Conference Asks City, Township To Join in Study of Unification

Although three members of the Plymouth Township official family abstained from voting and Supervisor John McEwen stayed home as expected, a delegation of 77 representatives of business, financial, industrial, civic, service, education and unions Saturday passed a resolution urging a study of unification in the concluding action of the second Chamber of Commerce Leadership Conference at Schoolcraft College.

The day long session ended on a high note when the conference passed the resolution which reads:

"We, the members of the Plymouth Community Leadership Conference, urge the governments of Plymouth Township and the City of Plymouth to enter the Citizens Research Council of Michigan to study unification in the Plymouth Community.

"We also urge that the Citizens Research Council be instructed to include as an appendix all of those neighboring communities that wish to be included as a part of the study and pay their portion of the cost of including them in the study."

The resolution, passed by acclamation, was offered by Jerry Yohey, president of the Plymouth Jaycees, after a lengthy discussion of the correct wording.

Following the acclamation vote, moderator Dr. Howard McClusky, of the University of Michigan, asked those who had not voted for or against the resolution to raise their hands. Four were raised from Plymouth Township: Trustee Ralph Garber, Plymouth Township Treasurer Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes and Township Engineer Herald Hamill; and Philip Johnson, president of the Plymouth Education Association.

None was asked for nor gave any reason for abstaining from resolution which simply asks the two government units to engage in a study.

It was known by all attending that reports would be given by the Incinerator

Plymouth Senior Citizens Just Can't Be Bothered

Judging from the interest shown on the part of the community's senior citizens in the proposed senior housing project, the City of Plymouth Housing Commission might well wait awhile and see if there will be any renters available.

At least, the senior citizens showed scant interest in the meeting of the Plymouth Businessmen's Forum Thursday in the Mayflower Meeting House at which John J.

McLaren, director of the Warren (O.) Metropolitan Housing Authority, gave a detailed talk on the senior housing projects in his city.

The Warren project—Riverview Apartments—includes 150 units in a five story structure, with elevator and all types of safety devices just for the elderly.

McLaren told of ceilings on incomes, the ceilings on net worth and had all of the information the Senior Citizens sought at a recent hearing before the City Commission. At that time, none had the answers.

With that meeting in mind, the Forum executive board went to considerable expense to get the best person available in the state of Ohio—one who had charge of such a project and knew all the answers.

Unfortunately, the senior citizens were holding their monthly meeting in the Masonic Temple and were too busy there to go to the Meeting House. They were invited and indications were that more than 100 would drop in at 12:30 p.m. to hear the speaker. There were 100 chairs available but at 12:30 p.m., two members of the club walked in.

True enough that there were 6 senior citizens attending the luncheon and the entire program but it also is true that this program was arranged to clear up many points and many questions asked by the group at the public hearing.

The 66-unit planned in Plymouth would be constructed on a site in the rear of the Christian Science Church.

"Many will refer to the proposed senior citizen housing in Plymouth as a federal housing project," McLaren said. "This isn't true, this is a Plymouth housing project and should be considered and referred to as such."

Easter Seal Sales at $3,552 In Plymouth

Plymouth's Easter Seal sales have reached $3,552 with additional reports expected within a few days. That was the figure released by Eber Readman, chairman of the Plymouth Rotary Club Crippled Children fund raising campaign.

The Rotary Anns had receipts of $681 for their two-day sale of Easter Lilies.

Plymouth Picks Tom Moshimer As Grid Coach

After more than three months of screening and interviewing more than 20 applicants, Plymouth High has a new football coach to succeed John McFall who resigned at the end of the first semester to enter private industry in northern Michigan.

The screening committee, consisting of Asst. Supt. William Harding, Principal Carvel Bentley and Athletic Director John Sandmann, finally selected Thomas Moshimer, successful Dundee High mentor, as its choice.

The recommendation, with that of Supt. Russell Isbister, received approval of the Board of Education Monday.

Strangely enough, Moshimer is a native of northville and his parents still reside there.

More than that, he received his early coaching experience as a member of the freshman coaching staff at Michigan State University under Gordon Seer—and he did not play football at Northville High or MSU.

Moshimer is one of the state's most outstanding examples of a coach applying theory to the game and becoming one of the top football mentors in scholastic ranks.

Although he has never played as much as one minute of competitive football, he took a Dundee High team, that enjoyed losing seasons, didn't win a game in his first year, and developed a grid machine that rolled up 35 consecutive victories over a four-year period before dropping the final game of the 1966 season.

Those who saw the losing battle against Blissfield say that two unbelievable catches of passes by a Blissfield end set the stage for the two touchdown defeat by a 14-0 count.

Moshimer, who has a way of getting the best from his boys, actually started his coaching career in 1957 as an aide to MSU Freshman Coach Seer who now is the offensive line coach.

In 1959, Moshimer went to Dundee where he devoted two years to rebuilding a football spirit that was almost non-existent. The Monroe County team was a push-over in the county league when Moshimer took over. Now as he prepares to move to Plymouth, Dundee is rated as the most powerful football machine ever developed in that area.

Plymouth School Board Accepts 3 Resignations

The Plymouth School Board Monday accepted three resignations, granted an Education leave of absence and extended another leave for an additional year.

Resignations were accepted with regrets from Florence Lickfeldt, third grade teacher at Bird School; Emmalou Pine, first grade at Truesdell School; and Mary Snitgen, first grade at Farrand.

Mrs. Patricia Kolb's request for an Education leave of absence was granted and the Board approved a year's extension to the leave of John Bakita.

Plymouth DPW Sets Cleanup Week

The City of Plymouth will hold its annual Clean Up Week program during the period of May 1 through May 5, according to Department of Public Works Supt. Kenneth Vogras.

All rubbish must be placed between the curb and sidewalk and there will not be any special schedule as in past years. The regular rubbish and garbage collection will follow the normal schedule.

Vogras indicated this is a once a year project and gives Plymouth residents a chance to clean out all their rubbish, large or small.

He cautions that it must be placed between the curb and the street or it will not be picked up.

Then following the annual cleanup program the City will start enforcement of the Nuisance Ordinance passed on March 6. It became effective on March 28 but city officials decided to delay enforcement until after the annual cleanup, pickup project.

The Ordinance gives the City the authority to enforce cleaning up of private property.

Community Band Sets Spring Concert

Robert Clark, xylophone soloist with the Detroit Concert band and band director at Livonia Bentley High will play two solos Sunday when the Plymouth Community Band presents its annual spring concert.

The program is scheduled in Plymouth High School auditorium at 3:15 p.m. under the direction of Conductor James Griffith. There is no admission charge, since the Plymouth Credit Union, sponsors of the band, wish to encourage family attendance.

Clark will join with the band in presenting: Carradas by Monti and Hora Staccato by Heifetz.

The band will continue its established format of presenting "Music For People" by highlighting the following selections:

Orpheus Overture by Offenbach-Lake, Zampa Overture by Herald-Safranek, Mademoiselle Angot from the Ballet Suite by Lecoq-Mohaupt, The World is Waiting for the Sunrise by Lockhart-Seitz-Alford, Daughters of Texas March by Sousa, The Pride of the Wolverines march by Sousa and Joyce's 71st N.Y. Regiment March by Boyer-Lake.

The band, made up of musicians from numerous surrounding areas, includes Electors in the Plymouth Community School District will vote on three members of the Board of Education and a bond issue for the proposed Senior High No. 2 that may go as high as $7,754,040.

The School Board Monday passed a resolution setting the annual election for Monday, June 12 with the deadline for registrations on Saturday, May 15 at 4 p.m.

The Board also approved an application for preliminary qualifications of school bonds for the second high school with the Michigan Finance Commission. The application must be filed 60 days before the June 12 election date.

Melvin Blunk, assistant supt. in charge of business, told the Board that the total amount of the bond issue is still in doubt and could fluctuate considerably between now and the time of final approval.

Blunk informed the Board that the final figure and the amount that would be placed on the ballot wouldn't be known until after approval of the Commission.

In other actions, the Board: *Approved purchase of four additional portable classrooms at a cost of $9,000 per unit. Two are marked for Starkweather School and two for the senior high. Four others, approved earlier, are under construction at Junior High West. *Authorized the architect to proceed with plans and specifications for Elementary School No. 9 which will be erected on a site near the intersection of Canton Center and Joy Roads in Canton Township. *Accepted a recommendation from the administration for a service drive in front of Bird School as a safety measure with a recommendation that the plan be referred to the AAA and a report back to the Board before a final decision.

Register Saturday For Junior Baseball

Boys desiring to play in the Plymouth Community Junior Baseball program during the summer months, must register on either Saturday, April 15 or 22, according to an announcement by President Ken Vogras.

Registrations will be accepted between the hours of 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. on both Saturdays at the American Legion Hall, on N. Sheldon Road.

A fee of $4 will be charged to each participating boy. All youngsters must be accompanied by a parent or guardian at registration time. Those who did not participate in the Majors a year ago must bring a T-shirt and birth certificate.

Registration is open to all boys who will be eight prior to Sept. 1, 1967 or have not reached 13 before Sept. 1.

The league will hold try-outs for the American League on April 25 and 27 and for the National League on April 26 and 28 from 5:30 to dark on the Little League diamond on Plymouth Road.

Four From Area Win Scholarships

Four seniors from high schools in the six communities covered by The Observer Newspaper Group are among 72 in 14 states who have won four-year Ford Motor Company Fund college scholarships.

The winners in the 17th Ford Fund competition, sons and daughters of Ford Motor Company employes and certain of its affiliates, were selected from among 1,500 candidates by a panel of nine leading educators.

Area winners are:
FARMINGTON — Anthony Tucker, son of Mr. and Mrs.

3 Madonna Juniors Win LIT Honors

Three juniors at Madonna College gained national membership in Lambda Iota Tau, a literary honor society. They are: Maureen Fox of 15435 Levan, Livonia; Barbara Lemanske, 9358 Marion Crescent Redford Township; and Marianne Szott, 5470 Daniels, Detroit.

They presented their literary initiation papers on March 15. Maureen discussed "Thoreau: Pre-dispositions to Twentieth Century Literary Trends," in which she compared Thoreau's poetry with modern poetry.

An English major and journalism minor, Maureen is the secretary of the campus chapter of LIT and has been an associate member since her freshman year. Maureen is also co-editor of the Herald, the campus newspaper.

Marianne analyzed Thoreau's use of wisecracks, crackerbarrel humor, irony and puns in her paper, "Thoreau's Wit and Humor." She is an English major and elementary curriculum minor and also is on the Lanterne magazine staff and a member of the calendar committee.

Barbara made a study of a 1953 Pulitzer Prize winner—Theodore Rothke. Her paper was entitled "Theodore Rothke: Nature Poet." Barbara, a co-editor of the Lanterne and a member of the Herald Staff, is an English major and journalism minor.

Requirements for national membership are five semesters of college work, a literature major or minor, a "B" average in 12 semester hours of literature, scholastic standing in the upper 35 per cent of the class and an initiation paper on a literary topic or of a creative nature.

William Tucker, 24985 Glen Orchard. He is a senior at Our Lady of Sorrows High.
GARDEN CITY — Roger Hager, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hager, 141 Henry Ruff. A senior at West High.
LIVONIA — Thomas Bates, Jr., son of Mrs. Lillian Bates, 30160 Minton, a senior at Franklin High; Judith Shirley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shirley, 31242 W. Chicago, a senior at Franklin High.

The winners include 42 boys and 30 girls. Michigan led the award list with 25. The remaining 47 came from 13 states. Ohio had 18, California, 5; Illinois and Pennsylvania, 4 each; Kentucky, Missouri and New York, 3 each; Alabama 2; and Maryland, New Jersey, Tennessee, Texas, and West Virginia, one each.

All scholarship winners will meet in Dearborn on June 25-27 for a formal awards conference.

The scholarships pay tuition and a major portion of living expenses at any approved college or university in the continental United States. Recipients are judged on scholastic performance, results of the College Entrance Examination Board's aptitude test, and other indications of potential for success in college and post college life.

Privately endowed schools receive a $500 cost-of-education grant from the Ford Fund for each year a scholarship winner in attendance.

Approximately 1,200 Ford Fund scholarships have been awarded since the program began in 1951. Currently 263 winners from 21 states are enrolled in 120 colleges and universities.

Named Charter Member of New Olivet Honorary
OLIVET.—Charles Weaver of 32685 Five Mile, Livonia, has been named a charter member of Olivet College Chapter of Phi Alpha Theta, a national history honor society.

Weaver, a senior at Olivet College majoring in history, is one of six students in the charter membership. The charter was granted this week by the national organization.

To be eligible for membership, a student must have attained a 2.1 grade point average in history, studying at least 12 credit hours in the subject and maintain a 2.0 average in overall studies.

After Formal Dedication Services Sunday

College Opens Tech Building

The Schoolcraft College Technical Building was dedicated Sunday afternoon, bringing to fruition one of the goals of the founders of the institution.

Vocational and technical training had been sidetracked while the more academic aspects of the college's course offerings were developed.

Funded in part by Federal money, the building houses facilities for teaching automotive, manufacturing, drafting, metallurgical, electronic, hydraulic and data processing technologies. In addition, a nursing education area was built into the building. Keynote address at the dedication was presented by Dr. John P. Walsh, assistant manpower commissioner, United States Department of Labor.

Walsh predicted that by 1975, every major job category requiring advanced education will need more manpower. At the same time, he said, jobs needing little skill—agriculture and laborers—will decrease.

The commissioner praised Schoolcraft's efforts in establishing two year programs of study in many technical areas—areas he says will need a fantastic amount of manpower in the near future. "Out of every 1,000 working people, 963 go to work everyday. But we can't lose sight of the 37 left over. Today, there are three million people who can't find a job," Walsh said.

Who are these people? Mostly, the uneducated, people with no skills. And that, he feels, is where buildings like the College's Technical facility come in.

"We are in the best position we've ever been in to achieve the great society everyone is talking about. Yet there are clouds on the horizon, with many not becoming a part of the modern technology. We envision soon skill shortages, and manpower shortages in some areas," Walsh said. Continuing, he commented on non-white jobless:

"Of the three million unemployed, 650,000 are non-white, walking the streets of our ghettos," he said.

As proof that education pays off, Walsh cited statistics that show only two percent of America's white-collar workers are unemployed, and these people are idle only because they are changing jobs, or they have been laid off, or laid up with an injury.

Calling education the "pay-off for the American dream," he called for the use of facilities like the Technical Building at Schoolcraft to narrow the gap between our country's requirements, and its manpower.

"If we add up all the jobs advertised in the want ads of the newspapers across the nation, we'd find more than enough jobs for the unemployed. Our problem is to match those jobs with skilled people."

Also speaking briefly at the dedication was Dr. Hobart Sommers, regional representative of the vocational and technical Division of the United States Office of Education, as well as Leon Alger of the State Department of Education.

Gene Ralls, head of the architectural firm of Ralls-Hamill-Becker Associates, presented the keys of the building to Board of Trustee President Harold E. Fischer. Fischer in turn handed them to College President, Dr. Eric Bradner. The speakers were introduced by Jon P. Adams, Dean of Technical and Vocational Instruction.

GUEST SPEAKER Hobart H. Sommers of the United States Office of Education (left) and Leon J. Alger, of the State Department of Education, along with College President Eric Bradner, look over work done by the data processing lab of the Technical Building.

Pfeiffer Heads Student Council

William J. Pfeiffer, a freshman pre-med student at Schoolcraft College, celebrated his 23rd birthday on Tuesday, April 4, by being elected president of the college Student Senate.

Pfeiffer defeated Frank J. Pluta Jr., 18-year-old freshman, 16800 Salem, Redford Township, in the only contested race on the ballot in which a full slate of officers and four sophomore class representatives were named to the student governing body for the coming year.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore C. Pfeiffer, 9628 Robson, Detroit, Pfeiffer last month was inducted into Phi Theta Kappa, national scholastic honorary for two-year colleges, and was named president of the society's campus chapter.

He succeeds Richard W. Snyder, 20, 36000 Orange-lawn, Livonia, who is a candidate for an Associate Degree in Technology this year. Elected without opposition were: Cass J. Kershaw, 26, 330 N. Center, Northville, vice-president; Linda M. Antonelli, 19, 19171 Westmore, Livonia, treasurer; Barbara Mullally, 18, 34810 Wood Drive, Livonia, secretary; and Richard Flynn, 20, 12723 Ward, Detroit; James Tobey, 24, 11281 Oxbow, Livonia; Deanne Dumas, 18, 17659 Loveland, Livonia; and Glenn D. Gawronski, 19, 15631 Woodside, Livonia, all representatives.

The one-year term to which the officers and representatives were elected starts May 1. In the fall students will elect seven freshmen representatives to the Student Senate.

Set Clarenceville School Board Vote on June 12

Electors in the Clarenceville School District will vote for two Board members and one member of the Schoolcraft College Board in the annual school election on Monday, June 12.

The terms of Dr. Samuel Frisk and Thomas Wilson expire in June. Voters will pick two replacements for four year terms.

At the same time, the term of Paul Mutnick on the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees ends and a replacement will be picked for that vacancy.

A second position of Trustee at Large on the Schoolcraft Board also will be on the ballot to fill the position of Leroy Bennett, of Livonia.

The Clarenceville representative must reside in Clarenceville while the at-large Trustee must be a resident of any one of the five college districts that include: Clarenceville, Livonia, Northville, Garden City and Plymouth.

Persons wishing to be candidates for either the Clarenceville Board of Education or the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees may pick up the necessary petitions from the Clarenceville Board of Education Office, 28830 West Eight Mile Road, Farmington. These petitions are now available between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. daily.

Qualifications for candidacy as prescribed by the general school laws of the State of Michigan state that any school elector in a school district, who is an owner in his own right of property which is assessed for taxes, shall be eligible to election or appointment to office in such school district: provided, That where a husband and wife own property jointly, if otherwise qualified, each shall be eligible to appointment or election to school office.

To obtain the printing of the name of any candidate for member of the board on the ballot, the candidate shall file nomination petitions at the Board of Education Office not later than 4 p.m. the last day for the filing of petitions for the election of June 12.

Each petition should be signed by at least 27 but not more than 108 registered school electors in the Clarenceville School District.

College Landscaping Work Goes to Farmington Firm

Trustees of Schoolcraft College have awarded a $19,308 contract for the second phase of a master landscaping plan for the campus, authorizing a call for bids on two other projects, and approved purchase of office furniture for a fourth project.

DONALD M. SPRAGUE, 5586 Park Lane, Livonia, has been appointed administrative assistant to the assistant vice president and manager of employee relations of The Detroit Edison Company. He was formerly senior personnel assistant in the company's training and communication department. Sprague began his Edison career as a research assistant in the personnel research division in 1949. He has remained in employe communication and research, advancing through various staff and supervisory posts to his present position.

The landscaping contract was awarded to Wayne Oakland Landscaping and Nursery Sales, Farmington, lowest of five bidders. The work, which will concentrate on the campus mall, will be completed by June.

Other bidders were: Charles F. Irish Co., Warren, $28,155; Lars Hendersen Landscaping, Birmingham, $24,870; Harold Thomas Nursery, Livonia, $25,622; and Michigan Landscaping Co., River-view, $22,396.

Trustees approved plans for remodeling of the Administration Building and authorized a call for bids for the work. The interior of the building is to be modified to provide additional working space for the president's office, the business office, and the Office of Instruction.

The board also approved purchase of $5,814 in furniture for the Office of Student Affairs which is scheduled to vacate its present suite in the Administration Building and move into new quarters being prepared in the former student center in July.

Trustees authorized a call for bids on developing a new parking lot at the south end of the campus. The project timetable calls for completion of the new lot in late July.

Area School Newspapers Win Awards

Three Wayne County school newspapers, all from the Observer Newspaper Group circulation area, were among seven in Michigan to receive national honors in the judging of the 30th annual School Press project sponsored by the National Tuberculosis Association and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

The three are: Panther's Tale, Garden City High; Miss Colombe Haukkala, advisor; Pilgrim Prints, Plymouth High, Mrs. Donald Reis, advisor; and Emerson Eagle, Emerson Junior High, Livonia, Kenneth Watson, advisor.

Four other Wayne County school papers won state certificates of merit and letters of commendation for their entries. They included: School News and Views, Lola Valley Junior High, Redford Township, Henry Schmedler, advisor; and Ladywood Star, Ladywood High, Livonia, Sister Mary Timothy, advisor.

Council To Receive Charter at Seminar

Michigan Council of the American Institute for Design and Drafting will receive its AIDD charter at the Council's spring seminar at Schoolcraft College on Thursday, May 4.

The day's program will include presentation of a special award to the Schoolcraft AIDD student chapter, which is sponsored by the Council.

State Police Road Check Swings into 8 Districts

The Michigan State Police motor vehicle inspection program is now in full swing this week in all eight of the department's districts, Col. Frederick E. Davids, director, reported.

Inspection in the Bay City, Paw Paw, Rockford, Traverse City and Marquette districts had been delayed because of insufficient inspection supplies. The program began March 27 in the East Lansing, Detroit and Jackson districts.

At present one inspection team of several officers works daily in each district, changing check lane locations from day to day. Thirty-six officers originally were trained for this work.

Additional officers to serve as team substitutes will be trained, beginning with a three-day school April 19-21 at Marquette, according to Lt. Matt P.

Hrebec who is in charge of the operation.

Two officers from each of the 13 posts in the Marquette district will attend the in-service school. Subsequently team substitutes will be trained in other districts. Additional teams may be added in the districts later.

While inspections are made chiefly on week days, there will be weekend inspections on occasion too, Hrebec said. And with the season's lengthening days, afternoon inspection hours will be extended beyond the initial 4 p.m. terminal time.

Weekly and monthly summaries of the operation will be compiled.

Elect 9 to Charter Board

Plymouth Township voters elected nine members of the newest Charter Commission, which will draw up a new charter for the proposed City of Plymouth Heights. It was the fourth such election in eight years.

Heading the balloting was Paul Albright, recently appointed Director of Public Safety by Supervisor John McEwen, with a total of 464. He had two more votes than Don Tate with 462.

The others named to the Commission are: Kenneth Evans, 458; Paul McLean, 425; Mrs. Mary Breen, 421; Ralph McDowell, 416; Martin Fleming, 389; Gerald Burke, 382; and James Irvine, 337.

Those failing to make the top nine were: Ronald Pagenkopf, 336; Orville Tungate, 335; Frederick Sigmon, Jr., 259; and Cameron Dostie, 246.

$1,000<sup>00</sup> STILL NOT FOUND!

Search Narrows for Buried Check!

Thousands of treasure-hunters are getting close but there's still a $1,000 check buried somewhere in Livonia! Find it and it's yours to cash and keep! Printed below are the clues to date. There will be more every day until the money is found. Treasure Island maps in jigsaw puzzle form are available now at Wonderland stores listed below! Assemble your map, call for the final clues, and you may find our hidden treasure!

