After Construction of Second Senior Program

Board to Adopt 5-3-4 School Program

Acting on a recommendation of the Citizens Facility Study Committee in the first phases of its report (April 1966), the Plymouth School Board Monday passed a resolution adopting the 5-3-4 plan of operation as soon as feasible. It was one of the recommendations of the Study Group that the Board establish a four-year high school and an intermediate school comprising grades 6, 7 and 8.

Monday's action was an indication that the Board plans on starting the five-year elementary school, three-year intermediate and four-year high school as soon as a second high school is constructed.

As a matter of fact, Curriculum Committee Chairman Bruce Scott in making the recommendation for the 5-3-4 program pointed out that full implementation of the plan will have to await the construction of the second high school because of the presently limited facilities.

In his report, Scott pointed out that the junior high school, now a well established institution in hundreds of school districts across the country, has come under much criticism in recent years, particularly for its tendency to imitate the senior high program, thus complicating rather than ameliorating the problems of adolescents making the change from elementary to high school.

As might be expected with a subject as complex as school organization, the opinions of competent educators cover a wide spectrum. Many school districts are deeply committed to the 7-8-9 junior high, and do not feel that a change to the 6-7-8 intermediate school with 9-12 high school is either feasible or desirable. Nevertheless, there is a discernable trend in the direction of the intermediate school.

New York and Pittsburgh are two among many school systems now making the change.

Aside from the natural reaction to past excesses in junior high school programs, there are good, if not compelling, reasons for the change to intermediate school:

1. The earlier maturity of children gives the ninth grader closer physiological and emotional identity with high school students. In the other direction there is so much difference between ninth and seventh graders that some educators question the wisdom of housing them in the same school.

2. Ninth grade curriculum is more closely allied to that of high school than to that of the seventh and eighth grades. This being true, ninth grade courses for high school credit can be taught more efficiently in high school by high school teachers. An incidental saving can be realized in the avoidance of certain duplicated facilities, such as laboratory equipment.

3. Sixth graders, having spent six years in a neighborhood elementary school, are ready for the change to a larger school where they begin to enlarge their horizons and start the process of transition to the departmentalized curriculum of high school.

4. Sixth and ninth graders alike, far from being pushed prematurely into inimical surroundings, will find themselves challenged by a new and stimulating environment among children with similar interests and capabilities.

It is realized that the quality of an educational program ultimately depends on the skill and dedication of the teachers. However, the 5-3-4 school organization, by more logical grouping of grade levels, can enhance the effectiveness and efficiency of the program.

School Bd. Approves Pay Hikes For Top Administration Posts

The Plymouth School Board Monday approved master contracts with the Plymouth Education Association and the maintenance - custodial personnel, granted pay hikes to the school secretaries, cafeteria workers and bus drivers and then gave the administration personnel salary boosts in direct ratio to those approved for all others. Trustee Carl Schultheiss, chairman of the Employee Relations Committee, stated: "It should be made clear to everyone that negotiations at Plymouth were carried out in good faith by both representatives of the PCB of E and the PEA. Neither side dissociated itself from the community and as a result we have a fine package to present. "None lost position or gave away his rights. Rather, negotiations were carried on by reasonable people and with a basic interest of the community uppermost. The Plymouth Community has gained. They could have as easily lost were it not for the understanding of those involved and their philosophy of a common cause."

The salary schedule of the teaching personnel was announced a week ago but those for the others were made public for the first time by Schultheiss.

Inasmuch as most of the interest appears to be in the top echelon, Schultheiss made it known that the boosts for the administrators were in accordance with those granted all of the other crafts and unions.

The administrator's salary is based on an index factor determined by the School Superintendent taking into consideration the administrator's experience, educational preparation and performance. The salary is set on the maximum pay for a M.A. degree teacher times the index factor.

The Board boosted the salary of Supt. Russell Isbister from $19,100 to $21,500 for his contract which is in the final year of a three-year pact.

Assistant Supt. in charge of Business Melvin Blunk stepped up from $13,650 to $16,000 and Asst. Supt. William Harding, in charge of secondary schools, climbed from $13,550 to $16,000.

The new pay scale for those administrators ranging from high school principal to assistant principal in the junior highs is as follows:

Principal Carvel Bentley, senior high, $14,645; assistant principals, John Hoban and Gus Gorguze, $13,130; Robert Smith, principal Junior High West, $13,332; Carl Taylor, principal Junior High East, $12,827; elementary school principals—all at $13,332 include: (Continued on Page 10-B)

Board Names New School For Mrs. Nancy Tanger

Mrs. Nancy Tanger, 444 Irvin, who retired a few years back as principal at Bird Elementary School, received the highest honor any school board can bestow on a retired teacher or administrator—the new elementary school No. 7 will bear the name Mrs. Nancy Tanger.

The decision to name the school after Mrs. Tanger came at Monday's meeting of the Plymouth Community School Board.

President Gerald Fischer indicated the Board had studied a long list of eligibles for several weeks but finally decided on the popular former principal of Bird School.

Mrs. Tanger served her profession for 39 years before retiring. She taught or was an administrator in the Plymouth system for 34 years and had five years in other systems.

She and her husband Roswell, have lived at the Irvin address for years. He is a retired employee of the Plymouth Post Office.

"I am pleased with the decision of the board," said Supt. Russell Isbister. "There were a number of highly qualified eligibles but I feel the Board made an excellent choice."

Seek Homes For Pupils From Europe

Are you interested in housing a foreign exchange high school student for the 1966-7 school year?

If so, make the fact known to John Hoban, assistant principal at Plymouth High, or to Mrs. Russell Koepke, 1316 Sheridan (453-3761).

They are seeking homes for two students—one from Sweden and the other from Germany—who will arrive in Ann Arbor on Aug. 29.

A third student, a coed from Denmark, has been placed.

The youngsters are sponsored by the Youth for Understanding program of the Council of Churches in Ann Arbor. Plymouth residents have taken in students for the past several years.

State Police Boss Warns of Problems

The communities of Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Canton Township, Northville Township and the City of Northville were warned that there are a great many problems involved in forming a common police authority.

State Police Commissioner Fredrick Davids, who resided in Plymouth Township, was the principal speaker at a joint governmental meeting Friday in the Mayflower Hotel at which topics brought up at the winter Chamber of Commerce leadership conference in Hillsdale, were reviewed.

"There isn't any problem involved in forming a police authority for townships," said Commissioner Davids, "but to include two cities will require an amendment to existing legislation.

"If you are thinking of a police authority, then there isn't any time like the present to start contacting your legislators and make the initial moves towards the amendments.

"The statutes speak only of townships joining in such an authority — there is no reference to a city."

Davids was accompanied by Capt. John Brown, legal advisor for the State Police, who reaffirmed what the Commissioner had said in regard to the needed legislation.

Brown pointed out that it was possible for the area to have a common wave length and a common phone number to work on a metro district plan but warned of the pitfalls of an Authority.

He told of the experiences in Dade County, Fla., where the county elected to have a strong Sheriff's Department and found it wouldn't work and of the city police plan currently in use in Davidson County in Tennessee which includes the city of Nashville.

Trustee Gene Overholt, of Plymouth Township, reported on the progress of the Hillsdale Conference incinerator committee which has just started a study of the needs and financing for a proposed area incinerator.

Twp. Voters Turn Down New Charter

Residents of Plymouth Township aren't ready for the problems that come when a community turns from a Township into a City.

That became apparent for the third time in six years when voters rejected a charter for the City of Plymouth Heights by an overwhelming, 1038 to 273 margin.

The issue became hot in the closing days prior to the primary due to the fact that the Plymouth Observer and the Plymouth Mail came out editorially in favor of the charter on the grounds that the electors had toyed with the issue in two previous elections and that it was about time for a decision.

Board Cites Understanding of All Members Has High Praise For Negotiating Teams

Gerald Fischer, president of the Plymouth School Board, expressed the views of the entire Board on the successful conclusion of negotiations that brought master contracts for the professional staff and the maintenance force as well as agreements with all other employees.

In a written statement, which received the approval of the Trustees in attendance, Fischer wrote:

"The Board of Education is very pleased to announce that very sound agreements have been reached with each of the employee groups in our School District. Substantial improvements in salary and fringe benefits have been granted that are in line with the general pattern that has appeared in the school districts of this area of the state.

"It should be recognized that this District has sought to create desirable working conditions for our employee groups and has fostered their effective representation over a period of years prior to the current period of formal bargaining.

"This background has helped materially to avoid the extremes of strain and stress that have been experienced in many other districts. The economic patterns that developed from negotiated settlements in our area have been much greater than in prior years, and we have sought to keep our wage and salary schedules competitive in the face of these changing conditions.

"We believe the results of our settlement with the teachers leave us close to the average on beginning salaries and somewhat favorable to other districts at the maximum salaries, thereby supporting a long standing policy of the District to attract and retain career teachers with experience.

"This policy extends naturally to the administrative positions as well, and substantial increases were essential to keep these salaries reasonably competitive.

"Incidentally, there were many potential problems of administrative control raised in the course of negotiations, but these have been resolved in a manner that retains effective supervision by our administrators and policy determination by the Board while providing the professional staff with an appropriate opportunity to be heard.

"We are fortunate that in-

Listing Puts Evans 275th

Evans Products Company is ranked 16th in terms of net income as a percentage of invested capital by Fortune Magazine in its recent annual listing of the nation's top 500 corporations for 1965.

The magazine also rated Evans as the 275th largest corporation based upon its 1965 sales of $246,941,000. This compares with its rank of 313 in 1964, and 339 in 1963.

State Fair Offers Contests For Persons of All Ages

Beauty queens and baton twirlers, youngsters and oldest, singers and sheep shearers.

All will be part of the contest scene at the Michigan State Fair, which opens Friday, Aug. 26, and runs through Monday, Sept. 5 (Labor Day).

Among the most popular are those staged each week-day for the kids—watermelon eating, ponytail, blueberry pie eating, bubblegum blowing, and others sure to prove messy and funny.

Young drum majors and majorettes also will compete daily, in divisions ranging from novice to the most expert. The state's best baton twirlers always compete in the State Fair contests.

For girls a bit older, the Miss Michigan State Fair competition offers a chance to be named fairest of the fair. Contestants who have won beauty queen titles in the past year in Michigan are eligible to compete. Competition will start Wednesday evening, Aug. 31, with the crowning of the queen slated for Thursday evening, September 1, in the Music Shell.

Teen-age singers and musicians will compete in the Teen Scene section of the fair. Preliminaries in the amateur band contests will be held a week before the Fair, with the 36 top groups slated for competition during the Fair. Folk-singing groups, also of high school age, will vie daily in the Teen Scene.

On Old Timers' Day at the Fair, Monday, Aug. 29, the state's senior citizens will take part in contests for oldest man and woman, longest married couple, longest mustache, and most grandchildren.

Husband calling and hog calling will be in the spotlight on Friday, Sept. 2, with cash prizes going to those with the best (or loudest) voices.

Sheep shearing contests also are on tap for Friday, Sept. 2, with Michigan champions being crowned.

Of course, the spirit of competition also will be present in all the livestock and farm classes. The Fair is offering more than $140-

000 in premium money for those with the best cows, steers, swine, sheep, horses, pigeons, rabbits, and poultry. Even bees will get into the act, with prizes going to top hives and best honey.

The Coliseum will be in constant use for contests, with judging of livestock during the days and horse shows in the evenings.

THESE TWO BOOTHS are excellent examples of the fine workmanship the Livonia Parks and Recreation personnel put together for the annual Carnival last week at Ford Field.

L.I.T. to Hold Pro-Engineer Exam Course

Refresher courses for engineers, covering Part I of the State of Michigan registration examinations for professional engineers, will be offered Saturday mornings beginning Sept. 17 by the Lawrence Institute of Technology.

Application deadline is Sept. 10. The sessions will run 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. for 13 Saturdays. Applications are available at the college, Northwestern Freeway and Ten Mile Road, Southfield.

Engineers from other colleges as well as from L.I.T. may enroll. Tuition is $50.

Courses will include calculus, physics, chemistry, statics, dynamics, economics, fluid mechanics, thermodynamics, electricity and strength of materials.

Courses covering Part II of the examination will be offered in February, 1967, according to Academic Dean Mordica Ryan of L.I.T.

Brothers Fined For Having Wine in Auto

Two Garden City brothers were fined in Municipal Court Thursday for having a gallon of beer in the parked car they were in.

Fined $10 each and court costs were Terrance Cronk, 19, of 28501 Alvin, and his younger brother, Gary, 18, of the same address.

Garden City Policemen reported that they arrested the two June 25 in a 1930 Ford parked at Marquette and Deering Streets.

They were charged with having illegal possession of alcoholic beverages.

Water Death Toll Climbs In State

The water accident toll in Michigan is continuing to increase sharply.

At the end of July there have been 212 deaths in 368 accidents since the first of the year, respective increases of 33 and 30 per cent. In addition, at least 85 persons have been injured.

Property damage accidents only numbered 89.

Official reports in 164 drownings are broken down as follows: 24 boat operators, 16 boat passengers, 91 swimmers or waders, 17 who fell through ice, 33 who fell from a bridge, bank, dock or pier, one who fell into a septic tank or well and two who attempted to rescue another.

No reports have been received as yet on 28 other drownings.

Handicapped Youngsters Attend Easter Seal Camp

Thirty physically handicapped boys and girls ranging in age from 5-14 years are registered for the final two week session of the Easter Seal Society's Day Camp at the Easter Seal Center near Middlebelt and Michigan in Inkster.

Under the leadership of Richard J. Dancok, of Wyandotte, Day Camp Director, assisted by Victor Manzon, of Allen Park, youngsters who are blind as well as those who are crippled are making new friends in an active program of games, nature study, music and playground activities. Thirteen teen-age volunteers are giving up vacation hours to serve as camp staff aides.

Campers come from Allen Park, Dearborn, Dearborn Heights, Ecorse, Garden City, Grosse Ile, Inkster, Lincoln Park, Livonia, Redford Township, Southgate, Wayne and Wyandotte.

Parents and service club volunteers, including Rotary Club members from Ecorse, Inkster, Lincoln Park and Livonia, as well as Lola Valley Kiwanians are assisting the Society's staff in providing daily transportation for the period August 1 through August 12. The Lincoln Park Rotary Club is planning to hold its regular weekly meeting at camp Aug. 11.

The Day Camp program is financed by contributions sent in response to the annual distribution of Easter Seals at Easter time, and by special gifts to the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County from individuals and from groups throughout the year.

Drivers Fined For Using Center Lane

Motorists who are used to passing cars in the center lane of Ford Road have found that the habit can be expensive.

Although signs posted for west-bound traffic entering the city of Westland say that the center lane of the three-lane highway is for left turns only, many motorists use it for passing other autos.

William Webb, Westland's Municipal Court Clerk, asked The Observer to remind the public that at least four motorists have been ticketed by police within the past few days for improper lane usage.

Four drivers who were ticketed, recently expressed their feelings about the issuing of the citations but they did pay their fines.

Webb suggested that yellow lines be painted to prevent drivers from passing others in the center lane.

To Determine Whether Sheriff Should Face Court

Court Exam Resumes for Two Sheriff's Officers

The pre-trial examination of Wayne County Sheriff Peter Buback and Under-sheriff James Bommarito, both charged by Grand Juror Edward S. Piggins in a ticket-fixing scandal, was scheduled to resume yesterday (Tuesday) in Grosse Pointe Municipal Judge. Municipal Judge Douglas Paterson is holding the exam to determine if the two law enforcement officers should be brought to trial on the charges of willful neglect of duty. In developments last week: ● Buback fired two sheriff's department officers, Sgt. Paul Paciorek of the Road

Patrol and deputy John Taley, both of whom testified that Buback had a hand in the ticket-fixing operation which centered in Westland. ● Judge Paterson issued a warning to the sheriff that he may be held in contempt of court if he fires any more employees who testify against him in court. ● Sgt. Paciorek appealed his dismissal to the County Civil Service Commission and said that Buback a year ago suspended him on similar grounds instead of firing him. ● Evidence was submitted by the prosecutor's office that both Buback and Bommarito hired persons with criminal records as honorary deputy sheriffs. On the firing of Paciorek and Taley, the prosecutor announced that it feared to bring in any more deputies as witnesses on the grounds that the two defendants were "intimidating" them. Judge Paterson declined to order the sheriff to do anything which would interfere with his administration of his office but he did say that if another sheriff's department employee is fired, he would hold an inquiry, on the record and in court.

The sheriff's reason for firing the two men was based on their testimony in court that they had fixed tickets. They also said that this was part of a wholesale ticket fixing practice which the defendants knew about but did nothing to stop.

On the other side, the judge agreed with Joseph Louisell, Buback's defense attorney, that the sheriff has a duty to perform and must not condone crimes by his employees. Concerning the honorary deputies with criminal records, the prosecutor brought out that he would produce police records of eight of the honorary deputies out of the 60 persons named in the grand jury complaint.

The appointments of those persons with records "are contrary to public policy" and are "an impediment to fair and impartial enforcement of the law," the grand jury warrant said. However, Louisell replied that the count in the warrant is meaningless and whether the deputies have police records or not means nothing because there is no office known to criminal law over their appointment.

In addition, Louisell said, "it has been the custom from time immemorial in the sheriff's office for honorary sheriff's to be appointed with no authority whatsoever."

$5,000 Federal Grant Helps Schoolcraft Library

Schoolcraft College has received a $5,000 grant under the Higher Education Act of 1965, for the acquisition of library materials. President Eric J. Bradner has announced. The grant has made possible the addition of micro-filmed back issues of one newspaper and four periodicals to the library's reference section.

They include The New York Times, daily and Sunday issues of 1956 through 1961 with indexes; Time, from 1923 through 1957; Saturday Review of Literature from 1924 through 1950; New Republic, from 1914 through 1956; and Parisian Review, volumes 1 through 22.

Acquisition of the four periodicals completes the library's collection of each publication from its first to its current issue, according to Librarian Patrick Butler.

The Schoolcraft library, Butler said, now receives regularly issues of 368 different publications. These include 302 magazines and periodicals, 13 daily and weekly newspapers, 16 indexes and 37 U.S. government periodicals. In addition, the library has 580 bound volumes of many of the general circulation periodicals.

Designated as an official U. S. government document depository, the library has nearly 2,900 documents on file. This collection, Butler explained, is the only one of its kind in the college district.

