An Editorial . . . Pastor Fights Election Ban

By PHILIP H. POWER
Publisher

THIS issue marks the 27th anniversary of the Livonian Observer.

It also marks the end of the first month that I have been on the job, full time, as Publisher of the Observer Newspaper Group.

Anniversaries are always a time for taking stock, reflecting on the past, and glancing into the future.

It seems appropriate, therefore, to write a bit about the past of one newspaper, The Livonian Observer, and about the future of eight newspapers, The Observer Newspaper Group.

If there has been one thing which characterized The Livonian Observer in the past, it has been guts. Not fanciness. Not precision. Not razzle-dazzle. But plain, simple, straight guts and courage.

Courage means to have taken an unpopular or controversial editorial position and to have stuck to it.

To have had courage is to have had the imagination and the will power to have had a dream about a newspaper and about how it could prosper and become great.

To have had courage means to have dug out the unpleasant facts behind the bland sheen of local government. It means to have printed them, regardless of threats of retaliation, just to have made sure that the public was served with the only commodity a newspaper can sell in news stories or advertisements, the truth.

To have guts is tiring, lonely, sad. Sometimes it's a little disillusioning. Always it's hard.

But The Livonian Observer had courage, and so did Paul Chandler, who made the paper what it is today. So does Myra Chandler, who helped him and who carried on after his death.

To those who write them (and hopefully, to some of those who read them) newspapers are alive, motivated by a spirit and a commitment, a posture in the world and an ethic. Without these, a newspaper is just another dead piece of paper with print on it.

It is only this spirit which permits a newspaper to play its true role: A public conscience.

The Livonian Observer has tried to play this role in the past.

The spirit of courage which has motivated the paper will be, I pledge, the same spirit which will drive The Observer Newspaper Group in the future.

Living up to the standards of the past is not easy, but all of us at The Observer Newspaper Group will try. And we're going to try to go beyond even the high standards already set.

We will try to bring to these newspapers an informed and probing curiosity about everything of local interest, from sewage to high school football, from racial discrimination to good recipes, from local politics to neighborhood goings on.

We will do this in a way that reflects a newspaperman's most deeply held ethic: That there is a difference between fact and opinion; that statements of fact belong in the news columns and expressions of opinion belong on the editorial page. News is news; no real newspaperman wants to slant it. If a newspaperman wants to express an opinion, he writes an editorial.

In short, we will run an accurate and fair newspaper.

We will work to make true every good newspaperman's dream: To put out the best paper in the country. We will do so with imagination and audacity. We will try new ideas and experiments with new processes.

These newspapers, of course, will take an interest in politics because politics is a vital part of our public life, where decisions that affect us all are made. In this connection, I believe that a personal note is needed to set the record quite clear.

As an individual, I am a Democrat. As a publisher, I am a newspaperman.

Since I joined The Observer Newspaper Group, many people have wondered, some out loud, if the fact that I am a Democrat who happens to publish some newspapers would automatically make those newspapers into slanted, Democratic sheets.

It will not.
When, as publisher, I feel the Demo-

Township Board Asks Voter Approval of Millage Hike

Seek Fund To Acquire Land Sites

Special Election Set on April 4

Plymouth Township voters will be asked to approve a one-mill tax increase for the purpose of acquiring sites for a township complex, fire stations and a cultural and recreational center, in a special election on April 4.

The proposal was approved by the Board of Trustees in a special meeting to which the millage increase was a last minute addition to the agenda. The proposal was not listed on the original agenda handed out prior to the meeting.

In addition, the Board's special meeting was called after the new Lake Pointe Homeowners Association had made arrangements to hold a meeting in the Township Hall at 9 p.m.

The Trustees met at 7:30 p.m. in special session and the Homeowners group convened at 9 p.m.

Three additional items on the agenda, including the millage request, came up for discussion after 9 p.m. Those from the Homeowners' Association, who sat in on the special session, left for their meeting before the Board began discussion of the additions.

The request for the additional mill will go to the polls at the same time Township electors will be voting on members of the new Charter Commission.

The Township Board has been discussing proposals for a new Township Hall and Center for some time and there was an indication several months ago that the complex would be located on N. Territorial Road.

However, Monday's action came as a complete surprise even though it was known that the Board was thinking of expanding the present quarters to take care of the Charges Charter Illegal

Test Case Goes To Court Friday

Rev. Peter Schweitzer, associate pastor of the First Methodist Church, is a firm believer that certain provisions of the Plymouth City Charter are illegal and contrary to the constitutional rights of the individual and the voters.

Rev. Schweitzer, who was barred from the April election for City Commission, on the grounds that he failed to meet the Charter provisions requiring candidates to be taxpaying property owners, is challenging the City Charter in a civil action that comes up before Circuit Court Judge Victor Baum, Friday afternoon at 2 p.m.

This was revealed to members of the Plymouth Commission Monday during a lengthy four and a half-hour meeting. Matter of fact it was the final item on an agenda that included three public hearings and numerous other items.

The agenda was so lengthy that the Commission recessed after the public hearings, and then rushed through the remaining items in order to adjourn before midnight.

City Attorney Thomas Healy, who normally would defend the City's election Commission in cases of this type, brought the matter to the attention of the Council when he asked to be relieved of the assignment.

"In the first place, I am a defendant as a member of the Election Commission," he said. "And in addition I have a strong feeling that Rev. Schweitzer is perfectly right in his allegations. Therefore I ask the Commission to be excused in this instance."

Commissioner George Lawton moved that the Commission hire another attorney to handle the case up to the Appeals Court at which time the Commissioners would make another study of the situation. His suggestion passed unanimously.

Questioned about the case following the meeting, Healy stated that Rev. Schweitzer had received assistance from the American Civil Liberties Union in the case with the assignment of an attorney to represent him.

Strange enough, Rev. Schweitzer is being represented by Abdeen Jabara, youngest brother of Commissioner James Jabara, who recently passed the bar examinations.

Rev. Schweitzer filed his complaint against the City's Election Commission which includes Mayor James Houk, Clerk Eugene Slider and Healy. He charges that he has been deprived of his right to seek a public office by the provisions requiring a candi-

TOP EXECUTIVES of the new Ford heater-air conditioner plant on Sheldon Road in Plymouth Township will be honored in a "meet the community" dinner Monday at 7 p.m. in the Mayflower Meeting House. Plant Manager Robert Winder and his staff will be greeted by community leaders in business, industry, finance, professional and civic circles. There will be a reception prior to the dinner and another following to give the community a chance to meet the Ford official family.

Bell Lists Expansion In City

Michigan Bell Telephone Company announced Monday it will spend some $5 million in 1967 to expand and improve communications facilities in Plymouth.

The local outlay is part of the $184 million Michigan Bell will spend throughout Michigan during the year. The statewide sum equals last year's record peak.

William M. Day, Michigan Bell president said in Detroit that last year's program went a long way toward helping the company "catch up with

Rev. Williams Accepts Call

After serving six years as pastor of the First Baptist Church, the Rev. Donald E. Williams last week informed the Board he has accepted a call to the First Baptist Church in Howell.

Rev. Williams, in announcing his decision, indicated he would remain in Plymouth until Easter Sunday, March 26 and then leave the following day for Howell to accept his new charge.

He and his wife, Ruth, are the parents of four children: Mark and Paul, students at Plymouth High; Danny, at Junior High West and Beth at Bird School.

Rev. Williams came to Plymouth six years ago from Atlas, Mich., a suburb of Flint.

Centennial Committee Eyes Ice Rink as Major Project

The Plymouth Centennial Committee has decided to concentrate its efforts on a study of ways and means to finance an outdoor skating rink as a permanent memorial of the big celebration to mark the 100th anniversary of the incorporation of the city.

This decision was reached at a meeting of the Committee Thursday evening when all groups having special projects to recommend, were asked to make their presentations.

Aside from the skating rink the only other project offered was a plan to purchase the vacated Baptist Church, just off Kellogg Park, and convert it into a Youth Center.

Due to the sudden illness of Sidney Strong, who suffered a slight stroke several days before the meeting, the plan to recommend building of a new historical museum was not offered.

"It is unfortunate," Chairman Joseph Tarantino explained, "that the folks interested in the museum are not present, but our time is so short we can't wait any longer."

Sensing a feeling that there may be some thought of dropping the idea of developing a project in so short a time as is now available, Chairman Tarantino asked for a show of hands. The vote was almost unanimous in favor of carrying on.

With this assurance, he then asked for a vote, by ballot, on the choice of the outdoor skating rink, at an estimated cost of $170,000 or the proposed purchase of the church for a youth center, the cost of which would be approximately $90,000 with an additional $12,000 for rejuvenating and furnishing the building.

Mayor James Houk, who supervised the balloting, announced nine of the 14 votes cast, favored the ice skating rink.

Immediately, the question of finances arose and Chairman Tarantino announced that a study would be made immediately to determine the availability of federal funds from such avenues as the Open Space Program or from other government agencies.

This study must be completed before the Committee can make its final recommendation to the City Commission for final action.

No site for the proposed rink has been mentioned, but it was generally agreed that the High School athletic field area would be the most logical — if the Board of Education would approve.

Urge Citizens Place Rubbish at Curb Line

Due to the heavy snow and the conditions of alleys throughout the City of Plymouth, all alley rubbish and garbage pickups will be made at the curb line on the regular collection days.

That was the notice issued Monday by DPW Supt. Kenneth Vogras.

Vogras stressed that the order is effective immediately and will remain in effect until further notice.

He warned all homeowners to heed the order or else face a situation where no collection is made.

High School Musicians Vie At Schoolcraft

The first of more than 4,000 senior and junior high school musicians from Wayne, Monroe and Washtenaw counties will descend on the Schoolcraft College campus Saturday morning for the annual District 12 Solo and Ensemble Festival.

Largest even in the state in terms of secondary school student participation, the District 12 competition will involve more than 1,000 scholastic musicians at Schoolcraft, and another 1,000 a few miles away at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti, in the senior high competition on Saturday.

The following week, Saturday, Feb. 18, 1,000 junior high musicians will compete at Schoolcraft while still another 1,000 will be performing for the judges at EMU.

Arrangements for the mass competition have been coordinated by Roy E. Ernst, band and orchestra director at Livonia's Franklin High, who is District 12 secretary for the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Assn., the sponsoring agency.

Top rated performers will win the opportunity of competing in the state music festival in March. Solo performers on all band and orchestra instruments, as well as the piano, and instrumental ensembles are involved in the annual competition.

Ernst is careful to point out that in terms of numbers of students actually participating, the Festival outranks either the annual Science Fair or the state basketball tournament, two other major competitive events for secondary school pupils. District 12 does not include Detroit schools, Ernst explained.

"Furthermore," Ernst adds, "the District 12 Festival is larger than the state competition. In fact, in sheer numbers of young musicians qualified to compete, our district has grown to the point where this year for the first time we have had to use two sites for the Festival.

"We selected Schoolcraft because of its central location and because being a community college its campus is compact, a fact that helps materially in organizing and conducting the Festival. We intend to continue to use community colleges for the district competition in the future."

Judges for the competition are college and university faculty members. Although there is no formal recital program during the competition, the public is welcome to attend the performance of the soloists and ensemble, Ernst said.

Open House To Feature LIT Program

National Engineers' Week Feb. 19-26 will be observed at Lawrence Institute of Technology with special lectures, films, and an open house featuring exhibits and demonstrations.

First event will be a movie, "The Wankel Engine" and speaker, Barry Hughes of the Curtiss-Wright Corporation of New Jersey, at noon Tuesday, Feb. 21, in the LIT Auditorium on the campus at Northwestern and Ten Mile in Southfield.

At 8 p.m. the same day, William Mumford of the Bell laboratories in New Jersey will speak on "Noise Performance Factors in Communication" in the LIT Administration Building.

At noon Thursday, Feb. 23, in the Auditorium, W. J. McCarthy of Power Reactor Development Company will discuss "Trends in Nuclear Power."

The open house will be held from 1 to 9 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 26. The public is invited.

Special invitations have gone out to high school counselors, teachers, and students. Engineering exhibits and demonstrations by student professional societies will highlight the day. Two space films also will be shown—"An American Rendezvous 7/6" and "What It's Like Outside."

Completes Training

Airman Apprentice Garry T. Pawloski, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Pawloski, 18918 Maplewood, Livonia, has completed the Aviation Structural Mechanics School in Structures at the Naval Air Technical Training Center in Memphis, Tenn.

Travis, formerly on the Schoolcraft faculty, is now devoting fulltime to graduate study at the U. of M. The pianist appeared with the Plymouth Symphony last October when they performed the Poulenc Concerto for Two Pianos.

Programmed are two groups of compositions for two pianos: Allemonde by Couperin; Sheep May Safely Graze, a transcription from a Bach cantata; Fugue in D Minor, from Bach's The Art of Fugue; and Mendelssohn's Rondo Capriccioso.

Two piano duets, in which the players will perform on one piano, are also on the program. They are: Liebeslieder Waltzes by Brahms, and Ravel's Mother Goose Suite.

Legislators' Views Differ On New Taxes

Governor Romney's long awaited fiscal reform message was delivered to a joint session of the Michigan Legislature last week. Because of the importance of this program to the state, The Observer has contacted local legislators for their evaluation of the message and its chances for passage by the legislature.

"Unpalatable" Says Tierney

State Rep. James Tierney (Democrat), whose district includes all of Garden City, Plymouth, and most of the north half of Westland, made no bones of his feelings about the Governor's tax reform program.

"The program is extremely unpalatable to me. There is no relief for the hard-pressed school districts with a low per-pupil tax base and a rapid enrollment growth. The Governor's program does nothing at all for those districts."

Tierney, a member of the House Education Committee, indicated that the legislative action concerning the tax reform program would be evenly split as some of the more conservative Republican legislators would not favor a state income tax but there are about a half-dozen Democratic representatives who may support the program.

He pointed out that the House Democrats were scheduled to caucus Tuesday to discuss the issue.

Tierney reiterated his feeling on the need for additional state aid for school districts who are now hard-pressed to keep from raising their local property taxes.

An example of this is the Nankin Mills district in Westland which has a total school tax rate of 38.8 ($38.80 per $1,000) the highest in the state.

"No child should be dependent on the geographical accident of residence for his education," Tierney emphasized.

Faust Has "Grave Misgivings"

Democratic State Senator William Faust, whose district includes all of Westland and Garden City, was a bit more neutral on the matter, commenting that it is time that the legislature began considering "foremost all of the citizens of Michigan, not the differences of political parties."

"Anything as complex as a major overhaul of the state's financial structure is bound to raise controversy and fiscal reform is a much discussed — and cussed — subject," Faust pointed out.

"Romney has made known his views and as expected, opposition to his proposals is mounting. Indeed, it appears fashionable to rip apart the ideas of this man, who is often mentioned as presidential material. Both Democrats and Republicans are doing it, sort of, I suspect, like David trying to slay Goliath.

"It is my person feeling that a fiscal reform measure should reflect and project the educational needs of our state, both in the local and university levels. At this time, at least, this isn't done and I have grave misgivings if the Governor's plan is adequate. We are only as strong as the kids we educate.

The Governor is charged by law to present his views, and this has been done. The next step belongs to the legislature," Faust said.

"Education Needs More"—Schmidt

Statement from Louis Schmidt, State Representative from 35th District which includes Livonia and Northville.

"On Thursday, Feb. 2 the Governor presented his budget message to the State Legislators. The budget was based upon the advice and consensus of a number of governmental agencies and the Governor's advisors.

"It appears as though a great deal of effort has been expended to bring about a balanced budget based on the tax proposals of the Governor which would involve a 2½ per cent income tax, and relief in certain areas of proerty tax and sales tax.

"The budget, as proposed, would meet the present needs and some improvements in certain areas.

"However, in the field of education it appears as though funds would not be increased.

"It is incumbent upon the Legislators, therefore, to scrutinize the entire budget and to endeavor to find additional funds for the various school districts of the State of Michigan.

"Trouble Ahead," Says Baker

Ray Baker, Republican 65th District (Farmington), said, "The Governor's fiscal reform proposals are rather broad compared to what they have been in the past. I think that they will have some difficulty in passing the legislature at this particular time. The attitude of the House of Representatives has been quiet. Each person has certain areas of their own particular concern.

"All the representatives are interested in relieving the local tax burden particularly on property taxes and if this is done then I think that the program will pass.

"I am in favor of a flat rate income tax if we have one at all. At the present time there is some discussion in the Senate of placing a limit on the flat income tax rate of five percent. People are worried that if passed, the tax rate will be increased each year and the thought is that would put a limit on the rate.

"I don't know whether the legislature could impose this limit or if it would have to be done by a referendum by the voters."

Redford, Garden City Men Victims of Scheme

A Detroit man, charged with trying to defraud local men with a money-making machine, will be tried in Wayne County Circuit Court, following Monday's preliminary examination in the Garden City Municipal Court of Judge Richard L. Hammer.

Charged with "Conspiracy to cheat and defraud" was Ovanley H. Dunham, of 6272 Joseph Campau, who was said to have tried to triple a sum of money given him by Frank Swartz, of 33081 Barton, Garden City, and Jeremiah McBain, of 25515 Elsinore, Redford Township.

Garden City police officers are also continuing their search for George W. Smith, of Ypsilanti, and two other unidentified men.

The Garden City man told police that one of the two unidentified men showed them how a $1 bill could be changed into a $5 bill with a chemical solution.

The two then promised Swartz that they could triple their funds—if they could get together $7,500. Swartz then contacted McBain and on Monday, Jan. 30, they went to Swartz's home and watched Dunham set up his apparatus in the bathtub.

Dunham then clamped the 75 $100 bills supplied by Swartz and McBain between two boards and put the bundle into the bathtub which was filled with soapsuds and a greenish-looking "chemical" to prepare for the transformation of the money.

Then Dunham said that he had to go to a Detroit hotel to get a supply of "bleached" $1 bills which would become $100 bills after the chemical operation.

McBain drove Dunham to the downtown hotel and waited, on orders, in the rear of Dunham's return. When Dunham didn't show, McBain drove around to the front of the hotel where he saw Dunham get into another car with two men.

McBain fired at the car with a pistol he carried with him.

Of the $7,500 in funds, $7,100 belonged to McBain and the remaining $400 to Swartz.

Garden City policemen found the "money making machine" in Swartz's bathtub.

Driver Fined For No License

William J. Tront, 18, of 1949 Walton St., Westland, paid a fine of $130 last week in Livonia Municipal Court where he was found guilty of driving on a revoked driver's license.

Municipal Judge James McCann put him on probation for one year and suspended a 60-day jail sentence.

Plymouth "March" Nets Record Fund

Plymouth's Mothers March of Dimes Campaign, on Tuesday, Jan. 31, passed the goal of $3,000 with a record of $3,300, according to figures released by Co-Chairmen Mrs. Roger Corey and Mrs. Robert Olson.

The local committee had set its sights on the $3,000 with the hopes it would go higher. It did and the total was some $300 more than that of a year ago.

The Mothers marched on icy, snowy streets and sidewalks but were "greeted by warm hearts in the Community with donations higher than a year ago."

To aid in the security of the marchers, nine radio-equipped patrol cars were in the area from 7 to 9 p.m. They were manned by members of the Stu Rockafellow Amateur Radio Society of Plymouth.

More than 300 mothers and friends participated in the march.

"To those residents of the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township, who contributed to the success of the March by organizing the campaign, marching or making donations, we give a most grateful thank you," said co-chairmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Witter, general co-chairmen of the March of Dimes campaign, expressed their appreciation for the generosity of community residents.

The Witters are working with Mrs. Donald Wee, chairman of the volunteer interest group of the Newcomers Club, to complete arrangements for the Feb. 18 Tag Day. Most of the 70 to 80 volunteers for this program will come from Junior High East.

The workers will be on Plymouth streets from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. All funds will go into the March of Dimes Fund.

Airman Roger Hull, son of Rev. Troy Hull, 17301 Brady, Redford Township, has completed basic training at the Lakeland, Texas Air Force Base and has been selected for special training at Lowry AFB in Denver, Colo.

estimates of the architects before giving final approval.

There is a matter of financing that will have to be resolved before the Board can move in any direction.

College officials indicated the Trustees are hopeful of securing a grant from the State for half of the cost on a matching basis.

They are literally holding their breath, hoping their application to state officials will be approved, guaranteed a portion of the funds available for building construction on a junior college campus.

At the moment, there isn't any indication from state officials as to whether the application for a grant will be approved or not.

"The Board is optimistic," said Howard Kahn, assistant to President Dr. Eric Bradner and director of public relations and publicity.

"There is a feeling among the members that Schoolcraft College will receive the requested grant on a matching basis and that we will be able to proceed with plans for a probable ground breaking in mid-summer.

"The Trustees have a strong feeling that the construction of the physical education facility will move along and will be ready for use by late 1968. However, the Board hasn't taken any official action on the matter—it hasn't been presented to them officially as yet and the only approval has been for the architects to present preliminary drawings. What the Board will do from that point is anybody's guess at this time."

The preliminary plans call for a $2 million complex that will house a main gymnasium to seat upwards of 2,500; an auxiliary gym, swimming pool with a diving area and balcony seating 400; a wrestling room, handball courts, gymnastics area, classrooms, faculty offices and other facilities for a complete physical education program.

The college has been conducting its physical education program on leased facilities ever since it opened in 1964.

Development of playing fields adjacent to the gym is also on the planning board.

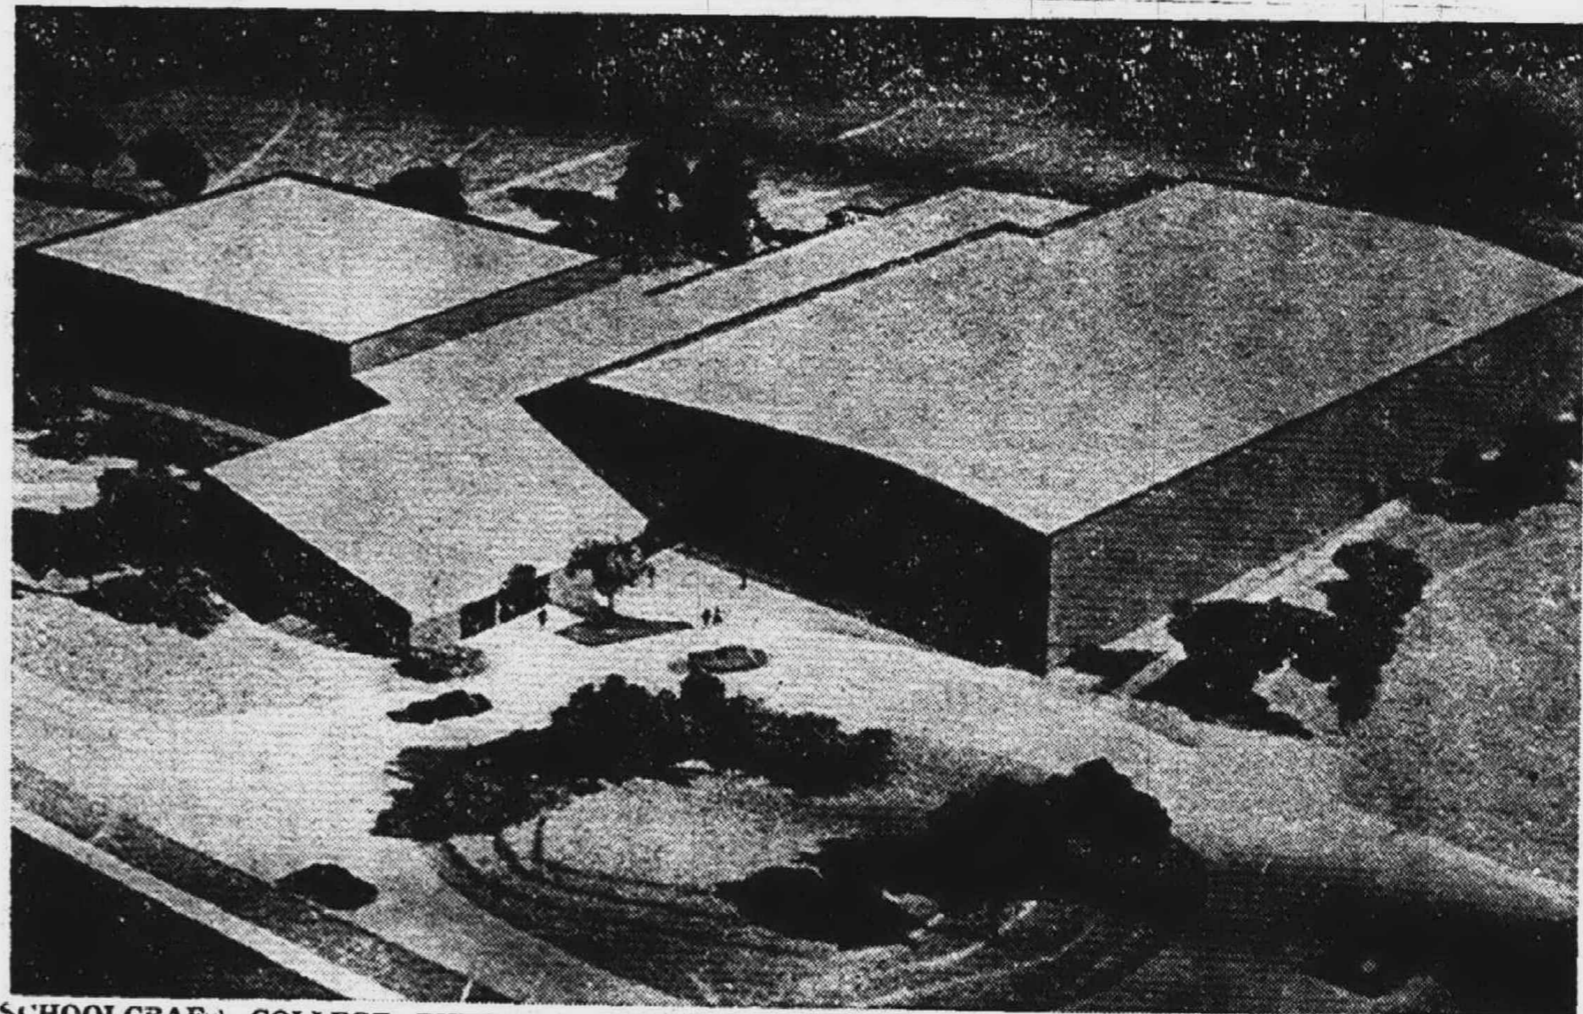

Construction of the athletic plant, along with a new classroom building to be started in the spring, will bring to nine the number of campus buildings.

