School Board Approves Record Budget

The Plymouth Community School Board Monday set a tax rate of 26.92 mills for the 1966-67 school year, adopted a record budget of $4,158,899 and passed a resolution setting a special election on Oct. 3 for a request to issue $5.5 million bonds for building and site requirements.

The election will be for the purpose of securing voter approval of the issue which is needed for erection and equipping elementary school No. 9, erection and equipping the third junior high and erection and construction of the second senior high. Board President Gerald

Fischer emphasized that the Board hasn't yet determined the term of the proposed bond issue and also that the $5.5 million would not involve increased millage. However, he quickly pointed out that the Board plans to come back next spring or late summer with an additional request for bonds and that the second request will involve additional millage. The bond issues are in accordance with a recent report of the Citizens' Advisory Committee which recommended the Board ask for $17 million bonding to meet the building and site needs in the next few years. Matter of fact, the public hearing on the budget was conducted with six members of the Advisory Committee in attendance. All were in accord with the report. The $4,158,899 budget is $619,742 higher than that for 1965-66 and reflects increases in salaries for the professional and administrative staff and an additional $50,397 for operations. The complete table of expenditures, last year's budget and expenditures and the proposed budget and changes over that of a year ago, may be found in a table elsewhere on this page. In an explanation of the budget increases, President Fischer pointed out that it was due to increased enrollment, additional facilities which involved additional teaching situations, salary schedule increments, program improvements and other items. The anticipated enrollment for 1966-67 is 7,350, a hike of 607 over the 6,743 of a year ago. The additional facilities at Tanger, Gallimore and Bird schools added 22 teaching stations and gave the system an increased capacity of 660.

The required cost increase, salary increments and additional credit hours for teachers, totaled $77,450.

The increased enrollment added $249,320 to the costs and the additional facilities have an estimated increased cost of $25,600.

Transportation costs soared with the addition of five buses, replacement of three buses and a 1956 truck for a total of $12,729.

Thus the increases due to the boost in enrollment totaled $287,649.

Salary adjustments to teachers and others added $275,702.

In the area of program improvements, Fischer listed the following:

One additional librarian, $7,500; Director of Administrative Services, $12,000; Departmental organization of senior high, $3,250; departmental representatives at junior highs, $1,500; increased recreation program as part of Adult Education Recreation Department, $6,000; an additional reading teacher, $5,100 for a total of $35,350.

Sheldon Hayes Gives $10,000 To Schoolcraft

Dr. Eric J. Bradner, president of Schoolcraft College, has announced a $10,000 gift to the college from Sheldon G. Hayes, Northville industrialist.

The gift will establish the Sheldon G. Hayes Grant and will be used by the college for student scholarships, loans and grants. A provision of the gift is that the college match it.

Hayes also made an outright gift of $3,000 for a Schoolcraft College sign to be installed on the campus, and agreed to underwrite the cost of a directional sign at the intersection of Seven Mile and Haggerty.

Township Plan Board Denies Oldford Land for New Shopping Center

A three-month battle to expand the Ann Arbor Road-Sheldon Road shopping center 158 feet westward ended Wednesday when the Plymouth Township planners turned down land-developer Stewart Oldford's request.

The action, taken at the regular monthly meeting of the Planning Commission, came after a strong recommendation for passage was presented by Planning Consultant W. C. Johnson.

Johnson, in a statement, called the request "reasonable" because it merely permitted an increase in floor space in the center.

However, the planning board was faced with severe and well organized opposition from the residents of nearby Park Lane subdivision.

Signatures representing 28 homes were on hand from the previous meeting, when a public hearing had been conducted.

The planning commission voted four to one to deny the request. Austin Stecker, Carl Hartwick, Clayton Koch and Ralph Garber voted no, and Irv Rozian cast the lone favorable vote.

Oldford reaction was short: "It simply means we can't build as nice a shopping center as we had hoped."

Oldford announced plans that the center was to be leased through M. E. Arden Co. in the spring of 1965. Since then, a storm sewer has held up plans to begin building.

Objections according to the petitions included that the plan (1) opposed a master plan, (2) would serve no need by altering the original zoning, (3) establish strip commercial zoning, (4) and would result in property losses to area residents.

Objections also were on hand in the form of a detailed letter from T. A. Cook, 10405 Robert Lane.

Oldford explained that he had simply found more tenants than he had room for. They include a Wrigley super market, Cunningham's Drug Store, a Montgomery Ward store, a dime store, a dress shop, a shoe store, a candy store and a men's store.

Just which of the stores will have to go elsewhere is not clear.

Seymour Serling, of the Arden Co., said the development could not include all of these stores on the present site. He further noted that the Wrigley lease was signed, and the drug store lease was "near final."

Hugh Brown, 10407 Elliott

Court, said he did not object to the center, but the "size and character" of the stores. John Wilson, 10406 Robert Lane, said he felt second MAKING USE of one of many practice rooms in the Women's University Division at Interlochen is Pianist Mary Ann Sincock, of Plymouth. She has been employed in the Interlochen offices. Mary Ann is a major in voice and piano.

Plymouth Finds Interlochen Like Old Home Week

The summer National Music Camp at Interlochen, Mich. has more than a mite of interest for many residents of the Plymouth Community—parents who have youngsters attending the classes and participating in the activities and those who visit the camp just to hear the fine programs presented by the musicians.

Plymouth's school system was well represented throughout the summer by students joining in the programs, some spending the entire summer, others for short periods and some as members of the staff.

The Robert Beyers visited Interlochen early in the summer to hear Handel's Messiah.

The Keith Baumhans (he's track coach at Plymouth High), were on campus. The Ray Hulces spent several days at the camp and attended the operetta performances.

Kenneth Fischer, of Plymouth, and his bride, spent the summer at the camp where he is in charge of all transportation.

Among those participating in the various functions from Plymouth were: Don Burleson, Andrew Wisniewski, Stephanie Sanocke, Peter Sparling, Robert Van Meter, Mike Jabara, Linda Baumhans, Jim Johnson, Linda Os-good, Debbie Westfall, Gretchen Steiner, Tom Hulce, and Mary Ann Sincock. Outstanding young musicians and singers attend from all states in the United States as well as Austria, Germany, Korea, China, Finland, Holland, Puerto Rico, Venezuela, France, Africa, Yugoslavia, Switzerland, England and the Bahamas.

TO THE WOODS goes Michael Jabara to practice on his clarinet. Judging from his serious look, Mike isn't interested in anything but perfecting his tunes.

Jr. Football Teams Meet On Aug. 29

The Plymouth Lions Junior Football teams will be organized in a Family Night program Monday, Aug. 29 in the Plymouth High school gym at 7 p.m.

Final registration of candidates will be completed that evening. Parents must accompany their boys, ranging in age from nine to 12 years, and must pay the $7 registration fee and give proof of the boys age.

The program will include a parent-son orientation of all details of the Lions junior football entry in the Western Wayne County League.

There is still time to join one of the three teams—freshman, junior varsity and varsity—which are included in the program.

For additional information call Unit Director George Hunter at 453-2395 or Bud Young 453-6687.

Boundaries Set for New School

Dividing lines for attendance areas in the Farrand and Tanger School districts have been defined by Supt. Russell Isbister in a communication to all parents in the areas involved, including a map of the proposed boundaries.

Those attending Farrand School will be in a district bounded by a line down the middle of Five Mile Road, down Thornbridge and Haggerty Roads.

Those in the Tanger district are east of Haggerty, east of Thornbridge, and north of Five Mile Road.

There is an area in the vicinity of Five Mile Road on the north, Greenbriar on the south, Farmbrook on the West and Thornbridge on the east that will be known as an optional section. Principals of the two schools have been granted discretionary authority to assign a family unit either to one school or the other, depending on the enrollment saturation in the grades involved.

Isbister emphasized that it involved family units and not one individual from a family.

Both sides of Farmbrook and Greenbriar are in the Farrand School attendance area. Both sides of Thornbridge, north of Ivywood, are in the Tanger area. Both sides of Thornbridge, south of Ivywood, are in the optional area.

PHS Bookstore Open For Advance Sales

For the first time in history, the Plymouth High School bookstore will be open for the advance purchase of school books, starting Aug. 29, continuing through Sept. 2.

That was the announcement of Principal Carvel Bentley Monday to more than 160 new students participating in the second of a series of orientation programs.

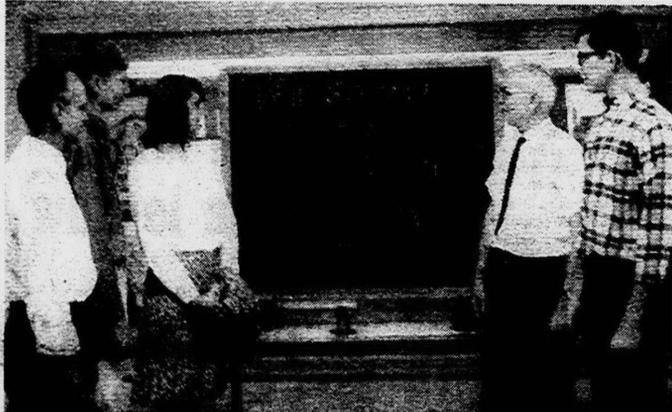

"This is the first time such a program has been tried at Plymouth High," said Bentley. "We hope students will take advantage of the opportunity to get their necessary books early and thus avoid standing in line for long periods of time after classes start. It will enable students to get started on the right foot by having the necessary 'tools' at the outset."

There are two bookstores—both located on the first floor of the school near the front entrance. Available used books may be purchased at the used bookstore.

Also, current editions of used books may be left at the bookstore for later sale. Student members of the Pilgrim Prints staff operate the used bookstore. They have volunteered to give up some of their vacation time to open this facility prior to the start of classes.

New books, only, will be sold at the new bookstore. Assistance will be given to those who need to know the Named Sales Chief Frank E. Zimmerman, Jr., has been named general sales manager of Lincoln Mercury Division, replacing S. A. Skillman, who has been elected vice president of sales for Ford of Canada.

FROM FAR AWAY places come new students to Plymouth High as the enrollment soars over 1,400. Principal Carvel Bentley supervised the second of two orientation programs Monday and greeted these youngsters from distant spots. The group includes: (from left) Counselor Robert Southgate, Don Jones, of Orlando, Fla.; Diana Parlette from Brussels, Belgium; Principal Bentley and John Rosengren, of Wahpeton, N. Dakota.

See Half-Day Sessions For New School

There's better than an even chance that the new Tanger Elementary School will start its first year of classes on a half-day program.

That was the indication of School Supt. Russell Isbister to the Board of Education in the special session for a public hearing on the proposed budget for 1966-67.

"We won't have the report of the contractors for another few days," said Isbister. "But from all appearances, it looks as if the crippling labor strike of last spring and early summer has set the new elementary school back by two or three weeks."

"The expansions at Bird and Gallimore schools will be completed and it appears as if the only school that will start on half-day sessions will be Tanger. We plan on having full day programs at Farrand and make the necessary adjustments at Tanger."

Isbister told the Board that he is still short five teachers with the start of classes just three weeks away. He needs three in the elementary schools, one for special education and one for physical education in the grades. He also has an opening for a half-day Kindergarten teacher at Allen School.

The plans for the fall call for a total of 720 pupils in Farrand School and 380 in Tanger with 63 Sixth Graders transferring from Starkweather to Tanger.

There will be sixth and seventh graders at Junior High West with about 120 eighth graders. East Junior will have eighth and ninth grades.

Under the present setup, 72 sixth graders will remain at Gallimore School, 63 from Starkweather will go to Tanger and 117 in the Lake Pointe area will remain at either Farrand or Tanger Schools.

As always, the heart of the Fair will be the animal exhibits and judging, with a record number of entries expected and more than $140,000 in premiums for the best beef cattle, dairy cattle, swine, sheep, vegetables and fruit. Farm youngsters in the Junior Show will compete for $7,500 prize money.

Homemakers will show their work in the Community Arts department, and there will be daily food and fashion shows. Art shows also are planned for the Community Arts Building.

Youngsters attending the Fair should particularly enjoy the daily contests in events like watermelon and pie eating; the Barnes and Carruthers Circus, giving

Crash Kills Dearborn Heights Patrolman

Officer Killed in Pursuit of Garden City Driver

A Garden City driver may face manslaughter charges after he was arrested Monday morning in the high-speed chase which resulted in the death of a Dearborn Heights policeman.

Arrested in Dearborn after patrol cars from Garden City and two other departments gave chase was Billie James Miles, 22, of 6706 Venoy Street. He will also face a reckless driving charge brought by Garden City policemen.

The victim of the chase was patrolman Robert Dowidait, 26, a three-year veteran of the Dearborn Heights department. He was a passenger in the police station wagon driven by officer Barry Creagh, 25, of 25730 Orchard, Dearborn Heights.

Miles, who was arraigned in Dearborn Heights Municipal Court, was reported by police officers to have made a reckless turn from Terrell onto Inkster Road in Garden City.

Sgt. Charles Wilmoth, of Garden City, spotted the turn about 1:30 a.m. Monday and driven through four stop signs and a flashing traffic light.

The Miles auto swerved into and out of a ditch on Harrison Street before heading east on Warren Avenue.

The Dearborn Heights station wagon carrying Creagh and Dowidait joined in the chase at Gully near Warren, Dearborn Heights, and a short distance later, at Warren and Silvery Lane, the vehicle swerved out of control on a patch of wet pavement and struck a tree. The two officers were pinned inside the wagon for about 15 minutes before they were pulled out by Dearborn Heights rescue squad members.

Dowidait, who lived at 6138 Fairwood, Dearborn Heights, died about 3:50 a.m. Monday in Wayne County General Hospital.

Meanwhile, police cars from Dearborn Police Dept. helped the Garden City and Dearborn Heights men in the chase which eventually involved six autos, including the smashed station wagon.

Miles, whose passengers, Roger Sutliff, 19, of 6455 Fairfield, and Michael Briscoe, 19, of 6736 Venoy, both of Garden City, were questioned by police, was arrested at the Ford Road-Schaefer intersection in Dearborn about 1:40 a.m. At that spot, the auto struck another.

Miles was reported to have jumped out of the car and fled behind nearby buildings where he was caught.

The two passengers told police that they both tried to make Miles stop, but he replied that "I won't go back to prison." Miles was paroled just a month ago, July 25, from Jackson Prison where he had served a four-and-a-half year term for an armed robbery conviction.

Garden City Patrolmen Dennis Joker and Edward Moore made the arrest after joining the pursuit near its start.

Creagh, in Wayne County General Hospital, suffered possible internal injuries and injuries to his right arm and head.

Teacher's Dinner Set

New teachers in the Farmington Schools will be hosted at a dinner Sept. 7 at the Farmington Senior High School. A tradition for the past seven years, the dinner is hosted by the Board of Education. Some 105 new teachers have been hired by the schools, but about 30 vacancies still exist.

