Oldford made a plea to the Trustees for reconsideration on the grounds that the Planning Commission has based the denial on the grounds of no need for a larger shopping center at the site.

Oldford had requested the Planners to rezone a parcel 158 feet wide directly west of his shopping center site for additional space for parking and for expansion of his plans.

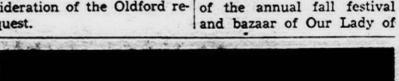

There was considerable entiment against the request by residents of the area in a public hearing a month in advance of the decision by the Planners.

Oldford told the Trustees that Planning Consultant W. C. Johnson had recommended that the request be granted, pointing out that it was in line with the proposed 707 plan.

However, the Planners denied the request and then turned the matter over to the Trustees for a final decision. Oldford did not get an answer from the Trustees but his request for reconsideration was accepted for further consideration on a motion of Clerk Helen Richardson. We quell riots with guns, sticks, tear gas; we are attempting to subdue the Viet Cong with napalm, machine guns, and tanks; men argue and shoot out their differences with revolvers.

Will it always be thus?

Some say "yes"; others say 'no."

It would be appear rational to believe that we can't kill everybody who disagrees with us.

There was a movie cartoon done on this subject some years ago which carried this theme to the extreme.

At the end only two human beings were left-the other pro's and anti's had killed each other off. The two were the vegetarian and the anti-vegetarian and the movie closes with both shooting each other and Hang on to your common sense folks, the candidates are coming to town.

Not just the local fellows we have a chance to see daily. but the VIP variety will be criss-crossing Observer-land next week.

These are the professional persuaders and they are most accomplished because they have elections under their belts. know the pit-falls of the wrong answers. They will have square jaws, clear eyes and a firm handshake.

You have never been approached by a really smooth salesman unless you have had an opportunity to look deep into the blue eyes of one, Bill Milliken-running teammate of Governor Romney for Lieutenant Governor, and have him tell you what their team will do in the future and have done in the past.

He will be in Livonia Tuesday, Sept. 20 at Roma Hall,

Then there is former Governor Williams, past master at persuasion. He is getting back on his feet and has called a meeting this Wednesday at his home for all District Chairmen to evaluate the best way in gaining that two per cent the pollsters say he is behind. He will be in this area in the next few weeks.

He has all the attributes, jaw-eye-handshake, plus a Cavanagh-type approach (he even sounds like him on radio). He will be in our area all day Monday starting with a breakfast at Paul's Steak House in Redford Township. He will attend teas, be in shopping centers, at plants, have lunch with Livonia Chamber and generally visit "we folk." ,

Saturday Zolion Ferency will have his shining hour. He will concentrate mainly on Livonia, being guided about town by Ron Mardiros. 19th district chairman. I haven't personally met the fighter-Ferency, but he has my award of the week for the candidate with the farthest to go and the least likely to get there.

Still, American people traditionally like an underdog, and authough he doesn't make noises like that, still, there is the Romney image. I'm anxious to meet candidate Ferency just so on those days when I feel I haven't got a $ Investing Inquiries $ SHOULD I SELL MY BLUE CHIP STOCKS NOW?

Q. Around three years ago I bought a number of blue chip stocks namely, General Motors, G.E. and U.S. Steel. I notice now that they are down considerably from their earlier highs and at their present prices I still have a small profit. What I want to know is should I sell them now and try to buy them back at lower prices.

A. I believe you answered your own question when you said "try to buy them back at lower prices." What you would be doing is attempting to play the role of a professional stock trader. A role which demands the utmost in skill, training and time to do it successfully. It has been my experience that when investors turn to trading in the market, they would have been better off leaving their stock holdings alone. My advice would be that in markets like the present, it would be better to add to your present holdings, rather than trying to fill the roll of a stock trader.

Did you notice that the headlights are vertical now instead of leaning back a bit? That doesn't make the car look any better. But it makes the road look better by making the lights a little brighter.

And that little hump in the back? We did that to hold the license plate up straight so the police can read it better. (Sorry.)

What you won't notice without driving the new model are the big improvements.

The engine has been enlarged to a ferocious 53 horsepower. That only adds 3 m.p.h. to the top speed. Because we put most of the additional power where it would make the engine accelerate faster, turn slower and last even longer.

Now that the VW is getting to be such a hot car, we put in a couple of things to slow it down. Dual brakes.