The model of the physical education facility, developed by Eberle M. Smith Associates Inc., architects for the project, is on display in the college administration building.

Lake Pointe Group Demands Equal Policy in Assessments

Lake Pointe home owners warned the Plymouth Township trustees Monday night that they might lose votes in the next election if land and buildings were not assessed at the same rate.

The homeowners spoke out at a standing-room-only meeting in the Township Hall and criticized the statement made several weeks ago by Supervisor John McEwen that he would not want to raise the assessment of vacant land to more than 25 per cent of the true cash value.

"Twenty-five per cent is ludicrous to me," said Maurice Breen, president of the homeowners association. "It's said that if you tax these guys they'll have to sell their land."

"Of course, they're holding the land to sell for subdivisions, and if we did this, they wouldn't be able to make a million dollars." Other homeowners, among the 82 who attended, added their voices to the protest.

Larry Schendel said he did not like the "tone" of the supervisor's proposal, which would not raise the percentage of assessment on land to as high a rate as that on buildings.

The Township Board had "better be realistic," said Jim Ervine, who is one of several who suggested that Lake Pointe's feelings on valuation could be best expressed at the polls.

The trouble in the past, Breen pointed out, was that Lake Pointe residents had never voted in a bloc to see that the men they wanted were elected.

"It is no secret," he said, "that the Township Board wants to do as little about this as possible. And it will take a group like you people to get them to do anything."

Breen produced figures, compiled by Willis H. Hall, a member of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, which show that while land in Plymouth Township is assessed at 10.72 per cent of true cash value, buildings are taxed at 33.33 per cent.

In Canton Township and the City of Plymouth, however, land is assessed at 40 per cent. Of the 13 townships in Wayne County, only one, Taylor Township, assesses land at a lower rate than Plymouth Township. Taylor assesses land at 8 per cent. Eight of the 13 townships assess land at 40 per cent and the three others at 36.54, 28.04, and 11.20.

As a direct move to try to bring action, the homeowners passed, with enthusiastic hand waving, a resolution that the Township Board assess land and buildings at the same rate "in accordance with state law"

Breen said the resolution would be presented to the Board at its next meeting, Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Township Hall.

The low percentage of assessment on land in the township became an issue only with the recent tax boost for homeowners. Taxes for small property holders went up because industrial taxes went down with the so-called "Chrysler bill," an attempt by the legislature to keep industry in Michigan.

In addition, the tax juggle provided that all property be assessed at 50 per cent of its true value, a requirement which communities are just beginning to meet.

Land assessments are generally being looked at first, as in Plymouth Township, although few townships in Wayne County have as steep a difference between land and building valuations.

Authorized expenditure of not more than $1,000 for the proposed Beck Road recreation area.

Passed a resolution recognizing the Association of Plymouth Policemen and Firemen as the bargaining agent for the two units. The agreement covers all firemen up to the rank of Lieutenant.

Approved a new employees insurance program.

Extended the present temporary taxi permits to March 1, pending additional study.

A 1961 graduate of Plymouth High School, he received his commission through the Reserve Officers' Training Corps program at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, where he received his bachelor of science degree in 1966.

TO THE SUPERVISOR AND CLERK OF THE TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH, WAYNE COUNTY, MICHIGAN.

Sirs:

You are hereby notified that the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, did, at a meeting of said Board held on January 26, 1967, decide and determine that the certain streets described in the minutes of said Board should be County roads under the jurisdiction of the Board of County Road Commissioners. The minutes of said meeting fully describing said streets are hereby made a part of this notice, and are as follows:

Minutes of the regular meeting of the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, held at the Board's offices, 7th Floor, City-County Building, Detroit, Michigan, at 8:30 A.M. Eastern Standard Time, Thursday, January 26, 1967.

Present: Chairman Neudeck, Vice-Chairman Kreger and Commissioner Barbour.

Commissioner Kreger moved the adoption of the following resolution: BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, that it hereby accepts the dedication to the use of the public of the following described roads and they are hereby taken over as county roads and made a part of the county road system of the County of Wayne:

All of Apple Creek Drive and Hackberry, Manton, Postiff and Redbud Avenues as dedicated to the use of the public in Plymouth Estates Subdivision of part of the Southwest 1/4 of Section 35, T. 1 S., R. 8 E., Plymouth Township, Wayne County, Michigan, as recorded in Liber 89 of Plans on Pages 26 and 27, Wayne County Records, constituting a total of 0.746 mile of County Roads.

The motion was supported by Commissioner Barbour and carried by the following vote:

Ayes: Commissioners Neudeck, Kreger and Barbour.

Noys: None.

THIS NOTICE IS GIVEN UNDER AND BY VIRTUE OF ACT NO. 283 OF THE PUBLIC ACTS OF 1909, AS AMENDED.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand at Detroit, Michigan, this 3rd day of February, A.D. 1967.

demand for additional office space.

It is expected the matter will receive additional attention at next Tuesday's regular Board meeting.

In other actions at the special meeting, the Trustees: Approved an additional telephone line into the main portion of the Township Hall.

Received and placed on file an ordinance on public billiard and pool halls presented by Township Attorney Ralph Cole.

Authorized plans for an addition to the DPW building for storage. Trustee Louis Norman, who has been working on the project, presented a sketch of the proposed addition.

Accepted the resignation of Public Service Director William Burr and authorized Supervisor John McEwen to notify Fire Capt. Barney Maas of his elevation to executive officer on a temporary basis.

Tabled a request from Capt. Maas for permission to attend a Fire Department Instructors Conference in Memphis, Tenn. pending additional study. The matter will be on next week's agenda.

Authorized DPW Supt. Matt McLellan to dispose of 20 tons of cast iron pipe currently being stored in the DPW Building, to the highest junk yard bidder.

Heard Supervisor McEwen appoint Trustees Gene Overholt, Dick Lauterbach and Ralph Garber to a bargaining committee to negotiate a contract with the Firemen's Association.

the unprecedented demand for and high usage of telephone service.

"Our 1967 program, as last year's, is designed not only to meet the continuing demand for basic telephone service, but to give every Michigan Bell customer the type and quality of service he wants and expects from us," Day said.

Noting that much of the capital to finance the construction program must come from investors, Day said the magnitude of this year's expenditures reflects the company's confidence in the continued economic health of Michigan.

"We expect to continue to gain telephones this year at a very rapid rate," he said, "and our forecasts of this certainly are not based on a weakening of the state's economy."

Part of the huge demand placed on company facilities, he said, stems from the fact that more and more customers are requesting better grades of service (one-party versus two-party), and that customers in general are using their telephones more.

John Kamego, Michigan Bell manager in Plymouth, said the total expenditure for Plymouth would be allotted as follows:

Outside plant facilities, $112,000; telephone equipment in homes and offices, $314,000; central office equipment, $1.4 million. Additional money is earmarked for general equipment, such as furniture and vehicles, and for land and building.

Statewide, Michigan Bell will place more exchange cable in 1967 than it ever did in a single year — a record 11.4 billion conductor feet.

Michigan Bell will start eight new telephone buildings during the year along with 26 building additions.

Nine more communities will be tied into the Direct Distance Dialing network in 1967, bringing to 95 per cent the number of Michigan Bell customers able to dial their own long distance calls.

The program of central office modification to accommodate Touch-Tone telephone service will continue in 1967 in several outstate offices.

D. — Complete facility building including bath house, skate changing area, two (2) outdoor swimming pools, pavilion building, including ice skating rink 85' by 185', approximate cost, $20,000.

When it was explained that the first plan could be used as a starter, and the others added in the future, the Committee agreed to the study for ways and means to raise the $170,000.

The Plymouth Jaycees were the motivating force behind the purchase of the Church for a Youth Center, but the absence of suitable parking and the work needed to renovate the building brought about its rejection.

Wayne State University will host the First Motor City Invitational Intercollegiate Swimming Championships on March 17-18.

U-M Expert Urges Federal Action On Cigarettes

ANN ARBOR—It is time we stopped treating the cigarette industry as if it were some kind of villain and cigarette smokers as fools who have death wishes.

So says Ross J. Wilhelm, associate professor of business economics in the University of Michigan Graduate School of Business Administration, who points out that despite government-required warnings on each pack, cigarette sales set a record again last year.

This increase in consumption was in the face of an additional government report which purported to demonstrate that cigarette smoking causes a wide variety of diseases, he adds.

"It is time that the government stops wasting our money and personnel on ineffective measures designed to reduce smoking. We do not need any additional reports or additional warnings or so-called educational campaigns if the government is serious about wanting to reduce the number of deaths associated with smoking, he said.

"It is time that the government recognized the fact that it is going to be far easier to discover and remove the harmful ingredients from cigarettes than it is to persuade the American public to stop smoking.

"It is time for the government to devote some of the huge amounts of money going into research toward finding out what, if any, are the harmful ingredients in cigarettes and how to remove them economically—while still retaining the flavor of the cigarettes."

Furthermore, Wilhelm adds, "It is time we stopped treating the cigarette industry as if it were some kind of villain and cigarette smokers as fools who have death wishes. The public and especially the cigarette smokers have been informed of the probable consequences of smoking and it is obvious that further statistical studies and educational campaigns will fall on deaf ears.

"People are going to smoke and if the death rate is to be minimized it is time to change the cigarette and to forget about changing the smoker." Past educational efforts have had some effect, admits Wilhelm, an ex-smoker. Many individuals have switched from cigarettes to cigars and pipes. However, he points out, the trend appears to have come to an end and cigar sales were down the last two years from the 1964 peak.

The trend in switching to pipes in the wake of the surgeon general's report in 1964 has followed the same pattern and may have ended.

The most important adjustment cigarette smokers have made to the health scares has been to switch to filter cigarettes. Since the first health study on cigarettes in the 1950's, sales of filter cigarettes have risen from almost nothing to over 65 per cent of sales today.

Many people do stop smoking, Wilhelm says, particularly older people and better educated ones. But despite health scares many young people start smoking each year.

"The conclusion from our decade and more of experience is obvious," Wilhelm suggests. "The bulk of the people smoking today are going to continue to smoke regardless of future health scares.

"It is time we stopped bugging the public and the cigarette companies and started to put money into research where it holds some promise of doing good."

Vivian Participates In Research Panel

Dr. Weston E. Vivian, Vice President of Conductron Corporation, Ann Arbor, participated in a panel on "The Regional Relevance of Research," in Washington at the invitation of the National Academies of Science and Engineering.

Until last month, Dr. Vivian had been U.S. Representative in Congress in Washington for this District of Michigan.

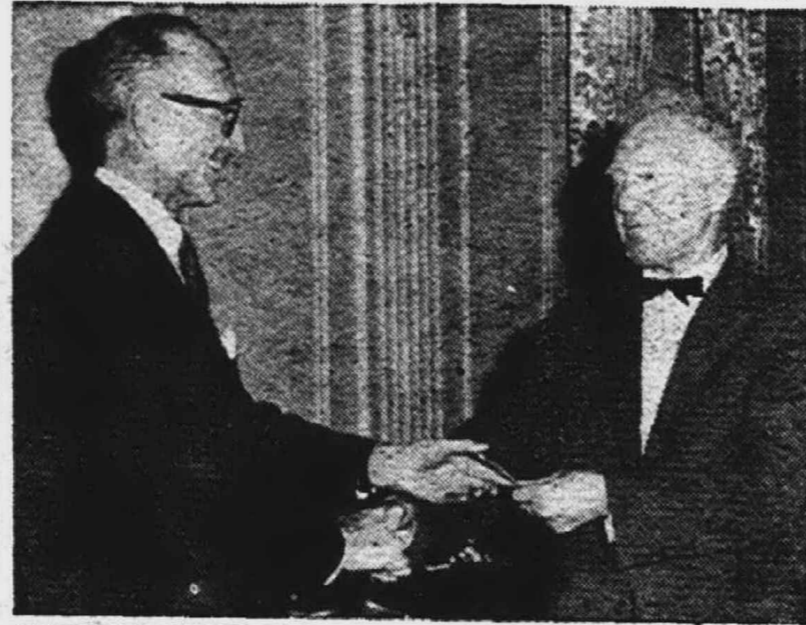

As a member of the Science and Astronautics Committee of Congress he had been particularly concerned during the past two years with the excessive concentration by the U.S. Government on research and development on the East and West Coasts to the detriment of the Mid-West.

The study is at the request of the Economic Development Administration of the Department of Commerce to determine the impact of science and engineering on regional development and the effects of Federal scientific and technical policies on regional economic development.

Questions on the agenda are: To what extent do Federal science and engineering policies reflect "regional" science needs as distinct from "national" needs? What Federal science programs would most effectively provide solutions to regional problems? To what extent can the needs of all states and/or regions be met within the present Federal research and development? What characteristics determine regional needs in science and engineering? What functions related to science and engineering are most important for meeting regional goals?

The Feb. 3 meeting was the first of a series of panels to be held by the National Academies, other meetings to be held in the Spring.

Detroit Edison is engaged in a $10 million program to improve smoke reduction facilities at its older plants. All the newest plants, and those now under construction, reach very high standards in this respect.

HAPPY RETIREMENT is the wish for John J. Manpower, Inc. On the Move

Manpower Inc. announced today the opening of its 100th foreign office. Located in Istanbul, Turkey, this newest office is the 500th to be opened by the internal temporary held and business service firm since its founding in 1948.

Patricia McCarthy, Mgr. of the firm's Northwest office indicated that "there is a critical shortage of skilled office and technical personnel in the Middle East, just as exists in this country, which creates an excellent market for our temporary help services."

The Istanbul office represents the halfway mark to the firm's objective of 1,000 offices by 1975 in the U.S. and 300 throughout the remainder of the world, during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1966.

Manpower averaged six new offices per month. For the past six months, the firm has opened an average of nine new offices each month. Capitalizing on its international character, Manpower recently launched a system it calls "Push Button Global Business Service," whereby a businessman can call a local Manpower office in his city and arrange for a temporary employee in almost any non-Communist country.

Manpower opened its 100th office in Washington, D.C. in 1956, the 200th in Tulsa, Oklahoma in 1960, number 300 in Santiago, Chile in 1963, and the 350th in Hong Kong in 1965.

Historical Society Will Hear of Fire

The 1893 fire in the Main Street business section of Plymouth will be described by Frank Henderson to members of the Plymouth Historical Society Thursday at 7:30 p.m., in the Plymouth Credit Union building, on S. Harvey.

Henderson will present a program taken from the front page of the Plymouth Mail on the date of the disastrous fire.

Members viewed films of the Main Street of 1910 in a presentation of pictures taken by Romeo White. Sid Strong, with the co-operation of Consumers Power, had the films processed for the program and for a record at the Museum.

Many of these present identified Brown's Merchant Delivery Service wagon owned and operated by Harry Brown; the late Rod Cassidy, manager of the bank, on the corner of Starkweather and Liberty Streets; Carl Hilmmer's laundry; Schrader's funeral home and the first motorized hearse; and the local fire department.

The Historical Society meetings are open to the public. All interested are urged to attend.

The Historical Museum, 157 Main, is open every Saturday and Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m.

Railroad Overpass for City, Aim of Chamber Committee

An age-old Livonia transportation problem is heading for a solution this year, a way to eliminate the bottleneck of the railroad crossing in the city. At least the newly elected chairmen of the Commerce Transportation Committee for the Livonia Chamber of Commerce plan to give it a go.

John Gilchrist, manager of the Wolverine Storage Company, chairman, and Clifford DeVelder, traffic manager of Hydromation Engineering Company, elected vice-chairman, are heading a joint committee for the railroad overpass. Dr. Robert Hornbeck who heads the Chamber's improvement division will join in the effort.

Clifford DeVelder stated that members of the Transportation Committee and the Capital Improvements division are planning immediately to develop a program which will lead to at least one railroad overpass at one of Livonia's railroad crossings. The joint committee will be composed of representatives of all segments of the city government, taxpayers, school system transportation officials, safety officials, professional people, among them.

An effort is currently underway to arrange for discussions with our U.S. Senators and Congressmen on the possibility of a congressional bill which will lead to Federal financing of such a project which can run to $1 1/2 million in cost. There is a bill that makes Federal financing possible.

John Gilchrist and Dr. Hornbeck, chairmen of the two Chamber groups stated their intent to make this effort one of the chief projects during this year. Mr. Gilchrist stated, "We are uncertain as to how soon we can get an underpass, but we strongly feel that effort must be initiated now if we are to get this much-needed facility."

Guest speaker will be Livonia City Councilman R. Nash, who will speak on "The Role of Civic Associations in City Government and the Role of City Government in Civic Associations." After Councilman Nash's speech, there will be a short business meeting for the association members.

Stevenson Wins Debating Trophy

"Excellence in Debating," a trophy annually awarded to debate teams which can win 75% of their varsity debates was won by Stevenson, Livonia's newest high school. This award climaxed Stevenson's first varsity season and a 12-4 record in league competition.

This year the topic for debate was "should the U.S. limit its foreign aid program to non-military assistance." In debate, there are two sides which pair off and "debate" whether or not to accept the proposition which is advocated by affirmative while the negative side will advocate no change and defend the "status quo" (what exists).

Stevenson's varsity affirmative, which must defend the tougher of the two sides managed to win six out of eight debates with a team of Jim Chisholm and Stan Bock, juniors. The negative team of sophomore Hetty Waskin and junior Doug Dillon also won six out of eight.

In the West Oakland League, Stevenson beat well established teams such as Pontiac Northern, Walled Lake, and Waterford to finish second behind Southfield with a 5-3 record.

Although out of the spotlight the junior varsity finished second with a 5-3 record. Ninth graders Al Helmkamp and Paul Oppenheimer and 10th graders Dianne Richey and Sue Union, 11th graders Patty Lloyd and Paul Sielaff, made up the JV's team.

George Croll, a Speech and U.S. History teacher, is debate coach.

Livonia Poet To Teach Class - In Poetry

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hall, 33341 Kentucky, Livonia, are the proud parents of an all-too-rare phenomenon—a professional poet. Young Walter Hall has chosen this sometimes rocky road, and he is one of the few who manage to publish poems, win prizes and give lectures with sufficient regularity to earn a fair living.

Among the young Hall's current activities is a poetry writing workshop to be conducted for 12 weeks on Wednesday mornings at the University of Michigan in Dearborn. The workshop will begin Feb. 15 at 10 a.m. Each session will run about two hours.

The Teachers Speak:

By KENNETH B. McCLAIN, President

Livonia Education Ass'n
Each year, the central staff has prepared a budget for your schools. It has almost always had to "hold the line" in many areas, and many "quality" proposals to the budget have been cut before the budget was approved in its final form by the Board of Education.

The Budget Committee (which this year has LEA representation) has been meeting for the last month trying to gaze into the crystal ball and anticipate the needs of a growing Livonia for the next school year.

We are continually searching for new ways to improve the quality of education in Livonia. Department directors have spent many hours preparing budget requests which would reflect, if approved, a significant improvement in instruction.

The LEA and the central staff concur that a significant improvement is desired in the amount of funds requested for:

- A. Realistic Reductions of Class Size;
- B. Realistic Salary Schedules and Improved Benefits;
- C. Materials for Instruction;
- D. Buildings and Maintenance.

Unfortunately, if the past practices of budget cutting are repeated, in all probability, many of these recommendations will not be able to be implemented with the amount of funds currently available.

Related to the improvements recommended are the many staffing problems that Livonia faces and, while recognizing that we have many problems, I see the largest one as it relates to staffing. Dr. Whisler, Director of Personnel, in his recent "Professional Personnel Study," points out a few items that concern us all as educators.

In recent years, a greater percentage of our staff has chosen not to return to Livonia the next year. This is a reversal of a trend which was evident a few years ago. Figures are as follows:

In 1962-63, 16.2 per cent left; in 1963-65, 13.6 per cent left; and in 1964-65, 11.9 per cent left. A smaller percentage left in these years, indicating that we are able to keep the kind of people we were willing to hire. In 1965-66, the figure jumps to 15.3 per cent of the staff leaving, and 1966-67 figures are given at 19.1 per cent, which indicates to me that "We Got Trouble Right Here in River City."

I submit to you that this is further evidence that the economic pressures placed on our staff are greater than ever. The pressures of inflationary times and rising salaries elsewhere make it more important than ever that the single most important factor in budget making in Livonia must be the teachers' salary schedule.

Adjustments must be made soon which will help to reverse this erosion of our staff. Any other position to the LEA being a willing party to a reduction in Quality Education in Livonia. The ramifications of present trends continuing can only be speculated on but, certainly, the losers can be identified.

Now is the time to reverse the trend of deterioration in our city's school system. You, as parents and citizens, can contribute significantly to this cause by lending your full support to the Board of Education so that our educational program may be maintained and improved for the boys and girls of Livonia.

'You Don't Have Any Snow' Friend Claims

Farmington Township's Heating Inspector Ray Melvin had a letter from the "north country" of Ironwood, Mich. recently asking what the idea of closing everything down in the Farmington area just because of the snow. "Our snow fall so far this year is only 93.9 inches," the letter chided.

The friend, William Rands, also included a command for Chuck Welch and Doug Muierhead of the Oakland County Road Commission to "get to work."

He also noted that it took four days to clear the snow off of the cabins (including Melvin's) in the area. Rands said that there was four feet of snow on the cabins.

A City and A Newspaper 27 Years of Growing

Libraries Come From People

A book is a fantastic item. The invention of the printing press and the subsequent advent of general literacy has probably made a more profound impact on society than any other one thing.

Libraries, a gathering place for books, are thus an important element of any community.

The fact that the northern portion of Farmington Township has no easily convenient library facility is a drawback to the entire Farmington community.

The lack exists not because the Farmington District Library Board has not tried. The fact that the northern portion of the Township does not have a library is due to the refusal of residents of the Township to approve the millage necessary to build and maintain the structure.

Taxes are horrid things and the present property tax rate paid in the suburban areas is almost unbelievable. However, proponents of the move toward library expansion estimate that a two-mill levy will cost about $8 a year.

One person has termed it as two bottles of liquor. Actually if you visit a state liquor store, you will find that two bottles of the high grade alcoholic beverage will cost more than $8.

Under the terms of the District Library, the City of Farmington and Farmington Township pay the same portion on a per capita rate. In the City, the Library allocation is levied along with the general city taxes. In the Township the additional millage must be approved by the voters.

The Farmington Township Board met in a closed-door session Monday night with the Township representatives on the Library Board to discuss the question.

We believe that the matter should go on the ballot. The District Library currently owns a piece of property on 12 Mile Rd. and will build a facility there as soon as the funds are available.

The cost of living and the cost of building certainly don't seem to be going down.

