Carl Pursell Awarded "Man of Year" Plaque

Carl Pursell, who guided the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce to one of its most successful campaigns, is receiving accolades as the Junior Chamber of Commerce "Man of the Year" and winner of the much coveted Distinguished Service Award.

James Jabara, the 1964 choice, and Rev. Henry Walch, a member of the selection committee.

DSA AWARD is presented to Carl Pursell by Michigan Jaycee President Wendell Smith. That's Lou Gordon (right), controversial radio and television commentator who was the principal speaker, applauding.

Pursell followed in the footsteps of five past winners, including James Garber, Jabara, George Lawton, Harvey Ziel and Smith.

It was Pursell who convinced the Chamber's Board of Directors of the value of the Hillsdale Conference which has started numerous studies of major projects in the community.

The Conference included more than 60 community, industrial, business, financial, service and educational leaders. It was called for the purpose to air such issues as Detroit Water, consolidation of the Township and City, need for an area incinerator, a Police and Fire Authority and numerous other topics of a similar nature.

It was Pursell who successfully pursued most of the issues and finally brought the appointment of study committees by the City Commission and Township Board.

His selection was a popular one throughout the community and he received a standing ovation from the "Bosses Night" audience when Smith announced the winner.

Pursell was the choice of the selection committee from a group of nominees that included Rev. David Strang, City Manager Richard Blodgett and Tony Monti.

See Battle Brewing Over Freeway Route

The route location division of the State Highway Department figures it will have the proposed freeway path across the western side of Plymouth Township resolved in a matter of two months.

But M. Tarik Ataman, assistant director of the division, and aides learned in a public, joint meeting of the Plymouth Township Planning Commission, Plymouth Township Board of Trustees and representatives of the Wayne and Washtenaw County Road Commissions that there is considerable opposition by homeowners. More than 85 attended the session.

After Wednesday's meeting, it appears unlikely that the route location division will have the matter resolved in quite a few months.

The opposition came out during the presentation in which Ataman told of the proposed plans of the Highway Department and Irvin Rozian, chairman of the Planning Commission's study committee, presented an alternate route suggested by his committee with the assistance of Planning Consultant W. C. Johnson.

The Highway Department route follows a path south of the Ford Motor Co. plant, across Ridgewood and then south of the C&O railroad to a point midway between N. Territorial and Five Mile on Beck Road where a large cloverleaf is planned. It would then go south and west across the township into Washtenaw County.

The alternate route, of the Planning Commission, would go north of the Ford Motor Co. property, follow a line south of Five Mile Road to a cloverleaf north of the C&O Railroad on Beck Road between N. Territorial and Five Mile Roads. It would then go across the northerly side of the Township, over Ridge Road and into Washtenaw County.

The meeting called by the Planning Commission to give the public a chance to learn of the highway department plans and of the alternate route was attended by representatives of all interested state and county departments.

The representatives included Ataman, Charles Carroll and Stephen Kessler of the route location division from the State Highway Department; David Wilson and John Koshler of the C&O; R. A. Lawson and W. G. Sutherland, of the Wayne County Road Commission; Howard Miner of the Washtenaw County Road Commission; and the full Township Board of Trustees.

As outlined by Ataman in an aerial photograph of the area involved, the Highway Department route would follow Schoolcraft Road from the point where it intersects with Phoenix Road.

Ataman told the audience the present Schoolcraft Road would be used as a service road and the freeway would take some 250-feet of right-of-way west of the present road.

The route would go across the tip of Phoenix Lake, cross the eastern and southern side of the Seminary property, wipe out Shearer Drive, go along the southern boundary of the Ford Motor site, cross the C&O Railroad and eliminate four or five houses on Ridgewood.

It would then swing south of the railroad to a point midway between N. Territorial and Five Mile at Beck Road for a large cloverleaf. The route follows a westerly and southerly line across the remainder of the Township into Washtenaw County.

Twp. Water System Shatters Records

The Plymouth Township water system, which started with a mere 30 customers and 1.7 miles of mains in 1957, has climbed to an all-time high total of 1,849 patrons with 47.4 miles of mains and pumpage of 252 million gallons in a single year.

"And the peak is still out of sight," said Township Engineer Herald Hamill, as he discussed his annual report to Township Clerk Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, who also serves as manager of the Township sewer and water department.

Hamill's report shows the Township handled 252 million gallons in 1966 of which came through: Sheldon Road meter, 193 millions; Eckles station, 54,930,000 gallons; McAllister Well, 2,873,000 gallons; and Schoolcraft Well, 662,000 gallons.

The Sheldon Road system was placed in service on Feb. 1, 1966. The wells were used only during peak demands and then only until the demand began to recede.

Hamill reported a total of 2.27 miles of water mains were added to the system during the year, mostly by developers, with an estimated value of $100,000.

The Township had 1,509 customers at the end of 1965 and boosted the total to 1,849 during the past year.

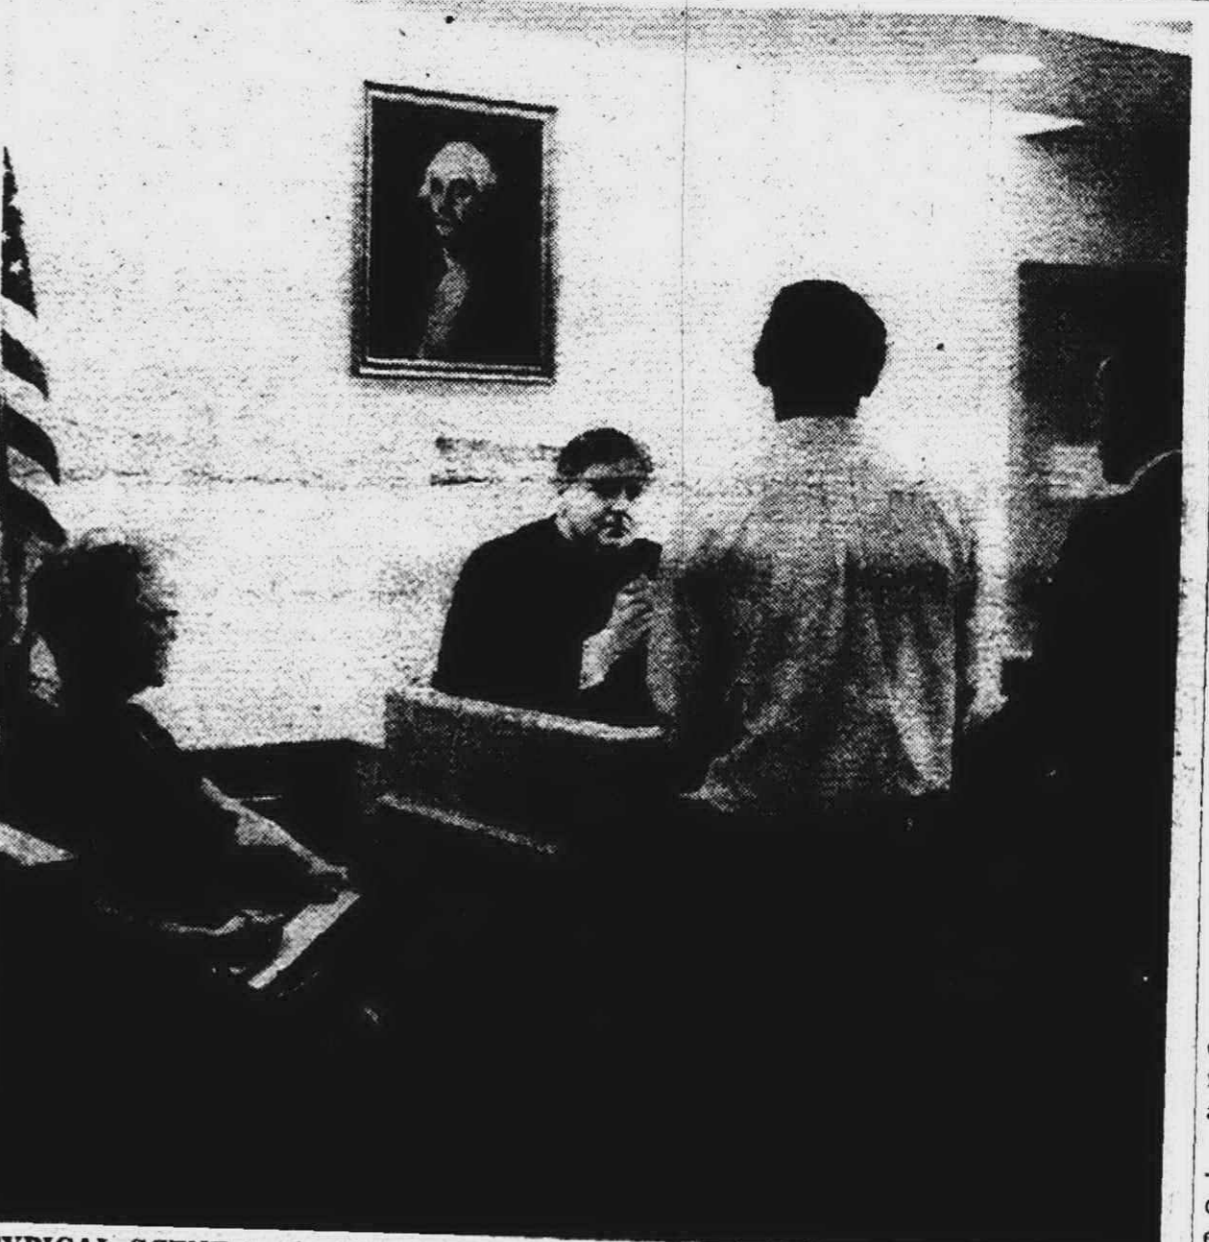

The peak day was July 2 when 2,252,000 gallons were metered during a 24-hour period, compared to a maximum day on June 26, 1965 when 1,620,000 gallons were metered.

The maximum week was June 25 to July 2 when 11,295,000 gallons were used. The Township system had four weeks during the summer in which more than 10 million gallons were metered.

There were numerous other items of interest Hamill included in his report as follows:

1. The night of June 13-14 vandals opened fire hydrants and completely drained the elevated tank.
2. Electrical storms blew fuses and damaged parts of the control system on July 12 and October 4.
3. On October 8, the pressure reducing valves on North Territorial Road could not be made to close. When they were dismantled, pieces of a rubber gasket for a 16" diameter pipe were found in the valves.

TYPICAL SCENE in the Plymouth Municipal Court, Clerk Mrs. Maryon Bridgman and a volunteer Judge Edward Draugelis and a volunteer counsel discuss a probation problem with is ready to take any notes necessary as a juvenile offender.

Muny Court Judge Proud Of His Counseling Program

A counseling program, started a year ago, shortly after he was sworn in as the City of Plymouth's new Municipal Judge, has paid off well for Judge Edward Draugelis.

Judge Draugelis decided to start the program, geared to aid many of the juveniles brought before him, long before he took office.

When it was apparent that he had won the election and also had been cleared by the courts on a question of eligibility, Judge Draugelis called many of his friends at the senior and junior high teaching levels for meetings to determine whether his proposed counseling plan was workable.

Assured that it was, he then asked for as many volunteers as possible so that he would have persons of all types to take care of the delinquents of all types.

It was all on a volunteer basis and the counselors agreed to serve with the understanding that all work would be of an anonymous nature. In other words, none was to be identified with the program at any time—only to the boy or girl he or she was counseling.

With that kind of help, Judge Draugelis started the program and he is more than pleased with the success during the first year.

Probation Department, two were placed on voluntary probation and two on probation to the counselor only.

"Of the 28, 13 have been ordered to report to the Counselor for the term of the probation. This has worked well because in most instances the Counselor, serving more or less in the theme of a Big Brother or Big Sister, has been able to reach the boy or girl.

"We had a satisfactory completion of 13 on probation and there are still 14 cases in which the counselors are working with the youngsters."

300 Area Moms Join in "March"

More than 300 mothers, team captains and workers for the annual March of Dimes campaign will cover every street in the Plymouth Community next Tuesday, Jan. 31, for the traditional Mothers' March.

They ask all planning on making contributions to turn on porch lights so that workers will be able to take care of their allotted blocks and streets as quickly as possible.

The Plymouth Community Mothers' March organization includes, in addition to the co-chairmen, a total of seven area captains and 27 lieutenants.

Captains are: Mrs. Austin Stecker, Mrs. Richard Mazza, Mrs. Malcolm Pierce, Mrs. L. E. Curok, Mrs. Herbert Salyer, Mrs. Donald Stephenson and Mrs. E. R. McClure.

St. John's Up for Sale? Just Forget Those Rumors

Irving Rozian, chairman of the Plymouth Planning Commission's freeway study committee, learned to his dismay that the buildings and property of St. John's Seminary will not be available for a community recreation complex nor for a junior college.

During last Wednesday's meeting, Rozian suggested that there was an indication that St. John's Seminary might be moved to the inner city so that the seminarians would be in closer touch to the problems they would face as priests.

But, Rev. Fr. David Niswonger, business manager of the Seminary, put an end to such rumors in a hurry.

"I may have made such a remark jokingly," said Fr. Niswonger, "but the Bishops, who control the Seminary have no such thoughts. They have indicated they would frown on any encroachment of the Seminary property by a freeway. More than that, it would cost between $15 and $20 million to relocate the Seminary."

(The Seminary is controlled by five Bishops throughout the state of Michigan and is not just a part of the Detroit diocese as most believe.)

There were gasps from the audience of more than 85 when the

State Draft Board Sets College Tests

State Selective Service headquarters announced today that application forms are now available at all Michigan local board offices for the Selective Service college qualification tests which have been scheduled for March 11 and 31 and April 8. Test scores are used by local boards in determining eligibility of registrants for student deferments. The test may be taken by any registrant who intends to request deferment as a student and who has not previously taken the test. Applications for the test must be postmarked no later than Friday, Feb. 10. The three-hour test administered by Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey, is intended to predict a student's ability to do college work. The test will be administered at 15 colleges in Michigan located at Ann Arbor, Berrien Springs, Dearborn, Detroit, East Lansing, Flint, Grand Rapids, Houghton, Kalamazoo, Marquette, Mt. Pleasant, Saginaw, Sault Ste. Marie, Traverse City and Ypsilanti. About 42,000 Michigan students took the draft tests held during 1966. Test results are forwarded direct to the registrant's local board. About 50,000 Michigan registrants are deferred as college students compared with approximately 60,000 a year ago.

An estimated 450 retailers and high school educators participated in the workshop program at the Statler-Hilton Hotel. Workshop panels, composed of retail personnel from the tri-county area, discussed all aspects of career opportunities in retailing, business outlook and personnel requirements for both the tri-county and national retail industry, and the opportunities for advancement. Participants Monday were counselors, co-ordinators and some principals from 60 suburban Detroit high schools and from Detroit's 22 senior high schools. Suburban educators who are working with the Retail Merchants Association planning committee include staff members from Farmington and Livonia.

