Ford plans huge plant on Plymouth Township site

Ford Motor Co. plans to manufacturing operations at facility. Construction contracts plant in Plymouth Township continue to be produced at Ypto manufacture heaters and air conditioners.

The new facility is needed to meet a continuing increase in consumer demand for air conditioners in the company's passenger car and truck lines. Installation rates are currently running at an average level of 22% and it is anticipated that this rate will more than double in the next ten years. The new Ford Motor Co. plant - to be operated by the company's general parts division - will be located on a 168-acre site northwest of Plymouth. It is planned to put the plant into operation in late 1967 with employment of more than 1,000 persons. Construction is expected to start within two months.

The new plant site will be on Sheldon Road, just north of Western Electric Co., south of Five Mile Road about 22 miles west of downtown Detroit. Ford's general parts division currently assembles nearly all of the company's U.S. heater and air conditioner requirements at the Ford plant in Ypsilanti, Mich.

BUD GUEST enjoys his family and likes to tell about the weekly visit of the grandchildren at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

He goes on to say that it was the same way when his children were young and the family would visit his father, Edgar A. Guest, each Sunday at 4.

His father's face would light up with happiness each week at the sight of his grandchildren. "I never could understand why my father's face always looked so much brighter at 7 when we left. But now I know".

Interjecting more of his humor and family jokes into his talk, Bud Guest kept the women and their bosses laughing throughout the evening. More entertainment was provided by the three Upton sisters of Plymouth who are well known in the area for their singing talent.

Connie Aldrich, president of the Business and Professional Women's Club, made the closing remarks for the program.

Better manners needed at School Board meetings Twp.plans hearing.

The recent meeting of the Plymouth Community School District Board of Education offered a lesson in studied rudeness to all those on hand to observe.

A small band of Lake Pointe parents were present to gripe, in general about Lake Pointe school problems, and, in particular, about the conditions which forced a class of first graders into a crowded storage room next to a gym in the Farrand Elementary School.

It was an unpleasant meeting.

The Board, chaired by Carl Schultheiss in the absense of president Gerald Fischer, listened rather impatiently to the parents.

One asked about the pay-as-you go financing method, and he was told to come back when he knew more about it, because the Board didn't have that kind of time. Normal States classrooms might be investigated, and she was told that: (a.) the money was not available, (b.) the units could not be ordered in time, or erected in time, and (c.) the Board could not possibly overbuild classrooms, or fit classroom availability to population exactly.

This parent insisted, however, and it finally agreed the matter would be studied by Melvin Blunk, assistant superintendent of schools.

In all, the parents were treated as if they were children who didn't know exactly what they wanted. It was a hostile confrontation, and the Board's reaction was hostile.

The parents aren't blameless. Some of them had never appeared before the Board before. They were un-

Another asked if portable, or mobile informed about the so-called pay-asyou go financing, which has been abondoned. They interrupted while Board members were speaking. And it was not clear whether or not they were speaking just for themselves, or for a whole group of people.

> We can't help but remember a School Board candidates' night held last summer at Farrand School attended by two people from the press, four school board candidates and about 20 parents.

> Nor can we forget the poor voter turnout at the election the next week.

The Board is composed of elected officials serving long hours without pay. Citizen interest must be expanded beyond the gripe sessions before the Board. They can expect to get testy at times, no matter how right the parents may be.

Gripes should be vindicated at the polls, in citizen study committees, in talks with the school administrators, and in calm, well though-out discussion with the School Board.

The shot-gun affect with a few parents taking pot shots makes good headlines, places pressure on the Board, but is really poor government, and a poor substitute for concerted citizen action.

Granted, the parents of the school children, above all, have a right to go before the Board, and question their actions.

But there is no excuse for the rudeness displayed on the part of the parents, or the Board, at the meeting. Future meetings should be devoted to more fruitful discussion, with less illwill.

High school students win art awards

Two blue ribbon winners in the annual high school art competition are Plymouth High School seniors Carolin Pagenkopf and Karen Smith. Their originally designed and hand hooked rugs were chosen to go on from district competition to the national division in New York.