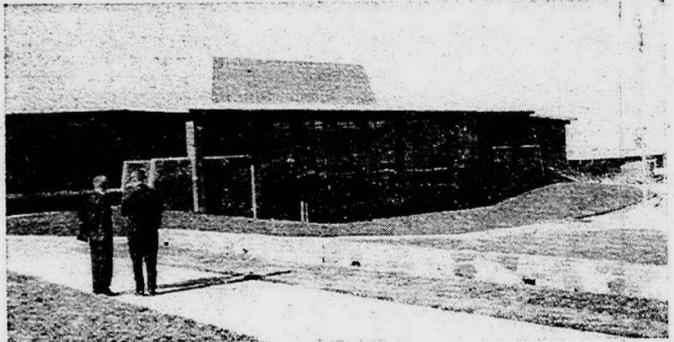

The library's book collection totaled 22,163 titles at the close of the college academic year on June 30, Butler said. This is an increase of more than 5,000 over the previous year.

Resources of the Schoolcraft library are available to all residents of the college district for reference use in the library. Library hours are 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 6 to 9 p.m., Monday through Thursday and from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Friday.

Accidental Hanging Claims Boy

Children on Schaller Drive in Garden City were holding a spook show Friday afternoon, July 29, and the young-ster who had the noose around his neck was called home to dinner.

Eager to take his place in the noose was six-year-old Timmy Dickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Dickson, of 6746 Schaller Drive.

Timmy then spent the next few minutes laughing and giggling to the enjoyment of his young spectators in the garage owned by Robert Mullins, of 6924 Schaller Drive.

But someone noticed that Timmy had stopped laughing. He had strangled himself to death while in the noose in the spookhouse tragedy which turned suddenly into a real-life one.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, Aug. 2, at the Caldwell Funeral Home with Rev. Clement Parr officiating. Burial was in Cadillac Memorial Gardens West.

Surviving are his parents, a sister, Sylvia, 13, and two brothers, Ronald, 11, and Lyle, 7.

State Legislators Deserve Good Pay Says U. of M. Prof.

ANN ARBOR — There is a definite need for adequate state legislators, says a University of Michigan political science professor.

Dr. James K. Pollock, James Murfin Professor of Political Science at The University of Michigan and chairman of the Special Commission on Legislative Compensation, State of Michigan, said in a speech before the National Society of State Legislators recently that "one cannot reasonably expect a legislature today to do the job which is required in 1966 without improving, in addition to its organization, staff, and procedures, its compensation."

His work on the special legislative commission made it clear, he says, that:

(1) Legislative work has grown and legislative compensation should take account of this;

(2) The relationship between other state salaries and legislative salaries should be taken into consideration;

(3) Legislative compensation cannot be considered alone but needs to be related to legislative improvement.

"In return for better salaries," says Dr. Pollock, "the public will naturally expect better legislators, better service, and better legislation."

In 1956 the legislature was in session for 64 days; in 1965, there were 126 session-days resulting in the passage of 1070 bills. Furthermore, he says, the committee found that the amount of work also had greatly increased.

Because most legislators have other employment and income, they should not, however, receive a full-time salary like a department head or a civil servant who gives full time to his job without other employment.

"Furthermore, we felt the job of a state legislator is fundamentally a citizen job—one for any qualified citizen—and not one requiring any special professional qualifications.

A legislator is elected to represent his constituents for a period of time without necessarily giving up his business or social connections with his district."

Concerning his second point, Dr. Pollock mentions that "it seems not to bother anyone that legislative salaries are very much out of line when compared with other state, administrative salaries, judges, mayors, and department heads."

If a more reasonable salary for the members of the legislature were established, it would result in the setting of more logical salaries for all executive and administrative officers.

Thirdly, Prof. Pollock and his committee stresses, the recommendation for increased legislative compensation (particularly in Michigan) is "made on the condition that the same legislature which enacts these recommendations initiates a comprehensive study of its organization and procedures and processes with the ultimate goal of developing in the future a more business-like and efficient utilization of legislative time and effort."

Presently, the U-M professor maintains, the civic climate for increased compensation is not good. Many people feel that present state legislators are already being over-paid.

To that he responds, "Don't you think that a state legislator is worth half as much as a Congressman?"

KITTEN IN THE KETTLE — A 60 gallon tureen in the modern kitchen in the new Waterman Campus Center at Schoolcraft College makes a convenient prop for this photo of Geraldine Shults, Schoolcraft graduate. The tureen is one of two in which soups, sauces and other warm foods will be prepared for the 2,500 students expected to enroll for the fall term late this month. The campus center, one of two new buildings nearing completion, will house the cafeteria, the office of student affairs, the college nurse, bookstore, student government offices and provide space for a student lounge. It is named for Emeritus Dean of Student Affairs Lois Waterman. Geraldine, 19435 Angling, Livonia, has been employed in the bookstore.

Suicide Cancels Drug Trial

A Detroit woman, whose trial in Westland's Municipal Court on possession of marijuana was scheduled for last week, committed suicide several days before the trial was to start.

The defendant was Mrs. Rita Luke, of 16220 Monica Street, who had pleaded innocent to the charge July 25 with the trial scheduled for Tuesday, August 2.

However, the day before the trial was to have been held, the court was notified that Mrs. Luke had committed suicide.

She was charged by Sheriff's Detective Emory Meier June 23 after an amount of the narcotic was found in Mrs. Luke's purse in Wayne County General Hospital, where she was committed.

Her attorney, Daniel French of Detroit, said that Mrs. Luke had no previous criminal record.

U.S. Senate Backs Fight To Avoid $54,000 Loss

Garden City's struggles to avoid a $54,000 payment involving a technical flaw in an urban renewal program report gained support from the U.S. Senate last week.

Mayor Edwin Freeh, Jr., announced that he received a telegram from Senator Philip A. Hart of Michigan reporting that the Senate's Banking and Commerce Committee Wednesday, Aug. 3, approved new housing amendments with a provision validating the local expenditures made in the building of Florence Elementary School.

The committee passes on all bills and amendments involving the federal urban renewal program.

The problem came to light last month when Congressman William Ford, whose 15th District includes Garden City, reported House success in overcoming a technicality that could result in the loss of $54,000 of federal aid to the city.

The flaw arose in the Cherry Hill urban renewal project for which a federal grant of $434,000 was approved nearly four years ago. The city's share was to have been $134,000. But of that figure, a credit of $54,292 was to be allowed for construction of the school within three years prior to the date of the grant approval.

Because of a misdated inspector's report, it was first thought that the Florence school was started within that required period. Later, it was discovered that work on the school actually started four days too early to qualify.

Faced with the unexpected spending of $54,292, city officials contacted Ford who offered a special amendment to the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1966 which would give the city credit for the school work despite the four-day discrepancy.

"If the amendment is not passed," Ford said recently, "the $54,292 will have to be paid with local tax dollars. This will mean a big financial burden to Garden City and its residents."

Westland Man Is Victim

Deputy Dies in Shooting

Funeral services were held Saturday morning for a Wayne County Sheriff's Deputy, a Westland resident, who was the victim of an accidental shooting incident Wednesday night in a Wayne bar parking lot.

The deputy, Roger W. Sugg, 30, of 6553 Caribou, died in Wayne County General Hospital early Thursday morning following the shooting.

Witnesses told police that Sugg had his own pistol in his hand when he lost his balance, started to fall, and struck his elbow against a parked car in trying to regain his balance. As his arm hit the auto, the gun went off.

Lt. Walter MacGregor of the Wayne Police Dept. was told by friends and neighbors with Sugg that Show Bar about 9:30 p.m. Wednesday and drank heavily when he started to leave about midnight.

Robert MacDonald, of 34487 Tonquich, Westland, said that Sugg was getting "a little boisterous" and he went to a nearby phone booth to call police. Just before he started to dial, he heard a half-dozen shots in the parking lot.

Mrs. MacDonald said that Sugg was walking beside her and without provocation or warning drew his pistol and started shooting. She screamed at him to stop shooting and then ran for her car. With the door open, Sugg swung around and started to back into the front seat of the MacDonald auto when he lost his balance.

The services were held at the Caldwell Funeral Home, Garden City, with Rev. M. Clement Parr of the Free Methodist Church officiating. Burial was in Cadillac Memorial Gardens West.

Surviving are his wife, Eva, a son, Tracy, a daughter, Tokeah, his father, Winton of Dearborn, mother, Evelyn Tudor of Detroit; grandmother, Minnie Lasky of Dearborn; four brothers, Carmack of Dearborn Heights; Marvin of Aurora, Ill.; Dale Tudor and Barry Tudor of Westland.

Sugg was born June 4, 1930 in Melvindale and lived all of his life in the area. A veteran of the Korean War, Sugg was a road patrol deputy for the past five years.

OVERJOYED at the birth of twin granddaughters, Mrs. Ermine Adams, 2955 Rensselaer Avenue, Farmington Township displayed this sign in her yard. The twins, were born at Pontiac General Hospital, on July 21. They are named Kim Lee, (4 lbs. 4 1/2 ounces); and Carol Ann (4 lbs. and 1/2 ounce). They are the first children of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Massey who also live at the Rensselaer address.

THIS IS THE SIGN which greeted visitors to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Boucha, of 28647 Bridge Street, Garden City. Mrs. Boucha gave birth to a boy July 31 in Oakwood Hospital. Her husband proudly hoisted a large "B" on a flag pole in their front lawn and made a large sign telling everyone "that it's a boy" and that it weighed nine pounds, two ounces. The couple has a 15-month-old daughter, Mary Lee, who was born when Boucha was serving on a Navy submarine. Mrs. Boucha is the former Catherine Lunetta of Dearborn.

Expert Lauds Hospitals

American hospitals are not nearly as sick as they've been pictured recently, says a professor who regularly takes the pulse of the nation's health services.

"Of course there is room for improvement in hospitals, just as in everything else," Lawrence A. Hill says. "But by and large our hospitals are doing a better job now than ever before."

Hill is director of the Bureau of Hospital Administration in The University of Michigan's Graduate School of Business Administration. His comments were inspired by national magazine articles with such titles as "Our Hospitals Are Killing Us" and "Our Sick Hospitals."

"The facts of the matter are that hospitals have been doing a generally good job for some time, and that Medicare will enable them to do a better job rather than a poorer one," Hill says.

He describes the hospital as the only place in the community where the quality of a physician's practice is routinely scrutinized by his colleagues.

"Every patient's clinical record is open for review by a doctor's professional colleagues. Every doctor's credentials are checked before he is admitted to the staff. "Inexperienced doctors have only limited hospital privileges. It's not a perfect system, but it's a reasonably effective safeguard for the patient."

"On the other hand, there is no system of quality checking or control on the care a doctor provides in his office or in the patient's home."

Medicare will reinforce the quality control system by requiring participating hospitals to set up "utilization committees," made up of doctors, to pass on questionable admissions or long stays.

Still, Hill concedes, a "quality gap" will remain between the major medical centers and the small-town hospitals.

"The critics insist that every citizen should have equal access to the most modern techniques and facilities — and as a social goal that's excellent. "We can't have an open-heart surgery team in every hospital any more than we can have a classic Greek theater in every town. There just aren't enough professionals to go around or enough patients to keep small-town professionals busy.

Sympathetic Plymouthites Aid Refugees from Cuba

After having all but the clothes on their backs seized by Premier Castro's police, a Cuban couple last week reunited with three sons, partially through the efforts of Plymouth people.

The couple, Mr. and Mrs. Francisco Dorado, will make their home here.

Their three sons have been staying at the St. Francis Home for Boys on Fenkell Ave. in Detroit for the past five years. Sometime in 1961, they were sent here by the Dorados when they learned Castro was sending young boys to Russia.

Recently, police came to the Dorado home, seized all their valuables, took the key, and kicked them out.

The details of their flight to America are still sketchy because their sons speak only English, having forgotten Spanish, and the parents speak only Spanish.

Helping them settle are Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Kelley of 898 Ross St., and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Degenhardt, of Livonia.

The Kelleys hosted Dorados' son Francisco, or Frank, on several occasions. Both families are members of the Our Lady of Good Counsel Church.

Among the details available, it was learned that the Dorados made it to Mexico City sometime last Christmas. The Kelleys worked through a U.S. Senator from North Dakota they knew, and were able to get the Dorados to Miami. Apparently, diplomatic relations allow the flights from Cuba to Mexico City.

They arrived here recently, and saw their three sons for the first time in five long years. The sons, Frank, 13, Jesse, 10, (Jesus) and Leon, 14, (Leonardo), were sponsored by the Catholic Charities. It was through them that the Kelleys met Frank.

The Degenhardts found room for the Dorados until last week, when they were able to rent a home in Plymouth.

Dorado was offered a job at Stahl Manufacturing Co. and was to begin Monday. Apparently, he had difficulty working in Cuba because he was not a Communist. His wife is trained as a nurse.

We learned of this when Frank would come out," Mrs. Kelley explained. "Leon also came on several occasions.

Paula Koepke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russ Koepke, has acted as an interpreter part of the time. She is a student at U-M.

However, the language barrier has not been unsurmountable. Mrs. Kelley reported that shopping with Mrs. Dorado that only those items that do not show the contents in pictures on the label are hard to find.

They searched a long time for garlic, because Mrs. Dorado was unable to say it in English.

In Cuba, meat was expensive and allowed only twice a month, according to Mrs. Dorado. Milk was hard to come by.

They have found a place to rent, but someone to help the Dorados learn English is still needed, as well as bicycles for the three boys.

Use Right Cleaner
Treat fine lumber paneling as you would fine furniture. Use oil-base cleaning products only on oiled finishes. Use wax-base products only on wood surfaces which have been varnished, lacquered, or waxed. Use separate dust cloths for oiled and waxed furniture and paneling.

Use Your Blender
You may want to use your electric blender when you puree frozen raspberries for a dessert sauce; but if you want to get rid of the seeds, you'll have to strain the puree—after blending through a very fine-meshed strainer.

HCMA Parks Set July Crowd Records

Combined attendance for the four major parks of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority totalled 1,403,400 persons to establish a record for the month of July. This was announced by Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, director of the regional park agency serving the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne.

Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford had over 454,300 visitors compared to 433,000 in July of 1965, but below the record of 480,000 persons who came to the park in July of 1958. Kensington Park which covers 4,300 acres and opened in 1948, had the highest total visitors in July of all HCMA (Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority) parks.

Metropolitan Beach near Mt. Clemens with 397,400 visitors during July of this year dropped slightly in use from the 407,000 figure of July, 1965. The record attendance for the month is 455,000 persons which was set in July, 1964. Metropolitan Beach covers 550 acres and opened in 1951.

The only record for the month was set at Stony Creek Metropolitan Park near Washington which had 290,200 visitors in July. This tops the 237,900 figure for July of last year and the 237,000 mark of July 1964. Stony Creek Metropolitan Park covers 3,500 acres and opened in July, 1964.

Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville had over 281,500 visitors during July of 1966, a drop from the over 282,000 figure of last July. This park's best July attendance was in 1961 when over 348,000 came to the 1,000 acre park.

Livonian Is New Head NW Clinic

Board president, John F. Boyle, announced the recent appointment of Soine A. Torma, NASW, as executive director of the Northwestern Child Guidance Clinic.

"Torma has a long list of mental health accomplishments to his credit," Boyle stated, "starting after his release from a prisoner of war camp on the Japanese main island in 1945." Torma is a survivor of the Bataan death march and spent 42 months as a prisoner of war.

After earning his master's degree at the University of Michigan, Torma worked as a student counselor at Suomi College and later as a social worker for the Department of Social Welfare.

In 1956, he was instrumental in the founding of several child guidance clinics in Michigan's Upper Peninsula serving as branch supervisor. He left Michigan in 1963 to become director of social services for the Lutheran Social Services in Wisconsin.

Torma, his wife Sylvia, son Arnold 18 and daughter Carolyn 16, reside in Livonia.

Master Point Winners Named

Mayfair held its regular master point game for the month of August, and the following winners were announced.

North-South: Jeannette Collier and Billie Bayard; Mel and Charlene Janke; Tom Sukinek and Craig Madvin; Greta Shepherd and George Sterling; Terry O'Hearn and Virginia Melkonian; Jim and Irene McCormick; Clyde and Janet Bone; Iain and Alice Scott.

The Mayfair Friday evening game will continue through the summer months. It begins at 8 p.m. and the bridge room is air-conditioned.

Mayfair will resume holding a game at 7:45 p.m. on Tuesday evenings, on Sept. 6. A new program is planned.

Class Reunion Set

The 1960 class of Our Lady of Sorrows High School will meet in the City of Farmington's park Aug. 14 for a class reunion. An estimated 110 people are expected to attend.

List is Being Compiled

Compile a complete organization list in Farmington. That's the goal of the Farmington Jaycee Auxiliary which has just initiated the community-wide project.

Copies of the completed list will be placed in the City and Township offices, the Board of Education, the Board of Commerce, and the Farmington District Library.

Additional copies will be available to interested citizens and organizations upon request.

Mrs. Larry Nameche, chairman, said in order for the project to be successful the cooperation of each organization in the community is needed.

She asks that a representative of each organization contact her at GR 6-4807 or write to her at 21269 Robinwood, Farmington, providing the following information:

Name and purpose of the organization; president's name and phone number; organization meeting date and time of meeting.

The deadline for this information is Aug. 20 in order to arrange for completion of the list in early September.

Evans Shows Sales Up

PORTLAND, Ore.—Evans Products Company announced that sales and earnings continued at record high levels in the second quarter of 1966, the 18th consecutive quarter in which both sales and earnings improved over those for the same quarter of the preceding year.

For the first half of 1966 net earnings were $4,773,000, an increase of 29 percent over the $3,701,000 for the first half of 1965. Sales and rentals of $143,074,000 for the first six months of 1966 represented a 25 percent increase over the $114,349,000 for the corresponding period in 1965.

Earnings per common share, based on the average number of shares outstanding and after provision for preferred dividends, were $1.58 in the first half of 1966 as contrasted to $1.29 in the first half of last year.

In addition to the expansion programs now being completed at the company's railcar manufacturing plants in Plymouth, Mich. and Blue Island, Ill., construction of the particle board plant in Silsbee, Texas, additional office and data processing facilities at Plymouth and Portland are proceeding on schedule.

A new panel processing plant will be built for the company's use in Chesapeake, Va., adjacent to Norfolk during the second half of this year, as well as a large warehouse at the Plymouth plant in Corona, Calif., and a Marine Terminal facility at Long Beach, Calif. The company has also contracted for the construction of four 25,000-ton bulk carriers in Japan for long-term charter to the company.

