Vivian plans huge survey of district opinion

U.S. Representative Weston E. Vivian announced today that he is mailing out the most massive voter opinion survey ever conducted in the Second District in Michigan.

Vivian is seeking voter opinions on the Vietnam war, and other issues such as the farm program, and state "right-to-work" laws. He is asking for the advice of his constituents in helping him make judgments on a number of issues likely to face the 89th Congress during the balance of this year.

Prices chopped

Prices have gotten the axe from Plymouth merchants this week in observance of "Hatchet Days," this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Feb. 17, 18 and 19.

Many of them purchased special merchandise for the three day promotion that features drastically chopped prices.

Two pages of advertising on businesses in the event appear on Pages B-6 and B-7 of the second section of The Plymouth Mail.

Read the ads and then chop-chop downtown to cash in on the savings.

MEETING HOUSE:

Elly wows capacity crowd with Lincoln Day pep talk

Elly Peterson, dynamic state Republican Chairman, thrilled a crowd of 450 Thursday evening with a Lincoln Day speech, telling those gathered that Governor George Romney was going to lead the ticket with 500,000 votes in 1966.

Mrs. Peterson, on a barn storming campaign in Michigan, said that there was nobody that the Republican party can't beat.

Her speech, and talks from Senator Farrell E. Roberts, state Senator, and Guy VanderJagt, one of the leading candidates for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate also spoke to the capacity crowd.

The dinner was held in the Mayflower Meeting House, and drew a record crowd. "We've got to prove to the people that we are responsive to their needs," Mrs. Peterson said.

"We've got to show them how to solve problems with voluntary action and local government. If we don't we are opening the door for more federal government."

"And we've got less than a year to prove ourselves. We got to start going and picking up the marbles, or we aren't going to have enough marbles to play with. If we lose this year, we have only ourselves to blame," she said.

Charging that power was feeding on power in the Johnson administration and that a society subservient to a large federal government was being created, she said:

"Did you know that 50% of the poverty money coming into Michigan is going to the four districts Johnson wants to keep?" Mrs. Peterson also said the Re- (Continued on Page 6)

Seek added room

Mrs. Lee Heilman, 4144 Ivywood, didn't like the small room idea either:

"There are 20 pupils crowded into that cubbyhole with the noise so loud the teacher can't teach. The room is right near the gym. Something has got to be done; what about health rules, the room has no windows."

Carl Schultheiss, acting as chairman, while Gerald Fischer, board president, is on vacation, said none of the Board members had seen the room. Schultheiss further explained that the Board had always felt it could not over build, nor build exactly to the population area.

"No one would want rooms empty, standing."

The parents asked if portable classrooms might be considered and Schultheiss noted that no money was available for such units. Board member Robert Soth agreed, noting it would take several months just to get them up.

However, Melvin Blunk, assistant superintendent of schools, was charged with investigating the possibility of mobile classrooms, and reporting back in two weeks.

A special board meeting may be called for the purpose.

Blunk was also authorized to investigate the entire situation, and suggest a change from the store room if possible.

The store room was dedicated two weeks ago after the parents of the children involved met with Gerald Elston, Farrand principal. The parents opposed any move away from the school.

The Board also heard the same parents complain about busing procedures, but took no action on that problem.

In other matters, the School Board:

• Agreed to recognize the organization of school cafeteria workers, with Mrs. Esther Foreman, acting president, as sole bargaining agent for the group.

• Approved the hiring of Margaret L. Carter, for seventh grade; Gloria Foust, first grade; Susan Lowery, first grade; Sandra Wiacek, first grade; and Erika Wonn, fourth-fifth grade.

• Approved the purchase of eight bus chassis.

• Noted that three projects under Title I of the National Elementary and Secondary School Act had been approved part of a $6 million grant to Wayne County schools from the Federal government. Projects approved: diagnostic team, $8,703; in-service, $10,591; and reading specialists $14,320.

GOP plans second urban renewal talk

The second part of a two-part series on urban renewal will be featured at the February meeting of the Plymouth-Northville Township Republican Party. The Speaker for the evening will be George Lemble, of Ann Arbor, who will discuss his views on local community action as an alternate solution to Federally-aided urban renewal.

The meeting, sponsored by the Republican group as a public service, will be held Thursday, Feb. 24 in the Plymouth Credit Union, beginning at 8 p.m.

Twp. will have three at special conference

(Continued from Page 1) down on a mature basis and talk. We've been oriented toward Plymouth... it's difficult for me to see it any other way."

Church, governmental and civic leaders are expected to attend the conference.

Dr. Ray Barber, public relations consultant for the Chamber, said they had traveled to Hillsdale to see what was available, and had found the first week end in March open.

"This is the first time any community of this size has ever done something as simple but as pertinent as this," Barber said. Lauterbach commented on his reasons for going:

"I approve of this meeting. I have expressed concern over specific areas of co-operation between the communities. As I understand this meeting, it is an informal meeting of municipalities, with no pre-set agenda. What are the areas of cooperation? I know I have some thoughts of my own, and we could sit down and start talking. I welcome the opportunity and will volunteer as a member of the Board to go."

Overholt also said he felt any group discussion would have some benefits, and agreed he would go.

In other action, the Township Board:

• Tabled the legal questions posed on the possible transfer of Plymouth Colony water lines, now City-owned, over to the Township.

