Friday 13th Is Their Lucky Day

The only Friday the 13th of 1971 will be a lucky day this week for an estimated 150 youngsters from the city's playgrounds, for it will bring a day-long picnic at Kensington Park.

Recreation Director Stanley Stenek said that the youngsters have been asked to assemble at the Central Junior High School parking lot at 9 a.m., and that playground supervisors will provide transportation for the outing.

Registrations are being conducted at the Hamilton, Auburn, Elm and Sutherland playgrounds operated by the city, and this will be their final event of the summer.

A full day of activities will be conducted by the supervisors and Bill's Market has donated enough hot dogs, buns and potato chips for all.

The only playground which will continue in operation after this week will be the downtown "tot lot" on Ann Arbor Trail, which will remain open until the weather becomes too cold to make it feasible, said Stenek.

Center Advances

A tentative plan for the programming of the youth activities center being developed in the former Mail & Observer Building, 271 S. Main, stresses the responsible participation of the young people involved.

Members of Youth Inc. already have done much to make the facility usable to their purposes, and fresh painting has given the building a new face.

In outlining general objectives, officials said this week that because of costs, priorities will be established for the various programs which are contemplated, based upon interest, funds and space allocation.

"ADDITIONAL activities will be initiated when interest is indicated by the youth of the community," it was stated. "Programs chosen will appeal to a wide variety of youth."

"Their diverse nature, ranging from skill development to intellectually appealing activities, will provide constructive activities that will interest all.

"We intend to design programs in cooperation with other groups in the community. Senior citizens as well as other civic groups are being contacted to determine their needs and interest in participating in the facility."

"Since most of the participation of young people will occur in the evening during the school year, the facility will provide an excellent daytime center for individuals and groups in need of such arrangements."

It is hoped to raise enough funds to support such activities as graphic arts, crafts, painting and drawing, games, darkroom for photography, dances, plays, a reading room and to establish a glass recycling center at the building.

Keep Your Oil Out Of Sewers

Deposits of oil and other polluting materials have been discovered in some city catch basins and storm sewers while being cleaned by DPW crews recently, Director Kenneth Vogras reported this week.

Vogras added that it is in violation of anti-pollution laws to get rid of such materials in this way.

He said that persons who wish to dispose of these materials will find barrels available at the DPW yard, 975 Arthur.

Festival's Booths Return To Park; Fete Due Sept. 9

For the second successive year, Plymouth's Fall Festival organization will experiment with a new alignment of the concession booths that are an integral part of the fete, and September will see them placed on the perimeter of Kellogg Park.

The brick walkway along Main Street will accommodate most of them, according to Festival Manager Tony Flum. If the demand for space from the many organizations sponsoring the booths is excessive, then the walks along Ann Arbor Trail and Pennington may be used.

For many years, the booths were located inside the park, but redsoiling of the area led to a "save the grass" attitude by city officials last year and so the booths in 1970 were assigned to spaces on Union Street. The public's response was less than enthusiastic.

Festival President Joe West and the board of directors are hopeful that the 1971 pattern will be satisfactory to all, bringing the booths back into the heart of things but still not creating unnecessary foot traffic across the park's greensward.

THE 1971 festival will run from Thursday, Sept. 9 through Sunday, Sept. 12 and as usual each day will be highlighted by the serving of a specialized menu by one of the community's service organizations.

The climax again will be the final day's Rotary Club chicken barbecue which, in recent years, has seen the serving of as many as 13,000 meals between noon and 6 p.m.

Kellogg Park will be the site of the dinner tables again, but they will be relocated each day. In addition, each organization will use the vacant lot between the Penn Theatre and Masonic Temple as its serving area.

The festival board has launched a fund drive to raise the money to buy the lot from Charles P. Finlan for $46,622, making payments over a 10 year period and turning it into a permanent festival facility. IT IS THE plan to "sell" each segment of one-quarter of a square foot for $1 in a public subscription plan and at a directors meeting this week West said "support is developing enthusiastically." The lot has a total of 13,901 square feet and is divisible into 55,604 of the minute segments.

An option on the property has been taken by the board, but the agreement requires for payment of approximately $2,000 by Sept. 30 to keep the plan alive.

Meanwhile, Festival committees are finalizing plans for such other phases as the window decorating and costume contests, and the four days of free entertainment which will be offered from the bandstand on Pennington.

Daisy Proctor is this year's entertainment chairman and has openings in the schedule for individuals and groups who may wish to perform. She asks that those interested contact her immediately. Her address is 43735 Shearer Dr.

Arts Show Is Added To Festival

Professional and amateur artists and craftsmen from Michigan have been invited to participate in Plymouth's first annual "Pro-Am Arts and Crafts Show" to be held Sept. 11 and 12 in conjunction with the Fall Festival.

Mrs. John Armstrong, the general chairman, said the event will be sponsored by the Community Arts Council and will be held in the gymnasium and auditorium of Central Junior High School.

Mrs. Armstrong said purposes are three-fold: to give artisans and musicians an opportunity to display their talents and sell their work; involve young people; and raise money for the Arts Council.

She noted that other attractions of the Arts and Crafts show will include a puppet show, performances by the Plymouth High School band and a "washline" art display by Plymouth students. Admission will be 50 cents for adults, children to be admitted free when accompanied by parents.