Seek Support of State Legislators

Educators Back Tax Reform Program

A stronger-than-proposed endorsement of a state-wide tax reform program to finance public education was approved unanimously Wednesday by the legislative committee of the Wayne County Association of School Boards.

Meeting in the Henry Ford Nankin Mills School District in Westland, area representatives were Mrs. Strela Schriber and Dr. A. Edward Katz of Livonia; Mrs. Anna Mary Vollick of Redford Union; Russell Millar of Garden City; Thomas Blacklock of Wayne, which covers most of Westland; and David Gooze, Mark Scarr, and James Collins of the host Nankin Mills District.

Before adjourning, the committee agreed to discuss a preferred state aid school formula at its Feb. 15 meeting, to be held in the Livonia School Board office.

The committee, which had an attendance of nearly 35 persons, endorsed a resolution adopted the week before by the Metropolitan Association for Improved School Legislation, which includes members from Garden City, Wayne, Livonia, Nankin Mills, and Redford Union.

However, the legislative committee of the county school boards' association unanimously adopted a resolution which included stronger language which they hope will be noticed by state legislators.

The resolution will be forwarded to this week's meeting of the county association's board of directors for its approval.

Gaining approval, was the motion, made by Dr. Katz of Livonia, that the group "support immediate and complete fiscal reform, including the consideration of a state income tax in order to insure sufficient funds for the state with assurances of adequate support for school districts, including financial equalization of educational opportunities."

Millar of Garden City commented "that the stronger wording may be self-defeating since other groups (supporting mental health and other state programs) will take the same position."

Although he concurred with comments made by State Representatives James Tierney that night, Millar urged "caution on too strong wording."

However, Donald H. Treadwell of Grosse Ile, said "we are wasting our time if we don't put the resolution in stronger language—let's not pussyfoot around."

"We want more money and we want to make sure the schools get it," Treadwell continued. "We need some guarantee that the funds will be used for schools."

Earlier in the meeting, a state-wide tax reform program was unanimously favored through a hand vote, although not everyone voted, and all but several persons favored a state income tax as part of the package.

Rep. Tierney, whose district includes Garden City, Plymouth, and most of the north half of Westland, said that he has started the legislative machinery moving on a bill he will introduce in the House soon to provide more state aid to school districts which are levying 20 mills of local property taxes to bring the per-pupil expenditure up to $600.

Tierney also commented that there "is a selfishness among the comparatively wealthier school districts who didn't want to share funds with the poorer districts.

"I am opposed to any fiscal reform package which doesn't equalize educational opportunities after reasonable local millage ef-orts have been made," Tierney concluded.

Also at the meeting were State Rep. Richard Young, whose district includes the northeast corner of Westland; Dr. Julius Barbour, executive director of the Michigan

Association of School Boards, and his two new staff members, Raymond Wurzel, former chairman of the House Education Committee; and Jerry Dunn, who served in the same role on the Senate Education Committee.

New Classes Scheduled By Wayne

While the regular Winter Term adult registration has ended at Wayne Memorial High School, many additional classes will continue to form and start at neighborhood schools in Westland during the coming weeks.

"No longer," reports Continuing Education Director Nathan Shaw, "do you have to enroll at definite registration periods for classes to be held only at Wayne Memorial and John Glenn High Schools."

Courses can be started at any time by local groups of 12 or more, and continue for four, six, eight, or 10 weeks; PTA's, business or social groups may request specialized classes to meet their particular needs by contacting the Continuing Education Office, PA 8-1880 or PA 2-1500.

Individual tuition is set at 50 cents per hour and may vary from 1.5 to three hours a week. "Complete flexibility of course offerings and fullest use of all school facilities is our goal," explained Dr. Orval Conner, Assistant Superintendent in charge of Curriculum.

Another wrapped ceramic form by Black is on tour of the United States as part of an exhibit of National Merit Awards winners in the Craftsmen U.S.A. show in New York last summer.

A group of Black's "people Trinity," was exhibited in New York's Museum of Contemporary Crafts by the American Craftsmen's Council from mid-November through early January.

Black is also exhibiting a wrapped ceramic form in the 24th Ceramic National at the Everson Museum, Syracuse, N.Y., and has a group of his works on the Kentucky Guild Train which is on a one-year tour of that state.

With each area school opening its doors to parents and neighbors everyone is within walking distance of excellent educational or recreational programs.

A sample list of suggested classes is available on request.

A group of ceramic pieces by Robert Black are included in an exhibition of work by 16 Michigan ceramist which opened Jan. 8 at the Cranbrook Institute of Art. The show continues through January.

Vietnam Army Morale High Says Recruiter

Re-enlistment of servicemen in Vietnam is at the highest rate of any area where army troops are stationed, an Army recruiter said this week.

"This is indicative of the high morale of the Army serviceman and the job he is doing there," stated SFC James Leduc, recently assigned to the Farmington Recruiting office.

His previous duty was that

Schoolcraft Opens Winter Film Series

Schoolcraft College film series opens Friday, Jan. 27, with two performances of "Cleopatra," a French film with English subtitles.

The story is that of a glamorous young girl, primarily interested in luxury and pleasure, and 90 minutes of her life—the time between her visit to a fortune teller and her appointment with her doctor to hear the results of some extensive medical tests.

In this brief period, faced with the possibility of an incurable cancer the girl awakens to the realities of life.

Performances are scheduled at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. in the amphitheater in the Forum. The public is admitted without charge.

The Ford Motor Credit Company Building, which opened last September, now contains 306,000 square feet of floor space.

A 260,000-square-foot addition will extend the two-level structure 270 feet to the north, producing a completed building 594 feet square with four open courtyards.

Scheduled completion date for the addition is June, 1968.

Ford Builds 3-Million Vehicles 2nd Year

Ford Motor Company ended 1966 by building for the second straight year more than three million cars and trucks for the United States market.

During 1966, Ford's North American assembly plants produced about 2,440,000 cars and 569,000 trucks for the United States market, a total of almost 3,009,000 vehicles.

Ford's U.S. plants alone built 2,425,462 cars and 526,410 trucks during 1966. The full year total of 2,951,872 vehicles plus more than 56,000 cars and trucks which represent the excess of vehicles imported from Canada over U.S.—built units exported to Canada, make up the total for the U.S. market.

For the company's U.S. assembly plants, 1966 was the second highest car and truck production year in history, topped only by 1965, and nearly 13 per cent higher than third-ranked 1955.

Ford's December production for the U.S. market totaled 201,000 cars and nearly 51,000 trucks. U.S. plants alone produced 203,250 cars and 45,226 trucks, the second highest December for trucks and the third highest December total for cars and trucks combined.

Production of two of the company's car lines—the sporty Mustang and the luxury Lincoln Continental—set records in 1966. For the second year, Mustang output exceeded 580,000 and Lincoln Continental assemblies passed 50,000 for the first time: Fairlane output topped 300,000 for the third time.

Dust and grime accumulated for months will cling to them and sift onto clean floors, walls and furniture unless you do a complete cleaning job, say Michigan State University home management specialists.

School Board To Buy Equipment

The Garden City Board of Education last week approved the purchase of science and audio visual equipment and materials costing $48,437.

"This is the first major purchase from the $150,000 budgeted under the National Defense Education Act for 1966-67," said Ray T. Harris, administrative assistant in charge of finance for the school district.

Most of the purchases involve audio visual equipment.

Purchasing Agent Jerry W. Keast reported orders will go out within the next two weeks. Delivery can be expected within 90 to 120 days, he said.

NDEA purchases are reimbursed by the federal government on a matching fund basis.

To protect floors during carnivals, dances and other public events, custodians of various gymnasiums cover them with panels of Masonite Tempered Presdwood.

Garden City Faculty Reflects Experience

Experience seems to be the best teacher in the Garden City School District, a survey reveals.

Bracken L. Snow, Assistant Superintendent of the Garden City Public Schools, released the following information in regard to the 1966-67 teaching staff of the Garden City Public Schools.

Two hundred and fifty-six teachers have their basic degree, 290 have at least 15 or more semester hours beyond their degree. Of the professional staff, 188 are at the Master's degree level or above. Presently, two hold doctorate degrees and two hold Education Specialist degrees.

Approximately 20 per cent of the teaching staff range in experience from beginning to one year's experience; one-fifth range between one year's experience through three years; catching the experience level of the middle 20 per cent is the placement of staff with three and one-half through seven years on the salary schedule; seven and one-half to ten years produce the fourth 20 per cent from which it follows that one-fifth of the staff have ten or more years' experience in teaching.

The mid-point of teaching experience is between four and one-half to five years. This would appear to be a healthy spread over the entire experience range, a school district spokesman said.

The top five positions wherein the most experience of teaching is reflected on the salary schedule are as follows:

● Sixty-four members of the staff have one year previous teaching experience.

● Fifty-eight members of the staff have ten years previous teaching experience.

● Fifty-seven members of the staff have nine years teaching experience.

● Fifty-six members of the staff have no previous teaching experience.

● Fifty members of the staff have eleven or more years experience.

With regard to all teachers who are either teaching in Garden City on their first contract with this school district or who have returned from a leave of absence for

Evans Declares Dividends in Cash and Stock

PORTLAND, Ore.—Evans Products Company's Board of Directors today declared a cash dividend of 15 cents per share payable Jan. 31, 1967 to common stockholders of record Jan. 16.

In addition, the directors declared a four per cent common stock dividend payable on March 6, to stockholders of record on Feb. 6. This is the fourth consecutive 4 per cent stock dividend paid by Evans commencing in 1964.

House Action to Help Teachers' Deductions

Congressman William D. Ford (Democrat-15th District) reported success this week in a battle to win for teachers the right to claim educational expenses as an income tax deduction. His district includes Westland and Garden City.

Ford took action last summer, after the Internal Revenue Service announced a new policy that would have barred teachers from deducting expenses incurred while taking courses leading to advanced degrees.

Ford then introduced a House Concurrent Resolution which would express the "sense of Congress" that the proposed new regulation would not be made effective or enforced until authorized by Congressional action.

A number of other members of Congress introduced similar bills, and the IRS announced in September that it had withdrawn its proposed regulations, and issued a revised proposal that would allow education expenses to be deducted for income tax purposes.

Ford won praise this week from Dr. John M. Lumley, Director of Federal Relations for the National Education Association, who told Ford:

"Without question, your support for legislation for tax deduction of educational expenses was most influential in moving IRS into a more reasonable position."

Ford said that he would continue attempts to amend the Internal Revenue laws so that teachers could deduct educational expenses and some travel expenses from their gross income, rather than their adjusted income. This, he said, would make it possible for more teachers to take advantage of the tax deduction.

Under the present regulations, the expenses must be deducted from adjusted income, so that only those teachers who itemize their deductions can take advantage of the new rule. Ford's plan would enable any teachers to deduct the expenses, no matter how they file their tax returns.

Westlander On County Study Group

Gene McKinney, who served as chairman of the Westland Charter Commission, has been named to a citizen study committee on County Home Rule.

McKinney, 31, of 109 South Dobson, Westland, was named to the Committee of 99 by Mel Ravitz, Detroit Councilman and Chairman of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

The committee, expected to be in session some 12 months, will study the feasibility of County Home Rule and advise the Board of Supervisors whether a Charter Commission election should be held to re-structure Wayne County government.

Detroit attorney Avern L. Cohn is committee chairman. McKinney, former Westland newspaperman, is an industrial editor for the Ford Motor Co.

Wood Floor Warmer

Heating studies conducted on two test structures, one of conventional wood joist floors and the other of masonry construction over a concrete slab, showed that the wood building required less fuel for heating. A average monthly fuel saving during the heating period from October through May was 26.2%.

General Education Subcommittee of the House Education and Labor Committee, almost every witness stressed the importance, indeed the vital necessity, for teachers to be retrained and upgraded," Congressman Ford said.

"We can encourage teachers to continue their education and training by permitting them to deduct the cost from their income tax."

LIT Offers Courses in Evening

An opportunity to earn a bachelor of science degree or an associate degree entirely in evening college is offered by the Lawrence Institute of Technology.

A recent survey showed that only two other colleges in the country offer a program which is completely scheduled and planned similar to the programs offered for day college students at LIT and elsewhere.

At LIT the evening programs are in engineering, architecture and industrial management. A student can complete all of his work for a bachelor of science degree by attending on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings for a minimum of six years.

A student also can complete studies—entirely in evening college—for an associate in engineering degree in building construction, electrical and electronic, industrial supervision and mechanical technologies. A minimum of 3½ years attendance on Tuesday and Thursday nights is required.

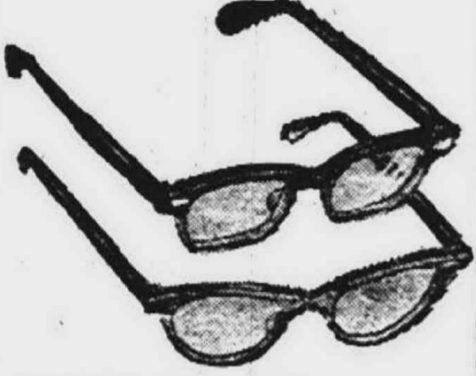

Anyone interested in starting these evening programs should apply to the college at Northwestern and West Ten Mile, Southfield. Counselors are available during the day and evening, Monday through Friday.

Registration for the next evening semester begins February 13 with classes starting February 20.

I-96 Crash Sends One to Hospital

A 32-year-old Howell man was taken to Botsford General Hospital Jan. 19 following an accident on the I-96 expressway just west of the Grand River exit.

Injured was Ignazio A. Buonfiglio of 122 S. Barnard. His car was struck in the rear by an auto driven by John F. Edwards, 18, of 20520 Five Points, Detroit.

At Monday's press time Botsford General Hospital refused to comment on the condition of Buonfiglio and whether or not he was still a patient.

According to the police, Edwards said that Buonfiglio's auto had no headlights and that he was passing a vehicle when he was hit in the rear.

Buonfiglio told police that Edwards pulled into the path of his auto and that he was unable to stop in time to avoid an accident.

AN AMERICAN FLAG was presented to Garden City Jaycees President Gary Wilson (right) Thursday by Congressman William Ford, whose district includes Garden City and Westland. Looking on is Jaycee Auxiliary president Mrs. Lillian Durkin, who along with Auxiliary vice president, Mrs. Kit Hiltunen, arranged to have the flag, which has flown over the capitol in Washington, D.C., given to the local chapter. Ford complimented the women's group on arranging to have the flag presented in just two days for a task which usually takes two weeks.

At Public Library in 1966

Garden City Reading More

Business has been brisk at the Garden City Library where 170,428 books were borrowed during the past year.

Mrs. Carol Mulherin, librarian, reported that the most avid library users are children. They are encouraged by their teachers, who brought 1,206 of them on special visits to the library for instruction, story-telling, and to check out books, she said.

In addition, teachers borrowed 1,648 books for extended loan period for use in classrooms.

Mrs. Mulherin also reported in her year-end report that the book collection continues to grow and now includes 15,427 books for children and 16,681 adult books.

