

Hamilton to move home to Farmington

ALEXANDER HAMILTON'S new home office near I-696, to be built on a 13-acre site for an estimated $1 million.

Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Company will build its new home office on a site at the intersection of I-696 and Farmington Rd., near 12 Mile Rd. in Quaker Town, Farmington.

The announcement climaxed months of speculation about the future site of a home for the fast growing company. The formal word on the move came at the annual stockholders meeting April 6.

The new building, just one of several expected to be built, will be constructed on a 12-acre site at a cost of about $850,000.

driving time from the Plymouth area, where many of our employees now live and will continue to live.

6. "Because of the location on Expressway 696, we have easy access to the major arteries of the entire city of Detroit and its suburbs.

"I would like to convey the thought that Hamilton employees, including several of the officers, have a deep appreciation for the City of Plymouth. They have made their homes here, they would like to raise their families here and continue to be part of the civic life of the community. The people of Plymouth have been most gracious to us, and I do not recall any request that we have made from the city that has been denied.

"We appreciate this. "All in all, the thought I am trying to convey is that we are not moving from Plymouth for any cause. We are relocating only because of the above stated advantages that a fast growing organization such as Hamilton must have to continue its tremendous growth."

ALEXANDER Hamilton officials explained that a sincere effort to find a location in Plymouth was made.

They further note that a large Hamilton office will always be in Plymouth. The company's number one regional office, that owned by Robert Johnson on Penman Ave., will remain here and will not be re-located. Johnson's office will continue to ex-

City parking ban in effect

The City of Plymouth's overnight parking ban will go into effect 2 a.m., April 19, according to administrative assistant Kenneth Fisher.

A recent ordinance bans overnight parking on any City street from 2 a.m. until 6 a.m. Several temporary permits have been issued in special cases.

The ban grants the right to patrolmen to ticket cars, with fines set at $3 for each ticket.

Further inquiries may be directed at the Plymouth police at 453-1234.

THE NEW offices will be located in the Quaker Town Research and Professional Office Center. Hamilton came to Plymouth more than two years ago, and last year boomed as the fastest growing life insurance company in America. A report for this year listed profits at an excess of $5 million, and noted Hamilton was Michigan's third largest ordinary life insurance company.

A statement issued by the public relations department of the company from E. Keith Owens, founder and Chairman of the Board of the company, explained the move.

"In the first place, I would like it to be definitely understood that we are not moving from Plymouth for any cause, reason etc. in any shape, form or description because we have not enjoyed our residence here. But, after a year and a half of diligently searching for a suitable site for the Home Office, the plot of ground on 696 seemed the most advisable for the facilities of an operation such as Hamilton.

"The following factors were contributing factors in our final decision:

1. "The location afforded us a place where our building could be observed daily by several thousand people driving the expressway, which, in turn, would give us tremendous public relations as to growth and expansion.
2. "The area is quiet and conducive to a gracious operation of a conservative life insurance company.
3. "THE LOCATION is directly across from the proposed new campus (Orchard Ridge) of the Oakland Community College.
4. "The location places us in the center of a number of communities that can furnish us with needed manpower in years to come.
5. "We are only 18 minutes

Board OK's $830,000 for new grade school

School Board members and school administrators assured parents for Lake Pointe that the new school on Five Mile would be done by fall, barring a massive strike in the skilled trades.

And, at the same time, meeting in regular session Monday night, the Plymouth School Board approved a four-year, $830,000 bond issue to build elementary school No. 8, add a multipurpose room to the new Lake Pointe school on Five Mile, and do other work at Bird School.

Melvin Blunk, assistant superintendent, said the school was on schedule.

"We are planning to open that school Sept. 7; we have established a temporary office at Farrand, to receive all shipments for the school. And the building is on schedule, with masonry outside expected to be completed in two weeks," Blunk noted.

Board president Gerald Fischer also noted that the architect had been told to speed the project up—with overtime labor—if needed.

In other action, the Board set the date for the annual election for Board members—June 13. Three members are up for re-election: Ernest Henry and Robert Soth, four year terms; and R. B. Scott, three year term, to fill out Robert Jenkins' term. Jenkins resigned when he decided to take a job on the east coast.

Most of the remaining time at the meeting was taken up, with reports from the curriculum committee, chaired by Mrs. Esther Hulsing. She reported on:

1. Russian will be taught on an experimental basis next year at the High School.
2. Humanities will be taught next year at PHS.
3. Algebra is being offered to ninth graders.
4. Eighth grade English teachers are revamping their programs, with an emphasis on literature.
5. Physical science is being offered at the ninth grade to give a high schooler four years of science: physical science, 9th; biology, 10th;

Mrs. Norma Cassady, ending a life as a Plymouth merchant.

Mrs. Cassady, first lady of business, retires

Mrs. Norma Cassady, the first lady of Plymouth merchants, will go out of business this week after 33 years of business.

The experiment lasted, even though this was nothing I had been trained to do."

"If I've had any degree of success," said Mrs. Cassady when announcing the store closing, "it's been because of my wonderful help—some of them have been here 15 years—and my loyal customers. I think my first customer still comes here when she can."

MRS. CASSADY taught music and art before her marriage to Roderick Cassady in 1916. Her husband, once a banker and stock broker, later helped her promote the store, until his death a few years ago.

Cassady's store

Mrs. Cassady started her store in the depths of the depression in a building on Penman Avenue, never dreaming her success would be so big. In 1944 she moved to her present location on the corner of Main and Penman.

LONG ACTIVE in civic affairs, the well-known and well-loved Mrs. Cassady is a charter member of the Business and Professional Women's Club, and has been active in the Symphony Orchestra. Recently, at the Symphony's 20th anniversary celebration, she was honored as a long-time patron of the orchestra.

The Cassadys lived on a farm on the corner of Sheldon and N. Territorial, now the site of New England Village, Francis Apartments, and Western Electric Co. The farm house still stands, and is Mrs. Cassady's home.

Mrs. Cassady built her business the hard way—on a shoe string—nursing it through the shaky months and years of the 1930's. She began in the location where Red's Barber Shop is, then moved next door.

Faced with the depression, and three small children, Mrs. Cassady had to "do something."

And something she did, beginning a long history of one of Plymouth's finest downtown stores, catering to the wide needs of women.

Mrs. Cassady qualifies as a native Plymouthite. Born in a farm house near Beck and Territorial, she has lived here all her life, and is well acquainted with Plymouth's rich history. She is a charter member of the Historical Society, and was the curator when the Society's museum first opened.

HER STORE is not expected to stand vacant at all. James Houk, owner of the building and Fisher's Shoes, said ambitious remodeling will be undertaken right away—most of it inside. Houk, City of Plymouth's mayor, said a new tenant was being signed up, and that the store would not be empty. Houk also noted an August opening will be planned.

She is on the Board of Directors of the First Church of Christ, Scientist.

Mrs. Cassady will remain active in community affairs, but will not be able to forget the 33 years she spent building a store.

Last week she recalled how it all began.

Her dream has come true.

Vivian, Hart come here for reception

U.S. Representative Weston E. Vivian will speak at a special reception in Plymouth on Monday afternoon, April 18, at 4:30 p.m.

The reception has been called by the Wayne County Second Congressional District Democratic Committee and will be held at the Plymouth Credit Union. Refreshments will be served.

