City to Take Charter Ruling to High Court

The City of Plymouth has put wheels in motion to appeal the ruling of Circuit Court Judge Victor A. Baum that declared portions of the city charter invalid. The Judge's opinion was based on eligibility restrictions that limited candidates for public office to those persons who resided in the area for at least two years and who were taxpaying property owners.

Under this ruling Rev. Peter Schweitzer, associate minister of the First Methodist Church who had been declared ineligible to run for the City Commission, will have his name on the ballot in the general election on April 3.

In taking the action to appeal the decision the Commission made it clear that it was not attempting to keep Rev. Schweitzer's name off the ballot. Rather, the Commission agreed, because of the far-flung effect of the ruling and that as many as 75 other cities may have a cloud placed over their charters, it was almost mandatory that an appeal be made "to clear the matter."

In agreeing to the appeal, after learning that the cost would not run more than a little over $500, Commissioner Arch Valier explained that by taking the case to the Circuit Court of Appeals it would be studied by three judges instead of one and would clear up the case.

The decision to appeal the case was not unanimous. Commissioners Jim McKeon and Robert Smith cast negative votes.

Commissioner McKeon let it be known that he thought the judge's opinion was all (Continued on Page 4A)

Board Names Rossman New School Chief

After screening more than 60 applicants and interviewing most of them over the past three months, the Plymouth Community School District Board of Education Monday announced the appointment of James Rossman as Superintendent of Schools.

Rossman succeeds Russell Isbister who will retire at the end of the school year, June 30, after serving 16 years as Plymouth school chief with total service of more than 40 years in his profession.

Rossman, currently superintendent of the Lakeview School District in St. Clair Shores, will assume his new duties on July 1. He has been head of the Lakeview schools since 1958 and prior to that served 10 years as superintendent of Springfield Schools at Battle Creek and earlier in a similar capacity in Pennfield Township in Calhoun County.

The Board approved a three-year contract with a starting salary of $21,000 subject to review at the end of each school year.

Rossman is not a newcomer to Plymouth. He and his family resided here when he was a teacher and principal in Livonia schools from 1933 to 1947.

Born on a farm at Metamora in Lapeer County, he received his high school diploma at Metamora and then attended county normal school in Lapeer. His first teaching assignment was at the old Thayer School in Northville Township.

While attending normal school, he met Pauline Avery of Dryden, and they wed on Christmas Day in 1937.

Judge Rules Section 4.4 Is Illegal

Although well aware of the fact that the City of Plymouth is taking steps to appeal the decision of Circuit Court Judge Victor Baum in declaring section 4.4 of the city charter unconstitutional and ordering the name of Rev. Peter Schweitzer be included on the list of candidates for City Commission in the April election, the young Associate Pastor of the First Methodist Church is a happy man these days.

He has won a victory in a court opinion that is one of the most important ever in the City of Plymouth. It is a far reaching ruling that could affect as many as 90 city charters throughout the state.

But more important, he has won the right to have his name on the ballot. That right was denied when he turned in his nominating petitions on the grounds that he did not meet the charter provisions that a candidate must be a taxpaying property owner residing in the City for two or more years.

Rev. Schweitzer and a group of eligible voters, who signed one of his petitions, contested that provision on the grounds that it denied a registered voter the right to run for a city office and that the petition signers were denied the right to vote for the candidate they desired.

The list of plaintiffs, in addition to Rev. Schweitzer, included: Larry Groth, Naomi and Ronald Pelley, Roger Morris, Henry Berghoff, Alberta and Kristann Fluckey, Eldridge Raven, Maureen Minehart and Judith Berry.

Most important to all was the fact that they had challenged a city charter and found they were right — at least in the opinion of Judge Baum — and that the city charter was wrong in at least one section.

Workman Is Appointed Allen School Principal

Tom Workman, who served as backfield and end coach for two years under Mike Hoben and two under John McFall, is deserting athletics to go into school administration. Thus he is following in the footsteps of Hoben, who gave up the head football and baseball posts two years back, to become assistant principal at Plymouth High School.

Workman, who has served in the Plymouth School system's principal internship program for the past two years, Monday night was named principal of Allen school. He succeeds Donald Rank, recently appointed principal of the new elementary school No. 9 which is under construction.

The lean, lanky Workman is a graduate of Trenton High, where he was a three-sports star, and received a bachelor's degree from Eastern Michigan University in 1960, and a master's degree in Education in 1963 from EMU.

He is currently enrolled in a post-masters program at Eastern Michigan leading toward an Educational Specialist Degree.

He has been with the Plymouth School system since 1960, serving as physical education instructor at Smith, Allen, Starkweather and Truetsdell Schools. He was a member of the high school coaching staff for that same period.

Workman became an administrative trainee during the period of 1965-67, serving at Smith and Allen schools.

He served and directed the Outdoor Education program for the school district for five years and was director of the Y.M.C.A. summer program in the Plymouth Community for two years, 1964 and 1965.

He assisted with the "Y" summer program last summer.

Workman will continue in his internship program at Smith and Allen Schools for the remainder of the school year and assume principalship of Allen July 1.

Plymouth Musicians Win Festival Honors

It was a clean-sweep for Plymouth's senior high orchestra and bands from Junior High East and West in the District Band and Orchestra Festival. All won First Division ratings and each qualified for the state championship competition on April 22 and 29.

The orchestra, under the direction of Michael Endres, and the bands, East supervised by Laurence Livingston, and West by James Griffith, received high praise from the judges for their splendid performances.

The orchestra played "Pezzo Ostinato" by Vaughn Williams and "Symphony No. 24" by Mozart and the required "Catskill Legend" by Whear.

Selections performed by Junior High East included: "Fairest of the Fair" by Sousa and "Overture Militaire" by Skornicka and the required number "Somerset Sketches" by Stuart.

The Junior High West band played "The Klaxon March" by Fillmore, "The English Folk Song Suite" by Vaughn Williams and the required number "Russian Chorale and Overture" by Isaac.

All of the school district bands will perform in the annual "March of Bands" concert on Thursday, April 20 in the Plymouth High gym.

HONORED FOR his years of service to the community in all facets is retiring School Supt. Russell Isbister who receives an award from Mrs. Esther Hulsing, head of the Huron Valley Council of Girl Scouts. The presentation was one of the high spots of the celebration of Girl Scout Week in Plymouth. Incidentally, Mrs. Hulsing also is secretary of the Plymouth Board of Education.

Bird School Parents Ask Expanded Safety Measures

Alarmed at the prospect of additional traffic hazards with the opening of the Ford Motor Co. plant on N. Sheldon Road, representatives of a Safety Action Committee, comprised of parents of children attending Bird School, Monday made several recommendations to the Board of Education in a lengthy report of a recent study.

Various sub-committees have been studying the situation for several months and the combined report recommends the Board pursue action to have sidewalks installed along the western side of Sheldon Road from Ann Arbor Road to the edge of the Junior High West school property and also from Bird School north to N. Territorial Road.

A spokesman for the committee indicated that Loren Gould, developer of the professional office complex, and officials of the National Bank of Detroit have promised to install sidewalks as soon as they receive official notice from the Wayne County Road Commission where the sidewalks should be located.

The matter of sidewalks along the remainder of Sheldon depends upon passage of a sidewalk ordinance by the Plymouth Township Board. That is expected within the next three or four months.

In addition the report recommended: additional safety patrol boys at Maple and Farmer Streets immediately; additional safety boys at Sheldon and Penniman; the start of the 1967-68 school year; "walk" and "don't walk" traffic lights at Sheldon and Penniman; a solution to the pickup problem at Bird School where parents often block the flow of traffic with "U" turns and by waiting for their youngsters to come out of classes; and continued pickup by bus of students on Ridgewood.

The School Board turned the recommendations over to the Administration for a decision and a report back at the next regular meeting.

Plymouth Liked Chief; Chief Liked Plymouth

"I made a study of the city in a visit last fall, shortly after making application for the position. I liked what I saw and decided this was where I would like to continue in police work."

That's what Robert Corrington, retired Captain of the Flint Detective Bureau, gives as the reasons for accepting the position of Plymouth Police Chief.

"Naturally, there is the question of going from a large metropolitan city to a smaller municipality such as Plymouth," he recounted in a brief interview last week.

"But my wife and I felt we didn't want to get too far away from our Police man son and his family in Flint. We have the most beautiful granddaughter in the world and we want to enjoy her from close up, not from a distance and a telephone."

The Corringtons were in Plymouth last week with one idea in mind — find a suitable home before making the move here on March 20. They realize it is quite an undertaking in such a short time but they have had the complete cooperation of realtors and believe they will locate a home before the end of the month.

"There will be quite a difference in policing an area of two square miles compared with the 47 in Flint," he said. "But there's always a challenge in starting something new. I feel the Plymouth job is a distinct challenge and is one that will grow in this rapidly expanding area."

Corrington has been a career policeman for the past 25 years, starting as a patrolman and working through (Continued on Page 4A)

Kill-for-Pay Plot Jails Livonia Trio

A family known to the Livonia police force during the past 10 years is in the Oakland County Jail on a charge of conspiring to murder a witness in the armed robbery charge pending against the 25-year-old.

Arrested by Farmington Township, Livonia and State Police Sunday night were: Jules Sorna, 25; John V. Sorna, 47; and Frances M. Sorna, 43. The trio was arrested about 5 p.m. at their home at 20224 Purlingbrook, Livonia.

According to Farmington Township Chief of Police Irving H. Yakes, the three had arranged to kill Victoria Gogates and hired an unnamed person to do the killing for $700.

Mrs. Gogates is a witness in a $35 armed robbery of Paul and Vic's Market at 28734 Grand River, Farmington Township, on Nov. 21.

Farmington Township Police arrested Jules Sorna about 10 days ago and charged him with the robbery. He was bound over to the Oakland County Circuit Court by Township Justice of the Peace Byron Walters last Friday afternoon. A pre-trial hearing on this charge is set for March 31 in the County Court.

Sorna, who was free on $10,000 bond at the time of this arrest, and his parents will be examined on the conspiracy charge Friday afternoon, March 17, in the Township Justice Court.

At Sunday's arraignment, Justice Byron Walters set bond at $25,000 for Mrs. and Mrs. Sorna and $50,000 for Jules. The trio stood mute at the arraignment.

According to Capt. Robert Turner of the Livonia Police Department, the Sornas have been known to the Livonia force as being in "trouble" over the past 10 years.

Farmington Township police termed Mrs. Gogates as the key witness in the prosecution of Sorna on the armed robbery charge.

Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor John I. Bain said that Mrs. Gogates was to have been killed prior to the March 31 hearing.

The younger Sorna allegedly met the informant in a Detroit bar on Saturday and approached him to kill Mrs. Gogates. The informant contacted the Detroit police who notified the Farmington Township force.

Bain said that the informant met with Sorna and his parents Sunday morning after conferring with the Farmington Township police Saturday night. Bain refused to reveal details of what happened at the meeting until after Friday's examination.

He also refused to identify the informant, but added that "he has given us a full account of all the events leading up to the arrest."

"No money changed hands, but arrests were made because we thought the risks involved in letting a matter like this drag on were too great," he said.

Burrough's Boss Is Area Chairman of Boy Scouts

Edward Schening, general manager of the Burroughs Corporation Plymouth plant, has been named district chairman for the Sunset District Detroit Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Schening succeeds Ray Hulce, of Plymouth, who was elected to the post last fall but recently resigned due to the press of business. Hulce, a purchasing agent for Ford Motor Co., indicated additional duties there would make it impossible to handle the Boy Scout chairmanship as he felt necessary.

Schening, who guided the Plymouth Community Fund to its most successful fund raising campaign in history last fall, accepted the new chairmanship Tuesday afternoon.

Sunset District has a larger membership than any other in the Detroit Area Council. Within its boundaries are 204 Cub Packs, Boy Scout troops and Explorer Posts with a membership of 7,998 boys and young men.

The District's limits are: on the north, Eight Mile Road; south, Van Born Road; east, Inkster Road; and west, the Wayne County Line.

In accepting the chairmanship, Schening stated his major emphasis will be directed towards enlisting volunteers with top qualifications to assist in the administrative phases of the Boy Scout program.

Livonia Workers Collect For GM Suggestions

Workers in the General Motors' plants in Livonia shared in the corporation's record breaking year in 1966 in the Suggestion Plan.

Awards to employees totaled $10.9 million, marking the first time awards have exceeded $10 million. A total of 1,693 employees in the Livonia plants collected $139,569 according to GMC officials.

The Livonia employees collected three of the $6,000 maximum awards and had 20 with values of $1,000 or more.

More employees are participating in the Suggestion Plan each year and during 1966 more than 60 per cent of those eligible made suggestions. An award was paid for one of every four suggestions last year.

The GM Suggestion Plan accomplishes objectives of great benefit to employees as well as the Corporation. The employees are rewarded with such awards while GMC received the benefits of improved safety, better product quality, material savings and more efficient manufacturing and handling methods.

Records also were established for the number of award winning suggestions and the number of maximum awards. Suggestions adopted totaled 218,604, for an average award of $50.06. This contrasts with 1965 when there were 193,873 winning suggestions, for average of $47.54.

The improvement in the quality in 1966 is indicated by the fact that 90 maximum awards of $6,000 each were made while another 1,084 were of $1,000 or more. Both are records for the Suggestion Plan.

Since its establishment in 1942, GM employees have received awards in excess of $83 million for more than 1.8 million suggestions adopted by the Corporation.

WE'RE NUMBER ONE, BECAUSE OF YOU! That's the motto of the classified department of The Observer Newspapers following its winning of the "Harrison C. MacDonald Award" at the Michigan Press Association classified convention last weekend. The award was made for "general classified excellence" of Michigan Weekly Newspapers with more than 10,000 circulation. This is the second year the Observer has won the award for classified excellence. From left, Fred Levine, manager; Mrs. Mimi Brenna, supervisor; and Joe Busetto, assistant manager; admire the trophy while holding one of the prize winning sections.

Observer's Classified Tops Again

The Observer Newspaper Group has done it again—won the top prize for the second straight year in the Michigan Press Association competition for the best presentation and all-around excellence of the classified advertising section.

The judging was based on the papers' presentation and page makeup, volume of classified and development of the classified section during the past year.

The Observer Newspaper Group won first place a year ago and repeated this year in the judging over the weekend at the annual clinic and workshop at Michigan State University in East Lansing under the auspices of the MPA.

The judges were unanimous in their selection of the Observer Group. Approximately 12 classified managers and staff members traveled to East Lansing for the clinic-workshop, representing more than 50 dailies and weeklies throughout the state.

Fred Levine, classified advertising manager of the Observer Newspaper Group, said the award was "not just on the size of the section but its quality."

"If advertisers get results," he said, "the section will grow. We are well represented from 'personals' to 'help wanted'."

Levine's philosophy for success is a simple one, "Protect the reader first."

"The classified section is made by our readers and it is our obligation to make placing an ad easy. We strive to keep the investment at a minimum, no more than they can afford," he pointed out.

Filling out the Observer's staff, the largest of weeklies in Michigan, are 15 employees in addition to Levine.

"I feel we have the most experienced, hardest-working classified advertising team in the state," said Levine. "Winning this award in this stiff competition for the second straight year attests to this."

"We hope to be able to provide our readers with a section spreading over many more pages. Presently we are averaging 10 pages per week in the classified section."

His hobbies are models and he loves swimming and football.

Schoolcraft Gives "Biggest Moment" To Retired Dean

Schoolcraft College gave Dean Emeritus Lois Waterman the most wonderful moment in her life Sunday when they dedicated the new Lois L. Waterman Campus Center with a tearful Dean Waterman present to participate in the ceremonies.

It isn't often that a college dedicates a building to a person while he or she is still able to appreciate and take part in the program. But the Schoolcraft Board of Trustees and Administration felt that Miss Waterman richly deserved the tribute for her efforts in helping get the community college underway.

So, they decided some time ago that it would be Lois Waterman—Campus Center and arranged the dedication at a time within a year of her retirement.