Therefore, the library should be built now. In fact it probably should have been built two or three years ago.

To mix the library question in with talk about creating an identity of the Township and to toy with the idea of forming a separate system for Farmington Township is shortsighted.

There is enough duplication of effort in the Farmington community now. Residents in both the City and the Township pay higher taxes than absolutely necessary because each government clings zealously to its own individual sovereignty.

To add the cost of maintaining two separate libraries to this is foolish. For this reason we hope that the Farmington Township administration will place the question on the ballot and let the people decide.

When that happens we hope that the people of Farmington Township will be able to realize the need for additional library service, which will strengthen not only Farmington Township, but the entire Farmington community including City, Township and the two Villages.

The Worker

A woman teacher in South Redford declared her belief in hard work last week at a school board meeting attended by a number of her associates.

"Our day is not a punch-clock situation," said Bernadette Shaw. "You have to give a lot."

She is so right—not only in the field of teaching but just about any other field you care to mention.

Money in the pocket is not the only reward a person gets. There is a lot of satisfaction in knowing a job has been done well.

SENSE and NONSENSE

EDITOR'S NOTE: Newspapersmen talk to a lot of people during their working day. Some of them make sense; others don't. Some people make sense at one time, and then contradict themselves later on. Some government bodies give the facts to the public; others try to cover up.

Newspapermen know when people are talking sense and when they aren't. In fact, a chief topic of conversation in any newsroom is figuring out if people are making sense.

In our special editorial feature, Sense and Nonsense, we plan to bring you behind the news, to help you sort out who is making sense and who isn't.

Newspapers have their favorites, particularly when it comes to politicians. Governor Romney is one favorite; so was President Kennedy. For them, favorable treatment in the press has been the rule rather than the exception.

This practice may be justifiable, but it all depends on how it's done. And sometimes the system goes just too far.

Last week, Governor Romney proposed a record budget for the State of Michigan, calling for $1.15 billion in spending. This is by far the biggest budget ever for Michigan.

But how did the major Michigan morning daily newspaper headline the story? Try to guess.

"Romney Calls for Austerity in Billion-Plus Budget." How did the first part of the story read?

"Gov. Romney will unveil Thursday a hold-the-line state budget of $1.153 billion for 1967-68 and call for a state income tax of 2 1/2 per cent to balance it. Austerity will be the keynote."

You bet. Austerity sure will be the keynote. ... as it always seems to be in a record budget. Particularly when the author of the budget happens to be a favorite of the newspapers.

Playing favorites may be OK, but not when it simply ignores the facts.

Notes on the coming political wars ...

Somebody named John David Lodge certainly likes Richard M. Nixon for the Republican Presidential nomination in 1968.

This newspaper received the other day a very large, nicely printed brochure on the charms and assets of the former Vice-president. The piece seemed to be a reprint from the St. Louis Globe Democrat, and it suggested that Nixon was the greatest thing to hit America since sliced bread.

This newspaper is a weekly. There are over 300 weekly newspapers in Michigan, and God only knows how many in the United States.

The piece on Nixon cost an awful lot to reprint, plus another five cents to mail out.

Mr. John Davis Lodge, who included a nice note with the reprint calling attention to the fact that newspapermen were "opinion molders," must like Nixon one whole of a lot. He even sends his stuff into Romney country.

Two weeks ago Plymouth Township Supervisor John McEwen told of plans for re-evaluation and reassessment of the real estate in his district.

"We have much vacant land that has a low assessment," said McEwen, "We'll probably place the evaluation at about 25 per cent of the true value. That will probably double the taxes in most cases."

That's fine, John, but the Michigan statutes provide that the land must be assessed at 50 per cent of the true value. So what happens now? Does the Township follow the statutes or will McEwen, who is the Township assessor, follow his own rules?

Letters To Editor:

Fix Unhealthy Drainage Ditches

Editor: Knowing that this letter will be ignored as have the others that have been written to the Council and the Mayor's office I cannot rest until this one to your paper is in the mail box.

I have lived in this neighborhood for nine years and in that time have attended council meetings, sent in letters from my doctor (as have 10 other mothers from this street); spent money on illness including hepatitis all to no avail. What can a person do to get a green, slimy, unsanitary drainage ditch covered? It is on record at the city hall that they had to come out and exterminate rats that were growing to nice specimens from making their homes in said ditch banks.

All of the new subdivisions have their drains taken care of, do they pay more taxes than we do or do they have pull at City Hall?

Livonia can afford a new golf course. Nice, every city needs one, but I don't play golf. I just sit in my backyard during the summer enjoying the sweet smell of a drainage ditch.

Open Letter to

Kay Swanson:

Dear Neighbor:

It is easier not to become involved but this time I have to. I am not the clever writer but would like to say a few words in answer to your letter to our Livonia neighbors.

I, too, attended the movie you did, we exchanged happiness at seeing each other again. I don't understand how two such varied and opposite interpretations could have been made. I am not a member of the John Birch Society and never will be, the main reason being they work hard and put long hours in at their work and any spare time I have aside from my work and family I desire to put into my church work of spreading the good news of the Gospel, which is mankind's only real peace. John 16:23.

Yes, close-up photographs of partially decapitated human beings, etc. were shown but nothing that hadn't already been seen on a newsreel or in our leading magazines.

The threat to come you speak of if the Civil Rights movement continues was not a threat. It has already happened—the loss of life, the partially decapitated human beings, maimed women and children, burned and charred victims. It did not say that anyone who actively tries to practice freedom for all men in this movement is either a dedicated Communist or an unknowing dupe of a Communist conspiracy to overthrow the United States.

Those implicated as Commies were (Rev.) Martin Luther King, Jr., Ambassador Goldberg, and Pete Seeger. However not because Pete Seeger wrote "We Shall Overcome." The others you list such as Ike Eisenhower, Earl Warren, John F. Kennedy, Bobby Kennedy, Walter Reuther, Soapy Williams, and Lyndon Johnson were not implicated as Commies and I want our readers to know it.

I did not hear Regional director, Stuart Crane, refer to a Roman Catholic Sister as a "penguin."

Yes I did hear a man refer to a high school student as a punk. It was impolite of him and entirely out of order but how can you say the man was a Bircher? The Birchers seemed to be wearing name-tags and this gentleman(?) was in the audience as we were. You couldn't tell whether he was a Bircher or not.

I saw no trick photography. We had already seen almost all of it previously on our news and T.V. screens.

I certainly did not feel hate was being fought with hate. I would urge every American to see these films.

Kay, why did you let the eagle in the second time and return to see a second film? Only for criticism I'm sure. With Christian Love and neighborly concern.

A Good Five Cent Cigar

Editor:

A long forgotten cliché is "What this country needs is a good five cent cigar," and with justified reasoning. Today, a good five cent cigar is as non-existent as a tax-free paycheck.

With the breed of "Space Age Politicos" pursuing an out of this world tax program, a new phrase has been born — "What this country needs is bigger and better taxes" and we, the taxpayers are getting them as exemplified by the following.

1. President Johnson's proposed increase in the federal income tax. (Tax on tax).
2. Congressional hike in the employment tax (Social Security, Medicare).
3. Governor Romney's inevitable State Income tax (labeled as fiscal reform).
4. Wayne County's generous plan (County Home Rule) of distributing the suburbs tax money for Detroit's welfare program.

5. Livonia City Council's civic-minded desire for a "City Income Tax" or any other kind of tax.

6. Livonia School Board's constant demanding of tax increases.

The Space Age liberal "politicos" have promised everything from "Pie in the Sky" to "Care from cradle to grave." All they have produced is a decadent socialistic welfare state with its failures and HIGHER TAXES.

The good qualities of our traditional American heritage must be conserved. Government should nurture and encourage self-reliance, personal initiative, and responsible citizenship instead of destroying it.

All of this leads me to believe "What this country needs is Conservative Statesmen, not liberal tax spenders."

Snow Removal Law

Editor:

Since the recent heavy snow falls it is a disgrace to see how many people have made no attempt whatsoever to clear their side walks. Some have shoveled their drive-ways to get their cars out but can't or won't shovel their side walks. Are they just plain lazy or don't they care that their family, neighbors, school children, milkmen, mailman, etc. can't walk down their side walks. If someone should fall and become injured they would be in for a law suit.

What's needed in the Township and City of Farmington is an ordinance such as Detroit has. Snow must be removed after 24 hours or service such as mail delivery is stopped.

Let's show a little consideration to all who use our sidewalks. Get out and clear the sidewalks, then keep them clear so people can walk with safety.

OBSERVING the Scene ...

By MYRA CHANDLER

The new word is "regional."

It used to be metropolitan—and then suburban—but now the theme is "think regional."

The entire 16th Annual Planning Conference held last week at the Veterans Memorial Building was keyed to regional thinking.

Resource people represented those working on plans for the entire package of Southeastern Michigan that is Observerland.

They included men like Colonel Edward C. Bruce who thinks Regional Water—and told of study going on right now to formulate a plan for the best use of the water and related resources of this area to create as much economic activity as possible. They are also concerned with creating streams and recreational facilities for the health and welfare of the citizens of southeastern Michigan.

If any money is going to come from Congress to clean up our waterways, widen and deepen them it must come as a result of this study. The area is bounded on the north by the Saginaw River basin and small tributaries to Lake Huron, on the west by the Grand River basin, on the south by the Maumee River basin and the Ohio State line, and on the east by Lake Huron, St. Clair and Erie and their connecting waterways. It contains 750 lakes, 46 of which are larger than 200 acres.

Another regional planner was Kent Mathewson, President of the Metropolitan Fund, Inc. His involvement is education of citizens with an eye to implementing programs after the study has been completed.

One of the most astute and certainly able speakers of the afternoon was Irving J. Rubin, Director of Regional Transportation Commission.

We were allowed only one small peek at the computer mind of this man and how it is presently being applied to charts, graphs and field studies of you and me.

He knows, i.e. where we live, how much we earn, how many cars we have, how long we have gone to school, where we shop—and why, and when and why we move.

After his study is completed the recommendations he will have will not only improve your life—but should improve the life of your family. For if you are the breadwinner in your home—this man, Irving J. Rubin, is working daily to plot ways to make it easier for you to get where you want to go with much less effort.

Winding up the activities of the afternoon was Mel Ravitz—Detroit City Councilman who brought the entire day into focus with a plan—The Council of Governments—or the Committee of 100. There it is again.

Representatives from the entire REGION having a plan and implementing it through common need and purpose.

The luncheon speaker pointed out the problem—and the wind-up speaker Ravitz presented the solution to the problem—approval of local school districts and governments to join the "Committee of 100."

Harold F. Wise, Planning Consultant to Metropolitan Washington Council of Governments and to State Resources Planning Division of Michigan Department of Commerce from Washington, D.C. was the luncheon speaker.

He has a long title—but he didn't mince words and he hit the Councilmen, Mayors, Supervisors and Trustees on the head with the proverbial hammer.

"Communities can be festooned with glorious plans," were the Wise words, "but the responsibility for implementing them rests with politicians who are statesmen."

Like we always say it takes "four to make a city"—votes that is and Councilmen taking the positive attitude. Under new Washington Legislation there are Federal grants available by Congress. Any application for Federal loans as of June 30, 1967 on grants for open space, libraries, sewer, water, highways must be submitted to a regional planning group first as an area evaluation. It seems as though Uncle Sam is in favor of the word "Regional" too.

Mel Ravitz put it rather well when he said "over 400 governmental groups believe the axis of the universe runs through its city hall and maybe it does—but for the good of everyone we must talk to each other."

If the Committee of 100 does nothing more than improve communications—it will be worth its existence.

An Answer To A Tragedy

Editor:

After reading about the freak accident of little Arleen O'Donnell who died in the bathtub, I feel obliged to offer my theory. On two occasions I have been thoroughly frightened when my child after "swimming" to the end of the tub, raised her head abruptly and encountered the spout. Thank God I was there because on each occasion the child was stunned and could easily have drowned when falling face down into the water. Each occasion resulted in a bruise on the head. I feel very strongly that this is one area where home safety can be improved by a differently designed water spout, a retractable one perhaps?

My deepest sympathy to her parents.

The average American male has increased the size of his waistline by three inches in the last ten years. He eats more because he is still hungry, consequently he gains weight. He does not assimilate his protein because he consumes too many carbohydrates. A high carbohydrate diet will eventually help you to get in trouble with low blood sugar levels by stimulating the pancreas into an overflow of insulin in the bloodstream. Low blood sugar levels may in turn help develop a craving for sweets, goodies and alcohol.

The Tale of a Young Fellow's Travels Along Sports Trail

By W. W. EDGAR

ON A COLD, dreary, rainy afternoon forty three years ago a young fellow who never had been away from home a night in his life, arrived at the Michigan Central Station in Detroit.

He was filled with hope and adventure as he climbed in a taxi and asked to be taken to the Down Town YMCA—a place he hoped would be his "home" for a time.

Earlier that morning he had tramped through a heavy snow in Buffalo and the morning papers carried large headlines informing the world that former President Woodrow Wilson had died.

As he walked through the snow he couldn't help wondering what was in store for him upon his arrival in Detroit to take over a new position.

Could he make good? Was he equipped to meet the competition of the big time?

These and many other questions ran through his mind. But now he was in Detroit and it wasn't long until he wended his way toward the Detroit Free Press which was then in what is now known as the Transportation Building.

ON THE WAY, in the dreariness of the afternoon, six persons spoke to him, in passing, and he whispered to himself, "Gosh, it's a friendly place, anyway."

At the appointed time he arrived at the Free Press and standing there, just as he had promised he would, was the late Edgar A. Guest, the famed Free Press poet.

After greeting the young lad, he accompanied him to the ninth floor, introduced him to the sports editor and the other writers on the sports staff, wished him luck and then departed.

That was 43 years ago last Friday afternoon—February 3, 1924—and a lot of bridges have been built over the water since then.

With Edgar A. Guest's "Good Luck" always ringing in his ears, the young fellow embarked on a career that has been most colorful.

Through the years he has walked with Kings and Queens of the sports world, as well as its many, shady characters.

Along the way he met such outstanding personalities as the late Fielding Yost, at the University of Michigan; the late Knute Rockne, of Notre Dame, and Gus Dorais, of the University of Detroit.

HE WAS ON HAND in Algonac on that morning in 1933 when Gar Wood established a new world speedboat record of 124.85 miles an hour in his famed boat, "Miss America X." In fact he rode in the boat with Gar and his mechanic, Orin Johnson.

He went on to have a ride with Wilbur Shaw at record speed on the historic brick oval prior to the 500-mile auto race . . . and was a regular attendant in the press box for that big event for years.

He traveled with the Detroit Tigers during the pennant winning days of Mickey Cochrane—was an intimate of the late Frank Navin, owner of the Tigers, and had the distinction of helping to give Joe Louis his start along the path to the heavyweight championship.

Fortunate in the extreme, he traveled the sports trail in the golden era with such Kings as Bobby Jones, Walter Hagen, Byron Nelson and the golf greats—was an intimate of Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Harry Heilmann and the top names in baseball along with Jack Dempsey. And he knew "bums" like "One-Eyed" Connelly, the country's No. 1 gate crasher.

Color and adventure just seemed to grip him every step of the way from that dreary afternoon in 1924 when he arrived at the Michigan Central Station.

How do I happen to know so much about him and his adventures?

Well, you see, that young fellow was me.

Teenagers are strange souls.

They are a mystery to just about anyone past the age of 20. They also surprise the "older" generation at times.

During last week's snowstorm a group of teenagers in the Kendallwood Subdivision of Farmington Township pooled their efforts and spent the day helping people dig their cars out from under the batch of white stuff.

They took no pay for the action, but merely stated that they were doing it because they had no school and it was fun.

On the other side of the coin is the enterprising youth who earned quite a bit of spending money digging out stranded autos in Livonia. The young man's father is the manager of an apartment building and the youth had a ready-made market with all the stranded residents of the building.

Teenagers wear long hair and short skirts and people cry what is the world coming to.

Way back when crew-cuts were the latest thing I can remember boys being sent home from school for having such short hair. In addition to this the girls skirts were down to their ankles—in fact the longer the skirt the higher the fashion.

People lamented about the younger generation then.

Today's teenager will turn out in full force for a dance to benefit the local Goodfellows. They will spend all day Saturday working in yards or washing cars to raise money for school projects or to help finance an AFS student. They will stand in the cold to sell Christmas trees to raise funds for a pet project.

Yesterday's teenager was involved in many of the same kind of projects.

Today's teenager drives parents crazy with recordings by the Monkees. Remember Johnny Ray or Frank Sinatra and how the teenagers swooned and parents wrung their hands?

There is a song from the musical, "Flower Drum Song," entitled "The Younger Generation" which asks "Oh what is the younger generation coming to?" The answer to the question is that the younger generation is the same as every one before it.

Retirement A Guidepost To Type of Investment

(The answers are the opinion of Laurence A. Wysong, a stockbroker for Paine, Webber, Jackson and Curtis, who is considered highly qualified on the subject. Mr. Wysong welcomes all inquiries on investing. Send your responses to Investing Inquiries, 33050 Five Mile Road, Livonia, Michigan.)

Q—I have $60,000 in the bank and I am 56 years of age. I will have a larger sum shortly. I feel I should buy stocks for income. Am I too young for that or should I buy growth stocks? Or should I buy preferreds for a 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 per cent yield. Or Treasury bonds? How much should be left in the bank?

A—Age is a criteria, of course, in formulating an investment program. Whether to invest in growth or income depends upon nearness of retirement.

A person who is 54 and wants to retire at 55, should buy income stocks. Another investor who is 63 and has no intention of retiring should, properly, continue to invest for growth (if, of course, he has a comfortable living without having to rely on his investments).

At 56 then, the decision to buy growth or income stocks

Development Firm Names New Officer

The Leho Corporation, which owns industrial parks in Westland and Garden City, has a new executive vice president in Fred C. Jans, Jr., of Dearborn Heights.

The appointment was announced by H. Fred Campbell, president of the firm which is the licensed real estate operating affiliate of the H. F. Campbell Co. international builders who specialized in industrial parks.

In Westland, the firm has a 105 acre park at Palmer and Newburgh Roads. A park of identical size is located on Venoy Road, one block north of Ford Road in Garden City.

Other industrial subdivisions owned by the firm are in Monroe, Chesterfield Township, Madison Heights, and Taylor Township.

Jans had been an attorney for the Campbell company and was assistant to its president during the past year. Before that, he was in private law practice in Dearborn.

The new executive vice president graduated the University of Maryland and received his law degree from George Washington University. He is a member of the Michigan, Detroit, and District of Columbia bar associations and is vice chairman of the Dearborn Heights Industrial Development Commission.

He and his wife, Jean, and their two children live at 501 Kinloch, Dearborn Heights.

'Reckless Driver' Is Free Because of 2-Year Delay

Because he did not receive a speedy trial, Richard J. Johns, 45, of 22455 Walsingham Drive, Farmington, obtained dismissal last week of reckless driving charges, stemming from his arrest March 6, 1965.

Livonia Municipal Judge James McCann granted a motion to dismiss the charges, presented in writing by John's attorney, John M. Dillon who is Redford Township justice of the peace.

Dillon noted that the defendant had received notice on Jan. 26, 1967 that his trial had been ordered—almost 23 months after the arrest.

"The defendant's contention is that under the Constitution, he is entitled to have a speedy trial," Dillon said.

He added that Michigan requires that a trial, for a defendant who pleads innocent, must take place within ten days, unless illness prevents or witnesses are absent from the county.

Neither of these conditions existed in this case, Dillon declared.

At the time of the arrest, Robert Lorion was municipal judge.

Court Clerk Betty Talbot declined comment when asked why the trial had not been scheduled before.

Another neighboring jurist, Plymouth Municipal Judge Edward Draugelis, was in court last week to represent Lee M. Phelps, 48, of 36513 Amrhein St., Livonia, charged with drunk driving.

Phelps pleaded guilty to an added count of reckless driving and was fined $100.

The late Paul M. Chandler, state senator-elect, had voiced strong objections to having elected jurists represent clients in neighboring courts and had planned to introduce legislation curbing the practice.

This aspiration ended with his untimely death in 1964.

Association For Retarded To Hear Talk

A new concept in residential care for retarded children will be described Tuesday night in Redford Township by Mrs. Torrance Etheridge, member of the board of the National Association for Retarded Children.

She will speak at 8 p.m. at Lola Valley Junior High School, detailing the work she is doing on a comprehensive study of the service needed for retarded children and their families.

The meeting is sponsored by the Redford Association for Retarded Children which has announced it will form a combined association with Livonia, Garden City, Plymouth and Northville to provide a more effective organization.

Mrs. Wilfred Austin of Redford Township, publicity chairman, said the meeting is open to the public.

Local Sailors With 7th Fleet

Four Livonia sailors are currently patrolling the Western Pacific with the United States' Seventh Fleet, aboard the attack aircraft carrier U.S.S. Kitty Hawk, with home port in San Diego.

They are: Ronald P. Beck, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Beck of 9317 Virginia; Firemen Apprentices Ronald R. Conkright, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin T. Conkright of 20316 Gillman; and Paul R. Franklin Hopes Alive

A basketball championship for Franklin High?

It's still a strong possibility for the Livonians who charged along in Northwest Suburban league play last Friday by trouncing North Farmington, 88-64, and then came back the next evening to best Plymouth, 47-44, in a non-league duel.

Franklin, now 5-1 in the league, still remains a game behind powerful Birmingham Groves which shows no signs of tumbling.

"We're finally playing all around basketball," declared coach John Hartsig after Franklin's happy weekend. He was particularly gratified with the shooting his charges turned in against North Farmington when Franklin stroked a merry 48 per cent in the first half and cooled down to just 44 per cent in the second half.

Page ★ 2B Wednesday, February 8, 1967

North Farmington seized a 15-14 lead after the first period, but Franklin began to click in the second stanza, outscoring North Farmington, 26-16.

The teams played the third period on even terms—18 points each—after which Franklin outalled North Farmington, 30-15, to turn matters into a rout.

A pressing zone defense helped Franklin to force North Farmington into several errors and easy baskets. Earl Neely with 22 points and Ron Wicks with 21 led the winners while Ron Flutur had 20 in a losing cause.

The Plymouth-Franklin game was a thriller right down to the final wire. It was Franklin 13-12 after the first period, 25-21 at halftime and 33-32 going into the last period.

Plymouth bounced back to get even with 1:50 left in the proceedings. Franklin put on a full court press and it paid off in two baskets by Wicks and a free throw by Neely to put the game out of reach.

Wicks had gone scoreless until he caged the two baskets in the closing stages. Tom Reich fired in 21 points on ten baskets and a charity for the winner while Mike Stakias topped the Plymouth cause with 15.

Plymouth had faced Franklin after winning a thriller from Belleville, 63-59, in Suburban Six League action.

The Rocks bounced back from a 20-17 deficit after one quarter to lead, 42-40, at halftime as Stakias, Nate Luibrand and Greg Corrigan combined to give Plymouth a 28-point second period as Belleville was held to 18.

The two teams slowed down in the third period to the point each made only eight points, but Plymouth had more than enough left to win in the final period.

Stakias and Luibrand each pumped in 14 points. Mike Kubik was right behind with 13.

One-Man Show Makes for Joy At R. Union

When time rolls around three weeks hence to pick the All Suburban Six League, All-Area and All Suburban teams, it's going to be almost impossible to pass over the name of Leland Bjerke of Redford Union.

No high school coach likes to single out one individual over another after his team has sprung an upset as Redford Union did last Friday in beating Trenton, 70-62.

Coaches much prefer feeling victories "are team affairs."

But Dave Mattingly of Redford Union could talk only in the most glowing terms about senior Bjerke who came about as close as a player can in turning in "a one man show."

Pistons to Hold "T-Shirt" Day Sunday, Feb. 19

"T-Shirt Giveaway Day" for the Detroit Pistons' fans has been re-scheduled for Sunday afternoon, Feb. 19 when the Pistons host the Baltimore Bullets at Cobo Arena at 2 o'clock.

The T-shirts originally were to be given to youngsters, 16 and under, at the Jan. 28 game with Chicago which was postponed when the Bulls were snowed in at home.

Fans, who have purchased tickets for Jan. 28, may turn them in for the Feb. 19 contest so that their boys and girls may receive a T-shirt.

Each youngster must attend the game with a full-priced reserved seat in order to get a T-shirt.

The Jan. 28 game itself has been rebooked for Wednesday evening, March 15, at Cobo Arena.

Trenton held a 31-25 lead at halftime and also had its hopes alive for the league crown.

Then Bjerke took over. Leland Bjerke, that is. A brother, Dale, helped too.