Schoolcraft floats $3 million in bonds, eyes tax boost

A $3 million bond issue for new buildings, equipment and site improvement has been approved by the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees.

The action, which technically only instructed the legal department to draft the necessary papers, came last Wednesday at a regular meeting of the Board.

The issue may mean a small tax increase for taxpayers in the district—a district which includes the Plymouth School District. The tax increase could be a .318 mills, or about 30 cents for every thousand dollars of valuation.

THE MONEY will be used for a new 32-classroom building, a physical education facility, for equipping building and for site improvements.

W. Kenneth Lindner, College business manager, explained the issue was possible under the new constitution, which allows bonding on a certain percentage of the total valuation of the district.

Assembly scholarship to Schoolcraft gains headway

Many Plymouth citizens have responded to the Plymouth Assembly of Equal Opportunity's scholarship fund for a Negro student from the Detroit inner city area to attend Schoolcraft College.

Last year, in November, the assembly formed the scholarship fund for the College to administer. Schoolcraft will select the candidate on the basis of merit and need.

The scholarship has been set up on a yearly basis, renewable after the first year if College standards are met.

The recipient will live in the Plymouth area during this time, and commute with Plymouth students.

SEVERAL FAMILIES have already offered living quarters. A possible work-study program will provide additional aid to meet expenses.

In Viet Nam to stay, says speaker

It's too late to get out of Viet Nam.

That was the conclusion spokesman Van Sauter of the Detroit Free Press drew last Thursday as he spoke before the Chamber of Commerce's Businessmen's Forum at the Mayflower Meeting House.

Sauter, who has spent over ten months during the last two years talking with the rank and file GI's in Viet Nam, said "a great many people woke up one morning last year and realized there was a Viet Nam."

Sauter said he had "no credentials as a political scientist, a philosopher or a moralist."

"VIET NAM is like a scene from a Western movie. This town isn't big enough for both of us. Our man in the street is 18, 19, 22. He leads a horrendous existence and faces great danger," Sauter said.

Van Sauter characterized the GI attitude: they don't understand the criticism—back home, they don't understand why there are not enough troops and equipment, and they have a complete dislike for the Vietnamese people.

Sauter said the GI isn't meeting the real people of Viet Nam—the peasants. Rather he meets the City people, the profiteers, and the corrupt Vietnamese generals.

"The GI knows there is corruption in the land he is defending," Sauter noted.

"The Vietnamese are pawns, and they are being hurt in a ghastly way. The Cong once were friends with the peasants; now the peasant has no friends," he added.

And the enemy is strong and admirable, Sauter explained. He was told in 1956 there would be an election, and that election was not held.

"THE CONG are now being beat. But they are brave and well motivated and they are going to fight to the last man," Sauter commented.

The Free Press correspondent went on to describe the war as "a holding action", and claimed if any help at all is to be given to the Vietnamese, more troops will be needed.

"There are no absolute truths in Viet Nam and anyone who claims to know is a fool," Sauter concluded.

Sauter had explained several incidents he had witnessed, including a July 4 raid in which a young officer was killed moments after Sauter listened to him casually and calmly explain an offensive move.

During the question period, he was asked if the people were getting the full story on the war:

"There are many good newspaper people in Viet Nam," he said. "In 1963 they told us all was not well when at home we were being told everything was OK. It was the newspaper men who were telling us it was not. It's clearly the most chaotic war we've ever fought."

"IF WE PULL out, those who fought with us would have to flee certain death. The French ruined the country—took everything out, and put nothing back. If we left, South Viet Nam would collapse; the countries nearby would follow. We are feeding the entire population now."

Sauter spoke before about 60 people, including several parents of boys in Viet Nam, who attended as guests of the Chamber of Commerce.

C. V. Sparks quits as Twp. clerk

Plymouth Township Clerk C. V. Sparks, has resigned after just one year of service, effective April 30.

"HAVING been retired before assuming the office of Clerk of Plymouth Township, I naturally had made plans to do many things I had always wanted to do. To accomplish this end, I feel that, due to circumstances that have developed, now is the time to offer for your consideration my resignation as clerk," Sparks said.

Sparks said his resignation was completely friendly, and he was retiring to do things he wanted to do.

Sparks, nicknamed "Sparky," was appointed clerk in May, 1965 after that post was vacated by John McEwen. McEwen became supervisor, after the March death of Roy R. Lindsay. Sparks had been a member of the planning commission, a post which he had to relinquish to Board Trustee Ralph Garber.

Chilton Veach Sparks, a retired Burroughs toolmaker, was named to the planning commission in 1956. He came to Plymouth Township in 1948. He was born in 1899, is 67, is married, has two married daughters and five grandchildren.

Appointment of managers for two Ford Motor Company parts manufacturing plants has been announced by H. A. Matthias, general manager of Ford's General Parts Division.

Ford Motor Company has invited the public to the ground breaking for the new Plymouth Township plant, April 27, at 10 a.m. The ceremony will be held at the site on Sheldon Rd. north of the C&O tracks, with refreshments available.

Robert A. Winder, formerly manager of the Ypsilanti plant, has been named manager of the heater-air conditioner plant which Ford will build in Plymouth Township.

Wilson W. Sick has been promoted from assistant manager at the Ypsilanti plant, succeeding Winder.

Winder's responsibilities at the new plant will begin in the planning stage and continue through construction and the critical launching operation," Matthias said. Ground will be broken for the new plant this spring.

production manager. He was appointed manager of the Ypsilanti plant in October, 1964. He is married and lives at 129 Church in Clinton, Mich.

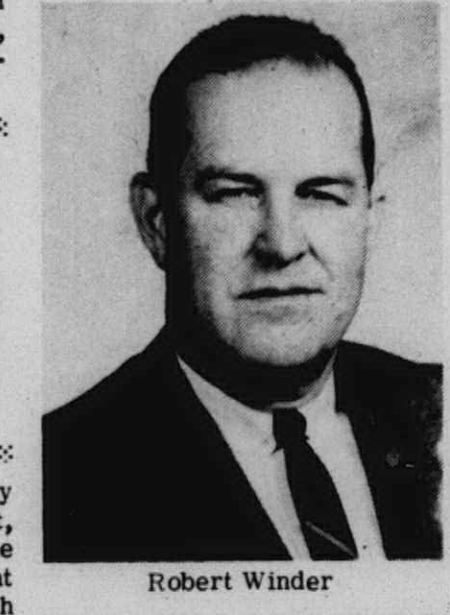

Ford Motor Company plans to build a 642,000-square-foot plant in the Township.

The new facility was announced in February.

The new Ford Motor Company plant—to be operated by the company's General Parts Division—will be located on a 168-acre site northwest of Plymouth. It is planned to put the plant into operation in late 1967 with employment of more than 1,000 persons. Construction has started.

The new plant site will be on Sheldon Road south of Five Mile Road.

Ford's General Parts Division currently assembles nearly all of the company's U.S. heater and air conditioner requirements at the Ford plant in Ypsilanti, Mich. Under present plans, hourly and salaried men and women at Ypsilanti heater and air conditioner operations will be offered opportunities to transfer to the new plant in similar jobs.

Wayne County post offices have many job openings

The Civil Service Commission has issued a new announcement, opening examinations for Career Clerk and Carrier positions for all the Post Offices in Wayne County.