"Schoolcraft College believes in paying debts of gratitude while still going along," said Ralph Banfield, executive secretary of the Midwest Community College Leadership Program as the principal speaker.

"That's why we are gathered here today to honor Dean Emeritus Lois Waterman for her tremendous efforts in making this college what it is today in the short period of three years."

"I know from my discussions with Dean Waterman over the years how she felt about Schoolcraft. I know that she dreams of securing Michigan accreditation as quickly as possible. I'm amazed that she and President Dr. Eric Bradner were able to accomplish so much in such a short time."

Banfield emphasized that the Campus Center was one of the finest buildings of its type on any college campus.

"Lois Waterman always had a desire to help students at this institution or at any other college or university as much as she could. That's the reason we have this building as a tribute to a person who did so much for the college, the community and the area," he stated.

Dr. Bradner made a short talk praising the work of Dean Waterman during her years with Schoolcraft and then called her to the podium for the unveiling of an oil painting which will have a prominent place in the Campus Center.

Although there were tears in her eyes, Dean Waterman was able to thank the Trustees, Administration and the student body for the fine cooperation she received during the early development of the college.

"There'll never be any other college for me except Schoolcraft," she said. "The memories here will last for the remainder of my days. It is with a great deal of humility and gratitude that I say 'Thanks for the tremendous tribute.'"

Lyndon Welch, president of the architectural firm of Eberle Smith and Associates, presented the key to the building to Board Chairman Harold Fischer who in turn gave it to Richard Snyder, president of the Student Senate.

The program opened with an academic procession in which members of the Board, the Administration and the Faculty marched to seats in the center of the hall in caps and gowns bearing the colors of the college or university from which they were graduated. Organist W. Allen Shaffer played the processional march.

The Schoolcraft College Choir, under the direction of Wayne Dunlap, sang during the program and closed the ceremonies with the college hymn.

Following the formal program, a reception was held in the lower level with Dean Waterman meeting and greeting many of her longtime friends and associates at Schoolcraft and Delta Colleges.

Lakeview Man New School Chief

All of Rossman's formal education beyond normal school has been obtained in evening, Saturday and summer school. He received a bachelor's degree from Eastern Michigan University in 1947 and a master's degree from the University of Michigan in 1950. He has completed 73 hours of course work towards a Doctorate at Michigan State University. The new Superintendent brings a rich background of experience in rapidly growing school districts to Plymouth. He has demonstrated competency in curriculum development, new school construction and financing, administration of federal aid programs and the establishment of special education programs for the handicapped.

In Lakeview, he was head of a school system that had a similar enrollment to Plymouth with the exception that Lakeview is practically built up where Plymouth is in the throes of rapid growing. Rossman's involvement in community programs and his participation in professional activities at the local, state and national level has been outstanding.

He is an active member of Kiwanis, and president of the AASA Schoolmasters Kiwanis, a national organized group. He is currently chairman of the legislative committee of the Michigan Association of School Administrators and will commence a term as president of that group this year.

Members of the Board, who screened, interviewed, and even made inquiries to the home districts of the leading candidates, are confident that Rossman's proven leadership will be a vital factor for success in the challenging years of growth that lie ahead for the Plymouth Schools.

Appeal

(Continued from Page One) right and Commissioner Smith let it be known that he didn't think an appeal would change the verdict. Prior to discussing Judge Baum's opinion Municipal Judge Ed Draugelis, who represented the city in the case when Tom Healy, the City Attorney asked to be disqualified, gave his report and told of the various steps that could be taken.

He pointed out that the Commission now had a political decision to make and reminded the members of the consequences.

"If you appeal the case and lose," he said, "there will be no cloud on your charter and the Court of Appeals will have ruled. But there are about 75 other cities who might become mad because their charters would be damaged."

Asked if he would predict the outcome, Judge Draugelis said, "I cannot predict the outcome—and wouldn't try. But Plymouth is now in a liberal-minded portion of the state—and you can use your own judgment."

He also was asked to explain what would happen should Rev. Schweitzer be elected to the Commission only to find later that the City had won its appeal.

"Under those circumstances," he explained, "Rev. Schweitzer would resign or the Courts would rule him out."

Under the law Judge Draugelis has 20 days in which to file an appeal, but there is no set time for the Court of Appeals to act. It could be as long as six or eight months — unless heed is taken of the importance of the case and it is moved up on the docket.

New Chief

Strange as it may sound, Corrington and Flint Police Chief John Burton joined the Flint department on the same day and in accordance with the rules in effect at that time, they had to retire on their 25th anniversary. Thus both leave the force on the same day.

Burton has accepted a post as Chief in a southern city and Corrington took the assignment in Plymouth.

"I liked Plymouth from the first visit in November," said the new Chief. "I liked the clean, wide streets. I liked the people I met and talked with. Thus when I had offers from two other communities, I withheld a final decision until I learned of the Plymouth offer, then I turned down both."

Corrington recalls two outstanding events during his long career as a police officer.

"There is hardly ever a dull moment in police work," he stated. "But there are always two or three incidents that stand out, ones you can't forget."

"We picked up a suspect on a burglary charge several years ago. I had the job of questioning him and during the course of the talks, I casually mentioned I knew the Sheriff in Las Vegas. The prisoner indicated he came from that area. 'You do?' he asked. 'Then call him right now and tell him you know the murderer of a certain woman there.' 'Out of that conversation and after a call to the Sheriff, the prisoner admitted that he was the one who had stabbed the woman to death.'"

Schweitzer Wins Case

(Continued from Page One) observation about the effect of the charter. Taking into account the statutory tax exemptions for intangibles and personalty held for consumption, Section 4.4 of the Plymouth charter has a particularly sharp effect upon one class of persons, although probably not by design.

"Clergymen, who are furnished living quarters by their church or their parishioners, might well live a lifetime in Plymouth without acquiring property which is assessed for taxation by the city. Such ministers are barred from local public office by the Plymouth charter and the citizens of Plymouth are barred from electing them."

In another portion of his opinion, Judge Baum ripped the framers of section 4.4 of the city charter.

"The destruction and frustration of direct and indirect self-government must have been a goal deliberately pursued by the framers of section 4.4 of the city charter," he wrote. "The purpose and effect of section 4.4 of the city charter is so offensive to basic principles of American representative democracy that one must conclude it deprives individuals of liberty without substantive due process of law in violation of the Michigan Constitution."

He also touched on Article 1, Section 4 of the Michigan Constitution which provides "The civil and political rights, privileges and capacities of no person shall be diminished or enlarged on account of his religious beliefs."

In his opinion, Judge Baum wrote: "If a person through religious belief carried out a vow of poverty, he would be ineligible to hold office in Plymouth. Applied to such a person, Section 4.4 of the charter would probably be unconstitutional as a diminution of his political rights, privileges and capacities on the basis of his religious belief."

"Now we have a case which is only a short stone's throw away. We have a case in which a minister has no real property because he pursues a leadership role in a church which generally furnishes him with a residence. As a practical matter, the City of Plymouth is telling him that if he lives the customary life of a Methodist Minister, he cannot run for office."

"Does this not diminish his civil and political rights, privileges and capacities on account of his religious beliefs? My answer is yes. It is an answer which is admittedly not free from doubt. But I believe there may be agreement from lawyers and judges who give weight to the Preamble of the Michigan Constitution which states that its purpose is to secure 'the blessings of freedom to ourselves and our posterity.'"

In his concluding remarks, Judge Baum wrote: "Courts are now moving to assure due process and equal protection in the distribution of political power and in the allocation of political opportunity."

"In doing so they are advancing the ideal of democratic self-government. The ideal is government of the people and by the people. In contrast the Plymouth city charter embodies the plutocratic concept of government of the people by the propertied. As long as the higher courts of this state leave me free to withhold it, I cannot in good conscience put the stamp of judicial approval upon such a plutocratic doctrine."

The opinion concludes that a writ of mandamus should issue as prayed — in other words place the name of Rev. Schweitzer on the ballot as a candidate for City Commissioner.

Livonia Police reports show that Gary was shot and killed by his father who then took his own life. The reports indicate that Schmidt had recently undergone treatment for a mental disorder.

Gary, a junior at Stevenson High in Livonia, was a member of the school choir, well-liked by the student body and was an excellent student.

Marvin Schmidt, a member of a pioneer Livonia family, was born in Livonia, Aug. 28, 1915 and was a graduate of Plymouth High School. He was a retired farmer.

Surviving are: his wife, Mrs. Ina Schmidt; parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Schmidt of Livonia; a daughter, Karen, at home; a brother, Donald of Plymouth; and a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Ritzler of Lambertville.

Contracts were approved for two teachers Monday by the Plymouth School Board, one to join the staff immediately and the second to report for the start of classes next fall.

Upon recommendation of Supt. Russell Isbister, the Board approved the addition of John McMeekin and Mrs. Phyllis Mitchell to the professional staff.

McMeekin, a graduate of Wayne State and a teacher in the South Redford School District for five years, has reported to Gallimore School for assignment as fifth grade instructor.

Let Sun Do It

Nature makes the most practical finish for a wood deck or for fencing. Wind and sun bleach wood beautifully, whether or not the wood has been preservative-treated. Western red cedar weathers to a prized silver shade. Douglas fir is equally pretty, but has less luster, attaining more the soft shading of fine pewter.

Pesky Taxi Ordinance Has Plymouth In Dither

After struggling for more than two hours over the final form of a taxi cab ordinance, the City Commission delayed a vote "until the taxi owners could be heard from."

The ordinance was on the agenda for the third and final reading and, ordinarily, would have been passed.

But because of the many tight restrictions placed on the owners and drivers it was thought to be the better part of valor to hear from those who would be affected.

It was decided to send each taxi owner a copy of the ord-

Plymouth Centennial Group Sets Sights on Indoor Rink

The Centennial Committee, which has been devoting most of its thinking to the construction of an outdoor skating rink as the permanent memorial of the one-hundredth anniversary, now has set its sights on a higher goal.

Instead of an open outdoor rink, the Committee now is studying a plan for an enclosed facility that will cost in the area of $350,000 in comparison with the $170,000 stated as the cost of the outdoor rink.

The larger, enclosed facility, was agreed upon after a study revealed that it would be available for skating about eight months each year and thus would be a greater revenue producer.

Centennial chairman Joseph Tarantino appeared before the City Commission Monday night and asked for advice on planning the financial aspect of the undertaking.

He pointed out that the building could be paid for with revenue bonds — provided the Commissioners established a building authority.

Chairman Tarantino explained that the architects would have a complete plan and all the figures without payment at this time — if the Commission would assure the company of getting the architectural contract.

"Get the firm to make that offer in writing," Commissioner Arch Vallier stated, "and bring it back, I don't think you'll have too much trouble . . ."

NBD introduces Checkmate: For people who want money when they want it.

Checkmate lets you write a check bigger than your balance. It also provides you with an NBD Check Guarantee Card.

It's a new banking service that adds a line of credit to your checking account. If you qualify, we establish a cash reserve in your name. Then, whenever you write a check bigger than your balance, we automatically transfer money (in multiples of $100) into your checking account.

It's an automatic loan whenever you need it. Just write a check for the amount you need. You could be writing a check or a loan, only your banker knows for sure. You pay nothing until you start using your reserve funds.

It gives you a check guarantee card that helps you cash a check anywhere, anytime. Use your NBD Check Guarantee Card whenever you want to cash a personal check.

We'll see that your checks are honored for amounts up to $100. Visit any one of the 90 NBD offices to find out if you qualify. Be one of those people who have money when they want it.

NATIONAL BANK OF DETROIT
the second most important name on the checks you write.

Poverty Program Opens Office in Farmington

Oakland County's anti-poverty program was brought closer to Farmington residents Tuesday, with the official opening of a client sub-center at 33423 Grand River, (over The Observer office). The program is administered by the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO). The new sub-center, on the second floor, is the fourth in a network of 25 such centers planned by OCCEO in conjunction with local governments or agencies. Space for the Farmington sub-center is being provided by the Farmington Youth Guidance Council.

There aren't a great many people that give of themselves, donating their time, experience and know-how to people and causes. Dorothy Williams of Bellecrest, a sincere, honest, generous and most wonderful person, does give of herself. She got into somewhat of a situation the other day.

Being on several different committees, consisting of a volunteer worker for the Farmington Community Blood Bank, terminating March 18; seeking prizes for the July Round-Up for the Ford Trailer Club; working on plans for the Surprise Party for her subdivision entertainment committee, and securing advertising for the Phil Hart Dinner in April.

She was on the phone working on all four of the projects and realized that it was the Phil Hart dinner she was supposed to relate.

The end result (and you can imagine yourself on the other end of the line, almost in complete shock) came out something like this: "Would you like to donate a pint of blood, to be given as a prize, at the Phil Hart dinner in April?" Stopping dead in her tracks, Dorothy, realized the confused effort and gave out with the real original, "Oh, my heavens, what did I say?"

SUN SEEKERS Mr. and Mrs. Ray Burns of Cumberland, motored to Pompano Beach, Fla., where they were guests of Ray's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Rogers. After their short stay there they visited Ft. Lauderdale and Miami Beach. The famous aquarium was one of their stop-overs and though they did not get to see Flipper (he was on vacation or on location in Hollywood doing a movie) they did get to see some of the antics of Flipper's relatives. With perfect weather, Mr. and Mrs. Burns returned after two weeks to weather not so perfect.

Following the sun also were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Piercecchi of Pipers Lane, relaxing for two weeks in Tampa, Ft. Lauderdale and Gainesville. Being a garden clubber, Mrs. Piercecchi, naturally would be attracted by the gorgeous blooms, in what she called "the arrangers paradise."

In bloom are the dogwood trees, the lacy, feathery, red-

Renaming of PCHA Hospitals Studied

Renaming individual hospitals in the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) to emphasize the community aspect of the organization is being considered by the agency's Board of Directors.

At present, the authority, of which Westland and Garden City are members, operates public hospitals named Seaway in Trenton, Outer Drive in Lincoln Park, Ann Arbor in Wayne and Beyer Memorial in Ypsilanti.

"I believe it would be helpful to our patients as well as to our supporting-member communities if they could identify themselves more directly with the organization they are supporting," Dr. Karl S. Klicka, executive director of PCHA, said.

In pointing out the merits of a proposed name change, Dr. Klicka said that "we are losing a great deal by not emphasizing enough the unique community concept of PCHA."

He also said that the community concept of PCHA could be strengthened if individual hospitals, instead of bearing their own names, were named in such a way as to tie themselves more closely to the parent organization, which issues the policies, practices, and plans for each unit hospital.

Dr. Klicka suggested that the four hospitals could be named "Community Hospital, Northeast Unit," or some similar geographical designation.

City Officials Help to Open New Bank

Top officials of Westland took part in the opening ceremonies for the new office of the National Bank of Detroit at Wayne Road and Cowan Thursday.

The event was followed by two days of Western-style Open House activities to which all persons who live or conduct business in the area were invited. More than 1,500 persons attended the festivities which included cow girls, chuckwagons, and old fashioned sarsaparilla.

Mervin O. Simpkins, manager of the new office, was assisted in the ribbon-cutting ceremony by Westland Mayor Thomas H. Brown, City Treasurer William J. Engle, and City Clerk Marian McWilliams. NBD officials also participating included Robert M. Surdam, President; Frank O. Starr, Vice President of Branch Operations; and Rodney C. Linton, Cashier.

Change OK'd in Swimming Pool Code

Although it may be too early for the public to be seriously thinking about it, the Garden City Swimming pool ordinance was changed by the City Council recently to allow for easier enforcement.

Building Inspector Phillip Sletten said that the changes in the ordinance are all minor. One of the new sections added is that "no alterations or relocation of the approved pool plan (may be made) without express approval of the building inspector."

The bottom of the permit fees was changed to start the fee schedule for pools starting with a 200-gallon capacity. In the past, the fee covered all pools up to 8,000 gallons capacity. The remainder of the fee schedule was not changed.

