

Woman pleads with Romney in fight for child's safety

A Plymouth woman is in a life-and-death struggle with one of modern man's mortal enemies - bureaucracy.

THIS WEEK she appealed to the governor, after hitting a stone wall of shrugged shoulders and buck passing.

DEADLY CORNER: The corner of Haggerty and Ann Arbor Rd., is a potential killer, a Plymouth woman, Mrs. H. G. Olson feels.

Judge seeks help on local juvenile problems

A call for more help on the part of local service groups and qualified individuals in combating juvenile delinquency in Plymouth was issued Friday by City Municipal Judge Edward F. Draugelis in a talk delivered to a local service club.

But, he said, strengthening and expansion are needed. (3) Other areas to be encouraged, according to the municipal judge, include the Family Service program and programs within the educational system to discourage dropouts and provide healthy, supervised outlets for children.

Workers at Bathey Manufacturing Co., 100 S. Mill, walked off the job last Friday in a wildcat strike over disciplinary action taken against a fellow employee.

Guild to return old grandeur to P&A Theatre

One of the most beautiful buildings in downtown Plymouth may be approaching a second childhood.

REBIRTH OF THEATRE: The Plymouth Art Theatre will be used once again for what it was built - live theatre. The Plymouth Theatre Guild has leased the Theatre for four days for a musical.

In a nutshell

- The annual PHS Water Waves show, under the leadership of Mrs. Barbara McDonald, will be held in the pool May 5 at 8 p.m., May 6 at 8 p.m., and May 7 at 1 p.m. and 8 p.m.
- A Plymouth man was ticketed for reckless driving by Plymouth's City police Saturday in charges growing out of an accident on Plymouth Rd. about 4:30 p.m.
- The week of May 8 through May 13 will be the annual Paint-Up, Clean-Up, Fix-Up Week.

Trash pickups

Regular pickup of rubbish and garbage will be resumed May 3 in the alley, according to City DPW head, Ken Vogras.

Old days of movie house live again ing of pride and satisfaction in the fact that Plymouth had at last been provided with a playhouse that has no equal outside of the largest cities in the state; and prouder still of the public spiritedness and generosity of Mrs. Kate E. Allen, to whom Plymouth is indebted for the handsome theater and adjoining auditorium."

* * *
THE NAMES of who attended the opening read like a Who's Who of old time Plymouth. At the end of the story, a detailed description of the Theatre is given.
"It is strictly modern in all its construction and appointments . . . The house has a seating capacity of 606 (with balcony). There is an orchestra pit and a well-proportioned stage. The stage is equipped with some beautiful scenery and stage settings, that is operated by electricity, and would be a credit to the largest theatres."

It was these things the Guild discovered about the theatre, and they are still intact, including painted panels, and copper grill work in the seating house.

Shortly after its opening, moving pictures came into vogue, and both movies, and live plays and skits were performed at the Theatre. The night it opened, local talent presented "Modes and Manners" along with eight vaudeville acts. The proceeds went to the YMCA.

cal is being played by Gerri Beglinger, and the male lead by John Hyde.
The arrangements for the Guild's use of the Theatre were made by Stewart Dodge, long-time Plymouthite, and manager of the theatre. James McNeese, business agent for the Guild, worked out the details of the arrangement.
The movie house is currently owned by a Detroit art theater chain.

THE AUDITORIUM next door had been dedicated earlier in April of the same year. The Theatre was named in honor of E. J. Penniman, and Kate Allen's then deceased husband, W. O. Allen. A picture of the building's front has changed little. Only the movie neon signs, and the signs for the commercial establishments have changed its appearance.
The year was 1918. A War raged in Europe, any deaths and the election of Grange officers made front page news in the Plymouth Mail.
And Kate Allen, now long deceased, opened one of the finest little theatres in the Midwest.
It was the fine ancestry, and the still intact equipment that caught the Guild's fancy.

CURRENTLY the cast for the musical is practicing at Junior High West. They will use the Theatre for dress rehearsals the week of production, beginning May 9.
The female lead in the musical is being played by Gerri Beglinger, and the male lead by John Hyde.

was hailed as being most successful and beneficial.
A former teacher and assistant principal in the Livonia Public School system, Pursell received a B.A. degree in economics and political science, and an M.A. degree in administration from Eastern Michigan University.
In addition to serving as a member of Governor Romney's Task Force on Political Organization in 1965, Pursell served as campaign manager for Senator Farrell Roberts in 1965.
A member of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club, he is a former treasurer for the Veterans Memorial Foundation in Plymouth, and a charter member of the Plymouth Historical Society. While in college he affiliated with Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity, and served as president.
An outstanding athlete, Pursell received 17 trophies for seven different sports.
While on active duty with the U.S. Army, Pursell served as Captain, Infantry Company Commander and Headquarters Commandant, 309th Civil Affairs, U.S. Army Reserve. He was decorated by the Secretary of the Army receiving the Army Commendation Medal and Pendant for meritorious service.
Pursell, and his wife, Peggy, and three children, Philip, 5, Mark, 2, and Kathy, 6 months, reside at 670 S. Sheldon Rd.
The district covers the cities of Plymouth, Northville, Livonia, Farmington, Keego Harbor, Orchard Lake Village, South Lyon, Sylvan Lake, Walled Lake and Wixom, and the townships of Plymouth, Northville, Commerce, Farmington, Groveland, Highland, Holly, Lyon, Milford, Novi, Rose, Springfield, West Bloomfield and White Lake.
The odd-shaped district covers portions of the western edges of Wayne and Oakland counties.

ities, and not left up to minor local officials who actually have little authority anyway, in the final analysis," her letter continues.
MRS. OLSON, in a special letter to the Mail and its readers, urged everyone to "stand up and shout from the roof tops if necessary that we are no longer going to tolerate slip shod traffic regulations, and continual passing the buck."
She wants the speed limit reduced, and a traffic light.
Currently, a retired man acts as crossing guard at the intersection. The children must run across the street when a break in the mid-afternoon traffic occurs.
"They must run, and I hope no one ever falls. They couldn't get up in time", Mrs. Olson said.

MRS. OLSON has three children, one of whom is of school age. Her husband is currently finishing a doctoral dissertation.
She is not the first parent to seek lower speed limits. Similar requests from Lake Pointe parents were aired recently in the wake of a near-death of a school bound youth on Five Mile Rd.

Sentences of this kind, the judge said, are educational in nature rather than punitive. But he noted that a judge sometimes finds cases where good stiff sentences are educational.

"Don't think it's a pleasure, or in any way, easy to put people in jail," he commented. Judge Draugelis said the city jail is used for sentences up to five days in length. Longer sentences are usually served at the Detroit House of Correction.

Salvation Army hold annual dinner at Lofy's

More than 175 persons turned out Monday evening for the annual meeting of the Plymouth Salvation Army, held at Lofy's at Ann Arbor and Lilley Roads.
The speaker, Miss Irene Meyer, personnel director of women for 33 years at General Electric's Fort Wayne, Ind. facility, kept the audience convulsed with laughter.
Miss Meyer spoke about women who work - especially on assembly lines with their hands. She has taken hundreds of trips to foreign countries in connection with her work.
Long-time Salvation Army board member Frank Henderson, one of the men who led the move to found a branch of the Army in Plymouth was given a certificate naming him to life membership on the board.
Windsor pianist Leonard Balandine provided musical entertainment.

