Investigates Land Sale for Civic Center

Jury Probe Moves Into Garden City

Wayne County Grand Juror George Bowles has extended his investigations of wrongdoing from the Detroit Race Course to the circumstances surrounding the purchase of land for the existing Garden City Civic Center.

Mayor Edwin Freeh, Jr., who was City Clerk-Treasurer at the time of the July, 1961, land purchase, and Charles E. Lowe, who was mayor at that time, were called to testify before Judge Bowles.

City Council records show that on June 26, 1961, with Lowe out of town attending Army Reserve training, the council unanimously agreed to buy the land on Middlebelt, several blocks north of Ford Road.

Two weeks later, with Lowe back from training, the council, with Brown out of town, confirmed the land purchase with Lowe casting the only dissenting vote.

However, the price of the land was nearly $23,000 more than the $50,500 price agreed to by the land owners. However, before the deal was closed, William New, a realtor now retired in Howell in Livingston County bought the land from Sid Auster, a Detroit realtor, and resold it to the city for the higher price.

Lowe not only voted against the transaction, but he also tried to have the local National Bank of Detroit branch stop payment on the city's check.

In addition, he said that there is no binding contract until an appropriation is made, which was never done.

The former mayor also corrected a daily Detroit newspaper's comment that he had been subpoenaed to appear before Grand Juror Bowles, which is not true.

College's Apprentice Program Makes Big Hit

When Schoolcraft College opened its $1,600,000 vocational-technical building this fall, among the first students to enter were 137 young men enrolled in the college's brand new training program for apprentices in industrial occupations.

They were the vanguard of an enrollment that college officials expect will reach 700 apprentices receiving related instruction in their chosen trades by the fall of 1969.

"Judging from the response this first year, we're well on our way," said Jon Adams, dean of technical instruction at Schoolcraft.

The man in direct charge of the program and largely responsible for the program's early success, is Ronald J. Montefette, a 32-year-old Wayne State University graduate who came to Schoolcraft in 1964 as a drafting and design instructor.

The apprenticeship program offers classroom training in 16 job classifications in four major occupational areas: design, and machine, manufacturing and electrical trades.

Job classifications range from machine repairman, through boilermaker fabricator and industrial electrician, to tool and die maker and product designer.

Drawing on a corps of instructors who are primarily industrial specialists, the Schoolcraft program offers courses in such fields as hydraulics and pneumatics, heat treating and metallurgy, electronics and tool and machine operation and repair.

Classroom work covers a broad range of drafting courses and shop theory. Heavy emphasis is placed on mathematics. The program offers 16 separate courses in this category, from basic shop math to logarithms, advanced trigonometry and engineering algebra.

Apprentices, who work a regular shift in a plant and spend up to four hours a week on campus, are considered official students of the college and are graded by the same standards set for all other students.

Employers are regularly informed of their apprentices' grades and classroom attendance records.

The "charter" apprentices will spend four years in the program. They are encouraged to complete three semesters each year, attending classes two nights a week.

To recruit a student body for the program, Montefette contacted personnel men and other company officials at more than 400 industrial firms in the college district, as well as in Detroit, and such other nearby communities as Belle Isle, Dearborn Heights, Farmington, Inkster, Melvindale, New Hudson, Novi, Redford Township, Romulus, Southfield, South Lyon, Union Lake, Taylor, Walled Lake, Wayne, Whitmore Lake, and Wixom.

By the time registration began in late August, 44 firms had agreed to sponsor at least one apprentice, and several sent as many as 10 for the first semester. As a general rule, the sponsoring firm pays the tuition fees, and the apprentice pays the cost of books, materials and incidental supplies.

To provide the proper planning for the program, a 12-man advisory committee was created. Eight of the members were drawn from area industry. One each came from the U. S. Dept. of Labor's Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training, and the United Auto Workers. The other three committee members represent the college's vocational-technical division.

This group assessed training needs and planned the framework of the courses to be offered. The committee is continuing its work, keeping in close touch with the operation of the program and evaluating its progress.

Both union and management officials in a number of plants are now working together to develop apprenticeship programs and will call upon Schoolcraft College to provide the related instruction, according to Montefette.

One of the most elaborate anniversary celebrations ever staged in the Detroit metropolitan area.

The five were chosen by a special selections committee on the basis of their scholastic records at the college. Mrs. Wilson and Tope compiled perfect 4.0 records during two years of study at Schoolcraft. Miss Rochette had a 3.735 grade average; Sallan, 3.666; and Barra, 3.5.

Barra, Sallan and Miss Rochette are graduates of Franklin High School. Mrs. Wilson is a graduate of Clarenceville High, and Tope is a graduate of Garden City East High.

Dr. Eric J. Bradner, Schoolcraft president, was inducting officer at the rites. Barra is attending Schoolcraft as a business administration student. Miss Rochette has transferred to the elementary teaching intern program at Michigan State University. Sallan is attending MSU as a business administration student. Mrs. Wilson has transferred to MSU to continue studies toward a teaching degree, and Tope is attending the University of Michigan Dearborn campus as an engineering student.

In an organizational meeting after the installation, Barra was named president; Tope, vice president; Miss Rochette, secretary; Mrs. Wilson, treasurer; and Sallan, council member.

Newsmen Learn Madonna Story

Members of the press traveling to Madonna College campus for the first press luncheon last week had to come away impressed.

Impressed not only with the lovely setting of the campus located between Five Mile and Schoolcraft at Livonia, but with the modern academic buildings and living quarters.

Quiet and serene from all outside appearances, the plant is bustling with activity, up to the minute educational programs and a team of teachers that sparkle with excitement when they have someone to whom they can tell the story of Madonna College.

President, Sister Mary Danatha had this opportunity last Thursday and she set the pace. She introduced members of the faculty and each, with the rarest of enthusiasm, told her department, and responsibilities.

Operated by the Felician Sisters, the College was started in May 29, 1947. It has North Central Association of Colleges and secondary school accreditation.

It also is one of five colleges in Michigan that gives a Nursing along with a B.A. four year college degree.

Presently there are 312 full time students and 297 part-time. The college will hold more students and they mean to have them.

The majors they teach are Art Biology, Chemistry, English, History, Mathematics, Medical Technology, Music, Nursing and Sociology. There

Wonderland Opens Biggest Anniversary Celebration

Take two of the world's most famous dance orchestras, add the fun and excitement of a live stage show, toss in 5,000 Chinese fortune cookies and top off the whole shebang with a $1,000 prize giveaway, and what do you have?

One of the most elaborate anniversary celebrations ever staged in the Detroit metropolitan area.

This one, marking Wonderland Center's seventh year, will be launched Thursday.

Joining the big, 57-store center at Plymouth and Middlebelt are Ford Division, Ford Motor Company, Bill Brown Sales, and the Detroit Race Course.

Wonderland's birthday lineup includes:

Performances by the Glenn Miller and Jimmy Dorsey orchestras. The Miller group, directed by Buddy DeFranco will present 2 one-hour concerts on Friday, Oct. 7, at 6 and 9 p.m. Lee Castle will direct the Dorsey band on the following Friday, also at 6 and 9 p.m. Both of these great musical attractions are free. All performances will take place on the bandstand.

Two weeks later, with Lowe back from training, the council, with Brown out of town, confirmed the land purchase with Lowe casting the only dissenting vote.

However, the price of the land was nearly $23,000 more than the $50,500 price agreed to by the land owners. However, before the deal was closed, William New, a realtor now retired in Howell in Livingston County bought the land from Sid Auster, a Detroit realtor, and resold it to the city for the higher price.

Lowe not only voted against the transaction, but he also tried to have the local National Bank of Detroit branch stop payment on the city's check.

In addition, he said that there is no binding contract until an appropriation is made, which was never done.

The former mayor also corrected a daily Detroit newspaper's comment that he had been subpoenaed to appear before Grand Juror Bowles, which is not true.

"I was called to testify, and I agreed to voluntarily go down to do so," Lowe said.

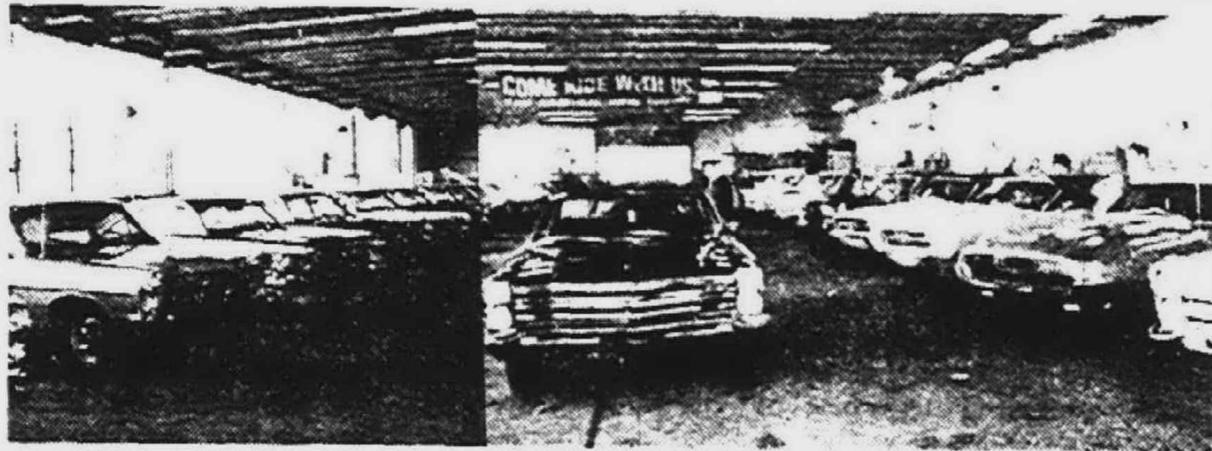

When contacted by The Observer at his Howell home, New refused to comment on the grand jury's investigation of the case, other than to say that as of Sunday afternoon, he hasn't been called on yet to testify.

Lowe, who along with Freeh is a candidate for office in the Nov. 8 election, also pointed out that at the time of the land purchase five years ago, he talked to the county prosecutor's office and the state attorney general's office several years later about the transaction.

The land was originally in three parcels, two of which were owned by Dr. W. H. Kern and the other by Frank Crocker.

Post Office To Help Update ZIP Code List

The Garden City Post Office this month will lend local residents a hand in knowing the ZIP code numbers of friends and business associates.

Acting Postmaster John Shynnen said that letter carriers will deliver "no postage needed" cards to each of the 10,000 stops in the city starting Oct. 10.

"In cities with one ZIP code assigned," Shynnen said, "only an out-of-town card will be delivered since all local addresses will have the same ZIP code number."

With the Christmas card season coming, the ZIP code will be as important as shopping and mailing early for the efficient and on-time delivery of the record-breaking avalanche of mail expected in the pre-holiday weeks, Shynnen said.

"After filling in the street number, city and state, the cards are to be mailed back to the postmaster," he said. "Post office personnel will add the proper ZIP codes and return the cards to the senders."

Shynnen also pointed out that President Lyndon B. Johnson has proclaimed the week of Oct. 10-15 as "ZIP Code Week" to promote greater usage of the ZIP code.

Council Waives Fee

The Garden City Council last week waived the required solicitor's fee for Blind Products Sales, a private organization which will have a door-to-door sale of products made by sightless persons.

Schoolcraft Sells Issue For Buildings

Trustees of Schoolcraft College at a special meeting Wednesday night accepted the low bid of a syndicate headed by the First of Michigan Corp. for the sale of $3-million bond issue which will finance the college's 1966 building program.

The nine-firm syndicate bid in the 30-year maturity issue with a net interest rate of 4.6328 per cent. Other bidders and net interest rates bid were: Halsey Stewart & Co., 4.7953 per cent, and Phelps Fenn & Co., 4.8625 per cent.

Proceeds of the bond sale will provide funds for a number of projects on the campus, principal of which are a new 32-classroom liberal arts building and a new physical education plant.

Funds for retirement of the bonds are derived from a property tax levy voted by college district residents in June.

Old Landmark Taken by Fire

The famed old landmark—the John Davie home—at the corner of 14-Mile Road and Middlebelt fell victim to flames Sunday night.

Safety Pattern Set For Yates Cider Mill

A voluntary joint effort by public and private agencies has brought a new safety pattern for thousands of visitors at historic Yates Cider Mill and adjacent state Bloomer Park, in Oakland County.

Public protection involves both a New York Central Railroad track running through the area and hazards from motor traffic on Avon Road, near the Dequindre intersection, according to Peter B. Spivak, Chairman of the Michigan Public Service Commission.

The state park, affectionately known as "Ol' Bloomer No. 2," is the Rochester-Utica Recreation Area.

Named by Spivak as participating in the cooperative safety effort were New York Central Railroad; Charles M. Posey, operator of Yates Cider Mill; the Oakland County Road Commission; the Oakland County Sheriff's Department; Parks Division of Michigan Department of Conservation; Michigan State Police; and the Michigan Public Service Commission.

Concern over the area dates to the death of a woman and child who were killed when walking along the NYC railroad trestle over the

"Parents By The Hour"

The Farmington Jaycees Auxiliary is again offering a Free babysitting clinic, entitled, "Parents by the Hour."

This clinic is to train girls and boys from Junior High age and up to be well qualified baby sitters. The auxiliary offers the clinic again because of popularity and because the need for such qualified babysitters increases each year.

The first session will begin October 19 at 7:30 at the Farmington Junior High School cafeteria on Thomas Street. The clinic will run Clinton River which separates part of the cider mill area from the state park. But legal technicalities prevented any single agency from exercising jurisdiction in reducing hazards in the area.

"The PSC, served only as a catalytic agent in bringing for five consecutive Wednesdays at the same time and location.

The five one-hour lessons will include Child Care, First Aid, Safety and Sitter Responsibility, Resuscitation, and Entertainment of Children. All instructors for each session are well qualified.

Classes will be limited to 75 students so that more individual attention may be given.

For further information contact Mrs. Thomas Oliver, 33300 Freedom Road.

all of the parties of interest together and offering suggestions," said Spivak.

"This was accomplished in a meeting last November called by Otto F. Sonfeld, Director of our Railroad Division. As of last week, opening of the cider season, basic safety devices already were installed and further improvement are underway." Spivak noted that modern flashing-light signals, especially designed for a curving, downhill highway approach, had been installed earlier in 1965 at the NYC-Avon Road grade crossing by specific order of the PSC.

"But from that point on," he said, "official jurisdiction of the PSC was largely exhausted. The protection of pedestrians in the area, on some days numbering into the thousands, became a matter of mediation, requiring not only voluntary cooperation but the expenditure of money by those invited to the conference."

Recommended safety provision were:

1—Erection of hundreds of feet of six-foot, chain link fence along the railroad right-of-way, separating it both from the cider mill property and from the state park. This fence, with "L's" running to the river bank, makes it impossible for any but the most deliberately athletic to reach the railroad track.

2—Building of a pedestrian ramp between the Yates mill building and the parking lot across the NYC track, channeling pedestrians over the track without entry into the traveled portion of Avon Road.

3—Extension of guard rails along Avon Road, separating pedestrian traffic from motor vehicles on the highway.

4—Construction of a pedestrian bridge over the river between two sections of the state park, removing need and incentive for walking the railroad track and trestle.

The Clinton River at the point of Yates Mills, powered by water in the crushing of apples since 1863, is a reminder of the Clinton-Kalamazoo Canal. This was begun with much fanfare in 1838 to form a transportation route from Lake St. Clair to Lake Michigan at approximately the same time drained interest from canal development and the Clinton-Kalamazoo Canal was never extended beyond Rochester.

Y Aids Teen Drivers

Another series of teen age drivers education is beginning on October 17. The classes are being announced by the Farmington Area YMCA for teenagers who are interested in learning how to drive. The classes will be taught by state certified instructors and will be for 15, 16 and 17 year olds.

Classes will be held on Monday and Wednesday from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. at the Northwestern YMCA, located on Lahser Road at Seven Mile Road. The course will run for seven and one-half weeks beginning on Monday, October 17. During this course, 30 hours will be spent in classroom sessions, 12 hours of observation of driving, and six driving hours.