For purposes of safety, the ordinance was changed to have electrical of telephone lines at least eight feet over the swimming pool. In the past, there was a five-foot provision. In at least one instance, a swimmer has been known to have unwittingly tossed a wet towel on the utility line for more convenient use.

Another change reduced the width of the walkway or deck around the perimeter of the pool from at least three feet to a width include in the manufacturers design and approved by the building department.

Hospital Aide Named

The Board of Directors of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority recently approved the appointment of Frederick J. Barten as Resident in Hospital Administration. PCHA members include Garden City and Westland.

Barten, formerly from DuRee, Michigan, is a student in the University of Michigan's graduate program in hospital administration. One of the requirements for a Master's Degree in Hospital Administration is successful residency for one year in an approved hospital.

Barten, a graduate of Central Michigan University, has his Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Administration from the U-M. He served two years in the Medical Service Corps as Executive Officer and subsequently as Commanding Officer of the medical training company, Fort Sam Houston, Texas. He will receive $5,000 for the year.

Karl S. Klicka, M.D., Executive Director of PCHA, called the appointment another step forward in professionalizing the administration and management of PCHA and its unit hospitals.

"The U-M program in hospital administration," said Klicka, "is one of the finest in the nation, and I feel we are fortunate in obtaining approval of our Board of Directors for initiating this alliance."

SuperRx Opens New Drug Store

Plymouth and Livonia area shoppers can look forward to having a "shopper styled" SuperRx Drug Store available with the opening of the new SuperRx store at 240 N. Main Street in Plymouth.

Long closed pending the outcome of a court case, SuperRx finally received a green light for the store opening following a favorable opinion recently by the Michigan Supreme Court.

In designing the store, SuperRx tried to build in the features and services most requested and appreciated by shoppers," said Manager Walter Drummond, who is well-known to Plymouthites for long service at drug stores in the city.

Drummond explained that surveys of women, who do most of the drug store shopping, show that they most desire friendly interested clerks, prompt and reliable prescription service, low prices, convenient location and plenty of parking space. They also want clean-looking stores with wide, roomy aisles, and especially, fast check-stand service.

The SuperRx store's planners have taken all of these most wanted qualities into consideration and added a few more features of their own.

"Perhaps two of the most important commodities we carry are service and courtesy," said Drummond. "SuperRx employees are carefully chosen, as far as possible, from people who are residents of the community in which the store is located and who enjoy working with their friends and neighbors.

"Clerks are carefully trained in their responsibilities to supplement the experience they already have acquired. All are encouraged to give friendly, helpful service when customers want it. Patrons are welcome to browse through the store looking over some of the 22,000 items to be found in the more than 40 departments."

SuperRx is self-service for quicker shopping and features prescription service, proprietary drugs, many famous cosmetic lines and a large assortment of general merchandise.

A graduate pharmacist will be on duty at all times. Bill White, pharmacist at the new store has had more than 10 years experience in the metropolitan area. He was graduated from Detroit Institute of Technology in 1957 with a Pharmacy degree.

Finals Prove Nightmare for Bentley '5'

A SAD SAD STORY: This scene on the Bentley bench typifies the night the Bulldogs had against Catholic Central in the regional finals. Bentley never could get untracked and was crushed, 75-43, in the title game.

No Match for Catholic Central

A nightmarish finish! What else could they say at Bentley high school as they looked back at what happened in Friday night's Class A regional championship game at Franklin against Catholic Central.

It was the Shamrock's of Catholic Central 75, the Bulldogs of Bentley 43.

For over a decade, Bentley had known some great and wonderful moments in basketball.

League titles and district titles... they had all come the way of the Livonians.

True, there had been losses over the stretch. But nothing ever had happened like this.

Bentley just couldn't get going against Catholic Central, which in winning its ninth regional title advanced into this Wednesday night's state quarterfinals against a Hamtramck team which went four overtimes to down Birmingham Groves, a team very familiar to area schools.

What went wrong with Bentley against Catholic Central?

Basically, the Livonians just weren't able to muster their running attack. Catholic Central succeeded in stopping Bentley's swift attack, which explains why the Livonians were able to make only two baskets in the first and three in the third period.

The scoring for Bentley wasn't much better in the other two periods.

Coach George Fettes of Bentley, after taking his hat off to Catholic Central, couldn't remember when his forces ever had suffered through so much misery.

"Imagine just two baskets and two free throws in the first quarter," declared Bentley.

"Imagine our going three, four and six minutes without a basket. It's hard to understand why."

"Catholic Central had a fine team. But we did, too.

"It's just a shame that if you're to have a bad game somewhere along the long season's grind, it would come at this particular time when you have no second chance to rebound."

Once in the state tournament, of course, one defeat spells elimination. You just have to win and win... if you're to reach the coveted contest for the state title this coming Saturday night in Michigan State's Jenison Field House.

Bentley had bounced through the district at Franklin and then kayoed out Farmington, 58-54, with a strong finish in the first game of the Franklin regionals.

So, now it was Bentley vs. Catholic Central.

A turnaway crowd of more than 3,000 jammed the bright Franklin gym. Those who got into the gym were asked to squeeze together to make available a few extra seats.

Nonetheless, hundreds had to stay outside in the corridors and learn from crowd reactions what was going on.

Most of the cheers came from the Catholic Central side.

The game started with a quick CC basket. Then Larry Grimm scored for Bentley and the score stood tied at 2-2.

A tight game appeared in the offing.

But before Ken Bollin was able to register another point for Bentley some 2½ minutes later, Catholic Central had upped its total to nine.

After Bollin's conversion, CC picked up six more straight points until Mike McCauley notched two free throws with nine seconds left in the quarter.

Bentley made two of 11 from the floor in the first period as Catholic Central roared ahead, 15-6.

The second period story didn't improve for Bentley.

By halftime, Catholic Central had rolled ahead by a 34-17 score.

Came the third period, McCauley registered a hoop for Bentley in the first minute. That made it, 34-19!

Then came the strangest of all moments for Bentley. A jump was called at the Bentley defensive end.

The ball went up and Dan Doyle grabbed it for Bentley. In his confusion he turned for the basket and made a perfect layup.

Only one thing was wrong. Dan had scored for Catholic Central, not for Bentley.

More confusion followed. A CC player grabbed the ball and heaved it the length of the floor to one of his mates in the clear. Another basket... in the wrong hoop!

However, Bentley didn't benefit.

The referees halted play and had a little straightening out to do.

They ruled that CC had illegally placed the ball into play. The wrong basket by CC was washed out, the score remained, 36-19, and Bentley got the ball.

But all that happened was that CC's lead mounted to 49-27 after the three quarter marker.

In the end, Ron Gutowski had 24 points to lead the winners. Rick Ferri followed with 12 and Gerald Wudcoski nine.

No Bentley player registered in double figures. It was Coleman, Doyle and McCauley with seven each.

Two nights before in the Bentley-Farmington game, the teams had played on fairly even terms.

TRYING HARD to get off a shot is Bentley's Ken Bollin. But try fell short, as did his team in regional final against Catholic Central.

Pulls Off Stunning Surprise

Rocks' Relay Captures State Title

It had been a long and unfruitful winter for the swimmers of Plymouth high.

For coach Dick Gretzinger, it was a series of frustrations as he returned to his alma mater where only a few years earlier he had starred and set a flock of records.

But Gretzinger and his charges refused to concede a thing.

Even after a poor showing in the Suburban Six League meet the Rocks kept their spirits high.

Came last weekend's state Class A meet, Plymouth was able to take a medley relay team, plus single qualifiers in the butterfly and the 50-yard free style.

"That's all we could take," said Gretzinger, "because nobody else on our team could meet the qualifying standards."

When the Rocks reached Lansing, they heard how their medley relay team had been seeded No. 18.

Becomes 'Airman 2nd'

Derek R. Hampton, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hampton of 17397 Park Lane, Livonia, has been promoted to airman second class in the U.S. Air Force. Hampton, a supply inventory specialist at Grand Forks AFB, N. D., is a member of the Strategic Air Command, America's long-range nuclear bomber and missile force.

Wayne State University's freshman 1-2 diving punch of Joe Suriano and Larry Stebbins was beaten just once in individual competition this winter in a 10-event season.

Marty Letzmann's 456 points scored during the 1967 season are the second highest single-season total ever recorded by a Wayne State basketball player.

"Don't let that worry you," said their coach. "Just go out there and do your best. Maybe you'll surprise everybody."

Surprise the Rocks did. When the race was over, it

Tom Warren, Wayne State heavyweight wrestler, established a school record by pinning his ninth foe of the season in a dual meet with Cleveland State. Warren broke his won record of eight set last season.

College Honors Cagers, Tankers

Varsity athletic letters were awarded to 11 basketball players and 12 members of the swimming team at the Schoolcraft College winter sports award banquet Wednesday night, March 8, at the college.

Letter winners were approved by athletic director Marvin Gans and the faculty board of athletic control of which William Ryan is chairman.

Carl Robie, University of Michigan swimmer who recently set new NCAA and Big Ten records in the 500 yard and 1,650 yard freestyle and the 200 yard butterfly, was speaker of the evening. Robie, a pre-law senior at the U. of M., was a silver medal winner in the butterfly event in the 1964 Olympics.

Letters were also presented to seven cheerleaders by Miss Sharon MacLaren, faculty sponsor of the group.

Basketball letters were presented by coach Bob Leggat to Larry Duffield, Phil Demski, and Joel Terwin, all of Livonia; Don was Plymouth No. 1 with a championship for the first time in many years in the state competition.

It was Brian Faust swimming first who shot the Rocks off to a lead. Then came Biff Leonard, Pat McCord and finally a great anchor leg by Chuck Porter.

The Rocks' time of 1:43.7 came within a whisker of the state record of 1:42.8.

But it was a new varsity record for Plymouth.

McCord also came through with a third place finish in the butterfly as he was timed in 2:54.9 for another school record.

Still another Plymouth mark was chalked up by Porter when he took a seventh in the 50-yard free style in 22.9 seconds.

The Rocks finished with 51 points to tie for ninth place as Trenton and Battle Creek Lakeview each scored 81 points to share the team championship.

Three other area swimmers figured in the top finishers. Bentley's Dennis Rogissart placed tenth in the 200-yard free style and 11th in the 400-yard free style.

Franklin's Tom Bates carried off tenth place in the 100-yard breast stroke while Bentley's David Kee took third in the 200-yard individual medley.

State Civil Service Jobs Available

The Michigan Civil Service Commission is now accepting applications for state jobs, according to State Representative Louis E. Schmidt of Livonia.

The Telephone Operator jobs pay on a scale from $4,000 to $6,000. The salary range for the position as Environmental Sanitarian is $7,700 to $10,000.

A written examination for prospective Telephone Operators has been scheduled for April 15. The Sanitarian position does not require a written examination, but an oral appraisal may be necessary and, if so, applicants will be notified by the department.

Representative Schmidt also announced open competitive examinations for a Student Highway Technician, with a pay range of $5,300 to $6,100. Applicants for this position will be accepted by the Civil Service Commission until further notice. A written examination for the position will be given once a month on a Saturday if the number of applicants warrants. Applicants would be notified by mail of the time and place of the examination.

Schmidt suggested that anyone interested in more complete information about the qualifications and salaries of these and other state employment opportunities should contact their local state employment office or write to the Michigan Civil Service Commission in the Lewis Cass Building in Lansing.

Declares Dividend

The Board of Directors of The Detroit Bank and Trust Company, declared a quarterly dividend of 65 cents a share on the $10 par value Common Capital Stock payable March 31, to or upon shareholders of record March 15.

Junior freestyle sprint ace Roy Chapman led Wayne State University's swimming team in dual meet scoring with 75 points, the second straight season he topped the team.

Leon Lande begins his ninth season as Wayne State University's baseball coach with the start of the 1967 season.

Memories... memories... memories...

They come flocking back on this week when the end comes to Michigan's annual "March Madness," which is better known as the State High School Basketball tournament.

As your car wheels up the road to Lansing, how can you forget the days of the past:

•When they had no expressway to Lansing-East Lansing? When from Howell on up, it was a two-way road.

•When they played the entire final program in one session, starting with the Class D game around 5 p.m. and winding up around midnight with the Class A struggle?

•When games had to be played in the gym at Michigan State's Jenison Field House because they had no decent facilities close by for the semifinals?

•When President John Hannah of Michigan State University directed traffic outside the arena on final night while state police and other officials kept an eye on the rising and flooding Red Cedar River? Another inch or so of rise and the finals would have to be called off, because water would have poured on to the arena floor.

•When a guy by the name of Dave DeBusschere played for Detroit Austin against one Chet Walker of Benton Harbor in the Class A championship game. Now some nine years later, it's still DeBusschere vs. Walker when the Pistons tangle with the Philadelphia 76ers.

•When a kid by the name of Allen from Jackson tossed in a desperation shot from midcourt at the buzzer to beat Flint Central?

•When Flint Northern stalled through most of the overtime period and lost the game on a charging foul, which the game movies never showed clearly? Could it have been that somebody was protecting the referees?

•When we scooped the world by reporting in

North Farmington State Gym Champs

State champs! That's the honor that belongs to North Farmington High's gymnastic team.

The Raiders took the crown in their own gym last Saturday as they topped a field of 18 rivals in a sport which has just started to gain in popularity in the prep ranks in Michigan.

It marked the second straight year that North Farmington had ruled the meet.

This time the Raiders piled up 120.5 points to 81 for runner-up Alpena.

Only one other area school, Clarenceville, contested. The Trojans placed third with 72.5 points.

In walking away with the state crown, North Farmington produced three individual champs: Dwayne Ortwin, free exercise; Terry Boys, long horse, and Jim Harris, tumbling.

The fact that all three of the Raiders' champs are juniors would spell another big year for Clarenceville in gymnastics next year.

Another junior, Clarenceville's Charley Morse, carried off the individual honors by winning in three events. Charley copped the high bar, still rings and side horse and placed 4th in the all-around competition.

The triumph in the state meet capped a year for N. Farmington in which the Raiders had rolled past all opposition.

The week before the Raiders had triumphed in a league meet in which Clarenceville was second.

Contest Offers Chance To Win Horse; See Derby

Millions of Americans yearn to own a racehorse. That's a fact that has already been proven by the Kentucky Club Pipe Tobacco Company which has been giving one away for the last 14 years. Why this great desire on the part of the public to possess a thoroughbred steed? Well, for one reason there's the tidy little sum of $130,000,000 . . . which represents the total purse money earned by thoroughbreds in 1966.

Secondly, whether you're Ogden Phipps, the chairman of the Jockey Club and proprietor of Buckpasser, among others, or a proud one-horse stable owner with a $1,500 plater, you've found that there is no greater thrill in all sports than seeing your silks flash by the finish line a winner.

Now Kentucky Club has announced a major change in this competition, making it simple to win a handsome two-year-old son of Summer Tan, winner of more than half a million dollars. All you have to do to enter the Derby Day Contest is send in your own name and address along with a Kentucky Club boxtop.

Sometime after April 17, the closing date of the contest, a name will be drawn and that person will be awarded the bay colt whose racing potential could earn him a fortune in the current era of rich purses. The winner then can name the prize horse himself.

The contest horse has been won in the past by housewives (six of them), college professors, teen-agers, doctors, railroad clerks, postmen, and even elderly widows. About half the winners usually sell their valuable gift but some have raced them. One, Aurecolt, earned more than $60,000 and still owns the American track record for 7 1/2 furlongs.

The Summer Tan colt will be awarded to its new owner at historic Churchill Downs in Louisville, Ky., during Derby Week. Along with the racehorse goes $1,000 in cash, two hard-to-get finish line box seats at the Kentucky Derby, hotel rooms in Louisville and all training expenses until July 1, 1967.

Contest rules are simple. You can enter as many times as you wish providing each entry is accompanied by a boxtop, or cellophane zip-off top of any of Kentucky Club's 14 brands of pipe tobacco or the bottom panel from a package of Mail Pouch Chewing Tobacco.

Send entries, each in an individual envelope, to Kentucky Club Derby Day Bonanza, P.O. Box 381, New York, N.Y. 10046. All entries must be postmarked no later than April 17.

