The "Young Man of the Year" award is the Jaycees' highest honor and the highlight of the annual celebration.

Wendell Smith, currently Michigan Jaycee president and a national director, was the winner a year ago. He went on to become one of the five "Young Men of the Year" in Michigan.

Other winners included James Garber, George Lawton, James Jabara and Harvey Ziel.

Mrs. DeRoo was the choice of the judges over six finalists who included: Kenneth Gabel of Junior High West; Edgar Kleinsmith, Junior High West: Max Sommerville, -Smith School; Mrs. Joyce Totten, Plymouth High home economics teacher and Thomas Workman, of Smith School who is a member of the high school coaching staff and an administrative traimanent history of Plymnee. outh be written for distri-"Mrs. DeRoo's qualifications are exceptional," said bution during the main chairman Cal Strom, "As a fulltime sixth grade The report also confirmed teacher, Mrs. DeRoo also the fact that the Steering teaches science to both Committee, after several graduate and undergradu-

Eastern Michigan University President Harold Sponberg Monday ended the speculation over Isbister's future plans when he announced his appointment to the post of graduate professor of school administration.

In announcing the appointment, Sponberg said: "Eastern Michigan University is most pleased to have Supt. Isbister join the faculty. His distinguished record as one of the outstanding school superintendents in Michigan brings great prestige and experienced competence to the University."

Well, take heart, Municipal Judge Edward Draugelis has been cracking down and believes C&O officials will take steps to correct the situation within a relatively short time.

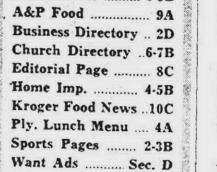

In slightly more than a year, Judge Draugelis has fined C&O a total of $5,065 for blocking crossings longer than the five minutes allowed by city ordinance. The fines were assessed for 16 violations.

"We have had numerous complaints from citizens and from police authorities," said Judge Draugelis. "We have been varying the fines because of the length of time crossings have been blocked."

Only last week, Judge Draugelis ordered three $500 fines against the railroad.

The fines have ranged from $500 of last week to $55 a year ago.

Two other supervisors at the school said that they had never beaten, slapped or kicked children, or picked them up by the ears or banged their heads against a wall. The complaints of four former teachers that the three men had performed these acts led to the hearing.

Formation of the committee was announced by its chairman Fritz Redl, professor of behavior science at Wayne State University.

The proup will be known as the "Professional Committee in Behalf of the Children at Wayne County Training School," Redl said.

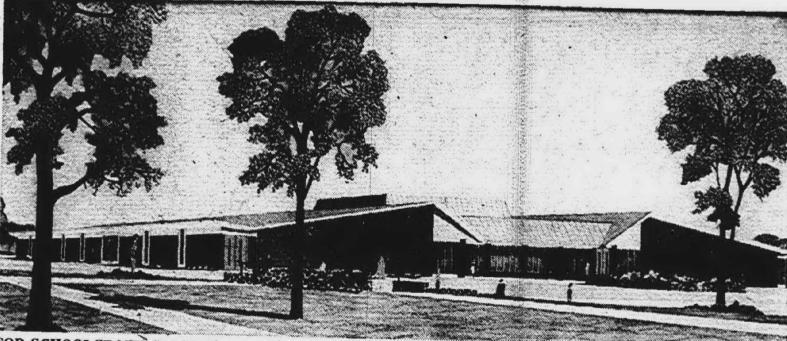

He said the committee will number about 20 members and has a five-member steering group which includes himself.

Other members of the steering group are:

Wards' Catalog Has Everything

Six and three quarter bil-|"Satisfaction guaranteed or lion pages of illustrations and your money back."

descriptions of merchandise are being mailed to 51/4 million families in the United States during January as Montgomery Ward presents its 1967 Spring and Summer catalog for public inspection.

J. B. McCoy, manager of the Wonderland Center Ward store, reports that Wards has attempted to hold the line on prices and has succeeded in doing so except for the products where material or labor costs increased substantially wall tents, umbrella tents, during the past six months.

McCoy said most of the merchandise being offered, whether Easter hats or summer camping equipment, already is in company warehouses across the country, ready for immediate delivery to customers.