In order to participate, your birth certificate, a YMCA Youth Membership ($5.00 per year) and a $54.00 course fee is required. The course fee includes all books and materials.

Nardin Park Plans Series Of Lectures

The Nardin Park Methodist Church, on West Eleven Mile Road in Farmington, is planning a series of three lectures with outstanding speakers. Each of these programs will be preceded by a dinner at 7:00 P.M., served by the ladies of the church at a cost of $1.50 a person. A question and answer period will follow each of the talks.

Reservations are necessary for the dinners and can be made by calling the Nardin Park Church Office, 476-8870. Nursery and program will be available for youngsters through the 6th grade.

The first program is scheduled for Tuesday, October 11. The speaker will be Dr. Leroy Augenstein, Head of the Department of Biophysics at Michigan State University. The topic will be "Religion and Science in Our Contemporary World." Dr. Augenstein has a nationwide reputation and is in great demand as a speaker on the various aspects of Science.

On Wednesday, October 19, General Lester Bork, President of the Economic Club of Detroit, will speak on "Religion and Current Events in Our Contemporary World." General Bork is a West Point graduate and served with great distinction in the Pacific during World War II.

The third and last of the series will be given on Wednesday, October 26, with Dr. Louis W. Norris, President of Albion College, as the guest speaker. His topic will be "Religion and the World Mission of Christianity."

East High P.T.S.A. to Meet Monday

The East High School P.T.S.A. of Garden City will open the new school year at 8 p.m. next Monday with an introduction of teachers and a short business meeting to discuss the programs planned for the P.T.A. district this year.

Earl Bridge, P.T.S.A. president, said that all parents are urged to attend the meeting, which will be followed by serving of refreshments.

Mrs. Rose Charmann, of Southgate, who fired a 101-26-75, and James Johnson, of Pontiac, with a 70-6-64, have been proclaimed the winners in the annual Oakland County March of Dimes golf tournament.

They topped a field of more than 1,000 men and women who participated, not only in the golf event, but in the never ending struggle against birth defects.

The monies raised from the tournament go toward financing the fight against the crippling disease in Oakland County. In a national survey it has been shown that one of each 10 families is the victim of this largestcrippler of children.

Two birth defected children — Dickie Kratt, of Pontiac, and Johnnie Reichert, of Hazel Park — were on hand to help distribute trophies to the following winners:

- WOMEN
- 1st—Mrs. Rose Charmann, Southgate, 101-26-75;
 - 2nd—Mrs. Kay Korbut, Detroit, 96-19-77;

Millage Approved by Clarenceville Voters

The voters in the Clarenceville School District gave David McDowell, their new superintendent of schools, one of the greatest thrills of his life when they voted to continue the five-mill levy to cover operational costs for the next 10 years.

In one of the lightest votes in years, the levy was favored 144 to 43.

"It was quite an experience," the Superintendent commented when the result was made known.

"You know, when it is the first time, on a new job, that you ask the voters for support," he confided, you have a very peculiar feeling until the results are in.

"But I am sure delighted. I am just a bit sorry that more folks didn't take advantage of the opportunity to vote."

Contrary to what some folks thought it was not a request for additional millage. It was a request to continue the five mills that had been levied for the past several years.

"It sure makes a fellow feel good when you win," was the manner in which the new superintendent summed up his first election.

U-M Dean Discounts Tales of Draft Board Tactics

ANN ARBOR — Today's college student in general wants to be part of an "action generation."

"They want to play a part in the determination of their own destinies," says Harold M. Dorr, dean of statewide education at the University of Michigan.

Dorr, who has been a member of the Ann Arbor Selective Service Local Board No. 85 since 1943, doesn't see current student protests and demonstrations as a en masse rebellion to United States involvement in Asia.

"I don't think that the people on campus carrying signs protesting the Viet Nam affair or the draft represent as much as one per cent of the students at the University," says Dorr. "and as a draft board member, I have seen no indication of any substantial opposition to U. S. actions abroad."

University students, Dorr feels, just do not want to be part of the "silent generation" that followed Korea.

"At the same time," he explains, "they don't want to be merely a loud generation either. They want to take an active part in society."

As a result, much of the "collegiate energy" of previous decades such as goldfish swallowing has faded or has been remolded into the more realistic present-day demonstrations.

"The only real problem that I see here is among those students who attempt always to substitute individual judgments for group judgments and thus fail to integrate their activities with the main currents of the social order, either in support of or in opposition to. Their contributions are likely to be negligible," Dorr maintains.

Dorr notes also a slight trend by young men who allege opposition to the Viet Nam affair to evade involvement by seeking the "conscientious objector" classification on grounds of personal convictions — either moral or philosophical rather than purposes for which the classification was once intended.

The U-M dean also mentions the lack of an "organized resistance" to present

Selective Service procedures.

"As far as we can see at the draft board, students are asking their schools and college to forward certification to us that they are satisfactorily progressing toward a degree."

Students deferments, Dorr explained, are generally based on the full-time student's class rank and his score on the Selective Service test.

"Claims that colleges are aiding and abetting local draft boards aren't justified," stresses Dorr. "The student has to initiate any process of sending information to his draft board, and furthermore, the information he asks to have sent serves as proof that he is entitled to a student deferment."

"Draft boards are under obligation to classify on the basis of the registrant's file. If the file does not carry the essential documentation, there is no alternative but to classify him 1-A."

In general, Dorr concludes, draft boards are not "ruthless" or irresponsible in re-classifying registrants, nor does the local board No. 85 regard itself as a punitive agent.

"Neither of the two men registered with the Ann Arbor board involved in the 'sit-in' last fall were re-classified because of their participation in the 'sit-in.' It is expected that there will always be those who will oppose the 'establishment', but their actions must not be dealt with unfairly."

"Social protest is not new — only the methods have changed over the years."

GANG WAY: Jim Matevia of Bentley (20) Union players try to haul him down. Bentley crashes way for yardage as three Redford players won in a thriller, 21-13.

Bentley 'Too Much' For R.U.

So Bentley lost its first two games—both non-leaguers! But, look now. The Livonians have started the defense of their Suburban Six League title in roaring fashion by knocking off a team from Redford Union which had won its first two. "They simply had too much size, too much power, too much everything for us," lamented coach Bob Rogers of RU after his team had fallen to the Mighty Men from Livonia.

Yet it was a dogfight all the way. Except for a brilliant maneuver by quarterback Greg Coleman of Bentley in the final few minutes, the game easily might have gone to Redford Union.

Down by a 21-13 score, RU had put on a march which brought great cheers for an instant from the Township's side of the field when Glen Davis streaked across for a touchdown from six yards out. But a penalty nullified the score and RU subsequently lost the ball on downs.

Bentley, backs to the wall, was in a precarious position, especially on the next play when Coleman found himself trapped in the end zone. It looked for a certainty that he would be nailed for a safety.

Then came an almost fantastic move by the Bentley quarterback.

He slipped the ball from his passing right hand to his left . . . and shot a short pass into the flat. A teammate was there and he ran some 30 yards to pull Bentley out of trouble.

"I never have seen anything like that," said Rogers. "That play decided the game. I feel that if we would have picked up the safety, they would have had to kick off to us and we would have been in good position to march in for a winning score."

Speaking of unbelievable plays, RU's Davis negotiated one, too.

It was in the second period as RU was fighting back from a 14-0 deficit. Davis, rated last year as the best passer in the Suburban Six League, let the ball go.

A Bentley defender stuck up his big hand and blocked the ball . . . right back into Davis' hands, although Davis had to make a great lunge to retrieve the pigskin before it touched the ground.

With the ball back in his possession, Davis took one look and saw Bob Fritz all alone some 25 yards away in the end zone. Davis rifled another pass . . . and this one hit the mark perfectly for six points.

Bentley began the scoring with a 60-yard march in the first period. It was Coleman to Larry Good for eight yards and the TD. The Livonians staged another march in the second period and this time it was Coleman on a quarterback sneak from a yard out to build the Livonian's lead to 14-0.

Redford Union was by no means through. After the first Davis to Fritz scoring bomb, the same combination hooked up in the third period—this time for 18 yards—and RU was back in the game, trailing just by a point.

But Bentley put together another march with Larry Good going the final eight yards for the clinching touchdown. But there was still enough time for RU to give Bentley a real scare.

The statistics were very lopsided. Bentley piled up 21 first downs to nine for RU. In yards gained, Bentley collected 324 to RU's 152.

Coleman hit on 10 of 14 passes. Davis on seven of 17.

Early Fumble Helps Thurston Top Franklin

One play often determines the tenor of an athletic contest. When Thurston High clashed with Franklin in the opening Northwest Suburban League game for both football teams last Saturday, the "key" situation came the first time that Franklin had the ball.

came a fumble.

Randy Ault of Thurston pounced on the pigskin and a few moments later Reggie Barringer crashed across from the two-yard line for a Thurston touchdown. When Dan Harris converted, Thurston had a 7-0 lead and the Townshippers went on to win, 19-6.

"We have no alibis," said coach Bob Bentley of Franklin. "But that fumble changed things around. It gave Thurston the momentum to cash in early and strike a blow from which we just didn't recover."

Another "blow" for the Franklin cause came in the second period when Franklin punted to Barringer on his own 40. Barringer took off behind some neat blocking and broke out into the clear as he outraced everybody from Franklin to make the score 13-0 at halftime.

This was the third exciting punt return of the game for Thurston. Earlier Paul Santangelo had galloped 70 yards, only to have a touchdown nullified by a clipping penalty.

On the next kick, Santangelo went 40 yards, but Franklin arose to stop a Thurston score on this occasion.

Barringer, enjoying one of his finest games of the season, sprung loose on another 40-yard dash in the third period to set up the third Thurston touchdown—a two-yard quarterback sneak by Barry Simescu.

Franklin crashed the scoreboard when quarterback Dave Stott clicked on a 35-yard touchdown pass to Steve Atkinson.

This was the only serious threat the Franklin team could muster all afternoon.

In the statistical department, Thurston picked up 200 yards, most of it on the ground. Santangelo and Barringer did virtually all the running for the winners, gathering 84 and 75 yards respectively.

Franklin totalled 125 yards—67 via passes and the rest on the ground.

In first downs, Thurston had nine to four for Franklin.

WHERE IS HE? Somewhere in the crowd Franklin. But Barringer was a big gainer in the game as Thurston emerged a winner. no place in an attempt to gain against

Workhorse Paces East To Victory

A real workhorse . . . that's back Marvin Martin of Garden City East's high school football team.

He has lugged the ball 55 yards in his team's first three games for a total of 328 yards. All of which means, each time the ball comes his way, he moves it approximately six yards.

It was Martin who helped see to it the East got off on the right foot in league play last Friday by beating Inkster, 20-0.

In the game, Martin carried 16 times for 151 yards and also scored one touchdown.

In fact, Martin broke loose on a 60-yard gallop to pay land the second time that East had the ball. The maneuver on a belly play caught Inkster napping and from then on East was in charge of the proceedings.

On the next East touchdown, Martin snared a pass from Steve Fugaban and ran 16 yards to the two. Then Fugaban took the ball on a quarterback sneak and pushed his way into the end zone.

Inkster rebounded on a pass to Bill Walker and left the field on the short end of a 13-6 score at halftime. But East quickly wrapped

By George Maslin

The remark was made in jest. Football coach Ronald Holland at North Farmington high school had a smile in his voice when he met with his players early in the fall and remarked:

"If you guys hear of any more exchange students coming to North Farmington who can kick, bring them around."

Holland knew he had to replace place-kicking specialist Bengt Hansen, who had spent last year at North Farmington from Holland.

A soccer-style booter, Hansen became one of the state's foremost kickers of extra points and field goals.

Who could expect the same thing to happen two years running at the same school?

But it apparently has.

On opening day of grid drills at "North," one of Holland's charges came hand-in-hand with a chap named Ross Smith, an exchange student from Australia.

Smith explained to Holland that he had played rugby football in the land down under and he would like to see what the American game of football was all about.

"Get out there and do some kicking," said Holland.

Smith made a quick impression . . . drop kicking for extra points, no less. That has to be a lost art in American football.

Smith, however, does more than just kick for the Raiders. He's so fast, Holland has inserted him on the punt and kick-off return teams and also uses him as his backup at split end.

The coach laughs when some suggest that he has scouts out in foreign countries searching for

Mistakes Crush Trojan's Bid For 3rd Victory

The bubble has popped at Clarenceville high school in football.

After the Trojans set some kind of a record by winning two straight and gaining recognition in the state Class B ratings, they had their ears pinned back by Clarkston, 13-0, last Friday night.

"Let's take nothing away from Clarkston," declared Clarenceville coach Ralph Temby. They played well.

"But, we beat ourselves in this one. You don't play giveaway and expect to win." Give a way Clarenceville played.

Five of the Trojans' passes were intercepted. The team also lost the ball four times on fumbles.

Little wonder, Clarenceville won everything but the game. For example, the Trojans piled up 21 first downs and a total of 242 yards, 199 of them rushing, compared to about half that amount for Clarkston.

But when the doors of opportunity opened for Clarenceville, the Trojans refused to march through.

In the first period, they paraded to the Clarkston 10 before losing the ball. In the second period, Clarenceville reached the Clarkston eight where time expired.

Throughout the second half, every time one looked, Clarenceville had the pigskin. But, ouch, those interceptions and fumbles.

They ruined everything. A punt return for 63 yards gave Clarkston its first touchdown. Then a gent by the name of Fife went over from the three.

All of this happened in the first half. From then on Clarenceville took charge—between the two 25-yard stripes.

Mike Nye was the big workhorse for Clarenceville as he personally picked up 86 yards.

"We'll be all right," says coach Temby, "if we can just learn to hang on to the pigskin."

Livonian Takes Title At Speedway

Mel Murphy, 38-year-old Livonian, is the new Figure 8 champion at Flat Rock Speedway.

Murphy, winner of only one feature race at Flat Rock in four years of competition, drove so consistently this year that he was unable to unseat Dick Simmons of Plymouth, only driver ever to hold the Figure 8 crown at Flat Rock.

Murphy wound up the season with 1580 points, 25 more than Simmons. An earlier announcement had Simmons the winner.

Murphy and Simmons, close friends, were in reverse positions at Spartan Speedway at Lansing where they also competed this year. Simmons won the title there while Murphy was second.

Rocks Fluff Chances; Lose, 7-0

Even under the most ideal conditions, no football team can afford to pass up its opportunities.

The situation becomes more acute on a night when the field is muddy and slows down your offensive machine.

So went the story for Plymouth High School's football team at Allen Park Friday night.

The Rocks had two big chances. They couldn't cash either.

The result: Allen Park pulled out a 7-0 victory.

A 12-yard run by Fred Milner with 3:53 left in the first half produced the game's only touchdown. Milner was the big workhorse for the winners. He carried 13 times and totalled 56 yards.

Other than that one thud, the teams played on virtually even terms.

Plymouth had seven first downs to Allen Park's six.

In yardage, it was Plymouth 93 to Allen Park's 91.

The Rocks had a fourth-and-one situation on the Allen Park seven in the second period, but nothing materialized—at least not in the favor of Plymouth.

In the last period, Plymouth moved down to the Allen Park 15. But time flitted away—and that was it.

Steve Montgomery and Tom Elias carried most of the running load for Plymouth. Montgomery picked up 36 yards and Elias 32.

As for passing, the Rocks were stymied because of the ground. Ten times the ball went up. Only two were caught for short yardage.

"We played well," said John McFall of the losers. "But we just couldn't do anything about putting the finishing touches on our marches."

Next comes a visit to Belleville for the Rocks this Friday night.

Lists Sunday Sports Show

In summer's past, the whistle signalling the start of practice at the Lion's training camp at Cranbrook also meant the beginning of a six-month hiatus from WJBK-TV sports reporting chores.

Wayne Walker, star line-backer and place-kicking specialist for Detroit's entry in the National Football League.

But 1966 will see a change in this policy which heretofore was designed to keep Walker concentrating only on polishing his gridiron skills.

He has been named, to do the sports show that is an integral part of WJBK-TV's 11 o'clock report every Sunday night throughout the football season.