Observing Sports

the old Detroit Times that because so many people wanted to see the final program, that there'd be special sessions for Class A, B and C-D programs? This is the way the show again will be presented next Saturday at Jenison Field House.

When youngsters from winning schools have stood under the press box and heckled Harold (Hal) Schram, the swami of the Free Press, whose prep predictions have him the most widely read school-boy sports writer in Michigan, if not elsewhere?

When men like George Alderton and Harvey Barcus occupied seats in press row . . . men since have retired to the youth movement so prominent now around the sporting scene?

When a team from Detroit St. Andrews won the state "B" title with a player by the name of Frank Tanana not only starring on the floor, but actually handling the coaching job? The team's regular coach had left just before the finals to report to the Cleveland Indians scouting staff. So, St. Andrew announced the presence of a "dummy" adult coach. But, in truth, it was Tanana who ran the game.

When a referee assigned to work a championship game was pushed by the crowd as he tried to reach the floor? State Director Charlie Forsythe rushed in a sub, because you never hold up the start of one of the finals.

When the Detroit Public School League teams didn't compete and there wasn't an "honest" state Class A champ?

When we were younger . . . and not dreaming that before we knew it we'd be blessed with a golden anniversary birthday as we were this week?

As all eyes turn to Lansing and East Lansing, you wonder if the State Association ever will see fit to switch the final proceedings to Detroit and make use of the great basketball buildings available at Cobo Arena, Olympia and the University of Detroit.

Granted, as we have said before, they have a great place up at East Lansing in Michigan State's Jenison Field House for the finals. The building can house around 12,000 before the fire marshal steps in.

But the other spots up there — like the Civic Center, and the various high schools, offer cramped space in comparison what the State would have, were it to consider coming back to Detroit where in the '20's the State finals once were held.

In addition, times have changed. Detroit and the area offers far more hotel facilities than you can run across in Lansing.

Even for those coming from the Upper Peninsula, the highways now are such that at the most one would have to travel no more than 60-70 minutes extra.

But, how can you overlook the fact that Olympia can handle 16,000 for basketball, Cobo Arena almost 12,000 and U. of D. somewhere around 10,500?

Speaking of possible changes for the state finals, it wouldn't surprise us if the University of Michigan sticks in a bid one of these fine hours.

The new cage arena at Michigan will be ready by next fall.

It'll be the skanwiest structure of all in the state. And with more seats than the Jenison Field House at MSU.

BOUNCING AROUND: Trust you haven't forgotten that the trotters come back to Wolverine Raceway and Middlebelt-Schoolcraft Roads a week from Saturday!

Trotting interest figures to be at an all-time high as the season dawns because the fans haven't had a chance to cool off during the summer. They've been making "hay" or otherwise throughout the winter across the river at the Windsor Raceway.

The success of the racing at Windsor conclusively proves that trotting has become a year-around sport — even in an area hit by something like 30 inches of snow during the past (we hope) winter.

Each time we have crossed the river to visit at the Windsor course, we have had to say to ourselves: "How ridiculous that all of this great American money must be leaving the country? Especially that money which the state and local area would be chopping off for tax purposes?"

This is by no means aimed at knocking good friends Sid Anton and Fran Smith over at Windsor. They're to be complimented for the job they have done.

The mistake was made by various racing commissioners Michigan has had — men who didn't have the foresight to see that the racing fan doesn't worry about the weather or the time of the year.

'Star' Squads Salute Preps

More honors came to area high school basketball stars last weekend.

Leland, Bjerke, the high-scoring forward of Redford Union, landed on the fourth Class A team selected by the Detroit Free Press. Third team Class C honors went to Tim Doyle of Our Lady of Sorrows.

Bjerke was previously named on the Free Press' All-Suburban Team and on Saturday was listed on the Detroit News All-West-Area Suburban team. Bjerke had been named both on the Free Press and News All Suburban teams and their Northwest Division first teams.

Honorable all-state mention went to Dan Bazzarelli, Garden City West; Ken Bollin, Bentley, and Joe Huber, of Bentley.

Mike Ames of Farmington was named on the News' North-Central suburban first team.

Meantime, area cagers figured prominently in the News' all-suburban league choices.

By hoops, here's the story of honored area cagers: Suburban Six — Bjerke, Bollin and Mike McCauley, the latter of Bentley.

Interlakes — Greg Dorow. Farmington, and Ames, of Farmington.

Northwest Suburban — Earl Neely, Franklin, and Reggie Barringer, Thurston.

Tci-River — Dan Bazzarelli, Garden City West.

Wayne-Oakland — Ron Ray, Clarenceville.

Mid-Wayne — Joe Huber, Garden City East.

Bentley went ahead, 16-13, after one quarter. At the half, it was 35-28 for Farmington, but Bentley outscored Farmington, 17-9, to regain the lead and they stayed in front for the rest of the way.

Grimm started Bentley off with four baskets in the first period. The Farmington second-period surge was led by Greg Dorow with eight points and Tom Wirtz with four.

In the third quarter, Doyle came off the Bentley bench to hit twice while McCauley added six points and Bollin five.

McCauley with three baskets kept Bentley out in front in the last period.

Grimm and McCauley each finished with 14 points while Bollin scored ten. Dorow had 22, Wirtz 17 and Mike Ames 12 for Farmington.

Pistons Face Top Stars In Final Home Game

The well never runs dry when it comes to stars in the National Basketball Association. When one great bows out, there is another stand-out, sometimes two of them, to take his place.

A perfect example is what will take place this week at Cobo Arena as the curtain drops on the NBA's 1966-67 regular-season campaign.

On Thursday evening, K. C. Jones will be saying his farewells to Detroiters when the Boston Celtics battle the Pistons, starting at 8 o'clock.

Jones, who came to the Celtics a decade ago via San Francisco University, won himself fame without ever being a big scorer. Or even an average marksman. He has hit at only a 6.3-point average this season.

But Jones has made it to the top as the foremost defensive guard in the NBA and as one of the best play-makers the league has seen in a long time.

He's leaving the pro cage wars, but he's not bowing out of basketball. Next season will find Jones coaching at Brandeis University near Boston.

Meantime, as Jones fades from the NBA scene, the battle wars have come up with two brilliant new faces in the past two seasons. One is Dave Bing, who is wrapping up his rookie campaign with the Pistons in spectacular fashion. Just the other night Bing tossed in 47 points against Baltimore.

Another bright, new face is Rick Barry of the San Francisco Warriors who'll face the Pistons Sunday afternoon at 1:55 o'clock in

"Junk Mail" Isn't Only Culprit in Postal System

ANN ARBOR—Raising postage rates for so-called "junk mail" might make the Post Office Department's deficit larger instead of smaller, according to a University of Michigan business economist.

Associate Prof. J. Wilhelm, of the U-M Graduate School of Business Administration, says that because magazines, newspapers, direct mail advertising, and similar materials can be sent through the mail at lower rates than first-class mail, many critics charge that businesses sending them are in effect receiving a government subsidy.

A congressman recently announced that he intends to introduce a bill to raise the rates on mail other than first class to eliminate this "subsidy."

Wilhelm, comments: "The appeal of the 'mail subsidy' argument is very strong for people who find it annoying to receive junk mail. There are many people in the economy who are opposed to advertising and they find direct mail advertising annoying. The idea of raising the costs of direct mail is appealing to such groups.

"Actually, however, the argument that the junk mail is being subsidized by low rates is quite questionable, and a strong argument can be put forth that the first-class mail is the one being subsidized and not the junk mail.

The key point in the debate over Post Office subsidy, Wilhelm says, is whether the Post Office Department could significantly reduce its costs and personnel if it did not have to carry any mail other than first class. If it could not eliminate post offices, mailmen, trucks, or sorting personnel, costs would remain about the same.

Unless these costs could be reduced, "then there would be nothing gained by eliminating or reducing the junk mail and, indeed, the losses of the Post Office would be even larger than they are now," the U-M economist declares.

"Actually if we look at the broad picture of the Post Office it is difficult to see how the department could eliminate many post offices or many postmen, or even many postal trucks if it had to carry first class mail only," he adds.

"The postman still would have to walk past every house every day. The only thing the elimination of junk mail would do would be to lighten his load somewhat.

"Letters would still have to be handled in post offices and carried in postal trucks. It seems doubtful if these could be reduced a great deal with the elimination of junk mail. Thus it is fairly difficult for an outsider to see how there could be any great reduction in costs for the Post Office if the junk mail were eliminated."

Wilhelm says the annual being subsidized by low rates arises in part because of the free mail carried for government agencies, in part because of low rates given for public service activities and to non-profit organizations.

Of the remaining part of the deficit, Wilhelm says:

"If the Post Office Department, cannot significantly reduce its costs with the reduction in the volume of junk mail, it would be foolhardy to raise the rates on junk mail. Higher rates would mean a lower volume and thus a greater—not a smaller—deficit.

"The only way to handle this problem would be to raise the rates on first-class mail and perhaps reduce even further the rates on other classes of mail."

News for Hook-Line Fishermen

LANSING—Hook and line fishermen who are looking for places where their action won't be restricted by any "don'ts" will find 33 such waters in Michigan this year, the Conservation Department reports. The lakes and ponds are wide open all year long to the taking of fish of any kind, size, and number by hook and line.

The Department's reason for lifting the usual restrictions in these shallow, weed-filled waters is to reduce waste by letting sportsmen harvest fish which otherwise probably would be lost to the whims of nature.

When oxygen levels drop too low in these problem lakes and ponds during the winter and warm-weather months, large numbers of fish could suffocate if their populations were not thinned by fishermen before trouble strikes.

The following waters are opening to unlimited hook and line fishing throughout 1967:

LOWER PENINSULA: SOUTHERN

Advent Lake, Allegan County; Mud Lake, Calhoun County; Belas Lake, Cass County; Rose Lake, Clinton County; Batteese, Goose, Leke and Merkle lakes, Jackson County; Boonnie Castle, Dustin and East lakes, Kalamazoo County.

Pratt Lake, Kent County; Kent Lake, Livingston County; Duck, McBrides and Pickering lakes, Montcalm County; Judah Lake and Kent Lake down from Dawson Road Bridge to dam in Livingston County, Oakland County; Evans Lake, St. Joseph County; Becroft Lake, Tuscola County; and Green and West lakes and Winnemana Impoundment, Washtenaw County.

NORTHERN LOWER PENINSULA:

Lily Lake, Clare County; and Backus Creek Dam, Backus (Mud) Lake and Little Mud Lake Flooding, Roscommon County.

UPPER PENINSULA

Little Badwater Lake, Dickinson County; Strouble Lake, Mackinac County; and Hayward and North lakes, Menominee County.

"Catch as catch can" is virtually the name of the game for fishing on Crystal Lake, Dickinson County, and Sucker Lake, Gogebic County. These two waters, free of any size or catch limits, are open during the entire year to fishing with hook and line, hand or spring propelled spears, bows and arrows, hand dip nets and landing nets, or simply by hand.

Engineering: news, views, student guidance

by Fred W. Bradley, P.E.

Last week we explored the basic criteria for choosing one's vocation or profession. Rouge Valley (local chapter of the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers) has had many discussions with students, notably at Schoolcraft College. Three types of questions bother them: (1.) questions about actually making the decision, (2) questions about seeking employment, and (3.) what the actual Engineering job is like. Today we will explore the first type of question.

A common question runs like this: "Just when should I make the crucial choice of my profession and of the field in which to specialize?"

The first part of the answer would be "Just as soon as you can, after exploring all fields to the best of your ability."

A second part is equally important, often ignored, with tragic consequences: "But lawyers be alert to the possibility and desirability of change." That is, new information, new experience, new advice may suggest that your choice has been wrong; that another field may be more suited to your goals and your abilities. Do not be too disturbed by this. It is better to change, even belatedly, than to carry through to the bitter, unsatisfying end. A caution, though — do not be just a vascillator, bending with every breeze, getting nowhere fast.

A question regarding curricula: "What general courses are more important than math and physics in an engineering program?" First let us consider the purpose of an engineering education. Many definitions or descriptions have been proposed; here is one of them: "To prepare the student for a world of accelerating technological change — one in which he must continually learn and learn rapidly the new facts, new methods and even new principles of science that will certainly be discovered or revived. Intellectuals disciplined to be agile flexible and extremely active are needed as never before."

Indirectly this answers part of the question: Math and physics are very important, both in learning to analyze technological problems and for just plain "skull practice." A student who is good in these areas (math and physics) has learned to think logically, one of the important facets of engineering. And what else? We venture to suggest English. An engineer must communicate, and communicate clearly. He must give explanations, make studies, write letters and reports. If his spelling, punctuation, grammar are poor — he is not a good engineer.

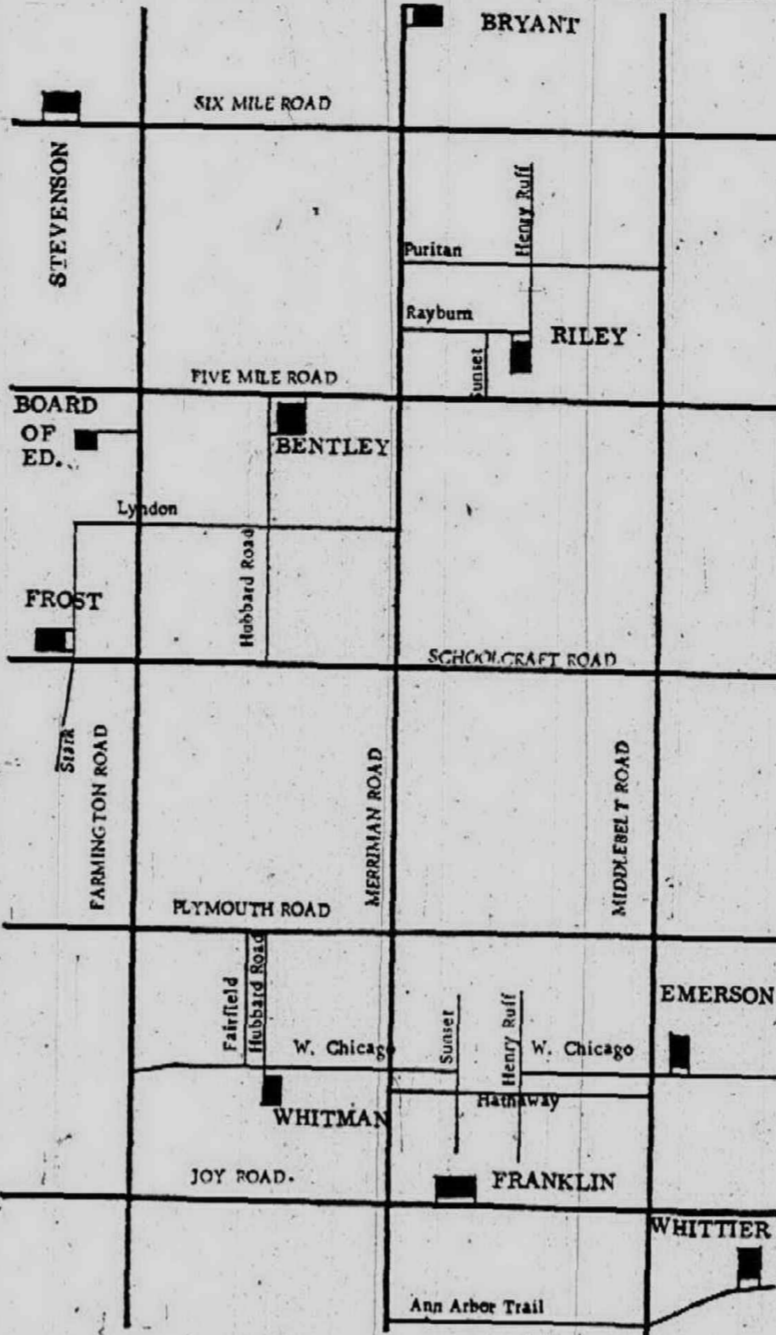

Another one: "How about a general engineering education vs. a highly specialized one?"