HERE ARE THE CLUES RELEASED SO FAR!

(March 29)
The Sound of Music featured one. It's known throughout the nation. Find this spot and you've begun. To find the loot's location.

(March 30)
We doubt if you will find a stream. That runs beside this date. Look further south to fill your dream. And you will hardly fail.

(March 31)
Men and gals both be-gowned. If they make the grade, Though on your treasure map it's found, It's not the place to spade.

(April 1)
This clue will tell you where, The Birdie's hard to come by, Our treasure's only 6 miles away. As you would watch a crow fly.

(April 2)
If this one's got you in a trance, You'll never fill your mission, Go east young man, and take a chance, you've made a wrong decision.

(April 3)
You can bank on this latest clue, There's no need to be worried, Four miles south, you're on cue. To where the dough is buried.

(April 4)
Round and round the olden train, At the wagons they did shoot, Here's where you feel that certain strain, When he takes away YOUR loot.

(April 5)
They make a part that gets you there, Without one it's no go, It's on a road that leads you where, You shovel for the dough.

(April 6)
If you're caught with trousers down, There's nothing else to blame, If an center you have found, A road that bears this name.

(April 7)
This place will show that you may win, If our map you assay,

You'll learn that digging should begin, Just nine furlongs away, Early folks set foot on this, We've left no stone unturned, Now we know that you won't miss, If the artery you've learned.

(April 9)
Alice met the hatter here, We know he was a bunny, Now You're getting awfully near, Where we have buried money.

(April 10)
The money's hidden twist the posts, Both started with the nag, If you scurry you can boast, That you have found the swag.

(April 11)
A pirate happy, another glum, what do they bring to mind? They represent a tidy sum, you surely now can find.

Leadership Conference Asks City, Twp. Join in Study

There were representatives from Canton Township (Supervisor Phil Dingeldey), Northville Township and Superior Township (Supervisor William Papineau) in Washtenaw County as well as from the City of Plymouth, Plymouth Township, the Community Board of Education, four civic associations in Plymouth Township, the Republican and Democratic Parties, numerous civic and service clubs and several large individuals.

Carl Pursell, president of the Chamber of Commerce, made a detailed information report for a proposed area unification study. The report was drawn up by Edward Schening, general manager of the Burroughs plant, but he has been ill for the past three weeks, was unable to appear and Pursell filled in.

The report gave the purpose of the study, indicated that unification would be decided by the voters not the governmental units, told of the area size and population, explained results of unification, told of additional benefits in state aid by unification, the costs to the taxpayers and the problems arising from unification.

The purpose of a study is to provide up-to-date facts to determine impact of unification on government services and costs if the City and Township were incorporated into a new city.

Unification would ultimately be decided by the voters with context of population growth and level of services decided by a popular policy.

The report showed that the Plymouth area is located in the Detroit-Ann Arbor urban corridor which will become a megalopolis. A Plymouth area unification would form a new city of 18 square miles with a present population of 23,320 and a project growth to 63,000 by 1980.

The form of government would be determined by area residents who would decide on the form and powers of a government for themselves.

The report shows that a larger city utilizing a large tax base has a greater capability of obtaining state aid than do smaller communities.

The costs to the taxpayers was presented as:

Present city taxpayer: tax rate can be adjusted, overhead costs would be spread, economies of scale would be achieved and a broader tax base would be available.

Present township taxpayers: the tax rate would be adjusted by overhead costs and would be spread such as in police protection.

The report indicated the problem areas that would have to be resolved are: administration, bonded indebtedness, fire protection, form of government, planning, police protection, recreation, roads, rubbish, water and sewer and senior housing.

It finally warns "unless we bring the complicated forces of urban living and development under control through knowledge, co-operation, and democratically conceived management, our urban problems will be transformed into a major crisis. To prevent this we must utilize the forces and factors which influence change to create opportunity, not crisis."

It was after the report that the delegates passed the resolution urging a study. Earlier in the meeting, City Manager Richard Blodgett, head of the incinerator committee, made a report indicating a need for such a project for the area. However, he stated a final solution will involve more meetings and ironing out of many details that lie ahead.

The committee recommended that it be permitted to continue to function in an attempt to arrive at a mutually satisfactory solution for area-wide refuse disposal.

The committee members are: Blodgett, James Jabara of Plymouth; Louis Norman and Gene Overholt of Plymouth Township; Frank Ollendorff, Northville; Supervisor R. D. Merriam, Northville Township; and Phil Dingeldey, supervisor of Canton Township.

Dick Lauterbach, Plymouth Township Trustee, reported for the Joint Police Committee. He told of conflicting opinions as to whether the various governmental units could form a police authority.

Attorneys for Plymouth Township and Northville Township opined that such could not take place without enabling legislation by the state legislature.

It was decided to request state representatives and state senators from the area to take every step possible to introduce the legislation.

State Representatives James Tierney and Louis Schmidt promised to take action if presented with a resolution from the conference.

The resolution, approved by the conference, reads as follows:

"The citizens present at the Plymouth Community Leadership Conference of Saturday, April 8, representing Northville, Northville Township, Plymouth Township, City of Plymouth and Canton Township and the Plymouth Community Board of Education request:

Our State Legislators to introduce legislation enabling communities of any class, including mixtures of villages, townships, cities, and home-rule cities to join in mutual authorities or mutual contracts for the provision of unified police services.

We have concurrently passed and transmitted to our respective elected boards and commissions a similar resolution urging them to adopt individual resolutions (also addressed to our legislative representatives) to the same effect.

As citizens, we wish to have the option for ourselves and other communities within the State of combining in the most efficient manner for the provision of the police protection so badly needed.

Apparently, present law may not permit a mutual authority or mutual contract among a mixture of unincorporated and incorporated community governments of various classes.

Plymouth Plans Summer Reading Clinic

In an effort to cure reading and learning problems at an early age, the Plymouth Community schools will spend $16,000 in federal funds on a workshop and teaching program this summer.

If possible, the local school board will add up to $8,700 in local funds to expand the program for more students who would benefit.

The program is aimed at discovering handicaps, mainly physical, which make it difficult for youngsters to learn to read.

By discovering these handicaps — such as coordination problems and inability to see letters in the correct order — at an early age, the program hopes to prevent major reading and learning problems in later years.

Parents Slate Banquet for Swim Squad

Members of the Plymouth High varsity, junior varsity and junior high will be honored guests at a banquet Wednesday (tonight) at Junior High East.

Awards and letters will be presented to swimmers by Varsity Coach Dick Gretzinger, Assistant Coach Byron Williams and Junior High Coach Paul Cummings.

Richard Fetters, assistant coach at Michigan State University, will be the principal speaker. He will be accompanied by Kenneth Walsh, Michigan State's national collegiate freestyle champion.

More than 200 are expected to attend the affair which is being planned and financed by parents of swimmers. The committee in charge includes: Mr. and Mrs. Denver McCord, Mr. and Mrs. William Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Malboeuf, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Larson.

The $16,000 of federal money will provide for a one-week workshop for nine kindergarten, first and second grade teachers in the attitudes and skills to teach reading.

It will also provide for three weeks of half-day work in August for 135 students from Starkweather, Allen, and Gallimore schools. The teachers are also from these schools.

Only economically disadvantaged children will be able to benefit from the federally financed program, but Monday night the school board put a request for $8,700 on the budget priority list to expand the program to more pupils.

The additional funds would enable the schools to add 12 more teachers and their students to the program and to offer in-service training programs for teachers on Saturday mornings.

Rolfe Smith, Ex-Rotary Prexy, Dies

Rolfe H. Smith, of Clarkston, a former president of the Plymouth Rotary Club, died, April 1, at the age of 61 in Morton Plant Hospital, Clearwater, Fla.

From 1925 until 1950 he worked for the Consumers Power Co. and most of that time was in charge of the Farmington-Plymouth area.

In 1950 he went into the real estate business in Pontiac, where he eventually opened the Rolfe H. Smith Real Estate Agency.

Besides holding the presidency of the Plymouth Rotary Club, he was a president of the Pontiac Board of Realtors, past president of the Horican Lake Corp., and a member of the Pontiac BPOE 810, Pontiac Rotary Club, Pontiac City Club, and the Wednesday Night Dance Club of Clarkston.

He is survived by his wife, Ruth; two sons, Sheldon and Craig of Clarkston; and eight brothers and sisters.

Services were held in the First Methodist Church of Clarkston with burial in White Chapel Cemetery, Troy.

Board Approves Purchase of 4 School Buses

Citing maintenance and mileage advantages, the Plymouth Community School Board rejected the low chassis bid in purchasing four buses Monday night.

The board purchased four International 1703 chassis at $3,498 each from West Bros. Motors and rejected a bid of $3,375 for the Ford B750 chassis from Leo Calhoun Ford Sales.

Melvin Blunk, assistant superintendent for business, had recommended the Ford bid because it was low, but board members pointed out that Robert Houghton, director of transportation, had consistently recommended International equipment.

Also purchased were four Carpenter bus dories at $4,084 from Wolverine Equipment Co.

John Diacono Is New Head of Plymouth Elks

John Diacono was installed as Exalted Ruler of Plymouth Elks Lodge 1780 in the traditional installation ceremonies Saturday at the Elks Temple. The Officers' Ball followed the rituals.

Others installed were: Arthur Berry, Esteemed Leading Knight; Earl Rickard, Esteemed Loyal Knight; Merwyn Williams, Esteemed Lecturing Knight; J. Rusling Cutler, Secretary; Ray Creith, PER, treasurer; Robert Gates, Inner Guard; John O'Connor, Chaplain; Vincent Simonetti, Esquire; and John Button, Tiler.

Trustees are: Max Nicol, Wayne Cline, Clark Bagrie, Robert Keayon and Gregory Sides.

ord of 43 wins, 21 losses and three ties. During the past four years Dundee established county and school records with the 35-game string of victories.

In all of the four years, Dundee was rated in the Top 10 Class "B" final ratings of the Free Press. Associated Press and United Press.

"We believe Moshimer will give Plymouth High the kind of coaching and leadership the community has expected of its football coach through the years," said Athletic Director Sandmann. "We on the screening committee were much impressed with his personality and with the reports from Dundee of his ability to handle boys. We feel he will be a valuable addition to our varsity coaching staff."

Moshimer plans to meet with letter winners and junior varsity football players in the near future to go over plans for summer conditioning. He has expressed a desire to meet with his future squad as soon as possible.

In addition to his coaching duties, Moshimer will teach mathematics. He has taught the subject during his eight years at Dundee.

The philosophy of the Plymouth Board of Education has always been that a coach must be a teacher first and Moshimer fits into that thinking with his major in math.

The new coach is a veteran of the Marine Corps. He and his wife Connie are the parents of two sons, Robert, 3, and Michael, 2.

They expect to visit Plymouth on weekends in a search for a new home but won't leave Dundee until the end of the school term.

Moshimer asked the Dundee Board of Education for permission to negotiate for the new position and already has received a release, with reluctance, from that School Board.

Dr. Henry Walch Heads Ministerial Association

Doctor Henry Walch was elected president of the Ministerial Association at its last meeting.

Doctor Walch has been pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church since 1943. He and his wife have two children, Sandra (Mrs. John Sergeant) of Plymouth, and Ralph of Webster, N.Y.

Seniors Shun Housing Talk

your tax dollars, being built into mortar and steel complex for the benefit of free-loaders. This is a facility for housing senior citizens in the Plymouth Community with rules, regulations and a policy set up by the Housing Authority and approved by federal agencies in Chicago."

McLaren explained the project is financed by a federal grant with bonds that must be amortized in 40 years through revenue from the operation of the facility.

"The grant from the federal government requires that the housing facility must have a minimum of a 20 per cent gap between the rental fees for private housing and that of the public units," McLaren explained.

"And because it is a federal grant, it must have open occupancy which means there can be no discrimination because of race, color, creed or sex."

McLaren told the audience that it is almost impossible for a project to wind up a year's operation in the black and that in such instances, the government subsidizes the deficit.

"In Warren," he said, "We have taken every precaution for the safety of the elderly. We have made the rooms bigger to take care of old-fashioned furniture. We have abandoned bath tubs for showers with a seat and installed controls on all showers to eliminate scalding or freezing."

"We have built in all possible types of safety devices such as hand and guard rails, no-slide tile flooring, eliminated all items that could cause injuries and installed windows that are easy to clean."

"We have emergency data posted on the doors of each unit so that persons finding a tenant in a critical condition can start by calling the doctor listed and then taking all steps necessary for the protection of the ailing."

McLaren stated that the Warren Authority learned rather quickly that it could not force senior citizens to move into the facilities.

"It's more of a case of trying to entice them to use the better facilities," he smiled. "And then we have to make sure there are enough activities to keep all busy since older persons have a tendency to withdraw and stay in their rooms unless drawn out."

McLaren indicated that the Authority sets up the policy for eligibility, net worth, ceiling on income and the rental scale. It also sets up standard of cleanliness. The rental scale in Warren is from $22.50 for a one bedroom to $58 for a two, based on the net worth and annual income.

In Warren, the tenant pays the utilities and these in turn are deducted from the monthly rent.

He said that Warren has placed a net worth ceiling of $10,000 and a ceiling on income of $3,000. McLaren had brochures and pictures of the various projects in Warren including the 5-story, 150-unit senior citizens facility that opened two years ago.

He explained all operations, all finances and then devoted a half hour to answering questions from the senior citizens in the audience.

Reputation of Hospital Magnet For Attracting Nurses

ANN ARBOR — The most important single factor in attracting new nurses to a hospital staff may be the institution's reputation.

This was one of the findings made by Luis Asis, M.D., administrative resident at the 1,000-bed University of Michigan Hospital, in analyzing results of a questionnaire from a sample of 135 staff nurses there.

Nearly 29 per cent of the nurses cited "reputation" as the factor which first aroused their interest in joining the U-M Medical Center.

The next largest category, 25.9 per cent, were attracted to the hospital because they had attended the University's School of Nursing.

Thirteen per cent were attracted by the salary and benefits and 10 per cent by friends and professional contacts. Advertisements in public and professional journals first attracted the attention of 9.6 per cent.

Elsewhere in the questionnaire the sample group was asked what motivated them to apply for employment at the hospital and what suggestions they would offer to improve the recruiting of nurses.

The results show a curious reversal between what nurses say ought to be done and what actually motivated them to join University Hospital.

Seventeen per cent thought more advertising was necessary, but only 5.6 per cent said they had been recruited by advertising themselves.

At the same time 17.7 per cent said they were motivated to join the hospital because of face-to-face recruitment efforts, yet only 8.8 per cent thought a continuation of such activities would improve the recruitment picture.

Dr. Asis, who is now completing his one-year residency at U-M, is on leave from his post as administrator of one of the largest federal hospitals in Costa Rica. The training program is sponsored by University Hospital and U-M's Bureau of Hospital Administration. The nursing survey was one of several projects Dr. Asis conducted during his residency to analyze major problems in hospital administration.

He noted that the survey of nurses was attempted because "this group is the largest single department of the hospital, has one of the highest turnover rates, is one of the most difficult for which to recruit replacements, is peculiar to a hospital organization, and is the department which most directly affects the caliber of patient care."

FATHER TOM VAUGHN, curate of St. John's Episcopal Church in Midland, famed jazz pianist, will present concerts at the Penn Theater in Plymouth on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings. The proceeds will be used to raise funds for the Youth Council work and the programs are sponsored by the Plymouth Youth Council.

7 Safety Patrollers To Attend Conference

The local area will be represented by seven local youths at the 31st Annual National Safety Patrol Rally in Washington, D.C., May 11-14.

They will be chosen from schools in Farmington, Garden City, Westland, Livonia, Plymouth and Redford.

These school safety patrollers will be among 133 boys and girls from 103 Michigan cities who will be guests of Automobile Club of Michigan on the four day, all-expense-paid trip.

Schools chosen to send representatives to Washington now are being notified of their selection, according to Ernest P. Davis, Auto Club's director of safety and traffic.

Each school is selected on the basis of its safety patrol's performance during the school year. The schools name the patrollers who will take the trip.

Democrats Propose Program For Township Road Maintenance

A four-point program aimed at easing the problem residents face because of bad road conditions has been proposed by the Farmington Democratic Club.

The four-point program was one of the three resolutions adopted at the club's monthly meeting. The group also took a stand in support of present efforts towards establishing a streamlined county governing board and criticized the method by which the Farmington Township Board overrode its bipartisan salary committee in setting the pay of the Supervisor.

The road resolution charged that "too often in the past we have received excuses rather than positive alternatives from our elected official in regard to the road situation." The Democratic resolution proposed:

• An immediate survey of all the problem roads to determine what needs to be done and what the cost will be.

• A determined effort to obtain all available road funds from county, state and federal sources.

• All-out assistance to those residents who want to take initiative in repairing or paving their roads.

• Keeping the presently paved roads in constant repair before they break up to the extent of having to be repaired at a great cost to homeowners.

The resolution on county redistricting points out that such a move would give the Farmington area a greater voice in county affairs as well as create a more responsive board.

The salary resolution asks that the Township Board resubmit the question of the Supervisor's salary to the committee. "We feel that the recent action by the Township Board in overriding the major recommendation of the Salary Committee in relation to the salary of the Township Supervisor jeopardizes the future working relationship of this committee," the resolution declares.

"The issue is bigger than the $1,250 which the Township Board added to the recommended $2,500 salary increase proposed by the committee. The issue is whether the committee is to function as a separate fact-finding group or merely be window dressing for the Township Administration in the difficult area of raising the salary of officials."

In another action the Farmington Democratic Club urged the Legislature to defeat a bill which would allow for the break-up of the Farmington District Library. The proposed legislation, House Bill 2686, introduced by Farmington Representative Raymond Baker, includes the following language:

"Any municipality which has united with other municipalities in the establishment and operation of a district library under this act may withdraw therefrom upon a resolution approved by not less than 2/3 of the members-elect of the governing or legislative body of the withdrawing municipality."

The Democrats also announced plans for a May 22 dinner in memory of the late Alf Langren, long-time Township resident. Proceeds from the dinner will be donated to the Farmington District Library.

Club Chairman Gerald Freedman announced the appointment of Mrs. Anna Keller to serve on the Township Beautification Committee.

Can you afford to let another year go by?

Cadillac is by far the soundest automotive investment in the world. Some of Cadillac's twelve models cost less than the corresponding models of other fine cars. And, in a surprising number of cases, they cost little more than cars in the middle-price range. One reason is that Cadillac is gifted with a wide variety of equipment that would cost extra on lesser cars. A Cadillac price sticker is always worthy of careful study. Then, there is the matter of resale. It is a very real fact that Cadillac craftsmanship is an irresistible attraction to those who buy previously owned Cadillacs year after year. This enables a person who buys a new Cadillac to drive his car for substantially less than many well-known makes over a one, two, or three year span. And, of course, Cadillac ownership offers satisfactions that cannot be measured in terms of cost. For how can you price its wonderful and relaxing quiet? Or its rewarding comfort? Or its incredibly smooth ride? So don't let another year go by without appreciating Cadillac price, Cadillac comfort, Cadillac performance and Cadillac value. Ask your authorized dealer for a demonstration.

Bill Proposes Education Funds

A bill to provide an additional $10,000,000 in appropriations for the 1967 Adult Basic Education Program has been introduced by Congressman William D. Ford whose district includes Garden City and Westland.

"Many persons in my Congressional District have taken advantage of this program, and many have written to me to tell me how much it has meant to them. I consider it one of the most worthwhile and valuable programs offered in our nation's attempt to eliminate poverty. It is helping thousands of illiterate and undereducated adults to break the vicious cycle of poverty," Ford said.

The Congressman estimated that, by June 30, more than 642,000 persons will have participated in the Adult Basic Education Program.

"This is only the beginning," Ford added. "It has been estimated that nearly 24,000,000 Americans over 18 years old do not have an eighth-grade education, or its equivalent."

The present 1967 appropriation for Adult Basic Education is $30,000,000, which represents a reduction from the previous year. Although only $21,000,000 was allocated in 1966, another $14,000,000 was carried over from 1965 unobligated funds. Therefore, Ford said, $35,000,000 was available for grants during 1966.

"By the time funds for administration, training and special projects are deducted from the 1967 appropriation, less than $27,000,000 is actually available for State grants. The $10,000,000 supplemental appropriation will at least permit us to maintain the 1966 program level," Ford said.

"Without this additional money, the States would be required to sharply reduce their programs. That is why I am co-sponsoring this bill, and will work for its passage."

Garden City Soldier Honored In Training

A Garden City soldier, James Foss, of 29037 Beechwood, finished at the top of his unit recently following completion of basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri.

Col. Robert M. Piper, commanding officer in the Infantry training at the camp, wrote the boy's father, Harold L. Foss, that the soldier completed an outstanding record in his eight weeks of basic training.

"The initiative, perseverance, and devotion to duty shown by him resulted in his being selected as the outstanding trainee of his company," Col. Piper wrote Mr. Foss. "This selection places him at the top of his unit."

"James' performance of duty, leadership ability, and untiring efforts throughout his basic training were of the highest caliber. His selection as the "TOP" man of his company indicates he has set and attained high standards.

Ford Opens Search for Top Workers

Ford Motor Company has launched its eighth annual Detroit-area Community Service Awards Program to salute employees and their spouses for voluntary participation in community affairs.

Frank T. Judge, Jr., manager of Ford's Community Relations Department, said employees or husbands and wives of employees who participate voluntarily in civic, educational or charitable activities may be nominated for awards.

Nominations can be made by fellow employees, relatives, neighbors, community leaders or anyone familiar with the nominee's community service record.

Nominees whose civic contributions are judged most outstanding will receive the company's highest community service award—the "Citizen of the Year" Town Crier bell.

Other successful nominees will receive "Outstanding Service Awards"—mounted silver scrolls bearing engraved commendations from Henry Ford II, chairman of the board—or "Good Citizen Citations."

Ford began the community service awards program in 1955 in 10 cities. Last year the program was conducted in 40 communities across the United States in which Ford has plants, offices or parts depots. Approximately 1,700 nominations were received in all U.S. programs in 1966.

More than 800 employees or their spouses received awards in the Detroit-area program last year.

GM to Produce 100 Millionth Car on April 21

General Motors will produce its 100 millionth vehicle in the United States shortly before noon on Friday, April 21.

The 100 million milestone will be a first in the automobile industry and comes just little more than five years after GM built its 75 millionth U.S.-produced vehicle, a Pontiac Bonneville, on March 14, 1962.

The 100 millionth vehicle, a Chevrolet passenger car, will come off the line at the Chevrolet Assembly Plant.

Academy of Dramatic Art Seeking Students

Interest is running high but the number of applications is still low for Oakland University's new Academy of Dramatic Art, school officials reported this week.