Persons interested in participation may call Mrs. Armstrong or Mrs. Richard Foy.

AS PART OF THE traffic safety program in Plymouth schools, highlighted by driver education, Sheriff's Deputy Arthur Laatz recently gave students a demonstration of the radar unit which the sheriff's department uses. Modular Scheduling Benefits Told

"Plymouth High School will enter a new era of its existence and operation this fall when it breaks with tradition and takes a giant step toward making education serve the needs of the consumer, the student."

That is the approach to the introduction of modular scheduling in PHS taken by an expert in that field who just joined the administrative staff, Kent A. Buikema.

Buikema has had 16 years experience as a teacher and administrator and, during the past two years was employed by the Westinghouse Learning Corp., where he spent much time counseling Plymouth on establishing modular scheduling.

In an attempt to create a better understanding among parents and students of what the new scheduling approach really means, Buikema this week prepared this analysis for the Mail & Observer.

"IN THIS day and age the term 'relevant' is probably the most overworked word in our vocabulary. The change in Plymouth's schedule is another attempt at relevancy. Education is a necessity in our life. It is required of all children at least until they reach their 16th birthday. Because it is required and because schools have a captive audience, does this mean that schools can't be interesting? Can't be exciting? Can't be relevant? At Plymouth High School, we think not.

"The new program at Plymouth has many names in educational jargon; modular scheduling, variable scheduling, flexible modular scheduling. Whatever it is called, and no doubt many have called it by uncomplimentary terms, it has as its objective one major ideal - that is to improve education for the individual student.

"The schedule in any school is a means of organizing to best facilitate the learning process. Just as a bus schedule is designed to bring the bus, its driver and the passengers together in the best way, the school schedule attempts to bring three resources together; the student, the teacher and a teaching space (room, laboratory, gymnasium, etc.).

"The transportation department builds its schedule with the passenger or user in mind. It must meet his needs. Too often our school schedules have not kept their consumers, the students, in mind. Modular scheduling with its opportunities to vary time, vary group size, vary meeting times, vary staffing patterns, does keep the students' interests as its foremost determinant.

"TRADITIONAL schedules have, for the most part, been made up of six or seven 55-minute periods which repeat each day of the school year.

"The modular schedule at Plymouth will have 20 modules of time, each 20 minutes in length. There will be six days in the scheduling cycle; that is, six different daily schedules before the schedule repeats itself.

"Based on the manner in which a teacher or a teaching team wants to teach a course of instruction, they have requested varying time blocks. Thus a student in chemistry might have one 40-minute (two mod) lecture, two 30-minute (four mod) laboratory sessions and one 60-minute (three mod) discussion group during one six day schedule cycle.

"The lecture could involve all of the students enrolled in chemistry. The laboratory would have approximately 20 students present while the discussion group would involve only 10-15 students. The teacher has scheduled the group size and time of meetings to facilitate his instructional program. The child should receive the benefits of the best possible instructional program.

"IT IS THE intent of the school administration to reach five specific objectives:

"1. To improve and expand the curriculum.

"2. To permit use of new instructional techniques.

"3. To professionalize the role of the teacher.

"4. To individualize instruction.

"5. To instill within the students some degree of responsibility for their own education.

"It is true that problems can and will exist. Change doesn't come easily. The problems will be met and resolved through a cooperative effort of the school, and the school community; that is, the students, the parents, the teachers and the administration. Evaluation will be an ongoing process with resultant adjustments to insure that the objectives are in fact being met.

"It will be a year of excitement, a year filled with sincere efforts to give the students at Plymouth High School the best education available in the country. This can only come about through cooperative efforts of the total school community."

Cemetery Expansion Will Wait

The Junior Baseball Association diamonds east of the city on Plymouth Rd. won't be torn up to provide location for 450 more graves for adjacent Riverside Cemetery as soon as expected.

Approval for the association to use the three diamonds for baseball again in 1972 has been granted by the City Commission. Approximately 740 boys compete in the league.

After that season, the city will go ahead with its plan for expansion of the cemetery and the boys will move in 1973 to diamonds in the new township recreation park.

Pursell Explains 'No' Vote On Tax

State Sen. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth) voted "no" on the recently approved increase in the state income tax "because I campaigned on a platform that pledged property tax reform and controlled spending."

Pursell, whose district includes Plymouth, Livonia and Farmington, said the bill did not "offer meaningful property tax relief." He listed other reasons in a statement read into the Senate Journal:

- Additional increases will be necessary next year in view of the state current level of spending.
- The state is spending in excess of its income.
- The welfare bill for the first time in the state's history, exceeds appropriations for education.
- Several appropriations are over and above the amounts needed to keep pace with inflation.

Pursell said that the lateness of the tax bill was an example of "crisis-oriented approach" to solving the state's financial problems.

"The Senate should begin considering an important aspect of their responsibilities which is now being overlooked—a commitment to begin to control state spending."

The surest way to get plenty of the minerals and vitamins that vegetables supply is to eat generous quantities of raw vegetables. In cooking vegetables, however, the first consideration is to make them look and taste so good that they will be eaten willingly. The second objective is to cook them so as to conserve as much as possible of the food value of the raw product. To accomplish both these ends, pay attention to the way you cook your vegetables: quickly, and as little as possible, are usually the best rules to follow.

