Spiraling Costs Hit School Lunches

The increased cost of living, coupled with a reduction in supplies of Federal government surplus commodity foods, will be felt by students and school personnel of the Plymouth Community School system—reflected in a 33 per cent increase in the cost of school lunches.

That was the announcement of Asst. Supt. Melvin Blunk, in charge of business, who indicated the new price scale, effective with the start of classes on Sept. 7, will be as follows: elementary schools, 35 cents; junior highs, 40 cents; senior high, 45 cents with a charge of 55 cents for adult lunches for school personnel.

This compares with the 1965-66 scale of: 30 cents in the elementary schools, 30 cents in the junior highs, 35 cents in the senior high and 45 cents for adult personnel.

There was an indication last spring that the prices might be increased when Blunk was notified of a sharp cutback in the government surplus of commodity foods.

The prices have been held down in recent years by the assistance from the federal government. But without that aid in the same volume, the self-supporting noon lunch program could survive only by the price increases, according to Blunk.

Asst. Supt. Blunk emphasized that the price hike was due to the increased food and milk prices, increased labor costs and the reduction of government aid.

"The school lunch program in past years has operated on a self-supporting basis with no cost to the school system," stated Blunk. "The price increase for the coming school year will enable us to continue the practice that has been followed for years."

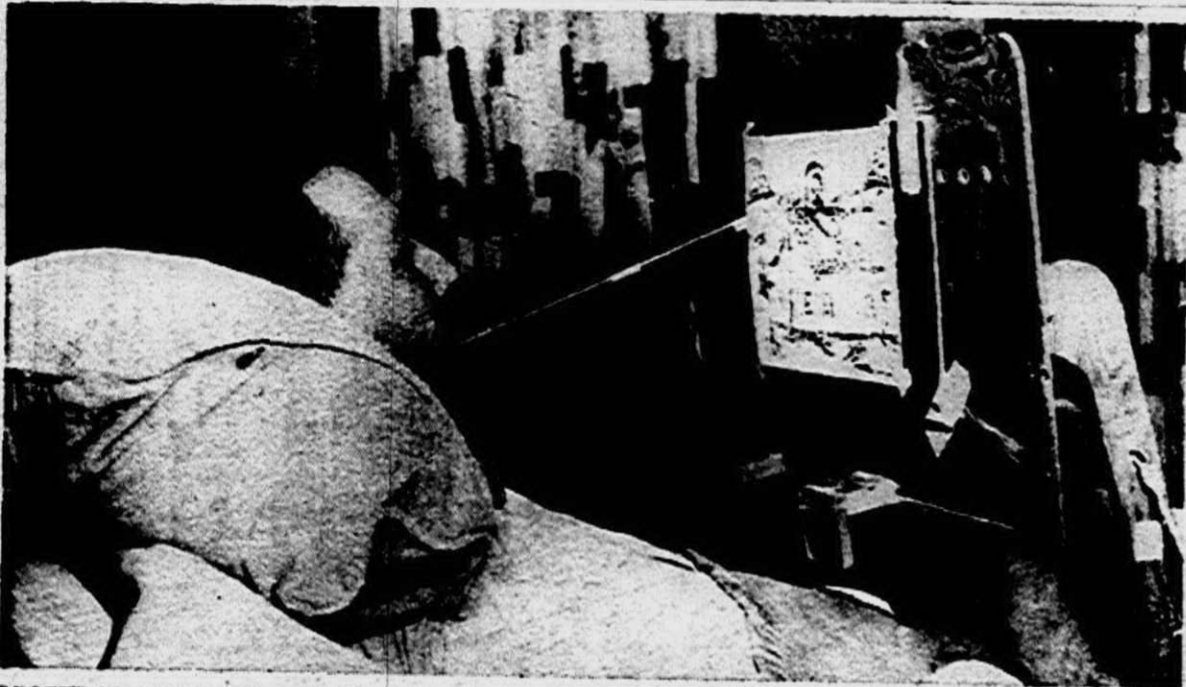

"Despite increased food and labor costs for the past few years, we have held prices of school lunches. This is the first time we have had to hike prices in 12 years."

Blunk pointed out that in order to receive Federal reimbursement, school districts must comply with specific regulations regarding all student lunches served.

Each lunch served must include: one-half pint of milk, two ounces of lean meat, poultry or fish or two ounces of cheese or one egg; a three-quarter cup of vegetables or fruits; one slice of bread; and two teaspoons of butter.

The Plymouth School system will operate nine school cafeterias and one temporary cafeteria this fall, serving more than 2,500 students daily.

MOUSTICK DESIGNS are made by Jim Wood, a polio paralytic from Charlotte, who will have articles in the sale sponsored by the Plymouth Rotary Ann on Sunday, Sept. 11 at the annual Fall Festival. Handmade articles by the handicapped will be featured. The Rotary Ann raised as much in the one day sale a year ago as they did in three individual sales during the year. That's why they are stressing this year's event—they hope to do even better.

Plymouth Sights Record 7,350 Pupils

Beset with all of the problems that go with a mushrooming growth, the Plymouth Community Schools will open for the 1966-67 term on Thursday, Sept. 8 with an all-time high enrollment that is expected to soar to 7,350, and with the new Tanger Elementary School starting half-day sessions.

Matter of fact the new school, which still isn't completed, will open on Monday, Sept. 12 and then go on half-day sessions for two full weeks before the full facilities will be available.

The enrollment figure, which is estimated by Asst. Supt. Melvin Blunk on the basis of past history, may be on the short side this year.

There is an indication that many more students have come into the area in the last six months than expected. For instance, the senior high enrollment will go well over 1,400 whereas the predictions called for a total of slightly less than 1,400.

Blunk estimated the total enrollment will climb the normal nine per cent, which will add 607 pupils and sent the total to 7,350 compared to the 6,743 at the end of the 1965-66 school year.

There won't be any rest for the laggards this year, Supt. Russell Isbister emphasized that classes start on Thursday, Sept. 8 with full day sessions.

Prior to the influx of students to the 11 schools in the system, Isbister has issued a call to all teachers to the annual pre-school conference on Tuesday, Sept. 6 at Junior High East. The program opens at 8 a.m. with a coffee klatch and get acquainted session sponsored by the Board of Education, and the Plymouth Education Association.

It will be followed by a concert by the Plymouth High band under the direction of Conductor James Griffith.

Greetings to the new and old teachers will be extended by Supt. Isbister, Gerald Fischer, president of the Board of Education, and Carroll Nichols, president of the PEA. Then the teachers will hear a discussion of the 1966-7 master contract and its implications for education in the Plymouth School System. Inasmuch as this is the (Continued on Page 8B)

Earl Gibson Is Named School Administrator

Earl Gibson, principal at Bird School, and 16-year veteran as a Plymouth educator, was named Monday as director of administrative services.

The post was created recently as the expanding problems of the school district brought a need for more high-level administrators.

Gibson, who will gradually assume duties as director of administrative services, has been principal at Bird School since 1963.

He came to Plymouth in 1950 as a sixth grade teacher. Later, after a stint as a fifth grade teacher, he became principal for all outlying elementary schools. He saw Gallimore school opened in January, 1957. From there, he went to Bird.

As director, he will work in three areas: Federal project funding, coordinating of all elementary education, and directing special services, such as visiting teachers and school nurses.

A graduate of the University of Toledo with a Bachelor of Education degree, he holds a Master of Arts degree from Michigan State University, and an elementary teaching certificate from Eastern Michigan University. Active locally, he is a member of the Board of Directors of the Plymouth Community Fund, and is currently chairman of the Chamber of Commerce's Education Committee.

He is also past president of the Wayne County Elementary School Principals Association.

EARL GIBSON

As well as a board member of the Michigan Elementary Principals Association. He was Plymouth Education Association president in 1955.

A member of the Presbyterian Church, he is married. He and his wife Elizabeth live at 14436 Oxford in Lake Pointe with their four children: Kerry, 14, Thomas, 12, William, 10, and Mary Jane, five.

The appointment was announced Monday by superintendent of schools, Russell Isbister. A replacement for Gibson at Bird has not been named, and he will continue to function as principal.

The district has a training system for principals and it appears the new principal of Bird may come from that source.

Plymouth Makes Plans For Biggest Festival

Plymouth's biggest celebration of the year—the four-day and night Fall Festival—is little more than a week away and already John Herb, president of the Fall Festival Association, freely predicts it will be one of the best in its 10-year history if the weather man cooperates.

The major events of the four days and nights are: the German dinner of sauerkraut and knackwurst sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club on Thursday, Sept. 8 as the opening event; the Lions Club ice cream social on Friday, Sept. 9; the Kiwanis Club pancake festival, all day Saturday, Sept. 10; and the granddaddy of the festival, the Rotary Club chicken barbecue dinner on Sunday, Sept. 11.

But there are a number of other events that have more than a mite of interest. These include: the Optimist Club pet show, Saturday morning, Sept. 10 at 9 a.m. in the parking lot north of Sharrard's store; the three-day antique mart sponsored by the Plymouth Symphony League at the Grange Hall and Community Building starting Friday; the Rotary Ann sale of items made by the handicapped on Sunday; the first annual Firemen's Ball on Friday night from 9 to 12:30 a.m. in the Mayflower Meeting Room: and the Jaycees rib barbecue Saturday from 8 to 11 p.m. in Kellogg Park. These go together to make the Festival the most talked-of affair in the southeastern (Continued on Page 8B)

Classes Start Sept. 12

Tanger Students Get Extra Time Off

Lake Pointe's Tanger Elementary School will open one week late on Monday, Sept. 12, and will run half day sessions for at least two weeks. That was the announcement from Supt. Russell Isbister's office.

"Students won't report until Sept. 12. This situation will last two weeks at the most," Isbister explained.

Principal Ron South, whose office has been at the Farrand school, outlined plans for the late opening this way:

Grades one, two and three will report for classes at 8 a.m. and will go until noon.

Grades four, five and six will attend classes from 12:45 to 4:45.

Kindergartens will run normal schedules, from 8 a.m. until 10:30, and 12:45 until 3:15.

The half-day situation was set up when it was learned the contractor could have half the 12 classrooms finished by Sept. 12.

These plans were finalized last Tuesday in a meeting of school officials with the contractor and architects. The building was delayed by a nationwide strike of construction workers.

The six rooms as well as offices will open at Tanger. In other school buildings, Isbister reported the two additions—one at Bird School, and the other at Gallimore—would be completed on time.

Attendance at the two schools was decided by dividing the area along Five Mile Rd., and down Farmbrook. Parents with homes in several blocks on the border of the dividing line (between Farmbrook and Thornridge) were given an option as to which school to send their children. The new school is located at Five Mile and Haggerty Rds.

Somebody Won; But Guess Who!

It's too early to decide who won or lost—all of the reports haven't filtered in from both sides involved but the fact remains that Attorney Earl Demel's suit against the City of Plymouth, the City Commission and Mayflower Hotel Owner Ralph Lorenz was dismissed without prejudice Monday by Circuit Court Judge George Bowles.

Motion for the dismissal was made by Demel himself. He had filed suits against the city and the Commission charging that they had illegally vacated a portion of Maple Street for the benefit of Lorenz and for failing to sell the lot next to Snyder's Furniture Store, on West Ann Arbor Trail, to the highest bidder.

Demel also tacked on a $250,000 damage suit against Lorenz. The suit never went past the pre-trial hearing and deposition stage.

City Attorney Thomas Healy said, "This is better than a victory. Demel voluntarily stated the case should be dismissed. Now the litigation can't be reopened."

The dismissal action paves the way for Lorenz to resume negotiating for financing his proposed ultra-motel on Maple Street near Deer.

As to who won or lost, only developments of the next few months will furnish the answer. The dismissal ended, for the moment, what has appeared to be a long standing disagreement between Demel and Lorenz. It is believed the bitterness extends back 10 years to the time Demel acquired the Colonial Professional Building from Michigan Bell.

Set Examination For Postmaster

After serving a year as Acting Postmaster of Plymouth, John A. Milligan, who gave up a job teaching in the Plymouth Schools to take the temporary appointment, finds himself faced with an open examination for the post.

The U.S. Civil Service Commission in Washington, D.C., Monday announced an examination for the Plymouth Postmastership, which pays $9,221, will be conducted after the Sept. 20 deadline for receipt of applications.

Competitors for the postmaster vacancy in this city must have several years of experience showing they have the ability to direct, manage, and operate efficiently the work of a large business organization. They must also demonstrate leadership qualities and ability to direct relatively large groups of people through intermediate supervisors.

In addition, applicants must show that they are of good reputation and that they can deal agreeably and effectively with the public. Education above high school level may be substituted under certain conditions for a part of the required experience. Competitors should refer to the examination announcement concerning the requirements for such substitution. There is no written test (Continued on Page 8B)

Bicycle Rules Can Lead To Safe Holiday Weekend

Labor Day weekend, the last big holiday weekend of the summer season, will probably find more bicyclists on the roads than ever before.

Area police chiefs warned that it is the joint responsibility of both cyclist and motorist to make sure that Labor Day is a safe, as well as happy holiday.

According to Chicago's Athletic Institute, cycling is the country's number one participation sport, with nearly 60 million people riding bikes every year.

A goodly share of these cyclists reside in the area serviced by The Observer Newspaper Group and in order to be assured of a safe weekend every cyclist should know and obey the rules of the road and every motorist should be on the alert for the slower-moving bicycle traffic.

Increasing numbers of adults are cycling for physical fitness and recreation, apparently following the advice of Dr. Paul Dudley White, the heart specialist who has long advocated cycling for adults as an excellent means of achieving and maintaining physical fitness.

These adults, many of whom have not ridden a bike in years, should remember that a bicycle is a vehicle, the same as an automobile, and as such, is subject to the same rules of vehicular traffic as automobiles. They should remember that while riding a bike, they should ride on the right, with traffic, and obey all traffic signals, red - lights, one - way streets.

Local police say that if all cyclists and motorists cooperated by observing the rules of the road, as well as the rules of common courtesy, the Labor Day weekend would be a pleasant way to end the summer.

There are 12 Bike Rules of the road, supplied by the Bicycle Institute of America, and endorsed by the National Safety Council. They are:

- Obey all traffic regulations, signs and lights.
- Keep to the right and side in a straight line. Always ride single file.
- Have a white light in front and a red light or reflector in back.
- Have a working signaling device, such as a horn or bell.
- Give pedestrians the right of way.
- Look out for parked cars pulling into traffic. Watch for doors opening on parked cars.
- Never hitch on other vehicles, stunt, or race in traffic.
- Carry no passengers or objects which interfere with vision or control.

- Make sure brakes are functioning smoothly. Keep your bike in perfect operating condition.
- Look to the right and left at all intersections.
- Always use proper hand signals for turning or stopping.
- Don't weave in and out of traffic or swerve from side to side.

Convention Went Romney's Way

Republicans Roll Up Sleeves For Battle

At a marathon non-stop 8½ hour convention Saturday at Cobo Hall, the Michigan Republican Party nominated 13 candidates for election this November.

The session was marred only briefly by two attempts of right wingers to ram through a hard line resolution on VietNam and a platform addition on taxes, both of which propositions were easily defeated.

Over 1700 delegates chose their GOP candidates with deliberation and most of the contests were close ones. According to Wayne County Republican Chairman Robert E. Waldron, "it was a tough choice on most of them because all the contenders were unusually well qualified for the offices they sought."

U.S. Senator Bob Griffin was hard put to quell a wild 17 minute demonstration before his keynote address blasting the Johnson-Humphrey administration for its concern over inflating steel prices but nonchalance about bacon's rise of over four times as much per ton.

Lt. Governor Bill Milliken won unopposed renomination and George Washington, director of the Michigan Department of Administration was unopposed for Secretary of State. This is the highest post for which the Party has ever nominated a Negro.

In a close contest, former special assistant to President Hoover and state GOP chairman Lawrence Lindemer won nomination for Attorney General.

For the Supreme Court, Circuit Court Justice Thomas Brennan and Meyer (Mike) Warshawsky from South Haven were tapped.

Former incumbent James F. O'Neil, of Livonia, was nominated for the State Board of Education race, along with MSU professor Leroy Augenstein.

For the Wayne State University Board of Governors, incumbent realtor Norman O. Stockmeyer was tagged as was Alfred Sokolowski, a physician and president of the Polish American Congress in Michigan.

GOP contenders for the U. of M. Board of Regents this year will be Mrs. George (Trudy) Huebner of Bloomfield Hills, a Phi Beta Kappa graduate and the successful advertising writer who created the "Look Sharp, Feel Sharp, Be Sharp" Gillette ad; also Kalamazoo industrialist-businessman Robert J. Brown who is treasurer of the Republican State Central Committee.

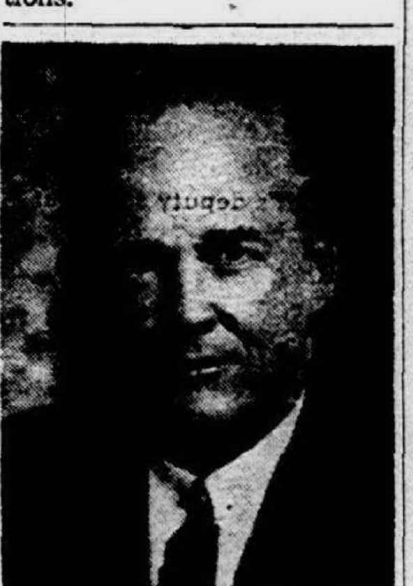

Two Michigan State Board of Trustees seats will be sought by incumbent educator-farmer Frank Merriman and communications authority Ken Thompson who is assistant vice-president for Operations at the Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

The new 15-man Romney "Action Team for an Action

State" represents some 78 years of education, 33 college degrees and geographical, racial, nationality and religious balance as well as both sexes.

All the candidates were chosen at a wide open convention where the delegates made the decisions.

It is evident that the GOP intends to wage a vigorous campaign this fall, with Romney taking no nonsense from his arch-conservative relations.

NEW OFFICE design director, of Macauley's stationery and office supply firm, is Stanley Smith, Jr., Smith is a past president of the Michigan Chapter of the National Society of Interior Designers and has had 30 years experience in office interior design, is as an office planner for J. L. Hudson Co. The new interior design department handles the complete planning of offices.