As RU outscored Trenton, 25-16, in the third period, Leland dumped in 11 points and Dale eight.

Then in the final period, when RU put the game out of reach, Leland counted 14 of the winners' 20 points while Trenton made only eight in the closing eight minutes of operation.

Bjerke—Leland, that is—had entered the game with a 29-point average. Now he's up to around 31.

But, in fairness to the RU performance which netted the team its second league win in six starts, there were some other fine efforts, too.

Ron Kimble, who had 14 points and Dale Bjerke, who finished with 10.

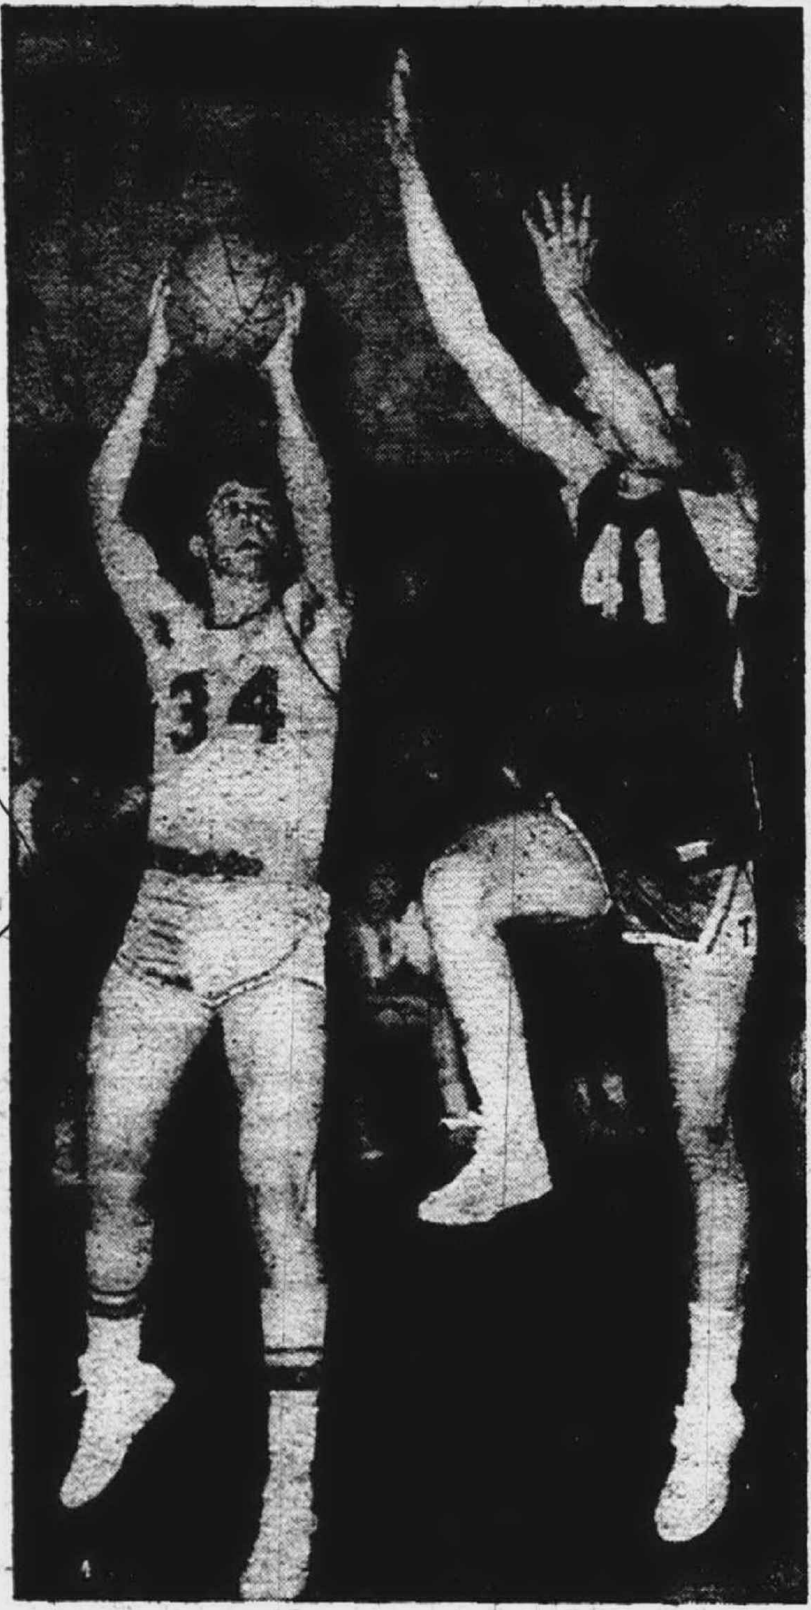

Bill Fahey showed only eight points and Dennis Fifield four, but their defensive work on Trenton aces Eldridge and Lutz made quite a difference.

For example, Lutz made 20 points the first time RU faced Trenton. This time he was held to two by Fahey. Fifield contained Eldridge with eight points.

Redford Union then made the weekend complete by rolling to a 74-58 victory over Walled Lake in a non-leaguer.

The Bjerkes again shared scoring honors as Leland fired in 22 points and Dale tossed in 20. Fahey and Fifield contributed eight apiece to the victors' cause. For Walled Lake it was Bill Fogle with a lousy 31 points.

Redford Union led, 42-26, at halftime.

BLOCKING THE WAY: A Trenton defender goes high to keep Tom Kimble of Redford Union from getting off a shot. Redford Union, however, won the game in an upset.

Long Drouth Ends for Glenn

Coach Chris Theodore of Glenn High told his basketball players to have patience. Meantime, he worked with them to correct mistakes, to build up confidence, to improve on their play.

"One of these days we'll do something big," said Theodore.

And "big" was the word that befitted Glenn's accomplishments last weekend.

On Friday night, Glenn pulled off a stunning upset over Thurston, 65-51, in a Northwest League game.

Then on Saturday, Glenn bounced right back to beat Ypsilanti Lincoln, 68-57, in a non-leaguer.

"We just played the way I figured we could," said Theodore after the happy weekend.

A closing spurt won for Glenn against Thurston and all but knocked Thurston out of contention for the league crown.

It was Glenn's first conference win after five losses while Thurston had taken the floor with an overall 9-3 record and a 3-2 standing in the league.

Thurston hit a cool spell after leading 44-38 at halftime. The Townshipers made only six of their 28 basket attempts in the second half as they were held to 10 points in the third period and seven in the final period.

Glenn, meantime, hit 16 points in each of the final two quarters.

Sophs Add To Cheers For West

Sophomores are making the future for basketball look brighter at Garden City West.

Jack Mellinger and Greg Wilson gave the west coach, Cal Krupa, something to cheer about last Friday night when they made 13 and nine rebounds, respectively, in West's 65-56 victory over Crestwood.

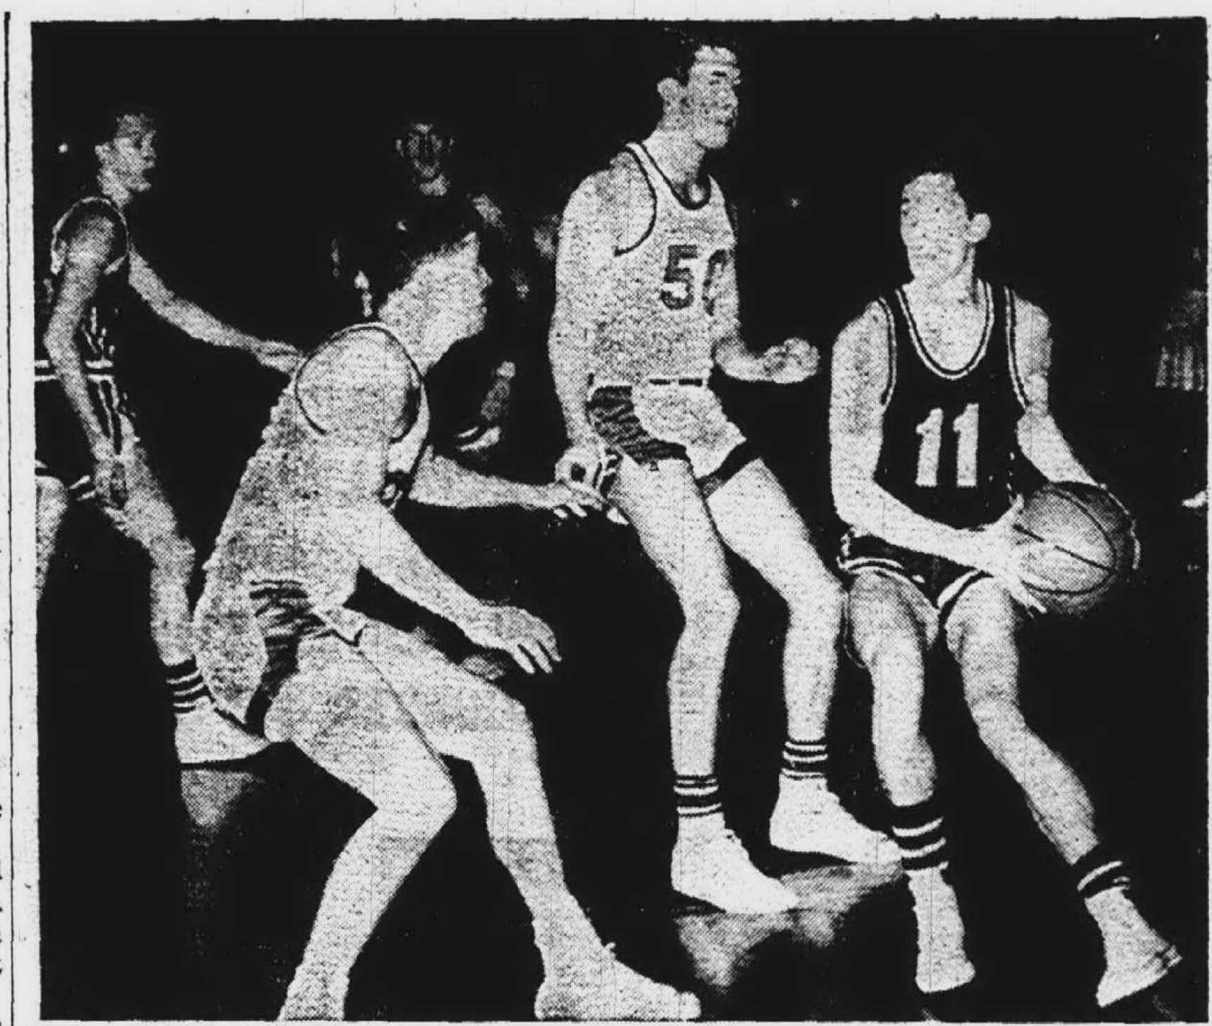

Along with Gary Robinson, who nailed 21 off the boards, they combined to give West almost complete command under the boards at both ends of the court.

Meantime, Dan Bazzarelli turned in another fine scoring effort as he collected 19 points, including seven out of seven from the free throw line.

Robinson added 12 and Jim Mincey 10 to the victors' cause.

The victory gave West a split in Tri-River League action during the week. The team had lost on Tuesday to Kennedy, 65-56, as Bazzarelli and Robinson each fired in 18 points and Robinson picked up 12 rebounds.

West thus entered this week's league action with a 6-4 record and in good position at least to finish second.

SURROUNDED CAGER: Earl Neely (11) of Franklin finds himself in a traffic jam as he runs into a pair of Bentley defenders.

FOR BENTLEY CAGERS:

Jackpot is Nearing

The golden jackpot gets closer and closer for Bentley high's basketball team.

With a 6-0 record in Suburban Six League going into action this week—first against Redford Union on Tuesday and then against Belleville Friday—all that stood between Bentley and the league flag were two victories.

And should Bentley slip this week, there still will remain two more conference contests before the campaign ends on Feb. 24.

"We're just playing great," explained coach George Fefles after Bentley socked Allen Park, 80-61, in a league battle last Friday after trimming Franklin, 75-55, in a city duel on Tuesday.

"We're scoring well, getting fine rebounding and doing a good job on defense," said Fefles. "When you play that kind of basketball, you're going to win with great regularity."

Bentley needed a little time to get started against Allen Park. The Parkers led, 19-17, after one quarter.

From then on it was all Bentley. Ken Bollin struck for 11 points in the second period as Bentley outscored the Parkers, 24-13, to gain a 41-32 halftime edge.

Paced by Greg Macy the rest of the way, Bentley fattened its margin to win going away.

Macy finished with 23 points, Bollin 17. Mike McCauley 15, Greg Coleman 14, Ed Ryan eight and Larry Grimm three.

Against Franklin, Bentley pulled away to a 19-15 lead after one quarter, held command 37-29 at halftime and went into the final quarter with a 58-42 edge.

The Macy-Bollin combine again stood out for Bentley. Macy meshed 11 baskets for 22 points while Bollin hit seven hoops and six charities for 20 points.

Earl Neely was king for the losers as he meshed 19 points over seven baskets and five free throws.

Bentley's reserves matched the efforts of the varsity. The second stringers beat Franklin, 75-42, as Carl Hurlbert scored 16. Gary Haugsby registered 15 in a 68-55 win

Observing SPORTS

By George Maskin

It's the people you meet . . . the people whose memories you cherish . . . that help to make this crazy, and at times, mixed up world just a little more interesting.

There's Dr. Al August of Farmington whom you meet for the first time, but feel that you have known him for at least 30 years.

It was in those infancy days for you on The Detroit Times that you first wrote short items about Al August, one of the finest handball players ever developed in the United States.

More recently, his sons, Steve and Larry, have followed in the "old man's" footsteps by winning national and state and area championships. Both Steve and Larry presently are students at the University of Michigan.

Dr. August talks about handball: "It's just a shame that so few participate in this sport. It's a great recreational event, wonderful for one's physique. And, it's something a man can engage in well along in years.

"But, we are lacking in facilities around the Detroit area for handball. Just a few places have the necessary courts.

"What's more, we are not able to muster any excitement within the high schools and colleges, as far as handball is concerned. It's not that way in all parts of the country. Down Texas way, they have a gigantic program for schoolboy handball."

Doc August is a patient man. He also is a man with a dream. Someday, he may see it come true. You say goodbye to Doc August, head back to your office . . . and the phone rings.

Bob Sieger, the sports editor of The Detroit News is calling. "Our old friend, Bob Wood, is dead," Sieger tells you. And you are stunned.

Bob Wood . . . a guy who was gray in his 20's . . . and who outwardly never seemed happy. But he had to be, because of the great work he turned out as an editor as he worked at different times for all of Detroit's dailies.

To us, Bob, who made his home in Redford Township, was more than just a guy we worked with—first on the Stars and Stripes during World War II days in London, and later when he was associated with The Times in Detroit.

If we have known any success in this business of newspapering, a lot of the credit belongs to Bob Wood.

Those days in London . . . even when the V-1's were striking with no warning and later in the even more nerve-wracking era of the V-2's, Wood would take time to show us the way newspaper copy should be edited . . . how to write a headline . . . how to get the most said in the least amount of space.

Bob would growl from time to time . . . but those packages with "goodies" from home, like salami, would cool him down.

As Doc Greene wrote so beautifully in The News last week, there was none better at writing head-

Squeaker to Falcons; Then Raiders Score

Imagine a basketball game with neither team scoring for six minutes!

That's what happened last Friday night when Farmington slipped past Waterford, 49-48, to run its Inter Lakes League record to 5-0 in the Falcon's drive to a repeat championship.

Just two more wins will assure Farmington at least a title share. If one of those triumphs comes over Pontiac Northern, the outright flag would fly over Farmington.

Coach Jack Quiggle tried a surprise on Waterford. He had the Falcons for the first time play a man-to-man defense instead of a zone.

The strategy worked. In fact, Waterford became so shocked that it went into the long holiday stall in the third period and as a result each team scored only eight points in the quarter.

The game was a tight one all the way. Farmington's biggest lead stood at six points.

But with five minutes to go the Falcons found themselves four points down. It was here that Mike Ames and Greg Dorow rallied the Falcons and coach Quiggle expressed delight in the way his forces handled themselves with the pressure on.

With 30 seconds left, Dorow delivered what proved the deciding basket when he drove for a score that made it 49-48. A few seconds later, Al Kilkka of Farmington was fouled, but when his charity missed, little time remained.

Quiggle directed that his charges stand aside and let Waterford go in for a basket. "Don't foul," Quiggle pleaded.

His men followed orders. As Waterford tallied a meaningless basket, the game ended and Farmington had advanced a notch nearer the championship.

Ames and Dorow each finished with 14 points. Kilkka had 10, six on free throws. Tom Wirtz tallied four, Fritz Simons three, Doug Hamilton and Mike Lynott two each for the victors.

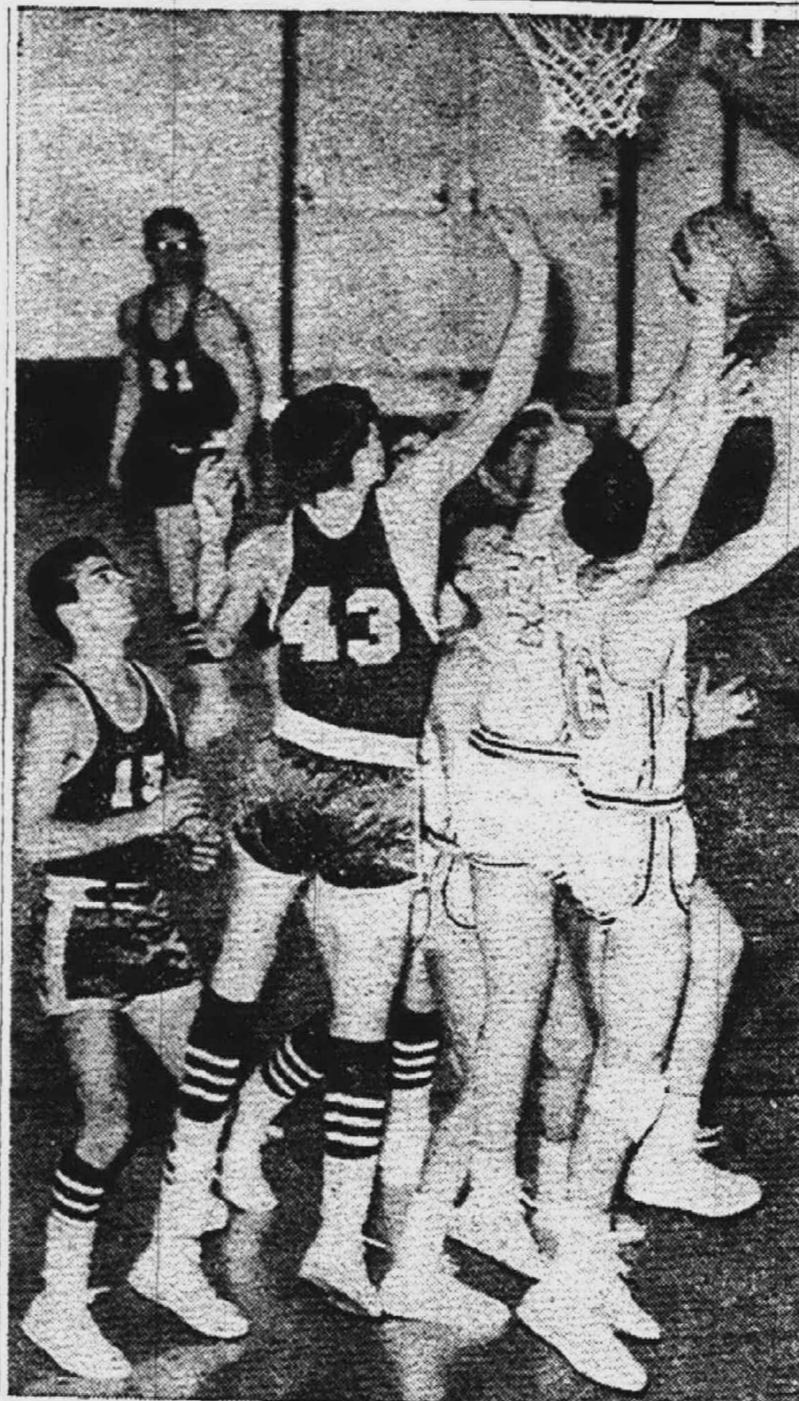

For Waterford, Hill had 13 to lead the way.

Dorow was out of action the next evening when Farmington suffered a 63-53 reversal at the hands of North Farmington in their annual city battle.

The teams fought on even terms until the third period when North Farmington pulled away to a five-point edge with some balanced scoring by Mike McCoy, Jim Rulapaugh and Ron Flutur. Each had four points in the period.

Then in the final period, North Farmington kept up its surge to win with no trouble as Rulapaugh topped four scorers in double figures. Ames had 19 for the losers who played minus Dorow, who was out with an injured shoulder.

WHO'S GOT IT: Bud Daniels (54) of Stevenson hauls down a rebound with the help of teammate Mars Ruppelle (10) against East Detroit. But strong East Detroit emerged as the winners.

Coach Pleased Despite Defeat For Stevenson

Pride was the word basketball coach George Van Wagner expressed in defeat at Stevenson High.

His seniorless charges had just given powerful East Detroit more than the east-siders had expected. The final score was 68-58 for the team that had knocked off defending state Class-A champ three nights earlier.

Sorrows 5 Winner in Playoff Tilt

Tim Doyle and Paul Bunker . . .

Paul Bunker and Tim Doyle . . .

Either way you list their names, they were the heroes Sunday night in Our Lady of Sorrows' 66-60 overtime victory over St. Michael in the first round of the Catholic League's second division playoffs.

It was Doyle and Bunker in the stretch drive that brought Sorrows from behind in regulation time with Doyle connecting on a 30-footer at the buzzer to bring his team even at 59-59 and force the extra session.

Then in overtime, Bunker, a reserve, took over, and popped in five quick points to move his team to victory and into next Saturday night's semifinals at the University of Detroit Memorial Building against St. Gregory at 8:30 p.m.

Between them Bunker and Doyle scored the last 20 points in a row popped in by Sorrows, which had finished the regular season tied with Orchard Lake St. Mary's for first place in the Northwest Division.

Sorrows had to come on strong because St. Michael had built up a six-point cushion going into the last period.

But with Doyle and Bunker, and Bunker and Doyle clicking, coach Bob Morris' crew made up the ground.

In the overtime, St. Michael was held to just one point.

"We never were greater on defense," said Morris after the game.

Doyle, who averaged 25 points per game all season, caged 13 baskets and two free throws for 28 points.

Frank Carrico had 4-12, while Mike Christopher netted 11 along with Bunker. Perry with four rounded out the scoring for the happy winners.

The victory was hailed as an upset since St. Michael had won 11 straight.

St. Gregory stopped St. Martin's, 74-55, in another surprise. All Saints crushed Orchard Lake St. Mary, 73-38, and St. Cecilia ended Ann Arbor St. Thomas' winning ways, 61-47.

St. Cecilia and All Saints play at 7 p.m. in Saturday's first game.

1st Half Spells Trojans Doom

In two departments, the Clarenceville high basketball team came out "a winner" against Clarkston last Friday night.

The Trojans managed to reduce by 15 points the output fashioned by Clarkston ace Dan Fife. Clarenceville also copped the battle of the second half.

But since basketball is decided on the basis of four quarters in high school, it was Clarkston by 69-53 when the final score was posted, thus giving Clarkston an 8-0 record in the Wayne-Oakland League.

Clarenceville just couldn't get untracked in the first half.

The Trojans managed only six points on three baskets in the first period. Meantime, Clarkston rolled in 19 points in the second period and reached the half with a 38-18 lead.

No Halting Matmen At Clarenceville

There's no halting Clarenceville High's wrestling express.

Clarenceville now has gone through 24 straight matches without a defeat, adding two more victories last week in beating Franklin, 35-11, and then finishing first in a quadrangular meet.

In the latter event, the Trojans scored 193 points to Northville's 170, Bloomfield Hills' 73 and Clarkston's 48.

Seven Clarenceville entries emerged as champs. They were Brian Levy (103 lbs.), Don Yitlalo (111), Ray Wehner (127), Carl Watkins (133), Dave Kaipio (138), Steve Clark (145), and Greg McDougall (154).

RU Swimmers Fall to Trenton

Paul Clancy in the diving and Mark Favor in the butterfly accounted for Redford Union's only victories as the RU swimmers lost to Trenton, 72-33.

The victory enabled Trenton to remain unbeaten in Suburban Six League action. Jerry Haltom took a second for RU in the 200-yard free style while Ray Woods was second both in the 50 and 100-yard free style events.