• Tabled a request from the local firemen's union. Local 1496, AFL-CIO, for stipulation as the sole bargaining agent for the five regular firemen, in accordance with changes made in state law last year. The Board will await word from the union's state organization on the local's status before moving. Interim attorney Ralph Cole ruled they must be recognized if all is in order.

• Approved the 28-acre Plymouth Glen Senior Citizen community rezoning for the land across from the Oak Haven trailer court.

• Reviewed a report from the planning consultants, Waring and Johnson, on a division of the voting precincts.

INSTANT TONIC

Back in the old days a thing called a "tonic cup" was a favorite remedy for almost anything that ailed you. Cheap, too. You took a cup made of bitter wood... added hot water... let it steep. Then, when bitter, you drank it. Simple? Yes. Too bad it didn't do any good. Nowadays science gives us more reliable medications. Even so, some people still take "home remedies" when their illnesses require more effective medication. Play safe. When you or a member of your family is ill, seek professional care. See your physician for diagnosing and prescribing... call us for prescription service.

Why Sheltered Workshop deserves your help

The good life

Brave new world

Doug Johnson

Why is The Plymouth Mail sponsoring a drive to gain needed funds for operation of the Community Opportunities Center's Sheltered Workshop?

Is it because the workshop project is worthy and deserving of support?

Is it because the president, Wendell E. Smith, has worked so long and so hard to see it succeed in the face of many hurdles?

Is it because we feel Smith as one of Michigan's Five Outstanding Young Men merits our backing?

Or is it because mentally handicapped persons deserve a chance in life, a chance to succeed and work and make a little money and achieve a degree of self respect?

Well, it's all of these and more. Local residents, of course, are faced with many fund raising campaigns in a year's time; and the vast majority of them are for valuable and beneficial services.

But the Sheltered Workshop is especially so.

Many of us are prone to bemoan the increasing size of governmental bureaucracy. Everywhere we turn it seems that there are more forms to fill out, more taxes to be paid, and more programs set in operation with their incumbent tangles of red tape and papers and people.

But maybe there's a reason.

Maybe it's because citizens at the local level have failed to assume the responsibilities which are theirs.

The Sheltered Workshop is a move in the opposite direction.

It seeks to provide training for handicapped persons without government handouts, without a new administration and without a complicated bureaucracy.

It is a grass roots effort to rehabilitate people and give them a sense of worth and being.

It is a real and honest attempt to care for persons less fortunate than some of the rest of us — and to do it locally.

And it merits your support.

So, please, don't let the Sheltered Workshop down.

Don't let Wendell Smith and Ernie Moran, the director, and the many other people throughout this area, who have worked for the project, down.

Just write a check to the Community Opportunities Center and send or bring it to The Plymouth Mail, 271 S. Main St., Plymouth.

You'll have the satisfaction of knowing that you've aided people to help themselves — people who might otherwise become soulless welfare cases without a sense of identity or direction.

Help.

Vivian has 90% attendance

Dear Editor, I was delighted to see in your editorial of February 9, 1966 that you consider our present Congressman Wes Vivian "Articulate and Brainy."

Your reference to his frequent visits with people in the Second Congressional District was also well taken. However, I would not want your readers to get the mistaken impression that Congressman Vivian has not been in Washington working for his Constituents.

I believe that a search of the record will show that Congressman Vivian has a 90% attendance record, better than the average congressman in 1965.

It is good to know we have a congressman who works diligently both in Washington and back in his district with the people he represents.

Sincerely,
HARVEY KAHALAS

Shame on Dave Wiley

Dear Editor: What has happened to the Plymouth Mail?

I do not know Doug Johnson, but I'm quite sure he is not a "fink" as one of your editorial writers stated.

Did Dave Wiley hear Dr. McFarland when he "talked so long and said so little?" Shame on you Dave Wiley! I'm sure you would not have written that had you heard Dr. McFarland in his "Wake the Town and Tell the People."

Plymouth (as well as the Plymouth Mail) was founded upon old fashioned ground that most of us revere with honorable pride. In those days it was not smart to ridicule, and a wisecrack was not allowed past the front door.

NO PARKING OVERNIGHT: The City of Plymouth's parking ban has gone into effect, prohibiting parking between 2 a.m. and 6 a.m. City police are issuing warning tickets at this point. All people feeling they have no where else to park but on the street may apply for a special permit at the City Hall police desk. Permits may be issued until a driveway is built, or permanently, if they are warranted. Basically, the City administrators say if you have the space for the cars, you must park them off-street.

Fire spoils TV viewing

A leaky oil furnace started a fire in the home of Richard Cook while his wife and three children were watching television Sunday night, forcing the family out into the cold.

According to Plymouth Township firemen, the department was called to 44736 Joy Rd. just before 8 p.m. by Mrs. Cook.

Cook was asleep when the fire started. He got up, and was trying to put it out himself, after Mrs. Cook said she smelled smoke.

The fire got out of control and Cook ordered his family out. He left moments later when the smoke got too thick.

FIREMEN were delayed momentarily when Mrs. Cook called the City of Plymouth fire department instead of the Township of Plymouth. The call was immediately routed over to the Township.

Fire reports indicate damage was heavy in the area around the furnace. The fire also burned into the attic, and through into a bedroom.

