

PTA Recommends Plan To Reduce Safety Hazards at Bird School

Mothers Park Over Curb

At 3:30 each weekday afternoon 693 children, ages 5-11, leave Bird Elementary School, most of them crossing Sheldon Road or Ann Arbor Trail to go home.

At the same time each afternoon, when the Ford Motor Company plant on north Sheldon Road changes shifts, about 500 cars will leave the plant, traveling south on Sheldon toward Bird School.

At the same time, parents in cars converge on the school to pick up their children, some of them stopping on Sheldon Road, some of them driving onto the sidewalk, and some making it through the entrance to Bird School's dead-end parking lot.

"The problem of safety for children in this situation is great," Bob Evans told the Plymouth School Board Monday, "but we don't want to be just another group of parents coming with complaints to the board."

"We hope that we have come up with a plan which will be useful in getting the problem solved."

The plan which Evans and other members of the Bird School P.T.A.'s Safety Action Committee presented to the school board makes specific recommendations to reduce hazards for children leaving and coming to school.

Strongest recommendation was for the construction of a circular drive or turn-around of some sort to reduce congestion at school dismissal time.

"We suggested that parents should not be permitted to pick up their kids," John Hanskat said, "but we met violent opposition. Many mothers said, 'My child may be well today, but if he has to walk in the rain tomorrow...'"

"Since we can't stop parents from picking up their children, we should try to make the process as hazard-free as possible."

In a study performed at the request of the committee, the Automobile Club of Michigan (AAA) suggested that a service drive be provided at the south end of the school property with entrance and exit on Ann Arbor Trail.

The committee also suggested a perimeter drive might be built from the present parking lot on Sheldon to an exit on Ann Arbor Trail.

The AAA study encouraged parents to let their children walk to school whenever possible, pointing out that "traffic congestion at school during rainy days creates a much greater hazard for the child and parent than all other conditions affecting them while walking."

Besides suggesting changes to solve the pick-up problem, the P.T.A. committee suggested

James Rossman Returns "Home" As School Chief

James H. Rossman, who once lived in Plymouth, is coming back to take over as the community's first new superintendent of schools in 16 years.

His appointment was announced, officially, last Monday evening by the Plymouth Board of Education.

Rossman will replace Russell Isbister, who will complete his sixteenth year as school head June 30. Isbister will be taking a position as professor of school administration at Eastern Michigan University.

The new superintendent will receive a salary of $21,000 starting July 1, plus an allowance of $100 per month for travel and related expenses. Hospital and medical expenses will also be paid for him and his dependents.

Rossman is now superintendent of the Lakeview school district in St. Clair Shores, a position he has held since 1958. Prior to this he served ten years as superintendent of the Springfield schools at Battle Creek and earlier as school superintendent in Pennfield Township, Calhoun County.

Selection of Rossman was made from a field of 60 candidates, some of whom lived as far away as California. The board spent several months preparing a brochure announcing the opening, screening and interviewing candidates, and making inquiries in the home districts of the leading candidates.

Board members said they were "confident that Mr. Rossman's proven capacity for leadership will be a vital factor for success in the challenging years of growth that lie ahead for the Plymouth schools."

"He brings to his new duties in Plymouth a rich background of experience in rapidly growing school districts, where he has demonstrated competency in curriculum development, new school construction and financing, administration of federal aid programs, and the establishment of special education programs for the handicapped."

Rossman is not a newcomer to Plymouth. He and his family lived here when he was a teacher and principal in the Livonia schools from 1937 to 1947.

Born on a farm at Metamora County, May 27, 1916, he received his high school diploma at Metamora, and then attended county normal school at Lapeer. His first teaching job was at the old Thayer school in Northville Township.

A graduate of Trenton High, he received a bachelor's degree from Eastern Michigan in 1960 and a masters in education in 1963. He is now enrolled in a post-masters program at EMU leading toward the educational specialist degree.

Workman has been with the Plymouth school system since 1960, serving as physical education instructor at Smith, Allen, Starkweather, and Truesdell Schools. During this time he coached at the high school.

Chamber of Commerce Approves Independent Unification Study

Planners Ignore Freeway

No proposed construction or platting will be held up in Plymouth Township just because the site lies across the State Highway Department's proposed route for the M-14 freeway, the Township Planning Commission decided Wednesday night.

"I don't think that this indefinite route is enough to hold up someone's proposal for developing the land," said Russell Ash, commission chairman.

The commission had previously halted planning in the area of the I-275 freeway, but Commissioner Irving Rozian pointed out that plans for M-14 "are not nearly as far along as the I-275 plans were."

The problem of whether or not to plan around the M-14 proposal arose when the commission was presented with plans for the Wolverine Park Industrial Subdivision, located north of Shearer Drive, off Sheldon Road.

This proposed industrial park, now owned by Morton Schoinick, lies directly in the path of the freeway.

In a letter to the commission, the Department of State Highways asked that Schoinick's petition be held in abeyance until final determination of the highway route. The department said it hoped to have this done within 60 days.

Commissioner Maurice Breen said he would reject the highway department's request, since despite protests from the township, "the highway commission has given no indication that it will alter its route."

"Even though we have pointed out alternatives which would cut their costs, they always answer that theirs is the best route," Breen said.

Plan Combines City, Township

Unification of the Plymouth Community will be one of the principal topics at the April 8 Leadership Conference, sponsored by the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, at Schoolcraft College.

This was affirmed Thursday morning when the Chamber's Board of Directors approved a recommendation for an impartial study of the ramifications of unification by an independent group.

The study would include such items as: effect on tax structure of the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township; direct tax effects on Township residents; feasibility of unification, taking into consideration problems other communities such as Westland, Battle Creek and Grand Rapids encountered when either forming a new city or consolidating suburbs with an established city; and the problems of consolidating the two governmental units into one under a unification program.

The study recommendation could be considered the first concrete step in the direction of consolidation.

In addition to the Chamber, the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce last week passed a resolution recommending moves in the direction of consolidation and Jaycee leaders indicated they would take an active part in such a program.

The Jaycees plan on having a delegation at the Leadership Conference with the express purpose of pressing for a study and some concrete moves towards unification.

Edward Schening, general manager of the Plymouth plant of Burroughs Corporation, will head the committee making the Chamber's recommendation at the conference. Schening gave the Chamber Directors a preview of his proposed presentation, with charts and maps showing the value of unification, as part of his program.

"We believe all attending the Conference should have an opportunity to listen to Schening's presentation," said Chamber President Carl Pursell.

"It shows many of the ramifications of consolidation but isn't to be considered as a recommendation for unification. All that the Chamber will ask at the Conference is for an impartial study. Unification is still far away since there are a great many problems that will have to be solved. It won't be done in any single

Joseph Tarantino
Tarantino Transferred

The Plymouth Community has lost one of its leading young citizens--and the Centennial Committee has been robbed of its energetic chairman.