The new catalog includes more than 130,000 merchandise items ranging from the newest spring and summer fashions to the largest assoriment of popular camping, fishing and recreational equipment ever presented in a Montgomery Ward catalog-65 pages featuring 18.000 items.

"In every line," McCoy said, "Quality, top value and the most wanted features have been given priority."

For modern electronic living, Wards offers radiointercom systems and push button transistorized transmitters to open and close garage doors and turn on and off garage lights. For city apartment dwellers, the catalog offers an electric fireplace with non-burning logs that flicker like real burning logs. and the complete unit can be installed with one wall bolt in 15 minutes.

More pages of consumer information provide advice on the proper care and use of new fabrics, instruction

Among the featured items in the catalog's outdoor sections are the largest selection of camping equipment ever offered. One newly designed hardtep camp trailer is four feet high, sets up in minutes, sleeps four and provides 49 cubic feet of storage space.

From the assortment of 22 tent styles, customers have the choices of room tents, hiframe tents and Children's backyard play tents.

Crash Injures Five

Five persons, including Sunday night at Ford Road four 18-year-old girls, were and Wilmer Street in Westinjured in a two-car collision land.

SEE Jimmy Nelson Danny O'Day and FARFEL IN PERSON Saturday, Jan. 21 2:30 - 4 and 7 P.M. in the East Court at WESTLAND CENTER MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION WAYNE AT WARREN ROADS

For That Special Woman Who takes pride in her sewing

Police officers were told that a car driven by Stanley Harper, 43, of 2133 Wilmer, was making a left turn from Ford onto Wilmer when it was struck by an auto driven by Barbara Dempsey, 18, of 4495 Venoy, Wayne.

Injured were the two drivers and Miss Dempsey's three passengers, Dorothy Lemieux, Josephine Jatdatz, 18, and Carol Duchin, 18, all of Dearborn. The five were taken to Wayne County General Hospital by the Westland Fire Department's rescue wagon. Miss Dempsey told police that she pulled out of a gas station at Ford and Newburgh Roads when another motorist flashed his headlights at her. As she reached for her headlight switch, she struck the Harper car.

Both Miss Dempsey and Harper told police that they didn't see the other car. No ticket was issued by police.

That's the time when three former Garden City officials may know if they will have to stand trial on charges of conspiring to defraud the public and illegal and misuse of public funds in the 1961 purchase of land where the Civic Center is now located. With no more witnesses to be heard, the state attorney general's office and defense attorneys will make their final arguments in the preliminary examination being held by Wayne Municipal Judge John Seiler.

The defendants are Edwin J. Freeh, Jr., Eugene Salvatore, and Evan Callanan, who were in 1961, City Clerk-Treasurer; City Councilman, and City Attorney, respectively.

Judge Seiler will decide after the arguments are finished whether there is probable cause to believe that the charges are true and that the three defendants have committed them.

The display includes a small lounge for customers to look over items before making a final selection. It is alongside a television color display room that has the latest in portables and the largest in consoles for the living rooms.

In addition, there is a display of premium tires that Goodyear stores take particular pride in showing.

The office facilities at the new store include ample space for sales, credit and bookkeeping.

In the rear of the salesroom is a large warehouse and stockroom that includes several thousand tires and a complete line of automotive parts.

The service department, under the supervision of veteran Tony Olszewski. who has been with Goodyear for more than 30 years in a capacity of service manager and worker, includes 10 bays. It is equipped to handle all types of car repairs, ranging from minor to the major types of work.

Olszewski started with Goodyear at the James Bright & Son store at the corner of Trumbull and Vernor. He was there for 11 years then moved into the Goodyear organization as service manager for various stores during the past 19 years.

He has been associated with Harding for the past three and a half years, assisting him in opening up another store.

WESTLAND JAYCEES President James DeMoss (left) and Mayor Thomas H. Brown joined scissor-cutting hands Sunday afternoon in the formal dedication of the 21-acre Jaycees Park on Wildwood and Hunter. The land has been graded and initial facilities are to be completed this spring. At the ceremony, Dave Damask and Bob Eads were flag bearers; Nick Petlicke and Randy Kovach made up the color guard; and Ralph Ashley, Commander of VFW Post 3323 presented an American flag. Closing out the program were comments by DeMoss; the dedication by the mayor; and concluding remarks by Jack Malaney, chairman of the Parks and Recreation Council.