The announcement introduced several new features for postal examinations. Applicants need no longer be residents in the delivery area of the Post Office they are applying for, however, preference will be given to local residents. Anyone that has previously passed the Clerk-Carrier Examination on or after January 1, 1960 does not have to take the written test over again to be considered for employment under the new Announcement. Many Post Offices have an urgent need for Career City Carriers!

To apply you must be at least 18 years old, or 16 if you are a High School Graduate. This examination will be open to both men and women, and will also be used to fill temporary and part-time positions. Eligibles will be placed on a single register and will be offered both Clerk and Carrier positions, as vacancies occur. Since Carriers may have to drive collection trucks and similar postal vehicles, persons wishing appointment to this position must pass a special Road Test before appointment, in addition to the written test, and must be at least 18 years of age. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for equal employment opportunities, in rating order, without regard to race, creed, color, sex, or national origin. These Postal Clerk and Carrier positions offer a starting pay of $2.57 an hour, automatic annual increases, night pay differentials, liberal vacation and sick leave plans, low cost insurance benefits, generous retirement plan, and a uniform allowance. Announcements and application forms may be obtained from your local Post Office. These figures tell a growth story as exciting as Billy and Suzy's measurements marked on the door jamb. And it's a story vitally important to YOU and your family.

They portray the spectacular climb of credit unions. Today, there are over 1,200 in Michigan alone. These credit unions have more than 1 1/2 million members. And current assets now total a whopping 975 million dollars.
Big? Of course... but it's why they are big that's important. Credit unions fill a basic need for millions of families all over the free world. They offer services you can get nowhere else... things like life insurance on savings to all qualified members as an extra dividend at no extra cost. Credit unions often pay an interest rebate to borrowers at the end of the year.
They lend you money at low rates when you need it. They pay good dividends on savings (all earnings go back to the members). They are in business to help YOU. Sort of explains their fantastic growth, doesn't it? And that raises another question: Isn't it time YOU joined?

Plymouth recreation needs going unnoticed

Plymouth's plans for recreational facilities for the future are lagging. While not held up as a panacea for society's ills, recreation and recreational facilities are widely recognized as a function of government. And, the devouring of open space by the vast tracts of homes continues at a rapid pace with little attention to the space needs for recreation. Recent surveys, according to a bulletin from the Detroit Metropolitan Regional Planning Commission, show that while the state and federal government are striving towards fulfilling at least part of their obligation, the "vast majority of local governmental units do not provide adequate recreational land for their residents." Plymouth is no exception. Last year, in the winter, a recreation committee was appointed to tackle recreation problems in Plymouth. It was heralded as the first of a new series of community-wide projects. Members were appointed from Canton and Plymouth Townships and from the City of Plymouth. The committee began with meetings, then stagnated as the individual boards put off decisions on further action. Recently, however, a new item was tossed in their lap by the City Commission. The City Fathers passed on a proposal for an ice hockey rink. At the time, it was a struggle to determine who was even on the committee. No matter what the status of the committee is now, it is apparent new life needs to be breathed into it. The following items should be considered by the committee.

- The ice rink.
- The proposal for a community auditorium, which at this point also appears to be within a heart's breath of dying.
- The idea of a municipal swimming pool, park, baseball fields, and the auditorium all rolled into one recreation area that would serve the area known as the Plymouth Community.
- The possibility of formation of an authority designed to receive grants-in-aid.
- The possibility of filing for Federal assistance for recreation under Title VII of the Housing Act of 1961, and expanded in 1965. Monies are now being used by 13 agencies in this area of Michigan — including four school districts; the funds come through the office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development in Chicago. The laws for Federal aid are vast, and are just beginning to be administered. All of these items could be checked by the committee, provided it can pull itself up by the bootstraps and get together. Despite the sheer logistics of convening a committee with representatives from three governments, it seems it could be done and done without any appropriations. With the housing boom now facing the area, and the entrance of a huge Ford plant into the local economy, the need is here and the time is now.

The good life

Secret government

Doug Johnson

Small-Town-Politics department: Did you read in the papers about the Grand Rapids suburb of Wyoming that wants to be able to close its City Council meetings whenever they feel like it? Said one commissioner, name of Louis Voss:

"If they don't like our rules they can go somewhere else for news." Several men on the council want the right to call an executive session without notice.

Ge. The question posed by secret executive sessions makes me recall how one of my old journalism professors explained it to a class. This guy was about 197 years old, smoked like a steamboat, and leaned on the blackboards for support during his colorful lectures, which were often interspersed with coughing and hacking.

"There's two ways to get a news story — the hard way and the easy way. The easy way you go to meetings, talk and listen freely to every one, take exact and complete notes, and never once go 'off-the-record.'"

"Then there's the hard way. Say there is to be a secret meeting of a government board. About 99 per cent of the time you will have heard about it. Call each member of the board and ask him what happened, and ask his opinion on each item. He'll have to answer, and his opinion will have to stand and fall by itself.

"If someone has no comment, report that he has no comment along with the question you asked him. If the meeting was secret, or the press was barred, report that. If the mayor's secretary wouldn't let you talk to him, report that. "Report how long the secret meeting lasted; note how the council or board members looked when they came out; ask questions until you, or they, are blue in the face. Report it all."

We asked if that was good journalism, and he asked us a question. How can a newspaper on one hand be asked to help with a millage campaign, and on the other hand be barred from some meetings? Secret government isn't good government.

Nonsense department: About two weeks ago we received a call from a well-known and reliable gentleman, relating how THE Batman and Robin were in town, complete with the famed Batmobile.

It turned out to be a dad dressed up to entertain a houseful of kids. We had almost dashed over there, pencil and camera at the ready. But I had our circulation lady call them up first.

"Don't tell them who we are. They'll think we're crazy. Just find out if it's true," I said. It wasn't really Batman, so I took off my bat cape and returned to the typewriter.

Over Easter we had a visit from an Easter bunny. Not THE Easter Bunny, but one of his friends. My wife brought one home from school and we had it in the house over night. Aside from the holes he chewed in the rug, there were no incidents. Bunny's name was "Lyndon Bunny Johnson" — he would run the other way if you said "Bobby Kennedy," and would come to you if you said "Great Society." Honest injun.

Speaking of our man in the White House, I have to take some sharp disagreement with LBJ's proposal to extend Representative's terms from two to four years.

I may be a misty-eyed patriot, but when the founding fathers were drafting the Constitution, they spent months on building in checks and balances.

Two-year terms for Representatives was one of them.

Those opposing the view, myself included, say the effect would be a rubber stamp for any president, who would drag in a host of congressmen on his coattails every four years. The Saturday Review has said: "Those wise souls who produced the incredible document sought checks and balances wherever they could find them so that no one man or branch of government could force a foolishness permanently on the common people. . . . Not the least of their reasons behind the logic in a two-year house term based on population and a six-year Senate term giving equality to every state was this very check-and-balance philosophy for which no better substitute has ever been devised."

Johnson points out that Representatives spend much of their two years campaigning for a second term, and that the volume and complexity of legislation requires long study — longer than a campaigning lawmaker can give it. The proposal that drew the most criticism was LBJ's plan to hold the elections for the House on the same year as the presidential.

But the lawmaker must still vote his first day on the floor, and there are a great many legislative aids now being provided to Congressman. I like it the way it is.