In a move that came with startling surprise, Joseph Tarantino, general manager of the Gaylor plant for the past four years, was transferred to the company's plant in Dallas, Texas, and given only a few days to make the switch.

"As a matter of fact," he said, "I will report on my new job next Monday--and I have to race away now on a few hours' notice to meet my bosses in Texas, to clear a few matters in the transition."

The news of Tarantino's transfer to a "bigger and better job" shocked the community and his dynamic energy will be most difficult to replace.

Few young men have made the impact on the Plymouth Community that Tarantino did in a short time.

What's In A Name?

Rink Becomes Arena

What's in a name? At times there can be a great deal and because of this the City of Plymouth Centennial Committee has lifted its sights and now is making a financial study of an arena that would cost approximately $350,000 in preference to the original skating rink with its estimated cost at $170,000.

According to the Committee the very name "skating rink" was meeting with disfavor--and something had to be done in an effort to provide a permanent memorial of the centennial year.

It also was found that, despite the higher cost of an arena, it would produce more revenue over a year's time than the skating rink--and revenue is one of the most important facets of the endeavor. Those who urged the lifting of the sights, and among them was Mayor James Houk, pointed out that the arena type facility could be open for skating eight months of the year while the outdoor facility, at best, could provide the best skating conditions only about six months of the year. Along with the ice skating, an arena, also could be used for other purposes, such as space for an industrial show, dances and other events to make it a community center.

Township Mains Extended Nine Miles

The Plymouth Township Trustees have approved a 9.3 mile extension of the water system at a cost of approximately $980,000.

This action was taken at the meeting last Tuesday evening and Engineer Herald Hamill was ordered to proceed with the work.

Under the plans for the extension mains will be laid along Five Mile (Phoenix) Road, from Sheldon Road to Beck Road and Beck Road from Five Mile to Powell Road.

Amherst Court in Plymouth Hills subdivision. Powell Road, from Beck Road - west.

A feeder line along Joy Road, from Sheldon Road to Ivanhoe, and Joy Road, from Haggerty Road west to the Township line. Northville Road, from Hamill to Clemons, and Five Mile Road, from Bradner to the west line of the Lakepointe subdivision No. 5. Both mains to complete circuits.

A transmission circuit main along Five Mile (Phoenix) Road, from the existing main to Old Northville Road, and along Old Northville Road, from Five Mile (Phoenix) Road to Five Mile Road (east) via Middle Rouge Parkway, together with the necessary valves, fire hydrants and other appurtenances, including a pressure reducing station near the intersection of Five Mile (Phoenix) Road and Old Northville Road.

Ann Arbor Road (M-14) from Lilley Road to Rucker Street. After approving this extension, the Trustees asked when sewers could be placed and Engineer Hamill answered that this work could be done following the installation of the water mains.

The Engineer also recommended that the sanitary sewers and water mains in the Plymouth Estates Subdivision be accepted for tapping purposes

City Wants Three Opinions On Charter

On the theory that it would be better to have the opinion of three judges instead of one, the Plymouth City Commission, by a vote of 5 to 2, is filing an appeal of Circuit Judge Victor Baum's opinion that ruled portions of the City Charter unconstitutional.

Thus, the case moved into the Circuit Court of Appeals where it will be reviewed and a decision handed down at some future date, possibly six or eight months.

The portion of the charter that was declared invalid dealt with the eligibility of candidates for public office. The specific paragraph, Section 4.4, states that to be a candidate a person has to be a resident of the city for at least two years and be a taxpaying property owner.

In taking its action to appeal the ruling, the City Commission pointed out that the appeal was not to be interpreted as an attempt to prevent Rev. Peter Schweitzer, who brought the original suit, from having his name on the ballot.

"The case far transcends any local issue," Municipal Judge Edward Draugelis explained to the City Fathers.

"There are some 75 cities with like conditions in their charters--and the cloud should be removed."

"I'd rather have the opinion of three judges--as will be the case now--than one," Commissioner Arch Vallier explained. "and I think we owe it to the other communities to make the appeal."

The two dissenting votes were cast by Commissioners James McKee and Robert Smith, each claiming they thought there was little to be gained by moving on to a higher court.

Judge Draugelis, who represented the city in the case when the City Attorney asked to be disqualified, reported in great detail the findings of Judge Baum in rendering his opinion.

With Rev. Schweitzer in the audience when the decision to appeal was made, Judge Draugelis explained some of the problems that could arise because of Judge Baum's opinion.

"Rev. Schweitzer's name will now be placed on the ballot," he pointed out, "and if elected on April 3, he can be seated as a member of the Commission."

"But, should the Court of Appeals reverse Judge Baum's findings, we would return to our former status and Rev. Schweitzer could resign--or the Court would order his removal from office."

It was then asked how long it would be before the Court of Appeals would render its decision.

"There is no telling," Judge Draugelis answered, "but it could be quite awhile--unless the importance of the case causes the judges to advance their docket."

Trip To Honduras Was No Vacation For Fitches

On their 10-day trip to Honduras, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fitch didn't have any time to lie in the sun. They spent all of their time in a nearly inaccessible mission of the Reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints, doing dental work.

The need for this work was brought home to the Fitches on a similar trip to Mexico last year. So this year they spent Feb. 18 to 27 in Honduras.

"The people in Honduras had even worse teeth than those in Mexico," said Mrs. Fitch, who went along to sterilize instruments and generally assist her husband.

"We did a lot of extractions," she said. "We were able to fill some of the children's teeth. But most of the people over 20 had to have all their teeth pulled. Most of these people never had been to a dentist. Their teeth just hurt until they can find someone to take them out. Sometimes if the teeth get really bad the natives can work them out with a stick."

"The natives don't get dental care, because it is 80 miles to the nearest town. According to Mrs. Fitch the way to town isn't a pleasant walk through the countryside."

"It took us eight hours walking, riding in a boat, and bumping on a bus," she said. "Most of the natives just can't get to town."

"Poor diet causes many of their dental problems—I suppose," she said. "They live mainly on sugar cane."

"Our work was emergency relief from pain, rather than starting these people off on a dental program. We forgot about the ideals and just tried to make the people more comfortable."

Mrs. Fitch felt that even those children whose teeth they were able to fill, would lose them eventually. However, the Fitches did try to explain a little about dental care.

They first became interested in this sort of work when a missionary in their church asked them to visit Mexico last year.

"You ought to pay for some of the things you get in life," said Mrs. Fitch.

The Fitches made their own arrangements and paid their own way. While they don't have anything in mind they would like to return to this area in the future.

"There is so much more work to be done," said Mrs. Fitch.

The speakers next year will cover such varied topics as personal adjustment and composing music.

