Hillsdale group calls for joint government session

A joint meeting of The Plymouth Community's three main governmental units, the City of Plymouth Commission and the Board of Trustees of Canton and Plymouth Townships, was called for in a resolution passed by over 50 community leaders Sunday.

Please See Editorial On Page Three

The motion won approval at the close of a two-day community leadership conference sponsored by The Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce at the Hillsdale College Leadership Conference Center in Hillsdale, Mich.

Basically, the group of community leaders called for the governmental bodies to examine a list of problems raised at the conference and to appoint joint subcommittees to seek co-operative solutions to them.

A wide-ranging list of community problems was detailed at the start of the conference Saturday morning in the auditorium of the bright, new conference center. The areas covered included:

- (1) Establishment of a joint recreational authority to consider such facilities as golf, swimming and others.
- (2) The question of a community cultural center and auditorium.
- (3) Traffic and transportation problems including railroads and proposed expressway routes.
- (4) Long term relations between the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township.
- (5) School planning, including site, size, planning and purchase.
- (6) Uniform assessment practices throughout the Plymouth Community School District.
- (7) Social and racial integration.
- (8) Youth activities and problems including school dropouts.
- (9) Community image and identity.
- (10) Building density versus tax base in terms of school financing.
- (11) Urban renewal.
- (12) Liquor by the glass. Presently the sale of liquor by the glass is forbidden in public in the City of Plymouth but is permitted in Plymouth Township.
- (13) Social agencies in the community and their relation to the metropolitan area.
- (14) Public transportation in and out of the community.
- (15) The impact of the recently announced Ford plant in Plymouth Township.
- (16) Shopping and retail facilities and their relation to parking required.
- (17) Water systems. Presently the City of Plymouth has its own system and Plymouth Township purchases water from the City of Detroit.

(18) Community responsibility to disadvantaged children and adults.

Discussion of the problems alternated between the group as a whole and smaller "buzz sessions" of about five or six persons that reported back to the larger conference.

One "buzz session" considered the image assets of the community and ways and means to take advantage of them. Following reports of the groups, moderator Dr. Howard McCluskey of the University of Michigan noted that he was impressed with both the difference and the overlap of the opinions.

"I am impressed that you all are concerned with the image," he said. "There seems to be agreement that the image is a valuable attraction."

KEY ITEMS mentioned in Plymouth's image included the colonial architectural theme, the generally good reputation of the school system, a good mixture of residents, a high degree of citizen participation, the central business facilities including Kellogg

For those interested, the complete official transcript of the proceedings of the Hillsdale Leadership Conference, held last weekend, will be published in next week's Plymouth Mail by the Chamber of Commerce.

The conference, which was attended by over 50 key leaders from throughout The Plymouth Community, adopted a resolution calling for a joint meeting of local governmental units to consider community problems.

Present at the meeting were representatives from Plymouth's City Commission, the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees, the Canton Township Board of Trustees, the Plymouth Community School District Board of Education and representatives from local industry, business and private citizens. Labor was represented by a delegate from the area Communication Workers of America local.

The conference was sponsored by the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce.

Arrest 6 in arson cases

Five Plymouth youths and a Livonia girl were arraigned last week for arson on charges growing out of a series of car fires in the Plymouth area.

Three stood mute before City of Plymouth Municipal Judge Edward Draugelis Thursday and demanded examination.

THEY were charged with conspiracy to commit arson, according to Michigan State Police Detective Sergeant Orville Rouse, fire marshal division.

Rouse said Friday the three were being implicated in the Feb. 7 burning of a 1963 Falcon owned by James E. Nairn, 1298 Sheridan, Plymouth.

One of the trio, plus a fourth youth were charged by Rouse Friday on a second arson count (the burning of personal property over $50) of a 1956 Ford on Hannan Rd. in Canton Township on Sept. 2.

The pair were bound over by Judge Draugelis on those charges, and stood mute, demanding examination.

Examination has been set for all four March 21, at 1:30.

THE IMPLICATION of the four led to still another trio of suspects, according to Rouse Allan E. Nairn, 19; Douglas C. Breed, 19; and Michael C. Wagner, 19; all of Plymouth pled guilty before Judge Francis O'Brien in Ann Arbor and were fined $10, $11 costs and $30 each for restitution for the arson of an abandoned car on N. Territorial Rd. in July.

They were charged with arson under $50, a misdemeanor.

Detective Rouse credited the break in the case to the joint investigation of City of Plymouth fire chief George Schoeneman, and City patrolman Carl Berry. Schoeneman and Berry pressed an investigation of the Nairn

City asks joint plea on Sheldon widening

The widening of Sheldon Rd. - the first in a series of problems that may face the Plymouth Community in the wake of the Ford Motor Co. announcement of plans for a heater and air conditioner factory in Plymouth Township - came before the Plymouth City Commission Monday.

Meeting in regular session Monday night they discussed the widening of the portion of Sheldon in the City - the west side of Sheldon between Ann Arbor Rd. and Ann Arbor Trail. The other side of the road belongs in Plymouth Township.

Commissioners agreed to have the City Manager draft a joint resolution to the Wayne County Road Commission, urging the widening of Sheldon from Five Mile Rd. to Joy Rd. to handle the increased traffic from the Ford plant.

Involved in the resolution would be the City of Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Canton Township, and the Plymouth Community School District. The City will seek the support of the three governmental bodies for the resolution.

Township Supervisor John D. McEwen is somewhat ahead of the City on the matter, at least on the portion of Sheldon Rd. north of the C&O tracks. McEwen, on the County's Roads and Bridges Committee, has worked with the Road Commission, and at the time of the Ford announcement revealed that the widening of Sheldon north to Five Mile Rd. has been approved for a future budget.

The two lane stretch south of Ann Arbor Trail still remains however, and it is hoped the resolution will be handled favorably by the Road Commission.

Commissioner Arch Vallier, Plymouth's member of the Board of Supervisors, urged the Commission to seek the resolution, and made the motion that the Commission approved.

City Manager Richard Blodgett reported he had long talks with the Road Commission, and they had revealed the widening of Mill St. was their first concern. Vallier commented on the matter: "We could care less what they are thinking. Let's tell them what we are thinking."

The entire discussion was prompted by a question raised by Commissioner James McKeon about traffic jams in the front of the High School.

In other action, the City fathers: *Heard a request from Checker Cab Company of Livonia for a rate increase for cab runs in Plymouth, and returned the matter to the City's administrative staff for study and recommendations.

*Reviewed the proposed sewerage rates increase submitted by Wayne County, and agreed to send Blodgett and Commissioner Jim Jabara to a public hearing on the matter this week. Blodgett reported the rates were "vague" and that they may mean an increase of up to 10.8%.

*Sent to City Attorney Thomas Healy a report on the Wayne County air pollution control regulations, to see if City law can override County statutes in this area.

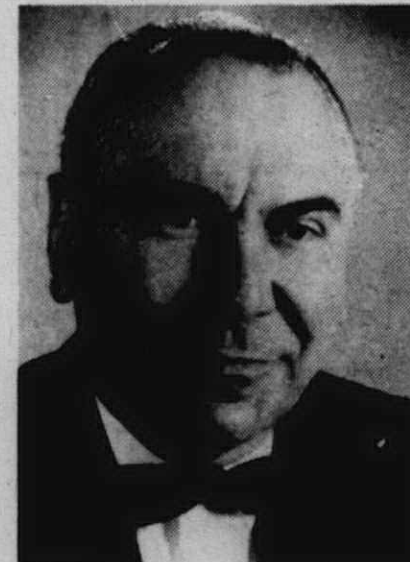

*Urged the City administration to check into the old Plymouth Men's Wear building on Penniman and, to see if it is currently up to City codes, upon the suggestion of Commissioner George Lawton.

*Sought an opinion on an occupancy permit for Earl Demel's Colonial Professional building upstairs office space. Recently rented to Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Company.

Burroughs chief tells advances

Burroughs Corporation's general manager of the Plymouth plant, Edward Schening, spoke before Rotary Club Friday noon, describing the "fantastic developments" in the data handling machine field.

Schening became Plymouth general manager in June of last year, and has shown a marked interest in the affairs of the Plymouth Community.

Edward W. Schening

Among the things Schening discussed was a computer Burroughs worked on for U.S. Steel capable of two million calculations per second.

"It's so fantastic, its unbelievable. But it's here," Schening said.

Schening explained that his plant employs 5200 people, and that most of their work is in building computers in the smaller sizes, valued between $1,000 and $50,000.

"And 90% of the products we're

Twp. firemen seek recognition; meet on wage boosts

Plymouth Township firemen will go before the Township Board soon to seek higher wages and more benefits, using bargaining powers recently granted municipal and school employees by State law.

A recent opinion from interim attorney Ralph Cole ruled the Board must recognize the firemen for bargaining purposes if a letter from the International Association of Firefighters confirming the existence and good standing of the local could be shown.

THE LETTER was received last week, and now the five full-time firemen have requested a series of meetings with the Board on salary and benefit increases.

Supervisor John D. McEwen confirmed Monday that the meetings had been requested.

The firemen in Plymouth Township are paid $5,000 starting pay with a $100 increase the first year, and $150 the next six years, for a top of $6,000.

The local Plymouth Firefighters Association has five members. Just what increases the firemen will ask for has not been revealed by their spokesman, and president, Fred Knupp.

It is expected, however, they will ask for increases paralleling those given to City of Plymouth employees last October.

THE BEGINNING firemen's salary in the City is currently $5,902, with a jump to $6,058 after the first six months of satisfactory service, and to $6,214 at the end of a year. Increases are built in, granted each year on merit, up to $7,033.

The firemen may also seek a pension plan, which the City has already.

Several problems will face the fire department soon. A recent law in the state cut firemen's hours from 72 hours a week down to 63, effective July 1. Basically, the firemen work three days a week, 24 hours a day.

And, a recent search by the Civil Service Commission for firemen turned up only one candidate for the examination.

One man, Captain Barney Maas, has been with the force 14 years, and earns extra compensation for being captain, and for being the officer in charge at a fire.

Three other firemen have been in the department six years, and the fifth regular has been on two years.

The firemen filed with the Township Board on Nov. 11, 1965 for recognition, and still have not received it. It was expected to be forthcoming at the Board's regular meeting Tuesday night (March 8), however.

In a nutshell

★ The first piece of land for the I-96 - I-275 interchange near Schoolcraft and Wilcox Rd. intersection has been purchased. According to a letter from the State Highway Department to Plymouth Township supervisor John D. McEwen, a small farm has been bought on Eckles Rd.

★ Members of the Kiwanis-sponsored PHS Key Club this week helped in "Operation Medicare Alert," a door-to-door campaign to get people over 65 to sign up for Medicare by March 31. A meeting has been planned for March 16 at 2 p.m. in the Plymouth Community Credit Union for those with questions.

