

Problems Are The Same In England As In America

Take the word of Lord Mayor Frank Chapman, the problems of Plymouth, England, parallel those of the City of Plymouth.

This was learned in a lengthy interview with the jovial chief executive of the seaport and resort city of more than 250,000 population during the farewell breakfast in the Mayflower Hotel.

Asked if Plymouth, England, had the problems of water, unification and taxes, The Lord Mayor quickly answered in the affirmative. He didn't quite understand the word taxes in reference to a city, but finally stated that they do have such a thing on homes and properties but it is called "rates" in Jolly Old England.

He also said that the taxpayers don't like the "rates" anymore than the residents of Plymouth like their taxes.

"The rates are based on the valuation of the home and property," Lord Mayor Chapman said. "There is always that difficulty in making a person understand that his rates aren't different than his neighbor except he may have a better home."

"We are a city of more than 250,000, just about 25 times the size of Plymouth, and our budget is slightly more than 25 times as much as here. We depend entirely on rates for our budget, but we don't have to pay as much for education as you do here."

"The government pays almost 50 per cent of the cost of education. But I must point out that the government is financed almost entirely from the income tax. Yes, we have such a thing and I must say I believe it is much higher than here in the States."

The Lord Mayor then explained the problem with water—it is based almost entirely on complaints about the manner in which water charges are made.

"We have the same water charge for each home," smiled the Lord Mayor, "this, of course, brings numerous complaints from residents. For instance, my own father lives in a home by himself. He pays the same amount for water as his neighbor who has a large family with five of his sons working who bring home pay checks."

"How can I convince my father that this system is fair? He uses water for one individual and the (Continued on Page 6-A)

School Bids Below Estimates

Sealed bids for seven phases of constructing and equipping the third Plymouth junior high school were opened by the Board of Education Monday night, with combined low estimates placing the cost at $2,513,358.90. This compares with an earlier architect's estimate of $2,591,092, although in both cases architectural fees and site work will bring the eventual total outlay to $3,000,000.

After the opening, the bids were referred to the architectural firm of O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, Inc., for perusal. The company is to present its recommendations to the Board later this week.

The school itself—referred to as Middle School No. 3—is to be completed by August, 1968, for the opening of classes the following month. It will be built near Ann Arbor Road and McClumpha.

Bids were received Monday for architectural, mechanical and electrical contracting, plus food service, arts and crafts, homemaking and shop equipment.

In each category these were the dollar ranges:

Architectural—$1,626,000. low bid: $1,738,000, high. Five bidders.	Electrical—$225,000. low bid: $258,000, high. Six bidders.
Mechanical—$548,179. low bid: $645,127, high. Six bidders.	Food Service Equipment—$45,957. low bid: $48,595, high. Four bidders.
Arts and Crafts Equipment—$29,360. low bid: $33,191. high. Five bidders.	Homemaking Equipment—$14,166. low bid: $16,225, high. Four bidders.
Shop Equipment—$24,866.90. low bid: $25,700, high. Two bidders.	Financial aid from the U. S. Government may help offset some of the equipment costs. At its July 10 meeting, the Board voted to petition for $34,335.15 in federal funds under the National Defense Education Act. If received, the entire amount will go toward paying for industrial arts equipment for the new school.

McKeon Sets Off New Fireworks

Although July Fourth is long gone, Commissioner James McKeon set off some fireworks at the Plymouth City Commission meeting Monday evening with this simple question—

"How is the $400,000 in the Sewer and Water Fund being spent and how will it be used?"

After the Commissioners looked at each other in almost stunned silence for a moment, City Manager Richard Blodgett broke the calm

New Home Numbering Plan Vetoed

The City Commission decided Monday evening that the time was not yet right for the city to go ultra-modern.

The members voted against a proposal to have all house numbers painted on the curbs as a means of better identification at night.

A contractor from Flint—Hal Krag—promised to do the job on a homeowners' voluntary pay basis—and at absolutely no cost to the city.

But his offer was spurned on the theory that it was putting too much pressure on the home owner.

Plymouth Band Sets Concert In Park July 20

The Plymouth Community band will present the fourth in a series of six summer open-air concerts at 8 p.m. Thursday, July 20, in Kellogg Park.

Conductor James Griffith announced that featured numbers in the 90-minute program will include selections from Jerome Kern's "Showboat," as well as "Brava for Trumpets" by John Morrissey. The band's trumpet section will share solo honors in the latter number.

The regular Thursday night series will continue through Aug. 3.

BIG ROLL OF CORD was needed by this trio as they tied the bundles. They are (from left) Debbie Wheeler, Shelly Johnston and Kathy Pulaskey. Then after bundling the girls loaded wagons and hauled the bundles to a nearby garage for storage.

Local Youths Participate In WMU Orientation

Four Plymouth students who plan to enroll at Western Michigan University for the start of the fall semester Aug. 29 have participated in summer orientation programs at Kalamazoo with other incoming freshmen, according to an announcement from the campus.

Included are John Michael Norris, Victoria Ruth Kuhns, Marilyn Lake and Ruth Ann Spratling. The get-acquainted sessions have included meetings with counselors plus registering for classes.

Tim Wernette Earns Seat In Honors Unit

Timothy J. Wernette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Wernette of 387 Adams, Plymouth, was one of 85 students of Michigan State University who were accepted as new members in MSU's Honors College during the spring term, according to an announcement from East Lansing.

Membership requires at least a 3.5 (A-minus) average and inclusion in the academic upper five per cent of the entire student body.

Students admitted to the Honors College may waive all normal course requirements and develop their own programs of study suited to their particular interests and abilities. They also may take advanced graduate work in fields whenever ready.

Cafeteria Workers Accept Offer of School Board

The Plymouth Community Board of Education scored its initial breakthrough in 1967-68 labor negotiations Monday night when it voted unanimous approval of an agreement with cafeteria employees, the first of five non-teaching categories with which it has reached accord.

Agreements with transportation employees and the combined maintenance and custodial groups will be weighed by the Board at its next regular meeting, Monday, July 24.

Other non-teaching employees with whom salary and working condition talks are underway include crossing guards and the secretarial staff. Little difficulty in reaching settlements is anticipated once the general wage and fringe benefit patterns are established for other categories.

Teacher negotiations between the administration and Plymouth Education Association have been renewed this week, with no report forthcoming as to whether any progress has been made.

The Board of Education's newest member, Calvin Strom, elected to his first term only last month, made the motion that the cafeteria employees' agreement be adopted. Mrs. Joanne Hulce backed the motion and it passed quickly after Assistant Supt. Melvin Blunk's explanation of its terms.

An outstanding aspect of the dealings with the 30 or more food service employees is the fact that Plymouth's cafeteria system is self-supporting.

The new agreement provides increases in the amount of hospitalization insurance to be paid by the school administration, an improved plan for sick leave and vacations and a slight increase in the hourly wage rates.

Blunk estimated that more than 425,000 lunches and 800,000 one-half pint cartons of milk will be sold in the 11 school cafeterias which will operate in the 1967-68 school year.

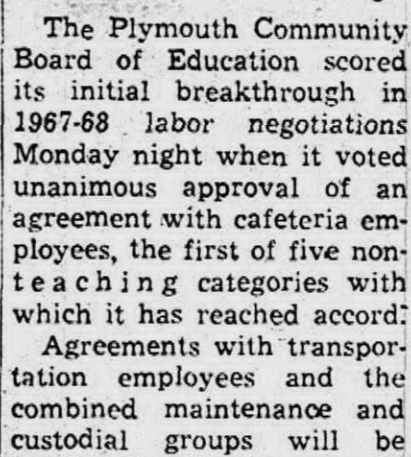

"No increase in lunch prices is anticipated," he stated, "providing government lunch reimbursement, milk reimbursement and commodities are received in amounts equaling or exceeding those received during the 1966-67 fiscal year."

Plymouth students pay 35 cents for their lunches in the elementary schools, 40 cents in the junior high schools and 45 cents at the high school level.

The cafeteria system wound up the recent fiscal year with a cash balance of $27,789.

In regard to negotiations with other non-teaching groups, only the maintenance and custodial employee agreement appears to pose a problem. This also is the only group which boasts organized union representation.

The group is understood to be seeking an eight per cent package wage increase, plus added fringe benefits and a cost of living index proviso.

HONORED FOR 45 years of service with Daisy Manufacturing Co. is Floyd Reddeman who receives a 45-year pin from President Cass Hough (left). Reddeman, a native of Plymouth, spent most of his life here until moving to Rogers, Ark. with Daisy in 1958. The family home was 325 Blunk Street. Mr. and Mrs. Reddeman are the parents of two daughters: Alice who lives in Wayne, and Mrs. Patrick Dowling of Dearborn.

Detroit Bank to Open New Plymouth Branch

Detroit Bank & Trust will formally open the permanent office for its branch at Ann Arbor Road and Lilley Road in Plymouth Township at 9 a.m. on Monday, July 24.

The modern banking center replaces temporary quarters which the office has occupied since it was opened last year.

The bank will stage a five-day open house to mark the opening of the new building from Monday through Friday, July 28. A token collectors item—"Coins from the World of Banking"—will be presented to each customer and visitor to commemorate the event.

New services of the office include three drive-in windows, safe deposit facilities and a night depository.