Area Realtors Open Fall Events With Boat Tour

A guided boat tour of the Detroit waterfront and port facilities on Thursday, Sept. 8, will open the fall season of events for the United Northwestern Realty Association — Western Wayne-Oakland County Board of Realtors.

Andrew W. Fleming, executive director of the Detroit-Wayne County Port Commission, will act as tour guide, describing present and planned facilities along the waterfront.

Primary voters themselves "put down" ultra conservatives in their own party as evidenced by the defeat of Richard Kuhn by Jack McDonald in the 19th Congressional District.

And further Weldon O. Yeager who was a resident in Livonia, and moved back to North West Detroit, ran against J. Harold Stevens, who beat him for the State Legislative seat in the 17th District. Yeager was always the darling of the "little ole ladies in tennis shoes," in the GOP party.

It is expected part of Romney's, "vigor" will be evidenced on the avenue in the 19th Congressional District where he will attempt to pull Jack McDonald into Congress on his coat tails.

Four Drivers Pay Fines Up To $150

Driving offenses committed in Livonia have cost four drivers sums ranging from $75 to $150.

Municipal Judge James McCann recently ordered the following fines:

- Herbert G. Bliss, 23, 62905 Campground, Washington, Mich., $100 for violating a license restriction which provided he could drive only to and from work; $50 for careless driving.
- Ronald L. Jones, 25, 4802 Princess, Dearborn Heights, $150 for reckless driving on July 20.
- John F. Heggs, 39, 342 Highland St., Highland Park, $100 for reckless driving July 21.
- Glendon D. Davis, 17, 2006 Dryden Ct., Wayne, $75 for reckless driving.

Madonna College Dean Appointed To State Group

Dr. Ira Polley, Superintendent of Public Instruction in Michigan, has appointed Sister M. Lauriana, CSSF, academic dean of Madonna College, a member to the Language Arts Committee for the coming school year. The committee is one of many serving under the Michigan Cooperative Curriculum Program.

Sister Lauriana is also the Reading Coordinator for the Detroit Archdiocesan Schools.

Simanek is Michigan's top decorated veteran of the Korean conflict. He holds the Congressional Medal of Honor, two Purple Hearts, the Order of Military Merit and the Gold Star. The State Fair will continue through Labor Day.

Case To Be Heard Sept. 26

Buback Gets Removal Hearing Date

Wayne County Sheriff Peter L. Buback may be in for additional legal problems arising out of last summer's ticket-fixing investigation of the Piggins grand jury. Buback, and Undersheriff James Bommarito are already awaiting a trial date to be set in Circuit Court on four counts of willful neglect of duty.

The Sheriff is now expected to have his hearing on Grand Juror Piggins' petition to be held on the scheduled Sept. 26 date.

This was revealed last week by Macomb County Probate Judge Francis A. Castellucci who pointed out that while the hearing has now been delayed four months, it will not be put off for another 40 days. The hearing will be scheduled "as soon as the attorney general assigned to the case and I can arrange our schedules to proceed," Castellucci said.

Castellucci was picked by Gov. George Romney to hold the hearing on the petition for removal from office submitted by Piggins.

When the hearing is completed, Castellucci will turn the transcript of the testimony over to Romney who will make the final decision on whether Buback remains in office.

The Macomb County judge said he delayed setting a date for the hearing until the conclusion Aug. 12 of the preliminary examination held on the willful neglect of duty charges.

But Castellucci said he will continue to move ahead with the removal from office hearing regardless of the Circuit Court criminal trial. The hearing will have witnesses questioned by Assistant Attorney General Leo Maki.

State Police Urge Drivers Beware of School Pupils

With the reopening of schools after Labor Day putting two and a quarter million students back in the daily traffic pattern, motorists are being reminded by the State Police to again use extra care to avoid involving children in accidents in school zones and at school bus stops.

Special vigilance should be devoted to the safety of the "first timers," about 200,000 of them attending school for the first time this year and not accustomed to following safety routines.

State Police records show that there were 662 rural school bus and related type accidents in Michigan last year which killed one person, a bus driver, and injured 520 others. Of the injury total, 253 resulted from accidents physically involving school buses.

Records also show that there were 108 pedestrians and 33 bicyclists under 15 years of age killed in traffic accidents in 1965 in Michigan. In addition, 3,944 pedestrians and 2,147 bicyclists in that same age group were injured.

Adding concern for the safety of school children are the continuing increases in traffic exposure factors which climbed to new highs in 1965.

According to the Department of Public Instruction, 670,000 pupils were transported daily in 7,700 buses which traveled 76 million miles in the 1965-66 school year in Michigan. These were increases of 30,000 students, 200 buses and three million in mileage compared with the year previous.

Michigan law requires motorists to stop when overtaking or meeting a rural school bus that is stopped to load or unload passengers.

Eight Lose Privilege Of Driving

Names of eight drivers in this area who have lost their driving privileges, announced this week by the Michigan Department of State, are:

William H. Barry, 40, of 39499 Schoolcraft Road, Plymouth, suspended until Oct. 5 for drunk driving.

For unsatisfactory driving records:

George W. Bixler, 20, 31984 Rosslyn, Garden City, suspended until Jan. 1, 1967.

Marc S. Eason, 20, of 2033 Maple Wood, Livonia, suspended until Sept. 14.

Steven G. Kott, 22, of 35224 Chestnut St., Wayne, revoked.

Ronald G. Rice, 24, of 6560 Cadillac, Garden City, revoked.

William G. Russell, 19, of 30919 Ann Arbor Trail, Westland, suspended until Sept. 6.

Craig P. Stover, 25, of 15408 Richfield, Livonia, revoked.

Robert W. Van NewKirk, of 20309 Mayfield, Livonia, suspended until Oct. 7.

Karen, who lives at 15769 Stamford, Livonia, and Chris, 34605 Elm, Wayne, were among approximately 1,200 entering freshmen who attended the get acquainted sessions and toured the campus. Registration started Aug. 29 and classes begin on Sept. 1.

Observer Newspapers Plan Second Annual Publicity Workshop

The second annual Observer Newspaper Group workshop will be held on Thursday, Sept. 15, at Madonna College in Livonia.

In an effort to offer ideas, suggestions and information on the most efficient way to communicate with the community through a newspaper organization, service clubs, PTAs are asked to register their publicity and public relations chairmen to this workshop.

A kit will be distributed geared to showing the best way to write a news release, as well as a feature story.

A special session in photography will be part of the workshop.

In addition there will be an opportunity for questions and a discussion period on the importance of communication and the method of determining what is an announcement, a news release, or a feature story.

There will be two sessions. One at 1 p.m. until 3 p.m. and the other at 8 until 10 p.m.

If you are interested in registering please fill out coupon below and you will be notified by mail as a reminder, with the directions to the workshop on Madonna campus. DO NOT SEND $1. with registration. It will be collected at the workshop, when you receive your kit.

This workshop is for men and women. Residents of the area who are interested in doing social writing, civic association or scout news, etc. are welcome to attend. Reservations will close after a capacity group has registered.

To Head GMC Truck

Appointment of Martin J. Caserio as general manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division of General Motors, effective September 1, was announced today by GM President James M. Roche.

Caserio, a vice president of General Motors, has been general manager of AC Spark Plug Division, with headquarters at Flint, since February 21, 1964. At GMC Truck & Coach, headquartered at Pontiac, he will succeed Calvin J. Werner.

Sibal Joins Staff at College

Michael J. (Mike) Sibal, former Michigan State Police sergeant at the Redford Post, has joined the Schoolcraft College faculty as an instructor in law enforcement and industrial security.

MICHAEL SIBAL

Sibal will teach in the evening college, according to Fred Stefanski, evening college director. Sibal retired from the MSP in January after 25 years service.

No stranger to the classroom, Sibal was a regular instructor for the Metropolitan Police Academy of Michigan, served as an instructor in the Southern Michigan Chiefs Police Schools from 1951 until his retirement, and was an instructor in a number of FBI area schools, MSP in-service training schools, and at MSU-Oakland.

At the time of his retirement, Sibal was a sergeant in charge of the Safety and Traffic Division of the MSP's Second District, headquartered at the Redford Post, Seven Mile Road and Grand River.

Mother Smothers Her 2 Children

Two grandchildren of a Garden City couple were smothered by their mother Thursday in Huron Valley Park near Romulus.

Funeral services were held Monday morning for David William Harvey, three years old, and his sister, Kathleen Rose, two, at the Caldwell Funeral Home, Garden City.

The grandparents of the two children are Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Harvey, of 1709 Lathers, Garden City, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bost, of Romulus.

The children's mother, Mrs. Janet Harvey, 20, of Romulus Township, admitted to sheriff's department deputies that she drove the children to the park Thursday and used a pillow and blanket to smother them.

She then drove to a Romulus Township attorney's office where Mrs. Bost is employed. They then flagged down a passing police car and Mrs. Harvey admitted the deaths.

Mrs. Harvey, who was divorced from her husband, Donald G. of 2555 Henry Ruff Street, Inkster, two years ago, is now in the mental ward of Wayne County General Hospital. A sheriff's deputy said that the mother has a past history of mental troubles and once before tried to kill one of her children shortly after birth.

Road Patrol officers applied artificial respiration to the two youngsters but the children were pronounced dead on arrival at Wayne County General.

Rev. M. Clement Parr officiated at the funeral service, followed by burial in Parkview Memorial Cemetery.

Survivors include both parents and the grandparents.

Observer Moves Its Job Shop

The Observer Newspaper Group has moved its job shop operations from the Livonia plant, 33050 Five Mile Road, to the Plymouth plant, 271 S. Main, where Job Shop Superintendent Bill Mann will be on hand to take care of all the needs of his many customers and friends in the Livonia Area.

If you have job shop orders, they can be handled by personnel in the Livonia office.

However, if you are accustomed to dealing with Mann direct, then call 453-5500 or visit him in his new facilities in Plymouth.

Madonna to Offer New Reading Course

To stir and develop the reading interests of Livonia residents, Madonna College is offering a Round Table Reading Program this fall. Book discussions will be held from 8 to 10 p.m. on Thursday twice a month from October to May at the College.

Primarily geared to adults with only a high school education, the program will give the participants an opportunity to discuss some of the best in classics and contemporary paperbacks.

Approximately 14 paperbacks will be read over an eight-month period, says Sister M. Catherine, CSSF, director of the program. The choice of books will be left to the participants, she added.

Although book discussions will be conducted by the participants themselves, moderators will provide necessary background. Moderators will include: Mrs. Rosina Raymond, speech instructor at Madonna College, who received her master's degree from Wayne State University and was a secondary school teacher in the Livonia Public Schools; Mrs. Barbara Jones, a secondary school teacher in the Livonia Public Schools, who was graduated from Madonna and is working for a master's degree in English at Eastern Michigan University; Miss Maxine Jameson, Madonna College graduate with a pending master's degree in English from Wayne State University; and Miss Janet Henry, an elementary school teacher with a bachelor's degree in English from Madonna.

College staff consultants in the fields of education, medicine, politics and sociology will also be available by invitation to any discussion.

Participants in the program will have free use of the Madonna College library. Paperbacks will also be made available to them at half their cost. There is no fee for the program itself.

Deadline for applications is Sept. 1. Applicants will be accepted on a first-come first-serve basis. If the program is successful it will be offered to the community the following year.

Applications may be sent to Sister M. Catherine, Madonna College, 86600 Schoolcraft, Livonia.

Urge Unity on School Financing

Seventeen Western Wayne County school board members and superintendents were urged to "build a political machine for education" at a meeting held at the Henry Ford School in Westland last week to discuss the problems of public school financing.

The two-hour session, attended by representatives of the Wayne Community School District, which covers most of Westland, Redford Union, Grosse Ile, Cherry Hill, Allen Park, and the host Nankin Mills district, heard the school officials say: "If we don't build a political machine for education, we'll sit by and take what's given to us (by the state legislature). We must make our voice heard."

The main speaker was Dr. Julius Barbour, executive director of the Michigan Association of School Boards, who urged the school board members to unite behind one school financing plan in the legislature. Concurring with him was Daniel Manthe, legislative representative for the Wayne County Intermediate School District. He said he spent that day (Tuesday, Aug. 23) in Lansing and that there were three major "forces" at work and the one he felt prevailed was the one which favored a school financing plan to help Detroit and other districts.

Others felt that Detroit has a unique problem and the state aid formula should be changed to help them. Manthe said. Another faction wanted Detroit schools to get financial help but not enough to encourage Detroit voters to not support the system. Detroit citizens will vote on additional school millage taxes in November.

Philip R. Biebesheimer, Wayne Community board of education member, reiterated his favoring a state income tax earmarked for educational purposes with a reduction or elimination of the school tax on property owners.

The Wayne school district's millage rate is now at 33.6 mills ($33.60 per $1,000 of equalized valuation) and he "senses a taxpayers' revolt in the community and in the state.

"I am a firm believer in an income tax earmarked for education and the elimination of the school property tax, with the possible exception of a levy for capital outlay," Biebesheimer said.

"I feel a flat income tax is the fairest tax of all since the graduated income tax is really putting a penalty on education," he said.

Since persons with more formal education eventually earn more money in a lifetime, "they would be turning back to society a great contribution" to education.

However, he pointed out, this may cause local school boards to lose their identity since the income tax collection and distribution would be administered by the state.

Wayne's school superintendent Harry Howard also commented on the financial plan submitted last February by State Senator Edward Robinson which would have a state-wide flat millage levy with the per-pupil allocation set at $720 the first year of its operation and going up each year.

Howard called the plan "unrealistic" and asked his colleagues "how many of you could spend $720 per pupil wisely?"

He also pointed out the current problem of predicating a fiscal year budget with a series of unknown factors. Hoard also urged that the time lag on the approval of the state aid formula should be narrowed.

Russel Hilbert, of the Redford Union district, said the Robinson proposal showed "imagination and courage but I don't believe we can reach heaven in one bound. Any real progress has to be piece-meal and partly compromise. However, Robinson's plan did dramatize the situation. But every change in the past has been gradual and we should use the present state aid program as our base and seek improvements."

Jack Raeside, also of Redford Union, asked how the board members would get unity behind one financing program.

SUCCESSFUL TEAM of Harry Tennyson (right), of Tennyson Chevrolet, 32570 Plymouth Road, Livonia, and Show Manager Boyce Tope, executive vice president of the Detroit Auto Dealers Association, will have charge of the 51st annual Detroit Auto show. The show will be held from Nov. 26 through Dec. 4 in Cobo Hall.

Honor Aged Banker On 85th Birthday

Adolph Deutsch, the grand old man of Detroit will be honored on the occasion of his 85th birthday at a testimonial dinner on Sept. 7, at 6:30 p.m. in the Harry Rosman Social Hall of Congregation B'nai Moshe, 14390 W. 120 Mile Road, Oak Park.

Drew Pearson, world famous columnist, will be the guest speaker and Lew Norman, popular humorist, who has appeared on the leading TV and radio programs, will be the guest artist.

Deutsch, past president of Congregation B'nai Moshe, is the founder and chairman of the board of the American Savings & Loan Association, which he started at the age of 65.

He has been active in communal and philanthropic affairs for many years and has been honored by the City of Detroit and the State of Michigan. He is president of Moore, Deutsch & Co. and vice president of Citizens Mortgage Co.

His son, Alfred L. Deutsch, is president of the American Savings & Loan Association.

The dinner, on behalf of Israel's 18th year of Statehood, Rabbi Moses Lehrman of B'nai Moshe, will give the tribute to Deutsch and Cantor Louis Klein will sing several cantorial selections.

Swarthout's Federal Trial Gets Underway

The Federal Court trial of Garden City's Municipal Judge Russell Swarthout was adjourned last week so federal attorneys could research the question concerning the wife testifying against one of the principals in the case.

Swarthout, on a leave of absence from the municipal bench since the federal indictment July 30, 1965, is charged with concealing the assets and filing false statements with the Internal Revenue Service.

His trial started last week before Federal Judge Ralph Freeman but was adjourned when Mrs. Edward J. Vitale was called to the stand to testify. Her husband is under an identical federal indictment as Swarthout and is awaiting trial in federal court.

Defense counsel S. Allen Early, Jr., objected to Mrs. Vitale testifying on the grounds of marital privilege. Judge Freeman adjourned the trial to allow the federal government attorney to research the question.

The federal indictment charged Swarthout in connection with Vitale winning $140,000 in the 1960 Irish Sweepstakes while being confined in federal prison. The government is claiming that the Garden City judge helped conceal Vitale's winnings along with a $20,000 investment in an Oak Park restaurant.

The Garden City municipal court has been presided over by neighboring judges during the past 13 months. Swarthout is not for re-election to another term in the Nov. 8 general election.

Kuhn Asks For Recount In Township

Richard Kuhn who got only 827 votes compared to Jack McDonald's 4,072 in the township has asked for the recount in all 49 precincts on the basis of "discrepancies" in the tally.

Kuhn workers have been checking Redford Township voters since the results were announced Aug. 3 to determine how they voted.

McDonald was nominated by a vote of 13,150 to 12,078. A third candidate, Larry Vander Molen received a token 1,338.

Neil Hall of Livonia, Kuhn's campaign director in Wayne County, said that Robert Reisdorf, delegate in Redford Township's 24th Precinct is positive that at least 15 persons in his balliwick voted for Kuhn.

The official tabulation for this precinct shows Kuhn polled 6 votes, McDonald, 153.

Included in the 19th District are Livonia, Redford Township, Northville, and western parts of Oakland County.

Even before regular school classes begin, the Parent-Teacher Association at Ten Mile School is putting together plans for continuation of the Saturday language class program it successfully launched last year.

French and Spanish classes for children in the second through sixth grades will be offered at 9 a.m. and 10 a.m. on 10 Saturdays beginning Oct. 1. The course ends Dec. 10, with no class during Thanksgiving vacation.

Mrs. Ruth Allaben, PTA Language program chairman, and Ten Mile PTA president Donald McGregor are working on engaging qualified teachers. The cost will be $8 per pupil for the 10 classes.