Dr. Banks attacks the problems of personal adjustment with a humorous attitude. His purpose is to let us know ourselves and help us enjoy life to its fullest meaning. His aim is to teach us.

The second doctor in the series, Dr. Albert Burke, is trying to make people think. His program, "A Way of Thinking," appears on 60 TV stations across the country.

His main objective is to alert Americans to the dangers of Communism and get them to think and act. He also covers a wide variety of international and domestic issues, including conservation, the importance of natural resources, air pollution, racial discrimination, and Cuba. His specific topic at Northville will be "Ideas In Conflict."

Willem Oltmans will bring "Trouble Spots in Focus" when he comes to Northville Feb. 15. Oltmans has visited many spots unavailable to Americans. He has been to Cuba six times since Castro took over. He has covered Asia, Africa, the Near East, India, Indonesia, Malaysia and Southeast Asia.

Oltmans has covered major news events of the past decade working as an American correspondent for Dutch and Belgian newspapers and television networks.

The only woman in the group, Cindy Adams, comes to Northville March 21 to discuss "Woman's Role — East and West." Mrs. Adams has traveled to Indonesia where she met Sukarno. She is the author of "Sukarno, An Autobiography as told to Cindy Adams."

She has led a varied and exciting life as model, author and actress.

Richard Adler winds up the season on April 18. The successful composer and lyricist wrote the music for "Pajama Game" and "Damn Yankees." He is also credited with such commercials as the Newport Filter Cigarettes jingle, the Kent and York Imperial size cigarette ditties, and tunes for the American Gas Association.

How Plymouth Named Its Schools for Miss Allen to work in. "If everybody could find teaching as interesting and as much fun as I did there would never be any lack of teachers," she said.

In spite of the bad headlines they get, Miss Allen doesn't feel today's teenagers are any different from the ones she worked with.

"I think we don't hear about the good ones," she said. "I also think that many parents work and aren't home to know what their children are doing."

Discipline was never much of a problem for Miss Allen. "The youngsters knew I meant what I said. If you have a sense of organization and a sense of humor you don't have many problems," she said with a chuckle.

"A few years after I came here there was one youngster that teachers kept sending into the office week after week," she remembered. "Finally I took a piece of hose about a foot long and spanked him."

She did add that there was a little furor after this incident. But eventually everybody came to see it her way.

Besides teaching she spent most of her summers going to school and received a master's degree from the University of Michigan.

"Naturally I was very happy when they decided to name a school after me," she said.

Miss Allen remembers there being some talk of waiting to build a new high school, and naming that for her. But the school board decided not to, because in the early 1950's nobody thought Plymouth would be needing a new high school in the foreseeable future.

When the new school in Plymouth opened in September, 1953, it was named for a high school English teacher, Edna M. Allen who now lives at Presbyterian Village in Redford.

Miss Allen came to Plymouth in 1918, as principal of the high school, after 10 years a heart condition forced her to step down, but she continued to teach English until 1950.

Born in 1884, she started teaching in 1906. After she graduated from high school she stayed home and then went to Alma College for two years. Edna was the oldest of seven children and a brother started college just after she did. In order to make money go a little farther she left college and started teaching in a country schoolhouse.

That decided her career. She spent most of the rest of her life in the classroom. After her brother finished college, Edna got her degree from the University of Michigan. Then in 1910 she was back in school as a teacher.

In 1918 Plymouth lured her away from a Bad Axe, where she was a principal, with the offer of more money. Plymouth had a brand new high school (the one still in use today)

College Girls Make Good

Kathleen McIntyre, daughter of Mrs. Ruth McIntyre, 15512 Lakeside Drive, Plymouth, has earned academic distinction on the Dean's List at DePauw University, where she is a sophomore.

The scholastic recognition is extended to those students who earn a 3.5 (B plus) or better grade average out of a possible 4.0.

During the first semester, less than 11% of the student body won Dean's List distinction.

Suzanne Elizabeth McCully, 9352 Marilyn, Plymouth, has been named to the Dean's List for the first semester at Adrian College, Adrian, Michigan.

Miss McCully, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McCully, is a junior majoring in Art and Home Economics. She is a member of Alpha Phi sorority of which she is the Vice President and Panhellenic Council of which she is the President. Sue is a graduate of Plymouth High School and attends the First Methodist Church in Plymouth.

Ruth Ann Kelley, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Ralph Kelley, 333 Arthur, Plymouth, has been elected treasurer of the Culver-Stockton College chapter of Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

Miss Kelley, a graduate of Adrian Senior High School, is a junior elementary education major. She has served as recording secretary of the sorority and is a member of the Associated Women Students organization.

Apples Blossom On This Cake

In a few hours the Atkinson family will be sitting down to cake and milk.

Cooking is one of the hobbies of Mrs. James Atkinson, of Greenbriar Lane. As the mother of three boys she has to keep a full cookie jar. She also likes to make her own bread, and recommends the cool-rise method found on most yeast packages.

The Atkinsons are active members of the Temple Baptist Church of Detroit.

Mrs. Atkinson's recipe is a moist spicy cake, filled with apples and nuts, and crowned with a delicate crunchy crust. It's perfect for a party.

APPLE BLOSSOM CAKE

1 1/4 cup cooking oil
2 cups sugar
2 eggs unbeaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup nuts
3 cups chopped apples
3 cups sifted flour
1 1/2 teaspoon soda

1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg

Beat oil, sugar and eggs together until well mixed. Stir in vanilla, nuts and chopped apples. Sift together flour, soda, salt, cinnamon and nutmeg. Stir dry ingredients into the batter until well blended. Pour into a greased 13 x 9 x 2 inch pan. Sprinkle on topping.

Good Buys at the Grocers

Government and private economists expect the prices of milk, meat, and bread to increase this spring. A 5% increase in price of red meats is forecast. Milk supplies for 1967 threaten to stay tight, with higher prices. And the cost of bread may be propelled upward by another round of flour price increases.

However, it is believed that chicken fryers are certain to remain bargains for analysts predict broiler output will increase 5 to 10%. And the record Florida citrus harvest and processed oranges and grapefruit.

BEEF: Right now beef prices are fairly steady. Corned beef for the coming holiday, steaks and rib cuts are in many ads.

PORK: There are features on semi-boneless hams and canned hams. Lower prices on smoked hams should be available for the holiday. Good buys may be found on bacon, rolled sausage, butt roasts, loin chops and roasts—but be careful to compare prices and quality.

LAMB: Bargain prices may be found on leg roasts.

EGGS AND DAIRY: Eggs are in plentiful supply, and there should be holiday specials. Cottage cheese, cheese slices and margarine are being featured for Lenten menus.

POULTRY: Supply and quality of fresh fryers have improved. Wholesales have moved down and many markets are beginning to feature them in their ads—though not yet at as low levels as a few weeks ago. Occasional mention of roasting chickens may still be found, but the rest of the poultry market is quiet.

