Township, City Clerks Predict 65 Per Cent at Polls

See Huge Turnout for Tuesday's Voting

With the election of Plymouth Township's top administrators in addition to two trustees and a controversial liquor by the glass proposal on the City of Plymouth ballot, Township Clerk Mrs. Helen Richardson and City Clerk Eugene Slider are looking forward to one of the largest turnouts in years for next Tuesday's off-year general election. There are more than 10,000 eligible voters in the two communities and the two clerks, who also serve as chairmen of the election boards, are looking for a percentage that could go as high as 65 per cent. Neither Mrs. Richardson nor Slider has participated in previous general elections in the community, each taking office within the past year. But each has checked past elections and each believes the interest is higher this year than at any previous off-year election in annals. Most of the interest has been generated by the battles between G. Mennen Williams and Robert Griffin for U. S. Senator, Congressman Wes Vivian and his opponent Marv Esch for the Second Congressional District seat and Gov. Romney and Zolton Ferency for the gubernatorial seat. Especially is this true in Plymouth Township where Supervisor John McEwen, Clerk Mrs. Richardson and Treasurer Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes face no opposition in their bid for re-election. This could be the most important election in Township annals since there is a distinct possibility that the trio may be elected to four-year terms instead of the traditional two. The matter is still before the Legislature for a final determination but it is well-known that many of the legislators favor four-year terms. There is a fight for the two trustee seats where Republican incumbents Ralph Garber and Gene Overholt are bidding to retain their posts. It is re-election for Garber but the first time Gene Overholt's name has gone to the voters—he was appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Supervisor Roy Lindsay after McEwen had been elevated to Supervisor from clerk. Mrs. Richardson will be running for the first time. She was named the successor to Clerk C. Veach Sparks who resigned last spring. Garber and Overholt have competition from Rev. David Strang, the lone Democrat on the Township ballot, who has ambitions of replacing one of the two on the Township board. Like Overholt, it is Strang's first time in politics. The pastor of the Epiphany Lutheran Church, on Five Mile Road, has waged a strong fight and has presented a strong platform. However, he faces a real struggle principally because the Dems in the township have shown little interest in the election. This became apparent in August when the Dems, who had made it known they would have a full ticket entered in the primary, didn't file as many as one petition until Rev. Strang finally entered to keep the party alive in the election.

Observer Urges 'Yes' Vote on Liquor Issue

The question of liquor by the glass goes before voters in the City of Plymouth for the fourth time next Tuesday and the Observer again urges support of the issue.

The City of Plymouth is the only community in Wayne County that is still "dry" to the extent that it doesn't permit the sale of alcoholic beverages by the glass. This is a matter of local option for the individual community and thrice voters in the City have rejected the proposal.

Each time those who bitterly oppose the issue have been successful with last minute campaigns to beat the issue by slender margins. The last was four years ago by slightly more than 40 votes.

It appears odd to the Observer that some residents of Plymouth fight the issue when it is well known that liquor is available by the glass at four establishments in Plymouth Township, all within a mile of the central business district of the City.

The City has long permitted the sale of beer and wine at three spots — the Box Bar, Toll House and the Mayflower Hotel — but when business, industry, commercial or social groups wish to gather for a cocktail party in advance of a dinner, they have to move to the Township outside the city limits.

Opponents of the issue feel passage will open the doors to bars in every section of the city.

The truth of the matter is that the City probably would be eligible for six licenses if it passed. However, this doesn't necessarily mean that all six would be issued. That is a matter for the City Commission to decide and we believe the voters should have enough confidence in the Commission to know it wouldn't do anything detrimental to the City.

Past City Commissions have expressed a feeling that there should never be any more than three beer-wine permits now in existence. The present Commission could follow that same pattern if it desired and approve only three permits.

There are those who say the issuance of licenses is strictly a matter for the Michigan Liquor Control Commission but this isn't true. The final decision rests with the City Commission — if the City factors say no more than three permits will be issued during their term in office, then the MLCC will follow that pattern.

Within the two square mile boundaries of Plymouth, it is almost an impossibility to find sites available for liquor by the glass permits.

In the first place, a licensee must pass the scrutiny of the examination by the MLCC, the city police and the City Commission. The City Police must canvass the entire area around a proposed site to learn if a majority of the property owners are favorable. If they aren't, then the site can't be approved.

In the meantime, investigators for the MLCC carefully check the background of each license applicant. There can't be any criminal record or once again the permit will be denied.

Then too, the laws require that a license may not be issued to any establishment less than 500 feet from a church or school, and the proposed site must be zoned commercial.

Thus the city police have the right to reject the license; the city commission can refuse to rezone the site to commercial; the MLCC may find a black mark on the record of the applicant... all of these add up to rejection.

Then the final clincher could come when one finds a school or church inside the required 500 foot walking distance.

We have been looking over the City of Plymouth carefully for the past several months and find few sites that will meet all of the requirements.

We believe the proposal should be approved. We believe the citizens of the City of Plymouth should have enough confidence in the City Commission, the Police Department and the Michigan Liquor Control Commission to vote "Yes" with the full knowledge that liquor by the glass will not be abused.

We do not believe that it will turn the City into a community with a "skid row" string of saloons. It didn't happen in Plymouth Township where the Township Board carefully screened all applicants — what leads one to believe that it will happen in the City?

We urge voters to support the issue.

PCF Roars Past Halfway Mark in Fund Campaign

Although there is still a great deal of work ahead in the remaining days and nights before the Nov. 10 victory dinner, Edward Schening, general chairman of the Plymouth Community Fund drive, believes it will be a victory dinner and not one with half-reports.

"We are halfway home," said Schening, following last week's report luncheon. "But as in any race, it's the final half that is always the hardest. That's why we want every worker in every division to continue his or her work until we finally know that we're over the top."

"I feel confident that we'll go over the goal of $88,543 but we just can't afford to rest on our oars at this stage and then suddenly discover that a last minute lag has cost us a victory."

Schening, who has been on the ailing list since the kick-off dinner and torchlighting ceremony, got out of a sick bed to attend the meeting and indicated he would attend as many meetings with community organizations as possible in the remaining time of the drive.

He pointed out that the second luncheon showed the drive to be at the halfway point with a total of $44,127 in contributions and pledges. He stressed that the Industrial division, as expected, is leading the way with a total of $25,414.

"We know from past experience that the Industrial division either makes or breaks a community fund drive," Schening said. "We won't have reports from the large industrial plants until shortly before the victory dinner but indications now point to that division making up about 60 per cent of the goal."

Schening had high praise for the work of the residential bellringers under the leadership of Mrs. Esther Hulsing who reported a record high of $7,540. This is the result of the work of teams of hundreds of women workers who made a house-to-house visit of every home in the community.

"The bellringers must have rung every bell in every home in the area," said Schening. "This is a tremendous effort. We all doff our hats to Mrs. Hulsing and her co-workers for an excellent job well done."

The reports of other divisions, all partial at this time, include: Business, $6,733; Educational, $2,600; Professional, $1,235; Government, $320; and special gifts $285.

ALL FIGURES look good to Edward Schening, general chairman of the Plymouth Community Fund campaign, as the total shows more than 50 per cent pledged. Sandra Saeger (left), Miss Sparkle, points to the goal of $88,543 while Miss Sweet Charity, Carol Stephenson, shows the total from the schools. She's a first grade teacher at Tanger School. The drive ends on Nov. 10 with the traditional victory dinner—Schening believes it will be another victory for the PCF.

Our Election Position

The Observer gives wholehearted support to the following candidates and issues in Tuesday's election.

GOVERNOR — George Romney. He has done a tremendous job.

CONGRESS — Weston Vivian. He may have been freshman in his first term but his know-how has advanced him into the veteran class in quick order. Vivian has shown that he is an excellent representative. There's nothing like experience in any job and Vivian has that after serving two years.

Township Bd. Takes Steps For Sidewalk Program

The Plymouth Township Board of Trustees has taken the first step in the direction of providing sidewalks in areas where parents feel their children are in danger of traffic accidents because they have to walk along the shoulder of the highway.

Plymouth Goodfellows Call First Meeting

The Plymouth Goodfellows Association will meet Wednesday (tonight) at 8 in the fire station at the Plymouth City Hall.

All members are urged to attend since plans for the annual Goodfellow newspaper sale and the activities around the Christmas season will be discussed. President John Kerciu and Secretary William Green ask anyone interested in joining in the work to attend the meeting.

It may be some time before the sidewalks are actually installed but the Trustees, in a special meeting last week, passed a resolution asking Township Attorney Ralph Cole to prepare a sidewalk ordinance in accordance with the provision of Public Act 35 and to add an amendment to Subdivision Ordinance No. 13 in regard to sidewalks.

The motion was made by Trustee Ralph Garber and supported by Trustee Dick Lauterbach with only Trustee Louis Norman casting a negative vote.

At the same time, the Board indicated it would take every step possible to force developers to provide sidewalks on all main highways, outside of subdivision streets, whether it be side, back or front.

The proposed sidewalk ordinance is expected also to include the responsibility for replacing sidewalks, cost of snow removal and the financing of the sidewalks.

Public Act 35 provides that a Township Board may order construction of, or construct sidewalks, after notice to the property owners and public meeting therein. The property owner may provide same or have the property assessed therefor.

The act provides that sidewalks constructed under the provisions of the Act on the right-of-way of state highways or county roads, must have the approval of the state or county highway authority having jurisdiction over the highway or road.

Members of the Board felt that it would be unjust to assess the owners of adjoining property for the sidewalks when those benefiting most from sidewalks along main highways would be the pro-

Michigan Resorts Ready For Fall, Winter Season

LANSING—Michigan, one of the nation's leading winter vacation areas, is ready to host many thousands of

State Bird Banders Meet at Schoolcraft

Approximately 100 members of the Michigan Bird Assn. are expected to attend the organization's annual meeting Saturday at Schoolcraft College.

The program will include a talk by Chandler Robbins, chief of the migratory nongame section of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service's Bird Banding Laboratory, Laurel, Md.

The organization is composed of Michigan ornithologists and naturalists, and includes—other than private citizens—employees of the State Conservation Dept., and the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Official host will be Grover A. Niegarth, Schoolcraft biology instructor. Dr. Eric J. Bradner, Schoolcraft president, will welcome the group at 10 a.m.

Robbins will speak during the morning session on suggestions for individual and cooperative bird banding research projects. Members will also hear a report on the 1966 annual spring band-out at Port Huron by Warren Lamb, Port Huron, and a report by Mary June Wolcott, Royal Oak elementary school teacher, on migratory patterns as shown by banding at Bradley's Marsh, Ont.

After luncheon at the Waterman Center, members will have their annual business meeting and election of officers and hear reports on catbird nesting in southeast Michigan, by Dr. Walter P. Nickell, naturalist at Cranbrook Institute of Science, and a report by Dr. George Wallace, Michigan State University, on two ornithological meetings held in Europe during the past year.

skiers and other winter sports enthusiasts during the 1966-67 winter vacation season, according to the Michigan Tourist Council. More than 250,000 skiers are expected to join in the fun, usually beginning about Thanksgiving Day and continuing into April, spending about $28 million to enjoy the thrill of a downhill run on new fallen snow.

Many more are expected to take part in non-ski activities such as ice fishing, hunting, ice skating, snowmobiling, tobogganing and the many special events that dot the Michigan winter vacation calendar.

The 1966-67 edition of the Michigan Winter Sports Map, distributed free of charge by the Tourist Council, lists 83 winter sports centers and their facilities, including two new areas, Barn Mountain in Boyne City and Paradise Valley Ski Park off M-47 near Oakley, south of Saginaw.

Skiers returning to their favorite hills and haunts will find that many major improvements have been made since they reluctantly put away their skis last season.

Throughout the summer, many resorts have expanded their slopes, built lodges, added snow-making equipment and grooming equipment, and expanded dining facilities and cocktail lounges.

New lift and tow facilities have been installed at six ski areas while two resorts are now appealing to "fly-in" skiers with the addition of airplane landing strips.

For non-skiers and after-ski enjoyment, two resorts have added Finnish sauna baths, three have installed heated swimming pools and two others have added ice skating rinks. Thirty-seven areas now feature night skiing, two more than last year.

In the upper peninsula, one resort has added a snowmobile trail, appealing to devotees of this fast growing sport.

Although Michigan experienced below average conditions for winter sports last season, resort operators are confident that the 1966-67 season will be a good one.

They base their optimism on the growing trend toward "northern" winter vacations and the fact that except for a few areas in New England, the Michigan snow belt consistently records more snowfall than any other point east of the Rockies.

Last year was the first in more than a decade that Michigan has experienced a downward trend in winter sports activity, but many other areas of the country catering to the ski crowd experienced similar conditions.

Livonia Sports Club Opens Winter Program

The Livonia Sportsman's Club, sponsored by the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation, announces the beginning of its new winter program.

Club activities will include: merit badge counseling (rifle marksmanship) for the Livonia area Boy Scouts, a Junior Rifle Club to teach the proper and safe handling of firearms to young shooters, and pistol shooting for adults who wish to just practice or those who would like to compete with fellow shooters in the adult pistol league.

The Livonia Sportsman's Club is a National Rifle Association (NRA) affiliate. NRA certificates and awards will be awarded to those who qualify.

The club also offers Hunter Safety classes, small arms training sessions and is organizing a team of young rifle shooters to compete against other cities.

Range difficulties at Bentley High School which has housed club activities in the past almost caused the disbanding of the entire program. However, thanks to the Garden City Police Department who came to the rescue, the club's shooting activities will take place in the well-equipped modern range of the Garden City Police Building at 30009 Ford Road near Middlebelt in Garden City.

Anyone interested in joining may contact President Ted Callear, phone 425-3604 or the Parks and Recreation office in Livonia. Pistol shooters may contact Roy Casell at GA. 7-0979 or Kroum Gregoroff at GA. 7-1520. Registrations will be accepted at a meeting of the pistol shooters at 8 P.M. on Monday, Nov. 7, room 32 at Bentley High School.

Mayor Freeh Key Figure In "Fraud" Charges

Grand Jury Warrants Rock Election

Warrants issued by Wayne County Grand Juror George E. Bowles involving Garden City Mayor Edwin J. Freeh and two former city officials have rocked the municipal election campaign which will climax next Tuesday.

Because Freeh is seeking a second term in office, his attorney, Edward A. Koury, asked Wayne Municipal Judge John Seiler for an immediate preliminary examination and suggested last Friday, the day following the arraignment of Freeh, Eugene Salvatore, former City Councilman, and Evan Callanan, former City Attorney at the time of the 1961 purchase of land where the Civic Center is now located. Freeh was City Clerk-Treasurer at the time of the purchase and he stressed that he was in that office for only a few months when the City Council action took place. Because of the nearness of the Nov. 8 elections and Freeh's election chances, Judge Seiler agreed to schedule the start of the preliminary exam for 10 a.m. today (Wednesday) in an attempt to finish the hearings and make a ruling before the elections. However, Paul Komevis, special investigator for the grand juror, told Judge Seiler that the prosecution's side of the hearing would take at least three or four days.

In addition, Komevis said that Michigan Attorney General Frank Kelley is selecting a special assistant to handle the case and that person hasn't yet been picked. Komevis also said that even if the examination opened this week, it probably wouldn't be finished by election day.

At that point, Koury commented on the propriety of the timing of Grand Juror Bowles' warrants. Seiler, in setting the start of the hearings for today, said that he may delay it if the special assistant named by Kelley is not yet available. However, he added that he would be willing to hold court sessions on Saturday to expedite the matter.

The Grand Juror's warrant claims that the three illegally loaned $80,160 to William H. New, a Dearborn Heights realtor, whose wife bought the Civic Center land from its previous owners on the same day it sold the land to the City Council.

The warrant also claims that the three had a financial interest in the matter, violating the "conflict of interest" section of the city charter.

Bowles also said in his warrant that the three defendants also conspired to unlawfully obtain for themselves $12,000 from city funds "with the intent to cheat and defraud" the city.

Stephanie Miquelon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Robert Miquelon, 11310 Hubbard, Livonia, was presented a certificate to honor underclass scholarship by Epsilon Delta Alpha, academic honorary, at Hillsdale College. She is a sophomore, and a graduate of Franklin High School.

Driver Fined $300

A fine of $300 was imposed on Harry F. Rippey, 30, of 22808 Huessner St., Warren, last week in Livonia Municipal Court where he was found guilty of driving on a suspended license. Judge James McCann suspended a 30-day jail sentence.

Each Receives Silver Beaver Award

Boy Scouts Honor Two Area Leaders

Plymouth became one of the few cities of its size in the United States to have five holders of the much coveted Silver Beaver award of the Boy Scouts of America when Rodger Ketchman, 8355 Ridge Road, was honored at the annual meeting of the Sunset District at Franklin High in Livonia.

Ketchman and Clay Thayer, of 1044 Cardwell, Garden City, were recipients of the award which is presented for outstanding service to boyhood of the community over a long period of time.

Ketchman thus joins Sid Strong, Kenneth Hulsing, Edward Miller and Ferris Mathias as winners of the Silver Beaver. Strong was one of the first in the area to receive the award.

At the same time Ketchman was honored, Ray Hulce, of 9275 McClumpha Road, Plymouth, was elected district chairman in the annual election. Hulce is purchasing agent for the Ford Division of Ford Motor Co.

Ketchman is an executive engineer on the staff of Ford Motor Co. and Thayer is in accountancy sales for Milbrand Maintenance Co. Inc. of Warren.

Others elected are: Kenneth Humphrey, 32124 Rosslyn, Garden City, vice chairman in charge of finance, health, safety and public relations; Richard Matson, of Ann Arbor, vice chairman in charge of leadership training, organization and extension;

Still Sailing - Or Home?

Now listen carefully. Airman Clarence C. Baughman is no longer an airman; he was discharged from the Navy in April after serving four years and four months.

He is now a civilian employed at the General Motors plant in Livonia. Baughman didn't sail on the Attack Aircraft Carrier Coral Sea; he was aboard the U. S. S. Midway.

In one little paragraph which appeared in this newspaper Oct. 26, it appears that the facts were somewhat garbled.

Baughman, 23, called the Observer office to inquire how he could be at home and in the South China Sea at the same time.

Anyhow, he is at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Baughman of 11785 Camden Road, Livonia, and with the printing of this story, the facts should stand corrected.

Meet Your Carrier

Mark Kowalski, the young lad who has been delivering the Observer for the past few months, has packed a lot of action into his 12 years.

The son of John and Nancy Kowalski, of 17674 Wakenon Ave. in Redford Township has attained a "B" average at Our Lady of Loretto School, with math and science as his favorite subjects. Aside from that he plays baseball, football and basketball at school and at the Boys Club. He also played in the Little League in football.

He likes to tinker with sports cars and model cars and recently showed his athletic ability by winning second place in the Ford Motor Company's Punt, Pass and Kick competition.

and Chispen Hammond, of Northville, vice chairman in charge of activities, camping and advancement.

Then the membership selected Ketchman for district commissioner and Thayer as his assistant.

More than 200 attended the program for the presentation ceremonies and the election.

THE SILVER BEAVER, highest award of Scouting for an adult leader, is presented to two area men at the annual meeting of the Sunset District. Shown in the presentation are: Clay Thayer, Mrs. Thayer, Lee Scott, Mrs. Ketchman and Rodger Ketchman along with District Chairman Ray Hulce of Plymouth, Thayer, of Garden City, and Ketchman, of Plymouth, received the awards.

Bill Collectors With Bullets

The "shoot-em" up bill collectors who attacked the home of Raymond Griffen on Alpine for a debt of $7,300 were bound over for circuit court, by Judge James McCann. Released on bond were Charles Franchi alias Nicholas Barone on $20,000 bond and Marvin S. Mason on $5,000 bond.

Charges were dismissed against Lawrence Near, owner of the Near Wholesale Supply on W. Eight Mile in Livonia to whom Griffen owed the money for materials he purchased for his roofing business.

Griffen's home was attacked Oct. 20 and again Oct. 25. Shots were fired at his house with bullets imbedded in the wall of the home, one in the bedroom of Griffen's teenage daughter.

The Livonia police caught the two "collectors" in Livonia, blocks from the Griffen home.

Wards Exhibits Revolutionary Nailing Device

A revolutionary portable nailing tool that drives regular 16 penny nails will be demonstrated tomorrow, Friday and Saturday at the Montgomery Ward store in Wonderland Center.

Called the "Stallion" the device is the first portable pneumatic nailer to drive regular nails. Manufactured by Paslode, the nailer saves time and effort, eliminates waste of nails and results in tighter joints.

Cartridge fed, the Stallion weighs just 11 pounds and operates on compressed air at 80 to 100 p.s.i.

The demonstrations will take place in Wards paint department on the first floor.

Wonderland to Show New Checker Autos

A certificate worth 100 gallons of gasoline will be presented to the winner of a contest Saturday, Nov. 12 at Wonderland Center.

The gasoline bonanza will climax the showing of Michigan-made Checker passenger cars. Free entry blanks will be available at most Wonderland stores beginning today.

Checker, for 50 years America's leader in building rugged taxicabs, builds a four-door sedan and four-door station wagon for public use.

With a 120" wheelbase and less than 200" over-all length, the Marathon affords superb handling in both city traffic and country highways. Yet, eight adults can ride in luxurious comfort when the two optional fold-away seats are used.