According to W. W. Kent, assistant dean of the OU School of Performing Arts, requests for information and application forms have been pouring in at the rate of about 12 a day. However, only a score of completed forms have been returned by prospective students.

Believed to be the first school of its kind to be introduced by an American university, the two-year academy will offer concentrated training for a professional stage career. It will be directed by John Fernald and based on the plan so successfully evolved during his 10 years as head of the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London.

Fernald, who is also artistic director of the John Fernald Company of the Meadow Brook Theatre at Oakland, has produced more than 300 plays, with English repertory companies, in London's West End, and on Broadway.

Fernald and his staff are hoping a surge of applications will follow the recent interest. The application deadline is April 15, but those received later than that will be considered if possible, he said.

Fifteen students will be chosen through auditions to begin classes Oct. 2. The auditions will begin May 14 at the Rochester campus and others will be held within the following two weeks in New York City and Chicago, the exact dates and locations yet to be determined.

Similar auditions will be held later for additional classes of 15 students each to begin in January and April of 1968. The audition teams will consist of four to six persons, including Fernald, members of his staff and professional actors and actresses.

St. Mary Hospital Introduces New Adult Breathing Program

By W. W. EDGAR
Observer Staff Writer

Without much fanfare or bluster St. Mary Hospital of Livonia has opened its doors to another most unusual public service and it is meeting with considerable success.

The innovation provides for Adult Breathing Classes that are open to persons af-licted with respiratory disease such as: Emphysema, Asthma, and Chronic Bronchitis, but are limited to non-smokers.

These adult classes are supported by a grant from the Wayne County Tuberculosis and Health Society and St. Mary is the sixth hospital in the county to offer these breathing exercise classes.

Here is how the new service program operates:

To be eligible for the class, the patient's family doctor must fill in a referral form. One portion of this form is sent to the TB Health Society, while the other portion of this form is sent to the Physical Therapy Department of St. Mary Hospital. These referred forms are available at either location.

When a minimum of six referrals are received the patients are notified by telephone and a date is set for the first session.

This first session is more or less a screening session. The patient is examined by the supervising physician and the exercise tolerance and pulmonary function tests are being performed. At the conclusion of this procedure the patient is informed of his acceptance for the class or rejected because of test results and physical findings.

When those who are accepted move on to the next session the medical director lectures and explains the purpose of the class is not to cure emphysema—that can not be done—but to help the patient live more comfortably with the lung capacity he possesses.

At the conclusion of this lecture, Mrs. Hilde Beatty, a member of the TB Health Society staff, talks to the class about respiratory disease problems and follows with the showing of a film pertaining to the subject.

The entire program consists of seven sessions and the remaining five are conducted by Sister Mary Collette, CSSF, a Registered Physical Therapist.

Among the topics covered in these sessions are:

- Local relaxation exercise.
- Pastural drainage.
- Diaphragmatic breathing techniques.
- Posture exercises.

Considerable attention is given to developing proper breathing techniques when performing the activities of daily living such as walking, stair climbing, and lifting heavy objects.

These sessions, according to Sister Mary Collette, are geared to establish a program of exercise that the patient finds beneficial and can perform easily at home.

When the instruction classes are completed the exercise tolerance and pulmonary function studies again are performed.

Then, after a wait of one month, these tests are repeated—for the third time. At this session the Medical Director sees the patient again and, following this meeting, a complete report is made to the referring physician.

The program, which was started at St. Mary last September, has had three classes to date. Enrollment for the fourth class is now underway and it is expected that sessions should begin later this month.

Thus far the sessions have been highly successful and from the comments received by Sister Mary Columbine, Administrator of the Hospital, from those who have taken part in the sessions, they have been helped subjectively.

Objective findings indicate an increase in exercise tolerance in more than 70 per cent of the participating patients.

This is an unusual approach to disease and offers further evidence of the important role St. Mary Hospital plays not only in the community, but in the overall world of health.

Two New Principals Named In Livonia

Superintendent of Livonia School District, Benton Yates announced the appointment of two new principals for the Livonia School District. Both have been involved in the Livonia intern program. One is for Riley Junior High and the other for the new school, yet to be named, in the Bell Creek area that will open September.

Lawrence J. Nichols has been named principal of Riley junior high school to succeed James L. Casebere who will assume the duties of principal at the new Dickinson junior high on Newburgh road north of Six Mile.

Nichols has been assistant principal at Riley, which serves 7th, 8th, and 9th grade students in the Five Mile-Merriman area. He was promoted to his new position by the Livonia Board of Education on the recommendation of Students who are scheduled to attend the Section 15 school on a gently sloping site in the Bell River area of Livonia will find in their principal an educator who will be able to communicate with them on camping, boating, and fishing as well as on everyday school matters.

Mrs. Venna Matson, named by the Livonia Board of Education to supervise the yet unnamed school now under construction west of Merriman and north of Five Mile road, manages to balance a strenuous educational program by relaxing with her husband as they fish for perch in Lake Michigan or seek plump catfish and trout in the lakes and fast moving streams of Missouri where her relatives and in-laws live.

Mrs. Matson came to Livonia in 1956. She taught fifth grade for one year, was an acting elementary principal for one year, and has been principal of Taft and Hayes elementary schools. Prior to coming to Michigan she taught for ten years in various schools, including four years as a supervisor in the University of Missouri Laboratory school.

The new principal of Section 15 school received her B.A. and M.A. degrees from the University of Missouri. She is currently a doctoral student at the University of Michigan and is studying and doing research in the fields school Supt. Benton Yates and the secondary school interview committee. Mr. Yates pointed out that Larry Nichols "has demonstrated depth and clarity of thinking on curriculum and administrative processes" as assistant principal at Riley and at Frost junior high, where he served from 1964 to 1966. Nichols has been in the Livonia system since 1959. In 1961, the new Riley principal was selected as a Livonia schools Ford Foundation fellow at Wayne State University. He also served as an intern with the Mott Foundation during 1963-64, where he did research on community school projects and curriculum development centers.

"Livonia's junior and senior high school are growing into true community centers," Nichols said. "I hope that still more youth and parents in the Riley neighborhood fully utilize our plant as the center for many different types of cultural, recreation, and civic pursuits."

As youngsters in Front and Riley well know, Nichols' interests extend beyond the classroom onto the playground. An across-the-board sports enthusiast with special preference for golf, he enjoys helping young people interested in physical fitness

Mrs. Matson is enthusiastic about the school which is located on a high point overlooking Bell Creek.

The new school, scheduled to open in September, will have 30 rooms.

CELEBRATING 50TH ANNIVERSARY of the Bank of the Commonwealth are branch managers from the Farmington area and Farmington officials. Joining in slicing the birthday cake are: (from left) Ronnie Pieper, manager of the Orchard Lake and 13-Mile Road branch; Township Supervisor Curtis Hall; Township Treasurer Mrs. Elise Avery; and branch manager Edward H. Manic, 10 Mile Road and Middlebelt.

First Federal Plans Gala Opening for New Branch

An open house, starting at 9:30 a.m. Friday, will mark the completion of the newest branch of First Federal Savings of Detroit at 19410 Middlebelt Road, just north of Seven Mile.

Announcement of an opening was made by F. William Manion, branch manager, whose staff has been conducting business in a temporary building while the new structure was under construction.

Manion said that First Federal was staffed and equipped for the opening of hundreds of new savings accounts during the open house celebration of the association's 21st branch building in the Detroit metropolitan area.

He added that there would be valuable door prizes, gifts and premiums for persons opening new savings accounts, as well as those who merely drop in to see the new quarters of the branch.

Top prizes of the celebration will be a color television set. There will be 30 other valuable prizes. The color TV set is a 22-inch Sylvania. The other prizes are three portable television sets and 27 transistor radios. These are door prizes, Manion explained, and one doesn't have to open a new account or meet any other requirement to be a lucky winner.

Every visitor during the two-week period will be presented with a mystic grip disc which can be used for opening of jars, bottles, cans and other containers.

Gifts being made available to savers include: an alarm clock, free with a new savings account of $50 or more; a pen-and-pencil set with a new account of $50 or more; a new Better Homes and Gardens Garden Book with 20 tab-indexed chapters, 1,200 illustrations, useful directions and ideas for your lawn and garden. This book is free to those opening savings accounts of $50 or more.

A Globemaster atlas, free with new savings accounts of $10 or more. The atlas has 100 full-color maps and insets.

All savings accounts at First Federal are insured by a permanent agency of the U.S. Government up to $15,000. First Federal savers currently receive 4 1/2 per cent annual earnings — highest passbook savings earnings rate in the Detroit area — paid and computed quarterly.

Manion pointed out that 191,000 First Federal savers have just received a payment of over $6 million, based on first-quarter 1967 earnings of the association, which is Michigan's largest lender on home mortgages and the state's largest savings and loan institution, with total assets of over $630 million.

Commenting on the branch opening, Manion said:

"We are gratified with both savings and home lending activity in the branch since we opened last year. We foresee even more rapid growth now that our complete new facility is open and ready to serve the people of these Western Wayne and Southern Oakland county communities."

Members of his staff are: Harold Bremer, Jr. Asst. Mgr., Marie Langly and Leona Makuch.

NEW MODERN BRANCH of First Federal Savings and Loan Association will hold a grand opening Friday. The new structure is located near the intersection of Middlebelt and Seven Mile Roads, across from the Livonia Mall.

Pitching Problem for 'Champ' Thurston

Area Preps Welcome '67 Baseball

Welcome to another baseball season.

The major leaguers, the collegians . . . and now the high schools are swinging into their full-scale 1967 campaigns.

Area prep nines are set to go, provided the weatherman gives them a break.

Preparing a schoolboy baseball team is not a simple task. A coach keeps his charges on the jump . . . from indoor sessions in the gym to outdoor drills when the sun shines a little . . . back to the gym . . . outside again, etc.

Ready or not, the coaches welcomed this week's openers.

As the '67 slate began, the spotlight in The Observer newspaper area focused on Thurston High, champs of the Northwest Suburban League a year ago and also winner of the Greater Livonia Invitational tournament sponsored by the Livonia Optimist Club, the Recreation department and The Observer papers.

Coach Emil Majeski's big problem at Thurston centers around the pitching.

He has lost Vic Pilar, the brilliant peger who in '66 won half of the 18 triumphs registered by Thurston. Bob Durand and Demo Syrious, who saw mound service to some extent in '66, are back and will head the '67 staff.

Durand flips 'em right-handed, Syrious from the port side.

There are three standouts on the Thurston squad—Reg Barringer, right field; Paul Santangelo in left and Bob Holmes at short. They all made All-Suburban a year ago.

Then, too, there are Barry Simescu, at third base, who was all-league in '66; Dan Harris, who can catch or play the outfield; Marty Ingelsoulian, a veteran at second, and Bill Holmes, who can do the catching if Harris goes to the outfield.

"We should have another good season," says Majeski. "That is, if our pitchers come through."

Pilar, incidentally, now is at Michigan State University.

Here's the baseball story at the other area schools:

REDFORD UNION

Coach Bob Atkins boasts one of the strongest prep infield combinations in the state with Leland Bjerke at first, Rod Ferguson at second, captain Glen Buckingham at short and Bill Howe at third. The first three are seniors, Howe a junior.

All-League Dick Beckerleg has one outfield slot sewed up while Bob Fritz, Jack Dalzell, Kevin Fox and Dale Bjerke will fight for the other jobs.

Fox, Tom Booker and Dale Bjerke head the RU pitching staff. They are not too experienced. Fox and Booker are juniors with Bjerke a sophomore. RU also must count on a junior catcher in Bill Fahey.

BENTLEY

The returning of Bill McAlpine and Dave Gorton to handle the pitching cheers coach Marty Klozik. Gorton pegged Bentley to eight wins last season, McAlpine three.

Title Fight Slated for Olympia TV

The Cassius Clay-Floyd Patterson heavyweight championship fight, scheduled for April 25 in Las Vegas, will be seen on closed-circuit television at Detroit's Olympia.

It'll mark the third Clay bout seen "live" at Olympia. Tickets for the telecasts will be priced at $5 and $6 and may be obtained at Olympia.

Other veterans include Ed Ryan at third, Greg Coleman at second and Paul Sorenson and Greg Macy, who will alternate at first. Macy may do some pitching if Gorton and McAlpine need help.

John Schroter, a soph, looks the best at shortstop. Returning catcher Don Monroy is ill, which means that Bentley may have to turn Roy Krueger, an experienced senior, or Harvey Verhines up from the JV team.

There are some gaps in the outfield where McAlpine and Gorton will play when they're not pitching. A doubleheader at Port Huron Saturday starts the Bentley season.

FRANKLIN

With nine lettermen back, coach John Hartsig sees the nucleus of "a good team" at Franklin. Chris Wendrick and Fred Davies are back to head the mound staff along with Rick Mack who worked as a sophomore, but saw no mound duty as a junior.

Hartsig will field a veteran infield with Mark Domer or Steve Atkinson at first; Mike LeBanc at second, Dave Stott at short and Bill Hellstein at third.

Tom Moersch, Ron Sahnany and Dave Paden figure to do most of the work in the outfield, although the latter has been used in the infield, too.

Atkinson will do some catching; maybe most of it.

STEVENSON

As in football and basketball and other sports, Stevenson has all its veterans back.

George VanWagoner, who did a great job in moulding Stevenson into a winner in Stevenson, has taken command in baseball and looks to Paul Tonnemacher and (Continued on Page 3B)

NEW CAPTAIN of the Thurston baseball squad under Coach Emil Majeski is Reg Barringer, all around athlete who stood out both as a football half-back and a basketball guard.

Plymouth Picks 'Ex' As Coach

Who says one must be a star athlete—or even an average athlete—to become a success as a coach?

Take Tom Moshimer, the newly named football coach at Plymouth High School.

Moshimer never played the sport either at Plymouth or Michigan State University.

But his record as a grid leader ranks among the best in the state.

He comes to Plymouth from Dundee high where his teams in the last four years fashioned a streak of 35 straight victories before finally being beaten in the 1966 finale by Blissfield, 14-0, on a pair of long passes.

Mashimer has spent eight years at Dundee, compiling an overall record of 43 wins against 21 losses and three ties.

He broke into the coach- (Continued on Page 3B)

Observing SPORTS

By George Maskin

Warm weather, the year-around, doesn't necessarily create top notch athletes.

We got to thinking about the matter the other evening as a Delta jet lofted us from Tampa, Fla., to Detroit's Metro Airport in less than three hours.

It makes a northerner slightly envious to realize that down Florida-way they didn't see a drop of snow during the winter we are so happy now to have escaped.

Equally disconcerting is the fact the high school athletes down there don't have to rush in football to beat the elements. Their gridders perform as late as mid-December and they even stage a state-championship prep football tournament, something we'd like to see in Michigan.

And when it comes to prep baseball and track, the kids are in action in February and by the middle of March they're performing with most of the games under lights.

Up here, the preps are slated to start their baseball this week. But it's very questionable, considering the way our weather fluctuates from day to day . . . sometimes even from hour to hour.

Notwithstanding the drawbacks created by the weather, the Michigan schoolboy athlete "runs away"—ability speaking—from the boys who contest in prep activities in Florida.

Just ask any college coach. They'll tell you there is no comparison . . . and the coaches should know.

So should the baseball scouts who comb all areas in their search for fresh talent.

"You have to take your hat off to the kids up there in Michigan," Eddie Katalinas, the chief scout for the Detroit Tigers was saying.

"Those boys—and boys in neighboring states. (Continued on Page 3B)

Bentley Starts Fast

The track season began on a happy note for Bentley high.

Back-to-back non-league victories over Wayne, 84-2-33 1/2, and Franklin, 78-40, gave indications that Bentley will be tough to contend with in Suburban Six League action which starts this week as Bentley invades Redford Union.

The trio of Mark Formma, Ken Jackson and Doug Thomas carried off individual honors in both victories for Bentley. Each was a two-time double winner.

Formma came through each time in the high jump and the 440-yard dash. Thomas carried off the two sprints while Jackson hit the wire first in the hurdles in both the meets.

Thomas also helped out in the 880-yard relay won by Bentley in both meets while Formma ran the anchor leg on both of Bentley's victorious mile relays.

In both meets, Bentley showed strength in the field events, taking three out of four against Wayne and scoring a four-event sweep at the expense of Franklin.

Sophomore Bob Rogalski with a first in the long jump and seconds in the two dashes stood out for Franklin in a losing cause against Edsel Ford, 85-53, in Franklin's opening meet of the season.

Wolverine Raceway Shatters Betting Marks with $659,934

Reaching for the moon and showing signs of getting there after the greatest start ever for a harness racing plant in Michigan, Wolverine Raceway already has shattered three of the all-time records it set earlier after only 13 nights of its 58-night campaigns.

It all happened on the third Saturday (April 8) and the second full week as business continued to boom at record proportions.

The crowd of 11,007, second largest Saturday gathering at Wolverine poured a record high total of $659,934 through the mutuel machines. That bettered the previous all-time mark of $609,360 at Wolverine on May 15, 1965 and marked the fourth time the track has passed $600,000. No other Michigan harness operation has reached $600,000.

The total handle probably would have been much higher had Wolverine officials not run into a late scratch in the first race. It brought a refund of $6,000 from what would have been the highest daily double pool in history—more than $60,000. As it was the pool was just short of the record $54,276 with a total of $54,066.

The record for a perfect pool went by the boards with $31,932 contrasted to the former high of $26,882 on June 4, 1966.

Wagering for six nights in a week soared to a record of $2,705,211 compared to the previous high of $2,669,354 set at Wolverine during the period of April 19-24, 1965. That also is an all-time record for Michigan.

All of this resulted in a 14 per cent increase in handle over 1966 with a nightly average of $443,758 against $389,201 for the same period a year ago.

Attendance is up 11 per cent over the same number of nights with a nightly turnstile count of 6,539 compared to 5,837. A total of 85,017

Set Dates for Sub. League Mixed Doubles

The second annual Redford Suburban League mixed doubles tournament will begin over the April 22-23 weekend at the Wonderland Lanes in Livonia.

The meet will extend over a period of six weekends with bowling from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. each Saturday and Sunday.

The first prize is an estimated $1,000, based on the total number of entries. The entry fee is $10.50 per couple.

The prize list is designed to guarantee a prize for one of every five bowlers, according to Secretary Della Pallister.

Proceeds will be used to continue the Suburban League's 10-year program of extending scholarships to deserving students and teachers in the field of special education to supply orthopedic and special requests to schools and institutions to enable them to better apply their skills; and to foster community interests.

For additional information, call Secretary Della Pallister at KE 4-7156.

have gone through the gates—it was 76,287 a year ago. While all of this was going on in the front of the plant, Driver Joe Marsh, Jr., of Findlay, O., was setting a sizzling pace on the racing strip with 15 victories for the 13 nights—he didn't have entries on three occasions, so actually he has 15 wins for 10 programs.

HITTING THE LINE with a half-length to spare is Painted Byrd, a four-year-old owned by the Dragon Stables of Plymouth, to turn his first start into a victory at Wolverine Harness Raceway. Painted Byrd took the lead midway through the stretch.

ONE'S WITH ANGELS:

RU Grads Shine

The greatest joy that can come to a high school coach is to see his charges graduate into successes on teams of higher standing. Baseball coach Bob Atkins at Redford Union High is a man full with pride these days.

His "boys" learned their lessons so well at Redford Union and on the sandlots in the Greater Livonia Connie Mack and Free Press Leagues, they now have moved up the ladder of success.

Leading the way is Rick Clark, a righthanded pitcher who this week started the major league season on the staff of the California Angels.

Barring unforeseen developments, Clark will be at Tiger Stadium next Tuesday afternoon when the Angels help the Tigers usher in the home campaign at the Detroit ball park.

Clark has drawn the praises of Angel Manager Bill Rigney for turning in a superlative job of hurling in spring training. The lanky Townshipper didn't allow a single earned run.

After starting at Redford Union, Clark went to Western Michigan University for a brief stint and later was called for military duty.

He was signed originally by the Tigers but they lost him during the past winter in the major league draft.

The Tigers would like him back, but the way Rigney feels, it doesn't appear likely.

While Clark has made it to the big time, other Redford Union grads have won themselves prominent jobs in the college ranks.

Sophomore Harry Kendrick from RU has won the first-string catching post at Michigan State and was heralded on the all-tournament team picked during the Spartans' spring competition in Miami, Fla.

Clyde Ziegler has moved from RU to New Mexico University where he is the starting third baseman.

Meantime, Robby Masson is playing short stop at Alma, Rick Barryman is pitching for Eastern Michigan and Rick Fisher and George Little are on the Port Huron J.C. team for the second straight year.

"Naturally we're proud of the schoolboy baseball played in the township," Atkins declared.

Two other ex-Township high school stars, Dave Woloch and Arnold Helwig, have been training in the Detroit Tiger Farm system at Tiger-town in Lakeland, Fla.

Woloch, a second baseman, and Helwig, a pitcher, both hail from Thurston High.

PLAY BALL: This is the season in which the Catholic High School League unveils its three balls for a walk and two strikes and out regulation.

Other schoolboys will be sticking to the long established rule — four balls for a walk and three strikes for an out.

One thing is for certain: Catholic League hitters will have to be on the constant alert to attack the ball. They can't stand up and there and wait.

The new rule also means that umpires must be sharper, too. Under the four ball-three strike situation, an ump who calls a bad first strike, or even a bad second strike might get away without drawing too much in the way of a complaint.

Now every strike means too much for the ump to goof—even once.

Oh, yes; to clarify a point under the new Catholic League rules.

A batter who bunts a second strike is NOT out. In regular baseball, if you have two strikes . . . and bunt . . . that's it for you, buddy.

West Wins Over Two Track Foes

It was a big opening week for Garden City West in track.

First there was an 87-31 rout over Garden City East. Then came a thrilling, 63-55 triumph over John Glenn in a dual meet decided by a victory in the final event—the mile relay.

West held a 58-55 edge going into the relay and had to win to take the meet. Mike Sinta, running the final leg, sprinted away to beat his rival by eight yards and give the race and the meet to West.

The meet produced a pair of new school records for West, a credit to the team for so early in the season.

Ron Wolff roared over the 440 yards in 52.6 seconds, to shade the old school mark which stood at 53.8 seconds.

The other record went to West's 880-yard relay comprised of Bull Fodor, Bob Herrick, Scott Frazier and Mike Alexander. Their time was 1:36.2, two-tenths under the former standard.

Alexander captured both the dashes to seize individual honors in the Glenn meet. Against East, Merriman won the 100-yard dash and came back for a victory in the pole vault.

The complete results of the two meets:

PLYMOUTH
The "ifs" are pitchers Dan Camp and Pat Williams. Coach Frank Fisher converted both into moundsmen last season and they showed promise as the prep campaign progressed and later in the summer program.