Jr. Hi. East parents slight PTSA program

Last Tuesday, the Junior High East Parent-Teacher-Student-Association, met before a meager crowd of 20 people. The small turnout embarrassed retiring PTSA officers particularly, because the speaker, an educator from the University of Michigan, Henry Sonnsmith, had left a two hour lecture in Detroit less than an hour before. "Since it's hard to believe that our parents don't care what the future holds for their children, we must have some remarkably well informed mothers and fathers," commented outgoing president Arthur Shepard. "Apparently they have no problems, and all know just what their children are going to do with their lives a and how they will achieve their goals." With nearly 1,000 students, the meeting could have produced a turnout of 2,000 parents. Instead, one set of parents, the incoming and outgoing officers, and the speakers were present. Since there was no conflict with Batman on television that evening, East PTSA officials expected at least fifty parents. The turnout suggests two things: (1) Parents are willing to shuffle off the burden of raising their chil-

CON POWER LOOKING

Seek rare film footage for Michigan history movie

An unusual historical treasure hunt is under way in Michigan. The treasure may be almost anywhere — in attics, in basements, in garages — and probably is concealed in rusty old tin cans. It is old film footage, shot in Michigan between 1900 and the 1930's. If it can be found, some of it may wind up in an important new motion picture being produced by Consumers Power Company for use in Michigan schools. An appeal for help in locating these rare and often unique bits of film is made by motion picture producer, William Murray of Portafilms, who is researching a half-hour film of Michigan during the first half of the 20th century. The new motion picture, commissioned by Consumers Power, will be the third and last in a series of award-winning films about Michigan's history. The first, titled WHEN MICHIGAN WAS YOUNG, was released in 1964. It covered the period from the Ice Age to about 1800. The second film, titled MICHIGAN-I-A, was released late in 1965. It deals with Michigan's coming-of-age as a state in the 19th century. Murray asks anyone with old film in his possession to contact him at Portafilms, 4180 Dixie Highway, Drayton Plains. His telephone is (Area Code 313) 674-0489.

Schools second to none says Hamilton executive

April 5, 1966

Dear Editor
What a thrill, Dave, (Dave Wiley, Editor) to walk through the Bird School and hear the resounding words of "I Pledge Allegiance To The Flag" . . . coming from several rooms.

This morning I had the occasion to be in Bird School and get the homework for my son, who has been ill for about four weeks.

Mr. Gibson, the principal, and the teachers have created a most cordial, warm atmosphere throughout the school. I remember the first day in September, when I enrolled my four in the school.

Almost every teacher had a warm, pleasant smile and, frankly, I have never been in a school that generates the genuine interest in kids any more than Bird School. My son's teacher, Mr. McKinley, has taken about the same amount of interest in my son as would a parent. He assigns him special projects and most of all, he cultivates genuine interest in his studies. My son, in turn, has a genuine admiration for Mr. McKinley, second to me. I hope it's second.

The true purpose of this letter, Dave, is to tell you that I'm most happy to know that my children, wife and I had the great fortune of being born in the greatest continent under the stars and live in this unique city of Plymouth, where the school system is second to none in the nation. We like it here.

Strictly Social Of exotic vacations and Easter

An island in the Caribbean was the destination for vacationing Dr. and Mrs. Robert Rosbolt of Linden St. They returned home Friday after spending two weeks fishing, snorkeling and swimming on the tiny island of Cozumel off the coast of Yucatan, Mexico. This is the same island where Princess Beatrix of Holland and her new husband were honeymooning at the time.

Good friends, Dr. and Mrs. Louis Machevic of Wayne, accompanied the Rosbolts.

A highlight of the trip was a tour of Mexico City and Alcapulca. Of special interest to the two couples were the Mayan Pyramids and ruins.

Another point of interest was the new Museum of Anthropology which was built 1 1/2 years ago in Mexico City and is one of the finest museums in the world.

Outside Mexico City on the site of the University of the Americas where the 1968 Olympics will be held, construction of the contemporary buildings was of interest because they are built among lava beds, Mrs. Rosbolt said.

Fishing occupied a great deal of the couple's time. Both Helen and Robert Rosbolt are snorkel enthusiasts and were impressed with the primitive means of fishing on the islands. Divers with tanks go as deep as 150 feet to spear fish, which are prepared and cooked immediately on one of the smaller islands. Snorkelers go as deep as 60 feet to spear fish, Mrs. Rosbolt said.

The couple arrived home Friday night by jet in time to spend Easter with their three young daughters, Jean, Jane, and Judy.

More returning vacationers are Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Wylie, of Carol St., who have just returned with their son, Donald, from Fort Myers, Florida where they spent two weeks.

While on vacation, they received the happy news that their other son, the Rev. Richard E. Wylie, of Wyoming, Mich., had been chosen one of the outstanding young men of the year in America by the Montgomery, Ala. Junior Chamber of Commerce. His name will be included in an annual biographical compilation of "Outstanding Young Men of America" for his civic contributions in his community. A biographical sketch of the Rev. Wylie will be included in the book.

Diane Schmitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard D. Schmitz of Beech St., spent Easter week in Bradenton, Florida. She traveled by jet and was met at the Tampa Airport by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard T. Schmitz, who are spending the winter in Bradenton.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice A. Woodworth of Simpson St. were hosts for an Easter dinner at their Hi-Land Lake cottage near Pinckney. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. William H. Bohl and family, Mr. and Mrs. Allan J. Woodworth and family, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Schmidt, and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold A. Plichta and family.

WESTERN MICHIGAN COMMENCEMENT

The traditional ceremony will see 1,217 Western Michigan University seniors awarded bachelors degrees, while an additional 276 graduate students will receive masters degrees. The diplomas will be presented by WMU President, James W. Miller and Dr. Russell H. Seibert, vice president for academic affairs.

Warren Beatty is starred in Arthur Penn's "Mickey One," new suspense-drama co-starring lovely Alexandra Stewart, above, showing at the Plymouth Art Theatre starting April 13 for one week. Also co-starred in the Columbia Pictures release are Franchot Tone, Hurd Hatfield, Teddy Hart and Fujiwara. Frames for Prints Easy in Moldings

To enhance and protect those large art prints that are so popular now, try making your own frames. Many artists do it. You'll be surprised at the low cost when you make them of stock moldings, available from building materials dealers. Numerous picture molding patterns are cut from western lumber, and other types offer possibilities to the imaginative home-maker. The trickiest step is to miter the frame pieces accurately at a 45-degree angle. Woodworking glue and small nails will hold the frames together. Finishing is a matter of taste. If in doubt, try different ways on scrap lumber. A clear spray finish can be used on the print to protect the surface, making a glass unnecessary.

Miss Mary Schnell, standing, instructs Mrs. Rose Ashlee, left, and Mrs. Joan Bianchi in the art of flower arranging. The class meets each Monday evening in room 103 in the High School. Artificial flowers are used by the class while they look forward to the time this spring when an abundance of garden flowers will be available.

ADULT EDUCATION Women learn the art of flower arranging

One of the adult education classes that especially appeals to women this time of year is flower arranging. While women are beginning to look at seed catalogs and are looking forward to spring and gardening, a class in flower arranging will prepare them for the time when an abundance of garden flowers will be available. Each Monday evening from 7:30 till 9:30, the class in flower arranging meets in room 103 at Plymouth High School. Miss Mary Schnell is instructor for the eight members of the class. Included in the course which began March 28 and will continue for eight weeks are: oriental design, traditional design, corsages, centerpieces and various other arrangements. Artificial flowers are brought in each week by members of the class so that each person can create her own arrangement under Miss Schnell's supervision.

