Observer Urges Support of School Board Request

Voters Decide $5.5 Million Bond Issue Monday

Plymouth voters go to the polls next Monday to ballot on $5.5 million in long term bonds for school facilities. The vote will not bring an increase in millage. The bond issue vote was set by special resolution several weeks ago, coming rapidly on the heels of a sweeping series of recommendations from a citizen's facility study group. Formally named the Citizen's Facility Study Committee, the group recommended a $17 million program to build three elementary schools, two new junior highs and the long awaited second high school.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. School officials have no idea how high voter turnout will be. The election has been sandwiched between a hot primary election last August and the regular November election. But the School Board is faced with a burgeoning enrollment—nearly 7400—and rising citizen demands for more facility.

The bonds will be financed over many years. "I can promise that these bonds will be financed within the current levy," was the explanation of school Supt. Russell Isbister recently.

The funds, if voted, would be used to buy some $1,000,000 in school sites, to build a third junior high and build elementary school number nine (eight is already in the planning stage for a Joy Rd.

site). The remainder of the funds would go for additions to present grade schools, and a contingency fund. The voting places are as follows:

Trustees OK Oldford Request for Rezoning

After a hot meeting, which developed into an unscheduled public hearing, the Plymouth Township Board overrode a denial of the Planning Commission and approved a request of Stewart

Oldford and Sons for rezoning of property adjacent to their proposed shopping center at N. Sheldon and Ann Arbor Roads, from single dwelling to commercial. It was one of the most tense sessions in recent Township history and found a group of more than 30 residents of the Park Lane subdivision, directly north of the proposed rezoning, fighting the change.

The same group had presented their objections in the public hearing before the Planning Commission earlier in the month, presenting a petition signed by 55 residents of the subdivision opposed to the change. They presented such a strong case to the Planning Commission that its members voted to deny the request. At least one of the Planners indicated in his vote that there had never been a presentation as to the need of the additional space for the shopping center.

No Money in Budget Burr Can't Add Any Firemen

William Burr, Public Safety Director of Plymouth Township, learned he'll have to get along with his current staff of regular firemen until after the approval of the 1967-68 budget.

Burr, who appeared before the Township Board in its special meeting last Tuesday, presented a work schedule for his proposed addition of 10 men to the department.

He had made the request for the 10 men at an earlier meeting and was asked to draw up a work schedule to be used by the department utilizing the new men.

Burr had the schedule ready and reasons why the men were needed. But he was told by Supervisor John McEwen that there wasn't any money in the budget to take care of as much as one additional man. The matter was tabled for additional study with the understanding that Burr should present it again at the January meeting when the Trustees start work on the new budget.

Trustees Gene Overholt, Dick Lauterbach, Ralph Garber and Louis Norman congratulated Burr upon his fine presentation but all affirmed the words of McEwen — good try but there isn't any money in the budget for additional men at this time.

Twp. Studies Possibility Of Sidewalks

Although they see little chance of starting a sidewalk program in the immediate future, the Plymouth Township Board has given some hope to interested homeowners and the Plymouth Community Board of Education.

CAROL ANN STEPHENSON is crowned Miss Sweet Charity by Community Fund Chairman Edward Schening after her selection by a panel of judges. Carol Ann will join Schening in appearances before civic, service and fraternal groups and also will participate in the torch-lighting ceremonies on Monday, Oct. 10.

Tanger Teacher Crowned Queen Of Fund Drive

Petite, blonde, personable Carol Ann Stephenson, a first grade teacher at the new Tanger elementary school, is the first Miss Sweet Charity of the annual Plymouth Community Fund campaign.

Carol Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stephenson, 11737 Amherst Court, was the choice of the judges over a field of three finalists. She will rule over all activities of the annual fund raising campaign and will attend meetings of civic, service and school organizations with General Chairman Edward Schening, of Burroughs Corp.

They will be joined by Sandra Saeger, selected a week ago as "Miss Sparkle." "Miss Sparkle" will officially light the torch for the opening ceremonies on Monday, Oct. 10 in Kellogg Park at 7 p.m. The other finalists, who will serve as a court for Carol Ann at the final victory dinner are: Joyce Cak-sakkar, an employee of the Michigan Bank, and Clara Hallman, a Michigan Bell worker in the offices on Ann Arbor Road. The announcement of "Miss Sweet Charity" was made by Fund Promotion Director Philip Scott in a luncheon meeting at the Round Table Club on Wednesday. Scott carefully read the

Observer Offices Move Into Mail on Thursday

Thursday is moving day for the Plymouth Observer. That's when the editorial, business and advertising staff move from the present quarters at the corner of S. Main and Maple Street into more spacious facilities at the sister newspaper, the Plymouth Mail, 271 S. Main Street. The move has no effect on the operations of the two newspapers, both of which are owned by Publisher Philip Power.

The Mail will maintain its same staff with the business, editorial and advertising staff in the same offices. The Observer will offer its same excellent services on the same basis as in the past. The two papers will share the facilities. "We have felt this move was necessary ever since I purchased the Plymouth Mail in June," explains Publisher Power. "This enables the Observer newspaper Group to consolidate its operation, continue all newspapers of the group and give us the additional space we needed." The telephone number of the Plymouth Mail will remain 453-5500 for all departments. The Plymouth Observer will continue to use the following phone numbers: 453-0038, 453-0039 and 453-0059 for editorial, business and advertising calls.

Reasons Why Bond Issue Should Pass

Q — WHEN IS THE ELECTION?
A — Monday, October 3, 1966.
Q — WHEN WILL THE POLLS BE OPEN?
A — Polls will be open from 7 o'clock a.m. to 8 o'clock p.m.
Q — WHERE DO I VOTE?
A — The four voting areas are unchanged from the last school election held in June, 1966. The four polling places are as follows:

- Precinct #1 — Plymouth High School
650 Church Street
- Precinct #2 — Gallimore Elementary School
8301 Sheldon Road
- Precinct #3 — Plymouth Township Hall
42350 Ann Arbor Road
- Precinct #4 — Starkweather Elementary School
550 North Holbrook Street

Q — WHAT IS THE ISSUE TO BE VOTED UPON?
A — A majority "YES" vote on the October 3 ballot will provide the authorization required to enable the School District to issue bonds in the amount of $5,500,000 in order to acquire school sites and to build and equip elementary and junior high schools needed in the next three years.

Q — WILL THE PROPOSED BOND ISSUE INVOLVE AN INCREASE IN TAXES?
A — No. Repayment of the bonds can be accommodated within the millage currently levied by the District provided the tax base continues to grow at a modest rate.

Q — WHY ARE ADDED SCHOOL SITES AND FACILITIES REQUIRED?
A — Added school sites and facilities are required because of the rapid growth of the Plymouth Community currently being experienced and expected in the years immediately ahead. The school population at the beginning of this school year is about 10% higher than at last year's opening (7379 vs. 6743) and studies by the Citizens Facility Study Committee last spring projected greater increases (in the range of 10% to 14% per year) in the next four years. If the Committee projections occur, the school population will double to slightly over 14,000 pupils in the next five years. It took eleven years for the student population to double the current year's level of approximately 7,400.

Q — WHAT ARE THE CURRENT PLANS FOR USE OF THE $5,500,000 TO BE VOTED UPON?
A — While plans must be kept flexible to meet the growth needs as they arise, current plans anticipate use of the funds as follows:

SITE PURCHASE and DEVELOPMENT	$1,000,000
BUILD and EQUIP one Middle School (Junior High School #3)	2,800,000
BUILD and EQUIP Elementary School #9 and Elementary School	1,400,000
CONTINGENCY	300,000
TOTAL	$5,500,000

Q — ARE THE PROPOSED FACILITIES AND FINANCING PLANS CONSISTENT WITH THE RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE CITIZENS FACILITY STUDY COMMITTEE?
A — Yes. The planned facilities represent the earliest projects included in the Committee's program and the bond financing is planned to be of the shortest period feasible, in line with the Committee's recommendation, in order to minimize interest costs. Present indications are that the $5,500,000 of bonds can be issued as state-qualified bonds in two series:

SERIES I of $2,500,000 as 10-Year Bonds
SERIES II of $3,000,000 as 15-Year Bonds

Q — WHAT PLANS ARE BEING MADE FOR THE BALANCE OF THE FACILITY PROGRAM RECOMMENDED BY THE CITIZENS STUDY COMMITTEE?
A — During this school year detailed studies are being made on the major remaining project — a second high school for the District. With the detailed specifications and cost estimates available from these studies, it will be possible to determine the timing and amount of additional bonding to be submitted to the voters to finance the high school and possibly the remaining elementary and secondary facilities included in the Committee's total program through the 1971-1972 school year. Its preliminary estimate for the total program encompassing the new senior high school, two junior high schools and three elementary schools, several additions and land acquisition is $17 million.

Q — WHY HAS A SUBSTANTIAL SUM BEEN INCLUDED IN THE PROPOSED BOND ISSUE FOR SITE ACQUISITION AND DEVELOPMENT?
A — The Board of Education wishes to provide for the inevitable future requirements for school sites by securing desirable land on an economical basis as possible. As residential developments expand, desirable land will become more scarce and expensive. The Citizens Facility Study Committee also recognized this situation and recommended establishing a "land bank" for the future.

Q — WHO CAN VOTE IN THE ELECTION?
A — By State law only property owners and the husbands and wives of property owners may vote in a bond election.

City Sets Extra Days For Vote Registration

Extra registration days for City of Plymouth residents have been set by City Clerk Eugene Slider. Voter registrations will be taken Saturday, Oct. 1 from 8 a.m. until noon, Oct. 6 and 7 from 5 to 8 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 8 from 8 a.m. until noon, and Oct. 10 until 8 p.m. October 10 is the last day to register to vote in the Nov. 8 election.

M. Krumm Dies at 43 Of Seizure

Stricken with an apparent heart attack, Melvin Krumm, 43, of 14532 Oxford Road, Plymouth, was dead on arrival at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia despite frantic efforts of the Plymouth Township rescue squad to revive him.

Krumm, a former member of the Mayflower VFW Post 6695 state championship color guard and currently a Trustee of the Post, reportedly had just finished mowing the lawn prior to dinner.

He complained to his wife of a pain in his chest after dinner and told her he was going to rest for a few minutes. In the meantime, Mrs. Krumm went out in the yard to store the mower. She had hardly put the mower away until one of the three daughters came running out screaming that her father was "real sick."

Mrs. Krumm called the Fire Department and firemen worked on Krumm several minutes before an ambulance arrived to rush him to St. Mary Hospital where he was pronounced dead.

Born in Livonia on May 30, 1923, Mr. Krumm was a veteran of World War II. Services were conducted in the Schrader Funeral Home in charge of Rev. Henry Walch with burial in Riverside Cemetery.

Surviving are: his wife, Mrs. Eileen Krumm; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Krumm of Plymouth; three daughters, Janis, Linda and Nancy at home; and one sister, Mrs. Dorothy Fulton of Plymouth.

Sisters of Mercy Dedicate Complex in Farmington

A bright new glittering jewel has been added to the skyline of Farmington Township. It is the Sisters of Mercy Provincialate at 11-Mile and Middlebelt Road which was dedicated over the past week. With appropriate ceremonies it took its place as one of the real man made beauty spots of the area.

cialate (the nerve center of the Province) the complex which is situated on a 150-acre tract of land, much of it still in its natural state, also includes the Mother of Mercy Novitiate and Our Lady of Mercy High School. Glistening in the warm autumn sun it was officially dedicated Saturday morning with a solemn high mass celebrated by the Most Reverend John F. Deardon, Archbishop of Detroit and The Most Reverend Charles A. Salathe, Auxiliary Bishop of Grand Rapids, gave the homily.

Close to 600 invited guests that included state and county officials, members of the clergy, Sisters of Mercy and professional associates attended the dedication ceremonies and the dinner that followed. And there was a steady stream of guests during Sunday's open house.

The new complex is striking and its architecture basks in the beauty of Nature in the raw.

Simplicity is the principal concept of Giffels and Rosetti, Detroit architects who designed the complex. The white colonnades fronting the Provincialate and Novitiate lend a graceful sweep to the low structure, which eventually rises to the dominant point, the Novitiate Chapel. The chapel's copper roof curves and ascends, symbolizing raised hands in prayer.

The building materials of native field stone and exposed sand-blasted concrete are surrounded by both landscaped areas and natural, wild settings. Sculptured, outdoor stations of the cross lead to a white concrete and bronze shrine on a small peninsula. And to add to the beauty a lake separates the Provincialate and Novitiate from the High School.

This latest complex, pride of the Detroit Province, is one of nine provinces of the Union of Religious Sisters of Mercy of the Americas. It branched out from the Cincinnati province in 1940 and now takes in Michigan, Indiana, Iowa, and Argentina.

Mother Mary Carmelita Manning was the first Mother Provincial as well as the founder of Mercy College of Detroit and Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital.

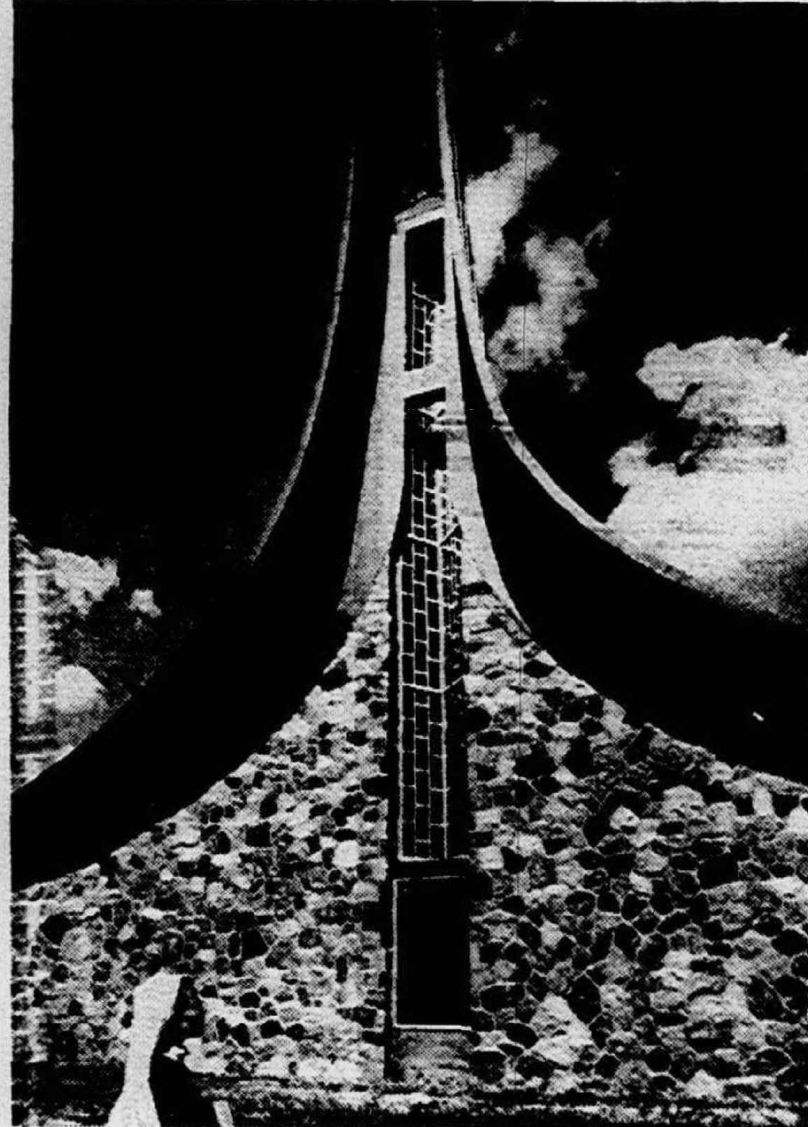

The present Mother Provincial is Mother Mary Justine Sabourin, a native of Alpena and Saginaw, under whose direction the new Farmington Township complex was designed and constructed.

Opening of the new complex marked the beginning of new traditions. For the past 25 years the candidates for sisterhood entered and studied on the campus of Mercy College in Detroit. They will now enter and study at the new complex. There are 38 postulants in the first class.

It also marks the first wearing of the new habits of navy blue and long sleeve white blouse in place of the heavy black dress, cape and net veil formerly worn by the community's first year candidates.

ENTRANCE TO PROVINCIALATE — White concrete colonnades capture both majesty and simplicity along vincialate. Motif is repeated along front of Mother of Mercy Novitiate.

NOVICE IN FRONT of chapel—Hands raised in prayer are symbolized in the structure of the Novitiate chapel of the new Detroit Province Sisters of Mercy Farmington complex.

Livonia Mall to Show Leather Fashion Fair

Something exciting as well as entertaining is in store for shoppers at the Livonia Mall starting Thursday, Sept. 29, and continuing through Saturday, Oct. 8.

The Mall area has been converted into a huge stage for one of the most colorful Fashion Shows presented by the combined efforts of the merchants of a shopping center.

Leather Fashion Excitement on the Mall is the theme of the Fair to be presented by the Livonia Mall Shopping Center, in cooperation with the Leather Industries of America.

Specially made backgrounds have been placed throughout the Mall areas and "Instant Fashion Shows" will be presented by live models and a moderator who explains the wide use of leather in this season's fashions.

ion ensemble by the use of the proper leather accessories," said Ann Boyer, L.I.A. coordinator, and consultant.

Eight shows have been planned for the 10 day period. Evening shows at 7 p.m. will be presented on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 29, 30 and Oct. 1, 6, 7 and 8. Two additional afternoon shows will be presented on the two Saturdays at 2 p.m.

"The same effect will be created during the hours when there are no live model shows by the use of Manikins. The display backgrounds will be in the Mall areas at all times and if anyone cannot make it to the live shows they will be able to enjoy the color and excitement of the new Fall Fashions in Leather just the same," Mrs. Boyer stated.

The show is the first in a series to be shown throughout the United States by the Leather Industries of America.

Grant Lesser Charge in Murder Case

Second Front Page

Wednesday, September 28, 1966 Page ★ 3-A

ACCUSED MURDERER ducks away from camera as he is being led into court in Farmington Township by a police officer for examination before Judge Walter on a charge of first degree murder.

DA Makes Surprise Request

John Lee Ott got a partial reprieve last Friday afternoon.

In a surprise move, John Bain, Oakland County Prosecuting Attorney, asked that the first degree murder charge on which Ott was being held for the alleged shooting and killing of his long time friend, Donald Garren, 23, of Whittington, last July be changed to a charge of murder in the second degree.

The request was made at the examination before Judge Walter in the Township Court Room and Russell Kent, the defense attorney, readily agreed. As a result the accused was held over for arraignment before Judge Clark Adams in Circuit Court on Oct. 5 at 9 o'clock in the morning.

Thirteen witnesses had been called for the examination last Friday and they were on hand when the surprise move was announced and they were told by Judge Walter that there was no need for taking testimony.

The defendant, a slender, dark-haired 22-year-old, sat silently in an outer room for more than an hour before he was taken to the court room to hear the decision.

While witnesses fidgeted about they were told that no action could be taken until a court stenographer arrived. "She is on her way," it was announced, "but we can't do anything until she arrives."

After her arrival there was another long delay while the attorneys huddled with the Judge. It was during this huddle that the decision was made to ask for the change in the charge from first to second degree murder.

According to the charge the alleged shooting and murder was the result of an argument over a $50 debt which Ott claimed Garren owed him for help on a house painting job.

Police said that the shooting took place about 1 a.m. when, according to reports, Ott appeared at Garren's home during a party attended by several members of the Drifters Motorcycle Club to which both belonged and demanded payment. Garren allegedly fired one shot from a .22 caliber pistol, hitting no one and Ott left. He returned shortly thereafter with a rifle and traded several shots with Garren.

In this exchange Garren was shot in the chest and abdomen and died about an hour later in Botsford General Hospital.

College Revises Dropout Policy

A revision of admission policy to spell out how non-high school graduates can enter Schoolcraft College has been announced by college officials.

The new rules are aimed primarily at the high school dropout, but apply equally to the advanced student now attending high school. The rules were developed in a series of conferences between college authorities and administrators of high schools in the college district, and were approved by college board of trustees.

The rules apply only to residents of the college district and provide separately for non-graduates who are 20 or older, and those under 20.

In each instance, students may apply for courses in either academic work or vocational-technical areas.

Under the new policy, non-graduates who are 20 or older may apply for admission as special students and will be admitted to those courses in which their success seems probable as indicated by their high school record, college counseling tests and personal interviews.

These students will be reclassified as regular students when individual program deficiencies have been removed.

Non-graduates not yet 20 will be considered for admission as special students under four conditions, according to the new policy:

They must have completed at least eight high school units from a high school recognized by the State Dept. of Education.

They will be eligible for consideration only after the lapse of one full school year or after earning one additional high school unit of credit after leaving high school.

They must present a written recommendation from their high school superintendent.

They will be admitted only to those courses in which their success seems probable as indicated by their high school record, college counseling tests and personal interviews. Regular status will be granted to these students when program deficiencies are removed.

DRC Ok's Shopping Spree

For the third straight year officials of the Detroit Race Course have agreed to absorb the cost of a $1,000 shopping spree to be awarded in conjunction with Wonderland Center's anniversary celebration, October 7-15.

The agreement was announced by Frank Liddy, DRC general manager, and Ernie Epps, Wonderland's advertising and promotion director.

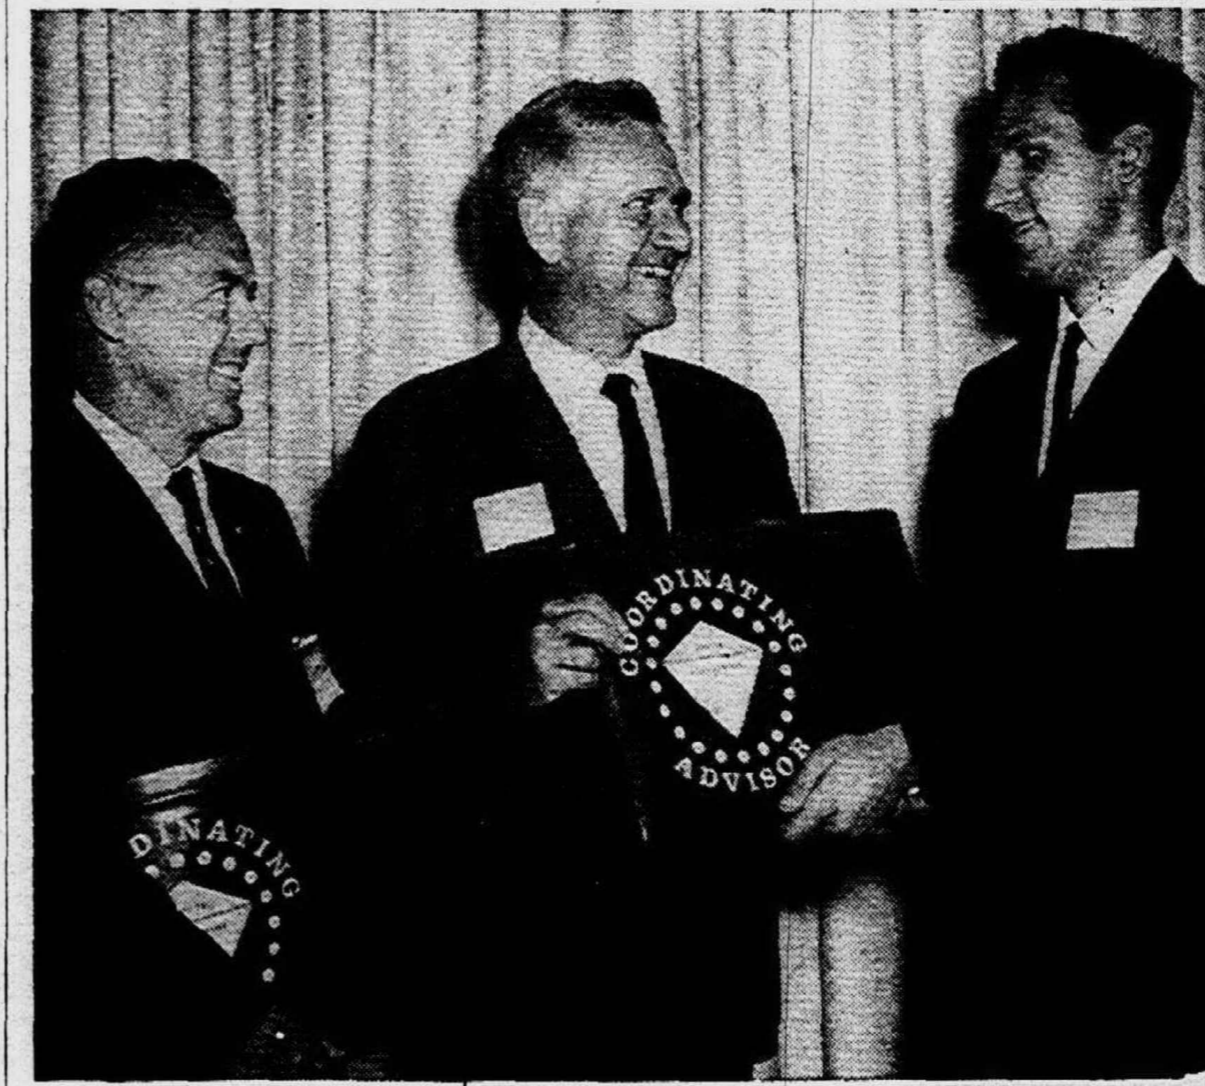

In addition, the popular Livonia race course will honor 20,000 free-admission tickets to be distributed at Wonderland beginning Oct. 5. Each ticket will include a stub which must be deposited before Oct. 19 at the racing plant at Schoolcraft and Middlebelt.