Here is a composite answer by Rouge Valley engineers: "Take all the technical courses required for your degree; then take as many of the non-technical courses you can possibly elect. Take an extra semester if you can." Suggestions for extra courses are Economics, Law, the Humanities, and — more English. Keep on taking courses after graduation. Find out something about this world in which we live — become a well-rounded member of Society.

Faith and begorragh—Judging an Irish contest with 20 lovely contestants needed the wisdom of Solomon.

With nary a bit of the Emerald Isle in our ancestry, I did the next best thing—wore a green suit, held shamrocks for luck, conjured up every leprechaun I knew and then joined two fellow judges Saturday for the choosing of Miss Ireland of Livonia.

The winner's picture can be seen elsewhere in the paper today.

Just happen to have the recipe for Irish coffee: black coffee slowly poured over a dram of Irish whiskey and topped with a bit of thick cream. Whoopee!

If you feel you have the luck of the Irish, try it out at the Rosedale Garden's Card Party St. Pat's night, 8:30 p.m. at the Club House on Hubbard. For information call (I kid you not) Bonnie Green at 425-5842.

Spring Fashion Flair held recently by the St. Aiden (Six Mi. area) Altar Soc. was an elegant success. Joan Brozo, chairman of the event chose Glen Oaks Country Club for the setting; fresh flowers crowned each table. ## Ladywood Lore Drama Club Presents Lent Passion Play

By Janet Lawrence '68 Ladywood's Drama and Choral clubs will make a joint presentation of the passion play "The Upper Room" for the season of Lent.

Sister M. Janine, Drama club moderator and advisor cast the roles for the play.

The Choral club, under the direction of Sister M. Huberta, will sing appropriate selections in the story of Christ's passion such as Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus, and Noble Crane's "The Holy City."

Senior, Marcy Niznik, is choreographer for the production. She feels that, "The enactment of 'The City of God' through dance will not only prove exciting for the performers, but also to the audience.

The performances are scheduled for March 16-20. Matinees will be on both Saturday and Sunday, March 18 and 19 at 2:30 p.m. Evening curtain times will be at 7:30 p.m.

"The Drama of Motherhood" was the theme of Mrs. John Shada's inspirational talk at the annual Mother Daughter Communion Breakfast on Sunday.

The girls and their mothers attended Mass offered by Reverend K. Cronin at the Felician Sister's Motherhouse Chapel.

After Mass, a tasty breakfast of scrambled eggs, sausage, sweet rolls coffee and juice was served in Ladywood's gym.

Although the affair was for mothers and daughters, many wonderful dads could be seen scurrying around in aprons serving the delectable breakfast.

Submarine Shop Open In Plaza

Daniel T. McPhail, a 1963 graduate of Farmington High has opened a submarine sandwich shop in the Farmington Plaza, 31626 Grand River.

He is celebrating his Grand Opening this week with a special coupon, located elsewhere in this paper.

Dan has been a resident of Farmington for the past 13 years, residing at 22909 Mayfield, City of Farmington. He was previously employed by Marathon Oil Company. He is now serving in the Michigan Air National Guard.

Dan was inspired on his trips thru the eastern states where Submarine sandwich shops are very prevalent. He felt that such a good wholesome sandwich should be introduced to this part of the country. His motto is ONLY THE FINEST QUALITY MEATS ARE PERMITTED IN OUR SUBMARINES.

"Heartbreak House" by George Bernard Shaw opened last week at the Bonstelle Theater on the Wayne State University campus. The University Players struggled with this symbolic Shaw talkathon and lost the glorious fight.

Director Richard Brown can accept a good share of the responsibility for such a lethargic production. The pace was ponderous since he had the actors sitting down and standing quite static in scene after scene.

George Bernard Shaw, in all his plays, loved the sound of his dialogue. His wit sometimes became buried in an avalanche of words. The true disciple of Shaw hangs on every word uttered by the witty Irishman.

Not so, with most audiences they would prefer the action move on. A good director will recognize this weakness of Shaw and do one of two things to correct the situation. You can cut the script or you can provide plenty of action to stress the witty nature of the line.

Director Brown did neither of these two motivational devices. As a result actors "died" right out on stage. Many of the scenes in "Heartbreak House" seemed hours long. In fact, the second act did not break until close to 11 when most plays are finishing.

The sets designed by Russ Smith were perfect. Lighting, costumes, and make-up gave a professional glow to the production. But, alas, the actors sank beneath the weight of the excessive dialogue and the stilted too inert movement.

"Heartbreak House" was revived on Broadway about eight years ago with an all-star cast that featured Maurice Evans, Sam Levine, and Ruth Gordon. It was hailed by all the critics as a success. Thus, this Shaw classic can be enjoyable if some intelligent cutting and motivational movement is inserted.

The theme of "Heartbreak House" is always current in our violent age of aggression and constant state of "hot-cold" wars. Shaw says in "Heartbreak House" that we end all wars only after we destroy the capitalists who create these conflicts to feather their nests with greenbacks.

In Act III of "Heartbreak House" a bomb hits the gravel pit where Boss Magnus has scurried for protection. His death is taken lightly by Captain Shotover who feels the world will be better off with these scoundrels dead.

With very little updating "Heartbreak House" could relate quite easily to our present conflict in Vietnam. The picture that Shaw paints of society in the midst of a war is devastating and rings quite true.

G. B. Shaw admits that he was influenced by Anton Chekhov when writing "Heartbreak House." He had seen Chekhov's "Cherry Orchard" and "Three Sisters" and recognized what the Russian playwright was saying about a decadent society.

Incidentally, Eastern Michigan University is opening tonight with Chekhov's "Three Sisters." This excursion into Russian classic drama is a "first" for the EMU Players. Dr. Gousseff should have an excellent production since he did his doctoral work in Russian drama.

"Three Sisters" will play Wednesday through Saturday at the Quirk Theater in Ypsilanti. There will be two shows on Saturday, a 7 and a 9:30 performance.

Penn Undergoes Remodeling Job

Continuing the improvement program that started a year ago in celebration of 25 years as Plymouth's leading family theater, The Penn Theatre, located on Penniman Ave. near Main, has a new, modernistic lobby and foyer for the benefit of its patrons.

Owner-Manager Margaret Wilson, who started as an usherette and ticket seller in 1945, advanced to manager in 1952 and then purchased the theater in 1964, believes the new $25,000 improvement makes the Penn one of the finest family movie houses in Western Wayne County.

With Tivador Balogh, of Plymouth, as the architect and Clarence Partin, as general contractor, the revamped foyer and lobby features a dual box office at which patrons may buy tickets from inside or outside.

"If the weather is cold, damp and miserable as it has been for the past several weeks, then customers can step inside in the warmth of the lobby to buy tickets," explained Miss Wilson.

The lobby has bronze aluminum doors with bronze tint glass, new cedar paneling throughout, a new drop ceiling with indirect lighting, a new concession and box-office area hand-built of vertical grain fir and the entire interior paneled with new cedar paneling.

In addition the lobby and foyer has been recarpeted in olive and green colors.

"It is the first phase of renovating from the front doors to the back," said Miss Wilson in telling of the improvements.

And for the first topflight film in celebration of the improvements, Miss Wilson has booked, "In Like Flint" starring James Coburn and Lee Cobb for the latter part of March.

Chekhov Opens Tonight at EMU

"The Three Sisters," Chekhov's compassionate comedy of the decline and fall of a small town upper class Russian family, will be presented in the Quirk Auditorium on the EMU campus for six performances Wednesday through Sunday, March 15-19.

Curtain time for opening night is set for 8 p.m. with a similar scheduled to be followed Thursday, Friday and Sunday evening. On Saturday night (March 18) another of the stunningly successful EMU Theatre "twilight double-headers" will be given a Russian flavor with double-decker performances of "The Three Sisters" at 7 and at 10.

Children's Production Moves to Stevenson High

"Hansel and Gretel" and "The Pied Piper of Hamelin," the annual children's show presentation by The Junior Guild of The Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford, will be seen at Stevenson High School this Saturday, March 18 at 11 a.m., 1 and 3 p.m.

The program, which also includes clowns and a rock and roll group at intermission, has been enthusiastically received on the last two weekends at Bentley High and Thurston High.

"Hansel and Gretel" and "The Pied Piper" have been "double-cast" to prevent fatigue of the young performers. Director Robert Gregory and his assistants, Ron Kruman, Beverly Kish and Carol Jeter, have had their hands full with the 43 members of the two shows, which includes a sparkling group of dancers from the Rosedale School of Dance.

The Guild, sponsored by the Adult Education of Livonia and Thurston High School, plans one more Children's Show day at Redford Union High in April. A near hour of live show costs children 35 cents and adults 50 cents and 5 cent candy is sold in the lobby. Tickets may be purchased at the door or reserve seats in advance for any of the three performances by calling KE 7-8109 or 427-9060.

Coin Club To Meet

Arthur Webster of Pontiac will discuss "Why Is A Coin Club" at the March 22 meeting of the Livonia Riverside Coin Club. The session will begin at 7 p.m. at the Livonia Police Station at 15058 Farmington Rd. Guests are welcome.

Council Offers Programs To Local Communities

Touring theatre and dance groups, nationally-known poets, artists in residence and many other cultural headliners are available now to Michigan communities.

This is only part of the cultural bill-of-fare offered by the new Michigan State Council for the Arts.

Primary purpose of the Arts Council program is to assist communities in developing an expanded cultural program. No Michigan town, school or club is too small to qualify.

What's available?
Lecture-demonstrations of two types of concert dance, contemporary-modern, and classic ballet will be given by the Interlochen Arts Academy Dance Group, the Ann Arbor Dance Theatre, the Detroit City Ballet, and the Central School Modern Dance Group of Detroit.

The dance groups will perform at least one complete dance. A moderator will describe technique and show improvisations as they are demonstrated by the dancers.

Touring theatre programs will be given by advanced students of Michigan State University, the University of Michigan and Wayne State University.

Designed as an introduction to live theatre, the groups will offer cuttings from plays which feature different periods in theatre history—the program designed to skillfully combine educational and entertainment values. Audiences will have a rare opportunity to see a range of dramatic styles extending from the Greeks to the Avant-garde.

Concerts for young people by 11 professional chamber ensembles; programs by the Kenneth Jewell Chorale, Michigan's only professional chorus; and selected community symphony orchestras are also available. The chamber ensembles are being made available in cooperation with Young Audiences, Inc., a national organization, and will be a lecture-recital approach planned for young listeners.

Three nationally known Michigan poets, William D. Snodgrass, Donald Hall and Radcliffe Squires—are available for poetry reading programs in schools, or sponsored by private groups. Snodgrass who won the Pulitzer prize in 1960 for his book of poems "Hearts Needle," is professor of English at Wayne State University.

Hall and Squires are on the literature faculty of the University of Michigan. Hall, best known as a poet, has also distinguished himself as a writer of prose, a playwright, a public speaker and an editor. His play about the life of Robert Frost, "An Evening's Frost," was the hit of the 1965 Off-Broadway season in New York. Squires has written three books of literary criticism and three books of poetry, the most recent being "Fingers of Hermes."

Itineraries for the poets will be arranged according to their existing speaking commitments.

The Arts Council's programs in visual arts include four exhibits available during the spring of 1967. They are: "Michigan Artists Annual Prize Winners"—a retrospective selection of prize winning works from former Michigan artists exhibits; a selection of "50 Contemporary Drawings" from a collection at the University of Michigan; "Techniques of Etchings, Lithographs, Engravings and Wood Cuts" from the art collection of Michigan State University, with an accompanying panel describing the various techniques; and, a Crafts Exhibit, featuring pottery, weaving, and jewelry.

The Artist-in-Residence program offers opportunities for communities to request a professional Michigan artist be assigned to their area for a period ranging from one to three weeks to conduct workshops, and lecture-demonstrations. Also available through the Council's visual arts committee will be lectures on art and lecturers on crafts. One-day workshops can be arranged for interested teachers of art and other qualified participants.

Two museum exhibits are available, free of charge, to schools or groups prepared to provide proper care for hanging, promoting, and repacking. The exhibits are "Ancient Rock Paintings and Engravings," and "No Place to Play." Both exhibits have been pledged by the Cranbrook Institute of Science and can be booked for three week periods.

A technical assistance program is also available to groups in all of the Arts. This program is designed to provide expert consultant service in all of the art fields to new, existing or expanding arts activities. Examples of this might be the need for advice in renovating a former movie theatre into a community theatre playhouse; or, converting an old post office into an art museum.

The Council will assume financial responsibility for the consultant's fee and his travel expenses. The requesting organization or community will pay for the consultant's room and meals.

Information on booking of the Arts Council programs or the technical assistance service can be obtained by writing or calling the Michigan State Council for the Arts, 7310 Woodward Avenue, Room 411, Detroit 48202.

Gymnastic Show Set At Kenbrook School

The Kenbrook School Sixth Grades will demonstrate their skill and versatility in tumbling, gymnastics, and square dancing on Thursday, March 16 at an evening program.

As a final activity culminating several weeks of instruction, children in each of the three sixth grade rooms will display their ability in using the side horse, ring trapeze and other items of equipment. Hand springs, forward and backward rolls, vaulting and other gymnastic movements will be performed by all members of the classes.

Following the gymnastics exhibition, selected children will provide an interlude of whirrs and bows to the tune of Red River Valley. During the program, four members of the North Farmington High School gymnastics teams will demonstrate their skill to the assembled parents. Angie Garcia and Kathy McArthur will perform routines in free exercise and balance beam while DeWayne Ortwine and Jim Harris display their championship form in both free exercise and tumbling demonstrations.

Mrs. Evelyn Davidsén, physical education instructor, pointed out that these children were the future Gymnastics Champions. As children build skills and abilities at any early age, interest and motivation develop which carries them through the years to championship form. According to Dr. Cleveland, principal, physical fitness is a worthy objective in the elementary school, and it is through the excellent program developed in Kenbrook School that the objective is achieved for these children.

Cabaret Concerts Slated for April

Violinist Mischa Mischakoff, pianist Gordon Goodman, sopranos Nadja Witkowska and Mary Munroe, and baritone William Metcalf will be featured soloists in the forthcoming Detroit Symphony Orchestra Cabaret "Pops" Concerts April 11 to 22 in the Detroit Light Guard Armory.

The conductors will be Arthur Fiedler, Donald Voorhees, and Yuri Krasnopolsky. Mischakoff, who has been Detroit Symphony concertmaster since 1952 and a frequent soloist with the Orchestra, will make his first solo appearance at a Cabaret "Pops" Concert, with Fiedler conducting, April 11 and 12.

Goodman, a 17-year-old resident of Huntington Woods, is a winner of the 1964 and 1965 Grinnell's Senior High School Piano Competition and a recent first-prize winner of the Oak Park Symphony Society Piano Competition. He is a student of Julius Charles Goodman who will perform the Grieg Piano Concerto, with Fiedler conducting, April 14 and 15.

Miss Witkowska, making her second Cabaret "Pops" Concert appearance, is a native Detroit and presently a leading soprano with the New York City Opera Company. She has sung with the Cincinnati, Houston, Pittsburgh and Washington, D.C. opera companies. This past summer she sang the lead role in "The Ballad of Baby Doe" in the Central City (Colo.) Festival.

She will sing familiar songs and arias at concerts conducted by Voorhees April 18 and 19.

Miss Munroe and William Metcalf will sing popular solos and duets from the Broadway stage, with Krasnopolsky conducting, April 21 and 22.

Miss Munroe, who was born in Ohio, has sung with the Dallas Civic Opera, the Metropolitan Opera National Opera Association, and as guest soloist with the Dayton Philharmonic.

Metcalf, a leading baritone with the New York City Opera Company, has recently appeared in a performance of Benjamin Britten's "War Requiem" with the Kansas City Philharmonic, and in the American premiere of that composer's "Curlew River" at the Caramoor Festival.

Mail orders for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Cabaret "Pops" Concerts are now being accepted. With the exception by sponsoring groups, tables of four are priced at $16, $12 and $8.

