JOHN 'MIKE' HOBEN

Hoben To Head New Senior High

John 'Mike' Hoben, assistant principal in charge of counseling at Plymouth High School, Monday was named principal of senior high No. 2 which isn't even on the planning boards at the moment but which will be opened for students in the fall of 1969.

Acting on the recommendation of Supt. Russell Isbister, who with Asst. Supt. William Harding, interviewed all candidates for the principalship, the Plymouth Community School System Board of Education approved the appointment Monday in a special meeting.

Supt. Isbister, who has been working closely with the Trustees on the future building plans which include an elementary school, a third junior high and a second senior high, told the Board members he thought it advisable to name a prinincipal at this time so that he could work hand in hand with the building and facilities committees and also assist in the selection of a site.

Inasmuch as Hoben, Principal, will be in charge of the proposed new structure, it was Isbister's thought that he should participate in the planning and design and work hand in hand with the School Board and the architects.

Hoben, for years the successful football and baseball coach at Plymouth High, turned away from athletics two years ago to accept the assistant principalship. It was then that he told Isbister he planned to devote all of his attention to the administrative side of the school operations.

Mike had been taking special courses in counseling, psychology and school administration in preparation for the move from sports to counseling.

Thus when Robert Smith, then assistant principal in charge of counseling, took the principalship at Junior High West, Hoben was named his successor at the senior high.

During his two years as an administrator, Hoben has gained statewide recognition for his skillful use of computers in setting up schedules for the entire senior high student body.

Prior to the time he installed the computer system, it had taken the counseling staff weeks to arrange the schedules. With the computers, Hoben has been able to complete schedules for students and the faculty within a matter of two weeks after the close of school in June.

In addition, because of his years of association with students as a coach and teacher, Hoben has enjoyed considerable success in handling problem cases at the senior high with both boys and girls.

It was his understanding of high school boys and his ability to get the most from them in athletics that made him such a successful coach.

Mike was a standout football, baseball and basketball player at Adrian College before transferring to the University of Michigan in the early years of World War II when he was a member of the great Wolverine team that included such Navy transferees as "Crazylegs" Hirsch, Bill Daley and others who played for U-M in the early '40s.

He served four years in the Armed Forces and came out (Continued on Page 6-C)

Highway Dept. Asks Meeting on Freeway

Aware of the controversy in Plymouth Township over the proposed route of highway M-14, officials of the State Highway Department have asked for another meeting with the Township Trustees and Planning Commission to iron out the differences.

M. Tarik Ataman, assistant director of the route location division, Office of Planning, also suggests that the County Road Commission have representatives present in a letter to Township Supervisor John D. McEwen.

McEwen received the letter at just about the same time the Planning Commission asked the State Highway officials to consider a new route. The request came out of last week's meeting during which the Commission spent some time discussing the highway route and the letter to McEwen.

In its letter, the commission asked the State Highway Dept. to consider a more westerly route along Five Mile Road before taking northward swing.

The route, suggested earlier by the Highway officials would have the freeway follow Schoolcraft Road and then cut across a line along Shearer Drive with a cloverleaf at the intersection of Shearer Drive and Sheldon Road.

Then it would have extended south of the Ford Motor Co. plant, diagonally across Ridgewood, splitting one of the Township's better residential districts.

The letter to McEwen makes reference to stories that appeared in the Observer and the Mail, inferring that the reports were in error in saying that State Highway Dept. officials denied statements made in front of the Township Board.

However, the Observer and Mail stand back of the reports and do have the backing of those in attendance at the meetings.

The letter reads: "We have just become aware of stories in the Plymouth Mail and Plymouth Observer dating to almost two months ago. We feel that it would be best if our position on M-14 were made clear to you as well as to other parties concerned."

"The Michigan Department of State Highways is at the present time studying a location for M-14 freeway between Ann Arbor and Livonia. It is expected that this highway will connect to the west with the already built freeway on Plymouth and Ford Roads. To the east we expect the highway to connect to I-96 in the vicinity of Haggerty and Schoolcraft Roads.

Harry F. Wagenschutz, manager of Edison's customer office in Plymouth for the past 10 years will retire December 1 after 42 years of company service.

His successor, Edwin W. Kivela, has transferred to Plymouth in preparation for his new assignment. Kivela had been in charge of the Detroit Edison office in Trenton since 1963 and was succeeded there by Kenneth E. Kemp.

HARRY WAGENSCHUTZ

Wagenschutz, a life-long resident of the area, is active in both the Kiwanis Club and the Chamber of Commerce there, as well as in the Livonia Chamber of Commerce.

He is also the past-president of the Northville Exchange Club, a member of the Citizen's Advisory Committee of Northville and a former member of the Northville Planning and Appeals Board. He is a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville and a life member of Northville Lodge No. 185 F. & A. M.

For the past 43 years, he and his wife, Jane, have made their home at 341 Beal Avenue in Northville. Their son, E. D. Wagenschutz, and his wife, are Plymouth residents, and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Lovett, Jr., live in Novi. Wagenschutz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wagenschutz, and his sister, Mrs. Harry L. Hunter, live in Plymouth.

Kivela, a native of Columbus, was graduated from Fordson High School in Dearborn and later studied at Detroit Institute of Technology and Walsh Institute.

He started with Detroit Edison in the customer service division in 1931 and later was assigned to the appliance merchandising division where he held the post of office supervisor from 1952 to 1955. He worked for eight years as a customer representative for the Detroit-Wayne sales division before being assigned to the Trenton office.

Kivela and his wife, Eleanor, live at 18960 Mayfield, Livonia. Their son, Robert, makes his home in Vermont.

Kemp and his wife, Margaret, who live at 9999 Berwyn in Redford Township, have two daughters, Karen (8) and Peggy (14).

Norm Fischer Featured in Academy Choir

Norman Fischer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fischer, had one of the featured roles when the Interlochen Arts Academy choir, conducted by Dr. Kenneth Jewell, sang the Mozart Mass in C Major.

Fischer Norman had the bass role. The Academy Orchestra accompanied the Choir.

The C. Major or Coronation Mass was selected because it lends itself to the great choral works of Mozart.

TWIN CHECKS for $1,250 and $750 are turned over to Mrs. Jane Devereaux, executive secretary of the Western Wayne County Easter Seal Society, by Loren Gould of the Plymouth Club. From the club donated the larger sum and the balance came from the Plymouth Rotary Foundation.

Don Tripp Heads New School Study

"It takes plenty of planning to get a new senior high school off the ground even though the preliminary plans haven't been started and no site selected.

With that thought in mind, the Plymouth Board of Education and school administration have started working with a citizens' advisory committee in setting up the educational planning for the new high school facility.

The educational planning for the senior high, as well as other school buildings and the selection of sites, will be handled by a committee that includes: Board members, administration staff, citizens, teachers, pupils, custodians, consultants and architects. All will work hand in hand to keep the projects moving at a normal pace.

Donald Tripp, an employee of the Chevrolet division of General Motors, was selected as chairman of the Citizens' Review and Advisory Committee at the initial meeting last Saturday.

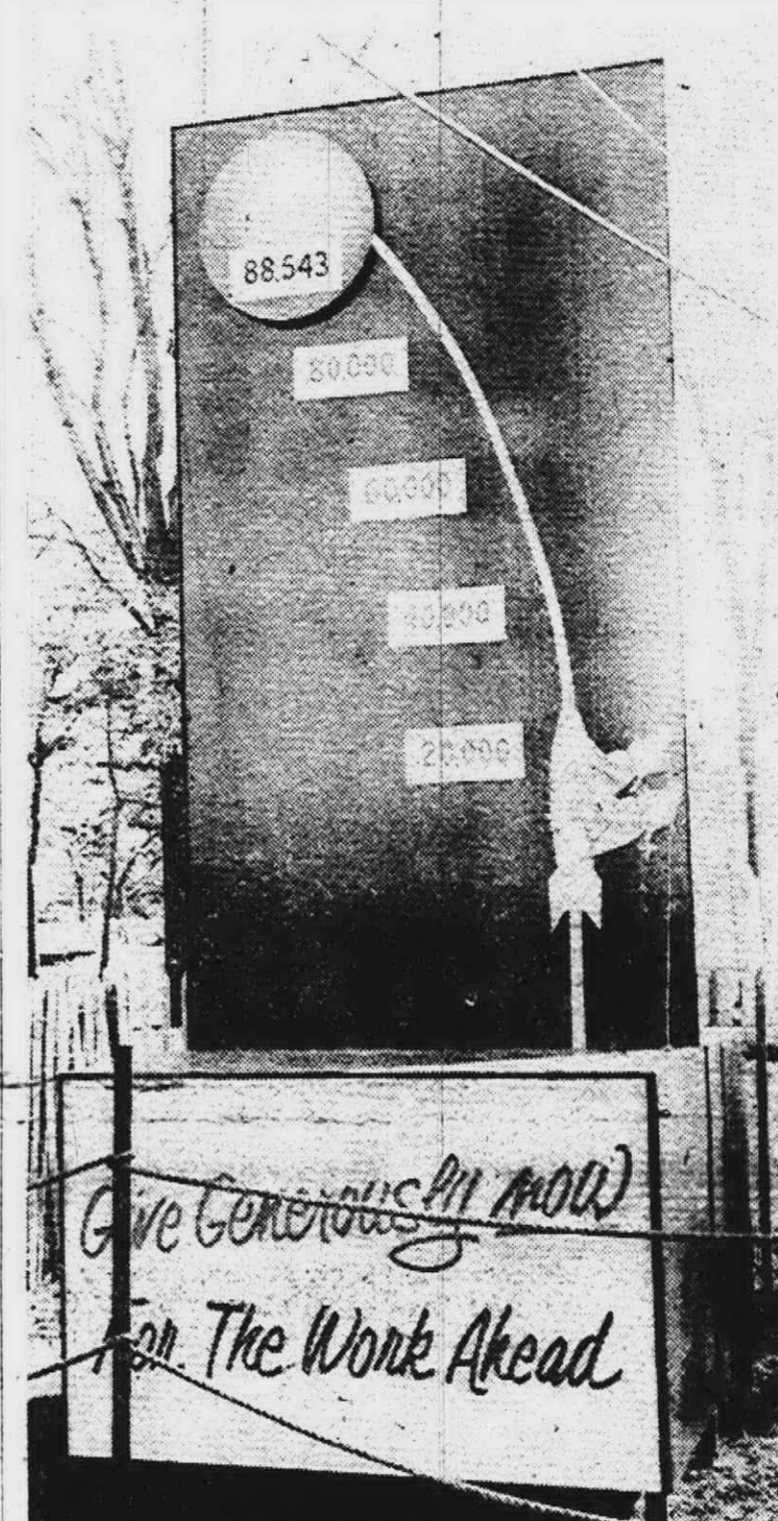

Those in attendance included Chairman Tripp, Carl Pursell, Arthur Gerish, Cal Strom, Rev. Peter Schweitzer, Mrs. Wilma Newton, John DeMott, Mrs. Esther Sprengel, Dr. A. E. Gulick, Price Watts, Robert Sincok, Walter Scott, Wayne Dunlap, Jerry Tally, Clinton Stroebel, Wally West and Wes Kaiser.

From the School Board were: President, Gerald Fischer and Treasurer Bruce Scott.

Executive Committee members included: Supt. Russell Isbister, Asst. Supt. Melvin Blunk, Board members John Moehle, Robert Tripp and Carl Schultheiss and Architect Henry Haberkorn.

Staff steering committee members attending were: Supt. William Harding, serving as chairman; Dudley Barlow, Richard Wagar, Angelo Plakas, Lloyd Leach, John Hopkins, William Grimmer, Heinz Dittmar, John Sandmann, Richard Bearup, Herbert Spring, Mrs. Joyce Totten and Mrs. Bertha Green.

ON THE WAY up is the indicator on the Plymouth Community Fund board in Kellogg Park. With the campaign just 10 days old, the contributions have reached more than $26,000. The drive ends on Nov. 10 with a victory dinner in the Mayflower Meeting house.

Fund Campaign At 29 Per Cent

With the annual campaign underway for 11 days and the deadline on Thursday, Nov. 10, the 1966 Plymouth Community Fund drive has reached only 29.65 per cent of its goal.

That was the report of Assistant General Chairman Eber Readman following a report luncheon at the Burroughs Corporation executive offices. Readman was serving in the absence of ailing General Chairman Edward Schening who has been sidelined by a heavy cold since the torchlighting and kickoff on Oct. 10.

A second report is slated for Thursday noon at which Schening hopes to be able to attend.

Although a bit perturbed by the opening report, which included the $13,500 advanced gifts donations of the kickoff program. Readman urged all division leaders to warn their workers that they must redouble their efforts in the remaining time if they hope to make the goal.

"We did get off to a wonderful start with the $13,500 report from the advanced gifts committee," said Readman. "But the reports since have been a bit discouraging and indicate that there is a lot of work to do from now until Nov. 10."

He indicated Schening hoped to be able to attend all meetings for the remainder of the drive although he had a heavy cold on the night of the torchlighting ceremonies and hasn't been able to shake it.

The reports at the initial meeting included: Industrial, $16,198; Business, $6,223; Education, $779; Professional, $645; Residential, $1,984; Government, $150; and special gifts, $235.

Readman pointed out that the total of $26,214 included the $13,500 advanced gifts and represented less than $13,000 additional for the first 11 days of the campaign.

Boys! Now Is Time to Enroll In Basketball

Registration, for boys in the Plymouth Community between the ages of 8 and 15 for the Junior Basketball program, will begin Saturday morning from 9 to 12 at Junior High East.

Additional registrations will be held on Nov. 5 from 2-4:30 p.m. and on Nov. 12 from 9 to 12 a.m.

The registration fee is $5.50 for all boys. However Director John Van Wagoner points out that no boy will be refused the opportunity to play if funds are not available. A parent must accompany the boy at the time of registration.

Tryouts for the "A" and "B" Leagues will be held on Nov. 12 from 1 to 4 p.m. for all registered.

Van Wagoner stated that league play will begin on Dec. 3 after the teams have been picked.

Ends Boot Training

Marine Pvt. James L. Johnson, Jr., son of Mrs. Doris V. Johnson, 472 N. Holbrook, Plymouth, has graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego, Calif.

Area Police Chiefs Advise Halloweeners, Be Careful

Police Chiefs of the six communities in the area covered by the Observer Newspaper Group Monday issued words of advice for the Halloween trick-or-treaters.

Realizing that many of the youngsters race into the street without regard for traffic in their efforts to get to the doors of homeowners first, the chiefs were unanimous in listing 10 warnings to youngsters.

The advice for trick-or-treaters follows:

1. Wear something white. It shows up better after dark.
2. Don't wear a full face mask. Your vision may be obstructed just enough to make you miss seeing an approaching car.
3. Travel in groups. The lone ghost is prey to the bullies, thieves, and kooks in the neighborhood.
4. Never enter a stranger's house. Accept your treats at the door—not inside.
5. Take a parent along. They may not be too much fun — but they can help you if you need it.
6. Don't stay out too late. Most witches and ghouls go home early on Halloween. Drivers may not be looking for you later in the evening.
7. Cross streets only at the corner. If you want to visit every house on the block, go up one side and down the other. Don't zig-zag back and forth across the street.
8. Tell Mom and Dad and older brother and sister to be careful if they're driving. Other kids might not be as smart as you.
9. Use common sense. Do nothing foolish for the sake of fun.
10. Have a safe and happy Halloween—so you can trick-or-treat again next year.

A MOUNTAIN of JELLO was divided among 27 seven-year olds who were on hand for Wonderland Center's seventh anniversary celebration. The dessert—300 boxes in all—was contributed by General Foods.

Ladywood Plans Jig, Jamboree

Jig 'n Jamboree plans are in full swing at Ladywood High School as the senior class prepares to stage its annual fund-raising project Sunday, Nov. 6 in the school gym.

This year the "country" atmosphere has taken over with the addition of the country store to the games and booths and the chicken dinner.

Under the leadership of class president Cheri Karbon and home room presidents Becky Morris and Kate McCrea, the seniors have laid the ground work for an all-day affair from 12:30 to 9 p.m. They plan to cap it off with contests for prizes which include a color television and a Honda.

The chicken dinner, including mashed potatoes and cole slaw with a jello dessert, will be served from 12:30 to 7 p.m. Tickets are selling at $1.50 for adults and 75c for children. The booths and country store will be open with the games from 1 to 9 p.m.

The idea is the old-fashioned general store, where everything from candy to cakes and breads are sold.

Seniors are selling baked goods and recipes that originated in the countries of their ancestors, to give the store an international flavor. Those working in the store will be wearing old-fashioned dresses.

A white elephant sale is being planned along with dart games, ring-a-duck-duck, and several jarcos. The perennial old folks game will also be played.

Ladywood is located on Newburg Road in Livonia between Schoolcraft and Five Proceeds from the Jig 'n Jamboree are used for the gift of the graduating class gives to the school. Last year's class furnished the conference room.

Two Golfers Get Aces At Independence Green

Norm Potts, manager of Independence Green Golf and Country Club, in Farmington, scored his first ace in 15 years of golfing on Oct. 14. Thomas Duke and Bill Conroy, playing partners, were witnesses to a perfect three-iron shot on the 200 yard, No. 15 hole.

Also scoring his first ace in two years of golf was Dick Bunker, resident of Independence Green apartments. Tim Timpe, of Brookdale Club, watched as Dick's seven-iron hole rolled into the cup.

Unusual Dogs in Show At Livonia Mall Ring

The Livonia Mall is going to the dogs.

The Dog Breeders Registry of Michigan will stage a two day all-breed dog show at the popular shopping center Friday and Saturday. Over 100 show dogs will be on display from 11 a.m. until 9 p.m. both days.

Features will be a Siberian dog sled team complete with sled and gear, obedience demonstrations, show ring performances and dogs doing police work.