A special DRC "prize booth" will be in operation from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. on the Wonderland mall, beginning Oct. 5. The booth will be located near Lerner Shops.

Epps stressed that only one ticket will be given to a person and that no tickets will be distributed to those under 21 years of age.

In 1965 the $1,000 "windfall" went to Steve Goleniak of Detroit. The 1964 winner was Mrs. Joanne Strauss of Plymouth.

The winner will be permitted to select $1,000 worth of merchandise of his choice at any of Wonderland's 57 stores and service centers.

TWO OF FOUR MEN employed in the Plymouth area, and described by Chester P. Ogden, administrative vice-president of the Detroit Edison Company and president of Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan, as "cream of the crop" and

4 Area Business Leaders Will Advise JA Groups

Four area businessmen have been chosen by Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan to implement JA's new coordinating adviser at the JA Plymouth business center which is in operation four nights a week at 858 West Ann Arbor Trail.

The men who will each take over the coordinating advisorship one night a week for 30 weeks are: Frank Marshall of the Burroughs Corp., James Wilson of the Livonia Chevrolet Plant of General Motors Corp., Mason McKeel of Western Electric and Larry Furrow of Ford Motor Company's Transmission and Chassis Division in Livonia.

Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan operates the largest JA program in the United States, with some 8,000 junior and senior high school students organizing each fall into their own business companies.

One of the principle reasons for introducing a new adviser system, according to Chester P. Ogden, who is administrative vice-president of The Detroit Edison Company and president of Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan, is to achieve the most efficient use of adviser manpower.

When the Junior Achievement program gets underway Oct. 10 in the area, approximately 400 students from local high schools will form into 20 or more brand new JA companies. In the past each company has been sponsored by a local parent company which provided at least three advisers.

Thus under the old system at least 60 advisers would be needed this year. However, under the new system, with one coordinating adviser at the helm each night, a JA center can operate with a minimum of three advisers for all companies in operation at the center that night.

Because of the size of the Southeastern Michigan operation, the use of the new coordinating adviser system is being watched by JA operations all over the country.

Only 80 men were chosen as coordinating advisers, and at a recent meeting scheduled to acquaint them with procedures, Ogden told the men, "At the risk of using cliches, I can't think of any better way to describe you men than as the 'cream of the crop' and also 'trail blazers.' Hundreds of business people give a great deal of their time to the Junior Achievement program, but the success of everything that others

Wonderland Has Big Anniversary Plans

The largest audiences in Wonderland Center's seven-year history are expected to see and hear two of the nation's best known names in "big bands" on Oct. 7 and 14.

As a highlight of the center's seventh birthday party, one-hour musical concerts will be presented by the world famous Glenn Miller and Jimmy Dorsey orchestras, along with vocalist Joan Shepherd.

Scheduled for Oct. 7 is the Glenn Miller orchestra, directed by Buddy DeFranco, winner of every major poll as the top clarinetist in the U.S. for the past 15 years.

DeFranco's woodwind instrument supplies the distinctive reed-section sound that has made the "Glenn Miller sound" world-famous. The Miller orchestra will present two one-hour concerts at 7 and 9 p.m. on Oct. 7.

Teachers' Group Moves to Garden City

The Michigan Education Association's Region 2 office, which covers virtually all of Wayne County school districts outside of Detroit, is busy moving into its new offices in Garden City.

Richard Gray, field representative for the largest teachers' organization in the state, said that the M.E.A. should complete its moving operations by the end of this week.

The M.E.A. field office, formerly on the northwest side of Detroit, will be housed on the second floor of the Orin Mazzoni Jeweler's building, on the southeast corner of Ford Road and Middlebelt.

Purpose of the new location is to better serve the people in Region 2; to allow us more office space; and to afford better access to our membership, Gray said.

It's 100th Birthday For Michael Klinski

Happy 100th. That was the greeting given Michael Klinski, 45181 Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth Township, following a centennial Mass of Thanksgiving in Our Lady of Good Counsel Church Tuesday, Sept. 27, offered by Fr. Byrne.

Born in Germany, Mr. Klinski came to the United States as a boy. He owned several businesses in Detroit at various times and bought the old Ford farm on what was then Golden Road but is now Ann Arbor Road, some 55 years ago.

He started a greenhouse on the 80-acre farm in 1932 and was in that business until 1959 when he finally decided to retire.

At the present, Mr. Klinski resides with a daughter, Mrs. Louis Kanka, at the Ann Arbor Road address.

He and his late wife were the parents of eight children, three of whom are still living. These are: Mrs. Kanka, Edward and Lewis Klinski.

He has 10 grandchildren and 20 great grandchildren and the distinct honor of having five of his grandchildren and great grandchildren

Livonia Girl Reigns as Miss Sugar 'N Spice

Although she looks a bit like the little "Skipper" doll, Livonia's Cathy Gee is a real-life "doll," who was chosen from almost 8,000 contest entrants, to reign as Michigan's Miss Sugar 'N Spice.

It all began when a board of judges interviewed the 10 finalists who were selected from 550 Livonia area entries on the basis of their photographs and the reasons the girls listed as to why they were seeking the title.

Cathy Gee, Susan Harris, Suzy Blake, Kip Garwood, Donna Justus, Angela Kroes, Susan Peters, Fawn Dillon, Vicki Skerritt and Karen Evans were sweet samples of "what little girls are made of."

Having to settle for just one winner presented the judges with a bit of dilemma, but it was Cathy who was given a bouquet of carnations and a banner proclaiming her as Livonia's Ward's Miss Sugar 'N Spice.

That same evening, Mr. and Mrs. David Gee's ten year old daughter met with little girls representing all of the Ward's stores in the state, and Cathy was chosen to be Michigan's youthful Ambassador of Charm and Good-Will for Montgomery Wards.

Cathy received over $1,000 in prizes, which includes the trip she and her mother, Gail, will be taking to San Francisco in the near future. As to the Miss Wendy Ward and Miss Sugar 'N Spice contests, they were open to all girls, but many of the entrants were graduates of Sponsor Wendy Ward's classes in fashion and poise. The Wendy Ward courses (Jr. Sophisticate, 15 to 19 years, Wendy Ward 12-15, and Sugar 'N Spice, 5 to 11), are taught by professional models at one hour class sessions each Saturday for six weeks, at all Ward's stores in southeastern Michigan.

The charm school courses are available to all girls, and cost only $7.50, for Ward's underwrites the actual costs as a public relations service. Now just how did such an idea come to be?

It was about five years ago that two Livonia neighbors, Loretta Weller and Barbara Loren visited Ward's Wonderland Store and came away impressed with the quality of merchandise and array of fashions this new Ward's store had available to teens.

They got to talking — with one idea leading to another — and they decided that Ward's would be wise to teach young girls how to dress fashionably on a budget.

Armed with the conviction that lessons in fashion and poise would mean a great deal to teen-age girls, and to the store, they convinced "the powers that be" that Wendy Ward would be an excellent teacher and symbol of good community relations.

Barbara and Loretta (each the mother of two sons) then "adopted a daughter who has since grown by leaps and bounds, with "Wendy" presently serving girls in 200 Ward's stores across the country. Miss Sugar 'N Spice, Wendy's little sister, made her appearance just last fall.

It was exciting and gratifying for these young women to meet with more than 5,000 of their Wendy Ward "graduates" at a reunion held recently at the Michigan State Fair.

And not long ago they were invited to be guests on the TV show, "To Tell The Truth," where their secret was that "20,000 teens have passed through our charm school."

Madonna Grads Will Install New Officers

Newly-elected Madonna College Alumnae Association officers will be installed into office on Sunday, Oct. 2 at the college.

New officers are: Janet Henry, president; Mary Kilroy, vice president; Cecily Farragher, executive secretary; Mrs. Harriet Stocki, recording secretary and Wanda Okasinski, treasurer.

New chapter chairmen are: Detroit — Mrs. Mary Ann Daniels; West-Suburban — Miss Mary Ann Thoms, and Saginaw-Bay City — Mrs. Theresa Wujkowski.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. John Shada, an active member of the National Council of Catholic Women and the Christian Family Movement. She will speak on "The Wonderland World of Women."

The gathering will begin at 1 p.m. with Mass at the campus chapel of the Residence Hall, after which a luncheon will be held.

Two Livonians Accepted in New WSU Law School

This year's Wayne State University 336-member freshman Law School class will be significant to those associated with WSU legal education, for it will be the first class to initially occupy and fulfill all requirements toward a law degree in the University's new Law School structure.

The $2.5 million two-building complex connected by a 50-foot arcade is located on the east side of Second Avenue between Ferry and Palmer Avenues.

Those in the freshmen class from this area are: Thomas J. Baron, 11018 Auburndale, and Duane Henry Blumke, 14319 Blackburn, Livonia.

Athletic Directors Steve Sebo of Virginia, Dan Devine of Missouri and Forest Evashevski of Iowa were all one-time assistant football coaches to Biggie Munn at Michigan State.

APPOINTMENT of Dale E. Barr, former teacher at Huron Valley Schools in Highland, as sales manager and customer relations manager for Swanston Moving & Storage Co., Livonia, was announced by Elsie M. Wright, owner. Barr, the father of four children, has resided in Milford for four years and is a graduate of Olivet College.

Youths May Apply For Service Academies

Garden City and Westland youths between 17 and 22 desiring attending a service academy have until Nov. 1 to apply to Congressman William D. Ford, whose 15th district includes both communities, at 1006 House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

Congressman Ford said that full information and application forms may be obtained by writing to him at that address. "Applicants must be at least 17 years of age and no older than 22 as of next July 1, to qualify for appointment next year," Ford said. Applicants must be single, be United States citizens, and reside in the 15th Congressional District.

Rotary Club Heads Local Torch Drive

Westland's newly-formed Rotary Club, equipped with everything except its charter, will head the United Foundation's Torch Drive this fall among local businessmen.

Division Chairman is Donald Unwin pointed out that his captains and their workers will be contacting small merchants with a quota set at $865.25. Larger concerns, such as shopping centers and banks, are holding their own Torch Drive collections.

The drive to contact 170 merchants got underway last Friday and will continue for the next few weeks.

Driving Requires 2,000 Decisions Daily

Traffic accidents will not subside until motorists learn to make driving decisions correctly, quickly and regularly. The average city driver must make as many as 2,000 decisions a day behind the wheel, proof enough of the need for constant driver attention and a willingness to adjust to conditions.

Wayne Schools Join Group Promoting Regional Unity

The Wayne Community Board of Education, whose district includes most of Westland, agreed to participate in the "Committee of One Hundred" whose aim is to promote inter-governmental cooperation on regional problems.

School Supt. Harry Howard recommended membership in the group, commenting that their aims and objectives are concurrent as the school districts.

"I feel we should offer our assistance and participate in any way possible," Howard concluded.

The school board agreed to seek membership into the proposed Southeast Michigan Council of Governments of the Committee of One Hundred, the County agency to join.

In information given to board members, it was pointed out that the committee is made up of public officials in the region "reviewing voluntary governmental cooperation to find more effective ways of working together to resolve common metropolitan problems."

Answering the question on why a Council of Governments is needed, the committee said that it believes that more than 400 local governmental agencies serving four million persons are "bound together physically, economically, and socially into one larger regional community."

"Our dilemma is to retain local community home rule while combining our total regional resources for the challenges beyond the capability of any one community," the committee said.

"The committee believes that the expansion of effective interlocal cooperation through the leadership of a council of local governments is the best solution to this dilemma.

"The council will be organized on a voluntary basis and each member local and the council must function according to state law and through mutual agreements within present political structures."

One purpose of the council would be to provide a forum and organization for the "study, discussion, identification, and definition of regional problems and opportunities" with the council fostering, developing, reviewing, and implementing regional plans for growth, development and conservation. Membership is open to all governmental units in the counties of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe, St. Clair, and Washtenaw.

Work of the council will be divided into the areas of general cooperative services; health, education, and welfare; public safety; public works, and regional planning. All staff operations would be supervised by a full-time director responsible to the executive committee.

"A realistic" budget of $250,000 is proposed with about half, or $125,000, now being contributed to regional operations by the counties. It is proposed that the other half of the budget be supported by local governmental agencies.

The first order of business of the council, its spokesman said, would be to "provide leadership in developing a consensus for legislative proposals to strengthen local governments and the tools of intergovernmental cooperation."

Applications Available For Navy ROTC Tests

Applications for the Navy's 21st annual regular ROTC qualification test are now available according to John Hoben, assistant principal of Plymouth High in charge of counseling.

The nationwide examination will be given on Dec. 10 and all eligible male high school seniors and graduates may apply.

On the basis of this test, personal interviews, medical examinations, and other factors, Hoben explained, over 1,700 young men will enter the regular ROTC program as midshipmen at NROTC units in 52 colleges and universities throughout the nation.

Male citizens of the United States who will be at least 17 but not yet 21 on June 30, 1967, and who are now high school seniors or graduates may be eligible to apply for the test.

A successful candidate receives financial aid for four years of college. This includes tuition and educational fees, books, uniforms and $50 per month subsistence allowance. After successfully completing baccalaureate degree requirements and naval training, graduates are commissioned as officers in the U.S. Navy or Marine Corps.

Registrations for the test will close Nov. 18. Bulletins with eligibility requirements and qualifying test applications are available from Hoben at his office in the senior high building.

Soroptimists Set Annual Hand Knit Show on Oct. 15

The Plymouth Soroptimist Club will hold its annual hand knit show on Oct. 15. The event is one that Plymouth residents look forward to as it gives them a chance to view colorful sweaters, stoles, dresses, hats, and other hand knit items.

Chairing the event is Mrs. Evelyn Jarvis. She will be assisted by Mrs. Helen Van Dyke and Mrs. Evelyn Arthey and Soroptimist members.

PLYMOUTH DPW

The Department of Public Works mowed and cleaned at Riverside Cemetery and took care of two funerals.

One hundred and fifty catch basins were cleaned, wood was picked up from the trees that were cut down by Green Ridge Nursery — cleaning and mowing of the city parks was continued. The community building was cleaned following the Fall Festival Activities.

Sweeping was done three times in the business district and 34 fire hydrants were painted and painting was continued on sign posts and signs and meter posts were straightened where it was needed.

Various places were graveled and local streets were cold patched. The weed mowing on vacant property was finished. Signs were being assembled for installation for the Plymouth Community Fund Drive. One sanitary sewer was flushed, one manhole cleaned and a manhole cover replaced.

Routine checking of water pumps; reading and service to meters was continued and standby service was provided with one man on duty at the well field all night to watch the controls until the replacement pump could be put in. A broken water main on Elm Street was repaired.

"Y" To Stage Apple, Cider Sale Friday

Members of the Plymouth Y.M.C.A. will hold an apple and cider sale Friday afternoon (Sept. 30) in the central parking lot.

The cider will come from apples that are being picked this week and then taken to the Dexter cider mill.

Work on the project is in the hands of the Junior High boys and the senior Hi-Y groups.

The "Y" will sponsor a dance at The Chip Saturday night from 8:30 to 11 p.m. with the Illusions furnishing the music.

Plymouth Twp. Residents Give Planners Hot Time

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad's plans for rail spurs to serve the Sheldon Rd. Ford plant hit heavy opposition from residents in the area at last Wednesday's Plymouth Township Planning Commission meeting.

A scheduled public hearing developed into a two-hour marathon discussion as residents of Ridgewood, a single row of exclusive homes off N. Territorial Road, protested the C&O's plans.

In the end the matter was tabled for a special meeting to be held this week.

Two main objections were filed: one, that the rail spurs would mean a lot of noise; and two, that the Ford plant was already in place, and if rail lines were needed, they were a foregone conclusion.

"The objections were vociferous," temporary chairman Irving Rozin said, commenting on the stormy session. He outlined what the railroad proposes:

- 1—Two tracks to run directly to the rear of the plant.
- 2—Five tracks that would fan out to form five stub ends.
- 3—An additional track running parallel to the existing main line.

The petition seeks to rezone land north of the tracks. Rozin indicated the planning commission was not sold on the absolute necessity of the proposal.

They reviewed several other alternatives, including moving the spur and stubs west, thus effectively blocking the freeway route. They also considered using Six Mile switch yards, and moving the fan of stubs and spur further north away from the homes on Ridgewood.

The railroad's objective is to be able to assemble a 100-car train.

C&O officials assured planners the tracks would serve Ford only, and not act as a central assembly and dispatch yard.

A proposal to use switch tracks in the City of Plymouth was discounted as impossible when a C&O traffic engineer noted the tracks were near peak capacity now.

Planning consultant W. C. Johnson had assessed the problem this way:

"The present train schedule on the C&O tracks includes nine freight trains in each direction and three passenger trains in each direction for a total of 24 trains per 24 hour period.

"The plan for the track layout provides for one inbound track, and one outbound track with five storage tracks . . . and with two future tracks . . ."

"There is no question regarding the need for spur track facilities for the Ford plant and, no doubt, there is

Seniors Ask Housing on City Land

A petition with over 200 signatures urging that the City build the senior citizen housing development behind the Christian Science Church has been filed at City Hall.

According to Mrs. Charles Neal, 676 Burroughs, a group of citizens is anxious to get the project underway.

The City owns the land, which is a park area between Penniman Ave. and West Ann Arbor Trail.

Mrs. Neal originated the petition on behalf of the City's retirees, she reports. The matter will get official action next Monday, Oct. 3 when the City Commission meets in regular session.

The senior home project, with a Federal grant of nearly $900,000 already obtained, has hit several impasses.

The first occurred when the Public Housing Authority did not approve preliminary drawings.

The second came when the owner of the proposed site at Penniman and Union St., Jack Wilcox, vowed he would never sell his land.

Recruiter Gets Award

Sgt. Robert Reed, Army Recruiter for the Wayne area, won the Army's top recruiting award for the Detroit area.

Lt. Don Paul, the Army's public information officer for Michigan, presented the award while on a visit to the Wayne Recruiting office located downstairs in the Wayne Post Office.

Reed enlisted 210 men and women from the Wayne area during the one year period ending last June.

Ex-Livonia Teacher Is MEA Editor

Howard O. Ward, journalist and former Livonia Junior high teacher, has been appointed managing editor of the Michigan Education Association news publication.

Before joining the Livonia teaching staff, Ward taught in Lincoln Park and Wayne. He was chapter president of the Wayne Education Association and became editor of the MEA Region II Reporter while teaching in Lincoln Park.

As editor of the Livonia Educator's Association Focus, this year, he won first place for layout from the Educational Press Association of America.

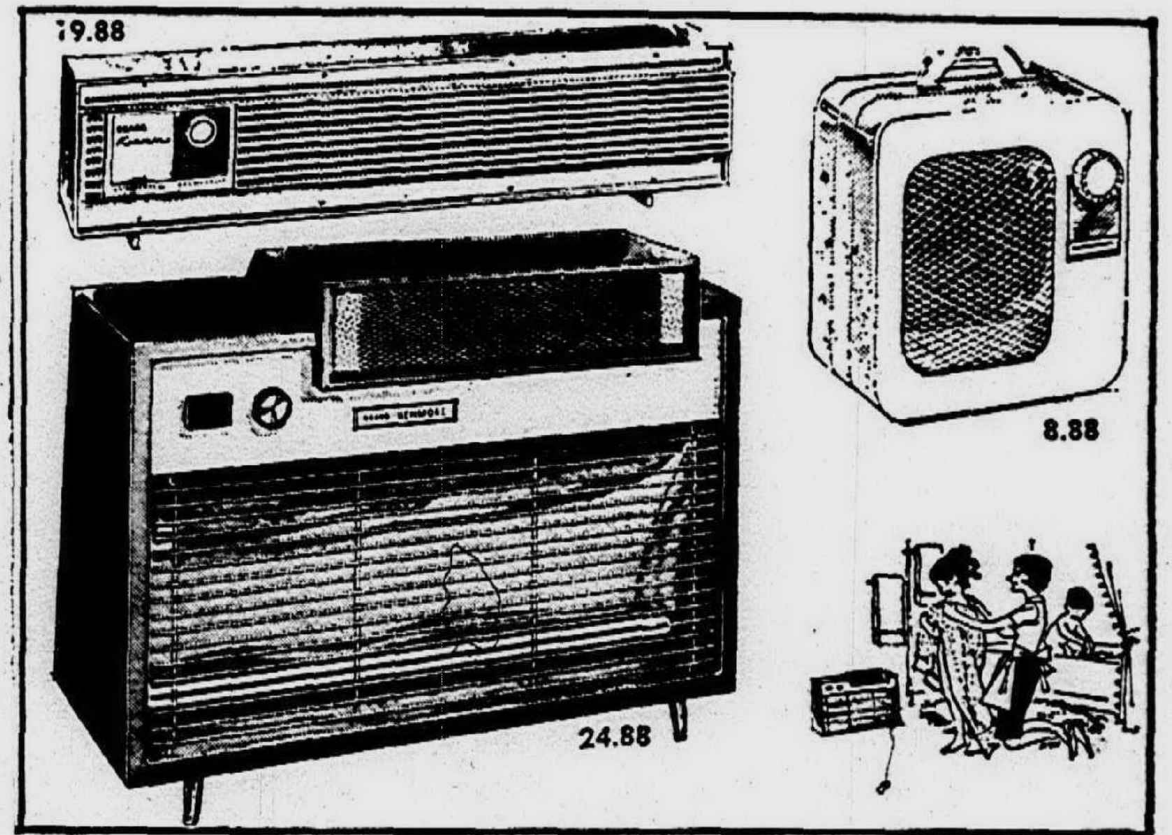

Ward has served as president of the Livonia Education Association and as a delegate to the region, state, and national assemblies. He was on the MEA Publications Commission for six years, two years as chairman.

Contentment Connected To Razor Strap?

When the casualty lists from the war in Vietnam are announced, from time to time, we are told the number of men who were lost in action, the number of men who were injured and the number of planes that were lost. These are tangible things.

What they fail to tell are the intangible losses we have suffered such as:

- 1—Loss of contentment in our way of life.
- 2—Respect for law and order.
- 3—Breakdown of our moral standards.

As a result of these losses we have become a nation of jittery people reaching a new peak in selfishness on a creed of every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost. And with this change has come a new generation of young folks who are helping to build up a ghastly crime wave across the land.

With each new wave comes the cry, "What's wrong with the young folks of today?" At the same time an attempt is made to supply the answer by telling ourselves, "The youngsters are not entirely to blame, it is the parents who are delinquent and must be blamed."

Few of use stop to realize that we are reaping the harvest from the seeds sown in an atmosphere brought about by unwanted and unpopular wars and that in such an atmosphere we have traded contentment for jitters and fear.

Few of us stop to realize that we are generation of young folks—these so-called "teen-age hell raisers"—were born since the hydrogen bomb was dropped on Hiroshima. From the moment it was dropped we have lived in a world that could be obliterated by one simple little mistake that would touch off an atomic war.

First it was the "police action" in Korea, then the fracas in Laos, and next the "offer to aid the South Vietnamese" that have kept us on edge... living in fear.

In an atmosphere such as this, young folks have a tendency to ask, "What does life hold for me?" In many cases, born of parents who engaged in defense work from the time of World War II, with little heed to building a modern home, these young folks have not enjoyed the right type of environment from the start.

The young boys know, too, that sooner or later, they will be called to service and their life plan interrupted. So, they adopt the attitude of "having a good time before I go to the Army." Now, get groups of them together, and it isn't very long until you have groups that toss aside any respect for law and order and they engage in activities, — simple enough at the start — that lead to crime, as their way of "having a good time before I go."

This is not to mean that the actions of the young folks are to be shrugged off. The present condition is deplorable. But the point is simply this—the present generation is not wholly to blame. They are products of a people that were forced to swap contentment for the jitters.

Is there a solution? What could it be?

An honest and just peace in the present unpleasantness in Vietnam would start to turn the tide back to contentment. When the threat of war and an atomic holocaust is removed we will return to having a greater respect for law and order and a way of life that will stamp out selfishness.

And with this would come a new generation not bent on "having fun before I have to go to the Army."

In the meantime, what is the solution? Eternal vigilance. We must keep watch so that the young folks don't wander away from the straight and narrow and we must try, by example, to show the way.

One wonders, sometimes, if our modern techniques aren't to blame for our troubles. For instance, the electric shaver has tossed the old razor strap into the limbo of forgotten things. And it was the razor strap that played a leading part in raising youngsters in times past.

Perhaps, we have out-smarted ourselves.