Both are southpaws and they top the eight lettermen who regale at the Plymouth squad.

The outfield is all-veteran with John Bida, Dave Prochaska and Russ Carlson, Jack Bauman and Mike Cederberg will divide the catching.

In the infield, there's Ken Olds at short, John Gillis at second along with Barry Good, Rick Fillmore and Ron Boyne, all candidates for third. Boyne is a transfer student from Ann Arbor St. Thomas, who may crash the lineup at short or second.

Camp and Williams will split the first-base job when they're not pitching.

GARDEN CITY EAST
This is the year of "re-building," according to coach John Kulazenska. For the most part the East lineup will present new faces.

The standout on the team is Joe Huber, who can star at any position, but likely will concentrate on the pitching with Greg Pike, another holdover. When not on the hill, Pike and Huber will handle first base.

Other veterans are Mike Sparkman in centerfield, George Dobozy, shortstop; Ken Wilkinson catching, and Martin Martin, who can play right field and do some of the pitching.

John Kladyk to handle most of the pitching.

Chuck Sobczak is back at work behind the play while the infield figures to include Greg Wilkinson at first, Bob See at second, Phil Camp at short and Dick Silber at third.

The outfield corps includes Tim DeWitt, Randy Johns, Dave Loewo and Matt Stahurski, the latter a name well-known in Livonia prep baseball circles. Matt's brother Mike starred for three years at Franklin.

CLARENCEVILLE

Coach Gordie Larson sees the Trojans better than their "stuck" 6-8 record of the last three years. He's also hoping that Clarenceville can shake the one-run losing jinx which has seen the team bow 15 times by a single tally in the past two campaigns.

Seven seniors and two juniors figure to make up the starting unit. Dale Armstrong, a three-year vet, heads the pitching with Mark Divendorf and Mike Nye due to lend a hand on the mound.

Tom Schlack (first), Divendorf (second), Bob Duman (short) and Nye (third) comprise the regular infield with veterans Mike Gordon, Chuck Watkins, and John McClory returning to handle chores in the outfield.

It will be Carl Watkins behind the bat as the '67 season dawns.

will have an experienced lineup. Mainstay of the veterans is Bob Gamache, pitcher-outfielder. Bob has a strong arm and a lot depends on how well it does.

George Domanski at first; Don Buczek, catcher, and Larry Pierce, second base, also have returned from last year's varsity.

Jim Furry and Bob Chedister, two standout pitchers from last year's JV's who had a 10-1 record, also figures to help the '67 West- varsity.

GLENN

Norm Hoenes is the new coach and he may resort to applying a lot of psychology on his charges. Hoenes teaches psychology. However, he finds himself short on veterans from last year's fine team which won 20 while losing only five for a school record.

Mike McMaster, a pitcher; Dennis Malaney, shortstop; Rick Snow, shortstop; and outfielders Nelson Vanderberg and Dennis Harner have returned to form the basis for the '67 teams.

Bill Shellen and Cary Webb, up from the reserves, figure prominently in Hoenes' plans.

FARMINGTON

With a flock of veterans on deck, coach Bob Mistelet looks to another fine season for the Falcons, runnerup last year to Pontiac Northern for the Interlakes League title.

But, it's to be remembered that Farmington beat Northern in the last game of the season and many of the Farmington players enjoyed a big summer of baseball in the American Legion.

Standouts on the Farmington roster include Chris Norton, an all-conference centerfielder; Jerry Tinkle, at first base who hit .370 last year; Joe Himmel-spach, third base, a .340 slugger; and pitchers Dan Wolfman and Mike Thompson.

Wolfman also plays the outfield while Thompson, 6-4, goes to the outer gardens when he's not hurling.

Al Kilikka at short and Dan Ketridge at second are two veterans on the varsity.

NORTH FARMINGTON

Only four veterans make up coach Tom Wallis' roster. He has Hub Copp at first, Rudy Kramer catching, Dan

Wiretapping Illegal, Immoral

Like the man in the entertainment agent's office said: "Don't call us, we'll call you."

This however, may be reversed if the proponents of legal wiretapping of telephone lines is permitted.

With the hue and cry of a certain segment of our society which sees a communist and a Mafia gang behind every corner, it is difficult to remove the senseless, emotional arguments from the national debate of wiretapping.

The issue has a special significance since a former Garden City Municipal Judge, Russell L. Swarthout, was removed from office following a conviction last fall involving the alleged concealment of part of the earnings of a client. During the case brought by federal government, the government attorneys admitted that they used electronic eavesdropping devices to obtain information on the case.

The Observer doesn't buy the line of "if you're innocent, you don't have any thing to worry about." This was usually cited as a foundation for opposing use of the fifth amendment to the United States Constitution.

As in that case, the innocent have as much to lose as the ones who are conspiring to commit crimes with the use of telephones.

If tapping is allowed, especially by private persons, which seems to be not a rare occurrence, then American citizens going about their everyday business can have their phone conversations overheard and be left open to potential extortionists, whether the conversation was incriminating or not.

The use of wiretapping is immoral and illegal since it represents an improper entry into your home or business without a warrant from the police department.

THE OBSERVER hopes that the United States Congress will see the inherent flaws in the legal use of wiretapping and the need for outlawing such activities.

—LEONARD POGER

Another City Falls

Westland's City Council has joined the ranks of many municipalities and school districts which have blithely passed the reins of government to unions with which they bargain.

Westland has, however, gone further than most in the game of government giveaway.

In most cases, where contracts are signed, forcing employees to join the union in order to work for the government, workers are permitted two to three months on the job before they must join.

Each new employee must fork over his initiation fee, 10 days after he starts the job—or he is put off the payroll and the job.

And then the union—not trusting the wisdom of the city council—demanded that unsatisfied grievances be settled by binding arbitration.

And the Council—not trusting in its own wisdom—agreed.

By turning over the responsibility of making decisions—given to them by the citizens, councilmen, have thereby deprived the electorate of a privilege it has fought for since the Revolution.

All citizens who believe their elected officials should perform the duties for which they were chosen, should protest loud and vigorously.

This is one protest.

Bus Flasher Means Stop

Last month a six-year-old girl was killed on Van Born Road in Van Buren Township. This little girl's death was the result of an automobile passing a stopped school bus with its red flashers activated. Increasing concern has been expressed by school bus drivers this year from all sections of Wayne County because drivers are ignoring the flashing red signals on school buses.

Many citizens have reported cars pulling out of a regular lane of travel to proceed around vehicles which were stopped for buses loading or unloading.

Generally speaking, Michigan law requires vehicles must stop for school buses loading or discharging passengers. Exception to this law exists in Detroit and Dearborn, where ordinances have not been passed to observe the state code.

Despite the difficulty in prosecuting drivers in violation of the code, school bus transportation supervisors are asked to submit to the police all information leading to the arrest of drivers who fail to recognize a school bus' red flashers.

School bus drivers are being told to keep a pad and pencil handy to jot down license numbers of violators... get a description of the car... positively identify the driver of the vehicles in violation. When bus drivers supply the information about violators, school transportation supervisors should seek a warrant for the arrest of the drivers of the vehicles in question.

No driver wants to kill a youngster. No driver wants the shocking experience of hitting a youngster on a highway.

Stop your car when you see a school bus with flashers activated when loading or discharging the students. This safety rule, if observed tenaciously will protect and keep alive our most prized possession—the school children of Wayne County.

No Bonding For Sidewalk Editor:

When I moved to Livonia I paid nearly a thousand dollars for pavement and sidewalks in front of my house. Now I understand that the City is asking for bond money to pave some streets and install sidewalks for people because of their difficulties on unpaved streets each Spring.

I fail to see why I should be asked to pay for someone else to have conveniences which cost me considerable money for my own home.

I recognize that we need money to improve thru streets like Farmington Road and other well-traveled highways. But I absolutely refuse to support bond money millage so that certain people can have the convenience of pavement and sidewalks at my expense just because they refuse to spend the money. We have paid for our pavement, it is only fair that others do the same.

Norma St. Aubin
Livonia

Ed. Note: The plan of Councilman McNamara's I presume you are referring to for millage concerns only Livonia's main roads not residential streets or sidewalks. The growth and progress of the City depend on its arteries as you indicate.

Bircher 'Speaks Up' Editor:

The letter from a former Bircher is another example of a "joiner" expecting to receive by joining who has not done his homework, because the John Birch Society makes available material on current programs to: 1. Inform yourself, not listen. 2. Inform others and recruit.

For awhile you react to the Communist conspiracy by trying to counterattack all their attacks. Eventually you settle down and stick to the J.B.S. attack programs exposing Communist conspiracies with the truth.

Robert Welch calls us a bunch of cantankerous individualists. The Communist conspiracy and their dupes call us pawns in a monolithic organization. We call ourselves willing volunteers working together by moral and ethical means, under law, exposing Communists with the truth. They know we are their strongest enemy which is why they continually cause unfounded and repeated hysterical attacks on us. But we shall see all these criminal Communists destroyed and our God, family and country preserved.

Letters to Editor:

Four Freshmen Plea A Cause

Editor:

We could write this letter to you, and tell you what we saw in the Appalachian Mountains of Kentucky. But we would rather tell you what we feel.

We are four college freshmen at Madonna who lived and worked with the poverty stricken people of Appalachia during our Easter vacation. But we came back to our placid middle-class society and left them living in shacks, attempting to build a world without tools. And we sit here, just 500 miles away, and tell people about our experience, and wonder if we have the right to let what we saw remain dormant in our memories. We were moved by what we lived, and we are determined to return to help.

We worked under the Christian Appalachian Project which has started to build a new way of life for the people there. But they can't possibly construct dams, plow fields, and erect schools and playgrounds without equipment. In our industrial cities, we can't conceive how important a truck or a tractor would be to these people who are working with almost primitive tools.

The four of us who spent time in Appalachia have set a challenge for ourselves. But we are appealing to the people of Michigan for help. We are organizing to raise funds to send a truck to Appalachia. It won't be easy, but then neither is life in the mountains.

Everyone can't see what we saw or experience what we have experienced. But everyone can be a part of our challenge. Is your heart big enough to house your destitute brothers in Appalachia? Words are easily spoken; money moves mountains!

Send any donations or trucks to: Money for the Mountains, Madonna College, 14221 Levan Road, Livonia, Michigan (48150), or call 421-9604.

From the Publisher's Desk OBSERVATION POINT

By Philip H. Power

SENATOR Philip A. Hart was in this area over the past weekend, and on Saturday a group of us newspaper types went over to Bloomfield Hills to see him at a big cocktail party.

The Senator was scheduled to be the guest of honor later that evening at the annual Phil Hart Dinner put on by the Oakland County Democrats. He had a pretty bad cold, and once again, I could not help reflecting on the terrible aggravations which politicians put up with in order to meet their commitments.

Driving back home later that evening, I heard on the radio a report on Governor Romney's speech on Viet Nam. That, too, got me to thinking.

Not about the Governor's position on Viet Nam, which was surprising only in its similarity to President Johnson's. But rather about one of those political situations which everyone connected with politics recognizes... and then refuses to talk about.

It is just this. The odds are, come election time in 1970, we will find Senator Hart engaged in a ding-dong campaign to hold his seat against the challenge of the same Governor Romney who right now is so actively pursuing the Republican Presidential nomination.

In this lies one of the real ironies of politics: That a man (Romney) riding on the crest of the wave of popularity, with a whole lot going for him in his home state, could take on a man (Hart) who has served down in Washington with spectacular success and unusual responsibility, with a real chance of knocking him off in an election.

"Real chance," my foot.

Most of the political pros, if asked, would say that Senator Hart would have a real tough row to hoe against Romney.

How so?

Well, on the one side we have Philip A. Hart, who whopped Elly Peterson by over a million votes in one of 1964's more absurdly mismatched elections. He is a Senator now in his second term of service, building a record and reputation matched by very few. Hart is a politician who has mastered the fine art of winning elections, while at the same time remaining thoughtful, reasonable, bi-partisan and responsible.

Senator Hart gets a lot of ink. But a lot of it is in Washington, where there aren't too many Michigan voters.

On the other side we have George Romney, who licked Zolton Ferency by a pretty hefty margin in 1966. He is a Governor in his third term, building a record and reputation with Michigan voters. Nationally, Romney is the hottest thing the Republicans have going for them; in Michigan, he is the main reason for the long faces you see on so many Democrats when they contemplate the 1968 elections.

Governor Romney gets a lot of ink, too. Although he gets a lot in Washington, where it doesn't hurt, he gets even more here in Michigan.

That's where the rub lies for Phil Hart. Other things equal, Michigan's Governor will push Michigan's Senator off the front pages almost any day you care to name. And it's a long, long six years between Senatorial elections, particularly when you're a Senator who has to spend most of your time in Washington worrying about a Governor who works mainly in Lansing.

Although I can't claim to know it for sure, I'll bet staff men for both the Governor and the Senator are thinking along parallel lines right now:

Romney tries for the Republican Presidential nomination in 1968.

If he gets it, he runs against President Johnson. If he wins, all bets are off.

But if he loses it, then what better way of coming back strong for the Presidency in 1972 than picking off Senator Hart?

If Romney loses the Presidential nomination in 1968, what better place to take another shot at it than in the U.S. Senate in place of Phil Hart?

It should be a real race.

OBSERVING the Scene...

By MYRA CHANDLER

It may not be happening universally in Observerland—but I wish it would be—that our "tuned-out" generation, our kids, are organizing.

In Livonia the youth planned a conference. It was sponsored by the Livonia Youth Commission—but it was planned by the students themselves and it was attended by the students. Only adults attending were those invited to be resource people. The kids called their conference "What's Bugging You?"

These kids are smart—and we as adults may not have been getting their message but certain facts are beginning to come through to us.

In fact, business is leading the way. All media of business seems to have come awake at once. The teen-age market is where the money is—J. L. Hudson is putting out a special magazine. Others are following their lead. Big department stores are having charm courses and teen panels.

The youth are being recognized as a buying power.

They know this. They know too it is important for them to have a healthy mature respect for the property of others.

But one thing was made clear to me. These kids are darn tired of being discriminated against because they are teen-agers. Having the majority punished for the small percentage of the bad apples destroys the privileges of all.

At the same time they recognize there are those of them who act with complete immaturity. They want to solve some of these problems themselves.

As one young lady said in summing up her particular work session, "If it isn't us who will lead the way—who will?"

She was talking about teen age dress.

Other areas covered was City Administration, Police and Law Enforcement, Business Community and News Media—here is where I got it, but good.

They made some good, strong points and they were right. We in the fourth estate get involved in tax problems, adult social events, and the bad things that happen—and very rarely tune in to what the kids are really saying.

By the same token, when challenged, they seemed willing to assume responsibility for disseminating ideas and events to the news media if allowed to do so. It should be the beginning of a new era for The Observer and the teens of the community. I hope so.

Personal Health Habits, Relations with Parents, What Youth Expects of Other Young People, Manners covered another Discussion Group.

A third dealt with Drop-Outs, Inter-School Relations and School Affairs in general.

A fourth concerned themselves with Established Youth Activities outside the school—L.Y.I., YMCA and Jr. Achievement and how they can be improved.

The morning and afternoon was informative, well planned, and well worth the time if there is follow-through by the youth themselves.

As I say the talk was intelligent—I can't wait to see if anything happens.

One basic plan was to form a Federation of Youth that would concern themselves with important matters, not trivia. Matters such as the discrimination at drive-in restaurants and theatres—and what to do about it. Plus what to do about the kids that cause the discrimination in the first place. This Federation of responsible teens would like to have a voice in their government, their school, and plan their own activities.

One thing for sure—if they do it—The Observer will report it.

SENSE and NONSENSE

Next Saturday, April 15, is the anniversary of numerous tragic events in the world's history:

It is the day of President Abraham Lincoln's death; the day the S. S. Titanic oceanliner sunk in the Atlantic; the day President Franklin D. Roosevelt was buried; the day scientist Albert Einstein died; and the deadline for American citizens to file their annual income tax returns.

It is also the birthday of Westland-Garden City Observer Editor Leonard S. Poger.

Happy Birthday.

With the current fad about mini-bikes, mini-skirts, mini-blouses, and mini-suits, an English model named Twiggy, demonstrates the "mini-build."

These are the ingredients used in a food product obtainable in some super markets: sugar, vegetable shortening, corn syrup solids, sodium caseinate, natural flavor, alginate, calcium gluconate, diglycerides and monoglycerides, glycerol lactopalmitate, tetrasodium pyrophosphate, adipic acid, artificial flavor, sodium citrate, salt, Veltol, artificial color.

Would you believe this makes "Velvet Delight"—an imitation strawberry flavor or dessert mix?

Do You Suffer From Vitamin E Deficiency?

Nina Parker

From a leading magazine—Dr. Shute of London, Ontario, expert in the use of Vitamin E, says:

"Virtually everyone in the western industrialized countries is deficient in Vitamin E. This is because the foods we eat have the vitamins processed right out of them until there is nothing left but a stomach filling nutritionless blob!"

In a study conducted by experts and supported by U.S. Public Health Service Grant No. 30-05, it is shown that many men and women are actually suffering Vitamin E deficiency and that such deficiency may have serious deleterious effects on the enzyme processes of the body that affect the total metabolism.

Visit Zarbo's Health Food Store and taste many delicious unprocessed foods that are rich in Vitamin E. Learn more about supplementing the diet with natural vitamins and minerals for a better balanced body chemistry. Learn how to live a more zestful life—You may be really "missing the boat!"

DOWN IN THE Pennsylvania Dutch Country there is a trite saying that "You can get sick from eating ice cream."
 It is meant as a warning against over indulgence—in anything.
 I never became ill from enjoying this delicacy—even in copious quantities—but there are some things that disturb me almost to the point of nausea.
 Among them is the constant criticism of the younger generation and the cries and fears that rent the air almost daily because of some activity or other.
 "What are we going to do about this generation?", folks ask in almost holy horror and then shrug their shoulders as though the world is going to rack and ruin when these young folks reach manhood and take over the reins.
 Don't get me wrong. I am opposed to the shenanigans of the younger set on many occasions. But each time I am on the verge of letting out a yell of complaint, I have to remind myself that while there seems to be much more youthful crime now there are more young folks than there were in the days when I was a teen-ager.

WHEN I WAS a member of the "younger generation" that was so difficult to control, the world was a nice, quiet, place in which to live. And the United States was a peaceful nation where a young man could plan for the future with some degree of assurance.
 Then came World War I and World War II. They were followed by the "police action" in Korea and now the war in Vietnam. With each succeeding war, we developed more and more weapons of destruction until today we are living in constant fear that some one, somewhere, will push the wrong button and bring civilization to the end of the road.
 It is not a bright future for any young person. The fact that automation is crowding in on work schedules and replacing men and willing hands doesn't make the outlook any brighter.
 When I was a young lad we looked forward with a great degree of hope. America was the land of opportunity and we all longed for the day when we could become part of it—taking an active interest in building and guiding it.
 It mattered little that folks were poor. There always was the opportunity to make good—to do something useful that would enable you to "make your mark in the world."

BUT TO WHAT can a young fellow look forward today? The entire world is shaky—we have become a civilization that is war-minded and any of the young men could be called to give his life at any time.
 And, somehow, he must get educated.
 In today's world you must answer a questionnaire for almost any job you seek. And one of the first questions asked is—"What school did you attend." If you have not attended college your application is tossed aside.
 It isn't a very pleasant world for young folks—and they can't be blamed for letting go with their emotions from time to time.
 But the story has been the same for years. The younger generation always has been criticized beyond all reason. It was so in my youth. And it was the same in your young days—and I guess it will be the same with each oncoming generation.
 Incidentally, where did our astronauts come from—and our young scientists, and doctors and young lawyers and the younger industrial giants?
 They were members of the younger generation that was going to lead the world to ruin in the days before World War II.
 Remember?

A friend of mine in New York City—and an avowed career gal—once remarked that she really wanted to get married at that point in time.
 "All I am looking for is someone who is reasonably presentable whom I can take home to my parents and that's him," she asserted.
 The young lady was only half kidding, but needless to say she is still a successful and "swinging" career girl in that big city on the banks of the Hudson.
 However, her feeling is not unique. Every single girl suffers similar pangs at times. Thus when a syndicated columnist wrote about the spring madly called "Get a Husbanditis", now running rampant, the words hit home.
 One of the things the columnist noted was the fact that, when suffering such feelings, the single girl suddenly realizes how the world is geared for two.
 True. The most frustrating thing about being a single girl is the fact that occasionally the car needs to be repaired. Most girls don't know anything about any sort of machinery and have the feeling that they are throwing themselves to the winds when trying to dicker with a mechanic.
 Another point involves things like the Christmas tree. When installing one of these items in the home it is very nice to have a man around.
 The list can go on and on . . . making minor repairs around the house or apartment; coping with the insistent salesman who wants to sell you storm windows; etc.
 An additional frustration is running into the questioning of a three or four year old niece or nephew. A nephew once asked me if I was a "teenager." When I said no, he said "Well are you a mommy." The answer was no again.
 "Well, then, what are you?" he asked. How do you answer a question like that?

The Teachers Speak
Career Month

By FRANK KOVACICH, Director
 Public Relation, L.E.A.

With the arrival of Teacher Career Month in April, Livonia can be proud of its contribution toward creating a better educational environment for children. Real estate salesmen, public officials, and other school district leaders speak highly of the Livonia schools. Its reputation continues to grow throughout the state.
 However, it took years of careful planning and selection of teacher personnel to create our district's image. Recruiting for new teachers is of tremendous magnitude in April. Education takes no back seat in terms of volume of interviews. But when it comes to offering financial incentives, the other professions have moved ahead even more dramatically.

 In fact, a present starting range of $700-800 a month is becoming a reality whereas education is still back in the $500-600 category. Even the old argument that a tax supported institute could never afford the same rewards as a private concern has been proven to be fallacious. For the federal government is successfully competing in several career areas.
 Here in Michigan the driving force that is improving the image of teaching as a career is the continued statewide effort at bringing about change in people's attitude toward quality education. The involvement of citizens and legislative members has increased as have the efforts of the Michigan Education Association. The state legislator has even developed scholarship funds for prospective teachers in the hope of alleviating the present shortage of qualified personnel.

 State Board of Education member James O'Neil, has recommended an 11-month school year so as to make better use of existing school facilities and to attract career people.

I Was A Middle-Aged Den Mother...By Mimi Singer

To teach boys to be self-reliant, wholesome, energetic, moral, resourceful, enthusiastic members of American society—this is the goal of Scouting.
 So when my son said, "Please, Ma, we gotta have a Den Mother," I said, "Okay dear, I'll try." Little did I know what a rewarding, interesting experience I was about to share with eight 8-year-old blue and gold uniformed bits of men-to-be—my Tuesday afternoon treasures.
 As with many aspects of life, the abstract philosophy and practical application sometimes seemed unrelated. I wondered, "How is making spiders out of potatoes and pipe cleaners related to 'wholesome, energetic, moral, resourceful'?" What did my good-natured acceptance of glitter spills on my linoleum after a session of making Christmas tree ornaments have to do with enthusiastic members of American society?