Standard power plant is an economical six-cylinder engine developing 140 h.p. and using regular gasoline. For added power and performance, two V-8's are available. One is a 283 cu. inch regular fuel engine providing 195 h.p.; the 327 cu. inch model produces 250 h.p.

The vehicles will be on display on the Wonderland mall from today until Nov.

12. Entries for the gasoline contest must be deposited through the rear window of one of the cars in the exhibit.

While Teachers Attend Institute

Students Get a Long Weekend

School's out Thursday and Friday—but a vacation for Plymouth students means a meeting for teachers in Detroit and in area schools.

A Michigan Education Association teacher's institute starting Thursday morning in Detroit's Cobo Hall.

Guest speakers at the first session will be the candidates for governor—Gov. George Romney and Democratic challenger Zolton Ferency—and the candidates for U. S. Senator—Democrat G. Mennen Williams and Republican Sen. Robert Griffin.

Also speaking at the first session will be Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction, and Lois V. Edinger, past president of the National Education Association, who will give the keynote address.

The remainder of the institute will consist of seminar-type meetings on problems in education.

Not only teachers will be meeting during the institute. School business officers, who are not members of the MEA, will meet separately on the University of Michigan campus Thursday. Cafeteria employees will meet at Redford Union High School.

The Thursday afternoon sessions will discuss 11 topics, including state and federal legislation, the effect of pressure groups on the schools, educating the handicapped, academic freedom, "Teacher's Day in Court," and "Religion—In and Out."

Friday sessions will be divided according to teaching areas, and groups will meet in nearby high schools rather than in Detroit. Some of the 35 different topics will be athletics, foreign languages, junior high, mathematics, and driver education.

Martha To Lend Helping Hand to Wes Vivian

Mrs. Martha Griffiths, long-time congressional representative of the area including Plymouth before the recent reapportionment which moved her district into the city of Detroit, will join Congressman Wes Vivian in a coffee klatch Friday evening at 7 in the Mayflower Meeting House.

Congresswoman Griffiths, who built a considerable following during her years as the area representative, plans to meet with as many of her oldtime friends as possible and explain why they should back Vivian.

The meeting is open to the public and all interested are urged to attend and hear the comments of the two Congressmen.

Basketball Registration Draws 100 Youngsters

More than 100 boys, between the ages of 8 and 15, registered for the Plymouth Community Junior Basketball League program on opening day last Saturday. That was the announcement by Director John Van Wagoner who indicated 47 of the youngsters were newcomers this year.

Registration continues at Junior High West on Saturday from 2 to 4 p.m. and on Saturday, Nov. 12 from 9 to 12 a.m.

Tryouts to establish teams will be held from noon to 3 p.m. on Nov. 12.

All interested boys should bring a parent along when they register. The registration fee is $5.50 per boy but Van Wagoner stressed that no youngster will be denied the chance of participating if unable to pay the fee.

For additional information call Van Wagoner at 453-8023.

Enrico Odorico and Bob Schroeder, Wayne State University junior varsity assistant coaches, were teammates on the 1963 Tartar varsity.

Supervisor Jack McEwen told the group that Heritage Apartments would have sidewalks in front of their buildings and that this should ease the situation some at the intersection of N. Territorial and Sheldon Roads.

The question arose as to what authority the Township had to sell bonds for the financing of the installation of

(Continued from Page 1) sidewalks and Attorney Cola was asked to check into the matter and make a report at the next regular meeting.

The Trustees approved the installation of 12 street lights upon recommendation of Supervisor McEwen. The lights will be located at Ann Arbor Trail and Brownell, Ann Arbor Trail and Russell, Haggerty and Orangelawn, Ann Arbor Trail and Morgan, Ann Arbor Trail and Burger, Haggerty and Firwood, Haggerty and Nicol, Five Mile and Innbrook, N. Territorial and Beacon Hill Drive, Five Mile and Willowbrook, Five Mile and Maxwell and N. Territorial and aDnbury.

Dr. Robert Evans served as spokesman for a group of parents who have children attending Bird School and who fear the traffic conditions on Sheldon Road. The group is concerned over the safety of their youngsters in lieu of the increased traffic expected on Sheldon Road when the new Ford plant opens.

Dr. Evans told the Trustees that he had contacted the National Bank of Detroit and Owner - Developer Loren Gould, who has the professional office complex on Sheldon Road, and both indicated they would be willing to install sidewalks on their side of the road, if they were assured where the sidewalks should be and that the location was permanent.

Officers of St. John's Episcopal Church also assured Dr. Evans that they have money budgeted to pay for sidewalks in front of their property.

The question arose as to what authority the Township had to sell bonds for the financing of the installation of group from Hough Subdivision, who have been leaders in the fight against the proposal in each of the past three elections, along with many members of the professional fraternity.

The Observer, as it did four years ago, is supporting the passage of the proposal on the grounds that it will help the business community, especially in the downtown business district and also will add to the tax base of the city by directly or indirectly aiding much needed expansions of businesses in the City.

moved into the district to run for state senator. He showed little as a Mayor of Berkley, except the ability to grab headlines with his fight against city income taxes. Livingston may not have as much experience but he has demonstrated that in a quiet manner, he gets the job done.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE—James Tierney. Again there isn't any better recommendation—as experience. Tierney was outstanding in the most recent session of the State Legislature. John Tripp, his opponent, is young, willing and able but this is his first appearance in politics and that doesn't necessarily add up to a representative of the type of Tierney.

TOWNSHIP OFFICES

The mere fact that the Democratic Party couldn't get together a complete slate to run against the present Township officials is an indication that Republicans and Democrats alike are satisfied with the present. If they are, then so are we. We like Rev. David Strang and feel he probably would be a good Trustee but one Democrat on a Republican Board is just another wasted vote. We don't need that.

LIQUOR BY THE GLASS

The Observer urges passage. The City of Plymouth has been backward on this issue for too many years. It's time that the City keep business within the limits and not chase it into the Township. Businessmen in the City need all the business they can get without laws that prohibit it. We backed the proposal four years ago and back it again now because we believe it is necessary for the growth of the downtown business district.

Jan Fischer Heads 4-H Thunderbirds

Jan Fischer has been elected president of the 4-H Thunderbirds and was elevated to that position at the first meeting of the season, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Fischer.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 9 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hampton.

Retired Teachers Meet

Members of the Greater Detroit Retired Teachers Association will hold a meeting on Friday, Nov. 4, at 1 p.m., at the Old Mariners' Church, Detroit Civic Center, in Detroit.

State Police Opens Doors To Women For First Time

For the first time in their history, the Michigan State Police are seeking recruits for state policewomen, Colonel Fredrick E. Davids has announced.

Initially two policewomen will be employed in community relations and juvenile work. These positions were included in five authorized for this purpose by the legislature this year. The State Police requested the additional positions, recognizing a need for them because of the growing emphasis given to community relations and juvenile rehabilitation activities.

Applications will be accepted by the State Civil Service Department at Lansing until 5 p.m., Monday, Nov. 14. Application blanks and position information may be obtained from the department or from any State Police post.

Eligible to apply for the state policewoman I position are women, married or single, who are 21 to 30 years old inclusive, at least 5 feet 2 inches but not more than 5 feet 9 inches tall, with weight not under 110 pounds.

Candidates must have a bachelor's degree from an accredited college, must be in good physical condition and of good moral character. They need not be residents of Michigan at the time of application but must be American citizens.

The biweekly pay range for policewomen I will be from $244 to $297.60. Any uniforms needed and equipment will be furnished and work travel expenses provided.

After two years of satisfactory service, the state policewomen will be promoted automatically to policewoman II for which the salary range would be $278 to $342.40 biweekly.

Qualified candidates will receive 11 weeks of training at East Lansing headquarters, paralleling the instruction given male trooper candidates, and there will be emphasis on training in juvenile code and procedures.

2 Livonians Are Named To U-D Staff

Two Livonia residents are newly-appointed faculty members at the University of Detroit. They are Edward M. Mazze, 25, 15075 Hubbard Rd., Livonia, associate professor of management and marketing, and John R. Roberts, 38, 32117 Meadowbrook Lane, Livonia, associate professor of English.

Dr. Mazze holds bachelor and master of business administration degrees from City College of New York and a doctor of philosophy degree from Pennsylvania State University.

He is a member of the American Association of University Professors, the American Marketing Association, Pi Kappa Alpha, and the Society for the Advancement of Management.

Dr. Roberts graduated magna cum laude from Indiana State University and holds a master of arts and a doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Illinois.

Dr. Roberts has been at the University of Wisconsin as an assistant professor since 1962. He is a former president of Eta Sigma Phi, classical languages honorary fraternity, and is a member of Psi Sigma Iota, Romance Language honorary fraternity.

Campers to Be Feature Of Detroit Auto Show

The camping and outdoor enthusiast will find a gold mine of ideas at the 51st Detroit Auto Show, Nov. 26 through Dec. 4 in Cobo Hall.

On display in Hall D—the lower level—will be approximately 200 collapsible campers, pick-up campers mounted on trucks, self-contained motor homes, and travel trailers with an estimated total retail value of $600,000.

Boyce Tope, show manager and executive vice president of the sponsoring Detroit Auto Dealers Association, said the addition of recreational vehicles to the show was made because of the increasing public interest in fishing, camping, hunting, and other outdoor activities.

"There'll be vehicles of all kinds," said Tope. "The outdoorsman who wants a strictly functional camping unit will find samples at the auto show. And the guy who wants to carry all the comforts of home along with him on that fishing trip will be able to inspect luxurious motor homes."

Tope said the use of Hall D makes the Detroit auto show the largest in the country, with a floor area of 400,000 square feet for exhibits.

The upper halls—A, B, and C—will be devoted to the new auto models from all the American manufacturers and most foreign makers as well. Included will be special exhibits, such as cutaway models, engineering displays, and custom-made show cars.

Professional stage entertainment will be presented for the first time in ten years. Two shows daily will be free to Auto Show visitors.

Show hours will be noon to 11 p.m. daily. Admission will be $1.25 for adults, 50 cents for children 12 and under.

Warn Youngsters Now About Dangers of Fires

More than 2,000 children die every year in home fires. Yet, most of them could walk swiftly away from death if they were given the most elementary fire instructions.

A parent would be horrified to discover his child's school did not hold fire drills. But a child is 200 more times likely to be trapped in fire at home than at school.

Here are some pointers for setting up your own fire drills at home:

Map out, with the children helping, two separate escape routes from each room—a main route and in case that is blocked an alternate. Main exits usually are doors and stairways. Alternates usually are windows.

A portable ladder provides an excellent escape from upper windows. These range from an inexpensive rope ladder to those of light weight aluminum. A sturdy trellis outside a window may be ladder enough for an agile child.

The most important life-saving command to impress upon children is: Escape immediately. Don't let them try to put out the fire or pause to gather up possessions. Minutes, even seconds, are crucial. Fires can spread unbelievably fast. And set a specific place outside to gather promptly for a quick head count.

If the window is jammed or frozen shut during a fire, children may not think of the obvious: break the window. Show them how to smash the pane with a loose shoe, and then run the shoe around the inside of the frame to clean off jagged edges before climbing out.

Impress upon the children the deadliness of smoke. The majority of fire victims are asphyxiated by smoke long before. Warn the children against braving a smoke-filled hall, or flinging open a door and letting the smoke pour in. Wet handkerchiefs over the mouth do not filter out poisonous gases in smoke.

Once you work out your family fire drill, make a note on the kitchen calendar to repeat the drill at regular intervals. Some households feel once a month isn't too often. Adults also die in home fires, and these same basic rules apply to all ages and both sexes. Practice drills will help much to reduce the natural panic that grips most folks when they realize abruptly that their house is on fire.

Stevenson Bows, Still Is Saluted

Most coaches would groan if their football teams failed to win a football game. Not so for Jack Reardon at Stevenson high in Livonia. "I'm very encouraged by the way our kids played," said Reardon after Stevenson dropped its closing Interlakes League game by a 20-13 score to Pontiac Northern last Friday night.

"Sure, we finished 0-5 in the league. But remember, we were only in our second year of fielding a team. Also, remember, we had no twelfth graders like the other schools did."

"From what I have seen this year, I'm sure that Stevenson is headed for a very fine future in football."

Except for a couple of mistakes on pass defense, Reardon felt that Stevenson could have beaten Pontiac Northern.

"But, how can you blame your kids," added Reardon. "We're really very young."

Stevenson hung in all game against Pontiac although Northern did push over two touchdowns in the second quarter to gain a 13-0 halftime edge.

The Livonians bounced back on a 13-yard touchdown run by Dave Mastny and a conversion by Randy Johns to reduce the Northern edge to 13-7.

After Northern countered with another touchdown, Dan Keith of Franklin broke through to block a kick.

Guard Richard Kinnick was there for Stevenson, picked up the ball and dashed 35 yards to score.

The Stevenson season ends Friday night against North Farmington at Bentley high's field.

Team Teaching Explained at Hoover

The monthly meeting of the Hoover PTA will be held on Monday, Nov. 7. A short meeting will begin in the Multi-Purpose Room at 7:45 p.m.

At 8:15 p.m. parents will be split into grade level meetings where the teachers will attempt to explain the new innovations of team teaching and answer any questions you might have as to what is being done in the classrooms. There will be two 40-minute sessions with a short break in between, so that parents with children in more than one classroom can attend both sessions.

Dee Bassett is the new Hospitality Chairman.

Recently, Hoover PTA purchased the following items for the school: rug for the library reading center; picture frame for Herbert C. Hoover portrait; frames and reproductions of pictures by famous painters for the halls; coffee pot.

New Course At Marshall Told To Parents

A new subject to be introduced into the sixth grade curriculum is the object of a PTA General Membership meeting, to be held at the Marshall School, 33901, Curtis Road, on Monday, Nov. 7 at 8 p.m.

This is a significant step forward for Marshall, and there are many parents who will have questions about the subject. A special invitation is extended to all sixth grade parents in particular, as their signed permission will be necessary before their children can participate in the classroom instruction.

A group of 33 English language teachers from 17 foreign countries were guests of Schoolcraft College for dinner and a tour of the campus on Oct. 25.

Participants in the University of Michigan English Language Institute, members of the group teach English as a foreign language in secondary schools in their homelands.

After welcoming remarks by Dr. Eric J. Bradner, Schoolcraft president, and an explanation of the uniquely American community college concept by college vice-president John H. Brinn, the visitors toured the campus. Ralph Kelley, chairman of the Schoolcraft English division and members of the English faculty were tour guides.

The visit was arranged by Marvin Gans, Schoolcraft director of physical education, who is vice-president of the Michigan Assn. of Overseas Educators.

Evans Shows Big Gains

PORTLAND, ORE.—Evans Products Company announced Monday that sales and earnings for the first nine months of 1966 were $214,391,000 and $5,773,000 respectively in contrast to sales of $177,953,000 and earnings of $5,635,000 for the same period of 1965.

Earnings were less than expected primarily because of startup expenses and manpower problems at the Plymouth, Mich. railcar and equipment manufacturing plant. Corrective action is being taken at the Plymouth plant and its performance should improve markedly.

With the present high order backlog and with profitable operations at the Blue Island, Ill. and Washington, Indiana railcar plants, Evans expects carbuilding to make a substantial contribution to earnings in 1967.

In the aggregate, sales and earnings in the other operations of the company continue at levels above those of last year. The United States Railway Equipment Company Division has benefited by the expansion of its railcar building, rebuilding and leasing activities. Sales and earnings of the Plywall Division, which services mobile home manufacturers predominantly, and the Fiber Products Division are continuing at high levels.

The Capp-Homes Division has performed at substantially higher levels than were forecast for this year, setting new records for sales and earnings. However, certain operations in the Building Materials Division and Moore's Super Stores Division have been adversely affected by the slowdown in homebuilding.

Construction of the Fiber Products Division's particle board plant at Silsbee, Texas and the Plywall Division's panel printing and prefinishing facility at Chesapeake, Va. is proceeding and production is scheduled for early 1967.

THE FAMED 16-MAN "fight-cheer brass band" from the University of Michigan's marching band will highlight the halftime program at Plymouth High Friday when the Rocks close their 1966 season. Directed by Leroy Lane, a former member of the PHS band, the 6-man group will demonstrate its colorful maneuvers and music. The students are all music majors and members of the symphonic band in addition to the marching organization. The group includes: (front, from left) Ed Zendera, Jim Burson, Eric Rupp, John Crick, Don Cross and H. H. Hansen; (second row, from left) John Kitzman, Joe Duchi, Eldred Baird, Nick Lutz, Stan Szymko and Art Jennings; (rear with tubas, from left) Walter Zechsin and James Skala. That's Lane doing the directing.

Famed U-M Musicians Perform

One of the most interesting closing game programs ever presented at Plymouth High is on tap Friday when the Rocks ring down the curtain on their 1966 football activities against the powerful Walled Lake grid machine.

But at the same time, Band Director James Griffith has made arrangements for the 16-man "fight-cheer brass band" from the University of Michigan to perform during the halftime show.

The group is directed by Leroy Lane, a former Plymouth High bandsman, and it has delighted U-M home game crowds with its special arrangements of swinging fight cheers.

The 16-man unit will highlight the halftime show and then will be feted at a reception in the school cafeteria following the game. Members of the PHS band, parents and friends of the visiting group are invited to attend.

The pre-game ceremonies will be highlighted by the presentation of an American flag by Gene Leader, Americanism chairman of VFW Mayflower Post 6695, and the state championship color guard unit under the direction of Harold Young.

Leader has planned to have Congressman Wes Vivian participate in the presentation since the flag is one that has flown over the Capitol but had to cancel that portion of the program due to objections by the Republican Party that it would involve politics and that Vivian's opponent, Marvin Esch, should have equal time.

Vivian had planned on making a three-minute talk on "Patriotism" but the entire portion of the program was cancelled.

Book Tells of Controls For Insects

A new publication of interest to both city and rural people with ornamental shrubs and trees is "Insects Affecting Woody Ornamental Shrubs and Trees."

Don Juchartz, Wayne County Extension Agricultural Agent, says the new Extension Service publications is available at a 25 cent charge.

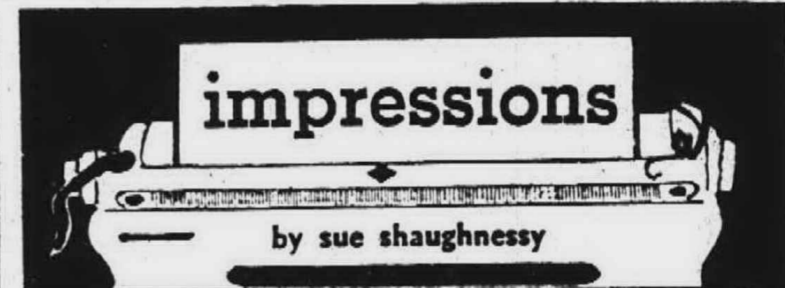

The 40-page publication has illustrations showing the different kinds of insects and damage they cause, and will help the gardener determine the type of dust or spray to be used to control the insects.

The publication (Extension bulletin No. 530) was prepared by William E. Wallner, Extension specialist in the MSU department of entomology. Orders should be sent direct to the Bulletin Office, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Mich. 48823.

Bright Hues for Him

The blazer set off a whole splash of color in men's wear. If a man wears a solid color sports jacket, why shouldn't he bring pattern to the other half of his outfit, his slacks?

Gentlemen's Quarterly reports that the campus set and others now are wearing patterned slacks. These are seen in blanket plaids and tartans, neat glen plaids and houndstooth checks.

Autumn is the time for football, cider and apples.

Something else crops up each year at this time though. Actually I had forgotten all about it until a fellow worker sailed into the office one day and asked for help.

It seems as though a scavenger hunt was planned and she had to compile a list of goodies for the participants. Everybody put their heads together and soon a total of 20 items were listed. The poor homeowners have our sympathy when the members of this hunt descend.

However, before telling you just what the participants of this particular hunt must find, allow me to reminisce for a moment.

A scavenger hunt is best when the night is crisp and cold. After all one can't race around a neighborhood madly if it's warm.

It also helps if there is a full moon. This light cuts down on the incidence of injury.

Somehow I was never so lucky. On the night of our hunts it always seemed to be raining. Once the hunt was conducted during a sleet storm.

One night we were instructed to find, among other things, a round paper clip. I didn't think such things existed. I have since learned that they do, but how many private homes keep a supply of round paper clips among their possessions?

For more than two hours, five of us knocked on every door in about a square mile radius seeking this one last item.

The reaction ranged from amusement to irritation — it seems that other members of the hunt had been through the neighborhood before. It was all in vain, however, as no round paper clip was to be found.

One consolation, however, no other group found a round paper clip either.

Naturally with this kind of an experience behind me I suggested a round paper clip. The gal in charge wouldn't put it on the list. She thought that was just a little too much. Somehow knowing the resourcefulness of today's teenagers I think that all of the groups would have found one or manufactured one.

However, this list for the hunt should keep them busy. The items that the teenagers have to collect in a two-hour time span are: a corset stay; a used typewriter ribbon; a burned out Christmas tree light; a lighter flint; a half of an empty egg shell; old toothbrush; a 1965 calendar; a baby bottle nipple; one pine cone; a broken rubberband; an old bed-sheet; a month-old newspaper; a coffee or jumping bean; a nearly empty toilet paper roll; a store sales slip; a football-player cap from a coke bottle; two wooden kitchen matches; a bar of small guest soap; one used dress pattern; and the participant's baby picture taken before the age of one year.