Judge asks community's help on the municipal bench (Judge Draugelis took office in January), he said he was amazed by the number of youngsters who have appeared before him more than once.

Charges involving juveniles have included such counts as larceny, arson and conspiracy to commit arson, he said.
* * *

JUDGE DRAUGELIS said the court was making an effort to tailor sentences to fit the individual. For example, he cited an hypothetical case in which two youngsters were charged with the same offense.

However, one of them had a long record of past convictions and the other had never been in trouble before. The first had a poor home environment where he received little encouragement and the second came from a family interested in him, with a good degree of home discipline. While both youths were convicted of the same offense, Judge Draugelis said he felt the second youngster merited probation so he could receive help in working his problems out and becoming rehabilitated.
He said he felt he had no other choice but to sentence the other to the Wayne County Training School.

Judge Draugelis saluted a group of trained counselors which are working closely with the court in Plymouth. They include City Commissioner George Lawton and Plymouth High School Assistant Principal in charge of Counseling John M. Hoben.
* * *

THESE MEN, and others like them, have volunteered to have juvenile offenders assigned to them for counseling. In his time on the bench, the judge said, he has employed counselors wight times. He said he expected to place about 30 youngsters with counselors by the end of the year.

Mother of three becomes Plymouth Township clerk

A mother of three girls and a six-year veteran of Plymouth Township administration will be named Township Clerk to replace C. V. Sparks, who resigned two weeks ago.
Mrs. Helen Richardson, 9110 Morrison, wife of a Burroughs die maker, will take over the duties of clerk until the next election.
Supervisor John D. McEwen announced the appointment Tuesday morning, following an executive session of the Township Board Monday night in which eight applicants for the job were interviewed.
McEwen said the appointment would be confirmed at the regular meeting of the Board, May 10.

clerk last year and has worked under Township treasurer Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes in the sewer and water department.
She has three daughters, two of whom are away at college. A third, Pamela, attends the eighth grade in Plymouth.
She has had a two-year college business course and many years of business experience.
The clerk's job has shuffled around since the death of Roy R. Lindsay, veteran supervisor, in March, 1965. The clerk, John McEwen, was named supervisor, and a retired tool-maker from Burroughs, C. V. Sparks, was appointed clerk. He announced retirement plans two weeks ago.
Just when an election will be held is yet to be determined by the legislature. It is expected to come in the late summer, or early fall, however.

Seized cab licenses returned by police

Several licenses were returned to Plymouth cab drivers by City of Plymouth police last week, after they had been taken away in the wake of charges of forged health certificates.
City police chief Kenneth Fisher said the licenses were returned to those cab drivers who brought in a valid certificate of physical examinations.
Last week the police department reported to the City Commission that several health certificates on taxi licenses bore forged doctor's signatures.
The Commission refused to air the matter publicly, and returned it to the police. Just what can be done about the forged certificates is clouded. The taxi ordinance does not call for complete physicals.
Fisher said Tuesday that the ordinance was under study, and that revisions were probable.
"This is a public vehicle license, and they carry the general public. The City should only issue licenses to these drivers if they are free from contagious diseases."

Fisher explained the matter had gotten a public hearing at the Commission meeting, and in the press. He declined to speculate on any possible charges being lodged.
The licenses involved belonged to drivers for John Florence's Mayflower Cab Co.

Schools seek bids

Bids for about $345,000 in school construction will be sought following a special meeting of the Plymouth Community School District Board of Education Monday night. The total includes construction fees, and equipment.
The plans call for a multi-purpose room for elementary school #7, in Lake Pointe, for a kindergarten room at Allen School, and for one room, library expansion, new office and storage space at Bird School.
Not included, but also studied at the meeting were plans for a $750,000 new elementary school (number #8). That project will be delayed only momentarily pending acquisition of a site.
And a transportation garage for buses was also discussed, and continues under study.

need an auto loan?

borrow from yourself and save money . . .

When you borrow money to buy a car, are you confused by interest rates? Do you know for sure how much your loan costs you?

Remember this: Most people who lend money are in business to make a profit. But a credit union is in business to help its members. It is owned by its members. That's why a loan from a credit union usually costs less.

There's no point in charging yourself high interest rates. In fact, many credit unions give borrowers an interest rebate at the end of the year. And they're the only ones who do.

Credit unions offer advantages you find nowhere else. For example, loans to all qualified members are insured as an extra benefit at no extra cost. If you die or are totally and permanently disabled, your loan is paid up in full.

So buy your car the low-cost way. Visit your credit union office before you walk into the dealer's showroom. You'll probably save money. Borrow from yourself!

If you're not now a credit union member, contact the CU where you work, or the one in your parish or neighborhood. Or write Michigan Credit Union League, 13235 Woodrow Wilson, Detroit, Michigan 48238.

EXPANSION at Evans Products railroad car building plant continues as record orders pile up.

Evans subsidiary gets $30 million lease orders from railroads

Evans Products Company's United States Railway Equipment subsidiary, Chicago, Ill., has received lease orders approximating $30 million for new and reconditioned freight cars from the Missouri-Kansas-Texas, the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, and the Denver & Rio Grande railroads.

Most of the new cars will be built at United States Railway Equipment's Blue Island, Illinois plant, or at Evans Products Company's car-building facility at Plymouth. Most of the used cars will be reconditioned at United States Railway Equipment's Washington, Indiana car shops.

The $30 million lease orders include 1400 new cars, 1550 reconditioned cars, and 25 cabooses. The Katy order includes 800 new 70-ton box cars. 600 of these are 50-foot and 200 are 60-foot in length. 225 of these cars will be equipped with Evans DF Loader damage-prevention devices; 225 will be equipped with Evans DFB Bulkhead bracing device.

ALL OF THE 800 cars will be equipped with Evans-Superior freight car doors, Evans-Creco brake beams, and Hydra-Cushion shock-absorbing underframes. The Katy order also includes 600 open top hopper cars, 100-ton capacity, with roller bearings and Evans-Creco brake beams, and 600 reconditioned box cars also to be leased to the MKT. All of the cars and the 25 cabooses leased to the Katy will be for a 15-year period.

The $30 million figure also includes leases for 350 reconditioned box cars for the Denver & Rio Grande and 600 box cars to be reconditioned and leased to the CB&Q.

Delivery of the leased cars is to start in May on the D&RGW and CB&Q cars. Delivery of the new cars will start in the latter part of this year.

Evans Products Company, long a railroad equipment supplier, and since 1964 a rail car builder, extended its activities into rail car leasing by its acquisition of United States Railway Equipment Company in late 1965. It added Superior freight car doors and Creco brake beams to the Evans line when the company purchased the Chicago Railway Equipment Company in November 1965.

Plan 125-ton coil steel car

Evans Products Company's Railway Car Division, has announced a 125-ton coil steel car which it believes to be the first car of this capacity to be made commercially. Evans is now building 100 of these cars for the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad.

The new cars will be built with two lift-off hoods, covering two 26 ft. troughs, giving available loading space per car of 52 ft. in length. Aside from its increased capacity, the new coil steel car is similar to several hundred of the Evans DFC coil steel cars which have been built for the C & O - B & O, the Grand Trunk Western, the Norfolk & Western, and the New York Central railroads. Evans has received repeat orders for these cars from three railroads and one railroad reports that in the short time they have been in use, the DFC coil cars have proved to be its best revenue producer.