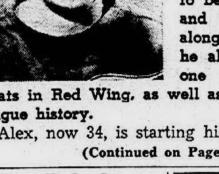

The front wheel brakes are completely independent of the rear wheel brakes. So if you ever lost the front wheel brakes, you could still stop the back of the car. (Which automatically stops the front of the car too.)

The new VW also has seat belts, backup lights and recessed door handles as standard equipment. In fact, this year we made so many changes on the Volkswagen that we thought we'd better make one more.

We wrote "Volkswagen" on the back of the car to be sure everybody would know what it was.

the Wings, which makes him No. 2 in the club's seniority department. Only Gordie Howe, who has finished 20 full . seasons, "outdates" Delvecchio's arrival on the Detroit hockey scene.

As scorers go, Devecchio ranks high among the NHL leaders. He also proved last winter that age doesn't necessarily slow a guy down.

During the 1965-66 season, Alex fired in 31 goals, marking the first time in his career he had topped the 30-goal mark. Seven previous times he had had 20 goals in a campaign.

For those who aren't familiar, scoring 20 goals in hockey is equivalent to hitting .300 in baseball. The 30-goal man is almost as rare as the .350 or .375 hitter.

There's something else about Delvecchio. That "nice" business we mentioned before.

At the close of last season Delvecchio was named the winner of the Lady Byng trophy, which annually goes to the NHL player judged to be the tops in sportsmanship.

Alex drew only 16 minutes in penalties in 70 games to haul in the trophy for the second time in his career. Back in 1958-59, Delvecchio drew only six minutes in penalties to win the Lady Byng.

For his brilliance last season and in the past, Delvecchio has been presented his "best contract ever," according to general manager Sid Abel.

Alex is embarking on his fifth season as the Wings' captain. Along with Howe, Delvecchio serves as one of Abel's "right-hand men."

BluegrassNative to Europe

Everyone knows Kentucky bluegrass as a topflight lawn-grass, perhaps the most widely useful in all the world. And the researchers are working night and day to bring out new selections, patterned after the successful Merion, Park and other well-known varieties. How did all of this get started?

Earliest records indicate that Kentucky bluegrass was not found native in America by the first colonists. But they knew it at home as "English grass," and seem soon to have introduced it (probably unintentionally, in hay or cattle bedding).

Kentucky bluegrass is apparently native to Europe, where it was known to the ancient Greeks.

In this country bluegrass likely spread westward with the early French missionaries, down the St. Lawrence Valley. Boone and other explorers might have carried it across the mountains into what is now Kentucky, but this seems less plausible. Boone was busy enough with forest and Indians.

Sometime before 1800 bluegrass was in the middle Ohio Valley, destined soon to clothe the rich phosphatic soils of north-central Kentucky.

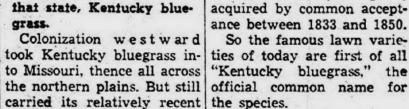

Some think that the Virginia volunteers, returning with Harrison from the Battle of Tippecanoe, carried Indiana bluegrass seed into newly cleared lands of Ken-

Randolph School Offers Chance For Team Teaching

UNIQUE for planning is the teacher platform that allows privacy with accessibility.

WORK OF combined effort (above) between architect. William Lindhout, and his aggregate man, Fritz Iselin of Detroit Marble Company, and a second grade boy, who was the artist on the original drawing depicting the story of the happy, polka-dotted giraffe who formed a bridge for the little children to cross the river to go to school. The mural is out of lovely shades of aggregate and was a gift to the school from Lindhout. He did not anticipate it would be a time consuming project. There are only 24 players on the St. Agatha roster. Most schools have twice that number.

What's more of the 24. fewer than 15 carried the load for St. Agatha. The others got in after the game * was wrapped up.

St. Agatha rebounded after spotting St. Theresa an early touchdown on a fumble which turned into a 65-yard scoring gallop.

But once that badness was out of their systems, there was no stopping the St. Agatha players.

Led mostly by the running of Dennis McKenna and the passing of Mike Walsniak, St. Theresa took control and remained in command the rest of the way.

McKenna scored his team's first three touchdowns. The first time he went 26 yards. Next he grabbed a 16-yard TD pass from Walsniak. Then it was McKenna on an eight-yard dash into pay land.

A great pass down the middle from Walsniak to Mike Sweeney covered 44 yards and produced the fourth St. Agatha touchdown.