Higher salary needed

Three months ago Plymouth Township began searching for a public service director; his job was to include the leadership of the fire department, and a study of a possible police department.

A push was on in January to get a man hired, after an internal squabble in the fire department brought several problems to light.

Unfortunately, the Township Board offered a salary too low: $7,500 a year. Men to fill the post can draw $9,000 or $10,000 elsewhere. Thus in short time the Board has found itself without candidates for the job.

And the push to get a man has died down, with not a mention in last week's meeting of what was a pressing problem in January.

Township supervisor John D. McEwen said Monday that two things would be considered soon: the budget, and thus the public service director post; and, his recommendation to boost the salary from the $7,500 figure.

The Board, faced with a rapid growth of the Township, must consider the post vital, despite a lack of general public pressure or interest in the matter.

And, if so, it should be included in this year's budget, with the salary set at a figure designed to draw top administrators.

For comparison, board members need go no further than the City of Plymouth, which offers a top salary of $7,033 to basic firemen, and a top salary of $8,489 for the heads of the fire and police department. And the City's administrative assistant and police chief, whose post would be comparable to that one proposed in the Township, draws a top salary in the excess of $9,400.

Something as important as a public service director needs to be considered at a much higher salary than $7,500.

There should be no inexpensive or quick way out of the problem of expanding municipal services.

War needs help

The recently announced "war" on old houses in Plymouth aired Commissioner Arch Vallier's pet peeve: there are a lot of dangerous rental units in the City of Plymouth that must be inspected.

Vallier, and Commissioner George Lawton last week urged the City administration to increase inspections of older homes that are rented, or are up for sale.

The matter came before them when Building inspector Chuck Thompson asked permission to condemn a house on Holbrook St.

He also told the Commission two things: there are 600 rental units in the City of Plymouth; and under City ordinance they must be inspected.

Thompson added a footnote, indicating that he didn't have time to inspect them all, because new construction also comes under his domain, and that takes time.

It points to something that has bothered cities larger than Plymouth: there are laws on the books to prevent slums, poor housing and fire hazards. But the laws must be enforced.

Here in Plymouth it became clear last week that they were not, because of insufficient personnel.

Thompson reports that inspections don't take long, but the legal paper work and follow up do.

If something is to be done about Plymouth's older rental units, the suggestion from City Manager Richard Blodgett for additional personnel should be followed.

Otherwise, inspections will be limited to infrequent complaints from irate tenants. The laws are there: all that remains is the staff to administer them.

Specialty of the house

DELICIOUS AND DIFFERENT describes the bean salad of our gourmet cook of the week. Mrs. George Hastings is chopping ingredients for the salad in her kitchen on Evergreen St.

Helen Hastings enjoys cooking for her family of five; husband, George, and children George Jr., 12, Tom, 11, and Mary 8.

Antiquing old and new furniture is a hobby of the Hastings family with Mrs. Hastings providing the inspiration and her husband wielding the sandpaper and paint brush.

The schoolroom clock and commode in the picture are examples of the couple's work.

The old commode was stripped of its dark finish and antiqued in an orange-red and, after hours of labor, has acquired a satin-smooth finish. Other pieces done by the Hastings are a large stereo cabinet, a maple table, and a dresser for their daughter's bedroom.

Who's new in Plymouth?

A NEW VETERINARIAN in Plymouth is Dr. Richard Kirchgatter, shown with his wife, Elaine, and daughter, June, 10 months. The family moved to their home at 8815 S. Main St. recently from Northbrook, Ill., a suburb of Chicago. A home economics major in college, Mrs. Kirchgatter is interested in sewing, baking, and collecting antiques. Her husband enjoys hunting and is a member of the Optimist Club.

Social worker reports on her work during past 2 years

Anna Jung enjoys her work. This is obvious from the way her face lights up when she tells of the people here in Plymouth she has helped.

From her office in the Veterans Memorial Building, Miss Jung, Social Worker for the Family Service Agency, deals with a wide variety of problems brought to her by persons of all ages. Family Service is supported by the Plymouth Community Fund and has been in existence here since Feb 1, 1964.

Fees are based upon the individual's ability to pay and range from a minimum of $1 to $15 per interview.

The number of interviews for each individual has ranged from one up to 65. Some are satisfied with a small amount of help while others will spend months to get to the root of their problems.

In a recent interview, Miss Jung revealed some interesting facts about her work during the past two years:

"As of today there have been 329 families or individuals who have asked for help for themselves or a relative or friend or someone else about whom they were concerned.

Some of these people have been helped at Family Service, some have not. We don't guarantee 100% success anymore than a doctor or a lawyer does. But some of these 329 families have been helped, individually and as families, to find more satisfying ways of getting along in life.

There are several married couples in this community who had been spending a lot of time and energy quarreling with each other, accusing each other, and disliking or hating each other.

Some of these people came into the agency for several months, some for a year or longer. Some of these people were satisfied with very little progress; others have wanted to work on their problems as long as necessary to help them to become mature, self-reliant, productive human beings. It is most gratifying to see the growth that takes place in some clients.

One couple disliked each other intensely last August and were not able to communicate with each other except in hostile terms. I saw them together for the last time last Friday. They like each other and love each other now, and they are continuing to work on building a healthy, satisfying marriage.