Showdown Set For Swim

It'll be showdown time Thursday afternoon when Bentley high engages Trenton in swimming.

Both teams will be staking 4-0 records in Suburban Six League while Bentley has an overall 6-0 dual-meet record for the season.

Dennis Rogissart continues to star for Bentley. He set two school pool and school records last week as Bentley beat Belleville, 66-39, and then came back to down Dearborn, 60-45.

Rogissart's first mark was achieved in the Belleville meet when he was clocked in 4:13 in the 400yard free style to give him two victories in the meet. He also won the "200." Dennis then came back to top the school-pool, marks in the "200" with a 1:54 clocking against Dearborn against whom he also won the "400." Other winners for Bentley against Belleville were: Dave Kee, individual medley; Bill Palmer, butterfly; Jay Schreiber, backstroke and Chris Stewart in the breaststroke.

Between a zone press and great abundance of size and rebounding strength, Trenton had too much for Plymouth High in their Suburban Six League basketball clash last Friday night.

The Rocks pulled away to a 20-17 lead after one quarter and then finished the half with a 31-30 edge.

But trying to outjump the taller Trenton players served only to tire the Rocks and by the third period the effects were beginning to show.

When the evening's festivities were all over, Trenton had pulled out a 77-62 victory to remain close behind leading Bentley in the league race.

John Davis and Nate Luibrand each had scored six points to get Plymouth going. But in the end, the extrarebounding strength enabled the Trenton team to get off 88 shots to only 55 for the Rocks. And it made no difference that Plymouth made 24 for a fine 44 per cent while Trenton finished with 37 percent from the floor. Baskets on second and third efforts made the difference as usually is the case in basketball. Plymouth, for the most part, had to settle for one shot. When the try missed, Trenton would come down with the ball.

Luibrand enjoyed a fine night for Plymouth with 19 points while Davis had 18 and John Ellison scored ten. Mike Kubik registered eight points, Mike Stakias four and Ron Lowe three.

Trenton won in reserve play, 64-57, despite Don Jones' 16 points for the losers.

"Remember, too, -Joe's only 23. Some pitchers take a few years to really arrive. Warren Spahn didn't do much until he was 26. So, let's not write off Sparma . . . not for a few years. He'll be a dandy."

The talk about the Tigers rambled on . . . into the next day when the annual mid-winter dinner tossed by the ball club was staged at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel.

In less than four weeks, the Tigers will be shipping south. As we said last week, spring has to be just around the corner . . . regardless of what Sonny Eliot says on your TV tonight.

Enter Joe Schmidt as the new coach of the Detroit Lions.

There are those who already are knocking Schmidt. He lacks the experience, the offensive background, this and that. Some argue he's been too close to the players, players who couldn't get along with George Wilson and then Harry Gilmer.

We don't know Schmidt. But we have a hunch that he'll do a good job.

To expect, however, that he'll lead the Lions out of the wilderness in one year or two or even three might be placing an unfair load on Schmidt.

One must remember that the Lions have some problems. They need help desperately in their defensive backfield and perhaps at a spot or two up

HOPE Film Scheduled at St. Andrew

The Hospital Ship S.S. HOPE will sail-by means of filmstrip - at the Tuesday. Jan. 24 luncheon meeting of the Episcopal Churchwomen of St. Andrew Church, 16360 Hubbard, Livonia.

A narrator from the Michigan Committee for Project Hope, an organization which sends the hospital ship and medical supplies and training to underdeveloped areas of the world, will show the film at the meeting, set for 12:30 p.m. at the church.

Members said visitors would be welcome and nursery care is to be provided. The luncheon charge will be 75 cents, and reservations may be made with program chairman Jan Newell at 422-3105, or Molly Hopkins, GA 1-2310.

The film depicts many facets of the work in Peru aboard the hospital ship, the dedication of the medical teams and the enthusiasm of people there.

Cavanagh Will Speak In Redford

Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanaugh will be the guest speaker at the Redford Baptist Church, Sunday, Jan. 22, at 6 p.m.

City Needs Birthday Party

To mark that anniversary, which by a fortunate coincidence falls during Michigan Week, would bring an excellent opportunity for civic leaders and citizens to forge a permanent community tradition which seems to have been lacking in the past.