Citizens, Look To Source

There comes a time when elected officials should sit down and evaluate some of their actions that are causing valued employees to leave jobs rather than take the ridicule and public criticism that has come out of too many open meetings of the governmental bodies in recent months.

The point at hand comes after the resignation of Kenneth Fisher, longtime police chief of the City of Plymouth, who ends 25 years of service to that community by retiring at the relatively young age of 47.

It was the fourth resignation of a department head in Plymouth in a period of less than two years. The wave started when City Manager Albert Glassford, who had served for 16 years, quit to accept a position at Albion.

Then followed in succession City Clerk Richard Shafer, Superintendent of Public Works Joseph Bida and now Fisher. Although members of the City Commission will be the first to say it isn't true, all resigned because of harassing tactics by the Commissioners and because they were held up to public ridicule in open meetings.

It must be qualified that all members of the Commission have been guilty of these harassing tactics, only a few are involved but the others have allowed the incidents to take place.

Some Plymouth Commissioners will take the time to point out that they had known for more than a year that Fisher planned to retire when he completed his 25 years of service and became eligible for a pension.

That could be true enough since the embarrassment of the popular police chief started well before that time and he had been fed up well in advance of last week's announcement.

Perhaps these same Commissioners will answer the question of why should a police chief resign at the age of 47 to accept a pension which he can't start collecting until the age of 60—that's 13 years away. Meanwhile, Fisher has nothing ahead but to look for another job between now and Feb. 1 when his retirement becomes effective.

He isn't a wealthy man. He could ill-afford to retire with a daughter in her second year at Michigan State University and a son in his senior year at Plymouth High. But the fact remains that he did retire because he could not longer take the needling he has been subjected to in the public meetings of the Commission.

All of which brings up the point that perhaps it's time for elected officials to remember that city employees aren't animals. They are human beings just like everyone else and they shouldn't be subjected to ridicule anymore than any other worker at any business, industry or financial institution.

In the case of Plymouth, the Commission departments should go through the City Manager hired to handle the city's affairs. He has charge of all departments. All complaints about the operations of the various department should go through the City Manager.

If the individual Commissioner feels he must hold a department head up for ridicule, then there is such a thing as a meeting with the City Manager and the department head to register these complaints.

It shouldn't be in a public meeting with the public listening in. But perhaps there are those who feel there is some publicity to be gained by sounding off in front of the citizenry.

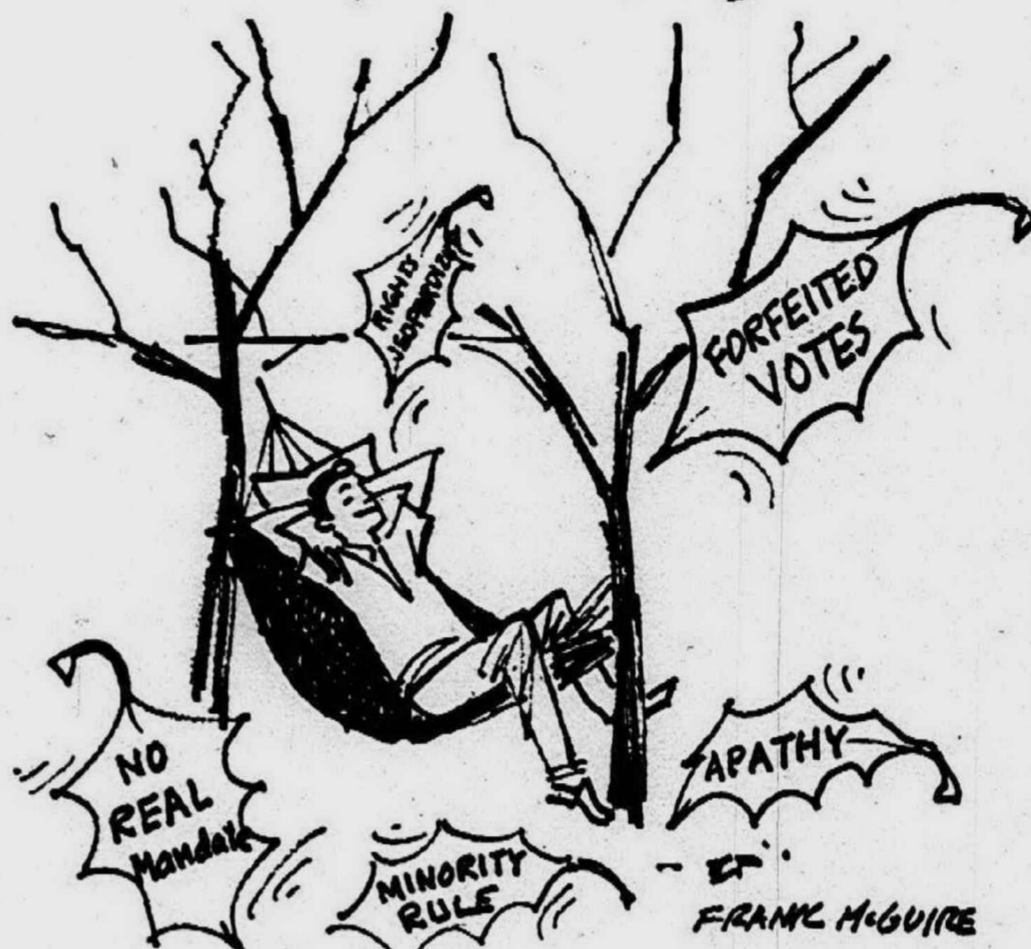

It may get some publicity at the moment but it should be evaluated against the adverse publicity when one department head after another calls it quits and goes into private industry or accepts a position with some other governmental unit.

No municipality can afford to lose men with years of experience during these turbulent years, particularly no municipality can afford to lose four of its top men in less than two years.

Editorial Creates Concern

Editor:

I was very concerned over the comparisons which were drawn by W.W. Edgar in his recent editorial comparing City administrative salaries with those of the school district. If the purpose in making this comparison was to point out how poor the city is, then the comparisons are irrelevant. Mr. Edgar might better have compared City administrative salaries to those of other cities of our population size.

The Citizens Research Council made this comparison in their study of Livonia in 1962. Their report made it quite clear that salaries and city services were low in Livonia as compared to 11 other cities of our approximate population.

If, on the other hand, Mr. Edgar hoped to convey the impression the school administrators were over-paid and did not earn their salaries, then this just is not true.

Administration of a city or school district the size of Livonia is a monumental task and few administrators know regular office hours.

The school district long ago realized, and planned for, the need to offer good salaries in order to attract and retain qualified administrative personnel. City salaries remain behind largely for lack of funds and our old belief that you are in government because of your dedication. The council has failed many times to provide funds either to raise salaries or provide funds to create badly needed administrative posts. The fact that the Mayor and other city officials are grossly underpaid could have been well illustrated without casting aspersions on the school officials.

Mr. Edgar's editorial points out to the discerning reader how far the City has fallen behind the school district in tax revenues. The school district has always supplied the strong leadership necessary to inform the voter of the school needs. There has been no leadership of this kind from either the administration or the Council. Those of us who have worked for every school millage, bond issue and parks proposal have just had nowhere to turn for the leadership necessary to press for increased city services. When some valiant City official wishes to step forward and make the needs of the City known and to press for increased tax revenue for the City, I, for one, will lend my full support to him and his cause.

PHYLLIS MURCH

Ed. Note: Did it ever occur to you, Mrs. Murch, when City officials are paid full-time salaries, as our school administrators are perhaps they could lend themselves to "leadership" as opposed to just administering. Incidentally, it was the dedication of the Mayor of the City of Livonia to make known the needs of the park proposal to the City of Livonia—and this is fact.

Re: Widening of Sheldon Road to five lanes in the area of the new Ford plant north of Plymouth.
Are there plans to create an overpass for the railroad which is just north of Western Electric Company and for pedestrian crossings near Bird School and the Junior High?
If a railroad overpass and pedestrian crossings are not part of the widening of the road, then it seems clear that the widening of Sheldon Road is not for increasing traffic flow, but: 1—A means to provide five lanes of street parking for hundreds of cars awaiting the tortoise-like crossing of trains. 2—A more spacious paved area where children have room to dodge cars or where drivers can take better aim on the tots attempting to scurry from side to side.

WILLIAM G. CASE
Plymouth

Dear Mr. Case:
You are right, Mr. Case. There are no plans for an overpass, except under Sheldon Road north of R.R. to Five Mile. There will be two lanes of traffic in either direction on Sheldon with a left turn lane in center. For complaint purposes call Al Barbour, WO 2-7670. He is in charge of this phase of planning.

OBSERVING the Scene...

By MYRA CHANDLER

The most interesting theory was broached by a New Yorker in Detroit the other day to talk to the Society of Engineers about an incident that happened in December of 1945.

It concerned five fighter planes that had just disappeared without trace or clue. Subsequently a search plane with 15 aboard also disappeared in the same general area—near Cape Kennedy where the Government chose to come and go into space.

A radio report, just before the five planes were apparently "swallowed up," indicated something strange was happening and all mechanism was out of kilter.

Now the inference and the investigation of this New York writer, was, of course, outer space people claimed, rescued, spacenapped them, and the Government felt this was a fact also, but had no proof, so said nothing.

He also broached the idea that if we chose this particular spot to leave earth's atmosphere it would be a logical place for our space neighbors to enter. But why haven't they?

I didn't hear the end of the program so I don't know what his theory was, but it occurred to me why in the heck should they.

Certainly, (I am a believer in the little green men) if they are so far advanced of us to be able to saucer in—they certainly are more intellectually advanced than we.

Now, it follows, they have knowledge of energy capable of blowing themselves apart as we have. But apparently they have advanced to the intelligence of peace on their planet.

Alas, we are far behind them.

I sincerely believe our first atomic explosion and subsequent testings have drawn them to "investigate us"—and we are being observed.

Can't you just see a routine assignment handed out—"Keep an eye on earthlings and just tell me if they blow themselves up so we can change our charts."

I think with their super-listening devices they can judge our hypocrisy, and duplicity in government.

Parents living one way while mouthing something else to our kids.

Our greed for power, more money, and success, based on personal recognition rather than accomplishment.

Our lack of real warmth for our God, our neighbors and those of different religion and color.

What if they did turn out to be green—with webbed feet? Well, who could communicate with a soul like that? Who would want to? They probably can't make a sharp buy in the stock market, shoot in the low 70's, or know how to shift four-on-the floor.

A philosophical telephone conversation the other day with Weldon O. Yeager, head of the Workmen's Compensation for the State of Michigan on GOP politics, brought the whole thing in focus for me. Weldon and I have always had our differences under the GOP umbrella—sort of like a junior Javits and Goldwater. Weldon isn't as bad as Goldwater and I'm not as good as Javits, nevertheless, we have not heard the same drummer.

But we did the other day—and he said it first. Often in our party the candidate is chosen by the powers-that-be based on his ability to win rather than his knowledge and basic integrity. And these powers-that-be always deny the helping hand.

This could be true with the Dem. party, too, but my haunts have only included GOP arenas.

I think a case in point is Jack H. McDonald. Way last Spring at the Governor's Task Force convention I persuaded Elly Peterson to talk to Jim O'Neil who said he would only run for Congress if he was assured the party would not object. They did. They had Jack picked out because they thought he could beat Billie S. Farnum over Richard Kuhn.

So they made their bet. To me Billie S. Farnum is far better qualified than Jack M. McDonald.

Billie Farnum and Jack McDonald both are liberal, they both seek Democratic and labor help—but the real difference is Jack H. McDonald is a neophyte in Governmental affairs coming from his father's excavating business to be Supervisor of Redford Township—a job he served to promote himself. He has little experience in state, fiscal, or foreign affairs.

While Billie Farnum has grown in State Government all of his adult years; been Auditor General—and is considered a conservative in fiscal spending. Farnum's ability was recognized his first term in Washington and he was put on the powerful Appropriations Committee.

Regardless of party, I think it is time we started recognizing the worth of a man based on his ability and the time to start is now.

I want those little green men to think we on earth are worth visiting.

A Few Lines Bring Back Memories

by W. W. EDGAR

A few simple lines, hidden away in the public prints a few weeks ago, awakened many fond memories of the late 20's and early 30's when all the world was gay and we were enjoying a period that now is recalled as the days of hilarious nonsense.

The few lines told of the death of Jack Laiken, who died penniless and whose body was being held at Wayne University Medical Center until someone came to claim it.

The name of Jack Laiken may mean nothing to the present generation, but he was one of the well known characters in the "days of hilarious nonsense" who had an utter hatred for work and enjoyed living by his wits instead of working with his hands.

Jack was small in stature but a giant when it came to providing humorous fodder for the fight fans when boxing was in its hey-day.

Only slightly more than five feet tall he was a midget compared to the so-called fighters he managed or "guided." But he was a big man once inside the ring and one never knew at what moment he might provide an incident that might even over-shadow the performance of his boxers.

For instance, there was a night in the Olympia when one of his fighters engaged in a close, grueling match, and as soon as the final bell rang, little Jack leaped into the ring, with a loud cry that his fighter "wuz bein' robbed." Told that the decision was being made in favor of his fighter, Jack turned to the crowd and shouted, "The boxing commission has just ordered the decision to my man." What a laugh he provided.

But my best memory of him was far removed from the fight game. One evening he sauntered into the sports department of the Detroit Free Press and surprised everyone with his appearance as there were no fights scheduled at Olympia.

"What are you doing in town?" he was asked.

"Whatinell has happened to this town," he countered, "It used to be a good town, but it sure has gone to the dogs."

He didn't wait for an answer, but just kept on—

"Now that the fight game has gone down hill I have a new racket. I am promoting a marathon dance out at the Naval Armory, but I can't get to first base. Nobody is opposing it. And marathon dancing is like publishing a book in Boston. If you can't get somebody opposing it, you're sunk."

We sat chatting for a few moments about various and sundry things, such as "what happened to the fight game," when, of a sudden, he spun around in his chair and asked, "do you know any minister in a poor church around here— one badly in need of help?"

This seemed a most peculiar question as Jack never was one to talk about church and religion.

Told that we knew several, especially on the near east side, hard by the Naval Armory where he was trying to promote the marathon dance, his eyes lit up.

"Get one of them on the phone," he said, "I want to talk with him."

In a few seconds the contact was made and we introduced them over the phone.

"Reverend," Jack began with a sly wink, "I have just been told that your Church could use some funds, I'd be glad to make a sizable donation if you would do something for me."

Jack listened for a moment, but kept nodding his head in the affirmative and we knew the conversation must have been interesting.

"Tell you what I want you to do for me—if you will" he told the good minister. "I understand they are attempting to hold a marathon dance over near you at the Naval Armory and I'd like you to help stop it by preaching a sermon against it. You know, Rev. marathon dancing is terrible. It wrecks you physically and actually makes dopes out of the people."

Jack hung up the phone. "He's going to do it," he said, "and he's going to get all the ministers on the east side to preach against it. What a break."

A week later, the marathon dance played to a packed house.

Would You Believe A 1900 Lb. Moose?

A 2,200 mile trans-Canada auto trip linked with a 1,000 mile Pacific Western Airlines flight to the Arctic Circle were the stepping stones to a hunting adventure of a lifetime for Richard F. Donna, of Yale Avenue in Livonia.

Combining the game reserves of Canada's great north west territories, with the cooperative efforts of Stan Burrell, operator of the Hungry Horse Camp, yielded a fly-in, back-packing wilderness trek that would be hard to equal on any continent.

Only recently opened to hunting, this area of the Northwest Territories and Burrell's success to operate a full scale outfitting operation, received considerable acclaim in several national publications.

Knowledge of this plus an avid interest in big game hunting prompted Donna to arrange for 10 to 14 days arctic hunt for Dall Sheep, Barren Ground Caribou (wild reindeer) and Moose. After a flight through mountain passes and canyons, filled with clouds and snow storms, game country was reached.

Then followed 10 days of hunting during which a Dall Ram with horns nearly a full curl and half was taken during a heavy snow squall that obliterated normal vision.

A caribou with near perfect antler proportions added an early bonus to the hunt. However, for Donna it was a bonus with complications. Did you ever try back-packing, with, besides regular survival gear, 150 pounds of sheep and caribou antlers. Plus additional trips for meat, which was later turned over to local Indians for making into "jerky."

Resting up from this sort of work consisted of hiking nine miles to fish in the Godlin River for Grayling and Dolly Varden Trout, (up to five pounds). Donna said they kept only as many as it was possible to carry back to their base at Hungry Horse Camp.

The last days of the hunt were spent in pursuit of one of the large Bull Moose known to live among the ageless six foot Arctic willows that cover the high treeless plateaus. Enduring the still silent Arctic nights and the snappy mornings requiring an axe to break ice to get breakfast water paid off for the hunt party.

A Moose was taken that was considered enormous by any standard. Live weight was estimated by a Canadian Wildlife Service Representative to be over 1900 pounds. The animal measured seven foot from bottom of front foot to the top of its shoulder. Antler spread was 5' 4".

Although Donna has hunted in western sections of Canada and the United States since 1957 this was the first trip to the remote sections. The only things missing from his full bag tally was a Grizzly Bear.

Special arrangements were made for flying service to the general area early last spring. All equipment was of the lightest possible design. Usually Alpine Mountain climbing items.

An unusual highlight of the trip was that Donna brought his own specially prepared Freeze-Dry and dehydrated rations for each day of the mountain hunting.

In his efforts to conquer the wilderness transportation problem Burrell has employed float planes, planes with giant doughnut tires, river barges, jet boats, tote goats, amphibious vehicles, horses, pack-dogs and back packs. . . They all have a definite role and individual restrictions.

One observation Donna brought back was, despite the hundreds of thousands of square miles of this spectacular country, the people to people relationship is like that of the small towns we know.

It is not for the ordinary tourist, was the general conclusion. As Donna says the local description for the weather is "10 months of winter and two months of poor sledding."

Spartan Stadium, home of Michigan State football, seats 76,000 persons, ranking it as the seventh-largest college-owned structure of its kind in the nation.

Investing Inquiries (Special Situations)

Q. I have a relative who has done quite well in the stock market. In discussing her success I have determined that she invests in those companies which she considers to be Special Situations. Could you elaborate on just what a Special Situation is?

A. Special situations are considered a form of speculation. They exist where some unique part of a company's operations is likely to have a substantial effect on the price of the stock. When these successful operations become well known the price action of the stock usually out performs the market.

Typical special situations might exist where: A successful company has or is about to split its stock, incur a large profit increase or has developed a quality product which holds strong promise. A good example of a special situation involving the above three characteristics is Michigan's Kelsey Hayes.

Another special situation could exist when an unprofitable company has had a change of management and is undergoing extensive product and operating reorganization. A few years ago Chrysler Corporation fell into this classification. Other special situations develop when a company spins off some of its assets to the shareholders, or when a law suit, long pending, is to be settled in the company's favor or the market price of a corporation stock is selling well below book value.

Football Event Set For Oct. 8

Dominic Marinelli, competition director for the Garden City Punt, Pass, and Kick event, open to boys between eight and 13 years of age, warns local youngsters that there are only a few days left to register.

"Registrations will close Friday night, Oct. 7," he said, "and none can be accepted later than since we must get everything ready for the program the next day."

Headquarters for the annual event is the local Ford Motor Co. dealership. Registrants must be accompanied by a parent or guardian and no charge or special equipment is needed.

Competitors will face other boys in their own age group in the areas of punting, passing, and place-kicking distance and accuracy.

Local boys will be awarded Medals of Achievement with medals to go to the first, second, and third place winners.

Garden City winners will be eligible to compete in zone, district, division events which lead up to the national finals. The national run-off will be held during the half-time ceremony at the National Football League championship game on Jan. 8 in Miami, Fla.

Ballot Deadline Tues.

Members of the Garden City Chamber of Commerce have until 12:30 p.m. next Tuesday to submit their ballots in the annual board of directors election.

Mrs. Emily Palmer, executive secretary of the chamber, said that the board will meet in its offices next Tuesday. Officers of the organization are elected from the board itself.

L.C.C. Methods Irk Westland Council

Westland City Council last week let the State Liquor Control Commission know of its dissatisfaction on the method of acting on applications for liquor licenses.

On a 6-1 vote, the Council agreed not to send a favorable or unfavorable recommendation to the LCC but only to "thank the commission for its notification" of the application to the City Council.

Council President Protem Charles McIlhargey commented that "I hope the LCC gets the message."

Seeking the SDD (package liquor) license at 2101 N. Wayne Road, is the Cunningham Drug Stores, Inc., whose representative urged the council "not to punish" the company for its ill feelings toward the state commission. The firm already has an SDM license for beer and wine.

The state agency's procedure is to ask the local legislative body if they have any objections to the applicant for a liquor license. If the city doesn't answer within 30 days, the state assumes that the city has no objections and considers that in its decision to grant or deny the license.

But since the city council only recommends approval or denial of the license with the state having the final word on it, the city has no jurisdiction over the matter anyway, McIlhargey pointed out.

He urged that a "no opinion" reply be sent to the LCC while Councilman Henry Lundquist commented that "it is hard to believe that the City Council has no authority on who comes into the city with a liquor license."

Council President Virgil Gagnon joined in by saying that he is not in favor of the Cunningham request since there is still a waiting list of local persons awaiting SDD licenses.

Councilman John Markes, who cast the only dissenting vote on the motion, felt that "it is unjust to use the petitioner (Cunningham Drug Stores) as a lever against the LCC," but he also urged that the state commission be asked not to send any more applicants' names to the city council until the present waiting list is cleared up.

The Cunningham company representative pointed out that the council "is taking its anger out on the company" and added that the firm has improved and cleaned up the building it will be occupying.

"It's not fair to use us as a scapegoat," he said.

But McIlhargey replied that the council is not penalizing the company and "I advise you to sit down," which the company man did.

District Dems Hold Registration Drive

The Democratic Club of the 15th Congressional District, which includes Garden City and Westland, is in the midst of its voter registration drive which will climax Monday, Oct. 10, the deadline to sign up to vote in the Nov. 8 general election.

John Canfield, Democratic Club Chairman with headquarters at 29417 Ford Road, Garden City, said that "we intend to register as many voters as possible in all of the communities in the district."

The chairman also outlined the party's plans for signing up the unregistered with Fred Bibber, registration chairman for the organization, conducting a block-by-block campaign to reach citizens.

The party aim is to reach persons who are now unregistered, recently moved into the district from other cities or states, and those who have not voted within the past two years.

Concerning the last classification, Canfield said that "what these people do not realize is that all they have to do is phone their city clerks. That way, they will be eligible to vote without going to the city hall."

For others, they many register by going to their city hall, or if an unregistered citizen wants to have a deputy registrar come to his house, he can call the city hall and they will send someone out, depending on the city."

The Democratic Chairman emphasized that citizens to be eligible to vote in the Nov. 8 election must have lived in Michigan for at least six months and their current city for 30 days.

Jerry West, Michigan State's outstanding senior offensive tackle, was the 1963 Michigan prep heavyweight wrestling champion.

U-M Students Aren't Panic Stricken Over Army Calls

ANN ARBOR — University of Michigan students apparently are not panic stricken by the current increased military call-up.

Since the beefing up of draft quotas and the announcement by local draft boards that all student deferments would be re-examined, there have been rumors from across the country that college men are frantically searching for ways to avoid being drafted.

It has been suggested, for example, that more men are entering graduate schools to retain their 2-S (student deferment) status until draft quotas are decreased.

At the U-M, however, three years ago 71.7 per cent of the students enrolled in graduate and graduate professional programs were men. In 1964-65, the figure remained about the same at 71 per cent.

In 1965-66, though, as the draft quotas increased, the percentage of men in graduate programs dropped to 66 per cent. In fact, for the first time in several years, the numerical increase among women in graduate programs exceeded that of men.

Another report is that men are enrolling in teacher certification programs with the intention of obtaining occupational deferments by teaching for several years rather than chance being called into service. Yet 20.2 per cent of the elementary and secondary provisional teaching certificates granted by the University this past year were awarded to men, which is below the percentage of two years ago (21.7).

Carlton Wells, an English professor who works with the teacher certification program in the Literary College notes that "although there has been an increase of 5 to 10 per cent in the number of men in teacher certification programs over the last 10 years, there has been no marked increase, since the draft question has come up."

Thomas Clark, who recently was Selective Service counselor at the University, feels that during the past year students have been more conscious of the draft. Their main concern, however, he says, "was not with being drafted, but rather with being drafted before graduating."

"Most students realize how hard it would be to leave school for two or three years and then have to pick up their education in the middle somewhere. They don't want to avoid the draft, they just want to postpone it until they graduate. In general, most men are willing to serve," Clark says.

Commenting on charges that U.S. universities are filled with students who oppose the draft, Clark said:

"There is a group of students at the University who feel that way, but the 50 to 100 people who make it up constitute less than one per cent of the student population. When more than 30,000 students are congregated in one place, it is fairly easy to find 50 to 100 students for almost any issue."

Clark's successor, Larry Katz, mentions that for the most part, student responses to the draft increase have not been in terms of protest, but rather in terms of a desire to obtain correct information concerning Selective Service System policies.