One last point — by the time this is published the hunt will be over so we are not warning either homeowners or the participants of anything before the fact. And after the fact a warning would do no good.

Natural Finish Easier to Clean

Women like natural woodwork in the home because it's easy to care for. Fingermarks, for instance, don't show as they do on painted surfaces.

Care and cleaning of fine softwood moldings, door and window casings, cabinetwork and paneling are much the same as for furniture. Regular dusting and an occasional buffing with a soft cloth will keep natural finished woodwork in tip-top condition.

Senior Citizens Have Big Time At Fall Party

The Autumn Leaf party of the Plymouth Senior Citizens Club was one of the most successful in history with more than 200 in attendance. Forest McDonald was hilarious as host in a villain costume and Mrs. Frank Ciolkoski served as hostess in a witch's outfit. Autumn leaf nametags were pinned on all guests by Mrs. Birkhold and Mrs. Farquhar. Dance music, coming from a pioneer setting was highlighted by a mannequin which was made and dressed by Mrs. Ciolkoski. The music was furnished by the club's Harmonican Kitties.

Mrs. Bertha Manning presented a skit in which she was dressed as Mrs. Kaddidhopper complete with corncob pipe and jug. Mr. and Mrs. Oral Rathbun will serve as host and hostess for November with Chairman Mrs. Clyde Fisher and her committee of Hilda Barnes, Evelyn Fisher, Ann Haag, Ethel Micol and Mayme Trapp.

The club will hold a business meeting on Nov. 3, a birthday meeting on Nov. 10 and the annual Thanksgiving dinner at noon on Nov. 17 for those making reservations and paying the $1 fee. The bus for the Ice Follies performance at Olympia Stadium on Nov. 19 will leave the Masonic Temple at 12:30 p.m. for those with reservations. The group will stop in Livonia for dinner.

The Northville Senior Citizens have invited members of the Plymouth Club to attend a co-operative dinner on Nov. 22 at 6 p.m. in the Community building in Northville.

Ben Franklin Group Formed To Make Study

Seeking to establish a new independent voice in the Plymouth Community a Benjamin Franklin Club has been organized with Robert Friel as the chairman.

On the theory that more than 200 years ago Ben Franklin, the first American statesman to fight for an independent voice in the repeal of the Stamp act, the new group has decided to emulate him.

It is tentatively planned to hold several informal meetings and at least two community wide meetings per year to discuss local problems. If there is sufficient interest in depth studies will be made.

Aside from Friel, others chosen as interim officers include John Mulligan and Art Steward. These three will draft a temporary charter and recommendations for program organization.

Plymouth Jaycees Favor Liquor by Glass

The Plymouth Jaycees Thursday went on record as being in favor of the passage of the liquor-by-the-glass issue which appears on Tuesday's ballot as the only local issue.

In explaining the action, a Jaycee spokesman indicated that the group recognizes that some of the members do not believe in the consumption of alcoholic beverages and that some do not favor the passage of the issue, the Jaycees as a club decided to go on record as being in favor of passage of the issue.

The decision was based on the following reasons and facts:

The issue is not a moral issue but an economic issue. The economic growth of the City of Plymouth is in part being stymied because businessmen in the city are at a disadvantage in competing with businessmen outside the city.

The guarantee of personal privilege and the right of an individual to enjoy the beverage of his choice cannot now be exercised in the City of Plymouth.

The establishment of new businesses in Plymouth will result in additional tax revenues for our schools and city. The Michigan Liquor Control Commission has established adequate regulations regarding the locations of licensed establishments.

The final approval of all liquor licenses rests with the city commission.

The Jaycees also believe "That government should be of laws rather than of men" and that certain inequities exist within the laws in our community.

The Jaycees further believe "That economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise" and that the opportunities for free enterprise are not now equitable in our community.

DPW News And Notes

By SUPT. KEN VOGRAS
PLYMOUTH DPW

During last week a great deal of time was spent in picking up leaves. I would like to thank the public for being so cooperative in putting the leaves out between the curb and sidewalk instead of in the street.

There were three funerals at Riverside Cemetery and leaves were being raked and burned and general cleaning was done.

Parks were being raked. Junction Street from Sunset to Sheldon was graded and chloride was spread. Concrete was removed from Liberty Street in preparation for the repair work that was being done there. Street name signs were replaced and repaired where it was needed. Sand was being stock piled at the yard for use on jobs this winter.

A ¾ inch water tap was installed, hydrants were flushed at the South end of the city and a stop box was replaced.

Trained to Fix Plane Engines

Two soldiers from Plymouth, Privates Lonnie B. Hampton, and Thomas L. Laycock, have completed an aircraft engine repair course at the Army Transportation School, Ft. Eustis, Va. During the eight-week course, the men were trained to repair airplane and helicopter engines and other assemblies of Army aircraft.

Hampton, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Berl Hampton, 47611 Ford Road, entered the Army in May. Laycock, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Laycock, 11648 Butternut, entered the Army in June. Both were graduated in 1965 from Plymouth High School.

Police Study Group Questions Legality

The joint police authority study committee, composed of representatives of the Cities of Northville and Plymouth, and the Townships of Northville, Plymouth and Canton, will meet Thursday at 7:30 in the Northville City Hall to discuss legal aspects of the proposed authority.

Capt. John Brown, of the Michigan State Police, has been invited to report on the recent seminar in Chicago on the subject of police authority groups. Capt. Brown is the legal aide to Col. Fredrick Davids, Michigan State Police Commissioner.

The study committee received a communication from Northville Township Attorney John Ashton indicating there would have to be a change in the state statutes before a non-chartered township could join with another township in a police authority.

Thomas Healy, Plymouth City Attorney, was asked to secure a legal opinion from the Wayne County Legal Department as to whether the communities could consider an authority agreement.

Healy plans to draft the appropriate questions and then have the county supervisors from the various governmental units sign the communication.

The study group is seeking a well-known citizen in either

Plymouth or Northville to assist in developing the final stages of the report which will be presented to the official governing bodies of each community.

Carl Pursell, president of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, is serving with the committee and plans to work with the Northville Chamber in securing the necessary person.

Acting Police Chief Roger Vanderveen has been named to replace Kenneth Fisher, who resigned as Police Chief three weeks ago.

Forum Of Business And Inflation

Kenneth Grauer, accountant executive for Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith Inc., Detroit brokerage firm, will discuss "Inflation, Tight Money, the Stock Market and the Affect on the Economy" in an address before the Plymouth Businessmen's Forum of the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday, Nov. 3 in the Mayflower Meeting House at noon.

Grauer also will touch on the relation of inflation and tight money to taxes and how they relate to business and industry. He will go into his predictions of what is ahead in 1967.

Michigan State sophomore Allen Brenner set a Big Ten record when he returned a punt 95 yards for a touchdown in the Spartans' 26-10 victory over Illinois in 1966.

Detroit Center of Unique Urban Growth Study

Is man losing control of the growth of his cities? One of the world's outstanding experts on city planning warns that this is happening.

Dr. Constantinos Doxiadis is an architect and engineer who has designed entire cities, new world capitals. His company, Doxiadis Associates of Athens, Greece, has worked in 23 nations on four continents. Recent projects include Eastwick in Philadelphia and Georgetown near Washington, D. C.

In January, 1965, Doxiadis Associates began a five-year Developing Urban Detroit Area Research Project under the sponsorship of Detroit Edison and Wayne State University.

Dr. Doxiadis points out that each day in a modern city thousands of decisions are made affecting the growth of the urban area without reference points to some generally accepted philosophy of development.

The results are piecemeal and often result in conflicting directions of growth. With suburban building and the spreading out of cities in low density land uses, space is being eaten up even faster than the population is increasing. The results show neither rhyme nor reason, he says, and all the piecemeal decisions will have to be lived with for a very long time by millions of people.

Much of the original inspiration for his career came from the study of the ancient cities of Greece, which were in many ways admirably adapted to the needs of the people living in them as to size, public squares, theaters and sports arenas, patriotic and religious monuments, beautifully designed buildings.

Dr. Doxiadis sees the need to develop, in the process of further urbanization, attractive satellite communities that are on this human scale, served in turn by the larger central cities which will have the larger cultural attractions that cannot be economically supported by smaller communities.

He believes that cities should be designed for man's benefit, stimulation and happiness, a mixture of what is best from the past and what is needed for the future. The full resources of modern technology must be applied to the planning, design and construction of these cities.

The Developing Urban Detroit Area Research Project covers some 20,000 square miles consisting of 25 of the 83 counties in Michigan, nine counties in northern Ohio and three counties in the Province of Ontario. This is the sphere of urban influence exercised by Detroit.

The results of Phase 1 of the project will be published in an illustrated volume this fall. Phase 2 has been completed and the results will be made known later this month and published afterward.

Phase I has gathered and analyzed all that is known about the geology, geography, economics and urbanization of the 20,000 square mile area in the regional and national setting. It shows why Detroit and the sister cities grew up where and as they did, and how the urbanizing trend is already connecting most of the cities together.

The evidence suggests that in time there will be a megalopolis extending from Milwaukee and Chicago across Lower Michigan and upper Indiana and Ohio to Detroit, then around both sides of Lake Erie—on the one side to Toledo, Cleveland and Pittsburgh, and on the other across Ontario to Toronto and Buffalo.

The urbanizing process will spread through the Mohawk Valley and the valley of the St. Lawrence to the East Coast, where there is already a megalopolis extending from north of Boston down to Norfolk, Virginia.

The greater Detroit area will be at the center of this new megalopolis of the Midwest. Dr. Doxiadis bases his prediction upon many factors—existing urban trends, natural resource and market availability, fresh water and wide stretches of level land that will be readily developed by an increasing population.

Phase 2 has developed a methodological and organizational format for further study, projecting trends and examining the probable effect of possible alternate courses of planning. This will set the course of research for the third and final stage of the project.

Phase 3 will be carried on into 1970 and will develop specific plans for concerted action in Southeastern Michigan for planning the course of urbanization to the year 2000.

Mrs. Norma McKindles, chairman of the affair, is looking for an attendance of more than 1,200 during the afternoon.

She is being assisted by Co-chairmen Mrs. Joan Barber and Mrs. Winnie Cadaret. Others aiding in the big event are: tickets, Mrs. Shirley Kubik; dining room, Mrs. Rosemary Kooiman; kitchen, Mrs. Helen Luttmoser; publicity, Mrs. Marian Skoglund; and desserts, Mrs. Virginia Bartel.

SPECIAL ATTRACTION at the 51st annual Detroit Auto Show in Cobo Hall will be lovely Jane Anne Jayroe, Miss America for 1967. The 19-year-old raven-haired beauty from Laverne, Okla., will appear twice daily at the Oldsmobile exhibit Nov. 27 and 28. Her appearance will be from 2-4 p.m. and 7-9 p.m. The Detroit Auto Show runs from Nov. 26 through Dec. 4.

Write-In Candidate Explains Her Views

The write-in peace candidate for Congress, Elise Boulding of Ann Arbor—rang door bells, shook hands, and talked with residents in Plymouth Friday.

Mrs. Boulding, who opposes Democratic Congressman Wes Vivian and Republican Marvin Esch in the second district, advocates the immediate withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam.

In Plymouth, Mrs. Boulding said she asked people how they felt about the war and let them know that "there was an opportunity to vote for immediate withdrawal." Many of the people, she said, were "troubled" by the war, some of these believing that "we had to be there," others supporting withdrawal.

"Of course, there were also those who thought that the war was entirely a good thing."

Mrs. Boulding's campaign, headquartered in a dingy office on North Fourth in Ann Arbor—just around the corner from the Democratic headquarters—is trying to spread beyond the university community which has nurtured it.

After visiting Plymouth, the Boulding group went to Monroe Sunday where they found "a more positive response than in Plymouth. Some of the people in Monroe told us 'let's get out now.'"

Mrs. Boulding plans to visit Adrian and Chelsea this week. "Whenever people have a chance to express themselves about the war," she said, "many will tell you that they are very troubled. Rarely are they given a chance to think about it rather than reacting with cliché answers. Older people, who have seen how little war accomplishes, seem most opposed to the war."

Board Sets Guideline For Supt.

Wanted: Superintendent of Schools. Age 35 to 50 preferred. Good health is essential as well as a capacity to work varying hours. Applicant should have experience as a classroom teacher and as an administrator.

Applicant must hold a Michigan teaching certificate and a master's degree. Study beyond the master's degree and a broad academic background desired.

The Plymouth schools are looking for a new superintendent. For the first time in 14 years, the Board of Education is looking for an executive officer to administer the 54-square mile school district.

The present superintendent, Russell L. Isbister, who is only the third of the Plymouth schools since 1918, has resigned effective next June 30. The school board has begun its search for a new man by issuing a pamphlet on the Plymouth schools and what they want in an administrator.

The new superintendent will be responsible for a district with 495 employees and a general budget of $4.2 million. The current building fund budget includes $6.3 million from bond sales and $430,000 from building and site fund levy.

Now with an enrollment of 7,500 students, the district expects to serve 14,000 students by the 1971-1972 school year. The responsibilities of the man who will try to coordinate this growth are outlined in the board's brochure:

He will report to the board and supervise assistant superintendents, principals and other administrators or consultants.

He will administer the board's policies, be in charge of and improve the instructional program, recommend courses of study and textbooks, recommend and administer the budget, recommend personnel additions and changes, maintain the physical plant, train employees and keep the community informed of the school's problems, plans and accomplishments.

And through these technical day-to-day duties, the board implies that the new superintendent will help to fulfill an educational "philosophy":

"The educational program... should provide opportunity and encouragement for all children, youth and adults to develop their maximum educational potential. It should help them to acquire the necessary knowledge, attitudes, values and skills which enable them to become active, responsible and productive citizens, capable of living with themselves and other people within the framework of our American ideals."

VFW Women To Serve Western Style

There'll be good food for all Sunday when VFW Mayflower Post 6695 Auxiliary sponsors its first Western style dinner with servings on an hourly basis starting at 1 and continuing through 5 p.m.

The Western Style dinner replaces the popular smorgasbord which the Auxiliary sponsored for so many years. It will be served in chuckwagon style with roast beef as the top item for a menu which also lists all of the goodies that go with a Western style dinner.

Mrs. Norma McKindles, chairman of the affair, is looking for an attendance of more than 1,200 during the afternoon.

She is being assisted by Co-chairmen Mrs. Joan Barber and Mrs. Winnie Cadaret. Others aiding in the big event are: tickets, Mrs. Shirley Kubik; dining room, Mrs. Rosemary Kooiman; kitchen, Mrs. Helen Luttmoser; publicity, Mrs. Marian Skoglund; and desserts, Mrs. Virginia Bartel.

 Questions Asked the Candidates—The candidates were asked to limit their replies to 100 words each.
 1—Please indicate the aspects of U.S. domestic policy with which you are most in agreement; those of which you are most critical.
 2—Please indicate the aspects of U.S. foreign policy with which you are most in agreement; those of which you are most critical.

REPUBLICAN

 Jack H. McDonald, 34; Detroit; Supervisor, Redford Township, third consecutive year; Redford High School, Wayne University. Supervisor of Census for Wayne County, United States Department of Commerce, Bureau of Census, 1960; Immediate past chairman, Wayne County Board of Supervisors; Chairman Ways and Means Committee, Wayne County Board of Supervisors.
 1—"In commenting on U.S. domestic policy I find that a single program rates as the most agreeable and also the most objectionable. That program is the War on Poverty. I find it agreeable insofar as its original concept of encouraging and helping individuals to become productive and competitive in the American job market. This program becomes unacceptable when the administration puts it into operation. Every day newspapers across the country are filled with stories of mis-use of federal funds by agents of the Office of Economic Opportunity."
 2—"In indicating the aspects of U.S. foreign policy with which I am most in agreement, I'd have to note the success of our NATO alliance. Without a doubt the NATO alliance has stopped the spread of communism in Western Europe and to some extent, I think, softened the policy of Soviet Russia, as it is concerned with the western nations of the world, through the show of strength displayed by the NATO alliance. The aspect of foreign policy of which I am most critical is the very basis of the administration's foreign policy. There is an apparent lack of direction."

DEMOCRAT

 Billie S. Farnum, 50, Pontiac; Vassar High School, Vassar, Michigan. United States Representative to Congress, two years House Committee on Appropriations, two years Appropriations sub-committee on Labor, Health, Education, Welfare, and related agencies. Auditor General, State of Michigan, 1961 through 1964. Deputy Secretary of State, Michigan, 1957-60. Assistant Secretary of State, Michigan, 1955-57. Deputy State Chairman, Michigan Democratic Party.
 1—"I support the efforts of Congress to realize educational opportunity for all, commensurate with the ability of the individual, from the pre-school concept to and including university or skilled training. I am in support of research, facilities, and training in the fields of health and medicine. I support the cooperation of federal and state governments and local communities in the implementation of progressive steps to attack the problems of air and water pollution."
 2—"Only when the world's nations are stable, prosperous and free to follow their own course will we have peace—our paramount goal. We seek peace through economic assistance, people-to-people programs like the Peace Corps, "good neighbor" diplomacy and—if we must—by opposing those hostile to self-determination. I strongly hope we will strengthen our foreign policy—to solve problems peacefully before they must be salvaged militarily, to use all our resources to work with those who seek to help themselves. While we cannot find peace alone, the success of our quest is bounded only by the justness of our cause."

 Edward J. Robinson, 32; Incumbent; Graduate University of Notre Dame, degree in Economics; working toward Law Degree—Detroit College of Law; currently on Leave of Absence from Ford Motor Co. as Personnel Specialist; Member of State Appropriations Committee 1964-66; Rated 2nd most promising Freshman Legislator by Capitol Press; Member of Governor's Bi-partisan Tax Study Committee, 1965.
 1—"Planning in order to pinpoint problems and attack them on an efficient basis. Increased aid to education at all levels. More aid to local communities to combat water pollution and to insure adequate services. Appropriations for mental health. A new state performance budget will highlight areas of duplication and inefficient use of manpower."
 2—"Yes, because the tremendous increase in the demands for public services such as education requires immediate fiscal reform which will provide an equitable tax structure and increased revenues."

REPUBLICAN

 N. Lorraine Beebe, 50; Dearborn; B.S. Western State University; M.S.—Wayne State, Clinical Psychology; Work toward Ph.D. in Guidance and Counseling; Advanced studies in Higher Education; Teacher in Dearborn Schools — 10 years; Women's Recreation Director—Dearborn—2 years; Member of National Research Committee, Needs of Youth; State Convention Chairman, State Federation, Kalamazoo, 1966.
 1—"State support of education and mental health must be substantially expanded to meet obvious needs. The state's inability thus far to meet fully its obligations stems from inadequate state revenues. Inadequacy of revenue is a problem because of the enormous revenues siphoned out of Michigan by the Federal government."
 2—"Michigan has to rely for revenue primarily on some form of sales and use tax and on the property tax. The most equitable and effective way for Michigan and other states to meet the mounting costs of state services is to press the Federal government for a rebate of a portion of the income tax."
REPUBLICAN

 George W. Kuhn, 41; West Bloomfield Township; Executive Staff, Ford Div. Gen. Office; A.B. Central Michigan University. Post Grad. Harvard Business School, local government 10 years, 5 terms as Mayor of Berkley; Chairman Mayor's Vigilance Tax Committee of Michigan. Veteran World War II and Korean War, presently Lt. Commander with 23 years service in Naval Reserve.
 1—"I propose a Legislative Cost Reduction Committee should be established to continually review any cost savings that could be adopted. We first must eliminate year resident of district, Sec-Treas. Michigan Council of Medical costs; Chairman, Detroit Council of Men's Labor-Management Comm. Panel arbitrator, Michigan State Mediation Board; Past Commander American Legion Post 375.

 1—"State assistance, with Federal help, to control water and air pollution, must be immediate, otherwise the cost to future generations will be more staggering than today's. A thorough study must be made of the feasibility of restructuring the State legislature to a one-house legislature, such as Nebraska has had since 1937, and several of the Canadian Provinces. Two houses means each voter is represented twice, a redundancy, a loss of efficiency."
 2—"Taxation must be redistributed to provide not only equal taxation, but equal benefits from taxation. A uniform state-wide tax, on property or income, for school purposes, to be distributed on a student population basis would provide such equality. The business activities tax must be eliminated, and tax incentive must be given new industries and research facilities to attract them to the state, and to provide employment for the graduates of our schools and colleges."

any and all waste in state government. Then, essential programs, such as mental health and education can rightly obtain the necessary funds required to operate an adequate program for all the people of Michigan."

2—"I believe the tax structure should be changed along the following lines:

A. Business which shows a loss instead of a profit should be exempt from the Business Activity Tax.

B. Senior Citizens should have relief on property tax.

C. Another serious problem facing the state is the fiscal plight of local units of government, cities, townships and schools. 1—"A. Less welfare costs to taxpayer through the initiation of an in-home training program for adults and more importantly for the children of these on welfare.
"B. More research in area of prevention of mental retardation."

2—"Yes, there is too much 'patchwork' taxation. An overall study of taxation in Michigan to provide sound, equitable and realistic taxation methods. I do not favor a state income tax. I am in favor of keeping sales tax as revenues are derived from millions of tourists who shop in our state."