"New books arrive twice weekly and are available for circulation immediately, she said.

"Staff members welcome the opportunity to assist patrons in locating books or other material.

Most popular and notable adult books of 1966 available at the library have been: "The Comedians," "In Cold Blood," "The Fixer," "Yes I Can," "Valley of the Dolls," and "With Kennedy."

Children are still enjoying old standards like "Tom Sawyer," "Mary Poppins," and "Black Beauty" in addition to newer titles like "The Wolves of Willoughby Chase," "Black and Blue Magic," and "The Black Cal-dron."

Books not in the Garden City Library are available to patrons through the Wayne County Federated Library System. Members of the system interloan books from each other and the Michigan State Library and the Detroit Public Library.

Last year 594 books were borrowed from other libraries for use by our patrons.

Other advantages in belonging to this system, the librarian said, include larger discounts on book purchases and books which are rebound, consultant services in special subject areas such as children's work, and 16mm movie collection in the headquarters building.

These films are available free of charge through the Garden City Library for use by local cultural, civic, or service groups.

"The record collection begun in 1966 has been very popular," she said. The recordings range from fairy tales for children to folk music and may be borrowed for three weeks, just like a book. Plans are being made to increase the number of records to meet the demand.

Several special programs were held during 1966. The Gun Safety Program taught by an instructor from the National Rifle Association and the Boating Classes by the U.S. Power Squadron were very well attended.

Spring and Summer Art Workshops for children were given by the Detroit Institute of Arts. Over 400 children were attracted by the special puppet and music shows. More than 350 came to the regular story and film programs. Similar programs are planned for this year.

Ford to Expand Trim Plant in Macomb County

Ford Motor Company has announced plans to expand its Utica (Macomb County) trim plant by almost 20 per cent with the addition of a 264,000 square-foot warehouse adjacent to the present main building.

Robert Miller, Utica plant manager, said the warehouse will be used to store finished trim products.

Mr. Miller said the new warehouse will relieve storage facilities in the main building and permit more efficient manufacturing operations. Present employment is about 3,750.

The warehouse will increase the total floor space at the Utica facility to about 1,647,000 square feet. Construction will begin immediately and is scheduled for completion late this summer. The warehouse, to be situated 200 feet southeast of the main building, will be 600 feet long and 440 feet wide.

Corridors will connect it with the main plant. The warehouse will contain covered loading dock facilities for five motor trucks and four oversized rail cars.

The plant produces vinyl and nylon automotive seat coverings, door trim panels, interior roof coverings, convertible tops and other automotive trim products for most truck models.

Acquired by Ford in 1962, the plant is located at Mound and 23-Mile Roads in Shelby Township, north of Utica.

Girl Scouts Keeping Busy with Activities

Everyone Be Prepared! The Girl Scout annual cookie sale is coming up. The Junior and Cadette Girl Scouts will be taking orders for cookies between Jan. 27 and Feb. 5.

Southeast Farmington Girl Scout Birthday Party has been set for Friday, March 17, at East Junior High. The Scouts will be working like beavers to prepare for this.

There has been a big project going on in the area which should be of interest. Nine Scout Troops have been singled out for special recognition by the Leukemia Research Clinic at Children's Hospital. Troops No. 6 Jr. of Sarah Fisher Home, No. 84 Brownie from Beechview School, No. 166, Brownie, William Grace School, No. 345, Junior, Beechview School, No. 542, Junior, Edgewood School, No. 659 Junior, Flanders School, No. 921 Cadette, which meets at East Junior High are the troops that participated in this project.

The Brownies of Troop No. 122 adopted trees last fall and then proceeded to make and buy bird feeders to set up for the winter. This week they will be visiting the trees to see how things have been progressing. Because of the almost continuous snow they should be able to find many tracks around the trees and, hopefully, to identify some of them. These same girls have been busy indoors, too, making paper-bag puppets. They have been practicing dramatics with them and hope to put on a show for the Kindergarten children at the Beechview School.

Troop No. 224, Middlebelt School junior troop, Mrs. June Hoffman, leader, have been working hard on their sewing badges—learning to read patterns, lay out material and cut it and also how to sew on snaps and buttons and to finish seams; all these things are necessary to earn the badge. After this all the girls will make a garment of her own choosing to illustrate what she has learned.

Windshield Cleaning Can Be Dangerous

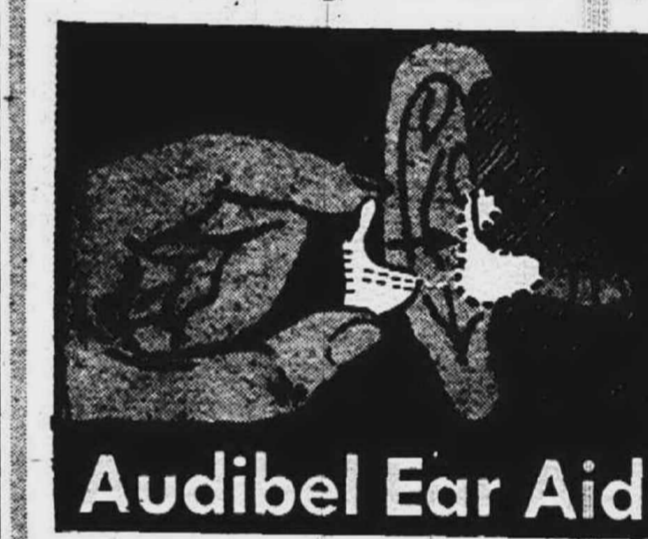

Donald C. Harris, 22, of 23127 Violet, Farmington, was treated and released at Botsford General Hospital Jan. 10 after he was struck by an auto in front of his home.

According to the police reports, Harris was cleaning the windshield of his automobile at 7:45 a.m. when a car driven by Neal D. Johnson, 27, of 31120 Elm, Farmington, struck the rear end of Harris's vehicle and knocked Harris to the ground.

Johnson told police that he tried to move to the left side of the road in order to allow enough space, but ruts of ice in the road caused him to slide into the left side of Harris's car.

Newly-appointed Wayne State University assistant basketball coach Gunars Vitolins lettered three times at guard for the Tartars as a collegian.

Grand Jury Exam to Continue Monday

The preliminary examination of charges against three former Garden City officials in the Wayne Municipal Court was recessed until 10 a.m. next Monday following the try by an assistant state attorney to have five of the 12 counts consolidated.

The move was "vehemently objected" to by defense attorneys for the defendants, who claimed that it would be in effect, creating new charges in the case.

Wayne Judge John S. Seiler set the continuation date for the exam after he pointed out that he didn't receive the transcript of the three days of testimony of last month until just before Monday's proceedings started.

He said he wanted to review the record and numerous motions made by defense attorneys concerning the admissibility of certain testimony and evidence offered last month.

Robert C. Goussy, assistant attorney general prosecuting the case arising out of the George Bowles one-man grand jury, indicated Monday morning that he will file a motion next Monday to have the three defendants bound over to Circuit Court for trial.

The three are Edwin J. Freeh, Jr., Eugene Salvatore, and Evan Callanan, who were clerk-treasurer, city councilman, and city attorney, respectively, in the summer of 1961. The trio are charged with conspiracy to misuse public funds and the actual misuse of funds in the purchase of land where the Civic Center is now located on Middlebelt north of Ford Road.

The five counts Goussy wanted to consolidate involved the formal signing of two checks involved in the land purchase by Freeh and the votes of former Councilman Salvatore on the issue five years ago.

Goussy sought to combine the five counts into the first count in Bowles' warrant of Oct. 27 which claimed that the three defendants conspired to defraud the public in the land purchase.

Attorneys for the three former city officials pointed out that only Freeh and Salvatore are mentioned in the five counts in the latter portion of the warrant while the first lists all three.

S. Allen Early, Freeh's attorney, said that his client as clerk-treasurer did not have a vote on the City Council but Goussy replied that Freeh could still conspire with a councilman to influence that person's vote on the council.

Nicholas Smith, Callanan's attorney, said that consolidating the five counts with the general conspiracy charge would be like "mixing apples and oranges."

After the proceeding adjourned, Early added that by mixing apples and oranges, the result is "a fruit salad — which is exactly what these charges amount to."

At the end of the proceeding, Judge Seiler said that he couldn't rule on any of the attorneys' motions since after he reviews the written transcript of the three days of testimony last month, there may not be any need for any further motions.

Test Case Appeal Dropped by Driver

By BILL GAIL, Observer Staff Writer
Failure of a Farmington man to follow through on his appeal from a drunk driving conviction last summer in Redford Township, has left undecided a question of his being advised of his legal rights.

Phillip M. Madigan, 24, of 24843 Ivywood, Farmington, appealed the decision of Redford Township Justice of the Peace John M. Dillon who had set a fine of $100.

When Madigan was asked by the patrolman if he wanted to take a blood test, the defendant replied: "I refuse to take that or any kind of test."

Dillon asserted this meant Madigan was aware of other tests and his refusal indicated he had therefore been advised.

Madigan's attorney, Allen C. Ingle, former Farmington Township justice of the peace for 12 years, claims otherwise.

"We were right in this case," he told this newspaper last week. "The Court of Appeals ruled Dec. 8 in People vs. Church that the defendant has the right to refuse a chemical analysis of blood, urine, breath, or other bodily substance. This was not done here with Madigan."

Ingle said Madigan was planning to move from the area and did not want to go through the expense of an appeal.

The defendant pleaded guilty in Circuit Court to an added count of reckless driving and was fined $50.

Madigan was arrested May 7 in Redford Township after his car collided with one driven by Luis Badillo, 28, of 33437 Adams, Farmington.

Badillo told the police officer he had to chase Madigan who was attempting to leave the scene of the accident.

This particular decision of Dillon assumed local interest in light of recent Supreme Court decisions that a citizen should be fully advised of his rights when he is detained for questioning.

Ex-Postmaster Placed On Probation in Assault

A former Garden City postmaster, who admitted shoving an officer, was placed on probation for one year and ordered not to drink liquor or violate his probation during that time.

Pleading guilty to assault and battery charge before Garden City Municipal Judge Richard L. Hammer last week, was Clarence Mace, 38, of 32473 Kathryn Street, Garden City.

Patrolmen Robert Capra and Dennis Joker reported that they were called to the Mace home on Jan. 13 concerning a "family trouble" incident. Mrs. Margaret Mace, 33, said her husband had struck her and pulled her hair.

Mace was reported to have told the officers that the next time the police come to his home, he would "shoot or kill" them.

When Mace was asked by the officers to watch his obscene language in the home, Capra was shoved by the defendant, who was then arrested for assault and battery of the officer.

Judge Hammer suspended a 30-day sentence for Mace, who was placed under a one-year peace bond last June following his arrest for beating his wife.

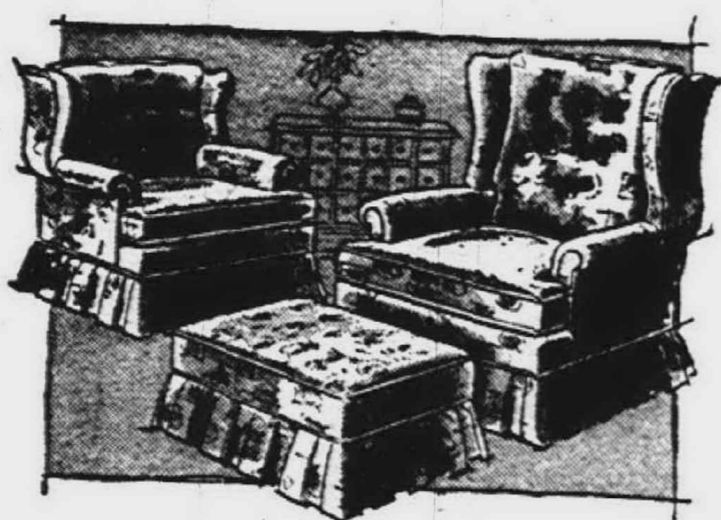

Mace served as postmaster in 1965.

PHS Teacher Shows Art Work In Northville

Mrs. Jessie Hudson, Plymouth High art teacher and well-known in Michigan for her art work, has been invited to present a one-man show of her paintings, prints and tapestries at the Hartley-Powers Gallery in Northville.

Mrs. Hudson, who spent last summer in her native Scotland, used the locale as inspiration for paintings in oil and acrylics.

Particularly impressed by a small fishing village, MacDuff on the Moray Firth, using orange synthetic nets, bright red plastic floats and deep blue channel markers, Mrs. Hudson has used these colors in several versions of "Fishing Gear, MacDuff."

The exhibition in the Gallery, 116 E. Main, Northville, will continue through Feb. 5. The Gallery is open from 9 to 6 p.m. on weekdays; and 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Fridays.

Bentley Ace Sets 2 Records Dennis Rogissart chalked up another pair of records, but it didn't help Bentley high's swimming team in its showdown with Trenton for the Suburban Six League. Trenton finished on top, 58-47, to run its league record to 5-0. Bentley now stands 4-1 in the conference and 6-1 overall.

Bentley Opens Big Lead

"We're sitting on top of the world..." How true as far as Bentley high's basketball team is concerned.

Bidding to regain the Suburban Six League title it relinquished last year to Trenton, Bentley now finds itself with a two-game bulge over its nearest rival and the worst of the schedule history.

In what shaped up as the "big one," Bentley showed its class last Friday night in downing Trenton, 75-69.

A victory for Trenton would have evened the race. But now it's Bentley with a 5-0 record while Trenton and Allen Park stand at 3-2.

What's more just four more conference games remain.

"We're in good shape in the standings," said coach George Fefles of Bentley. "But we have to guard against letting down. "Everybody we face from now on will be gunning for us. If we just take it the slightest bit easy, we might find ourselves really being surprised the wrong way for us."

Mike McCauley and Greg Macy each dropped in six points in the first quarter to shoot Bentley out on top of Trenton, 22-16.

The Bentley lead swelled to eight points by half-time. Then after the intermission, Trenton began pecking away and finally with a couple minutes gone in the third period, Trenton took the lead.

But Bentley rebounded with McCauley, Greg Coleman and Larry Grimm leading the way to regain the lead for keeps.

Free throws proved the deciding factor as Trenton made 28 baskets to Bentley's 25. In free throw shooting, Bentley netted 25 to 13 for Trenton.

McCauley with 10 baskets and two free throws for 22 points topped the winners. Macy chipped in 17 while Grimm and Coleman had ten each and Ed Ryan and Ken Bollin eight each.

Fouls troubled Bollin and he sat out most of the first half after picking up three fast personals.

Bob Eldridge with 22 points led the losers.

Rocks Edge R. Union In Overtime Battle

Talk about your basketball thrillers.

Plymouth and Redford Union highs had one last Friday night.

It required overtime before Plymouth could squeeze out a 73-70 verdict and post its first Suburban Six League win of the season.

Redford Union, meantime, still is to win after the first round of action in the league.

Once more it wasn't the fault of Leland Bjerke that RU failed to cash a victory.