If there is sufficient interest, there will be intermediate classes for children who began the program last year, as well as classes for beginners.

Last spring more than 100 youngsters were enrolled.

Letters outlining the class plan will be distributed to all Ten Mile children in the grades involved the first week of school, and principals of other Farmington public and parochial schools will also receive letters.

Separate classes for grades two and three and for grades four, five and six are planned. All children in the area are eligible for the program.

A minimum of 14 students will have to be enrolled in each class by Sept. 18, or it will be cancelled and enrollment checks returned. For further information about the program, interested parents may call Mrs. Allaben at 476-6377.

School Kids Need Shots

Booster shots and necessary immunization lead the list in importance of Back-to-School preparations, Oakland County health authorities point out.

To assure an opportunity for every child in Farmington to be protected by immunization, Byron Oliver, administrative assistant in the Farmington Public Schools has arranged for local participation in free county immunization clinics.

The necessary tests and injections will be given at the Pontiac offices, 1200 N. Telegraph Rd., on Tuesdays from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and on Thursdays from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Free clinic service will also be available in the Royal Oak office, 2401 E. Fourth, Royal Oak, on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 1 to 3 p.m.

State law requires that all children enrolling in any public, private, parochial or denominational school in Michigan for the first time shall be immunized against smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis and poliomyelitis and shall be tested for tuberculosis, Oliver points out. The immunization may be administered by the family physician or health department technicians.

LWV Plans Political Programs

Program chairmen for local clubs and organizations, who are in the process of planning Fall meetings, now have an opportunity to schedule a timely activity for their memberships.

The League of Women Voters of Livonia, through its Speakers Bureau, has planned a series of "Why I Chose My Political Party" programs to be presented to civic groups, PTA's, homeowners associations, church organizations and other interested clubs.

Moderated by LWV members, these programs will feature candidates from both political parties in the November election for U.S. Congressional representative or state legislative posts. The candidates will discuss the philosophies of their parties and then answer questions from the audience.

These programs can be scheduled for a period of one half hour or can run longer to fit the requirements of the meeting chairman, according to Mrs. John Federspill, president of the Livonia LWV.

Arrangements for a "Why I Chose My Political Party" program can be made by contacting Mrs. Edward Violante, Speakers' Bureau Chairman for the LWV, at GA 2-7535, or Mrs. Harold Firestone, Voter Service Chairman, 261-0145.

Bikes, Honda Passengers Involved in Accidents

There ought to be a change in the law — and the first to agree would be Lt. Robert Thorne, head of the Li-vonía Traffic Bureau. There is a new state law that says a policeman cannot issue a traffic violation, even after an accident (unless there is death) if it was not witnessed by the officer.

Thorne points out the danger of this law by saying many of the participants are drunk, hit and run, and do serious bodily harm, however, are not brought into court.

There have been 225 accidents in Livonia this year, and only nine tickets written. He feels this is a definite disadvantage in improving safety conditions on the City streets.

Several accidents in Livonia this week involved children on bicycles. One was Scott Lucas, 5, who was hit by a car driven by Jessie H. Lee on Grennada Street. The boy was not seriously hurt.

Another five year old, Nathan Smith of Cardwell was hit by a car driven by Sammy R. Journy, 18, also of Cardwell. The driver was not held in either case.

Juanita LaRue, Leona, 43, knocked Gary Allen Eddington, 7, from his bike in an accident on Angeline Circle last Wednesday. She was not ticketed.

Bradley Kyle, 13, was seriously hurt when the Mini-bike he was riding on Country Club Drive flipped over last Saturday. Mini-bikes are against the law and the bike can be taken by police and parents ticketed. Mini-bikes are converted bikes with motors.

Kenneth Biggs and Ronald Logan, a passenger on Biggs' Honda, were taken to St. Mary Hospital in serious condition last week following an accident on Merriman Avenue with a car driven by Robert Miller, 39, of Loveland. The driver was not held.

Rites Held For GI Who Died in Japan

Funeral services for S/Sgt. Richard Fleming, 35, of 9456 Southworth, Plymouth, who died of a heart attack in Japan, were conducted in the Schrader Funeral Home and in Our Lady of Good Counsel Church in charge of Rev. Fr. Francis Byrne. Burial was in Mt. Olivet Cemetery with full Military honors.

S/Sgt. Fleming enlisted in the Air Force in 1947 and had made a career of the armed services. He was born in Detroit and spent his early life there.

Surviving are: his wife, Mrs. Natividad Fleming; two daughters, Jean and Elizabeth; two sons, Richard and Robert, all at home; his mother, Mrs. Vincenzie Karpinski of Detroit; a brother, Martin, Jr., of Plymouth; and one sister, Mrs. Joan Stalk, of Springfield, Va.

FILM STRIPS POPULAR

During the past school year 7,058 filmstrips were used in Livonia classrooms to bring instructional pictures to students studying geography, science, history and other subjects.

Plymouth Housing Bd. Seeks Senior Site

The Plymouth Housing Commission will meet Tuesday for the first time in over a month to take steps to find another site for the Senior Citizen home.

The $900,000 project has been delayed by the refusal of the owner of the initial site, Jack Wilcox, to sell his land. The property in question is the mansion located at Union Street and Penniman Avenue across from Kellogg Park.

City Clerk Eugene Slider said the group may authorize a request for relocation of the site. That request must be directed to the Chicago office of the Federal Public

Plymouth Rotarians Find Boating Is Fine

Plymouth Rotarians and Rotary Anns took a holiday when four luxury cruisers left the Roostertail Marina and headed for Harsen's Island at the mouth of the St. Clair River.

At the helm of the 41-foot leader boat was Charles Finlan, followed by Robert Beyer, very much at home on the command bridge. The Beyers recently returned from the Thousand Islands.

Leo Calhoun handled his boat with great respect for the sea, while Perry Richwine, an old seaman, was tailsman and with his daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Smith, charted the course.

It was nautical from the word go, with canvas shoes and boating togs. After landing at Harsen's Island a sight-seeing trip followed to the Perry Richwine and Les Wilson summer homes and then lunch at the Club House.

Golfing and swimming filled the afternoon. Appearing on the scene was Kiwanian Bud Schrader who pulled up along dockside, in time for crew and guests to dress for dinner at the Old Club. The Schraders have recently returned from a cruise with their Double Eagle to Georgian Bay.

Among those aboard were the Bud Goulds, Frank Arlen, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Engstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Steel, Dr. and Mrs. Elmore Carney, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Merriman and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sincock.

Boring Named by JA To Plymouth Board

C. L. Boring, general manager, Whitman & Barnes Division, United Greenfield Corp., has been appointed to the Plymouth Committee of Junior Achievement (J.A.). The announcement was made by chairman Arnold D. Johanson, manager, Western Electric Co. in Plymouth.

Other members of the key community group are: Albert H. Charles, supervisor, Burroughs Corp., Plymouth; John E. Andrews, personnel manager, Livonia Plant, Chevrolet Motors Division, General Motors Corp.; James Thomas, manager, Consumers Power Co., Livonia, and Samuel Hudson, manager, advertising and public relations, Evans Products Co., Plymouth.

Also, Richard L. McNulty, plant manager, Transmission & Chassis Division, Ford Motor Co., Livonia; Earl E. Morrow, district commercial manager, Michigan Bell Telephone Co., Plymouth; Robert K. Barbour, assistant vice president, National Bank of Detroit, Plymouth, and Supt. Russell Isbister, Plymouth Community School District.

Personnel from most of these firms will counsel some 250 teen-age members of 12 prototype manufacturing and service companies at the Plymouth J.A. Business Center, 585 West Ann Arbor Trail.

Coordinating advisers are: Larry Furrow, Transmission & Chassis Division, Ford Motor Co.; James W. Wilson, Livonia Plant, Chevrolet Motors Division, General Motors Corp.; Mason McKee, Western Electric Co., and Frank Marshall, materials analyst technician, Burroughs Corp., Plymouth.

They will be responsible for over-all management of the J.A. companies, assisted by production, sales and accounting advisers assigned by the counseling firms.

Students aged 15-19 at Plymouth, Northville and Franklin high schools may participate in the program that teaches free enterprise through actual business experience.

During the 1965-66 season, some 200 Achievers from Plymouth, Livonia, Northville, Novi, Garden City and Nankin produced and sold $7,250 worth of goods and services in 12 companies.

After buying materials, paying wages, salaries, commissions, rent, taxes and other overhead, the young industrialists rendered a report of condition to shareholders and repaid these investors according to company earnings.

Dan White, J.A. program supervisor for the Plymouth area, will coordinate the activity when the business center re-opens in early October.

Pair Take $200 From 82-Year-Old

Two women entered the home of an 82-year-old Farmington Township woman Aug. 25 and made off with more than $200 in cash.

Mrs. Mabel Gitzel of 22105 Gill Rd., Farmington Township, who is confined to a wheel chair, described the two as white females both wearing dark flowered scarfs. She told Officer Roger Vollmer that the pair parked a dark late model automobile in her driveway at about 9 p.m. and entered through 5:30 p.m. and entered through the front door. She said that as soon as they were in the house they began yelling "Papa," "Papa."

MR. AND MRS. JAMES Spotts, 33959 Orangelawn, Livonia, were guests of honor at a reception party at the Odd Fellows Hall in Plymouth in celebration of their 40th wedding anniversary. The party was given by their children: Mr. and Mrs. Buford Spotts, Rogers, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Spotts, Plymouth; Mrs. Beaumont Neely, Plymouth; and Mrs. Bonny Turnbow, of Plymouth. To finish the evening's activities, Mr. and Mrs. Spotts opened and displayed the many gifts they received.

Playing Hookey?

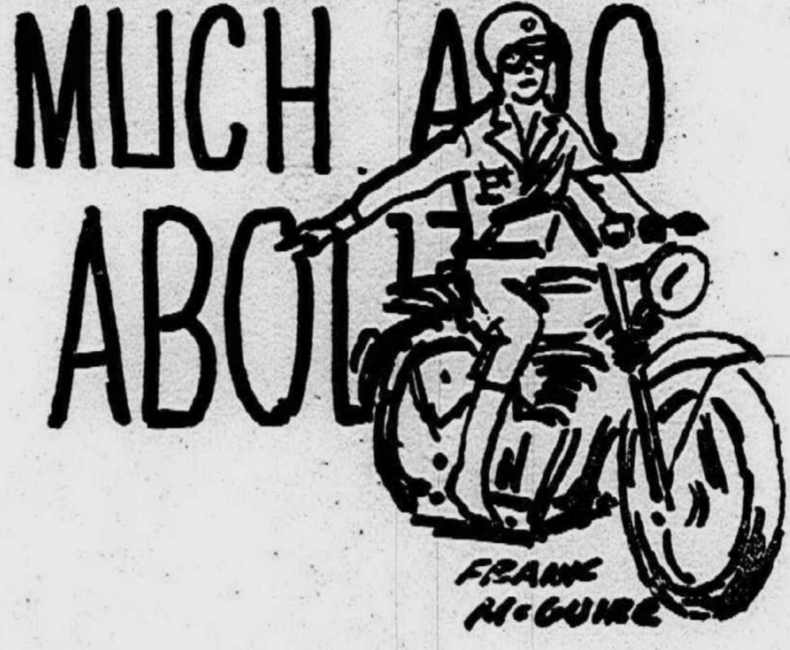

This writer has been listening for many years to school officials who criticize citizens who don't vote at millage or bond issue elections for public schools or who don't take a more active role in their own child's school groups. But apparently, a double-standard is used for their own school meetings.

Last week, a call was issued to all 43 public school districts in the county to attend a meeting in Nankin Mills' Ford School in Westland to discuss the problem of financing public schools. David Gooze, Nankin Mills school board member who proposed the session, arranged for packets of information, pencils, and sheets of note paper at all of the 96 seats. But most of it was a wasted effort.

Only 17 persons from six school districts, Wayne County Intermediate School District, and an officer of the Michigan Association of School Boards were present. Admittedly, there were many districts whose board members and superintendents were on vacation or had other meetings that night. Redford Union and Wayne were the only districts from our area who were represented.

But it seems that many of the Wayne County school officials who could have been at the meeting should get a bad mark on their attendance portion of their report cards. —LEONARD FOGER

OBSERVING the Scene...

By MYRA CHANDLER

You will never know how it feels unless you have been the victim yourself. To have everyone having a good laugh at your expense when you got caught in a situation that blew out of context before you knew you were in trouble.

It is particularly in poor taste when it is in the printed word. A reporter may be in a "fun 'n games" mood, but it can boomerang and cause malicious harm.

This was driven home to me this week by the story of a cub reporter from Detroit assigned to cover the Livonia scene.

Actually it wasn't the story of Mayor Harvey Moelke having an altercation with a Livonia policeman that caused the harm to the City. After all most of us could identify. When we are stopped it is usually our first question, "What did I do officer?"

It was logical Mayor Moelke would get hot when the officer maintained a wall of silence over the misdemeanor — and in true Moelke fashion he persisted, insisted and resisted.

Everyone who knows the Mayor knows he has this personality trait which is also bestowed equally on builders wanting to put up high rises or utilize small lots in Livonia. The fruits of the man's three R's will be reaped for years to come in this area.

Hizzoner doesn't turn off his character when he is doing other things like campaigning, fighting councilmen, playing golf, or in this case, passing three cars in the right lane. He didn't think he was wrong.

He RESISTED the charge, has INSISTED on the ticket and will PERSIST the matter in court.

Personally I've spent four hours with him trying to convince me on an issue on which we differed . . . and he never gave up. Finally I took refuge in the ladies room. Perfect asylum.

The Detroit News, last week did a great disservice to the City of Livonia by taking the incident and giving it the importance of an editorial. It was a scathing, ridiculing editorial berating a directive requiring policemen to consult headquarters whenever they stop an official to issue a traffic ticket.

No such directive exists. We who have our stake in Livonia, make our mortgage payments, pay taxes for our businesses, resent being put on the map by anyone, let alone an outside force, for being a keystone cop climate.

Livonia has the finest schools in western Wayne County, the strictest building code, and the most progressive City Planner and Industrial Development program.

Already the let's-put-Livonia-down article has caused concern. It has reached the ears of an industrialist who is considering moving his plant to Livonia from the east side.

He wonders if it is prudent with such an imprudent directive protecting officials, guilty or not.

The "directive" was the motivation of the Mayor who lost his temper in trying to get the young officer to call the station, and failing, lost his temper.

Several years ago when John Dooley was on the Council he was stopped one night on his way to an important Council meeting for having one headlight. He did not think his delay was necessary and suggested to the Mayor, city officials should have the courtesy of having a contact with the officer in charge, because often the official could be the victim of a policeman with a grudge. The Mayor and Council are in a disciplinary position with the Police and Fire Departments.

No such directive exists and it should not. The U.S. way of life is based on sharing equal treatment under the law. We do not have Kings with divine rights and if anything the American public resents more, it is anyone so acting.

There would have been no editorial material had the writer checked his facts and a City might have been saved being identified with "lawless and disorder."

Even if it had been factual it was unreasonable and over-rated. And if the Detroit News wants to give Livonia some ink — how about an editorial sometime on Livonia being the only City in a century to stand up and say "yes, we want parks" — and tax themselves another mill to do it.

250 Cards Brighten Girl's Life

Open Letter to Editor and Friends in Livonia:

It's so very hard to put into words our thanks for the response to Celeste's plea for postcards to Celeste while she was at Jackson Memorial Hospital in Florida (story in The Observer July 20).

Some of the loneliest days of our lives were spent there, but when your cards started coming, we knew someone was thinking of us. Celeste received well over 250 postcards. Even folks on vacation remembered her with a postcard, one family sent one while they were vacationing in Florida. I put them all in a scrapbook for her and she and I looked through them many times while she was recuperating.

To date she feels better and, although the operation may not be a success and may have to be redone, we have new hope.

Thanks again to each one of you and may God bless each of you.

Celeste's Mother,

driveway. Children from another block, frequently racing thru the front lawn. From the back yard, I have cleaned out rotten potatoes, empty baby jars and spoons, and other debris. I have painted the fence and reinforced the one post to keep it from collapsing as the children are persistent in climbing it, and for a reprimand we have earned such names as Fatsso, and Big Fat Bully.

There are no alleys, but we have never complained about the stinking garbage, in that hot spell, that drove us inside, nor the persistent burning of trash, and smoke permeating our yard, that the neighbor hid from his view but exposed to ours. I have never complained about the situation, but recently had words.

A boy living two blocks away and another were on top of the fence. I asked them to get off, they just smirked, and had to walk over to the fence before they got off. A woman, not their mother, jumped at me verbally, and asked me if I never was a child, and in the next breath said the article I wrote to your paper (Home Repairs Are Costly) nothing to do with children, said it was rotten and wished we would move.

It's a laugh! We do not bother any one, my husband is away at work all day and I am at home with my two dogs. We do wish to protect our investment. If it is a sin to keep your nose to the grindstone in keeping up ones property by cutting the grass every week and by weeding and pruning and wanting things to look lovely, then we have committed a great crime. I might mention, all the yards in back of us, are unfenced across three or four yards plus an empty lot, there are three sets of swings, teeter totters, swimming pool, everything to amuse the children.

A lot of screaming all day long, all around, so why an attraction for our fence? And a neighbor's wishful thinking that we depart from the neighborhood. I am most surprised since the woman works for the school board and all the harassment comes from her side of the fence. I might add, "Yes," I was a child, but not bent on destruction or disrespect to my elders.

Just Chattin' Lesson Demonstrated

Education isn't always derived from textbooks. There are times when the real lessons of life are taught in the most unusual places — far removed from a school room.

One would never expect to be taught one of journalism's greatest lessons on a hot, muggy evening in the city room of a small daily newspaper. Yet, the recent unpleasantness experienced by some of our top officials with various arms of the law, calls to mind the teachings of my first editor, who was a stickler for printing the truth — at any cost.

He used to take great delight in gathering our young staff about him and he'd spend hours lecturing to us on what he always termed, "the greatest profession in the world."