1—"Broadly speaking, four areas require continued and expanded state effort. Most important is the need for additional funds for education and for mental health. Third, highway safety and control require immediate expanded state effort. Fourth, is the need for expanded state interest in our natural resources, not only water and air, but also forest, wild life and minerals."

2—"The Michigan Inheritance Tax should be revised and increased to bring it in line with those of approximately forty other states. The unfair and regressive Business Activities Tax should be repealed for corporations with the substitution of a net corporate income tax. Revision of corporate taxes should require that insurance corporations pay their equal burden of taxes."

REPUBLICAN

1—"I can't feel that any major increased State services are needed. It appears now as though we have too much government away from "home." A continued reorganization is needed to provide for a reduction of similar activities or functions in various agencies."

2—"Yes, consideration should be given to an income tax. Present local property taxes are reaching a confiscatory stage for a number of people, especially those on a fixed and/or reduced income. A revision of tax structure is needed to provide a more nearly equitable structure."

What The Candidates Are Saying

Louis Schmidt, retired superintendent of the Clarenceville Schools who is seeking a seat in the state legislature, leveled his heaviest guns at his Democratic opponent during the past week.

"My opponent has been making some lavish comments regarding his record during this campaign. But a Legislative Report, mailed to selected constituents and which is an individual report, indicates his efforts in several fields without admission that:

(1)—Some of the bills were the result of a previous study made by the late Paul Chandler, member of the Legislature and the Senate, and State Senator Farrell Roberts.

(2)—The legislation of which he claims was so much of his effort was of such a nature that very few, if any, items were subject to much debate as shown by votes in the House.

What is of concern — and should be to every voter and taxpayer — is his record relative to fiscal reform. He has voted consistently against consideration of the Governor's proposals and even voted against placing them on the Fall agenda.

His record relative to such items as pollution and water resources also has been one of opposition. He has voted against restoring $125,000 to provide funds for the Governor's Task Force on Water Rights — use and control.

An Old Salt Now

Storekeeper 3/c Charles R. Griffis, Jr., USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Griffis, 29761 MacIntyre, Livonia, is serving a board the Mars, which recently crossed the equator as a unit of Task Force 73, which supports the Seventh Fleet.

The defeat of this bill held up Federal funds. He has voted against a comprehensive water study, and against a plan to obtain $87,000 to be matched by Federal funds for water study.

And when it comes to education and what the state did to help, why has he missed 30 percent of the Education meetings?

But he was present and voted to raise his own pay.

Livonia Scouts Will Be Given Rifle Training

The Livonia Sportsman's Club, for the first time, enrolled eight Livonia Boy Scouts in its rifle training program. The purpose of this program is to train the boys in the proper and safe handling of firearms. It is also a means for First Class Scouts to obtain their marksmanship merit badges.

This public service project began when it was brought to the attention of club president, Ted Callear, that Scout troops in the Livonia area lacked facilities and instructors for such training.

Training sessions began last Wednesday and will run for two hours each Wednesday for six weeks. It is Callear's hope that all scouts in the Livonia area will have the eventual opportunity of enrolling in this course.

O'Neil Calls For Leadership In Education Needs

James F. O'Neil, former member and candidate for election again to the State Board of Education was campaigning in his home area this week.

O'Neil issued a statement calling on the present members of the State Board of Education to immediately provide leadership in securing an adequate and equitable system of financial aid for education.

JAMES F. O'NEIL

O'Neil stated that this should involve:

1. An immediate request to the legislature to approve the appropriation for education early enough to permit a school boards to logically plan their programs and b. the teachers and school boards to bargain from a knowledgeable standpoint — relative to the financial means of the school district, and

2. To develop and recommend an adequate and equitable method for financing the state's educational system on a continuing basis.

O'Neil further stated that the teaching profession is the lifespring of our educational system and it must be raised to its proper stature and teachers compensated commensurate with their very significant contribution to our society.

O'Neil served on the State Board of Education in 1963 and 1964, has had extended experience at the school district level, and as a community college (Schoolcraft College) trustee. He lives in Livonia with his wife, Elaine, and their two sons, Mark and David, who attend the elementary and secondary schools there.

BUILDER-DEVELOPER Ted Jacobson, of the Plymouth Construction Co., shows Irving Rozian (left), of the Plymouth Township Planning Commission, and Mayor James Houk (right) some of the fine points of the new Pilgrim Townhouses which were opened for public inspection last week. The development is located at 400 Plymouth Road in the City of Plymouth.

Pilgrim Townhouses Opened in Plymouth

The Plymouth Construction Company, a joint enterprise of Edward Rose and Sons, Inc. and Mark Jacobson Builders, Inc., announce the opening of Pilgrim Townhouses and Manor Houses in Plymouth. Pilgrim Townhouses mark a departure from traditional construction under the government's 221 D3 Housing Program.

For the first time in Michigan, and probably in the nation, garden-type apartments, called Manor Houses, are being offered under the 221 D3 program. This is a small community of just 104 homes. The juxtaposition of garden-type apartments and townhouses makes the site exceptionally visually pleasing.

A second unusual feature of both the Townhouses and Manor Houses is that utilities, except electricity, are master metered and the charge is included in the monthly payment.

The Manor House payment of $114 per month includes gas for heating, heating water, cooking and water.

Each Manor House building will have eight 2-bedroom, 1-bath manor house apartments. Each individual apartment will be on one floor and will include a convenient utility room. Two-bedroom and 3-bedroom townhouses are also being offered. Each townhouse, a two-story structure has a full basement and 1 1/2 baths.

Both the Manor Houses and Townhouses have a luxurious kitchen with built-in oven, range and disposer, a 12 cu. ft. hotpoint refrigerator and handsome custom formica tops and handsome custom kitchen cabinets.

The baths have a vanity top with a large mirror and ceramic tile. The rooms are spacious and there is abundant closet space. The exterior

STAR IN ACTION: Paul Santangelo, who raced for two long Thurston touchdowns, wind up as co-champs in Northwest goes for another gain against North Farmington. The Township team won, 28-0, to go as co-champs in Northwest League.

Franklin, Thurston In Deadlock Area Teams Share Title

There are no prouder coaches around the area than Bob Bentley and Bill McDonald, respective football mentors at Franklin and Thurston high schools.

Their teams reign today as co-champions in the Northwest Suburban League.

Perhaps the proudest of the pair is Bentley, because his team didn't quit on itself against Birmingham Groves last Friday night.

Despite the fact Groves pushed over two touchdowns in the first few minutes by running the opening kickoff 85 yards and then turning a fumble into another TD, Franklin came back to win the game, 22-12 and finish the league command with a 4-1 record.

Thurston, on the other hand, had an easier time on Saturday, gaining a title share. The Townshipers blasted defending champion North Farmington, 28-0, to match Franklin's record.

After Groves had taken its 12-0 lead, Franklin got the ball on its own 25.

The Livonians never gave it up until they cracked the scoreboard. A 35-yard gallop by Dave Stott proved the key play which led to Gary Rogalski smashing over from the one for the touchdown. Ron Kugler's conversion left Franklin trailing, 12-7, after one period.

In the second period, two bombs enabled Franklin to go in front.

Stott pumped one 40 yards to Gary Sica and then hit Carl Gulbranson for 10 to the Groves' four. Two plays later Rogalski slammed from the one and it was a Franklin touchdown that put his mates on top, 13-12.

Gulbranson expanded the Franklin command when he turned a Groves' pass into an interception. He scooted 30 yards to score and it was now 19-12.

Kugler finished the Franklin point production when he kicked a field goal from about the 11 with just under three minutes to play. Franklin rushed for 150 yards and gained 89 more passing. Groves was held to 89 on the ground, but picked up 96 in the air.

Thurston struck with a dynamic blow at the outset against North Farmington.

The game was scarcely a minute old when Paul Santangelo broke loose for 56 yards and a touchdown.

Not long afterward, North Farmington kicked to Santangelo and this time he swept for 45 yards to put his team on top, 14-0, when Danny Harris booted the second of his four conversions.

The other two Thurston touchdowns came on short plunges by Barry Simescu.

He went over from three after drilling a 65-yard pass to Reg Barringer, who was hauled down on the North Farmington three.

The other TD was scored on a five-yard run by Simescu.

North Farmington had a couple of good chances, one in each half, but couldn't capitalize.

College Sports Head Attends Convention

Marvin Gans, director of physical education, and Bob Leggat, physical education instructor and varsity soccer coach, at Schoolcraft College, will attend the Michigan Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation annual convention in Lansing on Nov. 3, 4, and 5.

Gans is vice-president of the Association's general division, which embraces research, higher education, dance and student section, and is serving as publicity chairman for the convention.

Thurston finished with 153 yards rushing and 59 yards passing. North Farmington gained 41 yards on the ground, but hit for 102 in the air.

Clarenceville Goes Wild Over Gridders

They're going wild—football speaking—at Clarenceville high school.

Why not? For only the second time in the school history—the other time was in 1955—Clarenceville will finish a season above .500.

The Trojans assured themselves a winner last Friday when they whipped Holly, 47-20, to make their record read five victories against two defeats with only games against Northville (this Friday night) and Crestwood left.

What's more, the five triumphs this year equal the total number of wins Clarenceville had produced in coach Ralph Temby's three previous years as the school's grid mentor.

But, that's now forgotten along with those recent years in which Clarenceville didn't win a single game all fall.

Holly never was in contention against Clarenceville which in Temby's words, "played our finest team effort of the season."

The 47 points Clarenceville piled up constituted some kind of a school record along with the 407 yards—321 rushing and 86 passing.

The big individual man for Clarenceville was Mike Nye who ripped Holly apart.

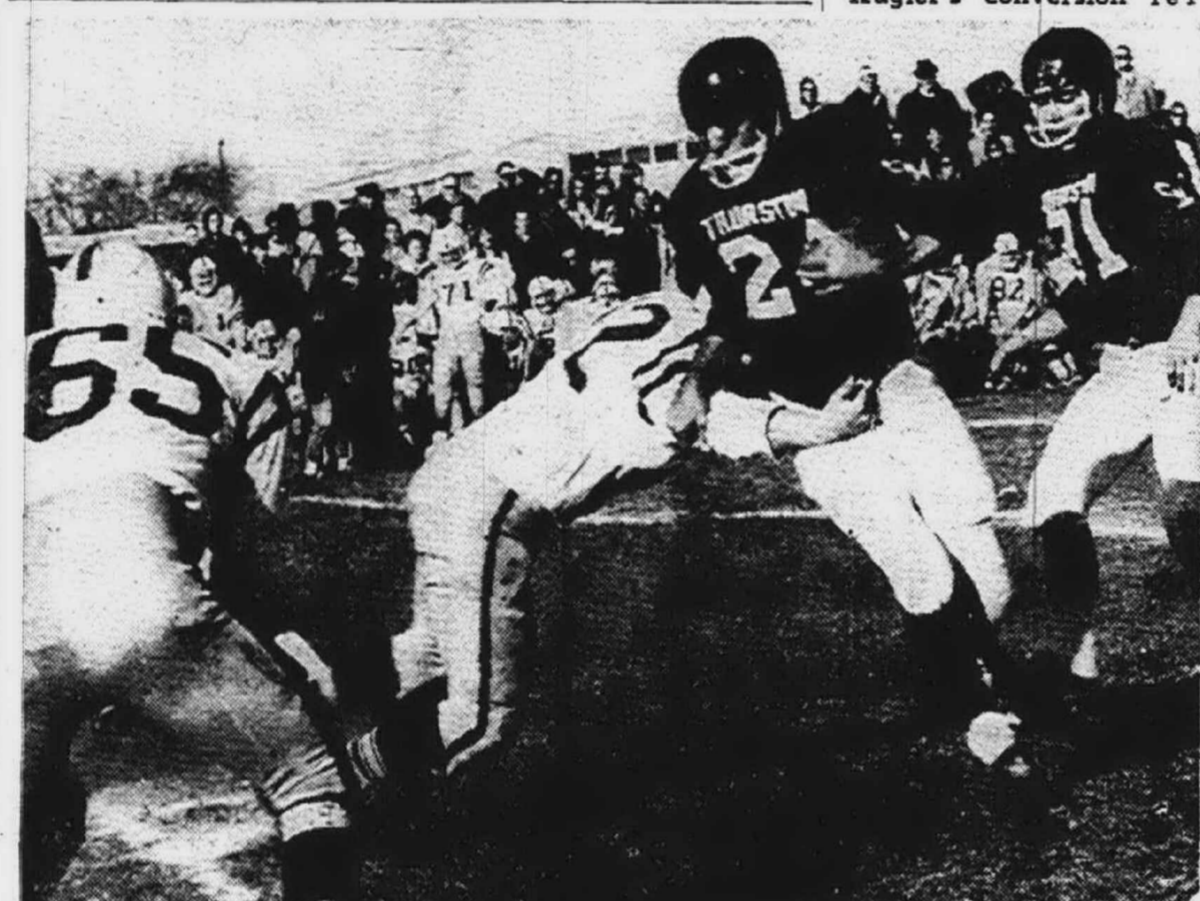

Nye carried 13 times and gained 141 yards along with three touchdowns. "He's a dandy," said Temby.

It was Nye on a 15-yard scamper to start the Clarenceville scoring. Then Marvin Martin dashed from 25 and Dave Wilson slipped over on a quarterback sneak with Nye converting to make it 19-0.

Nye's second touchdown came on a ten-yard sprint and he added the extra point on this one, too.

A Wilson to Mike Luka pass for 12 yards produced another touchdown after which Nye passed to Jim Amick for the conversion.

Nye ran a punt back for 38 yards and Dave Kaipio slipped over from the eight to wrap up the Clarenceville scoring . . . and make it a season the Trojans won't soon forget.

BARGING FORWARD: Gary Rogalski Groves. Charles Trick (55) helps out with cracks his way for more Franklin yard—a nice block on the play. In his team's victory over Birmingham

Scores Soar at Bel Aire

Got an evening to relax? Come to Bel-Aire and watch the Thursday Bel-Aire Classic Men's League pound out the high scores.

Graham LaRue is the latest to threaten the 300 mark with a 297 game and 638 series with the other two games of 202 and 189.

Jerry Pepple has taken the positive lead for three game total with a 767 series, the highest of the season for Bel-Aire Lanes with games of 210, 268 and 289. Not to be forgotten in the 700 bracket, Ray Pomaville had a 715 on games of 233, 234 and 248.

In the Bel-Aire Business Mens League on Tuesday night scores don't sound too bad either. Tom Kinjorski 720 on games of 269, 218 and 233. Bud Weckesser had 693 on games of 202, 247 and 244.

Wayne State University freshman Ron Solack, an offensive quarterback and defensive middle guard at Grosse Ile as a prep, turned in WSU's finest linebacking performance in two years by making 14 tackles and assisting on six others against Western Reserve.

Wayne State University's top workhorse ball-carrier was Elbert Richmond who rushed 423 times in a three-year varsity career.

Collegians Eye U.S. Meet Bids

Schoolcraft College may be national-tournament bound in two sports — cross country and soccer.

The harriers and booters are waiting to hear the word on whether they will go to U.S. Junior College meets in Pensacola, Fla., and Garden City, N.Y., respectively.

"We should be hearing soon," says Bob Leggat, the man who guides the destinies of the Schoolcraft soccer team which finished a perfect season with an 8-0 record by beating Concordia College.

Meantime, Schoolcraft's cross country team took the state junior college crown last Saturday at Port Huron with 59 points to runnersup Henry Ford of Dearborn's 71. The harriers, who will participate in a special invitation at Jackson this Saturday, boast a sparkling record of 18 wins against only one defeat.

In the state hill and dale event, individual honors went to Ford's Wally McLaren who covered the three miles in 16:07.

Top man for Schoolcraft was Dan Ryan, who finished third. Howard Studemann came in fourth with Joe Vitale 13th, Larry Buchheit 17th and George Jenkins 23rd.

Observing SPORTS

By George Maskin

One looking for news always can bounce into something interesting at the weekly meeting of the Detroit Sports Broadcasters Association.

Various sports celebrities make it to the various occasions. Some relate worthwhile information, others don't.

The publicists of the different major sports enterprises of the area join the festivities and the other afternoon we wound up sitting alongside of a handsome chap by the name of Ron Cantera, who dishes out news about the Red Wings.

Ron got to talking about the player he feels has been underrated more than any other in the National Hockey League.

The player? Normie Ullman.

"Hey, Normie lives out there in Livonia, you know," declared Cantera. "Makes his year-around home there now and has gone into the printing business if you need somebody to print your paper."

Cantera dug into a dish of ice cream, which doesn't help anybody on a diet, and continued to expound about Ullman.

"Here's a player who scored 20 goals or more in nine straight seasons with the Wings. Yet, of course, he has been overshadowed by Gordie Howe and another Livonia resident, Alex Delvecchio, the latter the 'Wings' captain, you know.

"Really, Normie didn't come into his own as an all-

Sorrows Plays Sunday In Catholic Playoffs

Round One has ended on an all-winning note for Our Lady of Sorrows High School football team.

Seven straight victories in as many starts brought the championship of the Catholic League's Northwest Division to Sorrows.

Now comes the higher stakes in Round Two — the playoffs for the Catholic League's Second Division championship.

The semifinals are carded for Sunday afternoon and for Sorrows the draw calls for the Farmington team battling St. Cecilia at Benedictine field on Outer Drive and Southfield in Detroit at 2:30 p.m.

Sorrows under the coaching of Bud Webster last Sunday turned back St. Rita, 25-0, to close its second unbeaten-untied, regular campaign in three years.

The score might have been twice that size, except for the fact Sorrows had five touchdowns nullified because of penalties.

There were defensive as well as offensive orchids for Sorrows as the team rolled up 223 points while allowing only seven all fall.

Players like Cliff LaFond and Jim McGrath carried the offensive load, but just as important were Frank Walsh, Tom Horner, Terry Savage and Steve Pyle with the efforts in stopping the rushes and passes of the opposition.

St. Rita, for example, finished the game with a net loss of 43 yards rushing, but enjoyed a little better success passing with 90 yards.

Meantime, LaFond counted his 14th touchdown of the season — and had four more wiped out by penalties — and hurdled the 1,000-yard rushing total as he carried 26 times for 194 yards as his mates finished with 357 yards on the ground and 52 more passing as Tim Audette snared three passes.

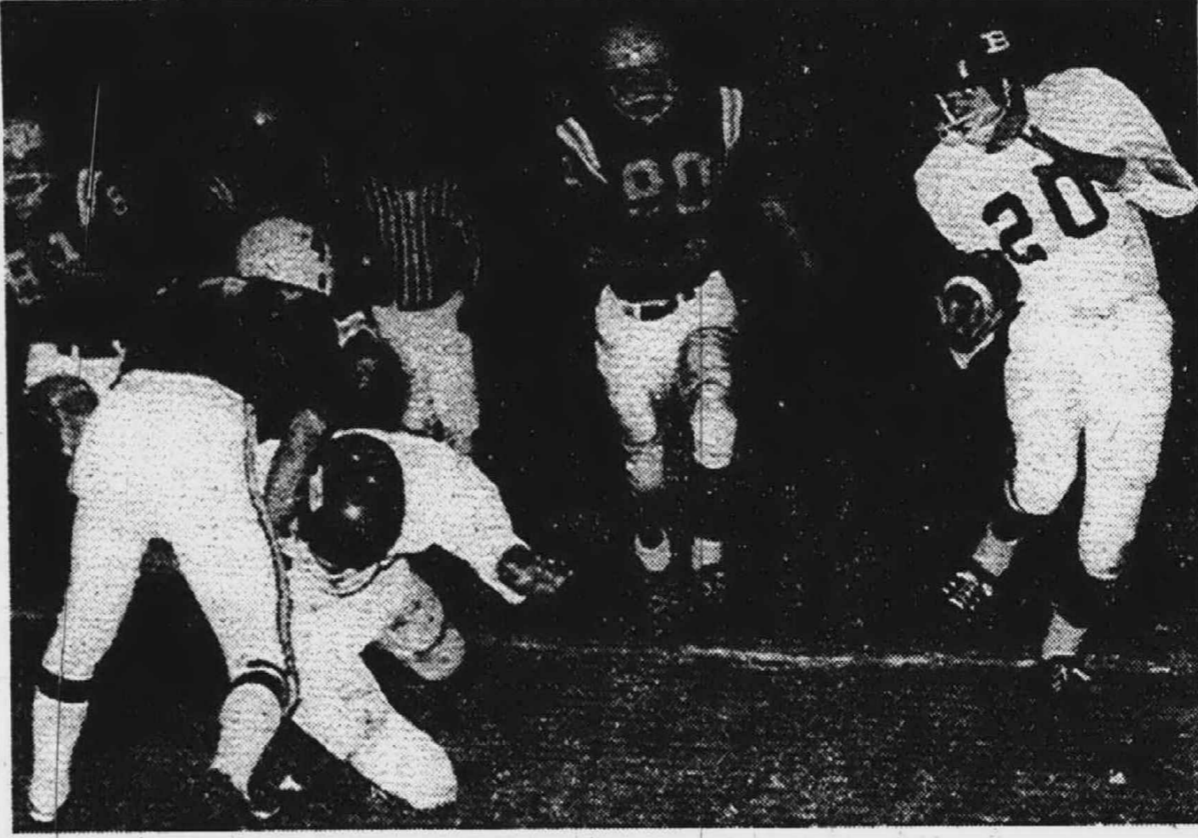

Dave Hickey lugged the ball 54 yards in nine tries, Tim LaFond (Cliff's brother), 60 yards in ten attempts and McGrath 33 in four carries.