Planes To Team Up With Cars

State Police Set Special Holiday Patrols

The State Police assisted by department planes and the National Guard will operate special holiday traffic patrols for the Labor Day weekend from noon Friday, Sept. 2, until midnight Monday, Sept. 5, Col. Fredrick E. Davids, director, announced.

The planes will team up with car patrols to clock speeders and check on other traffic situations. The department began the plane and patrol car operation during the July 4 weekend with 63 speeding arrests.

Pointing out that accidents during the Labor Day holiday period last year killed 25 persons in Michigan, Colonel Davids stressed that individual motorists must be defensively alert in driving to be safe.

"Given good weather, hundreds of thousands of cars will be on the highways for this final holiday weekend of the summer. Though the heavy traffic will increase accident risk, protective driving will reduce the danger. Every driver can help," Davids said.

The National Guard again will assist with 114 members serving as second men on two-men patrols or on point control.

Maximum patrol coverage will be in effect from 3 to at least 9 p.m. each day of the weekend with special attention focused on sections of highways having bad accident experience.

Pass days for all uniformed State Police post personnel have been cancelled for the period.

Michigan's high Labor Day weekend traffic death toll in recent years was 35 in 1963. Other recent year tolls were 26 in 1964 and in 1962, 24 in 1961 and 18 in 1960. The all-time high Labor Day toll was 46 in 1940 while the low was seven in wartime 1944.

S&H Open New Center

A new S&H Green Stamp Redemption Center, the ninth in the Detroit area, opened Monday in the new Demery's Center, formerly Kendall Shopping Center, Regional Manager, Harry M. Bixby, announced. The new redemption center is located adjacent to the Demery building at 12 Mile and Farmington Roads.

The ribbon was cut and the doors officially swung open at 9:30 a.m. Monday morning by John Dinan, City Manager of Farmington; Curtis Hall, Supervisor of Farmington Township; William Bowman, President of the Board of Commerce, and other business leaders.

According to John P. Roe, Regional Operations Manager, opening of the new redemption facility in the Demery's Center is in line with the company's policy of providing facilities offering the most convenient means of redeeming S&H Green Stamps for Detroit's fast-growing suburban area.

Food Fair Markets, also located in Demery's Center, and Demery's Department Store, and all Demery's Stores, are just two of the S&H family of fine merchants who give S&H Green Stamps to Detroit area customers with their purchases.

The Speery and Hutchinson Company is the oldest and largest trading stamp firm. It was founded in 1896 in Jackson, and today operates more than 850 redemption centers throughout the United States.

For several years, The Speery and Hutchinson Company has stimulated state and local economy with their purchases of redemption center merchandise. In the state of Michigan alone, S&H spends in excess of two million dollars annually with large and small manufacturers.

Judge's Opinion Outlines Interpretation

Buback Case Turns on 'Neglect of Duty' Meaning

The interpretation of the term "willful neglect of duty" will be the determining factor in the Circuit Court trial of Wayne County Sheriff Peter L. Buback and Under Sheriff James Bommarito, indicted by the Piggins Grand Jury in a ticket-fixing scandal.

Both Buback and Bommarito are charged with four counts in the Piggins indictment with Grosse Pointe Municipal Judge Douglas Paterson last week deciding that there was evidence presented that the crime as charged has been committed and that there is probable cause that the two defendants committed the charge.

But Judge Paterson, in binding the case over to Circuit Court for trial, devoted a major portion of his nine-page opinion to the definition of "willful neglect of duty" as it implies in the case against Buback and Bommarito.

The phrase is defined by one law dictionary. Paterson said, as "a wrong considered of a public character, and an act committed or omitted in violation of the public law forbidding or commanding it."

"It is necessary to determine fairly what these words mean as applied to public officers" in this case, Paterson said.

"Neglect to perform an official duty is willful if it arises from inattention, thoughtlessness, or headlessness, in the performance or non-performance of a statutory duty," the judge said in his opinion.

"Willful neglect is conduct of an officer such as to evidence recklessness and other indifference of the consequent of his failure to perform his official duty.

"Ballentine's law dictionary to a degree to an utter disregard of consequences may supply the place of specific intent."

"Ballentine's law dictionary defines willful as applied to the omission of a statutory duty. It is held not to apply to mere inadvertence, but to an intentional failure to comply with the law and that an evil intent is not a necessary attribute.

"The word ordinarily means intentional as distinguished from accidental or involuntary," Paterson continued.

In the three-week long pre-trial exam in Paterson's court, witnesses testified that they showed both defendants copies of fixed traffic tickets in 1964. The sheriff and his top assistant said they would look into it but the policemen said that nothing was ever done about it.

In addition, the two are charged with appointing as honorary deputy sheriff's persons with police records; holding an illegal raffle to raise campaign funds; and forcing sheriff's department employees to sell tickets for testimonial dinners honoring Buback and Bommarito.

Paterson cited a state law which prohibits persons covered by the civil service rules from directly or indirectly making, soliciting, or receiving or in any way being involved in the contribution or subscription to any political party or for any political purpose.

Paterson said in his written opinion that there was an abundance of evidence showing that the testimonial dinners and the tickets for them were "for the political candidacy and political welfare of Buback and Bommarito. The practice of testimonial dinners for and on behalf of candidates for political office is so widespread as to be a matter of public knowledge of which a court can certainly take judicial notice.

On the question of appointing honorary deputy sheriffs, Paterson said that the law does not authorize this action and no such authority is intended.

Westland fireman Joseph Benyo is equally adept with a piece of fire equipment or a camera.

land fire pictures reached the finals in the national competition.

For his outstanding efforts with his camera, Joe received a certificate of completion of a camera course from the head of the Chicago Fire Department's photographic unit.

In announcing the achievement, Westland Fire Chief Ralph Savini said that leading professional cameramen throughout the country attended the event, directed by Chief George Schuller of the Chicago photographic unit.

Benyo, who lives with his wife and children at 32547 Judy Drive, attended the three-day seminar and listened to speakers on movies, darkroom procedures, uses of color photography, and the latest camera techniques, Savini said.

The Westland fireman developed a display entitled "Arson in Pictorial" which reached the finals.

Benyo, a member of the National Press Photographers Association, has contributed many fire rescue work pictures to The Observer.

College Sets Program For Fall Registration

Registration procedures for students enrolling in evening college classes at Schoolcraft College this fall were underscored by Registrar Norman H. Dunn, as the college prepared to process an anticipated 2,800 day and evening students Aug. 29, 30 and 31.

Dunn placed emphasis on two categories of evening college students: those who have made application to the college but have not been counseled, and students living within the college district but who have not yet applied for admission.

Students who have applied but have not been counseled, whether they have previously attended Schoolcraft or are newly accepted, will register between 7 and 9 p.m. on any of the three nights of Aug. 29-31.

These students, Dunn explained, are to report by alphabetical groups according to their last names to the Forum Building, according to this schedule:

A-B, 7 to 8 p.m., Room F110; C-E, 8 to 9 p.m., Room F110; F-I, 7 to 8 p.m., Room F130; J-K, 8 to 9 p.m., Room F130; L-N, 7 to 8 p.m., Room F270; O-R, 8 to 9 p.m., F270; S-T, 7 to 8 p.m., F350; U-Z, 8 to 9 p.m., F350.

Students living in the college district but who either have not yet applied, or have not completed their registration, are to report to Room F250 in the Forum Building between 7 and 9 p.m., on any of the three registration nights, Dunn said.

These students will be counseled the night they apply. Dunn said students in this category will be limited in course choice to non-matriculating courses.

Classes for both day and evening college start Thursday, Sept. 1.

Police Nab Pair With Hot Goods

Fast thinking by a citizen and fast work by the police resulted in the arrest of two men charged with taking two tires from Capitol Tire last week.

Joseph T. Mullen of Detroit was returning to his job at about 4 p.m. when he noticed a grey Thunderbird parked in front of the store. A man was putting two tires in to the trunk.

When Mullen entered the store he asked if two tires had just been sold and upon learning that no-one had sold any tires he set off after the Thunderbird.

Another employee of the store alerted the City Police who joined the chase.

The car was spotted at 10 Mile and Orchard Lake and followed to 11 Mile and Orchard Lake where police from both the City and the Township pulled the car over to the side of the road.

Upon investigation the tires — which were identified as those taken from Capitol — were found in the trunk.

City police arrested the two men, Andrew Deal and Mitchell Thomas, both of Inkster, and charged them with larceny from a building.

They have pleaded not guilty in the Farmington Municipal Court and the examination date has been set for August 26.

The MAYOR'S CORNER

By HARVEY W. MOELKE

Capital Improvement Budget . . . is a term which you undoubtedly will be hearing more about in the future. The State of Michigan, in Act 285 of the Public Acts of 1931, empowered planning commissions to prepare a six year capital improvement budget which shall show, in order of priority, what, in the commissions' judgment, will be needed or desirable and can be undertaken within the succeeding six year period.

I am very cognizant of the planning commissions' responsibility under the State Act. Councilman Milligan has been instrumental in urging the Council to recognize this authority of the Planning Commission of which he is very well aware since he has served as chairman of the Planning Commission.

There are many responsibilities under the Planning Act which are conferred upon the Planning Commission, among which is the very important one of approval of all subdivision plots. A city's legislative body does not have the authority to change a plat nor to approve of one which the planning commission has disapproved. They merely have the right to disapprove a plat which has been approved by the planning commission. Similarly, the planning commission has the responsibility of establishing rules and regulations. Too often our city's Council in the past has not recognized the state law in this regard but has, by local city ordinance, usurped the power conferred upon planning commissions by the state. Our City Charter states in Chapter IV, Section 20, "The Council shall create and maintain a City Planning Commission in accordance with and having the powers and duties granted by the provisions of State Law relating to such commissions. The Council shall also create and maintain a zoning ordinance in accordance with the provisions of State Law relating to such ordinances. Insofar as may be, the provisions of such ordinance shall be coordinated with the work of the City Planning Commission herein required to be maintained by the Council."

MILLIGAN'S PUBLICITY
Mr. Milligan, in a recent publicity release, incorrectly included maintenance of roads and parks and implied that the power to prepare a capital improvement budget rested with the Mayor. The Planning Commission is an autonomous commission and Planning Commission members are appointed for three year specified terms with the approval of the Council and do not serve at the pleasure of the Mayor.

My office has each year directed that our department heads assist the Planning Commission staff in the preparation of a capital improvement budget. Our Planning Department, in the past, has not been able to carry out its responsibility in this area as adequately as we would like. It is one thing to say something should be done and quite another accepting the responsibility to provide the means to do it.

It is a political axiom that the ultimate political power is the power of budget control. The legislative body of our city, as well as state and country, controls the budget. It makes good political fodder for a legislator to blame an administration or chief executive for failure to accomplish the legal requirements when, in fact, the money is not appropriated by the legislative body. It would be like a husband demanding steak but giving his wife only enough money for hamburger and then complaining about the money.

20% CUT NEEDED
My office is in the midst of budget preparation. Every department in our city's government is faced with the task of providing essential services for you within our revenue limitations. This year city departments have requested in their preliminary budget $6,391,000. Our estimated revenue is $5,231,000. 20% of the budget request must be cut to present a balanced budget to the Council by Sept. 15.

20% INCREASE PLANNING COMMISSION
A very important part of that budget is recommendations for capital improvements. The Planning Commission in the past has done a remarkable job with its very limited staff. We are gradually increasing the personnel in this very vital department. Under my administration the budget for the Planning Commission has increased from $32,517 in 1962 to $81,633 this year. They are asking for a 50% increase to enable them to carry out their responsibilities. Similar problems are faced by every operating department within our city.

You can readily see that a mere fact of having a responsibility does not give your city government departments the money to discharge their responsibility. It takes money to hire people to do the job and our city department heads, without exception, have done an excellent job in providing essential services to our citizens within the limitations of their Council appropriations.

POLITICS AND PEOPLE
A Council directive to perform certain functions is not sufficient. The Council must realize and accept its responsibility of providing the funds to carry out its wishes. Of course, they can always point to a resolution saying they have requested the administration to perform certain duties. The question really for you as a citizen to ask is "Which comes first—the funds necessary or a politically motivated request which they know cannot possibly be adequately fulfilled."

A recent study of the taxes paid on the average $15,000 residence for 61 cities in Michigan places the City of Livonia as the 55th lowest for city taxes. The city collects but has no jurisdiction over school, community college or county taxes but merely performs the collection service.

Machinist's Mate Fireman Apprentice Jerry R. DeVries, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. William DeVries, of 28631 Grandon, Livonia, is serving as a crewmember aboard the radar picket destroyer USS Turner, which is presently deployed with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Tractor And Car Collide

Carl Hess, 25, of Walled Lake made an unexpected trip to Botsford General Hospital last Saturday after his car hit a tractor and skidded 85 feet into the side of a tree on Halstead Rd. north of Grand River.

The driver of the tractor, Melvin L. Quackenbush of Royal Oak told police that he saw the car approximately a third of a mile north on Halstead Rd. and pulled out. He then saw the car approaching rapidly and stayed in the northbound lane.

Hess told police that he hit the brakes when he saw the tractor, but that his brakes stuck and he slid into the slower vehicle.

According to the police report Hess slid a total of 136 paces before hitting the side of the tractor and then bounced across the road, a ditch and a lawn hitting a tree in front of 24415 Halstead Rd.

Police estimate that Hess was travelling south on Halstead at between 90 and 100 miles per hour.

Liquor OK'd For Proposed Restaurant

Despite the mayor's comments about broken promises in the past from other applicants, the Garden City Council Monday approved the request for a tavern license for Fotois Patouhas.

The applicant, who already has a beer and wine license from the state Liquor Control Commission, promised the City Council that he would open a quality restaurant at 31410 Ford Road.

But Mayor Edwin Freeh, who cast the only dissenting vote in the approval, said that since 1961 the council has issued four or five liquor licenses and "all of them gave promises but none of them complied."

There is no control of what goes into the building after the council approves the license, Freeh stressed.

But Patouhas verbally promised that he would live up to statements made in Monday's presentation.

He said that he would convert his present restaurant and beer and wine store into a quality establishment with a capacity for 200 persons.

He pointed out that the food business is his primary concern and the liquor would be just for the convenience of the diners and the restaurant wouldn't turn into a bar.

The owner also stressed his past service with the London Chop House in Detroit, the "21" in New York City and other famous restaurants.

It's School Vs. Teamsters Tomorrow

Representatives of the Brotherhood of Teamsters and the Livonia School District will meet tomorrow (Thursday) with the State Labor Mediation Board to try to resolve an unfair labor practice charge. At least three previous meetings have been held on the subject.

Teamsters are claiming that head custodians were allowed to negotiate for the Local 118 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

They say this is not right. Attorney John Williamson of Milwaukee is aiding the Teamsters in their fight and local school employees who seek Teamster representation are Ida Pearson, bus driver and Teamster organizer, and Calvin Heard, district mechanic.

"We want school officials to stop treating our people like dogs," Mrs. Pearson said.

Representing the school in the hearings is Fred Thrun, school attorney, Supt. Ben Yates, and Assistant Supt. Ron Upton. An outside legal firm has also been employed by the district.