"How about racing home-made airplanes, making puppets or guessing the number of seeds in a piece of watermelon? It's all fun, but is it Scouting?" I wondered.
 The answer is "yes." The purpose of Scouting is being promoted. The boys are participating, skills are developed. The group is small, so individual expression is appreciated and encouraged.
 For instance, at the first den meeting, I asked each boy why he had joined Cub Scouts.
 "To get away from my little sister," said Bill.
 "To get away from my little sister," said Pete.
 "To get away from my little sister," said George.
 "To get away from my little brother," said Mike.
 "To get away from my little brother," said Ralph.
 "To make things," said David.
 "To make things," said Phil.

"Because I know it will make me a better person," said the son of the chairman of a local political party.
 (*Names have been changed to protect the not-so-innocent.)
 We enlarged our experiences with several outings, including visits to a planetarium, a police station and a fire station.
 Our fireman guide most courteously showed us the magnificent shiny red engines, so highly polished that I thought a fire's reflection could cause sunburn. Suddenly, a raucous bell sounded.
 We had been told that should the firemen's services be needed by the citizenry, we were to immediately step back and permit the men to jump into their boots, swing into their engines and go rrrrrrrroaring off to duty.
 The boys were perfect. Wide-eyed they sprang out of the way. "Shouldn't be too big a blaze, wait for us, we'll be back soon," called our guide as they zoomed away.
 . . . . . Sudden quiet.
 "Yoo, hoo," we called. No one answered.
 Well, well well. A dream come true for the boys. Den mother and eight busy fellows left alone to explore the fire station.
 When my ears recovered, my sense of smell began prodding me. Along with my sense of smell, my instincts as a thrifty housewife and taxpayer came to the fore. The firemen had dashed to the blaze leaving chicken roasting in the oven, potatoes boiling in the pot, a salad half-made on the sink counter.
 As time passed, and the Cubs had satisfied their curiosity and were nestled down in front of the firemen's TV set, the pungent smell of roasting fowl became more and more pressing.

 My Den Mother's "help others" instinct overcame my mind-your-own-business instinct and when the firemen finally returned from dousing an abandoned car, a savory chicken dinner, carefully tended was ready for them, unburnt and mouthwatering. The Cub Scouts had set the table beautifully, and thoroughly enjoyed the total experience . . . . .
 Learning to be aware of one's environment and to use it constructively is a worthy lesson for Cub Scouts.
 One crisp October afternoon we went apple picking in a generous friend's orchard. Climbing the trees was of course the most joyous part of the picking, and when a nearby Tarzan-like rope swing was discovered, the afternoon became doubly worthwhile. Each of the boys took home a bag of apples.

One boy took home several bags. "This bag is for my mother. This bag is for my grandmother. This bag is for Mrs. Peters next door. This bag is for my teacher," he explained.
 My eight treasures developed skills through their achievements and grew from Bobcat to Wolf. I think they grew a little more into useful American manhood, too. And I was fortunate, I grew a little too—in resourcefulness, in love of life, young life in particular. And I improved my techniques of Speaking with Authority and the Art of the Poker Face.

 I learned to stifle both grins and disgust. Not a chuckle did I utter when a Cub asked during our tour of the police station, "Will you go to jail for stealing your sister's sugar crispies?" Not a grimace betrayed me when a Cub brought his collection of grasshoppers to a den meeting.

 I learned to love those eight noisy, restless, chattering, clumsy, eager goodnatured den sons. I treasured their success, e.g., "Look, Mrs. Singer, I pasted it on Straight!" I marked their growth, e.g., "Did you notice I don't call you Mrs. Singer anymore? I always say Mrs. Singer now. Did you notice, Mrs. Zinger?"
 I believe that the Scouting program is a constructive influence in our society.

Manufacturers Bank Earnings Show Slight Dip

Net operating earnings of Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit amounted to $2,232,255 or $1.44 per share. Comparable figures for the same period in 1966 amounted to $2,367,303 or $1.52 per share.

On March 31, 1967 total deposits of the Bank rose to $1,473,492,928 from $1,333,778,312 a year ago; time and savings deposits were up $114.2 million and demand deposits were up $25.5 million over last year's figures.

Total resources were $1,603,118,626 against $1,462,216,906 at the end of March in 1966. Capital funds totaled $104,689,983 and per share book value amounted to $51.28 as compared with $49.685,839 and $50.63 per share book value last year.

But Wallis looks to Norm DeCourcy at third, Tom Snyder at short, and Mike McCoy and Doug Drapalski in the outfield to bolster the Raiders' drive for a Northwest League championship.

ST. AGATHA
 Coaches Jerry Sievert and Herman Harrison have their work cut out at St. Agatha. They are short on experienced talent for the season that begins next Tuesday at Wayne St. Mary's.

Dan Sweeney at shortstop, Denny McKenna at first and Charles Costello, a pitcher, top the team. It'll be basically a young St. Agatha squad, since there are only three seniors.

Of the new faces, outfielders Jim Phillips and John Minihan have impressed in the early drills.

OUR LADY OF SORROWS
 Catcher Tommy Webster and third baseman Dave Hickey head the candidates who'll comprise the Sorrows' team which coach Bob Kelley must revamp because of graduation losses.

Although only a junior, Webster has been all league for two years. Hickey slugged the ball at a .539 mark last season.

Football quarterback Jim McGrath is back at baseball after a year's absence and looks like the regular shortstop. Greg Main and Bob Theisen, both sophomores, did a good pitching job as freshmen and figure to improve in '67.

Theisen's cousin Chuck at first and Tim LaFond in the outfield are others who will see regular duty.

Outdoor Editor Tells Of Metropolitan Parks
 "Your Metropolitan Parks" is the title of a three-part series to be presented by Jerry Chiappetta, Editor of "The Michigan Sportsman," a weekly outdoor show presented by WXYZ-TV (Channel 7) at 6:30 p.m. on Saturdays.

The color film presentations—to be shown Saturday, April 15, 22 and 29—will show the parks and facilities of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority a regional agency with eight parks throughout the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne.

Wayne State University fencer Andy Haliw's second team All-American selection in fencing brought WSU's total of selections in the sport to 16 in 25 years.

TAKING PART in West High School's senior information program recently were Mr. and Mrs. Bond Milton and their daughter, Kaye, shown discussing federal aid for college students with Mrs. Nancy Roleson, (left), West High counselor. Purpose of the event was to acquaint parents and seniors with graduation, graduation practice, college plans and responsibilities; selective service in regard to college-bound boys.

Plenty of Water Needed by Mums

If greenhouse-grown chrysanthemums do not show good growth the trouble is more apt to be lack of moisture reaching the roots than lack of air in the soil.

Another cause of poor growth may be diseases that attack plant roots. This often is blamed on too much water or too little aeration.

Collegians Open Golf Schedule

Two returning lettermen will form the nucleus of the Schoolcraft College 1967 golf team under coach Bob Leggat.

The Bule and Gold links squad faces a nine-meet schedule starting Friday in a double-dual outing against Monroe Community College and the Auburn Hills campus of Oakland Community College at Monroe.

One of the two players back from last year's squad, Jeff Stevens is presently among the walking wounded. Stevens suffered a shoulder separation during the basketball season. He shoots in the high 70's-low 80's and alternated between No. 1 and No. 2 spots on the playing lineup last year.

The other returnee is Bill LaLone. The ex-Franklin Higher played No. 3 for Leggat last spring.

The schedule:
 April 14—Monroe C.C. and Auburn Hills at Monroe.
 April 21—Kellog and Concordia at Salem Hills.
 April 27—Macomb and Highland Park at Salem Hills.
 April 28—Kellog and Muskegon at Kellog.
 May 1—Monroe at Highland Park at Salem Hills.
 May 3—Oakland Community and Auburn Hills at Auburn Hills.
 May 4—Highland Park at Rackham.
 May 5—At Port Huron J.C.

Annual Foe Stands Ready To Attack

Just below the surface of the soil, lying dormant, is an annual enemy of a homeowner's lawn... crab grass seeds.

One crab grass plant can grow to a three-foot diameter and spread as many as 25,000 seeds in a season.

Even in well-kept neighborhoods thousands of crab grass seeds may lie dormant in the soil and emerge years later when the right combination of temperature and moisture occurs.

Agriculture scientists have told of crab grass seeds found in Egyptian tombs which have sprouted thousands of years later.

Grownup crab grass can be killed, of course... laboriously, by pulling and chopping, or repeated applications of powerful herbicides... but by far the easiest way is to finish off this weed before it appears.

Scientists have developed a crab grass killer which kills other weeds such as barnyard grass, goosegrass, foxtail and dallis grass, to name a few, plus the number one enemy, crab grass.

This chemical has been blended with fertilizer to give grass the spring feeding it needs and an insecticide has been added to kill grubs and other damaging soil insects.

Choose lamps for your home that give adequate light. Signs of a good lamp include: bulbs located low in the shade; undershade device to reflect, or spread light; and broad, white-lined shade open at the top. Average one lamp for each 40 to 50 square feet of floor space. Cooperative Extension Service home economists urge.

Coach John Bennington of Michigan State and Tom Arsdale of the Detroit Pistons were to be the featured speakers at the annual Bentley high school basketball banquet this Wednesday evening.

Bennington paced the Spartans to a share of the Big Ten basketball championship this past season after they finished second to Michigan a year ago in his first season at East Lansing.

Van Arsdale is half of professional basketball's only twin-brother act. His brother Dick in with the New York Knicks.

Both starred for three years on the varsity at Indiana University before entering the play-for-pay ranks. The Bentley cagers will be saluted for winning the Suburban Six League and district Class titles. They reached the regional finals before falling to Catholic Central.

Robert White, Wayne State University trainer, has been selected to appear at the Windsor International Coaches Clinic in June, for the third straight year.

Offer Tips on Planning A Well for Private Use

More than 900,000 private water systems will be installed by the end of the year, according to industry sources. If you're considering the installation of a private water system, Joseph R. Schmitt, director of marketing, A. Y. McDonald Mfg. Co., Dubuque, Ia., advises the following:

● Although hand-dug wells used for thousands of years were as much as three and four feet in diameter, today's wells can be as little as two inches in diameter.

However, recommended width is a minimum of 4 inches.

● The cost of installing a private water system varies widely. For the average home, it's largely dependent on the depth of the water table.

Well drillers usually charge from $2 to $5 per foot of drilling, depending on the diameter of the well and the material they must drill through.

Equipment cost for the water system also vary from a little under $100 to over $400, depending on the water volume you need, water pressure you desire, the diameter of your well and the depth of the water table.

● Well drillers and contractors familiar with the geological strata of their area can usually give you a fairly accurate estimate beforehand, but there is still no ironclad method of determining where water is, except drilling to find out.

● If the well is less than 25 feet deep, a shallow well pump may be used. This pump creates a vacuum in a pipe stuck into the water, brings water to the surface.

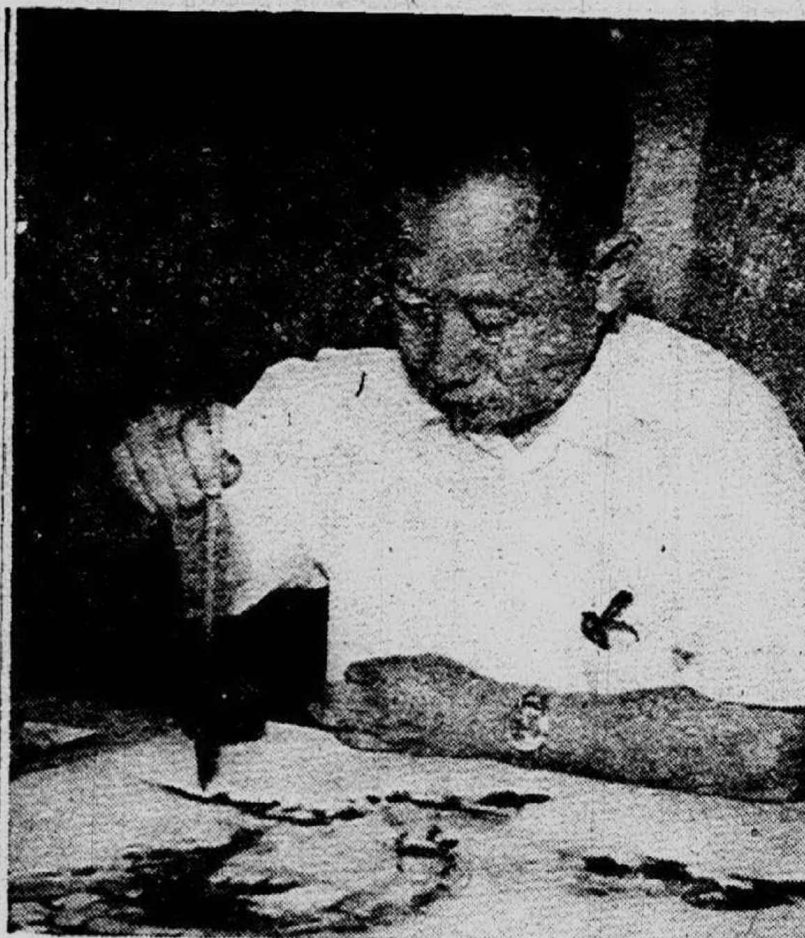

● Basically, a jet pump recirculates water down from the pump to the water table and up again in a continuous cycle.

However, at the bottom of the piping an opening is provided. Like a garden sprayer, a vacuum is created at the opening, bringing in water from the well.

This water is brought to the surface with the recirculating water.

● A submersible pump, the most modern available needs a well at least 4 inches in diameter.

It is actually installed in the well, below the water table, and merely pushes the water to the surface.

PANG TSENG-YINK, celebrated Chinese artist, will demonstrate traditional Chinese brush work and exhibit examples of his work daily and nightly at the Livonia Mall, Middelbelt at Seven Mile Road, in the semi-annual "Artists' Market." The display started Monday and will continue for the remainder of the week. More than 50 Michigan artists are displaying their paintings and other works of arts and crafts.

Realtors to Honor "Unsung" Heroes

Every community has its "unsung heroes" — those individuals who, quietly and consistently, find the time to give unusual service to other human beings and their community.

The first winner, in 1964, was another blind person, Larry Daniels, 44, of 6061 Florida, Detroit. Daniels was supporting his wife and three sons as a salesman while also serving as a scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 106.

Nominations may be sent directly to the Western Wayne-Oakland County Board of Realtors — United Northwestern Realty Association, 11677 Beech Daly Road, Detroit (48239); or may be mailed to this newspaper. The award, consisting of a plaque, will be presented May 25 at the annual banquet of the Realtor group.

Typical of the person being sought might be Mrs. Karen Morrison, of Garden City, last year's winner.

Mrs. Morrison is a full-time caseworker for the Detroit League for the Handicapped, with precisely the same duties expected — and received — of her as of other caseworkers — this despite the fact she has been totally blind since birth.

Some Seeds Thrive After Deep Freeze

Seeds of some alpine, certain lilies, and a few other plants, require two to three months of freezing temperature before they will germinate.

If you live where the climate is not cold enough for this, place each type in its own envelope, dampen slightly with a few drops of water, and set into the refrigerator until spring.

Tile Floor of Closets With a Light Color

To avoid a hard-to-clean ridge at a closet doorway, extend resilient floor tiles into the closet when installing tile floor in the room.

Tile in a light color inside the closet will also make it easier to find missing shoes and other items.

New Fertilizer Developed Give Plants A Good Start

Whether you're talking about a footrace, a new baby, or a young plant in your garden, there is nothing like a good start.

The track star begins life on foods prepared especially for the young and tender. Should you do less for your young plants?

The key factors in the successful establishment of a plant, whether it be a woody shrub or a succulent annual, is root development, with a healthy root system, the above-ground parts of the plant can reach their full development. Without it, the plant will always remain sickly. Ortho has developed Up-Start specifically as a starter-fertilizer. There are other plant foods that should be used on established plants. But for a good start, for those critical growing weeks at the very beginning of a young plant's life, the special formula of Up-Start is recommended.

Argonomists have found that young plants, those with many growing points, have a high phosphorus requirement. They have also discovered that phosphorus availability is lowest in cool weather, when most planting is done. Consequently, the formula contains phosphorus in quantity, to supply the intake needed for healthy root development.

It also contains nitrogen for foliage production, potassium as a conditioner, and Indolebutyric acid — a plant hormone noted for its capacity to stimulate root-growth.

The plant food should be used on woody perennials, annual plants and bulbs according to directions. When the plant is established a switch to another high quality liquid fertilizer may then be made.

Fight Crabgrass With Chemicals

If your lawn had crabgrass last fall, the chances are excellent you will have crabgrass crowding out your good grasses this year.

Apply a pre-emergence crabgrass killer to prevent a summer infestation.

Seldom does crabgrass ignore a lawn completely. But if you had none last year, apply a lawn fertilizer containing iron to thicken grass, and mow the grass 1 1/2 to 2 inches high.

SANDY DENNIS

GEORGE SEGAL

Nominated for 13 Major Academy Awards and winner of 3 awards, "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf," is now showing at the Livonia Cinema I and State-Wayne Theatres and the Dearborn and Algiers Drive Ins. No one under 18 will be admitted unless accompanied by parents. Check theatres for times.

Rudy Vallee and Robert Morse show you "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" now showing for its fourth week at the Terrace.

At the Mai Kai, that winner of five academy awards, Rodgers and Hammerstein's, "Sound of Music" starring Julie Andrews is playing.

"Doctor Zhivago" with an all time star cast is the feature at the Quo Vadis.

Oratorio Opens Friday

Alfred Robert Gaul's Oratorio, "Holy City," will be performed Friday, April 14, at the Farmington Senior High School on Shiawassee by the Farmington High School Community Chorus and the Inter-School Orchestra.

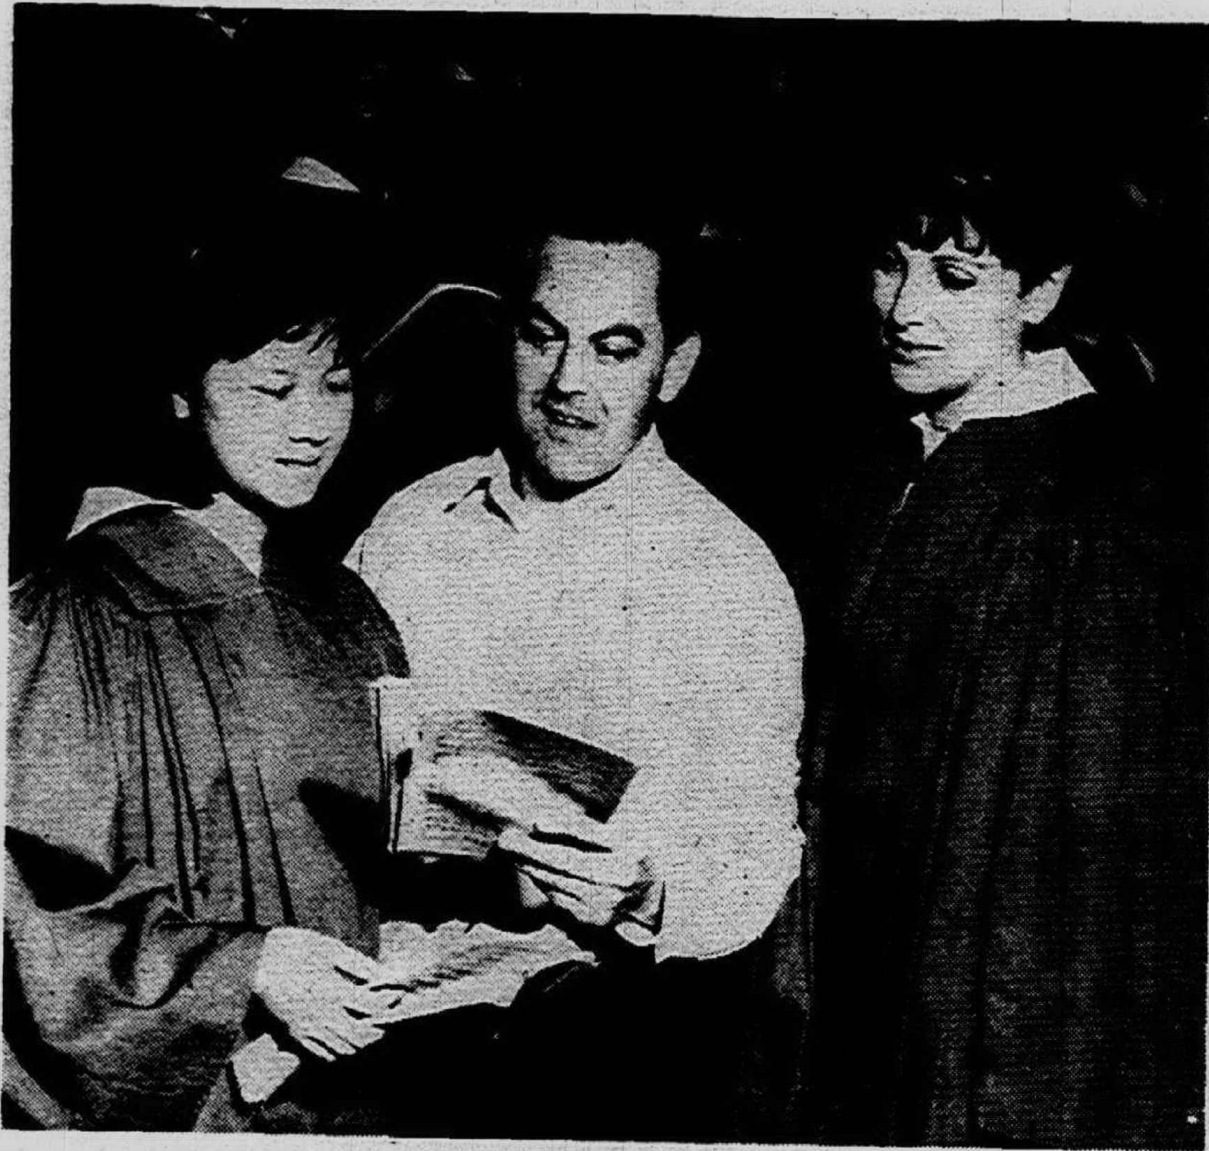

A total of 150 persons will appear in the production, which will feature selected soloists. The group is under the direction of William Feucht, Farmington High School Director of Vocal Music.

Tickets for the performance, which may be purchased at the door, are $1.50 for adults and $1 for students.

The oratorio is a melodic piece of music and while classic, is not heavy. The ethereal splendor of the work is enhanced by the counter-melodies running throughout the string and wind sections of the orchestra.