The animals will be displayed in the Mall areas of the center. Demonstrations will take place at regular intervals throughout the day in the Crowley and Sears courts.

"This is our first attempt at a full scale dog show and we're confident that it will be of great interest to the general public, as well as children and dog fanciers," said Oscar Kahan, member of the board of directors of the Livonia Mall Merchant's Association.

Shoppers Share in A Pot 'O Gold

'Operation Measles' Huge Success In Suburban Area

SEE, IT DIDN'T HURT. That's what the doctor tried to tell this youngster but the picture shows that he wasn't quite buying what he heard and was more concerned about the impact of the needle. He was one of the hundreds who received Measles shots during the immunization drive Sunday.

It couldn't have been done without people.

The people that made it possible were local people who cared about children. They were the physicians, the pharmacists who prepared the shots with the help of nurses and nurses aids, the nurses who gave the shots.

All this was to aid in the campaign against measles. The death rate from measles is statistically one per 1,000. The drive in this area last Sunday probably saved anywhere from six to 10 lives. Lives of children we know, or even more meaningful, our own child.

Last Sunday the total number of shots given in this area was 10,768. Livonia 3,750; Redford Township 2,106; Plymouth 1,053; Northville 292; Garden City 2,557.

Others involved in helping included the Red Cross, essential in screening the thousands of children and helping prepare forms. The Livonia Lions at Bryant School made "Operation Measles" a project. This service club did everything possible to assist when it was evident authorities were running out of supplies. They helped both the workers and with the lines of people.

The Livonia Police Department assisted in the Livonia area with fast-moving couriers to rush vaccine, going as far as Southfield when local depots ran out.

Cooperation was tremendous throughout the districts with school custodial people and PTA volunteers. In some instances clinics scheduled to close at 3 p.m. stayed open until 5 p.m. to take care of the crowds. All of the volunteers wanted to stay until people stopped coming.

The importance of the clinic, besides the lives it saved, and the crippling injuries that were prevented, was that it was one of the largest undertakings of its kind in the nation. The success of the program now opens the door to a nationwide campaign.

The community effort, and response from parents was so great that in some areas, nurses were grabbed as they came in the door with their own children and put to work. Some nurses worked six hours without stopping for a cup of coffee. Real dedication was the keynote.

The final result of the program, evaluated by the authorities, is that measles as an epidemic has been eradicated.

THIS WAS TYPICAL scene Sunday as hundreds poured through the Measles clinics at various schools in the district for the immunization shots. This picture was snapped at Bryant Junior High in Livonia where the attendance was so great that the clinic ran out of shots three times during the four-hour period. The Bryant crowd practically circled the school.

Mrs. Kaufman Heads Board at Madonna

Mrs. Ira Kaufman, wife of Judge Ira Kaufman, of Probate Court, has been named chairman of the Advisory Board at Madonna College.

Named to succeed W. W. Edgar, in the rotation of the chairmanship, she is the first woman ever to head the Board.

Elected with her to the Executive Committee were: Anton Jakob, vice-chairman, Mrs. Judae Stalmack, secretary, and W. W. Edgar, the immediate past chairman.

Mrs. Kaufman, a leader in the Detroit School System, made her first official appearance as the new Chairman at the annual dinner of the Advisory Board Monday night at Thunderbird Inn, where she directed a fine program.

More than 200 friends of Madonna attended the dinner which now has become a traditional event on the college calendar.

Highlighting the program was the annual report of the President, Sister Mary Danatha, who presented plaques to Arthur Kobierzynski, owner of the Thunderbird Inn, and John Carlo, president of Northville Downs track, for their outstanding contributions to the college over the years.

Traffic Ticket-Fixing Cases Take Opposite Turns In Two Courts

Two turns—in opposite directions were taken last week in the continuing battle arising out of the traffic ticket-fixing case which erupted in Nankin Township in the summer of 1965.

In the Grosse Pointe Municipal Court of Douglas L. Paterson, suspended Inspector Daniel Martin of the Sheriff's Department Road Patrol and five co-defendants were ordered to stand trial for conspiring to fix traffic tickets.

In the Macomb County Probate Court of Francis Castellucci, a hearing concerning a petition to remove Sheriff Peter L. Buback from office, scheduled for Monday, was postponed pending a Nov. 15 hearing by the Michigan Appeals Court.

To stand trial in Circuit Court are Martin, former Nankin Township tavern owner Bernard Ratkos, and four officers of Livonia UAW Local 182, Charles Gillette, president; Louis Lekar, recording secretary, and committeemen Jackie Watson and John Moon.

Judge Paterson, in ruling on the case following a lengthy pre-trial examination in his court, said that testimony showed that there was probable cause shown to believe that the defendants of the charges are guilty. The six will be arraigned on the charge in Circuit Court. Their bonds will be continued.

Sheriff Buback was awaiting his removal from office hearing Monday but it was postponed by the State Appeals Court. Buback's attorneys have asked for a temporary injunction to stop the proceeding and the Nov. 15 hearing will decide whether to make the injunction permanent.

His attorneys claim in a new court suit filed by them that Buback's constitutional rights are being deprived if the removal hearing is held before the disposition of the criminal charges of willful neglect of duty, to be the center of a Circuit Court trial.

Buback was ordered to stand trial in Circuit Court along with his Undersheriff James L. Bommarito. Both were indicted by former Grand Juror Edward S. Piggins.

His summer was spent at Fort Sheridan, Ill.

Circuit Court Trials Await Seven Men

Seven men await Circuit Court trials after being bound over last week by Livonia Municipal Judge James McCann.

Joe B. Collier, 4802 Lincoln St., Detroit, will be tried on charges of uttering and publishing. His bond was continued at $2,000.

Richard E. Aleman, 25, of 3169 Piquette and Joseph H. Holmes, 28, of 8107 Thaddeus, both of Detroit, are charged with breaking into the Livonia Knights Inn. Aleman's bond is $2,000, Holmes' bond, $2,500.

Bonds of $1,000 were set for three Detroit men alleged to have broken into Buy Rite Drugs, 28350 Joy Road, Livonia, on Sept. 26. They are: David J. Coram, 31, of 7453 Beaverland, Robert B. Jones, 35, 7423 Braille and John S. Tavlin, 32, of 8653 Warwick.

Meet Your Carrier

Michael Morgan, the smiling young lad who delivers the Observer in the Heather Hills subdivision at Nine Mile and Drake Road in Farmington, may be launched on a career that will find him playing the role of a mechanical engineer. At least his main hobby is working with and building model cars and boats. And he has had considerable success.

He hopes to be a chemist and is working along that line, but careers sometimes have ways of twisting and his hobby may get the better of him.

A son of James and Dorothy Morgan, 22657 Walsingham Drive, young Michael has been your carrier for more than a year and is in the seventh grade at Our Lady of Sorrows where he is carrying a "C" average.

He has played both football and basketball and hopes, after being graduated from high school to attend Michigan State University.

Easter Seal Society Aids 538 Handicapped

The "Annual Service Report", now being distributed by the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County, describes services given between September 1, 1965, and August 31, 1966, to 326 physically handicapped children and to 212 adults.

Over 4,450 contacts with these individuals or with others concerned with them provided rehabilitation services including: information, transportation, equipment loan or purchases, use of community or agency services, consultation and medical care. 164 children and adults attended club meetings, parties and Day Camp. Twenty-five multiple-handicapped teenagers had 3,124 days of special education classes at the Center.

The Easter Seal Society serves physically handicapped children and adults regardless of the cause of the disability whenever other agencies cannot assist.

Cerebral Palsy accounted for the largest single diagnostic group among those served this year. Hearing handicaps were the next most numerous because of the special Day Camp for children with communication problems held at the Center this summer.

Ivan R. McFaul, Lincoln Park, has been re-elected president of the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County.

Other officers elected are: Elsmere V. Pearson, Redford Township, first vice-president; T. F. Kuckelman, Westland, second vice-president; and treasurer Alfred H. Husse, Dearborn.

Mrs. Jane Devereaux continues as executive secretary.

Other directors elected were: Robert L. Allison, Livonia; Mrs. William P. Calderine, Dearborn; Edwin H. K. Erdmann, Garden City; Thomas Hackney, Plymouth; The Rev. Roger E. Kleinhekel, Rockwood; Harry Wall, Plymouth; Joseph J. Weyn, Dearborn Heights; and The Rev. Robert B. Wildman, Southgate.

Philip M. LaBo, Flat Rock, ywho has accepted the responsibility of general chairman of the Annual Easter Seal Appeal for another year, was also made a member of the board.

Robert Brown, President of Castle Garden

Following an election of new officers at the September Meeting, the Castle Gardens Civic Association announces the Executive Board for the 1966-1967 season: Robert E. Brown, President; Paul Dame, Vice-president; Mrs. Betty England, Secretary; Mrs. Roberta O'Neil, Treasurer; Bill Fajack, Federation Delegate; Al Flamme, Alternate Delegate; Gary Gothard, Publications Chairman.

The Association is making plans for an adult hayride for area residents and friends.

Time and place to be announced at the next general meeting at Randolph Elementary School, (on Norman Street), on Monday — Oct. 17th 8:00 p.m. in the multipurpose room.

John Dufour, Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation, will conduct a question-answer session regarding the progress of park site development in Castle Gardens.

Schoolcraft Approves Plans for Physical Ed Building

Preliminary plans for a physical education plant have been approved by trustees of Schoolcraft College and the board authorized the architect, Eberle M. Smith Assoc., Detroit, to prepare working drawings.

Approval of the preliminary plans came after the board approved several plan modifications requested of the architect in the interests of economy.

Working drawings and specifications are scheduled to be ready for bidding early next year and a start of construction in April. Completion of the 87,800 square foot structure is scheduled for the fall of 1968.

Designed for an enrollment of 4,300 students, the building will enclose a 120 by 140 foot main gymnasium, a 96 by 104 foot auxiliary gym, a wrestling room, gymnastics area, a T-shaped pool, two classrooms for physical education instruction, six handball courts, locker rooms and other support areas.

As designed, the building will permit instruction programs in nine activity areas simultaneously. The main gymnasium will be equipped with a folding partition and will have fold-away bleachers to seat approximately 2,500. Seating for 400 will be provided in the pool area.

Schoolcraft has been conducting its physical education program, including intramural and varsity athletic activity, in leased facilities and other off-campus areas since the college opened in 1964.

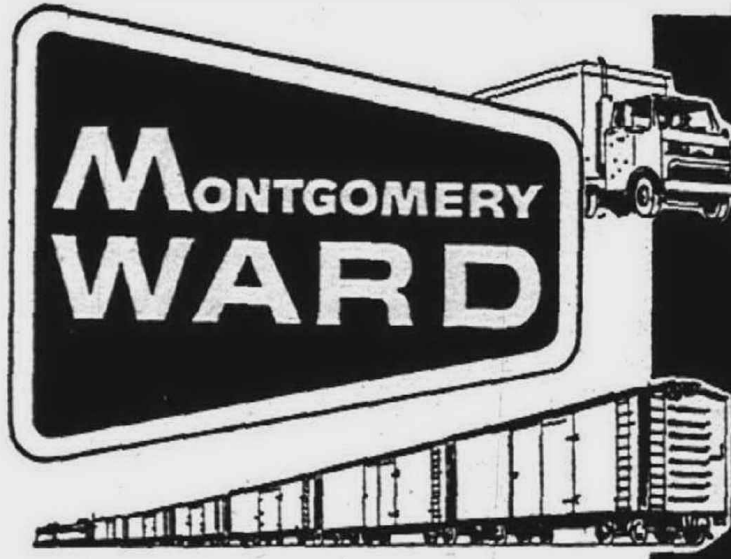

Not included in the gymnasium construction project, but part of long-range planning for the college, is development of a range of playing and activity fields on the campus.

College officials have applied for state and federal construction grants to supplement local funds in financing the education building, which is estimated to cost $1,900,000. Local funds will be provided from a $3,000,000 building program bond issue sold earlier this fall.

The gymnasium is one of two major construction projects planned by the college in its 1966 building program. The other is a 34-classroom liberal arts building designed by Farmington architectural firm of Ralls-Hamill-Becker.

The classroom building is scheduled for a construction start early next year and completion by fall, 1968. Federal and state construction grants have already been approved for the building and will supplement local funds.

Changes Make More Eligible

(Any questions concerning social security will be answered by Mr. Test through this column. Send your questions to this newspaper.)

According to Sam F. Test, district manager of the Northwest social security office, disability payments under the social security law are no longer limited to persons with permanent disabilities.

Test said he feared many people were not yet aware of a change in the social security law under which you may be eligible for benefits if you have a disability that is expected to last 12 months. Previously you could get benefits only if you had a disability that was expected to continue for a long and indefinite time, or result in death.

Test pointed out that formerly many disability claims were disallowed because the impairment, although severe, was not expected to be of long and continued duration. Any mental or physical impairment that is totally disabling and is expected to continue for as long as 12 months meets the requirements of the definition of disability under the new law.

According to Test, the work record requirement has not been changed. A worker must still have worked under social security at least five years out of the 10-year period just before the date the worker became disabled in order to qualify for disability payments. It is not necessary that the five years be continuous.

Twenty calendar quarters of work performed at any time during the 10-year period, even though they are scattered or intermittent, will meet this requirement. Any person who has an impairment that meets these requirements should file a claim with his social security office.

Test said the social security office has a free booklet that explains the new law fully. Just ask for Booklet OASI-29. You may write or call the social security office located at 18500 Grand River, telephone 272-0080.

Urge Parents to Instruct Children in Bus Safety

With the opening of schools, the Greater Detroit Safety Council, a chapter of the National Safety Council, suggests parents teach their children the following rules about the use of school buses:

Leave home in plenty of time so that you don't have to rush to catch the bus, but don't leave so early that you'll have to wait more than five minutes.

Wait well off the roadway. Don't distract motorists.

Stay well back until the bus comes to a full stop. Use the handrail on boarding. Take a seat and remain seated until the bus comes to a full stop at your destination.

If there are no available seats, stand holding onto two seats, one with each hand.

Comply promptly with instructions from the driver and from your school bus patrol, if there is one aboard. Keep books and packages in your lap or under your seat, never in the aisle.

No loud talking or active play. Quiet conversation is all right except at railroad crossings, where the driver must listen for trains.

Don't do your homework or eat your breakfast on the bus.

Never stick your head or a hand or elbow out of a window. Leave the bus quickly and quietly without crowding or shoving, and don't linger at the loading zone.

Cold Packs Valuable In Giving First Aid

The cold pack, or ice bag, often is a useful tool in first aid. When and how can you use it?

In many cases application of cold helps to minimize swelling, inhibit bleeding, reduce excessively high body temperature and relieve pain. Says Today's Health.

Cold applications, especially ice, have an anesthetic effect. They may be helpful in cases of nosebleed, bleeding from minor cuts such as razor blade nicks, sprains, bites and stings of insects, minor burns and heat prostration.

Cold applications tend to inhibit bleeding by constricting the small blood vessels in nosebleeds and persistently oozing minor cuts.

Applications of ice water alleviate discomfort from insect stings and bites, and may delay the chemical action and circulation of poison injected by the pest.

Immediate application of cold compresses to sprains lessens swelling. Such applications should be continued for at least half an hour before the sprained limb is bandaged or otherwise supported.

temperature associated with heat prostration, the entire body should be sponged freely with cool water until temperature returns to tolerable level.

Immediate immersion into ice water of a body part that has sustained a minor burn controls pain and possibly reduces tissue damage.

General Motors Sales Increase

General Motors dealers in the United States sold 138,904 new passenger cars and commercial vehicles in the last 10 days of September. This compares with 99,642 in the same period last year.

Included in the 1966 figure were 118,753 passenger cars and 20,151 commercial vehicles, compared with 79,249 passenger cars and 20,393 commercial vehicles in the same period in 1965.

The third period of September figures included only two days of sales of 1967 model Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile and Buick cars, which were introduced Sept. 29.

Cadillac 1967 models were in showrooms on Oct. 6.

Is Safety Publicity Behind Drop in Toll?

Auto Club Seeks Answers to Decrease in Road Deaths

"An encouraging Michigan highway mystery" which began in June is continuing this fall, Automobile Club of Michigan's General Manager Fred N. Rehm reports.

"A 25 percent increase in traffic deaths from February through May over 1965 was cut to 12 percent in June," Rehm said. "From July through October 9 there has been a nine percent decrease compared to 1965. This is in the face of a two to five percent increase in traffic volumes, Michigan's biggest tourist season in history, and steady increase in fatalities across the nation."

This statement appears in a 14-page report "Portrait of A Holiday—Part 3," just released by Auto Club after an on-the-spot investigation of each Labor Day weekend death in Michigan, and a summary of findings of Memorial and July 4 weekends.

"Nobody can say for sure what has caused this decrease in deaths since June," Rehm said. "But part of it must be due to the largest amount of safety publicity in the press in history this summer, plus increased emphasis on safety by police and motorists themselves."

Six of the 39 persons who died Labor Day weekend on Michigan highways might be alive if their cars had been equipped with safety items which are standard on the 1967 models, and they had used them, Rehm added.

"There is no way of knowing for sure, but one driver might have been saved by a collapsible steering wheel," said Rehm. "And five others might have lived if they'd worn seat belts. Certainly many would have survived with shoulder harnesses."

"But when a car traveling over 75 miles an hour hits another car or a fixed object, no safety device known could save anyone," Rehm said. Two cars on Labor Day weekend were traveling over 100 miles an hour and three others 75 miles an hour or more, when fatal impacts took place.

Almost half the drivers involved had these characteristics in common: male under age 30, single-car mishap, driving too fast, drinking too much, not wearing seat belts, close to home, not on holiday.

Most of the findings from Memorial (43 deaths) and July 4 (27 deaths) weekends were reconfirmed in this study. They include:

Twelve, or almost half, were single-car mishaps, with probable cause falling asleep, driving too fast or a combination of these and drinking too much.