We pay attention to the details that make dining at DANISH INN CORP., 32305 Grand River Ave., 476-5320 a pleasurable event. Beautiful supper club atmosphere with a good wine selection and all mixed drinks. Decorated cakes available for Birthdays and Anniversaries. Hours: 11AM-2AM with dinner during the week until 10PM, Fri. and Sat. until 1AM. Closed Sundays. Call for reservations on week-ends.

HELPFUL HINT: Red vegetables keep their color best if you add a little vinegar to the water they cook in.

THROUGH WIFOCALS
By FRED DELANO / Editor: Mail & Observer

IT'S BECOMING increasingly difficult these days at coffee time in Plymouth to know whether to sit with the Society of Gloom and Doom, or in an opposite corner of the spa with those eternal optimists, the horse players. In fact, life is getting so mixed up that there are a few who go both ways, which may be more of a testimonial for the coffee than either of the mental outlooks.

Maybe you haven't noticed, but in the past few days the front doors of two of our struggling local business houses—one on Liberty Street and the other in the downtown Mini Mall—have been slapped with disheartening signs which read:

"Contents Of These Premises In Custody Of United States District Court For The Eastern District Of Michigan...In Bankruptcy."

Employment has been going down, and is getting worse, and there is a fear off expressed by the town's top elected officials that our No. 1 employer has mapped a course of eventual Plymouth divorce, despite denials to the contrary.

IT IS DISCOURAGING to see a man like Carl Peterson fold his business, and to witness the spread of empty store spaces at a time when the United States government is willing to support big business to the tune of Lockheed's guaranteed $250 million in bank loans.

Maybe it boils down to the fact that we're not big enough. During the U.S. Senate debate on the Lockheed issue, Sen. Frank Church of Idaho analyzed it as "socialism for the rich but free enterprise for the poor," and perhaps that's just where we stand.

Of course, that's an attitude which puts me at the table of the S.O.G.A.D., when really there are evidences that the horse players' optimism is worth hanging onto despite the national economic disaster that is being nurtured out of Washington.

TAKE A CLOSE LOOK and you will see vast home construction in progress in the area surrounding our town, plus steady growth in apartment housing in the city.

Some new businesses have been started in the city during recent months, and even more in the township. Certainly this money hasn't been invested in any deliberate attempt to throw it down the drain.

One can see an expression of great confidence too, in that new Kmart complex under construction at Ann Arbor and Haggerty Rds. You can bet your last nickel that those people didn't decide to locate here by blindfoldedly throwing darts at a map.

The recent "Sidewalk Sales" were the most successful of all time, showing that there really is money that is available to be spent when the parlay of price and product are right. Come to think about it, that's what free enterprise is all about, and Plymouth will find it worth fighting for.

MRS. HELEN CUNNINGHAM, of 775 Coolidge, Plymouth, was the winner of a contest to name the new monthly newsletter being published by the city recreation department for senior citizens. There were 23 entries, and Mrs. Cunningham won with her suggestion of "The Golden Record" as a title. Copies go to 700 persons monthly.

New Books In Library

"Don't Say Yes Until I Finish Talking," by Mel Gussow. Here is a biography of Darryl F. Zanuck, the movie mogul, who produced some of the best and some of the worst movies ever made. Gussow has filled the book with candid, revealing comments drawn from extensive interviews with Zanuck himself, with his family and friends, and with many of the writers, directors, actors, and actresses who have worked with him.

"Stalking the Good Life," by Euell Gibbons. In this book Gibbons explores the pleasures of camping out without polluting or plundering, and recreates many memorable journeys into the wilds. He tells of living off the land and preparing the products therefrom with skill and imagination. Gibbons is the author of the well-known "Stalking the Wild Asparagus."

"What of Terry Conniston?" by Brian Garfield. Here a musical combo kidnaps a girl for ransom, but the guitarist, Mitch, falls in love with the girl and becomes her protector. This powerful novel by an author who is fast joining the top rank of suspense writers.

Top Pros, Beginners Race Cycles At DRC On Sunday

If you awaken Sunday to the roar of motorcycles, don't be alarmed. It isn't an invasion of bike riders from all parts of the land intent on causing trouble, as most people are inclined to believe when there is a gathering of those who like to hop on the two-wheelers and congregate at some previously selected place.

The Detroit Race Course is the site of the annual national championships Sunday and followers of the motorcycles will be on hand by the thousands to see their heroes perform.

Each year for the past 12, the Livonia Metropolitan Club, an organization of police, fire and post office employees, has sponsored the nationals and thus far there hasn't been a single complaint.

That is other than the noise of the bikes as they roar around the mile track and the cheers of the thousands of spectators for their favorite riders.

THE ROARS will start at 9:30 a.m. when the track is thrown open for practice runs ... incidentally there will be a charge for admission at the various gates beginning at 9 a.m.

Time trials are slated for noon during which drivers will try to qualify for the various divisions.

The first race is scheduled for 2 p.m. with the first two finishers in each of six events qualifying for the championship which will be over a distance of 20 miles ... that's 20 laps around the mile track.