Three gold cups, signifying best in this area, were awarded Elizabeth Macer for a pencil drawing and to Katie Wall and Torb Guenther for wood cut prints. Certificates of merit were won for ink drawings, hand woven wall hangings, a hooked rug, cut paper designs and woodcuts by Don Cowan, Margaret Rudlaff, Torb Guenther, Don Robert-son, Nancy Kincade, and Sandra Sue Holland.

The exhibit of art by talented students is at Crowley's downtown store through March 5. Mrs. Sam Hudson and Mrs. Terry Saw are the high school art teachers whose students work was chosen from 5000 items in this area.

Fulton Lewis III speaks

on Communist infiltration

Handsome Fulton Lewis III spoke to hundreds of women at the Mayflower Meeting House luncheon and earlier at the Northville Town Hall Feb. 17. In his talk about communist infiltration in our schools he told of the apathy of college students during the 50's with a revolution of intellect taking place now, during the 60's. "Communists depend upon young people to keep the party going and use every device possible to sway them to their way of thinking", Lewis said. He went on to say that communist propaganda funds have QUAD-RUPLED during the past year. In communist literature, which includes "The Worker", "The Peoples World" and the "Insurgent", young people are encouraged to lead race riots, so called "peace demonstartions", and to recruit aid for communist troops in Vietnam.

He told of a demonstration in New York with draft card burners among students and of the four men who were responsible. One was a 35-year old "student" and three were 4F because of emotional problems. They were burning their draft cards. Lewis went on to tell of leaflets circulated among young people which encourage them to engage in combat with police, describe how to make Molotov cocktails and even say that "cops and judges" are to be killed. "The youth of our country is important because of sheer number," Lewis said. "By 1970, it is predicted that more than half of our population will be 25 or younger." he said. He went on to say that 92% of young people make a political decision before they are 21 and keep it the rest of their lives.

> BEYER Rexall DRUGS THAN THE 1. THE ME HOPE YOUR NEXT PRESCRIPTION CARRIES THIS LABEL

Dissent and debate can be a good and healthy thing, says Lewis; but it can also lead to violence and disrespect for law and order and even revolution. He says he is concerned by our tolerance of students placing themselves above the law. During the question and answer period at the Meeting House, Lewis was asked what our country needs to do to improve this situation.

He answered that we need stronger laws which will be enforced. For example, all communist speakers are required by law to register with the at torney general, but they NEVER do and this law isn't enforced. He also said that peace demonstrators ENJOY the publicity and personal attention they get when they are fined for breaking a law. they don't mind in the least because all fines are paid by the communist organizations anyway. Lewis says that we should sentence them to hard labor instead - something they are not likely to forget for a while.

He also feels that we are not doing the job we should of educating our young people. Too many of our soldiers who were captured by the enemy were brainwashed successfully. We should give our youth more knowledge of communism and how its forces work.

Lewis closed by saying that we should write a whole new set of laws for our internal security and enforce them.

Fulton Lewis III is the son of well known Fulton Lewis, Jr. He was the youngest member of the house un-American activities committee and spends all his time now touring the country with his lectures. His home is in Washington, D.C.

Junior Leaguers see Detroit Pistons Sunday

Over 350 Plymouth Community Junior basketball league members and their 2/26 Wolverines vs. Badgers, coaches and parents attended the Detroit Pistons-Cincinnati Royals game Sunday afternoon in Cobo Arena.

The arrangements for the players were made by the Plymouth JayCees. Each boy had a chance to attend free.

The league members were able to see such basketball greats as the Pistons' Dave DeBusschere, Bill Buntin, Tom Van Arsdale, Eddie Miles and Ray Scott; and the Royals' Oscar Robertson, Jack Twyman, Jerry Lucas and Tom Hawkins.

This is the second year for the league, and their second trip to see the Pistons.

Ray Scott spoke before the league's first annual banquet last year, and another member of the Pistons is expected this year. .