While sponsored by the schools, the production is a community-wide project and the cast includes adults as well as students.

Gaul, an English composer, is known for his organ work and was an organist at many cathedrals. He was appointed conductor of the Walsall Philharmonic Society in 1887.

GETTING READY for the April 14 production of the Oratorio, "Holy City," at the Farmington High School are, from left, Phan Ta He, an exchange student from Vietnam studying in Farmington; Roy Buchanan of Redford Township and Adana Hagelstein of Livonia. Buchanan and Miss Hagelstein are feature soloists in the program, which begins at 8:30 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Wally Roberts UP' GOING 'CURTAIN

"Hello, Dolly" currently ending its capacity run at the Fisher Theater with Carol Channing in the role that three years ago she originated in the Motor City... has been a much-mentioned musical from its inception.

After a week's rehearsal, back before anyone ever dreamt this musical version of Thornton Wilder's "Matchmaker" would make almost 20 million dollars, Director Gower Champion was ready to drop Carol from the leading role. Champion felt she was all wrong for the part.

Old Wally has always agreed with Director Champion on this point. Mary Martin, Martha Raye, Betty Grable, Ginger Rogers, have all taken a stab at the role. My favorite, if someone has to do the part, would be Mary Martin. Her maturity and plain features would suit the matchmaker role far better than the vivacious Channing who fairly glows as she goes about her work.

Naturally, my opinion on "Dolly" will be assailed by the thousands that have seen the musical. They are rapturous over seeing "Hello, Dolly." A ticket to this musical has become a status symbol. It's the "in" thing to be able to proudly say, "I've seen 'Dolly' three times."

London imported the show recently to its austere shores. Their critics were far from kind in their comments. Punch, the weekly British version of our New Yorker magazine, states quite succinctly their capsule review, thusly, "Hello Dolly"—"musical with little story, little wit, excellent dancing. Famous for the scene where 20 waiters cry Hello! to Dolly (Dora Bryant)."

Pip, Pip, and cherrie, old chaps. You've hit the target directly. And yet folks keep telling me it's such a fabulous show. Well, I've seen it twice now and I'm still convinced that it is a freak of show business.

Years ago, "Abie's Irish Rose" opened to scathing reviews. Yet it managed to run for over five years and was the long run champ until "Life With Father" hit the boards. That's the intriguing thing about theater, you never know when even a poor show will catch fire and become a financial bonanza.

"Hello, Dolly!" will undoubtedly be back again next season and who knows it may be a perpetual favorite. Old

Movie Fans Pick Winners

The General Cinema Corporation, which operates the Livonia Cinema I and II Theatres along with the Dearborn Drive-In, has been conducting a contest on who will win the Academy Award categories.

Whoever forecasts all eight winners correctly will be eligible to win a six-month pass to the six theatres of General Cinema Corp.

The following are the results of the contest entries: Best Picture: "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf" with 52 per cent of all the votes cast; Best Actor: Richard Burton, 44 per cent; Best Actress: Liz Taylor, 42 per cent; Best Supporting Actor: George Segal, 38 per cent; Best Supporting Actress: Sandy Dennis, 41 per cent; Best Director: Mike Nichols for his work on "Virginia Woolf"; Best Song of the Year: "Born Free"; and, finally, Best Foreign Film: "A Man and a Woman."

Nature Workshop Set by Audubon Society April 22

The Detroit Audubon Society and the Highland Park Recreation Department will sponsor a Nature Activities Workshop on Saturday afternoon, April 22, from 1 to 4 p.m. All phases of nature study and nature crafts will be exhibited or demonstrated by many organizations and groups.

This is an excellent opportunity for leaders of youth groups, Scouts, Campfire Girls, teachers, and parents to learn new activities, buy books, see animals and snakes, exchange ideas. The public is invited and leaders may bring their groups. There is no charge.

Hackett Field House is on Hamilton at Pitkin, in Highland Park. There is adequate parking on Pitkin. Call 893-6262 for further information.

A peek into the private world of people, "Hotel" starring Rod Taylor, Merle Oberon, Karl Malden and Catherine Spaak is showing at the La Parisien.

"Is Paris Burning?" direct from its roadshow engagement and the first time at regular prices is the featured film at Livonia Cinema II. The war drama stars Glenn Ford, Kirk Douglas, Orson Welles, Leslie Caron, and Robert Stack.

At Plymouth's Penn Theatre, the Father Tom Vaughn Trio will present a live jazz concert Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings beginning at 8 p.m.

Local Students Play in Concert

Three local residents performed in the spring concert of the Eastern Michigan University-Civic Orchestra April 10 in Ypsilanti.

They are: John Love, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Love of 22856 Frederick Farmington. A clarinetist, Love is a sophomore majoring in music education.

Katharine McIntosh is the daughter of Mrs. Jeanne S. McIntosh of 16135 Bell Creek Court, Livonia. A violinist, she is a freshman majoring in music education.

Jill Hauswirth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hauswirth of 29704 MacIntyre, Livonia. She is a freshman majoring in music—cello and piano—and is a cellist in the orchestra.

THE ELVES AND THE SHOEMAKERS is the play which will be performed by the Millan Theatre Company at Garden West High School Saturday, April 15. Three performances are scheduled at 11 a.m., 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. Tickets to the production, which is sponsored by the Garden City PTA Council, will be available at all the elementary schools in Garden City. Included in the cast are, from left, Wallace Smith as Wump; Dolores Andrus as Peepwilly; and Paula Francis as Doodledip.

'Shot In Dark' To Open Twice

The comedy, "A Shot in the Dark" was a successful movie not too long ago and it is now making the community theatre circuit.

Its popularity is demonstrated by the fact that the Livonia Redford Theatre has announced that it will do the play May 5, 6 and 7 at Livonia's Stevenson High School.

The same play will hit the boards opening April 22 for a three weekend run at the Farmington Players Barn on 12 Mile Rd. in Farmington Township.

The Livonia-Redford cast includes Lorene Brooks as Josefa; Jon Cheate as the magistrate; George Savage as the master of the house; Rayda Warren and Louise DiVitte as the wives; and Don Tenbrunsel, Bill Milan and Chuck McGlone.

This production is being directed by Richard Thiede and produced by Don Warren. Karen Lamb is the assistant director.

In Farmington, members of the cast include: Norel McNeeley; Marian Wood; Kathryn Kormmesser; Dennis Broadhead; Stu Orman; Hil Howard and Ed Risk.

Directing the Farmington production are Hope Nahstall and Delores Shevlin, while Virginia McNeely is the producer.

Tickets for the "Livonia-Redford show may be obtained by calling 538-3135, while 626-2633 is the number to call for the Farmington Players production.

Seek Cooley 1947 Grads for Dance

Cooley High School's Class of 1947 is having its 20-Year Reunion Dinner Dance June 10, 1967, at the Howard Johnson New Center Inn.

The reunion committee has been able to contact only a little over half of the nearly 1,000 class members and is still trying to locate the rest.

Information may be obtained by calling 356-8546 or writing to: Cooley Reunion, Class of 1947, 18890 San Quentin, Lathrup Village, Mich.

Gets State Post

Jill Turley of 32555 Grand River, Farmington, has been elected to a two-year term on the Board of Directors of the S.O.C. Suburbanette Chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc.

Miss Turley sings baritone with S.O.C. chorus which won first place in the regional barbershop singing competition held last week at the Jack Tar Hotel in Lansing.

She recently moved here from Kalamazoo where she was a member of a quartet in the Kalamazoo chapter.

Percussionist Is Featured At Youth Pops Concert

The Livonia Youth Symphony Society's full house Pops Concert Audience was privileged to hear a performer who is widely recognized and acclaimed as an artist in the playing of percussion instruments.

Robert Clark, percussionist and xylophone soloist of the Detroit Concert Band and director of the Bentley High School band needs no further introduction.

Clark demonstrated his knowledge of the history of these instruments and his skill as a performer. One of the many percussion instruments which he discussed and demonstrated was the tympani, the only percussion instrument which has a definite pitch and therefore plays a harmonic role in an ensemble.

Bach was the first composer to use the tympani. However, 3000 years B.C. the Orientals used a drum similar to the tympani. During the romantic period the tympani was given free sweep as its use in the orchestra. It now reinforces the bass part and adds a dramatic, electrifying part.

Clark related that the tympani is one of the very, very important instruments in the orchestra and a difficult one to play correctly. He concluded with the statement that percussionists have the most fun. His performance of the melodie Chopin Valse and the brilliant Zigeurweisen verified this statement.

At the same program a young pianist, John Trowbridge, captured the hearts of his listeners with his performance of the Rhapsody in Blue. For not only did he do a masterful job of handling the very difficult and demanding rhythms of this Gershwin number but he represented by his manner and stage presence a "young American of whom we can be very proud."

The Youth Orchestra under the direction of Lester Farkas is to be commended for its stirring performance of Elgar's Pomp and Circum-

Comedy Set By Bulman

The Bulman Theatre Group of Redford Township has chosen for its fourth major production, "The Curious Savage." Under the direction of Don Atkinson, it will be presented April 21 and 22 at the Redford Union High School. Curtain time is 8 p.m. Proceeds from the production, as in past years, will go toward a scholarship. The plot involves the staff and the guests of a Massachusetts rest home. When the family of Mrs. Savage decide to commit her to this rest home the fun begins in the gentle comedy.

For tickets or information contact Kay Walsh at KE 7-9344 or Lorraine Baer at KE 1-3958.

M Honors 26 Area Students

A total of 26 area students were among the 2,147 honored by the University of Michigan for academic achievements at the annual Honors Convocation.

Honor students come from all classes at the University and represent all of its 17 colleges and schools. They comprise more than 17 per cent of the student population.

The University community had its first chance to see the new University president-elect, Robben Fleming. Now Chancellor at the University of Wisconsin, Fleming was introduced by retiring President Harlan Hatchler. Fleming will become president next January 1.

Area students recognized at the Honors Convocation included:

LIVONIA—Celeste Andreozzi, Brian Gray, Daniel Longhurst, Janet DeCapite, Daniel Darrah, Kathleen Aylsworth, Douglas Orrim, Cheryl Planck, Jack Horner, John Kaiser and William Hanton.

NORTHVILLE—Paul Beard, Robert Bosak, Earl Cherne, David Kerr, Carol Klopfenstein, and David Lane.

PLYMOUTH—Michael Case, Paul Johnson, Ruth McIntyre, Susan Rybka, Sharon Stillwell and Larry Thibos.

WESTLAND—Betty Eozen and Frank Martin.

2 Receive U.D. Keys

Two Dean's Keys were given to area residents at the recent University of Detroit College of Arts and Sciences Honors Convocation.

Students honored for academic excellence were Maureen K. Nolan, daughter of

RICHARD MAUREEN

Mr. and Mrs. Gerard P. Nolan, 15338 Susanna Dr., Livonia, and Richard J. Schmitt, son of Dr. and Mrs. Francis M. Schmitt, 31211 Brown St., Garden City.

Miss Nolan, 21, is treasurer of the Women's League, and a member of Kappa Beta Gamma, national social sorority, and Gamma Pi Epsilon, national Jesuit honor society for women. She majored in humanities.

Schmitt, 22, is a member of Phi Sigma Kappa, national social fraternity, and the U. of D. Chorus. He majored in English.

Scouts Honor Mothers

The Junior Girl Scouts of Farmington's Troop 711, Cloverdale School, Mrs. Lin Miller and Mrs. Julie Guelde co-leaders, have been working on the Sign of the Star, the first part of which is 'An alert citizen knows her way about town'. To help the girls along this line, they have been planning a trip to the Police Station, held yesterday.

The troop had a Valentine's Mother-Daughter Tea to entertain their mothers. The girls did all the planning, made decorations and got together to make cupcakes to serve at the Tea. Each patrol, and there are four of them, made a centerpiece for the Tea table. One group made a Wishing Well and then made flowers to fill it; another patrol made a smaller Wishing Well and filled it with candy; another used artificial flowers and candles to fashion their masterpiece; and the last patrol made a gay May Pole with red and white streamers leading to heart-shaped candy boxes.

Brownie Troop 993, Gill Road School, Mrs. Betty Howard, leader, has been busy with puppets lately, and has been putting on original plays for one another. The girls made simple puppets for this, and later on they may put a play on for their parents.

The Brownies from Longacre School, Troop 638, Mrs. Peg Jenks and Mrs. Margaret MacLennon, co-leaders, have planned a return meeting with the Brownies of Troop 36, Ten Mile Road School on April 27. At this joint meeting the girls can see how things are done in another troop and will have an enjoyable time playing games and singing songs together.

Lately the girls have been learning about puppetry and about dramatics. To show what they have learned, the girls will be putting on two plays and a puppet show in the near future.

With the advent of spring the girls will be thinking of more hikes and more cook-outs. This is the beginning of the 'out' in scouting and according to the girls, the part they like best.

Search Goes on for Buried $1,000 Check

Livonia has seen promotions before—new gimmicks are not unusual—but seldom has a promotion had as much response and been as interesting as the Wonderland Merchants buried check.

Well over 3,000 area residents are combing Livonia's 36 square miles in search of a $1,000 check buried by Wonderland Center.

The search, launched March 29, has attracted widespread attention throughout the Detroit metropolitan area.

More than 30,000 calls have been received on three telephones equipped with automatic answering devices. The telephones register each call. Inquiries have been received from such distant points as St. Clair Shores and Wyandotte. A Royal Oak family spent most of Sunday afternoon digging in Livonia.

The unsigned check was secretly buried on vacant land near a Livonia landmark. As the Observer Newspapers went to press it had not been unearthed.

Once the jigsaw puzzle map is assembled searchers must call for mystery clues. New clues are made available daily at 8:30 a.m. Each new clue leads the diggers closer to the hidden cache.

A Livonia police officer has obtained a military mine detector to aid his search during off-duty hours.

Wonderland Center employees and advertising agencies representing the center are ineligible.

Epps said the final clue will be released April 15, unless the check is found earlier. "We fully anticipate that some 3,000 searchers will descend on the vacant property where the money is buried," he said.

Madonna Will Offer Course in Reading

Madonna College is introducing a Reading Specialist Program into its curriculum this spring, announced Sister M. Lauriana, academic dean.

The program, which makes one a certified remedial reading teacher, will require the taking of a minimum of 12 semester hours in the area of reading instruction, six semester hours of which will be in diagnosis of reading disability and methods of remediation.

Six courses will be made available. Electives will include: Psychology of Reading—application of psychological principles to the reading-learning process; Media and Children's Literature—creativity in teaching children's literature through the use of television, drama, programmed learning and other new approaches; Administering a Reading Program—organizing, implementing and appraising total reading programs, both departmental and remedial; and Speech Correction—problems of children including articulation defects, stuttering, delayed speech, cerebral palsy and voice disorders.

The two required courses for certification are: Diagnostic and Remedial Reading and the Reading Practicum, which will consist of supervised clinical and classroom teaching.

The first course, Psychology of Reading, will be offered from May 8 to June 9 from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Registration for the course will be held on May 4 from 3 to 5 p.m.

The two required courses will be offered during the regular summer session, June 19 to July 28: Diagnostic and Remedial Reading on Mondays and Wednesdays from 8:20 to 10:30 a.m. and Reading Practicum in the afternoons with the time to be arranged.

According to the state of Michigan, a fully qualified remedial reading teacher must also have completed three years of successful teaching in either elementary school or teaching of language arts curriculum in secondary school, have a Michigan teaching certificate and a baccalaureate degree.

A teacher may be temporarily approved for one year if he has an AB degree, a Michigan provisional certificate, six semester hours in reading instruction and have completed one year of successful teaching.

Road Toll Lower In State

Michigan traffic deaths in March numbered 125, a reduction of 54 or 30 per cent from the all-time record of 179 set for that month last year, according to State Police provisional figures.

It was the fourth month in a row to show decreased deaths compared with corresponding months a year earlier. The March average for the last five years, 1962-66, was 142.

The number of deaths in March brought the state's first quarter traffic toll to 352, which was a reduction of 129 or 27 per cent compared with 481 in the same period last year.

Delayed death reports will raise the provisional totals somewhat.

Schoolcraft Sets Schedule for Winter Exams

Final examinations for winter semester courses at Schoolcraft College are scheduled for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 24 through 26, according to an announcement by Robert A. Stenger, dean of academic instruction.

The schedule calls for examinations on Monday, April 24, for classes regularly meeting at 10 a.m., 2 p.m., 4 p.m. and 5 p.m.; on Tuesday, April 25, for classes regularly meeting at 9 a.m., noon, 3 p.m., 7 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.; and on Wednesday, April 26, for classes regularly meeting at 8 a.m., 11 a.m., and 1 p.m.

Physical Education courses 201 and 213 will have final exams on Monday, April 24, and Physical Education courses 101, 102, and 133 will have exams on Tuesday, April 25. Nursing 204 and Nursing 211 will have examinations on Monday, April 24.

Final grades are due in the Registrar's office by noon, Friday, April 28. The winter semester ends Saturday, April 29.

Gets Missile Training

Airman Gary A. Hoelt, son of Mrs. and Mrs. Robert A. Hoelt, 28960 Minton, Livonia, has been selected for technical training at Chanute AFB, Ill., as a U.S. Air Force missile maintenance specialist. Airman Hoelt is a 1966 graduate of Franklin High School.

Ladywood Lore

School Sets Plans for Big Benefit

By Jane Lawrence

The "Strange Music" of Charles Gregory provided an encouraging atmosphere at a pep rally announcing the second annual Millionaires Party, to be held Saturday, April 15, from 8 o'clock until 1 o'clock in Ladywood High School gym.

Together with an evening of Las Vegas type gambling, refreshments will be served in a German style buffet. Concluding the evening will be the announcement of contest winners, for prizes consisting of a 19" color TV, a cedar chest of linens, $100, $50, and $25 in cash. Winners need not be present to claim prizes.

Election of officers was the main topic of business at the Parents' Club meeting. Newly elected officers are: L. Freitag, President; W. Tinsler, Vice President; A. Worniak, Second Vice President; W. Abbey, Treasurer; Mrs. Martha McAllister, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Jerry Petrucci, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. Joan Marzone, Senior Director; Mrs. Barbara Jordan and Mrs. Betty Rutherford, Junior Directors; Mrs. Mona Abbey, Sophomore Director. They will be sworn in at the next meeting on May 22.

This week, Ladywoodians put aside their usual activities and take to their books in preparation for quarterly exams on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, April 14 marks the end of the third quarter of the school year. Monday, April 17, begins the final quarter of classes.

State BPW Sets World Affairs Meet

Several U.S. State Department officials will be on hand when the Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs hosts a world affairs forum on foreign policy at Grand Rapids Saturday.

Women from BPW organizations in the area are expected to attend, and all persons interested in foreign problems and policies are invited.

The forum will be held in the new Fine Art auditorium on the Calvin College campus in a day-long program from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The meeting is part of a State Department series, and is the first scheduled in Michigan.

Leslie Tihany, in charge of Hungarian affairs in the State Department's bureau of European affairs, will head the team of experts. With him will be Frederick P. Picard, African specialist who deals in United Nations political affairs; Franklin O. McCord, Hong Kong and Macao adviser for the Office of Asian Communist affairs, and an AID officer who is still in Saigon.

The latter's name will be withheld by the State Department until his arrival in the United States.

The announcement said Tihany would concentrate on the goals and objectives of our foreign policy, and how the State Department and Foreign Service operate. Picard will give the conference the benefit of his experience and understanding of the African personality, and Africa's future role in world affairs, and McCord will cover Sino-American relations and Vietnam.

There will be time for questions and answers.

For further information, those interested may call Sarah Smith, president of the Livonia B P W Club, GR 4-3855, or GR 4-5557.

Mrs. Banks Is Re-elected as Fed. President

Mrs. Grace Banks of Redford Township has been re-elected president of the Federation of Women's Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit.

Other officers elected were:

First vice president, Mrs. Herbert Norris; second vice president, Mrs. John Fetzer; recording secretary, Mrs. William Sutterfield; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Frank Wirtz; treasurer, Mrs. Wertz Reid; and parliamentarian, Mrs. Leo P. Richardson.

Installation will be held on Thursday, April 27, at the Federation clubhouse on Second and Hancock.

Finnish Group to Hold Dance Sat.

The Finnish Center Association will hold a spring dance at 8 p.m. Saturday in the American Legion Hall, 31755 Grand River, between Farmington and Orchard Lake Roads, in Farmington.

Tickets for the dance, open to the public, may be reserved by calling Mrs. Doris Hayrynen at GA 1-4540.

Music will be provided by Ralph Mannisto and Associates.

DOOR PRIZE WRAPPING is keeping these members of the South Redford Business and Professional Women's Club busy. They will sponsor their annual card party Thursday, April 20, at 8 p.m. at Thurston High School. The committee promises table prizes, a gift to each person attending and a dessert smorgasbord, and proceeds will go into a scholarship fund. The committee includes (front row, from left) President Mrs. Doyle Freeman, Chairman Mrs. Leo Heuwagen and Ticket Chairman Mrs. Chester Peterson; (back row, left) Vice President Mrs. John Ahrens and Refreshment Chairman Mrs. John Spaven. For tickets call KE 2-3131.

Observer WORLD of WOMEN

Wednesday, April 12, 1967 Page ★ 1C

CAMP FIRE GIRLS everywhere are celebrating the organization's 57th birthday and these three were among the nearly 1,000 who took part in a giant display of 45 groups' work at the Livonia Mall Saturday, April 8. Posing beside a teepee set up for the occasion were Barbara Scheerer, (left) and Karen Chipman, (right), both of Livonia and both wearing ceremonial gowns, and Lynda Nykanen, of Redford Township, (center) in Camp Fire uniform.

Designer Completes Town Hall Season

"Fashion Today and Tomorrow" will be subject of designer Bill Blass' lecture in the finale of the Northville Town Hall series. The talk is set for 11 a.m. Thursday, April 20, at the Northville High School auditorium.

A luncheon will follow at the Meadowbrook Country Club.

Blass, American designer and partner in the firm of Maurice Rentner, has twice won the Coty American Fashion Critic award.

A native of Indiana and veteran of three and a half years in the Army Corps of Engineers during World War II, Blass has made simplicity in design his trademark.

He has advocated that American fashion designers study European masters, and has been quoted as saying: "I admire Balenciaga, Givenchy and St. Laurent. I am not afraid of being influenced by good design; I welcome it."

"Fashion, like art, music or drama, is one of the great cultures of Paris. Any designer who feels secure in his art need not fear being exposed to others."

The Northville Town Hall.

BILL BLASS

at its annual meeting last month, re-elected its officers, Mrs. Robert Brueck, chairman; Mrs. Robert Lang, co-chairman; Mrs. Kareer, treasurer; Mrs. Joseph Fiorelli, recording secretary, and Mrs. Nelson Hyatt, corresponding secretary.