Tickets for individual tables go on sale Monday, Feb. 27. For information on all Cabaret "Pops" performances, call 961-0700.

Singletons Set First Meeting

And What Now, Plymouth?

A court decision, that could have a far-reaching effect on communities throughout Michigan, was handed down by Circuit Court Judge Victor Baum last week, declaring a provision of the Plymouth City Charter unconstitutional.

The charter provision, which requires a candidate for city office to be a resident and a property-owning taxpayer for two years, was challenged by Rev. Peter Schweitzer, Associate Pastor of the First Methodist Church in Plymouth.

Rev. Schweitzer took the City to court on the grounds that the provision deprived him of the opportunity to become a candidate for the City Commission and also denied those who signed his nominating petition of the right to vote for a candidate of their choice.

Most of the long-time residents of Plymouth poo-pooed the suit. "He won't have a chance" was the comment. "That provision is in charters in cities throughout the state. He has to be wrong."

These same persons are shaking their heads in wonderment today. Rev. Schweitzer did win and the court opinion strikes at every charter having a similar provision.

In his ruling, Judge Baum, in effect, said the charter was written for the benefit of the rich and not the poor. He pointed out that the writers of the charter must have had this thought in mind when they wrote the provision.

As an example, he pointed to a person of considerable wealth who conceivably would winter in the South during the winter and then move into an apartment in Plymouth during the remainder of the year.

This man, the Judge said, would be deprived of the right to run for office in the City of Plymouth regardless of his stature. He could be the most astute statesman in the city but because he wasn't a taxpayer and property owner, he couldn't become a candidate.

Rev. Schweitzer deserves praise from citizens of the City of Plymouth for challenging the provision and taking it to court. He is being censured in some places but in this modern world it is refreshing to see a person of the stature of Rev. Schweitzer get up on his toes and say, "This is wrong and I'm going to challenge it and try to correct it."

The City Commission, as expected, has decided to appeal the decision, principally on the grounds that Commissioners don't care to have the charter declared wrong.

But even on the Commission, there are two members—James McKeon and Robert Smith—who had enough courage to tell their fellow members they were opposed to an appeal because they felt the decision was right.

Perhaps, it's time for the City Commission to consider taking another good look at the Charter. There are Commissioners who feel some of the city ordinances, passed long after the charter, are outdated and should be changed. Why not the charter?

OBSERVING the Scene . . .

By MYRA CHANDLER

Lightning coming out of the sky doesn't strike everyone, but when it does, it usually is a disaster.

We take certain safety precautions to avoid being struck by this uncertain instrument of death.

Likewise, a criminally insane person does not strike everyone, but like lightning, when it does it is usually fatal.

Unfortunately the protection of the helpless in the face of this menace is not good. Not only is the public unprotected, but in a sense, the criminal himself should be better protected by law since his crime is not that of a normal person.

Several incidents have triggered off the Legislators in Lansing to study our entire Probate Court with an eye to more rigid control.

The history of the Royal Oak sniper arrested in 1957 is a case in point. Even he, as unbalanced as he was proven to be, was relieved when he was arrested after terrorizing the entire section of Oakland County for a six-week period and committing unprovoked attacks, often savage on 16 women. It was revealed when he was arrested he was a deviate with sadistic, murderous urges directed mainly toward women.

Everyone agreed, separately, this 19-year-old should be confined, psychiatrists, law enforcement officers and the courts. But now, 10 years later, he is about to be released on a writ of habeas corpus filed last week in Ionia County Circuit Court. He was transferred out of Oakland County jurisdiction when he was transferred on request from Ionia to Detroit Lafayette Clinic because psychiatrists there wanted to "study him" as his brother was there as an outpatient. No records transferred with him—and no history accompanies this man as he faces an entirely new group in judging him insane—or sane and able to take his place in society. Yet the doctors as late as May 1966 refused his release on the grounds he was not cured.

Captain Robert Turner, Chief of the Livonia Detective Squad, pinpointed the problem as lack of communication. Arresting officers, often the most familiar with the case, never get the opportunity to view the doctor's conclusions after examination—they do not have the opportunity to consult with the psychiatrists as a normal procedure. They should.

Suicides, and here of late a suicide-murder, probably could have been avoided if a 48-hour commitment hadn't been interfered with, two lives might have been saved, one of a normal, healthy boy, and one of his father who might have been cured.

Another case in Livonia is of a young girl, 22, who stole a car. Her mother has been trying to get help for her for years and cannot get the authorities interested.

The girl talks normal, looks normal, and yet, is it normal for a young, attractive girl to live in a dump outside the City of Wayne, in the back of a truck? Hardly.

But authorities' hands are tied.

There are so many unrelated procedures to go through, so much red tape. The Prosecutor will not issue a warrant for the girl unless she is brought in with her accuser. The accuser is ready, but the girl doesn't want to, she is unbalanced and doesn't respond normally to a request to come to the Police Station for questioning.

Something must be done to help this person before she harms herself and others.

The procedure for commitment, in the case of a person suspected but not as yet guilty of murder or violence, is request from family or other citizens (with proof) for 48-hour commitment. The Prosecutor has to approve the commitment before the warrant is issued. The person is then taken to Wayne County General Hospital where approval must also be given by the hospital for the 48-hour commitment.

If both approvals are obtained the person is committed for 48 hours to await a report from three psychiatrists. The doctors may ask for two five-day stays, if they deem it necessary.

By then there is either recommendation for a court hearing, or the person is released. Often the person is released to one member of the family who says he prefers to take the person to a private doctor. There is not much follow up should the request (and it usually is) be granted.

If there is any estate involved, Capt. Turner says there is usually a "loved one" that does not want to see the money administered by the court. (procedure in the case of a criminally insane person). Usually the "loved one" is more interested in their supervising the "chore."

It is Captain Turner's opinion there should be a meeting of the minds—a conference at least, between the court, the law enforcement officers and the psychiatrist, before any action is taken to release a person with criminally insane tendencies. Sometimes the family interferes because of a fear of social stigma.

No one can over-simplify the complications involved, but certainly the three agencies plus the family of such a person should communicate, and should be made to do so by law.

Letters to the Editor:

19th GOP Critic Expounds

Editor: Dolores Kory's letter is the same old record, played over and over.

"We good Republicans for the party went and work for party unity", but in moderate, liberal middle-of-the-road, (Rep. State Chairman) Elly Peterson clique language. They really mean do as I say. This clique's philosophy is run a winner even if he or she is a Democrat.

Hand-pick primary candidates and support them with Republican Party funds. Or if their clique is fairly defeated, set up an illegal organization as they did in the 12th, 14th, and 19th Districts and will do in other areas in the future. Even her Wayne 19th Chairman title is an illegal rump position. The general public is beginning to question the "why" of so many revolts in Republican ranks?

"With Elly Peterson's clique always saying, we are the white hats. True, some of the conservatives don't support the Presidential aspirations of our greatest Governor and this is treason to their Romney-type Republicanism. I, personally, don't support our greatest Governor, for good Republican reasons, I believe. One good reason is the well-developed callouses on either big toe, from putting his foot in his mouth.

"I predict party unity for our Republican party when party rules and election laws apply equally to all Republican candidates."

More G.O.P. Criticism

Editor: Thank you for your coverage of the 19th GOP. It is known that there are problems of friction and disunity; so therefore, it is good that the facts are brought out.

In your March 8, 1967 issue, under the heading, "VIEW FROM INSIDE GOP," you printed a letter from Dolores Kory, in which she stated, "To have thoroughly understood the two-camp view of the Oakland delegation however, one needed to witness the district convention, Jan. 31". With this she then proceeds to try and explain what happened, why she is so happy about that and implies that the group she supports has been officially empowered by somebody. So, let's take just a brief "inside view". First of all, I think we will all agree that this should not come from someone who was down in Wayne County someplace attending the 19th District-Wayne convention while the 19th District-Oakland convention was being held out in Walled Lake.

Now let's take a look at the issues. The problem is not that the 19th convention didn't recognize the recommendations of the several legislative district caucuses. The 19th congressional district did not call such caucuses prior to the convention. It was Oakland County headquarters who put out that call. Further, I have no intention of following the lead of the letter and demean the efforts of any person in the GOP. Regardless of their views, they are doing what they can, and no one, regardless of his title, has any right to publicly criticize a person for not being a harder working volunteer.

The fact that a group of people were not happy with the outcome of the District Convention did not give them license to hold what they took great pains to explain as a "rump" convention. When it better suited their needs later, they denied this and claimed it was a continuation of the District convention that had just been adjourned. The whole point of the matter is they were gathered illegally in either case, and also without quorum. Therefore, all that has followed is nothing more than a pressure group trying to impose its will and take over with its own people. And this they label unity.

What is this whole situation about? It is basically very simple. The Oakland County organization is attempting to control the 19th Congressional District. The 19th Congressional District, in accord with the State constitution is attempting to run its own affairs. It is not a new group. Those that were responsible for the activities of the 19th last year, which included the big GOP landslide, are the same people who are being called names today. It is their effort to bring in new workers and promote experienced people to more responsible positions that is being ridiculed by the Counties tightly held little closed fraternity of personal opportunists, apparently because they don't recognize some of the names of the newcomers who are being welcomed aboard from all over the district.

So, there is the problem, Mr. Voter, your problem. It is your problem because you elect the party Precinct Delegate who does the first round of voting on the party organization ladder. Know your organization as best you can and if possible, work in it. But, if you had to vote right now what would be your choice? The tightly held little organization not actually functioning within the constitution of your state, that cannot face defeat, that preaches unity while creating a party split. Or the organization that believes in running its own affairs; that spreads responsibility; that seeks and welcomes volunteer workers and has as its one goal the Party's success on election day with the Party's candidates who were chosen without interference at primary election.

OBSERVATION POINT

By Philip H. Power

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Observer Publisher Philip Power just returned from a trip abroad. Among his experiences were numerous rides in taxicabs in Istanbul, Turkey. The following is taken from the notes he managed to scrawl during one of his rides.)

ISTANBUL—New York cabbies and New York taxis are supposed to be the most famous in the world.

London taxicabs, with their high-sided, austere all-black bodies and calm drivers, are surely the most dignified in the world.

Tokyo's taxi drivers, who know only the location of the accelerator pedal are the most suicidal in the world. But Istanbul's taxi system, considered as a system, is the most unusual in my experience.

Brother, forget about calling your local taxi cab office to ask for a radio cab to come to your door. Forget, in fact, about calling the cab office at all. I tried numerous ones, aided by a skilled Turkish speaker, and got no answers from any of them; most don't even have phones. No, indeed. You don't call cabs. You don't even go out to your nearest cab stand to see if one is there.

In Istanbul, you stand on the corner of a street, eyeing the squash of traffic going by—donkeys, ancient busses, men with four-foot high loads on their backs, an occasional black limousine belonging to a (successful) Turkish businessman, and an incredible screaming, belching, wheezing, rattling hoard of cars.

Out of this, you may just barely be able to pick out the particularly wheezy and rattling form which belongs to the Turkish taxi, called a "dolmesh."

Other than being more decrepit than the run-of-the-mill Turkish car, a dolmesh is distinguished by a small strip of black and white checks running just below the windows and a very small taxi meter hanging precariously out the right window.

This meter does not work. I have never seen a Turkish dolmesh meter which works. I do not know if any of them work.

But all dolmeshes have them; they act as a key identification symbol and no more.

So this dolmesh comes along, filled with people, on its way to rattle past you. At this point, it is of vital importance to remember Turkish dolmesh etiquette, which is just as rigid as that at an international diplomatic conference.

You do not wave your hand hopefully, in an attempt to get the dolmesh to stop. You do not shout, "Taxi!" (or in Turkey, "Dolmesh!") in a loud voice. You do not even produce the Turkish version of, "Hey buddy! Going my way?"

Instead, you scream the name of the general area you want to go to, looking questioning all the while. "Taxim?" you bellow, referring to a central square in Istanbul. "Heelton?" you shout, if American, referring to the Istanbul Hilton Hotel.

At this point, it is the dolmesh driver's move. Generally, he nods his head vigorously up and down. Although this means "Yes" in America, in Turkey it means "No. I am not going where you want to go, as any fool can plainly see."

This happens about six out of every seven tries with a dolmesh.

Once in a while, the dolmesh driver will shake his head from side to side, reluctantly. This means, "Yes. I do happen to be going in the vague direction you want, and as part of my

I will take you that way... For a fee."

The dolmesh then grinds to a halt. Somehow, amid the tangle of arms and legs, a door is opened. (Often, at this juncture, the door falls off. Then everyone stops to watch the driver get out and tie it back on with some rope.)

You get in, generally pushing the five people already in the back seat aside. Muttered oaths in Turkish fill the air which probably refer to your ancestry.

"How much?" you ask. "I don't know," comes the reply. "I'll see when we get there."

Translated, this means he will spend the next 10 or 15 minutes figuring out just how much he can get away with.

From time to time, the dolmesh stops, disgorging passengers. Others enter.

The dolmesh has a vaguely defined route, along which it runs somewhat like a bus, but with detours made for specially favored customers. In our terms, it is like a cab running back and forth along Farmington Road, from Plymouth Road on the south and Grand River in Farmington on the north, with an occasional side trip down Seven Mile Road to drop off someone at their home.

You finally get somewhere, and the dolmesh driver turns toward you. "Gbstng!" he shouts, leading you to assume you are where you wanted to get.

"Fifty krush," he adds, giving you the fare, which has only been doubled over the normal. It's about 30 cents.

You pay up and get out. Of course, you find that you are nowhere near where you intended to go. But with the Turkish taxi system, that's about par for the course.

Beware of those star rookie yarns from baseball camps

By W. W. EDGAR

DOWN IN THE SUNNY southland the major league baseball teams are engaged in their annual spring training and it won't be long until the public prints are filled with glowing accounts of rookies who have all the appearances of "another Ty Cobb" or "another Mickey Mantle" and who are ready to etch their names in the baseball history.

'Twas ever thus. Never a Spring goes by that some young player doesn't catch the eyes of the writers and they, in turn, start building him into a hero — only to see him fade when the season gets underway. Some of them don't even survive the training camp.

Each year as these stories come streaming out of the south I can't help letting my memory take me back to the late '30's when I toured the sunny climes with the Detroit Tigers as they prepared for their futile attempts to recapture a pennant.

IT WAS IN THE SPRING OF 1937 — when the world champion Tigers of 1935 were beginning to fray a bit at the edges and Mickey Cochrane, the fiery manager, knew it.

On the day that I reached camp at Lakeland — and before I ever got to the ball park—I was told of a young fellow who was trying out at third base. "He looks like the goods," the critics told me.

Each morning he would go out to the "hot corner" and take his place, while Marv Owen, the regular third baseman of the champions, remained on the sidelines — and wondered.

To all questions about him Manager Cochrane just smiled. He'd sit in the dugout and talk to the youngster — like a father — and the rumors spread that the Tigers had one of the best infield prospects in the majors.

FOR A TIME the writers patiently watched the young fellow — a quiet sort of lad who was willing to let his feats speak for him.

Then came the opening game of the Grapefruit Circuit and, to the surprise of everyone, Mickey started him at third base. Little attention was paid to the game in the early innings. Most of the writers were engaged in sending back reports to their papers that the rookie had displaced Marv Owen at third base — and that the Tigers' pennant winning combination was breaking up.

The rookie did nothing to change the writers' opinions during the game. He did everything that was asked of him. That night at the hotel, Cochrane was deluged with questions. Who was the kid? Where did he come from, etc?

Finally, Mickey reached in his pocket and brought out a letter. It was from Charles Fisher, one of the famous Fisher brothers, telling Mickey that his "stable boy" was coming down for a vacation . . . that he loved to play baseball, etc. and would Mickey give him a chance to exercise with the team.

The secret was out. In two weeks the kid was back in Detroit.

impressions

by sue shaughnessy

Periodically one reads a book which strikes an especially responsive chord. The interesting thing is the fact that the book is never the current best seller or "in" book.