Post Office Offers Code Cards

Residents in the Observer circulation area will be offered an opportunity to ZIP Code their mailing list during October, the Post Office Department announced this week.

Letter carriers will deliver "no postage needed" cards to each of the area's residential stops beginning Oct. 10. The cards will have blanks for addresses used most often, but for which individuals do not know the proper ZIP Codes.

The project will be a feature of "ZIP Code Week" to be celebrated locally Oct. 10-15. Throughout the nation 95 million of the cards will be delivered. In cities with more than one ZIP Code, there will be two cards for each household: one for local addresses; the other for out-of-town.

In cities with one ZIP Code assigned, only an out-of-town card will be delivered since all local addresses will have the same Code number.

"This is a good time for all the patrons in this suburban area to get the ZIP Codes missing from your lists," Livonia Postmaster Arthur G. Jenkins noted. "This Christmas, ZIP Code will be as important as shopping and mailing early for the efficient and on-time delivery of record-breaking avalanche of mail expected in the pre-holiday weeks."

After filling in the street number, city and state, the cards are to be mailed back to the respective Postmaster. Post Office personnel will add the proper ZIP Codes and return the cards to the sender.

President Johnson has proclaimed October 10-15 as "ZIP Code Week" to promote greater usage of ZIP Code. Postmaster General O'Brien announced May 19 that steps were being taken to make ZIP Codes more accessible to the mailing public.

The present program resulted from a search for the most efficient method to get the codes in the hands of private mailers. A poll conducted by Elmo Roper and Associates earlier this year found that about half the population is using ZIP Code.

Of the remaining half who are not, 80 percent said the reason was that they did not know the ZIP Codes for the people to whom they write.

Previously, the Post Office Department has embarked upon an extensive effort to help volume mailers convert their lists to ZIP Code.

The Roper poll strengthened our conviction that the public generally is ready and willing to cooperate with business mailers who will be presorting their second and third-class mail after January 1, 1967." O'Brien said. "I am convinced that the 'ZIP-A-LIST' project will go a long way toward accomplishing our goal of ready availability of the proper ZIP Codes in the home."

Local cards will be printed with blue ink and out-of-town cards in red. Addresses which can not be ZIP Coded because of insufficient or improper addresses will be forwarded to the city indicated on the card, if legible, and the code will be added there.

Is This The Year for RU?

Is this Redford Union's year in the Suburban Six League's football chase?

The Townshippers' prospects certainly would appear encouraging as they begin their title bid this Friday against defending champion Bentley.

Two victories in a row in "tuneup" action give indications that Redford Union has come up with a strong challenger.

The Townshippers were very impressive last Friday evening in beating Franklin, 26-21, in a game in which:

- 1—RU stormed to an early 19-0 lead.
- 2—Franklin rebounded with three touchdowns in the second half to take a 21-19 lead.

3—RU finally won it in the closing moments.

The statistics weren't as close as the final score. Redford Union made 16 first downs to Franklin's 10. In total yardage it was 193 to 159 for Redford Union with 166 of the victors' total coming on passes as Glen Davis hit on 12 of 19.

The big Franklin lament came over "losing the ball on mistakes." Four times Franklin fumbled away the ball to RU and three Franklin passes wound up in the hands of RU players. RU on the other hand lost two fumbles and had two interceptions.

Just how tough a game it further was reflected in the penalty figures. RU was slapped for 110 yards to Franklin's 80.

Redford Union began the scoring when Rod Ferguson cracked over from six yards out in the first period.

In the second period, Bob Czerniak slammed in from the five and Davis shot a 14-yard scoring pass to Jim Walker. With two conversions, RU walked to the dressing room at half time with a 19-0 lead.

Coach Bob Bentley had a few "choice" words for his Franklin charges during the intermission. And when the third period began, the Livonians literally exploded.

A short pass from Bill Hellstein to Carl Gulbransen for three yards netted Franklin its first touchdown. Then Hellstein went in from the two.

When Gary Rogalski tallied in the opening minutes of the fourth period and Ron Kugler booted his third conversion of the game, Franklin found itself leading, 21-19.

Less than five minutes now remained.

Redford Union was back on its own 22. With Rick Ridel, Czerniak and Davis running and Davis passing, the Townshippers began their final payoff drive.

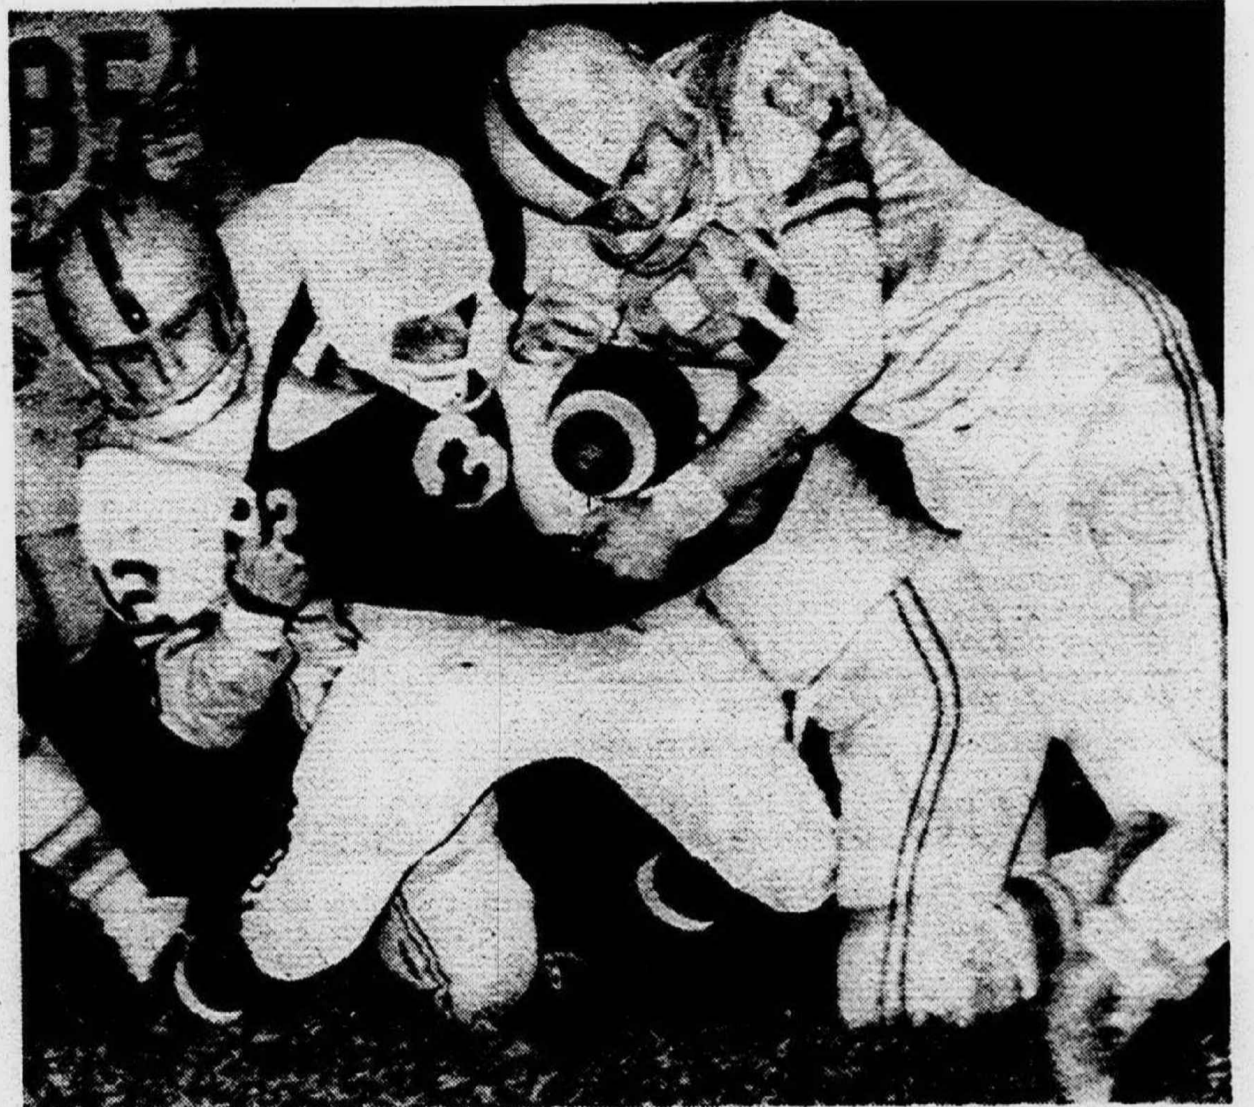

An electrifying pass from Davis to Walker covered some 33 yards and carried the RU team to the Franklin 29.

Three plays later Davis went around right end from the Franklin 16 and without being touched galloped for the winning touchdown. Davis finished the scoring by passing to Bob Fritz for the extra point.

The loss left Franklin with a 1-1 record going into North-west Suburban League play this week.

N. Farmington Sweeps Parkers

North Farmington swept the first five places in beating Oak Park, 15-40, in a Northwest League cross Sophomore Rick Randall was the individual winner with Greg Succop second and John Murphy third.

BATTLE FOR BALL: Franklin's Gary Rogalski (32) tries to take the ball away after latter makes short gain. RU won a thriller by scoring in the final minutes of from Redford Union's Jim Walker (80) play.

Clarenceville Roars To Land in Ratings

Things are happening to Clarenceville High School's football team that haven't happened along Middlebelt Road in a long time.

Things like:

- 1—Clarenceville winning two straight.
- 2—Clarenceville finding itself among the state's top ranked Class B teams.

When the Trojans won over Milford, 21-13, last Friday night to get off on the right foot in Wayne-Oakland League play, it also marked the first time since Ralph Temby joined the Clarenceville coaching staff six years ago that "we have won two in a row."

As for being among the leading teams in the state, Temby declared:

"That's only happened to us once before."

Temby called the victory over Clarkston "an all-around effort."

The Trojans had to come from behind twice to turn the tables. Much had to be said about the control-ball display the Trojans put on in the second half when they dominated the proceedings.

Milford bounced ahead early, striking for eight straight pass completions with Randy Clinard hitting Mark Giger from 15 yards out.

But Clarenceville got the touchdown back quickly when Dave Wilson connected on a 38-yard toss to Mike Nye.

Milford regained the lead on a 60-yard dash by Bob McFarland in the third quarter.

Came the fourth quarter, Nye kicked one out on the Milford three and Dave Kaipio promptly broke through to nail a Milford back in the end zone for a safety.

There were less than seven minutes remaining and Milford leading, 13-8, when Clarenceville began another march that paid off with Wilson slipping across on a quarterback sneak for the TD that put the Trojans ahead.

Then to put the game out of reach, Kaipio tallied on a shortie with a couple minutes left on the clock and Nye passed to Schlack for the extra point.

Clarenceville wound up with a total of 309 yards gained during the game with 83 coming via passes.

In addition the Trojans piled up 24 first downs.

The great defense was led by Kaipio and Carl Watkins, both linebackers.

This Friday, it's Clarenceville at Clarkston with the Trojans gunning for an almost historic "three straight."

Observing SPORTS

By George Maskin

If you read the Friendly Free Press every morning, you're familiar with the sports offerings of Joe Falls.

Joe's topics are diversified . . . from checkers to the world championships in football, basketball, hockey, baseball and any other sport you can mention.

In the course of a year, he writes about thousands of personages . . . from the likes of Mickey Mantle and Harry Gilmer to many who are far more obscure, but nonetheless participants in some phase of sports.

Joe praises . . . raps . . . cheers and sometimes cries. The other day, Falls felt like doing the latter. But he couldn't tell the story in his Free Press column. It just wouldn't have been right.

Of all the athletes Joe has dealt or deals with, No. 1 on his list has to be a ninth grader student at Farmington's East Junior High School. The name: Bobby Falls, eldest of the five youngsters in the Falls' household.

Joe—and wife, Rosie, too—always have been proud of Bobby, but never more than when the boy went out for the ninth grade team at East this fall—and made the starting lineup as an end on offense and safety man on defense.

You see, Bobby hadn't played eighth grade football. So this, indeed, was a major accomplishment for any boy.

"I never saw an athlete work harder," Joe was telling us, "and I'm not saying this because he's my own. Bobby was just very determined to make the starting lineup."

Last week, a few days before the team was to play its first game, Bobby turned his knee in practice. Dad took him to see Dr. Russell Wright, the same man who looks after the Tigers, Pistons and other pro teams around town.

The Doc found that Bobby had torn some ligaments . . . that it will be a while before he can return to his team.

But you have to know that Bobby will be back out there for East. He's a real cut off the old mold. When Pop is determined to get a story, he'll work and work to get it.

Bobby plays the game of life the same way. So who says our youngsters of this era have lost their desire?

BOUNCING AROUND:

Some important dates are on the immediate sports calendar in these parts. One comes up Sunday night when the Red Wings play the Chicago Black Hawks in a pre-season game. They'll give away free hockey sticks to every youngster 16 and under who purchases a ticket. And, if you want to get a puck to use with the stick, get to Olympia the following Sunday when the Wings take on the Toronto Maple Leafs in another exhibition.

Guess who's coming back to Michigan next week? Cazzie Russell is the guy. He'll be with the New York Knicks when they face the Pistons in Ypsilanti Wednesday and Bay City Thursday. We're just back from New York where we got our first look in actual game conditions of Cazzie and the Pistons' No. 1 draft pick Dave Bing. Both are ready to make it BIG in the National Basketball Association.

No, sir, we don't have any tickets for the Michigan-Michigan State game ten days hence. It's rather tragic (Continued on Page 3B)

Farmington Rolls Past Plymouth

One streak swelled . . . another ended.

It happened as Farmington high's football team took the measure of Plymouth in their non-league battle Friday afternoon.

For Farmington it was the Falcons' second win in as many starts in the young season. They had toppled Bentley the week before.

Plymouth, unvictorious a year ago in eight games, had started the new campaign on a high note—a fine victory over Northville.

But the Rocks couldn't jolt the strong Farmington defense . . . and defense still is the name of the game in football.

This was reflected early in the Farmington-Plymouth game. The Rocks started a march, but the Falcons arose to stop it and force a punt situation.

The kick went to Chris Norton around his own 40. He danced around, waited for his blockers to form . . . and then he was off to the races . . . and a touchdown.

Farmington had a quick 7-0 lead and was gaining momentum.

Sophomore Doug Root then moved into the starting picture. After Farmington took over on the Plymouth 45 in the second period, a pass from Ed Snyder to Paul Misch covered 35 yards to the one and Root smacked across.

Root, a real workhorse for the winners as he gained 95 yards in 19 carries, flashed in for the third and final Farmington touchdown when he went the last eight in the third period.

A short punt had set up the counter. The Falcons took over on the Plymouth 37 and with Root and Norton alternating with the ball, the touchdown wasn't long in coming.

Farmington stuck pretty much to the ground to win this one. The Falcons made only two passes all afternoon.

In the meantime, end Jerry Tinkle and 130-pound guard Pat Foley carried off the defensive honors for Farmington as they constantly bottled up the Rocks—in particular, quarterback Dave Prochazka who had little time to get off his passes.

Plymouth had one good threat going, march down to the Farmington 15 in the third period. But the Farmington defense arose to do a job . . . and that was the game.

Now it's into league play for both the teams. Farmington starts its bid for an Inter-lakes League title against Pontiac Northern while Plymouth begins Suburban Six League action by invading Allen Park.

Quarterback Ned Kramer's 259 yards passing against North Dakota State in 1954 stand as a Wayne State University single-game record.

Wayne State University's winningest football team was the 1934 unit which scored seven wins in eight starts.

2nd Half Comeback Ups Bentley Hopes

All's not gloom at Bentley high where the football team Friday starts the defense of its Suburban Six League title against Redford Union.

True Bentley has dropped both of its pre-league contests, falling to Farmington in the opener and then to Dearborn, 27-21.

But coach Larry Joiner says there's reason for encouragement.

"We knew all along that we had to fill some big gaps and that it might take us some time to get going," said Joiner.

ton lifted Dearborn on top, 20-0, and "school appeared out" for Bentley.

From the first kickoff of the second half, Bentley began its move to rebound. Jim Matevia capped the drive with a touchdown smash from a yard out.

The movement covered 62 yards and required 10 plays. Kevin Hooker, Matevia and Greg Coleman carried on the drive.

In the fourth period, Bentley crept within a touchdown of a tie when Coleman on a bootleg went one yard to finish a march of 53 yards.

Then came the break that killed Bentley, a 62-yard pass to Washington caught the Bentley defense napping and Dearborn had the victory wrapped up.

Bentley still had some power left, finishing the scoring on a pass from Coleman to Dan Doyle for 25 yards.

Coleman's passing and running paced Bentley in the game. He hit on eight of his attempts for 101 yards.

FANCY STEPPER: That's Kevin Hooker (33) of Bentley as he scoots away from Dearborn tacklers. Bentley lost the game after staging a second-half rally.

"Well, I think it took us the Farmington game and half of the game against Dearborn to iron out the rough spots. Now with the league schedule starting, I think we're in pretty good shape to defend our crown."

What did Joiner mean about "half the Dearborn game?"

Well, it was Dearborn, 20-0, before Bentley was able to get going after the intermission.

"Yes, I told the boys a few things," explained Joiner. "Best of all, they adjusted. Had it not been for a long pass that Dearborn made for a touchdown in the fourth period, we could very well have walked off the field a winner."

Ted Conover went four yards for Dearborn's first touchdown and a six-yarder by Tom Niver gave Dearborn a 13-0 lead before the first period ended.

In the second period, a 35-yard pass to Tony Wash-

RU Runners Win Twice

Redford Union high's cross country team scored two victories in dual meets last week.

The Townshippers beat Thurston, 26-29, although Dussen of Thurston took individual honors. Jack Shepherd of RU was second and Wilson of Thurston third.

Redford Union then bounced back to beat Bentley, 23-32, with Shepherd the individual winner and Bentley's McGhee the runnerup.

Stevenson Happy After Glenn Loss

The winners and losers were proud—which is something that doesn't happen too often in any athletic contest.

That's the way it was after Glenn had downed Stevenson, 20-13 in their non-league football battle last Friday evening.

Bob Lusk, the Glenn coach, spoke in glowing terms on how his team bounced back from an opening-night 6-8 tie.

"Our offense showed more; we played better on defense," said Lusk.

Across the way, Jack Riordan, Stevenson coach explained:

"I never have been so proud of a group of kids; they had us by 40 pounds per man. Many thought we didn't belong on the same field with Glenn. But our men came to play.

"We gave them quite a show and I feel that we out-hit them."

Riordan didn't mention it, but Stevenson is fielding a varsity team comprised of only tenth and eleventh graders. The new school doesn't have a senior class . . . and won't until next fall.

Glenn led all the way, but Stevenson hung close throughout the proceedings.

Stevenson had stopped Glenn's first march on the Stevenson seven, but a fumble helped Glenn get the ball back and in short order with Rod Gainer leading a drive, Glenn scored on a two-yard drive by Mike Mahakian.

It was Mahakian from the eight on a sweep around end for the second touchdown and then Steve Pascheke put the game out of reach with a 60-yard dash off left tackle after Dave Mastny had romped 75 yards with a punt return to cut the Glenn lead to 13-7.

Stevenson bounced back in the last quarter and counted again on a Tom Parker to Larry Olejry pass that covered just three yards.

Thurston Rallies for 12-2 Win

Imagine trailing 2-0 in a football game!

Thurston High School did against Highland Park the other afternoon. But when it was all over, Thurston had emerged a 12-2 winner.

The Townshippers had their early problems. Between penalties and five first-half fumbles, the Thurston forces couldn't get started.

All of which was enough to make coach Bill McDonald "burn a little" at halftime.

"But I was happy with the kids after the game," explained McDonald. "We told them what they had been doing wrong and they corrected their mistakes. When a team does that, how can you kick?"

Besides, McDonald had to admit the faults were strictly one-sided — with the offense.

How could he fault the defense which during the entire game allowed only 41 yards and one first down and also permitted the Parkers to complete only one of 13 passes?

"We can't say enough about the fellows like Randy Ault, Dan Harris, Si Meads, Jerry Shafer and Bo Bryant," added the coach. "They simply murdered the Highland Park offense."

In the ball-carrying department, Thurston speaking, the Townshippers piled up 275 yards along with 11 first downs. But, like Highland Park, Thurston showed little passing . . . making only one out of nine.

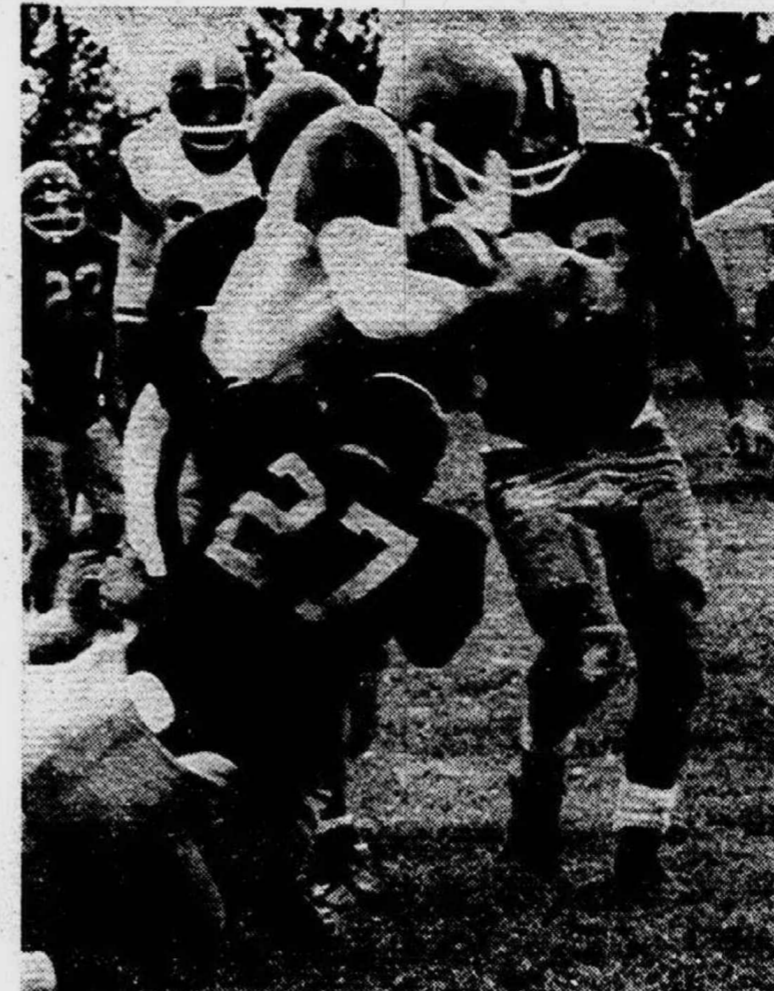

The Parkers had scored in the first half when linebacker Oliver Parker, Thurston slipped through to block a Thurston punt. The ball scooted out of the end zone for a safety and two points for the Parkers.

Thurston came back on a pair of dazzling runs for its touchdowns.

Reggie Barringer slammed off tackle and went 59 yards in the third period to put the Townshippers in front for keeps.

The other TD was scored by Bryant on a 23-yard gallop which was described by coach McDonald as follows: "Bryant literally ran over the Parkers. I'd say that four or five times they had him stopped. But he had too much power for them. It was quite a personal effort."

At the intermission the BARGES FORTH: Garden City West's Chuck Dobbs pulls along a tackler as he gains against Cherry Hill. Dobbs made four yards on the play.

Injuries Jarring West in Football

Injuries never help a football team . . . or any other athletic team.

It particularly hurts that when the casualties are three-year veterans like at Garden City West in football this fall.

Coach Harold Burkholder keeps finding his ranks thinning as a result of some tough blows.

First there was Mike Adler, a tackle who suffered a fractured wrist and likely won't play again this season. Next casualty was back Bill Gray, out with a fractured ankle.

Bob Gamache, a fleet runner and defensive back, missed last Saturday's 27-13 loss to Cherry Hill because of a blood clot on the thigh and may miss another game or two.

It's still questionable when Mark McGrath, a defensive back and an end on offense, will return to action after spraining an ankle against Cherry Hill.

"Add these losses to the fact we had 16 seniors graduate after last season and three other boys decided to pass up football after playing on the varsity for a couple of years . . . and you can see why we are in tough shape," declares Burkholder.

Notwithstanding, West turned in a good performance against Cherry Hill—for one half.

score was 13-13, but Cherry Hill wore down the Garden City forces thereafter and came through with a pair of touchdowns to put the game on ice.

Fumbles hurt the West team.

"We made four of them and lost the ball each time," said Burkholder. "Our first two bobbles quickly were turned into touchdowns and we found ourselves trailing, 13-0, before the first period was over," the coach added.

But West rebounded to get even when Charles Dobbs pegged to Matt Gillespie for 67 yards and a touchdown in the second period.