Dame Markova to speak at Northville Town Hall

One of the immortals of the dance world comes to Northville when Dame Alicia Markova addresses the Northville Town Hall on Thurs., April 21, at 11 a.m. at the P & A Theatre, Northville.

The world famed prima ballerina, who hung up her ballet shoes on New Year's Day of 1963 after almost 40 years of acclaim on five continents, received a new - and not unexpected - honor in June 1963 when Britain's Queen Elizabeth announced her Birthday Honors List, and in it conferred on Alicia Markova the title of Dame. This is the highest honor to be accorded a woman in the British Isles.

Earlier in the same year the Metropolitan Opera Association named Alicia Markova its new Director of the Metropolitan Opera Ballet Company. This appointment was not only a significant landmark in the career of the celebrated prima ballerina, but also reflects the tremendous influence she has had and continues to have throughout the entire dance world.

In addition to the personal supervision of all matters pertaining to the Company at the opera house, Dame Alicia also A celebrity luncheon at Meadowbrook Country Club will follow the talk at the Northville Town Hall.

Reservations for the luncheon may be made by calling 349-0248. Calls should be made by April 18.

Cooperative nurseries plan area conference

"We must explore the values and goals that are appropriate for youth for living in tomorrow's world," says Dr. Donald N. Michael, author of The Next Generation. Currently a Resident Fellow at the Institute for Policy Research, Washington, D.C., Dr. Michael will be the Tuesday keynote speaker at the Michigan Council of Cooperative Nurseries 15th annual conference in East Lansing, May 9 and 10.

This year's meeting at M.S.U., Kellogg Center for Continuing Education is expected to draw over 600 nursery school parents and teachers from all parts of the state.

Consulting Psychologist will speak at the Monday dinner meeting on "Values That Defeat Learning", to complete the conference theme of "Today's Child - Tomorrow's World."

Fifty-five workshops will deal with such topics as creativity, self-discipline, intellectual curiosity, physical and psychological development, books, art, music, and science for preschool children.

Other highlights include area nursery's exhibits, nursery equipment, new films for parent education programs, and open houses at three Lansing nurseries.

Jointly sponsored by the MCCN and the MSU College of Home Economics, the conference welcomes all parents and teachers of cooperative nurseries, nursery schools and day care centers, as well as individuals actively interested in early childhood education.

Participating as workshop leaders from Plymouth are: Mrs. Phillip K. Settles, 345 Sunset St., and Mrs. Jean C. Stanwood, (C.P.A.) 663 S. Evergreen.

Nurseries in Plymouth under the supervision of the Huron Valley Council of Cooperative Nurseries Area Coordinators, Mrs. Jack Perlman, 1800 Mershon Dr., Ann Arbor, will display Nursery School Equipment.

MCCN Member nursery in Plymouth is the Plymouth Children's Nursery, Inc., at Warren and Haggerty Roads.

The Scribbler Detroit's Pandora box with Joyce Holmes

The rising number of auto accidents and the corresponding rise of auto insurance has been much in the news lately. Some people such as Ralph Nader, author of "Unsafe at Any Speed," place the blame completely on the auto manufacturers, but the Detroit designers retort with the only thing wrong with cars today is the loose nut behind the wheel.

I'm inclined to agree with National Safety Council President Howard Pyle who says: "There is no single offender. They are all interlocked."

The auto insurance companies did their best to prepare us for the rate rise but still when our policy came last week we were shocked at the hike. Positive there must be some mistake, we went to our insurance agent and asked why.

Evidently we weren't the only ones who were asking questions because our agent quickly pulled out a prepared folder and patiently explained the mathematics of more cars on the road, more miles traveled, fancier designed cars, doubled costs of repairs, higher medical and law expenses all equal higher insurance rates.

What is even more scary is that unless a solution is found soon there is a strong possibility these same rates will double in the next five years! How will we be able to afford it?—it's enough to keep you awake nights in a cold sweat.

The auto manufacturers can help by building safer cars on the inside and less costly cars to repair on the outside. Eliminating unitized construction and reviving the old-fashioned sturdy bumper, for instance, would greatly reduce repair costs.

On the other hand, the American consumer must be willing to accept these changes in styling for the sake of his own safety and the safe-keeping of his pocketbook. He is a hard one to convince since he still smokes and eats the extra piece of apple pie despite almost daily warnings of the dangers of cigarettes and overeating.

One of the simplest protections against injury in a car is the seat belt. This device could prevent 35% of the auto fatalities and yet only 30% of the nation's cars are so equipped and only 36% of these motorists use the belts at all times. I'm proud to say we number in the 36%. (Figures from "Time" magazine.)

Among our acquaintances are at least six couples who are intelligent, responsible citizens and yet who do not wear the seat belts that are already in their cars. We've heard all the arguments—too uncomfortable, not necessary in city driving, don't want to be trapped in a burning car, etc. If anything, we've found driving less tiring with seat belts and certainly their greatest advantage is in low speed accidents which, regardless of popular opinion, do kill.

If people won't wear seat belts, how do the auto makers expect the public to wear the harness in connection with a high back seat which would be better protection against the common whiplash?

Another shocking statistic that our insurance agent pointed out to us was that in the Detroit area, 92% of all fatal accidents involved drivers under the age of 25! This is not the fault of car design. There is also a great need for tighter licensing and law enforcement. (AAA figures.)

Nader has lifted the lid off of Detroit's Pandora box but it will take constant public interest and cooperation to tame all the bug-a-boos which will eventually lead to safe streets and highways.

Legionnaires are justifiably proud of the progress toward four legislative goals related to their off-stated objective—"A Square Deal for Every Child." Nothing comes closer to you than Vitabath Active women find their most relaxing moment of the day in the lavish luxury of a bath. Vitabath.

Because why?

Because Vitabath is one-of-its-kind, retaining the same soothing stimulating properties as its famed European twin 'Badedas.

Because its frothy foam is soapless, oil-less, reck- less on your finger ends.

Because it leaves no ring on the tub — or on you; leaves skin clean, clear, radiant; leaves you glowing with an all-over fragrance that brings out the worst in a man.

Something to remember in anticipation of tonight's enchanted evening. Something guaranteed to have you looking... feeling... being your intimately-best.

Vitabath. Nothing comes closer to you.

Farrand student will attend AAA safety rally

A Plymouth safety patroller from Farrand School will be among 132 Michigan Youths attending the 30th annual AAA National Safety Patrol Rally in Washington, D.C., May 12-15. He will be representing approximately 210 patrollers in the Plymouth area who together have spent 37,800 hours guarding fellow students at school intersections during the 1965-66 school year in all kinds of weather as a community service. Auto Club estimates that each patroller in the Plymouth area spends 180 hours yearly at street corners protecting classmates. Individual students who will make the trip have not been selected. Their names will be announced formally within two weeks. The Plymouth representative will join patrollers from over 100 Michigan communities for the annual four day, all-expense-paid trip to the Capitol as Automobile Club of Michigan's guests. This is the 30th consecutive year that Auto Club has sponsored the Washington trip. Schools representing Michigan are selected by the Auto Club on the basis of patrol groups' general performance and efficiency during the school year. With Auto Club's assistance, schools selected name the individual patrollers to represent the cities from which they come.