★ A goal of $3200 for the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County has been set for Plymouth, $200 over last year.

★ Dr. Donald Davies, a Plymouth dentist, has been named the Chamber of Commerce's representative to the Human Relations Commission. The appointment was made Monday night by Mayor James Houk, and confirmed by the City Commission. Davies is active in community affairs, and currently heads the C of C's popular Businessmen's Forum committee.

"A Thousand Clowns" comes to Guild stage

The Plymouth Theatre Guild is presenting the Broadway Comedy "A Thousand Clowns" by Herb Gardner for its fourth presentation this season.

This play was recently made into a movie and has been nominated for two academy awards.

The cast is hard at work polishing their lines this week as opening night is March 17, with two other performances being given on the 18 and 19 in the high school auditorium. Curtain time is 8:15 and tickets may be purchased at the door.

Donald Mycek, spirited from the Dearborn Civic Players, Judy Brantigan and Willie Blackman of Plymouth are the leading characters and are brilliantly supported by Richard E. Brown, Cal Cruzen and Jacob Rumpf.

Other members of the guild are busy back stage making final preparations, with the set, sound and lighting.

"A Thousand Clowns" promises to bring an evening of enjoyment to all those who attend its performances.

ROMANTIC INTEREST: Romance in the Theater Guild's current production of "A Thousand Clowns," is supplied by Judy Brantigan as Sandra, and Don Mycek as Murray.

The Scribbler

Who's a wallflower?

with Joyce Holmes

With the roar of the March lion we can be assured that Spring is not far behind, and if you are like me, you breathe a sigh of relief and think, "I have survived another winter."

Perhaps if I were a skier or an ice-skater I'd feel differently about it but lacking this kind of prowess I merely regard winter as something to get through. However, we did find one activity that helped make the cold weeks fly by faster, we signed up for a ballroom dancing course at Plymouth High School.

Thinking back to my high school days I remember my whole social life was intricately wrapped up with dancing. The thought of marrying a non-dancer and never dancing again as an adult was absolutely intolerable. But, you guessed it, I grew up and I married a non-dancer, and we seem to have survived remarkably well even though there are no ball gowns in my closet.

Still the occasional party that we would attend where dancing was part of the entertainment, the wallflower role was not to my liking and so the subject of dancing lessons would arise every now and then.

I casually mentioned to a friend of mine that Ken and I were thinking about signing up for ballroom dancing at P.H.S. Her eyes lit up brighter than Gene Kelly's smile when she explained that she had been trying for years to get her husband to shake the lead out of his feet and learn the rudiments of the dance. We had given her hope because if we did it, he might go too and each would lend moral support.

That was the shove we needed and that was how the four of us arrived at our first lesson. Unfortunately we were a half hour late the first night. When we finally got there everybody was casually dancing the cha-cha. We were utterly panic stricken and quickly checked our schedule to be sure it was the right night and the course was for novices.

Everything checked so we hesitantly walked on to the floor and gawked. Jim Long, the instructor, who has the patience of Job, immediately took us aside, showed us the steps and in 15 minutes we were moving around like the rest of them.

That has been the story ever since. Mr. Long carefully leads us into each new step and after one hour at his pace we feel like we've been through the R.A.F. exercise book twice. Amazingly, though, we are doing things we never dreamed we could do.

The final success came when my husband, the non-dancer, was anxiously and willingly looking forward to the next semester when we would tackle some new gyrations. I even noticed a far away look in his eyes and the twitch of some muscles as he listened to the soundtrack of "Zorba the Greek" and recalled Zorba's dance scene on the beach.

Who knows, maybe ballet will be next!

Park, a varied industrial tax base and efforts to develop further non-residential tax base.

Some of the key recommendations of the groups included an independent, impartial, outside study of the merits of consolidation of Plymouth and Plymouth Township, an attempt to establish more equitable tax assessment procedures and greater efforts toward provision of services co-operatively in such areas as police, fire and an incinerator facility.

Discussion did lead into more specific areas too. In an exchange on the subject of joint police protection between Plymouth City and Township, both City Commissioner A. E. Vallier and Plymouth Township resident Samuel Hudson asked what had been done since submission of a report on the matter to the Township Board in March, 1965.

At that time a subcommittee of the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees, headed by Trustee Richard Lauterbach, submitted a recommendation that discussions be held with the City of Plymouth on the subject of joint police protection.

"I'm not so sure," Township Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes told the Hillsdale conference, "that people are dissatisfied with the protection presently being provided by the Wayne Co. Sheriff's Department and the Michigan State Police."

Vallier, who also serves on the Wayne Co. Board of Supervisors as a representative of the City of Plymouth, said other communities would not continue to underwrite operation of the Sheriff's Department when they were supporting police departments of their own.

"Let's be honest," Vallier said. "These other communities are not going to continue to give you a free ride." Mrs. Holmes noted that she felt that taxes from Plymouth Township were sufficient that the area was not getting a free ride.

Lauterbach said he felt that his committee's recommendation to the Board of Trustees a year ago that talks should be held with the City of Plymouth on the matter should be implemented.

The Rev. David M. Strang, pastor of Epiphany Lutheran Church on Five Mile Road, and a Plymouth Township resident, wanted to know why the Township Board was considering employment of a Public Safety Director in light of last year's recommendation.

"I think we have a little internal problem here," Lauterbach said. "Part of the conclusion here seems to be that the City Police is the obvious answer," Mrs. Holmes interjected.

"Maybe it's not. Maybe Wayne County is."

"It seems there is a need for communication with the public as well as the board itself," School Board President Gerald Fischer noted.

DURING THE course of the conference, strong support was expressed by some for an independent, outside study of city-township consolidation. Plymouth Area Planning Commission Director Harold Fischer noted that the commission he serves could hire professional consultants for such a survey if the participating governmental units would authorize it.

Such authorization would have to come from the Plymouth and Canton Township Boards and the City Commission.

In later sessions, discussions were held about a community auditorium facility and areas of present co-operation. Present governmental co-operation exists through the Area Planning Commission, the Human Relations Commission, the Joint Recreation Commission (inactive of late) and in other areas including sewage disposal, mutual fire aid, library and interconnection of water systems.

One area for future co-operation suggested was regular, planned interaction between the three planning consultant firms presently employed by the governmental units.

Falcon fire, and report that it led to the other arrests.

"They worked a lot of extra hours on this," he said. The arrests cleared up six fires in the area - five car fires, and a blaze in a trailer loaded with straw.

Rouse told the Mail that the investigation would not stop, and that he was continually concerned about the number of apparently set fires in Western Wayne County.

He further noted the investigation of fires this summer that destroyed several barns in Plymouth Township would continue, as well as the sifting of clues in several other mysterious fires.

County assessor vital says Forum speaker

A county-wide assessor is needed to straighten out the disparity in tax rates from one community to another, according to Alfred Pelham, Wayne State University professor who spoke to the Businessmen's Forum Thursday.

Pelham, noted municipal finance expert, and one-time Wayne County financial officer, spoke to the Chamber of Commerce's Forum at the Mayflower Hotel, discussing the various methods of equalization of taxes.

"There is no rationality in the present system. I know of few other states where a debacle like this would take place," Pelham said, referring to the current system of assessing and the equalizing of personal property taxes on a county and then state level.

Pelham urged those present to write to their congressman seeking reform of assessment procedures, and an end to vested interests in taxing.

Professor Pelham explained the numerous tax exempt properties, and then discussed the County tax allocation board, which must set the division of 15 mills between schools, county and townships or cities.

A current provision in the new constitution may allow the mill ceiling to go up to 18, he noted.

Property - real and personal - may not be assessed over 50 per cent of true value, he added.

"There are 1700 assessing districts in the state. This is utterly ridiculous," Pelham charged.

Each city and township has its own assessing officer, and the two rates set do not need to be coordinated. The result, Pelham said, is often very disparate rates.

Pelham outlined the review procedure, then turned to the problem of disparity of taxes in counties like Wayne.

"Tax assessors in Wayne hold divergent philosophies, have a wide variety of training, and thus a broad variance in tax results."

The ex-City of Detroit controller also spoke about the equalization process, explaining that the relative level of taxes are "equalized" by the County Board of Supervisors.

Equalization is made on municipal totals, not individual parcels of property. Thus an individual taxpayer may feel a broad tax increase for vast amounts of industry, or land equalized upwards. For instance, if an industry in Plymouth were off in assessment by $400,000 according to the county equalization process, that figure would reflect in an equalization factor levied on all properties. Thus, the homeowner, who may be assessed nearly correct, has his taxes raised.

After county equalization, the state equalizes for all 83 counties. The action once taken by the State Board of Equalization, is now done by the State Tax Commission.

Pelham also discussed the famous Pittsfield School district vs. Washtenaw County case, which established equalization, and is now made clear in the constitution.

Pelham concluded that there was no answer to the disparity, or the unfairness of equalization, except a county-wide assessor.

"There is no answer this side of a county assessor. And it should be your concern to see that it comes as soon as possible," Pelham said.

"There are bills in the Legislature now creating a county assessor. The current duplication, waste and lack of uniformity makes a mockery of equalization."

He said that a low tax rate was an "artificial" attraction for industry.

Pelham also discussed at some length the technicalities of the equalization process.

Put On a Happy Face

This is the fifth in a series of articles written by George Lawton, General Manager of the Credit Union, about the advantages of Credit Union Services.

Most people will shop as many as three or four dealers to save 50 or 100 dollars when they buy a car. Interestingly, these same people usually give what they have saved right back to the dealer. It happens when you permit the dealer to handle the financing for you. They are paid by lenders for referring your auto loan.

The Credit Union does not pay anyone for referring your loan to us. We are able to pass these savings on to you when you finance your new car directly through the Credit Union.

On a new car with 1/3 down over 24 months, through an average dealer deal, a $2,000 loan costs $250.00.

For the same loan through the Credit Union, the cost is $166.63. You save $83.37 - enough to make anyone put on the happiest of faces.

On a new car with 1/4 down over 36 months, through an average dealer deal, a $2,000.00 loan costs $370.00.

For this same loan through your Plymouth Credit Union, $308.39. You save $61.61, another happy face type figure.

The Credit Union can loan at these rates simply because it is owned by the people it serves and the profits are returned to the owners.

Next time a dealer asks to take care of your financing, may we suggest that you say, "No thank you, I'll handle my own," and then pay us a visit.

Unequivocal support for Hillsdale resolution

Last weekend's two-day conference, held at the Leadership Development Center at Hillsdale College, could well have more impact on this community than anything in recent years.

But the ultimate effectiveness of the conference and the course that is taken concerning the key resolution made there depends on several enormous "ifs."

First of all, a few of the conclusions reached at the meeting by most of the 60 persons attending seem to be these:

• The Plymouth Community, it was generally agreed upon, is that area bounded on the north by Six Mile Road, on the east by Eckles Road (though perhaps as far as Levan), on the south by Ford Road and on the west by Gotfredson.