Bob Spyrka of Cherry Hill was too much for West. He scored three touchdowns.

that (1) the game is being played in East Lansing where 30,000 fewer can see this titanic struggle; (2) that Michiganders, who can't buy tickets, won't be able to see the struggle on LIVE television.

What about next week's World Series? It's hard to know as we write this who'll play against the Baltimore Orioles. We'll stick with the American Leaguers, who seem to have straightened themselves out after a sag of a few weeks.

There's word around that the next Tiger manager would be George Kell, the TV man, if Kell would just say "yes" to owner George Fetzer. Another name being mentioned is that of Harvey Kuenn, who broke into the majors with the Tigers. Every indication is that Frank Skaff won't get the post, despite the fact he has done a great job under certainly far from pleasant circumstances.

sent Old Hat to the DRC to prepare for the Michigan Mile. It was one of the few times a top mare or filly had elected to challenge the colts in the top classic of the Michigan racing season.

Old Hat gave a brilliant account of herself in The Michigan Mile by outdueling Roman Brother, from the Harbor View Farm of financier Lou Wolfson.

Primarily as the result of her Michigan Mile victory, Old Hat was named "Mare-of-the-Year" in the 1965 polls. Roman Brother replaced the great Kelso as "Horse-of-the-Year."

Brought back to the races this summer, Old Hat has been campaigning on the Chicago and Kentucky circuits.

In the Sweet Patootie, Old Hat will oppose some of the outstanding fillies and mares in the nation.

Kerensa, a stake winner earlier in the DRC meeting, is coming back to represent Mrs. Frances Luro. Trained by Frank Merrill, Kerensa has raced with brilliance in Canada.

The Harbor View Farm has named its top filly, Swinging Mood, and Mrs. Moody Jolley will be represented by Chalina. Coming from Atlantic City is the Keswick Stables' Honor Bright.

Peter Fuller, the New England sportsman, has named Entitled and Alice Bell will enter Out Talk.

Robert Gallimore, who rode Old Hat to her Michigan Mile victory, likely will have the mount on the 1965 champion. Gallimore, the DRC's leading rider, has built a comfortable lead over his nearest rival, Larry Snyder.

Three racing personalities at the DRC are spotlighted nationally at this time.

Marion H. Van Berg, the 70-year-old Nebraskan who has campaigned at the DRC since the track's inception, again is the nation's leading owner in total victories, according to the latest compilation of The Daily Racing Form.

Van Berg, who topped the owners in both total victories and money won in 1965, has won 185 races this year.

Dewey Smith, who trains the T. A. Grissom stable at the DRC, tops the nation's trainers in victories with 109.

Snyder, second to Gallimore in the DRC jockey race, ranks eighth in the national standing with 172 victories. The jockey leader is Chuck Baltazar, a youngster who rode his first winner during the 1964 DRC season. He now is campaigning in the East.

The DRC moved past the eight-week mark in its 84-day meeting with attendance and mutual play continuing at a record pace.

Buoyed by record crowds of 28,459 on Labor Day and 27,470 on Michigan Mile Day, the DRC has drawn 611,073 for the first 48 days of its meeting. This is an average of 12,730 fans a day. The DRC averaged 11,636 fans a day for its 1965 meeting. Wagering for the period was up seven per cent over a year ago.

WHEN RAINS CAME: Jockey Jack Fieselman was thrown from his mount Van Dan following a race at the Detroit Race Course. Take a look at Fieselman and you can guess the condition of the track. The rider was 10 pounds heavier when he weighed out than he was starting the race.

Early Thud Knocks Off GC East Team

Willow Run struck with a quick thud . . . and there was little that Garden City East high's football team could do the rest of the way.

The result: Willow Run 27, East 6.

Willow Run, annually one of the area's Class B power, reeled off three touchdowns in the first quarter.

Then East enjoyed its only moment of joy. A recovered fumble gave East the ball on the Willow Run 23.

With Marvin Martin, Jack Palmer and Mike Sparkman carrying the ball, Garden City East moved to the Willow Run two from where Martin went over for the line East TD.

Later in the game, Sparkman electrified the East fans with an 88-yard dash that ended up with him in the end zone. But the officials caught an East player clipping and touchdown was nullified.

Willow Run, scoring on runs of 54, four, four and one-yard, simply had too much speed in its offensive backfield and defensive line for the East team.

It was strictly a ground game. Willow Run picked up 296 yards in the action, but made only one pass good for 21 yards. East totaled 148 yards and also clicked just once in the air—for seven yards.

Schoolcraft College made its soccer debut last Saturday.

And it provided the school with a happy ending—a 5-1 victory over Oakland University.

Schoolcraft took a 3-0 lead on goals by Flanko Palma, Joop Doorn and Paul Hartge. Doorn formerly attended Bentley High while Hartge was a star athlete in high school at Franklin.

In the second half, Schoolcraft added goals by Doorn and Ron Swan.

Schoolcraft, coached by Bob Leggett, has seven more games on its schedule, the next against Western Ontario in Windsor next Tuesday.

Gardeners Always Beware Of Bugs

Be on the alert for "hot bugs." "Hot bugs" is a term for an abnormal infestation by an insect in a certain area. For instance, last year sections of Texas were overrun with aphids and tent caterpillars.

Despite the drought, areas of New York and Philadelphia were bothered by cinch bugs.

The Pacific Northwest reported large numbers of the pine shoot moth, and Indiana had webworms.

No one seems to know just why a certain insect converges on a given locality.

One chemical company wants to know about it if an insect should invade your section in heavier-than-normal numbers.

It has distributed self-addressed postal cards to help make reports.

The chart is designed to help you identify some of the more common insects, as follows:

CINCH BUG — About 1/6 inch long, usually are found in silken webs. The adult are small whitish-gray moths. Spray entire lawn.

BERMUDA MITE — These pests of southern lawns suck sap from grass, causing wilting and stunting. Spray lawn regularly.

APHID — These are soft-bodied insects of many colors, under 1/8 inch long and often called plant lice. They infest most garden plants, feeding by sucking plant juices. Spray entire plant.

BILLBUG — These grubs of the snout beetle feed on roots and crowns of grass plants. They are black or brown 1/4 to 1/2 inch long. Spray or spread granular form.

ARMYWORM — This insect, which can appear suddenly in hoards, attacks vegetables, lawns and flowers. It is about 1 1/2 inches long. Spray promptly at first sight.

EDWARD EVANS

Evans Joins Sales Staff of Evans

The appointment of Edward S. Evans III as the Manager of Hydra-Cushion Sales and Service for Evans Products Company was announced this week by J. R. Byrne, Vice President of Sales for Evans' Transportation Equipment Group.

Evans has been Western Sales Manager for the Transportation Equipment Group at its Oakland, Calif., office since 1964. He now will be located at Group Headquarters in Plymouth.

A graduate of the University of Michigan School of Engineering, Evans has held various positions on the engineering and sales staffs of several Evans Products Company divisions since 1956.

Hydra-Cushion Incorporated, the manufacturer of Hydra-Cushion sliding sill underframes used on railroad freight cars to prevent damage, is owned jointly by Evans Products Company and Waugh Equipment Company.

Clean Plastic Covered Chair With a Ruler

When you wash a chair or sofa upholstered in plastic, make sure to reach down into all the crevices where dirt and crumbs collect.

For this, use a thin ruler wrapped with cloth and dipped into thick soap or detergent suds.

Blossom Fall Old Problem

Early blossoms of squash, tomatoes and cucumbers often drop off before setting fruit, long a problem disturbing to most gardeners.

Most cucumbers and squash frequently produce only male flowers at the start of the season.

Fruit does not set until both female and male flowers are present, later in the season.

Sometimes early cucumbers have poor results even when there are male and female blossoms.

This is due to poor pollination because of insufficient numbers of pollinating insects early in the season.

Lack of female flowers is not the problem with tomatoes as it is with cucumbers.

Each tomato flower has male and female elements. And because tomatoes are self-pollinating, lack of pollinating insects is not vital.

Hilberry Group To Revive Two Plays This Fall

In an unprecedented move, Wayne State University's Hilberry Classic Theatre will revive two of last season's drama classics for matinee and weekend performances.

starting Wednesday, Oct. 5. The plays—Shaw's "Saint Joan" and Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer"—will precede the official opening Jan. 11 of the Hilberry's fourth season of repertory.

The fall performances will begin Oct. 5 with a 2:30 matinee performance of "She Stoops to Conquer," which will play again Friday and Saturday evenings, Oct. 7 and 8, at 8:30. "Saint Joan" will be added Wednesday afternoon, October 12 and the two will continue to the end of November and the first week of December.

Wally Roberts GOING UP 'CURTAIN'

"We live in a damn wicked world and the fewer we praise the better off we will be." Applause greeted this line uttered by Sir Peter Tezzle in the AFA-Phoenix production of "School for Scandal" currently at the Lydia Mendelssohn Theater in Ann Arbor. Although this aphorism was concocted almost 200 years ago by Richard Brimsley Sheridan, the 1966 audience agreed via vigorous hand-clapping they still feel there is a truth in such a timeless statement.

President Harlan Hatcher welcomed a capacity crowd in the Lydia Mendelssohn at the special Presidential preview performance. In his introduction he praised the work of Executive Director Robert Schnitzer and his wife Marcella Cisey for the five year operation of the Professional Theater Program at University of Michigan.

With a trace of a smile Hatcher concluded his brief remarks by reminding the audience that as a former English instructor he could not resist a captive audience. He proceeded to inform all of us about the background of the play and the author. Graciously, as only Hatcher can be, he kept his background material succinct. His final word was the "School for Scandal" has lasted through the ages for its flashes of wit and satirical commentary.

For the next two and a half hours the AFA-Phoenix company proved once again that they are a superb repertory company. Their "School for Scandal" showed "Those flashes of wit" delightfully and provided a full evening's enjoyment. The plot was well-known, the characters quite recognizable.

and the brilliant epigrams had a familiar ring. Still the APA gave "Scandal" new vitality and freshness. Helen Hayes makes Mrs. Candour a veritable Gorgon of a gossip-monger. Her reactions are as beautiful to behold as her perky actions. Her vocal gymnastics added a dimension to the role not seen or heard previously. Old Wally is looking forward to her featured roles in "Right You Are" and "We, Comrades Three."

"Three Mysteries with Two Clowns" opens this week on the APA for a two week run. On Oct. 11 "Right You Are" is scheduled. "We, Comrades Three" is listed to open on October 18 for a week's run.

Closer to home the Farmington Players are producing their own version of classic drama in the form of a freely-adapted production of "Othello." Joseph Pap is playing the leading role. Nancy Harrower is directing.

"Othello" is mighty strong Shakespeare. It's a violent drama about jealousy and its dire consequences. Rarely you'll find a community theater group brave enough to schedule such strong fare. The Farmington Players though have proven over the years that they are capable and would like to show their audiences something beside the frothy, inconsequential Broadway comedies.

"Othello" opens on Oct. 7 for a two weekend run. Hope you can visit the Farmington Playhouse on Twelve Mile Road and brush up on your Shakespeare. "Othello" is a genuine spine-chiller.

New York Ballet Lists 3 Detroit Programs

The New York City Ballet, America's foremost ballet company, recognized as one of the three best in the world, will give three performances at the Masonic Auditorium, Friday, and Saturday, Oct. 21 and 22. This will mark only the second time this famous group has appeared in Detroit, the first time was in 1961.

Under the creative direction of world-renowned choreographer George Balanchine and Lincoln Kirstein, general director, who have brought the company to the peak of its reputation, Detroiters will see some of the outstanding works that gained the New York City Ballet such acclaim these past few years, performed by the group's brilliant solo and principal dancers and company.

The 58-piece New York City Ballet orchestra will be heard with the ballet company under the direction of Robert Irving, former musical director of the famed London Royal Ballet for 10 years.

The opening Friday evening, Oct. 21 will be a benefit for the Detroit Association for Retarded Children, under the patronage of the Hon. Mayor and Mrs. Jerome P. Cavanagh, and other civic leaders yet to be named. Committee Coordinator is Dr. Henry Raskin.

U-D to Hold "Brecht-Brecht"

Readings for the University of Detroit production of "Brecht on Brecht" will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday (Oct. 6 and 7) in the Theatre on the third floor of the Library on the McNichols Road campus.

"Singing and acting talent will be needed in casting the dramatic world of Brecht," Alan Jorgensen, director, said. "Brecht on Brecht" will be presented the weekends of Nov. 11, 18 and 25.

Dearborn Will Begin Casting for New Play

Dearborn Civic Theatre announces open casting for the first play of the 1966-67 season. The season's opener, "A Majority of One," offers parts for six males and eight females of varying ages.

Casting will be at Horger Community Center at Horger and Michigan, three blocks west of Schaefer. Tryouts will be from 7:30 to 10 p.m. on Sept. 29 and 30 and on Oct. 1 and 2.

Kendallarks Start Work On 9th Season

The Kendallarks, under the direction of George Assemany, have started their ninth season. The chorus is busily rehearsing for its third bi-annual concert on Saturday, Nov. 19, in Livonia's Bentley High School auditorium.

Co-chairwomen for the concert are Joyce Gregory, Mary Sheward and Grace Coffman. Among the songs on the program will be such favorites as People, Hello Dolly, Make Someone Happy and Chim Chim Cher-ee.

Variety acts by members of the Kendallarks will also be presented. A featured act will be a gal clown routine sung and danced by Mary Martin, Margaret Marlowe, Mary Kritzman, Bea Scaglione and Marian Spencer.

Special guest singers appearing with the Kendallarks will be the boys of the University of Detroit High School chorus.

Schoolcraft Art Teacher Wins Award in Show

James R. Black Jr., fine arts instructor at Schoolcraft College, won a second place award and an honorable mention in the ceramics section at the second biennial Michigan Artist-Craftsman Exhibit at the Grand Rapids Arts Museum.

Black won a $100 cash award for his piece "Wrapped Form," and took honorable mention with a piece titled "Wrapped Form With Handles."

More than 120 Michigan artists and craftsmen entered their work in the competitive exhibition which was sponsored by the museum. The show began Sept. 18 and continues through Oct. 23.

Noted Foreign Movies Offered at Wayne State

"Famous Films of Famous Directors," a new series of nine movies, is being offered this fall by the University Center for Adult Education (Wayne State University-The University of Michigan-Eastern Michigan University).

The series will open with "Roshomon," a Japanese film directed by Akira Kurosawa. It will be shown at 8 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 1 in the Community Arts Auditorium on the WSU campus.

Ford Museum To Bring Back Famed Movies

The swashbuckling of Douglas Fairbanks, the comedy of Charlie Chaplin and the beauty of Greta Garbo will appear again on the screen this winter.

Beginning Sunday, Oct. 16, the Famous Early Movies at the Henry Ford Museum Theatre will present classic films of the past each Sunday through April.

Stars like Lionel Barrymore, Lillian Gish, Conrad Nagel, the Marx Brothers, Ronald Coleman, Edward G. Robinson, Dorothy Lamour, Eddie Cantor, and many other screen idols will appear in some of their greatest roles.

A combination of nostalgia, education and entertainment, the Famous Early Movies series offers a wide variety of films, from "The Three Musketeers" (1921), starring Douglas Fairbanks, to "What Price Glory?" (1926) with Victor McLaglen. Two special programs during the Thanksgiving and Christmas seasons will show early animated cartoons and a Laurel and Hardy classic for family enjoyment.

The films will be shown each Sunday at 2 and 4 p.m. Admission is included in the regular museum admission charge. A complete schedule for Famous Early Movies can be obtained by writing: Famous Early Movies, The Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, 48124.

Institute Lists "Symphony Kaleidoscope"

"Symphony Kaleidoscope" is the title of a series of discussions to be offered at the Detroit Institute of Arts under the auspices of the Junior Women's and the Women's Associations for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

The series is aimed at the layman who wishes to further his musical education and is available on a series or individual session admission basis. Featured will be well-known authorities in the various fields of music.

The series begins on Oct. 14 at 10 a.m. when Dr. David DiChiera will discuss "The Artist's View of Music" and interview Miss Eileen Farrell, world-famous Metropolitan opera star. Mr. DiChiera is head of the Music Department at Oakland University.

Chajes to Conduct

Julius Chajes will conduct the 27th season of the Center Symphony Orchestra starting Tuesday, Oct. 4. Marilyn Cotlow, soprano and Annette Chajes, mezzo soprano, will be the soloists.

The orchestra will perform Cesar Franck's Symphony in D Minor and Mozart's Overture to the "Magic Flute."

of "The Nature of Symphonic Experience," on Nov. 16 at 10 a.m., when Jonathan Schiller, Assistant Professor of Humanities at Wayne State University, will analyze the elements of music and the make-up of a symphony orchestra.

Next follows "The Listener's View of Music," on January 18 at 10 a.m. with a panel of music experts. Lecture number four, on Feb. 15 at 10 a.m., will feature Mrs. Robert Kaiser, a concert pianist and authority on music appreciation. Her topic will be "Musical Form."

On March 15 Jonathan Schiller will explore the subject "Modern Music."

To the Citizens:
Your attention is called to the financial and statistical report of the Plymouth Community School District for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1966. The financial records of the School District were audited by Sutherland and Robson, Certified Public Accountants, and the following statement is taken from their report to the Board of Education.

"In our opinion the accompanying combined balance sheet of the various Funds and the related statements of revenues, expenditures and fund equity present fairly the financial position of the various Funds of the Plymouth Community School District of Wayne and Washtenaw Counties at June 30, 1966, and the results of their operation for the year then ended, in conformity with accounting procedures recommended for educational institutions by the Michigan Department of Education, applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year."

Of special interest is the improved cash in bank position in the general fund on June 30, 1966, amounting to $107,038.36 over the balance on June 30, 1965, and bringing the new balance to $235,879.87. The added amount was planned by the Board of Education to meet anticipated rising costs in school operation for the 1966-67 school year.

The Board of Education is mindful and appreciative of work done by the Citizens Facility Study Committee in the preparation of the two reports submitted this past school year. The detailed analysis by the Citizens Committee of the facility needs through 1972 as well as a recommended program on how to finance these facilities provided the Board with a firm base on which to plan the buildings necessary to house the rapidly growing school population.

The Board of Education solicits the continued interest and participation on the part of citizens in the long range development of the school system. Additional information regarding the Annual Report may be procured by calling the Central Administration Office (453-0200).

Respectfully submitted,
Russell L. Isbister
Superintendent of Schools

our managers have taken over!

This is a special week.
We call it Managers Week.

They've taken over the store.
They've planned a terrific thrift event.
Storewide values that you'll recognize as "first-aid" for your ailing budget.

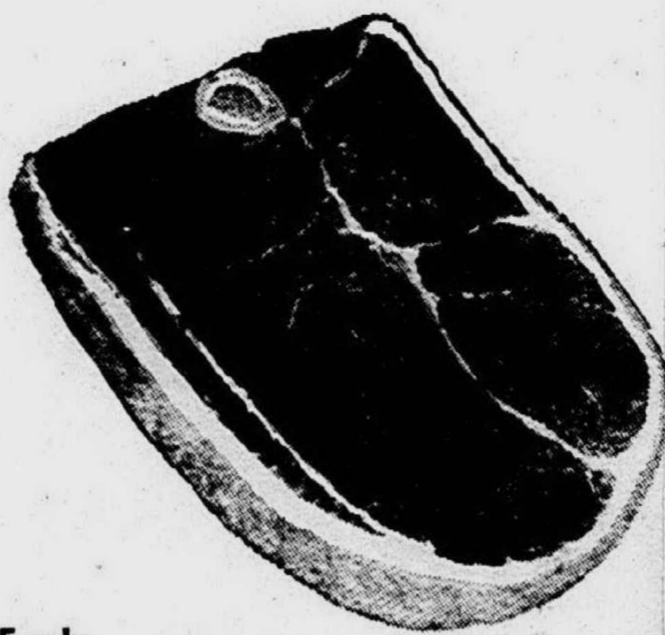

Why this special week?
First, to express special appreciation to you.
Second, to honor our managers.
Third, to give us a chance to prove "We Care".

If you're a regular A&P customer, this week is for you.
If you've never shopped A&P, this is the week to test-shop A&P.

When you see the savings on your total food bill, when you experience the warmth of being cared about, we think you'll come back time and time again. Millions do.

IN THE EYES of the Salvation Army, men and women in trouble are never forsaken. Here a Corps soldier attends to the spiritual and companionship needs of a prison inmate. This is one of the continuing services of the Plymouth Salvation Army, which will receive $10,000 toward its 1967 budget from the Community Fund.

Salvation Army Gains Respect For Fine Work

Getting people back on their feet after temporary or long-term difficulty is a task so well performed that the Salvation Army has earned worldwide recognition and respect.

The Salvation Corps in Plymouth has gained such measure of confidence, with the result that $10,000 of Community Fund support will be extended in 1967 to the Army.

Thirteen health, social welfare and recreation agencies of the Plymouth community will share in an $88,543 fund to be raised in the annual United-Giving campaign, scheduled for the period of October 10-November 4.

Dr. William Covington is president of the fund, while Edward W. Schening of the Burroughs Corporation will direct the activities of some 250 campaign volunteers.

Plymouth's Community Fund drive officially opens with a torch-lighting ceremony in Kellogg Park on October 10 at 7 p.m. "Miss Sparkle", recently introduced, will light the campaign torch.

Plymouth's Salvation Army efforts are directed by Brig. and Mrs. Ernest V. Hammer, who have a combined service record of some 60 years with the Corps.

The Hammers and staff of volunteers deal with such elements of program as emergency shelters, an employment bureau, alcoholic rehabilitation, spiritual guidance and evangelism, maternity homes and hospitals, Evangeline residence for young women, Red Shield Canteens, correctional services, and summer camps and youth work.

Helping the Corps leadership with the annual Christmas appeal and as liaison with the community is an Advisory Board headed by Frank Henderson, Mrs. Elizabeth Mather, Mrs. Margaret Daniel, Donald Sutherland and Robert D. Willoughby.

Last year, the Plymouth Corps served 98 families which embraced 245 people, and 23 transients were helped. Some of the reasons why families needed Salvation Army help were: father deserted, or lost his job; a fire destroyed their house; prolonged sickness or hospitalization of the breadwinner; some were dispossessed, while others were newcomers to the area who had made no advance arrangements for housing. Much of the Army's work was to meet temporary needs before families could qualify for public welfare or A.D.C.

In service to such families, the Plymouth Corps provided 169 grocery orders and 15 fuel orders; made emergency rent payments for six; issued 119 garments, 16 pairs of shoes and boots, and such household items as refrigerators, washers, beds and furniture.

Christmas baskets were included in Corps work and, to avoid duplication, the recipient names were cleared with the Goodfellows' records.

Transients were helped with housing and meals, many being housed in the Army's facilities in Detroit. Harbor Light in Detroit was used to extend help to alcoholics, while two expectant unwed mothers were hospitalized at the Army's Detroit maternity hospital.

Two youth groups — the Girl Guards and Junior Legion — served youngsters ages 11 to 18. Their character-building activities centered in the Army's Citadel, and without denominational aspects. With the help of Plymouth Rotary and their own funds, the Girl Guards attended the Army's camp near Oxford.

The Army's Citadel is located at 290 Fairground, Plymouth, and its phone number is GL 3-5466 or GL 3-5464.

The Townsend Dunn Steel Division Is People Minded.