I wish you could see the changes that I see in the lives of the children when the parents are able to like and respect each other!

There are parents who came because they had trouble in handling their children. Together we searched for the causes in the parents' own childhood relationship with their parents and in the marital relationship.

One little boy of four is going to be able to grow up and become a man because his mother was able to clarify and to resolve her hostile feelings for her father.

One little 12 year old has learned to read at his normal grade level; a 7 year old is able to do his school work, a 16 year old girl no longer hates her mother and can now allow herself to grow up to womanhood.

One couple resolved their problem in one 45 minute interview with the wife! This woman was considering divorce when she came to the agency and felt that there was no other solution to the problem. She had always discussed her problems with her mother and this only reinforced the problem.

For the first time she took an objective look at herself in her role as wife and mother and she herself decided to change and did. I saw the couple together the next week and it was quite remarkable to see what they had been able to accomplish through talking with each other. They were both beaming!

I want to tell about one particularly pathetic situation that came to my attention. An aged woman in this community had become depressed and was in need of psychiatric care. She resisted all attempts on the part of her friends, her minister, and her doctor to get help for her. Apparently no one in the community was aware for several months that the family case-worker could be helpful in such a situation.

Family travels to Libya

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Birkhold of Brookville Rd. has been bursting with activity since Dec. 10 when their son's family, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice P. Birkhold and children, Susan, Stephen, and John, arrived from Frankfurt, Germany.

Maurice is now in Washington, D.C. for a few weeks but will return to Plymouth late in February, after which he and his family will go on to Benghazi, Libya, where he is attached to the American Consulate.

wasted psychological energy was freed to use in working on other problems in the family.

In the couples group we are concentrating specifically on these clients' roles as parents, but more importantly on their roles as husbands and wives. Too many couples forget they are husbands and wives once the children come along.

One very important function of a family agency is in the area of community organization, or community social work, as we now call it.

A good illustration of this is the role the agency played in bringing together the energy and interest of two organizations in Plymouth which led to the establishment of the Community Opportunity Center, the sheltered workshop for the handicapped.

The JC's had been concerned about the problems of the retarded for some time. They invited me to speak at their meeting in September, 1964. The Community Problems Committee of the AAUW was looking for a topic for their study project for the year.

They invited me to talk with them in October or November and - presto - a new agency was born. Of course it wasn't that simple. Many other organizations and many individuals invested many hours of their time to bring this about.

I see several other needs in this community that could be met by the concerted effort of the many people in Plymouth who care.

TRANSPORTATION - We need volunteer drivers to provide transportation for people who have appointments in the agency or others such as medical appointments.

HOUSEKEEPING SERVICE - We need qualified women who can be called upon in emergencies when illness or some other tragedy robs the children in a family of the care of their mother.

LICENSED HOMES - Day care and overnight. We need licensed homes where children can be placed for short or longer periods of time when it becomes necessary for children to be placed outside of their own homes because parents are unwilling or unable to care for them. Also, day care for children of working mothers is greatly needed.

We need to get together - social agencies, churches, schools, police and sheriff departments - to communicate, to share our knowledge and our common concern about the people in our community to build the kind of community in which each of us will be able to say: "I AM my brother's keeper."

 publicans should forget what happened in 1964.
 "Now Johnson's ready to take over the local police departments. Yet Washington, D.C. has the highest crime rate of all. He says we are going to rebuild the cities. And Lady Bird is going to clean up everything," she said.

"They are going to spend $112 billion on schemes like these. And they plan to return 67 freshman congressmen to Washington, and you people here better pay attention to that," Mrs. Peterson emphasized.

Mrs. Peterson also urged local Republicans to stop talking about what's wrong with the party.

Mrs. Peterson sprinkled her speech with humor, and the crowd of partisans loved every minute of it.

Farrell E. Roberts, who will step down from his post as state senator to run for an Oakland County judgeship, spoke briefly also.

Carl Pursell will run for the GOP nomination for Roberts' District, the 14th, which includes Plymouth and Livonia.

Guy VanderJagt, freshman State senator, also spoke. He is one of the announced candidates for the GOP nomination for the U.S. senate race.

Congressman Robert P. Griffin of Traverse City, and Dr. Leroy Augenstein, MSU biophysicist, are the other two.

VanderJagt, whose district covers portions of 14 counties, holds a law degree from the University of Michigan, is a former newsman and foreign correspondent. He and his wife live in Cadillac. VanderJagt also attended the Yale University Divinity School.

VanderJagt said he expected to be nominated, and to win.

"They will say: 'too bad, there goes the sacrificial lamb.' Then I'll be the heavy underdog, then just the underdog, the gap will close. I'll have a chance. Then I expect to be able to say I'm a senator."

To feature Chorale at Symphony

The highly-regarded Kenneth Jewell Chorale will be featured at the fifth concert of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra's 20th season on Sunday, Feb. 27 at 4 p.m. in the Plymouth High School gymnasium.

The concert, like all Plymouth Symphony performances, is open to the public, free of charge. Baby sitting service will be provided by Girl Scout Troop No. 253 in room 106 of the school. Included in the program will be orchestral performances of Couperin-Milhaud's "Overture and Allegro" and Shubert's "Unfinished Symphony."