"There are only two favors you can do in this business," he emphasized. "You can keep stories out of the paper that should be printed — or you can have stories printed that shouldn't find their way into type. And, in either case you would be wrong."

We used to listen very attentively to this colorful, old editor, for he looked upon us as his family. He had hand picked each member of the staff and he wanted so much to see us succeed.

But we often wondered what would happen if some one of his own family figured in some form of shocking news. Would he carry out his own teaching?

I'll never forget the night we got the answer.

It was one of those hot, sticky nights in August in what had been the front bedroom of the old home that had been converted into our newspaper office. It was before the modern convenience of air conditioning and the humidity was terrible.

Suddenly, the phone rang. It was the night chief of the police department reporting that our old editor's son, the star pitcher of the home town baseball team and an idol to many of the youngsters, had just figured in an auto accident in which several persons were injured.

It was a routine report for the police chief. But it felt like a bomb in our stuffy office. What would we do with the story? "The old gent might explode if we printed it," the city news editor remarked, "but I will keep the notes — just in case."

We all settled back to routine work and hardly noticed, about an hour later, that the old editor had walked into the office.

He walked over to the city desk and asked, "what did you do with the story about my son's accident?"

"Nothing yet," the city editor answered.

"Why not," the old gent asked. "he's no better than anyone else."

With that he stormed into his private little office and we soon heard the rattat-tat of the keys on his typewriter.

A short time later, he walked over to the city desk, handed in the story of his son's accident, along with a picture.

"I want this in a prominent position on the front page," he ordered. "just to show our readers that we print all the news. And it will help all of you young fellows when you are asked to favor some one by not printing a story that should be printed."

We all heaved a sigh. He had gotten us out of what we thought was a ticklish situation.

"I have no respect for folks in high places who evade or fracture our laws and then try to hide behind the cloak of their office or their standing in a community," the old editor remarked before he left, "and they never will get any sympathy on this paper." And they never did.

Burial Will Take Place...

Another nail went into the coffin last week, slowly sealing up the right of citizens to hold jobs without being forced to join a union.

Bus drivers, mechanics, cooks, custodians and stock clerks employed by the Wayne Community School District will be required to become union members if they want to work for the district.

This agreement on "union security" was signed last week by school officials and those of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, Council 23, Local 1483.

It stipulates that "new employees hired on or after the execution of this agreement, upon completion of their probationary period shall as a condition of employment, become and remain members of the union during the life of this agreement."

To make sure, union members pay dues, the school district has agreed to a unique provision which states: "Each employee, who on the effective date of this agreement is a member of the union and has authorized deductions, shall, as a condition of employment, do so with the understanding the deductions shall continue for the length of the contract."

Livonia drove in a nail this summer with a union shop agreement with its non-teaching employees; Garden City put in another clincher with a pact with its employees, forcing union membership in order to accept employment with the city. Other spikes are going in throughout Michigan.

Will citizens in this area ever rebel at the dirty, dismal drab pine box into which we are being sealed?

Evidence to date, shows an unconcerned citizenry. It is only when some poor guy, struggling to make ends meet, starts coughing up tribute to a union to which he does not want to belong, that an outcry will be heard.

But who will listen? The right to work, which has been preserved nationally in 19 states, is coming closer and closer to the grave.

Does it sound morbid?

It is!

We citizens are allowing our city and school officials to surrender the running of our greatest union — The United States of America — to small ruling cliques.

If we don't want this to happen . . . Let's do something! Hop on down to your next school board meeting or city or township meeting and insist on an open shop.

Or, corner your school board members or municipal representatives and find out why they are wielding the hammer so vehemently as the lid is put on the old pine box tighter and tighter.

And — so — as a wind-up to this clarion call to action, let us all stand and sing, "Oh, They Cut Down the Old Pine Tree."

— BILL GAIL

OMBUDSMAN

(A new feature in The Observer Newspapers — we will do our best to be a go-between, a red-tape cutter as the name indicates. When you have exhausted all other measures on a problem write to us (keep it short, please) and we'll see if we can help. Yes, John Q, you can fight city hall — with your own Ombudsman!)

Dear Ombudsman:

We, as one family, plus our neighbors, would like street lights in Rosedale Meadows (between south of West Chicago, north of Joy Road between Merriman and Farmington).

We are hoping others will see this and start some action in our area.

Residents in
ROSEDALE MEADOWS

Dear Rosedale Meadows Residents:

Glad you asked Ombudsman about that because we have had several phone requests too. Please know it takes at least five months (if all goes well).

- 1—You write a letter to the City Council with your request. (A petition with many names would be more effective.)
- 2—City Council brings it up at a study meeting.
- 3—Following meeting it comes up on the regular agenda where there is a vote. And likely it will be referred to City Engineer for him to prepare cost assessment per lot. (Probably about seven dollars a lot assessment.)
- 4—A public hearing will be held. (Herein lies the swiftness or delay of the action. If there is no opposition, the rest of the way will likely be great greased—if there is opposition three other things that could happen. a. request turned down. b. request approved. c. a referendum vote might be held in the area affected.)
- 5—Results of the Engineer's report brought to a Council study meeting.
- 6—Again appears on the regular agenda for the final decision.

7—If approved assessment district is established and contract signed with Detroit Edison. They have been installing street lights approximately two months after contract is signed. If turned down you can forget it, or start all over, hoping in the meantime to convince the opposition.

Don't be discouraged by the many steps. Over a quarter of the City has street lights. If the request gets bogged down and we can be of any further assistance feel free to write your Ombudsman.

Some of us are fortunate enough not to underestimate the opinion of our ancestors. Our grandmothers used to tell us to, "eat your carrots because they are good for your eyes". We didn't need any proof, we just believed her.

Raw carrot juice is a resistant to infections, doing most efficient work in conjunction with the adrenal glands. It helps prevent infections of eyes and of the throat as well as of the tonsils and sinuses and the respiratory organs generally. It also protects the nervous system and is unequalled for increasing vigor and vitality.

Carrot juice is rich in Carotene, the precursor of vitamins in your body chemistry. The juice is also rich in Vitamins, B, C, D, E, G and K.

FLOURLESS CARROT CAKE

5 eggs, separated
1 cup brown sugar
1 tsp vanilla
¼ tsp salt

½ # carrots, grated fine
½ # almonds, ground or pulverized
¼ cup wheat germ

Lightly beat egg yolks and mix with sugar, vanilla, and salt. Add and stir in the grated carrots, ground almonds, and wheat germ. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry and fold into mixture. Bake in spring form at 350° for 1 hour.

Council Seeks Bids For Property Sale

Garden City Councilmen are seriously thinking of selling a 1.6 acre parcel and using the money toward buying a larger park site elsewhere.

The council agreed last week to advertise for bids on the parcel located on Hubbard Street, south of Ford Road and next to the Marquette Elementary School.

Councilman Wilson Taylor urged his colleagues "not to be too hasty in selling the parcel since land in the city will be at a premium in the future." He also pointed out that in the past he has been promised a list of all of the city-owned property in the city.

The land was subject to the approval of the city attorney and the money from the sale being earmarked for parks and recreation.

Taylor also praised the appraisal firm for its complete report on the parcel.

Felony charges against two men will be tried in Wayne County Circuit Court as the result of their being bound over for trial by Westland Municipal Judge sitting in Livonia for vacationing Judge James McCann.

Both waived examination Aug. 22 when their cases were due to be heard in Livonia Municipal Court.

Richard W. Laurentius, 20, 14325 Chapel, Detroit, was arrested for breaking into and entering a restaurant.

William S. Young, 31, Ft. Wayne, Ind., was arrested for operating a motor vehicle equipped with a shortwave receiver, for which no permit had been obtained from the Michigan State Police, on Dec. 27, 1965. He also will stand trial on charges he stole a suit worth $65.

His companion, Lillian S. Powell, 21, of Indianapolis, Ind., was convicted of simple larceny earlier this year and was fined $125.

Our Readers Speak Up

Critical of Policy

Your last issue editorialized the propriety of your reporting all of the news as a matter of your publication's policy, regardless that some persons might be embarrassed or adversely affected by the resulting publicity.

However, in the same issue your paper very apologetically passed over a news item involving our city's mayor. The item, in fact, was one normally on the "Police Blotter," which was the subject of your editorial. Does not your editorial policy apply equally to all citizens?

Other news media found considerable newsworthiness in the event. The issue, it appears, was not that the mayor was issued a traffic summons, but that he is a firm believer in special treatment for special citizens. Apparently you concur with that belief.

The late Paul Chandler, with whom I had worked some years back, I'm sure would not have approved of such ineffective and apologetic reporting—nor of such an anemic editorial policy.

Clyde asked a rather unusual question that went something like this, "Can a diamond change its appearance over the years?" "I have a diamond with a dark inclusion in the center and it seems that the dark spot is getting larger."

To properly answer the question we must realize that this diamond was formed many years ago. Some experts seem to feel that even a million years may be a conservative figure.

At the time of conception of Clyde's diamond, its characteristics, its color, its dark spot and all other inclusions, if any, were established and have undergone no change at all since then.

Diamond is undoubtedly the most stable, most enduring, and the most lasting item used by man. Except for mans cutting of the diamond, the diamond can be said to be changeless.

So the dark spot in question is there today in the same place and is the same size as when the diamond was purchased ten years ago.

Clyde's diamond will continue to exude its brilliance and charm long after Clyde is gone. Truly a diamond belongs to the ages.

Basic Courses Offered For Eligible Adults

Wayne Community School District's Continuing Education Center for all out-of-school persons 18 years old or older will register students for the fall schedule on Monday through Thursday, Sept. 12-15, announced director Nathan C. Shaw.

The director stressed that the three ten-week schedules, which are free to all eligible adults, will start the week of Sept. 26.

The program for those who have an eighth grade education or less, is designed to allow adults to enlarge their basic education in reading, speaking, writing, listening, arithmetic, and other adult skills such as vocational upgrading, health practices, human relations, home and family living, consumer knowledge, and citizenship.

Shaw also emphasized that the courses are open to non-residents of the Wayne Community district, which covers most of Westland, and foreign-born adults who are not American citizens.

The $36,000 cost of the program will have 90 per cent of it borne by the federal government's Economic Opportunity Act with the school district paying the remaining ten per cent.

The registration will be held from 7-9 p.m. Sept. 12 through 15 at Wayne Memorial High School.

Let Sun Do It

Nature makes the most practical finish for a wood deck or for fencing. Wind and sun bleach wood beautifully, whether or not the wood has been preservative-treated. Western red cedar weathers to a prized silver shade. Douglas fir is equally pretty, but has less luster, attaining more the soft shading of fine pewter.

Mayor Freeh to Moderate Panel Session

Mayor Edwin J. Freeh, Jr., of Garden City will serve as panel moderator for a Michigan Municipal League workshop Sept. 8.

Freeh will moderate the session on "State and Federal Programs for Local Governments," one of eight to be held on the theme of the convention: "The cities — their needs, their future, their financing, these are the great, unspoken, overlooked, underplayed problems of our times."

The convention will be held Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, Sept. 7-9, in Detroit. The Municipal League is an association of state cities and villagees whose aim is the improvement of municipal government.

Adult Education To Offer Full Schedule

Hundreds of educational and recreational opportunities await Plymouth residents as the fall session of the Plymouth Adult Education and Recreation activities gets underway.

Director Herb Woolweaver said registration will take place Sept. 12 and 13, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and 7 to 9 p.m. during the evening.

Most activities begin the week of Sept. 26.

Monday evening classes include basketball for high school boys, first aid, flower arrangements, news writing, Recovery, Inc., sewing, swim club, square dance, symphony, typing I and II, and welding.

Interesting enough, news-writing will be taught by Mrs. Elizabeth McDonald, who last year retired as a regular teacher. She had taught journalism at PHS for years.

Tuesday's schedule includes ballroom dance, bridge, cake decorating, chess club, chorus, fencing, men's gym, oil painting, philosophy, sewing, slim and trim for women, and conversational Spanish.

Wednesday evening activities planned are adult band, badminton, basketball for eighth grade boys and up, business machines, basic electricity, scuba diving, shorthand I and II, and the TOPS Club (Take off pounds sensibly).

Thursday, classes include basketball, driver education, folk guitar, knitting I, modern math, senior citizen and swim class for women.

In addition, classes for high school credit are offered: If you have not received a high school diploma, you may do so, with free tuition.

Those in doubt about where they stand will be offered guidance through the high school guidance office.

Study Shows Teens Involved in Most Accidents

LANSING—Teenage drivers . . . although they comprise about seven percent of the licensed drivers in Michigan . . . were involved in 15.5 percent of the accidents, a study of more than 100,000 Michigan accidents has revealed.

The survey, a computer study conducted by the Michigan Department of State, was done on 102,598 accident reports submitted by the Michigan State Police covering a six-month period from Jan. 20 through July 20, 1966.

Secretary of State James M. Hare, who ordered the study as a prelude for "others to be conducted on accidents and related factors," said that "19 was the most dangerous accident-prone age with 6,044 persons in this age level involved.

"In all, 15,929 of the accidents studied involved 16-19-year-olds, 15.5 percent of the total. Hare feels that the total percentage of under-20 drivers in Michigan is about seven percent. In any event, teenagers get into more than their share of accidents . . . and this takes into consideration the low percentage of the 16-year-olds who were involved in only 297 accidents.

"At age 17, a sharp upward trend begins." The study revealed that 3,964 of the 17-year-olds were in accidents.

"At 18, the pattern shoots upward to 5,624. This appears to be the second most dangerous 'accident age.' And it crests at 19. At 20, it drops to 4,256. At 21, accident involvement goes down to 3,046, but rises again at ages 22 and 23.

"Starting with 29 and on through 49, totals were over 1,500. They drop below the 1,000-mark for the first time at 50. Hare noted that the number dipped to below 1,000 at 59 and below 100 accidents at 81.

"It's quite interesting that nine drivers over 90 were involved, including one who was 95."

Hare said it was difficult to assess the reasons for the "accident-involvement" frequency of the older teenagers. He did cite some general reasons:

(1) "Younger teenagers . . . 16-17-year-olds . . . are still imbued with many of the good driving habits acquired in driver training and are generally pretty careful drivers:

(2) "They often drive the family car . . . and they are cautious behind the wheel so that they don't jeopardize their use of it;

(3) "In the late teens, young drivers become more blasé . . . more conscious of speed, more 'show-offish' in front of their friends;

(4) "At 18-19, youngsters are usually graduated from high school. They are more on their own. They become more independent. And they often become more 'rebellious';

(5) "They usually have jobs and money and are able to buy cars of their own . . . often unsafe 'jalopies' which they soup up for drag racing and high-speed driving.

"The combination of the young driver and the old car can be a 'deadly' one. This, in my opinion, is one of the most important reasons for compulsory motor vehicle inspection. It will get many unsafe 'junkers' off the roads, ones with dangerous brakes, steering and other mechanical deficiencies.

(6) "At 18-19, drinking among teenagers can become a problem . . . most definitely a factor in accident-involvement. Drinking is often the unseen culprit behind much teenage bad driving although it may not be listed as the causal reason for accidents in many instances."

Madonna Lists 6 Additions To Administration, Faculty

Six new Madonna College faculty members were announced by Sister M. Dana, CSSF, president, for the fall term which opens Sept.

7. They are: Sister M. Gerard, CSSF, Sister M. Elzearia, CSSF, Sister M. Martinez, CSSF, Rev. Frank Roedel, Rev. Edward Scheuerman and Mrs. Nancy Tanger.

Sister M. Gerard is the new Dean of Students and the Director of Admissions. She received her master's degree in mathematics from the University of Notre Dame, and has done post-graduate work in Administration in Higher Education at the University of Michigan.

Prior to her appointment to Madonna College, Sister taught at Muskegon Catholic Central, Toledo Catholic Central and Ladywood High School in Livonia. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Celeskey of 11345 Hartwell, Detroit.

Sister M. Elzearia, who received her master's degree in music education from Wayne State University, is the new assistant instructor in music. She will teach a course in harmony during the coming semester.

Sister M. Martinez, who will teach Beginning French and French Civilization, received her master's degree in education with a major in French from St. Mary's College in Winona, Minnesota.

Rev. Frank Roedel, who received his doctoral degree in Theology at the Catholic University of America, will be a part-time instructor in the theology department.

Rev. Edward Scheuerman is teaching the course in Guidance and Personnel Services. Father took his bachelor's degree at Sacred Heart Seminary College. He received his master's degree in guidance and counseling from the University of Detroit, and his licentiate in Sacred Theology from the Catholic University of America.

Mrs. Nancy Tanger, former principal of Bird elementary school in Plymouth, is the new Supervisor of elementary school student teachers. She will direct the seniors doing their student teaching in the Livonia and Plymouth public schools.

Mr. Sam Bookner and Mrs. Rosina Raymond, previously part-time instructors at Madonna College, will assume full-time teaching positions in their respective fields: social studies, and speech and drama.

Farnum Supporters List $8,000 Spent

Although unopposed in his bid for a second term as Congressman from the 19th District, Democrat Billie S. Farnum's supporters spent $8,039 during the period preceding the Primary Election on Aug. 2.

Receipts of three committees totaled $11,660, according to reports filed with the Oakland County Clerk.

Farnum listed as expense for himself only travel of $72 and no receipts.

Fans for Farnum spent $3,598, reported Robert Farnum, treasurer, while receiving income of $5,500. Travel expense of $700 was one of the major cost items. Among receipts, $4,000 was derived by borrowing from the Clarkson Bank and $500 came from another committee. Friends of Farnum. Other contributors were E. L. Williams, Madison Heights, $350; J. Williams, Madison Heights, $250; E. H. Rydholm, Union Lake, $100; W. A. Williams, Dearborn, $300.

Raymond L. O'Neil, treasurer of Friends of Farnum, said his group spent $3,213, including the $500 turned over to Fans for Farnum.

Contributions amounting to $4,640 were listed only as received from "various contributors." No sources were shown. O'Neil has advised this newspaper he will supply a list of the donors.

Arlene Wilson, treasurer of the Executive Committee, Farnum for Congress, noted that her committee spent $1,156 and had receipts of $2,220.