GMC Plans Hour-Long TV Traffic Safety Show

General Motors will present a one-hour documentary on traffic safety over 138 television stations at various times from Sept. 6 through 10.

The documentary, entitled "Destination Safety," was prepared as a public service to provide a searching look at a subject of ever-increasing cause for concern. The program will not be interrupted by commercials.

It will present facts through interviews with leading traffic authorities, visits to various facilities and organizations connected with safety research, and portray incidents in law enforcement situations as they actually happened.

The main parts of the documentary approach significant things that are being done to make cars safer, highways better, law enforcement more effective and drivers better trained. Another area covered is driver licensing.

The film also presents examples of positive action that are helping traffic safety.

The story of Chicago's comeback from one of the worst fatality records to one of the best, is recorded through the voice of a traffic partolman. In Chicago, strict law enforcement has resulted in better driving.

An experiment in training student drivers in Flint, Mich., provides an example of what one community did with a pressing problem of teen-ager fatalities. The program has proved to be very successful in reducing both fatalities and accidents.

The effort of the automobile industry to build safer cars through extensive research in laboratories and proving grounds is shown with dramatic "impact sled" tests of windshields, seat belts, door locks, padded instrument panels and the energy-absorbing steering column.

Research leading to improvements in guard rails, lamp posts and bridge railings, to make them safer when struck by a motorist, also is documented.

The subject of auto inspection is covered in visits to inspection stations in Virginia, New Jersey and California. The need for a uniform vehicle code is discussed by an authority in Washington, D.C.

Dramatic action in the documentary includes car-to-car crashes, dummies in simulated collisions and other situations.

$95 Stolen From Purse

A total of $95 in cash was reported missing from the Custom Bridal Salon at 32065 Grand River on Aug. 18.

According to the City of Farmington's police report Stella Strye, owner of the shop, said that two Negro women came into the store and said they wanted to look at a cocktail dress.

Mrs. Strye told police that while one woman was trying on a dress the other woman asked to use the lavatory. After Mrs. Strye left to wait on another customer, the money disappeared.

Teen Volunteer's Letter Tells Why She Likes Work

Among the hundreds of people who volunteer for duty at the Plymouth State Home, an institution housing mentally retarded, are many teenagers.

One, Carol Schult, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Schult, 34035 Dorais, Livonia, wrote a letter to Bill Boyd, community relations director at the Home, expressing how she felt about being a volunteer.

Miss Schult is the daughter of L. Schult, a community relations director at Northville State Hospital.

Here is what she wrote:

"Dear Mr. Boyd:

"Yesterday, several girls (mentally retarded) went on a small picnic across from T building. I noticed one of the kids (it doesn't matter which one) picking weeds in a field nearby. I was about ready to go and drag her out when I saw the expression on her face. She was smiling. I had never seen her smile before, and when she looked up, I smiled back. She gathered the weeds in a bouquet, eliminating some of the dry ones, and handed them to me.

"They looked pretty scrappy and limp. I decided to tell her how pretty they were, and then throw them away when she wasn't looking. Before I had a chance to say anything, she said something very softly to me.

"Flowers, pretty."

"Suddenly, they were pretty. I mean it. Seeing how this kid had put her whole self into picking those weeds, I couldn't fake my appreciation . . . it was real.

"Maybe she gave me the bouquet as a little thanks for playing with her and giving her a little extra attention . . . but in a way, I should have been thanking her. Thanking her for the many experiences she has given me . . . showing me even a weed can be pretty if it has an honest purpose.

"I am very happy you have volunteers at Plymouth State Home. It shows the volunteering teenagers there's more to this world than surfing, amusement parks and Beale shows."

This letter was forwarded by Bill Boyd, who said, "we always have room for more volunteers like her."

Late Models Decide Title

Flat Rock Speedway late model auto racers will determine their season champion Saturday night.

Promoter John Marcum, mindful of being trapped by inclement weather at the end of the past several seasons, decided to let the drivers settle it while both the weather and their equipment is excellent. Racing will continue as long as the weather holds, Marcum said. The Figure 8 championship will be on Sept. 10.

The late model championship race will be over the 50-lap distance with the top 24 drivers in the point standings eligible to start. Point leader Dick Mitchell of Trenton gets the pole position. Others line up behind him.

New Group Opposes Wayne Millage Levy

In what may be a battle of the initial groups, a homeowners association has organized to oppose the four-mill school levy on the Sept. 12 ballot for Westland voters in the Wayne Community School District.

The new group is Homeowners Association for Lowering Taxes (HALT), which is on the opposite side of the millage issue from Voters for Total Education (VOTE) which spearheaded a petition drive recently to force the special election.

In its first public statements, the HALT officers asked several pointed questions about what plans the school board has for new income from higher tax base in Westland.

Although HALT feels that it favors first class education, "we find there is much waste in the spending habits of our administration. There comes a time when someone has to be a watch-dog for the spending spree that this administration has undertaken."

Some of the questions the group is asking include: "What does the administration plan on doing with the $340,000 in extra income from the Westland Shopping Center?"

"What does the administration plan on doing with the $840,000 in excess revenue it will have this year from higher assessments and new industries?"

"What does the administration plan on doing with the $410,000 it will receive from Public Act 409 which will take effect next December?"

The group also deplored the "scare" tactics used by the administration and claimed that the Sept. 12 special election is illegal because of the method in which the petitions were circulated.

However, George Pappas of the VOTE group said the petitions matter was checked and approved by the state attorney general's office before they were circulated.

The HALT committee also said in its first public statement that based on the information they have obtained, it will "say no until the administration can convince us otherwise."

The group is willing to listen and find out what the district is planning to do with the four mills if the proposal is approved next month.

Wayne's school board originally announced a series of educational and sports program cuts when the millage question was defeated at the June 13 election but some of the reductions were restored a month later with the remainder to depend on the outcome of the Sept. 12 millage vote.

32-Room Classroom Structure Heads List

Schoolcraft Trustees Approve Funds for Buildings

Trustees of Schoolcraft College set in motion the first phase of the 1966 building program when they authorized appropriations of funds totaling $1,527,911 for five projects with a total cost of $2,283,078.

The college's share of the costs of the first portion of the program will come from the sale of a $3 million bond issue approved by district voters on June 13.

Major project in the initial phase of the program is construction of a new classroom building at the south end of the campus. Of an estimated cost of $1,256,000 for the 32-classroom structure, Schoolcraft will receive a federal grant of $358,903 under the Higher Education Facilities Act of 1965, and $219,614 appropriated by the state. Both the federal grant and the state appropriation have been approved.

The classroom building will contain a 170-seat lecture hall designed to serve as a small theater for musical and dramatic programs. Construction is expected to start early in 1967.

Trustees also authorized $89,000 in planning funds for a proposed physical education plant. Architects are now preparing preliminary drawings on the building, which will include main and auxiliary gymnasiums, a swimming pool, handball courts, remedial areas, and other physical education facilities. Schoolcraft officials expect to start construction early next fall.

Other projects funded by the trustees were:

Remodeling of the Forum Building, the initial classroom building. Cost of the project is $119,775, of which the state has contributed $37,500.

Equipping the new Vocational-Technical Building and the new Waterman Campus Center; and purchase of instructional equipment and maintenance staff vehicles. Total budget: $707,300, of which $136,150 is reimbursable from federal funds.

Site improvements, including hard surfacing the north student parking lot, developing of roads and sidewalks, landscaping and signs. Total cost: $11,000, of which $3,000 was received as a gift.

Other projects in the 1966 building program, but not yet funded by the trustees include construction of the physical education plant, remodeling of the library and administration building, installation of utilities, storm sewers and drains and development of additional student parking areas on campus.

The following students have been assigned to the Plymouth School District:

Bird: Cecelia Lorenger, grade 3 with Mrs. Jane West; Susan Noel, grade 4 with Mrs. Elisabeth Sheldon; Martha Rupert, grade 2 with Mrs. Myrtle Read; Evelyn Trablisky, grade 1 with Mrs. Dorothy Miller.

The student teachers working in the Livonia schools will meet with their cooperating teachers for an all-day general meeting on Sept. 6.

The same day, the Plymouth student teachers will attend the General Meeting for all Plymouth teachers at Plymouth Junior High school. In the afternoon they will attend the staff meeting at Bird School.

On Sept. 7, administrators, cooperating teachers and student teachers will participate in an orientation tea at the Madonna College Residence Hall at 2:30 p.m.

Supervisor of the elementary school teachers is Mrs. Nancy Tanger, former principal in Plymouth, and now a Madonna College faculty member. Sister Martina, CSSF, is the Coordinator of Secondary student teachers.

Congressman Tops in Votes, Election Funds

Expense accounts submitted by candidates in the 15th Congressional District's Democratic primary race show that incumbent William D. Ford is a winner at the polling place and the bank balance.

Ford, serving his first term in Congress, showed a $1,676.25 balance from his successful primary election race which saw him defeat challenger James Costello, Garden City druggist.

Costello, besides being whopped by a 5-1 margin in the Aug. 2 primary, also reported campaign expenses of $5,597.50 while getting donations of only $165.

The winner, who had 31,693 votes to his opponent's 6,118, reported expenses of $8,001.43 with income from various dinners and testimonials totalling $9,677.95.

Ford gained $1,188.25 from a party in his behalf, and $8,489.70 from the testimonial dinner held for him in early May. On his expense sheet, Ford's committee treasurer Theodore Monolidis listed a food bill of $1,455 submitted by Garden City restaurant owner Gene Salvatore.

Costello's expenses, as did Ford's, concerned signs, sales promotion devices, news-

Practice Monday for 13 Schools

Prep Gridders Set to Go

The vacation is just about over for the area's high school football players.

At 13 schools, coaches and players are itching to go to work—and work begins early Monday morning the first time the school boy gridders may drill under the regulations set up by the State High School Athletic Association.

In the meantime, there are the matters of physical examination and issuing of equipment which must be taken care of.

At most schools, these chores will be done on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, so there'll be no loss of practice.

The prep gridders will have less than three full weeks to prepare for their opening games. The regular season for the public school teams begin three weeks from this Friday (Sept. 16). The parochial teams will begin two days later on Sept. 18.

A survey of schools served by the Observer Newspapers has produced the following football information:

FARMINGTON HIGH
Bob Mistele is the new coach. Physicals take place Friday morning from 9 a.m. to noon at the high school.

Mistele expects around 65 candidates Monday morning. "We're very optimistic here," says Mistele who plans to introduce a Southwest type of football at Farmington.

This could mean a lot of passing. Three veteran guards will lead the Falcons with Larry Cogdill and Tom Dittman at the guards and All-Observer Area end Jerry Tinkle. Dan Wolfman and Ed Snyder figure to be standouts in the backfield.

NORTH FARMINGTON
Ron Holland again will be the head coach. Physicals Friday at 9 a.m. in the gym. Of the 75 varsity candidates, 22 won their letters a year ago.

Big problem for Holland will be to replace the nifty Bill Oldershaw at quarterback. There are some line heads that may give Holland a gray hair or two.

Pete Fairfield at tackle is back to bolster the front wall in the backfield, Roger Schamek and Jay Durling loom as two of the best.

BENTLEY
Larry Joiner hopes that the school's fortunes follow on the same course of a year ago when Bentley won (1) all eight of its games, (2) the Suburban Six League title and (3) ranked among the top Class A teams in the state.

Players at Bentley visit their own doctors for physicals and are reminded that they are OK before Monday's first practice.

Joiner will have upwards of 100 candidates reporting and one of his major problems will center around replacing Bob Elsner, the brilliant All-Suburban back.

FRANKLIN
Another big squad is due to check in at Franklin when Coach Bob Bentley drops the starting signal. He expects to have around 100 boys showing up.

Seventeen of the list are veterans, but Franklin was hit hard in the line where only Fred Davies and Roland Vandenberg at tackles are tested and proven performers.

In the backfield, Bentley must replace quarterback Gary Birkett, but he has a dandy runner returning in Gary Rogalski, now in his third year on the varsity.

STEVENSON
No problems here in the way of graduation losses. Everybody's back at Stevenson where they had only tenth graders on the varsity in 1965. This year the squad includes eleventh graders.

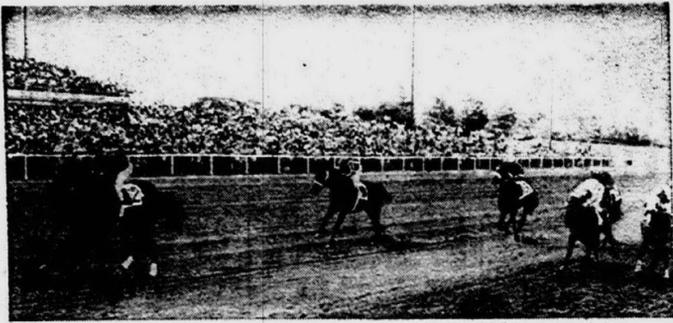

Jack Riordan is the coach and just as Bentley and Franklin high, Stevenson players are urged to see their own doctors for physicals.

Riordan will have 50-75 boys out and must ready his team for its first all-varsity schedule against foes in the Interlakes Conference.

Some fine boys from the junior varsity will join the returnees of the varsity.

CLARENCEVILLE
Physicals are carded for Saturday at 2 p.m., after equipment is passed out at noon.

OPEN DAYLIGHT: Bay Phantom, one of the Midwest's outstanding sprinters, has plenty of daylight between him and his nearest rivals, Roger's Joy and Wesley Ashcraft, as he drives through the stretch in the $15,000 Bully Boy Handicap at the Detroit Race Course. The victory was Bay Phantom's eighth of the season. The four-year-old, owned by C. O. Vair, has been out of the money only four times in 18 starts this year.

Bay Phantom Thunders To Easy DRC Triumph

Speed Is The Name Of The Game.

The thoroughbreds at the Detroit Race Course are spotlighting consistency and top performances with some of the fastest clockings in the 18-year history of the track.

As the 84-day DRC meeting moves through its fourth week, speed on the part of the horses and hearty response by the fans are moving at record-breaking paces.

Prior to the opening of the meeting, President Dale Shaffer said:

"Track Superintendent Jimmy McPhee has the track in its finest condition in years. I am convinced we are going to see some excellent times and that fans are going to be rewarded with extremely formful racing. They always like that."

Winner in 'F' Tourney

Northville squeezed out a 7-6 victory over Allen Park in the Inter-Cities Class F (Boys 13 under) baseball finals held at Livonia.

The host team from Livonia won over Ecorse, before losing to Allen Park, 3-2, in the semifinals of the single-defeat elimination tournament.

Pitcher Croskey had two hits along with Gregg and Proctor in the Livonia victory. In the game against Allen Park, Livonia's losing hurler Berney picked up a pair of safeties.

both points.

Before a Saturday crowd of 21,450 fans, one of the Midwest's top sprinters, Bay Phantom, won the $15,000 added Bully Boy Stakes with the fastest clocking of the meeting.