• While currently subdivided into three leading governmental units (City of Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton Township), the area is bound together in one school district and shares many of the same advantages and problems.

• In view of the growth rate before us, it is incumbent upon local residents to see if common problems can be solved on a joint or co-operative basis and, further, we should determine whether it is advantageous to consider consolidation or combination of Plymouth Township and the City of Plymouth.

A resolution was passed at the conference urging the legislative bodies of the three governmental units to hold a joint meeting for the purpose of discussing some of the problems outlined at the Hillsdale conference.

Further, it was urged that subcommittees including representatives from each of the governments be appointed to consider these problems and seek co-operative solutions.

And here is where the "ifs" enter in.

The spirit and intent of the Hillsdale meeting can be perpetuated only

IF the members of the official governing bodies are willing to participate.

Lacking this kind of co-operation and willingness to interact, the Hillsdale recommendations can only be implemented IF the citizens are sufficiently interested to generate — at the polls — the necessary change in the complexion of their governing body.

This may, in fact, be the only answer — a political one.

More than a few of the persons present at Hillsdale made it clear that they considered some local governmental leaders outstanding by their absence.

At least one was repeatedly invited and urged to attend; and refused — a gesture that amounts to refutation of any serious attempt to immediately modify the status quo.

Let this be clear here and now. The Plymouth Mail stands solidly behind The Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce and its efforts to shed light on the problems and obstacles that confront us as a total community.

We unequivocally support the resolution of the conference calling for joint action to solve some of these problems.

We are neither beholden nor subservient to any single governmental body within the confines of The Plymouth Community.

Rather, The Plymouth Mail stands for the welfare of the community as a whole. Individual problems of the City of Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton Township come second to the pressing questions that face the entire Plymouth Community — an area, it should be re-emphasized, that was defined to the satisfaction of most of the Hillsdale participants.

As a newspaper, we will not stand for efforts that appear to be self-seeking or self-aggrandizing at the expense of the total community.

In the fight to preserve The Plymouth Community's identity in the face of metropolitan expansion, the stakes are too high for that.

GROUNDBREAKING for the Wesleyan Methodist Church took place Sunday afternoon, with Rev. George Huff, with plans, and Rev. Keith Somers, minister to the local congregation conducting ceremonies.

Church finally builds home where it was born

Ground was broken Sunday for the Plymouth Wesleyan Methodist Church.

The Rev. George Huff, president of the Michigan Conference, assisted by the Plymouth minister, Rev. Keith Somers, conducted the ceremony in the bitter cold with about 30 of the congregation members looking on.

The Wesleyan Methodist movement was founded in Plymouth, and grew to national and international prominence.

Strangely enough, a church was never built in Plymouth. The present congregation has been meeting at the Masonic Temple since 1964.

Rev. Somers, who is married and has three children, said the church was started 125 years ago in Plymouth, by laymen who opposed the holding of slaves.

Rev. Somers reported that about 35 to 45 people regularly attend services on Sunday. Rev. Somers, whose wife teaches at Farrand Elementary School, is a graduate of the Asberry Theological Seminary. The present congregation was organized in September, 1964.

Reader raps slob's asinine cat column

Dear Editor:

After reading your Plymouth Pilgrim of March 2 (by Dave Wiley), I wonder about you. Your article on cats was asinine. Your article or column regarding your Thanksgiving dinner gave me the impression you were a slob. Can't you find something more interesting to write about than your personal life?

Truthfully, I can read more news about Plymouth elsewhere than in the Plymouth Mail.

So Dave old boy, let's get with it and write a column interesting to Plymouth and not your ego.

I hope you print this letter - maybe you'll have a few more comments.

Mrs. J.L. Mitchell

This has not exactly been a week for ego building.

It started before the ink had a chance to set on last week's paper and achieved a culmination of sorts in the letter that appears on this page.

Thursday it was that the phone rang and a voice on the other end expressed displeasure at the "dirty joke" in Joyce Holme's new column "The Scribbler," which made its debut on the women's page.

And another day, in another call, someone inquired about what had gone wrong.

"You don't seem to be speaking up anymore," they said. "We want you to keep saying what you think."

So be it.

If there exists a Holy Grail toward which the community journalist reaches, it is a key to unlock the soft, but steely chains of apathy that seem to bind the majority.

Not caring a hang seems to be a way of life anymore.

We are terrifyingly unconcerned.

Plymouth is probably the epitome of studied, numbed nonchalance on the part of most.

Oh sure, I know that a blue-ribbon crowd of over 50 turned out for the Hillsdale summit conference on community problems.

I know that a batch of people turn out each year to work for the Community Fund and the Fall Festival and the Symphony Society and what have you.

It's the same nucleus each time, too.

Their lesser brethren, however, are content to piddle away their time being uninvolved. Until junior gets shunted onto a school bus or into a storage room because of crowded conditions, mama is too busy to show herself at a public meeting.

Local fathers are little more aware until someone buys the land across the street and tries to get it rezoned for smaller lots or multiple dwellings.

Then, holy dollar signs, Batman. They're reducing the valuation of our Bat Cave and let's roar off to the public hearing and give the evil beasts what they deserve.

It's all a bit frustrating.

I have made a commitment to myself not to wax profane in this column anymore, so let's leave it at that, huh?

What Plymouth people think of Plymouth.

There are a few among us who seem to think this is the cultural end of the earth — a veritable intellectual no man's land.

I was showing one man an advertising layout recently and he was inserting copy. After examining one piece of artwork, he noted that it looked camp.

"I won't say that though," he commented, "because nobody in Plymouth would know what it means."

Ah, me!

Some of the local literati are those whose conception of the cultural mountaintop is "The New Yorker" magazine.

Personally, I share some of the feelings of Tom Wolfe — The New York Herald-Trib's columnist of "The Orange Colored Kandy Coated Tangerine Flake, Baby" fame.

Wolfe wrote a two part series for the Trib's Sunday magazine, the first of which was titled "Tiny Mummies! The True Story of the Ruler of 43d Street's Land of The Walking Dead!"

Wolfe has an affected style; but that's appropriate for an attack on "The New Yorker."

Anyone who reads the magazine must be affected.

Contagious disease outbreak prompts answer from reader

Dear Editor:

The recent outbreak of communicable diseases among young people in several areas in Wayne County prompts me to make the following suggestion that I feel sure would eliminate this problem in a very short time. I am writing to you as I am not sure who should assume the responsibility of investigating and starting the type of program proposed, the School Boards; City, Township or County Health Departments; or the Medical Associations.

My proposal is rather simple and has been very effective in Communities in another State. I suggest the following:

1. Each school district, or each individual school not in a unified school district, should appoint a staff physician to establish and supervise a health clinic with its necessary trained assistants, usually nurses.

2. Through this group all annual physical examinations and inoculations, as required based on individual history, would be given without charge to each student.

3. Medical and inoculation history would become a permanent part of the students school record to be maintained by the school staff.

4. Each school would notify parents through the student of the schedule and specific inoculations currently needed to keep the student on schedule. Exemption from any portion of the program would only be authorized by written agreement between parents and the medical supervisor.

5. The cost of this program should be paid jointly by the School District and the Wayne County Health Department who would also supply all medication needed.

Vance Packard to speak at Mayflower Meeting House

Vance Packard will be in Plymouth March 17 for the Northville Town Hall Series.

The well-known author will speak at the Northville Theatre at 11 a.m., after which he will come to the Mayflower Meeting House for luncheon and further discussion.

With the 1962 publication of "The Pyramid Climbers" and its rise up the best-seller lists, Mr. Packard completed a quartet of literary hits that rudely scratch the complacency of the contemporary scene. He is undoubtedly the most popularly received social critic to have appeared in the past decade. His first three books all reached #1 on best seller lists, the only author in recent years to have three books in a row reach the top rung in the non-fiction field.

In "The Pyramid Climbers" he is concerned with the furious drive of our corporation executives "who pitch their tent camps on ever higher ledges of the pyramids of business power."

Earlier, Mr. Packard engaged in the lively scrimmage with our ego patterns in "The Status Seekers," sent tremors streaking down Madison Avenue in "The Hidden Persuaders," and issued a sharp warning on planned obsolescence and its commercial high priests in "The Waste Makers."

In all four of these successful literary ventures, the intrepid author assails the weaknesses and subtly camouflaged evils in our social and economic underground. There may be those who disagree, but Vance Packard has yet to be ignored.

Perhaps the main reason for this is that M. Packard has fortified the authenticity of his works with massive research. For "The Pyramid Climbers," he filled 167 notebooks while gathering material over a period of four years. As one critic pointed out, this is a formidable pyramid in its own way.

A resident of Fairfield County, Connecticut, the Packards and their three children spend their summers in an ancient rambling house along an isolated stretch of the seashore of Martha's Vineyard. There Vance Packard has time to think ahead, and the thoughts that come to him are likely to result in further lively volumes on the changing American scene that will enrich his fellow citizens' understanding and add some more vivid "catch phrases" to their daily conversation.

Reservations for the celebrity luncheon at the Mayflower Meeting House may be made by calling Mrs. Duane Butler, 349-0248.

Historical Society

The Plymouth Historical Society will meet Thursday March 10 at the Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union basement meeting room at 7:30 p.m.

The program will be a film provided by the Consumers Power Co called Mich-I-Gan-I-A that concerns the "Robust Years of the 19th Century". Those who have seen this program have great praise for it. So don't miss it.

Last meetings program was presented by Harry Reeves who took us back in time by reciting the poem of Whittier called Snow-Bound.

This carried us through the seasons and described the family life of our forefathers, when family life was more closely knit, drawing a comparison of the duties and pleasures before TV and modern day activities.

Mrs. Bertha Tiffin read a letter from Dr. Adams, who now lives in Vermont, relating their fond memories of Plymouth.

Mrs. Zaida Burrows showed some pictures of homes in Plymouth, taken back in 1890, that are still standing on Penniman Avenue and show little change today. Also one of Main Street July 4, 1909.

Old pictures have a great historical interest and our society is fortunate in having a fine collection in our Museum. Mention was made of new arrivals at the Museum including old pictures, jewelry made of human hair, and a horsehide coat.

The Museum had 126 visitors in the month of January, in spite of the cold weather. More than 7,000 people have gone thru the Museum since it opened the end of 1965. Were you one of them?

The Museum is open every Saturday and Sunday 2 to 5 p.m.

Willoughbys return from Hawaii

A Hawaiian vacation was thoroughly enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Willoughby, who have just returned to their home on Ridgewood Drive.

The couple left Plymouth Jan. 30 and drove across the country to San Diego where they visited relatives, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Callaway.

Traveling on to San Francisco, they had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. James Hardimon, formerly of Plymouth. Mr. Hardimon is the son of Mrs. Doris Hardimon of Evergreen St.

From San Francisco, they flew to Hawaii.