Almost 80 per cent of the drivers involved were within 25 miles of home, not on vacation. The widely held belief that taking an overnight or longer trip with the family on a holiday weekend is dangerous has been completely disproved by these studies.

No evidence shows any victim had seat belt fastened. Seven cars were definitely not equipped with seat belts. Seat belts which were not used would have saved a number of lives.

No obvious mechanical defects were found in any of the vehicles involved in fatal crashes. None has been found in any of the 109 deaths. Three cars had poor tires which could not have directly caused the accident. Average age of vehicles involved was 5.4 years. On the other holidays it was 3.2 years and 3.8 years respectively.

The 10 worst drivers involved had an average of 10.2 points according to their driving records in the Secretary of State's office. In most cases this includes more than two years. This compares with 26.0 on Memorial weekend and 15 on Labor Day weekend. Even 10 is much worse than the average driver ever gets. One driver had 23 points and eight convictions, seven for speeding, since December 9, 1960.

"We believe the unprecedented publicity given to drivers with poor records just before Labor Day weekend either kept these motorists off the highway or made them drive safely for a change," Rehm said.

Young and inexperienced drivers are involved in far more fatalities than they should be in proportion to their numbers. Five of the 39 drivers were age 17 through 19. Heavy drinking appears involved in 40 per cent of the weekend's fatalities. This compares with 50 per cent Memorial weekend and 52 per cent July 4 weekend. Our investigations indicate that at least 15 fatal drivers on Labor Day weekend had consumed enough alcohol to impair their driving. Extremely heavy drinking appears to be involved in more fatalities than on the other two holidays.

Sixteen of the 28 accidents happened on two-lane, hard surfaced roads, five on freeways, one on a four-lane highway and six on city streets. None can be said positively to have been caused directly by traffic engineering or road construction deficiencies.

motorists drove about 500 million miles safely on Labor Day weekend," Rehm said. "They should be commended for their good driving. All should not be blamed for mistakes of a few."

"We think this study is not only unique but definitive," Rehm said. "But laws cannot be made just for holidays and safety programs must be designed for 365 days of the year. So we will wait until the 205 total July and the 182 August deaths have been analyzed by our traffic men.

"After careful study, we will then have a comprehensive set of recommendations which these findings show us are necessary in enforcement, engineering, law changes, education. We will pursue them vigorously," Rehm said.

13 Artists to Display Skills at Schoolcraft

Work by a group of 13 artists and craftsmen, most of them from northwest Wayne County, will be shown in an invitational exhibit at Schoolcraft College Nov. 1 through Nov. 11.

The exhibit will include ceramics, metal and jewelry, sculpture, and textiles, and will consist largely of work entered by the artists in the Michigan Craftsmen 66 show at Grand Rapids, earlier this fall. A number of the individual ceramics pieces to be shown at the Schoolcraft show won awards at the Grand Rapids exhibit.

The ceramics display will include works by James H. Powell, Farmington, whose raku jug took the first place award at Grand Rapids, and by James R. Black, Schoolcraft College instructor, whose wrapped form won the second place award, at the same show.

The ceramics section will offer pieces by Richard E. DeVore, Cranbrook Academy of Art instructor; Mrs. Pat Bauer, Whitmore Lake; William Case, Plymouth; Mr. and Mrs. Gwayne Dart, Wayne; John P. Glick, Farmington; and Pat St. Cyr, Livonia.

Metal and jewelry pieces by David Carroll Mulligan, Garden City, and Kenneth Frank Rose, Livonia; a group of sculptures by Ruby Ann Glick, Farmington, and a selection of textiles by Mrs. Jessie Hudson, Plymouth High School art instructor, will complete the exhibit.

Wayne Dunlap, chairman of the humanities division at Schoolcraft and director of the exhibit, said a public reception for the exhibitors will open the 10-day show at 8 p.m. on Nov. 1. The gallery is in the lower level of the Waterman Campus Center.

Exhibit hours are from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily.

Livonian In MSU Program

EAST LANSING—Kenneth E. Calkin, a teacher in Livonia schools is enrolled at Michigan State University this fall as a fellow in a pioneer program of government-sponsored training for elementary teachers.

A grant of $192,000 to the university's Science and Mathematics Teaching Center is making the "experienced teachers fellowship program" possible. Official sponsor is the U. S. Office of Education.

All of the participants—25 fourth, fifth and sixth grade teachers with at least three years experience—will take four full terms of study here.

Dr. Frederic B. Dutton, professor and director of the center, will direct the year-long program. Its purpose, he says, is to give the teachers "graduate training and practice in the best instructional techniques for that level."

Similar programs are being conducted on 50 college campuses.

OLD MACDONALD had a farm at the Livonia Mall last week and thousands of children and adults jammed the Mall to see the live animals jammed in the real life farmyard setting. Most popular section of the farm was the egg factory with its conveyor constantly guiding the freshly laid eggs into egg crates as its volume counter kept track of the production in backward fashion.

1,000 Additional Units Available This Year

Ford to Provide More Driver Ed-Cars

Ford Motor Company expects to provide 1,000 more driver education vehicles for behind-the-wheel instruction of students during the current school year than it did in the 1965-66 term.

"Because driver education is an integral part of traffic safety, the company has improved its program under which vehicles are made available to high schools," said Fletcher N. Platt, Ford traffic safety and highway improvement manager.

Under the revised plan, driver education units no longer will be required to be ordered specially but can be delivered from dealers' stocks. The change will improve availability of vehicles at the beginning of school terms and allow the driver education instructor more latitude in his scheduling, Platt said.

In addition, driver education coordinators have been designated at all Ford and Lincoln-Mercury Division district sales offices to assist school administrators in obtaining driver education cars and a wide range of other driver teaching aids available from the company.

With Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers expected to provide an additional 1,000 vehicles this year, the number of Ford-built driver education vehicles in use during the 1966-67 school year should exceed 7,000.

Ford and its dealers have provided driver education cars for some years to school with approved on-the-road driver education courses.

Township Takes Bids for Sewers

Bids for bonds have been taken for two sanitary sewer projects in Farmington Township amounting to a total construction cost of $510,000.

The projects in question are the Grand River Homes sewer and the Richland Gardens Subdivision from Middlebelt to Hamilton. More than 800 homes will be serviced when the project is completed.

Approval from the State's Metropolitan Finance Commission has just been granted to the Township for the Richland Gardens No. 3 project from Hamilton to Oxford. The $140,000 facility will service about 150 homes.

Completed or almost completed projects in the Township include the Parkhill Sewer at 12 Mile and Orchard Lake Rd. and the Kemberton Park Sewer at Purdue and Colgate. Both of these projects are about 75 percent completed and ready for use.

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE in Michigan's auto and truck license plates this year as shown by Robert Dwyer (left), manager of the Secretary of State's office in Plymouth. Dwyer shows Paul Livingston (center), candidate for State Senator, and a clerk from the office that the 1967 commercial plates do not carry the inscription "Water Wonderland." The commercial plates are on sale now and the automobile licenses will go on sale Nov. 1.

The Teachers Speak

Needed: New Money Sources

By Frank Kovacich, Director of Public Relations Livonia Education Association

It's time for tax reform in Michigan! No one needs to explain this to a typical Livonia homeowner. He has long had to bear the burden of ever increasing property taxes so that a quality education program could be maintained for his children. Time and time again, he has increased the millage rate to a point where it is one of the highest in the State of Michigan.

The present school revenue situation is not good, in spite of rising real estate values and new industrial expansion. As long as current methods of school financing exist, the property owner will continue to pay even more in years to come. He definitely needs relief but will not get it until some kind of reform movement develops throughout the state.

One of the arguments for reform is that few Michigan school districts have residents who are willing to pay the higher property taxes required to maintain quality education with increased enrollments. Some communities repeatedly reject tax requests, causing an even greater inequity in the amount of money spent per pupil among the various school districts.

Increasing state aid has been forthcoming, but only enough to partially offset rising costs and growth problems. An even greater effort must be made, and only the state government can handle the task of designing a tax package that will result in the reduction of property taxes and finding more equitable methods of increasing revenue.

Right now, a "grass roots" movement is needed at the local level. Support for such a movement is coming from many organizations, especially those affiliated with the Michigan Education Association.

Livonia Man Gains Fame Nationally

National recognition has fallen on Livonia resident Gene Smith through an advertisement for General Motors which has been appearing for the past several months in numerous widely-circulated publications.

Smith, who resides at 9837 Camden, is an electronics analyzer for the Cadillac Division of General Motors.

The advertisement, appearing in the October issue of Reader's Digest, shows him as a child in 1927 when he got the radio bug and then a picture of him today with an armful of electronic equipment

It tells how he started by building a crude crystal set and continues:

"Then, he rebuilt a set operated off his father's car battery. Next a plug-in set, one of the first in the neighborhood.

"And radio was a big part of his life in the U.S. Navy where he served as Radio Technician, 1st Class.

"And then, in 1953, Gene Smith joined the Cadillac Division of General Motors and set up the Test Instrumentation Application Section.

"Today he heads up a crack team of technicians responsible for the accuracy of test equipment that helps make Cadillac the leader among luxury cars."

Mel Palmer, Kiwanis Head

Livonia Lions Club elected their president at their annual meeting held at the Livonia Penthouse on Oct. 12. Current president William Wallach announced other officers are: Robert Cassidy, President Elect; Edward Brockett, Second Vice-President; Ike Stevens, Secretary-Treasurer; and Board of Directors Dow Tunis, Frazer Galamore, and Don Pfeifer. Inauguration ceremonies are scheduled for Jan. 18, 1967.

Guest speaker for the meeting was Harold Wright, Lt. Governor designate, who reminded the attending members of their duties and responsibilities as Kiwanians.

Bentley, Trenton Battle for Flag

They say in sports that every game is important. As far as Bentley high is concerned, everything boils down to just one contest — Friday night when Bentley hosts Trenton.

starts and four of them in Suburban Six League action, has wrapped up a share of the conference championship.

to the Belleville 25. Belleville promptly drew a 15-yard penalty and on the next play Coleman tossed to Rick Dudzinski in the end zone for the touchdown.

But Bentley, standing 3-1, has a chance to gain a share of the flag. To do so, the Livonians MUST win Friday.

A tie will not help Bentley. Bentley, the defending Suburban Six champs, kept on rolling last Friday with a 28-6 win over Belleville while Trenton knocked over Plymouth, 38-7.

It was Coleman's seventh completion in 14 tries and coach Larry Joiner of Bentley calls his quarterback "one of the finest in the area."

It's Trenton In Breeze Over Rocks

There was no "backing in" last Friday night as Trenton High wrapped up at least a share of the Suburban Six League championship.

In running its overall season's record to 6-0 and boosting its league standing to 4-0, Trenton disposed of Plymouth in easy fashion, 38-7.

The Rocks, now losers of five straight after winning their season's opener, never were in contention. Their one touchdown came in the last period after Trenton had piled up a 38-0 lead.

All that now stands between Trenton and an outright title is Bentley this Friday night. A win or tie will sew up undisputed honors for Trenton. If Bentley wins, the teams will share the crown.

Paced by the brilliant running of Lance Scheffler, who scored three times and picked up 135 yards in 17 carries, Trenton tallied once in the first period and four times in the second to take a 32-0 halftime edge.

The rest of the game was pretty even as each side made one touchdown in the closing half.

Trenton marched 69 yards for its first counter with Scheffler carrying eight of the 12 plays, including the TD run from a yard out.

Early in the second period Scheffler went over from the two and then Jack Eldridge tallied from the four after Trenton had recovered a fumble on the Plymouth seven.

Ken Saren took charge for the fourth Trenton touchdown. First he broke loose for 35 yards to the Plymouth 11 and moments later he barged across from the three.

With two seconds left in the half, Eldridge picked off a Plymouth pass and ran it 45 yards into payland.

In the third period, Ron Roder of Trenton had an 86-yard TD gallop wiped out because of a clipping penalty which set Trenton back to its own 10. But this didn't take any steam out of Trenton.

Keith Patterson roared up to the 33. Then, after Eldridge lost seven trying to pass, Scheffler cut through and behind perfect blocking dashed 58 yards to finish the Trenton scoring.

Plymouth eluded a shutout on a neat pass covering 56 yards from Mike Cederberg to Ron Lowe late in the game. Dave Prochazka converted.

MSU Alumni Club Views Grid Movie

The Michigan State Alumni Club of Metropolitan Detroit held a Quarterback Session at Livonia Knights Inn Monday night, October 10, with some 40 alumni and friends in attendance to see movies of the recent Michigan State-Michigan football game.

Included among the honored guests were Mayor and Mrs. Harvey Moelke.

Host for the event was Frank Palamara of the MSU Alumni Office. Burt Smith, Assistant Athletic Director at Michigan State, narrated the film and answered numerous questions about the present and future Spartan teams.

A short business meeting followed, with special emphasis on re-activating the Western Wayne County Alumni Club, which comprises over 2,500 MSU graduates.

The next scheduled meeting in this area will be at Livonia Knights Inn, 29703 Seven Mile Road, on November 21, when the MSU-Notre Dame game film will be shown at 8 p.m. The meeting will be open to the public.

2 Late TD's Kayo Hopes at Farmington

Close doesn't count in sports . . . and Farmington High's football team found that out last Friday afternoon.

With five minutes remaining on the clock in the final period, Farmington held a 19-7 lead over Walled Lake.

The more rabid fans at Farmington already were starting to dance. If the score could stay the same . . . or even if Farmington could just win . . . it would mean the Interlakes League title for the Falcons and also the swelling of Farmington's unbeaten-untied streak for the campaign to six in a row.

But Walled Lake wasn't ruffled by what the clock showed.

In bang-bang fashion, the Lakers blasted over two touchdowns, won the game, 21-19, and now the title belongs to them, barring a major upset this coming Friday evening.

Seldom has Farmington suffered a tougher defeat in its glorious athletic past.

There were no alibis from coach Bob Mistele.

"They just wore us down," explained Mistele. "The game was 47 seconds too long."

Mistele noted that the Lakers boasted a front wall averaging 210 pounds to Farmington's less than 180 . . . that Farmington is the smallest school in the league, except for new Stevenson, that, Walled Lake, for example, has twice as many students as Farmington.

"Everything considered, we turned in a great job," added Mistele. "I just feel sorry for our boys. But next year will be different."

Mistele admitted he had fears for the Farmington defense willing in the later stages.

"So many of our boys just have to go both ways," the coach pointed out.

Ironically, the failure of two conversions proved the difference . . . and thus cost Farmington a share of the crown.

Walled Lake struck first in the game and went in front,

7-0, but Farmington came back on a scoring pitchout to Chris Norton.

The missed point left the score at 7-6 for Walled Lake, but not for long.

Farmington's spread formation attack then produced a pair of aerial touchdowns. On the first it was Ed Snyder to Chris Brown for nine yards.

The second bomb saw Snyder fire 30 yards to Norton.

Now it was 19-7 for the Falcons and as the clock ticked away, Farmington's chances for a victory never appeared brighter.

But Walled Lake put on a 65-yard march midway in the last period. With Gus Maragos the chief tormentor to Farmington, the Lakers swooped in to score on a two-yarder by Maragos with 4:40 left.

The conversion was good, but Farmington still sat pretty with a 19-14 lead.

Walled Lake gambled on the following kickoff and tried an inside kick.

The strategy paid off with the Lakers recovering on the Farmington 40.

From there Walled Lake drove the rest of the way with Maragos hitting for the winning touchdown for two yards out with 47 seconds remaining.

Maragos was pretty much of a one-man gang for Walled Lake, carrying 30 times for 144 yards. Farmington's aerial circus produced 155 yards on nine successes in 17 attempts.

Clarenceville's high school country team lagged well behind last Saturday in the Wayne-Oakland League championship run won by West Bloomfield with 51 points at Marsh Bank Park.

Milford had 85 points, Bloomfield Hills 86, Holly 90, Clarkston 98, Brighton 157, Clarenceville 176 and Northville 186. Bruce Evans of Bloomfield Hills was the individual winner in 10:32.8.

DEPARTMENTALIZING A SPORTS COLUMN:

SYMPATHY: Imagine finding yourself in the shoes of Mrs. Robert Mistele last Friday evening as she prepared to serve dinner.

There was hubby with a long face.

Son Bret, too, wasn't in the best of spirits.

Mr. Mistele, you see, coaches the football team at Farmington high which was beaten in the final 47 seconds by Walled Lake in the "game-of-the-year" for the Interlakes League title.

Bret plays defensive end and fullback at North Farmington high school. The North Farmington team also lost, bowing to Birmingham Groves.

Mrs. Mistele went about her duties. It was tough trying to smile.

What happens three weeks hence when Farmington battles North Farmington?

"Well," she says, "at least one side of the table probably will be happy."

The best thing that could happen for Mrs. Mistele would be for Farmington and North Farmington to play a tie.

A FINAL SALUTE: The sports world turned out the other afternoon to say goodbye to Bob Swift, the best acting manager baseball has ever boasted.

Greats of the past and present sat in the funeral home near Detroit's downtown. Easy to recognize were Hal Newhouser, Dizzy Trout and Billy Hoelt of days gone by with the Tigers.

Youngsters of the modern era like Mickey Lolich and Bill Freehan came, too.

Very little we can say at this hour would match the magnificent words penned by Joe Falls, Pete Waldmeir and the others about a guy who did a job that perhaps was more appreciated by his bosses and those who worked for him than those on the outside—meaning the fans.

WELCOME BACK: Mentioning Joe Falls in the previous paragraph reminds us that Joe's boy, Bobby, is back playing for Farmington's East Junior High in football. And that East rolled to an easy victory the other afternoon.

Collegians Keep On Winning

There's no stopping the Schoolcraft College cross-country and soccer teams.

Both entered the final week of action Monday with unbeaten records.