Over the season, McGrath also produced over 700 yards with his fine passes.

It was Barber who set up the first Sorrows' touchdown when in the opening moments he covered a St. Rita fumble on the latter's 31.

In five plays, Sorrows was on the scoreboard when Hickey crashed in from the five.

Late in the period, John VanDusen of Sorrows recovered another St. Rita fumble on the St. Rita 41 and Hickey barged the final 18 yards for his second touchdown. The conversion by Jim Barnes made it 13-0.

ON THE LOOSE for a moment is Bentley's Trenton dominated the game and wrapped Jim Matevia against Trenton. But while up an undisputed league title. Matevia gained seven yards on the play.

Trenton Halts Bentley Reign as Champions

Bentley high's football reign has ended in the Suburban Six League.

After ruling as champs for two years, Bentley was mauled over by Trenton, 48-19, last Friday to give the unbeaten downriver team an undisputed crown.

A win for Bentley would have given the Livonians a title share.

However, about all that Bentley got out of the night's work was a new record for a touchdown pass.

With time running out in the game, junior quarterback Jim Powers, firing from the end zone after Bentley had the ball on the Trenton one, shot a pass to Rick Dudzinski who raced all the way.

A 99-yard TD heave—shades of what Karl Sweetan accomplished for the Lions two weeks ago.

There was no stopping this Trenton team which now stands 7-0 overall and finished the league race with a 5-0 mark compared to 3-2 for Bentley.

"We had beaten them the last two years and those were the only losses each time Trenton suffered," declared Bentley coach Larry Joiner.

"So they had to be out for a little revenge. You couldn't blame the Trenton boys who had played on both of those losers and now were getting their final chance to do something against Bentley."

Bentley really never knew what hit them.

Trenton rocked the Livonians for three touchdowns and a 21-0 lead after one period.

It was 41-6 for Trenton at halftime.

Bentley did outscore Trenton, 13-7, in the second half, but by now the game was over.

The brilliant Lance

Scheffler shot Trenton into a quick lead when he dashed 45 yards for a touchdown.

Bob Eldridge followed on a two-yard plunge and Scheffler made it 2-0 with a three-yard run before the period was over.

A 73-yard gallop by Patterson, a 33-yard pass from Lutz to Milstead and a three-yard run by Roeder finished the Trenton scoring in the first half.

Bentley did manage one score in the second period when Larry Good scored from the 19.

In the final period, after Patterson raced 45 yards for Trenton, Phil Shipley went over from the nine for Bentley before Powers clicked with Dudzinski on their record pass.

Trenton rushed for 378 yards on the ground and added 93 more passing. Bentley picked up 173 passing and 114 on the ground.

Michigan State's sensational sophomore soccer star, Tony Keyes, graduated from the same high school (College High in Kingston, Jamaica) as former Spartan All-American Payton Fuller.

Glenn Rebounds To Win Easily

How do you give up 26 points to a team in one half... then hold them scoreless in the second?

The answer is simple.

"We just made a simple adjustment and told our kids to quit jumping all over the John Glenn after his high school footballers had rallied to belt Oak Park, 42-26.

In the first half, it appeared that Glenn never would be able to stop Oak Park. And for that matter Oak Park wasn't stopping Glenn either.

But Oak Park happened to get its hands on the ball four times in the initial half to three for Glenn and so that accounted for the Parkers leading, 26-18, at the intermission.

After Lusk had his half-time "pep" season things changed and Glenn rushed forth with an all-around effort to gain its only victory against four losses in Northwest Suburban League action.

The Glenn team never before had enjoyed such an offensive blast. Besides seven touchdowns, Glenn moved the ball 416 yards in 82 tries with Steve Pachke the big man as he picked up 133 yards in 15 tries.

Four times in the first half, Glenn kicked off to Oak Park and the Parkers proceeded to score. In between the Parker TD parade, Glenn put on its march with Pachke going 32 yards for the first to cap a 72-yard march, Ron Gainer going over from the four and Mike Mahanian passing 33 yards to Mike Catanzarite.

In the second half, it was Pachke who brought Glenn TD No. 4 and when Mahanian slipped over from the two on a quarterback sneak, Glenn took the lead for the first time.

Carl Kuban and Chuck Morris followed up with touchdown runs of six and four yards, respectively. Glenn had the game safely tucked away.

Falcons Beaten In 'Wild' Battle

Talk about your wide open football games!

They had one last Friday night at Mt. Clemens where the Bathers "washed up" on Farmington, 39-26, in a non-leaguer.

It was a strange sort of a game.

Mt. Clemens took a 19-0 lead in the first period, Farmington rebounded in the second to lead, 20-19 at half, but in the third period Mt. Clemens cashed two more TD's and this time held on against the usually explosive Falcons.

In the long run, it was interceptions that beat Farmington. The Falcons put up 35 aerials and clicked on 14 for 251 yards. But six were picked off. One was turned into a direct touchdown, two more led to tallies.

Along with its 251 yards in the air, Farmington added 73 more passing and gained 17 first downs. Mt. Clemens had 10 first downs and made only 2 yards passing, but the rushing of fullback Frank Duda helped the Bathers earn 152 yards rushing.

Duda himself made 87 yards in 18 carries and when Mt. Clemens needed yardage... he always got it.

Duda scored the Bathers' first TD and the second came on a quarterback sneak by Bob Purka. A 38-yard screen-pass interception brought Mt. Clemens to a 19-0 lead before Farmington rebounded.

The Falcons paraded 80 yards with Fritz Simons going the last two. On the next kickoff, Farmington recovered on the Bathers' 35 and moments later Ed Snider pitched 18 yards to Chris Norton for a touchdown.

Doug Root, who capped the first two conversions, booted a succeeding 75-yard drive by taking Snider's 16-yard heave in the end zone and that sent Farmington on top, 20-19, at the intermission.

Things now were looking good for the Falcons.

Then followed a tough break—for Farmington. With Mt. Clemens fourth and nine, a pass interference call gave Mt. Clemens the ball on the Farmington 18 and in short order Purka went over.

Another interception and still another sneak by Purka made it 32-20 for Farmington and it made little difference that the Falcons drove for a final TD in the fourth period with Simons going the last two. Mt. Clemens countered with the clincher moments later.

Plymouth Whips R. Union to End Famine in Loop

It was a long time coming—a Plymouth high school victory for coach John McFall in Suburban Six League play.

In 1965, McFall's first year as chief of the Rocks, his team went 0-5 in the conference.

This fall, it was Plymouth four defeats and no win when the Rocks moved against Redford Union in the closing league tussle last Friday.

The experts had made Plymouth underdogs for this win.

But the Rocks didn't believe these opinions. They had more faith in their own abilities... and they showed it in a rousing 31-7 victory.

"The kids wanted this one badly," said McFall. "They came through with a tremendous effort."

Not only were the Rocks electrifying on offense, but many felt that their tremendous defensive attack against star RU passer Glenn Davis actually turned the tide in the game.

Davis was held to only seven completions in 19 tries for 107 yards. He usually picked up over 200 yards in a game.

Ron Lowe was the man-of-the-hour, scoring twice for Plymouth. He hit pay land three times.

Plymouth went ahead in the second period on an 18-yard scamper by Tom Elias. Lowe's first of three TD's from four yards out made it 13-0 at halftime.

Redford Union then got back into things when Davis flipped a 23-yard scoring pass to Bob Fritz.

The rest was all Plymouth. Lowe made two quick touchdowns and Rick Dyer applied the clincher when he broke loose on a 28-yard dash into the end zone.

The final Plymouth score resulted on a 35-yard run by Mike Cederberg with an intercepted pass.

Statistically, Redford Union had a slight edge. The Townshippers, who also finished league play with one decision, had 16 first downs to Plymouth's 14.

In yards gained it was 274 to 262 for RU. The Rocks made only three of eight passes for 38 yards, but the way their ground game went, they didn't have to bank on their throwing.

One-Two Punch Wins For West

The one-two punch of Matt Gillespie and Mike Alexander proved the big difference last Saturday night as Garden City West upset Southgate, 19-13.

The victory upped West's record to 2-4.

Gillespie powered his way for 136 yards while Alexander drove for 127 yards as West gained a total of 323 yards in the game to 193 for the losers.

Southgate jumped off to a flying start by marching 75 yards with the opening kickoff to gain the scoreboard.

But West wasn't to be denied in this one. In short order, West came bouncing back with three touchdowns of its own.

A nine-yard pass from Chuck Dobbs to Mike McGrath started the West parade.

Then Alexander cracked off the tackle on a "belly" play and went 55 yards for a touchdown.

Gillespie finished off the TD production for West with a drive off tackle for seven yards.

star until two years ago when he led the team and the league in goals with 42.

"That same year (1964-65), Normie also topped the Wings in points with 83 and last year he came back to tie with Delvecchio as the leader in Detroit goals with 31 and he was second to Howe in points with 72."

There was another pause by Cantera... another scoop at the ice cream... and more about Ullman.

"I'll bet there's something very few folks realize. That only one player in the NHL has scored more goals than Normie in the last two years.

"Of course, the other guy is Bobby Hull with 93 in the period. Normie is second with 73."

This is Ullman's 11th year with the Wings, but you'd never know to look at him. He's not saying how much longer he'll play, but he thinks he'll be around at least four or five seasons—maybe a few after that.

Ullman and the Wings will be gone from Olympia this Saturday, but one of the greatest "shows" you'll ever see will move in for a one-night stand.

We're referring to the act put on by the Harlem Globetrotters. We say "act" because the true basketball phase of the evening is perhaps the smallest part.

The Globies ditch their full-fledged cage tactics early to clown it up. For this appearance at Olympia they'll offer a special added attraction in Frank Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles, who paced the American League in batting, homers and runs-batted-in.

After the Globies get through, a series of vaudeville acts will follow. You'll really get some laughs... if you're down at Olympia Saturday.

When it comes to TRUE basketball, naturally we must bring up the Pistons who have a home date Friday against the Cincinnati Royals, led by their great pair of Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas.

The Pistons beat the Royals the last time they met at Cobo Arena and the general feeling around the NBA is that the Pistons are an improved ball club.

For that matter, the entire NBA has to be stronger, especially since the new Chicago Bulls have refused to roll over and play dead as many seemed to think they would.

North Farmington took third among the teams with 75 points. Glenn had 81, Birmingham Groves 114 and Oak Park 174.

TRENTON SURPRISES

A surprise marked the annual Suburban Six League cross country championships. Trenton seized the honors with 44 points while favored Redford Union placed second with 49 points. Then came Bentley with 54 points, Plymouth 95, Belleville 136 and Allen Park 164.

Redford Union had gone through the dual meet season without a loss and was favored for the overall loop title.

RU's Jack Shepherd, however, won the individual laurels as expected in the fine time of 10:44. Trenton runners took the next two spots with Bentley's Ed McGhie fourth, RU's Ron Mazurek fifth and Bruce Cavender of Plymouth sixth.

Grads See East Sock Taylor Foe

The ol' grads were there to celebrate.

They did . . . and so did the Garden City high school football team.

After some rough evenings of late, East made the most of its annual homecoming last Friday night in beating Taylor, 18-13.

Marvin Martin turned in another spectacular evening for the winners.

This time Martin rolled up 157 yards in 29 carries while Bill Crowell went 50 yards in nine tries.

Ball control helped tremendously in the East victory. For example, in the second period, Taylor moved the ball on only two series of downs.

East marched 50 yards for its first touchdown in the opening period.

Martin and Crowell did most of the carrying, although it was Jack Paimer who went in from the five the first time his signal was called in the game.

In the second quarter, Martin slammed over from three on the last play before the intermission to put East on top, 12-0, at intermission.

Taylor came out strong in the third period and cashed a touchdown to get back into the thick of things.

But East was equal to the occasion and in short order East scored again, this time on Dave Jose's three-yard scamper.

DRC Closes State's Turf Season Saturday

Racing's greatest year in Michigan reaches a climax Saturday when the Detroit Race Course closes its 84-day meeting.

The $25,000 added Auld Lang Syne Handicap will highlight the big 10-race program which concludes the Thoroughbred season.

The Auld Lang Syne is expected to be one of the year's finest Handicap events.

It will be highlighted by a return duel between Mrs. Mildred Kerr's Stanislas the upset winner of the $100,000 added Michigan Mile over Tom Rolfe, Selari and Amberiod, and T. A. Grissom's Seafes, which in turn upset Stanislas in the $25,000 DRC Handicap.

The Auld Lang Syne attracted 17 other nominees.

Included are two of the Handicap stars which raced in Canada this season, E. P. Taylor's Victorian Era and J. L. Stillman's Orbiter.

New York financier Jack Dreyfus also nominated two of his Hobeau Farm stars, Sheet Anchor and Tom Poker.

Other probable starters include the consistent Eladio from the Willhoff Brothers' stable; Bonny Johnny, Jet Charger, Peter Pumpkin and Travel Agent.

Going into the final four days of the DRC season, the Livonia track spotlighted a number of records and top racing personalities.

Jockey Robert Gallimore, who had been the nation's hottest rider for the past two months, continued to push his winning record to a mark that will be difficult to challenge.

Ten days ago Gallimore broke an all-time riding record which Johnny Sellers set in 1957 when he rode 100 winners. Gallimore now is well beyond that figure and daily has been adding to his total. In one recent span he rode three winners on four consecutive racing days.

Gallimore's great feat has overshadowed completely the finest riding performance ever recorded by an apprentice at the DRC. Youthful Albert Gaddis has surpassed the record of 65 winners set by Glynn Bernis during the 1964 season.

Gaddis is second in the overall riding race, with a comfortable margin over the veteran Donald Holmes in third place.

While Gallimore long ago clinched top riding honors, the leading trainer probably will not be decided until the final day of the meeting. Dewey Smith, who trains the strong T. A. Grissom string, and Robert L. Irwin, who handles the M. H. Van Berg stable, have been seasawing back and forth in the top spot for the past two weeks.

Livonia DPR Starts Adult Gym Classes

Interested in physical gym activity? Adult men and women out of high school, can participate in the Livonia Recreation Department's informal class from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. each Monday beginning Nov. 7 at Clarenceville High School located on the west side of Middlebelt between 7 and 8 Mile Roads.

Activities will include basketball, volleyball, badminton and others according to group interest. The group will meet to the end of March.

Patios Given Luster Look

Sprucing up basement, garage or patio floors gets easier every day.

New vinyl epoxy latex floor paint may be rolled on to flooring surface with regular paint roller.

Quick drying, it leaves a low luster sheen and may be applied to any common flooring, including concrete, cement, brick, stone and other masonry, wood and primed metal.

According to the manufacturer, moisture will not cause it to blister or peel.

Postwar Baby Crop Now Makes Presence Known in New Homes

The postwar baby crop of 1946-47 is making its presence felt in at least one of the country's basic industries — homebuilding. They are getting married, creating new households, and seeking homes — new, old and rental jobs.

The extent of this new market for homes in the Detroit area may be found in the Census Bureau's most conservative projection which calls for a 10 per cent increase in the normal demand as a result of new family formations for the year ending next July.

The forecast nationally is for an addition of one million new households every year after 1967 for at least a decade.

"These kids are the biggest source of today's surging demand for new housing," according to James P. Gallagher, senior editor of House & Home, the management magazine of housing published in New York.

The editor dismissed the current tight-money cycle as a passing phase of the local and national economy and called upon the builders of the Detroit metropolitan area, of which some 800 are members of the B.A.M.D., to get ready for the great surge of demand for housing in the late '60's and through the '70's.

"A vast majority of the young couples will set up housekeeping in apartments for the first years of their married life," said Gallagher, "and this fact may give us a roaring apartment shortage by the end of 1967, unlike anything since World War II."

"The last figure I saw for Detroit F.H.A. apartments showed a one per cent vacancy factor, just half of what it was a year ago. For all practical purposes, this means there are no vacancies in Detroit apartments."

Gallagher pointed out that Government action ending fast-depreciation write-offs on apartment was forcing some builders to postpone apartment starts, further complicating the situation.

"Couples of the future will have fewer children than their parents did," said the editor. "They will be less interested in mowing lawns, shoveling snow and painting the house trim. The head of the house is likely to be an engineer with a Master's degree. He will want to live closer to his wife, too, because she also has a job."

Multi-family housing has grown from under 10 per cent of the total new housing units a few years ago to a point where it presently accounts for almost 40 per cent of what is being produced today, Gallagher reminded the builders.

"I see nothing in the near future to reverse this trend," he added. "House & Home believes this percentage may rise to 50 per cent, by the time the annual production (of total housing units) gets to the two-million mark, a volume the industry is going to have to reach and maintain if we are going to keep up with the needs of the people."

In spite of the surge of apartment buildings, said Gallagher, half of the two million housing units that will be produced each year will still be singles. That means a million houses, he added, most of which are going to be built in traditional ways, traditional styles and in traditional subdivisions.

The public is invited to attend the affair which will continue from 3 to 7 p.m.

The Livonia office will specialize in used home sales and financing. It will be staffed by 12 fulltime sales people, a secretary and a branch manager.

Lee Curtis, former teacher in the Livonia school system, has been named branch manager. He is a graduate of Kansas State University and holds a master's degree from Northwestern University.

Curtis was a fulltime salesman at the home office prior to his promotion. Future plans for the Livonia office include IBM machines which will provide patrons with instant listings and sales information.

Hartford Realty Inc. is one of the fastest growing firms in the Detroit area. It was organized in 1964 by Boyne Perkins, Richard Cutright and Joe Norwood. The company expanded into one of the largest single realty offices in the Northwest Detroit section in a period of six months.

Don't Always Put Blame On Mover

Whether you are moving for the first time or have been through the experience before, you should remember what to expect from your mover, cautions the Aero Mayflower Transit Company, a leading long-distance mover.

If possible, plan your move during the middle of the month. Movers are busiest at the beginning and the end of the month.

Most movers will be happy to send a representative to your home to provide estimates of costs. Be sure to get a written estimate which states the conditions and terms of the contract. Beware of unrealistically low estimates. Often, these are "comeons" used by disreputable firms.

Your mover cannot disconnect or connect appliances requiring special servicing. Also you, and not the mover, should make arrangements to take down venetian blinds, draperies, mirrors, window cornices or other attached items. These items should be ready for loading when the van arrives at your home.

Kids To Elect Books

To celebrate Children's Book Week, this week, the Garden City Library is holding an election to find out the favorite books in Garden City. All boys and girls are invited to come to the library and vote for their favorite book.

Church Meeting Set
 The regular monthly meeting of the St. Raphael Rosary Altar Society will be held Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. in the Parish Hall.

Groups Seek Kool-Aid For U.S. Soldiers

The Kirk of Our Savior United Presbyterian Church at 16660 Cherry Hill, in Westland is cooperating with the Girl Scouts of America in collecting packaged drinks for servicemen in Vietnam.

United States soldiers in letters written home have repeatedly requested Kool-Aid or a packaged drink to make the water taste better.

All drinking water must be boiled, because of lack of sewage control and this process leaves the water tasteless.

Contributions can be dropped in the church narthex or sent to KOOL-AID for Vietnam, 427 N. Hanlon, Westland.

All drinks will be turned over to the Girl Scouts for early shipment to Vietnam.

Lions Sponsor Peace Essays

The youth of Westland has been given a challenge to develop a plan for world peace by their local Lions Club—a challenge that could earn one of them a $25,000 educational and/or career assistance grant.

The Westland Lions Club, together with Lions Clubs throughout the world, is sponsoring a world-wide essay contest for the world's youth on the most important world subject today—Peace.

The contest offers $50,000 in total awards, including the $25,000 first prize, eight semi-final world regional awards of $1,000 each and travel expenses for the eight winners to Chicago, Illinois, in July, 1967. At that time, the first prize winner will be chosen from the eight. Also, more than 20,000 local, district and multiple district awards will be made.

"We are hopeful one of your young people will win this world-wide prestige award," President Sam Smith of the Westland Lions Club said in announcing the contest locally.

The contest, open to those who will be 14 but less than 22 years of age as of Jan. 15, 1967, was announced by Edward M. Lindsey, President of Lions International during the Association's annual International Convention in New York.

"Our Club's winner will advance to Lions District 11A competition in his effort to qualify for the multiple district contest," Smith said. "This will be the largest Peace Essay Contest in the world today, and it's purpose is to develop a formula for world peace because we feel peace is attainable," Smith said.

"We want to alert our youth to the need for world peace and focus attention on that important goal," he said.

Contestants should submit their entry in essay form, not to exceed 5,000 words.

"Judging will fall into four categories: 75 per cent of the essay's points will be devoted to content, ten per cent to style and five per cent to mechanics," Mr. Smith said.

"Three judges will be appointed to evaluate the entries submitted to our club's Essay Committee, which will be under the direction of our Mayor, Thomas H. Brown, a member of the Westland Lions Club," said Smith.

Students wishing to enter the contest should contact their school principal's office, or the Westland Lions Club to get full details of the contest.

"Cinderella" Heads Yule Seal Drive

Candy Richards, 18-year-old Michigan Bell Telephone Co. information operator, is serving as Wayne County's 1966 Christmas Seal chairman.

The willowy brunette, who earlier this month reigned at the annual Cinderella Ball, was officially crowned by Malcolm Denise, Ford Motor Co. vice president who is a director of the TB and Health Society and chairman of its Public Relations Advisory Committee.