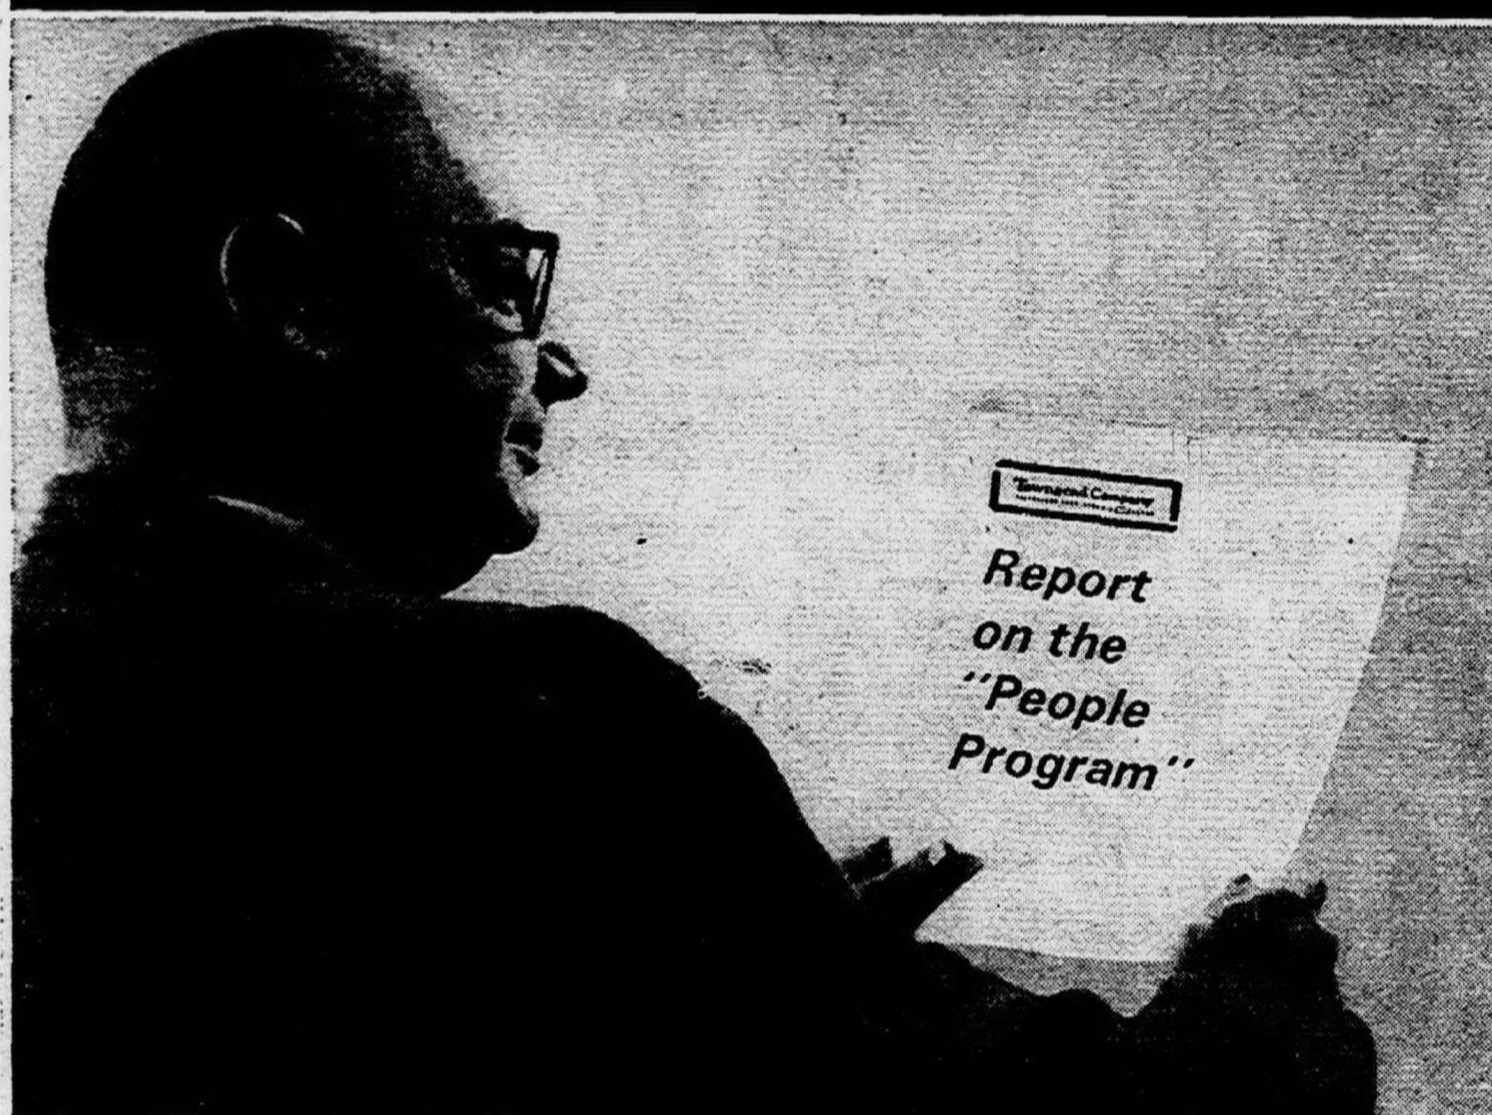

Our "People Program" is described in this reproduction of a recent advertisement. It appeared in BUSINESS WEEK—a magazine read by more than 1,300,000 professional management people in business and industry throughout the United States and abroad. The "People Program" is only one of many reasons why this Townsend Division is a good place to work.

ONE OF A SERIES

To continue Townsend's leadership in the fastener industry we must have, first of all, top-flight employee cooperation and, second, a continuous search for new products and acquisitions on which we can use our employee talents to the fullest extent.

This is why Townsend has a "People Program." It requires top management to spend more time thinking about people than machines and by so doing we maintain an unusually high degree of skilled personnel at all levels.

For example, all managers, department heads, supervisors and foremen regularly evaluate themselves by evaluating the performance and progress of others. We believe in communicating from the top to the lower ranks and, equally important, from the lower ranks to the top.

We discourage procrastination on the part of supervisors who put off moving an inadequate worker to a more suitable job or perhaps terminating him. This is only fair to the employee and fair to Townsend.

On the other hand we have worked hard to acquire good people, train them on a regular basis and practically without exception to promote from within.

As a result we have the advantage of a very stable level of employment and have added good people as the demand for the products and services of each division has expanded. This expansion of our work force has occurred in spite of the fact that we have invested, in the past few years, several million dollars in what could be considered automation. In our case it certainly has not reduced employment.

Automation has helped reduce our costs and enabled us to set a fast pace in a highly competitive market. In fact we have more than doubled our sales in the past seven years by both growth and acquisition.

The "People Program" plus capital expenditures have made it possible for all of the Townsend divisions to enjoy the best period in our 150-year history. This is gratifying to all of us in the organization and to our parent company, Tectron Inc., as well.

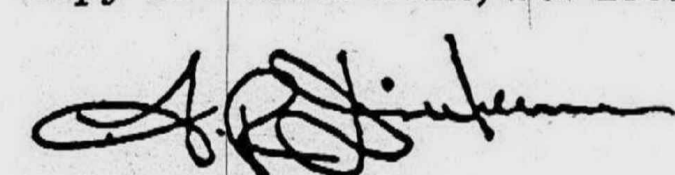

Perhaps you are not a customer of any of the Townsend divisions listed below. Each is a leader in its own field. It could be to your

Free Classes For Suburban Dropouts

If you are not a high school dropout between the ages of seven to 70 you need not read further.

If you are one of the many thousands of suburbanites who regret having left school before getting that valuable high school diploma, here's good news for you.

You can now return to night school to complete your secondary education without paying tuition.

NO-FEE COURSES

Livonia evening schools have set up a fall schedule of 24 different no-fee academic courses. Moreover, all persons enrolling in these "get your diploma" courses will be able to get help and advice from a counselor before they enroll.

Livonians and other students from neighboring Wayne and Oakland county communities are urged to stop in at Bentley high school, Room 101, from 8:00 to 9:00 p.m. this week or next.

OFFER 24 COURSES

Courses scheduled to meet on Monday and Wednesday evenings are English 101, English 112, Modern English 122, English Literature, English Reading and Composition, Chemistry III, Physics, Current Geography, Economics, World History, and Retailing.

Tuesday and Thursday courses scheduled for the fall term are: Biology, Applied Science, American Government, U.S. History, Psychology for Living, Sociology, Algebra 91 or 92, Advanced Algebra II, Math Refresher, Applied Math I, Geometry or Trigonometry, and Applied Shop Math III.

Raymond J. Meiers, director of evening school activities, said that the high fees were eliminated when it was determined that economic reasons were one of the main deterrents in getting "drop-

Symphony Groups Set Up '67 Calendar of Events

Plymouth Symphony League board members set up a register of events for the 1966-67 calendar in a meeting at the home of President Mrs. Thomas Powell on Beech Street.

Present were: Mrs. Powell, Treasurer Mrs. William Moton; Secretaries Mrs. Herbert Burley, Mrs. Robert Gotshall, Mrs. John Jacobs, Mrs. Cass Kershaw and Refreshment Chairman for Symphony rehearsals Mrs. Robert Veech.

Extra Duty Contracts Approved

The Wayne Community Board of Education, whose district includes most of Westland, last week approved eight extra-assignment contract riders for four persons at Wayne Memorial and John Glenn High Schools.

The approval completed board action on the list of contract riders with the delay being caused by a board member's concern over several persons having two extra-curricular assignments.

Donald Domke was named Wayne Memorial athletic director and assistant football coach for an extra pay of $780 and $672 respectively while Lois Tobin will handle the dramatics and forensics duties for $966 and $396 respectively.

At Glenn High, William Elliott will get $780 and $900 for the athletic director and head varsity football coach positions with Letha Rice to handle the dramatics duties for $966 and Mary Tindall the forensics for $409.20.

Van Antwerp Sisters Are Wed

DONNA LEE ZAUMBARIS

Mr. and Mrs. George Zaumbaris, 16535 Middlebelt, Livonia, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter Donna Lee to Bruce Gordon Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Shaw, Jr. of Elkton. Both Donna and Bruce are attending Michigan State University. A tentative wedding date for Sept. 1967 has been set.

EVELYN JEANETTE TUCKER

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Tucker, 6148 Arcola, Garden City, announce the engagement of their daughter, Evelyn Jeanette to Charles William Armstrong, son of Mrs. Dana Armstrong and the late George William Armstrong. A November wedding is planned.

MRS. THOMAS JAY CULLIGAN

Van Antwerp-Culligan Wed In Double-Ring Ceremony

St. John's Episcopal Church, Plymouth, was the scene of the double-ring ceremony of Janet VanAntwerp to Thomas Jay Culligan, recently.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Van Antwerp, Gyde Rd., Plymouth. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jay Culligan, Ithaca, New York.

Large altar vases of white snapdragons and chrysanthemums and a pair of large candleabra decorated the church for the candlelight ceremony. The Rev. David Davies, and the Rev. Robert Shank, Jr. performed the wedding service. Mrs. Gerald B. Fischer, Ann Arbor was the soloist.

The bride wore a gown worn by her Great-Grandmother (Edith Sawyer Stevens, married in Boston, 1881) of French Ivory Bengalene with fitted jacket, self buttons, and elbow sleeves edged in antique deep ivory lace as were the collar and choker. The bell skirt was banded with matching lace and fell into its own train with lace. The veil of matching lace fell from a headpiece of lace roses and matching Bengalene leaves. She carried a large ivory nosegay of baby Fuji chrysanthemums.

Susan VanAntwerp (sister) of Plymouth was maid of honor. She wore a wild cranberry floor length faille dress with a fitted bodice, scoop neck, elbow sleeves with self ruffle, and a semi-train fell from a bow at the waist. Her matching bouffant veiling covered her head. She carried a cranberry hurricane candle centered in a nosegay of pale gold pompons and baby chrysanthemums and long pink ribbons falling to the floor.

Sally VanAntwerp (sister) of Plymouth, Mrs. Clyde Bertrum Woodruff of Kansas City, Missouri (sister), Nancy Culligan of Ithaca, New York (sister of the groom), and Susan Cooper, Plymouth were bridesmaids.

Their gowns were the same as the maid of honor and their hurricane lights were surrounded with bronze baby chrysanthemums and pompons with rose and pink ribbons falling to the floor.

Chris A. McAfee, Dayton, Ohio, David F. Spalding, Saginaw; Thomas J. Aylward IV, St. Charles, Illinois; Gary Rupprecht, Frankfort, Mo.; and Ward Kimple (cousin of groom), Syracuse, New York were ushers.

The mother of the bride wore a deep turquoise silk worsted suit with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of gold rosebuds. Mrs. Culligan wore a pale yellow chiffon print with matching accessories.

A reception was held in the garden of the bride's home around the swimming pool. Decorations were in rose and pink with old fashioned kerosene lamps and tiki torches for guests from all parts of Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Kansas, Missouri, New Hampshire, and New York.

The bride graduated from Plymouth High School, 1963, and attended Cazenovia College (NY), Hillsdale College and Michigan State University. She was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma social sorority. The groom graduated from Ithaca High School and graduated from Michigan State University where he was a member of the Phi Delta Theta social fraternity.

After a wedding trip to northern Michigan and Canada the couple will live in Okemos, where the groom will continue study at Michigan State University.

MRS. CLYDE BERTRUM WOODRUFF

Van Antwerp-Woodruff Wed In Kansas City Church

Margo VanAntwerp of Kansas City, North, Mo., became the bride of Clyde Bertrum Woodruff, Kansas City, North, Mo. in a double ring ceremony recently in North Cross Methodist Church, Kansas City, North, Mo.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Van Antwerp, Gyde Rd., Plymouth; and the groom is the son of Mrs. Helen L. Vinyard, Richmond, Mo.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white peau-de-soie gown with fitted bodice, scoop neckline, long tapered sleeves and a full skirt, all embroidered in pearls and Alencon lace. The circular train was held by a bow at the waistline, embroidered to match the dress. Her veil of double bridal illusion on a headpiece of modified wedding ring was also embroidered in seed pearls to match the gown. Her bouquet was a crescent with Phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis, accented with trailing ivy.

Sally VanAntwerp (sister) of Plymouth was maid of honor. She wore an ice blue crystalline peau-de-soie with jewel neckline and an A-line skirt, trimmed with olive green velvet at the waist and falling to hemline at the floor from a tailored bow at the back. Her headpiece was ice blue on a modified wedding ring, with a soft net circular net brim. She carried Fuji-chrysanthemums accented by magnolia leaves and peacock feathers.

Janet VanAntwerp (sister) of Plymouth; Susan VanAntwerp (Plymouth) also a sister; Mrs. James Holman (sister of groom) of Richmond, Mo., were bridesmaids. Their gowns and flowers were similar to the maid of honors.

Teri Holman, niece of the groom, Richmond, Mo., was flower girl. She was attired to match the bridesmaids and carried a white basket with rose petals which were strewn before the bride.

Owen Anglum, Kansas City, Kansas was best man. James Holman, Richmond, Mo.; Robert Hickle, Ellisville, Mo.; Paul Jamilton, Marshall, Mo.; Richard Strano, Glen Ellyn, Ill.; and David Cooksey, Florissant, Mo., were ushers.

A reception for the guests was held at the Hilton Inn Ballroom, Kansas City, Mo. for about 250 people from several states. It was decorated with large urns of white flowers, ice blue accents on wedding cake which was topped with a nosegay of bachelor buttons and baby breath.

The bride graduated from the University of Kansas School of Fine Arts. The groom graduated from University of Mo., and was a member of Alpha Tau Omega social fraternity.

Following a trip to the Lake of the Ozarks, the couple will make their home in Kansas City, North, Mo. where both are members of the school system.

Women Find Their Own Identity in New Course at Oakland Univ.

Area women may enroll in the new "Investigation Into Identity" course offered by the Continuum Center at Oakland University. This seven-session program, which has been such an outstanding success, began Tuesday, and will be held on successive Tuesdays from 1 to 4 p.m. at Oakland University.

The program is a coordinated one which includes personal assessment and educational, volunteer and employment valuations by staff members at the Center who are experts in these respective fields. The course was designed to assist women in finding a more creative place in the contemporary home and community.

At the first session, Mrs. Priscilla Jackson, Director, explained the role of the Continuum Center and what it offers to the individual, mature woman. Informal discussion at tables of six each will follow, each led by a woman who has already been through the "Investigation Into Identity" course.

During the next four sessions, special tests on values, interests, abilities and aptitudes will be administered by the staff psychologist, Dr. Gerald Self.

The sixth session will be devoted to an individual one-hour interview with Dr. Self who will interpret and review the tests in relation to the individual's particular concerns and goals. The final meeting will be a group discussion on the changing role of women in today's complex society.

Purpose of the psychological assessment is to help each woman understand herself. It is not designed to offer intensive counseling or to arrive at specific decisions and conclusions. It will help her to recognize her interests, appraise her abilities, evaluate her attitudes and standards—in other words, to find her own "identity."

From this assessment, she can then decide realistically what use she wants to make of her time and talents. She may choose to acquire more education, to seek meaningful volunteer work or to find a job.

For further information, call Oakland University, 338-7211, Extension 2146.

The DRC Story

A WOMAN'S PROPER PLACE IS IN THE BARN AT DAWN

The Lady Has A Romance Going With A Horse.

It really is more than a Romance. It is a symbol of Faith and Hope. It is Confidence in her own ability and that of a Thoroughbred, with which others had lost their patience.

Mrs. Mildred Kerr is one of those dedicated persons who keep The Romance of Racing alive. She is a rare individual whose contributions to a Sport can not be measured in the cold statistics of victories or money won.

Mrs. Kerr is a Thoroughbred trainer, following her trade at the Detroit Race Course. She is one of the many reasons a growing number of Michigan Sports Fans find Racing an interesting and fascinating means of entertainment. We race daily, except Sundays, through November 5. I think you would enjoy seeing the fine horses Mrs. Kerr and her associates condition at the DRC.

Mrs. Kerr is the owner and trainer of Stanislas, the Cinderella horse who catapulted to fame by beating the brilliant Tom Rolfe, Amberoid, Staunchness, Big Rock Candy, Beauty, Selari and the other highly-rated stars in the recent $100,000 added Michigan Mile.

Mrs. Kerr claimed Stanislas for $16,000. After her partner in the deal lost faith in the horse, she bought his interest. Her confidence was rewarded with the victory over the Nation's best in the classic Mile.

Training Thoroughbreds isn't a vocation which attracts many women. It is a demanding and trying profession . . . one which requires being in the barn at dawn every day, and endless-hours of hard work, for which there is an uncertain return.

Mrs. Kerr absorbed the fine points of Thoroughbred training while assisting her husband, the late Charlie Kerr, who was one of the Mid-West's most highly respected and talented trainers. After his death, she took over. The climb has been difficult, but now she is established as one of the Nation's foremost feminine trainers.

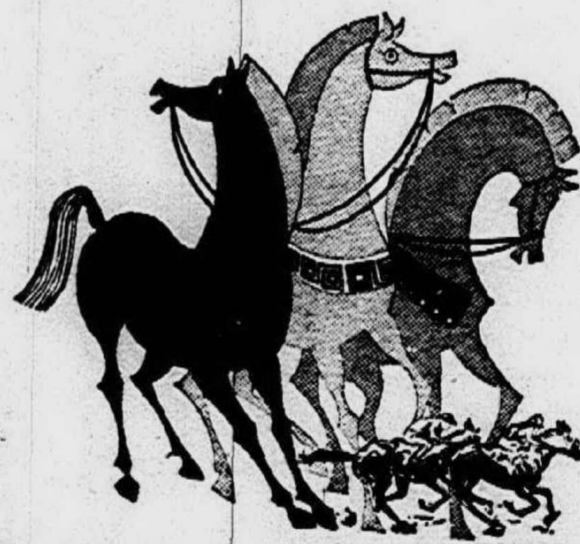

The role of Women In Racing is a growing one. We have a number of prominent women owners racing with us. And the list of our feminine fans increases each season. We have Ladies Day each Thursday at the Detroit Race Course. There is FREE ADMISSION to all Ladies. In addition, there are 10 valuable prize awards, including a color television set.

It is our constant aim to provide the best in Racing entertainment in surroundings of beauty, comfort and convenience. We have a new $3,000,000 Clubhouse, with two excellent dining terrace restaurants. In "Ye Olde Tired Horse Pub," where there is never a cover or a minimum charge, you can get a snack or a refreshing beverage.

We have close-in parking for 12,000 cars. There are Easy-In, Easy-Out entrances and exits off Middlebelt, Schoolcraft and Inkster Roads.

I invite you to visit us soon.

Let's Talk Fashion

with

June Simpson

WHAT'S ALL THE excitement about? Well, with the children solidly back-to-school, happy vacation memories safely tucked away 'till there's time to reminisce, the Queen of the House finds there are a few moments she can label as strictly her own.

Some of these strictly private moments, of course, will be devoted to a quickie study course on what the world of Fashion was about while our heads were turned. And, the tempting collections of Fashion Names we ALL know can be found all over our town.

YOU'LL PARTICULARLY love the new knits and sweaters. Our leading American Fashion Houses have outdone themselves to offer you knit fashions you'll buy because they're beautiful, and, they do so MUCH more than just keep a girl warm. Sweaters run the gamut of the country-campus pace of the ribbed and bulky with flattering turtle neck, to the equally bulky and fuzzy-wuzzys designed to make those cherished leisure moments at home, moments to remember.

YOU'VE HEARD lots and lots about the "Poorboy," the one topper that's as right with the new slung-lo hipline, as the first Sailor was for the Gibson Girl Look. Behold what has happened to the Poorboy! He has struck it rich and is proudly known as the Richboy. The lavish interpretation shows up in a ribbed knit with long sleeves and generously turtle-necked. Colors are just as generously endowed, and you'll find big girls, little girls, and all ladies of fashion, simply loving the Richboy.

WHILE WE'RE thinking "rich," and thinking "lavish," what comes pleasurably to mind is the thought of how simple it is to avail ourselves of the comfort and flattery of the look of luxury—even on a strictly budgeted income. The case in point is the lavish look of the furred costume that's frankly a fur fake!

THIS BEAUTIFUL FAKE beauty touches every hour of a Fashion Day with a pampered look. The out-door coat you'd love to "winter in" is a deceiving cotton suede—stitched and hooded in the sport manner, and lined with the richest of all deep pile fabrics, looking for all the world like fur.

The other lovely extreme, a daytime costume of giant checks fashioned in lush imported tweed. The coat has the extra-long-jacket look, deeply cuffed and collared in fox, and reverses to become a fox jacket. The about-face jacket tops a matching tweed sheath that's all simplicity and uncluttered lines.

AND, HERE'S A WORD for the fashion-wise budgeteer. Don't overlook the fashion possibilities of the "little" fur. Those separate throat cuddlers you can buy for practically pennies. Or, one you'll whip up for yourself from fur remnants! Try wearing them with your sweaters, high neckline dresses, or cardigan neck-line suits. Voila! The difference! The RICH little Poor-girl!

THE LIVONIA WOMEN'S Golf League members are not only good golfers but when it comes to making hats, they take a back-seat to no one. This was evident at the annual luncheon and outing of the league held on Sept. 9 in the Idyl Wyld golf course clubhouse where trophies were presented to the flight winners. As a side-light the girls decided to have a crazy hat contest. Crazy hat contestants posed for this picture. They are: (kneeling, front row from left) Lue Nelson, Gerry Kitts,

Plymouth BPW Members Hear Mary Lee Reynolds

Members and guests of the Plymouth Business and Professional Womens Club met at the Hillside Inn on Monday to hear Mary Lee Reynolds, instructor for the Dorothy Carnegie Course.

On the evenings agenda were results of the Plymouth Fall Festival which brought the club around $600, and plans were already under way for next years affair.

Miss Reynolds is a graduate of Michigan State University, has a degree in physiology in Business and Personnel and she is a director of the Dorothy Carnegie in the Metropolitan Detroit.

Members who wish to attend the Fall District meeting on October 2 at the Holiday Inn on Michigan Ave. in Dearborn on Oct. 2 may call in reservations to Daisy Proctor by Sept. 28.

Miss Reynolds was introduced by Mrs. Jessie Sutton, chairman of the personal development committee; members received her vibrant and inspiring talk with great enthusiasm.

The club was proud to submit the name of Clara Hallman, Service Assistant from the Michigan Bell to represent the Business Womens Club in the Miss Sweet Charity Contest sponsored by the Plymouth Community Fund Drive.

The Distaff Side...

By Jerry Wendt, Women's Editor

It has been pretty hard for us to keep our mind on anything but the next few weeks these days. For we are going to take our first vacation in two years.

Before we go, there are two top events to attend: The yearly Press Party that Madonna College gives is always a much looked forward to event. For besides their religious leadership, these gentle sisters are leaders in many community movements and every year they enthusiastically unveil a new project. This year we will tour the new buildings on their campus.

Then there is the Women's Press Party at the Women's City Club, another opportunity to catch up all the news and enjoy the delicious cuisine this club is justly famous for.

This is just one of the many things we have enjoyed in the last two years, perhaps the most meaningful two years of our entire life.

Every story begins, "if only we had known" and in my case, if we had ever dreamed of all the exciting things that lay behind the simple white door of the little Observer Office in Farmington, we probably would have taken a flying leap and crashed through the glass door in our eagerness to get there.

I think every emotion known to a human being has been keenly felt and experienced in this span.

There have been the thrill times of meeting world famous celebrities Charles Heston, Lana Turner, Helen Hayes, Hayley Mills, Judith Anderson, Dame Alicia Markova, and Herman and the Hermits. And the discovery of how hardworking these people were, and how much is demanded of them.

There have been times of unbelievable hard work. When the process of becoming an editor began. (and is still in process.) The backbreaking labor, the days that began with one dawn, and ended with another. The special classes set up for Sue Shaughnessey and myself by the managing editor when he had to put in extra hours on our own particular problems. Mine being "heads." They always looked so elegant on paper, but came out too big or too little in the actual type. As Myra said, they looked like midgets with a great big hat. All the myriad things to learn, of "scaling pictures," "sizing" stories, "dummying" pages; the parlance of the printer; the hours on the floor, and then somehow, somewhere, in our addled brain at last seeing the magic words "Editor" leap out from the page in a never to be forgotten moment.

There were moments of excitement at tremendous events, standing with the Ben Mills at Meadowbrook Festival and watching the crowds come streaming in in a never ending procession and knowing that we were in at the birth of a momentous moment. Being at the opening of the Greek Theater and watching Judith Anderson make her entrance and then rising to our feet at the end to hear the audience shout, "Bravo, Bravissimo," for a standing ovation.