Season tickets for the 1967-68 series are still available, and may be obtained by writing to the Northville Town Hall series, Box 93, Northville.

The price for the five lectures is $10, and the entire series must be purchased.

WSU Women to Honor Seven Leading Alumnae

Seven Wayne State University alumnae will be honored at the Women of Wayne Spring Headliners Brunch and annual meeting Saturday, April 22.

The affairs will be held from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in the ballroom of the New Center Motor Lodge in Detroit.

Members of the Farmington-Livonia Women of Wayne club will join in the project along with clubs from all over the metropolitan area.

Mrs. Irving Dworkin, of Farmington, is a member of the brunch committee. President of the local area group is Mrs. R. Dewey Hansen, of Livonia.

Mary Louise DeMarco McLeod, one of the seven headliner honorees will speak at the brunch on women's preparation for both career and marriage in contemporary life.

Mrs. McLeod, of Detroit, is president of the National Association of Women Lawyers.

Besides honoring the seven women in the world of business, Women of Wayne will present its annual service award to Mrs. Juanita Bristol Flanders, of Detroit.

Mrs. Flanders, a math teacher in Detroit, is president of the WSU Alumni Advisory Council and has given service to many other organizations.

A service citation will go to Mrs. Julia Riley Witherpoon, a Detroit music teacher who also has been active in numerous community and Wayne State groups.

In addition to Mrs. McLeod, the headliner WSU alumnae to be honored include:

Mrs. Lorraine Beebe, Dearborn, third woman member of the Michigan Senate.

Mrs. Geraldine Bledsoe Ford, first woman elected to Detroit Recorder's Court.

Mrs. Jean MacDougall McKee, of Grand Rapids, former chairman of the WSU Board of Governors.

Nancy Rosalie Millio, Detroit nurse who headed the Mom and Tot Neighborhood Center.

Mrs. Susan Sayre, first woman mayor of Ypsilanti.

Mrs. Patricia O'Donnell Shontz, first woman editorial writer for the Detroit News.

Five Generations in Area Will Help Mark Woman's 96th Year

A 96th birthday celebration is coming up for a spirited lady who recently joined four generations of her family in this area.

But the April 22 birthday may have to be marked in a hospital bed, for Mrs. Bertha Ranesbottom has been confined to Botsford General Hospital since breaking her hip in a fall shortly after Easter.

The accident happened in the home at 29500 Bretton, Livonia, that Mrs. Ranesbottom had occupied with her daughter, Mrs. Helen Jarvis, for just three weeks.

The two women had moved from the home in Detroit's east side where they had lived for many years. They wanted to be closer to relatives who live in the northwest suburbs.

Mrs. Ranesbottom's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs.

Fred Ranesbottom Sr., live at 21454 Waldron, Farmington, and another daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gillem, make their home part of the year at 29991 Beacontree, Farmington.

Two grandchildren also live in Farmington.

There's Fred Ranesbottom Jr., who lives with his wife and four children at 23941

Creekside, and Mrs. James W. Robb, Mrs. Gillem's daughter, who also lives at the Beacontree address.

And down the street, at 29869 Beacontree, are Mrs. Robb's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Stinson, and daughter, Linda. Linda's arrival on the scene four years ago added the fifth generation to Mrs. Ranesbottom's family.

The great-great-grandmother, in fine health before her fall, had been seated at the sewing machine where for years she's turned out dozens of dresses and doll clothes. She slipped after standing up at the machine.

She was reported in good condition at the hospital after surgery to mend the break.

So that 96th birthday cake may yet be lighted in the new Livonia home.

MRS. LILLIAN ZIEGER, Grand River Avenue, Farmington receives the first season ticket for the forthcoming Farmington Town Hall Series from Mr. Donald Cardwell of the city Optimist Club, sponsoring organization for the series. The ticket was given as a door prize at Farmington Town Club's recent card party.

Childbirth Association To Hold Card Party

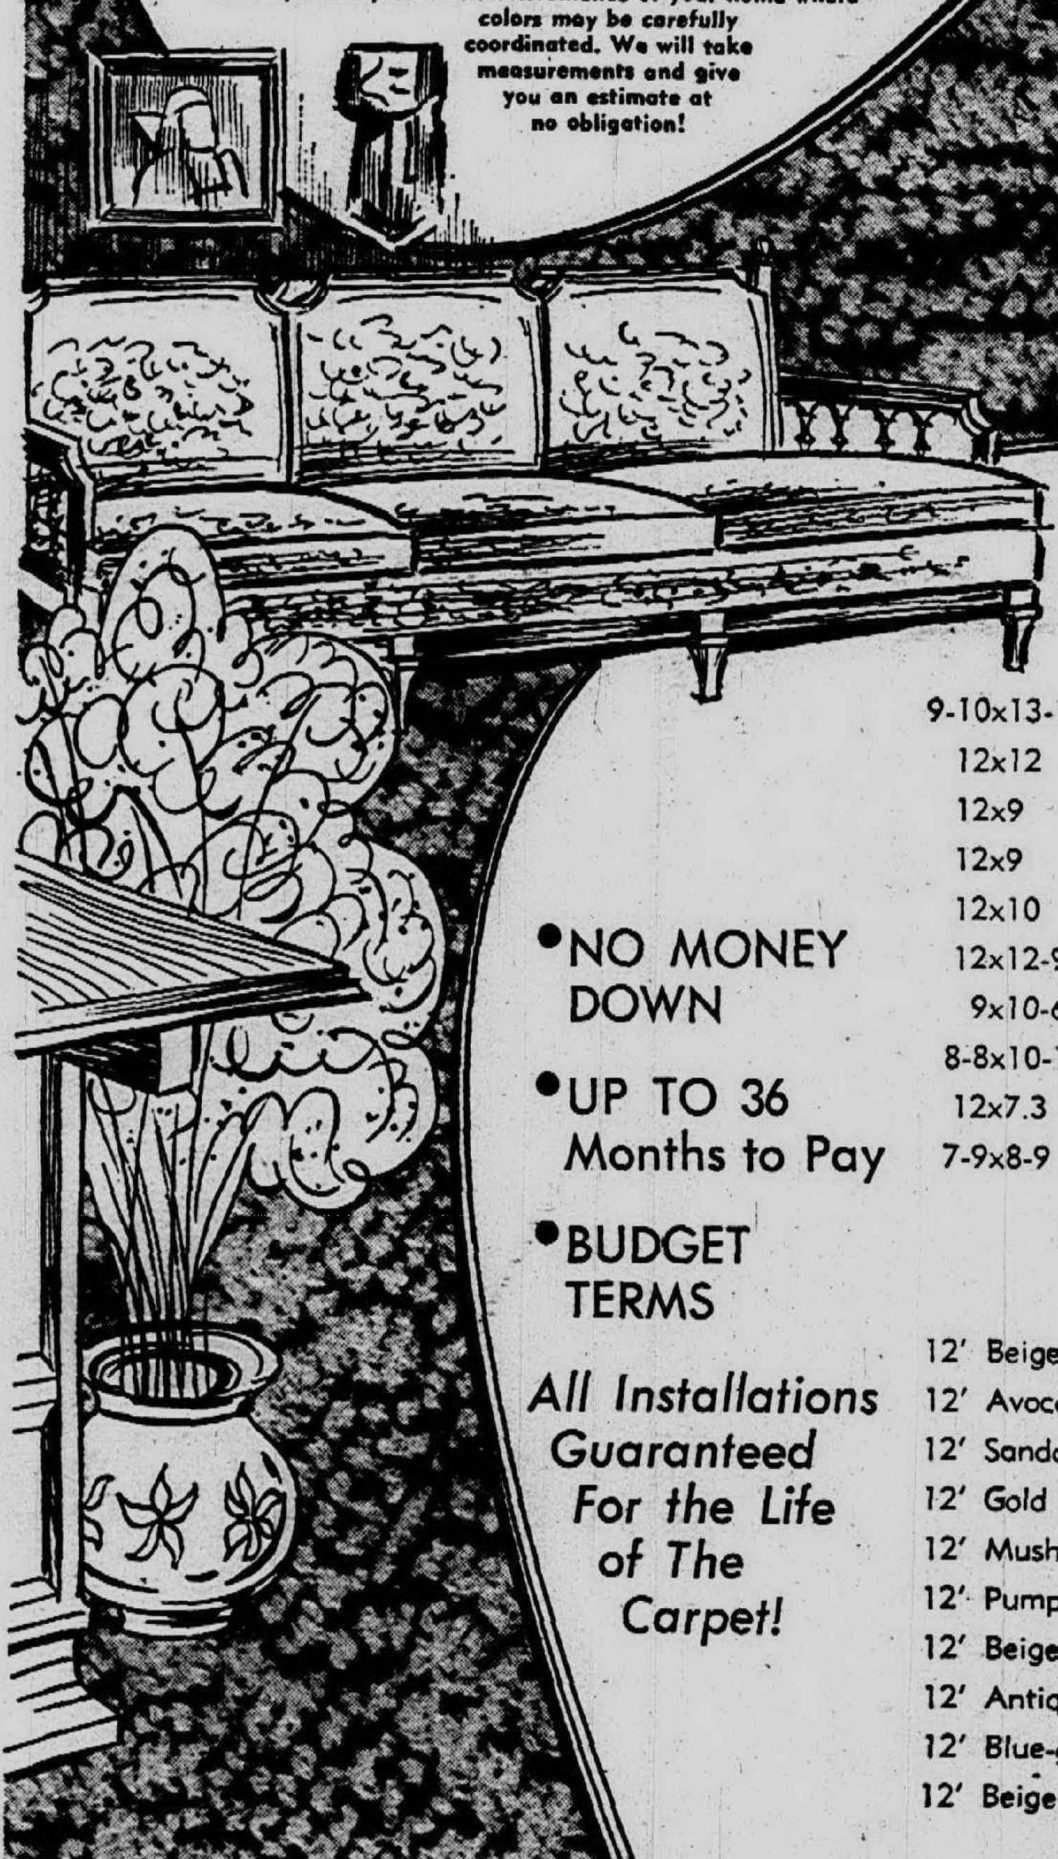

The second annual card party of the Childbirth Preparation Association is set for 8 p.m. Wednesday, April 19, at the Cadorna Italian-American Club in Allen Park. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Vietnam Veteran Nurse Heads State Recruiting

Newly assigned as the Army Nurse Counselor for the U.S. Army recruiting activities in Michigan is Captain Elizabeth K. Bjorkman, who arrived from Vietnam recently.

Capt. Bjorkman replaces Major Ethel LaRock, who will depart soon for Vietnam.

The new nurse counselor will be responsible for the recruiting of young men and women into the Army Nurse Corps programs.

Capt. Bjorkman, 25, comes from Burlingame, Calif., and graduated Marquette University, Milwaukee.

The Army Nurse Corps

Capt. Elizabeth Bjorkman

Program in Michigan is administered from the U.S. Army Recruiting Main Station, 18820 James Couzens Highway, Detroit, where Capt. Bjorkman will be headquartered.

The Corps, soon to celebrate its 66th anniversary, is an all officer corps made up entirely of registered professional nurses.

Established in 1901, the Army Nurse Corps has served valiantly in two world wars, the Korean War and in Vietnam.

Today, there are approximately 4,350 nurses serving on active duty of which about 950 are men. Since 1955, qualified male nurses have been appointed as officers in the Army Nurse Corps. In addition there are presently 60 warrant officer nurses serving on active duty.

Army nurses are stationed around the globe, serving in such places as Germany, Italy, Turkey, Vietnam, Alaska and Hawaii.

Young men and women wishing more information should contact the Army Recruiting Station, Wayne Post Office at Wayne, 722-3388.

Conversation Aids Child's Development

Talking with children provides an opportunity to help them learn values and practice essential skills.

It also helps guide their development, says Mrs. Marguerite L. Duvall, extension specialist in family life of The Pennsylvania State University.

You demonstrate respect for others when you listen until the speaker has finished. So, when a child interrupts, your simple comment, "Wait until Sally finishes," clarifies an important rule of conversation. And you inform him that he has the right to speak, in his turn, when you ask him, "Now, Jack what did you want to say?"

Consistency in these practices teaches the child that he can wait to express his views. Mrs. Duvall points out. Once having the attention he wants, and assured of an audience until he finishes, he is able to speak without hurrying.

He is practicing the essential skill of communicating his idea to others. In time he becomes aware of clues from his listeners indicating whether they understand.

A child who talks too long, preventing others from sharing ideas, can learn by being told, "You must finish now, so Jack can tell us what he thinks."

In the seemingly simple act of talking, parents help children learn respect for each other and gain it for themselves. Children also learn limits on individual rights, social skills, and the skill to speak and to listen, Mrs. Duvall adds.

Women on the GO!

By Margaret Miller

One of Farmington's budding scientists is a tall and pretty brunet with a winning smile and a big store of knowledge about ultra-violet light.

Both should be very useful this week-end to eighth-grade Mary Zimmermann when she competes in the Michigan Science Fair at Cobo Hall.

Mary, who attends Farmington East Junior High, was one of 29 regional winners in the Farmington area in the recent science fair held at Dunckel Junior High.

Now she'll pit her interesting exhibit against hundreds of others in the state competition. She's looking forward to the weekend with excitement and just a little apprehension.

"In the regional exhibit we just set things up and went home," Mary explained. "But at Cobo Hall we're going to have to stay with the exhibit and answer questions. That's going to be harder."

It shouldn't be much harder for this future scientist, though. She has at her fingertips all the information necessary to explain her display on "The Cause and Effect of Black Light."

One part of the exhibit is a complicated diagram to show why some materials glow in ultra-violet light. Mary can explain:

"The electrons move from higher to lower energy level and give off energy in the form of visible light."

Her exhibit, which she built herself, contains two fluorescent lights and a display of various materials and their reaction to ultra-violet light.

There's a collection of

plants, a piece of material with household starch, a finger print treated with a special dust, several paints and plastics, a group of rocks and minerals and some dabs of chemicals mixed with finger-nail polish so they would adhere to a surface.

Some of the materials glow in the ultra-violet light and others don't, and Mary can explain the why and where-fors of all. She also has "Danger" signs prominently posted on her display, because over-exposure to ultra-violet light can be harmful.

Mary got the idea for her display from a chemical firm's magazine advertisement, and began research after her science teacher, Robert Wilkens, made a Science Fair Project a class assignment.

She spent some long hours in school and public libraries, but some of the best help came from books loaned by her father, Nandor Zimmermann, associate professor of physics at Lawrence Institute of Technology.

Zimmermann is a native of Hungary, and his wife, Ilone, was born in Rumania. The family's 20-year-old son, Fred, was born in a refugee camp in Germany and Mary arrived after the Zimmermanns moved to Detroit 16 years ago. They came to Farmington in 1961.

Mary, an honor student, is interested in a scientific career—maybe physics or possibly psychology.

She has a good start.

International Ball Will Be Held May 6

The International Institute's 20th International Ball will be staged at Cobo Hall Saturday, May 6, from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. Al Navarro will provide the music.

The colorful affair will move to Cobo's Arena this year so that the program of folk dancing, most important in the party fare, may be properly seen and enjoyed by all in attendance.

Decor for the occasion, enhanced by the abundance of nationality costumes, is still a secret.

Among those handling arrangements are Walter T. Frontczak, of Farmington, executive director of the International Institute, I. Paul Tesorero, of Farmington, and David Hwang, of Livonia, vice chairman of the International Institute board.

Patron tickets may be purchased for $10, and they are used to make it possible for foreign students in the area to attend the ball without charge. Last year some 200 foreign students were there. General admission tickets are $3.

Garden Club Hears Ann Arbor Expert

Mrs. C. Merle Dixon, chairman of the building and ground garden staff for the Ann Arbor Shakespeare Garden, spoke to the Farmington Garden Club April 3.

"How to Grow and Groom your Horticulture for Show," was her subject.

Bob Thomas, of Nashville, Tenn., will present a Flower Arrangement Lecture and Demonstration on "Modern and the Far Beyond" at the Nardin Park Methodist Church, Farmington, at 1 p.m., Monday, May 1. Mrs. Arthur Drechsel, 476-8295, has tickets.

Kappa Deltas To Hear Cooking Talk

Kappa Deltas will learn the method of "Cooking Al Fresco" when Consumers Power Co. presents a program at the April 17 meeting of the Sorority's Northwest Suburban Alumnae Association. The presentation will include a film and a speaker.

The annual election of officers is also scheduled for the meeting, which will begin at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. James Frederick, 23128 Glenmoor Heights Drive, Farmington. Mrs. Robert Williams of Livonia will serve as co-hostess.

St. Elizabeth Church To Serve Polish Dinner

A Family Style Polish dinner will be served at St. Elizabeth Episcopal Church, 26431 West Chicago, Livonia, from 5 to 7:30 p.m. Saturday, April 29.

Reservations will be needed and can be made by calling 537-5455.

Garden City School Board Honors Dedicated PTA Leader

An attractive Garden City mother who has given several thousand hours of her time to helping meet the educational needs of the school children of her community was honored recently by the Garden City Board of Education.

She is Mrs. Helen Nevill, a Parent-Teacher Association leader since 1958 and currently the director of District 2 of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Mrs. Nevill was appointed to a three-year term as district director, the first local PTA leader to hold this office. The district covers the 42 Wayne County school districts outside of Detroit.

In adopting a resolution honoring her, the board stated it "wished to extend to Mrs. Nevill the gratitude of the community for her many years of service to the boys and girls of Garden City as a PTA leader."

The resolution further stated: "The time and work involved in organizing and co-ordinating the interests and efforts of four active citizens is very great, and to rise as an exceptional leader of the most active citizens requires greater time, dedication and devotion and brings honor to the community..."

Last month at the annual PTA Founders Day Dinner Mrs. Nevill was presented with Distinguished Service Award by the Garden City PTA Council.

Mrs. Nevill moved to Garden City in 1958 with her husband, Walter and their two children, Bill, now 16, and Suzanne, 13. Bill is in the 11th grade at West High School and Sue is an eighth grade student at Radcliff Junior High.

Mrs. Nevill's first active role in PTA work began as a room mother 12 years ago in Redford Township.

When the family moved here, she became active in Farmington Elementary School where she was elected pre-school chairman and room representative.

In 1960 she was elected president of the Farmington PTA. Two years later her efforts won her the presidency of the PTA Council.

After her two-year term expired in 1964 she accepted the less demanding position of vice-president while serving as president of Radcliff PTA.

Again, in 1965, she was tapped for another two-year term as Council president.

As Council president she worked closely with the District director, helping to organize new PTA groups and set up conferences.

She is proud of the fact that every public school in Garden City has a PTA, a rather unusual distinction for the community.

Mrs. Nevill said there are about 1,600 PTA members in Garden City.

She said she is pleased that Garden City is taking a more active part in state and district conferences and conventions.

Besides her PTA work, at which she estimates she spends about three hours a day, raising a family and being a housewife, Mrs. Nevill also has found time to serve on two lay finance committees an now is a member of the Lay Committee on Family Life and Education.

"I couldn't do it without an understanding husband," she said.

Not only is her husband understanding, but he too has become a PTA leader and has succeeded his wife as PTA Council president.

DORIS KLUGE

Mr. and Mrs. Karl W. Kluge, of West Berlin, Germany, announce the engagement of their daughter, Doris Jutta, to David C. Petzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Petzer, of West Six Mile Road, Livonia. A June wedding is planned.

Photo Report On South Seas Trip Slated

Mr. and Mrs. Roswell Tanager will present their latest adventure in the South Pacific through photography at the Livonia City Woman's Club at 1 p.m. on Thursday, April 20.

The pictures are in full color and cover a large screen.

The Tangers were in the South Seas two months, and traveled 30,000 miles, visiting Moorea, Tahiti, Fiji, Samoa, Bora Bora, New Guinea, New Zealand and Australia.

Hostesses for the day will be Mrs. Martin Heiss, Mrs. H. McKenzie, Mrs. Arne Stord and Mrs. George Burmeister.

Regular meetings of Livonia City Woman's Club are held at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church Hall, 27475 Five Mile Road, the third Thursday of the month. Ladies interested in joining an afternoon club may call Mrs. James Bertetto, membership chairman, at GA 2-5504.

Plymouth Couple Married In St. Clair Shores Church

A ceremony in St. Joan of Arc Church, St. Clair Shores, united a Plymouth couple, Marie Judith DiCenzo and Brenton Thomas Morrow, in marriage April 7.

The bride, who is an employee of the Plymouth State Home and Training School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mario Joseph DiCenzo, of Wendy Lane, in Grosse Pointe Woods.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard David Morrow, of Ventura, Calif.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white peau de soie with empire waist. Her veil was a shoulder-length mantilla, and she carried white daisies and baby breath.

Yellow crepe gowns with white lace jackets were picked for the bridal attendants, who also wore mantillas and carried daisies. Mrs. James DeStafano, of Detroit, was matron of honor for her sister, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Maria Danckaert, of Plymouth, and Karen Huth, of Detroit.

Robert Lepper, of Scotts Bluff, Neb., was best man. Seating the guests were the bridegroom's brother, Peter Morrow, of Ventura, and James DeStafano, brother-in-law of the bride.

The couple will honeymoon in Ontario.

The bride is a graduate of Western Michigan University and her husband graduated from Adams State College at Alamosa, Colo. He is employed by Crawford and Co., Detroit.

Marilyn Michels Is Married To Michael Rath In Livonia

Marilyn Adair Michels and Michael James Rath were united in marriage in a ceremony at St. Michael's Catholic Church, Livonia, on Saturday, April 8.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Michels, of Blackburn Avenue, Livonia, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Rath, of Bramell Avenue, Detroit.

The Rev. Father Charles B. Sonnenfeld heard the vows.

A white empire sheath of angeliskin peau with trim of re-embroidered alencon lace, sequins and pearls was the bride's choice. The gown was designed with long sleeves, a rounded neckline and jeweled lace mock blouse with wattleau train attached. Her shoulder length silk illusion veil was secured by a pearl and crystal-trimmed headpiece, and she carried baby carnations centered by a white orchid.

Suzanne Goettelmann, of Livonia, was maid of honor, and Michelle Smith, also of Livonia, was bridesmaid.

They wore yellow chiffon over taffeta with Venice lace trim and yellow veils and headpieces. Their flowers were gold carnations.

James Rath assisted his brother as best man, and the ushers were another brother, John Rath, William Michels, brother of the bride, and Phillip Schoen, of Livonia.

Powder blue crepe fashioned the dress worn by the bride's mother, and Mrs. Rath selected a dress of aqua silk with a matching coat.

The wedding reception was held at Roma Hall.

After a week's honeymoon in Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania, the newlyweds will live in Mt. Clemens.

Over the Back Fence

By BETTY FRANKEL

"Can my Easter lily be planted in the garden? . . . How can I keep my azalea blooming? . . . What do I do with potted tulips?"