Bay Phantom, owned by C. O. Vair and ridden by Dick Lawless, went the six furlongs in 1:09.3 to beat an outsider, Roger's Joy, with Wesley Ashcraft, an earlier DRC winner, third.

Killoqua, sent in from Arlington Park at Chicago for the race, duelled with Bay Phantom for much of the route, but then succumbed in a dazzling stretch drive and finished fourth.

The victory was the eighth of the year for Bay Phantom and boosted his earnings for the year over the $80,000 mark.

The companion feature was the $10,000 Plymouth Handicap, which was contested over a mile and one-sixteenth.

Another consistent performer during the Detroit season, Eladio, outlasted Seaman Sinbad and Williamson Kid to take the victory.

Williamston Kid, winner of the $100,000 Florida Derby in April, was a distant trailer, as usual, through the early stages of the race. Jockey Larry Snyder put Williamston Kid to a hard drive, but he never could seriously threaten the winner.

The $20,000 Fancy Flyer Handicap for three-year-olds and up at one mile and an eighth and the $10,000 Western Special, for three-year-olds, at a mile and one-sixteenth top another outstanding card this Saturday.

After the first three weeks of the season, the DRC is averaging a record mutual handle of $973,671. This is in comparison with a $924,419 average through the same period a year ago. Daily average attendance for the opening 18 days is 13,788.

The DRC had a record "play" of $135,294 for the Twin Double last Saturday.

Redford Finds Tourney Tough

One learns from experience.

The luck of the draw can help, too.

With no alibi, Redford Township Dependable baseball team came back in a hurry from Johnstown, Pa., after losing two straight in the All America Boys tournament.

Manager Al Turner of Dependable was proud of the way his team performed, despite an 11-6 loss to Pittsburgh, and then a 5-2 setback at the hands of Altoona, Pa. — to send the Townshippers on their way back to Michigan.

"Our kids played well," said Turner. "More important, they acted the way we wanted to. They played hard and they were gentlemen."

As for experience — it was Redford's first crack at a national crown.

"No question about it, we had the jitters," added Turner, "especially the way the draw and diamond assignments went that first day in Johnstown."

"They had to play Pittsburgh in the big stadium... and under the lights. There were all kinds of ceremonies. And there must have been 15,000 people there."

"We had to stand around for quite a while... waiting for the dignitaries to make their remarks. All of which brought us some nervousness, I'm sure."

"No Redford team ever had played under such conditions before. We showed the strain and the excitement in the field and at bat."

"We made a couple of costly errors and we were swinging at some bad pitches."

Turner took nothing away from Pittsburgh pitcher Bob Welty, who wound up striking out 19 Redford batters and allowing only six hits.

"The kid was a dandy. But we helped him by taking cuts at some bad pitches," added Turner.

It also should be known that Redford found itself matched right off the bat against the tournament's defending champs and that for Welty it marked the fourth straight year he had hurled at Johnstown.

All went well for Redford in the opener for three innings. Then Pittsburgh counted twice in the fourth and once in the fifth against Rick Fisher, the Redford hurler.

The roof fell in on Redford in the sixth. Pittsburgh knocked in seven runs, most of them unearned.

Redford came bouncing back... pushing across six runs in the seventh, with Bob Holmes doubling over two of the tallies. But the damage had been done and Dependable couldn't get back into the game.

The next day it was Redford against Altoona, another tourney-wise team. Turner went with Mickey Knight, whom he had added for the tournament, as his pitcher. For four innings, the game went along on a scoreless clip.

To begin the fifth, Redford got the jump. Bob Holmes beat out a single to short, for his team's first hit.

Up came Robby Masson... and whammo! The ball rode over the leftfield fence for a homer and Redford led, 2-0.

The advantage didn't last long. Altoona quickly countered with three earned runs in its half of the fifth and added single unearned runs in the sixth and seventh.

Meantime, Redford was able to muster only one more hit—a single by Lou Banwert—the rest of the way. Twice, Redford had men on base through walks, but three doubleplays wiped out any chances Redford had of scoring after Masson connected.

And so it was back to Redford for Dependable while a couple of area players remained behind to help Detroit Adray gain the tournament finals.

Ken Bratherton, a former star at Franklin High, pitched twice in relief for Adray on successive days and came up a winner each time.

Meantime, Bo Ardell from Garden City was helping the Adray team with strong hitting and play in centerfield.

Fans in the Greater Livonia area will get a chance to see Adray as well as Redford Dependable in action Friday night when they open a best-of-three series at Livonia's Henry Ford Field for the Detroit Free Press state championship.

Redford took the outstate Free Press crown... Adray the Detroit flag.
A beautiful trophy awaits the winner of the state series.

Home Gives a Family Big Edge in Inflation

By 1970, prices of new homes will be 20-25 per cent above today's level, predicts Richard Bullock, editor of Practical Builder, in the June issue of the business magazine for professional builders.

Because of the spiraling costs, he advises young couples to buy a new home "as soon as possible." He points out that more expensive labor and materials are adding about $1,000 a year to the cost of a $20,000 house.

Bullock bases his conclusions on an industry study just completed by M. R. Robinson, manager of the Bureau of Building Marketing Research, the research affiliate of Practical Builder.

The story, "A New Home of Your Own—Still the Best Investment for Most Young Families," cites some of the reasons for buying now:

- Our economy is entering an inflationary period similar to that of the mid-1950s. Home ownership, like other long-term real property, is likely to appreciate faster than other commodities. In short, it's the strongest hedge against inflation.

- Available land each year becomes harder to find and develop, so it becomes more expensive.

- Earlier purchase of a home, preferably prior to raising a family, pays other dividends. By the time the children are ready for school, school facilities will be developed and in all probability the tax burden will be less. Schools built today, like houses, will cost less than those built tomorrow.

Another factor favoring the early purchase of a home is the creation of an estate which will grow in value and can be used as collateral for borrowing for further investments—to raise funds to start a business, to pay for college educations, to reinvest for profit, and to meet the expense of adversities.

To emphasize the concrete value of home ownership, the Practical Builder story compared two family histories. Both couples were married in 1954.

The first couple bought $17,000 home in 1955 which today has a current market value of $22,500—on a 20-year $15,000 mortgage at 5 per cent interest. The $99-a-month payments during the first 10 years have totaled $11,880—$5,668 of which represents the couple's equity, $6,212 interest.

The second couple rented a five-room apartment; initially for $100 a month. With steadily increasing rents, the monthly rental has averaged $138, for a total of $16,554—and no equity.

Bullock points out that buying a home has been proven to make owners more responsible, and that their desire to improve their lives makes them better financial risks and job-holders and leads to higher family incomes.

Use Garage As Extra Play Room

Your garage can be more than just a parking space for the family car and storage space for gardening implements.

If your garage is attached to the house and the house is heated with hot water, you probably can have an extra play room, mud room, or work room by merely extending your home heating system into the garage.

And you don't have to tear down walls, break through floors or ceilings, or upset room decorations, claims the National Better Heating-Cooling Council.

In a hydronic (hot water) heating system, finger-size tubing circulates heated water from a boiler to each room in the house.

To heat the garage, your heating contractor may only have to drill a small hole through a wall to extend the piping into the garage.

Normally you don't need an additional heating plant since most hydronic boilers have sufficient capacity to handle the extra heating load.

In fact, that same boiler can do many other similar jobs.

It can be used to heat a greenhouse, a swimming pool, or a bathtub, or it can be used to operate an automatic snow melting system, provided it has sufficient capacity.

For more remodeling ideas, send for the Council's 16-page booklet, "Remodel Your Home With Hydronics." To receive your booklet, send ten cents in coin to Better Heating-Cooling Council, 250 Park Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017.

Reversing Aids Fence

A tall, long privacy fence of flush boards, looks best if divided into four-foot-wide sections, boards nailed on the face side of one section, and on the back side of the adjoining section. The method develops a paneled look, with framework exposed in alternating sections to produce an attractive, three-dimensional look.

FLOYD MORRISON

Keim Names Morrison Boss In Livonia

Floyd R. Morrison has been appointed manager of the Livonia office of the Earl Keim Realty. It is located at 15707 Farmington Road.

Morrison and his wife Jean reside at 35118 Wood Drive in Livonia. He was born in Port Huron where he attended elementary and high school and junior college. He served as a Great Lakes vessel master on numerous ships before entering military service in the Coast Guard in 1942.

After 22 years in Coast Guard service, he returned to the Detroit area where he is well-known in marine circles. In various tours of duty in different sections of the United States, Morrison studied and dealt in service property matters and is licensed by the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission.

Lining a Closet Easy With Cedar

Aromatic red cedar lining, which transforms a closet into a moth-free storage area for out-of-season clothing, needs no finishing after installation. A do-it-yourselfer can easily line the average closet, including walls, ceiling, door and even shelves over a weekend.

Complete installation instructions are included in each package of cedar closet lining, available at most lumber yards.

U of D Series Slates Music, Drama and Song

The Detroit debut of the first American permanent chamber symphony, the Philadelphia Chamber Symphony Orchestra, will highlight the University of Detroit Town and Gown Celebrity Series this year.

The Rev. Herman Hughes, S.J., series producer, announced that the group will appear in the nine-attraction season Saturday, April 8. All Town and Gown programs start at 8:30 p.m. in the U. of D. Memorial Building Auditorium on the McNichols Road Campus.

Anshel Brusilov reports that he has hand-picked 38 musicians for this chamber symphony. They will inaugurate their season with 22 performances in Philadelphia, and seven in New York's Lincoln Center followed by a nationwide tour.

Return engagements to the Town and Gown series will be played by two entertainers who drew capacity crowds to their previous one-man shows at U. of D.

Charles Aznavour, French singer, film star and composer, returns Sunday, Nov. 13, and flamenco guitarist Carlos Montoya comes back for the third time Friday, March 3.

Among newcomers: The Dukes of Dixieland will play Saturday, Oct. 1, for the U. of D. Fall Carnival program. They feature the original Dixieland music with interpretations dating back to the Nineties.

They will be joined in Carnival Town and Gown show by The Four Saints, folk-singing-comedy quartet, playing a return engagement to the U. of D. Campus.

The first visit to Detroit of the New York company of "The Fantastiks" is on Sunday, Oct. 16. This company of New York's longest running off-Broadway musical is headed by David Cryer.

The show is a romantic, fantasy-musical, a turnabout on the "Romeo and Juliet" theme.

"Fiesta Mexicana" comes in Sunday, Oct. 30; 30 dancers, singers, and musicians in a panorama of old and new Mexico. Presentations range from ancient Aztec ritual to popular dances of Spanish New Mexico.

Manuela Vargas brings her company of Flamenco dancers to U. of D. Friday, Dec. 2.

Al Hirt and his band come to Detroit from his Club on Bourbon Street, New Orleans, to play for the U. of D. Mardi Gras Concert Friday, Feb. 3.

The Rhos Male Choir, the National Choir of Wales, closes the season Friday, April 21, with a 130-voice concert.

Season tickets, which include all of the shows except Montoya, are now on sale at U. of D.

Orders may be mailed to the Memorial Bldg. Ticket Office, U. of D., Detroit 21.

Checks for $17.50 for each season ticket book should be made payable to the University of Detroit.

Wally Roberts UP' GOING 'CURTAIN

"In peace, there's nothing so becomes a man as modest stillness and humility, but when the blast of war blows; then imitate the action of the tiger." So good King Henry V exhorts his troops early in Act II at Canada's magnificent Shakespearean Festival amid the peace and tranquility of stately Stratford, Ontario.

Stratford's "Henry V" springs and leaps like a tiger, a roaring lion, and a whole herd of savage beasts as it rips and snarls its way through the blood-stained pages of English history.

Too often Shakespearean directors treat "Henry V" calmly, dispassionately, and so anemically that an intellectual dust settles on the actors and chokes out the latent liveliness of the script.

Old Wally's sanguine nature was more than satisfied with this bloody, body-strewn version of "Henry V".

Director Michael Langham's 1966 version of "Henry V" had all the immediacy and contemporary consciousness of the Viet Nam struggle.

Battles swirled about the stage, soldiers paraded about with blood streaming from face and leg wounds, the moments spent in the French or English war camps were splashed with the grim reminders that war is a bloody, dirty mess.

The glory facts of war cried out louder than Shakespeare's well-formed heroic couplets.

Many Shakespearean scholars and directors see "Henry V" as a glorification of war, praising the English conquest of the French back in the 14th century.

Director Langham, disagreeing with most classic pundits, has staged "Henry V" stressing the dirty, seamy side of war. His version accentuates the senselessness of all wars whether in the 14th or the 20th century.

The ring of steel on steel may deafen you at "Henry V", but the fiery shadows of the Viet Nam napalm bombs hover just offstage at Stratford.

War is not a mythical mirage. Real blood is always spilled no matter how minor the conflict. That innocent wide-eyed boy-next-door is paying the horrible, foolish price: death. Stratford's bristling version of "Henry V" paints such a violent, stark picture.

Douglas Rain as Henry V does a superior job. His precise, deft characterization of this highly respected English King brings new continuous excitement to a role that could be quite stuffy in less competent hands. David Merrick, the prolific Broadway producer, is currently making plans to bring the entire cast to New York this fall. It's about time that our brethren in New York had a glimpse at what fine work these dedicated Canadian actors do.

While up at Stratford old Wally took in "Henry VI", "Don Giovanni", "Dance of Death", "Twelfth Night", and "The Last of the Tsars."

Sounds like a heavy schedule of classic fare, but the Stratford company always does such terrific work that every play is a special occasion.

"Henry VI," seldom seen, drips with intrigue and spirit. "Don Giovanni," sung in English, was a singing triumph. "Dance of Death" was a tour de force for actor-director Jean Gaseoon.

"The Last of the Tsars" was an enthralling study of Russian history and gave William Hutt an opportunity to once again treat the audience to superb job of acting.

"Twelfth Night" was a merry romp and put new life into one of Shakespeare's merriest of all comedies.

Washing Walls Is New Therapy
Here's a true story. When Mrs. "X" became a victim of bursitis in her shoulder, her physician prescribed "crawling up a wall" with her arm as a therapeutic exercise.

Instead of wasting time, this diligent homemaker now holds a sudsy sponge in her right hand—so all her white woodwork is being washed while she treats her bursitis.

Mercy College Sets Cultural Program

Artists representing a broad spectrum of performing arts comprise the attraction scheduled for the 1966-67 Artists Series at Mercy College in Detroit. All appearances will be in McAuley Auditorium on the campus.

The series begins Sept. 25 with John Gary, fast rising popular singing star and concludes April 13-16 with the college's annual musical production, "My Fair Lady."

In between these two extremes are a symphony orchestra in classical proportions, a lecture by Marian Anderson, now retired from the concert stage. Bramwell Fletcher who has dramatized and personalized "The Bernard Shaw Story" precedes two outstanding musical artists—Jan Pearce, a long established tenor with the Metropolitan Opera and Andre Watts, a young pianist, described by Conductor Leonard Bernstein as "one of the 12 most important young pianists in concert work today."