The chorale will sing Walton's "Belshazzar's Feast." THE 40-VOICE chorale is appearing in its second consecutive season with the Plymouth Symphony. Kenneth Jewell is director of personnel at the Interlochen Arts Academy.

Recently, the group made a record of Vivaldi's "Gloria" (which VanderJagt, should he win the nomination, may face Patrick V. McNamara, Democrat, who has been a U.S. Senator since 1955.

VanderJagt's remarks were followed by a brief appearance from Stan Thayer, former State senator.

they performed in Plymouth last December) and Bach's "Kantate No. 150." W. David Kludt, WDTM, Detroit, made this critical appraisal of the chorale's performance:

"The work that evening couldn't have been better performed. It was perfectly paced and beautifully shaded; sustained throughout with a luminous excitement. Even the solo parts were simply a heightening of an overall effect; a thread of different color woven into the total tapestry of sound. The soloists, the choir, and the instrumental ensemble that accompanied them, were in breathtaking rapport, and they were magnificent."

SIR WILLIAM WALTON was virtually unknown until he composed the score for the British film version of HENRY V. He had never had a lesson in composition at the time he composed BELSHAZZAR'S FEAST in 1931 at the age of 29. This work was written for enlarged orchestra, two extra brass bands, organ, piano and chorus, and uses the dramatized abridgement of biblical verses describing the fall of Babylon.

The text was written by Sir Osbert Sitwell, brother of Dame Edith Sitwell, and includes additional lines from Psalms 81 and 137. This work is a "tour-de-force", fiendishly difficult, and requires the talents of a virtuoso chorus and orchestra. The Plymouth Symphony will commemorate its Twentieth Anniversary with a performance on Saturday, April 2 at 8 p.m. at Plymouth High School.

PHS students will march for funds

About 30 Plymouth High School students will conduct a door-to-door drive on Saturday for funds to send special packages to American service men in Viet Nam.

The gifts will be sent through the Red Cross. The money raised will be used to buy plastic cigarette cases, books, games and playing cards.

Many of these things are in short supply. The drive will last all day, Feb. 19. Any amount will be accepted.

The Club 20

The Club 20 is a newly formed organization sponsored by the Plymouth Community YMCA. Planned for the 19 to 25-year-old group, the Club met for the first time for an informal Valentine dance at the Chip Saturday night. About forty attended, according to host Tony Monte. The music was provided by tape recorder and a live band; tables, decorations and candlelight added to the fun. Next project for the new Club: a trip to the Fisher Theatre and a drive for more members. Inquiries may be directed to the YMCA Youth Employment Office, 453-2904. High School graduates, college students, and recent college graduates are welcome to join.

You parents of teenagers, have you ever wondered about the bottomless pit they have for a stomach? My husband's 17 year old brother has been helping him with some basement projects. One night while he was here we sent out for some pizza and spaghetti for dinner. We also had a piece of coffee cake for dessert. My brother-in-law's classic comment was, "Gee, this coffee cake would make a good school lunch dessert. It fills you up." That is to say, it filled him up AFTER he consumed a half a large pizza and two-thirds of a big bowl of spaghetti. To add to the mystery and our chagrin, he never gains a pound.

To borrow a phrase from another weekly newspaper, "The joy of correspondents is the people who will call them to report news of friends and family. It's neighborly." A column such as this depends on willing participation to be a true reflection of our neighborhood. If you have an item to report, please give me a call, but wait until after 5 p.m.

Louis Jourdan lays down the law to high-spirited Ann-Margret in this scene from "Made in Paris," scintillating, sex-appealing romantic comedy in which a lovely New York fashion buyer goes to Paris and learns about the new fashions in LOVE. Richard Crenna, Edie Adams and Chad Everett also star in the MGM Panavision and color attraction, part of double feature showing at The Penn Theatre Feb. 16-22. Adding to the entertainment are songs, dances to the rhythms of Count Basie and Mongo Santamaria and a spectacular Paris Fashion Show.

Hidden Treasure

This is the second in a series of articles written by George Lawton, General Manager of the Credit Union, about the advantages of Credit Union Services.

If someone told you that you could drive to a spot in town and pick up $80.00 or $180.00 with no strings, would you go? Perhaps you couldn't use this amount of money.

If you presently owe finance companies, or have a revolving charge plan with a department store, you can stop by your Credit Union and actually find this amount of money.

$1,000 from a finance company for 36 months costs you $377.36.
 $1,000 on a revolving charge rate for 36 months costs you $277.50.
 $1,000 from your own Plymouth Credit Union costs you $195.56.

You save $181.80 over finance company cost and $81.94 over revolving charge cost.

If you're tired of having your spending money used up in high credit charges, go into your Plymouth Credit Union and get the money you need to pay off this high cost credit. You may open a line of credit which you can use the year around without renewal. Each dollar you borrow is also covered with Credit Life Insurance. How do they do it? It's simple, the Credit Union is owned by the people it serves, and they receive the profits in savings on their loan costs.

Plymouth families join Foster Parents in helping poverty's children

Two Plymouth families have become part of a world-wide organization that aids the child-of poverty.

Mr. and Mrs. William V. Clarke, 693 Burroughs Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. F.R. Wren, 1340 Linden St., have financially 'adopted' two different children through Foster Parent's Plan, Inc., 352 Park Ave. South, New York, NY, 10010.