The building—designed by Levine, Alpern & Associates of Detroit—features exterior wall of buckskin-colored brick and wide expanses of tinted ceiling-to-floor windows topped by a dark brown metal fascia. Planters and shrubbery will embellish the outward appearance of the office.

The hours for the branch have been changed with the move to its new office. They are from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Thursday, are from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Friday.

The manager of the Ann Arbor-Lilley office is Eldon Morgan. He has held this position since the branch was first opened.

Reform on the Way . . .

Legislators Tackle Court Bills, Face Jan. 1 Deadline

Suburban areas will be swept into any new court structure devised by the Michigan Legislature under the command of the 1963 constitution to upgrade the judicial system.

The Legislature has left the problem on the back burner while tackling fiscal reform and state budget problems.

Legislative leaders plan a sled-length special session in October to iron out the court issue. Two plans have been developed.

Following are analyses of the two plans as prepared by the Legislative Service Bureau research section:

TOTAL REORGANIZATION
The Joint Committee for

Minor Court Reorganization was created in 1965 for the purpose of drafting legislation which meets the requirements of the Michigan Constitution.

The Governor, Legislature, Michigan Supreme Court and the Michigan State Bar all participated in selection of committee members.

The committee said a sound and effective minor court system could be attained only by unification through elimination of as many separate tiers of courts as possible.

Guided by this objective, the committee sought to abolish a number of lower courts in its proposed legislation. They include justices of the peace, circuit court commissioners, municipal courts, police courts, common pleas court and traffic court.

Their functions and duties will be transferred to the new district courts. In addition, the Recorder's Court of Detroit will be abolished and its judges and duties transferred to the circuit court.

The circuit courts and probate courts shall continue as separate systems.

Under the proposed legislation, the district courts will be divided into 53 districts for purposes of election and administration. These districts are basically similar to the circuit court districts.

Each district will encompass an entire county excepted in the less populated areas where two or more counties will form a district.

For example, the counties of Alpena, Montmorency and Presque Isle will be combined to form the 45th district.

The number of judges per district will range from a minimum of one to a maximum of 62 (Wayne County). The 45th district will have two judges. Wayne County would be divided into 19 divisions — one of these would consist of the City of Livonia and would have two judges. To hold office as a district court judge, a person will have to be under 70 years of age and a member of the Michigan State Bar.

He will have to devote full time to his judicial duties, for which he will receive a salary of $20,000 a year from the state. The county, through action of its board of supervisors, will be able to pay a supplemental salary not exceeding two-thirds of any supplemental compensation paid by the county to its circuit judges. Individuals will not be able to practice law while serving as district judges nor receive any fees other than their salary.

state and local governments of the considerable revenue which will be collected by the district courts from traffic fines and fines for ordinance violations.

The state has a basic claim to these collected sums since it will be paying the entire cost of the system, including salaries, under the proposed plan.

However, many municipalities are dependent for considerable revenue from present collections even after all expenses have been paid. A tentative proposal calls for division of the monies between the municipalities and the state where the offense is a violation of local laws.

Fines imposed for violation of state penal laws shall be paid to the county and applied for library purposes. All costs in criminal cases will be paid to the state treasurer.

PARTIAL MODIFICATION
This proposal supported by the Michigan Justices of the Peace Association seeks to establish a county court system which will include one or more district courts in each county. District boundary lines will be fixed by the circuit court of each county. No court district may exceed an area of 144 square miles. Cities not having a municipal justice court, a municipal court, a court of common pleas or recorder's court may establish a district court. Since Livonia has a municipal justice court, it would not be affected.

The number of judges in each district will be prescribed by the county board of supervisors subject to a minimum based on population.

Where new judges have to be added or a vacancy occurs prior to an election, such appointments shall be made by the board of supervisors.

A candidate for district judge will have to be an elector and resident of the district in which he seeks election on a nonpartisan basis. He will have to pass a qualifying examination similar to that required of present justices of the peace. The proposed legislation contains a requirement of periodic in-service training for all district judges.

District judges will be paid a salary of $20,000 a year by the county. The district judge will also keep all fees for the performance of marriage ceremonies. An individual will be barred from practicing law while serving as a district judge.

Jurisdiction of the district courts under this plan would be in accordance with current law providing for existing local minor courts. One major change increases the jurisdictional amount from the current $300 to $1,000.

Unlike the plan submitted by the Joint Committee for Minor Court Reorganization, this proposal makes no change in the present appellate process. Hence, the additional step of appeal to the circuit court as required by existing law, will continue.

All fees received by the district court in civil and criminal cases will be paid to the county general fund except for the fees noted above, i.e., marriage fees, which will be retained by the district judge. Supposedly, court expenses and salaries will be paid from these fees by the county. However, it is questionable if the fees will be adequate to meet expenses, particularly the judge's salary, in the more sparsely populated counties.

Local School Officials Named

Two district administrators and three new principals were approved by the Wayne Community Board of Education last week.

The new faces in the district which includes most of Westland are:

AL L. ROLLINS, coordinator of federal and state programs, previously attendance officer for the school district.

GARY B. NAVARRE, director of pupil personnel services, now diagnostician in the Wayne special education department.

PHIL BUEK, principal, was trained as an assistant intern at the Schweitzer Elementary School and served as a teaching assistant there.

OWEN CHEVRIE, principal, assistant principal intern at the Wilton and Kettering Elementaries and was assistant principal at Kettering during the past year.

SIGVARD DIETRICH, principal, trained as an assistant principal at the Elliott Elementary School and served as a teaching assistant at Monroe Elementary.

The three principals, recommended Supt. Harry Howard, will not be assigned to a specific school until next week.

The appointment of Rollins closed out a personnel controversy which figured during and after the June 12 school board election which saw two incumbents defeated at the polls.

Although several board members publicly favored Lynn Ehrle, a Wayne teacher for the post, the election of Rollins last week came with dispute although the two dissenting votes on the appointment were cast by board members Robert Reichard and Thomas Barrett.

Rollins, 30, the recommended choice of the school superintendent, received his bachelor of science degree in 1960 from Detroit Institute of Technology and his master's degree plus graduate credits toward an Education Specialist at Eastern Michigan University.

All of his school background of five years is in the Wayne district with the past three years as the attendance officer. He has been a teacher in the adult education program for three years, summer school for two years, and a director of the Wayne-Franklin Evening Program.

Married and the father of one child, Rollins and his family lives at 11320 Merced, Detroit.

Navarre, 33, of Ypsilanti, was recommended by Howard on the basis of his knowledge of the district; professional competence in the field; his wide interest in other pupil personnel services; and that he is working toward his doctorate, probably to be completed this summer.

"WE'RE PROUD OF 'EM," says Turner McFarland describing how he and his wife feel about their three sons in the service. They have another son, Bill, who will be 18 in October, and a daughter, Mrs. Larry Jenkins of Plymouth.

McFarland Boys Are Proud To Serve Their Country

The Turner McFarlands of 253 Blanche St. in Plymouth don't consider themselves super-patriotic. They just help their country when needed.

That's why McFarland served in the second world war, winning a silver star while he was at it. That's why three of McFarland's sons are in the service now, and the fourth is waiting to be called up when he becomes 18 in a few months.

Mr. and Mrs. McFarland say they find it pretty hard to watch television scenes of draft card burners and then think of their sons, Turner, who has just completed his advanced training in Virginia; Kenny in Vietnam; and Charles in Germany.

Turner, the oldest is 22, and Charles, the youngest, is 19. All three joined the army within the last year and a half.

"I'm proud of my boys," said McFarland, who works for Associated Spring. "The job has got to be done, and they're doing it. It's not easy. I know what they're going through."

"They're good boys," added Mrs. McFarland, "and every one of them had to give up a good job to serve their country for two years. But it's just something they have to do."

And the boys are all giving their best to the job. Kenny recently received a National Defence Medal, and a battle campaign ribbon. His marksmanship was written up in "Stars and Stripes."

Kenny's letters home tell about the hard, dirty life of the infantryman.

"The infantryman, who knows he is going home in a year can rot in the jungle before that day arrives," Kenny quotes from an army paper.

"Once he is assigned to a line company here, he is assured of one thing and one thing only: If he lives he will go home in a year; otherwise, once he is plunged into the jungle, he is lost from civilization. He disappears just like the Viet Cong."

"That's the truth," writes Kenny in his letter. But he's proud of the job he's doing and the medals he has earned.