No Stopping New Falcon Offense

There's nothing static about the offense Farmington high school has been using this fall to win three straight in football.

Coach Bob Mistele "throws" the TCU Spread, the Michigan State unbalanced line and just about every other type of offense against the Farmington rivals.

Quick TD of No Aid To Glenn

There were some brief moments in the early going when it appeared that Glenn High School might pull a stunning upset over Birmingham Groves.

Glenn scored a swift touchdown . . . and sometimes such a maneuver can jolt the opposition.

But Groves was not to be jolted, not as long as the team's lineup boasts in Mike Rafferty perhaps the No. 1 high school quarterback in Michigan this season.

Rafferty quickly rallied his charges and the rest was simply all Groves as the Birmingham team roared to a 32-7 victory and stamped itself as the team to beat for the Northwest Suburban League crown.

Coach Bob Lusk of Glenn hauled out a few choice superlatives in talking about Rafferty.

"When they had to run, there was Rafferty. When it came to time to pass, there was Rafferty again," said the Glenn coach.

Glenn had scored the game's first TD on a 60-yard march in which quarterback Mark Straeka, Ron Gainer and Mike Knight took turns carrying the ball.

They moved down to the Groves' one from where Straeka bounced across.

Glenn had one more good chance — just before halftime — getting down to the Groves' 12 where time ran out.

Meantime, Groves counted twice in the second period, two more in the third and wound up with another counter in the last period.

There were some bright spots for Glenn, according to coach Lusk. In particular, Lusk was delighted with the job turned in on defense by sophomore Dave Hamilton appearing in his first game.

"This boy Hamilton will help us tremendously as time goes on," added Lusk.

RU Keeps Winning In Harrier Runs

These are winning days for Redford Union in high school cross country competition.

The Townshippers are roaring along without a loss and also boast a victory in the Schoolcraft College Invitational, a meet which attracted 11 schools.

In the Invitational, Redford Union posted 31 points to 79 for Bentley and Wayne's 85 in the next two positions. Al Norris of Garden City West was the individual winner with RU's Jack Shepherd the runner-up.

RU downed defending Suburban Six League champ Trenton, 25-34, in a dual meet last Friday as Shepherd ran second to Trenton's Jim Daniel. Ron Mazurek of RU was fourth with teammate Dan McLalen fifth.

"We had great success with such maneuvers down in Oklahoma and Texas," says Mistele, "so we figured it would work up here in Michigan."

Obviously, it has. Pass or run, Mistele now figures the Falcons are set for the roughest part of their Interlakes League schedule after non-league wins over Bentley and Plymouth and last Friday's 21-6 romp over Pontiac Northern in its loop opener.

"Our running carried us through the first two games," declared Mistele. "We beat Pontiac Northern with our passes."

The Falcons passed 19 times against Northern and clicked 10 times for 161 yards and two touchdowns.

Stevenson Routed, but Not Down

"We're not discouraged . . . we'll be back."

Talking was coach Jack Riordan after his Stevenson High football team had been bombed, 60-6, by Walled Lake.

It was an unhappy way to say the least for Stevenson to make its debut in Interlakes League play. But, then, it's almost like boys' playing against men.

Walled Lake is stocked with senior players. Stevenson has none. There are no 12th graders in the new Livonia school, nor will there be one until next fall.

On top of that, the Lakers averaged 210 pounds per man up front to 160 for Stevenson.

"They just were too fast," too strong and too big for us," said Riordan.

"But, we'll be back." Fortunately for Stevenson, its next game Friday is against Warren Mott, a team in the same class with the Livonians. Mott also is a new school with no twelfth graders.

Walled Lake piled up more than 375 yards against Stevenson which went without a score until late in the game when Nick Exarous, a tenth grader, intercepted a Laker pass and ran 55 yards for a touchdown.

up the game in the third period when Martin, Jim Santi and Charles Vines took turns pounding the ball to the Inkster 12.

At this point, Fugaban spotted the Inkster secondary playing up close. So he tossed a short pass to George DeBozy and it was a touchdown for East.

Overall in the game, East pushed for 299 yards on the ground, while picking up only 28 yards through the air.

Inkster was held to 119 yards rushing and 26 yards passing.

Santi and Vines drew the praises of coach Gary Humphrey for their fine work on defense.

East, now 2-1 this season, takes on Lutheran West on the Garden City gridiron this Friday.

Passing Record

Sophomore quarterback Ray Sliwinski's 42 offensive plays in the season opener vs. UW-Milwaukee—22 passes and 20 rushes—set a Wayne State University school record.

In the running department, Farmington picked up only 67 yards.

"I feel that if you put

2 Bobbles, Passes Kill West, 26-6

Two long passes . . . an interception . . . two fumbles.

Toss them into the pot and there's the answer to why Garden City West dropped a 26-6 decision to Taylor Kennedy in a Tri Rivers League game last Friday.

"You can't make so many mistakes and win a game," moaned coach Harold Burkholder of West.

The fumble in the first period on an attempted West kick led to a quick touchdown for Kennedy.

Another bobble in the second period was followed by a 46-yard bomb and Kennedy had a 13-0 lead at half time.

Then came the third period in which West chased Kennedy all over the field, rolling up 90 yards to 10 rushing in the 12-minute span.

But who scored? Right, you are . . . Kennedy on a 67-yard dash to Bob Liskiewicz with an intercepted pass.

West finally engineered a drive without any mistakes in the fourth period. Runs by Mike Alexander for 33 and 20 yards helped bring the ball to the Kennedy nine from where Matt Gillespie dashed the remaining distance.

Kennedy then unloaded another bomb — a 42-yard pass to Bob Styer and that was the old ball game.

West finished up with 14 first downs to 11 for Kennedy. In rushing, the yardage was fairly close, 166 to 163 for the losers.

"But those fumbles . . . those long ones . . . that interception . . ."

Little wonder Burkholder had reason to cry a little.

up the ball enough times, somebody is bound to catch a few of them," added Mistele. "Of course, you hope one of your own fellows makes the catches."

After a scoreless period, Farmington struck on three straight passes for its first touchdown. Dan Wolfman started matters with a 32-yarder to Chris Norton. Then Wolfman flipped to Jerry Tinkle for 11 more and finally it was Ed Snider to Tinkle for the touchdown from the Northern six.

A Wolfman to Mike Thompson toss produced the first extra point.

After a 7-0 halftime lead, Farmington moved ahead, 14-0, when Wolfman carried a 14-yard pass to the Northern two from where Paul Misch slammed over.

Northern countered with its only TD on a two-yarder by Dan Coin to cap a long march, but a 39-yard scoring bomb from Snider to Norton put the game out of reach for Farmington.

Doug Root kicked the last two extra points for Farmington.

Mistele was well satisfied with the Farmington defense, declaring: "We contained them, except on one drive."

would-be exchange students who can kick.

"I'd like to have such a scouting assignment," says Holland. "It would be very interesting . . . seeing the world."

These have become some exciting days as we bounce around with the Pistons to such spots as Huntington N.Y.; Roselle, N.J.; Holland, Mich., and Archbold and Delphos, Ohio, just to mention a few spots. This Wednesday it's Ypsilanti and Thursday Bay City.

The Pistons suddenly have electrified a few of the sports folks. It's amazing what a few victories can do.

What's the difference—from last year to this?

We'd say: 1—The return of Reggie Harding; 2—the addition of Dave Bing; 3—the improvement of such men as Joe Strawder, John Tresvant and Tom Van Arsdale—all rookies last year; the superb condition of all-stars Dave DeBusschere, Ray Scott and Eddie Miles.

DeBusschere says the Pistons could finish second. He's very serious when he makes the statement.

Don't forget next Sunday night at Olympia . . . the Wings play Toronto in an exhibition and there'll be hockey pucks for all youngsters 16 and under . . .

Michigan State vs. Michigan? We'll go with the Spartans in the game which should decide the Big Ten title.

Hats off to Livonia's maestro—Denny McLain, who has finished a season he'll never forget with the Tigers—a 20-game winner.

'OH, NO YOU DON'T': A North Farmington runner doesn't get away for a long gain as Oak Park ton tackler makes certain that Oak Park he clasps his arms around the ball carrier.

Raiders Start Off With Win In League

Coach Ron Holland said his North Farmington High football team would be ready by the time The Raiders started their defense of the Northwest Suburban League championship.

The Raiders were! After losing and tying in a pair of non-leaguers, North Farmington got a fast jump on Oak Park last Friday and emerged a 13-6 winner in its initial league struggle.

The running of Gary Zerhan made the difference in the afternoon's proceedings. Zerhan jarred the Oak Park line on 13 occasions and wound up with 137 yards for better than a 10-yard average. He also scored both of the North Farmington touchdowns.

The first North Farmington counter came on a sensational 80-yard gallop by Zerhan on the second play of the game. He had taken a pitchout from quarterback Norm DeCorcy and almost instantly it was a case of Zerhan being off to the races.

Oak Park didn't waste any time getting even. An equally sensational play, from Bob Weiss to Cy Werner covered 71 yards for a TD and the score was knotted at 6-6.

North Farmington engineered its winning scoring drive in the second period starting from midfield.

Zerhan and DeCorcy took turns carrying the ball to the one-yard line. En route there also was a DeCorcy to Mark Faller pass for good yardage.

At the one, it was Zerhan who got the call for the pay-off plunge.

He made no mistakes.

After Ross Smith booted the conversion the teams went scoreless the rest of the way. But North Farmington had enough as it rolled up 273 yards with 232 coming on the ground.

Oak Park rushed for 87 yards and added 93 yards more through the air.

The defensive play of Roger Schamanek and Jeff Warner gained the praise of North Farmington coach Holland for helping to keep Oak Park well in check.

Sorrows Faces Unbeaten Foe

Showdown time comes next Sunday afternoon when Our Lady of Sorrows entertains St. James of Ferndale in a Catholic League football game on the Farmington High field at 2:30 p.m.

It's a battle of unbeaten-untied in the Northwest division. Each stands 3-0 this season, while St. James also is carrying a string of 23 consecutive games since last losing.

High powered Sorrows kept up its winning ways Sunday by trimming St. Francis de Sales, 42-0 as Cliff LaFond scored two touchdowns for the third straight game and personally chalked up 135 of the 295 yards Sorrows gained rushing.

It was LaFond on runs of 27, 16 and 16 that set up Sorrows' first TD, a five-yarder by Jim McGrath. Then McGrath flipped passes to John Allen and Terry Savage to bring Sorrows to the St. Francis five from where LaFond went over.

A 33-yard dash by Jim Barnes made it 21-0 at halftime, after which McGrath took to the air again to Savage and Ken Audette and LaFond raced 27 yards for the fourth Sorrows' score.

A two-yard plunge by Mark Hartwig and a pair of interceptions finished Sorrows' point parade. Jim McHugh ran 40 yards and Jerry Hornor 60 with enemy passes into payoff land.

Sorrows rolled up 13 first downs to eight for the losers. In addition to the 298 yards rushed, the winners added 70 more with seven passes. St. Francis was held 43 yards on the ground and picked up 90 in the air.

Next to LaFond, Barnes was the most successful Sorrows runner, gaining 71 yards in eight carries.

Wallpaper Answers Problems

Ready to remodel—but the budget isn't? Wallpaper can be the answer.

Quality colors and patterns are now available for as low as 50 cents a roll, and many patterns are factory trimmed and pasted for quick, easy "do-it-yourself" application. For those who have never put up wallpaper before, local dealers will be happy to give simple directions. However, many papers on the market today include hanging instructions in each roll.

There's variety, too, in the ways to remodel with wallpaper. For instance, many older homes and some newer ones have bad walls.

No amount of plastering will hide cracks, and with dry wall construction, seams are bound to show.

Wallpaper is one way to disguise these faults. Since most modern wallpapers are washable, and colors won't fade, the decorating is done for as long as the family likes to keep a pattern.

When plaster walls are rough and uneven, one solution is to use a heavier paper, such as a paper-backed vinyl or a plastic-coated paper.

These papers come in a wide variety of patterns especially designed for bathrooms and kitchens.

In a bath, the choice might be a design with butterflies, fish, mermaids, zodiac signs or even one with poodles.

For a kitchen, there are herb patterns, and others with tiles, trivets, stained glass bottles and spice shelves.

Florals this year come in bright, clear colors and tone-on-tone effects that can be used in any room in the house.

They are found in modern, traditional or provincial patterns.

If walls of living or dining room have a one-color effect, consider a complete change of background color, with a scenic wallpaper to give added dimension to one of these rooms.

Create Designs With Diagonal Fabric Weaves

Interesting design can be created with fabrics having diagonal weaves. Michigan State University textile and clothing specialists suggest that diagonals are most effective in designs that:

1. Have set in sleeves—raglan or kimono sleeves create difficulty, and cannot be used unless accompanied by a special cutting chart.
2. Have slim skirts—gored or flared skirts will generally have bias seam edges which will force the diagonal to run in different directions.
3. Have a simple classic line—clothes which have many pattern pieces or intricate seaming details will create a multitude of problems in order to keep the diagonal lines going in one direction.

The primary rule to remember when selecting a pattern for your diagonal fabrics is to avoid bias cut seams or bias bands which will show on the right side.

Low Window Garden Fine

If the end wall of your living room lies close to the property line where large windows might create a privacy problem, try placing a window at the corner of the room, designed from floor to waist height and about six feet in width.

Panel the rest of the wall in incense cedar boards installed vertically, then plant a garden of dwarf pines and low shrubs outside the peek-a-boo window. The effect can be terrific.

Insecticide May Dull Car Finish

In an effort to stop the westward spread of the Cereal Leaf Beetle, plans are being used to spray insecticide over thousands of acres of wheatlands.

All exposed cars should be washed promptly with soap or detergent suds because such sprays can dull the finish on automobiles.

Introduces Bonus Savings

The new 5 1/4% Bonus Savings Certificate has been introduced by American Savings & Loan Association, as announced by Alfred L. Deutsch, president of the Association, Michigan's largest state-chartered S&L.

"The 5 1/4% rate will be on Bonus Savings Certificates of $5,000 or more, beginning Oct. 1," said Deutsch. "This is the highest rate payable by law, in the state of Michigan."

"Present American Savings customers," Deutsch stated, "may convert part or all of their regular savings to the new Bonus Savings certificates by bringing in their passbook to any one of our offices."

"Our customers will be able to withdraw from their Bonus Savings account at any time without advance notice," Deutsch pointed out.

American Savings has more than 80,000 customers and total assets of nearly $200 million, according to Deutsch. American acquired the assets and good will of Service Savings & Loan Association of Detroit last July, thus increasing its assets by nearly $12 million.

As Michigan's largest state-chartered S&L, American

Blinking Is Hard

Show on Wheels Scheduled Here

Homeowners in Observerland will have the opportunity to see the latest in home comfort equipment when The Detroit Edison Company sets up its traveling electric heat show at Westland Center.

Already visited by over 300,000 Southeastern Michigan residents, the mobile display is expected to be more popular than ever with the increased interest being shown home, according to G. S. Zilly, Edison District Sales Manager.

"The show is for everybody," he said. "The general public, electrical contractors and other interested persons are welcome to spend five minutes or an hour getting the facts about electric heat," he added.

Seven different types of electric heating equipment are on display. Most are operational. Visitors to the show can experience the instant response of electric heat for themselves by adjusting the thermostats which are mounted as they would be at home. Humidity control devices also are displayed.

All exhibits are built into surroundings that are home like. Ten manufacturers are cooperating in the displays which include a heat pump, baseboards, wall panels, ceiling panels and cables, and warm air systems.

Show dates are Oct. 10-15, according to Mr. Zilly and the times are 9:30-9 Monday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday; 9:30-5:30 Tuesday and Wednesday.

New $50,000 Race Slated for DRC

A new $50,000 stake to be a companion feature for the $100,000 added Michigan Mile, will be raced at the Detroit Race Course in 1967, it has been announced by DRC President Dale Shaffer.

The new feature will be named The Milette and will be for fillies and mares, three years old and upward. "The excellent field we attracted for the Sweet Patootie Handicap Saturday is an indication of the growing national prestige of the DRC's stake program," Shaffer said. "We have been delighted with the response of leading owners and trainers to the Sweet Patootie during the three seasons we have run it.