Bjerke delivered two baskets in the final half minute of regulation time to produce a 72-72 tie and force the teams into an extra period.

In fact, just four seconds remained as Bjerke popped in the equalizing hoop.

In the extra session the teams fought along on even terms for the better part of two minutes.

Then two free throws by Nate Luibrand broke a tie and put Plymouth in front for keeps.

Mike Kubik cashed another charity for Plymouth and when his second try failed, Mike Stakias was there to flip in the rebound and that put the Rocks up by five points.

Only 15 seconds now remained and it made no difference that RU scored once more in the fading moments.

Stakias with 23 points on 10 baskets and three foul shots paced the winners. John Davis and Luibrand each added 17 points while Kubik gave Plymouth a fourth man in double figures with 11 points.

Bjerke split his efforts evenly. He had 32 points overall—16 in each half.

He helped the RU team to take a 15-14 lead after one quarter and stretch the advantage to 35-31 at half-time.

In the third period, Davis and Stakias combined to bring Plymouth back on even terms as the Rocks outscored RU, 13-9.

Each side made 18 points in the final period.

Plymouth's reserve also won, 46-40.

Falcon '5' Battles in 'Big One'

The Interlakes League basketball title could be decided Friday night when defending champion Farmington invades Pontiac Northern.

It'll be the battle of the league powers, since Farmington tops the race with a 4-0 record, just one game ahead of Northern.

If Farmington wins, the Falcons will all but have the flag wrapped up.

A Northern win would knot the race and likely produce co-champs.

Farmington "tuned up" for Northern by beating Roseville, 61-56, in a non-leaguer last Friday night. It was a strange sort of a victory.

The Falcons rolled ahead, 16-13, after one quarter and led 36-21, at halftime by as many as 16 points in the third quarter.

Then Roseville put on the power and twice in the final period managed to pull even with Farmington.

But with the chips down, a three-point play by Greg Dorow put Farmington back in front for keeps and the Falcons managed to squash any further attempts by Roseville to engineer an upset.

Dorow with 15 points and Ames and Killka with 14 set the pace for the Falcons. Killka notched 12 of his points in the first half.

Stevenson Soft Touch For Pontiac

The Stevenson high basketball team remains winless in Interlakes League play.

Latest school to beat Stevenson was Pontiac Northern by an 81-47 count last Friday.

The victory helped Pontiac Northern remain a game behind Farmington in the race for league honors.

Bud Daniels and Paul Tonemacher had 12 points each for the losers, and Jim Olsen had 11. Mike Clancy pumped in 22 points to top the victors.

Pontiac rolled ahead, 26-11, after one quarter and held a 48-26 lead at half time.

The Pontiac reserves won, 83-31, as Paul Van Wagner had 12 for the losers.

A traveler, in such a vehicle, is jammed in; and when you get two men in there... well, it's simply astounding to say the least.

In the same building you see the first airplanes that took off: Lindbergh's famed craft "The Spirit of St. Louis," and the "Winnie Mae," which circled the world in something like eight or nine days. These planes, when stacked against the modern jets, look like postage stamps.

To tour the Institute in an hour is an impossibility. You should spend three or four days there.

Up the hill and at the end of Pennsylvania Ave., majestically stands our Capitol.

You drop by to say hello to an old friend, Senator Phil Hart, and he says to be sure to say hello to another Phil, by the name of Power, who runs the Observer Newspapers.

Forgetting politics, forgetting party lines, the Senator has to be one of the nicest guys you'll meet anyplace. He always has been a great sportsman. There were those years when he had an interest in the Tigers and the Lions.

Sen. Hart knows about the problems the Lions have had this past year, about the trials and tribulations being experienced by the Pistons... by the skid the Red Wings have hit this season.

And he knows, too, about the crisis which makes up the more important matters of life—Vietnam, taxes and everything else.

At the other end of Pennsylvania, there's the White House.

If you arise early, you can visit a few of the rooms in our President's home. You wander about and you know that both Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are at home. The guards tell you so.

But you never get a chance to meet your host or hostess. They're much too busy.

If you're lucky, you might catch a glimpse of them, but that's about all.

Not too far from the White House stands the Washington and Lincoln Monuments and you're just a couple of blocks away from the building which issues no samples—the Bureau of Engraving where much of our money is printed.

On the way to the airport, you spot Arlington National Cemetery and drive close to the Pentagon where even in the early hours of the morning the lights are on.

You can't help but wonder, what's going on inside that building. Has something new happened in Vietnam which might spell good or bad for us?

Minutes later, you're airborne out of Washington. You stare back at the sprawling city and the governmental buildings which stand in one complex.

A chill runs up your back. This is your country and it's from "there" that our land ticks.

Planner Pushes 'Fashion Plaza' in Downtown Plymouth

A "fashion plaza," a parking authority, a traffic loop, and a shopping mall—but not a mall on Penniman Avenue—were all suggested last week as measures to help downtown Plymouth grow.

These ideas were presented to the Central Business District (CBD) committee and interested citizens by a leading shopping center developer and members of local CBD subcommittees.

The Central Business District committee includes citizens, the City Commission, and the Planning Commission. Six subcommittees gave reports in the areas of storefront renovation, traffic circulation, land development, parking, beautification and open spaces, and finance.

Adolph Komer, who developed the first regional shopping center in the tri-state area, Eastgate in Roseville, suggested a "fashion plaza" as a unique attraction which would be competitive with shopping centers.

"You need something unique, and you need to promote it if you're going to keep the downtown from shrinking," Komer said. "If you don't do this, some guy like me will go out by a highway interchange near here and build a mall, parking area, a couple of 250,000-square-foot stores and smaller specialty stores."

To head off such a development, Komer suggested that a medium-sized department store of 50,000 to 80,000 square feet be used as the core of the Plymouth Fashion Plaza.

"A store about the size of, say, Demery's and which would carry the higher quality merchandise would make a good center for the fashion plaza," he said.

Around this store, Komer would like to see specialty stores, carrying both men's and women's clothing and accessories. "Together, these would be the fashion plaza, the unique drawing card for the Plymouth business district. Hard goods and other items would then be carried in stores on the perimeter of this area."

The downtown business district needs a change, Komer said, because the public has come to expect convenient parking facilities, and parking in Plymouth is "inadequate" to compete with the shopping centers.

A 3-to-1 ratio of parking area to store area is needed, he said. For a 400,000-square-foot development in Plymouth this would mean 100,000 square feet for buildings and 300,000 square feet for parking, which would accommodate about 1,000 cars.

Komer recommended the open mall type of development for Plymouth, because it would require the least physical change and "may very well be the best kind of shopping area in the long run."

A mall would consist of stores facing a common open area through which no cars would pass. The central area could be landscaped and the entire group of stores unified.

Arrives in Vietnam
Marine Lance Corp. O. C. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moore, 15748 Maxwell St., Plymouth, has reported for duty with the Seventh Engineer Battalion, First Marine Division at Da Nang, Vietnam.

through the arrangement. Most important to the success of the entire project, Komer said, would be the determination of the citizens and businessmen to get the job done. "You are the developers. You must do it or not. You can't rely upon your architects or planners—they are the technicians."

"A vital part of the development is promotion, public relations. This type of development needs an explosion to get attention, and you must sell the people on the idea."

Financing, Komer said, should come first, before elaborate plans are drawn. "Once you know what federal or private funds you have, and private money might come from a corporation set up to develop the area, then approach your planners. And then see an architect. You should be able to do this in six months."

Much of what Komer said agreed with the reports given by the local subcommittees. The land development committee, chaired by Harold Fischer, urged an increase in the number of city-owned parking spaces and the formation of a parking authority to do this. The committee also endorsed the building of a loop road around the downtown area.

Ralph Lorenz's parking committee also supported the idea of a parking authority. "A parking authority would have longevity," Lorenz said, "and would not change with every election." A possible plan, he said, would be for the city and the merchants to provide matching funds to support the parking operation.

A committee survey showed that more than 1,000 employees park in the area each day, Lorenz said. An assessment of $1-$1.50 per month per employee might be a method of raising funds from the merchants.

"We want to make it equitable—we haven't checked yet to see if it's legal," he said. A sliding scale would make it possible to take into account parking provided by businesses themselves. Employers who provide no parking could be assessed $2 per month per employee, those who provide customer parking, $1.50; and those who provide both customer and employee parking $1.

Parking money should be spent initially for land, Lorenz said, rather than for double-deck structures. Parking structures can be built later, when the area is more crowded, he said.

The parking committee agreed, Lorenz said, that the customer should not have to pay for parking as he does in Ann Arbor.

Other committees suggested such ideas as a covered walk for Penniman Avenue, Main Street and Ann Arbor Trail and a fountain and music shell in Kellogg Park.

The beautification and open-space committee, headed by Wayne Dunlap, recommended that a decision on a mall be delayed until after the traffic loop is developed. Although the committee said it generally favored malls, it said the proposed mall area (Penniman Avenue) does not lend itself to this type of development.

The committee did not believe a mall on Penniman would attract enough new business and said that the present businesses now there—largely "non-shopping in-character" would not benefit from the pedestrian cross traffic.

Bus Breaks Down, Collegians Routed

When it rains, it pours... You might say that about Schoolcraft College's basketball team.

Earlier in the season the team lost most its players because of scholastic and other difficulties at the semester break.

Coch Bob Leggett found it necessary to rebuild in the middle of the stream.

Last Saturday, he bundled his squad into a bus and all headed for Flint.

The ride was pleasant enough until the bus broke down on the Freeway. For 2½ hours the Schoolcraft team stood there.

Help finally came in the way of some station wagons and the team was transported to the scene of action against Flint J.C.

The game wasn't close after the first five minutes as Flint rolled to an easy 111-58 victory.

Schoolcraft wasn't able to match Flint on the board and that was the big difference. If Flint missed a shot, it always got the ball back and made two or three second-effort attempts before connecting.

Nonetheless, the play of ex-Farmington high Steve Moore continued to impress Leggett.

Realtors To Offer 2 Courses

Two weekly courses in real estate will be offered this spring by the Western Wayne-Oakland County Board of Realtors in cooperation with the extension service of the University of Michigan.

"Real Estate Law," on Monday evenings from 7 to 10, beginning Feb. 6, will be conducted by Robert M. Myers, Attorney and Realtor, Schoolcraft Realty Co.

Myers is also a past president of the Western Wayne-Oakland County Board of Realtors and the United Northwestern Realty Association.

The course will cover those principles of law most frequently encountered in real estate transactions, including the proper preparation of documents and the rights and duties of all parties.

"Real Estate Business II," on Tuesday evenings from 7 to 10, beginning Feb. 7, will be conducted by Jack J. Jominy, executive vice-president of the Realtor Board.

This course is designed for real estate brokers, salespersons and others who are interested in an overall study of the real estate business, including the various specializations.

Both courses will be conducted at the headquarters of the Western Wayne-Oakland County Board of Realtors, 11677 Beech Daly Road, Redford. Fee is $50 for each.

These courses serve to satisfy the Board requirements that all its salesmen must complete college level real estate training before acceptance into the Realtor Board.

Early registration is urged because of the limited number of students that can be accommodated. Applicants may enroll in person or by phoning the Board's education director at KE 1-6700.

Football Clinic Set for Junior Coaches, Aides

More than 200 coaches of CYO, junior high and Little League football teams in Western Wayne County are expected to attend the third annual Dearborn Sacred Heart football clinic Saturday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The affair, which has grown from 50 in the first session to the present 200, will be held in the school gym at the intersection of Military and Michigan Avenues in Dearborn.

The program is designed specifically for coaches of the football teams in the younger age bracket.

Speakers will include Walt Bazylewicz, Redford St. Mary's; John Davis, Edsel Ford; Keith Emerson, Rochi-baud; Joe Carruthers, St. Ambrose; Manny Lentine, Wayne St. Mary's; Mel Larson, athletic director at Sacred Heart; and Line Coach Ron Reed.

Registrations will be accepted from 8 to 9 a.m. with a fee of $3 which includes a hospitality hour in the morning, lunch in the school cafeteria and a hospital tour in the late afternoon.

How to use filigree hardwood panels for room dividers, screens and ceiling applications is described in a free folder, P-104, available free by writing a postcard to Masonite Corporation, Box B, Chicago, Ill. 60690.

Assembly Line Reaches Housing

A new concept in quality-built housing is rapidly making home ownership quick and easy for millions of Americans.

The production of homes on the assembly line appears to be the answer to the increasing demand for modern, convenient housing at a reasonable cost.

The manufactured home leaves the factory assembly line as a complete, ready-to-live-in home with complete kitchens, bathrooms, all wiring and plumbing, complete heating plant and many other features built-in at the factory.

Not to be confused with pre-fabricated housing, the new manufactured homes are unique in several ways. Where the pre-fab is delivered in many different sections and must be assembled on the site, the manufactured home is delivered as two completed units.

The two sections need only be placed on a foundation, and joined together to complete the home. Usually within three days the home is ready for occupancy.

When situated on the home-owners lot, it is virtually impossible to distinguish between the factory built home and one of conventional construction. The manufactured home embodies all the established standards of conventional on-site construction. The better manufactured homes have 2"x8" floor joists, 2"x6" ceiling joists, 2"x4" studding, all on 16" centers.

One of the leading firms in mass-produced housing has introduced a Cape Cod model available with a choice of three or four bedrooms, one or two baths, at a cost of approximately $12,000.

Standard in this price is batt type insulation and all aluminum exterior construction including aluminum siding, aluminum storm doors, windows, shutters, flower boxes, gutters and downspouts. The idea of owning an economical, practically maintenance-free home is one of the most popular features of this factory-built model.

Other standard features of the new model include wall to wall living room carpet, prefinished maple paneled interior walls, mahogany doors, vinyl finished floors, maple kitchen cabinets, Formica counter tops, gas or oil furnace and electric hot water heater.

The manufactured home can also be delivered completely furnished and decorated in various color combinations and furniture styles. The prospective homeowner can select either a traditional or contemporary furniture package which includes color-styled draperies, dining table and chairs, twin beds in master bedroom, double beds in other bedrooms, sofa, chairs and tables in living room.

Also available are such extras as air conditioning, built-in counter top range and wall oven, thermoglas picture window and various exterior design treatments.

Award-Winning Home Open for Inspection

The New Englander, an outstanding all-gas colonial design home, selected by "Parents' Magazine" as a Special Award-winning home for families with children, will be opened for public inspection this weekend, by Oliver in Brighton.

On display in 57 cities throughout the country, this Blue Star Home shows the newest developments in building materials, gas appliances, and gas equipment. It is the result of a project undertaken by the American Gas Association, Inc., and Scholz Homes, Inc., of Toledo, O.

The New Englander features four bedrooms, two and a half baths, a large family room, laundry center, dining room, and an attached double garage, completely carpeted, central air condition for $46,500.

The model on display has 1,941 square feet of floor space, not including space occupied by closets and garage. The garage, by adding sliding glass doors, may be used as a children's playroom.