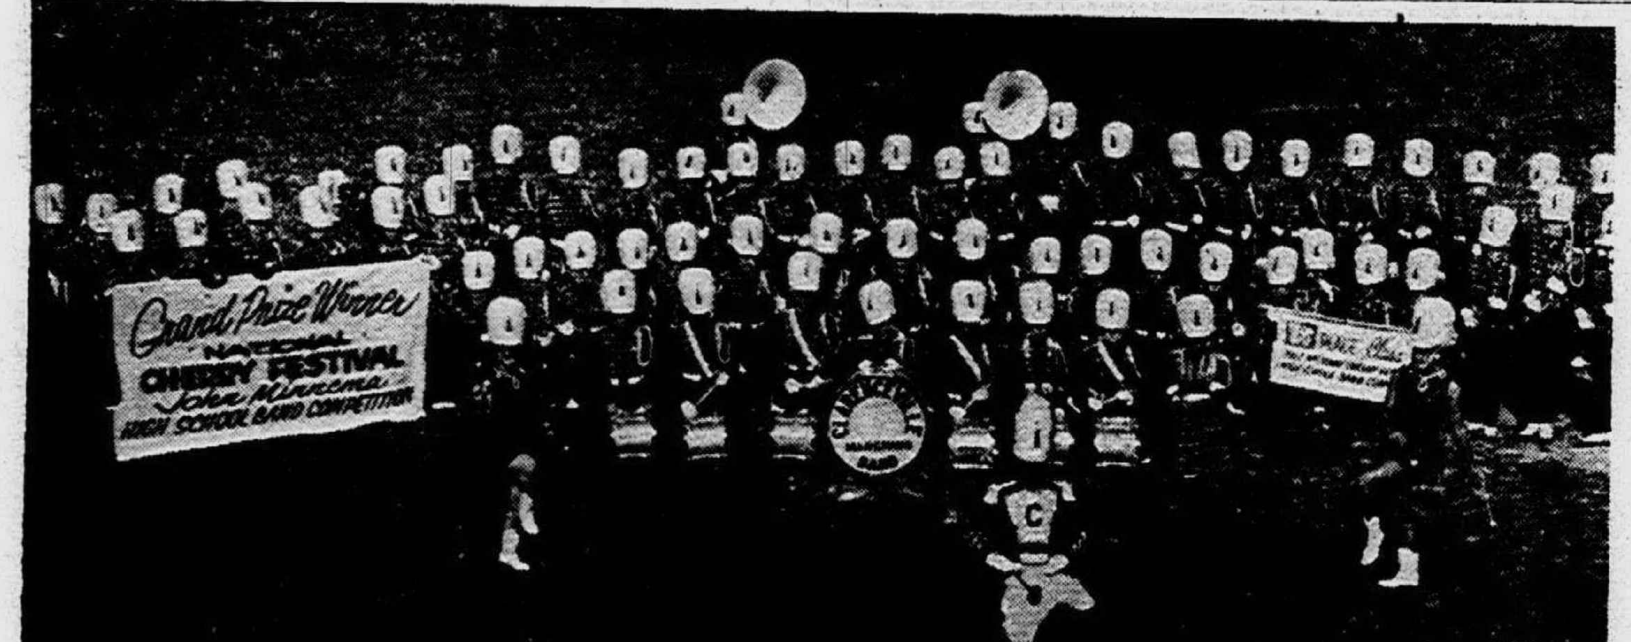

Now Bill, who isn't quite 18, and reads the other boys' letters knows his turn will be coming up soon.

"I'm not looking forward to it," he says, "but I know I'll serve. Those kids who burn their draft cards and go to Canada are just no good."

"My boys aren't any better than anybody else," said McFarland. "I don't want them to try and get out of serving their country."

No, none of the McFarlands think of themselves as heroes, only people who are proud to be Americans, and are willing to show it.

State Cash Speeds College Building

Start of construction this summer on a physical education plant for Schoolcraft College seemed virtually assured this week, following approval by the Legislature of an appropriations bill that includes state funding for the facility.

Schoolcraft President Dr. Eric J. Bradner said a request for bids would probably be made before the end of July and that construction could start as early as late August.

The project has been marking time pending approval of the appropriation by the Legislature. Earlier this year, the college was unsuccessful in its application for a federal grant which would have spread the cost of the project among local funds, the state and the federal government.

In mid-May, after construction plans had been completed, trustees of the college authorized a request for bids as soon as official notification of the availability of state funds was received. Such notification is expected momentarily, Dr. Bradner said.

The facility, expected to cost in the neighborhood of $2 million, will now be funded in part by local money from a $3 million bond issue sold by the college last November, and in part by state capital construction money.

The appropriations bill, approved by the Legislature on July 1, allocated $1,178,500 for the Schoolcraft project, with an initial payment of $225,000 this year.

If construction is started this summer, it will mark the second major development project to get underway in 1967 on the Haggerty Road campus.

A 32-room building was started in April. It is expected to be complete by July, 1968.

According to Architect Eberle M. Smith, whose firm designed the physical education plant, construction will take about 18 months. Such a schedule will make the facility available about February, 1969.

Schoolcraft has been without a physical education plant of its own since it opened in 1964. The college's health, recreation and physical education program has been conducted in gymnasiums, swimming pools and other facilities leased by the college within the college district.

The new plant will include a main gymnasium, an auxiliary gym, a swimming pool, wrestling room, handball courts, classrooms, faculty offices and other facilities for a complete program on campus.

It will be constructed on a site at the south end of the campus and will close off a quadrangle to be formed by itself, the existing library and Forum, and the new classroom building now going up.

Athletic and playing fields, to be developed in the next stage of the college's master development plan, will adjoin the physical education building to the east, along the proposed route of Interstate-275.

Hayden Named Comptroller At Bumper Plant

Joseph J. Hayden, who has handled special assignments in the Financial Department of the Chevrolet Motor Division Central Office here, has been named resident comptroller at the Chevrolet Spring & Bumper plant at Livonia.

He succeeds Donald W. McCue, who was transferred to Chevrolet's Willow Run assembly facility in a similar capacity.

Hayden has held various financial and supervisory positions since joining Chevrolet in 1936. From 1942 until 1946 he served as a lieutenant aboard U. S. Navy landing craft in the Pacific.

He was made assistant resident comptroller at the Chevrolet-Cleveland transmission and pressed metal plants in 1954 and was promoted to resident comptroller at the division's truck body and stamping plant in Indianapolis in 1962. The following year he was transferred to the Atlanta assembly plant in the same capacity. Since 1965 Hayden has done special studies at Central Office.

A native of Marshfield, Wis., he and his wife, the former Mary Jane Dudley of Janesville, have four children. They reside at 31758 Cross Bow, Birmingham.

McCue, a native of Janesville, Wis., joined Chevrolet as an accountant at the division's assembly plant in that city in 1933. He held various clerical and supervisory positions at the Janesville facility until 1948, when he was appointed a traveling auditor.

From 1961 until 1963 McCue held the post of resident comptroller at the Chevrolet Engineering Center in Warren. He was named to his Livonia assignment in 1963.

McCue is a graduate of Notre Dame University, class of 1933. He is married to the former Christine Bier of Janesville. They reside at 3655 Paddington Road, Troy.

He was active in the Chamber of Commerce in Livonia.

Schoolcraft Sends Vice President To Finance Study

W. Kenneth Lindner, vice-president for business affairs at Schoolcraft College, was one of four directors of a two-week workshop in community college accounting and finance at Michigan Technological University, Houghton, July 10-21.

House Stages Hearings On Sweepstakes, Tax

State Representative J. Harold Stevens (R-Detroit), Chairman of the House Committee on Revision and Amendment of the Constitution, has expanded the committee's July 31 public hearing on proposed constitutional amendments.

Stevens said that a resolution proposing a five per cent ceiling on the state individual income tax, has been added to the agenda for the morning session of the hearing.

The Senate passed the resolution and, if approved by a two thirds vote in the House, the tax limit would be put to a popular vote.

A similar proposal to place a constitutional ceiling on the income tax, House Joint Resolution Y, has been tabled in the House and is also still eligible for passage.

The hearing in the State Supreme chamber in the Capitol building, will hear arguments to allow gubernatorial appointment to judicial vacancies, prohibit incumbency designations for judges, and legalize lotteries and sweepstakes.

A morning session on the judicial and income tax ceiling proposals will begin at 10 a.m. The afternoon session, scheduled for 2 p.m., will deal with the lottery and sweepstakes proposals.

DPW News And Notes

By Supt. Ken Vogras

This week there were four funerals at Riverside Cemetery and mowing, trimming and cleaning was continued. Also, mowing was continued at the city parks, playgrounds and on vacant city property and started on private property that has not been taken care of prior to July 1.

Checking for Dutch elm disease is still being done by the State Agriculture Department with the assistance of a city employee. All creek tubes were checked and cleaned. Street signs were repaired and replaced at various places.

The bandshell was set up for the band concert and following this the shell was closed until needed again.

Cold patching was done throughout the city and scurfing and grading was done on Harding Street. Home products signs were removed. Temporary patches in the streets were dug out and later filled with asphalt and rolled to make a permanent repair.

Poison ivy was requested to be removed on Hamilton St., this was a neighborhood nuisance.

A broken water main was repaired at Main and Wing Streets and one stop box moved back to the property line.

Schwartz received the B.S. degree in 1956 and the M.S. in 1967 from MSU. The topic of his master's thesis was "Effects of Durations of Temperature on the Rooting of Tulips."

Whitman Named PCA Treasurer After 11 Years

Carl E. Whitman, assistant treasurer and tax counsel, has been named treasurer of Packaging Corporation of America. The corporation has a plant in Plymouth.

The announcement was made by W. J. Wakefield, senior vice president responsible for a number of major areas of company activity, including that of treasurer.

Whitman joined Packaging Corporation in 1956 as a member of the Treasury Department after two years of private law practice. He became a member of the Law Division in 1961, and Assistant Treasurer and Tax Counsel in 1964.

School Board Finds Bids Below Estimates

family next door pays the same rate with a family of 10. Yes, I'd say we have a real water problem."

The problem in Plymouth, U.S.A., is whether the City should contract for the use of Detroit water. This would bring an increased rate, leave the city with considerable bonded indebtedness for the present water system, but probably end the numerous complaints about the hardness of the water which now comes in from wells.