Keep Chamois Soft

If you use a chamois for polishing furniture or metals, wash it often in warm sudsy water and rinse it in clean water.

Then put a little more soap or detergent in the final rinse water and squeeze the chamois out of these clean suds.

This will help keep it soft.

Beef Is Good, Too

For Western Sandwiches, scrambled eggs are enriched with onion, green pepper and ham for the filling. But, if you like, you may use dried beef instead of the ham. Just saute the beef with the onion and green pepper before adding to the beaten eggs.

U-M Dietitians Say Let Johnny Eat What He Likes

ANN ARBOR — Starve a fever and feed a cold! These and other time-honored food myths have been punctured by dietitians at The University of Michigan Medical center.

During a fever, the body cells require more food energy, say the dietitians. Lack of food during a fever means body tissue will be burned as fuel.

Celery and fish are commonly known as brain foods. It is a fact, say U-M dietitians, that one particular food is not sufficient to build such specialized tissue as the brain.

Take gelatin to strengthen fingernails. The U-M food specialists explain that gelatin is an incomplete protein. Milk, meat or eggs all contain more complete protein and would have a more beneficial affect on nails.

Many morning skirmishes between mother and child could be avoided by puncturing the breakfast myth. Many morning skirmishes between mother and child could be avoided by puncturing the breakfast myth.

What Johnny likes to eat and what mother wants him to eat are often nutritionally equal, say dietitians. His breakfast of a hot dog, bun, milk shake, and an orange is nutritionally the same as mother's orange juice, egg, cereal and milk.

Blended citrus juice, a custard topped with peaches, and two graham crackers, is an attractive nutritional substitute for grapefruit, egg, toast and milk.

Since Johnny is more likely to eat what he likes, U-M dietitians advise mothers to prepare a breakfast that will be eaten. What is left on the plate, after the breakfast battle, is worthless.

Three Teachers Leave Posts In Plymouth

The Plymouth Community Board of Education Monday accepted the resignations of three teachers, including William Raisch of the Senior High faculty, on the recommendation of Supt. Russell Isbister.

The trio includes: Raisch, Sociology-History at Senior High; Charles Kipp, math and science at Junior High East, and Ben Platnik, English and Social Studies, at Junior High West.

In his letter of resignation, Raisch indicated he plans to return to Graduate School at the University of Michigan.

Kipp has accepted a position with General Motors in an administrative capacity and stated that it was an opportunity he couldn't overlook.

Platnik did not give any indications as to his future plans but wrote "I feel that in another situation greater opportunities for professional growth and satisfactions would present themselves."

Registration for Schools This Monday

Garden City Public Schools will hold a registration week from Monday, through Friday for elementary students (grades K-6).

Junior and Senior High students may register Monday, August 29 through Friday, September 2. Registrations will be held in the Board of Education Offices, 29155 Pardo Street, between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

All children who are not registered at this time, and who did not attend Garden City Public Schools last June must register. Children do not have to be present to become enrolled. Junior High and Senior High Counselors will be in their respective buildings during the week of August 29 to meet with those students who have dropped out of school and wish to re-register and to schedule transfer students.

Only a birth certificate or hospital certificate can be accepted as proof of age for kindergarten children. They must be five years old on or before December 1, 1966, before they can register for school. All other enrollments need a proof of grade placement in the form of report card or transfer slip from the last school attended.

Classes for kindergarten children will not meet until September 15. All other classes will meet September 7, in their local building.

School Lobby Costs $9,666

Lobbying costs for 18 western Wayne County school districts amounted to $9,666 for the recently-ended fiscal year.

Bills have been mailed to the member districts, by the Metropolitan Association for Improved School Legislation, which include Garden City, Livonia, Redford Union and Wayne.

Livonia, Wayne and Taylor will pay the maximum fee of $1,200 based on the valuation of the district.

The remaining districts will pay fees as follows: Brownstown 1 Fr., $206; Cherry Hill, $428; Carson, $100; Crestwood, $598; Dearborn No. 8, $687; Dearborn No. 7, 402; Heintyen, 392; Huron, $203; Inkster, $337; Maple Grove, $100; Garden City, $991; Hand, $100; N. Dearborn Heights, $380; Redford Union, $1,044; and Sumpter, $100.

The major item of expense was for the salary of lobbyist Robert Duhan, who also doubles as administrative assistant to the superintendent of schools in Garden City. He received $5,307.

Duhan listed noted in his report to association members that clerical expenses amounted to $794, transportation, $836; meals, lodging, parking, etc., $2,107; office supplies, $182; telephone and telegrams, $105; legislative agent fee, $10; mailbox rental, $25; subscription to Michigan Information and Research Service, Inc., $300.

Representatives of the various school districts planned to meet last night in Garden City to discuss future legislative needs.

Many of the districts also belong to the Wayne County School Board Association which also employs a lobbyist to work with the state legislature.

Must Public Workers Join?

Labor Law Is Not Clear on Union Shop

Can school districts and municipalities agree to hire only union members.

Michigan Attorney General Frank J. Kelley says the matter is unresolved.

"It is not possible at this time to say that the legislature has required or authorized a governmental agency to enter into an agreement providing for a closed shop or union shop," he advised this newspaper by letter.

He explained the two terms, saying, "A closed shop is one where only union members may be hired. A union shop is one in which non-union members can be hired but must become a union member within a prescribed time period."

Kelley noted that the legislature did not specifically answer this question when it amended the Hutchinson Act to permit collective bargaining by public agencies and their employees.

The statute contains provisions both characteristic and uncharacteristic of a closed or union shop. Section 11 provides that a representative selected by a majority shall be the exclusive representative of all employees in the unit.

"On the other hand, the same section allows the individual presentation of grievances under certain conditions. Section 15 states that the obligation to bargain collectively does not compel either party to agree to a proposal or require the making of a concession."

But he noted a somewhat contradictory condition, which has also been cited by Livonia City Attorney Steve Polgar, that makes it unlawful for a public employer: "to discriminate in regard to hire, terms or other conditions of employment in order to encourage or discourage membership in a labor organization."

Polgar gave an opinion to the Livonia City Council last fall in which he called attention to the same stipulation that public employers are expressly prohibited from encouraging membership in labor organizations.

"Accordingly, it is the conclusion of the Department of Law that a closed or union shop may not be permitted and any contract that may ultimately be negotiated that provides for such a limitation would be invalid," Polgar declared.

Despite the uncertainty about the question, a number of governmental units in this area and throughout Michigan are granting union shop provisions.

Custodians and bus drivers in the Livonia School District and Garden City employees are among various groups which have insisted that public employees join the union officially recognized as the bargainer. They have signed contracts to this effect.

Redford Township has a completely open-shop situation. No worker is forced to become a member in order to hold his job.

When Detroit grappled with the problem last spring, Albert G. Leggat, director of the city's Labor Relations Bureau said, "One official told me that in the absence of any strong language prohibiting the union shop, the new state law, in his opinion, would be interpreted as permitting the union shop."

Teacher groups have not generally sought to make membership in their association a condition of employment, but public workers represented by the American Federation of State, Municipal and County Employees have made a strong push to obtain such a provision in their contracts.

Little objection to the practice has been heard from individuals who don't belong to unions, although recently in Allen Park, 17 women office workers petitioned the city council, stating they agreed they have the right to join a union but they also have the right not to join one.

Resolution of the problem will probably depend on the state legislature which can either let the matter hang indecisively or can spell out precisely whether union shops are permitted.

Charter Issue Discussed By Garden City Kiwanis

The Garden City Kiwanis Club, at its last meeting, featured a pro-and-con discussion of the revised City Charter which was defeated by a 2 1/2-10-1 margin in the Aug. 2 primary election.

Charter Commissioners Gerald Coleman, Arnold Folker, and Dr. Francis Schmitt discussed the charter before the voters' rejection of it and the Kiwanis members also held a question and answer period on the document.

The program was presented by the club's public and business affairs committee.

- Informational meetings relative to innovations in curriculum practices.

- Legislative activities of member boards.

- Discussion concerning problems affecting all boards. The current problem of negotiations was topic for the May meeting.

"We want the Wayne County School Board Association to serve its members in the most practical fashion," said Raeside.

"To give this statement added support, our board has sent out a survey form to all boards in Wayne County to personally ask them how their association can be of more service to them in the coming year."

Drop Trial, Witness Fails To Appear

A Westland Municipal Court trial for a youth charged with damaging an airplane at National Airport was dropped last week when the complaining witness failed to appear.

Charged with malicious destruction of property was Donald Stivers, of 5710 Harvey, who was said to have damaged a Cessna aircraft after he and several motorcyclists had driven up and down the airfield's runway on the night of May 21.

At his arraignment two days later, Stivers stood mute and a not guilty plea was entered for him.

The prosecution's witness was Joseph Tesar who didn't appear for the trial scheduled for Aug. 2.

ZONE TITLE WON BY ST. CLAIR

Farmington Falls Short

There are situations in which it pays to come close. Not so in sports.

Just ask Farmington's American Legion junior baseball team.

Manager Wally Christensen and his boys gained the zone finals at Utica over the weekend. As late as the midway point in the championship game on Sunday against St. Clair, it was Farmington in command... although the margin was only one run.

But St. Clair came on like gang busters, put together a three-run rally in the bottom of the eighth inning and wound up a 5-3 winner.

It was strictly "a show-down game."

Both teams had lost once before in the two defeat and out competition. There could be no tomorrow for either side.

Rick Krumm got the starting call for Farmington and was touched for a run in the first inning on two hits.

Farmington got even in the second when Joe Himmelspach walked, moved around to third on a sacrifice and infield out and came home on Mike Snearly's single.

The 1-1 tie didn't last long.

St. Clair tallied another run in the second inning to go in front, 2-1.

That's how matters stood until the seventh as Krumm and John Dietlin of St. Clair matched each other's shutout pitching.

Came the seventh inning—Farmington received a couple of breaks.

With two out, Miles Kearney was safe on an error. He stole second and scored when Carl Misch singled. Misch circled the bases when the ball rolled through the centerfielder's legs.

Farmington now was on top, 3-2.

However, St. Clair wasn't through. Two singles and an error jammed the bases. After a forceout at the plate, a sacrifice fly scored the tying run.

Then followed another sacrifice fly and a single and St. Clair had a two-run bulge before Chuck Viane, who had pitched Saturday, was called on to get the side out.

The damage had been done. Farmington was blanked in the eighth and ninth innings and the season became history.

The losers made eight hits to St. Clair's seven. Snearly led the losers with three safeties. Kearney and Jerry Tinkle had two each and Misch the other safety.

It marked the second time in three years that a Farmington team had lost in the zone finals. St. Clair now goes on to next week's state meet at Owosso in which a new champion will be crowned. Detroit Edison's defending state champs were knocked out last week at Lincoln Park.

Farmington had to fight uphill in the tournament, after dropping its first game in the meet to Owosso, 6-1.

The Farmington team could do little with the pitching of Ken Sperl who took over the Owosso pitching in the first inning when starter Bob Eicher was injured.

Sperl struck out 14 and walked none the rest of the way while allowing only four hits.

The only Farmington run came in the third inning when Rick Krumm singled, stole second and third and scored on a balk.

Farmington used Rick Krumm on the mound in a losing cause. He gave up two runs in the fourth, two in the seventh and two in the eighth.

The next game saw Farmington bounce back to drub Mason, 10-2. Chuck Viane worked eight innings and Jerry Turner finished up for the winners.

Viane also poled out four hits in five times at bat, while Carl Misch had three for five, one a triple, Miles Kearney contributed a double to the victors' cause.

Farmington sewed up the game with six runs in the ninth inning when Snearly singled, Himmelspach walked, Viane, Norton, Johnston and Kearney singled and Misch tripled.

In Saturday's action, Farmington blanked Owosso, 4-0, and then reached the finals by downing St. Clair, 5-4.

Viane turned in a six-hit shutout in the game against Owosso.

His mates scored once in the first inning on singles by Johnston and Snearly and a walk to Misch. In the third two runs were added on a hit by Kearney, a walk to Misch and two errors. Farmington counted once more in the ninth when Johnston singled, stole second and Misch singled.

Fine pitching in a relief role by Turner, taking over from Krumm in the first inning, helped Farmington down St. Clair by the 5-4 score.

The Farmington scoring began in the fourth inning when Himmelspach doubled and came home on Snearly's hit. In the fifth, Tinkle singled and came across on a long homer by Misch.

The final two runs were cashed in the seventh. Perry singled, went to second on a wild pitch and scored on a single by Tinkle. Tinkle went to second on the throw home and scored on Webster's single.

Dependable Nearing Trip to U.S. Meet

Dependable Hard Chrome's baseball team of Redford Township went big time today.

And at the same time the Townshipers were going for the big time.

How come the double reference to the "big time?"

1—Dependable was squaring off against Mt. Pleasant at Tiger Stadium in the second of a best-of-three series for the Detroit Free Press state baseball championship.

2—The winner of the series wins a coveted trip to the All America Boys' Tournament at Johnstown, Pa., which starts next Thursday.

This is an honor which never has come to a team from the Greater Livonia-Free Press competition. However, teams from the Detroit sector of the newspaper's program have copped the national crown in the past.

Dependable, under the guidance of Al Turner and Bob Atkins, held a one-game edge against Mt. Pleasant as the teams met on the Tiger field.

The Townshipers with some solid hitting and defensive work won at Mt. Pleasant, 10-6, last Saturday in the opening action.

Rick Fisher pitched the first seven innings for the winners while Rich Barryman finished up. Fisher gave up six hits, his successor two.

The game was a fairly tight one. As late as the eighth inning, Dependable held command by only two runs.

Here's the way the scoring went:

In the first inning, Dependable scored twice. Walks to Harry Kendrick and Terry Rothwell were followed by a two-run blast by Reg Barringer.

Dependable made it 4-0 in the fifth when Jim Sproul doubled, Rich Fisher sacrificed and Ronny Masson singled. A fielder's choice by Kendrick helped get Masson home.

So it was now 4-0, but Mt. Pleasant got a run in the fifth and two in the seventh to pull within a run of a tie.

With the pressure on, Dependable quickly erupted for three runs. Kendrick walked, Lou Banwert singled and Barringer was safe at first on a fielder's choice for one run. Then Bob Holmes singled in another marker and Mike Riley delivered a sacrifice, good for the third run of the inning.

Mt. Pleasant retaliated with two runs in the bottom of the eighth to make the score 7-5.

But in the ninth, the big Dependable bats again caught fire. Barryman doubled and walked home as Kendrick socked a long drive over the fence some 340 feet away.

Not to be outdone, Rothwell followed with another roundtripper to wrap up the scoring for the visitors from the Township.

The game was marked by some fancy defensive plays by Dependable.

Fisher picked one runner off second and another off first.

Dependable outfielders then cut down runners at second third and the plate.

In the event Mt. Pleasant were to win today, the deciding game of the series will be held at Detroit's Maniz Field Saturday afternoon.

The trip to Johnstown will begin Monday for the team that emerges as the champion.

All Stars Beaten by 7-3 Score

The Greater Livonia All Stars, comprised of standout players from the Detroit Free Press League made its bid for all-state honors last Saturday at East Lansing, but came out on the short end of a 7-3 score against Grand Ledge.

Coach Lucky Birkett used four pitchers in the game played at Michigan State University.

Larry Sladec got the starting call and was followed to the hill by Duane Pelz, Ron Fair and Fred Davies.

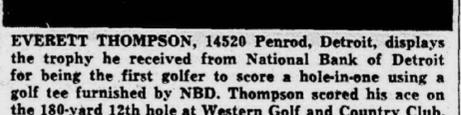

The Livonia Stars had a good chance in the second inning when Neal Thomas and Paul Hartge singled. But neither was able to score.

Bill Goetz tripled with no success in the third.

The Livonians finally counted three times in the fourth. Chris Damania singled and Thomas was safe on an error. Roger Frayer and Sladec followed and the three runs were in.

Gary Birkett, Goetz and Frayer each got two hits for the Livonians.

Four members of the Livonia squad were picked to play with the State All Stars at Tiger Stadium today. Named were Frayer, Goetz, Birkett and Ford Simpson.

EVERETT THOMPSON, 14520 Penrod, Detroit, displays the trophy he received from National Bank of Detroit for being the first golfer to score a hole-in-one using a golf tee furnished by NBD. Thompson scored his ace on the 180-yard 12th hole at Western Golf and Country Club.

Garden City Out, So's Redford 9 In Mack Meet

There'll be no state Connie Mack baseball champion (from the Greater Livonia area this season).

A year ago, North Redford took home the prize.

But neither McK's Partyville of Garden City or Big Boy of South Redford could survive sectional state tournaments last week.

Big Boy, playing in Livonia, was knocked out after scoring only one victory.

McK's reached the semifinals at Wyandotte before succumbing after piling up three victories.

The Redford team began play with an 8-0 win over Wayne as Tom Fleszer hurled a no-hitter in the game which was called after five innings. He struck out seven and walked two.

Five runs in the second inning put the game out of reach. Don Besk and Mike Turner walked and Fleszer followed with a run-producing single. After Bob Holmes walked to jam the bases, Reg Barringer singled in two runs and Dan Harris followed suit with another hit.

Turner and Barringer each had two hits for the winners.

The fortunes then turned against Big Boy.

Trenton won from the Townshipers, 6-4, and Ann Arbor followed with a 7-1 win.

Terry Rothwell hit a two-run homer for Redford in the third inning and the team's other two runs came without the benefit of a hit.

Ann Arbor counted six times in the fifth inning, thanks to four errors and only three hits.

Dennis Syrios, Mike Donnelly and Hank Schoenbeck all pitched for Redford whose lone run came on hits by Paul Santangelo and Rothwell in the first inning.

McK's got off on the wrong foot at Wyandotte losing to Monroe, 4-1, despite a six hitter by Joe Huber. Stan Wischowski singled, stole second and scored the lone McK's run on Huber's single.

Then the Garden City team

CARL MISCH of Farmington crosses the plate after booming out a two run homer they lost their lead and the game to St. Clair, 5-3.

JERRY TINKLE of Farmington, slides pick-off play. Farmington lost the game back safely into first base on an attempted 5-3 to eliminate them from the finals.

Livonia Lands in Playoff

Thanks to a victory the "hard way" Livonia's Pavel McDonough baseball team has clinched a spot in the Greater Livonia-Dearborn Class A playoffs.