"However, there is increasing competition for the outstanding performers. We want to continue drawing the top stars and consequently, I feel the $50,000 purse will help us to do it."

Since it is designed to be the companion stake for The Michigan Mile, Shaffer said it was felt the stake should have a name connoting the relationship. The Milette will supplant the Sweet Patootie.

The date and conditions for The Milette will be worked out during the winter. "Paul Ryder, our Vice President-Operations, will study the stake schedules of other major tracks," Shaffer said. "It is important to ride on a suitable date. We wish to avoid conflict with other top filly and mare stakes so that we will be assured of top-flight competitors."

Shaffer said numerous owners had encouraged him to provide the richer purse for the distaff stars.

"Actually, there are few outstanding stakes at distances over one mile for the three year old and upward fillies and mares," he said. "It is important to owners to prove their fillies and mares in competition for it adds to their stud values."

"The Milette will provide such an opportunity and I am hopeful it will develop into a stake which will rival The Michigan Mile as an attraction."

The Mile and The Milette now give the DRC, the state's two richest races. The added value of The Mile has been increased each of the past three seasons. This year The Mile attracted one of the year's finest Handicap fields.

As the DRC moved into the final five weeks of its 84-day meeting, six major stakes remain to be contested.

The first of the six will be the $15,000 Spur On Handicap to be raced Saturday. The Spur On is for three year old fillies at a mile and seventy yards.

The Spur On drew 15 nominees. The probable field includes Galathon, the Elias Brothers' star which won at the DRC recently and raced the fastest six furlongs of the meeting with a clocking of 1:09; Susan B. Fisher's Dutch Maid; T. A. Grissom's Lady Farmer; Holiday Stable's Charming Alibi and Peter Fuller's entry of Entitled and Whiglet.

St. Agatha Streaks to 3rd in Row

They may be lacking in numbers at St. Agatha high school when it comes to football.

Coach John Trellay doesn't have more than 15 on whom he can count with regularity, the Redford Townshippers but none the less, St. Agatha, are rolling along—unbeaten in three straight games.

Latest to fall to the might of St. Agatha was Immaculate. Conception by a 22-0 score last Sunday afternoon.

With Francis Castiglione scoring on a 10-yard dash in the first period, St. Agatha was "off and running."

The team marched 45 yards for the score by relying pretty much on a ground attack.

In the second period, Larry Ringley broke through to tackle a rival back in the end zone and that made it 9-0 for St. Agatha at half-time.

No scoring developed in the third period, but Dennis McKenna made certain that St. Agatha would win in a breeze.

McKenna drove for a pair of touchdowns — one from a yard out, the second from three yards out.

Ron Blackmore added one of the extra points. "As long as we stay clear of injuries," said coach Trellay, "we'll be all right."

St. Agatha suffered some bumps and bruises against Immaculate Conception. Trellay hopes everybody will be ready by next Sunday.

UM Seeks To Batter Mich. State

EAST LANSING, Oct. 2 — One of the great games in the long series of Michigan State - Michigan football clashes is in prospect when the state's two Big Ten powers meet here next Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

A capacity crowd of more than 78,000 fans will be in Spartan Stadium to see the 59th game of the traditional rivalry as No. 1 ranked MSU stakes its 3-0 record.

Tickets were sold out long ago for this one. The sell-out marks the 19th straight year in the series that a full house will see the game.

Michigan holds the all-time series edge, winning 36 and losing 17 and there have been five ties. But MSU's claim to recognition is its success in recent years. The Spartans have won 11 while losing only three and tying twice in the last 16 seasons.

Coach Bump Elliott will bring a veteran Wolverine squad to East Lansing that features a classy passing attack and a swift and powerful running backfield.

Emerging strongly at quarterback is Dick Vidmer with pin-point passes to end Jack Clancy. Carl Ward and Ernie Sharpe at the halfbacks combine effectively with Dave Fisher at fullback to provide the potent running game.

State counters with a tremendous unit spearheaded by All-Americans George Webster and Bubba Smith. The Spartan offense is impressive too, with fine running by All-Americans Clinton Jones and Bob Apisa, and Dwight Lee, and the passing of quarterback Jimmy Raye to All-American end Gene Washington.

Old Hat, winner of the 1965 Michigan Mile, came back to the DRC last week, to win the $25,000 added Sweet Patootie. It was another stirring triumph in the comeback of the "Mare-of-the-Year" who raced in the silks of Stanley Conrad of Louisville. She was ridden by Kenny Church.

It was the second straight victory for Old Hat. She had won the Falls City Handicap the week before at Churchill Downs.

Out Talk, owned by Alice Bell and ridden by Danny Gargan, finished second and Treasure Chest, ridden by Bob Gallimore was third.

Church termed Old Hat, after her victory, "the gamest horse I ever sat on."

REALTOR OF THE YEAR—Everett J. Wilson (left), president of the Western Wayne-Oakland County Board of Realtors, has been named the Board's Realtor of the Year for 1966. Congratulations and a plaque are presented him by Marvin C. Yerke, district vice-president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Ford Motor Opens 'Michigan Arboretum'

Ford Motor Company's "Michigan Arboretum" was opened formally during the 40th annual summer meeting of the Michigan Forestry and Park Association in Dearborn.

The unique arboretum was started in 1960 by Arjay Miller, Ford president, on the grounds of the company's Central Office Building in Dearborn, to provide a living panorama of trees and shrubs native to Michigan.

During the past six years, it has grown to be the largest arboretum in the United States devoted to a single state's native trees and shrubs.

The arboretum is located west and north of the company's headquarters, along Southfield Freeway on the north.

The initial planting in 1960 consisted of 230 trees and 195 shrubs. Another 180 trees and 400 shrubs were added in 1964.

Today, 91 species of native Michigan trees and shrubs are growing in the arboretum. There are 357 trees and 530 shrubs. Each tree is tagged as an aid to visitors.

Michigan has more native trees and shrubs than the entire continent of Europe. The state, with 58,000 square miles of land, has 97 species. Europe, of 3,700,000 square miles, has only 85 native species.

Elizabethan Expert To Discuss Shakespeare
Dr. A. L. Rowse, one of the world's great living authorities on the Elizabethan Age, will speak on "Shakespeare and the Elizabethans in America" at 8 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 13, in the University of Detroit Memorial Building.

Wally Roberts UP' GOING CURTAIN

The 1966-67 television season has been launched in a blatant blaze of glowing color. From channel to channel the idiot box shimmers radiantly in the three primary colors.

NBC is no longer strutting so arrogantly with its multi-colored peacock announcing a full schedule of color. ABC has dipped into the electronic paint-pots and has come up with a stunning array of color shows. CBS has splashed its once dull, was scheduled with a veritable kaleidoscope of color.

How about the content of the programs?

It's true all the new shows have a bright, realistic, colorful shine to them, but have the writers been given more freedom, are the situation comedies truly funny, and have the westerns been taken off their diet of stereotyped pabulum?

Variety, the showman's guide, reports that the new season is already quite dismal when it comes to judging the effectiveness of a new show. Lack of virile writing still is listed as a major cause of a program's inability to attract viewers.

Some of the new shows that have caught on so far with the home crowd are "The Iron Horse," "Occasional Wife," "The Time Tunnel," "The Monkeys," "Stage 67," and "T.H.E. Cat."

According to the rating services the American Broadcasting Company is leading the TV race with at least seven new shows that have caused some channel switching. NBC is a close second with four new programs. CBS limps in last with only two.

Of course, CBS has little to worry about since in the weekly top ten TV shows they hold at least five or six positions. Only "Bonanza" and "Batman" give CBS any real competition.

Ice Follies Opens Nov. 15 At Olympia For 12 Days

The 1967 edition of the Ship stads and Johnson Ice Follies, the world's original ice show, will return to Detroit for a 12-day engagement at Olympia Stadium beginning Nov. 15 and playing through Nov. 27.

Now in its 31st season of entertaining millions of spectators, the Follies brings back all of the favorite stars from last year, plus some new faces.

World champion Donald Jackson is back with his unequalled jumps and spins; Richard Dwyer as "The Debonaire"; Dorothyann Nelson as a charming coquette; and Nina Bauer as the fiery Freya, goddess of beauty.

The three Scarecrows head the comedy in the show, along with Mr. Frick, who's back for a record 28 years of amazing antics. Adding to the laughs are Bill Wall, the Beattys and Timmy the Tiger.

For the children, there's a picnic with The Williams family, making their second tour with the Follies, and a trip through the "Magical Garden of Dreams" with little Debbie Williams.

There's a special fashion show for the ladies as six wedding gowns from around the world are modeled in "Bridal Rhapsody." Each of the gowns, designed by Mary Wills, cost $4,000.

A Freedom Story

A different type of freedom talk is the foundation of talks being given by a candidate for public office in this fall's campaign. The man is Arpo Yemen, an attorney who is the Republican Party's nominee for the 15th Congressional seat. That district includes Westland and Garden City.

With minor variations, Yemen is giving the same talk to numerous organizations and public assemblies during the current campaign. The Observer, after hearing the story several times, feels that not only should all American citizens eligible to vote listen to Yemen's story but it should also be given in all high school civics and history classes.

The title of his talk should be "Only in America" where only a story such as Yemen's could come true.

Born of Armenian parents in Turkey, his parents fled with him when he was just a youngster to escape the massacres of the Armenian minorities in that country, a generation ago. He grew up and went to school in Greece. But he was refused admittance to the University of Athens.

"But there was no civil rights commission, no president to escort me through the schoolhouse door, and no federal bayonets to help me," the candidate said in obvious reference to civil rights crises in American schools within the past few years.

He then went to the Nazi German occupation commandant of Greece and he was directed to the University of Vienna. However, Yemen learned at that time that the German idea of freedom isn't much different than his previous experiences.

In 1945, he learned of the horrors of communism when the Soviet Union's Red Army occupied Austria and Germany at the close of World War II. Having had enough of the European style of freedom, Yemen decided to make the jump across the Atlantic Ocean and come to America.

He arrived and with his excellent high school education in Greece, Yemen attended Wayne State University in Detroit to obtain his civil engineering degree. During his undergraduate days, he worked at numerous jobs, or as he put it, "fighting my own personal war against poverty without the help of $30,000 warriors from Washington."

He later returned to school to get his law degree and is now married, a family man, a successful attorney, and now a candidate for the United States Congress.

Yemen admits in political talks in public that the 2-1 majority of Democratic voters over Republican voters are heavy odds—but "they are the best odds I've faced yet," he stressed.

It could happen only in America.

Gambler's Paradise?

"Fill'er up and by the way I'll take a set of those dishes."

"I know I only asked you to get a loaf of bread at the grocery store, but I need another race card. We may win that thousand dollar race. No, not that store, they have greyhound racing and I can't stand to see those scrawny dogs chasing that fake rabbit. Get the horse racing card."

"Check the oil and don't forget the Sunny Dollar card, I feel lucky today. You don't have any? Oh, this is our local gas station and your game is with safety symbols. Well, I'll match one of those."

Game-loving Americans are having a gambling gambol in such profusion that it seems you can't turn around at a grocery, gas station, or department store without some form of "bonus bingo" or quasi-gambling venture tied to your purchase.

Is all this an outgrowth of George and Martha's rather controversial evening of "Fun and Games" in "Virginia Woolf"? Or as individuals bent on making that extra buck so assiduously do we just naturally yield to such temptation of a material nature?

Whatever the reason it's high time to fight the onrush of such forms of pseudo-gambling. Can't we be honest and forthright enough to take our gambling straight from the shoulder?

At the racetrack, it's obvious you pay your money to bet on a race and make your excuses later when the horse drags in last.

Let's put gambling on a purely legal basis as a business controlled by state and Federal agencies. To try and combine the two is hypocritical and utilizes a "tease technique" that in the long run provides more harm to an individual's psyche than enjoying the genuine article.

—WALLY ROBERTS

Sorry Elmer, We Disagree!

Elmer D. Hazelton, Executive Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the Redford Township Boys' Club Advisory Council can blame "people who don't like boys" with all of his breath, for the scuttling of a $300,000 Boys' Club Building in the Township.

The fault is not of the 150 people who objected to the plan. Any idea, good or bad, will always have those who oppose it, for many reasons.

No, the fault lies with lack of real leadership in Redford Township.

If there were any real leadership, (other than negative or selfish motivations) in Redford Township, not only would they have a model Boys' Club as a credit to the entire community but they would also be part of the growing and fine Schoolcraft College District.

When that issue was before the public, Township Supervisor Jack H. McDonald sided with the tabloid editor Jack MacGriff and together they defeated what was called "a part of a civic center promotion by politicians in Livonia."

Negative thinking has become a sad fact in Redford Township, and the good citizens have allowed themselves to be used as stepping stones for ambitious politicians seeking with lofty ambition and little talent or time for promoting the educational welfare of its citizens.

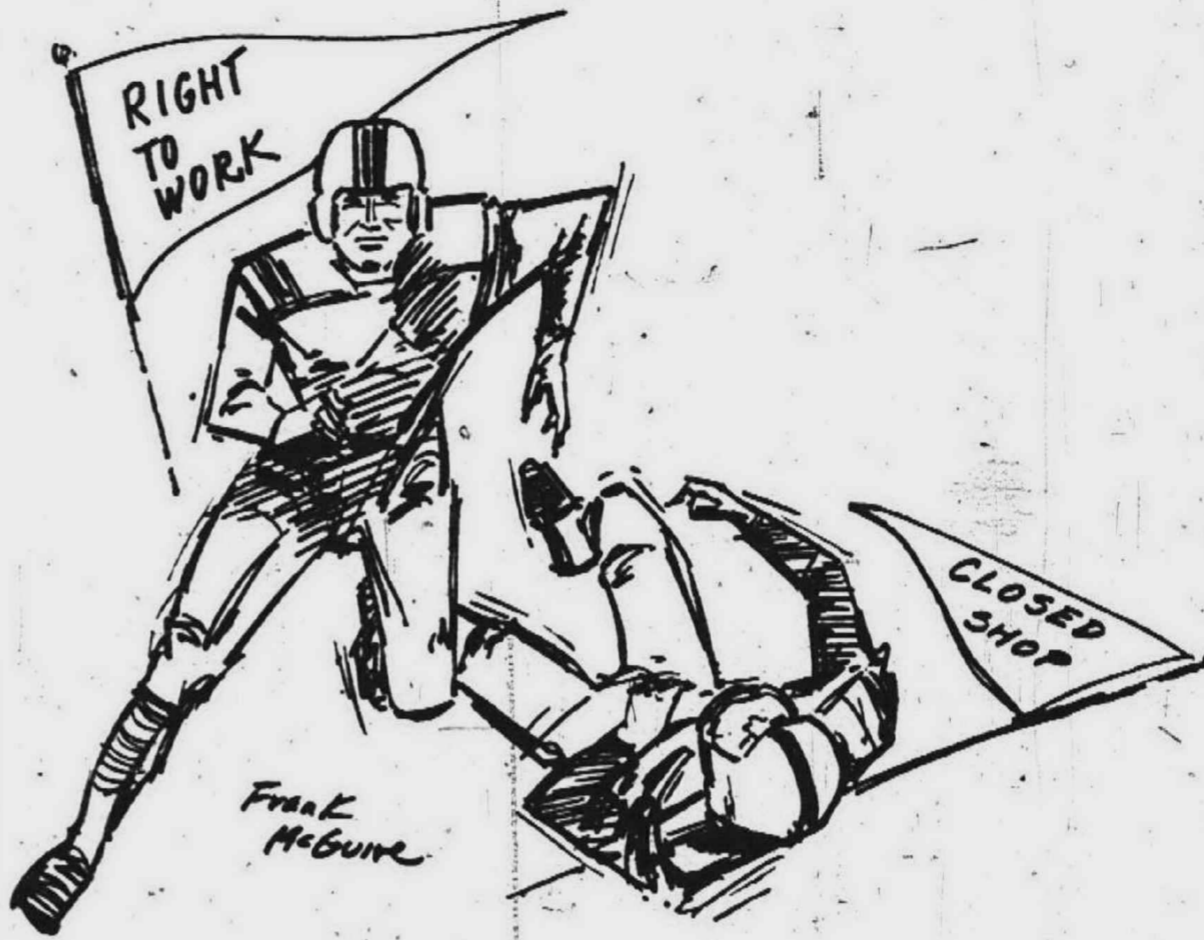

If the Chamber of Commerce had put its muscles behind this instead of politicking, which they have no business doing, they might have convinced other groups such as the two active and bustling Business and Professional Women's clubs in the Township; or the ever-ready-to-help Redford Suburban League. These women could have whipped this one with one hand tied behind their backs. There was no one to lead the challenge.