The colorful plants that were so joyfully given and received a few days will soon lose their pristine freshness. However, many can continue to give pleasure for a bit longer in the house and then for years to come in the garden.

Bright light and extra warmth were needed to bring the plants into bloom for Easter, but to keep them fresh put them in a cool spot away from strong sunlight. They will last much longer and the colors will stay brighter.

The Easter lilies most commonly "forced" are either Madonna lilies or Croft lilies and are hardy in the garden.

By the time the beautiful waxy blooms have withered and the leaves have begun to fade, the garden should be dry enough for planting. If the plants fade before the soil is crumbly, just stop watering and set the pots in the basement or garage—but don't forget them!

To plant, remove the bulbs, dirt and all, from the pot and put in a sunny spot in the garden. Don't be surprised if new leaves sprout and you get a second crop of flowers in late summer. In future years they'll come up in early Spring and bloom in mid-Summer.

Other bulbs that have bloomed in pots — tulips, hyacinths, daffodils, and even crocuses — can be planted in the garden, too. Keep them watered and growing in the pots in a sunny spot, either indoors or out, until the leaves have ripened and turned yellow. The bulbs are then mature and can be dug up and stored in a bag (label, please!) until Fall and then planted in the garden.

Or plant them in the garden where you want them permanently and act as though they've been there all along.

Most azaleas that come from the florist or supermarket are not winter hardy. They can spend the summer in a shady spot out doors, but must be brought in again in the Fall and put in a sunny window. The secret of keeping them in bloom this year and in getting blooms again next year is water. Never let them dry out—even during the summer.

Hydrangeas, with those lovely balls of pink or blue, can be kept from year to year as pot plants or can go into the garden. They are a little tender so should have a protected spot. Calceolarias, cinerarias, and cyclamen are strictly green-house plants. Once they have faded there's no point in keeping them.

Jewish Music Group Plans Competition

The Friends of The Jewish Community Center Symphony Orchestra will hold the organization's third annual music contest Sunday, June 11. A cash prize of $200 will be given to the winner of a string instrument (violin, viola or cello) and $200 will be given to the winner of the piano competition.

Both winners will appear in an evening performance as soloists with the Center Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Julius Chajes this fall.

Seminar Set For Teaching Aspirants

Junior high and elementary school students interested in teaching will be eligible this year for the Mercy College Future Teachers' Club seminar.

The seminar will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday, April 22, on the Mercy campus, 8200 W. Outer Drive, Detroit. In previous years attendance has been limited to high school students.

More than 300 students and teacher sponsors are expected to attend.

The clubs are composed of students who have expressed a desire to follow a career in education.

Dale Robinson, Michigan Educational Association representative for the area in which the three counties are located, will be the principal speaker.

In addition to the general program there will be specialized attention paid to students classified according to grades.

Luncheon in the Student Center and a guided tour of the Mercy College of Detroit campus, are included in the day's program.

BPW Board Plans Rummage Sale

The Garden City Business and Professional Women's Club will hold an executive board meeting Thursday to discuss plans for a April 29 rummage sale in the garage of Mrs. Thelma Nash, of 31565 Marquette.

The board meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Mary Oldenburg with Mrs. Mary Mazzoni serving as co-hostess.

Proceeds from the rummage sale, open to the public, will be used to help the cancer fund.

Low-Calorie Brunch Set by Weight Watchers

The Garden City Weight Control Club will sponsor a low-calorie brunch at 9:30 a.m. Thursday, April 20, in Garden City Park. New and prospective members are invited and small children may accompany their mothers. Those interested may call 421-4545 for more information.

Fresh Herbs Make Best Seasoning

By FAITH GILLESPIE
OUR QUEEN OF HEARTS

It is none too soon to begin thinking about planting a few herbs

Haven't got time, you say? Haven't got energy? Haven't got space to garden? Brush all objections aside... herbs take next to no time or energy or space. You can grow them in a window box.

Use them for borders, tuck them in between the rose bushes, or keep them in pots on your window sill, if you want to garden without going outside.

The reason for growing herbs is found in the pleasure they will give you as a cook. No dried and commercial bottled herb can be quite so fresh and aromatic as your own, nor so flavorful.

Just stop in at your nearest nursery and buy a variety pack of herb seeds, or pick out three or four kinds in single packs. Invest in half a dozen peat pots, and get a trowel or an old kitchen spoon.

Dig up some sandy loam, if there's some around, or just some old dirt from your back yard, and spoon it into the peat pots. Plant according to package directions and water with your clothes sprinkler or something gentle. Keep the soil moist.

The seed packets will tell you when to thin out the new plants. They will tell you too about the temperatures the plants will bear, which is your clue to the time you can safely transplant the seedlings to the outdoors.

It usually pays to buy a few things as nursery plants in the first place: parsley, which takes so long to germinate; tarragon, which takes a long time to grow big enough to use; and chives, which I've never had luck in getting started myself.

The little bit of time you spend on this project is minuscule compared to the flavors and savors your house will hold during all the cooking hours after the herbs are ready to use.

Meanwhile, there are some herbs and spices we can't grow in peat pots in window boxes, and one of them is paprika.

If your paprika jar is several months old, you aren't using enough of it. If the color has changed from vibrant red to rusty brown, it isn't much worth using. Treat yourself to some fresh paprika and enjoy its delicate flavor on lots of things, one of obvious and best being...

CHICKEN PAPRIKASH

Chop 2 medium onions and place with 3 tablespoons butter (or better yet, chicken fat) in skillet. When butter bubbles, put in 6 to 8 frying chicken parts. Brown quickly on both sides. Sprinkle with salt, add 1/2 cup chicken broth (which you can make from a chicken bouillon cube), cover, and cook for an hour or so, till tender.

Remove chicken and juices from skillet, replace about 2 tablespoons butter or fat, stir in 1 tablespoon paprika, and add 1 cup sour cream. Do not let the paprika burn nor the sour cream boil. Put the chicken and juices back. Serve with noodles.

There are lots of ways to make Chicken Paprikash, I am sure. This is the Queen of Hearts way.

Spicy Sauce Is Best On Seafood

Men usually like this spicy sauce served with seafood.

Spicy Cocktail Sauce
1 bottle (12 ounces) chili sauce (yields 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons)
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon prepared white horseradish, undrained
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

Stir together all the ingredients; cover and chill. Makes about 1 1/4 cups. Store any sauce remaining in tightly covered jar in refrigerator.

About four-fifths of liquid (by weight) is sugar. It is mostly simple forms of sugar which can be easily absorbed by the body foods specialists with the Cooperative Extension Service say.

Educator To Address P-T Guilds

Mrs. O. E. Wolford Jr., executive director of the Archdiocese of Detroit Institute for Continuing Education, will speak on "Parents Learn to be Persons" for the St. Genevieve Parent-Teacher Guild at 8 p.m. Tuesday, April 25.

The Livonia school guild, holding its third quarterly meeting of the school year, has invited to the meeting residents of several other parishes in the area, including Our Lady of Loretto, St. Alexander, St. Edith, St. Maurice, St. Michael, St. Priscilla and St. Valentine.

As ICE director, Mrs. Wolford is the first woman to head a department of the Detroit Archdiocese and the first woman to be a member of the Archdiocese staff. She is active in the community services of the United Community Services of Detroit, Detroit Archdiocesan Commission for Ecumenical Affairs, Metropolitan Goals for Religion and Race, immediate past president of the Council of Catholic Women and the U.S. Bishop's Commission for Ecumenical and Interreligious Affairs.

She has also had a number of monthly articles published in a variety of community and religious publications.

BONNIE QUINN of Redford Township is one of the stars of "Vaudeville Daze," a musical extravaganza to be put on by the Redford Presbyterian Church Mr. and Mrs. Club April 14 and 15 and 21 and 22. Curtain time each night is 8 p.m., and tickets may be obtained by calling KE 1-1244 or KE 1-0327.

Dr. Goldstein Speaker for Joint Service

Dr. Charles Goldstein, attorney, will speak at the joint Sabbath services of the Livonia Jewish Congregation and Temple Beth Am, 29475 W. Six Mile Road, Friday, April 14, at 8:30 p.m.

His topic will be "Justice and Justice."

Goldstein is a past president of Temple Israel, Detroit. He is a charter member of the temple and was the first president of its Men's Club. He is a former director and officer of the Jewish Community Council of Metropolitan Detroit. At present he is acting "Rabbi" of Temple B'nai Israel, Monroe, Mich.

Sabbath services will be conducted by Rabbi David Jessel and Cantor Henry J. Blank.

THE REV. CARL GUNDERSEN joins members of St. Timothy Presbyterian in breaking ground for a new church.

Entire Congregation Joins In Breaking Ground

"Come to church and bring your shovel" was the word for the day at St. Timothy United Presbyterian Church, Livonia, last Sunday when ground was broken for the new sanctuary on Newburgh Road.

Every man, woman and child in the congregation turned over a spadeful of dirt to demonstrate the church's conviction that the church can only witness as all the people are involved.

The Rev. Carl A. Gundersen, who has been with St. Timothy since its organization was begun three years ago, led the ceremony.

Also taking leading parts were Elders Gilbert Francis and A. Robert Sellen, Robert Blackwell, who headed the building committee, Arthur O. Misch, contractor, William Rice, chairman of the program and personnel committee for the Detroit presbytery; Daniel Murray, church school superintendent and Mrs. Doris King, women's association president.

Representing other churches in the area: Gerald Recker, William Klerkoper, and St. Paul Presbyterian and Robert Houck of the First Presbyterian Church of Farmington.

The congregation sang "The Church's One Foundation" to close the service.

Edison PTA To Hold Card Party

"Rainbow of Fun" will be the theme of a bingo and card party to be held by the Edison Elementary School (Westland) PTA at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the school's all-purpose room.

The fund-raising event will include many door prizes, including pole lamps, set of 24 glasses, punch bowl set, desk secretary, and gift certificates, in addition to table prizes.

Mrs. Robert Hutchinson is card party chairman. She is assisted by Mrs. Frank Lopinski, project chairman; Mrs. Clayton Misner, tickets; Mrs. Gerald Weishapl, refreshments; Mrs. Russell Tuttle, publicity; and Mrs. Alan Christoff, prizes.

OES Women Plan Special Events

Two Farmington chapters of the Order of Eastern Stars are planning special functions in the near future.

Chapter 239 will sponsor a luncheon card party for Eastern Star Training Awards for Religious Leadership at 12 noon Tuesday, April 18, at the Farmington Masonic Temple.

The public is invited and proceeds will go toward a scholarship for a local student the group is sponsoring in studies for the ministry.

Trinity Shrine 44 will hold a Queen for a Day Luncheon Card Party at 12 noon Thursday, April 13, at the Farmington Masonic Temple.

Also on the Trinity Shrine 44 calendar is a rummage sale at the Wheeler Street Fire Hall, Farmington, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, April 15.

St. Andrew's Women Set 4th Annual Antique Show

Rare and valuable clocks will be featured at the fourth annual Antique Show presented by St. Andrew's Episcopal Churchwomen at the church, 16360 Hubbard, Livonia, April 19 to 21.

Hours for the show will be 11:30 a.m. to 10 p.m., with closing an hour earlier on the final day.

Dealers from Michigan, Pennsylvania and Ohio will display primitives, country furniture, art glass, jewelry and decorative accessories in the educational wing of the church.

An additional interesting "shop" is seen in the display by private owners in the church's own room. Here will be found the unusual clocks, including an 1820 open mahogany grandfather, moon-faced clock; a Bombe front mahogany date 1880, plus several others being refinished for the show.

Luncheon will be served continuously during show hours. Donation for the show is $1 and daily prizes are given. Proceeds will go to missionary work at home and abroad. Two main places of interest are the church's work in Zambia, Africa, and the mission church at Minto, Alaska.

Committee chairmen are: Mrs. Howard Dow and Mrs. Philip Day, co-managers; Mrs. Fred Oehmke, tea room chairman; Mrs. Ruth Taylor, tickets; Mrs. Clarence Bodine and Mrs. Paul Dufault, decorating; and Mrs. Lawrence Marien in charge of the church shop.

THE REV. EDWARD REINHARDT, with his wife, Kathryn, and children Ann and Mark, make up the new first family at Nativity United Church of Christ, Livonia.

New Pastor Begins Work At Nativity

The Rev. Edward Reinhardt will become the new Pastor of Nativity United Church of Christ, 9435 Henry Ruff Road, Livonia, on April 23.

Services of worship are at 9:30 a.m. and 11:00 a.m. with church school at the early service.

The clergyman comes to Livonia from Geneva, Iowa, where he was minister at St. Peter's United Church of Christ since 1958.

Completing the Reinhardt household are his wife, Kathryn, two-year-old daughter, Ann, and a ten-month-old son, Mark. Home for the Reinhardt's will be the church parsonage at 30389 West Chicago, Livonia.

The parsonage was refurbished under the guidance of Cal Gress, 29987 Robert Dr., Livonia; Jack Game, 29653 Orangelawn, Livonia; and Duane Rutenbar, 31753 Bridge, Garden City.

The Rev. Reinhardt earned his B.A. from Elmhurst College, Elmhurst, Ill., in 1952, and his B.D. from Eden Theological Seminary, Webster Groves, Mo. in 1955. He has previously served churches in St. Louis, Cleveland and Sumner, Iowa.

Children's Home Plans Open House

Children's Village of the Methodist Children's Home Society will hold open house from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday, May 21, at the Village, 26645 West Six Mile, Livonia.

The Children's Home Society, celebrating its 50th anniversary this year, invites all residents of the area to visit the village and see the work being done there.

The society also reported the need for homes for several boys ranging in age from 10 to 15 years of age.

These boys, the society said, "are making a satisfactory adjustment in school and have the usual interests of boys and the desire for foster parents who can provide them with a happy home life."

"Foster parents," the appeal continued, "should have a love of children and a desire to help a boy who may need some special understanding, guidance and care. They should be able to share a boy with his own parents, as there may be occasional visits."

Persons interested may write or telephone the society, 26645 West Six Mile, 531-4060.

Teens from St. Matthew's Get Close Look at UN

Thirty-one teenagers from St. Matthew's Methodist Church can qualify now as United Nations ambassadors to the United Nations.

They have just completed a fun and learning-packed trip to the United Nations in New York.

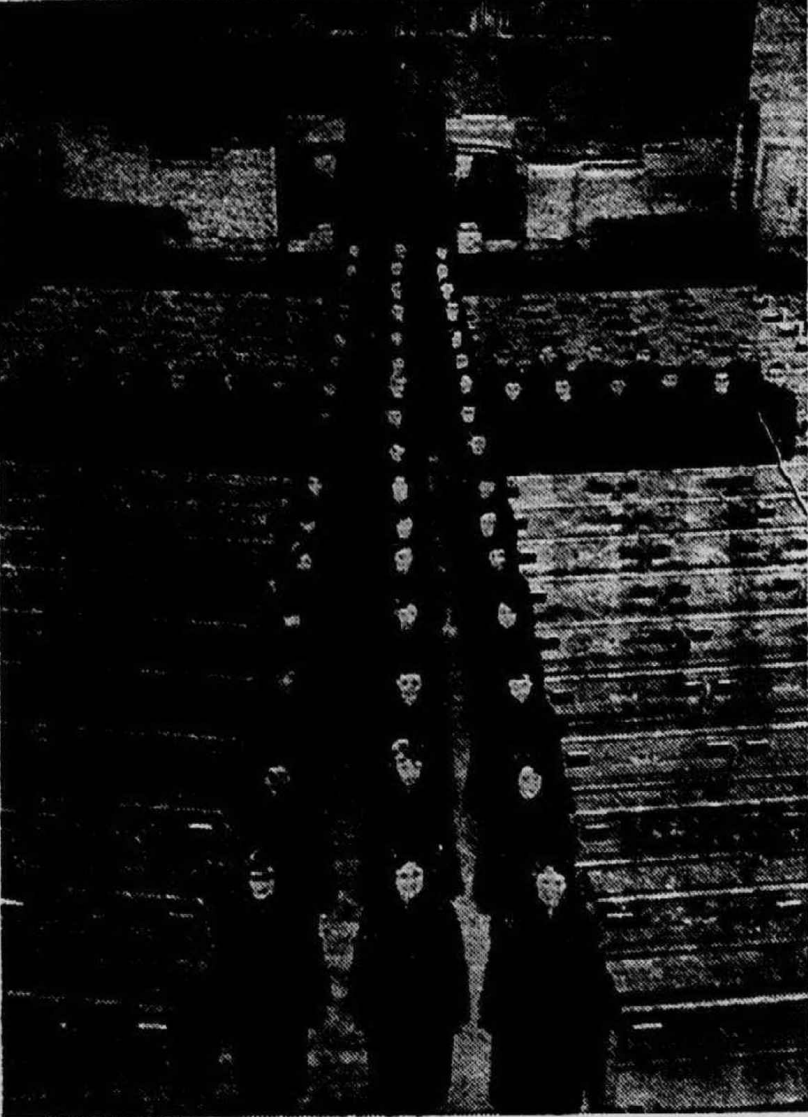

Traveling by bus and financing part of the trip with funds raised in youth group activities, the students made

Sessions Monday and Tuesday gave them insight into the make-up of the United Nations, how it functions and how the church can aid in its work.

The seminar included a look at the UNICEF headquarters and a visit to the Soviet Union permanent office in the United Nations, with time left free for visits

PACKED AND READY to board the bus for the United Nations and New York are three members of the St. Matthew's Methodist Youth Fellowship. Plymouth Township Voters Nix Millage

Trustees of Plymouth Township have no doubts of the feeling of the electors towards the proposed one mill tax increase for the purchase of more than 144 acres for a new township cultural and government complex, additional fire stations, recreation sites, museum, a community center and other items.

The proposal was rejected by a resounding 890-137 count, the worst defeat of a proposal in the Township in many years. The Trustees had visions of purchasing the sites now rather than gamble on prices being lower in the next few years. Matter of fact most trustees agreed that land will probably go up in the not too distant future.

But the Trustees and Supervisor John McEwen have themselves to blame for the overwhelming defeat—they themselves couldn't agree on what the proposal meant and the voters were made aware of it.

Trustees Ralph Garber and Louis Norman and Treasurer Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes were named as a committee to study the situation and make a recommendation.

Prior to the appointment of the committee, the Board approved a resolution calling for voters to approve a one mill levy for the purchase of a site for a new governmental and cultural complex.

This was quickly changed to read "sites" when objections were raised from a delegation from Lake Pointe Village.

Shortly thereafter, the committee of three recommended the purchase of sites to a total of 144 acres for the projects listed above.

At the same time, Supervisor McEwen was busy telling a reporter for a metropolitan newspaper that the proposal was for one site.

That brought confusion among the electors, many of whom were disgruntled by the $18 per thousand boost in the tax rate last December, and resulted in the defeat of the issue.

The proposal was soundly beaten in Lake Pointe where one precinct voted 225 to 26 against and another 73-13.

And, perhaps, showing an indication of what to expect in the future, the measure lost in Supervisor McEwen's home precinct, 120-27.

One of the most disappointed was Trustee Norman, who has long been an advocate of additional recreational facilities in the Township.

"I can't understand the thinking," he said, "All we asked was the opportunity to pick up some property for future use. We wanted to purchase it now before the costs went sky-high. It was an economy measure."

And, as a bystander pointed out, perhaps it might be wise at another time to present a solid front and to give the voters some advance notice of what the Board is thinking. After all, the resolution for the proposal came out of a special meeting of the Trustees and was added to the agenda at the last minute.

Most of the voters never heard of such a proposal before that time and as the vote indicates most don't care to pay additional taxes for such items now.

Socially Speaking Around Plymouth

By Dorothy Sincok (Call to report social events in your family, neighborhood)

GL 3-0038

A Plymouth Panhellenic Party sponsored by members—an informal party for all senior girls—is scheduled on April 13 at 2:45 in the High School Annex-cafeteria. The program will include a movie about college sorority life, a singing group, and a display of sorority emblems and magazines. Members of the Panhellenic will be on hand to answer questions about college sororities.

General chairman of the event is Mrs. R. J. Emerson. She will be assisted by Mrs. Fred Foust, Mrs. James Garber, Mrs. Don Carlson, Mrs. Gregory Dean, Mrs. Kenneth Koza, Mrs. Robert Weideman, Mrs. John Murphy and Mrs. John Murawski. The display will be arranged by Mrs. Robert Probeck, Mrs. John Hopkins, and Mrs. Robert Peterson.

It's spring and that means golf time. The Plymouth Symphony is again sponsoring a women's league which is scheduled to meet on Tuesday, May 2 at Hilltop Golf Club at 9 a.m.

Registrations will be taken on April 25, for one day only and may be called in to Mrs. R. Gus Bublitz Jr. at GL 3-8136 or Mrs. Fred Campbell at GL 3-0129.

Beginners are welcome and will be given free instructions by Mr. Chris Burghardt on Tuesday's preceding the regular session at 8 a.m.

General Chairman of this year's event is Mrs. George Spaniel.

Fashions by Harvi's for Plymouth Newcomers. This event is scheduled May 4 with a 12 o'clock hospitality period followed by a buffet at 12:30 sharp. Tickets will sell for $3.

Mrs. Ronald Puckett is general chairman. She has arranged for tickets to be purchased from Mrs. Richard Kirchgatter at 453-8054 for the Joy Rd. area; for Lake Pointe, Mrs. Thomas Spade at 455-0047 and Mrs. Walter Solnka at 453-2332; the Mid Town area, Mrs. Dale Bowerman at 453-1496; the South West area, Mrs. John Wilson at 453-3978; the West side, Mrs. James Jacka at 453-0570; Woodlore Sub., Mrs. Donald MacKenzie at 453-9218; New England Sub., Mrs. James Smith at 455-0872 and the Riverside and Salem area, Mrs. Edsel Laitinen at 453-8279.

There will be baby sitting service for a limited number only, so call Mrs. Timothy Baxter at 453-5207. All reservations must be in by May 1st.

Coming Soon—The Plymouth Branch of Woman's National Farm and Garden will be staging a walk through some of Plymouth's finest gardens. Circle your calendar for May 18, and join your friends in either an afternoon or an evening walk. Husbands are welcome. The tour is being sponsored to benefit the Garden Club's Scholarship Fund. There will be a Japanese

BUSINESSMEN

Income tax season makes us all so conscious. If you are not using FARMINGTON SECRETARIAL AND TELEPHONE ANSWERING SERVICE its time to investigate . . . a full time telephone secretary that takes your calls, types your letters, quotes estimates, makes photocopies, memographs, sympathetically apologizes for late deliveries or service calls, handles your in-out mail (using the Business Center Building address), and generally works as YOUR secretary. All of this on a "job basis." You eliminate unemployment taxes, rent or salary-pay for services rendered at a sensible rate, and totally deductible.