In designing the 125-ton car, however, Evans' Research & Development Division redesigned the car's crossmembers, retaining the same strength and expandable-face features but decreasing the total weight. In addition to the crossmembers which are adjustable to make the lading completely snug in transit, the 125-ton cars are equipped with shock-absorbing sliding sill Hydra-Cushion underframes designed to protect the car as well as the lading from damage due to impact.

Cutting Remarks
Lola Conklin, 59, of Augusta, Ga., retired recently as a carnival bearded lady and promptly shaved off her foot-long beard.
"I won't feel embarrassed any more when I walk down the street," she explained.

Evans announces new adjustable bulkhead

Evans Products Company's Railway Equipment Division, Plymouth, has added to its line of DFB adjustable bulkheads a non-rotating version which moves back and forth inside a freight car but, unlike other bulkheads in Evans DFB line, does not swivel.

The new, non-pivoting bulkhead remains parallel to the face of the lading at all times. The locking pins and operating handle of the device are always under tension, assuring positive locking when the operator releases the handle. The bulkhead thus is always in a locked position when not being operated.

THE NON-PIVOTING principle with positive locking mechanism has been proven over the past few years in Evans hi-cube and hi-density bulkheads. Evans said the non-pivoting type has been developed for three reasons. One is to meet the railroads' demand for a self-locking bulkhead.

The second is to meet the needs of those shippers who do not require the swiveling feature of other bulkheads in the Evans line. The third is to reduce the amount railroads have to pay for a bulkhead device by eliminating the more costly pivoting feature where it is not required by shippers.

Aside from the non-pivoting feature, Evans says the new bulkhead is similar to the standard DFB bulkhead and that it has all of its features, including one-man operation, comparatively few working parts which makes for easy maintenance, one-lever operation which helps speed loading.

Ray Eppert heads Michigan Week dinner

Three leading Michigan industrialists have been named to head the second annual Michigan Week World Progress Dinner, May 16, at Cobo Hall in Detroit. Ray Eppert, board chairman of Burroughs Corporation, is general chairman of the event. Co-chairman is Herbert Doan, president of the Dow Chemical Company, and Noble Travis, community relations director of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, is chairman of the executive committee.

The appointments were announced by Dale Sellars, president of the Greater Michigan Foundation, which is sponsoring the dinner with the Economic Club of Detroit. THE AFFAIR, expected to attract some 2,000 government, business, civic and education leaders, will honor 30 foreign dignitaries who will visit the state during Michigan Week, May 15-21.

Governor Romney will introduce the distinguished guests and Mayor Cavanagh will extend Detroit's official greeting.

Also attending will be members of the Detroit Consular Corps and 150 foreign students from Wayne State University, University of Detroit, University of Michigan, Michigan State University, Ferris State University, Eastern Michigan University, Central Michigan University and Western Michigan University. Guest speaker will be a high-ranking international government head to be announced at a later date.

The dinner gets underway with a 6 p.m. reception in the main hallway of Cobo Hall. The hallway will be lined with booths and flags of foreign nations. The foreign students will be dressed in native garb.

Prior to the reception, dinner guests are invited to attend the 5:30 p.m. unveiling of Michigan's Product of the Year.

Time to fix-up, paint-up that old mailbox

Seventeen million postal customers' mailboxes will be the target of a Post Office Department nationwide beautification drive next month, Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien said today.

"Mailbox Improvement Week" will be held May 16-21 to promote the best possible appearance for about 10 million mailboxes on rural routes and 7 million others on city residential "curbline" delivery routes, the Postmaster General announced.

More than 1.8 million miles along the nation's highways and byways are dotted with the rural mail receptacles, served by approximately 32,000 rural carriers, O'Brien noted.

"If these boxes look their best this can be an unusual and beneficial contribution to the natural beautification efforts of the President and the First Lady," O'Brien noted.

THE SAME applies, he said, for the 7 million boxes mounted at curbline, generally in new residential sections. This service is provided by what are known in the Postal Service as "mounted routes," served by letter carriers in vehicles.

Mailbox Improvement Week has been observed annually in the past by the Post Office Department with the cooperation of postmasters' organizations and the National Rural Letter Carriers Association.

"This year, the program assumes even greater importance in view of the contribution it can make in supplementing other national and local efforts to improve scenery along the country's highways and the appearance of city areas," O'Brien said.

Except for minimal requirements, such as those to make boxes reasonably secure against weather and readily accessible to carriers, mailboxes and the posts on which they stand can be painted and decorated almost as extensively as the boxholder pleases.

O'Brien commended many customers who have painted their mail receptacles in decorative colors and provided ornamentation such as iron-work representations of dogs and other animals. Many have plants and flowers surrounding the box, he noted.

IN ADDITION to providing better appearance, Mailbox Improvement Week is designed to encourage repair of boxes that do not protect the mail against weather, he said.

Postmasters are directed to survey delivery routes where service is provided through boxes and to leave notices calling attention to deficiencies.

Today's generally-good appearance of mailboxes contrasts greatly with the situation in the early days of rural delivery service after 1896. A major problem of the early carriers was in making delivery to tomato-can "boxes," old cigar boxes nailed haphazardly to fences and similar nondescript receptacles.

Chicago policeman James Markham, having just finished showing Chicago's new "meter maids" how to write traffic tickets, was given a ticket—by one of his pupils.

Markham had overstayed his time at a parking meter on Wolcott Street. He had high praise for the meter maid Joycetta Woods' ticket.

"It was almost letter perfect—she left out one 'T' in Wolcott," Markham said.

One of America's most distinguished journalists, Erwin D. Canham, will speak in Cobo Arena, Detroit on Tuesday, May 3. His talk is on "The Spiritual Revolution." It will begin at 8 p.m. and is open to the public. Admission is free. Many Plymouthites are expected to attend.

Erwin D. Canham

Canham is Editor in Chief of The Christian Science Monitor, an international daily newspaper published in Boston, Massachusetts.

He is a Rhodes Scholar who has served as president of both the American Society of Newspaper Editors and the United States Chamber of Commerce, and also as an Alternate American Delegate to the United Nations General Assembly. His current positions include service with a number of government commissions, public institutions, and corporations.

He is probably best known, however, for his penetrating analysis of current events that began when he was a young Monitor correspondent at the League of Nations and extends today over a broad range of public affairs.

Canham is now engaged in a public speaking tour that will take him to 40 of the world's major cities, on special assignment by the Christian Science Church.

His address is described as a "searching look at the spiritual concepts and forces that are reshaping our world." He gives special attention to the relation between religion and science.

"What this talk will explore," says Canham, "is our need to understand the meaning of humanity's achievements in spiritual terms. It would be a tragedy if our society misinterprets and misuses the tremendous knowledge, breakthrough that is taking place. But as we recognize a deeper, spiritual intelligence constantly at work, we gain a new perspective by which we can affirm God in modern terms."

Canham will be introduced to the Cobo Arena audience on Tuesday by Gov. George W. Romney. Arrangements for the event were made by the Christian Science churches of Michigan, as part of their observance of the Centennial of Christian Science, which had its beginnings in 1866.