A Redford community without leadership which boasts it is the largest township in the United States—and for good measure . . . it has the most gas stations.

If it weren't for two good school districts and the parent leadership that has fought for their place in the sun (by themselves)—Redford Township may as well be Detroit.

An Expression of Thanks

Editor:

(My wife and I received this letter from a young soldier neighbor of ours on his way to the Army at Fort Knox. So many say kids in this day and age have no sensitiveness, no appreciation. We think this letter proves otherwise. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Roy.)

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Roy and family:

I want to express my thanks for being so good to me all the time I have known you especially while I was in school; for help with my school work and for the encouragement I needed to see me through. Thank you for sharing part of your lives with me.

I know one thing for sure, that you cannot live without other people. You are as good as the people you know. If I am to be successful in life as a person, it is because I have known people like you. I can't say correctly how I feel, so I will let another person say it for me.

A Prayer

It is my joy in life to find, at every turning of the road; the strong arm of a comrade kind, to help me onward with my load.

And since I have no gold to give, and love alone must make amends, my only prayer is, while I live, God make me worthy of my friends.

YOUR FRIEND,
BRIAN TALASKE
Redford Township.

Which Is He?

Editor:
I always knew Michigan was the best state in the Union. I just discovered we currently have the greatest governor.

At the recent joint Republican 18th and 19th Congressional Convention, we were blessed to have our greatest governor speak to us. By his own admission, he stated "I am a conservative." This, of course, caused a small stir but he then said "I am also a liberal." This is where I went into shock and I just realized I do not recall the conservative or was it liberal he used for these conflicting statements which naively I used to believe were conflicting.

Anyone who can enlighten me on his exact words I would be ever so grateful.

Sincerely yours,
BRUCE E. DUKE
(Edit. Note: Sorry, we can't. The Governor is very accomplished at this dual role.)

Not For Ferency

Notes for the week . . . to ZOLton, ZolTON, Zolton FERENCY, FERency, Ferency, or whatever the heck his name is . . . Did you ever hear an old saying "You can't use MUD and come out Clean?" Well, George Romney has made mistakes, and will make more, since he DOES belong to the human race, but I am willing to bet my small (very small) fortune that they will NOT include ticket fixing, income tax evasion, morals charges, jury fixing, or hobnobbing with the Mafia.

Also, anyone should be able to understand why the President of the United States was courteous to the Governor of ALL the people of Michigan. Especially, a Governor who drew more votes than he did in his own landslide of '64. LBJ is nothing if not an astute politician, even his enemies would grant him that.

Furthermore, on that RECOUNT in Redford Township . . . I'll bet my other small (very small) fortune that the election workers of this township would never cheat anyone; they are just plain, good, honest Democrats and Republicans and that, my dears, is THAT!

Cheers,
JUST ME

One Man's Opinion

Editor:
You won't print this letter, but I'll send it on to you anyway.

I urge the people of our community to "Know your Mayor Candidate," before voting Nov. 8.

The Mayor of Garden City should be more knowledgeable of the needs of the taxpayers than other elected officials are. Your Mayor is not some guy on cloud nine. He is your next door neighbor and he has a 24-hour hotline to the taxpayer.

Some people don't know the names of their Congressman, Senators, and State Representatives. If something goes wrong they blame the Mayor.

We have a good Mayor and we need to keep him. This is why I urge you to know your Mayor candidate, as well as your Council candidates and Judge candidates. Do not be misled by rumors and dirty literature. Check the record and qualifications of all candidates.

OBSERVING the Scene . . .

By MYRA CHANDLER

It is indeed a completely innocuous word, "Agency." But when it is applied to working, and you add the word "shop," you have anything but a harmless meaning.

There is nothing amoral, dishonest, or unlawful about an Agency Shop but in my way of thinking it is harmful—harmful to the basic concept of what the United States of America is based on, what made it grow and glow in grace—precious "freedom of choice."

Admittedly, it is a matter of philosophy and often it is the one ideal that separates a conservative Democrat from a liberal Republican. No God-fearing, card-carrying GOP member could possibly condone an "Agency Shop."

And yet you can listen to a convincing convincer like Councilman Jerry Raymond who expounds the theory of the Agency Shop in an honest, straight forward and articulate fashion and be impressed.

In fact, Brother Jerry goes a step beyond—he is for a stronger philosophy, namely a "Union Shop."

The educational process came as a result of a week-end of negotiations in Livonia with City employees. The stumbling block that kept grown men up all night long was not wine, women or song—but arguing over whether to have or not to have an "Agency Shop."

Livonia School Board just recently capitulated and now has an "Agency Shop"—you have to "belong" or move out. South Redford is arbitrating the question—Garden City recently refused it.

All over the land unions are putting "Agency Shop" as a foremost item in their bargaining. It increases its power.

Jerry Raymond based his arguments on the principle that the union pays high-powered, articulate men to speak for them (business agents, etc.) and they achieve great things for the members—and then only a few pay the expenses of these men. State law requires a Union must represent the total employment, not just members. In his thinking it follows, it is only democratic that since all benefit—all should pay.

Further, he believes even an "Agency Shop" is not right—in an "Agency Shop" all employees do not have to be members—they just have to pay dues. He feels it should be a Union Shop. Here an employee must pay dues, but also must be a member of the union, attend meetings, picket when a strike is called and vote. This, he says, is true representation. All benefit, all pay—and all have a word in decisions.

It worries me. Far better, I think, that there is choice. A Union is a necessary way of life—but if it does not remain a matter of choice if one joins or not—then it becomes a threat. Even a threat to destroy itself. Freedom of choice provides the balance against this.

A Union must keep honest, keep improving, keep straight, keep selling its advantages to an employee—otherwise what good is it?

If every worker must belong, the Union can become too powerful, more evil than the monster known as MANAGEMENT. True, on the surface it would seem unfair when you hear the chant, "but your Union got your raise and now you, a non-union member, are not paying for it."

"But Mr. Union, no one appointed you my 'big brother'—you said you wanted to do this for the good of the working man—well, personally, I've got brains of my own and by golly I wanted to get that raise on my own merit—I might want to prove myself just a little better than the guy next to me. If you want to do this for the others it is O.K. with me—but I'm not going to pay you to do it because I choose not to."

We must pay taxes and be law-abiding citizens, but nowhere in the Constitution of the United States does it say I have to pay anyone to speak for me if I choose to speak for myself. Everyday a little bit of our freedom seems to be slipping away. This must not happen.

We must be free to choose if we want to join anything—a church, a fraternal group—or a union. Isn't this what makes the United States of America?

Parents, Look Home For School Dropouts

Editor:

When it comes to school dropouts, why blame the schools and the teachers? Some of the causes of these problems can be traced to the parents. If the parents don't encourage them to study who will? When a child shows no respect for his teacher can you blame him? His own parents can't get any respect and they supposedly brought him up.

If only the parents would stop blaming the teachers and admit their child might be wrong, then he might get along better and could be encouraged to stay in school.

OMBUDSMAN

(A new feature in The Observer Newspapers — we will do our best to be a go-between, a red-tape cutter as the name indicates. When you have exhausted all other measures on a problem write to us (keep it short, please) and we'll see if we can help. Yes, John Q, you can fight city hall — with your own Ombudsman!)

Dear Ombudsman:

Why has it been impossible for the City of Livonia Traffic Department to solve the left turn problem at Plymouth and Merriman roads? Without argument, traffic at this point ranks among, if not highest, in the City. Also the adjacent residential area is the most densely populated in the City, including four school buildings.

Despite this, westerly moving traffic cannot turn south on Merriman but is forced to take a chance at exiting onto residential streets that are old, narrow and definitely not designed to handle the present volume and speed of traffic. The frequency of Plymouth Road accidents increase steadily. Hazard to residents increases. The problem is not new. A correction is needed and should not be delayed.

C. A. REEBER
Melrose,
Livonia

Dear Mr. Reeber:
Lt. Robert Thorne of the Livonia Traffic Bureau agrees with you. He has been working on the problem for two years. One plan he had was scuttled by the Council for lack of finances. But help is in sight. Plymouth Road is a State Highway and state authorities claim the road does not have enough capacity to have a left-hand turn lane now. They are going to begin the widening program probably to be completed next year and will provide a left-hand turn lane. According to figures Plymouth and Middlebelt takes the prize for the heaviest traffic pattern.

Just Chattin'

He Washed A Fortune Out of His Hair

by W. W. EDGAR

Seated around the dying embers of the large fire that served as the focal point of the season's last corn roast one of the guests turned to me in the silvery moonlight and asked:

"Of all the interesting characters you have met in your career who would you name as the most fabulous?"

The question stirred immediate interest and all eyes turned to me as if the choice would be difficult to make.

"That's easy to answer," I countered. "It was a fellow who washed a fortune out of his hair—and then died broke."

"Who in the world could that have been?" they asked, almost in unison.

"It was a fellow named Jack Kearns whom some of you will remember as the colorful fight manager who guided the famous Jack Dempsey from the role of a hobo 'riding the rods' to the lofty atmosphere of the world's heavyweight championship in the 'Roaring Twenties,'" I answered.

"Fine," they said, "but what has that got to do with washing a fortune out of your hair?"

So, I related one of the most fabulous yarns I ever have heard—and I am forced to smile every time I think of it.

Jack Kearns was another of those fellows who nursed a keen hatred of work—and lived by his wits. He would spend an entire day "con-ning" ways to do things, that could have been accomplished in a few moments, or a few hours, if approached legitimately.

"How did you develop this hatred of work?" I asked him one evening while discussing the topics of the day, for Kearns was a most interesting conversationalist.

Jack chuckled at the question, for it brought back some fond memories for him.

"I ran away from home as a kid of only 14 years," he confided, "and eventually got to Nome and Fairbanks, Alaska, during the gold rush. It was an easy matter to get a job and I was put to work, weighing the gold dust."

"Like young fellows on a new job, and being so far from home, I wanted to make good and I tackled this first job with a vengeance."

"Near the end of the first day, one of the older guys working alongside of me, walked over and tapped me on the shoulder."

"Listen, kid," he said, "you don't have to work that hard. You'll make it tough for all of us. There's a much easier way to make money up here in the Klondike—if you'll just listen."

"Naturally, I was all ears," Kearns chuckled.

"When you awaken in the morning and get ready for work," the old-timer told me, "wash your hair and, after you dry it, take a bit of vaseline and give your head a good rubbing."

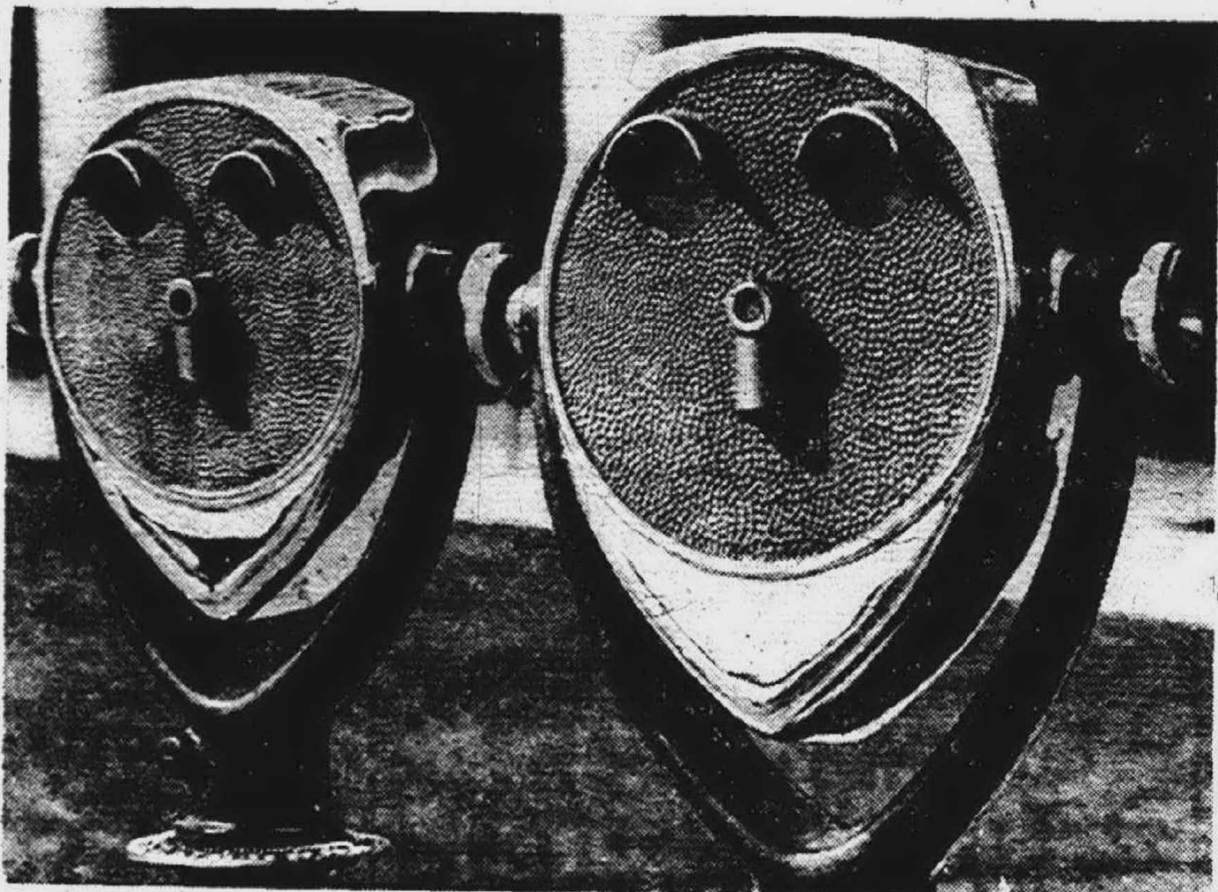

"Then," the old-timer went on, "every once in a while during the day when your hands are filled with the gold dust, just rub them through your hair."

"And do you know," Kearns smiled, "the old guy was right. I started using the vaseline. Each night when I returned home from work and washed my hair I had the equivalent of more money in the wash bowl than I had made all day."

It was this "easy way" to obtain money that caused Kearns to become one of the biggest spenders ever to hit Broadway.

Any time Jack got to the big city and word spread that "Kearns is in town," there was action on the Great White Way—a action like it never had known even when "Diamond Jim" Brady was in his heyday. He had only one thought about money—it was meant to be spent.

There are many tales to be told of the boys in Viet Nam. There are 3,000 boys being inducted in this area in November. And some enlist.

One day last summer a group of 87 local boys signed up as the Detroit Tiger Navy Recruit Company, named in honor of the Detroit Tigers. This group has now attained the highest goal which can be attained at the Recruit Training Command at Great Lakes, Illinois: The Hall of Fame Award, with 40 flags to its credit. The last company to achieve the award took 29 flags.

Four of the Tigers are local boys. Joseph G. Cyburt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Cyburt of 9225 Lathers, Li-von, graduated from Franklin High School in 1965 is one of them. Michael Sietoff, of 15676 Park Lane, Livonia, is another. He graduated from Bentley High School in 1965. There there are Russell Robinson, of 23050 Frederick and Dennis Price, of 22827 Frederick, both of Farmington.

These four are among the recruits marching under the 40 flags, tangible symbols of excellence in training competition. They won in competition with 11 to 200 other companies in simultaneous training.

The Hall of Fame Award will be put in permanent form for the 87 members of the Tiger Company. Each recruit of Company 447 has received an engraved plaque, with his name and company under the words "Hall of Fame."