Coach Tony Rizzo's runners added to their perfect record last week by scoring 69 points to beat out Flint 64, Alpena 75, Lorain 85 and Auburn Hills 118 in a five-school meet held in Flint.

Dan Ryan, ex-Franklin High, and Howard Studemann, formerly of Plymouth High, ran one-two for Schoolcraft, despite the fact they lost themselves briefly on the three-mile course at one point.

In soccer, it was Schoolcraft over Concordia, 6-1, and Oakland, 2-0, to make it seven straight wins without a loss.

Joop Doorn bagged three goals for the third time this season against Concordia while Wilson Greer, Paul Hartge and Basen George tallied one each.

Doug Morrison fired in the first goal against Oakland late in the first half and Doorn sewed up the tilt with a straight-in blast with seven minutes left.

RALLY COMES TOO LATE

Bad Start Ruins Raiders

Sports, as life, produces its puzzles. And, as far as Coach Ron G. Holland of North Farmington high's football team is concerned, he still is trying to figure out what happened to his Raiders in the first half against Birmingham Groves last Friday afternoon.

Before Holland and his charges knew what had hit them, they were down, 19-0, at the intermission.

Then Groves struck again to make it 26-0 before the tide of battle reversed itself and the Raiders rallied with three touchdowns and were stymied in another bid in the final few seconds as they wound up a 26-21 loser.

"It's hard to figure out our first-half defensive troubles," explained Holland. "True we had a couple of bad punts and Groves turned both into touchdowns. Then they hit on a passing bomb . . . and that netted another touchdown."

But Holland had to be proud of the way the Raiders didn't give up. Many teams facing a 26-0 deficit would have quit on themselves. North Farmington didn't.

Groves had gone on top, 6-0, in the first period when Woods scored on a short pitchout from the two. Then it was Hamilton from the 2 on another plunge. To finish the half, Rafferty drilled a 32-yard scoring pass to Hamilton.

Right after the third period began, Groves added another TD when Deshler scampered in.

North Farmington here rallied its forces.

A long pass from Norm DeCorcy to Rick Copp covered 17 yards and put the Raiders on the scoreboard.

Not long afterward, defensive end Don Geha picked off a Groves' pass and scampered for a touchdown from 25 yards out.

In the fourth period it was Steven Heyn on a dive off tackle and when Mark Fuller booted his third conversion of the game. North Farmington had pulled within five points of a tie.

Two minutes remained when North Farmington regained the ball. The Raiders moved well . . . got to the Groves' 21 before giving up the pigskin. That was the game.

DeCorcy had a fine day passing, making 11 out of 21 for 121 yards while Groves' Rafferty clicked on eight of 19 for 97 yards.

In rushing, North Farmington moved 146 yards in 39 carries while Groves picked up 190 yards in 54 tries.

DeCorcy also led his mates on the ground with 47 yards.

in 10 carries. Roger Schamanek went 45 yards in 10 tries while Heyn lugged 33 yards in 10 calls.

Bright Spot Emerges In Grid Loss

A bright spot for the future! This helped to offset the 24-13 loss Stevenson high suffered at the hands of Waterford last Friday night.

The bright spot? He's quarterback Jerry Detter, a tenth grader, rushed to service after regular QB Tom Parker, an eleventh grader, was forced to the sidelines with an injury.

Showing no signs of fear or nervousness, Detter took to the air a la a Johnny Unitas or Bart Starr.

He pegged the ball 25 times and completed 12 for 179 yards. One of his heaves was good for a touchdown, another set up the first Stevenson score.

"This kid must help us in the future," declared Stevenson coach Jack Riordan.

Most of Detter's tosses went to Dale Wendell who made some flashy grabs.

Considering the fact that Stevenson loses no gridders through graduation after the end of the 1966 season, the indications are that the school is heading for some happy moments on the football field in years to come.

It was Detter to Wendell on a 30-yard toss that paved the way for Dan Keith to slam over from the two for Stevenson's first touchdown. Randy Johns made the conversion.

Then it was Detter to Dave Mastny on a 17-yard TD bomb in the third quarter to finish the scoring for Stevenson.

The Livonian team picked up eight first downs and added 61 yards rushing to the 179 gained through the airways.

The absence of Paul Pender, star runner, obviously hurt the Stevenson ground attack. Pender has been sidelined with an injury.

TWO AGAINST ONE: A pair of Stevenson high gridders gang up on Herb Schreiner to make sure he doesn't make much headway on an end sweep.

TIME'S FLEETING: The horse racing season over at Middlebelt and Schoolcraft roads has just another few days to go. Specifically, the curtain drops a week from Saturday.

From every standpoint this has been a great year at the DRC . . . the best of all time.

Even before the '66 campaign ends, the officials at DRC already are working to make certain that 1967 turns out to be greater.

Knowing how E. E. (Dale) Shaffer, the DRC president, does things, you can bet now that the track will scale to new heights in '67.

One wishes the other bets around the DRC were just as safe.

GET THE SUITCASE READY: The puncher of these typewriter keys has one of those hectic weekends on the horizon . . . down in Fort Wayne, Ind., Friday with the Pistons against the new Chicago Bulls . . . back at Detroit's Cobo Arena Saturday night when the Pistons meet Baltimore . . . then to Montreal on Sunday night for the Pistons' initial clash of the season with the western division champion Los Angeles Lakers.

WHY NOT? It'd be nice to see Livonia's three high schools set up a round-robin football schedule in which Bentley meets Stevenson and Stevenson faces Franklin in addition to the already set battle between Bentley and Franklin.

We know that the school authorities in Livonia object, but some one of these days thoughts ought to be given to having all of Livonia high schools in the same league, especially after the fourth high school becomes a reality.

ORCHIDS: To the job men like Bob Leggett and Tony Rizzo are doing around Schoolcraft College in building up a sports program.

Making athletics tick in a community institution, such as Schoolcraft is, never is easy. Consider the battles they have had, the University of Detroit, Wayne State and other colleges located in the heart of big area where most students reside at home.

Yet, at Schoolcraft, the coaches, administrators and athletes themselves appear to be winning the battle.

The fact, of course, Schoolcraft has a winner in soccer and cross country naturally helps—a great deal.

Titles Eyed By Franklin, Thurston

An outright title, a co-championship or nothing as far as being a kingspin is concerned!

This is what could happen for both Thurston and Franklin this weekend as the curtain drops on the Northwest Suburban League schedule for 1966.

Going into the closing round of conference action, Franklin and Thurston find themselves tied with Groves—all at 3-1.

Something must give between Franklin and Groves because they clash head on at Groves Friday night at 8. The next afternoon at 2, it'll be Thurston vs. North Farmington at Thurston.

The "ifs" are intriguing: 1—The Groves-Franklin winner could rule as undisputed kings if North Farmington ties or beats Thurston.

2—Similarly, if Thurston wins and Groves-Franklin ends in a tie, it would be Thurston on top by itself.

3—Should Thurston win, it would share first with the victor of the other game.

Both Thurston and Franklin roared to easy victories last Friday. While Thurston blitzed Oak Park, 34-6, Franklin swamped John Glenn, 39-7.

Thurston rolled up 258 yards rushing and added 77 more on the ground in crushing Oak Park. Meantime, the Parkers were held to a meager 15 yards rushing and 71 in the air.

Reg Barringer was the big reg for Thurston as he carried 20 times for 175 yards and in addition tore off the game's scoring gem when he scooted 65 yards for a touchdown.

Thurston began the scoring in the first period when quarterback Barry Simescu slipped over from the two to climax a 40-yard march.

Early in the second period, Jim Lytle of Thurston broke through to block an Oak Park kick and the ball rolled out of the end zone to give Thurston a 9-0 half-time bulge.

Came the third period, Randy Ault barged over from two yards out. Then it was Barringer on a 65-yard gallop.

Humphrey did a noteworthy job. So did his players against Robichaud high last Friday.

Unfortunately, East succumbed by a 25-20 score.

"But I have to be proud of these kids," said Humphrey. "The boys really played well and we gave Robichaud a real run for their money."

The game was as wide-open as the score. Robichaud rushed for 320 yards in the contest. All of the yardage came on the ground. The Inkster team didn't try a single pass.

East piled up 268 yards on the ground and 85 yards more passing.

"It all goes to show that statistics can be deceiving," explained Humphrey.

Sorrows Nears Perfect Mark

A perfect regular season... and then the Second Division championship!

These are the goals which now are so near for Our Lady of Sorrows' high school football team.

Six straight wins in as many starts — the latest conquest a 40-0 romp over Nativity last Sunday afternoon — have placed Sorrows in position to wrap up an undisputed sectional flag, along with an unblemished slate by beating St. Rita at Hazel Park next Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

It also is a certainty, too, that Sorrows will represent the Northwest section of the Catholic League in the post-season playoffs because Sorrows has beaten St. James, which could share the crown if St. James wins Sunday while Sorrows loses.

Sunday's finale at St. Rita also will afford Cliff LaFond, the Sorrows' crack halfback, a chance to approach the 100-point mark for the second straight year.

... this is what LaFond accomplished.

1—Ran for three touchdowns on gallops of 38, 48 and 39 yards to bring his 1966 TD total to 13 or 78 points.

2—Totalled 212 yards rushing in nine carries.

3—Caught one pass for 14 yards.

4—Did the kicking for Sorrows and sailed one of his boots 50 yards.

Frank Walsh and Tim Horner combined to hold Nativity to just 38 yards rushing in the entire game.

Frank Barber, a 5-7 sub, came in to recover a fumble and intercept a pass.

Sorrows led, 7-0, after the first quarter despite the fact the team had the ball only once in the period while Nativity reached the Sorrows' nine, only to wind up back on the 24, thanks to a tackle by Stan Pyle.

A spectacular 81-yard pass- run play from McGrath to Tom Audette put the Sorrows team on the scoreboard and Dave Hickey quickly added the points.

McGrath's interception, followed by LaFond's 38-yarder, made it 14-0 at half-time.

In the third period LaFond ran 48 to score, then dashed 39 yards to set up a McGrath to John Allen scoring thrust for 25 yards.

LaFond raced for his final TD on a 39-yard dash to make it 33-0, after which he kicked 50 yards to put Nativity in trouble from which the losers didn't recover. Sorrows quickly got the ball and Hickey scampered over from the five and Mark Hartwig added the 40th Sorrows point.

Overall, Sorrows rushed for 314 yards on the ground and picked up 120 yards more in the air.

Meantime, St. Agatha dropped a 28-13 verdict to Ypsilanti St. John's. Mike Wleznak passed to Dennis McKenna for 20 yards and the first St. Agatha score.

Then it was Paul Turpin on a 35-yarder to account for the second St. Agatha TD.

But, it was all in vain for the undermanned Township team which has been hard hit by injuries in recent weeks.

FIRST FANS: Robert Gallimore, who is bidding to break virtually every riding record in the Detroit Race Course's book has a strong home rooting section. Here the star jockey is shown with his wife, Sandra, and their two children, Steven Todd who is 1½ years old, and Robert Scott who is 4½.

RU Harriers Seek Crown

Redford Union high's powerful cross country team goes after honors in the Suburban Six League and in the Class A regionals this week.

Unbeaten in dual-meet conference action, RU will be favored for the league flag to be decided Wednesday afternoon in Cass Benton Park, which also will be the scene of next Saturday morning's regionals.

Redford Union made it 5-0 in dual meets last Friday by running over Plymouth, 19-45, as Jack Shepherd took individual honors with Ron Mazurek and Mike Borg close behind.

The win over Plymouth came after RU had captured the Clarenceville Invitational with 65 points. Thurston followed with 88 points.

Then came Wayne 90, Bentley 124, Farmington 140, Garden City East 146, Plymouth 210, Franklin 228 and Garden City West 239.

Shepherd also was the individual winner in the Invitational, followed by Bruce Evans of Bloomfield Hills and Doug Norris of Garden City East.

Clarenceville Eyes History on Gridiron

Only once in the history of Clarenceville high school has its football team finished with a winning record.

That was in 1955.

Now 11 years later, it appears the Trojans again will finish over .500.

With three games left on the schedule, coach Ralph Temby's team stands 4-2 with a 3-2 record in the Wayne-Oakland League.

No longer the low men on the totem pole and occupants of the W-O cellar, Clarenceville turned in another fine effort last Friday in beating West Bloomfield, 13-7.

The passing of Dave Wilson featured the triumph. Wilson flipped to Larry Martin for 15 yards and Clarenceville's first score, then he hit Jim Amick on a 30-yarder with 4 minutes left to break a 7-7 deadlock.

In all, Wilson fired 15 times and hit seven times for 111 yards to go along with 147 yards rushing the Trojans amassed in 40 plays.

On the ground it was Dave Kaipio with 49 yards in 13 tries and Mike Nye with 39 yards in 13 carries who led the Trojans.

Even a bad break couldn't stop Clarenceville from connecting on its winning touchdown.

A blocked punt set up the first marker for the Trojans and they went in from 27 yards with the Wilson-Martin strike covering the final 15 yards.

West Bloomfield got even on a 10-yard pass from Bob Brennan to Pat Windy.

Then with time running out in the game, Clarenceville went to work.

Taking over at midfield,

Wilson shot a 20-yarder to Nye and followed with a 10-yarder to Amick.

On the next play Nye roamed down to the West Bloomfield 10, but the officials caught the Trojans holding on the 15 and the ball went back to the 30.

Wilson wasted no time finding Amick in the clear and that produced the touchdown that won the game.

Next Friday finds Clarenceville shooting for its fifth win when the Trojans invade Holly.

Star Hurt, RU Falls To Parkers

The secret to what success Redford Union high school has enjoyed in football this season is its passing attack.

Also, the running that quarterback Glen Davis can mix in with his aeriels.

Davis was on the ailing list last week. He had a bad shoulder and sore ankle, which explains in part why Redford Union dropped a 27-7 decision to Allen Park.

The all-league quarterback of a year ago did see some service, but he was not at his all-around best.

This was reflected in the fact that Davis and Richard Ridell connected on only nine of 34 passes they threw in the entire game.

What's more, three of their aeriels were intercepted and three times RU gave up the ball on fumbles.

"Six turnovers in any game are far too many," explained coach John Rogers of the losers.

Allen Park, meantime, boasted a fine passing game of its own in Dave Makins and Jim Fanto. They clicked for a couple of touchdown aeriels and kept Redford Union on its heels all evening.

The only RU touchdown came on a short pass from Davis to Bjerke in the third period after Allen Park had taken a 20-0 lead.

RU was close in first downs, making 11 to the Parkers' 12. In yards rushing, the Parkers had 241 to RU's 198.

10 More Days Left To Go Before Year Ends at DRC

The Count Down is on for the greatest season in the 18-year history of the Detroit Race Course.

The multi-million dollar Livonia track moves into its final 10 days of its 1966 season with three major features yet to be decided.

Two stake events are on the DRC program Saturday. They are the $12,500 President's Cup and the $15,000 Autumn Handicap.

The President's Cup is for three year olds and up who are Michigan-breds and will be raced at a mile and one eighth. The Autumn Handicap is for three year olds and up will be contested at a mile and one sixteenth.

Then on closing day, Saturday, Nov. 5, the program will be headlined by the $25,000 added Auld Lang Syne Handicap.

The late season racing has been spiced by the brilliant riding performances of Jockey Bob Gallimore and the bids for national leadership by owners and trainers at the DRC.

The 27-year-old Gallimore, enjoying the finest season of his career, is on his way toward breaking virtually every riding record in the DRC book.

In 1957 Johnny Sellers rode 100 winners during the DRC meeting. It was never threatened seriously until Gallimore came along. Now Gallimore not only figures to top the Seller's record, but to extend his mark well beyond it.

Going into the final portion of the DRC meeting, Gallimore had the phenomenal record of winning with 24.8 per cent of his mounts and placing 58.1 per cent of all the horses he has ridden in the money.

Gallimore has ridden three winners on eight occasions this season. Twice he had four winners and once, on August 23, he rode five winners.

While Gallimore has made a run-away of the jockey's race, Dewey Smith, who trains the large string of Detroit T. A. Grissom, and Robert L. Irwin, who conditions the M. H. Van Berg horses, were in a tight battle for the trainer's championship.

In addition to their DRC battle, Smith and Irwin both rank in contending positions for national honors. Smith currently is second to Lou Cavalaris, while Irwin is in third place.

Van Berg and Grissom are running head-and-head among the DRC owners. Both seem likely to break the previous record for purses won in a season.

Glass in Frames Shuts Out Wind

If you need a windbreak for the yard but don't want to shut off a view, consider a glass wall. Double-strength glass can be mounted in heavy Douglas fir frames to do the job and, as long as the framing is well constructed, there's little danger of glass warping and breaking.

Around a pool or patio, the glass wall is a most attractive accessory, especially when used fence-style as a background for a bed of annuals or ground-hugging greens.

If there's any worry about sun glare, use lightly tinted glass, a bronze or gray, staining the pressure-treated fir framing to complement the glass color.

Realtors to Hear Of Market Outlook

A look at Detroit and environs in the 21st century and a birds-eye view of present real-estate market conditions throughout the five-county metropolitan area will be two important features of the third annual Realtor Forum on Thursday, Oct. 27.

Dr. Constantinos Doxiadis, internationally renowned authority on urban development, will provide an analysis of the metropolitan region's future growth in "The Developing Urban Detroit Area."

Doxiadis' firm, with offices in Athens, Greece, and Washington, D.C., is currently engaged in a long-range research project here, in collaboration with Wayne State University and the Detroit Edison Company.

Eleven "minute men"—one from each of the 11 Realtor boards in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw and Monroe counties—will supply a spot check of current real estate activity and forecasts of the immediate future for the entire five-county area.

More than 1,000 Realtors and others are expected to attend the half-day Forum, in the Hillcrest Country Club, Mt. Clemens, starting with breakfast at 8:30 a.m. and lasting until shortly before noon.