Spring has been formally introduced by four more athletic teams. The Cinder Stompers are running for their lives, the Club Swingers have headed for the hills (like the juniors, as egg-spected), the Batmen are really swinging (oh, yeah!), and the Racket Squad is ... winning! Spring has also brought with it the annual school elections. Candidates for all-school offices are: Darryl Dusberger and Steve Hulce, Mayor; Tom Bender and Tracy Ketchman, Vice-Mayor; Candi Muehlbauer and Nancy Spigarelli, Secretary; and Debbie Broderick and Mary Vallier, Treasurer.

Running for Senior class President will be Pete Bender and Dave Sibbold; Vice-President, Dana Conedera and Bill Wolfe; Secretary, Mary Kheder and Sue Sloan; and Treasurer, Candy Crudder. Those running for next year's Senior representatives to Student Council are Jane Emerson, Vicki Kuhns, Judy Motzkus, Gayle Myers, Nancy Newton, Sherry Pike, Dave Sabo, Brian Smith, Bob Sparling, Craig Stadtmiller, Pat Williams, and Anne Wood.

Larry Olson and Stephanie Sanocki will be the candidates for Junior class President; Kathy Gotshall and Ken Olds, Vice-President; Jenny Bidwell and Judi Utter, Secretary; and Sue Camp and Corrine Mitchell, Treasurer. Running for Student Council for their class will be Jeff Adams, Linda Arnold, Sue Beyer, Debbie Broome, Peggy Clyde, Janet Coxford, Regan Fluckey, Karen Shultz, Lana Scott, Mike Stakias, Sue VanAntwerp, and Terry Ward.

Next week will be Campaign Week, followed by elections on May 10. I'll have the results for you then!

Two more elections were also held last week. Next year's Varsity Club officers will be Sam Callan, President; Bill Wolfe, Vice-President; Biff Leonard, Treasurer; and Tom Elias, Sargent-at-Arms. Heading the Hi-Y Club next year will be President Biff Leonard, Vice-President Sally Childs, Treasurer Kathy Gotshall, Secretary Cindy Ward, Chaplin Connie Spratling, and Sargent-at-Arms Ruthie Spratling.

A special "Holah" goes out to Ronald Aaga, a visitor to Plymouth from Caracas, Venezuela. Ron is staying with Tracy Ketchman, who had lived with Ron last summer in Venezuela as part of the Boy Scouts program.

Schoolcraft sets registration

Schoolcraft College students will complete final examinations for the winter term this week and will register for the spring term Thursday, May 4. Students registering for day and evening classes are to report to the College Library between 8:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m., according to Norman Dunn, College Registrar.

Students who have not arranged for classes are to go directly to the Office of Student Affairs at 10 a.m. Wednesday, May 4. Students registering for evening classes will begin Thursday, May 5 at the regularly scheduled times.

DR. DELL REED, Dean of Academic Instruction and Director of the Schoolcraft Evening College, reports that a broad selection of classes, both technical and academic, is available to both day and evening students. A large percentage of the students who have been registered at Schoolcraft during the regular academic year will be registering for the spring term, Reed said.

Tuition and fees are to be paid in full at the time of registration, and the term will close June 29.

American Legion Auxiliary news

Radio-Television Chairman of Passage-Gayde Unit #391, Lillian Kinghorn stated the American Legion Auxiliary has been polling members in the annual "Golden Mike" contest. Members throughout the country will cast votes for their favorite radio and television programs this month.

The awards offered this year. The ballots must be mailed by May 1, 1966. Please get your ballots to Mrs. Kinghorn.

Don't forget our rummage sale - Saturday, April 30 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Please get your items to the Legion Hall. Anyone wishing to help, contact Chairman Betty Richter, GL 3-8942. Passage-Gayde Post will hold their next meeting Sunday, May 1, at 2 p.m. at the American Legion Hall. Friday, May 6, 1966 at 8 p.m. is the next 17th District meeting at Rosedale Park. All Post and Auxiliary members are urged to attend.

PLANS for another successful Poppy Day observance of the American Legion Auxiliary in Plymouth scheduled for May 19, 20 and 21 (official Poppy Days) are under way here as volunteer workers make preparation for the annual Day of Remembrance, according to Mrs. Mae Holescher, President of Passage-Gayde Unit #391. The traditional observance honors all our war dead and, in addition, the funds received during the Auxiliary's Poppy Day are used to assist the living victims of war, our disabled veterans, and the children and widows of those who gave their lives for our country.

The annual effort involves a huge program of planning, distribution and execution by a large corps of volunteer workers. More than 150,000 volunteer workers from American Legion Auxiliary Units in all parts of the country, aided by cooperation organizations and individuals, are charged with this worthwhile program each year.

The familiar red flowers offered in the Auxiliary's Poppy Day are all handmade by disabled veterans in hospitals throughout the U.S. These veterans are supplied with the materials needed for the production of some 20 million poppies and they are paid for their efforts. Medical authorities agree that the activity provides important occupational therapy for our hospitalized veterans.

However, all other work done in connection with the annual observance is on a volunteer basis and the bulk of the funds contributed on Poppy Day remain in the community where they are raised in order to continue the vital Rehabilitation and Child Welfare work of the American Legion Auxiliary.

You bought a house to keep your child off the street.
Why keep him off the lawn?

After all, a lawn is to enjoy.

This is why you should know about Agrico Grass Food. Most people think a fertilizer just greens grass. Fact is, many fertilizers do little more.

But Agrico Grass Food is different.

Agrico contains a special combination of ingredients that not only greens your grass, but more important, enriches your soil.

Only nutrient-rich soil can adequately feed a grass plant and its root system.

Agrico Grass Food produces thick, hardy lawns that can resist wear and tear by kids and cookouts.

Agrico is used almost exclusively by professional grass growers—golf course superintendents, landscape gardeners, nurserymen and sod growers. They rely on Agrico because it builds thick, vigorous turf that withstands rough treatment.

A $4.95 bag of Agrico Grass Food enriches 5300 sq. ft. of grass and soil. This season, apply Agrico Grass Food. And throw away your "Keep-off-the-grass" signs.

We are saving for YOU in an unusual underground

Months before winter's freezing weather, Consumers Power starts a "bank account" for you — banking natural gas to assure you of dependable, uninterrupted gas service throughout the cold months. This is how this unique program works... Trillions of cubic feet of gas underground — but a thousand miles away — are of no value to you when you want it in a hurry. So during the hot, summer months Consumers Power purchases huge quantities of this important fuel from the gas-producing areas of the Gulf Coast and the great Southwest, and stores it deep in Nature's own vaults (depleted gas wells) here in Michigan. Then, when winter winds and snows sweep through the countryside, Consumers draws on this "bank account" of stored natural gas to meet cold-weather demands of homes, business, industry and farms.

There are many benefits in gas storage, but the most important is to assure you and your family a dependable supply of gas for heating... all winter long... at the lowest possible rates.