FRUITS: March and April are expected to be the largest shipping month of the current season for California avocados. Many are being featured for Easter menus. Overall damage to Florida's citrus crop by the recent cold spell was relatively small. There are lots of oranges coming from both California and Florida and shipments of grapefruit are still ample.

Supplies of strawberries are rising. The fine weather in southern California has brought the crop on earlier than usual. Apples, pears and pineapple are in good supply - as are the stocks of bananas, though imports are lighter than usual.

OTHERS: Tuna fish, pork and beans, canned peaches, fruit cocktail, pineapple juice, green beans, salad dressing, flour, coffee and instant coffee are on most grocery ads.

Frozen concentrated orange juice and a variety of vegetables are key features in the frozen food chests.

CAULIFLOWER SOUSE

An Irish menu was served to 14 women at a gourmet club dinner at the home of Mrs. Thomas Lewis on March 16. Cauliflower souse—that's cauliflower in a milk sauce, fillet of sole in a cider sauce and other Irish dishes were served.

Mrs. Howard Oldford, whose family is from Ireland, provided a program of Irish customs, superstitions and records.

COFFEE, TEA OR MILK

Mrs. David Mather and Mrs. George Bauer served members of the Plymouth Symphony rolls and coffee at the string section rehearsal last Monday night. Members of the Women's Symphony League take turns serving refreshments to the players on nights they practice.

IT WAS RAINING PRESENTS

A bridal shower for Kathleen Voss was given by Mary Liza Fox of Ann Arbor and Rita Jones of Dearborn on March 3. Miss Voss, the daughter of the Joseph Vosses of Beech St. is engaged to Gary W. Brack of Bloomfield Hills. She was the recipient of many fine gifts.

PAPER DRESSES

Yes, they're here. Several samples from the Hallmark Flower Fantasy collection were among the spring gifts shown at the Hugh Jarvis home on Palmer St. last Thursday. Ex-

Newcomers gathered at the Jarvises for lunch, and Mrs. Jarvis simply had her husband bring some of his newest merchandise home for the program. Mrs. Gordon Eddy was co-hostess.

IN HONOR OF ST. PATRICK

Mrs. Mert Williams and Mrs. John O'Connor planned the Vivians' card party last Wednesday around a green and white theme. Mrs. Robert Spayth decorated the Elks Club with fresh greenery.

Mrs. William Foster, president of the Vivians was there with a table of friends. Some others who got up tables for the afternoon were Mrs. Jerry Bartel...Mrs. Ray Ford...Mrs. Ray Lane...Mrs. Jack Gage.

TRY A PIE

There were juice stained hands and flour spotted aprons at the home of Mrs. Ronald Cadogan last week. The 12 members of Camp Fire Group Dahra Inde (Golden Flame) were all trying their hand at making a cherry pie.

It was the first time many of these nine-year-old girls ever had cooked a pie from scratch. Mrs. Cadogan had some help in setting out bowls of cherries, and dough from Mrs. Glen Aldrich and Mrs. David Wiley.

The pie-making, originally scheduled for George Washington's birthday, was a complete success. Not one pie was spoiled, and they were all given as gifts to the girls' fathers.

However, nobody is saying how soon the women will be willing to try it again.

Karen Marie Dickerson was married to Merlyn D. Street of Whitmore Lake on March 11 at the First Presbyterian Church in Plymouth. The former Miss Dickerson is the daughter of the Lon Dickersons of Simpson St., and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur S. Street of Howell.

Dr. Henry Walch and Gerald Street, the bridegroom's brother who is studying for the ministry, officiated at the evening wedding.

The bride wore a floor length empire gown of cloud white pea de soie. The bodice had a bateau neckline and bell sleeves. The sleeves and bodice were both applied with chantilly lace and seed pearls. This lace and pearl design was repeated at the hem of the A-line skirt, and on the detachable chapel train.

Her veil was held in place by an embroidered pill box. Baby white rose buds, stephanotis, and ivy made up her bouquet.

Paula Gaugler was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Melinda Strawn, and Dorothy Chapman. Their aqua crepe gowns were accented with turquoise brocade sleeves and panels falling from the back neckline.

The attendants carried yellow baby carnations and white rose buds.

Ushers were Harold Stephen,

Mrs. Merlyn Street and John Street, Frank Giegler and Donald Nelson.

What Has Christianity Got To Offer?

By Rev. Elbert Henry, Church of Christ. What does Christianity have to offer?

Many have become disillusioned because Christianity failed to produce what they expected of it. Their disappointment is the result of a failure to understand what God has really promised.

God has never promised man absolute freedom from disappointment, persecution, affliction, pain, sorrow or temptation as the reward for faithful, obedient service.

around Job. God denied the charge and permitted the test in an effort to disprove Satan's contention that "every man has his price" and that God's people had a selfish motive for their loyalty.

Missionary Speaks At Risen Christ

The Rev. Brian Seiler, Missionary to New Guinea for the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, will be the guest speaker on Palm Sunday at the Lutheran Church of the Risen Christ, Plymouth.

turned to the United States only this past week. This will be the first speaking engagement for Rev. Seiler since leaving New Guinea.

The Ladies Guild of Risen Christ "adopted" the Seilers as their personal missionaries, and supplied their needs while they served in the foreign field.

Pastor Seiler will speak at both the 8:30 and 11:00 o'clock Worship Services on Palm Sunday. A reception for the Seilers will be given at 9:45 a.m. at the Chapel, at which time pictures will be shown of his work.

Churches Fill Calendar With Varied Events

A jazz concert, ecumenical dinner, and inter-faith service are some of the things churchmen are planning for the next few weeks.

Lent's most solemn time, prayer services are scheduled in many churches. Others are having individual communion services Thursday evening, and then joining together for a united Tre-Ore service at the Presbyterian Church from 12:15 p.m. to 2:45 p.m. on Good Friday.

The Catholic and Episcopal churches will be conducting separate Tre-Ore services. Easter will be ushered in with a midnight mass at the Catholic Church, then the First Baptist, Epiphany Lutheran and many other churches will be holding Sunrise Services.

Father Tom Vaughn, an Episcopalian priest and jazz pianist, will be appearing in Plymouth on April 13, 14 and 15. His performances at the Penn Theatre are sponsored by the Plymouth Youth Council. The council is made up of teen-agers from all churches in the Ministerial Association.

An inter-faith service at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church will wind up the month of April. This service, held on April 30, is the first joint Catholic-Protestant service held in Plymouth.

Ministers Find That Sunday Is Like Top of The Glacier

"What does a minister do all day," was one of the first questions the Rev. Donald Williams heard from a new relative who married into the family.

"It's not just a one day a week job," said Mr. Williams, as he and his colleague, the Rev. David Romberg of the Lutheran Church of the Risen Christ, explained just what a minister does with his time.