The program includes events for novices as well as the top competitors from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

All officials will be sent in by the American Motorcycle Association and all points will count towards the world's championship.

There isn't any question about the quality of the field. AMA officials turned over a list of entrants that includes all of the nation's best.

Heading the list as far as Michigan is concerned is Bart Markel, of Flint, who won the trophy a year ago and in three of the last four years.

Current leader nationally is Gene Romero, of San Luis Obispo, Calif., a member of the Triumph team which has been dominating most of the races.

The list of entrants: Romero; Jim Rice, Palo Alto, Calif.; Ted Newton, Pontiac; Dave Aldana, Santa Ana, Calif.; Dick Mann, Richmond, Calif.; Ben Hunter, Indianapolis; Mert Lawmill, California; Mark Brelsford, California; Tom Rockwood, California; Gary Nixon, Phoenix, Md.; Ron Butler, Union Lake; Larry Palmgren, Freehold, N.J.; Til Akhurst, Sparks, Md.; Cal Rayborn, California; Dave Smith, California; Dave Sehl, Georgia; Dennis Palmgren, Freehold, N.J.; and Walt Fulton, California.

Jim Odum, California; Eddie Mulder, California; Frank Gillespie, California; Joel Nicholas, California; Ted Hubbard, N. Carolina; Frank Ulicki, Wisconsin; Don Emde, California; Ed Herrmann, Oregon; Royal Sherbert, Florida; Ron Ball, Ohio; Lou Moniz, Rhode Island; Bart Markel, Flint; Rex Beauchamp, Milford; John Gardner, Illinois.

Jack Forrester, Indiana; Sonny Burres, Oregon; Roger Reiman, Illinois; Willard Root, Spring Lake; Cleve Borchert, Georgia; Al Kenyon, California; George Longabaugh, Penna.; and Abram Drain, Indianapolis.

Ann Setlock, top average woman bowler in Metropolitan Detroit last season, is the latest to run afoul of the upsurge of south-paws.

The Garden Lanes instructor, competing on a taped television show in New York that will be on the screen sometime during the winter, was doing fine until she met the girls who bowl from the "wrong" and lost out in the round before the championship match.

Beaten by May Baker of New York by 32 pins Ann Setlock remarked—

"Well, at least I was the last of the right-handers in competition."

She won three of her last four matches before being eliminated and her conqueror lost out in the title match to Millie Martorella, of Rochester, N.Y. two time winner of the WIBC Queens Tournament.

In her defeat Ann follows the lead of Dale Seavoy, one of the Stroh stars, who quit the men's pro tour because, "I couldn't beat those left-handers."

FRED VITALI and Penny McClain will be the next of the area stars to bid for national acclaim.

In two weeks they'll engage in the world championships in Milwaukee and face the top bowlers from 32 nations.

The world championships, being held for the first time in this country, will be rolled on the lanes used for the ABC tournament in Cobo Hall.

They have been in storage since the big event ended in May and have been shipped to Milwaukee in sections.

observing sports

Don't let it be said that I'm a "yes" man, but I must agree with Pete Waldmeir of the News on the subject of long hair and schoolboy athletes.

Pete this past week took officials of the American Legion Junior baseball program to task for ordering players in zone tournaments either to follow the Legion edict on hair length or to stay in the stands.

It seems that most of the players, out of loyalty to their teams, had their hair sliced off. But some didn't.

ALL OF WHICH brings up the subject, who are we, as adults, to tell anybody else how to wear this or wear that when during the course of any year we change our minds faster than Vida Blue can whip one across the plate.

Look at what's happened in recent months in the gals' dress department. We've had "hot pants" and mini-skirts, and then some stuff well below the knees.

We've seen our gals go wild about long hair, then short hair ... and even with wigs.

We've watched them switch to all types of swimming gears, some of which hardly could be described as "covering."

And, are we men any different?

Time was I went to the barber every 10 days or so. I couldn't stand looking at myself once my hair curled around the ears. The thought of hair well down the neck was detesting.

And, now!

Well, my barber complains he doesn't see me ... or a lot of other fellows, often enough. We've let our hair down, too, although maybe not as far as some of the younger folks.

Sure, it's tough sometimes to drive behind a car and wonder: "Is that a gal or a fellow driving?" But, really, what difference does it make?

FROM WHAT I understand, most high school coaches now have become more tolerant over athletes showing up with long locks.

"When they first came out, I really burned," said one veteran coach. "I told them to get their hair cut, or else. Most did.

"But, in a way, I found out that I wasn't fair to my kids on the team. Why did I have to make them cut their hair, when other students in school didn't have to?

"So, now I find that the hair business really was an over-rated business. The kids can star with the bat, or in basketball, or kick a football ... regardless of how long their hair.

And it doesn't affect their discipline, either. I think we just thought that because a kid let his hair grow, he was a wild one and didn't belong on our teams."

GETTING BACK to what Pete Waldmeir had to say, he certainly was correct on one point: "Here we are telling the kids to go out and play baseball, and then we tell them they can't because they don't look right."

Rubbish, says Pete, and I agree.

Any of us with sound thinking and understanding knows that we can't judge any person on a first look or first meeting, although often that's the way it is.

I honestly have found that in my own home where my 17-year-old daughter has brought to visit boys with short hair, who look a little "girlish," and those young men with neat, crew cuts who fill what some of us tab as the "All-American" type.