The problem of unification isn't as difficult to solve in England as in the Plymouth community.

"We had two suburbs that we wanted to add to the city," pointed out the Lord Mayor. "We needed them and they needed us. We had advantages they could acquire without becoming a part of the City. They had a difference in rates that

Too Fast—Too Slow

Remember the tortoise and the hare? Both would be chumps in today's highway traffic. The Institute of Safer Living says: Don't travel too fast for prevailing road or street conditions. You may lose the race with death. On the other hand, don't be a turtle and obstruct the flow of traffic. Too fast—too slow—somebody's sure to get hurt.

appeared to pose a real problem.

"However, in England the question of annexation is presented to a governmental board set up for just such issues. If the Board decides it would be for the benefit of all to annex, then that is the decision. If the Board says 'no,' then that's the final answer.

"Fortunately for we of the City of Plymouth, the Board cast an affirmative vote and the two suburbs became part of the city. We are in the process of gradually increasing the rates in the two annexed suburbs so that within three years the residents there will be paying the same rates as in the City."

It was suggested that such a system should be used in Plymouth, where the question of unification of the City and Township probably won't be answered for years despite the recommendations and findings of the study that is now underway.

His Worship only smiled when the suggestion was made. His unification fight is over — that in the United States counterpart in Michigan is just beginning.

NFMC to Spend Day With Top Musicians

ROCHESTER — Some 60 women from throughout Southern Michigan will spend a day getting acquainted with the music and musicians of Meadow Brook during the National Federation of Music Clubs' "First Official Day" at the famed festival and school July 22.

Those attending will hear talks by the men who keep Meadow Brook moving, sit in on student and Detroit Symphony Orchestra rehearsals, and cap their activities at the evening Meadow Brook concert.

Official hostess for the day will be Mrs. Raymond Reece, 608 W. Woodland, Ferndale, newly elected Michigan Federation of Music Clubs president. Mrs. Ralph R. Curtis, 2020 Nobel Road, Addison Township, is chairman of the event.

Arriving on the Oakland University campus at 10 a.m., the women will have a choice of three morning activities. They can attend rehearsals of the Meadow Brook Chorus or Meadow Brook Orchestra or take a walking tour of the OU campus.

Other special guests expected to attend include Sixten Ehrling, music director of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra; Robert Shaw, music director of the Choral and Orchestral Institutes at the Meadow Brook School of Music; Meadow Brook soloist Van Cliburn; and James D. Hicks, Meadow Brook Music Festival manager.

The luncheon in Oakland Center will be followed by a concert of scholarship students at the school of music. From 4 to 6 p.m., the women will attend a rehearsal of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in the Howard C. Baldwin Memorial Pavilion.

After supper on Trumbull Terrace, they will have an opportunity to browse in the Scholar Shop before the evening performance. The concert will feature Van Cliburn playing the Rachmaninoff Piano Concerto No. 3.

This is the first year that the four-year-old Meadow Brook Festival has been designated by the national organization for an official visit by its members.

FARC Draws Kids For Tiger Game

Approximately 235 youngsters from Farmington's southern playground sites cheered the Tigers on to victory over the Boston Red Sox July 8.

An added feature of the day was the annual Tiger-Son baseball game in which the boys walloped their dads 12-0.

Children of the north section playgrounds will see the Tigers in action Saturday, July 22. Buses will load from 11:15 to 11:45 a.m. and arrive back at the playgrounds an hour after the conclusion of the game. Children are instructed to bring a lunch.

Many prizes for the FARC Field Day, set for Friday, July 28, are being donated by area merchants according to the director, Evans Bageris. Registration in the FARC program continues to climb, although commission officials do not expect the total to equal last year's. Cold weather has hampered many activities. A trip to Detroit's Historical Museum has been planned for the next rain-out swim date.

Tests Start July 20 . . .

Schoolcraft Calls Students Aug. 8

Students planning to apply for admission to Schoolcraft College as regular students this fall, were reminded this week that the deadline for completing the application procedure, including the college counseling test, is Tuesday, Aug. 8.

The reminder came from Director of Admissions Barbara Geil, who also announced the schedule for the counseling test which is required of all applicants.

Test dates have been set for Thursday, July 20, at 7 p.m.; Saturday, July 29, at 8 a.m.; and Saturday, Aug. 5, at 8 a.m. The tests will be given in the Lois L. Waterman Campus Center.

Application forms include a test date reservation blank, Miss Geil explained. The test will not be given after the Aug. 5 date, she said. Applicants will have until Aug. 8 to complete other requirements of the application procedure.

Students who do not wish to apply for regular status may enroll in a limited number of courses in the evening program without going through the regular admissions procedure, Miss Geil explained.

These students need only to come to the college during the fall registration period, Aug. 28 through 30, she said.

Young Vandals Hit Bulldozer on Hill

Workmen are making progress removing a mountain of blue clay from a prospective skating site at the rear of Jefferson School despite harassment by vandals.

DPW Director Robert A. Shaw said Lind Asphalt Co. reported $1,200 damage to its equipment in one week-end.

Instruments on a bulldozer were smashed, sand was poured into the hydraulic system and one juvenile was nabbed dismantling fittings with a pipe wrench.

"The parents petitioned for the removal of the hill," Shaw said. "We should have gotten petitions from the kids, too."

Idled Train Stalls Traffic

Traffic on Farmington Road was held up for about a half hour Wednesday afternoon when a train stalled on the C & O railroad tracks.

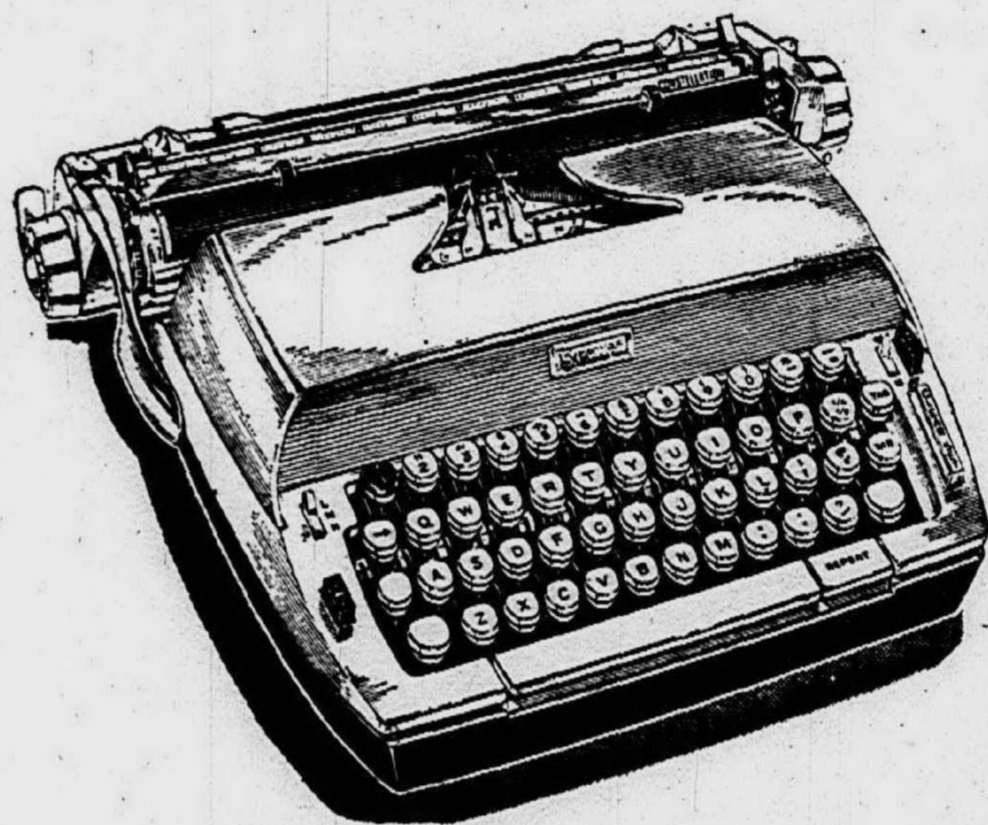

A broken air line automatically set the brakes, and the engine was unable to pull the cars. Traffic backed up to Schoolcraft and Plymouth Roads.

Livonia police shut off northbound traffic at Plymouth and southbound traffic at Schoolcraft. They finally split the train in order to clear the road.

Redford Twp. Police Present Their Views

Editor:

It was with much interest that I read your recent editorial concerning "No Union—No Work Tactics." We agree with the basic premise of your editorial, which seems best summed up in your paragraph: "All governments, representing all taxpayers, should not give away the rights of each citizen."

But beyond this innocuous statement, the rest of the piece seems to stumble along on impertinencies, innuendo and self-serving rhetoric which doesn't really say very much, especially with regards to truth and fact.

Take first the headline: "Redford Township Voters Should Stop No Union — No Work Tactics." Who in the world said anything about not working? Sure, our association is asking for a so-called "union shop," but nowhere in our budget proposal do we make any threats about not working.

If you had read our proposal at all, and it seems rather evident that you hadn't, you would have read this statement at the very beginning of that document: "We desire to discuss the following topics and included thereunder you will find our requests relative to each described topic. We will anticipate bargaining collectively with you on each of these matters."

That doesn't sound very threatening to me and it certainly doesn't indicate that we're going to refuse to work if we don't get our way. We're policemen, sir, and we place our obligation toward the fulfillment of that duty second to nothing.