"I don't know a minister who works 40 hours a week," said Mr. Williams, "it's more like 60."

"You can't punch a clock for an 8-hour day," said Mr. Romberg, "if you're going to represent Christ to people."

"I do try to keep one day a week as a family day though," said Mr. Romberg, "and usually it's Monday."

"My church requires two preaching services on Sunday and a mid-week Bible study group. So a good portion of each morning is taken up in preparation for worship services.

"Of course, this preparation is continually interrupted by phone calls."

Mr. Romberg agrees about the phone calls. "People are free to call a minister any time, and believe me, they do," he said.

However, neither of them objects when there is a need behind the calls. Both list counseling people as one of his favorite parts of the job.

"I have training and interest along this line," Mr. Williams said. "I like to spend my afternoons calling on sick, and shut-ins."

GOOD FRIDAY TREAT: This 35-voice choir from the Grand Rapids Baptist Bible College and Seminary will present a sacred concert in Calvary Baptist Church, 43065 Joy Road, on the evening of Good Friday at 7:30 o'clock.

Only One Driver In Eight Wins By Appealing Case

Only one driver in every eight ... a mere 12.5 percent ... who appealed actions taken against him by driver improvement officials of the Michigan Department of State was "completely successful" and received outright driving privileges back from state license appeal boards.

In announcing 1966 appeal board totals, Secretary of State James M. Hare said that only 3,041 of the 24,161 drivers who appealed actions had their licenses restored, and 824 of these were because they satisfied requirements that they had recovered from physical disabilities or passed written or driving tests they had failed previously.

An overwhelming total of nearly 14,000, about 57 percent, were turned down by L.A.B. officials upholding the original action, Hare noted. Of these, 9,618 cases were denied and 4,228 others went by default when the driver failed to appear.

Hare pointed to "more rigid enforcement in local communities coupled with tougher driver improvement actions...usually suspensions and revocations... as the main reasons for the sharp increase of license appeal board hearings from the 7,284 held in 1964 and the 11,718 in 1965.

He pointed to this as "one of the insurmountable enforcement problems connected with driving," noting there didn't seem to be any "pat solution short of staking a police officer outside the home of each suspended or revoked driver. Naturally, this is impossible."

Hare said that "tougher sentences" by courts to offenders would help but would not be a solution to the widespread problem. "Benefit probably would be that the drivers would be off the road for sure during the time they spend in jail."

Hare further explained two categories used in license appeal boards ... (1) license restored with restrictions, and (2) suspension or revocation modified.

In the first instances, physical reasons and hardship are the two main considerations. Some 4,109 licenses were restored with restrictions last year.

"There are those with vision problems who must obtain and wear glasses while driving. Others who are blind in one eye must have rear vision mirrors on blind sides. There are persons with vision difficulties who are restricted to driving only during the daylight hours."

"Persons with hearing problems are required to have outside rear vision mirrors on the left or both sides of their vehicles."

Those with physical problems often times are required to have special equipment or attachments on their vehicles.

Hare scored "economic hardship" as another important factor in allowing appealing drivers certain limited driving privileges.

"These entail driving only to and from the work station or driving only in the immediate vicinity of a person's residence."

Modification of suspension or revocation was won by 3,165 appealing drivers. These, said Hare, "included a lessening of the penalty, such as reducing a suspension if the initial action was determined by the board to have been too harsh."

SHOWING APPRECIATION: Because of his dedication to the development of children to their fullest mental, moral, and physical potential, Russell Isbister, Superintendent of Schools was honored at a recent meeting of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council. He is shown here receiving a plaque from Mrs. Kenneth (Esther) Hulsing, President of the Council, a gift from the Plymouth neighborhood.

Schening Is Named To Head Largest Scouting District

The largest Boy Scout district in the Detroit area is now headed by Edward W. Schening, general manager of Burroughs Corporation's Plymouth plant.

Schening has been elected district chairman for Sunset District, Detroit Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America. This district has a larger membership than any other in the entire area council.

The organization to be overseen by Schening includes 204 Cub Packs, Boy Scout Troops, and Explorer Posts which have a total membership of 7,998 boys and young men.

Boundaries for the district are Eight Mile Road on the north, Van Born Road on the south, Inkster Road on the east, and the Wayne County line on the west.

At the Community Fund's annual meeting in January, following the drive, Schening was elected to a term on the board of directors. As a director Schening will help decide what groups will receive funds and help plan next year's campaign.

Schening says that in his position as district chairman his "major emphasis will be directed toward enlisting volunteers with top qualifications to assist in the administrative phases of the Boy Scout program."

Active in community affairs, Schening served this past year as general chairman of the most successful fund drive in the history of the Plymouth Community Fund, which broke the $100,000-mark for the first time.

Farms Get 60 hr. Week

The average Michigan dairyman worked 3200 hours last year, according to a report from Michigan State University agricultural economists.

This figures out to 61 hours per week.

Fruit growers, who concentrate most of their working time during a few months, spent 2400 hours on the job -- an average of 46 hours for 52 weeks.

Two Plymouth Players Honored

Schoolcraft College Awards Letters to 23 Athletes

Girls Get Rewards

Two Plymouth students at Schoolcraft College were awarded Varsity athletic letters last week at the college's annual winter sports award banquet.

Don Cranford received a letter in basketball, and Doug Jaskierney received one in swimming. Letters were awarded to a total of 11 basketball players and 12 members of the swimming team.

Letter winners were approved by Athletic Director Marvin Gans and the faculty board of athletic control of which William Ryan is chairman.

Carl Robie, University of Michigan swimmer who recently set new NCAA and Big Ten records in the 500 yard and 1,650 yard freestyle and the 200-yard butterfly, was speaker of the evening. Robie, a pre-law senior at the U of M, was a silver medal winner in the butterfly event in the 1964 Olympics.

Letters were also presented to seven cheerleaders by Miss Sharon MacLaren, faculty sponsor of the group.

Basketball letters were presented by Coach Bob Leggat to: Larry Duffield, Phil Demski, and Joel Terwin, all of Livonia; Cranford, Plymouth; Lance Hahn, Northville; Steve Moore, Farmington; Tim Krug, Novi; John Felmet, Highland Park; Dave O'Donnell, Allen Park; Jim Smith, Detroit; and Jeff Stevens, Dearborn Heights.

Swim Coach Gordon Young presented letters to Robert Lescoe, George Jackson, and George Water, all of Livonia; James Lundstrom and Terry Winner, both of Northville; Jaskierney, Plymouth; Darrell Knox and Larry Fitzgerald, both of Garden City; Mike Nicolini and Dave Thomas, both of Farmington; and Mike Poole and Mike Ferrell, both of Detroit.