The first time a long-haired one showed up a year or so ago, I protested. My first thought was: "Who's this guy for Julie?"

But I've discovered that how a Steve wears his hair has no bearing on how he treats Julie ... how he respects her and she respects him.

So, to get back to long-haired prep athletes ... if adults can drop their sideburns, let's not find fault with our youngsters.

A few of them we know have come through with all-A's, too! And, they've also excelled in sports.

GRACE JUDD wasn't satisfied with setting one summer high at Westland last Tuesday morning.

She established two with a 234 high game in a 548 high series. She carries a 141 average.

Grace proved to be the star of the super-stars, while "Pat Russell showed the way in the Singlettes circuit with a 213 in 528.

WHEN THE final ball was rolled in the women's league at Garden Lanes Monday night the team of Kay Week, Fannie Pate, Marge Weston and Marge Freeman landed on top to take the title.

In the men's league Larry Zyck showed the way with a 699 on games of 214, 246 and 239.

Chuck Skinner posted the only other 600 series when he contributed a 699.

MRS. LILLIAN C. JACOB, who retired as president of the Detroit Woman's Bowling Association, last Saturday, will be awarded the Judge Watts trophy for meritorious service to the game of bowling at the annual Champions Dinner at the Latin Quarter on Friday evening.

IF YOU'RE interested in statistics, more than 50,000 feet of lumber is being used to form the foundation for the 28 lanes.

This is enough lumber, so they say, to build 12 conventional three bedroom houses and it will require 125,000 nails to do the job.

YOU CAN'T beat this for togetherness.

In the Thursday Mixed League at Country Lanes Jerry and Bob Hayes each bowled 142 and John Long and his wife, Ginger, each posted a 144.

They're also trying something new at Country Lanes by having pre-season get-togethers of all league officers to go over rules and conditions under which they'll bowl when the fall season starts.

Mary Hamilton won the Pot O'Gold at Merri-Bowl with a handicap cut of 710. She posted an actual 602 and had a "spot" of 108 pins.

Redford Township.

Hernandez walked in the second inning and after Perino singled, Kurt Fritz also singled to jam the bases. Then Bill Herbert followed with a two run single.

Warholak scored again in the third when Hernandez singled in R.J. LeRoux, who had reached first originally on a walk.

Hernandez was safe on an error in the fifth and scored on a single by Fritz for the final Warholak marker of the game.

MIKE UETZ, the prep pitching star at Dearborn Sacred Heart, fired goose-eggs against Thurston to best Tony Kaseta, who permitted only four hits while fanning six and walking two.

Unfortunately for Kaseta, he allowed an unearned run in the fourth and that was all Westland needed.

Uetz struck out 10 and walked one.

Gordie Ezses and Bob Ghanam each had two hits for the losers who were to resume their district title bid Saturday.

MOTOR MAIDS, who hail from every section of the midwest and east, will participate in a special program during the national championship races Sunday at the Detroit Race Course. The events are scheduled to start at 2 p.m.

Redford Union Wins Playoff Opener 4-1

For Warholak Tire (Redford Union) it was a happy start in the Connie Mack district playoffs.

For Thurston, it was the opposite.

Warholak began its quest for the district flag and a spot in the Mack state tournament at Marshall by downing Southgate, 4-1.

Meantime, Thurston dropped a 1-0 duel to Westward Post (Dearborn Sacred Heart).

RANDY FERGERSON posted his 21st win of the season (high school and sandlot play) by holding Southgate scoreless until the seventh when he gave up three hits.

He struck out four and didn't walk a man.

All Hernandez and Pat Perino, who were added to the Warholak roster from the Crowe Royalty team, made major contributions for the Ladies Play Golf And 'Poker'

Trophy tension eased off a bit for the Livonia Women's Golf League as members played golf and poker at the same time.

With only two weeks of competitive play remaining, members posted their scores in the win-lose column and then recounted their score-cards to see if they held a winning poker hand.

Not everyone did. But those who did included Kay Copolla, Peg Sontag and Mary Ann Marini, all of A flight, who posted four 6s.

Dee Ditmar, of B flight, had five 2s while Lee Ora Kerstein was C flight's winner with five 2s. For awhile, it looked like Sue McCarthy would be the winner. She had five 6s.

Paula Madsen was D flight honoree with five 9s.

E flight winners were Mary Ann Seedott and Jerry Ayers who both had four 2s. Pat Greenwood was F flight's champ with four 10s.

The league's official "fun day" is scheduled for Aug. 29 with tee-off time for all set at 8 a.m.

It's Win Or Out For Southfield In Colt Tourney

Southfield-Lathrup found itself in a tough spot Friday in the sectional Colt League baseball tournament it is hosting at the Southfield Civic Center.

After the first round of action, Southfield-Lathrup was too good a host. The team dropped its opener to Birmingham, 3-2, while Mt. Pleasant blanked Skokie from the Chicago area, 3-0, in the other game.

THAT MEANT that Southfield-Lathrup dropped into the losers' bracket to face Skokie in the first game on Friday while Mt. Pleasant met Birmingham in the nightcap.