The company marches under but 12 flags, all but two adorned with pennants, signalling successive awards.

The competition awards include the Battalion Efficiency Award, the Battalion Star Flag, the Battalion Drill Flag, the Battalion "I" Flag, Regimental Efficiency Award, Regimental Drill, Regimental Star, Brigade Drill, Athletic Flag, Brigade "I" Flag and Citizenship Flag. Then there is the Color Company banner to mark the Tiger Company as the finest.

Upon being awarded the signal honor, the Company received congratulations from Gov. George Romney, Livonia Mayor Moelke, and Detroit's Mayor Cavanagh.

The "Centaur Post"

A column that appears every now and then in this space to let you know what's going on at Centaur Farm Stables.

FARMINGTON WINNERS!

With better than sixty youngsters competing in the One Day Event for Centaur Junior Riders last Sunday at Centaur Farm Stables, 5600 Drake Road at Walnut Lake Road in West Bloomfield Township, it was a real thrill for Darcy General to find that she had won the coveted trophy for Best Overall Rider.

Darcy, who lives at 30033 Beantree Road in Farmington, competed in all the events which included Dressage, Cross Country Riding and Stadium Jumping. In addition to the trophy she also won a blue ribbon for tying for first place honors in Cross Country. Her trophy is now being engraved and as soon as it's complete it'll rate the "Oscar place of honor" in the General home!

Farmington had still another winner in Centaur's One Day Events, Saturday, with some 50 teenagers taking part in the One Day Event for Centaur Senior Riders, Carole Road, 2442 Broadview collected a second place ribbon in Dressage and a third place ribbon in Stadium Jumping.

We're sure that Farmington is as proud of Darcy and Carole as Centaur is!

RUBEZH NOTES

We made a special trip into the "stable section" of Centaur recently to admire again the five beautiful horses trained by Robert Hall at the famous Fulmer School of Equitation in England and brought to America by Tony Pratt, Centaur's General Manager, to be sold by Centaur. We were admiring the sleek, powerful beauty of Rubzh, our favorite, a Russian horse that Fulmer had imported from Russia.

Rubzh loves attention. He looks at you "with shining brown eyes and tosses his mane with a flair that could earn a carrot out of Peter Rabbit. Rubzh was, in fact, munching hay at the time with great relish and watching him we idly asked Tony how much a horse eats in a day. "14 pounds of grain," Tony answered and the amount floored us. There really must be something to the doctors' theory of diet and exercise. For in spite of 28 pounds of feed a day there isn't an ounce of extra fat on Rubzh who looks as if he couldn't care less about calory counting.

Have you been out to Centaur to see the five imported horses yet? It's lovely autumn trip these days to the crossroads of Drake and Walnut Lake Road in West Bloomfield Township.

Wayne Schools Plan Help For Disadvantaged Pupils

A four-pronged campaign for the educationally deprived children from low income families in the Wayne Community School District, which includes most of Westland, was outlined for the Board of Education last week.

The program will have its $130,000 cost financed by the federal government through Title I of the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act. The previous year, Wayne had 647 children in that category and received $154,000.

As outlined by administrators last week, the program will have four projects, one for the six instructional materials teachers in different elementary schools having the most children to be aided; ten science enrichment teachers on an after-school basis in ten schools; and counseling for general enrichment on an after-school basis, and training seminars for teachers.

In the instructional materials areas, those teachers will be responsible for coordinating the use of the materials center in terms of pupils, teachers, and parents with each room in each building to have a library period weekly.

It is hoped that the project will aid in the development of positive learning skills, resulting in an improved classroom performance, the school board was told.

"Each child (in the program) will meet with the instructional materials teacher at least once a week," the report said. "For most of these children, there is a discernible academic and cultural lag. Our intent is to reduce that lag by intensive general enrichment instruction, utilizing a multi-media approach."

In the area of science enrichment, the report continued, there will be 20 students at each of the ten schools participating. The teachers to be in the program on an after-school basis, will be full-time Wayne Community teachers.

Science equipment and materials will be used with funds from the federal government.

We hope the project will provide the disadvantaged child an additional opportunity for success by actively participating in science experiments and investigations, the report pointed out.

In the counseling portion of the program, there will be 27 secondary school teachers and/or counselors taking part after school and on Saturdays.

Educational activities started last year included a trip to a nearby university, bowling, a train trip to Lansing, and a tour of the State Capitol, a cook out and proposed toboggan party.

"We hope that these benefits will aid the children in raising the level of their aspirations and help in reducing the number of dropouts in the secondary schools." The seminars will provide a remedial reading and in-service seminar program designed to offer help to disadvantaged children through seminar training and to train 20 classroom teachers in the latest techniques and methods of remedial reading.

"We hope the project will increase the teachers' awareness of meeting individual needs and develop the teachers' ability to accurately determine these individual needs," the report said.

Boosters to Meet

Garden City West High School's Athletic Boosters Club will meet at 8 p.m. next Wednesday, Oct. 12, in the school cafeteria.

The club is now in the midst of a membership drive. Dues are $1 per year and membership is open to all, a spokesman said.

Parents of the school's athletes are urged to support their sons by joining the club and attending its meetings.

City Says No To Request From County

The Wayne County Road Commission wants to get out of the penalties it owes for late payment of Garden City water bills.

But the City Council last week was unanimous in their feelings — to deny the request.

The road commission, which pays for the water service for its rest rooms for the Merriman and Warren Road yards, and the Hines Parkway, said that by the time the water bill from the city goes through all of the required channels in the county offices, the due date is past.

But Councilman Douglas Waddell commented that the county agency "should change their channels."

Councilman Wilson Taylor said that he can't see any reason for exempting the road commission for its late-payment penalties.

Eight Teachers Added to Staff

The Wayne Community School District faculty had eight more holes plugged last week, leaving eight vacancies to fill.

The Board of Education, whose district covers most of Westland, approved teaching contracts for eight new persons.

The assignments are Norma Aro, Lincoln-Cleveland physical education; Virginia Bird, vocal music; Eleanor Himebaugh, Stottlemeyer, fourth grade; Donna Lask, Franklin Jr. High, math; Mary McIntyre, Stottlemeyer Elementary; Carolyn Shell, Glenn High, English; Michael Washburn, Adams Junior High, English; Roselle Maddick, Wildwood-Cherry Hill, first grade, and Elizabeth Kyle, Hamilton, third grade.

Resignations were accepted from teachers Marian Johnson, Elliott second grade, who signed a contract with another district; and Susan Sullivan, Venoy-Cherry Hill, third grade, whose husband accepted an industrial position out of the country.

The newest additions to the faculty leave three vacancies in the elementary schools, two at Franklin Junior High, and three in special education.

The school board also approved four new relief bus drivers: Merle Wencel, Stanley Shinski, Donald Edmonds, and Frances Bennett.

Resignations were accepted from teacher's aide, Frances Bannett, one of the new bus drivers, whose program was concluded, and Silvia Carone, a bus driver for three years, for dismissal.

For Programmed Learning

New Coordinator Named

William Lusa, teacher in Garden City schools for five years, is the new coordinator of East High School's Programmed Instruction.

Lusa replaces Mrs. Florence Striph who was named this summer as the director of the Programmed Learning Center at the Macomb County Community College.

The new high school coordinator came to Garden City in 1961 when he taught sixth graders at Maplewood Elementary School. Later he moved to Cambridge Junior High as an eighth grade teacher in English and Social Studies.

Lusa's appointment was based on several factors, said East High Principal Gerald Gould:

"His sincere liking of people, his ability as a teacher who can teach many types of youngsters, his past two years of successful experience in the programmed instruction experimental project, and his curiosity and effort in trying out new ideas which may be utilized to improve teaching as a whole."

NORTHWEST WAYNE COUNTY COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT
COUNTIES OF WAYNE, WASHTENAW AND OAKLAND, MICHIGAN
NOTES

Sealed bids for the purchase of tax anticipation notes of Northwest Wayne County Community College District, Counties of Wayne, Washtenaw and Oakland, Michigan, of the par value of One Hundred Forty Thousand Dollars ($140,000), will be received by the undersigned at the Administrative Offices, 18600 Haggerty Road, Livonia, Michigan, 48151, until 8:00 o'clock, a.m. Eastern Standard Time, on the 19th day of October, 1966, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read.

The notes will be dated September 1, 1966, will mature May 1, 1967, and will bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding four per cent (4%) per annum. Both principal and interest will be payable at a bank or trust company to be designated by the original purchaser of the notes, which paying agent qualifies as such under the statutes of the State of Michigan or of the Federal Government. Denominations and form of notes to be at the option of the purchaser. Accrued interest to date of delivery of such notes must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

For the purpose of awarding the notes the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the notes from November 1, 1966, to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium. The notes will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the Community College District. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the notes or at a price less than their par value will be considered.

Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, Attorneys, 2500 Detroit Bank and Trust Building, Detroit, Michigan, which opinion will be furnished without expense to the purchaser prior to the delivery thereof, approving the legality of the notes. The purchaser shall furnish notes ready for execution at his expense. Notes will be delivered without expense to the purchaser at a place to be designated by the purchaser.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Notes."

2 Teen Boys Fined After Larceny

Two Taylor teen-age boys were fined $50 each last week after being found guilty of stealing two headrests from Ile's Collision Shop, 6982 Middlebelt Road, Garden City, on June 18.

The two are George Bojarski, 19, and Allen Faulkner, 19, who were in a car stopped by police officers for a traffic violation. While the police were questioning the boys, they noticed that the two were trying to conceal the headrests.

Bojarski, who had pleaded not guilty to the charge of simple larceny, said he was to enter the armed forces next Monday.

Modernizing?
New Heating System?

Decisions. Decisions. Decisions.

(May we help you with an important one?)

Your choice of a heating system is one you'll live with for a long time. So, naturally, you'll want to make sure you get a system that won't cost too much to own. That's where our new electric heat guarantee comes in.

Here's how it works: We'll see that you get a written estimate of heating costs—before you buy. Then, your monthly bills may be less, but they won't be one cent higher than the estimate. We guarantee it.

If the installation needs adjustments to meet the guaranteed cost figure, we'll see that it's done. And if at the end of three complete, consecutive heating seasons the system is still not operating within our estimate, we'll remove it and refund your money.

Before you make any more important modernizing decisions, get the facts on modern electric heat. You can't lose!

Draugelis Assists in Court Rules

Plymouth Municipal Judge Edward Draugelis favors having all municipal courts in Wayne County operating under uniform court rules. There are 24 municipal courts in Wayne County outside Detroit.

Enactment of the court rules is awaiting action by the Wayne Circuit Court.

The proposed rules were drafted by Dearborn's Municipal Judge George T. Martin, unanimously adopted by all Wayne County municipal judges, and are now awaiting promulgation by the Circuit Court to become effective.

Included among the court rules are provisions to eliminate all possibility of traffic ticket fixing.

Had these rules been promulgated when first presented several years ago, it is said that the ticket fixing charge by some Wayne County deputy sheriffs could never have happened.

During Fire Prevention Week

Plymouth Firemen To Inspect Homes

A complete inspection of every home in the city. That's the goal of the Plymouth Fire Department during the celebration of Fire Prevention Week from Oct. 9 through Oct. 15.

Chief George Schoeneman and Rev. Peter Schweitzer, Fire Chaplain and a member of the volunteers, with the co-operation of the Plymouth Rotary Club, have made arrangements to have every street in the city canvassed during the week.

Members of the Department will go from door to door, while a truck goes down the center of the street, telling residents of the opportunity for a voluntary inspection. If permission is granted, then the firefighters will inspect the home, principally the basement, and report hazards and violations in a written note to the homeowner.

"We hope to bring the matter of fire prevention to the attention of all residents of the City in this style," said Chief Schoeneman in explaining plans for the week. He emphasized that the firefighters will not enter any home unless given permission by the owner or resident.

All three of the Michigan State swimmers who qualified for the 1966 AAU Outdoor Championships live in Pittsburgh, Pa. They are Pete Williams, Rollie Groseth and Miss Ann Sachs.

Trustee Candidates Shine

Members of the Plymouth Businessmen's Forum received an insight into the thinking of candidates for national, state and local posts in the Nov. 8 election, in a program devoted to politicking at the Mayflower Meeting House.

The candidates present included: State Representative James Tierney and his Republican opponent John Tripp; Democrat Rev. David Strang and Republican incumbent Gene Overholt in the race for Township Trustee; Republican candidate for Congressman in District 2 Marvin Esch; and Democrat Paul Livingston and Republican George Kuhn who are seeking the State Senatorship.

But for those in attendance, most of the attention was focused on talks by Strang and Overholt who expressed their views of the coming Township election.

Overholt, who is seeking election to the post he has held as the interim replacement for C. Veach Sparks, answered three questions that had been sent to him by the sponsoring Chamber of Commerce prior to the program.

He said he (1) aims to provide the Township with a government that will plan for the future in the most economical way. Township government is big business today and must be run as an efficient business; (2) aims to break down the invisible barrier built between the Township and City. He pointed out that although the relationship with the city has shown marked improvement, consolidation is a word that should not be used in the immediate future. Co-operation is the goal to achieve at this time; (3) feels there must be a reassessment in the Township. He indicated the Township Board had asked for consultation from the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation and was told reassessment was needed. The county expert suggested immediate reassessment on lands followed by reassessment of buildings and personals the following year. Only reassessment can correct the inequity which has been caused by not having reassessment.

Strang ripped the present Township leadership stating that he questioned whether the people in the Township have been getting the kind of leadership they are entitled to.

He charged the Township Board is a group of elected officials who appear to function as an emergency agency — when a problem becomes unmanageable, when it reaches a point at which it just can't be tabled and studied one more month, then the Board acts.

He rapped the recent action in turning down a request by Public Service Director William Burr for more firemen.

"The Board has known for a long time it must have firemen," charged Rev. Strang. "The Board studied and tabled beyond the date that it might have been possible to get a proposal on the ballot, so that the people could themselves vote. I feel that concern for what the people need and want is missing."

Rev. Strang also touched on the failure of the Board to act on a recommendation of Trustee Dick Lauterbach that steps be taken to correct the lack of suitable police protection.

"That recommendation was made more than two years ago," he said, "and little if anything has been done to date."

The talks by the two Trustee candidates stole the show even though all of the others made interesting talks.

and plenty of transportation in addition to a neighborhood drug store."

Beyer suggested that the Commission consider a site in the York and Holbrook section that backs into the park system. He stated it would correct a blight section and accomplish senior housing at the same time.

After a lengthy discussion during which various members of the Commission expressed their views on the matter, it was decided to hold the public hearing on Oct. 17 and then make a recommendation to the Housing Commission.

In other actions, the Commission:

Appointed Kenneth Way and Kenneth Vogras as delegate and alternate to the Municipal Employees' Retirement System annual meeting after receiving notice that the employees had selected Eldridge Raven and George Florken.

Approved an amended School Fire Reciprocal Agreement with Plymouth Township as recommended by Fire Chief George Schoeneman.

Voted to reject the offer of Plymouth Township of $1,300 for the water lines into Plymouth Colony.

Approved permanent stop signs at several street intersections upon recommendation of Assistant Police Chief Loren Johnson.

Authorized City Clerk Eugene Slider to purchase a dictaphone machine and transcriber.

Heard a report from Police Chief Kenneth Fisher on the installation of a traffic actuated signal control device at the intersection of Church and S. Main in front of the senior high school.

Shown are Mr. and Mrs. Claude Eckles who have charge of the dinner. There'll be a snack bar at noon, a bazaar starting at 10 a.m. and the dinner served by the men at 5, 6 and 7 p.m.

Diak, serving as spokesman for the railroad, indicated he could not answer a question of commitment at this time.

Ashton pointed out that the noise of shifting cars would be bad enough during the day but twice as loud during the quiet hours of night.

Mrs. Ruth Jones, 13900 Ridgewood, demanded that the Planning Commission explain why the railroad should be allowed to make noise 24 hours per day.

Before the query could be answered, Ashton took the floor to deplore the fact that the railroad thought the present plan was more convenient and therefore hoped to use it.

Whitmore explained that the railroad wanted the present plan because it wanted to maintain curves of not more than 14 degrees for switching cars.