C.S. lecturer tells of a full life

A "full and complete understanding of Life as God enriches our whole sense of living," said Paul K. Wavro, C.S.B., a Christian Science lecturer who spoke in Livonia on Friday, April 8.

Wavro is a recognized teacher and practitioner of Christian Science. His lecture, entitled "The Way of Abundant Life" was sponsored by First Church of Christ, Scientist, Plymouth and other Christian Science churches and presented in the Mai Kai Theatre.

As a member of the Board of Lecturers of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, he has toured many parts of the world. He observed that "people everywhere have desires that are common to all—the desire to be healthy and to experience an abundant life."

The answer to this search, he said, is found in the life of Christ Jesus.

He quoted Jesus' well known words, "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly"—and this was the heart of his lecture.

From outward appearances, Wavro noted, Jesus "didn't appear to be well qualified to speak about health and abundant life. He never took medicine. He owned no home or property. His only possessions were the clothes he wore

"Could it be that his words and life have never been fully understood?" asked the lecturer.

He pointed out that "Jesus' demonstration of well-being and abundant life rested on two essential points: a knowledge of life itself, and an understanding of the substantial nature of true abundance."

"Christian Scientists find their answer in the Bible; it tells us that God, Spirit, is the only real cause, the only creator," Wavro stated.

And he added that "False concepts of life as limited, discordant and material will disappear as we better understand the spiritual nature of God as Life."

Hamilton '65 income totals was $5 million

Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Company of America, has issued its 1965 Annual Report, declaring a total income for the year in excess of $5,000,000 with $138,281,325 total insurance in force.

According to President, Charles H. Bruce, this represents an 80.95% increase in investment income and a 128.98% jump in premium income for the 22-month-old firm.

Cass Hough named to Who's Who

Cass Hough, president of Daisy Manufacturing Company, Rogers, and supporter of civic affairs, was named, to the 34th Edition of "Who's Who in America," published last week.

As president of Daisy, Hough manages a multi-million dollar plant which employs more than 700 persons in the manufacture of non-powdered ammunition and air guns. Daisy has been located in Rogers since 1955.

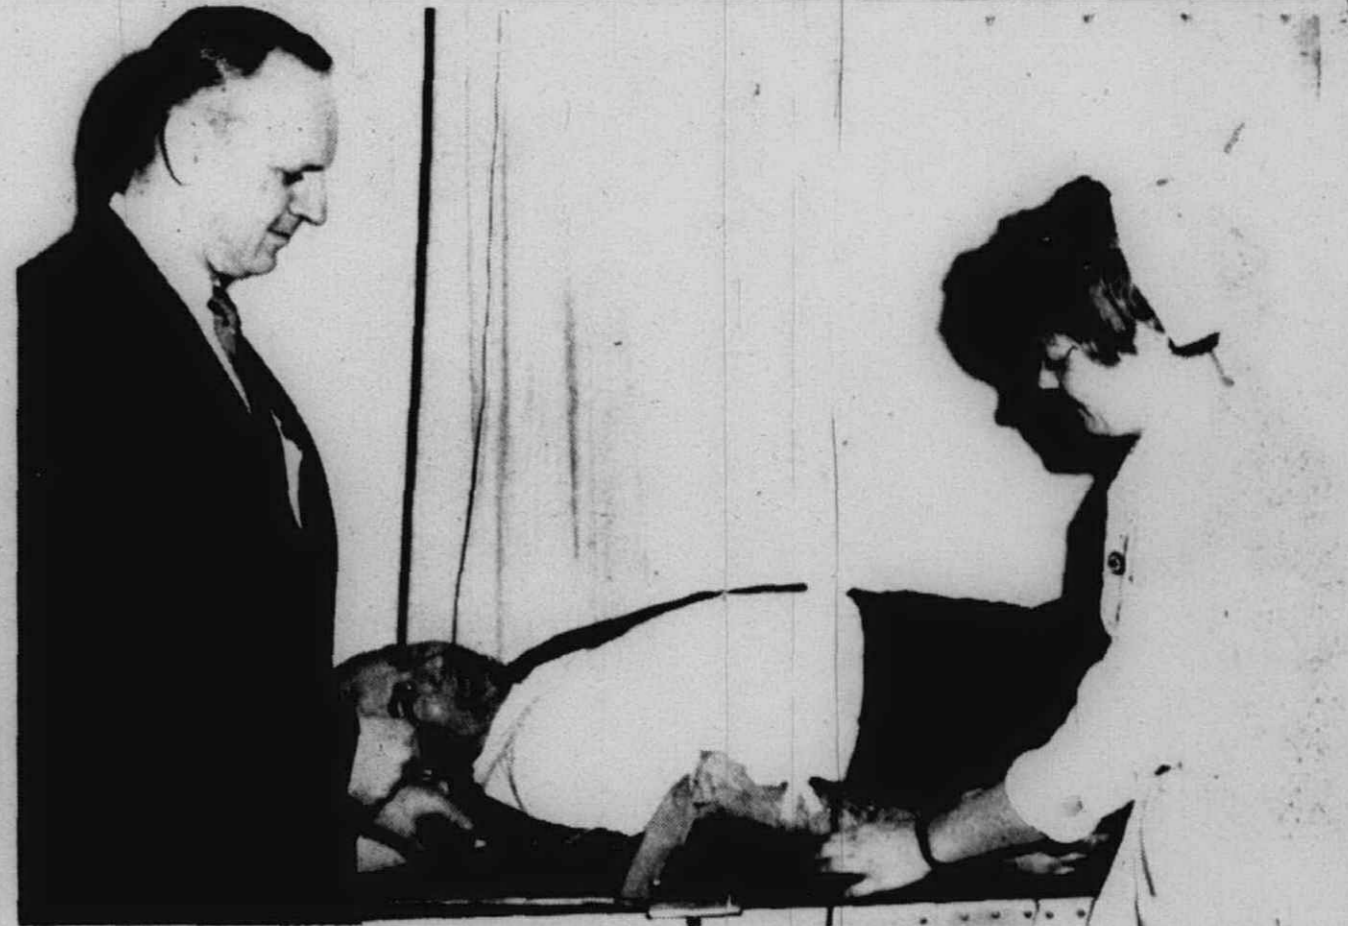

Daisy had its main plant in Plymouth until 1957.

Hough shares his debut in "Who's Who" with other notables, such as, Edward Higgins White, II, an astronaut, folk singers Peter, Paul and Mary; King Constantine of Greece, and Neil Simon, author of three Broadway hits.

HAMILTON, Bruce said, is now Michigan's third largest ordinary life company and, according to 1965 figures, placed six times more actual ordinary life insurance in force than the state's largest life firm.

A total of 19.6% of the premium income has been credited to policyholders in the form of dividends and guaranteed endowments, Bruce stated. Total living benefits accruing to policyholders were $994,220 in contrast to $41,517 paid in death claim benefits.

The large increase in investment income, Bruce explained, has been due primarily to an increasing transfer of funds to the mortgage portion of the company's investment portfolio. Early in 1965, the company reported, approximately $50,000 per month was transferred from operating accounts to the investment portfolio. By late in the year, the amount of transfer was increased to over $200,000 per month.