During the period of less than one week since the birthday idea was first mentioned publicly, there have already been suggestions for a large "birthday cake" with a gaslighted candle on top; selection of a baby born in Wayne County General Hospital (which is located in Westland) on May 16 of last year as the official Miss Westland; a parade; band concerts with the audience seated on the grassy slopes of the Hines local Nankin Mills Players.

There is really no limit, other than imagination, on the ideas which can be utilized to help mark Westland's first anniversary as a city. The Observer hopes that a permanent committee composed of persons representing various aspects of the community be formed to consolidate and work out plans before time runs out.

Farmington has its Founder's Day celebration; Plymouth, its Fall Festival; Detroit. its Freedom Festival. The anniversary of city status seems like an ideal way to enable Westland to put on something of their own to build a sound, community tradition and image.

Is It Worth It?

No reasonable person would throw good Farmington a nice residential community. money after bad.

At least not in theory.

N

Residents of Farmington Township are, in effect, doing this in two separate, but inter-related actions.

Both involve rezoning in the northeastern section of the Township. Both actions involve the same group of people.

One case in point is the current legal battle being waged to reverse the Circuit Court's decision overturning the residential rezoning of Middlebelt and Northwestern to allow for the construction of a real estate office.

The other is the current move to force a referendum on the Township Board's rezoning of the corner of 14 Mile and Northwestern to allow for the construction of an apartment development. Previous rezoning for this four acre parcel had included the business, office and residential classifications.

However, how many of these same residents would build a home at either intersection if the land were donated? We doubt that many of them would.

We can't really blame them for this as face of the projected increase in traffic.

Why prohibit the land from being put this. It reflects them to be a sidered to be on duty 24 to a reasonable use? OBSERVING the Scene By MYRA CHANDLER

Every time an article appears in the paper discussing juvenile delinquents the editor receives telegrams, telephone calls, cat calls and criticism questioning why we never talk about the good kids.

It is for protection of the normal, good kids we must call attention to the bad apples. The 10 per cent of hard core, habitual young criminals in our area spoil it for those in the white hats. In fact, according to Robert Turner, chief of Livonia Detectives, the 10 per centers lead as many as one out of every four kids into trouble-so skilled are they at the art of making crime exciting.

Captain Turner, however, says a criminally intent kid, in his opinion, is not born. "The parents of these kids in Observerland just aren't doing their job. It is mostly a mama week with Dad on the scene for little influence on the kids mostly on week-ends." says Capt. Turner. He thinks parents are not tough enough: do not stick to their word when they say "no," where, when and what time.

His prime concern is parents who take too much for granted when their child is away from home and should be questioned and checked on and disciplined if he or she is found not telling the truth-the first untruth-the first time.

It starts this way-and it moves rapidly in the wrong directon too fact, too often.

His second concern is with the courts.

Did you know, for instance, our biggest population is youth? Did you know we have one judge in Wayne County that handles juveniles and that 60 per cent of the crimes are committed by juveniles? (fact, fellow readers not opinion.)

Also did you know we have 24 circuit court judges to handle 40 per cent of the crimes committed by adults?

Judge James Lincoln, whether you think of him as a genious or a mental midget (and the opinion is divided among the police) has somewhat of a problem.

Number one, they decided in Wayne County the juvenile home was too small, only able to hold 240 kids. They closed it and built a new one. The new marble edifice holds 180 kids-most inadequate.

There is a new state law creating work camps for young offenders. Some camps have been built for housing these delinquents. Unfortunately only the 17 to 20 year olds are eligible to be sent to these work camps.

Captain Turner-and other officers of the law concur, the 17 to 20 year old group is now hard core. He believes nedy has both from me. My the area for change and improvement is the 14 to 17 year experience has been showing old.

> "If some clean but sparse barracks were bulit and these kids were taken from home environment into an area of military discipline; away from girls, beer and banjos. I know then we could reverse their trend from criminal tendencies. They would be so anxious to get back to their

Commercial zoning exists on the other corners of the intersection. The Parcel isn't big enough to support any good size commercial business and slightly more than one acre of available land will be taken with the extension of the Northwestern Highway expressway.