That's right, the Livonians are now the Pavel-McDonough team and going into the eliminations will sport bright new uniforms.

"It took a long time to find a sponsor," declared Manager Jerry Stockwell. "But patience has paid off for us... and maybe we can do something to reward our new backers."

The Livonians had to beat league leading Dearborn Adray to get into the post-season series in which the Redford Township "A" team also has qualified.

Beat Adray the Livonians did... by a 3-1 score and Pete Hembrough held the Dearborn team to just a pair of hits while his mates picked up three runs to bring their season's record to 10-10—the necessary .500 mark to qualify.

Singles by Paul Portney, Jerry Allen and Leonard Pittaway brought Pavel-McDonough its first run in the opening inning.

Then Allen knocked a homer in the third and he also chased in Ernie Bourassa with the final Livonia run in the fifth inning.

The victory over Adray came after King Boring of Dearborn had topped the Livonia, 6-1.

The only Livonia run was scored when Paul Portney walked and Jim Rose and Allen followed with singles. Don Niemiec was the losing pitcher.

Adray, King Boring, Pavel-McDonough and Redford comprise the four teams who'll meet in the eliminations to be conducted on a two-game out basis.

The tourney's winner will get a chance to play for the state title and a possible entry into the national ABC meet held each year in Battle Creek.

Observing SPORTS

By George Maslin

So, what's happened to the summer? Fall has to be around the corner when you sit by the television over the weekend and watch not one, but three different football games involving professional teams...

When Bernie Kennedy, Michigan sports editor of the Associated Press, looking down from the third deck at Tiger Stadium as the Tigers are splitting with the Chicago White Sox, remarks: "Imagine one week from tomorrow there'll be football!" The "tomorrow" is this Thursday—with the Lions hosting the St. Louis Cards...

When you drive through Hines Park and notice young men of high school age running down the side of the road, you have to know that they are getting ready for the start of practice two weeks from Monday...

When work filters down from Olympia that the Detroit Red Wings again will do their training at Grand River and McGraw and our Pistons make ready to start their drills just four weeks hence...

When the sandlot baseball season has just about run its course, except for championship encounters on the district, regional, state—and even national—levels.

Talking about baseball, this has to be the biggest day in the lives of some Redford Township youngsters—the boys who make up the Dependable Hard Chrome team and are playing Mt. Pleasant at Tiger Stadium in the state finals of the Detroit Free Press' annual tournament.

It's flattering, to say the least, that one of "our" teams has gone so far in the state-wide Free Press competition and has moved within an eyelash of winning a trip to Johnstown, Pa., for next week's All America Boys Tournament.

We have heard a great deal said about the "calibre" of sandlot baseball in the Greater Livonia area. It can't be that bad when you can come up with a team like Dependable, or one like North Redford's State Connie Mack champs of a year ago.

Much of the credit for the success of the Dependable team belongs to Al Turner and Bob Atkins, two men who have given most of their time, summer after summer, to young baseball players. Their efforts have paid off with handsome dividends.

The phone rang the other afternoon. It was Dick Simmons, the auto racer on the other end. "Hey, George," he inquired, "how did you get that stuff I'm in my '40's... almost 50, the story said?"

We shrugged our shoulders.

"That's the way I think the track publicity man sent us the story," we countered. "Or maybe it was a typographical error."

"Well, I'm only 36," continued Simmons. "My friends and family have been ribbing me to death." So, there you have it... right from the man's own mouth.

You can see that men are just as vain as women... when it comes to their ages.

May we suggest that if you haven't already... you should order your tickets as soon as possible for the Lions' big exhibition game with the Baltimore Colts at Tiger Stadium on Sept. 1.

There's something special about this game. It more than brings together two of the arch rivals in the National Football League.

A good share of the proceeds will be turned over to the Children's Hospital by the Free Press. Last year, we're told, the hospital received over $50,000.

Some in our Observer audience may hasten to say: "Why should we out here worry about a hospital that's in Detroit?"

Well, simply, we're told that the Children's Hospital throws its doors open to kids from every-

Wagering Nears Record; Longshot Winner in 'Cap

DRC Off to Best Start in Years

A record-breaking start put a rosy touch to the outlook for the future as the Detroit Race Course moved through the second week of its 84-day meeting.

"Good Neighbor Week" is being celebrated at the DRC this week. This is a salute to all racing fans in the metropolitan Detroit area. The Observer in its last week's edition carried coupons good for admission during "Good Neighbor Week." The first six days of the DRC meeting were marked by excellent racing, fine crowds and record action at the mutual windows. The opening week drew crowds totaling 84,338 fans who wagered $5,885,389. This was an average handle of $980,898 daily. It was the highest six-day wagering average in the 18-year history of the track. As a prelude to "Good Neighbor Week," the big Saturday program was topped by the $15,000 added Good Neighbor Stake.

The event drew an outstanding field of 14 excellent handicap stars for the one mile and 70 yard event.

The winner was an outsider, Bonny Johnny, from the stable of Richard S. Reynolds, the aluminum tycoon, and L. R. O'Brien. Bonny Johnny, a six-year-old son of Sea Charger-Scotch Bonnet was well up in the big field through the early running. Jockey Frank Pacheco had Bonny Johnny in fifth place for the first three-quarters of a mile.

Then Pacheco found racing room between horses and rallied at the head of the stretch to take over and win by three-quarters of a length.

A Canadian invader, Gaudesco, ridden by Noel Turcotte, was second with M. H. Van Berg's Grand Stand in third place.

Grand Stand was the hard luck performer of the Good Neighbor. Frank Callico, who had the mount on the Van Berg star, found it difficult to get racing room.

Coming into the stretch he was forced to go to the outside and circle the entire field.

The secondary feature, the $5,000 Mayor's Day purse was won by the well-regarded Lad O' War, racing in the colors of Detroit sportsman T. A. Grissom.

Grissom and Van Berg each won three races on the big program.

Larry Snyder, who captured the jockey honors at Hazel Park with 82 victories, was off to a fast start in his bid to duplicate the performance at the DRC.

In the opening week, Snyder had eight victories. Bob Gallimore, who rode Old Hat to victory in the Michigan Mile last season and came here to ride throughout the current DRC meeting, is the runner-up with six victories.

Dewey Smith, training for Grissom, and Robert L. Irwin handling the stable of Van Berg, were deadlocked for training honors in the early standings. Each saddled seven winners.

The $15,000 Rose Leaves, a mile and 70 yard event for three-year-old and up, fillies and mares, tops another outstanding card this Saturday.

Plymouth Optimists Assured Tourney Spot

Thanks to the strong arm and bat of Jack Robertson the Plymouth Optimists baseball team is tournament bound.

They'll either wind up in the state Class D tourney or the Intercities meet.

They're in the driver's seat in the Greater Livonia playoffs—the lone unbeaten survivor as the Optimists prepare to engage either the Phillippi Giants of Livonia or Dearborn Dad's Club at Livonia's Henry Ford field this Wednesday evening.

The Giants and Dad's Club were to fight in a battle of survival on Monday evening as each team took the field with one loss in the double elimination meet.

The winner of the Livonia playoff goes to the state meet at Jackson, the loser to the Intercities to be played at a spot to be named this week. If necessary, the Optimists would have two shots to take the playoff crown, because of their unbeaten record.

As for Robertson, a product of Plymouth high, this is what he accomplished in successive playoff games:

1.—Against Dearborn, he pitched a two-hitter in a 5-2 win. He also socked out a pair of hits to figure in four of his team's runs.

2.—Against Earl Morrall of North Redford, Robertson relieved Dan Camp and picked up the save in a 4-3 triumph. The Camp-Robertson combination gave up three hits between them. Jim Arnold had two singles to top the winners' attack.

3.—Then it was Robertson receiving credit for the victory in a 5-4 verdict over Dearborn Heights. Mike Lockwood knocked in two runs with a single, but it was John Adams who emerged as the big hero in the seventh when he socked a homer with one mate aboard. It was Adams' first circuit of the season and it put his team in the playoff final.

The Livonia Phillippi Giants picked up three victories while losing only to Earl Morrall during the week.

The Giants won over Adray of Dearborn, 5-1, as Larry Russas allowed two hits, struck out ten and walked three. Gary Birkett and Russas each had two hits to spark the winners.

Fred Davies turned in a neat four-hitter in blanking the Livonia Angels, 2-0. The winners picked up only three hits—two by Birkett and one by Bill Hellstein.

The two runs came in the third inning when Hellstein singled, Davis walked and Birkett drove them both in.

Bill McAlpine was the losing pitcher. He fanned five, walked five and hit five. Davies struck out nine and walked two.

The Giants won from the Livonia Lakers, 5-2, on Chris Wendrick's five-hitter. Paul Harige had three hits and Dave Stott two for the winners. Hank Schoenbeck suffered the loss.

The Giants fell to the Earl Morrall team, 4-2, as Rick Barryman chalked up the victory with some clutch pitching in the final inning when the Giants had runners on first and third with only one out.

Barryman fanned the next two men to bring his total of "whiffs" for the game to 12. He walked only three.

Mike Riley had two hits for the winners and lost a homer in the sixth inning when he forgot to touch second base. The Giants detected the oversight, played the ball to the bag and made an appeal play after Riley had circled the sacks.

The Morrall team was bounced to the sidelines when beaten by the Livonia Angels, 6-4. Chuck Mellas and Dave Dobson picked up two hits for the winners while Mark Ross and Kendrick each had a pair of safeties for Morrall.

The winning pitcher was the Angels' Macy.

With the approach of the 1966 football season, the American Medical Association's Committee on Medical Aspects of Sports again reminds coaches and trainers and parents of players to be wary of the athlete who has continual or recurring back pains, even if the pains aren't disabling.

Serious disabling injuries of the back are unusual in sports among persons who have a sound spine to begin with. Contusions of the muscles, strains of the ligaments and even fractures of various aspects of the lumbar vertebrae ordinarily heal under medical supervision with no persistent disability in from two to six weeks. If disability persists beyond six weeks, the physician will search for some underlying defect in the spine or its juncture with the sacrum.

Congenital defects of the spine are rare and might not be detected. Unless they produce obvious external signs they aren't ordinarily recognized during childhood. During adolescence, however, heavier stresses are placed on the spine by the greater size and weight and more strenuous activities of the individual. When the boy or girl becomes active in athletics, pain in the back or spasm of the back muscles may appear for the first time.

Unless there has been a history of injury these difficulties are often discounted as "back strain" or "growing pains." Continuation of athletic activities, especially contact sports such as football, may then result in an injury which becomes chronically disabling because of the underlying defect.

The only way to prevent serious chronically disabling back conditions in young athletes is by detecting and rigidly excluding those who have significant birth defects of the spine from sports which pose a high risk of injury to the back. The significance of a defect can only be determined by medical evaluation.

Excluding such individuals from sports with a high risk factor may seem harsh when the player is able. But counting on such a player for continuing service can have disastrous results, both to the team which risks losing his services at a crucial period in the season, and to the individual who risks disabling injury.

Arabians, Morgans, and Appaloosas will be the featured animals in the Second Division shows, slated for Monday evening through Thursday evening. Top rid-

Teams Fade Out

It was McK's by a 2-0 score over Lincoln Jark as Russ Wade fired a two-hitter, struck out nine and walked two.

Norb Podwoiski doubled in both the McK's runs, chasing in Dave Ventura who had doubled and Wiechowski who had singled.

McK's kept going, downing Wyandotte, 9-4, with Al Kaminnieke the winning pitcher. The Garden City team counted six times in the sixth inning to put the game out of reach.

Wade had two hits for McK's and knocked in two of the runs in the sixth.

With Greg Pike hurling a three-hitter, McK's made it three straight wins by downing Trenton, 4-2.

McK's tallied twice in the first on a walk to Ventura, a fielder's choice and single by Jerry Kaske. In the third, Wiechowski doubled and Huber singled him in. Huber scored on a sacrifice and an error.

Elimination came for McK's in a heart-breaking 1-0 loss to Flint. Carl Stevens flipped a two-hitter for the losers who themselves were limited to three hits—singles by Huber, Ventura and Eddie Puishes.

A hit, two walks and squeeze bunt produced the only run of the game.

'Big Daddy' To Take on 'Mad Greek'

"Big Daddy" Don Garlits, the number one drag racer in the nation, takes on challenger Chris Karamesinos, the "Mad Greek" from Chicago, at Detroit Dragway this Saturday in a best of three match.

Garlits, 33, will drive the latest in a long line of drag racing machines, the Wynn's Charger—a 21-foot long, orange-red nitromethane burning Dodge dragster that has consistently clocked over 200 mph since its first race last Spring.

Opponent Karamesinos, driving a Plymouth rail, the Chizler, is also a veteran of the drag strips, and one of the half dozen men who have held the drag racing limelight for the past decade.

Ford Plans To Honor Top JC Chapter

Ford Motor Company will award a silver trophy to the Jaycee chapter whose efforts contribute most to the success of the first annual Michigan Jaycee Football Classic, it was announced today by Paul D. Bagwell, Chairman of the Board of the Michigan Jaycee Foundation.

The trophy will be presented in special ceremonies between halves of the Detroit Lions - St. Louis Cardinals football game at Tiger Stadium on Thursday, Aug. 11 at 8 p.m. Accepting the award along with the winning chapter president will be Wendell Smith, of Plymouth, President of the Michigan Jaycees.

This game marks the first time the Michigan Jaycees and the Michigan Jaycee Foundation have co-sponsored a professional football game. Proceeds from the game will go to the Michigan Jaycee Foundation, a non-profit organization. These funds will be used to finance Jaycee community and civic development programs throughout Michigan.

Presenting the 24-inch, silver trophy to the winning chapter will be Frank T. Judge, Jr., Ford Motor Company's Community Relations Manager.

About 47 per cent of doctor of philosophy degrees are awarded in the physical and biological sciences.

The annual Michigan State Fair is just around the corner and those of us connected with the Pistons are happy that the team will share in the spotlight from Sept. 1-5 with a series of twice daily demonstrations—one in the afternoon and another in the evening.

You'll see such Pistons' veterans as Player-Coach Dave DeBusschere, Eddie Miles, Tom Van Arsdale and John Tresvant and also get a chance to meet Dave Bing, the team's No. 1 draft choice.

The Pistons will stage some clinics, demonstrations and also give youngsters a chance to show their stuff against the professionals. Admission will be free and you may take home with you a free Pistons' basketball or tickets to one of the team's home games during the coming season.

Two new appointments were made at Northville State Hospital. The first is that of Mrs. Patricia Taylor as Activity Therapy Coordinator, to a newly created position.

John B. Moir is the new head of the Psychology Department, serving in that position also as an important member of the hospital's treatment teams. Northville State Hospital's new dimensions are on the basis of several units, each with as many team members as possible.

Although Mrs. Taylor at the present is supervising therapists in each of the hospital's eight units, Moir and Frank Haas, 650 Gladstone, Detroit, serve the entire 2,300 bed hospital.

Mrs. Taylor was employed with the Veterans Administration and the Indiana University Medical Center at Indianapolis. She was formerly Director of Adjunctive Therapy at the Menninger Foundation in Topeka, Kan., and Consultant in Adjunctive Therapy to the Kansas State Hospital.

Two important promotions in Chevrolet Motor Division's manufacturing organization were announced by Linus J. Rausch, general manufacturing manager.

Thomas J. Carroll, who has been manager of the manufacturing research and development department, has been named manager of facilities and production planning. He succeeds Dale D. Douglas, who retired recently after more than 39 years of service.

James E. Tobias, who was promoted to manager of assembly research and development department one year ago today, will succeed Carroll, Rausch said.

Both appointments are effective immediately.

Bret Is Great

Another "first" for which the great pacer, Bret Hanover, is evidently headed is that he'll probably be the first to average more than $200,000 a year earnings in a racing career. When, this June, he became the top money-winning pacer of all time, at $712,132, he was averaging $237,377 per annum, with his third year in competition barely begun. Nearest to Bret Hanover among the top ten money-makers, on the average, is trotter Speedy Scot, which earned at a rate of $162,727 in a four-year career from 1962-65.

Horse Lovers Will Get Their Fill at State Fair

Some people like highly trained riding horses. Some thrill to the excitement of cattle cutting and other Western contests. Some admire the huge draft horses. High-stepping ponies please others.

But they all like horses. And they'll all like the 117th annual Michigan State Fair, which opens Friday, Aug. 26, and runs through Monday, Sept. 5 (Labor Day).

Fifteen horse shows are scheduled in the Coliseum. All will be free to State Fair patrons. Shows will be held at 7 each evening of the Fair except Labor Day. In addition, afternoon shows will start at 1 on all four weekend days and on Labor Day.

First Division horse shows, from Friday, Aug. 26, through Sunday, Aug. 28, will feature Palominos, quarter horses and parade horses.

A top feature will be cattle cutting, with contests at each show and the finals winding up the Sunday evening show. Girls barrel racing and girls goat tying contests also are on the schedule. Adding to the Western flavor will be an oldtime Western costume cavalcade at the Saturday afternoon show.

Arabians, Morgans, and Appaloosas will be the featured animals in the Second Division shows, slated for Monday evening through Thursday evening. Top rid-

Pistons Pick New Trainer For 1966-67

Appointment of Harold L. (Bud) Shockro as new trainer of the Detroit Pistons basketball club has been announced by General Manager Edwin E. Coil.

Shockro, who has been serving sports teams since 1950, spent eight years in the Chicago White Sox farm system and more recently has been trainer for the basketball and hockey teams at Providence College.

In addition, he has been with the Pittsfield Red Sox in the Eastern Baseball League the past two summers.

Shockro, 40, replaces Don Friederichs, who was the dean of National Basketball Association trainers, until he resigned at the end of the 1965-66 season.

The new addition to the Pistons' staff will report to the club in time for the start of training at St. Clair, on Sept. 12.

More Homes Being Built This Year

The number of new residential units permitted in Wayne County during the first six months of 1966 showed an 8 per cent gain over the corresponding 1965 period.

Figures just released by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission in its semi-annual report on housing authorizations, revealed that Wayne County permitted 5,014 units in the first half of 1966 as compared to 4,638 during the comparable 1965 period.

Significantly, Wayne County's increase is attributed to a higher incidence of multi-family activity.

While permits for multiple units increased from 1,870 to 2,374 units, single family permits dropped by 142 units.

Broken down by area, the list of permits issued shows:

Ford Labor-Payroll Set All-Time Highs

Ford Motor Company worldwide employment and payrolls for the first half of 1966 were at the highest levels of any six-month period in the company's history.