And always there was our pride in the paper, in being part of a working team. No one ever rests on their laurels at The Observer and every week, during the span that the paper gets "put to bed" its all hands on deck.

From the top management (editor-in-chief, managing editor, and general manager) and on down, everyone puts his shoulder to the wheel and pushes as hard as he can.

What are we going to do on our first vacation?

Why we will be in New York City, and will visit some of the top TV shows and stars, of course. Also we'll peek at the latest in fashions at Bergdorf Goodmans and Lord and Taylors. And if the time and budget hold out we will try to sup at one of Manhattan's smart supper clubs.

If this sounds like what we do ordinarily, we can only say that we are one of those fortunate individuals who don't have a time they work and then a time to do what they enjoy; we work at what we enjoy, and the two are inseparable.

We'll see you in two weeks and bring you back some news that we hope will be a guide to you when you visit the BIG TOWN!

LOOKING OVER THE exciting speakers lined up on the program for this years Livonia Town Hall are Chairman Ruth McClelland and Mrs. Robert King.

Ladies Prepare For Fall Fair

Any ladies around town who have a neighbor-member of the Episcopal Church in Livonia, St. Andrew's on Hubbard Road, are much aware of the hustle, bustle going on in their homes as they prepare for the annual Bazaar coming up on Nov. 3.

They are bombarding their friends and neighbors with requests for items for the "Flea Market," canning jars for the "Farm Cupboard" and scraps of material, bits of ribbons, etc. for the sewing and decorating booths. Sounds like a "really big" affair and we're sure they'll welcome us all with open arms.

MR. AND MRS. RONALD DERHAM

Liedel-Derham Vows Spoken

The marriage of Sandra Louise Liedel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin W. Liedel, Farley Avenue, Redford Township, to Ronald Alfred Derham, Tustin, Calif., took place in St. John Bosco Church, Redford, on Aug. 12. Father Leo N. Sheltreau officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, escorted by her father, was attired in a floor length gown of silk organza with pearl beading and alencon lace medallions on the bodice and bottom of the dress.

The cathedral-length train was also of silk organza with lace inserts. A silk illusion veil was secured by lace medallions trimmed with pearls and sequins.

She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis with detachable white orchid center.

MRS. DONALD VAN DRAGHT

Martin-Van Draght Take Wedding Vows

St. Valentine's Church, Redford Township, was the scene of the wedding of Patricia Ann Martin to Donald Van Draght.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Martin, 25307 Ross Drive, Redford Township. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Van Draght, 177 Redner Drive, Battle Creek.

The bride wore a redingote of swiss embroidered silk organza over a silk faille gown with a silk illusion veil. Her flowers were white gardenias and magnolia leaves.

Rosemary Martin, sister of the bride was maid of honor. She wore a floor length yellow A-line gown with empire waist and white cotton lace bodice. Bands of Marguerite daisies served as headpieces.

The best man was Daniel Vegaria and the ushers were Timothy Cummings, Gerald Ray and William Derham.

The bride's mother wore a mint green sheath with ribbon lace sleeveless jacket and matching accessories.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for 260 guests at Roma hall, Livonia.

The bride wore a tan dress with matching shoes and hat for her honeymoon trip through Canada to Cape Cod and back through New York and Washington, D.C.

The couple will make their future home in Plymouth.

Celebrate 10th Anniversary Hill and Dale Club Wins Awards

All past and present members and their friends are invited to attend the 10th anniversary celebration of the founding of St. John Bosco Parish, located at 12070 Beech Daly, Redford Township, Sunday, Oct. 2.

The celebration will begin with the 1:00 p.m. Mass to be served for the first time in the beautiful new outdoor shrine. (Weather permitting). Refreshments will be served immediately after the Mass, followed by a Hoot-a-Nanny.

A harvest that has brought rewards to members of Hill and Dale Garden Club was the Harvest Festival sponsored by the Michigan Horticulture Society held at the Belle Isle Casino Spet. 13, 14 and 15.

The Flower Show titled "Adventures in Color" consisted of interpretations of quotations from the whimsical book "Hailstones and Halibut Bones" written by Mary O'Neil.

Section Chairmen were: Miniatures, Mrs. Warren Kruger; Pedestals, Mrs. Richard W. Stieger and Mrs. Joseph Ziska.

Entering the Artistic Arrangement Section were: Gladys King, Barbara Kull, Mary Whiteford, Rosemary Finlay, Rosemary Oppertauer, Avaline Reimold, Myra Kruger, Grace Bulman, and Kay Gobeille.

Besides the first, second, third and honorable mention ribbons awarded, four individual prizes were distributed in the Artistic Arrangement Section for the large number of points earned.

The members of Hill and Dale walked off with all except the First Prize. Winning second prize, Myra Kruger, a container; third prize, Avaline Reimold and Mary Henek, a book "Hailstones and Halibut Bones"; fourth prize went to Grace Bulman and Gladys King and this was a years paid membership to the Michigan Horticultural Society.

School Bells Ring Out In G.C. Co-op Nursery

School bells are ringing for preschoolers these days at the Garden City Cooperative Nursery with classes which began the week of Sept. 19.

From the small world of the home and neighborhood today, the preschooler begins preparation as a citizen in the world and future of tomorrow. In their supervised play with children their own age, they are exposed to materials, play equipment and group experiences not usually available in the home. Included in the concept of the cooperative nursery is that of the education of the parent. Toward this purpose, the first general meeting is that of orientation which was held Monday, Sept. 12 at the Garden City Presbyterian Church, John Hawk and Middlebelt.

Chairman Donna Deschenes opened the program with a welcome and introduction of the other board members. These include Peggy Kostoff, co-chairman; Sharon Roe, secretary; Pat Klubeck, treasurer; Florine Klatt, membership; Pat Engling, equipment; Jeannie Churchill, scheduling; Sharon Hall, trip; Marge Haley, publicity.

The parent education program will continue throughout the year with required attendance at the monthly meetings and the scheduling of speakers and films to acquaint parents with the behavior and education of their children.

Republican Women Elect New Slate

The Annual State Convention of the Republican Women's Federation of Michigan was held Sept. 22 and 23 at the Harris Motor Inn in Kalamazoo. They were hosted by the Kalamazoo Republican Women's Club.

Mrs. Fred A. Sincok is the First President of the newly formed Plymouth Area Republican Women's Club—one of the 43 new clubs formed in 1966 in the Michigan Women's Federation.

Mrs. John Salmon, of Arizona, National RWF Membership Chairman, honored the 43 presidents of new or reactivated clubs by presenting them with charters at a special ceremony. This number of new clubs in one year is a national record. "This is a dramatic and unprecedented growth of the Republican Women's Federation in any state, and the women of Michigan are to be congratulated," Mrs. Salmon said.

Mrs. Fred Sincok and Mrs.

Republican Women Elect New Slate

William Saxton delegate and alternate of the club and Mrs. Gordon Tallman of Livonia, a guest heard Mary Scranton wife of Pennsylvania Governor William Scranton, speak on "A Day in the Life of a Governor's Wife."

The Convention, with the theme, "Republican Women on the March," also heard a keynote address from Lenore Romney and addresses by Senator Robert Griffin and State Central Chairman Elly Peterson.

The sessions included workshops and a business meeting to consider changes in bylaws and standing committee reports.

Convention participants also honored women candidates and the candidate for University of Michigan Regent, Mrs. George J. (Trudy) Huebner, Jr.

Those interested in joining may call Mrs. Betty Fairham, membership chairman, at 455-0240.

Bob Vernon, Famed Singing Preacher To Conduct Revival Meeting Oct. 2-7

Bob J. Vernon, singer, preacher and television personality, will conduct a revival meeting at Kenwood Church of Christ Oct. 2-7.

BOB VERNON

Services begin at 11:00 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. on Sunday, and at 7:30 each evening Monday through Friday. The church is located at 19601 Middlebelt in Livonia, next to Livonia Mall, and the public is urged to attend.

In addition to Bob Vernon's Bible-based, non-denominational preaching, he will also sing during the meeting, presenting an entire concert one evening. There will also be music by the church's Revival Choir and Treble Aires Trio. Spirited congregational singing will be led by the minister, Lee Baltzer. Thoughtful provision has been made for small children, with nursery care for those under three years of age and a class for the three to five year olds.

Mr. Vernon is one of four remarkable young men who comprise the Vernon Brothers Quartet. Through the medium of television they are spreading the Gospel message—without denominational overtones—from coast to coast with song, serious discussion and television drama. This is a valuable public service for the American home in a day when there is an increasing disappearance of family unity and morality. There are more than a score of Vernons, including Mom and Dad, who live on the 122-year old Vernon homestead near Lebanon, Missouri. The four brothers are all preachers, all have the gift of song—and so have their wives and children—and their recordings of Christian hymns and spirituals are much in demand.

Their widest-reaching effort, however, has been through a series of striking family-type television dramatizations called "Homestead, U.S.A." This program has been carried by more than 150 stations, bringing Christian music and ideals to more than 50 million persons. The non-sectarian series is a high-quality religious show, utilizing a combination of drama, musical variety and serious discussion about challenges confronting the church and the nation, and offering the Bible as God's relevant word for man's needs. Bob Vernon is Executive Producer of the non-profit group, Christian Television Mission, Inc.

Many Colors Will Bleach

Although fashion features in summer may be confined to bathing suits and play suits, one style note is appropriate for all seasons: it's smart and chic to keep clothes clean. With all the attention being paid to modern fabrics and gay pastels and prints, there's also comfort in the reassurance that liquid chlorine bleach, an essential for getting things clean, is safe to use on most man-made fibers and bleach-fast colors.

Dr. Heustis To Speak Sunday, Oct. 2

DR. ALBERT E. HEUSTIS

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, Director of the Michigan Department of Public Health, will be the guest speaker Sunday, Oct. 2, at 6 p.m. at the Redford Baptist Church, Grand River and Seven Mile. Dr. Heustis will give the first of a series of lectures by outstanding business and professional leaders on the theme "The Mission of the Church in the World Today."

Dr. Heustis received his medical and public health training at the University of Michigan and Johns Hopkins University and has served as head of the Michigan Department of Public Health since 1948. Dr. Heustis is well known as a public health director and as a Christian layman. He has served his local church as church school teacher and superintendent and as a vestryman. He is a recognized leader in the work of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan.

Following the Sunday evening lecture by Dr. Heustis, there will be an informal question and answer session. The public is invited to attend the lecture and the discussion period.

Hello Michael

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis L. Scheller, 14114 Seminole, Redford wish to announce the birth of their ten pound, three ounce son, Michael Lawrence, Aug. 30. Their two "helpers", Paul, (three and one-half years of age) and Chris, (two and one-half years), also welcomed his arrival.

"Faith's Fun Fair & Bazaar" To Be Held Saturday, Oct. 22

Faith Lutheran Church Ladies' Guild, Livonia, installed their new officers at their Sept. 20 meeting.

Rev. Ronald Starenko installed Julia Kuczvara, President; Velma Duesing, Vice-President; Lucille Davies, Recording Secretary; Florence Willman, Corresponding Secretary; and Kate Otto, Treasurer. Serving on the Board as Council Members are Audrey Gross, Margaret Tulloch, Elizabeth Druckrey, and Virginia Smith.

This Service Organization of Faith Lutheran Church is spearheading and directing a "FIRST" at Faith, namely "Faith's Fun Fair and Bazaar" which will be held Saturday, Oct. 22 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Interest has been prevalent throughout the years to try an endeavor of this kind to stimulate fellowship among the ladies of Faith.

Three of the officers have worked for the last year organizing this "INFANT," namely Julia Kuczvara, Lucille Davies and Velma Duesing. Featured booths will be Gift Shop Boutique specializing in hand-made articles, a Holly Shop with various holiday decoration items, Garden Shop, Country Kitchen and Country Store specializing in home-made baked goods and canned foods. "Ye Ole Curiosity Shop" with white elephant articles for the treasure seekers. Religious Booth, a Children's Book Fair, a children's painting exhibition, Old-Fashioned Candy Store, Children's games and movies while mothers and dads shop, as well as a Harvest Shop sponsored by the Teen Group selling pumpkins for Halloween.

A Snack Bar will be available for those wishing refreshments. Women of the Congregation have been asked to donate articles for the Fair so the Fun Fair and Bazaar will prove varied and interesting. Proceeds from the Fun Fair and Bazaar will further the work of the Guild whose special interest at this time is the Church Building Program which is underway under the title "Faith Lives."

Finalizing a most interesting session, a special welcome and gift was presented to the wife of the new Co-Pastor at Faith, Mrs. Fred Balke.

Farmington Family Holds Giant Reunion

Residing on Pillsbury Dr. in Farmington is Norbert Crowe, his wife Kate and two children Jean and Ronald. A married daughter lives in California. Norbert Crowe is one of the brothers in a family of fifteen boys and two girls (eight boys and one girl who are still living) which formed the greatest athletic family in Jefferson High history of Lafayette, Indiana. They were the children of Mr. and Mrs. James Crowe.

The Crowe family is no small affair and family reunions are huge. Their most recent reunion, their first in five years, was held at the Conservation Club meeting hall in Lafayette, Indiana. The boys (now grown men some of whose families are tered throughout the States. Klem resides in Buffalo, New York; Paul in Youngstown, Ohio; Mike in San Gabriel, Calif.; Emmett in Cincinnati, Ohio; Francis in Royal Oak, Mich.; Charles and Jim in Lafayette, Indiana; Norbert in Farmington and the only living sister, Margaret, in Kalamazoo.

Approximately 175 descendants of the Crowe family were at the gathering from all over the United States. The Holiday Inn in Lafayette was bulging with children of the original Crowes, grandchildren, a few cousins and a few who married into the family. The Crowe athletes were known for their participation in football, baseball and basketball at Jefferson High.

THIS UNUSUAL SIGN urges people to attend the services of the Nankin Mills Baptist Church, 32430 Ann Arbor Trail, Westland.

"Church For Sale"

The Nankin Mills Baptist Church, 32430 Ann Arbor Trail, Westland is sponsoring an intensive program through its Church School which meets each Sunday at 9:45 a.m.

Dale Collins, Supt. of the Sunday School and Rev. Robert Ramseyer, Pastor of the Church, have a great idea for a sale as indicated in the picture. The Church is not really for sale, but the church has a vision. This vision began nine years ago when the church was formed and has

"Starting with the Sunday School nursery through the adults, we want to sell you the idea of salvation through Jesus Christ," states Collins.

The Church is presently undergoing an extensive building program to provide more class rooms for the use of training children, youth and adults in the Christian faith. It is the prayer of the Church that it may effectively minister to the community.

First Methodist Church Begins Study Class Oct. 5

Consider this invitation to the Spiritual Life Study Class being offered by the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church of Farmington for four consecutive weeks beginning Wednesday, Oct. 5.

The theme will be "Christian Being and Doing," with devotions, study, and open discussion lead by Dr. W. Leslie Williams, pastor of the church. The class will study the Book of James and I Peter, and use a supplementary textbook which may be obtained at the first meeting.

Open to all who are interested, the Study Class, planned by Mrs. David McGinnis, assisted by Mrs. Fred Westbrook, will be held in Room One of the Educational Unit of First Methodist from 9:30-11:30 a.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 5, Oct. 12, Oct. 19, and Oct. 26.

There will be an adult-supervised nursery for pre-school youngsters. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. McGinnis at GR 6-1415, or Mrs. Westbrook at KE 5-4297.

Landscaping Creates Illusion

Landscaping can do much to influence the apparent size of your home—but if a real problem of "too big or too small" exists, paint will be your savior.

Light, or cool colors make a home appear larger, while warm deep tones give the opposite impression.

By GEORGIA MOSSMAN

FOLLOWING A DELICIOUS DINNER, President Marlene Allen "rose for the occasion" of announcing a most interesting-sounding calendar of club events; and to introduce Fashion Show Chairman, Jenny Osenko, her committee, and the Board of Directors for the Rosedale Garden Women's Club.

Last Wednesday was when it happened, and the dining room of a local department store was where more than 100 members and guests met for their annual "Opening Dinner," signalling the beginning of a new season of activities.

The real "dessert" of the evening was a parade of fashions, with Livonia's Jean Kink being one of the professional models who "showed" the latest around-the-block fashions for m'lady.

Pants-suits, in leather and a combination of suede and flannel were the sportswear features. And with the addition of a snappy "crash helmet" and a pair of "motorcycle boots," the costume served to illustrate the "Look of the Mod," rather than as a recommendation for shopping in the suburbs. (We hope!)

Plum-tone was said to be the color of the season, with green and coffee 'n cream running second and third best.

Nominations for the greatest "audience reactors" would include: a very smart jonquil yellow dress 'n coat set; a stunning 3-piece black knit ensemble with jaguar fur trim; a smock-type cerise chiffon cocktail dress; a silver-sequined "stretch" gown; and an ice-blue and jeweled ball gown with matching floor-length satin coat. And of course, the furs—for trim, for fun and "fur" pure feminine elegance.

BEST WISHES for a rapid recovery go to Livonia's Elaine O'Neil of Alpine Dr., and Jackie Thomas of Utah St. Both ladies have recently discarded those stylish hospital gowns in favor of more comfortable "at-home" apparel. And reports are that their recuperation is progressing nicely.

WHAT EVER WILL BECOME of today's youth? While we don't know what all of Livonia's teens are planning, many of them are on their way to the beginning or the resumption of a college education.

And that means that many mothers were busy washing and ironing and relaying advice, while an equal number of fathers were adding up college expenses and subtracting from the family budget.

"Students" promised to live within their income and to write home often; and their parents will no doubt accept their "collect" phone calls, and "Get a check off in the morning's mail."

There will be parents hoping their "student" has acquired good study habits (somewhere, somehow) . . . and students who will be wishing they had, too. For while September's freshman class has all A and B students, the law of "averages" says that by December, a certain percentage of that class will receive D's and E's.

And while all careers may not be as successful as planned, and even with a few changes of mind and courses along the way, the accomplishments of some of these young people are bound to be a point of pride for Livonians.

LAST WEEK MICHIGAN STATE UNIV. enrolled Livonia's Bob Covert, Dave Frederichs, Sally Bowser, Diane Matthews, Ann Opland, Judy Schoenberg, Bob Baldrice, Tom Flewelling, Jim Seaman, and Cathy Sindon. Jim Costlow is transferring from Kemper Military Inst. to MSU for his junior year; Bob Jenkins is a junior, studying Pre-Law; Susan Eggers is taking Speech and Dramatics; Betty Massingill and Bob Zink are majoring in Speech; Gail Crain is studying English; Mike Kane—Agriculture; Peggy Core—Elementary Education; Mary Soroka—Special Education; Sandy Fairbanks and Gary Donat—Pre-Law; Jerry Williams—Pre-Med; and Dan Tolles is an Engineering major.

EASTERN MICHIGAN UNIV. has accepted Connie Jackman as a Home Ec. major; Carol Michaels, Phys. Ed.; Jack Wilson, Pre-Law; and Bruce Porter, Jim Dekiere, Pam Edds, Chris Johnson, Jim Daugherty and Stewart Tomkins.

Newly arrived at Kalamazoo to attend Western Michigan are Sandy Schmidt, Ann Myers, Janice Cardenas, Larry Tehan and Linda Childs. Central at Mt. Pleasant welcomed Dave Wolds and June Mastro; Phys. Ed. major Sally McLeod, and football scholarship winners, Bob Eisner and Mike Degutis.

MRS. RAYMOND HOFFMAN JR.

Mitchell, Hoffman Exchange Vows

Christine Ann Mitchell became the bride of Raymond L. Hoffman, Jr. in an evening ceremony recently at St. Aidans Church on Farmington Rd., in Livonia.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon A. Mitchell, Bennington Lane, Dearborn. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Hoffman, 17397 Westbrook, Livonia.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a silk linen dress with elbow length sleeves and alencon lace at the bodice and back panel. Her illusion veil was held with a circlet of seed pearls and sequins. Her flowers were stephanotis, snowdrift and ivy.

Paula Jean Mitchell (her sister) was maid of honor. Nancy Jorgensen, Mary Ellen Edwards, Patricia Hoffman were bridesmaids.

They wore Nile green dresses with empire waists. Their headpieces were yellow circlets with illusion veils. Their flowers were yellow snowdrift and ivy.

James Trebilcock was best man. Ushers were Michael Hoffman, John Maney, and Daniel Mitchell.

The bride's mother wore a pale yellow chiffon dress and the groom's mother wore a pale blue dress.

Northwest YWCA Offers Course in Auto Mechanics

A five-session evening course in practical Powder-Puff Mechanics, especially geared for women and girls, will be offered at Northwest YWCA, 25940 Grand River beginning Oct. 10, at 7:30 p.m. and will continue on Mondays and Wednesdays.

Students will be given basic automobile operation, emergency tips, and "under the hood" instruction in the classroom by an expert police mechanic. Powder Puff II will follow this course with practical application in a garage situation.

Pre-registration is necessary. Fee for members is $12 for 10 hours of instruction. For information, call KE 7-8500.

Livonia Town Hall Has Booth in Mall

Sept. 30 and Oct. 1 will be "Red Letter Days" at the Seven Mile-Middlebelt Livonia Mall for Town Hall workers.

On these two days they will operate a booth for those who want season tickets but have not gotten them yet, giving them an additional opportunity to buy them before the first lecture, Oct. 19.

The booth will be centrally located in the mall area and will operate from noon until 9:00 p.m. on Monday and Saturday. "A few season tickets are still available," said Mrs. King, "and are sold for $8.00 per ticket, which includes all four lectures of the 1966-67 series." Season ticket holders are permitted to bring OUT OF TOWN guests for $2.50 each and their tickets can be purchased at the door on the day of the lecture. However, no single lecture tickets are sold otherwise.

The first lecture will feature Micol Fontana of Rome, prominent fashion authority and leader in her field. It will be held in the Terrace Theatre, 30400 Plymouth Rd., at 10:30 p.m. A celebrity luncheon will follow in the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth and reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Norbert Dittmar at GA 7-7213 by the Friday before the lecture.

See You There

The 17th Annual Fall Festival Bazaar, sponsored by the Lapeer Parents Association for Retarded Children, will be held Saturday, Oct. 1, from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. at the St. Cecilia Athletic Building, 6345 Sterns Avenue, Detroit, located north of Grand River.

The goal, set at $15,000.00, will benefit the 3500 mentally handicapped children and adults at the Lapeer State Home and Training School, with recreational and research programs. Lapeer is the largest of the training schools, in the state, for the mentally handicapped.

Lola Valley Methodist Church women will hold their third annual rummage sale on Friday, Sept. 30, 4 to 9 p.m., and on Saturday, Oct. 1, from 9 a.m. until noon.

Livonia Women's Chorus Opens Membership Drive

September is recruitment month for the Livonia Women's Chorus.

The Chorus, sponsored by the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation, is open to all Livonia women.

Women interested in singing with the Chorus are invited to attend rehearsals at Clarenceville High School, Wednesday evenings at 8:00.

"We're hoping to double our membership this year," says newly elected president, Mrs. Lee Morrow. "Former high school and church choir members are especially welcome."

The Chorus is designed for and comprised of women who enjoy the rigors of concert singing and the fun of musical staging.

Their present music inventory boasts selections from the comfortable melodies of hit musicals through the more difficult classics.

Public appearances are an important part of the Chorus' activities. Each year they present two formal concerts in addition to appearing before many local and out-of-town organizations.

For additional information call Mrs. Morrow, 427-7417 or membership chairman, Mrs. Kenneth Aird, 427-4346.

LIVONIA WOMEN'S CHORUS PRESIDENT Mrs. Lee Morrow (left) and membership chairman Mrs. Kenneth Aird discuss plans for the membership drive.

Michigan Cherries Hit In Germany

Dried red tart Michigan cherries are making their debut in West Germany to join the already famous Michigan navy beans and mushrooms as a part of the diet of Europeans.

The debut was made at the IKOFA (International Exhibition of Groceries and Fine Foods) at Munich, West Germany.

Michigan joined with six other states in presenting a varied display of food products, with four Michigan industries having products on display in the state booth and in the commodities area of the exhibition.

Firms sponsoring the Michigan display were Great Lakes Mushroom Cooperative, with both fresh and processed mushrooms; Michigan Bean Commissions, representing producers of navy beans; Cherry Growers Cooperative and Smeltzer Orchards, with frozen, dried and canned cherries.

Michigan mushrooms are being introduced in West Germany, and the demand for this specialized item is expected to be increased as a result of the sales effort being made at the exhibition. The Michigan booth was under the direction of John F. Schwartz, marketing specialist with the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

The response from visitors to the booth as they were given a sample of the dried red tart cherries indicated that the demand for this new food item will increase as they become available in the food stores of Europe. A prospective customer commented that dried red tart cherries would probably become a staple item of mountain climbers.

Blame the Gremlins

Oops, we're sorry! For those of you who intended to serve Faith Gillespie's lovely chocolate mousse and then sit back in a glow of compliments, and found instead of chocolate mousse, chocolate milk instead, accept our apologies.

Both Faith's recipes and our printers are top grade so it must have been the mysterious gremlins again who put in egg whites instead of egg yolks and deleted the line saying to bake the pie crust.