Every spring I have the desire to get on a tramp steamer and start around the world or to hop a freight and start across this huge country of ours. Unfortunately in our society girls just can't do this.

This year the feeling is stronger than ever, but the wish is to set off by car and explore not only the big cities of the United States of America, but the back roads and small towns and villages.

I keep telling myself that I really must settle down and that I am not an 18-year-old any longer and have to put down roots. "Mature" I admonish myself when the urge becomes almost too strong to resist.

Thus, when I picked up a Steinbeck book, which I had somehow never gotten around to reading before, and found much of the same feeling expressed, it was an uplifting experience.

The book is "Travels With Charley" and is an account of John Steinbeck's journey throughout the United States in 1960.

Steinbeck's opening words are: "When I was very young and the urge to be someplace else was on me, I was assured by mature people that maturity would cure the itch. When years described me as mature, the remedy prescribed was middle age. In middle age I was assured that greater age would calm my fever and now that I am 58 perhaps senility will do this job. Nothing has worked."

Steinbeck offers a theory, however, that is interesting and, I think, has merit. He says:

"Could it be that Americans are a restless people, a mobile people, never satisfied with where they are as a matter of selection? The pioneers, the immigrants who peopled the continent, were the restless ones in Europe. The steady rooted ones stayed home and are still there. But every one of us, except the Negroes, forced here as slaves, are descendant from the restless ones, the wayward ones who were not content to stay at home. Wouldn't it be unusual if we had not inherited this tendency? And the fact is that we have."

All told it's a thoroughly enchanting idea.

Officials Answer Vietnam Soldier's Plea

The following is a plea from a soldier, in the opinion of The Observer Editorial staff needed answering. As a result, letters were sent to elected officials of the district for their opinion.

Following is the letter from W. Kreig, Battery A 6th Field Artillery, 1st Infantry Division, Lai Khe Vietnam; prompting the action and the answers:

Editor: I am a 1965 graduate of Bentley High School. Shortly after completion of school I enlisted in the United States Army and served a short tour of Germany. After which I was further assigned to the 1st Infantry Division in Vietnam, where I am at the present. My unit is the 6th Artillery, base camp at Lai Khe in the middle of a large rubber plantation about 30 miles north-west of Saigon near the northern tip of the Iron Triangle.

I read in the papers everyday about the world's opinion of our role here in Vietnam and am very discouraged with their opinions. It seems that too many people "are not with us." I'm not referring to anyone there in Livonia, which puzzles me because I never really hear much in either direction. I would appreciate it very much if you would possibly write an article, or should I say editorial on the subject after personal discussion of the topic with the city's citizens. I subscribe to the Observer and am constantly looking for opinions.

This war isn't something to pass by lightly, people don't really seem to realize how it affects them until it does, its then too late. I'm sure there are many families in Livonia and the surrounding areas that do have sons stationed in Vietnam and would be very interested in knowing more about the local opinion. We seem very neglected when we hear everyday that people are against us being here. We are here and we want very much to end the war as you must know, yet the problem is that too many people are against us. I should say our government. These people are backed by communists, because that's what we're fighting here, not a civil war as they might have us believe. Support must start out in communities, and grow, its not something that just happens. I urge everyone to stand up now and support us in the best way possible. Not with material things but with speech and support of our government's policies.

Probably the best article ever written that I have read, was by John Steinbeck, the author, and he was recently over here and knows a lot more than people who sit back there in the states and believe the opinions of communistic indoctrines. Its not the people fault, for they only know what they hear or read. Yet why did the communists try and mock Steinbeck? Because he wasn't afraid to express what he saw.

Walter Krieg

Answer From: Rep. Louis Schmidt 36th Representative District A copy of your letter to Mr. Power of the Livonia Observer was forwarded to me for comment.

As a veteran of World War II, and as a previous school man, (Superintendent at Clarenceville when you were in high school), I have been concerned about the same type of reaction of people. I think one must keep in mind that a "Noisy minority" is always heard. They, however, do not speak for the majority of citizens who are quite concerned.

It is tragic that most people do not have a concept of what is involved in war, and what certain actions mean in the final outcome. For example, I was in Korea when provisions had been made to allow the Russians to come into the north part of Korea. At that time, many of us felt it was wrong, but certain people permitted this to happen. Emotion often confuses not reaching a proper conclusion as to the best procedure.

Walter, most people, and especially veterans, know what is involved, and I can assure you that after the early affects of emotion, people are convinced that we are doing the right thing in Vietnam, and that we have a task to perform, which means that we cannot sell out, nor can we settle for anything less than the result which means we have achieved our basic goals.

You must keep in mind that reports received are quite often a release regarding a position of the minority, and this should not mean that all the people, either in our country or in our government, are failing to support the fellows in Vietnam.

One of the things you are fighting for are certain basic freedoms. By the same token, you must realize that people in our country, then, have a right to exercise these basic freedoms, even though you and I are very much opposed to their point of view. In closing, may I assure you that the large majority of us do not consider party politics in the carrying out of the Vietnam commitments.

Answer From: GEORGE W. KUHN Senator 15th District SENATOR 14TH DISTRICT I received a copy of your letter from Mr. Power, Publisher of the Observer Newspaper, about which he requested my reaction.

First of all I might indicate that I have been connected with the Navy since I first enlisted back in 1943. I served as a Supply and Finance officer in the Submarine Force, Pacific Fleet and at two Naval Air Stations in the late fifties at the time of the Korean War. I left the service in November, 1952, and I am still active as a Lt. Cmdr. in the Navy Reserve and subject to recall if the President or the Congress so deem it necessary.

From my studies in Naval Reserve classes, this conflict or war is most unique and not like those of the past. For the first time in our history we are trying to win the minds and hearts of the people. There are no fixed battle lines, no clearly defined enemy, and no land objectives to speak of. Consequently, today our American G.I.'s are facing the toughest challenge ever faced before by American military men.

To make the task worse, we regretfully have a minority group attempting to make a mockery of the American policy of fighting Communist aggression wherever it appears on the world scene. Should we lose this war it would have far flung impact and possibly mean the loss of freedom for millions of Asians and Westerners.

So, Walter, in spite of those vocal few who try to belittle your efforts in this vicious war, the majority of your countrymen are strongly behind you. It is my fervent hope that our government will soon take whatever steps or actions necessary to either win the war militarily, or enter into lasting and binding negotiations for peace. Because in my humble opinion, nothing can be more devastating than war in terms of human suffering and the needless loss of men, women and children of all nationalities.

So, may God's blessing be with you each day, and we pray that some day soon ALL American soldiers will be back on American soil. We all are deeply grateful and thankful for the sacrifices that you and other G.I.'s are making in behalf of freedom for the world.

Plymouth Schools To Use Portables

Portable classrooms will be a reality for Plymouth students next year as the school board attempts to accommodate the school district's burgeoning student population.

The Plymouth Community Board of Education decided Monday night to order four of the "relocatable classrooms," each of which will house about 30 students, and may order more if the board decides the need exists.

Each classroom will cost $9,180 for a total cost of more than $36,000.

The recommendation for four portables came from Superintendent Russell Isbister, who said "mine is the conservative position on how many we need."

In a study of classroom needs for next fall, William Harding, assistant superintendent for secondary education, and Earl T. Gibson, director of administrative services, recommended up to 11 portable units.

Isbister recommended that the four units be installed at Junior High West to take care of sixth graders and that units not be installed at the high school until the next year.

Harding said he felt that the portables would be needed at the high school so that students would not be forced to use inappropriate rooms, such as English classes in an industrial shop.

Adjustments might also be made, Isbister said, by busing students from some schools to the new Elementary School No. 8, which is scheduled to be nearly complete by fall.

"No matter how we work it," he said, "we can't put our students 30 in a classroom as we would like to."

Lily Sale Set for Mar. 17-18

The annual Easter Lily Parade sponsored by the Rotary Anns of Livonia will be held Friday and Saturday, March 17 and 18.

Mrs. Blair Dwellie is in charge this year. She said there would be canister sales people stationed at Wonderland Shopping Center, Livonia Mall, Livonia National Banks, National Banks of Detroit and other shopping areas.

Mayor Harvey Moelke signed a proclamation last week designating the two days of the sale as Easter Seal Days. With him at the time of the signing was six-year-old Sally Bitel, who is confined to a wheel chair because she cannot use either arms or legs.

Women on the GO!

By Margaret Miller

A few minutes' conversation with Mrs. Beverly Pellegrini of Westland would convince anyone that Girl Scout work is extremely interesting. And challenging. And stimulating.

But most of all, Mrs. Pellegrini lets you know, Girl Scout work is fun.

It would be hard to find a more enthusiastic celebrant of Girl Scout Week — this week — than the acting neighborhood chairman of the Nankin district, one of the largest in the Detroit area.

She enjoys the girls in Scouting. "They're all just delightful in their enthusiasm," she says, "and I love to talk to them and help them on projects and camp with them."

SMILING MRS. BEVERLY PELLEGRINI holds some of the Girl Scout books that she keeps on hand for her varied Scouting activities.

She enjoys the leaders, too. "It's wonderful," she adds, "to bring new leaders into Scouting and to show them that they have far more talent and ability than they would have believed."

And of course she enjoys the Scouting program. "There are such interesting things for the girls to do."

Mrs. Pellegrini was a Girl Scout as she was growing up, and enjoyed happy times as a camper at Camp Metamora, where she now takes troops from her district.

Eight years ago her oldest daughter, Gay Anne, joined a Brownie troop, and Mrs. Pellegrini became a very active committee member.

She then was a troop leader, and later a troop consultant, and took over her present job last year. It's time-consuming, she admits, but her enthusiasm is shared by husband Ed, Gay Anne, now a junior high miss and a talented flute player, Boy Scout son Michael, and younger daughter Kathy, who is looking forward to being a Brownie next year.

"Then," says her mother, "I'll be a Brownie leader again — right back where I started."

One of Mrs. Pellegrini's greatest delights in Scouting is taking troops to camp. She loves to have some "good, clean fun" pranks to play on them, and of course the girls are always glad to reciprocate.

"After one troop went camping recently," she recalled, "I was presented a beautifully wrapped candy box — full of stones. And another troop brought me a lovely gift box. It was stuffed with all the ashes from their campfires."

She was chafing a bit last week because her doctor forbade a weekend camp trip after a bout with a virus. But she had a warning for the next troop she accompanies — there are some fine new tricks just waiting for those girls.

One of Mrs. Pellegrini's admirers is Girl Scout next-door neighbor Karen Gutzman. After interviewing her — for work on a writer badge — Karen could say only, "I certainly didn't know she was THAT busy."

Westland Girl Scouts can be glad that she is.

Psychologist Talks For Co-op Nursery

Arthur Ray, psychologist for Garden City Public Schools and Courts, talked on "Reading Readiness" at the March meeting of the Garden City Cooperative Nursery.

Dr. Bruce Billis recently gave the nursery groups a demonstration on proper tooth brushing. Each child was given a coloring book on proper dental care and a personal size toothbrush.

There was a recent ice skating party for the four year olds at Edward Hines Park. Under the guidance of their teacher Mrs. Lorraine Singer, along with mothers helping out that day, the tots tried their skills on the ice with two-runner skates.

Some were contented to play in the snow, but a good time was had by all.

The Garden City Cooperative Nursery is located at Middlebelt Road and John Hawk. It is a non-profit, non-sectarian organization. Applications and additional information can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Florine Flatt at 425-0978.

Three Livonia Girls Attend Camp Reunion

Three Livonia girls who were summer campers at the YWCA Camp Cavell on Lake Huron enjoyed a reunion with friends and staff members at the camp the weekend of Feb. 25 and 26.

They are Robin Dean, 15950 Norwich, Sarah Friedrichs, 16277 Southhampton, and Judy McGill, 30137 Buckingham.

Although the temperature was near zero, the 150 girls on hand spent lively hours tobogganing, skating, sledding and scooting about on discs. Since all cabins, the main lodge and the dining hall are completely winterized and well heated, there were also warm and friendly hours of song fests around the piano, gabfests at the fireplace and entertaining skits of summer memories.

Man's freedom to be himself is a God-given right. But no one can truly be himself as long as he believes he is the product of heredity, age, environment or psychological factors, says an experienced Christian Science practitioner and lecturer. You and your friends are invited to hear "Freedom to be Yourself" by Miss Robbins of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship. Everyone is invited, admission is free.

Over the Back Fence

By BETTY FRANKEL

With this issue THE OBSERVER begins a new column on gardening. The writer, Betty Frankel, is a veteran gardener and a member of the Farmington Garden Club. She also is a Farmington Township representative on the Beautification Council of Southeastern Michigan.

"If winter comes, can Spring be far behind?" I don't know who first came up with that wise saying, but he must have been more patient than I. Officially Spring arrives next week. At the "vernal equinox," as it is called, day and night are equal and as the season progresses the days get longer.

This is all very fine for a start, but what I'm really waiting for is the first balmy day with the scent of warm, moist earth, a bee nuzzling into the crocus cups, and Spring peepers chorusing from the ponds.

Every day I check on the tufts of crocus leaves poking through the ice by my front door, hopefully inspecting the silvery buds. This year I've missed the winter aconite (Erythronium) that bloomed by the house where I used to live.

I felt so smug about having flowers blooming in winter. Whenever the snow drifts melted away, little rosettes of deep green leaves were shining against the damp earth. Before February ended petals would spread open, glinting like gold in the sunshine — so brave and joyous.

My consolation this year has been a luscious pink azalea. The variety is "Pinkie" — what else? No matter what shade, or size, azaleas bring a bit of Spring into a house.

Forced branches also help to create an illusion of Spring-time. It's so easy to do. Cut branches of forsythia, flowering quince, crab, or pussy-willow and put in a container of water.

An armful can be stuffed into a big old pitcher, a single branch with an interesting curve can grace a tall bottle, or a Japanese-style arrangement can be concocted from three slender branches in a low, flat bowl. Within a few days the buds will start to expand and soon you'll have a bouquet. Don't wait for Spring — stage your own special preview.

"Spring Planning and Clean-Up" was the topic of the day at the regional meeting of the Beautification Council of Southeastern Michigan held on March 7 in Dearborn Heights.

Thirty-five communities were represented at the meeting. Representatives included: Mrs. Edmond Garrity and Henry Graper from Garden City, Mrs. William O. Anderson from Livonia, Paul Nowak from Plymouth, Robert Witt and Mr. and Mrs. George Strelczuk from Farmington, Mrs. Ralph Frederick and Mrs. Richard Frankel from Farmington Township, and Mrs. Beatrice Carlson from Northville.

Sorority Picks New President; Installation at Boat Club

Mrs. MacDonald succeeds Mrs. William McDonough, also of Livonia, who has served as president for two years. Also serving on this board are Mrs. M. G. Pridgeon, of Livonia, and Mrs. Gail W. Nau, of Farmington.

Risen Christ Church Hears Missionary

The Rev. Brian Seiler, Missionary to New Guinea for the Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod, will be the guest speaker on Palm Sunday at the Lutheran Church of the Risen Christ, Plymouth.

Missionary Seiler and Mrs. Seiler, a registered nurse, have entered the Lake Kopyago area of New Guinea, which was closed to white men until the 1960's. Pastor Seiler established contact with seven native villages, and began teaching Christianity in each of them. Approximately two thousand persons live in each village.

The missionary couple returned to the United States only recently and this will be the first speaking engagement for Rev. Seiler since leaving New Guinea.

Risen Christ members have aided the Seilers while in New Guinea and the Ladies Guild of Risen Christ "adopted" the couple as their personal missionaries, and supplied their needs while they served in the foreign field.

Missionary Seiler is a close relative of the Rev. Dave Romberg, Pastor of Risen Christ. Pastor Seiler will speak at both the 8:30 and 11:00 o'clock worship services on Palm Sunday. A reception for the Seilers will be given at 9:45 in the Chapel, at which time pictures will be shown of their work.

Jerusalem—My wife and I walked today where Jesus walked. We knelt and looked at the place where He was crucified for the sins of the world, and then today we stood at the place of His Ascension and where He promised to return. This is on the Mount of Olives at Bethany.