Residents of the area-specifically the Franklyn Fairways and Franklyn Forrest Associations-have opposed any change in zoning at either intersection.

They cry that they want to maintain the rural character of the Township and keep

Each time the Commission has acted it. has done so despite the advice of the Planner and the Attorney. The Planner contends that these corners might be put to a good use with other than residential soning and the Attorney has warned that he didn't think he could make the case stand up in court.

January is March of Dimes month, and into the causes of mental retardation. perhaps a good time to clear up some misconceptions about this yearly fund collection.

They need clearing, because dedicated workers from the background of the March of Dimes, and more such workers are needed in Livonia, Plymouth, Redford, Farmington, Garden City and Westland if the drives are again to produce noteworthy results.

So it should be known to all that the March of Dimes is not connected in any way with the United Foundation. It collects funds separately for a special purpose.

And that brings us to the next misconception-that the March of Dimes might have finished its work now that its original enemy, dreaded polio, for the most part has been conquered.

Far from being through, the March of Dimes has turned its attention to birth defects in children-another real scourge of health and happiness. And the dollars collected in this nationwide drive can fill such widely spread needs as Braille books for the blind child, special training and schools for the cerebral palsied, research

"These young kids we pick up for attempted rape or as sault are not even bothered by Judge Lincoln's court. They thumb their nose at us said one policeman on the beat. They know they will be released in 10 minutes after we pick them up.

"Anything short of murder-and they are back on the streets. Even then it's tough because we cannot question them under the law. This is no protection for the good kids, the citizens of the community, or in the long run, for the offenders themselves."

Another idea for cutting back the crime of these kids would be, in Capt. Turner's opinion, (and The Observer certainly concurs) is publishing their names and their parents' names. It would have a two-fold purpose-it would protect the neighborhood against a criminally intent kidand it would certainly expose the parents to their lack of responsibility.

This expose, of course, should be based on the five the Communist states among and six time offenders-not the first time a youth gets into trouble. The parents should be given a chance to step in and control his own son or daughter once or twice. It would not expose the mental delinquent, the agencies are working over-time to aid these unfortunates. But the criminal delinquent who has been allowed to show disrespect for his parents, school and police officers needs a little of the punishment that comes from public opinion being turned against him in full force.

Are You Hungry All The Time! Do You Eat A Lot Of Food. And Still Feel Hungry?

The average American male has increased the size of his waistline by three inches in the last ten years.

He eats more because he is still hungry, consequently he gains weight. He does not assimilate his protein because he consumes too many carbohydrates.

A high carbohydrate diet will eventually help you to get in trouble with low blood sugar levels by stimulating the pancreas into an overflow of insulin in the bloodstream.

Low blood sugar levels may in turn help develop a craving for sweets, goodies and alcohol.

OING through the mail the other morning I couldn't help smiling when I came across a very colorful brochure and invitation to enroll in a business school. The attractive literature warned me that a good business education was needed to gain a niche in the modern scheme of thingsand that if I couldn't share in the benefits of the day classes that I surely would enjoy the evening sessions.

I smiled because the invitation carried me back to the days of my youth and my first contact with business and the sports world that later became my realm of activity.

It was back in the days before radio when our lines of communication were meager and the old style telephone hanging on the wall was one of the latest "miracles" of the age,

My Dad, who long since has gone to his reward, conducted a small eating place which we proudly called a "restaurant" and with it a room in which was housed the only "commercial" pool table in town. As one of our attractions my Dad paid somewhere in the neighborhood of $1.50 a month to have the Western Union telephone each evening at 7 o'clock and impart the major league baseball scores.

WE PROUDLY posted the scores and announced throughout the little town that you could get the baseball results each evening instead of waiting for the morning paper. As a result our "restaurant" became a very popular rendezvous.

Then came one evening when I answered the phone, took the scores, printed them on a nice cardboard and placed them on a stand just outside the entrance, for one and all to see.

No sooner had I placed the scores outside than my Dad came scurrying to the door, took the "poster" and went inside, motioning me to join him at the same time.

"We want the fellows to come inside to see the scores." he explained. "They won't buy anything out there and we've got to get that $1.50 back each month."

This was my first business lesson and I listened attentively.