Open Housing Covenant

Sponsored by

Plymouth Assembly for Equal Opportunity

I BELIEVE that the inalienable rights designated in the Bill of Rights should be assured to all Americans; that all persons in America should be entitled to equal opportunities in education, housing, and occupation without restrictions based on race, religion or national origin. It is important for all persons who believe this to support each other and the legally constituted authorities in keeping such restrictions from our community. While these rights and opportunities are assured by the new Michigan constitution as administered by the Michigan Civil Rights Commission, to be meaningful they must have the earnest and enduring support of the citizenry. Therefore, I PLEDGE MYSELF to welcome to my neighborhood any responsible person of whatever race, religion, or national origin, and I will work with him to build, improve, and maintain a community which is good for all.

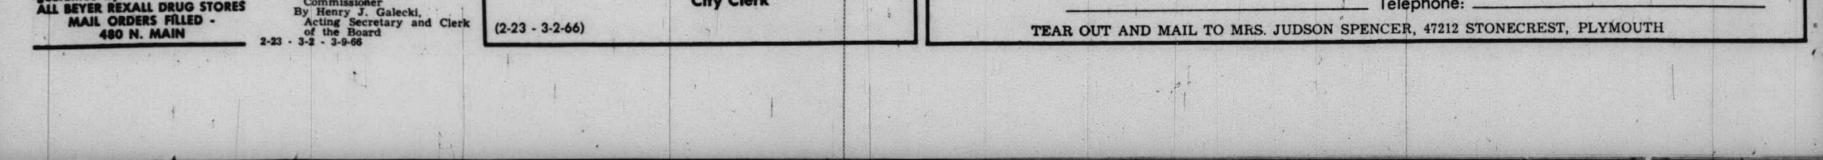

I understand that the Plymouth Assembly for Equal Opportunity may or may not publish my name together with not less than four hundred other names sometime in the future.

Senator Roberts reveals Michigan

tourism booms

Figures compiled by the State Department of Revenue, the Conservation Department and the Michigan Tourist Council show that Michigan's total tourist spending has reached about $960 million annually, according to Senator Farrell E. Roberts of Pontiac.

The comprehensive survey resulted from an inquiry by Senator Roberts following a recent meeting by Senate Republicans with the Conservation Department.

A survey by Central Michigan University put tourist spending at $857 million in 1964 and increased by 12% in 1965.

"These figures," Senator Roberts said, "certainly indicate the tremendous impact of tourism on our state's economy and we should continue to do everything we can to stimulate its growth and provide adequate vacation facilities for Michigan visitors and residents.

Associated Spring

sales up 49% in '65

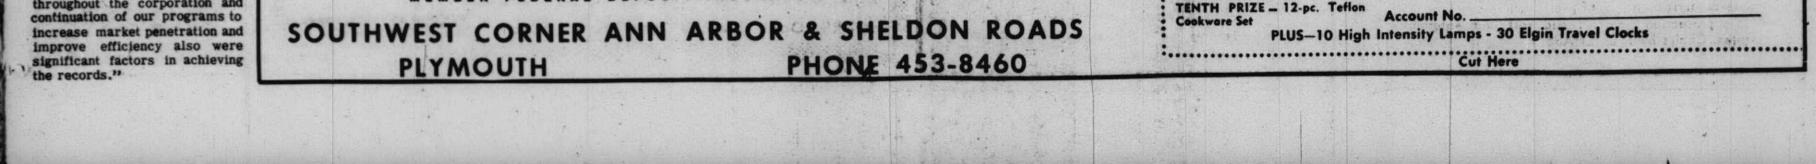

Associated' Spring Corporation sales and earnings for the year ended December 31, 1965, set new records, Carlyle F. Barnes, chairman, and Wallace Barnes, president, announced.

Sales rose 49 percent to $84,662, 367, compared with $57,005,286 in 1964.

Net earnings per share rose 70 percent to $3.80. In 1964 the per share figure was $2.24. Earnings totaled $4,306,216, compared with $2,502,945 the previous year.

"This sharp growth is due principally to the contribution of more than $21 million of sales volume from companies acquired during the latter part of 1964," the ASC executives said. "A high level of activity throughout the corporation and