Also on the program will be Ron F. Kohl, general supervisor of the residential sales division of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company. In a talk entitled "Who Killed Horatio Alger?", Kohl will discuss the importance of salesmanship in the American free enterprise system.

Because of widespread interest in the subjects to be discussed, the general public for the first time has been invited to this year's sessions. James B. Grant, general chairman, announced.

Tickets to the Forum must be purchased in advance. They may be obtained from any Realtor office or local real estate board.

Sponsor of the Forum is the Metropolitan Detroit

Council of Real Estate boards, of which Harold A. Meininger, Royal Oak Realtor and past president of the Michigan Real Estate Association, is chairman.

The 1966 Forum committee, in addition to Grant, includes co-chairman Fred E. Sheldon, program chairman Earl G. Keim, co-ticket chairmen Frank Ingram and Milton Weaver in charge of minute men.

Boards belonging to the Metropolitan Council include: Ann Arbor Board of Realtors, Birmingham Board of Realtors, Dearborn Board of Realtors, Detroit Real Estate Board, Down River Board of Realtors, Macomb County Board of Realtors, Monroe County Board of Realtors, North Woodward Board of Realtors, Pontiac Board of Realtors, Rochester Board of Realtors, Western Wayne-Oakland County Board of Realtors and the Michigan Real Estate Association.

Hamilton Wins 2 Awards at LAA Meeting

Two "Awards of Excellence," top honors of the Life Advertisers Association, an international group of life insurance advertising and public relations executives, were given to Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Company of America, at the association's annual meeting in New Orleans.

Hamilton earned its awards in the consumer-newspaper advertising and external sales promotion categories.

The awards were presented for a set of three ads presenting significant developments in the 2½ year-old firm's progress, and for a specially-designed Client Service Program initiated this year to promote personalized customer relations.

The LAA award is the third national recognition given the Client Service Program since May. Donald P. McClurg, Director of Advertising-Public Relations and official convention delegate, received the awards.

CLARENCE Hinchey, former school superintendent of schools in the Wayne School district, is now associated with the Plymouth office of the Earl Keim Realty Co. as a sales representative. He is an active member of Wayne Club and has been active in all civic affairs in that community.

Of All Things: A New Use For Diamonds

Little things in all walks of life, from milady's eyebrows to nerve ends in surgery, are being picked up these days by diamond-tipped tweezers.

The diamonds aren't the kind you find in engagement rings. Rather, they are industrial diamond grit, microscopically tiny, and bonded to the jaws of tweezers.

Hobbyists find the tweezers especially handy to hold the minute parts of model assemblies or the wires of a hi-fi kit. Stamp collectors use them to keep fingerprints off precious issues.

The fair sex find they grip the tinnest unwanted hairs. Diamond grit isn't used to glamorize the tweezers. It's used because diamond is the hardest substance of all.

Each particle, if viewed through a microscope, would be seen to be a crystal, with knife-sharp edges.

A thin layer of them, fused to the tweezer tips, give superior gripability.

And, since such a minute quantity of the mineral is required, one of these precision tools costs no more than a good briar pipe.

Screen Will Shield Yard's Cutting Bed

Do you love the easy upkeep and cool beauty of a green garden, but want flowers for use indoors? The answer is a separate cutting garden concealed behind a pretty screen of vertical western red cedar louvers.

Arrange a small bed of greens in front of the screen to incorporate it into the overall garden plan, or espalier a tree against it.

Paint Fruit Trees To Avoid Trouble

If you see a fruit grower painting the trunks of young trees with a white paint, don't think he's ready for the psychiatrist.

This fruit grower is just trying his best to produce some home-grown apricots for your table.

Michigan State University researchers have found that painting the trunk of young apricot trees with latex-based white paint helps keep the southwest side of the trunk from becoming very warm on sunny days in late fall and winter and then suffering because of night-time freezes.

Alternate freezing and thawing injures the bark and wood and permits wood-destroying fungi to gain entrance and cause a large canker.

MSU scientists warn orchard men against using oil-based paint containing turpentine or oil which would kill or seriously injure the trees. White-wash formulas were tried but will not last throughout the winter and will give inadequate coverage of the trunks by late January.

Led by Stanley Johnston, who developed the famous Haven varieties of peaches, Michigan State University horticulturists have made considerable progress in developing apricot varieties that are adapted to Michigan conditions.

Two Michigan varieties, South Haven 6 and Curtis, are now available for planting from Michigan tree nurseries. Horticulturists however, suggest planting a limited number of trees as they consider apricot growing in Michigan still in the trial stage.

A new Michigan State University publication, "Exten-

Wife's Salary Determines FHA Loans

The FHA, in deciding that the income of a working wife shall be considered in granting FHA-insured home loans, has officially recognized what working women and their husbands have long known: The working gal's paycheck does count.

Last year the nation's remodeling business hit the $13-billion mark and, says the Tile Council of America, women purchased 89 percent of all the remodeling materials sold at retail stores.

working wife is here to stay. baby and then returns to her job is the rule rather than the exception.

Besides buying clothes and personal accessories, working women spend a large portion of their pay on their homes, says the Tile Council. Most such expenditures are for things that make living easier.

These include self-cleaning ovens, remodeled bathrooms and kitchens with easy care ceramic tile floors and walls, dishwashers, automatic clothes washers and dryers.

The type of purchases she makes indicates that working women are as determined as women always have been to make their homes beautiful, modern and comfortable.

Automation and changes in her social status have allowed the working wife to be an active contributor to purchases for the home.

The FHA's recent decision on working women's income further indicates that the

Wally Roberts GOING UP CURTAIN

Little news items like autumn leaves have been fluttering silently but steadily on my already over-crowded desk. Time to get the fleshy rake that looks somewhat like my gnarled hand to sweep the debris into an open wastebasket or carefully digest the theatrical tidbits for subsequent reporting.

An attractive brochure from the Performing Arts Department of Cass Technical High School in Detroit states the director of their department is a Livonian, Pierre J. Renner, 28543 Lyndon, is in charge of a most ambitious program of productions: "Thurber Carnival" (Nov. 17-18),

Speaking of assignments, Jake Rumpf was given the task of shaping up the fall Plymouth Theatre Guild play, "The Marriage-Go-Round." Jake over the years with the Guild has been an actor, set constructor, scenery painter, prop man, curtain puller. Well, you name it and Jake has had the job.

Play of the Month series subscription orders are being accepted in Ann Arbor this week. The six plays being presented by the Professional Theater program in Ann Arbor are worthy of your attention: "The Royal Hunt of the Sun" (Nov. 14-15), "Luv" (Dec. 13-14), "The Lion in Winter" (Jan. 31-Feb. 1), "Porgy and Bess" (Feb. 17-18), "After the Fall" (Mar. 6-7), "The Odd Couple" (Mar. 29-30).

Wayne State University Players opened their 1966-67 season with a nostalgic production of "Take Me Along." Jacqueline Turri sang beautifully and gave the role of Lily real depth. Paul Marchese ably filled the comic shoes of Jackie Gleason, who played Sid Davis in the Broadway production. Greg Larkin and Rick Olaszewski turned in strong performances.

The APA production of "We Comrades Three" still remains somewhat muddled. Even the assistance of Helen Hayes could not rescue long stretches of this Walt Whitman spectacular. Richard Baldrige took Whitman's "Leaves of Grass," a vibrant, powerful piece of writing, and tried to adapt it to the stage.

At times the adaptation worked. Too often the lofty language was far too round and sonorous for the minuscule confines of the Lydia Mendelssohn stage. Perhaps this show should be left for the wide-screen and cinematic tricks of the Cinerama process. I'm quite sure that Charlton Heston would love to play the rugged, stormy Walt.

School Parents and Buses

One of the first things that school administrators learn is that whenever budgets have to be cut, don't touch the bus system. The reason is fairly obvious. The school bus is probably the most tangible evidence a taxpayer has that he is getting something for his money.

The parents are assured that their children won't have to walk long distances in cold and rainy weather and cross heavily traveled highways.

But the Wayne Board of Education, whose district includes most of Westland, has summoned all of its collective courage and decided several weeks ago to cut back the level of bus service to its students. The reason behind that move was simple—money. The bus service reduction was just one part of the slashing of the budget and programs which eventually totalled $558,100 out of an $11 million budget.

But the fact that there is a reasonable cause for the bus reduction has nothing to do with the emotions of parents whose children have to walk up to two miles to get to school.

The past reasons that "I walked a longer distance than that to school when I was a youngster" and "It didn't do me any harm" are not valid anymore. In the old days, horse traffic was more dangerous than auto traffic and the cars available then weren't enough in number to present any large degree of public danger to school children.

The board has a point in that the budget had to be cut—especially in view of the voters' rejection of two tax increases within the past five months.

But the parents of the children who will have to walk to school when they previously bussed also have a point. Money can't buy back a leg, arm, or life.

It seems that somewhere between the two positions, an equitable and reasonable solution will be reached—and The Observer after reviewing previous bus controversies in other communities, believes that the parents will win.

To rephrase a popular saying, "Hell hath no fury like parents whose children will not be driven to school on a school bus."

The "Untouchables"

Letters to Editor: Brighter Future From "Dim" Past

Editor:

The issue of street lights seem to bring out the ire of a community "minority" who are more interested in saving a few dollars annually than seeing the overall good accomplished for all to enjoy.

It is these same people who routinely leave their wife and families home while working overtime or enjoying a so-called regular night out. Would these families not feel safer to have street lights, as well as the family pet, to ward off window peepers?

The "minority" are too busy to volunteer service in civic or public affairs, instead their best efforts are directed toward criticism of progressive community ideas or those who do serve to make our city and communities a better place in which to live.

Major law enforcement agencies have information which proves that there is up to an 85 per cent crime reduction in areas where street lighting prevails.

"Yes," I do support street lights and the good they do—not because they might raise my taxes or would be located on my property, but because:

1—I believe they are in the best interests and safety of my community and its residents;

2—They will act as a deterring force against the ever increasing menace of local vandalism; and,

3—They will also discourage further attacks upon our children and adults.

The board of education has declared its support recently for the street light concept, and likewise our city council, through some civic association requests, is also supporting such a growing need.

Should we not as parents and citizens of a growing Livonia wake up and unite behind our local social and civic groups to support that which until recently was left out of the local building code—street lights for all.

Thank You, Mr. Farnum OPEN LETTER TO CONGRESSMAN BILLIE S. FARNUM:

As spokesmen for the Slatkin Country Homes Estates Section # 2, we would like to thank you on behalf of our entire group for your untiring personal efforts to secure equal mail service for the citizens of Livonia.

Without your assistance, it would have been almost impossible to reach an early and amiable solution to what seemed to be an insurmountable problem. It is most gratifying to know that we are represented by such a loyal and dedicated public servant in our nation's capital. You and your fellow congressmen are to be commended for your collective efforts which have resulted in the restoration of door-to-door delivery service and the elimination of a public service inequity in our mail system.

As a citizens group interested in good government, we hope that our efforts may have been, in a small way, instrumental in bringing about a reasonable solution to the national mail problem.

With a great feeling of pride and accomplishment, we would like to say "Thank you Mr. Farnum" for a job well done and may you continue on in your endeavors to promote sound legislation and good government.

Opposes G.C. Judge Candidate's Idea

Editor:

Credit must be given to Huey Long when he stated, "If you're in politics, tell them what they want to hear, as long as it sounds good, even though it's impossible."

In one local newspaper, Charles Lowe, candidate for Garden City Municipal Judge states, "The Code of Teen Age Ethics that I am purporting would not be enforceable by law, but would be morally binding as rules set up by teenagers themselves, working through the school system and local PTA's."

In the other local newspaper, Lowe advocates "establishment of a school for parents, when all other means fail."

Having just completed a good deal of research regarding the word "Ethics," I've almost come to the conclusion that it might be necessary to edit a new so-called "Political Dictionary."

Within the past month, I've attended a "Meet Your Candidate Meeting" where I was informed that the letter "E" in ethics stands for economy and the "T" stands for something else and so on down the line.

To get back to my original point Lowe advocates a school for parents when all other means fail. True, there are many delinquent parents and these so called delinquent parents usually end up with delinquent children. It would be interesting indeed to hear the reply Lowe were to receive if he tried to tell the delinquent parents of a teen age delinquent to attend a so called school for delinquent parents, particularly so since "this also in most instances, is not enforceable by law."

The self labeled "Frat," "Grease" and "Mods" in today's teen age groups represent not only the teenagers themselves, but also the financial status and or moral approach and position to the teenagers' parents.

The establishment of a Teen Age Code of Ethics is in keeping with my opening statement, "If you're in politics, tell them what they want to hear, so long as it sounds good, even though it's impossible."

The Ten Commandments were given to man by God for all to comply with as a guide to eliminate moral decay. To pass on a new type of "Ethics," enforceable not by law, but "under the rules set up by teenagers themselves, working through the school system and local PTA's is, in my opinion, the usurpation of the authority of God, the clergy and the parents themselves.

Since this new code of ethics is not enforceable by God, it is not enforceable by law, but by the teenagers themselves, I can only add, "The road to hell is paved with good intentions."

Two Streaks In Month

The Detroit Tigers had two six-game winning streaks in June last season.

OBSERVING the Scene . . .

By MYRA CHANDLER

There is absolutely no connection between two thoughts plaguing me this week.

One is how we get conscientious voters to realize the importance of first acquainting themselves with the qualifications of a judge candidate and then voting for him. How indeed?

And how do we get culturally appreciative cosmopolitan residents out to see a delightful satire brought to Bentley High School in Livonia through an amazing coup pulled by the Livonia Entertainment Guild.

The production is live drama and is brought to the boards by the Court Players. It is an excellent production of "Harry, the Rat with Women." They only perform in the Kresge Court at the Institute of Arts—but somebody knew somebody and so they are coming to Livonia. It is really a funny, spritely change of pace from Saturday night at the movies; a testimonial dinner at Roma Hall, or popcorn and pa by the fireside.

The downtown group is testing our suburbia to see how "mod" we are and if we are at all "Harry, the Rat" production will be the "in" thing for Saturday night. To make it more interesting, "adults only," please.

Now, back to the judges—there is one that is haunting me personally that I am sure you will not overlook if you have met him. His name is Meyer Warshawsky—and he is not insisting on this reporter's support, but he certainly does insist on telling his story and his philosophy.

What really bothers me is the dedicated citizen and lawyer just doesn't have enough time. For he intends to tell his story to everyone from the man in the street to the man on top of the flag pole—and he will shinny up the pole to do it. Nothing daunts him.

Another lovable characteristic of the candidate—he is telling his background, his qualifications, his philosophy — he is not knocking his opponents because "the Supreme Court Bench is one of dignity and people everywhere must respect not only those who are elected to serve, but also those who are candidates for the office."

MEYER WARSHAWSKY,
Candidate State Supreme Court

Other Warshawsky beliefs . . . "and, it is imperative that the law be clear as well as just. Only by respect for the law can we provide a social climate in which our young people can advance."

He has served in United States Marine Corps in World War II; Prosecuting Attorney, Van Buren County—three terms; former Circuit Court Commissioner; past president of County Bar Association; member of State of Michigan Bar Association; member of Board of Directors of Area Retarded Children's Association; past president of County Traffic Safety Council; Teacher's Certificate Secondary Education; graduate of University of Michigan Law School; graduate of Western Michigan University; active trial lawyer.

He is easy to like; to trust and what is so important in this age of crumbling ethics of people in high places, you can be proud of him. I am, win or lose.

In other Judgeship races we can recommend, based on experience and observation, the candidacies of Cornelia G. Kennedy and James L. Ryan, for Wayne County Circuit Court. There are six candidates on the ballot and three to be elected. Mrs. Kennedy is young enough to be vigorous and old enough to have served as Director of the Detroit Bar Association (only woman to have held this position) plus law clerk to Justice Harold Stephens of the United States Court of Appeals in Washington. Both have been rated "outstanding" by the Bar Association.

James Ryan, aside from being "local" (Redford Township Justice of the Peace) has a long list of illustrious activities where he has performed ably including President of the Wayne County Justices.

Another candidate deserving of public attention is James H. Brickley, present Detroit City Councilman. He is a candidate for Court of Appeals where there is one vacancy and two are running. James Brickley is experienced in analyzing, evaluating and grasping the philosophy of law, having taught it. The Court he is a candidate for its not a trial court but devotes itself to hearing and resolving questions of law taken on appeal from the trial courts. It does not take evidence—but sifts the details of

Election Fairness Urged

In less than two weeks, Garden City voters will go to the polls to elect a mayor, four councilmen and a municipal judge. With only two exceptions, all of the incumbents are running for re-election and are challenged by stiff competition. But the real shadow hanging over the election is the current Wayne County Grand Jury investigation which is digging into improper, and possibly illegal activities by government officials.

At present, grand juror George Bowles has dug into the 1961 sale of the Civic Center property on Middlebelt. Witnesses have been called to give testimony. Local rumors of imminent indictments to be issued, just before or just after the Nov. 8 election, have been circulating for weeks.

One municipal candidate says he has a letter written five years ago concerning the property sale and purchase but said he will give it to The Observer "only if he is pushed" during the current political campaign.

Another political figure, an unsuccessful candidate in the August primary, has shown a package of information concerning improper activities in the City Hall several years ago.

A third person has been a frequent visitor to The Observer office with a pocket-full of "tips" concerning wrong-doing in our local government.

But no specific charges have been made, no indictments issued, no trials held, no convictions handed down by a jury operating under our due process of law.

But this may have little effect on the voters' minds when they go to the polls Nov. 8. Human nature being what it is, people are inclined to think "where there's smoke, there must be fire." This may not be entirely fair to the candidate, several of whom were directly or indirectly involved in the 1961 Civic Center land purchase.

To ask the voters to completely rule out the current Grand Jury probe as a factor in their making up their minds in the fall election would be too naive. The investigation and its accompanying publicity, I'm sure, has swayed a few votes in an election which promises to be a close one anyway without outside influences.