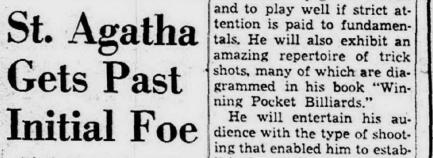

The final score was set up by Tom Rigley who raced 58 yards with an intercepted pass to St. Theresa's four from where Tom Hanlon took it across.

The victory brought joys to Trellay.

"Offensively we were very strong." he said. "Defensively, we had a couple spots I'm sure we'll correct before we take on Xavier next Sunday."

The hero defensively was John Sliwa, a linebacker who in the coach's words "made tackles all over the field."

By Jerry Wendt, Women's Editor

"How would you like to have luncheon with Helen Hayes and attend a press conference afterwards?" invited Wally Roberts, Observer Drama Editor, over the telephone.

Wouldn't you call that a perfect way to spend day? What could there be to discuss with Helen Hayes that wasn't already known? Her life is practically Americana. Her triumphs in the theater, her death of her daughter, and her home in Nyack, etc. them.

It was a day of surprises, for there is much to discover about Miss Hayes, as she is a person who is always moving forward in her life. The first surprise came when we entered the dark paneled drawing room, and caught sight of her.

Everyone knows of her inner beauty and great poise but she is a pretty woman in a doll-like way. Great wide apart blue eyes, a golden tan that was complemented by her print dress in shades of gold and a tiny figure. But the vibrant voice and magnificent sense of timing are still the same. When she speaks, every eye is on her, although she makes no attempt to dominate the conversation.

It was a privilege to attend that afternoon for it was a chance to meet the theater great. Miss Hayes, Will Geer, her partner, and the Robert Schnitzers, a handsome couple, represent the people who love the theatre and form dynasties in it. This present state is a dream come true for all of them.

As Helen Hayes puts it "For once, in my life I can read plays and act in the things that I really enjoy without having to think first of the box-office."

Miss Hayes and Geer are in Ann Arbor to appear with the Association of Producing Artists, the theatrical repertory company better known as the APA. Tuesday night will open a seven-week season beginning with a revival of "A School for Scandal."

Marcella Cisney and her husband Robert Schnitzer have a distinguished background and among Service Guild of the Church their successes are "The Skin of our Teeth" and "The was enjoyed by all. A three-Glass Menagerie" both starring Helen Hayes. This has long been a strong project of this editor, that universities should sponsor the theater so that everyone could see a play in its most perfect form, as it was originally intended to be. Miss Hayes expressed herself, "I have a very strong belief in the concept of the acting company that has continuity. It seems to me the universities are the main white hope of the theater. They are going to keep the theater alive and shining. The commercial theater simply can't afford to send out touring companies anymore, and a repertory company such as the APA makes it possible to see plays we can't see in the commercial theater."

In a profession when romantic alliances are fleeting, Miss Hayes knew a truly great love. > We asked her the question that many people have wondered:

"To what do you attribute the fact that you have always enjoyed the highest regard, not only in the theater, but as a woman, in a profession that hasn't always been noted for the respect accorded its performers?"

She shook her head thoughtfully, "I'm glad you speechmakers are given con- analytical listening.

Then smiling, quickly, she said, "I am an Irish Catholic. Part of this religion, or any religion," she added, "is to be of use to your fellow man. I have also always had the discipline of the theater. No matter what my feelings have been, I have always had to go on, because not to do so would have been to bring misfortune to those who were depending on me. If at times, it seemed hard, now I am grateful for it."

Hi neighbor! What do you know? And what do you say? Add a voice and add a face. Rosedale Gardens extends a cordial invitation to join their association.

The first function of the Women's Club is a dinner and fashion show at Jacobson's in Dearborn on Wed., Sept. 21, at 6:45 p.m. The tickets may be obtained from Jo Cole, 421-7593. There is a limited number, so hurry and obtain them.

Don't Let Stains Set

More and more laundering experts are urging homemakers to get away from the extra burden of spring and fall housecleaning by keeping things spotless throughout the year. So, start your fall clean-up - NOW.

One way is to tackle stains immediately-don't wait for them to set, then have to struggle with them when you put things away. Rapid soaking action (15 to 30 minutes) in a solution of half a cup of chlorine bleach to a gallon of water can save much grief.