Schoolcraft plans May 1 commencement exercise

Schoolcraft College's first commencement is scheduled to be conducted on the campus mall at 3 p.m., Sunday, May 1. The chief speaker for the occasion will be Dr. William A. Stirton, Vice President of the University of Michigan and Director of the University of Michigan Dearborn Campus who will address the audience on the subject, "Hire Education or Higher Education." Dr. Stirton is a graduate of Cass Technical High School in Detroit and earned a Bachelor's Degree in Electrical Engineering and a Master's Degree in Physics and Mathematics at the University of Michigan. He is a member of the honorary fraternities of Mu Sigma Pi, Phi Delta Kappa, and Tau Beta Pi and has been awarded the distinguished alumnus centennial citation of the University of Michigan College of Engineering. He has received the honorary degree of Doctor of Science in Engineering and Doctor of Science in Business Administration. College officials announced that approximately 60 students are slated to receive either an Associate Degree or a Certificate of Program Completion during the commencement exercises. Wayne Dunlap, head of the music department at Schoolcraft College, will direct the musical portion of the program. The board of trustees, the administration and the faculty will hold a reception for the graduates and their families in the temporary campus center following the exercises. The public is cordially invited to attend.

COLLEGE LIBRARIAN SPEAKS

Kiwanis told of explosion in man's recorded knowledge

Libraries are in a state of change, according to Pat Butler, Schoolcraft College librarian who last week spoke before the Kiwanis Club at the weekly meeting at Lofy's. Butler noted the printed word had doubled again between 1960 and 1965. One of the reasons is that about 90% of the scientists that ever lived live today. Schoolcraft's librarian went on to explain how computers were handling vast numbers of articles and books for big libraries. Our problems are not those of the big research libraries. Our problem is one of selection from the huge resources being poured on the market. Last year, Butler commented, 30,000 books were published in America, bringing to total of books in print to near 200,000. Butler also outlined how Schoolcraft's head, Dr. Eric Bradner, hired him when Schoolcraft was still in its infancy: "As I left from the interview, he stopped me and asked: 'Can you have 20,000 books ready for use when we open?' Yes, I said. 'I began work on the library under several delusions,' Butler said. 'I thought that 20,000 books was a small number. I got this way from wandering around the University of Michigan and getting lost in its three million volume library. But 20,000 is not an insignificant number of books. 20,000 of anything is a lot. And when you select books one by one 20,000 looms pretty large. 'I also had the impression that there were handy lists of books essential to a junior college library which would simplify selection. Well, there was - one list published in 1931 and another in 1935. I also thought that a library meant books, forgetting all about periodicals and microfilm, slides and tapes and records, architects and furniture salesmen, business managers and purchase orders and so on. 'I AM GLAD now that there were no guides to instant library collections for I learned a great deal and had considerable fun in choosing our books the hard way. How did we select our books? I read and reread book reviews in dozens of journals for the last ten years, I studied subject bibliographies, talked with instructors in other junior colleges, visited libraries and stole ideas, got recommendations from specialists such as our Director of Nursing and Dean of Technical Education. 'When our faculty members were hired several months before the college opened I got in touch with each one and asked for their book recommendations. 'Out of all this came a book collection geared to our curriculum, up to date, and useful stuff that could not have been had from a canned list. I believe this method of choosing our basic collection was sound and has given Schoolcraft a book stock second to none. 'How does Schoolcraft's Library compare with those of other community colleges? 'Fortunately we can answer that question with some authority. Last year the Library of the State of Michigan commissioned a firm of management consultants in New York, the Nelson Associates, to undertake an objective and thorough study of community college libraries. 'At the time there were 18 community colleges in Michigan. Schoolcraft was the youngest - we had not finished our first year. Only one other had started during the 1960's and half of them were 25 years old.

"USING the standards recommended by the American Library Association a study was made and the results were issued last June. Two community colleges rated way out in front: Flint and Delta. "Both of these are different from the rest of the community colleges, however; Delta has since become a four year college and Flint has Mr. Mott and the U. of M. behind it. Anyway, they came out on top. Third was Northwestern. And fourth - among 18 - was Schoolcraft."

SCHOOLCRAFT'S LIBRARIAN Pat Butler spoke before the Kiwanis Club recently, and received a folder for valuable papers from the Club. Kenneth Way, left, makes the presentation.

If Lees "Island Park" carpet can take this kind of a beating (and it can) think how it will hold up in your own home. BLUNK'S HAS IT ...

SPECIALY PRICED AT $ 7 99 Sq. Yd.

We actually made "Island Park" into a trampoline and let six kids and one dog go to work on it.

Now, "Island Park" wasn't really made for this sort of thing. It was made to take only common everyday mayhem. And look great while doing it.

Which is why Lees made it of tough heavy filament nylon. Packed good and thick to give "Island Park" a deep dense pile.

We inspected it 27 times to make sure there were no skips, flaws, ravelings or misweaves.

We even inspected our inspections.

When we were finished, "Island Park" was stain resistant. Roller-skate resistant. Just about everything-resistant.

Including trampoline-resistant.

After hours of jumping and tumbling on our trampoline, the kids and the dog pooped out.

"Island Park" didn't. Even after this uncommon mayhem, it still looked great.

You'll probably never use "Island Park" on your trampoline.

But if you have one of those bouncy families, shouldn't you have it on your floor? You can, for less than $9 a square yard.

For a lot of good, down-to-earth reasons, "those heavenly carpets by Lees."

SENTIMENTAL FAVORITE: Play-goers for three decades have laughed at Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman's "You Can't Take It With You," first staged in 1936. This Friday and Saturday evenings, April 29 and 30, a cast of Plymouth High School students will present the play to a Plymouth audience. To be staged in the auditorium, the beloved comedy centers around the efforts of a family to bring two young people together. Cast members practice a scene in which wealthy Mr. Kirby falls on the floor in the Martin Vanderhof home. Nancy Newton (Penelope Sycamore), Karen Upton (Mrs. Kirby), Ed Wendover (Tony Kirby), Chuck Kellman (Boris), Judy Motzkus (Alice) and Ted Johnson (Donald) act in the scene. Johnson here is filling in for Chris Behler, who plays Mr. Kirby.

BORIS KOLENKHOV (Chuck Kellman) teaches Essie (Debbie Broderick) ballet in a scene from the play. Other cast members are Stephen Ott, and Mary Holmes.

LISTENING TO RHEBA in the play are Grandpa Vanderhof (Clark Chapin), Ed (Daryl Kiefer), Mr. DiPina (John Egan), Chris Sherry as Rheba, and Henderson (Doug Bruce).

ODD-MENTS...

• An inspector in Seattle broke up the friendship between a member of a ship's crew and his pet grasshopper. The grasshopper belonged to a species that causes destruction in China and Japan but is not found in the U.S.

• An obviously nervous woman whispered to an inspector in Dallas that she suspected there was a bomb in her carry-all bag. The bag was vibrating and the inspector, thinking a large, buzzing insect was hiding in it, opened the bag to find that the woman's electric toothbrush had accidentally switched on.

The Scribbler

Buccaneers and basil

with Joyce Holmes

Somewhere I heard it said the difference between a good cook and a great cook is the use of spices and herbs. Now I have a long road to travel before reaching the great cook stage, if indeed ever, but I do have an excellent road map to help on the journey—THE SPICE COOKBOOK, published by David White Co. It has become one of my most prized possessions, just as much fun to read as it is to cook from.