It meant, too, that Southfield Lathrup could not lose again in the double elimination tournament which will continue with games at 5 p.m. and 8 p.m. Saturday at the Civic Center.

If necessary, another game to decide the crown will be played Sunday at 2 p.m. with the winner moving on to Murray, Ky., for the next phase of the tournament's competition which leads finally to the Colt League World Series in Lafayette, Ind.

BILL SPINNING went the distance for Birmingham and allowed only two hits while a trio of Southfield-Lathrup pitchers was tagged for six safe blows.

Spinning fanned 10 and didn't walk a man. Jack Booth started for the losers while Ron Dunkell took over in the fourth and Jim Pohjola finished up.

Birmingham took advantage of errors to score all its runs.

One Southfield miscue led to a Birmingham run in the second. Another bobble brought in two runs in the sixth.

Southfield didn't score until the seventh when Scott Lucas was hit by a pitch. After two fielder's choices, Alex Schapp walked and both runners moved along on a wild pitch before Joe Sanders singled them in.

KELLEY LUPLOW scattered seven hits for Mt. Pleasant in shutting out Skokie, the Illinois champs in the competition for boys 16-17 years of age.

Mt. Pleasant scored twice in the first inning and once in the fifth.

Southfield-Lathrup had been exempted from prior play in the Colt tournament as the best team in sectional. Both Mt. Pleasant and Birmingham won at North Farmington last weekend to advance to the play at Southfield.

BIRMINGHAM'S Mickey Siegel is out at first on this play as Southfield-Lathrup first baseman Buck Calmedjian wheels around to try for a play at second base. Birmingham toppled the host team in the Colt tournament in Southfield, 3-2. (Observer photo by Bob Woodring)

S. Farmington LL Captures District Crown On Shutout

The South Farmington National Little Leaguers are at it again.

Their personnel is all new from last year's team which won the area, the district, the pre-state, the state, the national sectional and then moved within a game of the World Series of Little League baseball at Williamsport, Pa.

But the 1971 South Farmington Nationals appear a mighty lot. THEY CLIMAXED the first phase of their march which hopefully will end in Williamsport by downing the Birmingham Nationals, 3-0, for the District 4 title.

Now its South Farmington vs. District 7 champion Richmond at Civic Field in Southfield Sunday at 1 p.m. for the right to advance to next weekend's state Little League tournament at Bay City.

Dick Torigian is the new manager of the South Farmington Nationals assisted by Bill Hosford.

TOM HARMON, one of the two 11-year-olds on South Farmington, pitched the shutout against tough Birmingham, as the Farmington team became only the second ever to win the District 4 title two years running.

Harmon struck out 10, allowed two scattered hits and walked one. He never was in serious trouble and was in complete command all the way.

South Farmington pushed across all its runs in the second inning and had a couple of other chances to fatten its margin.

In the second, Andy Ponke was safe on an error and Kevin Verner and Jim Simmons followed with singles for one run.

Another run scored when Harmon was safe on a fielder's choice and a third when Simmons came in on a wild throw after Tom Notestine had walked.

In the third, Radatz singled, but was nailed trying to stretch the hit into a double. Then Ponke was safe on an error, but the inning ended without any further developments.

SOUTH FARMINGTON threatened in the fourth when Simmons singled to start the inning. He was forced at second when Harmon bounced to short, but the relay to first was wild and Harmon wound up on second.

Notestine walked and the two runners worked a double steal.

Then Paul Jones lofted a fly to center and Harmon was nailed trying to score from third. The catcher dropped the ball, but was able to tag Harmon before the South Farmington pitcher was able to touch the plate.

CLOSE but S. Farmington's Herb Holtz was a bit late when he tried to beat out an infield grounder. Birmingham's Kevin Ryan has the throw just a stride ahead of Herb. S. Farmington went on to win the Little League championship to qualify for Sunday's regionals. (Observer photo by Bob Woodring)

Redford Wins Uphill Title Bid

The Greater Livonia Adray League championship and Redford Township go hand in hand.

Eight years...eight titles for Redford. But never has Redford had to fight the uphill battle it did this year to emerge in the king's role.

The Townshippers had ruled in the first of the three rounds of regular season play. Then they slipped in the next two as Northville Reef and Westland Cleaners emerged on top.

Thus, a three team playoff became necessary to decide the overall titlist and the Livonia League representative in the state Adray tournament at the University of Michigan diamond this Saturday.

REDFORD STARTED by beating Northville and then losing to Westland.

The Redford backs were up against the wall. The team was faced with coming back and winning three straight in order to win the crown.

Which is what Redford did. First there was a 6-4 decision against Northville in a game that had to be switched from Livonia's Ford Field to Ypsilanti because somebody accidentally left the sprinklers on at Ford Field and the diamond was soaked.

THEN IT WAS a showdown with Westland for the flag.

Two games on Wednesday...and Redford won both, 12-2 and 4-3.

"What can you say about these boys," said manager Pat Sheridan in his first year as the Redford manager. "They had to come back. The chips were down. They sure proved themselves."

The first game against Westland was a runaway as Kirk Taylor coasted along, allowing two hits, fanning 15 and walking two.

He never was in trouble after the first inning when singles by Tom Roy, Gordie Eszes, Jeff Washington and Taylor put Redford in front, 3-0.