But The Observer hopes that the readers and voters will use their sense of fair play and elect the candidates on the basis of their past and present performances and not on rumors whispered in the rear of local taverns or street corners.

Progressive Steps

Livonia's school board took two progressive steps recently:

1. Signing an open-shop contract with school secretaries which means that no secretary is forced to join a union to work for the school district.

2. Providing in their agreement with the Livonia Education Association that all eligible school employees may obtain Michigan Education Association insurance policies if they so desire. (This was not possible last year when an un-affiliated employee could not obtain insurance.)

These types of actions provide equal treatment for everyone—and is the essence of democracy.

Congratulations to board members with an added request that they provide an open shop for other non-teaching personnel (bus drivers, cooks, custodians) when that contract comes up for renewal in two years.

—BILL GAIL

Judge By Character

Editor:

Webster's definition of a bigot is "one obstinately or intolerantly devoted to his own church, party belief or opinion." This can be more finely defined by contemporary language no matter who wriggles against the label.

Would the Kindreds and the Thompsons have objected to this program if the exchange had been with a school in Bloomfield Hills. I think not. It never really was a question of Federal money or Federal intervention in our schools, states rights or any of the numerous camouflage arguments these people raise. The objection was because it involved a predominately negro school.

Mr. Kindred's objections to the Human Relations Commission and to this school program was not for any of the lofty reasons stated by Mr. Thompson. He and his kind are not knights in shining armour defending anyone's rights but aimed at denying basic human rights to many millions of Americans.

They would pass on to their children and our children the same unreasonable hatreds that fester within themselves. Unreasonable hatred is a strong and exhausting emotion as is anger whose only solution lies in violence as Mr. Kindred well knows.

Our racial situation today can only be solved by what we teach our children so that tomorrow these problems will not exist. I want my children to grow up learning to judge his fellow human being only by what kind of person he is. I want them to hate a man only if he is evil and not because of his race, religion or ethnic background. Therefore, I commend our school board and hope that they will promote more of these programs so that my children can learn from experience that people are just people, some good, some bad, some strong, some weak, no matter what the color of his skin.

OMBUDSMAN

(A special feature in The Observer Newspapers — we will do our best to be a go-between, a red-tape cutter as the name indicates. When you have exhausted all other measures on a problem write to us (keep it short, please) and we'll see if we can help. Yes, John Q, you can fight city hall — with your own Ombudsman!)

On the evening of Oct. 20 I had just parked my car in the visitors parking lot at Schoolcraft College, when I was approached by the school security officer and a member of the faculty. I was asked the reason for my presence on campus and, I explained that I had come to use the library. I am a former student of Schoolcraft and presently attending Wayne State University. The officer and faculty member informed me that I would not be able to use the library. Their reasons included such things as overcrowded parking and crowding of the library. However, I would like to point out that in the evening the parking lots are less than half full and the library during the evening hours has an attendance of perhaps 10 students at most. The entire situation seems completely inconceivable. Schoolcraft College is a "community" college. My parents have been paying Livonia taxes for many years. Faculty members at Schoolcraft had often recommended the use of the Wayne library. It is very inconsistent behavior for a member of the Schoolcraft faculty to recommend the Wayne library and then have a faculty member refuse a Wayne student and Livonia resident the use of the Schoolcraft library. And believe me the crowded conditions at Wayne are much more apparent than those at Schoolcraft.

I feel the entire situation suggests further study. I will be most interested in your evaluation of the situation.

GREGORY A. TAYLOR
LIVONIA

Dear Mr. Taylor:

Edward V. McNally, Dean of Student Affairs is extremely sorry about this incident and doesn't understand why it happened and is investigating. The Day the Rains Brought Only Embarrassing Moments
 By W. W. EDGAR

Of times of an evening when I lean back in the big chair and memory keeps me company I get to thinking about some of the odd things that have happened to me along life's highway.

And along about this time each year when the leaves flutter toward the ground in a myriad of color and folks are looking forward to one last big outdoor frolic of the season I can't help recalling one of the most embarrassing moments I ever experienced . . . on a day that started so beautiful in a bright sun, ran the gamut of a blinding rain storm and left me the laughing stock of my old home town.

I had just started on my journalistic career, filled with vim and vigor, and eager to increase the popularity of the little four-page weekly that carried the name of "The Catusaqua Dispatch".

On this particular day the "Burgess" of my home town (the top official whose title has now been placed in the limbo of forgotten things) was playing host to the children in the last big event of the playground season. And it so happened it was the day the paper was going to press.

The press was one of those old time flat bed presses where the paper had to be hand fed from the top and then folded after it was "swished" out at the bottom. It was quite an undertaking and time consuming. And, up to then, there never had been anything like printing "last minute" news.

On this particular day I sought out the boss and told him I thought it was rather silly to wait until the following week to print the story of the kiddies' big day on the playground.

"Why can't I write the story this morning," I asked, very enthusiastically. "We can have it in the paper this afternoon and be right up to date."

One of those old time conservative editors, he looked at me and said, "It would be taking a chance to print a story in advance. Suppose something happens?"

"What could happen?" I countered, "on a bright, sunny day like this?"

"If you want to gamble, it's all right with me" he said and walked away.

That was all I wanted to hear. I went to work. Using all of the glowing adjectives at my command I wrote of the wonderful time the youngsters HAD and how thrilled the "Burgess" was in his role as host. I claimed, in my eagerness, that the big day was the best the little town ever had known.

The type was set quickly and about noon we started folding the papers 'cause we had to get many of them to the post office for the early afternoon mail.

Proudly, I helped fold the papers and carry the bundles over to the post office. After all, I said to myself, today's edition can be a symbol of a new era in the old home town—we'll have a paper with up-to-date news and we won't have to depend on the big "city dailies".

Finally, about mid-afternoon the last of the papers was on its way and a few of the carriers, who planned to reach the playground a bit later, began the home delivery.

Even the conservative old editor had a smile of satisfaction as we sat around the office wondering how the readers would feel when they saw such "live" news in the paper.

The first inkling we had that there could be a shock ahead came when a salesman sauntered in and told us that he had just driven through a terrible storm and that "it is headed this way".

Sure enough, it was one of those electrical storms that come all of a sudden, and in less than a half hour the bright sun gave way to dark clouds, and heavy rains pelted the entire area—including the playground.

So hard did the rain fall that the festivities at the playgrounds never did get started. They were postponed for one week.

But OUR paper didn't say so.

As the lightning flashed across the skies and the rain came pelting down, the conservative old editor just looked at me and said quietly—like a father to a son—"so, nothing could happen on a bright, sunny day like this, eh."

"Let this be a lesson to you—never take anything for granted, especially in the newspaper business".

And I never have—ever since the day the rains came, washed out the kiddies big party, and left me with nothing but embarrassing moments that would sort of haunt me the rest of the way.

Social Security
New Rules Released On Taxable Years After 65

Sam F. Test, social security district manager in the Detroit Northwest office, noted today that recent amendments to the social security law liberalize the conditions under which benefits are paid to people who continue working after age 65.

"Here are the new rules for taxable years after 1965," Test said:

If you earn $1,500 or less in a year you get all the benefits.

If you earn more than $1,500 in a year while you are under 72, the general rule is that $1 in benefits you (and your family) will be withheld for each $2 you earn from $1,500 to $2,700. In addition, $1 in benefits will be withheld for each $1 of earnings over $2,700.

"There is an exception," Test explained. "Regardless of total earnings in a year, benefits are payable for any month in which you neither earn wages of more than $125 nor perform substantial services in self-employment. Benefits are also payable for all months in which you are 72 or older, regardless of the amount of your earnings in months after you reach 72."

According to Test, the decision as to whether you are performing substantial services depends on the time you devote to your business, the kind of services you perform, how services compare with those you performed in past years, and other circumstances of your particular case.

Test added that earnings from work of any kind, whether or not covered by social security must be counted (except tips of less than $20 a month with any one employer). This means total wages (not just take-home pay) and all net earnings from self-employment must be added together in figuring your earnings for the year. Income from savings, investments, pensions, insurance and certain royalties received after 65 are not counted.

Test stated that for more information about how working after applying for benefits affects your retirement or survivors insurance payments, you should ask your local social security office for Booklet No. 23. The Social security office at 18500 Grand River will be glad to send you one of these booklets free. The office is open Mondays through Fridays from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and to 8:30 p.m. on Wednesdays for those who are unable to contact the office during regular office hours.

In Oakland County we urge again a vote for Farrell E. Roberts, former State Senator from the 14th District and William Beasley—both well qualified for the position in Circuit Court. There are 3 to be elected Nov. 8.

The rating of "outstanding" given six candidates for the Wayne County Circuit Court is concurred with by The Observer: Victor J. Baum, James Canham, Neal Fitzgerald, Charles Kaufman, James Montante and Edward S. Piggins. There are nine to be elected.

Keep in mind, please—to vote for a familiar name isn't necessarily wise. There are many who run on a name. Sometimes it is far wiser to vote for less than the amount required thus giving strength to the candidates of whom you are sure of their identity and qualifications.

Socially Speaking Around Plymouth

By Dorothy Sincock GL 3-0038 (Call to report social events in your family, neighborhood)

If opening night is any indication of its future, the Plymouth Symphony is in for an outstanding 21st season. The Plymouth High auditorium was filled to the last chair and overflowed to the side bleachers Saturday evening.

Concert goers were delighted with guest soloists Allen Shaffer and Albert Travis, pianists, who performed Concerto in D minor by Poulenc for two pianos and orchestra accompaniment.

Allen Shaffer, whose hometown is in Somerset, Pa., was privileged to have his parents Mr. and Mrs. William Shaffer attend. Allen is on the staff of Schoolcraft College.

Albert Travis is from Batesville, Miss. and is a Teaching Fellow at the University of Michigan.

Sometimes the search for handicraft treasures leads up unsuspected byways. The Mayflower Garden Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Edwin Ash, 333 Pacific, and Seed Pod Pictures will be the point of interest, on Thursday at 10 a.m. Co-hosting the workshop will be Mrs. Fred Leithe.

Adding purpose to their life and that of the children by making the family circle a source of inspiration are what the Clark Rines of 44444 Joy Rd. are doing.

Having four foster children plus two of their own, they have set up a workshop in the basement of their home so they may repair and recondition toys for Christmas for the Yorkwood Center in Ypsilanti.

If you have any discards please call Mrs. Rines at 453-6899 and she will pick them up.

Delighted over recent wedding bells are friends of Joe Fletcher, well known in the Plymouth Community for his services as a Jaycee and past president.

The Wendell Smiths have returned from attending the wedding of Jeanette Carlino and Joe in Bound Brook, N.J. The couple will make their home in Baltimore.

Mrs. Betty Mende is hostess to her study club last Wednesday at her home on Coolidge St. The program was in charge of her son, David, who demonstrated the unusual techniques used in playing concert music on a guitar. Using an instrument made in Spain, he was able to produce the sounds of a lute or harpsichord.

Mrs. Walter Gemperline, State Conservation Chairman for the Daughters of American Revolution and a member of the Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter in Plymouth, was guest speaker at the meeting of the Erza Parker Chapter in Royal Oak. Her subject was conservation.

Recently Mrs. Gemperline was key speaker at the dedication ceremonies of the DAR Memorial Forest Plantation in the Cadillac District of the Manistee National Forest.

Livonia Artists Exhibit In Bank

Livonia Artists Club is celebrating its Autumn Art Festival with a showing of traditional and realistic paintings at the Livonia National Bank, Middlebelt and Seven Mile Roads from Oct. 29 through Nov. 5.

Dave Meyers, Livonia National Bank Branch Manager, invites you to come in and browse.

The club is composed of people with an active interest in painting and a degree of talent who meet once a month in the various homes to examine and discuss the work presented by members, and to hear talks on art. The club also serves as a source of information on new area art classes.

Rookie Ends Training

Marine Private Duane N. Tarbet, son of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Tarbet of 8089 Deering, Livonia, was graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego, Calif.

"Development of the area was made possible by the DAR through their interest in conservation and a $1,000 contribution." The 40 acre site was planted with red pine seedlings to provide food for deer. This is the seventh such plantation to be dedicated by the DAR within this area since 1955.

The Allen Study Group is sponsoring a Christmas display open house at Geddes Road Hall at 44508 Geddes Road on Thursday, Nov. 3 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Demonstrations on how to make golden Christmas angel corn husk wreaths, pine cone trees, felt novelties, bells, etc. will be shown.

Stein's Florist will give tips on "Flower and Greens Arranging" from 1 to 1:45 p.m. Admission is free and refreshments will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Rozian of Beck Rd. have a new baby boy at their house named David Matthew. The newcomer weighed in at seven pounds, 13 ounces and his little sister Miriam Beatrice is delighted with his arrival.

The Gallimore School is busy with Parent-Teacher Room meetings during the month of October. These meetings enable parents to know what and how the teachers will instruct the children during the 1966-67 school year.

Evans Adds To Staff

Two new executives joined the staff of the Railway Car Division of Evans Products Company's Transportation Equipment Group in Plymouth. The announcement was made by C. W. Monk, Vice President of the Railway Car Division.

Both men came to Evans from the Bethlehem Steel Company's car plant in Johnstown, Pa.

Prior to joining Evans, Johnson was the general foreman in charge of car construction at the Bethlehem car-building facility.

Lynch and his wife, Dorothy, have four children. The family plans to move into the Plymouth area in the near future.

Vivian Tells of Efforts To Pass Pollution Bills

By Congressman Wes Vivian

The great majority of citizens in the Second Congressional District and throughout the nation are all too aware and concerned about the sorry state of our streams and lakes and the air we breathe.

A number of Committees of the United States House of Representatives have taken important steps during this Congress to combat the increasing pollution of these natural resources; among them are the House Public Works Committee; the Natural Resources Subcommittee of the House Government Operations Committee; and my own Committee, the Science and Astronautics Committee, which recently held extensive hearings on technological aspects of pollution control.

On Sept. 9, the Natural Resources Subcommittee held hearings in Toledo on the pollution of Lake Erie. I was invited to join the Subcommittee for these hearings, and was pleased to do so.

The previous day, the President had sent to the Congress a request to temporarily suspend an ongoing provision of the federal corporate income tax law known as the incentive tax credit, which provided business a tax incentive to encourage plant and equipment purchases.

At the opening of the hearings on the morning of that day, I informed the public witnesses and Members of Congress present that I had just written the Honorable Wilbur Mills, Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, urging him to maintain the investment tax credit on industrial purchases of water and air pollution abatement equipment.

I was alarmed at the possibility that the House and Senate, by adopting the President's recommendation without amendment, would unintentionally, but nevertheless effectively, curtail hard-won efforts to conquer industrial pollution at a time when we needed more effort, not less. I decided that day to mount a legislative campaign to maintain the incentives for this specific purpose.

THE NEXT DAY, while accompanying the Natural Resources Subcommittee on an inspection trip by helicopter of the Southeast Michigan shores, I asked my Michigan colleague in the House, Congressman John Dingell, a most able and energetic man and strong supporter and leader of conservation measures, to join me in my efforts.

Congressman Dingell introduced a bill to accomplish our purpose, and testified before the House Ways and Means Committee to urge the Members of that powerful Committee to maintain the pollution abatement incentives.

Upon my return to Washington, I wrote the 534 other Members of the U.S. House and Senate, and asked for their support. I also personally talked with many Members of the Ways and Means Committee.

When several of the Committee Members expressed enthusiastic approval for my proposal, I asked them to seek further support. One of these Members was Charles A. Vanik, of Cleveland, long a crusader for greater Federal and state efforts in the field of pollution abatement, whose District borders on Lake Erie, as does that of Congressman Dingell's.

In Congressman Vanik, we had an effective spokesman within the Ways and Means Committee. But the pressure from the White House to exclude any and all amendments remained very strong, and when a vote was taken in the Committee on this subject, the amendment I had sought failed, 11 to 14.

Nothing Like Fruit Cake Paradiso to Spark Kitchen

By FAITH GILLESPIE

These are my favorite days. The October air is clear and cool. The autumn sun is warm and kind. This lovely time is perhaps the more precious because we know it won't last.

One of the nicest things about this season is that it smells good, inside as well as outside. The hours no longer shelters the odors of damp bathing suits and insect sprays. Instead there is the smell of the wood fire in the fireplace, and the unsummerly aroma of stews bubbling on the stove, and soups simmering.

In some houses, fruit cake is in the air. I know, because readers have told me they've been baking Mrs. Carlini's heavenly Fruit Cake Paradiso. Other readers have requested a recipe for a good dark fruit cake. There is none better than Mrs. Carlini's own dark fruit cake, which also won a blue ribbon at the State Fair, in 1963.

This recipe makes eight pounds, which is ample for the average household. If you want to make enough to give away to everybody you know, the recipe may be doubled, but you should use less than double the flour, about 6 1/2 cups instead of seven. A pound of currants could be used in place of the extra pound of raisins.

Mrs. Carlini told me that another newspaper used her recipe, suggesting that molasses could be substituted for the honey, and fruit juice or wine for the rum.

"You can do that," she said, "there's no law; but then, it's not my recipe."

MRS. CARLINI'S DARK FRUIT CAKE:

The night before baking day, prepare your pans with a light greasing, two layers of wax paper, and then two layers of brown paper. Let the brown paper extend about an inch above the pans, and cut slits in paper to fit pan, rather than making heavy folds.

Cream together at medium speed 1/2 pound of butter and 1/2 pound of sugar. Beat six eggs at medium speed until thick, three to five minutes. Add eggs to butter and sugar mixture and beat for two more minutes. (DO NOT OVERBEAT. This causes dryness.)

Sift together 3 1/2 cups sifted cake flour, 1/2 tablespoon cinnamon, one tablespoon nutmeg, one tablespoon allspice, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 tablespoon baking soda.