THE HIDDEN WIZARDS WHO RUN DAILY CHECKS AGAINST THE IMPOSSIBLE

The Crash Test!

It is a check against the impossible. It is one of the extraordinary steps taken to guarantee each Fan at the Detroit Race Course unusual protection. On the second level of our Grandstand area, in a section the racing public sees only at a distance, is housed a maze of intricate machinery that makes up the equipment used in our Pari-Mutuel Department.

Each day ... two hours before the start of the racing program . . . slender, scholarly Fred Clark, who is the American Totalisator Company representative with us, directs an amazing 'crash' test.

There are 210 machines which issue mutuel tickets at the DRC. The clerks, who man these machines, sell tickets in $2, $5, $10, $50 and $100 denominations to Win, Place and Show.

In Clark's crash test, theoretically a Fan at each of the 210 windows buys a ticket on the same horse and the Mutuel Clerks simultaneously punch the keys to issue the tickets.

"The ticket the Fan gets actually is a receipt," Clark says, "but it isn't issued until our master system has made an acknowledgement of the wager and recorded it. In the 'impossible' situation we set up for the crash test, it takes only three to four seconds for every possible Straight, Place, Show or Combination wager to be ac-knowledged and recorded."

The Crash Test is the final step in continuing checks made every day of the 'Tote' equipment at the DRC. Tests, which require two and one-half hours, are run daily before the first wager is taken. Every cable and lamp in the entire, intricate system is checked each time.

Can the 'Tote' equipment make a mistake?

The 'Lote's' record for accuracy in handling $47,000,000,000 in wagers at tracks throughout the United States is 99.999%.

"Any time you have a combination of electrical, mechanical and human factors," Clark says, "there always will be a margin for error. But the 'Tote' constantly approaches perfection."

The 'Tote' was introduced to racing in the United States in 1933 and has been a vital part of the growth and progress the Sport has made in the past three decades.

On the giant 'Tote' Board in our infield, Fans can watch unfold the intriguing wagering story of each race. The size of the Win, Place and Show pools are shown from the moment the wagering opens until the "Off Bell" when the horses leave the gate. The pool totals are flashed on a 30 second cycle. Incidentally, the machines which issue the tickets lock automatically with the "Off Bell." The Big Board also records the amount wagered on each horse.

Knowing what the 'Tote' equipment does and understanding its superlative accuracy and the protection it affords you on each wager, are extras which I think, will add to your Racing Pleasure at the Detroit Race Course.

All our efforts and facilities are keyed to make Racing fun for you. We have a magnificent new $3,000,000 Clubhouse. It has two Dining Terraces, offering the finest in food and beverages.

We have close-in parking for 12,000 cars. There are Easy-In, Easy-Out entrances and exits on Middlebelt, Schoolcraft and Inkster Roads.

I hope you will plan to visit us soon.

Save Costs

Meals hum-drum lately? Food costs beyond amounts budgeted? Never time enough to put a really good meal on the table?

may help, according to Mrs. June L. Sears, home economist with the Cooperative Extension Service in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

"A general plan for all meals prepared for a week in advance saves time, money and helps avoid dreary, repetitious meals," she says.

Mrs. Sears suggests having well in mind the amounts of foods needed daily by the family. Their needs can be divided into basic food group: milk and milk products; meat, poultry, fish, eggs and dried beans and peas; vegetables and fruits; and bread and cereals. You may notice that supermarkets are organized somewhat the same way.

In making your plans. it's easiest to start with main dishes. Select other foods to complete the meal. Mrs. Sears suggests. Remember to balance the meals . . . nutritional requirements, time requirements and expenses.

If a main dish is compli-. cated, plan a simple dessert. If one item takes a lot of time, serve a couple of quick dishes to offset it, or you'll end up spending the ing when they're pleasant to look at as well as good to eat. "To make each meal more satisfying, plan for variety in color, form and shape, texture and temperature of the foods."

more easily balance low-cost and high-cost items in the menu to stay within your budget. Planning a head means you're more likely to avoid last minute shopping that lets extra expenses creep in. But you have to remember to keep your planning flexible enough so you can take advantage of good buys and plentiful foods.

The Value of a Spiritual Outlook

Every day we depend on "vision" that goes beyond what our eyes see. The challenge is always to find a greater vision - a deeper spiritual perception - that will guide mankind's progress, and lift men everywhere into their heritage as children of God.