The interior is just as elegant. One of the key factors is the separation of the bedrooms — or quiet zone — from the remainder of the house. There is a separate bathroom and dressing room for the master bedroom and a large bathroom with two lavatories for the children's rooms. Major advantage of this design is built-in functional living, in keeping with today's family needs.

A large country kitchen, complete with brick fireplace and Bar-B-Cue is offered.

Modern, fully automatic gas appliances included in the home are Bryant gas central air conditioning, Tappan double oven eye level gas range, and gas yard light.

WILLIAM C. HAMMING has been promoted to Trust Officer in the Trust Department of City National Bank of Detroit. He was formerly an Assistant Trust Officer. He and his wife, Rosemary, have three children and reside at 9314 Nathaline, Redford Township.

School Election Cost Explained by Supt.

The "high cost of elections" is not high at all, declared Wayne School District Superintendent Harry Howard in refuting recent comments that special elections' cost run as high as $100,000.

In a prepared statement, Howard, whose district includes most of Westland, said that while the costs vary slightly, most special elections fall into the $5,300 to $5,900 category.

In outlining the background and details of special elections, Howard said:

"There are many conflicting stories in the community regarding the cost of school elections. In recent weeks we have had several inquiries regarding the cost of conducting a school election and one rumor even indicated that it costs as much as $100,000 for the School Board to conduct a special election.

"The cost of an election varies slightly due to differences in the cost of printing, depending upon the number of questions on the ballot. The costs vary slightly between elections but are usually in the $5,300 to $5,900 category. This includes the employment of about 100 persons on election day to serve as precinct officers.

"The school district is divided into 26 voting precincts. Every major elementary attendance area is an election precinct. Only those small satellite schools who are under the direction of a principal from another school are not used as voting precincts. The exception to this is the Sheldon School because of its location. Sheldon has a voting precinct all of its own.

"The records which the Board of Education must maintain come to us from the cities and townships that make up the school district. Election records cannot be changed, new registrations cannot be processed or persons deleted unless specifically notified by the city or township clerks. They receive all new registrations and furnish the Board of Education with a copy which is inserted in our polling books. Any changes in the records must come from the city or township clerks.

"Absentee ballots are handled by the school district at the Board of Education offices, 3712 Williams Street. The Board of Education has its own Board of Canvassers, four citizens appointed by the Board, who canvass and certify the election results.

"The Board of Education is required by law to elect Board members at its annual election, the second Monday in June. It attempts to hold any elections regarding school financial questions at that time but sometimes finds it impossible to do so and in these cases the Board must call for a special election.

"The school elections are subject to most of the provisions regarding other elections. For example, organizations may appoint challengers no less than ten nor more than twenty days prior to the date of an election. The secretary of the Board of Education actually has the responsibility for conducting the election. This responsibility is delegated by Board resolution to the Assistant Superintendent for Administration.

"In the past, the City of Westland has furnished the voting machines to the district. Personnel from the City of Westland have assisted in the setting up and preparation of the machines and in the actual supervision of the election by the City Clerk.

"The long lines which prevailed during the 1950's and early 1960's when school elections were conducted have disappeared. The cost is somewhat higher than when the total was six districts but it is felt that the voter convenience and the assurance of the right to the ballot much more than offset this small additional cost.

"The increase in number of voters has been substantial since the Board of Education decided to go to the elementary attendance area precinct setup. Greater voter participation is exactly what prompted the Board of Education to go to this setup as well as to comply with State Election Laws regarding a maximum of 1400 registered voters per precinct. The investment has paid off in greater community participation.

Expect Insurance Package To Save Money for School

"Considerable reduction" in insurance costs was recently obtained by the Livonia School District which has "packaged" its insurance needs to enable the district to better handle protection against financial losses.

Successful bidder on the package was the Uhlig-Murphy Agency representing Home Insurance Company which submitted an annual premium of $23,895 — $3,000 below the second lowest of a total of six bids.

Fleet insurance bids were received from only two companies. John E. Tripp Agency, representing State Farm Mutual Insurance Company offers to insure the school transportation system for $13,205 — almost $3,000 below the other bidder.

Administrative Assistant William Bedell explained that other firms, invited to bid, apparently feel they cannot match State Farm Mutual Insurance.

Bedell said reduction in the annual premium is due partly to increased "deductibles" and the rest "can be attributed to elimination of duplication of coverages, packaging our coverages and certain changes in the insurance program."

He estimated annual savings would be in the neighborhood of $5,000.

The district has dropped coverage of musical instruments, feeling that 90 percent of the students who own their instruments are covered by family home-owner policies.

School-owned instruments and audio-visual equipment will be self-insured.

Bedell listed the four major areas of the current insurance program.

1. Workmen Compensation, due in July, 1967, the only coverage not due in December.
2. Umbrella Liability, a "catch-all" liability coverage which is fairly new and designed to give comprehensive legal and financial coverage in all liability cases.
3. Fleet Insurance. This cannot be a part of our package, and the bid is due January 1, annually.
4. Insurance Package. Included all other coverages and is due every three years, in January.

Seek Stamps For Bus Swap

The Hawthorne-Northville Chapter of the Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children is conducting a drive to provide a 16-passenger bus for children at Northville State Hospital.

The "Bus Drive" committee is requesting the donation of trading stamps from individuals or group organizations.

"We are hopeful that people might pledge the trading stamps acquired during the holiday shopping as a Christmas present for the children at Northville Hospital," Mrs. Rose Crews, committee chairman, said.

"The bus will provide a means of taking the children on recreational and educational trips."

Trading stamps of any type may be sent to "Disturbed Children," Box 90, Lathrup Village.

Individuals or organizations wishing to participate in the drive may contact Mrs. Crews at EL 6-8620 or TR 2-8318.

Planning ahead are members of the VFW Auxiliary, with a repeat performance of last year's hat show which will benefit the Sheltered Work Shop. The event will take place on Feb. 15, at the VFW Hall, and chairman Virginia Bartel and Marian Skoglund promise the same outstanding hat collection available for sale.

Entertaining will be the St. Lewis School for Boys orchestra and chorus from Chelsea. There will be a donation of $1 at the door.

The annual benefit bridge sponsored by the Panhellenic Association will be Tuesday, Jan. 31, with proceeds going to a Scholarship for a Plymouth High School Senior. Hostesses will be Jan Purcell, Marianne Garber, Betty Weideman, Marion Probeck and Carol Stirton. Co-chairmen of the event are Jan Purcell and Pat Rhinehart.

Lots of fun to chaperone a ski group on Friday evening when some 75 teenagers gathered up their ski supplies and headed for the hills.

If it scares you, it shouldn't because these youngsters filled the bus in a very orderly fashion, upon arriving they waited for their ski toll tickets to be pinned on before leaving the bus and when 10:30 arrived they all returned, tired but happy.

If you have a Friday to spare, the ski club would appreciate your chaperoning and you may call Jane Watts at 453-0217 to volunteer.

Wally Roberts UP' GOING CURTAIN

"What fools these mortals be" is a much-quoted Shakespearean phrase from the Bard's immortal "A Midsummer Night's Dream." The current Classic production creates a new magic and artistic aura that places this phrase well in the background and conjures up a new respect for this Shakespearean Classic.

Puck zooms in from the Hilberly Classic Theater ceiling and does a neat "three-point" landing stage left which represents the woods outside of Athens. Lights flash, eerie elves trip the light fantastic, and gigantic insects buzz on stage with fiery noses.

Director Richard Spears has concocted a madcap version of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" to rivet your attention to the Classic stage. The pace never falters. You hold your breath wondering what innovation waits around the next scenery corner.

Perhaps the finest compliment paid this wild, raucous version of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" is the vigorous, ear-piercing whistles that shatter the quiet of the Classic Theater at the conclusion of each act. The high school crowd, usually a good third of the audience at Wayne's Classic Theater, genuinely love this "go-go" version.

"A Midsummer Night's Dream" is in a sense a dream come true for Dr. Leone and his attempt to introduce classic drama to Detroit audiences. There is more fun per square inch in the presentation of this classic than many a current TV show.

You laugh, chuckle, roar at the antics of Jeff Tambor's Bottom. His characterization is one of the best I've seen. I liked his interpretation far better than Bert Lahr's when he came to the Shubert about five years ago. In fact, everyone of the rustics are truly flawless in their performances.

Charles Geroux as Snout, the tinker, did some foot gestures that enriched his comic portrayals beautifully. William Hezlep as Peter Quince moved his troupe of rustics almost with a sense of the music. Louis Deszeran and Richard Tutor added to the hilarity in their sharp delineation of their roles.

Only disturbing note in such an excellent production might be the less-than-airy type of Puck. Even though Phyllis Somerville does her damndest to be sprit-like she is actually physically airborne twice during the production, the impish quality of Puck seems just out of grasp.

You'll want to make your reservation right now for this bouncy bagatelle of munificent meanderings. Call 833-5151 and check with Phil Fox in the box office as to when the "Dream" is on.

Bentley High School auditorium in Livonia will be the scene of the proverbial mustachioed villain stalking the stage in quest of the innocent heroine's love and fortune.

The curtain will rise at 8:30 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 26, through Jan. 28 on the efforts of the Nankin Mills Players to bring you an authentic Mellerdramer, "Dirty Work at the Crossroads," in the venerated style of 1890.

After a successful three-day engagement at the John Glenn School in Wayne two weeks ago, Director King Page brings the cast of this comedy in its original form to Livonia. Included in the cast are Vic Slapik, Jake Amperse, Jon Choate, Karen Wendt, in the leading roles, and Bob Knowles, Celesta Walker, Judy Birk, Dee Giddings, Ken Slapik, and Jean Varterasian as supporting characters.

Joining in this enterprise is the Motor City Chorus, who will be singing the old favorites that enhance and expand the scenes and dialogue. Hearts will burst with nostalgia as the voices of these Michigan District Champions of the S.P.E.B.S.-Q.S.A. ring out with beautiful barbershop harmony. Featured within the group will be the Close Chords and the Treble Shooters' quartets. Tickets will be available at the door or may be reserved by contacting any of the members or calling Jean Varterasian at 427-4297.

'Drouth' Fatal To Clarenceville

You can't score one point in three minutes and win a basketball game.

Clarenceville High's cagers found that out last Friday in falling to Milford, 66-64, in a Wayne-Oakland League overtime struggle.

The team had entered the extra session deadlocked at 63-63.

Milford made a quick free throw in the overtime and Clarenceville matched it when Jim Amick converted.

Milford then went into a stall. The minutes and seconds clicked away until only 16 seconds remained. At this point, Milford tried for a basket, and Don Hill's toss hit the mark.

Clarenceville still had time for one shot, but failed to connect.

In the final analysis, Clarenceville lost the game at the free throw line.

The Trojans outscored Milford, 28-23, from the field. In the free throw category, Milford canned 20 to Clarenceville's eight.

In addition, the losses of Amick and Ron Ray on fouls in the late going hurt the Clarenceville attack.

Milford led most of the way in regulation time, but a late spurt put Clarenceville on top with a few seconds to go when two free throws by Bob McFarland tied the game and forced the overtime.

Amick had 15 points for Clarenceville, while John Thompson scored 14. Ray made only nine points, but was great in the rebounding department with 18.

Thurston Wins 4 Titles in Trenton Meet

Thurston High grapplers won four individual championships but the team still finished third in the final standings of a quadrangular meet at Trenton.

The team crown went to Lansing Everett with 105 followed by Trenton 82, Thurston 75, and Berkley 42.

Thurston's champions were: Lou Ploussard, 103-pounds; Tony Scappetecci, 133; Randy Sult, 138; and Dan Harris, heavyweight.

Other Thurston matmen to place were: Bruno Ruspaj, 145, and Bob Bryant, 180, second places; Glenn Schneeman, 95, third; and Glenn Roe, 112; Ken Meinschein, 120; Dean Wheeler, 127; Jerry Papazian, 154; and Larry Wade, 165, fourth places.

Thurston has won two dual meets in league competition, whipping Oak Park, 30-9, and North Farmington, 30-14.

Gunars Vitolins, Wayne State University assistant basketball coach, previously assisted Detroit's Finney and Chadsey High Schools in the sport.

FRANK NESBITT, 17389 Lennane, Redford Twp., an electrical engineer with Albert Kahn Associates, has been named Chairman for National Electrical Week (Feb. 5-11) in Southeastern Michigan by the Michigan Electrical Industry Association. He announced that the celebration will get underway with the industry's annual dinner dance at the Roostertail on Monday, Feb. 6.

PCHA Board To Ratify Union Pact

The Board of Directors of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority, which includes Garden City and Westland, is expected to ratify an employees union contract Thursday night which will cost $751,300 per year in wage increases and improved fringe benefits.

Representing the employees is the Building Services Employees International Union which includes all hourly-rated employees of the PCHA, operators of four public hospitals in Western Wayne and Eastern Washtenaw Counties.

The Board meets at 7:30 p.m. in the Annapolis Hospital, Wayne.

In other business at tomorrow night's monthly business meeting, the board of directors will act on re-appointment of medical doctors and osteopaths to the staff of the agency's four hospitals; appointment of a new administrative resident of the University of Michigan program in hospital administration; and a status report of the pending bond sale to finance a new hospital in Ypsilanti and an addition to a hospital in Trenton.

Michigan's Highway Death Toll Soars to Record High in 1966

Michigan's new all-time annual traffic death record has reached 2,270 for 1966 and is expected to go still higher before all delayed death reports are in, the State Police report.

The total cited is 95 or 4.4 per cent worse than the previous high of 2,175 for 1937 and is 141 or 6.6 per cent more than the 2,129 persons killed in 1965. Record keeping began in 1933.

Available information on injuries and accidents indicates that earlier projections will materialize in a new annual mark of about 159,000 for injuries while accidents, an estimated 300,000, may be down three per cent from the record 310,598 in 1965. Injuries totaled 155,258 in 1965. The estimated cost of accidents in 1966 was $410 million, a sharp rise of $25 million or almost seven per cent greater than the $385 million cost reported for the previous year.

Michigan in 1966 had 1,934 fatal traffic accidents, 93 more than 1,841 in 1965. Estimated travel mileage totaled 43.2 billions, six per cent more than 1965. Registered motor vehicles increased slightly to 4,121,756 and a gain also was expected in licensed drivers from the count of 4.5 million the year before.

The state's highway death rate was expected on final evaluation to match the 5.2 deaths for 100 million miles of travel reported for 1965.

NORMAN S. MILLER, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Miller, 30831 Lyndon, has been named manager of the Detroit branch office of the Robertshaw Controls Company's Control Systems Division. He succeeds William G. Gray, who will devote full time to managing regional operations.

MRS. THOMAS WARREN

Mrs. Victor Blecharczyk

MRS. JOHN VERNIER

Couple Wed In Detroit Church

Marilyn Carole Taylor and Thomas Henry Warren spoke their nuptial vows at the Alpha Baptist Church in Detroit Dec. 27.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor of Northville, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Warren of Detroit are parents of the bridegroom.