Use a generous half cup of the flour mixture to dredge the following mixture of fruits: one pound dark seedless raisins, one pound seeded and cut-up dates, 1/2 pound yellow candied pineapple (cut up), 1/2 pound whole red candied cherries, 1 1/2 pounds diced mixed candied citrus fruit. ("Save yourself," Mrs. Carlini says, "and buy already diced.") Add one pound coarsely broken walnuts.

Now add half of the remaining flour mixture to the butter mixture. Stir with spoon.

Add 1/2 cup Puerto Rico rum and 1/2 cup honey. Stir in; do not beat. Add the remaining flour mixture and mix well with spoon. Shave one, square of unsweetened baking chocolate coarsely and add to mixture. Pour batter over nuts and fruit and mix until fruit is coated with batter. Spoon into pans and pack down well. Use a nine or 10-inch tube pan and a 5x7-inch loaf pan. Bake at 250 degrees, about three hours for the tube pan and nearly 2 1/2 hours for the loaf. Test with toothpick for doneness half an hour before — do not overbake. Be sure to place two cups of water in a pan on the bottom shelf pans, wrap absolutely airtight in aluminum foil, and leave cakes in pans overnight. To store, remove from keep 30 days.

Like the season, this lovely fruit cake is the more precious because we know once opened, it won't last.

State Highway Officials Seek New Highway Meeting

As far as timing is concerned, construction of this road is planned for 1971. However, the basic decision as to location will have to be made much earlier. We expect an engineering report to be completed by January 1967, with surveys following immediately. Right-of-way acquisition will begin in 1969 and the actual construction in 1971.

"Mr. Kessler's call on you is part of our continuing study for the location. He is correct in stating that the location will not be fixed until studies are completed and approved by the Director of State Highways. However, as the area becomes developed, there are definite limitations on the available choices for the location of such a highway.

"The most recent development of the area at Sheldon Road by Ford Motor Company limited our choices much further. The route which we are proposing is fairly similar to the one shown in the Comprehensive Plan of the Township. To the east slight adjustment was made in the vicinity of Sheldon Road. This was necessitated by the location of Ford Motor Company in that area. To the west a major deviation from the Comprehensive Plan is necessary.

The Comprehensive Plan does not take into consideration the needs of the area beyond the township and it would be patently impossible for us to accept the highway along the quarter line of Section 19 at Napier Road and still serve our regional obligations. On the western side of the township where development is still limited, we see no reason why a location compatible both to the needs of the Township and of the Department of State Highways cannot be established.

"As far as other statements in the papers are concerned, we are not aware of any officials denying statements made in front of your Board, nor do we recall any other incidents similar to that alleged in the newspaper story. We have not at any time agreed to the location as shown in your Comprehensive Plan.

Instead, we have discussed various lines and indicated that such a line as in the Comprehensive Plan would not be acceptable to the Department of State Highways. We were also somewhat surprised that a location for the Ford Motor Company was established without any consultation with the Department of State Highways and it is indeed fortunate that a highway can still be fitted in the Sheldon Road area.

At Sheldon Road the interchange will be a full one, but this will necessitate the acquisition of homes on Sherer Drive.

Board the rezoning of 12 acres lying between Ann Arbor Trail and Ann Arbor Road and between the proposed freeway and Eckles Road to permit multiple dwellings. It also recommended rezoning of the southeast corner of Ann Arbor Road and Haggerty Road from single residences to commercial use.

A request for rezoning of the northeast corner of Haggerty and Ann Arbor Trail from single residences to multiple dwellings was denied.

Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria which is located on the third floor of Highland Hall. Parking facilities will be available in the student parking lot on Hospital Road approximately 1/2 mile north of Cooley Lake Road.

The public is invited.

They were present at the annual banquet at which Governor Romney was the main speaker and the Child Welfare breakfast.

The post was honored last Wednesday evening right after the business meeting by the appearance of the girls who attended The American Legion State. They gave a very interesting and informative talk on their experiences.

Blossom Due To Address Cancer Unit

Several members of the Western Wayne Unit and the Plymouth Branch of the Michigan Cancer Foundation will attend the annual meeting of the unit's trustees on Wednesday, Nov. 9, in Dearborn where they will have the opportunity to hear Willis Blossom, scholarship teacher, and some of his students report on their summer projects.

Blossom, a 1953 graduate of Plymouth High School and a teacher in the Emerson Junior High School in Livonia, has worked with his students for the past three years on cancer projects.

The purpose of the program is to give students an appreciation of medical research and to stimulate their interest in continuing their education along some medical or scientific lines.

Dr. Ray R. Barber of Plymouth is president of the Western Wayne Unit.

The Hawk--A Sure Bet for Hollywood

By JERRY WENDT
Women's Editor

Not all avid television watchers are children or teen-agers these days. Every Thursday night at 10 o'clock, women dial Channel 7 to watch Burt Reynolds portrayal of the "Hawk."

When we were in New York, we played Alice Through the Looking Glass, and visited the "Hawk" on the set. You can tell much about an actor by watching him work with people, when he does not know you are there.

We arrived on the set when they were shooting "Legacy for a Lousy Future" and it was an exciting thing to see the actual set. We noticed at once that the "Hawk" doesn't use a double for his fight scenes.

Everyone we talked to while we were waiting for him to finish the "take" had a good word for him. Even the hard to please press and crew. "He's a sweet guy" seemed to be the standard description. "Not the least bit temperamental or inclined to throw his weight" was another remark.

H. Worth, of ABC's public relations department who is a witty cynical New Yorker, brought Burt over to meet us. He is very handsome, and lean as a whip. He maintains a gruelling schedule. Reynolds, as Lt. John Hawk, a contemporary Indian, is assigned to the night side of the District Attorney's office, working against the actual backgrounds of nocturnal New York. It is the only prime network series being produced in New York. This actual "shooting" on the streets attracts hoards of people.

BURT REYNOLDS, who portrays the Hawk, on Channel 7, Thursday nights. This is the only TV show actually filmed in New York.

"How do you like all the fame," we asked him. "I love it," he answered, with a grin. "Why wouldn't I, I worked 13 years for it?"

This down to earth honesty characterizes all his conversation. "What don't you like about stardom," we quizzed. "Everything except having to constantly watch my weight," he said. "I love Italian food, especially, and I have to forego it. I also have to work out everyday. Other than that, it's perfect."

Born in Florida, the "Hawk" still likes the warmer climate. "The ideal thing would be to work in New York, and live somewhere else," he said. "I love the outdoor life."

Just then his bodyguard, Tony Amato came up and told us about another hazard of fame. Tony is a colorful character, a former prize-fighter and devoted to Burt. "The kids love him," he said. "They all wear his sweatshirts." (Several people on the set were wearing sweatshirts labeled the "Hawk.") But it creates a problem. They crowd around him and Burt is always afraid that they will get hurt. I try to keep them from getting any broken bones.

"Do you find any trouble-makers" we asked. "Oh, yes," said Tony. "Every now and then some wise guy comes up and says, 'So you think you're tough' and then the trouble starts. Not long ago somebody tried to pull a knife on him." Needless to say, Tony's background of prize fighting and stunt man stood in good stead.

The Hawk was ready to head back for another "take" so we asked him the obvious question. Young, handsome, and a good actor, Hollywood stardom certainly seemed in the offing for him.

"How do you feel about Hollywood stardom?" we asked him.

"If it comes, I'm ready for it, and I'd love it," he said. "but," he added seriously, "if it isn't in the cards, it won't ruin my life. I like people and I love my work. I can always make a good life."

ON THE SET of The Hawk (Thursday night, 9 p.m., Channel 7), the Hawk discusses the fun and also the drawbacks of stardom with Women's Editor Jerry Wendt. The "Hawk" is played by Burt Reynolds.

Karl Haas Opens Northville Town Hall

By JERRY WENDT
Women's Editor

"Culture is not a status symbol, it is not something to be developed in one's spare time." It is instead, a way of life, a constant concern for one's fellow man.

This was the keynote of Karl Haas' speech to the members of Northville Town Hall on Opening Day, Thursday, Oct. 20. "A Musical Adventure with Karl Haas" was the title of the program and an adventure it was.

Gifted as Karl Haas is in music, he is equally talented in expressing himself and he managed to inject his audience with his enthusiasm for the arts.

Born and educated in the Rhine country of southwest Germany, he came to this country in 1936 as a member of the faculty of the Bendetson Netzorg School of piano in Detroit, continuing his studies there and with the famed Arthur Schnobell in New York.

Haas is the founder and president of the Chamber Music Society of Detroit. He is the director of Fine Arts for WJR Radio in Detroit since May 1959.

Haas bubbled with enthusiasm for the American contribution to the arts. Having just returned from Europe, he feels that the Americans can well be proud of their artists.

"The entire picture of the arts is one of sheer excitement," he said, and then gesturing toward the audience he said, "Look at the Town Hall Movement, it is uniquely American."

He feels that the New Metropolitan Opera House at Lincoln Center is second to nothing in the entire world. He told of seeing "Anthony and Cleopatra" and spoke of the marvelous effects achieved in the scene where Anthony has a vision of Cleopatra.

He played three selections during the program and then spoke about them to the audience. He took them from the days when an artist's only hope was to live in the house where a patron of noble birth would subsidize him, up to the present time when art is a part of everyone's life. He also demonstrated the effect the times and customs had on the music of the composer.

The audience at Northville Town Hall was its usual well dressed self. Northville has a sell-out season this year and the delicious luncheons following the lectures have contributed to this fact.

It was good to learn that Mrs. Phyllis Slattery will be in an advisory capacity this year. This dynamic woman has chalked up a bumper crop of top speakers and events which have contributed much to the sell-out of Northville Town Hall. She promised to let The Observer write a column someday on some of her experiences in hosting the famous people who appeared.

Former Farmingtonites Visit Friends in Area

Two years ago Walt and Irene Buckenhizer of Quail Hollow, Farmington moved to Leisure World, Cal. The Buckenhizers had many friends here and enjoyed their life but they wanted to be near their son Robert who lived in Laguna Beach, California.

Among the many people who missed them were the children; for Irene, who had been known as the "Story Lady" had a host of friends among the small folk.

They paid their first visit here a few weeks ago and were full of enthusiasm about their new home. They enjoy the sunshine and flowers and pleasant climate the year around.

Among the many friends the Buckenhizers visited while here were the Charles Colombos of Livonia.

They informed us that they have started a Michigan Club in California which now numbers 95 members.

The Distaff Side...

By Jerry Wendt, Women's Editor

They were three sisters, and they stood waiting on the dusty platform in the railroad station in Parma, Italy, where they were born. Their talented, industrious mother had taught them everything she knew, and now they must go out in the world to seek their fortune.

Superstitious, they mused among themselves. Then one spoke, "Let's take the first train that comes, then whatever its destination, we'll follow and build there," one suggested. The others agreed. The train pulled in and the conductor announced the fateful name, "Rome." The three sisters climbed aboard, and thus was born the famous Salon of Fontana. Located past the Spanish steps along the Piazza di Spagna in Rome, it is a legendary place.

The story of this salon and of the great of royalty, film stars, and society was told to an audience at the Livonia Town Hall open meeting, Wednesday, Oct. 19.

The Board of Livonia Town Hall made an excellent choice in Signora Fontana. Volatile, and gifted, she made her world live for all her listeners.

The three sisters who comprise Sorelle Fontana are recognized as being among the world's foremost fashion designers. Micol Fontana was the speaker. Intensely feminine, she dislikes pants suits. In order to be attractive in a pants suit she says, "You have to wear pants that fit place, at the right moment, and have the right figure."

"How many women have that exact description?" she shrugs expressively.

Neither does she like the short skirts. "We designers realize and have for a long time that the knee is not the loveliest part of a woman's figure."

Her prices are not exorbitant, not in the ready to wear at least, which the Salon of Fontana now imports.

Maria Theresa, her model, displayed some creations of contemporary wear, and some from the new film, "The Bible," which brought oohs and aahs from the audience.

Later, over an excellent luncheon at the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth, she discussed further details of her life.

Fontana is an absolute devotee of the dress and jackets. "You can always remove the jacket, and you are perfectly dressed," said Fontana, proving her point by removing her own jacket and displaying a perfectly fitting dress. She believes that there is no occasion when a dress and jacket do not answer the clothing problem perfectly.

Fontana is her own best illustration of what a topnotch designer can do for you. She is petite. Dressed in a dress and jacket of Parma violet and shades of purple, the lines made her appear taller and more slender. She is famous for sewing all her clothes by hand.

"It is not always necessary," she smiled, "but it is a wonderful thing to do."

All her clothes are lined and the detailing is elegant. We felt as if we were sitting in a potato sack at every inspection of the courturier clothes.

The Fontanas have been couturiers for over 200 years and their business is still a family affair. Before every collection, or important event, the three sisters design something and then put them all together and decide.

"Of course, she smiled, "we all think ours is the best."

And in remembrance of "Mama" every collection contains the Fontana trademark, that delicate flower that grows in profusion in the country of their birth.

G.C. Jaycee Auxiliary To Receive Charter Nov. 5

The newly-formed Garden City Jaycee Auxiliary will receive its charter from State Auxiliary President Mrs. Ronald Lance at a banquet scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 5, in the Thunderbird Inn, Plymouth.

Charter Night chairman Mrs. James F. Drum said that Garden City Mayor Edwin J. Freeh, Jr., has been invited to the event. Officers of the new group are Mrs. Gerald Durkin, president; Mrs. Gerald Neracker, vice president; Mrs. William Belcher, secretary; and Mrs. Al Hiltunen, treasurer.

Starch Those Stockings
A tablespoon of liquid starch added to a quart of warm water is fine for rinsing nylon hose. It does not make them stiff and shiny yet makes them more resistant.

Fontana does not advocate buying quantities of clothes. "Buy more seldom, and buy better clothes," she said.

The audience liked her and she proved very human, when the pumpkin pie and whipped cream was served, she sighed, "I know I shouldn't, but I love your American pie so," and proceeded to enjoy it.

Some of the famous people who have come to the Salon of Fontana are Princess Maria Pia di Savoia, Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, Margaret Truman Daniel (she made her wedding dress); and actresses Elizabeth Taylor and Ava Gardner.

It all proved the truth of what Mama Fontana told her daughters long ago, "you can have success in life, if you will find the work you love and give that work the best of yourself."

Editorial note: There are still a few season tickets available for $6.50 if you will contact—Mrs. Douglas Thomas, GA 1-8742.

BEAUTIFUL Marie Theresa modeled Fontana's latest creations for the Town Hall audience, Wednesday, Oct. 19.

Farmington Girl In Talent Contest

Proud are Farmingtonites of Paula Pendergrass, age 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Pendergrass of Kendallwood Drive who was the second runner-up in the Miss Teenage Detroit Contest in which over 1,000 young ladies applied. Narrowing the contestants down to 800, a written test further narrowed the list down to sixty. The talent presentation determined winners on Oct 19.

Miss Pendergrass attends Marian High School in Birmingham and music is one of her studies. As her talent presentation, Paula played the piano, sang and did a skit with choreography. A medallion and certificate was awarded to the ten finalists.

Paula is still vibrating with "the most exciting thing that ever happened to me." She said that it was quite an experience for the competition was tough and she really had to be on her toes. Her words of wisdom or advice are to learn the subjects that are taught in school. Read up on current events. Know what is going on, not just in your own backyard but a little beyond.

Paula doesn't say "just in her own backyard" for three years ago when a Freshman in high school, she started up a Barber Shop Quartet with Gail Baran of Union

Unveil Plans For 'Ecumenical University'

Plans for an "Ecumenical University" were unveiled Thursday, Oct. 20 by the Very Rev. Malcolm Carron, S.J., in his inaugural address at Ford Auditorium.

The new president of the University of Detroit, speaking to more than 3,000 at inaugural ceremonies, observed that "If the University of Detroit is to live up to its ideal of Christianizing the human intellect, and if it is to meet the needs of urban society, it must do so in the spirit of openness, community and renewal that Vatican II has inspired.

"Ecumenism is not an easy undertaking," he warned. "Sometimes it will seem a little confused when viewed from the outside. When fostered in an atmosphere of freedom, the dialogue can become loud and intense.

There may be those who will think the University has drifted from its moorings. But do not be dismayed. The Church of the Second Vatican Council, and therefore the University encouraged and inspired by it, stands forth as 'a sign of that brotherhood which not only allows honest dialogue but gives it strength and vigor.

"Where the winds of change blow, the waters are sure to be turbulent, at least on the surface."

Fr. Carron's listeners included Governor George Romney, Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh, the Most Rev. Joseph M. Breitenbeck, auxiliary bishop of the Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit; William Rea Keast, Wayne State University president; Ray R. Eppert, Burroughs board chairman; and U. of D. faculty students, and alumni representatives. They delivered short messages from the speakers' podium.

Delegates represented more than 450 colleges and universities throughout the nation, and more than 200 learned societies. Among the delegates were more than 50 presidents, and representatives of most religious faiths in Detroit.

Lutheran Manifesto To Be Presented Oct. 30

A 16-point "manifesto" to be read Sunday, Oct. 30, in all congregations of the Lutheran Church in America, will begin a period of self-examination and renewal in the denomination's 6,217 congregations. Among the churches in the local area that will be participating will be Antioch Church, Farmington; Incarnation, Farmington; Holy Cross and Christ the King, Livonia.

The Rev. Carl F. Kaltreider, pastor of the Antioch Congregation, said the manifesto consists of a "check list" of characteristics that a congregation alert to modern times must consider. The document will be read from the pulpit on Reformation Sunday and will provide the basis for study and discussions with the help of materials being prepared by the LCA Executive Council, Pastor Kaltreider said.

He said the LCA approved the manifesto and accompanying two-year study at its church-wide convention in Kansas City last June. At the 1964 convention, the LCA became concerned that some of its congregations may have lost touch with modern changes in private and community life, and it ordered a study of the nature and mission of the congregation.