FLAG CHANCES REDUCED

East Suffers Jolt

There's still hope and even time, but the latter is starting to run out on Garden City High's basketball team in its bid to take the Mid-Wayne league title.

A 90-77 reversal at the hands of Inkster last Friday night dropped two games behind leading Taylor, whom East was to meet on Tuesday in a makeup game.

Inkster, bolstered by the addition of a 6-6 transfer student, simply had too much height for East. The Inkster front line read 6-6, 6-6 and 6-4.

"They just riddled us on the boards," said coach Billy Jo Young, of East.

Inkster shot ahead, 20-11, after one period, East then held its foe on fairly even terms the rest of the way.

Joe Huber again was brilliant — even in a losing cause. He drilled in 11 baskets and 12 free throws for 34 points.

Mike Maciasz was next with 13 points for East while Harvey Kightlinger and Rick Klack ten each. Charles Sakmar added eight and Bob Kalinowski two points in a losing cause.

Rick Walker was the man who led Inkster as he scored 12 baskets and five free throws for 29 points.

The week, however, had its bright moments for East as the Garden City team surprised powerful Ecorse and scored a 69-54 win in a non-leaguer.

East took a 35-26 halftime edge and pulled away to win without much trouble.

Huber again was the hero for the winners as he registered 26 points.

Kightlinger followed with 13 points, Maciasz 12 and Klack ten.

The East reserves wound up a double loser, falling to Ecorse, 60-50, and to Inkster, 51-45.

lines than Bob Wood. Some of his greatest masterpieces never made the public print. They couldn't. Bob would just write them to ease the pressure around the office . . . to make us forget the bombs falling nearby in London . . . or the loneliness which prevailed for most GI's who were away from home and their loved ones.

The last time we talked with Bob, we were making plans along with Jim Eathorne of The News to attend the 25th anniversary celebration for Stars and Stripes in New York next summer.

"It'll be a great reunion," Bob remarked. "What a time we had in that dingy office in the London Times Building."

Last week in the snowstorm, Bob tried to shovel his car out. He felt pains in his chest. Two days later, his heart quit.

His wife, his Redford Township neighbors, his colleagues and all who knew him or knew what he did for The News will miss a man, and a talent, the likes of which don't come along very often.

We only wish now that we could have a chance once more to turn to Bob and say: "Thank you, so much, for your guidance."

The whirl of life goes on . . . and you encounter Bob Neff, who lives out in Farmington Township. Bob's the basketball coach at Southfield High. He also owns a farm on which he raises Arabian show horses.

"We used to live in a subdivision in Farmington," Neff declares. "It was nice. The neighbors were swell. But my wife and I felt we needed more room. We also liked to have some horses around."

"So we found this spot and we have been doing really well. My wife (Dinna) and our daughter, Leslie, who's 12, have been winning a lot of ribbons."

"We show our horses in various competitions in the state in the midwest. Of course, it's a lot of fun . . . and it's a lot of work."

"It's also a great way to ease the pressure which runs along with coaching a team."

Mrs. Neff and Leslie won over 50 ribbons between their last year. They have another big schedule planned for 1967.

"Once the spring and summer arrive, we're showing the horses someplace every week," adds Neff.

The Neff farm is a small one . . . just under nine acres.

"Maybe one of these days we'll expand," says the Southfield coach. "We'll just have to wait and see."

Collegians Ripped by No. 5 Team

It was too much to expect for Schoolcraft College's basketball team.

The opposition was supplied by Port Huron J.C., No. 5 ranked in the country.

Port Huron brought forth a startling front line of two players at 6-7, another at 6-5. They made the Schoolcraft players look like a bunch of midgets.

After one half it was 62-31 for the Hurons. At the finish it was 121-59.

"They were too big, too quick, too fast . . . too everything for us," declared coach Bob Leggat of Schoolcraft.

John Felmet led the losers with 15 points. Next came Don Cranford with 13 and Steve Moore with eight.

Schoolcraft will entertain Northwest College, from Traverse City, next.

Beware of Sunburn in Wintertime

Why talk about sunburn in midwinter?

Because outdoor winter sports, especially skiing, sometimes are accompanied by sunburn fully as severe as that of swimmers at the seashore in midsummer.

Of course, the winter sunburn is confined to face and neck, rather than most of the body, but it can be just as painful on the exposed parts of the body as summer sunburn.

Today's Health, a family magazine, points out that the sunburning effect of sunshine is due in large part to the ultraviolet radiation that accompanies the visible light.

These ultraviolet wave lengths, intense in outer space, are partially filtered by the atmosphere as they reach the earth. In the higher altitudes, the sunlight does not pass through so deep a layer of atmosphere, and so the burning effect is more intense. And another factor is reflected radiation bouncing off the bright snow cover.

Since overexposure to sunlight is, in general, injurious and hastens the aging of skin, purposeful exposure should be avoided. Protective clothing should be worn in winter, except in the heat of spring skiing.

There are a number of sun-screening agents which are helpful when applied to the skin. These include preparations containing benzophenones and preparations consisting of 15 per cent para-aminobenzoic acid (PABA) in a cream base, as well as preparations containing physical sunscreens such as zinc oxide and titanium dioxide.

In general, the protective agents must be applied frequently because perspiration rubbing and accidental falls into the snow will remove them.

Experienced skiers already have learned to beware of winter sunburn. Those heading for the slopes for the first time this season are cautioned to guard against burning.

Let Experts Do Your Packing

One way to hold down the cost of a move to a new home is to do your own packing.

Moving counselors agree there are many items—linens, kitchen articles, clothing and non-breakables — which the individual can pack satisfactorily.

However, dishes and glassware are not among them. These, they recommend, should be left to the care of the professional movers. Especially if the move is to be long-distance.

The cost of having the movers pack your breakables is moderate and the methods and materials they use will probably surprise you, if you haven't moved for some time.

Aero Mayflower Transit Company, a pioneer in the development of foolproof methods of packing dishes and other fragile articles, has three approved methods of packing fragile.

One features the use of sturdy corrugated cells within a packing container.

A second method utilizes shock-absorbing wrapping and padding to cushion all breakables. The third approved method of packing features a portable packing machine that vacuum-seals fragile articles to a corrugated pad with clear plastic film.

Prevent Blistered Doors

Blisters usually form on exterior varnish doors when the top is not properly finished, warns the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. The bottom may also absorb water from snow or rain. Painting will help prevent blistering in both cases.

PAUL WENZEL

Realtors Name Mrs. Wingert New Director

Beatrice Wingert, broker-owner of John L. Sullivan Real Estate, has been elected a director of the United Northwestern Realty Association — Western Wayne-Oakland County Board of Realtors, Richard S. Elsea, Board president, announced.

Active with the Realtor Board since 1954, Mrs. Wingert has served on many of its committees. She is a member of the Detroit Real Estate Board and its Women's Council, as well as the Women's Council of the Western Wayne County Board of Realtors.

Mrs. Wingert replaces Gerald Flury, who has resigned as a director, due to the demands of his law practice.

Shelves Use Closet Space

Do you need more storage space, and don't know where to turn to find it?

Take a closer look inside present cabinets and closets. You're sure to find some unused space, low, high or in-between.

In a cabinet, add some adjustable shelves, or replace shelves with drawers or trays.

In the kitchen, shallow racks can be fastened to the inside of cabinet doors, but be sure they will not bump the shelves or items stored on them.

Closets can provide a surprising amount of space for open shelves or pull-out hanging dresses and robes entirely at one side may leave enough space below the shorter items at the other to allow for a couple of shelves, for storing folded apparel or shoes.

Western pines are ideal for this type of built-ins, with their high resistance to splitting and being easy to saw and nail.

Wenzel Named Manager of New K-mart Store

A manager has been appointed for the K-Mart Department Store which is scheduled to open in a few weeks, it was announced Monday by S. S. Kresge Company Central Regional Manager H. R. Vescecius, of Detroit. He is Paul J. Wenzel, who has 35 years as a merchandising executive.

"His responsibilities will be heavy ones in the weeks ahead," Vescecius said. "He must select thousands of dollars worth of merchandise for opening day while hiring and training a complex sales organization."

"The goal is to tailor this store to the exact needs of this community," Vescecius said. "The best and quickest way to achieve this is by selecting all of his personnel from local people."

Workmen are now putting the finishing touches on the department store, a huge one of 109,915 square feet on 11 acres of land at 165 Wayne Road, Westland. The air conditioning, heating and lighting have already been installed.

Vescecius said: "The K-Mart Department Store will sell only first quality goods, including nationally advertised brands. It will stock every line from groceries and fashions to furniture. There will be a 70-seat cafeteria restaurant and an auto service center."

"The low prices and savings to the customer are possible due to self-selection of merchandise and using check-out lanes for cash transactions. Of course, sales personnel are available for customers needing personal assistance."

Wenzel joined the Kresge management-training program in Allentown, Pa. in 1931. He has managed six variety stores in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Michigan.

Youth Club Archers Are 'On Target'

Medals were presented to winners of the archery group of the Plymouth Police Youth Club. The awards were earned for shooting in 10 weeks of competition starting last November.

Winners were: Class A, first place, Charles Mader; second, Joe Wee; third, Carol Magee; Class "B", first, Scott Lindquist; second, Dave Magee; third, Gayle White; Class "C", first, Linda Lash; second, Tammy Talmadge; third, Sandra Magee.

Shoulder patches, similar to those worn by members of the Police Department, were presented to members who earned them for the first time.

Archery Supervisor Clifford "Tip" Smith indicated there is now room for additional youngsters to join the program. Those interested, between the ages of 12 and 17, may apply on Wednesday evening in the Community Building directly behind the City Hall.

All equipment is furnished, no experience is necessary and there is no charge. Classes meet at 6 and 7 p.m.

Problem Wall Areas

To make walls in your kitchen, bathroom, and children's play areas more attractive and easier to keep clean, the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association suggests that you give them a coat of two of semi-gloss enamel. Enameling is easier than ever now — whether you choose an oil-base or the handy new water-base paints.

Oldford Introduces Quiet Room In Home

Anyone who has tried to fill out his income tax form while the family's teenagers and the hi-fi set combine to turn the house into a blaring discotheque is likely to have a warm feeling for Stewart Oldford.

Oldford has pioneered in the quest for more peace and quiet in family living with a distinctive new feature, the Quiet Room. It's introduced in the four bedroom and two and one-half bath model home built by the firm, Stewart Oldford and Sons, at 44411 Beech in the Woodbrook Subdivision in Plymouth.

Visitors to the two story brick and frame house of colonial design, now opened for showing, will see an attractive first floor den, designed in keeping with the tasteful appointments characterizing the entire dwelling.

What visitors will hear is something else again. The den is the Quiet Room. Incorporating new noise control engineering features developed by Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corporation, a major manufacturer of building materials, in its continuing research program to help home builders penetrate the new frontier in home construction, the quest for quiet.

The broad sweep of the white beamed ceiling in the den of the model home is composed of Fiberglas monocoastic ceiling panels, which will absorb up to 75% of the noise striking the surface.

Inside the wood panel interior walls of the room, staggered studs break up the path of sound and Fiberglas blankets soak it up. The result is an effective barrier to the transfer of noise through the walls.

A sound sealed door, created with gasketing around sides and top and special threshold to block noise leaks, completes the Quiet Room.

Oldford pointed out that the room can be used as a refuge by members of the family who want to work, read, or enjoy music undisturbed by bothersome, irritating noises generated elsewhere in the house. Conversely it can be used to isolate such loud activities as junior's trumpet practice from the rest of the family.

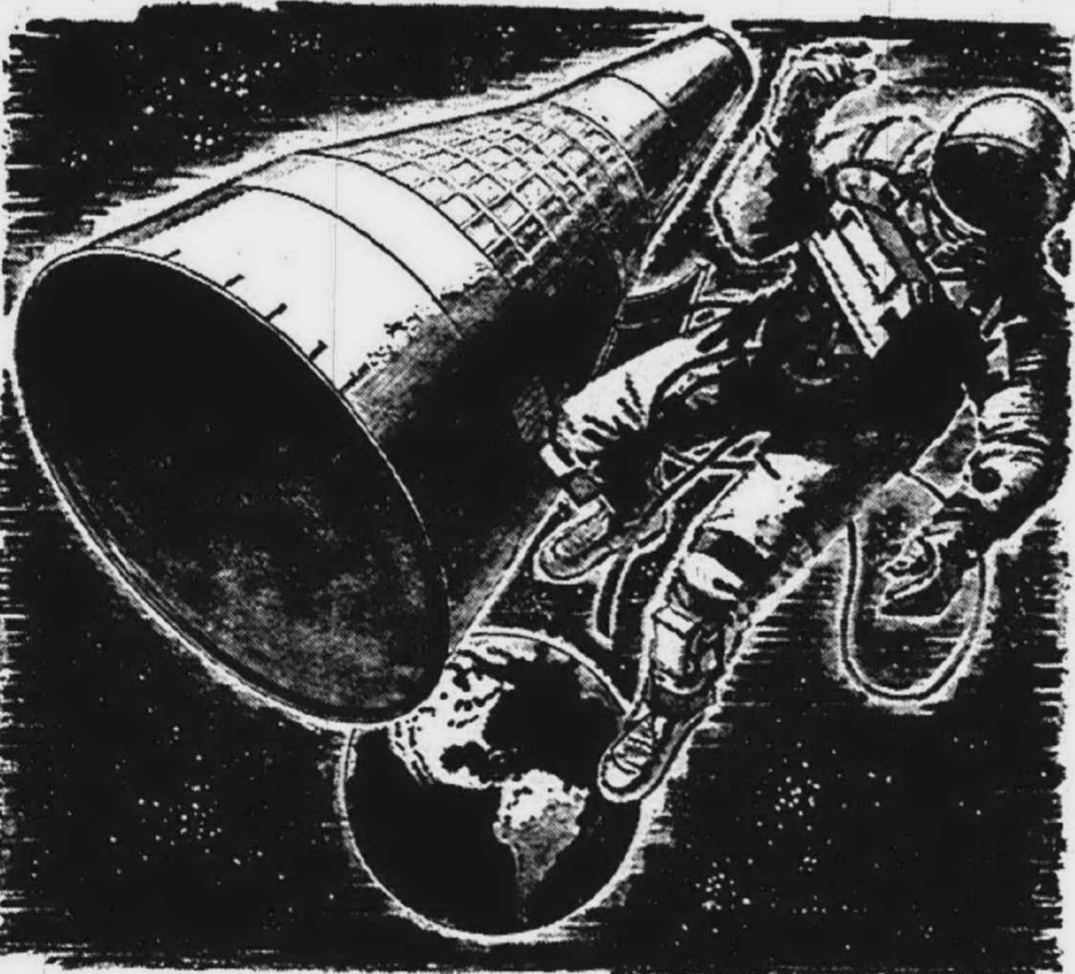

"We feel this design concept will be particularly attractive to families with children and makes a significant contribution to more comfortable family living," the builder said.

Another feature of the new home is full insulation to comfort conditioned standards. Three inches of Fiberglas building insulation in sidewalls and six inches in the ceiling not only raise the level of living comfort in both summer and winter, but make possible predictable annual heating costs $72.16 less than those of a similar home insulated only to minimum FHA standards.

This saving, Oldford pointed out, will more than pay the householder the added cost of full insulation over a few years, with the more comfortable living environment as free bonus benefit.

Burroughs Survey Shows Check Frauds Increasing by 20 Per Cent in U.S.

Check fraud crime is rising faster than any other crime in the United States, a recent survey of 4,500 police and sheriff officials reveals. The survey, by Burroughs Corporation, Business Forms and Supplies Group, Rochester, N.Y., shows check fraud crime climbed 20 percent in the 12-month reporting period, compared to the previous year.

Arrests, which increased only 18 percent, failed to keep pace with the crime rate. And money amounts involved in check crimes rose faster—22 percent in the survey period.

The Burroughs survey is the third conducted in 12 years by Business Forms and Supplies Group, a world leader in the manufacturing of business forms and systems, controlled safety paper checks and check protection equipment.

Believed to be the only survey of its kind devoted exclusively to check fraud, the survey is based only on actual cases of check fraud and does not include any cases of insufficient funds, overdrawn or closed accounts.

Supermarkets, department stores and gasoline service stations, in that order, were the prime targets of the professional and amateur check fraud criminals, the survey disclosed.

Check fraud knows no special season, but statistics compiled show that the October-December quarter of the year, when the Christmas holiday buying season is in full swing, slightly outpaces the other quarters in some cities.

Mass confusion, customers waiting in line for their groceries or purchases to be checked, hurried clerks and store managers all add up to an easy target for the sometimes not too skillful check crook.

One universal answer to stop check fraud came from the Burroughs-surveyed police officials—"Know your endorser. Demand positive identification before cashing any check. Do not cash checks for more than the cost of goods purchased."

Many times, the officers pointed out, this does not stop the crime. So they recommend doing the next best thing—use the best available check protecting equipment and safest possible checks to halt this dramatic increase in the check fraud crime rate.

What's the favorite method of check fraud?

One Ohio police official summarized the best way to reduce check fraud crimes: "The greatest single asset a potential victim has is to know the person with whom he is dealing. Identification papers no longer afford the businessman an infallible method of insuring a conscientiously entered-into contract."

"If the businessman would put aside his all-consuming desire for a sale and replace it with logic and scrutiny, a sharp decrease in the illicit check traffic would result."

Other recommendations to deter check fraud crime listed by the police included:

- Refuse to cash out-of-town checks, particularly if the party is unknown.
- Train sales personnel to be alert and take their time when cashing all checks.
- Cooperate with local police officials by reporting immediately a check fraud.
- Press for prosecution and conviction of check criminals.
- Call the local bank, if possible, to verify all large checks.
- Establish procedures for cashing checks and stick to them. Limit the number of persons who are authorized to cash checks.
- Refuse to cash rubber-stamped checks.

Elsa Realty Sales Show Higher Cash Volume in '66

Staunton M. Elsa, President of the Elsa Realty and Investment Co. reports the sale by his firm in 1966 of 1,813 residential and commercial properties totaling $24,450,314. This compares with 1,976 sales for $23,803,856 in 1965.

This lessened number of sales is believed to be due to the shortage of houses available for sale rather than to financing difficulty or lack of buyers.

There seems to be enough mortgage money to finance used home sales, a large number of which are sold on an equity out basis or on land contract and require no new mortgage money.

The payment of mortgage points is now pretty generally understood and accepted and is recognized as being a saving to the seller compared with the alternative of selling on land contract and discounting the contract 15 per cent to 25 per cent to get cash.

In discussing the home market for 1967, Elsa explains why used homes are expected to cost more. The supply of a commodity or service is a determining factor in establishing its price. In the case of land for building sites, the supply is limited.

The supply of homes is limited by the capacity of the builders to build. Due to labor shortages they have not been able for several years to build fast enough to supply the demands, and to increase building speed only increases labor costs.

The bulk of the housing needs is being supplied by used homes and tens of thousands have been sold and removed from the market without being replaced by a compensating number of new homes.

The supply of used home listings this year is expected to be less than last year and a short supply of any commodity in relation to the need and demand tends to increase its price.

Some 50,000 Detroit area families are contemplating the purchase of a home in 1967. Their degree of urgency is determined by their knowledge of and feelings about the economic future.

If the prospective home buyer can determine the answers to the following questions, which affect the supply and cost of homes, his decision as to when to buy will be more sound.

1. Are building labor costs going up or down?
2. Are building material costs going up or down?
3. Are land costs going up or down?
4. Are rentals becoming more abundant or scarcer?
5. Are rents going up or down?
6. Is our population and need for housing decreasing or increasing?
7. Will home prices be lower or higher later on?

Roy Wenzlick, the nationally known economist and authority on Real Estate trends, in an address before the Detroit Economic Club stated that it is unlikely that the American home buyer can ever in his lifetime purchase a home at as low a price as he can today.

Here's Some Kitchen Tips

Looking for ways to increase the efficiency of your kitchen sink? Here are five suggestions for your check list.

- Replace your old sink with a two or three-bowl type to multiply its simultaneous uses.
- Have a single handle faucet installed. It will respond to fingertip control. In fact, you can turn it on or off with an elbow when your hands are full.

- Make sure your faucet has an aerator. It will create millions of bubbles in the water that will cause soap to suds up faster and easier. You'll save on water too.
- Get a spray attachment. One with a flexible stainless steel hose was put on the market recently.
- Replace your old drain plug with a "remote control" stopper installed next to the faucet. It will end groping in the sink when it's full of water.

Enjoy Snug Comfort With Lower Fuel Costs

Survey Shows Demand for Larger New Homes

LANSING. — The Michigan Savings and Loan League reports that the latest nationwide figures available from the Bureau of Census and the Housing and Home Financing Agency, indicate that several interesting characteristics are developing relative to new homes.

A demand for larger homes is substantiated by the fact that more than 70 per cent of new homes sold have three bedrooms and 24 per cent have four or more; only 5 per cent have fewer than three.

Stoves, dishwashers and central air conditioning lead the list of most-demanded accessories with 79.9 per cent including stoves in the home package sales price; 28.8 per cent including dishwashers; and 20.5 per cent including central air conditioning.

Also the family automobile figures highly in most people's home buying plans with 67 per cent of the new homes having a garage; 16 per cent having carports; and 17 per cent having neither.

According to the report, 44 per cent of new homes have a full or partial basement, 20 per cent have a crawl space and 36 per cent are built on a slab. In colder climates 82 per cent of the new homes have a full basement.

Bathrooms also are important factors to modern home buyers with 34 per cent of new homes having two bathrooms; 26 per cent having one and a half; 25 per cent with one bath and 15 per cent with two and a half baths or more.

It was also stated that today's average new house mortgage is $24,500 with a term of 24 years.

Tigers Ink Area Stars

Few sandlot baseball teams have drawn more attention in recent years than the Redford Township club which has vied in Detroit Free Press competition.

Not only has the team enjoyed considerable success—it captured the state title last year and played in the national tournament at Johnstown, Pa., but five of its products have earned contracts from the professionals.

Latest to earn pacts are Arnold Helwig, a pitcher, and infielder Dave Woloch, both signed by the Detroit Tigers to report at Tiger-town in mid-February.

Helwig is a product of Thurston High, Woloch of Redford Union.

After pitching three years for Thurston, Helwig hurled the last two for Port Huron J. C., and pitched summers for the Township.

Woloch had a trial with the Tigers last year and moved up to their farm at Statesville, N.C. Because one of their minor teams didn't materialize, Woloch and several others had to be released, but now the Tigers want him back for another loop.

Another Redford Union High-ex, who played on the Township summer team, is Rick Clark, a fine right-handed pitcher who originally was signed by the Tigers. But the California Angels plucked him away in the recent draft and, according to Turner, the Angels must keep Clark on their roster all during the 1967 season.

Tim Fisher was signed off the Redford team by the St. Louis Cards, but now is in service.

Tom Tanner, a pitcher, received a fine bonus from the New York Yankees. While he didn't make it in the Yankee system, the bonus he received is assuring him a college education at Hillsdale College.

Turner, meantime, is getting ready for a new season as a manager in the Township and also a scout for the Tigers.

David Johnson Named Manager

The appointment of David C. Johnson, 32341 Queensboro, Farmington, as a Divisional Manager of Waddell & Reed, Inc., national distributor of the United Funds group of mutual funds, has been announced by the firm's headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.

Before joining Waddell & Reed, Johnson was associated with the Ex-Cell-O Corp., Detroit. Johnson is past Commander of Post No. 4644 VFW, and past National Chairman for United Auto Workers Local No. 49.

The appointment was made by Richard C. Knight.

Ford Wins 19 Awards For Fire Prevention

Ford Motor Company operations in North America won 19 of the first 30 awards in the 1966 Industrial Division competition of the National Fire Protection Association.

The company also won a NFPA Certificate of Merit for the ninth consecutive year. The certificate is awarded "in recognition of outstanding activity in fire prevention."

Ford facilities participating in the 1966 contest described year-round fire-prevention programs, including equipment testing, employe training, inspection by local fire-fighting and fire-prevention officials and support by employe publications.

There were 1,030 entries in all divisions of the contest. The Industrial Division had 151 entries. Nine of the 19 award winning Ford facilities are in the Greater Detroit area.

The company's award winners and their ratings were: Los Angeles Assembly Plant, second place; Steel Division, fourth; Livonia Plant sixth; Ford of Canada Oakville Assembly Plant, seventh; Rawsonville Plant, eighth; Ford of Canada, Ontario Truck Plant, 10th; Ford of Canada, Windsor Manufacturing Operations, 12th and Chicago Stamping Plant, 13th.