An A-line peau de soie gown with alencon lace and Italian braid trim was the bride's choice. She carried a Bible with a white orchid and carnations.

Wearing royal blue velvet were the bridal attendants, matron of honor Betty Niestroy, bridesmaid Margaret Warren, sister of the bridegroom, and flower girl Leigh Warren.

Kenneth Robinson was best man, and Charles Niestroy seated the guests.

Following the ceremony, there was a reception in the church parlor, and later a buffet supper for the bridal party and relatives in the Taylor home.

The couple now is living in Kalamazoo, where the bride, a graduate of Plymouth High School, is a senior at Bronson Methodist Hospital school of nursing.

The couple plans to attend the Baptist Bible Seminary at Johnston City, N.Y., in the fall to study in the ministry and missionary fields.

Blecharczyk-Schell Rites Performed

Kathryn Edith Schell became the bride of Victor Carl Blecharczyk in a Dec. 17 candlelight ceremony at Grace Lutheran Church in Redford Township.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle E. Schell, Sr., of MacArthur Avenue in Redford Township, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Victor C. Blecharczyk of Dearborn Heights.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white peau de soie with lace and sequin trim and featuring long, pointed sleeves, scalloped lace neckline and detachable chapel train.

Her veil, previously worn by her sister, Mrs. Kandy Trace, fell from a pillbox headpiece trimmed with lace and sequins, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, Fugi mums and stephanotis.

Mrs. Trace served as matron of honor, and the bridesmaids included another sister, Connie Schell, Karen Munding, cousin of the bride, and Cindy Bentley.

All were gowned in plum velvet, sleeveless and floor-length.

Attending the bridegroom were best man Robert Quinn and ushers Lyle E. Schell, Jr., Roger Czarnowski and Curtis Lipp.

Vows Are Spoken at St. Andrew

Michigan State University students Christine Ann Wojtawicz and John Robert Vernier exchanged marriage vows Dec. 30 in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in Livonia.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wojtawicz of Elmira Street in Livonia, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Vernier of Vernier Lane in Lakeville, Mich.

A white A-line silk gown with applique lace on the bodice and a short train was the bride's choice. She carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

As maid of honor, Karen Heinlein of Saginaw wore a royal blue satin dress styled like the bridal gown, and carried white carnations tipped in blue in her cascade bouquet.

Thomas Hargrove of Lakeville was best man, and William Vernier, Jr., and Gilbert Fujioka served as ushers.

Following a honeymoon at Caberfae Lodge in Cadillac, Mich., the couple returned to East Lansing to complete their senior year at MSU.

When washing windows, add a few drops of bluing and kerosene to sudsy water. Rinse and polish with crumpled newspapers or a lint-free cloth.

Clarenceville Girl to Get DAR Citizenship Award

Rhoda Weiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weiss, 19459 St. Francis, Livonia, will be honored Feb. 11 by the John Sackett Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Rhoda, a senior at Clarenceville High School, will receive one of the two good Citizen awards. The other will go to Lora Schropp of Detroit, a student at Redford High School. Both were selected by their classes and faculty committees.

The award is made each year to a senior girl on the basis of scholarship, dependability, service, patriotism and school activities.

Rhoda is editor-in-chief and reporter for the Clarenceville High School paper, The Spectator, and writes sports for the Farmington Enterprise.

She is a member of the Future Homemakers Club of America and holds a state office as reporter. She is a member of the Future Homemakers National Chorus and, last summer, sang with the chorus at the Future Homemakers Convention held at St. Louis.

Rhoda is also a member of the Clarenceville High chorus, has played clarinet in the school band for four years, and is head baton twirler of the band. She was also a member of the Wayne Oakland County League band and chorus.

She belongs to the National Honorary Society, has an A-average, ranks second in her class, is secretary of the senior class and has been on the Student Council. Last year, she was selected as the most outstanding underclass citizen of the year at her school.

This fall, Rhoda was chosen

RHODA WEISS

Miss Teen-Of-The-Week by the Detroit News. She attends services at the Beth-Moses Congregation at Evergreen and Seven Mile Road, and has been active in the Dollars for Scholars Program in Livonia, the March of Dimes, and the American Field Service. Rhoda plans to attend Michigan State University, in the school of journalism.

Rhoda and Lora will be honored by the John Sackett chapter at the home of Mrs. Julius Harworth, 14949 Mark Twain, Detroit, Feb. 11 preceding the chapter's monthly meeting. They will receive award pins at that time.

They are eligible to compete with winners from other local chapters for the State Good Citizen Award from the Michigan Society of the American Revolution.

St. Gerald's Party

The St. Gerald's Women's Council will sponsor a card party at the parish hall in Farmington at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, Feb. 1. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Joan Graham, 478-5948.

Women Hear Plan For 'Y'

A progress report on plans for a new Family YMCA building in Livonia will be put before members of the Business and Professional Women's Club in this area at their quarterly meeting Sunday, Jan. 29, at Botsford Inn on Grand River at Eight Mile Road.

The session will begin at 9:30 a.m. with business meetings and include luncheon and an afternoon program featuring talks by Patrick J. Duggan, chairman of the speakers bureau for the new "Y" and Donald Denwoodie, director of the progress meetings.

The Livonia Business and Professional Women's Club will host the meeting, and president Sarah Smith said all BPW members and their guests in District 9 are invited to participate.

Included in the district are 16 clubs, Livonia, Garden City, Nankin, Plymouth, Northville, South Redford, Lola Valley, Metropolitan, Northwestern and West Detroit.

Mrs. Florence Davies, Livonia vice president in charge of the program, said it should be of interest to all because the new YMCA, when built, will serve not only Livonia but the surrounding communities.

The program will cover the history and development of YMCA, the new building, and what service it will offer the community. The program will also feature pictures and color slides.

For reservations or additional information, BPW members may call Mrs. Davis at 422-0006 after 6 p.m.

QUEEN JOANNE ADAMS

Jean Leonard Translates Concern into Action

Schools and the quality of the education they provide are the natural concern of every parent.

Jean Leonard puts her concern into action—she's now in her fourth year as a member of the South Redford Board of Education.

Now secretary of the board, she finds its work involves a huge slice of her time and interest, both as a member of her community and as a mother of eighth-grader Betsy, seventh grader Marcia and young Julie, now in the fourth grade.

Jean's busy schedule that included Girl Scout and youth group leadership, PTA work and membership in a citizens' study and advisory committee brought her an appointment in 1963 to fill a vacancy on the school board.

The following year she was elected in her own right to serve a four-year term.

A resident of the South Redford school district for about a decade, Jean has watched the school system grow to its present total of nine elementary schools, two junior highs and Thurston High School, and its current student body of about 8,500.

"Now the building program is fairly complete," she said, "and we are concentrating on running the best school system we can."

Jean feels that the residents of her area are mostly satisfied with their school system since "they built it themselves" and that they have many reasons to be proud of their schools.

"For example, the staff and administrators of Thurston High have built the curriculum from the ground up and planned it with this community's needs in mind," she said.

"Combined studies and team teaching projects seem to be an innovation in many school systems, but we've had from the beginning the 'Common Learning' course, which puts together in one course English and social studies."

In the elementary schools, she feels a special pride in the music program and the foreign languages taught to "B" average fifth and sixth graders, "and of course in the many excellent teachers we're so lucky to have."

For the future, she'd like to see more emphasis on art in the elementary schools and enlargement of the vocational training available to older students.

"More vocational education is important but difficult to add," she explained. "Equipment is expensive and good teachers are more scarce in this field."

Though school board work fills a lot of her time, Jean manages plenty of family time with her girls. Her husband died suddenly a little over a year ago.

It was a family project last spring and summer when Jean ran in the Republican primary for the office of Redford Township clerk. The girls helped with mailing and telephone calls and taking over home responsibilities while she campaigned, Jean said "and it was a terrible blow to them when I lost in the August primary."

Jean is a native of Wisconsin, a journalism graduate of the University of Wisconsin, and before her marriage traveled all over the country and even to Europe writing articles about farm equipment for the firm that employed her.

"That gave me a great taste for travel, and I hope some time to visit many more places," she said.

But until then there are daughters and home and cooking and bridge—and of course, the school board.

Interest, both as a member of her community and as a mother of eighth-grader Betsy, seventh grader Marcia and young Julie, now in the fourth grade.

Miss Strader, Mr. Hotton United in GC Ceremony

Wearing a gown of ivory English net and a gold headdress, Patience Luesta Strader became the bride of Ensign Ralph Andrew Hotton in a double-ring ceremony Dec. 31 at the Garden City Presbyterian Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Strader of Sharon Drive, Garden City, and the bridegroom's parents are Mrs. Elizabeth Hotton of Troy and Andrew Hotton of Belleville.

The Rev. R. R. Rives heard the couple's vows.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown had alencon lace trim and a cathedral-length train, and the short veil of tulle and sequined lace fell from a lace pill box headpiece. She carried a white Bible topped by a white orchid and stephanotis.

Mrs. Dennis Kevitt was matron of honor for her sister. Her floor-length empire gown was red velveteen, and she carried a muff of white velveteen with a corsage of red roses and ivy. Her headpiece was red bow and tulle.

Similarly gowned were the bridesmaids, Mrs. Roger Crane of Ann Arbor, Patricia Hotton of Troy, Nancy Metcalf of Garden City, Barbara Butler of Crystal Falls, Mich., and Cheryl Klary of Wayne.

Jack Rector of Rochester was best man, and the groomsmen were John L. Strader of Garden City, Don Hotton of Troy, David Beall of Lansing and James Beall of Detroit. Louis Beall of Detroit served as sword guard.

Mrs. Strader chose a blue and gold brocade dress with beige accessories, and Mrs. Hotton an aqua suit. Both had corsages of red roses and white mums.

A reception for 300 guests in the church parlor followed the ceremony, and the newlyweds left later for a wedding trip to Florida and New Orleans.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Michigan State University stationed with the U.S. Navy Air Force at Pensacola, Fla. The new Mrs. Hotton is a junior in the MSU nursing program.

Who's Responsible?

Who's responsible for all the Johnnies and Susies for what they do, say, think and feel? For their successes? For their failures? For their triumphs? For their tragedies?

Johnny and Susie are 5, 10, 16, and 18 years old. Although their responsibilities increase between the years 5 and 18, our responsibilities to them, as adults, do not decrease. Most of us will say we are responsible but what does responsibility mean? Does it mean providing food, clothes, and shelter? Does it mean providing the money so that Johnny can pay a fine for a traffic violation? Does it mean chaperoning Susie's dance? Or, does it mean being a living example of a way of life? Susie and Johnny are reflections of what they have seen and heard! What are we showing and telling them?

As adults, we assume that we know what youth needs to prepare for a future; but, how often do we stop and reflect about the models we are setting and, at the same time, recognize the youths' limitations, as well as their aspirations? We should do some honest reflecting about ourselves, too!

Bearing a child does not automatically make one a responsible parent! Being certified to teach does not automatically make one a responsible teacher!

Being an adult by age and responsibility does not make one a responsible adult!

Are we, as adults, assuming the responsibility for the youth we have borne, for what they have learned or should be learning, for how they will live? WE BETTER BE!

Buying Time?

Maybe it's taking the right action for all the wrong reasons, but we really can't quarrel with the filing of the incorporation petitions by Farmington Township residents.

Their stated reason, that through this action they are buying time to decide just what form of government the Township should have, is reasonable.

We are even hopeful that some sense will trickle down to the residents of the Township during this incorporation drive. Last year's move toward incorporation saw a great deal of noise and many charges and counter charges hurled back and forth between the proponents and opponents.

The end result was merely confusion and thus most of the residents voted no on the question.

We hope that the excessive noise and the resulting confusion are avoided this time around and give the voter the atmosphere to make an intelligent, informed decision.

OBSERVATION POINT

By Philip H. Power

Newspapermen get into a lot of casual conversation with a lot of different people. It's their job. And besides it's fun.

At some point during such conversations, however, a newspaperman is almost always asked a question somewhat along these lines: "How come you guys are always knocking somebody? Can't you ever say something nice?"

In a way, such questions are quite justified. It's a newspaper's job to act as a prod and a conscience, a shouter of warning and a mutterer about hanky-panky in high places. After all, if a newspaper doesn't do it, who will?

Further, a news story usually revolves around something that which has gone wrong. When a car hits some school children at an improperly marked crossing, that's news. But the fact that countless cars have safely driven by countless school children at a properly marked crossing simply isn't much of a news story—unless someone can come up with a good angle.

Every newspaperman worth his salt worries about this problem, and most of them are on the alert to catch a story in which something goes right or in which someone deserves praise.

Such a story is a breaking, right now, in Livonia. It should be a of real interest to citizens of other communities in this area, for it gets to the heart of some of the most pressing problems in our area.

The population of Livonia will be 200,000 by 1980, of which over 50 per cent will be under 21.

What are all these people going to do for recreation? Where will they swim? Where will they play volleyball? Handball? Where will they be able to work out in a gym and then relax in a sauna? Where will various community groups meet?

Frankly, no one knows. The schools are overcrowded right now, and it is unlikely that the school system will be able to do much more than keep up with the population growth.

Other buildings? There just aren't any. Seeing the pressing dimensions of this problem, which relates not only to juvenile delinquency but also to the simple goal of providing a good life for people, the citizens of Livonia have started to do something about it.

They have decided to build a community center, a Family YMCA. They have received $580,000 from the United Foundation and Detroit Metropolitan YMCA. They have set their fund-raising goal at $460,000.

OK. That's fine. They think they are going to meet their goal. So do I. But what I'm really concerned about, right now, is the human side of the matter.

There are a number of men and women, astonishingly busy men, who care enough for their community to give time, energy, and (we hope) money to this project.

These men are concerned enough to go through the sweat, trouble and toil of a fund-raising drive. They are Republicans and Democrats, businessmen and school teachers, men and women. They get up at 6 a.m. to attend early meetings, and they stay up late at night telephoning.

If ever people can be called the leaders of a community, it is this group of men and women who are now at work to build a Family Y.

Who are they? Well, there is Pete Ventura, president of Livonia City Council and Marv Stempian, former State Representative. Shrewd, able, politicians who put their community above their political work.

Ron Upton, the business manager of the Livonia school system. Undoubtedly the most able man at making a dollar go a long way in Livonia.

Mrs. Betsy Tagami, who conceals great energy and dedication underneath an attractive face and smiling manner.

Don Friedrichs, director of secondary education, who is also the Chairman of the Livonia Y Board of Management. A clear thinker, with great ability to explore a point.

Pat Duggan, a young lawyer whose dedication to the Y is matched only by his clear and easy ability to speak well in public.

Jim Thomas, who runs the Consumers Power Company office in Livonia. Tall, well built, quiet, with an amazing ability to pick up a point everyone else has forgotten.

Paul Stewart, a big-gun PR man for Chrysler. A rarity among PR men: Able, honest, accurate.

Myra Chandler, who needs no introduction to readers of this paper.