Another disturbing statement: "How many potential public employees will not accept public service because they believe that membership in a union requires more meetings to attend, money paid out in tribute to union leaders who have achieved a sinecure?"

Your use of the word "sinecure" is at best curious but aside from that let me state clearly that officers of this association receive no salary for their work, no remuneration of any kind. Some tribute.

Further, you repeatedly refer to the Redford Township Police Officers Association as a "union." I don't know if that is intended as a barb or not but I prefer to think that it isn't for I am sure that you are well acquainted with the many other facets and interests of our association, including our contributions to the community and to charity and to the intelligent pursuit of a sometimes slippery objective—a modest but dignified, sufficient and fair place in the social spectrum of the community for the men who serve it.

There isn't a man on this department who isn't frequently and sometimes daily called upon to place his life on the line because, simply, that is his job. We neither seek nor desire any accolades, hero medals or merit badges. Each of us is a policeman for a reason buried deep inside each man and many of the men on this department joined in a day when they earned little more than a newspaper carrier makes today.

But we do ask that we be given a chance to earn a decent living in the process; that we be given the opportunity to provide our families with at least some of the comforts enjoyed by those around us—and we ask that these requests be given a fair hearing by fair men. We issue no ultimatums.

It is my feeling that we have something special here in Redford Township—something that we should not let slip away through petty bickering and gross misunderstanding. We have a fine community and a fine government.

We do not have to take second billing to any around us. We are proud of the department we work for, the men who lead it, the township we live in, the people we have as neighbors. We hope the day never comes when that pride begins to fade. It need not.

Editor:

Being one of thousands of loyal American citizens of Canadian birth, I was surprised that the Observer Newspapers would print such an insulting editorial as the one in this week's issue.

I was always under the impression that, to be an editorial writer, you had to be dry behind the ears, and have at least the equivalent of a third grade education.

From the Publisher's Desk OBSERVATION POINT

By Philip H. Power

You're not supposed to talk about it.

Not out here in the cool, clean, white suburbs.

Particularly not during this long, hot summer, when Negro riots are tearing the cities around this country to bits.

No, you're not supposed to talk about it.

But they're still shooting in Newark, New Jersey, and they don't know when it will stop. Twenty-five dead so far. Who knows how many it will be when it's over . . . in Newark.

Then it will go somewhere else: Senseless, insane, terrifying shooting.

Watts. Tampa. Boston. Cincinnati. Newark.

And the list goes on.

People—human beings are shooting other people just because they happen to be firemen, trying to put out a fire. A 12-year-old kid was killed in Newark over the weekend, when he happened to be putting out some trash for his mother and got caught in a cross fire.

No, you're not supposed to talk about it.

But if you're not going to talk about it, what are you going to do?

Ignore it and hope it will go away?

Not on your life. Not with our great cities festering with the slime and sweat of slums and Negro ghettos.

You don't ignore 10 or 20 million people who are mad and who also happen to have guns.

So what do you do?

You can attack them on editorial pages of newspapers for being absolutely nuts. You can say that riots and violence don't ever settle anything.

Then you sit back and listen for the great silence. For the people who are rioting don't read editorial pages, and the people who do read editorial pages don't riot.

You can say "Let's beat their brains in. Teach 'em respect for law and order."

So then you get both sides doing the shooting, and even more people getting killed.

The Human Relations Commissions have tried, but haven't been all that effective so far.

But, still, you're not supposed to talk about it. Not here.

So why do they riot and loot and burn and destroy and kill?

On Monday, the Detroit News ran a piece by a man from the Associated Press, A. F. Mahan, which tried to get at one side of the problem.

He wrote: "The No. 1 generator of hostility among Negro adults in Michigan is often the Negro's inability to buy a house he can afford in the area of his choice."

That's a big part of the problem.

But do you ever hear it discussed, openly and rationally, out here in the suburbs?

No.

Why not?

Because some people believe the longer you don't talk about it, the less likely it is to happen.

Because some other people are afraid that if they talk about it, they'll be called nigger-lovers and forced out of town.

That's too bad. Because the only way to dispel fear and hatred is to make an attempt to talk and reason and come to grips with the problem.

They didn't do too much talking in Newark.

Not until it was too late. Are we going to wait that long?

Remember Your Harmonica Days?

A while ago, I caught one of those early World War II movies on the telly very late at night. You could tell it was made in the early part of the war because (1) its tone was patriotism rather than Freudian psychology and (2) a kid played the harmonica.

A harmonica! How many years has it been since people played the harmonica?

A bit later, I bumped into the "Harmonica Kittens," a dozen gentlemen and ladies from the Plymouth senior citizens organization ranging in age from 63 to 80-plus. They had harmonicas of all shapes and sizes, and they had a whale of a good time.

So did I, and so will any group which wants to hear them and contacts Mrs. Florence Gould, the coordinator and commentator. They play by ear and ad-lib—perhaps "improvise" is the more sophisticated jazz-generation term. Anyway, you'd love 'em.

Finally, just a couple of weeks ago, Time Magazine reported that Larry Adler, the concert harmonica player, getting busy in the United States again after a self-imposed political exile broken only occasionally during the last 18 years.

RCA Victor has signed Adler to a recording contract, and he will wax four harmonica concertos, among other things; he recently made his first appearance in 20 years with the New York Philharmonic; last month he appeared on the "Mike Douglas Show" on television.

Moreover, he is composing—and teaching.

Maybe the harmonica will make a comeback. It came part way back several years ago, when the "Harmonicats" were popular, but that was an entertainment fad.

No, the kind of comeback the harmonica needs is a popular comeback, a people's comeback, where you play it yourself.

The harmonica has some limitations. Unless you get a rather fancy instrument, you have to stick to the keys of C-major and A-minor, and you don't have a B-flat tone on the simpler instruments. That limits you in the playing of more modern songs, with their minor and seventh chords and subtle shadings.

But who needs all those minor and seventh chords and subtle shadings? All that is available in Defense Department statements.

The harmonica ought to be brought back by respectable people, good and hard, before the hippies get hold of it.

This Is The Week That

... By Don Hoenshell

It will be maybe a generation or two before the nation that discovered electricity and the cure for polio makes sense out of county government.

County government, of course, is archaic, dating from English common law when the nation and state were rural and needed guidance. Cities then were the centers of commerce in a wilderness.

Now, with a fraction of agriculture the farmer can keep the nation in food and the ratio has been turned. Three out of four people live in cities or in urban centers, like Observerland.

But county government hangs on, like your appendix and tonsils—almost useless except as a means to keep doctors in Cadillacs and station wagons.

The Wayne County Apportionment Commission charade of recent days makes it all a truism.

It adopted a 26-district plan for Wayne County to meet a July 13 deadline with the pious hope that the United States Supreme Court will upset the state constitution and its own hallowed precedent.

Consider this, folks.

On May 8, State Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley wrote a Dear Jim letter to Secretary of State James M. Hare stating the state law which created county apportionment commissions is unconstitutional.

Not binding, you say, and you're right.

But before that the Michigan Supreme Court, by a vote of 5-2-1 followed the reasoning of Justice Harry F. Kelly in an advisory opinion to Gov. Romney which, after pages of fascinating prose, said:

"My answer to the governor: The constitutional (Michigan) provision is valid and, therefore, PA 1966, No. 261, is not."

OK, so an advisory opinion of the Supreme Court is not binding either, just a bunch of lawyers giving advice to the governor of the state. An Appeals Court case is pending.

The first case is now before the United States Supreme Court, which has a policy.

It is that a Federal question must be involved for it to upset a state constitutional provision. In Michigan, then, the policy says the United States will not upset this:

That every township must be represented by a member of the Board of Supervisors. Great triumph for the Michigan Supervisor's Association and let's hear it for the Court House Gang.

The 26-member plan in Wayne County is thus shot full of holes.

Just Who Are Dems?

There's more nonsense than sense in the action of the Plymouth Township Board, approving the recommendation of Supervisor John McEwen that ousted Irving Rozian, longtime member of the Planning Commission and twice its chairman, from that Board.

Rozian has long been one of the most respected members of the Commission and was a leader in the abortive fight to get the State Highway Department to change its proposed extension of M-14 through the Township.

There was an indication that Supervisor McEwen failed to recommend Rozian because of the latter's Democratic Party leanings. Perhaps the same reason could be suggested for the removal of Township Attorney Earl Demel after 27 years.

Which brings one face to face with the facts of what makes a Republican or Democrat in Plymouth Township.

Supervisor McEwen has twice run for office in the Township on the Republican ticket, winning a term as clerk and his present term as supervisor. We don't suppose it will open any eyes when we remind all that McEwen was employed in the City-County building for 30 years—during a period when a Republican never held office. He also was a prime booster of Gov. John Swainson, his next door neighbor on Gov. Bradford in the Township—as we recall, Swainson was a Democratic Governor.

Trustee Ralph Garber, who cast one of the votes to oust Rozian, was chief assistant prosecutor of Wayne County for 25 years. Again during a period when none but Dems ruled the roost. He's a Republican member of the Township Board, just as all others.

School Tax Picture Outlined By Wayne Superintendent

Although efforts are still being made to equalize the burden of public school support, property owners may still have to carry their share, said Wayne Community School Supt. Harry Howard, whose district includes most of Westland.