The Drama Series begins Oct. 13-16 with Anton's Chekhov's "The Cherry Orchard," a gallery of serious and comic portraits which reveal the changes taking place in Russia at the turn of the century. This is followed Dec. 1-4 by three one-act plays: "The Apollo of Bellac" by Jean Girardoux, a fairy tale romance with a contemporary Parisian setting, two one-act selections from Thornton Wilder's "Plays for Bleeker Street," "Childhood," a fantasy based upon the way that children regard their elders and "Someone From Assisi" a symbolical play about a man who bears an unspeakable burden of sin.

Bramwell Fletcher with "The Bernard Shaw Story" opens the new year, Jan. 15. This is a dramatic biographical presentation of one of the great playwrights of all time. A student production of Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe's "My Fair Lady" based on Shaw's "Pygmalion" concludes the dramatic series April 13-16.

Dew Line

By JOHN DEW

Two weeks before the "premier" season for televisionaries and all is pretty quiet at this point. Maybe that will give us a moment to catch up on a few happenings.

"Peyton Place" has moved. It will be found on Monday and Wednesday nights, rather than the former Tuesday and Thursday location.

There is an interesting movement underway on the part of the nets to revive drama on TV. The trend perhaps started with ABC's announced prime-time project, "Stage '67" which we detailed in this column some time ago. CBS followed suit with plans for following up its very successful "Death of a Salesman" offering of last season.

Now NBC has let word slip through publicity channels that it is planning an experiment with live theater on Sunday afternoons. The entire push back for drama and more imaginative ventures is probably a move calculated to attempt luring back the vast numbers of higher educated people, who have left the sets turned off in their homes or have switched to local and educational stations in increasing numbers.

On the other side of the commercial coin is the announcement that William Dozier, currently producing the "Batman" and "Green Hornet" TV vehicles, has now acquired the rights to the "Dick Tracy" comic series and is piloting a potential series for '68. "Moon Mullins" has also been set for a potential weekday afternoon series. The plans for the ABC late-nighter with Joey Bishop

About Those Juicy Tidbits

One of our readers has berated us for using "juicy tidbits" from police blotters and justice courts.

Others accuse us of having "small minds" and causing concerned relatives to have heart attacks by printing news of brushes with the law.

Many persons wonder why some weekly newspapers print names of those arrested for drunk driving, beating someone up, indecent exposure, stealing, committing suicide.

Other readers wonder how newspapers obtain information about such offenses.

As to how reporters get police and court news, police reports and court decisions are public records and any citizen may look at them. He doesn't have to be a lawyer or reporter, only himself.

As to why we print them, this is a matter of choice which every newspaper makes for itself.

As to what the reader wants to read this is also his choice.

Some persons like "Play Boy," some like "Look" and "Time," some like to read the "Bible," some like "Forever Amber."

A newspaper which prints "general news" (as contrasted to church, lodge, union, and company bulletins) covers a broad area.

In most editions of The Observer, readers will find stories about schools, cities, movies, plays, churches, weddings, engagements, merchandise for sale, coming events, fires, accidents, deaths, births, sports, and the many things with which we are concerned in our daily lives.

The tidbits are also important. Do you want to know (or would you prefer not to know) that:

- A sex pervert is molesting children in your neighborhood?

- A bad driver in your block has lost his license for 90 days because he was convicted of drunk driving?

- The death of a neighbor, called a suicide, occurred under circumstances which warrant further investigation by police?

Life is not all rosy, unfortunately, and the informed citizen keeps abreast of circumstances which can directly affect him.

In our opinion, "juicy tidbits" play as important a part in the news as any information carried in this newspaper.

We hope most of our readers feel the same way we do.

—BILL GAIL

It Happens!

Newspapers are frequently criticized by public officials for the printing of unintentional typographical errors. But a prepared press release given to the Garden City Observer last week by a mayoralty candidate contained an odd phrase in the area of typing errors. The candidate took credit for the opening of the police department's dog-pound which, in the prepared statement, came out pig-Latin or "god-pound."

Bicycles (with rules) Are Great...

"Life is great on the seat of my bicycle..." goes the old song.

We agree. Bicycles are great things for both the young and the old. They provide exercise, fun, a means of transportation and relaxation for many people.

However, they are also dangerous.

In fast growing areas such as this where neither the cyclist nor the motorist ever really stops to think about the potential danger, the end result is often tragedy.

Last week in Farmington Township a 12-year-old was killed while riding his bicycle on a Township Road. At the beginning of the summer two youths were killed in slightly more than a week.

The burden of safety on bicycles lies equally on both the motorist and the cyclist.

Certain laws are laid down by the state. They should be observed just as safety precautions are required for automobiles and drivers.

Do your children know the following:

- Do they know how to ride a bicycle in heavy traffic or along some of the main roads in the area?

- Do they realize how dangerous it is to venture out on a bicycle after dark without reflectors or lighting on the bike?

- Do they know that they should ride on the right side of the street close to the curb?

- Do they realize that if they are under the age of 12 they are violating the law when they ride in the street?

- Do they know that if they are in the street they are expected and required to obey all the traffic signs and signals and to signal before turning or stopping?

- Do they realize how dangerous it is to ride with more than one person on a bike, or with big packages that might block vision or disrupt the sense of balance?

- Above all do they realize how vulnerable a bike rider or child is and how without defense he is if hit by an automobile?

- Do you realize that most of these regulations are required by state law?

- Do you also realize that under the law a misdemeanor is committed if any provision is violated and that the parents or guardian of the child can be prosecuted?

Thus the burden for safety of bike riders lands on three separate groups. The rider, the parents and the motorist.

The rider must obey the law. The parents have an obligation to teach their children the law and to see that it is obeyed. The motorist in the area must begin to realize that this is no longer country and must change his driving habits from that of a highway to those of the city.

—SUE SHAUGHNESSY

What About the Drivers?

Public officials are always quick to "play doctor" and come up with a fast prescription for an illness they don't know too much about. This is what happened in past months concerning the recent fad of rented motorcycles and motorbikes.

A few residents had their suburban peace and quiet interrupted by the noise of a racing motorbike rider and local officials, sensing that this was an indication of a public safety problem, jumped into adopting ordinances, rules and controls.

But the problem was that the rules and controls were placed on the wrong end.

The public officials aimed their ordinances at the persons operating the rental agencies. But as usual, officials did nothing about having local police agencies enforce the basic traffic safety laws, which, of course, includes motorbike riders.

The rental agency operator can not be held responsible for the public performance of one of his customers any more than General Motor Corp. (or Ford or Chrysler) can be after it sells a new car to a person who promptly plies himself with a pint of liquor and then smashes into a tree at 60 miles an hour. If the auto companies are not responsible for what happens to their product, why rentals.

The solution, as most others do in similar cases of public safety, gets back to the individual and his awareness of his responsibilities.

There are guns, knives, and other lethal weapons available to the general public with money being the only determining factor.

But nothing has been done about limiting the sale of firearms or knives to only mature, intelligent, and responsible adults.

Let's not waste too much energy on the person who rents the motorbikes. Let's concern ourselves with parents who give their sons and daughters money to rent the bikes and ask no questions where the youngsters are going and spending free evenings away from home.

Court Justice Questioned

Editor:

Is this justice?

On July 21, at approximately 8:30 p.m. while approaching the intersection of Middlebelt and Warren in the City of Westland, our car was cut off the road by an automobile driven by a young man with a suspended operator's license, no insurance and bearing stolen license plates. Our two-and-a-half-year-old daughter was thrown against the dashboard when my husband stopped quickly to avoid a collision, and was bleeding profusely.

Whereupon we tried to get the other driver to stop his car and identify himself, which he would not do although requested to do so three times. He was followed to his home where the above violations were discovered.

After having our daughter treated at the hospital, my husband went to the Sheriff's Office to report the above and was requested to sign a complaint against the young man for careless driving.

We received notice of a court date for Aug. 9 at 9:30 a.m. in the Municipal Court for the City of Westland before Judge Douglas W. Craig. Arriving at said court at 9:15 a.m., the Judge was kind enough to make his first appearance in a crowded courtroom containing approximately 60 people at 10:30 a.m. at which time he called five names, four of which were not there, and said maybe half a dozen words to the fifth person, at which time court recessed for 45 minutes.

Gov. Romney

Our case came up at 1:15 p.m. and said case was dismissed and the defendant released having never even taken the stand. Judge Craig could see no careless driving involved in a case where a young man, having had his license suspended for careless driving, caused personal injury by careless operation of a motor vehicle.

This young man is now free again to operate a motor vehicle, while having his license suspended. What good does it do for the Secretary of State to suspend anyone's license when a judge can say he sees no violation indicated other than improper changing of lanes. Could the above be the reason there are so many fatal accidents?

I certainly hope by the time the next election rolls around, the people of Westland will make a little better selection of a municipal judge.

MRS. KENNETH R. PANK
31040 Stephen, Westland

Editor's Note:

The Observer called Judge Craig about the matter and he offered his side. There were 30 cases on that day's docket, he said, and court didn't adjourn until 4:30 p.m. "I dismissed the case because the defendant was charged by the prosecutor's office under the wrong statute," he said. He dismissed the careless driving charge because there was no evidence to substantiate that charge but the defendant should have been charged with driving with a suspended license, which wasn't done.

Just Me A Romney Fan

Editor:

So, Williams is trying to round up cash to "kill off Romney." How much do you think it will take, Soapy? What PRICE, America?

Cavanaugh spent over $400,000.00 and couldn't even beat you, Soapy. I thought you were running for the Senate, and if elected would be representing the people of Michigan. Romney is the Governor of Michigan, and I cannot think any American, Democrat, Republican, Independent can be less than proud of this man.

Ah, Soapy, why don't you borrow a page from the late President Kennedy's book and hope the Romneys of this world will be overshadowed by lesser men, because "HOW DO YOU FIGHT GOODNESS?" I do not think many politicians would know, hardly ever having had to face that task.

I thought Senator Griffin was your potential foe now that Cavanaugh is out of the way, Soapy. Perhaps the voters are just hoping enough of Romney has rubbed off on Griffin to make him worth fighting for. Anyway, only the voters can "kill off Romney" or an act of God. I cannot think the voters will unhitch their wagons from this rare political star, no matter whether a donkey or an elephant pulls the wagons. I'm even more certain about God.

Cheers,

What a good feeling it is to know only $85 more is needed for the specially made wheel chair (which costs $360) we are planning on purchasing. I want to thank everyone for the wonderful response and good will shown during Farmington Founders Days sidewalk sales.

I have no words to express our (Plymouth State Home and Training School) appreciation. Thanks to one and all.

So many were so willing and a special thanks to N. King, E. F. Streling, the Rosens, the Golabs, the Heidricks, the Washs, and Kova Portis for their donations. Also many thanks to the City officials who made it possible for us to participate in this event—thus making it possible to help raise funds for the crippled retarded. Having permission we hope to be in the side walk sales again next year.

OMBUDSMAN

(A new feature in The Observer Newspapers — we will do our best to be a go-between, a red-tape cutter as the name indicates. When you have exhausted all other measures on a problem write to us (keep it short, please) and we'll see if we can help. Yes, John Q, you can fight city hall — with your own Ombudsman!)

Dear Ombudsman:

Did you ever drive through a western dust storm? If you think that's bad, try driving through a daily Livonia cement duster zephyr!

This is easy. Drive north or south on Farmington Road between Schoolcraft and Plymouth Roads. As you approach the railroad crossing you car hits more and more of a white powdery dust which when stirred up chokes and gags drivers and passengers along hundreds of feet of road.

This air polluting dust is mostly cement. It is not hard to find the culprit. It is the Allied Concrete Company located on the south side of the railroad tracks. Everytime one of their overloaded trucks goes over the tracks it spills huge quantities of eye-burning and throat-choking dust.

This cement company is mostly at fault here. But part of the blame must fall on the railroads, for the big bump all vehicles get on their poorly maintained tracks at all Livonia intersections. Part of the blame goes to those responsible for fixing the roads and keeping them in repair. Part to those responsible for public safety and for helping motorists avoid broken springs and damaged tires. Part to the Police who do not ticket overloaded trucks which spill sand, cement, soil, and other materials and junk on our (Keep Livonia Beautiful) roads. Part of it is due to citizens like myself who don't call these matters to the attention of authorities because we wait to let someone else do it.

Thank God for the Observer's Ombudsman! It is a remarkable service. My neighbors and I are grateful.

Will you please check out to see if we have enough ordinances to cover this truck overloading and air pollution problem? If we don't have laws, let's get the city fathers to write some! If we do have law, let's crack down on violators! Let's keep Livonia beautiful and healthy too.

"All Choked Up"

Dear Choked Up:
Hate to let you down but am afraid you are going to have to wear a gas mask when passing said area. Checked with Elmer Miller, Assistant Maintenance of Roads Supervisor for the City and Norman Budyard, owner of Allied Concrete Company. Both say the road is impossible to keep in repair until the storm sewers are in; storm sewers will be put in when road is widened. Road is supposed to be widened by 1967 before the I-96 gets off the ground. The trucks are within their load limit. Mr. Budyard says there is no chemical to spray on weekly that would keep down the cement dust let alone the mud that accumulates due to water collected because of no storm sewer. Help is on the way.

OBSERVING the Scene...

By MYRA CHANDLER

There must be a reason.

We can get a missile to the moon in 10 hours but we can't get a letter mailed from Detroit to Livonia in less than three days.

Everyone is griping about mail service. Not only in Livonia but in all suburban communities.

Slow service is a valid complaint. Having to walk to the front lawn for mail is a common complaint in new neighborhoods, but one that seems rather picayune, relatively speaking. If the crisis in Vietnam were settled, the government's budget balanced, my own check-book checked out—well, I might get excited about the cause of the folks. Those who don't want their lawn marred with a mailbox and demand the foot mail services of their neighbors on the next block, namely a mailman or mailmaid walking to a mail box on their porch. These other items are far from settled (particularly the latter).

I wonder also, if picketeers (residents not receiving said service picketed the dedication of the new post office in Livonia last week) know that if such service were given all suburban areas it would cost our Government another 34 million dollars.

I haven't figured out how much extra it would cost each of those who signed the petition protesting mail service in the Slatkin Sub-division #2, Country Home Estates, but even if it is spread out for all of us to share, it is something more to pay.

It is my hope the residents on rural delivery will not mind opening their mind to a few facts. Perhaps they will become more understanding.

First of all the Postal Department operates at a deficit. Only on air mail does it make money. Every periodical or magazine you receive costs you or your Government money.

Poor service is a result of an extreme shortage of help.

How short, can be demonstrated by our beautiful non-discriminating government allowing, year encouraging, lady postal carriers (used to be forbidden ground like serving on the draft board).

Shortages among the more superior male species is due to postmen being vastly underpaid. A sweeper at Ford's earns $2.97 an hour. A postal employee earns $2.64 and with 12 steps and 18 years may reach $3.60. If he doesn't die of pneumonia, frost-bite, dog-bite (it has happened), or frustration.