OUCH: Harold Fischer, Plymouth Area Planning Director, says such as he gives blood in the Schoolcraft Circle K Blood drive, John Ward offers comfort. Red Cross nurse Miss Grace Foley, R.N., asks Fischer to grin and bare it. The drive is part of the college's K Club's current recognition promotion; they also have been involved in a marathon teeter-totter session on the campus quad. The Circle K Club is sponsored by area Kiwanis clubs, including Plymouth's. Ward and Fischer are members of the Plymouth Kiwanis.

A PLYMOUTH resident was among 45 educators from 40 southeastern Michigan school districts attending a driver education seminar at Ypsilanti under the sponsorship of Eastern Michigan University, the Michigan Department of Education and Automobile Club of Michigan. Examining psycho-physical testing devices displayed at the meeting are (left to right): Donald Jewell, of 1096 Hartsough, a teacher at Willow Run High School, and John Trellay, Auto Club's Plymouth-area traffic safety education consultant. The seminar, held last Friday and Saturday (April 1-2) in EMU's McKenny Hall, updated driver education instructors present on the latest developments in their field. It is the fourth regional conference to be held at a state university. Other seminars for the 1965-66 school year are planned for Western Michigan and Central Michigan Universities.

ACTIVE VOLUNTEERS: left to right, are Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Nesbitt, 9260 McClumpha Road, Plymouth; Mrs. Edwin F. Wilson, 22489 South Kane, Detroit; Mrs. Lowden, 19355 Pierson Drive, Northville; and Northwest Detroit Lion's club president Edwin F. Wilson. Mrs. Lowden is reporting to Mr. Wilson the use of the fund thus far. Mr. and Mrs. Nesbitt are both active in the hospital's Northville State Hospital Auxiliary and in Northwest Detroit Lions Club. Formerly residents in the Redford area of Detroit, they have continued their membership in the Northwest Detroit Lions Club even though now living in Plymouth. Mr. and Mrs. Nesbitt have been chairmen of the Secretary of State's February program for six years and it was they who originally brought the need for these funds for Northville State Hospital to the attention of the club. Also present at the recent Lions Club meeting was Mr. A. Burns, manager of that Secretary of State's office, who complimented the Lions Club members and their wives in the assistance they provided during the busy month of February.

Plymouthites work to get Detroit Lions' help for Northville patients

At a recent meeting of the Northwest Detroit Lions Club in the Lutheran Church of the Nativity, West Chicago at Forrer, Mrs. Agatha Lowden, R.N., of Northville State Hospital's Medical Clinic, reported to the club members the importance of their recent contribution for sight-saving needs of indigent patients. "With the $200 received last November, $118 has been used to purchase new glasses for 10 patients and to repair glasses for four others. Every possible family or personal resource first is checked," added Mrs. Lowden, "before we utilize this fund. By the reuse of donated glass frames and every possible economy, we are able to plan to have a donation such as this one cover many more needs." This was the third time that the Northwest Detroit Lions Club had made such a donation, with its members considering the continuing provision of such funds to Northville State Hospital for this purpose as one of their regular projects. "Our Lion Club, responsive to our world-wide interest in prevention of blindness and in the provision of sight-saving aids," offered Edwin Wilson, club president, "considers it vitally important to learn of needs such as those which exist within our state hospitals. We were fortunate that the past president R.D. Nesbitt of Plymouth, brought details about work of Northville State Hospital to our attention."

Form county-wide council on smoking and health

Fifteen Wayne County agencies have joined together to collect and disseminate factual information about the relationship of smoking to health and disease.

The organization will be known as the Wayne County Council on Smoking and Health. It is the local affiliate of the Michigan Council on Smoking and Health. Dr. Robert R. Luby, divisional director of the Health and Physical Education Department, Detroit Public Schools, is chairman of the Wayne County group.

Participation in the Council is open to all Wayne County voluntary and official health and educational organizations, professional associations and foundations concerned with the relation of smoking to health and disease.

First action of the Wayne County Council was to endorse the 5-Day Plan to Stop Smoking which will be presented Saturday through Wednesday, (April 23-27) at Ford Auditorium. The course, sponsored by the Seventh-Day Adventist Church as a public service, will be from 7:30 to 9 p.m. each night.

Agencies now members of the Wayne County Council on Smoking and Health are:

American Cancer Society, Detroit Commission on Children and Youth, Detroit Dental District Society, Detroit Public Schools, Michigan Cancer Foundation, Michigan Heart Association, Tuberculosis and Health Society, United Community Services, Wayne County Health Department, Wayne County Intermediate School District, Wayne County Medical Society, Wayne County Intermediate School District, Wayne County Medical Society, Wayne County Osteopathic Association, Wayne County Osteopathic Society, Michigan Health Council and Metropolitan Detroit Council of Churches. Information may be obtained by calling Norbert Reinsteln, United Community Services, 833-0622.

Credit Union League eyes heavy agenda

On the agenda of the Michigan Credit Union League's Annual Meeting at Cobo Hall, April 14 to 16, are a series of discussions involving the role of credit unions in a society undergoing rapid change. In attendance will be approximately 1600 delegates and officers of 1100 member credit unions, representing a total of 1,300,000 individual credit union members whose assets are expected to exceed $1 billion dollars sometime this spring.

DELEGATES will consider how credit unions may best serve their younger, more affluent, more metropolitan memberships in an increasingly automated, computerized, integrated and regulated society. In response to these changing conditions, prospects for the following new or expanded services will be carefully examined by the delegates: Consumer counseling, point of purchase credit for adults and teens, consumer credit information for students, special financing for education, spending, saving and credit plans for young marrieds, and long-term savings inducements to match changing patterns in family saving.

"Population experts tell us that as early as 1970, 49.3 percent of Michigan residents will be younger than age 25," said League Managing Director Henry W. Warren, in explanation of credit union concern with changing membership needs. "Those 65 and over will constitute 8.6 of the population, and only 42.1 percent will fall in the major wage-earning ages of 25 to 64.

"It's facts like these," said Warren, "that will shape the destiny of credit unions and business in general. Credit unions have the largest membership group in Michigan, and their leaders feel a particular responsibility for developing services that will fit the needs of our time."

Organized in October of 1934, the League is a non-profit organization, owned by and providing services to 94 percent of all credit unions in the state. In March, the League broke ground for a $2 million dollar building on a five-acre site in Southfield. The new building will house a complete line of professional business services, available to all member credit unions. The league maintains offices in Grand Rapids and Saginaw.

This compares with $4,773,034, or $1.19 per share for the corresponding period of 1965, and represents an increase of 10.3 per cent.

Total capital accounts of the bank were $210,137,270 on March 31, reflecting an increase of $9,424,515 for the last twelve months.

Total assets were $2,871,064,302, an increase of $71,401,436 over a year ago. Total deposits were $2,614,733,832, which is an increase of $65,066,125. Savings and time deposits were $1,222,463,147, compared to $1,049,806,216 in 1965.

Loans and mortgages, at $1,450,074,465 were up $230,977,974. Holdings of U.S. securities, totaling $483,724,186, compared with a 1965 total of $551,955,167. All other securities totaled $393,006,947, compared with $403,413,668 for March 31, 1965.

a "Sermon in Song" to every audience. The 1966 program is based on the words of Jesus "I am the way, the truth, and the life." John 14,6.

Every program includes a great variety of musical styles. Because of the youth of the singers, the tone of the Bethany Choir has a special vitality and appeal which has endeared it to many audiences.