Ford reported that its U.S. operations and subsidiaries around the world employed an average of 382,674 men and women during the first half of the year—21,571 more than the 361,103 employed in the comparable 1965 period.

Worldwide payrolls of $1,391,368,000 were up more than $108 million from the 1965 first-half figure of $1,283,156,000.

Ford U.S. employment (including Philco Corporation) reached a record average of 230,607 in the first half of 1966—up 15,780 from an average of 214,827 men and women employed a year ago. Nearly 7,700 of the employment increase was in Michigan.

Ford U.S. payrolls (also including Philco) rose to a record $1,092,993,000 in the January-June period. This was more than $80,000,000 higher than the $1,012,457,000 paid to employees in the first six months of 1965.

Gross average hourly earnings of $3.62 for Ford's U.S. hourly rated employees also set a record for the period. The comparable 1965 figure was $3.56.

I-H Opens New Facility in Farmington

International Sales & Service is completing a new facility on 8-Mile Road near Middlebelt Road in Farmington Township, just west and north of Detroit to replace the Oak Park facility which handled International industrial tractors and equipment for the Detroit area.

The Farmington facility was opened on Aug. 1. The firm will handle International industrial tractors and equipment as well as International motor trucks.

The new building has 7,200 square feet of space and is located on a two-acre site. The building is of conventional design and masonry construction and has a masonry warehouse comprising some 2,400 square feet. The shop area covers 4,200 square feet including a 21x30-foot paint room. It has eight service stalls and will be equipped with complete shop tools and an air exhaust system.

Charles Hamburg is the manager of the new 12-man sales and service facility, which also will have an 8,000 square foot barter lot. Don Stevens is assistant manager.

Special ceremonies include an open house and a new product show during the week of Sept. 26, Mr. Hamburg said.

Underground System Boosts Lawn, Seedlings

How can you help assure survival of new lawn seedlings?

An underground watering system is one means.

There is a do-it-yourself plastic system on the market.

The plastic pipe and sprinkler heads should be laid out on the lawn before being buried.

This permits a check on the spray pattern.

The system is hooked into a regular outdoor faucet and is activated by a time clock that turns the sprinklers on and off.

Such a system is good for bentgrass turfs, which need more attention.

But it will give good watering control, especially in time of drought.

Garden Epidemics Cost Over $5 Billion

You may not think about it in your little garden, but plant disease epidemics cost Americans about $5 billion each year.

A South African plant specialist, Dr. James E. van der Plank, speaking at a world workshop recently at Pennsylvania State University, said a plant disease takes on epidemic form when it attacks whole populations of plants.

The disease may devastate large areas where huge plantings of crops grow side by side.

Once started, the epidemic sweeps through closely planted fields, said Dr. van der Plank, who is chief of the Plant Protection Research Institute in the South African Department of Agriculture.

He explained the intensity of an epidemic depends on "a disease triangle" involving the host (plant) the pathogen (viruses, bacteria or fungi) and the environment.

A change in any of the three can make an epidemic worse or halt it.

Plant pathologists try to alter either the environment or the host to control an epidemic.

They change the environment with pesticides. They try to control temperature and humidity levels since the pathogen can operate only under specific climatic conditions.

But maintaining these conditions is costly and difficult outdoors.

Host alteration is achieved by breeding more resistant plants. Various crops are being mated with more disease-resistant varieties.

Van der Plank reported that in his work on increasing the resistance of potatoes to disease, a Mexican weed,

Warn Elderly to Beware Of Home Repair Thieves

The nation's elderly house owners are being singled out by a thief who can't be stopped by locks on the doors and windows.

Most of the time, according to the National Better Business Bureau, he just knocks, smiles and fast talks the owner into inviting him to look around.

When he leaves, the elderly citizen has been sipped out of part of his hard-won savings.

Who is this smooth operator? He's the home improvement swindler, a man who specializes in bilking the unwary into signing contracts for unnecessary home repairs.

The Better Business Bureau says its reports show the 18 million Americans in the 65-and-over bracket are particularly vulnerable to this type of swindler. As for the confidence men, they divide themselves into specialties.

There is the gutter repairman, the chimney repairman, the roofing expert, the siding expert and the electrical wiring man.

According to the Better Business Bureau, "There are probably thousands of homes around the country with unneeded new roofs, new furnaces, or new wiring because some high pressure salesman convinced elderly home owners they were in imminent danger."

To prove its case, the Business Bureau cited some examples.

One 89-year-old woman was bilked out of nearly $4,000 by a man posing as a sewer inspector.

Another paid $5,800 for an aluminum siding job later estimated by a contractor to be worth $660.

Still another elderly man looking for a retirement home found he had bought a lava bed rather than the lot he wanted.

What can be done to keep the home repair thief out of the home?

The Business Bureau says the best defense is common sense. It warns elderly home owners to:

- Beware of the man who rings the doorbell and says he just happens to be in the neighborhood with his home repair equipment.

- Investigate all bargain offers before putting any money down.

- If a firm or individual is unknown in the area, check the local Chamber of Commerce or the Better Business Bureau.

Lawn Seed Usually Free of Crabgrass

Crabgrass does not generally come with the lawn seed you buy. This villain is present in moist soils and often hides there dormant for years.

Then, when you prepare the seedbed, air and light cause seeds to sprout.

What is the best defense against crabgrass, doctor?

A thick turf of perennial grasses; a dense Kentucky-bluegrass-fine fescue lawn mowed tall, or a thick sward of Highland bent to resist invasion by weeds.

Crabgrass cannot fight shade in tall-mown bluegrass any better than it survives under trees.

Samples from 2,000 lots of grass seed (20 million seeds) checked for weed contamination uncovered not a single crabgrass seed, according to Dr. Robert Schery, director of The Lawn Institute.

Staircase Perspective Pleasant to Gaze at

To decorate either indoor or outdoor staircases, line the sides with colorful foliage plants, such as caladiums, with all pots set in clay saucers.

If you place larger pots at the bottom and diminish the size of the clay pots on each step, you'll achieve a pleasing perspective.

Start Your Attack Now Those Chewing Insects, No Joke for Homeowners

"What's eating you?" said the maple to the birch.

The question may sound like the opening line of a comedian's routine, but it's no joke for the homeowner whose trees are being defoliated or destroyed by chewing insects.

"Now homeowners who find themselves faced with an invasion of insects destroying precious trees around the family home can mount a counter-attack and do it safely," according to International Minerals & Chemical Corporation, Skokie, Ill.

A new microbial insecticide now is available through local arborists for the control of many of the dangerous leaf-chewing insects attacking shade and ornamental trees at this time of year. The product is completely harmless to humans, pets, birds, fish and other wildlife. There is no dangerous toxic residue, and nearby shrubs or flowers are not damaged in case of wind drift during spraying, IMC explains.

Called Thuricide 90TS, this insect control product is highly selective in its lethal capabilities. It is effective primarily against leaf-chewing insects, including moths, cankerworms, caterpillars, webworms, leafrollers and loopers.

Thuricide is federally registered for use on forest and shade trees, and ornamentals, and has been used successfully in a number of major insect control programs in national parks and forests.

The product is most effective when used as a spray by professional arborists. IMC recommends homeowners consult their local arborist when they first suspect insect damage or early infestation of their trees.

"Early diagnosis and treatment when worms are still small has proven the most effective control in extensive field tests on private property as well as large forest acreage," explains an IMC spokesman.

"And a professional arborist has the experience to accurately evaluate the insect threat and which treatment to use for maximum effectiveness and safety.

"He also has the right type application equipment to do the job a homeowner demands when his trees are in danger of being infested with worms."

IMC reminds homeowners that a tree requires many years to reach the beauty of maturity, but a severe infestation of slimy worms can defoliate or destroy it in one season if allowed to go unchecked.

"Contrast the dignity and esthetic value of a lush, healthy tree as a feature of a family's landscape plan with the disgusting worm-infested branches of a tree which has not received timely attention.

"An early call to a professional arborist can remedy such troubles in less than a week, because new control measures such as Thuricide 90TS are effective means of keeping trees healthy and beautiful, with complete safety to other forms of life."

Hardboard Ideal For All-Purpose Kiddies' Board

A combination playboard-blackboard for kiddies can be made in an hour from an 18" x 24" piece of hardboard available at lumber yards.

One side of the smooth-both-sides, splinter-free hardboard is ideal for their play with clay, paint, paste or other sticky materials. Wipe clean with a damp cloth.

To make this useful board, round the corners with a file or sandblock. Then brush green or black slating compound on one side for a chalking board. On it, youngsters can draw or do their arithmetic. Wipe off writing with a dry cloth.

To hang it, drill holes at upper corners. Add a piece of grooved wood molding for a chalk trough.

Industry Offers New Program In Seed Planting

In line with the beautification program sponsored by President Lyndon B. Johnson, National Garden Bureau, the educational service of the garden seed industry, offers a new program, "Plant Seeds to Make America Beautiful."

This is a collection of 35mm kodachrome slides showing how people in their homes, places of business and communities have used annual flowers to enhance the landscape. It is sent, complete with script, to any organization, for the price of postage and insurance both ways.

"Newest Flower Fashions," a 35mm kodachrome slide presentation of new flowers, including the 1966 All-America Selections winners, now is available in a 1966 edition. It, too, has a script to complete it.

Other current slide (with script) programs are "See What Seeds Can Do For You," "First Steps in Arranging Annual Flowers" and "Ideas for Making Your Garden Gay."

There are also two current quiz programs: "Show Off Your Knowledge of Annual Flowers" and "Mix 'N Match Vegetables and Their Flowers."

A certificate for seeds and seed prizes are awarded to the three highest winners each time one of these quiz programs is used.

Organizations which have borrowed National Garden Bureau programs during the past year include garden clubs, senior and junior, women's and men's, 4-H Clubs, Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls, horticultural societies and county agents, libraries, church flower guilds; Lions, Kiwanis and Rotary luncheon groups and many types of community organizations.

All programs are shipped on loan, the group borrowing a program paying only for postage and insurance both ways.

If your group is interested write for a request form to National Garden Bureau, 708 W. Long Lake Road, Bloomfield Hills, 48013.

225 Women Set To Ring Bells For Fund Drive

Plymouth's Community Fund united-giving campaign Oct. 10-Nov. 4 will make a determined and systematic effort to give all community residents a chance to give in support of the 13 agencies, for whom a 1967 budget of $88,543 has been adopted.

School children will have opportunity to learn of the services of the fund agencies—and to make their individual contributions.

Employed people will be encouraged to pledge on a payroll deduction plan at their places of work.

And, to reach the homebound, the housewives and retirees, a task force of 225 women volunteer "bell ringers" literally will ring doorbells to put the Fund story across.

The Plymouth campaign organization is now firm with Edward W. Schening, Burroughs Corporation plant manager, as general chairman. Assisting him are two Burroughs executives—Bernard V. Hart and Eber J. Readman—while William P. Scott of DSI Corporation is director of promotion.

Hart will organize the training of the hundreds of volunteer workers and "bell ringers."

Seven group chairmen are recruiting their aides and perfecting their solicitation plans.

William McKeel Retires from W. Electric

Traveling, farming and a continued interest in his home at 20155 Whipple Drive, Northville, will occupy the leisure time of William W. McKeel who retired from Western Electric Company recently.

He was a Department Chief in charge of Production and Inspection at the Michigan Distribution Center at 905 N. Sheldon Road, Plymouth.

McKeel joined the Western Electric Company at Hawthorne Works in Cicero, Ill., in 1923 as an assembler and inspector. He returned to college in 1926 but was back at Hawthorne for the summer of 1928 and returned to Western at the Detroit Distributing House in June of 1929 for good.

During his more than 38 years of service he held assignments of service clerk, Methods investigator, production supervisor prior to his present assignment.

McKeel and his wife, Lois, have one daughter and one grandchild. His son-in-law, Robert Pratt, is an employee of the Western Electric Company.

They include: Harold Fischer (Industrial) with a quota of $56,700; Earl West (Business) with a $22,800 quota; Mrs. Kenneth L. Hulsing (Residential) and a $9,000 quota; Roland Bonamici (Advance Gifts) with a quota of $3,000; Russell Isbister (Educational) and a $4,100 quota; Donald J. Davies, D.D.S. (Professional) with a quota of $3,000; and Robert Beyer (Governmental) and a $1,400 quota.

Mrs. Hulsing's "bell ringer" force of 225 workers is organized for residential solicitation under the direction of 40 area captains. The Plymouth city captains will include Mrs. Richard Neale, Mrs. Harry J. Luce, Mrs. William Leonard, Mrs. Herbert Norgrove, Mrs. Terry Tallmadge, Mrs. Leo Singleton, Mrs. John Roose, Mrs. LaVern Sly, Mrs. Eugene Connor, Mrs. W. K. Lewis, Mrs. Robert J. Conley, Mrs. Roger Vaughn and Mrs. Russell C. Koepke.

Serving with Mrs. Hulsing for the Plymouth township area will be: Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wilhelm, Mrs. Russell Isbister, Mrs. A. H. Miller, Mrs. Bruce Richards, Mrs. Robert Taylor, Mrs. Martin J. Stiglich, Mrs. John Wiltse, Mrs. Cecil Ronk, Mrs. John O'Connor, Mrs. Foster Kisabeth, Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Harold A. Micol, Mrs. Peter Tonkovich and Mrs. James Logsdon.

Other township captains are Mrs. Arden Sackett, Mrs. G. D. Piller, Mrs. L. E. Rehner, Mrs. Harland Smith, Mrs. Vera Williams, Mrs. LaVerne Jones, Mrs. John Close, Mrs. Roland Godfrey, Mrs. James Wiltse, Mrs. Goodwin Crumble, Mrs. Jack Penland and Mrs. Daniel P. McCulloch.

Two Plymouth students were among the graduates at the summer commencement exercises of Evangel College in Springfield, Mo.

Shirley Puckett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O.N. Puckett, 14605 Haggerty Road, received a Bachelor degree in elementary education. As a student at Evangel, she was resident assistant in her dormitory, member of the Student National Education Association and a member of the college band.

Joseph Wallace, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wallace Sr., 47919 Joy Road, received a bachelor's degree in art education. During his collegiate career, he was president of the Art Club and a member of the yearbook staff.

Versatile Vinyl
Plastics are fashion's newest favorite in materials. Plastic vamps in pumps give shoes a naked look. Vinyls show up not only as raincoats, but also for suits and pants costumes.

BREAKING GROUND for the new Vico Products building is Mrs. Bertie Schultz, wife of Owner-President Leo Schultz (at her left) while General Manager Robert Schultz (right) and Township Supervisor John McEwen look on. The new facility is located on Ann Arbor Road, opposite the Elks Club, and it will have 50,000 square feet when completed, twice the size of the present structure.

Socially Speaking Around Plymouth
By Dorothy Sincock GL 3-0038
(Call to report social events in your family, neighborhood)

Back from the National Convention of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs Inc. are Connie Aldrich, president of the Plymouth Club, and Vice President Daisy Proctor.

They attended all sessions of the national meeting in Atlanta, Ga., starting July 24 and concluding on July 28.

Gov. Carl Sanders, of Georgia, and Mayor Ivan Allen, Jr., of Atlanta, were the official greeters of the opening session. J. Paul Austin, president of the Coca Cola Co., in Atlanta, was the keynote.

Highlight of the sessions was the Top Hat ceremonies on Monday when the National Federation of BPW honored individuals and organizations who have made a significant contribution toward advancing the status of employed women.

And Connie and Daisy had an opportunity to meet and hear "Minnie Pearl, America's foremost country-style comedienne, at a special reception for "Gold Card" members who had introduced five new members to the organization during the past year.

It was a colorful affair from the start and Connie and Daisy expect to have complete reports to make to the Plymouth Club shortly.

The Plymouth Senior Citizens Club will resume meeting at the Masonic Temple as soon as the remodeling and redecorating is completed. There will be a regular meeting on Aug. 11, a birthday meeting on Aug. 18 and a pot luck on Aug. 26.

Meanwhile, members are making plans to attend the baseball game between the Detroit Tigers and the Baltimore Orioles on Aug. 20.

PCF Gets Aid From Agencies

Through its relationship with United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit, the Plymouth Community Fund is able to offer certain services not based in the community itself.

For that purpose, the Fund has budgeted $11,223 of its $88,543 resources so that the myriad U.C.S. services may be available in 1967. The united-giving campaign to raise the $88,543 is scheduled for the Oct. 10-Nov. 4 period. Dr. William Covington, a Plymouth dentist, is president of the Fund.

To illustrate the wide range of patient care provided last year through United Community Services, some 20 agencies were called upon to help Plymouth community people in need.

Services extended in the last year included social hygiene, cancer laboratory, Leader Dogs, Better Hearing, Mentally Retarded Children, Epilepsy Center, Heart Association, Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, multiple sclerosis, Sister Kenny and Children's Aid.

Other Plymouth referrals and resulting service involved the Welfare League, League for Nursing, Society for Mental Health, Recreation Association, cerebral palsy, United Seamen's League, United Service Organization and the Polio Foundation.

When Plymouth community residents are in need of U.C.S. services they can get action through their physician, a public health nurse or the Visiting Nurse Association.

All referrals should be channeled to United Community Services, 51 W. Warren St., Detroit 48201. The phone is 833-0622.

Gets Tech Training

Airman Richard M. Donnelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Donnelly, 17500 Lathers, Livonia, has been selected for technical training at Lowry AFB, Colo., as a U.S. Air Force aircraft weapons systems specialist.

LEADER DOG SERVICE, providing the assurance of safety and companionship to the blind, is one of many helps available to Plymouth residents through their Community Fund.

70 Join in Orientation Program at High School

With a record enrollment of more than 1,400 expected at Plymouth High School when the 1966-7 school term opens, Principal Carvel Bentley and Assistant Principals John Hoben and Gus Gorgoze were happy with the turnout of more than 70 for the orientation program for new students Monday.

"We realize that there will be perhaps as many as 500 new pupils at the senior high this fall," said Hoben, who served as chairman of the program. "We were well satisfied with the turnout at the first of the two orientation programs scheduled."

The second is listed for Monday, Aug. 22 at 9 a.m. and school officials are looking for more than 150 to attend.

The program included a film of a typical high school, short talks on the aims, goals and purposes of Plymouth High. This was followed by a tour of the facilities.

Principal Bentley will be in charge of the second of the series on Aug. 22.