On the island, they enjoyed a reunion with former Plymouthites who live there, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Lowry.

After ten days in Hawaii, they returned to the States by way of the S.S. Lurline.

Ink on my apron

Vacation daze

with Yvonne Schmitz

Ink on my apron rather sums up my daily life. As the wife of a man who enjoys good food and the mother of seven children who never stop eating, a great deal of my time is spent in the kitchen. Thus, the apron. My other life consists of meeting deadlines for the women's pages of the Plymouth Mail. Thus, the ink. Each career I find completely fascinating.

Dinner conversation at our house has turned to vacations again. Every year about this time, the mail brings us letters from our favorite resorts in Michigan asking if we want reservations for the coming summer.

Last year we braved the highways for a week in the Smoky Mountains and another week at an island in the Atlantic Ocean called Hilton Head.

But usually, we find that one day of travel is enough. Nine in a station wagon plus two week's gear can be rather cozy to say the least. Believe me, this is real togetherness.

One summer, several years ago, we thought we had the solution to the packing problem.

"Let's rent a house trailer!" I said to the master. So with a little discussion and more persuasion, he was somewhat convinced it wasn't such a bad idea.

We shopped around and found a darling trailer that would sleep nine of us.

It was brand new and shining and came equipped with a gas refrigerator and stove, a bathroom with shower, and tables which made into bunks at each end of the trailer. It even had its own water tank. Perfect, I thought. This is one vacation we will really enjoy.

While my husband didn't quite share my enthusiasm, he has learned through the years to humor me in some of my brainstorms. So we started out to tour northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula.

All went well till the first night. We found a good spot to park the trailer at Grand Haven State Park on Lake Michigan.

Our seven children, then quite small, were tired and went to sleep as soon as they were bunked down for the night.

All four bunks were double size and hubby and I had a lower one. About midnight, when all was quiet, I decided to get up to get a drink of water.

So I crept out of bed quietly and found the sink and a glass in the darkness.

Crawling back to the bunk, I felt around for the bed but couldn't find it. Total darkness. Silence. No bed. No husband. Just space where the bed was. Where did they go?

Suddenly I heard a tiny noise. "Get me out of here", came a muffled voice. Again louder, "Get me out of here!"

And I realized what had happened! The voice was my husband IN THE WALL.

We had forgotten to hook the latch on the bed when we lowered it. When I got up, it had thrown the bed off balance and he had flipped - bed and all - into the wall.

Again the muffled voice "GET ME OUT OF HERE!" - louder still. Weak from laughing, I pulled hard on the bunk. He pushed (mattress on top of him) and I pulled. After about 10 minutes of struggle (he weighs over 200 pounds) we finally got the bunk and the master back on the floor, the latter in a slightly dazed condition.

My sides ached from laughing, but hubby wasn't nearly so amused. So now when dinner conversation turns to vacations, we no longer discuss trailers. Never, NEVER again says the man of the house.

Women's Club honors past presidents

Mrs. William Lyons displays her large collection of antique and modern dolls from all over the world at the Women's Club tea which honored past presidents.

Mrs. Richard Jones is pouring tea for past president of the Women's Club, Mrs. Marshall North, left, and Mrs. Ray Barber who is the president now.

There were nine women in the Women's Club when it was formed March 4, 1893. At that time, the club was called the Ladies Literary Club.

The Women's Club of Plymouth now has 200 members. Thirteen members were honored at a tea March 4 at the Masonic Temple. All have been president of the club.

Guests of honor included: Mrs. Charles Humphries, president from 1923-1925; Mrs. George Burr, 1935-1937; Mrs. Robert Willoughby, 1939-1941; Mrs. F. R. Hoheisel, 1941-1943; Mrs. Milton Laible, 1948-1950; Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing, 1950-1952; Mrs. Murray O'Neil, 1952-1954; Mrs. Leslie Daniel, 1954-1956; Mrs. David Wood, 1956-1958; Mrs. George Bauer, 1958-1960; Mrs. Richard Jones, 1960-1962; Mrs. Marshall North, 1962-1964. Mrs. Ray Barber is the present president.

Mrs. William Lyons displayed her collection of dolls which have come from all over the world, including dolls from Africa, Russia, India, and the Orient. The oldest is 125 years old. Her favorite is a doll which was given to her by a great aunt.

This doll, named Maude, has traveled across the country five times according to Mrs. Lyons. One trip was made by train, once by air, twice by car, and once by wagon. One interesting antique doll has a head made of tin.

She has also added modern dolls to her collection of over 500 of every description.

Parents Without Partners want new members

The Livonia Chapter of Parents Without Partners is looking for new members.

Meetings are held once a month, each fourth Wednesday evening, at the United Church of the Nativity at Henry Ruff and West Chicago Roads in Livonia at 8:15 p.m.

All single parents are welcome. PWP is a group of parents dedicated to the betterment of their children as well as themselves. An international organization, it is non-profit, non-sectarian, educational and social.

On March 19 at 8 p.m., the Livonia PWP chapter will join the Wyandotte chapter for an evening of dinner and dancing at Joey's Stables. Reservations of members may be made by calling 941-0277 by March 16.

Family day will be March 20. The Livonia PWP has invited the Rouge PWP to go roller skating at the Riverside Rink on Plymouth Rd. 2 p.m. Later, the party will move on to Uncle John's Pancake House 10001 Telegraph Rd., just south of Plymouth Rd. at 5 p.m.

The regular meeting of PWP will be March 23 at 8:15 p.m. The speaker for the evening will be from the Better Business Bureau. Refreshments will be served, after which members will go to a night club for dancing.

A regional conference is scheduled for June 26 at 2 p.m. at the War Memorial Building in Grosse Pointe. This will be sponsored by the Detroit PWP-Metro Group and will include all PWP chapters in this area.

For further information and a newsletter of events write to Livonia PWP, P.O. Box 2295, Livonia, Mich.

Western Mich. News

Classroom theories are being put into actual practice this semester for 874 Western Michigan University students in the education curriculum as they take part in practice teaching programs in schools throughout Michigan.

All seniors at WMU, the students are spending the semester in the final stage of pre-teach training under experienced classroom teachers. Of the total, 564 are in secondary schools, 230 in elementary schools, and 80 in special education. The practice teaching session, according to Dr. A.L. Sebaly, director of student teaching and professor of education, gives the seniors on-the-job training and permits them to decide which phase of the profession interests them most, before signing a contract.

WMU students who are assigned to school in this area are: Joseph Baraco, 115 S. Mill, Galesburg; and Helen Woods, 1464 W. Ann Arbor Tr., Richland.

Specialty of the house

Bubbling hot pizza is a favorite

PIZZA is the specialty of the house for Mrs. William Smith. Her five children think that their mother's pizza is the best. Her husband agrees with them. Bill Smith is an architect for the Detroit Edison Co. Their children are Paul, 17, Eric, 13, Suzanne, 12, Bryan, 4, and Douglas, 20 months.

The Smith family is looking forward to summer. The whole family likes to work in their flower and vegetable garden and then cool off with a dip in their pool.

Their two acres of land provides them with salads and vegetables throughout the summer; and Mrs. Smith freezes enough berries and vegetables to keep the family well-fed during the winter months.

Rita Smith collects antique china and displays her interesting collection on shelves in her living room and dining room. She likes to hunt antique shops; but the most treasured pieces in her collection are family heirlooms. Her antique china compliments the contemporary architecture of her home beautifully.

Oil painting is another hobby of the Smiths. Both Rita and Bill Smith enjoy dabbling in oils. A studio workshop in the backyard provides Bill Smith with the privacy he needs for his work and his painting.

Here is the recipe for Rita Smith's pizza:

- 2 c. warm water
 - 1 pkg. dry yeast
 - 1 T. sugar
 - 1 t. salt
 - 1/2 c. melted shortening
 - 4 c. flour
 - 1 8 oz. can Contadina Pizza sauce
 - 1 8 oz. pkg. Mozzarella cheese, grated
 - 1 5 oz. pkg. Romano cheese, grated
 - 1 can Mushroom pieces
 - Pepperoni sausage
- Dissolve yeast in warm water in large bowl. Add sugar, and salt and stir to dissolve. Add shortening and two cups of flour, beat with wooden spoon until light and bubbly. Stir in remaining flour. (Dough will be quite soft.) Allow to rise in warm place about 1 hour or until doubled in size. Divide dough evenly onto two 14" to 15" pizza pans. Grease hands slightly and pat out to edges of pan. Divide sauce, cheeses and mushrooms between the two. Place pepperoni at desired intervals on top. Bake on lower oven rack until crust is browned and top is bubbly, about 15 minutes at 425 degrees. Makes two large pizzas. Pizza may be fully assembled, wrapped and frozen. If frozen, increase oven temperature to 450 degrees for baking.

Mrs. William Smith of Robinwood St. cuts a bubbling hot pizza for her family.

ADULT EDUCATION

Knitting needles click at night

One of the adult education classes which has been popular with Plymouth women for years is the knitting class.

Mrs. Marian Cooper teaches the class which meets each Thursday at the High School from 8 p.m. till 10 p.m. Mrs. Cooper also teaches a Newcomers' Club knitting class.

A native of London, England, she has lived in this country for three years. She says that most women in England learn to knit when they are children.

A variety of attractive sweaters and a stole made by the class were displayed last Thursday night. Most of the women in the group had never touched a knitting needle before beginning the class.

Plymouth music students

perform at Carnegie Hall

Skitch Henderson at Carnegie Hall said, "I am astounded at what these kids are doing here tonight."

He was referring to the students of the Interlochen Arts Academy who have just completed a week's tour in which they had given seven concerts in the east and in Canada.

Henderson was backed up in his statement by the New York Philharmonic players who were also curious to know what the "young players trained up in the north woods" could do.

Roberta VanMeter and Norman Fischer of Plymouth were among the talented young performers who took part in seven concerts last week.

Miss Van Meter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert VanMeter of Ridgewood Dr. and is a violinist. Norman Fischer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fischer of McKinley St. and is a cellist.

The tour began when the academy flew to Washington, D.C. Feb. 21 for a performance in the State Department auditorium. This event brought out laudatory comments from foreign diplomats and from top men in the government program which supports the arts.

After a quick tour of the capitol Tuesday morning, the orchestra moved on to College Park, Md. for an afternoon concert before an audience made up largely of music students. Again they won acclaim.

That night the party moved on to New York, arriving around mid-night.

Most of the players went out on tour in the morning and then had rehearsal in tradition-steeped Carnegie Hall in the afternoon. The evening performance was attended by less than a full house but still a larger crowd than is usually attracted to a program by an outside group. The audience was brought to its feet as the concluding number, the Shostakovich Symphony No. 1, came to an end.

A flight to Toronto the following day permitted an afternoon rehearsal and then a repetition of the same concert. Again the audience was impressed. One usher, a music student, was heard to whisper, "Why they're better than the Toronto Symphony."