The program will feature the traditional music of Brahms and Bach as well as contemporary compositions by Hovhanes, Nystedt and Fetter. Listeners will be pleased with the familiar melodies taken from the rich musical heritage of the Lutheran Church.

From a pastor whose congregation hosted the 1965 choir came these written comments: "Of course, the thing we will especially remember is the concert itself. The type of selections were such that we all could understand and appreciate. They sang with feeling and right to the hearts. Each number was presented with a finesse that was truly outstanding. Many members and non-members too, have expressed their delight in having heard this remarkable choir."

There is no admission charge for this concert. A free will offering will be received.

Harris of the Plymouth State Home and Training Center, 15480 Sheldon Rd., Plymouth.

The grant is under the summer student experience work program, and is designed to stimulate interest in the field of mental retardation for high school graduates and college students.

Vivian sees way to end National debt

United States Representative Wes Vivian (D-Ann Arbor) has introduced, with others, a bill which, if passed and implemented, could over a period of years repay and erase the U.S. national debt.

The bill requires all revenues received by the Federal government from private corporations for lease rights for exploitation of shale oil reserves on Federal lands, to be utilized only to reduce the national debt.

Some 1.1 trillion barrels of oil, having a wholesale value of over 3 trillion dollars, are estimated to be contained in the shale (soft marlstone rock) embedded close to the surface in extensive areas in Colorado, Wyoming and Utah. Most of this land remains in public ownership.

This reserve is believed to be the largest known deposit of hydrocarbon fuels in the world. (By comparison, only a third of a trillion barrels of oil are believed available from all conventional oil well fields yet discovered in the U.S.) The total revenues expected from the mining of the shale, over a third of a trillion dollars, at the customary 12 1/2 per cent royalty rate, could repay the one-third trillion dollar national debt.

Up to this time, commercial mining of oil from shale has been prohibited by an executive order, promulgated in 1930. Furthermore, up to this date profitable extraction of the oil has not yet been considered technically feasible. But recent research has made it clear that in all likelihood oil soon will be producible from shale as economically as from conventional wells.

Thus in the near future the shale reserves can be expected to yield undreamed-of wealth. "I would like to see the new wealth derived from publically owned lands be earmarked to reduce the public debt", Vivian said.

FOUR-MAN OUTFIELD. Battling for the three outfield positions are Dave Prochaszka, John Bida, Dan Camp and John Underwood. Fisher sees them all as possible outfielders. Camp may pitch some, however.

MOUND CONVERSATION: PHS baseballers Bob Resch, Jack Robertson and Pat Williams discuss pre-season strategy as the Rocks prepare for their opener with Ypsilanti April 13, there. Coach Frank Fisher said Robertson will be a key pitcher. Williams, who also may pitch, plays first base; Resch is a catcher.

FIELDING PRACTICE: Coach Frank Fisher feels Rick Dyer is his most promising newcomer. Dyer, a sophomore, will get the nod for third base.

LEAGUE OPENINGS

Baseball opens at Ypsi. for untested Rocks

Plymouth's baseball team opens its season with four non-league games, the first of which is scheduled for Wednesday, April 13, at Ypsilanti. Games with Walled Lake, (April 15), Dearborn (April 18) and Northville (April 20) have also been scheduled. New head coach Frank Fisher will go with almost all new faces. Jim Arnold, a some-time starter last year, is this year's captain.

This week in spring sports

Plymouth High School's golf, track, and tennis teams begin 1966 play next week. The tennis team hosts Trenton April 19, N. Farmington on the 21st and Ypsilanti on the 22nd. The golf team will travel to Bentley, April 18 for a match, then will host Edsel Ford on the 21st at Brae Burn Golf Club. They will travel to Walled Lake the next day, the 22nd, for a match. Then, they will play Trenton and Ypsilanti on the 25th and 26th. The track team goes to Allen Park Friday, April 22 for their opening meet, then Tuesday, April 26, will go to Northville.

Alarming Story

Is crime detection really outpacing crime? One Boston man doubts it. He reported to police that someone had forced open the side vent window of his car and made off with a $29 burglar alarm which he had not found time to install.

Fisher is looking to pitchers Pat Williams, Jack Robertson, Dan Camp and Dave Nunez to lead his team. Fisher in pre-season evaluations said he felt pitching was their weakest point. Several men will be battling for positions. Williams will probably play first, Arnold second, and a sophomore, Rick Dyer, third. Dan Camp, Dave Prochaszka, John Bida and John Underwood will fight for starting positions in the outfield. Bob Resch will play behind the plate.

Plan bike Rodeo

Safety-minded bicycle riders will get an opportunity to test their skills at the annual Optimist Club Bicycle Rodeo, to be held April 23, behind the High School. Beginning at 10 a.m., the contest is open to all grade school and junior high students. A new bicycle is being offered as a grand prize. There is no registration; that, and other details are taken care of the day of the Rodeo. All young cyclists have to do is show up. General chairman of the event is Ron Cadogan. The program's emphasis is on safety. Six events are planned: inspection, braking, a balance test in a foot-wide path, a circle riding test in a path, and a steering test in a 6" path. A trophy will be awarded the school with the greatest attendance. Designed to promote safety and safety attitudes, the Rodeo is an annual affair.

State traffic death toll up 13% from '65

Michigan's count of 453 traffic deaths in the first quarter this year was 51 or 13 per cent higher than 402 in the same three months of 1965, State Police provisional figures showed. Included in the toll were 161 deaths for March which were 26 or 19 per cent higher than 135 for that month a year ago. The March average was 129 for the five years, 1961-65. More complete figures for February showed 147 killed, 33 or 29 per cent greater than the toll of 114 for that month last year. February's average was 108 in the five years, 1961-65. There were 33,974 persons injured in 80,207 accidents in the first quarter of 1966. Those figures are expected to be exceeded when complete first-quarter statistics for this year are available.

Strickler, Albion music department chairman, the choir will present a program which is an essay in musical styles. Each section of the program will offer representative church compositions of various periods in history, from the early Christian era to the present. Strickler is in his 23rd year as conductor of the Albion College Choir. Organist Dr. John Obetz, assistant professor of music, will accompany the choir. The College Choir was recently commissioned by the Board of Education of the Methodist Church to record an album of 14 hymns from the revised hymnal of the Church. The album will be released later this spring.

Donate blood Thursday, April 21

What does it take to be a blood donor? The answer to this question is of interest to many area residents at this time, because the Red Cross blood-mobile will be in Livonia on Thursday, April 21 at the Northwest Service Office, ARC, 31228 Five Mile Rd. Any person between the ages of 18 and 59, who is in good health, may donate blood. Each adult has from 12 to 13 pints of blood circulating in his system. The pint that the donor gives is quickly replaced, so the donor can easily spare it. A young person between the ages of 18 and 21, if single, must have written consent of his parent or guardian. A woman cannot give while she is pregnant, nor for a year following the birth of her child. All persons who are able to do so are urged to visit the Northwest Service Office on Thursday, April 21, between the hours of 3 and 9 p.m. to give a pint of blood. Appointments can be made by phoning 422-2787.

Questions & Answers

Can anything be done to eliminate the cooking odors of cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli, Brussels sprouts, and the like?

Distribute over the vegetables in the pan as many slices of stale bread as may be needed to cover the food completely, and cover the pan. The bread will absorb the odors, or at least most of them.