His fringe benefits are few and he has to maintain his own uniform. He wears out shoes faster than a 12-year-old, and pays his own insurance. He pays one-third of his hospitalization, gets a vacation in the summer, and works to the point of exhaustion in the holiday rush. One advantage is his 13 days a year sick leave. The only trouble is he usually has to take his sick leave being sick.

If you think he has trouble, his boss is worse off. He has to talk to the complaining public. People can be so nasty when you can't see them — on the phone or in an unsigned letter. And the boss isn't much better off financially.

Working conditions are meager—even the pencil sharpener has a lock on it. For instance, in Livonia, the main post office has only two incoming and outgoing phone lines—imagine, in the main office—in the second largest city in Michigan.

That's no way to run a business. But Postal service is not considered a business, it is thought to be a service—one that struggles in the face of more and more people communicating and less money to spend.

At the risk of over-simplifying isn't an answer, we cannot afford any more government? It's too expensive.

Let us try to be more independent, have less bureaucracy so we can afford practical and necessary services such as police, fire protection, education and efficient mail service.

Dem. State Convention Mends Cavanagh-Williams Fences

By MYRA CHANDLER

By now John B. Bruff is the best known, unknown in the area. As running mate with Zolton Ferency, Governor candidate for the Democratic party, he has been receiving high level publicity ever since the Democratic State Convention in Grand Rapids last week-end.

"Who's John Bruff" and "isn't Cavanagh great" were on the lips of many delegates as they good-naturedly jostled around hotel and motel rooms lining up support and votes for various candidates and resolutions.

The general air of good will and peaceful co-existence was apparent. Labor embraced white-collar Dems, old party liners were tolerant of the young turks.

The only under-current of uneasiness whispered was the coincidence of their elected leader G. Menen Williams not being on the scene. It reminded many of the tragedy of Blair Moody. He was elected to the Senate seat under the banner of the donkey, and was hospitalized just before the State convention.

The younger Dems didn't have an association with the colorful Blair Moody days and their spirit was hampered because Williams wasn't there in his shining hour to receive their homage.

However Mayor Cavanagh came through like the slick politician he is, said just the right words and received the blessing of those who taught him a party lesson a few weeks before.

If he follows action with his words to the delegates there is no question he will be back in the Democratic fold stronger than before.

The most touching speech of the convention, the one with the most fire was given by Zolton Ferency in his bid for party assurance that he COULD defeat the Romney image in November.

He certainly convinced approximately 2,000 people on the spot. There was no doubt about it as he was carried around the room on the shoulders of party stalwarts.

The State Convention went on record with many resolutions including the 1963 Michigan Constitution is a grossly defective document; (and what to do about it); on record for a state income tax (Governor Romney will be happy to hear about this); support of Civil Rights; and one resolution that came the committee up all night, approval of the President's stand in Vietnam.

Voter Registration-Let's All Get In Act

STEPHEN R. FORD, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert R. Ford, MacIntyre, Livonia, graduated from General Motors Institute July 29 with a degree of Electrical Engineering. He is employed with Fisher Body in Livonia. Stephen is a 1961 graduate from Bentley High School.

Registration of voters is not, and should not be a political issue.

It must be the dedication of both political parties as well as every City and Township Clerk to make every effort to seek out the unregistered; educate them on the importance of their vote; and make it as easy as possible for them to register. This is the way it should be.

Unfortunately it is not always the case.

Many party hacks believe in the importance of registering only their own and take elaborate pains to see only their own come into the fold.

Even more of a crime, in my opinion, is the clerk who believes if a voter does not have the initiative to seek out the registrar then they don't deserve the vote. Some feel it is important for the voter to have literacy tests (yes, even in the North, particularly deep in South Oakland County). Education, occupation, social standing or color has no bearing on deciding if a person is worthy to vote. This is a birth-right in the United States.

In Livonia where there are approximately 6,000 unregistered voters, Democratic Party Chairman Sidney Diamond is going to ask the co-operation of Clerk Addison Bacon and the League of Woman Voters to assist him in a plan to register these 6,000 before the deadline of Oct. 10. He wants to use a trailer to travel through neighborhoods with the co-operation of the Clerk and his deputy. (If the plan materializes The Livonia Observer will announce the time and places each week.

Redford Township has 32,854 registered voters with approximately 8,000 not registered. The Clerk in Redford Township does not plan on deputizing anyone to assist in registration and hasn't decided whether to remain open any evenings for this purpose. By law the last day, Saturday, October 10, she must remain open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

One of the facts that bothers political leaders, particularly in the Democratic party, is with the constitution now in effect.

if a voter did not vote two years ago he has to reregister. Many people are not aware of this. Voters lose their franchise to vote if they do not cast a ballot in two years time. It used to be four years.

Farmington City Clerk will not have special hours for registration as the City is better than 90 per cent registered. The Clerk's office is open from 8:30 to five Monday through Friday.

Farmington City Clerk Trena Quinn says if someone cannot get to the office during the specified time to call her at City Hall, GR 4-5500 and she will make arrangements to register the voter. You can't ask for more than that.

Floyd Cairns of Farmington Township will make himself available for registration and is considering a few evenings. He has not announced his schedule.

Plymouth Township Trustees just completed an all-out drive to register new people in the community and the Clerk feels they are approximately 85 per cent registered at the present time.

In Garden City and Westland the Democratic party is also sponsoring registering campaigns by door-to-door canvassing. Cards will be filled out by unregistered voters and will be followed by a contract by the local clerk and deputy.

The Observer intends to report the progress of the local Clerks in registering voters.

Judge Denies Contribution To Fund

James L. Ryan, top local vote getter for the non-partisan post of Circuit Court Judge for the County of Wayne was listed at the Wayne County Office as a $200 contributor to Jack McDonald, successful GOP candidate for Congress from the 19th District.

Judge Ryan denied the contribution and said he called McDonald's Campaign Manager Larry Fitzgerald to see that a correction was submitted to the county. Fitzgerald said the error probably occurred because Ryan's name was on a solicitation for $200.

The entire county list will be published in The Observer as soon as all candidates have filed their campaign expenses.

One of McDonald's largest contributors was Wallace Fleming formerly of Redford Township who is in an executive with Junior Achievement and now lives in Livonia. He gave McDonald $1,000.

McDonald's total listed expenditure from Wayne County was $6,917.

New Homes, Apartments Planned in Plymouth Twp.

Homes on Sheldon Road, Arbor Rd. and Haggerty Rd. and 192 apartments for Lake Pointe topped the list of new business on the August Plymouth Township planning commission agenda.

Albert Simkins announced plans for 71 new homes on 20 acres of land midway between Ann Arbor Road and Joy Road on the west side of Sheldon Road.

The land is currently properly zoned to fit Simkins needs and the planning commission accepted the first plat plan, and turned it over for examination by the board's professional planner, W. C. Johnson.

Simkins, an Oak Park builder, also built the Shagra-Villa apartments behind Byron St. in the City of Plymouth.

Fred Greenspan was also on hand, and outlined plans for 192 two-bedroom apartments on the site he was granted commercial zoning several years ago.

When the Lake Pointe area was first presented, the land between the point of Wilcox and Schoolcraft Rd. was designated for a shopping center.

But recently, plans were unveiled for a freeway along Schoolcraft Rd.

"We are at deadcenter," Greenspan explained. "No one is interested in the shopping center because of the freeway. The best thing for us to do is to turn it into multiple family units."

Involved is about 16 acres of land near the site of Township fire station Number Two.

In other new business, persistent land developer Robert Wedler was back for the 15th month in a row in the Township Hall, to apply for commercial rezoning for the southeast corner of Ann

Banks Call Off Consolidation

Directors of the City National Bank of Detroit and the Public Bank of Detroit have voted to withdraw the previously announced agreement for a consolidation of the two banks.

Discontinuance of the merger negotiations was confirmed today by John H. French, Jr., president of the City National Bank, and James H. McGuire, president of the Public Bank, in a joint statement.

Wedler has been a thorn in the side of both the Township Board and the planners, and has received one denial from the planning commission, and one from the Township Board on two different proposals.

His application was set aside because it did not contain the signature of the

THIS WAS SCENE when two cars collided entirely destroyed and the driver in the front of the Burroughs plant on Plymouth Rd. just east of the Plymouth City limits. One car caught fire and was almost owner of the land involved. Wedler is expected to appear on the September agenda.

Builder William Schwartz of the Hope Valley Land

Company presented a proposal for 13 acre home development, a 12 acre apartment development and an 11 acre commercial development near the right-of-way of the I-275 freeway.

The site, encompassing all three, lies between Eckles Road and the proposed freeway, and between Ann Arbor Rd. and Ann Arbor Trail. The item was accepted with little discussion and passed to Johnson for study.

An expansion of the Ridge Road trailer park area also came before the planners. Theodore Brown, who recently obtained rezoning across the street, said the plans call for 26 home sites, 100 apartments and 150 trailer sites.

The trailer sites would add to the present development being completed for Robert Willoughby and Louis J. Dettore.

M Professor Offers New X-Ray Head

ANN ARBOR—Less radiation, better X-ray pictures. Dental patients and dentists will soon benefit from an X-ray machine invented by University of Michigan Dental Prof. Albert G. Richards.

The newly-designed X-ray head houses its radiation source seven inches farther from the patient than present X-ray machines. Because of the recessed location of radiation filter and cone, the new machine will produce less gonadal exposure of the patient, reports Professor Richards.

The new dental X-ray head also produces less whole-body exposure of the dental operator than the standard apparatus with short-pointed plastic cones.

Dental radiographers have long recognized that longer distances between patient and X-ray machine produce clearer X-ray images. The long cone was introduced in past years to gain this advantage. But, says Professor Richards, the long cone was cumbersome and awkward to use.

The new machine conquers this disadvantage by using the X-ray head itself for part of the cone. The shielded avenue through the dental X-ray head provides length and stability for a sharper radiograph.

Professor Richard's innovation, the first having to do with the re-arrangement of components inside the X-ray head since the 1923 introduction of the Coolidge shock-proof dental X-ray machine, already has attracted the interest of manufacturers. Any manufacturer may make commercial use of the Richard's dental X-ray head.

How to clean a diamond
Don't you wish that all of those beautiful diamonds you're friends are wearing were always kept bright and sparkling? They could be, you know, and with very little bother. First be sure the setting is in good condition. (You should consult your Jeweler regularly). Next, a specially prepared jewelry solution is best to use, but a good substitute can be made by mixing equal parts of household ammonia and water. Then using a toothbrush or a mascara brush, brush vigorously around the sides and back of the diamond. Short jabbing strokes are better than long strokes. Immerse frequently in the solution while cleaning. If your time is short, you may want to soak them in the solution to loosen the accumulation of dirt and soap. This is fine but don't go away and forget that they are soaking. Now... Don't they look much better? A diamond should always be kept sparkling and bright like this.

One Driver Is Injured In Plymouth Rd. Crash

A fiery two-car crash in front of Burroughs Corp. on Plymouth Road Saturday morning, Aug. 20, resulted in a Walled Lake man being rushed to St. Mary Hospital in Livonia for treatment of injuries.

Billy Spencer, 24, was taken to the hospital shortly after the accident at about 8:15 a.m.

He was hurt after his west-bound car smashed into the rear of another vehicle driven by Charles F. Knuemper, 52, of 22400 Plymouth Rd., Detroit.

The right rear of Knuemper's car burst into flames. Plymouth Township firemen extinguished the blaze.

Witnesses told Wayne County Sheriff's officers that the Knuemper vehicle, headed west, slowed and started to make a left hand turn onto Haggerty Road from the right hand lane.

They said Spencer who was following behind in the left-hand lane, swerved to the right to avoid a collision but was unable to keep from hitting the right rear of the other car.

Officers said Knuemper denied making the left turn from the right lane. He said he was in the left traffic lane. Knuemper was not injured.

Plan Board Denies Oldford

Rozian also took an opportunity to explain why he was in favor of the 158 foot extension of zoning.

"Had this particular section of land been available when he started, I'm sure Oldford would have included that in the original request. That is one point. A second one is that sewer connections have held up the development, no fault of his. Third, there is the tight money market. I don't feel we should be concerned with a one year delay when we are planning for 20 years. We've pushed for a shopping center to avoid commercial strip development... like a bulb on a thermometer."

Rozian said he felt the expansion was not extensive, and that it was reasonable and desirable for the Township.

Clayton Koch expressed some opposite views.

"If Oldford had leased all the available space and was in dire need, I might see it. But when there has been no progress made in the current C-2 commercial zoning, I see no reason to expand it."

Koch was referring to the eight acres across the street near the Michigan Bank site, as well as the Lake Pointe commercial area owned by Fred Green-span. Neither these two, nor Oldford, have buildings in progress.

Oldford said after the meeting that the denial did not end plans for the shopping center.

"It was disappointing. We will scrap everything and start over. But it definitely does not end plans for the shopping center."

In other action at the lengthy meeting the commission:

Denied a request to rezone two lots of Ann Arbor Village subdivision Number 4 for offices near the corner of Ann Arbor Trail and Haggerty Road. There were objections from area residents.

Approved, and sent to the Township Board for a final passage, amendments to ordinances covering greenbelt requirements when a subdivision house backs to a main highway.

Passed to the Board an amendment permitting banks in both professional office and commercial zoning.

Scores Often For Spartans

EAST LANSING—Michigan State All-America half-back Clinton Jones has been one of the most productive touchdown scorers in Spartan grid history.

In two varsity seasons, the swift 206-pound senior co-captain from Cleveland, has tallied 17 TD's, and together with a two-point conversion has scored 104 points.

His longest scoring jaunt was an 80-yarder last fall against Ohio State. Two seasons ago, he went 42 yards against North Carolina in his first varsity game.

His other 15 scores have been on runs or passes from 19 yards out or less. Fourteen of all the tallies have been runs, three on pass plays. Clint's best scoring day was against Iowa last fall when he went in on runs of 19, seven, three and four yards.

Five Hurt In 2-Car Accident

Five persons, including a Plymouth youth and a tiny girl, 2½, were injured and rushed to St. Mary Hospital in Livonia following a two-car crash on North Territorial west of Napier Road, in Washtenaw County, late Monday morning.

Washtenaw County sheriff's deputies reported that David Wall, 19, of 12305 Beck Road, Plymouth; Mrs. Helen Dexter, 52, of Portage Lake; Mrs. Earlyn Dexter, 33, of Portage Lake; Allen Sampier, 14, of Portage Lake; and Pamela Weingartner, 2½, of Portage Lake, were taken to the Livonia hospital.

The Sheriff's reports show that Wall, driving west on N. Territorial in a sports car, had just started over a knoll when he found a car almost completely stopped in front of him.

He braked his car sharply, according to the reports, and it went into a spin sideways and hit the approaching station wagon, driven by Mrs. Helen Dexter, broadside.

The left front side of Wall's car was completely demolished and there was considerable damage to the front of the station wagon.