Here are the corrected recipes:

FRENCH SILK CHOCOLATE PIE

To make the crust: cream together 1/2 cup soft butter, 3/4 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1/4 teaspoon salt. Stir in one cup sifted flour. Mix in 3/4 cup rolled oats (uncooked). Use your fingers to press dough evenly onto the bottom and sides of a nine-inch pie pan. Make a high rim around the top. Chill thoroughly, and then bake at 375° about 16 minutes, until golden. Cool before filling.

The filling: Melt a six-ounce package of chocolate chips over hot water. Stir till perfectly smooth, then cool. Cream together in mixing bowl: 3/4 cup butter, one cup sifted confectioners sugar, two teaspoons vanilla, and a dash of salt. Beat with electric mixer at high speed 10 to 15 minutes, till mixture is very fluffy and light.

Add three eggs, one at a time heating about 3 minutes after each.

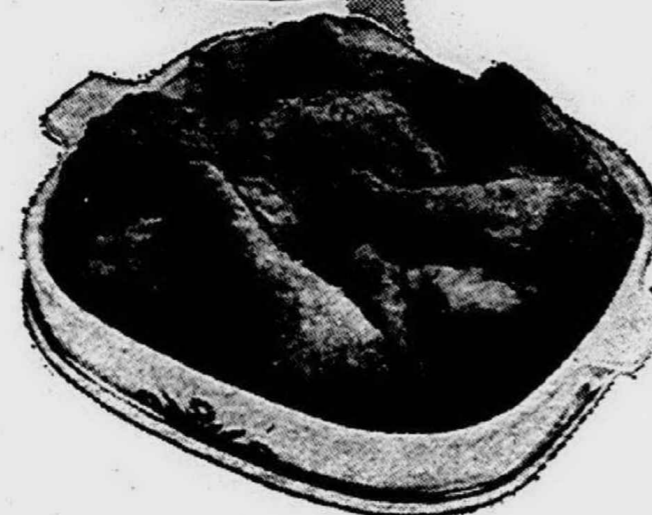

CHOCOLATE MOUSSE

Break into small pieces eight ounces semi-sweet baking chocolate. Place in small bowl and cover with boiling water. Cover the bowl. After 5 minutes, carefully pour off the water and stir the chocolate with a fork till it is smooth. When it is cool but not cold, gradually add six tablespoons confectioners sugar, three tablespoons soft butter, and four slightly beaten egg yolks. Mix well.

Beat till very high and stiff six egg whites. Fold into the chocolate mixture, half at a time. Blend quickly and thoroughly. Pour into serving dish or six individual dishes. Refrigerate for several hours, or over night. Serve with whipped cream. You may serve it with lady fingers, if you want to, but there is nothing wrong with serving it all by itself.

Oldford

ficial notice of its actions, was in the hands of the Trustees.

Then came a motion which has all the earmarks of a political move. Trustee Gene Overholt, who is running for re-election, moved that the recommendation of the Planning Board be accepted. It was supported by Trustee Ralph Garber, who also is running for re-election. Garber is a member of the Planning Commission that had voted to deny the request for rezoning.

Later Overholt stated that he had made the motion only to get the Trustees off dead center since he couldn't see any other way to bring the matter to a head.

On a roll call vote, Overholt voted for the motion and Trustees Louis Norman and Lauterbach along with Clerk Mrs. Helen Richardson and Treasurer Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes voted "No." Thus the motion was defeated by a 4-1 vote.

This was taken to mean in effect that the Trustees favored over-ruling the Commission and thus approve the rezoning — inasmuch as there was only one other action to take — approval of the request.

Trustee Garber quickly pointed this out to the Board when a discussion started to table the matter. Garber said that the Board had called the meeting to reconsider the denial of the request by the Planning Commission and that inasmuch as so much time had been devoted to a hearing and discussion, the Trustees were obligated to act.

Mrs. Richardson made a motion that the Trustees approve the request of the Oldfords for rezoning and received support from Mrs. Holmes.

Another roll call was asked when Garber abstaining since, as a member of the Planning Commission, he had already gone on record on his stand: Overholt cast a "No" and Lauterbach, Norman, Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. Holmes voted "Yes." This approved the request by a 4-1 margin.

Members of the Park Lane delegation immediately asked Supervisor McEwen where they should go to make an appeal. McEwen referred the matter to Township Attorney Cole who answered to Circuit Court.

When asked what they should do to start action, Cole told the group they should hire an attorney and have him file the necessary papers. For some unknown reason, some members of the delegation took offense to this statement as if it was in ridicule of the question. However, Cole was giving the proper answer to a proper question.

The Park Lane group was in a belligerent mood when it left the meeting and it appears as if there could be a court action filed within a few days.

However, in the meantime Oldford does have his rezoning as requested and can go forward with his plans.

Deck Spans Steps

Do you have a sunken front yard, with steps down from the street and back up to the front door? At least one set of dangerous steps can be eliminated with a wood entrance deck that also serves as a walkway between street and door. Add screens, if desired, and the deck becomes a livable front courtyard.

Feel Hillsdale Talks Impact In Meeting to Discuss CBD

Impact of the Hillsdale College conference, sponsored by the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce to air some of the problems facing the community, were felt in the initial meeting of the Central Business District Implementation Committee.

The group was formed to plan positive steps to improve the local shopping climate — one of the steps highly recommended at the Hillsdale conference.

The committee heard a report on studies of sales tax data which prove that local trade has lost to the gain of the surrounding shopping centers. The conclusion was that should this trend continue, then the Plymouth Downtown Business District would find store vacancies the rule rather than the exception.

Thus the charge of the committee is more clear than ever. It has been charged with (1) What can the local citizenry, working with the Planning Commission and the City Commission, do to strengthen Plymouth downtown? and (2) What positive steps must be taken to make the CBD more attractive and accommodating to shoppers?

The CBD Implementation Committee will consist of 30 residents of the community, seven City Commissioners and the nine members of the Planning Commission.

Selected as chairman of the six committees are: parking — Ralph Lorenz; finance — Donald Sutherland; beautification — Wayne Dunlap; traffic circulation — Dr. R. R. Barber; store fronts — W. W. Loucks; and land development — Harold Fischer.

The group will meet on the third Wednesday of each

Police Study Group Seeks Legality Answer

There is still a long way to go and committee members still aren't certain that a police authority for northwestern Wayne County is legal, but they most certainly aim to find out as soon as possible.

That was one of the actions taken at the meeting of the area police study committee in the Plymouth Township Hall.

Plymouth Township Trustee Dick Lauterbach, who has been serving as acting chairman and called the meeting, found himself stuck — he was elected permanent chairman.

Representatives of the City of Plymouth, Canton, Plymouth and Northville Townships and the City of Northville attended.

The police study committee is an outgrowth of the Hillsdale College conference, sponsored by the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce for a discussion of community and area problems. One of the most pressing problems is that of inadequate police protection for the entire area.

A police authority has been suggested along with various other plans which the committee will study.

Members voted to meet on the final Wednesday of each month and will devote the time at the present to securing legal opinions from state, county and local levels as to whether an authority is legal.

Once the opinions are received: Police Chief Sam Ellis of Northville, Constable Gerald Cather of Canton Township, Public Safety Director William Burr of Plymouth Township, Trustee Dick Lauterbach of Plymouth Township and Commissioner Arch Vallier of the City of Plymouth.

The 1966 Michigan State gymnastics team has two still ring champions. Ed Gunny won the NCAA crown and Dave Croft copped the Big Ten title.

communication of the panel of judges and finally came to the last sentence which the three finalists anxiously awaited.

Any one of the three would have made a delightful "Miss Sweet Charity" and all three had big smiles with the announcement. Joyce and Clara quickly congratulated the first Community Fund queen.

Schening presented Joyce and Clara with specially designed medallions on a silver chain and then crowned Carol Ann with a jeweled tiara.

Our Queen Offers Recipe for Super 'Home' Fudge Frosting

By FAITH GILLESPIE
If you are a chocolate lover and/or a recipe collector, I have bad news about last week's column.

If you clipped it, tear it up immediately, for both recipes contain previous errors. The pie recipe lacks baking information for the crust, and the eggs are still messed up for the mousse. Look for corrected recipes elsewhere in this paper.

The one was the typesetter's fault, it seems, and the other was the fault of my own typewriter, I fear. (I must get it overhauled.) To dismayed cooks who may already have tried the recipes, my humblest apologies are offered, chocolate covered.

I have requests for a chocolate fudge frosting; this recipe is from Arlene Francis's Home Show, which was televised about 10 years ago.

"HOME" FUDGE FROSTING

Stir together 1 1/4 cups milk, one tablespoon light corn syrup, three cups sugar, three squares unsweetened chocolate, and a dash of salt. When chocolate has melted, stop stirring and boil to soft ball stage.

When soft ball stage is reached, or 238 degrees on your candy thermometer, add three tablespoons of butter and 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla. Beat to spreading consistency, and then spread immediately, if you will have yourself a pot of fudge, honey.

Women who have very little discipline, or none, where chocolate is concerned, have confided to me that they run into trouble with recipes that call for a bag of chocolate chips. They eat the chocolate chips, of course, nibbling as they measure the other ingredients. By the time they reach the point of adding the morsels, there isn't a bag left.

For those people, then, here is an excellent brownie recipe that uses just half a bag, or a little more if there happens to be a little more.

CHOCOLATE CHIP BROWNIES: Beat two eggs till foamy; gradually beat in one cup of sugar. Melt two squares of unsweetened chocolate and 1/3 cup butter over hot water and add to well beaten egg-and-sugar mixture. Blend well.

Sift together 3/4 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Add to above mixture, mix well, and stir in one teaspoon vanilla. Add 1/2 cup chocolate chips and pour into greased 8"x8" pan.

Bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes. Sprinkle powdered sugar over when baked, or frost with any old chocolate frosting. Or try a mocha frosting, for differences.

MOCHA FROSTING FOR BROWNIES
Beat together one cup sifted confectioners' sugar, two tablespoons soft butter, one teaspoon powdered instant coffee, and one tablespoon hot water. If icing is too thick, add a few drops of water.

In my research on chocolate, I came upon a couple of interesting things. One is that the ants that live somewhere outside my kitchen window are chocolate ants: they come in only when crumbs of chocolate goodies are about. Scientists ought to be able to do a lot with that information. The other thing is a sentence from the World Book Encyclopedia: "Many persons whose work requires physical endurance, including soldiers, explorers, and athletes, rely on chocolate as a source of quick energy for carrying out their tasks." It seems obvious that housewives belong on that list. And ants.

Send Flowers

One of the nicest ways to remember a first anniversary is to send the same flowers the bride carried on her wedding day. For any anniversary, the flowers of the season make a wonderful gift.

Eliminate Those Grays

Graying of fabrics is generally caused by using insufficient detergent, water that is not hot enough or a combination of the two.

To restore fabric brightness and cleanness, simply set your home hot water heater two or three notches higher and increase the amount of detergent added to the washer, or use the regular amount of detergent and add a non-precipitating water softener.

Put the clothing through normal wash cycles until the gray disappears—it may take three or four consecutive washings to do the job.

Wells-Hunter Speak Vows

Mrs. Wayne Dennis Hunter

Kristi Kerr Wells and Wayne Dennis Hunter were united in marriage in a recent double ring ceremony in Christ Methodist Church, in Bethel Park, Pa.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Ralph Wells, Wyncote Rd., Bethel Park, Pa. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer H. Hunter of Biddestone, Farmington.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a narrow A-line floor length gown of candlelight linen trimmed with Venise lace at the sleeves and hemlines.

Mrs. James L. Wahlers was matron of honor. Nancy Jo Hunter and Carol Louise Wells were bridesmaids.

Clyde Larson was best man and Donald Feys and Jay R. Wells, III were ushers.

The bride's mother wore beige lace and chiffon and the groom's mother wore blue lace and crepe.

A reception was held at the church for the guests.

The bride was graduated from Albion College where she was a member of the Chi-Omega sorority. The bridegroom was graduated from Michigan State University.

The couple will live in Alpena for the next year.

NANCY LEE RUNDELL
Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Rundell of 35005 Bridgeman, Farmington, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Lee, to Ernest B. Mack of 3911 Highfield, Royal Oak. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mack. Miss Rundell is a graduate of the Farmington Senior High and is employed at Botsford Hospital, Farmington. The bridegroom is a graduate of Royal Oak Kimball High and is employed at the Universal Crane and Conveyor Co., Detroit. A fall wedding is planned.

FOR 1967, OLDSMOBILE is introducing the new Delmont 88 in four body styles. This car may be ordered with either a 330 cubic inch or a 425 cubic inch V-8 engine, each with its own drive line and rear axle. When ordered with the larger engine, the car is physically identified with a "425" insignie on the front quarter.

Olds Lists Styling Among Improvement

LANSING — Oldsmobile for 1967 has completely restyled its 88's and 98's, consolidated and realigned its series and body styles, and engineered into every new Oldsmobile a long list of advancements for improved comfort, convenience and safety, it was announced by the division's general manager, Harold N. Metzger.

"All our new cars," he said, "strongly reflect in styling and in many areas of their engineering, the knowledge gained from our experience in developing the highly successful Toronado.

This is particularly apparent in the new 88's and 98's which benefit heavily from the Toronado's styling influence," Metzger continued. "These cars, with a five inch reduction in rear deck length and a corresponding increase in the hood and front fenders, clearly suggest the distinctive profile of the now famous front wheel drive Oldsmobile."

Metzger revealed important changes aimed at consolidating and realigning Oldsmobile's product lineup.

"In the Medium Price Class," he said, "we are introducing the new Delmont 88. To be offered in a pillar sedan, a hardtop sedan, a hardtop coupe, and a convertible, the Delmont 88 may be ordered with either a 330 cubic inch or a 425 cubic inch engine, each with its own drive line and rear axle.

When ordered with the bigger engine, the car is physically identified with a 425 insignie on the front quarter. Otherwise the cars are identical. The Delmont 88 replaces the Dynamic 88. The Jetstar 88 has been dropped."

"Completely new, and taking its place in our price range just a step above the Delta 88, is the Delta Custom," he continued. "The Delta Custom is distinctively and boldly designed with sporty flair and is available as a hardtop coupe or a hardtop sedan. The Starfire will no longer be offered."

He said the wholly restyled 98's for 1967 offer an even greater degree of elegance and luxury. An optional black Custom Royale trim with leather inserts for the 1967 Luxury Sedan is "the most beautiful interior treatment Oldsmobile has ever offered."

"The Toronado has been improved in many ways for 1967," Metzger continued. "We've engineered a smoother, quieter ride without sacrificing any of this car's outstanding handling characteristics. A new feature of special interest to the ladies is a spring-operated door opening assister. This makes it possible to swing the door open with a minimum of effort."

Chrysler Unveils New Designs Thursday

Chrysler cars for 1967, new in body design and with new roof styling for two-door hardtops, go on sale Thursday, Sept. 29.

There is a new series in the line—the Newport Custom two-door and four-door hardtop and four-door sedan—to broaden Chrysler's coverage of the medium price market.

The other four series—Newport, 300, New Yorker and Town & Country wagons—are retained, with even stronger separate styling identity than in the 1966 line.

Robert Anderson, general manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth Division, described the 1967 Chrysler models as new in sculpture and evolutionary in concept.

A 50-50 divided front seat is one of the appealing new interior options. With optional fingertip power controls, it can be made to serve as a traditional luxury bench seat, or each side may be adjusted for the individual needs of driver and front seat passenger.

New standard features for 1967 include an impact absorbing steering column, a dual braking system with a warning light, new windshield wipers with non-reflection metal parts, glass rear windows for convertibles and a flow-through ventilation system for hardtop models. Power front wheel disc brakes with 15-inch wheels become standard in Town &

Country wagons. They are optional in other models.

The Newport Custom cars are designed for buyers who want to move up from the lower priced Newport series. Special body moldings and interior trim and convenience features give the Newport Customs a separate and distinctive personality.

The Newport series consists of a two-door hardtop, convertible, four-door sedan and four-door hardtop. The sporty 300 series, with a more powerful standard engine than in 1966, is made up of a two-door hardtop, convertible and four-door hardtop.

Refinements and improvements for 1967 include:

A new optional sports type chromed steel road wheel for all models except wagons and new standard wheel covers for all models.

A redesigned left outside mirror with remote control as standard equipment in all models.

OUR JOB IS TO HELP YOU!!

Our job at Beglinger Olds-Cadillac is to help you enjoy doing business with us. The way we look at it buying a new Olds or Cadillac should be the beginning of a long, enjoyable experience for you. That's what all of us (service and sales people) strive for. Come see us often. We'll be glad to see you—and you'll be glad you did.

ACTIONLAND '67

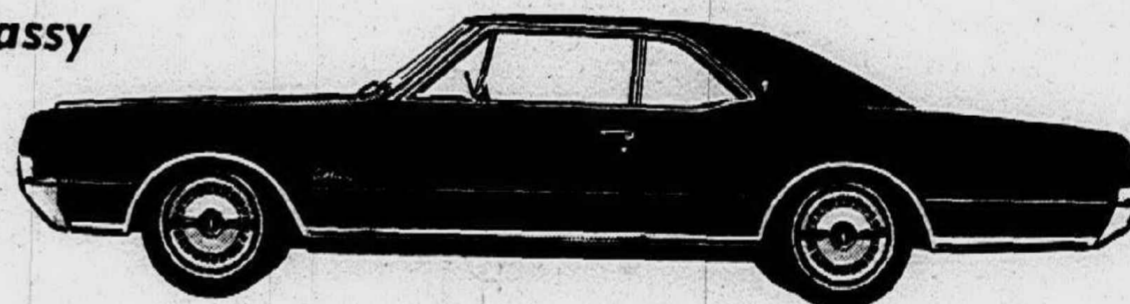

Back With a Better Than Ever Flair

After walking off with all the honors last year, leave it to trend-setting TORONADO, to come back even stronger in 1967. Swinging new look outside. Posh new appointments inside. More sugar 'n spice all around. And it's here for immediate delivery.

Low-Price Was Never So Classy

You're looking at the most luxurious Olds ever to invade the low-priced field. Luxury-styled with a TORONADO flair. Superbly comfortable inside. Loaded with safety features. Plus price and terms that make it irresistible.

Magnificent Decision: 98

Be good to yourself. Move up to Ninety-Eight and discover how easy it is to enjoy the pleasures of fine car ownership. You're about to discover the luxury value of the year.

CONDUCTION

is looking for an "ANGEL"

This "angel" is reliable, efficient, and has a very pleasing personality. Perhaps she has had experience working in a law firm or contracts department.

Her shorthand is as perfect as her typing, and she is the type of person that still smiles after taking dictation for a 15-page single-spaced report, or 4-page business letter.

She handles numerous details and creatively writes letters and memos for her very busy boss.

Yes, we are looking for a very special "angel" that can take responsibility and wants a challenge.

SECRETARY (ADMINISTRATIVE)

All "angels" interested in interviewing for this highly confidential position, please contact Miss Joanne Michels, Placement Interviewer for an appointment (Telephone 665-9741, ext. 201), or write in confidence to:

Comfort Goal of New Pontiacs

The 1967 models of Pontiac Motor Division represent a bold new approach in automotive styling combined with many new engineering features designed to increase the safety, comfort and convenience of driving.

Offered for the first time is a Grand Prix convertible and three new station wagons, two in the Executive series and one Tempest Safari, all with simulated wood exterior paneling.

Sweeping new lines on all two and four-door models, major design advancements in both front and rear ends, a Pontiac exclusive of recessed windshield wipers and exhaustive detail to safety keeps Pontiac the pace-setter for the industry.

An energy-absorbing steering column, a dual braking system and an inside rear view non-glare tilting mirror are standard equipment on all 1967 Pontiacs and are just three of the many safety developments available as standard equipment on every model.

"By extensively following Pontiac's continuous policy of making safety our major objective in the design, manufacture and testing of our cars, Pontiac again this year meets the highest standards in the automobile industry," John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and Pontiac general manager, said.

Pontiac has increased the number of models from 33 last year to 35 in 1967.

The Tempest series includes a sports coupe, four-door sedan and station wagon. A sports coupe, hardtop coupe, four-door sedan and hardtop, convertible and station wagon complete the Tempest Custom series.

Introduced as a separate series this year is the Tempest Safari four-door station wagon.

The Pontiac Le Mans is available in a sports and hardtop coupe, four-door hardtop and convertible.

The popular Pontiac GTO is offered in a sports coupe, hardtop coupe and convertible.

The Catalina series has seven models; two and four-door sedans, a hardtop coupe, four-door hardtop, convertible and two-seat and three-seat station wagons.

Two new station wagons, a two-seat and a three-seat model, increase the Executive line-up to five. A four-door sedan, four-door hardtop and hardtop coupe are also offered.

The Bonneville series includes a hardtop coupe, four-door hardtop, convertible and a custom three-seat station wagon. The Grand Prix is now available in a convertible and a hardtop coupe.

The Sprint option is offered on all Tempest, Tempest Custom and Pontiac Le Mans models.

Available as an option in the Catalina series is the 2 Plus 2 in the hardtop coupe and convertible and the Ventura Custom option on the four-door sedan and hardtop, hardtop coupe and convertible. The Brougham option is offered on the Bonneville hardtop coupe and four-door hardtop.

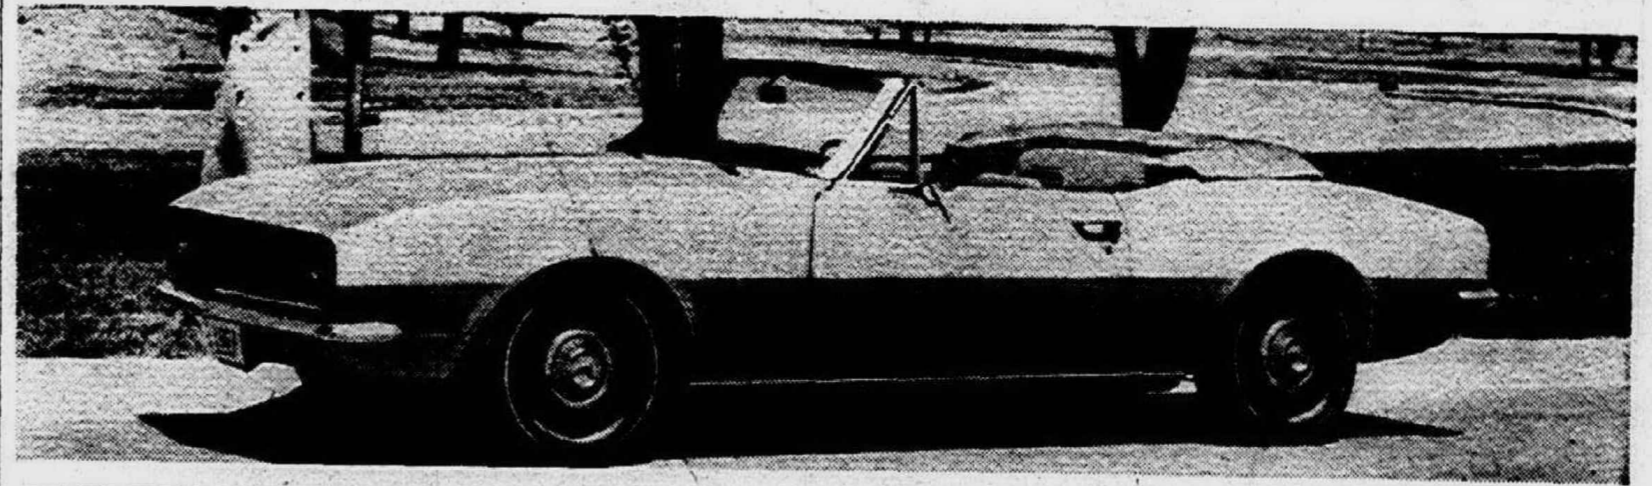

Pontiac styling, which is the cornerstone of the industry, gives individuality to each 1967 series while maintaining the distinctive and traditional Pontiac appearance.

The Tempest, Tempest Custom and Pontiac Le Mans grilles are identified by vertical ribs alternately spaced to create a distinctive pattern. The Pontiac GTO grille has a unique aluminum wire mesh texture to provide a new overall effect.

Pontiac's massive front bumpers completely surround the traditional split grilles. The front nose shape flows back into the hood and lower grille openings creating a wide, powerful impression.

On all except the Grand Prix, the lower headlights are set in the extreme ends of the grilles and the upper two headlights are placed directly above those in the fender extension.

The Grand Prix has separate grille, bumper, headlights, parking lights, front fender extensions and hood offering a new concept in front end design. During the day, the Grand Prix headlights are concealed.

EVERYTHING IN a personalized car is Chevrolet's newest 1967 entry, the Camaro, which is introduced in two body styles, the coupe and the convertible (shown above). Built for convenience, the Camaro Convertible includes rear seat armrests. An optional folding rear seat-back gives added storage room in both models. Five engines, ranging from 140 hp, six cylinders, to the exclusive 350-cu.-inch V8 power plant, will be available.