Contributors to this committee were Hickman Price, Ann Arbor, $100; Dr. Fred Henig, Detroit, $100; Jim Boling, Washington, $50; S. V. Sekles, Pontiac, $200; R. L. Svoboda, Farmington, $100; and Albert Lee, Detroit, $150.

WSU Journalism Head Honored in Australia

An honor usually given to an Australian has been conferred on a Wayne State University faculty member.

Professor W. Sprague Holden, 28150 Westbrook, Farmington, has been chosen to deliver the 29th Arthur Norman Smith Memorial Lecture in Journalism at the University of Melbourne, in Melbourne, Australia.

The Arthur Norman Smith Lectureship was established in 1936 in honor of a distinguished Australian political journalist who, in 1910, was a founding member of the Australian Journalists' Association. Prof. Holden is only the third American to be honored with the lectureship. The other two Americans were C. Hartley Gratjan in 1937 and C. Yates McDaniel in 1942.

STRIKING OIL without drilling is Wendell Smith, 14302 Shadywood Drive, Plymouth, who is state president of the Michigan Jaycees. Wendell received a credit card worth 3,500 gallons of premium gasoline from a well-known oil company which also made a contribution to the Michigan Jaycee Foundation. Wendell will use the gasoline when making official visits to the 237 chapters throughout the state.

City Opens Annexation Campaign

The City of Farmington has opened its campaign to annex more than 2,000 acres of Farmington Township with a letter to all residents of the affected areas.

Signed by City Manager John Dinan the letter states that this will be the first of "several" communications made by the City to acquaint the residents with facts and aspects of becoming a part of the City.

"It is our intention that every resident be fully informed on services provided by the City; assessing procedures; property taxes; zoning and land use; sewer and water installation costs and rates; fire insurance rates and the economic potential of these annexation areas becoming a part of the City of Farmington.

The letter, which carried a reminder to register by Oct. 10 in order to be able to vote, also contained a map of the areas the City has filed to annex.

"Our next communication shall pertain to the City of Farmington's government, services, physical makeup and financial status," the letter asserted.

South American Horse Surprises with Victory

DRC Plans 4 Rich Holiday Races

Four major Handicaps will feature the biggest weekend racing program of the year in Michigan turf circles.

The Labor Day weekend at the Detroit Race Course will see the $15,000 Test Purse and the $12,500 Old Hat Handicap contested on Saturday, with the $25,000 Labor Day Handicap and the $7,500 Union Special scheduled for Monday.

Hopton has carded 10 race programs on Saturday and Labor Day. Post time on both days will be 2 p.m.

The Labor Day weekend traditionally highlights the racing calendar in Michigan and DRC President Dale Shaffer anticipates the season's top turnouts for the two programs.

"We are confident we have some exceptionally fine racing to offer the fans," Shaffer said. "The excellent purses we are able to offer this season has permitted us to attract a number of outstanding horses from racing centers like Chicago, Atlantic City, New York and Rockingham Park."

The Old Hat Handicap, named for C. C. Conrad's brilliant mare which won the 1965 Michigan Mile, has drawn 17 nominations including Tampa, the South American star who was a DRC winner three weeks ago; Dave Shaer's highly-regarded Treasure Chest; Mrs. Horatio Luro's Cerensa and the M. H. Van Berg entry of Streak of Luck and Miss Sun Tan.

The Test Purse, for three-year-olds and up at a mile and one-sixteenth, has attracted 16 nominees. They include another South American star trained by Arnold Winick, Potential. Potential was the upset winner in the $20,000 Fancy Flyer Handicap last week at the DRC.

The Labor Day Handicap will be raced at a mile and one-eighth and has attracted 19 nominees. It was two favorites of DRC fans and one invading star who furnished the excitement of last Saturday's excellent card.

Optimists 'Come Alive'; Roar On To State Crown

They're planning a party on Sept. 19 at Arbor Lill restaurant in Plymouth. It'll be to toast a group of teenagers who proved that they "could come back" once they made up their minds to the task at hand.

Specifically, they're the Plymouth Optimists baseball team, Michigan's newly crowned state Class D champs.

The Optimists took the title at Jackson by first rallying to down Wyandotte, 5-4, in the semifinals and then nosing out Pontiac, 2-1, in the title encounter.

Thus was culminated what had appeared to be a so-so season during the regular Greater Livonia Class D campaign when the Optimists finished with a record of seven wins and five losses.

"We knew that the team had the material to do better," says Cliff Burpo, the Optimists manager who works at Burroughs.

"So before we went into the 'D' playoffs, we sat down and talked to the boys. Some of the other parents also helped by individual conferences with the players.

"The boys seemed to realize that we were telling them the truth. And when we got started in the playoffs, we were an all together different team."

One of the big reasons for the Optimists' championship march was Jack Robertson, a pitcher from Plymouth High School. Robertson turned "iron-man" in the various phases of the playoffs.

He worked twice within three days in the Livonia "D" finals. Then in the regionals and sectionals, played on successive days, it was Robertson who pitched—and won—in both games.

He was back on the mound against Wyandotte and when Gary Robinson, who was picked up from the Livonia Elks for the state meet faltered in the last inning against Pontiac, it was Robertson who rushed forth to get the final two outs and bring the title to Plymouth for the first time.

In the Wyandotte game, Robertson was touched for four unearned runs in the fourth inning. But back came the Optimists—like true champs.

In the fifth Plymouth scored twice on an error which gave John Adams life, a single by Richard Dye, a walk to Ron Ross and Jim Arnold's double.

Plymouth still trailed, 4-2, coming to bat in the last of the seventh (final) inning. After Jim Carter was safe on an error, Dyer singled and Ross walked. Ron Carlson then struck with a game-winning double.

With Robinson hurling masterfully, in the game with Pontiac, the Optimists scored their first run in the fourth when Bida walked, stole second and came around on Carlson's single.

It was 1-1 in the top of the seventh when walks to John Adams, Mike Lockwood, Robertson and Robinson produced the payoff run and the state title.

Bengal Fan Clubs Eye 'King Tiger'

It's election time for the Tigers' various fan clubs.

They're selecting "King Tiger" for 1966, to be crowned at the sixth annual Fan Club Day at Tiger Stadium, Saturday, Sept. 17, when the Tigers will be playing the Cleveland Indians at 1:15.

Ballots for four choices for "King Tiger" are being mailed to members of the Tiger Fan Club Association by Diane Taylor, president of the group. They are to be returned by Sept. 6 for tabulation.

Officials of the Association will honor "King Tiger" and the three runners-up in the voting at the pre-game ceremonies on Fan Club Day.

Members of all fan clubs certified as affiliates of the association will be guests of the Tigers at the game. They will be admitted free upon presentation of their fan club membership cards at Gate No. 3 that day.

Tigers Plan Family Night On Sept. 5

A Labor Day two-night doubleheader and another Family Night will swing open the September schedule at Tiger Stadium, with the Tigers playing the Washington Senators both nights.

The Labor Day two-nighter Sept. 5 is the first of 13 home dates for the Tigers during the month, with two more contests Oct. 1-2 winding up the season. Washington, Minnesota, Cleveland, California and Kansas City will visit Tiger Stadium in that order, with nine night games among the attractions.

The final Family Night of 1966 will match the Tigers and Senators on Wednesday, Sept. 7. Twenty-four sections of the Upper Deck will be reserved for family groups at bargain rates. Dad will pay the regular $2.25 admission but Mom and the children will be admitted for 50 cents each.

One more Ladies' Day and one more Retirees Day also remain on the schedule. The Tigers will try to get back on the Ladies Day winning track against the California Angels Sept. 22. After winning three straight 1966 Ladies Day engagements for a six-season mark of 20-3, they skidded to an 8-2 loss against Boston Aug. 6.

On the last Retirees Day of the season, with the Tigers playing the Cleveland Indians Sept. 17, Senior Citizens will be admitted to the grandstand for 50 cents.

Sponsor Cycle Meet

The Iron Mustangs Motorcycle Club of Detroit will hold an overnight scrambles and poker run meet, Sept. 3 and 4, at Mustang Acres near Brighton.

Activities begin Saturday at twilight with the poker run. The scrambles races will start promptly at 2 p.m. on Sunday afternoon. Mustang Acres is located one mile northwest of Brighton off U.S. 16.

THE THUNDERING PACK: Here's where the action quickens and the tension increases as a Handicap field makes the final turn and begins the stretch drive at the Detroit Race Course. It is Eladio (No. 6 with stars on the jockey's sleeves) on the outside which collared Jet Avenger (No. 3) in the drive to win. Whisper Jet finished second and Jet Avenger third.

Potential 'There', Says Glenn Coach

"We could be real good... or we may flop..."

"I rather think the first will prevail."

The man doing the talking was football coach Bob Lusk at John Glenn High School.

This is Glenn's third year of grid operations and Lusk has been there from the inception. His teams have posted records of 6-3 and 5-3-1—very outstanding for a fledgling school.

As for 1966? "We have the potential to have a very fine team here," said Lusk as he conducted the opening practice Monday.

"No, I don't think we'll be a title contender in the Northwest League, but we'll be up there."

"I should also think that the days when Glenn has suffered some bad losses in football are over..."

Lusk, who in 1966 played one season as a center and linebacker with the Detroit Lions, then paused.

"But you never know about these high school kids. They could fall flat, too."

Unlike Harry Gilmer, the present Lions' coach who prefers a one-quarterback system, Lusk is going for two men at the spot this season.

"We will alternate Mike Mahakian and Mark Stracka. Both are three-year veterans."

"Each can run and pass. In addition, we like to call the plays from the bench (something the Lions have tried more and more) and with two such fine boys, it will work out well for us."

Glenn should have one of the bigger lines in the area this fall.

There's tackle Mike Hill who scales 235 pounds and his running mate on the other side, Russ Griggs, who checks in at 230.

Both the guards, Paul Felan and Larry Walsh are three-year players and boast respective weights of 210 and 190 pounds.

Dennis Jackson, another three-year man, has picked up 30 pounds in 12 months and will carry 198 pounds at his end position.

Mike Robinson, the center, goes at 175.

To go along with Mahakian and Stracka in the backfield, Lusk will have two experienced performers in Ron Gainer at full and Mike Knight at half.

In all, there are 18 lettermen returning to Lusk, who came to Glenn from Lincoln Park high where he turned out several powerful teams from 1958-1963.

Lincoln Park's loss truly was Glenn's gain — on the gridiron.

Crown John Kowall Farmington CC Champ

Farmington Country Club's men's club championship tournament came to a close with the presentation of trophies on the 18th green. This year's champion is John Kowall, 29192 Wellington Road, Farmington, Garry Bryn, of 28180 Aranel, Farmington, was runner-up and Dr. Ray Schroeder, 32484 Chesterbrook, Farmington, was the low net winner.

Michigan State rated among the nation's top ten collegiate football teams 11 times during the 1950-65 era.

LUCKY BATBOY is Mark Hobson of the Detroit Tigers who is flanked by Diane Taylor (left) and Carol Dixon, two members of the Hobson fan club. Mark hails from Garden City and attended Franklin High School. When the season ends for a tour of duty with the Marines.

Tiger Batboy Has Fan Club of Own

Imagine a Fan Club for a major league baseball team's bat boy!

Well, Mark Hobson, who has served the Detroit Tigers for the last two years, has such a following.

Naturally, this delights the young man from Garden City who attended Franklin High School.

Mark found his way into the Tiger clubhouse and dugout after finding out that he "just wasn't good enough" to make the baseball team at Franklin.

"So, I stayed with baseball by working with the Tigers," declared Hobson.

There are many more chores for a batboy than just gathering in the bats during a game or running out to the bullpen to recover a relief pitcher's jacket.

The work begins hours before a game in the clubhouse. Batboys must help shine shoes, straighten out uniforms, make certain

6 Lettermen Lead Spartans In Playing Time

EAST LANSING—The bulk of the experience on Michigan State's 1966 football squad rides with six veteran senior players who've each won a pair of varsity letters.

Gene Washington easily is the leader. The brilliant pass receiver from La Porte, Texas, has played 531 minutes out of a possible 1,140 over the 1964 and 1965 seasons, rarely missing an offensive sequence.

Next in line is tackle Jerry West of Durand with 435, followed by co-captain and roverback George Webster of Anderson, S. C., 405; co-captain and halfback Clinton Jones of Cleveland, 400; end Bubba Smith of Beaumont, Texas, 393, and linebacker Charlie Thornhill of Roanoke, Va., 315.

Thurston Star Spins Shutout

Vic Pilar, hero of Thurston high school's baseball team which last spring won the Greater Livonia-Observers invitational championship, is still making some big headlines.

Pilar pitched for Detroit A. and D. to beat Louisville, 2-0, in the opener of the National Federation Class D tournament last Sunday.

And, when the game is over, there's more work — cleaning up, straightening up, etc.

Hobson's average day runs over 12 hours at Tiger Stadium, so let nobody say the "hours are short."

This will be Mark's last year as Tiger batboy. When the season ends, he'll enter the Marine Corps.

Little League Football Set at East High

Over the opposition of Dr. E. J. O'Leary, Superintendent of Schools, the Garden City Board of Education granted permission for the use of East High School athletic stadium to the Western Suburban Football League on eight Sundays during the coming season.

"The National High School Athletic association and many other organizations concerned with youth are opposed to football for children of this age group," Dr. O'Leary explained, "and I must go along with them."

None of the Board went with him — and the approval was granted. Meanwhile, the Board also approved a new Press Box for the East Stadium and it will be in use for the regular high school season.

Ways to Beat Moths

Moths can be kept from valuable clothing by following these three simple steps:
 1. Kill all moths. The little yellowish variety with about a half-inch wingspan is the dangerous type.
 2. Get rid of moth eggs by airing and cleaning all clothes.
 3. Store clothes in a closet lined with aromatic red cedar, whose fragrance repels moths.

Greenhouse Can Be Help To Gardeners

Gardeners propagating a variety of plants need small green houses to provide warm, humid conditions with plentiful light year round. According to a Pennsylvania State University correspondence course on home greenhouses there are two basic types: the lean-to or attached, and the free standing.

The lean-to is built against existing structure, but the free standing is separate. Selection depends on your home structure and whether you use your home furnace for heat.

Artificial heat must be provided. Hot air, steam and hot water are some ways to distribute heat. Selection of heating system depends on size of greenhouse, fuels available, cost and personal preference.

To learn small greenhouse construction and management, study the Penn State course. You enroll by sending your name and address with $1.75 to Home Greenhouse, Box 5000, University Park, Pennsylvania 16802.

On the Lawn

With Larry Lawrence
 I can't remember a hotter summer, can you? Records have been broken all across the country, not only for maximum readings but for long spells of broiling day-after-day heat without relief. All of which has been tough on lawns as well as people.

The watering picture has varied considerably from place to place, being somewhat improved in the northeast but worse in parts of the midwest.

But even where it has been possible to use a sprinkler regularly, grass has had a hard time. Like mad dogs and Englishmen, a lawn stays out in the noonday sun regardless.

One result of the heat has been to provide a searing test of the various grass varieties. Some have just burned right up. Others have struggled along in a very weakened condition. One, Windsor, has actually seemed to thrive on the heat.

It was only three years ago that blends of Windsor were made generally available, and this has been the first really long spell of record breaking temperatures since then.

And as a result of its performance this summer I expect it will be more widely used than ever. Best time to plant it, of course, is from mid-August to the end of September, the naturally right time for improving any lawn.

For longest life and best appearance, corners of planter boxes should be mitered, and glued as well as nailed.

NEW TRACTOR, which was purchased by the City of Plymouth for the Department of Public Works, has the attention of City Manager Richard Blodgett and DPW Supt. Kenneth Vorgas. The all-purpose vehicle received considerable attention from members of the City Commission recently before it was finally determined that it fulfilled all specifications.

New Homes Delivered In Blanket Guarantees

Most shoppers will look for a written guarantee of perfection before they buy anything from a fountain pen to a car. But when a family buys a new home — probably the most expensive and important purchase of their lives — they rarely ask for guarantees on anything but the appliances.

The new homeowner usually doesn't find out how incomplete his protection is unless the basement springs a leak, a wall starts to crack, or one of the thousands of parts in his house breaks down. By then it may be too late.

Until just a few years ago, most builders would offer only short-term guarantees on a few construction defects. The guarantees usually lasted only until the developer finished the colony and moved on.

In recent years, governmental regulations and voluntary codes have provided home buyers with more protection. According to Practical Builder, a light construction trade publication, 76 percent of the home builders offer warranties against all major structural defects.

The blanket coverage lasts from one to five years, but most of the construction materials are guaranteed by their manufacturers for much longer periods.

At the top of the list of building products with long-term guarantees is the roofing. Heavyweight asphalt shingle is one of the few housing materials which offers assurance that it will last as long as the average mortgage — up to 25 years. Self-sealing types of these asphalt shingles bear the Underwriters' Laboratories label for wind resistance.

Shorter periods of protection cover most other building materials. Typical guarantees of performance and workmanship listed by Practical Builder include:

Furnace 10 to 25 years
 Heating System 1 to 10 years
 Hot Water Heater 5 to 10 years
 Lighting Fixtures... 1 year
 Plumbing Fixtures 1 year
 Air Conditioner 1 to 5 years
 Appliances 1 to 5 years

Whether you are buying a new home or remodeling an older one, it is important to keep a list of the products and appliances used with the guarantee period for each.

Written certificates can be saved together inside a folder, while the cover of the folder could list the date on which each warranty is due to expire.

When any part of your new home shows the slightest sign of defect or malfunction, be sure to notify the builder and manufacturer immediately. If you put it off, the guarantee may expire and delaying repairs also may lead to further damage and additional expense.

Offers Tips For Moving Of Evergreens

"The best time to plant a tree is when the customer has the money" is a popular saying among nurserymen and is followed generally over the country.

This seemingly humorous statement makes sense to the tree salesman but the homeowner should know that there is a best time for planting, according to Bob Gorsline, Milford nurseryman.

Evergreens with good root systems may be moved anytime after the new growth has matured. After late August or Sept. 1, evergreens—pine, spruce, fir, yews and juniper—should move easily and successfully.