Sound the sad song in September. "Club 1270" folds up its tables for the last time, Sept. 3. The reason? Well, maybe you can figure it. Generally the blame is on rating reduction but the show is tops in its slot with higher ratings than ever. The fact of the matter lies in the network taking more time than ever from the local stations across the country.

Apparently ABC feels that it can better serve the needs of local communities with such artistic achievements as "O.K. Crackerby" or "The Double Life of Henry Phfyfe." As a result, no less than four locally-produced programs will be eliminated from the WXYZ program schedules, being replaced with additional network programming.

For "Club 1270" it marks the end of the longest and most successful run of any local dance party type show. Since January of 1962, the program has continued on a weekly basis, featuring such names as Trini Lopez, Brenda Lee, Chuck Berry, the Everly Brothers, the Righteous Brothers, Connie Francis, Gene Pitney, Chubby Checker, Johnny Rivers, the Beatles, Nancy Wilson, The Rolling Stones, and the list goes on—matching in quality most national network attractions. But it's over soon and perhaps for the better. Perhaps it may help other, similar programs across the country by proving with its absence that there is a market for good local programming.

Speaking of the networks, the pressure increases for movie product as the best bet for rewarding ratings seems to be Hollywood hits, the more recent the better. Among the features lined up for this fall's air fare:

ABC—"The V.I.P.'s," "The Prize," "High Society," "The Young Lions," "Bus Stop," and "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea."
CBS—"Baby the Rain Must Fall," "Behold a Pale Horse," "Breakfast at Tiffany's," "Bye Bye Birdie," "The Incredible Mr. Limpet," "Lilies of the Field," "The Long Ships," "Man Who Shot Liberty Valance," "One Eyed Jacks," "Popeye," "Psycho," "PT 109," "Raisin in the Sun," "Rat Patrol," and "The Victors."
NBC—"Come September," "Flower Drum Song," "The Ugly American," "Visit to a Small Planet," "Teacher's Pet," and "Rear Window."

Also scheduled for the home movie set are such "specials" as "Music Man" (CBS) and "Bridge on the River Kwai" (ABC). Since some of the films scheduled for next season are as recent as 1965, it's easy to see where in another year or two TV will have caught up with almost all of the available Hollywood product.

Then what will happen is still up to speculation. Who knows—TV may be forced to look for an original idea.

Wally Roberts UP' GOING CURTAIN

"Thurber Carnival" as done in the outdoor Quirk Amphitheater on the Eastern Michigan University Campus was the perfect antidote for a warm summer evening. A capable cast, clever stage settings, and the charming costumes had an infectious quality that made the Ypsilanti night air sing and swing.

Director James Gousseff deserves a double accolade for his competent staging of this delightful musical revue... and designing such an attractive set. His concept of the fun-filled "Thurber Carnival" was fresh and had an attractiveness that held the audience's attention for the full two hours of the show's performance time.

The colorful costumes as planned by Dianna Rose were perfect and eye-catching as they were framed by a basic white and black background. The large Thurber cartoon that festooned the black-white sets were done by Raymond Nichols. Immediately upon entering the pleasant court amphitheater those huge Thurber figures put you into a congenial mood for the show.

Director Gousseff had assembled a comic covey of capable actors for this sharp, sophisticated musical revue. Dale Bellaire was the top banana. His facial grimaces, double takes and delayed comic bits stopped the show in most of his sketches. In "Walter Mitty" even Old Wally fell off his seat onto the grassy slope of the amphitheater when Dale rolled his eyes and assumed various farcial poses.

Robert MacGonigal did most of the Tom Ewell parts. Tom did the original version. MacGonigal's style does differ greatly from veteran comic Ewell; however, he has a way of working an audience until they are firmly in the palm of his hand. Bob garnered loads of laughs and was outstanding in "Gentleman Shoppers."

On the distaff side Cheryl Bellaire, Linda Siglin, Donna Stanton, and Anne-Marie Lowell proved that a comedienne can be beautiful and still wrench laughs out of an audience. The versatility of the entire group of actors which included Dave Siglin, John Stanton, and Richard Jedele was the most apparent as they switched characters from scene to scene. Dave Siglin as Thurber in "File and Forget" presented a mirth-provoking portrayal of all mankind when it meets a frustrating problem head-on and loses the battle. It was a comic gem.

Only disturbing note in the entire evening's hilarity was the lack of a live jazz combo. "Thurber Carnival" without this accompaniment lacks a little of the zing necessary to put this satiric revue "over the top." However, the use of taped music plus some accomplished dancers ably coached by Choreographer Judith Roche did ease old Wally's temporary depression.

"Thurber Carnival" was, indeed, summer fun. Let's hope Director Gousseff can persuade the powers that be that an extension of such summer fun might be in order when 1967 rolls around. Old Wally, for one, would like to see the EMU players offer at least three plays for a summer bill.

Wylar Comedy Opens in Livonia

"How to Steal a Million" is director William Wylar's first comedy since his very successful "Roman Holiday" — the film that brought stardom and an Oscar to Audrey Hepburn. It opens Aug. 10 at the Mai Kai Theatre in Livonia.

"When I began to think of another comedy," said Wylar, "I found that I just couldn't think of a better comedienne than the star of that earlier film, and so Miss Hepburn is the star of this one, too."

"How to Steal a Million" brings Audrey Hepburn and Peter O'Toole together for the first time. The romantic comedy, set and filmed in Paris, recounts the adventures of a family of art forgers who have been fleeing unsuspecting art dealers and collectors for three generations. Produced by Fred Kohlmar with a screenplay by Harry Kurnitz, the comedy attraction co-stars Eli Wallach and Hugh Griffith, with Charles Boyer in a special guest appearance.

STEVE McQUEEN stars in the Joseph E. Levine production "Nevada Smith" opening Wednesday, Aug. 10 at the P&A Theatre in Plymouth.

Pursell, Demel Ousted in Poll

Nearly 37 per cent of the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township's voters turned out at the polls last week. Voter gave local candidates Earl Demel and Carl Pursell — both running for the State Senate on opposite tickets, wide margins locally.

Both Demel and Pursell carried the Wayne County portion of the 14th State Senate District. It was Oakland County, where both were unknown, that they lost the election.

Unofficial totals show Pursell, a Republican, polled 2964 in Wayne County, and 2405 in Oakland for 5369.

The winner, ex-mayor of Berkley, George Kuhn, lost in Wayne county to Pursell, polling only 2228 votes. But he rolled up a wide margin in Oakland County where he is well-known for his battle with Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh over Detroit's income tax. Kuhn netted 4197 votes in Oakland, for 6425.

A third GOP hopeful, John MacLellan pulled 1575 voters in Wayne County where he was unknown, but managed to get more than Pursell in Oakland, with 2569 Republican primary voters giving him the nod. MacLellan's total was 4144.

Post election analysis shows that Pursell lost to a conservative because two moderates—he and MacLellan—split a lot of Republican votes. To illustrate, Pursell polled 535 in his home community of Plymouth Township, but MacLellan polled 123 — many votes Pursell might have had.

The same thing happened to Demel, veteran attorney. He won in Wayne County, polling 3321 to Paul Livingston's 3072. A third candidate, Louis Odette, polled 1036 in Wayne County.

Livingston, who won the election, rolled over Demel in Oakland, where he is a well-known Democrat. Demel polled only 1226 votes, and Livingston 3463.

Final unofficial totals show Livingston with 6535 votes, Demel 4547 and Odette 2644.

In November, Kuhn will face Livingston in what could prove to be a tight race. The district, traditionally Republican, might upset Kuhn. Kuhn works for Ford Motor Co., and Livingston leads up an insurance company.

The district covers Livonia, Plymouth, Northville, Farmington, Keego Harbor, South Lyon, Walled Lake, Wixom and several sparsely populated Townships in Western Oakland County.

Another State race affecting Plymouth—the 36th State Representative District seat—was uncontested in both primaries. James Tierney, Garden City Democrat polled 4616 votes, and John Tripp, Plymouth insurance agent, netted 2126 on the GOP ticket.

In the one U.S. race affecting the community, Marvin Esch, a Doctor's Degree holder from Ann Arbor and a relatively unknown, edged out veteran George Meader, 14,270 to 12,765.

Esch was the party's choice from the beginning, and that gave him the need impetus to win. He carried the Washenaw County by over 2,000. Meader, well-known after seven terms in Congress, edged out Esch in rural areas of Monroe and Lenawee County.

Locally, Esch made only an average showing carrying all precincts in the City of Plymouth but losing in four of Plymouth Township's seven precincts.

Esch did surprisingly poor in Lake Pointe, Precinct One. There, Meader polled 78 votes, Esch 43.

Esch will face another PhD, incumbent Democrat Weston E. Vivian, who in 1964, squeaked past Meader by a 77,806-76,280 margin. In 1964, Meader edged out a moderate Stan Thayer, after Thayer took the City of Ann Arbor. Meader ran strong in the rural areas.

Tallies show 1507 out of 4672 registered voters in the City voted, for a 32.6 percentage.

In the Township, 1748 out of 4188 registered voters voted, for nearly 42 per cent turnout.

FINISHING TOUCHES are given interior of the new Harvi's store, S. Main at N. Territorial, by Owner-Manager Fred Goldberg. He helps a sales clerk put some women's clothes on the racks for the Thursday opening. Harvi's has the location vacated when Cassidy's closed its doors earlier in the year.

Congressman Vivian Helps Unite Soldier and Bride

After three year of bucking American red tape, career Army Sergeant Earl B. Miller, 41033 Greenbriar Lane, has been united with his Korean bride of 1963.

The Vietnam-bound soldier married Ik-Sun in 1963, but was unable to bring her home until two weeks ago when he and his father contacted U.S. Congressman Weston E. Vivian's Ann Arbor office.

Through Vivian's efforts, Ik-Sun Miller joined her husband here in Plymouth at the home of Earl Miller, Sgt. Miller's father.

Miller met his bride in a small Korean village—Tabongdung—in 1962. After they were married in 1963, Sgt. Miller began working through the American Embassy in Korea. For unexplainable reasons, the Embassy bogged down on his request.

On July 14 this year Miller after arriving home on leave talked with Vivian's office. Vivian serves this area in the U.S. House of Representatives.

"They took down the information," Miller explained. "Then we got a call from his office in Washington on July 20."

The next thing the Army sergeant heard was on July 22. His wife was aboard an American Airlines jet and was to arrive at Metropolitan Field at 10:30 Sunday, July 23.

She wasn't on the flight, which arrived three hours late.

When they returned home to Plymouth Monday morning, American Airlines had the phone ringing. They had located her, and she would arrive Monday.

Sgt. Miller was on leave from Fort Carson, Colorado. He had left Korea last December, and has now been assigned to Vietnam.

Miller has been in the Army 10 years, and will make a career of the service. He will be assigned to the First Infantry as a replacement. In past duty he has worked on communications and ammunition.

Miller expects his wife, who will stay with his parents here in Plymouth, will want to become a naturalized citizen.

During his last visit to Korea, Miller noted many improvements to the country, including the use of cement instead of mud for housing, and new drainage systems.

Miller's leave was for 24 days, and was up last weekend. Today he is probably somewhere in Vietnam.

His wife, a petite, pretty young woman, after spending two short weeks with her Army husband, must now settle down in a new country and wait for Miller to return.

His next leave is a year away.

"I know I'll be back," he said.

REUNITED AFTER three years of bucking red tape are Sgt. Earl Miller and his Korean bride, Ik-Sun Miller. They were brought together in Plymouth a week ago through the efforts of Congressman Wes Vivian.

All Get Pay Boosts

Robert South, principal at the new Elementary School No. 7, will start at $10,807.

Other salaries for top administrators are: Herbert Woolweaver, director of Adult Education, $12,827; Mrs. Bertha Green, director of Library, $12,625; assistant junior high principals, Rey Borzi, East, $9,595, and Gilbert Pearson, West, $11,615.

Schultheiss pointed out that some of the salaries reflect an increment plus a step in the schedule. He indicated this was the reason for the differences in some instances where some administrators are just starting to climb the salary ladder while others are at or near the top level.

The salary boosts for the maintenance-custodial personnel range from seven to 7.5 per cent.

Those for the secretarial and clerical personnel (37½ weeks) range from a high of 10 per cent to a low of almost 7.5 per cent.

For cafeteria personnel, the hikes average more than 6.5 per cent across the board, according to Schultheiss.

For the transportation personnel, the salary range of the Director of Transportation was raised from a floor $5,500 to a ceiling of $6,400, of $5,500 to a ceiling of hourly wage was upped from $6,400. For Mechanic I, they start at $2.39 to a high of $2.75; for Mechanic II, start at $2.30 and a high of $2.60; for bus drivers, first year $2.42 per hour; each year thereafter, $2.78; and $2.52 per hour for special trips.

Ken Lindner Honored at Two Meetings

W. Kenneth Lindner, Schoolcraft College business manager, collected two professional honors during a recent two-week period in which he spent 10 days either in classrooms or business meetings.

First, Lindner was re-elected president of the Michigan Community College Business Officials during a meeting of that organization at Boyne Mountain recently.

A week later, he was graduated with honors from the University of Omaha's Short Course for College and University Business Managers.

Fischer

(Continued from Page 1) creases in our tax base and state aid for the coming year have made substantial contributions toward offsetting of these major increases in wage and salary costs. The final effect on our total operating budget is just being developed and will be reviewed in detail at the public budget hearing to be held on August 22.

In the meantime, we believe the Plymouth Community has been well served by the satisfactory conclusion of negotiations in a manner that assures continuance of quality education and effective employee relations in our school system.

"We congratulate all of the negotiating teams—both the administrative representatives (Supt. Isbister and Assistant Supts. Harding and Blunk) and the representatives of the employ groups—on the high level that was generally maintained and on the recognition of the overriding importance of our mutual interest in the ultimate goal of bringing the best possible education to the youth of our community."

Twp. Rejects Charter

(Continued from Page 1) can be considered a final rejection or not isn't known but it is known that applications for a new charter will be in the hands of the proper authorities within another month or so and that the matter will be brought back to the electorate for the fourth time in two years.

The reason given for having a charter proposal before the electors is that it protects the Township from any annexation moves by adjoining communities. The charter movement was started six years ago to keep the City of Plymouth from moving to annex the Township's rich industrial row on Plymouth Road—Township officials aren't taking any chances that the City of Plymouth or Livonia, which also covets the industrial plants, could make a move towards annexation.

Other than the charter, Township voters backed all incumbents for Township offices. The only opposition from the Democrats came in the Trustee race where Rev. David Strang will seek one of the two posts now held by Ralph Garber and Gene Overholt.

Supervisor John McEwen topped the ticket with a total 733 while Strang received 403 from the Dems.

It will be McEwen, Treasurer Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, Clerk Mrs. Helen Richardson, Garber and Overholt on the Republican side

"I lost my diamond," a bewildered and stunned young lady told us. "I didn't think it could happen, my ring is only four years old," she went on.

Truth is, no one can tell how long a setting will hold a diamond securely. It's like trying to predict how long a pair of shoes will last.

Each person wears their diamond setting just a bit differently than the next person.

Sometimes with a bit of care and caution, a diamond setting will actually stand up for several decades of usage. Other times, if worn with carelessness, a setting can become worn out in as little as a year's time. It's a fact, and it happens time after time.

Be safe instead of sorry. See your jeweler regularly. Your jeweler is prepared to examine and advise you about your diamonds.

Moon-Knapp Take Vows In Double Ring Ceremony

Susan Kay Moon became the bride of Dennis Elton Knapp, in a candlelight ceremony on July 16, in the First Methodist Church in Warren. Rev. Rudy Royce performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Moon, 29590 Hoover, Warren. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elton D. Knapp, 798 Pacific, Plymouth.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of silk organza over taffeta with appliques of re-embroidered Alencon lace with seed pearls. It was floor length with a court train of the same appliques. The veil was of imported silk illusion, shoulder length. She had a crown band of seed pearls. Her flowers were white roses and stephanotis.

Bridesmaids were the bride's twin sisters, Patricia and Kathryn, Lorraine Green, of Madison Heights and Julie Trost of Beulah.

The attendants were gowned in A-line, floor length mint green dresses with white insert at the empire waist. Their hair was worn in an upswept hair-do with a wreath of miniature yellow and white carnations. Their bouquet was of miniature yellow and white carnations. William Rossow of Plymouth was the best man. The ushers were George Knapp, (groom's brother); Roger Wilhelm, Plymouth; Robert Parmenter, Northville, (cousin of the groom); Michael Knapp, Ann Arbor cousin of groom; and Eric Smith of Detroit.

The bride's mother wore a floor length yellow crepe. The groom's mother wore a light blue, floor length crepe.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the Elks Lodge in Warren, for 225 guests.

They were from Kalamazoo, California, Ohio, Florida, Grosse Pointe, Northville, and Plymouth. Larry Hall, of Plymouth, came from Ft. Mead, Md. and Roger Wilhelm, of Plymouth, from Fort Sheridan, Ill.

The bride was graduated from Henry Ford High and Central Michigan University. The groom was graduated from Plymouth High School and Cleary College. He is at present employed at General Motors.

The bride wore a turquoise suit with black patent leather shoes and bag and a white orchid.

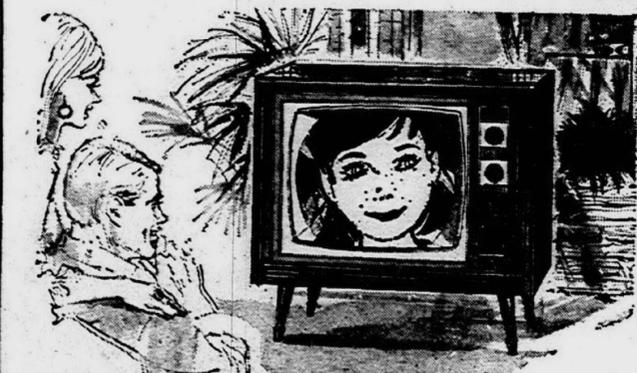

Following a wedding trip to Hollywood, Fla., the couple will live in Northville.

First Double Wedding in Half-Century Held in Garden City Church

A nuptial Mass was celebrated as sisters spoke their vows at the double wedding ceremony performed by Rev. Fr. Joseph Labiac at St. John Catholic Church in Jackson on July 30.

It was the first double wedding there in over half a century.

Given in marriage by their father were Dianne and Sandra Crego, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Crego, 1039 Cooper, Jackson.