Five runs in the fifth sealed the game. Roy, Eszes and Washington singled for one run. Taylor and Doug Burke walked for another and Jim Murray cleaned the sacks with a triple.

Washington's double led to two more runs in the sixth and Murray drove in two runs and Burke one in the ninth.

THE SECOND and deciding game was befitting a championship affair. It was a cliff-hanger all the way, not decided until the ninth and final inning.

Redford used three pitchers - Tim Carr, Jim Horton and Bill Booker - with Booker gaining the nod.

Westland pulled ahead, 2-0, in the second inning on four walks and an error.

In the fifth, Redford scored once without the benefit of a hit before Westland made it 3-1 when Dan Caesar doubled in Terry Mills, who had been hit by a pitch.

That finished the Westland scoring as Redford started the climb back.

Two errors and a hit by Murray netted Redford a run in the seventh. In the eighth after Roy was hit by a pitch, Washington singled him in with the tying run.

Then in the ninth, Bill Herbert singled along with Burke. R. J. LeRoux was hit by a pitch to jam the bases and Roy connected on a sacrifice fly to send home Herbert.

Booker retired Westland in the bottom of the ninth and Redford raced from the field the Greater Livonia Adray champs and the winner of a trip now to play the Lansing-Mt. Pleasant winner in Ann Arbor Saturday in the state meet.

If Redford comes out of the state meet the champ - as it has for six straight years - it'll be on to the All American Boys tournament in Altoona, Pa., later in the month.

IN ITS COMEBACK surge, Redford beat Northville, 6-4, with a homer by Tim Fox with one aboard in the fourth inning the big blow.

Earlier Washington had tripled in Roy. Then in the seventh, Redford locked up the game when Murray singled, Eszes tripled and Taylor doubled.

Northville scored in the third on two errors and then Dennis Benedict tripled and Dan Boehm sacrificed.

Rick Adams knocked in the final run following a walk and two stolen bases.

The state tournament at Ann Arbor will be a two-defeat - and -out competition. It's slated to wind up on Sunday.

Terry Mills and Bob Caesar from Westland have been added to the Redford roster as extra players permitted under the rules for the state tournament.

S'field Loses; Livonia Wins

In a pair of one-run battles, National Pride (Churchill High) and Southfield American Legion emerged with different results in the first round of the Connie Mack District baseball tournament at Ann Arbor.

National Pride slipped past host Ann Arbor 2-1 in a nine-inning struggle while Southfield lost to the West Side Cubs of Detroit by the same score in what amounted to a give-away. Errors led to all the Southfield runs.

THREE PITCHERS worked the victory for National Pride. Mike Keller hurled the first five and one third, Gary Sobkowik one and two-thirds, and Ken Woods finished up the eighth and ninth and was credited with the victory.

The winners scored first in the third inning when Bob Blais walked and Roy Henriksson and Steve Chilenko singled to load the bases, and Mark DeRoche walked to force in Blais.

After Ann Arbor scored an unearned run to tie the game, the teams fought until the ninth inning when Chilenko singled, took second on an error and scored the winning run on DeRoche's single.

Brian Sherman went two-for-three for National Pride.

BOB BROWN, Southfield's fine pitcher from Brother Rice High School, never suffered a more heart-breaking defeat. He gave up only one hit, a single in the third inning, which followed an error and led to the first West Side run.

The Clubs' other run came on two errors and a wild pitch. Southfield scored in the third when Brown walked, went to second on a passed ball and scored on Dan Damiani's single.

Ed Mapes and John Solberg each had two hits for Southfield.

The tournament is conducted on a two-defeat - and -out basis, and both National Pride and Southfield were scheduled again Friday afternoon.

The meet champion will qualify for the state Connie Mack tournament, starting Thursday at Marshall.

Fishing Reports Are Fair

With unsettled weather and the warming of the water, fishing reports were only fair to good in southeastern Michigan this week.

Conservation officers reported "spotty" bass catches on Lake Orion but good catches on Union, Oakland, White and Pontiac lakes.

Only Lake Orion and Woodhull lakes reported good bluegill fishing, and a "few" pike were taken from Orion by deep water trolling.

Union Lake was a hot spot for perch, one reaching 14 inches, and rainbow trout began biting there.

Wayne County lakes had only light pressure, but anglers had good catches.

Bear hunters were told that licenses are on sale at the state Dept. of Natural Resources district office at 2455 N. Williams Lake Rd., Pontiac; at the DNR district information office at 17800 Woodward, Detroit; and scattered stores.

change, the cadets were hosted by families from Farmington, Livonia, Redford Township and New Hudson. A special proclamation from the City of Farmington was awarded to the group at an outdoor ceremony Thursday by Mayor Wilbur Brotherton at the Founders Festival.

TRIPS TO Belle Isle, the Detroit Zoo, the Art Institute and the Historical Museum, and Cedar Point highlighted their visit.

The visitors were participating in an exchange program that is open to air cadets in this area interested in going to other countries.

The U.S. Air Force subsidizes the program by transporting the American youths to Europe and bringing a group of foreign youths back to tour the country.