While the actual Christmas Seal Campaign in Wayne County begins in mid-November, Candy has been active in it for several weeks.

Miss Richards, who lives with her mother and two sisters at 24341 Princeton, Dearborn, was hospitalized at Maybury Sanatorium when she was nine. She contacted TB from her home the summer before.

Candy told of her bout with TB and some of her experiences in the hospital. She will spend the next seven weeks visiting children in the state's TB hospitals, making personal appearances on behalf of the Christmas Seal campaign.

To make her task easier, Denise presented her the keys to a Ford LTD to be used during the campaign.

Wally Roberts GOING UP CURTAIN

Amble, saunter, sidle, skip or just plain walk real fast over to the Fisher Theater and purchase your tickets for "Walking Happy," the Sammy Cahn-Jimmy Van Husen musical, headed for Broadway.

The artistry of Norman Wisdom, Louise Troy, and William Rose push this musical version of "Hobbes' Choice" into the "smash" category. The Cahn-Van Husen numbers "How Dya Talk to a Girl," "Walking Happy," "I Don't Think Im in Love," and "It Might As Well Be You," put spice and spirit into a show already chock-full of plus factors.

Danny Daniel's choreography utilizes a megaton of energy for the high-kicking, gravity-defying routines. His "Clog and Grog" number all but stomps a permanent scar on the Fisher stage. Five times during this number the audience applauded the wild clopping, the high-flying eccentric patterns, and creative effort that went into this show-stopping number.

Is the story convincing in "Walking Happy?" You know it has to be if a musical is a success. Old Wally admits he favors the ancient plot where in the mean old employer gets his just due from one of his workers. When the little guy triumphs over the big, bad businessman, I always choke. Throw a hard-hearted, calculating daughter into this ancient plot and you have all the ingredients of "Walking Happy."

Norman Wisdom plays the part of the shy Will Mossop to a "T." His work is faultless. The one-man band sequence seen in Act I is a purse gem. You could go through the evening's activities and find place after place where Mr. Wisdom thespian ability held you enthralled.

Act I may have a few rough spots, but you forget these minor slips midway through Act II. You suddenly realize that "Walking Happy" is sailing toward "smash musical" rating.

The final scene provides the right tug at your heart. It's not over-done. When Will Mossop flashes Maggie that smile of confidence and says "Come, lass," your eyes mist slightly and you are sitting happy. Maggie concludes the evening with Will's favorite saying, "By gum." Old Wally blasphemously under his breath echoed her final line with an added irreverent "Amen." A beautiful ending to a night-perfect musical.

The Fisher Theater has "Walking Happy" for the next three weeks. Need I nudge you any further?

You can't help falling in love with "Walking Happy" as you listen, listen and listen some more. The score, the dancing, sets, and performers are infectious in their happiness and you will walk out happy after the performance ready to tackle the troubles of the world with fresh zest.

Oliver Tickets On Sale for Nov. 25, 26 Dec. 2, 3, 4 Dates

Tickets for the sparkling musical "Oliver" are now available, and the Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford announces that advance sales are being processed. "Oliver," which opens the '66-67 season at Bentley High Auditorium Nov. 25 and 26 and Dec. 2, 3 and 4, will have an 8:30 p.m. curtain except for Sunday which will be 7:30 p.m.

This point in the heavy rehearsal schedule shows the Guild bubbling with enthusiasm about the smooth moving work of the cast. Mark Savage, in the title role of Oliver, has director Jerry Bovenschen, musical director Jack Pierson, choreographers Jim and Virginia Magan in fine spirits with his professional work.

The director's confidence is further spurred by Guild familiar Howard Egan, Bob Angevine, Louise DiVitto, Taffy Michalke, Louise Martin, Bob Heinzen and Karen Jacobs, and a group of newcomers, Peggy Udman, Jim Monroe, Robert E. Lee, Michelle Magon, George Savage, Pat Nicol, Gerald Sima and Reed Damian.

Co-producers Judy Pierson and Jackie Javor have issued a note that additional seamstresses are still needed. There is also a call out for set construction workers to complete the set designed by Bill Moore. If available to help in these two vital areas of production, call GA 7-8073.

To be sure of getting seats for the night you prefer, call for tickets now. All seats are $2.50. A special student rate of $1.75 has been arranged for opening night. Groups of 25 or more are subject to a discount of 50 cents.

For tickets call 538-3135. Ask about the season pass which guarantees a seat for all of the shows by The Theatre Guild this year and saves over 25 per cent.

Top Skaters Show Skill In Ice Follies

Separately they're two of the greatest entertainers the ice show business has ever known. Together, Richard Dwyer and Dorothyann Nelson have created the most popular duet on ice.

Dwyer and Nelson are stars of the 1967 edition of the Shipstads and Johnson Ice Follies, opening a 12-day engagement at Olympia Stadium in Detroit Tuesday, Nov. 15.

Dwyer, though 31 years old, is a 16-year veteran of the show. Besides his number with Dorothyann, in which they spoof the Edwardian era when the pre-jet flew around in balloons, Dwyer solos in the fashion-minded "Bridal Rhapsody."

Over the years his charm and exuberance has earned him the title of "Mr. Debonaire." Dorothyann, who joined the show in 1962, literally bubbles when she skates. Their styles fit together perfectly.

French Singer To Appear at U of D

Three sell-out audiences in New York's Carnegie Hall early this month, and enthusiastic followings in Chicago, San Francisco, and Los Angeles, prepare Charles Aznavour, small, intensely serious, singer-composer from Paris for his appearance on the University of Detroit Town and Gown Series, Sunday, Nov. 13.

Aznavour filled the Memorial Building at the U. of D. last season when Frankophiles fawned in from Chicago and Montreal to hear him sing of tragedy and tenderness, with gaiety and glee at the human condition when love arrives.

He began writing sad songs for Edith Piaf 16 years ago, went on to singing and producing his own shows, and became a top record-seller in his native France.

Film Adaptation of Novel Slated

A film adaptation of the Dostoyevsky novel, "The Idiot," will lend further international flavor to the Schoolcraft College fall semester Creative Arts on the Campus film series when the French-made movie is shown Friday, Nov. 4.

Director George Lampin tackled the monumental task of bringing a Dostoyevsky novel to the screen with a cast headed by Gerard Philippe who plays the name role of a simpleton prince who unsuccessfully attempts to convey his blissful air of tranquility to a debased society.

The film will be shown at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. in the amphitheater of the Forum and is free to the public.

The Piano Player" which is usually scheduled for film festivals. Other movies include "Three Fables" with Leslie Caron, "Tomorrow Is My Turn," for which he received the Golden Lion Award at the Venice Film Festival, "Taxi for Tobrouk," and "High Infidelity."

Aznavour gives to his audience the element of surprise, catching them up in the spirit of his performance.

He will be seen at 8:30 p.m. in the Memorial Building on the McNichols Road campus. Tickets are on sale at the Memorial Bldg. Box Office, 342-1000, ext. 257, and J. L. Hudson's stores.

JACK O. BEASLEY of 31119 Sturbridge, Farmington, has been named director of quality assurance for electrical manufacturing by The Udylite Corporation. He joins the firm from Futurmill where he has been a sales engineer. A 1960 graduate of Purdue University, Beasley is presently completing work on a master's degree at Wayne State University.

Historymobile To Visit Farmington Nov. 8, 9, 10

The Michigan Historical Commission's Historymobile will visit Farmington Nov. 8 to 10. Hours for the exhibit, which will open up for business in the Downtown Shopping Center in the City of Farmington, will be from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Admission is open to the general public free of charge. The Farmington Historical Society is sponsoring the unit's visit to the area.

The huge 10 foot by 54 foot museum on wheels will be located in the parking lot of the center. The Center is located at Grand River and Farmington Rds.

Valued at more than $50,000, the Historymobile was developed through the cooperation of 22 Michigan businesses and industries which contributed equipment and supplies.

A total of 19 colorful and informative displays have been prepared in a cooperative effort by 14 Michigan museums.

Displays are arranged chronologically. They cover topics such as prehistoric man in Michigan, French exploration and fur trade, the British era, Michigan becomes American, the territorial period, migration to Michigan, Michigan becomes a state, development of mineral resources, water transportation, railroad transportation, the state's role in the Civil War, the white pine era, and the development of agriculture.

Others are early Michigan industries, the auto industry and development of our highways, Michigan in World War I, the 1920's and the depression, Michigan's arsenal of democracy, and the changing face of Michigan since World War II.

Schoolcraft To Present Top Soprano

Leslie Eitzen, well-known Detroit mezzo-soprano, will present a program of lieder at 11 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 10, in the library at Schoolcraft College. Miss Eitzen will be making her second appearance in two years on the Schoolcraft on-campus concert series.

Presently teaching in the Detroit school system, Miss Eitzen has taught voice at Schoolcraft and has had teaching appointments at the Detroit Institute of Musical Arts, the University of Michigan and the University of Iowa.

She has appeared with the Detroit Opera Company in the title roles in "Carmen" and "Madame Butterfly" and as Marguerite in "Faust" and has sung in concert performances in the area and as soloist with the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

Allen Shaffer, of the Schoolcraft music faculty, will accompany Miss Eitzen.

In Wayne State University's first football season, 1918, the Tartars won all four starts, scoring 100 points and blanking all four foes.

Shakespeare Group Slates Performance at Oakland U.

When the National Shakespeare Company presents "Much Ado About Nothing" Saturday, Nov. 5, and "Hamlet" Monday Nov. 7, at Oakland University, the audiences will be viewing a group making theatrical history. Both performances will be staged in the university's new 600 seat Wilson Hall at 8:30 p.m.

ing interest in the Shakespearean repertoire.

The National America's only cross country touring company, is the most widely traveled Shakespeare group ever to travel this country. Last season alone it logged more than 30,000 miles in an eight month tour of 35 states during which it gave more than 300 performances. Its success reflects both the excellence of the 11 New York professionals which make up its cast and the enduring interest in the Shakespearean repertoire.

The company is the brain child of director Philip Meister and producer Elaine Sulka, each with vast theatrical experience on both coasts. Meister's most recent achievement away from the National was directing the acclaimed off-Broadway production of Douglas Turner Ward's "Happy Ending" and "Day of Absence", winners of the Vernon Rice and Obie prizes.

Tops For Tigers

Norm Cash's grand slam home run against the Cleveland Indians on July 22 was the fifth of his major league career, high for the Detroit Tigers.

The 11 member cast was chosen from more than 3,000 applicants. Each actor plays a different role in the productions toured and most have resisted outside offers for other productions.

The lively, flexible company carries its own complete set of richly decorative period costumes and scenery plus the most modern lighting and sound equipment available. Shakespeare becomes a vibrant and significant force as these dedicated actors present it.

Tickets for both performances are available at the University's Festival office, 338-7211, ext. 2301.

OU Faculty Sets Exhibit of Work

An exhibition of works by the Oakland University art department faculty will open Nov. 9, and be shown through Dec. 2, according to John B. Cameron, acting chairman of the department.

The exhibition will feature a variety of works, including oil and water color paintings, drawings, prints, sculpture, collages, and photography. It will be shown in the new University Art Gallery, located in the Matilda R. Wilson Hall.

John L. Beardman, assistant professor of art, and Kiuchi Usui, visiting assistant professor, will show paintings and drawings; Ross A. Norris, instructor, prints; Morris Brose, lecturer in art, sculpture; Abraham A. Davidson, assistant professor of art, photographs; and John C. Galloway, department chairman presently on leave of absence, collages.

Gallery hours throughout the exhibition will be 12:30-4:30 p.m., Tuesday through Friday, and from 2-5 p.m. on Sundays.

Campers Slate Meeting, Nov. 10

One Age For Maturity

The Observer is re-running this column written by Paul M. Chandler, former publisher when he was State Representative. It clearly indicates his support of the vote for 18-year-olds concurred with by The Observer.

We urge a YES vote Nov. 8 when the question appears on the ballot.

In the course of pursuing the duties and privileges of a State Representative, we introduced a bill last week for the consideration of the chamber and the public at large, which would require youths to attain the age of 18 before receiving a solo automobile driver's license. (It's 16 today.)

The proposal has strong arguments within its own merits, but there was something additional in mind.

Facts and Opinions contends that the much-publicized teenagers in our midst deserve consistency and intellectual honesty from their adults . . . and the same from all laws which rest on the Michigan books.

They don't get it today.

For purposes of the law, a teen-ager today cannot smoke or drink until he is 21.

He is not regarded as qualified to exercise his vote until he is 21.

He can drive a car when he is 16.

Or be married when he is 16 (for girls) or 18.

And it has been ruled entirely reasonable that he shall offer his service (and his life, if need be) to the armed forces when he is 18.

Nor is it the same from State to State, within the same nation. In some states (and the youngsters know it, and talk about it), it is entirely legal to drink at 18.

In the two youngest States in the Union, Alaska and Hawaii, they could vote at 19 and 20. In two others, down south, they could vote at 18.

Few states indulge in the pretense of a "no smoking" law. It's an ancient Michigan statute and is the laughing stock of students, teachers and parents alike. Thousands of our local youngsters smoke before they are 21 and are in "violation" of a law with every puff. Enforcement is impossible as a practical matter.

Out of all this we believe, could come a logical pattern.

To convince our teen-agers that their adults are fair, consistent and honest, there should be a standardized age where "maturity" begins. Eighteen years is a justifiable plateau.

At 18 should come the privileges of maturity, along with the responsibilities—and the latter are many, we hasten to assure the young ladies and gentlemen.

One of the most compelling arguments for the higher driver age is that when 16 or 17 year olds are arrested, they go into Juvenile Court. Not until they are 18 are they processed in adult courts.

The change in the age of a driver's license would be a first step toward standardizing at 18. Lowering of the voting age and the drinking age and elimination of the smoking law all will receive attention here later.

* * *

As to the specific of not driving until 18—Our proposal in Lansing would still permit teenagers to drive at a younger age, if an adult or guardian is in the car. There would be no change in the high school driver training program.

Upon attaining the 18th birthday, the license would permit going out alone, without adults in the car.

Some 65 percent of all juvenile arrests today in this area involve the automobile in one way or another. Car thefts, car stripping, speeding, rowdiness at Drive-Ins, gang fights, collisions—all come from operation of the automobile. There have been violent fatal accidents in recent months.

None are necessary. Cars are prohibited at the University of Michigan, for instance, where the students are 18 to 22, but are allowed throughout the metropolitan suburbs, for 16 and 17 year olds.

Much of the pressure for a change in the law has come from parents who are torn by the agony of worry at night, yet don't know (or prefer not) to resist the pressures put on them by their youngsters and teen society. A state law would provide a basis for the parents denying the request for a car, or use thereof, until their sons and daughters were 18 and older and wiser.

We regard it as a badly-needed law change within itself—but, to return to the original thesis—it should be only a part of setting the general age of "maturity" at 18, being consistent about it, and letting our youngsters know we're fair and honest with them.

Grand Jury and Elections

The writer, in an editorial on this page last week urged Garden City voters to exercise a full degree of fairness in the forthcoming elections with the local atmosphere brimming with private comments of imminent warrants from the Wayne County Grand Jury and other rumors of official wrongdoing. This was done in view of the fact that no indictments, warrants, arraignments, trials, or convictions have come to pass through the American way of due process of law.

However, with the warrants issued by Grand Juror George E. Bowles involving Mayor Edwin J. Freeh, Jr., former City Councilman Eugene Salvatore, and former City Attorney Evan Callanan, coming within 24 hours after the editorial was published, The Observer feels that it could win the prognosticator of the year award.

But the issue is much too serious to say "I told you so." There are too many important things—and futures—at stake.

The Observer has published numerous details in the past four months concerning its public uneasiness about Mayor Freeh working for a local real estate firm which has a continuous stream of the normal development requests before the City Council concerning rezoning of land, vacation of streets and/or land building variations, and other issues.

Mayor Freeh has admitted his affiliations with the realty firm but defends his actions by saying that he has talked with attorneys and they have told him that there is no conflict of interest.

Maybe so, but this may all be academic since the grand jury warrants come just before the municipal elections.

While we may question the timing of the warrants, we cannot ignore the past history of Garden City politics. In addition, Garden City voters have not retained a mayor for a second term since James Tierney served consecutive terms from 1956-1960.

But this symbolizes something more important than just pure politics. It seems that Garden City citizens are continually dissatisfied with the municipal leadership at City Hall.

If they were content, there would have been some continuity of governmental leadership in City Hall.

City Has Taxing Law
Editor:

One reason the residents of Independence Green might wish to consider voting against annexation to the City of Farmington is that fact that under the law a City, but not a township, can levy an income tax on residents. Thus, although apartment dwellers may not have to worry immediately about increased taxes on real estate as a result of annexation, they should realize that the City of Farmington can very well levy an income tax upon them, if it wishes to do so, once they are within the city limits.

CONCERNED CITIZEN, Farmington.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The argument that is best of scare tactics, while it is true, is that cities are allowed to levy income taxes while Townships are not. The Farmington City Council is not at all likely to impose an income tax on its residents in the near future if for no other reason than the fact that they want to be re-elected. City Attorney Bob Kelly told the Council one night that if they wanted to raise additional funds why not levy an income tax. The remark was absolutely ignored almost as if none of the "politicians" would even admit that they had heard such a dangerous proposal.

Wake Up Plymouth!!

The City of Plymouth is the only city in Wayne County and one of a very few in the entire state to prohibit the sale of liquor-by-the-glass. It does permit the sale of beer and wine but has thrice rejected proposals to approve alcoholic beverages by the glass.

The matter goes to the voters for the fourth time, second in four years, next Tuesday and the Observer urges approval just as it did four years ago. We feel it's high time for the electors to realize that it will not turn the city into a skid row complex of saloons and taverns.

It's high time the residents of the City assured the City Commission that they do have faith and confidence in their ability to decide how many permits should be granted. It's well-known that Plymouth's population of more than 9,000 entitles it to six licenses should the issue be approved.

That doesn't mean the Commissioners will grant all six. Past Commissions have gone on record that the present three beer-wine licenses would be the only ones to receive liquor-by-the-glass permits.

Furthermore, those who have become so emotional over the matter that they charge the city would be filled with bars and saloons—perhaps on the corner closest to their homes in the better subdivisions—certainly must realize that the laws require a site to have a commercial zoning, to have the approval of the majority of homeowners in the area and that it must be 500 or more feet from a church or school.

In addition the applicant is carefully screened by the local police and by investigators from the Michigan Liquor Control Commission. Finally, the application must be approved by the City Commission.

With all of these checks, we can't see how anyone could possibly believe that Plymouth would become a city of bars and taverns if the issue is passed.

We recommend the approval of voters. We believe the passage of the proposal will help the business climate of the city. We know it will aid the tax situation. We urge voters to use good common sense when they go to the polls and not to be influenced by the emotional displays by those who base all of their charges on what may happen—it can't under the existing laws and with a City Commission that has the final authority and uses it.

We can't find any good reason for the City of Plymouth chasing business into the Township. It has for years and this is one way to stop it—vote 'Yes' for the liquor-by-the-glass proposal.

Write To Those Responsible

Editor:

I just read in The Observer about the 11 per cent increase in state taxes.

I am very upset about this since we home owners in Livonia are taxed so high now.

Could you please print the address of the State Tax Commission office in your paper so that maybe if a large amount of citizens wrote to them then maybe we could get something done about this.

MRS. H.J.S. Livonia

Editor's Note: Good idea. Robert L. Purnell, Chairman, Michigan State Tax Commission, Post Office Station A, Lansing, Mich., 48926.

Fiddle de dee To Ferency
Editor:

When Zolton Ferency first announced he would be a candidate for the Democrat Party, I admired his courage.

Now, I cannot see why he did unless he enjoys sniping from the gutter.

When he says "only one candidate walks upon water and it is not me", he comes nearer than he realizes to the truth of the matter. Never in the history of America have we been more in need of a man who follows the beliefs of He who really "walked on water."

When he calls Romney "two faced" I can only hope he doesn't mean it the way it sounds. "Two Faces" like that of Governor Romney could do nothing but add to the prestige of the Beloved Country.

When he compares a rifle given to Gov. Romney (AND to 49 other Governors) with the common occurrence of daily graft in political life, he must be mad.

Worst of all, he must take the American voter for a blithering idiot to spat out such venom about the decent, honorable man who chose to enter political life, instead of staying in the better paying, better respected, easier life of a business man, as most decent, honorable men do.

Fiddle de dee! JUST ME

For Jack McDonald
Editor:

In an election year everyone is, entitled to his own opinion. I believe, however, that people must be supplied with the correct information in order to arrive at an intelligent decision. If Mrs. Chandler based her opinion in last week's "Observing the Scene" column only upon the information contained therein, I could understand her choice of candidate for the 19th Congressional District. Perhaps, I would feel that way too, if that were all I had to go on. Looking at the complete picture, including all the achievements in public service of each candidate, I am compelled to draw a different conclusion than that of the writer.

On one hand there is Billie S. Farnum whose long time activity in the UAW-CIO led to a career based upon political appointments by Soapy Williams and John Swainson.

In light of all the information there is no doubt that Jack McDonald is the man who will provide responsible representation for the 19th District.

OMBUDSMAN

(A special feature in The Observer Newspapers — we will do our best to be a go-between, a red-tape cutter as the name indicates. When you have exhausted all other measures on a problem write to us (keep it short, please) and we'll see if we can help. Yes, John Q, you can fight city hall — with your own Ombudsman!)