The Manifesto is the result.

Oct. 30 to Nov. 6 Chosen Michigan Sunday School Week

The 21st Annual Convention of the Michigan Sunday School Association will attract more people from more denominations and from more churches than any Sunday School convention in the nation. Michigan now tops all other conventions in the U. S. A. in size. 6,000 delegates are expected from the mid-west and Canada, involving over 500 churches in 17 major denominations.

Special feature will be the M.S.S.A. 400-Voice Children's Choir which will appear on the Friday night program. No admission charge for any of the six general sessions. Headline speakers scheduled to appear are Dr. Charles Blair, Dr. Howard Sugden, Dr. Howard Hendricks, Dr. Clyde Narramore, Rev. Dean A. Dalton and Dr. Edward Simpson.

St. Andrew's Annual Bazaar Set for November 3

The big day is almost here! The Sixth Annual Bazaar of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, 16360 Hubbard Road, between Five and Six Mile Roads, is nearly ready for Thursday, Nov. 3. At 10 a.m. they open their doors to the "Avenue of Shops" plus morning coffee hour, luncheon from 11:30 to 2:30, Smorgasbord dinner at 5 to 7 and continued shopping and looking till 8 p.m.

The theme again this year is "Christmas Time at St. Andrew's" heralded by "The Bells Are Ringing" and the decorations throughout the church are clusters of green and gold bells with the cheery look of the upcoming holiday season.

Proceeds from this big event are used for a three-fold purpose. First at home in the parish, then in the diocese such as helping a seminary student complete his education and finally abroad to help build a new church in Alaska and missionary work in Africa.

Shops and booths include the old favorites plus a few new ones. The apron booth is separate this year and gives a wider scope to the clever hands of the apron makers and many more for customers to choose from. Another "first" is the "Children's Own Shop" where young folks up to age 13 may shop by themselves for family presents priced to fit their limited budget.

Going along with the spirit of holiday shopping is the Christmas Booth full of decorating ideas. There are tree ornaments, door wreaths, wall pieces, tablecovers, and many more too numerous to list but beautiful and appealing.

Two more old favorites are the Gift and Doll Shops, both filled with old and new sections. You will find tote bags, carpet bags, pictures, carved candle holders and flower arrangements. In toyland, Raggedy Ann, Winnie-the-Pooh Bear, Gonks, baby dolls and fuzzy dogs meet the shopper's delighted gaze.

Who can resist the lure of the Flea Market with bargains galore, maybe just the item you've been looking for and besides it's such fun just browsing among the odds and ends. Home made goodies for your appetite in the Farm Cupboard. Take home a pie or cake for dinner, jams, jellies or chili sauce for your cupboard and for Dad a loaf of home made bread, a chunk of sharp cheese right off the wedge or delicious sweet or sour pickles.

Anchor Coupling Sales, Profits Take Big Jump

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill. — Consolidated first quarter sales up 32 per cent to $9,359,145, and profits up 35 per cent to $589,533 were reported by Anchor Coupling Co. Inc. for the period ended September 30.

Don F. Stranberg, Anchor President, said the substantial gains over a year indicate the sustained growth of Anchor's output capacity, as well as continued high sales levels.

Both sales and earnings for the quarter are records for the period, Stranberg said. The quarterly sales figure is also the third highest ever recorded, topped only by the third and fourth quarters of fiscal 1966, ended June 30, 1966.

They will appear on the program of the American Osteopathic College of Radiology.

Pick A Character As Theme For Room

Distinction and novelty can be added to your home if you have a "character" room.

Depending on the family's interests, the person chosen as the theme for a den or family room might be Teddy Roosevelt, Abraham Lincoln, George Washington, Carol Channing, or Gregory Peck. Or, you could have a regional theme, ranging from Hawaiian to Alaskan, Days of '40 to the Roaring Twenties.

The whole family can participate in the planning, construction and furnishing of such a room, suggests Norma Brown, decorating consultant to Masonite Corporation. Expert help in planning will be helpful and need not be expensive. Decorators can be hired by the hour or the job, and oftentimes their advice is worth more than their fee.

STATE OF MICHIGAN PROBATE COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF WAYNE 558.304

It is ordered that on November 3, 1966 at 10 a.m., in the Probate Court room 1221 Detroit, Michigan a hearing be held on the petition of Earl J. Demel, special and general administrator, for allowance of his combined first and final account, for fees and for assignment of residue:

Publication and service shall be made as provided by statute and Court rule.

Dated September 22, 1966.

IRA G. KAUFMAN, Judge of Probate

Earl J. Demel Attorney for estate 729 W. Ann Arbor Trail Plymouth, Michigan

WILBUR H. RADER, Deputy Probate Register

Newspaper: Plymouth Observer 10-12-19 26

They heard the Honorable Stewart L. Udall, U.S. Secretary of the Interior, praise the achievements of the 89th Congress, which he described as "the Climax Congress" for its landmark legislation in the fields of education, water and air pollution control, medicare, civil rights and housing.

Udall praised Vivian as "not only not a rubber-stamp Congressman, but one of the very few first-term Congressmen who has had a leadership role in passing major national legislation."

He said that when the President advised the suspension of the business investment tax credit, Vivian "embarrassed the Administration" by leading the successful fight for the continuance of the tax credit for the installation of pollution control equipment.

Stressing his continuing campaign for the "new conservation," Udall observed, "we are a prosperous country today, but an unclean country, plagued by unclean water and unclean air." The new issues facing Congress Udall said, are the "quality issues" — the quality of our education, of our cities and houses, and of our environment.

In his remarks, Vivian also discussed the domestic achievements of the Congress, but then commented that "there are those persons in Washington today who would say 'look inward only.'"

"They are the latter day isolationists. And they are wrong. We must seek not to dominate nor to control the economic markets of less fortunate nations; rather we must help them build to their economic capacities," he said.

Also, some lumber dealers have available expert planning service from the Masonite Design Center to help carry out a family's wishes. They are known as Design-Service-counsel dealers.

Since walls are important to any home improvement, particularly where a theme is to be carried out, choose them carefully. Wood-grained hardboard for example, is considered ideal for a rich-looking background at moderate cost.

Ten types and colors are available at lumber yards. In doing a "character" room, plan carefully, choose quality materials requiring little care, and you'll have fun in the making and using.

Wards to Display A Real Meteorite

A real honest-to-goodness Arizona desert, he had the meteorite, discovered 15 years ago by a former Inkster councilman, is now on display at Montgomery Ward's Wonderland store.

The object, which measures about 12 inches by 20 inches, has been identified as a meteorite by a University of Michigan professor.

It was found by Frank Hawthorne of 29453 Glenwood, Inkster. Hawthorne has loaned it to Wards to "give the public, especially school children, a chance to examine it."

Wards will put it on exhibition in the toy department annex.

"I found it in my garden one morning a dozen years ago," Hawthorne said. "There was a hole in the ground and the rock was lying in it. I called up the University of Michigan and they sent a professor out who verified the fact that it was a meteorite."

What to do with it? Hawthorne didn't want to keep it in the house and he didn't want to let go of it, so he reburied it for safe keeping.

"Actually, it didn't create such a fuss, then," he said. "This area wasn't very fully developed and nobody seemed to pay much attention to it."

Earlier this month, however, the papers were full of meteorite news when a meteor brightened the evening skies one night. Many reports were made of where the meteor had landed, although nobody has found it yet.

But it did make Hawthorne think about his meteorite. At the suggestion of a friend he dug it up.

"The rock looks as if it should weigh only about ten pounds," Hawthorne said. "But it must be made of very dense material because it weighs 47 1/2 pounds." He said he would like to have somebody cut into the rock to analyze it. "I really am curious to know what it's made out of," he said.

He said that, in his youth he took a trip to California once and, passing through the

with the rank of a Captain in the Marine Corps.

Following his discharge, he became coach and teacher at Cheboygan High where he had two unbeaten teams before accepting a call to Plymouth High. His PHS teams won 55 and lost 22. Two of his clubs were unbeaten, one in a season cut to six games by a flu epidemic and the other three years ago when the Rocks were undefeated but played one tie game.

He had the unusual distinction of developing both of Plymouth High's all-state players—the Egloff brothers, Randy and Dick. Randy went on to play for Yale where he was captain and all-Eastern in his senior year. Dick is a junior at Arizona State University.

Wayne Sparkman, now an assistant coach at PHS, was another Hoben product who gained fame as a standout defensive back at Michigan.

Dick Schryer, a star of the Wolverine baseball teams for the past two years who recently signed a bonus contract with a major league club, was a better than average quarterback for Hoben-coached teams and one of the best baseball players ever turned out at Plymouth High.

Under the present plans, Hoben will serve in an advisory capacity for the next two years while continuing his duties at Plymouth high until such time that he is assigned full time to the new senior high.

Auto License Plates On Sale Month Early

License plates for all commercial and trailer vehicles will go on sale one month early, according to local Secretary of State's office manager Robert Dwyer.

The 1966 plates will expire one month early. Dwyer urges license seekers to come now to his office at 181 Liberty St., bringing a pre-made registration mailed recently to each present license holder.

Plymouth Firefighters Inspect 603 Homes

The Plymouth Fire Department inspected 603 homes during fire prevention week, was refused at 109 dwellings and couldn't get in 524 others because no one was at home.

That's the report of Fire Chief George Schoeneman who indicated the annual inspection and was one of the most successful in history. He stated the department will still make inspections at all homes missed if the owner will call the fire station at 453-1234.

The firefighters found only minor violations, mostly because of over fusing. Chief Schoeneman pointed out that many of the older homes did not have the circuits needed to handle the many appliances now available.

Thus, homeowners are using more plugs on circuits than is safe with the result that many will start blowing fuses. He stated that many homeowners will risk blown fuses rather than call an electrician to correct the problem.

Lehigh Alumni Hear from 'Home'

Harry B. Ramsey, assistant executive secretary of the Lehigh University Alumni Association, will speak to members of the Lehigh Alumni Club of Detroit at the Fall Dinner meeting Thursday evening October 27 at the Hillside Inn.

The program will also feature the showing of a film "Lunar Vehicle" by a representative of the Bendix Corporation, which is involved in various aspects of the nation's space program.

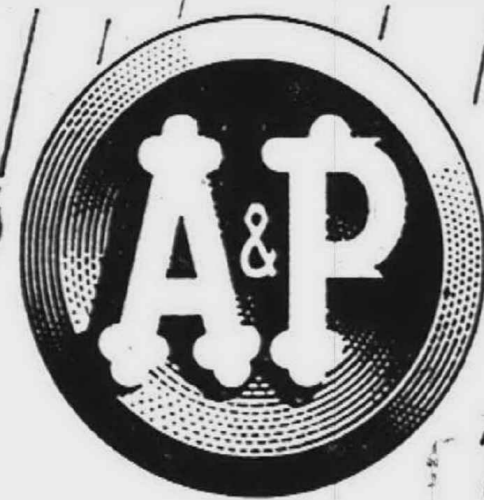

Ramsey, a 1950 graduate, also will discuss the sports program at Lehigh.

Let's Talk Fashion

with
June Simpson

Fine feathers not only make fine birds, they make fine fashion news this season. There just seems to be a continuing love affair that bridges the years—between the gentler sex and the flat-tery of feather trim.

There's not one among us who does not remember with amusement, and a smile, some particular fashion we succumbed to from sheer love, and then for the life of us simply couldn't find the way to fit it into our own way of life.

My own fashion folly was a floating black chiffon number for Special Evenings At Home—trimmed 'round and cuffed with black ostrich! Kept it for ten years before I convinced myself an evening THAT special just didn't present itself. Wish now I had kept the beautiful black ostrich trim!

IT WAS REASSURING TO find that my passion for the feathery beauty of ostrich is shared by as famous a lady as the great Chanel herself! Chanel unveiled a collection this season that bore the unmistakable Chanel touch combined with a newness and freshness to please the most avid excitement seeker.

The world renowned Coco Chanel presented an evening collection that glittered with the touch of Midas. In a season that seemed stamped as the year of the solid sterling silver look, Chanel wove the look of Gold into plain brocades, drifting chiffons, and rich velvets. Most royally gorgeous was her combination of Violet with gold.

Feathers? Of course. Ostrich! And, not for a special evening at home—but very special evenings away from home. Eminent among these fashions by Chanel is a black chiffon evening coat, streaming with ostrich, and worn over inky black pajamas of velvet. Striking evening wear?

IF YOU HAPPEN to be among those who believe that life should be led with a real flare, try THIS for living. Chanel does a theater suit of black brocade and outlines the neck, wrist and hemline with black ostrich. Or, the white theater suit brushed with gold and the drama of white Coq feathers at the throat.

The flurry of feathers makes itself known among fashion circles on our own shores. A fashion award winning design won recent attention. A pheasant feather helmet, hugging the head, and built high in the crown. It somehow achieved a space age look with the use of the same feather adornment treasured by our grandmothers and long-ago lady ancestors.

OF COURSE, if we peer that far into the distant past, we'll remember the male of the household went hunting for those treasures for his light of love. Didn't we hear someone say something about the hunting season being underway?

LINDA HARPER

The engagement of Linda Elaine Harper to Michael Robert Walter was announced at a recent dinner party by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Harper of Farmington. ## 'Night of Splendor' To Be Held Nov. 11

Mrs. R. Dewey Hansen of 31621 Bobrich, Livonia, is one of the key figures in the planning of the Women of Wayne's "Night of Splendor" to be held at the Detroit Historical Museum at 8:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 11. Mrs. Hansen is active in Alumni Affairs and serves as President of the Farmington Women of Wayne Association.

The fun evening has a fund purpose for the University's centennial celebration in 1968 and also to furnish funds for the incentive scholarships that Women of Wayne are offering for the first time to part time mature women students who desire to return to school to finish their career preparation.

Festivities will start in the Streets of Old Detroit, with tontypes and barber shop singing. Then the main events will center in the Great Hall where for the rest of the evening, alumnae, husbands, and guests will have special entertainment, music for dancing and a spectacular refreshment table with champagne and punch.

George E. Gullen, Jr. recently named Vice President for University Relations of Wayne State University and his wife will be honored guests and will head the receiving line.

Other key members of the 40 member committee which includes members from the eight suburban member organizations include: Chairman Mrs. Don H. Hall, Dolores J. Stevens, Dorothy J. Moor, and Mrs. Leslie Sepala from Detroit; Mrs. Alexander Westcott and Mrs. Robert Jones from Grosse Pointe; Mrs. Robert Hague from Birmingham and Mrs. Irving Dworkin from Farmington.

Premature? Sure it is! But not too soon to assess your 1967 outlook. Ask yourself the following questions about your present position: "Will it fill my 1967 expectations?" "Is it challenging?" "Are my talents being fully exploited?" Now assess your answers. Is it a blind alley job? Should you switch to a more rewarding career? Perhaps you should be selling our computers and related business equipment. NCR did 735 million dollars worth of business last year—double that of 10 years ago. Our trained salesmen are well into the five figure income. If you're in the 22-35 age bracket and have been to college, give me a ring during business hours or Saturday from 9-12. # Urge Care Handling Poisons

Useful and harmless when properly used, household cleaners, pesticides, medicines, paints and any number of other staple supplies are potential killers when handled carelessly.

This warning comes from the Greater Detroit Safety Council, a chapter of the National Safety Council.

"Anything can be a poison if it is misused," says Gerald E. Montgomery, executive director of the local safety group. "People should act on the principle that if it isn't food it is poison."

To prevent your family from becoming statistics, the National Safety Council offers the following suggestions:

● Keep all drugs and medicines far out of the reach of children, even if it means a separate, locked cabinet.

● Label all containers, and mark prescriptions with the date of issue, the dosage, and the patient's name.

● Do not keep cleaners or any other toxic chemicals in any place accessible to children.

● Get rid of an old, unlabeled or discolored medicine by pouring it down the drain — never by throwing the bottles in the wastebasket where youngsters might find them.

● Before administering any drug, read the label in a good light.

● Paste the day and night phone numbers of your doctor, druggist and any local poison control center to the wall of the cabinet.

● When known poisons, such as iodine or alcohol, are necessary, treat them so they'll be recognizable even in a dark room. Tape the cap shut; glue on sandpaper, rough side out; or stick a sharp pin through the stopper.

● Never put anything potentially poisonous in a cup, pop bottle or other container that normally holds food. Anyone, adult or child, might assume it is edible.

● Impress the children that they must not taste unknown liquids, pills, leaves, roots.

● Safety-check your medicine chest at least twice a year, making sure all dangerous drugs are out and all needed materials are at hand.

Organization of Campers Forms Local Chapter

The National Campers and Hikers Association is establishing a new chapter in Western Wayne Counties.

The Association was first organized in February, 1963 with their first chapter with only five families. It has since grown to 46 chapters in Michigan, with 21 chapters in the suburbs of Detroit and a total of 1,500 families.

The organization has four main goals:

● To work towards the conservation of natural resources.

● To provide a friendly atmosphere of camping among members.

● To establish regional centers from which members unfamiliar with the area may obtain reports on campsites, trails, and game laws.

● To recommend improvements in camping and hiking facilities wherever the need exists.

An organizational meeting is being held to form this newest chapter in the Multi-purpose room at the Merril-Bowl Lanes, 30950 Five Mile Road, Livonia, Oct. 27 at 7:30 p.m.

Anyone interested in camping or hiking is invited and urged to attend and bring along another camping family with them. Field Director, Marge Schulkins, and District Field Director, Ken Stumpf, will be on hand to explain NCHA and answer any questions. Slides will be shown on local chapter and other state and national Campventions. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Long known as "The Friendliest People in the World" anyone with an interest in camping and hiking is encouraged to join. The NCHA invites camping families to contact Mrs. Schulkins to join in the outdoors fun and fellowship. For further information, write Marge Schulkins, 29533 Medbury, Farmington, or call her at 474-9459.