Deciduous trees should not be moved during the growing season but may be transplanted successfully after the leaves begin to drop in the fall.

In the spring they should be moved before new growth starts. Wild trees that have never been moved are practically worthless because they do not have a compact root system that can be dug successfully.

A compact root system is developed in the nursery over several years by moving the tree repeatedly and pruning the roots.

Shed Dungeon Look From Laundry Room

Is your laundry room dreary or cheery? A room that looks like a dungeon or, at best, like a grim reminder of an unpleasant task still undone can make laundry chores more dismal than they need be.

It is a simple matter to convert a part of the basement, an unused pantry or some other convenient spot into a bright and well-organized workshop for processing the family wash.

Good lighting, cheerful surroundings, adequate wiring, ample storage space for laundry aids, plenty of work surface for clothes sorting, and easy-to-clean floors and walls all help to make laundering a more pleasant task.

The difference between an attractive laundry room and a dreary one is often in its "finished" appearance.

Bare masonry walls or uncovered studs or joists only serve to project a makeshift atmosphere.

When paneling walls, be sure to use a material that is easy to clean and is not bothered by high humidity conditions, such as plastic-coated hardboard.

Plan Your New Kitchen Efficiently

When planning your kitchen, place major appliances in areas where they can operate at maximum efficiency.

Don't, for instance, locate a refrigerator-freezer next to a clothes dryer or where it will be hit by direct sunlight for long periods of time.

By exposing it to heat, you may be forcing the appliance to work extra hard to keep at their prescribed degree of coldness.

In the days before no-frost refrigerator-freezers, other efficiency drains could occur.

Excess frost on manually-defrosted units often made the appliance work hard to stay cold.

With no-frost models, which do not permit frost to form in either the freezer or refrigerator compartments, this is never a problem.

Absence of frost, together with precise temperature wall foam insulation, make it easier for modern refrigerator-freezers to operate at peak efficiency.

Ease of operation means that power consumption—and costs—are also kept down.

Keep Ironer Shoe, Roll Cover Clean

Unless an electric ironer is kept scrupulously clean, starch, scorch, and dye spots—left on the metal shoe and roll cover from previous ironings—are likely to rub off on damp laundry.

So wipe the metal shoe with a sudsy cloth as soon as it cools off after each use.

Follow up with a clean damp cloth, then polish it with a dry cloth.

Also, launder the roll cover as soon as it shows soil.

Better still, keep a few spare covers on hand so there will always be a fresh supply to draw from when you sit down to iron.

Drain Post Footings

Avoid contact between wood and concrete unless you have bought pressure-treated lumber. Concrete holds moisture, encouraging decay. Fence posts are better set in sand and gravel, which drains well. Posts holding patio roof structures may be mounted over paving using post anchors.

New Methods Teach Girls How to Sew

Just about every 4-H girl at some time or another has tried her hand at sewing, observed Miss Mary Ann Dean, home economist of the National 4-H Service Committee. And in the process a sewing machine has been used.

"The difference between turning out a garment with ease or with difficulty," said Miss Dean, "is often the difference between knowing and not knowing how to use the sewing machine."

New manuals explaining Your Sewing Machine have just been published by The Singer Company for 4-H clothing leaders and members. For the last 12 years, Singer has sponsored the national 4-H clothing leader course on proper use of the sewing machine.

Special attention is given to teaching beginners from 9 to 11 years old. Mothers are urged to observe the progress made by their young daughters in the club project so that they will confidently permit them to use the precious sewing machine. More experienced 4-H members serve as junior leaders and help younger members learn the basic steps in using a sewing machine at home.

"Sewing requires far more than manual dexterity; it demands technical knowledge and discipline to progress step by step toward a goal," states the leaders' manual.

It is this knowledge and discipline, points out Miss Dean, that has enabled thousands of 4-H girls to make and model prize-winning ensembles and to help refurbish their homes with new curtains, draperies, slip covers, pillows and other decorator items.

NOW YOU SEE IT . . . Some magical effects are done by the flick of the wrist. Here's a tricky development by the role of the comely prestidigitator, draws attention to the appearing and disappearing headlamps on the CAMARO (rhymes with arrow) Super Sport models. When the lights are turned on, a portion of the grille covering the lights opens up. When the lights are turned off, a small motor closes the partial grille.

Crowley's Joins Security Bank Charge Plan

Crowley, Milner & Company, the 57-year-old Detroit Department store, will become a member store of Security Bank and Trust Company Charge Plan effective September 1st.

This important step makes Crowley's one of the first major department stores in the country to join a bank operated charge plan.

Robert E. Winkel, President of Crowley's, stated, "The large growth in our charge account program, which developed after we opened our new Mall Stores in Macomb and Livonia necessitated the use of electronic computer billing to maintain a high level of credit service."

"We chose the Security Bank and Trust Company at Lincoln Park because of the over 13 years experience they have had in operating a retail charge account plan and their extensive electronic computer billing services."

Borman Sales, Earnings Are at Record High

Borman Food Stores, Inc., reports record sales and earnings for the second quarter of this fiscal year.

Consolidated sales for this quarter, which ended July 30, 1966, were up 11.5 per cent at $62,720,000 compared to $56,257,000 for the same quarter a year ago.

Net income was up 9.2 per cent at $1,418,000 equivalent to 51 cents per share on 2,767,628 shares outstanding, after provision of $988,000 for estimated federal income taxes, compared with $1,299,000 or 47 cents per share last year.

Sales and earnings for the six-month period ended July 30, 1966 also reached records compared with similar six-month periods. Sales were $124,037,000 compared to $108,690,000 for the comparable period last year.

Six-month earnings were $2,223,000 or 80 cents per share after provisions of $1,570,000 for federal income taxes. This compares with $2,160,000 or 78 cents per share for the same six-month period a year ago.

An estimated 34 per cent of Michigan public school teachers hold master's or doctor's degrees.

Shop Teacher Completes Summer Course

An industrial arts teacher at Marshall Junior High School in Westland, Kenneth Heim, was one of 30 who recently completed a course at the State University College, Oswego, N.Y.

Heim was among industrial arts teachers from all over the country who were selected to be in the Oswego institute under the National Defense Education Act. More than 800 applied for appointments to the industrial arts institute.

During the program which lasted from July 3 through last Friday, the teachers visited selected industries in several states as well as developed curriculum in specialized industrial arts areas for use in their own schools.

Heim has a bachelor's degree from Northern Michigan University and a master's degree from University of Michigan.

Orchestra Slates Open Rehearsals

Four open rehearsals will be held by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra during its forthcoming subscription season in Ford Auditorium.

Proceeds will benefit the Orchestra musicians' supplemental pension fund.

Soloists at the special rehearsals will be pianist Malcolm Frager on Oct. 5, Orchestra members oboist Arno Mariotti and percussionist Robert Pangborn on Dec. 28, and violinist Charles Treger on Feb. 8. The final open rehearsal, on April 5, will include preparation for the world premiere of a work by Paul Creston, on commission from the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Open rehearsals begin at 2 p.m. in Ford Auditorium. Tickets are $1.50 each or $5 for the series and mail orders are now being accepted at Ford Auditorium box office.

Birmingham Art Festival Slated

Preliminary activity for Festival 10, the Birmingham Arts Festival, picked up this week as artists and craftsmen submitted their works for the forthcoming art market.

Thurber Play Slated at Barn

With tongue in cheek, James Thurber wrote the story of a bumbling king whose daughter, the lovely, little princess was ill and no one could find out what ailed her—not even the royal wisemen. They thought she was yearning for a different kind of tart which she loved and they sent all over the world for every kind of tart but none of them helped. It was a lowly member of the court who found out what would make the princess well.

The dramatic version of this story will unfold on the stage of the Farmington Players' Barn Sept. 17, 24 and Oct. 1 at 1 and 3 p.m.

Featured as the king is Katherine Kormmesser and as her wisemen, Joanne Kaman as the lord high chamberlain; Perle Briggs as the royal wizard and Louise Kirk as the royal mathematician. Tickets may be reserved by calling Fran Kezerta at 626-2633.

Carmen L. DelliQuadri of Houghton, a member of the faculty at Michigan Technological University, is the only member of the State Board of Education from the Upper

Farmington Players Set Ticket Sales

Due to a story released by the Farmington Players Publicity within the past few weeks, there has reigned much confusion about the number of shows Players patrons will be able to see for the price of a season ticket.

Ticket Chairman Harry Kezerta reports that many calls have been received to request season tickets which will be available Sept. 1, and that the previous story resulted in a mis-understanding.

The season tickets will include only the usual three productions for the price of $4 for Fridays and Sundays and $5 for Saturdays. With the purchase of a season ticket, patrons will be able to purchase a ticket for "Othello" at $1. The usual Box Office prices of $1.50 per ticket for Fridays and Sundays and $2 for Saturdays are still in effect for all four of the major productions for this coming season. "Othello" will play four performances, Oct. 7, 8, 14, 15 for this coming season.

JOSEPH PAPP, who adapted "Othello" for the upcoming Farmington Players production will appear in the title role. The play opens Oct. 7 in the Players Barn on 12 Mile Rd.

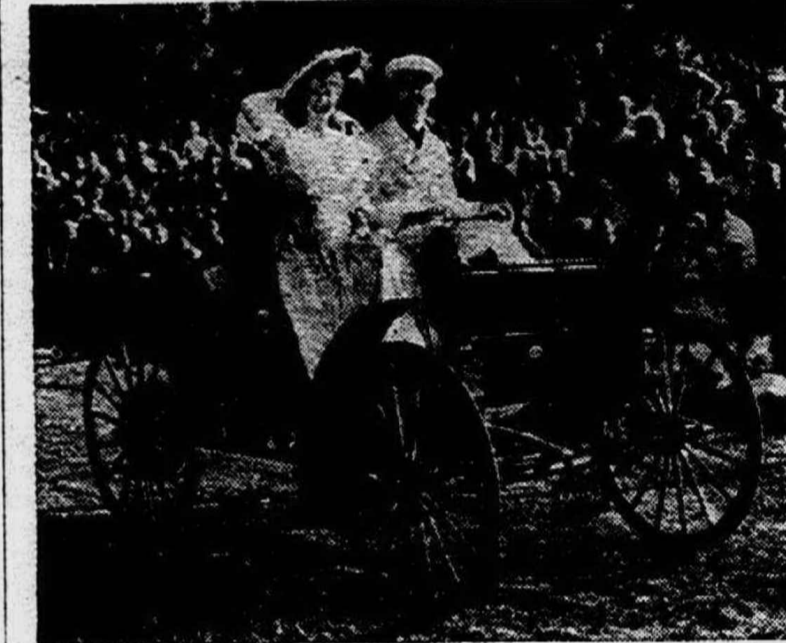

Livonia Jaycees To Host City Hole-in-One

The Livonia Jaycees have announced they will host a citywide hole-in-one contest, Sept. 16, 17 and 18. Any person who can swing a golf club is invited to attend this event and try their skill at winning one of the many prizes being donated by the merchants around town.

The cost of the event is three (3) shots for a dollar with all monies received going for the many community wide projects that the Jaycees carry out each year.

These projects include various programs for youth and sports, community development and service projects, Christmas activities for underprivileged children, mental health and retardation programs, scholarships and many other worthy projects, that the Jaycees can serve a need.

The event will be held at the Oasis Driving Range, located at Five Mile Road at Eckles Road, Plymouth. Starting at 10 a.m. each day and continuous till closing.

Old Car Festival Draws Hundreds

The colorful panorama of the early days of motoring in America will be reborn at Greenfield Village during the Old Car Festival, Sept. 10-11.

More than 300 automobiles, all built before 1927, will be brought to the Village from 17 states, the District of Columbia and Canada. Almost every make and description of car from the pioneer years of motoring will be judged for authenticity and beauty of restoration.

Visitors to the Village, and camera fans in particular, will have a field day snapping pictures and taking movies of the oldtimers in action. Steam, electricity and gasoline will provide the power for the cars, many of whose drivers will be dressed in costumes reflective of the era of the cars. Bustles, dusters, flapper dresses, goggles and gauntlets will reappear along with the revival of automotive names of the past like Winston, Hupmobile, Duryea, Franklin and many others.

The picturesque setting of the 260-acre outdoor museum with its many historic homes and shops lends itself ideally to this biggest of all antique automobile events.

Festival will be filled with competition between the entrants. Tests of skill in such art as cranking, starting, stopping, slow-driving, and balloon breaking will challenge the owners of the antiques.

A special feature of the Festival will be performed producing two children's shows which are entirely separate from the regular season. "Many Moons" which is done entirely by female Players and "Alice in Wonderland" which will be done by Hope Nahstoll's children.

Tickets for these two shows are priced at $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. The dates for these shows are as follows: "Alice", 7:30 p.m., Sept. 16, 23, 30, also 11 a.m., Sept. 17, 24 and Oct. 1. "Many Moons", 1 p.m. and 3 p.m., Sept. 17, 24 and Oct. 1. Tickets may be had in advance of the performances by calling either Fran or Henry Kezerta at 626-2633.

The three major productions which comprise the season ticket package are "Never Too Late," a comedy which will play three week-ends opening Nov. 18. "Death of a Salesman" also playing three week-ends opening Feb. 17, and finally another comedy "Shot in the Dark" opening April 28 for the last three week-end dates of the season.

AAUW Gals Seek Old Books

Do you have any books stashed away in a closet, attic, or garage just gathering dust? It happens in the best of families. Children grow up, interests change, new books come on the market. Inevitably some of your old favorites end up in storage.

Let's face it — many of these books have little chance of appearing on the family book shelf again. Why not let someone else enjoy them?

At the present time, members of the Farmington AAUW are busy collecting an assortment of reading material for their annual Used Book Sale scheduled for Sept. 29, 30, and Oct. 1.

They will be glad to call at your home. By phoning Mrs. David Mills, 474-2775, or Mrs. R. M. Grinager, 474-8255, you can bring pickup service to your door. Or if you like, you may deposit your books in a special box at the Farmington Library.

This sale of used books has become a popular event in the community. The selection of books is varied and prices are kept to a minimum. Proceeds from the sale are donated to the Farmington Library, and a fund set up by the American Association of University Women to provide financial aid to women continuing their graduate studies.

Here is an opportunity to help others and yourself at the same time.

Theatre Guild Opens Season

The new season for the Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford will swing into action with its annual Open-House at 8:00 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 8, at the Newburg Hall, located at Newburg Road and Ann Arbor Trail.

The Open-House will be highlighted by a performance of "A Marriage Proposal," the classical comedy by Anton Chekov. This one-act farce is popular and funny. The story tells of the exasperating efforts of a nervous and excitable gentleman who starts to propose to an attractive young neighbor woman, but becomes involved in a tremendous quarrel over boundary lines. The cast includes stage veterans Bev Gotch, Howard Egan and Jim Wotring. The latter directs the lively production.

Also in the evening's events will be brief comments on the coming Guild plays, which will open with the lauded musical "Oliver." This late November show will be followed by "Come Back Little Sheba" and "A Shot In The Dark."

Try-outs for "Oliver" will be held Sept. 11th at 2:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m. Casting call is open to the public at the Newburg Hall.

An extra bonus has been voted for Subscription Members this year. A saving of 25% over previous years has reduced the price of this special membership to $4.50 single and $9.00 per couple. Subscription members are admitted free to all three major productions and the children's show. They also are invited to Guild social events.

In a further move to curb inflation, the new Board of Directors has reduced the Junior Guild annual fee to $3. This group includes members under age 21.

Pistons Book 15 Pre-Season Exhibitions

A 15-game pre-season schedule, which features five contests in Michigan, has been announced by the Detroit Pistons.

The Pistons will square off with the new Chicago Bulls six times, the New York Knicks four, the St. Louis Hawks three and the Baltimore Bullets twice in preparing for their 1966-67 regular season opener at Cincinnati, Oct. 15.

The tuneup slate begins on Sept. 22 against the St. Louis Hawks in Springfield, Ill., and finishes on Oct. 12 against Chicago in the Windy City.

In between, the schedule will include Michigan visits to Holland on Sept. 29 against Chicago, to Lansing on Oct. 4 against Baltimore, to Ypsilanti on Oct. 5 against New York, to Bay City on Oct. 6 against New York and to Flint on Oct. 10 against Chicago.

Never before have the Pistons played so many times in upstate Michigan cities in a single year.

"This is along with our wishes to make the Pistons a state-wide team," declared General Manager Edwin E. Coil.

The Pistons start training under coach Dave DeBusschere at the St. Clair (Mich.) High School on Sept. 12.

State Fair Is Next Date For Corsairs

A band comprised of students at North Farmington High School will appear at the Battle of the Bands Sept. 2 at the Michigan State Fair. The event begins at 2:30 p.m.

The Corsairs were chosen from among 95 entries to compete. Finalists were picked on the basis of musical ability, vocalizing, and showmanship. The local group will compete against 25 other bands for honors.

Formed more than a year and a half ago, the group has played at local functions, including the FATAAC dances, Northville Tavern, the Birmingham Teen Center and school dances.

Members of the group are: Bob Gilmore, Jack Threlkeld, Dave Negri, Buzz Overfield, and Greg Konke.

Players Open Oct. 22

The Nankin Mills Players will open their 1966-67 season with a production of "Night of January 16th" at the John Glenn High School, Oct. 22 through 25. Producer-director Robert Knowles of 32856 Merritt Dr., Garden City, will be assisted by his wife, Peg, and Mrs. Jacquie Cathey of 19167 Wakenden Ave., Redford Township.

Wally Roberts GOING UP' CURTAIN

Who's afraid to go and see the silver screen's boldest foot forward in many a year: "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" Certainly not the movie-going public who for too many years have been wrongly judged as having the mentality of a pre-teenager. Throughout the Detroit area and the nation, moviegoers have been attending this latest Burton-Taylor movie in excessive numbers.

Even though "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf" is fraught with cryptic lines of dialogue, the bold, bare frankness of the language used throughout gains the major share of attention. In fact, nervous laughter interrupts passages of the movie that should be taken in thoughtful silence. "Tobacco Road" had the same problem.