Dear Ombudsman:

During the summer months, the Observer editorial page commented extensively on bicycle safety. One editorial quoted laws for bicycle riding. One law which was quoted stated generally that children under 12 years old are prohibited from riding bicycles in the street.

Recently there was a chance to check with the Traffic Bureau of the Livonia Police Department on this law. I was informed that the Livonia bicycle ordinance has no such prohibition written in it. In view of this, it is the responsibility of each parent to govern his child's use of the bicycle in the street.

Confused parents throughout the city would appreciate clarification of the bicycle ordinance of the rules on the card presented to the owner when a bicycle is registered.

CHARLES H. KAY LIVONIA

Dear Mr. Kay:
Lt. Robert Thorne, head of the traffic division of the Livonia Police Department

Livonia's ordinance does not cover riding in the street (that is a Farmington Ordinance) because Livonia does not have sidewalks everywhere. Bicyclists may ride on the sidewalk, however, must give pedestrians right of way. Article 20 of the Livonia Traffic Code has been given to the Livonia schools. They are presently translating it into language for students and it will be distributed via the school to all students. This should take about two more weeks.

OBSERVING the Scene . . .

By MYRA CHANDLER

No one can deny the advantage of the two party system in government. Even if the platforms of the two are embarrassingly similar. With the exception of civil rights and federal aid, the two could be carbon copies.

There are, however, within each party those candidates who do not espouse the doctrine of their party platform.

Therefore, when you pull a straight party lever you are not necessarily voting for the philosophy you believe in right down the line.

All of this brings us to The Observer endorsements for the Nov. 8 election based on observations of performance over a period of time.

The Observer does not pull a straight party lever and never has.

Presidents, governors and hired public relations men have to—but newspapers that do are lazy and ineffectual.

In a few cases you must depend on your party philosophy rather than your basic intelligence because there are two good candidates—either one you elect will serve honestly and ably.

Not so in the 19th District Congressional race which includes Livonia, Farmington and Redford Township.

On an observation based over a six-year period of both men we deem Billie S. Farnum (D) by far the most qualified. He has served his district these past two years in Washington with understanding and integrity. He has worked long, arduous hours to correct inequity wherever he found it in his district. He paid homage to no special interest group. He is not riding into office on the charm of any other candidate.

Being a Democrat, naturally he is not being touted by Governor Romney, but knowing both men as I do, I know if the Governor knew him he would support and respect him.

All of the observations and experiences The Observer has had with his opponent, Jack McDonald, has created a sense of concern. Candidate McDonald is smooth, charming, ambitious and expedient. He does not have the knowledge of fiscal reform, budgeting on a State or National level, or of National affairs. Much of his background is extremely limited. He would get the Dale Carnegie award for impressing people—always the right word, at the right time, and to the right people. This might build a personal empire—but it is not what we need to strengthen a nation in time of trial—a nation which needs men pure of heart and honest of purpose—for this we need Billie S. Farnum.

Another obvious choice to The Observer is Congressman Weston Vivian of Ann Arbor representing Plymouth and Plymouth Township. Congressman Vivian is also a Democrat and is one of five in the United States Congress who holds a Ph.D. He is a man of great integrity. He is a scientist as well as a successful business man. We are proud of his calibre of man and should send him back to Washington to represent the second district.

In the 15th District there is another incumbent, Bill Ford (D), who has proven himself to be an able Congressman. He represents Westland and Garden City. He does have a dedicated man as a contender, Arpo Yemen (R), from Dearborn Heights, an attorney.

But Congressman Ford has been in the State House of Representatives and also in the State Senate. He knows as much about his district as he does his own family. He is a good Congressman and The Observer supports him.

Our Senatorial race is tough if you are going to vote for the man, not the party.

Take the 14th District. Paul F. Livingston (D) from Birmingham is a successful businessman and really wants a crack at representing the district of Farmington, Livonia and Plymouth.

Equally sincere and just as proven in both business and politics is George W. Kuhn also of the Birmingham area. Both are educated and fine candidates.

The only edge The Observer can give is because we recognize a fighter when we see one. Kuhn (R) is independent. He fought like a small tiger against a larger variety when he took on Mayor Cavanagh after he imposed the tax on those living in suburban areas and working in Detroit. Also, he has fought for the image of being an individual apart from his conservative brother Dick. He is his own person.

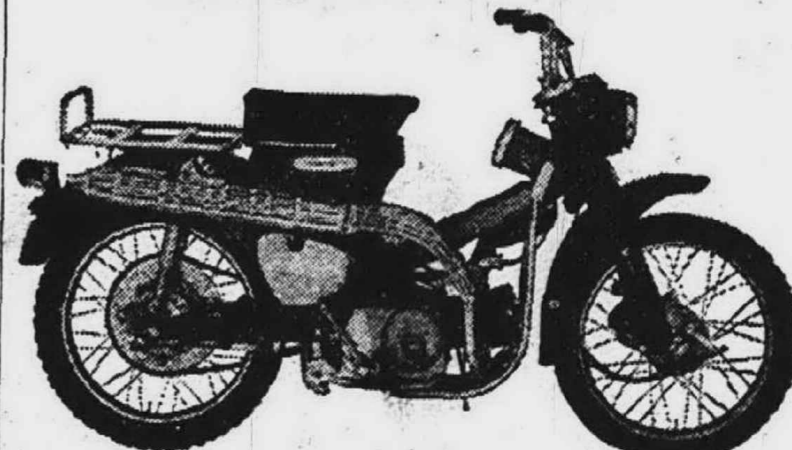

In the 12th District incumbent Edward Robinson (D) is a clear choice. He is a fighter for education, fiscal reform. This has been one of his prime objectives. In our suburban area and his own district, that includes Redford Township, this is vital. He is an articulate and strong voice in the Senate.

When an incumbent candidate can be upset in a primary—watch the man who did it. This happened in the 13th District which includes Garden City and Westland. William Faust, 37, from Westland upset Terry Trout. The Observer supported him then and we support him now.

In the House of Representatives for the State of Michigan it is important to elect men who have courage of convictions over party line this year because if they

Elections Prove Indians Weren't Only Barbarians by W. W. Edgar

When I was a young lad going to school we used to listen in horror as the teacher told us how the Indians captured the white men, tied them to a stake, and then set fire to the logs at the bottom and burned them to death.

I got to thinking about this the other evening when I dropped in on a so-called "political meeting" and while the candidates were not burned at the stake, the treatment they received was little less than barbaric.

I just sat there and couldn't believe my eyes or my ears. In my time I had been exposed to what we liked to call public service — serving in an official office to aid the community. And while we raced around to meetings we never were subjected to the kind of treatment the seekers of public office are getting now that another campaign is coming to a close.

At this particular meeting which had been advertised diligently for several weeks, less than 50 persons came to greet the candidates, among them our representative in the Congress of the United States and his rival.

This was little less than an insult as a starter. Why should a man who has spent two years in Washington be forced to race and chase around the country night after night fighting to hold his job and then meet so few voters. The whirlwind campaign he had been forced to conduct left him with a raspiness in his throat and his remarks were scarcely audible.

In spite of this he was "literally" burned at the stake. He was bombarded with questions about the war in Vietnam, the spending policies of the present administration, high taxes, and the lack of service to the taxpayers.

Each question seemed like a dart being tossed by someone who came to taunt the candidate — not obtain information that would lead to an intelligent vote.

Mind you, this was only one evening—and one meeting. In order to meet the candidates, in our present election system, he must attempt to meet as many voters as possible. That means racing from meeting to meeting and evening after evening, to say nothing of being at shop gates in the morning and mingling with the crowds at supermarkets on weekends.

Trying to attend all these sessions—in many cases arranged by someone who is only attempting to build a personal image — is a battle in itself. Trying to hit upon an intelligent subject each evening to aid the voters is enough to test the most gifted of orators.

Then, answering the questions from taunting listeners, is nothing short of being brutal.

This is bad enough, but there is another side . . . and an even worse side. That's the terrific expense of conducting a campaign. Just travel alone is costly. Add to this, the need of a staff to conduct research and write speeches, the cost of literature, posters, bill boards and it becomes much too painful for the ordinary man—regardless of his standing in the area. In today's campaigns, if you haven't got a big campaign fund, you're lost.

For instance, I once heard Senator Phil Hart say that it costs nothing short of a half million dollars to conduct a campaign in this era of television, radio, etc. Yet, the position paid only $32,000.

Why should a man be forced to spend a half million dollars to get a job that will pay him much less than that —$192,000—over the six-year term.

It's even painful to think about it.

Observing the Scene

don't have enough guts to pass an income tax, those of us living on fixed incomes will be forced to become cave dwellers. Ask anyone who is retired.

Never appearing to have strong convictions is the State Representative from the 64th District (Farmington) who is Raymond Baker (R). But he is not afraid to make Governor Romney look good and thus we will support him down the line for the needed fiscal reform for Michigan. We need his vote and thus we need him back in Lansing.

John Bennett (D), on the other hand, has been working like a fool representing Redford Township. We again urge his support. He will support Romney in his efforts to relieve tax-weary citizens of their present tax burden for education.

His opponent Bob Anderson (R) would no doubt support the Governor's program also but as an incumbent Representative Bennett has been honest in all of his dealings, an independent voter and has supported good legislation including his spade work on lowering the fire insurance rate for this area.

There is a tough one going on in Livonia—the 35th District.

No one can quarrel with Representative Marvin Stempien (D). He has been a diligent legislator. His legislation has not thrilled The Observer for his district—but as a good attorney he has upgraded judicial reform.

But now down the pike come a scrapper, Louis Schmidt (R), former superintendent of Clarendenville School District. He is an old-fashioned desk pounder and is interested in doing something tangible about the educational problems—and financial relief of same. They are two good men. I hate to see an incumbent defeated but The Observer feels for Livonia, Schmidt would make the fur fly once he hits the Lansing scene—and we need it.

In Garden City and Westland we think the incumbents both deserve another crack at the job based on their voting record. In Westland's 37th it is Vincent Pettipren (D) and James Tierney (D) in the 38th District which is Garden City and Plymouth.

We would urge you please not to neglect to cast a vote for the State Board of Education. There are two to be elected. One we recommend is a Republican and one a Democrat. The Republican is James O'Neil, Livonia resident. He is tireless in his efforts to upgrade education.

The Democrat is Donald Thurber who has served as Regent of the University of Michigan and understands well the problems facing the State, education-wise.

The Observer would urge you to vote Nov. 8—and to think—not take the easy way out and pull one lever for many who are merely "shirt tail" candidates.

(Laurence A. Wysong, stockbroker, welcomes all inquiries on investing. Send your questions to The Observer, "Investing Inquiries," 33050 Five Mile Road, Livonia. The answers are the opinion of Wysong who is considered highly qualified on the subject.)

Q. For quite a few years now we have been thinking about investing in stocks, but just did not know how to go about doing it. Can you help us by supplying information on how to start investing?

A. First a number of questions must be answered:

- 1. What are your financial resources?
2. What can you afford to invest?
3. What large expenditures are you facing over the next ten years?
4. What is your investment objective?

The above questions, plus many more will be asked of you by any professional stockbroker before you venture onto the road of fruitful investing. Hunters Urged to Follow Simple Rules of Courtesy

With the hunting season near, Michigan hunters should review a few simple hunting rules as carefully as they check their equipment, a Michigan State University game management specialist points out.

Michigan United Conservation Clubs, farm organizations, the Michigan Conservation Department and the MSU Cooperative Extension Service have joined in an effort to maintain good relations between farmers and sportsmen.

Charles Schick, MSU specialist in game management, adds that some Michigan conservation clubs are offering rewards for the conviction of hunters causing damage to farm property.

Schick has listed a few simple rules for hunters:

- 1—To hunt on another man's land is a privilege. Abuse of that privilege has only one result—loss of a place to hunt.
- 2—Never hunt on a farm without permission. Ask the former first—he expects and has a right to grant or refuse hunting privileges on his land.
- 3—Don't impose upon a farmer by hunting with a large party or when another group is already on the land. An 'army' of hunters and dogs will be resented. Three or four persons to a party is sufficient.
- 4—Proper introduction to a farmer will help get permission to hunt on a farm. Farmers like to know who is on their land.

5—Guns and dogs should be kept in the car until after hunting permission is granted. As common courtesy, a hunter should not approach a house with a gun in hand.

6—Locate farm boundaries before you venture into the field. This will prevent trespassing problems.

7—Note location of livestock and perishable crops such as soybeans, alfalfa, clover and buckwheat. Farmers do not appreciate hunters and dogs trampling through these fields or near areas where livestock are pastured.

8—Dogs should be under control at all times, and should never be allowed to chase livestock.

9—Always close gates. No farmer like to round up his cattle on a neighbor's farm.

10—Don't break down fences. Go under them, or climb over at fence posts. If necessary, dogs should be lifted over fences.

11—Observe all game laws and gun safety rules. A shotgun should not be fired in the direction of livestock or buildings even though they may be out of range.

12—Guns should be unloaded and pointed in a safe direction near people and livestock. And, don't fire a gun near farm animals. Farmers resent having livestock frightened by a shotgun blast.

13—Be careful with matches and cigarettes.

14—Don't be a litterbug. Common sense and a little courtesy will go a long way toward creating a good relationship between farmers and hunters, the specialist says.

"Hunting in Michigan will depend on the attitude expressed toward the landowner, his crops, his livestock and other property if it is to remain as we know it today," Schick concluded.

Grid Fans: Take Care On Roads

If you're planning to attend any football games this fall, drive defensively, or you may find yourself sidelined or in the "dead" end zone.

A drive to and from a college football game can be safe and pleasant if fans take certain precautions well in advance of the football weekend and follow certain basic rules of good driving.

Extra caution and defensive driving techniques are needed as thousands of exuberant fans converge on the stadium anxiously searching for a place to park in time for the kickoff. Some fans will have fortified themselves with bottled cheer and many take dangerous chances as they drive.

Motorists are urged to take certain precautions well in advance of the big weekend: Make hotel or motel reservations early if planning to remain overnight in the area of the school. Normal facilities seldom are adequate to handle the large demand for accommodations. Some people stay a short distance from the town where the game is and easily reach the stadium by game time.

Make sure the car is in good condition. Check the headlights, windshield wipers, brakes, tires and battery. Sudden changes in weather may occur bringing rain, snow or fog.

Check the route to the game. Don't rely on memories of the route taken five years before or certain landmarks. Study a large scale map of the campus and the stadium to make sure of the best route.

Allow enough time for the trip. Don't drive too far in one day or leave late and have to rush to arrive on time.

Be extra alert in traffic near the stadium. Many cities have special traffic regulations and parking restrictions on game days. Watch for police directing traffic at busy corners and keep alert for parking facilities.

After the game, take it easy. Watch for dangerous road conditions due to heavy traffic or bad weather. Postpone any celebration until after you drive. The excitement of the game and the emotional letdown afterward can combine to lessen a driver's awareness of danger. The addition of alcohol to this condition is deadly, just as drinking drivers are accident hazards throughout the year.

Following these driving tips can make your football weekend safer and more enjoyable.

Earn a Wiglet By Having Fun

Every Sunday or Monday night at Wonderland Lanes, Plymouth Rd., in Livonia, the alleys are open for bowling from 9:30 p.m. Unbelievably, this is the time milder can earn a wiglet from Continental Wigs Livonia for herself, simply by having fun.

With the holiday season coming up, wiglets are more fashionable than ever. After a day of shopping or entertaining, you can don one which you have had styled in a party mood, and be off for a gala evening.

Every lady bowler is given a card, or her husband may obtain one in her name. After the card has been punched 10 times, the owner is entitled to a free wiglet from Continental Wigs.

A bonus is that the lady doesn't have to be present, or to bowl herself. Any member of the family or even one of her friends can do it. The only requirement is that the card has 10 punches.

"Husbands, this would be a way to get your wife a glamorous Christmas gift without even parting with a cent of your hard earned cash. Give your wife a prettier Christmas and have fun at the same time," say the fashion authorities.

The Distaff Side...

By Jerry Wendt, Women's Editor

Thursday, Oct. 27 was an important day for the Federation of Women's Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit. It held the 72nd anniversary of its reception for officers, and also it was one of the last scheduled events to be held in the historic clubhouse on Second avenue, Detroit. Like everything else, progress is doing away with the old landmarks. The present house will soon be razed.

This lovely house is symbolic of a gracious area and of its giver. Few families have enjoyed the genuine respect that Detroiters have accorded the Alfred Dodge Wilson family.

They neither indulged in profligate extravagance nor pleaded penurioseness as an excuse for getting out of charitable obligations. Rather they lived on the English theory "noblesse oblige" that those who are favored by fortune have an obligation to their fellow man. They were prominent in many charitable and civic endeavors. Mrs. Wilson still is. She hosted the fabulous Opening Night at Meadowbrook this year.

When Mrs. Delphine Dodge Ashbaugh became president, the house was donated to the Federation of Club Women.

A wave of nostalgia enveloped the Observer Thursday when the doors opened and all the symbols of the gracious days of the past came to meet us. The wine red carpeting and beautiful oak paneling, symbolic of Meadowbrook Hall, were in evidence.

Colorful arrangements of fall flowers were everywhere, in the halls and on the tea table. Priceless antiques were disposed of throughout the rooms. "The White Room" so called because of its fireplace and white curtains and carpeting is used as a drawing room.

Mrs. Wilson, who despite her many civic endeavors, is a gay person, was present, and enjoying the compliments of her friends on her recent birthday party.

We took a tour through the home. Mrs. Nathaniel Banks, president of the Federation, personally conducted us. The beautifully appointed office of the president with its own green and gold powder room door is on the second floor.

The Observer had a feeling of personal pride in seeing it, for Mrs. Banks is the Redford Society Columnist and a feature writer.

Long ago, there were plays performed there and we saw the dressing rooms, still with the stars on them. There are reception rooms, board rooms, and libraries. We saw the auditorium which will be the scene of the International Ball on Nov. 12, a gala affair. Mrs. Banks is full of enthusiasm and plans for her term.

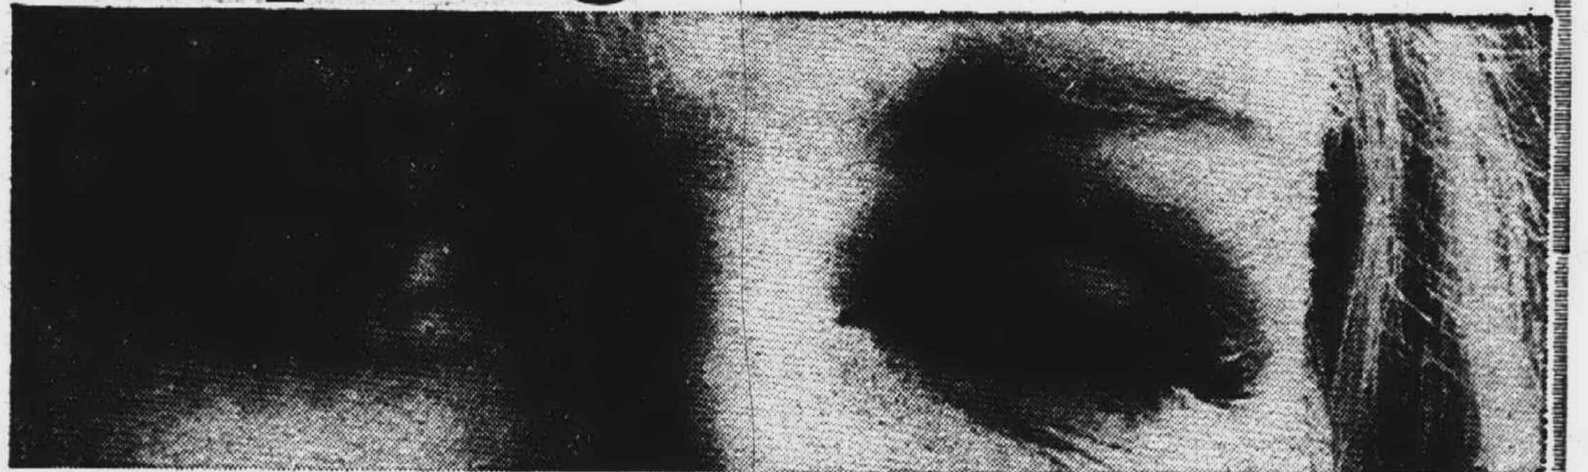

As we came down the stairway, we could see the rooms, filled with people and hear the strains of music from the grand piano at which Mrs. Thomas, wife of Dr. Thomas, was seated, entertaining the guests.

When this clubhouse is torn down, it will be more than a house that vanishes, it will be as Margaret Mitchell put it in her book, "a way of gracious living and elegance, which due to the tempo of modern times, has gone with the wind."

Isaiah's Prophecy To Be Science Sermon Nov. 6

Isaiah's prophecy concerning the mission of Christ Jesus is a part of the Christian Science Lesson—Sermon on "Adam and Fallen Man" to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday: "The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound."

Correlative readings from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include: "Through discernment of the spiritual opposite of materiality, even the way through Christ, Truth, man will reopen with the key of divine Science the gates of Paradise which human beliefs have closed, and will find himself, unfallen, upright, pure, and free, not needing to consult almanacs for the probabilities either of his life or of the weather, not needing to study brainology to learn how much of a man he is."