"We have found that curves sharper than that make it difficult to couple and uncouple cars," he said. Commission Chairman Maurie Breen ordered the public hearing closed and turned the discussion back to the Planners.

Koch then made a motion that the Board approve the request and received support from Irving Rozian.

Before the roll call vote, Member Austin Stecker told his colleagues that he would vote "no" since he felt the area requested was much more than actually needed.

In the roll call vote, there were six "yes" with one "no" from Stecker. Those voting "yes" were Koch, Rozian, Carl Hartwick, Ralph Garber, Charles Childs, Melville Troyer with Russell Ash absent.

Bob McCurry, center on the 1946-48 Michigan State football squads, was Spartan gridiron captain three times.

Quakertown Questers Begin Fall Programs

The fall season was opened with a meeting of the Quakertown Questers at the home of Mrs. Fred Harrison, 22588 Whittington, Farmington.

Her tea table was set with a green tablecloth and centered with bittersweet, and a lighted fireplace added to a spirit of warmth. Members were present as well as three guests, Pat Yardley, Ruth Fathman and Joan Bautaugh.

Plans were made by several of the members to attend the State meeting to be held Oct. 4 at Frankenmuth when a tour of the interesting city will be made.

Among the State officers, two of the local members are on the list. Mrs. Philip Day of the Quakertown Questers is Recording Secretary and Mrs. Preston Meisel of the Mill-creek Chapter is State Treasurer.

Mrs. H. P. Adams gave a very interesting study paper on "American Art." She went on to say that Art rather than being considered a pastime, amusement or luxury is an essential.

When America was first explored the Europeans found pictures of America as fascinating as we find pictures of African or South American rivers and jungles thrilling today. In 1560 a French publisher hired and sent a watercolorist to Florida to paint and send back pictures.

Some years later an English artist by the name of John White became the governor of Sir Walter Raleigh's colony in Virginia.

He drew pictures for the European market but painted Indians to look like Europeans in fancy Indian costumes. American scenery and savages seemed so strange to the first settlers and explorers that their eyes refused to register them.

In the late 17th century, some Boston house painters stretched canvas on frame and with fine colors created things of beauty.

At about the same time, another unknown artist made a portrait of Ann Pallard, an old inn keeper, who claimed to be the original settler of Boston. She lived to be over 100 years old. When the artist was called in to do the painting of her, he strove for a true likeness in appearance and personality and they are forcibly communicated in his work. Using simple and homemade techniques, the painter stumbled on art secrets of the future Expressionism.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Newman on Oct. 24, at which time Mrs. Newman will give a talk and show movies of her recent journey to Australia, Hong Kong and various other cities.

The DRC Story

THE POPULATION EXPLOSION
HAS HIT THE HORSE WORLD, TOO

The Quiz Masters.

There are times when I feel as though I am on a television quiz panel. With a growing interest among Michigan sports fans about Thoroughbred Racing, the questions asked are frequent and pertinent.

The one tossed at me most often is: "How many race horses are there in the United States?"

I think the answer may surprise you. You may not realize what a boom there has been in the Thoroughbred World during the past 10 years.

Last season, 38,502 horses went to the post in races at tracks in the United States. This compares with 26,000 horses racing a decade ago.

It takes a lot of horses to conduct a race meeting such as ours at the Detroit Race Course. We have over 1,200 horses stabled on our grounds at all times. We are racing daily, except Sundays, from now through November 5.

There were 17,128 Thoroughbreds foaled a year ago and registered with The Jockey Club. Obviously, not all of them will go to the races, but there probably are 15,000 newcomers each season.

The racing span for most Thoroughbreds extends from the time they are two year olds until they are five or six. There are more durable performers who go on and on, of course. The oldest performers I found among the starters last year were Copper Buster and Agreed. Each is 15 years old.

Race horses are bred in sizeable numbers in 19 states. Kentucky, the long-time center of the Thoroughbred industry, is the leader, with California second and Florida third in the number of foals.

The breeding industry in Michigan is growing, but still is comparatively small. There were 217 foals registered last season. While this total is modest, it still is more than double the State's Thoroughbred production of 10 years ago.

Racing is a Sport of many facets. I think the more you know and understand about it, the more interesting you will find it.

It is our constant aim at the Detroit Race Course to provide you with top entertainment in surroundings of beauty, comfort and convenience.

We have two excellent dining terraces, "The Winner's Circle" and "The Mile Terrace." They offer the finest in food and beverages. From your table, you can follow the racing action every step of the way around the track.

"Ye Olde Tired Horse Pub" is an authentic old English pub, where there is never a cover or a minimum. It offers you delicious snacks and refreshing beverages.

We have Close-in parking for 12,000 cars with Easy-In, Easy-Out entrances and exits off Middlebelt, Schoolcraft and Inkster Roads.

I invite you to visit us soon.

The Distaff Side...

By Jerry Wendt, Women's Editor

While Jerry Wendt is in New York getting her throat sunburned looking at the tall buildings, we have invited or "dared" W. W. Edgar to pinch hit for her. And he accepted. So, for the next two weeks he will have some helpful hints for the ladies.—Ed.

When I was a young lad, enjoying my first exposure to "book learning," our old maid school teacher, possibly cursing the fates that guided her life used to admonish us with this warning—"don't ever over-look an opportunity or shy away from a challenge."

So, when the powers that be called me aside and said, "You have been sitting in for Sue Shaughnessy as the Farmington Editor for the past several weeks, how about doing the Woman's Page column?" It wasn't a question of whether I would accept the challenge. It simply became a matter of choosing the subject.

And, knowing that women are always interested in the problem of weight and excess poundage I'd like to tell you about one of the greatest psychologists I've ever met. He is my doctor.

He doesn't advertise himself to be a psychologist, but I'll let you be the judge.

As I was leaving his office one afternoon some years ago he looked at me and said, "You sure do enjoy life—but you'll enjoy it a whole lot longer if you take off some of that weight." (I weighed 246 pounds at the time).

"I can't diet," I answered, "and, furthermore I can't count calories. I'd look awkward sitting at a table, peering at a card in my hand to see just how many calories there were in each dish I might want."

"That's where you make a mistake," he shot back. "I don't place my patients on diets. I work out a plan for reshaping their bodies with three little rules." (What a psychological approach).

"I'll listen," I told him, "but counting calories is out."

"Forget the calories," he repeated, "for on my plan you can eat as much as you want—with reservations."

"Now, the first rule—"
Here he stopped and asked, "If there was a vial on the table tonight and it was marked "deadly poison," would you try it?"

When I shook my head in the negative he said, "Okay, that's rule No. 1 starting tonight potatoes—all kinds—will be deadly poison."

"Rule No. 2 is a bit tougher," he explained, "but it will be up to you. Rule No. 2 is "don't eat anything made with flour and you'll have to be the judge. Maybe your baker won't like it, but it is an important rule in this reshaping of the body."

"And Rule No. 3 calls for you to limit liquid intake to six six-ounce glasses of fluid a day."

"Remember," he cautioned, "if they weighed your skin and bones you'd go only about 20 pounds. The rest of your weight is body liquid. It only takes a quart each day to lubricate your body, so why have more. You wouldn't give your automobile an over-dose of oil, so why give body more liquid than it requires."

He looked at me for a moment and concluded, "That's it. If you want to re-shape your body, why don't you try it. It will be like playing a game to watch the change and see the weight go down."

He sold me on the idea. I tried it.
Would you believe it, in 18 months I lost 70 pounds on the three simple rules—

- No. 1—no potatoes.
 - No. 2—nothing made with flour.
 - No. 3—six six-ounce glasses of liquid a day.
- There it is ladies. Have fun.
Next week we'll talk about fashions.

Hestand-Acker Wed in Candlelight Ceremony

At a candlelight service in St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Sunnyside, Calif., Judith Lucille Hestand and Curtiss Conrad Acker were united in marriage by Rev. Herbert H. Bartz. A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the bride's home.

Judith is the daughter of Mrs. Lorene Hestand of Sunnyside, and the late George W. Hestand. She wore a lace covered white crepe sheath, fashioned with exquisite long lace sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil was secured by a beaded pillbox hat, and she carried a colonial style bouquet of white carnations and baby roses.

As the color scheme of the wedding was in Navy blue and white with a touch of red, the bride's close friends, Lucille Howard and Janet Lundberg wore Navy blue and white sleeveless sheaths with carnations tied with Navy blue ribbon at their wrists. At the bride's request, the groom wore his U.S. Navy uniform.

The bridegroom's brother, Kim Acker of Garden City, stood as best man; while guests were seated by Lou Nicholson of Chicago, Illinois, a Navy buddy.

Mrs. Hestand wore a beige empire-styled sheath with beige accessories. Mrs. Acker wore a pale-blue linen sheath with white accessories. Both mothers wore white carnation corsages.

Curtiss is the son of Mrs. Marjorie Acker of Garden City, and Harleth Acker of Plymouth. He is a 1962 graduate of Bentley High School. He also completed one year at Eastern Michigan University before his present enlistment.

A brief honeymoon at Carmel, Cal., was followed by a cross-country trip to Memphis, Tennessee where the groom is now in attendance at a Navy specialist school. After his enlistment the couple plan to reside in Michigan.

THE DOORS and windows are closed, for the furnace is running, the leaves are swirling to the ground—and fall is here—ready or not.

EVEN THE WEATHER-MAN cooperated with the Livonia Jaycees last weekend, adding a shining sun to a full day of fun for the Family Picnic.

There were a few minor mishaps. Like Buck Sobolewski's supervising the children's games, and with his little daughters winning most of the races there were cries of "fix."

Pat Duggan has been more successful with unsympathetic juries than he was trying to convince his son that in a race with a bean on a spoon, it isn't considered "cricket" to hold the bean on the spoon with one's thumb.

But in spite of it all, reports have it that "hundreds" of children and their 50 parents really had a wonderful time!

BEST WISHES for a rapid recovery to Livonia's Jackie Thomas of Utah Ave., and Elaine O'Neil of Alpine Drive.

Both ladies recently discarded those stylish hospital gowns in favor of some more comfortable "at-home" apparel, and reports are that recuperation is progressing nicely.

SHIRLEY MCGILL, of Buckingham, and her sister, Kathryn Foley of Detroit, recently took their father, Arthur Liska (who is 80 years young), for a week's tour of some of the eastern states.

It was a trip that afforded a view of some lovely sights, with the real highlights though being the "sight" of various relatives the trio stopped to meet and greet along the way.

JUST HEARING about it makes one want to pack their bag and venture forth... For with the opening of many new "frontiers" during the past few years, Matt and Edith Sherock were able to enjoy many of the pleasures, and see many of the wondrous sights of our fabulous forty-ninth state.

The Sherocks spent about a month, traveling in their truck with a coverall from Five Mile Road to Fairbanks, Alaska. They visited in Duluth, Minn., then headed northwest, seeing the beautiful "bad lands" of British Columbia; a close-up view of the magnificent Mendenhall Glaciers with a 115 foot deep lake surrounding it, a lake that didn't even exist 60 years ago.

They saw elk and moose but no bear, they stopped in Bakersville, an old-time gold mining town, maintained as in the days of old and authentic even in their theatre and its productions.

They traveled on thousands of miles of surprisingly good, well-kept highways; visited a small shrimp cannery; saw many Indians and totem poles; watched salmon swimming up the rapids after spawning season; were amazed to see the fertile Mantanuska Valley (hacked from the wilderness 30 years ago and today filled with fields of flowers and vegetables, containing 58 per cent of all of Alaska's cultivated land.

Boarding an auto-ferry at Haines, Alaska, they began a 30-hour boat trip to Prince Rupert, B. C., and lengthened their "voyage" to four days by disembarking at various points of interest along the way, and "catching" the next steamer southward.

To Edith, one of the most interesting and exciting points of their trip was their successful search for garnets. Hiring young guides, who were armed with guns against bears, and reaching their destination by boat, they "picked" these glittering remembrances of their trip north.

WE UNDERSTAND that "the pain of it all" was eased a bit for Russ Isaac of Blue Skies Drive, when his wife, Marilyn, honored him with a "Life Begins at Forty" party last Saturday evening.

ADDITIONS to last week's list of college-bound Livonians include: Commuters Gary Basset, attending Wayne State; and Ken Choin, who will begin a career in physics at Schoolcraft College.

Beginning classes at the University of Michigan are: Chuck Diedrich, Ron Peal, John Crick, Ann Fredericks, and Engineering majors Tom Doyle and Don Campion; Bill Handon, Physics; Sally Anderson, Mathematics; Cathy Waskins, Home Ec.; and Alan Tokar, Pre-Med.

Jeff Rovin is attending Albion. Cheryl Priest, Ella Laxton and Jeanne Wyllie are up in Marquette attending Northern Michigan University. Mike Priest has begun his junior year at Michigan Tech in Houghton, and Larry Clark is studying Pharmacy at Ferris State, in Big Rapids.

Traveling to out-of-state colleges are: Ken Bowman and Lynn Smith, at Purdue; Fred Sievert studying engineering at Amherst in Massachusetts; Rod Edwards in Pre-Med at John Hopkins in Maryland; and Bill Bolin received an appointment to the Air Force Academy in Colorado.

Our Queen Tells of Recipes For Prize-Winning Goodies

By FAITH GILLESPIE

"Never judge by appearances," they always say.

The trap is obvious. The child with the face of an angel can be an imp in disguise. The placid river may mask a treacherous undercurrent. The luscious-looking peach might be sour inside.

But we judge by appearances anyhow, all the time, in spite of the danger.

I was obliged to do it not long ago. I was the judge for a baking contest at the fall festival in my new community. The judging was based entirely on appearances.

All entries are sold after the judging, the lady in charge explained, and who wants to buy an apple pie with a bite out of it?

Judging the cookies was easy enough, and you can tell by looking at a pie crust whether the pastry is flaky or tough, but I had a little trouble with the cakes . . . fancy frosting and clever decorations can be like beauty which is only skin deep.

But it was fun, and after the ribbons were awarded, I picked out my favorite entries and bought them before anyone else could get at them.

On these, at least, I judged right. They were delicious, every one. I found out who the bakers were; they are delighted to share the recipes with you.

The prize winning cookies were made by a teenager who got the recipe from her neighbor from Columbia in South America. You need to plan ahead, and you need a whole pound of butter, but they are as good as they are beautiful.

CECELIA DADA'S POL-BOROSA (Spanish Cookies):

The day before the baking, melt one pound of butter over hot water. Pour it into a clear bowl or wide-mouth jar, and allow to settle and solidify.

Half an hour before baking, remove from refrigerator and separate the clarified butter from the white sediment at the bottom, discarding the sediment.

Soften the clarified butter at room temperature, then cream it till light and fluffy. Cream in one pound (4 cups) of superfine granulated sugar. (If you have a blender, you can buzz regular granulated sugar in it to make it very fine.)

Add one pound (four cups) sifted flour, stir in well. Then knead the dough till it is thoroughly mixed, smooth and soft. Shape into even little balls, about the size of an egg yolk (about 2 tablespoons). Fork them by hand, place on ungreased cookie sheet, and push gently to flatten slightly. Top with a sliver of almond.

Bake at 350 degrees for about 25 minutes, till a cookie will come off clean; do not allow to brown. Do not remove from cookie sheet till cold, for they will crumble. Makes about five dozen.

The fluted tea cake needed frosting like a lily needs gilding. It is fairly heavy cake, and not too sweet, made from an old family recipe.

ADELAIDE MURRAY'S HOT MILK CAKE: Beat 3 eggs till foamy, using electric mixer. Beat in 1 1/2 cup sugar. Heat 3/4 cup milk to scalding, and melt into it butter "the size of an egg" (Adelaide says, "That's about the size of a medium egg, I guess.")

Sift together three times 1 1/2 cup flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, "and for some members of the family add a dash of salt." Add flour mixture and liquid alternately, beating at medium speed. Add one teaspoon vanilla.

Pour into greased turk's head mold or bundt pan. Bake at 375 degrees for 50 minutes. "Don't let it get too brown," says Adelaide.

The lemon pound cake is one of the best things I ever ate . . . as irresistible as chocolate. It makes one cake in an angel pan, or two in loaf pans.