"If they come inside," my Dad went on, "they'll feel that they have to spend something. They'll have a piece of story. pie and a glass of milk-or maybe they'll play a game of pool. Anyway, they'll almost be shamed into spending something."

This was the same business acumen that caused my Dad to teach me the art of "playing pool," when I was a youngster of only nine years.

"There'll be times when I am too busy to satisfy a customer's desire to play, and it would be a shame to let him stand around. Maybe he wouldn't wait for me. But if you learn to play, you'll be available and the customers won't be turned away. Win or lose he'll go home satisfied-and we in a few days, I was assured. want and need, satified customers."

So I became a pool player and a "house man" at nine years of age.

THEN, there was an evening when my Dad stepped out for I a while and left me in charge. In a few moments a fellow came in and asked for a package of Piedmont cigarets. They were little white packages of 10 in those days and sold for a nickel.

I gave him the cigarets and, as he went to put them in his pocket, he said, "shucks, I've got cigarets. Will you taken them back and give me a piece of pie instead."

I did, because the pie was a nickel, too, so it was an even swap. But after my customer ate the pie he started to walk out when I called to him .--

"Mister, you didn't pay for the pie."

"I swapped the cigarets for the pie," he countered and I quickly replied, "but you didn't pay for the cigarets."

"I gave them back to you," he said. "They're right there on the shelf."

I was in a quandary until my Dad walked in, wearing a broad smile. He had engineered the entire plot.

1 wonder if the school to which I now have been invited would teach such lasting lessons.

In today's society nobody wants to be the average man. A few years back there was a radio commercial for some unremembered product which revolved around this theme.

The other day we came across the Greek definition of excellence as "the use of one's talents to the fullest extent." In the unpopularity of being average it's an interesting definition.

Webster's defines excellence as "the fact or condition of excelling; superiority; surpassing goodness, merit, etc." Somehow the ancient definition and the philosophy behind it is more pleasing. Of course, the argument can be raised that the individual would never know when excellence has been achieved under the Greeks

To this we say does one ever really know?

The test of excellence in literature, music and drama is not the critics' reaction at first, but whether or not the work will withstand the passage of time.

Thus people still flock to see Shakespeare's works performed. People still read "Paradise Lost," "Look Homeward Angel," and "Main Street." That's why "Grapes of Wrath" is still read by every college student.

"Death of a Salesman" and "Glass Menagerie" are still being produced and draw audiences 20 years after the plays opened on Broadway.

The secret is that the work is still related to the current day. One can identify with all the above works.

However, 'excellence can be achieved in any field and not just in the arts. It can be achieved through the best of one's talents to paraphrase the Greeks.

NORTH BAY BRAND

I'm sure the family will cheerfully participate in Hot Chocolate Drink Month, which heralds dairy chocolate milk as a "nutritious, winter warmup drink," under the auspices of (did you guess?) the American Dairy Association.

That outfit is also pushing something they call Kid Pleasing Meals Month, and my impression is that they have recipes for us. (Write a post card to American Dairy Association, Dairy Foods Publicity Div., 20 N. Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill., 60606.)

Besides all these jolly events, it is National Colorado Beef Month, sponsored by some livestock producers in Colorado who want everybody to dine out-on beef. I'll go along with that,

Most of this startling and hopeful information comes from an amazing publication called Chases' Calendar of Annual Events. It is published in Flint by the Apple Tree Press, which, by the way, is celebrating its tenth anniversary.

This recipe, however, comes from Kate Stribe, with some liberties taken by the Queen of Hearts. We dedicate it to the American Dairy Association and the National Colorado Beef Growers.

KATE'S HAMBURGER STROGANOFF

Brown in 1/4 cup butter? 32 cup chopped onion, 1 minced garlic clove, and 1/2 cup fresh sliced mushrooms (or 1 can drained). Add and stir to brown 1 pound ground round (or hamburger).

Add 2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon each of pepper, paprika, and MSG, 1/2 teaspoonful oregano (optional) and 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Mix well and add 1 can cream of chicken soup (or cream of mushroom soup, or even celery) and 1/2 cup beef or chicken bouillon (or dry red wine). Simmer for 10 or 20 minutes. Just before serving. stir in 1 cup sour cream. Serve on rice, noodles or mashed potatoes. Do enjoy celebrating the various months of January!