Erica Goodman, 17-year-old harpist, who has been at Interlochen eight summers and plays with the Toronto Symphony, performed the Handel concerto superbly.

Moving on to London, Ontario for the University of Western Ontario's annual festival, the orchestra might have been weary but its members didn't show it.

They were to have supported Van Cliburn in the Tschalkowsky Piano Concerto, but because of Cliburn's illness were called upon to play with Jerome Lowenthal, a brilliant young pianist.

Lowenthal came directly from the plane to the concert hall Saturday morning and sat down to rehearse with an orchestra completely unknown to him. Less than an hour later, he turned around, smiled at the players, and said he was satisfied.

That night, with Dr. Joseph E. Maddy conducting, pianist and orchestra turned in such a blazing performance of the Tschalkowsky that the audience was on its feet cheering even before the final note had died away.

People came away amazed that what they had just heard had been done by 13 to 18 year olds.

LONG ARM: The long reach of Mike Stakias helped the sophomore forward have a good beginning season for the Rocks. Here he tips one in against Walled Lake in the opening game of the District Tournament.

Walled Lake outhustles Rocks 69-59 in District

Fired up after the halftime break, a mediocre Walled Lake team ran Plymouth off the floor Tuesday as the Rocks lost 69-59 in the Class A District opener.

The Rocks had the same fate last year, losing the opening game of the tournament to Belleville. Walled Lake, winning only two games this year—one of them a pre-season 77-76 overtime victory over Plymouth—returned from the locker room after the half and drilled in 24 points in the third quarter.

Plymouth players threw the ball away on numerous occasions as the inspired Walled Lake team out-hustled and outplayed the Rocks.

Plymouth was behind by three points when the third quarter opened, 34-31, but in the space of two minutes Walled Lake had seven points, and Plymouth none. Plymouth only scored seven in the entire quarter, but not until Walled Lake had run the score up to a 48-33 bulge.

Down twenty points at the end of the third quarter, the Rocks, riding the crest of a two-game winning streak, struck back for 21 points in the final quarter.

But Walled Lake was able to hold their own, and tossed in 11 in the fourth frame to cinch the victory.

Nate Luibrand, a bench warmer most of the season, led the team in scoring with 18 points. John Davis hit for 12. Both Davis and Luibrand played sporadically throughout the season, as coach Dick Bearup shuffled his lineup.

The Rocks played without Chuck Catlett, who was in New York on a class trip.

Plymouth hit 16 for 25 free throws, for a 64% average. John Huebler, who scored 43 points in the first Walled Lake encounter, led Walled Lake with 17 points.

But it was other players, including Jack Ashby, who scored 15, who slapped the ball away from Rock guards, and harassed Plymouth shooters, who won the game for Walled Lake.

The loss left Plymouth with 4-11 record, with the four wins coming with two victories over Belleville, and one over Allen Park, another over Redford Union.

SURPRISE: More likely it's relief that shows on Rock swimmer Biff Leonard's face just after he finished the breaststroke event at the league meet held in the PHS pool Saturday.

Trenton sweeps league swim meet with 8 firsts

Trenton, fielding some of the best individual swimmers in the State, walked away with the Suburban Six League swimming meet Saturday.

Held this year in the PHS pool, Trenton scored 329 1/2 points to win; Plymouth was sixth.

The scoring:
Trenton: 329 1/2 points
Bentley: 206 points
Allen Park: 199 1/2 points
Belleville: 147 1/2 points
Plymouth: 128 1/2
Redford Union: 118

The meet determined the winner of the league championship. In the past, the league meet, and the ranking in dual meet competition was used to figure championships; this year, just the league meet was used.

Plymouth swimmers in the preliminaries:

- Pat McCord, 50 free, second.
- Rick Lorenz, diving fourth, John Larson fifth.
- Mike Malbouef, 12th, butterfly.
- Mark Whitaker, 11th, McCord, fourth.
- John Skinner, sixth, backstroke,

Ron Witthoff, eighth and Brain Foust, 12.
Bob Rienas, sixth, breaststroke, Biff Leonard, 4th.

Plymouth also took fourth in the freestyle relay, and third in the medley relay in the preliminaries.

MEET RESULTS:
Winners in rank one through five.
FREESTYLE RELAY: Trenton, Bentley, Plymouth, Allen Park, Belleville.

200 FREESTYLE: Bentley (Rog-gisart) and Trenton (Murray) one-two, with league and pool record of 1:55.1. Trenton, Allen Park, Redford Union.

Hockey Eighth surprises Dunckel

Eighth grade basketball in Plymouth was at its best Thursday as the winless Junior Highers outlasted Dunckel, 29-28.

Tom King led the Plymouth team with nine points; Pat Cosgrove netted six, and Bill Donahue and Jon Cederberg hit for five each, and Mike Cowan for four.

The Plymouth squad led 7-3 at the quarter, but was behind 17-14 at the half. Dunckel's offense failed in the second half, scoring only 11 points while Plymouth scored 15.

Coach Casey Cavell's ninth grade quint put together a solid offense and whipped Dunckel 45-31. Bruce Pauman hit for 12 points, and Bob Kellman tossed in 16 to lead all scorers.

Ahead 15-7 at the end of the first quarter, Plymouth was never behind. The local squad held a 38-26 bulge going into the final quarter.

The two teams close out their season next Thursday at Farmington East, at 4:30.

COOL ME, MADAM

Old women once held curative powers—or so folks believed. Their wrinkled hands laid on feverish brows were thought to cool the fever. Now, in this golden era of modern medicine, we have more reliable methods of reducing temperatures. But, remember, a temperature is only a symptom . . . not an illness in itself. Fevers have many causes . . . some minor . . . some serious. So, be sensible. When you or a member of your family is ill, let your doctor do the diagnosing and prescribing. Then, if medication is necessary, let us fill his prescription promptly and accurately.

Plymouth Township Minutes

PLYM TWP TRUSTEES MEET SPECIAL MEETING
JANUARY 28, 1966
 Supervisor McEwen called the meeting to order at 10:08 a.m. All members were present. Supervisor McEwen stated the purpose of the meeting was to discuss the Sheldon Road Industrial Park.
 Mr. Diak read the terms of a preliminary agreement, which he hoped could be approved within 10 days so he could report to his client.
 After considerable discussion, it was moved by Elizabeth Holmes, supported by Gene Overholt, that we adopt the following resolutions and that they be incorporated into a letter to Mr. Harahan of the C. & O. Railroad; also, that Supervisor McEwen be authorized to sign and deliver the letter.
RESOLUTIONS: "RESOLVED" That the Township of Plymouth will, upon expression of the industry's intention to the Township of Plymouth, Michigan, to build a manufacturing plant of approximately 500,000 square feet to be located on the 168 acre site at the northwest corner of Sheldon Road and the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad tracks, enter into a formal agreement with the industry to provide it with water and sewer utility services within a period of six months from the signing of such agreement. Said agreement to contain substantially the resolutions hereinafter adopted.
"RESOLVED: That the Township of Plymouth will secure the required easements, engineering and construct an 18" sanitary sewer at an invert elevation of approximately 785' and having a capacity of not less than 300 gallons per minute which will extend from the site east to the Wayne County Interceptor; in the estimated amount of $100,000.00. The actual costs will be determined by the contract price, engineering fees and possible right-of-way costs. The prepayment shall be in lieu of all other costs, including assessments, debt service charges and connecting charges."
"RESOLVED: That the Township of Plymouth, Michigan, will upon request, permit the industry to relocate a portion of the 12" water line crossing the site from Sheldon Road to Ridgewood Drive in the event that the existing water line interferes with building construction, and provided further, that a no-charge easement for the new location is conveyed to the Township of Plymouth and the cost of the relocation is borne by the industry.
AYES: McEwen, Holmes, Sparks, Norman, Garber, Lauterbach, Overholt.
NAYS: None.
 Motion carried.
 Mr. McEwen submitted a communication from Ardith Fischer, which voluntarily terminated her employment by Plymouth Township.
 It was moved by Ralph Garber, supported by Louis Norman, that the resignation of Ardith Fischer, as a Plymouth Township employee, be accepted, with regrets. Carried unanimously.
 Upon a motion by Ralph Garber, supported by Louis Norman, Supervisor McEwen was authorized to hire a clerk-typist at the annual salary of $4500.00 for the balance of the fiscal year, which ends March 31, 1966. Carried unanimously.
 Board members were notified of a joint meeting with the Planning Commission on February 15, 1966, at 7:30 p.m.
 Supervisor McEwen adjourned the meeting at 1:35 p.m.
RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED,
C. VEACH SPARKS, Clerk
John D. McEwen, Supervisor

Even, is designated as the representative of the Township for the purposes of ordering when and to which streets applications of this type be made. It was moved by Elizabeth Holmes, supported by C. Veach Sparks, that the resolution be approved. Carried unanimously.

Supervisor McEwen called for the reading of the minutes of the regular meeting of January 11, 1966. It was moved by Dick Lauterbach, supported by Louis Norman, that the minutes be approved as distributed. Carried unanimously.
 The minutes of a Special Meeting of January 9, 1966, were unanimously approved as distributed on the motion of Elizabeth Holmes, supported by Gene Overholt.
 Supervisor gave a summary of the list of bills amounting to $26,200.00. It was moved by Mr. Lauterbach, supported by Mr. Garber, that the bill be paid and warrants drawn thereon. Carried unanimously.
 It was moved by Elizabeth Holmes that the bill for Mr. Ralph Cale amounting to $50.00 be added to the bills making a grand total of $26,250.00. The motion was supported by Mr. Ralph Garber. Carried unanimously.
 The Communications 1 through 5 were read, received and filed.
 A report was read by the Public Act 379 of the Public Acts of Michigan of 1965 with respect to recognition of the International Association of Fire Fighters. In the report, it was suggested that Plymouth Township communicate with the International Association of Fire Fighters and require proof that such organization does, in fact, represent the majority of the firemen, or the majority of them have, in fact, selected this union to represent them; then the Township is obligated to recognize that union as the exclusive bargaining agent for the Township firemen. The motion was supported by Dick Lauterbach, stated that in compliance with the legal opinion, the clerk should contact the International Association of Fire Fighters for a letter stating that a bona-fide local union does exist among the firemen, and that upon receipt of confirmation, that the opinion of the attorney be followed and that we accept the International Association of Fire Fighters as the bargaining agent for the paid firemen only. Carried unanimously.
 Senior Citizens Council Housing and Apartment Complex was explained by Mr. Wolf, architect of Ralph Garber, supported by Gene Overholt, at the request of Mr. Theodore S. Brown. An artist's conception of the project was displayed. It is located on the Hill Estates Subdivision and Parcel C-1 of the Southwest 1/4 of Section 14, Township 1 N., Range 10 E., and Section 15, Township 1 N., Range 10 E., (Multiple Family Residential) and to notify the Coordinating Zoning Committee of the County of Wayne. Carried unanimously.
 Due to a change in the easement for the sanitary sewer and storm sewer in the Season Estates Subdivision, the following resolution was adopted on the motion of Ralph Garber, supported by Dick Lauterbach and carried unanimously.
RESOLUTION: Whereas, an easement for a sanitary sewer and storm sewer was granted to Plymouth Township by Loren Gould and Lorraine Gould, his wife, and recorded in the Public Act 149 of 1965, (Deed No. E 96482) of Deeds, Wayne County Recorder, and whereas, because of changes in location of said sewers, this easement will not be used by said Township as intended, BE IT RESOLVED: That the Township hereby releases, relinquishes, vacates and grants to said owners, all rights, title and interest in said easement, as mentioned.
 Direction was requested from the Township Board concerning the rezoning and renumbering of certain Township streets, as proposed by Mr. Harlan Hickerson. This item was discussed and the Plymouth Township Board thanked Mr. Hickerson for his civic interest in the community. On the motion of Dick Lauterbach, supported by Elizabeth Holmes, this item was tabled until further support from the community is expressed and the amount of money involved is determined to complete the project. Carried unanimously.
 Draft Palliative Contract: BE IT RESOLVED: That the Township of Plymouth shall enter into a contract with and pay the Wayne County Road Commission to apply a dust palliative to the unpaved streets of this Township and that the Township Supervisor and the Township Clerk shall be authorized to sign such contract on behalf of the Township. BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That Supervisor, Mc-