The romance and history of each spice and herb is included along with simply scrumptious recipes so one can learn the ABC's of spice cooking this way—

A is for Allspice. In spite of Columbus' desire to find spices, he managed to sail twice past this rich spice treasure of the Western Hemisphere, mistaking the trees for nutmeg. The Spaniards discovered its fragrant fruit later.

In the days of the pirates along the Spanish Main, all spice was used to preserve meats. This cured meat was called "boucan," stemming from the pirates' dependence upon "boucan," they were labeled "boucaniers" from which eventually evolved the word "buccaneers."

Aside from its use in baking cakes and pies, I also like allspice as a flavoring for pork.

B is for Basil, a particular favorite of mine. Basil has a very romantic meaning in Italy. It is called "kiss-me-Nicholas" and means just that when a girl wears a sprig of basil. In Romania when a boy accepts a sprig of basil from his girl, it means he is engaged!

Basil is supposed to have the power to drive away melancholy and make you merry and glad, so religiously I always add it to stews and tomato dishes. To me it is just as important an ingredient in spaghetti sauce as oregano.

C is for Cardamon, a delightful spice I discovered this Christmas when I made some cookies from an Indian recipe. It is a member of the ginger family but has a taste all its own. Cardamon is a popular spice in the Scandinavian countries as well as India. It lends its special aroma to what has become known as "Danish pastry" as well as serving as a delightful alternate to cinnamon in many sweet dishes.

And so it goes throughout the book. Learning the use of each spice and herb and trying various dishes makes cooking an exciting adventure.

Every gardener is faced with a challenge this year to do his part in adding to the broad Beautify America Program. A little sprucing, planting and care for garden plants will do much to make our country the most beautiful in the world.

American Homeowners Important In Beautify America Program

Never in the history of our country has there been so much interest in making ours the most beautiful country in the world. Federal, State and local governments are expending countless millions of dollars to improve landscapes and city areas.

What started as a program to clean up highway junk yards and eliminate unsightly billboards has now grown to embrace every homeowner in the United States.

Within the confines of our 50 states, almost every plant that is known can find a compatible home in a garden. For example, Summer-flowering bulbs such as dahlias, gladiolus and anemones and ranunculus grown in Holland can be used in gardens throughout the United States.

A Challenge
Our government is offering the challenge to home gardeners this year to do their part in the overall Beautify America Program. Here are some of the things homeowners can do:

1. Spruce up existing plants. It is often surprising what can be done to an old, tangled shrub when you attack it with a pair of pruning shears. Dense shrub growth can often be made into a pleasing setting within a few minutes.

2. Replace dead or diseased plants. When plants are passed their prime or dead, they stand as a blot on the home grounds. It is often better to replace dead plants with one of a different kind. Your local nurseryman can guide you a great deal on the plants that will do best in your neighborhood.

3. Add some color to your garden. A dash of color in any home yard will add much to the appearance. One easy way garden color can be added is by planting easy-to-grow Summer-flowering bulbs from Holland.

4. Water and fertilize the lawn. The lawn is always the frame for the landscape picture. It should be fertilized well in early Spring so that it will maintain its green color. Throughout the dry periods during Summer it should be watered. A portable hose reel makes this part of the garden operation easier.

5. Control insects in check. Insects can play havoc with all good garden intentions. Keeping them under control is necessary for a beautiful garden. Spraying every ten days with a complete lawn and garden insect control will eliminate almost all possibilities of grave insect damage.

Timetable For A Beautiful Lawn

Maintaining a good lawn depends on doing a few simple chores each year. But, it is important that these chores be done at the right time. Following is a time-table of lawn treatments for March and April as recommended by the Asgrow Seed Company.

THE PROBLEM	THE TREATMENT
-------------	---------------

Crabgrass	Use a pre-emergence crabgrass killer, such as Purge®, as early as possible.
------------------	---

Broadleaved weeds (dandelion, plantain, buckhorn, ground ivy)	Use a weed killer like Weed-Out® as soon as growth starts. By using Weed-Nix® you can kill weeds and feed at the same time.
--	---

Diseases	Turf diseases can be controlled with Turf Fungicide.
-----------------	--

Mowing	Have your mower sharpened and tuned up first. Start mowing as soon as grass is high enough to cut.
---------------	--

Feeding	Feed as early as possible. You can use Gro-Sod® at single rate early and again in May or June, or double rate early.
----------------	--

Re-seeding bare spots	Loosen soil thoroughly and remove debris. Feed with lawn fertilizer and re-seed with high quality seed. Rake seed in lightly and water.
------------------------------	---

Trio of senatorial hopefuls will help at Workshop benefit

Area residents who attend the benefit dinner for the Community Opportunity Center on May 25 at Roma Hall in Livonia, will have an opportunity to study all three of the announced candidates for U.S. Senator from Michigan.

That was the announcement Monday by Program Chairman Arthur Haeske, of Plymouth, who indicated confirmations had been received from Congressman Robert Griffin (R), and the two Democratic candidates, Mayor Jerry Cavanagh, of Detroit, and former Governor G. Mennen Williams.

CAVANAGH will be one of the two principal speakers—the other two candidates will be introduced from the floor and given an opportunity for short talks.

Cavanagh and Mrs. Lenore Romney, wife of Gov. George Romney, are slated to head the program. The benefit is being staged to raise funds for the Center, which is the area's sheltered workshop for adult retarded.

There is a possibility that Williams may have to miss the event but he has indicated that if such is true that his wife and son Gary will be there to represent him.

The benefit, which has a price tag of $7 per ticket, is under the general supervision of Mrs. Rosalie Bales of Plymouth.

Chairman of the various committees are: program, Haeske assisted by John Kamego and Mrs. Mary Beth Davis; promotion, Rev. Fr. Alfred Renaud of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church in Plymouth; ticket sales, William Green; dinner, Mrs. Cecilia Phelan and treasurer, Robert Siscock.

Tickets are on sale in all four of the sponsoring communities which include: Livonia, Plymouth, Redford Township and Northville.

NUMBER ONE singles man on the Plymouth tennis squad, Robin Wideman, sets to return against a N. Farmington opponent.

Tennis team wins opens easily

Plymouth's ever-powerful tennis squad opened their 1966 season with two resounding wins last week, beating both N. Farmington and Ypsilanti by an identical score, 5-2.

Coach Jim Stevens reported the results of the two matches: Robin Wideman lost in both matches, losing 7-5, 6-3 to Dick Strang of N. Farmington, and 6-2, 2-6, 2-6 to Wes Ichesco of Ypsilanti.

Steve Mogle won in the first match 6-1, 6-0, but lost by default in the Ypsilanti contest.

Bob Stover whipped Mike Ortwin of N. Farmington 6-4, 1-6, 6-4, and topped Steve Albertson of Ypsilanti, 6-2, 6-4.

Tom Chandler also won both matches, topping his Farmington opponent 6-4, 6-4, and his Ypsilanti foe, 6-3, 8-6.

In the number one doubles match, Steve Hulce and Rick Jones walloped David McCaig and Ken Phair of N. Farmington, 6-1, 6-1, and went on to win the next day over their opponents from Ypsilanti.

Rick Wagar, and Bill Wolfe ripped Bill Roberts and Ed Ambrose 6-2, 6-1 in the Ypsilanti match, and topped Bengt Hanson and Mat Albert, 6-1, 6-2 in the Farmington match.