The Clarke family 'adopted' Roberta P. Castillo, an eight-year-old Philippine girl. The Wrens 'adopted' Lau Suk Lan, an eight-year-old Chinese girl.

The 'adoption' is financial, not legal.

"Her family ran away from the Communists," commented Mrs. Wren last week, "and they went to Hong Kong. But the city is full of people and they finally had to put a stop to all the people coming over. Her family is very, very poor. I guess we are sending money rather than bullets to fight the Communists."

Mrs. Clarke said they receive a letter from their child each month that is routed through the Foster Parents Plan headquarters.

"I THINK it is a real good idea to help," Mrs. Clarke said, "it takes so little money. It's $180 a year and that gives the child medical supplies and food. It's such a pitifully small amount."

This is the second Foster Parent child for the Clarke's. They had one several years ago -- a German boy - 'adopted' after the war.

more than half the amount, new clothing, household equipment, complete medical care, and education.

Every Foster Child must attend school and education is seldom free in the impoverished countries where PLAN maintains headquarters.

Lau Suk Lan

Headquarters are supervised by an American director with local, social and caseworkers, who provide instant help in emergencies, constant and continuous supervision, guidance and counselling.

The Foster Child's immediate family is eligible for good used clothing, vocational training needed. The program of long term rehabilitation and education helps a child and his family to become productive citizens of their country, loyal friends of ours.

If a Foster Parent is unable to continue the support, the Foster Child receives full benefits until another Foster Parent can be enlisted.

During its 28 years of existence, Foster Parents' plan has graduated 76,000 children of 28 nationalities, a valuable nucleus of educated, independent people. Currently 39,000 Foster Children in Greece, Hong Kong, Korea, the Philippines, Viet Nam, Colombia and Ecuador are eating nourishing food regularly, sleeping on beds instead of the floor, getting medical checkups as well as care in sickness, and the clothing, education and other benefits already mentioned.

Thousands of hungry children anxiously await generous Foster Parents to rescue them from lives of utter destitution and despair.

FOSTER PARENTS' PLAN is a non-sectarian, non-profit, non-propaganda, independent, government-approved organization. PLAN has no professional fundraisers and its financial statement is mailed with pride to anyone who asks for it. Children may be selected according to age, sex and nationality.

Here are brief biographies of the two children 'adopted' by Plymouthites.

Lau Suk Lan

Suk Lan is one of the thousands of unfortunate children of refugee Hong Kong who live in bitter poverty, suffering endless privations and hardships. She lives with her parents, sisters, Suk Yee (13), Suk Chong (13), Shak Fun (9), Suk Bing (5), Suk Mei (2) and brother, Chi Shing (4).

Her father works as a laborer and earns $43.00 a month, which is their only income and hardly adequate to provide even the basic daily needs of this family. The mother was also helping to provide for her family, but is now suffering from tuberculosis and is unable to work.

This family lives in a resettlement area where they occupy a cubicle which measures 9 1/2' x 16'. Their cubicle is divided into two parts. It is furnished with two steel double deck beds, a table, six stools, a sewing machine, a cupboard, a fan, a radio, and some cooking utensils. Rent costs them $3.50 a month.

Suk Lan is a sweet young girl with dark hair and dark eyes. She is in the second grade of primary school and pays a monthly fee of 88¢. She is a good student and receives good grades in all her classes. She is sociable and has a pleasant disposition. All of the children are attending school with the exception of Suk Mei. The tuition fees for the children total $7.53 a month.

Roberta P. Castillo

Surrounded by misery and abject poverty, Roberta lives in Manila with her parents and three brothers - Norman, 5; Nester, 3; Nicaner, 1.

When the child's father was well, he earned a living as a vendor of cooked foods, but his income was irregular and the family has never known anything but poverty. Unfortunately, life is even more difficult now than before, because he has TB and is unable to work at all. Day-to-day living has become a bitter struggle for daily survival.

In an effort to support the family, the mother works as a seamstress. When she has work, she earns an average of $1 a day. This pitiful sum cannot begin to cover the cost of basic necessities for six people, and they all know only too well what it means to fear hunger and illness.

Little Roberta attends the first grade of primary school but lacks funds for necessary supplies. Outside help is urgent if these people are to survive, educate the children, and have any hope for the future.

The family lives in a house owned by a maternal grandaunt. They have one small room on the ground floor. In exchange for the rent, the mother does chores for the aunt. They use a kerosene lamp for lighting purposes and pay $1 a month to fetch water from a neighbor's faucet.

Roberta is a healthy, normally developed youngster with a keen sense of responsibility. When her mother is out working, she takes care of her younger brothers. She is very alert and loves going to school.

Boy Scouts open doorway to adventure in Kellogg Park campout

Celebrate 56th Anniversary of Boy Scouts

Under Acting Scout Master Charles Guideau, the local Boy Scouts celebrated the 56th Anniversary-birthday of the founding of the organization. Here is a pictorial review of some of the activities in a special campout session in Kellogg Park held this weekend.

SCOUTS Bruce Rudlaff, George Gailbraith, Bryan Godwin prepare supper in VFW Troop's special cook's trailer. Built by Charles Guideau, the unique trailer has everything, including an ice box. These three scouts, and Lee Vetal and Bob Van Meter recently received awards for their achievements in Scouting.