Tigers To Meet Phils in Annual Benefit Game

The Tigers are getting a new opponent, the Philadelphia Phillies, for their exhibition series for the benefit of amateur baseball.

The two teams will meet May 11 in Philadelphia, then play a return engagement in Detroit in 1968. Proceeds from both events will go to the support of the amateur game in their respective areas.

Since 1963, the Tigers have been playing the St. Louis Cardinals in a similar series.

When the two clubs were unable to work out a mutually acceptable date for a 1967 renewal, the Philadelphia-Detroit series was arranged by Jim Campbell, executive vice-president and general manager of the Tigers, with John J. Quinn, vice-president and general manager of the Phillies.

"We are very happy to have the Phillies as the Tigers' new opponent in this series, a most worthwhile benefit," Campbell said. "Philadelphia has one of the most promising teams in the National League with a number of outstanding players and I am sure the fans of Michigan will enjoy seeing them in action."

"I am equally sure that amateur baseball will get another substantial financial lift from the 1968 game in Detroit."

In the two St. Louis-Detroit benefits played in Detroit in 1964 and 1966, amateur baseball of the area received more than $155,000 from the gate receipts with the Tigers assuming expenses of the game as their contribution. Ticket sales were handled by the Recreation Association of Michigan, with sandlot and other amateur teams sharing in receipts according to the number of tickets sold by them.

A similar plan is expected to be followed in the Tiger-Phillie series. The Tigers won the first three games of their exhibitions with the Cardinals before losing, 5-4 in 10 innings last year, when 20,820 fans saw the game at Tiger Stadium.

Nine Area Pupils Win Honors

Nine students from the Observer Newspaper Group circulation area are among 500 honored at Michigan State University for achieving all-A records during the fall term.

Names of the students are placed on an honor roll that offers "recognition of the highest attainment in scholarship." The students were feted at a dinner by MSU President John Hannah.

The list includes: FARMINGTON — Michael Gale, 22200 Cass, a junior in Mathematics and statistics; Stephen Rossiter, Jr., 28335 Kendallwood, a junior in social science.

REDFORD TOWNSHIP — Carol Chapski, 12946 Brady, junior in psychology. GARDEN CITY — Maureen Ogorman, 31051 Balmoral, junior in elementary and special education.

LIVONIA — Joann Poppenger, 9901 Arden, senior in nursing; Nancy Rochette, 35247 Hathaway, junior in elementary and special education; Thomas Test, 11404 Auburndale, senior in elementary and special education.

PLYMOUTH — Ralph Heid, 14417 Oxford Drive, junior in University College; Judith King, 41688 Greenbriar, freshman in journalism.

She's Honor Student

Sandra Schulze, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Schulze of 24144 St. Mary Court, Farmington, has been named to the dean's list at Ohio Wesleyan University following the fall term. She is a sophomore at the University, and in order to qualify, had to maintain a 3.3 average out of a possible 4.0.

Eighty-five percent of the nation's wood is harvested from privately owned timberlands.

Farmington Student Is In Chorale

Janet Greene, a junior at North Farmington High School has been selected as one of 71 high school students who compose the 1967 Youth for Understanding Chorale. Coming from 34 different high schools, the group rehearses weekly in the Ann Arbor High School.

The Chorale is part of the Youth for Understanding Teenage Exchange program with headquarters in Ann Arbor. This group interprets America to people in other countries through music. It gives talented young musicians an opportunity to sing with an excellent ensemble, gaining valuable training and experience. It focuses attention on American composers, and the quality of our public schools' musical education.

Youth for Understanding has the distinction of being the only international student exchange program recognized by the Department of State of the United States that has a music group as a part of the exchange program. This program is designed to develop understanding and friendship between countries through teenage diplomats.

This year's tour of the Chorale will be to Germany, the Scandinavian countries, Holland, and Belgium.

Unique concert invitations have been received for the group from Tübingen, Germany—a sister city of Ann Arbor—and the European Federation of Young Choirs.

The Chorale will take part in the festival "Europe Cantat III" in Namur, Belgium, which is the most important choral festival of its kind taking place in Europe, comprising of about 80 youth choirs from many European countries.

Attorney To Discuss Privacy

The public is invited to hear Bethel B. Kelley speak on "Legal Aspects of the Right of Privacy" on Wednesday, Feb. 15 at 8 p.m. at the Farmington Senior High School, 32000 Shiawassee.

Miller, Vieson and Kelley. He also serves as a director of the Michigan-Ohio Pipeline Corp., trustee and member of the executive committee of Alma College, and trustee of Harder Foundation. He is a resident of Birmingham.

In his talk, Kelley will emphasize recent decisions relating to wire tapping and use of other electronic surveillance devices.

Members of the Farmington Branch of the American Association of University Women, who have engaged Kelley as guest speaker, invite the public to attend a short business meeting of their organization and social hour following the program.

Serving on the committee for this meeting are: Mrs. Thatcher Root, chairman; and Mrs. Herbert Harms, Mrs. Richard Justice, Mrs. Cornelius King, Miss Doris Lachmann, Mrs. F. P. McCaskill, Mrs. William F. Rustemier, and Mrs. Harold L. Sharp.

CampFire Girls Set Activities

The Camp Fire Girls Candy Sale will be extended in the community until Feb. 16 according to an announcement by Mrs. Roger King, chairman of the sale for Farmington.

This project is the only money making event of the Camp Fire Girls and helps to increase the local treasury as well as support the entire program.

The O-KI-CI-YA group elected new officers. They are: Carol Colombatto, chairman; Lisa Kull, treasurer; and Kathy Oppert-hauser, secretary. The group is planning an international tea and expect to invite another group to hear a friend from Sweden talk about her country.

Every girl in the group is busy collecting recipes from different countries and hopes to make a collection of one recipe from each country.

The Junior High Group, O-KI-HI, is helping a new Blue Bird group learn some of the Camp Fire Songs and is formulating plans for a spring trip to Holland, Mich.

Horizon Club, the Senior High Group, is packing sleeping bags, skates and buying food for a winter weekend at Camp Wathana. Activities planned by the girls include a night scavenger hunt and "think" ways to improve the program. Participants in the weekend include all the Horizon Clubs in the metropolitan area.

Van Ameyde To Participate In Regional Conference

Marinus Van Ameyde, assistant superintendent of the Farmington Schools, will participate in a linguistic conference for representatives of the tri-county area Feb. 10.

Co-sponsored by the Division of Continuing Education and the School of Education at Oakland University, the day-long session will be held in the Supervisors Auditorium at the Oakland County Courthouse in Pontiac.

Keynote is Dr. Walter Loban, professor of English education at the University of California, who is noted for his research concerning the language development of children from kindergarten through high school. He will review his research findings during the morning session, in addition to underlining the importance of linguistics in the school curriculum.

Following luncheon, a special panel will discuss his presentation and raise questions. VanAmeyde will participate in this panel.

Loban will then have the opportunity to respond to the ideas and questions presented by the panel.

Kiwanis Set Speech by Red Sox Player

George Thomas, center-fielder for the Boston Red Sox, will speak at the Feb. 14 ladies night program of the Farmington Kiwanis Club.

The dinner meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m. at the Botsford Inn. Thomas's speech will be at 7 p.m.

All persons who live in Farmington and are active in organized baseball are invited to the meeting.

For further information or reservations contact Ron Holland at 476-3358. Dinner reservations must be made by Feb. 12.

She's an 'A' Student

ALMA—JoAnn Eshelman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Eshelman of 33870 Quaker Valley, Farmington, has been named to the Dean's List for the first term at Alma College. JoAnn, a graduate of Cody High School and a senior at Alma, had a perfect 4.0 average.

Oakland To Offer High School Math Program

A seven-week summer program will be offered June 19 to Aug. 4 at Oakland University to broaden the horizons of mathematics for a select group of outstanding high school students.

The youths will be introduced to new concepts of math and to the use of computers. One of the objectives of the program is to interest students in mathematics as a career.

Thirty-five students, who must be high school seniors on Sept. 1, will be selected on the basis of their high school recommendations, scores on College Board mathematics tests and scores on the Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition.

The entire cost of tuition, books and fees will be paid by the National Science Foundation, which is sponsoring the program. The students, however, will have to commute from off-campus to the classes and to provide for their own transportation and lunches.

Baroque Art Will Be Shown At Oakland U

The Oakland University Art Gallery has been readied for an exhibition which opened Feb. 5 of 70 original engravings, etchings and woodcuts from one of the most important periods in the history of art—the high Renaissance and the early Baroque.

The exhibition is from the George Binet Print Collection. It includes the works of such great figures in printmaking as Raimondi in Italy, Durer in Germany, Rembrandt in Holland and Van Dyck in Flanders, along with works of their followers. France is represented by the Fontainebleau School and England by Faithorne.

Among the great works of the 17th century periods that are featured in the exhibition are "The Adoration of the Magi" and "The Saints of the House of Austria" by Durer.

The exhibition will continue through February 26. Gallery hours are 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and 2-5 p.m. Sunday.

Educator Will Address BPW Of Westland

The February meeting of the Westland-Nankin Business and Professional Women's Club will be held Tuesday, Feb. 14, at 6:30 p.m. at Seits Restaurant, 1609 N. Wayne Road.

Timothy Dyer, assistant principal of Wayne Memorial High School will speak on World Affairs. The program was arranged by Miriam Huntoon.

FOUR MEMBERS of the Livonia Opera Education Committee are preparing for the Feb. 16 performance of "Overture to Opera VI" which will be given at Our Lady of Mercy High School and provide a preview of the Metropolitan Opera visit to Detroit in May. From left to right, they are Mrs. Raymond Zelch, Miss Marjorie Mowat, Mrs. Lee Landis and Mrs. Charles Levy, chairman.

Local Performance Sets Scene for Met Opera Visit

There are just three months to go before the New York Metropolitan Opera descends with all its elegance on the Masonic Temple for its sixth annual return to Detroit.

And long before that—Feb. 16 to be exact—opera lovers in this area can get a taste of the musical fare in store when "Overture to Opera VI" is presented at Lady of Mercy High School, at Eleven Mile and Middlebelt Roads in Farmington.

The 8 p.m. performance by Detroit area singers—some of whom will have small parts when the Met comes to town in May—is put on by the Detroit Grand Opera Association and sponsored in this area by the Livonia Opera Education Committee.

Last Monday in the Sculpture Arcade of the Detroit

Institute of Arts, the Grand Opera Association hosted local and suburban opera committees at its 1967 reception and luncheon.

The luncheon marked the beginning of the Livonia Committee's work to promote "Overture to Opera VI" which will be presented Feb. 16 at Lady of Mercy High School.

Marilyn Levy, chairman of the Livonia committee of the Detroit Grand Opera Association, exudes an excitement and gaiety that complements her enthusiasm for "Opera VI".

Other members of her committee include Sue Landes, Carol Cooper, Jeanne Finck, Frances Hensley, Marjorie Mowat, Mary Tracey, Fran Weiss and Norman Zelch.

Intended to be a preview of the Met's May visit to Detroit, "Opera VI" will be appreciated by music lovers generally, but it will also serve to introduce opera to those of you as yet uninitiated to its charms.

In addition to the operatic performances, commentary and interpretation before each presentation will be offered by Dr. David Cichiera, Chairman of the Department of Music at Oakland University. Dr. Cichiera is the producer of "Overture to Opera VI".

Free student tickets are available at Ladywood, Stevenson, Franklin, and Bentley High Schools and Madonna College.

There is an admission charge of $1.50—ticket information may be obtained from Grinnells, Livonia Mall, Mrs. Raymond Zelch, Gr 6-1846, Mrs. Sue Landes, 474-8231, and Our Lady of Mercy High School 476-8020.

AIRMAN SUSAN J. PFISTER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Pfister of 17398 Denby, Redford Township, has been assigned to Hamilton Air Force Base in California, after completing Air Force basic training. Secretaries Set Workshop At Cobo Hall

Monica Dickens, best-selling novelist and great-granddaughter of Charles Dickens, will be the featured speaker at the Fifteenth Annual Secretarial Workshop at Cobo Hall on Saturday, Feb. 25.

The workshop, jointly sponsored by the six chapters of the National Secretaries Association which make up the Greater International Metropolitan Area Council, will also highlight 12 concurrent seminars on practical business subjects.

"Career Girl Styles," featuring Franklin Simon Fashions and produced by Martha Jean Holiday, also will be offered.

Winifred I. Popham, coordinator of the 1967 workshop, has announced that the theme will be "Chance Favors the Prepared Mind." Representatives of six NSA chapters including Livonia, are assisting Miss Popham.

Further information is available in this area from Mrs. Eleanor Senkowski, GA, 7-2926 after 6 p.m. and Mrs. Helen Ellmore, PA, 1-4040, ext. 245, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Delta Gamma Women to Install New Officers

The biennial election and installation of officers of the Farmington Alumnae Association of Delta Gamma will be held on Feb. 13 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Dan Webster, 33521 Rayburn, Livonia. Members are requested to wear slacks to be prepared for surprise entertainment.

Fifty pairs of terry cloth slippers made by members recently were delivered to the Plymouth State Home for the blind retarded children.

BPW Hears Dean of Schoolcraft

Edward V. McNally, dean of student affairs at Schoolcraft Community College, will address the Livonia Business and Professional Women's Clubs at a 6:30 p.m. dinner meeting Tuesday Feb. 14, at Hillside Inn in Plymouth.

He will report on the college's current curriculum offerings for girls planning to enter the business field and for those with a professional career in mind.

The Dean also will discuss the scholarship programs available to students and program committee members said this should be of particular interest to members because the Livonia BPW has a scholarship available at the college.

McNally will bring up-to-date information on the past recipients of the Club's scholarships and will touch on projected increases in enrollments.

Public relations committee members Bebe Lindhout, Aletha Phipps, Mae Wagner, Donald A. Woodward and Chairman Virginia Barrie are sponsoring the program for the evening.

Jane Hopper, chairman of the ways and means committee, will report on plans for the BPW card party to be held Feb. 21 at St. Mary Hospital Auditorium. Plans for a dinner fashion show to be held April 18, also will be mapped.

EDWARD V. McNALLY

Altar Society Meets

The monthly meeting of the St. Raphael Rosary Altar Society will be held Tuesday, Feb. 14, at 8:15 p.m., in the parish hall.

A GALA EVENING of dancing to the strains of Tex Beneke's orchestra is set for Friday when the Redford Suburban League stages its "Moonlight Serenade" Ball at Roma Hall in Livonia. The ball begins at 9 p.m. These league members, (left to right) Doris Weber, Helen Elbing, Valerie Speros, and Jenine Duprey remind you may purchase tickets at the door, or call KE 3-3073 for reservations.

Clifford Swards Mark Anniversary

An open house celebrating the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Seward of Livonia was held Jan. 8 at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Ford, also of Livonia.

The Swards were married New Year's Day, 1917, in Quinn, Ont. They lived in Livonia 22 years.

The couple also has a son, Theodore, of Garden City, and four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Guests from Canada included Mrs. Elmer Hornick, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hornick, Miss Janet Hornick, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hartley and daughter, Bonnie, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hartley and daughter, Elizabeth, and Mrs. Harry Inison from Tilbury, Ont. Others were Mr. and Mrs. King Caldwell and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Marchand, Chatham, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Ed

Leitch and Mrs. James Michie, Sarnia, Ont.; Mrs. Violet Small, Windsor, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Seward, Corunna, Ont.

Now It's the Rouge Valley Garden Club

The Women's National Farm and Garden Association of Inkster has a new name.

Many of its members are now residents of Livonia, Garden City, Dearborn, and Dearborn Heights, which made it apparent that a name that would embrace more than just the Inkster area was needed.

"Rouge Valley" was the final decision by unanimous vote at the January meeting. Rouge Park winds its way through most of these communities and valley suggests the fertility of nature.

The Inkster Branch was organized in April, 1954 with 11 members. At present there are 20 members and one associate member. The Michigan Division is the largest of the National Association.

Mrs. Charles Casper held her third of a series of five workshops in her home in Garden City Jan. 25.

Beautiful tables were set complete with flower arrangements throughout her lovely home. Her lecture pointed out color harmony, balance, and the correct center piece needed for the most desired effect.

Mrs. Casper completed a Michigan State University course for Flower Show Judges and Teachers and has been awarded many blue ribbons for her entries in flower shows.

Jazz Evening At Mercy High In Farmington

"An Evening of Jazz" will be presented at Our Lady of Mercy High School Auditorium on Sunday, Feb. 19, at 8:15 p.m.

The concert will present 40 of Detroit's outstanding professional musicians including such name performers as Jack Brokensha, Eddie Webb, Terry Harrington, Steu Saunders, the Matt Michaels Trio, and many others. There will also be a contingent from the Detroit Symphony Orchestra to add to the "big sound" of the evening.

The program will include sections of Dixieland, Lyrical, and Progressive Jazz. The entire ensemble will participate in the premiere performance of "Pepino," a narrated jazz suite composed and conducted by Don Palmer, well known for his contribution to the music appreciation of Detroiters.

Tickets are available at Our Lady of Mercy High School, 29300 West Eleven Mile Road, Farmington, or from any Mercy student.

KATHY PINKERTON (left) and Carolyn McComb, third graders at the Stark Elementary School in Livonia, look over a couple of the dolls from Mrs. Donald Ryder's huge collection.

Livonia History Lives Again for Third Graders

Third-graders in the Livonia public schools these days are lucky kids.

Besides their reading, writing, arithmetic, and recess, they get the most pleasant taste of local history imaginable from a fine lady and gentleman qualified to administer it.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ryder have lived in this area and delved into its history all their lives. And Mrs. Ryder taught third grade for many years, so she knows about youngsters as well as history.

She gets the two together when she invites each third grade class to visit her home and see the fine collection of antiques and family mementos she and her husband have collected.

It was a joint project for Donald Ryder, fourth-generation member of one of Livonia's earliest families, and his wife when 60 children from two classrooms at the

Hill and Dale Hears Expert Landscaper

"Lady's night out — with men" is planned by members of the Hill and Dale Garden Club of Farmington Thursday, Feb. 9, at the Farmington Savings and Loan Building.

Speaker of the evening will be Robert S. Ward, chief landscape foreman of the General Motors Proving Grounds near Milford. Ward's talk will be "Michigan Miles — Safe and Beautiful."

He has been a member of the Governor's Conference on Safety and Beauty and will be a guest lecturer at the University of Michigan Landscape and Design School. Mrs. Walter Frisch will be hostess chairman. Husbands are invited.

Ryder greeted them at the door of the Ann Arbor Trail home that was brand new when they moved in 46 years ago.

The visitors — especially the girls — quickly passed over the antique furniture in the living room to exclaim in delight over the contents of the sunroom. There sat scores of dolls, big and small, old and new, of every description you could imagine.

"Are they on display just for the children?" Mrs. Ryder was asked.

"Oh no, we have them for company all the time," she said quickly.

The boys had manfully ignored the dolls — well, maybe just a quick look — and followed the man of the house downstairs to see some of the antique treasures the basement held. Soon the girls went along, too, and Mrs. Ryder began a short talk on the history of Livonia.

She began with the first residents — the dinosaurs, then the Indians and the children named the Chippewa tribe. Mrs. Ryder supplied the Pottawatomis and Hurons.

They moved on to the early settlers, Daniel Blue, George Ryder, the McKinney family.

George Ryder came from the New York area in 1827, and his great-grandson has the deed to the old homestead, signed by President John Quincy Adams, framed and hanging in a prominent spot.

Mrs. Ryder referred several times to a textbook on Livonia history the children have studied. It was written by Dr. Leonard Servetter, a former Livonia teacher.

She showed the youngsters a collection of butter churns and ladles and crocks and molds. She pointed out the spinning wheel the Ryder family brought on the long trip.

She displayed different types of old flatirons, and got an appreciative giggle when she held up the toy ones that long-ago little girls used in play.

Ryder got into the act, showing an amazing collection of banks. The children especially liked a fancy old model which had Dan'l Boone shooting pennies into a bear's mouth. He also displayed carpenter tools, a World War I gas mask and a Springfield rifle.

"Does it work?" one boy wanted to know.

"Of course it does," came the answer.

It was just a taste of history the children got before they scrambled back on the school bus. One that should give them appetite for more.

Ten Pretty Girls Vie for Teen Crown

Ten pretty girls will vie for the crown of "Miss Garden City BPW Teen Queen" at Westland Auditorium tomorrow evening.

The occasion is the annual spring fashion show put on at 8 p.m. by the Garden City Business and Professional Women Club, which is sponsoring the teen queen competition.

Scholarship, community interest, poise and business ability are stressed in the judging along with beauty.

The girls include Mary England of GC East High School, Patricia Hall of GC West High School, Dana Judycki of West, Cheryl Makowski of East, Kathy McLean of Ladywood High School, Kay Milton of West, Eileen Orr of Divine Child High School, Linda Kay Webster of Rosary High School and Sharon Zeilkowski of East.

The girls met with the judges for the first time last week in conjunction with the club's monthly dinner meeting.

Judges for the event are: Mr. Michael Gaujanian, assistant cashier of Bank of the Commonwealth; Edward McNally, Dean of Student Affairs at Schoolcraft College; Tim Murphy, mayor of Garden City; Mary Jane Wagenschutz, Past District Officer, BPW; and Irene Zakel of the John Robert Powers modeling school.

Each candidate presented a three-minute profile of herself — her background, interests and ambitions.

The girls also have met for a party at the home of Mrs. Marg Oldenburg, chairman of the competition, and picked a Miss Congeniality from their number.

Her name also will be announced when the queen is crowned.

They will display their talents before the judges and BPW members and guests at the fashion show.

VFW Auxiliary Invites Wives of Viet Veterans

Wives and mothers of veterans of the Vietnam fighting have been invited to become members of the Ladies Auxiliary of Livonia Post 3941 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Mrs. Mary Knight, auxiliary president, said the post was conducting a membership drive and would welcome as a member any interested female relative of honorably discharged or deceased veterans of any American conflict.

Members must be at least 16 years of age. Mrs. Knight said the group is active in community work, visiting veterans in hospitals, donating food and clothing to needy families and supplying youth groups with flags.

Women interested were invited to call Mrs. Edna Bierkamp, KE. 2-5295.

Fathers' Days Set at Livonia Co-op Nursery

Fathers' Days are coming to Livonia Nursery, Incorporated.

Each year a special session is held on a Sunday, so the fathers may attend with their children.

This year's sessions will be Feb. 12 for the four-year-old morning group, Feb. 26 for the four-year-old afternoon group, and March 5 for the three-year-old group.

Many a dad will "drink" a cup of coffee made from soapy water and help cut cookies from the play-dough — or see how his young son can saw all the way through a piece of wood.

Applications are being accepted for next Fall. Families previously in the nursery, or from other nurseries affiliated with the Michigan Council of Cooperative Nurseries, have priority until March 1. For information, call Mrs. Willis Bloxson, 421-7470 (four-year-old group) or Mrs. John Frakes, 427-5742 (three-year-old group).

The nursery will hold its annual fashion show March 29, at a restaurant in Plymouth. Mothers of the cooperative nursery will model fashions from Harvi's Suburban Casuals of Farmington and Plymouth. Mrs. Emily Murphy will coordinate the program. A luncheon will be served.

March of Dimes Party Scheduled for Feb. 14

The annual Livonia March of Dimes Card Party will be held Tuesday, Feb. 14, at 8 p.m. at Stevenson High School, Six Mile west of Farmington Rd.

Mrs. Robert Fox, March of Dimes chairman for Livonia, said many clubs already had reserved large blocks of tickets, but a few still are available and may be reserved by calling her at Gr. 4-1372.

In charge of the Valentine's Day party are Mrs. Cy Gliner, refreshment chairman, Mrs. Richard Funk and Mrs. Betty Bunch, door prize chairman and assistant chairman and area chairman for the Mothers March, who serve on the committee.

Mrs. Fox said all card games would be played and there would be 140 door prizes as well as table prizes.

Gloria Dei Church Scene Of Stark-Schechter Vows

The Gloria Dei Lutheran Church in Detroit was the setting for the candlelight wedding of Susan Schechter and Leonard R. Stark on Jan. 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlyle H. Schechter of Richfield Avenue in Livonia are the bride's parents. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stark of Fostoria, O.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore ivory silk-faced peau-de-soie with embroidered seed pearl and alencon lace trim. The train was chapel length.

A cluster of leaves and tiny flowers held her elbow-length veil, and her cascade

Peacock blue taffeta fashioned the gowns of maid of honor Barbara Miller of Cedar Falls, Iowa, and bridesmaids Tina Meyers of Napoleon, O., Kathy Doerthy of Duluth, Minn., and Mrs. Gordon Riser of Fostoria, sister of the bridegroom.