Even, is designated as the representative of the Township for the purposes of ordering when and to which streets applications of this type be made. It was moved by Elizabeth Holmes, supported by C. Veach Sparks, that the resolution be approved. Carried unanimously.
 Supervisor, McEwen, adjourned the meeting 10:30 p.m.

SOS

Doug Johnson

Maybe I hadn't noticed before, but last week I saw the beginnings of another campaign. A car bore a bumper sticker red with red and black letters, "Stamp Out Smut." The first letter of each word forms SOS, and were in red; the rest of the letters were in black and were arranged like this:

Stamp
Out
Smut

In keeping with this campaign, and adhering to the order from the Post Office to report all obscene literature that comes your way, I hereby report:

My telephone bill, last month.

The Detroit Free Press's coverage of the Candy Mossler trial in Florida.

The spate of Civil War centennial publications, which threatened to engulf my bookshelf at the office with such vast wastes of somebody's money as: "The effects of the Civil War on Music in Michigan," 55 pages, and "The Baptists of Michigan and the Civil War."

And, last and not least, the move to have the Mackinac Bridge renamed the G. Mennen Williams Bridge.

Soon many Plymouthites will receive a questionnaire from Democratic Congressman Weston E. Vivian, who represents this District in the House of Representatives.

It is a first of its kind, because the government is allowing them to be mailed free by the Post Office. I think it's a great idea, and I hope that everyone that gets one will fill it out.

The questionnaire, not printed at the Federal government's expense, asks nine loaded questions, including ones about Viet Nam.

One asks if you generally agree with the Viet Nam policy. The others list various choices that have been discussed over the months, including withdrawal, increased bombing, no bombing and negotiation.

I have no trouble deciding whether or not we should be there. I think we should.

But from there I'm frankly lost.

Why have we picked Viet Nam to defend our way of thinking? Why not Hungary in 1956, or Cuba, or Berlin? What happened to the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization; even though the treaty was weaker than NATO, it still provided that a threat to one member was a threat to all. And, can't the United Nations help more?

In any event, it's an ugly war that has barely touched Plymouth. It's basic commitments were made a few short months after the end of the Korean war (1953). In 1954, President Eisenhower pledged a free Viet Nam after the settlement of the long Indo-China-France war.

Thus it is a war that has been with our generation since the atomic age began.

The entire war is so very complex, and the answer so seemingly complicated, it makes a mockery of everything man and science and the machines have been able to do to better life thus far.

We cannot shrink from defending freedom in an hour of trouble; but I'm not sure we should stand alone defending it in an undeclared war in Viet Nam that every hour grows more confusing.

I'm sure freedom must be defended, but I guess I'd like to see the rest of the free world help. It's like being made chairman of a project, and then getting stuck with all the work.

Send in your answers to the questionnaire. Whether or not you agree with the policies, or even agree that Wes Vivian should be Congressman — send in your opinion. Never before has it been needed so badly.

Burroughs

Schening also showed slides of some of the modern manufacturing equipment used at Burroughs, including a computer-run wire wrap machine which routes 500 wires per hour on a circuit.

Among the brand new devices Schening described was an unlined banking system using computer's to store individual account information, and to complete transactions.

Among the most significant contributions Burroughs computers have made is in the area of missile guidance. The Burroughs systems are used on correcting the path of current Cape Kennedy shots. A programed computer sends and receives tracking information, and automatically corrects the space craft's course, upon a preset line.

"Other changes have been brought about by the transistor," Schening noted. "In 1958, a transistor could cost $90 to replace a $6.90 tube. Now they cost $3 down to 27 cents."

Schening said the current automation phase in our society was not designed to reduce clerical and management help, but to feed management more information, faster.

On the other hand, the 'blue collar' automation phase is using machines to take the place of "the hand, the eye, the strength, the dexterity of the human worker," Schening said.

"The electronic revolution is in its infancy," he said, "and make no mistake about it, the products of the '70's will be fantastic."

Schening was the guest of Rotary, which meets each Friday noon in the John T. Alden Room of the Mayflower Hotel.

THE QUIET INSPECTOR

He checks the food you buy

Ever wonder what you could do about meat you suspected was watered down? Or a restaurant you felt was unclean?

Or a load of cement that seems short of one yard? Or sour milk bought at a store?

The answer is to call Inspector Harold Monet, a soft-spoken agent for the Michigan Department of Agriculture, Food Inspection Division.

He can answer these, and thousands of other questions about the weight and measure of articles, and the condition of food products sold to you.

He stands between the store and the consumer as a screening agent, inspecting for everything from beetles in flour to accuracy in gas pumps.

Monet, who lives in Nankin

Township, is one of ten inspectors in the area who inspect food stores, bakeries, garden markets, restaurants, gas stations and hardware stores.

Monet works out of the South Eastern division of the Food Inspection Division, with local offices at 13301 Puritan, Detroit, 273-9216.

Monet, and men like him, are well known by the industry and places of business they inspect, but hardly known by the public.

He is responsible for the Plymouth, Livonia, Northville area, and all the way to Oak Park and even parts of Wayne and Detroit.

He is assigned to meat plants, bakeries, canneries and bottling plants in the area, and also handles a 30-day tour of duty inspecting fruits and vegetables at wholesale market places in the metropolitan district, checking for grade, proper labeling and excessive insecticide residue.

"I'm ordered to handle complaints Number One," Monet said in a recent interview. "I have about five a week in my area."

One day he will be in overalls checking a gas station pumps, the next day in a business suit going through an exclusive restaurant.

Monet is a registered sanitarian, having passed State examinations in 1964.

In addition to checking food establishments for cleanliness, he checks for product misrepresentation. Violations like this might include the labeling of low grade beef as "U.S. Choice," substituting oleo for butter in a restaurant, advertising chicken legs and selling them with a large portion of the chicken back attached.

Each item of food is covered by either general Michigan law, and/or specific statutes.

For instance, the Vienna sausage from Denmark must bear the tag "Michigan grade 1," indicating the manufacturer is licensed to sell his product in Michigan, and indicating he is making his product in accordance with the strict standards of the Michigan comminuted meat law. It prohibits artificial colors, cereal added to extend the meat, or chemical preservatives.

Monet said in the past 12 months there have been numerous violations of the law, including adding sulphurous acid to old hamburger, or excessive amounts of fat to ground beef.

"In each case, I obtained a warrant from the county prosecutor and appeared in court as a witness for the people to testify against the accused violator. In most cases the defendant is fined up to $100 for the first offense; however, a jail term faces the butcher who adds sulphurous acid to his ground beef. The sulphurous acid is added to old meat, and will return it to its original red glow; it can cause food poisoning," Monet explained.

Short weight violations also occupy Monet's time. It has never found to be "company policy" to short customers, and the one percent of markets that get cited for it are cited because of careless clerks, or scales that need service.

Often on the corner meat market weight cases, an unknown "shopper" buys something and Monet then appears to check weights.

"I don't like this form of enforcement," he said. "But I have no choice." When a scale is approved, a yellow seal about the size of a silver dollar will appear on it.

Monet checks the weight of bread at the local bakery, and even bread pan sizes. State law requires maximum size for each specific weight of finished loaf. This is necessary in that the amount of dough used to bake an ordinary one pound loaf of bread could be, by adjusting the ingredients, make a loaf of bread up to two feet long and one foot high.

Monet also is an official egg grader, and often "candles" eggs, by holding them up to a light in the dark and checking for rotten, moldy or checked conditions.

Canned tuna and smoked fish are checked regularly for botulism. Monet urges anyone who suspects he's a victim of food poisoning to call his doctor immediately, then his department.

Generally the consumer is at the mercy of the store owners, and it is fortunate that 99% of them are out to give honest bargains, Monet said.

"In the old days you bought food from the corner butcher, the baker and the local farmer. Now food comes from Africa, Europe, the Orient—all over," he said.

Concerning a typical inspection, Monet said:

"On flour mixes, first we'll check for a tiny bore hole. We'll move the boxes, check the contents to see if they're yellow or wormy. We cannot inspect without going over the entire store; I cover the building inside and out. There's nothing we miss in any inspection, because we just don't get around that often."

Everything Monet does is backed by laws, with the great body of the food industry behind these laws, and Monet himself.

Monet remains between the customer and the food distributor, checking for carelessness, uncleanness and dishonest weights.

Schoolcraft to show "Antigone" film March 11

"Antigone", the next film in the current series at Schoolcraft College, will be shown at 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. on Friday, March 11.

"The Saturday Review" wrote that the film "has brought forth the surging emotion of this ancient drama with fluid staging and fine photography....The play has remained very much alive through the centuries, and its power and anguish can affect audiences today."

The film has a Modern Greek sound track with English subtitles. The public is invited; there is no admission charge.

ACCURACY of all scales in stores, like this one here in Johnny's Peninman Market, is one area Food Inspector Harold Monet spends a great deal of time in. A yellow seal, arrow, shows that Monet has sealed and approved the device as accurate.

Greenspan plans apartments for Five Mile Robinwood site

Fred Greenspan has applied for multiple family apartment rezoning for land near Lake Pointe in Northville Township.

A public hearing has been set for March 15 at 8 p.m. by the Northville Township planning commission to discuss the matter.

The proposed site, 12.5 acres of land on the northeast corner of Five Mile Road and Robinwood, is owned by Greenspan, developer of the 1200-home Lake Pointe subdivision.