The five were taken to the hospital for examination where Sheriff's deputies reported the two Dexter women, Wall and the tiny girl were being held for additional X-rays of bruises, possible fractures and scalp wounds. The driver of the first car to come almost to a complete stop and brought on the resulting incidents when Wall came over the knoll.

Gridders Start Drills

(Continued from Page 2-B) The defensive situation shapes up as a fairly happy one for Burkholder where eight of the 11 players are back. On offense, the story is 77 vacancies to fill.

Three-year veterans Charles Dobbs (quarterback), Gary Kalen (guard) and Bill Gray (defensive back) will top the returnees.

REDFORD UNION

John Rogers, the veteran head coach, will greet his charges for physicals Friday at 1 p.m. The equipment will be passed out two days later.

Rogers figures to have around 60-75 candidates on hand for drills and his major chore will be rebuild the interior of the RU line where graduation struck a rough blow.

RU's fine all-conference quarterback Glen Davis is returning. So are ends Leland Bjerke and Bill Mieras, indicating that RU may do a lot of passing.

THURSTON

Coach Bill McDonald will meet his players for physicals on Thursday with equipment to be passed out later in the day.

McDonald has some plugging to do with the loss of key personnel from a year ago. But he is convinced that the 1966 Thurston team will improve on last year's aggregation.

PLYMOUTH

Coach John McFall visions an improvement for the Rocks who will have 13 letter candidates back among 65 reporting Monday morning.

The Rocks hit "bottom" last season when for the first time they failed to win a single game—seven losses and one tie. McFall needs help in the backfield and in the line as he gets ready for the new season.

Players already have undergone their physicals and received their equipment.

GARDEN CITY WEST

Harold Buckholder will find 16 lettermen among the 75-80 who assemble for physicals at the high school Saturday morning.

Redford Township Women's League playoffs started on Aug. 22 and continue on Aug. 25, 26 and 29, games are played at Beech Field and Claude Allison parks at 7:45 and 9 p.m.

C'ville Coach Issues Call To Gridders

Head Coach Ralph Temby of Clarensville will meet all varsity football candidates on Monday, Aug. 29, at 8 a.m.

The first regular drill will begin and two a day drills plus a "chalk talk" each night will be in the weekly plan.

The daily practice sessions will run from 8 until 10 a.m., and 3 p.m. until 5 p.m., while the evening study sessions will meet from 7 p.m. until 8 p.m. in the senior high school.

All boys trying out for all sports are reminded to report to the fieldhouse at 2 on Sat., Aug. 27 for their physical examinations.

Varsity football players will also be issued their equipment at 12 noon on Saturday, Aug. 27.

Observing SPORTS

By George Maskin

One wonders if the Detroit Race Course, located in Livonia, hasn't been struck a LOW BLOW.

Headline after headline of late has rapped apart the sport of kings in Michigan, but from what we have gathered, very little has had to do with the current meeting at the DRC.

Much of the "news" started elsewhere—at Hazel Park—and appears to have some connection with gentlemen who have something to do with the oval on the other side of town.

But because the horses now are running at the DRC, the Livonia oval has suffered in some respects—although undeservedly so.

As we have said before, the operators at DRC from the start have striven to present the best in races and under the best conditions possible.

They have succeeded in their goals.

If there's to be any BIG criticism of horse racing in Michigan, we say the blame belongs on the various governors who, over the years, have made a habit of picking unqualified gentlemen to serve as racing commissioners.

We'll mention no names—either of governors or commissioners.

But the fact remains that racing in Michigan has become better than a $200,000,000 operation every year. This being so, why has a man who is a shoemaker or a dentist or a carpenter run the show?

Why pay the stewards, who represent the state of Michigan, more money than the commissioner?

Why not have somebody in the commissioner's chair who grew up with horse racing . . . or maybe has run his own stable . . . or somewhere along the line of life either was a jockey or a trainer?

The job always seems to have been dished out as a political plum.

It's not that some of the commissioner's haven't worked hard . . . and made some accomplishments. Simply they may have done better had their background been better suited for the job.

Just what the newest commissioner, Joseph Childs, will do, we don't know.

Granted Mr. Childs had a fine background as a police administrator. He has been referred to as "the policeman's policeman." But does this qualify him to oversee our vast racing program in Michigan?

What does he know about breeding horses? About the life of a jockey?

Suppose that Mr. Childs turns out to be a great commissioner! What happens if the governor's position undergoes a change . . . and a Democrat takes over?

Mr. Childs must go . . . the way the situation currently operates.

In the interim, Mr. Childs has a big job to do. He has to remove the stigma that has covered certain aspects of the racing program in Michigan.

Maybe he should think about expanding the seasons in Detroit and paving the way for track on this side of the river to prepare themselves for winter racing.

It's a shame that American money must be poured across the river into the Windsor track and thus deprive our state and local communities of tax revenues they desperately could use.

The fans have indicated they want to bet the year around.

Now C & O Would Like to Know Where Freeway is Going

The yet undetermined route of the M-14 freeway cropped up again on at least two occasions at last Wednesday's Plymouth Township Planning Commission meeting.

State Highway Department officials insist the route is not fixed.

But it appears if the Township is to plan the western portion of its domain, it needs to be fixed.

Among the problems that came to light Wednesday night was a request from the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad for rezoning for tracks they plan to lay to serve the new Ford plant. A railroad supporting yard and storage tracks are planned, and industrial zoning is needed. About 20 acres of land midway between Beck and Sheldon Rd. north of the tracks is involved.

C&O Real Estate Manager Herbert Harms explained the lead track for the Ford heater and air conditioner plant was needed as soon as possible.

"Ford wants the track in September. They are pushing because they have several heavy pieces of equipment they need to unload by rail," Harms explained.

Irv Rozian, planning commission member, insisted the matter should be discussed in light of plans for the freeway, which will cut across the Township's midsection south of the tracks.

Ralph Garber, commission member, suggested the freeway question was not involved.

"But they are inseparably linked," Rozian said. However the commission appeared not interested. In fact, Chairman Maurice Breen suggested the matter was cut and dry.

"We've already approved Ford. It seems logical we'll let them put the tracks down."

The commission listed the request for a public hearing. The freeway route, which was revealed in news stories in the Plymouth Mail and the Plymouth Observer about one month ago, has come under severe fire from Rozian.

Among other things, Rozian charged that the C&O was involved in creating prime industrial land, and that the state was all but ignoring the Township's wishes, as well as its master plan.

To make his point, Rozian held up commission members after they had completed the regular agenda, and told them of a meeting he and several Township officials, including Supervisor John McEwen, had had with Highway Department officials that same day.

Rozian outlined again the essential route of the freeway along Schoolcraft, across to Sheldon, dipping south of the tracks once past Western Electric.

"The route is not firm, but they said it is their policy not even to ask about a route where church or state property is involved," Rozian said. He was referring to the state institutions that dot Five Mile Rd., as well as St. John's Seminary. The community is already divided by the I-275 freeway and a possible Five Mile route would be more to the Township's liking.

The freeway is set to begin in 1971. Rozian, who is aware the Township does not hold the same veto power an incorporated city does, nevertheless appears willing to lead the fight to allow the Township a say in the route.

PRODUCTION OF 10,000 cancer dresses a month starts at this table in the headquarters of the Michigan Cancer Foundation's Plymouth branch, 173 N. Main street. Mrs. Agnes Rollins (left) guides the cellulose rolls to the cutter manned by Mrs. Mary Tonkovich. Both are 10-year veterans in volunteer service to the Cancer Foundation. Homebound cancer patients use this important treatment item.

Cancer Patients Get Aid From PCF Volunteers

Cancer patients of the Plymouth community are receiving vital services from a Community Fund agency — the Plymouth branch of Michigan Cancer Foundation.

The Cancer Foundation is one of 13 organizations that will share in the $88,543 Community Fund budget for 1967. Its allocation will be $4,125, according to Mrs. Robert D. Nesbitt, general chairman.

Plymouth's Community Fund united-giving campaign will be conducted during the October 10-November 4 period with Edward W. Schenning as general chairman. Schenning is plant manager for the Burroughs Corporation in Plymouth.

More than one-third of the Plymouth cancer fund — $1,550 — will be directed into research, while other expenditures will be for educational materials, pamphlets and films; for dressings and certain medical supplies; for assistance with scholarships and professional education.

Other items supported by the Fund are an equipment loan service for patients and the payment of certain medical care costs. On a recent day, 13 Plymouth community patients were receiving help through physician or Visiting Nurse Association referral.

The Plymouth branch of the Foundation produces 10,000 cancer dresses a month and its services have been extended to patients ranging in age from nine months to 80 years.

Volunteers are mustered by Mrs. Nesbitt and her co-workers to produce the cancer pads, to keep many other items of supply in readiness, and to help with seasonal educational programs in the schools. Organizations giving the Cancer branch a lift have included the Grange, Senior Citizens, the Salvation Army and numerous church groups.

Equipment available from the loan closet ranges from hospital beds to emesis basins; from crutches and canes to walkers.

Available to the patient at the request of the physician is a limited supply of Hoyer lifts, Stryker frames, Barron food pumps, oxygen gages and masks, aspirators, I.V. stands, blanket cradles, irrigator cans, electric sterilizers, vaporizers, heating lamps, food blenders, traction and electrolysis.

Many expendable items are available to medically indigent cancer patients. Information on the entire gamut of services, the loan closet and the referral system may be obtained at the Plymouth branch office of the Michigan Cancer Foundation, 173 N. Main street. The telephone number is GL 3-3010.

Sister Wins Gold Medal For Highland Fling

Ann Margaret Plomer won a gold medal for First Place in dancing the Highland Fling in the Novice Class at the St. Andrew's Society Annual Dance Competitions at Bob-Lo Island on Thursday, August 18. It was the first time she had danced in a competition and taking a 1st Prize was an unexpected thrill. Ann Margaret is 11 years old and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Plomer, 9191 Brady Ave., Redford Twp. She and her younger sister, Janey, 7 years old, have been taking Highland Dance lessons at the Shiela McMillan School of Dance in Dearborn for a year and a half. Although Janey didn't win a medal this time, she did well for her age by dancing her way into the Finals, competing against her big sister.

This is the 117th year the St. Andrew's Society has held its Annual Picnic, Highland Games, Piping and Dance Competitions at Bob-Lo. More than 200 youngsters from 5 years to teenage competed for dancing medals and trophies. The St. Andrew's prize-winning band piped the participants onto the ships and onto the island in the true Scottish tradition.

Cloudy Tea Too Cold?

Cloudiness in ice tea is caused when iced tea reaches a certain degree of coldness. Do not refrigerate tea. Instead, after making it, keep it at room temperature and pour over ice cubes when you serve.

The Distaff Side...

By Jerry Wendt, Women's Editor

Picture windows look out on the lawn. Well dressed people are enjoying a leisurely lunch at attractively appointed tables. Hi-Fi music plays in the background.

The roomy lounge contains colored TV sets, a record player, and the latest papers and magazines. Looks like an expensive resort hotel, but it isn't. It is the Martin Luther Memorial Home at South Lyon, for older people who still enjoy life but find the details of running their business and homes too troublesome.

Despite the fact that our nation is a great melting pot, each race retains some outstanding characteristics of its fatherland.

For the Irish, it is freedom; for the French, it is the "flair" in life. The majority of people at the Martin Luther Home are of German and Lutheran origin, although there are others here.

The German table is a gourmet's delight and a calorie counter's nemesis. Food is not only substantial, but rich. (Your editor gained 18 pounds the first term at Valparaiso University, a German Lutheran University).

Recently we lunched at the Martin Luther Home with administrator Leona Westendorf, and recreational director Nora Schroeder.

Everything to make people happy had been taken into consideration. The silver and glassware had a high "glitzen" (German term). The menu was delicious.

Home-made noodles with king-sized meatballs and sauce, fresh garden peas, tossed salad, home-made bread and rolls (still warm from the oven). For dessert there was perfectly elegant pie with flaky crust, and a cream filling, topped with large strawberries.

During the meal we had an opportunity to talk to the two women who have contributed so much of themselves to make this a bright, happy place.

Mrs. Westendorf was the daughter of Pastor G. F. Wacker, who had the Lutheran Parish in Pigeon. She married Pastor S. E. Westendorf, who was in charge of the Lutheran Church at Monroe.

She was in charge of nurses at St. Luke's in Bay City when she received the invitation to the M.L.M.H. Fortunately, she decided in one day to go, and now the administration lies in her hands. She is on duty virtually 24 hours a day.

Mrs. Schroeder is a warm, congenial person with sparkling brown eyes. It is her job to plan the social activities and to keep the morale of the home at high level. We would say she is doing a wonderful job.

During our tour we saw the individual rooms of the guests. All have wall-to-wall carpeting, large closets, and fully tiled baths. Husbands and wives are not separated and some are still enjoying years of companionship there.

We were much impressed with how busy and active everyone was. This is definitely part of Nora's program.

"This is their home," she said. "When they are entertained, we encourage them to entertain in return. Right now many of the residents are preparing for the South Lyon sidewalk sale."

Their chief delight is bingo. They love to get together and vie for the prizes. They also enjoy "sing-a-longs" which are reminiscent of the beloved oldtime music halls.

Sometimes a German band accompanies them to their delight. One unexpected source of entertainment has been a nearby railroad train which daily loads and unloads in full sight. The men love to "armchair engineer" the job.

Nora enjoys the residents so much that on her day off she usually takes some into town with her for dinner.

The chief aim of the management, according to Nora, is not to make residents feel that this is a curtailing of their activities but simply a different home for them.

How well they have succeeded was illustrated when, just as we were leaving, a lady arrived who had spent two weeks visiting her children.

After greeting her friends who asked her if she had had a pleasant time, she said, "Yes, I really enjoyed myself," but she added looking around her with a contented sigh, "It's so good to be back home."

RESPONSIBLE FOR THE cheerful atmosphere of the Martin Luther Memorial Home in South Lyon are administrator Leona Westendorf, and recreational director Nora Schroeder. The painting on the wall is by John Selle of Plymouth, who is busy readying a showing of his paintings for the Sidewalk Sale to take place in the fall.

Dill Dressing

Save the liquid from dill pickles to make salad dressing for cole slaw or ham salad. Beat 2 egg yolks with ¼ cup of dill pickle liquid. Mix together 1 teaspoon of dry mustard, ¼ teaspoon of salt, and a dash of cayenne, and stir it into yolk mixture. Gradually beat in 1 cup of salad oil. Makes about 1½ cups.

KEEPING UP A LIFETIME habit of reading his Bible daily is Jacob Weiss, of Farmington, a resident of the Martin Luther Memorial Home. This Bible is a German version of the one written in the 1600s, and was given to him by a friend.

A reception was held in the Church parlor and after the reception a dinner was held in the Miles Standish Room of the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth for the wedding party and out-of-town guests.

The mother of the bride wore a sandbar Dupioni silk sheath with matching overblouse and matching accessories.

The mother of the groom wore a mauve worsted silk dress with matching accessories.