He pointed this out last week in a prepared statement which outlined the benefits and lack of answers to public schools contained in the recently adopted fiscal reform program adopted by the State Legislature.

Howard also said that legislators representing the communities in the Wayne School District are still trying to obtain the most favorable state aid package for public schools.

In his statement, Howard said: "The problem of State Aid for schools is one which the legislature battles down to the wire each year. This year, even with Fiscal Reform, is no exception. As of this date no State Aid Bill for the 67-68 school year has been passed.

"The tax package as passed by both Houses provides for approximately $302.5 million in taxes to be repealed or reduced. The new net revenue for this fiscal year then becomes $239.1 million. There is not money allowed in this package at this date by the legislature for additional improvement to the school aid formula.

"The sliding scale property tax relief which the legislature has provided sounds good. I am sure that all local taxpayers will be happy to participate in this tax relief.

"It does not solve the basic problem of the person living in our community who has a $16,000 home and who pays a $400 per year tax bill, and the person who lives in another community which because of its wealth can afford to provide a tax rate which will produce only $400 in taxes on a $30,000 home. Within this problem lies a portion of a dilemma.

"James Tierney, Vincent Petitren and Senator William Faust have all advocated more State Aid to distressed districts such as ours. They have put forth much effort in both Houses to explain the needs of districts such as ours. With a state wide average of 18 mills for operating it is very difficult to get other areas to be concerned about our 30.6 mills for operation.

"The many varied interests of representatives in the legislature make it very difficult for the various elements to reach compromises which help the low valuation districts. The legislature has, in many cases in the past, merely added to the State Aid formula which does not correct the basic problem of inequities in distribution.

"Now with fiscal reform a reality we still find our school system faced with the usual financial problem. An attempt was made to give schools an eight per cent tax increase which would have made it possible for them to hold their own in relation to last year. That attempt has been defeated.

"Our local representatives are now trying hard to get at least a five per cent increase which we know will hardly keep pace with the increased cost of living. For example in the past year the Bureau of Labor Statistics Cost of Index has gone up four points. This does not take into consideration improvements in programs, expansion due to increased enrollments and opening of new facilities. In short, what I am saying is that our problems are still with us.

"The long range outlook for improvement in the fiscal picture for the schools in Michigan is probably most dependent at present on the study which the legislature put into motion a little over a year ago. A report is to be made to the legislature this September 1967. It is hoped that some meaningful way of distributing funds will be found so that those districts needing it most get the necessary funds from the State to operate quality programs.

"In the Wayne Community School District the public has insisted on quality programs and have consistently gone to the polls and voted for additional millage. This is reflected in the 30.6 mills at present for operating. Until this study is completed and hopefully some new method of distribution of funds is brought about, there seems to be no other way except for us to lift ourselves up by the bootstraps. Meanwhile the 1,400 employees of the district feel and rightly so, that they should be in line for advances in income the same as any other employee. Also the demands by parents, and rightly so, for improvements in programs to continue.

The most recent action of the legislature would indicate that we will still have to meet these costs at home. We must work together, the public, the staff and Board of Education to be sure that regardless of the outcome of this struggle that our children are not short changed. They have only this opportunity and cannot call back even one year of curtailed program and replace it with knowledge needed in today's market place."

HULA DANCERS surrounding an open pit used for cooking a feast for a Hawaiian Luau was part of the Westland Parks and Recreation special events schedule last week at the McKee Elementary School. The young girls wore a variety of grass and paper skirts for the event.

Ex-servicemen Offered A.F. Training

The Air Force will open its technical training schools for men and women of any service branch who have had previous active duty service, announced Sgt. Daniel M. Schingeck, Air Force Recruiter in Garden City.

He said that the move, first of its kind in several years, means that many who have separated from the armed forces will now be eligible to return and receive Air Force technical training in fields such as electronic digital repair work and automatic tracking radar repair.

Sgt. Schingeck said that upon determination that a man is eligible for the new program, he can immediately apply for any one of the 37

Air Force technical training courses. Under the program, once a prior serviceman is selected for a school, he bypasses basic training and is assigned directly to technical training. After completion, he goes direct to his duty assignment at one of more than 100 bases.

The recruiter also said that the new program will operate on a "first-come, first-served" basis. Sgt. Schingeck is available for interviews at 6228 Middlebelt Road, Garden City, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. every Tuesday and Thursday during the summer.

Branch of Cancer Group Underway In 2 Cities

A new branch of the American Cancer Society will open for the Garden City-Westland communities on a year-round basis with the two chairmen issuing a call for volunteers.

Heading the local branch are Mrs. Betty Isaacson, of 33235 Hennepin, Garden City, and Mrs. Ida Bennett, of 8555 Berwick, Westland.

Mrs. Isaacson stressed the need for volunteers to help make the branch a success. She pointed out that chairmen are needed in the following American Cancer Society areas:

Service, including information and counseling, loan and gift services, dressing, comfort materials, sickroom supplies, and transportation.

Education, covering contact with the public through films and literature, at their place of employment, organizational meetings and study places, and Crusade, which includes special gifts, fund drives in the residential, trades and industry, legacies and memorials, and special events.

"The need is great for those who need it," Mrs. Isaacson said. "The branch would give help to many persons who need it but do not know how or who to contact to receive these services."

She also said that the Garden City Chamber of Commerce has given her permission to have a booth during the July 27-29 Roaring 20's event to sell old records at 50 cents each to help finance the new branch.

Interested persons may call Mrs. Isaacson at GA 2-4759.

People May Forget Money, But The State Remembers

By Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley

(This is a public service article explaining in general terms a provision of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult a private attorney.)

What happens to the money that people forget?

A student of human nature might expect that individuals may tend from time to time to forget or neglect to pay bills or other obligations owed by them.

He would be surprised, however, to learn that each year millions of dollars represented by bank accounts, bonds, dividends, stocks, as well as paychecks and other property rights, are forgotten and unclaimed by the persons entitled to such property throughout the United States.

Sometimes, there are bizarre situations, like the man who inexplicably left his residence in a large city in Michigan, moved to the woods of northern Michigan. He ultimately died in apparent poverty many years later, having ignored a substantial bank account as well as a safe deposit box containing thousands of dollars in bonds, which he had left behind in the city.

Generally, the property forgotten or ignored has only nominal value. At times, however, the amounts are substantial, and it is strange that the owners have apparently disregarded it or evidenced no pecuniary interest in protecting their rights in such property.

Under Michigan Law, property is presumed abandoned and subject to escheat or lapses to the State after being unclaimed, uncalled for or abandoned (no control or claim made for it) for seven years by the person entitled to it.

The law provides that any person, corporation, bank, or other holder of property, having possession, custody or control of property of another person and concerning which property the person entitled to it, has ceased, failed or neglected for a period of two years to exercise dominion or control over his property or to assert a right of ownership or possession, or to make presentment and demand for payment and satisfaction, may divest himself of responsibility for such property by reporting the property with the Department of Treasury, Escheats Division, in Lansing, Mich., and be discharged from any further liability, accountability or responsibility.

In the event the holder does not voluntarily report and turn over the property after two year dormancy period, the law makes it mandatory that the holder, after seven year dormancy period, report such property on or before June 30 of each year to the department of Treasury, Escheats Division, or be subject to financial and other penalties.

States, rather than allow the bank, corporation or any other holder, or complete stranger to have a "windfall" by keeping such property, the State after required court proceedings takes custody and possession of the unclaimed, uncalled for or abandoned property.

The State may liquidate the property if it is other than money, and, together with any money escheated, holds the proceeds in trust for the lawful owner or his heirs; but during the interim period until it is reclaimed, the State has the use and benefit of it for general public purposes.

Some States provide that owners or heirs must reclaim the money within a limited number of years. In contrast, in Michigan, the right of the owner or his heirs to reclaim the property from the State is never cut off, regardless of the number of years that may have elapsed.

BOBBY GEIER, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Geier, 29972 Hathaway, is thanked by SFC Arthur Moon, Station Commander of the U.S. Army Recruiting Station, 16807 Grand River in Detroit, for assembling military models for the station. SFC Moon, also a Livonia resident, purchases the models and after Bobby assembles them, SFC Moon uses them for recruiting displays. Bobby was made an Honorary Army Recruiter for the day, and visited the Michigan Army Recruiting Headquarters where he met and visited with Lt. Col. Thomas Dinnis, Commanding Officer. He also received a guided tour of the headquarters and an orientation of the operation of the Army Recruiting Service.

Livonia Briefs State On Youth Program

The State of Michigan has been briefed on how Livonia goes about the business of helping youths find jobs, and employers find youths for jobs.

The information was sought by the office of Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken, for possible use in a youth employment program being considered by the state.

Mayor Harvey W. Moelke, a sponsor of Livonia's Youth Employment Service plan, discussed in 1962 and which became a reality in 1963, sent the service director to Lansing to explain the program in detail.

Mrs. Betsy T. Tagami did just that, adding the city's experiences in the supplemental employment service to other data collected by the state from other sources.

Let Mrs. Tagami, the salaried director, who operates the agency at City Hall with the help of a part time clerk, a part time secretary, and a volunteer trainee from high school, review the interview that may contribute to a statewide study and program.

She said: The Y.E.S. agency provides part or full time employment opportunities for young people between 15 and 22 residing in Livonia.