The weather has been cold and wet, but it hasn't dampened our spirits one bit.

Yesterday we traveled the Jerico Road and saw the "Mountain of Temptation." We stood on the bank of the Jordan River where Christ was baptized, and sang with our group, "On Jordan's Stormy Banks."

A few feet from our hotel window we can see the "Place of the Skull" where Christ was crucified for the sins of the world, and then today we stood at the place of His Ascension and where He promised to return. This is on the Mount of Olives at Bethany.

Report from Bibleland

Pastor Noe Writes of Lenten Tour's Beginning

(The following report comes from Pastor Herbert Noe of the Galilean Baptist Church, Livonia, who, with his wife, is making a Lenten tour of Bible lands. Their congregation sent them on the trip.)

Cairo—Today I am in the center of Bible antiquities. It hardly seems possible that I left Livonia less than three days ago. After a quick tour of Amsterdam and Paris, we flew to Cairo.

Egypt is mentioned hundreds of times in the Bible, and today for the first time in my life I know I walked where some of the great men of the Bible walked and my eyes saw what they saw.

It was an unusual experience to see for the first time the great pyramids and know that Joseph and Moses and Aaron had also been impressed by their immensity. The largest covers over 12 acres and has enough stone in it to build a highway 20 feet wide and six inches deep from New York to San Francisco.

Next we fly to Beirut, and travel to Damascus and then to Jerusalem.

There is much more to tell of customs, smells, taxis, bargaining, and the temperature, which is a pleasant 75 degrees.

And the Arab people are probably the friendliest we will find on the trip. They love you—and the American dollars! But really, they are most congenial people. I like them!

THE REV. JAMES A. PIKE

Bishop Pike Lectures in Area Mar. 20

Bishop James A. Pike will discuss "The New Morality" at 8 p.m. Monday, March 20, in the Southfield High School auditorium, 10 Mile Road and Lahser.

The presentation is part of the 1967 Lecture Series of Oakland Community College.

The Rev. Pike, who has been accused of heresy on at least three occasions, but has always been exonerated before the issue went to trial, stated that the rejection of "meaningless" doctrines such as the Trinity, the Virgin Birth and the Divinity of Jesus is necessary for the future health of the Christian church.

He recently submitted his resignation from the post of Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of California in order to join the resident staff of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions.

Rev. Pike's interest in the Center is in "presenting the faith in a way which is more relevant to modern man."

The Center, headed by Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, former Chancellor of the University of Chicago, is devoted to exploring the underlying social, political and philosophical issues confronting modern man.

Admission to the lecture is free and the public is invited. For tickets, send requests with stamped, self-addressed envelope to Oakland Community College, Community Services Division, 2480 Opydyke Road, Bloomfield Hills, Michigan 48013.

Lutheran Men to Assist In Health Research Study

Some 26,000 American Lutheran men of northern European ancestry are being asked to cooperate in a health research study.

The men, all of whom are over 35 and currently residing in nine states, including Michigan, are members of Lutheran Brotherhood, a fraternal insurance society. The study is an international cooperative effort of medical research teams.

"Risks for several diseases vary greatly between the U.S. and Europe," said Carl F. Granrud, Lutheran Brotherhood board chairman and chief executive.

He indicated that the health survey "is part of a program of studies in the U.S., England and the Scandinavian countries to discover the causes for these differences."

Members (policyholders) who qualified for participation in the study are being requested to complete a detailed questionnaire for scientific use. Mr. Granrud emphasized that although the fraternal insurance society is helping to reach persons who can be of value to the study, all questionnaires are the property of the medical research study and are not a part of the members' insurance records.

Mr. Granrud said that up to the beginning of March, some 15,000 of those asked had complied with the request. He appealed for maximum cooperation in the interest of greater advancement in combating diseases of mankind.

The effort is a cooperative study of the National Institutes of Health, the Norwegian Public Health Service, and the London School of Hygiene, with the cooperation of Lutheran Brotherhood, The College of Medical Sciences of the University of Minnesota is coordinating the survey.

Burroughs Introduces New Two-Way Computer

A new Burroughs information entry and visual display system to provide instant, two-way communication with a computer has been announced by Ray W. Macdonald, Burroughs Corporation President.

The Burroughs Input and Display System makes the processing power and memory of a computer available to offices and working areas located away from the computer by means of direct communication.

Through the unique capabilities of the new Burroughs system, the operator can enter information directly into the computer, update or alter information stored in computer memory, call out information from the computer for projection on a display screen and modify computer programs.

The system is available in two models. One is a self-contained model with a single display/keyboard and control unit. The control unit contains the power supply and memory logic of the system. The second model has a central control unit and up to four separate display/keyboard units.

Resembling the combination of a television picture tube and a typewriter keyboard, the system has a 9x12 inch screen and can display 25 lines of data. Up to 80 characters of information, or the maximum amount of data recorded in a single punched card, can be displayed on each line of the screen.

Through the keyboard, the operator can make direct entries to the computer or changes in information stored in memory. As a result, the extra operation of keypunching and verifying of keypunched information can be eliminated for the information being entered.

"Applications for the Burroughs Input and Display System are virtually unlimited. Display/keyboard units may be used for every existing phase of data recording, computations and information exchange in business and finance.

"Equally suited to a multitude of applications in other fields, the system also can be used in medicine, research, engineering, law enforcement, education and government. Key punching and verifying and other time-consuming data input processes can be substantially reduced in many applications and the new Burroughs system," said Macdonald.

BURROUGHS CORPORATION'S new Input and Display System provides instant two-way communication between a computer and the display units. Through the keyboard, the operator can retrieve information from computer memory, display it on the screen, enter changes or additions, and return the record to the computer memory.

A Tip on Moving Moving? Discard All Useless Items First

You can reduce much of the physical and mental strain of the move to your new home or apartment by dividing the work into separate stages and allowing yourself time to carry out your plan smoothly.

Before you lift a single piece of furniture, make lists of those items that are to be thrown out, those which you want to sell or give away and those which have to be packed.

First, make arrangements with trash collectors to remove the items to be thrown out on a specific date.

If there are many such items and they are bulky or heavy, it may pay to hire someone to give you a hand or to seek the aid of good friends and neighbors. Next, contact local furniture dealers or other prospective buyers and have them come over to inspect and make offers on the items you wish to sell.

Once you have agreed on price, make immediate arrangements for the buyers to come and cart away their property. Or if you wish to donate certain items, consider calling The Salvation Army or other charities who come and pick them up. Such donations are deductible from your income tax.

Declares Dividend
The Directors of Borman Food Stores, Inc., declared a cash dividend of 20 cents per share, to be paid on April 10 to stockholders of record of the company on March 20.

New Name, New Faces Mark Firm

A new name and some new faces mark the opening of Reinardy Realty and Mortgage Co. on Plymouth Road, in Livonia.

Realtor Larry Reinardy said, "although the name is new, we are far from being newcomers in the real estate business. As a matter of fact we have been located in the same building for a number of years."

Reinardy has been active in the real estate business for some time. He is a former partner of Jenning's Real Estate and has wide experience in sales as well as building and land development in the West Suburban area of Detroit.

A new face of Reinardy Realty and Mortgage Co. is Marshall Anderson. Anderson, the sales manager, is also an experienced real estate man. He has had considerable work on the East Coast in land development and general real estate sales.

Reinardy Realty and Mortgage Co. is a member of the United Northwest Realtors Association as well as the Multi-list Photo Systems.

New Split Level Home Opens in Farmington

Does your kitchen offer the same outdoor views as the rest of your rooms?

The housewife who spends the majority of her day in the kitchen will appreciate it's being made bright, roomy and pleasant to work in.

H.D. Oliver, builder, feels that there is a lack of homes which offer the housewife pleasant surroundings and outside living.

Oliver points out that his new model home, located in Meadowbrook Hills Subdivision, in Farmington, was designed so that the kitchen, and living, dining, and family rooms opens on to an extended deck.

In addition there is a lower level family room which features a bath and fireplace. The upper family room is adjacent to the kitchen area.

Other features include, 3 full ceramic baths, 5 bedrooms, unique lighting fixtures and a generous amount of impressive wallpaper.

Also included at the starting price of $48,900 is carpeting throughout, (kitchen included with stain resisting carpet). The lots are 1/2 acre in size and located on a ravine setting. City water and sanitary sewers are offered.

The model is located just west of Halstead Road, north of Eight Mile Road. Take Lujon Road north and turn west on Silken Glen.

Tree Growing Requirement Is Know-How

Take a good look at your woodlot this winter. Do mature trees dominate certain areas, preventing the growth of saplings beneath?

Can more desirable tree species be planted in some areas? Are shrubs and grains needed for wildlife cover and feed?

According to a Pennsylvania State University correspondence course on woodlot forestry, good management requires that trees grow close together.

Competition for space and light causes trees to crowd their tops as they grow making long, straight trunks free of side branches. Long boards, clear of knots, are cut from such logs.

But, there may be too many trees in an area. Overcrowding results in spindly-stemmed trees. Thin the stand by cutting out trees of low value.

To learn management of woodlots study Penn State's correspondence course. Eight lessons cover reforestation, planting cover and food bearing plants for wildlife, selecting trees for cutting, estimating volume and value of standing timber as well as general management of woodlots.

Anyone can have a copy of the course by sending his name and address with $2.25 to Woodlot Forestry, Box 5000, University Park, Pennsylvania 16802. A course copy will be sent by mail.

The third phase of the EUC (Back-Up Interceptor Control) system which provides the display capabilities for the North American continent's air defense is being provided by Burroughs.

A major international air line recently ordered 2,000 agents set displays to be installed in offices throughout the United States for instant ticket reservation entry and display of information.

Information stored in the 1,020 character memory of the Input and Display unit can be displayed in any desired position on the large display screen. This feature provides users with great flexibility in formatting display information.

Communication capabilities of the new system provide for information transmission speeds between the computer and the display unit of from 1,600 to 18,000 characters per minute.

Deliveries of the new Burroughs display units will begin in the fourth quarter of 1967. The lease prices for the displays range from $124 to $295 per month.

Wayne State University's 1967 baseball team will face a 23-game schedule including seven twin-bills.

Irish Luck Goes With Lent Dish

By FAITH GILLESPIE
Queen of Hearts

When we were little girls, our mother taught us a song to the tune of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." We sang it on St. Patrick's Day, and it went like this: "My father and mother are Irish, my father and mother are Irish, my father and mother are Irish, and I am Irish stew."

Our father wasn't Irish, we knew, but our mother was, and we were proud of it. Presbyterian to the bone, we were delighted to discover that one of the first chapters of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick in colonial America was founded in New York as an ecumenical venture on the part of Irishmen of the Roman Catholic and Presbyterian faiths.

Ever since 1845, St. Patrick's Day has been a nationwide observance, held to celebrate the anniversary of the Saint's birth, I had always thought.

Not so. Nobody knows when the good Saint was born, exactly, but his death is a matter of historical record, and it is on this date that we remember him.

He was born sometime in 389 in England perhaps, or perhaps in Scotland, but when he was a lad he was captured by pirates, of all things, and taken to Ireland as a slave in Ulster for six years.

He was converted to Christianity, escaped to France, and became a monk whereupon a vision sent him back to Christianize Ireland. He founded over 300 churches and baptized thousands of people and became Ireland's patron saint.

As for his sending all the snakes to the sea to drown, who are we to quarrel with legend? If someone must be expelled from Eden, better the serpent than the people.

The Queen of Hearts special recipe for St. Patrick's Day was last week's Irish soda bread. This week, I have a wonderful luncheon dish.

It isn't Irish, but it came from a purely Irish friend, and is a good thing to serve if you are planning a luncheon during Lent. Prepare it the night before.

MAUREEN'S CRAB MEAT FONDUE
Remove the crusts from 12 slices of white bread and cut each in two diagonally. Place 6 of the slices on the bottom of a buttered baking dish.

Mix together 2 cans crabmeat, 1/2 cup chopped green pepper, 1/4 cup chopped onion (or green onion), and 1/2 cup real mayonnaise. Spoon into the casserole, and top with the remaining 6 slices of bread.

Stir together 4 beaten eggs and 3 cups milk, and pour over the contents of the casserole. Top with 1 cup grated cheddar cheese, and refrigerate over night.

Remove the casserole from the refrigerator 2 hours before serving time, and pre-heat oven to 300 degrees. Bake for 1 to 1 1/2 hours, and serve with the following sauce: Heat to boiling 1 can mushroom soup, 1/2 cup water, and 1 teaspoon lemon juice.

Spoon the hot sauce over the top to serve, and pass extra sauce at the table. This casserole is delicious with a molded fruit and gelatin salad and hot crusty bread. Serves 6 to 8.

One nice thing about St. Patrick's Day in America is that it isn't the private reserve of Irishmen of the Roman Catholic and Presbyterian faiths. On this day, everyone is Irish. We can stand together and say:

"Here's to the land of the Shamrock so green, Here's to each lad and his darling colleen, Here's to the ones we love dearest and most — And may God save old Ireland! That's an Irishman's toast!"

GORDON WILLIAMSON ASK computer service 28777 Orchard Lake Rd. 474-7177

This weekend you can buy an original painting by a Michigan Artist... and look at a selection of one to three bedroom townhouses to hang it in at Farmington Village Luxury Townhouses

A wide selection of oil paintings, water colors, acrylics, and tempera, all suitably framed and ready for hanging, will be exhibited at the Farmington Village Townclub. All were especially commissioned by the Smokler Company from members of the Farmington Artists Club.

Six Luxury Townhouses After the show, be sure to look at the six beautifully furnished Farmington Village Townhouses. All are one or two story, one to three bedroom homes, designed to insure a feeling of roominess and complete privacy. The rooms are all big and uncluttered. There are separate formal dining and kitchen eating areas. Every kitchen is loaded with over $1,000 worth of top-of-the-line appliances. And every townhouse has its own private entrances, yard, full basement for storage, large closets and effective sound-conditioning.

Maintenance Included Your family will have more time to be together than ever before. All the exterior maintenance, like cutting the grass, shoveling snow and landscaping, is done by the full-time maintenance crew. Inside, all the major maintenance, except painting (even appliance repair and replacement), is taken care of.

So you have more time to spend on what you want to do.

Private Townclub Membership and dues in your own private townclub are included at no extra cost. Membership includes a luxurious clubhouse for parties and dances, cards and billiards, even separate teen room and nursery. The services of a full-time social director are included, along with a community-sized swimming pool with bath house facilities, full-time lifeguard and barbecue facilities. This is where you will find everything you and your family need to make life more enjoyable!

No Hidden Costs The price for all this? Because Farmington Village is a non-profit cooperative with a 5 1/4% mortgage, the price is far less than you'd expect. Monthly payments range from $138 to $177, with the minimum FHA approved down payment. In addition, your equity increases with each monthly payment.

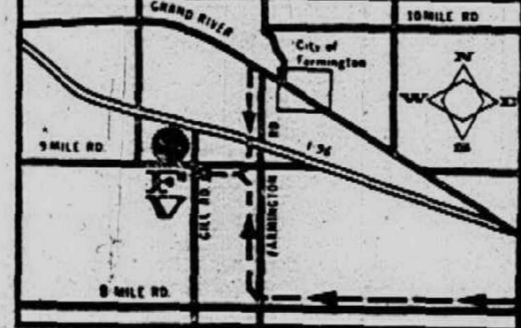

Income Tax Deductions One of the nicest things about living in a cooperative is that you get the same income tax deductions as a private homeowner. Usually, about two thirds of each monthly payment is tax deductible. Yet you have no personal mortgage liability. Should you have to move, it's easy. Just give the co-op 60 days' notice. They'll sell your townhouse for you or buy it from you at no cost to you except for a small transfer fee.

Be Shrewd Come out this weekend and share with us the joy and financial reward of discovering some really first rate Michigan Artists. And be careful to inspect the townhouses too, because we think you'll find them the "buy of a life time." Construction is well under way, so if you lose your heart to one of them, you can move in this Spring.