He filed for rezoning last October; the land is currently R-1 single family residential. The request was recently reactivated because the Township recently adopted a 701 master zoning plan.

According to Northville Township deputy clerk Mrs. Margaret Tegge, Greenspan has not presented site plans, or revealed how many apartments he would build, if he received proper rezoning. Greenspan has another apartment development in the area, the Lake Pointe Village apartments on Wilcox Rd.

Buick's '1,000,000' Sweepstakes. You may have won $2332.00 cash! A new list every week from now until March 31st. 429 first prizes. [Table of numbers]

If the first part of your vehicle identification number is here, you might be a winner. Here's how it works. Look at the first symbols (the prefix) on your vehicle identification slip. Then look at the symbols listed above. If you find yours on the list, you've taken the first step toward being a winner. Now go see your Buick dealer. He has a list of 72 winners posted in his showroom. If you see your entire vehicle identification number on the poster—the symbols plus the rest of the numbers—$2332 cash is yours. (If your prefix isn't listed in this ad, don't give up. Your numbers may have been posted during the past few weeks. And every week there are 72 new winners posted on the showroom wall. So watch for next week's list of new symbols in this newspaper.) No slogan to invent, no puzzles to solve. In fact, you don't even have to own a Buick to have a winning number. While you're in the showroom, get a good look at the Buick Special. The $2332.00 happens to be its price. *Manufacturer's suggested retail price for Special V-6, 2-dr. coupe. Price includes Federal Excise Tax and suggested dealer delivery and handling charge. Contest Rules. Residents of Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska may, if they prefer, send in a postcard to R. L. Polk and Co., P.O. Box 1347, Detroit, Michigan 48231 and receive the weekly list of winning numbers by mail for comparison with their own vehicle identification number. An official entry form will be included. Sweepstakes limited to persons over 21 living in the continental U.S. Not valid in Florida or states where prohibited by law.

Jam Junior High East to see Girl Scouts' Scout-orama

OUTDOORS COOKING is a vital part of Girl Scout camp life. Kathy Kenyon, Liz Jewell and Lynne Battermann display their skill at camping out.

A GIRL Scout-orama, under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Carl Schultheiss, drew a large crowd at Junior High East Sunday. Among the troops present with displays was Cadet Troop 626, with a complete camp site; here, Margaret Fox, Dianne Henderson, Suzanne Rogers and Peggy Gladstone show an overnight tent to visitors.

JULIETTE LOW FUND display was handled by Troop 269. The Juliette Low fund is collected in honor of the foundress of Girl Scouts, Juliette Low, who started the movement in 1912. Troop members Cheryl Pearl, Sharon Kivisto, K. C. Steiner, and Mrs. Frederick Steiner, troop leader, help collect the money, which is used for world friendship projects, among other things.

Christian Scientists mark 100th year

Plymouth Christian Scientists will celebrate the 100th anniversary of Christian Science in a year-long observance of the founding of the religion.

Among the major events announced last week by The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, is a May 3 talk in Cobo Hall by Edwin D. Canham, noted editor of The Christian Science Monitor. As early as 1895, Plymouth residents were interested in the Christian Science movement. And in 1903, a building was erected on the corner of Main and Dodge St. in Plymouth — the first Christian Science church in the State of Michigan.

Their first official church meeting was held in Stafford Hall, April 26, 1899. A Christian Science Reading Room was opened the next year.

In addition to the speech by Canham in May, many Plymouth Christian Scientists are expected to journey to the annual meeting of The Mother Church in June.

The local church first held services in its new building on Oct. 16, 1958 on Ann Arbor Trail just west of Harvey St. Church members marked the fiftieth anniversary of the old church building in July, 1953. The Dodge home and wagonmaker's shop had been located on the site before the old church was built.

Major events in the celebration will include a worldwide public speaking tour by the Editor in Chief of The Christian Science Monitor, publication of a new book titled "A Century of Christian Science Healing," and the start of work on a new "Church Center" construction program.

The Centennial stems from events in 1866 which marked the turning point in the life of Mary Baker Eddy and began her pioneering of a world religious movement.

A spiritual healing which Mrs. Eddy experienced in 1866 turned her life-long study of the Bible into an intensive searching that produced the earliest manuscripts on Christian Science. She became convinced that Christianity is scientific in the deepest spiritual sense and applies to every aspect of human experience.

Later, she wrote the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," and founded a church which now includes 3,300 branches in more than 50 countries.

Centennial activity within the Church will come to a focus at the Annual Meeting in Boston on June 6. Land clearance will begin that day for construction of an expanded 15-acre church center, while members gather to consider their movement's progress and spiritual mission.

Throughout its century of development, Christian Science has continued to be a lay movement of people dedicated to restoring spiritual healing to Christianity. They are convinced this can be done on a sound, permanent basis and they believe this is a necessary first step towards fulfillment of Christianity's larger purpose — spiritual transformation.

These ideas will be touched upon in some of the special public events planned for the Centennial.

The tour by Canham started in Sydney, Australia, on March 1 and will extend through most of the world during the year. In April will come the publication of "A Century of Christian Science Healing" which is expected to be of wide interest. The book will provide a chronicle of the development of spiritual healing, based on church records. It will include an explanation of the differences between spiritual healing and current methods of psychotherapy and psychosomatic medicine.

The book is described as a contribution to the revived interest and efforts within the traditional Christian churches to develop a spiritual healing ministry and reassert the full power of Christianity as a central force in human development.

An excerpt from the book will be included in a special Centennial supplement of The Christian Science Monitor scheduled for June. The supplement will feature articles evaluating the current trends in natural sciences, philosophy, communications media and university campuses.

Also timed for the Centennial year will be a number of new steps in the graphic design of Church publications.

Officials are looking upon the Centennial observances primarily as preparation for "the second century" of Christian Science. They feel that the concepts of the religion—considered so revolutionary during its first 100 years—will be more widely and readily understood in the years ahead.

The healing of a severe injury in 1866 was, in Mrs. Eddy's own words, "the falling apple that led me to the discovery." Her healing occurred as she read one of Jesus' healings, in Matthew's gospel, and the experience began to put a new light on everything she knew as a Christian. She became convinced that the Principle underlying the life and teaching of Jesus is fundamental to existence itself—"the divine Principle of all real being."

She once summarized her concept in this way: "We must learn that God is infinitely more than a person, or finite form, can contain; that God is a divine Whole, and All, an all-pervading intelligence and Love, a divine, infinite Principle; and that Christianity is a divine Science," ("Miscellaneous Writings").

At first, Mrs. Eddy and the early students of Christian Science had hopes that these teachings would be readily accepted into the established Christian churches of which most of them were members.

But as controversy continued to surround the young movement, they voted in 1879 to organize a church of their own—"designed to commemorate the word and works of our Master, which should re-instate primitive Christianity and its lost element of healing." Over the next several decades, a structure of church organization and government was evolved that has remained permanent.

A Church Manual written by Mrs. Eddy provides the general framework, with a five-member Board of Directors in Boston to conduct the business of The Mother Church.

Within the framework of this Manual, complete local self-government is provided for each of the individual branch churches. They elect their own officers, set up their own by-laws, and make all major decisions by a vote of their own membership.

One thing that remains universal in the Church is the form of the worship services. Since the Church has no ordained clergy and is a movement composed entirely of laymen, it was early established that the function of "Pastor" would be filled by the Bible (traditional Protestant version) and the denominational textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures".

Bible lessons made up of citations from these two books serve as the core of the Church's educational system, as well as its Sunday services.

No formal ceremonies for the sacraments are observed, but the spiritual significance of baptism and communion an important element in its teaching.

Today, the Church has a healing ministry carried on by more than 7,000 full-time public Christian Science practitioners in over 40 countries.

Cases brought to them cover the whole range of humanity's problems and conditions, moral and physical, and they are just as apt to be dealing with alienation, injustice, poverty, or criminal habits as they are with sickness. Health is looked upon in its deepest sense as spiritual wholeness.

There is also an extensive network of public Reading Rooms maintained by branch churches; a Board of Lectureship that delivers more than 4,500 lectures a year around the world; an international daily newspaper that is generally ranked among the top newspapers in the world; a radio series that is broadcast over some 950 radio stations in several countries; an Armed Services ministry that includes 447 lay workers as well as commissioned Chaplains; and student organizations in more than 400 colleges and universities.

Carrier of the week

Steven Davio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Davio, 14560 Shadywood, is this week's Carrier of the Week.

Young Steven, 11, attends the sixth grade at Junior High West. He has two brothers, Chris and Mike; they have lived here two years. His father is a technical writer, his mother, Mary, a housewife.

Hobbies that occupy Steven's time are stamp collecting and reading. He wants to be a doctor.

In sports, he enjoys skiing best, and likes basketball, golf, baseball and swimming.

His route covers portions of Northville Rd., Clemons, Hamill, Garland, Bradner and Brentwood.

American Legion Auxiliary

Mrs. Mary Birites, membership chairman of Passage-Gayde Unit #391, the American Legion Auxiliary has announced a steady increase in the number of women signing up for membership in the organization.

The men fighting in Viet Nam and the awareness of the services rendered by the Auxiliary for the veterans has spurred interest and increased enrollment. The members of the world's largest patriotic organization of women are always glad to welcome newcomers into their midst and yearly make an effort to interest women in joining them.

Mrs. Birites reported that Nationally more than 700,000 members have already been enrolled for 1966, an increase of 12,700 over the same date last year. She said that all eligible women are urged to join the American Legion Auxiliary and participate in its many interesting and worthwhile activities.

Friday, March 11, at 8 p.m. is the 17th District meeting at the Myron H. Beals Post Home in Livonia.

Saturday, March 12, the 17th District will be hosting a birthday party at the American Legion Billet at Otter Lake. Music will be played by Bud Burleson, Guy Carleson, Bob Goodlight, Bonnie and Debbie Hoelscher. Games will be played and refreshments served. Any Post or Auxiliary member wishing to go, please contact Unit President Mae Hoelscher.

Saturday evening, March 12, the Lloyd H. Green Post in Northville is celebrating the American Legion's 47th birthday with a dinner-dance. Dinner will start at 7 p.m. with dancing to follow. Music supplied by the "Suburbanites."

Wednesday, March 16, at 8 p.m. in the Post Home will be the next meeting of Passage-Gayde Unit #391.

Saturday, March 19 is the "Why Are We" banquet. Our guests are the Presbyterian Men's Council and Presbyterian Women's Association. Passage-Gayde Unit and Post will also be celebrating the American Legion's 47th birthday on this night. Be sure to attend.

VFW auxiliary news

The Plymouth Cancer center needs help in the afternoon, from 1-3, and also in need of white goods and plastic material. If you can furnish either of these things contact the center.

Get well wishes are extended to Gladys McBride, Jim Archer, and Adelaine Packer.