Pamela Worley of Troy, Mich., cousin of the bride was flower girl. She wore a dress of ivory trimmed with peacock blue.

Crawford Seeger of West Acton, Mass., was best man, and the ushers were Joe Macgiamery of Fostoria, Gordon Riser of Fostoria and Mark Schechter, brother of the bride.

A cerise coat and dress ensemble with accessories was the choice of the bride's mother, and Mrs. Stark wore beige with brown accessories. Both had white orchid corsages.

Following a reception for 150 guests at the Glen Oaks Country Club in Farmington, the couple left for a northern Michigan honeymoon.

The bride is a graduate of Bowling Green State University and a member of Alpha Phi sorority. Her husband is a senior at Purdue University where he is affiliated with Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

MRS. LEONARD STARK

Livonia Couple Married In Farmington Ceremony

Jeri Lynn Harts and Michael McDonald were united in marriage at a candlelight ceremony Dec. 3, with the Rev. Carl H. Schultz officiating at the double ring ceremony at Salem United Church of Christ in Farmington.

of Mr. and Mrs. Chris W. Harts of Livonia, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William McDonald of Livonia.

The bride chose a floor length white peau de soie gown accented with re-embroidered lace and seed pearls. Her headpiece was a cluster of peau de soie petals which topped her elbow length veil. The bride's bouquet was of feathered mums, white rose buds and holly leaves.

Maid of honor Donna Harts, sister of the bride, and bridesmaids Maggi McDonald, sister of the groom, and Judy Ellis all wore floor length gowns of emerald green velvet and satin. They carried red carnations accented with holly leaves and headpieces made of one red carnation and a cluster of holly leaves.

Charles Freels was best man, and the ushers included Patrick McDonald, brother of the bridegroom, Joseph Nye and William Prisk.

The bride's mother wore a beige lace dress trimmed with seed pearls. Mrs. McDonald chose a sapphire blue dress of crepe and chiffon.

Following a wedding reception at Colony Hall in Southfield, the couple left on their wedding trip.

The bride is a 1963 graduate of Clarenceville High School and attended Michigan State University. Her husband, a 1962 graduate of Clarenceville, attended University of Detroit and is currently attending Schoolcraft College.

Psychologist Will Speak for Dad's Night

Psychologist J. Clayton Lafferty will address the Wayne Nursery, Inc., at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 14, at St. John's Episcopal Church in Westland.

Dad's Night will be observed.

Dr. Lafferty has served as a consultant to over 75 different institutions and charitable foundations in Michigan on administrative and educational matters.

He has conducted a practice in psychotherapy since 1956 and has taught at the University of Michigan, Michigan State University and Wayne State University. He received his Ph.D. degree from the University of Michigan, is certified by the State of Michigan as a Consulting Psychologist and has served as president of the Michigan Psychological Association.

The nursery is at St. John's Church, 555 South Wayne Road. Anyone interested is invited to attend the meeting.

Handweavers to Meet

The Detroit Handweavers and Spinners will meet Friday, Feb. 10, at the International Institute, 111 E. Kirby St., Detroit, at 11 a.m.

A "Show and Tell" program will go into problems and difficulties encountered in weaving. Guests may be invited and visitors who wish to attend may call Mrs. Charles Rimon at GA 3-1089.

To Give Concert Feb. 10

Music old and new will be presented at the Winter Concert of the Wayne State University Women's Glee Club under the direction of Professor Robert A. Harris, at 8:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 10.

The public is invited to this concert, which will be held in the Community Arts Auditorium on the WSU campus. There is no admission charge.

Elaine Cattran Carries Mother's Bible for Rites

Carrying her mother's wedding Bible, Elaine Cattran became the bride of Gerald Allen in a candlelight ceremony Jan. 7 at the Garden City Presbyterian Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cattran of Garden City and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Allen of Livonia.

The Rev. R. R. Rives heard the couple's vows.

A floor-length A-line gown of white satin accented with lace and seed pearls on the bell sleeves and at the hemline was the bride's choice.

A white orchid topped the Bible, and she wore a double-tiered veil that fell from a Dior headpiece.

Jeanne O'Leary of Garden City wore a gold satin A-line dress with a jacket of deeper gold for her role as maid of honor.

Similarly-styled gowns of olive green were worn by the bridesmaids, Sue Gillespie and Mrs. Sue Simpson, both of Garden City.

Jon Beale of Livonia was best man. The guests were seated by ushers Gerry Kisabeth of Plymouth and Fred, John and Robert Sheperd of Livonia.

Mrs. Cattran wore a blue and gold suit with double-breasted jacket for her daughter's wedding, and the bridegroom's mother chose a knit suit dress of turquoise blue.

A buffet dinner for 140 guests was served in the church parlor after the ceremony. The couple honeymooned at Boyne Mountain.

The new Mrs. Allen is a graduate of Garden City High School and her husband graduated from Bentley High School. Both have attended Schoolcraft College. They will make their home in Wayne.

Girl Scouts Stage Style Show To Earn Grooming Badge

Blossoms in the Snow was the theme of a recent fashion show given by Girl Scout Cadette troop 1188. Other Girl Scout troops in the Stark-Garfield school area were invited to attend.

The troop has been working on the Good Grooming badge and completed requirements with the presentation of the fashion show.

Several consultants, including a hair stylist, a cosmetologist, a dental hygienist, a dietitian and a manicurist, worked with the girls.

Scouts modeling in the show were Diane Ashworth, Mary Ann Chick, Terri Duff, Karen Hill, Sharon Johnson, Barbara Magness, Mary Maslak, Diane Osowski, Vicky Pawlowski, Laurie Potter, Kathy Rose, Lauren Scovo, Cynthia Schall, Anne Shaffer, Peggy Shaffer, Deborah Shoner, Barbara Sutherland, Sandy Welch and Melissa Zick. Toni Davis played the recorded background music.

Adult committee members helping the girls on committees were: Mrs. Eldon Brieschke, worked with the modeling and wrote the commentary; Mrs. Robert Hill and Mrs. Phillip Scavo, staging and decorations; Mrs. Melvin Potter, hospitality and Mrs. Paul Shaffer, publicity. Mrs. Elek Torok and Mrs. Melvin Potter are troop leaders.

Nursery Sets Valentine's Potluck Dinner

The Redford Township Cooperative Nursery will serve its annual potluck dinner for nursery fathers Tuesday, Feb. 14, at 7 p.m. at the Parkway Heights Methodist Church on Plymouth.

Gerald Kratz, former art instructor at Thurston High School, will speak on "Art for the Pre-school Child," and Stewart Shauder, teacher in the South Redford school district, will speak on "Science and the Pre-school Child."

The nursery school made its annual visit to the Fire Station at Five Mile and Beech Daly Road recently. The children were permitted to board the fire truck and examine the fireman's equipment during the tour.

Hair Stylist Recommends Color To Change Facial Contours

Color used expertly on the hair can actually make a woman's face take on prettier proportions, nicer contours.

That word comes from Mr. Barry, color stylist at the beauty salon at Crowley's in the Livonia Mall.

"Highlighting hair," says Mr. Barry, recently returned from New York with new beauty secrets, "can be the best answer to reshaping facial features short of plastic surgery."

"Naturally, putting color just anywhere on the hair won't get the results you want," he adds. "Highlighting must be done in the areas where your face needs balance for more pleasing symmetry."

Following this theory, the beautiful results are a round face suddenly longer and lovelier; a long face shorter, softer looking.

Notice that this is not a bizarre vogue of color extremes. Quite the contrary. The treated areas are only a shade or two lighter than the rest of the hair. The effect must be subtle, natural looking or this sleight of hand illusion fails.

A woman with dark blonde hair may choose sections highlighted with an ash blonde. Light brunette would be best with in-between blonde tone and auburn with titian.

Mr. Barry's idea is to have the highlighted areas just that—highlighted sun-kissed looking and nothing more. "You want the viewer's eye to be attracted to that level and away from the other proportions," he said.

For a round face—highlighting at center-top section of her hair will make her face seem longer and lovelier. By leaving the side sections darker, the narrowing effect is furthered.

For a long-face—bangs will cut down the facial length and bouffant styling at sides for needed width. Lightened sides make the sides seem fuller and wider.

Low forehead—will seem

Historian Will Address Livonia Club

Mrs. Donald Ryder, president of the Livonia Historical Society will be the guest speaker at the Feb. 16, meeting of the Livonia City Women's Club.

Mrs. Ryder will trace the history of Livonia from its early settlers, who were mostly from New York State, to the present. She will also bring items to show what the pioneer women used in their homes.

The inspiration message will be given by Mrs. Burdette Clark.

Regular meetings of the Livonia City Woman's Club are held at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, 27475 Five Mile Road, the third Thursday of the month at one o'clock. Ladies interested in may call Mrs. James Bertetto, membership chairman, at GA 2-5504.

Community Band Sets Mid-Winter Concert Sunday

The Plymouth Community Band, made up of musicians from Plymouth, Livonia, Northville, Ann Arbor and as far away as New Hudson, will present its annual mid-winter concert Sunday in the Plymouth High auditorium at 3:15 p.m.

Highspot of the afternoon program, under the direction of James Griffith, band director of the Plymouth High, will be a tuba solo by three of the top performers including Keith Burton, Ron Jones and Vic Ferrari.

The band, which presents seven summer concerts under the sponsorship of the Plymouth Credit Union in Kellogg Park, is comprised of volunteers who play to maintain their interest in music.

The annual mid-winter concert traditionally specializes in the tunes the public likes to hear.

The program includes:

- Americans We March by Fillmore.
- Three Bach Chorales, arranged by William Ellner.
- Light Calvary Overture by Von Suppe.
- Suite of Old American Dances by R. Bennett.
- When Jesus Wept by William Schumann.
- Concertante (Tuba Solo) by Walters.
- Selections from Porgy and Bess by Gershwin-Bennett.
- Pines of the Appian Way by Respighi.
- Pastels by William McRae.
- Fantasia on Dixie by Emmett-Dragon.
- Garland Entree March by K. L. King.
- The Huntress March by K. L. King.
- The Pathfinder of Panama March by John P. Sousa.

Attend Annual Conference

Three Plymouth veterinarians, Cliff McClumpha, Joseph Svoboda and Richard Thompson attended the 44th annual Postgraduate Conference for Veterinarians at Michigan State University.

Over 400 practicing veterinarians and students from Michigan and other states heard specialists discuss the latest advances in the treatment of farm and home animals at MSU's Kellogg Center for Continuing Education.

Socially Speaking

The Plymouth Historical Society will get together Thursday at the Plymouth Credit Union at 7:30 p.m. Everyone interested is invited to attend.

A Mardi Gras Ball is planned by the Theatre Guild at the American Legion Hall in Northville on Feb. 18 at 8:30 p.m. The Monterays will be on hand to furnish the music and tickets may be obtained by calling Jane Powell at 453-3116 or Jan Schwarz at FI 9-3129. Chairman of the event is Mrs. William Bevier and a mid-night supper is planned with dress being optional.

Burr Quits Township Job

Disappointed with the cooperation he received from the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees during his eight month term as Director of Public Safety, William Burr Tuesday terminated his duties after turning in his resignation Monday night in a special meeting of the Board.

Burr, who served 25 years with the Detroit Fire Department, retiring as a Lieutenant, became the first Director of Public Safety for the Township last June 1.

His appointment came after several months of work by the Trustees interviewing candidates, setting a salary for the job and determining the duties.

Prior to his Plymouth post, Burr had served as an industrial fire control consultant for the University of Michigan and as Fire Commissioner for the City of Warren.

In hiring him, the Trustees asked for recommendations to upgrade the Township Fire Department and also appointed Burr to the area police study committee. The latter is studying the possibility of a Police Authority to handle five or six adjoining communities.

From that point on it became apparent that either the Township wasn't ready for a Director of Public Safety or the Board had no intentions of following any of the recommendations.

Burr received his first setback when he presented a seven-page fire code which the Board promptly slashed to two pages and removed many of the items Burr had thought were needed.

Then he made a request to the Board for 10 additional firefighters, giving reasons why he thought they were needed.

The Trustees listened to his request and then informed him there wasn't any money in the budget to cover as much as one additional man.

Later, Burr told the Board the Fire Department was short some 3,200 feet of hose necessary to bring the department up to standard.

Once again he was turned down with the answer that the matter should be brought up at the next budget session.

During his eight months, Burr sought a pension plan for the firemen and also recommended pay hikes. The pension is still in a study group and probably will fade out of existence now that he is leaving.

The pay increase was discussed as late as last week when Burr met with the Trustees to discuss the 1967-68 budget.

Socially Speaking Around Plymouth

By Dorothy Sincock GL 3-0038
(Call to report social events in your family, neighborhood)

Benefiting the Community Opportunity Center with hats and more hats will be ladies of the VFW Auxiliary when they sponsor the Easter Bonnet spree on Feb. 15. Co-Chairing the event are Virginia Bartel and Marian Skoglund who promise another outstanding event. A donation of a dollar and weather permitting, the orchestra and chorus from St. Lewis School for Boys in Chelsea will entertain.

Can't get to Las Vegas? The Odd Fellows Hall at 344 Elizabeth St. will be the scene of a "Millionaire party" sponsored by Newcomers on Feb. 18. Games followed by a midnight buffet and a donation of $1.50. The event is open to members and prospective members until Monday, Feb. 13 after which guests may attend.

Reservations will be handled by Mrs. Howard Olford, A thru M, 453-7538 or Mrs. Wendell Huogh, N thru Z, 453-8261 and cancellations will not be accepted 24 hours before the party.

A Valentine party for the Tops Club at the home of Mrs. May Lundin featured a pantomime with Mary Ann Robertson, Phyllis Michel, Pat Stoddard and Shirley Underwood doing the gestures.

Feb. 13, the 60 Plus Club will hold its regular monthly meeting. Pot luck will be served at 12 o'clock followed by a business meeting and entertainment. The doors of the Methodist Church will open at 9 o'clock for those who wish to work on the various projects the club sponsors.

TICKETS ARE on sale for the annual Plymouth Woman's Club luncheon and fashion show to be held Feb. 27 at the Elks Club. Fashions by Kay's of Plymouth followed by cards with Mrs. Edwin Wingard chairman of the event.

Mrs. James Albrecht organized an excursion for Catholic pre-school religion teachers to Awreys Bakery in Detroit recently. Approximately 25 attended. The group were treated to coffee and assorted pastries besides coming home with treats for the kiddies.

Already starting the ground work for the Easter Lily Sale are co-chairmen Mrs. Earl Merriman and Mrs. Richard Stuart. Each year the Rotary Anns sponsor the paper lily sale to benefit the crippled children of the area. This year the date has been set for March 17 and 18.

Panhellenic bridge has not yet come up with the winner due to inclement weather. One of the sessions at the James Garber residence has been postponed until Feb. 14. Proceeds from the event are used to provide a scholarship to an outstanding Plymouth senior high school girl who has shown qualities of leadership and scholarship to the school and community and is planning to go to college.

TRAINABLE YOUNG ADULTS are finding new hope in two workshops for mentally handicapped. New Horizons in Farmington Township (top) and the Community Opportunities Center in Livonia (below). The community can help in these ventures.

New Hope Is There; More Help Is Needed

New hope for a once-lost segment of our working force now can be found in two elderly buildings in this area.

Members of this segment are men and women who are mentally or emotionally handicapped—but capable of being trained in simple tasks.

And the hope they are finding is housed in an old school building in Livonia that is now the Community Opportunity Center and a weather-beaten barn in Farmington Township that opened its doors to New Horizons.

Both places are essentially sheltered factories, where small jobs for local industries are turned out and the workers who master the simple necessary skills are paid a regular wage.

Both are performing the necessary function of instilling self-respect and usefulness into people who once had no real part in society, as well as saving the taxpayer dollars that would be needed later to support them.

And both, if they keep on making this contribution, have asked continuing support of the community as a whole.

The Community Opportunity Center, located at Plymouth and Newburg Roads, has been in operation more than a year.

Its workers come from Livonia, Plymouth, Northville and Redford Township. They are referred by the Michigan Department of Vocational Rehabilitation.

Over the time it has been operating, a total of 28 trainees have been at its work benches. But recently only four were working—one one job was on hand.

In recent months The Community Opportunity Center has turned out several simple assembly jobs, with the money paid for them going into the wages of workers.

Director Ernest Moran and foreman Rhea Johnson said they were pleased with the progress made by several employees, and hoped to reach a large number of additional trainable workers. To do this, they added, more jobs are needed.

In Farmington Township, the New Horizons center has been underway just a few weeks, and there is much room for expansion.

Early assignments in Farmington included assembling a conveyor chain and salvaging fuse boxes by filing off a printed name. Some of the workers have been busy setting up more work benches in the barn that was renovated by Norman Lawton, owner of Star Cutter Co.

Missionaries to Highlight Community Church World Vision Conference

The Southfield Community Church, 21122 Indian, will hold its nineteenth annual World Vision Conference Feb. 12-19.

Opening speaker of the conference will be Rev. Alfred Larsen, missionary to the Congo who will speak Sunday, Feb. 12 at 9:45 and 11 a.m. A prisoner of the Simbas in Stanleyville during the rebel uprising of 1964, Mr. Larsen and his wife were rescued by paratroopers.

The evening speaker will be Rev. James L. Johnson, engaged in distributing evangelical literature world-wide, who will show a film at 6:30 p.m. and speak at the 7 p.m. service. Special music under the direction of Douglas Bayne will be featured in the evening.

Week night meetings will begin on Monday at 7:30 p.m. with Rev. Ray Loyola of Latin America, showing pictures and speaking. His pictures will include scenes of the Revolutions in the Dominican Republic.

David Wang, who works with Chinese intellectuals in the Philadelphia area will speak on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. With his family still behind the bamboo curtain, Mr. Wang represents the Chinese of the mainland as well as those in the universities of this country.

A highlight of the Conference will be an All Nations Family Supper on Wednesday. The menu will include numerous exotic dishes from several countries of the world prepared by ladies of the church. Dr. Robert Foster, medical missionary in Zambia will speak and show pictures at 7:45 p.m.

Rhodesia will be represented on Thursday at 7:30 by Rev. Charles Pruitt. This will be Sunday School night, when all the classes are asked to be present with their teachers and all who attend will be given a souvenir from Ecuador.

A sports ambassador will speak to the many children and young people who will be attending the Friday service at 7:30 p.m. Mr. Roy Thompson is director of Sports Ambassadors which sends a basketball team overseas to play National Olympic Teams and between periods

Sweetheart Dinner Slated

Members of the Detroit Northwest Christian Women's Club will entertain their husbands at the annual Sweetheart Dinner at 7 p.m. on Thursday at Devon Gables.

Tom Watson, of Wheaton, Ill., radio and film secretary of the Evangelical Alliance Mission, will speak, and inspiration music will be provided by Jerry Smith of the Livonia public schools music department and his wife Sharon.

A fashion show of furs also will be included in the evening's entertainment.

World Prayer Day Noted

The United Church Women of Garden City will gather at 8 p.m. Friday, Feb. 10, at the Presbyterian Church at Middlebelt and John Hauk, minister of the Grosse Pointe Farms Methodist Church, will be the speaker. The prayer service to be used was written by Queen Tupou of the Tonga Islands and was composed when she had but a few months to live.

Open House Is Planned In GC Unity Movement

St. John's Episcopal Church, 555 S. Wayne Road, will be host at an "Open House" Sunday, Feb. 12 for members of the neighborhood churches who are participating in "Operation: Getting to Know You." The hours will be 3 to 5 p.m.

During the week of Prayer for Christian Unity, the committee representing St. Richard's Catholic Church, Kirk of Our Savior (Presbyterian), Holy Cross Lutheran, Good Shepherd Reformed, Grace Moravian Church, and St. John's Episcopal was asked to arrange a series of open houses at the respective churches so that greater depth of understanding could be reached.

The desire was for more time to ask questions about one another and to enjoy informal fellowship with fellow-Christians.

The result was that a series is planned on a monthly basis beginning at St. John's Episcopal on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 12, and going to Good Shepherd Reformed on March 12 and the following dates set up for the future: April 2 at Grace Moravian, April 16 at Holy

Is there something more to life?

Perhaps you feel there is. If you want a wholeness and richness to life beyond the ordinary—more happiness, a more expansive love, even more life to live, then what you really need is an understanding that God is Life. Hear this public lecture "The Way of Abundant Life" by PAUL K. WAVRO, C.S.B., a member of the Board of Lecturership of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

Atonement Is Stressed For Lent

The pastors of Hosanna-Tabor Lutheran Church announce themes for the Wednesday evening Lenten Services to be centered in the great Christian doctrine of the atonement.

"Since there seems to be so many people today that don't seem to understand their need for the church and since many church members evidently feel that their membership isn't very vital, we decided to preach on this very basic teaching of Christ and the Bible, pastors R. G. Pranschke and E. M. Hadwiger said in a statement.

All the people in the community are welcome to these services. Hosanna-Tabor is located at 9600 Levee, north of West Chicago, between Beech-Daly and Inkster Road.

The services begin on Ash Wednesday (tonight) and continue each Wednesday until Holy Week. The first service is at 6:30 p.m. and is especially designed for children or family worship. A film strip series "In Our Stead" is to be shown each week. The sermon will also be more on the children's level.

The second service will be at 7:30 p.m. with the same theme being used. The complete Passion of our Lord will be read.

Evangelical Covenant Church Will Hold 27th Annual Midwinter Conference Here

Some 270 delegates from coast to coast will attend sessions of the 27th annual Midwinter Conference of the Evangelical Covenant Church of America Feb. 13-17 in the Evangelical Covenant Church, 24331 West Eight Mile.

Principal speaker Dr. David Hubbard, president of Fuller Theological Seminary in Pasadena, Calif., will examine the theme, "Preaching Today."

Analysis and discussion of the recent World Congress on Evangelism in Berlin, Covenant Home Missions and social services are scheduled during the day, with evening services for the general public set for 7:45 p.m. Feb. 14, 15, and 16.

Dr. Hubbard, who has a PhD degree from St. Andrew's University, Scotland, is also a professor of the Old Testament. His topics will deal with the Old Testament and the sovereignty and righteousness of God, the meaning of discipleship, the sanctity of marriage, and the new morality.

Also taking part are Dr. Clarence A. Nelson, president of the 65,000 member denomination; his son, Rev. Craig Nelson, pastor of the Dearborn Covenant Church; Rev. John Bergman of the Bethany Covenant Church, Warren; Rev. Milton Engebretson, Covenant secretary and president-elect; Karl Olsson, president of North Park College and Theological Seminary, Chicago; Joseph C. Danielson, executive secretary of Home Missions; and William Eggers, vice-president of the American Association of Homes for the Aging.

Paul K. Wavro Slated to Give Science Talk

The meaning of Christ's statement about coming to bring men life "more abundantly" will be explored in depth at a Christian Science public lecture in Detroit on Feb. 9.

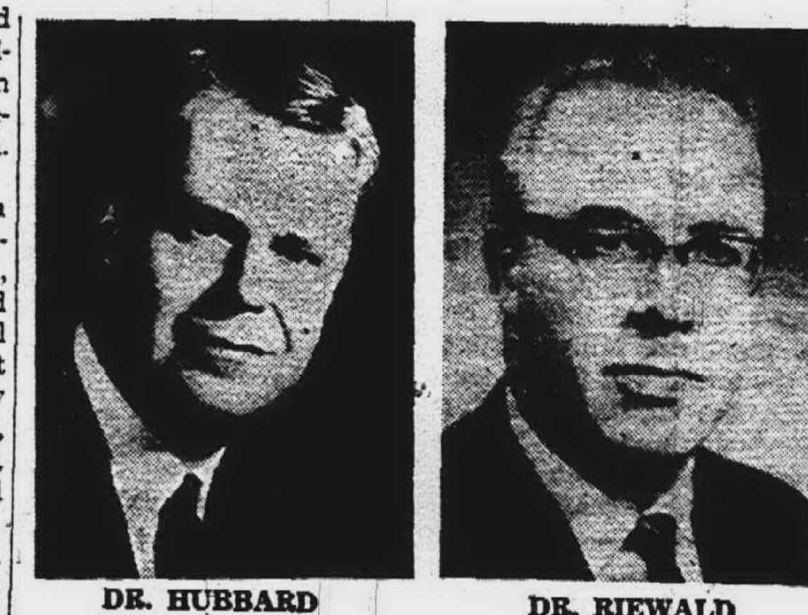

Paul K. Wavro, C.S.B., will be the speaker, under sponsorship of Fifth Church of Christ, Scientist. The event begins at 8 p.m. in the church edifice, 17425 Second Boulevard, Detroit.