For Dianne's marriage to John Dennis Cojei, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cojei of Garden City, she chose a brocade taffeta gown fashioned with a floor-length bell-shaped skirt and embroidered with sequins and pearls. A cluster of petals holding her English illusion veil crowned her head and a cascading bouquet of white gladiolus completed her ensemble.

Attending Dianne and John were Nancy Ann Crego, Susan M. and Garry L. Cojei, sisters and brothers of the couple; Peggy E. O'Shea, Norma J. Reichard, Hu P. Miller, Harold R. Kroth, and Edward Burk, of Ypsilanti.

For Sandra's marriage to Phillip Thomas Daly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald M. Daly, 107 E. Morrell, Jackson, she was attired in a silk organza gown styled with Empire bodice, A-line skirt and chapel train, and appliqued with lace, sequins and pearls. She wore a cluster of petals embroidered with sequins and pearls which secured her English illusion veil, and she carried a cascading arrangement of gladiolus.

Attendants included: Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Dunigan, Peggy Ann and Gerald M. Daly, Jr., all relatives; Mr. and Mrs. Michael P. Iuni, D. Jeanne Schonhard, Michael V. Grabarz and Eddi D. Avriett.

Paula J. Crego attended both of her sisters as junior bridesmaid.

Following the ceremony, the couples greeted guests at a reception in the UAW-AFL-CIO Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Cojei departed on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls while the Dalys left on a trip through Canada and Maine.

An Ann Arbor address, 3503 Oakwood, Pittsfield Village, awaits the Cojei's return and Mr. and Mrs. Daly plan to live at 412 Third St. in Jackson.

SHARON LEE BARNES

Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Barnes of 35789 Springvale, Farmington Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sharon Lee, to Gordon James Leeper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Leeper of Leverage, Redford Township. The bride-elect has just completed her second year at Mercy College of Detroit. Her fiance is a senior at Lawrence Institute of Technology. A June wedding is being planned.

MR. and MRS. JOHN JOSEPH CONTARIO

Plymouth Couple To Live in Iowa

Carol Lynn Bosman became the bride of John Joseph Contario on July 23 in a noon ceremony at Cherry Hill Methodist Church, Ypsilanti, when the Rev. P. E. Nieman performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Bosman, 50350 Hanford, Plymouth. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Contario, 525 Ridge Rd., Plymouth.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white chiffon over satin with a lace motif and seed pearls. The dress had a double train. Her veil was finger-tip length. White roses were her flowers.

Her maid of honor was her sister, Dee, who wore a yellow, whipped cream (material) empire style dress with a chiffon train and a yellow rosette with four layers of net as a headpiece.

Bridesmaids Margaret Lampinen (bride's cousin), Dian Homer, Janice Nagy, all wore gowns similar to the maid of honor's in aqua, pink, and green colors. All the attendants carried carnations which were matched with their gowns.

Dan West was the best man. Phil West, Jon Henkel, and Bill Tath were ushers. The bride's mother wore blue lace with beige accessories, and the groom's mother wore a green dress with yellow accessories.

Over 200 people attended a buffet at Roma Hall, Livonia.

The bride wore a turquoise, seersucker and chiffon suit with white accessories for her trip to northern Michigan and Chicago.

The bridegroom will attend graduate school in Iowa in the fall and work toward his doctorate in chemistry.

Their future home will be in Ames, Iowa.

Redford Nursery To Give Tea Aug. 17

The Redford Township Cooperative Nursery School is planning its annual "Get Acquainted Tea" for Wednesday, Aug. 17, at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Ernest Klimek of 14060 Henry Ruff in Livonia.

The purpose of this tea is to give the mothers who will be in nursery this year an opportunity to meet each other and the teachers for the coming year.

It also affords an opportunity to arrange car pools.

Nursery school will start the week of September 12. Anyone interested may contact Mrs. Robert Jodon, 533-4950.

Northville Town Hall Names Award Winners

The Board of Awards of the Northville Town Hall made the following statement regarding its awards:

"Since our members are drawn from Plymouth, Farmington, Livonia, and South Lyons, as well as Northville, we feel it only proper to return part of the proceeds to charities in these areas.

"To this end, the following impartial board has been appointed to select deserving recipients of these funds:

Farmington, Mrs. Leonard Stidwell; Plymouth, Mrs. Margaret R. Hough; Livonia, Mrs. W. E. Parks; Northville, Mrs. William Milne, Mrs.

Harry F. Wagenschutz and Herman Moehlman."

The following awards for the 1965-66 year have been announced:

Iris Society To Hold Plant Sale Aug. 14

The Southern Michigan Iris and Hemerocallis Society will hold a plant sale on Sunday, Aug. 14.

Members donate Iris plants, Hemerocallis (Day lilies), and perennials, rock garden plants, and bulbs, etc., from their gardens for sale at a savings. The sale, open to the public, starts at 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Lee Armiger, president of the society, 24800 Edgemont Road in Southfield.

This money raising project will enable the society to put on future shows such as the two at the Livonia Mall.

HAPPINESS IS CLIPPING COUPONS (FOR FREE ADMISSION TO DETROIT RACE COURSE)

I Worry About The Missing Men. Thoroughbred racing in Detroit draws approximately 2,000,000 Fans annually. That is a point of pride with me.

It puzzles me, however, that many sports fans in the metropolitan area never have visited the Detroit Race Course. I think they are missing some of the greatest thrills and excitement the Sports World offers.

I would like The Missing Men (and Women, too) to be my guests during GOOD NEIGHBOR WEEK, which we will celebrate August 8 through August 13. Clip your FREE TICKETS. Pay us a visit. Join the growing number of Fans who have helped make Thoroughbred Racing America's most popular spectator sport.

GOOD NEIGHBOR Week originally was our way of saluting the people of Livonia, where our track is located. However, with the amazing growth of racing in Michigan and its increased popularity, we have moved beyond such community limitations.

Now, GOOD NEIGHBOR Week is our way of greeting Fans throughout the metropolitan area.

If you are one of the MISSING MEN (or Women), let me tell you a little about the Detroit Race Course.

We race daily, except Sunday, through November 5. Post parade on weekdays is 3:20 p.m. On Saturdays and Holidays it is 2 p.m. There are nine races Monday through Friday and 10 races each Saturday.

We have a magnificent new $3,000,000 Clubhouse. It provides the ultimate in convenience, comfort and beauty for the Fan.

We have two superlative Dining Terraces, offering the finest in food and beverages. From your table you can see the thrilling action every step of the way around the track.

THE OLDE TIRE HORSE PUB is an authentic Old English tavern, with all the charm of a by-gone day. It is a great spot for a leisurely sandwich or a cocktail. There is NEVER a cover or a minimum charge.

We have close-in parking facilities for 12,000 cars. There are three Easy-In entrances to the track. They are off Middlebelt, Schoolcraft and Inkster Roads.

Between races you can enjoy a leisurely stroll about the Clubhouse and view the 30 outstanding Thoroughbred paintings by Fay Moore. It is one of the world's finest collections of Sports art.

Fun and Excitement always are a part of racing. Why not join us during GOOD NEIGHBOR Week and see for yourself.

Expectant Parents Begin Classes Aug. 17

Wayne County Department of Health is pleased to announce a new series will be held at the Wayne County Health Center on Wednesday, Aug. 17.

The classes will meet from 7:30 to 9 p.m. for eight consecutive Wednesdays. They will be conducted by a member of the Public Health Nursing Division staff.

The group will discuss those questions and concerns which are of common interest to expectant parents. Included among these will be growth of the baby, care of the mother during pregnancy, labor and delivery, and care of the newborn infant.

For registration or further information, please call the Wayne County Department of Health any week day between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. The telephone number is CRestwood 4-2800 or PArkway 1-0200, Extension 6901.

Voile Returns To Favor for Home Sewing

A sheer delight — that's cool and airy cotton voile, summer's most stylish and versatile fabric. It's being used for smart day dresses, beach cover-ups, and Western-styled shirts as well as romantic after-five fashions.

When you sew with voile, or any sheer fabric, the National Cotton Council recommends that you choose a pattern with a minimum of seams.

Before cutting out the fabric, pin it to tissue paper to prevent shifting. Handle the tissue and fabric as one piece when basting and stitching.

Reduce machine pressure and use a fine needle with finer than average stitches, about 16 to the inch.

No Backbone Easy Carving

Carving a pork loin roast is easy if you follow these simple directions from the American Meat Institute.

Have the backbone loosened from the rib side of the roast at the market. When you take the roast out of the oven, remove the backbone before sending the roast to the table.

Hunter-Allore Vows Spoken

Elaine Hunter, daughter of Mrs. Harry Hunter of Plymouth, and the late Mr. Hunter, was married to James Allore on Saturday, July 2, in St. Robert Bellarmine Catholic Church in Redford Township with Father F. Stromske officiating.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Harry Wagenschutz of Northville, the bride wore a floor-length, A-line gown of nylon and lace.

Her shoulder length veil was of imported Brussels lace and was attached to a pillbox hat made of pearls by the groom's mother. The bride carried a cascade of white mums and yellow roses.

Mrs. Mary McKeown was the matron of honor and Mrs. Joyce Herter, Mrs. Ann Hembrough (the groom's sister) and Miss Gwen Zinehook were her bridesmaids.

The attendants wore floor-length gowns of blue organza.

Hitt-Kaiser are Wed in Texas

St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Kingsville, Texas, was the scene of the recent wedding of Karen Marie Kaiser and Lowell Hitt. Rev. Herbert Wottrich officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Flying Peltos Take Whirlwind Vacation

The Robert Pelto family of Redford Township like to do things together, so the problem of traveling all over the West Coast, in a short time, with six children, didn't faze them at all.

Both Bob Pelto and his wife, Mary, are licensed private pilots, and have been flying for three and one-half years. So they simply chartered a Piper Cherokee Six plane. The six Pelto children, Faith Cathy, Patti, Joan, John and Jim were wildly enthused.

It didn't take more than a quiet whisper to wake them from their beds on July 2. By 5:30 a.m. they were all belted in place and heading West and mom and dad Pelto took turns flying, so they could each log some time.

Missouri, Oklahoma, and Arizona were some of the states visited and the children had only one request and that was to stop at a motel with a swimming pool, as some places the temperature was 113 degrees.

From Great Falls, Montana, where the boys had the thrill of driving a diesel engine, the homeward trip began. Minneapolis, then Bismarck, North Dakota, then Ann Arbor, and then home again.

Taking a toll of the favorite spots, the children voted Disneyland three to one.

They saved a variety of places for the next trip. In 23 days of travelling they covered over 9,000 miles besides having a story book vacation.

NANCY YOUNG
Mr. and Mrs. Bill G. Young, Junction Street, Plymouth, announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy, to Richard F. Aseltine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Aseltine, of Plymouth. Miss Young is a 1965 graduate of Plymouth High. Aseltine is a 1964 graduate of Washington High School in Phoenix, Ariz. He is presently with the U.S. Navy in Memphis, Tenn., studying to be an Aviation Electronics Technician. No wedding date has been set.

Offers Tips on Cooking Of Meats

Let's cook it right: Cooking Temperature: A slight change in temperature affects the time needed to cook meat to a certain degree of doneness, advises Mrs. June L. Sears, Extension Home Economist of Michigan State University.

Method of Cooking: Broiling, pan-broiling, and frying are quick methods of cooking meat by dry heat.

Size and Shape of Cut: A standing rib roast cooks in considerably less time than if it is boned and rolled. As much as five to 10 minutes per pound more time may be necessary to cook the rolled roast. Weight, surface area, and the shortest distance to the center of the thickest portion must be considered.

Degree of Doneness Desired: A six-pound standing rib roast requires 2 1/4 hours to reach 140 degree F. (rare), 2 1/2 hours to reach 160 degree F. (medium), and 3 1/4 hours to reach 170 degree F. (well done).

Composition of the Meat: The amount of fat covering a roast affects cooking time says Mrs. Sears. The more fat, the faster the roast cooks after the fat begins to melt. Melting fat is an excellent conductor of heat. It also prevents some evaporation.

Initial Temperature of the Meat: Cooking takes more time when the initial temperature of the meat is low than when it is higher. Meat still frozen when cooking is started requires a long cooking time; part of the heat is used to melt the ice before the temperature can rise above the freezing temperature of meat.

Low temperatures are generally recommended for cooking meat, fish and poultry because it results in more uniformly cooked meat that is more tender and juicier; fewer and better drippings; less watching during cooking; less work in cleaning the oven and more easily carved meat.

High temperatures result in greater losses and fewer servings, which increases the cost per serving. The meat will be less tender and juicy, and drippings will be less palatable.

"Searing" is not really necessary to achieve a nicely browned product. The theory behind this method was that the initial high oven temperature would form a crust on the meat to hold in the juices. However, studies show that meat roasted at a constant oven temperature shrinks less during cooking than seared meat, and results in a nicely browned roast with better drippings.

Since the temperature of roasts and poultry continues to rise after the meat has been removed from the oven, it is a good idea to remove roasts and poultry from the oven about 15 to 30 minutes before carving and serving. This allows the meat to set and permits easier carving.

A question that many homemakers often ask is whether cooking in foil has any distinct advantages. None, except shorter cooking time.

But there are distinct disadvantages in terms of (1) increased weight loss due to cooking, (2) greater fuel consumption, and (3) steamed flavor. Aluminum foil acts as a heat insulator equivalent to lowering the oven thermometer approximately 75 degree F.

Vinyl Tiles Vinyl tiles are becoming more and more realistic, with textures that resemble ancient paving, bricks, marble, mosaic, cobblestones — even leather. Tiled walls, floors, or ceilings are often easy to install, and are always easy to keep clean with soap or detergent suds.

Juice Can Cutter If you cut both ends from small juice cans, you can use them as cookie cutters. Before removing the cutter from the dough, sprinkle your cookie trim, such as nuts or sugar, into the top of the can.

OBSERVING the Scene ...

By MYRA CHANDLER

No self-respecting columnist lets an election slip away without a hindsight comment or two. No exception here.

In the final analysis those of us that belong to the Back-to-Africa-with-Soapy fan club have to allow this is a kind of world in many ways. If Williams had lost the election he could only be content with coupon-clipping. He might not even have been asked to call a square dance, march in a parade or run for precinct delegate. This is too cruel.

Where, Irish Jerry, on the other hand, is on the brink of a six-year Mayor term of dynamic Detroit. He can now call back all the fellows that have been on leave of absence pushing "the boss" and life goes on. He really had everything to gain and these are the odds Cavanagh likes.

President Johnson may not be quite the people's choice this minute, but as the election clearly pointed out, voters will support the moderate as opposed to the conservative, right down the line.

The closest race, and the one that was really a test to me, was the race of Jack H. McDonald (R), youthful Redford Township Supervisor, fair-haired darling of the metro press, the 19th District GOP, the Governor's office, 4,070 voters in Redford Township (as opposed to 827 for Richard D. Kuhn) and even voters in the northerly part of the 19th District in Oakland County, where he was relatively unknown as compared to conservative-labeled Kuhn. Kuhn had advantages. He had run before, he was really better known and he had the hardest working, most dedicated, never-let-up crew I've ever seen. But he was a clear-cut conservative and dared a time or two to disagree with George Romney during Con-Con. As a result Jack McDonald will face another conservative, but this time a Democrat, a seasoned politician, with a record of high level statesman-like activities at the State and National level, Billie Sunday Farnum.

The Senate race was erratic. In the 14th District (Livonia, Plymouth, Farmington), Earl Demel spent a lot of money, time and effort and took a trouncing to unknown Louis C. Odette and winner Paul F. Livingston who was nominated with 3,463. Probably because Demel wasn't known in Livingston's Oakland County and couldn't build up any lead in his home town of Plymouth, GOP stronghold.

In another case of a moderate taking the strong lead, Robert Anderson handily beat Ronald C. Rice, an ultra-conservative and unknown Eugene Melnick for State Representative of the 34th District. He will face popular incumbent John Bennett in November.

In the 64th District, including Farmington and Farmington Township, incumbent Raymond Baker running unopposed pulled 5,977 votes, and will face Leonard P. Baruch who polled 2,506 votes. The prospects for the Democrats are dismal in this area because if every Democrat voter casts his mark there are still far more GOP in this area.

Perhaps the greatest victory for those of us that consider ourselves moderates was in Redford Township where the racial issue was an undercurrent. Or, never out in the open, mind you. But whispered in the bowling alleys, ladies teas, tabloid press, and up and down the avenue.

It was interesting to note, those who laid their careers on the human-relation line like Gene Duston (R) incumbent for Trustee, won his seat even though there was much tongue-clucking.

On the Democratic side of the ballot a slate of candidates supported by many in the local human relations movement walked away with the election from the old-line party hacks who used race-baiting, name-calling techniques against them. Owen P. Cummings, attorney, was the supervisor candidate against Harvey P. Beadle. Cummings will face Aldrick Bellaire in November.

There is one disappointing note however. THE OBSERVER learned in the final panic of winning the fear of backlash brought out the "sunshine liberals" of the winning slate. On one occasion they struck the name of a precinct delegate from their literature because they thought the candidate's civil rights record would hurt their slate.

As it turned out they had nothing to fear but it is always sad to me when potential statesmen are intimidated into compromising their principles to win votes. Usually if they can hang in there the fears prove to be unfounded. But it really gives the world a look at the fortitude of a candidate and with this reporter it always rings like a clarion call. I am sorry their leader Cummings didn't shoo away the bogey man and stand pat. So be it.

How About It, Ladies?

Even The Score Through The Red Cross Blood Program

Who Is Farmington Republican Assn.?

Editor:

The writer is deeply grateful to the voters of Farmington Township, who, on August 2 so graciously cast their votes in my favor for the office of Township Supervisor. Since I had not been a candidate for Township office since the 1957 election, when I was elected to a four year term as a Township Trustee,—and many, many, new people have since moved to our Township,—I am particularly pleased with the results of the August 2nd Primary Election. I am also greatly appreciative for the fine support which the voters gave to the "Wendell Brown Team"—none of whom, I believe, had ever before run for Township office. Some of our candidates, I believe, had never before run for a public office. All of our candidates had worked diligently, all winter and spring, to preserve our Township form of government. The August 2nd election results were most gratifying.

In view of the election results which nominated all incumbent Township Officials,—we will, with great interest, await their future attitude towards preserving Farmington Township under the Township form of government. This will be a complete reversal of their unsuccessful attempt, last winter and spring, to dissolve the Township in favor of a Home Rule City Government. Apparently the incumbents are now convinced that the residents of our Township want the Township form of government continued. Our Primary Election fight, I believe, has strengthened their resolution in that regard.