Chris Bellmore and James Wibby lost in three sets to their Farmington opponents, 8-6, 2-6, 3-6. Randy Kenyon and Dave Sibbold triumphed over their Ypsilanti foes, Jim Roberts and John King, 6-1, 6-3.

Diamondmen hammered in two games

Dearborn and Northville hammered Plymouth's baseball team last week, 11-6 and 6-3, respectively.

Plymouth rapped out a homerun in the Dearborn contest but it wasn't enough. John Underwood slammed out a two-run homer in the first inning; Underwood netted three hits for three trips to the plate, and three RBIs, for the day's honors.

Pat Williams hit a double in the Dearborn game, and continued to be one of the Rock standouts.

Pitcher Jack Robertson was hit for a homer with the bases loaded in the fifth inning, and that broke the game open for Dearborn. Randy Williams and Dan Camp also pitched in the hitfest.

In the Northville game, Plymouth scored three runs on three hits. Jim Arnold hit a triple, driving in one run. A second run scored on two errors and a walk. The last run came as Rick Dyer tripled in the sixth. Jerry Norquist and Randy Williams pitched in the contest.

JV thinclads make thin showing

It's That Time Again

Come April 30, a special kind of magic will pleasantly grip thousands of Michigan sportsmen. On this day, the opener of another trout season, the pulse of anglers will be quickened by the anticipation of that first catch. By the same token, the spell of the new season will deaden the minds of these fishermen to doctor bills, house mortgages, and other day-to-day worries. It's a time for "unlaxing" and enjoying a fresh new pace of action; a time for getting a mental lift. This season as always, there's no limit on the amount of pure sport and simple pleasure that the trout fisherman can "creel" from his favorite stream. -Mich. Dept. of Conservation

Register now for College classes

Schoolcraft College expects an increased enrollment for the 1966-67 school year. Twelve hundred new applications have been submitted for the fall semester and the number of returning students is expected to increase by twenty percent. College policy insures district residents placement in courses and programs until May 2 of each year. After the May 2, 1966 deadline, courses and programs will be open to non-resident applicants. College district residents cannot be insured placement in courses or programs of their choice after this date. College district residents who desire admission to the fall semester should submit their application immediately. New applicants should plan to take the College Placement Tests on April 30, 1966, at 8 a.m. in the College Library.

The Placement Tests are a necessary part of each application. They must be completed before an applicant is admitted to the College. High school seniors may obtain application materials from their high school counselors. All other applicants may obtain application materials from the College admissions office.

Not too late to enter bowl tourney

New leaders in the Plymouth Bowl mixed doubles tourney were announced Monday by Tournament director Frank Mocerri. Stanley and Veronica Gagacki, 1240, first; Robert and Florence Brenner, 1224, second; Harry Koss and Ann Shelley, 1219, third. Blanks for new entrants in the tourney are still available at the Plymouth Mail, or Plymouth Bowl.

Norman Terry to be stationed in Viet Nam

"We've started off slow", commented golf coach John Sandmann, "but as a group, and individually we're coming down and shooting good, and I expect we'll start winning matches. There's plenty of ability there."

Sandmann noted that both Walled Lake and Edsel Ford had good teams, and that it was his practice to throw his squad up against some of the better teams in the non-league opening matches. Individual scores against Bentley: Tom Janicki, 44; Dave Dun-

First Lt. Norman Terry left for Viet Nam last Thursday, following a recent Easter holiday visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Terry of 1975 Roosevelt. Lt. Terry, his wife and his sister, Sue, were in Plymouth for Easter. He will be administrative officer for a U. S. Air Force reconnaissance wing, based near Saigon.
His sister, Sue, is employed by the Boeing Aircraft Co. at Cape Kennedy, Fla. Their father is owner of Terry's Bakery in Plymouth.

Carrier of the week

Jon Ackerman, a tenth grader at PHS, and an avid tennis player, is this week's Carrier of the Week.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Ackerman, 44645 Governor Bradford, Jon is 15. He delivers 107 papers on a route that covers Governor Bradford, Turkey Run, Priscilla Lane, John Alden, Sheldon Rd, Maple, Jener and Evergreen Streets.

He has lived here all his life, and has one brother and one sister.

Playing tennis is his number one sport. He also likes chess. Undecided about what his future may hold, his hobbies include racing model cars.

Young Ackerman, and other Mail carriers, are small businessmen, buying their papers on consignment each week, and turning them over to Mail readers, at a profit.

"A paper route helps develop responsibility in young people, and teaches them how to manage money," according to Jon's parents, and Mail circulation manager Fred Wright.

Vivian pointing out to Mrs. Esther Peterson, Special Assistant to the President for Consumer Affairs, many food packages provide the consumer with needed information to make adequate price comparisons. Egg packages, for example, usually provide the required information in a clear, straightforward fashion. The truth-in-packaging bill, co-sponsored by Senator Phil Hart and Vivian, aims to provide this kind of information on all consumer packages.

son, who, as Special Assistant to the President for Consumer Affairs, speaks for the entire American buying public—and that is everyone in the country.

Last week I visited Mrs. Peterson in her office right across the street from the White House, to discuss my "Truth-in-Packaging" bill, which, as you know, I co-sponsor with Senator Phil Hart.

WE TALKED about the "jumbo" size detergent box with a hefty percentage of air and about the spray can labeled "improved"—when the "improvement" really means only a price increase—and often a decrease in the net weight from 15 to 14 ounces.

We discussed the "cents-off" label on a can of coffee—"cents-off" what? Even the most careful shoppers fall victim to deception and hidden price increases.

Here is what Mrs. Peterson said: "Fractionalized ounces, deceptive package sizes and shapes, meaningless 'cents off' deals, and such terms as 'jumbo quart' are only a smokescreen. The purpose is to keep the consumer from comparing prices. Gradually, he will wind up paying more and more for less and less."

"There is only one way to lift the smokescreen. The Fair Packaging and Labeling Bill must be passed."

The opponents of fair packaging—and there are many powerful interests who oppose any move to clear up confusion in the marketplace—say that legislation intelligent. That is why they want more information. That is why they want the bill passed. People who think that the consumer can always figure out the best buy in grocery items such as detergents, for example, should ask Mrs. Peterson.

She told me that she heard from one mathematics teacher who won't do her marketing without a slide rule! She had to teach all her nonmathematical friends to use one, too.

One of the most impressive pieces of evidence on the need for this legislation comes from the campus of Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti. Researchers there proved last year how difficult and expensive it is to shop today.

Thirty-three college-educated housewives were sent out to buy twenty common household items. They had ample time to select the best buys in the supermarket. But they made correct decisions ONLY fifty-seven percent of the time. On an average they paid nine percent more than they had to.

My Truth-in-Packaging bill does not, of course, suggest that everyone should buy the lowest priced goods. It simply intends to help the housewife find out how much she is paying so she can compare prices.

In these days of rising prices, when it is becoming more and more difficult to make the dollar stretch, we need more truth in the marketplace. We can have it—if we support Truth in Packaging.

Anchor Coupling has record sales

Nine month sales of $25,042,988, up 18%; and profits of $1,705,166, up 37% to $1.66 per share, were reported today by Anchor Coupling Co. Inc. for the period ended March 31, 1966. Don F. Stranberg, Anchor president, said the nine-month sales and earnings are all-time highs for the company. Third-quarter sales and earnings also were record highs, he reported, with sales for the quarter 26% above a year ago at $9,534,750, and profits 49% higher for the period at $698,828.