Don't forget the March 16 rummage sale. Chairman, Mrs. Bill Olson, reminds you to get all the items out to the March 15 meeting, or call her at GL 3-2347 to arrange for pickup. It will be held from 8 to 8.

Get those papers collected and bring them out to the post home on March 19 for our paper drive. If you cannot bring them out yourself, call Mrs. Bob Smith at 453-1529, or Mrs. Harry Krumm at 453-7406 and they will arrange to have them picked up.

Thank you's are extended to the children of Mrs. Sheldon's and Mrs. Wonn's rooms at Bird Elementary School for all the articles that they collected for the drive for Vietnamese children. Thank you's go to the children of Miss Brock's room at Allen School for their help in collecting additional items for the children.

Free films available at Library

Starting March 1, 1966, community organizations will be able to reserve films free of charge at the member library in their community of the Wayne County Library System.

Walter H. Kaiser, County Librarian, indicated that adult groups or community organizations of the following nature would qualify for the free service: Civic Associations, P.T.A.'s in local school districts, Service Clubs, Church organizations, Literary associations, Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Brownies and YMCA groups may order through their leaders.

Organization leaders may borrow a film catalogue of the Wayne County Audio-Visual Film collection for free local library. The catalogue contains detailed descriptions of the more than 3000 films presently available for free distribution.

This free film service (16-mm-sound) will be available at the 24 member libraries of the Wayne County Library System, including Dunning-Hough Library, 223 Main St.

Kiwansians learn of Freedom Leadership Program

The Honorable Tom C. Clark, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, and President of the National Conference on Citizenship, has given a strong endorsement to the principles of the new Kiwanis-sponsored Freedom Leadership Program, it was learned here by William Lyons, president of the Kiwanis Club of Plymouth.

Justice Clark received word of the new program from Kiwanis International President Edward C. Keefe of Oklahoma City when the latter visited the Supreme Court in Washington, D.C. in mid-January.

Justice Clark, as President of the National Conference on Citizenship, has long been active in efforts to strengthen the American heritage of freedom through explaining and dramatizing it to the people of America. The Freedom Leadership Program, which will be undertaken during 1966, and afterwards, by many of the 5,400 Kiwanis clubs, has substantially the same ends, Lyons said.

"Basically, the Freedom Leadership Program will be an effort by Kiwanians to bring the freedoms guaranteed by the Bill of Rights and the American jurisprudence system to the attention of their fellow citizens of all ages, explaining and dramatizing them in the process," the Kiwanis president added.

Greek child 'adopted' by Plymouthites

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Worsnop, 47023 Stonecrest Drive, have financially "adopted" Stephanos Batsiou, an 8-year-old Greek boy, through Foster Parents' Plan, Inc., 352 Park Avenue South, New York, N. Y. 10010.

The "adoption" is financial not legal and costs $15 a month for a minimum of one year. The Foster Parent receives a photograph and case history of his child. Through a monthly exchange of letters (original and translation are transmitted by PLAN) Foster Parent and Foster Child get to know one another.

Stephanos Batsiou

Stephanos looks very bright and alert; his picture does not tell that he is usually a sad little boy who is very much concerned with his mother's health. She is an invalid, paralysed in both legs. Her husband was a good worker and decently provided for his family. He tried his best to make life comfortable for his invalid wife. Yet, he, too, suffered from ill health. In 1961 he died from a heart condition, leaving his crippled wife and young child without support.

Stephanos is an only child. He now lives with his mother and maternal grandmother in a flat area township in northwestern Greece. They own 3/4 of an acre of land which cannot be cultivated because of dryness. Thus they are deprived of their only source of income. Since the grandmother takes care of her daughter, she has a full time job in the home. Her pension of $6.00 a month is the only income for these three people. There are no heavy medical expenses because the mother's case is incurable.

Baldwin, Haynes attend Mobil Oil meeting

The 250 Michigan and Ohio representatives attending the annual marketing conference of the Detroit Division of Mobil Oil Company were urged by top company officials to look ahead.

Among those from the Plymouth area who attended the conference in Detroit's Pontchartrain Hotel March 2 and 3 were: E.O. Baldwin, Jr. and C. H. Haynes, both from Plymouth.

VFW asks help in listing G.I.'s

Information concerning area residents now serving in our Armed Forces in Vietnam and Laos, is requested by Mayflower Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Plymouth.

The local Post is participating with other VFW Posts throughout the State in a program of loyalty and support to our servicemen now in Vietnam and Laos, as well as providing a service to the community, through the following activities:

- 1) Undertaking to compile and maintain a complete and current listing of the names and addresses of all area servicemen now on active duty in Vietnam and Laos.
- 2) The publicizing of this list, so that area citizens may support and encourage these servicemen with letters, cards and other remembrances.
- 3) Enrolling every serviceman on this list free of charge as a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, the entire cost to be paid by the local VFW Post (subject, of course, to the ordinary rules of eligibility).
- 4) Make available in this manner all of the advantages to these servicemen of membership in the VFW, including legislative activity and representation on behalf of G.E. educational and other benefits; low-cost insurance programs; both personal and financial care and protection for his family; patriotic support and activity at home; and the advantage of community association with others who have served in like circumstances.
- 5) Anyone having the name and address of any area servicemen now on duty in Vietnam or Laos is requested to call this information to Louis Dely, QM, Mayflower Post, at GL 3-0151.

A teenager's Thanksgiving - Thank Heavens for teachers' meetings, field trips, curve grading scales, lost report cards, assemblies, Easter and... Twelve more weeks until summer vacation. Amen.

PHS student accepted for Lipscomb College

Benton Samuel Farmer, Box 28, Plymouth, has been accepted for admission to David Lipscomb College, Nashville, Tennessee, subject to satisfactory completion of his high school work.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Benton Farmer, he expects to graduate from Plymouth High School in the spring and enter Lipscomb in the summer quarter to major in pre-law.

Lipscomb operates on the year-round basis, and if Farmer attends four quarters each year, he will graduate in three years instead of four and be able to enter law school.

Hillberry Theatre at Wayne State University was the destination for 150 seniors today as they travelled down to see "The Tempest" by William Shakespeare. The play was part of a field trip sponsored for the members of senior English classes. Members of PHS's art classes also went to Wayne last Thursday as they toured the Detroit Institute of Art, after travelling to Crowley's to see the art exhibit. Several members of the class have work on exhibit at Crowley's.

For those students who forgot to study on their afternoon off Monday as our teachers attended a meeting - you'll get another chance soon! Easter vacation starts on April 8...and Schoolmasters' Club will be held May 13!

Sophomore class President Mike Stakias and Vice-President Terry Ward report that the sophomore class mixer will be held on March 18 for all those sophomores wishing to join in the fun! The mixer will be held in the pool and the gym, and will feature volleyball, basketball, swimming, and dancing.

The sophomores are also hoping to have their class rings sometime this month. Members of that class executive board include Peggy Clyde, secretary, Toki Dobos, treasurer, and Linda Arnold, Sue Van Antwerp, Sue Beyer, Larry Olson, Regan Fluckey, and Judi Utter, Student Council representatives.

PHS lists 17 on 3.5 honor roll

After five semesters of high school the following students have obtained a 3.5 or better record, according to John M. Hoben, guidance department head:

Vivian sees benefits, problems in sea science

The year is 1990. U.S. Representative Weston E. Vivian of Ann Arbor, Michigan, Congressman from Michigan's Second District, sees humanity heavily dependent upon resources from the ocean by that date.

And Vivian, the only member of the United States Congress ever awarded a doctorate in the physical sciences or engineering (Ph.D. Electrical Engineering, Michigan, 1959) may have special insights in this significant area of research.

In a recent speech before the Office of Naval Research "Symposium on Deep Submergence Propulsion and Marine Systems" at the Oak Park Arms Hotel, Oak Park, Ill., here are some of the developments Vivian predicted:

- Industrial scale protein production from the sea;
- off-shore drilling for oil and other minerals, on the continental shelves;
- under-sea transportation tunnels running down the "North-east corridor" between New Hampshire and Virginia;
- huge industrial complexes mining drugs, pharmaceuticals and minerals from the sea;
- and major traffic jams developing in some areas of the Atlantic and Pacific coastal areas, as a result of the recreational fishing, boating and "SCUBA" explosion.

Vivian also predicts major jurisdictional disputes developing before the United Nations, over who owns the resources soon to be found in the oceans. And he believes that a major breakthrough in the use of undersea craft for commodity transportation is in the offing. He looks forward to the establishment of "sea-grant" institutes in the decades ahead, comparable to today's land-grant institutions, and devoted to education and research in the ocean sciences and marine engineering.

"In this world of the 1990's the war on hunger is almost won," Vivian predicts. "Now that we are able to convert many kinds of seaplants into nutritious food, aquaculture has turned the sea into productive farming areas. Large sea floor homesteads have been fenced off with electrical and air bubble screens for breeding and grazing marine animals. Underwater cowboys roam the range in two-man submersibles and porpoises have been trained to help in the roundup."

"India, which twenty-five years ago (back in 1966) had hardly touched the vast fishery resources of the Indian Ocean, is now producing millions of tons of highly nutritious fish flour; this has become a major source of protein food.

"American technology is encouraging fishermen of all nations to reap the harvest of the sea. An international fish forecasting service has been inaugurated based on information received from extensive oceanographic surveys and data telemetered from buoy networks covering the world ocean."

"No longer do the hunters spend days looking for a promising catch. High-speed computers now provide forecasts of fish distribution and abundance."

But Vivian believes that for all of this to take place, major emphasis must be placed on research in the ocean sciences. And he believes that a major roadblock to this must be cleared aside by the Congress, through legislation which raises the field, in the Federal government, to one with status comparable to its present, and predicted importance.

ENGINEER JACK

I DON'T ENVY YOU YOUR RUN TODAY, JACK.

I KNOW WHAT YOU MEAN, JOE. THIS SNOW BRINGS OUT THE SKIERS.

I'D BETTER BEAR DOWN ON THE WHISTLE. IN THIS SNOW, THAT DRIVER MAY NOT REALIZE THERE'S A CROSSING COMING UP.

TOM, WE MUST BE GETTING CLOSE TO A RAILROAD CROSSING. I HEAR A TRAIN WHISTLE GETTING LOUDER.

YOU'RE RIGHT, MARY. THERE'S A RAILROAD SIGN AHEAD.

THEY HEARD ME. THIS SNOW CUTS DOWN A DRIVER'S VISION. IT'S ALWAYS BEST TO STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN AT RAILROAD CROSSINGS.

Tips from the STOP & SHOP CHEF
Questions & Answers

An all-butter pie pastry often results in a somewhat tough crust. Is there a remedy?

Use part lard or vegetable shortening, and the pie crust will not only be flakier and more tender but will have a better flavor as well. Try one part shortening to three parts butter. Even half shortening and half butter will make a crust with a good buttery flavor.