In the last few hours of the recent campaign,—the writer was scurrilously attacked by an unsigned, anonymous letter; obviously it was authored by someone (or more), unfamiliar with my record as a member of the Farmington School Board for six years, as President of that Board for four years, and as Township Trustee for four years. Had the vicious letter been signed, the voters might have evaluated the opinions therein expressed, particularly the quoted material, the author(s) of which also remain anonymous. Aonymity upon sweet aonymity! Has anyone ever heard of the Farmington Republican Association? The Oakland County Clerk advises me that there is no such name registered with his office. I'll appreciate hearing from anyone who may know of such an organization in our Township.

Sniping from the sidelines, jungle-style from behind the bushes, may have been fun for whoever indulged in it,—but in this instance the author(s) did not have the intestinal fortitude to sign the letter, or give a return address to the missile of attempted character assassination, or to mail it to our electors sufficiently in advance of Primary Day to permit clear answers to unjustifiable charges. He, she, it, they were unwilling to stand up and be counted. My record of 40 years of public service to our community is open to all for inspection. Many people have told me they like that record. The vote of the people on August 2nd would seem to be their stamp of approval.

The author(s) of the letter in question found two things in my public record to object to, to each of which there is a valid and convincing answer. In one of the Zoning Cases referred to, I was subpoenaed as a witness.

Again,—time after time, Township Officials have given in to rezoning requests, because zoning could not be sustained, if taken to court. It'll happen again. Regarding agendas, many, many times they were tardily prepared and delivered to Board members. Then between 1959-1961 there were secret meetings of some Board members, which were finally brought to light and to full participation. The contents of the letter clearly indicate to me that it was utterly unfair, and was contrary to the express provisions of the corrupt practices section of the Michigan Election Laws, which reads as follows:—

Any person or his agent who knowingly makes, publishes, disseminates, circulates or places before the public, or knowingly causes directly or indirectly to be made, published, disseminated, circulated or placed before the public, in this state, either orally or in writing, an assertion, representation or statement of fact concerning a candidate for public office at a primary or general election in this state which is false, deceptive, scurrilous or malicious, without the true name of the au-

Blood Shortage Critical

Ladies, you aren't doing your part. Did you know four men to every one lady have answered the call of those in need of blood, and have been a donor?

Right now a special appeal is being made to all citizens of this area. Due to a summer slump, early vacations, strikes and layoff at factories because of early model changeovers the number of pints collected for the month is as low as 150 pints.

It takes 350 pints of blood per day to provide an adequate supply of blood for hospitals in our area serviced by the South-eastern Michigan Chapter of the Red Cross Blood Center.

This is a serious shortage and any kind of disaster—a race riot, tornado, a large scale fire, can really mean death to many because of this shortage.

There is no such thing as a blood credit as there is in money. Nor can we operate on a deficit as we do in government, without money. A pint of blood given for a pint of blood taken is the rule.

A giver will never know when he might be a taker and the life-line supply will be needed by a loved one.

The Red Cross put out a special plea this week asking if their supply couldn't be brought up so the shortage would no longer be critical. They are appealing particularly to the women of the community. There is no danger, no lessening of self energy in giving a pint of blood. The satisfaction of knowing the contribution goes directly to assist another is heartwarming.

There are two mobile units that will be in the area. One on Thursday, Aug. 11 at Our Lady of Loretto Parish, 17175 Olympia, Six Mile. For an appointment call KE 3-1245.

The other, Thursday, Aug. 18 at Northwest Red Cross Office, 31228 Merriman Road in Livonia. For appointment call 422-2787.

Don't forget, blood needs take no vacation.

'Nuff Talk—Time for Action

"Everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it" reads the old saying.

For the past few months in Farmington we had the feeling that the statement could apply to consolidation of the City and Township.

First proposed during the incorporation campaign in the Township, the idea and term has become something of a political football. The Township Democrats started beating the drums and the Township Republican administration reacted in the expected manner.

Members of the City Council denied that anyone had ever approached them on the subject of consolidation and promptly shut its collective mouth about any such move. Last week, however, the Farmington City Council voted to meet in an executive session to determine how to handle any requests for information and speakers about the possibilities of consolidation.

The impetus to the action was a letter from the Township Democrats asking the City's participation in a program on the future of the community — both city and township.

Such a letter was reportedly sent to the Township officials, but they declined to attend. Monday night the Township Board stated that it would cooperate in an impartial study of the question.

We applaud these actions as the first step down a very long road.

Consolidation of the entire community won't be easy. Many things must be examined. Its effect on residents in both the City and the Township must be studied carefully and the complete information must be made public.

The Observer hopes, however, that the City Council can come to some sort of meeting of the minds on the question and set a policy on how consolidation talk should be handled.

We hope that the decision will be favorable toward the eventual unification of the two governmental units for the greater growth and benefit of the entire 36 square mile Farmington community.

The Farmington Jaycees are eyeing the question, the man in the street is talking about it, the business community is talking about it, the local Democrats are talking about it, and now the City Council is also talking about it.

Perhaps action is in the works for the future growth of the community.

We hope so.

thor subscribed thereto, if written, or announced if unwritten, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Personally, and on behalf of "Wendell Brown Team",—may I again express our, and my, appreciation for the fine response we received at the hands of the voters at the August 2nd Primary Election.

WENDELL BROWN Farmington

Appreciative Winner Editor:

OMBUDSMAN

(A new feature in The Observer Newspapers — we will do our best to be a go-between, a red-tape cutter as the name indicates. When you have exhausted all other measures on a problem write to us (keep it short, please) and we'll see if we can help. Yes, John Q, you can fight city hall — with your own Ombudsman!)

Dear Ombudsman:

It is all very well that we are dedicating a new Livonia post office this month, but what will it do to get us dependable mail service. I have occasion to use the drop box in front of the branch post office on Middlebelt and Seven Mile, and I am convinced that the pickups are not made as often as is shown on the legend. Last night I dropped 10 pieces of important mail in the box at 5 p.m.

The next pickup time was scheduled to be 5:18. At 5:20 the truck (it may have been the one to have made this pickup) rolled on up north on Middlebelt without stopping. I returned again at 6 p.m. and found that there still had not been a pickup. How do I know? When I dropped these important letters into the drop box, I put a small piece of newspaper near the lock which the postman must unlock to take out the mail. It was still there one hour after the mail had been dropped into the box.

This is not the first time I have tried this experiment and have found that one cannot depend on this box in front of the post office for reliability.

I recall that on a Friday afternoon around 5 I dropped four special delivery letters to be delivered in Detroit to offices where people were waiting for the material for a Saturday delivery. The letters were finally delivered on Monday afternoon long after the regular mail had been dropped off in these downtown office buildings.

The same is true of special delivery letters coming into Livonia. Many times the regular deliveries beat out special deliveries mailed at the same time and in the same post box.

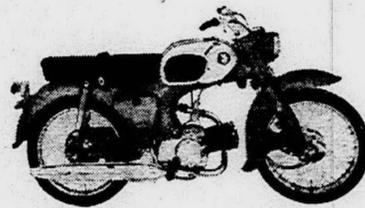

What can the Ombudsman do to improve mail service in Livonia and what do the post office officials have to say about this? Perhaps Frederick C. Belen, Deputy Postmaster General, can include firm promises of improved services in the lecture he will make when the new Livonia post office is dedicated on August 13. T.M. Dear T.M.:

A check with the Livonia Post Office reveals the following: the carrier making the collection at Northeast on Aug. 4 states he pulled the box at about 5:31 p.m., he was running late due to traffic.

The truck seen going north on Middlebelt makes collections in the northeast section on Livonia and then returns to the Station and drops off mail for return to the Main Office with the MVS run.

Test Collections are called for quarterly by Postal Regulations. As for the special delivery letters mentioned, they are postmarked at the mailing office and are back-stamped by the receiving office upon receipt. If the service is questioned an inquiry is suggested by the parties concerned to verify cancellation and back-stamp date and time.

Miss Finan was the recipient of the Gabriel Richard Leadership Award while on campus.

Kept Hairdos Neat

When there weren't enough hairdressers to go around, hair had to be done the day before a big event. British soldiers slept face down so as not to disturb their freshly set hairdos in the 18th Century.

THIS IS NO ORDINARY KITCHEN, in fact, it will never again be seen by outsiders. This is the kitchen of the cloister nuns, of the Monastery of the Blessed Sacrament, 13 Mile at Middlebelt. The visitors were given a tour before the nuns took occupancy.

Birthday Cowboys Enjoy Simple Game

As a center piece for a boy's party with a cowboy theme, paint a ham on white with a black spot or two and then paint a steer face on the front.

Glue on black paper ears. Stand erect with small part of can down. Or stick wooden dowels where ears should go, mount on a side table and let youngsters toss jar rings over dowels.

"Soul" is Subject in Sunday Sermon

"Soul" is the subject of the Bible Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Deuteronomy — "The Lord your God proveh you, to know whether ye love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul."

Readings from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will include this explanation: "The Divine Being must be reflected by man, — else man is not the image and likeness of the patient, tender, and true, the One 'altogether lovely'; but to understand God is the work of eternity, and demands absolute consecration of thought, energy, and desire."

Queen of Hearts Suggests Some Fancy Appetizers That Hit The Spot

BY FAITH GILLESPIE
Most cooks, in the normal course of days, need good, reliable recipes that can be prepared with a minimum of bother from ingredients that are likely to be stock items in the cupboard, like macaroni and cheese.

Every so often, however, the need arises for a special dish. When special people are coming, when it is a special occasion, the cook is willing to plan ahead, budget for special ingredients, and go to some special fuss.

These recipes are fancy appetizers and desserts. They are not inexpensive, and although they are not terribly difficult, they are a little more trouble than cheese dips and cake mixes.

If you are willing, they are worth every minute and every cent.

For lovers of chopped chicken livers, this molded ring is a beauty:

LIVER PATE RING: Boil for five minutes one can of consomme with one can of water, one stalk of celery with leaves, several sprigs of fresh parsley, and half a small peeled onion. Strain, and then add two envelopes unflavored gelatin which have been softened in 1/4 cup cold water. Stir till completely dissolved.

Add 1/4 cup sherry and 1/4 cup brandy. Cover bottom of a ring mold with half of this liquid and place ring in refrigerator. Chill till set.

Boil one pound chicken livers in water to cover till livers are cooked through. Drain and force through a sieve, or buzz in a blender with one hard-cooked egg, one tablespoon mayonnaise, one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, two tablespoons chopped parsley, 1/4 teaspoon salt, and a dash of pepper.

Fill the ring carefully after the liver mixture is cooled; chill it, and then pour the rest of the consomme mixture on top and return to the refrigerator.

Garnish unmolded ring with parsley and lemon wedges and serve with melba toast rounds or with an assortment of crackers.

The last word in fruit cups is this Champagne Fruit Cocktail. Serve it as your first course; it may take the place of any other cocktail before dinner.

MAUREN'S CHAMPAGNE FRUIT COCKTAIL: Chop together until very fine: 1/2 cup chopped fresh pineapple, one peeled and sliced orange, 3/4 cup fresh strawberries. Sprinkle with three tablespoons sugar, and pour 3/4 cup cognac over the mixture. Chill for at least an hour.

Divide the mixture among six chilled champagne glasses (or sherbet dishes), and fill each glass with champagne to cover the fruit. Serve immediately.

If you decide to use the above first course, you probably shouldn't use this next recipe for your dessert, since it is laced with cognac too.

ORANGE ARABIAN: Peel

six large oranges and slice thin. Mix them with 1/2 cup sliced almonds and 3/4 cup finely chopped dates. Pour over this mixture 2/3 cup orange juice and 1/3 cup cognac. Chill thoroughly (like all day). Serves six to eight, and is accompanied nicely by macaroons or lemon cookies.

If you have a blender, you can try this dessert. My King of Hearts is not a recipe collector, but he brought this one home from Denver. "It looks just like a chocolate milk shake," he said, "but that's not what it tastes like!"

KING OF HEARTS SPECIAL: For one serving use two scoops coffee ice cream, one jigger of brandy, a dash of Kahlua, and a dash of Cointreau. Blend till smooth in blender. Mmmmm... There now—if you've been wanting something frankly fancy, these are fun.

Beware Of Fires Near Swim Pools

No, the swimming pool doesn't burn, but according to Gerald E. Montgomery, Executive Director of the Greater Detroit Safety Council, a chapter of the National Safety Council, most of the powders used to purify the water, can be very dangerous if involved in a fire.

There have been a number of serious fires in the Detroit area, which would have normally been small routine fires, but because of the storage of large amounts of purifying powder, the fires extended to a degree that in some cases has resulted in total losses.

Most of the various brands and trade names are perfectly safe when used according to directions. There is no danger of spontaneous ignition in most of them, but all of them add greatly to the intensity of any fire they become involved in.

The precautions necessary to protect yourself are simple. Purchase and store the powder in small amounts. (In one recent garage fire, there had been 40 pounds stored.) Keep the powder in outside storage, if possible, not in the house.

THE READER SPEAKS UP:

Bike Racks Needed

Editor: It is surprising to me that a town as progressive as Plymouth has overlooked or failed to think of the customers' convenience regarding bicycle racks.

The bikes are strewn all over the sidewalks, near the store entrances, or near car doors, when you park on the streets. I do not blame the children for this—they have no set place to park their bikes. Oh yes, there is a place across the street in Kellogg Park. Now that is convenience for you!

To send the children across the street. I wonder who thought up that bright idea? Children who would not otherwise have to cross this busy street have to go across twice!

Surely Plymouth Chamber of Commerce should see that something is done to remedy this situation.

Ann Arbor has bike racks everywhere they might be needed. Our nearby shopping centers also have them. It's time Plymouth did also.

L. G. M. Plymouth

Winner Wished Well

Editor: I would like to express my sincere congratulations to Mrs. Rice for winning the Republican nomination for Clerk of Redford Township and I wish her and all the other victorious candidates great success in the November election. The Republicans have elected a good, strong slate, and with candidates such as these, I don't see how they can lose in the next contest.

My only regret is for the hours and effort spent in vain in my behalf by so many friends. For myself, I feel it was a wonderful experience, and even though I lost, I won hundreds of new friends and I think made better friends of the ones I had before. I say "better luck" next time to the other candidates who lost, and thanks again so much to my friends for all their help.

Objects to Name Change

Editor: I'd like to comment in regards to an article in August 3 edition of The Observer, namely "Nankin Name Change Asked in Petitions" page 10-D.

Is it really so important whether our new city is called City of Westland or City of Nankin? It still comes out the same. The taxpayer pays the bill.

After all the change, no matter what it may be, Westland or Nankin, Nankin still wins, we still continue to live in the Township of Nankin.

I wonder if anyone signing the petition stopped to realize the cost of reprinting the stationery used in one department at our Westland City Hall, alone?

Especially since we just had it changed from Nankin Township to City of Westland.

I assure you that could turn into quite a large amount especially for all the various departments in the entire building.

I'm sure there are other things to do with taxpayers money than to argue about a name.

I wonder if Mr. Turco and the Chamber of Commerce would be willing to pay for all the name changes back to Nankin from Westland. I don't think they would be willing to finance that personally.

If we're going to get our city off to a good start I'm quite certain it doesn't really matter whether our new City is known as Westland or Nankin.

Is a name so important that we have to make such a fuss about it?

"Acting general chairman of the drive for the Nankin name change is Ralph Turco. Assisting in the petition drive is the Nankin Chamber of Commerce."

How is Mr. Turco acting? Also how is the Nankin Chamber of Commerce assisting? I'm sure many of The Observer's readers would be willing to know besides myself.

Are they financing it, or are we, the taxpayers financing it?

Would they be willing to finance the entire cost of reprinting all the City's stationery and imprinted materials, etc., not to mention reprinting the new name on our Police cars and other city offices and vehicles?

I'm sure that amount could be put to a much better use in improving our new city than in such a wasteful way as that.

City of Westland Taxpayer Nankin-Westland

What's Next for Farmington

Editor: Now that a group prevented the charter from being written for the people of Farmington Township, in the so-called interest of protecting our township's dignity against special interest groups, what next?

I would like to know what happened to their concern, when the city of Farmington is attempting to annex prime property and our industrial park.

I am concerned about the township's future if countless raids are attempted.

Now do you propose to protect our boundaries now? Let's hope your voice can be heard as loud for the township this time.

LOIS AND LAWRENCE WITT, Farmington

Ed. Note: In the best interest of the City and Township of Farmington, The Farmington Observer in their June 1 issue supported incorporation. It was defeated by a 3-1 vote. The next step is up to government officials who are the only ones to give you an answer at this time.

Schoolcraft First to Win Nichols Award

Dr. ARTHUR M. STERN, surgical Podiatrist and foot specialist announced the opening of his new offices in the Livonia Mall Medical Center. Dr. Stern is a graduate of Ohio College of Chiroprody and a member of the State and National Podiatry Association. He is a Phi Alpha P, and on the staff and a member of the Board of Civic Hospital. He served in World War II and is a Past Master of Perfection Lodge No. 486 F&M, also a member of The Newboys in Detroit. He and his wife June and two daughters live in Oakland County.

Schoolcraft College is the first custodian of the Clayton H. Nichols Memorial Award, presented by Michigan Kiwanis Clubs for the best job of Circle K club sponsorship.

The award, a trophy, was earned in its inaugural year by four area Kiwanis clubs which co-sponsored the Circle K club at Schoolcraft. The club was chartered on Oct. 20, 1964.

The four sponsoring clubs are Livonia Kiwanis, Livonia Central Kiwanis, and Kiwanis clubs in Garden City and Plymouth. The trophy was presented to the sponsors at the state Circle K convention April 29-May 1, at Oakland Community College.

On Tuesday, in a ceremony at the Plymouth Kiwanis club meeting, the trophy was presented to Dr. Eric J. Bradner, Schoolcraft president and a member of the club.

Kiwanians who played leading roles in organizing the Circle K were: Joe West, Plymouth; Dr. Gerald Fitch, Plymouth, Dist. 6 representative; and Walter Green, Livonia.

Moving tips for families who list their homes with Alger F. Quast

It's important that you defrost and completely empty your refrigerator and freezer several days prior to moving. They should be aired and dried to avoid a musty odor. And it's a good idea to make sure the bolts on the motor are tight.

And remember, when you list your home with Quast it's a good idea to start making your moving plans right away! Our list of prospective buyers and our active sales staff will assure you of the kind of fast action you want.