The office is sponsored by the Livonia Commission on Children and Youth. The 1967 budget is $12,000. Office hours are 10 to 5 daily, throughout the year.

The agency maintains close contact with the business community, cooperates with the public schools, participates in community functions, with the director appearing before service groups, attending conferences and seminars.

Last year the staff handled 606 new applications, referred 1,816 applicants of whom 1,352 were hired. Figures for the first half of 1967 were not furnished, but with the summer season here, the rush has started for seasonal jobs.

Mrs. Tagami also told the Lansing listeners:

"The Livonia Y.E.S. is the first municipal pilot project to be organized, structured, developed and financed as a community action program totally geared to one of the most serious and intricate problems facing our nation, that of providing our youth with the opportunity for practical work experience. In order to relate themselves objectively to the world of work, young people must first have the opportunity to be involved in a work situation and to further develop the attitudes and motivation which are inherent to this experience.

In October, 1962 Mayor Moelke discussed the problem of youth employment with the commissioners and suggested we investigate the possibility of structuring a part time summer employment program for local youth.

"The Youth Employment Service became a reality on June 12, 1963, in City Hall. Licensed by the State Superintendent of Private Employment Agencies as a non-fee charging employment bureau, Y.E.S. is entirely supported by city government. It is responsible to the commission.

"Procedures followed include: applications, interviewing, screening, job referrals, placement and job followup. The service provides social security applications, working permits, health card procedures and other pertinent data and employment information.

"Serving the local business and residential community, as well as business in the surrounding metropolitan Detroit and suburban areas, the service has provided at least one or more job referrals to 85 per cent of the young people currently registered.

"The high schools refer to the service all fulltime job opportunities which cannot be referrals from their own resources. The Y.E.S. refers all co-op employment opportunities for high school youth, in turn, to counselors.

"The service is instrumental in directing job opportunities to the special education counselors to facilitate the placement, wherever possible of the mentally and physically handicapped.

"To homeowners of the vicinity, Y.E.S. provides youthful workers who perform a number of services. To the businessman it means a constant supply of local talent for temporary or permanent employment. To the community, it means possibly the greatest contribution toward the prevention of juvenile delinquency developed by any city. To our youth, it means an opportunity to learn and earn in the world of work.

French Students Late But Welcome

It was a long wait, but it was worth it.

That was the almost unanimous opinion of the roughly forty families who spent most of Thursday morning in the Plymouth High School's cafeteria waiting for 37 French students to arrive.

The students were originally supposed to arrive in Detroit Wednesday evening, but at that time they were still in New York, waiting for a bus that didn't come.

By Thursday morning John Hopkins, a Plymouth High School French teacher who characterizes himself as "the middleman" in the situation, was exhausted. He hadn't slept more than two hours for several nights in a row, his phone bill had climbed to the $100 mark and still there were no students in sight.

The Observerland families, recruited through an article in The Observer, who waited Thursday morning at Plymouth High, seemed to be far more concerned about the welfare of the French students than their own inconvenience. They also hoped the students wouldn't be too tired, when they arrived, to see some of the sights in this part of the world.

Some of the American families had made plans to take their French students to Greenfield Village, or into Detroit.

In spite of the long wait, or possibly because of it, there was a lot of excitement when the students finally arrived at 1:30 Thursday afternoon.

Seven of the students will stay with their American families for several weeks. The other thirty were just here for one day on their way to the Chicago area or California.

"This isn't a program like the American Field Service exchange or the World Council of Churches program," Hopkins said. "This was done on a strictly one-to-one basis, with no financial or other backing from an established exchange group."

"Considering the vague information I was able to get from the two people involved in the French end of this trip, a wait of three hours wasn't so bad.

"Actually, I think the program has been a great success, and I'm sure the families who had students in their homes will agree."

Most of the French students are able to speak English, and some of the American families included French students, teachers, or persons with French backgrounds.

Mrs. Germaine Banks, for instance, was born and raised in France and came to Garden City twenty years ago as a war bride. She was thrilled when Hopkins told her that one of the young men coming with this group was from Brest. Mrs. Banks was born in a suburb of Brest and, needless to say, Hopkins immediately paired the Banks family and Denis Laurent, who will spend about four weeks in Garden City.

This particular experiment in international communication began as a discussion between Hopkins, his wife Marie-Claire and Mlle. Gilberte El-Malek, of Paris. Mlle. El-Malek is a cousin of Hopkins' wife, who came here from France.

Hopkins and Mlle. El-Malek, who teaches English in a French school, agreed that there should be more opportunities for French students

Four Area Women Named
UF Residential Chairmen

Four area homemakers have been named division chairmen for the Western Wayne residential campaign of the 1967 Torch Drive.

Their appointments were announced this week by Mrs. David Vincent, of Northville, chairman of the campaign's Region 34, which includes Northville, Livonia and Redford.

The new division chairmen are: Mrs. David L. Longridge, Jr., of Reed Avenue, Northville; Mrs. Nicholas J. Faber, of Milburn, and Mrs. Leroy H. Holland, of Oakley, both of Livonia, and Mrs. Carl H. Haakana, of Sioux, Detroit. "I am pleased and grateful these able, experienced volunteers have accepted leadership posts again this year," Mrs. Vincent said. "All have proved to be dedicated and enthusiastic workers in previous campaigns."

The Torch Drive will be held Oct. 17 through Nov. 9 to provide operating funds for nearly 200 health and community services. The goal will be announced early in September.

Responsible for organizing and training volunteers for the Northville residential Torch Drive volunteer "after seeing the United Foundation at work in my family." The Hollands lost an 8-year-old daughter, Robin, who was stricken with leukemia in 1963.

"But a Torch Drive service, the Children's Lukemia Foundation of Michigan, was so helpful to us," Mrs. Holland said, "that I wanted to repay our indebtedness."

For the last three years she has served as division chairman in the residential campaign. She also is active in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church.

Her husband manages the Livonia store of Beckwith-Evans Floor Coverings. They have a son, Mark, 9, and daughter, Lori, 8.

The division chairman for Redford Township, Mrs. Haakana, served as a Torch Drive district chairman last year.

She and her husband, an employe of Ford Motor Co., have three children: Kay, 15; Christine, 12, and Jean, 11.

PWP Elects
New Officers

The Livonia chapter of Parents Without Partners has recently elected new officers. They are: Louise Slowey, president; Marty Zaffer, vice president; Jessie Budeja, corresponding secretary; Jean Levitsky, treasurer, and Dorothy Gaabo, program chairman.

Parents Without Partners is an international, non-profit, non-sectarian educational organization devoted to the welfare and interest of single parents and their children.

Single parents, whether widowed, divorced, separated or never married, are welcome to attend meetings of the Livonia chapter.

The metropolitan chapters of PWP have scheduled a dinner dance Saturday, July 29, at Rosedale Park Community Building in Livonia. Tickets for the event may be obtained by contacting Dorothy Gaabo at GA 1-6353.

to visit the United States. After Mrs. Hopkins' cousin returned to France, little more was heard of a possible exchange program until a few weeks ago when Hopkins received a letter from a Father Jammes, in Paris.

The letter informed Hopkins that approximately 40 students would soon be arriving, to stay for periods ranging from one day to eight weeks. Hopkins appealed to The Observer for aid, and an article published two weeks ago brought him more responses than he had students to parcel out.

"Our real problem was that so many people had to be disappointed. In one case, a French girl who will be here for eight weeks is going to live with two different families," he said.

Altogether, there will be 11 French students living in Observerland for the next few weeks. In addition to the seven who arrived on the Thursday bus, two others will come this week and two brothers will arrive the first week of August.

The eleven lucky American families and their French guests are:

Dr. and Mrs. Sylvan Broadman, of Farmington—Jean-Pierre Boulu.

Mrs. Isabel Billings, of Redford Township — Nicole Chetrit.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Boyer, of Livonia — Michele Delorme.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Allan, of Livonia — Francois Lubrina.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Banks, of Garden City—Denis Laurent.

Dr. and Mrs. William Ross, of Plymouth — Annette Brisac.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Phillips, of Westland, and Mr. and Mrs. Vern Schilawski, of Plymouth — Francoise LeRoy.

Mr. and Mrs. Gale Harris, of Plymouth — Herve Hibon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Clements, of Plymouth — Denis LeMerle.

Dr. and Mrs. Jay Finch, of Plymouth—Jean-Pierre Bordaz.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Adams, of Plymouth—Remi Bordaz.

Catherine J. Kropf Becomes Mrs. James Robert Cooper

Catherine Jane Kropf and James Robert Cooper were married in the First Presbyterian Church of Plymouth.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Richard Kropf, of Plymouth, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cooper, also of Plymouth.

Dr. Henry J. Walsh heard the couple's vows.

For the double-ring ceremony the bride wore a floor-length gown of silk-lined peau de soie. Her silk illusion veil was secured by a row of lace petals, and she carried orchids and roses.

Mrs. J. G. Rucker, Jr., was her sister's matron of honor and bridesmaids included Deborah Rucker, the bride's niece; Mrs. Richard E. West and Miss Barbara Westfall.

They wore gowns of icy green and carried white daisies with ivy.

James Kropf, brother of the bride, was best man. William Weber, Robert Stewart and Robert Harvath seated guests.

Childbirth Films Slated July 24, 28

"Triumph of Childbirth," a documentary film, will be shown Monday, July 24, and Friday, July 28, in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, at 8 p.m.

Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church, Livonia, was the setting for the wedding of Jacalyn Ann Mauzy to Byron Douglas Byerly.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill G. Mauzy of West Chicago, Livonia, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling G. Byerly, of Watford City, N. D.

The Rev. Richard C. Dunkelberger performed the marriage ceremony.

The bride chose a gown of silk organza over taffeta, re-embroidered with Alencon lace. A chapel-length train and an elbow length veil held by a petal headpiece completed the costume. She carried a cascade of white roses.

Maid of honor was Claire Stenehjem, of Watford City. Bridesmaids were Mary Graham, of Marathon, Ont., and Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Lorenger, Jr., of Pipers Lane Court, Farmington, and the bridegroom are Mrs. Loyola Andler, of Olmsted Falls, O., and the late Edward J. Mularz.

The bride chose a gown of white organza, trimmed with lace, seed pearls and crystals, and highlighted by a chapel train. Her fingertip veil was held by a flowered crown and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Maid of honor was Christine Lorenger, of Brighton, a cousin of the bride. Jean Laverty and Margaret Ulbright were bridesmaids and Ruth Lorenger, the bride's sister, was junior bridesmaid. The bride's attendants

Women on the GO!

By Margaret Miller

The new president of the Plymouth Community School Board is a lady who makes love of education her way of life.

In fact, Esther Hulsing and her husband, Kenneth, make concern for Plymouth schools and children a family project, and have been doing so for quite a few years.

Esther is in her 14th year as a member of the school board, and her husband was there six years before her. She has been secretary since 1961, and last week was named to head the board for the coming year.

She also serves as president of the Huron Valley Council of Girl Scouts—and her interest in scouting stems largely from the fact that it "offers girls such wonderful educational possibilities."

In each club and organization in which she holds memberships, it's the educational committees and projects that interest her.

And, of course most important, Esther and Kenneth Hulsing have brought up three daughters who have earned degrees from major schools and gone on to graduate work.

So convinced are Esther and Kenneth Hulsing that education is reading, thinking, experiencing and understanding that they refused to have a television set in the house as their girls were growing up.

There still isn't a set in their lovely new home.

"I just don't have time to watch," explains Mrs. Hulsing. "I'm not anti-television, and I know there are many fine programs, but for me there are more interesting things to do."

"When the girls were in school, we encouraged them to participate fully in Girl Scouts and school activities.

And we took lots of family trips, so they saw first hand the places often shown on television."

That their system works can be seen in the scholastic records of Ann Hulsing, a graduate of Stanford University, and now Mrs. Tomothy Johnson and mother of 20-month-old Neil Johnson, Mary, who is Mrs. Del Fehrs and doing graduate work in physics after graduating from Wellesley College; and Susan, who will be married next month to David Brownlee about a week after completing work on her teaching certificate at Southern Connecticut College. Susan is a graduate of Wellesley, too, and has a master's degree in history from New York University.

Wedding plans are going on briskly, "and I've written her letters full of love-you's," her mother reports.

Mrs. Hulsing, like so many busy mothers, began her outside-the-home activities with the PTA, and has filled several offices with that group. She got into Girl Scout activities with the girls, and stayed on after them. Her present job entails planning Scout activities for the Huron Valley Council, particularly a capital fund drive to complete Camp Linden, the council's camp located in Livingston County.

She also is first vice president of the Plymouth branch of the American Association of University Women, and area representative in education for the AAUW. She belongs to the legislative committee of the Michigan Association of School Boards.

In her new school board post, she'll have a lot to say about the rapid growth of Plymouth's school system.

"The people of Plymouth have always been squarely behind their schools," Esther Hulsing says, "and I know they will continue to show the kind of interest that has made our system so fine."

If the dedication of this leader counts, they certainly should.

Griffiths Sets Goals For Women

Women high school graduates will work on the average 25 years outside their homes in the future, according to Martha W. Griffiths, Detroit Congresswoman, who spoke before the Bentley graduating class last week.

"Not many graduations ago, the speech was delivered mainly to the boys in the class," Mrs. Griffiths said. "They were urged on to be great financial successes. It was assumed that the girls, if any, would marry and that was that."

In addition to pointing to the changing role of women, Mrs. Griffiths commented on the zeal to protest, noting it may "plunge this county into chaos."

"Not because we question, nor simply because we deny the legitimacy of the old force and the old values. But because—in addition—we do not offer a substitute. We have not assumed personal responsibility for the maintenance of order."

She pointed to people who stand helpless while a murder is being committed, who never stop at an accident, who never see a crime.

"This grotesque ignoring of one another's needs cannot continue if the country is to survive," she added.

... the lack of concern for our fellow man is a relatively new thing in American life," Mrs. Griffiths concluded.

Mrs. Griffiths is currently U.S. Congresswoman from the 17th District in north-west Detroit. Before redistricting she served Livonians in the U.S. House of Representatives.

(Judith Olds)

Newlywed Fitrzyks Reside In Westland

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Julian Fitrzyk, of Detroit, and the late Mr. Fitrzyk.

For the double-ring ceremony the bride chose a slender empire sheath of crepe with bands of pearl lace encircling the skirt.

A crown of pearl and crystal held her elbow length bouffant veil. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, white and turquoise tinted carnations, stephanotis and baby roses.

Maid of honor was Diana Olds; Mrs. Hough Marshke was matron of honor.

Bridesmaids Sharon Parrish, Kaye Perish, Janet McCarthy, Elaine Zuzak, Vicki Moryc, Diane Gajewski and Guzik wore white chignon cage gowns, accented by turquoise Dior bows as head-pieces.

Male members of the wedding party were Bruce Mirto, Ken Olds, Richard Courtney, Richard Rosowski, Bill Gajewski, Dennis Gajewski, Peter Wasunyk, Tom Pawlak and Frank Veros.

Other members of the wedding party were flower girl Carol Priest and ring bearer Ricky Blackford.

The mother of the bride selected a pink suit with matching accessories and had a corsage of pink baby roses. The mother of the bridegroom wore a pink suit with white accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

Following a reception for 500, the couple left for a weekend at a Detroit hotel. They plan a honeymoon in Florida and the Bahamas in August.

The bride attended Western Michigan University and the bridegroom recently was graduated from the University of Detroit.

The couple will live in Westland.

City Aims To Move 'Eyesore'

Another step has been taken toward the removal of the Penniman Avenue "eyesore" by the City Commission.

It approved the obtaining of an option on what is known as the Davis property with the hope that the building can be razed and used as a parking area — or an entrance to a parking facility.

The option is for 90 days and the City Manager was upheld in his request that the City Attorney work out the necessary papers by which the property owners along the avenue pay 50 per cent of the cost.

Harold Fischer, area planning director, asked that a special assessment district be set immediately. The Commission decided, however, to have the contract papers signed first, figuring there would be plenty of time to work out the special assessment later.

Plymouth Jr. Baseball

Moving into the final week of the regular league season, the Plymouth Community Junior Baseball Leagues have tight two-team races in both the American and National divisions.

The White Sox and Orioles are tied for first in the American with identical records of 12 wins and five losses. They clash head-on in one of their three remaining contests.

The Dodgers have a game edge over the Red Legs in the National division with four games remaining.

Ron Willett, of the Orioles, is believed to have set a league record last week when he smashed three successive homers—each to a different field—in a single game.

Questions and Answers

What can be done to prevent cut avocados and prepared avocado dips from becoming discolored on the surface?

Sprinkle the surface of cut avocados with fresh lemon or lime juice. This will delay discoloration for a time. Or leave the seed in one cut half, put the halves together, and wrap them in plastic wrap or wax paper. Avocado preparations such as guacamole and dipping sauces should be coated with a light film of mayonnaise, and the bowl should be covered securely. Cut avocados, as well as preparations made from them, should be refrigerated.

Strasser Wins No. 1 After Test

City Engineer William J. Strasser today went back to his $14,934 job protected from a Council move to oust him by a new civil service status.

He passed an open competitive examination No. 1 in a field of eight, including one from New York and one from Chicago.

"Strasser took his chances," said Mayor Harvey W. Moelke. "It was wide open."

DPW Director Robert A. Shaw immediately sent the letter of certification to the Civil Service Commission as the appointing authority, ending months of controversy.

Assistant City Engineer G. E. Siemert finished No. 2 in the examination.

The Council in February voted to change the job from a mayor's appointment to a mayor's appointment to civil service, forcing Strasser to compete with other recruited in a nationwide campaign.

Strasser came under fire in charges by some councilmen that he was following the mayor's wishes in dealing with waivers sought by developers to restrictions.

"Nobody can say this was fixed (for Strasser)," Moelke said. "It was open and competitive. The examining board signed statements they had never met any of the applicants."

Strasser came to Livonia as a city engineer under a $15,000 a year contract six years ago, after his retirement after 33 years with the Wayne County Road Commission. He is 63.

Moelke traced the history of the conflict.

"It was initiated first because the Council wanted to get rid of Mr. Strasser," he said.

Shaw won approval of the first contract with Strasser by a 6 to 1 Council vote, the second by 5 to 2 and the third was referred to committee and rejected.

Strasser's new civil service salary will be $66 a year under his contract salary.

Under civil service regulations, all city employees must be residents. Strasser now lives in Dearborn and will have six months — with a possible extension — to comply.

"I'll have to move to Livonia now," he said.