Dr. Louis Radnethy, a young doctor, who has spent many hours in work for the Y, before anyone ever thought of this drive.

Chuck Wise, the Y extension director, who has run the preliminary Y programs in Livonia.

Other community leaders are being asked to help out right now. Let's hope they accept.

These men and women didn't have to work on this drive. But they chose to do so, and in the truest sense of the word, they are the leaders of their community.

That's a news story, and it's a nice one to write.

OBSERVING the Scene . . .

By MYRA CHANDLER

It will be a long time before Livonia Town Hall goes will forget John Peer Nugent, their guest speaker last week. In reverse, I think it will be a long trip in Africa before JPN forgets Livonia.

All went according to best laid plans; Mr. Nugent was feted, spoke to a full house, introduced by Philip Power, publisher of The Observer Newspapers. The two quickly developed a warm rapport, having friends in common. The speech was interesting, informative. The luncheon following at the Mayflower Meeting House was elegant. The questions following, stimulating—no chairman could ask for more.

Mr. Nugent was deposited at the airport for his 5 p.m. plane with dispatch.

All was well—until 4:30 there came a frantic call from Mr. Nugent to The Observer. "My wallet is missing—all my money, credit cards—everything." "Don't panic," said we panicky—"we will get right on it." Starting from the top, Sgt. Friday could have not worked more diligently, with the end result, the nice custodians at the Terrace Theatre finding the wallet intact—at 4:45.

A frantic call to Livonia Postmaster, Arthur Jenkins—"Of course we will keep the United States Post Office open 15 minutes so you can mail a package. Are you kidding?" But warm hearted community that Livonia is—he did—and the package was mailed and on its way at 5:10, while Mr. Nugent winged his way C.O.D. to Chicago—the first leg of a trip back to Africa.

John Peer Nugent

It was exciting—but not more exciting that hearing a first hand account from Mr. Nugent on what is really happening in the huge and mystic continent known as Africa.

As he said—it is no longer to be considered the land of Tarzan. A misconception so many of us have.

It is a rich country and one with tremendous potential if ever even partially united.

Presently there are 5,000 different tribes in Africa and they all hate each other. "Africans are not pro-East either, or pro-West, they are pro-themselves," stated Nugent.

The strongest nation in Africa is South Africa—made up predominately of white people. The black Africans are notoriously disorganized in their military talents. Even they are aware of this and when they have border disputes and need to fight each other they put an advertisement in European papers and hire armies—men of adventure or misadventure to fight for them.

There are five million white Africans and 12 million black Africans—and it is white against black, but it is also black against black.

Regardless of their great resources, they, themselves are not benefiting from it. Presently foreign money invested in Africa yields a 17 per cent return to the investor.

The wind of change is blowing across Africa. Nugent admitted, and he has somewhat of a gloomy feeling about it.

He sees the Chinese Communists working feverishly to make inroads—and although they have not succeeded completely they are using devious methods. Not money, however. So far the Communists have sent toilet seats and snow plows where there is no plumbing or snow.

The African wants three things: Money, people to be on their side; and votes in the U.N.

Right now the United States is taking a good, hard look at the nations of Africa to see just where its friends are.

Unfortunately we have done some things wrong.

The missionaries went over—on the heels of them, the money-makers—then G. Mennen Williams and then the Peace Corps.

The missionaries put them in clothes—and in the uprisings only the educated Africans were killed—and the educated ones could be told apart from the others because, they wore clothes. Right now Arrow shirts are not too popular in Africa; Christians started to wear clothes and Arrow Shirts had a factory there. Many were killed because of their Arrow shirts.

The money-makers are mostly white—and have what they call "contracts" for the black Africans. This pays them money for their work so they are not slaves—but also the workers do not have unions, stewards, grievance committees, etc. Still Mr. Nugent explained, economically some are better off financially even if they do not know how long the contract lasts.

In the case of Soapy—Mr. Nugent feels this was a grave mistake—Mr. Williams underestimated the intelligence of the chiefs around the talk-table—plus the fact he did not do his homework. He used one slogan—but it wore thin, "Africa for Africans."

Mr. Nugent like the Peace Corps kids—he said he wished they would have been a little less willing—for instance they were so anxious to please they immediately praised the food of the bush villages—and admired their clothes, and indeed accepted and adopted both. The chief of the village wants to modernize his people and have them adopt more civilized food and western dress. So the Africans were attempting to look like Westerners and our kids became Africans.

Mr. Nugent touched on the contrasts . . . the cruelty of the back countries, some of the existing Mau-Mau tribes, as opposed to the modern cities, beauty in art, poetry and architecture.

He told of the advantages the Muslims have over the Christians in touching new bases. The Christian needs many artifices, but the Muslim needs only a prayer rug and can move about and be effective.

He is particularly worried about Rhodesia. There are farmers and farms equal to feeding the whole continent. Most of them are white African farmers. There are four million black and 225,000 white in Rhodesia. The Chinese Communists have systematically set about to destroy the whites, knowing they can lead the black nation into their brand of Communism. They are not killing the farmers—they are instead killing their wives and children—and the farmers are capitulating in spirit and moving away. Chinese Communists are great to teach guerilla warfare. This type of warring the Africans adopt to well.

You only have to read Mr. Nugent's book, Call Africa 999, and you will note he has a great fondness for Africa—he knows it has not only great gold—but great potential as a United Africa—some day.

OMBUDSMAN

(A special feature in The Observer Newspapers — we will do our best to be a go-between, a red-tape cutter as the name indicates. When you have exhausted all other measures on a problem write to us (keep it short, please) and we'll see if we can help. Yes, John Q, you can fight city hall — with your own Ombudsman!)

Dear Ombudsman:

I am writing this letter hoping there is something you can do for us. The eastern boundary of the proposed I-275 freeway is bordering our acre of property. It will remove our access. Last year the property behind us was sold to a developer and subdivided, at which time we were offered a lot for access.

My husband visited a Mr. Belinbaum and a Mr. Negri of the Lansing office of the Highway Dept. He was referred to Frank Simmons in the Redford office. Mr. Simmons said he was sure that they would rather buy the lot in question and put a road through for us than buy our home and asked for a statement by my husband in writing. This he did and forwarded it to the State Highway Dept. Mr. Simmons also advised us, at my husband's inquiry, not to buy the lot ourselves because he couldn't promise reimbursement by the state.

Later Mr. McEwen, the Township Supervisor, called us to say the state had written him a letter requesting that the building permit on that lot in question be withheld until such time as the state could take action.

In the meantime the subdivision behind us was sold. When contacted by the state as to their intentions for the access road the builder flatly refused to sell it, stating that it would disrupt his traffic flow in the subdivision.

We have tried to gain cooperation from all parties concerned at the first mention of this freeway. Due to the lack of cooperation on the part of the builder and the State Highway Dept. to act at the proper time we feel our rights as residents of the Township of Plymouth and State of Michigan are being imposed upon. We are speaking of a wooded acre with a ravine and a lovely brick home as opposed to a small empty lot.

Five of our six children are doing very well in school and other activities. We all enjoy this community.

The builder intends to start construction soon. Your cooperation and immediate action on this situation would be greatly appreciated.

T. W. STEVENSON
Gibbert St., Plymouth

Dear Mr. Stevenson:

John Hart took the case over from Frank Simmons of the State Highway Department. Mr. Hart said all avenues possible were investigated. The new subdivider would not sell the property to the Stevensons, the State Highway Department investigated another route for the highway. It was too costly, the next step was to see if the subdivider's property could be condemned. The State Highway Department decided it would take too long; the answer is to purchase your property—since it valued over $25,000, sometime within the next few months two appraisals will be obtained. Good luck on finding a new site in your same general area. I'm afraid, Stevensons, this must come under the heading of transition of a rural community to a big city.

Letters to the Editor:

Redford Township Roads

Editor: First of all I want to thank you for your fine newspaper. Here I have a letter for the Editor and I hope you care to print it.

"The horrible condition of some un paved streets in Redford Township is for years a disgrace to the community. We have proof that occasional scraping is of little use since the foundation is poor. It only seems to keep workers occupied. Of course some residents signed a petition for pavement as late as last summer but the high price $15.— or even more per frontage-foot held more residents back than signed. Blacktopping would be a blessing and properly installed would last indeed a very long time. Garden City, for example, did a marvelous job.

How long must we roller-coast through our streets of Horse-and-Buggy days?"

ED. Note: Couldn't agree with you more. Driving through Western Heights last Sunday night I broke a tooth, two springs on my Oldsmobile and my New Year's resolution not to swear.

Pictorially Speaking

Editor: And the best part, Mister Mayor, he won't be asking for raises every year.

A LIVONIAN

Cruelty to Puppy

Editor: The person or persons who threw the small terrier puppy out of their car (twice) into a snow drift on Howard Road, Tuesday, Jan. 3, 1967 to freeze and starve to death is no longer suffering. They also might like to know that he waited for several hours in the same location eyeing each passing motorist in hope that his beloved master would return for him.

May we take this opportunity to wish them a Happy New Year.

Appreciates Police

Editor: A Livonia policeman saw my mother-in-law, Mrs. Otto D. Stark, stuck in the snow at a crossover along Schoolcraft near Merriman. He promptly stopped to assist her and when he could not get her out in to Schoolcraft and hailed a truck. Together they towed her into the clear. Both took off without being thanked for their good deed.

This kind of courtesy deserves recognition and appreciation. It is gratifying we have this kind of policeman on duty on the streets of Livonia. If I knew his name I would thank him in person.

There are some lessons you can't learn in school

By W. W. EDGAR

THE other evening our discussion group got around to talking about the education and knowledge that one can pick up outside of the classroom—especially in the knock-down, drag-out whirl of the business world.

One after the other told of some lesson he learned in a sharp business deal—either how he won the contract or how he lost—and none of the reasons came out of school books.

As the discussions continued it was definitely proven that the world has many folks who labor not in the vineyards, but who live by their wits. They have no acquaintance with work and don't care to be exposed to it.

Sitting there, I had to smile because of my knowledge of the business world came from being knocked about in the mad whirl of trying to make a living or providing sustenance for a family.

One night in particular came to mind. It was back in my home town where we had what we chose to call a "restaurant" and I came under the watchful eye of my Dad. Along with doing the regular chores of helping to clean the rooms and "shuck" oysters or open clams as they were needed, he gradually gave me more responsibility—even though I was just at the age where I was to enter high school.

My Dad was eager to have me learn the business "from the ground up" for he had visions of someday being the proprietor of a large sea food house. He also looked forward to having me with him to help carry on. So, at every opportunity he would see that some "lesson" was driven home to me.

Just before the dinner hour each evening he'd go home for about an hour to relax. On those occasions he left me in charge—feeling that I could sell a few packages of cigars, or a few cigars and that there would be little request for food. This worked fine. In fact it worked too smooth to please my Dad. But I didn't find this out until much later.

LATE one afternoon a man walked in, took his seat at the counter and ordered an oyster "soup." This always was served in a dish one size smaller than you would use to serve a "stew."

I placed the dish before him and gave him the usual small dish of "oyster" crackers and went about my business. "Say Son," he called to me in a few minutes.

"I was eating this," he said, "and started to put more crackers in the broth. But I wasn't paying attention to what I was doing and I used too many crackers—could you give me a little more broth to moisten them?"

"Gladly, I answered and gave him the broth. I had just satisfied another customer with a piece of pie when he called again.

"I've done it again," he said, "Now I have too much broth. Would you mind giving me some more crackers?"

I did with a smile. But I started having my doubts when he called to me gain and said, rather casually, "This has become very dry again. Could I have some more broth?"

Just as I was trying to figure out what was happening—I knew there was something wrong, but couldn't figure it—my Dad walked in, smiling and, looking over the scene, calmly said to me, "You know, you could have sold him another dish of 'soup.' Those crackers and the milk-cost money. You just don't give them away."

Then all of us—my Dad, the customer, and I—had a good laugh. My Dad had concocted the entire episode and it was a business lesson I didn't learn in school. But it is one that I never shall forget.

College campuses and the college years were always the opportune times to develop a philosophy of life and to find oneself.

It didn't really matter what the academic grades were as long as one didn't flunk. The all-night sessions in the fraternity house or dorm was often more important than making that 8 a.m. class.

While this wasn't the official attitude of the college administrator, many of them would agree that more than a formal kind of education was acquired during the college years.

College campuses have seen many things. In fact, they rate second to churches in providing a sanctuary.

That is, they used to. All that is changed now.

The satire columnist will have a field day with the change. After all a group of men can sit down and by a split vote shake the very foundations of higher education in this country and of the largest institution of higher education.

Maybe it all stems from the fact that the residents of that very large state on the Pacific coast have elected the ideal candidate and governor. We have to admit that the new chief executive is impressive in his appearance.

His predecessor was described as always "managing to fall up the steps at the Berkeley-Stanford football game" and the present government has more "class" than to do something like that.

Unfortunately "class" goes more than skin deep. Turning the administration of a state university into something akin to a political football doesn't show much "class."

Student activity at the university in question has been disturbing at times. Now it seems that the action of the adults is even more regrettable.

End of A Series . . . Beginning of Adventure

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last in the series by staff member Sue Shaughnessy recounting her experiences with the Michigan Scientific Introduction Service in Ann Arbor. She fulfilled her assignment but she also managed to "get off the hook.")

By SUE SHAUGHNESSY

Writing a series with a topic such as this is somewhat similar to the Saturday afternoon serials that (during my younger days) I waited for each week at the local movie house.

Last week's piece left the reader hanging just as nicely as each episode of the weekly thriller did. It wasn't a mistake caused by the editing of the type. The unanswered question was deliberate.

The gentleman with whom I was matched by the computer, did ask for a date. The date was subsequently canceled due to the fact that he was called out of town.

In canceling the date, however, he robbed me of the lead for the final installment. It was to have read "Never before have I had a date which I have felt compelled to report on."

That's a true statement of fact and I am somewhat relieved that the date did not occur so I don't have to write about it. There is a limit about mixing one's business and personal life.

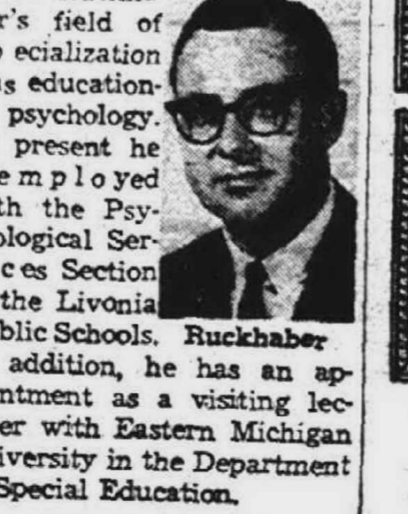

The other point, which no longer confronts me, is that I am not now forced to tell the gentleman that I was involved in the entire project in looking for a story. His reasons for signing up, in all probability, were more conventional.

In all the phone conversations, I never quite got around to telling the young man the reason behind my registering with MSIS because I just didn't know the best means of phrasing it. Now I don't have to do so.