Miss MacLaren presented cheerleader letters to Joyce Cardenas, Lynda Palmer, Jean Miller, Penny Buckingham, and Cathy Stager, all of Livonia; Linda Secord, Northville; and Kathy Rowden, Detroit.

Dr. Eric J. Bradner, college president, and John H. Brian, vice-president for instruction, extended official greetings of the college to the letter winners.

HEARING FROM HEAD MAN — Schoolcraft College wrote a new page in its athletic history when it held its sports banquet in the new Waterman Campus Center. In other years this function always was held off campus. Bob Leggat, basketball coach, is shown here as he addressed the gathering and lauded the work of the players for a game and courageous effort during the season.

Drug Store Plans For Its Shoppers

A drug store designed with the shopper's needs in mind is what the new SuperX Drug Store at 240 N. Main St. thinks it has achieved.

"In designing the store, SuperX tried to build in the features and services most requested and appreciated by shoppers," said Manager Walter Drummond, well-known Plymouth pharmacist.

The most-wanted qualities according to surveys, he said, are friendly and interested clerks, prompt and reliable

"Clerks are carefully trained in their responsibilities to supplement the experience they already have acquired. All are encouraged to give friendly, helpful service when customers want it. Patrons are welcome to browse through the store looking over some of the 22,000 items to be found in the more than 40 departments."

SuperX is self-service for quicker shopping and features prescription service, proprietary drugs, many famous cosmetic lines and a large assortment of general merchandise.

A graduate pharmacist will be on duty at all times. Bill White, pharmacist at the new store has had more than 10 years experience in the metropolitan area. He was graduated from Detroit Institute of Technology in 1957 with a Pharmacy degree.

Drummond is a licensed pharmacist, a graduate of the University of Michigan in 1951 and has 16 years experience in retail drug administration and management. Most of his experience has been in the Plymouth community.

The location of the SuperX Drug Store means that one trip will suffice for all drug store and supermarket shopping. The parking lot adjoining the store provides ample parking for both SuperX and Kroger customers.

The store will be open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday; 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Thursday, Friday and Saturday and from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Sundays.

The store opening brings the number of drug stores in the SuperX chain to over 250. Most have been opened within the past three years.

Prices in this week's advertisement in the Plymouth Mail are effective Sunday, March 19.

Walter Drummond

prescription service, low prices, convenient location and plenty of parking space.

All these qualities have been considered in designing the store, Drummond said, and the store incorporates all of them and even includes a few others.

"Perhaps two of the most important commodities we carry are service and courtesy," said Drummond. "SuperX employees are carefully chosen, as far as possible, from people who are residents of the community in which the store is located and who enjoy working with their friends and neighbors."

Western Plymouth news

During February, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Richard of Woodlore entertained relatives for a weekend. They were the Charles Thackerays and William Youngs from Washington, D.C. Mr. Young's mother was originally from Plymouth although this was his first visit here. The weekend was spent sightseeing and visiting.

Last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kordick of Woodlore returned home after a week's vacation in Jamaica. The Kordicks flew there with friends from Birmingham and the four stayed at the Run-Away Bay Hotel and Country Club, located on the north shore of the island.

The days were spent in swimming, golfing and relaxing.

The March meeting of Plymouth Panhellenic was held at the home of Mrs. William Storton in Woodbrook Subdivision. Each of the 30 women attending brought a sandwich, to add to the buffet luncheon given by the hostess and her committee, Mrs. Robert Weideman and Mrs. Frederick Campbell, also of Western Plymouth. Plans were made for a coke party to be given for the graduating senior girls of Plymouth High School on April 13.

The Kenneth Husings, Plymouth residents for 25 years and well known for their local activities, moved into a new home in Beacon Hill Subdivision, March 2. The home is French Provincial in design and sits at the top of the hill, address being 12619 Beacon Hill Ct. The Husings are the ninth family to move into the subdivision.

Woodlore welcomes a new family who have just moved here from Louisville, Ky. They are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ouellette and children, Mark, Paul, Denise, Laurie Ann, and John. Mr. Ouellette is Manufacturing Engineering Manager at the Wayne Assembly plant of Ford Motor Co. The family moved into their home at 9359 Ivanhoe on March 6.

Michigan State University supervised the production, weighing, and testing operations.

Narad Takes Over Large Firm in East

Narad, Incorporated of Plymouth, has acquired the Packaging Materials Division of Sealol, Incorporated of Long Island, New York.

Packaging Materials manufacturers, among other products, Pillo-Pak, a molded pulp protective wrap used extensively in the packaging and carlining industries.

The new company will be known as Down River Packaging Materials Corp. and will exist as a wholly owned subsidiary of Narad, Incorporated.

In commenting in the acquisition, Ronald D. Hees, president of Narad, stated, "for some time we have been developing a line of products to serve the transportation industry from a damage prevention standpoint. Packaging Materials completes this product line and provides us with National facilities to manufacture, and distribute our products to U. S. industry."

Narad also owns two other Down River subsidiaries, one located in Wayne, Michigan, and the other in Stockton, California.

Hamilton Life Increases Death Benefit

Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Company of America has announced liberalized coverage on its accidental death benefits.

According to an announcement by G. Eugene Davidson, Executive Vice President, the company has extended its triple indemnity feature to include taxis and buses whereas it normally was applied to common carriers such as airplanes and trains.

This liberalization embraces all contracts currently in force by the company which now numbers in excess of 20,000 in the State of Michigan.

Workers Now On Tax Roll

Handicapped workers at Goodwill Industries will be paying federal and city taxes for 1966 amounting to $289,346.18, according to an announcement by Dr. John E. Hoskins, executive director of Goodwill Industries of Greater Detroit.

The significance of these tax payments is that these handicapped people now are able to contribute to their own support and that of the community, rather than be dependent on their families, friends or on the government, stated Dr. Hoskins.

The amount paid, taken from the Goodwill workers' W-2 forms, does not include the tax payments of 274 persons who went on to competitive employment after rehabilitation and training in a new trade. Many of these people formerly were considered unemployable because of physical, mental or emotional handicaps. The wages paid to Goodwill employees and trainees is a direct result of the sales of the Goodwill stores, and contact work performed at the Goodwill plant and branches for industrial concerns.

The items on sale in the 13 Goodwill stores in the Detroit area have been contributed by the public, repaired by the handicapped people in the Goodwill workshops, and sold to pay these men and women for their work.

Gretzinger Has Reason To Smile

Plymouth High Relay Swimming Team Wins State Title

Personable Dick Gretzinger, who looks more like a member of the Plymouth High Swimming team than its coach, is wearing a big smile these days--grins that come from turning out a state championship relay team in his first year.