Most of the real impact of this controversial movie comes as you review what Edward Albee was really trying to say. Was he really presenting the alcoholic fumbling of a frustrated married couple? Was he telling a soap-operaish story of what happens when a childless couple encounter a number of bitter disappointments in their marital experience?

Old Wally feels that Albee was shooting for a larger canvass. The marriage skirmish and resultant battles are interesting, but only serve for more symbolic, broader provocative image.

Albee's original title for the play was "Exorcism." For years folks have been trying to exorcise or drive an evil spirit out or away from human beings. In Chafesky's "Tenth Man," the expulsion of an evil spirit is done by an elaborate Jewish ritual.

"Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf" is Albee's plea for all of us to drive the evil, corrupt, rotten places out of our present "sick" society. If you saw the stage version at the Fisher, the play concludes pessimistically that society is too sick to recover.

The movie version with its quick closeup of George and Martha's handclasp gives us a final symbol of togetherness and hope for the future. The film says in effect, we've had a rough night with our shocking games and fun, but let's see what tomorrow brings and maybe we'll pull through. I'll buy that ray of hope approach.

All in all, the movie version of "Who's Afraid" is a more compact, thought-provoking presentation. The stage version lasted over three hours. The extra verbiage did little to clarify the problem. When you promote nihilism, stripping emotions bare, and showing how brutal we are as individuals, you don't need an extra hour of such mental flogging.

The world is in a terrible state of chaos. Sean O'Casey, the Irish sage, said this in his plays back 50 years ago. Albee is saying it again in this 1966 movie, "Who's Afraid."

When are we going to understand and recognize the difference between truth and illusion? To remove the loneliness so rampant in too many lives? To eliminate the senselessness of war? To truly love people instead of hating them?

Albee feels the vicious cycle will continue. Let's hope a few martyrs have been jolted out of their routine existence long enough to throw a monkey wrench into that "cycle."

Who knows, someday we might not be afraid of what tomorrow may bring and say what we really think all the time instead of what we think people want us to say.

Esch Urges Voters Rap Dem Policies

Keynoting the Lenawee County Republican Convention in Adrian, Rep. Marvin L. Esch, Republican candidate for United States Congress, called upon all voters to protest when they go to the polls in November.

Esch remarked that the incumbent Democratic congressman has complained in Howell, that persons in the Second District were protesting too much.

"We have every right to protest," Esch declared, "when the Administration talks of sending three quarters of a million men into Viet Nam, and at the same time presents no clear-cut goal in that war, nor does anything on its own to prevent our allies from trading with the enemy."

Special Coins At Fall Festival

A special commemorative coin will be issued by National Bank of Detroit as part of its participation in the Plymouth Fall Festival.

The souvenir coins will be distributed at the NBD Plymouth Office on Main Street and at the Bank's Festival Wagon. In addition, the Bank is planning two days of historical displays on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 8-9.

section of Michigan — one that will draw as many as 15,000 or more people for the big windup on Sunday.

Articles made by the handicapped, under the auspices of the Occupational Therapy Department of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults Inc., will be on the shelves of the Rotary Ann booth.

Assisting in the sale of the items will be Mrs. Millah Nikkel, of Dearborn, supervisor of the Michigan Society's Occupational Therapy Department.

The booth will feature such items as aprons, linen sets, knitted articles, baby clothes, ceramics, jewelry, toys and stationery.

Mrs. Robert Beyer and Mrs. Frank Allison are co-chairmen of the booth.

The fifth annual Optimist Club pet show, which is co-sponsored by the Department of Recreation, is set up for dogs, cats and unusual pets.

All entrants will receive free passes to the Penn Theater through the courtesy of Margaret Wilson, owner of the theater.

Judging for dogs begins at 9 a.m., for unusual pets at 10 a.m. and for cats at 10:30 a.m.

Dogs will be judged on behavior, grooming, or friendliness. Unusual pets are judged on biggest, cutest, or smallest. And cats are judged on grooming, cutest or behavior.

Entry blanks can be obtained at the Plymouth Recreation Office at the high school. The Recreation Department co-sponsors the show with the Optimists.

Those unable to get blanks at the high school may still enter the competition by filling one out the day of the show.

first year that the PEA has officially negotiated for a master contract under the provisions of the new state statutes, it was the opinion of the Board and the PEA that a discussion of the negotiations and the contract would be appropriate.

Mrs. Bertha Green, director of School Librarian, will present an exhibit of instructional materials.

Following the morning program, the teachers will convene at their various schools for lunch, provided by the Board of Education, and then attend staff meetings there with principals.

Wednesday will be devoted to conferences and work scheduled at the various schools with a tour of the community set for 2:30 p.m. for new teachers and a reception for the newcomers at 3:30 p.m. in the Mayflower Hotel.

The reception is sponsored by the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce.

St. Peter's Lutheran and Our Lady of Good Counsel

Catholic schools will open doors on Thursday, Sept. 8 — each with a new principal.

Sister Mary Victor, who served at St. Dennis in Royal Oak, is the successor to Sister Christine as principal of Good Counsel which anticipates an enrollment of almost 800. First graders will have half-day sessions in September, with boys in the morning and girls in the afternoon.

James Klug is the new principal of St. Peter's which is looking forward to 120 students when classes start Sept. 8. Pupils may register and purchase books on Wednesday, Sept. 7.

for the position. Applicants will be rated competitively on evaluation of their experience and fitness for the position. They must have resided within the delivery of the office for one year immediately preceding the closing date of the examination. In addition, they must have reached their 18th birthday on the closing date for acceptance of applications. Persons over 70 years of age cannot be appointed.

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, creed, color, or national origin, sex, politics, or any other non-merit factor.

Complete information about the examination requirements and instructions for filing applications may be obtained at the post office for which this examination is being announced. Application forms must be filed with the U.S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D.C.

Jarvis Shop to Show Old Greeting Cards

A rare collection of antique greeting cards will be shown at Hugh Jarvis Gift Shop in Plymouth beginning Sept. 1.

The exhibit includes 75 historic greeting cards dating from the early 19th century. The specimens are on loan from the Hallmark Historical Collection, the largest and most valuable collection of antique cards in the world, containing more than 70,000 items.

A similar display has appeared at the Smithsonian Institute and is now touring America's museums and galleries under the auspices of the Institute.

Among the cards to be shown here is a friendship greeting printed in the 1870s in England by the firm of Jonathan King, the publisher who first introduced friendship cards.

The exhibit includes several other Victorian Era greeting cards. Then-popular designs favored rustic scenes and children at play, as well as flowers and lace. Sentiments were simple but affectionate.

In the late 1880s, according to historians at the Hallmark Historical Collection, cards were widely used both here and in England as a way of making new friends.

People attached colorful accessories over their names on calling cards, then exchanged cards with a friend. One of the cards was then passed on to a third person, who used it as an introduction to the stranger. Thus began a new friendship.

The collection will be open to the public without charge during regular store hours beginning Sept. 1.

Druggists Are Invited To Festival

Over 1,000 drug store and camera shop owners in Southern Michigan and Northern Ohio have been sent personal invitations to attend Plymouth's Fall Festival.

Harold Head, president of Gold Seal Photo Service, Inc. has sent these dealers special complimentary tickets to all the events taking place Friday, Saturday and Sunday, along with an invitation to "come and enjoy Plymouth's small town atmosphere and renew childhood memories."

These guests of Gold Seal, many of whom are retailers using the Plymouth plant's photo finishing services, have also been invited to tour the Gold Seal facilities during their visit here.

Gold Seal produces black and white and color snapshots for camera users, including those throughout the Livonia and Plymouth areas. The firm employs over 100 people, and has a fleet of 20 vehicles.

Local residents and others attending the Fall Festival are also welcome on the plant tours, according to Mr. Head. Open house hours are: Friday, Sept. 9, 7 to 9 p.m.; Saturday, Sept. 10, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.; Sunday, Sept. 11, 2 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Promote 4 To "Veeps" By Evans

Recent expansion of Evans Products Company's Transportation Equipment Group, headquartered in Plymouth, has resulted in a change in the divisional structure of the Group.

Byrde Monk
James J. Conway, Executive Vice President in charge of the Group, announced the appointment of four key executives to newly created positions as Division Vice Presidents.

J. R. Byrne, formerly General Manager of the Railway Equipment Division, has been appointed Division Vice President-Sales, with direct supervision over all sales of the Transportation Equipment Group.

W. C. Finkenstaedt, formerly General Manager of the Automotive and Industrial Division, has been appointed Division Vice President of the Transportation Equipment Division operations, which encompasses Evans' Plymouth, Gagetown, Grand Rapids, Chicago, and Annapolis plant operations. This Division combines the operations of the former Railway Equipment Division and Automotive and Industrial Division.

Moorhead Finkenstaedt
J. P. Moorhead, formerly General Manager of Evans' Research and Development Division, has been appointed Division Vice President of the Transportation Equipment Division operations, which encompasses Evans' Plymouth, Gagetown, Grand Rapids, Chicago, and Annapolis plant operations. This Division combines the operations of the former Railway Equipment Division and Automotive and Industrial Division.

C. W. Monk, who joined Evans on Aug. 22, has been named Division Vice President of the Railway Car Division operations. Monk comes to Evans from the Bethlehem Steel Company.

Evans is a diversified manufacturer and distributor of railway freight cars and equipment, automotive products, specialty and imported plywoods, and related building materials.

Michigan's public and non-public schools employed more than 90,000 teachers and other administrative and professional personnel during the 1965-66 school year.

Patricia Hurd is Bride Of Charles Jeffrey Kellogg

St. John the Evangelist Episcopal Church was the scene June 25 of the wedding of Patricia Jean Hurd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren D. Hurd, St. Paul, Minn., to Charles Geoffrey Kellogg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Kellogg, 18819 Shadyside, Livonia.

Suffragan Bishop Phillip McNairy was assisted by the Rev. F. Grayson Clary in performing the double-ring service.

Mrs. William A. Thomas, sister of the bride, was honor attendant. Judith and Susan Hurd, also sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids, as well as Karen Kellogg, sister of the groom.

Fred Richter, Detroit, was best man. Also attending the bridegroom were William Thomas, Houghton, James Strupe, Detroit, and Thomas Kellogg, brother of the groom, Livonia.

The couple greeted their friends at a reception in the home of the bride's parents before leaving for a wedding trip to the West Coast. Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg will make their home in Long Beach, Calif.

A DREAM OF 11 years realized at long last, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Connell beam at Westland home.

Neighbors' Cheer Dry Mother's Tears

A person with a walkie-talkie at the entrance to a Westland subdivision near Ann Arbor Trail and Middlebelt... another person with a walkie-talkie communicating several blocks away... a three-piece band standing by... and a crowd of 30 to 40 housewives and children anxiously awaiting a neighborhood event.

The situation reached a climax just before noon Wednesday when Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Connell, of 28106 MacKenzie Street, arrived home with a baby boy. But it wasn't the usual welcoming for a new infant on the block.

The Connells have been married 11 years and their son is an adopted child born July 28 in Crittenton Hospital, Detroit.

The entire celebration in front of the Connell's home was a surprise to the couple,

Westland residents for the past six years.

When Mrs. Frank Connell saw the crowd on hand in front of her home, she started weeping even before getting out of the car. Her husband, a construction equipment salesman, opened the door for her to get out and dozens of neighborhood children crowded around to get a close look at Raymond James, who was seven pounds, nine ounces at birth.

The front of the home was decorated with appropriate signs of a stork and "Welcome Home Ray" and others, created by a neighbor, Mrs. Richard Lininger, who is also an art teacher.

A champagne party was held the previous week to celebrate the homecoming of the baby expected to be brought home the following day. But the arrival and scheduled surprise celebration by the neighbors was postponed when an infection developed.

The celebration was the creation of Mrs. James Mueller, 28068 MacKenzie, and Mrs. Jack Thierbach, of 28056 MacKenzie.

Musicians on hand were "The Elegants" composed of drummer Rick Merrow, 8423 Gilman; accordionist Dan Muzichuk, 28374 MacKenzie; and guitarist Bob Rodriguez, 8515 Gilman.

The new dad didn't waste any time after arriving home in getting used to parenthood. One of the first things he picked up was the pamphlet telling of the preparation and scheduled feeding of the baby's formula.

But he pointed out that the baby is really "an addition" to the family which includes a six-year-old springer spaniel, Yogi.

Farmington Family Holds Annual Reunion

The Cox Family Reunion was held Sunday at Camp Dearborn in Milford with 94 people in attendance. These are descendants of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Cox who came from Somershire, England in 1860 and lived on Thirteen Mile Rd. near Drake Rd. in Farmington until their deaths in 1904 and 1907.

The families who came the farthest to attend were Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Meenen from Clay Center, Kans. and Mr. and Mrs. Leo McCarty from Concordia, Kans.

The oldest person attending was 90-year-old Mrs. Jennie Cox-Zingelman, and the youngest was one-year-old Debby Carlson.

Others came from the communities of Detroit, Lansing, Howell, Pontiac, Brighton, Drayton Plains, and Gregory with many from the Farmington area including the families of John Cox, Earl Cox, Herald Cox, Robert Neff, Ray Layland, Don Layland, Robert Briggs, and Mrs. Zingelman.

This group has met annually since 1920, with occasional get-togethers before then including Mr. and Mrs. John Cox's 50th wedding anniversary.

WORLD'S FASTEST HUMAN IS A SLOWPOKE COMPARED TO OUR RACE HORSES

The Figures Are Fascinating!

Horses and Humans contribute to as interesting a Study of Speed as I think you will find anywhere.

Every day, with the exception of Sundays, from now through November 5, you have the opportunity to check the Speed of the Thoroughbred Horses at the Detroit Race Course. Some of the nation's top stars will be competing. We have a big Labor Day Week-end coming up, with exceptional 10 race programs both Saturday and Labor Day.

Back during my youth, when the brilliant Jesse Owens was at the peak of a career which saw him win four Olympic Gold Medals in the 1936 Games at Berlin, he rightfully was hailed as "The World's Fastest Human."

After Owens turned professional, he often raced against horses in exhibitions. While Jesse grabbed the headlines, it actually was an uneven contest. The Horse was a sure winner.

My thoughts turned to Horses Against Humans again recently, when 19-year-old Jim Ryun, the amazing Kansan, set the world's record for the mile with a clocking of 3:51.3.

Ryun's great achievement came only a few weeks after Ogden Phipps' Buckpasser also set a world record for the mile. Buckpasser's time was 1:32.5.

What do the comparative times mean? Just this: During his record performance Ryun was running about FIFTEEN (15) MILES PER HOUR, while Buckpasser was traveling better than THIRTY-EIGHT (38) MILES PER HOUR.

Let's look at the fractional times of The Human and The Horse and you'll get a still better understanding of the comparative speeds:

RYUN	BUCKPASSER
57.7 sec.	Quarter Mile 22-1/5 sec.
1:55.4	Half Mile 43-3/5
2:55.3	Three Quarters 1:06-4/5
3:51.3	Mile 1:32-3/5

The Detroit Race Course track record for three-quarters of a mile (six furlongs) is 1:08, set in 1964 by Glass Horse. Our record for the mile is 1:35½, established in 1961 by Pied d'Or.

The human records for the mile all have been set by athletes now active, while the top five marks for the Thoroughbreds go back a decade.

Take a look at this comparative table:

HUMANS	TIME	HORSES	YEAR	TIME
Jim Ryun (U.S.A.)	3:51.3	Buckpasser	1966	1:32½
Michael Jay (France)	3:52.5	Hedvar	1966	1:33½
Jergen May (E. Ger.)	3:53.8	Pia Star	1965	1:33½
Peter Smith (New Zea.)	3:54.1	Intentionally	1959	1:33½
Kip Keino (Kenya)	3:54.2	Swaps	1956	1:33½

The Human has reduced his mile record at a rate of a second every three years in the past century. The Horse has shaved his mile record a second every 11 years during the same period.

Speed is just one of the multiple allures of Thoroughbred Racing. At the Detroit Race Course, we have a magnificent new $3,000,000 Clubhouse, with two beautiful Dining Terraces, offering the finest in food and beverages. There is the unique old English pub, Ye Old Tired Horse, where you can have a snack or a refreshing drink.

We have close-in parking for 12,000 cars. There are three Easy-In Easy-Out entrances and exits off Middlebelt, Schoolcraft and Inkster Roads.

Invite you to join the ever-growing number of Michigan fans who find Thoroughbred Racing at the Detroit Race Course offers them thrills and excitement in a setting of beauty, comfort and convenience.

Honor Beverly Polito

The Garden City S.O.S. Chapter of Buxom Belles honored Mrs. Beverly Polito at their meeting recently. Beverly joined the club in October and reached her goal of weighing 120 pounds in June.

Her guests at her "recognition" party were her mother, Mrs. Eleanor Baker, and her sister, Donna Baker. Chapter President, Jane Skrent presented Beverly with a tiara as well as a check and numerous gifts from her sister belles.

Buxom Belles hold weekly meetings on Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock in the activity room at Garden City East High on Middlebelt Rd. in Garden City. Further information may be obtained by calling 722-7670 or GA 1-4610.

MRS. GARY MANNISTO

Ashton-Mannisto Wed In Double Ring Ceremony

Carol Lunn Ashton became the bride of Gary Bruce Mannisto, Aug. 13, in a double-ring ceremony, performed at the Nardin Park Methodist Church in Farmington.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Edwin Ashton, 20704 Knob Woods Drive, Southfield. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard M. Mannisto, 29646 Medbury Ave., Farmington.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a traditional-style gown of white peau de soie trimmed with hand-embroidered Alencon lace and tiny seed pearls. The veil was ballerina length silk illusion with a crown of lace and tiny seed pearls. Her train was chapel-length. The bride carried a bouquet of white sweetheart roses and tiny pompon chrysanthemums.

Connie Dewitt, of Romulus; Jean Moorehouse of Fremont; Nancy Mannisto, the groom's sister; and Marilyn Button were the bridesmaids. Sandra Smith, sister of the bride from Grand Rapids, was matron of honor.

Nancy Smith, niece of the bride was flower girl. Michael Smith, nephew of the bride was ring bearer.