All of this just goes to prove that one really should procrastinate because often the problem solves itself.

Awarded Doctorate

Charles J. Ruckhaber was awarded the Doctor of Philosophy degree during the recent commencement exercises at the University of Michigan. He resides with his wife and family at 9819 Melrose, Livonia.

Dr. Ruckhaber's field of specialization was educational psychology. At present he is employed with the Psychological Services Section of the Livonia Public Schools. Ruckhaber, in addition, he has an appointment as a visiting lecturer with Eastern Michigan University in the Department of Special Education.

Busy in Canal Zone

Army S/4C Ralph L. Hudson, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton S. Hudson, 18273 Brentwood, Livonia, participated in "Operation Red Devil", one of the biggest parachute assault exercises ever held in the Canal Zone.

So much for MSIS. It does do what it promises to match up people with like interests. If a person is seeking new dates and has no other avenue open to them it's a legitimate means of meeting people.

Investing Inquiry

"I'm Not Happy"

(Mr. Wysong, stockbroker for Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis, welcomes all inquiries on investing. Send your questions to THE OBSERVER, "Investing Inquiries," 33050 Five Mile Road, Livonia, Michigan. The answers are the opinion of Laurence A. Wysong who is considered highly qualified on the subject.)

Q. How do I get through to my stockbroker? It seems that every time I ask him to buy some stock he tries to talk me out of it. For instance, he persuaded me not to buy Great America Industries last year when it was $11.00, just before it went to $14.00. The same applies to Associated Oil & Gas which I wanted to buy when it was at 6 then went to 8 3/4. What broker can I go to where I won't receive so much static?

A. My personal feeling is that your present broker has done you a real favor. He has given up commissions to keep your best interests at heart. Taking a look at the recent prices of the two stocks you mentioned I find Great America at five and Associated Gas & Oil at two. Seeing this record I would say your broker has done an admirable job. If you still insist on changing brokers I am sure you can find one who will take your orders without explaining the pitfalls. When you do may I wish you good luck.

While the Invitations announced a 50th wedding anniversary for Barbara and Pat Basile, the special event isn't scheduled to take place until January of 1991!

So for January, 1967, they decided to overlook the printer's error and to have as gala a celebration of their 15th anniversary as they would their 50th.

And about 80 friends and relatives, including Barbara's sister and brother-in-law, Shirley and Dale Gain, who came in from Milwaukee, joined the Basile's at their home on Curtis last Saturday evening, to offer a toast to this less than golden, but equally special occasion.

"A Faithful Column Reader" reports that friends and neighbors were delighted to see Mr. and Mrs. William Reinhard and their family, formerly of Richland Ave., now living in Bon Air, Virginia, when they returned to spend the holiday with relatives in our fair city.

If You Enjoy being the "bearer of good news," especially if it is set to music, why not give Barb Core a call (421-1854), and offer to help "sell" the Meadowbrook Music Festival to Livonians.

No ticket sales are involved. Rather, it is a matter of making sure that everyone is invited to enjoy these wonderful open-air concerts, scheduled to begin in June and featuring world-renowned musicians.

And With That Note . . . we conclude our tenure as your "Live Wire" columnist . . . in order to pursue a project that has been in the planning stages for five years, and is frequently referred to as "Taking A Few Months to Concentrate on Rest and Relaxation."

We extend a welcome to your new "Live Wire," Natalie Shirley. And we know how much she would appreciate it if you would give her a call (474-1268) and let her know what you have been doing, for it will be "news" to her.

I thank you for your interest and kind words, and assure you that writing your column has been my pleasure.

Gala Fantasyland at UD High School

Fantasyland will be the destination Saturday evening, Jan. 28, of many couples in this area and their University of Detroit High School sons.

The occasion is the U. of D. High annual Gala Night, and Fantasyland is, of course, located at the school on South Cambridge in Detroit.

The prosaic school gymnasium will be transformed by members of the U. of D. Mothers Club into a fairyland for the young and young of heart. Funds raised by the project will be used for more school equipment.

Plans call for a reception committee of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs to greet the guests. Also to be on hand will be Alice and her Wonderland friends and Cinderella with her glass slipper, with Dumbo the flying elephant overhead.

The Mothers Club said there will be dancing for the parents in the gym—around the Sleeping Beauty castle and to the strains of Dave Farley's orchestra, while the students and their dates crowd Tomorrowland in the library and hear the beat of the Monocles, a local combo.

Refreshments will be served for the student crowd in the cafeteria, presided over by Peter Pan, Captain Hook and the Crocodile and for the parents in the lounge, turned into a Swiss village.

Student tickets are $2 a couple and the parents can attend for $5 a couple.

Among the area residents planning to attend are Mr. and Mrs. John Evangelistas, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bernards, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Maihofers, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tembrunels, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Yori, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Galeas, all of Redford Township; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chambers and Mr. and Mrs. George Marston, of Livonia; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sznyszewski of Plymouth and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Popadine of Garden City.

Mrs. Richard O'Hara, chairman, said funds raised would be used this year to double the size of the athletic field bleachers and to equip the teachers' professional centers in the library.

In the past the Mothers Club, now in its 35th year, has raised funds for more land for the school, a public address system, an organ, station wagons and a silver service purchased last year.

FOUR VISITORS to the University of Detroit High School Gala Night Fantasyland get a practice welcome from Arthur Sznyszewski Jr. (right) of Plymouth. They are Mrs. Frank Chambers of Livonia, Mrs. Ernest Yori of Redford Township and her son Arthur, and Mrs. Arthur Sznyszewski Sr. Gala Night will be held at the school from 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m.

Purpose of the affair is to raise funds for the building projects at Madonna and to provide scholarships for students.

JoAnn Poppenger Wed to James McFall Dec. 30

Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church was the setting for the marriage of JoAnn Poppenger and James McFall Dec. 30.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Poppenger and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McFall, both of Livonia. After the candlelight ceremony a dinner reception was held at the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth.

The bride wore an Italian silk velvet, floor-length gown fashioned with an empire waist and chapel train. The neckline and headpiece were encircled with white mink. White carnations, holly and an heirloom handkerchief which belonged to the bride's great-grandmother made up her bouquet.

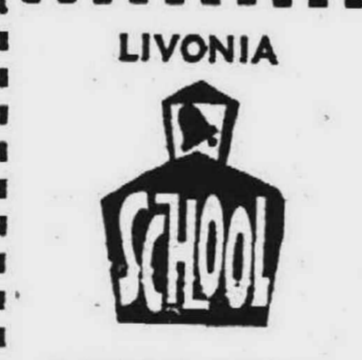

Maid of honor was Donna Leech and Harlene Healy of Chicago. Jean Davis and Georganne McFall, sister of the bridegroom were the bridesmaids. They wore gowns of emerald green taffeta with white fur headpieces and carried muffs trimmed with holly.

The bride's brother, William Poppenger Jr., was best man, and Leslie Gall, Zigmund Grygorowicz and Kevin McFall, brother of the bridegroom, seated the guests. Todd Poppenger, cousin of the bride was the ring bearer.

Soloist was Carol Ann Buehre of New York City, an aunt of the bride.

Mrs. Poppenger chose a turquoise crepe and satin floor length gown with silver accessories and a tailored rose corsage. Mrs. McFall wore a pink crepe floor length gown with bright pink accessories and corsage.

Following a skiing honeymoon in Northern Michigan the couple will make their home in East Lansing where JoAnn is a senior nursing student and Jim is in his last term of Mechanical Engineering at Michigan State University.

Lecturer Urges Vital View of God

The need of giving up worn-out ideas about religion and physical science, and replacing them with a more vital, spiritual view of God, man, and the universe, will be discussed in a lecture to be presented in Fourth Church of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, February 5, at 3 p.m., by Lenore D. Hanks, C.S.B., of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

A native of Portland, Oregon, Mrs. Hanks holds a degree in sociology from the University of Oregon.

An authorized lecturer, teacher, and practitioner of Christian Science, Mrs. Hanks is currently on tour through the United States and Canada. Her lecture is called "The Mythology of Matter." The Fourth Church of Christ, Scientist is at 24400 West Seven Mile Road, Detroit near Grand River and Lenore.

Bus Tour of Detroit Inner-City Shows Its Problems for Local Suburbanites

For three hours, last Saturday, 103 members of the First Methodist Church of Farmington explored the inner city. The purpose of the tour was to develop an understanding of the inner-city problems and to highlight the church's current mission theme, affluence and poverty.

Commentators on the two buses were Dr. Jesse DeWitte, superintendent of the West Detroit district, and the Rev. Ned DeWitt, executive secretary of the Detroit conference board of missions. They told of the effect of the exodus to the suburbs, with Detroit remaining the "mother-city."

While Trumbull and Grand River was, for many years, the center of Detroit's population, the center now has shifted to Seven Mile Road and the Lodge Freeway, and is still on the move. The suburbs continue to grow and prosper, while Detroit's population steadily dwindles.

"The fate of the 'mother-city' is in jeopardy, as suburban residents treat the

Editor's note: One criticism often made of suburban churches is that they lose sight of the problems of the inner city and the people who live there. This year the First Methodist Church of Farmington has been making a study of the inner city in general and Detroit in particular, and last Saturday more than 100 from the church took a bus tour of the area within the confines of Grand Boulevard. This report is written by Mrs. Alex Nagy, who made arrangements for the tour.

city as a prostitute, using the city for their own benefit, and retreating elsewhere to their homes.

The need for new patterns of common government structures has been suggested as an initial step toward unity—a common metropolitan police force, public service department, and transportation system.

The Detroit inner city, an area of fifteen square miles of 250,000. Within this area, it is the physical deterioration of the buildings and their facilities that produce the slums. Many of the residents are dissatisfied but are unable to make themselves heard.

Neighborhood associations so prevalent in outlying districts, have for many years been difficult to organize because of the lack of articulate residents. However, more recently, a number of organizations such as Grass Roots Organization, Action Mission and West Central Organization have become established in the areas, all with the basic purpose of helping residents make their needs known.

Church Launches Fund Drive

Good Shepherd Evangelical Lutheran Church, located at West Six Mile Road and Kinloch, embarked this week on a $95,000 capital funds drive to raise contributions for a proposed building and expansion program.

The drive is being conducted as the initial financing phase of a planned $300,000 building project which has as its goal the construction of a new 350-seat workshop area and Christian education facilities. The new structure will be located on Good Shepherd's present Six Mile Road site and will adjoin the existing church building.

Congregational approval of the expansion program was given in December.

Commenting on his church's building plan, Reverend H. Jack Baer, pastor of Good Shepherd, stated that, "For several years now, we have recognized the pressing need for expanded facilities. During the past three years, our active membership has increased nearly fifty percent, and our congregational involvement in the overall work of the church has reached an all-time high. By expanding, we hope to continue this growth and extend our outreach into the community."

The current building funds drive was launched on Monday, Jan. 23, at a special congregational dinner attended by approximately 300 adult members at Presbyterian Village Church on Six Mile Road. The Rev. Calvin F. Stickle, pastor of Detroit's Reformation Lutheran Church and a former Michigan Synod president of the United Lutheran Church of America spoke on the subject of "Growth through Commitment."

Early response to Good Shepherd's building funds drive indicates that the $95,000 goal will be attained or exceeded.

A final report will be made to the congregation on Sunday, Feb. 5, at a special 11 a.m. "Thanksgiving Service."

Missionary Tells of Work In Alaska

At a recent "Family Night" gathering parishioners of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church welcomed a modern day missionary, Rev. Dale Sarles and Mrs. Sarles, to their church.

The visitor showed slides and gave information on his parish, the mission church of St. Barnabas at Minto, Alaska.

Minto is a very small village near the center of Alaska and has a population of just over 200 Indians. The women at St. Andrew's have a special interest in St. Barnabas as they have been contributing to the building fund for a new church from funds raised through their church activities. Mr. Sarles also preached the sermon at St. Andrew's Jan. 22, telling of his life and work with his parishioners and friends in this Alaskan Indian village.

Chicken Good for Budget

BY FAITH GILLESPIE
Queen of Hearts

One day last week, I saw a food article that began like this:

"Checking the contents of your freezer sometimes brings forth surprises. A special treat might be lurking behind last week's leftover roast and vegetables such as a wild mallard or two..."

They've got to be kidding!

If I had a wild mallard or two lurking in my freezer, I'd know it.

No hunterly husband would let the wife forget it if he bagged a wild mallard or two.

After his sitting for all those gray hours in the chilly damp of a duck blind, and seeing them come in over the water, and drawing a bead and shooting with perfect timing and control... you are going to know that you've got a duck there, doll.

I wouldn't mind a lurking mallard in my freezer, but it's hardly likely. The surprises in there are more apt to be like old macaroni and cheese. Besides that, the King of Hearts in this household isn't hunterly.

What we do is we settle for chicken.

We don't mind a bit. Chicken used to be as hard to come by as duck, almost; it was the special Sunday dinner treat.

Now, however, the family that wants to make both ends meet makes one end chicken. It is plentiful and inexpensive, and there is no end to the tempting ways to prepare it.

The best bargain is usually the broiler-fryers, if you find the ones that weigh three pounds or more, and if you buy them whole. If no one ever showed you how to cut up a fowl, there are things to do with the whole bird. A 3 to 4-pound chicken can make two meals for 4 or 6 people. (You may use stewing chickens for these recipes, of course; you will pay more and get more meat.)

Cook the cleaned whole chicken in 2 quarts of water. Put into the pot with the bird an onion stuck with 3 cloves, a small carrot, a bay leaf, 5 or 6 peppercorns, a couple of sticks of celery with leaves, a little parsley if you have some, and a couple teaspoons salt. Bring to boil, skim off foam, covered pot, and simmer at reduced heat for a couple of hours (more for a stewer). Cool chicken in the broth. You can do this any time, and refrigerate the pot after it cools; or remove the meat from the bones, strain the broth, and refrigerate separately till you need it.

BROCCOLI AND BIRD

Cook as package directs: 1 package frozen broccoli, let drain and place on bottom of buttered baking dish.

While broccoli broils, melt ¼-cup butter in frying pan, and brown in it 1 small chopped onion, 2 stalks of finely chopped celery, and 2 cups of stale bread in small cubes. Season with ½-teaspoon salt, ½-teaspoon seasoned salt, ¼-teaspoon pepper, ½-teaspoon MSG, and maybe a teeny bit of ground sage. Sprinkle over this ¼-cup sherry, mix and spoon it onto the broccoli layer in the baking dish.

Top this with nice large pieces of chicken from legs and breast. Mix a can of cream of mushroom soup with half a can of milk and pour it over all. Sprinkle with grated parmesan cheese and bake in a 350 degree oven for 25 minutes, till bubbly and brown.

All the little pieces of meat off the bones go into the broth for a hearty soup for lunch or supper. Add salt and pepper, fresh or dried parsley and onion, and a handful of rice or noodles. Simmer 15 minutes or so. Serve with French bread and cheese.

If you do have a wild mallard or two, and want a recipe, let me know.