Junior High East girl gives historical treasure to U of M

William Heath, Plymouth history teacher, Kathy Brennan, and F. Clever Bald, director of The University of Michigan Historical Collections, look over one of the Civil War letters Kathy gave to the Collections.

An eighth-grade girl from Northville has contributed valuable Civil War letters to The University of Michigan Historical Collections, according to F. Clever Bald, director.

Kathy Brennan, a student at Junior High School East, in Plymouth, had taken the letters to school since the students were studying the Civil War. History teacher William Heath recognized the value of the letters and suggested to Kathy that she might be willing to give them to the U-M Historical Collections so they could be kept safe for posterity.

THE LETTERS were written from 1862 to 1880 by a member of the Pomeroy family of Northville to a brother, Augustus Augustus Pomeroy served in the Michigan 24th Infantry and fought at Gettysburg. He came home after the war and held a civic post in Northville where his descendants now live. The letters had been found in an attic quite by chance and had been given to the Brennan family because of Mrs. Brennan's interest in the Civil War.

SAVINGS ABOLISHED

Urge withdrawals from Postal Savings

Postmaster John A. Mulligan today urged depositors with postal savings certificates to withdraw their accounts from Post Offices as soon as possible or as soon as the anniversary dates on their certificates are reached. The Postal Savings System was abolished March 27, 1966, with the signing of Public Law 89-377 by President Lyndon B. Johnson. Postmaster Mulligan pointed out that as of April 28, 1966, no deposits can be accepted and no new accounts can be opened. He said that interest will end on the anniversary date of each certificate.

The Postmaster said that for convenience all certificates held by a depositor may be cashed at the same time and interest will be paid for each full month they have been outstanding beyond three months from the interest date.

The Postal Savings System was established January 1, 1911, to get money out of hiding and to attract savings of a large number of immigrants who were accustomed to saving at Post Offices in their own country; also, it served as a safe depository for people who had lost confidence in private banks. Today, however, with the growth of banking facilities paying much higher interest rates than the 2 percent interest per annum paid on Postal Savings, the System has outlived its usefulness for the American people.

The Postmaster noted that as of June 30, 1965, there were 997,029 depositors holding certificates in 3,130 post offices throughout the nation. The number of depositors has been declining, he said, at a rate of about 6,500 per month.

The Postmaster said that unpaid deposits remaining in the Post Office beyond June 30, 1967, would be transferred to the Treasury Department in a trust fund and would be available for payment without time limitation whenever proper claims are received.

Specials - offer chance for low cost food buys

Would you like to save six percent of your weekly food bill? You can, by "shopping the specials" wisely. During food information week - as during all weeks of the year - food markets will be featuring specials. Mrs. Marjorie Gibbs, Detroit Consumer Marketing Agent, says merchandising by means of specials has long been a common practice of food stores. For just as long, too, thrifty shoppers have taken advantage of specials to cut food costs.

The prevalence of specials in food merchandising offers a wonderful opportunity for low cost food buying, Mrs. Gibbs points out. Specials not only stretch the food dollar but aid in planning menus and preparing meals from the different foods offered on special.

A basic understanding of specials - what they are, and how they work - is essential to be able to spot them. Specials may be products which the retailer has purchased at a low cost due to a heavy seasonal supply, or a heavy accumulated stock. These savings are passed on to you. The specials may, Mrs. Gibbs points out, be a promotional item which is always in demand or popular. These specials are used to stimulate sales. Introductions of new items, coupons, stamps and cents-off promotions are included in this group.

There are many advantages to using specials as menu suggestions. They relieve the monotony of the same menus, and they certainly help you in your buying decisions where you can make a tentative shopping list before going to the store.

Most important, however, they can also help you trim the food bill - if you learn how to use them wisely. In one test, shoppers were found to save six percent on the weekly food bills simply by taking advantage of specials - and in using care in other purchases at the same time. In another survey, 20 per cent was saved on meats - which is always the largest item in the food budget.

In fact, Mrs. Gibbs says meat is the item most frequently featured on specials - including poultry and fish. Chuck and fryers are the leading special items nationally. Vegetables and specials in other departments follow meats in order of frequency.

There are pitfalls in planning meals around specials, so they should be evaluated just as with other food purchases. Family preference is important in evaluating specials. For instance, a special is no bargain for you if your family doesn't like it. Specials may not be "right" for you, too, if they are the wrong size (too large or too small), if it's the wrong style pack for your use (chunks when you need slices) or if it is a much better or lesser quality than you normally buy.

Planning menus around specials takes more time than normal. To really take advantage of specials the meal plan must be kept flexible because some specials may not be listed in the advertisements. And, Mrs. Gibbs points out that substitutes may be necessary when you get to the store. Shopping time may be increased - particularly if more than one store is shopped. The extra time may or may not be worth the dollar savings.

Most foods on special are the regular quality items stocked by that and competitive food stores. Mrs. Gibbs points out that at times, however, inferior quality fresh produce or other foods may be sold at reduced prices. Specially priced foods must always be judged in relation to quality and size. To take full advantage of specials you will need plenty of storage space. Fryers are offered on special about once a month in most metropolitan food chains. Adequate storage is a must in buying a month's supply of broilers at one store for the family.

"Shopping the specials" can help you eat better for less. And speaking of specials, during Food Information Week many specials will be featured on radio, television and in newspapers to help you become a more informed and better shopper.

The Talk of Plymouth

Mrs. Laverne Wilson has returned to her home on Northville road after spending the winter in Bradenton, Florida.

Karl Melow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Melow of Spring St., is spending three weeks with his parents. Karl, who is stationed on the U.S.S. Little Rock at Norfolk, Virginia, will leave for a tour of duty in the Mediterranean following his furlough.

Mrs. Floyd Burgett entertained her club at cards Tuesday evening in her home on Northville road.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Veresh, of Clemons drive, returned Sunday evening from a 10 day vacation in Jamaica.

Mrs. Alfred West, of Englewood, Florida, is spending the summer months at her home on Kellogg street.

The letters - a boxful of them - had gone to school with the Brennan children as they reached junior high school age and began studying the Civil War. Heath was the first teacher to realize their particular importance.

"The unusual value of these letters to the Collections is in the fact that they are from the home front," says Bald. "We have many letters written on the battlefield but not many giving news of how the family at home fared while their men folk were away fighting."

FIX-IT TIP

Life With The Rimples
 To obtain a spatter-finish on linoleum or floors, do this:
 First paint the floor a solid color and allow to dry. To spatter, fill the brush with the selected color and strike it sharply against a stick held in the other hand. Make small spatters by using less paint on the brush and striking it against the stick held one foot from the floor. Make large spatters by using more paint on brush and holding stick three feet above the floor. Tack or tape a dropcloth over walls and cabinets to shield them from spatters.

Tips from the
STOP & SHOP CHEF
Questions & Answers

What is the purpose of baking clams or oysters and the like in a bed of rock salt?

Most importantly, the salt provides concentrated even heat, which permits quick cooking, a most necessary consideration in preventing toughness in clams and oysters. It also keeps the shells level, ensuring that the juices and sauces will not spill.