GREG NULTY demonstrates a standard Scout operating procedure: cleaning up the camp site. The straw was used for sleeping.

A ROPE BRIDGE drew many spectators. David Aubrey of Troop 781 demonstrates how easy it can be. An estimated 400 people viewed the campout, and a great many of them tried their luck at the bridge.

BIG GRIN for a nasty wound? That wound isn't real but if it were Pete Childs and Bob Leach would know what to do. First aid is an important part of a Scout's training.

CHOP THAT WOOD! Scouts Don Basker, Mike Stanley, Riley Hopson, Ken Quartermus, Keith Hollingshead and Dave Skarjune learn about the handling of axes.

Rocks stand in horror, awe as Trenton scores 102 points

MIKE STAKIAS found two Trenton men on him most of the night as he was held to nine points. In this case, one Trenton man was enough.

Trenton put on one of the best shows of basketball that has ever graced the Plymouth gym Friday night as they laid waste to Plymouth's meager defense, winning 102 to 76.

The crowd watched stunned as the score built.

The Rocks stood in complete awe of mighty Trenton, who pushed through ten points in the opening BILL WAY drives up the key against Franklin in a sluggish contest that saw the Rocks beaten, 75-45.

Fisher and Stanley shattered the Rocks with nifty ball handling and out court shooting. Fisher led all scorers with 31 points, Stanley netted 24.

FISHER, who kept the Trenton offense rolling, is considered one of the smartest ball players around. At one point he stood behind Rock center Jim Scharmen, who had just grabbed a rebound, called out to him, and Scharmen turned and threw the ball to him without thinking.

Trenton showed little concern about the Plymouth offense, and when it appeared there was a danger of the gap closing, put on a full court press and scored two or three quick baskets.

Trenton put on a tour de force in quick ball handling, passing and balanced shooting. And their press played havoc with Plymouth's faltering offense, and the Rocks lost the ball on turn-overs several times.

Among the bright spots for Plymouth was a better night at the free throw line. The Rocks hit 20 out of 28, no doubt the work of some practice after several weeks of miserable percentages at the charity line.

Chuck Catlett continued to pace Plymouth; he scored 26 points. Guard Bob McCall added 14, his best night of the season.

While Trenton was clobbering Plymouth, the other league leader retained its strangle hold on its half of the Suburban Six lead; Bentley dumped Belleville 80 to 47. And Allen Park made a surprisingly strong showing against Redford Union, winning 86-59.

Only two games remain before tournament time: Redford Union away next Friday, and Allen Park the last week in February.

IN THE FRANKLIN game Saturday night the Rocks suffered a complete letdown, as the lowly Patriots had an easy time, winning 75-45.

The Rocks could muster no semblance of an offense, and a lack-lustre defense left gaping holes for Franklin's otherwise mediocre team to score.

Plymouth scored three field goals and one free throw for a freezing cold first quarter and had only 18 points at half time, while Franklin had 34.

The Patriots built their lead steadily, with little trouble, as three men scored in the double figures: Paul Katosh, 16, Al Jose, 16 and Tom Reich, 10.

Franklin went to the line for a whopping 37 free shots, hitting only 23. Plymouth hit on nine for 16.

Mike Stakias led Plymouth with a 13 point production.

Schoolcraft swimmers split

In last week's action at the Franklin High pool, Schoolcraft College split dual swim meets with Jackson Jr. College and Oakland University. The Schoolcraft season record now stands at five wins and six losses.

In the 52-25 win over Jackson J.C., Coach Bob Leggat once again received strong performances from Doug Jaskierny, Larry Fitzgerald, Tom Carney, and Ron Dotzenroth.

That quartet combined to set a new 400 yd. freestyle relay mark. Jaskierny added an individual win in the 500 yd. freestyle. Fitzgerald continued to show top form and won the 50 yd. freestyle and 200 yd. butterfly. Dotzenroth set the standard in the 300 yd. freestyle to continue his steady improvement.

Oakland repeated an earlier win over Schoolcraft and swam away with a one sided 64-30 victory. Jaskierny and Fitzgerald were the only Schoolcrafters able to chalk up individual victories.

A conference meet is scheduled at Flint Jr. College Feb. 25 and 26.

McFall's alumni boost Western

Once more, Western Michigan University's swimming Coach Ed Gabel is relying upon Plymouth High School talent to formulate one of the better swimming teams in Midwest intercollegiate competition.

The Broncos have currently won seven of eight dual meets this season and in December captured the annual Mid-American Conference Relays crown at Ohio University in Athens, O.

Former Plymouth High swimmers involved on the WMU team are juniors Gary Gould, individual medley and freestyle, and Phil Bender, 200-yard backstroke genius.

Also former Plymouth High star Nick Herrick, now doing graduate work toward his MA degree on a graduate assistantship, is assisting the varsity with diving and coaching the WMU frosh team. He was a diving star and swam in the butterfly events in his undergraduate days at WMU.

This is the ninth straight year (ever since WMU instituted the sport) that Plymouth High has had representatives on the Bronco teams, all under Coach Gabel.

JV tankers win thriller

The JV's edged Trenton 53-52 last week, in an exciting swimming meet that wasn't decided until the last two events.