The Plymouth High 200-yard medley relay team won the crown last Saturday in the state finals. Dick, in his first year as a teacher at Plymouth High, inherited the swimming coach assignment when football and swim Coach John McFall suddenly decided to try his hand at operating a motel in northern Michigan. John made the decision just as the swimmers had started practice sessions and naturally recommended Gretzinger, one of his finest proteges, for the job. Dick was serving as assistant at the time. Gretzinger probably realized at the time he was taking over a squad that had some good swimmers but few of state championship caliber.

He didn't have the best in the Suburban Six League, but Plymouth did finish fourth in the final standings and five individuals, including the relay team, qualified for the state meet on the basis of times in previous performances.

But even then Dick didn't have any great hopes for a state winner even though he knew the medley relay team could win points if all four swimmers did their best. As it turned out, each of the quartet--Brian Foust, Biff

Leonard, Pat McCord and Chick Porter--was at his best and when the timers and judges finally reached a decision they placed Plymouth High at the top of the list with a clocking of 1:43.7. It was the first time a Plymouth relay team had won a Michigan High School Association championship and four smiling youngsters went to the championship stand to receive the gold medals and championship trophy.

The clocking was a school record, bettering the previous standard of 1:45.5 made by the 1961 team that wound up second in the state meet. It was short of the Michigan record of 1:42.3. Incidentally, it was only the second individual championship for a Plymouth representative. The other crown was won by Gretzinger in 1961 when he won the 200-yard individual medley with a then record making time.

And that's part of the reason why Gretzinger is so happy these days as he receives congratulations from other members of the PHS coaching staff, students and parents for a great windup to a first year performance. But there's also a quizzical look on Gretzinger's face as he studies the results of the state championship meet.

"Just think," he said, "I was a member of Plymouth's only state championship swimming team in 1961. We had a total of 44 1/2 points at a time when six places were counted. This year we collected 51 points and wound up in ninth place. His team registered 32 points with the relay victory, seven for a seventh place by Porter in the 50-yard freestyle and 12 by McCord for a third in the 100-yard butterfly. And things are looking up for another year when he'll have McCord and Porter back from the relay team in addition to a fine crop of juniors and sophomores. "We may not win the Suburban Six in 1968," he says, "but you can bet your last dollar that the other teams will know that Plymouth is in the league."

Old Sport's Musings

BY ARTEE

Congratulations are in order for Plymouth High Swimming Coach Dick Gretzinger and the four members of the state championship 200-yard medley relay team--Brian Foust, Biff Leonard, Pat McCord and Chick Porter.

Back in 1961 Dick was the first Plymouth High swimmer to win a state championship. He was a member of the school's only swim team to win a Michigan title. Now he turns out the second state winner.

It isn't often that Plymouth has a chance to sing the praises of a big winner, so let's get in line and offer a big hand to Dick and his four swimmers. They deserve it.

We should point out that Dick inherited the quartet from retired Coach John McFall and a bit of the credit should also go to John.

Incidentally, the state championship time of 1:43.7 was a school record and also won a berth on the mythical all-state first team for the four swimmers.

Athletic Director John Sandmann, who is rated as one of the top basketball officials in Michigan, was one of the two handling the record-making four-overtime games between Birmingham Groves and Hamtramck last week.

Remember, it was a pair of free throws by a Hamtramck player as the whistle sounded that ended Groves' unbeaten streak and sent Hamtramck into the state quarterfinals in Class A.

For Sandmann, it was the longest basketball game he had ever worked and according to reports, it set a record in

WSU Star's Motto--Pin Or Pinned

Wayne State senior wrestler Tom Warren hasn't really planned his career this way, but he's had a spectacular "pin-or-be-pinned" mat life.

Witness his career log which shows him with a 9-5-0 record as a junior and eight falls to his credit. Tack onto that his current 9-3-0 mark with nine pins.

That adds up to an aggregate 18-8-0 record with 17 pins in the total. His eight pins in 1965-66 were a school record. He bettered that year with his ninth vs. Cleveland State. The two-season total is a career record.

On the other side of the coin, Warren has been pinned in five of his eight losses over a two-year span, but he's cut it down this year.

An aggressive 5-11 and 205 pounds, the WSU mat captain of 1967 tends to have that sort of luck. Coach Bob Hurley a season ago described Warren as a pinner which his record certainly bore out. He also explained that if Warren's move did not pay off and put the opponent in a critical position, Warren himself was in trouble and that's why he was pinned.

His outstanding mat work was a leading force in WSU's 7-6-1 season. WSU scored its fourth straight winning campaign in the youngest of the school's 11 varsity sports. WSU went six seasons in wrestling without a winning year.

The Southfield High School graduate's history is even more interesting in light of the fact that he did not wrestle prior to coming to WSU and was a 103-pound tennis player as a prep compared to his present robust 205 pounds.

Once he went on a weight-training program, Warren found he had built himself into a wrestler with great strength in his upper torso and that more than anything has given him the fine pinning record he has set for future WSU wrestlers to shoot at.

Ten Pins Lure Most Money

Did you know that Americans spend more money on bowling than they did on all spectator sports combined?

According to the National Bowling Council, bowling's share of the nation's total recreation dollar totalled 3.9 percent - a gain of more than 100 percent in less than a decade.

Michigan for overtime play in the state cage tournament.

John worked in the state finals in East Lansing during the past two years and thus by the rotation system of officials, he wasn't on the list this year. Undoubtedly, he'll be back in rotation in another two years.

Although he didn't see all of the Class A quarterfinalists in action, John opined that he thought Pershing High of Detroit, could be the champion this year. He likes the fact that Coach Will Robinson has a pair of giants who have the maturity of men and perform like that on the court.

For years Joe Schmidt was known for his aggressive play

Pair of Tigers Due For Capuchin Award

Denny McLain and Earl Wilson, two of the Tigers' top pitching stars, have been picked for special honors at the 26th annual Capuchin Charity Baseball Dinner at Cobo Hall April 19.

Selection of the two right-handers was announced by Rev. Quentin Heinrichs, chairman of the dinner which the Tigers will attend in a group along with officials of the club. McLain and Wilson will receive as captain and star linebacker for the Detroit Lions. Now, as head coach, Joe believes he can successfully instill that spirit into the team when practice sessions open in July.

Joe make this clear at a recent meeting of the Detroit Broadcasters Association when he introduced several newcomers to his coaching staff. Since he has signed Jim Martin to complete his staff and those who followed the Lions during the heyday of Jim know that he has the same feelings as Schmidt.

"I'm not going into anything that happened last season," said Joe, "I'm not saying anything about Harry Gilmer and his staff. But I want everyone here to know that the Lions will be a fighting ball club next year even if I have to make some startling trades.

"I'm a firm believer that there is only one place to win football games and that's on the gridiron with proper preparation on the practice field. We're going to work harder this year than ever before. We know we have a long way to go but I want you to know that as head coach I have every intention of developing a fighting ball club.