Visiting cadets were Claes Malmberg, Goran Svensson, Ake Mattsson, Raimo Talo, Kirster Lampa, Ter Carlsson, Kent Rylander, Lennart Andersson, Tomas Johansson, and Lt. Ake Janneryd, the escort and commander of a missile squadron in Sweden.

While in Observerland last week, they were hosted by the families of Mr. and Mrs. William Corliss of Farmington, Mr. and Mrs. James Jahn of Livonia, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Woodcock of New Hudson, and Mrs. and Mrs. J. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Chet Wiacek, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth White, all of Redford Township.

Grandmother Sews Gown For Bride

Wearing a gown made for her by her grandmother Mrs. Lawrence Gladstone of Plymouth, Karen Marie Gladstone became the bride of Leonard William Engler, on June 21.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nile R. Gladstone of Brookline Street, Plymouth, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Engler of Wayne.

THE CEREMONY took place in St. Richard Catholic Church, Westland, with the Rev. J. William Griffith officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an A-line style gown of lace over satin with an empire waist. Her headpiece of pearls held a bouffant veil trimmed with lace flowers. She carried a bouquet of yellow daisies and white carnations.

Diane Kosinski, as maid of honor, wore a pale yellow gown of lace over satin in a princess style. Her headpiece was a satin bow and she carried yellow sweetheart roses and daisies. Julie and Peggy Anne Gladstone, as bridesmaids, were similarly attired in yellow.

Shared Driving Means Better Trip

Many men never let their wives drive while on vacation trips—not because of gallantry, but because they're afraid they'll end up in a crash.

But husbands and wives should take turns driving, says Don Costa, safety director of the Allstate Insurance Companies.

"The husband and wife who drive as a team are less likely to become involved in a serious crash this summer," Costa says.

"Sharing the driving load decreases the possibility of a traffic crash caused by fatigue or 'road hypnosis.' Besides, it adds a lot to the vacation to be able to enjoy the scenery."

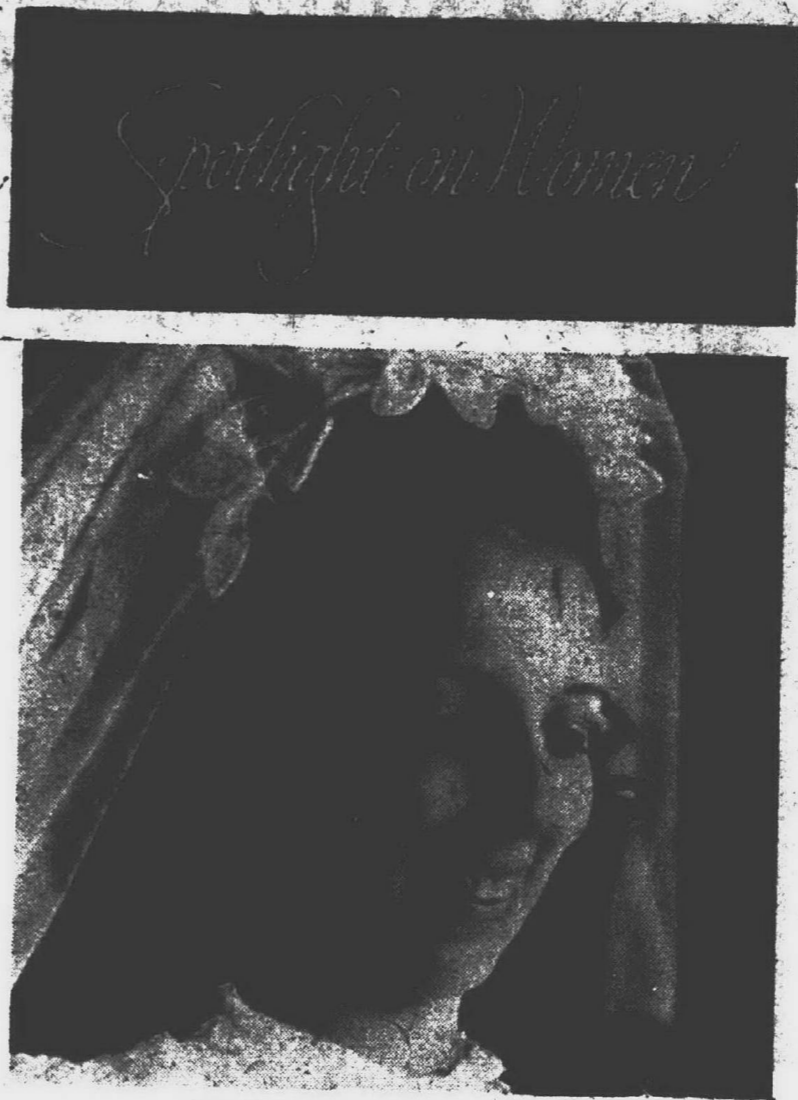

Male unwillingness to let the women drive may be linked with the age-old myth (propagated by men, of course) that "women are terrible drivers." Costa suggests that men build confidence in their wives' driving ability by giving them practical road experience.

HE ALSO advises these sound driving practices for trips.

• Change drivers, or at least make a rest stop, every two hours.

• Let the passenger function as co-pilot — which means reading signs and maps, and watching out for safety hazards.

• At night, when visibility is reduced, be sure the passenger stays awake to help keep the driver alert and watch for signs of driver fatigue.