A daughter, Lesley, to Jim and Jo Harris, 38017 Jamison.

...the way

The fast tempo of these times is enough to make one wonder whether he's coming or going. There's got to be a fixed point of departure and return. The Christian faith is rooted deeply in the lives of those who have found Jesus Christ to be the beginning and the ending of all their "to and fro" meanderings in the earth. It was to a confused disciple that Jesus said: "I am the way, the truth and the life." John 14:6

Try Using Both Hands
Two hands are better than one for housecleaning efficiency. When washing the kitchen or bathroom floor, use one hand for the sudsy cloth, the other for the rinsing cloth. Wall-washing and window cleaning are other sudsy jobs done better the two-handed way.
Besides saving time, the muscles of both arms will get equal exercise to preserve their symmetry.

'Venice and the Italian Lakes' Opens Community House Travel Series

Scaloppine di vitella al Marsala . . . tender slices of veal cooked in a white wine sauce supreme; and Funghi Alla Parmigiani . . . a delightful blend of fresh mushrooms and parmesan cheese, are only two of the dishes being served at the Italian pre-film dinner at The Community House in Birmingham on this Friday and Saturday.

These dates mark the "opening night" of the 1966-67 Travel Film Series. It brings to The Community House world traveler, Thayer Soule, with his color film, "Venice and the Italian Lakes." Soule traces the history of this city from island refuge to world power, revealing its beauty and investigating its problems of today and plans for tomorrow.

A musical introduction will set the atmosphere of Venice for the audience, then taking a pictorial journey which includes the Piazza San Marco and its Basilica, the famed bronze horses and gold mosaics, the Clock Tower, sidewalk cafes, inside the Doge's Palace, masterpieces by Veronese and Tintoretto, the Bridge of Sighs, and along the Grand Canal to the Rialto Bridge.

After a brief intermission, Thayer Soule takes his viewers on to the Italian Lakes, glittering in the sunlight at the foot of the Alps. Not to be missed is Milan, with The Cathedral, the Galleria . . . a century old shopping center, and LaScala Opera.

The travel film begins at 8 p.m. in the main auditorium of The Community House, Bates and Townsend in Birmingham.

Season tickets are still available for the travel film series, however single tickets may be purchased in advance as well as at the door the evening of each performance.

Wild Rice Expensive But Does Make Good Dressing

By Faith Gillespie

Up in the timber forests of northern Minnesota and Wisconsin, and on into central Canada, the wild rice is being harvested.

Wild rice is not akin to white rice at all. It is a grass that grows from four to eight feet tall in the water of the shallow little lakes that dot the timber lands. It can't be cultivated—it grows wild—and it must be harvested from boats by hand. Traditionally the Indians have done the harvesting, bending the heads of the plant over the sides of the boat and beating the grains loose with two sticks.

As far as I can discover, wild rice is grown nowhere else in the world. I have cherished memories of times spent at a cottage beside one of the pretty rice lakes, with the wild rice growing. But I never saw it harvested, so I can't say whether it is still done by Indians.

Whoever does it now must have formed a union or a soil bank (a lake bank?) or something, because the price has jumped enormously. This really hurts, but since we love it, I've been finding ways to use it economically; it has become too expensive to eat straight.

Costly as it is, it is a culinary treasure, and it can be stretched quite a ways. Half a cup of dry wild rice makes 1 1/2 cups cooked.

This is enough to stuff the neck cavity of a large turkey, while you fill the large cavity with your inexpensive bread stuffing.

WILD RICE STUFFING

Rinse 1/2 cup wild rice in cold water. Drain. Bring to a boil three cups of water with one teaspoon salt and add the rinsed rice. Cook for 25 minutes in the boiling water, till tender, and then drain thoroughly.

Saute a medium onion chopped, and 1/2 cup chopped celery in two to three tablespoons butter till tender. Stir in the cooked rice and 1/4 teaspoon sage, 1/4 teaspoon thyme, 1/2 teaspoon salt, a few grains of fresh-ground pepper, and a tablespoon or two of sherry, if you have some.

Stir it for a couple-three minutes over medium heat, and it's ready to put into the bird. If you really want to live it up, saute 1/4 pound of fresh mushrooms with the onion and celery, or a small can of mushroom pieces. This recipe will also stuff a small roasting chicken.

One of my most highly prized recipes is this casserole which came from my sister-in-law in Minnesota. It calls for a cup of wild rice, about four ounces, but the casserole serves 10 to 12, so the cost of the precious rice is only about 10 cents per serving, an epicurean bargain.

GWEN'S TUNA SUPREME

Cook separately, according to directions, two cups white rice and one cup wild rice.

Saute in four tablespoons butter, two medium chopped onions, four stalks chopped celery, and 1/2 cup sliced fresh mushrooms (or a small can of mushroom pieces, drained). When the vegetables are clear and tender, stir in two cans white albacore tuna. (If the occasion is very special and your budget will stretch, a can of medium shrimp or crab meat is an elegant addition.)

tion.) Mix together one can mushroom soup, one can celery soup, and one soup can of milk, stirring till smooth. Add three tablespoons sherry if you want to. Stir everything together in a big mixing bowl, reserving about a half cup of soup mixture to pour over the top. Top with buttered crumbs or buttered Ritz cracker crumbs. Bake at 375 degrees for 30 minutes. You will need a three-quart baking dish or two 1 1/2-quart casserole dishes. Most often I do it in two, freezing one for another time.

Last time I bought wild rice, I remarked to the manager of the supermarket that the price was outrageous.

"It's the Vietnam war," he said. "We just can't get the stuff." Who's he trying to kid?

Dark Tones Are Needed For Contrast

The stylish new dark toned finishes on oak, pecan or elm Spanish and French Pyrenees furniture designs call for strong contrasts in other furnishings colors.

Back into high fashion are natural colors of materials. Top flight interior designers approve what is called a "no-color" scheme.

Translated into carpets, area rugs, upholstery fabrics and draperies this indicates the natural color of leather, brick, Mexican clay pottery, linen, wool and cotton and brass.

No-dye, no-glaze, no-tint, no-pattern, no-paint, except white or off-white walls. The natural shades of a room's furnishings puts the spotlight on the carved, curved-lined, rugged looking furniture.

The sturdy textured woods with their brown-black antiqued finishes are dramatic combined with the natural tones and textures of other materials.

Socially Speaking Around Plymouth

By Dorothy Sincock

GL 3-0038

(Call to report social events in your family, neighborhood)

"I never know what I'm going to say" W. W. Edgar answered when we asked him what he planned to speak about at the Farrand School PTA meeting on Tuesday evening. But for a man who wasn't sure of his topic he captivated his audience and held their attention for more than an hour.

He stressed three important factors, first, to set a goal and be willing to sacrifice; second, to achieve that goal, and third, not to spoil it once it is attained.

Highlight of the evening came when Eddie told of returning home after a long lapse, anticipating with great emotion his mother's reception. He reached the stairs where she stood and she exclaimed, "My gad! he's got a topcoat."

He always wanted one and in his mother's eyes he had reached his ultimate.

MARIAN FERGUSON from the Cass Community Center in Detroit will be guest speaker at the Women's Society for Christian Service of the Plymouth Methodist Church on Nov. 9. The afternoon will begin with a luncheon served by the Hannah Circle at 12:15 p.m. followed by Miss Ferguson's talk which will include the important work of the Center.

THE WHITE SHRINE of Jerusalem has plans for Nov. 12 for visitors to rummage through their wares from 9 to 5 in the Masonic Temple. And that last Friday and Saturday was most successful for the Plymouth LakePointe Branch of National Farm and Garden when it staged a sale at the Community Credit Union to benefit the Plymouth State Home.

Members visit twice monthly with various work projects and help to teach the children to be creative, appreciate music, identify flowers and shrubs and donations for equipment are all part of their benefits.

"TRASH AND TREASURES" will be the topic of Mrs. Florence Curtis of the Do-It Store in Royal Oak at the Plymouth Women's Club meeting on Nov. 4 at 1 o'clock in the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Curtis, whose hobbies are decorating and antiques, has been a frequent guest on the Carol Duval television show. The Do-It Store was the first of its kind in the Detroit area and has been at its present location for 13 years.

Club members are asked to bring their donations for the Loch Rio In-gathering. Gifts of money, TV stamps, cosmetics and canned goods except home canned goods, are welcomed. Any gift suitable for a young girl is acceptable.

MR. AND MRS. Jack Dobbs, of 654 Leicester, hosted a party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Tallmadge of W. Liberty who celebrated their 25th anniversary Oct. 22. Attending were out-of-town guests and the Tallmadge children, Tammy and Timothy, who were delighted with the honors.

PLANS ARE IN the making for a pre-holiday fashion show sponsored by the Rosary Society of Our Lady of Good Counsel on Nov. 30, at 8 p.m. in the Mayflower Meetinghouse.

Chairing the event will be Mrs. Robert McVoy; with the theme taken from Meredith Wilson's musical show "Here's Luv..." and featuring clothes from Harvis' and The Little Peoples Shop.

The Plymouth High School room 101 will be open on Nov. 11 for tryouts for the production in March of the "Desert Song." There will be auditions for singers, dancers and dialogue parts.

The third presentation of the AAUW Children's Adventure Series will be held on Nov. 5, at the Junior High West at 2 p.m.

The name of the lecture is "Man In Space," which will be given by Jay Beck. For three years Beck worked with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. He was for two years the Regional Director of Educational Services with NASA, and worked with the Need a Ride to Polls? Key Club Has Answer

Voters who need a ride to the polls in the City of Plymouth next Tuesday, will have transportation furnished by members of the Kiwanis Key Club from Plymouth High School.

Members of the club will be available for calls throughout the afternoon from 3 to 6 p.m. and will take anyone unable to get to the voting places during that period.

If you need a ride — call Randy Kenyon at 453-7615 and there'll be a car there within minutes. Better than that, if you know you'll need transportation, call Randy between now and the end of the week and reserve a spot in the three hour period.

Lewis Research Centre, which covered several mid-western states.

Some of the subjects he will discuss are: Wan Hoo, the first astronaut 1000 years ago; chimpanzees; Ham the chimp into space; and other animal experiments related to space travel. Beck will also explain what makes a rocket go and the actual firing of a live rocket.

ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF of Evans Products Co. plant in Plymouth are getting ready to move into their new quarters in the ultra-modern office building shown above. The 22,000 square foot structure will house the Transportation Equipment group's offices as well as those of the administrative and engineering personnel.

Evans Ready to Move Into New Quarters

Evans Products Company's new administration building on Eckles Road is almost completed. The photo shows the building after landscapers recently planted trees and shrubs and laid sod adjacent to the building.

The new 22,000-square foot one story steel and masonry structure will contain Evans' Transportation Equipment Group's headquarters offices as well as offices of the administrative and engineering personnel of Evans' Railway Car Division.

James J. Conway, Executive Vice President in charge of Evans' Transportation Equipment Group, said the new building was needed because of continuing growth in the transportation part of the company's operations. Because of this growth, he said Evans has need for additional skilled and unskilled factory employees at the Plymouth location to meet the demands from Evans' railroad customers for the freight cars and damage-prevention equipment made locally.

"On the basis of his special scientific training and the contribution it enables him to make in Washington and to his district, we endorse Vivian."

"Vivian has an attractive personality. He is educated and intelligent. He has been a hard-working Congressman."

"The best-informed vote on science in Congress today."

"He has done an outstanding job."

"We believe that Congressman Vivian, by his ability, by his training, and by his outstanding performance in the 89th Congress, is unusually well qualified to represent the Second Congressional District in the decade of the 1960's. We endorse him wholeheartedly for re-election."

Let's Talk Fashion

with June Simpson

JUST HOW DO you feel about some of the fashions our younger people are espousing? Most of us would rather not commit ourselves because of the horrible edict they have issued. "Don't trust anyone over thirty." Under these conditions one would rather shelve the discussion of long hair for boys, short for girls, and any other controversy.

However, if you happen to be a hopeless romantic, you have the sneaking feeling that some of the versions of the long hair styles for boys remind you of something. Page boys in the Royal Courts? Or perhaps the court of King Arthur himself.

THIS ENTIRE TRAIN of thought was brought on by the all of the emphasis that Fashion places on the importance of furs. And, I would like to ask, what under the shining blue heavens can contribute more toward making a really feminine type of gal feel more pampered, and Deliciously luxurious than furs. It was at this point that I recalled how very fashionable fur trim once was for the gentleman, and one wonders if the return of the page boy haircut foretells a general return to the courtier dress for the menfolk. After all, we do know that fashion has certain cycles, for both genders.

WHILE WE WAIT for time to tell, one thing is most certain. The love of furs and the furred look continues to consume the attention of Fashion, and the approval of the Lady of fashion. Never in the history of fashion furs have the ladies had a greater opportunity to explore the world of the furry look. The choice runs from honest to goodness real pink mink, to the most frankly fake of man made fabrics.

WHAT ARE THE "IN" FURS? You can practically take your lovely pick. In all of the important showings the array of favored furs included Persian lamb, beaver, seal, chinchilla, leopard, and, of course, the never ending elegant mink and ermine. The highlights of the most important fur fashion collections of the season included masterful designs that could convert with a twist of the wrist. Collars fasten every which-way, and, a portrait neckline that frames a lovely face and throat, can also fit beautifully and comfortably high. A magnificent Russian crown sable coat reverses to the elegance of a fur-bordered brocade coat, worn over a matching gown.

THERE IS THE real fun and beauty of the full ankle-length coat that truly lives a double life. A splendid broadtail coat with its lush border of black fox falls apart with simple touch, and there's two for the price of one. The knee deep flounce becomes a fox stole.

FASHION ALWAYS retains a sense of humor, and the fun-furs of painted bunny can be worn with a perfectly straight good face. Who cares if the look of civet cat or wild leopard really hides a meek bunny? The fur is the thing!

WITH ALL THE FUN and the special feeling that one derives from the wearing of furs — be they extravagantly real or fun-false, you can't help wondering why it has become an almost exclusive lady-fashion. Perhaps the wearing of the longer hair for the young American Male is an indication they may reclaim an old prerogative. Fur coats for men?

Cantor Blanks Repeat Vows For Their Golden Wedding Rites

Cantor and Mrs. Henry J. Blank repeated their wedding vows at a ceremony, Saturday, Oct. 29 in the Livonia Jewish Congregation. Association, who put on a concert and Rabbi M. Arm him, Detroit.

Rabbi David Jessel, of Temple Beth Am, Livonia, officiated with Cantor Hyman Adler, of B'nai David, Southfield. Cantor Ruven Frankel of Sharrey Zedek sang as the "bride" came down the aisle. Accompanist at the piano was Bella Goldberg.

The wedding procession consisted of Cantor Adler, Cantor Blank, "groom," the couple's two sons, Marvin and Robert, Mrs. Blank, their two daughters-in-law, Celia and Udas and four of the five grandchildren, Barbara, Jody, Jeffrey and Ronald. The fifth, Andrew, one-year-old, remained at home.

The "bride" wore an off-white full length ribbon gown. Her head was adorned with a whimsy of matching material and yielded a short length illusion veil. She carried a white family Bible with a gold ribbon.

The reception that followed was held in the congregations social hall prepared by the ladies of the L. J. C. Sisterhood and made in honor of the Synagogue and Sisterhood.

Approximately 200 guests attended including the Cantors from the Detroit Cantors

Cantor and Mrs. Henry J. Blank

Gifts for the occasion were prayer books presented and inscribed to the Livonia Jewish Congregation in the name of Cantor and Mrs. Blank, from the guests. The couple will leave Nov. 8 for a "honeymoon" in Florida, gift of their children.

The first wedding took place Oct. 28, 1916 on the east side of Detroit, performed by Cantor Berale Chaggi of B'nai David.

Cantor Blank has served the past seven years with L. J. C. and his wife Louise the past four years playing piano for the Sunday School music class.

Cantor Blank was born in Koshinoff, Russia and is from a family of Cantors and Rabbis. He studied in New York at the Music Settlement and the Damrosch Conservatory. Mrs. Blank was born in Buenos Aires and was graduated from the Conservatory of Music at Santa Cecilia in Argentina.

In the 1920's and '30's Mrs. Blank accompanied the Cantor on tours throughout the United States.

"I was talking with two Federal Judges the other day, and the conversation finally turned to the multitude of attorneys who are seeking judgeships in our various courts. They volunteered that the outstanding candidate is Mrs. Cornelia Kennedy, who asks election to Circuit Court. THIS IS JUST A SMALL part of the vast equipment needed to put on the Ed Sullivan show. Ed is seen at the extreme left getting ready for show's dress rehearsal.

Ed Sullivan--19 Years at the Top

By JERRY WENDT
Womens Editor

A feeling of high wire tension is in the air. Gigantic lights blaze overhead. The cameras move in. A slender, dapper figure strides on stage. Everyone goes into action. The Ed Sullivan show is on the air.

Ed Sullivan literally is on his toes every minute of the program. His entire attention is on the show and on the performers. He gives them his undivided attention. He is every inch a "pro" during rehearsal and during the time the show is on the TV networks. And no wonder, for Ed Sullivan has been a top favorite for over 19 years, practically a family fixture.

There were hundreds of fleeting impressions the Observer received during the dress rehearsal of the Oct. 9 E. Sullivan show. Myron Cohen, besides being a gifted storyteller is one of the most beautifully tailored men we have ever seen. His suits are exquisitely cut. His many years in the garment industry are evident on first sight.

Allen and Rossi are beloved by their audiences. They are just the same on the stage as they are off. They were doing a football skit and we chanced to be carrying a football into the studio as a gift for Ed Sullivan.

Their manager asked if they could use it in the skit and thus we had a chance to interview them afterward. They told us that Allen and Rossi will "go to college" this year and will be playing a series of dates on the campuses.

Once the show is over, Ed Sullivan relaxes and his fans take over. He is a completely different person off stage. He has the warm magnetism of his Irish heritage and is very quick witted. He enjoys "ribbing" the people while the pictures are being snapped, and incidentally causing them to relax and make a better picture.

"Mr. Sullivan, this is the first time I've met you, but I feel as if I know you, I've been seeing you every Sunday night for years," is what people usually say, upon meeting him.

And he just grins in his genial way, and says, "I'm glad to hear it." And you believe him. He is a top performer, and after meeting him, you are his fan for life.

He started out as a sports-writer, and states that "through the years, the sports writers have contributed the greatest writing to the papers."

"Do you really mean that?" I asked him. "I really do," he said seriously. "Sports writers learn to pack action, drama and excitement into their paragraphs. Anyone who wants to learn good newspaper writing, should study the sports section."

I told him our managing editor would love to hear that. He was once a sports-writer.

"You sports writers really stick together, don't you." I teased him. Sullivan just grinned in his Irish way and turned to the galaxy of fans who were waiting in line to greet their favorite.

AS ENTERTAINING off stage as on, Allen and Rossi pose before doing their college football skit on the Oct. 10 program. Incidentally, Allen's (right) trademark of bushy hair is his own and not a wig.

ED SULLIVAN DISPLAYS a gift sent by fans to petite Petula Clark of England before the October 10 TV show.

Ladywood Plans Big Jamboree

Jig 'n Jamboree plans at Ladywood High School are being crystallized by the senior class as Sunday, Nov. 6 draws near, the day of the annual fund-raising project.

A Christmas corner feature has been added to the original idea of a country store. Sequins, beads, balls, and ribbon have been transformed by members of the class into wreaths, candle center pieces, and net Christmas trees have also been handcrafted under the direction of seniors Kathy Hollinger and Pat Hoffman.

Fancy aprons will be sold at a special booth.

The Christmas booth is one part of an all-day affair the seniors have planned. Chicken dinners will be served from 12:30 to 7 p.m. (adults $1.50). The booths and games will be open from 1 to 9 p.m.

A contest for eight prizes, including a color television and a Honda, will be at 9 p.m.

Ladywood is located on Newburg Road between Five Mile and Schoolcraft.

Saturday Ladywood High juniors held a "Monster Mash" in the school gym. The dance was a big success with J. Michael Wilson, "Ronny and the Robins," and a swinging band. Dry ice gave the illusion of fog in the setting of spider webs and witchery.

This is quarterly exam week. Looming in the future are report cards. Last minute cramming is the most popular hobby of the season.

Start Day With Good Breakfast

Children, like adults, perform better when fed an adequate breakfast. Now that school is well under way and a child's performance is especially important, you should make sure your child doesn't skip this important meal, advises Portia Morris, nutrition specialist with the Cooperative Extension Service at Michigan State University.

With an adequate breakfast your child will be able to perform better both mentally and physically.

This was documented by careful research studies a few years ago, and yet many children start the school day without breakfast. Dr. Morris says. Some teachers have reported as many as one-third of their pupils omit their morning meal.

Dr. Morris offers several suggestions for encouraging your child to eat breakfast. These are based on questionnaires given to school children.

A child will be most willing to eat breakfast if he is unhurried in the morning. Getting to bed early enough to be ready to get up on time may be the answer.

Breakfasts that are interesting and varied are more enticing to young children. Instead of serving the same menu, use some of your child's favorite foods and alternate the meal pattern for interest.

Together with just as important at the morning meal as it is in the evening. Mrs. Morris says your child's breakfast will seem more important to him if he doesn't have to eat alone.

Like other meals, breakfast should be a time for interesting conversation. This means pleasant and happy emotional climate.