JV's edge Trenton, Franklin

Some last minute heroics gave the Plymouth JV's two victories this weekend while their varsity counterparts were being taken apart systematically by Trenton and Franklin.

The JV's edged Trenton 55-49 with six last minute free throws from Mike Kubik aiding the win. Kubik ended the game with 18 points, but was forced out late in the final frame with five fouls.

The Rocks led 17-9 in the first quarter against Trenton, but that lead was narrowed to 40-38 at the end of the third quarter.

Trenton tied the game after the second half tip-off, then the Rocks went ahead by ten points. Jeff Adams led the assault with 19, followed by nine from Jim Ruby.

IN THE FRANKLIN tilt, the JV's rallied from a 24-18 half time deficit to score 18 in the third quarter and win 47-43. Kubik hit for 12 of his game total of 16 points in the third frame, but it was teammate Jim Ruby who netted eight clutch points in the last quarter to put the game out of reach. Ruby finished the game with 15.

9th WINS

Eighth stunned with 23-point quarter

Despite a shaky fourth quarter, the ninth graders put together their best game of the season last week, winning 47-31 over Pearson.

Bob Kellman led all scorers with 20 points. He was helped by Bruce Edwards, who led in the rebounding department, and had eight points.

Bruce Bauman scored seven to add to the cause; coach Casey Cavell also issued special praise for Don Gullekson's work on the boards.

The eighth graders lost 36-18, and still are without a win. The score stood 10-9 in favor of Pearson at the half, but the visitors put on a spectacular scoring spurge in the third frame, sending Wayne Weimer's charge scuttling to the locker room.

Pearson hit for 23 in that third quarter, then held on, scoring only three in the final quarter.

JA fund drive hits 56% of goal

"We're 65% of the goal although not even half way" is the way Junior Achievement Fund Campaign general chairman, Wallace Wilson, put it during the first report luncheon Friday at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel in Detroit.

Wilson, who is also Vice President-Manufacturing Staff, General Motors Corporation, was explaining the fact that Junior Achievement's Fund Campaign was launched Feb. 1 and will conclude Feb. 24. But by Feb. 11 (not even the half way mark) 64 per cent of the goal had already been accomplished. The goal is $320,000 with $206,841 reported in today. Funds will be used to operate and expand the Southeastern Michigan, six county J.A. operation. Over 8,000 teenagers are operating 370 miniature corporations through the 18 J.A. Business centers in the area.

Victor Pelson, local fund drive chairman, reported in 56% or $2,481; Pelson is personnel director at Western Electric.

Junior Achievement is a non-profit, educational organization for teenagers that serves as a necessary supplement for their regular school work and provides a "learn-by-doing" laboratory.

With the tax deductible financial support of individuals and local business firms, Junior Achievement is able to provide the business center, office and the production equipment each company needs. The company also pays a nominal sum for rent, capital deposit, etc., which is returned in the form of educational workshops and scholarships. As in big businesses the teenagers pay themselves wages and commissions out of their profits.

Come in and take on a tiger!

The only thing that looks low-priced on a Pontiac Tempest is its price sticker.

And that's removable.

Take it off, and there's just a pure, unabridged Pontiac: crisp, Wide-Track style and handling. A handsome interior. Plus the effervescent performance of a new, overhead cam 6 engine that puts out with all the punch of an 8, yet saves like the traditional 6. And of course, being a Pontiac, Tempest allows you the luxury of choice—with options in engines, transmissions, suspensions, practically everywhere. And like all Pontiacs, Tempest also has a standard safety package with items like seat belts to buckle—front and rear. (That ought to do for now. We'll tell you the rest when you get here.)

VFW launches drive to help Viet Nam's infants

The VFW and VFW Auxiliary are conducting a drive to help the children of Viet Nam.

Spurred by the requests from a man in Muskegon whose son is in Viet Nam, the two groups have issued a plea for the following:

The items needed are vitamins (either liquid or powdered), material for clothing, washcloths, towels, sheets, pillowcases, canned meat and baby food, baby bottles (plastic), diapers, formula (Similac etc), evaporated and powdered milk, soap, toothpaste and brushes.

Items may be purchased, or money may be sent to the VFW. Mrs. Harry Krumm is acting as central collecting agent; you may call her at 453-7406, or go to 1255 Penniman.

Allison E. LeValley started the whole thing. His son, Staff Sergeant George LeValley, wrote about the terrible poverty facing Viet Nam's children, and asked for some help.

Mrs. Krumm said doctors' samples often are available if you ask for them and tell your family doctor the reason. Also, dish cloths are often free prizes in soap boxes.

The bare necessities of life for the under five year old group in Viet Nam.

VFW AUXILIARY MEMBERS Mrs. Harry Krumm, left, Mrs. Willard Olson, and Mrs. William Cadaret, Auxiliary president, pack a box of baby food, vitamins and material for Viet Nam's poverty-stricken infants.

Keeping forty-three local school districts in Wayne County, including Plymouth, informed about important and pertinent legislative matters will be Manthe's prime service. He will also be available for consultation in the area of school law as applicable to Michigan schools.

In appointing Manthe to this newly-established position of legislative consultant, the Wayne County Intermediate Board of Education wishes to emphasize clearly that the legislative consultant will not function as a lobbyist either for education in general or for any specific interest group.