All the attendants were similarly gowned in floor-length, yellow peau de soie gowns with a chiffon overlay and yellow embroidered roses edging the bodice and sleeves. They carried tangerine roses and daisies.

Duane Nimke was best man. Bob Smith, Steven Klepack, Neal Keller, Herbert Klippen, and Dale Knudson were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a gold silk suit with matching accessories. The groom's mother wore a turquoise crepe sheath dress with matching accessories.

Following the ceremony a luncheon was held at the Thunderbird Inn in Plymouth for 200 guests. Guests were present from Michigan, Ohio, and Indiana.

The bride wore a red silk suit of Italian design for her honeymoon trip to a lake resort in northern Indiana.

The couple will make their future home in Memphis, Tenn., where the groom is located at the Naval station.

Let's Talk Fashion

with June Simpson

The very nicest kind of people I know are teens. It seems that a small minority manage to make the headlines with some adverse publicity—along with just as unsavory adults—while the rest of this interesting and stimulating group continue to contribute the very best this world has to offer.

Their opinions are most definite and clearly stated. No need to search for an oblique meaning, no indeed. This characteristic of the teen world has been brought into focus with me through daily teen companion of mine who drives to work with me each morning. Helena's prime purpose in enduring a dull summer job is a beautiful school wardrobe for Fall. What else?

As is natural with women of all ages, the morning conversations turn to Fashion. And, I have been put squarely straight on what is "dumb" and what is "in". No fooling around with the too far out fashions either. We hear so much about the "young" influence in fashion. How lucky for us that the young are basically level headed. And, they DON'T live the far out on the oldsters!

The back to school and campus fashions are so very exciting this Fall! Summer job teens will have much fun spending that clothes-money!

For a practical turn with flair—the bright as a penny vinyl coats that turn you on regardless of weather. Brilliant colors, stripes, the two-piece look, and, smartest of all with matching boots. And, speaking of coats, the teens love the wild animal act of meek little bunny stenciled to roar like every beast of the jungle.

Teens—girl type—love the military look too! Some have gone overboard for the navy. The pea coat is back—as if it ever really left—and looks just great with straight legged pants, the turtle neck sweater and pom-pom knit berets or little caps.

From teens to the "not tellin'" everyone will love the well bred look of the hacking jacket. A straight cut blazer that mixes it up with all sorts of unexpected colors. You'll like it in the houndstooth pattern, the Harris tweed, or the bulky knit versions.

There's almost an Edwardian look of the dandy in the way you'll wear the new double breasted suits. Most fun when you wear it with matching slim pants for most casual wear, or team it up with a matching skirt that makes you feel your wardrobe has been doubled.

A final word. This fashion news comes from an undeniably reliable source. It's the way one teen plans to part with the worldly gains she has acquired through her first serious venture into the market place. I'll miss her—come September.

Talk to the Top

Faith Gillespie (Observer columnist) is a woman who dotes on challenges. As witness the fact that she didn't let the fact that she has six children keep her from a career. She simply wrote about meals and foods in a most intriguing fashion.

Recently when in New York City, Faith volunteered to stop by at the William Morris Agency on Broadway to pick up some "glossy" prints for the Observer. Faith asked the receptionist for Abe Lastofogel, whose name is spoken in reverent tones by members of the acting profession.

"But, but, but," stammered the receptionist, "he's the President!"

"Well," said Faith, "do you mean he doesn't ever talk to just people?"

P.S.—She got the pictures.

The DRC Story

A $2 WAGER WILL TURN YOU INTO A WIZARD OF ODDS

Money Talks... And Everybody Listens.

YOUR money speaks loudest during a visit to the Detroit Race Course, because it is YOU who sets the odds and determines the price every winner pays.

I mean it. YOU are a Wizard of Odds each time you make a $2 wager at our track. It is you, and thousands of other fans, who control the entire betting system.

I wish more Fans understood this. I think it would add to their Racing pleasure and would remove some of the "mysteries" surrounding how a payoff on a race is determined.

In a bygone day of racing, when the betting was through bookmakers at a track (and this is still the system in some places in Europe), a price was offered on the horse of your choice and you wagered accordingly.

With the parimutuel system however, you bet between yourself and the other fans. You DO NOT BET against the DRC. We merely act as an agent for the wagering transaction.

The odds reflect how much is bet on EACH horse against the TOTAL AMOUNT wagered on all horses in the race.

Often, Fans are baffled when the actual payoff on a race does not conform with the "Morning Line," which is listed in their program. They shouldn't be.

The "Morning Line" is merely the Track Handicapper's guide to the probable odds. But once the wagering starts, then it is YOU and the other Fans who set the true price.

It is a fascinating part of an afternoon at the races to watch the "Tote Board" in our infield and observe the wagering trends. The big board, on a 30-second cycle, automatically records every dollar bet on each horse to Win, Place and Show. Within seconds after the order of finish is flashed "Official," the payoffs are posted. And remember, YOU were The Wizard of Odds who determined the ultimate price.

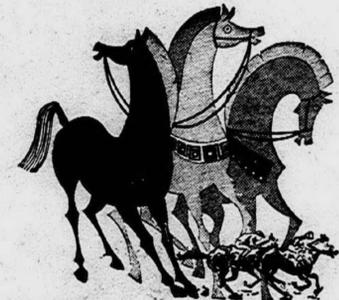

Wagering is an alluring part of Thoroughbred racing, but it is only one of the many fascinating phases of America's most popular spectator sport.

We will race daily through November 5. Our post parade, Monday through Friday, is 3:20 p.m. and on Saturdays it is 2 p.m.

We have a new $3,000,000 Clubhouse, which is one of the Showplaces of Sports.

I invite you to join the growing number of Michigan sports fans who are finding Racing at the DRC a means of enjoyment in surroundings of beauty, convenience and comfort.

CARRYING ON THE MISSION work of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in Livonia, are left to right: Elder Hedengren and Dale Carpenter (youth missionary from Jackson.)

Six Nuns Take Vows

Before an altar decked with yellow roses, six Bernardine Sisters took their perpetual vows of poverty, chastity and obedience, as members of the Third Order of St. Francis, on Aug. 12 at St. Fabrian's Church, Farmington.

No ordinary day for these six children of God. Just like every young bride, on her wedding day, before the ceremony, there was the fluttering and flurrying—the tension to the point where you hear one bride (or Sister) saying, "I'm so nervous".

Officiating was Rt. Rev. Monsignor Beahan with Father Rayner Van Vurst, Friar Alban Kill and Friar Ervin Wiwi of Duns Scotus College in Southfield, assisting. The nuns receiving their perpetual vows were Sister Marie M. Florice, Sister Jean Therese, Sister James Marie, Sister Norma Jean, Sister Madonna Marie and Sister Mary Beth. Relatives from near and far came to honor the Nuns taking their final vows. Included were the sister and brother-in-law of Sister Madonna Marie, Mrs. Charlotte and Navy Machinist Mate 2/c Henry Thomas, stationed in Idaho. The young brother-in-law arranged his leave so he, his wife and children could share in the happiness of this young nun.

Ron Burke, brother of Sister James Marie, came from not so far while Mr. and Mrs. Charles Oder, grandparents of Sister Madonna also had a short distance to travel from Dearborn.

Two Teenagers Called To Mission Work in Area

Frank C. Berg, president of the Great Lakes Mission, has called Dale James Carpenter (17 years of age) and Mark Richard-Allen Streeter (16 years of age) of Rockford to serve a two-week mission for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in the Livonia area.

Their work will include conducting a door-to-door religious survey and teaching interested persons about the Church.

The purpose of the two-week missions is to give youth experience in missionary work to prepare them for serving a two-year mission which they may go on when they are 19. Their mission expenses are paid by money which they had saved.

Area Priests Retire

The Most Rev. John F. Dearden, archbishop of Detroit announced the retirement of five pastors and new appointments for 10 pastors. The appointments were effective Aug. 17.

Robert J. Kilcoyne, St.

Colmans, Farmington, and Father Edward F. Kalinowski, St. Raphaels, Garden City, were among the new appointments.

Edward A. Schroeder, Our Lady of Refuge, Orchard Lake, was also among the new appointments.

Gets Drapes From Guild

Several hundred dollars was saved by the ladies of the Lutheran High West Guild on their recent purchase of over $1,700 worth of draperies for the classrooms at Lutheran High School West. The draperies were purchased through the Lutheran Center Purchasing Service's supplier, the Jack Gell Company which just recently completed their installation.

Mrs. Henry Bujak and Mrs. Edward Susak are in charge of Properties and Purchasing at the Lutheran West Ladies Guild.

Queen of Hearts Tells Of Favorite Recipe for Chili Sauce

By FAITH GILLESPIE
"You eat what you can, and what you can't, you can."

That used to be the rule for the housewife in this country, back in the days when the major portion of the population was rural or semi-rural. Commercially canned foods were quite a luxury, and large gardens were part of the way of life. Everyone canned.

This was still the way of life when I was a child on the Dakota prairie, and one I should be reluctant to shoulder again. Running water and electricity are pleasures I have come to depend on. And I was never much good with a hoe.

Late summer was a back-breaking season. The produce got ripe all of a sudden, and when it did, it wouldn't wait. Everybody picked and cleaned and peeled and pared and pickled and canned, practically without stopping, till the cows came home, you might say.

It was very hard work, and I'm glad we don't have to do it any more. Store-bought canned goods taste better than most of the things we labored so hard to preserve, and nature's necessity no longer makes such demands upon us, thank goodness.

But you know, I still can. Maybe it's because the sight of the beautiful product is such a pleasure—those jars are jewels. Or perhaps I'm right in thinking that some home-canned things still taste more delicious than any you can buy. Or it could be that you really can't take the country out of the girl.

Whatever the reasons, grape jelly from my own vines is a priceless treasure, and not even Mrs. Smucker can approach the perfection of home-done strawberry jam.

The delight of these is matched only by the goodness of the tomatoes that pop out of the jar into the spaghetti sauce and chili in the winter; that jar holds the scent of summer.

The tomatoes are ready. Do join me in the canning kettle. You don't have to do a lot, and you don't have to buy very much equipment to start with. Just scare up three pint jars, buy rings and lids (they're cheap), and talk your nearest gardening neighbor out of six pounds of firm, ripe tomatoes. Make chili sauce . . . I guarantee you can't buy any this good.

Sterilize your clean jars by putting them in the oven at 250 degrees for half an hour or more. Pour boiling water over the lids and rings and let them simmer five minutes or so.

Wash the tomatoes and pop them into a pot of boiling water for two or three minutes, and then dump them into a sink of cold water. The peels nearly peel off by themselves. Cut out the cores and cut the tomatoes into chunks, walnut sized, roughly.

This recipe is one I have evolved over the years. It gives you a rich, deep red chili sauce that is perfect for seafood sauces (add tabasco and horseradish and stir it up for a hot shrimp sauce), and lovely in a Louis dressing for seafood salads. Try it on meat loaf and hamburgers . . . you'll love it!

QUEEN OF HEARTS CHILI SAUCE

Combine in a small saucepan 1 1/4 cup white vinegar, two teaspoons whole cloves, one teaspoon coarsely broken stick cinnamon, 1 1/2 teaspoons celery seeds, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg. Bring to boil, remove from heat, set aside. Prepare six pounds of ripe tomatoes (peel, remove core, and cut into chunks). Cook half of them with 1/2 cup sugar (granulated) for 30 minutes, stirring almost constantly at a vigorous boil. Add the other of the tomatoes with one medium onion, chopped, two tablespoons brown sugar, 1/2 cup granulated sugar, and 1/2 teaspoon cayenne. Cook 30 minutes, at a good boil, stirring occasionally.

Then you strain the vinegar and spice mixture, add it to the tomatoes with one tablespoon (maybe just a wee bit rounded) of uniodized salt. And you let it cook 30 minutes more, or perhaps 35, till it is the consistency of chili sauce. Pour into hot, sterile jars and seal at once. You should have three pints, and maybe a little left to eat this week. If you would like to can plain tomatoes, directions can be found in a good all-purpose cook book, or in the pamphlets the jar companies put out. I can't tell you how el of tomatoes sitting on my back porch, and they are rapidly getting riper. They won't wait. now, because there is a bush-

Child's Choice
A bedroom is the one room in the house that doesn't have to please everyone. When decorating even a child's room, why not let the youngster help with the planning of color scheme, furniture arrangement, etc? He'll love it all the more for having had a hand in the decorating.

Home Canning Not a Thing Of The Past

Home preservation of food isn't just a homemaking practice of grandmothers' time. According to specialists at Michigan State University, studies made during the last 10 years reveal that canning and home preservation of food are still important.

Even with the popularity of the freezer today, more homemakers are canning than freezing fruits and vegetables, but over half of all homemakers use a home freezer for some food preservation.

The studies also showed that the peach is the most popular fruit for canning while the tomato is by far the most popular vegetable. For freezing purposes, strawberries led the way, followed by raspberries, blueberries, and blackberries.

Geographically, home canning was most popular in the east south central, west north central, and mountain states.

Its popularity also seems to be influenced by family income. Those in the lowest income group (under $3,000) do the most home canning and those with the highest incomes (over $10,000) do the least.

Home canning is also somewhat more popular among rural families than city dwellers.

Offer Tips To Beat Back Attack

If you're a typical American woman, chances are better than even that you'll have back problems before you're 40.

That's the word from medical specialists of a well-known insurance company movie on physical fitness in hopes of improving the odds. One of the nation's leading writers of health insurance, says lack of proper exercise, poor posture, and unsafe home or office work habits lead the "back attack."

"Our society generally discourages women from strenuous physical activity," it points out. "And the multitude of labor-saving conveniences we have makes it that much more difficult for women to get in top condition, even in their youth."

"Few women enjoy perfect posture and taller women are especially vulnerable to 'slouching,' which increases chances of back muscle strain. Combine unconditioned muscles and poor posture with the strain induced by bad work habits and back pain often pops up."

A color film, called "Maximum," features the Royal Swedish Ballet. The troupe uses dance techniques to demonstrate the proper—and safe—way to perform household and office chores.

Examples:
1. When vacuuming, keep your back straight. If you bend to clean under furniture, do it at the knees.

2. The back-straight, knees-bent rule also applies to lifting, even when the object is light. If you must lift something heavy, hold it close to your body. This allows you to keep your back straight and in balance, and puts the strain on stronger leg and thigh muscles.

3. Sit, don't stand, to do such chores as peeling potatoes.

4. Plan your work schedule so that you don't "overdo it." Rest periodically, preferably in a chair that provides good back support.

5. If you work in an office, keep your back straight and your feet firmly on the floor when working at a desk.

6. "Maximum" also points out that posture and general health can be improved by a sound exercise program. It can range from a few minutes of calisthenics at home to relatively strenuous outdoor sports. The film recommends swimming, bowling, cycling, and anything that requires plenty of walking.

Aetna Life & Casualty will lend "Maximum" free to women's organizations and other groups interested in health and safety. Write to the Information and Education Department, Aetna Life & Casualty, Hartford, Conn. 06115.