Title of the lecture is "The Way of Abundant Life."

Mr. Wavro is a member of the Board of Lecturers of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. He has lectured in Europe, the Caribbean and South America and is currently on tour of this country.

He is a recipient of the De Molay Legion of Honor for achievement in his chosen field of endeavor.

During World War II he served as a Christian Science wartime minister, withdrawing from business to devote full time to the healing practice of Christian Science. He has since become an authorized teacher of Christian Science and resides in Jacksonville, Florida.

DR. HUBBARD

Christian Education workers and counselors to junior and senior high-age students will feature a lecture by Dr. Arthur Riewald, director of the Marriage and Family Consultation program of Oakland County.

Dr. Riewald, a certified psychologist with his doctorate from Michigan State University, is also a part-time faculty member at Wayne State University and the Institute for Advanced Pastoral Studies. His topic will be "Understanding the Adolescent."

Youth workers will also hear Prof. Zenos Hawkinson of North Park College and Rev. Arthur W. Anderson of Minneapolis, Minn., discuss new ideas for working with today's young people.

Bible College Concert Set

The Detroit Bible College 28-Voice Women's Chorus will present a concert at 7 p.m., Feb. 26 at Warrendale Community Church, 19700 Ford Rd.

Leon G. Anderson, Director of the Chorus, has a bachelor of music and a master of music from the Detroit Conservatory of Music. He has also studied at Northwestern University, Wayne State University, and Oakland University under Robert Shaw, director of the famed Robert Shaw Choral.

Writer Will Address CC Mother's Club

Father William Cunningham, writer for the Michigan Catholic, will speak on "The Evolution of Women" before the Catholic Central Mothers' Club Thursday, Feb. 16, at 8:30 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

Mr. Wavro is a member of the Board of Lecturers of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. He has lectured in Europe, the Caribbean and South America and is currently on tour of this country.

Rev. Pelham Joins Call For Vietnam Protest Fast

The Rev. Joseph Pelham of Trinity Episcopal Church in Farmington is joining a group of Detroit area clergy who are calling on fellow ministers to join them in a fast showing their personal anguish over the Vietnam war.

The group making the call numbers 22, many of whom have just returned from an inter-faith mobilization in Washington on January 31-February 2.

The 2,500 religious leaders present in Washington issued a call for all concerned persons to join in a fast for three days, Feb. 8-10.

The period of the fast will coincide with the beginning of Lent and the Buddhist New Year. Likewise, it will be held at the same time as the temporary cease-fire in Vietnam, and will express the desire that the cease-fire be continued.

The clergy are asking others to join with them each evening at 8 p.m. during the fast for a period of prayer and penitence for our involvement and "silent anguish." On Feb. 8, they will gather at St. John the Evangelist Roman Catholic Church, 2236 E. Grand Blvd. The following night, Feb. 9, they will hold a service at Berea Methodist Church, 400 LaBelle in Highland Park. The Friday evening meeting, Feb. 10, will be at St. Joseph's Episcopal Church, 8850 Woodward.

Sisterhood Will Hold Rummage Sale

The Sisterhood of the Livonia Jewish Congregation will hold a rummage sale Tuesday, Feb. 14, from 7:30 until 10 p.m. and Wednesday, Feb. 15, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, at the Synagogue building, 29475 West Six Mile, Livonia.

Rummage for sale will include clothing, books, household goods, and furniture. For further information call Mrs. Morris Herman, GA 7-0197.

There is a better way

Old barriers are broken and new accomplishments made possible because men become convinced there's "a better way." Once you've discovered what it means to rely on spiritual power—to commit yourself to God's purpose and means—then for you, it's the only way. GEORGE A. HANCE. Services were held Monday for Mr. Hance, 67, of 15758 Southampton St., Livonia, who died after an illness of two months at Garden City Oseopathic Hospital. Arrangements were completed by the R.G. and G.R. Harris Funeral Home.

Born in Bay City, he came to this community 28 years ago and was a member of St. Maurice Roman Catholic Church. He had worked for an engineer for the Wayne County Road Commission and had retired in 1963.

Survivors include his wife, Arnetta; one daughter, Mrs. Melvin (Dorothy) Corwin of Plymouth; and two grandchildren.

ROBERT WOOD. Services were held for Mr. Wood, 52, of 2800 Marion Street, Redford Township, who died suddenly at Parkview Medical Center. Arrangements were completed by the Harry J. Will Funeral Home.

Born in Michigan, he was employed by the Detroit News as a copy editor. Fellow workers at the News extolled his ability. Stoddard White News staff writer, said that Mr. Wood missed work because of the weather Feb. 27, for the first time in his life. Shoveling snow at his home aggravated a heart condition which caused his death.

Columnist Doc Greene wrote, "He could ignite a reporter, electrify a copy desk. . . he was better than all of us but modestly."

Survivors include his wife, Mary; and one sister, Dorothy of San Francisco, Calif.

MRS. MILDRED McRANNOLDS. Services for Mrs. McRannolds, 63, of 38751 Varen, Redford, were conducted in the Schroeder Funeral Home in charge of Rev. Paul Greer with burial in Cadillac Memorial Gardens West.

Mrs. McRannolds died Feb. 2 in Wayne County General Hospital following a long illness. She had resided in the community since 1923.

Surviving are: a son, Donald of Plymouth; two brothers, Nelson Lehmbeck of Detroit and Charles Lehmbeck of Lincoln Park; two sisters, Mrs. Leona Baker of Detroit and Mrs. Emmaline Goldsmith of Dearborn Heights; and one granddaughter.

RUSTY LEE MARTEN. 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto W. Marten of 29728 E. 10th St., Farmington Township, died Jan. 31 at Children's Hospital following a lengthy illness.

The Rev. Carl F. Mehl officiated at the Feb. 3 services at the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church, Burial was in Winfield, Kansas. The Hensley-Sundquist Home handled the arrangements.

In addition to her parents, Rusty is survived by three brothers, Robert, Richard and Charles, all of Detroit; and two sisters, Charlotte and Nancy, all at home. Also surviving are her grandparents, Mrs. Hensley-Sundquist, Home handled the arrangements.

RUSSELL O. OBEN. Services were held yesterday (Feb. 7) for Mr. Oben, 62, of 17322 Park Lane, Livonia, who died after an illness of three years at his home. Arrangements were completed by the R.G. and G.R. Harris Funeral Home.

Born in Rogers City, he came to this community 15 years ago and was a member of the First Baptist Church of Livonia. He had worked for the past 15 years at Ford Motor Co. where he was a metallurgist. Prior to that, he worked for Fisher Body Corp. for 19 years.

Survivors include his wife, Alice; one daughter, Mrs. Frances Rose of Livonia; two sons, Russell of Flint and Robert of Westland; one brother, Vernon of Farmdale; and seven grandchildren.

JOHN A. WILHAM. Services were held Feb. 4 for Mr. Wilham, 80, of 8864 Hartzel, Livonia, who died suddenly at Parkview Medical Center. Arrangements were completed by the R.G. and G.R. Harris Funeral Home.

Born in Canada, he came to this community 15 years ago and was a member of the Alpha Baptist Church. He retired in 1953 after 30 years with the Halland Furnace Co. where he worked as an installer.

Survivors include his wife, Gertrude; one daughter, Mrs. Shirley Smith, two sons, James and Robert; two sisters, Mrs. Shirley Smith and Mrs. Mary Elliot; and seven grandchildren.

LUCIA D'ARCANGELO. Services were held for Mrs. D'Arcangelo, 75, of 28980 Dawson Street, Garden City, the St. Dunstan's Catholic Church, Monday morning. Burial was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Mrs. D'Arcangelo, who died Feb. 3 in her home, had been a resident of Garden City for the past two years. The services were arranged by the Harry J. Will Funeral Home, Garden City.

'Death of A Salesman' Opens Feb. 17 at Barn

"Death of a Salesman" will open Feb. 17 for a three weekend run at the Farmington Players Barn on 12 Mile Rd. in Farmington Township.

Curtain time for this production of the prize-winning drama by Arthur Miller is 8:30 p.m. Tickets may be reserved by contacting Fran and Harry Kezerka at 626-2633.

Directed by Nancy Harrower, the cast includes: George Britton, Bessie Hannan, Bill Salisbury, Jim Blovits, and Joel Hepner. Cliff Dickson has designed the set.

Recognized as one of the most poignant statements of man, as he must face himself, to come out of American theatre, "Salesman" is concerned with man's inescapable problem, himself. The play is a tragedy, modern and personal.

Its central figure is a "little man," sentenced to discover his smallness rather than a big man undone by his greatness. Miller writes of the torment of family tensions, the compensations of friendship and the heart-break that goes with broken pride and lost confidence.

Teen Age Admission Price Lowered

The Terrace Theatre in Livonia is among the group of movie theaters which have announced a new admission price policy for young teenagers.

Under the new policy, youngsters under the age of 16 will be admitted for the same price as children. Previously any one person over the age of 12 had to pay an adult rate.

Suburban Detroit Theatres, Inc. and Community Theatres announced the change in policy at a joint announcement.

Theatres affected by the change are: Terrace, Mercury, Northland, Norwest, Radio City, Vogue, Alger, Village, Gateway, Wyandotte Main, Annex, along with the Punch and Judy, Redford, Royal Oak and the Mt. Clemens Jewel.

Craftsmen's Show Is Now Underway

The Michigan Craftsmen's Council Show is now open, at the Bloomfield Art Association and will close Feb. 26. Hours of the show, open to the public at no charge, are 2 to 5 p.m., Tuesday through Sunday.

William G. Case of Plymouth is president of the Michigan Craftsmen's Council. He is a teacher in the Northville Public Schools and has exhibited his work in numerous shows throughout the state.

The second show is a competitive exhibition which seeks to present the best work of artist craftsmen residing in Michigan. It was judged by the director of the American Archives, William Wolfender.

DIRECTOR JIM WATRING (right) blocks a scene with Howard Halstead and Shirley Hulet for the upcoming Livonia-Redford Theatre Guild production "Come Back Little Sheba." Tickets for the Feb. 24, 25 and 26 performance at Bentley High School are now available by calling GA. 1-0114 or KE. 7-8109.

Theatre Guild Buys Building in Redford

The Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford, which is in rehearsal for "Come Back Little Sheba," has finally realized its dream of "getting tangible roots."

After 13 years of constant moving from one borrowed storage space to another and depending on the kindness of others, the Theatre Guild has found a permanent "home." The group has purchased a building on Beech-Daly Rd. directly across from The Redford Township Hall.

There is sufficient area in the unpartitioned building to allow room for storage, set construction, and general meetings. For years, the Guild has searched for a building which could be purchased by its limited budget, but yet provide the necessary space for the many requirements of a community theatre.

The new home comes at an opportune time for the Theatre Guild, as it is just starting construction of the set for "Come Back Little Sheba." Director Jim Watring and producer Ed Toland have approved final sketches and plans for the set which will represent a triumph in bad housekeeping. The construction crew is aiming at a two-week project in order to allow the cast at least one week to work with full equipment.

The living room and kitchen of an old house in a Midwestern city are to be depicted in this comedy-drama about a middle-aged married couple who cling together only out of desperation.

The general slovenliness of the wife, Lola, is one of the several irritations that finally drives her husband, Doc, to a terrific binge, and provides the play with a scene which is said to be so startling that it leaves audiences stunned.

Shirley Hulet and Dr. Howard Halstead play the leading parts of the disillusioned and tired couple in the presentation by the Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford at Bentley High School Feb. 24, 25, and 26.

The cast of eight also includes other stage veterans and three new faces to local audiences.

Miss Wedge's final scene with Mr. Ferrer is well worth the price of admission to this stunning musical play. She pleads with the dying Spanish noble

"MONKEYS GO HOME"

A MEMBER OF: SUBURBAN DETROIT THEATRES

Wally Roberts GOING UP 'CURTAIN'

"The world is a dungheap and we're just maggots feeding off it," the tavern tart Aldonza spits these words out hatefully when Don Quixote confronts her with a more idealistic, romantic picture of the world... in the musical play, "Man of La Mancha" at the Fisher Theater.

"Man of La Mancha" is a disturbing, yet intriguing musical. Its theme is the constant battle man has against the harsh conditions of the world. The fight he has to hang on to his illusions, to constantly grasp for the unreachable star, the side of man that persists in trying to right wrongs.

No scantily-dressed chorus girls people the stage in "Man of La Mancha" nor do we hear fluffy lyrics. This musical play is decidedly different and audiences either fall completely in love with "La Mancha" or they reject it since it is not the usual formula-type musical comedy.

Jose Ferrer performs magnificently in his three roles; Miguel De Cervantes, Don Quixote, and the Spanish noble who finally realizes Don Quixote is but a figment of his imagination. The death scene of the Spanish noble at the conclusion was done with such tenderness and compassion that many an eye at the Fisher misted. Jose is the type of performer that pulls out all the stops at every performance. Old Wally thoroughly enjoyed Ferrer's intense, highly-charged interpretation of the "Man of La Mancha."

The New York company after a year's run is still selling out. The National touring company is in every respect as good as the original. Wilbur Evans as The Innkeeper provides subtle comic relief. Similarly the Padre (Dale Malone) and the Barber (Taylor Reed) are brilliant in their singing and acting assignments.

Maura K. Wedge as Aldonza deserves top honors for just getting through the performance. The muleteers maul her, drag her across the floor, and haul her around like a bag of meal. She must ache in every bone after each performance.

Miss Wedge must have a penchant for these rough-house roles since she received similar treatment at the hands of Bill Sykes in "Oliver" which she played prior to this rowdy musical play.

Art Gallery Sets Hours For Theatre Visits to the Art Gallery during the intermission at Oakland University's Meadow Brook Theatre have been so popular that evening hours have been extended for the new exhibition.

Curator Kiichi Usui said that the Gallery will be open each night except Monday from 7 to 10 p.m., in addition to regular hours of 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. on those same days.

An exhibition of 70 original engravings, etchings and woodcuts from the high Renaissance and early Baroque periods, on loan from the George Binet Print Collection, opened this week and will continue through Feb. 26. The closing date coincides with the end of the four-week run of Shakespeare's "Love's Labor Lost," the second play in the Premier Season of the John Fernald Company of the Meadow Brook Theatre.

Artist To Speak

William H. Peck, associate curator at the Detroit Institute of Arts, will speak at tonight's (Feb. 8) meeting of the Farmington Artists' Club. He will discuss "Michigan Artists Past and Present."

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the First Farmington Savings and Loan Bank on Orchard Lake Rd. in the City of Farmington.

Leon Bibb Slates Feb. 21 Performance in Southfield

Singing star Leon Bibb will be presented by Oakland Community College on Tuesday, Feb. 21, at Southfield High School, 10 Mile Rd. and Lahser.

Bibb, who played the lead in the Kurt Weill musical hit, "Lost in the Stars," has also appeared on several Ed Sullivan and Steve Allen television shows.

He is assisted by guitarist-arranger Stuart Scharf, who also acts as his musical director.

The final attraction in this season's OCC Contrast series, curtain for the Leon Bibb concert is at 8 p.m.

African Life Examined At Institute

An American couple and their two young daughters move from the United States to Africa where they encounter a strange and exciting culture. This is the plot of "Drums of Destiny," a technicolor film in the Detroit Institute of Arts Great Stories in Film program for Saturday, Feb. 18.

Sharing experiences with the native children, they make Africa their home and it becomes an integral, unforgettable part of their lives. Outstanding photography and being able to identify with the American family make this film a memorable drama-travelogue for youngsters and adults. It is based on the book, "With the Michaels in Africa."

"Drums of Destiny" will be shown in the museum auditorium at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Admission is free.

'Music Man' Set at John Glenn High School

John Glenn High School is presenting Meredith Willson's famous "Music Man," Feb. 16, 17 and 18. Curtain time is 8 p.m. Norm Logan and Sue Osborn have the leading roles as Harold Hill and Marion Paroo.

Tickets will be sold at Wayne Music Center and at John Glenn High School or at the door for all three performances. The play will be held at the Wayne Community Auditorium on Glenwood Road in Wayne.

Places In Contest

Carol Midey Mytnik of Warner St. in the City of Farmington has won a prize in "The Color of Thursday" conducted for free lance writers by Writer's Digest Magazine. She placed 115th in the 200 winners of the fourth annual contest.

Art Gallery Sets Hours For Theatre

Visits to the Art Gallery during the intermission at Oakland University's Meadow Brook Theatre have been so popular that evening hours have been extended for the new exhibition.

Curator Kiichi Usui said that the Gallery will be open each night except Monday from 7 to 10 p.m., in addition to regular hours of 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. on those same days.

An exhibition of 70 original engravings, etchings and woodcuts from the high Renaissance and early Baroque periods, on loan from the George Binet Print Collection, opened this week and will continue through Feb. 26. The closing date coincides with the end of the four-week run of Shakespeare's "Love's Labor Lost," the second play in the Premier Season of the John Fernald Company of the Meadow Brook Theatre.

Artist To Speak

William H. Peck, associate curator at the Detroit Institute of Arts, will speak at tonight's (Feb. 8) meeting of the Farmington Artists' Club. He will discuss "Michigan Artists Past and Present."

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the First Farmington Savings and Loan Bank on Orchard Lake Rd. in the City of Farmington.

Rug Hooking Course Set At Village

The art of hooking rugs, one of many early American crafts, is again being offered as a course of instruction each week at Greenfield Village.

The new rug hooking class will be conducted each Wednesday from 9 a.m. until noon beginning Feb. 22 in the Cotton Gin Mill at the Village. Robert Kaiser of the Crafts department is the instructor.

Basic techniques of hooking, the art of shading, choice of materials and colors are covered in detail. Enrollment is limited to twelve students.

Persons interested in enrolling in the next six-week class should contact the Crafts department at the Village. (271-1620, ext. 235).

Art Workshops Set At 3 Local Centers

Registrations are now being accepted for spring sessions of Art Workshops for Young People, sponsored by the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts and conducted at the museum and in six suburban areas.

Included in the suburban areas are Farmington, Garden City and Livonia.

All classes meet on Saturdays and because the classes fill rapidly, early enrollment is essential. The workshops will last five weeks.

Instructors for the Art Workshops are artists familiar with the techniques and problems of both teaching and learning the mastery of various art media. Materials used include paint, charcoal, clay, paper and new experimental materials.

Classes for the lower grades (1-4) will be one and a half hours long while sessions for older students will last two hours.

Locations for the workshop in the area are the Garden City Library at 2012 Middlebelt; Larkshire School at 23800 Tuck Rd., Farmington, and Whitman Junior High School, 32306 W. Chicago, Livonia.

Instruction begins for grades 1-4 on March 4, while the sessions begin April 15 for grades 5-12.

Workshops will be held at the Detroit Institute of Arts for grades 1-6 beginning March 4, and grades 7-12 beginning April 15.

Robert E. Benjamin, art consultant for the Farmington Public Schools, commented that "Students interested in art, not only those especially talented, are encouraged to participate. Each class session deals with a different art medium that the student is encouraged to deal with creatively."

Application forms may be obtained at the local centers or by contacting the Education Department of the Art Institute at 831-0360. A $9.50 materials fee will be charged.

Deadline for returning the forms, which should be mailed directly to the Art Institute, is Feb. 18.

Astronauts Put Scouting at Top

Young people start out the same, but the activities of their youth determine what they will be like when they are adults.

Astronaut James A. McDivitt expressed this opinion as he praised the Boy Scouts of America for its program for youth.

"All young people start out the same. They all have a lot of energy, a great amount of intelligence, and they want to do something with this," McDivitt said.

"I think that the thing that separates the good people from the bad people when they get to be adults is how they channel themselves in their early life," the pilot of Gemini-Titan 4, explained.

McDivitt, who was a Boy Scout in Berlin, Wis., is among the 27 astronauts who have been active in Scouting as boys or men and who have all spoken out in favor of Scouting.

Winter Driving Tips

LANSING—The Michigan State Highway Commission cautions motorists against "peephole" driving on frosty mornings. For safer driving, keep a squeegee or rag in the car and wipe off back and side windows as well as the entire windshield.

C of C To Hear State Economic Officer, Feb. 16

The Westland Chamber of Commerce is scheduled to hear Richard Warfel of the Michigan Department of Economic Expansion at its next meeting—again.

Warfel, to speak at the noon luncheon-meeting on Thursday, Feb. 16, was the scheduled speaker at the group's November meeting.

But an auto accident shortly before that meeting forced the use of another official from the state office.

JUAN SERRANO, Flamenco guitarist, will give a special recital Monday, Feb. 13, at 8:30 p.m. in Wilson Hall at Oakland University. Tickets for the performance are available through the Meadow Brook Festival office at Oakland University.

Caged Birds Need Gravel
All caged birds must have gravel, as it takes the place of teeth for them.

Ordinary sand should not be used as it is dusty, of no digestive value and may have harmful impurities.

Buy sand especially for them and sprinkle a little on the floor of their cage daily.

WSU Group Available Now

Bookings for local performances of "The Emperor's New Clothes" by the Wayne State University touring Children's Theatre are still being accepted. Production Manager Dr. T. O. Andrus has announced.

The Children's Theatre annually tours southeastern Michigan playing to nearly 50,000 children, one of the largest children's theatre audiences in the country.

Road performances began this month and will continue through May. Several weekends are still open for organizations or school groups that wish to schedule the play, Dr. Andrus said. Information may be obtained by calling the University Theatre, 833-1400, extension 408.

Written by Charlotte Chorpennig, "The Emperor's New Clothes" is a dramatization of the famous fairy tale by Hans Christian Anderson.

Valentine Fete Fine Custom

BY FAITH GILLESPIE
Queen of Hearts

Did you know that there were two Saint Valentines?

It was news to me. I was doing research into the historical background of the coming holiday, and I discovered that this favorite day of mine was in memory of not one but two saints named Valentine.

Both these saints, it seems, were early Christian martyrs. Some sources say that both the Saints Valentine were beheaded at the same time, but other historians believe that they met their fates separately.

One was a priest who was imprisoned in Rome during the persecutions of the Roman Emperor Claudius the Goth about 269 A.D.

The other was the Bishop of Terni, who may have come to Rome, but who suffered his martyrdom a little later.

Skeptics suggest that there may have been just one saint, and he traveled, but the World Book Encyclopedia says, "There is no conclusive evidence for doubting the existence of either of the two men."

I see no reason for doubting without conclusive evidence, so I accept the news in good faith. The only thing I haven't been able to figure out is why we give Valentines to people on Valentine's (or Valentines') Day.

Someone relates that the custom goes back to Geoffrey Chaucer, the Old English poet who was something of a romantic. Somehow he got the idea that birds begin to pair off on the feast day of Saints Valentine.

I see no conclusive evidence to doubt that either.

Wherever it all comes from, it is a lovely custom, and one that gives any Queen of Hearts a chance to say a special "I love you" to her family.

One way is to let a red gelatin chill till it's nearly set and then whip a half pint of whipping cream into it with the electric beater until it's all light and pink. Chill it in a heart-shaped mold and serve it for dessert with heart shaped cookies.

Or she can make a heart-shaped cake, with fluffy pink frosting. Even peanut butter and jelly sandwiches say loving when they are cut out with big heart-shaped cookie cutters.

One of the prettiest and most delicious love offerings is Phyllis Murch's pink peppermint dessert. Plan to make it the day before, and serve it up as your Valentine surprise.

PHYLLIS'S PEPPERMINT-WAFER DESSERT

Using a rolling pin or a large mortar and pestle, crush 1/2 pound of peppermint stick candy. Place it in a double boiler. Add 1/2 cup light cream and stir over hot water till the candy dissolves.

Soften 1/2 tablespoon unflavored gelatin in 2 tablespoons cold water and stir into the hot candy-cream till it is thoroughly dissolved. Chill till partially set.

Whip 1 1/2 cups heavy cream and fold into the gelatin mixture.

Put a layer of thin chocolate wafers on the bottom of a 9x9x2-inch pan. Cover with a layer of gelatin mixture. Continue layers, ending with a layer of wafers. Chill for 12 hours, or over night. Serve with love.

I see no conclusive evidence for doubting that your family will love you for it.

Electric Heat

In the all-electric Douglas MacArthur Elementary School in Southfield, connected to the Detroit Edison system, the heat from the fluorescent lighting system combined with that given off from the occupants of the building, saved and aerated by a revolving regenerative wheel, has proven adequate and no additional heat is required until outside temperature has dropped to 7 degrees below zero.