Ben R. Mannisto, brother of the groom, was best man. John E. Ashton, Jr. brother of the bride; Robert Bacon, Glenn Mannisto, cousin of the groom; and Russell Hoffmeyer were ushers.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Coach-House at Botsford Inn, Farmington.

The newlyweds will spend the first five days of their honeymoon in New York City and then board the S.S. France for Paris where they will spend two months touring Europe.

The bride was graduated in 1963 from Farmington High School and attended Grand Rapids Jr. College. She is employed by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. as a service representative.

The groom is a graduate of Farmington High School and attended Northwestern Michigan Junior College in Traverse City. He is currently employed by the Bertie Harnett Co. of Detroit.

They will make their future home in the Farmington area.

AILEEN PATRICIA COYLE

BIRTHS

Addison W. Bacon, City Clerk, reports the following births in the City of Livonia:

A daughter, Catherine, to Craig and Jeanne Stover, 15408 Richfield.

A son, Joseph, to Joseph and Mary Rose, Jr., 17303 Middlebelt.

A son, Gary, to John and Dorothy Heffernan, 20379 Louise.

A son, John, to Bruce and Rosa Doyle, 28900 Lancaster.

A daughter, Caryn, to Raymond and Sylvia Domzalski, 39348 Richland.

Mrs. Aileen Gordon Coyle, of Redford Township, announces the engagement of her daughter, Aileen Patricia, to Lt. James B. MacDonald. The bride-elect was graduated from Redford Union High School in 1964. Lt. MacDonald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George MacDonald of Quincy, Mass. He is a 1963 graduate of Tufts College in Boston. A wedding date has been planned for Sept. 17.

Clucas-Binkley Wed

Shirley Joanne Clucas became the bride of Lt. Russell W. Binkley on Saturday, July 2, at the Rice Memorial Methodist Church. Rev. Richard Glass performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Clucas, 20047 Lennane, Redford Township. The groom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Hubert Binkley of Falls Church, Va.

The bride wore an organza gown with a lace jacket. Her flowers were white roses and stephanotis with a removable center of yellow roses.

Mrs. Ilene (Matzo) Wycuk was matron of honor. She wore a yellow gown. Darrell Shook of Chicago was the best man. Ushers were James Binkley, Paul E. Clucas and Philip W. Clucas.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of pink brocade. The groom's mother chose a gown of green lace.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 125 people was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride was graduated from Redford Union High School and Albion College. She taught for three years in Fairbanks, Alaska and one year at Key West, Fla. The groom graduated from The Citadel, Charleston, W. Va., and is now Liaison Officer of the Naval Base at Key West.

The couple will reside in Key West.

MRS. RUSSELL W. BRINKLEY

Plymouth Club Plans Festival Fudge Sale

Eta Psi chapter of Plymouth held its first meeting of the new year at the home of the President Mrs. J. D. Arnold, 30260 Westfield, Livonia. Co-hostess for the evening was Mrs. Charles Bobier, 9870 Doris, Livonia. Plans were discussed for the annual fudge sale the women undertake every year at the Plymouth Fall Festival, Sept. 8-11.

There was a newly appointed secretary for the chapter by the executive board. She is Miss Judith Epling, 1397 Sheridan, Plymouth.

The next meeting will be held Sept. 1.

Frank Cody, a former Detroit School superintendent, served as a member of the State Board of Education longer than any other person — from 1913 to 1943.

In 1850, the State Superintendent of Public Instruction became an elected rather than appointed official. The position became appointive in 1965.

WITH CENTRAL GAS AIR CONDITIONING

Now with GAS AIR CONDITIONING you can cool your whole house and the cost is less than you think. Yes, now you can enjoy having every room in your home filled with cool and constantly filtered air that cuts down on dust and dirt and at the same time removes the humidity and pollen. (Think what this means to those who suffer from hay fever or allergies.)

Now, more and more people are changing their thinking about air conditioning when they realize the many benefits it affords, such as a cleaner, healthier home, a more comfortable, enjoyable home in summer. And when it comes to the cost, in most instances, the increased value of their home will more than compensate for this wonderful improvement. So this is why more and more people are installing GAS AIR CONDITIONING today. They say, "I can't understand why we didn't do it a long time ago."

The Distaff Side...

By Jerry Wendt, Women's Editor

Have you ever eaten Chinese spaghetti? The Observer did the other day, in what was one of the most fun-filled events of the year.

When Kal Bruss, M-G-M promotion expert, began to make plans for M-G-M's new movie, "Marco the Magnificent," he remembered that Marco Polo had discovered spaghetti in China. He decided to host a luncheon at the New Chin Tiki on Cass.

First there was a private screening of the new movie "Marco the Magnificent" (opening today at the Fox.) We like to escape into another world when we go to the movies and this was a world of splendor, savagery and violence.

The story deals with a fantastic adventure. It brings the young Venetian, Marco Polo (Horst Buchholz), to the Kublai Khan (Anthony Quinn) in China, with a message from the Pope. The journey goes through the Holy Land via the mountains and deserts of Asia; and Mongolia to China.

There is a starstudded cast including Quinn, Buchholz, Omar Sharif, Elsa Martinelli, Orson Wells and Akim Tamiroff.

This is not the China of ancient parables, lotus blossoms, and mellowed philosophy. Instead it is a wild, savage country and the people are like the country. We were completely spellbound by Tamiroff's evil portrayal of (the old man of the mountain) and the scenes in which the diabolical torture of the glass bell is performed. The slave girls were beautiful, and the censors must have been on a leave of absence when their costumes were made (the designer was really scissor-happy).

Afterwards the group was greeted by Marvin Chin (owner of Livonia's—"Chin" and Garden City's—"Kitty") at the door of his new Polynesian restaurant, the Chin Tiki on Cass. This is the most exotic place we have ever seen. It is glamour and far East from the moment one steps through the door.

Carved Tiki gods and bamboo walls are used throughout. The various rooms are called "Fisherman's huts" and the Observer was fascinated with the lighting fixtures. These are giant shells and fish which have had lights inserted in them.

The waitresses are native girls clad in colorful Polynesian saris and they hand you leis. You sit down at a table and are in for a glimpse of the Far East.

Everything is served in native dishes and you use chopsticks for the food. For people who love atmosphere, this is your moment. The drinks are served with gardenias floating on them, in raw pineapples, and the specialty of the house arrives wreathed in volcanic smoke.

There are skewers of sweet and sour pork, egg rolls, and French fried shrimp, all with a variety of sauces. There is one mustard sauce which must be used sparingly. Bruss, who was busy talking with someone used his with a liberal hand, then rose hastily and exclaimed, "Whew, that clears my sinuses for this year."

Host Chin, took us on a tour of the kitchen to see the actual Chinese spaghetti. This dish defies description, but it is delicious. The spaghetti is steamed, then browned lightly in butter. It is served with a variety of three sauces, one a sweet and sour pork combination is outstanding. There were cups of tea with this.

As usual we were lucky in our table companions. Bruss is a dynamic, witty man and he entertained us with stories of the stars and the premieres. Manny F. Braiker, former Los Angeles disc jockey told of a time he subbed for a disc jockey with a Southern accent, and did so well, people started arriving from small Southern towns in jalopy, convinced that he was a long lost relative.

Dick Osgood, former city dweller, is now a Farmingtonite.

It is somewhat early to give out awards of the year but this will surely go down as one of the best promotions of the year.

A PRELUDE to a gala afternoon begins when Marvin Chin, owner of Chin's in Livonia, and Kitty's in Garden City, Dick Osgood of Farmington, and Bill Brown, manager of the Fox theater, scan the menu, of the New Chin Tiki restaurant on Cass.

CHOPSTICKS ARE USED in the exotic atmosphere of the new Chin restaurant, the Chin-Tiki on Cass. Manny Braiker, former Los Angeles disc jockey gives a lesson in their use to Women's Editor Mrs. Jerry Wendt of the Observer.

Segerman-Stein Share Double Bar-Mitzvah

Garry Allan Segerman, son of Morton and the late Shirley Segerman, of Maplewood St., Livonia, celebrated Bar Mitzvah on Saturday, Aug. 27, at the Livonia Jewish Congregation, 29475 W. Six Mile rd. A Kiddish table will be set up in the social hall following the services.

That evening Garry was honored at a house party for his own friends. Grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Dave Garfinkel were present at the services. Ill and unable to attend, but sending his blessings was grandpa Joseph Segerman.

Larry Stein, son of Bernard and Evelyn Stein, of Antago St., Livonia, celebrated his Bar Mitzvah Saturday, Aug. 27 in the Livonia Jewish Congregation. Larry shared the altar with Garry Segerman.

After the service he and his guests met around the Kiddish table in the Shul's social hall. Several relatives came in from California for this special occasion.

Grandparents Mr. and Mrs. David Stein of Detroit and Mrs. Esther Shencopp of Livonia watched. That evening the family and friends honored Larry at the Imperial Caterers.

Rabbi David Jessel Guest Speaker at DeHoCo

Rabbi David Jessel, of Temple Beth Am, Livonia, spoke Aug. 30 on "The Jewish View of Sin, Reward and Punishment" at the pre-parole program of the Detroit House of Correction.

This program consists of a series of orientation sessions for men and women inmates about to be paroled, in order to prepare them to return to a normal routine of living in the outside world.

Rabbi Jessel has served for the past two and one-half years as the Jewish Chaplain at the Detroit House of Correction, which also functions as the Michigan State Prison for Women.

The church of "The Lutheran Hour" and "This is the Life" where would we be without them?

We wouldn't be America's largest food retailer.

That's for sure.

We're talking about the clerks who still manage a smile and a "Thank You" late Saturday afternoon after a busy week's work—and even on days when they aren't feeling tip-top.

We're talking about our supervisors, store managers, department heads and their assistants who shape the backbone of A&P.

Those behind the scenes, too—literally scores of thousands of devoted employees in our offices, warehouses, and other facilities.

Without all these fine people, there wouldn't be an A&P—and we know it.

They work hard...we're proud of them. Like most of us, most of them will rest too...on Labor Day.

Socially Speaking Around Plymouth

By Dorothy Sincock GL 3-0038
(Call to report social events in your family, neighborhood)

Watch for the Mary Morgan program, Friday at 8:55 on Channel 9, a five-minute interview with Mrs. John Moehle, Plymouth, the Fall Festival, the Antique Mart and the Plymouth Symphony will all be highlighted.

Brother and Sister Party—A surprise for both was given by Mr. and Mrs. John Adams, of Jener Street, when 30 guests gathered to wish the young people well. An outdoor buffet dinner was held for visitors from Plymouth, Lansing, Livonia, Dearborn, and Texas. Sandy will be a senior at Eastern University this fall in the field of elementary education and John will leave for San Diego for his basic training on Sept. 7.

Mrs. Robert Sparkman, from the V.F.W. Women's Auxiliary and volunteers, hosted a party at the West Trail Nursing Home for Mrs. Janet Hodge, 94, with real success. A big thank you from the Senior Citizens and all who attended the well planned afternoon.

Mrs. B. R. Gilbert and daughter Helen, from Penniman Avenue, have returned from Painesville, O., where they visited relatives and friends. Mrs. Gilbert at 95, thoroughly enjoyed the visit.

Sun flowers are the cause of comment and so it was over on Arthur Street when the Richard Herter children dragged out the stepladder to measure the giant flower hanging over the top of the garage. It was 11 feet four inches high.

Hearing a premiere performance at Interlochen "The Missa Solemnis" during a recent visit were Jill Allison and Jo Anne Toms. The young ladies had the pleasure of staying at Brahm's House, one of the resident units.

The Mayflower Hotel on Sept. 8 will open the season of Newcomers in Plymouth area. The time is 12 to 12:30 for hospitality followed by luncheon.

Program for the day, Judge Edward Draugelis who will speak on Parents and Juvenile Delinquents. Plans are in order for the special interest group chairman to announce the activities. Plan to make your reservation early, no later than Sept. 6. A-M Mrs. George Stakias at 453-7032, N-Z Mrs. Richard Braum at 453-2379. There will be no cancellations the day of the luncheon and Mrs. Timothy Baxter will handle baby sitting service.

A luncheon for 24 guests at the Beyer residence honoring Anita Gale, of Northville, niece of co-hostess Mrs. Gordon Moe and Mrs. Robert Beyer. Guests were from Lake Leelanau, Northville, Kalamazoo, Lansing, South Lyon and Plymouth. Anita will soon become the bride of Gary Risbridger of Kalamazoo.

It was Clearwater, Fla., for the Charles Childs of Hammill Lane and three children, Sally, Debbie and Billy. The Childs are well known in the area for their affiliations in community activities.

The 60 Plus Club from the Methodist Church will start its 1966-67 season with a meeting on Monday, Sept. 11 at the church. There will be a pot luck dinner served at 12 o'clock with a business meeting and entertainment following.

Plymouth Lists Registration Dates

September 6 at 5 p.m. That's the deadline to register for the special school election to bond for $5½ million. The election will be held Oct. 3.

Those who are not now eligible may register at the City Hall on Main St., if they live in the City of Plymouth, and at Plymouth Township Hall if they live in the Township. Canton residents in the School District may register at the Canton Township Hall, 44508 Geddes Rd.

Registration will be taken up to 5 p.m. on Oct. 6.

In addition to the registration for the special school election, an all out drive to get voters to register has been announced by City Clerk Eugene Slider, and Township Clerk, Mrs. Helen Richardson.

The deadline for the regular November election is Monday, Oct. 10 at 8 p.m. The clerk's office will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. in both places.

To qualify in the November election, registrants must be 21, six-month residents of Michigan, and 30-day residents in the city or township.

Activity in the August primary indicates a higher than average turnout for the November election. Exactly 1507 people out of 4672 voters went to the polls from the City in August. In the Township, 1748 of 4188 registered voters cast ballots.

The election in November will be to elect a Governor, Lieutenant Governor, an Attorney General, Secretary of State, Supreme Court justices, and members of the State Board of Education, University of Michigan Board of Regents, Michigan State University Trustees and Wayne State University Board of Governors.

Also, locally, a United States Congressman, State Senator, and a State Representative must be elected.

In the special October school election, only property owners may put the district in debt.

The proposal will read exactly as follows: "Shall Plymouth Community School District, Wayne and Washtenaw Counties, Michigan, borrow the sum of not to exceed Five Million, Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($5,500,000) and issue its bonds therefor, for the purpose of erecting, furnishing and equipping additional school facilities either as separate buildings, or as additions to existing buildings; acquiring additional land for site purposes; constructing and equipping playgrounds; and developing and improving sites?"

This particular bond issue carries with it no increase in millage.

However, it is part of a $17 million package recommended by a citizens study group to build a second high school, a third junior high, and four grade schools. The remainder of the $17 million will be sought next summer, June, 1967. In that vote, a small millage increase is seen. A total of nine mills was suggested by the study group to finance the projects. Of that, 7.3 is currently being levied. Thus the vote next summer would raise the millage 1.7 mills, if approved. These steps, although only in the talking stage, appear to be very firm. The next few weeks, details of how the $5½ million is to be spent will be made public. A bare outline of expenses shows the money will go for:

- $1 million for land banking sites.
- A third junior high.
- Enlarge elementary No. 8, now in the planning stage, from 420 capacity to 720.
- Build elementary No. 9 as fast as possible, for 720.
- Other funds needed are a $100,000 budget to plan the second high school. The special election was set by resolution at a meeting last week.

Our Queen Says Prices on Incline, Bread Will Rise

By FAITH GILLESPIE

A couple of months ago, when I made my regular trip to the supermarket, foraging for the crew it is my duty to feed, I gradually became aware of an astonishing thing. All the prices on absolutely everything had been raised two cents, unless it was bigger than a five-pound bag, in which case the price was up four cents.

Incredible! Impossible! I took another look to convince myself I wasn't mistaken, but my only error was in neglecting to notice that some items had been raised three cents, or five.

Other people seemed to have observed the same phenomenon, because suddenly the newspapers were full of accounts of speeches by politicians all over the country, from the floor of the Congress of the United States on down (or on up, depending upon your point of view).

Blame was flung in all directions, though everyone agreed that it couldn't possibly be the poor farmer's fault—again.

Some accused the President and Mr. Humphrey, of course, and the Teamsters' Union. Others were sure it was a plot on the part of the Rev. Martin Luther King, or, depending again upon point of view, the John Birch Society.

Some people will always suspect the local Board of Education; others see the whole problem as another clue that the End of the World is at Hand.

My private theory is that the blame should be laid at the door of that Mr. Middleman everyone is always talking about, but I don't know where he lives.

Relief from my distress was found in a headline that said: Consumer Prices On Incline; Bread Will Rise.

Thank goodness, I said to myself. You can still depend on something. Baking bread is a comfort to me, and I steadfastly expect it to rise if I am to retain any confidence in the nature of things.

If you have been sharing my dismay over the unsettling fact of inflation, do try my therapy. This recipe in particular is reliable, and its success doesn't depend upon a high degree of skill.

Oatmeal Honey Bread: Get out a big bowl, and place in it one cup rolled oats and two cups boiling water. Let stand for half an hour, while you make the beds and get the washing going.

Soak two packages of dry yeast in 1/2 cup warm (not hot) water. While it softens, add to oatmeal 2 1/2 teaspoons salt, two tablespoons soft butter, and 1/2 cup honey (or molasses). Stir the yeast and add it to the oatmeal.

Add two cups of flour; stir it in, and then stir in two cups more. Pour in two more cups (that's six cups in all) and get in there with your hands. Knead it, right in the bowl till the flour is all taken up. This may take five or eight minutes, and it's as much fun as making mud pies used to be... maybe more. Shape the dough into a mound in the bowl, cover, and let rise till it is double in size, about an hour on a warm day. Then cut it down with a table knife to release the air, and divide in two. Place in two well-greased 9x5x3 inch bread pans, smooth the top level, cover, and let rise till double—an hour, an hour and a half... let it be and don't worry about it. (You know what the headline said.) Bake four inches from the bottom of the oven at 350 degrees for 50 minutes, and there it is, a treat to all your senses in the process, from touch to taste. So if you need assurance when doubts assail your spirit, remember this maxim: Bread Will Rise. Unless it's an awfully rainy day.