"The players will produce this year or they won't be members of a club I coach. I'm sure you'll realize that, after one or two of the pre-season games. This isn't a threat. It's just the facts presented by a new coach."

Coming from Joe, we know there'll be a changed attitude.

The pacers and trotters swing into action for the earliest opening in Michigan next Saturday at Wolverine Raceway, which operates at the Detroit Race Course plant at the intersection of Middlebelt and Schoolcraft Roads in Livonia.

Wolverine will present 10 races nightly with post time for the first at 8:30 p.m. and the season continues through 58 nights.

And that's good news to the harness racing enthusiasts in the Plymouth Community who have been awaiting the opener for some time.

Spanish War Junior Basketball Once Held Up Reached Climax By Bowling

Did you know ... that bowling figured greatly in Sir Francis Drake's victory over the Spanish Armada?

Drake, an ardent disciple of the game, happened to be playing a match in 1588 when informed that the Spanish fleet was sailing up the English Channel in attack formation.

Drake, however, insisted that the match be played ... a move thought reckless but for the fact that Drake knew that the Spanish fleet would soon become jammed in the narrowest part of the channel.

He won the match - and went on to defeat the Spaniards.

The junior basketball season came to a glorious finish last Monday night.

More than 350 youngsters who had played a rigorous schedule gathered at the Elks Temple for their annual banquet and then listened to glowing remarks from four members of the University of Michigan squad.

At the finish it was questionable as to who had the better time--the three collegians, Center Craig Dill, Back course ace Dennis Bankey and assistant coaches George Pomey and Richard Honig--or the youngsters.

After the repast the youngsters were shown movies of the University of Michigan team in action and they thrilled at watching their guests perform. It was a great night, too, for John Van Wagoner, the league president, who remarked:

"We started with about 140 boys three years ago and this year that number had grown to 330 and 50 coaches."

With these large numbers the Plymouth Junior League is rated one of the best in the area and, if the interest shown this year is any criterion, next season the league will be much larger.

Even after the banquet was finished the juniors gathered around the Wolverines and plied them with all sorts of questions, so it was a grand evening and a fitting climax to a great season.

Uninsured Vehicle Count In State Passes 200,000

Total May Go Higher

How many uninsured drivers were there in Michigan last year? Well, official figures indicate that 211,369 registered vehicles in Michigan ... at least this is the number that paid $35 into the Michigan Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund.

There are several intangibles connected with these totals, however, said Secretary of State James M. Hare, who administers the Fund operation.

Hare says there are more uninsureds than show on the report. "It's impossible to get a completely accurate count because certain drivers are uninsured at different times of the year. For instance, a driver may have in-effect liability insurance at the time he buys license plates and become uninsured when his policy period lapses a short time later. Others buy insurance and permit it to lapse.

The report also reflects two plate years ... the 1966 plate year which goes through the entire calendar year and the start of the 1967 plate sale which opened on November 1, 1966. Some drivers may have registered vehicles twice, once for 1966 and the second time for 1967, although Hare said that most uninsureds "wait until the last possible minute to buy their plates."

Total number of persons paying fees into the Fund during 1966 numbered 4,815,451, again spanning both license years. Less than five percent of the total were registered as uninsured drivers.

Total paid into the Fund during the year amounted to $11,901,997. "While this may seem like a substantial amount," said Hare, "we have hundreds of outstanding claims which have to be settled and many more persons who have signed an intent to file against the Fund. Our limited experience with the Fund operation up to this juncture prohibits us from knowing how the Fund's agency might hold up over a long period of time. We need additional experience to be more certain."

Chaplin Classic Film in Area

Theater, Music and Art

The proceeds from the March 22 performance of Bernard Shaw's comedy "You Never Can Tell" will go to the Oakland University Aid to Florence Committee. The Committee was formed earlier this year following the disastrous floods which ravaged Florence destroying a large portion of Italy's art treasures.

Tickets to the performance are available at the Oakland University Student Activity Desk or by calling 338-7211, extension 2182. Tickets are also available at the Meadow Brook Theatre box office on Oakland University's campus.

The second annual Detroit Jazz Conference will be held on Saturday, April 8 and Sunday, April 9 at Wayne State University's McGregor Memorial Conference Center, the Community Arts Auditorium and the Music Wing.

Sponsored by the Detroit Jazz Society, the WSU Division of Conferences and Institutes and Music Department, and the University Center for Adult Education, the Conference will focus on the theme "Jazz in our Time."

The annual spring tour of the Wayne State University Men's Glee Club will begin Tuesday, March 28, with an 8:15 p.m. concert at the Case Institute of Technology, Cleveland, Ohio. During the five-day tour the 40-voice group will give five concerts in five cities.

After the Cleveland concert the Glee Club will travel to Anderson, Ind., for an 8 p.m. concert Wednesday, March 29, at the First Methodist Church.

The three remaining concerts will be given at 8:30 p.m. Thursday, March 30, National College of Education, Evanston, Ill.; 8 p.m. Friday, March 31, Mona Shores High School, Muskegon, Mich.; and 8 p.m. Saturday, April 1, Michigan State University Music Auditorium, East Lansing, Mich.

Sixteen Wayne State University students will comprise the cast of the musical comedy "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," which will tour military installations in the Pacific this summer. WSU Theatre Director Leonard Leone has announced.

The tour, sponsored by the United Service Organization (USO) and Department of Defense, will begin July 7 and include 30 to 40 performances in Japan, Okinawa, South Korea, Formosa and the Philippines.

An unusual glimpse of the culture of India will be presented in a program at 8 p.m. Monday (March 20) in the Matilda R. Wilson Hall theatre at Oakland University as part of the annual Fine Arts Festival.

The program will consist of Indian folk and classical dances, punctuated by songs, instrumental music and a short theatrical presentation of an Indian marriage ceremony. The show is open to the public and there is no admission charge.

Participants in the program will include Bani Mitra, who will sing a classical song; Narendra Seth, harmonica soloist; Kay Suri, a skit, and Sudha Sekhar, a classical dance known as "Bharat Natyam." The Garba group will offer a dance and the Sur Sringar group, a song.

A visual demonstration of the history of writing will be shown at the Oakland University Art Gallery from March 21 to April 11.

The exhibition was designed and prepared by UNESCO and is being circulated throughout the United States and Canada under the auspices of the American Federation of Arts.

Fifty panels, approximately three feet by five feet, trace the evolution of written communication throughout the history of man in 500 black and white, and color reproductions. There are examples of Far Eastern calligraphy, Near Eastern and South American script as well as examples of the evolution of European writing. Gallery hours are 12:30 to 4:30 and 7 to 10 p.m. daily except Monday.

Also named a director was Sheldon Kaplan, General Manager of Evans' Transportation Equipment Group who was advanced from Vice President to Executive Vice President of Evans at the same meeting.