PUFF HAMPSON'S LEMON POUND CAKE: Dissolve one package of lemon jello in one cup of boiling water. Cool. Beat into one package yellow cake mix (Puff uses Duncan Hines). Add four eggs, one at a time, beating after each addition. Add 3/4 cup Wesson oil and one teaspoon extract, beat well.

Pour into greased and floured angel pan, or two loaf pans, and bake at 350 degrees for 50 minutes. Do not open the oven door till time. Cool to warm, remove from pan, and trim the cake all over with a round tooth-pick; then pour over it the glaze, which you make as soon as the cake goes into the oven, and let stand till it is needed.

LEMON GLAZE: Squeeze the juice from two lemons after you have grated the rinds. To juice and rind, add two cups confectioner's sugar. Stir and let it wait.

Appearances may be deceiving; on the other hand, some things are as good as they look. Try these and see.

LWC Open Drive for Members

It's recruitment time for the Livonia Womens Chorus. The Chorus, sponsored by the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation, is open to all Livonia women.

Women interested in singing with the Chorus, are invited to attend rehearsals at Clarenceville High School, Wednesday evenings at 8:00.

"We're hoping to double our membership this year," says newly elected president, Mrs. Lee Morrow. "Former high school and church choir members are especially welcome."

The Chorus is designed for and comprised of women who enjoy the rigors of concert singing and the fun of musical staging.

Their present music library boasts selections from the comfortable melodies of hit musicals through more difficult classics.

Public appearances are an important part of Chorus activities. Each year they present two formal concerts in addition to appearing before many local and out-of-town organizations.

For additional information call Mrs. Morrow, 427-7417 or membership chairman, Mrs. Kenneth Aird, 427-4346.

MOTHER MARY JUSTINE SABOURIN, R.S.M., Mother Provincial of the Province of Detroit Sisters of Mercy, sits at her desk in the motherhouse of the Province in Farmington Township.

With New Farmington Complex Mother Mary Reaches Pinnacle

Mother Mary Justine Sabourin looked out of the large picture window of her office, surveyed the surroundings and admitted that the designing and construction of the new Farmington complex — Sisters of Mercy Provincialate, Mother of Mercy Novitiate and Our Lady of Mercy High School — was one of the greatest of her career.

As Mother Provincial of the Detroit Province Sisters of Mercy for the past five years, she has directed many major building projects in the Detroit Province. Among them are some of the order's 27 hospitals and the recent expansion of Mercy College in Detroit.

But to her, the new Farmington complex stands alone.

"You can do it only once," Mother remarked. "With hospitals you can profit by mistakes and begin again. But a project like this in Farmington Township comes once in a lifetime."

But despite her thrill and satisfaction it has been frustrating at times to see her community's "home" erected under semi-commercial restrictions. Such things as built-in thermostats, large electrical outlets and alarms are not an idea of home environment to this spiritual leader of 750 Sisters of Mercy in the Detroit Province.

Strolling through the structure one day she was heard to ask the architect, "Gino, do you have a large red fire extinguisher on your kitchen wall?"

"No, Mother," the architect replied, and Mother just shrugged and walked away.

Prior to receiving a Ph.D. in psychology at the University of Michigan two years ago, Mother submitted a dissertation on the aesthetic response to architecture.

In it she wrote, "In planning a project such as the Farmington complex you don't want the aesthetic denied. This is a place of beauty. If I wanted to think and meditate, I would come here. It's big enough to be alone in."

Looking at the long rows of white colonnades which front the Provincialate and Novitiate in a graceful sweep which eventually rises to the dominating, curved roof of the main chapel and give tribute to the aesthetic, Mother remarked, with considerable pride, "I think the whole place has spirituality. It rises naturally out of the ground."

"We've tried to preserve the naturalness," she continued, "and I hope no one ever tries to manicure it. Anything that is close to nature is close to God."

Several years ago Mother Justine was named one of Detroit's Top Ten Working Women.

Commenting on her role as a business woman she said, "I like order and planning."

But I like people far too much to allow management procedures to take precedence over general happiness and welfare.

"I consider it more important, for instance, to invest in the development of the Sisters' native talents than to keep the budget in inviolable order."

Her term as Mother Provincial ends in June, at which time she probably will leave the Farmington complex she planned and watched develop.

"It would be nice to live here another two or three years," she confided, "just to gather loose ends, to assist in the growing harmony of elements inside and out, and to see it become more and more a home for our community."

But even though Mother Justine may leave, one thing is certain... the Farmington complex will always stand as a monument to her planning.

Barbara Mosher Joins Staff at Redford Baptist Church

Miss Barbara Mosher recently joined the staff of Redford Baptist Church as director of Christian Education.

Miss Mosher was born in DeKalb, Illinois, and attended the schools of that city. Her further education consisted of one year at Baptist Missionary Training School, Chicago; three years at Alcorn-Broadus College in Philadelphia, West Virginia, graduating with a Bachelor of Arts Degree; and two years at Northern Baptist Theological Seminary near Chicago, from which she has earned the degree of Master of Religious Education.

Many of her summers have been spent in various activities with a number of nearby churches.

She has helped in Vacation Church Schools, been a counselor for junior high school girls, worked in Schools of Missions, and served as part-time director of youth work.

"Y" Starts Class In Decorations

A course in Holiday Decorations is being offered by the Farmington Area YMCA. Under the instruction of Mrs. Irene MacKinnon, the class will meet for four weeks beginning Tuesday, October 18. The class will meet on Tuesday mornings from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the YMCA House, located on Grand River, just east of Drake Road.

There is nursery service available for pre-schoolers, 2 to 5 years old. Mrs. Bernice Delewsky, a highly qualified and experienced nursery teacher, will work with the children. A fee of $1.00 per week per family will be charged each week for this service.

of the slate and copper roof caps huge curving brick walls that form this unique plan.

Tall and narrow slits of stained glass windows penetrate this subdued interior. The interior will be masculine and rich in warmth through the use of hewn granite, brick and wood.

Although 1300 will attend Mass, the Church is designed to appear intimate by the use of sloping amphitheatre aisles. No one will be more than 70 feet from the sanctuary.

The Baptistry, heretofore apart from the main body of the church, is located directly in the Nave where all will pass and see.

Scheduled for completion next summer, the church will culminate growth beginning in 1959 when Fr. Ferdinand Wolber, Pastor, was directed to begin the parish.

Architect Joseph St. Cyr envisions the Church as a "vital place, the House of the People of God."

Hill and Dale Garden Club To Hold Flower Show Oct. 8-9

The Hill and Dale Garden Club of Farmington will present its Flower Show Oct. 8 and 9 using the theme "Focus on Farmington."

The show will be in Our Lady of Sorrows Church, Farmington, and will be open to the public, Oct. 8 from 2 to 8 p.m. and on Sunday, Oct. 9 from 2 to 5 p.m.

There will be many categories or classes in the Horticultural Section open to the public as long as their plants or specimen are at the church by 10 a.m. on Oct. 8.

A club spokesman said: "It's a well known fact that it's always more satisfying and fun to be a joiner and a participator than it is to be an onlooker so why not bring out those plants you are especially proud of, groom them the very best you know how and take them in and show them off?"

"At least the experience should prove to be rewarding and interesting. For further information on how to enter, please contact Mrs. W. Robert Wichman at GR. 6-1358."

Mrs. John King is the General Chairman of the show with Mrs. Richard Steiger as her co-chairman.

American Motors Puts Emphasis On Safety

A highly-advanced lineup of 1967 cars featuring extensive changes in styling, engineering and performance was introduced today by American Motors.

"These new cars represent an entirely new product position for American Motors," Thomas A. Coupe, vice president of automotive sales, said. "We have combined all-new styling with all-new engineering in our senior lines. There is major emphasis on safety in every model."

Coupe said key features for 1967 include:

- New contemporary styling for Ambassador, Marlin and newly-named Rambler Rebel models, all of which are longer and more spacious.
- Four new optional high-performanc V-8 engines ranging from 200 to 280 horsepower.

- Smart re-trimming of the Rambler American which maintains its compact dimensions.
- A new four-link rear suspension system for Ambassador, Marlin and Rebel models to provide a smoother ride, added stability and great ease of handling.

- An all-new safety steering package which includes an impact-absorbing steering column and a deep-dish three-spoke steering wheel.

In addition to the new safety steering package, interiors are redesigned to minimize projections — including new safety-styled instrument panels with recessed controls and safety padding.

"Safety levels equal or exceed government specifications, making the '67 models the safest and most reliable automobiles available to the public today," Coupe said.

Standard safety features include all-welded single-unit construction, Double-Safety brake system as featured on American Motors cars since 1962, brake system warning light, retractable front seat belts, rear seat belts, four-way warning flashers, padded visors and ceiling, stronger door locks, "lane-changer" position on turn signals, double pivot inside rear view mirror with day-night adjustment and provisions for belt installation.

Coupe said many of the engineering advances found on the new models are the culmination of years of research and development, including completion of an engine program which resulted in all-new sixes and V-8's in a period of less than 30 months.

Seven high-performance engines — three Torque Command Sixes and four Typhoon V-8's — ranging from 199 to 343 cubic inch displacement — are available for 1967. Horsepower ratings range from 128 to 280.

Wagoneer Features Style While Retaining Durability

Smart new styling... distinctive new color fashions... exciting new get-up-and-go performance! Now you can get it all... and with 4-wheel drive to boot... in the 'Jeep' Wagoneer. In front, the Wagoneer features a new, wider grille. In back, new chrome tail light trim and aluminum accent panel. Inside the Custom Wagoneer, there are fresh fashions you'd expect only in sedans that cost much more (and they don't offer the road-hugging traction of 4-wheel drive!)

of Turbo Hydra-Matic, and the Wagoneer is the only 4-wheel drive wagon to offer it.

And with the 'Jeep' Wagoneer, you get duo-serve brakes, variable-rate rear springs, improved steering and clutch operation, retractable front seat belts, electronic alternator and a wagon load of other features... without asking for them.

That's why "Wagoneer" is synonymous with "quality, safety and fashion."

Uninsured Motorist Fund Shows High Solvency—Hare

Livonia area motorists may save $1 on their car license plates if everything goes well.

If the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund continues its "high rate of solvency," Secretary of State James M. Hare said he would ask the Michigan Legislature to consider the possibility of removing the $1 insured motorist fee as well as raising the limits of recovery from the Fund.

Hare heralded the Fund as "serving its intended function well and in excellent financial condition."

"One thing is sure," Hare said, "I'm going to ask for stronger enforcement provisions in the act when the new legislature convenes next January."

Hare pointed to the following figures as leading to his optimistic outlook on the Fund:

- Total collections of $9,328,197 based on $3,723,017 fees of $1 from insured drivers and $60,148 fees of $35 from uninsured drivers as of July 22;
- A payment reserve of $1,081,836 set up to cover 1,093 unsettled claims as of July 27;
- In 1965 when legislation creating the Fund was passed, there was speculation on whether it would remain solvent. To date, although we have only a limited experience with the Fund, I think it will continue in good shape financially."

Hare said that since January 1 when the Fund began processing claims for payment, 119 claims had been paid totaling $53,387.

He underscored as "just as important" the many cases where uninsured drivers have settled directly with their victims rather than face penalties imposed by the Fund.

"The Fund law is one of the most far-reaching and important pieces of driver protection legislation ever passed in Michigan. It was the culmination of 10 years of continuous effort by my office. And I am watching it closely as it represents a major accomplishment of my administration."

Meanwhile, the number of registered uninsured vehicles in Michigan rose to 160,000 at the end of July. Revenue in the Fund is over $9,000,000.

Hare predicted that there would probably be close to 200,000 by the end of the year.

"I'm convinced that there are 200,000 persons driving uninsured vehicles in Michigan," Hare said.

AMERICAN MOTORS' 1967 Marlin fastback is longer, wider and lower than its 1966 counterpart, yet retains its distinctive full-fastback styling and semi-elliptical side window openings. The wheelbase has been increased from 112 to 118 inches, permitting an increase of about six and one-half inches in over-all length of the Marlin. Most of the added inches are in front with the longer hood helping to accentuate the fastback styling. In addition, the new Marlin is four inches wider to provide an important increase in shoulder room and in door thickness.

Toronado Highlights Styling

A new grille, flush-with-the-hood headlight covers, new taillamp styling and optional specially designed sporty-looking wheel discs characterize the 1967 exterior appearance of Oldsmobile's front wheel drive Toronado.

Engineering improvements give the Toronado a smoother, quieter ride with no sacrifice in the car's outstanding handling characteristics. A spring-operated assist device makes it possible to swing the Toronado's doors open with a minimum of effort.

A distinctive horizontal paint stripe is optional. As are bucket seats in the Toronado Deluxe. The Toronado is powered by the 425-cubic-inch, 4-barrel Toronado V-8 engine and features Turbo Hydramatic, power steering and power brakes as standard equipment.

Olds Resumes Public Tours

LANSING. — Free public tours of Oldsmobile Division's main manufacturing plant here were resumed Monday, Oct. 3, announced J. P. White, Oldsmobile's director of public relations. The tours had been discontinued temporarily during model changeover.

Conducted twice daily Monday through Friday at 9:15 a.m. and 1 p.m., the 70-minute tour takes visitors through Oldsmobile's engine parts and engine assembly plants, the pressed metal plant, and the Toronado and regular car assembly lines. Tour guests ride aboard electrically-powered trains.

The tours begin at Oldsmobile's Product Delivery Building, located on the southeast corner of Logan St. and Olds Ave. Parking facilities for visitors are just east of the Product Delivery Building.

Plant tour reservations, either for individuals or for groups, may be made in advance by calling Oldsmobile's public relations department, telephone number 373-5660.

Check All Prices for Low Costs

Although food is usually the largest single expense in a family budget, you can generally reduce the amount you spend for food by...

Checking weekly specials in food store advertisements says Mrs. June L. Sears, Michigan State University Extension Home Economist. Preparing a grocery list before you shop.

Comparing costs and buying food in the form—fresh, frozen or canned—or the weight of the package—that gives the most servings for the money. To make an intelligent choice among brands of the same product, test different ones to see which one gives the greatest quality and number of servings for the money.

Shopping carefully for low-cost foods within each food group.

Using grades in making food purchases. Government grades will enable you to be sure of the quality of the food you buy, and you are then better able to compare prices asked.

Taking advantage of seasonal abundances. Radio, television, and newspapers call attention to foods in plentiful supply, as listed each month by the United States Department of Agriculture. These foods will be at their peak of quality, and sometimes will be offered at lower prices, says Mrs. Sears.

Limiting perishable food purchases to amounts that can be used while they are in top quality.

Preventing food waste by proper storage and by cooking methods that conserve nutrients. Increasing skills in cookery. Considering family likes and dislikes when food shopping. Thrifty food buys pay off only if your family eats and enjoys the food.

Scholarships Available by Dairy Group

The Michigan dairy industry provides about 10 scholarships annually at Michigan State University for study in dairy production, dairy marketing or dairy food science.

Most recent contributor to the Michigan Dairy Memorial Scholarship Foundation was the Michigan Milk Producers Association.

Commemorating its 50th year of service to Michigan's dairy industry, the board of directors voted $8,000 for the scholarship fund, with the annual aid to a student being designated as the "MMPA President's Scholarship".

Only the interest from the foundation fund can be used for scholarships, but this amount will provide full tuition for one student each year.

Don Murrey, MSU Extension dairyman, is the secretary-treasurer of the foundation. Prospective college students can get full information on scholarships by writing him at the Dairy Department, Anthony Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing.

Teen Talent Show Set for Wonderland

A contest open to teens with any kind of entertainment talent will be staged Oct. 15, in conjunction with Wonderland Center's seventh anniversary celebration.

Competition is open to all boys and girls between 13 and 19. A $100 grand prize will be awarded to the top performer.

Musicians, dancers, singers, magicians, acrobats, and other artists are invited to enter the contest, according to Ernie Epps, Wonderland Center promotion director.

Contestants should send complete details, including name, age, address, telephone number and their specific talent to "Teen Talent Contest," Box 2387, Livonia.
